TITLE 1

GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE WHOLE CODE

CHAPTER ONE

THE GENERAL OBJECTS OF THE CODE, THE PRINCIPLES ON WHICH IT IS FOUNDED, AND RULES FOR THE INTERPRETATION OF PENAL LAWS

Art. 1. (1) Design of the Code.—The design of enacting this Code is to define in plain language every offense against the laws of this state and affix to each offense its proper punishment. (O. C. 1.)

Art. 2. (2) Object of punishment.—The object of punishment is to suppress crime and reform the offender. (O. C. 2.)

Art. 3. (3) All penalties must be affixed by written law.—In order that the system of penal law in force in this state may be complete within itself, and that no system of foreign laws, written or unwritten, may be appealed to, it is declared that no person shall be punished for any act or omission, unless the same is made a penal offense, and a penalty is affixed thereto by the written law of this state. (O. C. 3, revised.)

See post, art. 53; Myers v. S., 103 S. W. 859; Ex parte Lingenfelter, 142 S. W. 555; Ex parte Wolters, 144 S. W. 531; South v. S., 162 S. W. 510; Houseman v. S., 173 S. W. 1036; Ex parte Bartee, 174 S. W. 1051; Hall v. S., 188 S. W. 1002.

Art. 4. (4) Common law rule of construction, when.—The principles of the common law shall be the rule of construction, when not in conflict with the Penal Code or Code of Criminal Procedure, or with some other written statute of the state. (Acts 1858, p. 156; O. C. 4.)

Art. 5. (5) Special provisions control general.—In the construction of this Code each general provision shall be controlled by a special provision on the same subject, if there be a conflict. (O. C. 5.)

Art. 6. (6) Unintelligible law not operative.—Whenever it appears that a provision of the penal law is so indefinitely framed or of such doubtful construction that it can not be understood, either from the language in which it is expressed, or from some other written law of the state, such penal law shall be regarded as wholly inoperative. (O. C. 6.)

Art. 7. (7) Judges to report defects in the law.—Whenever a court trying an offense is of opinion that the law is so defective as to have no operation, or when it appears that there has been a failure to provide for any offense, or class of offenses, which ought to be made punishable, the judge of such court shall report the same to the legislature at its next session, after such defect or omission shall have been discovered. (O. C. 7.)

Art. 8. (8) Prosecuting officers to report defects in the law.—It is also declared to be the duty of the attorney general to call the attention of the legislature, in his reports which are required by law to be made to the governor, to any defects or omissions in the penal law which he may observe, and in like manner the district and county attorneys shall communicate to the attorney general such suggestions as they may deem important touching the same subject. (O. C. 8.)

Art. 9. (9) General rule of construction.—This Code, and every other law upon the subject of crime which may be enacted, shall be construed according to the plain import of the language in which it is written, without regard to the distinction usually made between the construction of penal laws, and laws upon other subjects; and no person shall be punished for an offense which is not made penal by the plain import of the words of a law. (Acts 1858, p. 156; O. C. 9.)

See ante, Civ. St., art. 5502; Williams v. S., 107 S. W. 1121; Oliver v. S., 144 S. W. 604; Gentry v. S., 152 S. W. 635; Barnes v. S., 152 S. W. 1043; Bradfield v. S., 166 S. W. 734, Ann. Cas. 1917C, 696; State v. Country Club, 173 S. W. 570; Fowler v. S., 196 S. W. 951.

Art. 10. (10) Words specially defined, how understood.—Words which have their meaning specially defined shall be understood in that sense, though it be contrary to their usual meaning; and all words used in this Code, except where a word, term or phrase is specially defined, are to be taken and construed in the sense in which they are understood in common language, taking into consideration the context and subject matter relative to which they are employed. (O. C. 10 and 28.)

See post, art. 51; C. C. P. art. 785.

Art. 12. (12) No offense against a law not in force.—No act or omission can be punished as an offense unless the law making it penal was in force at the time when such act or omission took place. (O. C. 12; Bill of Rights, secs. 16–19.)

Art. 13. (13) When laws take effect.—No law of the legislature defining an offense, or affixing a penalty thereto, shall take effect until after the expiration of ninety days from the day of the adjournment of the session at which such penal law was enacted, unless the legislature shall otherwise determine. (O. C. 13; Const. art. 3, sec. 39.)

See post, art. 46; Hughes v. S., 149 S. W. 173.

Art. 15. (15) Effect of modification by subsequent law.—When the penalty for an offense is prescribed by one law, and altered by a subsequent law, the penalty of such second law shall not be inflicted for a breach of the law committed before the second shall have taken effect. In every such case the offender shall be tried under the law in force when the offense was committed, and if convicted, punished under that law; except that when by the provisions of the second law the punishment of the offense is ameliorated, the defendant shall be punished under such last enactment, unless he elect to receive the penalty prescribed by the law in force when the offense was committed. (O. C. 14.)

Art. 16. (16) Repeal, effect of.—The repeal of a law, where the repealing statute substitutes no other penalty, will exempt from punishment all persons who may have offended against the provisions of such repealing law, unless it be otherwise declared in the repealing statute. (O. C. 15.)

Hall v. S., 106 S. W. 149; Cook v. S., 160 S. W. 465; Robbins v. S., 166 S. W. 528; Ex parte Wright, 199 S. W. 486.

Art. 17. (17) When new penalty is substituted.—When by the provisions of a repealing statute a new penalty is substituted for an offense punishable under the act repealed, such repealing statute shall not exempt from punishment a person who has offended against the repealed law while it was in force, but in such case the rule prescribed in article 15 shall govern. (O. C. 16.)

Art. 18. (18) Change of definition, effect of.—If an offense be defined by one law, and by a subsequent law the definition of the offense is changed, no such change or modification shall take effect as to offenses already committed; but all offenders against the first law shall be tried, and their guilt or innocence determined in accordance with the provisions thereof. (O. C. 17.)

Art. 19. (19) Previous offenses not affected by this Code.—No offense committed, and no fine, forfeiture or penalty incurred under existing laws, previous to the time when this Code takes effect, shall be affected by the repeal herein of any such existing laws, but the punishment of such offenses, and the recovery of such fines and forfeitures, shall take place as if the law repealed had still remained in force, except that when any penalty, forfeiture or punishment shall have been mitigated by the provisions of this Code, such provision shall apply to and control any judgment to be pronounced after this Code shall take effect, for any offense committed before that time, unless the defendant elect to be punished under the provisions of the repealed law. (O. C. 18.)

See ante, art. 15.

Art. 20. (20) No cumulative penalties.—No penalty affixed to an offense by one law shall be considered as cumulative of penalties prescribed under a former law, and in every case where a new penalty is prescribed for an offense, the penalty of the first law shall be considered as repealed, unless the contrary be expressly provided in the law last enacted. (O. C. 19.)

CHAPTER THREE

OF THE PERSONS PUNISHABLE UNDER THIS CODE, AND THE CIRCUMSTANCES WHICH EXCUSE, EXTENUATE, OR AGGRAVATE AN OFFENSE

Art. 32. (32) The persons punishable under this Code.—All persons, whether inhabitants of this state or of the United States, or aliens, are amenable to punishment for offenses which are defined and made punishable under the provisions of this Code. The exceptions to the general rule here laid down are given in the subsequent articles of this title. (O. C. 32; Acts 1866, p. 70.)

Art. 33. (33) Indians not punishable, except when.—No act done within the uninhabited portion of the state, by individuals belonging to the several Indian tribes, in their intercourse with each other, or with other tribes, and affecting no other person, is considered an offense against this Code, but in all other respects, such individuals are upon a footing with all other persons, both as to protection and liability to punishment. (O. C. 35; Acts 1866, p. 70.)

Art. 34. (34) Children not punishable.—No person shall in any case be convicted of any offense committed before he was of the age of nine years, except perjury, and for that only, when it shall appear by proof that he had sufficient discretion to understand the nature and obligation of an oath; nor of any other offense committed between the years of nine and thirteen, unless it shall appear by proof that he had discretion sufficient to understand the nature and illegality of the act constituting the offense. (Acts 1905, p. 83; O. C. 36.)

See Allen v. S., 37 S. W. 757; Frasier v. S., 84 S. W. 360; Simmons v. S., 97 S. W. 1052; Price v. S., 94 S. W. 901; Scott v. S., 158 S. W. 814; Smith v. S., 164 S. W. 838; Miller v. S., 200 S. W. 389.

(35) Persons under seventeen years not punishable capitally.—A person, for an offense committed before he arrived at the age of seventeen years, shall in no case be punished with death; but may, according to the nature and degree of the offense, be punished by imprisonment for life, or receive any of the other punishments affixed in this Code to the offense of which he is guilty. (O. C. 37.)

See post, art. 83; Wilson v. S., 149 S. W. 117; Smith v. S., 164 S. W. 838.

Art. 36. (36) Married woman, offenses by, etc.—A married woman who commits an offense by the command or persuasion of her husband shall not, in any case, be punished by death, but may be imprisoned for life, or a term of years, according to the nature and degree of the crime; and, in cases not capital, she shall receive only one-half the punishment to which she would otherwise be liable. (O. C. 38.)

See post, art. 84.

Art. 37. (37) Husband, etc., instigating offense, double punishment.—When it shall appear that a minor was aided or instigated in the commission of an offense by a relation in the ascending line, or by his guardian, or an apprentice under age by his master, or a wife by her husband, such relation, guardian, master or husband shall, at the discretion of the jury, in capital cases, be punished by death, and, in cases not capital, shall receive double the punishment imposed by law in ordinary cases for the same offense. (40) Proof of insanity according to common law.—The rules of evidence known to the common law in respect to the proof of insanity shall be observed in all trials where that question is in issue. The manner of ascertaining whether the insanity is real or pretended, when it is alleged that the defendant became insane after the commission of the offense, is prescribed in the Code of Criminal Procedure. (O. C. 42.)

Art. 41. (41) Intoxication as a defense.—Neither intoxication nor temporary insanity of mind, produced by the voluntary recent use of ardent spirits, shall constitute any excuse in this state for the commission of crime, nor shall intoxication mitigate either the degree or the penalty of crime, but evidence of temporary insanity produced by such use of ardent spirits may be introduced by the defendant in any criminal prosecution in mitigation of the penalty attached to the offense for which he is being tried, and, in cases of murder, for the purpose of determining the degree of murder of which the defendant may be found guilty. It shall be the duty of the several district and county judges of this state, in any criminal prosecution pending before them, where temporary insanity is relied upon as a defense and the evidence tends to show that such insanity was brought about by the immoderate use of intoxicating liquors, to charge the jury in accordance with the provisions of this article. (Acts 17th Leg. p. 9.)

(47) Mistake of fact, excuse, when.—The mistake as to fact which will excuse, under the preceding article, must be such that the person so acting under a mistake would have been excusable had his conjecture as to the fact been correct; and it must also be such mistake as does not arise from a want of proper care on the part of the person committing the offense. (O. C. 48.)

See Smith v. S., 95 S. W. 1057; Hickman v. S., 141 S. W. 973; Mealer v. S., 145 S. W. 353; Mollenkopf v. S., 151 S. W. 799; Martin v. S., 165 S. W. 579; Walker v. S., 181 S. W. 191.

Art. 48. (48) Act done by mistake, a felony, when.—If one intending to commit felony, and in the act of preparing for or executing the same, shall, through mistake or accident, do another act which, if voluntarily done, would be a felony, he shall receive the punishment affixed by law to the offense actually committed. Art. 49. (49) Same subject, as to misdemeanor.—If one intending to commit a felony, and, in the act of preparing for or executing the same, shall, through mistake or accident, do another act which, if voluntarily done, would be a misdemeanor, he shall receive the highest punishment affixed by law to the offense actually committed. (O. C. 50.)

Art. 50. (50) Felony committed by mistake, etc., lowest punishment affixed.—If one intending to commit a misdemeanor, and, in the act of preparing for or executing the same, shall, through mistake, commit an offense which is by law a felony, he shall receive the lowest punishment affixed by law to the offense actually committed. (O. C. 51.)

See post, art. 82.

Who promises any reward, favor or other inducement, or threatens any injury in order to procure the commission of the offense; or,

Who prepares arms or aid of any kind, prior to the commission of an offense, for the purpose of assisting the principal in the execution of the same. (O. C. 219.)

(O. C. 220.)

Art. 81. (81) Punishment.—Accomplices shall, in all cases not otherwise expressly provided for, be punished in the same manner as the principal offender. (O. C. 220a.)

(O. C. 221.)

Art. 83. (83) If principal is under 17, punishment doubled.—If the principal in an offense less than capital be under the age of seventeen years, the punishment of an accomplice shall be increased so as not to exceed, however, double the penalty affixed to the offense in ordinary cases. (84) If accomplice is parent, master, guardian or husband to principal, punishment increased.—If the accomplice stands in the relation of parent, master, guardian or husband to the principal offender, he shall, in all such cases, receive the highest punishment affixed to the offense, and the same may, in felonies less than capital, be increased by the jury to double the highest penalty which would be suffered in ordinary cases. (O. C. 223.)

TRIAL OF ACCOMPLICES AND ACCESSORIES

Art. 89. (89) Accomplice may be tried before principal.—An accomplice may be arrested, tried and punished before the conviction of the principal offender, and the acquittal of the principal shall not bar a prosecution against the accomplice, but, on the trial of an accomplice, the evidence must be of such as would have convicted the principal. (Acts 1879, S. S., p. 5.)

This article and art. 108b constitute arts. 7658, 7659 of the Civil Statutes, and were a part of the act from which art. 107, Penal Code was taken. They are here inserted for convenience, and to supplement art. 107.

Art. 108b. (Acts March 30, 1887, p. 67.)

The above article, at the time it was incorporated into the revised Penal Code, had been superseded by Laws 1893, p. 90 (Civ. St., arts. 7618-7620). The superseding act, however, was carried into the Penal Code as arts. 144-146, post.

That article was amended by Acts 1915, ch. 126, so as to read as indicated above in italics. This amendment therefore, impliedly repealed the corresponding part of the above article of the Penal Code.

Art. 121. Storekeepers and accountants, appointment of; interest in contracts for supplies; reports; excess of supplies; providing penalty.—There shall be appointed by the superintendents, with the advice and consent of the board of managers of said institution, storekeepers and accountants, one for each of said institutions, who shall hold their office for two years from date of qualification, or until their successors shall have qualified, unless sooner removed by the board of managers, at the suggestion of the superintendent or upon complaint of the Purchasing Agent, for inefficiency, incompetency, neglect of duty or other adequate cause affecting their faithful and satisfactory performance of duty; provided, that where the magnitude of an institution is not sufficient to employ a storekeeper and accountant, that the superintendent shall perform that service. The office or position of steward, quartermaster or other similar position heretofore existing in any and all eleemosynary institutions are abolished, and said storekeepers or accountants shall hereafter perform all of the duties, except as may be inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter heretofore imposed upon such abolished officers or employés, as well as such other duties as may be required of them by the management of said institutions. They shall also keep the Purchasing Agent constantly advised as to the amount and character of supplies on hand and the amount and character required in order to keep the institutions constantly provided for, and they shall make report on or before the tenth day of each month to the State Purchasing Agent, showing the total amount of appropriation, the total amount expended and the balance unexpended on the first of each month. If at any time any institution accumulates an amount of supplies on hand in excess of its needs, and another institution is in need of any such supplies, the Purchasing Agent shall present such facts to a board composed of the Governor, Comptroller and Purchasing Agent, with the recommendation that such institution in need of such supplies shall be furnished from such excess of supplies, and if approved by the board, shall forthwith transfer any of such from the institution having such excess to such institution in need of such supplies, and the debit and credit shall be made on the basis that such supplies could be purchased in the open market at the time of the transfer, if such is less than the cost under the general contract for such supplies for the fiscal year, otherwise the debit and credit shall be made on the basis of the general contract price for that year, and all controversies as to such shall be determined by a board composed of the Governor, Comptroller and Purchasing Agent; provided, that any educational institution may dispense with the position of storekeeper, provided for in this Act, and select or appoint some person at such institution whose duty it shall be to receive such supplies purchased, and such person shall make the reports to the Purchasing Agent, as is required of the storekeeper in this article. Any person violating any of the provisions of this article shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction thereof, be punished by confinement in the state penitentiary not less than two nor more than five years. (Acts 1899, p. 138, sec. 3; Acts 1915, ch. 126, sec. 1.)

A part of section 3 of Acts 1899, p. 138, was carried into the Revised Civil Statutes of 1911 as art. 7327. That article was amended by Acts 1915, ch. 126, so as to read as indicated above in italics. This amendment, therefore, impliedly repealed the corresponding part of the above article of the Penal Code.

Art. 122. Such officers and employés shall not use or receive provisions, clothing, merchandise or other articles furnished by state; penalty for so doing.—No officer or employé created by this law shall ever use or receive for their own use any provisions, clothing, merchandise, or other articles furnished by the state, but that the

Art. 122a. Institutions included; proviso.—The institutions herein contemplated are those for the care of the insane, deaf and dumb, the blind, the orphans, the Confederate Home and all other State institutions, educational or eleemosynary, now established or that may hereafter be established anywhere in Texas, excepting the penitentiary system and its management, and also excepting the Senate and House of Representatives and all departments in the State Capitol, including General Land Office, and as to such Senate, House of Representatives, departments and General Land Office the present law or custom now in force shall continue; provided, that all contracts designated in Article 16, Section 21, of the Constitution of the State shall be approved by a board consisting of the Governor, Secretary of State and Comptroller. (Acts 1915, ch. 126, sec. 1.)

The above article was created by way of amendment of art. 7337, Rev. Civ. St. 1911. It has application to the subject-matter of this chapter of the Penal Code, and it is inserted in this compilation for convenience and to properly supplement the penal provisions.

Art. 122b. Penalty for misdemeanor under this law.—Any person who is found guilty of a misdemeanor under the succeeding articles of this chapter shall be subject to a fine of not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or to hard labor on the public roads of the county in which the offense was committed for any period of time not less than sixty days nor more than one year, or to both such penalties. (Id. p. 558.)

The above article, as originally enacted, reads as follows: "Any person who is found guilty of a misdemeanor under this act shall be subject to a fine of not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or to hard labor on the public road of the county in which the offense was committed for any period of time not less than sixty days nor more than one year, or to both such penalties." Acts 1903, ch. 101, sec. 108; Acts 1905, 1st C. S., ch. 11, sec. 148.

Art. 222, post, in its original form reads as follows: "Any person who fraudulently or willfully does anything in violation of this act to affect the result of any primary, special or general election is guilty of a misdemeanor unless some other penalty for such act is specially provided for." Acts 1903, ch. 101, sec. 109; Acts 1905, 1st C. S., ch. 11, sec. 150.

Art. 226, post, in its original form, is as follows: "Any judge, clerk, chairman or member of an executive committee, collector of taxes, county clerk, sheriff, county judge or judge of an election, president or member of a State convention, or Secretary of State who willfully fails or refuses to discharge any duty imposed on him by this law, is guilty of a misdemeanor unless the particular act under some other section of the law is made a felony." Acts 1903, ch. 101, sec. 115; Acts 1905, 1st C. S., ch. 11, sec. 154.

Construing together the above three sections of the act of 1905, it would seem that the compilers of the revised Penal Code failed to present in the Code all the offenses described in the original act. The various things denounced in the act of 1905 are made misdemeanors by sections 150 and 154 of that act (Penal Code, arts. 222, 226) and section 148 (Penal Code, art. 220) fixes the penalty where it is not otherwise specifically denominated in the act. If the original act is to stand unimpaired by the revision, as would seem to result from the decision in Berry v. S., 156 S. W. 626, the Penal Code is incomplete in so far as it attempts to enumerate the offenses against the right of suffrage. In view of the doubt as to whether the revision has limited the scope of the original act, and as to just what acts directed or prohibited by the act of 1905, and its subsequent amendments, come within the criminal provisions, the compilers have not attempted to set out the omitted provisions. The omitted provisions, with their amendments will be found ante, Civ. St. arts. 2912, 2920-2924, 2927, 2933, 2935, 2937-2954, 2957-2970, 2972-2974, 2976-2985, 2990-2995, 2997-2999, 3001, 3003-3011, 3013, 3015-3023, 3026, 3084-3138, 3140, 3145-3174.

That the term "drug" as used in this Act shall include all medicines and preparations for internal or external use recognized in the United States Pharmacopoeia or National Formulary, and any substance or mixture of substances intended to be used for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease of either man or animal. Art. 700. For the purpose of this Act, the term "filthy" shall be deemed to apply to food not securely protected from flies, dust, dirt, and as far as may be necessary by all reasonable means from all foreign or injurious contaminations. (Acts 1907, ch. 39; Acts 1909, p. 167, repealed; Acts 1911, p. 77, ch. 47, sec. 2, superseding art. 700, revised Pen. Code.)

Art. 701. "Misbranded" defined.—That the term "misbranded," as used herein, shall apply to all drugs or articles of food or articles which enter into the composition of food, the package or label of which shall bear any statement, design or device regarding such article or the ingredients or substances contained therein which shall be false or misleading in any particular. That for the purposes of this Act an article shall also be deemed to be misbranded: (a) In the case of drugs; (1) if it be an imitation of or offered for sale under the name of another article; (2) if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed in whole or in part and other contents shall have been placed in such package, or if the package fail to bear a statement on the label of the quantity or proportion of any morphine, phenocetice, opium, cocaine, heroin alpha, or beta eucaine, chloroform, cannabis indica, chloral hydrate, or acetanelid or any derivative or preparation of any such substances contained therein. (b) In the case of food: (1) if it be an imitation of or offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article; (2) if it be labeled or branded so as to deceive or mislead the purchaser or purport to be a foreign product when not so, or if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed in whole or in part and other contents shall have been placed in such package, or if it fail to bear a statement on the label of the quantity or proportion of any morphine, opium, cocaine, heroin alpha, or beta eucaine, phenacetin, chloroform, cannabis indica, chloral hydrate or acetanelid, or any derivative or preparation of any of such substances contained therein; (3) if in package form and the contents are stated in terms of weight or measure, they are not plainly and correctly stated on the outside of the package; (4) if the package containing it or its labels bear any statement, design or device regarding the ingredients or the substances contained therein, which statement, design or device shall be false or misleading in any particular, provided than that an article of food which does not contain any added poisonous or deleterious ingredient shall not be deemed to be adulterated or misbranded in the following cases: First in case of mixtures or compounds which may be now or from time to time hereafter known as articles of food, under their own distinctive names, and not an imitation of or offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article, if the name be accompanied on the same label or brand with a statement of the place where said article has been manufactured or produced; second, in the case of articles labeled, branded or tagged so as to plainly indicate that they are compounds, imitations or blends; that the term "blend," as used herein, shall be construed to mean a mixture of like substances, not excluding harmless coloring or flavoring ingredients used for the purpose or coloring and flavoring only; and provided, further, that nothing in this Act shall be construed as requiring or compelling proprietors or manufacturers of proprietary foods which contain no unwholesome added ingredients to disclose their trade formulas except in so far as the provisions of this Act may require to secure freedom from adulteration or misbranding. (Acts 1907, ch. 39; Acts 1909, p. 167, repealed; Acts 1911, p. 78, ch. 47, sec. 3, superseding art. 701, revised Pen. Code.)

the manufacturer or dealer, and the ingredients of the baking powder. Baking powder containing less than 10 per cent of available carbon dioxide shall be deemed to be adulterated. Art. 707. [Repealed by Acts 1911, ch. 47, sec. 26.]

Art. 708. Exemptions from provisions of act.—That no dealer shall be prosecuted under the provisions of this Act, when he can establish a guaranty signed by the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer, or other party residing within this State or in the United States from whom he purchases such article, to the effect that the same is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this Act, designating it. Said guaranty, to afford protection, shall contain the name and address of the party making the sale of such articles to such dealer, and in such case said party or parties shall be amenable to the prosecutions, fines and other penalties, which would attach, in due course to the dealer under the provisions of this Act. (Acts 1907, ch. 39; Acts 1909, p. 169, repealed; Acts 1911, p. 79, ch. 47, sec. 7, superseding art. 708, revised Pen. Code.)

Art. 709. Unlawful for officers to issue certificates of purity.—It shall be unlawful for the Dairy and Food Commissioner or his deputy or assistants while they hold office to furnish to any individual, firm or corporation any certificate as to the purity or excellence of any article manufactured or sold to or by them to be used as food or drug or in the preparation of foods or drugs. (Acts 1907, ch. 39; Acts 1909, p. 171, repealed; Acts 1911, p. 81, ch. 47, sec. 17, superseding art. 709, revised Pen. Code.)

Art. 710. Obstruction of officers.—Any person who shall wilfully hinder or obstruct the Dairy and Food Commissioner, or his inspector, or other persons by him duly authorized in the exercise of the powers conferred upon him by this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more than $200.00. (Acts 1907, ch. 39; Acts 1909, p. 172, repealed; Acts 1911, p. 81, ch. 47, sec. 19, superseding art. 710, revised Pen. Code.)

Art. 711. Penalty for violations of act.—Whoever shall do any of the acts or things prohibited, or willfully neglect or refuse to do any of the Acts or the things enjoined by this Act, or in any way violate any of its provisions, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more than $200.00. (Acts 1907, ch. 39; Acts 1909, p. 169, repealed; Acts 1911, p. 79, ch. 47, sec. 8, superseding art. 711, revised Pen. Code.)

MILL PRODUCTS

Art. 712. Standard weights, etc.—Mill products hereinafter mentioned, shall have the following standard weights, viz.: Flour, one hundred and ninety-six pounds per barrel, or forty-eight pounds per sack; corn meal, bolted or unbolted, thirty-five pounds per sack, and feed made from cereals of any kind, whether pure, mixed or adulterated, one hundred pounds per sack. Fractional barrels and sacks shall weigh in the same proportion; and these weights shall be net and exclusive of the barrel or sack in which such product is packed. (Acts 1905, p. 227, sec. 1.)

Attention is called to art. 730, post. The subject matter of art. 730 was first enacted in 1905 (Acts 1905, p. 207, sec. 1). The latter act took effect at the same time as Act 1905, p. 227, constituting art. 712. It should be noticed that Acts 1905, p. 207, sec. 1 contains the same language as is embraced in art. 712, except that it includes "cotton seed meal." Acts 1905, p. 207, sec. 1 was amended in 1907 (Acts 1907, p. 243), and "cotton seed meal" was dropped out and "rice bran" and "rice polish" added. This would seem to present a question as to whether the amendatory act of 1907 superseded Acts 1905, p. 227, sec. 1 (art. 712, above).

Art. 713. Correct name and true net weight to be marked or branded on hogshead, sack, package, etc.—The correct name and the true net weight of the contents of each and every hogshead, barrel, box, cask, bale, sack or package of any of the foregoing products, whether sold in single packages or lots, shall be plainly marked, branded or stenciled in large, legible letters and figures, not less than two inches in size, upon the exterior of such hogshead, barrel, box, cask, bale, sack or package, in a conspicuous place, as the head in case of hogsheads or barrels, and the front or branded side in case of sacks, bales or packages; and it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, or the agent, employé or representative of any person, firm or corporation, to sell or exchange, or offer for sale or exchange, any of such products so packed or contained, until the provisions hereof have been complied with. (Id. sec. 2.)

Art. 714. Penalty for offering same for sale not so marked or branded.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, or the agent, employé or representative of any person, firm or corporation, to sell or exchange, or offer for sale or exchange, whether in single packages or lots, any product composed of mixed cereals of any kind, or any cereal adulterated in any manner, unless the word "adulterated" is plainly marked, printed or stenciled diagonally across the other marks or brands, if any, on the hogshead, barrel, box, bale, cask, sack or package containing the same, or in case there are no other marks thereon, then across such hogshead, barrel, box, cask, bale, sack or package, in a conspicuous place in large legible letters and figures not less than two inches in size. (Id. sec. 3.)

Art. 715. Penalty for violating any provision of this law.—If any person shall knowingly violate the provisions of this law, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and each transaction shall be deemed a separate offense. (Id. sec. 4.)

Art. 716. Manufactured wheat or corn products, packages how marked or branded.—Any person, firm, corporation or agent, employé or representative of any person, firm, corporation, manufacturer or dealer in said manufactured wheat or corn products in original packages, and offering the same for sale in this state, whether said packages are sold singly or in lots, and all manufacturers or dealers of flour, meal or feed from the above enumerated grain products in this state, when offering the same for sale in original packages, whether sold in single packages or lots, shall place in large, legible letters and figures, not less than two inches in size, on the package or packages so offered for sale, the name of the contents and the actual net weight of the contents of said package or packages; and it shall be unlawful for any such person to sell, or offer to sell, any of the articles mentioned in this act which have been falsely labeled, knowing the same to be falsely labeled. Every such tree, shrub or plant shall be a public nuisance, and as such, it shall be the duty of the commissioner of agriculture or his representatives to abate it; and no damage shall be awarded for entering upon the premises upon which there are trees, shrubs or plants infected with yellows, black knot, crown gall or other infectious or dangerous disease, or infested with San Jose scale or other dangerous insect pest, for the purpose of legally inspecting the same; nor shall any damages be awarded for the treatment by the commissioner of agriculture, or his duly authorized agents or representatives of such trees, shrubs or plants, or for altogether destroying such trees, if necessary to suppress such insect, pest or disease, if done in accordance with the provisions of this article. The above article was omitted from the revised Penal Code of 1911; but is inserted here in view of the decision in Berry v. S., 156 S. W. 626.

Art. 831a. Age limitation of workers on public roads, etc.—No person in this state under the age of twenty-one years, or over the age of forty-five years, shall be required to work upon the public roads of this state or upon the streets and alleys of any city or town of this state. (491) Failure to attend when summoned.—If any person, liable to work upon the public roads, after being legally summoned, shall fail or refuse to attend, either in person or by able and competent substitute, or fail or refuse to furnish his team or tools at the time and place designated by the person summoning him, or to pay to such road overseer the sum of one dollar for each day he may have been notified to work on the public roads, or to pay to such overseer the sum of one dollar and fifty cents for each day he may have been notified to furnish his team for road work, or, having attended, shall fail or refuse to perform good service or any other duty required of him by law, or the person under whom he may work, or, if any one shall fail to comply with any duty required of him as provided by law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, fined in any sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars. (Acts 1876, p. 60; amended, Acts 1899, p. 14, and Acts 1901, p. 277, sec. 10.)

See Goodrich v. S., 118 S. W. 1042.

Art. 833. (493) Failure to open boundary lines.—Whenever the commissioners' court of any county in this state shall duly declare the boundary lines between the lands of different persons a public highway, in accordance with law, if any person or owner shall fail, neglect or refuse, for twelve months after legal notice thereof, to leave open his land, free from all obstructions, for ten feet on his side of the line designated, he shall be fined not more than twenty dollars for each month after the twelve months aforesaid in which he may so fail, neglect or refuse. (Acts 1876, p. 69.)

Art. 834. (494) Leaving gates open on third-class roads.—Any person or persons placing a gate on or across any third-class road, or on or across any road such as is designated in article 833 of the Penal Code, shall be required to keep said gate and the approaches to the same in good order; and the gate shall be ten feet wide and so constructed as to cause no unnecessary delay to the traveling public in opening and shutting the same, and provide a fastening to hold said gate open till the passengers go through; and such person or persons shall place a permanent hitching post and stile block on each side of, and within sixty feet of, such gate. The above article seems to have been superseded by the new irrigation acts (Civ. St., arts. 4991 to 5107—105).

Art. 836. Persons obstructing ditch constructed under the drainage law.—If any person shall wilfully or negligently obstruct, or cause to be obstructed, any ditch constructed under the drainage law of this state, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars. (Acts 1899, p. 100.)

While the revisers of the Penal Code ascribed the above provision to Act 1899, p. 100, it may have been the design to construct a composite provision applicable to all the groups of the drainage law. Act 1899, p. 100, as originally enacted, has reference to the group placed under chapter 2 of Title 47, Rev. St. 1911. The corresponding penal provision for the group represented by chapter 2, Title 47, Rev. St. 1911, is found in Acts 1897, p. 99, sec. 15. This provision was carried into the Penal Code as art. 826. The group represented by chapter 4, Title 47, Rev. St. 1911, carried a penal provision (Acts 1907, p. 88, ch. 40, sec. 39), and this provision was inserted in the revision as art. 1253, post. Art. 1253 was superseded by Act 1911, ch. 118, sec. 40 (art. 1253, post).

(Acts 1913, ch. 171, and Acts 1917, ch. 88, are acts providing an adequate system of irrigation. Acts 1917, ch. 88, repeals Acts 1913, p. 358.)

See arts. 5011g-5011½d, ante, Civil Statutes.

Art. 837r. May not refuse reasonable use of road.—No such corporation shall have the right arbitrarily to refuse the use of such road to any person who shall offer to pay the regular toll therefor, except that such corporation shall be authorized to refuse to permit such road to be used by any vehicle which shall render the same unduly hazardous to the patrons of said road or damaging to the surface thereof, or to any person who shall fail or refuse to abide by the reasonable and necessary traffic regulations promulgated by such corporation. (Id. sec. 23.)

Art. 837s. Trespass on property of toll road corporation.—It shall be unlawful for any person to trespass or enter upon the property or right of way of any such corporation without its consent except as to crossings provided by law, and any person so trespassing or unlawfully entering thereupon shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00. (497) Keeping ferry without license.—If any person or firm shall keep any ferry over any water course, navigable stream, lake or bay in this state, and shall charge or receive any money, property, or other valuable thing, for crossing passengers or property at such ferry, without first obtaining license, as is now or as may hereafter be required by law, such person or firm shall be punished by fine not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars. (Acts 1860, p. 98.)

Art. 839. (498) Failure to keep good boats.—If the owner of any licensed ferry in this state shall fail to keep, at all times, good, safe and substantial boats, sufficient in number for the ready accommodation of the public, or shall fail to keep the banks on each side of the ferry in good repair, and so graded that the ascent shall not exceed one foot in every seven feet from the water's edge to the top of the bank, or shall fail to give ready attendance on all passengers desiring to cross with their animals, wagons, or other property, or shall charge higher rates of ferriage than those fixed by the proper authority, he shall be fined not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars. (Acts 1875, pp. 58, 59.)

CHAPTER FOUR

OFFENSES RELATING TO PUBLIC GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS

Art. 840. (499) Injuring or defacing a public building.—If any person shall wilfully injure or deface any public building, or the furniture therein in this state, he shall be fined not less than five nor more than five hundred dollars. The word "deface" in this chapter shall be held to apply to writing, carving or scratching on the walls or plastering or furniture of said building, or staining the same with paint or any other article which will produce a discoloration of the same. (Acts May 14, 1888, p. 5, sec. 5.)

Art. 841. (500) "Public building" defined.—The term "public building" as used in the preceding article means the capitol and all other buildings in the capitol grounds at the seat of government, including the general land office and the executive mansion, the various state asylums and all buildings belonging to either, all college or university buildings erected by the state, all court houses and jails and all other buildings held for public use by any department or branch of government, state, county or municipal; and the specific enumeration of the above shall not exclude other buildings not named, properly coming within the meaning and description of a public building.

Art. 842. (501) All officers to report violations.—It is the especial duty of all executive officers of the state and the county officers of the various counties to aid in the execution of the two preceding articles, and to report all violations thereof to the proper authorities for immediate prosecution. (Acts Jan. 4, 1862, p. 51.)

Art. 843. (502) Driving in capitol grounds.—If any person shall drive, ride or lead, or cause to be driven, ridden or led, any horse or other animal to the capitol grounds at the seat of government, or into the inclosure of the state cemetery, without the consent of the keeper or superintendent of said grounds or cemetery, he shall be fined not exceeding twenty-five dollars. (Acts April 29, 1874, p. 165.)

Art. 844. Injuring roadway, public grounds or property of state prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to drive, or cause to be driven, over or along any roadway in any of the public grounds of this state, any heavy vehicle, or vehicle for carrying merchandise, or vehicle heavily loaded, or otherwise reasonably calculated to injure or deface such roadways, or to make their maintenance more expensive; or to drive, or cause to be driven, any vehicle or conveyance of any kind, or to drive, or cause to be ridden, any animal of any kind, over, across, or along any of the footpaths or walks in such grounds, or on the turf of such grounds, or at any place therein, except on and along the roadways and at the hitching places provided therefor; or to hitch any horse or team in any of said public grounds, or to the fences surrounding the same, unless at some place especially provided therefor, or to cause or permit any horse, not being driven to some vehicle or ridden, or any cow, sheep, goat, hog, or other animal reasonably calculated to injure said grounds, or anything pertaining thereto, or go into or remain in any portion of said grounds; or to cut, pull, break, bruise, remove, or in any wise injure any tree, or shrub or vegetation of any kind growing thereon; or disturbing any birds' nests or eggs; or to in any wise injure, deface or in any way interfere with any chair, bench, seat, hydrant, frame, fence, gate, erection or structure of any kind therein or thereon or connected therewith; or to fish or wash or bathe in or any way pollute the waters of any lake or pond, or stream, therein, or to obscenely or indecently expose any part of his or her person, or to do any indecent act thereon. Any person violating any of the several provisions of this law shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined in any sum not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars. (Acts 1903, p. 187.)

Art. 845. Not to apply, when.—This law shall not apply to anything done by the lawful custodian of the public grounds on which said act is performed, or under his authority and direction, and which is done in the reasonable discharge of his duties as such custodian, or in the use of such grounds for the purpose to which they are dedicated by the state. (Id., p. 187.)

Art. 846. "Public grounds" defined.—The term "public grounds," as used in this law, includes all grounds owned by the state, and used and maintained by it in connection with any public building or institution, whether for governmental, educational, eleemosynary or other purpose, and all state cemeteries and all parks maintained at the expense of the state. (Id., p. 187.)

Art. 847. (503) Hitching in capitol grounds.—If any person shall hitch any animal to any tree or shrub in the capitol grounds or state cemetery, he shall be punished as prescribed in the preceding article. (Acts April 29, 1874, p. 165.)

Art. 848. (503a) Pass-keys to state capitol.—It shall not be lawful for any person to make or have made, or to keep in his possession, a pass or master key to the rooms and apartments in the state capitol, unless authorized to do so by the superintendent of public buildings and grounds; and any person violating the provisions of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars. (Acts of 1895, p. 79.)

Art. 849. (504) Taking property from public grounds.—If any person shall take, remove, injure or destroy any species of public property pertaining to public building, as defined in article 841, or to the grounds belonging to such building, he shall be fined not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars.

Art. 850. (505) Unlawful fencing, using, etc., public lands.—It shall be unlawful for any person to fence, use, occupy or appropriate, by herding or line-riding, any portion of the public lands of the state, or of the lands belonging to any particular fund specified in this act, without having first obtained a lease of such lands in accordance with the provisions of this act. Any person, whether owner of stock, manager, agent, employé or servant, who shall fence, use, occupy or appropriate, by herding or line-riding, any portion of such lands without a lease thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and in addition thereto, shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than three months nor more than two years. Each day of such fencing, using, occupying or appropriating, by herding or line-riding, shall be deemed a separate offense; and any person so offending may be prosecuted, by indictment or information, in the proper court of the county where any portion of the land lies or to which it may be attached for judicial purposes, or in the county of Travis; and jurisdiction of such offenses is hereby vested in said courts; and, in case any indictment or information is preferred or filed against a non-resident of this state for a violation of this article, it shall be the duty of the governor to demand the extradition of the defendant from the proper officer of any state or territory where he may be found, in order that he may be brought to trial. "Fencing," within the meaning of this article, is the erection of any structure of wood, wire, or both, or any other material intended to prevent the passage of cattle, horses, mules, asses, sheep, goats or hogs, whether the same shall inclose lands on all sides or be erected on one or more sides. Any appropriation of land belonging to any particular fund specified in this act, or of the public lands of this state, without having first obtained a lease thereof, by fencing of any kind, or by inclosures consisting partly of fencing and partly of natural obstacles, or impediments to the passage of live stock, shall be deemed an unlawful appropriation, punishable as provided in this article for appropriating such lands; and each day said land is so appropriated shall be deemed a separate offense. (Acts April 1, 1887, p. 89, sec. 18.)

At the time this article was placed in the revised Penal Code the act from which it was derived (Act 1887, p. 89, sec. 18) had been superseded by Act 1895, p. 74. The latter act, however, was carried into the revised Penal Code as art. 860, post. The later act was substantially the same as the earlier one, except that the proviso (art. 851) of the early act was omitted from the act of 1895. The result would seem to be that the revisers of 1911 inadvertently restored a proviso, which the legislature, in 1895, intended to strike out.

Art. 851. (506) Not applicable, when.—The provisions of this act, as set forth in the preceding article, shall not apply to persons who are moving or gathering or holding for shipment any stock mentioned in said article; provided, the said persons have not erected any fence on such lands or continue on said lands longer than one week. (Id. sec. 19.)

Art. 852. (507) Turning loose too many stock on leasehold land.—No purchaser or other person than the lessee of public free school, asylum and public lands shall be permitted to turn loose within such leasehold more than one head of horses or mules or cattle for any ten acres of land purchased, owned or controlled by him and uninclosed, or in lieu thereof, four head of sheep or goats to every ten acres so purchased, owned or controlled and uninclosed. Each violation of this provision of this article, which restricts the number of stock that may be turned loose on lands leased from the state, shall be an offense; and the owner, on conviction, shall be punished by a fine not less than one dollar for each head of stock he may so turn loose; and each thirty days' violation of the provisions of this article shall constitute a separate offense. (Acts April 1, 1887, p. 88, sec. 15; amended by Acts April 28, 1891, p. 181; Acts 1895, p. 71, § 18; Acts 1897, c. 129; Acts 1901, c. 125, § 5.)

Art. 852a. (422d, 508) Construction of fences without gates.—It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation who may have used any of the lands, by joining fences or otherwise, to build or maintain more than three miles, lineal measure, of fence running in the same general direction without a gateway in the same, which gateway must be at least ten feet wide, and shall not be locked or kept closed so as to obstruct free ingress and egress; provided, that all persons who have fences already constructed in violation of the provisions of this law shall have two months from the time this act takes effect within which to conform with the provisions thereof; provided further, that if any person or persons shall build or maintain more than three miles, lineal measure, running in the same direction without providing such gateway he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than two hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and each day that such fence remains without such gateway shall constitute and be punished as a separate offense; provided further, that the construction of gates as provided for in this article shall apply only to pasture lands; provided further, that when herds of cattle, horses, sheep or goats are driven through this state from one place to another place in this state, and it becomes necessary for such stock to pass through any inclosed pasture of any person who has leased any of the aforesaid lands, such lessees of such inclosure shall permit such stock to pass through such pasture; provided, that the owner of such stock so driven through any such inclosure shall move the same as expeditiously and with as little delay as practicable through such inclosure. (Acts April 1, 1887, p. 90, sec. 21.)

The above provision was carried into the revised Penal Code of 1895 as art. 508, but it was omitted from the revision of 1911. In view of the decision in Bugby-Coleman Land & Cattle Co. v. Matador Land & Cattle Co., 63 S. W. 914, recognizing the constitutionality and continued existence of the statute, it is included in this compilation.

Art. 853. (509) Other statutes relating to public lands.—Each and every person who shall have inclosed, by fencing or otherwise, any of the public free school lands belonging to the state, and shall use the same to the exclusion of the public, shall pay an annual rental value therefor of the sum of twenty-five dollars for each section so inclosed.

And it shall be the duty of the surveyor of each county to make a report to the county commissioners' court on the first Monday in June each year of the number of sections of public school lands in his county inclosed during the past year, and the names of the person or persons controlling such inclosed lands, and the number of sections controlled by him or them, respectively.

And the said court, at the first regular term thereafter, shall make a list of the names of the persons controlling such public free school lands, the number of sections so controlled by each person, and the aggregate amount due from each person, at the rate of twenty-five dollars for each section so inclosed and controlled, which list shall be recorded by the clerk of said court, and a certified copy thereof forwarded by him to the comptroller of public accounts, and a like copy delivered to the collector of taxes for said county.

The collector of taxes, on receipt of such list, shall proceed to collect the same under the same provisions and penalties as is imposed by law for the collection of taxes.

All moneys collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the collector into the state treasury and constitute a part of the available school fund; provided, that the state may resume control of said land at any time.

Any person who shall control inclosed lands belonging to the public free schools, and fail to pay the rental value as specified under the provisions of this act, upon the demand of the collector, shall be subject to prosecution upon complaint, information or indictment, and fined in the sum of one hundred dollars for each section so inclosed. (Acts April 17, 1879, pp. 101-2.)

It would seem that this article was superseded, in part at least, by the act of April 1, 1887, p. 89, sec. 18 (art. 850, ante).

Art. 854. Permitting fence to remain standing around land of another, etc.—If any person or corporation shall knowingly make or permit to remain standing any fence on or around the land of another, or the public, public school, university or asylum lands of this state, without the written consent of the owner thereof duly acknowledged, or a duly executed lease of such land from the proper authority in a case of public, public school, university or asylum lands, as the case may be, duly recorded in the county where the land lies or to which it is attached for judicial purposes, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, fined in any sum not less than fifty cents nor more than one dollar per acre per month for each month so inclosed, or fined and imprisoned in the county jail for any period not over two years. Within the meaning of person, as used in this act, is included every man managing or controlling for a corporation, firm or joint stock company, and any and every individual or person who shall aid, assist or direct in the violation of this act. Half of all fines collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid to the person or persons informing on the person or corporation who shall unlawfully inclose any land; provided, that each three months said land is so inclosed shall constitute a separate offense. A fence, within the meaning of this act, is any structure of wood, wire, or both, or any other material intended to prevent the passage of cattle, horses, mules, asses, sheep, goats or hogs. Where persons or corporations have unlawfully fenced land belonging to the state, or public school, university or asylum lands, it shall be the duty of the attorney general, either in person or by proxy, to institute proceedings in the name of the state against any person or incorporation so unlawfully inclosing said lands; and the expense incurred in employing counsel to prosecute such cases shall be deducted from the fine or fines collected from any person or corporation violating the provisions of this act, the balance to be paid to the fund to which it belongs. (Acts Feb. 7, 1884, pp. 68–69.)

Art. 855. Articles that apply to prosecutions.—In all prosecutions under this chapter, the provisions of articles 1290 and 1291 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas shall apply. (Id.)

Art. 856. When the law does not apply.—This chapter shall not apply to persons who have heretofore settled upon lands not their own, where the inclosure is two hundred acres or less, and where the principal pursuit of such person upon the land and is that of agriculture. (Id.)

Art. 857. Unlawful to herd horses, etc.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to herd, or aid in herding, or cause to be herded, loose-herded or detained for grazing by line-riding, any cattle, horses, mules, asses, sheep or goats on any vacant public domain, school, university or asylum lands within this state, unless the same shall have been leased from the proper authority; provided, that this section of this act shall not apply to persons herding such stock, in gathering for or carrying to and from market, or in moving the same from one section of the country to another. (Id.)

When the above provision was carried into the revised Penal Code it had been superseded by the Act of April 1, 1887 (art. 850, ante) and by Act 1895, p. 74 (art. 860, post). See note under art. 850.

Art. 858. Penalty.—Any person who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of article 857 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, shall be fined one hundred dollars for each year or part of a year, for each section or part of a section (meaning six hundred and forty acres of land or less, whether surveyed in sections or not), which shall be used contrary to the provisions of said article. (Id.)

Art. 859. (509a) Turning loose excess of stock on leased lands.—Each violation of the provisions of article 852 of this Code, which restricts the number of stock that may be turned loose on lands leased from the state, shall be an offense; and the offender, on conviction, shall be punished by fine of one dollar for each head of stock he may so turn loose; and each thirty days' violation of the provisions of said article shall constitute a separate offense. (Acts 1895, p. 71.)

Art. 860. (509b) Illegal fencing, etc., of public lands.—It shall be unlawful for any person to fence, use, occupy or appropriate by herding or line-riding any portion of the public lands of the state, or of the lands belonging to the public free schools or asylums, without having first obtained a lease of such lands. Any person, whether owner of stock, manager, agent, employé or servant, who shall fence, use, occupy or appropriate by herding or line-riding any portion of such lands without a lease thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and, in addition thereto, shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than three months nor more than two years. Each day of such fencing, occupying, using or appropriating by herding or line-riding shall be deemed a separate offense; and any person so offending may be prosecuted by indictment or information in the proper court of the county where any portion of the land lies, or to which it may be attached for judicial purposes, or in the county of Travis; and jurisdiction of such offenses is hereby vested in said courts; and in case any indictment or information is preferred or filed against a nonresident of this state for a violation of this article, it shall be the duty of the governor to demand the extradition of the defendant from the proper officer of any state or territory where he may be found, in order that he may be brought to trial. "Fencing," within the meaning of this article, is the erection of any structure of wood, wire, or both, or any other material intended to prevent the passage of cattle, horses, mules, asses, sheep, goats or hogs, whether the same shall inclose lands on all sides or be erected on one or more sides. Any appropriation of land belonging to any particular fund specified in said act or of the public lands of this state, without having first obtained a lease thereof, by fencing of any kind, or by inclosures consisting partly of fencing and partly of natural obstacles or impediments to the passage of live stock, shall be deemed an unlawful appropriation, punishable as provided in this article for appropriating such lands, and each day said land is appropriated shall be deemed a separate offense. (Id., p. 74.)

Art. 860a. Suits to be brought.—When said agents [state land agents; Vernon's

Sayles' Civ. St. 1914, art. 5460 et seq.] shall have reported that any public free school, asylum, or other public lands is or has been used or occupied or inclosed without authority of law, or that any timbered land belonging to any of said fund has been or is being destroyed, or depredated upon to the injury of such land, or the detriment of such fund, the governor shall investigate same, and in his discretion direct that suit be instituted for the recovery of such sums as may appear to be proper under this act, and article 5467 [Rev. CHAPTER SIX

OFFENSES RELATING TO THE PROTECTION OF FISH, BIRDS AND GAME

See ante, Civ. St., arts. 3974-4042.

Art. 868. [Repealed.]

The subject-matter of this article was dealt with in Acts 1897, ch. 153; Acts 1903, ch. 119; Acts 1905, ch. 61; Acts 1907, chs. 75, 78. Acts 1911, ch. 110, re-enacts the article, and expressly repeals Acts 1907, ch. 75. Acts 1913, ch. 135, sec. 2, expressly repealed art. 868, Penal Code. This would seem to supersede Acts 1911, ch. 110, especially in view of art. 907, Pen. Code, as amended by the repealing act of 1913, above referred to.

Acts 1919, ch. 157, relating to the protection of game, and Acts 1919, 2d C. S., ch. 73, relating to the protection of fish, supersede and supply most of the provisions of this chapter of the Penal Code, and of Title 63 of Revised Civil Statutes. Of Acts 1919, ch. 157, section 1 is set forth ante, Civ. St., art. 4022, and post, this Code, art. 900½; section 2 is set forth ante, Civ. St., art. 4022a, and post, this Code, art. 900½a; sections 3-33 are set forth post, this Code, arts. 900½aa-900½qq; sections 34 and 35 are set forth ante, Civ. St., arts. 4039a, 4039b; sections 36-39 are set forth post, this Code, arts. 900½r-900½ss; sections 40 and 41 are set forth ante, Civ. St., arts. 4035a, 4035; and sections 42-47 are set forth post, this Code, arts. 900½t-900½vv. Of Acts 1919, 2d C. S., ch. 73, articles 1-10 are set forth ante, Civ. St., arts. 3974-3983; article 11 is set forth ante, Civ. St., art. 4018a; articles 12 and 13 are set forth post, this Code, arts. 923j, 923jj; articles 14 and 15 are set forth ante, Civ. St., arts. 3984, 3986; article 16 is set forth ante, Civ. St., art. 3987, and post, this Code, art. 917; articles 17-25 are set forth ante, Civ. St., articles 3990-3993, 3995-3999; article 26 is set forth post, this Code, art. 920; article 27 is set forth ante, Civ. St., art. 3999a, and post, this Code, art. 908; articles 28-49 are set forth post, this Code, arts. 908a, 905, 906, 923*o*, 923*oo*, 923m, 870, 907, 903, 872, 901, 911, 923gg, 923ggg, 923gggg, 923nn, 918, 914, 921, 922, 922jjj, 923b; article 50 is set forth ante, Civ. St., art. 4019c; articles 51-66 are set forth post, this Code, arts. 923e, 871, 909a, 913, 914a, 914b, 923qq, 923r, 923rr, 923s, 923ss, 923t, 923ff, 923fff, 923ffff, 923p, 912a, 923pp, 923q, 872cc, 923tt; articles 67-74 are set forth ante, Civ. St., arts. 4016, 4018b, 4002, 4003, 4010, 4001, 4004, 4005, 4006, 4007, 4008, 4009; article 75 is set forth post, this Code, art. 923u; and articles 76, 76a and 77 are set forth ante, Civ. St., arts. 4018c-4018e.

Art. 869. Unlawful to use nets; certain counties exempted.—If any person shall at any time during the year take, catch, ensnare or entrap any fish, except minnows for bait by means of nets or in any other manner than with ordinary hooks and line or trot line, except as specified in Section One, Chapter 78, of the General Laws of the Regular Session of the Thirtieth Legislature, [art. 868] such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars; provided that the following counties are hereby exempt from the provisions of this section: Anderson, Angelina, Archer, Baylor, Bosque, Brazos, Brown, Burnet, Brazoria, Bowie, Camp, Caldwell, Chambers, Cherokee, Cass, Clay, Galveston, Comanche, Collin, Delta, De Witt, Eastland, Fannin, Freestone, Fayette,

Gillespie, Goliad, Grimes, Hamilton, Hardin, Hopkins, Hill, Hood, Houston, Hunt, Jack, Jefferson, Johnson, Jones, Kaufman, Knox, Lamar, Limestone, Liberty, Llano, Mason, Matagorda, Mitchell, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Orange, Panola, Polk, Rains, Rockwall, Red River, San Augustine, Sabine, Stephens, Shackelford, San Jacinto, Shelby, Smith, Throckmorton, Trinity, Tyler, Titus; Upshur, Van Zandt, Webb, Walker, Wharton, Wood and Young; provided that the Counties of Gregg, Harrison and Rusk shall be exempt from the provisions of this Section as to the waters of Sabine River but no further, and that Harrison County shall be exempt from the provisions of this Section in so far as it applies to the waters of Big Cypress above Tuscombie Bridge and Little Cypress; provided that in the County of McLennan it shall not be unlawful for any person to take or catch fish by means of net or seine from any stream in said county from May 15 to October 1st of each year and that it shall not be unlawful for any person or persons to take or catch fish by net or seine in Palo Pinto County from June 15th to October 1st of each year; provided that Clay county shall be exempt from the provisions of this Section along the waters of the Wichita and Red Rivers; also Jack County along the waters of Trinity River, provided that the counties of Austin, Washington, and Palo Pinto shall be exempt from the provisions of this Section along the waters of Brazos river, provided further that in the county of Falls it shall not be unlawful for any person or persons to take or catch fish by means of net or seine from any stream in said county from June 15th to September 1st of each year. Provided further that it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to build any trap in or across any stream or lake in Wood County, Texas, for the purpose of catching or taking fish from any such stream or lake, and any person violating this provision shall be punished as provided by this Act. (Acts 1897, ch. 153; Acts 1899, chs. 55, 69; Acts 1901, ch. 18; Acts 1901, 1st S. S., ch. 17; Acts 1903, ch. 119; Acts 1905, ch. 61; Acts 1907, chs. 75, 78; Acts 1909, p. 95; Acts 1911, ch. 110, sec. 4; Acts 1911, ch. 113, sec. 1; Acts 1911, 1st S. S., ch. 17, sec. 1; Acts 1913, ch. 41, sec. 1; Acts 1913, ch. 96, sec. 1, amended; Acts 1915, ch. 10, sec. 1.)

Act 1913, ch. 135, sec. 2 repealed art. 869, Penal Code, but as the Act of 1915 re-enacts its subject-matter, the new act is given the old code number Act 1915, ch. 10, sec. 1, amends "section 2, chapter 96, of the General Laws of the Regular Session of the Thirty-Third Legislature, relating to the taking of fish, as amended by chapter 96 of the General Laws of the Regular Session of the Thirty-Third Legislature" so as to read as above. It was probably the intent to amend section 2, chapter 49 of the acts of the 31st Legislature, as amended, etc. The misdescription of the act amended is probably immaterial in view of the clear intent as shown by the subject-matter of the act.

See post, arts. 901-923u.

The members of the first State Board of Public Accountancy provided for herein shall be appointed for and shall serve for the term ending on the third Tuesday of January, 1917, or until their successors are appointed and qualified. On and after the third Tuesday in January, 1917, and regularly every two years thereafter, the Governor of the State of Texas shall appoint five members as successors on said board, and each and every member who may be appointed to succeed any member of the first State Board of Public Accountancy shall be a certified Public Accountant, holding a certificate as such under the provisions of this Act, and resident of Texas for at least three years preceding said appointment.

Five members of the First State Board of Public Accountancy provided for herein shall confer upon themselves the title "Certified Public Accountant," provided that each member of said board shall have filed an application for such certificate with four remaining members of said board, and, provided further, that said applicant shall meet the requirements as provided in Section 8 [Art. 999ttt]. All vacancies in said board caused by death, resignation, removal from the State, or otherwise, shall be filled by appointment of the Governor, and each special appointment shall be from the roster of certified public accountants created under this Act, and said appointee shall continue only until the expiration of the regular term for which the predecessor of such appointee would have held office. The revocation of the certificate of any member of this board shall terminate his membership thereon, and the Governor shall fill the vacancy so caused as herein above provided. (Id. sec. 2.)

Art. 999s. Organization of board; rules and regulations; powers.—The members of said board shall, within thirty days after their appointment, qualify by taking the oath of office before a notary public or other officer empowered to administer oaths in the county in which each shall reside, and shall file same with the Secretary of State and receive their certificate of appointment as members of the "State Board of Public Accountancy." At the first meeting after each biennial appointment, the board shall elect from among its members a chairman and secretary-treasurer. The board may prescribe rules, regulations and by-laws in harmony with the provisions of this law and not inconsistent with the laws of the State of Texas for its own proceedings and government and for the examination of applicants for certificates as certified public accountants; which rule shall provide that when a division on any motion occurs, at least three affirmative votes shall be necessary to the final adoption thereof. It is further provided that three members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the board.

All rules, regulations and by-laws adopted by the said board shall be filed with the office of the Secretary of State. Said board, or any member thereof, shall have the power to administer oaths for all purposes required in the discharge of its duties, and said board shall adopt a seal to be affixed to all of its official documents. (Id. sec. 3.)

Art. 999ss. Meetings of board; examinations.—The board shall meet within sixty days after its appointment and at least once in each year for the purpose of examining applicants for certificates as provided herein, and may meet as many times during the year as may be in its discretion advisable. Notice of all meetings shall be given at least thirty days prior to the dates selected for same by publication three consecutive times in three daily newspapers published in the three most populous cities in the State, such notice giving the time and place of meeting and stating the purpose to be for the examination of applicants for certificates as certified public accountants; provided, that the board may hold any number of meetings, and at any time, without giving notice by publication of such meetings, if a meeting be called for any other purpose than the examination of applicants for certificates. It is further provided that any applicant who has successfully passed an examination before said board upon three of the subjects required may have a re-examination upon the unsuccessful subject under the supervision of said board. Examinations by the board shall be on the following subjects: "Theory of Accounts," "Practical Accounting," "Auditing," and "Commercial Law as Affecting Accountancy," and each applicant shall be required to make a general average of at least seventy-five per cent. on all subjects, and to each person passing such examination, if he has otherwise qualified, shall be issued by the State Board of Public Accountancy a certificate as a "Certified public accountant of the State of Texas," and the State Board of Public Accountancy shall have the power to revoke or recall any certificate issued under this Act as hereinafter provided. (Id. sec. 4.)

Art. 999sss. Records of board; transmission to Secretary of State.—The State Board of Public Accountancy shall preserve a record of its proceedings in a book kept for that purpose, showing the name, age and duration of residence of each applicant, the time spent by the applicant in practice as a public accountant, or in employment in the office of the public accountant, and the year and school, if any, from which degrees were granted or in which the course of study was successfully completed by the applicant as required by law. Said register will show, also, whether applicants were rejected or licensed, and shall be prima facie evidence of all matters contained therein. The secretary of the board shall, on December 31 of each year, transmit an official copy of said register to the Secretary of State for permanent record, certified copy of which, under the hand and seal of the secretary of said board or Secretary of State, shall be admitted in evidence in any court or proceeding. (Id. sec. 5.)

Art. 999t. Qualifications of applicants for certificates.—No person shall be permitted to take an examination unless he be twenty-one years of age, of good moral character, a qualified citizen of the United States, and unless he shall have had one year's study and practice in accountancy or accounting work. (Id. sec. 6.)

Art. 999tt. Certificate without examination.—The board may, in its discretion, waive the examination and issue a certificate to any person who has received and holds a valid and unrevoked certificate as a certified public accountant issued by or under the authority of any state or territory of the United States, the District of Columbia, or who holds the equivalent of such certificate by and under the expressed legal authority of any foreign nation, providing, however, that such certificate or degree shall, in the opinion of the board, have been issued under a standard fully equivalent to that of the requirements of said board, and issued by such state or territory as may extend the same privilege to certified public accountants holding certificates from this State; provided, further, that such applicant shall have qualified as provided in Section 6 [Art. 999t]. (Id. sec. 7.)

Art. 999ttt. Same.—The State Board of Public Accountancy shall, upon written application therefor, waive examination of any applicant, provided said applicant shall be qualified as provided by Section 6 hereof [Art. 999t], and shall have been practicing on his own account as a public accountant, or on the behalf of another public accountant, as a senior public accountant for not less than three years, two years of which practice shall have been within the State of Texas immediately preceding said application; provided, further, that such application is filed prior to January 1, 1916. (Id. sec. 8.)

Art. 999u. Examination fee; annual fee.—Each applicant for a certificate as certified public accountant shall, at the time of making application, pay to the treasurer of said board a fee of twenty-five dollars, and no application shall be considered by said board until said fee of twenty-five dollars shall have been paid. In case of failure on the part of any applicant to pass a satisfactory examination, said applicant may have the privilege of appearing at any subsequent examination conducted by said board for reexamination, upon the payment of an additional fee of ten dollars.

The holder of each certificate issued hereunder shall pay an annual fee of $1.00 into the treasury of the State Board of Public Accountancy. The failure on the part of the holder of any certificate issued under this Act to pay this fee shall automatically cancel the privilege of using the title "Certified Public Accountant," but reinstatement may be had at any time within two years, or before the expiration of sixty days after the two years shall have elapsed, by the payment of the fee and application in such form as may be provided by the board and the payment further of a penalty of $2.50 for each year elapsed. (Id. sec. 9.)

Art. 999uu. Revocation of certificate.—The State Board of Public Accountancy shall revoke and recall any certificate issued under this Act if the holder thereof: (1) shall be convicted of a felony; (2) shall be declared by any court to have committed any fraud; or (3) shall be declared by any court or commission to be insane or otherwise incompetent; or (4) shall be held by this board to be guilty of any act or default discreditable to the profession; provided, that written notice of the cause of such contemplated action and the date of the hearing thereof by this board shall have been served upon the holder of such certificate at least fifteen days prior to such hearing, or provided that such notice of such contemplated action and the date of the hearing thereof by this board shall have been mailed to the last known address of such holder of such certificate at least twenty days prior to such hearing; and at such hearing the Attorney General of this State, or any one of his assistants, or any district attorney designated by him, may sit with the board as legal counsellor and advisor, and to prepare for any legal action that may be determined upon by the State Board of Public Accountancy. (Id. sec. 11.)

Art. 999uuu. Penalty for violation of act.—If any person represents himself to the public as having received a certificate as provided for in this Act, or advertises as a "Certified Public Accountant," or uses the initials "C. P. A.," or otherwise falsely holds himself out as being qualified under this Act, while practicing in this State, without having actually received such certificate, or it has been recalled or revoked, and he shall continue to use the initials "C. P. A.," or shall refuse to surrender such certificate after revocation thereof, or shall otherwise violate any provisions of this Act, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined any sum not to exceed $200.00. No audit company, incorporated or unincorporated, shall use the title "Certified Public Accountants" or the initials "C. P. A.," and no firm or partnership shall use this title, or these initials, unless each member of said firm or partnership is a legal holder of a certificate issued under the provisions of this Act, and any violation of these provisions shall be punished by a fine not to exceed the sum of $200.00.

The use by any person, firm or corporation of the abbreviated title "Certified Accountant," or of the initials "C. A.," shall be construed a violation of this Act, and shall subject such person, firm or corporation to a fine not to exceed the sum of $200.00. (Id. sec. 12.)

Art. 999v. Misconduct by practicing public accountant.—If any person practicing in the state of Texas as a Certified Public Accountant under this Act shall wilfully falsify any report or statement bearing upon any examination, investigation or report made by him or under his direction as such Certified Public Accountant, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $100.00 or more than $1,000.00; provided, further, than any person convicted under this section shall forfeit and surrender the certificate of Certified Public Accountant held by him to the State Board of Public Accountancy. (Id. sec. 13.)

Art. 999vv. Purpose and scope of law.—Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any person from being employed as an accountant in this State in either public or private practice. The purpose of this law is to provide for the examination and the issuance of a certificate, or degree, granting the privilege of the use of the title "Certified Public Accountant," and the use of the initials "C. P. A.," as indicative of the holder's fitness to serve the public as a competent and properly qualified accountant in public practice, and to prevent those who have no such certificate or degree from using such title or initials; provided, however, the use of the initials "C. P. A." or "C. A." to designate any business other than the practice of accountants or auditors is not prohibited by this Act. (Id. sec. 14.)

OF OFFENSES AGAINST THE PERSON

CHAPTER ONE

ASSAULT AND ASSAULT AND BATTERY

Art. 1008. (587) "Assault and battery" defined.—The use of any unlawful violence upon the person of another with intent to injure him, whatever be the means or the degree of violence used, is an assault and battery. Any attempt to commit a battery, or any threatening gesture showing, in itself or by words accompanying it, an immediate intention, coupled with an ability to commit a battery, is an assault. (O. C. 475.)

See McCray v. S., 44 S. W. 170; Hardin v. S., 46 S. W. 803; Jay v. S., 55 S. W. 336; Nelson v. S., 57 S. W. 646; Gage v. S., 151 S. W. 565; Ward v. S., 151 S. W. 1073; Vivian v. S., 152 S. W. 895; Perkins Bros. Co. v. Anderson, 155 S. W. 556; Robey v. S., 163 S. W. 713; McGraw v. S., 163 S. W. 967; Western Union Telegraph Co. v. Bowdoin, 168 S. W. 1.

Art. 1009. (588) Intent presumed, and "injury" defined.—When an injury is caused by violence to the person, the intent to injure is presumed; and it rests with the person inflicting the injury to show the accident or innocent intention. The injury intended may be either bodily pain, constraint, a sense of shame or other disagreeable emotion of the mind. (O. C. 476.)

Griffin v. S., 53 S. W. 848; Brown v. S., 60 S. W. 549; Stripling v. S., 80 S. W. 377; Lee v. S., 85 S. W. 798; Thompson v. S., 89 S. W. 1081; Tubbs v. S., 95 S. W. 112; Acrey v. S., 10 S. W. 954; Ward v. S., 151 S. W. 1073; Yates v. S., 152 S. W. 1064; Robey v. S., 163 S. W. 713.

Art. 1010. (589) May be committed on person not intended.—An assault, or an assault and battery, may be committed, though the person actually injured thereby was not the person intended to be injured. (O. C. 477.)

Art. 1011. (590) How it may be committed.—An assault, or assault and battery, may be committed by the use of any part of the body of the person committing the offense, as of the hand, foot, head, or by the use of any inanimate object, as a stick, knife, or anything else capable of inflicting the slightest injury, or by the use of any animate object, as by throwing one person against another, or driving a horse or other animal against the person. (O. C. 478.)

Art. 1012. (591) Any means capable of injury sufficient.—Any means used by the person assaulting, as by spitting in the face or otherwise, which is capable of inflicting an injury, comes within the definition of an assault, or an assault and battery, as the case may be. (O. C. 479.)

Art. 1013. (592) "Coupled with ability to commit" defined.—By the terms, "coupled with an ability to commit," as used in article 1008 is meant—

1. That the person making the assault must be in such a position that, if not prevented, he may inflict a battery upon the person assailed.

2. That he must be within such distance of the person so assailed as to make it within his power to commit the battery by the use of the means with which he attempts it.

3. It follows that one who is, at the time of making an attempt to commit a battery, under such restraint as to deprive him of the power to act, or who is at so great a distance from the person assailed as that he can not reach his person by the use of the means with which he makes the attempt, is not guilty of an assault. But the use of any dangerous weapon, or the semblance thereof, in an angry or threatening manner, with intent to alarm another, and under circumstances calculated to effect that object, comes within the meaning of an assault. (O. C. 482; Revision.)

1. In the exercise of the right of moderate restraint or correction given by law to the parent over the child, the guardian over the ward, the master over his apprentice, the teacher over the scholar.

2. For the preservation of order in a meeting for religious, political or other lawful purposes.

3. The preservation of the peace, or to prevent the commission of offenses.

4. In preventing or interrupting an intrusion upon the lawful possession of property. (O. C. 483.)

the party arrested, in obedience to the lawful order of a magistrate or court, and in overcoming resistance to such lawful order.

Art. 1016. (595) Verbal provocation no justification.—No verbal provocation justifies an assault and battery, but insulting and abusive words may be given in evidence in mitigation of the punishment affixed to the offense. (O. C. 485.)

See Parham v. Langford, 93 S. W. 525; Eitel v. S., 182 S. W. 318; Hudley v. S., 194 S. W. 160.

The revisers of the Penal Code, when they inserted Acts 1909, p. 119, and expanded the language so as to include "sales" in addition to "gifts" and "deliveries" of liquor, seem to have overlooked the later act passed at the first extra session of the 1909 legislature (Acts 1909, p. 307, sec. 19). This later act affixes a different penalty to the act of a retail liquor dealer in selling, giving, or delivering intoxicating liquor to a minor. The later act was included in the revision as art. 622, ante. The revisers again carried Acts 1909, p. 119, into the Penal Code as art. 593, but in its original form.

Art. 1055. Encouraging, contributing, etc., to the delinquency or dependency of child.—In all cases where any child shall be a "delinquent child" or a "neglected or dependent child," as defined in the statutes of this state, the parent or parents, legal guardian or persons having the custody of such child, or any person responsible for, or who, by any act, encourages, causes or contributes to the delinquency or dependency of such child, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not to exceed one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for any period not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The court may impose conditions on any person found guilty under this law, and, so long as such person shall comply therewith to the satisfaction of the court, the judgment imposed may be suspended. (Acts 1907, p. 209.)

Art. 1055a. Causing, etc., delinquency of minor.—If any person shall in any manner cause, encourage or contribute to the delinquency of any minor who is under the age of seventeen years, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail no exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. By the term "Delinquency" as used in this article is meant the using of tobacco in any form, the drinking of intoxicating liquor, the taking of such minor into a house or place where prostitutes or lewd women are permitted to resort or reside, or knowingly permitting any such minor to remain in any such house or at any such place, the forming of the habit of using any harmful or injurious drug, or any act which tends to debase or injure the morals, health or welfare of such minor. In all prosecutions under this clause of the statute, the general reputation of the women who resort or reside or who may be found at any such place for chastity, may be admitted in evidence. (Acts 1918, 4th C. S., ch. 52, sec. 1.)

(633) (528) "Rape" defined.—Rape is the carnal knowledge of a woman without her consent, obtained by force threats or fraud, or the carnal knowledge of a woman other than the wife of the person having such carnal knowledge with or without consent, and with or without the use of force, threats or fraud, such woman being so mentally diseased at the time as to have no will to oppose the act of carnal knowledge, the person having carnal knowledge of her knowing her to be so mentally diseased; or the carnal knowledge of a female under the age of eighteen years, other than the wife of the person, with or without her consent, and with or without the use of force threats or fraud. Provided, that if the woman is fifteen years of age or over, the defendant may show in consent cases, she was not of previous chaste character as a defense. (O. C. 523; Acts 1891, p. 96; Acts 1895, p. 79; Acts 1918, 4th C. S., ch. 50, sec. 1.)

Art. 1064. (634) Definition of "force."—The definition of "force," as applicable to assault and battery, applies also to the crime of rape, and it must have been such as might reasonably be supposed sufficient to overcome resistance, taking into consideration the relative strength of the parties, and other circumstances of the case. (O. C. 524.)

See McCullough v. S., 47 S. W. 990; Croomes v. S., 51 S. W. 924; Waire v. S., 64 S. W. 1061; Cotton v. S., 105 S. W. 185; Collins v. S., 107 S. W. 852; Holloway v. S., 113 S. W. 928; Cromeans v. Art. 1065. (635) What "threat" sufficient.—The "threat" must be such as might reasonably create a just fear of death, or great bodily harm, in view of the relative condition of the parties as to health, strength and all other circumstances of the case. (O. C. 525.)

See Fowler v. S., 148 S. W. 576; Calyon v. S., 174 S. W. 591; Montoya v. S., 185 S. W. 6; Woods v. S., 203 S. W. 54.

Art. 1066. (636) "Fraud" defined.—The "fraud" must consist in the use of some stratagem by which the woman is induced to believe the offender is her husband, or in administering, without her knowledge or consent, some substance producing unnatural sexual desire or such stupor as prevents or weakens resistance, and committing the offense while she is under the influence of such substance. It is a presumption of law, which can not be rebutted by testimony, that no consent was given under the circumstances mentioned in this article. (O. C. 526.)

Art. 1070. (640) Conviction may be had for "attempt."—If it appear, on the trial of an indictment for rape, that the offense, though not committed, was attempted by the use of any of the means spoken of in articles 1064, 1065 and 1066, but not such as to bring the offense within the definition of an assault with intent to commit rape, the jury may find the defendant guilty of an attempt to commit the offense, and affix the punishment prescribed in article 1029. (O. C. 530.)

(O. C. 533; Acts 1858, p. 172.)

(O. C. 537.)

See Brooks v. S., 60 S. W. 53; Rupe v. S., 61 S. W. 929; Runnels v. S., 77 S. W. 459; Sanders v. S., 112 S. W. 68, 22 L. R. A. [N. S.] 243.

(650) Malpractice punishable.—If any person engaged in the practice of medicine and claiming to be a physician, shall, by the use of any noxious substance, administered in a grossly ignorant manner, produce death, or other great bodily injury, he shall be punished for the offense as any other person would be who had given such substance, knowing it to be injurious and intending to kill or injure. (O. C. 540.)

CHAPTER ELEVEN

OF HOMICIDE

Art. 1081. (651) Definition.—"Homicide" is the destruction of the life of one human being by the act, agency, procurement or culpable omission of another. (O. C. 541.)

See Armsworthy v. S., 88 S. W. 215; Outley v. S., 99 S. W. 95; Noble v. S., 113 S. W. 281, 22 L. R. A. [N. S.] 841.

Art. 1082. (652) Destruction of life must be complete.—The destruction of life must be complete by such act, agency, procurement or omission; but, although the injury which caused death might not under other circumstances have proved fatal, yet, if such injury be the cause of death, without its appearing that there has been any gross neglect or manifestly improper treatment of the person injured, it is homicide. (O. C. 542.)

See Franklin v. S., 51 S. W. 951; Johnson v. S., 65 S. W. 92; Gardner v. S., 72 S. W. 13; Armsworthy v. S., 88 S. W. 215; Lahue v. S., 101 S. W. 1008; Noble v. S., 113 S. W. 281, 22 L. R. A. [N. S.] 841.

Art. 1083. (653) Gross negligence, etc., refers to acts of others.—The foregoing article, in what is said of gross neglect or improper treatment, has reference to the acts of some person other than him who inflicts the first injury, as of the physician, nurse or other attendant. If the person inflicting the injury, which makes it necessary to call aid in preserving the life of the person injured, shall wilfully fail or neglect to call such aid, he shall be deemed equally guilty, as if the injury were one which would inevitably lead to death. (O. C. 543.)

See Franklin v. S., 51 S. W. 951; Taylor v. S., 51 S. W. 1106; Williams v. S., 65 S. W. 1060; Lee v. S., 72 S. W. 195.

Art. 1084. (654) Body of deceased must be found.—No person shall be convicted of any grade of homicide, unless the body of the deceased, or portions of it, are found and sufficiently identified to establish the fact of the death of the person charged to have been killed. (Acts 1887, p. 4; O. C. 544.)

See Gay v. S., 49 S. W. 613; Id. 60 S. W. 771; Southern v. S., 132 S. W. 778; McCue v. S., 170 S. W. 280, Ann. Cas. 1918C, 674; Wilganowski v. S., 180 S. W. 692; Johnson v. S., 203 S. W. 903.

Art. 1085. (655) Person killed must be in existence.—The person upon whom the homicide is alleged to have been committed must be in existence by actual birth. It is homicide, however, to destroy human life actually in existence, however frail such existence may be, or however near extinction from other causes. (O. C. 545.)

Art. 1086. (656) Produced by words.—Although it is necessary to constitute homicide that it shall result from some act of the party accused, yet, if words be used which are reasonably calculated to produce and do produce an act which is the immediate cause of death, it is homicide; as, for example, if a blind man, a stranger, a child, or a person of unsound mind, be directed by words to a precipice or other dangerous place where he falls and is killed; or if one be directed to take any article of medicine, food or drink, known to be poisonous and which does produce a fatal effect; in these and like cases, the person so operating upon the mind or conduct of the person injured shall be deemed guilty of homicide. (O. C. 546.)

ed in the succeeding articles of this chapter. (O. C. 547.)

Persons belonging to hostile tribes of Indians, who habitually commit depradations upon the lives or property of inhabitants of this state, and all persons acting with such tribes are public enemies, and this whether found in the act of committing such depredations or under circumstances which sufficiently show an intention so to do. (O. C. 548.)

3. BY OFFICERS IN THE PERFORMANCE OF A DUTY AND BY OTHER PERSONS UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES

Art. 1092. (662) By officer in execution of lawful order.—Homicide by an officer in the execution of the lawful orders of magistrates and courts is justifiable when he is violently resisted and has just ground to fear danger to his own life in executing the order. (O. C. 552.)

See Williams v. S., 54 S. W. 759.

Art. 1093. (663) Even though it is erroneous.—The officer is justifiable, though there may have been an error of judgment on the part of the magistrate or court, if the order emanated from a proper authority. (O. C. 553.)

4. If the person executing the order be an officer, and performing a duty which no other person can by law perform, he must have taken the oath of office and given bond, where such is required by law.

5. The order must be executed in the manner directed by law, and the person executing the same must make known his purpose and the capacity in which he acts.

6. If the order be a written one, and the person against whom it issues, before resistance offered, wishes to see the same, or hear it read, the person charged with its execution shall produce the order and show it or read it.

7. In making an arrest under a written order, the person acting under such order shall, in all cases, declare to the party against whom it is directed the offense of which he is accused, and state the nature of the warrant, unless prevented therefrom by the act of the party to be arrested.

8. The officer or other person executing an order of arrest is required to use such force as may be necessary to prevent an escape when it is attempted, but he shall not in any case kill one who attempts to escape, unless in making or attempting such escape the life of the officer is endangered, or he is threatened with great bodily injury.

9. In overcoming a resistance to the execution of an order, the officer or person executing the same may oppose such force as is necessary to overcome the resistance, but he shall not take the life of the person resisting, unless he has just ground to fear that his own life will be taken, or that he will suffer great bodily injury in the execution of the order.

10. A prisoner under sentence of death, or of imprisonment in the penitentiary, or attempting to escape from the penitentiary, may be killed by the officer having legal custody of him, if his escape can in no other manner be prevented. (O. C. 554.)

See Williams v. S., 54 S. W. 759; Ex parte Russell, 160 S. W. 75.

Art. 1095. (665) Order may be written or verbal.—The order referred to in this chapter may be either written or verbal, where a verbal order is allowed for the arrest of a person. (O. C. 555.)

Art. 1096. (666) Written order includes, what.—Under written orders are included all process in a criminal or civil action which directs the seizure of the person or of property. (O. C. 556.)

Art. 1097. (667) Verbal order justifies only in felony.—No officer or other person ordered verbally to arrest another is justified in killing, except the arrest be in a case of felony, or for the prevention of a felony. (O. C. 557.)

Art. 1098. (668) Persons aiding officer justified.—Persons called in aid of an officer, in the performance of a duty, are justified in the same manner as the officer himself. (O. C. 558.)

Art. 1099. (669) Persons aiding escape may be killed.—All persons opposing the execution of the order, or aiding in an escape, may be treated in the same manner as the person against whom the order is directed, or who is attempting to escape. (O. C. 559.)

Art. 1100. (670) Federal officers included.—Officers acting under the authority of the laws or courts of the United States have the rights and are liable to the rules prescribed in this chapter. (O. C. 560.)

Art. 1101. (671) In suppressing riots.—Homicide is justifiable when necessary to suppress a riot, when the same is attempted to be suppressed in the manner pointed out in the Code of Criminal Procedure, and can in no way be suppressed except by taking life. (O. C. 561.)

Art. 1102. (672) In adultery.—Homicide is justifiable when committed by the husband upon the person of any one taken in the act of adultery with the wife; provided, the killing take place before the parties to the act of adultery have separated. (O. C. 562.)

Art. 1103. (673) But not in case of connivance.—Homicide cannot be justified by reason of the existence of the circumstances spoken of in the preceding article, where it appears that there has been, on the part of the husband, any connivance in or assent to the adulterous connection. (O. C. 563.)

4. DEFENSE OF PERSON OR PROPERTY

Art. 1104. (674) In defense of person and property.—Homicide is permitted in the necessary defense of person or property, under the circumstances and subject to the rules herein set forth. (O. C. 567.)

See Koller v. S., 38 S. W. 44; Winters v. S., 40 S. W. 303; Slack v. S., 149 S. W. 107.

Art. 1105. (675) In preventing other felonies.—Homicide is permitted by law when inflicted for the purpose of preventing the offense of murder, rape, robbery, maiming, disfiguring, castration, arson, burglary and theft at night, or when inflicted upon a person or persons who are found armed with deadly weapons and in disguise in the night time on premises not his or their own whether the homicide be committed by the party about to be injured or by some person in his behalf, when the killing takes place under the following circumstances:

1. It must reasonably appear by the acts or by words, coupled with the acts of the person killed, that it was the purpose and intent of such person to commit one of the offenses above named.

2. The killing must take place while the person killed was in the act of committing the offense, or after some act done by him showing evidently an intent to commit such offense.

3. It must take place before the offense committed by the party killed is actually completed; except that, in case of rape, the ravisher may be killed at any time before he has escaped from the presence of his victim, and except, also, in the cases hereinafter enumerated.

4. Where the killing takes place to prevent the murder of some other person, it shall not be deemed that the murder is completed so long as the offender is still inflicting violence, though the mortal wound may have been given.

5. If homicide takes place in preventing a robbery, it shall be justifiable if done while the robber is in the presence of the person robbed, or is flying with the money or other article taken by him.

6. In cases of maiming, disfiguring or castration, the homicide may take place at any time while the offender is mistreating with violence the person injured, though he may have completed the offense.

7. In case of arson, the homicide may be inflicted while the offender is in or at the building or other property burnt, or flying from the place before the destruction of the same.

8. In cases of burglary and theft by night, the homicide is justifiable at any time while the offender is in the building, or at the place where the theft is committed, or is within reach of gunshot from such place or building.

9. When the party slain in disguise is engaged in any attempt, by word, gesture or otherwise, to alarm some other person or persons and put them in bodily fear. (O. C. 568; Acts 1871, pp. 20, 21.)

Art. 1106. (676) Presumption from the use of weapons.—When the homicide takes place to prevent murder, maiming, disfiguring or castration, if the weapons or means used by the party attempting or committing such murder, maiming, disfiguring or castration are such as would have been calculated to produce that result, it is to be presumed that the person so using them designed to inflict the injury. Art. 1107. (677) In protecting person or property from attacks.—Homicide is justifiable also in the protection of the person or property against any other unlawful and violent attack besides those mentioned in the preceding article, and, in such cases, all other means must be resorted to for the prevention of the injury, and the killing must take place while the person killed is in the very act of making such unlawful and violent attack; and any person interfering in such case in behalf of the party about to be injured is not justifiable in killing the aggressor, unless the life or person of the injured party is in peril by reason of such attack upon his property. Art. 1108. (678) Retreat not necessary.—The party whose person or property is so unlawfully attacked is not bound to retreat in order to avoid the necessity of killing his assailant. (O. C. 571.)

See Montgomery v. S., 77 S. W. 788.

Art. 1109. (679) Requisites of the attack.—The attack upon the person of an individual, in order to justify homicide, must be such as produces a reasonable expectation or fear of death, or some serious bodily injury. (O. C. 572.)

See Bruce v. S., 51 S. W. 954; Griffin v. S., 53 S. W. 848; Walker v. S., 156 S. W. 206.

Art. 1110. (680) Circumstances justifying in defense of property.—When, under article 1107, a homicide is committed in the protection of property, it must be done under the following circumstances:

1. The possession must be of corporeal property, and not of a mere right, and the possession must be actual and not merely constructive.

2. The possession must be legal, though the right of the property may not be in the possessor.

3. If possession be once lost, it is not lawful to regain it by such means as result in homicide.

4. Every other effort in his power must have been made by the possessor to repel the aggression before he will be justified in killing. (O. C. 573.)

See Sims v. S., 36 S. W. 256; Hopkins v. S., 53 S. W. 620; McGlothlin v. S., 53 S. W. 870; Howell v. S., 57 S. W. 835; Hill v. S., 67 S. W. 506; Lockland v. S., 73 S. W. 1054; Dean v. S., 83 S. W. 816; Gay v. S., 125 S. W. 896; Hartfield v. S., 134 S. W. 1180; Walker v. S., 156 S. W. 206.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN OF EXCUSABLE HOMICIDE

Art. 1111. (681) Definition.—Homicide is excusable when the death of a human being happens by accident or misfortune, though caused by the act of another, who is in the prosecution of a lawful object by lawful means. (O. C. 575.)

See Wheatley v. S., 39 S. W. 672; Hartsel v. S., 68 S. W. 285; Miller v. S., 105 S. W. 502.

Art. 1112. (682) The lawful act must be done by lawful means.—The lawful act causing the death of another must be done by lawful means and used in a lawful degree. Though lawful for the parent, guardian, schoolmaster or master to chastise the child, ward, scholar or apprentice, yet, if this be done with an instrument likely to produce death, or, if with a proper instrument the chastisement be cruelly inflicted and death result, it is murder. (O. C. 576.)

See Miller v. S., 105 S. W. 502.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN
HOMICIDE BY NEGLIGENCE

Art. 1113. (683) Of two kinds.—Homicide by negligence is of two kinds:

1. Such as happens in the performance of a lawful act; and 2. That which occurs in the performance of an unlawful act. (O. C. 577.)

See Talbot v. S., 125 S. W. 906.

Generally under this chapter see Chant v. S., 166 S. W. 513.

1. IN THE PERFORMANCE OF A LAWFUL ACT

Art. 1114. (684) In the performance of a lawful act.—If any person in the performance of a lawful act shall, by negligence and carelessness, cause the death of another, he is guilty of negligent homicide of the first degree. (O. C. 578.)

See Gorden v. S., 90 S. W. 636; Talbot v. S., 125 S. W. 906.

Art. 1115. (685) "Lawful act" defined.—A "lawful act" is one not forbidden by the penal law, and which would give no just occasion for a civil action. (O. C. 579.)

See Talbot v. S., 125 S. W. 906.

Art. 1116. (686) Must be an apparent danger of causing death.—To constitute this offense, there must be an apparent danger of causing the death of the person killed, or some other. (O. C. 580.)

See Gorden v. S., 90 S. W. 636; Talbot v. S., 125 S. W. 906.

Art. 1117. (687) How distinguished from excusable homicide.—The want of proper care and caution distinguishes this offense from excusable homicide. The degree of care and caution is such as a man of ordinary prudence would use under like circumstances. (O. C. 581.)

See Talbot v. S., 125 S. W. 906.

Art. 1118. (688) Examples.—Throwing timbers by a workman from the roof or upper part of a house in a public street or highway, or where a number of persons are known to be around the house, or discharging firearms on or near a public highway, other than a street in a town or city, in such manner as would be likely to injure persons who might be passing, are examples of negligent homicide of the first degree, in case of death resulting therefrom. If death is caused by the careless discharge of firearms in a public street of a town or city, the offense will be of a higher degree. (O. C. 582.)

See Talbot v. S., 125 S. W. 906.

Art. 1119. (689) Must be no apparent intention to kill.—To bring the offense within the definition of homicide by negligence, either of the first or second degree, there must be no apparent intention to kill. (O. C. 584.)

See Talbot v. S., 125 S. W. 906.

Art. 1120. (690) Homicide must be consequence of the act.—The homicide must be consequence of the act done or attempted to be done. (O. C. 585.)

Art. 1121. (691) Punishment.—Negligent homicide of the first degree shall be punished by confinement in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars. (O. C. 586.)

2. IN THE PERFORMANCE OF AN UNLAWFUL ACT

Art. 1122. (692) "Of second degree" defined, etc.—The definitions, rules and provisions of the preceding articles of this chapter, with respect to negligent homicide of the first degree, apply also to the offense of negligent homicide of the second degree, or such as is committed in the prosecution of an unlawful act, except when contrary to the following provisions: (O. C. 587.)

See Brittain v. S., 37 S. W. 758.

Art. 1123. (693) Can only be committed, when.—Negligent homicide of the second degree can only be committed when the person guilty thereof is in the act of committing or attempting the commission of an unlawful act. (O. C. 588.)

See Talbot v. S., 125 S. W. 906.

Art. 1124. (694) "Unlawful act" includes what.—Within the meaning of an "unlawful act" as used in this chapter are included—

1. Such acts as by the penal law are called misdemeanors; and, 2. Such acts, not being penal offenses, as would give just occasion for a civil action. (O. C. 589.)

See Talbot v. S., 125 S. W. 906.

Art. 1125. (695) Homicide in an attempt at felony not negligent.—When one, in the execution of or in attempting to execute an act made a felony by the penal law, shall kill another, though without an apparent intention to kill, the offense does not come within the definition of negligent homicide. (O. C. 590.)

Art. 1126. (696) In an attempt at misdemeanor, punished, how.—When the unlawful act attempted or executed is known as a misdemeanor, the punishment of negligent homicide committed in the execution of such unlawful act shall be imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three years, or by fine not exceeding three thousand dollars. (O. C. 591.)

Art. 1127. (697) In a trespass, etc., how punished.—If the act intended is one for which an action would lie, but not an offense against the penal law, the homicide resulting therefrom is a misdemeanor, and may be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year. (O. C. 592.)

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

OF MANSLAUGHTER

Art. 1128. (698) Definition of.—Manslaughter is voluntary homicide committed under the immediate influence of sudden passion arising from an adequate cause, but neither justified nor excused by law. (O. C. 594.)

See Gardner v. S., 48 S. W. 170; Williams v. S., 54 S. W. 759; Follett v. S., 55 S. W. 575; Thomas v. S., 56 S. W. 91; Burns v. S., 145 S. W. 356; Johnson v. S., 149 S. W. 165; Witty v. S., 171 S. W. 229; Rose v. S., 186 S. W. 202; Marshbanks v. S., 192 S. W. 246.

Art. 1129. (699) "Under the influence of sudden passion" explained.—By the expression "under the immediate influence of sudden passion" is meant—

1. That the provocation must arise at the time of the commission of the offense, and that the passion is not the result of a former provocation.

2. The act must be directly caused by the passion arising out of the provocation. It is not enough that the mind is merely agitated by passion arising from some other provocation, or a provocation given by some person other than the party killed.

3. The passion intended is either of the emotions of the mind, known as anger, rage, sudden resentment, or terror, rendering it incapable of cool reflection. (O. C. 596.)

See Stanton v. S., 59 S. W. 272; Burns v. S., 145 S. W. 356; Smith v. S., 147 S. W. 240; Thompson v. S., 177 S. W. 503.

Art. 1130. (700) "Adequate cause" explained.—By the expression "adequate cause" is meant such as would commonly produce a degree of anger, rage, resentment or terror in a person of ordinary temper sufficient to render the mind incapable of cool reflection. (O. C. 597.)

See Hurst v. S., 46 S. W. 635; Gardner v. S., 48 S. W. 170; Thomas v. S., 56 S. W. 72; Adams v. S., 60 S. W. 48; Witty v. S., 171 S. W. 229.

Art. 1131. (701) What are not adequate causes.—Insulting words or gestures, or an assault and battery, so slight as to show no intention to inflict pain or injury, or an injury to property, unaccompanied by violence, are not adequate causes. (O. C. 598.)

See Charba v. S., 87 S. W. 829; Wilson v. S., 160 S. W. 83; McGregor v. S., 160 S. W. 711; Johnson v. S., 167 S. W. 733; Bolden v. S., 178 S. W. 533; Rose v. S., 186 S. W. 202.

Art. 1132. (702) What are.—The following are deemed adequate causes:

1. An assault and battery by the deceased, causing pain or bloodshed.

2. A serious personal conflict, in which great injury is inflicted by the person killed, by means of weapons, or other instruments of violence, or by means of great superiority of personal strength, although the person guilty of the homicide was the aggressor; provided, such aggression was not made with intent to bring on a conflict and for the purpose of killing.

3. Adultery of the person killed with the wife of the person guilty of the homicide; provided, the killing occurs as soon as the fact of an illicit connection is discovered.

4. Insulting words or conduct of the person killed towards a female relation of the party guilty of the homicide. (O. C. 599.)

See Wright v. S., 107 S. W. 822; Hernandez v. S., 110 S. W. 753; Lee v. S., 113 S. W. 301; Wheeler v. S., 125 S. W. 29; Lofton v. S., 128 S. W. 384; McGregor v. S., 160 S. W. 711.

Art. 1133. (703) For insult to female, killing must be immediate.—When it is sought to reduce the homicide to the grade of manslaughter, by reason of the existence of the circumstances specified in the fourth subdivision or article 1132 of the Penal Code, it must appear that the killing took place immediately upon the happening of the insulting conduct, or the uttering of the insulting words, or so soon thereafter as the party killing may meet with the party killed, after having been informed of such insults. (O. C. 599a; Acts 1858, pp. 172, 173.)

See Lynch v. S., 57 S. W. 1132; Maxwell v. S., 56 S. W. 62; Thompson v. S., 163 S. W. 973.

Art. 1134. (704) General character of female in issue.—In every case where the defense spoken of in the preceding article is relied on, it shall be competent to prove the general character of the female insulted, in order to ascertain the extent of the provocation. (O. C. 599b; Acts 1858, p. 173.)

See Griffin v. S., 54 S. W. 586; Jones v. S., 101 S. W. 998.

Art. 1135. (705) Discretion of jury in such cases.—The jury shall be at liberty to determine in every case whether, under all the circumstances, the insulting words or gestures were the real cause which provoked the killing. (O. C. 599c; Acts 1858, p. 173.)

Art. 1136. (706) "Relation" includes whom.—Any female under the permanent or temporary protection of the accused, at the time of the killing, shall also be included within the meaning of the term "relation." (O. C. 599d; Acts 1858, p. 173.)

Art. 1137. (707) "Adequate cause" must produce the passion.—In order to reduce a voluntary homicide to the grade of manslaughter, it is necessary not only that adequate cause existed to produce the state of mind referred to in the third subdivision of article 1129, but also that such state of mind did actually exist at the time of the commission of the offense. (O. C. 600.)

See Ray v. S., 64 S. W. 1057; Shaw v. S., 160 S. W. 103; Marshbanks v. S., 192 S. W. 246.

Art. 1138. (708) Provoking contest with intent to kill, not manslaughter.—Though a homicide may take place under circumstances showing no deliberation, yet, if the person guilty thereof provoked a contest with the apparent intention of killing, or doing serious bodily injury to the deceased, the offense does not come within the definition of manslaughter. (O. C. 603.)

See McCandless v. S., 57 S. W. 672; Berry v. S., 188 S. W. 997.

Art. 1139. (709) Punishment.—Manslaughter is of various degrees of culpability, according to the circumstances under which it was committed. It shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than two nor more than five years. (O. C. 602; Acts 1885, p. 173.)

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

OF MURDER

Art. 1140. (710) "Murder" defined.—Every person with sound memory and discretion who, with malice aforethought shall unlawfully kill any person within this State shall be guilty of murder. Murder is distinguishable from every other species of homicide by the absence of circumstances which reduce the offense to negligent homicide, or manslaughter, or which excuse or justify the homicide. (O. C. 607; Acts 1858, p. 173; Acts 1913, p. 238, ch. 116, sec. 1.)

See Miller v. S., 126 S. W. 864; Crutchfield v. S., 152 S. W. 1053; Shaw v. S., 160 S. W. 103; Robbins v. S., 166 S. W. 528; Nelson v. S., 206 S. W. 361.

Generally under this chapter see Henson v. S., 168 S. W. 89.

Acts 1913, ch. 116, sec. 1 repeals articles 1140, 1141, 1142, 1144, Revised Penal Code, and inserts, in lieu thereof articles 1140 and 1141, to read as herein set out. Sec. 2 repeals all laws in conflict. Sec. 3, the emergency clause, recites: "The fact that the present law defining murder divides the same into two degrees, to-wit: first degree murder and second degree murder and the fact that such definitions of murder or divisions of murder are creating complications in the trial of those charged with murder," etc.

Art. 1141. (714) Punishment.—The punishment for murder shall be death or confinement in the penitentiary for life or for any terms of years not less than five. (O. C. 612a; Acts 1858, p. 173; Acts 1913, p. 238, ch. 116, sec. 1.)

Art. 1142. (712) [Repealed.]

See art. 1140, ante.

Art. 1143. (713) Evidence of threats and deceased's character admissible, when.—Where a defendant accused of murder seeks to justify himself on the ground of threats against his own life, he may be permitted to introduce evidence of the threats made, but the same shall not be regarded as affording a justification for the offense, unless it be shown that, at the time of the homicide, the person killed by some act then done manifested an intention to execute the threat so made. In every instance where proof of threats has been made, it shall be competent to introduce evidence of the general character of the deceased. Such evidence shall extend only to an inquiry as to whether the deceased was a man of violent or dangerous character, or a man of kind and inoffensive disposition, or whether he was such a person as might reasonably be expected to execute a threat made. (O. C. 612; Acts 1858, p. 174.)

See art. 1140, ante.

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

OF DUELING

Art. 1145. (715) Dueling, etc., how punished.—Any person who shall, within this state, fight a duel with deadly weapons, or send or accept a challenge to fight a duel with deadly weapons, either within the state or out of it, or who shall act as a second, or knowingly aid or assist in any manner those thus offending, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary not less than two nor more than five years. (O. C. 603.)

See Guerrero v. S., 47 S. W. 655.

Art. 1146. (716) Homicide in, murder in first degree.—If, in any duel hereafter fought in this state, either of the combatants be killed, or receive a wound from which he afterwards dies within three months, the survivor shall be deemed guilty of murder in the first degree and be punished accordingly. (O. C. 605; amended on revision.)

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO HOMICIDE

Art. 1147. (717) Means or instruments used must be considered.—The instrument or means by which a homicide is committed are to be taken into consideration in judging of the intent of the party offending; if the instrument be one not likely to produce death, it is not to be presumed that death was designed, unless, from the manner in which it was used, such intention evidently appears. (O. C. 613.)

passion, but by the use of means not in their nature calculated to produce death, the person killing is not deemed guilty of the homicide, unless it appear that there was an intention to kill, but the party from whose act the death resulted may be prosecuted for and convicted of any grade of assault and battery. (720) If evil or cruel disposition be exhibited.—Where the circumstances attending a homicide show an evil or cruel disposition, or that it was the design of the person offending to kill, he is deemed guilty of murder or manslaughter, according to the other facts of the case, though the instrument or means used may not in their nature be such as to produce death ordinarily. TITLE 16

OF OFFENSES AGAINST REPUTATION

CHAPTER ONE

OF LIBEL

For civil actions in cases of libel see, ante, Civ. St., arts. 5595-5598.

Art. 1151. (721) "Libel" defined.—He is guilty of "libel" who, with intent to injure, makes, writes, prints, publishes, sells or circulates any malicious statement affecting the reputation of another in respect to any matter or thing pointed out in this chapter.

1. That the person to whom it refers has been guilty of some penal offense; or

2. That he has been guilty of some act or omission which, though not a penal offense, is disgraceful to him as a member of society, and the natural consequence of which is to bring him into contempt among honorable persons; or

3. That he has some moral vice, or physical or mental defect or disease, which renders him unfit for intercourse with respectable society, and such as should cause him to be generally avoided; or

4. That he is notoriously of bad or infamous character; or

5. That any person in office, or a candidate therefor, is dishonest, and therefore unworthy of such office, or that while in office he has been guilty of some malfeasance rendering him unworthy of the place. (O. C. 618.)

See Jones v. S., 43 S. W. 78; Baldwin v. S., 45 S. W. 714; Smith v. S., 45 S. W. 707; Mankins v. S., 57 S. W. 952; Gonzalez v. S., 124 S. W. 937; Aldama v. S., 163 S. W. 730.

Art. 1152. (722) Punishment.—If any person be guilty of libel, he shall be punished by fine not less than one hundred nor more than two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding two years; and the court may enter up judgment and issue an order thereupon directing the sheriff to seize and destroy all the publications, prints, paintings or engravings constituting the libel as charged in the indictment or information. (O. C. 619.)

Art. 1153. (723) Publishing writing purporting to be done by another.—If any person, with intent to injure the reputation of another, shall, without lawful authority, make, publish or circulate a writing purporting to be the act of some other person, and which comes within the definition of libel, as given in this chapter, he shall be punished in the same manner as if the act purported to be his own; and the rules with respect to libel apply also to the making and circulation of such false writing. (O. C. 620.)

Art. 1154. (724) "Maker" explained.—He is the maker of a libel who originally contrived and either executed it himself by writing, printing, engraving or painting, or dictated or caused it to be done by others. (O. C. 621.)

Art. 1155. (O. C. 622.)

Art. 1156. (726) Circulating.—He is guilty of circulating a libel who, knowing its contents, either sells, distributes or gives, or who, with malicious design, reads or exhibits it to others. (O. C. 622a.)

Art. 1157. (727) The ideas the statement must convey.—The written, printed or published statement, to come within the definition of libel, must convey the idea either—

1. That the person to whom it refers has been guilty of some penal offense; or

2. That he has been guilty of some act or omission which, though not a penal offense, is disgraceful to him as a member of society, and the natural consequence of which is to bring him into contempt among honorable persons; or

3. That he has some moral vice, or physical or mental defect or disease, which renders him unfit for intercourse with respectable society, and such as should cause him to be generally avoided; or

4. That he is notoriously of bad or infamous character; or

5. That any person in office, or a candidate therefor, is dishonest, and therefore unworthy of such office, or that while in office he has been guilty of some malfeasance rendering him unworthy of the place. (O. C. 623.)

See Nordhaus v. S., 40 S. W. 804; Byrd v. S., 44 S. W. 521; Mankins v. S., 57 S. W. 950; Gonzalez v. S., 124 S. W. 937; Aldama v. S., 163 S. W. 730.

Art. 1158. (728) Mode of publication.—A libel may be either written, printed, engraved, etched or painted, but no verbal defamation comes within the meaning thereof; and whenever a defendant is accused of libel by means of a painting, engraving or caricature, it must clearly appear therefrom that the person said to be defamed was, in fact, intended to be represented by such painting, engraving or caricature. (O. C. 624.)

Art. 1159. (729) A manuscript must be circulated.—In order to render any manuscript a libel, it must be circulated or posted up in some public place. (O. C. 625.)

(O. C. 626.)

Art. 1161. (731) But may avoid responsibility, how.—The editor, publisher or proprietor of a public newspaper may avoid the responsibility of making or publishing a libel by giving the true author of the same; provided, such author be a resident of this state and a person of good character, except in cases where it is shown that such editor, publisher or proprietor caused the libel to be published with malicious design. (O. C. 627.)

Art. 1162. (732) Mechanical executor not guilty, unless.—No person shall be convicted of libel merely on evidence that he has made a manuscript copy of a libel or has performed the manual labor of printing it, unless it be shown positively that such person was actuated by a malicious design against the person defamed. But the person for whose account or by whose order it was printed shall be presumed to have known the intent of the publication, and shall be liable for the offense. (O. C. 628.)

Art. 1163. (733) Actual injury not necessary.—It is sufficient to constitute the offense of libel if the natural consequence of the publication of the same is to injure the person defamed, although no actual injury to his reputation has been sustained. (O. C. 629.)

Art. 1164. (734) Intent to injure presumed.—The intent to injure is to be presumed if such would be the natural consequence of the libel, though no actual proof be made that the defendant had such design; and in all trials of libel the jury are to judge from the facts proved relative to the malicious design of the defendant as to what penalty ought to be imposed under the restrictions herein prescribed. (O. C. 630.)

Art. 1165. (735) True statement concerning candidate not libel.—It is no offense to make true statements of fact or express opinions as to the integrity or other qualifications of a candidate for any office or public place or appointment. (O. C. 631.)

Art. 1168. (738) The offense relates to persons only.—To constitute libel, there must be some injury intended to the reputation of persons, and no publication as to the government, or any of the branches thereof, as such is an offense under the name of seditious writings or any other name. (O. C. 634.)

Art. 1169. (739) Respecting religious systems, etc.—It is no libel to make publication respecting the merits or doctrines of any particular religion, system of morals or politics, or of any particular form of government. (O. C. 635.)

(O. C. 637.)

Art. 1172. (742) Recorder of minutes, etc., not liable.—Where any person by virtue of his office is required to record the proceedings of any department of the government or of any body corporate or politic, or of any association organized for purposes of business, or as a religious, moral, benevolent, literary or scientific institution, he can not be charged with libel for any entry upon the minutes or records of such department, body or association made in the course of his official duties. (O. C. 638.)

Art. 1173. (743) But all members of the association who assent are.—If any false statement be entered upon the minutes or record of proceedings of any corporate body or association included within the meaning of the preceding article, which would be libel if written, printed, published or circulated by an individual, according to the previous articles of this chapter, the persons being members of such body or association, who assent to and direct such libelous statement to be made, are guilty of libel under the same rules as if the false statement had been written, published or circulated in any other manner than as a part of the record or proceedings of such body or association, subject, however, to the restrictions contained in the succeeding article. (O. C. 639.)

Art. 1174. (744) Intent to injure not presumed, unless, etc.—The libelous statement referred to in the preceding article, is not to be presumed to have been made with intent to injure, from the mere fact that such would be the natural result thereof, unless it appear from other facts that the statement was in fact made with that intention. (O. C. 640.)

Art. 1175. (745) "Malicious" signifies what.—The word "malicious" is used to signify an act done with evil or mischievous design, and it is not necessary to prove any special facts showing ill feeling on the part of the person who is concerned in making, printing, publishing or circulating a libelous statement against the person injured thereby. (O. C. 641.)

Art. 1176. (746) Statement in legislative or judicial proceedings not included.—No statement made in the course of a legislative or judicial proceeding, whether true or false, although made with intent to injure and from malicious purposes, comes within the definition of libel. (O. C. 642.)

Art. 1177. (747) Truth of statement may be shown, when.—In the following cases, the truth of any statement charged as libel may be shown in justification of the defendant:

1. Where the publication purports to be an investigation of the official conduct of officers or men in a public capacity.

2. Where it is stated in the libel that a person has been guilty of some penal offense, and the time, place and nature of the offense is specified in the publication.

3. Where it is stated in the libel that a person is of notoriously bad or infamous character.

4. Where the publication charges any person in office, or a candidate therefor, with a want of honesty, or of having been guilty of some malfeasance in office, rendering him unworthy of the place. In other cases, the truth of the facts stated in the libel can not be inquired into. (O. C. 643.)

See Williams v. S., 51 S. W. 220.

Art. 1178. (748) Province of jury.—The jury in every case of libel are not only the judges of the facts and of the law, under the direction of the court, in accordance with the constitution, but they are judges of the intent with which a libel may have been published or circulated subject to the rules prescribed in this chapter; and in rendering their verdict they are to be governed by a consideration of the nature of the charge contained in the libel, the general reputation of the person said to be defamed, and the degree of malice exhibited by the defendant in the commission of the offense. (O. C. 644.)

See Squires v. S., 45 S. W. 147; McArthur v. S., 57 S. W. 848.

Art. 1179. (749) This title relates only to penal action.—This title regulates the law with regard to libel when prosecuted as a penal offense, and is not intended to have any operation upon the subject so far as relates to civil remedies for the recovery of damages. (O. C. 645.)

It shall also be the duty of said Commission to co-operate with livestock quarantine commissioners and officers of other states and territories, and with the United States Secretary of Agriculture, in establishing such interstate quarantine lines, rules and regulations as shall best protect the livestock industry of this state against Texas or splenetic fever and scabbies in sheep. It shall be the duty of said Commission upon receipt by them of reliable information of the evidence among the domestic animals of the state of any malignant disease, including scabbies in sheep and cholera in hogs, to go at once to the place where any such disease is alleged to exist and make a careful examination of the animals believed to be affected with any such disease, and ascertain, if possible, what, if any, disease exists among the livestock reported to be affected and whether the same is contagious or infectious; and if said disease is found to be of a malignant contagious or infectious character, they shall direct and enforce such quarantined lines and sanitary regulations as are necessary to prevent the spread of any such disease. And no domestic animal infected with disease, or capable of communicating same, shall be permitted to enter or leave the district, premises or grounds so quarantined, except by authority of the Commission. The said Commission shall also, from time to time, give and enforce such directions and prescribe such rules and regulations as to separating, feeding and caring for such diseased and exposed animals as they shall deem necessary to prevent the animals so affected with such disease from coming in contact with other animals not so affected. If scab or scabbies are found in any flock of sheep when same is inspected, which inspection shall be made whenever the Commission may receive information by notification by any citizen or otherwise that scab probably exists, any member of said Commission, or an inspector appointed by said Commission, shall have the power, and he is hereby given the power, to inspect and dip said sheep at the owner's expense; and if any owner or owners shall refuse to permit said sheep to be dipped after having been examined and condemned by said Commission, he shall be fined in any amount not less than fifty dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, and if any owner or owners shall refuse to pay the actual cost of said dipping, the Commission, as hereinbefore provided, shall have the right to bring civil action against such owner or owners, in the county where said sheep are so inspected, for the sum or sums actually paid out as the expense of said inspection and dipping; provided, that in case the Live Stock Sanitary Commission shall not have sufficient number of inspectors to execute the provisions of this law, then the Commission may appoint a resident sheep inspector to serve in one or more counties whenever it is necessary to do so, provided the Commissioners Court in said county or counties shall agree to pay the salary of said inspector, or their pro rata of said salary based upon the number of sheep in each county as shown by the tax roll of said counties, where the duties of inspector are performed in more than one county. Said inspectors shall be paid a salary of not less than twenty-five dollars per month nor more than one hundred dollars per month. (O. C. 747.)

Art. 1332. (861) The "taking" must be wrongful.—The taking must be wrongful, so that if the property came into the possession of the person accused of theft by lawful means, the subsequent appropriation of it is not theft, but if the taking, though originally lawful, was obtained by any false pretext, or with any intent to deprive the owner of the value thereof, and appropriate the property to the use and benefit of the person taking, and the same is so appropriated, the offense of theft is complete.

Art. 1414, revised Pen. Code, was made up from Acts 1893, p. 162, amending Act Mar. 29, 1889, sec. 1. Most of these acts amended art. 5043, Rev. Civ. St. 1895 (art. 7305, Rev. Civ. St. 1911). Tracing back the history of the hide and animal inspection law it will be seen that the counties affected by the act are the same, whether the question is viewed from the standpoint of the civil statutes or from that of the criminal statutes. The latest expression of the legislature as to the parts of the state affected by the law is given above in art. 1414, and below in arts. 1414a-1415a.

(Acts 1917, ch. 51, sec. 1a.)

Art. 1415c. Violation of hide and animal inspection laws in Nueces County.—If said inspector [Arts. 7305e, 7305f, Civ. St., ante] shall violate any of the provisions of this Act or of said Articles 7256 to 7304, both inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of 1911, he shall be fined in any sum not less than one ($1.00) dollar nor more than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars, and shall be removed from office by said county commissioners' court for any of such violations. (943) "Swindling" defined.—"Swindling" is the acquisition of any personal or movable property, money or instrument of writing conveying or securing a valuable right, by means of some false or deceitful pretense or device, or fraudulent representation, with intent to appropriate the same to the use of the party so acquiring, or of destroying or impairing the rights of the party justly entitled to the same. (O. C. 784; Acts 1875, p. 51.)

See Allen v. S., 66 S. W. 674; Shelton v. S., 119 S. W. 862; Bolt v. S., 150 S. W. 431.

Art. 1443. (963) Threats must be seriously made.—In order to render a person guilty of the offense provided in the preceding article, it is necessary that the threat be seriously made. (O. C. 785; Acts 1875, p. 51.).

Art. 1445. (965) Certain threats not included.—A threat that a person will do any act merely to protect himself, or to prevent the commission of some unlawful act by another, does not come within the meaning of this chapter. (O. C. 787; Id. p. 52.)

Art. 1446. (966) (813) Sending threatening letter.—If any person shall knowingly send or deliver to another any letter or writing, whether signed or not, threatening to accuse such other person of a criminal offense, with a view of extorting money, property, thing of value, or any advantage whatever from such other person, or threatening to kill or in any manner injure the person of such other, or to burn or otherwise destroy or injure any of his property, real or personal, or to do any other injury to such other person, he shall be punished by fine not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and, in addition thereto, may be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding one year.

(967) Punishment.—If any person, by promise to marry, shall seduce an unmarried female under the age of twenty-five years, and shall have carnal knowledge of such female, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than two nor more than ten years. (O. C. 788; Acts 1903, p. 221; Acts 1858, p. 185.)

See Anderson v. S., 45 S. W. 15; Cabiness v. S., 60 S. W. 555; Merrill v. S., 57 S. W. 291; Ex parte Biela, 81 S. W. 739; Elige v. S., 96 S. W. 39; Waldon v. S., 98 S. W. 848; Wofford v. S., 132 S. W. 929; De Rossett v. S., 168 S. W. 531; Barlow v. S., 206 S. W. 198.

Art. 1448. (968) "Seduction," how used.—The term "seduction" is used in the sense in which it is commonly understood. (O. C. 789.)

Art. 1449. (969) Marriage obliterates offense.—If the parties marry each other at any time before the defendant pleads to the indictment before a court of competent jurisdiction, then the prosecution, if begun, shall be suspended, but not dismissed; and, if indictment has been returned, the case shall be continued on the docket of the court from term to term; and, if the defendant after said marriage in good faith continues to live with the person so seduced for two years after said marriage, the said prosecution shall be dismissed; but, if the defendant within two years after said marriage, without the fault of his said wife, such fault amounting to acts committed by her after said marriage as would entitle him to a divorce, shall abandon her or refuse to live with her, or shall be so cruel to her as to compel her to leave him, or shall be guilty of such outrages or cruelties toward her as to render their living together insupportable, then the prosecution shall be revived, and said marriage shall be no bar to the same, and the female so seduced shall be a competent witness against the defendant; provided, however, that if, after the prosecution is begun, and prior to the time he pleads to the indictment before a court of competent jurisdiction, the defendant, in good faith, offers to marry the female so seduced, and if she refuses to marry him, such refusal shall be a bar to further prosecution; but the benefit of this article shall not apply to the case of a defendant who was in fact married at the time of committing the offense. (O. C. 790; Acts 1903, p. 221; Acts 1899, p. 66.)

See Bailey v. S., 38 S. W. 185; Davis v. S., 38 S. W. 175; Barnes v. S., 39 S. W. 684; Elige v. S., 96 S. W. 39; Wofford v. S., 132 S. W. 929.

So much of this article as suspends the indictment, in case the defendant marries the seduced female, for two years in which to live in good faith with his wife and treat her well is invalid. Waldon v. S., 98 S. W. 848.

Art. 1450. Abandonment after seduction and marriage, offense defined.—If any person, by promise of marriage, shall seduce an unmarried female under the age of twenty-five years, and shall have carnal knowledge of such female, and if, after prosecution has begun, the parties marry each other, at any time before the defendant pleads to the indictment before a court of competent jurisdiction, and if the defendant within two years after said marriage, without the fault of his said wife, such fault amounting to acts committed by her after said marriage as would entitle him to a divorce under the laws of this state, shall abandon her or refuse to live with her, or shall be so cruel to her as to compel her to leave him, or shall be guilty of such outrages or cruelties towards her as to make their living together insupportable, thereby leaving her or forcing her to leave him and live apart from each other, shall be guilty of the offense of abandonment after seduction and marriage; and any person convicted of said offense shall be confined in the penitentiary for a term not less than two nor more than ten years; and said marriage shall be no bar to the qualifications of said female to testify against the defendant; and the female so seduced and subsequently married and abandoned, as herein provided, shall be a competent witness against said defendant. (Acts 1909, p. 97.)

Art. 1451. (970) Married man not liable if known.—No person who was, at the time of committing the offense, married, and the fact of marriage known to the woman, shall be held liable for the offense defined in this chapter. (O. C. 791.)

(b) It shall establish to the satisfaction of the court that the judgment of conviction against it was had more than ten years prior to the passage of this Act, and that the penalty assessed against it, either in the suit which forfeited its right to do business in this State or in any other suit against it for violation of the provisions of said chapter, was not in excess of $3000.00.

(c) It shall establish to the satisfaction of the court that it has not violated in any respect the judgment of the court forfeiting its right to do business in this State, and that it has paid in full the penalty assessed against it.

(d) It shall establish to the satisfaction of the court that it has no connection at the time of the trial, and has had no connection since said judgment of conviction, with any person, firm or corporation engaged in violating the provisions of said chapter.

Whereupon and after a hearing had, after the notice to the Attorney General herein provided, the court may modify or reform such judgment so as to permit such corporation to incorporate, or secure a permit, and do business in Texas, and such modified or reformed judgment shall be by the clerk of said court certified to the Secretary of State for action by him in conformity therewith. Nothing in this Act shall in any manner affect any judgment hereafter rendered by any court against any corporation, its agent, or employés or successors.

Provided, that notice of filing of such proceeding and the taking of evidence shall be served upon the Attorney General of the State, whose duty it shall be to represent the State in such proceeding; and provided, further, that the court may require the production of all books and records and may appoint a commission to take testimony, either within or without the State; and provided, further, that the expense of the entire proceeding, including reasonable attorney's fee, the amount of which to be determined by the judge trying the case, and the same to be paid to the attorney representing the State, and same to be delivered by such attorney to the State Treasurer and by him deposited to the account of the General Revenue Fund of the State; and it is further provided that the court, after modifying or reforming the judgment, as provided herein, shall retain jurisdiction of the case and at any time thereafter shall, upon showing that the said corporation is violating the laws against trusts or monopolies, or has connection with any person, firm, or corporation engaged in violation of the laws against trusts or monopolies, set aside any order or judgment entered, and in which event all proceedings based thereon, including all transfers of any and all properties shall be nullified, and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General, for good cause, to enter proceedings to set aside and nullify the modified judgment of the court and its proceedings, as herein provided; and provided, further, that if the court shall, after the hearing provided for, refuse to modify or reform such judgment, no permit shall be issued by the Secretary of State to such corporation or to any other corporation to which its properties or business have been transferred or which has assumed the payment of its obligations. Each violation of any of the provisions of this chapter shall be a separate offense. Provided, however, that if, at the time of the application to lease or rent such house or houses of public amusement for said purposes, it shall be shown by the owner, lessee or other person in charge thereof that said house or houses of public amusement has or have been already leased, let or rented to other persons or parties, and that other bookings have in good faith been made for the date or dates so applied for, and that such leasing, renting, and bookings were made in good faith, and not with the intention of evading the provisions of this chapter, then, and in that instance, the penalties provided by this article shall not be imposed. This article is amended by Acts 1917, ch. 15; Acts Reg. Sess. 35th Leg. See art. 1164, ante, of Civil Statutes.

This article and the following article were brought into being as an amendment of art. 1164, Rev. Civ. St. 1911. As a criminal feature is added by the amendment, the new act is placed in this compilation.

Art. 1487b. Contributions by corporations for political purposes.—If any officer, agent or employé of such local district, or statewide commercial or industrial clubs or associations, or other civic enterprises or organizations shall use or permit the use of any stock, money, assets, or other property contributed to such organizations by said corporations, to further the cause of any political party, or to aid in the election or defeat of any candidate for office or to pay any part of the expenses of any candidate for office, or to pay any part of the expenses of any political campaign, or political headquarters or to aid in the success or defeat of any political question to be voted on by the qualified voters of the State, or any subdivision thereof; such officer, agent or employé shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than five thousand dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars, and by imprisonment in the State penitentiary for a term of not less than two nor more than five years. The title of the act purports to amend art. 1164, Rev. Civ. St., as amended by chapter 102, Acts Reg. Sess. 34th Leg. The enacting part amends the article of the statutes referred to but does not describe it as having been amended as stated in the title. CHAPTER NINE

STATE REVENUE AGENT

Art. 1488. (989) His duties.—The governor is hereby authorized to appoint a suitable person as revenue agent for the state, for the purpose of securing a better enforcement of the revenue laws of the state. The agent provided for herein shall be known as the state revenue agent. Said revenue agent shall be subject to the direction of the governor, who may, whenever in his judgment the public service demands it, direct the said revenue agent to investigate books and accounts of the assessing and collecting officers of this state, and all officers and persons disbursing, receiving or having in their possession public funds, and to make such other investigations and perform such other duties in the interest of the public revenue as the governor may direct. Whenever any such investigation is ordered by the governor, the revenue agent shall report to him in writing the results of such investigations, and to point out the particulars, if any, wherein the revenue laws have been violated or their enforcement neglected, together with the names of the parties delinquent therein; whereupon the governor shall institute civil and criminal proceedings through the attorney general in the name of the state against such delinquent parties, who are reported by such agent to be delinquent; and it is further provided, that said revenue agent shall have power at any time to examine and check up all and any disbursements or expenditures of money appropriated for any of the state institutions or for any other purpose, or for improvements made by the state on state property, or money received and disbursed by any board authorized by law to receive and disburse any state money. (Act April 13, 1891, sec. 1, 22d Leg., p. 87.)

When this article was carried into the revised Penal Code it had been superseded by Acts 1899, p. 26, amending art. 5058, Rev. Civ. St. 1895, which article had been made up from the same act from which this article was constructed. The amendatory act is set out below.

Powers and duties of state revenue agent.—The Governor is authorized to appoint a suitable person as Revenue Agent for the State, for the purpose of securing a better enforcement of the revenue laws of the State. The agent provided for herein shall be known as the State Revenue Agent. Said Revenue Agent shall be subject to the directions of the Governor, who may, whenever in his judgment the public service demands it, direct the said Revenue Agent to investigate books and accounts of the assessing and collecting officers of this State, and all officers and persons disbursing, receiving or having in their possession public funds, and to make such other investigations and perform such other duties in the interest of the public revenues as the Governor may direct. Whenever any such investigation is ordered by the Governor, the Revenue Agent shall report to him in writing the results of such investigation, and point out the particulars, if any, wherein the revenue laws have been violated, their enforcement neglected, together with the names of the parties delinquent therein. Whereupon the Governor shall institute civil and criminal proceedings through the Attorney-General in the name of the State against such delinquent parties who are reported by such agent to be delinquent. Said Revenue Agent shall have power at any time to examine and check up all and any disbursements or expenditures of money appropriated for any of the State institutions or for any other purpose or for any improvements made by the State on State property or money received and disbursed by any board authorized by law to receive and disburse any State money. Said Revenue Agent shall also have power and authority, and it is hereby made his duty, to fully investigate any and all State institutions when so directed by the Governor or required by information coming to the knowledge of said agent. He shall investigate the manner of conducting the same and the policy pursued by those in charge thereof, and the conduct or efficiency of any person employed therein by the State. He shall examine into and report upon the character and manner as well as the amount of expenditures thereof. He shall also investigate and ascertain all sums of money due the State from any source whatever; the ascertainment and collection of which does not devolve upon other officers of this State under existing law. And he shall report all such facts to the Governor, who shall proceed therein as provided by this or any other law of this State. (Acts 1891, p. 87; amended Acts 1899, p. 26.)

The office of the State Revenue Agent was abolished by Acts 1918, 4th C. S., ch. 94, sec. 1, and articles 7074, 7366, 7367, 7368, and 7392 of the Revised Civil Statutes were repealed. Section 4 of said Acts 1918, 4th C. S., ch. 94, devolves the duties and functions of the State Revenue Agent upon the Comptroller of Public Accounts. See ante, Civ. St. art. 7368b.

Art. 1489. (990) Books and records of officers to be submitted; penalty.—When said revenue agent, acting under the direction of the governor, calls on any person connected with the public service to inspect his accounts, records or books, said officers or official so called upon shall submit to said agent all books, records and accounts so called for without delay. Any failure or refusal on the part of any officer or official to comply with the provisions of this article shall be an offense, for which, on conviction thereof, he shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and may be imprisoned in the county jail not more than one year. (Act April 13, 1891, p. 87, sec. 2.)

Art. 1490. (991) Penalty for making false report.—Said revenue agent shall receive as compensation for his services not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum, together with his actual traveling expenses, which shall be paid on the approval of the same by the governor; provided, that said revenue agent shall not be allowed traveling expenses for any service connected with the examination and investigation of the accounts of any institution in Travis county. If the revenue agent herein provided for shall wilfully make a false or fraudulent report of the financial condition of the books of any officer or official, department or institution, handling, receiving or disbursing any state funds, appropriated or unappropriated, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and imprisoned in the county jail for any period not to exceed twelve months. (Id. sec. 3.)

CHAPTER TEN

GUARANTY AND FIDELITY COMPANIES—REGULATION OF

Arts. 1491-1503. (992-1004) [Superseded.]

The above articles appeared in the revised Penal Code of 1895 as arts. 993-1004. The revisers of 1895 carried the same provisions, with the exception of art. 1000 of the Penal Code, into the Revised Statutes of 1895, as ch. 16 of Title 21 (Arts. 733-744). This title and chapter of the Civil Statutes was repealed by Act 1897, ch. 165, sec. 13, which act reconstructed and re-enacted the repealed law without any criminal feature therein, the criminal features in the old act being displaced by provisions imposing penalties recoverable in a civil action. The result is that the subject matter of this chapter of the Penal Code was dead and obsolete law when it was carried into the revision of 1911. In view of the decisions in Berry v. S., 156 S. W. 626, and Stevens v. S., 159 S. W. 506, the articles of this chapter are omitted from this compilation.

(Acts 1897, p. 118.)

Art. 1505. Failure to comply with this law, charter forfeited.—If any such company, being a domestic corporation, shall fail, for sixty days after the organization of such company, to make with the state treasurer the deposit required by this chapter, it shall be considered to have forfeited its charter; and the attorney general shall, immediately upon receiving information thereof, bring suit in the name of the state, in the district court of Travis county, to have such charter or certificate of incorporation declared forfeited and of no effect; and said court shall declare such charter forfeited, and appoint a receiver for such company, whose duty it shall be, under the order of the court, to distribute to the shareholders the assets of the company. The court shall, out of the assets of the company, make such allowance for compensation for the receiver as shall be equitable and just. (Id. p. 118.)

Art. 1506. Officer, agent, etc., of any such company transacting business in violation of this law, penalty.—If any officer, agent, or representative of any such company or companies, whether they be foreign or domestic corporations, shall attempt to place or sell shares, or to transact any business whatsoever in the name or on behalf of such company or companies, while they fail or refuse to comply with the provisions of this chapter, said officer, agent or representative shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars for each offense, or be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (c) Any child who is blind, deaf, dumb or feeble-minded, for the instruction of whom no adequate provision has been made by the school district.

(d) Any child living more than two and one-half miles by direct and traveled road from the nearest public school supported for children of the same race and color of such child, and with no free transportation provided.

(e) Any child more than twelve years of age who has satisfactorily completed the work of the fourth grade of a standard elementary school of seven grades, and whose services are needed in support of a parent or other person standing in parental relation to the child, may, on presentation of proper evidence to the County Superintendent of Public Instruction, be exempted from further attendance at school. (Id. sec. 2.)

Art. 1513g. Duties of parent or guardian.—If any parent or person standing in parental relation to a child within the compulsory school attendance ages who is not properly excused from attendance upon school for some one or more of the exemptions provided in Section 2 of this Act [art. 1513fff] fails to require such child to attend school regularly for such period as is required in Section 1 [art. 1513ff] hereof, it shall be the duty of the attendance officer who has jurisdiction in the territory where said parent or person standing in parental relation resides, to warn such parent or person standing in parental relation, that the provisions of this Act must be immediately complied with, and upon failure of said parent or persons standing in parental relation to immediately comply with the provisions of this Act after such warning has been given, the official discharging the duties of the attendance officer shall forthwith file complaint against such parent or person standing in parental relation to said child, which complaint shall be filed in the County Court, or in the Justice Court in the precinct where such parent or guardian resides, and shall diligently prosecute same to its conclusion. Any parent or other person standing in parental relation upon conviction for failure to comply with the provisions of this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined for the first offense five dollars, and for the second offense ten dollars, and for each subsequent offense twenty-five dollars. Each day that said child remains out of school after said warning has been given or after said child has been ordered in school by the juvenile court, may constitute a separate offense; provided, however, that if any parent or person standing in parental relation to any child within the compulsory school attendance ages shall present proofs that he or she is unable to compel such child to attend school, said person in parental relation shall be exempt from the above penalties as regards the non-attendance of such child, and such child may be proceeded against as an habitual truant and be subject to commitment to the State Juvenile Training School or any other suitable school agreed upon between the parent or the guardian of said child and the judge of the juvenile court. All fines collected under the provisions of this Act shall be paid into the available school fund of the common school district or of the independent school district in which the person fined resides, as the case may be. (Id. sec. 9.)

Art. 1513h. Failure of school officers to make reports.—The State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall require of Judges acting as ex-officio county superintendents of public schools, of county, city and town superintendents, of county and city treasurers and depositories, and of treasurers and depositories of school boards, and of other school officers and teachers such school reports relating to the school fund and to other school affairs as he may deem proper for collecting information and advancing the interests of the public schools, and shall furnish the county, city and town superintendents, treasurers, and depositories, and other school affairs as he may deem proper for collecting information and advancing the interests of the public schools, and shall furnish the county, city and town superintendents, treasurers, and depositories, and other school officers and teachers for the use of such teachers and officers the necessary blanks and forms for making such reports and carrying out such instructions as may be required by them. All teachers librarians, school presidents, superintendents, principals, or other school officers employed by all schools supported wholly or partly by the State, shall fill out and send to the State Department of education, before the expiration of the first school month of each annual session, a registration card, supplied by the State Department of Education, which card shall furnish blanks for useful statistical information, and said teachers, librarians, school presidents, superintendents, and principals shall not be paid the salary for the first month's service, except on the presentation of a receipt certifying that the said registration card has been received by the State Department of Education; provided also that any teacher, librarian, school president, superintendent, principal or other school officer employed in any school supported wholly or partly by the State of Texas, on changing his position from one school to another at any time during the school session, shall not be entitled to receive the first month's salary in any new position except on presenting a receipt from the State Department of Education certifying that he has filed with the State Department of Education another registration card giving information as to the said change of position. The monthly salary of any county judge acting as ex-officio county superintendent of public schools, of any county, district city or town superintendent, or principal, of any teacher, or librarian in any school supported wholly or partly by the State of Texas, or any assessor, county treasurer, treasurer in county school depository or treasurer of any school district depository, shall be withheld by the officials or authorities paying the said salary, on notification by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction that said county judge, acting as ex-officio county superintendent of public schools, county, district, city or town superintendent or principal, teacher, librarian, assessor, county treasurer, treasurer of county school depository or treasurer of school district depository has refused or failed to make the reports required of him; provided that this notification shall not be sent by the State Superintendent until at least two written requests have been made for the desired information and until thirty days have elapsed from the time of the first request without the receipt of the information required; in such case the aforesaid monthly salary shall be withheld until a notice is received from the State Superintendent, certifying that the information requested has been furnished by the delinquent person.

An employé of the state or of any district, county, city, town, or school, who may be responsible for the payment of the salary of any county judge acting as ex-officio county superintendent of public schools, of any county, district, or town superintendent of principal, or other school officer, or any teacher, librarian, assessor, county treasurer, treasurer of county school depository, or treasurer of school district depository, after notice by the State Superintendent that the said person has failed to comply with the provisions of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall on conviction be fined in any sum not less than $50.00 nor more than $500.00, and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction may withhold warrants for further payment of state apportionments until the aforesaid officials have made satisfactory reports as herein provided. (Acts 1917, ch. 104, sec. 1; Acts 1919, 2d C. S., ch. 71, sec. 1.)

Art. 1513i. St.], shall be held guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five ($25) dollars, nor more than two hundred ($200) dollars. (Acts 1917, ch. 112, sec. 3.)

Art. 1514.

See ante, arts. 1513a, 1513d, 1513e, for matter formerly contained in this article, incorporated into such acts to avoid confusion with art. 1514, post.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN
RAILROAD COMMISSION

Art. 1514. (1007) Right to inspect books and papers.—The commissioners, or either of them, or such persons as they employ therefor, shall have the right, at such times as they may deem necessary, to inspect the books and papers of any railroad company, and to examine, under oath, any officer, agent or employé of such railroad, in relation to the business and affairs of the same. If any railroad shall refuse to permit the commissioners, or either of them, or any person authorized thereto, to examine its books and papers, such railroad company shall, for each offense, pay to the state of Texas not less than one hundred and twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each day it shall so fail or refuse; provided, that any person other than one of said commissioners who shall make any such demands shall produce his authority, under the hand and seal of said commission, to make such inspection. (Acts 22d Leg. ch. 51, sec. 55; 1891, R. R. Com. sec. 10.)

Art. 1514a. Penalty for refusal to exhibit books or papers.—Any officer, agent or employé of any railroad company who shall, upon proper demand, fail or refuse to exhibit to the commissioners, or either of them, or any person authorized to investigate the same, any book or paper of such railroad company, which is in the possession or under the control of such officer, agent or employé, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction in any court having jurisdiction thereof, shall be fined for each offense a sum not less than one hundred and twenty-five dollars and not to exceed five hundred dollars. (Id.)

Art. 1515. (1008) Commissioners may propound questions to be answered.—1. The said commission shall cause to be prepared suitable blanks with questions calculated to elicit all information concerning railroads, and as often as it may be necessary, furnish said blanks to each railroad company. Any railroad company receiving from the commission any such blanks shall cause said blanks to be properly filled out so as to answer fully and correctly each question therein propounded; and, in case they are unable to answer any question, they shall give a satisfactory reason for their failure; and the said answers, duly sworn to by the proper officer of said company, shall be returned to said commission at its office in the city of Austin within thirty days from the receipt thereof. (Id. sec. 12.)

Art. 1515a. Penalty for refusal to answer and fill out blanks.—2. If any officer or employé of a railroad company shall fail or refuse to fill out and return any blanks, as above required, or fail or refuse to answer any question therein propounded, or give a false answer to any such question, where the fact inquired of is within his knowledge, or shall evade the answer to any such question, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction thereof, be fined for each day he shall fail to perform such duty, after the expiration of the time aforesaid, a penalty of five hundred dollars; and the commission shall cause a prosecution therefor in the proper court; and a penalty of like amount shall be recovered from the company when it appears that such person acted in obedience to its direction, permission or request in his failure, evasion or refusal. Said commission shall have the power to prescribe a system of bookkeeping, to be observed by all the railroads subject hereto, under the penalties prescribed in this article. (Id. sec. 12.)

Art. 1516. (1009) Punishment for false billing, classification, weight, etc.—Any officer or agent of any railroad subject to this law who, by means of false billing, false classification, false weight, or by any other device, shall suffer or permit any person or persons to obtain transportation for property, at less than the regular rates then in force on such railroad, or who, by means of false billing, false classification, false weighing, or by any device whatever, shall charge any person, firm or corporation more for the transportation of property than the regular rates, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, fined in a sum of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars. (Id. sec. 16.)

Art. 1517. "Unjust discrimination" defined, penalty for.—If any officer, agent, clerk, servant or employé, or any receiver, or his servant, agent or employé of any railroad company in this state shall, directly or indirectly, or by any special rate, rebate, drawback, or other device, for, and on behalf of, such railroad company, knowingly charge, demand, contract for, collect or receive from any person, firm or corporation a greater or less compensation for any service rendered, or to be rendered, by any such railroad company in this state than such railroad company, or its said officers, agents, clerks, servants or employés, or receiver thereof, charges, demands, contracts for, collects or receives from any other person, firm or corporation for doing a like and contemporaneous service, or if any officer, agent, clerk, servant or employé, or receiver, or his agents, servants or employés, of any railroad company in this state, who shall, for, and on behalf of, such railroad company, make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or any advantage to any particular person, company, firm, corporation or locality, as to any service rendered, or to be rendered or performed, by such railroad company, or to subject any particular description of traffic on such railroad company to any undue or unreasonable prejudice, delay or disadvantage in any respect whatever, such officer, clerk, servant or employé, or receiver, his agents, servants or employés of such railroad company, shall be deemed guilty of unjust discrimination within the meaning of this chapter, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by confinement in the state penitentiary for not less than two nor more than five years. (Acts 1899, p. 203, sec. 1.)

See post, art. 1535.

Art. 1518. Not applicable, when.—Nothing herein shall prevent the carriage, storage or handling, by railroad companies in this state, or by their agents, officers, clerks, servants and employés, of freight free or at reduced rates, or to prevent railroads, their agents and employés and officers, from giving free transportation or freight rates to any railroad officers, agents, employés, attorneys, stockholders or directors, or to any other officer or person, when permitted by chapter 16 of this title, article 1533. (Id. sec. 2.)

Art. 1519. Persons subpœnaed and compelled to testify as to violations of this law exempt from prosecution; evidence on which conviction may be had.—Any court, officer or tribunal, having jurisdiction of the offense mentioned in this chapter, or any district or county attorney, may subpœna persons and compel their attendance as witnesses to testify as to the violations of this chapter; and any person so summoned and examined shall not be liable to prosecution for any violation of this law about which he may testify; and for any offense by reason of violations of this chapter, a conviction may be had upon the unsupported evidence of an accomplice or participant. (Id. p. 203, sec. 3.)

Art. 1520. District judge to specially charge grand jury.—It shall be the duty of every district judge in this state, in whose court a grand jury shall be impaneled, to charge said grand jury, whenever organized, to thoroughly investigate with reference to violations of this chapter. (Id. p. 203, sec. 4.)

Art. 1521. (1009a) Railroad official making false statement to secure registration of bond.—Each and every railroad director, president, secretary or other official who shall knowingly make any false statement upon which to secure the registration of any bond or other evidence of debt, as required by the law regulating the issuance of stocks and bonds, or who shall, by false statement knowingly made, procure of the railroad commission direction to the secretary of state to register the same, and which shall be, by the secretary of state, registered, or shall, with knowledge of such fraud, negotiate or cause to be negotiated, any such bond or other security issued in violation of said chapter, shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by confinement at hard labor in the state penitentiary for a term of years not less than two nor more than fifteen, and shall likewise be liable to any creditor of such company for the full amount of damages sustained by such wrongful conduct. Venue in such cases shall be in either of the district courts held in Travis county, or in the county where the principal office of the railway company whose property is sought to be so incumbered or affected is located. (Acts 1893, p. 59.)

Art. 1521a. Penalty not otherwise provided.—If any railway company doing business in this state shall hereafter violate any other provision of this chapter, or shall do any other act herein prohibited, or shall fail or refuse to perform any other duty enjoined upon it for which a penalty has not been provided by law, or shall fail, neglect or refuse to obey any lawful requirement, order, judgment or decree made by the railroad commission of Texas, for every such act of violation it shall pay to the state of Texas a penalty of not more than five thousand dollars. (Id., sec. 18; amended Acts 1901, p. 265.)

The above provision was not included in the revised Penal Code, 1911, and is placed in this compilation, in view of the decision in Berry v. S., 156 S. W. 626, for the reason that it seems to state a general criminal penalty for violation of the orders of the Railroad Commission. In this respect it seems to give effect to art. 1522, post. That article, as it now stands, and as it stood in the revised Penal Code, seems to be lacking in vital force (there being nothing in the revised Penal Code indicating the penalty spoken of but not defined), unless it can be attached to the above general provision. On the assumption that this view is correct the publishers have added a number of acts similar to that embraced in art. 1522, some of which antedate the revision and were not included therein. The acts added, in this connection, will be found below as arts. 1521b, 1522a-1522*l*.

Art. 1521b. Duty to provide suitable freight and passenger depots.—It shall be the duty of all railroad companies in this state to provide and maintain adequate, comfortable and clean depots and depot buildings at their several stations for the accommodation of passengers, and to keep said depot buildings well lighted and warmed for the comfort and accommodation of the traveling public; provided, further, that said railroad companies shall keep and maintain separate apartments in such depot buildings for the use of white passengers and negro passengers, and to keep and maintain adequate and suitable freight depots and buildings for the receiving, handling, storing and delivering of all freights handled by such roads. (Acts 1909, 2d S. S., p. 401, ch. 13, sec. 1.)

This provision was omitted from the revision of 1911. See note under art. 1521a, ante.

Art. 1521c. Commission to require compliance.—Power is hereby conferred upon the railroad commission of Texas to require compliance by railroad companies with the provisions of this act under such regulations as said commission may deem reasonable, and all railroad companies shall be subject to the penalties prescribed by law for failure to comply with such requirements. (Id. sec. 2.)

Art. 1522. Railroad commission may require construction of union passenger depots.—Where two or more railroad companies reach the same city or town in this state, it shall be the duty of the railroad commission of Texas to ascertain whether it is practicable and feasible for such railroad companies to use a joint or union passenger depot; and, if the railroad commission finds, upon investigation, that it is practicable for such railroad companies to join in the construction and use of a passenger depot, then it shall give notice to said railroad companies, and, after investigation and public hearing, may require the construction and maintenance of such union passenger depot by the railroad companies entering any such city or town, provided, that it shall appear to the railroad commission that the construction and maintenance of such joint or union passenger depot are just and reasonable to the railroad companies involved, and demanded by the public interest. The railroad commission may specify the requirements of such union depot as to kind and character; and said railroad commission may apportion the cost of constructing and maintaining the same to each railroad company, in cases where the interested railroad companies can not themselves agree.

Failure upon the part of any railroad company to observe and obey the orders of the railroad commission, issued in compliance with this article, shall subject such railroad company to the fines and penalties prescribed by law for failure to obey the lawful requirements, orders, judgments and decrees made by the railroad commission of Texas. (Acts 1909, p. 399.)

Art. 1522a. Construction of switch tracks and furnishing of facilities.—Any railroad company or receiver thereof upon application of any shipper tendering traffic for transportation, shall construct, maintain and operate upon reasonable terms, a switch connection with any such private sidetrack or spur track which has been or shall hereafter be constructed by any such shipper, to connect with its railroad where such connection is reasonably practicable and can be put in with safety and will furnish sufficient business to justify the construction and maintenance of the same; and shall furnish cars for the movement of such traffic to the best of its ability without discrimination in favor of or against such shipper. (Acts 1915, p. 66, ch. 35, sec. 1.)

Art. 1522b. Same; penalty.—If any railroad company or receiver thereof shall fail to install and operate any such switch connection as aforesaid, on application therefor by any shipper, such shipper may make application to the Railroad Commission of Texas, and said commission shall be authorized and empowered to enter such orders as may be necessary governing the construction, maintenance and operation of said switch connection with said private sidetrack or spur track, where such connection is reasonably practicable, and can be put in with safety and will furnish sufficient business to justify the construction and maintenance of the same. (Id. sec. 2.)

Art. 1522c. Same; rates; discrimination.—The Railroad Commission of Texas shall fix just and reasonable rates to be charged by railroad companies or receivers thereof for traffic moved and handled over such private sidetracks or spur tracks extending to private industries, and it shall be the duty of the Railroad Commission to adopt such rates, rules, and regulations as will prevent any discrimination in the operation of such tracks or the handling of such traffic. Whenever any railway company or receiver thereof shall operate any private sidetrack or spur track without charge, the Railroad Commission of Texas shall have power and authority to compel the operation without charge of and private sidetrack or spur track similarly situated. (Id. sec. 3.)

Art. 1522d. Same; Railroad Commission to prescribe rates and make regulations.—The Railroad Commission of Texas shall prescribe reasonable rates, rules and regulations for the operation of all private sidetracks or spur tracks as may already have been or may hereafter be constructed either by the railroad companies themselves or by individuals or corporate interests, or jointly by such railroads and individuals or corporations, when such private sidetracks or spur tracks are operated by railroad companies or the receivers thereof; and shall have power and authority to order and compel the operation of said private sidetracks or spur tracks whenever the railway company or receiver thereof is operating other private sidetracks or spur tracks similarly situated, and to prevent discrimination therein. (Id. sec. 4.)

Art. 1522e. Same; power of Railroad Commission to prevent discrimination.—Whenever any railroad company or receiver thereof shall hereafter construct or maintain or contribute to the construction or maintenance of any private sidetrack or spur track to any private industry, the Railroad Commission shall have power to order such railway company or receiver to construct or maintain or contribute to the construction or maintenance of a sidetrack or spur track to any private industry similarly situated, on the same terms and conditions. (Id. sec. 5.)

Art. 1522f. Same; penalty.—Failure upon the part of any railroad company or receiver thereof to observe and obey the orders of the Railway Commission issued in compliance with this Act, shall subject such railroad company to the fines and penalties prescribed by law for failure to obey the lawful requirements, orders, judgments and decrees of the Railroad Commission. (Id. sec. 6.)

Art. 1522g. Maintenance of roadbed and track.—The Railroad Commission of Texas shall have authority and it is hereby made its duty to see that each and every railroad corporation owning or operating a line of railroad in this State shall maintain its roadbed and track in such condition as to enable it to perform all of its duties as a common carrier with reasonable safety to persons and property carried by it and its employés and with reasonable dispatch.

The Railroad Commission of Texas shall be vested with full power to require of any such railroad company to purchase or secure for installation in its roadbed or track all such ties, rails, ballast and other materials and equipment as may, in the judgment of the Railroad Commission of Texas, be necessary for the proper maintenance of such track and roadbed so as to enable such railroad corporation to adequately perform its duties to the public and to transport freight and passengers with safety thereunto and without delay.

The Railroad Commission of Texas is hereby empowered to require any such railroad company to acquire and install in the whole of such track or roadbed, or any portion thereof that may be designated by the Railroad Commission of Texas, such ties, rails, ballast and other materials as may, in the judgment of the Railroad Commission, be adequate and sufficient to place such track or roadbed in safe condition. (Acts 1915, p. 201, ch. 129, sec. 1.)

Art. 1522h. Same; penalty.—When the Railroad Commission of Texas shall have made any such order as authorized by Section 1 of this Act [Art. 1522g], it shall be the duty of any such railroad company or receiver subject thereto, to promptly comply with the terms thereof, and for failure or refusal to do so, such company or receiver shall become liable to the State of Texas, "as in other cases of failure to comply with orders of the Railroad Commission as provided by law." In addition to such penalties, any court of competent jurisdiction shall have the power to, and it shall be its duty to, issue writs of mandamus and mandatory injunctions and other proper writs to compel the compliance with such orders. (Id. sec. 2.)

Art. 1522i. Trains to be regular, and notice to be given.—Every such corporation shall start and run their cars for the transportation of passengers and property at regular times to be fixed by public notice, and shall furnish sufficient accommodations for the transportation of all such passengers and property as shall, with a reasonable time previous thereto, offer or be offered for transportation at the place of starting and at junctions of other roads and at sidings and stopping places established for receiving and discharging way passengers and freights, and shall take, transport and discharge such passengers and property at, from, and to such places, on the due payment of the tolls, freight or fare legally authorized therefor. Failure on the part of railroad companies to comply with the requirements of this article shall be deemed an abuse of their rights and privileges and subject to regulation and correction by the railroad commission. (P. D. 4893; amended Acts 1903, 1st S. S., p. 21, ch. 11, sec. 1.)

The above provision was omitted from the Revision of 1911. See art. 1521a, ante, and note thereunder.

Art. 1522j. To build sidings, etc., when.—All railroads in Texas shall be required to build sidings and spur tracks sufficient to handle the business tendered such railroads, when ordered to do so by the railroad commission, as hereinafter provided. (Acts 1903, p. 93, ch. 68, sec. 1.)

The above provision was omitted from the revision of 1911; but is included here. See ante, art. 1521a, and note thereunder.

Art. 1522k, l. Commission to enforce compliance.—Power is conferred on the railroad commission of Texas to require compliance by railroad companies with the provisions of Section 1 of this Act [art. 1522j,] under such regulations as said commission may deem reasonable; and all railroad companies shall be subject to the penalties prescribed by law for failure to comply with the requirements of the railroad commission as provided herein. (Acts 1903, p. 93, ch. 68, sec. 2.)

See note under preceding article.

Art. 1522m. Powers of commission over other subjects.—Power and authority are hereby conferred upon the Railroad Commission of Texas over all public wharves, docks and piers and all elevators, warehouses, sheds, tracks and other property used in connection therewith in the State of Texas, and over all suburban, belt and terminal railroads in said State, and over all persons, associations and corporations, private or municipal, owning or operating any such railroad, wharf, dock, pier, elevator, warehouse, shed, track, or other property, and it is hereby made the duty of the said Railroad Commission to fix and adopt all necessary rates, charges and regulations, to govern and regulate said persons, associations and corporations, and to correct abuses and prevent unjust discriminations in the rates, charges and tolls of said persons, associations and corporations, and to fix divisions of rates, charges and regulations between same and railroads and all other common carriers, under the control of the Railroad Commission where a division is proper, and to correct and prevent any and all other abuses in the conduct of their business. (Acts 1911, p. 157, ch. 86, sec. 1.)

Art. 1522n. Same; charging greater rates than those prescribed by commission.—If any person, association or corporation subject to the provisions of this Act, shall demand or receive a greater compensation for any service rendered or to be rendered than that fixed and established by the said Railroad Commission then, and in every such case, such person, association or corporation shall be deemed guilty of extortion and shall forfeit and pay to the State of Texas, a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars for each offense; provided, that if it shall appear that such violation was not wilful, said person, association or corporation shall have ten days to refund such overcharges or damages, in which case the penalty shall not be incurred, and the said Commission shall have authority and it shall be its duty to sue for and recover the same in the same manner as may be prescribed by law for like suits against railroad companies. (Id. sec. 2.)

Art. 1522o. Same; discrimination.—If any person, association or corporation subject to the provisions of this Act shall by any special rate, rebate, drawback or other device, or in any manner directly or indirectly charge, demand, collect or receive from any other person, association or corporation a greater or less compensation for any service rendered, or to be rendered, by it than it charges, demands, collects or receives from any other person, association or corporation for doing a like and contemporaneous service, or if any such person, association or corporation shall make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any other person, association or corporation, or to any locality, or shall subject any particular description of traffic to any undue or unreasonable prejudice, delay or disadvantage, then and in any such case the person, association or corporation thus offending shall forfeit and pay to the State of Texas a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each and every offense. (Id. sec. 3.)

Art. 1522p. Discrimination by operators of pipe lines.—* * * For the wilful violations of the provisions herein forbidding discrimination on the part of common carriers, it is hereby provided that the owners, officers, agents or employés of such carriers who may be guilty thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, each violation of such provisions shall be deemed a separate offense and upon conviction thereof the party violating same shall be fined in a sum of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and may be further punished by confinement in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than six months. (Acts 1917, ch. 30, sec. 9.)

The above provision is a part of section 9 of the act declaring pipe lines to be common carriers. The other provisions of the act are set forth ante as arts. 732½-732½m of the Civil Statutes.

Art. 1523. (1010) 1. Railroad to provide separate coaches for white and negro passengers.—Every railway company, street car company and interurban railway company, lessee, manager, or receiver thereof, doing business in this state, as a common carrier of passengers for hire, shall provide separate coaches or compartments, as hereinafter provided, for the accommodation of white and negro passengers, which separate coaches or compartments shall be equal in all points of comfort and convenience. (Acts 22d Leg. ch. 41, sec. 1, pp. 44 and 165; amended Acts 1907, p. 58.)

2. "Negro" defined.—The term "negro" used herein includes every person of African descent as defined by the statutes of this state. (Id. sec. 2; amended Acts 1907, p. 58.)

3. "Compartment" defined, etc.; lettering on coach.—Each compartment of a railroad coach, divided by good and substantial wooden partitions, with a door therein, shall be deemed a separate coach within the meaning of this law, and each separate coach shall bear in some conspicuous place appropriate words in plain letters indicating the race for which it is set apart; and each compartment of the street car or interurban car divided by board or marker placed in a conspicuous place, bearing appropriate words in plain letters, indicating the race for which it is set apart, shall be sufficient as a separate compartment within the meaning of this law. (Id. sec. 3; amended Acts 1907, p. 58.)

4. Penalty for failure to provide, etc.—Any railway company, street car company or interurban railroad company, lessee, manager or receiver thereof, which shall fail to provide its cars bearing passengers with separate coaches or compartments, as above provided for, shall be liable for each and every failure to a penalty not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, to be recovered by suit in the name of the state in any court of competent jurisdiction; and each trip run with such train or street car or interurban car without such separate coach or compartment shall be deemed a separate offense. (Id. sec. 5; amended Acts 1907, p. 59.)

6. Does not apply, wherein.—The provisions of this law shall not be so construed as to prohibit nurses from traveling in any coach or compartment with their employer, or employés, upon the train of cars in the discharge of their duty, nor shall it be construed to apply to such freight trains as carry passengers in cabooses; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent railroad companies in this state from hauling sleeping cars, dining or café cars or chair cars attached to their trains, to be used exclusively by either white or negro passengers, separately, but not jointly. (Amended by Acts 22d Leg. ch. 103, sec. 4; amended Acts 1907, p. 59.)

7. Law to be posted, where.—Every railroad company carrying passengers in this state shall keep this law posted in a conspicuous place in each passenger depot and in each passenger coach provided in this law. (Acts 22d Leg. ch. 41, sec. 7; amended Acts 1907, p. 59.)

8. Does not apply to excursion trains.—The provisions of this law shall not apply to any excursion train, or street car, or interurban car, as such, for the benefit of either race. (Id. sec. 8; amended Acts 1907, p. 59.)

9. Duty of conductors.—Conductors of passenger trains, street cars or interurban lines, provided with separate coaches, shall have the authority to refuse any passenger admittance to any coach or compartment, in which they are not entitled to ride under the provisions of this law; and the conductor in charge of the train or street car or interurban car shall have authority, and it shall be his duty, to remove from a coach or street car, or interurban car any passenger not entitled to ride therein, under the provisions of this law, and, upon his refusal to do so knowingly, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not less than five or more than twenty-five dollars. (Id. sec. 9; amended Acts 1907, p. 59.)

10. Fines collected to go to school fund.—All fines collected under the provisions of this law shall go to the available common school fund of the county in which conviction is had. Prosecutions under the provisions of this law may be instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction in any county through, or into which, said railroad may be run or have an office. (1010b) Ticket agents to be provided with certificate of authority.—It shall be the duty of all railroad companies doing business in this state, or the receiver of any such railroad company, through their duly authorized officers, to provide each agent who may be authorized to sell tickets or other evidences entitling the holder to travel upon any such railroad, with a certificate, setting forth the authority of such agent to make such sale. Such certificate shall be duly attested by the corporate seal of such railroad company, or the signature of the receiver, if any there be, of such railroad company, or by the signature of the officer whose name is signed upon the tickets or coupons which such agent may be authorized to sell. (Acts 1893, p. 97, sec. 1.)

Acts 1893, p. 97, making it an offense for any person other than a railroad agent to sell tickets, but requiring that the ticket shall contain a notice that it is unlawful for one not a railroad agent to sell the same was held unconstitutional in Jannin v. (Id. sec. 4.)

The revisers of 1911 ascribed the above provision to the act of 1893. The subject-matter of this article was carried into Rev. Civ. St. 1895, as art. 4560c, and such article was amended by Acts 1903, p. 162, but no change was made in its language.

(Id.)

Art. 1528. Demand must be made within ten days.—Provided, however, such tickets, or parts thereof, shall be presented for redemption to the railroad company from which it has been purchased, or the receiver of such railroad company, or to any of the duly authorized ticket agents of such railroad company, or receiver thereof, or in case of a through ticket, to any of the authorized agents of any connecting line, within a time not exceeding ten days after the right to use said ticket has expired by limitation of time as stipulated therein. (Id.)

Art. 1529. Refusal to redeem; penalty.—Any railroad company, or receiver, or trustee of such railroad company, over or on which said ticket may be used, which shall refuse or fail to redeem the whole, or any part or coupon of any ticket or tickets, when presented, shall forfeit to the holder thereof a sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, recoverable in any court of competent jurisdiction. Art. 1530. (1010g) Law to be printed on tickets.—It shall be the duty of the railway company to print conspicuously across the face of every ticket, sold by its duly authorized agents in this state, a notice to the holder thereof that this ticket, or any unused part thereof, is redeemable by the company or its receiver at any ticket office of the company, when presented for redemption. (Id. p. 98, sec. 6.)

Said train dispatcher shall also keep all agents at stations having telegraph offices in or near them, informed of the movement of all passenger trains one hour prior to the time such passenger train or trains are due, according to the published schedule at such stations. And in the event any such passenger train is delayed for more than one hour, than the published schedule, then it shall be the duty of such train dispatcher to inform such local agents how late said train is and the last telegraph station passed. If such train dispatcher shall fail or refuse to furnish the information concerning the movement of trains to agents as herein required, then such dispatcher shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars for each offense. (Acts 1903, 1 S. S., p. 21; Acts 1913, p. 318, ch. 148, sec. 2, amending Art. 6553, Rev. Civ. St. 1911.)

And if the train is late, he shall bulletin how late, and the last telegraph station passed by such train. If later than one hour, said agent shall thereafter ascertain the latest news from such train dispatcher, or some other reliable source, every hour, and bulletin such information and the time of the probable arrival of such train. If any such agent shall fail or refuse to perform the duties required of him by this Article, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, for each time he fails or refuses to perform the duties required of him by this Article, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense. W. 732, the articles named are omitted from this compilation. The act of 1909 re-enacted the former provisions but substituted a penalty recoverable in a civil action in place of the former criminal penalty. The new act will be found in the Civil Statutes as articles 6584 and 6585.

Any owner, manager, superintendent or other person in charge or control of any factory, mill, workshop, mine, store, business house, public or private work, or other establishment or place, where five or more persons are employed at work, who shall negelect or refuse to make such reports and returns as are required by the provisions of this chapter, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed thirty days. CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN
MINES AND MINING

Art. 1592. Owner, lessee, agent, etc., operating mine, duty of.—It shall be unlawful for the owner, agent, lessee, receiver or operator of any mine in this state to employ any person or persons in said mine for the purpose of working therein, unless there are in connection with every seam or stratum of coal or ore worked in such mine not less than two openings or outlets, separated by a stratum of not less than one hundred and fifty feet at surface and not less than thirty feet at any place, at which openings or outlets, safe and distinct means of ingress and egress, shall, at all times, be available for the persons employed in such mine. The escapement shafts or slopes shall be fitted with safe and available appliances, by which the employés of the mine may readily escape in case of accident. In slopes used as haulage roads, where the dip or incline is ten degrees or more, there must be provided a separate traveling way, which shall be maintained in a safe condition for travel, and kept free from dangerous gases. (Acts 1903, p. 103.)

Art. 1593. Time for completing escapement shaft.—The time which shall be allowed for completing such escapement shaft or opening as is required by the terms of this chapter, shall be: For mines already opened, one year for sinking any shaft or slope two hundred feet or less in depth, and one additional year, or pro rata portion thereof, for every additional two hundred feet or fraction thereof; but, for mines which shall be opened after the taking effect of this chapter, the time allowed shall be two years for all shafts or slopes more than two hundred feet in depth, and one year for all shafts two hundred feet in depth or less; and the time shall be reckoned in all cases from the date on which coal or ore is first hoisted from the original shaft or slope, for sale or use. (Id. p. 103.)

Art. 1594. Shafts, cages and passways, constructed, how.—Any shaft in process of sinking, and any opening projected for the purpose of mining coal of all kinds, shall be subjected to the provisions of this chapter.

At the bottom of every shaft and every caging place therein, a safe, commodious passageway must be cut around said landing place, to serve as a traveling way by which employés shall pass from one side of the shaft to the other, without passing under or near the cage.

The upper and lower landings at the top of each shaft, and the openings of each intermediate seam from or to the shaft, shall be clear and free from loose materials, and shall be securely fenced with automatic or other gates or bars, so as to prevent either men or materials from falling into the shaft.

Every hoisting shaft must be equipped with substantial cages fitted to guide rails running from the top to the bottom. Said cages must be safely constructed, they must be furnished with suitable boiler iron covers to protect persons riding thereon from falling objects, and they must be equipped with safety catches. Every cage on which people are carried must be fitted with iron bars, rings, or chains in proper place and in sufficient number to furnish a secure handhold for every person permitted to ride thereon. At the top landing, cage supports, where necessary, must be carefully set and adjusted so as to work properly, and securely hold the cages when at rest.

In all cases where the human voice cannot be distinctly heard, there shall be provided a metal tube or telephone from the top to the bottom of the shaft or slope through which conversation may be held between persons at the bottom and top of such shaft or slope, and that there shall also be maintained an efficient system of signaling to and from the top of the shaft or slope and each seam or opening.

Every underground place on which persons travel, worked by self-acting engines, windlasses or machinery of any description, shall be provided with practical means of signaling between the stopping places and the ends of the plane, and shall further be provided, at intervals of not more than sixty feet, with sufficient manholes for places of refuge.

Every mine shall be supplied with props and timbers of suitable length and size; and, if from any cause the timbers are not supplied when required, the miners shall vacate any and all such working places until supplied with timber needed.

All openings, worked out or abandoned portions of every operated mine likely to accumulate explosive gases or dangerous conditions shall be securely gobbed and blocked off from the operated portions thereof, so as to protect every person working in such mines from all danger that may be caused or produced by such worked out portions of such mines. (Acts 1907, p. 331.)

Art. 1595. Current of fresh air shall be maintained throughout mine.—(a) Throughout every mine there shall be maintained currents of fresh air sufficient for the health and safety of all men and animals employed therein; and such ventilation shall be produced by a fan or some other artificial means; provided, a furnace shall not be used for ventilating any mine in which explosive gases are generated.

(b) The quantity of air required to be kept in circulation and passing a given point shall be not less than one hundred cubic feet per minute for each person, and not less than three hundred cubic feet per minute for each animal in the mine, measured at the foot of the downcast; and this quantity may be increased at the discretion of the inspector, whenever, in his judgment, unusual conditions make a stronger current necessary. Said current shall be forced into every working place throughout the mine, so that all parts of the same shall be reasonably free from standing powder smoke and deleterious air of any kind.

(c) The measurement of the current of air shall be taken with an anemometer at the foot of the downcast, at the foot of the upcast, and at the working face of each division or split of the air current.

(d) The main current of air shall be split or subdivided as to provide a separate current of reasonably pure air to every one hundred men at work; and the inspector shall have authority to order separate currents for smaller groups of men, if in his judgment special conditions make it necessary.

(e) The air current for ventilating the stable shall not pass into the intake air current for ventilating the working parts of the mine.

(f) Whenever the inspector shall find men working without sufficient air, he shall at once give the mine manager or operator notice and a reasonable time in which to restore the current, and, upon his or their refusal or neglect to act promptly, the inspector may order the endangered men out of the mine. (Id. p. 332.)

Art. 1596. Appearance of fire damp, notice to be given.—Immediate notice must be conveyed by the miner or mine owner to the inspector, upon the appearance of any large body of fire damp in any mine, whether accompanied by any explosion or not, and upon the concurrence of any serious fire within the mine or on the surface. (Id. p. 333.)

Art. 1597. Cages on which men are riding, how constructed, speed of.—Cages on which men are riding shall not be lifted or lowered at a rate greater than six hundred feet per minute, except with the written consent of the inspector. No person shall carry any tools or material with him on a cage in motion, except for use in making repairs; and no one shall ride on a cage while the other cage contains a loaded car. No cage, having an unstable or self-dumping platform, shall be used for the carriage of men or materials, unless the same is provided with some convenient device, by which said platform can be securely locked, and unless it is so locked whenever men or material are being conveyed thereon. (Id. p. 333.)

Art. 1598. Powder in mine, how carried.—No miner or other person shall carry powder into the mine, except in the original keg or in a regulation powder can, securely fastened, and the can in otherwise air tight condition. (Id., p. 333.)

Art. 1599. Cut-throughs, how made.—It shall be the duty of the mine foreman to see that proper cut-throughs are made in all the pillars at such distances as in the judgment of the mine inspector may be deemed requisite, not more than twenty yards nor less than ten yards apart, for the purpose of ventilation; and the ventilation shall be conducted through said cut-throughs into the rooms and entries by means of check doors made of canvas or other material, placed on the entries or in other suitable places; and he shall not permit any room to be opened in advance of the ventilating current. Should the mine inspector discover any room, entry, airway or other working place being driven in advance of the air current contrary to the requirements of this article, he shall order the workmen in such places to cease work at once until the law is complied with. (Id., p. 333.)

Art. 1600. Safety lamps to be kept when necessary.—At any mine where the inspector shall find fire damp is being generated so as to require the use of a safety lamp in any part thereof, the operator of such mine, upon receiving notice from the inspector that one or more such lamps are necessary for the safety of the men in the mines, shall at once procure and keep for use such number of safety lamps as may be necessary. (Id., p. 334.)

Art. 1601. Shaft, safety lamp, etc., shall not be injured.—It shall be unlawful for any miner, workman or other person, knowingly or carelessly, to injure any shaft, safety lamp, instrument, air-course or brattice or to obstruct or throw open an air-way, or to carry any open lamp or lighted pipe or fire in any form into a place worked by the light of safety lamps, or within three feet of any open powder, or to handle or disturb any part of the hoisting machinery, or to enter any part of the mine against caution, or to do any wilful act whereby the lives or health of persons working in mines, or the security of the mine machinery thereof, is endangered. (Id., p. 334.)

Art. 1602. Rules printed in English shall be posted.—It shall be the duty of every operator to post on the engine house and at the pit top of his mine, in such manner that the employés of the mine can read them, rules not inconsistent with this chapter, plainly printed in the English language, which shall govern all persons working in the mine. And the posting of such notice, as provided, shall charge all employés of such mine with legal notice of the contents thereof. (Id., p. 334.)

Art. 1603. Adequate and accurate scales shall be provided.—The owner or operator of every mine shall provide adequate and accurate scales for weighing coal; and it shall be the duty of the mine inspector to examine such scales, and, if same are not found to be accurate, he shall notify the owner to repair same; and, if such owner fails or refuses to repair same within a reasonable time, said inspector shall institute proceedings under the law against the proper parties. (Id., p. 334.)

Art. 1604. Employés shall have right to employ check weighman.—The employés in any mine in this state shall have the right to employ a check weighman at their own option and their own expense. (Id., p. 334.)

Art. 1605. Kind of oil to be used in mine.—No miner or other person employed in a mine shall use any kind of oil other than a good quality of lard oil for lighting purposes, except when repairing downcast or upcast shafts. (Id., p. 334.)

Art. 1606. Any person violating any of the provisions hereof, penalty.—Any person who shall wilfully violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months. (Id., p. 334.)

Art. 1606a. Electric wires to be insulated; trolley wires, how placed.—From and after September 1, 1911, in all mines in this State where electricity is or hereafter shall be used as a part of the system, power or means of mining and procuring the coal or other mineral from any of said mines, that the owners or operators of every such mine shall cause all wires conducting electricity in and about said mine to be carefully and thoroughly insulated or protected in a safe manner, so that the person or animals coming in contact therewith shall not be injured thereby; all wires as aforesaid shall either be thoroughly insulated or placed where persons employed in and about the mines can not come in contact therewith, or shall be covered, protected or shielded in a safe manner, so as to prevent any injuries or accidents therefrom to those in or about the mines; provided, however, it shall not be necessary to insulate or cover trolley wires, but they shall all be hung and kept not less than five feet and six inches above the rail, and shall be securely fastened, and not permitted to sag less than said height. Where there is sufficient height in existing entries to permit this, but where sufficient height is not available in existing entries, then the trolley wires shall be placed to one side of the entry, six inches outside the rail; and in all such cases the trolley wire shall be placed on the side of the entry opposite from the working rooms, except where there are rooms on both sides of the entry, in which event, the trolley wires may be placed over the opening of said rooms, said trolley wires to be safely shielded; provided, where it is impracticable in existing entries to place trolley wires six inches outside of the rail, or five feet, six inches high, and where separate travel way is not provided, then the trolley wire shall be safely shielded; and it is further provided that this Act shall not apply to entries that are not used as travel ways for workmen or work animals; provided, however, that this Section shall not apply to mines in operation in this State on January 1, 1902, and prior thereto, and which have developed until there is at least two thousand (2000) feet distance from the shaft to the face of the coal being operated except as to extensions of trolley wires made and to be made after January 1,

It shall be brought up to date at least once each month, covering operations for the preceding month. The original of said map shall be on file at the office of the operator at or near said mine. Said map shall be extended or brought up to date at any time requested by the State Mine Inspector, at least every three months, if, for any reason, a mine should be closed, then a final map shall be made and filed; provided, however, that maps existing on the date of the passage of this Act may be continued on the same scale as begun, if not smaller than one-half inch to one hundred feet. (Id. sec. 4.)

All feed, hay, grass, cane, etc., except corn, corn chops, bran and shelled oats, shall not be taken down the hoisting shaft until after the regular day shift is out of the mine.

It is further provided that no open light shall be taken into any underground stable by any person.

It is further provided that not over twenty-four (24) hours' supply of hay, grass or cane, or any other kind of inflammable stock food, except corn, corn chops, bran and shelled oats, shall be taken down in any one day. (Id., sec. 2a.)

Such building shall be provided with proper light and heat, with a supply of hot and cold water and shower baths, and with properly constructed individual lockers for the use of such employés. The employés shall furnish their own towels, soap and locks for their lockers, and shall exercise control over and be responsible for all property by them left in such house. CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

PENITENTIARIES—CONTROL AND TREATMENT OF PRISONERS

Art. 1607. Prison commission created.—The management and control of the prison system of the state of Texas shall be vested in a board, to be known as the board of prison commissioners, and, for the purposes of this chapter, shall be referred to as the prison commission. Said board of prison commissioners shall be composed of three men, to be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, whose term of office shall be two years from date of appointment, except those first appointed under this chapter, who shall hold their offices, respectively, for eight, sixteen and twenty-four months from the date of their appointment and qualification. (Acts 1910, S. S. p. 143.)

Art. 1607a. Constitution and tenure of commission.—The Board of Prison Commissioners charged by law with the control and management of the State prisons, shall be composed of three members appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate, and whose terms of office shall be six years, or until their successors are appointed and qualified; provided that the terms of office of the Board of Prison Commissioners first appointed after the adoption of this amendment shall begin on January 20th of the year following the adoption of this amendment, and shall hold office as follows: One shall serve two years, one four years, and one six years. Their terms to be decided by lot after they shall have qualified, and one Prison Commissioner shall be appointed every two years thereafter. In case of a vacancy in said office the Governor of this State shall fill said vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term thereof. (Const. art. 16, § 58, adopted Nov. 5, 1912.)

Art. 1608. Commission charged with direction of state prison system and care, etc., of prisoners.—The prison commission shall be vested with the exclusive management and control of the prison system of this state, and shall be held responsible for the proper care, treatment, feeding, clothing and management of the prisoners confined therein, and at all times for the faithful enforcement of the spirit, intent and purpose of the laws and rules governing said system; provided, that the prison commission shall be held responsible for maltreatment of prisoners, and, if permitted, it shall be grounds for removal from office. (Acts 1910, S. S. p. 145.)

Art. 1609. Commission to classify prisoners into three classes and each class into three grades.—The prison commission shall provide for the classification of all prisoners, separating them into the following classes: In the first class shall be included young men, first offenders, those appearing to be corrigible, or less vicious than others, and likely to observe the laws, and to maintain themselves by honest industry after their discharge. In the second class shall be included those appearing to be less corrigible, or more vicious, but content to work and reasonably obedient to prison discipline as not to seriously interfere with the productiveness of their labor, or with the labor or conduct of those with whom they may be employed. In the third class shall be included those appearing to be incorrigible or so insubordinate or so vicious in their nature as to seriously interfere with the labor and moral development of those with whom they must come in contact.

The prison commission shall make rules and regulations for the promotion and reduction of the prisoners from one class to another, and shall transfer them from one class to another from time to time, as they may seem to merit promotion or reduction.

The prisoners in each of the classes hereinbefore named, shall be kept in, or upon different or separate prisons or farms. Any prisoner, upon entering the prison system, shall be assigned to one of its institutions according to his class, as hereinbefore provided, and shall be entered in said institution in a neutral grade, which shall be known as grade No. 2, and in which he shall be furnished with a suitable uniform designated for that grade. The prison commission shall adopt rules for a higher grade which shall be known as grade No. 1, as a reward for obedience to prison discipline and good conduct, and shall provide a suitable uniform for this grade; and they shall provide for a lower grade as a punishment for misconduct and violation of prison discipline, which grade shall be known as No. 3, and in which the prisoner shall be clothed in stripes. The uniforms for grades Nos. 1 and 2 shall not be stripes. The prison commission shall provide rules for promotion of prisoners from any grade to another for good conduct and obedience to prison discipline, and for demotion of prisoners for misconduct and violation of prison discipline. The prison commission shall provide specifically for the extension or denial of privileges for the various grades herein provided. (Id. p. 151.)

Art. 1610. Penalty for excessive whipping of refractory prisoners.—The prison commission may adopt such modes of punishment as may be necessary, such punishment being always humane, and placing prisoners in stocks, shall be prohibited. Whipping with not exceeding twenty lashes on the bare rump and thighs may be resorted to with prisoners of the third class, who can not be made to observe the rules by milder methods of punishment. The strap to be used must be of leather, not over two and one-half inches wide, and twenty-four inches long, attached to a wooden handle; no convict shall be whipped until same has been authorized by at least two members of the prison commission upon their written order; and such order so issued shall be executed only in the presence of a prison physician; and a sworn report shall be made by the officer executing such order to the penitentiary commission, who shall keep a record of all such reports in a well bound book to be kept for that purpose, which shall be at all times open to public inspection; and such report, so to be made by such officer executing the order of the prison commission, shall state the name of the convict whipped, the number of strokes administered, the size of the strap used, the time and place thereof, in whose presence same was done, and the cause thereof. It shall further be the duty of the prison commission to make a semi-annual report of the whipping of convicts to the district judge of the county where such whipping occurred, who shall report same to the grand jury, which is hereby authorized to make investigation thereof, if they deem same advisable. The utmost care must be used by the officer executing the order of the commission not to break the skin of the prisoner whipped; and any person guilty of whipping a prisoner more lashes, or other than as provided herein, or striking a prisoner, except in self-defense, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, and imprisoned in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than six months. White and negro prisoners shall not be worked together when it can be avoided, and shall be kept separate when not at work. (Id. p. 152.)

Art. 1611. Penalty for misapplication of money of prisoners by officers, etc., of prison.—Prisoners, when received into the penitentiary, shall be carefully searched. If money be found on the person of the prisoner, or received by him at any time, it shall be taken in charge by the prison commission and placed to the prisoner's credit, and expended for the prisoner's benefit on his written order, and under such restrictions as may be prescribed by law or the rules. Any officer or employé, having charge of a prisoner's money, who misappropriates the same or any part thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be confined in the penitentiary for a term of not more than five years. (Id. p. 156.)

Art. 1612. Duties of officers, etc., on decease of prisoner, and penalty for failure to perform.—If any prisoner shall die while in prison, the officer in charge of the prisoner at the time of his death shall immediately report the same to the prison commission, and, if he knows the address or place of residence of any relative within the third degree, either by consanguinity or affinity, shall also notify by wire said relative of the death of such prisoner, and, if the relative of such prisoner claim the body or will take charge of same, then the body of such prisoner shall be turned over to such relative; and the expense of shipping the body to where it is to be buried, provided it is within this state, shall be paid by the prison commission out of any available penitentiary funds on hand, upon the request of such relative. If the residence and address of the relative of such prisoner is unknown, such prisoner shall be decently buried in citizen's clothes, and the grave marked by a stone with the name of said prisoner, date of death and age, if known, inscribed thereon. If the body of such prisoner is not claimed by the relatives, the prison commission shall at once notify the county judge of the county from which the prisoner was sentenced, of his death, the date and cause of death and place of burial. The prison commission shall cause to be made and kept a record of the deaths of prisoners, and certified copies of same, made by the custodian thereof, shall be admissible in evidence under the rules of law applying to official records. Any officer or employé of the prison system of whom any duties are required by this article, who shall fail to discharge such duties, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars.
