(e) It shall be unlawful for any motor bus company to sell any tickets for the transportation of passengers within this State over any motor bus line at any rates other than the rates authorized and approved by the Commission under the terms of this law; and it shall be unlawful for any booking agency or brokerage concern, directly or indirectly, to sell tickets for the transportation of passengers over any motor bus line, and no motor bus company shall honor any ticket, or transport any passenger on any ticket so sold by any booking agency or brokerage concern.

(f) The Commission in prescribing and adopting routes and dealing with all other matters affecting the physical operation and control of motor bus companies over the public highways, under the power and authority of this Act, shall give due and proper consideration in forming its conclusions, and prescribing its orders and regulations to the general highway laws of this State, and to the orders, regulations, ordinances, or recommendations of the Highway Commission of Texas, or the Commissioners' Courts of any county or counties, or the local government of any municipality, through or between which the routes for such motor bus companies are prescribed and adopted.

Application for Certificate or Permit; Temporary Permits

Sec. 5. No motor-bus company shall hereafter regularly operate for the transportation of persons as passengers for compensation or hire over the public highways of this State without first having obtained from the Commission under the provisions of this Act a certificate or permit declaring that the public convenience and necessity require such operation; provided, however, that when it appears to the satisfaction of the Commission that any motor-bus company making application for a certificate or permit is operating and has been continuously operating a motor-propelled passenger vehicle service in good faith, over the particular highways designated in said application for certificate or permit, for a period commencing January 11th, 1927, or prior thereto, said motor-bus company, shall upon application be granted a temporary permit to operate just as said company shall have been operating during said period and no more; said temporary certificate or permit shall become permanent without notice and hearing before the Commission unless a protest shall be filed with the Commission as provided herein; and in the event protest is filed to the application of such motor-bus company then said temporary certificate or permit shall continue in effect until said application and protest is heard and decided upon by the Commission, and said hearing and decision shall be had and rendered by the Commission as speedily as possible.

At any time within thirty days after the day this Act shall take effect anyone affected by the granting of said certificate or permit may file with the Commission, a protest against said certificate or permit becoming or being made permanent, but such protest to be considered by the Commission must be filed within the specified thirty days and shall be in writing, and the author or authors of said protest shall supply the applying motor-bus company with a copy of same, setting forth in reasonable detail the reasons for said protest. In the event of protest to any application of any existing motor-bus company, hearing upon such application and protest shall be had and decision rendered as provided for all other applications.

In all other matters the holders of temporary or permanent certificates or permits obtained in this manner shall be subject to all of the provisions of this Act.

Any right, privilege, permit, or certificate held, owned or obtained by any motor-bus company under the provisions of this Act may be sold, assigned, leased or transferred, or inherited; provided, however, that any proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer shall be first presented in writing to the Commission for its approval or disapproval and the Commission may disapprove such proposed sale, assignment, lease, or transfer if it be found and determined by the Commission that such proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer is not made in good faith or that the proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee or transferee is not able or capable of continuing the operation of the equipment proposed to be sold, assigned, leased or transferred, in such manner as to render the service demanded by the public necessity and convenience on and along the designated route.

Provided, however, that any right, privilege, permit or certificate held, owned or obtained by any Motor Bus Company under the provisions of this Act or owned or obtained by any assignee or transferee of any such Motor Bus Company shall be taken and held subject to the right of the State at any time to limit, restrict or forbid the use of the Streets and Highways of this State to any owner or holder of such right, privilege, permit or certificate.

Commission to Determine Necessity for Service

Sec. 6. The Commission is hereby vested with power and authority, and it is hereby made its duty upon the filing of an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, to ascertain and determine under such rules and regulations as it may promulgate, after considering existing transportation facilities on such highway, the service rendered and capable of being rendered thereby, and the demand for, or need of additional service, if there exists a public necessity for such service, and if public convenience will be promoted by granting said application and permitting the operating of motor vehicles on the highways designated in such application, as a common carrier for hire.

Interference With General Use of Highways; Refusal Because of Existing Railroad Transportation

Sec. 7. The Commission shall also ascertain and determine if a particular highway or highways designated in said application are of such type of construction or in such state of repair, or subject to such use as to permit of the use sought to be made by the applicant, without unreasonable interference with the use of such highway or highways by the general public for highway purposes. And if the Commission shall determine, after hearing that the service rendered or capable of being rendered by existing transportation facilities or agencies on such highways is reasonably adequate, or that public convenience on such highways would not be promoted by granting of said application and the operation of motor vehicles on the public highways therein designated, or that such highway or highways are not in such state of repair, or are already subject to such use as would not permit of the use sought to be made by the applicant without unreasonable interference with the use of such highway or highways by the general public for highway purposes, then in either or any of such event said application may be denied and said certificate refused, otherwise the application shall be granted and the certificate issued upon such terms and conditions as said Commission may impose and subject to such rules and regulations as it may thereafter prescribe.

The Railroad Commission shall have no power in any event to refuse an application for a certificate of convenience and necessity on the ground that there are existing railroad or interurban railroad transportation facilities sufficient to serve the transportation needs of the territory involved.

In determining whether or not a certificate should be issued, the Commission shall give weight and due regard to (1) probably permanence and quality of the service offered by the applicant, (2) the financial ability and responsibility of the applicant and its organization and personnel (3) the character of vehicles and the character and location of depots or termini proposed to be used, and (4) the experience of the applicant in the transportation of passengers and the character of the bond or insurance proposed to be given to insure the protection of its passengers and the public.

The Commission shall have the power and authority to grant temporary certificates to meet emergencies and shall have the power to make special rules and regulations to meet special conditions in different localities and for such time as in its judgment may be deemed expedient and best for the public welfare.

Contents of Application

Sec. 8. No application for certificate shall be considered by said Commission except that it shall be reduced to writing and set forth the following facts:

(a) It shall contain the name and address of the applicant, and the names and addresses of its officers, if any, and shall give full information concerning the financial condition and physical properties of the applicant.

(b) The complete route or routes over which the applicant desires to operate, together with a brief description of each vehicle which the applicant intends to use, including the seating capacity thereof.

(c) A proposed time schedule and a schedule of rates showing the passenger fares to be charged between the several points or localities to be served.

(d) It shall be accompanied by a plat or map showing the route or routes over which the applicant desires to operate, on which plat or map shall be delineated the line or lines of any existing transportation company or companies over the highways serving such territory, with the names and addresses of the owner or owners thereof, and shall point out the inadequacy of existing transportation facilities or service, and shall specify wherein additional facilities or service are required and would be secured by the granting of said application.

(e) Every application for a certificate of convenience and necessity shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars, which fee shall be in addition to other fees and taxes, and such fees shall be retained by the Commission whether the certificate of convenience and necessity be granted or not.

(f) Every application filed with the Commission for an order approving the lease, sale, or transfer of any certificate of convenience and necessity, or stock of any corporation owning or controlling a "motor bus company" shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars, which fee shall be in addition to the other fees and taxes, and shall be retained by the Commission whether the lease, sale, or transfer of the certificate of convenience and necessity, or stock of any corporation owning or controlling a "motor bus company" is approved or not, such fee to be paid by the purchaser.

(g) No stock of any corporation owning and operating any "motor bus company" shall be sold or transferred without first securing the approval of the Commission as provided for certificates of convenience and necessity, in Section 5 of House Bill No. 50, the same being Chapter 270 of the Acts of the Regular Session of the 40th Legislature of the State of Texas, 1927,¹ and this paragraph shall be cumulative of that section, provided that the provisions of this subsection shall apply only to those cases where the proposed sale will change the controlling interest in such motor bus company.

Hearing on Application at Austin; Notice

Sec. 9. Upon the filing of said application the Commission shall fix a time and place for hearing, and the place of hearing shall be the city of Austin, Texas, unless otherwise ordered by said Commission. Notice of the filing of said application, and the time and place of hearing shall be given by mail not less than ten days exclusive of the day of mailing before such hearing, addressed to the owner or owners of existing transportation facilities over the highways, serving such territory as applicant seeks to serve, as well as to the Highway Commission of the State of Texas, the County Judge or Judges of the Counties and to the Mayor of any incorporated city or town, through which such motor carriers seek to operate.

Appearance by Parties Including Highway Commission; Suspension or Revocation of Certificate

Sec. 10. The hearing shall be conducted under such rules and regulations as the Commission may prescribe, and all parties interested, including the Highway Commission of this State, may appear either in person or by counsel, and present such evidence and argument as they may desire and as the Commission may deem pertinent, in favor of or against the granting of said application. It shall be the duty of the Highway Commission of this State, upon the request of the Commission to furnish any and all information that it has at its command relating to the highway or highways designated in such application as well as such other information as said Commission may deem pertinent to the granting or refusal of such application. After such hearing, and such investigation as the Commission may make of its own motion, it shall be the duty of said Commission to either refuse said application and certificate, or to grant said application and issue said certificate, in whole or in part, upon such terms and conditions it may impose, and subject to such rules and regulations as it may thereafter prescribe.

The Commission, at any time by its order duly entered after hearing had upon notice to the holder of any certificate granted under this Act and an opportunity given such holder to be heard, at which hearing it shall be proven to the satisfaction of the Commission that such certificate holder has discontinued operation or has violated or refused or neglected to observe any of its proper orders, rates, fares, rules, or regulations, may suspend, revoke, alter or amend any certificate issued under the provisions of this Act, provided that the holder of such certificate shall have the right of appeal as provided herein. The Commission may place on probation a person whose certificate has been suspended, but if the Commission does place the certificate holder on probation and does allow him to continue to operate, the fact that the certificate has been suspended and the certificate holder has been put on probation shall appear in the records of the Commission relating to the suspension and probation.

Liability and Property Damage Insurance; Protection of Employees

Sec. 11. The Commission shall, in the granting of any certificate to any motor bus company for regularly transporting persons as passengers for compensation or hire, require the owner or operator to first procure liability and property damage insurance from a company licensed to make and issue such insurance policy in the State of Texas covering each and every motor propelled vehicle while actually being operated by such applicant. The amount of such policy or policies of insurance shall be fixed by the Commission by general order or otherwise, and the terms and conditions of said policy or policies covering said motor vehicle are to be such as to indemnify the applicant against loss by reason of any personal injury to any person or loss or damage to the property of any person other than the assured and his employees. Such policy or policies shall furthermore provide that the insurer will pay all judgments which may be recovered against the insured motor bus company based on claims for loss or damage from personal injury or loss of or injury to property occurring during the term of the said policy or policies and arising out of the actual operation of such motor bus or busses, and such policy or policies shall also provide for successive recoveries to the complete exhaustion of the face amount thereof, and that such judgment will be paid by the insurer irrespective of the solvency or insolvency of the insured. Such liability and property damage insurance as required by the Commission shall be continuously maintained in force on each and every motor propelled vehicle while being operated in common carrier service. In addition to the insurance hereinabove set forth, the owner or operator shall also protect his employees by taking out workmen's compensation insurance either as provided by the Workmen's Compensation Laws of the State of Texas or in a reliable insurance company approved by the Railroad Commission of the State of Texas. The taking out of such indemnity policy or policies shall be a condition precedent to any operation and such policy or policies as required under this Act, shall be approved and filed with the Commission and failure to file and keep such policy or policies in force and effect as provided herein shall be cause for the revocation of the certificate and shall subject the motor bus company so failing to the penalties prescribed herein.

Cab Cards and Identifying Marks

Sec. 11-A. (a) It shall be unlawful for any motor bus company, as hereinbefore defined, to operate any motor bus within this State unless there shall be in the cab of the motor bus a cab card to be furnished by the Commission. The cab card shall be so designed as to identify the vehicle as being a motor bus authorized to operate under the terms of this law, and the rules and regulations of the Commission, and shall bear the certificate number, vehicle unit number, and permanent vehicle identification number. Cab cards shall be issued annually and placed in the cab of each motor bus not later than September first of each year. The Commission is authorized to collect from the applicant a fee of One ($1.00) Dollar for each cab card issued and said fee shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the "Motor Transportation Fund."

(b) A motor bus covered by this section must have in a conspicuous place on each side of the power unit in plainly legible print the name of the carrier, the unit number of the vehicle, and the number of the certificate or permit authorizing the service. These identifying marks must be in letters and numbers not less than two (2) inches in height and one-fourth (1/4) inch in width.

Commission to Hear Applications and Complaints Presented; Attendance of Witnesses

Sec. 12. The Commission shall have the power and authority under this Act to hear and determine all applications of motor-bus companies; to determine complaints presented to it by motor-bus companies, by any public official or by any citizen having an interest in the subject matter of the complaint, or it may institute and investigate any matter pertaining to automobile passenger transportation for compensation or hire upon its own motion. The Commission or any member thereof, or authorized representative of the Commission, shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, swear witnesses, take their testimony under oath, make record thereof, and if such record is made under the direction of a Commissioner, or authorized representative of the Commission a majority of the Commission may upon the record render judgment as if the case had been heard before a majority of the members of the Commission. The Commission shall have the power and authority under this Act to do and perform all necessary things to carry out the purpose, intent, and provisions of this Act, whether herein specifically mentioned or not, and to that end may hold hearings at any place in Texas which it may designate.

Per Diem and Mileage of Witnesses

Sec. 13. Each witness who shall be summoned to appear before the Commission or a Commissioner or authorized representative outside the county of his residence shall receive for his attendance the same per diem and fees as now provided for witnesses in attendance on district courts of this State in criminal cases; such fees and mileage shall be ordered paid upon proper voucher, sworn to by such witness and approved by the Commission or the Chairman thereof, out of the monies and funds arising under this Act; provided that no witness shall be entitled to any witness fees or mileage who is directly or indirectly interested in any motorbus or other transportation company involved in or concerning which the investigation or hearing on account of which he is called shall relate, and no witness furnished with free transportation shall receive pay for the distance he may have traveled on such free transportation. All process issued by the Commission for summoning witnesses or other purposes shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of any county in the State of Texas and any sheriff or constable of any county in this State shall promptly execute any subpoena or other document directed to him by the Commission and shall receive such fees for this service as is now paid for like services in the district courts of this State, such payment to be made on accounts properly verified and approved by the Commission or the Chairman thereof out of the fund provided in this Act.

Penalty for Violation of Act

Sec. 14. (a) Any officer, agent, servant, or employee of any corporation and every other person who violates or fails to comply with, or who procures, aids, or abets in the violation of any provisions of this Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and the violations occurring on each day shall each constitute a separate offense.

(b) Any officer, agent, servant, or employee of any motor bus company as heretofore defined, and any motor bus company, as heretofore defined and/or the owner or operator, officer, servant, agent or employee, or any such owner or operator of any bus terminal who violates or fails to obey, observe or comply with any order, decision, rule or regulation, direction, demand or requirement of the Commission shall be subject to and shall pay a penalty not exceeding Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, for each and every day of such violation. Such Penalty to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction in Travis County, Texas, or in the County in which the violation occurs. Suit for such penalty or penalties shall be instituted and conducted by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, or by the county or district attorney of the county in which the violation occurs, in the name of the State of Texas, and by direction of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

(c) Upon the violation of any provisions of this Chapter, or upon the violation of any rule, regulation, order or decree of the Commission, promulgated under the terms of this Act, any district court of Travis County, Texas, or any district court of any county where such violation occurs, shall have the power to restrain and enjoin the person, firm or corporation so offending from further violating the provisions of this Act, or from violating the rules, regulations, orders and decrees of the Commission. Such injunctive relief may be granted upon the application of the Commission, or upon the application of any person authorized by it to act, or upon the application of any "motor bus company" holding a certificate of convenience and necessity over the route affected, and against any "motor bus company" violating the provisions of this Act and not holding a certificate over such route and attempting to operate or operating over said route. Such relief may be granted in suits for penalties as provided in sub-division (b) of this Section, but a suit for penalty shall not be a condition precedent to the injunctive relief provided by this Section.

(d) Any authorized inspector for the Commission shall have the power and authority to make arrests for the violation of this Act, coming under his observation, but such authority to make arrests shall be confined solely to the violations of this Act, provided, further that it shall be the duty of all law enforcement officers of this State to enforce the provisions of this Act.

Minimum Bus Fees; Payment to State Treasurer

Sec. 15. For the purpose of defraying the expense of administering this Act, every motor bus company now operating, or which shall hereafter operate in this State, shall, in addition to other fees and charges provided for by law, at the time of the issuance of a certificate of convenience and necessity, as provided herein, and annually thereafter pay a special minimum fee of Ten Dollars ($10) for each motor-propelled vehicle, and a further fee, computed on the basis of One Dollar ($1) per passenger seat for the rated passenger capacity of the vehicle, or vehicles used.

If the certificate of convenience and necessity herein referred to is issued after the month established for registration, the fees paid shall be proportionate to the remaining portion of the registration year, but in no case less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) the annual fee. In case of emergencies or unusual temporary demands for transportation, the fee for additional motor-propelled vehicles for less periods shall be fixed by the Commission in such reasonable amount as may be prescribed by general rule or temporary order.

All fees accruing hereunder and all fines and penalties collected under the provisions of this Act shall be payable to the State Treasurer at Austin, Texas, and shall, by the State Treasurer, be deposited in the State Treasury at Austin and credited to the General Revenue Fund.

The Commission, by rule, may adopt a system under which fees become due on various dates during the year. In the year in which the registration expiration date is changed, the fees payable under the existing system shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each registrant shall pay only that portion of the fee that is allocable to the number of months during which the registration is valid. On renewal of the registration on the new expiration date, the total registration renewal fee is payable.

Review of Decisions of Commission by District Court, Travis County

Sec. 17. If any such auto transportation company, association, corporation, or other party at interest be dissatisfied with any decision, rate, charge, rule, order, act, or regulation adopted by the Commission, such dissatisfied person, association, corporation, or party may file a petition setting forth the particular objection to such decision, rate, charge, rule, order, act, or regulation, or to either or all of them in the district court in Travis County, Texas, against said Commission as defendant. Said action shall have precedence over all other causes on the docket of a different nature and shall be tried and determined as other civil causes in a said court; either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending; provided, that if the court be in session at the time such right of action accrues the suit may be filed during such term and stand ready for trial after ten days notice. In all trials under this section the burden of proof shall rest upon the plaintiff who must show by the preponderance of evidence that the decisions, rates, regulations, rules, orders, classifications, acts, or charges complained of are unreasonable and unjust to it or them. The Commission shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder and no injunction shall be granted against any order of the Commission without hearing unless it shall clearly appear that irreparable injury will be done the complaining party if the injunction is not granted.

Ten Days as Reasonable Notice

Sec. 18. Whenever notice is required in this Act to be given ten days exclusive of the day of service and return shall be considered as reasonable notice; provided, that in case of emergency the Commission may hear any cause or complaint on less than ten days notice.

Office Provided by Board of Control

Sec. 19. The State Board of Control is hereby authorized and directed to set aside such additional office space in the Capitol at Austin as may be deemed necessary by the Commission for the proper performance of its added duties as herein defined.

Construction of 1983 Amendment

Acts 1983, 68th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 13, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6, provides:

"WHEREAS, In the enrollment of that portion of H.B. 593, Acts of the 68th Legislature, Regular Session, 1983, amending Subsection (c), Section 1, Chapter 270, Acts of the 40th Legislature, Regular Session, 1927 (Article 911a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), a change was made to a statutory citation appearing in a Senate amendment to Section 14 of that bill so that the bill was made to refer to all of Chapter 114, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947, as amended (Article 46d-1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), rather than only Section 14 of that chapter; and

"WHEREAS, The intent of the Senate in adopting the amendment and the intent of the House of Representatives in concurring in the amendment was that the citation refer only to Section 14, Chapter 114, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947, as amended (Article 46d-14, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); now, therefore, be it

"RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of Texas, the House of Representatives concurring, That the Legislature intends that the citation in question refer only to Section 14, Chapter 114, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947, as amended (Article 46d-14, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and this citation shall be so construed."

Art. 911b. Motor Carriers and Regulation by Railroad Commission

Definitions

Sec. 1. When used in this Act unless expressly stated otherwise:

(a) The term "person" means and includes an individual, a firm, co-partnership, corporation, company, an association or a joint stock association.

(b) The term "Commission" means the Railroad Commission of the State of Texas.

(c) The term "Highway Commission" means the Board of Highway Commissioners of the State of Texas.

(d) The term "public highway" means every street, road or highway in this State.

(e) The term "certificate" means certificate of public convenience and necessity issued under this Act.

(f) The term "permit" means the permit issued to contract carriers under the terms of this Act.

(g) The term "motor carrier" means any person, firm, corporation, company, copartnership, association or joint stock association, and their lessees, receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, managing, operating, or causing to be operated any motor-propelled vehicle used in transporting property for compensation or hire over any public highway in this state; where in the course of such transportation a highway between two or more incorporated cities, towns or villages is traversed.

Provided, that the term "motor carrier" as used in this Act shall not include, and this Act shall not apply to motor vehicles engaged in the transportation of property for compensation or hire between points:

(1) Wholly within any one incorporated city, town or village;

(2) Wholly within an incorporated city, town or village and all areas, incorporated or unincorporated, wholly surrounded by such city, town or village;

(3) So situated that the transportation is performed wholly within an incorporated and immediately adjacent unincorporated area without operating within or through the corporate limits of more than a single incorporated city, town or village, except to the extent provided in (2) above; or

(4) Wholly within the limits of a base incorporated municipality and any number of incorporated cities, towns and villages which are immediately contiguous to said base municipality.

Provided further, that motor carriers authorized to serve any incorporated city, town or village within the areas described in (2), (3), and (4) above, except carriers of commodities in bulk in tank trucks and all specialized motor carriers, may perform service for compensation or hire between all points within the areas described in (2), (3), and (4) above, on the one hand, and, on the other, authorized points beyond such areas without a certificate or permit authorizing service at all points within such areas when such transportation is incident to, or a part of, otherwise regulated transportation performed under a through bill of lading.

Provided further, that after notice and public hearing the Railroad Commission of Texas is hereby authorized, except as to operations of carriers of commodities in bulk in tank vehicles and all specialized motor carriers, from time to time and where necessary, to define and prescribe, and where necessary shall prescribe, commercial zones adjacent to and commercially a part of any specified incorporated municipality and within which operations as a motor carrier may be performed without a certificate or permit authorizing same and within which strictly local service wholly within such commercial zone may be performed at rates and charges other than those prescribed by the Commission. The Commission in so determining and prescribing the limits of any commercial zone shall take into consideration its powers and duties otherwise to administer and enforce the Motor Carrier Act considered in the light of the economic facts and conditions involved in each commercial zone or proposed commercial zone, particularly the effect that unregulated transportation for compensation or hire within such zone or proposed zone has had or may have upon fully regulated motor carriers operating in regulated intrastate commerce to, from and within such commercial zone. The Railroad Commission is empowered to prescribe such rules and regulations for operation of such transportation as the Commission deems in the public interest.

(h) The term "contract carrier" means any motor carrier as hereinabove defined transporting property for compensation or hire over any highway in this State other than as a common carrier.

(i) "Specialized motor carrier" means any person owning, controlling, managing, operating, or causing to be operated any motor-propelled vehicle used in transporting, over any public highway in this state, over irregular routes on irregular schedules, for compensation and for the general public with specialized equipment, property requiring specialized equipment in the transportation and handling thereof; provided, that the term "specialized motor carrier" as used in this Act shall not apply to motor vehicles operated exclusively within the incorporated limits of cities or towns; and, provided further, the term "specialized motor carrier" as used herein shall include those carriers who engage or desire to engage exclusively in the transportation of livestock, livestock feedstuff, agricultural products in their natural state, broom corn, grain, farm machinery, timber in its natural state, milk, wool, mohair, or property requiring specialized equipment as that term is hereinafter defined, or any one, or more, of the foregoing named commodities.

For the purpose of this Act, the term "specialized equipment" includes, but is not limited to block and tackle, hoists, cranes, windlasses, gin poles, winches, special motor vehicles, and such other devices as are necessary for the safe and proper loading or unloading of property requiring specialized equipment for the transportation and handling thereof.

For the purpose of this Act, the term "property requiring specialized equipment" is limited to (1) oil field equipment, (2) household goods and used office furniture and equipment, (3) pipe used in the construction and maintenance of water lines and pipelines, and (4) commodities which by reason of length, width, weight, height, size, or other physical characteristics require the use of special devices, facilities, or equipment for their loading, unloading, and transportation.

For the purpose of this Act, the term "oil field equipment" means and includes machinery, materials, and equipment incidental to or used in the construction, operation, and maintenance of facilities which are used for the discovery, production, and processing of natural gas and petroleum, and such machinery, materials, and equipment when used in the construction and maintenance of pipelines.

(j) The term "transporting property for compensation or hire" shall include the furnishing during the same period of time of equipment and drivers to persons, firms, co-partnerships, associations or joint stock associations other than common carriers, contract carriers, specialized motor carriers for use in their carrier operations whether the equipment and drivers are furnished by the same or separate person, firm, co-partnership, association or joint stock association, and their lessees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, managing, operating or causing to be operated any motor-propelled vehicle, provided, when the owner of a motor-propelled vehicle furnishes, by lease, the motor-propelled vehicle and is employed to operate such motor-propelled vehicle by the person to whom the equipment is furnished, and when such motor-propelled vehicle and the operator thereof are to be engaged exclusively in the transportation of sand, gravel, dirt, caliche, shell, asphalt rock, crushed stone, hot-mix asphaltic concrete (not liquid asphalt), and aggregate, in bulk, when such substances have been processed by the person to whom the equipment is furnished, and when such substances are being transported by the lessee to or from the job site of any construction project, being performed by the lessee for or on behalf of the Federal Government, the State of Texas, or any political subdivision thereof, or to or from the construction site of any national defense project, airport and roadways leading thereto, or to or from the construction site of any road, highway and expressway, the owner of the motor-propelled vehicle so furnished and so used shall not be considered engaging in transportation for compensation or hire as that term is defined.

Exceptions to Definition of Terms "Motor Carrier", "Contract Carrier" and "Transporting Property for Compensation or Hire"

Sec. 1a. (1) Provided, however, that the term "Motor Carrier" and the term "Contract Carrier" as defined in the preceding Section shall not be held to include:

(a) Any person having a regular, separate, fixed, and established place of business, other than a transportation business, where goods, wares, and merchandise are kept in stock and are primarily and regularly bought from the public or sold to the public or manufactured or processed by such person in the ordinary course of the mercantile, manufacturing, or processing business, and who, merely incidental to the operation of such business, transports over the highways of this state such goods of which such person is the bona fide owner by means of a motor vehicle of which such person is the bona fide owner; nor

(b) Any person transporting farm implements, livestock, livestock feedstuffs, dairy products, horticultural products, floral products, agricultural products, timber in its natural state, or wool and mohair of which such person is the bona fide owner on a vehicle of which he is the bona fide owner to and from the area of production and to and from the market or place of storage thereof; provided, however, if such person (other than a transportation company) has in his possession under a bona fide consignment contract livestock, wool, mohair, milk and cream, fresh fruits and vegetables, or timber in its natural state under contract, as an incident to a separate, fixed, and established business conducted by him the said possession shall be deemed ownership under this Act;

(c) Where merely incidental to a regular, separate, fixed, and established business, other than a transportation business, the transportation of employees, petroleum products, and incidental supplies used or sold in connection with the wholesale or retail sale of such petroleum products from the refinery or place of production or place of storage to the place of storage or place of sale and distribution to the ultimate consumer, in a motor vehicle owned and used exclusively by the marketer or refiner, or owned in whole or in part and used exclusively by the bona fide consignee or agent of such single marketer or refiner; as well as where merely incidental to a regular, separate, fixed, and established business, other than a transportation business, the transportation of petroleum, employees, material, supplies, and equipment for use in the departments of the petroleum business by the bona fide owner thereof in a vehicle of which he is the bona fide owner; bona fide consignee or agent as used herein being hereby defined and construed, for the purpose of this Act, to mean a person under contract with a single principal to distribute petroleum products in a limited territory and only for such single principal; nor

(d) Any utility company using its own equipment transporting its own property over the highways;

(e) Any person transporting fresh iced fish or shellfish from a coastal production-landing point to an initial packing or freezing plant located not more than seventy-five miles inland from the coast of Texas, regardless of the distance of such initial packing or freezing plant from the coastal production-landing point, and regardless of whether or not such person owns said fish or shellfish; provided, however, that such person shall have first filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas certificates of insurance covering each motor vehicle to be used in such transportation with public liability and property damage insurance in the amounts required by the Commission for motor vehicles subject to its regulation;

(f) Any person transporting fresh vegetables, fresh fruits, or flax straw from the place where produced agriculturally and harvested to a point where the fresh fruits, vegetables, or flax straw are first processed, including but not limited to packing plants, canning plants, freezing plants and fiber or straw processing plants and regardless of whether or not such person owns said fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, or flax straw, provided such transportation does not exceed a total of seventy-five (75) miles in distance, except such transportation between points in the counties of Kinney, Uvalde, Maverick, Zavala, Dimmit, Webb, Zapata, Starr, Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy, Texas; provided, however, that such person shall have first filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas certificates of insurance covering each motor vehicle to be used in such transportation with public liability and property damage insurance in the amounts required by the Commission for motor vehicles subject to its regulations.

(2) The term "person" as used in this Act shall include persons, firms, corporations, companies, co-partnerships, or associations or joint stock associations (and their receivers or trustees appointed by any Court whatsoever).

(3) The term "transporting property for compensation or hire" defined in Section 1(j) of this Act does not include furnishing of equipment and drivers during the same period of time by separate persons to a person who is not a common carrier, contract carrier, or specialized motor carrier for his use in bona fide private carriage in furtherance of a primary nontransportation business, provided that the person furnishing the equipment is in the bona fide business of leasing or renting motor vehicle equipment without drivers for compensation to the general public and has complied with the provisions of Section 2(a), (b), and (c) of Chapter 209, Acts of the 53rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1953, as amended (Article 6701c-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and provided further that said equipment is furnished under a bona fide written lease or rental agreement providing for the exclusive use and possession of said equipment for a minimum of seven consecutive days, and provided further that the person to whom the equipment and drivers are furnished directs, supervises, and controls the drivers and the use of the equipment, including maintaining all dispatch records and maintaining and filing all safety records and reports required by the United States Department of Transportation, the Texas Department of Public Safety, and the commission. The person to whom the drivers are furnished may pay the drivers' compensation or any required taxes or workman's compensation insurance payments directly to the person furnishing the drivers.

Private Motor Vehicle Owners

Sec. 1b. Any person who transports goods, wares, or merchandise under the circumstances set forth in the foregoing Section 1a so as to be excluded by the terms of said Section from the definition of "motor carrier" or "contract carrier" shall be deemed to be a private motor vehicle owner; and such use of the highways by such private motor vehicle owners, as herein defined, shall be construed as use of the highways for the general public and not the use of such highways for the carrying on the business of transporting property for compensation or hire.

Hire Transportation of Oil Field Equipment

Sec. 1c. The terms "Motor Carrier" and "Specialized Motor Carrier," as used in Section 1 of this Act, shall apply to and include all for hire transportation of oil field equipment, as defined in subdivision (i) of Section 1 of this Act, over the public highways of this State outside the corporate limits of cities or towns, irrespective of whether in the course of such transportation a highway between two (2) or more incorporated cities, towns, or villages is traversed.

The provisions of this Section 1c shall not apply to or include vehicles used exclusively in the stringing of pipe for pipelines, nor shall this Section 1c apply to or include the transportation of water, drilling mud, petroleum and petroleum products in bulk, in tank trucks, when such substances are used in connection with the servicing of oil and gas wells, unless in the course of such transportation a highway between two (2) or more incorporated cities, towns or villages is traversed.

Nothing in this Section 1c shall in anywise repeal, alter, amend or affect any of the provisions of Chapter 290, Acts, Regular Session, Forty-seventh Legislature (being Sections 1a and 1b of this Act and now codified as Sections 1a and 1b of Article 911b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Transportation of Cornish Hens or Commercial Broilers

Sec. 1d. Provided, however, that in any proceeding in which or in connection with which the Commission specifically finds that the public interest requires that specialized motor carriers of Cornish hens and/or commercial broilers or other specified special commodities should be permitted to commence new certificated operations or to perform new certificated services under existing conditions and without prior approval by the Commission of rates, fares and charges for such new service, then, in such event, and pursuant to such finding, such new certificated operations or new certificated services may be commenced and performed under existing conditions and absent prior approval by the Commission of applicable rates, fares and charges.

The term "Cornish hen" means a chicken which is approximately five weeks of age and the term "commercial broiler" means a chicken which is seven to eight weeks of age.

Wrecker Type Vehicles

Sec. 1 $\frac{1}{4}$. The term "Specialized Motor Carrier" and "Specialized Equipment" shall not include wrecker type vehicles used incidental to or as an adjunct to the carrying on of the primary business of buying, selling, exchanging, repairing, storing, servicing or wrecking motor vehicles.

Compliance With Act by Motor Carriers

Sec. 2. No motor carrier, as defined in the preceding section, shall operate any motor-propelled vehicle for the purpose of transportation or carriage of property for compensation or hire over any public highway in the State except in accordance with the provisions of this Act; provided, however, that nothing in this Act or any provision thereof shall be construed or held to in any manner affect, limit or deprive cities and towns from exercising any of the powers granted them by Chapter 147, Pages 307 to 318, inclusive of the General Laws of the State of Texas, passed by the 33rd Legislature, or any amendments thereto.

Certificate of Convenience and Necessity

Sec. 3. No motor carrier shall, after this Act goes into effect, operate as a common carrier without first having obtained from the Commission, under the provisions of this Act, a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to a finding to the effect that the public convenience and necessity require such operation. No motor carrier shall, after this Act goes into effect, operate as a contract carrier without first having obtained from the Commission a permit so to do, which permit shall not be issued until the applicant shall have in all things complied with the requirements of this Act.

Supervision and Regulation by Commission

Sec. 4. (a) The commission is hereby vested with power and authority and it is hereby made its duty to supervise and regulate the transportation of property for compensation or hire by motor vehicle on any public highway in this State, to fix, prescribe or approve the maximum or minimum or maximum and minimum rates, fares and charges of each motor carrier in accordance with the specific provisions herein contained, to prescribe all rules and regulations necessary for the government of motor carriers, to prescribe rules and regulations for the safety of operations of each of such motor carriers, to require the filing of such monthly, annual or other reports and other data of motor carriers as the Commission may deem necessary, to prescribe the schedules and services of motor carriers operating as common carriers, and to supervise and regulate motor carriers in all matters affecting the relationship between such carriers and the shipping public whether herein specifically mentioned or not. To ensure nondiscriminatory rates, charges, and classifications for all shippers and users of regulated transportation services for which the Commission prescribes rates, charges, and classifications, the Commission shall establish collective ratemaking procedures for all commodities and services for which it prescribes rates, charges, and classifications. Those procedures must assure that respective revenues and costs of carriers engaged in the transportation of the particular commodity or service for which rates are prescribed are ascertained. Failure on the part of any carrier to comply with this subsection or the rules and regulations adopted under it may result in suspension or cancellation of the carrier's operating authority by the Commission.

(c) The Commission is further authorized and empowered, and it shall be its duty, to supervise and regulate motor carriers in all matters affecting the relationship between such motor carriers and the shipping public that may be necessary in the interest of the public.

(d) The Commission is further authorized and empowered, and it shall be its duty, to supervise and regulate motor carriers in all matters whether specifically mentioned herein or not so as to carefully preserve, foster and regulate transportation and to relieve the existing and all future undue burdens on the highways arising by reason of the use of the highways by motor carriers, adjusting and administering its regulations in the interests of the public.

The Commission, in prescribing and adopting rules and regulations and in forming its conclusions and in prescribing its orders, shall invite the Highway Commission's opinion on the condition of the public highways involved and the ability of said highways to carry the existing and proposed additional traffic, and the Commission shall give due and proper consideration to the orders, regulations, ordinances or recommendations of the Highway Commission of Texas; provided, however, nothing herein contained shall be deemed to restrict the powers of the Highway Commission under existing laws. The Commission shall also give due and proper consideration to the recommendations of the Commissioners' Courts of the several Counties and to the recommendations of the local government of any municipality through or between which motor carriers operate.

(e) In enforcing motor carrier entry requirements, the Commission shall require that the applicant and the protestant make the showings otherwise required by law and the showings required by this subsection. In determining the issues of public convenience and necessity, the Commission shall give no consideration to any protestant who does not show it possesses authority to handle, in whole or in part, the traffic for which authority is sought, it is willing and able to provide service that meets the reasonable needs of the shippers involved, and it has either performed service within the geographical scope of the application during the preceding 24-month period or has, actively and in good faith, solicited service within the geographical scope of the application during such period. Also, in determining the issues of public convenience and necessity, the Commission shall give no consideration to services and facilities of motor carriers not parties to the proceeding. With respect to showing public convenience and necessity, the applicant is required to prove a prima facie case that the public convenience would be promoted and a prima facie case that a public necessity exists, and in these circumstances, the burden of proof to show that the public convenience would not be promoted or that a public necessity does not exist for the proposed service or that the existing carriers are rendering a reasonably adequate service shifts from the applicant to the opposing carrier or carriers.

Commission to Issue Certificates of Convenience and Necessity; Assignment or Sale of Certificate

Sec. 5. No motor carrier shall hereafter operate as a common carrier for the transportation of property for compensation or hire over the public highways of this State without first having obtained from the Commission, under the provisions of this Act, a certificate declaring that the public convenience and necessity requires such operation; provided, however, the Commission shall, without application or hearing when this Act goes into effect, issue all motor carriers then operating lawfully under permanent certificates of public convenience and necessity heretofore issued to them, certificates in lieu of the certificates issued under the terms of the former law covering the same routes that said common carrier shall have been operating over, and no more.

Any certificate held, owned or obtained by any motor carrier operating as a common carrier under the provisions of this Act may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred or inherited; provided, however, that any proposed sale, lease, assignment or transfer shall be first presented in writing to the Commission for its approval or disapproval, and the Commission may disapprove such proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer if it be found and determined by the Commission that such proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer is not in good faith or that the proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee or transferee is not able or capable of continuing the operation of the equipment proposed to be sold, assigned, leased or transferred in such manner as to render the services demanded by the public necessity and convenience on and along the designated route, or that said proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer is not best for the public interest; the Commission, in approving or disapproving any sale, assignment, lease or transfer of any certificate, may take into consideration all of the requirements and qualifications of a regular applicant required in this Act and apply same as necessary qualifications of any proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee or transferee; provided, however, that in case a certificate is transferred that the transferee shall pay to the Commission a sum of money equal to ten per cent (10%) of the amount paid as a consideration for the transfer of the certificate, which sum of ten per cent (10%) shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Highway Fund of the State; provided further, that any certificate obtained by any motor carrier or by any assignee or transferee shall be taken and held subject to the right of the State at any time to limit, restrict or forbid the use of the streets and highways of this State to any holder or owner of such certificate. Every application filed with the Commission for an order approving the lease, sale or transfer of any certificate of convenience and necessity shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00), which fee shall be in addition to the other fees and taxes and shall be retained by the Commission whether the lease, sale or transfer of the certificate of convenience and necessity is approved or not.

Certificates of Convenience and Necessity; Issuance to Specialized Motor Carrier; Application; Filing Fee

Sec. 5a. (a) The Commission is hereby given authority to issue upon application and hearing as provided in this Act, to those persons who desire to engage in the business of a "specialized motor carrier," certificates of convenience and necessity in the manner and under the terms and conditions as provided in this Act.

Any certificate held, owned, or obtained by any motor carrier operating as a "specialized motor carrier" under the provisions of this Act, may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred, or inherited; provided, however, that any proposed sale, lease, assignment, or transfer shall be first presented in writing to the Commission for its approval or disapproval, and the Commission may disapprove such proposed sale, assignment, lease, or transfer if it be found and determined by the Commission that such proposed sale, assignment, lease, or transfer is not in good faith or that the proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee, or transferee is not able or capable of continuing the operation of the equipment proposed to be sold, assigned, leased, or transferred in such manner as to render the services demanded by the public necessity and convenience in the territory covered by the certificate, or that said proposed sale, assignment, lease, or transfer is not best for the public interest; the Commission, in approving or disapproving the sale, assignment, lease, or transfer of any certificate, may take into consideration all of the requirements and qualifications of a regular applicant required in this Act and apply same as necessary qualifications of any proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee, or transferee; provided however, that in case a certificate is transferred that the transferee shall pay the Commission a sum of money equal to ten (10) per cent of the amount paid as a consideration for the transfer of the certificate, which sum of ten (10) per cent shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Highway Fund of the State; provided further, that any certificate obtained by any motor carrier or by any assignee or transferee shall be taken and held subject to the rights of the State at any time to limit, restrict, or forbid the use of the streets and highways of this State to any holder or owner of such certificate. Every application filed with the Commission for an order approving the lease, sale, or transfer of any certificate of convenience and necessity shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Twenty-five Dollars ($25), which fee shall be in addition to the other fees and taxes and shall be retained by the Commission whether the lease, sale, or transfer of the certificate of convenience and necessity is approved or not.

(b) No motor carrier shall transport oil field equipment, household goods, used office furniture and equipment, livestock, milk, livestock feedstuff, grain, farm machinery, timber in its natural state, wool or mohair, on any highway in this State unless there is in force with respect to such carrier and such carrier is the owner or lessee of a certificate of convenience and necessity issued pursuant to a finding and containing a declaration that a necessity requires such operation or a contract carrier permit issued by the Commission, authorizing the transportation of such commodity or commodities; providing that nothing herein shall modify, restrict, or add to, the authority of the common carrier motor carriers operating under certificates of convenience and necessity issued by the Commission, nor shall any person who now holds or who may hereafter hold a certificate of convenience and necessity to operate as a common carrier be granted any certificate of convenience and necessity to operate as a Specialized Motor Carrier; provided further that any person to whom a "Special Commodity" permit for the transportation of any or all of said commodities had been issued under the provisions of Section 6, paragraph (d), Article 911b, Title 25, Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, 1925, as amended, if such "Special Commodity" permit shall have been in force and effect on January 1, 1941, and if such person or predecessor in interest may desire to continue in the business of a motor carrier of such commodity or commodities shall file an application for a certificate of convenience and necessity under the terms of this Act within sixty (60) days after the effective date hereof, it shall be the duty of the Commission to issue without further proof a certificate authorizing the operation as a "Specialized Motor Carrier" for the transportation of such commodity or commodities covered by the "Special Commodity" permit held by the applicant, which "Specialized Motor Carrier" certificate shall be issued to the applicant and include all the rights and privileges granted under said "Special Commodity" permit.

(c) The Commission shall have no jurisdiction to consider, set for hearing, hear, or determine any application for a certificate of convenience and necessity authorizing the operation as a "specialized motor carrier" or any other common carrier except as provided in the preceding paragraph unless the application shall be in writing and set forth in detail the following facts:

1. It shall contain the name and address of the applicant, who shall be the real party at interest, and the names and addresses of its officers, if any, and shall give full information concerning the financial condition and physical properties of the applicant.

2. The commodity or commodities or class or classes of commodities which the applicant proposes to transport and the specific territory or points to, or from, or between which the applicant desires to operate, together with the description of each vehicle which the applicant intends to use.

3. It shall be accompanied by a map, showing the territory within which, or the points to or from or between which, the applicant desires to operate, shall point out the public necessity for the proposed service and in what particulars the public convenience would be promoted by the institution of the proposed service, and shall specify wherein additional facilities or service are required and would be secured by the granting of said application.

(d) Before any such application shall be granted, the Commission shall hear, consider and determine said application in accordance with Subsection (e) of Section 4 and Sections 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 13a, 14, and 15 of Chapter 277, Acts of the Forty-first Legislature, Regular Session, as amended (Article 911b, Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, 1925, as amended), and if the Commission shall find any such applicant entitled thereto, it shall issue a certificate hereunder on such terms and conditions as is justified by the facts; otherwise said application shall be denied. In the event an applicant meets the requirements of Subsection (e) of Section 4, as well as other requirements of this Article 911b, the Commission shall grant any application for a certificate of convenience and necessity authorizing operation as a "Specialized Motor Carrier" or any other common carrier unless it is established by the substantial evidence of record considered as a whole that (1) the services and facilities of the existing carriers serving the territory or any part thereof are adequate; or (2) there does not exist a public necessity for such service, or (3) the public convenience will not be promoted by granting said application. The order of the Commission granting or denying said application and the certificate issued thereunder shall be void unless the Commission shall set forth in its order full and complete findings of fact on the issues of adequacy of the services and facilities of the existing carriers, and the public need for the proposed service. Likewise, the Commission shall have no authority to grant any contract carrier application for the transportation of any commodities in any territory or between any points where it is established by substantial evidence in the record as a whole that the existing carriers are rendering, or are capable of rendering, a reasonably adequate service in the transportation of such commodities.

(e) Except where otherwise provided, applications for and holders of certificates of public convenience and necessity, as provided for in this Section, shall be subject to all of the provisions of the Act relating to common carriers by motor vehicle.

(f) Every application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity under this Section shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Twenty-five Dollars ($25), which fee shall be in addition to other fees and taxes, and shall be retained by the Commission whether certificate of convenience and necessity is granted or not.

(g) For the purpose of defraying the expense of administering this Act, every motor carrier operating as a "specialized motor carrier" in this State shall at the time of the issuance of a certificate of convenience and necessity to him, and annually thereafter on or between September 1st and September 15th of each calendar year, pay a special fee of Ten Dollars ($10) for each motor-propelled vehicle operated or to be operated by such motor carrier in the carriage of property. If the certificate of convenience and necessity herein referred to is issued after the month of September of any year, the fee paid shall be prorated to the remaining portion of the year ending August 31st following, but in no case less than one-fourth the annual fee. In case of emergency or unusual temporary demands for transportation the fee for additional motor-propelled vehicles for less period shall be fixed by the Commission in such reasonable amounts as may be prescribed by general rule or temporary order.

Agricultural Permit

Sec. 5b. (a) A person transporting eligible agricultural commodities for compensation or hire, for the original producer or grower, or producers' or growers' cooperative association, between any point of production, processing, or storage, or from any point of production, processing, or storage to any point of first manufacture, is not required to obtain a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the Commission or to comply with tariffs or orders of the Commission governing rates and charges to be offered, demanded, or received for such service if the person holds an agricultural permit issued by the Commission.

(1) The Commission shall, by regulation or as a contested matter properly before the Commission in an enforcement proceeding, define the terms "agricultural commodities," "point of production," "point of processing," "point of storage," and "point of first manufacture." These terms shall include, in addition to such other commodities or points as the Commission shall designate:

(A) agricultural commodities: cotton, livestock, grain, fresh fruits, and fresh vegetables;

(B) point of production: farms and ranches at which the agricultural commodities were grown;

(C) point of processing: cotton gins, rice mills, dryers, and animal auction barns;

(D) point of storage: grain and rice elevators, compresses, and warehouses.

(2) The holder of an agricultural permit shall comply with all Commission regulations concerning safety, insurance, and otherwise, except to the extent such regulations are made expressly inapplicable herein. The holder shall be subject to administrative and other sanctions for failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations to the same extent as other motor carriers.

(3) The Commission shall, in implementing the provisions of this subsection, take into consideration its powers and duties to administer and enforce the Motor Carrier Act and shall prescribe such regulations for operations under authority of agricultural permits as the Commission deems necessary in the interest of the shipping and receiving public, provided that rulemaking authority granted under this paragraph shall be used to accomplish the overall purpose of this subsection.

(b) The Commission may issue agricultural permits without notice, hearing, or proof of public convenience and necessity. Each permit is valid for one year from the date of issuance unless a shorter period is requested by the applicant.

(c) An application for an agricultural permit must include:

(1) the applicant's full name and address;

(2) a complete list of all motor vehicles proposed to be used, including the make, unit number, and identification number of each vehicle; and

(3) a sworn statement by the applicant that he will transport under the permit only those agricultural commodities eligible to be transported under this section and will transport them only in intrastate commerce.

(d) An agricultural permit may not be sold, assigned, inherited, or otherwise transferred.

(e) An application for an agricultural permit must be accompanied by a Twenty-five Dollar ($25) filing fee, which shall be retained by the Commission whether or not the permit is granted. This fee covers up to five (5) motor vehicles. If the permit is to cover more than five (5) motor vehicles, the applicant shall pay at the time the permit is issued an additional fee of Five Dollars ($5) for each motor vehicle in excess of five (5) to be operated under the permit.

(f) The issuance of agricultural permits is exempt from the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) and from the requirements of Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(g) The Commission shall issue to each permittee an identification card for each motor vehicle covered by the permit. The card must be displayed within the cab of the vehicle. The card shall include the permit number and the name and address of the owner of the permit. A person may not use an identification card after the permit has expired. The Commission shall prescribe the form for the identification card and may include additional information on the card.

(h) The transportation of eligible agricultural commodities under a permit issued under this section is not subject to the ratemaking authority of the Commission, and the Commission may not adopt or enforce rates, fares, or charges for that transportation.

(i) The transportation of eligible agricultural commodities under a permit issued under this section is subject to the provisions of this Act and rules of the Commission adopted under this Act relating to insurance and bond requirements and to safety requirements.

(j) This section does not apply to any person transporting in the person's own vehicle agricultural commodities in their natural state, which that person owns, to and from the area of production and to and from the market or place of storage thereof.

Application for Permits; Specialized Motor Carrier Certificates; Transfer or Sale of Permits

Sec. 6. (a) No motor carrier now operating as a contract carrier or that may hereafter desire to engage in the business of a contract carrier shall so operate until it shall have received a permit from the Commission to engage in such business and such permit shall not be issued until the applicant shall have in all things complied with the requirements of this Act; nor shall such permit be issued unless the character of business being done or to be done by the applicant strictly conforms with the definition of a contract carrier. The Commission shall have the power to suspend for ten (10) days any existing permit after notice and hearing and to revoke any existing permit when it appears that such permit holder has disobeyed or violated any provision of this Act or of General Laws regulating motor vehicles or violated any rule or regulation of the Commission authorized by this Act.

(b) No application for a permit shall be considered by the Commission unless it be reduced to writing and set forth the following facts:

(1) It shall contain the name and address of the applicant and the names and addresses of its officers, if any, and shall give full information concerning the financial condition and physical properties of the applicant.

(2) The application shall set forth the nature of the transportation in which the applicant wishes to engage stating substantially the territory to be covered by the operation and including the condition and character of the roads over which the transportation is to be performed.

(3) It shall give a description of each vehicle which the applicant intends to use, including weight and size of vehicle and its carrying capacity.

(c) No application for permit shall be granted by the Commission until after a hearing nor shall any such permit be granted if the Commission shall be of the opinion that the proposed operation of any such contract carrier will impair the efficient public service of any authorized common carrier or common carriers then adequately serving the same territory.

(d) The Railroad Commission is hereby given authority to issue upon application to those persons who desire to engage in the business of transporting for hire over the highways of this State livestock, mohair, wool, milk, livestock feedstuff, household goods, used office furniture and equipment, oil field equipment, timber in its natural state, farm machinery and grain, "Specialized Motor Carrier" certificates when it is shown by substantial evidence that there exists (1) a public necessity for such service, and that (2) public convenience will be promoted by the granting of said application.

Such certificates shall be granted upon such terms, conditions and restrictions as the Railroad Commission may deem proper, and said Railroad Commission is authorized to make rules and regulations governing such operations, keeping in mind the protection of the highways and the safety of the traveling public.

Provided that the order of the Commission granting said application, and the certificate issued thereunder shall set forth in its order findings of fact on the issues of adequacy of the service of the existing carriers and the public need for such proposed service.

(e) Any permit held, owned, or obtained by any motor carrier operating under the provisions of Subsection (d) of this Section may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred, or inherited; provided, however, that any proposed sale, lease, assignment, or transfer shall be first presented in writing to the Commission for its approval or disapproval and the Commission may disapprove such proposed sale, assignment, lease, or transfer if it be found and determined by the Commission that such proposed sale, assignment, lease, or transfer is not in good faith or that the proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee, or transferee is not capable of continuing the operation of the equipment proposed to be sold, assigned, leased, or transferred in such a manner as to render the services demanded in the best interest of the public; the Commission in approving or disapproving any sale, assignment, lease, or transfer of any permit may take into consideration all of the requirements and qualifications of a regular applicant required in this Section, and apply same as necessary qualifications of any proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee, or transferee; provided, however, that in case a permit is transferred that the transferee shall pay to the Commission a sum of money equal to ten (10) per cent of the amount paid as a consideration for the transfer of the permit which sum of ten (10) per cent shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Highway Fund of the State; provided, further, that any permit obtained by any motor carrier or by any assignee or transferee shall be taken and held subject to the right of the State at any time to limit, restrict, or forbid the use of the streets and highways of this State to any holder or owner of such permit. Every application filed with the Commission for an order approving the lease, sale, or transfer of any permit shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Ten Dollars ($10) which fee shall be in addition to other fees and taxes and shall be retained by the Commission whether the lease, sale, or transfer of the permit is approved or not.

(f) Any contract carrier permit held, owned, or obtained by any motor carrier operating under the provisions of Section 6 may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred, or inherited; provided, however, that any proposed sale, lease, assignment, or transfer shall be first presented in writing to the Commission for its approval or disapproval and the Commission may disapprove such proposed sale, assignment, lease, or transfer if it be found and determined by the Commission that such proposed sale, assignment, lease, or transfer is not in good faith or that the proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee, or transferee is not capable of continuing the operation of the equipment proposed to be sold, assigned, leased, or transferred in such a manner as to render the services demanded in the best interest of the public; the Commission in approving or disapproving any sale, assignment, lease, or transfer of any permit may take into consideration all of the requirements and qualifications of a regular applicant required in this Section, and apply same as necessary qualifications of any proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee, or transferee; provided, however, that in case a permit is transferred that the transferee shall pay to the Commission a sum of money equal to ten (10) per cent of the amount paid as a consideration for the transfer of the permit which sum of ten (10) per cent shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Highway Fund of the State; provided, however, that any permit obtained by any motor carrier or by any assignee or transferee shall be taken and held subject to the right of the State at any time to limit, restrict, or forbid the use of the streets and highways of this State to any holder or owner of such permit. Every application filed with the Commission for an order approving the lease, sale, or transfer of any permit shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Ten Dollars ($10) which fee shall be in addition to other fees and taxes and shall be retained by the Commission whether the lease, sale, or transfer of the permit is approved or not.

Rules and Regulations for Contract Carriers

Sec. 6-aa. The Commission is hereby vested with power and authority and it is hereby made its duty to prescribe rules and regulations covering the operation of contract carriers in competition with common carriers over the highways of this State and the Commission shall prescribe minimum rates, fares and charges to be collected by such contract carriers which shall not be less than the rates prescribed for common carriers for substantially the same service.

Permits Not Granted as Contract Carrier to Person Operating as Common Carrier

Sec. 6-bb. No application for permit to operate as a contract carrier shall be granted by the Commission to any person operating as a common carrier and holding a certificate of convenience and necessity, nor shall any application for certificate of convenience and necessity be granted by the Commission to any person operating as a contract carrier nor shall any vehicle be operated by any motor carrier with both a permit and a certificate.

Hours of Labor

Sec. 6-cc. No motor carrier operating in whole or in part in this State under a certificate or permit issued by the Railroad Commission of Texas, or any officer or agent of such motor carrier, shall require or knowingly permit any truck driver or his helper to drive or operate a truck for a period longer than ten (10) consecutive hours; and whenever such driver or helper shall have been continuously on such duty for ten (10) hours, he shall be relieved and shall not be required or knowingly permitted to again go on duty until he has had at least eight (8) consecutive hours off duty; and no such driver or helper who has been on such duty ten (10) hours in the aggregate in any twenty-four hour period, shall be required or knowingly permitted to continue or again go on duty without having had at least eight (8) consecutive hours off duty; and venue for prosecution under this Section shall lie in any county where said offense or any part of same is committed; provided that in cases of emergency caused by the Act of God, or any other emergency over which the operator has no control, the foregoing restrictions as to hours shall not apply.

Fee for Each Motor Vehicle Operated

Sec. 7. For the purpose of defraying the expenses of administering this Act every motor carrier operating as a contract carrier shall, at the time of the issuance of a permit to him and annually thereafter on or between September 1st and September 15th of each calendar year pay a special fee of Ten Dollars (\$10.00) for each motor vehicle operated or to be operated by such motor carrier. If the permit herein referred to is issued after the month of September of any year the fee paid shall be prorated to the remaining portion of the year ending August 31st following, but in no case less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) the annual fee. Provided, that no person now authorized by law to operate as a Class "A" or Class "B" motor carrier, and who has paid annual vehicle fees required by law of the holders of certificates or permits for the year ending September 1, 1931, shall be required to pay any additional vehicle fees or additional fees incident to the issuance of certificates or permits required in this Act, for the year ending September 1, 1931, in lieu of those now required by law. Every application for a permit shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Ten Dollars (\$10.00) which fee shall be in addition to other fees and taxes and shall be retained by the Commission whether the permit be granted or not.

Commission to Determine if Necessity Exists for Service

Sec. 8. The Commission is hereby vested with power and authority, and it is hereby made its duty upon the filing of an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to ascertain and determine under such rules and regulations as it may promulgate, after considering existing transportation facilities, and the demand for, or need of additional service, if there exists a public necessity for such service, and if public convenience will be promoted by granting said application and permitting the operating of motor vehicles on the highways designated in such application as a common carrier for hire.

Interference With General Use of Highways

Sec. 9. The Commission shall ascertain and determine if a particular highway or highways designated in an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity are of such type of construction or in such state of repair, or subject to such use as to permit of the use sought to be made by the applicant, without unreasonable interference with the use of such highways by the general public for highway purposes. And if the Commission shall determine, after hearing, that the service rendered by existing transportation facilities or agencies is reasonably adequate, or that public convenience would not be promoted by granting of said application, and the operation of motor vehicles on the public highways therein designated, or that such highway or highways are not in such state of repair, or are already subject to such use as would not permit of the use sought to be made by the applicant without unreasonable interference with the use of such highways by the general public for highway purposes then in either or any of such events said application may be denied and said certificate refused, otherwise the application shall be granted and the certificate issued upon such terms and conditions as said Commission may impose and subject to such rules and regulations as it has or may thereafter prescribe.

In determining whether or not a certificate should be issued to a motor carrier, the Commission shall give weight and due regard to:

- (1) Probable permanence and the quality of service offered by the applicant.
- (2) The financial ability and responsibility of the applicant and its organization and personnel.
- (3) The character of vehicles and the character and location of depots or termini proposed to be used.
- (4) The experience of the applicant in the transportation of property and the character of the bond or insurance proposed to be given to insure the protection of the public.

Contents of Written Application

Sec. 10. No application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity shall be considered by said Commission unless it be in writing and set forth the following facts:

- (1) It shall contain the name and address of the applicant and the names and addresses of its officers, if any, and shall give full information concerning the financial condition and physical properties of the applicant.
- (2) The complete route or routes over which the applicant desires to operate, together with the description of each vehicle which the applicant intends to use.
- (3) A proposed schedule of service and a schedule of rates to be charged between the several points or localities to be served.
- (4) It shall be accompanied by a plat or map showing the route or routes over which the applicant desires to operate, and shall point out the public necessity for the proposed service and in what particulars the public convenience would be promoted by the institution of the proposed service, and shall specify wherein additional facilities or service are required and would be secured by the granting of said application.

The Commission, in prescribing and adopting rules and regulations and in forming its conclusions and in prescribing its orders, shall invite the opinion of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation on the conditions of the public highways involved and the ability of said highways to carry the existing and proposed additional traffic, and the Commission shall give due and proper consideration to the orders, regulations, ordinances or recommendations of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation; provided, however, nothing herein contained shall be deemed to restrict the powers of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation under existing laws. The Commission shall also give due and proper consideration to the recommendations of the Commissioners' Courts of the several Counties and to the recommendations of the local government of any municipi-pality through or between which motor carriers operate.

Hearing at Austin; Notice to Existing Owners and to Highway Commission

Sec. 11. Upon the filing of said application for a certificate or permit, the Commission shall fix a time and place for hearing, and the place of hearing shall be in the City of Austin, Texas, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission. Notice of the filing of said application, and the time and place of hearing, shall be given by mail not less than ten (10) days, exclusive of the day of mailing before such hearing, addressed to the owner or owners of existing transportation facilities serving such territory as applicant seeks to serve, as well as to the Highway Commission of the State of Texas, the County Judge or Judges of the counties and to the mayor of any incorporated city or town through which such carrier seeks to operate.

Rules for Hearing; Appearance by Interested Persons and Highway Commission; Revocation of Permit

Sec. 12. (a) The hearing on an application for certificate or permit shall be conducted under such rules and regulations as the Commission may prescribe, and the parties interested, including the Highway Commission of this State, may appear either in person or by counsel and present such evidence and argument as they may desire and as the Commission may deem pertinent, in favor of or against the granting of such application. It shall be the duty of the Highway Commission, upon request of the Commission, to furnish information relating to the highway or highways designated in such application, as well as such other information as the Commission may deem pertinent to the hearing. After hearing and such investigation as the Commission may make, it shall be the duty of the Commission to grant or refuse the application, and, in any contested hearing, the Commission shall, along with its order, file a concise written opinion setting forth the facts and grounds for its action, and such opinion shall be admissible as evidence on any appeal taken therefrom; upon request of any party at interest in a contested hearing of any nature, the proceedings shall be taken down and reported by a reporter under the direction of the Commission.

(b) The Commission at any time after hearing, had, upon notice to the holder of any certificate or permit and after opportunity given such holder to be heard, may by its order revoke, suspend or amend any certificate or permit issued under the provisions of this Act, where in such hearing the Commission shall find that such certificate or permit holder has discontinued operation or has violated, refused or neglected to observe the Commission's lawful orders, rules, rates or regulations or has violated the terms of said certificate or permit; provided, that the holder of such certificate or permit shall have the right of appeal as provided in this Act. The Commission may place on probation a person whose certificate or permit has been suspended, but if the Commission does place the certificate or permit holder on probation and does allow him to continue to operate, the fact that the certificate or permit has been suspended and the certificate or permit holder has been put on probation shall appear in the records of the Commission relating to the suspension and probation.

Bonds or Insurance to Cover Loss or Damages; Protection to Employees

Sec. 13. Before any permit or certificate of public convenience and necessity may be issued to any motor carrier and before any motor carrier may lawfully operate under such permit or certificate as the case may be, such motor carrier shall file with the Commission bonds and/or insurance policies issued by some insurance company including mutuals and reciprocals or bonding company authorized by law to transact business in Texas in an amount to be fixed by the Commission under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, which bonds and insurance policies shall provide that the obligor therein will pay to the extent of the face amount of such insurance policies and bonds all judgments which may be recovered against the motor carriers so filing said insurance policies and bonds, based on claims for loss or damages from personal injury or loss of, or injury to property occurring during the term of said bonds and policies and arising out of the actual operation of such motor carrier; and such bonds and policies shall also provide for successive recoveries to the complete exhaustion of the face amount thereof and that such judgments will be paid by the obligor in said bonds and insurance policies irrespective of the solvency or insolvency of the motor carrier; provided, however, such bonds and policies shall not cover personal injuries sustained by the servants, agents or employees of such motor carrier. Provided further, that in the event the insured shall abandon his permit or certificate and leave the state, a claimant, asserting a claim within the provisions of said bonds or policies, may file suit against the sureties executing such bond or the company issuing such policies in a court of competent jurisdiction without the necessity of making the insured a party to said suit. Provided, however, that the Commission shall not require insurance covering loss of or damage to cargo in amount excessive for the class of service to be rendered by any motor carrier. Each such motor carrier shall, on or before the date of the expiration of the term of any policy or bond so filed by him, file a renewal thereof, or new bonds or policies containing the same terms and obligations of the preceding bonds and policies, and shall each year thereafter on or before the expiration date of the existing bonds and policies, file such renewal policies and bonds so as to provide continuous and unbroken protection to the public having legal claims against such motor carrier; and in the event such renewal bonds and policies are not so filed, the Commission after notice to the motor carrier, and hearing, may, within its discretion if it shall find and determine that the ends of justice will be better subserved thereby, cancel such permit or certificate for failure to furnish and provide such bonds or insurance as herein required. The Commission may accept in lieu of the filing of the original policies of insurance, a certificate of insurance, in such form as may be prescribed by the Commission, which certificate, when filed with the Commission, will bind the obligor thereunder and satisfy the requirements of this section as if the original policies of insurance had been filed.

Each motor carrier shall also protect his employees by taking out workmen's compensation insurance, either as provided by the Workmen's Compensation Laws of the State of Texas, or in a reliable insurance company authorized to write workmen's compensation insurance approved by the Commission.

Commission to Approve Equipment

Sec. 13a. The Commission is vested with power and authority, and it is hereby made its duty, to approve or disapprove the nature and character of the equipment to be used under any permit or certificate and the amount and character of tonnage which may be hauled thereunder on any motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer used under such permit or certificate and in approving the amount and character of tonnage to be hauled on any such vehicles, trailers or semi-trailers under any permit or certificate, it may fix the number and size of boxes, packages, barrels or bales or any particular commodity to be transported on any such vehicles, trailers or semi-trailers under such permit or certificate, and the method of loading such boxes, packages, barrels or bales of such commodity on the motor vehicle, trailers and semi-trailers to be used under such permit or certificate; provided, however, said Commission shall not authorize the use of any equipment of greater dimensions than otherwise permitted by law, nor any tonnage of greater weight than otherwise permitted by law.

Provided, that if this section is for any reason held to be unconstitutional and invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act, and the Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this Act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that this section be declared unconstitutional; provided further, that if this Act or any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof is held to be unconstitutional and invalid by reason of the inclusion of this section, the Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this Act and any such section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof without this section.

Approval of Deposits of United States Government Bonds or Cash in Lieu of Bonds and/or Insurance

Sec. 13aa. The Commission is hereby vested with power and authority to approve the deposit by a motor carrier of United States Government bonds or cash in lieu of bonds and/or insurance required in Section 13, in an amount to be fixed by the Commission under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe; and provided further that upon a full and proper showing of financial fitness and responsibility under and in compliance with rules and regulations prescribed and administered by the Commission such motor carrier may become self-insured in lieu of any coverage required other than the Workmen's Compensation Insurance which each motor carrier shall take out either as provided by the Workmen's Compensation Laws of the State of Texas or in a reliable insurance company authorized to write Workmen's Compensation Insurance approved by the Commission.

Accounts to be Kept; Reports to Commission

Sec. 13b. The Commission is hereby vested with power and authority and it is hereby made its duty to require all motor carriers to keep a set of accounts strictly in accordance with such classification of accounts and rules in respect thereto as may be established by the Commission and to file reports and such other data as the Commission may deem necessary, and which said accounts shall be open to the inspection of the Commission or its representatives or agents at all times; provided, however, that the Commission may, in its discretion, direct that the inspection or audit of the above described accounts and records of motor carriers, whose principal offices are located outside the State of Texas, be made at said principal office located outside the State of Texas.

Commission to Hear Applications, Complaints, and Compel Attendance of Witnesses; Examiner to Hear Applications Assigned by Commission and Report Thereon

Sec. 14. (a) The Commission shall have the power and authority under this Act to hear and determine all applications of motor carriers; to determine complaints presented to it by such carrier, by any public official, or by any citizen having an interest in the subject matter of the complaint, or it may institute and investigate any matter pertaining to motor carriers upon its own motion. The Commission, or any member thereof, or authorized representative or Examiner of the Commission, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, swear witnesses, take their testimony under oath, make record thereof, and if such record is made under the direction of a Commissioner, or authorized representative or Examiner of the Commission, a majority of the Commission may, upon the record, render judgment as if the case had been heard before a majority of the members of the Commission. The Commission shall have the power and authority under this Act to do and perform all necessary things to carry out the purpose, intent, and provisions of this Act, whether herein specifically mentioned or not, and to that end may hold hearings at any place in Texas which it may designate.

(b) To expedite the hearing and disposition of applications, the Examiner or authorized representative of the Commission shall have authority under orders of the Commission to hear applications which may be assigned to him by the Commission; after the hearing of an application has been concluded by such representative or Examiner, it shall be his duty promptly to make a written report to the Commission recommending disposition of said application. Such report and recommendation shall be accompanied by a brief narrative statement of the evidence, and shall contain such other information as such representative or Examiner may think advisable, or as may be required by the Commission. Unless required by the Commission, it shall not be necessary for the reporter to transcribe said evidence in full, but it shall be sufficient to make a brief narrative statement giving the correct summary of such evidence; provided, however, the Commission shall have the authority to require said evidence, or any part thereof, to be transcribed in full if deemed advisable or necessary.

Per Diem and Mileage of Witnesses; Process to Sheriff

Sec. 15. Every witness who shall be summoned to appear before the Commission, or a Commissioner or authorized representative outside the county of his residence shall receive for his attendance the same per diem and fees as now provided for witnesses in attendance in District Courts of this State in criminal cases; such fees and mileage shall be order¹ paid upon proper voucher, sworn to by such witness and approved by the Commission or the chairman thereof out of the monies or funds arising under this Act; provided that no witness shall be entitled to any witness fees or mileage who is directly or indirectly interested in any motor carrier involved or concerning which the investigation or hearing on account of which he is called, shall relate, and no witnesses furnished with free transportation shall receive pay for the distance he may have traveled on such free transportation. All process issued by the Commission for summoning witnesses or other purposes shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of any county in the State of Texas, and any sheriff or constable of any county in this State shall promptly execute any subpoenas or other documents directed to him by the Commission and shall receive such fees for this service as is now paid for like services in the District Courts of this State, such payment to be made on accounts properly verified and approved by the Commission or the chairman thereof out of the fund provided in this Act.

Motor Carrier May Submit Names of Witnesses

Sec. 15a. Provided that any motor carrier at interest in any hearing may submit to the Commission the names and addresses of witnesses which he or it desires to use in such hearing, and it shall be the duty of the Commission to summon such witnesses.

Sec. 16. (a) Every officer, agent, servant or employee of any corporation and every other person who violates or fails to comply with or procures, aids or abets in the violation of any provision of this Act or who violates or fails to obey, observe or comply with any lawful order, decision, rule or regulation, direction, demand, or requirement of the Commission shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00), nor more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00), and the violations occurring on each day shall each constitute a separate offense.

(b) Every officer, agent, servant or employee of any corporation and every other person who violates or fails to comply with or procures, aids or abets in the violation of any provision of this Act or who violates or fails to obey, observe or comply with any lawful order, decision, rule or regulation, direction, demand or requirement of the Commission shall in addition be subject to and shall pay a penalty not exceeding One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), for each and every day of such violation. Such penalty shall be recovered in any Court of competent jurisdiction in the county in which the violation occurs. Suit for such penalty or penalties shall be instituted and conducted by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, or by the County or District Attorney in the county in which the violation occurs, in the name of the State of Texas.

(c) Upon the violation of any provision of this Act, or upon the violation of any rule, regulation, order or decree of the Commission promulgated under the terms of this act, any District Court of any county where such violation occurs shall have the power to restrain and enjoin the person, firm or corporation so offending from further violating the provisions of this Act or from further violating any of the rules, regulations, orders and decrees of the Commission. Such injunctive relief may be granted upon the application of the Commission, the Attorney General or any District or County Attorney. No bond shall be required when such injunctive relief is sought upon the application of the Commission, Attorney General or any District or County Attorney. Such relief may be granted in suits for penalties as provided in subdivision (b) of this Section, but a suit for penalty shall not be a condition precedent to the injunctive relief provided by this subdivision.

(d) Any License and Weight Inspector or other peace officer of the Department of Public Safety, shall have the power and authority to make arrests without warrant for any violation of this Act except rate violations. Any authorized Rate Inspector of the Commission shall have power and authority to make arrests for any rate violation occurring under this Act, it being the intent herein to vest in the Department of Public Safety and its License and Weight Division the duty and responsibility for enforcement of the Act for all violations except rate violations, and vest in the Commission the duty and responsibility of enforcement of only rate violations. It shall be the duty of all judges and prosecuting attorneys of this State to assist in the enforcement of this Act.

(e) The Commission shall prescribe an identification card which must be displayed within the cab of each motor vehicle, setting out the certificate or permit number and giving the name and address of the owner of said certificate or permit. This card must be attached to the document of authority that states the route or territory over which the vehicle is authorized to operate. It shall be unlawful for the owner of said certificate or permit, his agent, servant or employee, or any other person to use or display said identification card after said certificate or permit has been cancelled or disposed of. The identification card provided for herein may be in such form and contain such information as required by the Railroad Commission.

(f) It shall be unlawful for any owner of a certificate or permit, his agent, servant or employee to display upon any motor vehicle the certificate or permit number, or other insignia of authority from the Railroad Commission after said certificate or permit has expired, or has been cancelled.

(g) It shall be unlawful for any motor carrier (common or contract), or the owner of a certificate or permit, or his agent, servant or employee, directly or indirectly, to offer, permit or give to any person, directly or indirectly, any commission or other consideration to induce such person to deliver to such motor carrier or certificate or permit owner, property to be transported; and it likewise shall be unlawful for any shipper or consignee or his agent, servant or employee, to receive from such motor carrier, directly or indirectly, any such commission or consideration as an inducement to secure the transportation of any such property. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine not to exceed Two Hundred ($200.00) Dollars, and each such transaction shall constitute a separate offense.

(h) Any common carrier, motor carrier, his agent, servant or employee who directly or indirectly gives to any shipper any rebate, or any shipper, his agent, servant or employee who directly or indirectly receives any rebate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed Two Hundred ($200.00) Dollars for each offense, in any court of competent jurisdiction in this State. It being the intention of this Act that such motor carriers shall in every instance collect and receive, and the shipper shall pay, only the rate or fee prescribed or approved by the Commission.

(i) If any motor carrier, or any officer, agent, clerk, servant, or employee, or receiver, or his agents, servants, or employee, of any motor carrier operating as a contract carrier in this State, shall, directly or indirectly, or by any special rate, rebate, draw-back, or other device, for or on behalf of such contract carrier, knowingly charge, demand, or contract for, collect or receive from any person, firm or corporation a less compensation for any service rendered or to be rendered by any such contract carrier than is prescribed for said service by said Commission, such contract carrier or any officer, clerk, servant, or employee, or receiver, his agents, servants, or employee, of such contract carrier shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not to exceed Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) for each offense; and every person who violates or fails to comply with, or procures, aids, or abets any contract carrier in the violation of the provisions hereof shall likewise be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) for each offense.

(j) It shall be unlawful for any officer, agent, servant or employee of any corporation, and every other person, to issue, display or use, or to enter into a conspiracy or agreement with any other person, officer, agent, servant and employee of any corporation, to issue, display or use a false or fictitious bill of sale, bill of lading, or manifest on the commodities being transported over the highways of this State. Every bill of lading or manifest shall show the true name and address of the consignor or shipper, the consignee or receiver, the origin, the destination, and an exact description of the commodities goods, wares, or property transported or being transported for hire or compensation over the highways of this State. Every such bill of lading, manifest, or bill of sale or load of commodities being transported for hire over the highways of this State shall be made available for inspection at any time and place upon the request of any officer or agent authorized to enforce the provisions of this Act under Section (d) hereof. Any officer or agent authorized under Section (d) hereof, upon the failure of any person to permit inspection of the commodities being transported over the highways of this State under a bill of sale, bill of lading or manifest, shall be empowered to impound the load or commodities being transported and hold same until properly released without any liability whatever against such officer or agent of state or county. And every person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine not to exceed Two Hundred ($200.00) Dollars, and each such transaction shall constitute a separate offense.

No provision of this Act will apply to any person who is engaged in the bona fide business of buying, selling and transporting any product or commodity when such person has in good faith purchased such product or commodity and at the time of and during the transportation thereof such person has and owns title to such product or commodity.

(k) Every corporation, association, partnership, firm or individual shall permit any officer, inspector or agent authorized under Section (d) of this act, upon written authority of the Attorney General or any District Judge of a District Court properly having venue under the laws of this State, to inspect and examine any of its books, records, accounts, letters, memoranda, documents, checks, vouchers, or telegrams and make such copies thereof as may be necessary to show or tend to show that said corporation, its officers, agents or employees, association or partnership or individual has violated any provision of this Act. Every person who fails or refuses to permit such inspection by any duly authorized officer or agent under this Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine not to exceed Two Hundred ($200.00) Dollars, and each such transaction shall constitute a separate offense.

(l) A person holding a current, valid agricultural permit issued by the Commission under Section 5b of this Act or an officer, agent, servant, or employee of that person, who, without lawful authority, transports a commodity other than an eligible agricultural commodity commits an offense. An offense under this subsection is punishable by a fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) nor more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00). Each violation is a separate offense.

Filing Fee Accompanying Application

Sec. 17. (a) For the purpose of defraying the expense of administering this Act, every common carrier motor carrier now regularly operating, or which shall hereafter regularly operate in this state, shall at the time of the issuance of a certificate of convenience and necessity, unless otherwise provided herein, and annually thereafter pay a special fee of ten dollars (\$10), for each motor propelled vehicle operated or to be operated by such motor carrier in the carriage of property. If the certificate of convenience and necessity herein referred to is issued after the month established for registration, the fee paid shall be prorated to the remaining portion of the registration year, but in no case less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) the annual fee. In case of an emergency or unusual temporary demands for transportation the fee for additional motor propelled vehicles for less period shall be fixed by the Commission in such reasonable amounts as may be prescribed by general rule or temporary order. Every application for a certificate of convenience and necessity shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Twenty-five (\$25.00) Dollars, which fee shall be in addition to other fees and taxes and shall be retained by the Commission whether the certificate of convenience and necessity be granted or not.

(b) Every application filed with the Commission for an order approving the lease, sale or transfer of any certificate of convenience and necessity shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the sum of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars, which fee shall be in addition to the other fees and taxes and shall be retained by the Commission whether the lease, sale or transfer of the certificate of convenience and necessity is approved or not.

(c) All fees except fees allocated to the state highway fund accruing under the terms of this Act and all fines and penalties collected under the provisions of this Act shall be payable to the State Treasury at Austin and credited to the General Revenue Fund out of which all warrants and expenditures necessary in administering and enforcing this Act shall be paid.

Expiration of Registrations on Various Dates During Year; Adoption of System; Proration of Fees in Year of Change

Sec. 17A. The Commission, by rule, may adopt a system under which registrations expire on various dates during the year. For the year in which the registration expiration date is changed, registration fees payable under the existing system shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each registrant shall pay only that portion of the registration fee that is allocable to the number of months during which the registration is valid. On renewal of the registration on the new expiration date, the total registration renewal fee is payable.

Cab Card and Identifying Marks

Sec. 18. (a) It shall be unlawful for any motor carrier as hereinbefore defined to operate any motor vehicle within this State unless there shall be in the cab of the motor vehicle a cab card to be furnished by the Commission. The cab card shall be designed so as to identify the vehicle as being a vehicle authorized to operate under the terms of this law and shall bear the certificate or permit number, vehicle unit number, and permanent vehicle identification number. It shall be the duty of the Commission to provide the cab card and each motor vehicle operating in this State shall carry it as soon as it is received. The cab card shall be issued annually thereafter and placed in each motor vehicle not later than September 1st of each year, or as soon thereafter as possible. The Commission shall be authorized to collect from the applicant a fee of one dollar ($1) for each cab card issued, and all fees for cab cards shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

(b) A motor vehicle covered by this section must have in a conspicuous place on each side of the power unit in plainly legible print the name of the carrier, the unit number of the vehicle, and the number of the certificate or permit authorizing the service. These identifying marks must be in letters and numbers not less than two (2) inches in height and one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch in width.

Reciprocity

Sec. 18a. Motor carriers of property for hire residing or domiciled outside of the State of Texas, who have authority from the Interstate Commerce Commission to transport property for hire to, from or between points in Texas, and whose operations in this State are limited to the transportation of property for hire in interstate or foreign commerce only under such authority, shall not be required to pay the special fees provided for in Sections 7, 17(a), 18 and Section 5a(g) of this Act; provided, however, this exemption from the payment of said fees shall not apply unless the States in which such foreign motor carriers reside or are domiciled shall likewise extend to motor carriers residing or domiciled in Texas exemption from the payment of the same or similar fees or expenses in their respective States; such exemptions from the payment of such fees in Texas shall be effective when the governmental agency or the authorized representative thereof of such foreign States having jurisdiction over the operations of motor carriers for hire shall certify in writing to the Railroad Commission of Texas that the exemption from the payment of such fees and expenses by such Texas carriers has been granted, and is in full force and effect. Provided, further, however, that this exemption shall not apply to the payment of filing fees for applications for certificates or permits to operate in this State.

Nonresident motor carriers covered by this section are not required to display upon a vehicle external identification other than that required by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Commission May Employ Experts, Assistants, Etc.; Payment of Expenses

Sec. 19. The Commission shall have power to employ and appoint from time to time such experts, assistants, and other help, in addition to its present force, as may be deemed necessary to enable it at all times to properly administer and enforce this Act. Such persons and employees of the Commission shall be paid for the service rendered such sums as may be fixed and prescribed by the Commission in monthly installments, and no employee of the Commission shall ask or receive any fee from any person for the taking of acknowledgments or any other service except as herein provided, and such salaries, wages and all fees that may be paid to witnesses and officers shall be paid out of the General Revenue Fund by the State Treasurer on warrants of the Comptroller of Public Accounts on order or voucher approved by the Commission or the Chairman thereof. All actual and necessary traveling expenses of the members of the Commission and employees shall also be paid out of said Fund in the same manner as recurring operating expenses (including travel expense) when such accounts shall have been itemized and sworn to by the Commission or employee incurring the expenses and approved by the Commission or the Chairman thereof; provided, however, that when audits or inspections of records and accounts are made at out-of-state locations pursuant to the provisions of Section 13b of this Act, the Commission may, in its discretion, direct that all actual and necessary traveling expenses of the members of the Commission, its agents or representatives shall be paid by the inspected carrier. These traveling expenses shall be itemized and sworn to by the Commission or employee, representative or agent of the Commission incurring the expenses and approved by the Commission or the Chairman thereof. The amount of the necessary expenses shall be paid to the Railroad Commission of Texas and shall be deposited with the State Treasurer to the account of the General Revenue Fund.

Review of Decisions of Commission by District Court of Travis County; Appeals

Sec. 20. If any motor carrier or other party at interest be dissatisfied with any decision, rate, charge, rule, order, act, or regulation adopted by the Commission, such dissatisfied person, association, corporation, or party after failing to get relief from the Commission may file a petition setting forth the particular objection to such decision, rate, charge, rule, order, act or regulations, or to either or all of them in the District Court in Travis County, Texas, against said Commission as defendant. Said action shall have precedence over all other causes on the docket of a different nature and shall be tried and determined as other civil causes in said court. Either party to said action may appeal to the Appellate Court having jurisdiction of said cause and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said Appellate Court having jurisdiction of said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said Appellate Court over all causes of a different character therein pending; provided, that if the court be in session at the time such right of action accrues the suit may be filed during such term and stand ready for trial after ten days' notice. In all trials under this section the burden of proof shall rest upon plaintiff, who must show by the preponderance of evidence that the decisions, rates, regulations, rules, orders, classifications, acts, or charges complained of are unreasonable and unjust to it or them. The Commission shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder and no injunction shall be granted against any order of the Commission without hearing unless it shall clearly appear that irreparable injury will be done the complaining party if the injunction is not granted.

Ten Days as Reasonable Notice

Sec. 21. Whenever notice is required in this Act to be given ten days exclusive of the day of service and return shall be considered as reasonable notice; provided, that in case of emergency the Commission may hear any cause or complaint on less than ten days' notice.

Board of Control to Provide Office Space

Sec. 22. The State Board of Control is hereby authorized and directed to set aside such additional office space in the Capitol at Austin as may be deemed necessary by the Commission for the proper performance of its added duties as herein defined.

Cancellation of Certificate

Sec. 22a. Any certificate of public convenience and necessity shall be cancelled by the Commission if the owner or owners thereof shall in any manner avoid, fail or refuse to pay any gasoline or other tax imposed by law on such business.

General Policy

Sec. 22b. Declaration of Policy. The business of operating as a motor carrier of property for hire along the highways of this State is declared to be a business affected with the public interest. The rapid increase of motor carrier traffic, and the fact that under existing law many motor trucks are not effectively regulated, have increased the dangers and hazards on public highways and make it imperative that more stringent regulation should be employed, to the end that the highways may be rendered safer for the use of the general public; that the wear of such highways may be reduced; that discrimination in rates charged may be eliminated; that congestion of traffic on the highways may be minimized; that the use of the highways for the transportation of property for hire may be restricted to the extent required by the necessity of the general public, and that the various transportation agencies of the State may be adjusted and correlated so that public highways may serve the best interest of the general public.

Rate Setting; Consideration of Competitive Disadvantage

Sec. 22c. The Railroad Commission in setting rates may consider as a factor in rate setting the disadvantage to Texas-produced products from competition from other products because of interstate commerce freight rates.

Repeal of Conflicting Laws; Construction

Sec. 23. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed. Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed as giving legislative sanction to any act that would violate the provisions of the Anti-Trust Laws of Texas except as otherwise provided in this Act. [Acts 1929, 41st Leg., p. 698, ch. 314. Saving Clause

Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 581, ch. 295, § 1 and Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 618, ch. 213, § 1, which amended art. 883, in § 2 thereof repealed conflicting laws but provided that nothing therein should affect the provisions of § 6aa of this article. See notes under art. 883.

Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 572, ch. 290, § 1 amended § 1(g) of this article. Sections 2 and 3 of the amendatory act of 1965 provided:

"Sec. 2. The provisions of this amendment shall not be construed so as to broaden the certificated operating authority of any specialized motor carrier; provided further, that to the extent of any conflict herewith the transportation of oil field equipment shall be governed by the provisions of Section 1(c) as amended by Acts 1963, 58th Legislature, Page 929, Chapter 359, Section 1 [art. 911b, § 1c]; provided further, this amendment shall in no way limit, impair or restrict any power or authority the Commission now has to fix rates and charges on movements between points within any one incorporated city, town or village or commercial zone when such transportation is incident to, or a part of, regulated transportation performed under a through bill of lading or by the same carrier as part of a continuous shipment to or from points beyond such areas.

"Sec. 3. Except as specifically provided in Section 2 hereof all laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed."

Section 15A of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"Declaration of Policy and Findings. The legislature hereby finds with respect to reenactment of Chapter 314, Acts of the 41st Legislature, Regular Session, 1929 (Article 911b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended heretofore and by Sections 15B, 16, 17, and 18 of this Act, that continuation of and improvement in effective regulation of the intrastate motor carrier system are required to achieve the objectives, purposes, and transportation policies of the legislature as stated heretofore and in this Act. The legislature further finds that the amendments enacted in Sections 15B, 16, 17, and 18 of this Act are required to help achieve uniformity in enforcement as between specialized motor carriers, regular route common carriers, and contract carriers."

Art. 911c. Unconstitutional

This article, derived from Acts 1935, 44th Leg., p. 746, ch. 325, §§ 1 to 9, regulating and licensing transportation agents, was held unconstitutional by the Court of Criminal Appeals in Ex parte Talkington, 132 Cr.R. 361, 104 S.W.2d 495, as arbitrary, unreasonable abridgment of citizens' rights and privileges and invasion of their liberty to engage in lawful business, because of unreasonable requirements, impossible to perform, not fairly applicable, and prohibitive.

Art. 911d. Regulation of Motor Bus Ticket BrokersDefinitions

Sec. 1. (a) That the term "corporation" when used in this Act means a corporation, company, association or joint stock association.

(b) The term "person" when used in this Act means an individual, firm, or co-partnership.

(c) The term "motor bus company" when used in this Act means every corporation or person as herein defined, their lessees, trustees, receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating, or managing any motor propelled passenger vehicle, not usually operated on or over rails, and engaged in the business of transporting persons for compensation or hire over the public highways within the State of Texas, under certificates of public convenience and necessity issued by the Railroad Commission of Texas, whether operating over fixed routes or fixed schedules or otherwise; provided further, that the term "motor bus company" as used in this Act shall not include corporations or persons, their lessees, trustees, or receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, insofar as they own, control, operate, or manage motor propelled passenger vehicles operated wholly within the limits of any incorporated municipal corporation, town or city and the suburbs thereof, whether separately incorporated or otherwise.

(d) The term "Commission" when used in this Act means the Railroad Commission of the State of Texas.

(e) The term "broker" as used in this Act shall mean any person, firm, corporation or association of persons whatsoever, who or which, as principal or agent, shall for compensation, sell or offer for sale, transportation for passengers of any character, or who or which make any contract, agreement, or arrangement to provide, furnish, or arrange for such transportation, directly or indirectly, whether by selling of tickets or of information, or the introduction of parties where a consideration is received or otherwise, or who or which shall hold himself or itself out by advertisement, solicitation or otherwise as one who sells, provides, procures, contracts, or arranges for such transportation, information or introduction; provided, however, the term "broker" shall not apply to or include any such person, firm, corporation or association of persons whatsoever unless and until the Railroad Commission of Texas, after notice and hearing, shall have determined, from credible and competent evidence introduced before it or before some person authorized by present laws to conduct hearings for it, that such person, firm, corporation or association of persons has so conducted himself or itself in the course of the acts, transactions and things mentioned in this Sub-section (e) as to bring about a reasonably continuous or customary competition with one or more "motor bus companies," holding one or more certificates of convenience and necessity, duly and properly issued by the Railroad Commission of Texas under Chapter 270, General Laws Fortieth Legislature, 1927, as amended at the First Called Session of the Forty-first Legislature and any and all present and future amendments thereto;¹ provided however, a carrier of passengers by rail shall never be considered a broker.

(e $\frac{1}{2}$) The Railroad Commission of Texas shall have and it is hereby given the power and authority, either upon motion of any interested person or upon its own motion to investigate through a public hearing any person, firm, corporation or association of persons thought to be or charged with being a "broker" as that term is defined herein and to make a determination of the fact question as to whether said status of "broker" actually exists.

The person, firm, corporation, or association of persons sought to be so investigated shall be given at least ten (10) days notice by mail of such hearing and all motor bus companies probably or possibly affected by the asserted competition of such person, firm, corporation or association of persons shall likewise be given the same character of notice by mail and shall be given an opportunity to be heard; and, in addition, the owner or owners of all other existing passenger transportation facilities serving all or a portion of the territory thought to be or charged with being served by the person, firm, corporation, or association of persons under investigation shall be given the same character of written notice and, they along with any other interested party, shall be given an opportunity to be heard. The notice mentioned shall be not less than ten (10) days exclusive of the day of mailing.

Before the Commission determines that a person, firm, corporation or association of persons is a "broker" as that term is defined herein, it shall make findings, based on competent and credible testimony that the said person, firm, corporation or association of persons has customarily or with reasonable continuity brought about competition in the transportation of persons for hire between one or more motor bus companies, which have theretofore been duly and properly issued one or more certificates of public convenience and necessity, on the one hand, and other motor vehicles, not so certificated, on the other hand.

Certain Sales Prohibited

Sec. 2. It shall be unlawful for any broker or anyone else to sell any ticket or tickets for the transportation of passengers within this State over any motor bus company's line at any rates other than the rates legally authorized and approved by the Commission.

Broker's License Required

Sec. 3. No broker shall for compensation sell or offer for sale, transportation for passengers of any character, nor make any contract, agreement, or arrangement to provide, procure, furnish, or arrange for such transportation, directly or indirectly, whether by the selling of tickets, or of information, or the introduction of parties where a consideration is received or otherwise, nor shall hold himself or itself out by advertisement, solicitation, or otherwise as one who sells, provides, procures, contracts or arranges for such transportation or information unless such broker holds a broker's license issued by the Railroad Commission of Texas authorizing such activities; provided further that the provisions hereof shall not apply to transportation of passengers on steamship lines operating between ports of this State and ports of the United States and ports of any foreign company, and transportation of passengers of any authorized carrier or carriers operating in either interstate or intrastate transportation; and provided further that nothing herein contained shall in any manner affect the rights of private individuals as a mere incident to travel who are not brokers to enter into agreements or arrangements for transportation on a share-expense plan where in such negotiations or arrangements the services of an unlicensed broker, as herein defined, do not intervene or are not used.

License, To Whom Issued, Etc.

Sec. 4. A broker's license may be issued to any qualified applicant therefor upon application to the Commission in such form as the Commission shall prescribe, authorizing the whole or any part of the operation covered by the application, if it is found that the applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform the services proposed and to conform to the requirements, rules and regulations of the Commission promulgated hereunder, and within the limits hereof, and that the proposed service to the extent authorized by the license, is, or will be consistent with the public interest; otherwise, such application shall be denied. Any broker in bona fide operation when this Act takes effect shall have a period of thirty (30) days thereafter within which to apply for a broker's license, and if such application be filed such broker, if in bona fide operation when this Act takes effect may continue such operation under such rules and regulations, as the Commission may prescribe within the limits of this Act, until such application be by the Commission determined.

Nature and Effect of License

Sec. 5. The license herein provided for shall be personal in nature and shall not be sold, transferred, nor assigned. No broker shall be authorized to have more than one place of business, the location of which shall be designated in the license as issued by the Commission and no broker shall be authorized to change the location of his business without the approval of the Commission. If a broker dies, discontinues business for a period of thirty (30) days, or removes from the county where such license was issued, the license shall immediately become void and shall be by the Commission cancelled.

Tariff Rates Applicable to Brokers

Sec. 6. All brokers in transporting or causing to be transported passengers on the highways of Texas shall be bound by the tariffs, fares and rates approved of by the Railroad Commission of Texas covering the transportation for hire of persons over the highways of Texas; and shall not, directly or indirectly, transport or cause to be transported over State Highways any person at a greater or lesser fare or rate than that approved of by the Commission save and except that any broker shall be allowed a reasonable brokerage for his services but said brokerage and all details and particulars in connection therewith, including who shall pay such brokerage, shall be first approved of by the Commission.

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 7. The Commission shall have power, after proper notice and hearing, in a manner hereinafter more particularly set forth, to make, adopt and enforce any reasonable rules and regulations, and to enforce the same, which may be necessary in assisting it to determine just who are and who are not brokers and in enforcing observance of its duly authorized and approved rates, tariffs and fares and in inspecting and approving brokerage charges to be charged by brokers for their services as such and in seeing to it that passengers are not transported in vehicles and under circumstances wherein and whereunder they are unprotected against injury and damage to person and property during such transportation or as a proximate result thereof and in assisting it in otherwise exercising the powers expressly given it or necessarily implied from and by this Act.

Broker's Bond

Sec. 8. Each broker, prior to the issuance of any license to him, shall file a bond or other security with the Commission and shall procure its approval of the same conditioned in such fashion that the State of Texas, through its Attorney General or any District or County Attorney, may proceed against said bond or other security and the principals and sureties thereon for a recovery of all money representing the difference between the money actually paid by any and all persons for such transportation arranged for by the broker, on the one hand, and the money which should have been paid under the applicable tariffs, rates and fares theretofore approved of by the Commission, on the other hand, plus a penalty of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars for each person so transported at the instigation of the broker at a lesser or greater charge or fare than the Commission's duly and properly approved tariff, rate or fare; and further conditioned in such fashion that the Attorney General or any District or County Attorney may similarly proceed for a recovery of all money representing the difference between the money actually collected by said broker as for his brokerage, on the one hand, and the money which should have been collected by him as for brokerage under the Commission's duly approved rate of brokerage, on the other hand, plus a penalty of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars on each passenger connected with the broker, but with respect to whom the broker failed, refused or neglected to collect the proper brokerage previously fixed or approved of by the Commission. All money recovered, either as differences between money actually collected and that which should have been collected as penalties under this Section 8, shall become the property of, and be owned by, the State of Texas, as a penalty and not as a forfeiture.

Vehicles to be Bonded for Damages Due to Injuries

Sec. 9. No broker shall have any part in transporting, or causing to be transported, any person, for hire, over the highways of Texas, except in a vehicle and under circumstances wherein and whereunder such passenger and his heirs, his estate and his beneficiaries are fully protected by security, bond or insurance, to be approved by the Commission, against damage, loss and injury resulting from loss of or damage to property possessed by such passenger during such transportation, or as a proximate result thereof; and, as well, against damage, loss and injury resulting from such passenger's personal injury or death during such transportation; or as a proximate result thereof; and, if any such passenger, his heirs, his estate or his beneficiaries, be damaged or injured in his person or rights or property as a result of such passenger's being transported in such unprotected manner, then those entitled to a recovery by reason of such unprotected transportation, in the event they cannot make themselves whole by proceeding against the actual hauler or carrier, shall be entitled to proceed against the broker, insurer, bond or other security and the principal and sureties thereon to the extent necessary to make them and each of them whole; and each broker's bond, insurance or other security shall be so conditioned; and each broker shall be required to furnish or renew such insurance, bond or other security as may be, and to the extent necessary from time to time, and as may be ordered by the Commission to effectuate all of the protection for the State and for such other persons as are mentioned in this Section; and such insurance, bond or other security shall be further conditioned in such fashion that, if and when any passenger, through no fault of his own, has not been carried over the route called for by the agreement with the broker, or has not been carried all of the way to the destination agreed upon with the broker, then the party or parties injured or damaged by such deviation from route or by such failure to carry the passenger through to his destination, in the event they cannot make themselves whole by proceeding against the actual hauler or carrier, shall be fully protected by, and shall be allowed to proceed against, the broker, insurance, bond or other security and the insurer, principal or sureties thereon to the extent necessary to make the injured or damaged party or parties whole.

Powers of Commission Concerning Rules, Etc.

Sec. 10. The Railroad Commission of Texas shall have and it is hereby given power and authority to adopt, approve, promulgate and enforce rules and regulations to the extent necessary, and only to the extent necessary, to aid and assist it in carrying out the express and necessarily implied powers granted it by this Act; but before adopting, approving, promulgating or enforcing any such rules and regulations, a copy thereof shall be sent by mail to each person, firm, corporation and association of persons known or thought by the Commission to have an interest in the subject matter of such rules and regulations; and in addition such proposed rules and regulations shall be published on three successive days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in each of the Cities of San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Texarkana, Amarillo and Brownsville, Texas, and in each such notice and publication the Commission shall give all interested persons, firms, corporations and associations of persons express notice that it intends to adopt, approve, promulgate, and enforce such proposed rules and regulations and that a public hearing will be held thereon in Austin, Texas, at a given hour and date, for the purpose of hearing any and all objections thereto and any and all evidence and statements and arguments in regard thereto and for the purpose of making any and all necessary changes, eliminations and amendments in and to such published and proposed rules and regulations; and in such notices and publications all interested parties shall be given notice to be and appear at the given time and place for the purpose of such a hearing. At any and all such hearings the Commission shall give all interested parties an opportunity to present evidence, statements and arguments for and against the adoption of the proposed rules and regulations. And the Commission shall adopt or reject such rules and regulations, in whole or in part, as it shall deem proper; but its action shall be reasonable, and shall be based upon the substantial effect of the record made at such hearing, or upon the substantial effect of its other records of which it may take notice under present laws. The hearing contemplated shall be held at least ten (10) days from the mailing of the notices exclusive of the day of mailing, and at least ten (10) days from the appearance of the last notice in said newspapers or either of them.

Broker's Records

Sec. 11. Each and every broker shall keep an accurate record of each and every contract, agreement, or arrangement for transportation which he or it may make with every person traveling, or desiring to travel, with whom the broker may contract or arrange transportation, on such form and containing such information as the Commission may prescribe and require. Such record shall be open to inspection to any sheriff, constable, County or District Attorney, and to any officer, agent, inspector, or other employee of the Railroad Commission at all times. Such records shall not be destroyed until after the expiration of three (3) years, and then only after an order of the Commission authorizing the destruction thereof.

Hearing and Fee for License

Sec. 12. No application for a broker's license shall be granted until after hearing thereof, notice of which shall be given to all motor bus companies serving the territory proposed to be served by applicant, and to the County Judge and District and County Attorney of the county in which applicant resides, at least ten (10) days prior to the date of such hearing, at which hearing any interested party may appear and be heard. Each application for a broker's license shall be accompanied by a filing fee of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars, which shall be payable to the State Treasurer at Austin, and shall be by the State Treasurer deposited in the State Treasury and credited to the fund known and designated as the "Motor Transportation Fund," and be used in administering this Act. Each person, firm, corporation, or association of persons holding a broker's license under the terms of this Act, shall on the first day of January of each and every year that such license is in effect, pay to the State Treasurer a fee of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars, which shall be deposited in and become a part of the General Revenues of the State; and such brokers shall not be authorized to transact any business in any calendar year until such fee is paid, and if not paid on or before the first day of March of any year, such license shall be automatically cancelled.

Powers of Commission, In General

Sec. 13. The Commission shall have the power and authority under this Act to hear and determine all applications of brokers for a license; to determine complaints presented to it by brokers, by any public official or by any citizen having an interest in the subject matter of the complaints; or it may institute an investigation in any matter pertaining to brokers upon its own motion. The Commission, or any member thereof, or authorized representative of the Commission, shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, swear witnesses, take their testimony under oath and make a record thereof, and if such record is made under the direction of a Commissioner, or authorized representative of the Commission, a majority of the Commission may, upon the record, render judgment as if the case had been heard before a majority of the members of the Commission. The Commission shall have the power and authority under this Act to do and perform all necessary things to carry out the purpose, intent, and provisions of this Act, and to that end may hold hearings at any place in Texas which it may designate.

Review of Commission's Orders or Decisions

Sec. 14. The applicant for a broker's license, any motor bus company, or any other interested person, if he or it be dissatisfied with any decision, rule, order, act, or regulation adopted by the Commission, such dissatisfied person, association, corporation, or party may file a petition setting forth the particular objection to such decision, rule, order, act or regulation, or to either or all of them in the district court of the plaintiff's residence or principal place of business, against said Commission as defendant. Said action shall have precedence over all other causes on the docket, of a different nature, and shall be tried and determined as other civil causes in said court; either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause, and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause, and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending; provided, that if the court be in session at the time such right of action accrues, the suit may be filed during such term and stand ready for trial after ten days notice. In all trials under this Section, the burden of proof shall rest upon the plaintiff, who must show by the preponderance of the evidence that the decisions, regulations, rules, orders, and acts are unreasonable and unjust to it or them. The Commission shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder, and no injunction shall be granted against any order of the Commission without hearing, unless it shall clearly appear that irreparable injury will be done the complaining party if the injunction is not granted.

Violation of Act; Penalty

Sec. 15. Any person, corporation, or any officer, agent, servant, or employee of any such corporation, and every other person who violates or fails to comply with, or who procures, aids or abets in the violation of this Act, or any rule, regulation, order or decree of the Commission promulgated under the terms of this Act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than One Hundred ($100) Dollars and not to exceed Two Hundred ($200) Dollars and the violations occurring on each day shall each constitute a separate offense. Any authorized inspector for the Railroad Commission, and all law enforcement officers of the State, shall have power and authority, and it shall be their duty, to make arrests for the violation of any of the provisions of this Act.

Cancellation of License

Sec. 16. The Railroad Commission may in its discretion, after ten days notice and a hearing, cancel any license issued under the provisions of this Act for the violation of this or any other statute of this State, the violation of any lawful order, rule or regulation promulgated by the Commission under authority hereof, or for any failure of any broker to discharge any and all claims or demands of any member of the public for which such broker may be legally liable, by reason of any act of such broker in selling, providing, procuring, contracting, or arranging for such transportation, information, or introduction under the terms of this Act.

Repeal of Conflicting Laws

Sec. 17. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are expressly repealed.

Severability

Sec. 18. If any Section, sub-section, clause, sentence, or phrase of this Act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional and invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the Act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this Act and each Section, subsection, clause, sentence, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the Sections, sub-sections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Declaration of Policy

Sec. 19. The Legislature finds that there has grown up in this State a type of business in which transportation is sold or arranged for in various forms, consisting of the selling or giving of information with respect to travel and transportation, the introduction of parties, and various other methods and practices, which interferes with and obstructs the functions of the Railroad Commission of Texas in connection with its control of motor bus companies holding certificates of public convenience and necessity issued by said Commission, and which is hazardous and dangerous to the public health, morals and general welfare, and that passengers are often stranded by drivers of cars to whom they had paid money for transportation, and other fees or commissions, for being brought into contact with the drivers of such cars, and that this often occurs when such passengers are far from home and friends and left to complete their journey any way they can; that passengers after beginning a journey are often required to pay additional money or buy supplies in order to complete their journey; that passengers are often carried over long and circuitous routes contrary to representations made to them; that there has developed a class of irresponsible persons who operate automobiles from place to place with no destination and no motive except to transport persons as passengers for hire, who have no insurance to protect a passenger for personal injury or loss or damage to property, and who are unable to respond in damages; that passengers are subjected to indignities and insults; that irregularities and abuses require the regulations and policing of broker's operations, and that such regulation is necessary in the interest of the health, moral and general welfare of the people of this State.

Art. 911e. Unconstitutional

This article, derived from Acts 1941, 47th Leg., p. 606, ch. 375, was held unconstitutional by the Court of Criminal Appeals in Ex parte Garland, 154 S.W.2d 834.

Art. 911f. Motor Transportation Brokers of Fresh Citrus Fruits and Vegetables

Legislative Declaration; Regulation and Control of Intermediaries

Sec. 1. The Legislature declares that the public welfare requires the regulation and control of those persons, whether acting individually or as officers, commission agents, or employees of any person, firm, or corporation, who hold themselves out to act as intermediaries between the public and those motor carriers of fresh citrus fruits (as that term is defined by Acts 1963, 58th Legislature, page 312, Chapter 117)¹ and fresh vegetables (as that term is defined by Acts 1963, 58th Legislature, page 598, chapter 218)² operating over the public highways of the state, for compensation. Until the Congress of the United States acts, the public welfare requires the regulation and control of such intermediaries between the public and interstate motor carriers as well as between the public and intrastate carriers.

² Repealed; see, now, Agriculture Code, § 101.001 et seq.

Sec. 2. In this Act the following words shall mean:

(1) "Motor transportation broker"—any person who, acting either individually or as an officer, commission agent, or employee of a corporation, or as a member of a copartnership, or as a commission agent or employee of another person, sells or offers for sale, or negotiates for or holds himself out as one who sells, furnishes, or provides, transportation of fresh citrus fruits and fresh vegetables over the public highways of this state, when such transportation is furnished, or offered or proposed to be furnished, by a motor carrier.

(2) "Motor carrier"—any person, firm, or corporation, their lessee, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, transporting or offering or proposing to transport fresh citrus fruits and fresh vegetables for compensation over any portion of the public highways of the state.

(3) "Commission"—the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Application of Act

Sec. 3. This Act shall not apply to the officers, agents, or employees of any carrier operating for compensation over the public highways of this state who is under the jurisdiction of the commission, or to a person, firm, or corporation engaged in transporting express when such transportation is incidental to the transportation of passengers.

The provisions of this Chapter shall apply whether the transportation sold, or offered to be sold, is interstate or intrastate.

License; Necessity; Power to Regulate Issuance of License

Sec. 4. It is unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to engage in the business, or act in the capacity, of a motor transportation broker without first obtaining a license therefor. The commission may administer this Act, with full power to regulate and control the issuance and revocation of motor transportation broker licenses, and may perform all other acts and duties provided in this Act and necessary for its enforcement.

Copartnerships and Corporations; Agents or Employees; Joinder in Application

Sec. 5. The commission shall not issue a motor transportation broker license to any copartnership or corporation, it being the intent of this Act to require each person acting as a motor transportation broker to be individually licensed. If an applicant is an officer or commission agent or employee of a corporation, or a member of any copartnership, he shall so state in his application. The corporation, copartnership, or person of which the applicant is an officer, member, or employee, as the case may be, shall join in the applicant's application and shall set forth therein the relationship between the applicant and the person, copartnership, or corporation so joining.

Form of Application; Contents

Sec. 6. An application for a license as a motor transportation broker shall be made in writing to the commission. The application shall be verified and shall be in such form and contain such information as the commission from time to time requires.

Issuance of License; Refusal of License; Hearing

Sec. 7. The commission, without a hearing, may issue the license as prayed for. The commission, with a hearing, may refuse to issue the license or may issue it for the partial exercise of the privilege sought. The commission shall not issue a license when it determines that (a) the applicant is not a fit and proper person to receive the license, or (b) the motor carriers for whom the applicant proposes to sell transportation have not complied, or are not complying, or do not propose to comply, with state or federal laws, or all general orders of the commission, applicable to the operations of the motor carrier.

Bond

Sec. 8. No license shall be issued unless the applicant therefor provides a good and sufficient bond in the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) executed by a solvent bonding company authorized to do business in the State of Texas, payable to the State of Texas or to any person to whom the applicant furnishes transportation, and be conditioned:

(a) Upon the faithful performance, by the motor carrier or motor carriers for whom the applicant is licensed to act, of the contract or agreement of transportation negotiated by the licensee; and

(b) Upon the honest and faithful performance by the applicant of any undertaking as a licensed motor carrier transportation agent under this Act.

Limitation on Liability; Actions on Bond

Sec. 9. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to impose upon the surety on any such bond a greater liability than the total amount thereof or the amount remaining unextinguished by any prior recovery.

No suit or action against the surety on any such bond given in compliance with this Act shall be brought later than one (1) year from the accrual of the cause of action thereon. The surety may terminate its liability under the bond by giving thirty (30) days written notice thereof, served either personally or by registered mail, to the principal and to the commission. Upon giving the notice the surety is discharged from all liability under the bond for any act or omission of the principal occurring after the expiration of thirty (30) days from the date of the service of the notice. Unless on or before the expiration of such period the principal files a new bond in like amount and conditioned as the original in substitution of the bond so terminated, the license of the principal shall likewise terminate upon the expiration of the period.

Transfer or Assignment of License

Sec. 10. No license issued pursuant to this Act gives authority to do any act for which the license is issued, to any person, other than the licensee. The license is not transferable or assignable. No such license authorizes the licensee to do business except in the location stipulated in the license.

Fees

Sec. 11. The fees for licenses, and each renewal thereof, are Five Dollars ($5) a year, or fraction thereof. All applications for licenses shall be accompanied by the fee, and all licenses, subject to the provisions for renewal, which the commission prescribes, shall expire on September 30th of each year.

All fees charged and collected under this Act shall be deposited at least once a month in the State Treasury to the credit of the commission and in augmentation of the current appropriation for the support of the commission, and may be expended by the commission for the administration of this Act.

Insuring Property

Sec. 12. Each broker licensee provided for in this Act shall insure any property for which he has sold transportation with a solvent insurer authorized to do business in the State of Texas, for the protection of both the shipper and receiver of such property.

Powers of Commission; Proceedings

Sec. 13. All powers vested in the commission relating to hearing and determining matters presented to it, are made applicable to the proceedings under the provisions of this Act.

Suspension or Revocation of License

Sec. 14. The commission may suspend or revoke any license if it determines that the licensee is not a fit and proper person to hold the license, or if the commission determines that the licensee, in acting as motor transportation broker, has engaged in false advertising and false representation in violation of the laws of this state, or any political subdivision thereof, or has sold, offered for sale, or negotiated for sale, transportation by any carrier that under the laws of this state is conducted in a manner contrary to the public interest, or without proper authority, or in violation of the provisions of this Act or the general orders or rules of the commission pertaining thereto.

Complaints for Violations; Prosecutions

Sec. 15. The commission may prefer a complaint for violation of this Act before any court of competent jurisdiction and the commission and its counsel, or other official representatives, may assist in presenting facts at the trial. It is the duty of the district attorney of each county in this state to prosecute all violations of the provisions of this Act in their respective counties in which the violations occur, either with or without the request of the commission.

Records; Inspection

Sec. 16. All motor transportation brokers shall maintain and keep for a period of two (2) years an exact and permanent record of all transactions had by them as such brokers, including the amount paid to the broker for all property transported, the point of destination, and the name of the person, firm or corporation acting as motor carrier. The records shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by any officer or agent of the state or of any county within the state.

Acting as Motor Transportation Broker

Sec. 17. Any person, firm, or corporation, shall be understood to be acting as a motor transportation broker who:

(a) Orally or by card, circular, pamphlet, newspaper, radio, sign, billboard, or any other way, advertises himself, or itself, as one who sells, furnishes, negotiates for, or provides transportation over the public highways of this state when the transportation is furnished or offered, or proposed to be furnished, by motor carriers.

(b) Manages or conducts as a manager, conductor, agent, proprietor, lessor, lessee, or otherwise, a place where transportation is, or is offered, or proposed to be, sold, furnished, negotiated for, or provided by a motor carrier.

(c) Aids and abets, or without being present advises and encourages any person, firm, or corporation in acting as, or to act as, a motor transportation broker.

One act of the nature set forth in this Section shall constitute a person, firm, or corporation doing or committing the act, a motor transportation broker.

Acting Without License; Punishment

Sec. 18. Any person, firm, or corporation, acting as a motor transportation broker without a license is, upon conviction of a first offense thereof, if a person, punishable by a fine of not to exceed Five Hundred Dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed six (6) months, or both, or if a corporation, punishable by a fine of not to exceed Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($2,500); and for a second and subsequent offense is, upon conviction, if a person, punishable by a fine of not to exceed One Thousand Dollars ($1,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail or state prison for a term not to exceed one (1) year, or both, or, if a corporation, is punishable by a fine of not to exceed Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000).

Violation of Act; Punishment

Sec. 19. Any person, licensed as a motor transportation broker, who violates any of the provisions of this Act, is upon conviction, punishable by a fine not to exceed Five Hundred Dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in a county jail not to exceed six (6) months, or both; and in addition thereto, the license as motor transportation broker shall be revoked by the commission.

Right of Action by State or Commission; Cumulative Penalties

Sec. 20. This Act shall not have the effect to release or waive any right of action by the state, the commission, or any person or corporation, for any fine, penalty, or forfeits which may have arisen or accrued, or may hereafter arise or accrue, under any laws of this state. All penalties accruing under this Act are cumulative.

Art. 911g. Motor Transportation of Migrant Agricultural Workers

Definitions

Sec. 1. As used in this Act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Migrant agricultural worker" means any person performing or seeking to perform farm labor and who is a seasonal worker and who occupies living quarters other than his own permanent home during the period of employment. For this purpose, the term "farm labor" includes that necessary to the processing of agricultural food products.

(b) "Carrier of migrant agricultural workers by motor vehicle" means any person, including any "contract by motor vehicle," but not including any "common carrier by motor vehicle," who or which transports within this state at any one time five or more migrant agricultural workers to or from their employment by any motor vehicle other than a passenger automobile or station wagon, except a migrant agricultural worker transporting himself or his immediate family.

(c) "Motor carrier" means any carrier of migrant agricultural workers by motor vehicle as defined in Paragraph (b) above.

(d) "Motor vehicle" means any vehicle, machine, tractor, trailer, or semitrailer propelled or drawn by mechanical power and used upon the highways in the transportation of passengers or property, or any combination thereof, but does not include a passenger automobile or station wagon, any vehicle, locomotive, or car operated exclusively on a rail or rails, or a trolley bus operated by electric power derived from a fixed overhead wire, furnishing local passenger transportation in street-railway service.

(e) "Bus" means any motor vehicle designed, constructed, and used for the transportation of passengers, except passenger automobiles or station wagons other than taxicabs.

(f) "Truck" means any self-propelled motor vehicle except a truck tractor, designed and constructed primarily for the transportation of property.

(g) "Truck tractor" means a self-propelled motor vehicle designed and used primarily for drawing other vehicles and not so constructed as to carry a load other than a part of the weight of the vehicle and load so drawn.

(h) "Semitrailer" means any motor vehicle other than a "pole trailer" with or without motive power, designed to be drawn by another motor vehicle and so constructed that some part of its weight rests upon the towing vehicle.

(i) "Driver or operator" means any person who drives a motor vehicle.

(j) "Highway" means the entire width between the boundary lines of every way publicly maintained when any part thereof is open to the use of the public for purposes of vehicular traffic.

Application of Act

Sec. 2. The regulations prescribed in this Act shall be applicable to motor carriers of migrant agricultural workers only in the case of transportation of any migrant worker for a total distance of more than 50 miles.

Drivers; Requirements

Sec. 3. Every motor carrier of migrant agricultural workers and its officers, agents, representatives and employees who drive motor vehicles or are responsible for the hiring, supervision, training, assignment or dispatching of drivers shall comply with and be conversant with the requirements listed herein.

(a) Minimum physical requirements. No person shall drive, nor shall any motor carrier require or permit any person to drive, any motor vehicle unless he possesses the following minimum qualifications:

- (1) No loss of foot, leg, hand, or arm.
- (2) No mental, nervous, organic, or functional disease, likely to interfere with safe driving.
- (3) No loss of fingers, impairment of use of foot, leg, fingers, hand or arm, or other structural defect or limitation likely to interfere with safe driving.

(4) Eyesight: Visual acuity of at least 20/40 (Snellen) in each eye either without glasses or by correction with glasses; form field of vision in the horizontal median shall not be less than a total of 140 degrees; ability to distinguish colors, red, green and yellow; drivers requiring correction by glasses shall wear properly prescribed glasses at all times when driving.

(5) Hearing: Hearing shall not be less than 10/20 in the better ear, for conversational tones, without a hearing aid.

(6) Liquor, narcotics and drugs: Shall not be addicted to the use of narcotics or habit forming drugs, or the excessive use of alcoholic beverages or liquors.

(7) Initial and periodic physical examination of drivers: No person shall drive nor shall any motor carrier require or permit any person to drive any motor vehicle unless within the immediately preceding 36-month period such person shall have been physically examined and shall have been certified in accordance with the provisions of Subparagraph (8) hereof by a licensed doctor of medicine or osteopathy as meeting the requirements of this subsection.

(8) Certificate of physical examination: Every motor carrier shall have in its files at its principal place of business for every driver employed or used by it a legible certificate of a licensed doctor of medicine or osteopathy based on a physical examination as required by Subparagraph (7) hereof or a legible photographically reproduced copy thereof, and every driver shall have in his possession while driving, such a certificate or a photographically reproduced copy thereof covering himself.

(9) Doctor's certificate: The doctor's certificate shall certify as follows:

"Doctor's Certificate

(Driver of Migrant Agricultural Workers)

This is to certify that I have this day examined _____ in accordance with the Texas law governing physical qualifications of drivers of migrant agricultural workers and that I find him

Qualified under said law

Qualified only when wearing glasses

I have kept on file in my office a completed examination.

(Signature of Examining Doctor)

(Address of Doctor)

Signature of Driver _____

Address of Driver _____"

(b) Minimum age and experience requirements. No person shall drive nor shall any motor carrier require or permit any person to drive, any motor vehicle unless such person possesses the following minimum qualifications:

- (1) Age: Minimum age shall be 21 years.¹
- (2) Driving skill: Experience in driving some type of motor vehicle (including private automobiles) for not less than one year, including experience throughout the four seasons.
- (3) Knowledge of regulations: Familiarity with the rules and regulations prescribed in the law pertaining to the driving of motor vehicles.
- (4) Driver's permit: Possession of a valid permit qualifying the driver to operate the type of vehicle driven by him in the jurisdiction by which the permit is issued.

Safety Regulations

Sec. 4. Every motor carrier shall comply with the requirements of this section, shall instruct its officers, agents, representatives and drivers with respect thereto, and shall take such measures as are necessary to insure compliance therewith by such persons. All officers, agents, representatives, drivers and employees of motor carriers directly concerned with the management, maintenance, operation, or driving of motor vehicles, shall comply with and be conversant with the requirements of this section.

(a) Driving rules to be obeyed. Every motor vehicle shall be driven in accordance with the laws, ordinances, and regulations of the jurisdiction in which it is being operated, unless such laws, ordinances and regulations are at variance with specific regulations in this law which impose a greater affirmative obligation or restraint.

(b) Driving while ill or fatigued. No driver shall drive or be required or permitted to drive a motor vehicle while his ability or alertness is so impaired through fatigue, illness, or any other cause as to make it unsafe for him to begin or continue to drive, except in case of grave emergency where the hazard to passengers would be increased by observance of this section and then only to the nearest point at which the safety of the passengers is assured.

(c) Schedules to conform with speed limits. No motor carrier shall permit nor require the operation of any motor vehicle between points in such a period of time as would necessitate the vehicle being operated at speeds greater than those prescribed by the jurisdictions in or through which the vehicle is being operated.

(d) Equipment and emergency devices. No motor vehicle shall be driven unless the driver thereof shall have satisfied himself that the following parts, accessories, and emergency devices are in good working order; nor shall any driver fail to use or make use of such parts, accessories, and devices when and as needed:

Service brakes, including trailer brake connections.

Parking (hand) brake.

Steering mechanism.

Lighting devices and reflectors.

Tires.

Horn.

Windshield wiper or wipers.

Rear-vision mirror or mirrors.

Coupling devices.

Fire extinguisher, at least one properly mounted.

Road warning devices, at least one red burning fusee and at least three red flares (oil burning pot torches), red electric lanterns, or red emergency reflectors.

(e) Safe loading. (1) Distribution and securing of load: No motor vehicle shall be driven nor shall any motor carrier permit or require any motor vehicle to be driven if it is so loaded, or if the load thereon is so improperly distributed or so inadequately secured, as to prevent its safe operation.

(2) Doors, tarpaulins, tailgates and other equipment: No motor vehicle shall be driven unless the tailgate, tailboard, tarpaulins, doors, all equipment and rigging used in the operation of said vehicle, and all means of fastening the load, are securely in place.

(3) Interference with driver: No motor vehicle shall be driven when any object obscures his view ahead, or to the right or left sides; or to the rear, or interferes with the free movement of his arms or legs, or prevents his free and ready access to the accessories required for emergencies, or prevents the free and ready exit of any person from the cab or driver's compartment.

(4) Property on motor vehicles: No vehicle transporting persons and property shall be driven unless such property is stowed in a manner that will assure:

(i) unrestricted freedom of motion to the driver for proper operation of the vehicle;

(ii) unobstructed passage to all exits by any person; and

(iii) adequate protection to passengers and others from injury as a result of the displacement or falling of such articles.

(5) Maximum passengers on motor vehicle: If the trip is for a total of 50 miles or more, no motor vehicle shall be driven if the total number of passengers exceeds the seating capacity which will be permitted on seats prescribed in Section 5 when that section is effective. All passengers carried on such vehicle shall remain seated while the motor vehicle is in motion.

(f) Rest and meal stops. Every carrier shall provide for reasonable rest stops at least once between meal stops. Meal stops shall be made at intervals not to exceed six hours and shall be for a period of not less than 30 minutes duration.

(g) Kinds of motor vehicles in which agricultural workers may be transported. Workers may be transported in or on only the following types of motor vehicles: a bus, a truck with no trailer attached, or a semitrailer attached to a truck tractor provided that no other trailer is attached to the semitrailer. Closed vans without windows or means to assure ventilation shall not be used.

(h) Limitation on distance of travel in trucks. Any truck when used for the transportation of migrant workers, if such workers are being transported in excess of 500 miles, shall be stopped for a period of not less than eight consecutive hours either before or upon completion of 500 miles of travel, and either before or upon completion of any subsequent 500 miles of travel to provide rest for drivers and passengers.

(i) Lighting devices and reflectors. No motor vehicles shall be driven when any of the required lamps or reflectors are obscured by the tailboard, by any part of the load, by dirt, or otherwise, and all lighting devices required by law shall be lighted during darkness or at any other time when there is not sufficient light to render vehicles and persons visible upon the highway at a distance of 500 feet.

(j) Ignition of fuel; prevention. No driver or any employee of a motor carrier shall: (1) fuel a motor vehicle with the engine running, except when it is necessary to run the engine to fuel the vehicle; (2) smoke or expose any open flame in the vicinity of a vehicle being fueled; (3) fuel a motor vehicle unless the nozzle of the fuel hose is continuously in contact with the intake pipe of the fuel tank; (4) permit any other person to engage in such activities as would be likely to result in fire or explosion.

(k) Reserve fuel. No supply of fuel for the propulsion of any motor vehicle or for the operation of any accessory thereof shall be carried on the motor vehicle except in a properly mounted fuel tank or tanks.

(l) Driving by unauthorized person. Except in case of emergency, no driver shall permit a motor vehicle to which he is assigned to be driven by any person not authorized to drive such vehicle by the motor carrier in control thereof.

(m) Protection of passengers from weather. No motor vehicle shall be driven while transporting passengers unless the passengers therein are protected from inclement weather conditions such as rain, snow, or sleet, by use of the top or protective devices required in Section 5 hereof.

(n) Unattended vehicles; precautions. No motor vehicle shall be left unattended by the driver until the parking brake has been securely set, the wheels chocked, and all reasonable precautions have been taken to prevent the movement of such vehicle.

(o) Railroad grade crossings; stopping required; sign on rear of vehicle. Every motor vehicle carrying migrant agricultural workers as defined in this Act, shall, upon approaching any railroad grade crossing, make a full stop not more than 50 feet, nor less than 15 feet from the nearest rail of such railroad grade crossing, and shall not proceed until due caution has been taken to ascertain that the course is clear; except that a full stop need not be made at:

(1) A streetcar crossing within a business or residence district of a municipality.

(2) A railroad grade crossing where a police officer or a traffic-control signal (not a railroad flashing signal) directs traffic to proceed.

(3) An abandoned or exempted grade crossing which is clearly marked as such by or with the consent of the proper state authority, when such marking can be read from the driver's position.

All such motor vehicles shall display a sign on the rear reading, "This Vehicle Stops at Railroad Crossings."

Vehicles; Equipment

Sec. 5. Every motor carrier engaged in transporting migrant workers, its officers, agents, drivers, representatives, and employees directly concerned with the installation and maintenance of equipment and accessories, shall comply and be conversant with the requirements and specifications of this section, and no motor carrier engaged in transporting migrant workers shall operate any motor vehicle, or cause or permit it to be operated, unless it is equipped in accordance with said requirements and specifications.

(a) Lighting devices. Every motor vehicle shall be equipped with the lighting devices and reflectors required by law in this state.

(b) Brakes. Every motor vehicle shall be equipped with brakes as required by the laws of this state.

(c) Coupling devices; fifth wheel mounting and locking. The lower half of every fifth wheel mounted on any truck tractor or dolly shall be securely affixed to the frame thereof by U-bolts of adequate size, securely tightened, or by other means providing at least equivalent security. Such U-bolts shall not be of welded construction. The installation shall be such as not to cause cracking, warping, or deformation of the frame. Adequate means shall be provided positively to prevent the shifting of the lower half of the fifth wheel on the frame to which it is attached. The upper half of every fifth wheel shall be fastened to the motor vehicle with at least the security required for the securing of the lower half to the truck tractor or dolly. Locking means shall be provided in every fifth wheel mechanism including adapters when used, so that the upper and lower halves may not be separated without the operation of a positive manual release. A release mechanism operated by the driver from the cab shall be deemed to meet this requirement. On fifth wheels designed and constructed as to be readily separable, the fifth wheel locking devices shall apply automatically on coupling for any motor vehicle the date of manufacture of which is subsequent to December 31, 1952.

(d) Tires. Every motor vehicle shall be equipped with tires of adequate capacity to support its gross weight. No motor vehicle shall be operated on tires which have been worn so smooth as to expose any tread fabric or which have any other defect likely to cause failure. No vehicle shall be operated while transporting passengers while using any tire which does not have tread configurations on that part of the tire which is in contact with the road surface. No vehicle transporting passengers shall be operated with regrooved, recapped, or retreaded tires on front wheels.

(e) Passenger compartment. Every motor vehicle transporting passengers, other than a bus, shall have a passenger compartment meeting the following requirements:

(1) Floors: A substantially smooth floor, without protruding obstructions more than two inches high, except as are necessary for the securing of seats or other devices to the floor, and without cracks or holes.

(2) Sides: Side walls and ends above the floor at least 60 inches high, by attachment of sideboards to the permanent body construction if necessary. Stake body construction shall be construed to comply with this requirement only if all six-inch or larger spaces between stakes are suitably closed to prevent passengers from falling off the vehicle.

(3) Nails, screws, splinters: The floor and the interior of the sides and ends of the passenger-carrying space shall be free of inwardly protruding nails, screws, splinters, or other projecting objects, likely to be injurious to passengers or their apparel.

(4) Seats: On and after November 1, 1969, a seat shall be provided for each worker transported if the total trip is for 100 miles or more. The seats shall be: securely attached to the vehicle during the course of transportation; not less than 16 inches nor more than 19 inches above the floor; at least 13 inches deep; equipped with backrests extending to a height of at least 36 inches above the floor, with at least 24 inches of space between the backrests or between the edges of the opposite seats when face to face; designed to provide at least 18 inches of seat for each passenger; without cracks more than one-fourth inch wide, and the backrests, if slatted, without cracks more than two inches wide, and the exposed surfaces, if made of wood, planed or sanded smooth and free of splinters.

(5) Protection from weather: Whenever necessary to protect the passengers from inclement weather conditions, be equipped with a top at least 80 inches high above the floor and facilities for closing the sides and ends of the passenger-carrying compartment. Tarpaulins or other such removable devices for protection from the weather shall be secured in place.

(6) Exit: Adequate means of ingress and egress to and from the passenger space shall be provided on the rear or at the right side. Such means of ingress and egress shall be at least 18 inches wide. The top and the clear opening shall be at least 60 inches high, or as high as the side wall of the passenger space if less than 60 inches. The bottom shall be at the floor of the passenger space.

(7) Gates and doors: Gates or doors shall be provided to close the means of ingress and egress and each such gate or door shall be equipped with at least one latch or other fastening device of such construction as to keep the gate or door securely closed during the course of transportation; and readily operative without the use of tools.

(8) Ladders or steps: Ladders or steps for the purpose of ingress and egress shall be used when necessary. The maximum vertical spacing of footholds shall not exceed 12 inches, except that the lowest step may be not more than 18 inches above the ground when the vehicle is empty.

(9) Handholds: Handholds or devices for similar purpose shall be provided to permit ingress and egress without hazard to passengers.

(10) Emergency exit: Vehicles with permanently affixed roofs shall be equipped with at least one emergency exit having a gate or door, latch and hold as prescribed in this section and located on a side or rear not equipped with the exit described in Subparagraph (6) of this subsection.

(11) Communication with driver: Means shall be provided to enable the passengers to communicate with the driver. Such means may include telephone, speaker tubes, buzzers, pull cords, or other mechanical or electrical means.

(f) Protection from cold. Every motor vehicle shall be provided with a safe means of protecting passengers from cold or undue exposure, but in no event shall heaters of the following types be used:

(1) Exhaust heaters: Any type of exhaust heater in which the engine exhaust gases are conducted into or through any space occupied by persons or any heater which conducts engine compartment air into any such space.

(2) Unenclosed flame heaters: Any type of heater employing a flame which is not fully enclosed.

(3) Heaters permitting fuel leakage: Any type of heater from the burner of which there could be spillage or leakage of fuel upon the tilting or overturning of the vehicle in which it is mounted.

(4) Heaters permitting air contamination: Any heater taking air, heated or to be heated, from the engine compartment or from direct contact with any portion of the exhaust system; or any heater taking air in ducts from the outside atmosphere to be conveyed through the engine compartment, unless said ducts are so constructed and installed as to prevent contamination of the air so conveyed by exhaust or engine compartment gases.

(5) Any heater not securely fastened to the vehicle.

Hours of Service of Drivers; Maximum Driving Time

Sec. 6. No person shall drive nor shall any motor carrier permit or require a driver employed or used by it to drive or operate for more than 10 hours in the aggregate (excluding rest stops and stops for meals) in any period of 24 consecutive hours, unless such driver be afforded eight consecutive hours rest immediately following the 10 hours aggregate driving. The term "24 consecutive hours" as used in this section means any period starting at the time the driver reports for duty.

Inspection and Maintenance of Motor Vehicles

Sec. 7. Every motor carrier shall systematically inspect and maintain or cause to be systematically maintained, all motor vehicles and their accessories subject to its control, to insure that such motor vehicles and their accessories are in safe and proper operating condition.

Enforcement; Penalty

Sec. 8. Any peace officer in this state is authorized to enforce the provisions of this Act, and any carrier of migrant agricultural workers who fails to comply with the provisions of this Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $5 nor more than $50.

ICC Certificate of Compliance; Effect

Sec. 9. Any carrier of migrant agricultural workers who possesses a certificate of compliance with the Interstate Commerce Commission regulations governing the transportation of migrant workers in interstate commerce issued to said person by the Interstate Commerce Commission and valid during the period of inspection by any peace officer in this state shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of this Act.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 10. The provisions of this Act are cumulative of existing laws and shall not be construed as repealing or replacing any of the provisions of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways¹ or any other existing law.

Art. 911h. Agreement Requiring Carrier to Pay Charge Contingent Upon Use of Another Mode of Transportation

Sec. 1. Any part of any agreement, arrangement or other device entered into shall be unlawful and void which as a condition to the transportation of property requires or permits a regulated for hire carrier of property, freight forwarder, private carrier or other carrier or shipper or association or group of shippers to pay a levied charge, allowance, assessment or compensation to any person or organization if such levied charge, allowance, assessment or compensation is dependent or contingent upon the use of another mode of transportation in addition to motor transportation for movement of such property.

Sec. 2. Should any person, firm, partnership, organization, or association of persons violate any of the provisions of this Act, they shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100) nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500), or by imprisonment for not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Each day of the violation of any of the provisions of this Act shall constitute a separate offense.

Art. 911i. Transporting by Motor Vehicle for Hire Without Permit

Any person, firm, corporation, organization, officer, agent, servant, or employee required by statute to have a permit or certificate from the Railroad Commission of Texas authorizing transportation by motor vehicle for compensation or hire who engages in transportation by motor vehicle for compensation or hire without first having obtained such certificate or permit from the Railroad Commission of Texas, or who aids or abets any such operation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction therefor, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200, and each violation shall constitute a separate offense.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 168, ch. 88, § 1, eff. Aug. 28, 1967. Amended by Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 72, ch. 30, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

Art. 911j. Transportation of Persons for Hire; Agencies for Obtaining Co-Travelers to Share Expenses; License; Penalty

Sec. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, company, partnership, association or joint stock association, or organization or association of persons, firms, or corporations to engage in the business of transporting persons for hire or compensation over the public roads, highways and bridges of this State, whether as a common carrier, contract or charter carrier, or as a transportation agency, or as a travel bureau or as a broker for hire to obtain a co-traveler or co-travelers to share the expense of the trip proportionately or otherwise, as to distance covered or as to money expended or in any other manner, or to act as an intermediary in connection therewith or as a broker for hire, agent or otherwise, whereby the expense of a trip or trips is to be shared with a co-traveler or co-travelers, unless the person, operator, driver or chauffeur in charge of the motor vehicle to be used on or in connection with said trip shall first have obtained a chauffeur's, operator's or driver's license in accordance with the existing laws of the State of Texas, and unless the motor vehicle used in connection therewith is properly equipped with a license plate issued by the Railroad Commission of the State of Texas, under the laws of the State of Texas, and unless the owner of said vehicle has complied in all respects with the law of the State of Texas in connection with the transportation of passengers over the public roads, highways and bridges of this State.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not apply to the owner, lessee or operator of vehicles operated exclusively within the boundaries of any incorporated city or town, and within a radius of five (5) miles from such city or town; and shall also not apply to the owner, lessee or operator of any vehicle who is not engaged in the business of transporting persons for hire or compensation over the public roads, highways and bridges of this State.

Sec. 3. That it shall be the duty of any person, firm, corporation, company, partnership, association or joint stock association, or organization or association of persons, firms, or corporations before entering into any contract with the owner, lessee, driver, or chauffeur of any motor vehicle whereby the expenses of the trip or trips are to be shared by the co-traveler or co-travelers to first make an examination of the public records of the State of Texas in order to ascertain whether or not the owner, lessee, chauffeur or operator of the motor vehicle to be used in the transportation of persons for hire has properly complied with the laws of the State of Texas as to chauffeurs', drivers' or operators' licenses, and to ascertain whether or not such owner, chauffeur or operator has complied with the laws of the State of Texas regulating the operation of motor vehicles for hire.

Sec. 4. Should any person, firm, corporation, company, partnership, association or joint stock association, or organization or association of persons, firms or corporations violate any of the provisions of this act, the same shall be a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) for each offense or by imprisonment for not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days, or both, at the discretion of the court. Each day of the violation of any of the provisions of this Act shall constitute a separate offense and may be punishable as such.

Art. 912a-1. Definitions

Words used in this Act in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter; the singular number includes the plural and the plural the singular; "writing" includes "printing" and "typewriting"; "oath" includes "affirmation." When used in this Act, the following terms shall, unless the context otherwise indicates, have the following respective meanings:

The term "cemetery", within the meaning of this title, is hereby defined as a place dedicated to and used and intended to be used for the permanent interment of the human dead. It may be either a burial park, for earth interments; a mausoleum for vault or crypt interments, a crematory, or crematory and columbarium for cinerary interments, or a combination of one or more thereof.

The term "perpetual care cemetery" shall mean a cemetery for the benefit of which a perpetual care fund shall have been established in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

The term "nonperpetual care cemetery" shall mean a cemetery for the benefit of which no perpetual care fund has been established in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

The term "perpetual care" shall mean to keep the sod in repair, to keep all places where interments have been made in proper order, and to care for trees and shrubs, providing for the administration of perpetual care funds in instances wherein those administering such funds fail or refuse to act.

"Burial Park" means a tract of land which has been dedicated to the purposes of and used, and intended to be used, for the interment of the human dead in graves.

"Grave" means a space of ground in a burial park intended to be used for the permanent interment in the ground of the remains of a deceased person.

"Mausoleum" means a structure or building of most durable and lasting fireproof construction used, or intended to be used, for the permanent interment in crypts and vaults therein of the remains of deceased persons.

"Crypt" or "Vault" as herein used means the chamber in a mausoleum of sufficient size to inter the uncremated remains of a deceased person.

"Lawn Crypts" or "Garden Crypts," sometimes called cryptoriums, means subsurface concrete and reinforced steel receptacles installed in multiple units, for burial of the remains of a deceased person in a casket.

"Columbarium" means a structure or room or other space in a building or structure of most durable and lasting fireproof construction or a plot of earth, containing niches, used, or intended to be used, to contain cremated human remains.

"Crematory" means a building or structure containing one or more furnaces used, or intended to be used, for the reduction of bodies of deceased persons for cremated remains.

"Crematory and columbarium" means a building or structure of most durable and lasting fireproof construction containing both a crematory and columbarium, used, or intended to be used, for the permanent interment therein by inurnment of the remains of deceased persons.

"Niche" is a recess in a columbarium, used, or intended to be used, for the permanent interment of the cremated remains of one or more deceased persons.

"Lot" or "plot" or "burial space" means space in a cemetery owned by one or more individuals, an association, or fraternal or other organization and used, or intended to be used, for the permanent interment therein of the remains of one or more deceased persons. Such terms include and shall apply with like effect to one, or more than one, adjoining graves; one, or more than one, adjoining crypts or vaults; or one, or more than one, adjoining niches.

"Temporary receiving vault" as herein used means a vault in a structure of most durable and lasting construction used and intended to be used for the temporary deposit therein for a reasonable time only of the remains of a deceased person.

"Interment" means the permanent disposition of the remains of a deceased person by cremation, inurnment, entombment or burial.

"Cremation" as herein used means the interment of a body of a deceased person by reduction to cremated remains in a crematory and the deposit of the cremated remains in a grave, vault, crypt, or niche.

"Inurnment" means placing the cremated remains in an urn and permanently depositing the same in a niche.

"Entombment" means the permanent interment of the remains of a deceased person in a crypt or vault.

"Remains" means the body of a deceased person.

"Cremated remains" means remains of a deceased person after incineration in a crematory.

"Cemetery business," "cemetery businesses" and "cemetery purposes" are herein used interchangeably and shall mean any and all business and purposes requisite or necessary for or incident to establishing, maintaining, managing, operating, improving, and conducting a cemetery and the interring of the human dead, and the care, preservation and embellishment of cemetery property.

The terms "cemetery association" and "association" are herein used interchangeably and shall mean any corporation now or hereafter organized, or any association not operated for a profit, which is or shall be authorized by its articles to conduct any one or more or all of the businesses of a cemetery.

"Directors" as herein used, means the board of directors, board of trustees, or other governing body of the cemetery association.

The term "plot owner," "owner," or "lot proprietor" as used herein means any person in whose name a burial plot stands, as owner of the exclusive right of sepulture therein, in the office of the association, or who holds from such association a conveyance of the exclusive right of sepulture, or a certificate of ownership of the exclusive right of sepulture, in a particular lot, plot, or space.

Art. 912a-2. Operation of Cemeteries Unlawful Unless Provisions Complied With

The operation of any perpetual care cemetery within this State shall hereafter be unlawful unless such cemetery shall comply with all applicable provisions of this Act. The operation of any cemetery as a perpetual care, permanent maintenance, or free care cemetery shall hereafter be unlawful unless such cemetery shall have created and shall maintain a perpetual care fund in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Each perpetual care cemetery as defined in this Act shall file in its office and as well in the office of the Banking Commission of Texas, a statement in duplicate which shall contain the following information:

- (1) Amount of principal of the perpetual care funds.
- (2) Total amount invested in bonds and other securities, the total amount of cash on hand not invested, and such other items which shall actually show the financial condition of the trust.
- (3) Number of square feet of grave space, and number of crypts, and number of niches disposed of under perpetual care, prior to and subsequent to March 15, 1934, each separately set forth.

(4) Number of square feet of grave space, and number of crypts, and number of niches sold or disposed of subsequent to March 15, 1934, for which the minimum amounts of perpetual care as provided by this Act have not been paid into the perpetual care fund.

All of the information appearing on said statements shall be verified by the President and Secretary, or two (2) principal officers of the cemetery corporation. All the information appearing on said statements shall be revised and so posted and filed annually on or before March first of each year.

Within thirty (30) days after the filing of the aforesaid statement in the office of the Banking Commissioner a true copy thereof shall be published in at least one (1) newspaper of general circulation in the county in which said cemetery is located.

Upon the failure of any perpetual care cemetery to file with the Banking Commissioner on or before March first of each year the statements of its perpetual care funds as required hereby, or to pay the filing fee required by this Act, its corporate charter shall be subject to forfeiture, and such failure to report shall be prima-facie evidence that the cemetery's perpetual care fund does not conform to the requirements of law; the Banking Commissioner of Texas shall notify the Attorney General of Texas, who shall proceed to institute suit as required by the provisions of this Act.

It is provided, however, that the provisions of this Article shall not apply to any family, fraternal or community cemetery, or any association of cemetery lot owners not operated for profit, or any religious corporation, church, religious society or denomination, or corporation solely administering the temporalities of any religious denomination, society or church, now existing or hereafter organized.

Art. 912a-3. Receipt and Disbursement of Filing Fees, Examination Fees, Penalties and Revenues

At the time of the filing of the statement of its perpetual care fund each cemetery filing same which serves a city the population of which is twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants or less according to the last preceding Federal Census shall pay to the Banking Commissioner of Texas each year a filing fee of Fifty Dollars ($50.00), and each cemetery filing same which serves a city the population of which is greater than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census shall pay to the Banking Commissioner of Texas each year a filing fee of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00). Filing fees, examination fees, penalties and other revenues collected under this Act shall be received and disbursed by the Banking Department of Texas as provided by and in accordance with Article 12 of Chapter I, the Texas Banking Code of 1943, as amended,¹ in the administration and enforcement of the laws relating to the operation of perpetual care cemeteries and to the creation, investment, and expenditure of cemetery perpetual care funds and for investigations either on its own initiative or on complaints made by others with reference to the operation of perpetual care cemeteries and the creation, investment, and expenditure of cemetery perpetual care funds; provided, that a reasonable part of the amount transferred each year of the biennium by the Banking Department to the General Revenue Fund, to cover the cost of governmental service rendered by other departments, may be made up from fees, penalties and other revenues collected under the provision of this Act.

Art. 912a-4. Powers and Duties of Enforcement Officers

The Banking Commissioner of Texas shall have authority to require as often as he deems necessary that the custodian of any cemetery perpetual care fund make under oath a detailed report of the condition of said fund, setting forth a detailed description of the assets of said fund, a description of the securities held by said fund, a description of any property upon which any such security constitutes a lien, the cost of acquisition of any such security, the market value of any security at the time of its acquisition, the current market value thereof, the status thereof with reference to default, that the same are not in any way encumbered by debt, that none of the assets of said cemetery perpetual care fund constitute loans to the cemetery for which the funds were established, or to any officer or director thereof and any other information he deems pertinent. When the Banking Commissioner of Texas finds that a cemetery perpetual care fund does not conform to the requirements of law, or when the custodian of said fund fails to make within thirty (30) days after request a report to the Banking Commissioner of Texas of the condition of said fund, the Banking Commissioner of Texas shall notify the custodian of the cemetery perpetual care fund, the cemetery for the benefit of which said fund is established, and the Attorney General of Texas thereof, and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General of Texas to institute within ninety (90) days after the receipt of such notice, unless he shall prior to that time be notified by the Banking Commissioner of Texas that such failure to conform to the requirements of the law or to report has been corrected, suit or quo warranto proceedings in the District Court of any county of this State in which such cemetery is operated, for the forfeiture of the charter of the cemetery corporation if such cemetery has failed to meet the requirements of this Act, and for the dissolution of its corporate existence. If the custodian of such trust fund shall fail to meet the requirements of this Act, then it shall be the duty of the Attorney General of Texas to apply to the District Court of the county, in which such cemetery is operating and for which it has created a permanent trust fund, for proper legal writs to require a report of the perpetual care fund of said cemetery, and if the same has been misappropriated by such custodian, and not being handled as required by law, to have a Receiver appointed by the Court to take custody of said trust funds for the benefit of the cestui que trust; said Receiver is hereby vested with full power to file such suits against such defaulting trustee as may be necessary to require a full accounting and restoration of such endowment funds and turn the residue over to such trustee as the cemetery corporation shall select, in conformity with this Act as the new custodian of its endowment funds; and for such purposes venue is hereby conferred upon the District Courts of this State.

Art. 912a-5. Authority to Corporations

Corporations may hereafter be formed only under this Act for the purpose of establishing, managing, maintaining, improving, and/or operating public or private cemeteries and conducting any one or more or all of the businesses of a public or private cemetery, including the selling of lots or parts of lots for burial purposes. Such corporations shall be formed either as non-profit corporations organized by cemetery lot owners, or in the manner as now provided under Section A or Section B, Article 1396-3.01, Texas Non-Profit Corporations Act, or as private corporations to be operated for profit, but not as both. The charter of each such corporation hereafter formed shall specifically state whether such corporation is to be a non-profit corporation, or whether such corporation is to be a private corporation to be operated for profit. The charter of each such corporation shall also specifically state whether the same is to operate a perpetual care or a non-perpetual care cemetery. Corporations heretofore formed to maintain and operate cemeteries under statutory authority other than this Act shall hereafter be governed by and shall be under the provisions of this Act, except where and only to the extent the charter or articles of incorporation of such associations or corporations conflict with this Act. It shall hereafter be unlawful for any corporation, copartnership, firm, trust, association, or individual to engage in or transact any of the businesses of a cemetery within this state except by means of a corporation duly organized for such purposes; provided, however, that the provisions of this Section shall not apply to any corporation heretofore chartered by the State of Texas to operate a cemetery, which under its charter, bylaws, or its dedication has heretofore provided for the creation of a perpetual care fund, and is maintaining the same in accordance with its trust agreement and the provision of this Act, and any such corporation may continue to operate a perpetual care cemetery in the same manner as if it had been incorporated under this Section without the necessity of amending its corporate charter, and provided further that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any family, fraternal, or community cemetery not exceeding ten (10) acres in area, or any association of cemetery lot owners not operated for profit, or any religious corporation, church, religious society, denomination, corporation solely administering the temporalities of any religious denomination, society or church, now existing or hereafter organized, or any public cemetery belonging to the state, or any county, city or town within the state.

Art. 912a-6. Rights of Lot Owners in Cemeteries Operated by Nonprofit Corporations

All owners of lots purchased of any nonprofit cemetery corporation shall become members thereof and be entitled to vote in the election of its officers and upon any other matters to the same extent as stockholders in other corporations. Each owner of a lot or lots embraced in any cemetery operated by a nonprofit cemetery corporation shall be a shareholder in any corporation to which the land may belong and shall be entitled to all rights and privileges of a shareholder, whether the title to the lot or lots was acquired from the corporation or was owned before its organization. Nonprofit cemetery corporations organized by cemetery lot owners shall have the power to divide the land of the cemetery into lots and subdivisions for cemetery purposes and to tax the property for the purpose of its general improvement and upkeep.

Art. 912a-7. Meeting to Organize Nonprofit Cemetery Corporations

When it is desired to create a nonprofit corporation organized by cemetery lot owners to receive title to lands theretofore dedicated to cemetery purposes notice of the time and place of meeting shall be published in a newspaper in the county, if there be one, for thirty (30) days prior thereto; and written notices shall be posted at and upon such cemetery for thirty (30) days prior to the time fixed for said meeting. When the lot owners uniting in the formation of said nonprofit corporation shall assemble, the majority of those present and voting shall decide on the question of incorporation, and the conveyance of the land to such nonprofit corporation. Such meeting shall select the board of directors to be named in the charter, which must consist of cemetery lot owners alone.

Art. 912a-8. No Crematory Without Provision for Completion of Permanent Disposition

No crematory shall be constructed, established, or maintained except within a burial park, nor unless there be in connection therewith in the same fireproof building or structure or in a separate fireproof building within the same cemetery or burial park within which the same is situated or in said cemetery, either a columbarium amply equipped for the permanent deposit therein of cremated remains of the bodies cremated thereat, or plot of ground or a mausoleum wherein the cremated remains may be placed in completion of the permanent interment thereof, and all cremated remains not removed for permanent deposit elsewhere shall be permanently interred in either a grave, crypt, or niche within thirty (30) days after the date of such cremation.

Art. 912a-9. Acquisition of Property

Cemetery associations, whether incorporated or unincorporated, may take by purchase, donation or devise, property, consisting of lands, mausoleums, crematories and columbariums, and/or other property within which the permanent interment of the dead shall be authorized by law. Such cemetery association may execute a declaration acknowledged by the president and secretary or other authorized officer or officers, so as to entitle it to be recorded, describing said property and declaring its intention to use said property or any part thereof for interment purposes, which declaration it may file for record in the office of the County Clerk of the county wherein the property is situated, and from the date of such filing the same shall be constructive notice of the use for which such property is intended. Such property may also be acquired by condemnation proceedings and the acquisition of such property is hereby declared to be for a public purpose.

Art. 912a-10. Dedication

Every cemetery association, from time to time as its property may be acquired for interment purposes, shall:

(a) In case of land, survey and subdivide such land into sections, blocks, lots, avenues, walks and/or other subdivisions; make a good and substantial map or plat thereof showing said sections, lots, avenues, walks and/or other subdivisions, with descriptive names or numbers; and/or

(b) In case of a mausoleum and/or crematory and columbarium, make a good and substantial map or plat thereof on which shall be delineated the sections, hall, rooms, corridors, elevators and/or other divisions thereof with their descriptive names and numbers; and shall file such map or plat in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which such property or some part thereof is situated, and shall also file for record in such County Clerk's office a written certificate or declaration of dedication of the property delineated, on said plat or map, dedicating the same exclusively to cemetery purposes. Such certificate or declaration shall be in such form as the directors or officers may prescribe, and shall be subscribed by the president or vice president and the secretary of the association, or such other person or persons as the board of directors may authorize and acknowledge so as to entitle it to be recorded; and upon the filing of said plat and the filing of said certificate for record, the dedication of said property shall be complete for all the purposes of this Act, and thereafter such property shall be held, occupied and used exclusively for a cemetery and for cemetery purposes. Provided, however, that when reservation is made therefor in the certificate or declaration of dedication, any part or subdivision of the property so mapped and platted may, by order of the directors, be resurveyed and altered in shape and size and an amended map or plat thereof filed, so long as such change does not disturb the remains of any deceased person interred therein. Such filed map and recorded declaration shall constitute and be constructive notice to all persons of the dedication of such property to interment purposes.

It shall be the duty of the County Clerk of the county in which such map or plat is filed to number and file such map or plat and to index the same in the general map index, giving reference to date of filing and number so that the same may be easily found, for which service the recorder shall receive a fee of One Dollar ($1).

It shall also be the duty of the County Clerk of the county in which such declaration of dedication is filed to record the same in the deed records of said county and index the same in the general index for which service the recorder shall receive a fee of One Dollar ($1).

Repeals

Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2721, ch. 886, effective June 14, 1971, relating to the microfilming of records by counties, and classified as article 1941(a), provided in section 2 that all laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed, to the extent of conflict only, including but not limited to this article.

Repeal of fees provided for county clerks in laws, or parts of laws, conflicting with the provisions of article 3930, see note under article 3930.

Art. 912a-11. Dedication Supreme Until Removed by Court

(a) After such property is so dedicated to cemetery purposes, neither the dedication nor the title to the exclusive right of sepulture of a plot owner, shall ever be affected by the dissolution of the association, or by nonuser on its part, or by alienations of the property, or by any encumbrances thereon, or by forced sale under execution or otherwise, and such dedication shall not be deemed or held invalid as violating any existing laws against perpetuities or the suspension of the power of alienation of title to or use of property, but such dedication is hereby expressly permitted and shall be deemed to be in respect for the dead, a provision for the disposition of the bodies of deceased persons, and a duty to, and for the benefit of, the general public; and said property shall be held and used exclusively for cemetery purposes, unless and until the dedication shall be removed by an order and decree of the district Court of the county in which the same is situated in a proceeding brought therefor by the governing body of the city, if said cemetery is within, or within five (5) miles from, the city limits of any city of more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal census, or by the district attorney, if said cemetery is not within, or within five (5) miles of, the city limits of a city of more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal census, or by the owner of property so situated that its value is affected by said cemetery, upon notice and proof satisfactory to the Court that all bodies have been removed therefrom or that no interments were made therein, and that the same is no longer used or required for interment purposes; or until the maintenance of said cemetery is enjoined or abated as a nuisance as hereinafter provided for. After such dedication and so long as said property shall remain dedicated to cemetery purposes, no railroad, street, road, alley, pipe line, telephone, telegraph, or electric line, or other public utility or thoroughfare whatsoever shall ever be laid out through, over, or across any part thereof, without the consent of the directors of the cemetery association owning or operating the same, or of not less than two-thirds of the owners, of burial plots therein, and all of such property, including road, alleys, and walks therein, shall be exempt from public improvements assessments, and all public taxation, and shall not be liable to be sold on execution or applied in payment of debts due from individual owners and burial plots therein.

(b) In the event the United States of America, or the State of Texas, or a county in Texas, or a municipality or any other duly constituted governmental subdivision has made definite determination that a new highway, thoroughfare, road, or street shall be constructed along a definite proposed route, or that an existing highway, thoroughfare, road, or street shall be widened, and such determination is a matter of public record, and if after such determination any property lying within the confines of such proposed route is dedicated for cemetery purposes, such dedication for cemetery purposes shall be presumed to have been made in fraud of the rights of the public and as being made for the sole purpose of enhancing the value of property to be condemned, and the district court of the county in which such land or any part of such land so dedicated lies may, in a suit filed by such governmental subdivision to remove such dedication, remove such dedication for cemetery purposes insofar as such dedication covers land lying within the confines of such proposed highway, thoroughfare, road, or street.

Art. 912a-12. Sale of Property for Interment Purposes and Property Rights

After filing the map or plat and recording the certificate or declaration of dedication, but not prior thereto, and subject to its rules and regulations and/or to such limitations, conditions, and restrictions, as may be inserted in or by reference made a part of the instrument of conveyance, the cemetery association may sell and convey the exclusive right to sepulture in the burial plots to purchasers. No license of any kind or character shall be required of any person, firm or corporation on account of or to authorize the sale of lots, graves or interment space in any dedicated cemetery. All lots, sections, or parts thereof, the use of which has been so conveyed by certificate of ownership as a separate plot, shall be indivisible except with the consent of the cemetery association, or as shall be provided by law. All conveyances of such exclusive right of sepulture made by the cemetery association shall be signed by the president or the vice president and secretary or other officers authorized by the cemetery association. All lots, plots, and burial space in which the exclusive right of sepulture has been conveyed shall be presumed to be the sole and separate property of the person or persons named as grantee in the instrument of conveyance; provided, however, that the wife or husband shall have a vested right of interment of his or her body in any burial plot in which the exclusive right of sepulture has been conveyed to the other, which right shall continue as long as he or she shall remain the wife or husband of the plot owner or shall be his or her wife or husband at the time of such plot owner's demise. No conveyance or other action without the joinder therein or by written consent attached thereto shall divest such husband or wife of such vested right of interment; provided, however, that a final decree of divorce between them shall terminate such vested right of interment unless it shall be otherwise provided by such decree of divorce.

A vested right of interment as in this section provided may be waived and shall be terminated upon the interment elsewhere of the remains of a person entitled thereto under this section.

Art. 912a-13. Rights in Plot of an Individual Owner; Conveyance of Exclusive Right of Sepulture Therein; Conveyances Subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Cemetery Association; Filing and Recording of Conveyances in the Office of the Cemetery Association; Designation of Representative by Co-owners in a Plot

If the exclusive right of sepulture in a plot has been conveyed to an individual owner who is interred therein, then, unless such owner has made specific disposition of such plot either by will having express reference thereto, or by written declaration duly filed and recorded in the office of the cemetery association, then one grave, niche or crypt shall be reserved for the surviving spouse, if any, of such owner, and in those spaces remaining, if any, the children of such deceased owner in the order of need, may be interred without the consent of any person claiming any interest therein. Any surviving spouse of such owner, and any child of such deceased owner, may waive his or her right to interment in said plot in favor of any other relative of such deceased owner, or the owner's spouse, and upon such waiver, the person in whose favor the waiver is made may be interred therein. The exclusive right of sepulture in any unused grave, niche or crypt in the plot may be conveyed only by a conveyance executed by the surviving spouse, if any, of such deceased owner and the children of the deceased owner, or if there is no surviving child of such deceased owner, by the surviving spouse, if any, and the heirs-at-law of such deceased owner.

If the exclusive right of sepulture in a plot has been conveyed to an individual owner who is not interred therein, then, unless such owner has made specific disposition of such plot either by will having express reference thereto, or by written declaration duly filed and recorded in the office of the cemetery association, the exclusive right of sepulture in the whole of said plot, except the one grave, niche, or crypt which is reserved to the surviving spouse, if any, shall upon the death of such owner, vest in the heirs-at-law of such deceased owner. Such exclusive right of sepulture to any unused grave, niche or crypt in the plot may be conveyed, subject to the right of the surviving spouse, if any, to a right of interment in one space, by such heirs-at-law of the deceased owner.

All conveyances of the exclusive right of sepulture shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the cemetery association, and shall be duly filed and recorded in the office of the cemetery association.

When there are two (2) or more owners of a plot, then such owners may designate one or more persons to represent said plot and file written notice of such designation with the cemetery association; in the absence of such notice, the cemetery association is duly authorized to inter or permit an interment therein upon the request or direction of any registered co-owner of such plot.

Art. 912a-14. Rules and Regulations

The cemetery association may make, adopt and enforce rules and regulations for the use, care, control, management, restriction, and protection of its cemetery, and of all parts and subdivisions thereof; for restricting and limiting the use of all property within its cemetery; for regulating the uniformity, class, and kind of all markers, monuments, and other structures within said cemetery and subdivisions thereof and/or prohibiting the erection of monuments, markers and/or other structures in or upon any and/or all portions of such property; for regulating and/or preventing monuments, effigies and structures within any and/or all portions of the cemetery grounds and for the removal thereof; for regulating or preventing the introduction and/or care of plants or shrubs within such grounds; for the prevention of interment in any part thereof of a body not entitled to interment therein; for preventing the use of burial plots for purposes violative of its restrictions; for regulating the conduct of persons and preventing improper assemblages therein; and for all other purposes deemed necessary by the board of directors for the proper conduct of the business of the association and the protection and safeguarding of the premises, and the principles, plans, and ideals on which the cemetery was organized; and from time to time may amend, add to, revise, change and/or modify such rules and regulations. Such rules and regulations shall be plainly printed or typewritten and maintained subject to inspection in the office of the association or in such place or places within the cemetery as the directors may prescribe. The directors may prescribe penalties for the violation of any rule or regulation which penalties may be recoverable by the association in a civil action.

Art. 912a-15. Establishment and Maintenance of Perpetual Care

Every cemetery association which has established and is now maintaining, operating or conducting a perpetual care cemetery and every association which shall hereafter establish, maintain, operate or conduct a perpetual care cemetery within this state, pursuant to this Act, shall establish with a trust company or a bank with trust powers, no two (2) of the directors of which shall be directors of the cemetery association for the benefit of which such fund is established, an endowment fund of which the income only can be used for the general perpetual care of its cemetery and to place its cemetery under perpetual care; provided, however, that if there is no such trust company or bank with trust powers, qualified and willing to accept such trust funds at the regular fees established by the Texas Trust Code (Subtitle B, Title 9, Property Code),¹ located within the county within which such cemetery association is located, then and only then, such endowment fund may be established with a Board of Trustees composed of three (3) or more persons, no two (2) of the trustees of which shall be directors of such cemetery association. The principal of such fund for perpetual care shall never be voluntarily reduced, but shall remain inviolable and shall forever be maintained separate and distinct by the trustee or trustees from all other funds. Any such trustee or trustees and the perpetual care trust operated by them shall in all respects be governed by the provisions of the Texas Trust Code. The principal of such fund shall be invested, from time to time reinvested, and kept invested as required by law for the investment of such funds, and the net income arising therefrom shall be used solely for the general care and maintenance of the property entitled to perpetual care in the cemetery for which the fund is established, and shall be applied in such manner as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine to be for the best interest of the cemetery for which such fund is established, but shall never be used for improvement or embellishment of unsold property to be offered for sale. In the event the Board of Directors shall fail to generally care for and maintain that portion of the cemetery entitled to perpetual care, as hereinbefore provided, any five (5) or more lot owners in said cemetery whose lots are entitled to perpetual care shall have the right by suit for mandatory injunction or for a Receiver to take charge of and expend said net income, filed in the District Court of the county in which the cemetery is located, to compel the expenditure either by the Board of Directors or by such Receiver of the net income from the perpetual care fund for the purpose hereinabove set forth.

If a cemetery association is operating a cemetery without provision for perpetual care, and if it is authorized by law and wishes to operate said cemetery as a perpetual care cemetery, it shall so notify the Banking Commission of the State of Texas and shall, in accordance with the foregoing provisions hereof, establish a perpetual care fund equal to the amount which would have theretofore been paid into such a fund, in accordance with provisions of this Act,² if such cemetery had been operated as a perpetual care cemetery from and after the date of the first sale of burial space therein, or the minimum amount provided in Section 29 of this Act, whichever is the greater. If the amount of the perpetual care fund so established is the minimum amount provided in Section 29 of this Act, such cemetery association or corporation shall be entitled to a credit against amounts hereafter required by the provisions of this Act to be paid by it unto such perpetual care fund equal to the excess of the amount of such perpetual care fund, as originally established by it, over what would have been the amount thereof if its amount had been determined without regard to Section 29 of this Act.

In establishing its perpetual care trust fund the association may from time to time adopt plans for the general care, maintenance and embellishment of its cemetery.

A cemetery association which has established a perpetual care fund may also take, receive, and hold therefor and as a part thereof or as an incident thereto any property, real, personal or mixed, bequeathed, devised, granted, given or otherwise contributed to it therefor.

The perpetual care trust fund authorized by this Section and all sums paid therein or contributed thereto are, and each thereof is hereby, expressly permitted and shall be and be deemed to be for charitable and eleemosynary purposes. Such perpetual care shall be deemed to be a provision for the discharge of a duty due from the person or persons contributing thereto to the persons interred and to be interred in the cemetery and likewise a provision for the benefit and protection of the public by preserving and keeping cemeteries from becoming places of disorder, reproach, and desolation in the communities in which they are situated. No payment, gift, grant, bequest, or other contribution for such general perpetual care shall be or be deemed to be invalid by reason of any indefiniteness or uncertainty of the persons designated as beneficiaries in the instruments creating said trust, nor shall said fund or any contribution thereto be or be deemed to be invalid as violating any law against perpetuities or the suspension of the power of alienation of title to property.

Each perpetual care cemetery shall deposit in its perpetual care trust fund an amount equivalent to such amount as may have been stipulated in any contract under which perpetual care property was sold prior to March 15, 1934, plus a minimum of twenty cents (20¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property after March 15, 1934, until such fund reaches a minimum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00), after which each such cemetery shall deposit an amount equivalent to a minimum of ten cents (10¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property after March 15, 1934, until September 3, 1945. Each such cemetery shall deposit in its perpetual care trust fund an amount equivalent to a minimum of twenty cents (20¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property after September 3, 1945, until July 1, 1963. A minimum of Fifteen Dollars ($15.00) per each crypt interment right for mausoleum interment sold or disposed of as perpetual care property and a minimum of Five Dollars ($5.00) per each niche interment right for columbarium interment sold or disposed of as perpetual care property between March 15, 1934, and July 1, 1963, shall also be placed in such perpetual care trust fund. From and after July 1, 1963, until September 1, 1975, each such cemetery shall deposit in its perpetual care trust fund an amount equivalent to a minimum of fifty cents (50¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property between said dates. A minimum of Forty Dollars ($40.00) per each crypt interment right for mausoleum interment sold or disposed of as perpetual care property, except that on crypts accessible only through another crypt the minimum requirement shall be Twenty Dollars ($20.00) per each such crypt, and a minimum of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per each niche interment right for columbarium interment sold or disposed of subsequent to July 1, 1963, shall also be placed in such perpetual care trust fund. Such minimum requirements shall apply to all property in which the exclusive right of sepulture has been sold and paid for, whether used for interment purposes or not.

After July 1, 1963, each agreement for the sale of burial space in a perpetual care cemetery shall set out separately the part of the aggregate amount agreed to be paid by the purchaser which is to be deposited in the perpetual care trust fund. If the aggregate amount agreed to be paid by the purchaser is payable in installments, all amounts paid thereon shall be applied, first, to the part thereof not required to be deposited in the perpetual care trust fund, to the extent thereof, and the remainder shall, when received by the seller, be deposited in the perpetual care trust fund. Any funds required to be deposited in its perpetual care trust fund by a seller of burial space shall be so deposited not later than ten (10) days after the end of the calendar month during which they are received. If the seller shall fail to so deposit such funds within the time required hereunder, it shall be liable for and the Banking Commissioner shall collect as a penalty the sum of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per day for the period of such failure, and, upon the relation of the Banking Commissioner of the refusal of the seller to pay to the Banking Commissioner such penalty, the Attorney General shall institute a suit to recover said penalty and for costs and such other relief by the state as in the judgment of the Attorney General is proper and necessary. No cemetery shall hereafter operate as a perpetual care, permanent maintenance, or free care cemetery until the provisions hereof are complied with.

The amount to be deposited in the perpetual care trust fund shall be separately shown on the original purchase agreement and a copy thereof shall be delivered to the purchaser. In the sale of burial space, no commission shall be paid a broker or salesman on the amount to be deposited in the fund.

Notwithstanding any other provision of the laws of the State of Texas or any provision in a trust agreement executed for the purpose of providing perpetual care for a cemetery, such trust agreement may, by agreement entered into between the cemetery association and the trustee or trustees acting under such trust agreement, be amended so as to include any provision which is not inconsistent with any provision in this Act.

From and after September 1, 1975, and until September 1, 1983, each such cemetery shall deposit in its perpetual care trust fund an amount equivalent to a minimum of seventy-five cents (75¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property after said date. A minimum of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) per each crypt interment right for mausoleum interment sold or disposed of as perpetual care property, except that on crypts accessible only through another crypt the minimum requirement shall be Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) per each such crypt, and a minimum of Fifteen Dollars ($15.00) per each niche interment right for columbarium interment sold or disposed of subsequent to September 1, 1975, and until September 1, 1983, shall also be placed in such perpetual care trust fund. The amount of money to be placed in the perpetual care trust fund for lawn crypts shall be the same as crypts in an aboveground mausoleum.

From and after September 1, 1983, each such cemetery shall deposit in its perpetual care trust fund an amount equivalent to a minimum of One Dollar ($1.00) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property after said date. A minimum of Seventy Dollars ($70.00) per each crypt interment right for mausoleum interment sold or disposed of as perpetual care property, except that on crypts accessible only through another crypt the minimum requirement shall be Thirty-Five Dollars ($35.00) per each such crypt, and a minimum of Twenty Dollars ($20.00) per each niche interment right for columbarium interment sold or disposed of subsequent to September 1, 1983, shall also be placed in such perpetual care trust fund. The amount of money to be placed in the perpetual care trust fund for lawn crypts shall be the same as crypts in an aboveground mausoleum.

Art. 912a-16. Requirements of Perpetual Care Cemeteries

Each perpetual care cemetery as defined in this title shall post in a conspicuous place in the office and/or offices where sales are conducted or if there be no office, in a conspicuous place at or near the entrance of the cemetery or administration building, and readily accessible to the public, a sign which shall contain the following information in the order and manner set forth below:

(a) "Perpetual Care Cemetery"—which shall appear in a minimum of forty-eight (48) point black type.

(b) Names of officers and directors of the cemetery and the name of the bank or trust company entrusted with care of perpetual care funds.

Each perpetual care cemetery shall include in each conveyance of the exclusive right of sepulture, certificate of ownership, or sales contract executed by it, the following statement: "This cemetery is operated as a perpetual care cemetery, which means that a perpetual care fund for its maintenance has been established in conformity with the laws of the State of Texas. Perpetual care means to keep the sod in repair and all places where interments have been made in order and to care for trees and shrubs planted by the cemetery."

Art. 912a-17. Investment of Perpetual Care Funds

Perpetual care funds shall not be used for any other purpose than to provide through the income only therefrom the perpetual care stipulated in the resolution, bylaw, or other action or instrument by which the fund was created or established, and it shall be the duty of the duly appointed trustee to invest, reinvest and keep such funds invested in such securities or assets as are or shall hereafter comply with the provisions of the Texas Trust Code (Subtitle B, Title 9, Property Code)¹ in so far as the same may govern the investment of trust funds by the trustees thereof. No such investment shall be made without the written approval of either an active officer of the cemetery association or of a majority of its directors, and no such investment shall be made except at the prevailing market value of the securities at the time of the acquisition thereof.

Art. 912a-18. Special Care

The trustee of any cemetery perpetual care fund may also take and hold any property bequeathed, granted, or given to it in trust to apply the principal, or proceeds, or income therefrom to either or all of the following purposes: To the improvement or embellishment of such cemetery, or any part thereof, or any lot therein, to the erection, renewal, repair or preservation of any monuments, fence, building or other structure in such cemetery; to the planting, cultivation of trees, shrubs, or plants in or around such cemetery, or any part thereof; for the special care or ornamenting of any burial plot, lot, section or building or any portion thereof in said cemetery or to any other purpose or use not inconsistent with the purpose for which such cemetery was established or is being maintained. Not exceeding seventy-five (75) per cent of the proceeds or income therefrom shall be devoted to keeping up and beautifying the private blocks, lots or structures for the upkeep of which the bequest, grant, or gift is made. At least twenty-five (25) per cent of such proceeds or income shall be devoted to the general upkeep and beautifying of the cemetery in which such lots, blocks, or structures are located.

Persons desiring to provide a fund for maintaining and keeping up and beautifying private blocks, lots, or structures in any nonperpetual care cemetery in this State, may do so by setting aside for such purposes a reasonable sum of money or property and by providing by written instrument which shall recite the terms of the trust for a trustee (which shall be a trust company or a bank with trust powers, operating within this State) to handle and invest said sum or property and spend the proceeds or income therefrom as follows: Not exceeding seventy-five (75) per cent of the net income or proceeds therefrom shall be devoted to keeping up and beautifying the private blocks, lots, or structures, designated in the instrument, the portion of such income or proceeds not expended annually as set out above, the amount to be not less than twenty-five (25) per cent of such income or proceeds as are spent annually, shall be devoted to the general upkeep and beautification of the cemetery in which blocks, lots, or structures are located. Such trust and the administration thereof shall not be regarded and held to be a perpetuity, but as a provision for the discharge of a duty due from the person founding such trust to the persons interred upon such blocks or lots and to the public.

Art. 912a-19. Cemeteries Placed in Receivership

Whenever any perpetual care cemetery within this State shall be placed in receivership the receiver shall, from and out of the proceeds of the liquidation thereof, make such deposits in the perpetual care fund established for said cemetery as shall be necessary to meet the minimum requirements for perpetual care funds provided by law, and any deficit in said perpetual care fund below said minimum requirements shall be a preferred claim against any assets in the possession of the receiver, and shall take precedence over all claims other than vendor's liens on the cemetery property.

Art. 912a-20. Duty of Interring and Right to Control Disposition of Remains

The right to control the disposition of the body of a deceased person, unless other directions shall have been made therefor by the deceased, shall be vested in, and the duty of interment (and the liability for the reasonable cost of the interment) of such deceased person shall devolve upon, his or her surviving wife or husband, or if there be no surviving wife or husband they shall vest in and devolve upon the surviving child or children of deceased, or if there be no surviving husband or wife or child of deceased, they shall vest in and devolve upon the surviving parent or parents of such deceased, or if there be no surviving husband, or wife or child or parent of such deceased, they shall vest in and devolve upon the person or persons respectively in the next degrees of kindred in the order named by the laws of Texas as entitled to succeed to the estate of said deceased.

In all other cases, the disposition of the body and the duty of interment shall devolve upon the coroner conducting the inquest upon the body of the deceased, if any such inquest is held, and if there be no inquest they shall devolve upon the county in which the death occurs; provided, further, that any person representing himself as knowing the facts who shall sign any order or statement, other than a death certificate, for the purpose of procuring the interment of any remains shall be deemed to warrant the identity of the person whose remains are sought to be interred or cremated, and shall be personally and individually liable for all damage occasioned thereby or resulting directly or indirectly therefrom.

Art. 912a-21. Records of Interments

A record shall be kept of every interment in a cemetery showing the date the body was received, the date of interment, the name and age of the person interred, when these particulars can be conveniently obtained, and the plot and the grave, the niche, crypt, or vault therein, in which such interment was made. No remains, either cremated or uncremated, of any deceased person shall be removed from any cemetery, except upon written order of the health department having jurisdiction, or of the county Court of any county in which such cemetery is situated. A duplicate copy of which order shall be maintained as a part of the records of such cemetery. It shall be the duty of any person and/or persons, removing any remains from any cemetery, to keep and maintain a true and correct record showing the date such remains were removed, the name and age of the person removed, when these particulars can be conveniently obtained, and the place to which the same were removed, and the cemetery and the plot therein in which such remains were buried; if there be disposition of such remains other than interment, a record shall be made and kept of such disposition. Such person or persons shall deliver to the cemetery association operating the cemetery from which such remains were removed, a true, full, and complete copy of such record.

Art. 912a-22. Removals

The remains of a deceased person interred in a plot in a cemetery may be removed therefrom with the consent of the cemetery association and the written consent of the surviving wife or husband, or if there is no surviving husband or wife, then of the children; or if there is no surviving husband or wife nor children, then of the parents of the deceased, or should there be no surviving husband or wife nor children nor parent, then of the brothers and/or sisters of the deceased. If the consent of any such person or of the association cannot be obtained, permission by the county court of the county where the cemetery is situated shall be sufficient. Notice of application to the Court for such permission must be given, at least ten (10) days prior thereto, personally, or at least fifteen (15) days prior thereto if by mail, to the cemetery association, and to the persons not consenting and to every other person or association on whom service of notice may be required by the Court. This provision shall not apply to or prohibit the removal of any remains from one plot to another in the same cemetery or the removal of remains by the cemetery association from a plot for which the purchase price is past due and unpaid, to some other suitable place. Neither shall this provision apply to the disinterment of remains upon order of Court or coroner.

Art. 912a-23. May Contract Pecuniary Indebtedness but All Liens Subordinate to Dedication

Cemetery associations shall in the conduct of their business have the right to contract such pecuniary obligations as may be required, and may secure the same by mortgage, deed of trust or otherwise upon their property. Provided, that all mortgages, deeds of trust and other liens of whatsoever nature, hereafter contracted, placed or incurred upon property which has been and was at the time of the creation or placing of such lien, dedicated as a cemetery as in this Act authorized and provided, or upon property which shall afterwards, with the consent of the owner of any such mortgage, trust deed or lien, be dedicated to cemetery purposes as authorized by this title, shall in nowise or at all affect or defeat the dedication thereof, but such mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien shall be subject and subordinate to such dedication and any and all sales made upon foreclosure thereof shall be subject and subordinate to the dedication of such property to cemetery purposes.

Art. 912a-24. Location of Cemetery

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person, company, corporation, or association to establish or use for burial purposes any graveyard or cemetery, or any mausoleum and/or cemetery except in a cemetery heretofore established and operating, located within, or within less than one (1) mile from, the incorporated line of any city of not less than five thousand (5,000) nor more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, or within, or within less than two (2) miles from, the incorporated line of any city of not less than twenty-five thousand (25,000) nor more than fifty thousand (50,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, or within, or within less than three (3) miles from, the incorporated line of any city of not less than fifty thousand (50,000) nor more than one hundred thousand (100,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, or within, or within less than four (4) miles from, the incorporated line of any city of not less than one hundred thousand (100,000) nor more than two hundred thousand (200,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, or within, or within less than five (5) miles from, the incorporated line of any city of not less than two hundred thousand (200,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census; provided that where cemeteries have heretofore been used and maintained within the limits hereinabove set forth, and additional lands are required for cemetery purposes, land adjacent to said cemetery may be acquired by the cemetery association operating such cemetery, to be used as an addition to such cemetery, and the use of said additional land for such purposes shall be exempt from the provisions of this Section; and further provided that the establishment or use of a columbarium by any organized religious society or sect as a part of or attached to the principal church building owned by such religious society or sect, and within the limits hereinabove set forth, shall not be unlawful, and shall be exempt from the provisions of this Section.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) of this Section, it shall be lawful for any person, company, corporation or association to establish or use for burial purposes any graveyard or cemetery, or any mausoleum within one (1) mile of the incorporated line of any city located in any county having a population of not less than 16,790 nor more than 16,850 inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census; provided that such graveyard, cemetery or mausoleum is established within two years from the effective date of this Act.

Art. 912a-25. Abatement of Nuisances

The maintenance or location and use of any graveyard or cemetery in violation of the provisions of this title are declared to be a nuisance, and the governing body of the city, if said cemetery is within, or within less than five (5) miles from, a city of more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, or the district attorney, if said cemetery is not within, or within five (5) miles of, a city of more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census; or any person owning a residence in or near the town or city in which, or in such proximity as specified in Section 24¹ hereof to which, such graveyard or cemetery is located, may maintain an action in the Courts to abate such nuisance and to enjoin its continuance, and if it appears that said nuisance exists or is threatened in violation of this Act, a perpetual injunction shall be granted against parties guilty of such nuisance. Whenever any old cemetery for which a perpetual care and endowment fund has not been regularly and legally established, is so neglected as to be offensive to the inhabitants of the section surrounding same, it may likewise be abated and its continuance enjoined. If such cemetery be located within the city limits of an incorporated city or town, the governing body thereof may authorize the removal of all bodies, monuments, tombs, etc., therein to a perpetual care cemetery as defined in this Act.

Art. 912a-26. Police Power to Sexton

The sexton, superintendent or other person in charge of a cemetery shall have, and is hereby granted, all and equal powers, functions, duties and authority granted by law to a police officer within the city in which such cemetery is located, or if such cemetery be located outside of a city, to a constable and/or sheriff of the county or counties wherein the same is situated, for the purpose of maintaining order, enforcing the rules and regulations of the cemetery association, the laws of the State and the ordinances of such city, and he shall be charged with the enforcement thereof within the cemetery over which he has charge, and within such radius of the same as shall be necessary to protect the cemetery property.

Art. 912a-26a. Perpetual Care

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, corporation, or municipality, or any officer, agent, or employee thereof, to sell, offer for sale, or advertise any cemetery plot or the exclusive right of sepulture therein under the representation that such plot is under perpetual care, before a perpetual care fund as provided for by law has been established for the cemetery in which such property so sold, offered for sale, or advertised is situated; or to engage in or transact any of the businesses of a cemetery within this State other than by means of a corporation organized for such purpose, except as otherwise provided by law; or to fail or refuse to comply with the requirements of the law as to the filing of a statement concerning the perpetual care fund with the Banking Commissioner of Texas or to fail or refuse to publish said statement as provided by law, or to fail or refuse to post the notice with reference to perpetual care required by law, or to invest perpetual care funds otherwise than as provided by law; or to fail or refuse to keep the records of interment required by law; or to sell or offer for sale or advertise for sale cemetery lots or the exclusive right of sepulture therein for purposes of speculation or investment; or to represent through advertising or printed matter that a retail department will later be established for the resale of cemetery lot purchasers that specific improvements will be made in the cemetery or that specific merchandise or service will be furnished the lot owner, unless adequate funds or reserves have been created by the operator of the cemetery for each such purpose; or for any officer, agent, or employee of any cemetery or cemetery association, to pay or offer to pay any commission, rebate, or gratuity to any funeral director or employee thereof, or for any cemetery association or any officer or employee thereof to offer a free lot or lots either in a drawing or lottery or in any other way except for actual immediate burial of indigent persons. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Section shall be guilty of misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined not more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500) or, if a person, imprisoned not exceeding six (6) months in a county jail, or punished by both such fine and imprisonment. Any corporation organized for cemetery purposes which shall violate the provisions of this Act shall unless such violation is corrected within ninety (90) days after notice of such violation served upon it by the Attorney General of this State, thereby forfeit its charter and right to do business in this State; and when such violation shall be brought to the attention of the Attorney General of this State it shall be his duty to serve such notice, and, after the expiration of ninety (90) days without correction of such violation, to institute suit or quo warranto proceedings in any county in this State where such violation might occur, in the District Court of such county, for the forfeiture of the charter of such offending corporation and the dissolution of its corporate existence; and for such purposes venue is hereby conferred upon the District Courts in this State.

Art. 912a-27. Constitutionality

If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, word or phrase of this Act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act, which are hereby declared distinct and severable. The Legislature hereby expressly declares that it would have passed this Act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, word and phrase irrespective of the fact that any one or more section, subsection, sentence, word, or phrase be declared unconstitutional.

Art. 912a-28. Articles of Incorporation; Requisites and Contents

No perpetual care cemetery shall ever be organized without its Articles of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of State showing the subscriptions and payment in cash of its full Capital Stock, the designation of the location of its cemetery property, and a certificate showing the deposit of its Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund as provided in Section 29 of this Act.¹ The minimum amount of such Capital shall be in accordance with the following schedule: Those serving a town or city having a population of less than fifteen thousand (15,000), Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000); those serving a city having a population of fifteen thousand (15,000) but not more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants, Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000); those serving a city of twenty-five thousand (25,000) or more inhabitants, Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000).

Nothing contained in this Section 28² shall apply to cemetery corporations chartered prior to the effective date of this Act, provided, however, that any corporation which amends its charter shall be required to comply with the minimum requirements set forth in this Section 28.

Art. 912a-29. Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund; Minimum; Necessity and Requisites

Any Corporation chartered under this Act desiring to operate a Perpetual Care Cemetery, before being chartered must establish a minimum Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund, according to the following schedule:

Cemeteries with a Capital Stock of Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) must deposit with the trustee, as provided by law, a Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund of Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) in cash.

Those with a Capital Stock of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000), a Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000) in cash; and,

Those with a Capital Stock of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000), or more, a Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) in cash.

The Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund shall be permanently set aside and deposited in trust with the Trustee, as is provided in Section 15 of the Perpetual Care Cemetery Code.¹ Upon all sales made of lots, spaces, crypts, mausoleum space and columbariums, the deposits as required by law, to be placed in trust for the Perpetual Care and Maintenance of the Cemetery, shall be allowed as a credit against the original Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund to the full amount of the original deposit. The Corporation thereafter shall continue to deposit in the Perpetual Care Fund, the minimum amount required by law, and such additional amount as may be required by the Rules and Regulations and/or the Trust Agreement or contract of said Cemetery Corporation or Association, for the Perpetual Care and Maintenance of the Cemetery.

Nothing contained in this Section 29² shall apply to cemetery corporations chartered prior to the effective date of this Act, provided, however, that any corporation which amends its charter shall be required to comply with the minimum requirements set forth in this Section 29.

Art. 912a-30. Cancellation of Charter for Failure to Operate Thereunder; Rescission of Cancellation

If any such incorporated association shall fail to begin actual operations thereunder after the granting and delivery of its charter for six (6) months, the Banking Commissioner shall thereupon cancel such charter and serve notice upon the association by registered letter duly addressed to the association's address. The Banking Commissioner may at his discretion rescind such order of cancellation upon the application of the Board of Directors upon the payment to him of a penalty or fee to be fixed by the Commissioner not to exceed Five Hundred Dollars ($500) and the execution of and delivery to him of an agreement to begin actual operations within one (1) month, and a proper showing by the Trustee of the Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund that it is on deposit.

If such association should fail to begin such active operations within such latter period, the Commissioner shall make an order setting aside his order of rescission of the cancellation of such charter, and such cancellation shall thereupon be final, and the Commissioner shall make full relation of such matters to the Attorney General of the State for liquidation, if necessary. A certified copy of such cancellation shall be sufficient to authorize the Trustee of the Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund to refund the same to the incorporators signing the Articles of Incorporation, if no sales have been made of the dedicated property.

Art. 912a-31. Examinations of Cemetery Associations' Perpetual Care Trust Funds and Records; Fees and Expenses

It shall be the duty of the Banking Commissioner to examine, or cause to be examined, each of such perpetual care cemetery associations annually or as often as necessary, for which the examined association shall pay to the Commissioner a fee not to exceed One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per day or fraction thereof, for each examiner, the total fee not to exceed Four Hundred Dollars ($400.00) for any one regular examination, for those cemeteries whose annual deposits, as required by law, to their perpetual care trust fund, are less than Seven Thousand, Five Hundred Dollars ($7,500.00); for those cemeteries whose annual deposits, as required by law, to their perpetual care trust fund are Seven Thousand, Five Hundred Dollars ($7,500.00) or more, the fee shall not exceed Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) per day or fraction thereof for each examiner, the total fee not to exceed Eight Hundred Dollars ($800.00) for any one regular examination.

If in any case the conditions existing in any such association are found to be such as to necessitate an additional examination or a prolonged audit to ascertain the true status of its affairs, the whole expense of such additional examination or such prolonged audit shall be defrayed by such association.

Art. 912a-32. Compliance Required; Books, Records, and Funds to Be Maintained Within State; Examination

Any Perpetual Care Cemetery doing business in Texas shall comply with all of the provisions of this Act and shall maintain all books, accounting records, and funds within the State of Texas. Such funds and records must be available at all times to the Banking Department for examination.

Art. 912a-33. Annual Report; Liability for Failure to Make

If an Association embraced within this Act shall fail to make its annual report and file the publication with the Banking Commissioner, as provided in Section 2¹ hereof, it shall be liable for and the Banking Commissioner shall collect as a fee or penalty the sum of Five Dollars ($5) per day for the period of such failure, and upon the relation of the Banking Commissioner of such default in payment, the Attorney General shall institute a suit to recover said fees or penalties and for such other relief by the State as in the judgment of the Attorney General is proper and necessary.

Art. 912a-34. Interment; Discrimination

Cemetery associations shall not make, adopt, or enforce any rule or regulation which prohibits the interment of the remains of any deceased person in a cemetery because of the race, color, or national origin of such deceased person. Provisions in any contract entered into by a cemetery association, or in any deed or certificate of ownership granted or issued by a cemetery association with respect to the interment of the remains of deceased persons, which prohibit the interment of the remains of deceased persons in a cemetery because of race, color or national origin, are hereby declared to be against public policy, void, and unenforceable.

Arts. 913 to 930a. Repealed by Acts 1945, 49th Leg., p. 559, ch. 340, § 29

Art. 930a-1. Feed Pens or Slaughter Pens Near Cemetery in Certain Counties a Nuisance; Injunction; Old Abandoned or Neglected Cemeteries; Abatement of Nuisances

Sec. 1. In all counties in this State with a population of five hundred and twenty-five thousand (525,000) or more, the maintenance or location of feed pens for hogs, cattle, and horses, or slaughter pens, or of slaughter houses within five hundred (500) feet of any established cemetery is declared to be a nuisance, and the owner of said cemetery, or any of the lot owners therein, may maintain an action in the Courts to abate such nuisance and to enjoin its continuance, and if it appears that such nuisance exists or is threatened in violation of this Act, a perpetual injunction shall be granted against the parties guilty of such nuisance.

Sec. 2. In all counties in this State with a population of five hundred and twenty-five thousand (525,000) or more, when an old, abandoned and neglected cemetery for which no perpetual care and endowment fund has been regularly and legally established, is abated as a nuisance, either the Court abating same and enjoining its continuance or the city council of the city in which said cemetery is located, may authorize the removal of all bodies, monuments, tombs, etc., therein to a perpetually endowed cemetery as defined under the laws of the State of Texas; provided however, that if there exists within said county no perpetual care cemetery which under its rules and regulations will permit the interment of the bodies of the persons which are to be removed, the said bodies, monuments, tombs, etc., may be removed to a nonperpetual care cemetery which has provided for assessments for the future care of said cemetery.

Arts. 930b to 931b. Repealed by Acts 1945, 49th Leg., p. 559, ch. 340, § 29

Art. 931b-1. Depth of Burial Graves; Exceptions; Penalty

Sec. 1. No dead human body shall be buried in such manner that the top of the outside container within which such dead human body is placed is less than two feet below the surface of the ground, except that, if such container is made of steel, bronze, concrete or other impermeable material, the top of such container shall be not less than one and one-half feet below the surface.

The above depths shall be considered maximum limits required for such burials in this state, and if any duly constituted governing body of a political subdivision of this state declares by ordinance, rule or regulation that lesser limits are required because of sub-surface soil conditions or other relevant considerations, then such burials within that political subdivision can be at the lesser limits prescribed by such ordinance, rule or regulation.

Any person who violates the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction is punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200. The violation of the provisions in any ordinance, rule or regulation which establishes lesser limits than herein provided shall constitute a violation of this Act and is punishable under this Act.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act do not apply to burials in sealed surface reinforced concrete burial vaults.

Art. 931c. Abandonment of Lots in Private Cemeteries

Application

Sec. 1. This Act applies to unoccupied lots or portions of lots, for which adequate perpetual care has not been provided, in private cemeteries that are operated by nonprofit organizations.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Governing body" means the person or persons within a nonprofit organization who are responsible for conducting the business of a cemetery.

(2) "Nonprofit organization" means an organization described in Section 501(c)(3), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (26 U.S.C.A. 501(c)(3)).

(3) "Private cemetery" means a cemetery that is not owned or operated by the United States, the state, or a political subdivision of the state.

Decree of Abandonment

Sec. 3. (a) After furnishing the notice required by Section 5 of this Act, the governing body of a cemetery may petition a court of competent jurisdiction for an order declaring that a cemetery lot or a portion of a lot has been abandoned.

(b) If the court determines that an unoccupied cemetery lot or portion of a lot has been abandoned, the ownership of or right of sepulture in the cemetery lot reverts to the cemetery.

Presumption of Abandonment

Sec. 4. A cemetery lot is presumed to be abandoned if for 10 consecutive years an owner or an owner's successors in interest fail:

(1) to maintain the lot in a condition consistent with other lots in the cemetery; or

(2) to pay the assessments for maintenance, if any, levied by the cemetery.

Notice of Intent to Claim Abandonment

Sec. 5. (a) More than 90 but not more than 120 days before filing a petition under Section 3 of this Act, the governing body of a cemetery shall furnish written notice of its claim to the owner of the lot, or, if the owner is deceased or his address is unknown, to the successors in interest of the owner.

(b) The notice required by this section may be delivered in person or by prepaid United States mail, sent to the last known address of the owner or the owner's successors in interest.

(c) If after reasonable effort the governing body of a cemetery cannot locate or ascertain the identity of an owner or an owner's successors in interest, the governing body shall publish the notice required by this section once each week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the cemetery is located.

Rebuttal of Presumption

Sec. 6. (a) An owner or an owner's successors in interest may rebut a presumption of abandonment under Section 4 of this Act by:

(1) delivering to the governing body of the cemetery or by filing with the court, as appropriate, written notice claiming ownership of or right of sepulture in the lot; and

(2) paying the cemetery for past due maintenance charges on the lot, if any, plus interest at the maximum legal rate.

(b) A notice provided by this section for the rebuttal of a presumption is made by delivery in person or by prepaid United States mail, properly addressed. If the notice is mailed, delivery is effective on the date the notice is postmarked.

Effect of Reversion

Sec. 7. (a) If under Section 3 of this Act title to a cemetery lot or portion of a lot reverts to a cemetery, the cemetery may sell and convey title to the lot or portion of the lot.

(b) After deducting its reasonable expenses, including court costs and legal fees, related to its reacquisition of an abandoned cemetery lot, a cemetery shall deposit the funds realized from the sale of the lot into an account to be used solely for the perpetual care of the cemetery.

Laws in Conflict

Sec. 8. To the extent that Article 912a-11, 912a-12, or 912a-13, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, conflicts with this Act, this Act controls.

Art. 961. May Adopt This Title

Any incorporated city, town or village in this State containing six hundred inhabitants or over, however legally incorporated, and any incorporated city, town or village of whatever population containing one or more manufacturing establishments within the corporate limits, may accept the provisions of this title relating to cities and towns, in lieu of any existing charter, by a two-thirds vote of the council of such city, town or village, had at a regular meeting thereof, and entered upon the journal of their proceedings, and a copy of the same signed by the mayor and attested by the clerk or secretary under the corporate seal, filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk in which such city, town or village is situated, and the provisions of this title shall be in force, and all acts theretofore passed incorporating said city, town or village which may be in force by virtue of any existing charter, shall be repealed from and after the filing of said copy of their proceedings, as aforesaid. When such city, town or village is so incorporated as herein provided, the same shall be known as a city or town, subject to the provisions of this title relating to cities and towns, and vested with all the rights, powers, privileges and immunities and franchises therein conferred. The provisions of this title shall not apply to any city, town or village until such provisions have been accepted by the council in accordance with this article.

Art. 961a. Validation of Adoption of Provisions of Title

In every instance wherein an incorporated city, town, or village has attempted to accept the provisions of Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, as provided in Article 961 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, and has included in the ordinance or resolution accepting the benefits of said Title, a declaration or finding to the effect that such city, town, or village contains one or more manufacturing establishments within its corporate limits, and has filed a copy of such resolution or ordinance for record in the office of the County Clerk of the county within which such city, town, or village is situated, the action of such city, town, or village is hereby authorized, ratified, confirmed and validated, and each such city, town, or village is declared to have all of the powers of cities and towns, as provided in said Title, and all corporate actions taken by such cities, towns, and villages after such attempted compliance with said Article, and which could have been lawfully performed by a city or town having the powers under said Title, are hereby authorized, ratified, and confirmed; provided however, that the provisions of this Act shall not be construed as applicable to cities, towns, or villages, wherein any such attempted adoption of such powers is in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Art. 961b. Validation of Adoption of Provisions of Title

In every instance wherein an incorporated city, town, or village in all counties having a population of more than forty-six thousand, one hundred (46,100) and less than forty-six thousand, two hundred (46,200), according to the last preceding Federal Census, has attempted to accept the provisions and benefits of Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, and has filed a copy of the resolution or ordinance accepting such Title for record in the office of the County Clerk of the county within which such city, town, or village is situated, the action of such city, town, or village is hereby authorized, ratified, confirmed, and validated; and each such city, town, or village is declared to have all the powers of cities and towns as provided in said Title; and all corporate actions taken by such cities, towns, and villages after the passage of such ordinances or resolution accepting the benefits of said Title, and which could have been lawfully performed by a city or town having the powers under said Title, are hereby authorized, ratified, confirmed, and validated; and all proceedings heretofore had by the governing bodies of all such cities, towns, and villages in the issuance and sale of bonds, to aid in financing any project and/or projects for which a loan or grant has been made or applied for to the United States through the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works or any agency, department, or division of the Government of the United States of America, are herein in all things fully validated, confirmed, approved, and legalized; and all such bonds issued thereunder are hereby declared to be the valid and binding obligations of such cities and towns; and all such bonds which have been heretofore authorized but not yet issued or sold shall, when delivered and paid for, constitute valid and binding obligations of such cities and towns. All tax levies made by such governing bodies for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest on such bonds are hereby in all things validated, confirmed, approved and legalized.

Art. 961b-1. Town or Village Under Commission Form of Government Having $500,000 Taxable Property May Adopt This Title

Sec. 1. Any town or village heretofore incorporated under the provisions of Chapter 12 of Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and amendments thereto, and having an assessed valuation for taxable purposes of Five Hundred Thousand ($500,000.00) Dollars or more, according to its latest approved tax rolls, notwithstanding any limitation contained in Article 1163 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and amendments thereto, is hereby authorized to adopt the powers of cities and towns in the manner specified in Article 961 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and amendments thereto, notwithstanding any limitation contained in said Article as to minimum population or as to the inclusion of manufacturing establishments; and, after having adopted such powers, any such municipality shall be known as a city or town, and shall be vested with all of the rights, powers, privileges, immunities and franchises conferred or imposed on cities or towns by the laws contained in Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and amendments thereto.

Sec. 2. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws, but, in the event any of its provisions shall conflict with the provisions of any other law, the provisions hereof shall prevail to the extent of such conflict.

Art. 962. General Powers

All the inhabitants of each city, town or village so accepting the provisions of this title shall continue to be a body corporate, with perpetual succession, by the name and style by which such city, town or village was known before such acceptance, and as such they and their successors by that name shall have, exercise and enjoy all the rights, immunities, powers, privileges and franchises possessed and enjoyed by the same at the time of said acceptance, and those hereinafter granted and conferred, and shall be subject to all the duties and obligations pertaining to or incumbent on the same as a corporation at the time of said acceptance, and may ordain and establish such acts, laws, regulations and ordinances, not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State, as shall be needful for the government, interest, welfare and good order of said body politic and under the same name shall be known in law, and be capable of contracting and being contracted with, suing and being sued, impleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, in all courts and places, and in all matters whatever, may take, hold and purchase, lease, grant and convey such real and personal or mixed property or estate as the purposes of the corporation may require, within or without the limits thereof; and may make, have and use a corporate seal and change and renew the same at pleasure.

Art. 963. Not Affected by This Title

All property, real, personal or mixed, belonging to any city accepting the provisions of this title, is hereby vested in the corporation created by this title, and the officers of said corporation, in office at the date of its acceptance, shall continue in the same, until superseded in conformity with the provisions of this title. All rights, actions, fines, penalties and forfeitures in suits or otherwise, which have accrued under the laws heretofore in force, shall be vested in and prosecuted by the corporation hereby created. No suit pending shall be affected by the passage and acceptance of this title, but the same shall be prosecuted or defended as the case may be, by the corporation hereby created.

Art. 964. Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 2329, ch. 841, § 6(a)(1), eff. Jan. 1, 1982

Section 1 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., ch. 841, repealing this article, enacted the Property Tax Code, constituting Title 1 of the Tax Code.

Art. 965. City Limits

The bounds and limits of said municipality shall be and remain the same as fixed and defined by the provisions of the act of incorporation, substituted by the provisions of this Title; provided, that said limits of said corporation may be hereafter extended by adding additional territory to the same, whenever the majority of the qualified electors of said territory shall indicate a desire to be included within the limits of said corporation in the manner provided in Article 974 of this Title; or by ordinance of the governing body of said municipality, duly passed and spread upon the minutes thereof, describing by metes and bounds such additional territory added thereto, provided that this provision shall apply only to those cities where the additional territory so added is owned by such municipalities.

Art. 966. May Incorporate

Any city or town containing six hundred inhabitants or over may be incorporated as such, with all the powers, rights, immunities and privileges mentioned and described in the provisions of this title relating to cities and towns, in the manner described in Chapter 11 of this title¹ for incorporating towns and villages, except that the application to become incorporated shall be signed by at least fifty electors, residents of such city or town, and except that when an election is held according to the provisions of such chapter the words "towns and villages" shall be construed to mean "cities and towns." When the entry by the county judge, provided in article 1139 is made with reference to a city or town of six hundred inhabitants and over, such city or town shall be vested with all the rights and privileges of such cities conferred by this title.

Art. 966a. Validation of Incorporation of Cities and Towns of 5,000 or Less

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less heretofore incorporated and/or attempted in good faith to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, whether under the aldermanic form of government or under the commission form of government, and which have in good faith functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated, as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid on account of irregularities in the petition for election, order for election, notice of election, returns of election, order declaring result of election, or on account of the incorporation election having been ordered and/or the returns thereof canvassed and result declared by a person exercising the functions and/or performing the duties of County Judge without lawful authority so to do, or on account of other irregularities in the incorporation proceedings.

Sec. 1-a. Provided however, that this Act shall have no effect upon any suit or suits pending at this time in the Courts of this State which involve such cities and towns, nor upon any suit involving such cities and towns which may be filed within ninety (90) days from the effective date of this Act.

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed in good faith by the governing bodies of such cities and towns since their incorporation or attempted incorporation, respectively, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective dates of such proceedings, and such governmental proceedings shall be effective the same as if such cities and towns had been regularly incorporated in the first instance.

Art. 966b. Validation of Incorporation; Incorrect Description; Excessive Area

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has been held for the purpose of incorporating a city, town or village and the territory to be contained in such city, town or village was inadequately or incorrectly described in connection with such election proceedings or the order of the county judge declaring such territory to be incorporated, or such territory contained a greater area than was permitted by law, and where, thereafter, the county judge of the county in which such city, town or village is situated entered an order declaring the inhabitants of such city, town or village, incorporated under the General Laws of the State of Texas relating to cities and towns, and fixing and declaring the boundaries thereof and finding and declaring the names of the mayor, aldermen and city secretary of any such city, such order by the county judge is hereby in all things validated, ratified and approved, and such city, town or village shall be known by the name specified in such order.

Sec. 2. Any City, town or village declared to be incorporated by an order as mentioned in Section 1 of this Act is hereby validated and declared to be a duly incorporated city with the boundaries as defined in such order, and the mayor, aldermen and city secretary named in such order shall constitute the mayor, aldermen and city secretary of such city until their successors are duly elected or appointed and qualified.

Art. 966c. Validation of Incorporation, Proceedings and Acts; Cities and Towns of 5,000 or Less; Limits of Territory

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under any of the terms and provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which are now functioning or attempting to function as incorporated cities and towns, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law, or by reason of a failure to properly define the limits of said city or town, or because of the inclusion in such limits of more territory than is expressly authorized in Article 971 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925, or by reason of the inclusion in the corporate area of territory other than that which is intended to be used for strictly town purposes.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof, prior to the effective date of this Act, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings and acts performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings and acts.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town involved in litigation at the time of the effective date of this Act (Chapter 177, Regular Session, Acts of the 53rd Legislature) questioning the legality of the incorporation or extension of boundaries.

Sec. 5. If any word, phrase, clause, sentence, paragraph or provision of this Act is declared unconstitutional, it is the intention of the Legislature that the remaining provisions thereof shall be effective, and that such remaining portions shall remain in full force and effect.

Art. 966d. Validation of Incorporation; Incorrect Description; Excessive Area; Elections

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has been held for the purpose of incorporating a city, town or village, and the territory to be contained in such city, town or village was inadequately or incorrectly described in connection with such election proceedings or the order of the county judge declaring such territory to be incorporated, or such territory contained a greater area than was permitted by law, and where, thereafter, the county judge of the county in which such city, town or village is situated entered an order declaring the inhabitants of such city, town or village, incorporated under the General Laws of the State of Texas relating to cities and towns, and fixing and declaring the boundaries thereof and finding and declaring the names of the mayor, aldermen and city secretary of any such city, such order by the county judge is hereby in all things validated, ratified and approved, and such city, town or village shall be known by the name specified in such order.

Sec. 2. Any city, town or village declared to be incorporated by an order as mentioned in Section 1 of this Act is hereby validated and declared to be a duly incorporated city with the boundaries as defined in such order, and the mayor, aldermen and city secretary named in such order are hereby declared to have been the mayor, aldermen and city secretary of such city at the time of the entry of said order, and all elections held for the election of city officials are hereby validated and ratified.

Sec. 3. This Act shall not apply to any municipality which is now involved, or which within sixty (60) days from the effective date of this Act becomes involved, in litigation in any district court of this State, the Court of Civil Appeals, or the Supreme Court of Texas, in which litigation the validity of the organization, incorporation or creation of such municipality is attacked; and this Act shall not apply to any municipality involved in formal proceedings now pending before such municipality's commission or council in which proceedings the organization or creation of such municipality is attached. Provided, further, that this Act shall not apply to any municipality which has heretofore been declared invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction of this State or which may have been established and which was later returned to its original status.

Art. 966d-1. Validation of Incorporation; Incorrect Description; Excessive Area; Elections

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has been held for the purpose of incorporating a city, town or village, and the territory to be contained in such city, town or village was inadequately or incorrectly described in connection with such election proceedings, or such territory contained a greater area than was permitted by law, and where, thereafter, the county judge of the county in which such city, town or village is situated entered an order declaring the inhabitants of such city, town or village, incorporated under the General Laws of the State of Texas relating to cities and towns, and fixing and declaring the boundaries thereof, as he finds such boundaries to exist at the time of entering such order, and finding and declaring the names of the officials of any such city, such order by the county judge is hereby in all things validated, ratified and approved, and such city, town or village shall be known by the name specified in such order.

Sec. 2. Any city, town or village declared to be incorporated by an order as mentioned in Section 1 of this Act is hereby validated and declared to be a duly incorporated city with the boundaries as defined in such order, and the act of the governing body thereof in accepting the provisions of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes, as amended, relating to cities and towns is hereby validated and the officials named in such order are hereby declared to have been the mayor, aldermen and city secretary of such city at the time of the entry of said order, and all elections held for the election of city officials are hereby validated and ratified.

Sec. 3. This Act shall not apply to any municipality which is now involved in litigation in any district court of this state, the Court of Civil Appeals, or the Supreme Court of Texas, in which litigation the validity of the organization, incorporation or creation of such municipality is attacked. Provided further, that this Act shall not apply to any municipality which has heretofore been declared invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction of this state or which may have been established and which was later returned to its original status.

Art. 966e. Validation of Incorporation, Area and Boundaries; Cities and Towns of 5,000 or Less

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated, or attempted to be incorporated under any of the terms and provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which are now functioning or attempting to function as incorporated cities and towns, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation, or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law, or by reason of a failure to properly define the limits of said city or town.

Sec. 2. The areas and boundary lines of all such cities and towns affected by this Act are in all things validated and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid because of the inclusion in such limits of more territory than is expressly authorized in Article 971 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925, or by reason of the inclusion in the corporate area of territory other than that which is intended to be used for strictly town purposes, or by reason of the shape, form or outline of the area or territory included within the boundaries of such city or town.

Art. 966f. Validation of Incorporation of Cities and Towns of 5,000 or Less

Sec. 1. All cities and towns, in this state, of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, whether under the aldermanic form of government or the commission form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town in a county having a population of three hundred and fifty thousand (350,000) or more according to the last preceding Federal Census which city or town is involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act as originally enacted or on the effective date of this Section as amended by Senate Bill No. 448, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, questioning the legality of the incorporation, annexations and/or extensions of boundaries by any such cities and towns.

Art. 966g. Validation of Incorporation; Areas and Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings and Acts; Cities of 5,000 or Less

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated, or attempted to be incorporated under any of the terms and provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which are now functioning or attempting to function as incorporated cities or towns, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation, or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law, or by reason of a failure to properly define the limits of said city or town.

Sec. 2. All cities and towns in Texas of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated, or attempted to be incorporated under any of the terms and provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, which have attempted to extend the corporate limits of such city or town, and have passed an ordinance describing the territory annexed and have caused a certified copy of such ordinance to be recorded in the Deed Records of the County in which such city or town is situated, all actions, elections and proceedings had or passed in reference thereto or in connection therewith, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such attempted annexation, and such extension of the corporate limits of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other proceedings had in connection with such annexation may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 3. The areas and boundary lines of all such cities and towns affected by this Act, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof are in all things validated and the incorporation of such cities and towns or any subsequent extension of the corporate limits of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid because of the inclusion in such limits of more territory than is expressly authorized in Article 971 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925, or by reason of the inclusion in the corporate area of territory other than that which is intended to be used for strictly town purposes.

Sec. 4. All governmental proceedings and acts performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings and acts.

Sec. 5. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in litigation questioning the legality of the incorporation or extension of boundaries or any of the acts or proceedings hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the legality thereof.

Art. 966h. Validation of Incorporation; Areas and Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings and Acts; Cities and Towns of 4,500 or Less

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of four thousand, five hundred (4,500) inhabitants or less, according to the last preceding Federal Census, heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under any of the terms and provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which are now functioning or attempting to function as incorporated cities or towns, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation, or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law, or by reason of a failure to properly define the limits of such city or town.

Sec. 2. The areas and boundary lines of all such cities and towns affected by this Act, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof are in all things validated and the incorporation of such cities and towns or any subsequent extension of the corporate limits of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid because of the inclusion in such limits of more territory than is expressly authorized in Article 971 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925, or by reason of the inclusion in the corporate area of territory other than that which is intended to be used for strictly town purposes.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings and acts performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings and acts.

Sec. 4. If any word, phrase, clause, sentence, paragraph or provision of this Act is declared unconstitutional, it is the intention of the Legislature that the remaining provisions thereof shall be effective, and that such remaining portions shall remain in full force and effect.

Art. 966i. Incorporation of Certain Areas Containing 8,000 or More Inhabitants and at Least 10,000 Acres

Sec. 1. Any unincorporated area having a population, according to the last preceding federal census, of 8,000 inhabitants or more, and located wholly within boundaries of a district created pursuant to Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution, which district furnishes water and sewer services to householders, contains at least 10,000 acres, and portions of which district are located within the corporate boundaries of two or more municipalities, may be incorporated as a city or town, with all of the powers, rights, immunities, and privileges mentioned and described in the provisions of this title relating to cities and towns, in the manner described in Article 966, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, for incorporating cities and towns, provided, however, that the application to become incorporated shall be signed by at least 500 resident electors.

Sec. 2. The application to become incorporated shall be filed in the office of the county judge of the county in which the unincorporated area is located. Within 10 days after receipt of a map or plat of the boundaries of the unincorporated area, verification by the county tax assessor and collector that the requisite number of resident electors have signed the application to become incorporated, and certification by a registered professional engineer that the area described in the application contains at least 8,000 inhabitants and is located wholly within the boundaries of a district created pursuant to Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution, which district furnishes water and sewer services to householders, contains at least 10,000 acres, and portions of which district are located within the corporate boundaries of two or more municipalities, the county judge shall order that an election be held for the purpose of submitting the question of incorporation to a vote of the people, in the manner prescribed by Article 966, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925.

Sec. 3. Notwithstanding any provision of this Act or any other law to the contrary, the application for incorporation, the order calling the incorporation election, the conduct and canvassing of said election, and, in the event of the passage of the election, the entry by the county judge upon the records of the commissioners court that the inhabitants of the city or town are incorporated within the boundaries thereof, and all subsequent actions of the incorporated city or town shall be valid, binding, and enforceable notwithstanding the absence of compliance with any requirement or requirements of the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not take effect until January 1, 1978. If, however, the unincorporated area described in Section 1 of this Act has been annexed by the principal city of the county wherein the unincorporated area lies or if annexation proceedings have been initiated by the principal city after January 1, 1977, then all provisions of this Act shall be held void.

Sec. 5. If any provision of this Act or its application to any person or circumstance is held to be invalid for any reason, the invalidity does not affect any other provision or application of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Art. 967. Cities of the Republic

Any city, town or village, within this State, incorporated under any law, general or special, of the Republic of Texas, regardless of the extent of the boundaries thereof, or the number of its population, may accept the provisions of Chapters 1 to 10, both inclusive, of this title, in lieu of any existing charter created by any such law of the Republic of Texas, by a two-thirds vote of the council of such city, town or village; which action by the council shall be held at a regular meeting thereof and entered upon the journal of their proceedings, and a copy of the same signed by the mayor and attested by the clerk or secretary under the corporate seal, filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county in which such city, town or village is situated, and the provisions of said Chapters 1 to 10 both inclusive, of this title shall be in force, and all acts theretofore passed incorporating said city, town or village, which may be in force by virtue of any existing charter shall be repealed from and after the filing of said copy of their proceedings as aforesaid, when such city, town or village is so incorporated as herein provided, the same shall be known as a city or town, subject to the provisions of this title, vested with all the rights, powers, privileges, immunities and franchises therein conferred.

Art. 968. Effect of Acceptance

All the inhabitants of each city, town or village so accepting the provisions of chapters 1 to 10 of this title, shall continue to be a body corporate, with perpetual succession, by the name and style by which such city, town or village was known before the acceptance of the provisions of such law, and as such they and their successors by that name shall have, exercise and enjoy all the rights, immunities, powers, privileges and franchises possessed and enjoyed by the same at the time of the acceptance of the provisions of such title and those herein granted and conferred, and shall be subject to all the duties and obligations pertaining to or incumbent on the same as a corporation at the time of the acceptance of the provisions of such title, and may ordain and establish such acts, laws, regulations and ordinances not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State, as shall be needful for the government, interest, welfare and good order of said body politic, and, under the same name, shall be known in law, and be capable of contracting and being contracted with, suing and being sued, impleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, in all courts and places, and in all matters whatever, may take, hold and purchase, lease, grant and convey such real and personal or mixed property or estate as the purposes or the corporation may require, within or without the limits thereof; and may make, have and use a corporate seal and change and renew the same at pleasure.

Art. 969. Property Rights

All property, real, personal or mixed, belonging to any such city, town, or village so incorporated under and by virtue of any law of the Republic of Texas, general or special, accepting said title, is hereby vested in the corporation thus created, and the council of such city, town or village is hereby authorized and empowered to sell and alienate such property and to appropriate the proceeds of such sale to the acquisition or construction, maintenance or operation of a water, sewer, gas and electric light and power system, or any one or more of such systems, within or without the limits of such city or town, or for any other public improvement within said city or town, as the council thereof may determine.

Art. 969a. Lease of Islands or Submerged Lands by Certain Cities

Sec. 1. Any city of more than forty-three thousand (43,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding United States Census located in a county in this State of less than one hundred thousand (100,000) inhabitants according to such Census to which city the Republic of Texas, or the State of Texas has heretofore granted any island, flats or other submerged lands be, and is hereby granted power and authority to execute leases for periods of time not to exceed ninety-nine (99) years for portions of such island, flats or other submerged lands as may from time to time be determined by the governing body of such city.

Sec. 2. Every such lease shall specify the purposes for which the same is made and provide a maximum period of five (5) years within which the lessee shall exercise the rights and privileges granted.

Art. 969a-1. Lease, Sale, Option or Conveyance of Islands, Flats or Other Submerged Lands

Sec. 1. Any city to which the State of Texas or the Republic of Texas has heretofore relinquished its right, title and interest in or to any island, flats or other submerged lands be, and is hereby granted power and authority to lease, sell, option and convey all or any portion of such island, flats or other submerged lands, and to enter upon development plans and contracts for any or all of these purposes with any person, firm or corporation, public or private. The foregoing powers may be exercised at such time and upon such considerations and terms and for such periods of years as the governing body of such city shall determine to be proper and in the public interest. In any city which has by charter provision for a referendum, a contract for the development of such island, flats and other submerged land and for the lease, sale or option of all or any part thereof, as authorized in this Act, may be entered upon by the governing board of the city without advertisement or receiving bids thereon, but shall be subject to the provisions for referendum and such contract shall not become finally effective until the period within which the petition for referendum must be presented has expired or, if a proper petition for referendum is presented, until the contract has been approved at an election ordered for that purpose.

Sec. 2. All laws or parts of laws and provisions of the charter of any city which may be in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby amended or repealed to the extent of such conflict. As to the content of all other laws or parts of laws this Act shall be cumulative.

Sec. 3. This Act shall not be construed to grant or convey to any city the title to any oil, gas or other minerals which was not already owned by such city at the enactment hereof.

Sec. 4. If any section, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase or word contained in this Act shall be held unconstitutional by any court of this State, the invalidity of such portion of the Act shall not be construed to affect any other part of this Act. [Acts 1953, 53rd Leg., p. 126, ch. 80.]

Art. 969b. Acquisition of Property for Certain Purposes; Exercise of Eminent Domain or Police Powers, etc.; Procedure; Relocation Expenses

Authorization; Modes and Purposes of Acquisition; Procedure; Relocation Expenses

Sec. 1. Any incorporated city or town in this State incorporated under general or special law or authorized to have or having a Charter under the provisions of the Constitution of Texas or the Statutes shall have and is hereby granted the power separately or jointly with any other city, town, cities or towns, or jointly with any other city, town, cities or towns and other governmental entity, to receive and acquire through gift or dedication and to acquire by purchase without condemnation or by condemnation, if within the county where said governmental entity, city, town, cities or towns are located, any property in this State located inside or outside of the corporate limits of such city or town, for the following purposes, which are declared to be public purposes: parks, hospitals, the extension, improvement and enlargement of its water system, including riparian rights, water supply reservoirs, standpipes, watersheds, dams, the laying, building, maintenance and construction of water mains and the laying, erection, establishment or maintenance of any necessary appurtenances or facilities which will furnish to the inhabitants of the city an abundant supply of wholesome water; for sewage plants and systems; rights of way for water and sewer lines; play grounds, airports, and landing fields, incinerators, garbage disposal plants, streets, boulevards and alleys or other public ways, and any right of way needed in connection with any property used for any purpose hereinabove named, and to exercise Police Power within the territory so acquired.

The procedure to be followed in condemnation proceeding hereunder and authorized herein shall be in accordance with the provisions of the State law with reference to eminent domain. The provisions of Title 52 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925,¹ shall apply to such proceedings, or such proceedings may be under any other State law now in existence or that hereafter may be passed governing and relating to the condemnation of land for public purposes by a city.

In the exercise of any authority granted by this Act to cities, towns and other governmental entities, in the event it becomes necessary in the exercise of the powers of eminent domain or Police Power, or any other power to relocate, raise, lower, reroute or change the grade or alter the construction of any railroad, electric transmission, telegraph or telephone line, conduit, pole, property or facility, or pipeline, outside of the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town, all such relocation, raising, lowering, rerouting, or change in grade or alteration of construction shall be accomplished at the sole expense of the city, town, cities, or towns, or other governmental entity; provided, that nothing contained herein shall affect the existing lawful rights of any city or town to control the streets, alleys, public ways and other public grounds within its corporate limits. The term "sole expense" shall mean the actual cost of such relocation, raising, lowering, rerouting, or change in grade or alteration of construction, in providing comparable replacement without enhancement of such facilities, after deducting therefrom the net salvage value derived from the old facility.

Maintenance, Improvement and Operation of Property

Sec. 2. Such city or town and such city, town, cities, towns and counties are hereby empowered to maintain, improve and operate the property so acquired and all improvements thereon and to sell or lease all or any part of the property and improvements so acquired and shall have full and ample power to jointly manage, control and operate such property so owned by two or more such political subdivisions, by entering into any contracts with each other on terms mutually agreeable.

Negotiable Warrants and Bonds of City or County; Taxes

Sec. 3. For the purpose of condemning or purchasing, either or both, lands to be used and maintained as provided in Section 1 hereof, and improving and equipping the same for such use, the governing body of any city or the Commissioners Court of any county, falling within the terms of such Section, may issue negotiable warrants and bonds of the city or of the county, as the case may be, and levy taxes to provide for the interest and sinking funds of any such warrants and bonds so issued, the authority hereby given for the issuance of such warrants and bonds and levy and collection of such taxes to be exercised in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925 with the amendments thereto.

Improvement and Maintenance

Sec. 4. The political subdivision or subdivisions acquiring property under this Act is and are hereby expressly authorized and empowered to improve, maintain and conduct the same for the purposes hereby authorized and to make and provide thereon all necessary or fit improvements and facilities and to fix such reasonable charges for the use thereof as the governing body or bodies or governing bodies of the city, town, cities or towns acquiring property or making improvements under the provisions of this Act shall determine by mutual agreement and are granted ample Police Power to make and enforce rules and regulations governing the use thereof as the interested governing bodies shall determine by ordinance.

Special Tax

Sec. 5. In addition to and exclusive of any taxes which may be levied for the interest and sinking fund of any bonds issued under the authority of this Act, the governing body of any such city or town and the Commissioners Court of any county, falling within the terms hereof, may and is hereby empowered to levy and collect a special tax for the purpose of improving, operating, maintaining and conducting any property which such city or county may acquire under the provisions of this Act, and to provide all suitable structures, and facilities therein. Provided that nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing any city or county to exceed the limits of indebtedness placed upon it under the Constitution.

Contracts; Expenditure of Public Funds

Sec. 6. Any city or town acquiring any property under the authority of the foregoing section shall also be authorized to make any contract and to expend its public funds in the joint or several operation and maintenance of any of the municipal functions authorized by this Act.

Act as Cumulative

Sec. 7. This Act shall be deemed to be cumulative of all other laws and Charter Provisions relating to the same subject.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 8. In case any section, clause, sentence, paragraph, provision or part of this Act shall for any reason be adjudged by any Court of competent or final jurisdiction to be invalid such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this Act but shall be confined in its operation to the section, clause, sentence, paragraph or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

Art. 969c. CemeteriesCity or Town as Trustee

Sec. 1. Any incorporated or chartered city or town within the State of Texas, owning, operating, or having control of any cemetery or cemetery property, shall have the power and authority to act as a permanent trustee for the perpetual care and upkeep of the lots and graves in such burial grounds. Any city or town desiring to act as such trustee may do so by the passage of an ordinance or resolution, signifying its willingness and intention to act as such trustee, by the majority of its governing board, council, or alderman; and upon the passage of said ordinance or resolution and the acceptance of such trust, as herein provided for, the same shall become perpetual.

Rules and Regulations; Deposit of Funds Required; Certificate

Sec. 2. Said cities and towns shall have the right, power, and authority to make reasonable rules and regulations as such trustee, to receive gifts, grants, and donations from any source, and to also fix the amounts necessary for the permanent care and upkeep of individual graves or family lots. Any person desiring to have a city or town, now acting or which may hereafter desire to act as such trustee for the permanent care and upkeep of such graves and burial lots, to act as trustee for him or those deceased persons in whom he has an interest or to whom he may feel attached, shall have the right to deposit such amount or funds as may be required by the said city or town for this purpose; and the acceptance by the said city or town of the funds required for such purpose shall constitute a permanent and perpetual trust fund for the burial lot or grave or graves so designated. Upon the acceptance by said city or town of such trust, its Secretary, Clerk or Mayor shall issue a certificate to the person or persons advancing such funds or money, which said certificate shall recite the purpose, the amount advanced and by whom, and the location, as nearly as possible, of the lot, grave or burial place, and such further information and designation as said city or town may deem proper.

Donation for Maintenance and Upkeep of Neglected and Unkept Cemeteries

Sec. 2A. A person, association, foundation, or corporation interested in the maintenance and upkeep of neglected and unkept cemeteries under the possession and control of a city may make donations to the permanent and perpetual trust fund to be used to beautify and maintain the whole cemetery or burial grounds generally.

Record Book

Sec. 3. Any city or town acting as such trustee shall keep a permanent and well-bound record book in which shall be kept in alphabetical order the names of all persons advancing funds, the amount advanced, the purpose for which such advancement was made, names and locations, in so far as possible, of lots and graves, the condition and status of the trust imposed, and such further information as said city or town may deem proper.

Investment of Funds

Sec. 4. Said cities and towns shall have the right, power, and authority to invest and reinvest all funds advanced to it for the purposes herein set forth in interest-bearing bonds or securities of a municipality, state, or the federal government. At all times the interest, revenue, or other accrual or increase of the funds advanced for specific lots, graves, or burial places shall be first used for the maintenance, care, and upkeep, in a first class condition, of the particular lot, graves, or burial place for which the advancement and donation was originally made. However, in the event of the accrual of a reasonable excess of revenue from such specific fund and the accumulation of a greater amount than is necessary for the faithful accomplishment of the trust and purpose herein provided for, such excess may, in the discretion of such trustee, be used to beautify the whole cemetery or burial grounds generally; but at no time shall any part of the original or principal amount first advanced and donated for the care, upkeep, and maintenance of specific lots, graves, and burial places, ever be used by such trustee. This original amount or fund shall forever remain and be kept intact as a principal trust fund.

Certificates

Sec. 5. All certificates issued by such city or town shall be issued in the name of the said city or town to the trustee or person who makes the advancement of funds or money as herein provided for; and such certificate holder shall have the right, upon the payment of the proper cost or recording fee, to have such certificate recorded in the Deed Records of the county in which such cemetery is located; and it shall be the duty of all county clerks in the State of Texas to file, index, and record such certificates in the deed records of the county in which such cemetery is situated.

Care for Graves by Individuals

Sec. 6. None of the rights, powers, and duties herein provided for shall deprive any person having an interest in a grave or burial lot, or kinship within the third degree by affinity or consanguinity to those there interred, from beautifying or caring for the same individually or at his own expense, under such reasonable rules and regulations as said city or town may provide.

Successor on Failure of Trustee to Act

Sec. 7. In the event that any city or town should, after having engaged upon and accepted the trust herein provided for, renounce such trust, or fail to refuse to act further as such trustee, as herein provided for, then the district judge or highest trial judge of the county in which such cemetery is located shall appoint a suitable successor or trustees, whenever the occasion demands or a vacancy occurs, to act in lieu of said city or town and to carry out and faithfully execute the trust herein provided for.

Budget; Tax

Sec. 7a. Such city or town may include in its annual budget such sum as may be deemed necessary for maintenance and upkeep of such cemetery and shall have power or authority to assess and collect an ad valorem tax upon all the property within such city or town not to exceed Five (5) Cents on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation of all the property so assessed for maintenance and upkeep of such cemetery, regardless whether such cemetery is located within or without the boundary of corporate limits of such city or town.

Act as Cumulative; Partial Invalidity

Sec. 8. This Act shall be cumulative of all existing laws; but its intention is that the trust herein provided for shall not fail for any reason and, if any section or part hereof is invalid then the remainder shall not in any way be affected or held to be invalid.

[Acts 1945, 49th Leg., p. 194, ch. 148. Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1388, ch. 555, § 7, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 969c-1. Termination of Perpetual Trust Funds for Cemeteries of Municipalities in Counties of 120,000 to 128,000

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to all municipalities whether created by general law, special act, or under the home rule charter, in counties having a population of not less than 120,000 and not more than 128,000, according to the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 2. The governing body of said municipalities may abolish and terminate perpetual trust funds for their cemeteries and to use all moneys therein, both principal and interest, on permanent improvements for their cemeteries.

Art. 969c-2. Possession and Control of Unkept or Abandoned Cemeteries

Sec. 1. An incorporated city, town or village having a cemetery within its boundaries or within its extraterritorial jurisdiction which threatens or endangers the health, safety, comfort, or welfare of the public may, by resolution of its governing body, take possession and control of the cemetery on behalf of the public health, safety, comfort, and welfare of present and future generations.

Sec. 2. The resolution shall specify that 60 days after giving notice of a declaration of intent to take possession and control, the city in which the cemetery is located will remove or repair any fences, walls, or improvements, and will straighten and reset any memorial stones or embellishments that are found to be a threat or danger to the health, safety, comfort, or welfare of the public and take proper steps to restore and maintain the premises in orderly and decent condition. Notice shall be given by mail to all persons shown by the records in the county clerk's office to have an interest in the cemetery and to all interested persons by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the city.

Sec. 3. Sixty days after giving notice, the city may remove or repair any fences, walls, or improvements, and will straighten and reset any memorial stones or embellishments that are found to be a threat or danger to the health, safety, comfort, or welfare of the public and restore the premises to decent condition. Thereafter, the city shall maintain the cemetery so that it will not endanger the health, safety, comfort, or welfare of the public. Provided, however, no additional burial spaces will be offered for sale.

Sec. 4. A cemetery in the possession and control of a city under the provisions of this Act shall remain open to the public. A person who has an interest in a grave or burial lot or who has a kinship within the third degree of affinity or consanguinity to those interred may care for a grave or burial lot in the cemetery.

Sec. 5. No city nor officer or employee of the city shall be liable in civil damages or be criminally liable for acts performed in a good faith administration of this Act.

Sec. 6. The provisions of this Act are cumulative of all other remedies and provisions of the law relating to cemeteries, including the care, maintenance, ownership, operation, and control of cemeteries, perpetual trust funds to maintain cemeteries, and the abatement of nuisances and removal of cemeteries. The provisions of this Act do not apply to a perpetual care cemetery incorporated under the laws of this state or to a private family cemetery.

Art. 969d. Cities With Less Than 10,000 Population; Purchase of Real Estate from United States Government

Sec. 1. The governing bodies of cities, towns and villages, including Home Rule Cities, with a population of less than ten thousand (10,000), are hereby authorized to purchase real property and improvements thereon for municipal purposes from the Federal Government when offered for sale to such cities, towns and villages.

Sec. 2. All actions and negotiations of governing bodies of cities, towns and villages prior to the effective date of this Act relating to the purchase or acquisition of real property for municipal purposes for the Federal Government are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 3. Governing bodies of cities, towns and villages are hereby authorized to sell and convey any such property so acquired for the highest price obtainable when the same is no longer needed for the purpose or purposes for which acquired or when the purpose or purposes for which acquired no longer exist.

Sec. 4. If any portion of this Act is held unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction the remaining portions shall nevertheless be valid the same as if the invalid portion had not been a part hereof.

Art. 969e. State-line Border Cities; Joint Governmental Facilities and Services; Agreements

Sec. 1. It is the purpose of this Act to permit any city in this state which borders on the state line and which is separated from a city in the adjoining state only by the state line, to cooperate with such adjoining city in another state in furnishing governmental services and facilities to the inhabitants of such adjoining cities to the end that such governmental services and facilities may be adequately provided in the most efficient manner.

Sec. 2. Any city in this state which borders on a state line and which is separated from a city in an adjoining state only by the state line may enter into an agreement or agreements with such adjoining city whereby either of such cities agrees to furnish certain services or facilities for the other or whereby such cities agree to jointly or cooperatively furnish any governmental service or facility or to exercise or enjoy any power or authority which the Texas city involved may furnish, exercise, or enjoy under the laws of this state, to the extent that the laws of the state in which the adjoining city is located permits such joint or cooperative activity.

Sec. 3. Every agreement or contract entered into by a city of this state as authorized in Section 2 of this Act shall specify:

- (1) its duration;
- (2) the precise organization, composition, and nature of any separate legal or administrative entity created thereby, together with the powers delegated thereto, provided such entity may be legally created;
- (3) its purpose or purposes;
- (4) the manner of financing the joint or cooperative undertaking and of establishing and maintaining a budget therefor, or in the case of an agreement whereby one city agrees to furnish specified services or facilities to the other city, the financial arrangement therefor;
- (5) the permissible method or methods to be employed in accomplishing the partial or complete termination of the agreement and for disposing of property upon such partial or complete termination; and
- (6) any other necessary and proper matters, including appropriate provisions for enforcement.

Sec. 4. If such agreement does not establish a separate legal entity to conduct the joint or cooperative undertaking, the agreement shall, in addition to the requirements of Section 3 of this Act, contain the following:

- (1) provision for an administrator or a joint board responsible for administering the joint or cooperative undertaking. In the case of a joint board, cities party to the agreement shall be represented.
- (2) the manner of acquiring, holding, and disposing of real and personal property used in the joint or cooperative undertaking.

Sec. 5. No agreement made pursuant to this Act shall relieve any public agency of any obligation or responsibility imposed upon it by law, except that to the extent of actual and timely performance thereof by an adjoining city pursuant to an agreement entered into hereunder or by a joint board or other legal or administrative entity created by an agreement made hereunder, said performance may be offered in satisfaction of the obligation or responsibility.

Sec. 6. No agreement entered into pursuant to this Act shall be effective until a copy thereof has been filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the affected Texas city is located.

Art. 970. To Adjust Boundaries

Whenever there shall exist within the boundaries of any such city, town or village accepting said provisions, territory to the extent of at least ten acres contiguous, uninhabited [uninhabited] and adjoining the lines of such city or town, the mayor and council of such city or town shall, within one year from the filing in the office of the county clerk of the action of the council accepting the provisions of this law, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and before they shall levy any taxes for said city or town by ordinance duly passed, discontinue said territory as a part of said city or town and shall redefine the bounds and limits of such city or town so that they shall conform as nearly as practicable to the requirements of article 971, and when said ordinance has been duly passed, the clerk shall enter an order to that effect on the minutes or records of the city or town council; and from and after the entry of such order, said territory shall cease to be a part of said city or town; provided that should there be situated within the said territory, so discontinued, any property of any description belonging to said city or town, the title to said property, so situated, shall remain in such city or town and may be sold, alienated and disposed of by such city or town, the same as if it were situated within the bounds and limits of such city or town.

Art. 970a. Municipal Annexation Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act is known and may be cited as the "Municipal Annexation Act."

Definitions

Sec. 2. For the purposes of this Article, the following words shall have the meanings ascribed to them:

- A. "City" or "Cities" means any incorporated city, town or village in the State of Texas.
- B. "Voters" means those persons qualified to vote under the laws of the State of Texas.
- C. "Written consent" means consent expressed by an ordinance or resolution.

Establishing Extraterritorial Jurisdiction

Sec. 3. A. In order to promote and protect the general health, safety, and welfare of persons residing within and adjacent to the cities of this State, the Legislature of the State of Texas declares it to be the policy of the State of Texas that the unincorporated area, not a part of any other city, which is contiguous to the corporate limits of any city, to the extent described herein, shall comprise and be known as the extraterritorial jurisdiction of the various population classes of cities in the State and shall be as follows:

(1) The extraterritorial jurisdiction of any city having a population of less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants shall consist of all the contiguous unincorporated area, not a part of any other city, within one half ($\frac{1}{2}$) mile of the corporate limits of such city.

(2) The extraterritorial jurisdiction of any city having a population of five thousand (5,000) or more inhabitants, but less than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants shall consist of all the contiguous unincorporated area, not a part of any other city, within one (1) mile of the corporate limits of such city.

(3) The extraterritorial jurisdiction of any city having a population of twenty-five thousand (25,000) or more inhabitants, but less than fifty thousand (50,000) inhabitants shall consist of all the contiguous unincorporated area, not a part of any other city, within two (2) miles of the corporate limits of such city.

(4) The extraterritorial jurisdiction of any city having a population of fifty thousand (50,000) or more inhabitants, but less than one hundred thousand (100,000) inhabitants shall consist of all the contiguous unincorporated area, not a part of any other city, within three and one half ($\frac{3}{2}$) miles of the corporate limits of such city.

(5) The extraterritorial jurisdiction of any city having a population of one hundred thousand (100,000) or more inhabitants shall consist of all the contiguous unincorporated area, not a part of any other city, within five (5) miles of the corporate limits of such city.

B. In the event that on the effective date of this Act the area under the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city overlaps an area under the extraterritorial jurisdiction of one or more other cities, such overlapped area may be apportioned by mutual agreement of the governing bodies of the cities concerned. Such agreement shall be in writing and shall be approved by an ordinance or resolution adopted by such governing bodies.

At any time after one hundred and eighty (180) days from the effective date of this Act, any city having an extraterritorial claim to such overlapping area shall have authority to file a plaintiff's petition in the district court of a judicial district, within which is located the largest city having an extraterritorial claim to such overlapped area, naming as parties defendant all cities having a claim to such overlapped area and praying that such overlapped area, to which it has mutual claim, be apportioned among the cities concerned. In effecting such apportionment, the district court shall consider the population densities and patterns of growth, transportation, topography, and land utilization in the cities concerned and in the overlapped area. The territory so apportioned to a city shall be continuous to the extraterritorial jurisdiction of such city. In the event the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city is totally overlapped, the territory so apportioned to such city shall be contiguous to the corporate boundaries of such city. Such territory so apportioned shall be in a substantially compact shape. Such overlapped area shall be apportioned among such cities in the same ratio (to one decimal) as the respective populations of the cities concerned bear to one another, but in such apportionment no city shall receive less than one-tenth ($\frac{1}{10}$) of such overlapping area. Provided, however, that any apportionment made under the provisions of this Subsection shall give consideration to existing property lines, and no tract of land or adjoining tracts of land, under one ownership upon the effective date of this Act and not exceeding one hundred and sixty (160) acres in size shall be apportioned so as to be within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of more than one city unless the landowner consents in writing to such apportionment.

C. When a city annexes additional territory, the extraterritorial jurisdiction of such city shall expand in conformity with such annexation and shall comprise an area around the new corporate limits of the city consistent with Subsection A of this Section. In addition, the extraterritorial jurisdiction of the city may be extended beyond the distance limitations imposed by Subsection A of this Section to include therein any territory contiguous to the otherwise existing extraterritorial jurisdiction of such city, provided the owner or owners of such contiguous territory request such expansion. However, in no event shall the expansion of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city, through annexation, or upon request, or because of increase in population of the city, conflict with the existing extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city. The extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city shall not be reduced without the written consent of the governing body of such city, except in cases of judicial apportionment of overlapping extraterritorial jurisdictions.

D. No city shall impose any tax in the area under the extraterritorial jurisdiction of such city, by reason of including such area within such extraterritorial jurisdiction.

Extension of Subdivision Ordinance Within the Extraterritorial Jurisdiction

Sec. 4. The governing body of any city may extend by ordinance to all of the area under its extraterritorial jurisdiction the application of such city's ordinance establishing rules and regulations governing plats and the subdivision of land; provided, that any violation of any provision of any such ordinance outside the corporate limits of the city, but within such city's extraterritorial jurisdiction, shall not constitute a misdemeanor under such ordinance nor shall any fine provided for in such ordinance be applicable to a violation within such extraterritorial jurisdiction. However, any city which extends the application of its ordinance establishing rules and regulations governing plats and the subdivision of land to the area under its extraterritorial jurisdiction shall have the right to institute an action in the district court to enjoin the violation of any provision of such ordinance in such extraterritorial jurisdiction, and the district court shall have the power to grant any or all types of injunctive relief in such cases.

Industrial Districts

Sec. 5. The governing body of any city shall have the right, power, and authority to designate any part of the area located in its extraterritorial jurisdiction as an industrial district, as the term is customarily used, and to treat with such area from time to time as such governing body may deem to be in the best interest of the city. Included in such rights and powers of the governing body of any city is the permissive right and power to enter into contracts or agreements with the owner or owners of land in such industrial district to guarantee the continuation of the extraterritorial status of such district, and its immunity from annexation by the city for a period of time not to exceed seven (7) years, and upon such other terms and considerations as the parties might deem appropriate. Such contracts or agreements shall be evidenced in writing and may be renewed or extended for successive periods not to exceed seven (7) years each by such governing body and the owner or owners of land in such industrial district. Existing contracts or agreements of such nature, recognized in or evidenced by an ordinance or resolution of the governing body of the contracting town or city, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date they were made, for the extent of their term or for seven (7) years from the date made, whichever is shorter.

Fire Fighting Services in Industrial Districts

Sec. 5A. (a) A city may provide for adequate fire fighting services in that part of its extraterritorial jurisdiction designated under Section 5 of this Act as an industrial district. A city may provide for adequate fire fighting services by:

- (1) directly furnishing fire fighting service which is paid for by the property owners of the district;
- (2) contracting for the fire fighting service, whether or not all or part of the cost of the service is paid for by the property owners of the district; or
- (3) the property owners providing for their own service under a contract with the city.

(b) A property owner who provides for his own fire fighting service under provisions of this Act shall not be required to pay any part of the cost of fire fighting services provided by the city to other property owners within the district.

Notice and Hearing—Annexation Proceedings

Sec. 6. Before any city may institute annexation proceedings, the governing body of such city shall provide an opportunity for all interested persons to be heard at two public hearings to be held not more than forty (40) days nor less than twenty (20) days prior to institution of such proceedings. At least one (1) public hearing shall be held within the area proposed to be annexed if, within ten (10) days after the publication of the notice required herein, more than twenty (20) adult residents who reside in the territory proposed to be annexed protest in writing to the city secretary of the annexing city the institution of annexation proceedings. Each written protest shall contain the name, address, and age of each protestor signing. Notice of such hearings shall be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the city and in the territory proposed to be annexed. The notice for each hearing shall be published at least once in such newspaper not more than twenty (20) days nor less than ten (10) days prior to that hearing. Additional notice by certified mail should be given to railroad companies then serving the city and on the city's tax roll where the right-of-way thereof is included in the territory to be annexed. Annexation of territory by a city shall be brought to completion within ninety (90) days of the date on which the governing body of such city institutes annexation proceedings or be null and void. Provided, however, any period of time during which a city is restrained or enjoined from annexing any such territory by a court of competent jurisdiction shall not be computed in such 90-day limitation period.

Limitation on Annexations

Sec. 7. A. A city may annex territory only within the confines of its extraterritorial jurisdiction; provided, however, that such limitation shall not apply to the annexation of property owned by the city annexing the same.

B. A city may annex in any one calendar year only territory equivalent in size to ten per cent (10%) of the total corporate area of such city as of the first day of that calendar year. In computing the total amount of territory which may be annexed in any one (1) calendar year, there shall be excluded from such ten per cent (10%) the following: (1) territory caused to be annexed by a request of a majority of the qualified resident voters in the territory and the owners of fifty per cent (50%) or more of the land in the territory, (2) territory annexed which is owned by the city, the county, the State, or the Federal Government which is used for a public purpose, (3) territory annexed at the request of a majority of the voters residing in such territory, and (4) territory annexed at the request of the owner or owners thereof.

Text of subd. (a) as amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1002, ch. 369, § 1

(a) No home rule or general law city may annex any area, whether publicly or privately owned, unless the width of such area at its narrowest point is at least 500 feet, except that a city having a population of twelve thousand (12,000) inhabitants or less may annex an area that is less than 500 feet in width if the corporate limits of the city are contiguous with the property on at least two sides; and except that adjacent cities may accomplish mutually agreeable adjustments in their boundaries of areas that are less than 500 feet in width.

(a) No home rule or general law city may annex any area, whether publicly or privately owned, unless the width of such area at its narrowest point is at least 500 feet, except that a city having a population of twelve thousand (12,000) inhabitants or less may annex an area that is less than 500 feet in width if the corporate limits of the city are contiguous with the property on at least two sides, provided, however, that the provisions of this paragraph (a) shall not apply to any annexation initiated upon written petition of the owner or owners or of a majority of the qualified voters of the area to be annexed.

(b) Land on an island bordering on the Gulf of Mexico which is not accessible by public road or common carrier ferry facility may not be annexed by a city, town or village, including a home rule city, without the consent of the owner or owners of such land and notwithstanding the provisions of the Municipal Annexation Act (Article 970(a), Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city, town or village, including a home rule city, shall not extend to or cover any such land on any such island without the consent of the owner or owners thereof. A city, town or village, including a home rule city, is also prohibited from taking property on any such island by exercising its power of condemnation or eminent domain.

(c) All annexation proceedings initiated for the purpose of including the site of a state institution or facility within a city are hereby and in all respects validated as of the date of such proceedings.

C. In the event a city fails in any calendar year or years to annex the total amount of territory which it is authorized to annex in such calendar year or years, such unused allocation may be carried over and used in subsequent calendar years. A city, utilizing the power granted under this Subsection, may not annex in any one calendar year an amount of territory in excess of thirty per cent (30%) of its total area as of the first day of the calendar year.

D. All annexation proceedings by cities which are pending on or instituted after March 15, 1963, shall be subject to the limitations as to size and extent of area imposed by this Act and shall be brought to completion within ninety (90) days after the effective date of this Act or be null and void. Provided, however, any period of time during which a city is enjoined or restrained from completing such annexation proceedings by a court of competent jurisdiction shall not be computed in such ninety (90) day limitation period.

E. No annexation shall change or have any effect on switching limits of railroads or any rates thereof.

Annexation of Municipal Reservoir

Sec. 7a. A. A general law city may annex a reservoir owned by the city and used to supply water to the city, any land adjoining the reservoir that is subject to an easement for flood control purposes in favor of the city, and the right-of-way of any public roads or highways connecting the reservoir to the city by the most direct route, even though part of the annexed area is outside the city's extraterritorial jurisdiction or is narrower than five hundred (500) feet, if:

(1) none of the annexed territory is more than five (5) miles from the city's corporate limits;

(2) no part of the annexed territory is in another city's extraterritorial jurisdiction; and

(3) the annexed area, excluding road or highway right-of-way, is less than six hundred (600) acres.

B. The provisions of this Act limiting the amount of territory a city may annex in a calendar year do not apply to an annexation covered by this section. Territory may be annexed under this section without the consent of the owners or residents of the annexed area.

Annexation of Municipal Airport

Sec. 7b. (a) A city may annex an airport owned by the city and the right-of-way of any public roads or highways connecting the airport to the city by the most direct route, even though the annexed area is outside the city's extraterritorial jurisdiction and within another city's extraterritorial jurisdiction or is narrower than five hundred (500) feet, if:

(1) none of the annexed territory is more than eight (8) miles from the annexing city's corporate limits; and

(2) the city within whose extraterritorial jurisdiction the airport to be annexed is located agrees to the annexation.

(b) The provisions of this Act limiting the amount of territory a city may annex in a calendar year do not apply to an annexation covered by this Section. Territory may be annexed under this Section without the consent of the owners or residents of the annexed area.

(c) The annexation of territory outside the extraterritorial jurisdiction of the annexing city under this Section does not expand the extraterritorial jurisdiction of the annexing city.

Limitations on Creation of Political Subdivisions Within the Extraterritorial Jurisdiction

Sec. 8. A. No city may be incorporated within the area of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of any city without the written consent of the governing body of such city. Should such governing body refuse to grant permission for the incorporation of such proposed city, a majority of the resident voters, if any, in the territory of such proposed city and the owners of fifty per cent (50%) or more of the land in such proposed city may petition the governing body of such city and request annexation by such city. Should the governing body of such city fail or refuse to annex the area of such proposed city within six (6) months from the date of receipt of such petition, proof of such failure or refusal shall constitute authorization for the incorporation of such proposed city insofar as the purposes of this Subsection are concerned. Written consent or authorization for the incorporation of a proposed city, insofar as the provisions of this Subsection are concerned, shall mean only authorization to initiate incorporation proceedings for such proposed city as otherwise provided by law. The provisions of this Subsection shall apply only to the area of a proposed city which lies within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of such city.

B. No political subdivision having as one of its purposes the supplying of fresh water for domestic or commercial uses or the furnishing of sanitary sewer services may be created within the area of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of any city without the written consent of such city. Should the governing body of such city fail or refuse to grant permission for the creation of such proposed political subdivision within sixty (60) days after receipt of a written request for same, a majority of the qualified resident voters in the territory of such proposed political subdivision and the owner or owners of fifty per cent (50%) or more of the land in such proposed political subdivision may petition the governing body of such city and request such city to make available to such territory the water or sanitary sewer service contemplated by the proposed political subdivision. Should the governing body of the city and a majority of the qualified resident voters and the owner or owners of fifty per cent (50%) or more of the land in such proposed political subdivision fail to execute a mutually agreeable contract providing for the water or sanitary sewer service requested within six (6) months after receipt of such petition, such failure shall constitute authorization for the creation of the proposed political subdivision insofar as the provisions of this Subsection are concerned. Authorization for the creation of the proposed political subdivision, insofar as the provisions of this Subsection are concerned, shall mean only authorization to initiate proceedings to create such political subdivision as otherwise provided by law. The provisions of this Subsection shall apply only to the area of such proposed political subdivision which lies within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of such city.

This Subsection shall not apply to any such proposed political subdivision where a valid petition seeking its creation has been filed with the county clerk or other legally designated authority prior to the effective date of this Act.

C. If authorization to initiate incorporation proceedings for a proposed city is obtained under the provisions of Subsection A of this Section, such incorporation must be initiated within six (6) months of the date of such authorization and such incorporation must be finally completed within eighteen (18) months of the date of such authorization. Failure either to initiate such incorporation proceedings or to finally complete the incorporation of such proposed city within such allotted periods of time shall terminate such authorization. If authorization to initiate proceedings to create a proposed political subdivision having as one of its purposes the supplying of fresh water for domestic or commercial purposes or the furnishing of sanitary sewer services is obtained under the provisions of Subsection B of this Section, such proceedings seeking the creation of such a political subdivision must be initiated within six (6) months of the date of such authorization and such proposed political subdivision must be finally completed within eighteen (18) months of the date of such authorization. Failure either to initiate such proceedings seeking the creation of such political subdivision or to finally complete the creation of such proposed political subdivision within such allotted periods of time shall terminate such authorization.

Petition for Annexation or Services

Sec. 9. The petition for annexation provided for in Subsection A of Section 8 of this Article and the petition requesting the availability of services provided for in Subsection B of Section 8 of this Article shall be made by the voters and landowners signing and presenting to the city secretary or clerk a written petition requesting annexation or requesting such services. The signatures to the petition need not be appended to one paper, but each signer shall sign his or her name in ink or indelible pencil, and each signer signing the petition as a voter shall sign his or her name as it appears on the most recent official list of registered voters and each voter shall note on such petition his or her residence address and the precinct number and voter registration number that appear on his or her voter registration certificate. Each landowner signing the petition shall note thereon opposite his or her name the approximate total acreage he or she owns within the territory. The petition shall describe the territory to be annexed or the territory to which such services are requested to be made available and have attached to it a plat of the territory. Prior to circulating the petition for annexation or such services among the voters and landowners, notice of the petition shall be given by means of posting for ten (10) days a copy of the petition in three (3) public places in the territory and by publishing it for one (1) issue in a newspaper of general circulation serving the territory at least fifteen (15) days prior to the circulation of the petition. Proof of posting and publication of the notice shall be made by attaching to the petition presented to the city secretary or clerk: (1) the sworn affidavit of any voter who signed the petition, stating the places where and the dates when the petition was posted; and (2) the sworn affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper setting forth the name of the newspaper and the issue and date when the notice was published; (3) in addition, there shall be attached to the petition the sworn affidavit of three (3) or more voters signing the petition, if there be that many, stating the total number of voters residing in the territory and the approximate total acreage within the territory.

Disannexation

Sec. 10. A. Prior to the publication of notice of a hearing required under Section 6 of this Act, the governing body of the city proposing the annexation shall direct its planning or other appropriate department to prepare a service plan that provides for the extension of municipal services into each area to be annexed. For purposes of this Section, providing services includes having services provided by any method or means by which the city extends municipal services to any other area of the city.

B. The service plan shall include:

(1) a program under which the city will provide police protection, fire protection, solid waste collection, maintenance of water and waste water facilities, maintenance of roads and streets (including lighting), the maintenance of parks, playgrounds, and swimming pools, and the maintenance of any other publicly owned facility, building, or service within each particular area within sixty (60) days after the effective date of the annexation of that particular area; and

(2) a program under which the city will initiate the acquisition or construction of any capital improvements necessary for providing municipal services for the particular area, the construction to begin within two and one-half (2½) years of the effective date of the annexation of the particular annexed area, and the acquisition or construction of the facilities to be accomplished by purchase, lease, or other contract or by the city's succeeding to the powers, duties, assets, and obligations of conservation and reclamation districts, as may be authorized or required by law. No moneys received from the sale of bonds or evidenced by other instruments of indebtedness may be allocated to the annexed area for a period of one hundred and eighty (180) days.

C. In no event shall a service plan provide fewer services or a lower level of services in the area to be annexed than were in existence in that area at the time immediately preceding the annexation. However, it is not the intent of this Act to require that a uniform level of services be provided to all areas of the city where differing characteristics of topography, land utilization, and population density are considered as a sufficient basis for providing differing service levels. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to limit or repeal home-rule charter provisions providing for annexation for limited purposes other than ad valorem taxation.

D. In the event that only a part of the area to be annexed is actually annexed, the governing body shall direct its planning or other appropriate department to prepare a revised service plan for the part actually to be annexed.

E. The proposed service plan shall be made available for inspection and explained to the inhabitants of the area to be annexed at the public hearings held under Section 6 of this Act. The plan may be amended through negotiation at those hearings but cannot have provision of any service deleted from it. On the completion of the public hearings, the service plan shall be attached to the ordinance annexing the area and approved as part of that ordinance. On approval by the governing body of the annexing city, the plan shall be construed as a contractual obligation, not subject to amendment or repeal unless the governing body determines at the hearings required by this subsection that changed conditions or subsequent occurrences make the plan unworkable or obsolete. If the governing body determines that all or part of a plan is unworkable or obsolete, the governing body may amend the plan to conform to changed conditions or subsequent occurrences. An amended service plan shall provide for services comparable to or better than those established in the service plan before amendment, and before any amendment is adopted, the governing body must first provide an opportunity for all interested persons to be heard at public hearings called and held in the manner provided in Section 6 of this Act. Service plans shall be valid for ten (10) years. Renewal shall be at the discretion of the city.

F. From and after the effective date of this Act, any city annexing a particular area shall provide or cause to be provided such area with services in accordance with the service plan required under this Section. In the event a city fails or refuses to provide or cause to be provided such services within the time specified in the service plan for that area or in this Act, a majority of the qualified voters residing within such particular annexed area may petition the governing body of such city to disannex such particular annexed area. Should the governing body of such city fail or refuse to disannex such particular annexed area within sixty (60) days after receipt of a valid petition, any one or more of the signers of such petition may file in a district court in the county in which such annexed area is principally located an action requesting that the particular annexed area be disannexed. Upon the filing of an answer in such cause by the governing body of the annexing city, and upon application of either party, the case shall be advanced and heard without further delay, all in accordance with the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Upon hearing of the case, if the district court finds that a valid petition was filed with the city, and that the city failed to perform its obligations in accordance with a service plan or failed to perform in good faith, it shall enter an order disannexing such particular annexed area.

G. When any such area is disannexed under this Section, it shall not again be annexed within five (5) years of such disannexation, and, if it is again annexed within seven (7) years of disannexation, the period for implementation of a service plan shall not exceed one (1) year from reannexation.

Text of subsec. H (former subsec. C) as amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 3207, ch. 842, § 2

H. The request and petition for disannexation provided for in Subsection F of this Section shall be made by the qualified voters signing and presenting to the city secretary a written petition requesting disannexation. The signatures to the petition need not be appended to one paper, but each signer shall sign his or her name in ink or indelible pencil, and each signer signing the petition as a qualified voter shall sign his or her name as it appears on the official copy of the current voter registration list and each qualified voter shall note on such petition his or her residence address and the precinct number and serial number that appear on his or her voter registration certificate that may be provided for by law. The petition shall describe the particular annexed area to be disannexed and have attached to it a plat, map, or other likeness of the annexed area. Prior to circulating the petition for disannexation among the qualified voters, notice of the petition shall be given by means of posting for ten (10) days a copy of the petition in three (3) public places in the annexed area and by publishing it for one (1) time in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation serving the annexed area at least fifteen (15) days prior to the circulation of the petition. Proof of posting and publication of the notice shall be made by attaching to the petition presented to the city secretary: (1) the sworn affidavit of any qualified voter who signed the petition stating the places where and the dates when the petition was posted, and (2) the sworn affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper or newspapers setting forth the name of the newspaper or newspapers and the issue and date in which the notice was published.

C. The request and petition for disannexation provided for in Subsection A of this Section of this Act shall be made by the qualified voters and landowners signing and presenting to the city secretary a written petition requesting disannexation. The signatures to the petition need not be appended to one paper, but each signer shall sign his or her name in ink or indelible pencil, and each signer signing the petition as a qualified voter shall sign his or her name as it appears on the most recent official list of registered voters, and each qualified voter shall note on such petition his or her residence address and the precinct number and voter registration number that appear on his or her voter registration certificate. Each landowner signing the petition shall note thereon opposite his or her name the approximate total acreage he or she owns within the particular annexed area. The petition shall describe the particular annexed area to be disannexed and have attached to it a plat of the particular annexed area. Prior to circulating the petition for disannexation among the qualified voters and landowners, notice of the petition shall be given by means of posting for ten (10) days a copy of the petition in three (3) public places in the particular annexed area and by publishing it for one (1) issue in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation serving the particular annexed area at least fifteen (15) days prior to the circulation of the petition. Proof of posting and publication of the notice shall be made by attaching to the petition presented to the city secretary: (1) the sworn affidavit of any qualified voter who signed the petition stating the places where and the dates when the petition was posted, and (2) the sworn affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper or newspapers setting forth the name of the newspaper or newspapers and the issue and date in which the notice was published. In addition, there shall be attached to the petition the sworn affidavit of three (3) or more qualified voters signing the petition, if there be that many, stating the total number of qualified voters residing in the particular annexed area and the approximate total acreage within such particular annexed area.

Annexation of Certain Political Subdivisions

Sec. 11. A. In this Section, "water or sewer district" means any district or authority created by authority of either Article III, Section 52, Subsection (b), Subdivisions (1) and (2), or Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution, proposing to provide or actually providing water and sewer services or either of these services to household users as the principal function of the district, but does not include a district or authority if its primary function is the wholesale distribution of water.

B. A city may not annex territory within the boundaries of a water or sewer district unless it annexes the entire portion of the district that is outside the city's boundaries. This restriction does not apply to the annexation of territory in a water or sewer district if the water or sewer district is wholly or partly inside the extraterritorial jurisdiction of more than one city.

C. An annexation subject to Subsection B of this Section is exempt from the provisions of this Act limiting annexation authority to territory within a city's extraterritorial jurisdiction if:

(1) immediately before the annexation, at least half the area of the water or sewer district is inside the city's boundaries or its area of extraterritorial jurisdiction; and

(2) the city does not, in the annexation proceeding, annex any territory outside its extraterritorial jurisdiction except the part of the water or sewer district that is outside its extraterritorial jurisdiction.

D. Territory annexed in an annexation subject to Subsection B of this Section is included in computing the amount of territory the city may annex in a calendar year under Subsections B and C, Section 7 of this Act. If the area to be annexed exceeds the amount of territory the city otherwise would be permitted to annex, the city may nevertheless make the annexation, but it may make no other annexations in the remainder of the calendar year except annexations subject to Subsection B of this Section and annexations of territory that are excluded in the computation of territory a city may annex in a calendar year under Subsection B, Section 7 of this Act.

Annexation of Municipal Utility District

Sec. 12. (a) This section applies to any municipal utility district:

(1) that is located entirely within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a single general-law city; and

(2) that has a common boundary with at least one home-rule city.

(b) A home-rule city having a common boundary with a district covered by this section may annex the territory of the district if:

(1) the annexation is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting on the question at an election held under this section;

(2) the annexation is completed before the first anniversary of the date of the election; and

(3) all the territory of the district is annexed.

(c) Territory annexed in an annexation subject to this section is included in computing the amount of territory the city may annex in a calendar year under Subsections B and C, Section 7 of this Act. If the area to be annexed exceeds the amount of territory the city otherwise would be permitted to annex, the city may nevertheless make the annexation, but it may make no other annexations in the remainder of the calendar year except annexations subject to this section and annexations of territory that are excluded in the computation of territory a city may annex in a calendar year under Subsection B, Section 7 of this Act.

(d) Annexation of the territory of the district as authorized by this section is exempt from provisions of this Act:

(1) prohibiting a city from annexing territory outside its extraterritorial jurisdiction;

(2) prohibiting annexation of territory narrower than 500 feet at the narrowest point; and

(3) prohibiting reduction of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city without the written consent of the city's governing body.

(e) If the district is composed of two or more tracts, at least one of which is not contiguous to the home-rule city, the fact that the annexation will result in one or more parts of the home-rule city not being contiguous to the rest of the city does not affect the home-rule city's authority to carry out the annexation.

(f) The extraterritorial jurisdiction of a home-rule city is not expanded by the annexation of territory under this section.

(g) The board of directors of the district may order an election under this section. The board shall conduct the election in the territory comprised of the district and the general-law city, and any person qualified to vote in the city or district is eligible to vote at the election.

(h) The board shall set the date of the election for the first authorized uniform election date that falls on or after the 30th day after the date of the order. If a state law prescribing uniform election dates is not then in effect, the board shall set the election for a date that falls on or after the 30th, but before the 60th, day after the date of the order.

(i) The board of directors shall give notice of the election, conduct the election, and canvass the returns in the same manner as would be the case in an election for members of the board of directors of the district if the district included the entire territory in which the election is held. The board of directors shall establish the election precincts and designate the polling place for each precinct. Territory inside the city and territory in the district but outside the city may be included in the same precinct. The board of directors shall appoint an absentee voting clerk to serve the entire territory covered by the election. The place for conducting the absentee voting may be anywhere in the territory covered by the election.

(j) The ballot shall be prepared to permit voting for or against the proposition: "Authorizing the city of (name of home-rule city) to annex the unincorporated territory of the (name of district)."

(k) Promptly after the board of directors declares the result of the election, it shall:

(1) have a certified copy of the resolution declaring the result of the election mailed or delivered to the mayor and city secretary of each of the two affected cities; and

(2) if the election results in authorizing annexation of the district by the home-rule city, have a certified copy of the resolution filed in the deed records of each county in which the district is located.

(l) During the time that an election under this section is pending, the general-law city may not annex territory in the district. For purposes of this requirement, an election is pending during the period that begins on the date on which the board of directors of the district adopts an election order and that ends on the date on which the board of directors declares the result of the election. If on the date on which the election order is adopted the general-law city has instituted but not completed proceedings to annex territory in the district, the general-law city may complete the annexation proceedings while the election is pending. If proceedings are completed while the election is pending, the annexation, to the extent it includes territory in the district, takes effect only if the election results in the defeat of the proposition, in which case it takes effect as to the affected territory on the date on which the result of the election is officially declared.

(m) If the proposition is approved, the period during which the general-law city is prohibited from annexing territory in the district is extended to end on the first anniversary of the date of the election.

(n) If a district holds an election under this section, the district may not hold another election under this section on a date earlier than the first anniversary of the date of the first election, except that if an election is held on a uniform election date prescribed by law, a second election may be held on the corresponding uniform election date of the following year.

Art. 970b. Areas Treated as Being Within Boundaries of Municipality; Inclusion by Ordinance

Sec. 1. In this Act, "municipality" shall mean any incorporated city, town, or village.

Sec. 2. (a) When an area situated in proximity to a municipality meets all of the criteria set out in Section 3 of this Act, the adoption of an ordinance by the governing body of said municipality declaring the area to be a part of the municipality shall establish an irrebuttable presumption that such area is a part of the municipality for all purposes and such presumption shall be incontestable for any cause from and after the effective date of the ordinance.

Sec. 3. The governing body of a municipality by ordinance may make an area a part of the municipi-pality if on the date of the adoption of the ordinance:

(1) the records of the city indicate that the area has been a part of the municipality for at least the preceding 20 years;

(2) the municipality has provided police protection and other services, and otherwise treated the area as a part of the municipality during the preceding 20 years;

(3) no final judicial determination has been made during the preceding 20 years that the area is outside the boundaries of the municipality; and

(4) no lawsuit is pending that challenges the inclusion of the area as a part of the municipality.

Sec. 4. If an area is made a part of a municipality under this Act, the date on which the area is considered to have become a part of the municipality is retroactive to the date on which the municipality began its continuous treatment of the area as a part of the municipality. This date is used for all purposes for which the date upon which the area became a part of the municipality is relevant, including but not limited to a determination of whether territory purportedly annexed by a municipality was adjacent to the municipality at the time of the purported annexation.

Art. 971. Territorial Boundaries

No city or town in this State shall be hereafter incorporated under the provisions of the general charter for cities and towns contained in this title with a superficial area of more than two square miles, when such town or city has less than two thousand inhabitants, nor more than four square miles when such city or town has more than two thousand and less than five thousand inhabitants, nor more than nine square miles, when such city or town has more than five and less than ten thousand inhabitants. The mayor and board of aldermen, immediately after they qualify as such officers, shall pass an ordinance causing an actual survey of the boundaries of such town to be made according to the boundaries designated in the petition for incorporation and the field notes thereof recorded in the minute book of such town or city, and also in the record books of deeds in the county in which such city or town is situated.

Art. 971a. Map of Boundaries

Each city, town or village incorporated under the General or Special Laws, or under the Home Rule provisions of the Constitution, shall keep in the office of the city secretary or town clerk, and in the office of the city engineer, if such city, town or village has a city engineer, a map showing the boundaries of the municipal corporation. In the event any territory is thereafter annexed to such city, town or village, then the map of the city shall be corrected immediately so as to add thereto the additional territory, indicating on the map the date of annexation, the number of the ordinance, if any, and a reference to the minutes or the ordinance records of the city where such instrument is recorded in full.

Art. 972. Territory Relinquished

The mayor and the board of aldermen of any town or city in this State heretofore incorporated under Title 18 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1895 of this State, and whose boundaries have been established so as to include more territory than is specified in the preceding article, shall immediately cause a resurvey of the boundaries of such city or town to be made, so as not to include more territory than is provided for in the preceding article; such resurvey to be made and the field notes thereof to be recorded as provided in said article.

Art. 973. Discontinuing Territory

Whenever there exists within the corporate limits of any city or town organized under the general laws within this State Territory to the extent of at least ten (10) acres, contiguous and adjoining the lines of any such city or town, which is uninhabited or on which there are fewer than one (1) occupied residence or business structure for every two (2) acres of such territory and fewer than three (3) occupied residences or business structures on any one (1) acre of such territory, the mayor and city or town council may by ordinance duly passed discontinue said territory as a part of said city or town; and when said ordinance has been duly passed, the mayor shall enter an order to that effect on the minutes or records of the city or town council; and from and after the entry of such order said territory shall cease to be a part of said city or town.

Art. 973a. Validation of Discontinuance of Territory, Boundaries and Annexation of Discontinued Territory; Cities of 2,000 or Less

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to all cities and towns incorporated under the General Laws of this state having a population of two thousand (2,000) inhabitants or less at the time of the passage of any ordinance by the City Council of any such city or town discontinuing or attempting to discontinue any territory as a part of said city or town, and to any incorporated city or town contiguous thereto.

Sec. 2. All petitions praying for an ordinance and all ordinances discontinuing or attempting to discontinue any territory from within the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town having a population of two thousand (2,000) inhabitants or less at the time of the discontinuance or attempted discontinuance of any territory forming a part of said city, and the boundaries and areas of any such city or town after the discontinuance or attempted discontinuance of any territory forming a part of said city or town, although said city or town, as a result of said discontinuance or attempted discontinuance consists of two or more separate areas, after the discontinuance or attempted discontinuance of any such territory, shall be, and the same are, hereby in all things validated and confirmed, and all cities and towns, having a population of two thousand (2,000) or less at the time of incorporation, whose charters and incorporations may be void by reason of having included in such limits more territory than authorized by Article 971, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, are hereby declared to be valid, the same as if at first authorized.

Sec. 3. In every instance wherein a city or town, coming under the provisions of the Act, has attempted to discontinue territory as a part of said city or town under statutes providing for the discontinuing of territory adjoining the boundary lines of any such city or town, and all actions, resolutions, petitions, ordinances, proceedings, and contracts held, made, or passed in reference thereto, and pursuant thereto, and the boundaries of any such city or town and all cities and towns coming within and under the provisions of this Act after the discontinuance or attempted discontinuance of any such territory, are hereby ratified, validated, and confirmed, although said city, after the discontinuance or attempted discontinuance of such territory as a part of said city, is separated into two or more parcels or areas, as fully and completely as if said actions had been taken and happened under legislative authority previously given.

Sec. 4. The areas and boundaries of all cities and towns affected by this Act as the same have been reduced or attempted to be reduced by discontinuance or attempted discontinuance of territory, or any other action, are hereby in all things ratified, validated and confirmed.

Sec. 5. The Act of the governing body of any contiguous, incorporated city in subsequently annexing the territory thus discontinued, or attempted to be discontinued, is hereby in all things validated, ratified and confirmed.

Sec. 5a. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this Act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional or invalid for any reason.

Art. 973b. Validation of Disannexation or Discontinuance of Territory; Cities of 5,000 or Less

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to all cities and towns incorporated under the General Laws of this state having a population of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less at the time of the passage of any ordinance by the city council, aldermen or other governing officials of any such city or town, whether incorporated under the aldermanic form of government or the commission form of government, disannexing or discontinuing or attempting to disannex or discontinue any territory, revoking previous ordinances or previous attempts to annex territory, or discontinuing or attempting to discontinue any territory as a part of any such city or town.

Sec. 2. Ordinances wherein or whereby a city or town coming under the provisions of this Act has attempted to revoke or cancel an ordinance previously adopted annexing territory as a part of said city or town, or to discontinue territory as a part of said city or town, and all actions, resolutions, petitions, ordinances, proceedings, contracts, held, made, or passed in reference thereto, or pursuant thereto and the boundaries of any such city or town coming within the provisions of this Act after the discontinuance or attempted discontinuance of any such territory are hereby ratified, validated and confirmed, although said city or town after the discontinuance or attempted discontinuance [of] such territory or part of said city or town is separated into two or more parcels or areas, as full and completely as if said actions had been taken and happened under legislative authority previously given.

Sec. 3. Areas and boundaries of all such cities and towns affected by this Act as the same have been reduced or attempted to be reduced by discontinuance or attempted discontinuance of territory or any other action, are hereby in all things ratified, validated and confirmed.

Sec. 4. All ordinances, resolutions and other municipal and governmental proceedings adopted by or performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof disannexing, discontinuing or attempting to disannex or discontinue any such territory are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such ordinances, resolutions, proceedings and acts.

Art. 974. Adjoining Inhabitants

When a majority of the inhabitants qualified to vote for members of the State legislature of any territory adjoining the limits of any city incorporated under, or accepting the provisions of, this title, to the extent of one-half mile in width, shall vote in favor of becoming a part of said city, any three of them may make affidavit to the fact to be filed before the mayor, who shall certify the same to the city council of said city. The said city council may, by ordinance, receive them as part of said city; from thenceforth the territory so received shall be a part of said city; and the inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens, and bound by the acts and ordinances made in conformity thereto and passed in pursuance of this title.

Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 974a. Platting and Recording Subdivisions or Additions

Plats Required

Sec. 1. Hereafter every owner of any tract of land situated within the corporate limits, or within five miles of the corporate limits of any city in the State of Texas, who may hereafter divide the same in two or more parts for the purpose of laying out any subdivision of any tract of land or any addition to any town or city, or for laying out suburban lots or building lots, or any lots, and streets, alleys or parks or other portions intended for public use, or the use of purchasers or owners of lots fronting thereon or adjacent thereto, shall cause a plat to be made thereof which shall accurately describe all of said subdivision or addition by metes and bounds and locate the same with respect to an original corner of the original survey of which it is a part, giving the dimensions thereof of said subdivision or addition, and dimensions of all streets, alleys, squares, parks or other portions of same intended to be dedicated to public use, or for the use of purchasers or owners of lots fronting thereon or adjacent thereto; provided, however, that no plat of any subdivision of any tract of land or any addition to any town or city shall be recorded unless the same shall accurately describe all of said subdivision or addition by metes and bounds and locate the same with respect to an original corner of the original survey of which it is a part giving the dimensions thereof of said subdivision or addition, and dimensions of all streets, alleys, squares, parks or other portions of same intended to be dedicated to public use, or for the use of purchasers or owners of lots fronting thereon or adjacent thereto.

Inapplicability to Certain Tracts Abutting Aircraft Runway

Sec. 1A. The requirement of this Act that a plat be made and recorded does not apply to an owner of a tract of land that is located entirely within an incorporated city or town having a population of 5,000 or fewer persons, according to the most recent federal census, that is divided into parts, all of which are larger than 2½ acres, and that abuts or otherwise attaches to any part of an aircraft runway.

Acknowledgment of Plats

Sec. 2. That every such plat shall be duly acknowledged by owners or proprietors of the land, or by some duly authorized agent of said owners or proprietors, in the manner required for the acknowledgment of deeds; and the said plat, subject to the provisions contained in this Act, shall be filed for record and be recorded in the office of the County Clerk of the County in which the land lies.

Approval of Plat or Plan by Planning Commission or Governing Body; Record

Sec. 3. It shall be unlawful for the County Clerk of any county in which such land lies to receive or record any such plan, plat or replat, unless and until the same shall have been approved by the City Planning Commission of any city affected by this Act, if said city has a City Planning Commission and if it has no City Planning Commission, unless and until the said plan, plat, or replat shall have been approved by the governing body of such city. If a city has a City Planning Commission, the governing body may, by ordinance, additionally require approval of said plan, plat, or replat by the governing body. If such land lies outside of and within five (5) miles of more than one (1) city affected by this Act, then the requisite approval shall be by the City Planning Commission or governing body, or both, as the case may be, of such of said cities having the largest population; provided, however, that the governing body of any city having the largest population may enter into an agreement with any other city or cities affected, or the governing body of the largest city may enter into an agreement with any other city within five (5) miles conferring the power of approval within stated portions of the area upon such other city; but any such agreement shall be revocable by either city at the end of twenty (20) years after the date of the agreement or at the end of such shorter period of time as may be agreed upon. A copy of any such agreement shall be filed with the County Clerk, and during the time the agreement continues in force he shall not receive or record any such plan, plat or replat unless it has been approved by the City Planning Commission or the governing body, or both, as the case may be, of the city or cities upon which the power of approval is conferred by the agreement. Any person desiring to have a plan, plat or replat approved as herein provided, shall apply therefor to and file a copy with the Commission, if there be one, or with the governing body if there is no Commission. The Commission, or governing body, as the case may be, shall act upon same within thirty (30) days from the filing date. If said plat be not disapproved within thirty (30) days from said filing date, it shall be deemed to have been approved by the Commission, or the governing body if there is no Commission. If a city with a Commission has required that approval be given by the governing body, then the governing body shall act upon the same within thirty (30) days after the approval by the Commission, or after the approval by reason of nonaction. If said plat be not disapproved by the governing body within said thirty (30) days, it shall be deemed to have been approved by the governing body. A certificate showing the filing dates hereunder and the failure to take actions thereon within the periods herein prescribed shall on demand be issued by the City Planning Commission or governing body, as the case may be, of such city, and said certificate shall be sufficient in lieu of the written endorsement or other evidence of approval herein required. If the plan, plat, or replat is approved, such Commission or governing body shall indicate such finding by certificate endorsed thereon, signed by the Chairman or presiding officer of said Commission or governing body and attested by its Secretary, or signed by a majority of the members of said Commission or of the Governing Body when appropriate under this Act. Such Commission or governing body shall keep a record of such applications and the action taken thereupon, and upon demand of the owners of any land affected, shall certify its reasons for the action taken in the matter.

Indorsement of Approval of Plat by Planning Commission or Governing Body

Sec. 4. If such plan or plat, or replat shall conform to the general plan of said city and its streets, alleys, parks, playgrounds and public utility facilities, including those which have been or may be laid out, and to the general plan for the extension of such city and of its roads, streets and public highways within said city and within five miles of the corporate limits thereof, regard being had for access to and extension of sewer and water mains and the instrumentalities of public utilities, and if same shall conform to such general rules and regulations, if any, governing plats and subdivisions of land falling within its jurisdiction as the governing body of such city may adopt and promulgate to promote the health, safety, morals or general welfare of the community, and the safe, orderly and healthful development of said community (which general rules and regulations for said purposes such cities are hereby authorized to adopt and promulgate after public hearing held thereon), then it shall be the duty of said City Planning Commission or of the governing body of such city, as the case may be, to endorse approval upon the plan, plat or replat submitted to it.

Vacation of Plat or Plan; Recording Replat or Resubdivision Without Vacation

Sec. 5. (a) Any such plan, plat or replat may be vacated by the proprietors of the land covered thereby at any time before the sale of any lot therein by a written instrument declaring the same to be vacated, duly executed, acknowledged and recorded in the same office as the plat to be vacated, provided the approval of the City Planning Commission or governing body of such city, as the case may be, shall have been obtained as above provided, and the execution and recordation of the instrument shall operate to destroy the force and effect of the recording of the plan, plat or replat so vacated. In cases where lots have been sold, the plan, plat or replat, or any part thereof, may be vacated upon the application of all the owners of lots in said plat and with the approval, as above provided, of the City Planning Commission or governing body of said city, as the case may be. The County Clerk of the county in whose office the plan or plat thus vacated has been recorded shall write in plain, legible letters across the plan or plat so vacated the word "Vacated," and also make a reference on the same to the volume and page in which said instrument of vacation is recorded.

(b) In the event there is not compliance with Subsection (a) of this section, a replat or resubdivision of a plat, or a portion thereof, but without vacation of the immediate previous plat, is hereby expressly authorized to be recorded and shall be deemed valid and controlling, when approved, after a public hearing, by the City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body, as the case may be, when:

(1) it has been signed and acknowledged by only the owners of the particular property which is being resubdivided or replatted;

(2) it has been approved by the City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body, as the case may be, after a public hearing in relation thereto at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard;

(3) it does not attempt to alter, amend or remove any covenants or restrictions; and

(4) there is compliance, when applicable, with Subsections (c) and (d) of this section.

(c) The following additional requirements for approval shall apply, in any resubdivision or replatting of a subdivision, without vacating the immediate previous plat, if any of the proposed area to be resubdivided or replatted was within the immediate preceding five years limited by any interim or permanent zoning classification to residential use for not more than two residential units per lot, or if any lot in the immediate previous subdivision was limited by deed restriction to residential use for not more than two residential units per lot:

(1) Notice of such City Planning Commission or appropriate governing body hearing shall be given in advance in the following manner:

(A) publication at least 15 days in advance of hearing being published in an official paper or a paper of general circulation in the county in which such governing body is located; and

(B) written notice (with a copy of Subdivision (2) of this subsection attached thereto) of such public hearing forwarded by the City Planning Commission or appropriate governing body to owners (as the ownerships appear on the last approved ad valorem tax roll of such governing body) of all lots in the immediate preceding subdivision plat not less than 15 days prior to the date of such hearing; such notice may be served by depositing the same, properly addressed and postage paid, in a post office or postal depository within the boundaries of such governing body; provided, however, if such immediate preceding subdivision plat shall contain more than 100 lots, such notice shall be mailed only to those owners of lots which are located within 500 feet of the lot or lots which are sought to be replatted or resubdivided.

(2) The City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body shall require in any resubdivision or replatting to which this subsection applies written approval of 66% percent of:

(A) the owners of all lots in such plat; or

(B) the owners of all lots in such plat within 500 feet of the property sought to be replatted or resubdivided if such immediate preceding plat contains more than 100 lots.

The provisions of Subdivision (2) of this subsection shall, however, apply only if 20 percent, or more, of the owners, to whom notice is required to be given, of the lots in such plat a portion of which is sought to be replatted or resubdivided file with the City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body written protest of such replatting or resubdivision prior to or at the hearing referred to in the notice of the proposed replatting or resubdivision. In computing percentages of ownership, each lot in such subdivision shall be considered equal to all other lots regardless of size or number of owners, and the owners of each lot shall be entitled to cast only one vote per lot.

(3) Provided, however, compliance with Subdivision (1) or (2) of this subsection shall not be required for approval of a replatting or resubdividing of a portion of a prior plat if all of the proposed area sought to be replatted or resubdivided was designated or reserved for usage other than for single or duplex family residential usage by notation on the last legally recorded plat or in the legally recorded restrictions applicable to such plat.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body of a city is authorized to approve and issue an amending plat which is signed by the applicants only, and which is for one or more of the purposes set forth in the following Subdivisions (1) through (9), both inclusive, and such approval and issuance shall not require notice, hearing, or approval of other lot owners. This subsection shall apply only if the sole purpose of the amending plat is:

(1) to correct an error in any course or distance shown on the prior plat;

(2) to add any course or distance that was omitted on the prior plat;

(3) to correct an error in the description of the real property shown on the prior plat;

(4) to indicate monuments set after death, disability, or retirement from practice of the engineer or surveyor charged with responsibilities for setting monuments;

(5) to show the proper location or character of any monument which has been changed in location or character or which originally was shown at the wrong location or incorrectly as to its character on the prior plat;

(6) to correct any other type of scrivener or clerical error or omission as previously approved by the City Planning Commission or governing body of such city; such errors and omissions may include, but are not limited to, lot numbers, acreage, street names, and identification of adjacent recorded plats;

(7) to correct an error in courses and distances of lot lines between two adjacent lots where both lot owners join in the application for plat amendment and neither lot is abolished, provided that such amendment does not attempt to remove recorded covenants or restrictions and does not have a material adverse effect on the property rights of the other owners in the plat;

(8) to relocate a lot line in order to cure an inadvertent encroachment of a building or improvement on a lot line or on an easement; or

(9) to relocate one or more lot lines between one or more adjacent lots where the owner or owners of all such lots join in the application for the plat amendment, provided that such amendment does not:

(A) attempt to remove recorded covenants or restrictions; or

(B) increase the number of lots.

Improvement to Effect Dedication

Sec. 6. The approval of any such plan, plat, or replat shall not be deemed an acceptance of the proposed dedication and shall not impose any duty upon such city concerning the maintenance or improvement of any such dedicated parts until the proper authorities of said city shall have made actual appropriation of the same by entry, use or improvement.

County Clerk's Failure of Duty

Sec. 7. When any such map, plat, or replat is tendered for filing in the office of the County Clerk of any county in which any city of the above class may be situated, it shall be the duty of such Clerk to ascertain that the proposed plan, plat or replat is or is not subject to the provisions of this Act, and if it is subject to its provisions, then to examine said map, plat or replat to ascertain whether the endorsements required by this Act appear thereon. If such endorsements do appear thereon, he shall accept same for registration. If such endorsements do not appear thereon, he shall refuse to accept same for registration. When same does not disclose whether the land covered by said map, plat or replat, or any part thereof, is or is not within five miles of the corporate limits of a city of the class above mentioned, the County Clerk may require one offering said map, plat or replat for registration to file with him an affidavit setting forth such information. The filing or recording of any plan, plat or replat contrary to the provisions of this Act shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by fine of not less than Fifty Dollars ($50.00) nor more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00), and both the County Clerk and any Deputy filing or recording the same shall be guilty.

Approval Prior to Connection of Public Utilities

Sec. 8. Unless and until any such plan, plat or replat shall have been first approved in the manner and by the authorities provided for in this Act, it shall be unlawful within the area covered by said plan, plat or replat for any city affected by this Act, or any officials of such city, to serve or connect said land, or any part thereof, or for the use of the owners or purchasers of said land, or any part thereof, with any public utilities such as water, sewers, light, gas, etc., which may be owned, controlled or distributed by such city.

Disapproval

Sec. 9. If any such plan, plat or replat is disapproved by the City Planning Commission or governing body of such city, as the case may be, such disapproval shall be deemed a refusal by the city of the offered dedication shown thereon.

Adoption in Cities of Less Than 25,000

Sec. 10. Repealed by Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 321, ch. 154, § 1(2).

Saved From Repeal

Acts 1963, 58th Leg., p. 447, ch. 160, enacting the Municipal Annexation Act (Article 970a) provides in Article III of the Act that it shall not repeal Acts 1927, 40th Leg., ch. 231, as amended (this article), unless expressly inconsistent with the Act and then only to the extent of such inconsistency.

Sections 3 to 5 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 3. This Act shall be applicable to all subdivision plats (or replats) recorded on, after, or prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 4. All subdivisions, resubdivisions, plats, plans, or replats heretofore approved by the City Planning Commission or other governing body of any city in the State of Texas and which said plat, plan, or replat is filed for record in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the real property included within such subdivision, resubdivision, plat, plan, or replat is located, on the effective date of this Act are in all respects validated as of the date of the original filing of the plat, plan, or replat; provided, however this validation shall in no manner, term, or respect invalidate, alter, impair, or affect any restrictive covenants which would have otherwise been applicable to any subdivision or any portion thereof.

"Sec. 5. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held to be invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the other provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Art. 974a-1. Enforcement of Land Use Restrictions Contained in Plats; Certain Cities, Towns and Villages

Application

Sec. 1. This Act applies to incorporated cities, towns, or villages if the incorporated city, town, or village does not have zoning ordinances and provided the city, town, or village passes an ordinance that requires uniform application and enforcement of this statute to all property and citizens.

May Sue to Enforce Restrictions

Sec. 2. (a) An incorporated city, town, or village may sue in any court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin or abate violation of a restriction contained or incorporated by reference in a duly recorded plan, plat, replat, or other instrument affecting a subdivision inside its boundaries.

(b) As used in this Act, "restriction" means a limitation which affects the use to which real property may be put, fixes the distance buildings or structures must be set back from property lines, street lines, or lot lines, or affects the size of a lot or the size, type, and number of buildings or structures which may be built on the property.

Previously Recorded Plan, Plat, Replat, or Other Instrument

Sec. 3. Restrictions contained in a plan, plat, replat, or other instrument duly recorded before the effective date of this Act may be enforced as provided in Section 2 but a violation of a restriction occurring before the effective date of this Act may not be enjoined or abated by the said city, town, or village as long as the nature of the violation remains unchanged. An incorporated city, town, or village may not enforce a restriction that violates the Constitution of the United States or of this State.

Art. 974a-2. Commercial Building Permits in Cities of 900,000 or More

Application of Act

Sec. 1. This Act applies to cities having a population of more than 900,000 according to the last preceding Federal Census.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act, unless the context requires a different meaning:

(1) "department" means the agency of a city which has the authority and responsibility for issuing commercial building permits;

(2) "subdivider" means a person who divides a tract of real property under circumstances to which Chapter 231, Acts of the 40th Legislature, Regular Session, 1927, as amended (codified as Article 974a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes and Article 427b, Vernon's Texas Penal Code), is applicable;

(3) "person" includes a firm, partnership, corporation, or other private entity;

(4) "commercial building" means any building other than a single family residence.

Instrument Containing Restriction on Use or Construction on Property; Filing; Issuance of Permit

Sec. 3. (a) A person who desires a commercial building permit shall file with his application a certified copy of any instrument which contains a restriction on the use of or construction on the property described in the application, together with a certified copy of any amendment, judgment, or other document affecting the use of the property.

(b) When an applicant has complied with this Act and local ordinances relating to commercial building permits, the department shall issue a permit for construction or repair which conforms with all restrictions relating to the use of the property described in the application.

Plat and Restrictions; Filing by Subdivider

Sec. 4. (a) A subdivider shall, at the time he files the subdivision for recordation, file with the department two copies of the plat and any restrictions pertaining to the property included in the plat.

(b) The department shall keep one copy in a safe place as a permanent file.

(c) A person who desires a commercial building permit for property which is included in any plat or restrictions on file with the department is not required to file a copy of the plat and restrictions with his application.

Injunction

Sec. 5. (a) A person who attempts to construct or repair any structure for which a commercial building permit is required without having obtained a permit may be enjoined from any further construction activity until he has complied with this Act.

(b) The city may join with an interested property owner in a suit to enjoin further construction activity by one who does not have a permit issued in compliance with this Act, if the structure or proposed structure is in violation of a restriction contained in the deed or other instrument.

(c) Any commercial permit obtained without full compliance with this Act is void.

Repair of Commercial Building; Conversion of Family Residence into Commercial Building

Sec. 6. Any person, partnership, or corporation in cities having a population of more than 900,000 according to the last preceding Federal Census electing to substantially repair or to remodel a commercial building within a subdivision or proposing to convert a single family residence into a commercial building as defined in Section 2(4) of this Act shall obtain a commercial building permit from the city department issuing building permits. Provided however, that the provisions of this Section shall not apply to violations of restrictive covenants occurring prior to the date of enactment of this Act as long as they retain their existing status. Provided further, that these cities may join with any interested property owner in a suit to enjoin the maintenance of a commercial building by one who does not have a permit in compliance with any Section of this Act.

Refusal to Issue Permit; Review by Court

Sec. 7. An administrative refusal to issue a commercial permit on the grounds of violation of restrictions contained in a deed or other instrument shall be reviewable by a court of appropriate jurisdiction provided notice of filing of such suit is given the city department responsible for issuing commercial building permits within ninety (90) days. In the event of changed conditions within a subdivision or any other legally sufficient reason that restrictions should be modified a person refused a commercial building permit can petition a court of appropriate jurisdiction to alter the restrictions to better conform with present conditions.

Elections Validated

Sec. 2. All elections, election orders, election proceedings and city ordinances annexing adjacent territory to, or extending and prescribing the corporate limits of, any incorporated city having a population of not less than three thousand (3,000) and not more than six thousand (6,000) inhabitants as shown by the last preceding Federal Census, shall be and the same are hereby validated and confirmed.

Ordinances Validated

Sec. 3. The city ordinances of all cities in the class described in the foregoing section fixing and prescribing the corporate limits extended by the annexation or attempted annexation of adjacent territory are hereby validated and confirmed.

Extension of Limits Validated

Sec. 4. In every instance wherein a city coming under the provision of this Act has attempted to extend its corporate limits under statutes providing for the annexation of adjoining territory, all actions, resolutions, elections, ordinances, proceedings and contracts held, made or passed, in reference thereto, or pursuant thereto, are hereby confirmed, ratified and validated, irrespective of any irregularities, and in like manner as if said annexation had been done under legislative authority previously given.

Art. 974c. Validating Annexation of Adjacent Territory

That all elections, election orders, election proceedings, affidavits and city ordinances heretofore had, subsequent to August 24, 1935, annexing adjacent territory or extending and prescribing the corporate limits of any incorporated city, incorporated and functioning under the General Laws of the State of Texas under the Commission Form of Government are hereby in all things fully validated, confirmed, approved, and legalized irrespective of any irregularities or omissions in such ordinances or in any petitions, elections, affidavits, or other proceedings purporting to authorize the passage of such ordinances.

Art. 974c-1. Cities and Towns of 5,000 or Less; Validation of Annexation of Territory

Sec. 1. This Act shall affect and apply to all cities and towns incorporated under the General Laws of this State and having a population of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, according to the last preceding Federal Census.

Sec. 2. All elections, election orders, election proceedings, petitions and ordinances annexing territory to or extending and prescribing the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town having a population of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less according to the last preceding Federal Census, shall be and the same are hereby validated and confirmed.

Sec. 3. The ordinances of all cities and towns in the class described in the foregoing Section fixing and prescribing the corporate limits extended by the annexation or attempted annexation of adjacent territory are hereby validated and confirmed.

Sec. 4. In every instance wherein a city or town coming under the provisions of this Act has attempted to extend its corporate limits under Statutes providing for the annexation of adjoining territory, all actions, resolutions, elections, ordinances, proceedings and contracts held, made or passed, in reference thereto, or pursuant thereto, are hereby confirmed, ratified and validated, irrespective of any irregularities, as fully and completely as if said actions had been taken and happened under legislative authority previously given.

Sec. 5. The areas and boundaries of all cities and towns affected by this Act as the same have been extended or attempted to be extended by annexation or any other action are hereby in all things ratified.

Art. 974c-2. Cities of More Than 5,000 Population; Validation of Annexation, Incorporation, and Other Matters

Sec. 1. (a) All cities in the State of Texas having a population greater than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, and operating under the General Laws of Texas, including those operating under the Mayor and Alderman form of government, as well as those operating under the Commissioner form of government, as in such cases provided by law, and heretofore laid out and established by incorporation under the General Laws of Texas, in the manner prescribed by the laws of this State, are hereby validated in all respects as though they had been duly and legally established and so incorporated under the General Laws of Texas in the first instance. All acts of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, or the Mayor and Board of Commissioners, or other governing body of said cities, ordering election, or elections, declaring results of such elections for the purpose of annexing additional territory to said cities; and otherwise by ordinance annexing additional territories to said cities under the provisions of Article 974, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, levying, attempting or purporting to levy taxes for and on behalf of such cities, and all bonds issued and now outstanding, and all bonds heretofore voted, but not issued, and all bond assumption tax elections, following annexation elections or annexation proceedings under the provisions of Article 974, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, under the terms of which by ordinances of said cities, adjoining territory has purportedly been annexed to said cities, are hereby in all things validated.

(b) The fact that by inadvertence or oversight any act of the officers or governing body of any city or municipality, or of the Commissioners Court of the counties in which said cities are situated, in the creation of any such city, or in the annexation thereto of adjoining territory, was omitted, shall in nowise invalidate the incorporation of such city under the General Laws of Texas, nor the annexation of adjoining territory thereto according to the terms of the ordinances so enacted; and the fact that by inadvertence or oversight any act was omitted by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, the Mayor and Board of Commissioners, or other governing body of any such city, or governing body of any municipality, in ordering an election, or elections, or in declaring the results thereof, or by ordinance annexing adjoining territory thereto under the provisions of Article 974, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, or in levying taxes for such city, or in the issuance of bonds of any such city, shall in nowise invalidate any such proceedings or any bonds so issued by such city or municipality.

(c) All acts of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, by the Mayor and Board of Commissioners, or other governing body of any and all cities and municipalities operating under the General Laws of this State with a population of five thousand (5,000) or more, according to the last preceding Federal Census, in rearranging, changing, annexing additional or adjoining territory, changing the boundaries of, or subdividing such cities or municipalities, or increasing or decreasing areas thereof in any such city or municipality, or in declaring by general election or by ordinance following the provisions of Article 974, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, annexing additional territory to such cities or municipalities, and all acts of the governing bodies of any such cities or municipalities in annexing territories thereto, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 2. All cities or municipalities mentioned in this Act are hereby authorized and empowered to levy, assess and collect the same rate of tax as heretofore authorized, or attempted to be authorized under the General Laws of this State, or by any act of the governing body of such city or municipality, or by any election of taxpaying voters of such city or municipality, or by any act of the Legislature of this State, whether General or Special, or as is now being levied, assessed and collected therein and heretofore authorized or attempted to be authorized by any act or acts of said cities or municipalities, or by any act of the Legislature of this State, whether General or Special.

Sec. 3. This law shall not apply to any city or municipality governed by the terms of this Act which is now involved in litigation, or the validity of the organization or creation of which, or annexation of territory in or to such city or municipality is attacked in any suit or litigation filed within forty-five (45) days after the effective date of this Act; provided, further, that this Act shall not apply to any city or municipality which may have been incorporated under the General Laws and which was later returned to its original status; nor shall this Act apply to the annexation of additional territory to any such city or municipality which may have been declared void heretofore by the Courts of this State, or otherwise voided by the governing body themselves of such city or municipality.

Sec. 4. If any word, phrase, clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part of this Act shall be held by any Court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unconstitutional, or for other reasons void or unconstitutional, it shall not affect any other word, phrase, clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part of this Act.

Art. 974c-3. Cities and Towns of 5,000 or Less; Validation of Annexation and Related Matters

Sec. 1. This Act shall affect and apply to all cities and towns incorporated under the General Laws of this State and having a population of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, according to the last preceding Federal Census.

Sec. 2. All elections, election orders, election proceedings, petitions and ordinances annexing territory to or extending and prescribing the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town having a population of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less according to the last preceding Federal Census, shall be and the same are hereby validated and confirmed.

Sec. 3. The ordinances of all cities and towns in the class described in the foregoing Section fixing and prescribing the corporate limits extended by the annexation or attempted annexation of adjacent territory are hereby validated and confirmed.

Sec. 4. In every instance wherein a city or town coming under the provisions of this Act has attempted to extend its corporate limits under Statutes providing for the annexation of adjoining territory, all actions, resolutions, elections, ordinances, proceedings and contracts held, made or passed, in reference thereto, or pursuant thereto, are hereby confirmed, ratified and validated, irrespective of any irregularities, as fully and completely as if said actions had been taken and happened under legislative authority previously given.

Sec. 4a. This law shall not apply to any city or town which on the effective date of this Act is involved in litigation which questions the annexation of territory or corporate limits thereof.

Sec. 5. The areas and boundaries of all cities and towns affected by this Act as the same have been extended or attempted to be extended by annexation or any other action are hereby in all things ratified.

Sec. 6. This Act shall not affect the validity of the annexation to or extension of the boundaries of any city or town wherein such annexation to, or extension of the boundaries of, are now, or within one hundred days after this bill becomes a law, involved in litigation.

Art. 974c-4. Annexation or Definition of Boundaries; Validation

Sec. 1. All city charters, city charter amendments, ordinances and proceedings of the governing bodies of all incorporated cities, including home rule cities, defining the boundaries of such incorporated cities or annexing thereto territory adjoining any such city with the consent of a majority of the inhabitants of such annexed territory, are hereby ratified and confirmed.

Sec. 2. After the expiration of two (2) years from the date of any ordinance defining boundaries of or annexing territory to any incorporated city, consent to the annexation and inclusion of such territory in such city shall be conclusively presumed if no action has then been commenced to annul or review such act.

Sec. 2A. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any territory of any city where the annexation of such territory is the subject of any pending litigation at the time of passage of this Act.

Art. 974c-5. Cities and Towns of 800 Inhabitants or Less; Validation of Annexation and Extension of Boundaries

Sec. 1. The actions and proceedings of all cities and towns in Texas of eight hundred (800) inhabitants or less, according to the last preceding Federal Census, heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under any of the terms and provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, which have attempted to extend the corporate limits of such city or town pursuant to a petition of owners of lands in such annexed area, and a part of which land was, prior to such annexation included in an ordinance of annexation by a neighboring city but was either discontinued as a part of such city or was deleted from the ordinance of annexation before final passage by such neighboring city, and have passed an ordinance or ordinances describing the territory annexed and have caused a certified copy of such ordinance or ordinances to be recorded in the Deed Records of the county in which such city or town is situated, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such annexation or attempted annexation.

Sec. 2. The areas and boundary lines of all such cities and towns covered by the provision of this Act, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation and by any subsequent extension of the area and corporate limits by ordinance adopted pursuant to petition of owners of land included in such extension and annexation are hereby in all things validated, and such annexations and extension of corporate limits of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid because of the inclusion in such limits of more territory than is expressly authorized by Article 971 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925, as amended, or by reason of the inclusion in the corporate area of territory other than that which is intended to be used for strictly town or city purposes.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in litigation questioning the legality of the incorporation or extension of boundaries or any of the acts or proceedings hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the legality thereof.

Art. 974c-6. Cities and Towns of 500 or Less; Validation of Annexation of Territory

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of five hundred (500) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated, or attempted to be incorporated, under any of the terms and provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which are located partially within two different counties, the larger of which had a population of five hundred thirty-eight thousand, four hundred ninety-five (538,495) at the last Federal Census and the smaller of which had a population of forty-seven thousand, four hundred thirty-two (47,432), which have attempted to extend the corporate limits of such cities or towns, and have passed an ordinance describing the territory annexed and have caused a certified copy of such ordinance to be recorded in the Deed Records of either of the counties in which such city or town is situated, and all actions, elections and proceedings had or passed in reference thereto or in connection therewith, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such attempted annexation, and such extension of the corporate limits of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other proceedings had in connection with such annexation may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The areas and boundary lines of all such cities and towns affected by this Act, including both the boundary lines covered by the original corporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof, are in all things validated.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any territory of any city where the annexation of such territory is the subject of any pending litigation at the time of the passage of this Act.

Art. 974c-7. Validation of Annexation of Entire Territory of Water Control and Improvement District

Sec. 1. In each instance where an incorporated city, after a public hearing, has annexed or attempted to annex the entire territory of a water control and improvement district pursuant to the annexation provisions of The Municipal Annexation Act, Chapter 160, Acts of the 58th Legislature, Regular Session,¹ each and all of said annexations are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of the ordinance annexing or attempting to annex said territory, and the ordinance annexing or attempting to annex such territory or the proceedings in connection with said annexation or attempted annexation shall not be held void or invalid by reason of the fact that the proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

tion shall not be held void or invalid by reason of the fact that the proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities including the territory of annexed areas or areas attempted to be annexed which include the territory of an entire water control and improvement district are in all things validated as of the date of the ordinance annexing or attempting to annex said territory.

Art. 974d. Validation of Incorporation of Cities of 600 to 2,000 Inhabitants Incorporated Since January 1, 1935

All cities and towns in this State having more than six hundred (600) and less than two thousand (2,000) inhabitants which have heretofore incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and which are or may be invalid by reason of having included within their corporate limits lands not used for strictly town purposes, but which cities and towns do not include more than two (2) square miles of territory, are hereby declared to be duly and legally incorporated, and the boundaries of such cities as set forth in their incorporation proceedings are hereby expressly authorized and validated; that all actions, proceedings, and elections done or had in connection with the incorporation or attempted incorporation of such cities and towns are in all things validated; and all subsequent acts of such cities and towns, done or performed as a city or town, are hereby validated and declared as binding as if said cities had been duly and legally incorporated. The provisions of this Act shall apply only to cities and towns incorporated since January 1, 1935.

Art. 974d-1. Validation of Incorporation of Cities of 600 to 2,000 Inhabitants

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of more than six hundred (600) and less than two thousand (2,000) inhabitants, heretofore incorporated and/or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, whether under the aldermanic form of government or under the commission form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated, as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid on account of irregularities in the petition for election, order for election, notice of election, returns of election, order declaring result of election, or other incorporation proceedings.

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns since their incorporation or attempted incorporation, respectively, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective dates of such proceedings, and such governmental proceedings shall be effective the same as if such cities and towns had been regularly incorporated in the first instance.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this bill shall affect no city or town now in litigation.

Art. 974d-2. Validation of Incorporation, Boundaries and Proceedings; Cities and Towns of 5,000 or Less

Sec. 1. All cities and towns, in this State, of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, whether under the aldermanic form of government or the commission form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in litigation questioning the legality of the incorporation.

Art. 974d-3. Validation of Incorporation; Counties of 600,000 Population

Sec. 1. All towns and villages in Texas located in counties of over six hundred thousand (600,000) population according to the last preceding Federal Census, heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws of Texas, Chapter 11, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall affect no town or village now or heretofore in litigation.

Art. 974d-4. Validation of Incorporation; Areas and Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings and Acts; Cities of 5,000 or Less

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated, or attempted to be incorporated under any of the terms and provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which are now functioning or attempting to function as incorporated cities and towns, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation, or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law, or by reason of a failure to properly define the limits of said city or town.

Sec. 2. All cities and towns in Texas of five thousand (5,000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated, or attempted to be incorporated under any of the terms and provisions of the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, which have attempted to extend the corporate limits of such city or town, and have passed an ordinance describing the territory annexed and have caused a certified copy of such ordinance to be recorded in the Deed Records of the County in which such city or town is situated, all actions, elections and proceedings had or passed in reference thereto or in connection therewith, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such attempted annexation, and such extension of the corporate limits of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other proceedings had in connection with such annexation may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 3. The areas and boundary lines of all such cities and towns affected by this Act, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof are in all things validated and the incorporation of such cities and towns or any subsequent extension of the corporate limits of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid because of the inclusion in such limits of more territory than is expressly authorized in Article 971 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925, or by reason of the inclusion in the corporate area of territory other than that which is intended to be used for strictly town purposes.

Sec. 4. All governmental proceedings and acts performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings and acts.

Sec. 4a. The provisions of this Act shall in no wise affect or invalidate the incorporation or attempted incorporation of any city or town where the election held for such incorporation or attempted incorporation was held prior to January 1, 1953.

[Acts 1954, 53rd Leg., 1st C.S., p. 98, ch. 47.]

Art. 974d-5. Validation of Incorporation; Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings; Exceptions; Cities and Towns of 15,000 or Less

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in this State of fifteen thousand (15,000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, whether under the aldermanic form of government or the commission form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings.

Sec. 4. This Act shall not apply to any municipality which is now involved, or which within sixty (60) days from the effective date becomes involved, in litigation in any District Court of this State, the Court of Civil Appeals, or the Supreme Court of Texas, in which litigation the validity of the organization, annexation, incorporation or creation of such municipality is attacked; and this Act shall not apply to any municipality involved in formal proceedings now pending before such municipality's commission or council in which proceedings the organization or creation of such municipality is attacked. Provided further, that this Act shall not apply to any municipality which has heretofore been declared invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction of this State or which may have been established and which was later returned to its original status, nor shall this Act apply to any annexation or incorporation proceedings which have heretofore been declared valid or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction of this State before the effective date of this Act.

Art. 974d-6. Validation of Organizational Proceedings; Incorporation; Consolidation; Boundaries, etc.; Exception

Sec. 1. All cities (except home rule cities), towns and villages in this State, heretofore incorporated under the general laws of this State, whether under the aldermanic, commission, or council form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities, towns or villages since the date of their incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated, ratified and confirmed as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities, towns and villages shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in compliance with law.

Sec. 2. In each instance where a charter or amendment or amendments to a charter of a home rule city has been (a) submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of such city at an election, and (b) a majority of the voters participating in such election of such city have approved the charter or amendment or amendments, and (c) the home rule city has functioned under the home rule charter or home rule charter as amended, the charter or the amendment or amendments to the home rule charter shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other proceedings required to adopt or amend home rule charters may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 3. In each instance where two or more incorporated cities (including home rule cities), towns or villages in this State have consolidated or attempted to consolidate under one government, and the question of consolidation has been approved by a majority of the electorate participating in the election in each of the cities sought to be consolidated, the consolidation or attempted consolidation of such cities is hereby in all things ratified, validated, and confirmed, and the consolidation of such cities, towns or villages shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other proceedings of consolidation may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 4. The boundary lines of all cities (including home rule cities), towns or villages, including the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation or consolidation and by any subsequent extension thereof, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 5. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing body of any city (including home rule cities), town or village, including, but not limited to, the adoption of the provisions relating to cities and towns, and all offices and officers thereof since their incorporation, consolidation, adoption of a charter, or amendment or amendments to a home rule charter, are hereby in all respects validated, ratified and confirmed as of the respective dates of such proceedings; provided, however, any provision to the contrary of this Act shall not apply to the Acts of any city, town or village in this State, hereinafter incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws of this State where such Acts come after the effective date of this Act.

Sec. 6. In any instance where an incorporated city, town or village has changed its name by an election in which the question of the change of the name of such city, town or village has been submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of such city, and the majority of the voters of such city voting in such election have approved such change of name, such change of name is hereby validated, ratified and confirmed as of the date of such election, without regard to the fact that the election proceedings or other proceedings involved in such change of name may not have been in compliance with law.

Sec. 7. The validation provisions of this Act shall not apply to litigation pending in any court of competent jurisdiction in this State on the effective date of this Act which litigation questions the legality of any of the matters which would otherwise be validated by the provisions hereof, if such litigation ultimately results in holdings or holding that the matters questioned thereby are invalid.

Art. 974d-7. Validation of Orders of County Judges Declaring Incorporation of Certain Cities, Towns or Villages; Boundaries; Elections and Proceedings; Exceptions

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has been held for the purpose of incorporating a city, town or village, and the territory to be contained in such city, town or village was inadequately or incorrectly described in connection with such election proceedings, or such territory contained a greater area than was permitted by law, and where, thereafter, the County Judge of the county in which such city, town or village is situated entered an order declaring the inhabitants of such city, town or village, incorporated under the General Laws of the State of Texas relating to cities and towns, and fixing and declaring the boundaries thereof, as he finds such boundaries to exist at the time of entering such order, and finding and declaring the names of the officials of any such city, such order by the County Judge is hereby in all things validated, ratified and approved, and such city, town or village shall be known by the name specified in such order.

duly incorporated city with the boundaries as defined in such order, and the act of the governing body thereof in accepting the provisions of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes, as amended, relating to cities and towns is hereby validated and the officials named in such order are hereby declared to have been the mayor, aldermen and city secretary of such city at the time of the entry of said order, and all elections held for the election of city officials are hereby validated and ratified.

Sec. 3. Any election held heretofore but after the entry of such order by the County Judge resulting favorably to the issuance of bonds of such city, town or village is hereby validated and shall constitute sufficient authority for the governing body to proceed with the issuance of the bonds thus voted.

Sec. 4. This Act shall not apply to any municipality which is now involved in litigation in any District Court of this State, the Court of Civil Appeals, or the Supreme Court of Texas, in which litigation the validity of the organization, incorporation or creation of such municipality is attacked; and this Act shall not apply to any municipality involved in formal proceedings now pending before such municipality's commission or council in which proceedings the organization or creation of such municipality is attacked. Provided further, that this Act shall not apply to any municipality which has heretofore been declared invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction of this state or which may have been established and which was later returned to its original status.

Art. 974d-8. Validation of Incorporation; Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings; Adoption of Home Rule Charter; Cities and Towns of 5,100 to 5,300

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns in this state heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, and having a population according to the Federal Census of 1960 of not less than 5100 nor more than 5300, whether under the aldermanic form of government or the commission form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may have not been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all offices thereof since their incorporation or attempted incorporation are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings.

Sec. 4. The proceedings for the adoption and adopting or attempting to adopt a Home Rule Charter for any such city or town in this state heretofore incorporated or attempting to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas and having a population according to the Federal Census of 1960 of not less than 5100 nor more than 5300, where any legal step required to make such adoption effective has been omitted or was done in an irregular manner and where a majority of the qualified voters of said city voting at said election voted in favor of the adoption of said charter are in all things validated, ratified and confirmed, and such charter shall constitute the Home Rule Charter of said city under the constitution and laws of this state. All elections held under the provisions of said charter for the purpose of electing members of the governing body of the city and the assumption of office by such elected members are hereby in all things validated. All acts of the city officers and officials of any such city are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 5. This Act shall not be construed as validating the adoption of any charter if the validity of the charter adoption proceedings or of the charter is involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act and such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

Art. 974d-9. Validation of Incorporation; Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings; Adoption of Home Rule Charter; Cities and Towns of Not More Than 6,000

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns in this state heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, and having a population according to the Federal Census of 1960 of not more than six thousand (6,000), whether under the aldermanic form of government or the commission form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may have not been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns covered by the original incorporation proceedings are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings other than annexation proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all offices thereof since their incorporation or attempted incorporation are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings.

Sec. 4. The proceedings for the adoption and adopting or attempting to adopt a Home Rule Charter for any such city or town in this state heretofore incorporated or attempting to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas and having a population according to the Federal Census of 1960 of not more than six thousand (6,000), where any legal step required to make such adoption effective has been omitted or was done in an irregular manner and where a majority of the qualified voters of said city voting at said election voted in favor of the adoption of said charter are in all things validated, ratified and confirmed, and such charter shall constitute the Home Rule Charter of said city under the Constitution and laws of this state. All elections held under the provisions of said charter for the purpose of electing members of the governing body of the city and the assumption of office by such elected members are hereby in all things validated. All acts of the city officers and officials of any such city, other than acts pertaining to annexation, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 5. This Act shall not be construed as validating the adoption of any charter if the validity of the charter adoption proceedings or of the charter is involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act and such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

Art. 974d-10. Validation of Incorporation; Elections; Governmental Proceedings; Adoption of Home Rule Charter; Exemptions; Cities, Towns or Villages

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of any city, town or village in this state heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, whether under the Aldermanic form of government or the Commission form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation and the incorporation of any such city, town or village shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may have not been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. In each instance where an election has been held for the purpose of incorporating a city, town or village, and the territory to be contained in such city, town or village was inadequately or incorrectly described in connection with such election proceedings, or such territory contained a greater area than was permitted by law, and where, thereafter, the county judge of the county in which such city, town or village is situated entered an order declaring the inhabitants of such city, town or village incorporated under the General Laws of the State of Texas relating to cities and towns, and fixing and declaring the boundaries thereof, as such boundaries were originally intended, together with territory annexed prior to any such order, and finding and declaring the names of the officials of any such city, such order by the county judge is hereby in all things validated, ratified and approved, and such city, town, or village shall be known by the name specified in such order.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing body of any such city, town or village and all offices thereof since their incorporation or attempted incorporation are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings. Any election held in such city, town or village resulting favorably to the issuance of bonds is hereby validated, and the governing body thereof is authorized to proceed with the issuance of such bonds.

Sec. 4. The proceedings for the adoption and adopting or attempting to adopt a Home Rule Charter for any and each city or town in this state where any legal step required to make such adoption effective has been omitted or was done in an irregular manner and where a majority of the qualified voters of said city voting at said election voted in favor of the adoption of any and each such charter are in all things validated, ratified and confirmed, and such charter shall constitute the Home Rule Charter of said city and each such city under the Constitution and laws of this state. All elections held under the provisions of said charter for the purpose of electing members of the governing body of each such city and the assumption of office by such elected members are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 5. This Act shall not apply to any city, town or village which is now or was heretofore involved in litigation questioning in any District Court of this state, the Court of Civil Appeals, or the Supreme Court of Texas, the validity or legality of the charter, organization, incorporation, boundaries, extension of boundaries, or creation of such city, town or village. Nor shall this Act validate any act or proceedings of any city, town or village which upon the effective date of this Act is the subject of litigation in a court of competent jurisdiction. This Act shall neither validate any act or proceedings of any city, town or village done subsequent to October 1, 1962, nor shall the Act operate to affect any ordinance or ordinances annexing territory that have been passed on first or subsequent readings by a city, town or village prior to the passage of this Act. This Act shall not apply to any such extensions, acts or proceedings of any city, town or village if such extensions, acts or proceedings have been later rescinded.

Sec. 6. If any word, phrase, clause, sentence, or part of this Act shall be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unconstitutional, or for other reasons void or unconstitutional, it shall not affect any other word, phrase, clause, sentence or part of this Act.

Art. 974d-11. Validation of Incorporation; Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings; Cities Within Extraterritorial Jurisdiction of Other Cities; Litigation

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns in this State heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and any subsequent extensions thereof, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of all such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation or attempted incorporation are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such proceedings.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town incorporated or attempted to be incorporated from and after August 23, 1963, which is situated in whole or in part within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town, unless consent or permission to incorporate was obtained in the manner prescribed by Chapter 160, Article I, Acts of the 58th Legislature, Regular Session, 1963, the Municipal Annexation Act, compiled as Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes.

Art. 974d-12. Validation of Incorporation; Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings; Exceptions; Home Rule Cities and Towns of 6,900 to 7,100

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all home-rule cities and towns having a population of 6,900 to 7,100 and all cities and towns in this state heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and any subsequent extensions thereof, are hereby in all things validated. No boundary extension of any kind shall be deemed invalid by failure to comply with requirements of publication, whether such requirements are imposed by statute, general law or charter, and such extensions are hereby in all things validated. In the event of multiple annexations covering the same territory, the proceedings prior in time shall prevail despite any irregularities hereby validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of all such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation or attempted incorporation are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such proceedings.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in litigation questioning the legality of the incorporation or extension of boundaries or any of the acts or proceedings hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the legality thereof; nor shall this Act be construed as validating any proceeding which may have been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974d-13. Validation of Incorporation; Charters and Amendments of Cities of More Than 5,000; Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings; Revenue Bonds; Exceptions

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of cities and towns (including home rule cities) heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. That each charter, and amendment to a charter adopted by any city of more than 5,000 inhabitants in this state, or where such city has amended or attempted to amend or adopt such charter, since the enactment of Chapter 147, Acts of the Regular Session of the 33rd Legislature of the State of Texas, 1913, and as thereafter amended, relating to home rule, and all of the amendments and proceedings had under same, that all bonds issued under any amendment where said bonds issued under any amendment have been approved by the attorney general and registered with the comptroller of public accounts, are hereby fully validated, ratified and confirmed and are hereby declared to be in full force and effect as if adopted in strict compliance with all of the requirements of said Chapter 147, Acts of the 33rd Legislature and as thereafter amended and the general laws of Texas relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and any subsequent extensions thereof are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 4. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of all such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation or attempted incorporation are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such proceedings.

Sec. 5. Where any city in the state which operated under the general law or pursuant to a home rule charter has heretofore at an election submitted to the qualified electors who own taxable property in said city and who have duly rendered the same for taxation propositions for the issuance of the bonds of such city for the purposes stated in such propositions, such bonds being payable from the revenues stated in such propositions or payable from ad valorem taxes to be levied therefor, and such propositions having carried by the vote of a majority of the persons voting in such election, all of the proceedings heretofore had by such city, including all proceedings had and acts done in connection with the calling and holding of the election, despite any failure or failures in such proceedings to comply with the pertinent statutes and all proceedings heretofore had by any such city to authorize the issuance of revenue bonds under the provisions of Section 11 of Article 2368a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes (irrespective of the location of the improvements to be constructed or acquired with bond proceeds) are hereby ratified, validated, and confirmed. The governing body of each such city is authorized to adopt all proceedings necessary or desirable to complete the issuance of such bonds. All of such proceedings relating to the authorization of bonds shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas, and when such bonds have been or are hereafter approved by the Attorney General of Texas and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, they shall be incontestable.

Sec. 6. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town incorporated or attempted to be incorporated from and after August 23, 1963, which is situated in whole or in part within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town, unless consent or permission to incorporate was obtained in the manner prescribed by Chapter 160, Article I, Acts of the 58th Legislature, Regular Session, 1963, the Municipal Annexation Act, compiled as Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes.

Art. 974d-14. Validation of Boundary Lines; Cities and Towns of 5,270 to 5,350

Sec. 1. This Act applies to cities and towns incorporated under the general laws of this state and having a population of not less than 5,270 and not more than 5,350 inhabitants and being situated in a county having a population less than 50,000 inhabitants, according to the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of the cities and towns, including the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by subsequent extensions of the boundaries, are validated.

Sec. 3. No boundary extension is invalid for failure to comply with the provisions and requirements of the Municipal Annexation Act.

Art. 974d-15. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings; Exceptions; Cities and Towns of 215 to 217

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas having a population of not less than 215 nor more than 217 according to the last federal census, heretofore incorporated under a special Act of the Legislature and thereafter adopting or attempting to adopt the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as provided in Article 961, thereof, and which have functioned as incorporated cities or towns since the adoption or attempted adoption of the said provisions of Title 28 either under the aldermanic, commission, or council form of government, are hereby in all respects validated, ratified and confirmed as of the date of such adoption or attempted adoption of the said provisions of Title 28; and the adoption of said provisions of Title 28 shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact the proceedings or findings of the governing bodies of said cities or towns may not have been in compliance with the law.

WTSC Civil Statutes—19

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation and the adoption or attempted adoption of the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings.

Sec. 3. All cities and towns in Texas having a population of not less than 215 nor more than 217, according to the last federal census, and heretofore incorporated under a special Act of the Legislature and thereafter adopting or attempting to adopt the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, which have extended or attempted to extend the corporate limits of such city or town to include territory, the majority of the inhabitants of said territory qualified to vote for members of the State Legislature having voted in favor of becoming a part of said town or city, are hereby in all respects ratified, validated and confirmed as of the date of such annexation or attempted annexation, as fully and completely as if said action had been taken and happened under legislative authority previously given, and such extension of boundaries and all proceedings had in connection therewith shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other proceedings had in connection with such annexation may not have been in accordance with law nor because of the inclusion in such limits of more territory than is expressly authorized in Article 971, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, or by reason of the inclusion in the corporate area of territory other than that which is intended to be used for strictly town purposes, provided, however, that the annexed area does not include any area that was validly within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another incorporated city or town at the time of such annexation.

Sec. 4. The validation provisions of this Act shall not apply to litigation pending in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state on the effective date of this Act which litigation questions the legality of any of the matters which would otherwise be validated by the provisions hereof, if such litigation ultimately results in holdings or holding that the matters questioned thereby are invalid.

Sec. 5. If any part or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held invalid, it is hereby declared to be the intention of the Legislature that the remainder hereof and the application of such part or provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Sec. 6. As used in this Act, "the last federal census" means the 1970 census. This is despite any legislation that has been or may be enacted during any session of the 62nd Legislature delaying the effectiveness of the 1970 census for general state and local governmental purposes.

Art. 974d-16. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings; Cities and Towns of 1,500 to 1,800

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of more than one thousand five hundred (1,500) and less than one thousand eight hundred (1,800) inhabitants, heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws of Texas, under the Commission form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation, and where there was an overlapping of territory with another city or town at the time of such incorporation and which overlapping of territory has been corrected by an ordinance of either of such cities or towns, are hereby in all respects validated, as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid on account of such overlapping of territory at the time of such original incorporation.

Sec. 2. That the boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings, as corrected by such city ordinance, or by any subsequent extension thereof, are in all things validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings.

Art. 974d-17. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings; Exceptions; Cities and Towns of 300 to 750

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in this state with not more than 750 inhabitants, nor less than 300 inhabitants, heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, whether under the aldermanic form of government or the commission form of government, and which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in litigation questioning the legality of the incorporation.

Art. 974d-18. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings; Cities and Towns of 1,000 or Less

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of 1,000 inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated, or attempted to be incorporated under the terms and provisions of the general laws of the State of Texas under the aldermanic form of government, and which are now functioning or attempting to function as incorporated cities or towns, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation, or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of those cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or other incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law, or by reason of a failure to properly define the limits of the city or town.

Sec. 2. The areas and boundary lines of all cities and towns affected by this Act, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and by any subsequent extension thereof are in all things validated, and the incorporation of the cities and towns or any subsequent extension of the corporate limits of the cities and towns shall not be held invalid because of the inclusion in the limits of more territory than is expressly authorized in Article 971 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings and acts performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation, or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of the proceedings and acts.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in quo warranto questioning the legality of the incorporation or extension of boundaries or any of the acts or proceedings hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the legality thereof.

Sec. 5. If any word, phrase, clause, sentence, paragraph, or provision of this Act is declared unconstitutional, it is the intention of the legislature that the remaining provisions thereof shall be effective, and that such remaining portions shall remain in full force and effect.

Art. 974d-19. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings; Exceptions; Cities and Towns Under 10,000

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns in this state with a population of less than 10,000 heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws of the State of Texas, whether under the aldermanic or commission form of government, and which have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and any subsequent extensions thereof by annexation are hereby in all things validated; provided, however, that no provisions of this Act shall validate any boundary line extended by annexation, which extends into or through the extraterritorial jurisdiction [as that term is defined by the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes)], of any other city or town.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of all such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation or attempted incorporation are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such proceedings.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town incorporated or attempted to be incorporated from and after August 23, 1963, which is situated in whole or in part within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town, unless consent or permission to incorporate was obtained in the manner prescribed by the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 5. The provisions of the Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in litigation questioning the legality of the incorporation or extension of boundaries or any of the acts or proceedings hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the legality thereof; nor shall this Act be construed as validating any proceeding which may have been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974d-20. Validation of Consolidation of Certain Cities

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has heretofore been held in each of two adjoining incorporated cities within the same county in this state on the question of the consolidation or merger of the two cities under one government, and a majority of the voters of each city who participated in the election voted in favor of the proposition submitted to them, and thereafter the officers of the smaller city turned over to the officers of the larger city the record books and assets of the smaller city and the officers of the larger city entered upon the performance of their duties as officers of the consolidated city, and the consolidated city is now functioning or attempting to function as a validly constituted municipality, the consolidation is hereby validated in all respects as of the date of the consolidation or attempted consolidation. All proceedings involved in the consolidation are hereby validated, and the consolidation shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings in either or both of the elections may not have been in accordance with law in regard to the prerequisites for ordering the election, the time of holding the election, the wording of the ballot proposition, the registration of the results, or any other procedure.

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing body and other officers of a consolidated city which is within the terms of this Act are hereby validated as of the date of the proceedings against any claim of invalidity because of any defect in the consolidation proceedings or because of any purported authorization for or utilization of advisory services of former officers of the smaller city during a period following the consolidation.

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any proceedings or actions the validity of which is involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof; nor does it apply to any proceedings which may have been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction before the effective date.

Art. 974d-21. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings; Exceptions

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws before the effective date of this Act, which have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since their incorporation or attempted incorporation, are validated in all respects as of the date of the incorporation or attempted incorporation. The incorporation proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of the cities and towns, including any extensions by annexation before June 3, 1975, are validated in all respects, except that the incorporation in or extension of a boundary line by annexation into the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town, in violation of the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is not validated by this Act.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of the cities and towns since their incorporation are validated in all respects as of the date of the proceedings.

Art. 974d-22. Validation of Incorporation, Charters and Amendments of Cities over 5,000; Boundary Lines; Governmental Proceedings; Revenue Bonds; Exceptions

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of cities and towns (including home-rule cities) heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws of the State of Texas, and which have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings or incorporation proceedings may not have been in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. That each charter, and amendment to a charter adopted by any city of more than 5,000 inhabitants in this state, or where such city has amended or attempted to amend or adopt such charter, since the enactment of Chapter 147, Acts of the Regular Session of the 33rd Legislature of the State of Texas, 1913, and as thereafter amended, relating to home rule, and all of the amendments and proceedings had under same, and that all bonds issued under any amendment where said bonds issued under any amendment have been approved by the attorney general and registered with the comptroller of public accounts are hereby fully validated, ratified, and confirmed and are hereby declared to be in full force and effect as is adopted in strict compliance with all of the requirements of said Chapter 147, Acts of the 33rd Legislature, and as thereafter amended, and the general laws of Texas relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The boundary lines of all such cities and towns, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and any subsequent extensions thereof, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 4. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of all such cities and towns and all officers thereof since their incorporation or attempted incorporation are hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such proceedings.

Sec. 5. Where any city in the state which operated under the general law or pursuant to a home-rule charter has heretofore at an election submitted to the qualified electors who own taxable property in said city and who have duly rendered the same for taxation propositions for the issuance of the bonds of such city for the purposes stated in such propositions, such bonds being payable from the revenues stated in such proposition or payable from ad valorem taxes to be levied therefor, and such propositions having carried by the vote of a majority of the persons voting in such election, all of the proceedings heretofore had by such city, including all proceedings had and acts done in connection with the calling and holding of the election, despite any failure or failures in such proceedings to comply with the pertinent statutes and all proceedings heretofore had by any such city to authorize the issuance of revenue bonds under the provisions of Section 11 of Article 2368a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes (irrespective of the location of the improvements to be constructed or acquired with bond proceeds), are hereby ratified, validated, and confirmed. The governing body of each such city is authorized to adopt all proceedings necessary or desirable to complete the issuance of such bonds. All of such proceedings relating to the authorization of bonds shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas, and when such bonds have been or are hereafter approved by the Attorney General of Texas and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, they shall be incontestable.

Art. 974d-23. Validation of Consolidation and Governmental Proceedings of Certain Cities

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has heretofore been held in each of two incorporated cities adjoining at a place within the same county in this state on the question of the consolidation or merger of the two cities under one government, and a majority of the voters in each city who participated in the election voted in favor of the proposition submitted to them, and thereafter the officers of the smaller city turned over to the officers of the larger city the record books and assets of the smaller city and the officers of the larger city entered upon the performance of their duties as officers of the consolidated city, and the consolidated city is now functioning or attempting to function as a validly constituted municipality, the consolidation is hereby validated in all respects as of the date of the consolidation or attempted consolidation. All proceedings involved in the consolidation are hereby validated, and the consolidation shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings in either or both of the elections may not have been in accordance with law in regard to the prerequisites for ordering the election, the time of holding the election, the wording of the ballot proposition, the registration of the results, or any other procedure.

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing body and other officers of a consolidated city which is within the terms of this Act are hereby validated as of the date of the proceedings against any claim of invalidity because of any defect in the consolidation proceedings or because of any purported authorization for or utilization of advisory services of former officers of the smaller city during a period following the consolidation.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this Act shall relieve the consolidated city from legal claims or actions which may have existed against the smaller city prior to consolidation.

Sec. 4. This Act does not apply to any proceedings or actions the validity of which is involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof, nor does it apply to any proceedings which may have been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction before the effective date.

Art. 974d-24. Validation of Annexations and Other Proceedings of Municipalities of 20,000 or Less

Sec. 1. This Act applies only to incorporated cities, towns, or villages operating under general law or under a home-rule charter and having a population of 20,000 or less, according to the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 2. In any case where a city, town, or village covered by this Act extended its boundaries by annexing adjacent territory, the annexation and boundary lines and all related proceedings are validated, without regard to any procedural irregularity that may have occurred. All governmental acts and proceedings of the city, town, or village since the annexation are validated.

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any matter that on the effective date of this Act:

(1) is involved in litigation, if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid; or

(2) has been held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974d-25. Validation of Boundary Actions of Cities within Counties of 1,000,000 or More

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to all incorporated cities and towns within the boundaries of any county of this state with a population of 1,000,000 persons or more, according to the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 2. All elections, election orders, election proceedings, ordinances, resolutions, petitions, and agreed court judgments heretofore held, ordered, enacted, or completed involving annexation or the relinquishment of extraterritorial jurisdiction by cities within counties having a population of 1,000,000 persons or more, according to the last preceding federal census, are hereby in all things fully validated, confirmed, and approved, regardless of any irregularities or omissions in such ordinances, petitions, resolutions, elections, or other proceedings.

Sec. 3. The ordinances of all cities and towns in the class described in Section 1 of this Act fixing and prescribing the corporate limits extended by the annexation or attempted annexation of adjacent territory are hereby validated and confirmed.

Sec. 4. The boundary lines of all cities and towns within the classification described in Section 1 of this Act, including both the boundary lines covered by the original incorporation proceedings and any subsequent extensions thereof, are hereby in all things validated.

Art. 974d-26. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings; Exceptions

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws before the effective date of this Act, which have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since their incorporation or attempted incorporation, are validated in all respects as of the date of the incorporation or attempted incorporation. The incorporation proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of such cities and towns, including any subsequent extensions of such boundaries by annexation, and the reduction or contraction of such boundaries by the discontinuation and disannexation of territory are validated in all respects, except that the extension of a boundary line by annexation into the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town or the incorporation of a city or town in the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town without that city's or town's consent, in violation of the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is not validated by this Act.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of the cities and towns since their incorporation including annexations, disannexations, and apportionment of extraterritorial jurisdiction and notices and attempted notices required therefor are validated in all respects as of the date of the proceedings.

Sec. 4. This Act does not apply to any matter involved in litigation on the date this Act takes effect if the litigation ultimately results against the legality of the matter. This Act does not apply to any matter that has been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974d-27. Validation of Assumption of Municipal Control of Certain Schools

Sec. 1. If an incorporated city or town has assumed control of the public free schools within its corporate limits and if that assumption was approved by a majority of the property taxpaying voters of the city or town voting at an election held for that purpose, the election, the assumption, and all governmental acts and proceedings performed in the election and assumption and in governing the municipal school district are validated in all respects as of the date of the act or proceeding. The acts and proceedings may not be held invalid by reason of the fact that they may not have been performed in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. This Act does not apply to any matter involved in litigation on the date this Act takes effect if the litigation is ultimately resolved against the legality of the matter. This Act does not apply to any matter that has been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974d-28. Validation of Incorporation and Boundary Lines; Exceptions

Purpose; Construction of Act

Sec. 1. This Act is to protect the public interest in confirmed and dependable boundaries and jurisdictions of municipalities. It shall be given the most comprehensive and liberal construction possible to achieve its remedial purpose.

Applicability

Sec. 2. This Act applies to any city, town, or village that incorporated or attempted to incorporate under general law before January 1, 1975, and that has functioned or attempted to function as an incorporated municipality since the date of the incorporation or attempted incorporation, including such a municipality that has adopted a home-rule charter.

Incorporation Proceedings

Sec. 3. The incorporation proceedings of each municipality covered by this Act are validated in all respects as of the date on which they occurred. The proceedings may not be held invalid because the election or other proceedings related to the incorporation were not in accordance with law.

Boundary Lines

Sec. 4. (a) The original boundary lines of each municipality covered by this Act and any extension of those boundaries adopted before January 1, 1975, are validated in all respects, even though the action adopting the original boundaries or an extension of them was not in accordance with law.

(b) Without limiting the generality of Subsection (a) of this section, it is expressly provided that an attempted annexation that occurred before January 1, 1975, may not be held invalid because it did not comply with the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other applicable law, or because the territory the municipality attempted to annex was not contiguous or adjacent to the then existing boundaries of the municipality, or because the municipality was not petitioned for annexation by the owners or residents of the annexed territory.

Exceptions

Sec. 5. This Act does not apply to:

(1) any matter that on the effective date of this Act is involved in litigation if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) any matter that on the effective date of this Act has been held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974d-29. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings; Cities and Towns of 1,000 or Less

Validation of the Incorporation of Certain Cities and Towns

Sec. 1. If any city or town with a population of 1,000 or less, according to the most recent federal census, that previously incorporated or attempted to incorporate under general law with the aldermanic form of government is now functioning or attempting to function as an incorporated city or town within three or more counties, its incorporation or attempted incorporation is in all respects validated as of the date that it occurred. The incorporation may not be held invalid because the incorporation election or other incorporation proceedings were not in accordance with law or because of a failure to properly define the limits of the city or town.

Validation of Boundary Lines

Sec. 2. The areas and boundary lines of each city and town covered by this Act, including the boundary lines and any subsequent extension of them, are validated in all respects. The incorporation of the city or town or any subsequent extension of its corporate limits may not be held invalid because of the inclusion in the limits of more territory than is authorized by the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Validation of Proceedings and Acts

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings and acts performed since the incorporation or attempted incorporation by the governing bodies or other officers of the cities and towns covered by this Act are in all respects validated as of the date of each proceeding and act.

Quo Warranto Proceedings

Sec. 4. This Act does not apply to any city or town now involved in quo warranto proceedings questioning the legality of its incorporation or extension of boundaries or the legality of any of the acts or proceedings validated by this Act if the litigation is ultimately determined against the legality of the matter.

Art. 974d-30. Validation of Incorporation and Boundary Lines; Exceptions

Incorporation Proceedings

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws before the effective date of this Act, which have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since their incorporation or attempted incorporation, are validated in all respects as of the date of the incorporation or attempted incorporation. The incorporation proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

Boundaries

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of the cities and towns, including any subsequent extensions of the boundaries by annexation, and the reduction or contraction of the boundaries by the discontinuation and disannexation of territory are validated in all respects, except that the extension of a boundary line by annexation into the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town or the incorporation of a city or town in the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town without that city's or town's consent, in violation of the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is not validated by this Act.

Pending and Completed Litigation

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any matter involved in litigation on the date this Act takes effect if the litigation ultimately results against the legality of the matter. This Act does not apply to any matter that has been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

[Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1897, ch. 767, §§ 1 to 3, eff. June 13, 1979.]

Art. 974d-31. Validation of Consolidation and Governmental Proceedings of Certain Cities and Towns

Application

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any incorporated city or town that before the effective date of this Act consolidated with or attempted to consolidate with another incorporated city or town under the general laws and since the consolidation or attempted consolidation has been included as part of a consolidated city or town functioning or attempting to function as a validly constituted municipality.

Proceedings Validated

Sec. 2. (a) The governmental acts and proceedings of a city or town covered by this Act relating to the consolidation or attempted consolidation of the city or town with another city or town are validated as of the dates they occurred. The acts and proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

(b) The governmental acts and proceedings of the consolidated city or town since the consolidation are validated as of the dates they occurred.

Effect on Prior Claims

Sec. 3. This Act does not relieve the consolidated city or town from legal claims or actions that may have existed against a participating city or town before consolidation.

Effect on Litigation

Sec. 4. This Act does not apply to any matter that on the effective date of this Act:

(1) is involved in litigation if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) has been held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974d-32. Validation of Incorporation and Governmental Proceedings; Cities and Towns of 200 or More

Incorporation Proceedings

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns having a population of 200 or more, according to the most recent federal census, that incorporated or attempted to incorporate under the general laws of this state before the effective date of this Act (including any municipality that later adopted a home-rule charter) and that have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since their incorporation or attempted incorporation, are validated in all respects as of the date of the incorporation or attempted incorporation. The incorporation proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

Governmental Proceedings

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns since their incorporation are validated in all respects as of the date of the proceedings.

Pending and Completed Litigation

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any matter involved in litigation on the date this Act takes effect if the litigation ultimately results against the legality of the matter. This Act does not apply to any matter that has been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974d-33. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines, and Governmental Proceedings; Exceptions

Incorporation Proceedings

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns initially incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the general laws after 1950, which have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since their incorporation or attempted incorporation, are validated in all respects as of the date of the incorporation or attempted incorporation. The incorporation proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

Boundaries

Sec. 2. The boundary lines of such cities and towns, including any subsequent extensions of the boundaries by annexation, and the reduction or contraction of the boundaries by the discontinuation and disannexation of territory are validated in all respects, except that the extension of a boundary line by annexation into the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town or the incorporation of a city or town in the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town without that city's or town's consent, in violation of the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is not validated by this Act.

Governmental Proceedings

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns since their incorporation are validated in all respects as of the date of the proceedings.

Pending and Completed Litigation

Sec. 4. This Act does not apply to any matter involved in litigation on the date this Act takes effect if the litigation ultimately results against the legality of the matter. This Act does not apply to any matter that has been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction nor any matter which occurred after May 23, 1980.

Art. 974d-34. Validation of Annexation and Governmental Proceedings; Cities, Towns, and Villages of 200 or More

Application

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any incorporated city, town, or village having a population of 200 or more, according to the most recent federal census, that annexed or attempted to annex territory before January 1, 1983.

Proceedings Validated

Sec. 2. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, the governmental acts and proceedings of a city, town, or village covered by this Act relating to the annexation or attempted annexation of territory by the city, town, or village are validated as of the dates they occurred. The acts and proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

(b) The governmental acts and proceedings of the city, town, or village occurring since the annexation and before the effective date of this Act are validated as of the dates they occurred.

(c) This Act does not validate governmental acts or proceedings relating to a city's, town's, or village's annexation or attempted annexation of:

(1) territory in the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city, town, or village without the consent of that city, town, or village in violation of the Municipal Annexation Act (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); or

(2) an area extending from the coastline into the Gulf of Mexico.

Effect on Litigation

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any matter that on the effective date of this Act:

(1) is involved in litigation if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) has been held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974d-35. Validation of Incorporation and Governmental Proceedings; Cities and Towns of 5,000 or Less

Incorporation Proceedings

Sec. 1. The incorporation proceedings of all cities and towns having a population of 5,000 or less, according to the most recent federal census, that incorporated or attempted to incorporate under the general laws of this state before the effective date of this Act (including any municipality that later adopted a home-rule charter) and that have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities or towns since their incorporation or attempted incorporation, are validated in all respects as of the date of the incorporation or attempted incorporation. The incorporation proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

Governmental Proceedings

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns since their incorporation are validated in all respects as of the date of the proceedings.

Pending and Completed Litigation

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any matter involved in litigation on the date this Act takes effect if the litigation ultimately results against the legality of the matter. This Act does not apply to any matter that has been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 974e. Procedure for Annexation of Unoccupied Lands to Cities or Towns of 4,190 to 4,250 Population

Sec. 1. The owner or owners of any land and/or territory, which is vacant and without residents, contiguous and adjacent to any city in this State having a population of not less than four thousand one hundred and ninety (4,190) inhabitants, and not more than four thousand two hundred and fifty (4,250) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, may by petition in writing to the governing body of such city request the annexation of such contiguous and adjacent land and territory, describing the same by metes and bounds. The governing body of such city or town shall thereafter, and not less than five and not more than thirty days after the filing of such petition, hear such petition and the arguments for and against the same, and grant or refuse such petition as such governing body may see fit. If such governing body shall grant such petition, the said governing body by proper ordinance may receive and annex such territory as a part of said city. Thereafter the territory so received and annexed shall become a part of said city, and the said land and any future inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens of such city; and shall be bound by the acts and ordinances of such city.

Sec. 2. No such petition for annexation of such contiguous and adjacent territory shall be received and acted upon by such governing body of such city unless and until each and every person and corporation having any interest in such land and territory sought to be annexed, shall have executed the petition hereinabove mentioned and duly acknowledged same as provided for acknowledgments for deeds. If such petition shall be granted and the ordinance hereinabove mentioned adopted by such governing body, a certified copy of such ordinance together with a copy or a duplicate of such petition duly acknowledged as required for deeds by each and every person or corporation having an interest in such land, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such city is situated.

Art. 974e-1. Procedure for Annexation of Unoccupied Lands to Cities or Towns of 1251 to 1259 Population

Sec. 1. The owner or owners of any land and/or territory, or the Board of Trustees of any school or schools which occupy such territory, which is vacant and without residents, contiguous and adjacent to any city in this State having a population of not less than twelve hundred fifty-one (1251) and not more than twelve hundred fifty-nine (1259) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census; may by petition in writing to the governing body of such city request the annexation of such contiguous and adjacent land and territory, describing the same by metes and bounds. The governing body of such city or town shall thereafter, and not less than five (5) and not more than thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition, hear such petition and the arguments for and against the same, and grant or refuse such petition as such governing body may see fit. If such governing body shall grant such petition, the said governing body by proper ordinance may receive and annex such territory as a part of said city. Thereafter the territory so received and annexed shall become a part of said city, and the said land and any future inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens of such city; and shall be bound by the acts and ordinances of such city.

Sec. 2. No such petition for annexation of such contiguous and adjacent territory shall be received and acted upon by such governing body of such city unless and until each and every person and corporation having any interest in such land and territory sought to be annexed, shall have executed the petition hereinabove mentioned and duly acknowledged same as provided for acknowledgments of deeds. If such petition shall be granted and the ordinance hereinabove mentioned adopted by such governing body, a certified copy of such ordinance together with a copy or a duplicate of such petition duly acknowledged as required for deeds by each and every person or corporation having an interest in such land, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such city is situated. [Acts 1939, 46th Leg., Spec.L., p. 519.]

Art. 974e-2. Procedure for Annexation of Unoccupied Lands to Cities of 20,520 to 20,540 Population

Sec. 1. The owner or owners of any land and/or territory, or the Board of Directors of any University or College, which occupies such territory, which is vacant and without residents contiguous and adjacent to any city in this State having a population of not less than twenty thousand five hundred and twenty (20,520) nor more than twenty thousand five hundred and forty (20,540) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, may by petition in writing to the governing body of such city request the annexation of such contiguous and adjacent land and territory, describing the same by metes and bounds. The governing body of such city or town shall thereafter, and not less than five (5) and not more than thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition, hear such petition and the arguments for and against the same, and grant or refuse such petition as such governing body may see fit. If such governing body shall grant such petition, the said governing body by proper ordinance may receive and annex such territory as a part of said city. Thereafter the territory so received and annexed shall become a part of said city, and the said land and any future inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens of such city; and shall be bound by the acts and ordinance of such city.

Sec. 2. No such petition for annexation of such contiguous and adjacent territory shall be received and acted upon by such governing body of such city unless and until each and every person and corporation having any interest in such land and territory sought to be annexed, shall have executed the petition hereinabove mentioned and duly acknowledged same as provided for acknowledgments of deeds. If such petition shall be granted and the ordinance hereinabove mentioned adopted by such governing body, a certified copy of such ordinance together with a copy or a duplicate of such petition duly acknowledged as required for deeds by each and every person or corporation having an interest in such land, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such city is situated. [Acts 1939, 46th Leg., Spec.L., p. 520.]

Art. 974e-3. Procedure for Annexation of Unoccupied Lands to Cities of 14,100 to 14,950 Population

Sec. 1. The owner or owners of any land or territory, which is vacant and without residents, contiguous and adjacent to any city in this State having a population of not less than fourteen thousand, one hundred (14,100) inhabitants and not more than fourteen thousand, nine hundred and fifty (14,950) inhabitants, according to the Federal Census last preceding the exercise of the power herein granted, may by petition in writing to the governing body of such city request the annexation of such contiguous and adjacent land and territory, describing the same by metes and bounds. The governing body of such city or town shall thereafter, not less than five (5) and not more than thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition, hear such petition and the arguments for and against the same and grant or refuse such petition as such governing body may see fit. If such governing body shall grant such petition the said governing body by proper ordinance may receive and annex such territory as a part of said city. Thereafter the territory so received and annexed shall become a part of said city, and the said land and any future inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens of such city, and shall be bound by the acts and ordinances of such city.

Sec. 2. No such petition for annexation of such contiguous and adjacent territory shall be received and acted upon by such governing body of such city unless and until each and every person and corporation owning each part of such land and territory sought to be annexed shall have executed the petition hereinabove mentioned and duly acknowledged same as provided for acknowledgments for deeds. If such petition shall be granted and the ordinance hereinabove mentioned adopted by such governing body, a certified copy of such ordinance together with a copy or a duplicate of such petition duly acknowledged as required for deeds by the owners of such land shall be filed in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which such city is situated.

Art. 974e-4. Procedure for Annexation of Unoccupied Lands to Cities of 1,583 to 1,602 Population

Sec. 1. The owner or owners of any land and/or territory, which is vacant and without residents, contiguous and adjacent to any city in this State having a population of not less than one thousand, five hundred and eighty-three (1,583) inhabitants and not more than one thousand, six hundred and two (1,602) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, may by petition in writing to the governing body of such city request the annexation of such contiguous and adjacent land and territory, describing the same by metes and bounds. The governing body of such city or town shall thereafter, and not less than five (5) and not more than thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition, hear such petition and the arguments for and against the same, and grant or refuse such petition as such governing body may see fit. If such governing body shall grant such petition, the said governing body by proper ordinance may receive and annex such territory as a part of said city. Thereafter the territory so received and annexed shall become a part of said city, and the said land and any future inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens of such city; and shall be bound by the acts and ordinances of such city.

Sec. 2. No such petition for annexation of such contiguous and adjacent territory shall be received and acted upon by such governing body of such city unless and until each and every owner of such land and territory sought to be annexed shall have executed the petition hereinabove mentioned and duly acknowledged same as provided for acknowledgments for deeds. If such petition shall be granted and the ordinance hereinabove mentioned adopted by such governing body, a certified copy of such ordinance together with a copy or a duplicate of such petition duly acknowledged as required for deeds by each and every owner of such land, shall be filed in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which such city is situated.

Art. 974e-5. Procedure for Annexation of Unoccupied Lands to Cities or Towns of 900 to 920 Population

Sec. 1. The owner or owners of any land and/or territory, or the Board of Trustees of any public school, which occupies such territory, which is vacant and without residents contiguous and adjacent to any city, in this State having a population of not less than nine hundred (900) nor more than nine hundred and twenty (920) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, may by petition in writing to the governing body of such city request the annexation of such contiguous and adjacent land and territory, describing the same by metes and bounds. The governing body of such city or town shall thereafter, and not less than five (5) and not more than thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition, hear such petition and the arguments for and against the same, and grant or refuse such petition as such governing body may see fit. If such governing body shall grant such petition, the said governing body by proper ordinance may receive and annex such territory as a part of said city. Thereafter the territory so received and annexed shall become a part of said city, and the said land and any future inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens of such city; and shall be bound by the acts and ordinance of such city.

Sec. 2. No such petition for annexation of such contiguous and adjacent territory shall be received and acted upon by such governing body of such city unless and until each and every person and corporation having any interest in such land and territory sought to be annexed, shall have executed the petition hereinabove mentioned and duly acknowledged same as provided for acknowledgments of deeds. If such petition shall be granted and the ordinance hereinabove mentioned adopted by such governing body, a certified copy of such ordinance together with a copy or a duplicate of such petition duly acknowledged as required for deeds by each and every person or corporation having interest in such land, shall be filed in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which such city is situated.

Art. 974e-6. Procedure for Annexation of Unoccupied Lands to Cities of 3,944 to 3,964

Sec. 1. The owner or owners of any land and/or territory, or the Board of Trustees of any public school, which occupies such territory, which is vacant and without residents, contiguous and adjacent to any city in this state having a population of not less than three thousand nine hundred and forty-four (3,944) nor more than three thousand nine hundred and sixty-four (3,964) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, may by petition in writing to the governing body of such city request the annexation of such contiguous and adjacent land and territory, describing the same by metes and bounds. The governing body of such city or town shall thereafter, and not less than five (5) and not more than thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition, hear such petition and the arguments for and against the same, and grant or refuse such petition as such governing body may see fit. If such governing body shall grant such petition, the said governing body by proper ordinance may receive and annex such territory as a part of said city. Thereafter the territory so received and annexed shall become a part of said city, and the said land and any future inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens of such city; and shall be bound by the acts and ordinance of such city.

Sec. 2. No such petition for annexation of such contiguous and adjacent territory shall be received and acted upon by such governing body of such city unless and until each and every person and corporation having any interest in such land and territory sought to be annexed, shall have executed the petition hereinabove mentioned and duly acknowledged same as provided for acknowledgments of deeds. If such petition shall be granted and the ordinance hereinabove mentioned adopted by such governing body, a certified copy of such ordinance together with a copy or a duplicate of such petition duly acknowledged as required for deeds by each and every person or corporation having interest in such land, shall be filed in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which such city is situated.

Art. 974e-7. Annexation of Vacant Land to City of 2,315 to 2,400

Sec. 1. The owner or owners of any land and/or territory, which is vacant and without residents, contiguous and adjacent to any city in this State having a population of not less than two thousand, three hundred and fifteen (2,315) inhabitants, and not more than two thousand, four hundred (2,400) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, may by petition in writing to the governing body of such city request the annexation of such contiguous and adjacent land and territory, describing the same by metes and bounds. The governing body of such city or town shall thereafter, and not less than five (5) and not more than thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition, hear such petition and the arguments for and against the same, and grant or refuse such petition as such governing body may see fit. If such governing body shall grant such petition, the said governing body by proper ordinance may receive and annex such territory as a part of said city. Thereafter the territory so received and annexed shall become a part of said city, and the said land and any future inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens of such city, and shall be bound by the acts and ordinances of such city.

Sec. 2. No such petition for annexation of such contiguous and adjacent territory shall be received and acted upon by such governing body of such city unless and until each and every person and corporation having any interest in such land and territory sought to be annexed, shall have executed the petition hereinabove mentioned and duly acknowledged same as provided for acknowledgments for deeds. If such petition shall be granted and the ordinance hereinabove mentioned adopted by such governing body, a certified copy of such ordinance together with a copy or a duplicate of such petition duly acknowledged as required for deeds by each and every person or corporation having an interest in such land, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such city is situated.

Art. 974e-8. Annexation of Levee Improvement District; Effect; Contracts

Sec. 1. Any city, including Home Rule cities and those operating under General Laws or special charters, having a population in excess of four hundred twenty-five thousand (425,000) according to the last preceding Federal Census, which has heretofore annexed or may hereafter annex all of the territory within a levee improvement district organized under the laws of the State of Texas, shall take over the properties and assets and shall assume all debts, liabilities and obligations and perform all functions and services of such district, and such district shall be abolished. No abolishment of such levee improvement district shall affect or impair any existing contracts by and between such levee improvement district and any flood control district or other governmental agency for operation or maintenance of levees or other flood control works, but the city shall assume the rights and obligations of the levee improvement district under such contract or contracts. In the event of annexation of the whole district, and the taking over of the assets and liabilities of such a district, the annexing city shall have the power and authority to refund, in whole or in part, any outstanding bonded indebtedness and provide for a sufficient sinking fund to meet the refunding bonds if any are issued.

When less than all of the territory within any such district is so annexed, the governing authorities of such city and district shall be authorized to enter into contracts in regard to the division and allocation of duplicate and overlapping powers, functions and duties between such agencies, and in regard to the use, management, control, purchase, conveyance, assumption and disposition of the properties, assets, debts, liabilities and obligations of such district; provided, however, that the amount of taxes levied by the levee improvement district against any parcel of real estate hereafter so annexed shall be credited against any ad valorem taxes levied against such parcel of real estate by the city. Any such district is expressly authorized to enter into agreements with such city for the operation of the district's utility systems and other properties by such city, and may provide for the transfer, conveyance or sale of such systems and properties of whatever kind and wherever situated (including properties outside the city) to such city upon such terms and conditions as may be mutually agreed upon by and between the governing bodies of such district and city. Such operating contracts may extend for such period of time not exceeding thirty (30) years as may be stipulated therein and shall be subject to amendment, renewal or termination by mutual consent of such governing bodies. No such contract shall contain any provision impairing the obligation of any existing contract of such city or district.

In the absence of such contract, the district shall be authorized to continue to exercise all the powers and functions and be required to discharge such duties and obligations granted to it, or imposed upon it, by law, wholly unaffected by the annexation. The annexing city shall not be required or be obligated to perform any drainage functions in the district; provided however, that the city may, with the consent of the district, construct and maintain drainage facilities therein consistent with the plan of reclamation of such district. The city may, however, perform all other municipal functions which it is authorized to perform and in which the district is not engaged, nor authorized to perform.

Sec. 2. If any clause, phrase, sentence, paragraph, section or provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any particular person or thing, is held to be invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remainder of this Act or the application thereof to any other person or thing.

Art. 974f. Annexation of Streets, Highways and Alleys by Cities and Towns of 1245 to 1260; Procedure

All cities and towns within the State of Texas, having a population of not less than twelve hundred and forty-five (1245) and not more than twelve hundred and sixty (1260), according to the last preceding census, may, by ordinance duly passed and enacted by the governing bodies of such cities and towns, after the same shall have been advertised as provided by Article 1013 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, annex streets, highways, and alleys adjacent to the city limits of such cities and towns, and incorporate such highways, streets, and alleys within the corporate limits of such cities and towns.

Art. 974f-1. Annexation of Streets, Highways, and Alleys by Cities of 17,850 to 17,900

Sec. 1. Any city incorporated and operating under the general laws of this State, having not less than 17,850 inhabitants nor more than 17,900 inhabitants according to the last preceding federal census may, by ordinance duly passed and enacted by its governing body, annex streets, highways, and alleys contiguous and adjacent to the city limits, and incorporate such streets, highways, and alleys within the corporate limits of the city.

Sec. 2. Before the governing body of a city may pass and enact the ordinance described in Section 1 of this Act, the governing body must advertise the ordinance as provided by Article 1013, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

Art. 974f-2. Annexation of Adjacent Streets, Highways, and Alleys by Cities of 4,350 to 4,375

Sec. 1. Any city incorporated and operating under the general laws of this state, having a population of not less than 4,350 but less than 4,375 according to the last preceding federal census may, by ordinance duly passed and enacted by its governing body, annex streets, highways, and alleys contiguous and adjacent to the city limits, and incorporate those streets, highways, and alleys within the corporate limits of the city.

Sec. 2. Before the governing body of a city may pass and enact the ordinance described in Section 1 of this Act, the governing body must advertise the ordinance as provided by Article 1013, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

Art. 974f-3. Annexation of Adjacent Street, Highway, or Alley by City of Wickett

Sec. 1. The city of Wickett by ordinance may annex a street, highway, or alley adjacent to the city limits.

Sec. 2. Not later than the 10th day before the city enacts an annexation ordinance under Section 1 of this Act, the city shall publish notice of the proposed annexation in a newspaper of general circulation in the city. The notice shall generally describe the street, highway, or alley to be annexed.

Art. 974g. Annexation by Cities of Territory Occupied by Less Than Three Voters

Sec. 1. The owner or owners of any land or territory, to the extent of one-half (½) mile in width, which is vacant and without residents, or on which less than three (3) qualified voters reside, contiguous and adjacent to any incorporated city or town within this State, may by petition in writing to the governing body of such city or town request the annexation of such contiguous and adjacent land and territory, describing the same by metes and bounds, said petition to be duly acknowledged as required for deeds by each and every person or corporation having an interest in said land. The governing body of such city or town shall thereafter, and not less than five (5) and not more than thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition, hear such petition and the arguments for and against the same, and grant or refuse such petition as such governing body may see fit. If such governing body shall grant such petition, the said governing body by proper ordinance may receive and annex such territory as a part of such city or town. Thereafter the territory so received and annexed shall become a part of such city or town, and the said land and any future inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens of such city or town, and shall be bound by the acts and ordinances of such city or town. If such petition shall be granted and the ordinance hereinabove mentioned adopted by such governing body, a certified copy of such ordinance together with a copy or a duplicate of such petition shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such city or town is situated.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject of annexation of land or territory by incorporated cities and towns in the State.

Art. 974g-1. Cities, Towns, and Villages; Power to Annex Navigable Streams

Sec. 1. The governing body of any city, town, or village incorporated and operating under the general laws of this state may by ordinance extend the corporate limits thereof to include therein any navigable stream lying adjacent thereto and within the extraterritorial jurisdiction thereof as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Municipal Annexation Act (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 2. In any instance where any such city, town, or village incorporated and operating under the general laws of this state has extended its boundaries by annexing navigable streams lying adjacent thereto and within the extraterritorial jurisdiction thereof as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Municipal Annexation Act, the annexation and boundary lines and all related proceedings are validated, without regard to any procedural irregularity that may have occurred and without regard to any lack of authority on the part of such city, town, or village to annex such navigable stream. All governmental acts and proceedings of said city, town, or village since its annexation are valid.

Sec. 3. The validation contained in Section 2 of this article does not apply to any annexation that on the effective date of this article is involved in litigation and such litigation ultimately results in such annexation being held invalid, or to any annexation that has been held invalid by the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction on or before the effective date of this article.

Section 2 of the 1983 Act provides:

"If any word, phrase, clause, sentence, or part of this Act shall be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unconstitutional, or for other reasons void or unconstitutional, it shall not affect any other word, phrase, clause, sentence or part of this Act, and such remaining portions shall remain in full force and effect."

Art. 974g-2. Cities', Towns', and Villages' Power to Annex Gulfward up to 5,280 Feet

The governing body of any city, town, or village incorporated and operating under the general laws of this state and lying adjacent to the coastline of the Gulf of Mexico may by ordinance extend the corporate limits thereof up to 5,280 feet gulfward beyond the coastline, as that term is defined in Section 11.013 of the Natural Resources Code.

Art. 974-1. Annexation by Petition and Election

Territory adjoining the limits of any city having a population greater than 5,000 inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, and operating under the General Laws of Texas, may become a part of such city in the following manner:

The inhabitants of such territory may petition said city to order an election to be held within such territory for the purpose of voting upon the question of whether such territory shall become a part of such city. Such petition shall contain a metes and bounds description of the territory, which shall not be more than one mile in width, be accompanied by a plat of the territory, and shall be signed by 100, or more, or by a majority, of the qualified electors residing within such territory. Upon the filing of such petition with the City Secretary or City Clerk of such city, the City Council may, by ordinance, order such election so requested. Such ordinance shall specify the day on which such election shall be held, designate the place or places for holding such election, appoint the election officers and prescribe the form of the ballot. Ten days notice of such election shall be given by posting a copy of such ordinance, certified by the City Secretary or City Clerk, in three public places in said territory, and by publishing the same for one time in some newspaper published in such territory or in such city. Such election shall be held in the manner prescribed for general city elections; only qualified electors residing within such territory shall be permitted to vote and the cost of such election shall be paid by such city. Returns of such election shall be made to the City Council of such city, and shall be canvassed and the result of such election declared by the City Council by an order entered in its minutes, which order shall be conclusive of the authority to annex such territory to such city. Should the results of such election show a majority in favor of becoming a part of such city, such City Council may by ordinance receive such territory as a part of such city. Thereafter, the territory so received shall be a part of such city, and the inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens, and bound by the acts and ordinances made in conformity thereto and passed in pursuance of this title.

Art. 974-2. Contest of Annexation Proceeding

To contest the validity of any annexation proceeding had under the provisions of Section 1 of this Act,¹ such contestant shall, within 60 days after the effective date of the ordinance annexing such territory, file with the City Secretary or City Clerk of such city, written notice and a written statement of the grounds on which such contestant relies to sustain such contest. In the event no such contest is filed with the City Secretary or City Clerk in the manner and within the time above stated, it shall be conclusively presumed that said election as held and the results thereof as declared by the City Council or City Commission, are in all respects valid and final and binding upon all courts. The provisions of Chapter 9, Title 50, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925, and amendments thereto, not in conflict herewith, shall be applicable to all proceedings contesting the validity of any annexation proceeding had under Section 1 hereof, so far as applicable.

Art. 975. Segregating Territory

Whenever fifty qualified voters of any territory within the limits of any incorporated town shall sign and present a petition to the mayor of such city, praying that such territory, setting the same out by metes and bounds, be declared no longer a part of such town, the mayor thereof shall order an election within thirty days thereafter to be held at the different voting precincts of said town; and if a majority of the legal voters of said town voting at such election cast their votes in favor of discontinuing said territory as a part of said town, the mayor of said city shall declare such territory no longer a part of said city, and shall enter an order to that effect on the minutes or records of the city council; and from and after the date of such order, said territory shall cease to be a part of said town; provided, no city or town shall thus be reduced to a less area than one square mile or one mile in diameter around the center of the original corporate limits.

Art. 976. Liable for Debts

Whenever any territory shall withdraw as above provided, and such city or town shall at the time of such withdrawal owe any debts by bond or otherwise, such withdrawing territory shall not be released from the payment of its pro rata of such indebtedness; but it shall be the duty of said city council to continue to levy an ad valorem tax each year on the property of such territory of the same rate as is levied upon other property of such city, until the taxes collected from said territory shall equal its pro rata share of the indebtedness of said city or town at the time of the withdrawal. The taxes so collected shall be charged only with the cost of levying and collecting the same, and the same shall be applied exclusively to the payment of said pro rata share of indebtedness. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the inhabitants of said territory from paying in full, at any time, their pro rata share of the indebtedness of said city.

Art. 976a. Zoning Ordinances Upon Annexation

Sec. 1. From and after the effective date of this Act, before any municipal corporation or city existing, or which may hereafter come into existence, as provided by Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of this State, and which municipal corporation or city has in effect a comprehensive zoning ordinance as prescribed by the State Statutes, may be annexed to or incorporated into another such municipal corporation or city, the annexation ordinance or consolidation proceedings combining or incorporating such zoned territory, shall provide for and adopt the identical comprehensive zoning for such zoned territory as same existed prior to any such annexation to or incorporation by another or new municipal corporation. Any attempted annexation or incorporation of such zoned territory without an ordinance adopting the comprehensive zoning as the same existed prior to incorporation of such territory into a larger or another municipal area shall render any such attempted proceedings void. Such zoning ordinance shall be administered and enforced by the governing body within the combined municipal boundaries, as provided by law.

Sec. 2. Repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2000, ch. 798, § 1, eff. June 16, 1977.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this Act shall be construed so as to permit consolidation or annexation of any such municipal corporation or city without a vote of the people thereof, as now provided by law.

Sec. 4. If any word, clause, sentence or Section of this Act shall be declared invalid, such holding shall not affect any other word, clause, sentence or Section of this Act.

Art. 976b. Ascertainment of Population; Validation of Acts

All actions of the governing bodies of incorporated cities and towns in this State to ascertain the population of any such city or town which are evidenced by resolution or ordinance entered in its minutes, and all elections, election orders and other proceedings of every nature and kind in any manner dependent upon population affecting any such city or town are in all things ratified and confirmed, regardless of the population of such city or town as shown by the last Federal Census.

Art. 976c. Validation of Certain Contracts of Cities of 900,000

Sec. 1. This Act is applicable only to cities (including Home Rule Cities) having a population in excess of 900,000, according to the last preceding Federal Census or any future Federal Census.

Sec. 2. In every instance where the governing body of an incorporated city (including Home Rule Cities) in this State has, prior to the date when this Act becomes effective, entered into contracts involving terms in excess of five (5) years for the use of land or interest in land owned or to be acquired by such city and for the purchase of services related to garbage disposal and for the disposal of garbage on a contract basis and has, prior to the date when this Act becomes effective, adopted orders or ordinances to authorize or ratify execution of such contracts, all such contracts and all proceedings, governmental acts, ordinances, orders, resolutions and other instruments thus adopted or executed by or in behalf of the governing body of any such incorporated city (including Home Rule Cities) relating thereto are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify or confirm any contract executed by any city (including Home Rule Cities) the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Sec. 3. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the enactment of this legislation is in fulfillment of the duty conferred upon it by the Constitution of the State of Texas wherein it is required to pass such laws as may be appropriate for the promotion of the health and public welfare of the inhabitants of this State, and that the contracts and proceedings hereby ratified, confirmed and validated and the contracts hereby authorized to be negotiated are for the protection and preservation of the health and public welfare of the inhabitants of this State, and that the matters herein set forth and the subject matter of this legislation are of public convenience, necessity and use, and essential to the accomplishment of such purposes and that this Act therefore operates on a subject in which the State and the public at large are interested and that this legislation is for a public purpose and use and promotes the public interest and welfare of this State.

Acts 1966, 59th Leg., 1st C.S., H.C.R. No. 15, p. 32, provides in part as follows:

"Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the 59th Legislature of Texas, 1st Called Session, the Senate concurring, clarify that the legislative intent in passing House Bill No. 869, Chapter 314, Acts of the Fifty-ninth Legislature, Regular Session, was not to authorize the diversion of bond funds or any other action contrary to the charter and ordinances of the city concerned or of the statutes of the State of Texas, save and except the right to enter contracts for longer than five years' duration."

Art. 977. City Officials

The municipal government of the city shall consist of a city council composed of the mayor and two (2) aldermen from each ward, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except at called meetings, or meetings for the imposition of taxes, when two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of a full board shall be required, unless otherwise specified, provided that where the city or town is not divided into wards, the city council shall be composed of the mayor and five (5) aldermen, and the provisions of this title relating to proceedings in a ward shall apply to a whole city or town. The above-named officers shall be elected by the qualified electors of the city for a term of two (2) years. Other officers of the corporation shall be a treasurer, an assessor and collector, a secretary, a city attorney, a marshal, a city engineer, and such other officers and agents as the city council may from time to time direct, who may either be appointed or elected as provided by ordinance. The city council may confer the powers and duties of one or more of these offices upon other officers of the city.

Art. 978. Election

An election shall be held annually in each ward of said city on the first Saturday in April, at such places as the city council may direct, and of which twenty days' notice shall be given. Such election shall be ordered and notice thereof given, and the election officers and watchers appointed, as provided by the general laws pertaining to elections. The election officers must be qualified voters in the city. The city council shall provide for their compensation.

Art. 978a. Date of Election in Home Rule Cities

Sec. 1. The governing body of any Home Rule City is authorized to set the date of election of officers of such city.

Sec. 2. [Designated as art. 978b and amended].

Art. 978b. Joint Elections in Cities and School Districts

Whenever an election of members of the board of school trustees of any school district, all or part of which is located within all or part of the territory of any home rule city or general law city, is to be held on the same day as an election of city officers of such city, the various officers, boards or bodies charged with the duty of appointing the election officers, providing the supplies, canvassing the returns, and paying the expenses of such elections may agree to hold the elections jointly and may agree upon the method for allocating the expenses for the joint election. Resolutions reciting the terms of the agreement shall be adopted by each of the participating boards or bodies. The agreement may provide for use of a single ballot form at each polling place, to contain all the offices to be voted on at that polling place, or for separate ballot forms, provided that all the offices and candidates for each city shall appear on the same ballot and all the offices and candidates for each school district shall appear on the same ballot; provided further, that no voter shall be given a ballot containing the name of any candidate for whom the voter is ineligible to vote. One set of election officers may be appointed to conduct the joint election, and any person otherwise qualified who is a resident of either the city or school district concerned shall be eligible to serve as an election officer. Poll lists, tally sheets, and return forms for the various elections may be combined in any manner convenient and adequate to record and report the results of each election, and one set of ballot boxes and one stub box may be used for receiving all ballots and ballot stubs for the joint election. Returns on joint or separate forms may be made to, and the canvass made by, each officer, board or body designated by law to receive and canvass the returns of each election, or one of such officers, boards or bodies may be designated to receive and canvass the returns for the joint election and to report the results of each election to the proper authority. Where the counted ballots for two or more of the elections are deposited in a single ballot box, the box containing the counted ballots shall be returned to the officer or board designated in the agreement, which shall be an officer or board designated by law to receive and preserve the counted ballots for one of the elections constituting a part of the joint election.

Art. 979: Ward Election of Councilmen

At the first election under this title there shall be elected a mayor, and two aldermen from each ward, one of whom shall hold office for one year, and the other for two years from the date of their election, to be determined by lot at the first regular meeting after said election. At each annual election thereafter there shall be elected one alderman from each ward, who shall hold office for two years. If the city or town is not divided into wards, the city council may determine by ordinance what number of aldermen shall go out of office in one year, and the manner of deciding which shall hold for the long term and which for the short term.

Art. 980. Conduct of the Election

The ballots for each ward shall be taken separately. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the election shall be held and the returns thereof shall be made and canvassed in accordance with the general laws pertaining to municipal elections, and the persons receiving the highest number of votes for the respective offices shall be declared elected. In the first election held hereunder, the two persons from the same ward receiving the highest number of votes in the city for aldermen of the wards for which they are candidates shall be declared elected aldermen of such wards.

Art. 980a. Election of Governing Body on Place System in Cities of 5,960 to 5,970

The governing body of a city with a population larger than 5,960 but smaller than 5,970, according to the last preceding federal census, may, by ordinance, provide that the members of the governing body shall be elected on the place system rather than the precinct system.

Art. 980b. Election of Aldermen by Place System in Cities and Towns not Divided into Wards

In any city or town not divided into wards and incorporated under the general laws, and which city or town elects its aldermen from the city at large, at least sixty (60) days prior to any regular city election the city council may by ordinance provide that aldermen shall be elected by the place system. As soon as possible after the enactment of such ordinance, the city council shall assign place numbers to the offices of aldermen then held by the incumbent members thereof. Thereafter, as terms of incumbent aldermen expire, any candidate for the office of alderman in any city election in such city or town shall file his application for a specific place on the council, such as, "Alderman, Place No. 1", "Alderman, Place No. 2", "Alderman, Place No. 3", "Alderman, Place No. 4", or "Alderman, Place No. 5." In such election the ballot shall show each office of alderman as a separate office by place number, with the name of each candidate printed thereon under the specific office for which he is a candidate.

Arts. 981, 982. Repealed by Acts 1963, 58th Leg., p. 1017, ch. 424, §§ 119, 121

Art. 983. Installation of Officers

The newly elected officers may enter upon their duties on the fifth day thereafter, Sundays excepted. If any such officer fails to qualify within thirty days after his election, his office shall be deemed vacant, and a new election held to fill the same. The city council-elect shall meet at the usual place of meeting on the fifth day, Sundays excepted, after their election or as soon thereafter as possible, and be installed under the provisions of this title.

Arts. 984 to 986. Repealed by Acts 1963, 58th Leg., p. 1017, ch. 424, §§ 119, 121.

Art. 987. Qualifications of Officers

Sec. 1. No person shall be eligible to the office of mayor unless he is a qualified elector and has resided twelve months next preceding the election within the city limits. In determining whether a person has complied with the durational residency requirement, residency in an area while the area was not within the city limits is considered as residency within the city limits if the area is a part of the city on the date of the election.

Sec. 2. To be eligible for aldermen, one must reside in the ward from which he may be elected at the time of his election. If any alderman removes from the ward in which he was elected, his office shall be deemed vacant.

Art. 988. Repealed by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4082, ch. 640, § 7, eff. Jan. 1, 1984

See, now, art. 988b.

Art. 988a. Purchases by City, Town, or County From Cooperative Association of Which Officer is Member

An incorporated city or town or a county may purchase equipment or supplies from a cooperative association to which one or more members of its governing body or of an appointed board or commission thereunder belongs if no member of the governing body, board, or commission will receive a pecuniary benefit from the purchase except as is reflected in an increase in dividends distributed generally to members of the cooperative association.

Art. 988b. Actions in Which Local Public Official has Interest

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Local public official" means a member of the governing body or another officer, whether elected or appointed, paid or unpaid, of any district (including a school district), county, city, precinct, central appraisal district, transit authority or district, or other local governmental entity who exercises responsibilities beyond those that are advisory in nature.

(2) "Business entity" means a sole proprietorship, partnership, firm, corporation, holding company, joint-stock company, receivership, trust, or any other entity recognized in law.

Substantial Interest

Sec. 2. (a) A person has a substantial interest in a business if:

(1) the interest is ownership of 10 percent or more of the voting stock or shares of the business entity or ownership of $2,500 or more of the fair market value of the business entity; or

(2) funds received by the person from the business entity exceed 10 percent of the person's gross income for the previous year.

(b) A person has a substantial interest in real property if the interest is an equitable or legal ownership with a fair market value of $2,500 or more.

(c) An interest of a person related in the first or second degree by either affinity or consanguinity to the local public official is a "substantial interest."

Prohibited Acts

Sec. 3. (a) Except as provided by Section 5 of this Act, a local public official commits an offense if he knowingly:

(1) participates in a vote or decision on a matter involving a business entity in which the local public official has a substantial interest if it is reasonably foreseeable that an action on the matter would confer an economic benefit to the business entity involved;

(2) acts as surety for a business entity that has a contract, work, or business with the governmental entity; or

(3) acts as surety on any official bond required of an officer of the governmental entity.

(b) An offense under this section is a Class A misdemeanor.

Affidavit

Sec. 4. If a local public official or a person related to that official in the first or second degree by either affinity or consanguinity has a substantial interest in a business entity that would be peculiarly affected by any official action taken by the governing body, the local public official, before a vote or decision on the matter, shall file an affidavit stating the nature and extent of the interest and shall abstain from further participation in the matter. The affidavit must be filed with the official record-keeper of the governmental entity.

Exceptions

Sec. 5. (a) The governing body of a governmental entity may contract for the purchase of services or personal property with a business entity in which a member of the governing body has a substantial interest if the business entity is the only business entity that provides the needed service or product within the jurisdiction of the governmental entity and is the only business entity that bids on the contract.

(b) The governing body must take a separate vote on any budget item specifically dedicated to a contract with an entity in which a member of the governing body has a substantial interest and the affected member must abstain from that separate vote. The member who has complied in abstaining in such vote under procedures set forth in Sections 3 and 4 of this Act may vote on a final budget only after the matter in which he is concerned has been resolved.

Removal From Office

Sec. 6. The penalties and remedies provided by this article do not limit common law remedies of tort, contract, or equity, including a suit for damages, injunction, or mandamus. The finding by a court of a violation under this article does not render an action of the governing body voidable unless the measure that was the subject of an action involving conflict of interest would not have passed the governing body without the vote of the person who violated this article.

Art. 989. Vacancy or Vacancies

In the event of a vacancy or vacancies from any cause in the office of mayor or alderman, such vacancy or vacancies may be filled as follows:

(a) If no more than one vacancy on the city council exists, a majority of the remaining members of the city council may fill such vacancy by appointment, such appointee to serve until the next regular city election; provided, however, in filling such vacancy, the mayor, if any, shall have a vote only in the event of a tie.

(b) In lieu of filling one vacancy on the city council by appointment as provided for in paragraph (a) above, a special election may be called to fill such vacancy.

(c) If two or more vacancies on the city council exist at the same time, a special election shall be called to fill such vacancies.

(d) Any special election to fill a vacancy or vacancies shall be ordered, held, and conducted in accordance with the general laws of the State of Texas.

(e) In the event of a vacancy in any other office in the city, the mayor or acting mayor shall fill such vacancy by appointment, to be confirmed by the city council.

Art. 990. Special Election

Whenever a vacancy occurs by resignation or otherwise, in the municipal offices of any incorporated city or town in this State, so that the vacancy cannot be filled under the charter of said city or town, or under the laws of this State now in force, then the commissioners court of said county in which said town or city is situated, upon a petition of not less than twenty-six tax paying voters living in such city, shall order an election to be held to fill such vacancy, giving notice of not less than ten days in the usual manner provided for such elections, which shall be held in like manner as similar elections and the officers so elected shall in like manner be qualified and installed.

Art. 991. Mayor Pro Tempore

At the first meeting of each new council, or as soon thereafter as practicable, one of the aldermen shall be elected president pro tempore, who shall hold his office for one year. In case of the failure, inability or refusal of the mayor to act, the president pro tempore shall perform the duties and receive the fees and compensation of the mayor.

Art. 992. Change of Wards

The wards of each city accepting the provisions of this title shall be and remain unchanged by its acceptance. The city council shall have power from time to time to cause a division of said city to be made into as many wards as they may deem necessary, and for the good of the inhabitants of said city, and may change the boundaries of the same. No such division or change shall be made unless it be done at least three months preceding the city election next ensuing; and said wards so established shall contain as far as practicable an equal number of voters.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

- 1003. Repealed.
- 1004. Officer Disqualified.
- 1005. Resignation of Officers.
- 1006. Removal of Officers.

Art. 993. Oath

Every person elected or appointed to fill an office under this title shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the official oath. The city council by ordinance may require such additional oath as it may deem best calculated to secure faithfulness in the performance of their duties by such officers.

Art. 994. Duties of Mayor

The mayor shall be the chief executive officer of said corporation, and shall be active at all times in causing the laws and ordinances of said city to be duly executed and put in force. He shall inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers in the government thereof, and, shall cause all negligence, carelessness and other violations of duty to be prosecuted and punished. He shall have power, if in his judgment the good of the city may require it, to summon meetings of the city council; and he shall communicate to that body such information and recommend such measures as may tend to the improvement of the finances, the police, health, security, cleanliness, comfort, ornament and good government of said city.

Art. 995. Special Police Force

Whenever the mayor deems it necessary, in order to enforce the laws of the city, or to avert danger, or to protect life or property, in case of riot or any outbreak or calamity or public disturbance, or when he has reason to fear any serious violation of law or order, or any outbreak or any other danger to said city, or the inhabitants thereof, he shall summon into service as a special police force, all or as many of the citizens as in his judgment may be necessary. Such summons may be by proclamation or other order addressed to the citizens generally, or those of any ward of the city, or subdivision thereof, or may be by personal notification. Such special police force while in service, shall be subject to the orders of the mayor, shall perform such duties as he may require, and shall have the same power while on duty as the regular police force of said city.

Art. 996. Powers of the Mayor

The mayor shall have power to administer oaths of office. He shall have authority in case of a riot or any unlawful assemblage, or with a view to preserve peace and good order in said city, to order and enforce the closing of any theatre, ball room, or other place of resort, or public room or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence, the laws of this State, or any ordinance of the city. He shall perform such other duties and possess and exercise such other power and authority as may be prescribed and conferred by the city council.

Art. 997. Ordinances and Resolutions

All ordinances and resolutions adopted by the council shall, before they take effect, be placed in the office of the city secretary; and the mayor shall sign those he approves. Such as he shall not sign, he shall return to the city council with his objections thereto. Upon the return of any ordinance or resolution by the mayor, the vote by which the same was passed shall be reconsidered. If, after such reconsideration, a majority of the whole number of aldermen agree to pass the same, and enter their votes on the journal of their proceedings, it shall be in force. If the mayor shall neglect to approve or object to any such proceedings for a longer period than three days after the same shall be placed in the secretary's office as aforesaid, the same shall go into effect.

Art. 998. Police Officers

The city or town council in any city or town in this State, incorporated under the provisions of this title may, by ordinance, provide for the appointment, term of office and qualifications of such police officers as may be deemed necessary. Such police officers so appointed shall receive a salary or fees of office, or both, as shall be fixed by the city council. Such council may, by ordinance, provide that such police officers shall hold their office at the pleasure of the city council, and for such term as the city council directs. Such police officers shall give bond for the faithful performance of their duties, as the city council may require. Such officers shall have like powers, rights, authority and jurisdiction as are by said title vested in city marshals. Such police officers may serve all process issuing out of a corporation court anywhere in the county in which the city, town or village is situated. If the city, town or village is situated in more than one county, such officers may serve the process throughout those counties.

Art. 998a. Police Reserve Force

(a) The governing body of any city, town, or village may provide for the establishment of a police reserve force. Members of the police reserve force, if authorized, shall be appointed at the discretion of the chief of police and shall serve as peace officers during the actual discharge of official duties.

(b) The governing body shall establish qualifications and standards of training for members of the police reserve force, and may limit the size of the police reserve force.

(c) No person appointed to the police reserve force may carry a weapon or otherwise act as a peace officer until he has been approved by the governing body. After approval, he may carry a weapon only when authorized by the Chief of Police, and when discharging official duties as a duly constituted peace officer.

(d) Members of the police reserve force serve at the discretion of the chief of police and may be called into service at any time the chief of police considers it necessary to have additional officers to preserve the peace and enforce the law.

(e) Members of the police reserve force may serve without compensation but the governing body may provide uniform compensation for members of the police reserve force. The compensation shall be based solely upon time served by a member of the police reserve force while in training for, or in the performance of, official duties.

(f) The governing body may provide hospital and medical assistance to a member of the police reserve force who sustains injury in the course of performing official duties in the same manner as provided by the governing body for a full time police officer, and reserve officers shall be eligible for death benefits as set out in Chapter 86, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6228f, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), provided, however, that nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize or permit a member of the police reserve force to become eligible for participation in any pension fund created pursuant to State statute to which regular officers may become a member by payroll deductions or otherwise.

(g) Reserve police officers shall act only in a supplementary capacity to the regular police force and shall in no case assume the full time duties of regular police officers without first complying with all requirements for such regular police officers.

(h) This Act does not limit the power of the mayor of any general-law city to summon into service a special police force, as provided by Article 995, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925.

Art. 999. Marshal, Duties, etc.

The marshal of the city shall be ex officio chief of police, and may appoint one or more deputies which appointment shall only be valid upon the approval of the city council. Said marshal shall, in person or by deputy, attend upon the corporation court while in session, and shall promptly and faithfully execute all writs and process issued from said court. For the purpose of executing all writs and process issued from the corporation court, the jurisdiction of the marshal extends to the boundaries of the county in which the corporation court is situated. If the corporation court is in a city which is situated in more than one county, the jurisdiction of the marshal extends to all those counties. He shall have like power, with the sheriff of the county, to execute warrants; he shall be active in quelling riots, disorder and disturbance of the peace within the city limits and shall take into custody all persons so offending against the peace of the city and shall have authority to take suitable and sufficient bail for the appearance before the corporation court of any person charged with an offense against the ordinance or laws of the city. It shall be his duty to arrest, without warrant, all violators of the public peace, and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the execution of the duties of his office or who shall be guilty of any disorderly conduct or disturbance whatever; to prevent a breach of the peace or preserve quiet and good order, he shall have authority to close any theatre, ballroom, or other place or building of public resort. In the prevention and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders, he shall have, possess and execute like power, authority, and jurisdiction as the sheriff. He shall perform such other duties and possess such other powers and authority as the city council may by ordinance require and confer, not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State. The marshal shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the city council may require. He shall receive a salary or fees of office, or both, to be fixed by the city council. The governing body of any city or town having less than five thousand inhabitants according to the preceding Federal census, may by an ordinance, dispense with the office of marshal, and at the same time by such ordinance confer the duties of said office upon any peace officer of the county, but no marshal elected by the people shall be removed from his office under the provisions of this article.

Art. 999a. Marshal May be Dispensed With

The governing body of any city or town operating under the general laws having less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, may by ordinance, dispense with the office of marshal, and at the same time by such ordinance confer the duties of said office upon a city police officer to be appointed as the city council shall direct.

Art. 999b. Law Enforcement Officers; Interlocal Assistance

Sec. 1. "Municipality" as used herein means any city or town, including home-rule city or a city operating under the general law or a special charter. "Law enforcement officer" as used herein means any policeman, sheriff, or deputy sheriff, constable, or deputy constable, marshal, or deputy marshal.

Sec. 2. Any county or municipality shall have the power by resolution or order of its governing body to make provision for, or to authorize its major or chief administrative officer, chief of police or marshal to make provision for, its regularly employed law enforcement officers to assist any other county or municipality, when in the opinion of the mayor, or other officer authorized to declare a state of civil emergency in such other county or municipality, there exists in such other county or municipality a need for the services of additional law enforcement officers to protect the health, life, and property of such other county or municipality, its inhabitants, and the visitors thereto, by reason of riot, unlawful assembly characterized by the use of force and violence, or threat thereof by three or more persons acting together or without lawful authority, or during time of natural disaster or manmade calamity.

Sec. 2a. A county or municipality may by resolution or order of its governing body enter into an agreement with any neighboring municipality or contiguous county to form a mutual aid law enforcement task force to cooperate in the investigation of criminal activity and enforcement of the laws of this state. Peace officers employed by counties or municipalities entering into such agreements shall have only such additional investigative authority throughout the region as may be set forth in the agreement. The counties or municipalities shall provide for compensation of peace officers involved in the activities of a mutual aid law enforcement task force, which provision for compensation shall be contained in the agreement.

A law enforcement officer employed by a county or municipality covered by an agreement authorized by this section may make arrests outside the county or municipality in which he is employed, but within the area covered by the agreement, provided however, that the law enforcement agencies within such county or municipality shall be notified of such arrest without delay. Such notified agency shall make available the notice of such arrest in the same manner as if said arrest were made by a member of the law enforcement agency of said county or municipality.

Sec. 3. While any law enforcement officer regularly employed as such in one county or municipality is in the service of another county or municipality pursuant to this Act, he shall be a peace officer of such other county or municipality and be under the command of the law enforcement officer therein who is in charge in that county or municipality, with all the powers of a regular law enforcement officer in such other county or municipality, as fully as though he were within the county or municipality where regularly employed and his qualification, respectively, for office where regularly employed shall constitute his qualification for office in such other county or municipality, and no other oath, bond, or compensation need be made.

Sec. 4. Any law enforcement officer who is ordered by the official designated by the governing body of any county or municipality to perform police or peace duties outside the territorial limits of the county or municipality where he is regularly employed as such officer, shall be entitled to the same wage, salary, pension, and all other compensation and all other rights for such service, including injury or death benefits, the same as though the service had been rendered within the limits of the county or municipality where he is regularly employed, and shall also be paid for any reasonable expenses of travel, food, or lodging that he may incur while on duty outside such limits.

Sec. 5. All wage and disability payments, pension payments, damage to equipment and clothing, medical expense, and expenses of travel, food, and lodging shall be paid by the county or municipality regularly employing such law enforcement officer. Upon making such payments, the county or municipality that furnished the services shall, when it so requests, be reimbursed by the county or municipality whose authorized official requested the services out of which the payments arose. Each such county or municipality is hereby expressly authorized to make such payments and reimbursements notwithstanding any provision in its charter or ordinances to the contrary.

Art. 999c. Payment of Hospitalization Costs for Peace Officers and Firemen

Sec. 1. As used in this Act:

(1) "Peace officer" means a peace officer as defined in Article 2.12, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended.

(2) "City" means an incorporated city or town, whether operated under a home-rule charter or incorporated under the general laws of this state.

Sec. 2. If a peace officer or fireman employed by a city sustains an injury in the performance of his duties which results in permanent incapacity for work and requires constant confinement in a hospital or other institution providing medical treatment, the city may pay all costs of such confinement in excess of amounts which are paid under any policy of insurance or by another governmental entity.

Sec. 3. To the extent it is permitted to make payments under this Act, the city is subrogated to the rights of the peace officer or fireman in a suit against a third party because of the injury.

Sec. 4. To receive funds under this Act, a peace officer or fireman must furnish the governing body of the city:

(1) proof that he sustained an injury in the course of his duties resulting in permanent incapacity for work and requiring constant confinement for medical treatment;

(2) proof of the portion of the cost of confinement not paid under any policy of insurance or by another governmental entity; and

(3) any other information or evidence required by the governing body.

Sec. 5. This Act does not permit payment of costs of constant confinement for medical treatment incurred prior to the effective date of the Act. [Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 1696, ch. 616, eff. Aug. 27, 1973.]

Art. 999d. Purchase of Liability Insurance for Certain Municipal Employees

A municipality may insure the officers and employees of the fire and police departments and other municipal employees who drive emergency vehicles against liability to third persons arising from and out of the use and operation of automobiles, motor trucks, and other motor vehicles used as municipal emergency medical, fire, or police vehicles in the line of duty by procuring policies for that purpose with insurance companies authorized to do business in this state. All insurance taken out by a municipality shall be on forms approved by the State Board of Insurance. No municipality may purchase liability insurance in excess of $20,000 because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident, $100,000 because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident, and $5,000 because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any one accident.

Art. 999d-1. Automobile Liability Insurance for Fire and Police Department Officers and Employees in Certain Cities

Sec. 1. A city with a population of at least 1,550,000, according to the most recent federal census, shall insure the officers and employees of the fire and police departments against liability to third persons arising out of the operation, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle owned or leased by the city.

Sec. 2. The city may elect to be self-insured or may purchase insurance with an insurance company authorized to do business in this state. All insurance taken out by the city shall be on forms authorized by the State Board of Insurance.

Sec. 3. A city purchasing insurance under this article may not purchase liability insurance in excess of $100,000 because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident, $300,000 because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident, and $10,000 because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any one accident.

Art. 999e. Automobile Liability Coverage for Peace Officers and Fire Fighters

Sec. 1. (a) The state and every incorporated city or town shall provide for insuring peace officers and fire fighters in its employ against liability to third persons arising out of the operation, maintenance, or use of any motor vehicle owned or leased by the state, city or town.

(b) The state and any incorporated city or town may elect to be self-insured or to reimburse the actual cost of extended automobile liability insurance endorsements obtained by its peace officers and fire fighters on the individually owned automobile liability insurance policies of such peace officers and fire fighters. Such extended endorsement shall be in amounts not less than those required under this Act and shall extend the coverage to include the operation and use of city vehicles by such peace officers or fire fighters in the scope of their employment. Provided, however, that the state and any incorporated city or town which elects to use the reimbursement method authorized under this subsection may require that all peace officers and fire fighters who operate and use motor vehicles present proof that an extended coverage endorsement has been purchased and that such extended coverage is current.

Sec. 2. Liability coverage provided pursuant to the requirements of this Act shall be in amounts not less than the amounts required by the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act, as amended (Article 6701h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), to provide proof of financial responsibility.

Sec. 3. "Motor vehicle" means any motor vehicle for which motor vehicle automobile insurance is written under the provisions of Subchapter A, Chapter 5, Insurance Code, as amended.

Art. 999f. Salary Continuation Payments to Municipal Employees; Subrogation

If an incorporated city, town, or village pays benefits to a municipal employee under a salary continuation program when the employee is injured, the municipality is subrogated to the employee's right of recovery for personal injuries caused by the tortious conduct of a third party other than another employee of the same municipality. The subrogation extends only to the extent of payments made by the municipality. That a municipal employee has a cause of action against a third party for personal injuries is not a ground for the municipality to deny benefits under a salary continuation program.

Art. 1000. Secretary, Duties, etc.

The city secretary shall attend every meeting of the city council, and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose, and engross and enroll all laws, resolutions and ordinances of the city council, keep the corporate seal, take charge of and preserve and keep in order all the books, records, papers, documents and files of said council, countersign all commissions issued to city officers, and licenses issued by the mayor, and keep a record or register thereof, and make out all notices required under any regulation or ordinance of the city. The city secretary shall notify the Texas Judicial Council of the name of any person elected or appointed as a mayor, municipal court judge, or clerk of a municipal court of the city not later than the 30th day after the date of that person's election or appointment. He shall draw all the warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same and keep an accurate account thereof in a book provided for that purpose. He shall be the general accountant of the corporation, and shall keep in books regular accounts of the receipts and disbursements for the city, and separately, under proper heads, each cause of receipt and disbursement, and also accounts with each person including officers who have money transactions with the city, crediting accounts allowed by proper authority and specifying the particular transaction to which such entries apply. He shall keep a register of bonds and bills issued by the city, and all evidence of debt due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof, and all facts connected therewith, as they occur. He shall carefully keep all contracts made by the city council; and he shall perform all such other duties as may be required of him by law, ordinance, resolution or order of the city council. He shall receive for his services an annual salary payable at stated periods, and such additional fees as the city council may allow.

Art. 1001. Treasurer, Duties, etc.

The treasurer shall give bond in favor of the city in such amount, and in such form as the city council may require, with sufficient security to be approved by the city council, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. He shall receive and securely keep all moneys belonging to the city, and make all payments for the same upon the order of the mayor, attested by the secretary under the seal of the corporation. No order shall be paid unless the said order shall show upon its face that the city council has directed its issuance, and for what purpose. He shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments to the city council, at their first regular meeting in every quarter and whensoever, at other times, he may be required by them so to do. He shall do and perform such other acts and duties as the city council may require. He shall receive such compensation as the city council shall fix.

Art. 1002. Control of Officers

The city council shall have power from time to time to require other and further duties of all officers whose duties are herein prescribed, and to define and prescribe the powers and duties of all officers appointed or elected to any office under this title whose duties are not herein specially mentioned, and fix their compensation. They may also require bonds to be given to the said corporation by all officers for the faithful performance of their duties. The city council shall provide for filling vacancies in all offices, not herein provided for. In all cases of vacancy, the same shall be filled only for the unexpired term.

Art. 1003. Repealed by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2153, ch. 395, § 1, eff. June 17, 1983

Art. 1004. Officer Disqualified

Any officer who has been intrusted with the collection or custody of funds belonging to a city who shall be in default to said city, shall thereafter be incapable of holding any office under said city, until the amount of his defalcation shall have been fully paid to said city, with ten per cent interest.

Art. 1005. Resignation of Officers

Resignation by any officer authorized by this title to be elected or appointed shall be made to the city council in writing, subject to their approval and acceptance. Any appointee of the mayor may present his written resignation to that officer for his action.

Art. 1006. Removal of Officers

The city council shall have power to remove any officer for incompetency, corruption, misconduct or malfeasance in office, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard in his defense. The city council shall also have power at any time to remove any officer of the corporation elected by them, by resolution declaratory of its want of confidence in said officer; provided, that two-thirds of the aldermen elected vote in favor of said resolution.

The mayor shall preside at all meetings of the city council, and shall have a casting vote, except in elections. If he and the president pro tem are absent, any alderman may be appointed to preside.

Art. 1008. Meetings

Petitions and remonstrances may be presented to the council in writing only. The city council shall hold stated meetings at such times and places as they shall by resolution direct. The mayor, of his own motion, or on the application of three aldermen, may call special meetings, by notice to each member of said council, the secretary and city attorney, served personally or left at their usual place of abode. The council shall determine the rules of its proceedings and be the judge of the election and qualification of its own members, and may compel the attendance of absent members and punish them for disorderly conduct.

Art. 1009. Attendance of Officers

Each alderman shall be fined three dollars for each meeting which he fails to attend, unless on account of his own sickness or that of his family. Any member of the city council remaining absent for three regular consecutive meetings of the board, unless prevented by sickness, without first having obtained leave of absence at a regular meeting, shall be deemed to have vacated his office, and the mayor shall proceed to fill the vacancy in accordance with the charter.

Art. 1010. Salary of Officers

The city council shall, on or before the first day of January next preceding each election, fix the salary and fees of office of the mayor to be elected at the next regular election, and fix the compensation to be paid to the officers elected or appointed by the city council. The compensation so fixed shall not be changed during the term for which said officers shall be elected or appointed.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1010a. Cities of 1,200,000 or More; Salary and Expenses of Elected Officials

Sec. 1. The city council of an incorporated city having a population of 1,200,000 or more, according to the last preceding or any future federal census, may set the salary and expenses to be paid elected city officials. Said ordinance shall not take effect until the succeeding term, and the salary of a state district court judge of the county in which the city is located shall be the comparative salary; provided that a councilman's salary shall not exceed 40 percent of the comparative salary; the comptroller's salary shall not exceed the comparative salary; and the mayor's salary shall not exceed 150 percent of the comparative salary.

Sec. 2. (a) The city council may not adopt an ordinance under this Act unless the procedures prescribed by this section are followed.

(b) Before adopting an ordinance the city council shall publish notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the city. Notice must be published for two consecutive weeks immediately preceding the week in which the meeting is to be held and at which the proposed ordinance is to be considered. The notice must include a general description of the proposed ordinance, a statement that a public hearing will be held before the ordinance is adopted, a statement of the time and place of the hearing, and a statement that any interested person may appear and testify at the hearing.

(c) The city council must hold a public hearing before taking up an ordinance for consideration.

(d) An ordinance must be approved by a majority vote of the membership of the city council.

(e) A certified copy of an ordinance must be filed with the city secretary within 10 days after enactment, and it is effective on the first day of the succeeding term unless the ordinance prescribes a later effective date.

Sec. 3. (a) The city council may submit an ordinance adopted under this Act to the voters for their approval in the same fashion as charter amendments as provided in Article 1170, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(b) After an election held under this Act, a two-year period of time must elapse prior to the calling of another election on the same proposition.

Art. 1011. Powers

The City Council, or other governing body shall have power to pass, publish, amend or repeal all ordinances, rules and police regulations, not contrary to the Constitution of this State, for the good government, peace and order of the City and the trade and commerce thereof, that may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers vested by this title in the corporation, the city government or in any department or office thereof; to enforce the observance of all such rules, ordinances and police regulations, and to punish violations thereof. No fine or penalty shall exceed $1,000 for violations of all such rules, ordinances and police regulations that govern fire safety, zoning and public health and sanitation other than vegetation and litter violations nor exceed $200 for all other violations.

Art. 1011a. Grant of Power for Zoning

For the purpose of promoting health, safety, morals, and for the protection and preservation of places and areas of historical, cultural, or architectural importance and significance, or the general welfare of the community, the legislative body of cities and incorporated villages is hereby empowered to regulate and restrict the height, number of stories, and size of buildings, and other structures, the percentage of lot that may be occupied, the size of the yards, courts, and other open spaces, the density of population, and the location and use of buildings, structures, and land for trade, industry, residence, or other purpose; and, in the case of designated places and areas of historic, cultural, or architectural importance and significance, to regulate and restrict the construction, alteration, reconstruction, or razing of buildings and other structures.

Section 2 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"The provisions of this Act shall not apply to buildings, structures, or land under the control, administration, or jurisdiction of any federal or state agency."

Art. 1011b. Districts

For any or all of said purposes the local legislative body may divide the municipality into districts of such number, shape, and area as may be deemed best suited to carry out the purposes of this Act,¹ and within such districts it may regulate and restrict the erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, or use of buildings, structures, or land. All such regulations shall be uniform for each class or kind of building throughout each district, but the regulations in one district may differ from those in other districts.

Art. 1011c. Purposes in View

Such regulations shall be made in accordance with a comprehensive plan and designed to lessen congestion in the streets; to secure safety from fire, panic, and other dangers; to promote health and the general welfare; to provide adequate light and air; to prevent the overcrowding of land; to avoid undue concentration of population; to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage, schools, parks, and other public requirements. Such regulations shall be made with reasonable consideration, among other things, to the character of the district and its peculiar suitability for particular uses, and with a view to conserving the value of buildings and encouraging the most appropriate use of land throughout such municipality, and it is hereby provided that this Act¹ shall not enable cities and incorporated villages aforesaid to require the removal or destruction of property, existing at the time such city or incorporated village shall take advantage of this Act, actually and necessarily used in a public service business.

Art. 1011d. Method of Procedure

The legislative body of such municipality shall provide for the manner in which such regulations and restrictions and the boundaries of such districts shall be determined, established, and enforced, and from time to time amended, supplemented, or changed. However, no such regulation, restriction, or boundary shall become effective until after a public hearing in relation thereto, at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard. At least 15 days' notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be published in an official paper, or a paper of general circulation, in such municipality.

Art. 1011e. Changes

(a) Such regulations, restrictions, and boundaries may from time to time be amended, supplemented, changed, modified, or repealed. In case, however, of a written protest against such change, signed by the owners of 20 per cent or more either of the area of the lots or land included in such proposed change, or of the lots or land immediately adjoining the same and extending 200 feet therefrom, such amendment shall not become effective except by the favorable vote of three-fourths of all members of the legislative body of such municipality. The legislative body of a municipality may also provide by ordinance that a vote of three-fourths of all its members is required to overrule a recommendation of the zoning commission that a proposed amendment, supplement, or change be denied.

(b) The provisions of the previous section relative to public hearing and official notice shall apply equally to all changes or amendments.

(c) In addition to the notice required by Subsection (b) of this section, a general law municipality without a Zoning Commission must provide notice of a proposed change to each property owner who would be entitled to notice under Section 6 of this Act if the municipality had a Zoning Commission. Notice must be given in the same manner as is required for notice to property owners under Section 6 of this Act. The legislative body may not adopt a change until after the 30th day after the day that notice required by this subsection is given.

Art. 1011f. Zoning Commission

(a) In order to avail itself of the powers conferred by this Act, the legislative body of a home-rule city shall, and the legislative body of a general law municipality may, appoint a commission, to be known as the Zoning Commission.

(b) If a Zoning Commission is appointed, it shall recommend the boundaries of the various original districts and appropriate regulations to be enforced therein. Such Commission shall make a preliminary report and hold public hearings thereon before submitting its final report, and such legislative body shall not hold its public hearings or take action until it has received the final report of such Commission; provided, however, that any city or town, by ordinance, may provide for the holding of any public hearing of the legislative body, after published notice required by Section 4 of this Act, jointly with any public hearing required to be held by the Zoning Commission, but such legislative body shall not take action until it has received the final report of such Zoning Commission. Where a City Plan Commission already exists, it may be appointed as the Zoning Commission. Written notice of all public hearings before the Zoning Commission on proposed changes in classification shall be sent to owners of real property lying within two hundred (200) feet of the property on which the change in classification is proposed, such notice to be given, not less than ten (10) days before the date set for hearing, to all such owners who have rendered their said property for city taxes as the ownership appears on the last approved city tax roll. Such notice may be served by depositing the same, properly addressed and postage paid, in the city post office. Where property lying within two hundred (200) feet of the property proposed to be changed is located in territory which was annexed to the city after the final date for making the renditions which are included on the last approved city tax roll, notice to such owners shall be given by publication in the manner provided in Section 4 of this Act.

(c) Any other law that refers to a municipal Zoning Commission or Planning Commission shall be construed as referring to the legislative body in the case of a general law municipality that exercises zoning power without appointment of a Zoning Commission.

Art. 1011g. Board of Adjustment

(a) Such local legislative body may provide for the appointment of a Board of Adjustment, and in the regulations and restrictions adopted pursuant to the authority of this Act may provide that the said Board of Adjustment may, in appropriate cases and subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards, make special exceptions to the terms of the ordinance in harmony with its general purpose and intent and in accordance with general or specific rules therein contained.

(b) The Board Adjustment shall consist of five (5) members, each to be appointed for a term of two (2) years and removable for cause by the appointing authority upon written charges and after public hearing. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term of any member whose term becomes vacant. Provided, however, that the governing body of any city may, by charter provision or ordinance, provide for the appointment of four (4) alternate members of the Board of Adjustment who shall serve in the absence of one or more regular members when requested to do so by the mayor or city manager, as the case may be. All cases to be heard by the Board of Adjustment will always be heard by a minimum number of four (4) members. These alternate members, when appointed, shall serve for the same period as the regular members and any vacancies shall be filled in the same manner and shall be subject to removal as the regular members.

(c) The Board shall adopt rules in accordance with the provisions of any ordinance adopted pursuant to this Act. Meetings of the Board shall be held at the call of the chairman and at such other times as the Board may determine. Such chairman, or in his absence the acting chairman, may administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses. All meetings of the Board shall be open to the public. The Board shall keep minutes of its proceedings, showing the vote of each member upon each question, or, if absent or failing to vote, indicating such fact, and shall keep records of its examinations and other official actions, all of which shall be immediately filed in the office of the Board and shall be a public record.

(d) Appeals to the Board of Adjustment may be taken by any person aggrieved or by any officer, department, board, or bureau of the municipality affected by any decision of the administrative officer. Such appeal shall be taken within a reasonable time, as provided by the rules of the Board, by filing with the officer from whom the appeal is taken and with the Board of Adjustment a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof. The officer from whom the appeal is taken shall forthwith transmit to the Board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken.

(e) An appeal stays all proceedings in furtherance of the action appealed from, unless the officer from whom the appeal is taken certifies to the Board of Adjustment after the notice of appeal shall have been filed with him that by reason of facts stated in the certificate a stay would, in his opinion, cause imminent peril to life or property. In such case proceedings shall not be stayed otherwise than by a restraining order which may be granted by the Board of Adjustment or by a court of record on application on notice to the officer from whom the appeal is taken and on due cause shown.

(f) The Board of Adjustment shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of the appeal, give public notice thereof, as well as due notice to the parties in interest, and decide the same within a reasonable time. Upon the hearing any party may appear in person or by agent or by attorney.

(g) The Board of Adjustment shall have the following powers:

1. To hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is error in any order, requirement, decision, or determination made by an administrative official in the enforcement of this Act or of any ordinance adopted pursuant thereto.

2. To hear and decide special exceptions to the terms of the ordinance upon which such Board is required to pass under such ordinance.

3. To authorize upon appeal in specific cases such variance from the terms of the ordinance as will not be contrary to the public interest, where, owing to special conditions, a literal enforcement of the provisions of the ordinance will result in unnecessary hardship, and so that the spirit of the ordinance shall be observed and substantial justice done.

(h) In exercising the above-mentioned powers such Board may, in conformity with the provisions of this Act, reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decision or determination appealed from and make such order, requirement, decision or determination as ought to be made, and to that end shall have all the powers of the officer from whom the appeal is taken.

(i) The concurring vote of four (4) members of the Board shall be necessary to reverse any order, requirement, decision or determination of any such administrative official, or to decide in favor of the applicant on any matter upon which it is required to pass under any such ordinance, or to effect any variation in such ordinance.

(j) Any person or persons, jointly or severally, aggrieved by any decision of the Board of Adjustment, or any taxpayer, or any officer, department, board or bureau of the municipality, may present to a court of record a petition, duly verified, setting forth that such decision is illegal, in whole or in part, specifying the grounds of the illegality. Such petition shall be presented to the court within ten (10) days after the filing of the decision in the office of the Board.

(k) Upon presentation of such petition the court may allow a writ of certiorari directed to the Board of Adjustment to review such decision of the Board of Adjustment and shall prescribe therein the time within which a return thereto must be made and served upon the relator's attorney, which shall not be less than ten (10) days and may be extended by the court. The allowance of the writ shall not stay proceedings upon the decision appealed from, but the court may, on application, on notice to the Board and on due cause shown, grant a restraining order.

(l) The Board of Adjustment shall not be required to return the original papers acted upon by it, but it shall be sufficient to return certified or sworn copies thereof or of such portions thereof as may be called for by such writ. The return shall concisely set forth such other facts as may be pertinent and material to show the grounds of the decision appealed from and shall be verified.

(m) If, upon the hearing, it shall appear to the court that testimony is necessary for the proper disposition of the matter, it may take evidence or appoint a referee to take such evidence as it may direct and report the same to the court with his findings of fact and conclusions of law, which shall constitute a part of the proceedings upon which the determination of the court shall be made. The court may reverse or affirm wholly or partly, or may modify the decision brought up for review.

(n) Costs shall not be allowed against the Board unless it shall appear to the court that it acted with gross negligence, or in bad faith, or with malice in making the decision appealed from.

Art. 1011h. Enforcement and Remedies

The local legislative body may provide by ordinance for the enforcement of this Act¹ and of any ordinance or regulation made thereunder. A violation of this Act or of such ordinance or regulation is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor, and such local legislative body may provide for the punishment thereof by fine or imprisonment or both. It is also empowered to provide civil penalties for such violation.

In case any building or structure is erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, repaired, converted, or maintained, or any building, structure, or land is used in violation of this Act or of any ordinance or other regulation made under authority conferred hereby, the proper local authorities of the municipality, in addition to other remedies, may institute any appropriate action or proceedings to prevent such unlawful erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, conversion, maintenance, or use, to restrain, correct, or abate such violation, to prevent the occupancy of said building, structure, or land, or to prevent any illegal act, conduct, business, or use in or about such premises.

Art. 1011k. Neighborhood Zoning Areas in Cities over 290,000

The legislative body of any city having a population of more than 290,000 inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, and which has adopted a comprehensive zoning ordinance under the law of the State of Texas, may by ordinance divide the city into such neighborhood zoning areas after a public hearing in relation thereto, at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard. At least fifteen days notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be published in an official paper or a paper of general circulation in such municipality. The Mayor of such city, with the approval of its legislative body, may thereupon appoint for each of said areas a Neighborhood Advisory Zoning Council, consisting of five citizens residing in the area, who shall hold office for two years or until their successors are appointed and qualify. It shall be the duty of such Neighborhood Advisory Zoning Council to furnish to the Zoning Commission of such city information, advice and recommendations with respect to all applications filed with the Zoning Commission for changes in the zoning regulations of such city affecting property within said area. As soon as any such application is filed with the Zoning Commission of the city, the Zoning Commission shall furnish the Neighborhood Advisory Zoning Council for the area which would be affected by such application if granted with a copy thereof, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Neighborhood Advisory Zoning Council to hold a public hearing in relation thereto, giving at least ten days notice of the time and place of such hearing by publication in an official paper or a paper of general circulation in such municipality, and at or before the hearing on such application before the Zoning Commission it shall be the duty of the Neighborhood Advisory Zoning Council to furnish and submit to the Zoning Commission such information, advice and recommendations with respect to such application as it deems proper. Overruling of any recommendation of the Neighborhood Advisory Zoning Council with respect to the disposition of such application shall require the vote of at least three-fourths (¾) of the members of the Zoning Commission present.

Art. 1011l. Joint Municipal Planning in Certain Areas

Grant of Power to Expend Public Funds

Sec. 1. Each city (including home rule charter cities), town, or village incorporated under the laws of this State, or by special act or charter, is hereby authorized, by ordinance duly passed, to expend public funds from the municipal treasury for compiling statistics, conducting studies and formulating plans relative to the future growth and development of such municipality or municipalities.

Municipalities Subject to Act

Sec. 2. Municipalities located or situated in whole or in part within an area wherein the sphere of zoning influence of each municipality is adjacent or contiguous to the other may contribute, and/or expend, public funds from the municipal treasury, to a joint planning commission for the joint planning of the growth and development of two (2) or more of such municipalities that are located or situated in whole or in part within the sphere of influence of such planning commission.

Joint Planning Commission

Sec. 3. Municipalities affected by this Act shall, if they adopt the provisions hereof, by the governing bodies of each of such municipalities, appoint an equal number of representatives, from each of the municipalities affected hereby, to a joint planning commission, and it shall be the duty of such joint planning commission to meet and determine the sphere of influence of such planning commission which they shall describe by metes and bounds in writing and cause the same to be placed upon a map and the same shall be recorded for record with the county clerk of the county within which such municipalities are located or situated.

Powers and Duties of Commission

Sec. 4. The duties, powers and authorities of such joint planning commission, so appointed by the governing body of such municipalities, shall be as follows, as authorized by ordinances duly passed within each of such municipalities, to wit:

(a). To employ engineers, clerks, secretaries, field personnel, and administrative personnel as are necessary to formulate, prepare, and design an organized master plan for the area as designated.

(b). To prepare, formulate, and design an organized master plan for the area which such members represent, including, but not limited to, highway design, street layout, park layout, schooling areas, residential areas, business areas, commercial areas, industrial areas, and water reservoir areas, for the orderly growth of the area, such plan must be approved by each of the municipalities within the area.

(c). To make aerial photographs, land surveys, and topography studies to facilitate such planning.

(d). To keep and maintain a complete record of all activities, meetings, expenditures, and plans.

(e). To submit regular reports of income, expenditures, accounts, and progress reports to each municipality represented.

(f). All records, minutes, books, accounts and meetings shall be open to the public for attendance and/or examination.

(g). To prepare and submit to each municipality represented an annual audit of all accounts, expenditures, funds and moneys coming into the hands of said joint planning commission.

(h). To make all reports, accounts, and records as may be required by each of the municipalities represented, by ordinance or resolution duly passed.

(i). To perform such duties and functions as may be required by each of the municipalities represented, by ordinance or resolution duly passed where the same is approved by a majority of the governing bodies of such municipalities so represented and where such is not inconsistent with the purposes of this Act.

Authority Cumulative

Sec. 5. The authority granted and conferred in Sections 1 and 2 of this Act is cumulative of all other existing authority of municipalities to expend public funds from the municipal treasury for the purpose or purposes of municipal planning and this Act shall not be construed to limit such authority in any manner.

[Acts 1957, 55th Leg., p. 423, ch. 202.]

Art. 1011m. Regional Planning CommissionsDefinitions

Sec. 1. A. "City" means any incorporated city, town or village in the State of Texas.

B. "Governmental Unit" means any county, city, town, village, authority, district or other political subdivision of the state.

C. "Commission" means a Regional Planning Commission, Council of Governments or similar regional planning agency created under this Act.

D. "Region," "Area," or "Regional" means a geographic area consisting of a county or two or more adjoining counties which have common problems of transportation, water supply, drainage or land use, similar, common or interrelated forms of urban development or concentration, or special problems of agriculture, forestry, conservation or other matters, or any combination thereof. It is the intention of this Act to permit the greatest possible flexibility among the various participating governmental units to organize and establish Commissions most suitable to the nature of the area problems as they see them.

E. "Comprehensive Development Planning Process" means the process of (1) assessing the needs and resources of an area; (2) formulating goals, objectives, policies and standards to guide its long-range physical, economic, and human resource development; and (3) preparing plans and programs therefor which (a) identify alternative courses of action and the special and functional relationships among the activities to be carried out thereunder, (b) specify the appropriate ordering in time of such activities, (c) take into account other relevant factors affecting the achievement of the desired development of the area, (d) provide an overall framework and guide for the preparation of function and project development plans, (e) make recommendations for long-range programming and financing of capital projects and facilities which are of mutual concern to two or more member governments, and (f) make such other recommendations as may be deemed appropriate.

F. "General purpose governmental unit" means a county or incorporated municipality.

Objectives

Sec. 2. The purpose of this Act is to encourage and permit local units of government to join and cooperate with one another to improve the health, safety and general welfare of their citizens; to plan for the future development of communities, areas, and regions to the end that transportation systems may be more carefully planned; that communities, areas, and regions grow with adequate street, utility, health, educational, recreational, and other essential facilities; that needs of agriculture, business, and industry be recognized; that residential areas provide healthy surroundings for family life; that historical and cultural value be preserved; and that the growth of the communities, areas, and regions is commensurate with and promotive of the efficient and economical use of public funds.

Creation

Sec. 3. (a) Any two or more general purpose governmental units may join in the exercise, performance, and cooperation of planning, powers, duties, and functions as provided by law for any or all such governmental units. When two or more such governmental units agree, by ordinance, resolution, rule, order, or other means, to cooperate in regional planning, they may establish a Regional Planning Commission. But nothing in this Act shall be construed to limit the powers of the participating governmental units as provided by existing law. The participating governmental units, by appropriate mutual agreement, may establish a Regional Planning Commission for a region designated in such agreement, provided that such region shall consist of territory under their respective jurisdictions, including extraterritorial jurisdiction.

(b) The geographic boundaries of Commissions established under this Act must be consistent with State Planning Regions or Subregions as delineated by the Governor and subject to review and modification at the end of each State biennium.

Powers

Sec. 4. (a) Under this Act, a Regional Planning Commission shall be a political subdivision of this State, the general purpose of which is to make studies and plans to guide the unified, far-reaching development of the area, to eliminate duplication, and to promote economy and efficiency in the coordinated development of the area. The Commission may make plans for the development of the area which may include recommendations on major thoroughfares, streets, traffic and transportation studies, bridges, airports, parks, recreation sites, school sites, public utilities, land use, water supply, sanitation facilities, drainage, public buildings, population density, open spaces, and other items relating to the effectuation of the general purpose.

(b) The plans and recommendations of the Commission may be adopted in whole or in part by the respective governing bodies of the cooperating governmental units. The Commission may assist the participating governmental units individually or collectively in carrying out plans or recommendations developed by the Commission. The Commission may assist any participating governmental unit individually in the preparation or effectuation of local planning consistent with the general purposes of this Act.

(c) The Commission may contract with one or more of its member governments to perform any service which that government could, by contract, have any private organization without governmental powers perform, provided that such contract imposes no cost or obligation upon any member government not signatory thereto.

(d) A Commission may purchase, lease or otherwise acquire, hold, sell or otherwise dispose of real and personal property. It may employ such staff, and consult with and retain such experts as it deems necessary. It may provide for retirement benefits for its employees by means of a jointly contributory retirement plan with an agency, firm, or corporation authorized to do business in this State. A Commission may participate in the Texas Municipal Retirement System, the State Employees Retirement System or the City, County, and District Retirement System when such established systems by legislation or administrative arrangement make such participation permissible.

(e) Agencies of the State government and of governmental units are authorized to detail or loan employees to a Commission on either a reimbursable or nonreimbursable basis as may be mutually agreed by the State agency or governmental unit and the Commission. During the period of loan or detail the person will continue to be an employee of the lending agency or unit for purposes of salary, leave, retirement and other personnel benefits but will work under the direction and supervision of the Commission. A loan or detail made pursuant to this section shall expire at the mutual consent of the loaning or detailing agency or governmental unit and the Commission.

(f) In each State Planning Region or Subregion in which a Commission has been organized, the governing body of each governmental unit within the Region or Subregion, whether or not such unit is a member of the Commission, shall submit to the Commission for review and comment any application for loans or grants-in-aid from agencies of the federal government (for a project for which the federal government at the time is requiring the review and comment of an areawide planning agency) or agencies of the State of Texas before such application is filed with the federal or State government. For federally-aided projects for which an areawide review is required by federal law or regulation, the Commission shall review such application from the standpoint of consistency with regional plans and such other considerations as may be specified in federal or State regulations and shall enter its comments upon the application, returning same to the originating governmental unit.

(g) With respect to other federally-aided projects and to State-aided projects, the Commission shall advise the governmental unit as to whether or not the proposed project for which funds are requested has region wide significance. If it does not have region wide significance, the Commission shall certify that it is not in conflict with the regional plan or policies. If it does have region wide significance, the Commission shall determine whether or not it is in conflict with the regional plan or policies. In making such determination, it may also consider whether the proposed project is properly coordinated with other existing or proposed projects within the region. The Commission shall thereupon record upon the application its views and comments and transmit the application to the originating governmental unit, with a copy to the federal or State agency concerned.

(h) The Governor shall issue guidelines to Commissions and governmental units to carry out the provisions of this Act relating to review and comment procedures.

(i) The Governor and agencies of the State shall provide such technical information and assistance to members of Commissions and their staffs as will increase to the greatest extent feasible the capabilities of such Commissions in discharging the various duties and responsibilities set forth in this Act.

Operations

Sec. 5. The cooperating governmental units may through joint agreement determine the number and qualifications of the governing body of the Commission. The governing body of the Commission shall consist of at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66 $\frac{2}{3}$ %) elected officials of general purpose governmental units. The joint agreement may provide for the manner of cooperation and the means and methods of the operation of the Commission. The joint agreement may provide a method for the employment of the staff and consultants, the apportionment of the cost and expenses, and the purchase of property and materials. The joint agreement may allow for the addition of other governmental units to the cooperative arrangement.

Provision of Legal Services

Sec. 5A. (a) A person who provides legal services to a Regional Planning Commission and/or who is a member of the governing body of a Regional Planning Commission may not:

(1) provide legal representation before or to such Regional Planning Commission on behalf of a governmental unit any part of which is located within the boundaries of the Regional Planning Commission; or

(2) be a shareholder, partner, or employee of a law firm that provides such legal services to the governmental unit.

(b) A person who violates Subsection (a) of this section may not receive any compensation or reimbursement for expenses from the Regional Planning Commission or governmental unit.

Funds

Sec. 6. (a) A Regional Planning Commission is authorized to apply for, contract for, receive and expend for its purposes any funds or grants from any participating governmental unit or from the State of Texas, federal government, or any other source.

(b) The Commission shall have no power to levy any character of tax whatever. The participating governmental units may appropriate funds to the Commission for the cost and expenses required in the performance of its purposes.

(c) A Commission which meets the conditions set forth below shall be annually eligible for a maximum amount of State financial assistance based on the formula: Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) base grant to each certified organization, plus an additional One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) per dues paying member county, plus an additional ten cents ($.10) per capita for all population served of dues paying member counties and incorporated municipalities. The minimum amount of annual State financial assistance for which a Commission shall apply shall be Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000.00).

(d) A Commission to qualify for State financial assistance must have an amount of funds available annually from sources other than federal or state governments equal to or greater than one-half of the State financial assistance amount for which the Commission applies.

(e) In order to be eligible for State financial assistance, a Commission shall comply with the regulations of the agency responsible for administering this Act and shall:

(1) Offer membership in the Commission to all general purpose governments (counties and incorporated municipalities) included in the State Planning Region or Subregion;

(2) Be composed of two or more general purpose governments having a combined population equal to not less than sixty percent (60%) of the total population of the State Planning Region or Subregion, and for purposes of this Act the population of the county shall be the population outside any dues paying member incorporated municipality;

(3) Encompass a geographical area that is economically and geographically interrelated and which forms a logical planning area or region and includes at least one full county;

(4) Be engaged in a comprehensive development planning process.

Interstate Commissions

Sec. 7. With advance approval of the Governor, a Commission including a region or area which is contiguous to an area lying in another state may join with any similar commission or planning agency in such areas to form an interstate Regional Planning Commission or may permit the Commission in the contiguous area to participate in the planning functions of a Commission formed pursuant to this Act, and the funds provided under the provisions of Section 6 of this Act may be commingled with the funds provided by the state governments having jurisdiction over the contiguous areas.

International Areas

Sec. 8. With advance approval of the governor, a Commission in a region or area contiguous to areas in the Republic of Mexico may expend the funds available under the provisions of Section 6 of this Act in cooperation with agencies of the Republic of Mexico or its constituent states or local governments for planning studies encompassing areas lying both in this state and in contiguous territory of the Republic of Mexico.

Dissolution

Sec. 9. Unless it has been agreed to the contrary, any participating governmental unit may, by a majority vote of its membership qualified in serving, withdraw from its participation in any Regional Planning Commission.

Art. 1012. Style of Ordinances

The style of all ordinances shall be "Be it ordained by the city council of the city of _____" (inserting the name of the city); but it may be omitted when published in the form of a book or pamphlet.

Art. 1013. Publication of Ordinances

(1) Every ordinance imposing any penalty, fine or forfeiture shall, after the passage thereof, be published in every issue of the official paper for ten (10) days. If the official paper be published weekly, the publication shall be made in one issue thereof. Proof of such publication shall be made by the printer or publisher of such paper by affidavit filed with the city secretary, and shall be prima-facie evidence of such publication and promulgation of such ordinances in all courts of the State. Such ordinances shall take effect and be in force from and after the publication thereof, unless otherwise expressly provided. Ordinances not required to be published shall take effect from their passage, unless otherwise provided.

(2) In lieu of the publication required in Section (1) of this Article, the governing body may in its discretion provide for the publication of a descriptive caption or title, stating in summary the purpose of the ordinance and the penalty for violation thereof.

(3) Any town or city desiring to publish its ordinances in pamphlets or book form need not republish such ordinances as have been previously published. All such ordinances, where printed and published by authority of the city council, shall be admitted and received in all courts without further proof.

Art. 1014. May Remit Fines

The city or town council shall have power to remit in whole or in part by a vote of two-thirds of the members present, any fine or penalty belonging to the city, which may be imposed or incurred under this title, or under any ordinance or resolution passed in pursuance thereof.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1015. Other Powers

The governing body shall also have power:

1. Promotion of health.—To do all acts and make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the promotion of health or the suppression of disease.

2. Quarantine regulations.—To make regulations to prevent the introduction of contagious disease into the city; to make quarantine laws for that purpose, and to enforce them within the city and within ten miles thereof.

3. Joint sanitary regulations.—To co-operate with the commissioners' court of the county in which the municipality is situated in making such improvements as may, by it and said court, be deemed necessary to improve the public health and promote efficient sanitary regulations, and to arrange for the construction of, and payment for, said improvements.

4. Hospitals.—To erect or establish one or more hospitals, and control and regulate the same, and to prohibit or to permit and regulate the establishment of private hospitals.

5. Food inspection, etc.—To regulate the inspection of beef, pork, flour, meal, salt and other provisions; to appoint weighers, gaugers and inspectors, and to prescribe their duties and regulate their fees.

6. Sale of bread.—To regulate the weight and quality of the bread to be sold or used within the city.

7. Butchers.—To make such rules and regulations in relation to butchers as they may deem necessary and proper.

8. Unclean establishments.—To compel the owner or occupant of any grocery, soap, tallow, or chandler establishment, or blacksmith shop, tannery, stable, slaughterhouse, sewers, privy, hide house or other unwholesome or nauseous house or place, to cleanse, remove or abate the same, as may be necessary for the health, comfort and convenience of the inhabitants.

9. Location of establishment.—To direct the location of business, tanneries, blacksmith shops, foundries, livery stables and any manufacturing establishments; to direct the location and regulate the management and construction of, restrain, abate and prohibit within the city limits, slaughtering establishments and hide houses or establishments for making soap, for steaming or rendering lard, tallow, offal and such other substances as may be rendered; and all other establishments or places where any nauseous, offensive or unwholesome business may be carried on.

10. Drains, sinks, etc.—To require the owner of private drains, sinks and privies to fill up, cleanse, drain, alter, relay, repair, fix or improve the same as may be ordered by any resolution or ordinance of said city; and in the event of any failure, neglect or refusal to comply with any such order, the party so failing shall be liable to fine. In the event of there being no person in the city on whom such order can be served, the city may have such work done and such improvements made on account of the owner thereof. All costs, charges and expenses shall be a lien on the property, on the filing of a memorandum by the mayor, under the seal of the corporation thereof, and recording the same with the clerk of the district court. The city may enforce said lien and institute suit in the corporate name and obtain judgment against said party for the amount so due as aforesaid in any court having jurisdiction.

11. Nuisances.—To abate and remove nuisances and to punish the authors thereof by fine, and to define and declare what shall be nuisances and authorize and direct the summary abatement thereof; and to abate all nuisances which may injure or affect the public health or comfort in any manner they may deem expedient.

12. Dead animals, etc.—To prevent any person from bringing, depositing or having within the limits of said city any dead carcass, or other offensive or unwholesome substance or matter, and to require the removal or destruction by any person who shall have placed or caused to be placed upon or near his premises, or elsewhere, of any substance or matter, filth, or any putrid or unsound beef, pork or fish, hides or skins of any kind; and, on his default, to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city, and to require the owner of any dead animal to remove the same to such place as may be designated.

13. Burial of dead, etc.—To regulate the burial of the dead; to purchase, establish and regulate one or more cemeteries; to regulate the registration of marriages; and to direct the returning and keeping of bills of mortality.

14. Driving animals in city.—To prevent, regulate and control the driving of cattle, horses and other animals into or through the city.

15. Dogs.—To tax, regulate or restrain and prohibit the running at large of dogs and to authorize their destruction when at large contrary to ordinances, and to impose penalties for violation of such ordinances.

16. Pounds.—To establish and regulate public pounds, and to regulate, restrain and prohibit the running at large of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, swine, and goats, and to authorize the distraining, impounding and sale of the same for the costs of the proceedings and the penalty incurred, and to order their destruction when they cannot be sold and to impose penalties on the owners thereof for the violation of any ordinance.

17. Breeding animals.—To pass necessary ordinances to prevent any person, corporation or association of individuals from keeping for breeding purposes a jack, bull or stallion within the corporate limits of such city or town.

18. Control of police.—To create, establish and regulate the police of the city; to appoint watchmen and policemen, and to prescribe their duties and powers and compensation.

19. Workhouses.—To erect and establish one or more workhouses or houses of correction, within or without the city limits, make all necessary rules and regulations therefor, and appoint all necessary keepers or assistants. In such workhouse or house of correction may be confined all vagrants and disorderly persons, who may be committed by the mayor or recorder, and any person who shall fail or refuse to pay the fine or costs imposed for any offense may, instead of being committed to jail, be kept therein.

20. Breach of peace, etc.—To prevent all trespasses, breaches of the peace and good order, assaults and batteries, fighting, quarreling, using abusive, obscene, profane or insulting language and all disorderly conduct, and punish all persons thus offending.

21. Public disturbances.—To suppress and prevent any riot, affray, noise, disturbance or disorderly assembly in any public or private place within the city.

22. Noises and annoyances.—To prohibit and restrain the firing of firecrackers, guns and pistols, use of velocipedes, or use of any pyrotechnic or any other amusements or practices tending to annoy persons passing in the streets or sidewalks, or to frighten horses or teams; to restrain and prohibit the ringing of bells, blowing of horns and bugles, crying of goods, and all other noises, practices and performances tending to the collection of persons on the streets and sidewalks, by auctioneers and others, for the purpose of business, amusement or otherwise.

23. Obstructions on public ways, etc.—To prevent the incumbering of the streets, alleys, sidewalks, and public grounds, with any vehicle whatsoever, boxes, lumber, posts, awnings, signs, or any other substance or material whatever, to compel persons to keep all weeds, filth or any kind of rubbish from the sidewalks and streets and gutters in front of their premises, and to compel the owners of property to fill up, grade, gravel and otherwise improve the sidewalks in front of same.

24. Dangerous buildings, etc.—To order, whenever in the opinion of the city council, any building, fence, shed, awning or any erection of any kind or any part thereof is liable to fall down and endanger persons or property, any owner or agent of the same, or any owner or occupant of the premises on which such building, shed, awning or other erection stands or to which it is attached, to take down and remove the same, or any part thereof, within such time as they may direct; and to punish by fine and imprisonment, or either, any neglect, failure or refusal to comply therewith. The city council shall have power to remove the same at the expense of the city, on account of the owner of the property or premises, and assess the expenses on the land on which it stood or to which it was attached, and shall, by ordinance, provide for such assessment, the mode and manner of giving notice and the means of recovering any such expenses.

25. Bridges, sewers, etc.—To establish, erect, construct, regulate and keep in repair, bridges, culverts, and sewers, sidewalks and crossways, and to regulate the construction and use of the same, and to abate any obstructions or encroachments thereon; and the cost of construction of sidewalks shall be defrayed by the owner of the lot, or part of lot or block, fronting on the sidewalk. The cost of any sidewalk constructed by the city shall be collected, if necessary, by the sale of the lot, or part of lot or block on which it fronts, together with the cost of collection, in such manner as the city council may by ordinance provide. A sale of any lot or part of lot or block to enforce collection of costs of sidewalks shall convey a good title to the purchaser. The balance of proceeds of such sale, after paying the amount due the city and costs of sale, shall be paid to the owner.

26. Street railways.—To compel street railway companies to keep their roads in repair, and to make them conform to the grades of the streets upon which their tracks may be laid, whenever said streets shall have been graded by the city, and to restrain the rate of speed and to compel such railroads to supply ample accommodation for the safe and convenient travel of the people on the street where their track may run. The city council may enforce these regulations by proper ordinances with suitable penalties.

27. Railway companies.—To direct and control the laying and constructing of railroad tracks, turnouts and switches, or prohibit the same in the streets, avenues and alleys, unless the same have been authorized by law, and the location of depots within the city; to require that railroad tracks, turnouts and switches shall be so constructed as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of streets, avenues and alleys and that sufficient space shall be left on either side of a track for the safe and convenient passage of teams, carriages and other vehicles, and persons; to require railroad companies to keep in repair the streets, avenues or alleys through which their track may run, and, if ordered by the city council, to construct and keep in repair, suitable crossings at the intersection of streets, avenues and alleys, and ditches, sewers and culverts, when the city council shall deem it necessary; to direct the use and regulate the speed of locomotive engines in said city, or to prevent and prohibit the use or running of the same within the city.

28. Unsafe driving.—To prevent, prohibit and suppress horseracing, immoderate riding or driving in the streets; to compel persons to fasten their horses or other animals attached to vehicles, or otherwise, while standing or remaining in the streets.

29. Light and gas.—To provide for lighting the streets and erecting lamp posts therein, and regulating the lighting thereof, and from time to time create, alter or extend lamp districts, to exclusively regulate, direct and control the laying and repairing of the gas pipes and gas fixtures in the streets, alleys, sidewalks and elsewhere.

30. Water system.—To provide, or cause to be provided, the city with water; to make, regulate and establish public wells, pumps and cisterns, hydrants and reservoirs in the streets or elsewhere within said city or beyond the limits thereof, for the extinguishment of fires and the convenience of the inhabitants, and to prevent the unnecessary waste of water. Any city or town owning, or that may hereafter own, its water system and plant, shall not lease or sell the same without first submitting the question of such proposed lease or sale to a vote of the qualified voters who are property taxpayers of such town or city as shown by the last preceding tax rolls, at a general election, or at one held for that especial purpose, nor unless a majority of those voting shall vote in favor thereof. Before submitting such question to a vote as aforesaid, the proposed contract of lease or sale shall be distinctly set forth in the form of an ordinance or contract, and shall be filed with the city or town secretary or clerk at least twenty days prior to the day of the election, and shall at all times be subject to inspection by the people of such city.

31. Market house.—To establish or erect, or cause to be established or erected, markets and market houses; designate, control and regulate market places and privileges; inspect and determine the mode of inspecting meat, fish, vegetables and all produce and every article and thing therein brought for sale.

32. Parks, etc.—To provide for inclosing, regulating and improving all public grounds and cemeteries belonging to the city, and to direct and regulate the planting and preserving of ornaments and shade trees in the streets, sidewalks or public grounds.

33. Libraries.—To establish a free library in such city or town; to adopt rules and regulations for the proper management thereof, and to appropriate such part of the revenues of such city or town for the management and increase of such free library as the municipal government of such city or town may determine.

34. Street car taxes.—To assess and collect the ordinary municipal taxes upon street railways.

35. Trade taxes.—To tax all trades, professions, occupations and callings, the taxing of which is not prohibited by the Constitution of this State; which tax shall not be construed to be a tax on property.

36. Chauffeurs, porters, etc.—To license, tax and regulate hackmen, draymen, omnibus drivers and drivers of baggage wagons, porters, and all others pursuing like occupations, with or without vehicles, and prescribe their compensation, and provide for their protection and make it a misdemeanor to attempt to defraud them of any legal charge for services rendered, and to regulate, license and restrain runners for railroads, stages and public houses.

37. Peddlers, theaters, etc.—To license, tax and regulate or suppress and prevent hawkers, peddlers, pawnbrokers and keepers¹ or other exhibitions, shows and amusements.

38. Circuses, etc.—To license, tax or regulate theaters, circuses, the exhibitions of common showmen, shows of any kind, and the exhibition of natural and artificial curiosities, caravans, menageries and musical exhibitions and performances.

39. Licenses and fees.—To authorize the proper officer of the city to grant and issue licenses, and to direct the manner of issuing and registering thereof, and the fees to be paid therefor. No license shall be issued for a longer period than one year, and shall not be assignable except by permission of the city council.

40. Finances and property.—To manage and control the finances and all property, real and personal and mixed, belonging to the corporation.

41. Appropriations.—To appropriate money, and provide for the payment of debts and expenses of the city.

42. Special funds.—To provide by ordinance special funds for special purposes, and to make the same disbursable only for the purpose for which the fund was created. Any officer of the city misappropriating said special fund shall be deemed guilty of malfeasance in office, and shall, on complaint of any one interested in said funds misappropriated, be removed from office, and be incapable thereafter to hold any office in said city.

43. Improvements.—To appropriate so much of the revenues of the city emanating from whatever source, for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city, and for the purpose of improving the public markets and streets, erecting and conducting city hospitals, city hall, waterworks, and so forth, as they may from time to time deem expedient; and in furtherance of these objects, to borrow money upon the credit of the city.

Art. 1015a. Condemnation of Lands for Parks

In case of the condemnation of land for laying out, establishing or enlarging any parks, parkways or pleasure grounds by any city in Texas which now has or may hereafter have a population of 12,000 or more inhabitants, the governing body of said city may, by ordinance, provide that the cost of such land and improvements shall be paid for, wholly or in part to an extent not exceeding the special benefits received by the property owners owning property in the vicinity thereof and benefited thereby, and may fix liens against said property so benefited to the extent same is specially benefited, provided, however, no assessments nor liens shall hold against homestead property so designated under existing laws and the procedure for and manner of assessing and collecting said benefits against and from said property owners and their said property shall be the same as that authorized by law in such city in which such proceedings are had in connection with the opening or widening of streets. Such assessments may be made payable in not exceeding sixteen (16) installments, the last maturing in not over fifteen (15) years, and may bear interest at not more than eight per cent (8%) per annum.

Art. 1015b. Repealed by Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 362, ch. 131, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.

Art. 1015c. Parks and Recreation Projects

Purchase and Encumbrance

Sec. 1. All cities and towns, including Home Rule cities, in the State of Texas, shall have power to build and purchase, to mortgage and encumber any of the hereinafter named project and/or projects, to wit: parks and/or swimming pools, golf courses, golf course club houses, ball parks, fairgrounds, exposition buildings, airports, and the land upon which the same are situated, either or all, and the income therefrom and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired and to evidence the obligation therefor by the issuance of bonds, notes or warrants, and to secure the payment of funds to purchase same or funds with which to construct and equip the same; and as additional security therefor, by the terms of such encumbrance, may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder, a franchise to operate the projects herein enumerated and properties so purchased for a term of not over twenty (20) years after purchase, subject to all laws regulating same then in force. No such obligation of any such project and/or projects shall ever be a debt of said city or town, but solely a charge upon the properties of the project and/or projects so encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of any such city or town to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Election to Authorize Sale

Sec. 2. None of the projects named in Section 1 of this Act, nor the land upon which the same are situated, shall ever be sold until such sale is authorized by a majority vote of the qualified voters of such city or town; nor shall the same be encumbered for more than Five Thousand Dollars ($5000), except for purchase money, or funds with which to construct and equip the same or to refund any existing indebtedness lawfully created, until authorized in like manner. Such vote in either case shall be ascertained at an election, which election shall be held and notice thereof given as is provided in the case of the issuance of municipal bonds by such cities and towns, provided that no election shall be necessary for the encumbering of golf courses, golf course club houses, fairgrounds, airports and exposition buildings and the land upon which the same are situated, where encumbrances of any such project and/or projects has or have already been authorized at the time of the passage of this Act by a majority vote of the qualified voters at an election held for such purpose.

Validation of Bonds or Warrants

Sec. 3. All proceedings heretofore had by the governing bodies of all cities and towns, including Home Rule cities, in the State of Texas in the issuance and sale of bonds, notes and warrants or other obligations to aid in financing any of such project and/or projects for which a loan or grant has been made or applied for the United States through the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works or any agency, department or division of the Government of the United States of America are herein in all things fully validated, confirmed, approved and legalized, and all such bonds, notes or warrants or other obligations issued thereunder are hereby declared to be the valid and binding obligation of said cities or towns and all such bonds, notes or warrants or other obligations which have been heretofore authorized but not yet issued, shall, when delivered and paid for, constitute valid and binding obligations of such cities or towns, and any election heretofore held in such cities and towns, including Home Rule cities, in which the qualified votes of any such city or town have authorized the mortgage or encumbrance of any such project and/or projects named in this Act and the ground on which the same was to be erected, is hereby in all things fully validated, ratified, confirmed, approved, and legalized.

Records and Accounts; Penalty

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the mayor of such cities or towns to install and maintain, or cause to be installed and maintained, a complete system of records and accounts showing the free service rendered, and the value thereof, and showing separately the amounts expended and/or set aside for operation, salaries, labor, materials, repairs, maintenance, depreciation, replacements, extensions, interest and the creation of a sinking fund to pay off such bonds and indebtedness.

It shall likewise be the duty of the superintendent or manager of such project and/or projects to file with the mayor of such cities or towns, not later than February 1st, a detailed report of the operations of such project and/or projects for the year ending January 1st preceding, showing the total sum of money collected and the balance due, as well as the total disbursements made and the amounts remaining unpaid as the result of operation of such project and/or projects during such calendar year.

Failure or refusal on the part of the mayor to install and maintain, or cause to be installed and maintained, such system of records and accounts within ninety (90) days after the completion of such project and/or projects, or on the part of such superintendent or manager, to file or cause to be filed such report, shall constitute a misdemeanor and, on conviction thereof, such mayor or superintendent or manager shall be subject to a fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100), nor more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000); and any taxpayer residing within such city or town, or holder of such indebtedness, shall have the right, by appropriate civil action in the District Court of the county in which such city or town is located, to enforce the provisions of this Act.

Art. 1015c-1. Recreational Programs and Facilities; Establishment by Counties, Cities and Towns, Jointly or Singly, Authorized

Purpose

Sec. 1. The purpose of this Act is to promote the establishment, operation and support of public recreational facilities and programs by local government units of this State either singly or jointly.

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this Act:

(a) The term "governing body" means any city council, city commission, county commissioners court, or other body acting in lieu thereof.

(b) The term "governmental unit" means any city, town, or county.

(c) The term "board" means any board, commission, committee or council appointed or designated to carry out the provisions of this Act.

Recreational Powers

Sec. 3. Any governmental unit may establish, provide, acquire, maintain, construct, equip, operate, and supervise recreational facilities and programs, either singly or jointly in cooperation with one (1) or more other governmental units.

Elections

Sec. 4. Any governmental unit may submit the question of whether it shall exercise the powers conferred in Section 3 to an election of the qualified electors of such unit.

Finances

Sec. 5. Any governmental unit may pay costs and expenses of carrying out the provisions of this Act from the general revenues of the unit, or from other revenues now provided by law for the establishment or the operation of parks and recreational facilities. Governmental units jointly exercising the powers conferred in Section 3 may agree upon the manner and method of division of costs and expenses.

Administration

Sec. 6. A governing body may administer and operate recreational facilities and programs through a bureau or department of recreation or through a board established jointly with another governing body. The Board shall adopt and promulgate rules and regulations for administration and operation of recreational facilities and programs in its charge subject to the approval of the establishing governing bodies.

Acceptance of Gifts

Sec. 7. Any governmental unit may accept any grant, lease, loan or devise of real estate, or gift or bequest of money, either principal or income, or any other personal property for either temporary or permanent use for the establishment, operation, or support of public recreation facilities and programs.

Limitations

Sec. 8. This Act shall be cumulative as to all laws, ordinances, and charter provisions relating to public recreation and parks.

[Acts 1955, 54th Leg., p. 1179, ch. 458.]

Art. 1015c-2. Swimming Pools

Power of Cities; Obligations as Debts of Cities or Towns

Sec. 1. All cities and towns, including Home Rule Cities, operating under Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes, 1925, as amended,¹ shall have the power to build, purchase, improve, enlarge and repair, to mortgage and encumber their swimming pools and the gross income and revenues thereof, either or both, and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired, and to evidence the obligation thereof by the issuance of its revenue bonds. No such obligation shall ever be a debt of such city or town, but shall be solely a charge upon the properties or income so encumbered, and such bonds shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city or town to issue bonds for any other purpose authorized by law.

Bond Issues

Sec. 2. Except as modified by the provisions of this Act, the issuance of bonds, additional bonds or refunding bonds shall be governed by the provisions of Chapter 10 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ which Chapter is hereby made applicable to the bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this Act.

Examination and Approval of Bonds; Registration

Sec. 3. Prior to delivery thereof, all bonds authorized to be issued hereunder and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for examination, and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with the Constitution and this Act, and that they will be binding special obligations of the city or town authorizing their issuance, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and after such approval and registration they shall be incontestable.

Bonds Eligible for Investment and to Secure Deposits

Sec. 4. Such bonds shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments of banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political subdivisions of the State of Texas, and for all public funds of the State of Texas or its agencies including the State Permanent School Fund. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure deposit of public funds of the State of Texas and public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts or other political subdivisions or corporations of the State of Texas, and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their value when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect of Law

Sec. 5. This Act is cumulative of all other Acts on the subject and shall not repeal or affect any other law or part of law relating to such subject unless they are expressly inconsistent and then only to the extent of such inconsistency. It is expressly provided that all existing laws relating to the issuance of revenue bonds by cities and towns, including but not limited to those found in Chapter 10,

Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, shall remain unimpaired by the provisions of this Act.

Art. 1015d. Acquisition of Gas Systems and Distribution of Gas by Cities

Sec. 1. Any city (or), town, or village, whether created by general or special law, including cities operating under the Home Rule Amendment to the State Constitution, which is served neither by an artificial gas distribution system nor by a natural gas distribution system, privately owned or owned by said city, may acquire either by purchase, construction, or otherwise a system designed to prepare, to make available, and to distribute to the inhabitants of the city who may subscribe for such service, artificial gas useful for fuel and lighting purposes, manufactured and compounded substantially in the following manner: liquefied butane, a by-product obtained in the manufacture of gasoline from natural gas, is mixed with a proper proportion of propane, resulting in a liquefied gas capable of being transported in tank cars or otherwise to storage tanks, whence it may be drawn and mixed by automatically controlled mixing machines and released into gas storage tanks, said mixture then being suitable for distribution in mains and laterals to consumers, or manufactured and compounded in any other manner which will result in making available for distribution in mains and laterals, an economically useful gas for domestic and commercial fuel and lighting uses.

Sec. 2. The provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, inclusive, of Revised Civil Statutes of 1925 with all amendments thereto are hereby adopted by reference as prescribing the procedure to be used by such cities and towns in acquiring such gas systems, and in making and evidencing their obligations to pay for same out of revenues pledged for the purpose, in encumbering said systems, in operating said systems and in reference to the enforcement of such obligations to the extent that such provisions are not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, as fully as if all of said provisions were copied herein, including that provision that every contract, note or other evidence of indebtedness issued or under this law shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Sec. 3. In letting contracts for construction of such systems and in providing for the issuance of revenue bonds, notes or warrants under authority of this Act, the applicable provisions of Chapter 163, Acts of the Regular Session of the Forth-second Legislature,¹ known as "The Bond and Warrant Law of 1931" are hereby adopted as the procedure to be followed under this Act insofar as said provisions have reference to revenue bonds, notes and warrants.

Sec. 4. This Act shall be cumulative of all existing laws and the powers herein conferred shall be considered as in addition to powers now possessed by cities of the class included in this Act.

Art. 1015e. Licensing Dealers in Motor Vehicles or Accessories

Sec. 1. The power and authority is hereby conferred upon all cities and towns of Texas, whether incorporated under general or special law, to provide suitable ordinance, for the regulation, supervision, control and licensing of all persons, firms or corporations engaged, primarily or incidentally, in the sale, barter or exchange of motor vehicles, or parts thereof or accessories thereto within the corporate limits of such city, and to fix penalties for the violation thereof; provided that all sums of money collected from such dealers shall be used by the city for the enforcement hereof, and for the enforcement of all provisions of the law regulating the sale, theft or exchange of motor vehicles or parts, or accessories thereto and for no other purpose.

Sec. 2. In case any section, subdivision, paragraph, or sentence of this Act is declared unconstitutional the validity of the remainder of this Act shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 1015f. Motor Vehicles, Regulation of Operation by Cities of 230,000 to 232,000 Inhabitants

Ordinances Authorized

Sec. 1. All Cities and Towns in the State of Texas, whether incorporated under General or Special Law, including Home Rule Cities, having a population in excess of 230,000 and not exceeding 232,000 inhabitants, according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, shall have and they are hereby given the power and authority to pass an ordinance or ordinances:

(a) Requiring all residents of said City, including corporations having their principal office or place of business in said City, owning a motor vehicle used for the transportation of persons or property, to have each and every such motor vehicle tested and inspected and to comply with such requirements, as may be imposed by said ordinance, not more than four times in each calendar year;

(b) Requiring that other and additional tests and inspections may be required of all such motor vehicles involved in any wreck, collision, or accident before the same may be operated on the streets, alleys, or other public thoroughfares of said City after said wreck, collision, or accident;

(c) Requiring as a condition precedent to the right to use the streets, alleys, or other public thoroughfares of said City that such motor vehicles operated thereupon shall have been tested and inspected, shall have been approved by said testing and inspecting authorities, including the State Highway Patrol, and shall have complied with all provisions of said ordinance;

(d) Authorizing City Patrolmen and State Highway Patrolmen in uniform to stop without warrant such drivers of motor vehicles as may fail to comply with said ordinance and issue to the violators such traffic violation tickets as may be provided under said ordinance;

(e) Providing a penalty subject to the limitations of Article 1011 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas for the violation of any of the terms of said ordinance.

Testing Stations

Sec. 2. Said Cities shall be and they are hereby authorized to acquire, establish, erect, equip, improve, enlarge, repair, operate, and maintain motor vehicle testing stations and to pay for the same out of the fees charged for testing and inspecting said motor vehicles.

Fees for Testing and Inspecting Vehicles

Sec. 3. Said Cities shall have and they are hereby given power and authority to prescribe and collect a fee, not to exceed One ($1.00) Dollar per year per vehicle, for the testing and inspecting of each such motor vehicle. All fees so collected to be placed in a separate fund, out of which costs and expenses in connection with, or growing out of the acquisition, establishment, erection, equipping, improvement, enlargement, repairing, operating, and maintaining said testing stations, and automotive and Safety Education programs, may be paid.

Financing Purchase of Testing Stations

Sec. 4. Said Cities shall have and they are hereby given power and authority to pay for such testing stations and the equipping, maintaining, and operating thereof out of past or future earnings of said stations, and may mortgage and encumber said stations and everything pertaining thereto acquired, to secure the payment of funds to construct the same or any part thereof, or to erect, equip, improve, enlarge, repair, operate, or maintain said stations. No such mortgage or encumbrance shall ever be a debt of such City, but solely a charge upon the properties so mortgaged or encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such City to issue bonds for any purpose authorized by law. Said Cities may borrow money and issue warrants to finance in whole or in part the cost of the acquisition, erection, equipping, improvement, enlargement, or repair of said stations and to pledge for the punctual payment of said warrants and interest thereon all or any part of the fees or other receipts derived from the operation of such stations.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 5. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid or unconstitutional, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the Act, and the Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed such remaining portions despite such invalidity or unconstitutionality.

Not Applicable to Vehicles Operating Under Certificate from Railroad Commission

Sec. 5a. Nothing herein or in any ordinance passed pursuant hereto shall apply to motor vehicles, trailers, or semitrailers operated under a certificate or permit from the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Art. 1015g. Toll Bridges Over International Boundary Rivers, Powers RespectingAcquisition

Sec. 1. Any city or town in this State now or hereafter incorporated under the General Laws of the State, or incorporated and acting under its Special Charter or Home Rule Charter, and having located within its corporate limits or outside its corporate limits but within a distance of fifteen (15) miles from such corporate limits thereof, a toll bridge over a river between the State of Texas and the Republic of Mexico shall have power to acquire any such toll bridge, with its rights and franchises and appurtenant properties, by purchase thereof from the owner or owners thereof; either by purchase of the properties, as such, or, if such toll bridge is owned by a private corporation, either by purchase from it of the properties, as such, or by purchasing the capital stock of such corporation from the owner or owners of such stock, either all of the outstanding capital stock of such corporation or a sufficient amount thereof as required under the law for the dissolution and liquidation of such corporation, and immediately liquidating such corporation, paying the debts and obligations or liabilities thereof, and winding up its business and affairs, and causing conveyance of its properties to said city or town, taking the Title to such stock either in the name of such city or town or in the name of a trustee therefor, and voting or causing such stock to be voted to carry out and accomplish such purposes, and all in such manner and to such effect as to vest title to such toll bridge, with its right and franchises and appurtenant properties, in such city or town; and to thus purchase and acquire any such properties or stock of such corporation, from the owner or owners thereof, for such price, upon such terms and conditions, and upon such covenants and agreements in respect thereto, and to make and enter into such contracts and agreements with such owner or owners therefor, in respect thereto, and to accomplish the purposes of this Act, as may be agreed upon by and between such owner or owners and the Governing Body of any such city or town, the action of the latter being expressed by Ordinance, all as consistent with and subject to the provisions of this Act.

General Powers after Acquiring Bridge

Sec. 2. Any such city or town thus acquiring any such toll bridge shall have power to maintain and operate same, and to own, hold, and control the same, and to make or cause to be made any repairs, improvements, replacements, extensions, or additions thereto, and to renew or extend any franchises therefor, and to obtain new or additional franchises therefor, and to do any and all things required or that may be proper or necessary to the maintenance and operation thereof, and conduct of the business thereof, and of rendering the services thereof to the public and to the patrons of said toll bridge; and to such end and for such purposes shall have power to make and enter into, and to carry out, observe, and perform, any and all contracts, agreements, and undertakings, of any and every kind, required by the United States of America or any of its departments, officers, or governmental agencies, or the public authorities thereof; or required by the Republic of Mexico, or any of its departments, officers, or governmental agencies, or the public authorities thereof.

Tolls and Charges

Sec. 3. Any such city or town thus acquiring any such toll bridge shall have power, to be exercised by its Governing Body as expressed by Ordinance, to fix and to enforce and collect tolls and charges for the use thereof, and for the passage or transportation of persons or property, passengers, vehicles, freight and commodities, over and across such toll bridge. Such tolls and charges shall be fixed from time to time by the Governing Body of any such city or town, and collected under its direction, in accordance with the provisions and requirements of any permits or franchises granted or extended by any governmental authority in respect of or applicable thereto; and, subject to the provisions and requirements of any such permits or franchises, shall be just and reasonable and non-discriminatory, as determined by such Governing Body of any such city or town, and with no free service until the bonds herein provided to be issued to acquire such properties, together with the interest thereon, and all duties and obligations incident thereto or arising therefrom are first fully paid, met, and discharged; and, subject to the provisions and requirements of any such permits and franchises, shall be sufficient to produce revenues adequate:

(a) to pay all expenses necessary to the maintenance and operation of such toll bridge, and to comply with the requirements and make all payments necessary under the provisions of any such permits and franchises therefor;

(b) to pay the interest on and the principal of all bonds and/or warrants issued under this Act when and as the same shall become due and payable;

(c) to pay all sinking fund and/or reserve fund payments agreed to be made in respect of any such bonds and/or warrants, and payable out of such revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable; and

(d) to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of such bonds and/or warrants and/or with any person in their behalf;

(d-1) to recover a reasonable rate of return on invested capital;

(e) out of the revenues which may be received in excess of those required for the purposes specified in subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (d-1) above, the Governing Body of any such city or town may in its discretion use such excess revenues for any or all of the following:

(1) to establish a reasonable depreciation and emergency fund;

(2) to retire by purchase and cancellation or redemption any outstanding bonds or outstanding warrants issued under the authority of this Act and amendments thereto;

(3) to provide needed budgetary support to local government for legitimate public purposes and for the general welfare;

(4) to apply the same to accomplish the purposes of this Act and amendments thereto.

(f) It is the intention of this Act that the tolls and charges herein provided for shall be those necessary to fulfill all obligations imposed by this Act and amendments thereto, and shall be sufficient to produce revenues to comply with the above subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (d-1), and (e). Nothing herein shall be construed as depriving the State of Texas or the United States of America, or other appropriate agencies having jurisdiction, of power to regulate and control tolls and charges to be collected for such purposes, or to provide for bridges over any such river to be used free of any tolls or charges, provided that the State of Texas does hereby pledge to and agree with the purchasers and successive holders of the bonds and/or warrants issued hereunder that the State will not limit or alter the power hereby vested in any such city or town or the Governing Body thereof to establish and collect such tolls and charges as will produce revenues sufficient to pay the items specified in subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (d-1), and (e) of this Section 3 of this Act, or exercise its powers in any way to impair the rights or remedies of the holders of the bonds and/or warrants, or of any person in their behalf, until the bonds and/or warrants, together with the interest thereon, with interest on unpaid installments of interest and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceedings by or on behalf of the bondholders and/or warrant holders and all other obligations of any such city or town in connection with such bonds and/or warrants are fully met and discharged.

(g) This section shall apply to international toll bridges now in existence and owned by a city or that may be acquired or controlled by a city in the future.

Definition of Toll Bridge with its Rights and Franchises and Appurtenant Properties; Acquisition of All or Part

Sec. 4. The term "toll bridge, with its rights and franchises and appurtenant properties" is hereby defined to mean and include the physical properties of any such bridge, together with and including all permits, grants, franchises, rights, and privileges, of every kind granted or extended by the United States of America, or the Congress thereof, or any department, officer, agency, or governmental authority thereof; or by the Republic of Mexico, or the Congress thereof, or any department, officer, agency, or governmental authority thereof; or by any State or municipality or political subdivision of either or both said two (2) Nations; for or in relation to or in respect of the construction, maintenance, or operation of any such toll bridge; or the collection of tolls and charges for the uses thereof; and including all lands, rights of way, easements, leasehold, contractual or other interest of any kind in any lands in either or both said two (2) Nations, held or used or in any manner incident to or for the construction, maintenance, or operation of such bridge, or the approaches thereto, or for the use or occupancy of any buildings, structures, appurtenances, appliances, roads, streets, parks, grounds, or conveniences or facilities of any kind, related or in any manner incident thereto; and including all buildings, structures, appurtenances, appliances, equipment, conveniences and facilities, of every kind, held or used or in any manner incident to or for the construction, maintenance, and operation of said bridge; and including all leases and contracts of every kind for the use or occupancy of any such lands, buildings, structures, conveniences, appliances and facilities; and including all rights and properties of every kind incident to or used for the construction, maintenance, or operation of any such toll bridge; each and all whereof shall be construed as included within the meaning of such term "toll bridge, with its rights and franchises and appurtenant properties" as such term is used in this Act; provided, however, that any such city or town, in exercising the powers herein granted, may acquire by purchase as herein provided, all or any part of any such toll bridge, that is, either the entire bridge or only that part thereof which is situated in the State of Texas; and either all or any part of or any of the respective such grants, permits, franchises, rights, contracts, privileges, easements, leases, lands, rights of way, buildings, structures, appurtenances, appliances, equipment, facilities, and other interests and items above enumerated, as included within the meaning of such term "toll bridge, with its rights and franchises and appurtenant properties" as used in this Act; as the Governing Body of any such city or town may, in its discretion, determine and deem best.

Parks, Recreation Grounds, Camps, Quarters, Accommodations and Facilities

Sec. 5. Any such city or town acquiring any such toll bridge shall have the power, in connection with the maintenance and operation thereof, to acquire lands and a site or sites for the purpose either within or without the corporate limits of such city or town, within territory adjacent to said city or town or to said toll bridge, and to construct, maintain, and operate parks, recreation grounds and facilities, camps, quarters, accommodations and facilities, for the use and convenience of the public; and to fix and to enforce and collect fees, rentals, and charges, for the use thereof, which shall be just and reasonable and non-discriminatory, as determined by and fixed from time to time by the Governing Body of such city or town; and to make and enforce reasonable rules and regulations therefor; and if such toll bridge is located within the corporate limits of the city, to manage, control, govern, police and regulate the same, and if the toll bridge is situated outside of the corporate limits of the city to manage, control, govern, police and regulate the same to the same extent as if it were located within the corporate limits of the city.

Borrowing Money; Grants from United States or Agencies

Sec. 6. Any such city or town, to accomplish the purposes of this Act, shall have power to borrow money from any person or corporation, and, without limitation of the generality of the foregoing, to borrow money and accept grants from the United States of America, or from any corporation or agency created by the United States of America or designated or empowered to act as an agency thereof, and, in connection with any such loan or grant, to enter into such agreements as the United States of America or such agency or corporation may require in respect or in relation thereto.

Issuance of Bonds

Sec. 7. Any such city or town shall have the power to accomplish the purposes of this Act, to issue, sell and deliver, its negotiable bonds; which bonds or the proceeds of the sale thereof may be used to purchase and acquire from the owner or owners thereof any such toll bridge, with its rights and franchises and appurtenant properties, or such part or portion thereof as may be purchased by any such city or town as herein provided for, either by purchase of the properties, as such, or by using such bonds or the proceeds of the sale thereof for the purchase from the owner or owners thereof of the stock of any corporation owning such toll bridge and for the liquidation and winding up of the business and affairs of such corporation and paying the debts and obligations or liabilities thereof, and all in such manner and to such effect as to vest title to such toll bridge, with its rights and franchises and appurtenant properties, or such part or portion thereof as may be purchased, in said city or town as provided for herein; and which bonds may be exchanged for property or sold as herein provided; to accomplish any of the purposes of this Act as herein provided.

Mortgages or Pledges

Sec. 8. Any such city or town shall have the power, in respect to any such bonds issued in pursuance of the provisions of this Act to accomplish any of the purposes of this Act, to mortgage or pledge all or any part of or any interest in any such toll bridge, with its rights and franchises and appurtenant properties, or any of the properties acquired or to be acquired with such bonds or the proceeds of the sale thereof; and all or any part of the gross or net revenues thereafter received by said city or town from or in respect of any such properties so acquired or to be acquired by said city or town with such bonds or the proceeds of the sale thereof; to secure the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds, and of the sinking fund and reserve fund payments agreed to be made in respect of such bonds; and to make and enter into such covenants and agreements with the purchasers of such bonds or any person in their behalf in respect thereto and for securing the payment thereof and for providing rights and remedies to the owners and holders of such bonds or to any person in their behalf, as the Governing Body of any such city or town may in its discretion approve and determine and provide by an Ordinance or Ordinances adopted for such purposes; all in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Amount, Denominations and Terms of Bonds

Sec. 9. Any such bonds issued by any such city or town in pursuance of and to accomplish the purposes of this Act, shall be in such aggregate principal amount or amounts, of such denominations, bearing such date or dates, of such maturities, bearing interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding six (6) per cent per annum, payable annually or semi-annually on such respective dates, in such form, containing such terms, provisions, and conditions, either coupon or registered, with such registration privileges, such provisions for the call or redemption thereof before maturity, payable at such place or places within or without the State of Texas, as the Governing Body of any such city or town may in its discretion approve and determine and provide by an Ordinance or Ordinances adopted for such purposes; all in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Sale or Exchange of Bonds

Sec. 10. Any such bonds issued by any such city or town in pursuance of and to accomplish the purposes of this Act, may either be:

(a) sold for cash, at public or private sale, at such price or prices as the Governing Body of any such city or town shall determine, provided, that the interest cost of the money received therefor, computed to maturity in accordance with standard bond tables in general use by banks and insurance companies, shall not exceed six (6) per cent per annum; or,

(b) may be issued on such terms as the Governing Body of any such city or town shall determine in exchange for property of any kind, real, personal or mixed, or any interest therein, which the Governing Body of such city or town shall determine to be proper and necessary to accomplish any of the purposes of this Act; or,

(c) may be issued in exchange for like principal amounts of any other bonds of such issue, matured or unmatured.

Deposit of Proceeds

Sec. 11. If such bonds are sold for cash, the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be deposited in such depository and shall be paid out pursuant to such terms and conditions, as may be agreed upon between the Governing Body of such city or town and the purchasers of such bonds.

Negotiability; Exemption From Taxation; Investment in Bonds

Sec. 12. Any such bonds issued by any such city or town in pursuance of and to accomplish the purposes of this Act, shall constitute negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Act of this State; and are hereby exempted from any and all State, county, municipal, and other taxation under the laws of this State; and shall be legal investments for banks, trust companies, and insurance companies organized under the laws of this State.

Application of Other Laws

Sec. 13. The provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, as amended, and of the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as amended,¹ shall apply to and govern the purchase of any such properties by any such city or town, in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, and the issuance, sale, and delivery of any such bonds, and manner of securing the payment thereof, and in respect to the enforcement of such obligations, and the rights and remedies of the owners and holders of such bonds or of any person acting in their behalf, in respect to the maintenance and operation of the properties acquired in pursuance of this Act, and in respect to the accomplishment of all the purposes of this Act; except as herein specifically provided for and prescribed by the terms of this Act; and except that none of the limitations and restrictions contained in or imposed by Sections 2, 3, and 4 of said Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as amended, shall apply to or govern any such purchase of any such properties or issuance of any such bonds by any such city or town; and except that, as is hereby expressly provided, any such city or town may purchase any such properties and issue any such bonds, and may use such bonds or the proceeds of the sale thereof for the purchase of any such properties or to accomplish any of the purposes of this Act, by action of its Governing Body as expressed by Ordinance authorizing and effecting same, and without the necessity of any referendum, and without the necessity of calling or holding any election to authorize any such action, and without the necessity of giving or publishing any notice of intention to acquire any such properties or to issue any such bonds, and without the necessity of advertising or calling for any competitive bids in respect thereto; and provided that in the event there is any conflict between the provisions of this Act and the provisions of said Articles 1111 to 1118, inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, as amended, or the provisions of said Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as amended, or the provisions of any other applicable Act or law, the provisions of this Act shall control; and, in all events, all specific provisions of this Act shall control.

Approval of Bonds by Attorney General; Incontestability

Sec. 13(a). After any such bonds are authorized by the governing body of any such city, the bonds and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General for examination by him. If such bonds shall have been issued in accordance with the Constitution and Laws of the State they shall be approved by the Attorney General and shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and after such approval and registration the bonds shall be incontestable.

Bonds or Warrants to Repair, Improve, Alter or Reconstruct Toll Bridge; Issuance

Sec. 13(b). After any such city or town shall have acquired a toll bridge as defined and used in Section 4 of this Act, it may in the manner prescribed in Section 13 of this Act issue and deliver bonds for the purpose of repairing or improving or altering or reconstructing or replacing the toll bridge, or building an additional or supplementary, or auxiliary bridge, or for any one or more of said purposes, subject only to the restrictions contained in the ordinance authorizing the original issue and/or subsequent issue of toll bridge revenue bonds, or both, and in the deed of indenture securing such original issue or subsequent issue of bonds, or it may issue warrants, including revenue time warrants, in accordance with applicable Texas law, to accomplish any one or more of such purposes, subject to the restrictions contained in ordinances and deed of indenture authorizing prior issue or issues of bonds or warrants.

Revenue Bonds or Revenue Time Warrants; Charge Against Pledged Revenues

Sec. 13(c). Revenue bonds or revenue time warrants only may be issued to accomplish the purposes of this Act. Such bonds or warrants shall not constitute indebtedness of any such city or town, but shall be a charge only against the pledged revenues, and against the property comprising the toll bridge if a lien is given on such property. And every such bond or warrant shall contain substantially this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 13(d). The governing body of any such city or town which shall have issued bonds or warrants pursuant to this Act or has outstanding bonds or warrants or bonds and warrants, the interest on and the principal of which are payable from all or part of the gross or net revenues received by said city or town from or in respect to any such properties, shall have power and authority to issue refunding bonds to refinance or refund any or all of such bonds and warrants by the issuance of its refunding bonds, and any said governing body may pledge all or part of said gross or net revenues to the refunding bonds and may provide that the refunding bonds shall have the same relative priorities of lien as the bonds or warrants refunded, or in providing for the security of the refunding bonds, may combine liens of differing priorities securing the bonds or warrants refunded, into one or more issues of refunding bonds. The provisions of this Act, where not inconsistent with this Section, concerning form of bonds, sale, approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and delivery pertaining to other bonds authorized to be issued pursuant to this Act shall apply to said refunding bonds.

Taxes or Assessments; Pledge of Credit; Not Authorized

Sec. 14. Nothing in this Act shall authorize any such city or town, acting in pursuance hereof or to accomplish any of the purposes hereof, to levy or collect any taxes or assessments therefor or in respect thereto, or to pledge the credit of the State in any manner; or to issue or to sell or deliver any bonds or to create any obligations of any kind or to incur any liabilities of any kind or to make or enter into any contracts or agreements of any kind, to be paid or performed or met or discharged out of or from any taxes or assessments.

How Powers Exercised

Sec. 15. All powers, rights, privileges and functions, conferred by this Act upon any such city or town shall be exercised by and through the Governing Body thereof as expressed by an Ordinance or Ordinances duly adopted to authorize and effectuate the same. No referendum and no election by the voters of any such city or town shall be necessary or required to authorize the exercise of any such powers, rights, privileges, or functions, or the doing of any act or thing to accomplish the purposes of this Act.

Application of Other Laws

Sec. 16. This Act shall constitute full authority for the authorization and issuance of bonds hereunder and no other Act or law with regard to the authorization or issuance of obligations, or the deposit of the proceeds thereof, in any way impeding or restricting the carrying out of the acts and things herein authorized to be done shall be construed as applying thereto or to any acts or proceedings taken hereunder and acts or things done pursuant hereto, and for the accomplishment of the purposes of this Act.

Cumulative Character

Sec. 17. This Act shall be cumulative of all other Acts and laws; and the powers, rights, privileges, and functions hereby conferred on any such city or town, shall not prevent the exercise by any such city or town of any and all other powers, rights, privileges, or functions conferred upon any such city or town by any other Act or law now existing or hereafter enacted.

Liberal Construction

Sec. 18. This Act and all of the terms and provisions hereof shall be liberally construed to effectuate the purposes set forth herein.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 19. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid, the remainder of this Act, and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 1015g-1. Pledge of Revenue Derived from Operation of Toll Bridge

Any city or town in this State incorporated under the General Laws of the State, or incorporated and acting under its Special Charter or Home Rule Charter which is receiving revenue, by virtue of a contract with another city or town concerning the operation of a toll bridge over a river between the State of Texas and the Republic of Mexico, may appropriate or pledge all or any part of such revenue to redeem or pay any bonds, notes or warrants, as well as interest thereon, authorized to be issued by such city or town under any provision of law or to retire any other indebtedness which such city or town may legally incur.

Art. 1015g-2. Validation of Proceedings for Issuance and Sale of Time Warrants for International Toll Bridges

Sec. 1. That all proceedings heretofore had by the governing bodies of all cities and towns, including Home Rule Cities in the State of Texas, in the issuance and sale of revenue time warrants under the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, Revised Civil Statute of Texas, 1925, as amended, and Chapter 258, Acts of the 49th Legislature, 1945, as amended (Article 1015g, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), to finance and undertaking to finance the cost of repairing, improving, reconstructing, or replacing any existing international toll bridge owned by such city or town is hereby in all things fully validated, confirmed, approved, ratified, and legalized, and any such warrants heretofore sold or heretofore authorized but not yet delivered, are in all things fully validated, confirmed, ratified, approved, and legalized and such warrants are hereby declared to be the valid and binding special obligations of such cities or towns, payable only from sources other than taxation and which do not constitute a tax obligation. All orders, resolutions, ordinances, and actions authorizing the issuance of any such warrant and setting aside and pledging the revenues of any such international toll bridge system are hereby in all things validated, confirmed, approved, ratified, and legalized, and the fact that any city or town, in the issuance and sale of any such obligations or in the pledging of any said revenues of such systems to the payment of such warrants, failed to have or lacked the power and right to do all things necessary to make said obligations legal, shall in no wise impair such obligations nor the pledge of such revenues, but the same are in all things validated, confirmed, ratified, and approved.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings or any obligations issued thereunder, the validity of which has been contested or attacked in any pending suit or litigation; nor shall the provisions of this Act affect, in any way, the title to real estate, the ownership of which has been contested or attacked in any pending suit or litigation.

Art. 1015g-3. Revenue Bonds by Border Cities; Pledge of Revenue from Toll Bridges; Approval and Registration

Sec. 1. Any city or town in this state, including Home Rule Cities, having located within its corporate limits, or outside its corporate limits but within a distance of fifteen (15) miles from such corporate limits, a toll bridge over a river between the State of Texas and the Republic of Mexico, shall have the power, subject to any outstanding covenants relating to or made in favor of the holders of outstanding bonds of any such city or town, to appropriate or pledge all or any part of any revenues derived by any such city or town from or on account of any such toll bridge, including revenues derived by any such city or town from or on account of and pursuant to any contract with another city or town covering or relating to the operation of such a toll bridge, to the payment of bonds issued under and for the purposes permitted by this Act.

Sec. 2. Revenue bonds, payable from the source aforesaid, may be issued by any such city and town for the purpose of acquiring by purchase, construction or otherwise, or making repairs to, or extending or improving, any or all public buildings, utility system or systems and/or other public properties or facilities, considered necessary and appropriate by the governing body of such city or town. Such revenue bonds may be issued without the necessity of an election when authorized by an ordinance or ordinances of such governing body, which ordinance may provide and contain such terms and conditions for such bonds and such covenants and commitments to bondholders with respect thereto as may be deemed appropriate by such governing body, except that each issue of such bonds shall mature in not more than forty (40) years from their date and shall bear interest not to exceed the rate or rates as provided in and computed in accordance with Senate Bill No. 20, 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969.¹ Additionally, such bonds may be refunded upon such terms and at such times, and maturing at such times and bearing such rate or rates of interest as the issuer shall deem appropriate.

Sec. 3. The proceedings authorizing such bonds shall be presented to the Attorney General for review and to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for registration, all as in the case of other bonds issued by cities and counties in this state. Upon the approval thereof by the Attorney General, the bonds and such proceedings thus approved shall be incontestable for any cause.

Art. 1015g-4. Eligible City Operating Toll Bridge Over Rio Grande River; Acquisition of Property, etc.; Revenue Bonds

Definition

Sec. 1. As used in this Act the term "eligible city" is defined as and means any incorporated city which owns and operates any portion of a toll bridge over the Rio Grande River.

General Authority

Sec. 2. Each eligible city is authorized to acquire, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, operate, and maintain any property, buildings, structures, activities, operations, or other facilities, for any public purpose.

Authority to Issue Revenue Bonds

Sec. 3. For the purpose of providing funds to acquire, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, and equip any property, buildings, structures, or other facilities, for any public purpose, the governing body of an eligible city may issue revenue bonds of said eligible city from time to time and in one or more issues or series, to be payable from and secured by liens on and pledges of all or any part of any of the revenues, income, or receipts derived by the eligible city from its ownership and operation of any portion of any toll bridge or bridges over the Rio Grande River, and from its ownership and operation of any other property, buildings, structures, activities, operations, or facilities.

Terms and Conditions of Bonds

Sec. 4. (a) The bonds may be issued to mature serially or otherwise within not to exceed 50 years from their date, and provisions may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under any terms or conditions that may be set forth in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(b) The bonds, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto, are and shall constitute negotiable instruments within the meaning and for all purposes of the Texas Uniform Commercial Code,¹ provided that the bonds may be issued registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest, and shall be executed, and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, and may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions, and details, and may be sold in such manner, at such price, and under such terms, and said bonds shall bear interest at such rates, all as shall be determined and provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(c) If so provided in the bond ordinance, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used for paying interest on the bonds during the period of the acquisition or construction of any facilities to be provided through the issuance of bonds, for paying expenses of operation and maintenance of any facilities, for creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and for creating any other funds, and such proceeds may be placed on time deposit or invested, until needed, all to the extent, and in the manner provided, in the bond ordinance.

Rentals, Rates, and Charges

Sec. 5. Each eligible city shall be authorized to fix and collect tolls, rentals, rates, and charges for the occupancy, use and availability of all or any of its toll bridge or bridges, and its property, buildings, structures, activities, operations, or other facilities, in such amounts and in such manner as may be determined by the governing body of the eligible city.

Pledges

Sec. 6. (a) Each eligible city may pledge all or any part of its revenues, income, or receipts from such tolls, rentals, rates, and charges, or other resources to the payment of the bonds, including the payment of principal, interest, and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds. The pledged tolls, rentals, rates, and charges shall be fixed and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest, and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds, and, to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds, to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds, and for the payment of operation, maintenance, and other expenses in connection with the aforesaid toll bridge or bridges, property, buildings, structures, or other facilities.

(b) Said bonds may be additionally secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on any real property owned by the eligible city and by chattel mortgages or liens on any personal property appurtenant to such real property; and the governing body of the eligible city may authorize the execution of trust indentures, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other forms of encumbrances to evidence same.

(c) Also, each eligible city may pledge to the payment of the bonds all or any part of any grant, donation, revenues, or income received or to be received from the United States government or any other public or private source, whether pursuant to an agreement or otherwise.

Additional Powers

Sec. 7. It is hereby found, determined, and declared that the acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, and/or equipment by an eligible city of any property, buildings, structures, or other facilities for lease or rental to the United States of America, or any department or agency thereof, for use in performing federal governmental functions in the city, or in performing federal governmental functions at or near, and relating to, its toll bridge, even though its toll bridge and said federal facilities relating thereto are not located in the city is and constitutes a public purpose and a proper municipal function. Any such property, buildings, structures, or other facilities acquired, purchased, constructed, improved, enlarged, and/or equipped in whole or in part with proceeds from the sale of bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be leased or rented by an eligible city to the United States of America, or any department or agency thereof, upon such terms and conditions, and for such period, as such parties shall agree.

Bonds Not General Obligations of an Eligible City

Sec. 8. bonds issued pursuant to this Act by an eligible city are payable solely from the revenues, income, receipts, or other resources of the eligible city, as provided in this Act, and such bonds are not tax obligations of the eligible city.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 9. Any bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be refunded or otherwise refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for such purpose, under such terms, conditions, and details as may be determined by ordinance of the governing body of the eligible city. All pertinent and appropriate provisions of this Act shall be applicable to such refunding bonds, and they shall be issued in the manner provided herein for other bonds authorized under this Act; provided that such refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts necessary to pay the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of bonds to be refunded, at maturity or on any redemption date. Also, such refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds being refunded thereby. In the latter case, the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas shall register the refunding bonds and deliver the same to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded thereby, in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds; and any such exchange may be made in one delivery, or in several installment deliveries. Bonds issued at any time by an eligible city also may be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable law.

Approval and Registration of Bonds

Sec. 10. All bonds issued pursuant to this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance, shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for examination. If he finds that such bonds have been authorized in accordance with law, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas; and after such approval and registration such bonds shall be incontestable in any court, or other forum, for any reason, and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Bonds are Authorized Investments and Security for Deposits

Sec. 11. All bonds issued pursuant to this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, and trustees, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the State of Texas and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities thereof, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. Said bonds also shall be eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the State of Texas and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities thereof, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of said bonds, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect of Act

Sec. 12. This Act shall be cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereby, without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided; and when any bonds are being issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control; provided, however, that any eligible city shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions hereof, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Severability

Sec. 13. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Art. 1015g-5. Eligible City Operating International Toll Bridge over Rio Grande; Acquisition, Construction, Operation, and FinancingApplicability of Act

Sec. 1. This Act applies only to incorporated cities and towns whose corporate limits are at any point within 15 miles from the part of the Rio Grande that forms the border between Texas and the Republic of Mexico. In this Act, "eligible city" means a city to which this Act applies.

Acquisition of Toll Bridge, etc.; Contracts

Sec. 2. (a) Each eligible city is authorized for any public purpose to acquire, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, operate, and maintain one or more toll bridges over the part of the Rio Grande that forms the border between Texas and the Republic of Mexico.

(b) In this Act, "toll bridge" includes:

(1) the physical properties constituting all or part of a toll bridge;

(2) the permits, grants, franchises, rights, and privileges of every kind granted or extended by the United States, the Republic of Mexico, or any state or political subdivision of those nations for or in regard to the construction, maintenance, or operation of a toll bridge or for the collection of tolls or other charges for use of the toll bridge;

(3) the lands, rights-of-way, easements, leaseholds, and contractual or other interests of any kind in lands in either of those nations held or used for or in any manner incident to the construction, maintenance, or operation of a toll bridge or approaches to a toll bridge or for the use or occupancy of any buildings, structures, appurtenances, appliances, roads, streets, railroads, parks, grounds, or conveniences or facilities of any kind related or in any manner incident to a toll bridge;

(4) the buildings, structures, appurtenances, appliances, equipment, conveniences, and facilities of any kind held or used for or in any manner incident to the construction, maintenance, and operation of a toll bridge and the leases and contracts of any kind for the use or occupancy of those lands, buildings, structures, conveniences, appliances, and facilities; and

(5) the rights and properties of any kind incident to or used for the construction, maintenance, or operation of a toll bridge.

(c) An eligible city may make and enter into, carry out, observe, and perform any and all contracts, agreements, and undertakings required by the United States or the Republic of Mexico or any departments, officers, governmental agencies, or public authorities of either nation for the purpose of engaging in the activities authorized by this Act.

Revenue Bonds Authorized; Interim Financing

Sec. 3. (a) For the purpose of providing funds to acquire, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, or equip a toll bridge or a part of a toll bridge or related buildings, structures, or other facilities for any public purpose, the governing body of an eligible city may issue revenue bonds from time to time in one or more issues or series to be payable from and secured by liens on and pledges of all or any part of any of the revenues, income, or receipts derived by the eligible city from its ownership and operation of any portion of a toll bridge or bridges over the Rio Grande and from its ownership and operation of any other property, buildings, structures, activities, operations, or facilities.

(b) Pending the issuance of revenue bonds pursuant to this Act, an eligible city may use money that is not required by law to be used for other purposes for expenditures in connection with a toll bridge or bridges or may issue notes for those expenditures. If an eligible city uses its money for this purpose, the money may be repaid out of proceeds of the revenue bonds issued under this Act. If notes of the city are issued for this purpose, the notes shall have the characteristics deemed appropriate by the governing body of the city, may bear the rate or rates of interest, may be payable from sources available to pay, and may be secured in the same manner as revenue bonds issued under this Act or payable from the proceeds of refunding bonds issued under this Act or from both revenue bonds and refunding bonds.

Issuance of Bonds and Notes; Negotiability

Sec. 4. (a) The bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be issued to mature serially or otherwise not more than 50 years from the date of issue, and provision may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds or subordinate lien bonds under any terms or conditions that may be set forth in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(b) The bonds and notes and interest coupons appertaining to the bonds or notes are negotiable instruments within the meaning of and for the purposes provided by the Texas Uniform Commercial Code;¹ however, the bonds may be issued registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest. The bonds and notes shall be executed; may be made redeemable prior to maturity; may be issued in the form, denominations, and manner and under the terms, conditions, and details; may be sold in the manner, at the price, and under the terms; and shall bear interest at the rates provided by the ordinance authorizing issuance of the bonds or notes.

(c) If provided in the bond ordinance, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used for paying interest on the bonds during the period of the acquisition or construction of any facilities to be provided through the issuance of bonds, paying expenses of operation and maintenance of any facilities, creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and creating any other funds and may be placed on time deposit or invested, until needed, all to the extent and in the manner provided by the bond ordinance.

Tolls and Charges

Sec. 5. Each eligible city may fix and collect tolls, rentals, rates, and charges for the occupancy, use, and availability of all or any of its toll bridges in the amounts and in the manner as may be determined by the city's governing body.

Security for Bonds

Sec. 6. (a) An eligible city may pledge all or any part of its revenues, incomes, or receipts from tolls, rentals, rates, and charges, or other resources to the payment of bonds issued pursuant to this Act, including the payment of principal, interest, and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds. The pledged tolls, rentals, rates, and charges shall be fixed and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest, and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds and to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing issuance of the bonds to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds and for the payment of operation, maintenance, and other expenses in connection with the toll bridge or bridges.

(b) The bonds may be additionally secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on any real property owned by the eligible city and by chattel mortgages or liens on any personal property appurtenant to the real property. The governing body of the eligible city may authorize the execution of trust indentures, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other forms of encumbrances to evidence the debt.

(c) An eligible city may pledge to the payment of the bonds all or any part of any grant, donation, revenue, or income received or to be received from the United States or any other public or private source whether pursuant to an agreement or otherwise.

Use of Property by Federal Government

Sec. 7. It is hereby found, determined, and declared that the acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, or equipping by an eligible city of any property, buildings, structures, or other facilities for lease to the United States government for use in performing federal governmental functions in the city or in performing federal governmental functions at or near and relating to its toll bridge, even though the toll bridge and the federal facilities relating to the toll bridge are not located in the city, is and constitutes a public purpose and a proper municipal function. Any property, buildings, structures, or other facilities acquired, purchased, constructed, improved, enlarged, or equipped in whole or in part with proceeds from the sale of bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be leased or rented by an eligible city to the United States under the terms and conditions and for the period agreed to by the parties.

Payment of Bonds and Notes; Taxability

Sec. 8. Bonds and notes issued pursuant to this Act are payable solely from the revenues, income, receipts, or other resources of the issuing city, as provided in this Act, and the bonds and notes are not tax obligations of the eligible city.

Refinancing

Sec. 9. (a) Bonds or notes issued pursuant to this Act may be refunded or otherwise refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for the purpose and under the terms, conditions, and details prescribed by ordinance of the governing body of the eligible city. All pertinent and appropriate provisions of this Act are applicable to refunding bonds, and they shall be issued in the manner provided for other bonds authorized under this Act. Refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts sufficient to pay the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of bonds and notes to be refunded at maturity or on any redemption date.

(b) Refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds and notes being refunded. If refunding bonds are issued under this subsection, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds or notes being refunded in accordance with the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds. An exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(c) Bonds and notes issued at any time pursuant to this Act may be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable law in addition to that provided by this section.

Approval and Registration

Sec. 10. All bonds and notes issued pursuant to this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If he finds that the bonds and notes have been authorized in accordance with law, he shall approve them, and on approval the bonds and notes shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After approval and registration, the bonds and notes are incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Bonds and Notes as Lawful Investments and Deposit Security

Sec. 11. (a) Bonds and notes issued pursuant to this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, and trustees, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the State of Texas and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic.

(b) The bonds and notes when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant to them are eligible and lawful security to the extent of their market value for any deposits of public funds of the state or any agency, subdivision, or instrumentality of the state, including a county, city, town, village, school district or other type of district, public agency, or body politic.

Act Cumulative and Wholly Sufficient

Sec. 12. This Act is cumulative of all other law on the subject, and this Act is wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and notes and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereby without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided; and when any bonds or notes are being issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control; provided, however, that any eligible city shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws not in conflict with the provisions hereof to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act. [Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 759, ch. 332, §§ 1 to 12, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 1015h. Public Building; Powers of City Owning Natural Gas Distribution System

Application of Act; Powers of Eligible City

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to all incorporated cities, including Home Rule Cities, of more than fifty thousand (50,000) population according to the last preceding Federal Census which own and operate a natural gas distribution system serving the inhabitants of all or part of such city. Any such city, for the purposes of this Act, shall be an "eligible" city.

Any eligible city shall have the power to construct, purchase, equip, improve, repair, remodel and enlarge coliseums, exposition and convention halls, city halls and other public buildings and the necessary sites therefor, and to issue revenue bonds for such purposes. Such cities may acquire one (1) building for any one (1) or more of the foregoing purposes or may acquire one (1) or more buildings for any one (1) or more of such purposes.

Revenue Bonds; Security; Pledge of Revenues of Gas System

Sec. 2. When authorized at an election as herein-after provided, the governing body of any eligible city shall be authorized to issue the revenue bonds of such city bearing interest at a rate not to exceed five per cent (5%) per annum and maturing within not more than thirty (30) years from their date or dates, and to secure the payment thereof by pledging and encumbering the net revenues of the revenue producing parts of such buildings and, at the option of the governing body, by a further pledge of the net revenues of the city's municipal gas distribution system, either any part or all. Such bonds shall be issued under the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, both inclusive of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, except where same are in conflict with the provisions of this Act. No such bonds shall be issued, however, until first authorized by a majority vote of the voters qualified to vote in such elections and voting at an election called for such purpose. Such election shall be called and held in the same manner provided for other bond elections for such city. The issuance of revenue bonds to provide funds with which to acquire one (1) or more buildings for one (1) or more of the foregoing purposes may be submitted as one (1) proposition at such election; provided that all bonds included in one (1) proposition are secured by a pledge of the same revenues.

Ordinances; Books and Accounts

Sec. 3. The governing body of any such city shall be authorized to make such provisions in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of such bonds as it shall deem proper and desirable in regard to the terms and conditions upon which such revenues, or any designated part thereof, shall be pledged, the method of securing the payment of such bonds, the use of the pledged revenues, the establishment of reserves for depreciation, replacements, betterments, additions and extensions, the duties and obligations of the city in regard to the use, maintenance and operation of the facilities whose net revenues are pledged to the payment of such bonds and as to the right of redemption, if any, of such bonds before their respective maturity dates. It shall be the duty of the city to establish and maintain separate books and accounts for each of the properties whose income shall have been pledged.

Additional Bonds

Sec. 4. The governing body of such cities shall be authorized to issue additional revenue bonds for such purposes secured by a pledge of all or any part of the net revenues which are pledged to the payment of previously issued bonds to the extent and in the manner expressly permitted by the ordinance or ordinances authorizing such previously authorized and outstanding revenue bonds. Such additional revenue bonds shall be issued only after being authorized at an election held as hereinabove provided for original issues. Any ordinance authorizing the issuance of bonds under this Act may provide for the use by the city of surplus revenues for other lawful purposes.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 5. The governing body of any said city shall be authorized to refund all or any part of any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act by the issuance of refunding bonds without the necessity of an election; provided that the refunding bonds shall not bear interest at a higher rate than that borne by the bonds being refunded.

Act Cumulative; Conflict with Existing Laws

Sec. 6. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject, but in the event any of its provisions are in conflict with any existing laws, the provisions hereof shall prevail and be effective in regard to the subject matter of this Act.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 7. If any paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining provisions of this Act or the application thereof to any other person or circumstance and the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Art. 1015i. Lease of City Owned Hospital; Cities of 65,000 or Less

The governing body of any incorporated city or town (including home rule cities) having a population of sixty-five thousand (65,000) inhabitants or less, according to the last preceding Federal Census, is hereby authorized to lease any city-owned hospital, or part thereof, to be operated by the lessee as a public hospital under such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon by such governing body and such lessee. Any such lease shall be authorized by ordinance or resolution adopted by such governing body, and the lease agreement shall be executed, on behalf of the city or town, by the mayor and the city secretary or clerk, and the seal of the city shall be impressed thereon. Such lease may cover any period of time not to exceed fifty (50) years.

Art. 1015j. Appropriations for Advertising and Promoting Growth and Development of General Law Cities

Each city incorporated or operating under the general laws of this State may appropriate from the General Fund of the city an amount not exceeding Five Cents (5c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) assessed valuation, for the purpose of advertising and promoting the growth and development of such city; providing that before the governing body of any city may appropriate any sums for such purpose, the qualified property taxpaying voters of the city shall, by a majority vote at an election, authorize the governing body of the city to thereafter appropriate not to exceed Five Cents (5c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) assessed valuation.

Art. 1015j-1. Promotional Advertising for Growth and Development in Cities of Not More Than 500,000; Board of Development; Appropriations and Expenditures Authorized; Appointment of Manager

Sec. 1. The governing body of any incorporated city having a population of not more than 500,000 according to the last preceding Federal Census may appropriate from the general fund an amount not exceeding one percent of the general fund budget for that year, such appropriation to be for advertising such city and promoting its growth and development.

Sec. 2. Before expending any money appropriated under authority of this Act, the governing body shall create a Citizens' Advisory Committee known as a City Board of Development, or by any other name, consisting of five members, to be appointed by the governing body for two-year terms. Members of the board shall receive no compensation, shall have advisory powers only, and shall not be deemed to be public officers or agents of the city, and their service on the board shall not invalidate city contracts in which they may have an interest.

Sec. 3. The board of development shall investigate the desirability of various methods of advertising and promoting the city and shall make appropriate recommendations to the governing body as to the best method of expending funds already available, and as to the amount which should be appropriated in the next budget. Recommendations of the board are not binding on the governing body, which shall have discretion as to the amount to be appropriated (within the limit of one percent of the general fund budget) and as to the methods of using it.

Sec. 3a. To assist it in carrying out the provisions of this Act, the governing body may appoint a person to manage the promotion, development, tourism, and convention activities of the city, or it may designate a city official to carry out that function. The person appointed or designated shall serve ex officio as the secretary of the board of development.

Sec. 4. This statute is cumulative of any powers which a city has or shall have under its charter, and shall not impair any such charter power.

Art. 1015k. Regulation of Rendering Plants

For the purpose of protecting its residents from health hazards arising from unsanitary conditions which may exist in conjunction with certain industrial establishments, any city, town or village in this State shall have the power by the enactment of the necessary ordinances to regulate the equipment and mode of operation of rendering plants within the city limits or within one (1) mile from the city limits.

Art. 1015l. Parking on Private Property

Any incorporated city or town may by ordinance regulate the parking of motor vehicles on private property, and may enforce the ordinance in the same manner that it enforces ordinances regulating parking in public no-parking zones, including impoundment of offending vehicles.

Art. 1015m. Repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2087, ch. 835, § 9, eff. Aug. 29, 1977

See, now, art. 6701g-2.

Art. 1015n. Dilapidated Structures; Authority of Certain Cities and Towns

(a) A city or town incorporated or operating under Chapters 1-10, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, may adopt an ordinance that requires the demolition or repair of a building that is dilapidated, substandard, unfit for human habitation, or a hazard to the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens.

(b) The ordinance must:

(1) establish minimum standards for continued use and occupancy that apply to all buildings regardless of date of construction;

(2) provide for proper notice to the owner; and

(3) provide for a public hearing.

(c) After a hearing, if the building is found to be in violation of the standards set out in the ordinance, the city may direct that the building be repaired or removed within a reasonable time.

(d) After the expiration of the allotted time, the city may remove the building at its own expense. If a city incurs removal expenses under this Act, it has a lien against the property to which the building was attached. The lien is extinguished if the property owner reimburses the city for the removal expenses. The lien may not be enforced by forced sale.

Art. 1016. Streets and Alleys, etc.

Any city or town incorporated under the general laws of this State shall have the exclusive control and power over the streets, alleys, and public grounds and highways of the city or town, and to abate and remove encroachments or obstructions thereon; to open, alter, widen, extend, establish, regulate, grade, clean and otherwise improve said streets; to put drains or sewers therein, and prevent encumbering thereof in any manner, and to protect same from encroachment or injury; and to regulate and alter the grade of premises; to require the filling up and raising of same; and, upon submission of a petition signed by all of the owners of real property abutting a street or alley, the governing body of any such city or town shall also have the power, by ordinance, to vacate and abandon and close any such street or alley.

Section 3 of the 1979 amendatory act provided:

"The amendment of Articles 1016 and 1019, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, by this Act does not apply to a petition submitted to a municipal governing body under Article 1016 before the effective date of this Act. Such a petition and all action taken with respect to it are subject to those statutes as they existed when the petition was submitted. The former law is continued in effect for purposes of this section."

Art. 1017. Sale of Parks, Land for Buildings and Abandoned Streets, etc.; Disposition of Proceeds

The governing body of any incorporated city or town in this State, however incorporated, may sell and convey any land or interest in land owned, held or claimed as public square, park or site for city hall or other municipal building, and abandoned parts of streets and alleys, together with all improvements on any such property owned by any such city or town. The proceeds of any such sale shall be used only for the acquisition and improvement of property for the same uses as that so sold. Provided, however, that the title of any purchaser of such property for a valuable consideration shall not be impaired by reason of the failure of such governing body to so apply said funds. Such sales shall be made by an ordinance passed by such governing bodies which shall direct the execution of conveyance by the mayor or city manager of any such city or town.

Art. 1018. Use by Railway, etc.

The charter, or any amendment thereto, may authorize the governing body to close for the exclusive use temporarily or perpetually by any railroad company or other corporation having power of eminent domain, any part or parts, of any street or streets, alley or alleys, and to ratify and confirm any prior ordinances closing any street or streets, alley or alleys, or any part or parts thereof, for the use of any railroad company or any such other corporation.

Art. 1019. Special Election

No public square or park shall be sold until the question of such sale has been submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of the city or town, and approved by a majority of the votes cast at such election.

Section 3 of the 1979 amendatory act provided:

Art. 1020. Towns so Empowered

The provisions of the three preceding articles shall be enforced in towns or cities under five thousand population, or cities over five thousand population which have no special charter, and in towns or cities incorporated under this title, and in cities or towns incorporated under any special law. The power authorized by this article may be conferred upon the governing body by vote of the qualified voters as provided in the preceding article.

Art. 1021. Interest on Indebtedness

No indebtedness of any character whatever, hereafter incurred by said corporation, shall draw a higher rate of interest than six per cent per annum.

See, now, art. 1023a.

Art. 1023a. Auditing of Records and Accounts; Annual Statements

(a) Each incorporated city, town, and village in this state, hereinafter referred to as "city," including any city operating under a special charter, or home-rule city operating under a charter adopted or amended pursuant to Article XI, Section 5, of the Texas Constitution, or city operating under the general laws of this state, shall have its records and accounts audited and a financial statement based on such audit prepared annually. Any such city whose records and accounts are not audited annually by a person or officer prescribed by statute or charter provision, or by a person in the regular employ of such city, must engage at its own expense a Texas Certified Public Accountant or a public accountant holding a permit to practice from the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy to conduct the audit and to prepare the financial statement required herein.

(b) The annual financial statement of such city, together with the auditor's opinion thereon, shall be filed in the office of the city secretary or clerk of such city within 120 days of the close of the city's fiscal year and shall be a public record.

(c) A city that provides a continuing, organized program of service retirement, disability retirement, or death benefits for any of its officers or employees shall include in its annual financial statement a valuation of the financial assets and liabilities of the program as shown in the most recent actuarial valuation of the program. This subsection does not apply to a program for which the only funding agency is a life insurance company, a program providing only workers' compensation benefits, or a program administered by the city as a member of the Texas Municipal Retirement System.

Section 4 of the 1977 Act provided as follows:

"If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Art. 1024. Receiver Appointed

A city or town so situated as is herein set forth, which fails to effect a compromise of its debts, or pending the negotiation of a compromise, shall be permitted, on its application setting forth its financial condition and insolvency, to have the district court of the county in which said city or town is situated, take charge of the collection and appropriation of all taxes levied and assessed by said city or town, except so much thereof as is necessary to pay the current expenses of the city or town; and to that end, said court, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall appoint a receiver or make the assessor and collector of said city or town its receiver to collect and pay into a named depository all taxes levied by said city or town for the payment of its debts; and said courts shall decide all questions of priority between conflicting claimants of said funds, and shall provide for the ratable and equitable distribution of said funds among all creditors entitled thereto. But it shall not be lawful for any court to appoint a receiver of or concerning any city or town except upon the voluntary application of such city or town.

Art. 1024a. Relief to Municipalities and Taxing Districts Under Federal Bankruptcy Laws

That all municipalities, political subdivisions and taxing districts in this State which have power to incur indebtedness, either through action of their own governing bodies or through action of the governing bodies of counties or cities in which such political subdivisions or taxing districts are included, are hereby authorized to proceed under all laws enacted by the Congress of the United States under the Federal Bankruptcy powers, which laws have for their object the relief of municipal indebtedness, including H.R. 5950 of the Seventy-Third Congress, entitled "An Act to amend an Act entitled 'An Act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States,' approved July 1, 1898, and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto," approved May 24, 1934,¹ and the officials and governing bodies of such municipalities, political subdivisions and taxing districts are authorized to adopt all proceedings and to do any and all acts necessary or convenient to fully avail such municipalities, political subdivisions and taxing districts of the provisions of such Acts of Congress.

Art. 1024b. Composition with Creditors Under Federal Bankruptcy Laws

All municipalities, political subdivisions, and taxing districts in this State as defined in Section 81, Chapter 657, Acts of the Seventy-fifth Congress of the United States, 50 Statutes at Large, Page 654, 11 U.S.C.A. Sec. 401,¹ which have power to incur indebtedness, either through action of their own governing bodies or through action of the governing bodies of counties or cities in which such political subdivisions or taxing districts are included, are hereby authorized to proceed under all laws that have been heretofore enacted by the Congress of the United States under the Federal Bankruptcy powers to effect a plan for the composition of their indebtedness, and the officials and governing bodies of such municipalities, political subdivisions, and taxing districts are authorized to adopt all proceedings and to do any and all acts necessary to fully avail such municipalities, political subdivisions, and taxing districts of the provisions of such Acts of Congress, but this Act shall not apply to any bond or bonds while held by the permanent school fund of Texas.

Art. 1025. Official Paper

The city council shall, as soon as may be after the commencement of each municipal year, contract, as they may by ordinance or resolution determine, with a public newspaper of the city as the official paper thereof, and to continue as such until another is elected, and shall cause to be published therein all ordinances, notices and other matters required by this title or by the ordinance of the city to be published.

Art. 1029. Retirement of Indebtedness

To meet the interest and sinking fund on all indebtedness legally incurred prior to the adoption of the constitutional amendment of September 25, 1883, regarding the power of cities and towns to levy and collect taxes, etc., the governing body of the following cities and towns shall have power by ordinance to levy, assess and collect an annual ad valorem tax sufficient therefor:

1. Of any city or town having a population of five thousand or less.
2. Of any city having more than five thousand inhabitants, unless otherwise provided in the special charter granted by the Legislature or adopted by the people.

Art. 1030. Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 3149, ch. 827, § 15, eff. Aug. 31, 1981

Art. 1031. Occupation Tax

The city council shall have the power to levy and collect taxes, commonly known as licenses, upon trades, professions, callings and other business carried on; and each person and firm engaging in the following trades, professions, callings and business, among others, shall be liable to pay such license tax; every person or firm keeping a ball alley, or nine or ten-pin alley; every person or firm selling goods, wares and merchandise at public auction; every merchandise or cotton broker or commission merchant; every person or firm pursuing the occupation of hawker or peddler of goods or any article whatever; but this enumeration shall not be held to deprive the city council of the right to levy and collect other license taxes, and from other persons and firms under the general authority herein granted.

Art. 1032. Power to Collect Tax

Nothing herein shall prevent the city council from collecting the license, and each license tax provided for by this title. Each establishment shall be liable to said license tax; and any person or firm pursuing occupations, business, avocations or calling subject to said tax shall pay on each. No license shall extend to more than one establishment, or include more than one occupation, avocation, business or calling.

Art. 1033. Power to Assess Tax

The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the assessing and collecting of said taxes, and to determine when taxes shall be paid by corporations, and when by the individual corporators. No tax shall be levied unless by consent of two-thirds of the aldermen elected.

Art. 1034. Collection of License Tax

The license tax shall be collected by the assessor and collector, and shall be paid to that officer by each person and firm owing such license and before engaging in any trade, profession, business, calling, avocation or occupation subject to said tax. This article shall apply to all persons owning any license and failing to pay the same. The city council may collect said license tax by suit under such rules as they may provide by ordinance. Said taxes, commonly known as licenses, shall not be construed to be a tax on property within the meaning of the provisions of this title.

Art. 1035. License Revoked

In any case where, by any provision of this title, or by an ordinance passed in pursuance thereof, a person is required to obtain a license for any calling, occupation, business or avocation, and has by the recorder been adjudged guilty of violating any city ordinance in relation thereto, the recorder, in addition to a fine, may institute proceedings to suspend or revoke the license so granted.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Arts. 1036 to 1038. Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 2329, ch. 841, § 6(a)(1), eff. Jan. 1, 1982

For disposition of the subject matter of the repealed articles, see Disposition Table preceding the Tax Code.

Art. 1039. Special Taxes

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent the city council from imposing, levying and collecting special taxes and assessments for the improvement of the avenues, streets and alleys, as hereinafter provided.

Art. 1040. Indebtedness

The city council may also levy, assess and collect taxes necessary to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund to satisfy any indebtedness heretofore legally made and undertaken. All such taxes shall be assessed and collected separately from those levied, assessed and collected for current expenses of municipal government, and shall, when levied, specify in the act of levying the purpose therefor. Such taxes may be paid in coupons, bonds or other indebtedness for the payment of which such tax may have been levied.

Art. 1041. Powers of Council

The city council may provide, by ordinance, for the prompt collection of all taxes, except ad valorem taxes, that are assessed, levied and imposed under this title, and is authorized to sell or cause to be sold real as well as personal property, and may make such rules and regulations, and pass all ordinances as they may deem necessary to the levying, laying, imposing, assessing and collecting of any tax herein provided.

Art. 1066a. Taxes Levied by Counties and Other Political Subdivisions Not Included in Determining Power of Home Rule City or Town to Levy Taxes

Sec. 1. The taxes levied by any county, any political subdivision of a county, any number of adjoining counties, any political subdivision of the State, or any defined district under or by virtue of Article 3, Section 52 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, shall not be reckoned in determining the power of any city or town to levy city taxes, irrespective of whether such city or town is located wholly or partly within such county, number of adjoining counties, political subdivision, or defined district, or whether such political subdivision or defined district be included wholly or partly within such city.

Sec. 2. In case of conflict between this Act and any city charter or any special law constituting the charter of a city, the provisions of this Act shall prevail.

Sec. 3. Provided, however, that this Act shall not apply except as to cities and towns acting under a home rule charter and which has, prior to the effective date of this Act, attempted to amend its charter and which at the time of said Charter amendment election did not own any of the following utilities from which it could derive revenue: water system, sanitary sewer system, electric light system or natural gas distribution system.

Sec. 4. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not in any manner validate any obligations issued by any such city or town, the validity of which obligations is in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Art. 1066c. Local Sales and Use Tax Act

Title of Act; Definitions

Sec. 1. This Act is known and may be cited as the "Local Sales and Use Tax Act," and the following words shall have the following meanings unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

A. Comptroller. "Comptroller" shall mean the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas.

B. City. "City" shall mean any incorporated city, town, or village in the State of Texas.

C. Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act. "Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act" means

Chapter 151, Tax Code, as amended before or after the effective date of this Act.

Authority to Adopt Tax; Imposition and Rate; Election and Ballots; Canvass of Returns; Results of Election; City Boundaries; Tax Schedule and Bracket System Formula for Joint Collection of Taxes; Standards

Sec. 2. A. Any city may, by a majority vote of the qualified voters of said city voting at an election held for that purpose, adopt a local sales and use tax for the benefit of such city in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

B. The sales tax portion of any local sales and use tax adopted under this Section is hereby imposed at the rate of one percent (1%) on the receipts from the sale at retail of all taxable items within any city adopting such tax which items are subject to taxation by the State of Texas under the provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, as enacted, and as heretofore or hereafter amended, and at the rate of one percent (1%) on the receipts from the sale at retail within the city of gas and electricity for residential use as defined by the State Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act.

C. The governing body of any city may, by a majority vote of its members qualified and serving, or shall, upon petition of qualified voters of said city equal in number to at least twenty percent (20%) of the total number of votes cast in the last preceding regular city election, provide by ordinance for the calling and holding of an election on such question.

D. If such election is initiated by petition of qualified voters, the governing body of the city shall have thirty (30) days after receipt of such petition to determine the sufficiency thereof and, if such petition is sufficient, shall within sixty (60) days after receipt of such petition pass the ordinance calling such election.

E. The ordinance calling such election shall provide for the submission of such question at an election to be held not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days after the passage of said ordinance. If the next regular city election is to be held during such period, the submission of such question shall be at such election; otherwise, a special election shall be called for the purpose.

F. Notice of said election shall be given by causing a substantial copy of the ordinance calling the election to be published on the same day of two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published within said city, the date of the first publication to be at least twenty-one (21) days prior to the date set for such election. If there be no newspaper published within the city, such ordinance may be published in some newspaper having general circulation within the city. The provisions of this Section shall prevail over any city charter provision to the contrary.

G. The ballot at such election shall have printed on it the following:

"FOR adoption of a one percent (1%) local sales and use tax within the city."

"AGAINST adoption of a one percent (1%) local sales and use tax within the city."

The election shall be conducted in the manner provided by law for other municipal elections unless otherwise specified herein. If a majority of the votes cast at such an election be in favor of the adoption of a local sales and use tax, the same shall be effective in such city as follows: In order to allow time for the Comptroller's administrative duties under this Act, there shall elapse one whole calendar quarter after the Comptroller receives notice of adoption of such tax provided for in this Act, after which such local sales and use tax shall be effective in such city beginning on the first day of the calendar quarter next succeeding such elapsed quarter.

H. In any city in which a local sales and use tax has been imposed in the manner provided for herein, in the same manner and by the same procedure such city may by majority vote of the qualified voters of said city voting at an election held for that purpose abolish such tax. The ballot for any such election shall have printed on it the following:

"FOR abolition of the local sales and use tax within the city."

"AGAINST abolition of the local sales and use tax within the city."

If a majority of the votes cast at any such election be in favor of the abolition of such tax, such local sales and use tax shall be thereby abolished effective in such city as follows: There shall elapse one whole calendar quarter after the Comptroller receives the notice of abolition of such tax, after which such local sales and use tax shall be abolished in such city beginning on the first day of the calendar quarter next succeeding such elapsed quarter.

I. Within ten (10) days after any election held under the provisions of this Section at which a majority of the qualified voters voting at such election in any city shall vote in favor of the adoption or the abolition of a local sales and use tax within such city, the governing body of such city shall canvass the returns of such election and by ordinance or resolution entered in the minutes declare the results of such election. Thereafter, the City Secretary shall forward to the Comptroller by United States Registered Mail or Certified Mail a certified copy of the ordinance or resolution of the governing body canvassing the returns and declaring the result of such election. Such ordinance or resolution shall reflect the date of the election in such city, the proposition voted on, the total number of votes cast for and against the proposition, and the number of votes by which the proposition was approved, and shall be accompanied by a map of the city clearly showing the boundaries thereof. If a majority of votes be found to be against any proposition, so that the tax status of such city under this Act is not changed, no notice of the results of the election shall be filed with the Comptroller.

J. If any city in which a local sales and use tax has been imposed in the manner provided for herein shall thereafter change or alter its boundaries, the City Secretary of such city shall forward to the Comptroller by United States Registered Mail or Certified Mail a certified copy of the ordinance adding or detaching territory from such city. Such ordinance shall reflect the effective date thereof, and shall be accompanied by a map of the city clearly showing the territory added thereto or detached therefrom. Upon receipt of such ordinance and map, the tax imposed by this Act shall be effective in such added territory or abolished in such detached territory on the first day of the next succeeding quarter; provided that if the Comptroller shall notify the City Secretary in writing within ten (10) days after receipt of such ordinance and map that he requires more time, the Comptroller shall be entitled to the elapsed calendar quarter referred to in Subsection G of this Section before such tax shall be imposed in such added territory or abolished in such detached territory.

K. (1) In each city in which a local sales and use tax has been imposed in the manner provided by this Act, every retailer shall add the tax imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act of the State of Texas and the tax imposed by this Act to his sale price, and when added, the combined tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price. When the sale price in such city shall involve a fraction of a dollar, the two combined taxes shall be added to the sale price upon the schedule and bracket system formula set forth in Paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subsection.

(2) When such Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax imposed by the State of Texas shall be at the rate of four percent (4%) on the receipts from the sale at retail of all taxable items within this State which is subject to such tax, and the Local Sales and Use Tax imposed in any city under authority of this Act shall be at the rate of one percent (1%) on the receipts from the sale of all taxable items within such city which is subject to such tax, the total gross rate of such combined taxes in such city shall be at the rate of five percent (5%) on combined taxes in such city on the receipts from the sale of all tangible personal property within such city which is subject to such taxes. When the sale price shall involve a fraction of a dollar, the taxes shall be added to the sale price upon the following schedule:

Amount of Sale	Tax
$.01 to $.09	No Tax
.10 to .29	$.01
.30 to .49	.02
.50 to .69	.03

Amount of Sale	Tax
.70 to .89	.04
.90 to 1.09	.05

Provided, that for successive brackets for this schedule in this paragraph, the tax shall be computed by multiplying five percent (5%) times the amount of the sale. Any fraction of one cent ($.01) which is less than one half of one cent ($.005) of tax shall not be collected. Any fraction of one cent ($.01) of tax equal to one half of one cent ($.005) or more shall be collected as a whole cent ($.01) of tax.

Provided, however, that any retailer who can establish to the satisfaction of the Comptroller that fifty percent (50%) or more of his receipts from the sale of tangible personal property and taxable services arise from individual transactions where the total sales price is nine cents ($.09) or less may exclude the receipts from such sales when reporting and paying the tax imposed under this Act and the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax imposed by the State of Texas. No retailer shall avail himself of this provision without prior written approval of the Comptroller. The Comptroller shall grant such approval when he is satisfied that the retailer qualifies on the basis set forth in this Section and when the retailer has submitted satisfactory evidence that he can and will maintain records adequate to substantiate the exclusion herein authorized. Any attempt on the part of any retailer to exercise this provision without prior written approval of the Comptroller shall be deemed to be a failure and refusal to pay the taxes imposed by this Act and the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and the retailer shall be subject to assessment for both taxes, penalties and interest as provided for in this Act and the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act.

(3) In the event the Legislature shall either increase or decrease the rate of such State Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax, the combined rate of the State Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax and the Local Sales and Use Tax shall be the sum of the two rates, in which event the schedule for collection of such combined taxes shall be calculated by multiplying the combined tax rate times the amount of the sale. Any fraction of one cent ($.01) which is less than one half of one cent ($.005) of tax shall not be collected. Any fraction of one cent ($.01) of tax equal to one half of one cent ($.005) or more shall be collected by the retailer as a whole cent ($.01) of tax. The Comptroller may publish a schedule based on the above formula for use in those cities which have imposed a Local Sales and Use Tax under the authority of this Act, and which cities have a need for such schedule under the provisions of this paragraph.

L. In each city in which a local sales and use tax has been imposed in the manner provided by this Act, every retailer selling gas or electricity for residential use shall add the tax imposed by this Act to his sales price and when added the tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price. The amount of the tax on the sale at retail of gas and electricity for residential use shall be calculated by multiplying the amount of the tax by the sales price. Any fraction of one cent ($.01) which is less than one-half of one cent ($.005) shall not be collected. Any fraction of one cent ($.01) of tax equal to one-half of one cent ($.005) or more shall be collected by the retailer as a whole cent ($.01) of tax. The Comptroller may publish a schedule based on the above formula for cities imposing a tax on the sale at retail of gas and electricity for residential use.

Frequency of Elections

Sec. 3. No election upon a proposition to adopt a local sales and use tax in any city or to abolish such tax in such city shall be held within one (1) year from the date of the last preceding election in such city on any of such propositions.

Excise Tax; Combined Rate of Excise Tax; Imposition, Rate and Collection of Tax

Sec. 4. A. Except as provided in Subsection D of this Section, in every city where the local sales and use tax has been adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Act, there is hereby imposed an excise tax on the storage, use, or other consumption within such city of tangible personal property purchased, leased, or rented from any retailer on or after the effective date for collection of the sales tax portion of the local sales and use tax for storage, use or other consumption in such city at the rate of one percent (1%) of the sales price of the property or, in the case of leases or rentals, of said lease or rental price. Except as provided in Subsection E of this Section, the local use tax is not owed to and may not be collected by, for, or in behalf of a city if no excise tax on the storage, use, or other consumption of an item of tangible personal property is owed to or collected by the State under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act or if the tangible personal property is first stored, used, or consumed within a city or area that has not adopted the local sales or use tax.

B. Except as provided in Subsection D of this Section, in each city where the local sales and use tax has been imposed as provided in Section 2 of this Act, the excise tax imposed under the State Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act on the storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property and the excise tax imposed by this Section of this Act shall be added together to form a combined rate of excise tax which is equal to the sum of the two taxes. The tax imposed by this Section of this Act shall be collected by the Comptroller on behalf of and for the benefit of such city. The bracket system formula prescribed in Subsection K of Section 2 of this Act shall be applicable to the collection of the excise tax imposed under this Section.

C. The provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act relating to the administration and collection of the storage and use tax portion of the state tax is applicable to the collection of the tax imposed by this Section, provided that in Subchapter D of Chapter 151, Tax Code,¹ the name of the city where the local sales and use tax has been adopted shall be substituted for that of the State where the words "this State" are used to designate the taxing authority or to delimit the tax imposed.

D. In every city where the local sales and use tax has been adopted under this Act, there is imposed an excise tax on the storage, use or other consumption within the city of gas and electricity for residential use purchased, leased or rented from any retailer on or after the effective date for collection of the sales tax portion of the local sales and use tax for storage, use or other consumption within the city at the rate of one percent (1%) of the sales price of the gas and electricity for residential use, or in the case of leases or rentals, of the lease or rental price. In every city where the local sales and use tax has been adopted under this Act, the excise tax imposed by this Section shall be calculated as provided in Subsection L, Section 2 of this Act and shall be collected by the Comptroller on behalf of and for the benefit of the city in the same manner as if the use, storage or other consumption of gas and electricity for residential use were not exempt under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act.

E. If a sale of tangible personal property is consummated within the State but not within a city that has adopted the taxes imposed by this Act and the tangible personal property is shipped directly into or brought by the purchaser or lessee directly into a city that has adopted the taxes imposed by this Act, the tangible personal property is subject to the local use tax imposed by the city under Subsection A of this Section. The use is considered consummated at the location where the item is first stored, used, or otherwise consumed after the intrastate transit has ceased.

F. If the tangible personal property is shipped from outside this State to a customer within this State, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Subsection A of this Section and not the sales tax imposed by Subsection B, Section 2 of this Act. The use is consummated at the first point in this State where the property is stored, used, or otherwise consumed after interstate transit has ceased. Tangible personal property delivered to a point in this State is presumed to be for storage, use, or other consumption at that point until the contrary is established.

Residential Gas and Electricity; Exemption and Reimposition of Tax

Sec. 4A. Effective October 1, 1979, there are exempted from the taxes imposed by this Act the receipts from the sale, production, distribution, lease or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption within the city of gas and electricity for residential use within a city adopting the taxes imposed by this Act unless prior to May 1, 1979, the governing body of the city, by a majority vote of the membership of the governing body, votes to continue the taxes authorized by this Act on the sale, production, distribution, lease or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption of gas and electricity for residential use. At any time before or after October 1, 1979, the governing body of a city that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act may, by a majority vote of the membership of the governing body, exempt from the taxes imposed by this Act the receipts from the sale, production, distribution, lease or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption within the city of gas and electricity for residential use. The governing body of a city that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act and provided for the exemption authorized or required by this section may, by a majority vote of the governing body, reimpose the taxes on the sale, production, distribution, lease or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption in the city of gas and electricity for residential use. If a majority of the governing body votes for the exemption authorized by this section or for the reimposition of the tax under this section, the results of the vote must be entered in the minutes of the city. Thereafter the city secretary shall forward to the comptroller by United States Registered or Certified Mail a copy of the ordinance. On actual receipt by the comptroller of the notification, there shall elapse one whole calendar quarter prior to the exemption or reimposition becoming effective. The exemption or reimposition shall take effect beginning on the first day of the calendar quarter next succeeding the elapsed quarter. If the governing body of a city, by a majority vote of the governing body, votes to exempt from the taxes authorized by this Act the receipts from the sale, production, distribution, lease, or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption of gas and electricity for residential use and forwards to the comptroller by United States Registered or Certified Mail postmarked on or before September 10, 1978, a certified copy of the ordinance, the exemption is effective on October 1, 1978, except that the exemption does not apply to sales of gas and electricity for residential use made during a retailer's regular monthly billing period for a consumer if the regular monthly billing period for the consumer begins before October 1, 1978, but shall apply to each regular monthly billing period beginning on or after October 1, 1978.

Comptroller; Administration, Collection, Enforcement and Operation of Tax; Reports

Sec. 5. (a) On and after the effective date of any tax imposed under the provisions of this Act, the Comptroller shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement, and operation of the tax, and the Comptroller shall collect, in addition to the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax for the State of Texas, an additional tax under the authority of this Act of one percent (1%) on the receipts from the sale at retail or on the sale price or lease or rental price on the storage, use, or other consumption of all taxable items within such city which property is subject to the State Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and an additional tax of one percent (1%) on the receipts on the sale at retail or on the sale price or lease or rental price on the storage, use, or other consumption of gas and electricity for residential use within the city as provided in this Act unless exempted as provided in Section 4A of this Act. The tax imposed hereunder and the tax imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act shall be collected together, if both are imposed, and reported upon such forms and under such administrative rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Comptroller not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. On and after the effective date of any proposition to abolish such local sales and use tax in any city, the Comptroller shall comply therewith as provided in this Act.

(b) The Comptroller shall make quarterly reports to a city that has adopted this Act and is imposing the tax if the city requests the reports. The report must contain the name, address and account number of each person, firm, or corporation doing business in the city and which has remitted a payment of the tax during the quarter covered by the report.

(c) The Comptroller shall make an additional quarterly report to a city that has adopted this Act and is imposing the tax if the city requests the additional report. The additional report must include the name, address, and account number of, if any, and the amount of the tax due by each person, firm, or corporation doing business in the city and which has failed to pay the tax imposed by the city or imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act. The report by the Comptroller shall also state whether there has been a partial payment of tax by the delinquent taxpayer, whether the taxpayer is delinquent in payment of sales and use taxes to the State, and what steps, if any, have been taken by the Comptroller in order to collect the delinquent taxes.

(d) If a city determines that any person, firm, or corporation doing business in the city is not included in a report from the Comptroller, the city shall report the name and address of the person, firm, or corporation to the Comptroller. On receiving a report from a city the Comptroller shall send, before the expiration of a ninety (90) day period following the day the Comptroller received a report from the city, an explanation to the city as to why the person, firm, or corporation is not obligated for the tax imposed by the city, a statement that the person, firm, or corporation is obligated to pay the tax and that the tax is delinquent, or a certification that the person, firm, or corporation is obligated to pay the tax and that the full amount due under the tax has been credited to the account of the city.

Provisions Governing Collection of Tax

Sec. 6. The following provisions shall govern the collection by the Comptroller of the tax imposed by this Act:

A. All applicable provisions contained in Subtitles A and B and Chapter 151 of Title 2, Tax Code,¹ shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this Act, except as modified in this Act.

B. (1) For the purposes of the local sales and use tax, "place of business of the retailer" means an established outlet, office, or location operated by the retailer, his agent, or employee for the purpose of receiving orders for taxable items. The term "place of business of the retailer" includes any location at which three or more orders are received by the retailer in a calendar year. A warehouse, storage yard, or manufacturing plant may not be considered a "place of business of the retailer" unless three or more orders are received by the retailer in a calendar year at such warehouse, storage yard, or manufacturing plant. Each "place of business of the retailer" must have a permit issued by the Comptroller in accordance with Article 20-021, Title 122A, Taxation—General, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.² For the purpose of determining the proper local sales tax imposed by this Act, a retail sale, lease, or rental is consummated as provided in Paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this subdivision, regardless of where transfer of title or possession or segregation in contemplation of transfer of title or possession of the taxable item occurs unless the tangible personal property sold, leased, or rented is delivered by the retailer or his agent to an out-of-state destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-state destination.

(a) If a retailer has only one place of business within this State, all retail sales, leases, and rentals of the retailer are consummated at that place of business, except as provided in Subdivision (d) of this Subsection.

(b) If a retailer has more than one place of business in this State, the retailer's place of business where the purchaser or lessee takes possession of and removes an item of tangible personal property is the place of business where the sale, lease, or rental of that item is consummated. If, however, the retailer ships or delivers the tangible personal property to a point designated by the purchaser or lessee, then the retailer's place of business from which the tangible personal property is shipped or delivered to the purchaser or lessee is the place of business where the sale, lease, or rental is consummated.

(c) If neither possession of tangible personal property is taken at nor shipment or delivery of the tangible personal property is made from the retailer's place of business within this State, the sale, lease, or rental is consummated at the retailer's place of business within the State where the order is received or if the order is not received at a place of business of the retailer, at the place of business from which the retailer's salesman who took the order operates.

(d) When transfer of possession of tangible personal property occurs at or shipment or delivery originates from a location within the State other than a place of business of the retailer, the sale, lease, or rental is consummated at the location within this State to which the tangible personal property is shipped or delivered or at which possession is taken by the customer when:

(i) the retailer is an itinerant vendor and has no place of business, or

(ii) the retailer's place of business where the purchase order is initially received or from which the retailer's salesman who took the order operates is outside the State, or

(iii) the purchaser places the order directly with the retailer's supplier and the property is shipped or delivered directly to the purchaser by the supplier.

(e) The sale of natural gas or electricity is consummated at the point of delivery to the consumer.

(2) For the purpose of the excise tax imposed by this Act on any retailer holding tangible personal property purchased on a resale certificate and which property becomes subject to the excise tax by reason of use or other consumption of the property, the use or other consumption of the property is consummated at the place where the property is stored or kept at the time of or just prior to its use or consumption, unless the tangible personal property is delivered by the retailer or his agent to an out-of-state destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-state destination.

(3) For the purpose of determining the proper local use tax imposed by this Act, a holder of a direct payment permit issued by the Comptroller under the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act who becomes liable for local use tax by reason of storage, use, or other consumption of taxable items purchased in this State under a direct payment exemption certificate, shall allocate the tax to the city in which the taxable item was first removed from the permit holder's storage, or if not stored, the place at which the items are first used or consumed by the permit holder after transportation. As used in this paragraph, storage, use, or other consumption may not include a temporary delay or interruption necessary and incident to the transportation or further fabrication, processing, or assembling of taxable items within this State for delivery to the permit holder. A charge for processing, fabrication, or further assembly in a city that has adopted the local use tax shall be subject to the local use tax. If a taxable item is first stored, used, or consumed within a city that has not adopted the tax imposed by this Act or outside of a city, no local use tax is due.

C. (1) All exemptions granted to agencies of government, organizations, persons, and to the sale, storage, use, and other consumption of certain articles and items taxable under the provisions of Subchapter H, Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act,³ are hereby made applicable to the imposition and collection of the tax imposed by this Act, except as specifically provided in Section 151.317(b) of that Act.

(2) The receipts from the sale, use or rental of and the storage, use or consumption in this State, of taxable items are exempt from the tax imposed by this Act, if:

(a) the items are used for the performance of a written contract entered into prior to the date this Act takes effect in any city which may affect the contract, if the contract is not subject to change or modification by reason of the tax; or

(b) the items are used pursuant to an obligation of a bid or bids submitted prior to the date this Act takes effect in any city which may affect the contract, if the bid or bids may not be withdrawn, modified, or changed by reason of the tax imposed by this Act; and

(c) if notice of a contract or bid on which an exemption is to be claimed is given by the taxpayer to the Comptroller within sixty (60) days from the date this Act takes effect in any city which may affect the bid or contract.

The exemption provided by this Subsection shall have no effect after three (3) years from the date this Act takes effect in any city.

D. The same sales tax permit, exemption certificate, and resale certificate required by the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act for the administration and collection of the State Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax shall satisfy the requirements of this Act, and no additional permit or exemption certificate or resale certificate shall be required; except that the Comptroller may prescribe a form of exemption certificate for an exemption from the tax imposed by this Act as a result of a prior contract under Subsection C of this Section.

E. All discounts allowed the retailer under the provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act for the collection of and for prepayment of taxes under that Act are hereby allowed and made applicable to any taxes collected under the provisions of this Act.

F. The penalties provided in the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act for violations of that Act are hereby made applicable to violations of this Act.

Deposit of Revenues; Suspense Accounts; Surety Bonds

Sec. 7. A. Any local sales and use tax collected by the Comptroller under this Act on behalf of any city shall be deposited with the State Treasurer in trust and shall be kept in a separate suspense account for each such city.

B. The Comptroller, and any of his deputies, assistants, and employees, who shall have any duties or responsibilities in connection with the collection, deposit, transfer, transmittal, disbursement, safekeeping, accounting, or recording of funds which come into the hands of the Comptroller under the provisions of this Act shall enter into a surety bond or bonds payable to any and all cities in whose behalf such funds have been collected under this Act in the amount of $100,000; provided that the Comptroller may enter into a blanket bond or bonds covering himself and all such deputies, assistants, and employees. The cost of the premium or premiums for such surety bond or bonds shall be paid by the Comptroller from out of the share of such collections retained by the Comptroller for the benefit of the State. At any time when any premium or premiums on such bond or bonds are due and payable, the Comptroller shall pay the cost of same out of the State's share of such collection in his hands, and deposit the balance of the State's share as provided in Section 8 of this Act.

Transmission of Revenues; Deductions; Retention of Revenues; Refunds; Closing of Accounts

Sec. 8. (a) Each city's share of all local sales and use tax collected under this Act by the Comptroller shall be transmitted to the Treasurer or the officer performing the functions of such office of such city by the Comptroller payable to the city periodically as promptly as feasible. Transmittals required under this Act shall be made at least twice in each State fiscal year. The funds so transmitted may be used by the city for any purpose for which the general funds of the city may be used. Before transmitting such funds, the Comptroller shall deduct two percent (2%) of the sum collected from each such city during such period as a charge by the State of Texas for its services specified in this Act, and the amounts so deducted, subject to the provisions of Section 7B of this Act, shall be deposited by the Comptroller in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund of the State. The Comptroller is authorized to retain in the suspense account of any city a portion of the city's share of the tax collected under this Act. Such balance so retained in the suspense account shall not exceed five percent (5%) of the amount remitted to the city. The Comptroller is authorized to make refunds from the suspense account of any city for overpayments made to such accounts, and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of the suspense accounts of such cities. When any city shall adopt the Local Sales and Use Tax, and shall thereafter abolish such tax, the Comptroller may retain in the suspense account of such city for a period of one year five percent (5%) of the final remittance to each such city at the time of termination of collection of such tax in such city to cover possible refunds for overpayment of the tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of abolition of such tax in such city, the Comptroller shall remit the balance in such account to the city and close the account.

(b) A city may establish a program by which it refunds to a qualified business, as defined by the Texas Enterprise Zone Act,¹ whose place of business is located in a local enterprise zone the amount of the Local Sales and Use Tax paid by the qualified business and remitted to the city by the Comptroller. The refund must be conditioned on the qualified business having purchased or leased equipment or machinery for use in the local enterprise zone or having purchased materials for use in remodeling, rehabilitation, or constructing a structure in the local enterprise zone.

Pledge of Anticipated Revenue

Sec. 9. Money collected under this Act is for the use and benefit of the cities of the state; but no city may pledge anticipated revenue from this source to secure the payment of bonds or other indebtedness.

Existing Powers of Taxation

Sec. 10. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to abolish or limit existing powers of taxation of any city.

Comptroller; Rules and Regulations

Sec. 11. The comptroller may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, to implement the enforcement, administration, and collection of the taxes authorized herein.

Delinquent Taxes; Collection Suits; Notice and Limitations; Parties; Seizure and Sale of Property

Sec. 12. A. In any city where the Local Sales and Use Tax has been imposed, if any person is delinquent in the payment of the amount required to be paid by him under this Act or in the event a determination has been made against him for taxes and penalty under this Act, the limitation for bringing suit for the collection of such delinquent tax and penalty shall be the same as that provided in the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act. Where any person is delinquent in payment of taxes under this Act, the Comptroller shall notify the Tax Collector of the city to which delinquent taxes are due under this Act by United States Registered Mail or Certified Mail and shall send a copy of the notice to the Attorney General. The city, acting through its attorney, may join in any suit brought by the Attorney General as a party plaintiff to seek a judgment for the delinquent taxes and penalty due such city. The notice sent by the Comptroller to the tax collector of the city showing the delinquency of a taxpayer for the local sales and use tax constitutes a certification of the amount owed and is prima facie evidence of the determination of the tax and of the delinquency of the amounts of local sales and use tax set forth in the notice.

B. Where property is seized by the Comptroller under the provisions of any law authorizing seizure of the property of a taxpayer who is delinquent in payment of the tax imposed by the State Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and where such taxpayer is also delinquent in payment of any tax imposed by this Act, the Comptroller shall sell sufficient property to pay the delinquent taxes and penalty due any city under this Act in addition to that required to pay any amount due the State under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act. The proceeds from such sale shall first be applied to all sums due the State, and the remainder, if any, shall be applied to all sums due such city.

C. (1) A city that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act may bring suit for the collection of sales, excise, or use taxes imposed by this Act which have been certified as provided in Subsection A of this Section and are owed to the city under this Act if at least 60 days before the filing of the suit, written notice by certified mail of the tax delinquency and of the intention to file suit is given to the taxpayer, the Comptroller, and the Attorney General and if neither the Comptroller nor the Attorney General disapproves the suit by written notice to the city.

(2) The Comptroller or Attorney General may disapprove the institution of tax suit by a city if:

(i) negotiations between the State and the taxpayer are being conducted for the purpose of the collection of delinquent taxes owed to the State and the city seeking to bring suit;

(ii) the taxpayer owes substantial taxes to the State and there is a reasonable possibility that the taxpayer may be unable to pay the total amount owed in full;

(iii) the State will bring suit against the taxpayer for the collection of all sales, excise, and use taxes due under the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act and this Act; or

(iv) the suit involves a critical legal question relating to the interpretation of State law or a provision of the Texas or United States Constitution in which the State has an overriding interest.

(3) A notice of disapproval to a city must give the reason for the determination of the Comptroller or Attorney General. A disapproval is final and not subject to review. A city, after one (1) year from the date of the disapproval, may proceed again as provided in paragraph (1) of Subsection C of this Section, even though the liability of the taxpayer includes taxes for which the city has previously given notice and the Comptroller or Attorney General has previously disapproved the suit.

(4) In any suit under this Subsection for the collection of city tax, a judgment for or against the taxpayer does not affect any claim against the taxpayer by another city or the State unless the State is a party to the action.

(5) A copy of the final judgment in favor of a city in a case in which the State is not a party shall be abstracted by the city and a copy of the judgment together with a copy of the abstract shall be sent to the Comptroller. The city shall collect the taxes awarded to it under the judgment as provided by Section 151.608(e), Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act, and is responsible for the renewal of the judgment before the expiration of the 10-year period. If a collection is made by a city on a judgment, notice of the amount collected shall be sent by certified mail to the Comptroller. The Comptroller may prescribe a form for the notice to be used by cities.

Election Contests; Notice

Sec. 13. A. If the validity of any election held under authority of this Act or the result of such election based on the returns thereof shall be contested, such election contest shall be filed and tried as provided in the Election Code of the State of Texas; provided that the contestant shall notify the Comptroller by United States Registered Mail or Certified Mail within ten (10) days after filing such contest by mailing a copy of such Notice of Contest to the Comptroller showing the style of the contest, the date filed, the case number, and the Court in which the same is pending; and provided further that no such contest shall be heard unless the Comptroller is timely notified as provided herein.

B. Upon receipt of a Notice of Contest, the date upon which such tax shall become effective in any city, or abolished in any city, as a result of such election shall be suspended. When a final judgment shall be entered in such election contest, the City Secretary shall notify the Comptroller by United States Registered Mail or Certified Mail, and shall enclose a certified copy of such final judgment. If the judgment sustains the validity of such election or the result of such election so that the tax status under this Act of such city is changed, the Comptroller shall place in effect such tax, or abolish the same, as the case may be, in such city, substituting the notice of final judgment and the date on which it is received for the notice of the result of such election elsewhere provided for in this Act.

Sec. 14. All laws and parts of laws inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed to the extent of such inconsistency or conflict only.

Section 2(b) of the 1981 repealing act provides:

"A tax incremental district approved by a city or town pursuant to Chapter 695, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 1066d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may be designated by ordinance adopted by the governing body of the city or town as a reinvestment zone under this Act. No other act is necessary for the newly designated zone to exercise powers or perform duties as provided by this Act."

Section 5 of the 1981 repealing act provides, in part: "The repeal does not affect the continuation of tax incremental districts designated as reinvestment zones as provided by SECTION 2 of this Act."

The repealed article, relating to rehabilitation and development of blighted areas, tax incremental districts, and bonds and notes was derived from Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1661, ch. 695, §§ 1 to 12.

Art. 1066e. Tax Increment Financing Act of 1981

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Texas Tax Increment Financing Act of 1981.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Captured appraised value" means the amount by which the current appraised value of taxable real property located in the boundaries of a reinvestment zone exceeds its tax increment base. Where multiple assessed valuations are being used by different taxing units within a reinvestment zone, the assessed valuation for each such taxing unit shall be used to determine the captured appraised value for the purpose of determining the tax increment for each taxing entity.

(2) "Federally assisted new community" means a federally assisted area that has received or will receive assistance in the form of loan guarantees under Title X of the National Housing Act¹ and a portion of that federally assisted area has received grants under Section 107(a)(1) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended.²

(3) "Project costs" means expenditures made or estimated to be made or monetary obligations incurred or estimated to be incurred by the city or town that are listed in a project plan as costs of public works or public improvements in a reinvestment zone, plus other costs incidental to the expenditures or obligations. Project costs include:

(A) capital costs, including the actual costs of the acquisition and construction of public works or public improvements, new buildings, structures, and fixtures; the actual costs of the acquisition, demolition, alteration, remodeling, repair, or reconstruction of existing buildings, structures, and fixtures; and the actual costs of the acquisition of land and equipment and the clearing and grading of land;

(B) financing costs, including all interest paid to holders of evidences of indebtedness or other obligations issued to pay for project costs and any premium paid over the principal amount of the obligations because of the redemption of the obligations prior to maturity;

(C) real property assembly costs;

(D) professional service costs, including those costs incurred for architectural, planning, engineering, and legal advice and services;

(E) imputed administrative costs, including reasonable charges for the time spent by employees of the city or town in connection with the implementation of a project plan;

(F) relocation costs;

(G) organizational costs, including the costs of conducting environmental impact studies or other studies, the costs of publicizing the creation of a reinvestment zone, and the cost of implementing the project plan for the reinvestment zone;

(H) interest prior to and during construction and for one year after completion of construction whether or not capitalized;

(I) the cost of operating the reinvestment zone and project facilities;

(J) the amount of any contributions made by the city or town from general revenue for the implementation of the project plan; and

(K) payments made at the discretion of the governing body of the city or town that the city or town finds necessary or convenient to the creation of a reinvestment zone or to the implementation of the project plans for the reinvestment zone.

(4) "Project plan" means the plan for the development or redevelopment of a reinvestment zone approved as provided by this Act, including all amendments to the plan approved as provided by this Act.

(5) "Reinvestment zone financing plan" means a detailed description of the project costs, including administrative expenses; the estimated amount of bonded indebtedness to be incurred; the expected sources of revenue to finance or pay project costs, including the percentage of tax increment to be derived from the property taxes of each taxing unit that levies real property taxes in the zone; the current total appraised value of taxable real property in the zone; the estimated captured appraised value of the zone during each year of its existence; and the duration of the zone.

(6) "Taxing unit" refers to a taxing unit as defined by Subdivision (12), Section 1.04, Property Tax Code.

(7) "Tax increment" means the amount of property taxes levied for a year on the captured appraised value.

(8) "Tax increment base" means the total appraised value of all taxable real property in a reinvestment zone for the year in which the zone was designated a reinvestment zone as provided by this Act. Where multiple assessed valuations are being used by different taxing units within a reinvestment zone, the assessed valuation for each such taxing unit shall be used to determine the tax increment base.

(9) "Tax increment fund" means a fund into which all tax increments not retained by a taxing unit as provided by the reinvestment zone financing plan are paid, and all revenues from the sale of tax increment finance bonds or notes, revenues from the sale of any property acquired as part of a tax increment financing plan, or other revenues to be used in the reinvestment zone are deposited, and from which money is disbursed to pay project costs for the zone or to satisfy claims of holders of tax increment bonds or notes issued for the zone.

Criteria for a Reinvestment Zone

Sec. 3. (a) An incorporated city or town may promote development or redevelopment of a contiguous geographic area within its jurisdiction through tax increment financing under this Act if the governing body of the city or town determines that development or redevelopment would not occur solely through private investment in the reasonably foreseeable future. The incorporated city or town must adopt an ordinance in order to designate an area a reinvestment zone for tax increment financing.

Text of (b) as amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 3213, ch. 554, § 1

(b) To be designated as a reinvestment zone an area must:

(1) substantially impair or arrest the sound growth of a city or town, retard the provision of housing accommodations, or constitute an economic or social liability and be a menace to the public health, safety, morals, or welfare in its present condition and use by reason of the presence of a substantial number of substandard, slum, deteriorated, or deteriorating structures; predominance of defective or inadequate sidewalk or street layout; faulty lot layout in relation to size, adequacy, accessibility, or usefulness; unsanitary or unsafe conditions; deterioration of site or other improvements; tax or special assessment delinquency exceeding the fair value of the land; defective or unusual conditions of title; the existence of conditions that endanger life or property by fire or other cause; or any combination of these factors or conditions;

(2) be predominately open and, because of obsolete platting or deterioration of structures or site improvements, substantially impair or arrest the sound growth of the city or town; or

(3) be in a federally assisted new community located within a city or town or in an area immediately adjacent to the federally assisted new community.

Text of (b) as amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4790, ch. 841, § 5

(b) To be designated as a reinvestment zone an area must:

² Article 5190.7.

Hearings; Procedure

Sec. 4. (a) Not later than the 60th day before the date of the public hearing required by Subsection (e) of this section the governing body of the city or town must notify in writing the governing body of each taxing unit that levies real property taxes in the proposed reinvestment zone that it intends to establish the zone. The notice shall contain a description of the proposed boundaries of the zone, the tentative plans for the development or redevelopment of the zone, and an estimate of the general impact of the proposed zone on property values and tax revenues. The notice may be given later than the 60th day before the date of the public hearing if the governing body of each county and school district that levies real property taxes in the proposed zone agrees to waive the requirement.

(b) A taxing unit may request additional information from the governing body of the city or town. The governing body of the city or town shall provide the information requested to the extent practicable. In addition to the notice required by Subsection (a) of this section, the governing body of the city or town shall make a formal presentation to the governing body of each county or school district that levies real property taxes in the proposed reinvestment zone. The presentation shall include a description of the proposed boundaries of the zone, the tentative plans for the development or redevelopment of the zone, and an estimate of the general impact of the proposed zone on property values and tax revenues. The governing body of the city or town shall notify each taxing unit that levies real property taxes in the proposed reinvestment zone of each presentation to be made to a county or school district under this subsection. Members of the governing body of each taxing unit that levies real property taxes in the proposed zone may attend a presentation under this subsection. If agreed to by the county or school districts involved, the governing body of the city or town may make a single presentation to more than one county or school district governing body.

(c) Not later than the 15th day after the date on which the notice required by Subsection (a) of this section is given, each taxing unit that levies real property taxes in the proposed reinvestment zone shall designate a representative to meet with the governing body of the city or town to discuss the project plan and the reinvestment zone financing plan and shall notify the governing body of the city or town of its designation. At any time after the 15th day after the notice required by Subsection (a) of this section has been given to every taxing unit, the governing body of the city or town may call a meeting of the representatives of the taxing units. The governing body of the city or town may call as many meetings as it considers necessary. Each representative shall be notified of each meeting in advance. At the meetings the governing body of the city or town and the representatives of the other taxing units may discuss the boundaries of the zone, development within the zone, the tax increment that each taxing unit will contribute to the tax increment fund, the retention by a taxing unit of a portion of its tax increment as permitted by Section 10 of this Act, the exclusion of particular parcels of property from the zone, the board of directors of the zone, and tax collection for the zone. On the motion of the governing body of the city or town calling the meeting, any other matter relevant to the proposed reinvestment zone may be discussed.

(d) Before adopting an ordinance providing for a reinvestment zone under this Act, the governing body of the city or town shall prepare the preliminary reinvestment zone financing plan. A copy of the plan shall be sent to the governing body of each taxing unit that levies real property taxes in the proposed zone as soon as the plan is completed.

(e) Prior to adoption of an ordinance providing for a reinvestment zone for tax increment financing a city or town must hold a public hearing on the adoption of the zone and its benefits to the city or town and to property in the zone. At the hearing interested parties may speak for or against the creation, the boundaries of the reinvestment zone, and the concept of tax increment financing. Notice of the hearing must be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the city or town not later than seven days before the date of the hearing.

(f) A city or town must provide a reasonable opportunity for an owner of property to protest the inclusion of his property in the zone.

(g) The ordinance must:

(1) describe the boundaries of the reinvestment zone with sufficient definiteness to identify with ordinary and reasonable certainty the territory included in the zone;

(2) create a board of directors for the zone and specify the number of members of the board as provided by Section 6 of this Act;

(3) provide that the zone takes effect on January 1 of the year following the year in which the zone is approved by adoption of the ordinance and provide a date for termination of the zone;

(4) assign a name to the district for identification purposes. The first district created shall be known as "Reinvestment Zone Number One, City or Town of []" with each subsequently created zone assigned the next consecutive number;

(5) establish a "Tax Increment Fund," for the zone; and

(6) contain findings that:

(A) improvements in the zone will enhance significantly the value of all the taxable real property in the zone, although the ordinance need not identify the specific parcels enhanced in value, and will be of general benefit to the city or town;

(B) the area meets the requirements set out in Section 3 of this Act.

Restrictions

Sec. 5. (a) A reinvestment zone may not be created if more than 10 percent of the property in the zone, excluding that which is publicly owned, is used for residential purposes, or if the total appraised value of taxable real property in the zone according to the most recent appraisal rolls of the city or town and the total appraised value of taxable real property in existing zones according to the most recent appraisal rolls of the city or town exceeds 15 percent of the current total appraised value of taxable real property in the city or town and in the industrial districts created by the city or town.

(b) The boundaries of a zone may be reduced or enlarged by resolution or ordinance of the city or town; provided, however, that such boundaries may not be changed to include within the zone property more than 10 percent of which, excluding property dedicated to public use, is used for residential purposes, or to include more than 15 percent of the current total appraised value of taxable real property in the city or town and in the industrial districts created by the city or town.

(c) For purposes of this section property is used for residential purposes if it is occupied by a house which has less than five living units.

(d) A reinvestment zone may not be created nor may its boundaries be changed if the creation or change will result in more than 15 percent of the total appraised value of real property taxable by a county or school district according to the most recent appraisal roll of the county or school district being located within one or more reinvestment zones.

Board of Directors

Sec. 6. (a) The number of members of the board of directors may not be fewer than five nor more than 15, unless more than 15 members are required to satisfy the provisions of Subsection (b) of this section.

(b) Each taxing unit that levies real property taxes in the reinvestment zone may appoint one member of the board of directors of the zone. A unit may waive its right to appoint a director. The governing body of the city or town may appoint not more than 10 additional directors to the board. However, if there are fewer than five directors appointed by taxing units other than the city or town, the governing body of the city or town may appoint more than 10 additional directors as long as the total membership of the board does not exceed 15.

(c) Members of the board of directors are appointed for terms of two years unless longer terms are provided pursuant to Article XI, Section 11, Texas Constitution. Terms of members may be staggered. A vacancy on the board is filled for the unexpired term by appointment of the governing body of the taxing unit that appointed the director who served in the vacant seat.

(d) To be eligible for appointment by the governing body of the city or town to the board of directors of a zone, an individual must:

- (1) be a qualified voter of the city or town; or
- (2) be at least 18 years old and own real property in the zone, without regard to whether he or she resides in the city or town.

(e) Each year the governing body of the city or town shall appoint one member of the board of directors to serve as chairman of the board for a term of one year that begins on January 1 of the following year. The board of directors may elect a vice-chairman to preside in the absence of the chairman or when there is a vacancy in the position of chairman. The board may elect other officers as it sees fit.

Recommendations and Powers

Sec. 7. The board of directors shall make recommendations to the governing body of the city or town concerning administration of this Act in the zone. In addition to the powers delegated to the board of directors under other provisions of this Act, the governing body of the city or town by ordinance may delegate to the board any powers and duties with regard to the implementation of the project plan for the zone that the governing body considers advisable.

Plans

Sec. 8. (a) The board of directors of a reinvestment zone must prepare and adopt a project plan and a reinvestment zone financing plan for the zone and must submit the plans to the governing body of the city or town. These plans must be as consistent as possible with the preliminary plans developed for the zone prior to the creation of the board. The reinvestment zone financing plan must include a statement listing the kind, number, and location of all proposed public works or public improvements in the zone, an economic feasibility study, a detailed list of estimated project costs, and a description of the methods of financing all estimated project costs and the time when related costs or monetary obligations are to be incurred. The project plan must include a map showing existing uses and conditions of real property in the zone and a map showing proposed improvements to and use of real property in the zone. Proposed changes of zoning ordinances, the master plan, building codes, and city ordinances must also be included in the plan along with a list of estimated nonproject costs and a statement of a method of relocating persons to be displaced as a result of implementation of the plan.

(b) The governing body of the city or town must approve a project plan or reinvestment zone financing plan after its adoption by the board. The approval must be by ordinance that finds that the plan is feasible and conforms to the master plan, if any, of the city or town.

(c) The board of directors of the zone at any time may adopt an amendment to the project plan consistent with the requirements and limitations of this Act. The amendment takes effect on approval by the governing body of the city or town. Approval must be by ordinance. If an amendment reduces or increases the geographic area of the zone, increases the amount of bonded indebtedness to be incurred, increases or decreases the percentage of a tax increment to be contributed by a taxing entity, increases the total estimated project costs, or designates additional property within the zone to be acquired by the city, the approval must be by ordinance adopted after a public hearing that satisfies the procedural requirements of Subsections (e) and (f) of Section 4 of this Act.

Powers of Cities or Towns

Sec. 9. A city or town may exercise any power necessary and convenient to carry out this Act, including the power to:

- (1) create reinvestment zones and to describe the boundaries of the zones;
- (2) cause project plans to be prepared, to approve and implement the plans, and otherwise achieve the purposes of the plan;
- (3) acquire real property by purchase, condemnation, or other means to implement project plans and sell such property upon such terms and conditions as it may deem advisable;
- (4) issue tax increment bonds or notes;
- (5) deposit tax increments into the tax increment fund;
- (6) enter into agreements, including agreements with bondholders, determined by the governing body of the city or town to be necessary or convenient to implement project plans and achieve their purposes. The agreements may include conditions, restrictions, or covenants that either run with the land or by other means regulate or restrict the use of land; and
- (7) consistent with a project plan for a reinvestment zone adopted by the governing body of the city or town, acquire blighted, deteriorated, deteriorating, undeveloped, inappropriately developed real property, or other property in a blighted area or in a federally assisted new community in the zone for the preservation or restoration of historic sites, beautification or conservation, or the provision of public works or public facilities or other public purposes; or acquire, construct, reconstruct, or install public works, facilities, and sites or other public improvements, including utilities, streets, street lights, water and sewer facilities, pedestrian malls and walkways, parks, flood and drainage facilities, educational facilities, and parking facilities.

Collection and Deposit of Tax Increments

Sec. 10. (a) Each taxing unit that taxes real property in a reinvestment zone shall provide for the collection of its taxes in the zone as for any other property taxed by the unit. The unit shall pay into the tax increment fund for the zone an amount equal to the tax increment produced by the unit, less the sum of:

(1) any property taxes produced from the tax increments which are, by contract executed prior to the designation of the area as a reinvestment zone, required to be paid over by the taxing unit to another political subdivision; and

(2) a portion, not to exceed 15 percent, of the tax increment produced by the unit as provided by the reinvestment zone financing plan.

(b) The taxing unit shall make the payment provided by Subsection (a) of this section not later than the 90th day after the delinquency date for the unit's property taxes. A delinquent payment incurs a penalty of five percent of the amount delinquent and accrues interest at an annual rate of 10 percent.

(c) A taxing unit is not required to pay a tax increment into the zone's tax increment fund beyond three years from the date the zone was created, or, if the zone was created before the effective date of this Act, beyond September 1, 1986, unless the following conditions exist or have been met within three years from the date the zone was created, or prior to September 1, 1986, in those zones created before the effective date of this Act:

(1) bonds have been issued for the zone under Section 11 of this Act;

(2) the town or city has acquired property within the zone pursuant to the project plan; or

(3) construction of improvements pursuant to the project plan has commenced in the zone.

Tax Increment Bonds or Notes

Sec. 11. (a) A city or town may issue tax increment bonds or notes, the proceeds of which may be used to pay project costs for a reinvestment zone on behalf of which the bonds or notes were issued or to satisfy claims of holders of the bonds or notes. The city or town may issue refunding bonds or notes for the payment or retirement of tax increment bonds or notes previously issued by it. Tax increment bonds shall be made payable, as to both principal and interest, solely from the tax increment fund established by the city or town for the reinvestment zone. A city or town may provide in its contract with the owners or holders of the tax increment bonds that it will pay into the tax increment fund all or any part of the revenue or money produced or received as a result of the operation or sale of a facility acquired, improved, or constructed pursuant to a project plan, to be used to pay principal and interest on the tax increment bonds and, if a city or town so agrees, the owners or holders of the tax increment bonds may have a lien or mortgage on any facility acquired, improved, or constructed with the proceeds of the tax increment bonds. Tax increment bonds issued pursuant to this Act shall be issued by ordinance of the city or town without any additional approval other than the approval of the Attorney General of the State of Texas.

(b) Tax increment bonds or notes, together with interest on and income from the bonds or notes, shall be exempt from all taxes. The bonds or notes shall be authorized by ordinance of the governing body of the city or town and may be issued in one or more series. They shall bear a date or dates, be payable upon demand or mature at a time or times, bear interest at a rate or rates, be in a denomination or denominations, be in a form (either coupon or registered), carry conversion or registration privileges, have a rank or priority, be executed in a manner, be payable in a medium of payment at a place or places, and be subject to terms of redemption (with or without premium), be secured in a manner, and have other characteristics as may be provided by the ordinance approving the bonds or notes or by the trust indenture or mortgage issued in connection with the bonds or notes. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds or notes issued pursuant to this Act shall be fully negotiable. In a suit, an action, or other proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of a bond or note issued under this Act or the security for a bond or note issued under this Act, a bond or note reciting in substance that it had been issued by the city or town for a reinvestment zone shall be conclusively deemed to have been issued for that purpose, and the development or redevelopment of the zone shall be conclusively deemed to have been planned, located, and carried out as provided by this Act.

(c) All banks, trust companies, savings banks and institutions, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, investment companies, and other persons carrying on a banking or investment business; all insurance companies, insurance associations, and other persons carrying on an insurance business; and all executors, administrators, curators, trustees, and other fiduciaries may legally invest any sinking funds, money, or other funds belonging to them or within their control in tax increment bonds or notes issued by a city or town pursuant to this Act. The bonds or notes shall be authorized security for all public deposits. Any persons, political subdivisions, and officers, public or private, are authorized to use any funds owned or controlled by them for the purchase of any tax increment bonds or notes. This Act does not relieve any person of the duty to exercise reasonable care in selecting securities.

(d) Tax increment bonds or notes shall be payable only out of the tax increment fund. The governing body of the city or town may irrevocably pledge all or a part of the fund for payment of the bonds or notes. The part of the fund pledged in payment may thereafter be used only for the payment of the bonds or notes or interest on the bonds or notes until the bonds or notes have been fully paid. A holder of the bonds or notes or of coupons issued on the bonds shall have a lien against the fund for payment of the bonds or notes and interest thereon and may either at law or in equity protect and enforce such lien.

(e) Tax increment bonds or notes issued under this Act shall not be general obligations of the city or town, nor in any event shall they give rise to a charge against the general credit or taxing powers of the city or town or be payable other than as provided by this Act. Any tax increment bonds or notes issued under this Act shall so state these restrictions on their face.

(f) Tax increment bonds or notes issued under this Act shall not be included in any computation of the debt of the issuing city or town.

(g) Tax increment bonds or notes may not be issued in an amount exceeding the total costs of implementing the project plan for the zone for which they were issued. The bonds or notes shall mature within 20 years of their date of issue.

Annual Reports

Sec. 12. (a) On or before July 1 of each year, the governing body of the city or town shall submit to the chief executive officer of every taxing unit that levies property taxes on taxable real property in the district a report on the status of the zone. The report shall include the following information:

(1) the amount and source of revenue in the tax increment fund established for the reinvestment zone;

(2) the amount and purpose of expenditures from the fund;

(3) the amount of principal and interest due on any outstanding bonded indebtedness;

(4) the tax increment base and the current captured appraised value retained by the zone; and

(5) the captured appraised value shared by the city or town and other taxing units, the total in tax increments received, and any additional information necessary to demonstrate compliance with the tax increment financing plan adopted by the governing body of the city or town.

(b) A copy of this report shall be forwarded to the attorney general.

Termination of a Reinvestment Zone

Sec. 13. A reinvestment zone shall terminate at the time designated in the ordinance creating the zone or at an earlier time designated by a subsequent ordinance, but in any event the zone shall terminate at such time as all project costs and tax increment bonds, and the interest thereon, have been paid in full. However, the tax increment pledged to the payment of bonds and interest on the bonds may be discharged and the reinvestment zone may be terminated if the city or town deposits or causes to be deposited with a trustee or other escrow agent as may be authorized by law funds that, together with the interest earned on the investment of the funds in direct obligations of the United States of America, will be sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on all bonds issued on behalf of the reinvestment zone at maturity or at the date fixed for the redemption of the bonds, and to pay any other amounts as may become due including compensation due or to become due to the trustee or escrow agent.

Tax Increment Fund

Sec. 14. (a) Money shall be disbursed from the tax increment fund for a reinvestment zone only to satisfy the claims of holders of tax increment bonds or notes issued for the reinvestment zone or to pay project costs for the zone.

(b) Subject to an agreement with the holders of tax increment bonds or notes, money in a tax increment fund may be temporarily invested in the same manner as other funds of the city or town.

(c) After all project costs and all tax increment bonds or notes issued for a reinvestment zone have been paid, and subject to any agreement with bondholders, if there is any money in the fund, it shall be paid over to the city or town and other taxing units levying taxes on property within the zone in amounts that reflect the respective share of total tax increments resulting from taxable real property in a reinvestment zone that were deposited in the fund during the fund's existence.

Sections 2 to 4 of the 1981 Act provide:

"Sec. 2. (a) A reinvestment zone designated pursuant to this Act may not incur tax increments before January 1, 1982.

"(b) A tax incremental district approved by a city or town pursuant to Chapter 695, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 1066d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may be designated by ordinance adopted by the governing body of the city or town as a reinvestment zone under this Act. No other act is necessary for the newly designated zone to exercise powers or perform duties as provided by this Act.

"Sec. 3. This Act expires December 31, 1991. A reinvestment zone established before that date may continue in existence beyond that date as provided by the ordinance creating the zone.

"Sec. 4. This Act takes effect only if the constitutional amendment proposed by S.J.R. No. 8, 67th Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1981, is adopted."

The constitutional amendment proposed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., S.J.R. No. 8, was approved by the voters at an election held November 3, 1981.

Section 2 of Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 3227, ch. 554, provides:

"(a) A reinvestment zone created or operated under the Texas Tax Increment Financing Act of 1981 (Article 1066e, Revised Statutes) as it existed before the effective date of this Act (or a reinvestment zone upon which there had been a hearing after a city had made expenditures with respect to its creation) may operate as it existed (or as it was proposed to have existed) prior to the effective date of this Act; provided that, before January 1, 1984, the board of directors of the zone and the plans for the zone are reconstituted to conform to Sections 6 and 8 of the Texas Tax Increment Financing Act of 1981 (Article 1066e, Revised Statutes) as amended by this Act. Nothing herein contained is intended to or shall be construed to authorize the impairment of any contract entered into prior to the effective date of this Act.

"(b) Tax collection for a reinvestment zone for taxes imposed in 1983 and before is governed by Section 10, Texas Tax Increment Financing Act of 1981 (Article 1066e, Revised Statutes), as it existed when the taxes were imposed. Tax collection and the deposit of tax increments into the tax increment fund for 1984 and subsequent tax years are governed by Section 10 of that Act as amended by this Act."

Art. 1066f. Property Redevelopment and Tax Abatement Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Property Redevelopment and Tax Abatement Act.

Agreements for Property Tax Abatement for Property in Need of Improvements

Sec. 2. (a) The governing body of an incorporated city or town shall agree in writing with the owner of taxable real property located in an area designated as a reinvestment zone under Section 3 of this Act, but not located within an improvement project financed by tax increment bonds, to exempt from taxation all or part of the value of the property for any period not in excess of 15 years, subject to the rights of holders of outstanding bonds of the city or town, on the condition that the owner of the property make specified improvements or repairs to the property in conformity with the comprehensive plan, if any, of the city or town. Written agreements with property owners located within a reinvestment zone shall contain identical terms regarding the share of value of the property that is to be exempt from the taxation under the agreement and the duration of the exemption.

(b) An agreement under Subsection (a) of this section must include provisions for:

(1) listing the kind, number, and location of all proposed improvements of the property;

(2) access to and inspection of property by municipal employees to ensure that the improvements or repairs are made according to the specifications and conditions of the agreements;

(3) limiting the uses of the property consistent with the general purpose of encouraging development or redevelopment of the zone during the period that property tax exemptions are in effect; and

(4) recapturing property tax revenue lost as a result of the agreement if the owner of the property fails to make the improvements or repairs as provided by the agreement.

(c) An agreement under Subsection (a) or (d) of this section may include, at the option of the city or town, provisions for:

(1) improvements or repairs by the city to streets, sidewalks, and utility services or facilities associated with the property, except that the agreement may not provide for lower charges or rates than are made for other services or properties of a similar character;

(2) an economic feasibility study, including a detailed list of estimated improvement costs, a description of the methods of financing all estimated costs, and the time when related costs or monetary obligations are to be incurred;

(3) a map showing existing uses and conditions of real property in the reinvestment zone;

(4) a map showing proposed improvements and uses in the reinvestment zone; and

(5) proposed changes of zoning ordinances, the master plan, the map, building codes, and city ordinances.

(d) If an area is designated a reinvestment zone, every taxing unit that includes inside its boundaries property that is contained inside the boundaries of the reinvestment zone may execute a written agreement with the owner of any property on which the property taxes are abated due to an agreement under Subsection (a) of this section. Such an agreement must contain terms identical to those contained in the agreement with the city or town regarding the share of the property that is to be exempt from taxation under the agreement, the duration of the exemption, and the provisions included in the agreement pursuant to Subsections (b) and (c) of this section. If a taxing unit fails to execute such an agreement, the taxing unit is limited to taxing any property that is the subject of an agreement under Subsection (a) of this section at the same value at which the property was taxed in the year preceding the execution of the agreement with the city or town, for a period of time equal to twice the duration of the agreement with the city or town.

Designation of Reinvestment Zones

Sec. 3. (a) To be designated as a reinvestment zone, an area must:

(1) substantially impair or arrest the sound growth of a city or town, retard the provision of housing accommodations, or constitute an economic or social liability and be a menace to the public health, safety, morals, or welfare in its present condition and use by reason of the presence of a substantial number of substandard, slum, deteriorated, or deteriorating structures; predominance of defective or inadequate sidewalk or street layout;

faulty lot layout in relation to size, accessibility, or usefulness; unsanitary or unsafe conditions; deterioration of site or other improvements; tax or special assessment delinquency exceeding the fair value of the land; defective or unusual conditions of title; the existence of conditions that endanger life or property by fire or other cause; or any combination of these factors or conditions;

(2) be predominantly open and, because of obsolete platting or deterioration of structures or site improvements, or other factors, substantially impair or arrest the sound growth of the city or town;

(3) be in a federally assisted new community located within a home-rule city or in an area immediately adjacent to the federally assisted new community;

(4) be located wholly within an area which meets the requirements for federal assistance under Section 119 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974;¹ or

(5) be designated a local or state-federal enterprise zone under the Texas Enterprise Zone Act.²

(b) For the purposes of Subdivision (3) of Subsection (a) of this section, a federally assisted new community is a federally assisted area that received or will receive assistance in the form of loan guarantees under Title X of the National Housing Act³ and a portion of the federally assisted area has received grants under Section 107(a)(1) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.⁴

(c) The governing body of an incorporated city or town may designate, by boundaries, as a reinvestment zone any area within the taxing jurisdiction of the city or town that the governing body finds to satisfy the requirements of Subsection (a) of this section, subject to the limitations set forth by Section 4 of this Act. The governing body of an incorporated city or town shall designate a reinvestment zone eligible for residential property tax abatement, or commercial-industrial tax abatement, or tax incentive financing as provided for in S. B. No. 16, 67th Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1981.⁵

Limitations on the Designation of an Area

Sec. 4. (a) An area of a reinvestment zone for residential tax abatement or commercial-industrial tax abatement may be included in overlapping or coincidental residential and commercial-industrial zones. In that event, the zone in which the property should be considered for the purpose of execution of an agreement under this Act shall be determined by the comprehensive zoning ordinance, if any, of the city or town.

(b) Designation of a zone for residential or commercial-industrial tax abatement expires five years after the date of the designation and may be renewed for periods not to exceed five years. The expiration of the designation does not affect existing agreements under this Act.

(c) Property in a reinvestment zone that is owned or leased by a member of the governing body of the city or town or by a member of a zoning or planning board or commission of the city or town is excluded from property tax abatement or tax increment financing.

(d) In a city or town having a comprehensive zoning ordinance, an improvement, development, or redevelopment taking place pursuant to an agreement under Section 2 of this Act must conform to that comprehensive zoning ordinance.

Hearings, Procedure

Sec. 5. (a) The designation of a reinvestment zone under this Act must be made by an ordinance of the city or town that describes the boundaries of the reinvestment zone and the eligibility of the zone for residential or commercial-industrial tax abatement or for tax increment financing.

(b) An ordinance designating an area as a reinvestment zone may not be adopted until the governing body of the city or town has held a public hearing on the designation and has found that the improvements sought are feasible and practical and would be a benefit to the land to be included in the zone and to the municipality after an agreement entered into in accordance with Section 2 of this Act has expired. At the hearing, interested persons are entitled to speak and present evidence for or against the designation. Notice of the hearing must be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the city or town not later than seven days before the date of the hearing.

(c) To be effective, an agreement made under Section 2 of this Act must be approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members of the governing body of the city, town, or taxing unit at a regularly scheduled meeting of the governing body. On approval by the governing body, the agreement may be executed as are other contracts made by the city, town, or taxing unit.

Modification or Termination of Agreement

Sec. 6. (a) An agreement made under Section 2 of this Act may be modified by the parties to the agreement to include other provisions that could have been included in the original agreement or to delete provisions that were not necessary to the original agreement at any time during the period of the agreement by the same procedure by which the original agreement was approved and executed. The original agreement may not be amended to extend beyond 15 years from the date of the original agreement.

(b) An agreement made under Section 2 of the Act may be terminated by the mutual consent of the parties in the same manner that the agreement was approved and executed.

[Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 53, ch. 5, §§ 1 to 6. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4791, ch. 841, § 6, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

CHAPTER SIX. FIRE PREVENTION

Art.

- 1067. Frame Building Regulations.
- 1068. Fire Regulations.
- 1069. Fire Department.
- 1070. May Destroy Buildings.
- 1070.1. Liability of Volunteer Firemen for Property Damage.
- 1070a. Uniform Fire Hose Couplings and Hydrant Outlets.
- 1070b. Cities Bordering Mexico; Mutual Fire Protection Agreements.

Art. 1067. Frame Building Regulations

The city council may prohibit the erection, building, placing, moving or repairing of wooden buildings within such limits of the city as it may designate and prescribe, in order to guard against the calamities of fire; and may within said limits prohibit the moving or putting up of any wooden building from without said limits, and may also prohibit the removal of any wooden building from one place to another within said limits, and may direct that all buildings within the limits so designated as aforesaid, shall be made or constructed of fire-proof materials, and may prohibit the rebuilding or repairing of wooden buildings within the fire limits when the same shall have been damaged to the extent of fifty per cent of the value thereof, and may prescribe the manner of ascertaining such damage; and may declare any dilapidated building to be a nuisance and direct the same to be repaired, removed or abated in such manner as they shall direct; to declare all wooden buildings in the fire limits which they deem dangerous to contiguous buildings, or in causing or promoting fires, to be nuisances, and require and cause the same to be removed in such manner as they shall prescribe.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1068. Fire Regulations

The city council shall have power:

1. To prevent and prohibit the dangerous condition of chimneys, flues, fireplaces, stove pipes, ovens or other apparatus used in or about any building or manufactory, and to cause the same to be removed or placed in a secure and safe condition.
2. To prevent the deposit of ashes where they would be liable to produce fire, or in any wooden box or barrel, or within any wooden building, and to appoint officers to enter into any building or inclosure to examine and discover whether the same are in a dangerous state, and to cause such as may be dangerous to be put in a safe condition.

3. To require the inhabitants to keep and provide as many fire buckets and ladders, or other means to reach the roof as they shall prescribe, and to regulate the use thereof in times of fire.

4. To compel the owners or occupants of houses or other buildings to have scuttles in the roofs and stairs or ladders leading to the same.

5. To regulate or prevent the carrying on of manufactories and works dangerous in promoting or causing fires; to prohibit or regulate the building and erection of cotton presses and sheds.

6. To regulate or prevent and prohibit the use of fireworks and firearms.

7. To direct, control or prohibit the keeping and management of houses or any buildings for the storing of gun powder and other combustible, explosive or dangerous materials within the city; to regulate the keeping and conveying of the same.

8. To regulate and prescribe the manner and to order the building of parapet and party walls.

9. To authorize the mayor, officers of fire companies or any officer of said city to keep away from the vicinity of any fire all idle, disorderly or suspicious persons, and arrest and imprison the same, and compel all officers of the city and all other persons to aid in the extinguishment of fires and in the preservation of property exposed to danger thereat, and in preventing theft.

10. And generally to establish such regulations for the prevention and extinguishment of fires as the city council may deem expedient.

Art. 1069. Fire Department

The city council may procure fire engines and other apparatus for the extinguishment of fires, and have control thereof, and provide engine houses for preserving the same; and shall have power to organize fire, hook and ladder, hose and ax companies and fire brigades. The companies so organized, the chief engineer and such assistant engineers as may be provided for, shall constitute the fire department. Each company may elect its own members and officers. The engineers shall be chosen as said department may determine, subject to the approval of the city council, who shall define the duties of said officers and pass such ordinances as they may deem proper for the welfare of said department. All officers so elected and approved shall be commissioned by the mayor. Said companies may adopt their own constitution and by-laws, not inconsistent with this title or the city ordinances. Said department shall take the care and management of the engines and other implements and apparatus provided and used for fighting fire, and their powers and duties shall be prescribed and defined by the city council.

Art. 1070. May Destroy Buildings

When any building in the city is on fire, it shall be lawful for the chief or acting chief engineer, with the concurrence of the mayor, to direct such building, or any other building which they may deem hazardous and likely to take fire and communicate to other buildings, to be torn down or blown up or destroyed, and no action shall be maintained against any person or against the city therefor. Any person interested in any such building so destroyed or injured may, within six months, and not thereafter, apply in writing to the city council to assess and pay the damage he has sustained, and, if the city council and the claimant cannot agree on the terms of adjustment, then the application of such claimant shall be referred to three commissioners, one to be appointed by the claimant, one by the city council and the third by both. Said commissioners shall be qualified voters and owners of real estate in the city. They shall be sworn faithfully to execute their duty according to the best of their ability, shall have power to subpoena and swear witnesses and shall give all parties a fair and impartial hearing, and give notice of the time and place of meeting. They shall take into account the probabilities of the building being destroyed by fire if it had not been so destroyed, and the loss of insurance upon said property, if any, caused by destroying the same, and may report that no damage should equitably be allowed to such claimant. Whenever a report shall be made and finally confirmed for the appraising of said damages, a compliance with the terms thereof by the city council shall be deemed a full satisfaction of said damages.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1070.1. Liability of Volunteer Firemen for Property Damage

No volunteer fireman or volunteer fire department in this state shall be liable to any person for any damage done to his property resulting from the volunteer fireman's or volunteer fire department's reasonable and necessary action in fighting or extinguishing any fire on the property.

Art. 1070a. Uniform Fire Hose Couplings and Hydrant Outlets

Sec. 1. That after this Act takes effect all fire department hose couplings and fire hydrant hose outlets now in service or which may hereafter be installed in this State, except those which are commonly known as the large steamer or pumper outlets shall be provided with an uniform thread conforming to the following specifications, to-wit:

Inside diameter of male thread 2.5 inches.

Outside diameter of finished male thread 3.0625 inches.

Diameter at root of finished male thread 2.8715 inches.

Pitch diameter of male thread 2.9670 inches.

Clearance between male and female thread .03 inches.

Total length of threaded male end one inch.

Flat at top and valley of thread .01 inch.

Pitch or number of threads per inch 7.5.

Pattern—60 degree V thread. Female end cut $\frac{1}{8}$ inch shorter than male end for endwise clearance. Outer ends of male and female threads terminated by the "Higbee Cut," to avoid crossing and mutilation of otherwise finely drawn out thread. Outer end of male thread left blank $\frac{1}{4}$ inch.

Sec. 2. The State Fire Insurance Commission of Texas shall have full supervision over the work necessary to be done in carrying out the provisions of this Act, and that department shall employ competent mechanics and provide all necessary equipment, tools and appliances and proceed with said work, and complete it at the earliest date circumstances will permit.

Sec. 3. The State Fire Insurance Commission shall notify all property owners having equipment for fire protection purposes which it may be necessary for a fire department to use in putting out fire, of the changes necessary to meet the requirements of this Act, and shall render such assistance as may be available in converting their equipment to conform to said requirements.

Sec. 4. The sum of $5,000 or such part thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1928, and $5,000 or such part thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1929, to be used for the purchase of equipment, tools and appliances, and for salaries and traveling expenses and all other necessary expenses of mechanics, in carrying out the provisions of this Act.

Art. 1070b. Cities Bordering Mexico; Mutual Fire Protection Agreements

Sec. 1. Any Texas city bordering on the Republic of Mexico may enter into a mutual fire protection agreement with its corresponding border city in the Republic of Mexico.

Sec. 2. Any Texas fireman responding to a call for fire fighting assistance from the corresponding border city in the Republic of Mexico under the terms of an agreement authorized by Section 1 of this Act shall be deemed to be performing his "official duty" as that term is understood in Article III, Section 51-d, of the Texas Constitution.

CHAPTER SEVEN. SANITARY DEPARTMENT

Art.

- 1071. Health Officers.
- 1072. Regulation of Disease, etc.
- 1073. Public Conveyances.
- 1074. Shall Report Disease.
- 1075. Physician, Powers.
- 1076. Sewerage, etc.
- 1077. Plumbing Inspector.
- 1078 to 1081. Repealed.

Art. 1071. Health Officers

The city council shall appoint a health officer, and as many health inspectors as they may deem necessary, and shall prescribe, by ordinance, the powers and duties and compensation of the same.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1072. Regulation of Disease, etc.

The city council may take such measures as they may deem effectual to prevent the entrance of any pestilence, contagious or infectious diseases into the city; to stop, detain and examine for that purpose any person coming from any place infected, or believed to be infected, with such disease; to establish, maintain and regulate pesthouses or hospitals at some place within or not exceeding five miles beyond the city limits; to cause any person who shall be suspected of being infected with any such disease to be sent to such pesthouse or hospital; to remove from the city or destroy any furniture, wearing apparel, or property of any kind which shall be suspected of being tainted or infected with pestilence, or which shall be likely to pass into such a state as to generate or propagate diseases; to abate all nuisances of every description which are or may become injurious to the public health, in any manner that they deem expedient; and from time to time to do all acts, which they deem expedient; to preserve health and suppress disease in the city.

Art. 1073. Public Conveyances

The owner, driver, conductor or person in charge of any stage, railroad car or public conveyance which shall enter the city, knowingly having on board any person sick of a malignant fever, or pestilential, contagious or infectious disease, unless such person become¹ sick on the way and could not be left, shall, within three hours after the arrival of such sick person, report in writing the facts, with the name of such person and the house where he was put down in the city, to the health officer.

Art. 1074. Shall Report Disease

Every keeper of a hotel, boarding or lodging house in the city, in which any inmate thereof shall be sick with any infectious or pestilential disease, shall upon such fact coming to this knowledge, forthwith report the same to the health officer. Every physician in the city shall report, under his hand, to the officer above named, the name, residence and disease of every patient whom he shall have sick of any infectious or pestilential disease, within six hours after he shall have visited such patient.

Art. 1075. Physician, Powers

The health officer may be authorized by the council, when the public interest requires, to exercise for the time being such of the powers and perform such of the duties of the chief of police as the city council may direct, and is authorized to enter all houses and other places, private or public, at all times, in the discharge of such duties, having first asked permission of the owners or occupants. The city council shall have power to punish, by fine, any neglect or refusal to observe the orders and regulations of the health officer.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1076. Sewerage, etc.

Every city in this State, however organized, having underground sewers or cesspools, shall pass ordinances regulating the tapping of said sewers and cesspools, regulating house draining and plumbing.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1077. Plumbing Inspector

In any such city where there is no city inspector of plumbing provided for by special charter, the governing body shall elect such inspector of plumbing, who shall hold office for such time as fixed by such board. Such inspector of plumbing may be the city engineer, if the board sees fit to elect him.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Arts. 1078 to 1081. Repealed by Acts 1947, 50th Leg., p. 192, ch. 115, § 16

CHAPTER EIGHT. STREETS AND ALLEYS

Art.

- 1082. Powers of Council.
- 1083. Estimates of Cost.
- 1084. Execution on Property.
- 1085. Suit.
- 1085a. Freeways.
- 1085b. Private Purposes, Use of Streets and Sidewalks for.

Art. 1082. Powers of Council

The city council shall be invested with full power and authority to grade, gravel, repair, pave or otherwise improve any avenue, street or alley, or any portion thereof, within the limits of said city, whenever, by a vote of two-thirds of the aldermen present, they may deem such improvement for the public interest; provided, the city council pay one-third and the owner of the property two-thirds thereof, except at the intersection of streets, from lot to lot across the streets either way shall be paid for by the city alone. Said costs shall be assessed on the property fronting on said street so improved, to be collected in equal annual payments, not less than five in number. All moneys collected from these assessments shall be appropriated exclusively to the payment of the bonds issued for the payment of the cost of said improvement.

Art. 1083. Estimates of Cost

Whenever the city council shall determine to make any such improvement, they shall cause an estimate to be made of the probable cost thereof by the city engineer, or by some other officer of the city, or by a committee of three aldermen; and such engineer or other officer or committee shall also report a full list of all lots or fractional lots, giving number and size of the same, and the number of the block in which situated, and the names of the owners thereof, if known, and such other information as may be required by the city council; and if there be a lot or fractional lot the owner of which is not known, the same shall be entered on said list as unknown. The officer or committee aforesaid shall enter on said list, opposite each lot or fractional lot lying and being on each side of the street, avenue or alley so to be improved as aforesaid, one-third of the estimated expense for such work or improvement on such avenue, street or alley fronting, adjoining or opposite such lot or fractional lot; and, on the acceptance and approval of said report and list by the city council, said amount shall be imposed, levied and assessed as taxes, and shall be a lien upon the property until the payment of the same.

Art. 1084. Execution on Property

After such action on the part of the city council, such officer or committee shall give such notice as may be required by ordinance, of said tax being due and within what time payable, and shall begin to collect the same. After the expiration of the period for payment of said tax, said officer or committee shall levy on so much of any property on said list on which said tax has not been paid as will be sufficient to pay the same, and the same notice of sale as is required in sales for other tax shall be given. If said tax is not paid before the day of sale, said officer or committee shall sell property in the name and under the circumstances, and to the extent and subject to the same conditions which may be provided by ordinance for the sale of real estate in the city charged with the payment of taxes imposed by said corporation. Said officer or committee shall execute a deed to the purchaser at any such sale; and all other provisions of this title in reference to a deed drawn by the assessor and collector shall apply to the deed herein provided for.

Art. 1085. Suit

In addition to the authority granted to the city council to collect said assessment of taxes, they shall have the additional remedy of instituting suit in the corporate name for the recovery against any owner of the property for the amount due for any such work so made as aforesaid. They shall provide by resolution or ordinance under the provision of this title, for carrying out and executing the powers in this chapter conferred, and may adopt necessary resolutions, ordinances and regulations.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1085a. Freeways

Sec. 1. The State Highway Commission or the governing body of any incorporated city or town, within their respective jurisdictions may do any and all things necessary to lay out, acquire, construct, maintain and operate any section or portion of any State highway or city street as a freeway, and to make any highway or street within their respective jurisdictions a freeway, except that no existing State highway or city street shall be converted into a freeway except with the consent of the owners of abutting lands, or by the purchase or condemnation of their right of access thereto, providing, however, nothing herein shall be construed as requiring the consent of the owners of abutting lands where a State highway, or city street is constructed, established or located for the first time as a new way for the use of vehicular and pedestrian traffic.

Sec. 2. For the purposes of this Act, the State Highway Commission, County Commissioners Courts and the governing bodies of incorporated cities and towns, may acquire the necessary property and property rights by gift, devise, purchase, or condemnation, in the same manner as such governmental agencies are now or hereafter may be authorized by law to acquire such property for State highways and city streets.

Sec. 2a. The governmental agency which holds the title and property rights to land on which a freeway is located may lease for parking purposes the portions of land situated beneath the elevated sections of the freeway.

Sec. 3. "Freeway" means a State highway or city street in respect to which the right or easement of access to or from their abutting lands has been acquired in whole or in part from the owners thereof by the State Highway Commission or the governing body of an incorporated city or town as hereinabove provided.

Sec. 4. The State Highway Commission or the governing body of a city or town is authorized to close any highway or street within their respective jurisdictions at or near the point of its intersection with any freeway or to make provisions for carrying any highway or street over or under or to a connection with the freeway and may do any and all things on such highway or street as may be necessary therefor.

Sec. 5. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Act is for any reason held unconstitutional, the unconstitutionality thereof shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this Act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the Act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that one or more of the sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

- 1105b-4. Validation of Assessments and Reassessments for Street, Sewer and Water Improvements.
1105b-5. Validation of Certain Governmental Acts and Proceedings Regarding Paving Contracts.
1105c. Cities of More Than 100,000; Elimination of Grade-Level Street Crossings by Railroad Lines.

Art. 1086. Powers of City

Towns, cities and villages, incorporated under either general or special law, which shall accept the benefits of this chapter as herein provided, shall have power to improve any highway within their limits, by filling, grading, raising, paving or repaving the same in a permanent manner, or by the construction or reconstruction of sidewalks, curbs and gutters, or by widening, narrowing or straightening the same, and to construct necessary appurtenances thereto, including sewers and drains, and cities having a population of less than fifteen thousand (15,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future Federal census and which have levied the maximum rate of tax permitted by law, shall have the power to construct and install sanitary sewers and all of the provisions and authority of this chapter pertaining to highway improvement shall likewise apply to the construction and installation of sanitary sewers. "City" when used herein (except when otherwise provided above) shall include all incorporated towns, cities and villages, and the term "highway" shall include any street, avenue, alley, highway, or public place or square, or portion thereof, dedicated to public use. Provided that before any proposal to construct sanitary sewers hereunder shall be put into effect the Governing Body of any city shall be presented by a petition signed by two-thirds (2/3) of the abutting property owners to be affected requesting the Governing Body of the city to make such improvements.

Art. 1087. Order for Improvements

The Governing Body of any city shall have power to order the improvement of any highway therein, or part thereof, and in cities having a population of less than fifteen thousand (15,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future Federal census and which have levied the maximum rate of tax permitted by law, to order the construction and installation of sanitary sewers, and to select the materials and methods of such improvement, and to contract for the construction of such improvements in the name of the city, and to provide for the payment of the cost of such improvements out of any available funds of the city.

Art. 1088. Costs

The cost of making such improvements may be wholly paid by the city, or partly by the city and partly by the owners of the property abutting thereon. In no event shall more than three-fourths of the cost of any improvement, except sidewalks and curbs, be assessed against such property owners or their property. The whole cost of construction of sidewalks and curbs in front of any property may be assessed against the owner thereof or his property.

Art. 1089. Assessments, Railway

Subject to the terms hereof, the governing body of any city shall have the power to assess against the owner of any railroad or street railroad occupying any highway ordered to be improved, the whole cost of the improvement between or under the rails or tracks of said railroad or street railroad and two feet on the outside thereof, and shall have power, by ordinance, to levy a special tax upon said railroad, or street railroad, and its roadbed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchise, which tax shall constitute a lien thereon superior to any other lien or claim, except State, county and municipal taxes, and which may be enforced, either by sale of said property in the manner provided by law in the collection of ad valorem taxes by the city, or by suit against the owner. The ordinance levying said tax shall prescribe when same shall become due and delinquent, and the method of enforcing the same.

Art. 1090. Assessment and Certificates

Subject to the terms hereof, the governing body shall have power by ordinance to assess the whole cost of constructing sidewalks or curbs, and not to exceed three-fourths of the cost of any other improvement, against the owners of property abutting on such improvement and against their abutting property benefited thereby, and to provide for the time and terms of payment of such assessments and the rate of interest payable upon deferred payments thereon, which rate shall not exceed eight per cent per annum, and to fix a lien upon the property and declare such assessments to be a personal liability of the owners of such abutting property; and such governing body shall have the power to cause to be issued in the name of the city, assignable certificates declaring the liability of such owners and their property for the payment of such assessments and to fix the terms and conditions for such certificate. If any such certificate shall recite that the proceedings with reference to making such improvements have been regularly had in compliance with law, and that all prerequisites to the fixing of the assessment lien against the property described in said certificate and fixing the personal liability of the owner have been performed, such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the facts so recited. The ordinance making such assessments shall provide for the collection thereof, with costs and reasonable attorney's fees, if incurred. Such assessments shall be secured by, and constitute a lien on said property, which shall be the first enforceable claim against the property against which it is assessed, superior to all other liens and claims, except State, county and municipal taxes.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1090a. Validating Assessment Ordinances and Liens in Certain Cities

Sec. 1. This Act shall affect all cities in the State of Texas having a population of more than one hundred thousand (100,000) according to the last preceding United States Census.

Sec. 2. In every instance where a city, coming under the provisions of this Act, has attempted to fix a lien upon property by assessment ordinance for the improvement and paving of streets, highways and boulevards, where the State, County and Federal Governments have contributed to the cost of such improvement, requiring the impounding of funds by such city for the purpose of guaranteeing its portion of the cost of such paving and improvements, all actions, resolutions, order, ordinances and proceedings taken, made or passed in reference thereto, or pursuant thereto, are hereby confirmed, ratified and validated, and the lien attempted to be fixed by said assessment ordinance is a valid and subsisting lien against the property assessed irrespective of any irregularities or defects in the proceeding and in like manner as if said assessment had been authorized in the first instance.

Art. 1091. Exempt Property

Nothing herein shall be construed to empower any city to fix a lien by assessment against any property exempt by law from sale under execution; but the owner of such exempt property shall nevertheless be personally liable for the cost of improvements constructed in front of his property, which may be assessed against him. The fact that any improvement is omitted in front of exempt property shall not invalidate the lien of assessments made against other property on the highway improved, not so exempt.

Art. 1092. Enforcement of Lien

The lien created against any property, or the personal liability of the owner thereof, may be enforced by suit or by sale of the property assessed in the same manner as may be provided by law for the sale of property for ad valorem city taxes. The recital in any deed made pursuant to such sale, that all legal prerequisites to said assessment and sale have been complied with, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts so recited and shall in all courts be accepted without further proof.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1093. Notice of Hearing

No assessments of any part of the cost of such improvement shall be made against any property abutting thereon or its owner, until a full and fair hearing shall first have been given to the owners of such property, preceded by a reasonable notice thereof given to said owners, their agents, or attorneys. Such notice shall be by advertisement inserted at least three times in some newspaper published in the city, town or village where such tax is sought to be levied, if there be such a paper there; if not, then in the nearest to said city, town or village, or general circulation in the county in which said city is located; and, in addition, if the owner of such abutting property is a railway or street railway, written notice of the assessment and hearing thereon shall be served by either delivering in person to the local agent or by depositing the same in the city post office, postage paid, and properly addressed to the offices of the railway or street railway at the address as it appears on the last approved city tax roll; and such written notice, if required, shall be mailed or delivered, and the first publication shall be made, at least ten (10) days before the date of the hearing. The governing body may provide for additional notice cumulative of that notice specified above.

Art. 1094. Hearing

Said hearing shall be before the governing body of such cities, at which such owners shall have the right to contest the said assessment and personal liability, and the regularity of the proceedings with reference to the improvement, and the benefit of said improvement to their property, and any other matter relating thereto. No assessment shall be made against any owner of abutting property or his property in any event in excess of the actual benefit to such owner in the enhanced value of his property, by means of such improvement, as ascertained at such hearing. The governing body of any city making improvements under the terms hereof shall, by ordinance, adopt rules and regulations providing for such hearings to property owners, and for giving reasonable notice thereof.

Art. 1095. Reassessment

The governing body of any city shall be empowered to correct any mistake or irregularity in any proceedings with reference to such improvement, or the assessment of the cost thereof against abutting property and its owners, and in case of any error or invalidity, to reassess against any abutting property and its owner the cost or part of the cost of improvements, subject to the terms hereof, not in excess of the benefits in enhanced value of such property from such improvement, and to make reasonable rules and regulations for a notice to and hearing of property owners before such reassessment.

Art. 1096. Owner May Sue

Any property owner, against whom or whose property any assessment or reassessment has been made, shall have the right within twenty days thereafter, to bring suit to set aside or correct the same, or any proceeding with reference thereto, on account of any error or invalidity therein. But thereafter such owner, his heirs, assigns or successors, shall be barred from any such action, or any defense of invalidity in such proceedings or assessments or reassessments in any action in which the same may be brought in question.

Art. 1097. Special Reassessment

In any case in which the public funds of a city or town may have been or may hereafter be expended, or its vouchers or certificates issued to any contractor, or any contract made therewith, for the special improvement, raising or lowering the grade of, opening, straightening, widening, paving, constructing or grading of any street, avenue, alley, sidewalk, gutter or public way, or any part thereof, and if for any reason, no part of the cost of such improvement has been borne by the abutting property or paid by the owner or owners thereof, either because an attempted assessment and enforcement thereof for the same was erroneous or void, or was so declared in any judicial proceeding, the governing body shall have the power to proceed at any time to specially assess or reassess, such abutting property with such amount of the cost of such improvement as it deems proper, but in no event shall the amount exceed the special benefits such property receives therefrom by enhanced value thereto, the amount of such special benefits to be determined on a basis of the condition of such improvement as it exists at the time of such assessment or reassessment.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1098. Notice, etc.

No such assessment or reassessment shall be made without at least ten (10) days written notice and an opportunity to be heard on such question of special benefits given to the owner or owners of such abutting property. Such notice may be served either personally or by publication in some newspaper of general circulation, published in said city or town; and, when any such abutting property is owned by a railway or street railway, notice shall be made both by such publication and by delivery of written notice, either in person to its local agent, or by depositing said written notice in the city post office, postage paid, and properly addressed to the offices of the railway or street railway at the address as it appears on the last approved city tax roll, and the governing body of any such city or town shall have power, not inconsistent herewith, to provide for all procedure, rules, and regulations necessary or proper for such notice and hearing and to levy, assess, and collect such assessment or reassessment.

Art. 1099. Special Lien

Such assessment, or reassessment shall constitute a lien upon such abutting property and a personal charge against the owner or owners thereof, which amount shall not be construed as becoming due, or having become due, before such assessment or reassessment is properly made in accordance with the provisions of this law.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1100. Time Limit

Such assessment or reassessment as hereinbefore provided shall be begun within three years after the completion of improvements contiguous to the property against which assessment or reassessment is made, and not thereafter. In cases of reassessments where the question of validity of the original assessment may be, or may have been, in litigation, the period of time during which it was in litigation shall not be considered in computing said period of limitation.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1101. Amount of Assessment

Any such assessment or reassessment made by the governing body of any city or town with less than five thousand inhabitants may equal the entire cost of sidewalk, curb and gutter, and the cost of any street improvement, exclusive of street intersections, and such governing body of such town in making such assessment or reassessment, shall follow the procedure prescribed in articles 1082 and 1083 in so far as applicable, but no such assessment or reassessment shall be made in excess of the special benefits in enhanced value conferred thereby on the property abutting such improvement, or until the owner or owners of such property shall have had notice, as provided above, and opportunity to contest such issue before such governing body under such rules and regulations as it may, by ordinance, prescribe.

Art. 1102. Enforcible When

Such assessment, or reassessment, shall be due and payable in equal annual installments not less than five in number; provided that the owner of such property shall have the right to appeal from the decision of the governing board to any court of competent jurisdiction within twenty days after such reassessment shall have been made, and upon failure to do so in said period, such assessment shall be final and conclusive upon such owner and property.

Art. 1103. Effect of Law

The provisions of the six preceding articles relating to special assessments or reassessments are cumulative of all powers heretofore granted to any city or town either by general or special law; and all charter provisions of all cities and towns in this State heretofore adopted relative to the subject covered by this law are hereby validated.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1104. Adoption of Provisions

The benefits of the provisions of this article and Articles 1086 to 1096, both inclusive, and Article 1105 shall apply to any city, and the terms thereof extend to the same, when the governing body thereof shall submit the question of the adoption or rejection hereof to a vote of the resident property taxpayers, who are qualified voters of said city, at a special election called for the purpose by said city. Said election shall be held as nearly as possible in compliance with the law with reference to regular city elections in said city, but said governing body is hereby empowered, and it shall be their duty on the written petition of one hundred qualified voters of said city, by resolution, to order said election, and prescribe the time and manner of holding the same. Said body shall canvass and determine the results of such election. If a majority of the voters voting upon the question of the adoption of said article, at such election, shall vote to adopt the same, the result of the election shall be entered by said governing body upon their minutes, and thereupon all the terms of said articles shall be applicable to and govern such city adopting the same. A certified copy of said minutes shall be prima facie evidence of the result of such election and the regularity thereof. When the provisions of said articles have been adopted by any city, the governing body thereof shall have full power to pass all ordinances or resolutions necessary or proper to give full force and effect thereto and to every part thereof.

Art. 1105. Provisions Cumulative

The provisions of Articles 1086 to 1096, both inclusive, and Article 1104 and of resolutions or ordinances passed pursuant thereto shall be cumulative of and in addition to existing laws pertaining to the making of such improvements. In any case in which a conflict may exist or arise between the provisions of said articles and the provisions of any law granting a special charter to any city in this State, the provisions of such special charter shall control.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1105a. Establishing Building Lines on Streets"Street" Defined

Sec. 1. The word "street" as used in this Act, means any public highway, boulevard, parkway, square or street, or any part or side of any of the same.

Building Lines Authorized

Sec. 2. It shall hereafter be lawful for any city, town, or village to establish building lines on any public street or highway, or part thereof in such city, town, or village.

Ordinance or Resolution; Effect

Sec. 3. The Legislative Body of any such city desiring to establish a building line may do so by adopting a resolution or ordinance describing the street, highway or part thereof to be affected, and the location of the building line or lines, and except as herein otherwise provided, by following the same procedure as that authorized by law in such city for the acquiring of land for the opening of streets. After the establishment of any such line, no building or other structures shall be erected, reconstructed or substantially repaired, and no new buildings or other structure, or part thereof, shall be erected or reerected within said lines so established.

Condemnation Proceedings

Sec. 4. The procedure for instituting and conducting the condemnation proceedings to condemn the easements and interests necessary to be taken and acquired to establish a building line under the authority of this Act, and to assess and collect benefits against property owners and their property abutting on or the vicinity of said building line arising out of the establishment of said building line, shall be the same as that authorized by law in such city in connection with the opening of streets. In the condemnation of any tract where the ownership of or interests in said tract is in controversy or is unknown, the award may be made in bulk as to such tract, and paid into court for the use of the parties owning or interested therein, whoever they may be, as their interests may appear. The award and findings of the Special Commissioners when filed with the Judge of the County Court, or other court having jurisdiction over the condemnation proceedings, shall be final, and shall be made the judgment of said court. Compensation shall be due and payable upon rendition of the judgment by the court adopting the award.

Time for Conformance; Removal of Structures Within Line

Sec. 5. Whenever and wherever a building line shall be established under authority of this Act, all structures extending within such building lines shall be required to conform to the new line within a period of not more than twenty-five (25) years from the time of establishing said lines; such time to be provided in the ordinance providing for the establishment of such line. At any time, however, before or after the expiration of the time so fixed, the proper municipal authorities shall have the power to proceed in the manner then provided by law relating to condemnation proceedings by such cities to remove all structures and to condemn any property then within such line, and to assess benefits against property owners and their property benefited thereby, provided, however, that all owners of property so affected shall receive due notice and hearing in the manner then provided by law in the determination of the additional damages then sustained by the removal of such structures or the taking of land then within the building line and in the determination of benefits to be assessed against property owners affected and their property affected.

Act as Cumulative

Sec. 6. This Act shall be in addition to and cumulative of any powers now or hereafter conferred by law on such cities.

[Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 415, ch. 276. Amended by Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 1094, ch. 483, § 1, eff. June 12, 1967.]

Art. 1105b. Street Improvements and Assessments in Cities Having More Than 1000 InhabitantsPower to Make Improvements; Boundary Streets

Sec. 1. (a) That cities, towns and villages incorporated under either general or special law, including those operating under special charter, or amendments of charter adopted pursuant to the Home Rule provisions of the Constitution, shall have power to cause to be improved, any highway, within their limits by filling, grading, raising, paving, repaving, and repairing in a permanent manner, and by constructing, reconstructing, repairing and realigning curbs, gutters and sidewalks, and by widening, narrowing and straightening, and by constructing appurtenances and incidentals to any of such improvements, including drains and culverts, which power shall include that of causing to be made any one or more of the kinds or classes of improvements herein named or any combination thereof, or of parts thereof.

(b) Whenever a part of the boundary of any such city is upon or along any street or highway, which at that point lies wholly within, partly within and partly without or wholly outside of its limits, such city may improve such portion of such street and assess a part of the cost thereof against the abutting property lying on both sides of such street by the proceedings set forth in this Act, provided that if such street lies wholly or partly within the limits of any other such city the governing body thereof shall consent to the improvement and if assessments are levied against any property lying within the limits of any other city than the one (1) initiating the improvement, the governing body of such other city shall consent to such assessments as herein-after provided. If assessments are finally levied as particularly provided by Section 9 of this Act against any abutting property lying within the limits of any other city than the one (1) initiating the improvements, such assessments shall not be valid unless the governing body of such other city shall by ordinance or resolution ratify and approve the assessments so levied, and any one owning or claiming any such abutting property, in addition to the right of appeal given by said Section of this Act, shall have the further right of appeal from any such assessment for fifteen (15) days after the passage of the ordinance or resolution by which the governing body of such other city so ratifies and approves such assessments; provided further that if the governing body of such other city does not ratify and approve such assessments within thirty (30) days after the date of the ordinance or resolution levying the same then the city which initiated the project may in the discretion of its governing body repeal and annul all of the proceedings relating thereto, including the contract, if any, for the work; and provided further that failure on the part of the governing body of such other city to so ratify and approve such assessments shall not affect the validity of the assessments which have been levied against any property lying within the limits of the city initiating the improvement.

(c) Whenever a part of the boundary between any two (2) such cities is upon and along any street or highway or is along the edge of any street or highway and the governing bodies of both cities determine the necessity for any such improvement of such portion of said street or highway, then such two (2) cities may contract upon such terms as their respective governing bodies may approve to the effect that one (1) or the other of them shall by the proceedings provided for in this Act, improve such portion of said street and that the other of such two (2) cities shall pay a part of the cost thereof, such payment to be made at such time or times and subject to such conditions as they may so agree upon; and the use by either of such cities of its funds for such purpose shall be lawful whether the street to be improved lies wholly within, partly within and partly without, or wholly outside of its limits.

Cities Over 285,000; Improvements on Highway or Road Outside Limits

Sec. 1a. Any city mentioned in Section 1 and having a population in excess of two hundred and eighty-five thousand (285,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census may make the improvements named in Section 1 hereof on any highway or road without the limits of such city if such improvements do not extend more than one hundred and fifty (150) feet from the limits of such city.

Definitions

Sec. 2. That the term "city" whenever used herein shall include all incorporated cities, town and villages; that the term "governing body" whenever used herein, includes the governing or legislative bodies of all incorporated town, cities and villages, whether known as councils, commissions, boards of commissioners, common councils, boards of aldermen, city councils, or by whatever name such bodies may be known or designated under general or special laws or charters. That whenever the term "highway" is used herein it shall include any street, avenue, alley, highway, boulevard, drive, public place, square, or any portion or portions thereof, including any portion that may have or may be left wholly or partly unimproved in connection with other street improvements heretofore or hereafter made. The term "improve" or "improvements" when used herein shall include the kinds and classes of improvements, with incidents and appurtenances thereto, and any portions or combinations thereof, or of parts thereof, hereinabove mentioned, liberally construed. That whenever the term "cost" or "costs of improvements" or similar terms are used herein, same shall include expenses of engineering and other expenses incident to construction of improvements, in addition to the other costs of the improvements.

Powers of Governing Body

Sec. 3. That the governing body of any city shall have power to determine the necessity for, and to order, the improvement of any highway, highways, or parts thereof within such city, and to contract for the construction of such improvements in the name of the city, and to provide for the payment of the cost of such improvements by the city, or partly by the city and partly by assessments as hereinafter provided.

Cost of Improvement; Estimate for Assessment in Part on Abutting Property

Sec. 4. That the cost of such improvements may be wholly paid by the city, or partly by the city and partly by property abutting upon the highway or portion thereof ordered to be improved, and the owners of such property, but if any part of the cost is to be paid by such abutting property and the owners, then before any such improvements are actually constructed, and before any hearing herein provided for is held, the governing body shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, an estimate of the cost of such improvements, and in no event shall more than all the cost of constructing, reconstructing, repairing and realigning curbs, gutters and sidewalks, and nine-tenths of the remaining cost of such improvements as shown on such estimate be assessed against such abutting property and owners thereof.

Special Tax on Street Railways for Improvement of Area Occupied

Sec. 5. If improvements be ordered constructed in any part of the area between and under rails, tracks, double tracks, turn outs and switches, and two feet on each side thereof, of any railway, street railway, or interurban, using, occupying, or crossing any such highway, portion or portions thereof, ordered improved, then the governing body shall have power to assess the whole cost of the improvements in such area against such railway, street railway, or interurban, and shall have power, by ordinance, to levy a special tax upon such railway, street railway, or interurban, and its road-bed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchises, which tax shall constitute a lien thereon superior to any other lien or claim except State, County, and City ad valorem taxes, and which may be enforced either by sale of said property in the manner provided by law for the collection of ad valorem taxes by the city, or by suit in any court having jurisdiction. The ordinance levying such tax shall prescribe the time, terms and conditions of payment thereof, and the rate of interest, not to exceed 8% per annum, and same, if not paid when due, shall be collectible, together with interest, expenses of collection and reasonable attorney's fees, if incurred. The Governing Body shall have power to cause to be issued assignable certificates in evidence of any such assessments as herein after provided.

Assessments on Abutting Property; Certificates

Sec. 6. Subject to the terms hereof, the governing body of any city shall have power by ordinance to assess all the cost of constructing, reconstructing, repairing, and realigning, curbs, gutters, and sidewalks, and not exceeding nine-tenths of the estimated cost of such improvements, exclusive of curbs, gutters, and sidewalks, against property abutting upon the highway or portion thereof ordered to be improved, and against the owners of such property, and to provide the time, terms, and conditions of payment and defaults of such assessments, and to prescribe the rate of interest thereon not to exceed eight (8) per cent per annum. Any assessment against abutting property shall be a first and prior lien thereon from the date improvements are ordered, and shall be a personal liability and charge against the true owners of such property at said date, whether named or not. The governing body shall have power to cause to be issued in the name of the city assignable certificates in evidence of assessments levied declaring the lien upon the property and the liability of the true owner or owners thereof whether correctly named or not and to fix the terms and conditions of such certificates.

If any such certificate shall recite substantially that the proceedings with reference to making the improvements therein referred to have been regularly had in compliance with the law and that all prerequisites to the fixing of the assessment lien against the property described in said certificate and the personal liability of the owner or owners thereof have been performed, same shall be prima facie evidence of all the matters recited in said certificate, and no further proof thereof shall be required. In any suit upon any assessment or reassessment in evidence of which a certificate may be issued under the terms of this Act it shall be sufficient to allege the substance of the recitals in such certificate and that such recitals are in fact true, and further allegations with reference to the proceedings relating to such assessment or reassessment shall not be necessary.

Such assessments shall be collectable with interest, expense of collections, and reasonable attorney's fee, if incurred, and shall be first and prior lien on the property assessed, superior to all other liens and claims except State, county, school district, and city ad valorem taxes, and shall be a personal liability and charge against said owners of the property assessed.

Assessment Apportioned Under Front Foot Plan Unless Inequitable

Sec. 7. The part of the cost of improvements on each portion of highway ordered improved which may be assessed against abutting property and owners thereof shall be apportioned among the parcels of abutting property and owners thereof, in accordance with the Front Foot Plan or Rule provided that if the application of this rule would, in the opinion of the Governing Body, in particular cases, result in injustice or inequality, it shall be the duty of said Body to apportion and assess said costs in such proportion as it may deem just and equitable, having in view the special benefits in enhanced value to be received by such parcels of property and owners thereof, the equities of such owners; and the adjustment of such apportionment so as to produce a substantial equality of benefits received and burdens imposed.

No Lien on Property Exempt; Personal Liability of Owner; Enforcing Lien

Sec. 8. Nothing herein shall empower any city, or its governing body, to fix a lien against any interest in property exempt, at the time the improvements are ordered, from the lien of special assessment for street improvements, but the owner or owners of such property shall nevertheless be personally liable for any assessment in connection with such property: The fact that any improvement, though ordered, is omitted in front of property, any interest in which is so exempt, shall not invalidate the lien or liability of assessments made against other property.

The lien created against any property and the personal liability of the owner or owners thereof may be enforced by suit in any court having jurisdiction, or by sale of the property assessed in the same manner as may be provided by law or charter in force in the particular city for sale of property for ad valorem city taxes.

Notice and Hearing; Contents of Notice

Sec. 9. No assessment herein provided for shall be made against any abutting property or its owners, nor against any railway, street railway or interurban, or owner, until after notice and opportunity for hearing as herein provided, and no assessment shall be made against any abutting property or owners thereof in excess of the special benefits of such property, and its owners in the enhanced value thereof by means of such improvements as determined at such hearing. Such notice shall be by advertisement inserted at least three (3) times in some newspaper published in the city where such special assessment tax is to be imposed, if there be such a paper; if not, then the nearest to such city of general circulation in the county in which such city is located; the first publication of such notice of hearing to be made at least twenty-one (21) days before the date of the hearing; and, additional written notice of the hearing shall be given by depositing in the United States mail, at least fourteen (14) days before the date of the hearing; written notice of such hearing, postage prepaid, in an envelope addressed to the owners of the respective properties abutting such highway, highways or portion or portions thereof to be improved, as the names of such owners are shown on the then current rendered tax rolls of such city and at the addresses so shown, or if the names of such respective owners do not appear on such rendered tax rolls, then addressed to such owners as their names are shown on the current unrendered rolls of the city at the addresses shown thereon; and, where a special tax is proposed to be levied against any railway or street railway using, occupying or crossing any highway, portion or portions thereof to be improved, such additional notice shall be given by depositing in the United States mail, at least fourteen (14) days before the date of the hearing, a written notice of such hearing, postage prepaid, in an envelope addressed to the said railway or street railway as shown on the then current rendered tax rolls of such city, at the address so shown, or, if the name of such respective railways do not appear on such rendered rolls of the city, then addressed to such railways or street railways as the names are shown on the current unrendered rolls of the city, at the addresses shown thereon. If any such notice shall describe in general terms the nature of the improvements for which assessments are proposed to be levied and to which such notice relates, shall state the highway, highways, portion or portions thereof to be improved, shall state the estimated amount or amounts per front foot proposed to be assessed against the owner or owners of abutting property and such property on each highway or portion with reference to which hearing mentioned in the notice is to be held, and shall state the estimated total cost of the improvements on each such highway, portion or portions thereof, and, if the improvements are to be constructed in any part of the area between and under rails and tracks, double tracks, turnouts, and switches, and two (2) feet on each side thereof of any railway, street railway or interurban, shall also state the amount proposed to be assessed therefor, and shall state the time and place at which such hearing shall be held, then such notice shall be sufficient, valid and binding upon all owning or claiming such abutting property, or any interest therein, and upon all owning or claiming such railway, street railway, or interurban, or any interest therein. The notice to be mailed may consist of a copy of the published notice. In those cases in which an owner of property abutting a highway or portion thereof which is to be improved is listed as "unknown" on the then current city tax roll, or the name of an owner is shown on the city tax roll but no address for such owner is shown, no notice need be mailed. In those cases where the owner is shown to be an estate, the mailed notice may be addressed to such estate. Such hearing shall be by and before the governing body of such city and all owning any such abutting property, or any interest therein, and all owning any such railway, street railway or interurban, or any interest therein, shall have the right, at such hearing, to be heard on any matter as to which hearing is a constitutional prerequisite to the validity of any assessment authorized by this Act, and to contest the amounts of the proposed assessments, the lien and liability thereof, the special benefits to the abutting property and owners thereof by means of the improvements for which assessments are to be levied, the accuracy, sufficiency, regularity and validity of the proceedings and contract in connection with such improvements and proposed assessments, and the governing body shall have power to correct any errors, inaccuracies, irregularities, and invalidities, and to supply any deficiencies, and to determine the amounts of assessments and all other matters necessary, and by ordinance to close such hearing and levy such assessments before, during or after the construction of such improvements, but no part of any assessment shall be made to mature prior to acceptance by the city of the improvements for which assessment is levied.

Anyone owning or claiming any property assessed, or any interest therein, or any railway, street railway, or interurban assessed, or any interest therein, who shall desire to contest any such assessment on account of the amount thereof, or any inaccuracy, irregularity, invalidity, or insufficiency of the proceedings or contract with reference thereto, or with reference to such improvements, or on account of any matter or thing not in the discretion of the governing body, shall have the right to appeal therefrom and from such hearing by instituting suit for that purpose in any court having jurisdiction, within fifteen (15) days from the time such assessment is levied, and anyone who shall fail to institute such suit within such time shall be held to have waived every matter which might have been taken advantage of at such hearing, and shall be barred and estopped from in any manner contesting or questioning such assessment, the amount, accuracy, validity, regularity, and sufficiency thereof, and of the proceedings and contract with reference thereto and with reference to such improvement for or on account of any matter whatsoever. And the only defense to any such assessment in any suit to enforce the same shall be that the notice of hearing was not mailed as required or was not published or did not contain the substance of one or more of the requisites therefor herein prescribed, or that the assessments exceed the amount of the estimate, and no words or acts of any officer or employee of the city, or member of any governing body shown in its written proceedings and records shall in any way affect the force and effect of the provisions of this Act.

Changes in Proceedings; Procedure

Sec. 10. The governing body of the city shall have power to provide for changes in plans, methods or contracts for improvements, or other proceedings relating thereto, but any change substantially affecting the nature or quality of any improvements shall only be made when it is determined by two-thirds vote of the governing body that it is not practical to proceed with the improvement as theretofore provided for, and if any such substantial change be made after any hearing has been ordered or held then unless the improvement be abandoned altogether a new estimate of cost shall be made and a new hearing ordered, and held, and new notices given, all with like effect and in like manner as herein provided for original notices and hearings. Changes in or abandonment of improvements must be with the consent of such person, firm or corporation as may have contracted with the city for the construction thereof, if any such contract has been entered into, and in case of abandonment of any particular improvement an ordinance shall be passed which shall have the effect of cancelling any assessments theretofore levied therefor, and all other proceedings relating thereto.

Assessments Against Parcels Owned Jointly

Sec. 11. Assessments against several parcels of property may be made in one assessment when owned by the same person, firm, corporation or estate, and property owned jointly by one or more persons, firms or corporations, may be assessed jointly.

Powers of Governing Body

Sec. 12. Said governing body shall have power to carry out all the terms and provisions of this Act and to exercise all the powers thereof, either by resolution, motion, order or ordinance, except where ordinance is specifically prescribed, and such governing body shall have power to adopt, either by resolution or ordinance, any and all rules or regulations appropriate to the exercise of such powers, the method and manner of ordering and holding such hearings, and the giving of notices thereof.

Correction of Assessments; Reassessment Certificates

Sec. 13. In case any assessment shall for any reason whatsoever be held or determined to be invalid or unenforceable, then the governing body of such city is empowered to supply any deficiency in proceedings with reference thereto and correct any mistake or irregularity in connection therewith, and at any time to make and levy reassessments after notice and hearing as nearly as possible in the manner herein provided for original assessments, and subject to the provisions hereof with reference to special benefits. Recitals in certificates issued in evidence of reassessments shall have the same force as provided for recitals in certificates relating to original assessments.

Appeal

Sec. 14. Anyone owning or claiming any property or interest in any property against which such reassessment is levied shall have the same right of appeal as herein provided in connection with original assessments, and in the event of failure to appeal within fifteen (15) days from the date of such reassessment, the provisions hereinabove made with reference to waiver, bar, estoppel, and defense shall apply to such reassessment.

[Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 489, ch. 106. Amended by Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 904, ch. 439, § 1; Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 104, § 1; Acts 1951, 52nd Leg., p. 454, ch. 281, § 1; Acts 1963, 58th Leg., p. 140, ch. 83, § 1; Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 365, ch. 176, § 1, eff. May 12, 1967.]

Section 15 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 489, ch. 106, provided that the act should not repeal articles 1086-1096, 1104, 1105, and should not repeal any charter or law, but should exist as alternative provisions and that any city which might adopt or amend its charter under the Home Rule provision might provide therein for any of the provisions thereof as part of or as alternative to any charter provision, and provided further that the act should not apply to cities not having more than one thousand inhabitants, and section 16 provided that if any section or part was held invalid, such holding should not affect the remainder.

Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 364, ch. 176 amended section 9 of this article; sections 2 and 3 of the amendatory act provided:

"Sec. 2. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as invalidating any assessment for street improvements heretofore levied by any city pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 106, Acts of the Fortieth Legislature, First Called Session, 1927, as amended [this article]."

"Sec. 3. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act shall nevertheless be valid, and the Legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision."

Art. 1105b-1. Validating Special Assessments for Street Improvements

Sec. 1. That where any city acting through its governing body has heretofore levied assessments for street improvements against property abutting upon the highway or portion thereof ordered to be improved and against the owners of such property, and where such city has purported to act under the authority of Chapter 106, page 489 et seq., Acts of the Fortieth Legislature, First Called Session, 1927, as amended, as said Act read on the date said assessments were levied (which Act as amended appears as Article 1105b in Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and where not more than all of the cost of constructing, reconstructing, repairing and realigning curbs, gutters and sidewalks and not more than nine-tenths ($\frac{9}{10}$) of the remaining cost of such improvements as shown on the estimate of costs prepared or caused to be prepared by the governing body of said city, where assessed against the property abutting upon the highway or portion thereof ordered to be improved and against the owners thereof, and where the portion of the cost of the improvements which was assessed against abutting property and the owners thereof was in fact apportioned among the parcels of abutting property and the owners thereof in accordance with the front foot plan or rule, or, where the city, in addition to giving the published notice provided for by Section 9 of Chapter 106 of the Acts of the Fortieth Legislature, First Called Session, 1927, as amended, as it then read, mailed or caused to be mailed by United States mail, postage prepaid, a reasonable time prior to the date of the hearing, notices containing the information required to be contained in the published notice, addressed to the owners of the respective properties abutting the highway, highways or portions thereof to be improved as such names of such owners were shown on the then current tax rolls of such city at the addresses so shown, all such assessments and all proceedings levying same are hereby legalized, approved and validated as of the respective times and dates of such assessments and proceedings and according to their terms and shall have the force and effect provided by the provisions of said Chapter 106 of the Acts of the Fortieth Legislature, First Called Session, 1927, as amended, except that nothing herein shall be construed as validating or legalizing any lien against any interest in property exempt at the time the improvements were ordered from the lien of special assessments for street improvements.

Sec. 2. All assignable certificates of special assessment issued in evidence of such assessments hereby validated are hereby legalized, approved and validated according to their terms. Any city which has heretofore levied assessments validated hereby but has not yet issued assignable certificates of special assessment to evidence such assessments may issue same and such certificate shall be valid and legal.

Art. 1105b-2. Validation of Special Assessments and Reassessments for Street Improvements

Sec. 1. All assessments and reassessments for street or highway improvements heretofore levied or purported to be levied by any and all cities in the state against properties abutting their streets or highways and against the owners of such properties, and all proceedings of the governing bodies of such cities levying or purporting to levy such assessments or reassessments are in all respects validated and shall have the force and effect provided by the provisions of Chapter 106 of the Fortieth Legislature, First Called Session, 1927, as amended,¹ except that nothing herein shall be construed to validate or to legalize any assessment lien levied or attempted to be levied against any property or interest in property exempt at the time the improvements were ordered from the lien of special assessment for street improvements.

Sec. 2. All assignable certificates of special assessment issued in evidence of such assessments or reassessments are hereby validated according to their terms. Any city which has not yet issued assignable certificates of special assessment to evidence such assessments may issue same and such certificates shall be valid and legal.

Sec. 3. This Act is not intended to validate, nor does it apply to any assessments or reassessments for street improvements or utility improvements (regardless whether said assessment or reassessment be in the form of zoning regulations, plat regulations, utility regulations, or direct money assessments), nor to any ordinances or resolutions of the governing bodies of such cities authorizing the issuance of any such certificates of special assessment, which are the subject matter of any litigation pending on the effective date of this Act, in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state in which the validity thereof is being challenged, if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of same.

Art. 1105b-3. Validation of Assessments and Reassessments for Street, Sewer and Water Improvements

Sec. 1. That where any city acting through its governing body has heretofore levied assessments or reassessments for street improvements against property abutting upon a highway or portion thereof ordered to be improved and against the owners of such property, and such city has acted or purported to act under the authority of Chapter 106, pages 489 et seq., Acts of the 40th Legislature, First Called Session, 1927, as amended (which Act as amended appears as Article 1105b in Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), all such assessments and reassessments heretofore levied or purporting to be levied against properties abutting such streets and highways and against the owners of such properties, and all proceedings of the governing bodies of such cities levying or purporting to levy such assessments or reassessments are in all respects hereby legalized, approved and validated as of the respective times and dates of such assessments and reassessments and proceedings and according to their terms and shall have the force and effect provided by the provisions of said Chapter 106, pages 489 et seq., of the Acts of the 40th Legislature, First Called Session, 1927, as amended, and the liens thereof shall be effective from and after the times thereon so provided, except that nothing herein shall be construed as validating or legalizing any lien against any interest in property exempt, at the time the improvements were ordered from the lien of special assessment or reassessment for local improvements under the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. That where any city acting through its governing body has heretofore levied assessments or reassessments for improvements to a sanitary sewer system within its limits, or improvements to a water system within its limits, either or both, against benefitted properties and the owners thereof, and the city has acted or purported to act under the authority of the provisions of Chapter 192, pages 512 et seq., Acts of the 58th Legislature, Regular Session, 1963, as amended (which Act as amended appears as Article 1110c in Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), all such assessments and reassessments and all proceedings levying same are hereby legalized, approved and validated as of the respective times and dates of such assessments and reassessments and proceedings and according to their terms and shall have the force and effect provided by the provisions of Chapter 192, pages 512 et seq., Acts of the 58th Legislature, Regular Session, 1963, as amended, and the lien thereof shall be effective from and after the times therein provided, except that nothing herein shall be construed as validating or legalizing any lien against any interest in property exempt from the lien of special assessment or reassessment for local improvements under the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Sec. 3. That where any city acting through its governing body has heretofore levied assessments or reassessments for street improvements against property abutting upon the highway or portions thereof ordered to be improved and against the owners of such property, and where such city has acted or purported to act under the authority of Chapter 106, pages 489 et seq., Acts of the 40th Legislature, First Called Session, 1927, as amended, and has levied or purported to levy said assessments or reassessments for such street improvements in conjunction with a levy of assessments or reassessments against benefitted properties and the owners thereof for improvements to a sanitary sewer system within its limits, or for improvements to a water system within its limits, either or both, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 192, pages 512 et seq., Acts of the 58th Legislature, Regular Session, 1963, as amended (which Act as amended appears as Article 1110c in Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) by one joint proceeding, as provided by Section 18 of the provisions of Chapter 192, pages 512 et seq., Acts of the 58th Legislature, Regular Session, 1963, as amended, all such assessments and reassessments and all proceedings levying same are hereby legalized, approved and validated as of the respective times and dates of such assessments and reassessments and proceedings and according to their terms and shall have the force and effect provided by the provisions of Chapter 106, pages 489 et seq., Acts of the 40th Legislature, First Called Session, 1927, as amended, and by the provisions of Chapter 192, pages 512 et seq., Acts of the 58th Legislature, Regular Session, 1963, as amended, and the liens thereof shall be effective from and after the respective times so provided by said respective statutes, except that nothing herein shall be construed as validating or legalizing any lien against any interest in property exempt at the time the lien takes effect from the lien of special assessments or reassessments for local improvements under the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Sec. 4. That all assignable certificates of special assessment issued in evidence of any of such street, water or sanitary sewer assessment or any combination thereof, assessments or reassessments are hereby validated according to their terms. Any city which has not yet issued assignable certificates of special assessment to evidence any of such assessments may issue same and such certificates shall be valid and legal according to their terms.

Sec. 5. This Act is not intended to validate, nor does it apply to any assessments or reassessments for street improvements, nor to any certificates of special assessment or reassessment, nor to any ordinances or resolutions of the governing bodies of such cities authorizing the issuance of any such certificates of special assessment, which are the subject matter of any litigation pending on the effective date of this Act, in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state in which the validity thereof is being challenged, if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of same.

Art. 1105b-4. Validation of Assessments and Reassessments for Street, Sewer and Water Improvements

Sec. 1. In this Act, "highway" has the meaning given it in Section 2, Chapter 106, Acts of the 40th Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1927, as amended (Article 1105b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 2. This Act applies to:

(1) the levy of assessments or reassessments against property abutting a highway or portion of one and against the owners of the property for improvements to the highway or portion of it, where the city acted or purported to act under the authority of Chapter 106, Acts of the 40th Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1927, as amended (Article 1105b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);

(2) the levy of assessments or reassessments against benefitted property and the owners of the property for improvements to a sanitary sewer system or water system or both within the limits of the city levying the assessments or reassessments, where the city acted or purported to act under the authority of Chapter 192, Acts of the 58th Legislature, 1963, as amended (Article 1110c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and

(3) the levy or purported levy of assessments or reassessments as described in Subdivision (1) of this section in conjunction with the levy of assessments or reassessments as described in Subdivision (2) of this section, in a joint proceeding where the city has acted or purported to act under the authority of Section 18, Chapter 192, Acts of the 58th Legislature, 1963 (Article 1110c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 3. Where a city acting through its governing body before the effective date of this Act levied or purported to levy an assessment or reassessment against property and the owners of property as described in Section 2 of this Act, all proceedings of the city relating to the levy or purported levy are validated, ratified, and confirmed as of the time they took place and in accordance with their terms, and the proceedings shall have the full force and effect as is provided under the law under which the city acted or purported to act. The liens created or purported to be created by the levies or purported levies are also validated, ratified, and confirmed, and they shall be effective from and after the respective times provided by the assessment proceedings, except a lien purported to be created against property that at the time was exempt under the Texas Constitution from a lien of special assessment or reassessment for local improvements is not validated, ratified, or confirmed by this Act.

Sec. 4. All assignable certificates of special assessment relating to a proceeding validated by this Act are also validated.

Sec. 5. This Act does not apply to a matter that on the effective date of this Act is involved in litigation in a court of competent jurisdiction instituted for the purpose of attacking the validity of the matter if the litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of the matter.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1306, ch. 490, §§ 1 to 5, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 1105b-5. Validation of Certain Governmental Acts and Proceedings Regarding Paving Contracts.

Sec. 1. In any case where an incorporated city or town has contracted on behalf of itself and an independent school district and the county in which the city or town is located for the seal coating of roads or parking areas of the governmental entities by a private contractor, all governmental acts and proceedings and all transactions relating to the contract are validated, notwithstanding the failure of any one or more of the governmental entities to comply with all legal requirements concerning the awarding of the contract.

Sec. 2. This Act does not apply to:

(1) any act, transaction, or proceeding that occurred before September 1, 1975;

(2) any matter that on the effective date of this Act has been declared invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(3) any matter involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 1105c. Cities of More Than 100,000; Elimination of Grade-Level Street Crossings by Railroad Lines

Application of Act; Power of Cities; Purposes

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to every incorporated city or town (including Home Rule Cities) having a population of more than one hundred thousand (100,000) inhabitants according to the Federal Census last preceding the taking of any action by such city or town under the provisions of this Act. Every such city or town (referred to hereinafter as "city") is hereby empowered and authorized to purchase, build, construct, acquire, improve, enlarge, extend, maintain, repair, and replace any and all properties, improvements and facilities which the governing body thereof deems to be necessary for the elimination of grade-level crossings by railroad lines of the streets of such city and for the relocation of railroad lines within said city, so that the hazards to life and property will be decreased, public safety and convenience will be promoted, traffic conditions will be improved, and the orderly development of the city will be encouraged. Without in any way limiting the generalization of the foregoing, it is expressly provided that "properties, improvements and facilities" mentioned above shall include lands, properties, rights-of-way, elevated structures, grade separations, underpasses, overpasses, passenger stations or depots and other buildings, interchange yards, railroad tracks, removal and relocation of railway tracks, removal and relocation of utility lines or pipes or other improvements, removal or demolition of buildings or improvements, damages to other properties in connection with any of the foregoing, street improvements in connection with any of the foregoing, and any other properties, buildings, improvements, or facilities which the governing body deems to be necessary to accomplish the desired purposes. The "properties, improvements and facilities" mentioned in this Section 1 are hereinafter referred to as "the Facilities," or "Facilities."

Contracts; Leases; Conveyances and Other Agreements

Sec. 2. The governing body of the city shall have power and authority to make and enter all contracts, leases, conveyances, contracts of sale, lease-purchase contracts, and any other agreements with respect to the Facilities which said governing body shall deem necessary or convenient to carry out the purposes and powers granted in and by this Act, upon such terms and conditions and for such length or period of time as may be prescribed therein. Any such contract, lease, conveyance, contract of sale, lease-purchase contract, or other agreement may be entered into with any person, real or artificial, any corporation, municipal or public or private (including railroad or railway companies), any governmental agency or bureau (including the United States Government and the State of Texas and political subdivisions of said State), and the governing body may make contracts, leases, conveyances, contracts of sale, lease-purchase contracts, or other agreements with any such persons, corporations, or entities in connection with or incidental to the acquisition, financing, construction, or operation of any of the Facilities. Any and all contracts, leases, conveyances, contracts of sale, lease-purchase contracts, or other agreements herein authorized, to be effective, shall be authorized by ordinance or resolution of the governing board of the city, shall be executed by its mayor (or presiding officer) and attested by its city clerk (or city secretary). Any such contract, lease, conveyance, contract of sale, lease-purchase contract, or other agreement shall be binding upon the city and the governing body thereof, the powers and provisions set forth herein being complete within themselves, without reference to any other statute or statutes.

Tax Bonds or Revenue Bonds

Sec. 3. For the purpose of providing funds for any of the Facilities provided in Section 1 hereof, the governing body of the city shall have the power and authority to issue, from time to time, tax bonds or revenue bonds of said city, either or both; provided, however, that no tax bonds (except refunding bonds) shall be issued unless and until they have been authorized at an election at which a majority of the duly qualified resident electors of said city who own taxable property within said city and who have duly rendered the same for taxation, voting at said election, have voted in favor thereof, said election to be called and held under the provisions of and in accordance with Chapter 1 of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925,¹ as the same is now or may hereafter be amended.

Pledge of Revenues

Sec. 4. Revenue bonds may be issued, secured solely by a pledge of and payable from the net revenues derived from the operation of or use made of all or any designated part or parts of the Facilities then in existence or to be improved, constructed, or otherwise acquired, with the duty of the city to charge and collect fees, tolls, and other charges, so long as any of the revenue bonds or interest thereon are outstanding and unpaid, sufficient to pay all maintenance and operation expenses of the Facilities (the net revenues of which are pledged to the payment of the bonds), the interest on such bonds as it accrues, the principal of such bonds as it matures, and to make any and all other payments as may be prescribed in the bond ordinance and other proceedings authorizing and relating to the issuance of such bonds. "Net revenues" as used herein shall mean the gross revenues derived from the operation or use made of the Facilities (the net revenues of which are pledged to the payment of the bonds) less the reasonable expenses of maintaining and operating said Facilities, and said maintenance and operation expenses shall include, among other things, necessary repair, upkeep, and insurance of said Facilities. At the option of the governing body of the city, the proposition or propositions for the issuance of revenue bonds may be submitted at an election called and held as in the case of tax bonds, or such revenue bonds may be issued without the necessity of an election.

Ordinances; Interest and Sinking Funds; Reserve Funds

Sec. 5. In the ordinance adopted by the governing body authorizing the issuance of any revenue bonds and in the proceedings relating thereto, the governing body may provide for the flow of funds, the establishment and maintenance of the interest and sinking fund, reserve fund or funds, and any other funds provided for therein, and may provide where such funds shall be deposited, and may make such additional covenants with respect to the bonds and the pledged revenues and the operation, maintenance, and upkeep of the Facilities (the net revenues of which are pledged), including provision for the leasing of all or any part or parts of said Facilities and the use or pledge of moneys derived from leases thereof, as it may deem appropriate. Said ordinance and other proceedings may also prohibit the further issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from the pledged revenues, or may reserve the right to issue additional bonds to be secured by a pledge of and payable from said net revenues on a parity with, or subordinate to, the lien and pledge in support of the bonds being issued, subject to the conditions as are set forth in said ordinance or other proceedings. Such ordinance and other proceedings may contain such other provisions and covenants, as the governing body shall determine, not prohibited by the Constitution of the State of Texas or by this Act, and the governing body may adopt and cause to be executed any other proceedings or instruments necessary or convenient in the issuance of said revenue bonds.

Revenue Bonds Secured by Pledge of Future Revenues

Sec. 6. For the purpose of providing funds for any of the Facilities provided in Section 1 hereof, the governing body of the city shall also have the power to issue, from time to time, revenue bonds payable from and secured by a pledge of the revenues, proceeds, or payments that will accrue to or be received by the city under any lease-purchase contract or contract of sale pertaining to any of the Facilities. Bonds may be issued secured solely by such pledge, and bonds may be issued secured not only by such pledge but also by pledges of net revenues as elsewhere provided in this Act. All the provisions of this Act relating to revenue bonds shall, insofar as the same may be made applicable, also apply to bonds issued by the city secured in the manner authorized by this Section 6. The power and authority granted by this Section 6 shall be in addition to other powers and authority granted to the city by this Act and shall not in any way limit such other powers and authority.

Form of Bonds; Maturity; Examination and Approval; Registration

Sec. 7. All bonds of the city (tax bonds and revenue bonds) issued pursuant to the provisions of this Act shall be authorized by ordinance of the governing body of the city, shall be issued in the name of the city, shall be signed by the mayor (or presiding officer) of the city and countersigned by the city clerk (or city secretary), and shall have the seal of the city impressed thereon; provided, that the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds may provide for the bonds to be signed by the facsimile signatures of said officers, either or both, and for the seal of the city on the bonds to be a printed facsimile seal; and provided further that the interest coupons attached to said bonds may also be executed by the facsimile signatures of said officers. Said bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years from their date or dates, and may be sold either at public or private sale (no public advertisement for bids being necessary) at a price and under terms determined by the governing body to be most advantageous and reasonably obtainable, provided that the interest cost to the city, calculated by the use of standard interest tables then currently in use by insurance companies and investment houses, does not exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, and within the discretion of the governing body such bonds may be issued as non-option bonds, or may be callable prior to maturity at such time or times and at such price or prices as may be prescribed in the ordinance authorizing the bonds. Such bonds may be made registerable as to principal, or as to both principal and interest.

After bonds have been authorized by the city, such bonds and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for his examination as to the validity thereof, and if such bonds have been authorized in accordance with this Act, the said Attorney General shall approve the same. After such approval, such bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. When such bonds have been approved by the Attorney General, registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and delivered to the purchasers, they shall thereafter be incontestable except for forgery or fraud. When any revenue bonds recite that they are secured partially or otherwise by a pledge of the proceeds of a contract or contracts made between the city and another party or parties (public agencies or otherwise), a copy of such contract or contracts and of the proceedings authorizing the same shall be submitted to the Attorney General along with the bond record, and the approval by the Attorney General of the bonds shall constitute an approval of such contract or contracts, and thereafter the contract or contracts shall be incontestable except for forgery or fraud.

Proceeds of Sale

Sec. 8. From the proceeds of sale of any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, the governing body may appropriate or set aside out of such proceeds (i) an amount for the payment of interest expected to accrue during the period of construction, (ii) an amount necessary to pay all expenses incurred and to be incurred in the issuance, sale, and delivery of the bonds, and, (iii) in the case of revenue bonds, such amount or amounts as may be prescribed by the bond ordinance to be deposited into the reserve fund or funds and into any other funds, as specified in said ordinance.

Additional Security; Mortgage of Physical Properties

Sec. 9. As additional security for the payment of any revenue bonds issued hereunder, the governing body of the city may in its discretion have executed in favor of the holders of such revenue bonds an indenture or deed of trust mortgaging and encumbering all or any part of the physical properties comprising the Facilities (the net revenues of which are pledged to the payment of such bonds), including the lands upon which said Facilities are located, and may provide in such mortgage or encumbrance for a grant to any purchaser or purchasers at foreclosure sale of a franchise to operate such Facilities and properties for a term of not over forty (40) years from the date of such purchase, subject to all laws regulating same then in force. Any such indenture or deed of trust may contain such terms and provisions as the governing body shall deem proper and shall be enforceable in the manner provided by the laws of the State of Texas for the enforcement of other mortgages or encumbrances. Under any such sale ordered pursuant to the provisions of such mortgage or encumbrance, the purchaser or purchasers at such sale, and his or their successors or assigns, shall be vested with a permit or franchise conforming to the provisions stipulated in the indenture or deed of trust to maintain the Facilities and properties purchased at such sale with like powers and privileges as may theretofore have been enjoyed by the city in the operation of said Facilities and properties. The purchaser or purchasers of such Facilities and properties at any such sale, and his or their successors and assigns, may operate the same as provided in the last above sentence or may at their option remove all or any part or parts of said Facilities and properties for division to other purposes. The laws of the State of Texas (other than this Act) shall not be applicable to the authorization or execution of any mortgage or encumbrance entered into pursuant to the provisions of this Act, nor to the granting of any franchise hereunder.

Management and Control of Facilities

Sec. 10. While any revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this Act or any interest thereon remain outstanding and unpaid, and whether or not there is an indenture or deed of trust mortgaging and encumbering the physical properties comprising the Facilities (the net revenues of which are pledged), as provided in Section 9 hereof, the management and control of such Facilities (and the physical properties comprising the same), by the terms of the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds, may be placed in the hands of the governing body of the city or may be placed in the hands of a board of trustees to be named in such ordinance, consisting of not more than seven (7) members, one (1) of whom shall be a member of the governing body of such city. The compensation of such trustees shall be fixed in the bond ordinance, but shall never exceed five per cent (5%) of the gross revenues of such Facilities. The terms of office of the members of such board of trustees, their powers and duties, the manner of exercising same, the election or appointment of their successors, and all matters pertaining to their organization and duties shall be specified in said ordinance. In all matters where such ordinance is silent, the laws and rules governing the governing body of the city shall govern said board of trustees so far as applicable.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 11. (a) The governing body of the city shall have the power and authority to issue tax bonds for the purpose of refunding any outstanding bonds (original or refunding) issued by the city under the provisions of this Act and accrued interest thereon, and no election therefor shall be necessary. Such refunding bonds may be issued to refund bonds of more than one series or issues of outstanding tax bonds. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than that of the bonds refunded unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid.

(b) The governing body of the city shall have the power and authority to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of refunding any outstanding revenue bonds (original or refunding) issued by the city under the provisions of this Act, and accrued interest thereon, and no election therefor shall be necessary. Revenue refunding bonds, at the option of the governing body, may be combined with new or original revenue bonds into one series or issue of bonds. Such revenue refunding bonds may be issued to refund bonds of more than one series or issue of outstanding revenue bonds and combine pledges for the outstanding bonds for the security of the refunding bonds, and such revenue refunding bonds may be secured by pledges of other net revenues and additional net revenues; provided, that such refunding will not impair the contract rights of the holders of any of the outstanding revenue bonds which are not to be refunded. Revenue refunding bonds may bear interest at a rate higher than that borne by the bonds refunded; provided, that such interest rate shall not exceed the rate specified in Section 7 of this Act.

(c) Refunding bonds (both tax refunding bonds and revenue refunding bonds) shall be authorized by ordinance of the governing body of the city, and shall be executed and mature as is provided in this Act for original bonds. They shall be approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas as in the case of original bonds, and shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas upon surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded; but in lieu thereof, the ordinance authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited in the place or places where the underlying bonds are payable, in which case the refunding bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient, not only to pay the principal of the underlying bonds, but also to pay the interest on the underlying bonds to their option or maturity dates, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall register them without the surrender and cancellation of the underlying bonds. In those situations where the proceeds of revenue refunding bonds are deposited in the place or places where the underlying bonds are payable, they shall be so deposited under an escrow agreement so that such proceeds will be available for the payment of the interest on and principal of said underlying bonds as such interest and principal respectively become due; and such escrow agreement may provide that such proceeds may, until such time as the same are needed to pay interest and principal as the same become due, be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America, in which instances the interest earned on such investments shall be considered as revenues of the Facilities.

(d) When any refunding bonds (both tax refunding bonds and revenue refunding bonds) have been approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, they shall thereafter be incontestable except for forgery or fraud.

(e) All the provisions of this Act relating to original bonds, insofar as the same may be made applicable, shall also apply to refunding bonds issued hereunder (both tax refunding bonds and revenue refunding bonds).

Applicability of Statutes

Sec. 12. Insofar as the same may be applicable, the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, together with all amendments thereof and additions thereto, shall apply to revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, and any city covered by this Act shall have, with respect to revenue bonds issued hereunder, all the powers granted by said Statutes. However, where the provisions of said Statutes are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall govern and prevail.

Legal and Authorized Investments

Sec. 13. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act (tax bonds and revenue bonds, and original bonds and refunding bonds) shall be, and are hereby declared to be, and to have all the qualifications of, negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of the State of Texas, and all such bonds shall be, and are hereby declared to be, legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Eminent Domain

Sec. 14. The right of eminent domain is hereby expressly conferred upon any city operating under the provisions of this Act, for the purpose of enabling such city to acquire the fee simple title, easement or right-of-way to, over and through any and all lands, water, lands under water, or any other property or properties of any nature whatsoever, private or public (except land and property used for cemetery purposes), which the governing body of the city deems to be necessary for the accomplishment of any of the purposes provided in Section 1 hereof. In the event of the condemnation, or the taking, damaging or destroying of any property for such purposes, the city shall pay to the owner thereof adequate compensation for the property taken, damaged, or destroyed. Compensation and damages adjudicated in any condemnation proceedings, and damages which may be done to the property of any person or corporation in the accomplishment of such purposes may be paid out of funds derived from the sale of any bonds (tax bonds or revenue bonds) issued pursuant to this Act or from any other available funds of the city. All procedure with reference to condemnation, the assessment of and estimating of damages, payment, appeal, the entering upon the property pending the appeal, etc., shall be in conformity with the procedure prescribed in Title 52, Articles 3264 to 3271,¹ both inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and any amendments thereto.

¹ Generally repealed; see, now, Property Code, Arts. 21.001 et seq.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 15. This Act is cumulative of all existing laws of the State of Texas that are applicable, but when a city acts under the provisions of this Act, to the extent that such existing laws may be in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall govern and prevail. Moreover, the provisions of this Act shall take precedence over any and all conflicting or inconsistent city charter provisions.

Validation of Proceedings and Contracts

Sec. 16. All proceedings heretofore had and all actions heretofore taken and all contracts heretofore entered into by any city relating to any of the matters covered by, or power or authority granted by, the provisions of this Act are hereby in all things validated. It is provided, however, that the validation provisions of this Section 16 shall have no application to litigation pending upon the effective date hereof questioning the validity of any of the matters hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of the same.

1. CITY OWNED UTILITIES

Art. 1106. Appropriation of Revenue

The governing body of any city or town in this State, whether operating under special charter or under general law, may appropriate and apply the net revenues of its waterworks system or other public utility system, service or enterprise to the payment of the sinking fund and interest due by said city or town on the bonded indebtedness incurred on account of said system, service or enterprise, producing such revenues in the following manner:

1. Whenever said governing body desires to take advantage of the provisions of this article it shall at the end of its fiscal year, and before the passage of any ordinance levying taxes for that year, appropriate and set aside out of the net revenues such sums for such purpose only as such governing body shall deem to the best interest of the city or town.
2. Where the sums so set aside and appropriated shall be sufficient to pay in full the amounts needed for such sinking fund and interest for the fiscal year in which said revenues are produced, it shall not be thereafter necessary for the governing body to levy any tax for such sinking fund or interest for which this appropriation is made; but when said sums so appropriated shall not be sufficient to meet the required amounts for such sinking fund and interest, then the governing body shall include in the general tax ordinance for that year a tax sufficient to meet the deficiency in such sinking fund and interest allowance for that year. Nothing herein shall authorize said city or town to exceed the authorized tax limit.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1107. Condemnation of Property

An incorporated city or town shall have the right of eminent domain to condemn private property for either of the following purposes:

1. To open, change or widen any public street, avenue, or alley.
2. To construct water mains, or supply reservoirs, or standpipes for waterworks or sewers.
3. To establish thereon one or more hospitals or pesthouses, within or without the limits of such city or town.
4. To construct and maintain sewer pipes, mains and laterals and connections and also private property upon which to maintain vats, filtration pipes and other pipes, and which to use and occupy as a place for ultimate disposition of sewage in or out of the town or city limits, whenever it be made to appear that the use of any such private property is necessary for successful operation of such sewer system, and when it also be made to appear that such sewer system is beneficial to the public use, health, and convenience.

5. Construct, maintain, and operate municipal airports within or without the limits of such city or town.

6. To dig or drill water wells or well upon or produce water from or construct pump stations or reservoirs thereon, whether within or without the city limits.

7. To open and lengthen streets and alleys; to secure space for the erection of public buildings or space to relieve crowded conditions, within or without the limits of such city or town; provided, however, that the provision of this sub-section 7 shall apply only to incorporated cities or towns having a population of less than two thousand (2,000) inhabitants as shown by the last preceding or any future Federal Census.

Art. 1108. Public Utilities

Any town or city in this State which has or may be chartered or organized under the general laws of Texas, or by special Act or charter, and which owns or operates waterworks, sewers, gas or electric lights, shall have the power and right:

1. To own land for such purposes within or without the limits of such town or city.

2. To purchase, construct and operate water, sewer and gas and electric light systems inside or outside of such towns or city limits, and regulate and control same in a manner to protect the interests of such town or city.

3. To extend the lines of such systems outside of the limits of such towns or cities and to sell water, sewer, gas, and electric light and power privileges or service to any person or corporation outside of the limits of such towns or cities, or permit them to connect therewith under contract with such town or city under such terms and conditions as may appear to be for the best interest of such town or city; provided that no electric lines shall, for the purposes stated in this section, be extended into the corporate limits of another incorporated town or city.

4. To prescribe the kind of water or gas mains or sewer pipes and electric appliances within or beyond the limits of such town or city, and to inspect the same and require them to be kept in good order and condition at all times and to make such rules and regulations and prescribe penalties concerning same, as shall be necessary and proper.

Art. 1108a. Electric Properties Partly in Texas and Partly in New Mexico

Sec. 1. Where any city in Texas is now or hereafter being supplied with electricity by means of a privately owned electric plant and system, part of which, including facilities for the generation and transmission of electricity distributed in part to the inhabitants of said city, is located in the State of New Mexico, such city is hereby authorized to acquire, own and operate such electric plant and system in whole or in part, and in order to pay for the cost of such acquisition to issue the revenue bonds of such city in the manner now provided for the issuance of revenue bonds by cities under the general laws of Texas, and the revenue bonds so issued shall be fully negotiable instruments for all purposes.

Sec. 2. Any city so acquiring an electric plant and system is authorized to sell electricity either at retail or wholesale for distribution in the State of New Mexico and to enter into such contracts and agreements in that connection as may be provided by the governing body thereof.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act are severable, and if any of its provisions shall be held to be invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, the remaining provisions shall remain fully effective, it being hereby expressly declared to be the legislative intent that this Act would have been adopted had any such invalid provision not been included therein.

Art. 1108b. Issuance of Certificates of Indebtedness; Judgments Against Municipal Natural Gas System

Authority to Issue Certificates

Sec. 1. A city or town incorporated and operating under the general laws of the state may issue certificates of indebtedness to fund a final judgment or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction or a settlement of a lawsuit resulting from the operation by the city or town of its municipally owned and municipally operated natural gas system.

Requirements for Issuance

Sec. 2. The certificates of indebtedness must be issued in the name of the city or town and sold for cash with the proceeds from the sale to be used for the purposes authorized by this Act. The governing body of the city or town must authorize the certificates, which shall mature serially or otherwise not to exceed 20 years from their date. The certificates may be sold at public or private sale, at a price and on terms to be determined by the governing body of the city or town, and with an option to prepay principal as may be considered advisable by the governing body. The certificates must be signed by the mayor and the city secretary or city clerk, with the seal of the city to be impressed on the certificates in accordance with the Texas Uniform Facsimile Signature of Public Officials Act, as amended (Article 717j-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Notice; Petition Protesting Issuance

Sec. 3. (a) A certificate of indebtedness may not be authorized until the city or town has caused a notice of its intention to issue the certificates to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or town. The notice must:

(1) state the time and place the city or town tentatively proposes to authorize the issuance of the certificates, the maximum amount to be issued, and the purpose for which the certificates are to be issued; and

(2) be published once a week for two consecutive weeks, the date of the first publication to be at least 14 days before the date tentatively set for the passage of the ordinance authorizing the certificates.

(b) If, before the authorization of the certificates of indebtedness, a petition signed by five percent of the qualified voters of the city or town is filed with the city secretary or city clerk protesting the issuance of the certificates, the city or town may not issue the certificates unless the issuance is approved at an election held and conducted in the manner provided for bond elections under Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Statutes, as amended (Article 701 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Taxes

Sec. 4. The governing body of the city or town shall levy and have assessed and collected annual ad valorem taxes sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the certificates of indebtedness as the principal and interest mature.

Approval of Attorney General

Sec. 5. After any certificates of indebtedness are authorized by the city or town, the certificates and a record of the proceedings relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for his examination and determination as to their validity. If he finds that the certificates have been authorized in accordance with the constitution and laws of the state, he shall approve the certificates and the certificates shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After registration, the certificates shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes and shall be incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason.

Legal Investments

Sec. 6. Certificates of indebtedness issued under this Act are legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians and for any sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, and other political corporations or subdivisions of the state. The certificates are eligible to secure the deposit of any public funds of the state or of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, and other political corporations or subdivisions of the state and are lawful and sufficient security for the deposits at their face value when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant to them.

Cumulative Act

Sec. 7. This Act is cumulative of all other laws.

Legislative Finding

Sec. 8. The legislature finds that cities and towns in this state are in urgent need of the authority conferred by this Act so that they can proceed immediately with the funding of judgments and settlements of lawsuits in connection with municipally owned and municipally operated gas systems. [Acts 1983, 68th, Leg., p. 286, ch. 58, eff. May 3, 1983.]

Art. 1109. Waterworks

These rules shall govern incorporated cities having more than one thousand inhabitants according to its preceding Federal census and owning and operating their own waterworks systems for the purpose of supplying the inhabitants thereof with water for fire protection or domestic consumption and the users of the city:

1. They may proceed in accordance with the provisions of this article independently of and without reference to any other applicable law or charter provision, present or future, except as hereinafter provided, which said law or charter provisions shall remain in force as alternate methods.

2. Subject to the terms hereof, any such city may by purchase, gift or devise, or by the exercise of the right of eminent domain, acquire and own in fee simple or otherwise public or private lands and property including riparian rights, within or without the city limits or within any county in this State.

3. To furnish any such city an adequate and wholesome supply of water, any such city may exercise the right of eminent domain to acquire and condemn either public or private lands or property for the extension, improvement or enlargement of its waterworks system, including water supply reservoirs, riparian rights, stand pipes, water sheds, the construction of water supply reservoirs, wells or artesian wells and dams and the construction, building, erection or establishment of any necessary appurtenances or facilities which will furnish to the inhabitants of the city an abundant supply of wholesome water.

4. Any such city shall also have all the powers conferred upon water improvement districts or water control and preservation districts under the statutes now or hereafter existing providing for the exercise of the right of eminent domain, and shall have all the powers conferred by general law authorizing cities and towns to exercise the right of eminent domain.

5. Any such city may acquire the fee simple title to any land or property when same is expressed in the resolution ordering said condemnation proceedings by the governing body.

6. The term "city" or "cities" as used herein shall include all incorporated towns and cities acting hereunder.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1109a. Mortgage of Water System; Extension or EnlargementsPower to Mortgage; Acquisition of Additions; Franchise to Foreclosure Purchaser

Sec. 1. All cities having more than one hundred and sixty thousand (160,000) inhabitants shall have power to issue bonds or notes therefor, and to secure payment thereof, to mortgage and encumber any such water system, and the incomes thereof and everything pertaining thereto.

And to purchase or otherwise acquire additions to, or extensions or enlargements of any such water systems, or additional water powers, riparian rights, or repair of such systems, or either of them; all cities having more than one hundred and sixty thousand (160,000) inhabitants shall have power to issue bonds and notes therefor, and to secure payment thereof, to mortgage and encumber such additions, extensions, enlargements, additional water powers, riparian rights, the income therefrom, and everything pertaining thereto, either separately or with such systems, or either of them.

And as additional security therefor, by the terms of such encumbrance, may grant to the purchaser, or purchaser under any sale or foreclosure thereunder, a franchise to operate the system and properties so purchased, for a term not over twenty (20) years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating the same then in force.

Operating Expense First Lien on Income; Rates; Priorities; Agreements as to Payment

Sec. 2. Whenever the income of any water system shall be encumbered under this Act, the expense of operating and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repairs and extensions necessary to render efficient service, and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such income. The rates charged for services furnished by said system shall be equal and uniform, and no free service shall ever be allowed, except in the discretion of the governing body, for city public schools, or buildings and institutions operated by such city, and there shall be charged and collected for such services a sufficient rate to pay for all operating, maintenance, depreciation, replacement, betterment and interest charges, and for an interest and sinking fund sufficient to pay any bonds or notes issued to purchase, construct or improve such system or any outstanding indebtedness against same.

Where bonds, notes or obligations are issued hereunder, and at the time of the authorization of such bonds or notes in the manner hereinafter prescribed, there are then outstanding other bonds, notes or obligations payable from the revenues of the water system, the additional bonds or notes may nevertheless be issued, but shall be issued in such manner that they are in all respects subordinate to each issue of bonds, notes or obligations then outstanding. Each series of bonds or notes issued hereunder shall, as to lien on the revenues and physical properties of the water system, be subordinate to each series of bonds, notes or obligations theretofore issued and remaining outstanding. Provided, however, in those instances where in the ordinance or Deed of Trust or indenture of trust provision has been or shall be made for the subsequent issuance of additional bonds on a parity with the bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of such ordinance or Deed of Trust or indenture of trust, any such city or town shall have the power to authorize, issue and sell additional bonds payable from the revenues of the water system and secured by pledges and liens on a parity with and of equal dignity with the pledges and liens securing the bonds previously issued; and such additional bonds, notes or obligations when issued shall in all respects be on a parity with and of equal dignity with said previously issued bonds which are then outstanding, provided in the ordinance or Deed of Trust or indenture of trust authorizing or securing such additional bonds they are declared to be on a parity and of equal dignity with said previously issued bonds, but subject in all respects to the conditions imposed upon the issuance of additional bonds by the ordinance, Deed of Trust or indenture of trust issuing or securing the bonds which are outstanding. In the issuance of revenue bonds in the future for any such purposes any such city or town may prescribe in the ordinance or Deed of Trust or indenture of trust for the issuance later of additional issues or series of bonds on a parity with the bonds being issued pursuant to and subject to the restrictions, covenants and limitations contained in such ordinance, Deed of Trust or indenture of trust.

Subject to the terms and provisions hereof, the governing body of the city, in authorizing the issuance of bonds, notes or obligations hereunder, may enter into such agreements and covenants with respect to the manner of payment of such bonds, notes or obligations, and the application of the revenues of the water system as it may deem fit, provided, however, that no such bond, warrant or note shall ever be a general obligation of such city, and it shall be proper for the governing body to apply surplus revenues of the system not needed for the payment of principal of and interest on such bonds, notes or obligations, and not needed for the payment of operating and maintenance expenses, to the payment of any notes, warrants or other obligations the proceeds of which were used for the purpose of improving, repairing, adding to or extending the waterworks system.

Bonds as Charge on Property Encumbered

Sec. 3. All cities acquiring a water system, or any addition, improvement or extension thereto, under this Act, may borrow money on the security of the plant, or addition or extension, so acquired, or owned, for the purpose of paying the purchase price and for the addition, improvement and extension thereof, and may issue bonds, notes or other obligations to evidence the moneys so borrowed, which bonds, notes or other obligations shall have the characteristics of negotiable instruments under the law merchant. Every contract, bond, or note executed or issued under this Act shall contain this clause "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation." No such obligation shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the properties so encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city to issue bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Management During Encumbrance

Sec. 4. The management and control of any such system or systems during the time same are encumbered, may by the terms of such encumbrance be placed in the hands of the city council of such city; but if deemed advisable may be placed in the hands of a board of trustees to be named in such encumbrance, consisting of not more than five (5) members, one of whom shall always be the mayor of such city; and the compensation of such trustees shall be fixed by such contract, but shall never exceed five per cent (5%) of the gross receipts of any such systems in any one year. The terms of office of such board of trustees, their powers and duties, the manner of exercising same, the election of their successors, and all matter pertaining to their organization and duties may be specified in such contract of encumbrance; but in all matters where such contract is silent, the laws and rules governing the council of such city shall govern said board of trustees so far as applicable. Said city council or board of trustees having such management and control shall have power to make rules and regulations governing the furnishing of service to patrons and for the payment for same, and providing for discontinuance of such service to those failing to pay therefor when due until payment is made; and such city council shall have power to provide penalties for the violation of such rules and regulations and for the use of such service without the consent or knowledge of the authorities in charge thereof, and to provide penalties for all interference, trespassing or injury to any such systems, appliances or premises on which same may be located.

Default in Payments; Procedure

Sec. 5. Any contract of encumbrance under this Act may name, or provide for the selection of a trustee to make sale upon default in the payment of the principal or interest according to the terms of such contract, and for the selection of his successor, if disqualified or failing to act, and may provide for collection fees not exceeding five per cent (5%) of the principal; but no collection fees shall accrue, and no foreclosure proceedings shall be begun in any court or through any trustee, and no option to mature any part of such obligation, because of default in payment of any installment of principal shall be exercised until ninety (90) days written notice shall be given to each member of the city council of such city and to each member of such board of trustees, if any, that payment has been demanded and default made, which notice shall date from the sending of a letter to each person to be notified, by registered mail, postage and registration fees prepaid, and addressed to them at the post office in such city; and if the installments of principal and interest then due shall be paid before the expiration of said ninety (90) days, together with the interest prescribed in such contract, not exceeding ten per cent (10%) per annum, from the date of default until the date of payment, it shall have like effect as if paid on the date same was originally due.

Property Included in Encumbrance; Attorney General to Approve Bonds; Submission to Voters

Sec. 6. In the encumbrance of any properties under this Act such city may encumber any such water systems, or any extensions, additions or enlargements thereof, singly or together, and may or may not include in such encumbrance the franchise provided for, and may omit or include in said encumbrances the whole or any part of the properties mentioned in Section 1 of this Act; but no such system shall ever be sold until such sale is authorized by a majority vote of the qualified property taxpayers of such city, or under the terms of any such mortgage or encumbrance, such vote where necessary to be ascertained at an election, of which notice shall have been given in like manner as in cases of the issuance of municipal bonds by such cities.

All bonds and notes issued hereunder shall be submitted to the Attorney General for examination, and upon his approval thereof, shall be registered by the State Comptroller in a book kept for that purpose, and the Comptroller shall endorse his certificate of registration on each such bond or note. Any bonds or notes so approved by the Attorney General, registered by the Comptroller, and delivered to the purchaser or purchasers for not less than their par value plus accrued interest shall thereafter be incontestable.

Bonds or notes may be issued under the provisions hereof and the revenues or physical properties of the water system encumbered as security for the payment of such bonds and notes; such bonds or notes shall not be issued, however, until such issuance has been authorized by a majority vote of the qualified electors who own taxable property in the city where said election is being held, and who have duly rendered their property for taxation, such electors voting only in the precinct of their residence, and voting on such proposition under the Constitution and Laws of Texas. Such election shall be called and held in the manner provided for the calling and holding of other bond elections in such city. No other notices need be published or opportunities for the filing of petitions granted despite the provisions of any other statute or of the charter of any such city.

Prior Proceedings Validated; Proviso as to Cities of 290,000

Sec. 7. All proceedings heretofore had by cities having more than one hundred and sixty thousand (160,000) inhabitants, in the acquisition of any water systems, and the encumbrance of same, within the authority given by this Act, be and the same are hereby approved and ratified.

Provided, that in cities having a population of more than two hundred and ninety thousand (290,000) according to the last preceding Federal Census, the governing body thereof shall have the power to borrow money and issue bonds or notes which shall be fully negotiable within the meaning and for all purposes under the negotiable instrument law; said bonds and notes to be payable solely out of the income of such system or any extensions, replacements, betterments, additions or improvements which, in the judgment of the governing body of such city, are necessary to render adequate service and to pledge and use the income of such system for the payment of such bonds or notes and such determination by such governing body shall be conclusive and any ordinance pledging or encumbering such rents, income or revenues shall be deemed a part of the contract of said city with the holders of such bonds or notes, and

Provided, further, that the election called for in Section 6 hereof shall not be necessary in said cities having a population of more than two hundred and ninety thousand (290,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, to authorize the issuance of bonds or notes payable solely out of the income of said system, and Provided, further, that all bonds or notes of said last mentioned cities authorized under Section 1 of this Act shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for his examination and when such bonds or notes have been examined and certified as legal obligations of such cities by said Attorney General they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Texas in a book kept for such purposes, and the Comptroller shall endorse his certificate of registration upon each of such bonds or notes; and any bonds or notes so approved by the Attorney General, registered by the Comptroller, and delivered to the purchaser or purchasers for not less than their par value plus accrued interest shall thereafter be incontestable.

Provided, further, that nothing in this Act, however, shall repeal or affect any other legislation pertaining to the same or similar subjects but shall be cumulative of all Acts granting the power to all such cities and towns, including home rule cities, operating under Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925,¹ and it is not intended to limit or impair any power given by any other of such Acts, nor shall any other Act be deemed to limit or impair the power of any city under this Act.

Art. 1109a-1. Validation of Waterworks System Revenue Refunding Bonds and Sewer System Revenue Refunding Bonds

All Waterworks System Revenue Refunding Bonds and all Sewer System Revenue Refunding Bonds heretofore authorized, issued, exchanged, and delivered by cities in Texas operating under the provisions of Special Charters and which refunding bonds have been heretofore validated and confirmed by a final decree of a United States District Court in Texas, be, and the same are hereby in all things ratified, validated, and confirmed, and such refunding bonds so authorized, issued, exchanged, and delivered, shall hereafter be and constitute valid and binding obligations upon the revenues of such systems.

Art. 1109a-2. Warrants for Completion of Waterworks Extensions and Improvements

Sec. 1. In each instance where a city heretofore has issued and sold bonds for the purpose of extending and improving its waterworks system, and the governing body thereof finds and determines that the proceeds from such bonds will not be sufficient to complete such extensions and improvements according to plans and specifications heretofore approved by the governing body, and that such extensions and improvements must be completed immediately in order to afford adequate fire protection and to protect the public health, the governing body is hereby authorized to issue interest-bearing time warrants to pay for the completion of the extensions and improvements. Such warrants may be issued without the prerequisite of an election and without giving notice of intention to issue warrants.

Sec. 2. In the event of conflict between any of the provisions of this Act and any provisions of a city charter, the provisions of this Act shall prevail. Provided, however, that no city shall issue warrants under this law to a greater amount than Thirty Thousand ($30,000.00) Dollars, that such warrants shall bear not more than four (4%) per cent interest, and shall mature in not to exceed five (5) years from their date, and provided further that no ordinance, authorizing the issuance of such warrants, shall be passed after ninety (90) days after the effective date of this Act; but the limitations contained in this sentence shall not restrict the authority conferred by any of the provisions of Section 6 of the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931.¹

Art. 1109a-3. Acquisition of Property for Water Purification and Treatment Facilities

Authority of Certain Cities and Towns

Sec. 1. Cities and towns of this state incorporated under General or Special Law or operating under a Home Rule Charter and which are located within or which have contracted or which may hereafter contract with any Municipal Water Authority or other District organized under the provisions of Section 59 of Article XVI of the Texas Constitution, for a supply of untreated water shall have and are hereby granted the power separately or jointly, in combination with any one or more such cities or towns, to receive and acquire through gift or dedication, by purchase without condemnation or by condemnation, any property in this state located inside or outside the corporate limits of any such city or town for the purpose of building and acquiring water purification and treatment facilities, reservoirs, pipelines, and water transporting facilities of every kind deemed necessary for providing such cities or towns separately or jointly with a supply of fresh water for municipal, domestic and industrial purposes, and to build, construct or otherwise acquire any and all such facilities. The procedure to be followed in condemnation proceedings hereunder and authorized herein shall be in accordance with the provisions of state law with reference to eminent domain including particularly the provisions of Title 52 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.¹

Acquisition and Construction of Improvements and Facilities

Sec. 2. Such cities and towns are hereby empowered separately or jointly to maintain, improve and operate all properties acquired and constructed hereunder and all improvements thereon and to sell or lease all or any part of such property and improvements and shall have full and ample power to separately or jointly manage, control and operate properties so owned jointly by two or more such cities and towns by entering into contract with each other on terms mutually agreeable.

Negotiable Bonds or Warrants; Taxes for Interest and Sinking Fund

Sec. 3. The governing body of any city which may provide water treatment facilities under the provisions of this Act may for such purpose issue negotiable bonds or warrants of such city and levy taxes to provide the interest and sinking fund therefor in the manner provided by law for the issuance of tax supported bonds and warrants of such cities and towns, or may issue bonds supported by the revenues of any one or all of its utilities in the manner provided in Article 1111 et seq., Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

Improvement, Maintenance and Operation of Facilities; Charges; Contracts for Services; Rules and Regulations

Sec. 4. Any city or town acquiring property and facilities separately or cities and towns acquiring property and facilities jointly under this Act are authorized and empowered to improve, maintain, operate and conduct same for the authorized purposes and to make and provide all necessary or useful improvements and facilities and to fix and make such reasonable charges for the use thereof as the governing body or governing bodies, by mutual agreement may determine. Any such city or town acting separately and any such cities and towns acting jointly may contract with any other city or town for supplying the latter with services to be afforded by the improvements and facilities acquired and constructed hereunder and such cities and towns are granted all necessary powers and authority to make and enforce rules and regulations pertaining to the use of improvements and facilities as the interested governing bodies may, by ordinance, determine.

Approval of Contract for Water Treatment

Sec. 5. No election shall be required of any city or town for approval of any contract pertaining to water treatment under this Act but any such contract may be entered into without the necessity of an election.

Taxes for Operation and Maintenance of Improvements and Facilities

Sec. 6. In addition to any taxes which may be levied by any city or town for the interest and sinking fund of any bonds issued hereunder any city or town acquiring improvements and facilities either separately or jointly pursuant to this Act are authorized and empowered to levy and collect taxes for the purpose of improving, operating and maintaining any such improvements and facilities; provided that nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing any city or town to exceed the limits of taxation placed upon it by the Constitution and Laws of this state or by their home rule charter.

Validation of Water Treatment Contracts

Sec. 7. All acts and proceedings of the governing bodies of cities and towns, eligible under the provisions of this Act, heretofore accomplished in the authorization and execution of water treatment contracts as herein contemplated as well as the terms and provisions of said water treatment contracts themselves are hereby ratified, approved, confirmed and validated and declared to be valid in all respects as of the respective dates thereof with the parties thereto bound accordingly until the terms and provisions of said contracts are lawfully changed by mutual consent of the parties thereto.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 8. This Act is cumulative of all other laws and city charter provisions relating to the same subject and shall take precedence over any city charter provision in conflict but only to the extent of such conflict.

[Acts 1962, 57th Leg., 3rd C.S., p. 48, ch. 18, §§ 1 to 8.]

Art. 1109b. Eminent Domain

Incorporated cities and towns shall have the power to appropriate private property for public purposes whenever the governing authorities shall deem it necessary and to take any private property within or without the city limits for any of the following purposes, to wit:

To have the power to appropriate private property for public purposes whenever the governing authorities shall deem it necessary and to take any private property within or without the city limits for any of the following purposes, to wit: City halls, police stations, jails, calaboose, fire stations, libraries, school houses, high school buildings, academies, hospitals, sanitariums, auditoriums, market houses, reformatories, abattoirs, railroad terminals, docks, wharves, warehouses, ferries, ferry landings, elevators, loading and unloading devices, shipping facilities, piers, streets, alleys, parks, highways, boulevards, speedways, playgrounds, sewer systems, storm sewers, sewage disposal plants, drains, filtering beds and emptying grounds for sewer systems, reservoirs, water sheds, water supply sources, wells, water and electric light systems, gas plants, cemeteries, crematories, prison farms, and to acquire lands with¹ and without the city for any other municipal purposes that may be deemed advisable.

The power herein granted for the purpose of acquiring private property shall include the power of the improvement and enlargement of the water works, including water supply, riparian rights, stand pipes, water sheds, the construction of supply reservoirs, parks, squares, and pleasure grounds, public wharves and landing places for steamers and other crafts, and for the purpose of straightening or improving the channel of any stream, branch or drain, or the straightening or widening or extension of any street, alley, avenue or boulevard. That, in all cases where the city seeks to exercise the power of eminent domain, it shall be controlled, as nearly as practicable, by the law governing the condemnation of property of railroad corporations in this State, the city taking the position of the railroad corporations in any such case; that the power of eminent domain hereby conferred shall include the right of the governing authority, when so expressed, to take the fee in the lands so condemned and such power and authority shall include the right to condemn public property for such purposes.

Art. 1109d. Cities and Towns Authorized to Contract with Water Improvement or Water Control and Improvement District for Water Supply

Duration of Contracts

Sec. 1. Any city or town in this state may contract with any Water Improvement District or Water Control and Improvement District deriving its powers from Article XVI, Section 59, of the Constitution of Texas and any such District may contract with any such City or Town, for supplying water to said City. Such contract may run for such length of time as may be agreed upon between the Board of Directors of said District and the governing body of said City, not to exceed 30 years from the date of the contract, but said contract may also provide that it shall run until all warrants, notes or bonds, issued by such District for the acquisition of facilities necessary or convenient to enable the District to supply the City with water, have been paid in full.

Payment for Water Out of Water System Revenues Exclusively

Sec. 2. Payment for water so supplied shall be made out of the water system revenues of such city or town, and the District shall never have the right to demand payment out of moneys raised or to be raised by taxation, and payments under the contracts herein authorized may be secured by a first lien on, and an irrevocable pledge of the revenues of said water system.

Election Approving Contract; Notice of Election; Ballots

Sec. 3. Provided, however, that no such contract shall become binding until approved by a majority vote of the qualified electors in such City or Town at an election held for that purpose. Such election may be called by the governing body of the city on its own motion. Notice of such election shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in such City or Town once each week for two consecutive weeks the first of which publications shall be at least ten full days prior to the day set for the election, provided, that if no newspaper is published in such City or Town, notice of said election shall be given by posting notice thereof in each of the voting precincts of such City or Town and one at the City Hall. The notice of election shall state the date upon which the same shall be held, and shall state the proposition to be voted upon in such form as the governing body shall prescribe, but the notice need not set out the contract at length, or detail its provisions. For ten days next, preceding the election the proposed contract shall be on file in the office of the City Secretary and may be examined by any person. The governing body of the City shall prescribe the form of the ballots.

General Election Law to Govern Elections; Qualification of Electors; Returns

Sec. 4. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, said election shall be conducted according to the general election law. Only qualified electors who own taxable property in the City and who have duly rendered the same for taxation, shall be qualified to vote. Returns of said election shall be made to the governing body of the city.

Canvass of Returns; Effect of Election

Sec. 5. The governing body shall canvass the returns of said election as soon as practicable. If a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor of approving the contract, the contract shall at once become binding and effective; if a majority of the votes are against the contract, the contract shall not become effective.

Construction or Acquiring of Canals, Reservoirs, Basins, Pipelines, Filtration Plants, and Other Equipment and Supplies

Sec. 6. Any such district may construct, or otherwise acquire and equip, such canals, reservoirs, basins, pipelines, conduits, filtration, and aeration plants, and all other equipment and supplies, and may acquire by purchase, eminent domain, or otherwise all such property as is necessary or convenient for the purpose of supplying water to a city as provided herein.

Issuance of Warrants, Notes, or Bonds; Refunding or Reissuing Bonds

Sec. 7. Any such District may issue warrants, notes or bonds to provide for the acquisition of the facilities necessary or convenient for supplying water to such city or town, and to secure such warrants, notes or bonds by a pledge of the revenues to be derived under any such contract then in existence or thereafter to be made for supplying water to such city or town. Where tax supported bonds hereafter are voted for such purpose, such bonds may be issued, secured by the pledge of such tax levy and by the pledge of such revenues or by either of such pledges. In instances where tax supported bonds have been voted heretofore in any such district but all or part thereof have not yet been sold, such unsold bonds may be issued and sold and the proceeds or any part thereof may be used for such purpose without the necessity of another election, and in such instances the District may secure such bonds by a levy of such taxes and by a pledge of the revenues to be derived under any such contract for supplying water either then in existence or thereafter to be made, or may secure said bonds by either of such methods. Bonds of such Districts heretofore voted may be refunded or re-issued without an election and such refunding or re-issued bonds may be secured as in this section provided.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 8. In the event any provision of this Act shall be in conflict with any other law the provisions of this Act shall be effective.

[Acts 1937, 45th Leg., 2nd C.S., p. 1879, ch. 12.]

Art. 1109e. Contract with District Created to Supply Water to City

Contract Authorized; Provisions of Contract

Sec. 1. Any city or town within this State is hereby authorized to enter into a contract with any district or authority, hereinafter called "district," created under Article XVI, Section 59 of the Constitution for the purpose of supplying water to such city. Any such city may also by contract lease its water production, water supply, and water supply facilities to such district, or make a contract with such district for operation by the district of its water production, water supply, and water supply facilities, or the operation by the city of the district's water production, water supply, and water supply facilities. Any contract authorized by this Act may provide that the city shall not obtain water from any source other than the district except to the extent provided in such contract. Any such contract may be upon such terms and for such time as the parties may agree, and it may provide that it shall continue in effect until bonds specified therein and refunding bonds issued in lieu of such bonds are paid.

Rates

Sec. 2. Any water supply contract provided in the preceding section shall be subject to the statutory or the contractual duty of the district from time to time to revise the rate of compensation for water sold and services rendered by the district to the city under such contract so that the net revenues of the district will at all times be sufficient to enable the District to pay its operation and maintenance expense and to pay the principal and interest on bonds secured by such contract to the extent provided in the resolution authorizing said bonds. Money required to be paid by the city to the district under such contract shall constitute an operating expense of the waterworks system of the city.

Election

Sec. 3. (a) No city shall make any contract authorized by this Act unless authorized by a majority vote in an election held in such city. Such election shall be ordered by the governing body of the city and notice thereof shall be published once each week for two (2) consecutive weeks, the first of such publications to be at least fourteen (14) days prior to the election, in a newspaper of general circulation published within the city. If no newspaper is published in the city the notice shall be posted at the City Hall and at two (2) other public places in the city. The notice shall be sufficient if it states the time and place of holding the election, and that the purpose of the election is to determine whether the governing body of the City shall be authorized to make the water supply contract, or make the lease or operating contract, or both as the case may be. Both questions may be submitted in the same proposition.

(b) Only qualified electors of the city who own taxable property therein and who have duly rendered the same for taxation shall be permitted to vote at such election. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, the general election laws shall govern such election.

(c) If a majority of the votes cast at said election are in favor of the proposition the governing body shall pass an ordinance prescribing the form and substance of the lease or contract, or both, as the case may be, and directing the mayor or mayor pro tem to sign it. Such ordinance may be passed by vote of a majority of the members of the governing body on one (1) reading and at the same meeting at which it is introduced.

Art. 1109e-1. Contracts with Conservation and Reclamation Districts for Water Supply

Sec. 1. Incorporated cities having a population of more than 900,000 according to the next preceding Federal Census which own and operate a municipal water system shall be authorized to enter into contracts and joint enterprises with conservation and reclamation districts created under Article XVI, Section 59 of the Constitution of Texas for the conveyance, transportation and distribution of water for and on behalf of such cities or may contract to sell water to such districts and to repurchase all or part thereof at a designated point or points on the district's conveyance, transportation and distribution system. Such contracts may be for such period of time, not exceeding forty (40) years, as may be prescribed therein, and may provide that they shall continue in effect until bonds issued by such districts to finance the cost of such conveyance, transportation and distribution facilities and extensions, enlargements and improvements thereto, and refunding bonds issued in lieu of such bonds, are paid.

Sec. 2. Such contracts may provide that money required to be paid by the city to the district thereunder shall constitute an operating expense of the waterworks system of the city or shall be payable from surplus or other funds of the city's waterworks system or from the revenues of specified water sales contracts or from other sources; provided that if such contract involves an obligation by the city to pay all or any part of the consideration out of funds raised or to be raised by taxation, such contract shall not become effective until an election shall have been called, held and carried, in the manner required for bond elections of such city, on the proposition of authorizing the governing body to execute such a contract; otherwise no election shall be required.

Sec. 3. Such cities may enter into contracts for the sale of water to industrial and commercial customers and to municipal corporations and political subdivisions upon such terms and for such periods, not to exceed forty (40) years, as may be prescribed by ordinance.

Sec. 4. This Act shall be cumulative of other legislation pertaining to the same or similar subjects; provided, that cities electing to make contracts under this Act shall be governed solely by the provisions of this Act, any other Statute, charter provision or ordinance to the contrary notwithstanding.

Art. 1109e-2. Validation of Proceedings and Contracts with Districts to Supply Water

Sec. 1. Where any city or town within this State has heretofore submitted to the qualified resident electors of such city or town who own taxable property within such city or town and who had duly rendered the same for taxation a proposition or propositions to authorize the governing body of such city or town to enter into a contract with any district or authority created under Article XVI, Section 59 of the Texas Constitution for the purpose of supplying water to such city or town, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 342, Acts of the 51st Legislature, 1949,¹ and such water supply contract was approved by a majority vote of the said property taxpaying voters voting at such election, all such election proceedings, the results thereof, and proceedings of the governing body and officials of such city or town relating to such contracts and the authorization, execution, and delivery thereof are hereby validated, ratified, and confirmed, and any such contract heretofore entered into by any such city or town pursuant to such election is hereby validated, ratified, and confirmed, notwithstanding the fact that only qualified electors of such city or town who owned taxable property there in and who had duly rendered the same for taxation participated in such election.

Sec. 2. The provisions hereof shall not be construed as validating any contract where (i) such contract was required by law to be approved at an election, unless such contract was approved by a majority of the participating resident qualified electors owning taxable property within such city or town who had duly rendered same for taxation and the statutory election contest period has expired prior to the effective date of this Act, or (ii) such contract or election proceedings are involved in litigation questioning the validity thereof on the effective date of this Act.

Art. 1109f. Validation of Contracts for Water Supply

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any contract heretofore executed by and between an "Eligible City" and an "Eligible District" as the terms are defined in this Act. An "Eligible City" is a city having a population in excess of two hundred thousand (200,000) according to the latest Federal Census. An "Eligible District" is one created under Article XVI, Section 59 of the Constitution, which has contracted to furnish water supply service to a city or cities.

Sec. 2. Any water supply contract heretofore execute by and between an Eligible City and an Eligible District obligating the district to convey and make available for delivery water which the city will have the right to use as a supplemental supply, and for which service the city is obligated to make payments from the revenues of its waterworks system and which imposes no obligation on the tax resources of the city, is hereby validated in all things whether or not an election has been held in the city on the question of authorizing or approving such contract.

Sec. 2a. This law shall not apply to any contract by and between an Eligible City and an Eligible District as referenced above, which is now involved in litigation in any District Court of this State, Court of Civil Appeals, or the Supreme Court of Texas in which litigation the validity of any Eligible District or the validity of any contract to furnish water by and between the above referenced parties is attacked.

Art 1109f-1. Validation of Contracts Between Districts and Cities and Towns for Water Supply

Sec. 1. All contracts between districts or authorities heretofore created under the provisions of Article 16, Section 59, of the Constitution of Texas and cities, towns or villages heretofore created under the General Laws of the State of Texas, whereby the district or authority has agreed and contracted to furnish a water supply to such cities, towns or villages, are hereby validated.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to validate any agreement or contract which imposes any obligation upon the tax resources of any such city, town or village, but shall apply only to those contracts whereby payments for a water supply are to be made from the revenues of the purchasers' water distribution system; nor shall this Act apply to any contract now involved in litigation questioning the validity of its provisions, if the question is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

Art. 1109g. Water Supply Contracts with Persons, Firms or Corporations

Sec. 1. Any city or town whether operating under the general law or under its special or home rule charter, which owns and operates its water distribution system, is authorized to enter into a contract for such period of time, with such renewal and extension privileges as may be prescribed therein, with any person, firm or corporation (when operating without profit) under the terms of which such supplier will make available for delivery to and use by the municipality all or part of the raw or treated water to be used in or for the distribution system of such municipality.

Sec. 2. If any such contract which is to be effective for a longer period than one (1) year involves an obligation by the municipality to pay all or any part of the consideration for such service out of funds raised or to be raised by taxation, or if it involves the leasing to the supplier or the right to operate a major part of any existing water production or supply facilities belonging to the municipality, or if the contract restricts the municipality from obtaining water from any other supplier, such contract shall not become effective unless and until an election shall have been called, held and carried on the proposition to approve or authorize such contract. In instances where such contract shall be payable solely from the revenues of the municipality's water system, not involving any obligation against its taxing power and not conferring on the supplier the right to lease or to operate a major part of the municipality's existing water production or supply facilities, and if the contracts do not restrict the municipality from obtaining water from any other supplier, no election shall be necessary. However, within its discretion the governing body of the municipality may order an election on the question before approving any such contract. Any election under this Act shall be held in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 2 of Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas insofar as such provisions are applicable.

Sec. 3. When any contract made under this law provides for payments solely out of water system revenues of such municipality the money thus required to be paid by the municipality shall constitute an operating expense of the City's water system, and such municipality shall fix and maintain rates and charges for services rendered by such water system as will be sufficient to pay the maintenance and operation expenses thereof as contemplated by Article 1113, Revised Civil Statutes, as amended, and provide for the payment of principal of and interest on any revenue bonds of such municipality which shall be payable from its water revenues.

Sec. 4. As is customary under water supply contracts made between cities and towns on the one part and districts and authorities on the other part under Chapter 342, Acts of the Regular Session of the Fifty-first Legislature,¹ the service to be rendered by the supplier may include among other items the holding of water available for and the readiness to serve the water needs of such municipality, and the charge to be effective under such contract may include compensation for such item of service.

Art. 1109h. Eligible City Authorized to Issue Revenue Bonds; Construction and Equipment of Water Supply Project

Eligible City Defined

Sec. 1. An "eligible" city under this Act is one having a population of more than 275,000 under the last preceding federal census, in which a majority of the resident qualified voters who shall have duly rendered their property for taxation, participating in an election, have voted to authorize such city to enter into a contract to acquire a water supply from a River Authority (hereinafter called an "Authority") created by the Legislature under Article XVI, Section 59 of the Constitution, and which shall have obtained a permit from the State Board of Water Engineers to utilize the water from such source of supply.

Alternative Financing Procedure

Sec. 2. The right of an eligible city and of an Authority to proceed with the financing of the entire cost or the portion of such cost which is not to be provided by such city of the water supply project under law through the issuance by the Authority of its revenue bonds based on the voted contract with an eligible city is not affected by the passage of this Act. But as an alternative procedure an eligible city and an Authority may amend the voted contract so as to implement the provisions of this Act, including, but without limiting the extent of such amendments, provisions defining the extent of the city's rights in such water supply project, and the procedures under which the city will make available to the Authority the proceeds of revenue bonds issued under authority of this Act, as needed for payment of construction costs including such city's intake structures, pumping and filtration equipment, or such portion thereof as Authority is not required under such contract to provide through the issuance of its revenue bonds, and arrangements for auditing the funds and accounts to be used in the construction program. Such eligible city may proceed with the issuance and sale of its revenue bonds, payable from the revenues of its waterworks system or, if combined in such city, its waterworks and sanitary sewer system (hereinafter called the "city revenue bonds") and the use of the proceeds as provided in succeeding sections of this Act.

Ordinance Authorizing Bond Issue; Notice; Petition; Bond Election

Sec. 3. Before passage of an ordinance authorizing the issuance of bonds under this Act, the governing body of such city shall give notice of the time when such ordinance is to be passed. Such notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in such city, in at least two issues thereof, the date of the first publication to be not less than fourteen (14) days prior to the date so fixed for passage of the ordinance. Unless prior to the scheduled time for passing the ordinance a petition is filed with the city secretary, signed by not less than 10% of the qualified voters of the city who have duly rendered their property for taxation, requesting that an election be held on the question of issuing such bonds, the governing body may proceed in the issuance thereof without an election. If such petition is duly filed, it shall be the duty of the governing body to proceed in the manner prescribed in Chapter I of Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes, with an election on the question, and such bonds shall not be issued unless a majority of the voters, voting at such election, vote favorably on the question. The governing body within its discretion may call an election for the issuance of the bonds without awaiting the filing of a petition requesting a referendum election.

Extent of Water Supply Projects; Passage of Bond Issue Ordinance; Amount of Bonds; Operation of Project

Sec. 4. The water supply project of the Authority may consist of a dam, reservoir, related outlet facilities, or any or all of such elements, including but without limiting the meaning of the term, lands, easements, flowage rights and interest during construction. When the designs, plans and specifications for the water supply project of the Authority shall have been completed to the extent that they have been approved by the governing body of the Authority, which will actually construct the water supply project, and likewise by the governing body of such city, such eligible city may pass an appropriate ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of its revenue bonds in an amount estimated to cover the entire cost to be incurred by the Authority in constructing the water supply project, or such portion thereof as the city shall have contracted to provide. Within the discretion of the governing body of such eligible city such revenue bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient to cover the cost of providing all other facilities needed to deliver to the city treated water from the water supply project, including but without limiting the effect of this provision, the intake structure, pumping stations and equipment, pipelines, treatment and filtration plants and all intermediate and terminal reservoirs, intermediate reservoirs to be used wholly or in part for storing water from the water supply project and pumping and pipeline facilities for conveying water to and from such intermediate reservoirs, or any or all of such elements, including but without limiting the meaning of the term, lands, easements and rights-of-way needed for such purposes, and interest during construction. The construction and operation of the water supply project will remain the responsibility of the Authority, and except for such part of said property, if any, as may be owned by such city under the contract between the Authority and such city, such property and facilities shall be owned by the Authority; and except for the water supply project and other facilities specified by contract, city will have the responsibility of constructing and operating, and shall own all of such facilities and property, including the intake, pumping stations, pipelines and equipment, treatment and filtration plants and all intermediate and terminal reservoirs. Within the discretion of such city the bonds may be authorized and sold at one time or in installments from time to time.

Bonds, Requisites and Provisions; Additional Bond Issues; Rates, Tolls and Charges; Refunding Bonds

Sec. 5. (a) Such eligible city may authorize such revenue bonds by ordinance. The bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and by another designated officer of the city and the seal of the city shall be impressed thereon; but within the discretion of the governing body evidenced in the ordinance, bonds may be issued bearing the facsimile signature of the Mayor and the seal of such city may be printed thereon, but the signature of the other designated officer in such cases must be manually affixed. Such bonds shall mature serially or otherwise within such period and at such times as may be prescribed in the ordinance but not exceeding a maximum of 40 years. The bonds may be sold at a price and under terms determined by the governing body of such city to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, provided that the interest cost to the city calculated by use of standard bond interest tables currently in use by insurance companies and investment houses does not exceed 6% per annum. The bonds may be registrable as to principal only or as to both principal and interest. Appropriate provisions may be inserted in the ordinance authorizing the execution and delivery of bonds for the conversion of registered bonds into bearer of bonds and vice versa. Provision may be made in the bond ordinance for substitution of new bonds for those lost or mutilated.

(b) In the ordinance authorizing such revenue bonds, the right may be reserved under the conditions therein specified to issue additional revenue bonds which will be on a parity with or subordinate to the bonds when being issued.

(c) After such revenue bonds shall have been issued, it shall be the duty of the governing body of such city to fix and from time to time to revise the rates, tolls and charges for sales and services rendered by the city's waterworks system or waterworks and sanitary sewer system, as the case may be, to the end that such rates, tolls and charges will yield sufficient money to pay the expense of operating and maintaining such system or systems, the principal of and interest on said bonds as such principal and such interest mature, and to create and maintain the reserve funds and other funds as prescribed in the ordinance authorizing the bonds.

(d) It shall be the duty of such city to provide for such deposits into the interest and sinking fund, the reserve and other funds to the extent and as prescribed in the ordinance authorizing such bonds. Such ordinance shall require all or any of such deposits to be made from the revenues of its waterworks system or, if combined in such city, its waterworks and sanitary sewer system; but within the discretion of the governing body of such city all or any part of the deposits necessary to pay interest during construction and for not exceeding two additional years, may be provided from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall be deposited by such city in a fund which will be utilized solely to pay the expense of issuing and selling said bonds and to pay the construction cost of such portion of the water supply project as the city shall be obligated to provide under the contract with the Authority and to pay the construction cost of that part of the facilities to be constructed, owned and operated by the city as provided in Section 4 of said Chapter 35, Acts of the Regular Session of the 55th Legislature as amended.

(e) Pending the issuance of definitive bonds, such city may authorize the delivery of negotiable interim bonds, eligible to be exchanged for definitive bonds.

(f) Such city is authorized to issue refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding any outstanding bonds and interest thereon, authorized by this Act. The governing body, in its discretion, may inject additional security for the refunding issue. Refunding bonds shall be registrable by the Comptroller of Public Accounts upon surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded, but in lieu of such procedure the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds may provide that they shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited in the bank, or in one (1) or more of the banks where the original bonds are payable. In the latter case, the refunding bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient to pay the interest on the original bonds to their maturity date or to the date on which the bonds are to be redeemed, and the amount of the call premium, if any, as to bonds called for redemption prior to maturity, and in such event the Comptroller shall register the refunding bonds without the concurrent surrender and cancellation of the original bonds. No election shall be necessary in connection with the authorization and issuance of refunding bonds.

(g) No such bonds shall be issued by such city until they shall have been approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas. After the bonds shall have been approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, they shall as well as such bonds as shall be issued by Authority be negotiable instruments and shall be incontestable, provided that when the bonds of an issue shall have been thus approved and registered, the bonds thereafter delivered by such city in lieu thereof, pursuant to subsection (a) of this Section, in connection with the exchange of registered for unregistered bonds, or unregistered bonds for registered bonds, or in lieu of lost or mutilated bonds, need not be reapproved by the Attorney General or re-registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts. Nevertheless, such bonds shall likewise be incontestable, and except for the limitations resulting from registration shall be negotiable.

(h) Proceeds from the sale of any such issue of bonds may be invested during the period of construction or prior to their use for construction purposes, in bonds or other direct obligations of the United States government, and such securities may be sold pursuant to the directions of the governing body of the city when needed for construction purposes.

Bonds as Legal Investments; Security for Deposits of Public Funds

Sec. 6. All such bonds shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, saving and loan associations and insurance companies. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof, or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Precedence Over Conflicting Provisions

Sec. 7. The provisions of this Act shall take precedence over conflicting and inconsistent provisions of other statutes and special and home rule charters.

Severability Provision

Sec. 8. The provisions of this Act are severable. If any provisions of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provisions to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 1109i. Water Supply and Sewage Transportation and Disposal Contracts of Certain Cities with Trinity River Authority

Eligible City

Sec. 1. Each city or town which either is situated wholly or partly within the boundaries of Trinity River Authority of Texas, created by Chapter 518, Acts of the Regular Session of the 54th Legislature,¹ and any amendments thereto, (hereinafter called the "Authority"), or is situated wholly or partly within the watershed of the Trinity River, is an "Eligible City" within the meaning of this Act.

Contracts Authorized; Revenues Received, Disposition, Etc.

Sec. 2. An Eligible City, pursuant to an ordinance passed by its governing body, is hereby authorized to make a contract with the Authority under which the Authority will make available to and provide for the Eligible City, sewage transportation and disposal (including treatment) services or any or all of such services, and when prescribed therein, provision for stand-by service. Such contract may be upon such terms and for such period of time as the parties may agree, and may provide that it will remain in effect until the bonds issued by the Authority as mentioned therein and refunding bonds issued in lieu thereof, are paid. Such City shall have the right to the continued performance of such services after the amortization of the Authority's investment in such facilities during the useful life thereof, upon payment of charges reduced to take into consideration such amortization.

The revenues received by the Authority from the participating Eligible Cities shall be used only (1) for payment of principal of and interest on, and to provide reserves created for, the bonds to be issued by Authority to finance such transportation, disposal (including treatment) facilities, and (2) to pay the operation and maintenance expenses (including within the meaning of the term, legal, administrative and management supervision fees and expenses) in connection therewith; provided that such part of any surplus accumulated for the benefit of a participating Eligible City, as may be prescribed in contract between such City and the Authority, may be expended by the Authority for enlargements and betterments of Authority's facilities which are used to serve, especially, such City.

In consideration of payments made by an Eligible City under such contract, and the services performed by the Authority the Authority shall become the owner of sewage accepted by it for transportation and treatment and shall be solely responsible for the proper treatment and disposal of such sewage and the effluent, and no participating Eligible City shall be entitled to any rights in, nor shall it be liable for any improper treatment or disposal of, such sewage or effluent.

No city shall be entitled to credit of any type either in the exchange of water, money or other consideration for any effluent delivered to the Authority, and no such exchange or sale can be made a condition to any contract hereunder.

Payments by City to Authority; Source; Operating Expense

Sec. 3. Payments by such City to the Authority shall be made from the City's waterworks system or its sanitary sewer system or of both systems or of its combined water and sanitary sewer system, as prescribed in the contract between such City and the Authority, and shall constitute an operating expense of the system or systems whose revenues are thus pledged. Unless the alternative procedure prescribed in Section 4 is followed, neither the Authority nor the holder of any bonds of the Authority shall have the right to demand payment of the City's obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation.

Outstanding Bonds; Revenues

Sec. 3a. If any such city has revenue bonds outstanding at the time it executes such contract, secured by a pledge of the net revenues from the operation of a combined system comprising a waterworks system and a sanitary sewer system, and in addition thereto either a natural gas distribution system or an electric lighting and power system, that portion of the payments made by such city to the Authority which is used by the Authority for debt service on Authority's bonds may be treated by the city for its accounting purposes as a capital expenditure, provided that and so long as these conditions exist:

(1) The revenues from the city's gas system or electric lighting and power system, as the case may be, are adequate to satisfy the requirements of the bond ordinance or ordinances authorizing all revenue bonds outstanding at the time of making the contract and all such bonds thereafter authorized, for the provision of funds for operation, maintenance, and debt service; and

(2) The revenues from the city's sanitary sewer system and (if encumbered under the contract) the city's waterworks system, are ample to meet the requirements of the contract with the Authority.

Elections; Bond Issues

Sec. 4. (a) If an election is held and carried substantially according to the procedure prescribed in Chapter 1, Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes, as amended, in reference to the issuance of bonds by Cities, determining that the governing body of the City is authorized to execute the proposed contract for sewage transportation and disposal (including treatment) or for any of such services, and to levy ad valorem taxes to pay such obligation to the Authority, whether or not the City's obligation is to be credited with application of certain revenues of such system or systems, the contract, in such an event, will constitute an obligation against the taxing power of such City, but may be payable both from taxes and such revenues, as may be prescribed in the contract.

(b) Only qualified electors of the City who own taxable property therein and who have duly rendered the same for taxation shall be entitled to vote at such election. Except as otherwise provided in this Section and in such Chapter 1, Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes as amended, the general election laws shall govern such election.

(c) If a majority of the votes cast at said election are in favor of the proposition the governing body shall pass an ordinance prescribing the form and substance of the contract, and directing the proper officers of the City to sign it.

Rates for Services

Sec. 5. Whenever any such City shall have executed a contract with the Authority involving the performance of such duties by the Authority, if the payments thereunder are to be made either wholly or partly from the revenues of the City's waterworks system or sanitary sewer system or from both systems or a combination of both systems, the duty is hereby imposed on such City and it is hereby authorized to establish and maintain and from time to time to adjust the rates charged by the City for the services of such system or systems, to the end that the revenues therefrom will be sufficient at all times to pay: the expense of operating and maintaining such system in accordance with current standards and requirements for preventing stream pollution; the City's obligations to Authority under such contract; and all of such City's obligations under and in connection with revenue bonds theretofore issued, or which may be issued thereafter for such system or systems. Any such City may charge the users of the system or systems whose revenues are to be used in paying the City's obligation under the contract rates sufficient to pay such obligation of the City. Any such contract may require the use of consulting engineers and financial experts to advise the City whether and when such service rates are to be adjusted.

Contract Provisions

Sec. 6. Any such contract between the Authority and such City may provide for services to be rendered concurrently by the Authority to more than one (1) City through the construction and operation of a multiple City system or plant, the cost for such services to be allocated among the several Cities as determined in such contract or group of contracts. It is expressly provided and recognized that all of the compensation to be received by, and all of the security pledged to the Authority by each such City and all such Cities will be available to the Authority as security for the bonds it will issue to provide necessary construction funds. Any such contract, if to be used by the Authority, as security for Authority's bonds, issued to finance its plant and facilities, must be submitted by Authority to the Attorney General for examination, and when such bonds and contract have been approved by the Attorney General, such contract thereafter shall be incontestable.

Validation of Contracts

Sec. 7. All contracts heretofore executed by and between Eligible Cities and the Authority, pursuant to ordinances passed respectively by the governing bodies thereof and pursuant to action of the Board of Directors of the Authority obligating the Authority to render service which includes transportation and disposal (including treatment) of sanitary sewage or any or all of such services, and obligating the City to pay for such services out of its waterworks system revenues or sanitary sewer system revenues or a combination of its water and sanitary sewer system revenues, are hereby validated. Any such contract for which a tax was levied, when an election has been held resulting favorably to the execution of such contract, including the obligation to make payments from ad valorem taxes, is hereby validated.

Art. 1109i-1. Contract with District for Sewage Transportation, Treatment and Disposal Services

Eligible City

Sec. 1. Any city or town, situated wholly or partially within a county containing a District which derives its powers from Article XVI, Section 59 of the Constitution and has statutory authority to make contracts with cities and towns for transportation and disposal of sewage (herein called "District") is an "Eligible City" within the meaning of this Act.

Contracts Authorized; Revenues Received; Disposition

Sec. 2. An Eligible City, pursuant to an ordinance passed by its governing body, is hereby authorized to make a contract with the District under which the District will make available to and provide for the Eligible City, sewage transportation, treatment and disposal services, or any or all of such services, and when prescribed therein, provision for stand-by service, such contract may also provide for use by the District of sewage transportation, treatment and disposal facilities owned by such city. Such contract may be upon such terms and for such period of time as the parties may agree, and may provide that it will remain in effect until the bonds issued by the District mentioned therein and refunding bonds issued in lieu thereof, are paid. Such a contract may contain such other provisions and requirements as the governing body of such Eligible City may find reasonably necessary to accomplish its purpose. Such city shall have the right to the continued performance of such services after the amortization of the District's investment in such facilities during the useful life thereof, upon payment of charges reduced to take into consideration such amortization.

The revenues received by the District from the participating Eligible Cities shall be used only (1) for payment of principal of and interest on, and to provide reserves created for, the bonds to be issued by District to finance such transportation, treatment and disposal facilities; and (2) to pay the operation and maintenance expenses (including within the meaning of the term, legal, administrative and management supervision fees and expenses) in connection therewith; provided that such part of any surplus accumulated for the benefit of a participating Eligible City, as may be prescribed in contract between such city and the District, may be expended by the District for enlargements and betterments of District's facilities which are used to serve such city.

Payments by City to District; Operating Expense

Sec. 3. Payments by such city to the District shall be made from the city's waterworks system or its sanitary sewer system or of both systems or of its combined water and sanitary sewer system, as prescribed in the contract between such city and the District, and shall constitute an operating expense of the system or systems whose revenues are thus to be applied. Unless the alternative procedure prescribed in Section 4 is followed, neither the District nor the holder of any bonds of the District shall have the right to demand payment of the city's obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation.

Elections; Bond Issues

Sec. 4. (a) If an election is held and carried substantially according to the procedure prescribed in Chapter 1, Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes, as amended, in reference to the issuance of bonds by cities, determining that the governing body of the city is authorized to execute the proposed contract for sewage transportation, treatment and disposal or for any of such services, and to levy ad valorem taxes to pay such obligation to the District, whether or not the city's obligation is to be credited with application of certain revenues of such system or systems, the contract, in such an event, will constitute an obligation against the taxing power of such city, but may be payable both from taxes and such revenues, as may be prescribed in the contract.

(b) Only qualified electors of the city who own taxable property therein and who have duly rendered the same for taxation shall be entitled to vote at such election. Except as otherwise provided in this Section and in such Chapter 1, Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes as amended, the General Election Laws shall govern such election.

(c) If a majority of the votes cast at said election are in favor of the proposition the governing body shall pass an ordinance prescribing the form and substance of the contract, and directing the proper officers of the city to sign it.

Rates for Services

Sec. 5. Whenever any such city shall have executed a contract with the District involving the performance of such duties by the District, if the payments thereunder are to be made either wholly or partly from the revenues of the city's waterworks system or sanitary sewer system or from both systems or a combination of both systems, the duty is hereby imposed on such city and it is hereby authorized to establish and maintain and from time to time to adjust the rates charged by the city for the services of such system or systems, to the end that the revenues therefrom will be sufficient at all times to pay: the expense of operating and maintaining such system in accordance with current standards and requirements for preventing stream pollution; the city's obligations to District under such contract; and all of such city's obligations under and in connection with revenue bonds theretofore issued, or which may be issued thereafter for such system or systems. Any such contract may require the use of consulting engineers and financial experts to advise the city whether and when such service rates are to be adjusted.

Contract Provisions

Sec. 6. Any such contract between the District and such city may provide for services to be rendered concurrently by the District to more than one city through the construction and operation of a multiple city system or plant, the cost for such services to be allocated among the several cities as determined in such contract or group of contracts. It is expressly provided and recognized that all of the compensation to be received by, and all of the security pledged to the District by each such city and all such cities will be available to the District as security for the bonds it will issue to provide necessary construction funds.

Art. 1109j. Contracts with Water Districts or Non-profit Corporations for Water, Sewer or Drainage ServicesAuthorization

Sec. 1. Any city or town, whether operating under the General Law or under its special or home rule charter, is authorized to enter into a contract with a district organized under the authority of Article XVI, Section 59 of the Constitution of Texas or any corporation or corporations organized to be operated without profit, and any such district or corporation is authorized to enter into a contract with any such city or town, under the terms of which such district, corporation or corporations will acquire for the benefit of and convey to the city or town one or more water supply or treatment systems, water distribution systems, sanitary sewer collection or treatment systems or works or improvements necessary for the drainage of lands in the city, either singularly or together, and in connection with such acquisition make such improvements, enlargements and extensions of and additions to the existing facilities of such city or town as may be provided for in such contract.

Payments for Water, Sewer or Drainage Services; Purchase of Systems; Pledge of Revenues

Sec. 2. When any such contract shall provide that the city or town shall become the owner of such water, sewer or drainage system or systems upon completion of construction or at such time as all debt incurred by such district or corporation in the acquisition, construction, improvement or extension of such system or systems is paid in full, such city or town shall be authorized to make payments to such district or corporation for water, sewer or drainage services to part or all of the inhabitants of such city or town. Such contract may provide for purchase by the city or town of such system or systems by periodic payments to such district or corporation by the city or town in amounts which, together with the net income of the district or corporation, will be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds of the district or corporation as they become due. Such contract may provide that any payments under this Section 2 shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of a specified portion of the revenues of the water system, the sewer system or the drainage system or systems of the city or town or may provide for the levying of a tax to make such payments, or may provide for such payments to be made from a combination of such revenues and taxes.

Use of Streets and Public Ways by District or Corporation

Sec. 3. Any such contract may provide that such district or corporation shall have the right to use the streets, alleys and public ways and places of the city or town for water, sewer or drainage purposes for a period of time which shall terminate at the time all such indebtedness of such district or corporation is paid in full and the city or town acquires title to such system or systems in accordance with this Act.

Operation of Systems by City

Sec. 4. Any such contract may provide that the city shall operate the system or systems, and if such contract does so provide, the city or town shall be authorized to operate such system or systems.

Approval of Contract by Governing Body

Sec. 5. Any contract made by any city or town pursuant to this Act may be authorized by a majority vote of the governing body of such city or town.

Art. 1110. Waterworks Right of Way

To acquire rights of way for digging or excavating canals, laying mains or pipe lines for the purpose of conducting water through the same into the cities or towns for the use of the public, incorporated cities and towns owning their own waterworks system shall have the right of eminent domain to condemn private property for public use in and outside of the city or town limits of such cities or towns.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1110a. Issuance of Revenue Bonds Against Which Judgment is Entered

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any city or town against which a judgment shall have been entered or may be entered hereafter because of purchase or construction money expended or advanced, awarding the plaintiff any properties there-tofore used by the city as if a part of the city's waterworks system, or requiring it to pay to plaintiff an amount of money equivalent to the value of, or in lieu of the surrender of such property, whether or not requiring it to pay a rental for use and detention of such property. Any such city or town, acting through its governing body, may, subject to compliance with the provisions of the Bond and Warrant law of 1931¹ with preference to the publication of notice for a period of fourteen days and affording an opportunity to the qualified voters of such city or town to file a petition for a referendum election upon such question and the favorable outcome of such election if thus required, repurchase from such plaintiff or plaintiff's successor in title, the properties involved, or pay the money judgment awarded against it or acquire needed property in lieu of such property, and may issue revenue bonds for such purposes, conditioned that the holder thereof shall never have the right to demand payment thereof out of moneys raised or to be raised by taxation, and payable out of the revenues of its system which shall include all properties and everything pertaining thereto then owned or thereafter acquired, hereinafter called the "system," and within the discretion of the governing body of such city, further secured by a lien upon the properties constituting the system and a lien upon and grant of a franchise to operate such system, in the event of sale of such system after default in the payment of such Revenue Bonds or interest thereon. The ordinance authorizing such Revenue Bonds may pledge all or any designated part of the net revenues of such system to the payment of such Revenue Bonds. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, such Revenue Bonds shall be issued in accordance with Article 1111 and Articles 1113 to 1118, both inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas as amended.

Sec. 2. After Revenue Bonds shall have been issued under Section 1 of this Act, so secured by the pledge of the revenues of such system, and whether or not secured by a lien upon the properties constituting the system and franchise, nevertheless the city may thereafter while all or a part of said bonds are still outstanding issue additional revenue bonds secured by a pledge of the net revenues of such system and by a lien similar to that, if any, securing the outstanding revenue bonds, for improvements, extensions, repairs, or replacements of and to the system, or for any or all of said purposes, to the extent and in the manner expressly permitted by the ordinance or ordinances authorizing such previously authorized and outstanding revenue bonds. Such additional revenue bonds shall be issued only after an authorizing election on the question shall have been held in the manner prescribed by Chapter 1 of Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925.² If and when such revenue bonds are subsequently issued in accordance with the limitations contained in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the revenue bonds previously issued under authority of Section 1 of this Act, they shall be secured by a pledge of the revenues of such system and lien upon the properties constituting the system and upon the franchise of equal dignity with the pledge and liens securing such outstanding revenue bonds.

Sec. 3. Within the discretion of the governing body of such city or town, revenue bonds issued either under Section 1 of³ Section 2 of this Act and which are made available for such purpose, may be refunded by the same issue or several issues of refunding bonds, provided that the interest cost to the city is not increased by the refunding of such bonds.

Sec. 4. Before any revenue bonds are delivered under the provisions of this Act they shall be submitted to and approved by the Attorney General, and shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts in the manner and with the effect provided in Articles 709 to 715, both inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, pertaining to the issuance by cities of tax supported bonds.

Art. 1110b. Separate City and Rural Systems of Home Rule Cities

Sec. 1. The acts of all home-rule cities whose charters authorize such cities to furnish electric light and power service both within and without corporate limits of such cities, and which cities now own and operate municipal electric systems and where, by such acts, such cities have heretofore set up and now own and operate rural electric systems as a unit separate and apart from the city system and as a separate utility, are hereby validated in all respects as though they have been duly and legally established as separate systems in the first instance. All the acts of municipal governing bodies of such municipalities setting up such systems as separate units and all bonds, mortgages, warrants and other evidence of indebtedness heretofore issued or heretofore voted or authorized to be issued, but not issued, are hereby validated; and such bonds, mortgages, warrants, and other evidences of indebtedness shall be an obligation of each unit separately. The encumbrances and obligations pertaining to one system shall in no way apply to or affect the other system. No such obligation heretofore or hereafter issued shall ever be a debt of such city but solely a charge upon the properties of the system, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city to issue bonds for any purpose authorized by law. The expense of operation and maintenance of such system shall always be a first lien and charge against the income thereof. Included within such expense shall be all salaries, labor, repairs, cost of electrical energy, interests, repairs or extensions necessary to render efficient service, and every other proper operation and maintenance expense. The governing bodies of such cities mentioned in this Act shall charge and collect for such service a sufficient rate to pay all operation and maintenance expense, depreciation, replacement, betterment and interest charged, and to pay the principal of and interest on all obligations issued against each system separately, and to maintain such reserve or reserves, if any, as may be prescribed in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such obligations. No part of the income of each of such systems shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense or operation until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid. Every evidence of indebtedness issued by the cities mentioned herein shall contain the clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation." All evidences of indebtedness hereafter issued by the cities mentioned herein shall be payable in not more than forty years from date and shall bear interest at not more than 5% per annum. Such evidences of indebtedness shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the city secretary; provided, however, that the facsimile signatures of such officers may be printed or lithographed on any interest coupons attached to any obligation issued by such cities. Such cities mentioned herein need not submit any obligation issued against either of such systems to any public official of this State, the only approval required or authorized under this Act being that of the governing body of the city. Any such obligations issued hereunder shall be non-contestable after issuance and delivery, except for fraud and forgery. Provided, however, no authority granted herein shall ever permit or authorize any such cities to construct facilities or furnish electric power and energy to any areas already being served with central station electric service.

Sec. 2. Any obligation issued hereunder shall be exempt from taxation by the State of Texas or by any municipal corporation, county, or other political subdivision or taxing district of the State.

Sec. 3. All acts of any such city and the governing body thereof in heretofore setting up and operating such systems are hereby in all things validated, and all encumbrances and mortgages pertaining to each such system and all obligations heretofore or hereafter issued, secured by a pledge of and/or payable from the revenues thereof, are hereby in all things validated; and such obligations shall be considered as obligations issued under this Act.

Sec. 4. The governing body of any home-rule city to which Section 1 of this Act applies, upon finding that it is in the best interests of its separately owned rural electric system and its municipal electric system, may by ordinance order that its rural electric system shall be merged into and become a part of its municipal electric system. From and after said merger, all laws relating to its municipal electric system, including but not limited to all laws relating to the authorization and issuance of bonds, shall apply to the municipal system as thus enlarged and merged pursuant to this section.

Art. 1110c. Improvements to Water and Sewer Systems

Constructing, Extending, Enlarging or Reconstructing Systems

Sec. 1. Cities, towns and villages as hereinafter defined shall have power under this Act to improve any water works system or sanitary sewer system within their limits by constructing, extending, enlarging or reconstructing such water or sanitary sewer systems, which power shall include that of making any one or more of the kinds or classes of improvements herein named or any combination thereof or parts thereof.

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:

(A) "City" shall mean any incorporated city, town or village, including home rule cities, which has all or a major portion of its territory in a county which, at the time any action is taken under the powers herein granted, has a population in excess of 25,000 according to the last preceding Federal Census.

(B) "Improvements to the Sewer System" shall mean the laying of all mains, laterals and extensions, and all appliances and necessary adjuncts thereto necessary for the sanitary disposal of excreta and offal from the area in which such improvements are constructed hereunder, but shall not include such off-site mains, laterals and extensions, and appliances and necessary adjuncts thereto shall be necessary to connect such improvements to the existing sanitary sewer system operated by the city.

(C) "Improvements to the Water System" shall mean the laying of a water main or mains with gates, tees, crosses, taps, meter boxes, manholes or extensions and any and all other appurtenances necessary and required for the furnishing of water for domestic or commercial purposes to the area in which such improvements are constructed hereunder, but shall not include such off-site mains, gates, tees, crosses, taps, meter boxes, manholes or extensions, and other appurtenances as shall be necessary to connect such improvements to the existing water system operated by the city.

(D) "Cost of Improvement" with regard to the construction of improvements to the water system and sewer system, either or both, shall include expenses of engineering, fiscal fees, and other expenses incident to construction of improvements in addition to the other costs of the improvements.

(E) "Construction of Improvement" when used herein shall mean the construction of improvements to the water or sewer system, either or both, as same are herein defined.

(F) "Improvements" when used alone herein shall mean improvements to the sewer or water system, either or both, as herein defined.

(G) "Governing Body" shall mean the city, town or village council or commission which serves as the legislative body of the city.

(H) "Benefited Property" shall mean any lot or tract to which water and sewer service, either or both, is made available under the terms of this Act.

Necessity of Improvements; Determination and Order

Sec. 3. The governing body of the city shall have power to determine the necessity for, and to order, the construction of improvements within said city and to contract for the construction of such improvements in the name of the city, and to provide for the payment of the cost of improvements by the city or partly by the city and partly by assessments as hereinafter provided.

Ordinance or Resolution; Costs; Assessments Against Benefited Property

Sec. 4. By the ordinance or resolution declaring that the necessity exists for such improvements, the city shall state generally the nature and extent of such improvements, and may direct that detailed plans, specifications and cost estimates therefor be prepared and submitted to the governing body. The cost of improvements may be wholly paid by the city, or partly by the city and partly by the property benefited by the construction of improvements and the owners of such property, but if any part of the cost is to be paid by such benefited property and the owners thereof, then before any improvements are actually constructed, either before or after receipt of bids for the proposed construction are received by the city, but before any hearing herein provided for is held, the governing body shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, an estimate of the cost of such improvements; in no event shall more than nine-tenths of the costs of such improvements as shown on such estimate be assessed against such benefited property and the owners thereof.

Tax or Assessment Against Railway, Street Railway or Interurban Right-of-Way

Sec. 5. No special tax or assessment shall be levied against a railway, street railway or interurban right-of-way to defray a portion of the cost of the improvements to a city's water or sanitary sewer system.

Amount of Assessment Against Benefited Property; Payment and Default; Liens; Certificates of Special Assessment; Contents

Sec. 6. Subject to the terms hereof, the governing body of any city shall have power by ordinance to assess nine-tenths of the estimated cost of improvements against benefited property, and against the owners of such property, and to provide the time, terms, and conditions of payment and defaults of such assessments, and to prescribe the rate of interest thereon not to exceed ten per cent per annum. Any assessment against benefited property shall be a first and prior lien thereon, and shall be a personal liability and charge against the true owners of such property at the date upon which said lien is fixed and becomes effective, whether named or not in any notice, instrument, certificate or ordinance provided for hereunder. The governing body shall have power to cause to be issued in the name of the city assignable certificates in evidence of assessments levied hereunder declaring the lien upon the property and liability of the true owners thereof whether correctly named or not and to fix the terms and conditions of such certificates.

If any such certificate shall recite substantially that the proceeding with reference to making the improvements therein referred to have been regularly had in compliance with the law and that all prerequisites to the fixing of the assessment lien against the property described in said certificate and the personal liability of the owner or owners thereof have been performed, same shall be prima facie evidence of all the matters recited in said certificate, and no further proof thereof shall be required. In any suit upon any assessment or reassessment in evidence of which a certificate may be issued under the terms of this Act it shall be sufficient to allege the substance of the recitals in such certificate and that such recitals are in fact true, and further allegations with reference to the proceedings relating to such assessment or reassessment shall not be necessary.

Such assessments shall be collectable with interest, expense of collections, and reasonable attorney's fees, if incurred, and shall be first and prior liens on the property assessed, superior to all other liens and claims except State, county, school district and city ad valorem taxes, and shall be a personal liability and charge against said owners of the property assessed.

Apportionment of Assessments; Front Foot Plan

Sec. 7. That part of the cost of water and sewer improvements, either or both, but computed separately, which may be assessed against benefited property and the owners thereof shall be apportioned among the tracts or parcels of benefited property and the owners thereof in accordance with the front foot plan or rule, provided that if the application of this rule would, in the opinion of the governing body, in particular cases, result in injustice or inequality, it shall be the duty of said body to apportion and assess said costs in such proportion as it may deem just and equitable, having in view the special benefits in enhanced value to be received by such owners, and the adjustment of such apportionment so as to produce a substantial equality of benefits received and burdens imposed. For purposes of computing the amount of the assessment to be made under such front foot plan or rule, each parcel of benefited property shall be assessed ac-ording to the number of lineal feet of each such parcel abutting upon a public street irrespective of the location of improvements constructed hereunder relative to such parcel so long as such improvements provide water and sewer service, either or both, to the parcel to be assessed; provided, however, that corner lots shall be assessed only for the shorter side of same abutting upon a public street.

Notice of Improvement, Assessment and Lien

Sec. 8. Whenever the governing body of any city shall, pursuant to this Act, determine it to be necessary that any sewer or water system be improved in any manner, than if it is proposed that all or any part of the cost of such improvements be levied or assessed and made a lien on property benefited thereby, there may be filed with the county clerk of the county or counties in which such property is situated a notice signed in the name of such city, by its clerk, secretary or mayor or other officer performing the duties of such. Such notice shall meet all requirements of the act when it shows substantially that the governing body of such city has ordered, directed or otherwise provided or determined it to be necessary that such system be improved and shall describe the location and limits between which same is to be or has been improved or shall otherwise identify or designate such system and shall state that a portion of the cost of such improvement is to be or has been specially assessed as a lien upon property benefited thereby, and shall describe such property. It is specially provided that one notice may embrace and include any number of such systems or improvements.

Contents of Notice; Filing

Sec. 9. It shall not be necessary that any notice required by this Act give details or that it be sworn to or acknowledged and same may be filed at any time and the county clerk with whom any such notice is filed shall record same in the records of mortgages or deeds of trust and shall index same in the name of the city and in the name of other designation of the water or sewer system or systems to the improvement of which the notice relates.

Effective Date of Lien

Sec. 10. In all instances coming within the purview of this Act the lien of any assessment or re-assessment upon the property assessed or re-assessed shall take effect and be in force at and from the filing of the notice herein provided for and not before.

Exemptions; Personal Liability for Assessments; Enforcement of Liability

Sec. 11. No property of any kind, church, school or otherwise, shall be exempt from any tax or assessment or assessments authorized hereby for local improvements, provided, however, that nothing herein shall empower any city or its governing body to fix a lien against any interest in property which is exempt from the lien of special assessments for local improvements under the Constitution of Texas at the time the lien takes effect, but the owner or owners of such property shall nevertheless be personally liable for any assessment in connection with such improvement and the city shall have power and authority to refuse water or sewer service, either or both, to the owners of such property until the owner thereof pays to the city the amount of the assessment made against such property or an amount equal to that amount assessed for such improvements against private property of equal or comparable size. The fact that any improvement, though ordered, is omitted as to any property, any interest in which is so exempt, shall not invalidate the lien or liability of assessments made against other property.

The lien created against any property and the personal liability of the owner or owners thereof may be enforced by suit in any court having jurisdiction, or by sale of the property assessed in the same manner as may be provided by law or charter in force in the particular city for sale of property for ad valorem city taxes, and the city, as an aid to the enforcement of the liability imposed by the assessment, may refuse to connect or may disconnect sewer or water service to a tract or parcel of benefited property during the period on which there is a default in the payment of any amount assessed hereunder against such tract or parcel and the owners thereof.

Hearing on Assessment; Notice; Contents Contesting Assessment; Appeal; Defenses

Sec. 12. No assessment herein provided for shall be made against any benefited property of¹ its owners, until after notice and opportunity for hearing as herein provided, and no assessment shall be made against any benefited property or owners thereof in excess of the special benefits of such property and its owners in the enhanced value thereof by means of such improvements as determined at such hearing. Such notice shall be by writing mailed to the address of the owner of such property or the person who last paid taxes on such property as determined from the tax rolls of the city, such written notice to be mailed at least ten days prior to the date set for the hearing, and by advertisement inserted at least three times in some newspaper of general circulation in the city where such special assessment tax is to be imposed, the first publication to be at least ten days before the date of the hearing. Proof of such mailing and such publication shall constitute proof that all notice requirements of this Act have been fully complied with.

If any such notice shall describe in general terms the nature of the improvements for which assessments are proposed to be levied and to which such notice relates, shall state the water or sanitary sewer system, portion or portions thereof to be improved, shall state the estimated amount or amounts per front foot proposed to be assessed against benefited property or the owners thereof and describe the property benefited by each system or portion, with reference to which hearing mentioned in the notice is to be held, and shall state the estimated total cost of the improvements on each such system, portion or portions thereof, and shall state the time and the place at which such hearing shall be held, then such notice shall be sufficient, valid and binding upon all owning or claiming such benefited property, or any interest therein. Such hearing shall be by and before the governing body of such city and all owning or claiming such benefited property, or any interest therein, shall have the right, at such hearing, to be heard on any matter as to which hearing is a constitutional prerequisite to the validity of any assessment authorized by this Act, and to contest the amounts of the proposed assessments, the lien and liability thereof, the special benefits to the benefited property and owners thereof by means of the improvements for which assessments are to be levied, the accuracy, sufficiency, regularity and validity of the proceedings and contract in connection with such improvements and proposed assessments, and the governing body shall have power to correct any deficiencies, and to determine the amounts of assessments and all other matters necessary, and by ordinance to close such hearing and levy such assessments before, during or after the construction or¹ such improvements, but no part of any assessment shall be made to mature prior to acceptance by the city of the improvements for which assessment is levied.

Anyone owning or claiming any property assessed, or any interest therein, who shall desire to contest any such assessment on account of the amount thereof, or any inaccuracy, irregularity, invalidity, or insufficiency of the proceedings or contract with reference thereto, or with reference to such improvements, or on account of any matter or thing not in the discretion of the governing body, shall have the right to appeal therefrom and from such hearing by instituting suit for that purpose in any court having jurisdiction within fifteen days from the time such assessment is levied; and anyone who shall fail to institute such suit within such time shall be held to have waived every matter which might have been taken advantage of at such hearing, and shall be barred and estopped from in any manner contesting or questioning such assessment, the amount, accuracy, validity, regularity and sufficiency thereof, and of the proceedings and contract with reference thereto and with reference to such improvements for or on account of any matter whatsoever. And the only defense to any such assessment in any suit to enforce the same shall be that the notice of hearing was not published or mailed or did not contain the substance of one or more of the requisites therefor herein prescribed, or that the assessments exceed the amount of the estimate, and no words or acts of any officer or employee of the city, or member of any governing body of the city, other than the action of the governing body shown in its written proceedings and records shall in any way affect the force and effect of the provisions of this Act.

Changes or Abandonment in Plans, Methods or Contracts

Sec. 13. The governing body of the city shall have power to provide for changes in plans, methods or contracts for improvements, or other proceedings relating thereto, but any change substantially affecting the nature or quality of any improvements shall only be made when it is determined by two-thirds vote of the governing body that it is not practical to proceed with the improvements as theretofore provided for, and if any such substantial change be made after any hearing has been ordered or held then unless the improvement be abandoned altogether a new estimate of cost shall be made and a new hearing ordered, and held, and new notices given, all with like effect and in the like manner as herein provided for original notice and hearings. Changes in or abandonment of improvements must be with the consent of such person, firm or corporation as may have contracted with the city for the construction thereof, if any such contract has been entered into, and in case of abandonment of any particular improvement an ordinance shall be passed which shall have the effect of cancelling any assessments theretofore levied therefor, and all other proceedings relating thereto.

Assessment Against Parcels Owned by Same Person

Sec. 14. Assessments against several parcels of benefited property may be made in one assessment when owned by the same person, firm, corporation or estate, and benefited property owned jointly by one or more persons, firms or corporations may be assessed jointly.

Exercise of Powers

Sec. 15. Said governing body shall have power to carry out all the terms and provisions of this Act and to exercise all the powers thereof, either by resolution, motion, order or ordinance, except where ordinance is specifically prescribed, and such governing body shall have power to adopt, either by resolution or ordinance, any and all rules or regulations appropriate to the exercise of such powers, the method and manner of ordering and holding such hearings, and the giving of notices thereof.

Invalid or Unenforceable Assessments; Correction of Irregularities; Re-assessments

Sec. 16. In case any assessment shall for any reason whatsoever be held or determined to be invalid or unenforceable, then the governing body of such city is empowered to supply any deficiency in proceedings with reference thereto and correct any mistake or irregularity in connection therewith, and at any time to make and levy re-assessments after notice and hearing as nearly as possible in the manner herein provided for original assessments and subject to the provisions hereof with reference to special benefits. Recitals in certificates issued in evidence of re-assessments shall have the same force as provided for recitals in certificates relating to original assessments.

Right of Appeal from Re-assessment

Sec. 17. Anyone owning or claiming any property interest in any property against which such re-assessment is levied shall have the same right of appeal as herein provided in connection with original assessments, and in the event of failure to appeal within fifteen days from the date of hearing relative to such re-assessment, the provisions hereinabove made with reference to waiver, bar, estoppel and defense shall apply to such re-assessment.

Assessments in Conjunction With Street Improvements; Joint Proceeding; Single Assessment Certificate

Sec. 18. Should any city so desire, it may make the improvements and assessments provided for hereunder in conjunction with street improvements and assessments provided for in Article 1105b, V.A. T.C.S. by one joint proceeding and only one hearing shall be necessary, and in such event the procedure herein provided shall govern. A single assessment certificate may be issued against any tract or parcel of benefited property and the owners thereof in evidence of the total assessment made for all or any improvements, including street improvements made in a joint proceeding as provided in the preceding sentence, made under this Act, provided that the amount assessed for each class of said improvements is shown separately and distinctly in the ordinance by which any assessment is made hereunder.

Assessment of Subdivided or Platted Property; Cities of Less Than 700,000

Sec. 19. In cities located in counties with a population of less than 700,000 inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census no assessment or other charge for the construction of improvements to any water or sewer system shall be made against any property or property owners, regardless of who initiates the request for said construction, unless such property is in an area which has been subdivided or platted for a period of at least ten years next preceding the date of assessment. For purposes of determining property or areas to which this Act shall apply, "subdivided or platted property" shall mean such property as has been duly platted under the terms of Article 974-a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes or any property which has been subdivided or platted by map or plat filed for record in the office of any county clerk, by the terms of which map or plat there has been made any dedication of the property to the public use for a street or alley right-of-way or for public utility easements.

Duty to Furnish Water or Sewer Service

Sec. 19-A. It is the intention of the Legislature, due to the emergency nature of this Act, that nothing contained herein shall be construed to effect any change in any way in the law of this state, whether promulgated by Statute or court decision, either or both, relating to the duty of a city in its proprietary capacity to furnish water and sewer service, either or both.

Certificates as Legal and Authorized Investments

Sec. 20. Certificates of special assessment issued under the provisions of this Act, including certificates issued in joint proceedings as hereinabove set out, shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, and sinking funds of cities, towns and villages, counties, school districts or other political subdivisions of the State of Texas and for all other public funds of the state or its agencies.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 21. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of existing laws. The provisions of this Act shall be liberally construed to effectuate its purposes and substantial compliance with the provisions hereof shall be sufficient.

Home Rule Cities; Plans and Specifications for Improvements; Payment of Contractor; Reimbursement; Assessments

Sec. 22. A home rule city to which this Act applies shall have the power and authority to adopt plans and specifications for improvements in accordance with the provisions hereof and shall have the power to pay to the contractor, the successful bidder, that part of the cost that may be assessed against the owners and their benefited property in cash and the city may reimburse itself for the amount by levying an assessment against benefited property and the owners thereof, after hearing and notice, as in this Act provided, up to the amount of the enhancement in value represented by the benefits and permitted by this Statute, and issue assignable certificates in favor of such city for the assessment. The certificates shall be enforceable in the same manner as herein provided. The city shall likewise have the power to do the improvement or improvements by its own forces if the work can be done more expeditiously and economically.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 23. Should any Section, provision, word, phrase, or clause of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance be held invalid, unconstitutional or ineffective, the remainder of the Act, and the application of such provisions to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Section 3 of the 1967 amendatory act provides:

"If any provisions of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provisions or applications, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

The 1971 act, which by §§ 1 and 2 amended §§ 2(H), 6, and 19 of this article, provided in § 3:

"As used in this Act, 'the last preceding federal census' means the 1970 census or any future decennial federal census. This is despite any legislation that has been or may be enacted during any session of the 62nd Legislature delaying the effectiveness of the 1970 census for general State and Local governmental purposes."

Art. 1110d. Improvements to Water and Sewer Systems; Purchase of Properties of Water Control and Improvement Districts

Application of Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to any city having a population in excess of 275,000 and whose water and sewer system are operated by a board of trustees or a public service board, and water control and improvement district where all or part of the district is contained within the city and where the district's properties are being separately operated under a contract between the city and the district by a board of trustees or public service board established by the city charter or by ordinance.

Definitions

Sec. 2. Words and terms used in this Act shall have the following meanings:

(a) "city" and "district" mean a city or a district to which this Act is applicable;

(b) "improvement bonds" means bonds issued under this Act where the proceeds thereof are to be used for the purchase of district properties as herein authorized;

(c) "district properties" means the water and sewer properties owned by the District or the portion of such properties which could constitute or be used as improvements, extensions or betterments to the City's water and sewer system.

Issuance of Improvement Bonds; Use of Proceeds; Pledge of Revenues

Sec. 3. A city is authorized to issue its negotiable improvement bonds for the purpose of improving, extending or bettering the city's water and sewer system and to use the proceeds from the sale of the improvement bonds for the purchase of district properties, if the amount to be paid by the City to the District, together with other applicable funds of the District, is adequate to make provision for the payment of all outstanding bonds of the District. The Improvement Bonds shall be secured by and payable from a pledge of net revenues of the water and sewer system of the City including the District Properties.

Notice; Petition for Election

Sec. 4. Before the issuance of Improvement Bonds the Mayor of the City shall issue a notice of the City's intent to issue such bonds stating the maximum amount thereof, the maximum interest rate and the maximum maturity, and cause such notice to be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the City once each week for two consecutive weeks, the first such publication shall be not less than fourteen days prior to the date upon which the governing body of the city intends to pass the ordinance directing the issuance of the Improvement Bonds. If, by the date specified for the passage of such ordinance, a petition signed by at least ten per cent of the voters qualified to vote in bond elections and requesting an election on the question of the issuance of such Bonds is filed with the City Secretary or City Clerk, the Improvement Bonds shall not be issued unless such election is held and results in a majority vote in favor of the Bonds. If such petition is not filed, no election is required, and the governing body may, on the date specified in the notice or on a later date, pass the ordinance directing the issuance of the Improvement Bonds. If an election is called, it shall be called and held and notice thereof given as provided in Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended.¹ The Improvement Bonds shall be approved by the Attorney General of Texas, or may be validated by suit under Chapter 316, Acts of the 56th Legislature,² or both, and when so approved or validated they shall be incontestable.

² Article 717m (repealed; see, now, art. 717m-1).

Sale of District Properties; Amount

Sec. 5. The District is authorized to sell District Properties to the City upon payment by the City to the District of an amount of money which, together with other applicable funds of the District, will be sufficient to provide for the payment of all of the outstanding bonds of the District and the interest thereon to the maturity dates of such bonds or to the date to be fixed by the District for prior redemption of its bonds, and to provide for the payment of any required prior redemption premium, and the fees of the bank of payment.

Interest and Sinking Fund; Investment and Deposit

Sec. 6. Money thus paid by the City to the District, together with other applicable funds of the District, shall be promptly deposited in the interest and sinking fund of the District which fund shall be permanently maintained in the bank where the District's bonds are payable. Said fund shall be invested immediately in direct obligations of the United States Government, or deposited in banks or in savings and loan associations to the extent that such deposits are insured by an agency of the United States Government, or in any combination of such investments and deposits. Money and investments deposited with such bank of payment under this Act shall be held by said bank in trust for the benefit of the holders of the outstanding bonds of the District.

Payment of Interest and Principal on District Bonds

Sec. 7. The investments made of the District's interest and sinking fund shall be in obligations or deposits which will mature and produce income, without reinvestment, at times and in amounts which will pay the interest on the District's bonds as it becomes due and pay the principal as it becomes due or on the date fixed by the District for prior redemption, and any redemption premium on the redemption date, and the fees of the bank of payment.

Other Indebtedness

Sec. 8. If the District owes any indebtedness other than bonds and the amount paid by the City to the District is in excess of the amount required for bond requirements as specified in Section 7 hereof, such excess shall be applied to the payment of the other indebtedness.

Passage of Title to City; Abolishment of District; Operation and Management of Properties

Sec. 9. Upon payment of the money by the City to the District and the investment thereof as provided in this Act, the governing body of the City shall pass an ordinance specifying the date as of which title to the District Properties was or shall be vested in the City. The date so specified may, in the discretion of the governing body of the City, be the first day of the then fiscal year of the City. Title to the District Properties shall, for all purposes, be deemed vested in the City on the date specified in said ordinance. The governing body of the City shall also abolish the District by a provision in the ordinance above described or by a subsequent ordinance. Thereafter, the District Properties shall be operated and managed by the board of trustees or the public service board in which the management and operation of the other water and sewer properties of the City is vested.

Integration or Segregation of Properties

Sec. 10. After title to the District Properties is vested in the City and the District is abolished as provided in this Act, the board of trustees or public service board is authorized to integrate the District Properties with the water and sewer system of the City either completely or to the extent provided by the board. It is provided, however, that the payment and security of the outstanding bonds of the District shall not be impaired, and if money is not available at the bank where the bonds of the District are payable sufficient to pay interest on and principal of said bonds as they become due, said board shall segregate the District Properties with all replacements, renewals, improvements and betterments thereof from the remainder of the City's water and sewer system in such manner that the District Properties shall constitute a complete and operating system to serve substantially the same area as it served at the time title passed from the District to the City. Thereafter, said board shall maintain and operate the District system separately, comply with the terms and provisions of the resolutions authorizing the outstanding bonds of the District, and be vested with all of the powers, duties and obligations theretofore vested in the board of directors of the District insofar as maintenance and operation of the District system, the handling of its funds and the payment of outstanding bonds of the District are concerned. For that purpose the board shall constitute a body corporate and occupy the same position as the District and its board of directors.

Payment of Outstanding District Bonds; Interest and Prior Redemption Premiums

Sec. 11. After money has been deposited with the bank where the outstanding District bonds are payable as provided in this Act, the District or the City, as the case may be, may, at any time and from time to time, pay off any outstanding District bonds provided that the amount of money and investments then remaining to the credit of the interest and sinking fund will be sufficient to provide for the payment of all of the remaining outstanding bonds of the District and the interest thereon to the maturity dates of such bonds or to the date fixed by the District for prior redemption of its bonds, and to provide for the payment of any required prior redemption premium.

Excessive Cash and Investments in Interest and Sinking Fund; Payment to Board of Trustees

Sec. 12. If, at any time, the cash and investments in the interest and sinking fund are in excess of the amount required by Section 7 of this Act the bank in which said fund is invested shall, upon request of the board of trustees or public service board, pay such excess to said board.

Art. 1110e. Waterworks and Sanitary Sewer Systems; "On-Site" and "Off-Site" Improvements; Assessments; Certificates; Procedure

Power to Make Off-Site Improvements and Assessments

Sec. 1. Cities as defined herein shall have the power under this Act to make improvements of the kinds or classes herein named or any combination thereof or part thereof within certain designated or defined areas within their limits so as to enable water service or sanitary sewer service, either or both, to be furnished to property situated in such areas from "off-site" waterworks system or sanitary sewer systems, either or both, as herein defined hereafter constructed, purchased or otherwise acquired by such cities and to assess a portion of the cost of such improvements against the properties benefited thereby and against the owners thereof, regardless of whether or not said property is in an area which has been subdivided or platted preceding the effective date of this Act by a plat filed for record in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such city is situated or otherwise.

Definitions

Sec. 2. (a) "City" shall mean any city or town, including general law and home rule cities, and not included in whole or in part within the boundaries of any political subdivision functioning and with an outstanding bonded indebtedness having as one of its purposes the supplying of fresh water for domestic or commercial uses or the furnishing of sanitary sewer services, and which city or town does not have a municipally owned water or sanitary sewer service system at the effective date of this Act. The powers conferred in this Act shall terminate after a period of 5 years from the effective date of this Act.

(b) "On-site" when used in connection with the words sanitary sewer system, water system, mains, gates, tees, crosses, adjuncts, appurtenances or improvements, or improvements to the sewer system or water system shall refer to such segments of a water or sanitary sewer system, or improvements in connection therewith, including mains, gates, tees, crosses, taps, meter boxes, manholes, laterals, extensions, appliances, adjuncts and other appurtenances located within the "Defined Area" within which the benefited property lies. "On-site Improvements" do not include the water and/or sanitary sewer plant proper even though situated within the area.

(c) "Off-site" when used in connection with the words sanitary sewer system, water system, mains, gates, tees, crosses, taps, meter boxes, manholes, laterals, extensions, appliances, adjuncts, appurtenances or improvements, or improvements to the sewer system or improvements to the water system shall refer to mains, gates, tees, crosses, taps, meter boxes, manholes, laterals, extensions, appliances, adjuncts and other appurtenances or segments of a water or sanitary sewer system located outside of the "Defined Area" in which the benefited property lies. "Off-site Improvements" include the waterworks and/or sanitary sewer plant proper whether situated within such area or outside of such area.

(d) "Improvements to the Sanitary Sewer System" shall mean the laying of all mains, laterals and extensions, any and all other appliances or appurtenances or adjuncts thereto and any combinations thereof or of portions thereof above mentioned, and other "on-site improvements" liberally construed, necessary or advisable for the sanitary disposal of excreta and offal from Benefited Properties situated within the "Defined Area" but shall not embrace any connection facilities leading from public mains into private property for service to such property.

(e) "Improvements to the Water System" shall mean the laying of all water mains with gates, tees, crosses, taps, meter boxes, manholes, laterals, extensions, appliances, adjuncts thereto and any and all other appliances or appurtenances or adjuncts thereto and any combinations thereof or of portions thereof above mentioned and other "on-site improvements" liberally construed, advisable or necessary for the furnishing of water for domestic or commercial purposes to the Benefited Properties in the "Defined Area" but shall not embrace any connection facilities leading from a meter into private property.

(f) "Cost of Improvement" with regard to the construction of improvements to the water system and sewer system, either or both, shall include expenses of engineering, fiscal fees, and other expenses incident to construction of improvements in addition to the other costs of the improvements.

(g) "Construction of Improvement" when used herein shall mean the construction of "on-site" improvements, as same are defined herein, to the water or sewer system, either or both, hereafter constructed, purchased or otherwise acquired by the city.

(h) "Improvements" when used alone herein shall mean "on-site" improvements within designated or defined areas of cities which will enable water service or sanitary sewer service, either or both, to be furnished to property situated in such area from "off-site" waterworks and sanitary sewer systems, either or both, hereafter constructed, purchased or otherwise acquired by such cities.

(i) "Governing Body" shall mean the city, or town council or commission which serves as the legislative body of the municipality.

(j) "Benefited Property" shall mean any lot or tract of land situated in a "Defined Area" and to which water and sewer service, either or both, is made available under the terms of this Act.

(k) "Defined Area or Areas" means any area or any areas within the limits of any city to which this Act applies which is served by neither a municipally owned sanitary sewer or water system the boundaries of which area or areas are defined by the governing body of the city in an ordinance or resolution declaring that a necessity exists for improvements as herein defined.

Power to Make On-Site Improvements and Assessments

Sec. 3. The governing body of the city shall have at any time the power to determine the necessity for and to order the construction of "on-site" improvements within said city to a water system or to a sanitary sewer system, either or both, hereafter constructed, purchased or otherwise acquired by the city and to contract for the construction of such improvements by one or more contracts in the name of the city and to provide for the payment of the costs of such improvements by the city or partly by the city and partly by assessments levied against benefited property and the owners thereof as herein provided.

Ordinance; Cost Estimates; Payment of Cost by Assessment and by City

Sec. 4. By the ordinance or resolution declaring that the necessity exists for such improvements, the city shall state generally the nature and extent of the "on-site" improvements, shall define the area or areas in which the benefited property lies and in which the "on-site" improvements are to be constructed, and may direct that detailed plans, specifications and cost estimates therefor be prepared and submitted to the governing body. The costs of "on-site" improvements may be wholly paid by the city or partly by the city and partly by the property benefited by the construction of the improvements and the owners of such property, but if any part of such cost is to be paid by such benefited property and the owners thereof, then before any "on-site" improvements are actually constructed, either before or after bids for the proposed construction are received by the city, and before any hearing herein provided for is held, the governing body shall prepare or cause to be prepared an estimate of the cost of such "on-site" improvements; in no event shall more than nine-tenths of the costs of such "on-site" improvements as shown on such estimate be assessed against such benefited property and the owners thereof. The city shall pay all of the costs of "off-site" improvements.

Railway Assessment Exemption

Sec. 5. No special tax or assessment shall be levied against a railway, street railway or interurban right-of-way to defray a portion of the cost of improvements to a city's water or sanitary sewer system.

Assessments; Payment and Interest; Priority of Liens; Assignable Certificates; Suits; Collection Costs

Sec. 6. Subject to the terms thereof, the governing body of any city shall have power by ordinance to assess not exceeding nine-tenths of the estimated cost of "on-site" improvements against benefited property, and against the owners of such property, and to provide the time, terms, and conditions of payment and defaults of such assessments, and to prescribe the rate of interest thereon not to exceed 10 percent per annum. Any assessment against benefited property shall be a first and prior lien thereon, from the date improvements are ordered and shall be a personal liability and charge against the true owners of such property at such date whether named or not in any notice, instrument, certificate or ordinance provided for hereunder. The governing body shall have the power to cause to be issued in the name of city assignable certificates in evidence of assessments levied hereunder declaring the lien upon the property and liability of the true owners thereof whether correctly named or not and to fix the terms and conditions of such certificates. Such certificates may be signed by the mayor or mayor pro tem or other authorized officer and attested by the city secretary or city clerk, which signatures may be facsimile signatures in lieu of manual signatures and such facsimile signatures may be printed, engraved, lithographed, stamped or otherwise placed in facsimile thereon. The city seal may likewise be placed in facsimile thereon.

If any such certificate shall recite substantially that the proceeding with reference to making the improvements therein referred to have been regularly had in compliance with the law and that all prerequisites to the fixing of the assessment lien against the property described in said certificate and the personal liability of the owner or owners thereof have been performed, and that the improvements have been completed in accordance with the plans and specifications and have been accepted by the city and the date of such acceptance, same shall be prima facie evidence of all the matters recited in said certificate, and no further proof thereof shall be required. In any suit upon any assessment or reassessment in evidence of which a certificate may be issued under the terms of this Act it shall be sufficient to allege the substance of the recitals in such certificate and that such recitals are in fact true, and further allegations with reference to the proceedings relating to such assessment or reassessment shall not be necessary.

Such assessments shall be collectable with interest, expense of collections, and reasonable attorney's fees, if incurred, and shall be first and prior liens on the property assessed, superior to all other liens and claims except state, county, school district and city ad valorem taxes, and shall be a personal liability and charge against said owners of the property assessed.

Apportionment of Cost

Sec. 7. That part of the cost of water and sewer "on-site" improvements, either or both, but computed separately, which may be assessed against benefited property and the owners thereof in the Defined Area or Areas shall be apportioned among the tracts or parcels of property benefited by such water improvements or sewer improvements, or both, and against the owners thereof in accordance with the square footage of each tract or parcel of land as shown on a recorded plat if such property is platted and the square footage can be computed from the information shown on such plat, or if no such plat is recorded, then as such square footage may be estimated by the city's engineer from such information as is available, provided that if the application of this rule of apportionment would in the opinion of the governing body, in particular cases, result in injustice or inequality it shall be the duty of said body to apportion and assess said costs in such proportion as it may deem just and equitable, having in view the special benefits in enhanced value to be received by such owners, and the adjustment of such apportionment so as to produce a substantial equality of benefits received and burdens imposed. For purposes of computing the amount of the assessment to be made each parcel benefited property shall be assessed according to the number of square feet of each such parcel irrespective of the location of "on-site" improvements constructed hereunder relative to such parcel so long as such improvements provide water or sanitary sewer service, or both, to the parcel to be assessed.

Notice of Assessment; Requisites; Filing

Sec. 8. Whenever the governing body of any city shall pursuant to this Act determine it to be necessary that any "on-site" improvements should be constructed, then if it is proposed that all or any part of the costs of the "on-site" improvements be levied or assessed and made a lien on property benefited thereby, there may be filed with the county clerk of the county or counties in which such property is situated a notice signed in the name of such city by the city clerk, secretary, mayor or mayor pro tem or other authorized officer, which signatures may be facsimile signatures in lieu of manual signatures, and such facsimile signatures may be printed, engraved, lithographed, stamped or otherwise placed in facsimile thereon. Such notice shall meet all requirements of the Act when it shows substantially that the governing body of such city has ordered, directed or otherwise provided or determined it to be necessary that such system be improved and shall define the outside boundaries of the area or areas in which the benefited property lies (the Defined Area or Areas), either by metes and bounds or by reference to streets, highways, survey lines, city limits lines or lot and block or subdivision lines shown on recorded plats, or shall otherwise identify or designate the area within which the improvements are to be made; and shall state that a portion of the costs of the "on-site" improvements is to be or has been specially assessed as a lien upon the benefited property. It is specially provided that one notice may embrace and include any number of such systems or improvements, or designated areas. If there are lots or parcels of land within any Defined Area or Areas which it has been determined by the governing body or the city's engineer will not be Benefited Property as that term is defined herein, then in such notice or in a later notice filed as promptly as feasible after such fact has been so determined such non-benefited property shall be described as adequately as possible and the inchoate lien against same and liability of the owners thereof shall be declared released and cancelled.

Necessity of Acknowledgment and Filing of Assessment Notice

Sec. 9. It shall not be necessary that any notice required by this Act give details or that it be sworn to or acknowledged and same may be filed at any time and the county clerk with whom any such notice is filed shall record same and index same in the name of the city and in the name or other designation of the water or sewer system or systems to the improvement of which it relates. The lien and liability of the assessment shall not be invalidated should said notice not be filed or not be indexed or recorded as herein provided, or shall be otherwise defective.

Exemptions From Assessment; Lien and Personal Liability; Enforcement

Sec. 10. No property of any kind, church, school or otherwise, shall be exempt from any tax or assessment or assessments authorized hereby for local improvements, provided, however, that nothing herein shall empower any city or its governing body to fix a lien against any interest in property which is exempt from the lien of special assessments for local improvements under the Constitution of Texas at the time the lien takes effect, but the owner or owners of such property shall nevertheless be personally liable for any assessment in connection with such improvement and the city shall have power and authority to refuse water or sewer service, either or both, to the owners of such property until the owner thereof pays to the city the amount of assessment made against such property or an amount equal to the amount assessed for such improvements against private property of equal or comparable size. The fact that any improvement, though ordered, is omitted as to any property, any interest in which is so exempt shall not invalidate the lien or liability of assessments made against other property.

The lien created against any property and the personal liability of the owner or owners thereof may be enforced by suit in any court having jurisdiction, or by sale of the property assessed in the same manner as may be provided by law or charter in force in the particular city for sale of property for ad valorem city taxes, and the city, as an aid to the enforcement of the liability imposed by the assessment, may refuse to connect or may disconnect sewer or water service to a tract or parcel of benefited property during the period on which there is a default in the payment of any amount assessed hereunder against such tract or parcel and the owners thereof.

Notice and Opportunity for Hearing; Publication and Mailing of Notices; Requisites; Powers of Governing Body; Appeal

Sec. 11. No assessment herein provided for shall be made against any benefited property or its owners, until after notice and opportunity for hearing as herein provided, and no assessment shall be made against any benefited property or owners thereof in excess of the special benefits of such property and its owners in the enhanced value thereof by means of such improvements as determined at such hearing. Such notice shall be by advertisement inserted at least three times in some newspaper published in the city where such special assessment is to be imposed, if there be such a paper: if not, then in a newspaper published in the county wherein such city is situated with general circulation in such city; the first publication of such notice of hearing to be made at least 21 days before the date of the hearing; and, additional written notice of the hearing shall be given by depositing in the United States mail, at least 14 days before the date of the hearing, notice of such hearing, (which may consist of a copy of the published notice) postage prepaid, in envelopes addressed to the respective owners of the Benefited Properties, as the names of such owners are shown on the then current rendered tax rolls of such city and at the addresses so shown, or if the names of such respective owners do not appear on such rendered tax rolls, then addressed to such owners as their names are shown on the current unrendered rolls of the city at the addresses shown thereon. The certificate of the city clerk or city secretary of such mailing and such publication shall constitute proof that all notice requirements of this Act have been fully complied with.

If any such notice shall describe in general terms the nature of the improvements for which assessments are proposed to be levied and to which such notice relates; shall name the water or sanitary sewer system to be improved, shall state the estimated amount or amounts per square foot proposed to be assessed against benefited property or the owners thereof, showing separately the amount proposed to be assessed for water improvements and the amount proposed to be assessed for sanitary sewer improvements; shall define in the manner provided by Section 8 of this Act the outside boundaries of the area or areas in which the benefited property lies or lie (the Defined Area or Areas), with reference to which the hearing mentioned in the notice is to be held; shall state the estimated total cost of the "on-site" improvements to the water system separately from the estimated total cost of the "on-site" improvements to the sewer system; and shall state the time and place at which such hearing shall be held, then such notice shall be sufficient, valid and binding upon all owning or claiming such benefited property or any interest therein. Such hearing shall be by and before the governing body of such city and all owning or claiming such benefited property, or any interest therein, shall have the right, at such hearing, to be heard on any matter as to which hearing is a constitutional prerequisite to the validity of any assessment authorized by this Act, and to contest the amounts of the proposed assessments, the lien and liability thereof, the special benefits to the benefited property and owners thereof by means of the improvements for which assessments are to be levied, the accuracy, sufficiency, regularity and validity of the proceedings and contract or contracts in connection with such improvements and proposed assessments, and the governing body shall have power to correct any deficiencies, and to determine the amounts of assessments and all other matters necessary, and by ordinance to close such hearing and levy such assessments before, during or after the construction of such improvements, but no part of any assessment shall be made to mature prior to acceptance by the city of the improvements or the portion of such improvements which make service available to the Benefited Property against which assessment is levied.

Anyone owning or claiming any property assessed, or any interest therein, who shall desire to contest any such assessment on account of the amount thereof, or any inaccuracy, irregularity, invalidity, or insufficiency of the proceedings or contract with reference thereto, or with reference to such improvements, or on account of any matter or thing not in the discretion of the governing body, shall have the right to appeal therefrom and from such hearing by instituting suit for that purpose in any court having jurisdiction within 15 days from the time such assessment is levied; and anyone who shall fail to institute such suit within such time shall be held to have waived every matter which might have been taken advantage of at such hearing, and shall be barred and estopped from in any manner contesting or questioning such assessment, the amount, accuracy, validity, regularity and sufficiency thereof, and of the proceedings and contract with reference thereto and with reference to such improvements for or on account of any matter whatsoever. And the only defense to any such assessment in any suit to enforce the same shall be that the notice of hearing was not published or mailed or did not contain the substance of one or more of the requisites therefor herein prescribed, or that the assessments substantially exceed the amount of the estimate, and no words or acts of any officer or employee of the city, or member of any governing body of the city, other than the action of the governing body shown in its written proceedings and records shall in any way affect the force and effect of the provisions of this Act.

Changes in Improvements

Sec. 12. The governing body of the city shall have power to provide for changes in plans, methods or contracts for improvements, or other proceedings relating thereto, but any change substantially affecting the nature or quality of any improvements shall only be made when it is determined by a majority vote of the governing body that it is not practical to proceed with the improvements as theretofore provided for, and if any such substantial change be made after any hearing has been held or after notice has been given of any such hearing, as herein required, then unless the improvement be abandoned altogether a new estimate of cost shall be made and a new hearing ordered, and held, and new notices given, all with like effect and in like manner as herein provided for original notice and hearings. The substitution of equivalents shall not be deemed a substantial change. The elimination or change of location of particular mains, laterals, adjuncts and other appurtenances shall not be deemed a substantial change if an ordinance shall be passed which shall have the effect of cancelling any assessments theretofore levied against properties and their owners will as a result of such elimination or change receive neither water nor sewer service and cancelling any assessment so levied for sewer improvements if sewer service is eliminated or for water improvements if water service is to be eliminated, as the case may be. Changes in or abandonment of improvements must be with the consent of such person, firm or corporation as may have contracted with the city for the construction thereof, if any such contract has been entered into.

Separate or Joint Assessments

Sec. 13. Assessments against several parcels of benefited property may be made in one assessment when owned by the same person, firm, corporation or estate, and benefited property owned jointly by one or more persons, firms or corporations may be assessed jointly.

Powers of Governing Body; Rules and Regulations

Sec. 14. Said governing body shall have power to carry out all the terms and provisions of this Act and to exercise all the powers thereof, either by resolution, motion, order or ordinance, except where ordinance is specifically prescribed, and such governing body shall have power to adopt, either by resolution or ordinance, any and all rules or regulations appropriate to the exercise of such powers, the method and manner of ordering and holding such hearings, and the giving of notices thereof.

Invalid Assessments; Correction of Irregularities; Amendment of Assessment; Reassessments; Effect on Certificates

Sec. 15. In case any assessment for any reason whatsoever be held or determined to be invalid or unenforceable, then the governing body of such city is empowered to supply any deficiency in proceedings with reference thereto and at any time before or after suit is filed seeking to enforce such assessment or during the pendency of any such suit but in any event not later than two years after the maturity date of the last installment on the assessment involved extended by the period of time, if any, in which litigation involving such assessment or the certificate evidencing same was pending to make and levy reassessments after notice and hearing as nearly as possible in the manner herein provided for original assessments and subject to the provisions hereof with reference to special benefits; however, such city may at any time correct any mistake or irregularity by amending any assessment without the necessity of reassessment proceedings and without the necessity of new notice and hearing where the original notice to the property owners after the original hearing was published and mailed as required by this Act and contained, in substance, the information required to be contained therein by this Act and the irregularity or mistake can be corrected by the substitution of a correct property description for an incorrect one, or the making of a correction showing the true area of a particular tract where an incorrect area was originally shown, so long as such correction is insubstantial and does not go to the question of benefits, or where other similar irregularities exist and where such amendment does not require an increase in the square foot rate previously assessed against the benefited property and the owner thereof nor go to the question of benefits to such property. Recitals in certificates issued in evidence of reassessments or amended assessments shall have the same force as provided for in recitals in certificates relating to the original assessment, and such certificate shall be dated as of the date of the original certificate and shall bear interest as therein provided. Such certificates may be signed by the mayor, mayor pro tem or other authorized officer and attested by the city clerk or city secretary in office at the date of their issuance. Such signatures and the seal of the city may be placed on said reassessment certificates in facsimile in the manner herein provided for assessment certificates.

Reassessments; Appeal

Sec. 16. Anyone owning or claiming any property interest in any property against which such reassessment is levied shall have the same right of appeal as herein provided in connection with original assessments, and in the event of failure to appeal within 15 days from the date of hearing relative to such reassessment, the provisions hereinabove made with reference to waiver, bar, estoppel and defense shall apply to such reassessment.

Construction of Act

Sec. 17. The powers conferred by this Act shall not be construed as precedent beyond the powers specifically granted herein, and nothing contained herein shall be construed to affect in any way the law of this State whether promulgated by Statute or court decision, either or both, relating to the duty of a city in its proprietary capacity to furnish water and sewer service, either or both. Nor shall the legislative history of this Act be construed to affect in any way the law of this State.

Certificates of Assessment; Legal Investments

Sec. 18. Certificates of special assessment issued under the provisions of this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, and sinking funds of cities, towns and villages, counties, school districts or other political subdivisions of the State of Texas and for all other public funds of the State or its agencies.

Certificates of Assessment; Purchase From Contractor; Payment

Sec. 19. Any city to which this Act applies may purchase at not more than face value and accrued interest from the contractor constructing the improvements any certificates of special assessment which may be issued to him pursuant to the provisions of this Act out of the proceeds of any bond funds voted and issued for making such improvements (whether such bond funds be proceeds from the sale of general obligation tax bonds or revenue bonds issued by the city), or out of any other available funds; provided that the amount of the assessment evidenced by any such certificate levied for water improvements, if paid out of bond funds, is paid out of bond funds issued for such improvements and the amount of the assessment evidenced by any such certificates levied for sewer improvements, if paid out of bond funds, is paid out of the proceeds of bond funds voted and issued for such sewer improvements, and further provided that the proceeds from such certificates, both principal and interest, when collected shall be paid into the fund from which the money was obtained to purchase the certificates.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 20. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of existing laws, except that the provisions of this Act shall be controlling as to cities acting under its provisions, over any irreconcilable conflicting provisions of any Act enacted contemporaneously herewith at this session. The provisions of this Act shall be liberally construed to effectuate its purposes and substantial compliance with the provisions hereof shall be sufficient.

Repealer

Sec. 21. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed to the extent of conflict only.

Severability

Sec. 22. Should any section, provision, word, phrase, or clause of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance be held invalid, unconstitutional or ineffective, the remainder of the Act, and the application of such provisions to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 1110f. Sewage; Joint Collection, Transportation, Treatment, and Disposal; Public Utility Agencies

Purpose

Sec. 1. The purpose of this Act is to clarify the authority of public entities that are lawfully authorized to engage in the collection, transportation, treatment, and disposal of sewage, to join together as cotenants or coowners, or by concurrent resolution or ordinance, to create a public utility agency, to engage in the planning, financing, acquiring, constructing, owning, operating, and maintaining of facilities so that each public entity will owe all of the duties, will have and be secure in all of the rights, powers, and liabilities, and shall be entitled to all of the privileges and exemptions attributable to its undivided interest as a cotenant or coowner should the entities elect not to create a public utility agency, as provided by law with respect to an entire interest in facilities planned, financed, acquired, constructed, owned, operated, and maintained by it alone. These alternatives are to serve as a means of achieving economies of scale by providing essential sewage systems to the public and promoting the orderly economic development of the state while providing environmentally sound protection of future wastewater needs of the state and its inhabitants. The provisions of this Act shall be liberally construed to effectuate these purposes but shall not be construed to otherwise enlarge, change, or modify in any way the rights, powers, or authority of any public or private entity under existing law. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to alter, change, abrogate, or otherwise affect the existing contracts in force at the time this Act takes effect.

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this Act:

(1) "Public entity" means any county, city, or other body politic or corporate of the state, including any district or authority created under Article III, Section 52, or Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution.

(2) "Private entity" means any entity other than a public entity solely involved in financing, constructing, operating, and maintaining sewer facilities.

(3) "Facilities" means facilities necessary or incidental to the collection, transportation, treatment, or disposal of sewage, including plant sites, rights-of-way, and real and personal property and equipment and rights of every kind useful in connection with collection, transportation, treatment, or disposal of sewage.

(4) "Public utility agency" or "agency" means any agency created under this Act by two or more public entities for the purpose of planning, financing, constructing, owning, operating, and maintaining facilities for the purpose of achieving economies of scale in providing sewer services.

Public Utility Agency

Sec. 3. (a) To more readily accomplish the purposes of this Act, two or more public entities, by concurrent ordinances, may create an agency to be known as a public utility agency. The agency shall be without taxing power, and shall be a separate agency, a political subdivision of the state, and body politic and corporate exercising all of the powers that are conferred by Chapter 10, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ and this Act on a public entity. No agency is authorized to engage in any utility business other than the collection, transportation, treatment, or disposal of sewage for the participating public entities that are joint owners with the agency of a facility located within the state. A public entity, at the time of the passage of the concurrent ordinance, must be one that has the authority to engage in the collection, transportation, treatment, or disposal of sewage, but the entity may subsequently dispose of its facilities. Before the passage of a concurrent ordinance to create a public utility agency, the governing body of each public entity shall have notice of its intention to adopt the ordinance published in a newspaper of general circulation within the county in which the public entity is domiciled once a week for two consecutive weeks, the date of the first publication to be at least 14 days before the date set for the passage of the concurrent ordinance. The notice shall state the date, time, and place that the governing body proposes to pass the ordinance and that on the effective date of the concurrent ordinances the public entities adopting them shall have created a public utility agency. If, prior to the day set for the passage of a concurrent ordinance, 10 percent of the qualified electors of the particular public entity present a petition to the governing body requesting that a referendum election be called, the ordinance shall not become effective until a majority of the qualified electors of the entity voting in the election have approved the ordinance. The election shall be called and held in conformity with the Texas Election Code, as amended, Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,² and this Act. Except as provided in this Act, a concurrent ordinance shall not be subject to a referendum election.

(b) Public entities that establish a public utility agency may, by concurrent ordinances, provide for the re-creation of the agency by the addition or deletion or both of a public entity so long as there is no impairment of obligation of any existing obligation of the agency.

(c) Concurrent ordinances are ordinances or resolutions adopted by the governing bodies of more than one public entity that contain identical provisions with respect to the creation or re-creation of a public utility agency.

² Article 701 et seq.

Rights and Powers of Participating Public Entities

Sec. 4. (a) Each participating public entity may use its funds in planning, acquiring, constructing, owning, operating, and maintaining its undivided interest and may share in the facilities and may issue bonds and other securities to raise funds for these purposes in the same manner and to the same extent and subject to the same conditions that would apply if the undivided interest of the public entity were an entire interest in the facilities.

(b) Each participating public entity may acquire for the use and benefit of all participating public entities by purchase or through the exercise of the power of eminent domain, land, easements, and property for the purpose of jointly owned facilities and may transfer or convey the land, easements, and property, or interests in it, or may otherwise have the land, easements, and property, or interests in it, become vested in other participating public entities to the extent and in the manner agreed between those entities. In all cases in which a participating public entity exercises the power of eminent domain conferred by this Act, the public entity shall be controlled by the law governing the condemnation of property by incorporated cities and towns in this state, and the power of eminent domain conferred by this Act shall include the power to take the fee title in land condemned, excluding mineral interests, except that no participating public entity has the right or power to take by the exercise of the power of eminent domain any facilities or interest in any facilities belonging to any other public or private entity.

(c) Each participating public entity is entitled to the same constitutional and statutory exemption from ad valorem taxes and other taxes, including but not limited to excise, sales, and use taxes, attributable to the participating public entity's interest in the ownership of the jointly owned facilities and the purchase, sale, lease, or use of properties or services in connection with the construction, maintenance, repair, or operation of the jointly owned facilities to the extent that the public entity would have been exempt from the tax of its undivided interest were an entire interest in the facilities and in property and services used or acquired in connection therewith. Each exempt public entity shall be entitled to exemption certificates and other certificates and statements as provided by law to evidence or make effective the exemption.

(d) Public entities that create a public utility agency or provide for re-creation by addition or deletion of a public entity shall by concurrent ordinances:

(1) define the boundaries of the agency to include the territory within the jurisdictional limits of the public entities as changed from time to time;

(2) designate the name of the agency;

(3) designate the number of directors that will constitute the board of directors of the agency and their initial term; and

(4) specify the manner in which the directors shall be appointed, provided that each public entity is entitled to appoint at least one director.

(e) Directors shall serve by places, and the concurrent ordinances shall specify the director for each place and his successors that the governing body of the particular public entity may appoint and the method of each appointment. Directors shall serve without compensation but are entitled to $50 a day for each day spent in attending meetings of the board and a like amount per diem when authorized by resolution of the board, plus actual expenses incurred in attending the meetings. An employee, officer, or member of the governing body of a public entity may serve as a director of the agency, but directors, officers, and employees may have no personal interest, other than may exist as an employee, officer, or member of the governing body of a public entity, in any contract executed by the agency.

(f) The agency may make contracts, leases, and agreements with and accept grants and loans from the United States of America, its departments and agencies, the State of Texas, its agencies, counties, municipalities, and political subdivisions, and public or private corporations and persons and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in the agency. Each agency may contract with those public entities creating the agency for the collection, transportation, treatment, and disposal of sewage, and the authority to contract for these services shall also extend to private entities under terms and conditions the agency's board of directors may consider appropriate. The agency may sell, lease, convey, or otherwise dispose of any right, interest, or property that is, in its judgment, not needed for the efficient operation and maintenance of its facilities. The responsibility of the management, operation, and control of the properties belonging to the agency shall be vested in the board of directors.

(g) The agency, in contracting with any public or private entity for wastewater collection, transmission, treatment, or disposal services, must charge rates sufficient to produce revenues adequate:

- (1) to pay all expenses of operation and maintenance;
- (2) to pay all interest and principal due on bonds issued as they become due and payable;
- (3) to pay the principal of and interest on any legal debt of the agency;
- (4) to pay all sinking and reserve fund payments as they become due and payable; and
- (5) to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of any bonds.

The agency may also establish a reasonable depreciation and emergency fund. Payments made pursuant to contracts with the agencies are to constitute an operating expense of the public or private entity served as a result of the contracts unless otherwise prohibited by a previously outstanding obligation of the purchasing entity.

(h) The State of Texas reserves its power to regulate and control the rates and charges by the agency, but pledges and agrees with the purchasers and successive holders of the obligations issued under this Act that the state will not limit or alter the powers vested in the agency to establish and collect rates and charges that will produce revenues sufficient to pay for those items set forth in Subsection (g) of this section, as well as any other obligations of the agency in connection therewith, until they are fully met and discharged.

(i) To the payment of obligations issued by it, the agency may pledge the revenues of all or part of its facilities, including or not including those facilities later acquired, as the agency may determine, but the expense of operation and maintenance, including salaries, labor, materials, and repairs necessary to render efficient service, of the facilities whose revenues are encumbered and pledged shall be a first lien on and charge against the revenues.

(j) The agency may issue revenue bonds or notes, also referred to as obligations in this Act, from time to time, for the accomplishment of its purposes within the interest rate limitations of Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 717k-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(k) From the proceeds of the sale of obligations of the agency, the agency may set aside amounts for payments into the interest and sinking fund and reserve funds, and for interest and operating expenses during construction and development, as may be specified in the authorizing proceedings. Bond proceeds may be invested, pending their use for the purpose for which issued, in securities or interest-bearing certificates or in time deposits specified in the authorizing proceedings.

(l) Prior to delivery, obligations authorized to be issued under this Act and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination, and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with the constitution and this Act and that they will be binding special obligations of the agency issuing them, he shall approve them, and they shall be registered by the state comptroller. After their approval, registration, sale, and delivery to the purchaser, the bonds are incontestable.

(m) Refunding bonds or notes may be issued for the purpose and in the manner provided by general law, including without limitation Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended.

(n) All obligations issued by an agency pursuant to this Act shall be and are declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies and shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and the obligations shall be lawful and sufficient security for those deposits to the extent of the principal amount of the obligations or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant thereto.

(o) The agency may adopt and from time to time amend rules to govern the operation of the agency, its employees, facilities, and service, but contracts for the construction of improvements that involve the expenditure of more than $20,000 shall be awarded by the agency only after notice of intent to receive competitive bids has been published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation within the county in which the agency is domiciled. The date of the first publication shall be at least 14 days before the date set for the receipt of bids.

(p) The bonds or notes shall be signed by the presiding officer or the assistant presiding officer of the agency, shall be attested by its secretary, and shall bear the seal of the agency. The signatures may be printed or lithographed on the bonds and notes if authorized by the agency, and the seal may be impressed on the bonds or notes or may be printed or lithographed on the bonds or notes. The agency may adopt or use for any purpose the signature of any person who has been an officer, notwithstanding the fact that he may have ceased to be an officer at the time that bonds or notes are delivered to a purchaser or purchasers. The bonds or notes shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 40 years from their respective dates of issuance and may be sold, within interest rate limitations provided in this Act, at a public or private sale at a price or under terms determined by the agency to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, within the discretion of the agency. The bonds may be made callable prior to maturity at times and prices approved by the agency and may be in coupon form with or without provisions for registration as to principal or may be registrable as to both principal and interest.

(q) Bonds and notes issued under the provisions of this Act and coupons, if any, representing interest on bonds and notes shall, when delivered, be deemed and construed to be a security within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, Uniform Commercial Code.

(r) The provisions of this section do not limit the general scope and application of Section 3 of this Act.

Interpretation and Construction of Act

Sec. 5. (a) This Act shall be liberally construed to carry out its purposes and shall be the full and complete authority for the creation and operation of public utility agencies and the performance of the public duties imposed on them. Insofar as this Act is inconsistent with any other laws, including Chapter 10, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or other laws regulating the affairs of municipal corporations, or with any home-rule charter provisions, this Act shall control.

(b) This Act shall be liberally construed to effectuate its purposes, but nothing in this Act shall have the effect of or be construed as altering, amending, or repealing the statutory purposes provided by any statute enacted by the Texas Legislature pertaining to the creation, establishment, or operation or regulation under the Water Code, as amended, or other applicable law, of a public entity that may become a coowner of a public utility agency under the provisions of this Act.

Art. 1110g. Relocation or Replacement of Sanitation Sewer Laterals; Contracts; Assessments and Liens; Procedure

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, "city" means an incorporated city or town.

Contract

Sec. 2. A city by ordinance may contract for the relocation or replacement of a sanitation sewer lateral that serves a residential structure on private property for the purpose of connecting the lateral to a new, renovated, or rebuilt sanitation main constructed by the city.

Assessment; Lien

Sec. 3. (a) The cost of the relocation or replacement of the sewer lateral shall be assessed against the property on which it is located.

(b) A lien is attached to the property for the cost of the relocation or replacement.

Consent

Sec. 4. Before a city makes a contract under Section 2 of this Act, the city must obtain the property owner's written consent to the contract, to the relocation or replacement of the sewer lateral, and to the assessment. The written consent must state that the person giving the consent is the owner of the property or is an authorized representative of the owner, must contain a statement of the owner's address, and must state:

- (1) that the consent is freely given;
- (2) that the owner understands that as a result of the assessment a lien will be attached to the property for the total cost of the relocation or replacement;
- (3) that no part of the cost of the relocation or replacement will be paid by the city; and
- (4) that the property owner will have five years from the date the work is completed to repay the cost to the city.

Notice

Sec. 5. (a) Before work is begun on the relocation or replacement of a sewer lateral and after the city files the written consent of the property owner with the city clerk or city secretary, the city in accordance with the law applicable to public improvements shall contract for the performance of the work. However, after the city has received the bids for the work and before the contract for the work is made, the city must give notice to the property owner. The notice must state the bid price accepted by the city for the completion of the work and that the contract price may be increased by no more than 10 percent because of the changes without the written consent of the owner. The notice shall be given to the owner by personal delivery or by depositing the notice in the United States mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the owner at the address contained in the owner's written consent.

(b) Not later than the 45th day after the day on which the notice is mailed, the owner may reject the contract by notifying the city clerk or city secretary of the withdrawal of the owner's consent. If the owner fails to withdraw consent during the 45 days, the city may contract for the performance of the work, the work may proceed, and the assessment may be made without further consent by the owner. After the expiration of the 45 days, the owner may not withdraw the consent previously given.

Changes in Contract

Sec. 6. The contract between the city and the contractor for the performance of the work may be changed as may be necessary for the successful completion of the work. However, the contract price may not be increased by more than 10 percent because of the changes without the written consent of the owner.

Certifying Completion of Work

Sec. 7. (a) Upon receipt by the city of a certificate from the contractor certifying that all work has been completed in accordance with the contract and upon a finding by the city that the work has been properly completed in accordance with the applicable codes and ordinances of the city, the city may pay the contractor the cost of the work completed.

(b) When payment is made to the contractor, the city shall issue a certificate certifying that the work has been completed and that payment has been made under the contract. The city shall file the certificate with the county clerk of the county where the property is located and shall deliver a copy of the certificate to the property owner.

Payment by Property Owner

Sec. 8. (a) The property owner has five years from the date of the issuance of the certificate under Subsection (b) of Section 7 of this Act to pay the city the amount that the city paid for the work completed, as evidenced by the certificate, plus simple interest in an amount not to exceed 10 percent a year as set by the governing body of the city.

(b) Upon payment of the principal amount and accrued interest, the city shall issue a release of the assessment and lien. The release may be filed for record in accordance with law.

Enforcement

Sec. 9. If the property owner does not pay the assessment during the five years, the city may enforce the lien on the property in the same manner in which it is authorized by law to enforce a lien for a paving or other assessment.

[Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 299, ch. 64, §§ 1 to 9.]

Section 10 of the 1983 Act provides:

"Effective Date. This Act takes effect when the amendment to the Texas Constitution proposed by the 68th Legislature, Regular Session, 1983, authorizing the legislature to enact laws permitting a city to expend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of sanitation sewer laterals on private property [S.J.R. No. 17] is adopted."

S.J.R. No. 17 was adopted by vote of the people at an election held November 8, 1983.

2. ENCUMBERED CITY SYSTEMArt. 1111. Powers

All cities and towns including Home Rule Cities operating under this title shall have power to build and purchase, to mortgage and encumber their light systems, water systems, sewer systems, or sanitary disposal equipment and appliances, or natural gas systems, parks and/or swimming pools, either, or all, and the franchise and income thereof and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired and to evidence the obligation therefor by the issuance of bonds, notes or warrants, and to secure the payment of funds to purchase same; or to purchase additional water powers, riparian rights, or to build, improve, enlarge, extend or repair such systems, or any one of them, including the purchase of equipment and appliances for the sanitary disposal of excreta and offal, and as additional security therefor, by the terms of such encumbrance, may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder, a franchise to operate the systems and properties so purchased for a term of not over twenty (20) years after purchase, subject to all laws regulating same then in force. No such obligation of any such systems shall ever be a debt of such city or town, but solely a charge upon the properties of the system so encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of any such city or town to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Art. 1111a. Additional Bonds and Refunding Bonds; Water or Sewer SystemsAdditional Bonds While Prior Bonds Outstanding

Sec. 1. Any city or town including any Home Rule city which heretofore has issued or hereafter may issue bonds payable from and secured by a pledge of the net revenues derived or to be derived from the operation of its water system or sewer system or both in the manner provided by Articles 1111-1118, inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or under any other law applicable to such city or town and while all or part of such bonds remain outstanding shall have the power on one or more occasions to issue bonds or other obligations for the purpose of improving or extending, or both for improving and extending such water system or sewer system, or both, payable from the revenues of such system or systems, and such bonds shall constitute a lien upon the revenues thereof in the order of their issuance inferior to the lien securing the payment of any or all issues and series of bonds previously issued. As to any such bonds issued and outstanding prior to the effective date of this Act the power herein conferred shall not be exercised unless expressly permitted in and shall be subject to any restrictions, covenants or limitations contained in the ordinance authorizing their issuance or in the deed of trust or the indenture of trust securing their payment; provided further, in those instances where in the ordinance or deed of trust or indenture of trust provision was made for the subsequent issuance of additional bonds on a parity with the bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of such ordinance or deed of trust or indenture of trust any such city or town shall have the power to authorize, issue and sell additional bonds payable from the revenues pledged to such bonds previously issued and secured by pledges and liens on a parity with and of equal dignity with the pledge securing the bonds previously issued. In the issuance of revenue bonds in the future for such purposes, any such city or town may prescribe in the ordinance or deed of trust or indenture of trust for the issuance later of additional issues or series of bonds on a parity with the bonds being issued pursuant to and subject to the restrictions, covenants and limitations contained in such ordinance, deed of trust or indenture of trust.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 2. Refunding bonds may be issued for the purpose of refunding the bonds of a single series or issue or two or more consecutive issues or series of bonds and such refunding bonds shall enjoy the same priority of lien on the revenues pledged to their payment as pledged to the bonds refunded, provided that when two or more consecutive series or issues of bonds are refunded in a single issue of refunding bonds the lien of all such refunding bonds shall be equal if all of the outstanding bonds of the several series or issues of bonds to be refunded are surrendered in exchange for such new refunding bonds. No refunding bonds shall attain any degree of priority of lien greater than that enjoyed by the series or issue then to be refunded having the highest priority of lien. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than borne by the bonds refunded, unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid and that the annual principal and interest burden will not be increased so as to infringe upon or impair the rights of the holders of any bonds enjoying a prior or inferior lien.

Approval and Issuance of Bonds

Sec. 3. Before any such bonds are sold or exchanged as the case may be, they shall be submitted to and approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas in the manner and with the effect provided in Articles 709 to 715, both inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended, and except as otherwise provided by this law, such bonds shall be authorized and issued in accordance with Articles 1111-1118, inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and to the extent of any conflict herewith, this law shall take precedence over such conflicting or inconsistent provisions.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 4. In case any one or more of the sections or provisions of this Act or the application of such sections or provisions to any situation or circumstance shall for any reason be held to be unconstitutional, such unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections or provisions of this Act or the application of such sections or provisions to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this law shall be construed and applied as if such unconstitutional section or provision had not been included herein.

[Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 463, ch. 249.]

Art. 1111b. Additional Bonds and Refunding Bonds; Light and Power Systems

Additional Bonds While Prior Bonds Outstanding

Sec. 1. Any city or town, including any Home Rule City, which has heretofore issued or hereafter may issue bonds payable from and secured by a pledge of revenues from the operation of its electric light and power system, gas system, water system, sewer system, or any combination of two (2) or more of such systems, in the manner provided by Articles 1111 to 1118, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or under any similar law, and while all or part of such bonds remain outstanding, shall have the power from time to time and on one or more occasions to issue bonds or other obligations for the purpose of extending or improving, or both, such system or systems, and such bonds shall constitute a lien upon the revenues thereof in the order of their issuance inferior to the lien securing the payment of any or all issues and series of bonds previously issued. As to any such revenue bonds issued and outstanding prior to the effective date of this Act the power herein conferred shall not be exercised unless expressly permitted in and shall be subject to any restrictions, covenants or limitations contained in the ordinance authorizing their issuance or in the deed of trust or in the trust indenture securing their payment; provided further that in instances in which the ordinance or deed of trust or trust indenture authorizing or securing such revenue bonds (whether such bonds have been issued prior to the passage of this Act or may be hereafter issued), provide for the subsequent issuance of additional bonds on a parity with or of equal dignity to the previously issued revenue bonds (whether an original issue or a refunding issue), such city or town shall have the power to authorize, issue and sell additional bonds from time to time and in different series payable from the entire revenues of such system or systems on a parity with bonds previously issued and secured by liens on such system or systems on a parity with and of equal dignity with the lien securing the bonds previously issued, subject to such conditions as may be contained in the ordinance, deed of trust or trust indenture providing for or securing such issue of original bonds or refunding bonds.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 2. Refunding bonds may be issued for the purpose of refunding the bonds of a single series or issue or two or more consecutive issues or series of bonds and such refunding bonds shall enjoy the same priority of lien on the revenues pledged to their payment as pledged to the bonds refunded, provided that when two or more consecutive series or issues of bonds are refunded in a single issue of refunding bonds the lien of all such refunding bonds shall be equal if all of the outstanding bonds of the several series or issues of bonds to be refunded are surrendered in exchange for such new refunding bonds. No refunding bonds shall attain any degree of priority of lien greater than that enjoyed by the series or issue then to be refunded having the highest priority of lien. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than borne by the bonds refunded, unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid and that the annual principal and interest burden will not be increased so as to infringe upon or impair the rights of the holders of any bonds enjoying a prior or inferior lien.

Approval and Issuance of Bonds

Sec. 3. Before any such bonds are sold or exchanged as the case may be, they shall be submitted to and approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas in the manner and with the effect provided in Articles 709 to 715, both inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended, and except as otherwise provided by this law, such bonds shall be authorized and issued in accordance with Articles 1111-1118, inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and to the extent of any conflict herewith, this law shall take precedence over such conflicting or inconsistent provisions.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 4. In case any one or more of the sections or provisions of this Act or the application of such sections or provisions to any situation or circumstance shall for any reason be held to be unconstitutional, such unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections or provisions of this Act or the application of such sections or provisions to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this law shall be construed and applied as if such unconstitutional section or provision had not been included herein.

Art. 1111c. Issuance of Bonds in Two Series with Different Security

Sec. 1. In the issuance of revenue bonds under Articles 1111-1118, Revised Civil Statutes as amended, for the purpose of improving, enlarging and extending a waterworks system, cities are authorized to issue such bonds in two series, one of which shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of all or any part of the proceeds of a contract between the city and a private corporation whereby the city agrees to sell water to such corporation for the payments therein specified, and the other series shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of the net revenues of the waterworks system or waterworks and sewer systems other than the proceeds of such contract. The ordinances directing the issuance of the bonds may provide that the entire cost of operation, maintenance and repair of the system or systems shall be paid from the revenues thereof other than the proceeds of such water supply contract. Cities are authorized to enter into contracts for the sale of water to private corporations and upon such terms as their governing bodies may prescribe for a period of not exceeding forty (40) years.

Sec. 2. Such bonds and a copy of the proceedings relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General for his examination, and if they have been lawfully issued, he shall approve them. The bonds thereupon shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts and thereafter they shall be incontestable.

Art. 1111d. Payment of Principal and Interest

Sec. 1. An incorporated city with a population of 75,000 or more according to the last preceding federal census, in issuing revenue bonds under Articles 1111 through 1118 of this chapter, as part of the cost of constructing new electric utility plan facilities may set aside and use a portion of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds, to the extent provided in the ordinance authorizing their issuance:

1. to pay interest on bonds, the proceeds of which are for the construction of the facilities, to the first interest payment date following the date the new electric utility facilities are estimated to become operational; and

2. to establish or supplement a reserve fund created for the benefit of the holders of the bonds.

Sec. 2. Bond proceeds, interest and sinking funds, and reserve funds, pending their use for their intended purposes, may be invested in any securities, interest-bearing certificates, or time deposits as are specified in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

Sec. 3. This article is full authority for the exercise of the powers granted. It controls over any other state law or any provision of a city charter. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1273, ch. 495, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 1112. Vote, etc.

Sec. 1. Except as provided in Section 2 of this article, no such light, water, sewer or natural gas systems, parks and/or swimming pools, shall be sold without authorization by a majority vote of the qualified voters of such city or town; nor shall same be encumbered for more than Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) unless authorized in like manner, except for money for acquisitions, extensions, construction, improvement, or repair of such systems and facilities, or to refund any existing indebtedness lawfully created for such purposes. Such vote to sell or encumber such systems or facilities shall be ascertained at an election, which shall be held in accordance with the laws applicable to the issuance of municipal bonds by such cities and towns. The encumbrances authorized herein shall be applicable only to bonds payable from revenues derived from said system.

Sec. 2. A city with a population of more than 1,200,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may sell an unencumbered natural gas system owned by it without an election as required by Section 1 of this article.

Art. 1113. Income; Expenses a Lien; Rates; Records; Reports; Penalty

Whenever the income of any light, water, sewer, or natural gas systems, parks and/or swimming pools, shall be encumbered under this law, the expense of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repairs and extensions necessary to render efficient service and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such incomes. Provided, that only such repairs and extensions, as in the judgment of the governing body of such city or town, are necessary to keep the plant or utility in operation and render adequate service to such city or town and the inhabitants thereof, or such as might be necessary to meet some physical accident or condition which would otherwise impair the original securities, shall be a lien prior to any existing lien. The rates charged for services furnished by any such system shall be equal and uniform, and no free service shall be allowed except for city public schools or buildings and institutions operated by such city or town. There shall be charged and collected for such services a sufficient rate to pay all operating, maintenance, depreciation, replacement, betterment and interest charges, and for interest and sinking fund sufficient to pay any bonds issued to purchase, construct or improve any such systems or any outstanding indebtedness against same. No part of the income of any such system shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense, or obligation of such city or town except payments made in lieu of ad valorem taxes previously paid by the private owners of the plants or systems mentioned above until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid.

It shall be the duty of the Mayor of such city or town to install and maintain, or cause to be installed and maintained, a complete system of records and accounts showing the free service rendered, and the value thereof, and showing separately the amounts expended and/or set aside for operation, salaries, labor, materials, repairs, maintenance, depreciation, replacements, extensions, interest, and the creation of a sinking fund to pay off such bonds and indebtedness.

It shall likewise be the duty of the superintendent or manager of such plant to file with the Mayor of such city or town, not later than February first, a detailed report of the operations of such plant for the year ending January first preceding, showing the total sums of money collected and the balance due, as well as the total disbursements made and the amounts remaining unpaid as the result of operation of such plan during such calendar year.

Failure or refusal on the part of the Mayor to install and maintain, or cause to be installed and maintained, such system of records and accounts within ninety (90) days after the completion of such plant, or on the part of such superintendent or manager, to file or cause to be filed such report, shall constitute a misdemeanor and, on conviction thereof, such Mayor or superintendent or manager shall be subject to a fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100), nor more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000); and any taxpayer or holder of such indebtedness residing within such city or town shall have the right, by appropriate civil action in the District Court of the County in which such city or town is located, to enforce the provisions of this Act as amended.

Repealed in Part

Acts 1941, 47th Leg., p. 421, ch. 251, authorizing the issuance of refunding bonds by cities of 525,000 or over, provided in § 6:

"All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict, and particularly that expression contained in Article 1113, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas which reads, 'No part of the income of any such system shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense or obligation of such city or town, until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid,' is hereby specially repealed."

Art. 1113a. Transfer of Revenues to General Fund

Incorporated cities, towns, and villages of the State of Texas, and their officials and utility trustees, are hereby authorized to transfer to the general fund of the city, town, or village and use for general or special purposes revenues (now on hand or hereafter received) of any municipally owned utility system in the amount and to the extent that may be authorized or permitted in the indenture, deed of trust, or ordinance providing for and securing payment of revenue bonds issued under Articles 1111-1118, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or other similar laws, notwithstanding any prohibition contained in Article 1113, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or other similar laws.

Art. 1113b. Accounts and Records on Other Than Cash Basis

In lieu of keeping its accounts and records on facilities under this chapter on a cash basis, a municipality may keep such accounts and records or any other accounts and records of the municipality on another basis, in all instances, however, to the extent the same is permitted or required under generally accepted accounting principles for governmental entities. In no event shall a change in accounting methods affect a change in any then existing contractual covenant with respect to the power to issue additional obligations payable from such facilities.

Art. 1114. Notes, Etc.

Every contract, bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness issued or included under this law shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Where bonds are issued hereunder, they may be presented to the Attorney General for his approval as is provided for the approval of municipal bonds issued by such cities or towns. In such case, the bonds shall be registered by the State Comptroller as in the case of other municipal bonds.

Art. 1114a. Self-Liquidating

Projects financed in accordance with this law are hereby declared to be self liquidating in character and supported by charge other than by taxation.

[Acts 1933, 43rd Leg., p. 320, ch. 122.]

Art. 1114b. Conflicting Laws Repealed

All laws and parts thereof, in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed to the extent of the conflict, and this law shall take precedence over all conflicting city charter provisions.

[Acts 1933, 43rd Leg., p. 320, ch. 122.]

Art. 1114c. Ordinances, Resolutions, and Securities Validated

The actions of all cities and towns and of all officials in passing ordinances, adopting resolutions, executing securities and delivering securities to accomplish the objects permitted under this Act are hereby expressly authorized and validated in like manner as if this law had been effective at the time of such actions, subject to the provisions of Section 5.

Art. 1114d. Validation of Bonds for Swimming Pools

Sec. 1. All bonds heretofore voted and issued or heretofore voted and not yet issued by any city or town in this State for the purpose of constructing swimming pools in said city or town, are hereby in all things validated, confirmed, and ratified as though they had been legally authorized in the first instance.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall not operate to validate any bonds or bond elections which, at the time of the effective date of this Act, are involved in litigation, or the validity of which said bonds or bond elections may be attacked in any suit or litigation instituted within thirty (30) days after the effective date of this Act.

Art. 1115. Control

The management and control of any such system or systems during the time they are encumbered, may by the terms of such encumbrance, be placed in the hands of the city council of such town, or may be placed in the hands of a board of trustees to be named in such encumbrance, consisting of not more than five members, one of whom shall be the mayor of such city or town. The compensation of such trustees shall be fixed by such contract, but shall never exceed five per cent of the gross receipts of such systems in any one year. The terms of office of such board of trustees, their powers and duties, the manner of exercising same, the election of their successors, and all matters pertaining to their organization and duties may be specified in such contract of encumbrance. In all matters where such contract is silent, the laws and rules governing the council of such city or town shall govern said board of trustees so far as applicable.

Art. 1116. Rules

The city council or board of trustees having such management and control shall have the power to make rules and regulations governing the furnishing of service to patrons and for the payment of the same, and providing for the discontinuance of such service failing to pay therefor when due until payment is made. The city council shall have power to provide penalties for the violation of such rules and regulations and for the use of such service without the consent or knowledge of the authorities in charge thereof, and to provide penalties for all interference, trespassing or injury to any such systems, appliances or premises on which same may be located.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1117. Default

A contract of encumbrance may provide for the selection of a trustee to make sale upon default in the payment of the principal or interest according to the terms of such contract, and for the selection of his successor if disqualified or failing to act, and for collection fees not exceeding five per cent of the principal.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1118. Notice

No collection fees shall accrue, and no foreclosure proceedings shall be begun in any court or through any trustee, and no option to mature any part of such obligation because of default in payment of any installment of principal or interest shall be exercised until ninety days written notice shall be given to each member of the city council of such city or town and to each member of such board of trustees, if any, that payment has been demanded and default made, which notice shall date from the sending of a prepaid registered letter to each person to be notified, addressed to them at the post office in such city or town. If the installments of principal and interest then due shall be paid before the expiration of said ninety days, together with the interest prescribed in such contract, not exceeding ten per cent per annum, from the date of default until the date of payment, it shall have like effect as if paid on the date the same was originally due.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1118a. Mortgage of Gas, Water, Light or Sewer Systems by Cities and Towns

Power to Encumber; Obligation Not a Debt

Sec. 1. All cities and towns owning and operating their light systems and gas systems or water systems and gas systems or sewer and gas systems shall have power to mortgage and encumber any one or more of its gas, water, light or sewer systems and the franchise and income thereof and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired, to secure the payment of funds to purchase any one of same or to purchase additional water powers, riparian rights, or to build, improve, enlarge, extend or repair said systems or any one of said systems and as additional security therefor by the terms of such encumbrance may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder a franchise to operate the system and properties so encumbered for a term not over twenty years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating same then in force. No such obligation shall ever be a debt of such city or town, but solely a charge upon the properties so encumbered and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city or town to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting any such city or town from mortgaging and encumbering any one or more of said systems for the purpose of purchasing, building, improving, enlarging, extending, repairing or reconstructing another one or more of said systems and purchasing necessary land and other properties in connection therewith in the discretion of the governing body thereof.

Vote Required for Sale or Mortgage

Sec. 2. (a) Except as provided in Subsection (b) of this section, no such system or systems shall ever be sold until such sale is authorized by a majority vote of the qualified voters of such city; nor shall same be encumbered for more than Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars except for purchase money or to refund any existing indebtedness or for repair or reconstruction, unless authorized in like manner. Such vote where required shall be ascertained at an election of which notice shall be given in like manner as and which shall be held in like manner as in the cases of the issuance of municipal bonds by such city.

(b) A city with a population of more than 1,200,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may sell an unencumbered natural gas system owned by it without an election as required by Subsection (a) of this section.

Prior Act Inapplicable Until June 1, 1934

Sec. 2a. That notwithstanding any of the provisions of House Bill No. 312, Chapter 163, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, 1931,¹ the requirements of said House Bill No. 312, Acts 42nd Legislature, 1931, Chapter 163, with reference to notice, competitive bids, and the right to referendum, shall not apply to cities and towns acting under the authority conferred in this Act, until after June 1, 1934, instead of until after June 1, 1932, as provided in House Bill No. 312, Chapter 163, Acts 42nd Legislature, 1931.

Operating Expenses as First Lien on Income; Rates

Sec. 3. Whenever the income of any system or systems shall be encumbered under this law, the expense of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repair and extensions necessary to render efficient service and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such incomes. The rates charged for services furnished for any such system shall be equal and uniform and no free service shall be allowed except for city public schools or buildings and institutions operated by such city. There shall be charged and collected for such service a sufficient rate to pay for all operating, maintenance, depreciation, replacement, betterment and interest charges and for interest and sinking fund sufficient to pay any bonds issued to purchase, construct or improve any such systems or of any outstanding indebtedness against same.

Bond Recital

Sec. 4. Every contract, bond or note issued or executed under this law shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Management Pending Encumbrance

Sec. 5. The management and control of any such system or systems during the time they are encumbered shall by the terms of such encumbrance be placed in the city council or other governing body of said city. Such city council or other governing body shall have the power to make rules and regulations governing the furnishing of service to patrons and for the payment of same and providing for the discontinuance of such service, failing to pay therefor when due until payment is made. Such governing bodies shall have power to provide penalties for the violation of such rules and regulations and for the use of such service without the consent or knowledge of the authorities in charge therefor and to provide penalties for all interference, trespassing or injury to any such system or systems, appliances or premises on which same may be located.

Default in Payment; Procedure

Sec. 6. A contract of encumbrance may provide for the selection of a trustee to make sale upon default in the payment or ¹ the principal or interest according to the terms of such contract and for the selection of his successor if disqualified or failing to act and for collection fees not exceeding five (5%) per cent of the principal. Such encumbrance shall provide that in the event of default and sale under foreclosure and the granting of a franchise to operate the system or systems and properties so purchased for a term of not over twenty years, as hereinbefore provided, that said city at any time during any stipulated time during said franchise, not to exceed periods of five (5) years during said time, shall have the right and privilege to repurchase said system or systems upon reasonable terms and at reasonable prices, to be set forth together with said optional periods of redemption in said encumbrance agreement and in said franchise.

¹ So in enrolled bill. Session Laws read "of".

Notice of Default

Sec. 7. No collection fees shall accrue, and no foreclosure proceedings shall be begun in any court or through any trustee, and no option to mature any part of such obligation because of default in payment of any installment of principal or interest shall be exercised until ninety days written notice shall be given to each member of the city council of such city or town that payment has been demanded and default made, which notice shall date from the sending of a prepaid registered letter to each person to be notified, addressed to them at the post office in such city or town. If the installments of principal and interest then due shall be paid before the expiration of said ninety days, together with the interest prescribed in such contract, not exceeding ten (10%) per cent per annum, from the date of default until the date of payment, it shall have like effect as if paid on the date the same was originally due.

Property Included in Encumbrance

Sec. 8. In the encumbrance of any properties under this Act such city may encumber any such systems singly or together for the benefit and to secure funds for any one or more of said systems and may omit or include in said encumbrance the whole or any part of the properties mentioned in Section 1 of this Act.

Income Applied to Encumbrance

Sec. 9. No part of the income of any such system or systems so encumbered shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense or obligation of such city except a debt, expense or obligation of the system or systems encumbered or the system or systems for which said encumbered system or systems was so encumbered until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid.

Art. 1118a-1. Moneys in Lieu of School Taxes; Payment from Current Revenue of Existing Public Utility Acquired and Financed Through Revenue Bonds

Sec. 1. Whenever any city or town, including home rule cities, is situated wholly or partially in a school district, or in which there is situated wholly or partially a school district, after the effective date of this law, shall acquire a public utility or utilities then existing, and finances the purchase thereof through the issuance of revenue bonds, and such public utility property, within its territorial limits is at the time subject to taxation for the benefit of any school district, the governing body of any such city or town in issuing revenue bonds for the purchase price thereof, may expressly provide in any indenture of trust, mortgage or other lien instrument evidencing the obligation of such city or town in respect of the purchase price of such utility or utilities, for the payment annually from the income of such utility or utilities, a sum in amount equivalent to the average annual taxes assessed in behalf of such school district upon the properties of such utility or utilities for the five (5) years immediately preceding the year in which such utility or utilities shall be acquired by such city or town; provided, however, that by mutual agreement of the board of trustees of such school district and the governing body of such city or town, provision may be made for the payment annually of a sum in lieu of school taxes as shall be deemed adequate and just under all the circumstances of the case, due consideration being given to the needs of such school district. The obligation thus assured by any such city or town, including home rule cities, to make such payment to a school district in lieu of ad valorem property school taxes shall constitute a proper item of operating expense, which together with other operating expenses shall always be a first lien and charge against the income of such encumbered utility or utilities.

Sec. 2. The obligation of any such city or town to pay any such school district moneys in lieu of taxes as provided in the encumbrance agreement shall be and constitute an "expense or obligation" of such system or systems as such terms are used in statutes authorizing the acquisition of such public utilities and the issuance of revenue bonds for the purchase thereof, and such obligations shall extend to and bind any and all cities or towns, including home rule cities, purchasing or otherwise acquiring any such then existing public utility or utilities, in accordance with the provisions of such encumbrance agreements or mutual agreements as authorized in Section 1 of this Act.

Sec. 3. The obligation of any such city or town, including home rule cities, as fixed in such indenture or encumbrance, shall not be impaired or affected, modified or released, by the release or discharge of such encumbrance, and such city or town, including home rule cities, shall continue while such city or town shall own and operate any such public utility to pay to any such school district annually from the revenues thereof such amount as a sum in amount equivalent to the average annual taxes assessed in behalf of such school district upon the properties of such utility or utilities for the five (5) years immediately preceding the year in which such utility or utilities shall be acquired by such city or town, including home rule cities; provided, however, that from and after the date of release or discharge of such encumbrance the board of trustees of any such school district and the governing body of such city or town may by mutual agreement from time to time provide for the payment annually from the revenues of such utility or utilities owned and operated by such city or town of such sum or sums in lieu of school taxes as shall be deemed adequate and just under all the circumstances of the case, due consideration being given to the needs of such school district.

Sec. 4. This Act shall apply solely to purchases or acquisitions, subsequent to the effective date hereof, of then existing public utilities made by any city or town of this state, including home rule cities, and shall not apply to or in any wise affect any purchase or acquisition of a public utility or utilities of whatsoever character acquired by any such city or town prior to the effective date of this Act. Cities and towns, including home rule cities, shall be authorized to operate under the provisions of this Act in acquiring existing public utilities under any and all laws of the state permitting the acquisition of existing public utilities through the issuance of revenue bonds, including Articles 1111 to 1113, inclusive, of the 1925 Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas and amendments thereto, and including Chapter 314, Acts of the Regular Session of the 42nd Legislature and amendments thereto.¹

Art. 1118b. Bonds and Proceedings Validated

Bonds Issued in Connection With Public Utilities Validated

Sec. 1. That where the governing body of any city or town, owning and operating its light system and gas system, or water system and gas system, or sewer system and gas system, has authorized and/or issued bonds to purchase any one of such systems or to purchase additional water powers, riparian rights, or to build, improve, enlarge, extend or repair said systems, or any one of said systems, under authority of Chapter 314, of the General Laws passed by the 42nd Legislature, at its Regular Session in 1931,¹ and as security therefor has mortgaged and encumbered any one or more of its gas, water, light or sewer systems and the franchise and income thereof, and everything pertaining thereto, acquired or to be acquired, the ordinance or ordinances of such governing body, prescribing the date and maturity of such bonds, the rate of interest the same were to bear, the place of payment of principal and interest, and appropriating revenues of any such system or systems to pay the interest on such bonds and to produce a sinking fund sufficient to pay the bonds at maturity, having been recorded in the minutes or records of such governing body, and where the mortgage or indenture on the properties comprising such system or systems, to secure payment of said bonds, has been duly executed by the proper officers of said city, and the trustee therein named, and recorded in the proper deed of trust and mortgage records of the county or counties in which are situated the properties of such system or systems so mortgaged and encumbered, and such bonds having been heretofore approved by the Legal Department of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Washington, D.C., both as to legality and as being eligible for loan under the Act of Congress authorizing loans to municipalities to aid in financing projects which are self-liquidating in character, known as "Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932,"² all acts and proceedings had and done in connection therewith by the governing body and/or the mayor, city secretary, city treasurer or any other officers of such city or town, and the trustee named in such mortgage or indenture in respect of such bonds, the appropriation and pledge of revenues of any such system or systems, and/or the mortgage or indenture on the properties of any such system or systems to secure payment of such bonds are hereby ratified, confirmed, legalized, approved and validated.

Sale of Bonds Validated

Sec. 2. That sale of said bonds, or any parcel or installment thereof, by the governing body of any such city or town, is hereby ratified, confirmed, legalized, approved and validated, and such bonds, so sold and delivered, are hereby legalized and validated, and constituted the legal obligations upon the properties of such city or town so encumbered in accordance with the terms and provisions of such recorded mortgage or indenture.

Issuance of Bonds Not Previously Delivered

Sec. 3. In event any of said bonds, or any parcel or installment thereof, have not been sold, issued, delivered, or put into circulation, power and authority is hereby expressly conferred upon and delegated to the governing body of any such city or town, the mayor, city secretary, city treasurer or other proper officer thereof, and the trustee named in such mortgage or indenture, to discharge and perform all acts and duties necessary in the issuance or sale and delivery of such bonds, and such governing body is hereby further authorized to adopt all other and further orders, resolutions or ordinances necessary in the issuance, sale, delivery and payment of said bonds, or any parcel or installment thereof.

² Act of July 21, 1932, ch. 520, 47 Stat. 709.

Art. 1118c. Order of Appropriation of Revenues of Municipal Public Utility Systems

Application

Sec. 1. In making up the annual appropriation of the income and revenue of any waterworks system, electric light plant or system, sewer system, or other public utility system, service, or enterprise now or that may be hereafter owned and operated by any city or town having a population of twelve thousand, four hundred and ten (12,410) inhabitants or less, according to the last preceding Federal Census, and owning and operating its municipal light system and municipal waterworks system in this State, the governing body thereof shall first make provision for the maintenance and operating expenses of such system, service, or enterprise, and shall then make provision for payment of principal and interest of any indebtedness outstanding against such system, service, or enterprise, and may then make such appropriations as the remaining income and revenue of such system, service, or enterprise may justify, to be appropriated among the respective departments of the municipal government, or otherwise appropriated for public uses, as such governing body may deem best; provided this Act shall not apply to municipally owned utilities or enterprises, the income from which has heretofore been pledged to secure payment of bonds or other indebtedness.

No Restrictions on Bonds Payable From Other Than Taxation

Sec. 2. Nothing in this Act shall restrict the power and authority of any such city or town to issue bonds, notes, or warrants, payable from revenues other than taxation, for the purposes, in the manner, and under the restrictions and limitations provided by the laws of this State relative to the issuance of such obligations; and all the provisions of such laws shall apply to and govern such city or town and the governing authorities thereof, except as herein otherwise provided.

Application to Cities of 12,410 or Less

Sec. 3. The benefits of this Act shall apply to any city or town having a population of twelve thousand, four hundred and ten (12,410) inhabitants or less, according to the last preceding Federal Census, and owning and operating its municipal light system and municipal waterworks system and the terms thereof extend to the same, when the governing body thereof shall submit the question of the adoption or rejection hereof, to a vote of the resident property taxpayers who are qualified voters of said city or town at a special election called for the purpose by the governing body of said city or town. And said election shall be held as nearly as possible in compliance with the laws with reference to regular municipal elections in said city or town; but said governing authority is hereby empowered by resolution to order said election and prescribe the time and manner of holding the same. Said body shall canvass and determine the result of such election and if a majority of the voters voting upon the question of the adoption of this Act at such election, shall vote to adopt the same, the result of the election shall by said governing body be entered upon their minutes, and thereupon all the terms hereof shall be applicable to and govern such city or town adopting the same; provided, that nothing in this Act shall ever be construed to repeal or modify any of the provisions of Article 1112, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, of 1925.

Art. 1118d. Bonds Validated

Sec. 1. All bonds heretofore issued, authorized by ordinance to be issued and/or attempted to be issued under authority of Articles 1111 to 1118, both inclusive, of the Texas Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended by Acts 1933, Forty-third Legislature, Page 320, Chapter 122, for the purpose of improving and extending an existing municipal sewer system by any and all cities operating under charters adopted or amended under the provisions of Article 11, Section 5, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, having a population in excess of one hundred thousand (100,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding United States Census, and which bonds are payable exclusively out of revenues of such sewer system, and are secured only by a pledge of such revenues, and which bonds are to be issued, delivered and sold to the United States of America under existing contracts, are in all respects validated.

Sec. 2. All orders, ordinances and resolutions of the governing bodies of such cities authorizing or attempting to authorize the issuance of such bonds, or any of the same, are in all respects validated.

[Acts 1934, 43rd Leg., 4th C.S., p. 69, ch. 27.]

Art. 1118e. Bonds, Notes and Warrants Validated

Sec. 1. That any provision of any other law to the contrary notwithstanding, all bonds, notes or warrants heretofore issued, or which have been authorized but not yet issued, or which may be hereafter issued under the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas for 1925, including all Amendments thereto to aid in financing any undertaking or project for which a loan or grant has been made by the United States through the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, are hereby declared to be negotiable instruments and they shall be fully negotiabile within the meaning of and for all the purposes of the Uniform Negotiable Instruments Act of this State.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not be construed as validating any proceedings authorizing the issuance of any such bonds, notes or warrants, or any bonds, notes or warrants issued by virtue thereof where the validity of such proceedings, and bonds, notes or warrants issued thereunder has been contested or attacked in any pending suit or litigation.

Art. 1118f. Validating Revenue Bonds

Sec. 1. That all proceedings heretofore had by the governing bodies of all cities and towns, including home rule cities, in the State of Texas, in the issuance and sale of revenue bonds, notes or warrants issued under the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, as amended, to aid in financing any undertaking, for which a loan or grant has been made by the United States through the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works, or any other agency or department of the Government of the United States, are hereby in all things fully validated, confirmed, approved and legalized, and any such bonds, notes or warrants heretofore sold, or heretofore authorized but not yet delivered, are in all things fully validated, confirmed and approved, and such bonds, notes or warrants are hereby declared to be the valid and binding special obligations of such cities or towns payable from sources other than taxation. All orders, resolutions and ordinances authorizing the issuance of any such revenue bonds and setting aside and pledging the revenues of any light system, water system, sewer system or sanitary disposal equipment system, natural gas system, parks or swimming pools, either or all are hereby in all things validated, confirmed and approved, and the fact that any city or town in the issuance and sale of any such obligations or in the pledging of the revenue of any of said systems to the payment of such obligations failed or neglected or lacked the power to do all things necessary to make said obligations legal shall in nowise impair such obligations nor the pledge of such revenues but same are in all things validated, confirmed and approved.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings, or any obligations issued thereunder, the validity of which has been contested or attacked in any pending suit or litigation.

Art. 1118g. Validating Bonds for Public Works

Sec. 1. That all proceedings heretofore had by the governing bodies of all cities and towns, including home rule cities, in the State of Texas in the issuance and sale of bonds, to aid in financing any undertaking for which a loan or grant has been made by the United States through the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works, or any other agency, department or division of the Government of the United States of America are hereby in all things fully validated, confirmed, approved and legalized and all bonds issued thereunder are hereby declared to be the valid and binding obligations of such cities or towns, and all bonds which have been heretofore authorized for said purpose but not yet issued shall, when delivered and paid for, constitute valid and binding obligations of such city or town. All tax levies made by such governing bodies for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest on such bonds, notes or warrants are hereby in all things validated, confirmed, approved and legalized.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings, or obligations issued thereunder, where the validity thereof has been contested or attacked in any suit or pending litigation.

Art. 1118h. Validating Bonds of Cities of Over 15,000 Population

Sec. 1. All bonds heretofore authorized by the necessary vote of the qualified voters of all cities of more than fifteen thousand (15,000) population according to the last preceding Federal Census and all bond elections held in such cities for the purpose of voting such bonds wherein the necessary majority of the voters voted in favor thereof are hereby validated insofar as any irregularities in following the requirements of the provisions of the General Law that such election shall be held not more than thirty (30) days from the time of such election order are concerned; and irregularities in following the requirements of city charters as to time in the calling and holding of such elections shall not in any manner affect the validity of said bonds, but same shall, if otherwise valid, when approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts and sold for not less than par and accrued interest, be a valid subsisting indebtedness of said cities.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings or to any bonds issued thereunder, the validity of which has been contested or attacked in any pending suit or litigation, or in any suit or litigation which may be instituted within sixty (60) days after the effective date of this Act.

Art. 1118i. Validating Bonds of Cities in Counties of Less Than 80,000 and More Than 70,000

In all cases where any city in the State of Texas which operates under the General Laws of Texas and which city is located in any county having a population of less than 80,000 and more than 70,000 according to the last preceding United States Census and is not operating pursuant to a home rule charter and which such city has heretofore and subsequent to the enactment of Chapter 382, Acts of the First Called Session of the Forty-fourth Legislature of Texas, 1935,¹ submitted to the qualified electors of said city the question of the issuance of the bonds of such city pursuant to the provisions of Articles 1111 et seq., of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, said bonds to be payable solely from the revenues derived from operation of the city's waterworks system, and where a majority of the qualified voters of said city voting at said election on said proposition has voted in favor of the issuance of such bonds and in favor of pledging the revenues of said system for the payment of such bonds, said election and all proceedings heretofore had in connection with the calling and holding of said election and in connection with the authorization and sale of such bonds are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed, despite any irregularity which may have occurred therein or despite any failure to observe any of the pertinent laws of the State of Texas, and said city is hereby authorized to complete its proceedings for the authorization and delivery of such bonds and to deliver such bonds upon receipt of the purchase price thereof, and such bonds when approved by the Attorney General, registered by the State Comptroller of Public Accounts, sold at not less than par and accrued interest and delivered are hereby declared to be and shall be the valid and legal obligations of said city in accordance with the terms thereof, and shall be paid as to both principal and interest from the revenues of the waterworks system of said city in accordance with the provisions of the proceedings so authorizing the bonds. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any proceedings, levies, or to any bonds or warrants issued there under, the validity of which has been contested or attacked in suit or litigation which is pending at the time this Act becomes a law.

Art. 1118j. Validating Bonds and Proceedings for Loans or Grants From Federal Government in Cities and Towns of Not Over 3,000 Population

Sec. 1. All proceedings heretofore had by the governing bodies of all cities and towns, having a population of not more than three thousand (3,000), according to the preceding Federal Census, in the issuance and sale of Revenue bonds, notes or warrants issued under the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as amended, to aid in financing any undertaking, for which a loan or grant has been made by the United States through the Public Works Administration, or any other agency or department of the Government of the United States, in which the only objection to the validity of said bonds is that such election was ordered and notice thereof given under the provisions of Article 704, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925 prior to the amendment of October 1935, are hereby in that respectively¹ validated, confirmed, approved and legalized, and any such bonds, notes or warrants heretofore sold, or heretofore authorized but not yet delivered, are in all things fully validated, confirmed and approved, and such bonds, notes or warrants are hereby declared to be the valid and binding special obligations of such cities and towns of said population payable from sources other than taxation. All orders, resolutions and ordinances authorizing the issuance of any such revenue bonds by said cities and towns of said population, and setting aside and pledging the revenues of any light system, water system, sewer system or sanitary disposal equipment system, either or all are hereby in all things validated, confirmed and approved, and legalized.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings, or obligations issued thereon, where the validity thereof has been contested or attacked in any suit or pending litigation.

Art. 1118j-1. Validation of Bond Proceedings in Cities or Towns Over 5,000 to Help Finance Improvements for Which Loan or Grant From Federal Government was Made

Sec. 1. All proceedings heretofore had by the governing bodies of all cities and towns in the State of Texas operating under the provisions of the General Laws of Texas and having a population of more than five thousand (5,000), and wherein it has become necessary to supplement funds providing for the erection of certain public improvements for which a loan or grant has been made by any agent or agency of the United States Government, by the issuance and sale of additional bonds to aid in the financing of such certain public improvements, including the orders and notices of elections, the conduct and returns of elections, and the canvassing of such returns of such elections, are hereby in all things fully validated, confirmed, approved, and legalized, including among others, instances wherein there have been irregularities in the giving of notice of elections, notwithstanding the fact that the notice of election was not published on the same day in each of two successive weeks, and all bonds issued thereunder are hereby declared to be the valid and binding obligations of such cities or towns, and all tax levies made by such governing bodies for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest on such bonds are hereby in all things validated, confirmed, approved, and legalized.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings or obligations issued thereunder, where the validity thereof has been contested or attacked in any suit or pending litigation.

[Acts 1941, 47th Leg., p. 602, ch. 370.]

Art. 1118j-2. Validation of Sewer System Bond Proceedings in Cities and Towns of Not Over 3,000

Sec. 1. All proceedings heretofore had by the governing bodies of all cities and towns having a population of not more than three thousand (3,000), according to the preceding Federal Census, in submitting to the qualified electors, during the year 1941, the question of the issuance of the bonds of any such cities and towns pursuant to the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, said bonds to be payable solely from the revenues derived from the operation of the sanitary sewer system, and where a majority of the qualified voters of any such city or town voting at said election on said proposition has voted in favor of the issuance of any such bonds and in favor of pledging the revenues of said system, or the mortgaging of said system, or by both pledging the revenues and the mortgaging of said system, for the payment of such bonds, said election or elections and all proceedings heretofore had in connection with the calling and holding of said election or elections and the canvassing of the returns thereof, are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed, despite any irregularity which may have occurred therein, and said cities or towns are hereby authorized to complete the proceedings for the authorization, issuance and delivery of such bonds upon receipt of the purchase price thereof, and such bonds when approved by the Attorney General, registered by the State Comptroller of Public Accounts, sold at not less than par and accrued interest and delivered are hereby declared to be and shall be the valid and legal obligations of any such city or town in accordance with the terms thereof, and shall be paid as to both principal and interest from the revenues of such sanitary sewer system in accordance with the provisions of the proceedings so authorizing the bonds.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings, or obligations issued thereon, where the validity thereof has been contested or attacked in any suit or litigation which is pending at the time this Act takes effect.

Art. 1118k. Validating Bonds in Cities of Over 160,000 Population

All bonds heretofore authorized by the necessary vote of the qualified voters of all cities of more than one hundred sixty thousand (160,000) population according to the last preceding Federal Census and all bond elections held in such cities for the purpose of voting such bonds wherein the necessary majority of the voters voted in favor thereof are hereby validated insofar as any irregularities in following the requirements of the provisions of the General Law that such election shall be held not more than thirty (30) days from the time of such election order and that notice of such election shall be published on the same day of each of two (2) successive weeks in a newspaper, the date of the first publication to be not less than fourteen (14) days prior to the date set for the election, are concerned; and irregularities in following the requirements of city charters as to time in the calling and holding of such elections shall not in any manner affect the validity of said bonds, but same shall, if otherwise valid, when approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts and sold for not less than par and accrued interest, be a valid subsisting indebtedness of said cities.

Art. 1118L. Validating Bonds and Bond Elections in Cities and Towns of 2601 to 2632 Population

Sec. 1. All bonds heretofore authorized by the necessary vote of the qualified voters of all cities and towns having less than two thousand six hundred thirty-two (2632) population and more than two thousand six hundred one (2601) population according to the last preceding Federal Census, and all elections held in such cities and towns for the purpose of voting such bonds wherein the necessary majority of the voters voted in favor thereof are hereby validated, ratified, confirmed and legalized insofar as any irregularities in following the requirements of the provisions of the general law governing the form of election order, notice, ballot and canvassing of returns of such elections are concerned; and, if such bonds are valid in other respects, when same are approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts and sold for not less than par and accrued interest, shall constitute valid and binding obligations of said cities and towns.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings or to any bonds issued thereunder the validity of which is being contested or attacked in any suit pending at the time this Act takes effect.

Art. 1118m. Validating Waterworks Revenue Bond Elections and Bonds in Cities and Towns of 989 to 1,039 in Counties of 98,650 to 98,750

In all instances wherein cities and towns having a population of not more than one thousand and thirty-nine (1,039), and not less than nine hundred and eighty-nine (989), according to the last preceding Federal Census, located in counties having a population of not more than ninety-eight thousand, seven hundred and fifty (98,750) and not less than ninety-eight thousand, six hundred and fifty (98,650), according to the last preceding Federal Census, have heretofore held elections, attempting to comply with the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, as amended, for the issuance of waterworks revenue bonds, and have failed to comply with the requirements as to publication and posting of notice of such election, and where such elections have been held resulting in a vote sufficient under the law to authorize the issuance of said bonds, such elections are hereby validated and the bonds thus authorized, when duly approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, shall constitute valid and binding special obligations of such cities; provided that the provisions of this Section shall not have the effect of validating any elections or the bonds to be issued pursuant thereto which are in litigation at the time of the passage of this Act, or which may be brought into litigation within ninety (90) days after the effective date of this Act.

Art. 1118m-1. Validation of Election Proceedings on Issuance of Bonds for Waterworks in Certain Home-Rule Cities

Sec. 1. In all instances where a home-rule city has heretofore (i) issued and delivered revenue bonds payable from the net revenues of its waterworks and sanitary sewer system and (ii) by ordinance called an election to authorize the issuance of further revenue bonds, having found in the ordinance that the bond election should be called for the purpose of expanding its water system, including bond expenses, engineering, and right-of-way expense, and all other expenses incidental to the expansion of the city's water system; all proceedings relating to the calling of the election and canvass of its returns are hereby validated, ratified, and confirmed, notwithstanding the fact that the purpose for which the bonds were voted was not set forth in the proposition (though elsewhere in the ordinance calling the election) and notwithstanding the fact that the proposition merely provided for the creation of a sinking fund without specifying the net revenue of such utility systems were to be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on such revenue bonds.

The bonds may be issued and delivered for the purpose expressed in the ordinance calling the election and may be payable from the net revenue of the waterworks and sanitary sewer system, either or both, which may have been owned by the city at the time of such election. The bonds so issued shall, insofar as such pledged revenues are concerned, be on a parity with or subordinate to the revenue bonds of the city as are outstanding, all in accordance with Chapter 10 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925.¹

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall not be operative so as to validate any revenue bonds unless (i) a majority of those who participated in the election voted in favor of the issuance of such bonds and (ii) there is no litigation pending on the effective date of this Act questioning the validity of the election, and (iii) no court of competent jurisdiction has, before the effective date of the Act, declared the election to be invalid.

Art. 1118m-2. Validation of Evidences of Debt for Acquisition of Waterworks Systems

Sec. 1. (a) All bonds, certificates of obligation, warrants, notes, or other evidences of debt of an incorporated city issued to finance the acquisition and purchase of a waterworks system and payable, in whole or in part, by a pledge of the revenues from the operation of the waterworks system are in all respects validated and approved and are declared to be valid and legal special obligations of the city payable and secured in the manner provided in the proceedings relating to their issuance.

(b) Such an obligation is not invalid by reason of a failure to comply with any applicable law requiring the posting or publication of notice of an intention to issue the obligation before its issuance or for failure to make proper presentation of the obligation or the proceedings relating to its issuance for the approval of any state officer, agency, or department. An obligation issued in connection with the acquisition of a waterworks system is not invalid by reason of the status of or business relationship among persons acting for or on behalf of the issuing city or the seller in the acquisition and issuance of obligations.

Sec. 2. This Act does not apply to any matter that on the effective date of this Act:

(1) is involved in litigation if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) has been held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 1118n. Bonds Authorized by Elections During 1938 in Cities or Towns Not Owning Certain Utilities

Sec. 1. All bonds heretofore authorized by the necessary vote of the qualified voters of all cities or towns and all bond elections held in such cities or towns for the purpose of voting such bonds wherein the necessary majority of the voters voted in favor thereof, and all orders, resolutions, and ordinances passed or attempted to be passed by the governing body of such cities or towns as shown by the minutes of such governing body, are hereby validated.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that this Act shall not apply except as to bonds authorized by elections held during the year 1938 in cities or towns which at the time of the holding of such election did not own any of the following utilities from which it could derive revenue: water system, sanitary sewer system, electric light system, or natural gas distribution system.

Sec. 3. Provided further, however, that provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings or any bonds issued thereunder, the validity of which has been contested or attacked in any pending suit or litigation.

[Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 698.]

Art. 1118n-1. Validating Bonds for Waterworks and Sewer Systems in Cities Operating Under General Law

Sec. 1. Where any city in this State which operated under the general law and does not have a home-rule charter has heretofore submitted to the qualified electors thereof propositions for the issuance of the bonds of such city for the purpose of constructing a waterworks system and a sewer system, such bonds to be payable only from the net revenues of such waterworks system and sewer system and secured by a joint mortgage on the properties of such systems, and such propositions have been declared to have carried, and such city has through ordinances adopted by its governing body authorized the issuance of such bonds and prescribed the details thereof and has thereafter reduced the amount of bonds to be so issued and has submitted to the qualified electors thereof propositions for the issuance of the bonds of such city payable from ad valorem taxes for the purpose of constructing a waterworks system and a sewer system, the amount of tax bonds to be so issued being equal to the amount of revenue bonds originally authorized and theretofore determined not to be issued, and such propositions have been declared to have carried, all of the proceedings heretofore had by such city, including all proceedings had and acts done in connection with the calling and holding of the election on the revenue bonds, the proceedings of the governing body authorizing the issuance of such bonds, the indenture authorized and executed to secure such bonds, the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds, the proceedings had reducing the amount of the revenue bonds, the supplemental indenture authorized or executed for the purpose of reducing the amount of such issue, and the proceedings had in connection with the calling and holding of the election on the question of the issuance of the ad valorem tax bonds, despite any failure or failures in such proceedings to comply with the provisions of the pertinent statutes, are hereby ratified, validated and confirmed.

Sec. 2. The governing body of each such city is authorized to adopt all proceedings necessary or desirable to complete the issuance of the revenue bonds and the ad valorem tax bonds so authorized, to make such changes as it may consider desirable in the existing proceedings and in the details of the bonds as they have been authorized by the existing proceedings, and to do everything necessary to the issuance of revenue bonds and ad valorem tax bonds in the amounts so authorized and to secure the revenue bonds by mortgage on the properties of the water and sewer systems, in all respects as provided by the statutes relating to the issuance of such bonds.

Sec. 3. The revenue bonds and ad valorem tax bonds of any such city when delivered and paid for pursuant to such existing proceedings, as such proceedings may hereafter be altered or amended, shall be and are hereby declared to be valid and binding obligations of such city in accordance with the terms thereof.

Sec. 4. All proceedings heretofore had in connection with the incorporation of any such city are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed and every such city is hereby declared to be a legally incorporated and subsisting municipal corporation of the State of Texas operating under the provisions of Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925.¹

Sec. 5. Where any such city has not yet levied taxes on the taxable property in such city, but where the City Tax Assessor has prepared an unrendered roll for any year, using as the basis for such roll the valuation of the taxable property in said city as taken from state, county or school district rolls for such year, and where the governing body of the city has approved such roll and has fixed the percentage basis of assessed valuation to actual valuation, the assessed valuation of taxable property in such city as so determined is hereby declared to be the true and correct assessed valuation of taxable property in such city for such year and such assessment roll is declared to be and is authorized to be used as the basis for the imposition of taxes in such city until the assessed valuation of taxable property in such city for the succeeding year has been determined.

Art. 1118n-2. Validating Revenue and Ad Valorem Tax Bonds and Proceedings for Waterworks and Sewer Systems in Other Than Home-Rule Cities

Sec. 1. Where any city in this State which operates under the General Law and does not have a home-rule charter has heretofore submitted to the qualified electors thereof propositions for the issuance of the bonds of such city for the purpose of constructing a waterworks system and a sewer system, such bonds to be payable only from the net revenues of such waterworks system and sewer system and secured by a joint mortgage on the properties of such systems, and such propositions have been declared to have carried, and such city has through ordinances adopted by its governing body authorized the issuance of such bonds and prescribed the details thereof and has thereafter reduced the amount of bonds to be so issued and has submitted to the qualified electors thereof propositions for the issuance of the bonds of such city payable from ad valorem taxes for the purpose of constructing a waterworks system and a sewer system, the amount of tax bonds to be so issued being equal to the amount of revenue bonds originally authorized and theretofore determined not to be issued, and such propositions have been declared to have carried, all of the proceedings heretofore had by such city, including all proceedings had and acts done in connection with the calling and holding of the election on the revenue bonds, the proceedings of the governing body authorizing the issuance of such bonds, the indenture authorized and executed to secure such bonds, the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds, the proceedings had reducing the amount of the revenue bonds, the supplemental indenture authorized or executed for the purpose of reducing the amount of such issue, and the proceedings had in connection with the calling and holding of the election on the question of the issuance of the ad valorem tax bonds, despite any failure or failures in such proceedings to comply with the provisions of the pertinent Statutes, are hereby ratified, validated, and confirmed.

Sec. 2. The governing body of each such city is authorized to adopt all proceedings necessary or desirable to complete the issuance of the revenue bonds and the ad valorem tax bonds so authorized, to make such changes as it may consider desirable in the existing proceedings and in the details of the bonds as they have been authorized by the existing proceedings, and to do everything necessary to the issuance of revenue bonds and ad valorem tax bonds in the amounts so authorized and to secure the revenue bonds by mortgage on the properties of the water and sewer systems, in all respects as provided by the Statutes relating to the issuance of such bonds.

Sec. 3. The revenue bonds and ad valorem tax bonds of any such city when delivered and paid for pursuant to such existing proceedings, as such proceedings may hereafter be altered or amended, shall be and are hereby declared to be valid and binding obligations of such city in accordance with the terms thereof.

Sec. 4. All proceedings heretofore had in connection with the incorporation of any such city are hereby validated, ratified, and confirmed and every such city is hereby declared to be a legally incorporated and subsisting municipal corporation of the State of Texas operating under the provisions of Title 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925.¹

Sec. 5. Where any such city has not yet levied taxes on the taxable property in such city, but where the City Tax Assessor has prepared an unrendered roll for any year, using as the basis for such roll the valuation of the taxable property in said city as taken from State, county, or school district rolls for such year, and where the governing body of the city has approved such roll and has fixed the percentage basis of assessed valuation to actual valuation, the assessed valuation of taxable property in such city as so determined is hereby declared to be the true and correct assessed valuation of taxable property in such city for such year and such assessment roll is declared to be and is authorized to be used as the basis for the imposition of taxes in such city until the assessed valuation of taxable property in such city for the succeeding year has been determined. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any proceedings, levies, or to any bonds or warrants issued thereunder, the validity of which has been contested or attacked in suit or litigation which is pending at the time this Act becomes a law, or which may be filed within thirty (30) days after this Act becomes a law.

Art. 1118n-3. Refunding Bonds, Issuance by Cities Operating Under General Law and Owning Waterworks or Sewer System

Eligible Cities

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any city or town operating under the General Law relating to cities and towns, and which does not operate under a special or home rule charter, and which owns and operates either its waterworks or its sanitary sewer system, or both, and the principal amount of whose bond and time warrant indebtedness is in an aggregate amount exceeding thirty (30) per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in such city according to the latest approved official tax rolls. Any such city for the purpose of this Act shall be an "eligible" city.

Refunding Bonds Authorized; Prerequisites; Utility Rates

Sec. 2. Any eligible city is authorized to issue refunding bonds to be supported by an ad valorem tax and by a pledge to the payment of the principal and interest thereof, of all or a stipulated part of the net income from the operation of its waterworks system or its sewer system, or both. No such city shall be authorized to exercise the additional powers conferred by this Act unless it obtains a reduction in the principal amount of its indebtedness to the extent of not less than twenty-five (25) per cent. Such city shall not be permitted to deliver such refunding bonds unless and until it shall have obtained consent to such refunding by the holders of at least sixty-six and two-thirds ($66\frac{2}{3}$) per cent of aggregate principal amount of its outstanding indebtedness which sixty-six and two-thirds ($66\frac{2}{3}$) per cent shall include not less than one hundred (100) per cent of the revenue bonds, if any, outstanding against said system or systems, or unless such refinancing plan shall have been made effective in Composition proceedings instituted by such city under Title 11, Chapter 9 of the United States Code and Amendments thereto.¹

Before any income from such utility or utilities shall be used to pay the principal and interest of said refunding bonds the expenses of operation and maintenance shall have first been provided substantially in accordance with the provisions of Article 1113 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, which is applicable to the income of encumbered utility systems. When such city issues refunding bonds under the provisions of this law it shall be the duty of the city after making said pledge of such utility income to establish and maintain utility rates, which, together with taxes levied for the payment of such bonds, will be adequate to yield revenues sufficient to operate and maintain said utility system or systems and to fulfill the city's pledge of such income.

Revenue Bonds, Refunding Of

Sec. 3. Such city also shall refund par for par, all of its outstanding revenue bonds which are secured by a pledge of the revenues of either or both of such systems, if any such revenue bonds are outstanding, and bonds issued to refund such revenue bonds may be included in any such refunding issue, authorized by this Act.

Negotiability; Registration; Approval

Sec. 4. The refunding bonds issued under this Act shall be fully negotiable and shall be issued in the same manner as refunding bonds for the purpose of taking up outstanding bonds issued under the provisions of Title 22 and Title 28 of the 1925 Revised Civil Statutes of Texas and amendments thereto.¹ No notice of intention to issue refunding bonds and no election for the issuance of such bonds shall be required. No such refunding bonds shall be registered in the office of the Comptroller and delivered by him unless and until he shall have received and cancelled in lieu thereof bonds or time warrants in the proportion prescribed in the ordinances authorizing the issuance of such refunding bonds, and in accordance with this Act. The procedure prescribed in Articles 709 to 715 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, in reference to examination and approval of the bonds by the Attorney General shall be applicable to bonds issued under this Act.

¹ Articles 701 et seq. and 961 et seq.

Act as Cumulative; Conflicting Laws

Sec. 5. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject. In the event that any provisions of this Act conflict with, or are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law, general or special, the provisions of this Act shall take precedence over such conflicting or inconsistent provisions and shall prevail.

[Acts 1941, 47th Leg., p. 388, ch. 729.]

Art. 1118n-4. Redemption of Outstanding Waterworks Revenue Bonds; Additional Revenue Bonds

Eligible Cities

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any city having a charter, adopted or amended by a vote of the people, with power to levy an ad valorem tax of Two Dollars and Fifty Cents ($2.50) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) of assessed valuation, which city has outstanding tax-supported indebtedness equal to fifteen per cent (15%) or more of its assessed valuation, and has outstanding bonds payable from its waterworks revenues all of which will become subject to redemption within two (2) years after passage of the ordinance authorizing additional bonds as hereinafter provided. Any such city is hereinafter sometimes called an "eligible city."

Deposit in State Treasury of Amount of Outstanding Waterworks Revenue Bonds

Sec. 2. An eligible city shall have the right to deposit in the office of the State Treasurer of the State of Texas a sum of money equal to the principal amount of its said outstanding and unpaid waterworks revenue bonds plus the amount of interest which will accrue on each of said bonds calculated to the date on which it may be redeemed and the amount of contract premium if any, and concurrently with such deposit shall pay to the State Treasurer for his services and to reimburse him for his expenses in performing his duties under this Act a sum of money equivalent to one-eighth ($\frac{1}{8}$) of one percent (1%) of the principal amount of said bonds and one fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) of one per cent (1%) of the interest to accrue on all of said bonds, and an additional amount of money sufficient to pay the charges of the bank or trust company at which the principal and interest of said bonds are payable for its services in paying such principal and interest. The State Treasurer may rely on a certificate by such city as to the amount of the charges made by such bank or trust company. At the same time such city shall deliver to the State Treasurer a certified copy of the ordinance authorizing said revenue bonds, or a certified excerpt therefrom, showing clearly the amounts and the date or dates on which interest is due on such bonds, the date when the principal becomes subject to redemption, and the name and address of the bank or trust company at which such principal and interest must be paid. It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to accept such deposits, payments, and instruments, and safely to keep and use such money for the purposes set forth in this Act and for no other purpose, and no part of such money except that in payment for his services and to reimburse his expenses in performing such services shall be used by or for the State of Texas or for any creditor of the State of Texas, nor shall such money be commingled with any other money.

State Treasurer to Forward Money to Bank Where Bonds are Payable

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer not less than fifteen (15) days before such interest is due according to the tenor and effect of said bonds, and the principal becomes redeemable, to forward by registered mail to the bank or trust company where the principal of and interest on such bonds are payable, an amount sufficient to pay such principal and interest and premium if any, and to pay the service charges of such bank or trust company. The State Treasurer shall notify such bank or trust company to forward to him bonds and coupons thus cancelled, and after he shall have made a record of their payment and cancellation shall forward such cancelled bonds and coupons to such city.

Additional Revenue Bonds

Sec. 4. When an eligible city shall have deposited and paid into the office of the State Treasurer the money and shall have done the things required under Section 2 it shall have authority to issue additional revenue bonds, securing them by a pledge of the revenue from the operation of its waterworks system or of its waterworks and sewer systems, in such manner as is authorized by Articles 1111 to 1118 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and for the purposes authorized in said Articles, and for the purpose of providing money to enable the city to comply with Section 2 of this Act. The deposit authorized by Section 1 hereof to be made with the State Treasurer shall be made prior to or concurrently with the sale and delivery of the new bonds authorized by this Act, but all other proceedings relating to the authorization and issuance of such bonds may be had prior to the making of such deposit. No revenue bonds shall be issued under authority of this Section 5 unless they shall have been authorized at an election held in such city in accordance with the provisions of Article 704 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended by Chapter 382, Acts of the First Called Session of the Forty-fourth Legislature. It is especially provided that regardless of any provisions to the contrary contained in the law under which such new revenue bonds are to be issued, they shall constitute a first charge on the income of the waterworks system or waterworks and sewer systems, after the payment of the expense of maintenance and operation of such system or systems subject only to any payments which must be made to the State Treasurer from such income to prevent any default in principal of or interest on such outstanding revenue bonds, for the benefit of which such deposit shall have been made with the State Treasurer. The right of the holders of said outstanding revenue bonds to have any deficiency paid out of such income shall remain unimpaired.

Additional or Subsequent Waterworks Revenue Bonds

Sec. 5. Regardless of any provisions to the contrary contained in the law or laws under which such new revenue bonds shall be issued, so long as any of said new revenue bonds are outstanding no additional revenue bonds secured by a pledge of the revenues of the system shall be issued thereafter except in accordance with limitations prescribed in the ordinance authorizing the revenue bonds first to be issued by such city pursuant to this Act; but it shall be lawful for such city to authorize and issue additional or subsequent waterworks revenue bonds provided that they are issued in all respects in conformity with and subject to limitations contained in such ordinance.

Withdrawal of Deposits from State Treasury

Sec. 6. After an eligible city has made the deposits and payments required under Section 2, at any time it may withdraw from the State Treasury the amount of money, both principal and interest, deposited on account of any bond by exhibiting to the State Treasurer said bond duly cancelled, whereupon the State Treasurer shall make a proper record of the payment and cancellation of such bond.

Rights of Holders of Bonds to Surrender Bonds

Sec. 7. At any time after an eligible city shall have made the deposits and payments required under Section 2, the holder of any such bond, irrespective of its maturity date, shall have the right to surrender such bond to the State Treasurer and shall receive therefor a sum equivalent to all money then remaining on deposit with the State Treasurer, made on account of such surrendered bond. Whereupon such bond shall be duly cancelled by the State Treasurer, and delivered or forwarded to such city.

Approval of Record and Bonds by Attorney General

Sec. 8. When an eligible city shall have duly authorized the issuance of its revenue bonds, and the record pertaining thereto shall have been presented to the Attorney General of Texas, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to approve such record and thereafter when such new revenue bonds are presented to him, to approve such bonds subject to the making of the deposit provided in Section 2 hereof. After such record and bonds have been approved by the Attorney General and after such bonds have been registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts, they shall be held for all purposes to be fully negotiable instruments and shall, according to their tenor and effect, be valid and binding revenue obligations of such city and shall be incontestable for any cause from and after such registration.

Bond of State Treasurer

Sec. 9. The bond or bonds given by the State Treasurer under Article 4368 to secure the faithful execution of the duties of his office (except such special bonds as may have been given to protect funds of the United States Government) and any and all other bonds which may have been given by the State Treasurer shall be construed as protecting all moneys and securities deposited or placed with the State Treasurer under this Act.

Act Cumulative

Sec. 10. This Act is cumulative of all other Acts on the subject, but to the extent that its provisions are inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of other laws, the provisions of this Act shall be controlling.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 11. Notwithstanding any other evidence of legislative intent, it is hereby declared to be the controlling legislative intent that if any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

[Acts 1947, 50th Leg., p. 1032, ch. 446.]

Art. 1118n-5. Redemption of Outstanding Revenue Bonds and Issuance of New BondsEligible Cities

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any city which has outstanding waterworks or waterworks and sewer systems revenue bonds and which has on hand sufficient money to pay said bonds together with the interest thereon to the date when they become due or optional for prior payment and the contract premium if any. Any such city is hereinafter sometimes called "eligible city".

Refunding Bonds to Pay Outstanding Revenue Bonds

Sec. 1a. To provide sufficient money for the purposes stated in Section 1 of the Act hereby amended, a city is authorized to issue refunding bonds and sell them for cash, in which event a certified copy of the ordinance so providing shall be transmitted to the Comptroller of Public Accounts and he shall register such refunding bonds without cancellation of the underlying bonds and deliver them as provided in the ordinance. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed five per cent (5%) per annum, evidenced by coupons, mature serially in not to exceed forty (40) years and be signed as other city bonds. If the bonds thus to be refunded are secured by a deed of trust or other encumbrance in which a trustee is named, the money for the payment of the underlying bonds, interest, stipulated premium, if any, and payment charges, may, in the discretion of the governing body of the city, be deposited with such trustee. Such refunding bonds and any additional bonds may be combined into a single issue. Refunding bonds and any additional bonds may be secured in any manner authorized by Article 1111, Revised Civil Statutes, as amended. Such refunding bonds may be issued without an election. Refunding bonds shall not be sold for cash in lieu of being exchanged unless all of the bonds to be paid therefrom become due or optional for redemption within three (3) years from the date of the proposed refunding bonds. If the underlying bonds are optional for redemption within said period of time, the city shall call them in the manner therein provided.

Deposits With State Treasurer

Sec. 2. An eligible city shall have the right to deposit in the office of the State Treasurer of the State of Texas a sum of money equal to the principal amount of its said outstanding and unpaid revenue bonds plus the amount of interest which will accrue on each of said bonds calculated to the date on which it is to become due or on which it may be redeemed and the amount of contract premium if any, and concurrently with such deposit shall pay to the State Treasurer for his services and to reimburse him for his expenses in performing his duties under this Act a sum of money equivalent to one-twentieth ($\frac{1}{20}$) of one (1%) per cent of the principal amount of said bonds and one-eighth ($\frac{1}{8}$) of one (1%) per cent of the interest to accrue on all of said bonds, and an additional amount of money sufficient to pay the charges of the bank or trust company at which the principal and interest of said bonds are payable for its services in paying such principal and interest. The State Treasurer may rely on a certificate by such city as to the amount of the charges made by such bank or trust company. At the same time such city shall deliver to the State Treasurer a certified copy of the ordinance authorizing said revenue bonds, or a certified excerpt therefrom, showing clearly the amounts and the date or dates on which interest is due on such bonds, the date when the principal becomes subject to redemption, and the name and address of the bank or trust company at which such principal and interest must be paid. It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to accept such deposits, payments, and instruments, and safety to keep and use such money for the purposes set forth in this Act and for no other purpose, and no part of such money except that in payment for his services and to reimburse his expenses in performing such services shall be used by or for the State of Texas or for any creditor of the State of Texas, nor shall such money be commingled with any other money.

Duties of State Treasurer

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer not less than fifteen (15) days before such interest is due according to the tenor and effect of said bonds, and the principal becomes redeemable, to forward by registered mail to the bank or trust company where the principal of and interest on such bonds are payable, an amount sufficient to pay such principal and interest, and premium if any, and to pay the service charges of such bank or trust company. The State Treasurer shall notify such bank or trust company to forward to him bonds and coupons thus cancelled, and after he shall have made a record of their payment and cancellation shall forward such cancelled bonds and coupons to such city.

Issuance of New Bonds

Sec. 4. When an eligible city shall have deposited and paid into the office of the State Treasurer the money and shall have done the things required under Section 2 it shall have authority to issue additional revenue bonds, securing them by a pledge of the revenue from the operation of its waterworks system or of its waterworks and sewer systems, in such manner as is authorized by Articles 1111 to 1118 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and for the purposes authorized in said Articles. The deposit authorized by Section 1 hereof to be made with the State Treasurer shall be made prior to or concurrently with the sale and delivery of the new bonds authorized by this Act, but all other proceedings relating to the authorization and issuance of such bonds may be had prior to the making of such deposit. No revenue bonds shall be issued under authority of this Section 5 unless they shall have been authorized at an election held in such city in accordance with the provisions of Article 704 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended by Chapter 382, Acts of the First Called Session of the 44th Legislature. It is especially provided that regardless of any provisions to the contrary contained in the law under which such new revenue bonds are to be issued, they shall constitute a first charge on the income of the waterworks system or waterworks and sewer systems, after the payment of the expense of maintenance and operation of such system or systems subject only to any payments which must be made to the State Treasurer from such income to prevent any default in principal of or interest on such outstanding revenue bonds, for the benefit of which such deposit shall have been made with the State Treasurer. The right of the holders of said outstanding revenue bonds to have any deficiency paid out of such income shall remain unimpaired.

Subsequent Issuance of Additional Bonds

Sec. 5. Regardless of any provisions to the contrary contained in the law or laws under which such new revenue bonds shall be issued, so long as any of said new revenue bonds are outstanding no additional revenue bonds secured by a pledge of the revenues of the system shall be issued thereafter except in accordance with limitations prescribed in the ordinance authorizing the revenue bonds first to be issued by such city pursuant to this Act; but it shall be lawful for such city to authorize and issue additional or subsequent waterworks revenue bonds provided that they are issued in all respects in conformity with and subject to limitations contained in such ordinance.

Withdrawal of Deposits

Sec. 6. After an eligible city has made the deposits and payments required under Section 2, at any time it may withdraw from the State Treasury the amount of money, both principal and interest, deposited on account of any bond by exhibiting to the State Treasurer said bond duly cancelled, whereupon the State Treasurer shall make a proper record of the payment and cancellation of such bond.

Surrender, Payment and Cancellation of Bonds

Sec. 7. At any time after an eligible city shall have made the deposits and payments required under Section 2, the holder of any such bond, irrespective of its maturity date, shall have the right to surrender such bond to the State Treasurer and shall receive therefor a sum equivalent to all money then remaining on deposit with the State Treasurer, made on account of such surrendered bond. Whereupon such bond shall be duly cancelled by the State Treasurer, and delivered or forwarded to such city.

Approval of Record and Bonds; Registration

Sec. 8. When an eligible city shall have duly authorized the issuance of its revenue bonds, and the record pertaining thereto shall have been presented to the Attorney General of Texas, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to approve such record, and thereafter when such new revenue bonds are presented to him, to approve such bonds subject to the making of the deposit provided in Section 2 hereof. After such record and bonds have been approved by the Attorney General and after such bonds have been registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts, they shall be held for all purposes to be fully negotiable instruments and shall, according to their tenor and effect, be valid and binding revenue obligations of such city and shall be incontestable for any cause from and after such registration.

Bonds of State Treasurer

Sec. 9. The bond or bonds given by the State Treasurer under Article 4368 to secure the faithful execution of the duties of his office (except such special bonds as may have been given to protect funds of the United States Government) and any and all other bonds which may have been given by the State Treasurer, shall be construed as protecting all moneys and securities deposited or placed with the State Treasurer under this Act.

Act Cumulative

Sec. 10. This Act is cumulative¹ of all other Acts on the subject, but to the extent that its provisions are inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of other laws, the provisions of this Act shall be controlling.

¹ So in enrolled bill; probably should read "cumulative".

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 11. Notwithstanding any other evidence of legislative intent, it is hereby declared to be the controlling legislative intent that if any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 1118n-6. Validating; Bonds, Bond Elections, and Proceedings for Utility Systems in any City or Town; Home-Rule City Elections for Disposition of City Owned Plant, Utility or Business

Sec. 1. All bonds heretofore authorized by any incorporated city, town or village which pledge the revenues of water, sewer, electric, or gas system, or the revenues of parking meters, auditorium or auditoriums, swimming pool or pools, or any combination of the revenues of such systems or sources, and any and all proceedings pertaining to the authorization and issuance thereof, are hereby validated, ratified, approved and confirmed notwithstanding any lack of statutory or general authority of such city, town or village or the governing body thereof to authorize such bonds and make such pledge of revenue or revenues, and notwithstanding the fact that the proposition as submitted to the voters might have been defective or insufficient or the fact that the election might not have been ordered and held in all respects in accordance with the provisions of the statutes or General Laws, and irrespective of the sufficiency or existence of the pledge of the revenues in the voted proposition; and such bonds, when approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and sold and delivered, shall be binding, legal, valid and enforceable obligations against the revenues so encumbered, and the bonds shall be uncontestable. Provided, however, that this Act shall apply only to such bonds as were authorized at an election or elections wherein a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters who had duly rendered their property for taxation voted in favor of the issuance thereof.

Sec. 1-A. All elections heretofore called or held in any home rule city prior to the effective date of this Act, for the purpose of authorizing the lease, sale, or other disposition of any city owned plant, utility or business or any part thereof in attempted compliance with Article 1112 or Article 1268, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, are hereby validated, ratified, confirmed and approved notwithstanding the fact that the proposition submitted to the voters might have been defective or insufficient, or the fact that the election might not have been ordered and held in all respects in accordance with the provisions of the Home Rule Charter of such city or the General Laws of this state, including those hereinabove particularly mentioned. Provided, however, that this Act shall only apply to those instances in which the lease, sale or other disposition of any city owned plant, utility or business, or any part thereof, were authorized at an election wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such city had voted in favor thereof.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not be construed as validating any such proceedings or bonds issued or to be issued, the validity of which is contested or under attack in any suit or litigation pending at the time this Act becomes effective, if such suit or litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of the proceedings.

Art. 1118n-7. Redemption and Refunding of Outstanding Waterworks Revenue Bonds; Additional Revenue Bonds

Eligible Cities

Sec. 1. Any city, including any city operating under a Home Rule Charter, having outstanding water revenue bonds payable from the net revenues of its waterworks system, the net revenues of which system for each of the two (2) fiscal years next preceding the date when it avails itself of this law are equal to two hundred per cent (200%) of the requirements for the payments of interest on and principal of such outstanding revenue bonds for the year when such requirements are the greatest shall, under the provisions of this Act, be considered hereinafter as an "Eligible City."

Negotiable Tax-Supported General Obligation Bonds, Issuance; Tax Levy to Pay

Sec. 2. An Eligible City, through its governing body may, for the express purpose of providing funds for the refunding or redemption of its outstanding water revenue bonds payable from the revenues of its waterworks system, issue negotiable tax-supported general obligation bonds, pledging therefor the full faith and credit of such city, in an aggregate amount not greater than the aggregate principal amount of such outstanding water revenue bonds, and the total interest thereon accrued to the final date of redemption of each such outstanding water revenue bond; provided, however, that if such Eligible City shall issue such negotiable tax-supported general obligation bonds under the authority of this Act, it shall make provision for the payment of such bonds by annual levies of ad valorem property taxes to pay the interest thereon and to provide a sinking fund to pay them at maturity; and provided, further, that no such bonds shall be issued under the authority of this Act unless the issuance thereof, and the levy of annual ad valorem property taxes to provide for the payment of the interest thereon and to create a sinking fund with which to pay them at maturity, shall have been authorized at an election called and conducted under the provisions of Chapter I, Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and laws amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto,¹ which shall govern the issuance of all such bonds under the authority herein given.

Subrogation to Rights of Holders of Water Revenue Bonds Refunded

Sec. 3. Any Eligible City, which may provide funds for the refunding or redemption of its outstanding water revenue bonds in the manner prescribed in Section 2 hereof, shall thereupon become subrogated to the rights of the holders of the water revenue bonds refunded with funds thus provided, in so far as payments from the revenues of its waterworks system are concerned, and be entitled to have paid into its general fund from such revenues like amounts as would have been payable on the water revenue bonds thus refunded or redeemed, had the same remained outstanding; but such rights on the part of such Eligible City shall in nowise limit any encumbrance on the properties of its water system securing any other water revenue bonds secured by such encumbrance, nor shall such encumbrance in anywise inure to the benefit of such Eligible City or in anywise be enforceable by it, but shall remain in full force for the sole benefit of the holders of any unpaid water revenue bonds of such city, whose rights to enforce such encumbrance shall remain superior to the rights of such city to payment from the revenues of its water system as hereinabove prescribed; nor shall any of the provisions of this Section of this Act be deemed as affecting the right of any such Eligible City to payments from such revenues from its water system into its general fund as might be provided by the terms of any contract under which its water revenue bonds may be issued, and any such payments shall be in addition to payments hereinabove prescribed in this Section.

Refinancing or Redemption Agreements; Additional Water System Revenue Bonds; Referendum

Sec. 4. An Eligible City may also enter into such agreements with the holders of its outstanding water revenue bonds as may be necessary to effect a refunding or refinancing or redemption of such outstanding bonds, or any part thereof, and further in aid of such refunding or refinancing or redemption, may enter into agreements with such other persons, firms or corporations as may be deemed advisable by any such city. All water system revenue bonds issued pursuant to this Act, other than water system refunding revenue bonds, and an additional amount of new revenue bonds not exceeding the total amount of the then outstanding revenue bonds, shall be sold in accordance with the charter provisions of any such Eligible City. It may issue its water system refunding revenue bonds in the manner authorized by Chapter 250, Acts, 1949, Fifty-first Legislature, as amended by Chapter 23, Acts, 1951, Fifty-second Legislature,¹ and with or without an election, as such City shall determine. Such City may, from time to time, issue additional water system revenue bonds for the purpose of extending or improving said water system or for the purpose of acquiring privately or publicly owned water systems or water system facilities situated in or adjacent to such city, or for the purpose of acquiring an additional water supply by purchase or construction or by contribution to the construction of a reservoir by the Federal Government or any agency thereof and, except as otherwise provided in this Act, such bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as amended, and said additional bonds, when issued, shall be on a parity and of equal dignity with any water system refunding bonds issued by such city and shall be secured by a first lien on and pledge of the net revenues of said system, and, in the discretion of such city, may be further secured by a first mortgage on the physical properties constituting said system; provided, however, that in the event that all of said outstanding water revenue bonds cannot be obtained for refunding or redemption, then such new revenue bonds and any refunding bonds which may be authorized and issued hereunder shall constitute a first charge on the income and properties of the water system of said city, subject only to any payments which must be made from such income as required by the provisions of Sections 5, 6, 7 and 12, of this Act; provided, however, that before any additional water system revenue bonds, as herein authorized, are issued, they shall be authorized by a majority vote of the duly qualified taxpaying voters of such an Eligible City at an election ordered and held for that purpose, which election shall be ordered and held in the same manner as required by law for holding elections to authorize the issuance of tax-supported bonds. The right of the holders of any outstanding water revenue bonds not so refunded to have any deficiency paid out of such income shall remain unimpaired.

Deposit in State Treasury of Outstanding Water System Revenue Bonds

Sec. 5. An Eligible City shall have the right to deposit in the office of the State Treasurer of the State of Texas a sum of money equal to the principal amount of its outstanding and unpaid water system revenue bonds that cannot be obtained for refunding or redemption plus the amount of interest which will accrue on each of said bonds calculated to the date on which it is to become due or the date on which it is to become optional for prior redemption, or on which it may be redeemed, and the contract premium, if any, and, concurrently with such deposit, shall pay to the State Treasurer for his services and to reimburse him for his expenses in performing his duties under this Act a sum of money equivalent to one-eighth ($\frac{1}{8}$) of one per cent (1%) of the principal amount of said bonds, and one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) of one per cent (1%) of the interest to accrue on all said bonds, and an additional amount of money sufficient to pay the charges of the bank or trust company at which the principal and interest on said bonds are payable for its services in paying such principal and interest. The State Treasurer may rely on a certificate by such city as to the amount of the charges made by such bank or trust company. At the same time, such city shall deliver to the State Treasurer a certified copy of the ordinance authorizing such water system revenue bonds, or a certified excerpt therefrom, showing clearly the amounts and the date or dates on which interest is due on such bonds, the date when the principal matures, and the name and address of the bank or trust company at which such principal and interest must be paid. It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to accept such deposits, payments and instruments, and safely to keep and use such money for the purposes set forth in this Act, and for no other purpose, and no part of such money, except that in payment for his services and to reimburse his expenses in performing such services, shall be used by or for the State of Texas, or for any creditor of the State of Texas, nor shall such money be commingled with any other money.

State Treasurer's Duties

Sec. 6 It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer not less than fifteen (15) days before such interest is due according to the tenor and effect of said bonds, and the principal becomes due, to forward by registered mail to the bank or trust company where the principal of and interest on such bonds are payable, an amount sufficient to pay such principal and interest, and to pay the service charges of such bank or trust company. The State Treasurer shall notify such bank or trust company to forward to him bonds and coupons thus canceled, and after he shall have made a record of their payment and cancellation shall forward such canceled bonds and coupons to such city. When an Eligible City shall have deposited and paid into the office of the State Treasurer the money and shall have done the things required under Section 3 it shall have authority to issue additional revenue bonds and refunding bonds as permitted in Section 2 hereof.

Rights of Holders to Surrender Bonds

Sec. 7. At any time after an Eligible City shall have made the deposits and payments required under Section 5 of this Act, the holder of any such bond, irrespective of its maturity date, shall have the right to surrender such bond to the State Treasurer and shall receive therefor a sum equivalent to all money then remaining on deposit with the State Treasurer, made on account of such surrendered bond; whereupon such bond shall be duly canceled by the State Treasurer and delivered or forwarded to such city.

Subsequent Issuance of Additional Revenue Bonds

Sec. 8. Regardless of any provisions to the contrary contained in the law or laws under which such refunding bonds and new revenue bonds shall be issued, so long as any of said bonds are outstanding no additional revenue bonds secured by a pledge of the revenues of the system shall be issued thereafter except in accordance with limitations prescribed in the ordinance or deed of trust authorizing and securing the revenue bonds first to be issued by such city pursuant to this Act; but it shall be lawful for such city to authorize and issue additional or subsequent revenue bonds provided that they are issued in all respects in conformity with and subject to limitations contained in such ordinance or deed of trust.

Withdrawal of Deposits From State Treasury

Sec. 9. After an Eligible City has made the deposits and payments required under Section 5, at any time it may withdraw from the State Treasury the amount of money, both principal and interest, deposited on account of any bond by exhibiting to the State Treasurer said bond duly canceled, whereupon the State Treasurer shall make a proper record of the payment and cancellation of such bond.

Approval of Record and Bonds by Attorney General; Registration; Incontestability

Sec. 10. When an Eligible City shall have authorized the issuance of its revenue bonds, and the record pertaining thereto shall have been presented to the Attorney General of Texas, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to approve such record and thereafter when such new revenue bonds are presented to him, to approve such bonds subject to the making of the deposit provided in Section 5 hereof. After such record and bonds have been approved by the Attorney General and after such bonds have been registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts, they shall be held for all purposes to be fully negotiable instruments and shall, according to their tenor and effect, be valid and binding revenue obligations of such city and shall be incontestable for any cause from and after such registration.

Bond of State Treasurer

Sec. 11. The bond or bonds given by the State Treasurer under Article 4368 to secure the faithful execution of the duties of his office (except such special bonds as may have been given to protect funds of the United States Government) and any and all other bonds which may have been given by the State Treasurer shall be construed as protecting all moneys and securities deposited or placed with the State Treasurer under this Act.

Cancellation of Bonds; Validation of Issuance and Sale of Canceled Bonds

Sec. 12. Whenever an Eligible City has purchased, from the holders thereof, any of its outstanding water system revenue bonds with money taken from its water system revenue bond interest and sinking fund, or from its Waterworks Bond and Interest Redemption Account, and whenever such bonds have been thereby canceled through error or otherwise, and whenever the governing body of any such city has adopted an ordinance authorizing the issuance or sale of any such canceled bonds, the proceedings authorizing the issuance or sale of such canceled bonds are hereby validated and confirmed, and any such canceled bonds shall constitute valid and legally binding obligations of any such city in accordance with their terms, and each such Eligible City is authorized to do all things necessary to refund or redeem any such canceled bonds, under the authority of this Act.

Act Cumulative

Sec. 13. This Act is cumulative of all other Acts on the subject, but to the extent that its provisions are inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of other laws, or the provisions of the Charter of any Eligible City, the provisions of this Act shall be controlling. Chapter 541, Acts, 1949, Fifty-first Legislature,¹ shall remain unimpaired by the provisions of this Act.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 14. Notwithstanding any other evidence of legislative intent, it is hereby declared to be the controlling legislative intent that if any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 1118n-8. Refunding Bonds, Issuance by Certain Cities Operating Under General Law and Owning Waterworks, Natural Gas and Sewer Systems.Eligible City

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to cities operating under general law, which own and operate waterworks, natural gas and sanitary sewer systems, and whose outstanding tax bond indebtedness, including accrued and unpaid interest thereon, exists in an aggregate amount of not less than twenty per cent (20%) of the assessed valuation of the property in such city according to the latest approved official tax rolls. Any such city for the purposes of this Act shall be an "eligible" city.

Refunding Bonds Authorized; Powers of Governing Body; Definition

Sec. 2. Any eligible city is authorized to issue refunding bonds for the purpose of taking up all or any part of its outstanding indebtedness, regardless of whether such indebtedness is in its original form or has been funded, or refunded, in whole or in part, such refunding bonds to bear interest at a rate or rates to be determined by the governing body of said city, not exceeding the average rate or rates of interest borne by the indebtedness to be refunded, and no election shall be required as a condition precedent to the issuance of the said refunding securities. The governing body of such eligible city, in addition to the levying of a tax to pay the principal and interest of said refunding bonds, is authorized to pledge to the payment of such principal and interest, a designated annual amount or a designated proportion of the net revenues from the operation of any one or more of the utility systems owned and operated by said city, which pledge shall remain in full force and effect so long as any part of the principal or interest of said refunding bonds is outstanding and unpaid. For the purposes of this Act the expression "net revenues" shall mean the gross revenues of such system or systems after the payment of the reasonable and necessary expenses of operation, maintenance, and collection of income and the payment of interest on and principal of any and all bonds theretofore issued, the payment of which is secured by a pledge of the revenues of any or all of said systems. When such city issues refunding bonds under the provisions of this law it shall be the duty of the city, after making said pledge of such utility revenues, to establish and maintain said utility systems and to fulfill the city's pledge of said utility revenues.

Amount of Bond Issue; Procedure for Issuance; Registration

Sec. 3. The refunding bonds authorized in this Act may be issued in an amount not exceeding the combined amount of outstanding principal, matured interest coupons, and accrued interest on said original securities and shall mature at such time or times as the governing body may prescribe. The procedure for the issuance of said refunding bonds shall be that which is prescribed in the statutes for the issuance of refunding bonds to take up outstanding bonds.

Such refunding bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts in exchange for and upon cancellation of such original indebtedness after they shall have been approved by the Attorney General, and when so registered shall have all of the elements of protections of bonds approved by the Attorney General of Texas under the provisions of Articles 709 to 715, both inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925.

Negotiability

Sec. 4. Refunding Bonds issued under this Act shall be fully negotiable coupon bonds payable to bearer, constituting general obligations of the issuing city, and the holders thereof shall succeed to all the privileges of the holders of the indebtedness constituting the basis of the refunding bonds except as modified and changed by the express terms of the proceedings employed in the refunding operation.

Act as Cumulative; Conflicting Laws

Sec. 5. This law shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject. In the event that any provisions of this Act conflict with, or are inconsistent with, the provisions of any other law, general or special, or with the provision of the charter of any such eligible city, the provisions of this Act shall take precedence over such conflicting or inconsistent provisions and shall prevail.

[Acts 1957, 55th Leg., p. 1373, ch. 468.]

Art. 1118n-9. Validating City Tax Bonds for Waterworks and Sewage Systems

Sec. 1. All proceedings in connection with any tax bonds heretofore favorably voted in any city, including any Home Rule City, for the purpose of constructing, improving and extending the waterworks and sewage systems of such city, including the acquisition of property necessary therefor, are hereby in all things validated and said bonds may be issued and delivered by the governing body of any such city for the purpose or purposes so voted and in the manner provided by Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ regardless of whether or not any such bonds so voted were submitted in only one proposition and regardless of the wording of the language appearing on the ballots concerning any proposition so submitted.

Sec. 2. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any such proceedings, or any obligations issued thereunder, the validity of which has been contested or attacked in any pending suit or litigation.

Art. 1118n-10. Refunding Outstanding Waterworks and Sewer Revenue Bonds; Additional Refunding Bonds

Eligible City

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any city which has outstanding bonds secured by a pledge of net revenue of its sanitary sewer system and other bonds secured by a lien on its waterworks system and the revenues therefrom, and does not have the right to issue additional equal lien bonds payable from its waterworks revenues. As used herein

"Eligible City" means a city to which this Act is applicable.

Refunding Bonds Secured by Pledge of Revenues; Issuance; Interest; Deposits in State Treasury

Sec. 2. An Eligible City is authorized to issue bonds, without the necessity of an election, for the purpose of refunding outstanding waterworks revenue bonds and sewer revenue bonds into an issue of refunding bonds which will be secured by and payable from a pledge of revenues of both the waterworks system and the sewer system. Such refunding bonds shall bear a rate of interest specified by the governing body of the City, but not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, and mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years. All or any part of such refunding bonds may, in lieu of being exchanged by the Comptroller of Public Accounts for outstanding bonds, be sold for cash, in which event, there shall be deposited with the State Treasurer an amount of money sufficient to pay the unexchanged portion thereof plus interest to maturity on bonds which are not optional for redemption prior to maturity, and to the option date on bonds which are optional. There shall also be deposited with the State Treasurer the additional amount required by Chapter 541, Acts of the Fifty-first Legislature as amended.¹ The State Treasurer shall hold and disburse such funds as provided in Chapter 541 except that he is not required to transmit money to the Trustee or the bank of payment until one business day before each interest payment date on the bonds being refunded.

Elections Authorizing Bond Issue

Sec. 3. If, prior to such refunding, an Eligible City has had elections authorizing the issuance of bonds to be secured by a pledge of waterworks revenues and other bonds secured by sewer revenues, or either, such bonds may, after the issuance of such refunding bonds, be issued and secured by a pledge of net revenues of both the waterworks system and sewer system without the necessity of an additional election.

Additional Revenue Bonds; Ordinances; Junior Lien Bonds

Sec. 4. An Eligible City may issue additional revenue bonds which will be on a parity with previously issued and outstanding revenue bonds at any time under the conditions specified in the ordinance or ordinances which authorized the issuance of the then outstanding bonds. Articles 1111 to 1118, both inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended, shall be applicable to bonds issued under this law, except as otherwise provided herein. An Eligible City may issue junior lien bonds unless prohibited by the ordinance authorizing outstanding bonds.

Approval of Bonds by Attorney General;
Incontestability

Sec. 5. All bonds issued under this Act shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for his approval, and when approved by him, shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and thereafter such bonds shall be incontestable.

[Acts 1963, 58th Leg., p. 321, ch. 119.]

Art. 1118n-11. Refunding Certain Outstanding Interest Bearing Obligations

Issuer Defined

Sec. 1. The term "issuer," as used in this Act shall mean and include any city in the State of Texas which owns the water, sewer and electric utility systems serving such city and which operates all such utilities as a combined system and has issued and has outstanding revenue bonds payable from the revenues of such combined system.

Issuing Refunding Bonds; Security; Election; Maturity and Interest; Negotiability

Sec. 2. Any issuer, by resolution, ordinance, order or other action of its governing body is authorized to issue refunding bonds to refund any outstanding interest bearing obligations, including but not limited to bonds, notes, warrants, certificates of obligation and certificates of indebtedness, and interest coupons appertaining thereto, heretofore or hereafter issued by or for or on behalf of said issuer, which obligations have stated maturity dates or are callable prior to maturity not more than 10 years after the date of delivery of such refunding bonds. One or more outstanding issues, and any part of one or more outstanding issues of obligations, and interest coupons appertaining thereto, may be refunded hereunder; provided that obligations will not be refunded hereunder by issuers unless such refunding results in the ability of the issuer to issue additional interest bearing obligations that could not have been issued but for such refunding due at least in part to provisions in the obligations being refunded or resolutions, ordinances or orders pertaining to such obligations being refunded which would have required a record of earnings or income in excess of that available to the issuer, and would have thus prevented the issuance of such additional interest bearing obligations; provided that when part of one or more of such issues is being refunded, the issuer must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Attorney General of the State of Texas, prior to his approval of the refunding bonds as hereinafter required, that adequate pledged resources are estimated to be available, based on then current conditions, to provide for the payment when due of the unrefunded part of such issue or issues. Such refunding bonds may be secured by liens on, and made payable from, the same source as the obligations being refunded thereby, or may be secured by liens on, and payable from, taxes, revenues, property, any other or different source, or any combination of such sources, to the extent the issuer is otherwise authorized by the Texas Constitution or any statute to pledge, dedicate, or use any such source for the payment or security of any kind or type of interest bearing obligation; and the refunding bonds may be issued in combination with refunding bonds issued under other laws, new bonds, and with provision for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under such terms or conditions and with such security, as may be set forth in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of said refunding bonds, all as determined within the discretion of the issuer; provided, however, that no such bonds shall be issued contrary to the provisions of the Texas Constitution. All refunding bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be issued without any election in connection with the issuance thereof or the creation of any encumbrance in connection therewith; except that if the Texas Constitution would require an election or vote to permit any procedure, action, or matter pertaining to such refunding bonds, then an election to authorize any such procedure, action, or matter shall be held substantially in accordance with Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ to the extent practicable, applicable, and appropriate. Said bonds may be issued to mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 50 years from their date, and may be issued to bear interest at any rate or rates within the discretion of the issuer. Said bonds and any interest coupons appurtenant thereto, shall be negotiable instruments within the meaning of the Uniform Commercial Code (except that such bonds may be made registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest), and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, and may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions, and details, and may be executed, as provided by the issuer in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of said refunding bonds.

Bonds Payable from Water, Sewer, and Electric Utility Revenues

Sec. 2A. (a) This section applies only to refunding bonds payable solely from the net revenues of the issuer's combined water, sewer, and electric utility systems.

(b) The requirements of Section 2 of this Act that the obligations to be refunded must have stated maturity dates or be callable prior to maturity not more than 10 years from the date of delivery of the refunding bonds and that the refunding must enable the issuer to issue additional obligations it could not otherwise have issued do not apply to the issuance of refunding bonds covered by this section.

(c) The requirement in Section 4 of this Act that the refunding bonds be sold for not less than par value is not applicable to refunding bonds covered by this section.

(d) As to refunding bonds covered by this section, if obligations to be refunded are not callable at the time of refunding but will be subject to redemption before maturity, the issuer may provide in the refunding proceedings for redeeming those obligations before maturity, and if it does so, the issuer need deposit with the State Treasurer under this Act no more than is necessary to provide for payment of the principal and interest on those obligations as they are redeemed.

Submission of Bonds and Proceedings to Attorney General; Approval and Registration; Incontestability; Registration

Sec. 3. All bonds permitted to be issued under this Act, and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance, shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for examination. If he finds that such bonds have been authorized in accordance with this Act, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas; and after such approval and registration, such bonds shall be incontestable in any court, or other forum, for any reason, and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes. Such bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts after they are approved by the attorney general, without any surrender, exchange, or cancellation of the obligations being refunded.

Sale for Cash; Redemption

Sec. 4. The refunding bonds authorized by this Act shall be sold for cash in such manner and at such price (not less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery) as determined within the discretion of the governing body of the issuer; and may be sold in such principal amounts as are necessary to provide all or any part of the money required to pay the principal of an interest on any obligations being refunded, as the same mature and come due, or to provide all or any part of the money required to redeem any obligations being refunded, prior to maturity, on the date or dates upon which said obligations have been called for such redemption, including principal, any required premium, the interest to accrue on said obligations to said redemption date or dates, together with an amount sufficient to pay all expenses related to the issuance of the refunding bonds and the expenses of paying the obligations being refunded under this Act. If any of the obligations being refunded through the sale of refunding bonds under this Act are subject to redemption prior to maturity, they shall be duly called for such redemption on a date or dates upon which they are so redeemable, in accordance with the terms thereof, and the proceedings pertaining to such call, and any notice of redemption required in connection therewith, shall be submitted to the attorney general along with the proceedings authorizing the issuance of said refunding bonds. However, if the notice of redemption in connection with any such obligations being refunded is required by the terms thereof to be given or published at some future time after the date of the refunding bonds, such obligations shall not be considered as being then subject to redemption prior to maturity for the purposes of this Act, and in calculating the amount required to be deposited with the state treasurer under this Act, such amount shall be made sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on said obligations being refunded as the same mature and come due, without being redeemed prior to maturity.

Investment of Proceeds

Sec. 5. The issuer may immediately invest all or any required part of the proceeds from the sale of the refunding bonds, and any other necessary available funds, in direct obligations of, or obligations the interest on and principal of which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States of America, or in obligations which, in the opinion of the Attorney General of the United States of America, are general obligations of the United States of America and backed by its full faith and credit, which will mature, bear interest, and be payable, at such times and in such amounts as will provide and produce, without any reinvestment, the money (together with any uninvested money) required for the payment of the principal of and interest on the obligations being refunded, as the same mature and come due, and for the payment of the redemption price of any obligations being refunded and redeemed prior to maturity, on the date or dates upon which said obligations being refunded have been called for redemption, plus the additional amount required to pay the service charges of the place or places of payment of said obligations for paying and redeeming same.

Deposits With Treasurer; Certification of Deposit Adequacy; Duties of Treasurer

Sec. 6. (a) The issuer shall immediately deposit with the state treasurer (1) the proceeds from the sale of the refunding bonds, to the extent such proceeds are not invested, and (2) all of said investments, and (3) an additional amount, if necessary, which shall be sufficient together with such other deposits to pay the principal of and interest on the obligations being refunded, to pay the state treasurer for his services and to reimburse him for his expenses in performing his duties under this Act, equal to one-twentieth of one percent of the principal or par amount of the obligations being refunded, and one-eighth of one percent of the interest to accrue thereon (but not to exceed a total of $2,000 in connection with each issue of refunding bonds issued hereunder), plus an additional amount of money sufficient to pay the service charges of the place or places of payment of said obligations for paying and redeeming same. The treasurer shall certify to the issuer as to the adequacy of the investments (and money) deposited, giving due regard to the dates the principal and interest on the investments are scheduled to mature and come due. In calculating the adequacy of said investments required to be so deposited, the state treasurer may rely on receiving both the principal and the interest scheduled to mature and come due on said investments in accordance with their terms, respectively, and the amount which otherwise would be required to be so deposited, if no interest were scheduled to come due thereon, may be reduced accordingly. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to accept said deposits of investments and to collect promptly, when due and payable, all principal of and interest on said investments, but he shall not reinvest the same. It is further provided that the aforesaid investments shall be made in such manner that the proceeds therefrom, without any reinvestment, will be available for deposit, and shall be deposited, by the state treasurer, in the place or places of payment, in current available funds, in the required amounts, not later than one business day before each scheduled maturity date, due date, or redemption date, respectively, of said obligations being refunded. The state treasurer may rely on a certificate by the secretary or the chief clerical officer of the governing body of the issuer as to the amount of such service charges of the place or places of payment.

(b) It shall be the duty of the state treasurer, in his official capacity of public office, to accept and keep safely all deposits of money and investments made with him under this Act, and all proceeds from said investments; and no part of such deposits of money and investments, or proceeds therefrom, (excepting the amount paid to him for his services and expenses) shall be used by or for the benefit of the State of Texas, or for the benefit of any creditor of the State of Texas, and shall not be commingled with the General Fund of the state, or any other special funds or accounts held by the state treasurer. Each such deposit of money and investments, and proceeds therefrom, (excepting the amount paid to him for his services and expenses) shall be kept and maintained separate and apart from all other money and investments, and shall be kept and held, in escrow, and in trust, by the state treasurer, and shall be charged with an irrevocable first lien and pledge in favor of the holders of the obligations to be paid therefrom, and said deposits of money and investments, and proceeds therefrom, shall be used only for the purposes provided in this Act. Each such deposit of money and investments, and proceeds therefrom, shall be regarded as public funds, and legal title thereto shall be in the state treasurer, in his official capacity as trustee, until paid out as herein provided, but equitable title thereto shall be in the issuer, until so paid out. The writ of mandamus, and all other legal remedies, shall be available to any bondholder, the issuer or any other party at interest to require the state treasurer to perform his functions and duties under this Act. The surety bond or bonds given by the state treasurer in connection with the proper performance of his duties of office (excepting any special bonds given to protect funds of the United States government) shall protect and be construed as protecting all said deposits of money and investments, and proceeds therefrom. The state treasurer shall not in any way invest or reinvest any money deposited with him or received by him from any investment under this Act. In the event that any surplus funds should remain on hand with the state treasurer in connection with any deposit of money or investments, after he has finally performed all of his duties relating thereto under this Act, such surplus shall be returned to the issuer.

(c) When there is more than one place of payment for any such obligations being refunded, the state treasurer shall make all of the deposits required to be made by him under this Act at the one of said places of payment having the largest capital and surplus and located in the State of Texas, and if none of such places of payment is located in the State of Texas, then at the place of payment having the largest capital and surplus; and it shall be the duty of such place of payment, and the state treasurer shall so instruct it, to make the required current funds available, to the extent necessary, at the other place or places of payment, to pay or redeem said obligations under presentment therefor.

Alternative Place of Deposit; Duties of Places of Payment

Sec. 7. It is further provided, however, that in the alternative to making the deposit of said investments (together with any uninvested money) with the state treasurer, the issuer shall have the option of making such deposit with any place of payment for the obligations being refunded, if said place of payment is a bank or trust company located in the State of Texas, has trust powers, and is a member of the Federal Reserve System. In such case, such place of payment shall perform all applicable and pertinent functions and duties provided in this Act for the state treasurer, and shall be substituted hereunder for the state treasurer to the extent appropriate and practical, except as otherwise provided by this section. The deposits of such investments and money shall be held for safekeeping, in escrow, and in trust for and charged with an irrevocable first lien and pledge in favor of and for the benefit of the holders of the obligations being refunded, all pursuant to an appropriate trust or escrow agreement between the issuer and the place of payment, upon such further terms and conditions, and for such consideration as may be agreeable to the parties thereto. Further, all deposits of money with any such place of payment shall constitute public funds and shall be secured at all times by a pledge of direct obligations of the United States of America, obligations the payment of principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States of America, or obligations which, in the opinion of the Attorney General of the United States of America, are general obligations of the United States of America and backed by its full faith and credit. When there is more than one place of payment for any such obligations being refunded it shall be the duty of such place of payment, with which such deposit is made, to make the required current funds available, to the extent necessary, at the other place or places of payment to pay or redeem said obligations under presentment therefor.

Discharge and Final Payment or Redemption of Obligations; Subordination to Refunded Obligations

Sec. 8. When the initial deposit of investments (and any uninvested money) is made with the state treasurer or with a place of payment under this Act, such deposit shall constitute the making of firm banking and financial arrangements for the discharge and final payment or redemption of the obligations being refunded, and although such obligations being refunded shall continue to be obligations of the issuer, automatically they shall become obligations of the issuer secured solely by and payable solely from such deposit and the proceeds therefrom; and upon the making of such deposit, all previous encumbrances existing in connection with said obligations being refunded (whether in connection with taxes, revenues, real and personal property or any other source of security or payment) automatically shall terminate and be finally discharged and released, as a matter of law, and said encumbrances shall be of no further force or effect; and although said obligations being so refunded will remain outstanding, they shall be regarded as being outstanding only for the purpose of receiving the funds provided by the issuer for their payment or redemption under this Act, and they shall not be regarded as being outstanding in ascertaining the power of the issuer to issue bonds, or in calculating any limitations in connection therewith, or for any other purpose. It is further provided, however, notwithstanding the foregoing language of this section, that the issuer may, in the alternative to the foregoing language of this section, provide in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of such refunding bonds that such refunding bonds shall be subordinate to the obligations being refunded, but only in the manner and to the extent provided in said authorizing proceedings; and, except for any such specific provisions to the contrary in said authorizing proceedings, the foregoing language of this section shall be fully applicable.

Rights of Holders of Obligations

Sec. 9. The holder or holders of any such obligations being refunded shall never have the right to demand or receive payment thereof prior to the scheduled date or dates of the maturities, due dates, or redemption date or dates, respectively, of said obligations being refunded, and said holder or holders shall not be paid therefor prior to such date or dates, unless the issuer shall have specifically and affirmatively provided for and authorized the earlier payment of said obligations in the proceedings authorizing said refunding bonds.

Bonds as Legal and Authorized Investments; Security for Deposits

Sec. 10. All bonds issued pursuant to this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative and Prevailing Effects of Act; Use of Other Laws

Sec. 11. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject, but this act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereby, without reference to any other laws or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided; and when any bonds are being issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provisions of any other law or charter, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control; provided, however, that any issuer shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions hereof, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Severability

Sec. 12. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

[Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 1724, ch. 627, eff. Aug. 27, 1973. Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1284, ch. 504, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1707, ch. 703, § 1, eff. June 13, 1979.]

The 1977 Act provides in § 2 as follows:

"If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is declared invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision or application of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared severable."

Art. 1118n-12. Refunding Certain Bonds, and Other Obligations of Cities, Towns, and Villages

Definitions

Sec. 1. (a) The term "Issuer," as used in this Act, shall mean each city, town, and village in the state which at any time has outstanding bonds or other obligations which are secured solely by a pledge of the net revenues of, or by a pledge of the net revenues of and a mortgage on, its electric light and power system or its electric light and power system and gas system.

(b) The term "Board," as used in this Act, shall mean the city council, city commission, board of commissioners, board of aldermen, or other group which is the governing body of an issuer.

Authority to Issue Refunding Bonds; Security; New Bonds; Maturity; Negotiability; Conversion; Election not Required

Sec. 2. The board of any issuer is authorized to issue refunding bonds to refund all or any part of any outstanding bonds or other interest bearing obligations secured solely by a pledge of the net revenues of, or by a pledge of the net revenues of and a mortgage on, the issuer's electric light and power system or its electric light and power system and gas system, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto. One or more outstanding issues and any part of one or more outstanding issues of bonds or other interest bearing obligations, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto, may be refunded under this Act; provided that when part of one or more of these issues is being refunded, the board must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the attorney general, prior to his approval of the bonds as required in this Act, that adequate pledged resources are estimated to be available, based on then current conditions, to provide for the payment, when due, of the unrefunded part of the issue or issues. The refunding bonds, and the interest and redemption premium, if any, may be secured by first or subordinate liens on and pledges of, and made payable from, the same source as the obligations being refunded and may be secured by first or subordinate liens on, and pledges of, and made payable from, any other revenues, income, or property, and other, different, or additional source or resources, of the board or the issuer, or any combination of those sources or resources, except any taxes, all within the sole discretion of and in the manner provided by the board; and the refunding bonds additionally may be secured by mortgages, deeds of trust, trust indentures, trust agreements, or other instruments evidencing liens on any real, personal, or mixed property; and the refunding bonds may be issued in combination with new bonds, and with provision for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under the terms or conditions and with the security, set forth in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds, all as determined within the discretion of the board; provided, however, that no bonds shall be issued contrary to the provisions of the Texas Constitution. If and when the board desires to issue refunding bonds in combination with new bonds for any purpose or purposes for which the issuer is then authorized by any law or home rule charter provision to issue revenue bonds or other interest bearing obligations, the new bonds may be issued for any purpose or purposes under the provisions of, and be secured and payable as provided in, this Act, and the provisions of this Act shall be fully applicable thereto without regard to any other requirements, in the manner provided by the board in the proceedings authorizing the bonds. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act may be issued to mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 50 years from their date, and may be issued to bear interest at any rate or rates, all within the discretion of the board. The bonds and any interest coupons appurtenant thereto, are negotiable instruments within the meaning of the Uniform Commercial Code, except that the bonds and the interest thereon may be made payable to a named payee or made registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest, and may be payable at any place or places, and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, may provide for capitalized interest during construction and thereafter, capitalized operating and maintenance expenses, and capitalized reserve and contingency funds, and may be issued in the form, denominations, and manner, and under the terms, conditions, and details, and may be executed, as provided by the board in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds. The board may provide and covenant for the conversion of any form of bond into any other form or forms of bond, and for reconversion of bonds into any other form. The board may provide procedures for the replacement of lost, stolen, destroyed, or mutilated bonds or interest coupons in the manner prescribed by the board in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds. If the duty of replacement, conversion, or reconversion of bonds is imposed upon a corporate trustee under a trust agreement or trust indenture, or upon a place of payment (paying agent) for the bonds, the replacement, converted, or reconverted bond need not be re-approved by the attorney general or reregistered by the comptroller of public accounts as provided in Section 3 of this Act. Otherwise, all replacement, converted, or reconverted bonds must be so approved and registered as provided in Section 3 of this Act, in accordance with the procedures established in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act may be issued without any election or referendum in connection with their issuance or the creation of any encumbrance in connection with their issuance.

Approval by Attorney General; Registration;
Incontestability

Sec. 3. All bonds permitted to be issued under the provisions of this Act, and the appropriate and applicable proceedings authorizing the issuance, shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized in accordance with this Act, he shall approve them, and then they shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts; and after the approval and registration, the bonds shall be incontestable in any court, or other forum, for any reason, and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Bonds as Legal and Authorized Investments

Sec. 4. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act are investment securities governed by Chapter 8, Uniform Commercial Code, and are legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, and trustees, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, school districts, and other political subdivisions or public agencies of the state. The bonds also are eligible to secure deposits of any public funds of the state or any political subdivision or public agency of the state, and are lawful and sufficient security for the deposits to the extent of their market value, when accompanied by any unmatured coupons attached to the bonds.

Exchanges

Sec. 5. The refunding bonds authorized by this Act may be issued in exchange for, and upon surrender and cancellation of, any obligations being refunded, and in that case, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the obligations being refunded, in accordance with the provisions of the proceedings authorizing the refunding bonds, and any exchange may be made in one or in several installment deliveries. However, instead of issuing the refunding bonds to be exchanged for any obligations being refunded, the board shall be authorized, in its discretion, to issue refunding bonds to be sold for cash in principal amounts necessary to provide all or any part of the money required to pay the principal of and interest on any obligations being refunded, as they mature and come due, and to provide all or any part of the money required to redeem any obligations being refunded, prior to maturity, on any future date or dates upon which the obligations have been called for such redemption, within the discretion of the board, including principal, any required redemption premium, and the interest to accrue on the obligations to the redemption date or dates, together with an amount sufficient to pay all expenses related to the issuance of the bonds and the expenses of paying the obligations being refunded under this Act; and also to provide any amounts deemed necessary or required by the board to fund or provide for deposits into any debt service reserve funds, interest and sinking funds, or other funds created in the proceedings authorizing the bonds, and to provide amounts to pay interest on all bonds issued under the provisions of this Act for the period prescribed by the board, and to provide any other amounts deemed required by the board. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, excepting any exchange refunding bonds, may be sold for cash in the manner, under the procedures, at public or private sale, and at the price or prices, as shall be determined solely within the discretion of the board. If any of the obligations being refunded through the sale of refunding bonds under this Act are subject to redemption prior to maturity, they may, at the option and within the discretion of the board, be called for redemption on any future date or dates upon which they are redeemable, within the discretion of the board, and the proceedings pertaining to the call shall be submitted to the attorney general along with the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds. When the board has authorized any of the refunding bonds and any new bonds in combination with the refunding bonds to be sold for cash under the provisions of this Act, the refunding bonds and any new bonds in combination with the refunding bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts after they are approved by the attorney general, without any surrender, exchange, or cancellation of any obligations being refunded.

Deposit of Proceeds with State Treasurer; Duties

Sec. 6. When any refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this Act are sold and delivered to the purchaser, the board immediately shall have deposited with the state treasurer, from the proceeds of the sale, and any other funds available for that purpose, the amount which will be required to pay the principal of and interest on the obligations being refunded as they mature and come due, and the amount which will be required to redeem prior to maturity any obligations being refunded, on the date or dates upon which these obligations have been called for redemption, including principal, any required redemption premium, and the interest to accrue on those obligations to the redemption date or dates, together with an additional amount to pay the state treasurer for his services and to reimburse him for his expenses in performing his duties under this Act, equal to one-twentieth of one percent of the principal or par amount of the obligations being refunded, and one-eighth of one percent of the interest to accrue thereon, but not to exceed a total of $1,000 in connection with each issue of refunding bonds issued under this Act, plus an additional amount of money sufficient to pay the service charges of the place or places of payment of the obligations for paying and redeeming them. The state treasurer may rely on a certificate or other instrument or document which shall be filed with him by the issuer showing clearly the date or dates upon which the principal matures and interest comes due on the obligations being refunded, and the amounts thereof, and the date or dates, if any, on which the obligations have been called for redemption prior to maturity, together with the redemption price, and the place or places of payment of the obligations being refunded, and the charges to be made by the place or places of payment for paying and redeeming the obligations. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to make the appropriate required part of the deposits available at the place or places of payment, in current and immediately available funds, on or before, but not later than, each maturity date, due date, or redemption date, respectively, of the obligations being refunded, in order to pay the required amounts on each date, plus the service charges of the place or places of payment.

Investment of Proceeds

Sec. 7. It is provided, however, that instead of depositing money with the state treasurer as required by Section 6 of this Act, except for the money to be paid to him for his services and expenses, which in all events shall be deposited in cash, the board may, at its option, unless the board determines, in its sole discretion, that money is required to be deposited, immediately invest all or any part of the proceeds from the sale of the refunding bonds, and any other necessary available funds, in direct obligations of the United States of America, or in obligations the payment of the principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States of America, or in obligations which, in the opinion of the Attorney General of the United States of America, are general obligations of the United States of America and backed by its full faith and credit, which investments will mature, and bear interest payable, at such times and in such amounts as will provide, without any reinvestment, not less than the amount of money, in addition to any money initially deposited for that purpose, required for the payment of the principal of and interest on the obligations being refunded, as they mature and come due, and for the payment of the redemption price of any obligations being refunded and redeemed prior to maturity, on the date or dates on which the obligations being refunded have been called for redemption, including principal, any required redemption premium, and the interest to accrue on the obligations to the redemption date or dates, together with the additional amount required to pay the service charges of the place or places of payment of the obligations for paying and redeeming them. The board shall deposit all of the investments immediately with the state treasurer. In calculating the amount of the investments required to be so deposited, the issuer and the state treasurer shall rely on receiving both the principal and interest, if any, scheduled to mature and accrue or come due on the investments, to the extent that the principal and interest are scheduled to mature and accrue or come due prior to the date or dates of the maturities, due dates, or redemption date or dates, respectively, of the obligations being refunded; and the amount which otherwise would be required to be deposited, if no interest or increase were scheduled to accrue or come due, may, at the option of the board, be reduced accordingly. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to accept the deposits of investments and to collect promptly, when due and payable, all principal of and interest on the investments, but he shall not reinvest them. It is further provided that the aforesaid investments shall be made in a manner that the proceeds from them, without any reinvestment, will be available for deposit, and shall be deposited, by the state treasurer, in the place or places of payment, in current and immediately available funds, in the required amounts, on or before, and not later than, each maturity date, due date, or redemption date, respectively, of the obligations being refunded.

Duties of Treasurer as to Handling and Safekeeping of Proceeds

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer, ex officio, in his official capacity of public office, to accept and keep safely all deposits of money and investments made under this Act, and all proceeds from said investments; but no part of such deposits of money and investments, or proceeds therefrom, excepting the amount paid to him for his services and expenses, shall constitute a part of the state treasury, or be used by or for the state or for the benefit of any creditor of the state, and shall not be commingled with the general revenue fund of the state or any other special funds or accounts held by the state treasurer. The state treasurer shall keep and maintain each such deposit of money and investments, and proceeds from them, excepting the amount paid to him for his services and expenses, separate and apart from all other deposits, money, funds, accounts, and investments, and each such deposit of money and investments, and proceeds from them, shall be kept and held in escrow and in trust by the state treasurer, for and on behalf of, and charged with an irrevocable first lien and pledge in favor of, the holders of the obligations to be paid the deposits, and the deposits of money and investments, and proceeds from them, shall be used only for the purposes provided in this Act. Each deposit of money and investments, and proceeds from them shall be public funds, and legal title shall be in the state treasurer, in his official capacity as trustee, until paid out as provided in this Act, but equitable title shall be in the issuer, until paid out. The writ of mandamus and all other legal and equitable remedies shall be available to any bondholder, the issuer, or any other party at interest to require the state treasurer to perform his functions and duties under this Act. The surety bond or bonds given by the state treasurer in connection with the proper performance of his duties of office, excepting any special bonds given to protect funds of the United States shall protect and be construed as protecting all the deposits of money and investments, and proceeds from them. The state treasurer shall not in any way invest or reinvest any money deposited with him or received by him from investments deposited with him under this Act. In the event that any surplus funds should be on hand with the state treasurer in connection with any deposit of money or investments, or proceeds from them, the surplus shall be returned to the issuer.

Place of Payment

Sec. 9. If there is more than one place of payment for any obligations being refunded under this Act, the state treasurer shall make all deposits required under this Act at the place of payment located in the state, if there is one, or if there is more than one place of payment located in the state, or if no place of payment is located in the state, then at the one of the places of payment having the largest capital and surplus. It shall be the statutory duty of the place of payment, and the state treasurer shall instruct it, to make the appropriate financial arrangements so that the necessary required current funds will be available, to the extent necessary, at the other places of payment, to pay or redeem the obligations when due; provided that this section shall not apply in the event the board proceeds under Section 10 of this Act.

Alternative Place of Deposit

Sec. 10. It is further provided, however, that in the alternative to making the deposit of money or investments with the state treasurer in connection with refunding bonds issued and sold under this Act, and notwithstanding any provisions of this Act to the contrary, the board shall have the option of making the deposit of money or investments with any place of payment (paying agent), wherever located, for the obligations being refunded, or, at the option of the board, with any trustee under any trust indenture, trust agreement, deed of trust, or other instrument, securing the obligations being refunded. In that case the place of payment or trustee shall, to the extent practicable, substantially perform the applicable and pertinent functions and duties provided in this Act for the state treasurer, to the extent appropriate and practical, and the place of payment or trustee shall be substituted for the state treasurer under this Act to the extent appropriate and practical, except as otherwise provided by this section. Such deposits of money and investments shall be held for safekeeping, in escrow, in trust for, and charged with an irrevocable first lien and pledge in favor of, and for the benefit of, the holders of the obligations being refunded, and the issuer and the place of payment or trustee, may execute an appropriate trust or escrow agreement on the terms and conditions, and for the consideration agreeable to the parties to the agreement. The agreement may provide that any deposits of money may be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America, or obligations the payment of principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States of America, or obligations which, in the opinion of the Attorney General of the United States of America, are general obligations of the United States of America and backed by its full faith and credit, or may be placed in interest bearing time deposits secured at all times by an equal amount in market value of any of the federal obligations named above. The agreement further shall provide for deposits with the place or places of payment (paying agent or agents) to pay or redeem the obligations being refunded when due, and may provide that at any time the amount of money and investments held in escrow exceeds the amount required for purposes of this Act, the excess shall be transferred and delivered to the issuer, or as directed by the board, to be used for any lawful purpose, including the payment of revenue bonds issued pursuant to this Act or otherwise, all at the option of the board.

Rights of Holders of Obligations

Sec. 11. The holder or holders of any obligations being refunded by any refunding bonds sold pursuant to this Act shall never have the right to demand or receive payment of them prior to the scheduled date or dates of the maturities, due dates, or redemption date or dates, respectively, of the obligations being refunded, and the holder or holders shall not be paid for them prior to the date or dates, unless the board specifically and affirmatively provided for and authorized the earlier payment of the obligations in the proceedings authorizing the refunding bonds.

Discharge and Final Payment or Redemption of Obligations; Subordination to Refunded Obligations

Sec. 12. When the initial deposit of money or investments is made with the state treasurer or with a place of payment (paying agent) or trustee in accordance with this Act for any obligations being refunded under this Act, the deposit shall constitute the making of firm banking and financial arrangements for the discharge and final payment or redemption of the obligations being refunded, and although the obligations being refunded continue to be obligations of the issuer, automatically they become obligations of the issuer secured solely by and payable solely from the deposit and the proceeds from them; and on making the deposit, all previous encumbrances, including all liens, pledges, mortgages, deeds of trust, trust indentures, or trust agreements, existing in connection with the obligations being refunded, whether in connection with revenues, real, personal, and mixed property, or any other source of security or payment, automatically terminate and are finally discharged and released, as a matter of law, and the encumbrances shall be of no further force or effect; and although the obligations being refunded will remain outstanding, they shall be regarded as being outstanding only for the purpose of receiving the funds provided by the issuer for their payment or redemption under this Act, and they shall not be regarded as being outstanding in ascertaining the power of the issuer to issue bonds, or in calculating any limitations in connection therewith, or for any other purpose. It is further provided, however, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, that the board may, in the alternative to the foregoing provisions of this section, provide in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds that the refunding bonds are subordinate to the obligations being refunded, but only in the manner and to the extent provided in the authorizing proceedings; and, except for any specific provisions to the contrary in the authorizing proceedings, the foregoing provisions of this section are fully applicable.

Cumulative and Prevailing Effects of Act; Use of Other Laws

Sec. 13. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereby, without reference to any other laws, or home rule charter provisions, or any restrictions or limitations contained therein; and to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provision of this Act and any provision of any other law, including any law passed at the current session of the legislature, or any home rule charter provision, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control; provided, however, that the board shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws or home rule charter provisions not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act. This Act shall be liberally construed so as to permit the accomplishment of the purposes of this Act.

Art. 1118o-1. Validating Acts and Proceedings of Cities in Borrowing Money From Federal Agencies to Repair or Extend Dam for Waterworks System

In all cases where any city or town in this State has borrowed money from The Reconstruction Finance Corporation or any other agency of the United States Government, for the purpose of making repairs and extensions, or either, to a dam comprising a part of the waterworks system of said city or town, which the city or town has agreed to repay out of the revenues of said waterworks system, all acts performed by the city officials and all proceedings had by the governing bodies of such cities or towns in connection therewith are hereby validated, and all money so borrowed by such city or town together with the interest thereon at the rate stipulated in such proceedings is hereby declared to be a legal obligation of such city or town, payable out of the revenues of its waterworks system. The fact that a vacancy existed in the office of Mayor during all or any part of such proceedings, or the fact that other revenue obligations were then and are now outstanding against such system shall not affect the obligations and proceedings hereby validated.

[Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 694, § 1.]

Art. 1118p. Refunding Bonds in Counties of 525,000 or More; Payment From Water or Sewer Revenues

Issuance of New Revenue Bonds; Franchise to Foreclosure Purchaser

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply only in counties that have a population of five hundred and twenty-five thousand (525,000) or more, according to the last Federal Census. Any city or town that has issued bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations payable from the revenues of the water systems and/or sewer systems and/or sewage disposal plants of such city or town, all or a portion of which bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations are outstanding, may issue new bonds of such city or town payable from the net revenues of the water systems and/or sewer systems and/or sewage disposal plants of such city or town for the purpose of refunding such outstanding bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations and for the purpose of further building, improving, enlarging, extending, and/or repairing such systems, or any one of them, and may pledge the net revenues thereof to pay the interest on and principal of such refunding and further construction bonds, and in the discretion of the governing body of such city or town, may mortgage and encumber the physical properties of such system or systems, as the case may be, for that purpose, and grant a franchise to the purchaser under foreclosure to operate such system or systems, as the case may be, for a period of not exceeding twenty (20) years after purchase, subject to all the laws regulating the same then in force.

Designation; Maturity; Interest

Sec. 2. Such new bonds may be called _____ Refunding and Further Construction Bonds, and may be made to mature serially or otherwise as the governing body of such city or town may direct not more than thirty (30) years from their date, and may bear interest at not exceeding five (5) per cent per annum; provided such new bonds shall not bear a higher rate of interest than the bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations that are refunded thereby.

Election

Sec. 3. Before the bonds herein authorized are issued, they shall be authorized by a majority vote of the duly qualified property taxpaying voters of such city or town at an election ordered and held for that purpose, which election shall be ordered and held in the same manner as required by law for holding elections to authorize the issuance of tax supported bonds.

Approval by Attorney General; Registration

Sec. 4. Such bonds and the record authorizing the same shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas and approved by him, substantially the same as is required in the issuance of tax supported bonds. When such bonds shall have been approved by the Attorney General, they shall be turned over to the Comptroller of the State of Texas and by him registered in the following order:

First, the portion of such new bonds equal in principal amount to the outstanding bonds, warrants, notes, and other obligations that are being refunded thereby, shall be registered only upon surrender and cancellation of such outstanding bonds, warrants, notes, and other obligations that are being refunded thereby, until all of such outstanding bonds, warrants, notes, and other obligations shall have been surrendered and cancelled.

Second, after all such outstanding revenue bonds, warrants, notes, and other obligations of such city or town shall have been surrendered and cancelled, and an equal amount of such new bonds registered and delivered in lieu thereof, then the balance of such new bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller and delivered to the Mayor of such city or town, or upon his order, and may be sold by the governing body of such city or town and the proceeds thereof expended in further building, improving, enlarging, extending, and/or repairing such system or systems, as the case may be.

Act as Cumulative; Repeal of Conflicting Laws Only

Sec. 5. This Act is cumulative, and in addition to all other statutes authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds of cities and towns, and is intended to repeal only such laws and parts of laws as are in conflict herewith.

Repeal

Sec. 6. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict, and particularly that expression contained in Article 1113, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas which reads, "No part of the income of any such system shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense or obligation of such city or town, until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid," is hereby specially repealed.

[Acts 1941, 47th Leg., p. 421, ch. 251.]

Art. 1118q. Hydro-Electric Generating Facilities, Acquisition of

Sec. 1. Any city in Texas which owns an electric distribution system, whether or not such city also owns facilities for the generation of electricity, may acquire by purchase, and improve, maintain and operate any privately owned facilities for the generation of hydro-electric power having an installed capacity of not less than two thousand (2,000) kilowatts, which may exist within five (5) miles of the boundary of such city, including all lands, flowage rights and water rights and related generating and transmission equipment and lines, and for the purpose of paying the cost of such acquisition and improvement may issue the bonds of such city pursuant to the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as such Articles now exist or may be hereafter amended, which bonds representing purchase money shall be fully negotiable for all purposes. For the purpose of the issuance and payment of such bonds the hydro-electric generating facilities so acquired may be regarded as an independent electric system which, including the revenues thereof, may be pledged to the payment of such bonds without any pledge of the other electric facilities of such city or the revenues derived therefrom. Such acquisition may be effected through the purchase of such facilities or through the issuance of the bonds in exchange for such facilities, provided the same shall have been first authorized at an election held in accordance with the provisions of Article 1112 of the Revised Civil Statutes as amended.

Any city which shall so acquire hydro-electric generating facilities hereunder shall carry out the provisions of all contracts in existence at the time of such acquisition pursuant to which electric current generated by such facilities has been contracted to be sold, except as to any such contract which may be cancelled by voluntary agreement of the city and the party or parties entitled to purchase such electric current thereunder. Subject to the rights of the parties to any such existing contracts, any such city shall take for distribution by its distribution system such part of the output of the generating facilities so acquired as may be needed for that purpose, and may in the proceedings for the authorization of the bonds enter into such covenants for the use of and payment for such electric current from the revenues derived from the re-sale thereof as it may consider proper. Any electric current generated by such facilities which is not used by the city for distribution by its system to its consumers may be sold by the city to other purchasers and any such city is hereby empowered to enter into such short or long term contracts for such sale as it may deem advisable.

Sec. 2. The invalidity or ineffectiveness of any one or more provisions contained herein shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions hereof.

[Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 383, ch. 203.]

Art. 1118q-1. Contracts With Conservation and Reclamation Districts for Hydroelectric Power or Energy

Authority to Contract

Sec. 1. Any incorporated city, town, or village, including any home-rule city, in this state may agree or contract with any conservation and reclamation district created under Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution for the supply and purchase of hydroelectric power or energy. The agreement or contract shall be on the terms and conditions and for a period as the parties may agree. The agreement or contract constitutes a valid and binding obligation of the city, town, or village and is enforceable in accordance with its terms and provisions. If the agreement or contract so provides, the city, town, or village is obligated to pay for the hydroelectric power or energy irrespective of whether the hydroelectric power or energy is produced or delivered to the city, town, or village. Furthermore, the agreement or contract may include provisions for the acquiring, constructing, and equipping of generation and transmission facilities to supply the hydroelectric power and energy to be supplied and purchased under the agreement or contract; provisions with respect to financing the costs and expenses of the generation and transmission facilities; and provisions that the agreement or contract shall continue in force and effect while any obligations specified in the agreement or contract, including refunding obligations, remain outstanding. These provisions are as may be provided and specified in the agreement or contract between the parties.

Additional Provisions

Sec. 2. Amounts required to be paid by the city, town, or village to the district under the agreement or contract shall, if so provided in the agreement or contract, constitute an operating expense of the electric system, or combined utility system of which the electric system constitutes a part, of the city, town, or village in the same manner and effect as other operating and maintenance expenses of the electric system, or combined utility system, as provided by Article 1113, Revised Statutes.

Validation of Contract

Sec. 3. An agreement or contract executed before the effective date of this Act by and between a city, town, or village and a conservation and reclamation district that obligates the city, town, or village in the manner authorized by Section 1 of this Act is validated, ratified, and confirmed and constitutes a lawfully incurred obligation on the part of the city, town, or village and is subject to the other provisions of this Act.

Other Laws

Sec. 4. The powers and authority granted by this Act are in addition to any powers and authority granted to cities, towns, and villages under the laws of this state and constitute additional public purposes of the cities, towns, and villages. This Act is wholly sufficient authority for the performance or effectuation of an agreement or contract entered into under this Act notwithstanding any express or implied limitations on the powers, authority, or purposes of cities, towns, or villages under any other general or special law, charter provision, or ordinance.

Art. 1118r. Electric Light and Power Systems; Validation of Bonds

All revenue bonds issued by any city or town of five thousand inhabitants, or less, for the purpose of acquiring an electric light and power system for said city or town, which bonds were duly sold and delivered to the purchasers thereof at a price of not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds of which bonds were duly expended in the acquisition of such electric light and power system, are hereby in all things ratified, validated and confirmed, and such bonds shall constitute legal, binding and valid special obligations of said city or town and shall be payable in the manner provided in the ordinance authorizing their issuance.

[Acts 1951, 52nd Leg., p. 285, ch. 167, § 1.]

Art. 1118s. Revenue Bonds for Sewage Disposal Facilities; Cities Serving Territory Outside Boundaries

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any city which owns a sewer system and disposal plant serving territory, other cities, and military establishments outside the corporate boundaries thereof.

Sec. 2. For the purpose of purchasing or constructing additional sewage disposal facilities, any city to which this Act is applicable is hereby authorized to issue its negotiable bonds, and to secure the payment of such bonds by pledging the net revenues to be derived from sewer service rendered outside the corporate limits of the city. Such bonds may be additionally secured by a pledge of all or part of the net revenues to be derived from sewer service to be rendered within the city. In the issuance of bonds secured only by the net revenues from sewer service rendered outside of the boundaries of the city, the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds may specify what items of expense or portions thereof shall be deducted in arriving at the net revenues, or may prescribe any other formula for that purpose deemed appropriate by the governing body. In the issuance of such bonds, the city may reserve the right to issue additional bonds to the extent and subject to the conditions to be stated in the ordinance authorizing the bonds.

Sec. 3. Any city to which this Act is applicable is authorized to enter into contracts with other cities, persons, corporations and the United States Government to furnish sewer service, and such other cities are authorized to enter into such contracts. Such contracts which have heretofore been entered into and which have not been questioned in litigation pending at the time this Act becomes effective, are hereby validated.

Sec. 4. Whenever a city issues bonds under this Act, it shall be the duty of the governing body thereof to fix rates for service in an amount to pay the maintenance and operation expense and sufficient to pay the bonds as they are scheduled to mature and the interest as it accrues, and to establish and maintain the funds as provided in the ordinance authorizing the bonds; provided, however, that where the consideration to be paid for sewer service is fixed by contract, such consideration shall not be increased during the term of the contract except as provided therein or by agreement of both parties.

Sec. 5. Articles 1111 to 1118, inclusive, and Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended,¹ shall be applicable to the issuance of bonds under this Act, except as otherwise provided in this Act, but no election shall be required for their issuance. When such bonds are approved by the Attorney General, they shall be incontestable.

Art. 1118t. Additional Revenue Bonds; Issuance Without Election

Sec. 1. Any incorporated city or town, including any home rule city, which now has or shall hereafter have outstanding revenue bonds issued under Articles 1111 to 1118, inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or other similar statutes, for the purpose of acquiring its electric and gas systems or to refund bonds issued for such purpose, shall have the power to issue additional revenue bonds for the sole purpose of extending and improving said systems and payable from the net revenues of said systems on a parity with said outstanding bonds, in the manner and to the extent authorized by law and by the ordinances or trust indentures authorizing such outstanding acquisition bonds or refunding bonds, without holding any election on the issuance thereof, regardless of other statutory or charter provisions to the contrary; provided thirty (30) days notice of intention to issue such bonds shall be given. Said notice shall be given as provided in the "Bond and Warrant Law of 1931," as amended,¹ except that the first publication shall be at least thirty (30) days prior to the date set for authorizing the bonds and that said notice shall contain a description by name and amount outstanding of any bonds or other indebtedness payable from the net revenues of such systems. Unless said notice is given as prescribed by the terms of this Section 1, said notice will be null and void and of no effect, and another notice as provided herein shall be given prior to the authorization of bonds covered by this Act.

Sec. 2. If a petition is filed in accordance with the provisions of said law, the election shall be ordered and held (on the issuance of said bonds) in accordance with said law; provided, however, that the question whether said bonds shall be issued may be submitted in a single proposition and without the necessity of designating the amount of bond proceeds to be expended on each system.

Sec. 3. If any word, phrase, clause, sentence, or part of this Act shall be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, it shall not affect any other word, phrase, clause, sentence, or part of this Act.

[Acts 1953, 53rd Leg., p. 43, ch. 35.]

Art. 1118u. Additional Revenue Bonds; Waterworks, Sewers and Swimming Pool

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any city which has heretofore issued bonds payable from and secured by a pledge of revenues of its waterworks system, sewer system and swimming pool, retaining therein the right to issue additional parity bonds to be payable from and secured by such revenues, and which has held or hereafter holds an election resulting favorably to the issuance of additional bonds to be payable from and secured by a pledge of waterworks system, sewer system and swimming pool revenues.

Sec. 2. Any city to which this Act is applicable is authorized to issue the bonds authorized or to be authorized by such election and to secure them with a pledge of the net revenues of the waterworks and sewer system, and, in the discretion of the governing body of the city, the bonds may be additionally secured by a pledge of the net revenues of the swimming pool. Such bonds, when approved by the Attorney General of Texas and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, shall constitute valid and binding special obligations of such city.

Art. 1118v. Refunding Outstanding Revenue Bonds Issued for Certain Utilities or Combination of Utilities

Sec. 1. Any incorporated city or town, including any home rule city, which now has or hereafter may have outstanding revenue bonds payable from and secured by a pledge of revenues from the operation of its electric light and power system, gas system, water system, sewer system, or any combination of two or more of such systems, and other outstanding revenue bonds payable from and secured by a pledge of revenues from the operation of another of any such system or systems, which bonds have been issued in the manner provided by Articles 1111 to 1118, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, as amended, or under any similar law, may issue refunding bonds to refund such outstanding bonds and pledge the revenues derived from the operation of all the systems whose revenues are pledged for the payment of the bonds to be refunded (regardless of the fact one or more issues of outstanding bonds to be refunded are payable from the revenues of one or more particular systems, and another issue or issues of such outstanding bonds to be refunded are payable from the revenues of a different system or systems); provided, however, that no bonds payable from and secured by a pledge of revenues of a particular system or systems shall be refunded under this Act unless all bonds then outstanding which are so payable from the revenues of that system or systems are so refunded. Refunding bonds issued under this Act shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than borne by the bonds refunded unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of other laws.

[Acts 1957, 55th Leg., p. 479, ch. 229.]

Art. 1118w. Mass Transportation Systems; Power to Own, Acquire, Construct, Operate, Etc.; Federal Grants and Loans; Revenue Bonds

Power to Own, Hold, Purchase, Construct, Operate, Etc.

Sec. 1. Any city or town, including any Home Rule City operating under Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925, as amended¹ (hereinafter referred to as "city" or "such city") shall have power to own, hold, purchase, construct, improve, extend and operate street transportation systems for the carrying of passengers for hire within such city, its suburbs and adjacent areas.

Mass Transportation Services

Sec. 1a. Any such city or town shall be authorized to accept grants and loans from the United States of America to finance all or a portion of the cost of the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, and improvement of facilities and equipment for use, by operation or lease or otherwise, in mass transportation service in such city, its suburbs and adjacent areas and in coordinating such service with highway and other transportation in such areas. Any such city or town shall be authorized, either individually or in cooperation with agencies of the United States of America, to undertake research, development and demonstration projects for mass transportation systems in such areas and to acquire, construct and reconstruct and improve facilities and equipment for use, by operation or lease or otherwise, in mass transportation service in such areas, on, under, over, along or across public streets and highways and on lands, easements and rights-of-way acquired for such purpose. Any such city or town shall be authorized to issue revenue bonds for such purposes and all of the provisions of the Act amended hereby shall apply to the additional powers and functions herein authorized.

Revenue Bonds or Notes; Power to Issue, Etc.

Sec. 2. Any such city shall have full power to issue bonds and notes from time to time and in such amounts as it shall consider necessary or appropriate for the acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement or extension of such street transportation systems. All such bonds and notes shall be fully negotiable and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the issuing city, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the issuing city in the ordinance authorizing such bonds or notes. Such bonds and notes shall be sold for such price as the governing body of the city shall consider to be for the best interest of such city, provided that no such sale shall be made at a price so low as to require the payment of interest on the money received therefor at a rate of more than six per cent (6%) per annum, computed with relation to the absolute maturity of the bonds or notes in accordance with standard tables of bond values, excluding however, from such computations the amount of any premium to be paid on redemption of any bonds or notes prior to maturity. Subject to the restrictions contained in this Act each such governing board is given complete discretion in fixing the form, conditions and details of such bonds and notes.

Approval of Obligations by Attorney General; Incontestability

Sec. 3. Prior to delivery thereof, all bonds and notes authorized to be issued hereunder and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for examination and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with the Constitution and this Act, and that they will be binding special obligations of the city issuing same, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and after such approval and registration they shall be incontestable.

Notice of Bond Issue Ordinance; Petition for Election

Sec. 4. Before passage of an ordinance authorizing the issuance of bonds or notes under this Act, the governing body of such city shall give notice of the time when such ordinance is to be passed. Such notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in such city, in at least two (2) issues thereof, the date of the first publication to be not less than fourteen (14) days prior to the date so fixed for passage of the ordinance. Unless prior to the scheduled time for passing the ordinance a petition is filed with the City Secretary, signed by not less than ten per cent (10%) of the qualified voters of the city who have duly rendered their property for taxation, requesting that an election be held on the question of issuing such bonds or notes, the governing body may proceed in the issuance thereof without an election. If such petition is duly filed, it shall be the duty of the governing body to proceed in the manner prescribed in Chapter I of Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925,¹ with an election on the question, and such bonds or notes shall not be issued unless a majority of the voters, voting at such election, vote favorably on the question. The governing body within its discretion may call an election for the issuance of the bonds or notes without awaiting the filing of a petition requesting a referendum election.

Power to Encumber; Additional Security

Sec. 5. In order to secure the payment of such bonds or notes such cities shall have full power and authority to encumber all or any part of such street transportation systems, the properties thereof, the revenues therefrom, the franchise thereof, and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired, including but not limited to properties, both real and personal, including motor buses or other vehicles, machinery and other equipment of any nature used in the operation thereof. As additional security for the payment of any such bonds or notes, any such city may, by the terms of the instrument evidencing such encumbrance, grant to the purchaser under the power of sale in such instrument, a franchise to operate any such transportation system, and the properties thereof so purchased, for a term of not over twenty-five (25) years after purchase, subject to all laws regulating same then in force. No such obligation of any such system shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the properties, including the pledged revenues, of the system so encumbered and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of any such city to issue any bonds or notes for any purpose authorized by law. But no such city shall be prohibited from making payment of such bonds or notes out of any other funds which may be lawfully used for the purpose. Any such city shall have full power and authority to encumber separately any item of real estate or personalty, including motor buses or other vehicles, machinery or other equipment of any nature, or to acquire, use, hold, contract for any such property under any lease arrangement, chattel mortgage or conditional sale, including but not limited to transactions commonly known as equipment trust transactions. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting any such city from encumbering any one or more transportation systems for the purpose of purchasing, building, constructing, mortgaging, enlarging, extending, repairing, or reconstructing another one or more of said systems and purchasing necessary property, both real and personal in connection therewith.

Additional Bond Issues; Extension or Improvement of System; Lien of Bonds

Sec. 6. Any city issuing bonds or notes payable from and secured by a pledge of revenue from the operation of a street transportation system and while all or part of such bonds remain outstanding, shall have the power, from time to time, and on one or more occasions to issue bonds or notes for the purpose of extending or improving, or both, any such transportation system, or to acquire another or other such transportation system or systems, and such bonds or notes shall constitute a lien upon the revenues, in the order of their issuance, inferior to the liens securing the payment of any or all issues and series of bonds or notes previously issued; provided, however, the foregoing provisions shall not be construed to prevent the passage of an ordinance or execution and issuance of any deed of trust, trust indenture, or similar instrument, providing therein for the subsequent issuance of additional bonds or notes on a parity with or of equal dignity with the previously issued revenue bonds or notes, and where any such ordinance, deed of trust, trust indenture or similar instrument may so provide, any such city shall have the power to authorize, issue, and sell additional bonds or notes, from time to time and in different series, payable from the revenues of such transportation system, and the revenues to be derived from such added sources, on a parity with bonds or notes previously issued and secured by liens on such transportation system, on a parity with and of equal dignity with the lien securing bonds or notes previously issued, subject to such conditions as may be contained in the ordinance, deed of trust or trust indenture providing for or securing such issue of original bonds or notes.

Refunding Bonds or Notes

Sec. 7. Refunding bonds or notes may be issued for the purpose of refunding the bonds or notes of a single series or issue or two (2) or more issues or series of bonds or notes and such refunding bonds or notes shall enjoy the same priority of lien on the revenues pledged to their payment as pledged to the bonds or notes refunded, provided that when two (2) or more series or issues of bonds or notes are refunded in a single issue of refunding bonds or notes the lien of all such refunding bonds or notes shall be equal if all of the outstanding bonds or notes of the several series or issues of bonds or notes to be refunded are thus refunded. No refunding bonds or notes shall attain any degree or priority of lien greater than that enjoyed by the series or issues then to be refunded having the highest priority of lien. Such refunding bonds or notes shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than borne by the bonds or notes refunded, unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid and that the annual principal and interest burden will not be increased so as to infringe upon or impair the rights of the holders of any bonds or notes, if any, enjoying a prior or inferior lien. Any such bonds or notes may be so refunded by the issuance of refunding bonds or notes, either to be exchanged for the bonds or notes being refunded and cancelled, or to be sold, with the proceeds thereof to be used for the redemption and cancellation of the bonds or notes being refunded. Such city may provide in any refunding bond or note issue such money as may be needed for paying any call premium and for payment of interest to the date fixed for calling for redemption the outstanding bonds or notes.

Operating Expenses as First Lien on Income; Priorities of Liens; Rates

Sec. 8. Whenever the revenues of any street transportation system shall be encumbered under this law, the expense of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repairs, and extensions necessary to render efficient service and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such revenues. Provided, that only such extensions, as in the judgment of the governing body of such city, are necessary to keep the system in operation and render adequate service to such city and the inhabitants thereof, or such as might be necessary to meet some condition which would otherwise impair the original securities shall be a charge prior to any existing lien. The fares charged for transportation of passengers by any transportation system may be based on a zone system of determining fares or other fare classification determined by such city to be reasonable. There shall be charged and collected for such service a sufficient rate to pay all operating, maintenance, depreciation, replacement charges (and to provide for extensions to the extent permitted and limited hereby) and to provide and maintain in the manner and at the times prescribed in such ordinances, deeds of trust and indentures, money sufficient for debt service and reserves for the security and orderly payment of such bonds or notes, unless otherwise deemed necessary by the governing body of the city in order to maintain the level and quality of service desired. Except as may be otherwise permitted under the ordinance authorizing or the deed of trust or indenture securing the bonds or notes, no part of the revenues of any such system shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense, or obligation of such city, except that any such city may receive payments from any such system in lieu of ad valorem taxes previously paid by the owners of an acquired system until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid.

Obligations as Legal Investments

Sec. 9. All such bonds and notes shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, saving and loan associations and insurance companies. Such bonds and notes shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such bonds and notes shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof, or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmaturing coupons appurtenant thereto.

Records and Accounts; Annual Reports; Penalties

Sec. 10. It shall be the duty of the mayor of such city to install and maintain or cause to be installed and maintained, a complete system of records and accounts showing the revenues collected and showing separately the amount either expended or set aside for operation, salaries, labor, materials, repairs, maintenance, depreciation, replacements, extensions, and for debt service as to such bonds or notes. It shall likewise be the duty of the superintendent or manager of such system to file with the mayor of such city, not later than February 1st, a detailed report of the operations for the year ending January 1st preceding, showing the total sums of money collected and the balance due, as well as the total disbursements made and the amounts remaining unpaid as the result of operation of such system during such calendar year. Failure or refusal on the part of the mayor to install and maintain, or cause to be installed and maintained, such system or records and accounts within ninety (90) days after the completion of such system, or on the part of such superintendent or manager, to file or cause to be filed such report, shall constitute a misdemeanor and, on conviction thereof, such mayor or superintendent or manager shall be subject to a fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100) nor more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000); and any taxpayer or holder of such indebtedness residing within such city shall have the right, by appropriate civil action in the District Court of the County in which such city is located, to enforce the provisions of this Act.

Management; Lease of System

Sec. 11. During the time any such system is encumbered either as to its revenues or as to both its physical properties and revenues, or whether or not such system is encumbered during any period established by ordinance of the governing body of such city, the management and control of such system may by the terms of the instrument evidencing such encumbrance or by the terms of such ordinance, be placed with the governing body of such city, or may be placed with a board of trustees to be named in such instrument or such ordinance, consisting of not less than three (3) nor more than nine (9) members, one (1) of whom shall be the mayor of such city. The compensation of such trustees shall be fixed by such instrument or such ordinance, but shall never exceed two per cent (2%) of the gross receipts of such system in any one (1) year. The terms of office of such board of trustees, their powers and duties, the manner of exercising same, the election of their successors, and all matters pertaining to their organization and duties may be specified in such instrument or such ordinance. In all matters where such instrument or such ordinance is silent, the laws and rules controlling the governing body, of such city shall govern said board of trustees so far as applicable. The governing body of any such city or any board of trustees in whose management and control any such system may be placed, with the approval of the governing body of such city, evidenced by adoption of a resolution, in lieu of operating any such system, shall have power and authority to enter into any lease or other contractual arrangement for the operation of same by any privately owned and operated corporation in consideration of such rentals either guaranteed or contingent, based on revenues or gross profits or net profits, or any other basis of compensation, which may be determined to be reasonable by such governing body or such board as the case may be; providing however, that any such lease or contractual arrangement between such city and private corporation, shall be preceded by a public notice and request for the submission of bids in the manner required by law for the taking of bids for public construction contracts, and said city shall accept the best bid submitted, taking into consideration the rental to be paid, the experience and financial responsibility of the corporations submitting such bids.

Art. 1118x. Metropolitan Rapid Transit AuthoritiesFindings

Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(a) A dominant part of the state's population is located in its rapidly expanding metropolitan areas which generally cross the boundary lines of local jurisdictions and often extend into two or more counties;

(b) The concentration of population in such areas is accompanied by a corresponding concentration of motor vehicles which are generally powered by internal combustion engines that emit pollutants into the air, which emissions result in increasing dangers to the public health and welfare, including damage to and deterioration of property as well as harm to persons, and hazards to air and ground transportation;

(c) Such concentration of motor vehicles places an undue burden on existing streets, freeways and other traffic ways, resulting in serious vehicular traffic congestion that retards mobility of persons and property and adversely affects the health and welfare of the citizens and the economic life of the areas;

(d) The proliferation of the use of motor vehicles for passenger transportation in such areas is caused in substantial part by the absence or inefficiency and high cost of mass transit services available to the citizens of such areas, and it is in the public interest to encourage and provide for efficient and economical local mass rapid transit systems in such areas for the benefit and convenience of the people and for the purpose of improving the quality of the ambient air therein and reducing vehicular traffic congestion; and

(e) The inalienable right of all natural persons to use the air for natural purposes does not vest in any person the right to pollute the air by artificial means, but such artificial use is subject to regulation and control by the state.

Definitions

Sec. 2. The following words and terms, wherever used and referred to in this Act, have the following respective meanings, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(a) "Metropolitan area" means any area within the State of Texas having a population density of not less than 250 persons per square mile and containing not less than 51 percent of the incorporated territory comprising a city having a population of at least 230,000 inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future federal census, and in which there may be situated other incorporated cities, towns and villages and the suburban areas and environs thereof; provided, however, that bi-county metropolitan areas as subsequently defined herein, are not included or in any way affected by this Act.

(b) "Principal city" means the city of largest population in a metropolitan area.

(c) "Authority" means a rapid transit authority created pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

(d) "Board" means the governing body of an authority.

(e) "Mass transit" means transportation of passengers and hand carried packages and/or baggage of said passengers by means of motorbus, trolley coach, street railway, rail, suspended overhead rail, elevated railways, subways, or any other surface, overhead or underground transportation (except taxicabs), or by any combination of the foregoing.

(f) "System" means all real and personal property of every kind and nature whatsoever, owned or held at any time by an authority for mass transit purposes, including (without limiting the generality of the foregoing), land, interests in land, buildings, structures, rights-of-way, easements, franchises, rail lines, bus lines, stations, platforms, terminals, rolling stock, garages, shops, equipment and facilities (including vehicle parking areas and facilities and other facilities necessary or convenient for the beneficial use and access of persons and vehicles to stations, terminals, yards, cars, and buses), control houses, signals and land, facilities and equipment for the protection and environmental enhancement of all such facilities.

(g) "Motor vehicle" means a vehicle self-propelled on two or more wheels by an internal combustion engine or motor over roadways other than fixed rails and tracks.

Creation of Rapid Transit Authority

Sec. 3. (a) The governing body of a principal city in a metropolitan area may, on its own motion, shall, as provided in Subsection (b) of this section, and shall, upon being presented with a petition so requesting signed by not less than 5,000 qualified voters residing within such metropolitan area, institute proceedings to create a rapid transit authority in the manner prescribed in this section.

(b) Such governing body shall by ordinance or resolution fix a time before December 31, 1985, and a place for holding a public hearing on the question of creating an authority. The governing body also shall by ordinance or resolution, after receipt of a petition as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, and may, on its own motion, fix a time and place for holding a public hearing on a proposal to create an authority. The ordinance or resolution shall define the boundaries of the area proposed to be included in such authority. The initial territory included in an authority shall be all the territory included in the county in which the major portion of the principal city is situated, plus any additional territory that is an adjacent county and is included in the ordinance or resolution.

(c) Notice of the time and place of such public hearing, including a description of the area proposed to be included in such authority, shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in such metropolitan area, the first publication to be not less than 15 days prior to the date fixed for such hearing. The governing body of any principal city shall furnish to the Texas Mass Transportation Commission or any successor thereof, a copy of the notice described herein.

(d) The governing body of the principal city shall conduct said hearing at the time and place specified in such notice, and may continue such hearing from day to day and from time to time until completed. Any interested person may appear and offer evidence for or against the creation of the proposed authority, and may present evidence as to whether or not the creation of such proposed authority and the construction and operation of a mass transit system in such metropolitan area (1) would be of benefit to persons and property situated within the boundaries of the proposed authority, (2) would be of public utility, and (3) would be in the public interest, as well as any other facts bearing upon the creation of such an authority and the construction and operation of such system.

(e) If, after hearing the evidence adduced at such hearing, the governing body of the principal city finds that the creation of such an authority, and the operation of such a system, would be of benefit to persons and property situated within the boundaries of the proposed authority, would be of public utility, and would be in the public interest, such governing body shall adopt an ordinance creating the authority and prescribing the territory to be included, but the actual territory included in the authority is subject to the results of the election provided for in this Act. The authority shall bear a name to be designated in the ordinance creating the authority and when so created and confirmed at an election held for that purpose, shall have and may exercise the powers authorized by this Act.

(f) After such hearing by the governing body of the principal city, it shall submit the proposed plan to the governor's interagency transportation council for their review and comment.

Transit Authority Board

Sec. 4. (a)(1) Until such time as the composition of the board is changed in accordance with other provisions of this Act, the management, control, and operation of an authority and its properties shall be vested in a board composed of five members, who shall be appointed by the governing body of the principal city and shall serve for a term of two years.

(2) In metropolitan areas where the principal city's population exceeds 1,200,000 according to the last preceding federal census or any federal census hereafter, the management, control, and operation of an authority and its properties shall be vested in a board composed of seven members, five of whom shall be appointed by the mayor of the principal city subject to confirmation by the governing body of the principal city, one of whom shall be appointed by the commissioners court of the county of the principal city, and one of whom shall be appointed jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities within the county of the principal city except the principal city. Each member shall serve a term of two years. Upon confirmation, the board's composition shall remain the same except to the extent that it conflicts with the requirements of Section 6B of this Act. Until a confirmation and tax election are held, the principal city shall fund the board for purposes of research and planning.

(b) All vacancies on the board, whether by death or resignation shall be filled for the remainder of the term in the manner provided for the original appointment. On expiration of the terms of office of the members of the board, all or any may be reappointed or another person may be appointed to replace a member for the succeeding term.

(c) Each member of the board shall be reimbursed for his necessary and reasonable expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties. Each member of a board in a metropolitan area in which the principal city's population exceeds 600,000, according to the most recent federal census, is entitled to $50 for each meeting of the board attended, not to exceed five meetings in a calendar month. The principal city shall pay, from taxes or other funds, the sums provided by this subsection for attendance at meetings held before the authority has received any revenues, and shall reimburse members for necessary and reasonable expenses incurred by the members or the board prior to receipt of revenues by the authority, but the authority, after receiving revenues, shall reimburse the principal city for all payments and reimbursements made as provided in this subsection.

(d) The members of the board, who shall be resident citizens and qualified voters of the authority, shall elect from among their number a chairman, a vice-chairman and a secretary, except that if the board is constituted in the manner provided in Subsection (c) of Section 6B of this Act, the chairman shall be selected as specified in that subsection. The board may appoint such assistant secretaries, either members or nonmembers of the board, as it deems necessary. The secretary and assistant secretaries shall, in addition to keeping the permanent records of all proceedings and transactions of the authority, perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the board. No member of the board or officer of the authority shall be pecuniarily interested or benefitted, directly or indirectly, in any contract or agreement to which the authority is a party.

(e)(1) Any member of the board may be removed from office by a majority vote of the remaining members of the board for inefficiency, neglect of duty or malfeasance in office; provided, however, that the board shall furnish to such member a statement in writing of the nature of the charges as grounds for such removal, and the member, before the 11th day after receipt of the statement may request a hearing before the board and opportunity to be heard in person or through counsel. After any such hearing, if the board by a majority vote finds that the charges are true, it shall confirm its decision to remove the member.

(2) In addition to the method of removal of board members provided by Subsection (e)(1) of this section, board members of an authority whose principal city has a population of more than 1,200,000, according to the most recent federal census, are subject to removal by the recall procedure provided by subsection (e)(2).

(i) The qualified voters of the authority by petition may require that an election be held to determine whether a member of the board is to be removed from office. A petition is valid if it states that it is intended to require an election in the authority on the question of removing an identified board member, if it is signed by qualified voters equal in number to at least 10 percent of the number of registered voters of the authority according to the most recent official list of registered voters, if the signatures are collected within a period of 90 days prior to the date on which the petition is presented to the board, and if it is submitted to the board before the first day of the final six months of the term of the member whose removal is sought.

(ii) After receiving a petition, the board shall submit it to the secretary of state, who, not later than the 10th day after the day he or she receives the petition, shall determine whether or not the petition is valid and shall notify the board of the finding. If the secretary of state fails to act within the time allowed, the petition is treated as if it had been found valid.

(iii) If the board receives notice from the secretary of state that the petition is valid or if the secretary of state has failed to act within the time allowed, the board shall order that an election be held in the authority on a date not fewer than 25 nor more than 35 days after the last day on which the petition could have been approved or disapproved. A state law requiring local elections to be held on a specified date does not apply to the election unless a specified date falls within the time permitted by this section. At the election, the ballots shall be prepared to permit voting for or against the proposition: "The removal of (name of officer) from the rapid transit authority board by recall."

(iv) If a majority of the qualified voters voting on the question in the election favor the proposition, the member is removed, and the office immediately becomes vacant. The appointing authority that appointed the member removed by recall shall fill the vacancy not later than the 30th day after the day of removal.

(v) A member removed by recall is not eligible for reappointment to fill the vacancy and is not eligible for appointment to any other position on the board for a length of time after the day of removal equal to the length of a normal term of a member of the board.

(f) The board shall hold at least one regular meeting during each month for the purpose of transacting the business of the authority. Upon written notice, the chairman or the general manager may call special meetings as may be necessary. The board, when organized, shall by resolution spread upon the minutes, set the time, place and day of the regular meetings, and shall likewise adopt rules and regulations and such bylaws as it may deem necessary for the conduct of its official meetings. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum of the board for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers and action may be taken by the authority upon a vote of a majority of the board members present unless the bylaws require a larger number for a particular action.

(g) The board shall notice and hold its meetings pursuant to Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except that the board shall have notices of its meetings posted on a bulletin board located at a place convenient to the public at its administrative offices and a bulletin board located at a place convenient to the public at the county courthouse of the most populous county in which the principal city is located.

Confirmation and Tax Election

Sec. 5. (a) After the original board is organized, at such time as it deems implementation of the authority to be feasible, it shall call a confirmation and tax election in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(b) Before ordering an election the board shall by order entered in its minutes determine the nature and rate of any tax that it desires to levy.

(c) Before ordering an election, the board shall notify the commissioners court of each county included in whole or part within the initial territory of the authority of its intention to do so. Within 30 days after receipt of the notice, each commissioners court by order shall create not more than five designated election areas in the unincorporated portion of the appropriate county. Each designated election area's outer boundaries, to the extent practicable, shall coincide with a boundary of a county voting precinct so that insofar as practicable no county voting precinct is divided between two different designated election areas. The total area of all designated election areas shall include all of the unincorporated area within the initial territory of the authority.

(d) When the board orders a confirmation and tax election, it shall submit to the qualified voters within the authority the following proposition:

"Shall the creation of (name of authority) be confirmed and shall the levy of the proposed tax be authorized?"

(e) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, notice of the election shall be given in accordance with the general election laws. The notice of the election shall include a description of the nature and rate of the proposed tax. A copy of the notice of the election and any other election held under the provisions of this Act shall be furnished to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor and to the comptroller of public accounts.

(f) The election shall be conducted so that votes are separately tabulated and canvassed and that the result is declared in separate units of election within the authority, as follows:

(1) the portion of the principal city inside the initial limits of the authority plus any incorporated cities or towns which are wholly located within the perimeter of the outer boundary of the principal city constitutes a unit of election;

(2) each designated election area created by a commissioners court constitutes a unit of election;

(3) every other incorporated city or town wholly located within the initial limits of the authority shall constitute a unit of election.

(g) Immediately after the election, the presiding judge of each election precinct shall return the results to the board, which shall canvass the returns and declare the results separately with respect to each unit of election. In those units of election where a majority of the votes cast is in favor of the confirmation of the creation of the authority and the levy of the proposed tax, the authority shall continue to exist and be comprised of those units. In those units of election where a majority of the votes cast is against the confirmation of the creation of the authority and the levy of the proposed tax, the authority shall cease to exist. Unless the vote is favorable in the unit of election which includes the principal city, the authority shall cease to exist in its entirety. If the votes cast are such that the authority will continue to exist, the board shall enter the results on its minutes and adopt an order declaring that the creation of the authority is confirmed and describing the territory which comprises the authority. A certified copy of the order shall be filed with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor, and with the comptroller of public accounts, and in the deed records of each county in which the authority is located. The order shall include the date of the election, the proposition voted on, the number of votes cast for and against the proposition in each election unit, and the number of votes by which the proposition was approved in each election unit in which it was approved and shall be accompanied by a map of the authority clearly showing the boundaries of the authority.

(h) If the votes cast at the confirmation and tax election are such that the authority ceases to exist in its entirety, the board shall enter an order so declaring and file a certified copy of the order with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor and with the comptroller of public accounts, and the authority shall be dissolved.

(i) The cost of the confirmation and tax election shall be paid by the principal city.

(j) If the election results in the confirmation of an authority, the authority shall, within the limits confirmed, be authorized to function in accordance with the terms of this Act, and the board may levy and collect the proposed tax within those limits.

(k) If the continued existence of an authority is not confirmed by election within three years after the effective date of the ordinance creating the authority, the authority ceases to exist on the expiration of the three years.

Election Contest

Sec. 5A. (a) If the validity of any election held under authority of this Act or the result of the election based on the returns thereof shall be contested, the election contest shall be filed and tried as provided in the Election Code of the State of Texas; provided that the contestant shall notify the comptroller of public accounts by United States registered mail or certified mail within 10 days after filing the contest by mailing a copy of such notice of contest to the comptroller showing the style of the contest, the date filed, the case number, and the court in which the same is pending; and provided further that no such contest shall be heard unless the comptroller is timely notified as provided in this subsection.

(b) Upon receipt of a notice of contest, the date upon which such local sales and use tax shall become effective in any authority as a result of the election shall be suspended. When a final judgment shall be entered in the election in the election¹ contest, the presiding officer of the board shall so notify the comptroller by United States registered mail or certified mail and shall enclose a certified copy of the final judgment. If the judgment sustains the validity of the election or the result of the election so that the local sales and use tax status under this Act of the authority is changed, the comptroller shall place in effect the tax in the authority, substituting the notice of final judgment and the date on which it is received for the notice of the result of the election. This section applies only to elections held and election contests filed after the effective date of this Act.

Effective Date—Local Sales and Use Tax

Sec. 5B. Upon actual receipt by the comptroller of public accounts of notification of adoption of a local sales and use tax containing the information required by Subsection (g) of Section 5, there shall elapse one whole calendar quarter prior to the adoption of a local sales and use tax becoming effective. Thereafter, the adoption shall be effective beginning on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed calendar quarter.

Powers of the Authority

Sec. 6. (a) The authority, when created and confirmed, shall constitute a public body corporate and politic, exercising public and essential governmental functions, having all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this Act, including, but not limited to, the following powers granted in this section.

(b) The authority shall have perpetual succession.

(c) The authority may sue and be sued in all courts of competent jurisdiction and may institute and prosecute suits without giving security for costs and may appeal from a judgment or judgments without giving supersedeas or cost bond.

(d) The authority may acquire by grant, purchase, gift, devise, lease, or otherwise, and may hold, use, sell, lease or dispose of, real and personal property of every kind and nature whatsoever, and licenses, patents, rights and interests necessary, convenient or useful for the full exercise of any of its powers pursuant to the provisions of this Act. Before an authority acquires an interest in real property for more than $20,000, the board of the authority shall cause the property to be appraised by two appraisers working independently of each other.

(e) The authority shall have the power to acquire, construct, complete, develop, own, operate and maintain a system or systems within its boundaries, and both within and without the boundaries of incorporated cities, towns and villages and political subdivisions, and for such purposes shall have the right to use the streets, alleys, roads, highways and other public ways and to relocate, raise, reroute, change the grade of, and alter the construction of, any street, alley, highway, road, railroad, electric lines and facilities, telegraph and telephone properties and facilities, pipelines and facilities, conduits and facilities, and other properties, whether publicly or privately owned, as necessary or useful in the construction, reconstruction, repair, maintenance and operation of the system, or to cause each and all of said things to be done at the authority's sole expense. The authority shall not proceed with any action to change, alter or damage the property or facilities of the state, its municipal corporations, agencies or political subdivisions or of owners rendering public services, or which shall disrupt such services being provided by others, or to otherwise inconvenience the owners of such property or facilities, without having first obtained the written consent of such owners or unless the authority shall have first obtained the right to take such action under its power of eminent domain as herein specified. In the event the owners of such property or facilities desire to handle any such relocation, raising, change in the grade of, or alteration in the construction of such property or facilities with their own forces, or to cause the same to be done by contractors of their own choosing, the authority shall have the power to enter into agreements with such owners providing for the necessary relocations, changes or alterations of such property or facilities by the owners and/or such contractors and the reimbursement by the authority to such owners of the costs incurred by such owners in making such relocations, changes or alterations and/or in causing the same to be accomplished by such contractors.

(f) In the event the authority, in exercising any of the powers conferred by this Act, makes necessary the relocation, adjustment, raising, lowering, rerouting or changing the grade of or altering the construction of any street, alley, highway, overpass, underpass, or road, any railroad track, bridge or other facilities or properties, any electric lines, conduits or other facilities or properties, any telephone or telegraph lines, conduits or other facilities or properties, any gas transmission or distribution pipes, pipelines, mains or other facilities or properties, any water, sanitary sewer or storm sewer pipes, pipelines, mains or other facilities or properties, any cable television lines, cables, conduits or other facilities or properties, or any other pipelines and any facilities or properties relating thereto, any and all such relocations, adjustments, raising, lowering, rerouting or changing of grade or altering of construction shall be accomplished at the sole cost and expense of the authority, and all damages which may be suffered by the owners of such property or facilities shall be borne by the authority.

(g) The authority shall have the right of eminent domain to acquire lands in fee simple and any interest less than fee simple in, on, under and above lands, including, without limitation, easements, rights-of-way, rights of use of air space or subsurface space, or any combination thereof; provided that such right shall not be exercised in a manner which would unduly interfere with interstate commerce or which would authorize the authority to run its vehicles on railroad tracks which are used to transport property.

(h) Eminent domain proceedings brought by the authority shall be governed by the provisions of Title 52, Eminent Domain, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as they now exist or hereafter may be amended,¹ insofar as such provisions are not inconsistent with this Act. Proceedings for the exercise of the power of eminent domain shall be commenced by the adoption by the board of a resolution declaring the public necessity for the acquisition by the authority of the property or interest therein described in the resolution, and that such acquisition is necessary and proper for the construction, extension, improvement or development of the system and is in the public interest. The resolution of the authority shall be conclusive evidence of the public necessity of such proposed acquisition and that such real or personal property or interest therein is necessary for public use. At least 30 days before adopting a resolution under this subsection, however, a board shall hold a public hearing on the question of acquisition of the property or interest for which eminent domain proceedings are being considered. The board shall hold the hearing at a place convenient to residents of the area in which the property is located. The board shall cause notice of the hearing to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the property is located at least once each week for two weeks before the date of the hearing.

(i) The authority shall have the power to enter into agreements with any other public utility, private utility, communication system, common carrier, or transportation system for the joint use of their respective facilities, installations and properties of whatever kind and character within the authority and to establish through routes, joint fares or transfer of passengers.

(j) The authority shall establish and maintain rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents or other compensation for the use of the facilities of the system acquired, constructed, operated or maintained by the authority which shall be reasonable and nondiscriminary and which, together with receipts from taxes collected by the authority, shall be sufficient to produce revenues adequate:

(1) to pay all expenses necessary to the operation and maintenance of the properties and facilities of the authority;

(2) to pay the interest on and principal of all bonds issued by the authority under this Act which are payable in whole or in part from such revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable;

(3) to pay all sinking fund and reserve fund payments agreed to be made in respect of any such bonds, and payable out of such taxes and revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable; and

(4) to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of such bonds or with any person in their behalf.

(k) It is the intention of this Act that taxes levied and the rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents and other compensation for the use of the facilities of the system shall not be in excess of what may be necessary to fulfill the obligations imposed upon the authority by this Act. Nothing herein shall be construed as depriving the State of Texas of its power to regulate and control such taxes, rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents and other compensation, provided that the State of Texas does hereby pledge to and agree with the purchasers and successive holders of the bonds issued hereunder that the state will not limit or alter the powers hereby vested in the authority to establish and collect such taxes, rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents and other compensation as will produce revenues sufficient to pay the items specified in Subdivisions (1), (2), (3) and (4), Subsection (j) of this subsection, or in any way to impair the rights or remedies of the holders of the bonds, or of any person in their behalf, until the bonds, together with the interest thereon, with interest on unpaid installments of interest, and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceedings by or on behalf of the bondholders and all other obligations of the authority in connection with such bonds, are fully met and discharged.

(l) The authority may make contracts, leases and agreements with, and accept grants and loans from, the United States of America, its departments and agencies, the State of Texas, its agencies, counties, municipalities and political subdivisions, and public or private corporations and persons, and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in it. The authority may acquire rolling stock or other property under conditional sales contracts, leases, equipment trust certificates, or any other form of contract or trust agreement. Any revenue bond indenture may provide limitations upon the exercise of the powers stated in this section and such limitations shall apply so long as any of the revenue bonds issued pursuant to such indenture are outstanding and unpaid.

(m) The authority may sell, lease, convey or otherwise dispose of any of its rights; interests or properties which are not needed for, or, in the case of leases, which are not inconsistent with, the efficient operation and maintenance of the system. It may sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of, at any time, any surplus materials or personal or real property not needed for its requirements or for the purpose of carrying out its power under this Act.

(n) The authority shall by resolution make all rules and regulations governing the use, operation and maintenance of the system and shall determine all routings and change the same whenever it is deemed advisable by the authority.

(o) The authority shall have power to lease the system or any part thereof to, or contract for the use or operation of the system or any part thereof by, any operator; provided, however, that a lease of the entire system shall be subject to the written consent and approval of the governing body of the principal city.

(p) The acquisition of any land or interest therein pursuant to this Act, the planning, acquisition, establishment, development, construction, improvement, maintenance, equipment, operation, regulation, protection, and policing of the authority's system and facilities, and the exercise of any other powers herein granted an authority, are hereby declared to be public and governmental functions, exercised for a public purpose, and matters of public necessity.

(q) The authority may contract with any city, county, or other political subdivision for the authority to provide public transportation services to any area outside the boundaries of the authority on such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by the parties.

Addition of Territory

Sec. 6A. (a) Territory may be added to an authority only according to the provisions of this section.

(b) The governing body of any incorporated city or town located in whole or in part within a county in which the authority is situated may hold an election on the question of whether the city or town shall be annexed to the authority. If a majority of the qualified voters in the city or town votes for annexation, the governing body shall certify the results of the election to the board of the authority, and the city or town shall become a part of the authority, except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section.

(c) The commissioners court of a county in which the authority is situated in whole or in part or that is adjacent to a county in which the authority is situated in whole or in part may hold an election in any one or more of the designated election areas, formed for the election by order of the commissioners court, on the question of whether the area in which the election is held shall be annexed to the authority. The boundaries of a designated election area shall coincide, to the extent practicable, with a boundary of a county voting precinct, so that insofar as practicable no county voting precinct is divided. If a majority of the qualified voters in any area where such an election is held votes in favor of annexation, the commissioners court shall certify the results of the election to the board of the authority, and the area shall become a part of the authority, except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section.

(d) If a city or town which is a part of an authority lawfully annexes additional territory which is not a part of the authority, the annexed territory becomes a part of the authority.

(e)(1) At the time territory is added to an authority under the provisions of this section, any tax other than a local sales and use tax which the board of the authority has already been authorized to levy applies to the added territory.

(2) If an authority in which a local sales and use tax has been imposed changes or alters its boundaries, the presiding officer of the board shall forward to the comptroller of public accounts by United States registered mail or certified mail a certified copy of the order adding territory to the authority or of the order canvassing the returns and declaring the result of the election. The order shall reflect the effective date of the tax and shall be accompanied by a map of the authority clearly showing the territory added or detached. Upon receipt of the order and map, the tax imposed by Section 11B of this Act shall be effective in the added territory on the first day of the next succeeding quarter. However, if the comptroller notifies the presiding officer of the board in writing within 10 days after receipt of the order and map that he requires more time, the comptroller shall be entitled to delay implementation one whole calendar quarter. Thereafter, the tax shall be effective in the added territory on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed quarter.

(f) Territory in which an election is held as provided in Subsections (b) or (c) of this section becomes a part of the authority on the 31st day after the election, if the voters approve the addition as provided in Subsections (b) or (c), and unless the board of the authority notifies the appropriate governing body in writing before that date that the addition, because it is not contiguous to the existing authority, would create a fiscal hardship on the authority.

Composition of the Board

Sec. 6B. (a) If less than 50 percent of that part of the population of the county (the county in which not less than 51 percent of the incorporated area of the principal city is situated) which is outside the corporate limits of the principal city resides within the limits of the authority, the board of the authority shall consist of the original five members or their successors plus one additional member to be appointed jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities except the principal city within the authority as confirmed, and one other additional member to be appointed by the commissioners court of the county described in this subsection.

(b) If more than 50 percent but less than 75 percent of the population of the county described in Subsection (a) of this section outside the corporate limits of the principal city resides within the limits of the authority, the board of the authority consists of the original five members or their successors, plus two additional members to be appointed jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities, except the principal city, located within the authority, and two other members appointed by the commissioners court of the county. Population figures shall be computed on the basis of the last preceding United States census.

(c) If 75 percent or more of the population of the county described in Subsection (a) of this section outside the corporate limits of the principal city resides within the limits of the authority, the board consists of 11 members, including the original five members or their successors, two additional members appointed jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities except the principal city located within the authority, three other additional members appointed by the commissioners court of the county, and one member, who serves as chairman, who is appointed by the other ten members.

(d) When this Act requires that the mayors of municipalities except the principal city appoint a member of the board, the mayor of the municipality of greatest population among the municipalities shall serve as chairman of an appointment board composed of the mayors of all appropriate municipalities and shall, by notice in writing to all members, call meetings of the appointment board as necessary to make the appointments. Appointments shall be made within 60 days after a position comes into existence or becomes vacant. If the boundaries of the authority at any time include unincorporated areas of a county other than the county described in Subsection (a) of this section, the county judge of the appropriate county is entitled to serve on the appointment board, with powers equal to the other members of the board, as if the unincorporated area of the county were a municipality and the county judge of that county were the mayor of the municipality.

(e) The terms of office of any members of the board appointed after the confirmation and tax election and after the effective date of this Act are four years, except that in order to provide staggered terms, the terms of office of one-half of the first members appointed by an appointing agency after the effective date of this Act, if an even number is to be appointed by an agency, and a bare majority of the first members appointed by the agency, if an odd number greater than one is to be appointed by an agency, are two years. In addition, the appointing agency may shorten the initial terms to make the expiration dates coincide with those of the previously existing positions. To be eligible for appointment to the board, a person must be a qualified voter residing within the boundaries of the authority. No member of the board may serve more than two consecutive four-year terms.

(f) Vacancies on the board are filled by appointment by the same agency that made the original appointments for the vacant positions. Each member of the board whose term expires shall continue to serve until his successor has been appointed.

(g) In the event the membership of the board must be increased under the provisions of this section, the board as previously constituted may continue to act as the governing board of the authority until the additional members have been appointed and seated.

Station or Terminal Complexes

Sec. 6C. (a) The acquisition of any land or any interest in land pursuant to this Act; the planning, acquisition, establishment, development, construction, improvement, maintenance, equipment, operation, regulation, protection, and policing of the authority's system and facilities; and the exercise of any other powers granted an authority, including without limitation the rights, powers, and authority relating to station or terminal complexes as provided in this section, are declared to be public and governmental functions, exercised for a public purpose, and matters of public necessity for public use and public benefit.

(b) The authority shall have the right, power, and authority to acquire by grant, purchase, gift, devise, lease, or eminent domain proceedings and to own lands in fee simple and any interest less than fee simple in, on, under, and above lands, including, without limitation, easements, rights-of-way, rights of use of air space or subsurface space or any combination thereof, adjacent or accessible to stations and other mass transit facilities, developed or to be developed by the authority, that may be required for or in aid of the development of one or more station or terminal complexes, as part of its mass transit system and may sell, lease, or otherwise transfer the same, or any part thereof, to individuals, corporations, or governmental entities, subject to the restrictions provided in this section.

(c) Any lands or interests in land acquired for a station or terminal complex must be part of or contained within a station or terminal complex designated as part of the system within a comprehensive transit plan approved by resolution of the board. Before a station or terminal complex may be included in the system, the board must find and determine that the proposed station or terminal complex will encourage and provide for efficient and economical mass transit service, will facilitate access to mass transit service and provide other mass transit purposes, will reduce vehicular congestion and air pollution in the metropolitan area, and is reasonably essential to the successful operation of the system. The board may amend its comprehensive transit plan to include other station or terminal complexes upon making these findings.

(d) Any station or terminal complex shall include adequate provisions for the transfer of passengers between the various modes of transportation available to the complex. A complex may include provisions for commercial, residential, recreational, institutional, and industrial facilities, except that no land or interest in land that is more than 1,500 feet in distance from the center point of the complex or that has not been included in a master plan of development adopted by the board may be acquired for the facilities. Land or an interest in land more than 1,500 feet in distance from the center point of the complex may not be acquired by eminent domain proceedings, and the board shall designate the center point prior to the commencement of eminent domain proceedings. If a proposed station or terminal complex is to be located within the city limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city or town, the governing body of the city or town must approve the location of the complex as to conformity with the comprehensive or general plan of the city or town by motion, resolution, or ordinance duly adopted.

(e) The authority may sell, lease, or otherwise transfer lands or interests in land acquired within a station or terminal complex, and may enter into contracts with respect to it, in accordance with the comprehensive transit plan approved by the board, subject to such covenants, conditions, and restrictions, including covenants running with the land and obligations to commence construction within a specified time, as the board may deem to be in the public interest or necessary to carry out the purposes of this section, all of which shall be incorporated into the instrument transferring or conveying title or right of use. Any lease, sale, or transfer shall be at fair value, taking into account the use designated for the land in the comprehensive transit plan for the system and the restrictions on, and the covenants, conditions, and obligations assumed by, the purchaser, lessee, or transferee. However, if the authority offers the property for sale, the original owner from whom the property was acquired by eminent domain proceedings or through threat of eminent domain proceedings has the first right to repurchase at the price at which it is offered to the public.

(f) No station or mass transit facility may be considered a "station or terminal complex" governed by this section unless it has been designated as such in the comprehensive transit plan pursuant to the specific authority granted by this section.

Withdrawal From an Authority

Sec. 6D. (a) The governing body of an incorporated city or town that is included within the territory of an authority and that has a population more than 90 percent of which resides outside the county in which the majority of the population of the principal city resides may on any date from April 1, 1980, to September 1, 1980, hold an election on the question of whether the city or town shall withdraw from the authority. If a majority of the qualified voters in the city or town voting on the question votes to withdraw from the authority, the governing body shall certify the results of the election to the board of the authority, and the city or town shall withdraw from the authority.

(b) The board shall enter the results on its minutes and adopt an order declaring the withdrawal of the city or town. A certified copy of the order shall be filed with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor and the comptroller of public accounts and in the deed records of each county in which the authority is located. The order shall reflect the date of the election, the proposition voted on, the total number of votes cast for and against the proposition in each election unit, the number of votes by which the proposition was approved in each election unit and shall be accompanied by a map of the authority clearly showing the boundaries of the authority.

(c) Upon actual receipt of the comptroller of public accounts of notification of the withdrawal of a city or town, there shall elapse one whole calendar quarter prior to the withdrawal becoming effective. Thereafter, the withdrawal shall be effective beginning on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed calendar quarter.

Local Government Approval Committee

Sec. 6E. The rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, and other compensation established by an authority in a metropolitan area whose principal city has a population of less than 1,200,000, according to the most recent federal census, may not take effect until they are approved by a majority vote of a committee composed of:

(a) five members of the city council of the principal city who are chosen for this committee by the members of that body;

(b) three members of the commissioners court of the county that includes the largest portion of the incorporated area of the principal city, who are chosen for this committee by the members of that court; and

(c) three mayors of incorporated municipalities, except the principal city, located within the authority who are chosen for this committee jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities, except the principal city, located within the authority.

Bonds and Notes

Sec. 7. (a) The authority shall have no power to assess, levy or collect any ad valorem taxes on property, nor to issue any bonds or notes secured by ad valorem tax revenues. The authority, however, shall have the full power to issue bonds and notes, from time to time and in such amounts as it shall consider necessary or appropriate, for the acquisition, purchase, construction, reconstruction, repair, equipping, improvement or extension of such rapid transit system or systems and all properties thereof whether real, personal or mixed. All such bonds and notes shall be fully negotiable and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the issuing authority, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the issuing authority in the resolution authorizing such bonds or notes, and may be sold at public or private sale whichever the board may deem more advantageous.

(b) Prior to delivery thereof, all bonds and notes authorized to be issued hereunder and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for examination, and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with the constitution and this Act, and that they will be binding obligations of the authority issuing same, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and after such approval and registration and the sale and delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, they shall be incontestable.

(c) In order to secure the payment of such bonds or notes, such authority shall have full power and authority to encumber and pledge all or any part of the revenue realized from any tax which the authority is authorized to levy, and all or any part of the revenues of its rapid transit system or systems, and to mortgage and encumber all or any part of the properties thereof, and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired and to prescribe the terms and provisions of such bonds and notes in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. If not prohibited by the resolution or indenture relating to outstanding bonds or notes, any such authority shall have full power and authority to encumber separately any item or items of real estate or personalty, including motorbuses, transit cars and other vehicles, machinery and other equipment of any nature, and to acquire, use, hold or contract for any such property under any lease arrangement, chattel mortgage or conditional sale, including, but not limited to, transactions commonly known as equipment trust transactions. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting any such authority from encumbering any one or more rapid transit systems for the purpose of purchasing, building, constructing, enlarging, extending, repairing or reconstructing, another one or more of said systems and purchasing necessary property, both real, personal and mixed, in connection therewith.

(d) Refunding bonds or notes may be issued for the purposes and in the manner provided by general law, including, without limitation, Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as presently enacted or hereafter amended.

(e) Whenever the revenues of any rapid transit system shall be encumbered under this Act, the expense of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials and repairs necessary to render efficient service and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such revenues. The fares charged for transportation of passengers by any rapid transit system may be based on a zone system of determining fares or other fare classification determined by such authority to be reasonable.

(f) All such bonds and notes shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations and insurance companies. Such bonds and notes shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such bonds and notes shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof, or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmaturing coupons appurtenant thereto.

(g) If revenue bonds are to be issued by an authority to acquire any existing transportation system, or any part thereof, and the owner thereof is willing to accept said revenue bonds in lieu of cash, then in that event the revenue bonds may be exchanged for the property or for the stock of a corporation owning the property to be dissolved simultaneously.

(h) Bonds payable solely from revenues may be issued by resolution of the board, but no bonds, except refunding bonds, payable wholly or partially from taxes, may be issued until authorized by a majority vote of the qualified voters of the authority voting in an election called and held for that purpose.

(i) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 7, the authority, acting by board order or resolution, has the power to issue short-term bonds or notes secured by revenues or taxes for any purpose; provided that the repayment of the bonds or notes must be satisfied out of revenues or taxes received during the period from the date of issuance to the last day of the fiscal year in which the bonds or notes are issued. Any such short-term bonds or notes need not be approved by the Attorney General of Texas nor registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas.

Motor Vehicle Emission Taxes

Sec. 8. (a) Subject to approval at an election, the board of an authority shall be authorized to levy and cause to be collected motor vehicle emission taxes as herein provided. No increase in taxes as originally authorized may be levied unless the increase is approved at an election. Such taxes shall be collected by the county tax assessor-collector of each county, situated in whole or in part within the authority from each motor vehicle owner whose residence is within such county and within the authority. Not later than November 1 of each year, the board shall certify to the county tax assessor-collector of each county situated in whole or in part within the authority's boundaries the rate of tax prescribed for each class of motor vehicles for the ensuing tax year. At the time the owner of a motor vehicle applies each year to the State Highway Department through the county tax assessor-collector of the county in which he resides for the registration of each such vehicle owned or controlled by him for the ensuing or current motor vehicle registration year or unexpired portion thereof, such owner shall pay to the county tax assessor-collector the motor vehicle emission taxes due or to become due to such authority on such motor vehicle for the ensuing or current tax year at the applicable rate prescribed by the board. The county tax assessor-collector shall refuse to issue a registration license for a motor vehicle until the emission tax thereon for the period covered by such registration license has been paid.

(b) The tax year for motor vehicle emission taxes shall consist of calendar quarters, the first quarter to commence on April 1 of each year. Each application so filed during the second quarter, the third quarter, or the fourth quarter shall be accompanied by three-fourths, one-half, or one-quarter, respectively, of the annual tax; and each application for re-registration filed subsequent to June 30th shall be accompanied by an affidavit that such vehicle has not been previously operated within the boundaries of the authority during any quarter of the current tax year, failing which the tax for the entire tax year shall be paid in full.

(c) The authority shall furnish to the tax assessor-collector of each county situated in whole or in part within the boundaries of the authority, motor vehicle emission tax receipts in triplicate each of which shall, when issued, bear a number or other identifying symbol of the motor vehicle for which issued. The tax assessor-collector shall retain one copy and deliver the original to the taxpayer.

(d) Each tax assessor-collector shall receive a uniform fee of 45 cents for each tax receipt issued by him each tax year pursuant to this Act. Such fees shall be used to pay expenses reasonably incurred in collecting such taxes and issuing all tax receipts pursuant hereto.

(e) Each tax assessor-collector shall remit to the authority on or before the 15th day of each month, or at such other intervals of time as may be agreed upon by the authority and each tax assessor-collector, all taxes, penalties and interest collected on behalf of the authority for the preceding calendar month, or other agreed time interval, after deducting the collection fees and mailing charges described in the next preceding paragraph.

Rate of Tax

Sec. 9. Motor vehicles shall be classified by groups based upon the number of cubic inches of cylinder displacement of their motors or engines and the maximum emissions tax which may be levied by any authority shall not exceed the respective annual sums shown in the following table:

Cubic Inches of Cylinder Displacement	Annual Tax Per Vehicle
0-50	$ 4
51-100	6
101-200	7
201-300	8
301-900	10
901 or more	15

The board of an authority shall each year fix the rate of tax for each group by fixing the percentage (not more than 100) of the foregoing respective maximum rates, which percentage shall apply equally and uniformly to all groups and to all members of each group.

Exempt Vehicles

Sec. 10. The owners of motor vehicles listed below shall be exempt from the payment of emission taxes on such vehicles, as follows:

(a) Those vehicles which are the property of and used exclusively in the service of the United States government, the State of Texas, or any county, city, school district or rapid transit authority thereof.

(b) Those used exclusively for firefighting; and

(c) Those owned by any person, association, corporation or partnership residing within the boundaries of an authority and doing business both within and without or wholly without such boundaries, which motor vehicles are not stationed or customarily kept within the boundaries of the authority and which are not regularly operated within such boundaries. "Regularly operated" means an average of two days per calendar week in a tax year or portion thereof for which such tax accrues. Residents of an authority claiming an exemption under this Subparagraph (c) shall file an affidavit with the county tax assessor-collector specifying the vehicles claimed to be exempted.

Payments and Penalties

Sec. 11. Motor vehicle emission taxes shall be due and payable on February 1 of each year for which levied and shall become delinquent if not paid by April 1 of such year; provided that taxes on vehicles becoming subject to such taxes after April 1 of any tax year shall be due and payable on the date such taxes accrue and shall become delinquent if not paid within 60 days thereafter.

The following penalties shall be payable on delinquent emission taxes, to wit: During the first month after delinquency, one percent; during the second month, two percent; during the third month, three percent; during the fourth month, four percent; during the fifth month, five percent; and during or after the sixth month, eight percent.

All delinquent emission taxes shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date of their delinquency until paid.

Neither the levy, collection nor payment of a motor vehicle emissions tax shall be construed to authorize any act prohibited by law or by any rule or regulation lawfully promulgated.

General Powers of Taxation

Sec. 11A. (a) In addition to or in lieu of the motor vehicle emission taxes provided for in this Act, the board of an authority may levy and collect any kind of tax, other than an ad valorem tax on property, which is not prohibited by the Texas Constitution.

(b) No tax of any kind may be levied and collected by the board until a proposition proposing the tax has first been submitted to and approved by a majority of the qualified electors of an authority voting at an election held by the board for that purpose. A separate proposition must be submitted for each kind of tax proposed, and propositions may be submitted in the alternative with provision for the method of determining the results of the election. Each proposition must include a brief statement of the nature of the proposed tax. The notice of the election must include a statement or description of the basis of or rate at which the tax is proposed to be levied. Any subsequent increase in a tax must also be approved at an election.

(c) Prior to an election to authorize a tax other than motor vehicle emission taxes or a sales and use tax, the board shall adopt a complete tax code and rules and regulations providing for the nature and amount of any tax with provisions for complete administration and enforcement, including the time and manner of payment, exemptions, liens, interest, penalties, discounts for advance payment, refunds for erroneous payment, fees for collection, collection procedures, manner of enforcement, required returns, registration and reports of taxpayers, the duties and responsibilities of tax officers and taxpayers, the delegation to tax officers to make additional rules and regulations and determinations and to obtain records as may be appropriate, and every other provision which may be determined to be desirable, including incorporation of any tax laws and remedies for the administration and enforcement that are available to the state or any political entities under general law.

(d) A tax code and rules and regulations may be amended by the board from time to time after an election approving a tax, but no amendment may increase the amount of a tax unless the increase is approved at an election.

(e) The board of an authority by order may decrease the local sales and use tax rate or may call an election to increase or decrease the local sales and use tax rate. In addition, the qualified voters of an authority by petition may require that an election be held on the question of increasing the tax rate. A petition is valid if it is by qualified voters of the authority equal in number to at least 10 percent of the number of registered voters of the authority according to the most recent official list of registered voters.

(f) After receiving a petition, the board shall submit the petition to the secretary of state for validation. The secretary of state shall rule on the validity of the petition not later than the 30th day after the day he or she receives the petition and shall notify the board of the ruling. If the secretary of state finds the petition valid or fails to act within the time allowed, the board shall call an election. The authority shall pay the costs of determining the validity of a petition, if any, and of the election.

(g) At the election, the ballots shall be prepared to permit voting for or against the following proposition: "The increase (decrease) of the local sales and use tax rate to (percentage)." The increase or decrease in the tax rate shall be effective if it is approved by a majority of the votes cast by voters residing within the boundaries of the territory of the authority at the date of the election. A notice of the election and a certified copy of the order canvassing the election results shall be sent to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor and the comptroller of public accounts and shall be filed in the deed records of each county in which the authority is located in the same manner as provided for a confirmation and tax election by Section 5 of this Act.

(h) If there is an increase or decrease in the rate of a local sales and use tax already levied, the new rate takes effect on the first day of the next calendar quarter after actual notification to the comptroller of public accounts. However, if the comptroller notifies the presiding officer of the board in writing within 10 days after receipt of the order that he or she requires more time to implement collection and reporting procedures, the comptroller may delay implementation for one whole calendar quarter. Thereafter, the new tax rate takes effect on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed quarter.

Local Sales and Use Tax

Sec. 11B. (A) Subject to approval at a tax election in accordance with this Act, the board of an authority shall be authorized to levy, collect and impose a local sales and use tax for the benefit of the authority, the sales tax portion of which shall not exceed one percent on receipts from the sale of all taxable items within the authority area which are subject to taxation under the provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act,¹ as enacted and as heretofore or hereafter amended. The provisions of this section shall be applicable to the levy, imposition and collection of such tax. The permissible rates for a local sales and use tax levied under this Act are:

- (1) one-quarter of one percent;
- (2) one-half of one percent;
- (3) three-quarters of one percent; and
- (4) one percent.

(B)(a) The following words and terms shall have the following respective meanings unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(1) "Authority area" means the geographical limits of the authority.

(2) "Comptroller" means the Comptroller of Public Accounts of Texas.

(3) "Local Sales and Use Tax" means any sales and use tax imposed by a city within the authority area under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act (Article 1066c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(b) Every retailer within the authority area shall add the tax imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax and the tax imposed under the authority of this Act to his sale price, and when added, the combined tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price. The combined taxes on the transaction shall be determined by multiplying the amount of the sale by the total of the combined applicable tax rates. Any fraction of one cent which is less than one-half of one cent of tax shall not be collected. Any fraction of one cent of tax equal to one-half of one cent or more shall be collected by the retailer as a whole cent of tax. Provided, however, that any retailer who can establish to the satisfaction of the comptroller that 50 percent or more of his receipts from the sale of taxable items arise from individual transactions where the total sales price when multiplied by the combined rates of the taxes imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax, and this section equals an amount that is less than one-half of one cent may exclude the receipts from such sales when reporting and paying the tax imposed under this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax. No retailer shall avail himself of this provision without prior written approval of the comptroller. The comptroller shall grant such approval when he is satisfied that the retailer qualifies on the basis set forth in this section and when the retailer has submitted satisfactory evidence that he can and will maintain records adequate to substantiate the exclusion herein authorized. Any attempt on the part of any retailer to exercise this provision without prior written approval of the comptroller shall be deemed to be a failure and refusal to pay the taxes imposed by this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax, and the retailer shall be subject to assessment for both taxes, penalties and interest as provided for in this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax.

(c)(1) In every authority area where the tax authorized by this Act has been adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Act, there is hereby imposed an excise tax on the storage, use or other consumption within such authority area of taxable items purchased, leased, or rented from any retailer on or after the effective date for collection of the sales tax portion of the sales and use tax for storage, use or other consumption in such authority area at the same rate as the sales tax levied under this Act of the sales price of the taxable item or, in the case of leases or rentals, of said lease or rental price. Except as provided in Subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, the use tax imposed by this section is not owed to and may not be collected by, for, or in behalf of an authority if no excise tax on the storage, use, or other consumption of an item of tangible personal property is owed to or collected by the state under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act or if the tangible personal property is first stored, used, or consumed within an authority or area that has not adopted the sales and use tax imposed by this section.

(2) In each authority where the tax authorized by this Act has been imposed as provided in this Act, the excise tax imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and any applicable excise tax under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act on the storage, use or other consumption of taxable items and the excise tax imposed by this Act shall be added together to form a combined rate of excise tax which is equal to the sum of the applicable taxes. The tax imposed by this section shall be collected by the comptroller on behalf of and for the benefit of such authority. The formula prescribed in paragraph (b) of this subsection shall be applicable to the collection of the excise tax imposed under this section.

(3) The provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act shall be applicable to the collection of the tax imposed by this paragraph (c), provided that in Subchapter D of Chapter 151, Tax Code,² the name of the authority where the sales and use tax authorized by this Act has been adopted shall be substituted for that of the state where the words "this state" are used to designate the taxing authority or to delimit the tax imposed.

(4) If a sale of tangible personal property is consummated within the state but not within an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section and the tangible personal property is shipped directly into or brought by the purchaser or lessee directly into an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by the authority under Subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. The use is considered consummated at the location where the item is first stored, used, or otherwise consumed after the intrastate transit has ceased.

(5) If the tangible personal property is shipped from outside this state to a customer within this state, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and not the sales tax imposed by Subsection (A) of this section. The use is consummated at the first point in this state where the property is stored, used, or otherwise consumed after interstate transit has ceased. Tangible personal property delivered to a point in this state is presumed to be for storage, use, or other consumption at that point until the contrary is established.

(6) There are exempted from the sales taxes imposed by this article receipts from any sale of tangible personal property which, pursuant to the contract of sale, is shipped to a point outside the authority area by the retailer by means of:

- (a) facilities operated by the retailer;
- (b) delivery by the retailer to a carrier for shipment to a consignee at such point; or
- (c) delivery by the retailer to a customs broker or forwarding agent for shipment outside the authority.

If the tangible personal property exempted under this subparagraph or under Paragraph (F) of Section 16(f)(2) of Chapter 683, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 1118y, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is shipped or delivered directly to a purchaser in another authority that has adopted the taxes imposed under either article, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Subsection (A) of this section.

(d)(1) On and after the effective date of any tax imposed under the provisions of this Act, the comptroller shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement and operation of the tax, and the comptroller shall collect, in addition to the taxes imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, an additional tax under the authority of this Act specified by the authority, but not to exceed one percent on the receipts from the sale at retail or on the sale price or lease or rental price on the storage, use or other consumption of all taxable items within such authority area, which items are subject to the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act. The tax imposed hereunder and the tax imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and

Use Tax Act and any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax shall be collected together and reported upon such forms and under such administrative rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the comptroller not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. On and after the effective date of any proposition to abolish such Local Sales and Use Tax in any authority area, the comptroller shall comply therewith.

(2) The comptroller shall make to the authority substantially the same reports as to taxes within the authority area as are made to cities under Subsections 5(b), (c) and (d) of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act.

(e) The following provisions shall govern the collection by the comptroller of the tax imposed by this Act:

(1) All applicable provisions contained in Title 2, Tax Code,³ shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this Act, except as modified in this Act.

(2) The provisions contained in Section 6 of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act shall apply to the levy, imposition and collection of the tax imposed by this Act except as modified herein.

(3) The penalties provided in Title 2, Tax Code, for violation of that title, are hereby made applicable to violations of this Act.

(4) The sales and use tax collected by the comptroller under this Act shall be deposited, held, accounted for and transmitted for the authority as provided in Section 7 of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act.

(f) Each authority's share of all sales and use tax collected under this Act by the comptroller shall be transmitted to the treasurer or the officer performing the functions of such office of such authority by the comptroller payable to the authority periodically as promptly as feasible. Transmittals required under this Act shall be made at least twice in each state fiscal year. Before transmitting such funds, the comptroller shall deduct two percent of the sum collected from each such authority during such period as a charge by the state for its services specified in this Act, and the amounts so deducted shall be deposited by the comptroller in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund of the state. The comptroller is authorized to retain in the suspense account of any authority a portion of the authority's share of the tax collected under this Act. Such balance so retained in the suspense account shall not exceed five percent of the amount remitted to the authority. The comptroller is authorized to make refunds from the suspense account of any authority for overpayments made to such accounts and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of the suspense account of such authority. When any authority shall abolish such tax, the comptroller may retain in the suspense account of such authority for a period of one year five percent of the final remittance to each such authority at the time of termination of collection of such tax in such authority to cover possible refunds for overpayment of the tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of abolition of such tax in such authority, the comptroller shall remit the balance in such accounts to the authority and close the account.

(g) The comptroller may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, to implement the enforcement, administration and collection of the taxes authorized herein.

(h)(1) In any authority where the sales and use tax authorized by this Act has been imposed, if any person is delinquent in the payment of the amount required to be paid by him under this Act or in the event a determination has been made against him for taxes and penalty under this Act, the limitation for bringing suit for the collection of such delinquent tax and penalty shall be the same as that provided by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act. Where any person is delinquent in payment of taxes under this Act, the comptroller shall notify the authority to which delinquent taxes are due under this Act by United States registered mail or certified mail and shall send a copy of the notice to the attorney general. The authority, acting through its attorney, may join in any suit brought by the attorney general as a party plaintiff to seek a judgment for the delinquent taxes and penalty due such authority. The notice sent by the comptroller to the authority showing the delinquency of a taxpayer constitutes a certification of the amount owed and is prima facie evidence of the determination of the tax and of the delinquency of the amounts of sales and use tax set forth in the notice.

(2) Where property is seized by the comptroller under the provisions of any law authorizing seizure of the property of a taxpayer who is delinquent in payment of the tax imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and where such taxpayer is also delinquent in payment of any tax imposed by this Act, the comptroller shall sell sufficient property to pay the delinquent taxes and penalty due any authority under this Act in addition to that required to pay any amount due the state under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and due any city under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act. The proceeds from such sale shall first be applied to all sums due the state, then all sums due any city under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act, and the remainder, if any, shall be applied to all sums due such authority.

(3) An authority that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act may bring suit for the collection of sales, excise, or use taxes imposed by this Act which have been certified as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and are owed to the authority under this Act if at least 60 days before the filing of the suit, written notice by certified mail of the tax delinquency and of the intention to file suit is given to the taxpayer, the comptroller, and the attorney general and if neither the comptroller nor the attorney general disapproves the suit by written notice to the authority.

(4) The comptroller or attorney general may disapprove the institution of tax suit by an authority if:

(i) negotiations between the state and the taxpayer are being conducted for the purpose of the collection of delinquent taxes owed to the state and the authority seeking to bring suit;

(ii) the taxpayer owes substantial taxes to the state and there is a reasonable possibility that the taxpayer may be unable to pay the total amount owed in full;

(iii) the state will bring suit against the taxpayer for the collection of all sales, excise and use taxes due under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and this Act; or

(iv) the suit involves a critical legal question relating to the interpretation of state law or a provision of the Texas or United States Constitution in which the state has an overriding interest.

(5) A notice of disapproval to an authority must give the reason for the determination of the comptroller or attorney general. A disapproval is final and not subject to review. An authority, after one year from the date of the disapproval, may proceed again as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph even though the liability of the taxpayer includes taxes for which the authority has previously given notice and the comptroller or attorney general has previously disapproved the suit.

(6) In any suit under this paragraph for the collection of the authority tax, a judgment for or against the taxpayer does not affect any claim against the taxpayer by a city or the state unless the state is a party to the action.

(7) A copy of the final judgment in favor of an authority in a case in which the state is not a party shall be abstracted by the authority and a copy of the judgment together with a copy of the abstract shall be sent to the comptroller. The authority shall collect taxes awarded to it under the judgment as provided by Section 151.608(e), Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and is responsible for the renewal of the judgment before the expiration of the 10-year period. If a collection is made by an authority on a judgment, notice of the amount collected shall be sent by certified mail to the comptroller. The comptroller may prescribe a form for the notice to be used by authorities.

² Tax Code, § 151.101 et seq.

³ Tax Code, § 101.001 et seq.

Management

Sec. 12. The responsibility for the management, operation and control of the properties belonging to an authority shall be vested in its board. The board may:

(a) employ all persons, firms, partnerships or corporations deemed necessary by the board for the conduct of the affairs of the authority, including, but not limited to, a general manager, bookkeepers, auditors, engineers, attorneys, financial advisers and operating or management companies, and prescribe the duties, tenure and compensation of each. All employees may be removed by the board;

(b) become a subscriber under the Texas Workmen's Compensation Act with any old-line legal-reserve insurance company authorized to write policies in the State of Texas;

(c) adopt a seal for the authority;

(d) invest funds of the authority in direct or indirect obligations of the United States, the state, or any county, city, school district or other political subdivision of the state; funds of the authority may be placed in certificates of deposit of state or national banks or savings and loan associations within the state provided that they are secured in the manner provided for the security of the funds of counties of the State of Texas; the board, by resolution, may provide that an authorized representative of the authority may invest and reinvest the funds of the authority and provide for money to be withdrawn from the appropriate accounts of the authority for the investments on such terms as the board considers advisable;

(e) fix the fiscal year for the authority;

(f) establish a complete system of accounts for the authority and each year shall have prepared an audit of its affairs by an independent certified public accountant or a firm of independent certified public accountants which shall be open to public inspection; and

(g) designate one or more banks to serve as the depository for the funds of the authority.

All funds of the authority shall be deposited in the depository bank or banks unless otherwise required by orders or resolutions authorizing the issuance of the authority's bonds or notes.

To the extent that funds in the depository bank or banks are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, they shall be secured in the manner provided by law for the security of funds of counties of the State of Texas.

The board, by resolution, may authorize a designated representative to supervise the substitution of securities pledged to secure the authority's funds.

Annual Budget

Sec. 12A. Prior to the commencement of a fiscal year, the board shall adopt an annual operating budget which specifies major expenditures by type and amount. Before the board adopts its annual operating budget, it shall conduct a public hearing and shall make the proposed annual operating bud-et available to the public at least 14 days prior to the hearing. An annual operating budget must be adopted before the authority conducts business in a fiscal year. The authority may not make operating expenditures in excess of the total budgeted operating expenditures for a fiscal year unless the board amends the operating budget by order after public notice and hearing.

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 13. The board may adopt and enforce reasonable rules and regulations:

- (a) to secure and maintain safety and efficiency in the operation and maintenance of its facilities;
- (b) governing the use of the authority's facilities and services by the public and the payment of fares, tolls and charges;
- (c) regulating privileges on any land, easement, right-of-way, rolling stock or other property owned or controlled by the authority; and
- (d) regulating the collection and payment of emission taxes levied by the board.

A condensed substantive statement of the rules and regulations and the penalty for their violation shall be published after adoption once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper with general circulation in the area in which the authority is located, which notice shall advise that breach of the rules and regulations will subject the violator to a penalty and that the full text of the rules and regulations is on file in the principal office of the authority where it may be read by any interested person. Such rules and regulations shall become effective 10 days after the second publication.

The board may set reasonable penalties for the breach of any rule or regulation of the authority which shall not exceed fines of more than $200 or imprisonment for more than 30 days or both. Such penalties shall be in addition to any other penalties provided by the laws of the state and may be enforced by complaint filed in the appropriate court of jurisdiction in the county in which the authority's principal office is located.

An authority may employ its own peace officers with power to make arrests when necessary to prevent or abate the commission of an offense against the rules and regulations of the authority and against the laws of the state when the offense or threatened offense occurs on any land, easement, right-of-way, rolling stock or other property owned and controlled by the authority and to make arrests in cases of an offense involving injury or detriment to any property owned or controlled by the authority.

Tort Claims

Sec. 13A. Any authority established hereunder shall be within the definition of "unit of government" as defined by the Texas Tort Claims Act, as amended (Article 6252-19, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and all operations of an authority are deemed to be essential governmental functions and not proprietary functions for all purposes, including the application of the Texas Tort Claims Act.

Contracts for Construction, Goods, or Services

Sec. 14. (a) Contracts for more than $5,000 for the construction of improvements or the purchase of material, machinery, equipment supplies and all other property except real property, shall be let on competitive bids after notice published once a week for two consecutive weeks, the first publication to be at least 15 days before the date fixed for receiving bids, in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the authority is located. The board may adopt rules governing the taking of bids and the awarding of such contracts and providing for the waiver of this requirement in the event of emergency. This subsection does not apply to personal and professional services or to the acquisition of existing transit systems.

(b) The board of an authority may not let a contract (1) that is not subject to competitive bidding requirements, (2) that is for more than $10,000 and (3) that is for the purchase of real property or for consulting or professional services, unless an announcement that a contract is being considered is posted in a prominent place in the principal office of the authority for at least two weeks before the contract is awarded. This subsection does not apply to the acquisition of existing transit systems.

Exemption of Bicity Metropolitan Areas

Sec. 15. It is specifically provided that there shall not be included within the metropolitan area, as herein defined, any part of the territory situated within a bicounty metropolitan area. For the purpose of this exclusion, a "bicounty metropolitan area" is defined as an area comprised of two continuous counties in each of which is located a city having a population of 350,000 or more according to the last preceding or any future federal census.

County Authority to Contract with Authority

Sec. 15A. A commissioners court may contract with an authority for the authority to provide public transportation services to any unincorporated area outside the boundaries of the authority for a term and on those conditions as are determined to be desirable by the commissioners court and the board. The county may levy and collect taxes or pledge and encumber other receipts or revenues as may be required to make any payments to the authority under the provisions of the contract.

Elections

Sec. 15B. (a) This section governs all elections ordered by the board except elections held under the provisions of Section 5 of this Act.

(b) Notice of an election ordered by the board shall be given by publication once a week for three consecutive weeks with the first publication in a newspaper with general circulation in the authority at least 21 days before the election.

(c) A resolution calling an election and the notice of the election are sufficient if the date and hours of the election, the voting places within voting precincts for the election, and the propositions to be voted on are specified. The board may define and declare voting precincts, determine the manner of absentee voting, and prescribe the election officers.

(d) As soon as practicable after an election, the board shall canvass the returns of the election and declare the results.

(e) Where not otherwise provided in this section, the general election laws apply.

Right to Enter Land

Sec. 16. Engineers, employees, and representatives of an authority may go on any land within the authority boundaries to make surveys and examine the land with reference to the location of works, improvements, plants, facilities, equipment or appliances and to attend to any business of the authority; provided that two weeks' notice be given to the owners in possession and that if any of the authority's activities cause damage to the land or property, the land or property shall be restored as nearly as possible to the original state at the sole expense of the authority.

Exemptions from Taxes

Sec. 17. The property, revenues and income of the authority and the interest on bonds and notes issued by the authority shall be exempt from all taxes levied or to be levied by the State of Texas, its political subdivisions, counties or municipal corporations.

Eligibility of Excepted Areas for Federal Funds

Sec. 17A. Ratification by referendum of a regional authority under the terms of this Act by less than all incorporated cities within the metropolitan area as defined herein shall not affect in any way the eligibility of such excepted incorporated cities to receive federal transit grants under the National Mass Transportation Assistance Act of 1974,¹ or any subsequent federal statutes.

Severability Clause

Sec. 18. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act shall nevertheless be valid, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision.

Construction of Act

Sec. 19. This Act shall be liberally construed to carry out the purpose of its adoption. This Act shall be cumulative of other laws on the subject but insofar as the provisions of this Act are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall be controlling.

Art. 1118y. Regional Transportation Authorities

Findings

Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) An increasing proportion of the state's population is located in its rapidly expanding metropolitan areas;

(2) The concentration of population in such areas is accompanied by a corresponding concentration of motor vehicles that emit pollutants into the air and consume great quantities of limited energy resources;

(3) Such concentration of motor vehicles places an undue burden on existing streets, freeways, and other traffic ways, resulting in serious vehicular traffic congestion that retards mobility of persons and property and adversely affects the health and welfare of the citizenry; and

(4) Mobility for all citizens, which must include alternatives to the private passenger motor vehicle, is essential to the continued growth and maintenance of economic vitality of these metropolitan areas.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act, unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) "Authority" means a regional transportation authority created pursuant to this Act.

(2) "County of a principal city" means a county in which the majority of the territory of a principal city is situated.

(3) "Creating entities" means the principal city and/or county of the principal city or any contiguous city as provided in Section 24.

(4) "Executive committee" means the directors of the authority who serve as the governing body of the authority.

(5) "General transportation services" means services that complement the public transportation system, including but not limited to parking garages, special transportation services for the elderly and the handicapped, medical transportation services, assistance in street modifications as necessary to accommodate the public transportation system, and construction of new general aviation facilities or renovation or purchase of existing facilities not served by certificated air carriers in order to relieve air traffic congestion at existing facilities.

(6) "Interim executive committee" means the executive committee selected before the confirmation election for the purpose of guiding the establishment of a permanent authority and creating a service plan.

(7) "Interim subregional board(s)" means the subregional board(s) organized to serve before the holding of the confirmation election.

(8) "Metropolitan area" means a federal standard metropolitan statistical area having a population of more than 500,000, not more than 60 percent of which reside in cities of more than 300,000.

(9) "Population" means the population of a city or area as the context may require, according to the last preceding federal census or if there has been no federal census within the preceding five years, then according to the latest population estimates of the appropriate metropolitan planning organization.

(10) "Principal city" means a city having a population of at least 300,000.

(11) "Public transportation" means the conveyance of passengers and hand-carried packages or baggage of passengers by means of any mode of transportation other than a privately owned vehicle.

(12) "Public transportation system" means all real and personal property owned or held by an authority for public transportation or general transportation service purposes, including but not limited to land, interests in land, buildings, structures, rights-of-way, easements, franchises, rail lines, bus lines, mass transportation facilities, rapid transit facilities, stations, platforms, terminals, rolling stock, garages, shops, equipment and facilities (including vehicle parking areas and facilities and other facilities necessary or convenient for the beneficial use and access of persons and vehicles to public transportation), control houses, signals and land, facilities and equipment for the protection and environmental enhancement of all the facilities.

(13) "Service plan" means an outline of the service that would be provided by the authority to those units of election confirming the authority in an election.

(14) "Subregion" means a principal city, the county of the principal city, and any city or unit of election included within the boundaries of a subregion by the creating entity of that subregion and which is confirmed at an election.

(15) "Subregional board" means the board created to represent a subregion pursuant to Sections 6 and 7 of this Act.

(16) "Unit of election" means any one of the following:

(A) a principal city;

(B) a designated unincorporated area created by the commissioners court of a county of a principal city;

(C) any other incorporated city located within the territory of an authority.

Creation of a Regional Transportation Authority

Sec. 3. A regional transportation authority to provide public transportation and general transportation services may be created in a metropolitan area. The process for creating an authority must be initiated by one of the following methods:

(1) The governing body of a principal city and/or county of the principal city from each subregion may agree to initiate the process to create an authority on their own motions. The principal city and/or the county of the principal city in each subregion may become the creating entity. If the creating entity in one subregion initiates the process and a creating entity in the other subregion does not initiate the process within 60 days, the first subregion may proceed on its own.

(2) If a petition requesting creation of an authority signed by at least five percent of the registered voters of the creating entity is presented, the creating entity or entities receiving the petitions shall initiate the process for creating the authority. If the creating entity in one subregion initiates the process and a creating entity in the other subregion does not initiate the process within 60 days, the first subregion may proceed on its own. The entity to which a petition is presented has the primary responsibility for initiating the authority within a subregion. The principal city and county of the principal city of either subregion, however, may by mutual agreement share the responsibility or shift it to the other entity.

Initiating Procedure

Sec. 4. (a) The process shall be initiated by a resolution or order of each creating entity containing the following provisions:

(1) a description of the boundaries of the territory proposed to be included in the subregion(s) of the authority;

(2) designation of the time(s) and place(s) agreed upon by the creating entity or entities for holding public hearings on the proposal to create the authority.

(b) The boundaries of the proposed authority shall include all territory in the county or counties of the principal city or cities and any additional territory in adjacent counties having more than 52,000 population that is included in the resolution(s) or order(s). A unit of election that has the majority of its population in a county of a principal city shall be included in the subregion of that principal city for the purposes of the initiating procedure.

(c) Notice of the time and place of the public hearings, including a description of the area proposed to be included in the authority, shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in each of the county or counties of the principal city or cities, the first publication to be not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for the hearing. The creating entities shall submit to the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission and the comptroller of public accounts a copy of this notice.

(d) The creating entity or entities shall conduct the hearings at the time and place specified in the notice and may continue the hearings from day to day and from time to time until completed. Any interested person may appear and offer evidence concerning the boundaries and creation of the authority, operation of a regional transportation system, and whether creation of an authority would be of public utility and in the public interest as well as any other facts bearing upon the creation of an authority.

(e) The governing body of each city located within the boundaries of the proposed authority may by resolution confirm the participation of its city in the process established in Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of this Act to develop an initial service plan and rate of tax prior to the confirmation election. If a governing body fails to so confirm within 60 days after the process has been initiated by the creating entity or entities, the creating entity or entities and those governing bodies that have so confirmed may proceed on their own without the participation of the nonconfirming governing bodies.

(f) The commissioners court of each county in which unincorporated areas are located within the boundaries of the proposed authority may by order confirm the participation of the unincorporated areas in the process established in Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of this Act to develop an initial service plan and rate of tax prior to confirmation election. If a commissioners court fails to so confirm within 60 days after the process has been initiated by the creating entity or entities, the creating entity or entities and those commissioners courts that have so confirmed may proceed on their own without the participation of the nonconfirming commissioners courts.

(g) After hearing the evidence presented at the hearings, but no earlier than 75 days after the process has been initiated by the creating entity or entities, the creating entity or entities shall each adopt the resolution or order designating the name of the authority, listing the names of the cities whose governing bodies and the unincorporated areas whose county commissioners courts have confirmed initial inclusion in the authority, and authorizing appointment of the interim subregional boards and interim executive committee. If one creating entity fails to adopt this resolution or order within 60 days of the action of the other creating entity, the first creating entity may proceed on its own.

(h) After the hearing, the results of the hearing and the boundaries set by the creating entities shall be submitted to the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission and the comptroller of public accounts.

Regional Transportation Authority Executive Committee

Sec. 5. (a) The control and operation of a regional transportation authority and its property shall be vested in an executive committee comprised of 11 members selected as follows:

(1) seven members from the membership of the subregional board in the subregion containing a principal city having a population greater than 800,000; and

(2) four members from the membership of the subregional board in the subregion containing a principal city having a population of less than 800,000.

(b) Before the confirmation election, the subregional boards shall select their representatives to the executive committee from their membership by a vote of the members. After the confirmation election, the subregional boards shall select their representatives in the same manner and those representatives shall serve at the pleasure of the subregional boards with the confirmation of the appointments made each September 1. To remain on the executive committee a person must maintain membership on a subregional board. A vacancy on the executive committee shall be filled in the same manner as original appointments.

(c) Following the confirmation election each member of the subregional board shall be entitled to the sum of $50 for each meeting of the executive committee or subregional board attended and shall be reimbursed for necessary and reasonable expenses incurred in the discharge of duties.

(d) The members of the executive committee shall elect from among their number a chairman, vice-chairman, and a secretary. The executive committee may appoint such assistant secretaries, either members or nonmembers of the executive committee, as it deems necessary. The secretary and assistant secretary or secretaries shall in addition to keeping the permanent records of all proceedings and transactions of the authority perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the executive committee. No member of the executive committee or officer of the authority shall be pecuniarily interested or benefited directly or indirectly in any contract or agreement to which the authority is a party.

(e) The executive committee shall hold at least one regular meeting during each month for the purpose of transacting the business of the authority. Upon written notice, the chairman may call special meetings as may be necessary. The executive committee when organized shall by resolution set the time, place, and day of the regular meetings and shall adopt rules, regulations, and bylaws as it may deem necessary for the conduct of its official meetings. Eight members shall constitute a quorum of the executive committee for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers, and action may be taken by the authority upon a vote of a majority of the executive committee members present unless the bylaws require a larger number for a particular action.

(f) The executive committee shall receive recommendations for the annual budget from each of the subregional boards and shall obtain approval from each subregional board of the final annual budget as it pertains to that board's subregion. The executive committee shall make its proposed annual budget available to the governing bodies of the cities within the authority at least 30 days prior to adoption of the final annual budget.

Subregional Board in a Subregion Having a Principal City With Population in Excess of 800,000

Sec. 6. (a) The subregional board in a subregion having a principal city with population in excess of 800,000 shall be organized in accordance with this section.

(b) The commissioners court of the county of the principal city shall appoint one member.

(c) The remaining members of the subregional board shall be apportioned according to the ratio which the population of each incorporated city bears to the total population of the territory included within the subregion. Any combination of cities aggregating a total population of 60,000 shall be entitled to one member on the interim subregional board. Following the confirmation election, any combination of cities who have voted confirmation of the authority may aggregate a population of at least 60,000 for the purpose of appointing one member to the initial subregional board. In establishing the interim subregional board, if the results of the 1980 federal census are unavailable, the most recent population estimates of the appropriate metropolitan planning organization will be used.

(d) No city will be entitled to appoint more than 65 percent of the board members. If it would be so entitled pursuant to Subsection (c) of this section, it will be limited to 65 percent and the remaining members will be apportioned among the other cities in the subregion according to the provisions of Subsection (c) of this section.

(e) Prior to 60 days following the date for establishment of the board or restructuring of the board pursuant to Subsection (f) of this section, any two or more cities lacking a specifically designated board member may combine to be treated as a single city for purposes of Subsection (c) of this section, but no combination will be entitled to appoint more than one member of the board.

(f) Every five years as of the first day of September following the date the census data or population estimates become available, or when a city or an unincorporated area withdraws from or joins in the authority, the board shall be restructured pursuant to Subsections (c) and (h) of this section, if warranted by the withdrawal or addition of cities or unincorporated areas, or by population changes or changes in combinations established pursuant to Subsection (e) of this section.

(g) The members of the board shall serve at the pleasure of the governing body of each appointing governmental entity. The governing body shall confirm its board appointment to begin terms on the first day of September each year.

(h) The total number of members comprising the board shall be governed by the total population of the territory included in the subregion. Specifically, the board size shall be determined by the following formula:

Total Population in Subregion	Total Members on Subregional Board
Less than 1,000,000	15
1,000,000 to 1,400,000	21
1,400,000 plus	25

(i) Should a city be entitled to more than one board member, the governing body may appoint a number of members less than those allocated, who will be entitled to the same number of votes as the number of members allocated, but a member so appointed shall not cast divided votes.

(j) Sixty-five percent of the members constitutes a quorum for the purpose of conducting business and actions may be taken upon a majority vote of the members present so long as there is a quorum.

Subregional Board in a Subregion Having a Principal City with Population Less than 800,000

Sec. 7. (a) The subregional board in a subregion having a principal city with population less than 800,000 shall be organized in accordance with this section.

(b) The interim subregional board shall be comprised of nine members appointed as follows:

(1) four members appointed by the governing body of the principal city;

(2) four members appointed by the commissioners court of the county of the principal city; and

(3) one member appointed by the governing body of a city having a population in excess of 100,000.

(c) The permanent subregional board shall be comprised of nine members appointed as follows:

(1) If the entire county of the principal city is confirmed as all or part of the authority, the permanent subregional board shall be appointed in the same manner as the interim subregional board.

(2) If less than the entire county of the principal city is confirmed as all or part of the authority the permanent subregional board shall be appointed as follows:

(A) The commissioners court of the county of the principal city shall appoint at least one member to represent the unincorporated areas and incorporated cities of the county which are not otherwise represented on the subregional board.

(B) The remaining members shall be apportioned to the incorporated cities confirmed as all or part of the subregion according to the ratio which the population of each unit of election bears to the total population of the area confirmed as the subregion. Units of election which fail to receive at least one member shall be aggregated with the county to determine population represented by the county, and appropriate additional members, if any, shall be so apportioned to the county. Units of election which are entitled to one or more members shall have the number of members rounded to the nearest whole number to determine actual apportionment.

(d) Six members of the subregional board shall constitute a quorum of the board for the purpose of conducting business and action may be taken by a majority vote of the members present so long as there is a quorum.

Membership, Terms, Meetings, and Responsibilities of Subregional Boards

Sec. 8. (a) Members of subregional boards must be registered voters residing within the boundaries of the authority. They shall serve at the pleasure of the appointing local governing bodies. Reaffirmation of the appointments will be required each September 1. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as original appointments.

(b) A subregional board shall elect from among its membership a chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary. The board may appoint such assistant secretaries, either members or nonmembers of the board, as it deems necessary. The secretary and assistant secretary or secretaries shall in addition to keeping the permanent records of all proceedings and transactions of the board perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the board. No member of a subregional board shall be pecuniarily interested or benefited directly or indirectly in any contract or agreement to which the authority is a party.

(c) A subregional board when organized shall by resolution set the time, place, and day of the regular meetings and shall likewise adopt rules and regulations and such bylaws as it may deem necessary for the conduct of its official meetings and special meetings called by written notice of the chairman or vice-chairman.

(d) The subregional boards shall:

(1) develop, recommend, and approve the annual budget for the appropriate subregion and shall make recommendations for the overall budget; and

(2) make recommendations to the executive committee for operation of services provided by the authority.

Confirmation Election

Sec. 9. (a) After the interim executive committee has organized, it shall develop a service plan and a rate of tax that it desires to levy. After the interim executive committee approves a service plan and a rate of tax that it desires to levy, the governing body of each city acting on behalf of the city and the commissioners court in the county of each unincorporated area acting on behalf of the unincorporated area may by resolution or order approve the service plan and rate of tax. If any governing body or commissioners court fails to so approve within 45 days after the interim executive committee has approved a service plan and rate of tax, the city or the unincorporated area upon whose behalf the governing body or commissioners court acts shall not participate in the service plan nor in a confirmation election that shall be called by the interim executive committee in accordance with the provisions of this section; provided, however, that if the governing body of the principal city of a subregion does not approve the service plan and rate of tax, the interim executive committee shall not call a confirmation election in that subregion.

(b) Not earlier than 60 days after the interim executive committee has approved a service plan and rate of tax, the interim executive committee shall:

(1) finally approve a service plan and rate of tax after modifying its approved service plan and rate of tax only to reflect the nonparticipation of certain cities or unincorporated areas in the service plan; and

(2) notify the commissioners court of each county included in whole or in part within the initial boundaries of the authority of its intention to call a confirmation election. Within 30 days after receipt of the notice, each commissioners court by order shall create not more than five designated units of election in the unincorporated portion of the appropriate county. Each designated unit of election shall have outer boundaries, to the extent practicable, that coincide with a boundary of a county voting precinct so that insofar as practicable no county voting precinct is divided between two different designated election areas.

(c) When the executive committee orders a confirmation election, it shall submit to the qualified voters of cities and unincorporated areas participating in the election within the authority the following proposition:

"Shall the creation of (name of authority) be confirmed and shall the levy of the proposed tax, not to exceed (rate), be authorized?"

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, notice of the election shall be given in accordance with the general election laws. The notice of the election shall include a description of the nature and rate of the proposed tax. A copy of the notice of the election and any other election held pursuant to this Act shall be furnished to the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission and the comptroller of public accounts.

(e) The election shall be conducted so that votes are separately tabulated and canvassed in each participating unit of election within the authority.

(f) Immediately after the election, the presiding judge of each election precinct shall return the results to the executive committee, which shall canvass the returns and declare the results separately with respect to each unit of election. In those units of election where a majority of the votes cast is in favor of the confirmation of the creation of the authority and the levy of the proposed tax, the authority shall continue to exist; except that unless the vote is favorable in the unit of election which includes the principal city, or in contiguous units of election where the population when aggregated in all the units exceeds 300,000, the authority shall cease to exist in that subregion. If the votes cast are such that the authority will continue to exist in either or both subregions, the executive committee shall enter the results on its minutes and adopt an order declaring that the creation of the authority is confirmed and describing the territory which comprises the authority. All units of election approving the authority and proposed tax shall be included in the authority if their subregion is included, unless the executive committee of the authority notifies the appropriate governing body in writing that it is excepted from the authority and proposed tax because it is not contiguous to the existing authority and would create a fiscal hardship on the authority. A certified copy of the order adopted by the executive committee shall be filed with the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission and the comptroller of public accounts. The order shall reflect the date of the election, the proposition voted on, the total number of votes cast for and against the proposition in each unit of election, and the number of votes by which the proposition was approved in each election unit and shall be accompanied by a map of the authority clearly showing the boundaries of the authority.

(g) If the votes cast are such that the authority ceases to exist in its entirety, the executive committee shall enter an order so declaring and file a certified copy of the order with the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission and the comptroller of public accounts, and the authority shall be dissolved.

(h) The cost of the confirmation election shall be paid by the creating entity or entities.

(i) If the election results in the confirmation of an authority, the authority shall, within the limits confirmed, be authorized to function in accordance with the terms of this Act, and the executive committee may levy and collect the proposed tax within those limits. In no event shall the tax authorized under this Act be levied in any unit of election which has failed to confirm the authority.

(j) If the continued existence of an authority is not confirmed by election within three years after the effective date of the resolution(s) or order(s) initiating the process to create the authority, the authority ceases to exist on the expiration of the three years.

(k) For a period of one year following a confirmation election, the governing body of any unit of election may on its own volition or shall, upon receipt of a petition containing signatures of at least 20 percent of the registered voters within that unit of election, call an election and offer the following proposition: "Shall the (name of authority) be dissolved in (unit of election)?" Should the majority of voters voting in the election vote to dissolve the authority within the unit of election, the authority shall cease to exist within the unit of election as of 12:00 midnight on the date of the canvass of the election and all financial obligations of that unit of election will cease to accrue at that time. The financial obligation shall be computed on a per capita basis for the entire year and taxes will continue to be collected until such time as all financial obligations of the unit of election are paid, at which time the taxes collected to support the authority shall cease within that unit of election.

(l) Should the governing body within a unit of election call an election on its own volition or upon petition as provided in Subsection (k) of this section for the purpose of dissolving the authority within the unit of election more than 12 months after the confirmation election, at least 12 months' notice of intent to hold the election must be provided to the executive committee, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and the comptroller of public accounts.

Powers of the Authority

Sec. 10. (a) The authority when created and confirmed shall constitute a public body corporate and politic, exercising public and essential governmental functions, having all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this Act, including but not limited to the following powers granted in this section.

(b) The authority shall have perpetual succession.

(c) The authority may sue and be sued in all courts of competent jurisdiction and may institute and prosecute suits without giving security for costs and may appeal from a judgment or judgments without giving supersedeas or cost bond.

(d) The authority may acquire by grant, purchase, gift, devise, lease, or otherwise and may hold, use, sell, lease, or dispose of real and personal property of every kind and nature whatsoever and licenses, patents, rights, and interests necessary, convenient, or useful for the full exercise of any of its powers pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

(e) The authority shall have the power to acquire, construct, complete, develop, plan, own, operate, and maintain a system or systems within its boundaries and both within and without the boundaries of incorporated cities, towns, and villages and political subdivisions and for such purposes shall have the right to use the streets, alleys, roads, highways, and other public ways and to relocate, raise, reroute, change the grade of, and alter the construction of any street, alley, highway, road, railroad, electric lines and facilities, telegraph and telephone properties and facilities, cable television lines and facilities, pipelines and facilities, conduits and facilities, and other properties, whether publicly or privately owned, as necessary or useful in the construction, reconstruction, repair, maintenance, and operation of the system or to cause each and all of said things to be done at the authority's sole expense. The authority shall not proceed with any action to change, alter, or damage the property or facilities of the state, its municipal corporations, agencies, or political subdivisions or of owners of such property or facilities, without having first obtained the written consent of such owners or unless the authority shall have first obtained the right to take such action under its power of eminent domain as herein specified. In the event the owners of such property or facilities desire to handle any such relocation, raising, change in the grade of, or alteration in the construction of such property or facilities with their own forces or to cause the same to be done by contractors of their own choosing, the authority shall have the power to enter into agreements with such owners providing for the necessary relocations, changes, or alterations of such property or facilities by the owners and/or such contractors and the reimbursement by the authority to such owners of the costs incurred by such owners in making such relocations, changes, or alterations and/or in causing the same to be accomplished by such contractors.

(f) In the event the authority in exercising any of the powers conferred by this Act makes necessary the relocation, adjustment, raising, lowering, rerouting, or changing the grade of or altering the construction of any street, alley, highway, or road; any railroad track, bridge, or other facilities or properties; any electric lines, conduits, or other facilities or properties; any gas transmission or distribution pipes, pipelines, mains, or other facilities or properties; any water, sanitary sewer, or storm sewer pipes, pipelines, mains, or other facilities or properties; any telegraph and telephone lines or other facilities or properties; any cable television lines, cables, conduits, or other facilities or properties; or any other pipelines and any facilities or properties relating thereto, any and all such relocations, adjustments, raising, lowering, rerouting, or changing of grade or altering of construction shall be accomplished at the sole cost and expense of the authority, and all damages which may be suffered by the owners of such property or facilities shall be borne by the authority.

(g) The authority shall have the right of eminent domain to acquire lands in fee simple and any interest less than fee simple in, on, under, and above lands, including, without limitation, easements, rights-of-way, rights of use of air space or subsurface space, or any combination thereof; provided that this right shall not be exercised without the approval of each proposed acquisition in a city by the governing body of that city and the approval of each proposed acquisition in an unincorporated area by the commissioners court of the county of that unincorporated area; and provided further that such right shall not be exercised in a manner which would unduly impair the then existing neighborhood character of property surrounding or adjacent to the property sought to be condemned or unduly interfere with interstate commerce or which would authorize the authority to run its vehicles on railroad tracks which are used to transport property.

(h) Eminent domain proceedings brought by the authority shall be governed by the provisions of Title 52, Eminent Domain, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as they now exist or hereafter may be amended,¹ insofar as such provisions are not inconsistent with this Act. Proceedings for the exercise of the power of eminent domain shall be commenced by the adoption by the executive committee of a resolution declaring the public necessity for the acquisition by the authority of the property or interest therein described in the resolution, and that such acquisition is necessary and proper for the construction, extension, improvement, or development of the system and is in the public interest. The resolution of the authority and the approval of the resolution by the appropriate governing body or commissioners court shall be conclusive evidence of the public necessity of such proposed acquisition and that such real or personal property or interest therein is necessary for public use.

(i) The authority shall have the power to enter into agreements with any other public utility, private utility, communication system, common carrier, or transportation system for the joint use of their respective facilities, installations and properties within the authority and to establish through routes, joint fares, or transfer of passengers.

(j) The authority shall establish and maintain rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, or other compensation for the use of the facilities of the system acquired, constructed, operated, or maintained by the authority which shall be reasonable and nondiscriminatory and which together with grants and receipts from taxes collected by the authority shall be sufficient to produce revenues adequate:

(1) to pay all expenses necessary to the operation and maintenance of the properties and facilities of the authority;

(2) to pay the interest on and principal of all bonds issued by the authority under this Act which are payable in whole or in part from such revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable;

(3) to pay all sinking fund and reserve fund payments agreed to be made in respect of any such bonds, and payable out of such taxes and revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable; and

(4) to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of such bonds or with any person in their behalf.

(k) It is the intention of this Act that taxes levied and the rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, and other compensation for the use of the facilities of the system shall not be in excess of what may be necessary to fulfill the obligations imposed upon the authority by this Act. Nothing herein shall be construed as depriving the State of Texas of its power to regulate and control such taxes, rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, and other compensation; provided that the State of Texas does hereby pledge to and agree with the purchasers and successive holders of the bonds issued hereunder that the state will not limit or alter the powers hereby vested in the authority to establish and collect such taxes, rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, and other compensation as will produce revenues sufficient to pay the items specified in Subdivisions (1), (2), (3), and (4), Subsection (j) of this section or in any way to impair the rights or remedies of the holders of the bonds or of any person in their behalf until the bonds, together with the interest thereon, with interest on unpaid installments of interest, and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceedings by or on behalf of the bondholders and all other obligations of the authority in connection with such bonds are fully met and discharged.

(l) The authority may make contracts, leases, and agreements with and accept grants and loans from the United States of America, its departments and agencies, the State of Texas, its agencies, counties, municipalities, and political subdivisions, and public or private corporations and persons and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in it. The authority may acquire rolling stock or other property under conditional sales contracts, leases, equipment trust certificates, or any other form of contract or trust agreement. Any revenue bond indenture may provide limitations upon the exercise of the powers stated in this section and such limitations shall apply so long as any of the revenue bonds issued pursuant to such indenture are outstanding and unpaid.

(m) The authority may sell, lease, convey, or otherwise dispose of any of its rights, interests, or properties which are not needed for or, in the case of leases, which are not inconsistent with the efficient operation and maintenance of the system. It may sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of at any time any surplus materials or personal or real property not needed for its requirements or for the purpose of carrying out its power under this Act.

(n) The authority shall by resolution make all rules and regulations governing the use, operation, and maintenance of the system and shall determine all routings and change the same whenever it is deemed advisable. The authority shall encourage to the maximum extent feasible the participation of private enterprise.

(o) The authority shall have the power to lease the system or any part thereof to or contract for the use or operation of the system or any part thereof by any operator.

(p) The acquisition of any land or interest therein pursuant to this Act, the planning, acquisition, establishment, development, construction, improvement, maintenance, equipment, operation, regulation, protection, and policing of the authority's system and facilities, and the exercise of any other powers herein granted an authority are hereby declared to be public and governmental functions, exercised for a public purpose, and matters of public necessity.

(q) The authority may contract with any city, county, or other political subdivision for the authority to provide public transportation services to any area outside the boundaries of the authority on such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by the parties.

(r) The authority shall have the power to acquire, construct, complete, develop, plan, own, operate, and maintain a public transportation system and general transportation services within its boundaries and both within and without the boundaries of incorporated cities, towns, and villages and political subdivisions. The powers of the authority may be approved all or in part by referenda proposed by the executive committee. These powers as they relate to a public transportation system and general transportation services are identical to those outlined in other subsections of this section.

(s) The executive committee of the authority may establish a security force and provide for the employment of security personnel. The executive committee may commission any employee of the security force established under this Act as a peace officer if he is certified as qualified to be a peace officer by the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. Any person commissioned as a peace officer under this Act shall give an oath and such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the executive committee may require. The bond shall be approved by the executive committee and made payable to the authority. It shall be filed with the executive committee. Any peace officer commissioned under this Act shall be vested with all the rights, privileges, obligations, and duties of any other peace officer in this state while he is on the property under the control of the authority or in the actual course and scope of his employment.

(t) Any and all law enforcement police powers granted pursuant to this section shall be subordinate to the law enforcement police power of an incorporated city wherein the power is attempted to be exercised.

¹ Article 3264 et seq. (generally repealed; see, now, Property Code, § 21.001 et seq.).

Authorities Consisting of One Subregion Governed by Subregional Board Created in Section 6; Changes in Service Plan; Procedure

Sec. 10A. (a) After the confirmation election in an authority consisting of one subregion governed by an executive committee comprised of the subregional board created in Section 6, the executive committee shall implement the service plan as finally approved by the interim executive committee. No change may be made in the service plan unless the executive committee follows the procedures provided in this section.

(b) For the purposes of this section "major change in the service plan" means:

(1) one or more of the following changes in the provisions of the service plan for a fixed guideway system:

(A) a change in the location of the right-of-way;

(B) a change in the width of the right-of-way if a width is stated in the service plan or the establishment of a width if no width is stated;

(C) a change in grade separation if a grade separation is stated in the service plan or the establishment of a grade separation if no grade separation is stated;

(D) a change that moves the location of a station; or

(E) a change causing the vertical alignment of a guideway to be redefined between the classification of aerial, at-grade, or subgrade if a vertical alignment is stated in the service plan or the establishment of a vertical alignment if no vertical alignment is stated; or

(2) a change that moves the location, as specified in the service plan, of one of the following facilities:

(A) a parking lot;

(B) a maintenance facility; or

(C) an off-street transfer center; or

(3) the addition of a facility listed in Subsection (b)(1) or (2) or the addition of a route for a fixed guideway system.

(c) Before approving a major change in the service plan, the executive committee shall cause written notice of a public hearing on the proposed change to be sent to:

(1) all owners of real property lying within 400 feet of the proposed boundary of the right-of-way or the proposed boundary of property on which the facility is to be located; and

(2) the governing body of each city and county in which the changed or additional right-of-way or facility is to be located.

(d) The measurement of the 400 feet includes streets and alleys.

(e) The notice must be given not less than 20 days before the date of the hearing by depositing the notice properly addressed and postage paid in the United States mail to each governing body and to the property owners as indicated on the last approved city or county tax roll.

(f) After a public hearing, the executive committee may approve a major change in the service plan by a favorable vote of two-thirds of the members present. Other changes in the service plan may be approved by a majority vote of the members present at a meeting without the notice described in Subsection (c) and without a public hearing.

(g) After approval of a major change in the service plan, the executive committee shall give notice that the change has been approved to:

(1) the governing body of each county in which the changed or additional right-of-way or facility is to be located if the change is located in an unincorporated area; and

(2) the governing body of each city in which the changed or additional right-of-way or facility is to be located.

(h) If a major change in the service plan includes the addition of a fixed guideway route, including a route to be added pursuant to an agreement provided for in Section 10(i) of this Act, the governing bodies of each city through which the route would pass, must approve the route before the executive committee may add the route to the service plan.

(i) If there is a conflict between this section and Section 10(n), this section shall control.

Authorities Consisting of One Subregion Governed by Subregional Board Created in Section 6; Fare and Service Changes; Public Hearing

Sec. 10B. (a) For the purposes of this section:

(1) "Transit route" means a route over which a transit vehicle travels which is specifically labelled or numbered for the purpose of picking up or discharging passengers at regularly scheduled stops and intervals.

(2) "Transit route mile" means a distance of one statute mile along a transit route regularly travelled by transit vehicles while available for the general public to carry passengers. The length of a route is the round trip distance traversed in traveling completely over the route and returning to the starting point to begin another circuit of the route. If a route is only defined in one direction, then this one-directional distance is the route length.

(3) "Transit revenue vehicle mile" means a distance of one statute mile travelled while a transit vehicle is available to the general public to carry passengers.

(4) "Service change" means any addition or deletion resulting in the physical realignment of a transit route, or a change in the type of frequency of service provided in a specific, regularly scheduled transit route.

(5) "Experimental service change" means an addition of service to an existing transit route or the establishment of a new transit route.

(b) An authority consisting of one subregion governed by an executive committee comprised of the subregional board created in Section 6 must hold a public hearing when:

- (1) there is a change in any fare;
- (2) there is any change of service of:

(A) 25 percent or more of the number of transit route miles of a transit route; or

(B) 25 percent or more of the number of transit revenue vehicle miles of a transit route computed on a daily basis for the day of the week for which the change is made; or

- (3) a new transit route is established.

(c) A public hearing is not required for:

(1) reduced or free promotional fares which are instituted on a daily basis or periodically within a period of 180 days;

(2) headway adjustments of up to five minutes during peak hour service, and up to 15 minutes during nonpeak hour service;

(3) standard seasonal variations unless the number, timing, or type of standard seasonal variations changes;

(4) an emergency service change in effect for 180 days or less. A public hearing on the emergency change must be held if the emergency change is to be in effect for more than 180 days and if the change meets the test of Subsection (b)(2) or (3). Examples of emergency service changes include but are not limited to those made because of a power failure for a rail or fixed guideway system, the collapse of a bridge over which bus routes pass, major road or rail construction, inadequate supplies of fuel, or a labor stoppage;

(5) experimental service changes in effect for 180 days or less. The public hearing on an experimental service change is required if the experimental service change remains in effect for more than 180 days and if the change meets the test of Subsection (b)(2) or (3). The hearing may be held prior to the institution of or during the period of the experimental service change and will satisfy the requirement for a final public hearing if the hearing notice required by Subsection (e) states that the experiment may become permanent at the end of the experimental period. If a hearing is not held prior to or during the period of the experimental service change, the service that existed prior to the change must be reinstated at the end of 180 days and a public hearing held in accordance with Subsection (e) before the experimental service may be continued.

(d) If a number of changes on a route in a fiscal year add up to the percentages in Subsection (b), a public hearing must be held before the last change.

(e) When a public hearing is required by this section, the executive committee shall call the public hearing and cause notice of the hearing to be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation within the territory of the authority at least 30 days before the date of the hearing and shall cause notice to be posted in each transit vehicle in service on any transit route affected by the proposed change for a period of at least two weeks within 30 days before the date of the hearing. The notice must contain:

(1) a description of the contemplated service changes, or the fare change, as appropriate;

(2) the time and place of the hearing; and

(3) if a hearing required by Subsection (d) is held, a description of the last change being contemplated and the prior changes that were made.

(f) The public hearing requirement of this section will be satisfied if a fare change or change in service is addressed at a public hearing which is mandated by federal law. The requirements of Subsection (e) must be followed for the hearing.

Addition of Territory

Sec. 11. (a) Territory may be added to an authority only according to the provisions of this section.

(b) The governing body of an incorporated city or town located in whole or in part within a county in which the authority is situated may hold an election on the question of whether the city or town shall be annexed to the authority. If a majority of the qualified voters in the city or town votes for annexation, the governing body shall certify the results of the election to the executive committee of the authority, and the city or town shall become a part of the authority, except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section. Should a principal city of another subregion or the other subregion choose to join the authority, the procedures outlined in Sections 3 and 4 of this Act shall apply. Following the conduct of an election as directed by Section 9 of this Act, a subregional board will be established according to either Section 6 or Section 7 of this Act. The executive committee existing before the additional subregional board is created will be modified to conform with Section 5 of this Act.

(c) A city of 150,000 to 170,000 according to the last preceding decennial census located in a county with a principal city having a population of less than 800,000 according to the last preceding decennial census may join a separate authority upon otherwise complying with the terms of this Act. In such event thereafter, should a separate authority be established in a county with a principal city of less than 800,000 population according to the last preceding decennial census, any city within such county which has voted to participate with any authority created pursuant to this Act shall have the following options at that time: to remain a part of the earlier created authority, to join the new authority in the county in which the city is located, or to participate with both authorities. Provided that any such city wherein capital improvements have been previously made at its request by an authority must upon its transfer to a different authority or participation with more than one authority continue to honor reimbursement obligations resulting from such improvements.

(d) The commissioners court of a county in which the authority is situated in whole or in part or that is adjacent to a county in which the authority is situated in whole or in part may hold an election for unincorporated areas in any one or more of the designated election areas formed for the election by order of the commissioners court on the question of whether the unincorporated area in which the election is held shall be annexed to the authority. The boundaries of a designated election area shall coincide to the extent practicable with the boundary of a county voting precinct so that insofar as practicable no county voting precinct is divided. If a majority of the qualified voters in any area where such an election is held votes in favor of annexation, the commissioners court shall certify the results of the election to the executive committee of the authority, and the unincorporated area shall become a part of the authority, except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section.

(e) If a city or town which is a part of an authority lawfully annexes additional territory which is not a part of the authority, the annexed territory becomes a part of the authority.

(f)(1) If an authority adds territory or alters its boundaries, the presiding officer of the executive committee shall forward to the comptroller of public accounts by United States registered mail or certified mail a certified copy of the order adding territory to the authority or of the order canvassing the returns and declaring the result of the election. The order shall reflect the effective date of the tax and shall be accompanied by a map of the authority clearly showing the territory added or detached.

(2) Upon receipt of the order and map, the tax imposed and authorized to be collected under Section 16 of this Act shall be effective in the added territory on the first day of the next succeeding quarter. However, if the comptroller notifies the presiding officer of the executive committee in writing within 10 days after receipt of the order and map that he requires more time, the comptroller shall be entitled to delay implementation one whole calendar quarter. Thereafter the tax shall be effective in the added territory on the first day of the next succeeding calendar quarter following the elapsed quarter.

(g) Territory in which an election is held as provided in Subsection (b) or (d) of this section becomes a part of the authority on the 31st day after the election, if the voters approve the addition as provided in Subsection (b) or (d) of this section, and unless the executive committee of the authority notifies the appropriate governing body in writing before that date that the addition, because it is not contiguous to the existing authority, would create a fiscal hardship on the authority.

(h) Separate subregional authorities created pursuant to this Act may voluntarily merge upon a subsequent agreement between them.

Separate Subregional Authority

Sec. 12. In the event one subregion should establish a regional transportation authority, the remaining subregion may establish a separate regional transportation authority pursuant to this Act. In a separate subregion with a principal city of less than 800,000, the tax rate shall be approved by the commissioners court before confirmation election as provided in Section 9 of this Act.

Composition of the Executive Committee

Sec. 13. If the existence of the authority is confirmed in both subregions, then the executive committee shall be organized as provided in Section 5 of this Act. If a creating entity in only one subregion initiates the process or if the existence of the authority is confirmed in only one subregion or separate subregion, then the board for that subregion shall become the executive committee and governing body of the authority, and members of the executive committee shall be selected in the manner prescribed for selection of the members of the board for the subregion that comprises the authority.

Station or Terminal Complexes

Sec. 14. (a) The acquisition of any land or any interest in land pursuant to this Act; the planning, acquisition, establishment, development, construction, improvement, maintenance, equipment, operation, regulation, protection, and policing of the authority's system and facilities; and the exercise of any other powers granted an authority, including without limitation the rights, powers, and authority relating to station or terminal complexes as provided in this section, are declared to be public and governmental functions, exercised for a public purpose, and matters of public necessity for public use and public benefit.

(b) The authority shall have the right, power, and authority to acquire by grant, purchase, gift, devise, lease, or eminent domain proceedings and to own lands in fee simple and any interest less than fee simple in, on, under, and above lands, including without limitation easements, rights-of-way, rights of use of air space or subsurface space or any combination thereof adjacent or accessible to stations and other public or general transportation facilities developed or to be developed by the authority that may be required for or in aid of the development of one or more station or terminal complexes, as part of its transportation system and may sell, lease, or otherwise transfer the same or any part thereof to individuals, corporations, or governmental entities, subject to the restrictions provided in this section.

(c) Any lands or interests in land acquired for a station or terminal complex must be part of or contained within a station or terminal complex designated as part of the system within a comprehensive service plan approved by resolution of the executive committee. Before a station or terminal complex may be included in the system, the executive committee must find and determine that the proposed station or terminal complex will encourage and provide for efficient and economical public transportation service, will facilitate access to public transportation service and provide other public transportation purposes, will reduce vehicular congestion and air pollution in the metropolitan area, and is reasonably essential to the successful operation of the system. The executive committee may amend its comprehensive service plan to include other station or terminal complexes upon making these findings.

(d) Any station or terminal complex shall include adequate provisions for the transfer of passengers between the various modes of transportation available to the complex. A complex may include provisions for commercial, residential, recreational, institutional, and industrial facilities, except that no lands or interests in land more than 1,500 feet in distance from the center point of the complex may be acquired for the facilities by eminent domain proceedings, and the executive committee shall designate the center point prior to the commencement of eminent domain proceedings. If a proposed station or terminal complex is to be located within the city limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city or town, the governing body of the city or town must approve the location of the complex as to conform with the comprehensive or general plan of the city or town by motion, resolution, or ordinance duly adopted.

(e) The authority may sell, lease, or otherwise transfer lands or interests in land acquired within a station or terminal complex and may enter into contracts with respect to it in accordance with the comprehensive service plan approved by the executive committee, subject to such covenants, conditions, and restrictions, including covenants running with the land and obligations to commence construction within a specified time, as the executive committee may deem to be in the public interest or necessary to carry out the purposes of this section, all of which shall be incorporated into the instrument transferring or conveying title or right of use. Any lease, sale, or transfer shall be at fair value taking into account the use designated for the land in the comprehensive service plan for the system and the restrictions on and the covenants, conditions, and obligations assumed by the purchaser, lessee, or transferee. However, if the authority offers the property for sale, the original owner from whom the property was acquired by eminent domain proceedings or through threat of eminent domain proceedings has the first right to repurchase at the price at which it is offered to the public.

(f) No station or public transportation facility may be considered a "station or terminal complex" governed by this section unless it has been designated as such in the comprehensive service plan pursuant to the specific authority granted by this section.

Bonds and Notes

Sec. 15. (a) The authority shall have no power to assess, levy, or collect ad valorem taxes on property, nor to issue any bonds or notes secured by ad valorem tax revenues. The authority, however, shall have the full power to issue bonds and notes from time to time and in such amounts as it shall consider necessary or appropriate for the acquisition, purchase, construction, reconstruction, repair, equipping, improvement, or extension of the transportation system and all properties thereof whether real, personal, or mixed. All such bonds and notes shall be fully negotiable and may be made redeemable before maturity at the option of the issuing authority at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the issuing authority in the resolution authorizing such bonds or notes and may be sold at public or private sale whichever the executive committee may deem more advantageous.

(b) Prior to delivery, all bonds and notes authorized to be issued hereunder and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for examination, and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with the constitution and this Act and that they will be binding obligations of the authority, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and after such approval and registration and the sale and delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, they shall be incontestable.

(c) In order to secure the payment of such bonds or notes, such authority shall have full power and authority to encumber and pledge all or any part of the revenue realized from any tax which the authority is authorized to levy and all or any part of the revenues of its transportation system and to mortgage and encumber all or any part of the properties thereof and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired and to prescribe the terms and provisions of such bonds and notes in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. If not prohibited by the resolution or indenture relating to outstanding bonds or notes, any such authority shall have full power and authority to encumber separately any item or items of real estate or personalty, including motorbuses, transit cars and other vehicles, machinery, and other equipment of any nature, and to acquire, use, hold, or contract for any such property under any lease arrangement, chattel mortgage, or conditional sale, including but not limited to transactions commonly known as equipment trust transactions. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting an authority from encumbering any one or more transportation systems for the purpose of purchasing, building, constructing, enlarging, extending, repairing, or reconstructing another one or more of said systems and purchasing necessary property, both real, personal, and mixed, in connection therewith.

(d) Refunding bonds or notes may be issued for the purposes and in the manner provided by general law, including without limitation Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as presently enacted or hereafter amended.

(e) Whenever the revenues of any public transportation system or general transportation services shall be encumbered under this Act, the expense of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, and repairs necessary to render efficient service and every proper item of expense, shall always be a first lien and charge against such revenues. The fares charged for transportation of passengers by any system may be based upon a zone system of determining fares or other fare classification determined by such authority to be reasonable.

(f) All such bonds and notes shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies. Such bonds and notes shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such bonds and notes shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

(g) If revenue bonds are to be issued by an authority to acquire any existing transportation system or any part thereof and the owner thereof is willing to accept said revenue bonds in lieu of cash, then in that event the revenue bonds may be exchanged for the property or for the stock of a corporation owning the property to be dissolved simultaneously.

(h) Bonds payable solely from revenues may be issued by resolution of the executive committee, but no bonds, except refunding bonds, payable wholly or partially from taxes may be issued until authorized by a majority vote of the qualified voters of the authority voting in an election called and held for that purpose.

Local Sales and Use Tax

Sec. 16. (a) Subject to approval at a confirmation election in accordance with this Act, the executive committee is authorized to levy, collect, and impose a local sales and use tax for the benefit of the authority, the sales tax portion of which shall not exceed one percent of receipts from the sale at retail of all taxable items within the authority area which are subject to taxation under the provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, as enacted and as heretofore or hereafter amended.¹ The tax rate may be levied or collected only as a quarter of one percent, a half of one percent, three-quarters of one percent, or one percent. The provisions of this section shall be applicable to the levy, imposition, and collection of the tax.

(b) The following words and terms shall have the following respective meanings unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(1) "Authority area" means the geographical limits of the authority.

(2) "Comptroller" means the Comptroller of Public Accounts of Texas.

(3) "Local sales and use tax" means any sales and use tax imposed by a city within the authority area under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act (Article 1066c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(c) The executive committee by filing a certified copy of the order with the comptroller may authorize and direct the comptroller to collect a rate of tax that is lower than the rate approved by the voters at the confirmation election.

(d) The executive committee shall not increase the tax rate above the rate approved by the voters at the confirmation election without first receiving a majority vote in favor of the increase at an authority-wide election.

(e) Upon actual receipt by the comptroller of notification of adoption, increase, or decrease of a local sales and use tax containing the information required by Subsection (f) of Section 9 of this Act, there shall elapse one whole calendar quarter prior to the adoption, increase, or decrease of a local sales and use tax becoming effective. Thereafter the adoption, increase, or decrease shall be effective beginning on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed calendar quarter.

(f)(1) Every retailer within the authority area shall add the tax imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, any applicable local sales and use tax, and the tax imposed under the authority of this Act to his sale price, and when added, the combined tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price. The combined taxes on the transaction shall be determined by multiplying the amount of the sale by the total of the combined applicable tax rates. Any fraction of one cent which is less than one-half of one cent of tax shall not be collected. Any fraction of one cent of tax equal to one-half of one cent or more shall be collected by the retailer as a whole cent of tax. Provided, however, that any retailer who can establish to the satisfaction of the comptroller that 50 percent or more of his receipts from the sale of taxable items arise from individual transactions where the total sales price when multiplied by the combined rates of the taxes imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, any applicable local sales and use tax, and this section equals an amount that is less than one-half of one cent may exclude the receipts from such sales when reporting and paying the tax imposed under this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable local sales and use tax. No retailer shall avail himself of this provision without prior written approval of the comptroller. The comptroller shall grant such approval when he is satisfied that the retailer qualifies on the basis set forth in this section and when the retailer has submitted satisfactory evidence that he can and will maintain records adequate to substantiate the exclusion herein authorized. Any attempt on the part of any retailer to exercise this provision without prior written approval of the comptroller shall be deemed to be a failure and refusal to pay the taxes imposed by this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable local sales and use tax, and the retailer shall be subject to assessment for both taxes, penalties and interest as provided for in this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable local sales and use tax.

(2)(A) In every authority area where the tax authorized by this Act has been adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Act, there is hereby imposed an excise tax on the storage, use, or other consumption within such authority area of taxable items purchased, leased, or rented from any retailer on or after the effective date for collection of the sales tax portion of the sales and use tax for storage, use, or other consumption in such authority area at the same rate as the sales tax levied under this Act of the sales price of the taxable item or, in the case of leases or rentals, of said lease or rental price. Except as provided in Paragraph (D) of this subdivision, the use tax imposed by this section is not owed to and may not be collected by, for, or in behalf of an authority if no excise tax on the storage, use, or other consumption of an item of tangible personal property is owed to or collected by the state under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act or if the tangible personal property is first stored, used, or consumed within an authority or area that has not adopted the sales and use tax imposed by this section.

(B) In each authority where the tax authorized by this Act has been imposed as provided in this Act, the excise tax imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and any applicable excise tax under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act on the storage, use, or other consumption of taxable items and the excise tax imposed by this Act shall be added together to form a combined rate of excise tax which is equal to the sum of the applicable taxes. The tax imposed by this section shall be collected by the comptroller on behalf of and for the benefit of such authority. The formula prescribed in Subdivision (1) of this subsection shall be applicable to the collection of the excise tax imposed under this section.

(C) The provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act shall be applicable to the collection of the tax imposed by this Subdivision (2), provided that in Subchapter D, Chapter 151, Tax Code,² the name of the authority where the sales and use tax authorized by this Act has been adopted shall be substituted for that of the state where the words "this state" are used to designate the taxing authority or to delimit the tax imposed.

(D) If a sale of tangible personal property is consummated within the state but not within an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section and the tangible personal property is shipped directly into or brought by the purchaser or lessee directly into an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by the authority under Paragraph (A) of this subdivision. The use is considered consummated at the location where the item is first stored, used, or otherwise consumed after the intrastate transit has ceased.

(E) If the tangible personal property is shipped from outside this state to a customer within this state, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Paragraph (A) of this subdivision and not the sales tax imposed by Subdivision

(1) of this subsection. The use is consummated at the first point in this state where the property is stored, used, or otherwise consumed after interstate transit has ceased. Tangible personal property delivered to a point in this state is presumed to be for storage, use, or other consumption at that point until the contrary is established.

(F) There are exempted from the sales taxes imposed by this article receipts from any sale of tangible personal property which, pursuant to the contract of sale, is shipped to a point outside the authority area by the retailer by means of:

- (a) facilities operated by the retailer;
- (b) delivery by the retailer to a carrier for shipment to a consignee at such point; or
- (c) delivery by the retailer to a customs broker or forwarding agent for shipment outside the authority.

If the tangible personal property exempted under this paragraph or under Subparagraph (6) of Section 11B(B)(c) of Chapter 141, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 1118x, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is shipped or delivered directly to a purchaser in another authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by either article, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Subdivision (1) of Subsection (f) of this section.

(3)(A) On and after the effective date of any tax imposed under the provisions of this Act, the comptroller shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement, and operation of the tax, and the comptroller shall collect, in addition to the taxes imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, an additional tax under the authority of this Act specified by the authority, but not to exceed one percent on the receipts from the sale at retail or on the sale price or lease or rental price on the storage, use, or other consumption of all taxable items within such authority area, which items are subject to the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act. The tax imposed hereunder and the tax imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and any applicable local sales and use tax shall be collected together and reported upon such forms and under such administrative rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the comptroller not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. On and after the effective date of any proposition to abolish such local sales and use tax in any authority area, the comptroller shall comply therewith.

(B) The comptroller shall make to the authority substantially the same reports as to taxes within the authority area as are made to cities under Subsections 5(b), (c), and (d) of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act.

(4) The following provisions shall govern the collection by the comptroller of the tax imposed by this Act:

(A) All applicable provisions contained in Title 2, Tax Code,³ shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this Act, except as modified in this Act.

(B) The provisions contained in Section 6 of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act shall apply to the levy, imposition, and collection of the tax imposed by this Act, except as modified herein.

(C) The penalties provided in Title 2, Tax Code, for violations of that Act are hereby made applicable to violations of this Act.

(D) The sales and use tax collected by the comptroller under this Act shall be deposited, held, accounted for, and transmitted for the authority as provided in Section 7 of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act.

(5) The authority's share of all sales and use tax collected under this Act by the comptroller shall be transmitted to the treasurer or the officer performing the functions of such office of such authority by the comptroller payable to the authority periodically as promptly as feasible. Transmittals required under this Act shall be made at least twice in each state fiscal year. Before transmitting such funds, the comptroller shall deduct two percent of the sum collected from the authority during such period as a charge by the state for its services specified in this Act, and the amounts so deducted shall be deposited by the comptroller in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund of the state. The comptroller is authorized to retain in the suspense account of an authority a portion of the authority's share of the tax collected under this Act. Such balance so retained in the suspense account shall not exceed five percent of the amount remitted to the authority. The comptroller is authorized to make refunds from the suspense account of an authority for overpayments made to such accounts and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of the suspense account of the authority. When an authority shall abolish such tax, the comptroller may retain in the suspense account of the authority for a period of one year five percent of the final remittance to the authority at the time of termination of collection of such tax in the authority to cover possible refunds for overpayment of the tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of abolition of such tax in the authority, the comptroller shall remit the balance in such accounts to the authority and close the account.

(6) The comptroller may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, to implement the enforcement, administration, and collection of the taxes authorized herein.

(7)(A) In an authority where the sales and use tax authorized by this Act has been imposed, if any person is delinquent in the payment of the amount required to be paid by him under this Act or in the event a determination has been made against him for taxes and penalty under this Act, the limitation for bringing suit for the collection of such delinquent tax and penalty shall be the same as that provided by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act. Where any person is delinquent in payment of taxes under this Act, the comptroller shall notify the authority to which delinquent taxes are due under this Act by United States registered mail or certified mail and shall send a copy of the notice to the attorney general. The authority, acting through its attorney, may join in any suit brought by the attorney general as a party plaintiff to seek a judgment for the delinquent taxes and penalty due such authority. The notice sent by the comptroller to the authority showing the delinquency of a taxpayer constitutes a certification of the amount owed and is prima facie evidence of the determination of the tax and of the delinquency of the amounts of sales and use tax set forth in the notice.

(B) Where property is seized by the comptroller under the provisions of any law authorizing seizure of the property of a taxpayer who is delinquent in payment of the tax imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and where such taxpayer is also delinquent in payment of any tax imposed by this Act, the comptroller shall sell sufficient property to pay the delinquent taxes and penalty due an authority under this Act in addition to that required to pay any amount due the state under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and due any city under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act. The proceeds from such sale shall first be applied to all sums due the state, then all sums due any city under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act, and the remainder, if any, shall be applied to all sums due the authority.

(C) An authority that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act may bring suit for the collection of sales, excise, or use taxes imposed by this Act which have been certified as provided in Paragraph (A) of this subdivision and are owed to the authority under this Act if at least 60 days before the filing of the suit written notice by certified mail of the tax delinquency and of the intention to file suit is given to the taxpayer, the comptroller, and the attorney general and if neither the comptroller nor the attorney general disapproves the suit by written notice to the authority.

(D) The comptroller or attorney general may disapprove the institution of tax suit by an authority if:

(i) negotiations between the state and the taxpayer are being conducted for the purpose of the collection of delinquent taxes owed to the state and the authority seeking to bring suit;

(ii) the taxpayer owes substantial taxes to the state and there is a reasonable possibility that the taxpayer may be unable to pay the total amount owed in full;

(iii) the state will bring suit against the taxpayer for the collection of all sales, excise, and use taxes

due under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and this Act; or

(iv) the suit involves a critical legal question relating to the interpretation of state law or a provision of the Texas Constitution or the United States Constitution in which the state has an overriding interest.

(E) A notice of disapproval to an authority must give reason for the determination of the comptroller or attorney general. A disapproval is final and not subject to review. An authority, after one year from the date of the disapproval, may proceed again as provided in Paragraph (C) of this subdivision even though the liability of the taxpayer includes taxes for which the authority has previously given notice and the comptroller or attorney general has previously disapproved the suit.

(F) In any suit under this subdivision for the collection of the authority tax, a judgment for or against the taxpayer does not affect any claim against the taxpayer by a city or the state unless the state is a party to the action.

(G) A copy of the final judgment in favor of an authority in a case in which the state is not a party shall be abstracted by the authority and a copy of the judgment together with a copy of the abstract shall be sent to the comptroller. The authority shall collect taxes awarded to it under the judgment as provided by Section 151.608(e), Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and is responsible for the renewal of the judgment before the expiration of the 10-year period. If a collection is made by an authority on a judgment, notice of the amount collected shall be sent by certified mail to the comptroller. The comptroller may prescribe a form for the notice to be used by an authority.

¹ Tax Code, § 151.001 et seq.

² Tax Code, § 151.101 et seq.

³ Tax Code, § 101.001 et seq.

Differential Tax Rates

Sec. 17. The executive committee by filing a certified copy of the order and a map of the authority clearly showing the boundaries of the subregions with the comptroller may authorize and direct the comptroller to collect a different rate of tax in each subregion as long as neither rate is greater than the rate approved by the voters at the confirmation election. In a subregion with a principal city of less than 800,000, the tax rate shall be approved by the commissioners court before the confirmation election as provided in Section 9 of this Act.

Management

Sec. 18. (a) The responsibility for the operation and control of the properties belonging to an authority shall be vested in its executive committee. The executive committee may:

(1) appoint and prescribe compensation for a general manager who shall employ persons, firms, partnerships, or corporations deemed necessary by the executive committee for the conduct of the affairs of the authority, including but not limited to bookkeepers, engineers, financial advisers, and operating or management companies and in accordance with executive committee policy, prescribe the duties, tenure, and compensation of each; all employees may be removed by the general manager;

(2) appoint auditors and attorneys and prescribe the duties, tenure, and compensation of each;

(3) become a subscriber under the Texas Workers' Compensation Act with any old-line legal-reserve insurance company authorized to write policies in the State of Texas;

(4) adopt a seal for the authority;

(5) invest funds of the authority in direct or indirect obligations of the United States, the state, or any county, city, school district, or other political subdivision of the state; funds of the authority may be placed in certificates of deposit of state or national banks or savings and loan associations within the state provided that they are secured in the manner provided for the security of the funds of counties of the State of Texas; the executive committee by resolution may provide that an authorized representative of the authority may invest and reinvest the funds of the authority and provide for money to be withdrawn from the appropriate accounts of the authority for the investments on such terms as the executive committee considers advisable;

(6) fix the fiscal year for the authority;

(7) establish a complete system of accounts for the authority and each year shall have prepared an audit of its affairs by an independent certified public accountant or a firm of independent certified public accountants which shall be open to public inspection; and

(8) designate one or more banks to serve as the depository for the funds of the authority.

(b) All funds of the authority shall be deposited in the depository bank or banks unless otherwise required by orders or resolutions authorizing the issuance of the authority's bonds or notes.

(c) To the extent that funds in the depository bank or banks are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, they shall be secured in the manner provided by law for the security of funds of counties of the State of Texas.

(d) The executive committee by resolution may authorize a designated representative to supervise the substitution of securities pledged to secure the authority's funds.

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 19. (a) The executive committee may adopt and enforce reasonable rules and regulations:

(1) to secure and maintain safety and efficiency in the operation and maintenance of its facilities;

(2) governing the use of the authority's facilities and services by the public and the payment of fares, tolls, and charges; and

(3) regulating privileges on any land, easement, right-of-way, rolling stock, or other property owned or controlled by the authority.

(b) A condensed substantive statement of the rules and regulations shall be published after adoption once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper with general circulation in the area in which the authority is located which notice shall advise that the full text of the rules and regulations is on file in the principal office of the authority where it may be read by any interested person. Such rules and regulations shall become effective 10 days after the second publication.

Competitive Bids

Sec. 20. Contracts for more than $2,000 for the construction of improvements or the purchase of material, machinery, equipment, supplies, and all other property, except real property, shall be let on competitive bids after notice published once at least 15 days before the date fixed for receiving bids in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the authority is located. The executive committee may adopt rules governing the taking of bids and the awarding of such contracts. This section shall not apply to personal and professional services or to the acquisition of existing transit systems.

County Authority to Contract with Authority

Sec. 21. A commissioners court may contract with an authority for the authority to provide public transportation services to any unincorporated area outside the boundaries of the authority for a term and on those conditions as are determined to be desirable by the commissioners court and the executive committee. The county may levy and collect taxes or pledge and encumber other receipts or revenues as may be required to make any payments to the authority under the provisions of the contract.

Elections

Sec. 22. (a) This section governs all elections ordered by the executive committee except elections held under the provisions of Section 9 of this Act.

(b) Notice of an election ordered by the executive committee shall be given by publication once a week for three consecutive weeks with the first publication in a newspaper with general circulation in the authority at least 21 days before the election.

(c) A resolution calling an election and the notice of the election are sufficient if the date and hours of the election, the voting places within voting precincts for the election, and the propositions to be voted on are specified. The executive committee may define and declare voting precincts, determine the manner of absentee voting, and prescribe the election officers.

(d) As soon as practicable after an election, the executive committee shall canvass the returns of the election and declare the results.

(e) Where not otherwise provided in this section, the general election laws apply.

Exemptions from Taxes

Sec. 23. The property, revenues, and income of the authority and the interest bonds and notes issued by the authority shall be exempt from all taxes levied or to be levied by the State of Texas, its political subdivisions, counties, or municipal corporations.

Incorporated City May Provide Services

Sec. 23A. Nothing contained in this Act shall preclude an incorporated city from providing general transportation services or public transportation services.

Subregional Transportation Authorities in Contiguous Cities

Sec. 24. (a) Nothing contained in this Act shall require any city with a population in excess of 150,000, according to the most recent federal census and with boundaries contiguous to a principal city with a population less than 800,000 according to the most recent federal census, or any city with boundaries contiguous to a principal city and with boundaries extending into two or more adjacent counties, two of which counties include a principal city, to be a part of or participate in the regional transportation authority provided herein. Such cities shall be called "contiguous cities."

(b) Nothing contained in this Act shall prohibit any such contiguous city from establishing a subregional transportation authority.

(e)(1) Within 60 days after initiation of the process provided in Section 3 of this Act by a principal city or a county of the principal city or within 60 days after a confirmation election or any election to dissolve the authority, in which a majority of the votes cast in such contiguous city either fail to confirm the creation of the authority or approve the dissolving of the authority, any such contiguous city may elect by resolution of its governing body not to participate in the regional transportation authority established by a principal city or county of a principal city.

(2) In the event such contiguous city shall elect not to participate in the regional transportation authority provided in this Act, its boundaries shall be excluded from the regional transportation authority proposed or created by the principal city or county of the principal city and shall not be included in the initiating process of said principal city or county of the said principal city as provided in Section 4 of this Act and the confirmation procedure of Section 9 of this Act.

(d) Any such contiguous city may create a subregional transportation authority by one of the following methods:

(1) The governing body of a contiguous city may initiate the process to create a subregional transportation authority on its own motion.

(2) If a petition requesting creation of a subregional transportation authority signed by at least five percent of the registered voters of the contiguous city is presented, the governing body of the contiguous city shall initiate the process for creating the subregional transportation authority.

(e) The subregional transportation authorities created in any two or more contiguous cities may establish a joint subregional transportation authority by contract. A subregional transportation authority or joint subregional transportation authorities may enter into contracts with a regional transportation authority.

(f) Except as it may conflict with the intent of this Section 24, the initiating procedure for a subregional transportation authority shall be the same as that provided in Section 4 of this Act. Where the word "principal city" is used therein, it shall mean contiguous city and where the word "authority" is used therein, it shall mean the subregional transportation authority.

(g)(1) The management, control, and operation of a subregional transportation authority and its property shall be vested in an executive committee comprised of five members selected by the governing body of the contiguous city.

(2) The members of the executive committee shall elect from among their number a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a secretary. The executive committee may appoint such assistant secretaries, either members or nonmembers of the executive committee, as it deems necessary. The secretary and assistant secretary shall, in addition to keeping the permanent records of all proceedings and transactions of the subregional transportation authority, perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the executive committee. No member of the executive committee or officer of the subregional transportation authority shall be pecuniarily interested or benefited directly or indirectly in any contract or agreement to which the authority is a party.

(3) The executive committee shall hold at least one regular meeting during each month for the purpose of transacting the business of the subregional transportation authority. Upon written notice, the chairman may call special meetings as may be necessary. The executive committee, when organized, shall by resolution set the time, place, and day of the regular meetings and shall adopt rules, regulations, and bylaws as it may deem necessary for the conduct of its official meetings. Four members shall constitute a quorum of the executive committee for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers, and action may be taken by the subregional transportation authority upon a vote of a majority of the executive committee members present unless the bylaws require a larger number for a particular action.

(4) The executive committee shall receive recommendations for the annual budget from the governing body of the contiguous city and shall obtain approval of the final annual budget from said contiguous city.

(h)(1) After the interim executive committee has organized, developed a service plan, and determined the rate of tax that it desires to levy, it shall call a confirmation election in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(2) When the executive committee orders a confirmation election, it shall submit to the qualified voters within the subregional transportation authority the following proposition:

"Shall the creation of (name of authority) be confirmed and shall the levy of the proposed tax be authorized?"

(3) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, notice of the election shall be given in accordance with the general election laws. The notice of the election shall include a description of the nature and rate of the proposed tax. A copy of the notice of the election and any other election held pursuant to this Act shall be furnished to the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission.

(4) Immediately after the election, the presiding judge of each election precinct within the contiguous city shall return the results to the executive committee, which shall canvass the returns and declare the results of the election and adopt an order declaring the creation of the subregional transportation authority.

(5) If the votes cast are such that the subregional transportation authority ceases to exist in its entirety, the executive committee shall enter an order so declaring and file a certified copy of the order with the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission, and the authority shall be dissolved.

(6) The cost of the confirmation election shall be paid by the creating entity.

(7) If the election results in the confirmation of a subregional transportation authority, the authority shall, within the limits confirmed, be authorized to function in accordance with the terms of this Act, and the executive committee may levy and collect the proposed tax within those limits.

(8) If the continued existence of a subregional transportation authority is not confirmed by election within three years after the effective date of the resolution(s) or order(s) initiating the process to create the subregional transportation authority, the subregional transportation authority ceases to exist on the expiration of the three years.

(9) For a period of one year following a confirmation election, the governing body of any contiguous city may on its own volition or shall, upon receipt of a petition containing signatures of at least 20 percent of the registered voters within the contiguous city call an election and offer the following proposition: "Shall the (name of authority) be dissolved in city?" Should the majority of voters voting in the election vote to dissolve the subregional transportation authority within the contiguous city, the subregional transportation authority shall cease to exist within the city as of 12 midnight on the date of the canvass of the election and all financial obligations of that unit of election will cease to accrue at that time. The financial obligation shall be computed on a per capita basis for the entire year and taxes will continue to be collected until such time as all financial obligations of the contiguous city are paid, at which time the taxes collected to support the subregional transportation authority shall cease within the contiguous city.

(i) The following sections of this Act shall not apply to subregional transportation authorities:

Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 12.

(j) Sections 10, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, and 23 shall be applicable to the subregional transportation authorities. Whenever the term "authority" is used, it shall mean subregional transportation authority.

(k)(1) If a city or town which is a part of an authority lawfully annexes additional territory which is not a part of the subregional transportation authority, the annexed territory becomes a part of the subregional transportation authority.

(2) At the time territory is added to a subregional transportation authority under the provisions of this section, any tax which the board of the subregional transportation authority has already been authorized to levy applies to the added territory.

Eligibility of Excepted Areas for Federal Funds

Sec. 25. Ratification by referendum of an authority under the terms of this Act by less than all incorporated cities within the metropolitan area as defined herein shall not affect in any way the eligibility of such excepted incorporated cities to receive federal transit grants under the Surface Transportation Assistance Act of 1978¹ or any subsequent federal statutes.

Severability Clause

Sec. 26. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act shall nevertheless be valid, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision. It is provided, however, that the provisions of Subsection (b) of Section 4 of this Act are not severable in whole or in part.

Art. 1124a. Official Reading of Meters

Sec. 1. That hereafter any consumer or user of electric power, current, natural or artificial gas furnished by any private concern in any city, town or village in this State on complaint made to the city commissioners or city council of any city, town or village within this State, shall have the right to have any meter which measures the amount of electricity or gas installed by the person furnishing said electrical current or gas for the purpose of ascertaining what amount to charge him for the use thereof, examined, read and tested by the agents, servants and employees of the city commissioners or city council, as the case may be; said agents, servants and employees being hereby given the right to break the seal, and examine, read and test the various meters and similar devices, in company with an agent of the furnisher of said electrical power, current and gas, if said furnisher desire its representative to be present, if not, then such examination to be had without him but three days' notice shall be given to all persons, firms or corporations furnishing said electricity or gas of said test.

Sec. 2. The word "meter" as used in this Act applies to any instrument, apparatus or machine used for measuring electric currents or gas and recording the results obtained.

Sec. 3. The words "person" and "furnisher" used in this Act refer to any corporation, association, partnership or individual engaged in furnishing electricity, electric current, electrical power or gas for consumption for hire in cities.

Sec. 4. That on demand of¹ said city council or city commissioners shall furnish the complaining consumer with a detailed report of the result of their reading, examination and testing of said meters or other said measuring devices for electrical current, or gas as hereinbefore referred to, said report to state whether or not said meter or measuring device is functioning properly, is in good condition, and the amount of electrical current, power or gas used by the consumer for any period of time preceding of not more than one year, such period to be designated by the consumer in his complaint hereinbefore mentioned.

Sec. 5. Any person or furnisher of electrical power and current or gas who fails or refuses to allow the agents of city commissioners or city council of any cities, towns or villages of the class hereinbefore mentioned to examine the meters and measuring devices hereinbefore referred to, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished by a fine not to exceed two hundred ($200.00) dollars, each and every day of such refusal to constitute a separate offense.

Art. 1133. May be Incorporated

When a town or village contains more than two hundred (200) and less than ten thousand (10,000) inhabitants, it may be incorporated as a town or village in the manner prescribed in Chapter 11, Title 28, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and all amendments thereto.

Art. 1134. Mode of Incorporation

If the inhabitants of such town or village desire to be so incorporated, at least twenty residents thereof, who would be qualified voters under the provisions of this chapter, shall file an application for that purpose in the office of the county judge of the county in which the town or village is situated, stating the boundaries of the proposed town or village, the name by which it is to be known when incorporated, and accompany the same with a plat of the proposed town or village including therein no territory except that which is intended to be used for strictly town purposes. If any town or village be situated on both sides of a line dividing two counties, application may be made to the county judge of either county in which a portion of said town or village is located, in manner and form as herein provided. A new election shall not be ordered in less than one year.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1134a. Incorporation of Cities and Towns ValidatedIrregularities Not Invalidating Incorporation

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in Texas of five thousand (5000) inhabitants or less, heretofore incorporated and/or attempted in good faith to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, whether under the aldermanic form of government or under the commission form of government, and which have in good faith functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation, are hereby in all respects validated, as of the date of such incorporation or attempted incorporation; and the incorporation of such cities and towns shall not be held invalid on account of irregularities in the petition for election, order for election, notice of election, returns of election, order declaring result of election, or other incorporation proceedings.

Governmental Proceedings Validated

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed in good faith by the governing bodies of such cities and towns since their incorporation or attempted incorporation, respectively, are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective dates of such proceedings, and such governmental proceedings shall be effective the same as if such cities and towns had been regularly incorporated in the first instance.

Inapplicable to City or Town in Litigation

Sec. 3. The provisions of this bill shall affect no city or town now in litigation.

[Acts 1933, 43rd Leg., p. 125, ch. 58.]

Art. 1134b. Validating Incorporation of Cities of 600 or Over

All cities and towns of six hundred inhabitants or more which have heretofore attempted to accept the provisions of Title XXVIII¹ and to become incorporated cities and towns of six hundred inhabitants or more under the General Laws of Texas, and have failed to comply with all the requirements of said General Laws, or which are not included within the literal meaning of those cities which are authorized to accept the provisions of said general laws, and all towns and villages incorporated under Chapter 14 or Chapter 11 of Title XXVIII of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925,² and which now have six hundred inhabitants or more, and which have heretofore attempted to accept the provisions of Title XXVIII and to become incorporated cities of six hundred inhabitants or more, but which said cities have from and after the dates of their several attempted incorporations and their several efforts to accept the provisions of said Title XXVIII, have exercised the functions of cities of the class named, and were by the State of Texas recognized as such cities, are hereby declared to be cities of six hundred inhabitants; and the several acts whereby they attempted to accept the provisions of said law are hereby in all things validated; and that all subsequent acts of said cities and towns done and performed as a city of six hundred inhabitants or more, after they had attempted to accept the provisions of said law, as aforesaid, are hereby validated and declared to be as binding as if said cities had been duly and legally incorporated; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed as validating any act of said cities or the councils thereof, unless the same were authorized by the General Laws of the State under which they were attempting to act at the several dates when said acts were done; and provided, further, that the provisions of this article shall not validate the act of any town or city in adding additional territory to such city or town without the consent of such inhabitants so added to such city or town.

² Article 1133.

Art. 1134d. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings; Towns and Villages Involved in Litigation Resulting in Agreed Judgment

Scope of Act

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any municipality originally incorporated or attempted to have been incorporated under Chapter 11, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 1133, et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), which after the date of its incorporation or attempted incorporation was party to a suit in the district court in which another city, town, or village was a party and the issue was raised that the incorporation or attempted incorporation violated the territory or extraterritorial jurisdiction of the other city, town, or village, and the suit resulted in the entry of an agreed judgment upholding the validity of the incorporation or attempted incorporation and providing for the adjustment of boundaries and areas of extraterritorial jurisdiction for the two municipalities, which judgment was either not appealed or not reversed on appeal.

Proceedings Validated

Sec. 2. The following are validated as of the dates on which they occurred:

(1) the incorporation or attempted incorporation of a municipality covered by this Act;

(2) the boundary lines of the municipality covered by the original incorporation or attempted incorporation proceedings;

(3) any governmental proceedings of the municipality relating to the adoption or attempted adoption of the provisions of Chapters 1 through 10, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 961, et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);

(4) all adjustments in the boundaries and areas of extraterritorial jurisdiction of the municipality that were carried out in accordance with the agreed judgment or the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), whether the proceedings were carried out before or after an adoption or attempted adoption by the municipality of the provisions of Chapters 1 through 10, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended;

(5) any proceedings of the municipality carried out after an adoption or attempted adoption by the municipality of the provisions of Chapters 1 through 10, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, relating to the issuance of general obligation bonds, the issuance of which was approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the municipality voting on the question in an election; and

(6) all other governmental acts or proceedings of the municipality.

Exclusions

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any matter that on the effective date of this Act:

(1) has been declared invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) is involved in litigation if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

[Acts 1978, 65th Leg., 2nd C.S., p. 9, ch. 3, §§ 1 to 3, eff. Aug. 14, 1978.]

Art. 1135. Adjoining Territory Added

Whenever a majority of the inhabitants, who are qualified voters of any territory adjoining the limits of any town or village incorporated hereunder, shall vote in favor of becoming a part of said town or village, any three of them may make affidavit to such fact and file such affidavit with the mayor of said town or village, and such mayor shall certify the same to the council of said town or village. Thereupon, such council may, by ordinance, receive such inhabitants as a part of said town or village. Thenceforth the territory so received shall be a part of said town or village and the inhabitants shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens and bound by all the acts and ordinances made in conformity thereto and passed in pursuance of this chapter; provided, that the area of no town or village shall ever exceed that of cities or towns, as provided for in chapter one of this title.¹

Art. 1136. Election Order

If satisfactory proof is made that the town or village contains the requisite number of inhabitants, the county judge shall make an order for holding an election on a day therein stated and at a place designated within the town or village for the purpose of submitting the question to a vote of the people. He shall appoint an officer to preside at the election, who shall select two judges and two clerks to assist in holding it. After a previous notice of ten days, by posting advertisement thereof at three public places in the town or village, the election shall be held in the manner prescribed for holding elections in other cases.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1137. Qualifications of Electors

Every person who has attained the age of twenty-one years and who has resided within the limits of the proposed town for the six months next preceding and is a qualified elector under the laws of this State, shall be entitled to vote at the election.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1138. Ballots

On each ticket the voter must write or cause to be written or printed, "corporation" or "no corporation."

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1139. Returns

If a majority of the votes are cast in favor of incorporation the officers holding the election shall make return thereof to the county judge within ten days after the same was held. The county judge shall, within twenty days after the receipt thereof make an entry upon the records of the commissioners court that the inhabitants of the town or village are incorporated within the boundaries thereof; which boundaries shall also be designated in the entry. A certified copy of such entry, together with the plat of the town or village, shall thereupon be recorded in the proper record of deeds of such county.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1139a. Validating the Incorporation of Certain Cities and Towns

Where, in any city or town heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, the petition calling for an election for the purpose of incorporating any such city or town, the order of the County Judge ordering such election, the notice, or notices of such election, the order of the County Judge declaring the result of such election, by inadvertence, oversight, or mistake, contained an incorrect description by metes and bounds of the territory incorporated or here attempted to be incorporated as such city or town, or where any other such irregularity in the proceedings for such incorporation was had, and where the governing body of such city or town has entered an ordinance correcting and setting forth the true field notes of the territory so incorporated or attempted to be incorporated, or where such ordinance has been entered correcting any other such irregularity in the proceedings for the incorporation of such city or town, and where such city or town has been acting or operating as an incorporated city or town, such incorporation, and any and all ordinances correcting the field notes, or any other irregularity of the proceedings has¹ for incorporation, are hereby in all things ratified, confirmed and validated and such cities or towns are hereby declared to be legally and validly incorporated.

¹ So in enrolled bill; probably should read "had".

Art. 1140. Powers of Corporation

When the entry mentioned in the preceding article has been made, the town shall be invested with all the rights incident to such corporation under this chapter, and shall have power to sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, and to hold and dispose of real and personal property, provided such real property is situated within the limits of the corporation.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1141. Election of Officers

The county judge shall immediately order an election for a mayor, a marshal and five aldermen. No person shall be eligible to any of said offices unless he possess the requisites provided by this chapter for persons qualified to vote hereunder.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1142. Commission

The county judge shall, immediately after the returns have been made, commission the candidate who received the highest number of votes for the office of mayor, and shall deliver certificates of election to the other officers elected.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1143. Term of Office

(a) The mayor, alderman and all other officers elected at the first election under this chapter, regardless of the time of such first election, shall hold their offices until their successors shall have been duly elected and qualified at the next succeeding annual election, according to the provisions of the succeeding article.

(b) In lieu of one year terms of office, the board of aldermen may provide by ordinance for two year staggered terms of office for the mayor and aldermen. If such an ordinance is adopted, the mayor and two aldermen, determined by lot at the first meeting of the board of aldermen following the next annual election after the adoption of the ordinance, shall serve two year terms. The remaining aldermen hold office for an initial term of one year. Thereafter, all members of the board of aldermen hold office for terms of two years and until their successors have qualified.

Art. 1144. Annual Election

The annual election of officers of all towns and villages incorporated under the provisions of this chapter shall be held on the first Saturday in April of each year. The mayor, or in case of his inability or refusal to act, any two aldermen, shall order such annual election by notices posted for at least twenty days at three public places within the corporate limits. The returns of such election shall be made to the town or village council, and certificates of election given by the mayor or person acting as such to the persons elected to the various offices of such corporation.

Art. 1145. Quorum May Pass By-laws

The mayor shall be the president of the board of aldermen. At the first meeting of each new board of aldermen or as soon as practicable, the board shall elect one alderman to serve as president pro tempore for a term of one year and to perform the duties of the mayor in the event of the mayor's failure, inability, or refusal to act. The mayor shall, with three of the aldermen, constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the mayor's absence, any four of the aldermen constitute a quorum. The quorum has the power to appoint any alderman as a presiding officer at any meeting at which the mayor and president pro tempore are absent. The quorum shall have power to enact such by-laws and ordinances not inconsistent with the laws and constitution of this State as shall be deemed proper for the government of the corporation.

Art. 1145a. Code of Civil and Criminal Ordinances

The board of aldermen of a town or village shall have the power to codify its civil and criminal ordinances and to adopt a civil and criminal code of ordinances, together with appropriate penalties for the violation thereof, which said code when adopted shall have the force and effect of an ordinance regularly enacted with the usual prerequisites of law.

[Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 5445, ch. 1021, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 1146. Powers of Aldermen

The board of aldermen shall:

1. Have power to levy and collect an occupation tax of not more than one-half of the amount levied by the State; also to levy taxes on persons and property, real and personal, within the corporation, subject to taxation by the laws of this State; but the tax on persons and property shall not, in any one year, exceed the rate of one-fourth of one per cent on the one hundred dollars valuation.

2. Have and exercise exclusive control over the streets, alleys and other public places within the corporate limits; provided, that, with the consent of the board of aldermen, where streets are continuations of public roads, the commissioners court shall have power to construct bridges and other improvements thereon which facilitate the practicability of travel on said streets.

3. Have the power to cause the male inhabitants between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five years, except ministers of the gospel actually engaged in the discharge of their duties, to work on the streets and public alleys not to exceed five days in any one year, or furnish a substitute, or a sum of money, not to exceed one dollar for each day's work demanded, to employ such substitute.

4. Prevent, as far as practicable, any nuisances within the limits of the corporation, and cause such as exist to be removed at the expense of the person by whom they were occasioned or upon whose property they may be found.

5. Have power to prescribe the fine to be imposed by the mayor for the violation of any by-laws or ordinance, which shall in no case exceed one hundred dollars; but no fine shall be imposed except upon the verdict of a jury, should the defendant demand a trial by jury.

6. Fill, for the unexpired term, any vacancy which may occur in any office created by this chapter or by the board of aldermen under its provisions, such vacancy to be filled by the acting aldermen.

7. Have power to appoint such officers, other than those mentioned in this chapter, as shall be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of the same, to prescribe their duties and to fix their compensation; and shall also have power to dismiss them at any time and appoint others in their stead.

8. Prescribe the bonds and security which the marshal and such other officers as may be appointed shall give, which shall be executed and approved by the mayor, before the marshal or other officer shall enter upon the discharge of his duties, said bond to be payable to the corporation.

9. Have power to appoint another marshal or officer in the place of the one so elected or appointed if the bond required in the preceding paragraph is not given within five days after the marshal is elected or appointed.

10. The board of aldermen may establish markets and may do whatever else may be necessary to give effect to the provisions of this chapter.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1146A. Appointment of Health Officer

If the board of aldermen appoints a city health officer under Article 4425, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, the appointee is not required to be a resident of the city.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 891, ch. 335, § 2, eff. May 30, 1977.]

Repeal

Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 798, ch. 190, added art. 4436b and repealed arts. 4422 to 4435, 4436a-1, and 4447a. Section 2(b) of said Act provides:

"The following Acts are repealed to the extent of any conflict with the provisions of this Act: Articles 1003 and 1146A, as amended, Revised Statutes."

Art. 1147. Powers of Marshal

The marshal shall have the same power within the town that constables shall have within their precincts, and shall be entitled to the same fees. He shall discharge all other duties that may be prescribed by the by-laws and ordinances, not inconsistent with the laws of this State, and shall receive therefor such fees as may be fixed by the board. He shall assess and collect the corporation tax, and if the same be not voluntarily paid, he shall have power to make the collection in the same manner and with like effect as is prescribed in chapter 5 of this title¹ for collection of taxes in cities, so far as applicable.

Art. 1148. Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 2329, ch. 841, § 6(a)(1), eff. Jan. 1, 1982

Section 1 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., ch. 841, repealing this article, enacted the Property Tax Code, constituting Title 1 of the Tax Code.

Art. 1149. Condemnation for Highways

Any town or village in this State, incorporated under this chapter or by special charter, shall have the right, and they are hereby empowered, to condemn the right of way and roadbed of any railway company whose roadbed runs within the corporate limits of such town or village, when deemed necessary and so declared, by a majority vote of the board of aldermen, for the purpose of opening, widening or extending the streets of such town or village; provided, there are less than four railroad tracks. Failing to agree on the damages to be paid therefor, the mayor shall prepare a statement in writing showing the point on said railroad right of way where said street is desired to be opened, widened or extended, giving the width and length of that portion of the right of way of the railroad sought to be condemned, and describing it so that it can be clearly identified, the object for which it is sought to be condemned, the name and style of the railway company, and file the same with the county judge of the county in which such town or village is situated, whereupon proceedings shall be had to condemn said right of way.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1150. Commissioners Court May Condemn

County commissioners shall have the right, upon petition of twenty freeholders of any community, or unincorporated town or city, to condemn roadbed of railroads for the same purpose mentioned in the preceding article.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1151. Crossings: Duty of Railroad

Every railroad company in this State shall place and keep that portion of its roadbed and right of way over or across which any public street of any incorporated town or village may run, in proper condition for the use of the traveling public; and in case of its failure to do so for thirty days after written notice given to the section boss of the section where such work or repairs are needed, by the town marshal of such town or village, it shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each week such railroad may fail or neglect to comply with the requirements of this article, recoverable in any court having jurisdiction of the amount involved, in a suit in the name of such town or village.

Art. 1152. Publication of Ordinances

Sec. 1. No ordinance or by-law shall be enforced until it has been published at least ten days in three public places in the town, or in a newspaper if one be published in the corporation. If no newspaper is published in the corporation, such ordinance or by-law may be published in some newspaper having general circulation in the town. If such newspaper be published weekly, the publication shall be made in one issue thereof.

Sec. 2. In lieu of the publication required in Section 1 of this Article, the governing body may in its discretion provide for the publication of a descriptive caption or title, stating in summary the purpose of the ordinance or by-law and the penalty for violation thereof.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 468, ch. 212, § 1, eff. May 19, 1967.]

Art. 1153. Amendment of Charter

Towns and villages heretofore incorporated by the Congress of the Republic or the Legislature of this State may, by a resolution of the board of aldermen and a two-thirds vote of the voters at an election held therefor, amend their charters in any particular not in conflict with the constitution of this State or the Revised Statutes. In order to amend the charter of any town or village, it shall be necessary, before said amendment shall go into effect, for the board of aldermen to adopt a resolution setting forth the amendment; and a certified copy of the same shall be approved by the Attorney General and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State before the same shall take effect.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1153a. Change in Designation From Town to City

Sec. 1. Any town in this state which has been duly and legally created under the laws relating to cities and towns, and which has heretofore adopted or may hereafter adopt the provisions of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as amended,¹ may by ordinance passed by the governing body of such town, change its designation from town to city; provided, however, the change in the designation of such town shall in no wise affect its corporate existence or powers.

Sec. 2. Any bonds which have been voted by such town and which bonds are unissued prior to the change of such designation from town to city may be issued in the name of such city as designated in the ordinance changing its designation.

[Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 331, ch. 177.]

- 1154. Petition for Election; Change to Aldermanic Form.
- 1155. Unincorporated Towns.
- 1156. Ballot.
- 1157. Election.
- 1158. Officers.
- 1159. Vacancies.
- 1160. Shall Supersede Council.
- 1161. Officers Appointed.
- 1162. Bond of Officers.
- 1163. Commissioners, Duties, etc.
- 1164. Meetings and Salary.
- 1164a. Incorporations Validated.
- 1164b. Special Elections Changing Form of Government Validated.
- 1164c. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings.

Art. 1154. Petition for Election; Change to Aldermanic Form

Sec. 1. Whenever ten (10%) per cent of the qualified voters of any incorporated city or town having a population of over five hundred (500) and less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants incorporated under the provisions of this title or any previous General Law, or hereafter incorporated under any General Law, or of any incorporated town or village having a population of more than five hundred (500) and less than one thousand (1,000) inhabitants incorporated under Chapter 11, of this Title¹ or any previous General Law, or hereafter incorporated under any General Law, shall petition in writing the Mayor of said city, town or village requesting that an election be ordered to determine whether such city, town or village shall adopt the Commission form of government, the Mayor shall order an election in such city, town or village, to determine whether or not the Commission form of government shall be adopted. Thirty (30) days notice of such election shall be given by publishing such notice in some newspaper therein if there be one, and if none, then by posting notices of same at three (3) public places in such town, city or village. Provided, that any city or town now or hereafter operating under the Commission form of government may adopt the Aldermanic form of government as provided in Article 977, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, or other lawful form of government for such city or town when authorized to do so by a majority vote at an election called and held for the purpose. Such election shall be called and held under the same procedure provided for the adoption of the Commission form of government.

Sec. 1a. Provided however, that in the event of such election where a city changes from a Commission form to an Aldermanic form of government, the Mayor and two Commissioners shall continue in office as Mayor and Aldermen respectively for the remainder of their respective terms.

Art. 1155. Unincorporated Towns

If any unincorporated city or town in this State, having a population of over five hundred and less than five thousand inhabitants, or any unincorporated town or village in this State having a population of more than two hundred and less than one thousand inhabitants, shall desire to be incorporated under the commission form of government as herein provided, an election to determine whether such incorporation may be had shall be called by the county judge of the county under the provisions herein governing incorporated cities and towns, and incorporated towns and villages, and notice of such election shall be given as herein provided, and if satisfactory proof is made that the city or town or village contains the requisite number of inhabitants, the county judge shall make an order for holding an election on a day therein stated, and at a place designated within the city or town or village, for the purpose of submitting the question to a vote of the people.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1156. Ballot

The ballots to be used in said election shall have written or printed thereon "For Commission" or "Against Commission."

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1157. Election

The mayor or county judge, as the case may be, shall appoint two judges of election, one of which shall be designated as the presiding judge, and two clerks, to hold said election. The election shall be held and governed by the general laws of this State except as herein otherwise provided, and the returns shall be made to the mayor or the county judge, as the case may be within five days after said election shall have been held. If a majority of the votes cast are "For Commission," then the mayor or county judge shall enter an order to that effect upon the minutes of the city council, or board of aldermen, or of the commissioners court, and after the entry of said order said incorporated city or town or village shall be under the commission form of government, and said unincorporated city or town, or unincorporated town or village, shall be incorporated and under the commission form of government.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1158. Officers

At such election there shall be elected two commissioners, who shall serve until the first Saturday in April following, and in said unincorporated cities and towns, and unincorporated towns and villages, there shall at such elections be elected a mayor and two commissioners, who shall serve until the first Saturday in April following. The mayor of the incorporated cities and towns, and incorporated towns and villages, adopting the commission form of government shall continue to hold his office for the term for which he was elected. The term of office of the mayor and commissioners, except the first elected under the provisions hereof, shall be two years, and they shall be elected on the first Saturday in April every two years.

Art. 1159. Vacancies

In case of the death or the resignation of the mayor or commissioners, the others shall fill the place by appointment, provided, that shall a vacancy occur from death, resignation, or failure to qualify, or any other cause, of the mayor and one commissioner at the same time, or of two commissioners at the same time, the vacancy shall be filled by special election called by the county judge of the county, upon notice for the time, and subject to all the regulations herein for the original election; the result of said election shall be certified by the county judge to the clerk of said commission, and shall be entered upon the minutes.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1160. Shall Supersede Council

In incorporated cities and towns and incorporated towns and villages, adopting the commission form of government under the provisions hereof, the members of the city council, and board of aldermen shall hold their offices until the commissioners elected hereunder shall have qualified, and after such qualification, the officers of the city council, and board of aldermen shall be abolished, and the mayor and commissioners herein provided for shall constitute the "Board of Commissioners" of said city or town, or town or village.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1161. Officers Appointed

Said "Board of Commissioners" shall appoint a competent person to be Clerk, who shall also be Assessor and Collector of Taxes of such city or town, or town or village. He shall before entering upon the duties of his office, enter into a good and sufficient bond, to be executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of Texas, in an amount sufficient to adequately protect the funds of such city or town, but in no event less than twice the largest amount collected at any one time in the preceding fiscal or calendar year, to be determined by the Board of Commissioners, and said bond to be approved by the Board and filed and recorded in the minutes thereof. Said Clerk shall be invested and charged with and shall exercise all the power, rights and duties conferred upon and imposed by the General Laws, upon the Clerk, Treasurer, Assessor and Collector of Taxes, of cities and towns, or towns and villages, as the case may be. The Board shall also have the authority to appoint a City Attorney and such police force and such other officers as they may deem necessary, and fix the salary or other compensation to be received by such Clerk, and by such officers, and define their duties, and at any time may abolish any office which it creates, and may discharge any officer, clerk or employee which it appoints.

Art. 1162. Bond of Officers

The mayor and each commissioner shall enter into a bond in the sum of three thousand dollars each, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of their office; said bond of the officers, first elected hereunder, shall be approved within twenty days after the entry upon the minutes of the city council, or board of aldermen or the commissioners court, as the case may be, by the county judge of the county in which such city or town, or town or village is located, and to be payable to said city or town or town or village for its use and benefit. All subsequent bonds of officers elected hereunder shall be approved by the "Board of Commissioners."

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1163. Commissioners, Duties, etc.

The "Board of Commissioners" of all incorporated and unincorporated cities or towns or towns and villages of over five hundred and less than five thousand inhabitants incorporated under or adopting the commission form of government under the provisions of this chapter, shall have all of the authority and powers, and be subject to all of the duties granted and conferred under Chapters 1 to 10 both inclusive of this title,¹ except where same may conflict with some provision of this chapter. In incorporated and unincorporated towns and villages of more than two hundred and not more than five hundred inhabitants, adopted or incorporated under the commission form of government hereunder, the "Board of Commissioners" shall have all authority and powers conferred under Chapter 11 of this title² except where the same may be in conflict with some provision contained herein.

² Article 1133 et seq.

Art. 1164. Meetings and Salary

Said Board shall hold at least one regular monthly meeting, and the mayor or two (2) commissioners may call as many special meetings as may be necessary to attend to the municipal business. Each commissioner and said mayor shall receive for his service Five Dollars ($5) per day for each regular meeting, and Three Dollars ($3) per day for each special meeting. The mayor or any commissioner shall not receive pay for more than five (5) special meetings in any one month. In lieu of such per diem said "Board of Commissioners" of any such town or city with not less than two thousand (2,000) population, may fix the salary to be received by the mayor and commissioners, not to exceed the sum of Twelve Hundred Dollars ($1200) per year for said mayor and Six Hundred Dollars ($600) per year for each commissioner.

In lieu of such per diem said "Board of Commissioners" of any such town or city containing less than two thousand (2,000) population, according to the last preceding Federal Census, may fix salary to be received by the mayor not to exceed the sum of Six Hundred Dollars ($600) per year.

Art. 1164a. Incorporations Validated

In all cities and towns heretofore incorporated, or attempted to be incorporated, under the provisions of Chapter 12, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925,¹ which have functioned as incorporated cities and towns since the date of incorporation, or attempted incorporation, and the boundaries of which have been defined by the Board of Commissioners of such cities and towns, by ordinance duly adopted and placed in the Minutes of such Board of Commissioners, the incorporation of such cities and towns to include the exact territory described in said ordinance so adopted, be and the same is hereby validated, ratified, approved, and confirmed; and the boundaries of said cities and towns as defined in such ordinance shall control and prevail over the boundaries set forth in the incorporation proceedings of such cities and towns.

Art. 1164b. Special Elections Changing Form of Government Validated

Sec. 1. In each instance where, prior to January 1, 1971, a special election has been held in a city or town operating under the general laws for the purpose of changing the form of government of such city or town from the aldermanic form to the commission form, or for the purpose of changing the form of government of such city or town from the commission form to the aldermanic form, as authorized by Article 1154, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and such special election was held on the same day that a primary election was held throughout the state as prescribed in the Election Code of the State of Texas, as amended, such special election for the purpose of changing the form of government in such city or town, and the election of city officials under the new form of government so adopted by the voters at such special election, shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that such special election was held on the same day as a primary election day. Such special election to change the form of government in any such city or town is hereby in all things ratified, validated, and confirmed, and the election of city officials under the new form of government so adopted by the voters at such election is hereby ratified, validated, and confirmed.

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of such cities and towns and all offices thereof since such election changing the form of government of all such cities and towns are hereby in all respects validated as of the respective date of such proceedings.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in litigation questioning the legality of an election changing the form of government under Article 1154, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or the election of city officials under the new form of government so adopted at such election, if such litigation is ultimately determined against the legality thereof; nor shall this Act be construed as validating any proceeding which may have been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 906, ch. 132, eff. May 10, 1971.]

Art. 1164c. Validation of Incorporation, Boundary Lines and Governmental Proceedings

Sec. 1. All towns heretofore incorporated or attempted to be incorporated under the commission form of government (as provided by Chapter 12 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended¹), which are now functioning or attempting to function as an incorporated municipality are hereby in all respects validated, ratified, and confirmed as of the date of the canvass of the returns and declaration of the result of the incorporation election; and the incorporation of such towns shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact the election or other proceedings may not have been in accordance with law, provided the election order was entered by the county judge or the person purporting to act as mayor of an unincorporated municipality at least 10 days prior to the election on incorporation, and a majority of the voters at the election approved such incorporation.

Sec. 2. The area and boundary lines of all such towns included by the original incorporation proceedings are in all things hereby validated, ratified, approved, and confirmed.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings and acts performed by the governing bodies of such towns, except such governmental proceedings that relate to any boundary changes subsequent to the date of incorporation or attempted incorporation, and all actions of officers thereof since their incorporation or attempted incorporation are hereby in all respects validated, ratified, approved, and confirmed as of the respective date of such proceedings and acts.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in litigation which constitutes a direct attack on the legality of the proceedings pursuant to which the incorporation or attempted incorporation was accomplished or to any of the acts or proceedings hereby validated, if such litigation is ultimately determined against the legality thereof.

Art. 1164a-1. Adoption of City-Manager Plan

Any incorporated city, town or village in this State incorporated under the General Laws, having a population of less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, may vote upon the question of adopting a city-manager plan of government as in this Act¹ provided.

¹ Article 1164a-1 et seq.

Art. 1164a-2. Definition

The word "city" where used in this Act¹ shall mean any city, town or village incorporated under the General Laws of this State, having a population of less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census.

[Acts 1943, 48th Leg., p. 615, ch. 356, § 2.]

¹ Article 1164a-1 et seq.

Art. 1164a-3. Adoption of Act; Election; Petition

Before the provisions of this Act¹ shall apply to and become operative in any city of this State, it shall be submitted to a vote of the legally qualified electors of such city for adoption, and shall receive a majority of all the votes cast thereon at such election. Provided, however, that upon the filing of a petition with the city clerk, signed by not less than twenty (20) per cent of the total number of legally qualified electors voting for mayor at the last preceding city election, requesting the mayor to call a special election for the adoption of this Act, it shall be the duty of the mayor within ten (10) days after the filing of such petition, to issue a proclamation calling a special election for such purpose, and such election shall be held within thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition. Such proclamation shall state that the election is called in order to submit this Act for adoption, and shall be signed by the mayor and attested by the city clerk, and shall be published in some newspaper of general circulation within the city for one time not less than ten (10) days preceding said election. Such proclamation shall be posted in at least five (5) conspicuous places within such city not less than ten (10) days preceding such election.

The ballots used for the submission of such question shall be substantially as follows:

FOR the governing body of the city of (naming the city) appointing a city manager and fixing by ordinance the salary of such manager.

AGAINST the governing body of the city of (naming the city) appointing a city manager and fixing by ordinance the salary of such manager.

¹ Article 1164a-1 et seq.

Art. 1164a-4. Appointment of City Manager; Salary

If a majority of all votes cast at such election shall be in favor of the appointment of a city manager, then the governing body of such city shall within sixty (60) days after such election appoint a city manager and by ordinance shall fix his salary.

[Acts 1943, 48th Leg., p. 615, ch. 356, § 4.]

Art. 1164a-5. Powers and Term of Manager

If such city has authorized by vote, as in this Act¹ provided, the appointment of a city manager, then after the appointment of such city manager as herein provided, the administration of the city's business shall be in the hands of such manager. The manager shall be appointed by the governing body and shall hold office at the pleasure of the governing body. The governing body shall be responsible for the manager's efficient administration of the city's business. The governing body by ordinance may delegate to and confer upon such manager such additional powers and duties as in their judgment may be proper for the efficient administration of the city affairs.

[Acts 1943, 48th Leg., p. 615, ch. 356, § 5.]

Art. 1164a-6. Qualifications of Manager

The manager shall be chosen solely upon the basis of administrative ability. Choice shall not be limited by any resident qualifications. The manager shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties, in such amount as may be provided by ordinance.

[Acts 1943, 48th Leg., p. 615, ch. 356, § 6.]

Art. 1164a-7. All Officers to be Appointive

When a majority of the voters have adopted the provisions of this Act¹ as set out in Section 3,² thereafter all officers of such city except members of the governing body shall be appointed as may be provided by ordinance; provided that any officer who has been elected by a vote of the people shall be allowed to serve until the expiration of his term of office.

[Acts 1943, 48th Leg., p. 615, ch. 356, § 6a.]

² Article 1164a-3.

Art. 1164a-8. Abandonment of City-Manager Plan; Petition; Election

Any such city which has authorized the appointment of a city manager as in this Act¹ provided may abandon such city-manager plan at any time after any such city has elected to come under the provisions of this Act, and on the filing of a petition with the city clerk signed by not less than twenty (20) percent of the total number of legally qualified electors voting for mayor at the last preceding city election, requesting the mayor to call a special election for the abandonment of the city-manager form of government, it shall be the duty of the mayor within ten (10) days after the filing of such petition, to issue a proclamation calling a special election for such purpose, and such election shall be held within thirty (30) days after the filing of such petition. Such proclamation shall state that the election is called in order to submit the question of the abandonment of the city-manager plan of government as previously adopted by such city, and such proclamation shall be published as provided in Section 3 of this Act.²

The ballots used for the submission of such question shall be substantially as follows:

FOR abandoning the city-manager plan of government in the city of (naming the city).

AGAINST abandoning the city-manager plan of government in the city of (naming the city).

¹ Article 1164a-1 et seq.

² Article 1164a-3.

Art. 1164a-9. Duties of Governing Body Upon Abandonment of City-Manager Plan

If a majority of all the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of the abandonment of the city-manager plan, then the governing body of such city shall within sixty (60) days after such election discharge the city manager, and shall then assume the powers and duties delegated to such governing body under the existing laws, in the same manner and to the same extent as though the provisions of this Act¹ had never been adopted.

[Acts 1943, 48th Leg., p. 615, ch. 356, § 8.]

¹ Article 1164a-1 et seq.

Art. 1164a-10. Conduct of Elections

Such elections as may be provided for or authorized by this Act¹ shall be called, held and conducted as near as practical the same as other city elections except as otherwise provided in this Act.

[Acts 1943, 48th Leg., p. 615, ch. 356, § 9.]

Art. 1165. May Change Charter

Cities having more than five thousand inhabitants may, by a majority vote of the qualified voters of said city, at an election held for that purpose, adopt or amend their charters, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by the Legislature. No charter or any ordinances passed under said charter shall contain any provision inconsistent with the Constitution or general laws of this State; said cities may levy, assess and collect such taxes as may be authorized by law, or by their charters; but no tax for any purpose shall ever be lawful for any one year which shall exceed two and one-half per cent of the taxable property of such city, and no debt shall ever be created by any city unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and create a sinking fund of at least two per cent thereon. No city charter shall be altered, amended or repealed oftener than every two years. The governing body of such city may, by two-thirds votes of its members, or upon petition of ten per cent of the qualified voters of said city, shall provide by ordinance for the submission of the question, "shall a commission be chosen to frame a new charter."

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1166. Requisites of Submission

The ordinance providing for the submission of such question shall require that it be submitted at the next regular municipal election, if one should be held, not less than thirty nor more than ninety days after the passage of said ordinance; otherwise it shall provide for the submission of the question at a special election to be called and held not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days after the passage of said ordinance and the publication thereof in some newspaper published in said city. The ballot containing such question shall bear no party designation, and provision shall be made thereon for the election from the city at large of a charter commission of not less than fifteen members, nor more than one member for each three thousand inhabitants, provided, that a majority of the qualified voters, voting on said question shall have voted in the affirmative.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1167. Submission of Charter

The charter so framed by said commission shall be submitted to the qualified voters of said city at an election to be held at a time fixed by the charter commission not less than forty nor more than ninety days after the completion of the work of the charter commission; provision for which shall be made by the governing body of the city in so far as not prescribed by the general law. Not less than thirty days prior to such election, the governing body shall cause the city clerk or city secretary to mail a copy of the proposed charter to each qualified voter in said city as appears from the list of registered voters maintained as required by law by the registrar of voters for each county in which the city is located. In preparing the charter the commission shall, as far as practicable, segregate each subject so that the voter may vote "Yes" or "No" on the same.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2286, ch. 553, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Art. 1168. First Election

Where the legislative or governing authority of any city, or where any mass meeting has selected a charter committee or charter commission, or where the mayor of any city has appointed a charter committee which has proceeded with the formation of a charter for said city, the provisions hereof as to the selection of the charter commission shall not apply to the first charter election to be held in said city under the terms of this law.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1169. Adoption of Charter

If such proposed charter is approved by a majority of the qualified voters, voting at said election, it shall become the charter of said city until amended or repealed. No charter shall be considered adopted until an official order has been entered upon the records of said city by the governing body thereof declaring the same adopted.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1170. Amendments

When the governing body desires to submit amendments to any existing charter, said body may on its own motion, in the absence of a petition, and shall, upon receiving a petition signed by qualified voters in such city, town or political subdivision in number not less than five per cent (5%) thereof or 20,000 signatures, whichever is less, submit any proposed amendment or amendments to such charter. The ordinance providing for the submission of such amendment or amendments shall require the submission thereof at an election to be held not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days after the passage of said ordinance. If the next regular municipal election is to be held during said period, the submission of said amendment or amendments shall be at such election. Otherwise, a special election shall be called for the purpose. Notice of the election for the submission of said amendment or amendments shall be given by publication thereof, in some newspaper of general circulation published in said city, on the same day in each of two (2) successive weeks; the date of the first publication to be not less than fourteen (14) days prior to the date set for said election. The form of such notice shall be as prescribed by the governing body or as may be otherwise prescribed by law, and shall include a substantial copy of the proposed amendment or amendments. Every amendment submitted must contain only one subject, and in preparing the ballot for such amendment, it shall be done in such manner that the voter may vote "Yes" or "No" on any amendment or amendments without voting "Yes" or "No" on all of said amendments. Each such proposed amendment, if approved by the majority of the qualified voters voting at said election, shall become a part of the charter of said city. No amendment shall be considered adopted until an official order has been entered upon the records of said city by the governing body thereof declaring the same adopted.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 1108, ch. 500, § 1; Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 146, ch. 77, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1973.]

Art. 1170a. Validation of Proceedings to Amend Charter; Ordinance Not Published as Required

In any instance where the charter of a home rule city requires ordinances to be published in full in a newspaper once each week for three (3) consecutive weeks prior to passage and which city has heretofore held an election for the purpose of amending its charter and such election was called and held in all things in accordance with the applicable general laws of the State of Texas, and such election resulted favorably to the adoption of the amendment submitted as shown by resolution adopted by the governing body of any such city, all of the proceedings relating to the calling of such election, irrespective of whether such ordinance was published as required by its charter, the notice given precedent to or subsequent to the passage of the ordinance calling such election and the resolution adopted canvassing the returns and declaring the result of such election are hereby validated, and the charter of any such city as thus amended shall constitute the charter of such city under the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas.

[Acts 1951, 52nd Leg., p. 383, ch. 246, § 1.]

Art. 1171. Repealed by Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 1108, ch. 500, § 2, eff. August 28, 1961

Art. 1172. Other Issues

Nothing in this chapter shall prevent the qualified voters of any city of over five thousand inhabitants from adopting any charter or amendment thereto, and at the same time electing officers under such charter or amendment.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1173. Certification

Upon the adoption of any such charter or amendment to any existing charter as provided herein, the mayor or chief executive officer exercising like or similar powers, of any such city, as soon as practicable, after the adoption of any such charter or amendment, shall certify to the Secretary of State an authenticated copy under the seal of the city, showing the approval by the qualified voters of any such charter or amendment, and the Secretary of State shall thereupon file and record the same in a separate book to be kept in his office for such purpose.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1174. Registration

The city secretary of any such city or officer exercising like or similar powers, upon the adoption and approval of any such charter or any amendment thereof by the qualified voters as herein provided, shall record at length upon the records of the city, in a separate book to be kept in his office for such purpose, any such charter, or amendment so adopted. When such charter or any amendment thereof shall be so recorded, it shall be deemed a public act and all courts shall take judicial notice of same and no proof shall be required of same. All cities may institute and prosecute suits without giving security for cost and may appeal from judgment without giving supersedeas or cost bond.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1174a. Validating Charter or Charter Amendments

That each charter, and amendment to a charter adopted by any city or¹ more than five thousand inhabitants in this State, or where such city has amended or attempted to amend or adopt such charter, since the enactment of Chapter 147, Acts of the Regular Session of the Thirty-Third Legislature of the State of Texas, 1913, relating to home rule, as well as all amendments and proceedings had under the same and all bonds issued under any amendment where the said bonds have been approved by the Attorney General and registered with the Comptroller, are hereby fully validated, ratified and confirmed and are hereby declared to be in full force and effect as if adopted in strict compliance with all of the requirements of said Chapter 147, Acts of the Thirty-Third Legislature, and the General Laws of Texas relating thereto, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Art. 1174a-1. Validation of Adoption of Charter and Election and Assumption of Office

In each instance where an election has been held heretofore in a city for the purpose of voting upon the adoption of a home rule charter for such city, and where copies of the proposed charter with the date of the election shown thereon were mailed to all of the voters within said city as shown by the tax rolls thereof, and a news item showing the date and purpose of said election was published in a newspaper published within such city at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of the said election, and such news item did not state that the voting would be limited to property owners or taxpayers in the city, and where the officers holding the election did not deny anyone the right to vote upon the ground that he was not a property owner or taxpayer, and such election resulted favorably to the adoption of the charter as shown by a resolution adopted by the governing body of the city either before or after the election of¹ assumption of office by new members of such governing body under the charter, all of the proceedings relating to the adoption of such charter and the election of and assumption of office by the new members of the governing body are hereby validated, and such charter shall constitute the charter of said city under the Constitution and laws of this State.

¹ So in enrolled bill; probably should read "election of and".

Art. 1174a-2. Validation of Adoption of Charter; Elections and Assumption of Office; Acts of Officers

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has heretofore been held in an incorporated city for the purpose of voting upon the adoption of a home rule charter for such city, where copies of the proposed charter with the date of the election shown thereon were mailed to all voters within said city as shown by the tax rolls thereof, and a news item showing the date and purpose of said election was published in a newspaper published within such city at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of such election, and a majority of the qualified voters of said city voting at said election voted in favor of the adoption of such charter, all such proceedings relating to the adoption of said charter are hereby in all things validated, ratified, and confirmed, and said charter shall constitute the home rule charter of said city under the constitution and laws of this State. All elections held under the provisions of said charter for the purpose of electing members of the governing body of the city and the assumption of office by such elected members are hereby in all things validated. All acts of the city officers and officials of any such city are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not be construed as validating the adoption of any charter or the charter so adopted if the validity of the charter adoption proceedings or of the charter are involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act in a court of competent jurisdiction of this State and such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

Sec. 3. If any word, phrase, clause, sentence or part of this Act shall be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unconstitutional, it shall not affect any other phrase, word, clause, sentence, or part of this Act.

[Acts 1953, 53rd Leg., p. 362, ch. 88.]

Art. 1174a-3. Validation of Amendment of Charter; Elections and Assumption of Office; Acts of Governing Boards

Sec. 1. In any instance where a home rule city has previously held an election for the purpose of adopting an amendment or amendments to an existing home rule charter, and copies of the proposed charter amendment or amendments were mailed to every qualified voter in the city as prescribed by law, and a majority of the qualified voters of said city voting at said election voted in favor of adopting such amendment or amendments, and such city did not publish the proposed amendment or amendments after calling said election as required by Turner v. Lewie, 201 S.W.2d 86, is, and such proceedings are, hereby in all things validated, ratified and confirmed as if such notice had been published. All elections held under the provisions of said charter, as amended, for the purpose of electing members of the governing body of the city and the assumption of office by those persons receiving the highest votes at such election and all elections thereafter called and/or held to authorize the issuance of bonds by such city, are hereby in all things validated. All acts of said officers and officials of any such city are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not be construed as validating the adoption of any charter amendment, or the charter as so amended, if the validity of the charter amendment proceedings, or of the charter, are involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act in a court of competent jurisdiction of this State and such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

Sec. 3. If any word, phrase, clause, sentence, or part of this Act shall be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unconstitutional, it shall not affect any other word, phrase, clause, sentence, or part of this Act.

[Acts 1955, 54th Leg., p. 28, ch. 20.]

Art. 1174a-4. Validation of Adoption of Charter; Elections and Assumption of Office; Acts of Officers

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has heretofore been held in an incorporated city for the purpose of voting upon the adoption of a home rule charter for such city, where copies of the proposed charter with the date of the election shown thereon were mailed to all voters within said city as shown by the tax roll thereof, and a news item showing the dates and purpose of said election was published in a newspaper published within such city at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of such election, and the proposed charter in its entirety was printed and published in a newspaper published within such city at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of such election, and a majority of the qualified voters of said city voting at said election voted in favor of the adoption of such charter, all such proceedings relating to the adoption of said charter are hereby in all things validated, ratified, and confirmed, and said charter shall constitute the home rule charter of said city under the Constitution and Laws of this State. All elections held under the provisions of said charter for the purpose of electing members of the governing body of the city and the assumption of office by such elected members are hereby in all things validated. All acts of the city officers and officials of any such city are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not be construed as validating the adoption of any charter or the charter so adopted if the validity of the charter adoption proceedings or of the charter are involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act in a court of competent jurisdiction of this State, and such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

[Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 984, ch. 459.]

Art. 1174a-5. Validation of Amendment of Charter; Elections and Assumption of Office; Acts of Governing Boards

Sec. 1. In any instance where a Home Rule City has previously held an election for the purpose of adopting an amendment or amendments to an existing Home Rule Charter, and the Notice of Intention had been published in the official newspaper published in the city one time at least eighteen days prior to the passage of the ordinance calling the election and that the ordinance calling the election was published in an "Extra Edition" of the official newspaper published in the city at least twenty-eight days prior to the date of the election, and copies of the proposed Charter amendment or amendments were mailed to every qualified voter in the city as prescribed by law, and a majority of the qualified voters of said city voted in favor of adopting such amendment or amendments is, and such proceedings are, hereby in all things validated, ratified and confirmed. All elections held under the provisions of said Charter as amended for the purpose of electing members of the governing body of the city and the assumption of office by those persons receiving the highest votes at such election and all elections thereafter and are held to authorize the issuance of bonds in such city are hereby in all things validated. All acts of said officers and officials in any such city are hereby in all things validated and the Charter of any such city as thus amended shall constitute the Charter of such city under the Constitution and Laws of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not be construed as validating the adoption of any Charter amendment or the Charter as so amended if the validity of the Charter amendment proceedings or the Charter are involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act in a court of competent jurisdiction of the state and such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

[Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 192, ch. 102.]

Art. 1174a-6. Validation of Adoption of Charter of Home Rule Cities with Population in Excess of 10,000; Elections

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to every Home Rule City in the State of Texas having a population in excess of ten thousand (10,000) persons according to the 1960 Federal Census, which has adopted or attempted to adopt a new Home Rule Charter. All proceedings had and actions taken in connection with the adoption of said new charter are hereby in all things validated. Without in any way limiting the generalization of the foregoing, it is expressly provided that all election proceedings relating to the adoption of said new charter, at which elections more than a majority of the qualified voters voting at said elections voted in favor of the proposition or propositions submitted at said elections, are hereby in all things validated.

Sec. 2. The validation provisions of this Act shall have no application to litigation pending upon the effective date of this Act questioning the validity of any matters hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of the same.

[Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 448, ch. 221.]

Art. 1174a-7. Validation of Adoption of Charter of Home Rule City in Counties of 500,000 or More; Elections and Assumption of Office; Acts of Officers

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has heretofore been held in an incorporated city in counties of five hundred thousand (500,000) or more according to the last preceding Federal Census for the purpose of voting upon the adoption of a home rule charter, where copies of the proposed charter with the date of election shown therein were mailed to each qualified voter in said city as appeared from the tax collector's roll for the year ending January 31 preceding such charter election, and a majority of the qualified voters of such city voting at said election voted in favor of the adoption of such charter as shown by the official canvass of election returns, all proceedings relating to the adoption of said charter are hereby in all things validated, ratified and confirmed, and said charter shall constitute the home rule charter of said city under the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas. All elections held under the provisions of said charter for the purpose of electing members of the governing body of the city and the assumption of office by such elected members are hereby in all things validated. All acts of the city officers and officials of any such city are hereby in all things validated, except to the extent that such acts have been heretofore invalidated by judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction or are hereafter so invalidated in litigation pending on the effective date of this Act.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not be construed as validating the adoption of any charter or the charter so adopted if the validity of the charter adoption proceedings or of the charter are involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act in a court of competent jurisdiction of this state and such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

[Acts 1962, 57th Leg., 3rd C.S., p. 115, ch. 39, §§ 1, 2.]

Art. 1174a-8. Validation of Adoption of Charter; Elections; Governmental Proceedings

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has heretofore been held in an incorporated city for the purpose of voting upon the adoption of a Home Rule Charter for such city, and in each instance where a home rule city has previously held an election for the purpose of voting upon the adoption of an amendment or amendments to an existing Home Rule Charter and a majority of the qualified voters (as shown by the canvass of the returns and declaration of the result of said election) participating at said election voted in favor of the adoption of such Charter, amendment or amendments, all of the proceedings relating to such election are hereby in all things ratified, confirmed and validated and said Charter or said Charter as so amended, as the case may be, shall constitute the Home Rule Charter of such city.

Sec. 2. All actions heretofore taken by the governing body of such city in the calling and holding of an election for the selection of members of the governing body of such city so the same shall consist of the number of persons specified in such Charter, amendment or amendments are hereby ratified and confirmed and the persons so elected and qualified are recognized as the governing body of such city.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings of home rule cities, save and except those relating to annexation of territory, are hereby ratified and confirmed and all actions of the governing bodies of home rule cities in calling and holding elections for bonds and in the authorization, issuance and delivery of bonds, warrants, scrip, and certificates of indebtedness or of assessment are hereby ratified and confirmed and said obligations shall have effect according to their purport and tenor.

Sec. 4. This Act shall not be construed as validating any proceedings or actions the validity of which is involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act and such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

[Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 415, ch. 203, eff. May 18, 1965.]

Art. 1174a-9. Validation of Adoption of Charter; Elections; Governmental Proceedings

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has heretofore been held in an incorporated city for the purpose of voting upon the adoption of a home-rule charter for the city, and in each instance where a home-rule city has previously held an election for the purpose of voting upon the adoption of an amendment or amendments to an existing home-rule charter and a majority of the qualified voters (as shown by the canvass of the returns and declaration of the result of said election) participating at the election voted in favor of the adoption of such charter, amendment or amendments, all the proceedings relating to such election are hereby in all things ratified, confirmed, and validated, and the charter or the charter as so amended, as the case may be, shall constitute the home-rule charter of the city.

Sec. 2. All actions heretofore taken by the governing body of the city in the calling and holding of an election for the selection of members of the governing body of the city so the same shall consist of the number of persons specified in the charter, amendment or amendments are hereby ratified and confirmed and the persons so elected and qualified are recognized as the governing body of the city.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings of home-rule cities, save and except those relating to annexation of territory, are hereby ratified and confirmed and all actions of the governing bodies of home-rule cities in calling and holding elections for bonds and in the authorization, issuance, and delivery of bonds, warrants, scrip, and certificates of indebtedness or of assessment are hereby ratified and confirmed and the obligations shall have effect according to their purport and tenor.

Sec. 4. This Act shall not be construed as validating any proceedings or actions the validity of which is involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act and such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

Art. 1174a-10. Validation of Adoption of Charter; Governmental Acts and Proceedings

Applicability

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any incorporated city or town that before the effective date of this Act adopted or attempted to adopt a home-rule charter and since the adoption or attempted adoption has functioned as a home-rule city.

Proceedings Validated

Sec. 2. (a) All governmental acts and proceedings of a municipality covered by this Act regarding the adoption of a home-rule charter are validated as of the dates on which they occurred.

(b) All governmental acts and proceedings of the municipality since adoption or attempted adoption of the charter are validated as of the dates on which they occurred.

Effect on Litigation

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any matter that on the effective date of this Act:

(1) is involved in litigation if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) has been held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 1174a-11. Validation of Amendment of Charter; Governmental Acts and Proceedings

Application

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any home-rule city that before August 24, 1980, amended or attempted to amend its charter and since the amendment or attempted amendment has functioned or attempted to function under the charter as amended.

Proceedings Validated

Sec. 2. (a) The governmental acts and proceedings of a home-rule city covered by this Act relating to the amendment or attempted amendment of the city's charter are validated as of the dates they occurred. The acts and proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

(b) The governmental acts and proceedings of the city occurring since the amendment of the charter and before the effective date of this Act are validated as of the dates they occurred, except that the extension of a boundary line by annexation into the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town without that city or town's consent, in violation of the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is not validated by this Act.

Effect on Litigation

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any matter that on the effective date of this Act:

(1) is involved in litigation if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) has been held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 1174a-12. Validation of Adoption of Charter; Governmental Acts and Proceedings

Applicability

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any incorporated city or town that before the effective date of this Act adopted or attempted to adopt a home-rule charter and since the adoption or attempted adoption has functioned as a home-rule city.

Proceedings Validated

Sec. 2. (a) All governmental acts and proceedings of a municipality covered by this Act regarding the adoption of a home-rule charter are validated as of the dates on which they occurred.

(b) All governmental acts and proceedings of the municipality since adoption or attempted adoption of the charter are validated as of the dates on which they occurred, except any annexation or attempted annexation gulfward from the coastline.

Effect on Litigation

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to any matter that on the effective date of this Act:

(1) is involved in litigation if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) has been held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 1174b. Validation of Annexation Proceedings of Home Rule Cities

Sec. 1. All elections, election orders, election proceedings and city ordinances annexing adjacent territory to, or extending and prescribing the corporate limits of, any Home Rule City that has adopted a charter under Article Eleven (11), Section Five (5), of the Constitution of Texas, and the provisions of Chapter 147, Acts of the Regular Session of the 33rd Legislature of the State of Texas, 1913, but which City did not in fact have a population of five thousand according to the 1920 Federal Census, be and the same are hereby validated and confirmed.

Sec. 2. The city ordinances of all Home Rule Cities in the class described in the foregoing Section fixing and prescribing the corporate limits extended by the annexation or attempted annexation of adjacent territory are hereby validated.

[Acts 1930, 41st Leg., 5th C.S., p. 139, ch. 16.]

Art. 1174c. Validating Annexation of Adjacent Territory

Sec. 1. All elections, election orders, election proceedings, city ordinances and amendments to charters annexing adjacent territory to, or extending and prescribing the corporate limitations of any home rule city that has adopted a charter under Article 11, Section 5, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, and the provisions of Chapter 147, Acts of the Regular Session of the Thirty-third Legislature of the State of Texas, 1913, and Article 1175 of Vernon's Annotated Texas Statutes, by which said city did not in fact have separate elections and separate election boxes for the city voters and the territory to be annexed, and did not comply with other requirements of the law, be and the same are hereby validated and confirmed.

Sec. 2. The city ordinances and charter amendments of all home rule cities in the class described in the foregoing section, fixing and prescribing the corporate limits extended by the annexation or attempted annexation of adjacent territory are hereby validated.

[Acts 1936, 44th Leg., 3rd C.S., p. 2102, ch. 506.]

Art. 1174d. Validation of Annexation Proceedings in Home Rule Cities of 8,920 to 9,580 Population

All ordinances and proceedings and all actions, proceedings, and contracts taken or made in pursuance thereof, heretofore undertaken by virtue of Article 1175, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, providing for the extension of the corporate limits of Home Rule cities by any city which at such time was acting under a Home Rule charter, and which such ordinances, actions, proceedings, and contracts were undertaken prior to April 1, 1930, are hereby ratified and confirmed, and such extensions of the city limits of such cities so undertaken, as well as all proceedings and contracts taken or made in pursuance thereof and the exercise of dominion and governmental functions over such added territory by extension shall be deemed and held valid in all respects and to the same extent as if done under legislative authority previously given. The provisions of this Act shall apply only to cities having a population of not less than eight thousand, nine hundred and twenty (8,920) nor more than nine thousand, five hundred and eighty (9,580), according to the last preceding Federal Census.

Art. 1174e. Validation of Annexation Proceedings of Certain Home Rule Cities Occurring Before March 1, 1961

Sec. 1. All ordinances, resolutions and proceedings passed and adopted and all contracts made pursuant thereto, prior to the 1st day of March, 1961, by a home rule city undertaking to annex adjacent and contiguous territory to its corporate limits by virtue of the provisions of Article 1175 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925 and the amendments thereto, or by virtue of the applicable provisions of its city charter, are hereby ratified and confirmed, and such extensions of the city limits of such cities so undertaken, as well as all proceedings and contracts taken or made in pursuance thereof and the exercise of dominion and governmental functions over such added territory, by annexation, shall be deemed and held valid in all respects and to the same extent as if done under legislative authority previously given.

Sec. 1(a). Nothing herein shall validate any annexation proceedings where no bonds have been voted or issued by the annexing municipality prior to March 1, 1961, and after the commencement of such annexation proceedings.

Sec. 2. The effective date of this Act shall be January 1, 1962, and the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city if its annexation proceedings are involved in litigation at the time this law becomes effective.

[Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 1009, ch. 439.]

Art. 1175. Enumerated Powers

Cities adopting the charter or amendment hereunder shall have full power of local self-government, and among the other powers that may be exercised by any such city the following are hereby enumerated for greater certainty:

1. The creation of a commission, aldermanic or other form of government; the creation of offices, the manner and mode of selecting officers and prescribing their qualifications, duties, compensation and tenure of office.

2. The power to fix the boundary limits of said city, to provide for the extension of said boundary limits and the annexation of additional territory lying adjacent to said city, to provide for the disannexation of territory within such city and to provide for the exchange of territory with other cities or towns, according to such rules as may be provided by said charter not inconsistent with the procedural rules prescribed by the Municipal Annexation Act.¹

3. To hold by gift, deed, devise or otherwise any character of property, including any charitable or trust fund; to plead and be impleaded in all courts, and to act in perpetual succession as a body politic.

4. To provide that no public property or any other character of property owned or held by said city shall be subject to any execution of any kind or nature.

5. To provide that no fund of the city shall be subject to garnishment, and the city shall never be required to answer in any garnishment proceedings.

6. To provide for the exemption from liability on account of any claim for any damages to any person or property, or to fix such rules and regulations governing the city's liability as may be deemed advisable.

7. To provide for the levying of any general or special ad valorem tax for any purpose not inconsistent with the Constitution of this State.

8. To provide for the mode and method of assessing taxes, both real and personal, against any person and corporation, including the right to assess the franchise of any public corporation using and occupying the public streets or grounds of the city, separately from the tangible property of such corporation.

9. To provide for the collection of all taxes, including the right to impose penalties for delinquent taxes.

10. The power to control and manage the finances of any such city; to prescribe its fiscal year and fiscal arrangements; the power to issue bonds upon the credit of the city for the purpose of making permanent public improvements or for other public purposes in the amount and to the extent provided by such charter, and consistent with the Constitution of this State; provided, that said bonds shall have first been authorized by a majority vote by the duly qualified property tax-paying voters voting at an election held for that purpose. Thereafter all such bonds shall be submitted to the Attorney General for his approval, and the Comptroller for registration, as provided by law, provided that any such bonds after approval, may be issued by the city, either optional or serial or otherwise as may be deemed advisable by the governing authority. Whenever any city has heretofore been authorized, under any special charter, creating such city, to issue any bonds by the terms of such charter, the provisions of this chapter shall not be construed to interfere with the issuance of any such bonds under the provisions of any charter under which such bonds were authorized.

11. To have the exclusive right to own, erect, maintain and operate water works and water works system for the use of any city, and its inhabitants, to regulate the same and have power to prescribe rates for water furnished and to acquire by purchase, donation or otherwise, suitable grounds within and without the limits of the city on which to erect any such works and the necessary right of way, and to do and perform whatsoever may be necessary to operate and maintain the said water works or water works system and to compel the owners of all property and the agents of such owners or persons in control thereof to pay all charges for water furnished upon such property and to fix a lien upon such property for any such charges. To provide that all receipts from the water works may, in its discretion, constitute a separate or sacred fund which shall be used for no other purpose than the extension, improvement, operation, maintenance, repair and betterment of said water works system or water works supply, and to provide for the pledging of any such receipts and revenues for the purpose of making any of such improvements, and the payment of the principal and providing an interest and sinking fund for any bonds issued therefor under such regulations as may be provided by the charter adopted by such city.

12. To prohibit the use of any street, alley, highway or grounds of the city by any telegraph, telephone, electric light, street railway, interurban railway, steam railway, gas company, or any other character of public utility without first obtaining the consent of the governing authorities expressed by ordinance and upon paying such compensation as may be prescribed and upon such condition as may be provided by any such ordinance. To determine, fix and regulate the charges, fares or rates of any person, firm or corporation enjoying or that may enjoy the franchise or exercising any other public privilege in said city and to prescribe the kind of service to be furnished by such person, firm or corporation, and the manner in which it shall be rendered, and from time to time alter or change such rules, regulations and compensation; provided that in adopting such regulations and in fixing or changing such compensation, or determining the reasonableness thereof, no stock or bonds authorized or issued by any corporation enjoying the franchise shall be considered unless proof² that the same have been actually issued by the corporation for money paid and used for the development of the corporate property, labor done or property actually received in accordance with the laws and Constitution of this State applicable thereto. In order to ascertain all facts necessary for a proper understanding of what is or should be a reasonable rate or regulation, the governing authority shall have full power to inspect the books and compel the attendance of witnesses for such purpose.

13. To buy, own, construct within or without the city limits and to maintain and operate a system or systems, of gas, or electric lighting plant, telephone, street railways, sewerage plants, fertilizing plants, abattoir, municipal railway terminals, docks, wharfs, ferries, ferry landings, loading and unloading devices and shipping facilities, or any other public service or public utility, and to demand and receive compensation for service furnished for private purpose or otherwise, and to exercise the right of eminent domain as hereinafter provided for the appropriation of lands, rights of way or anything whatsoever that may be proper and necessary to efficiently carry out said objects. Any city shall have the power to condemn the property of any person, firm or corporation now conducting any such business and for the purpose of operating and maintaining any such public utilities and for the purpose of distributing such service throughout the city or any portion thereof; provided that any city may adopt by its charter any such rules and regulations as it may deem advisable for the acquiring and operation of any such public utilities.

14. To manufacture its own electricity, gas, or anything else that may be needed or used by the public; to purchase and make contracts with any person or corporation for the purchasing of gas, electricity, oil or any other commodity or article used by the public and to sell the same to the public upon such terms as may be provided by the charter.

15. To have the power to appropriate private property for public purposes whenever the governing authorities shall deem it necessary; to take any private property within or without the city limits for any of the following purposes; city halls, police stations, jails, calaboose, fire stations, libraries, school houses, high school buildings, academies, hospitals, sanitariums, auditoriums, market houses, reformatories, abattoirs, railroad terminals, docks, wharves, warehouses, ferries, ferry landings, elevators, loading and unloading devices, shipping facilities, piers, streets, alleys, parks, highways, boulevards, speedways, playgrounds, sewer systems, storm sewers, sewerage disposal plants, drains, filtering beds and emptying grounds for sewer systems, reservoirs, water sheds, water supply sources, wells, water and electric light systems, gas plants, cemeteries, crematories, prison farms, and to acquire lands within and without the city for any other municipal purposes that may be deemed advisable. The power herein granted for the purpose of acquiring private property shall include the power of the improvement and enlargement of the water works, including water supply, riparian rights, stand pipes, water sheds, the construction of supply reservoirs, parks, squares and pleasure grounds, public wharves, and landing places for steamers and other crafts, and for the purpose of straightening or improving the channels of any stream, branch or drain, or the straightening, widening or extension of any street, alley, avenue or boulevard. The power of eminent domain hereby conferred shall include the right of the governing authority, when so expressed, to take the fee in the lands so condemned and such power and authority shall include the right to condemn public property for such purposes.

16. To have exclusive dominion, control, and jurisdiction in, over and under the public streets, avenues, alleys, highways and boulevards, and public grounds of such city and to provide for the improvement of any public street, alleys, highways, avenues or boulevards by paving, raising, grading, filling or otherwise improving the same and to charge the cost of making such improvement against the abutting property, by fixing a lien against the same, and a personal charge against the owner thereof according to an assessment specially levied therefor in an amount not to exceed the special benefit any such property received in enhanced value by reason of making such improvement, and to provide for the issuance of assignable certificates covering the payments for said cost, provided that the charter shall apportion the cost to be paid by the property owners and the amount to be paid by the city, and provided further, that all street railways, steam railways, or other railways, shall pay the cost of improving the said street between the rails and tracks of any such railway companies and for two feet on each side thereof. The city shall have the power to provide for the construction and building of sidewalks and charge the entire cost of constructing of said sidewalks, including the curb, against the owner of abutting property, and to make a special charge against the owner for such cost and to provide by special assessment a lien against such property for such cost; to have the power to provide for the improvement of any such sidewalk or the construction of any such curb by penal ordinance and to declare defective sidewalks to be a public nuisance. The power herein granted for making street improvements and assessing the cost by special assessment in the manner herein stated shall not be construed to prevent any city from adopting any other method or plan for the improvement of its streets, sidewalks, alleys, curbs, or boulevards, as it may deem advisable by its charter.

17. To open, extend, straighten, widen any public street, alley, avenue or boulevard and for such purpose to acquire the necessary lands and to appropriate the same under the power of eminent domain and to provide that the cost of improving any such street, alley, avenue or boulevard by opening, extending and widening the same shall be paid by the owners of property specially benefited whose property lies in the territory of such improvement and to provide that the cost shall be charged by special assessment and that a personal charge shall be made against any owner for the amount due by him and to provide for the appointment by the county judge or other officer exercising like or similar powers, of three special commissioners for the purpose of condemning the said lands and for the purpose of apportioning the said cost, which apportionment of said cost shall be specially assessed by the governing authorities against the owners and the property of the owners lying in the territory so found to be specially benefited in enhanced value by said special commissioners. The city shall pay such portion of such cost as may be determined by the said special commissioners, provided the same shall never exceed one third the cost, and the property owners and their property shall be liable for the balance of the same as may be apportioned by said commissioners. The city may issue assignable certificates for the payment of any such cost against such property owners and may provide for the payment of any such cost in deferred payments, to bear interest at such rate as may be prescribed by the charter not to exceed eight per cent. The city may adopt any other method for the opening, straightening, widening or extending of its streets as herein provided for as may be deemed advisable, and charge the cost of same against the property and the owner specially benefited in enhanced value and lying in the territory of said improvement, that its charter may provide. The authority to adopt any other method shall include the manner of appointing commissioners, the manner of giving notice and the manner of fixing assessments or providing for the payment of any such improvement.

18. To control, regulate and remove all obstructions or other encroachments or encumbrances on any public street, alley or ground, and to narrow, alter, widen or straighten any such streets, alleys, avenues or boulevards, and to vacate and abandon and close any such streets, alleys, avenues or boulevards, and to regulate and control the moving of buildings or other structures over and upon the streets or avenues of such city.

19. Each city shall have the power to define all nuisances and prohibit the same within the city and outside the city limits for a distance of five thousand feet; to have power to police all parks or grounds, lakes and the land contiguous thereto and used in connection therewith, speedways, or boulevards owned by said city and lying outside of said city; to prohibit the pollution of any stream, drain or tributaries thereof, which may constitute the source of water supply of any city and to provide for policing the same as well as to provide for the protection of any water sheds and the policing of same; to inspect dairies, slaughter pens and slaughter houses inside or outside the limits of the city, from which meat or milk is furnished to the inhabitants of the city.

20. To license, operate and control the operation of all character of vehicles using the public streets, including motorcycles, automobiles or like vehicles, and to prescribe the speed of the same, the qualification of the operator of the same, and the lighting of the same by night and to provide for the giving bond or other security for the operation of the same.

21. To regulate, license and fix the charges or fares made by any person owning, operating or controlling any vehicle of any character used for the carrying of passengers for hire or the transportation of freight for hire on the public streets and alleys of the city.

22. To regulate the location and control the conduct of theaters, moving picture shows, ten pin alleys, vaudeville shows, and all places of public amusements.

23. To license any lawful business, occupation or calling that is susceptible to the control of the police power.

24. To license, regulate, control or prohibit the erection of signs or bill boards as may be provided by charter or ordinance.

25. To provide for the establishment and designation of fire limits and to prescribe the kind and character of buildings or structures or improvements to be erected therein, and to provide for the erection of fire proof buildings within certain limits, and to provide for the condemnation of dangerous structures or buildings or dilapidated buildings or buildings calculated to increase the fire hazard, and the manner of their removal or destruction.

26. To divide the city in zones or districts, and to regulate the location, size, height, bulk and use of buildings within such zones or districts, and to establish building lines within such zones or districts or otherwise, and make different regulations for different districts and thereafter alter the same. The governing authorities may be authorized by their charter to create a commission or board for the purpose of carrying out the powers of this section, or may provide for the creation of a board of appeals or review for the purpose of hearing and deciding on appeals from and reviewing any order, requirement, decision or determination of the governing authorities in carrying out the powers and authority herein conferred; provided the authority and power herein conferred shall never be construed to be a limitation of any other power and authority conferred in this chapter.

27. To provide for police and fire departments.

28. To provide for a health department and the establishment of rules and regulations protecting the health of the city and the establishment of quarantine stations, and pest houses, emergency hospitals and hospitals, and to provide for the adoption of necessary quarantine laws to protect the inhabitants against contagious or infectious diseases.

29. To provide for a sanitary sewer system and to require property owners to make connections with such sewers with their premises and to provide for fixing a lien against any property owner's premises who fails or refuses to make sanitary sewer connections and to charge the cost against said owner and make it a personal liability. To provide for fixing penalties for a failure to make sanitary sewer connections.

30. The power to require water works corporations, gas companies, street car companies, telephone companies, telegraph companies, electric light companies or other companies or individuals enjoying a franchise now or hereafter from the city, to make and furnish extensions of their service to such territory as may be required by the charter.

31. Provided that in all cities of over twenty-five thousand inhabitants, the governing body of such city, when the public service of such city may require the same, shall have the right and power to compel any street railway or other public utility corporation to extend its lines of service into any section of said city not to exceed two miles, all told, in any one year.

32. To provide for the establishment of public schools and public school system in any such city, and to have exclusive control over same and to provide such regulations and rules governing the management of same as may be deemed advisable; to levy and collect the necessary taxes, general or special, for the support of such public schools and public school system.

33. Whenever any city may determine to acquire any public utility using and occupying its streets, alleys, and avenues as hereinbefore provided, and it shall be necessary to condemn the said public utility, the city may obtain funds for the purpose of acquiring the said public utility and paying the compensation therefor, by issuing bonds, notes or other evidence of indebtedness and shall secure the same by fixing a lien upon the said properties constituting the said public utility so acquired by condemnation or purchase or otherwise; said security shall apply alone to said properties so pledged; and such further regulations may be provided by any charter for the proper financing or raising the revenue necessary for obtaining any public utilities and providing for the fixing of said security.

34. To enforce all ordinances necessary to protect health, life and property, and to prevent and summarily abate and remove all nuisances and to preserve and enforce the good government, order and security of the city and its inhabitants.

35. A home-rule city may require all buildings to be constructed in accordance with energy conservation standards included in the building code, if any.

36. A home-rule city may adopt an ordinance which requires the demolition or repair of buildings which are dilapidated, substandard, or unfit for human habitation and which constitute a hazard to the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens. The ordinance must establish minimum standards for continued use and occupancy of structures, and these standards shall apply to buildings regardless of when they were constructed. The ordinance must provide for proper notice to the owner and a public hearing. After the hearing, if the building is found to be substandard, the city may direct that the building be repaired or removed within a reasonable time. After the expiration of the allotted time the city has the power to remove the building at the expense of the city and assess the expenses on the land on which the building stood or to which it was attached and may provide for that assessment, the mode and manner of giving notice, and the means of recovering the removal expenses.

Ordinances Authorized

Sec. 1. All cities and towns in the State of Texas, whether incorporated under general or special law, including home rule cities, having a population in excess of two hundred and ninety thousand (290,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, shall have and they are hereby given the power and authority to pass an ordinance or ordinances;

(a) Requiring all residents of said city, including corporations having their principal office or place of business in said city, owning a motor vehicle used for the transportation of persons or property, or both, and all persons using the streets, alleys, or other public thoroughfares of said city upon which to operate a motor vehicle, to have each and every such motor vehicle tested and inspected and to comply with such requirements, as may be imposed by said ordinance, not more than four times in each calendar year;

(b) Requiring that other and additional tests and inspections may be required of all motor vehicles involved in any wreck, collision, or accident before the same may be operated on the streets, alleys, or other public thoroughfares of said city after said wreck, collision, or accident;

(c) Requiring as a condition precedent to the right to use the streets, alleys, or other public thoroughfares of said city that motor vehicles operated thereupon shall have been tested and inspected, shall have been approved by said testing and inspecting authorities, and shall have complied with all provisions of said ordinance;

(d) Providing a penalty subject to the limitations of Article 1011 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas for the violation of any of the terms of said ordinance.

Testing Stations

Sec. 2. Said cities shall be and they are hereby authorized to acquire, establish, erect, equip, improve, enlarge, repair, operate, and maintain motor vehicle testing stations and to pay for the same out of the fees charged for testing and inspecting said motor vehicles.

Fees

Sec. 3. Said cities shall have and they are hereby given power and authority to prescribe and collect a fee, not to exceed One Dollar ($1) per year per vehicle, for the testing and inspecting of each such motor vehicle. All fees so collected to be placed in a separate fund, out of which costs and expenses in connection with, or growing out of the acquisition, establishment, erection, equipping, improvement, enlargement, repairing, operating, and maintaining said testing stations, and automotive and Safety Education programs, may be paid.

Payment for Testing Stations; Encumbrance; Borrowing Money

Sec. 4. Said cities shall have and they are hereby given power and authority to pay for such testing stations and the equipping, maintaining, and operating thereof out of past or future earnings of said stations, and may mortgage and encumber said stations and everything pertaining thereto acquired, to secure the payment of funds to construct the same or any part thereof, or to erect, equip, improve, enlarge, repair, operate, or maintain said stations. No such mortgage or encumbrance shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the properties so mortgaged or encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city to issue bonds for any purpose authorized by law. Said cities may borrow money and issue warrants to finance in whole or in part the cost of the acquisition, erection, equipping, improvement, enlargement, or repair of said stations and to pledge for the punctual payment of said warrants and interest thereon all or any part of the fees or other receipts derived from the operation of such stations.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 5. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid or unconstitutional, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the Act, and the Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed such remaining portions despite such invalidity or unconstitutionality.

Vehicles Operated Under Permits

Sec. 5a. Nothing herein or in any ordinance passed pursuant hereto shall apply to motor vehicles, trailers or semitrailers operated under a certificate or permit from the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Repeal

Sec. 6. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith shall be and the same are hereby repealed to the extent of said conflict only.

[Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 194, ch. 102.]

Art. 1175c. Vacancies in Offices in Cities Over 384,000

In case of vacancy from any cause in any elective office of any Home Rule City in this state having a population of three hundred eighty-four thousand (384,000) inhabitants or more according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, where the charter of such city does not, at such time, provide for the filling of such vacancy, the city council or governing body of such city, by majority vote, shall appoint someone to fill such vacancy for the unexpired term; and pending such appointment such governing body may appoint someone temporarily, for not more than sixty (60) days, to hold such office, which person or persons, as the case may be, shall be qualified in like manner as is then required of the elective official. Provided, however, that whenever any such city holds an election to vote upon proposed amendments to its charter, it shall at such time submit a proposed amendment thereto providing a method for filling any vacancy to elective offices which are not now provided for in said charter.

Art. 1175d. Water Supply Systems; Easements Over Highways in Certain Home Rule Cities

The City Commission of all Home Rule Cities of this State, having a population of not less than thirty-one thousand (31,000) and not more than thirty-two thousand, five hundred (32,500) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, shall have and such Cities are hereby granted easements on and over all public highways and county roads in the county in which such City is situated, for the purpose of constructing, laying and maintaining water pipe lines which constitute a part of the water supply system operated by said Cities. Provided, however, that on all State highways such water pipe lines shall be laid at such place and in such manner as may be approved by the State Highway Engineers, and all such water pipe lines to be laid on any county road shall be laid in such manner and as may be approved by the County Engineer of such county; provided further, such water pipe lines shall not be laid in any manner that will unreasonably interfere with the use of such highways and public roads. Provided further that such lines shall be laid parallel to and in reasonably close proximity with the outer edge of the right of way of such State highway or public road, except that such lines may be laid across such highway or public road in the manner to be approved by the engineers of the aforesaid; and provided further that said lines shall be laid deep enough under the ground that the said pipe lines will not interfere with the grading or other use required by the Highway Department or the County Commissioners.

Art. 1175e. Parking Facilities

Sec. 1. Any home rule city in this state is hereby authorized to establish, acquire, lease as lessor or lessee, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate and maintain structures, parking areas, parking garages or facilities for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances.

Sec. 2. Any such city is hereby authorized and shall have the power by the exercise of the right of eminent domain to acquire the fee simple title to property for the purpose of acquiring sites upon which to build parking structures, parking areas, parking garages or facilities for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or conveyances. Any such city is hereby authorized and shall have the power to regulate the use of such facilities and establish rates and charges for the use thereof. In the event that the city, in the exercise of the power of eminent domain or power of relocation, or any other power granted hereunder, makes necessary the relocation, raising, rerouting, or changing the grade of, or altering the construction of, any highway, railroad, electric transmission line, telegraph or telephone properties and facilities, or pipeline, all such necessary relocation, raising, rerouting, changing of grade, or alteration of construction shall be accomplished at the sole expense of the city. The term "sole expense" shall mean the actual cost of such relocation, raising, lowering, rerouting, or change in grade or alteration of construction in providing comparable replacement without enhancement of such facilities, after deducting therefrom the net salvage value derived from the old facility.

Sec. 3. The governing body of any such city may divide the city or any portion thereof into improvement districts clearly defining the limits of each district, and any such city shall have the power to borrow money on the credit of such city and issue bonds of the city for the acquisition of the public improvements authorized herein; but every proposition to borrow money on the credit of the city for the acquisition or construction of any of said public improvements within any improvement district shall be submitted to the qualified taxpaying voters living and owning property in such districts, and each proposition to borrow money on the credit of the city in any improvement district shall distinctly specify the purpose for which the bonds are to be issued and the public improvements to be constructed. If said proposition be sustained by a majority of the votes cast in such election in such district, the issuance of such bonds shall be lawful. All bonds shall specify for which purpose they were issued, shall bear interest at a rate not greater than 6½% per annum, and when sold, shall net not less than par value, with accrued interest to date of payment of the proceeds into the city treasury, and such bonds may be negotiated in lots, as the governing body of such city may direct. No debts shall ever be created against the city or any improvement district unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually upon the property in such improvement district a sum sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds and create a sinking fund of at least 2% thereon. The interest and sinking fund tax shall be in addition to the other current taxes levied by the city, and shall be kept separate by the City Treasurer from other funds, and shall not be diverted or used for any other purpose than to pay interest and principal on such bonds and the City Treasurer shall honor no draft on said fund except to pay the interest and redeem the bonds for which it was provided. The sinking fund for such bonds may be invested in such securities as are now permitted by law for other municipal bonds. The tax levied for interest and sinking fund for bonds issued for public improvements in any district shall not exceed 50 cents on the $100.00 valuation annually which tax shall be in addition to all other taxes authorized or permitted to be levied by the charter of such city.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., 2nd C.S., p. 125, ch. 27, eff. Sept. 19, 1969.]

Art. 1176. Further Powers

The enumeration of powers hereinabove made shall never be construed to preclude, by implication or otherwise, any such city from exercising the powers incident to the enjoyment of local self-government, provided that such powers shall not be inhibited by the State Constitution.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1176a. Code of Civil and Criminal Ordinances

Power to Codify; Effect

Sec. 1. Any city of this state, whether incorporated under General or Special Law, shall have the power to codify its civil and criminal ordinances and adopt a civil and criminal code of ordinances, together with appropriate penalties for the violation thereof, which said code when adopted shall have the force and effect of an ordinance regularly enacted with the usual prerequisite of law.

Ordinances Changed Without Separate Amendment or Repeal

Sec. 2. That should it become necessary in the codification of such ordinances, both civil and criminal, to change, alter or repeal any portion thereof or to change the terminology of any ordinances heretofore adopted, such change being occasioned by a change in the form of government and the redesignation of offices and officers, then such city is hereby expressly authorized to amend, omit or repeal the same and to change the terminology to conform to its present form of government without the necessity of re-enacting, repealing or amending any such ordinance separately incorporated in said code.

Adoption of Code

Sec. 3. That upon the codification of said code of civil and criminal ordinances, such city is authorized to adopt such code by the enactment of an ordinance and upon the adoption thereof, the City Secretary shall record said code as adopted in the ordinance records of such city, and thereafter such record shall serve as a record of the ordinances so codified and it shall not be necessary in establishing the content of any particular ordinance so codified to go beyond said record.

Publication of Adopting Ordinance

Sec. 4. That the ordinance adopting such code shall be published in the official publication of such city, or in a newspaper published in the city or county, as now provided by law, provided, however, that if any such city operates under a special charter or special law which provides for the publication of ordinances both civil and criminal, then in that event such city shall comply with such special provision of its charter in publishing such adopting ordinance. The code, when so adopted, shall become effective immediately upon and after its passage and it shall not be necessary to publish said code in any publication whatsoever.

Printed Code as Evidence of Enactment of Particular Ordinance

Sec. 5. That any such city may cause a copy of such code, duly authenticated and approved under the signature of the mayor and attested by the city secretary, to be printed under the direction of the governing body, and when so printed it shall be admitted in evidence without further proof and shall be prima facie evidence in all courts of the existence and regular enactment of such particular ordinance.

Subdivision of Code into Chapters, Articles, Sections, Etc.

Sec. 6. That the code may be subdivided into chapters, titles, articles and/or sections within the discretion of the governing body making such codification and providing for its adoption.

Art. 1176b-1. Publication of Ordinances Enacted by Home Rule Cities

Sec. 1. Hereafter all ordinances passed by Home Rule Cities in the State of Texas organized and operating under the provisions of the Home Rule Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, and under Title 28, Chapter 13 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925,¹ may be published as provided by the Charters of such Cities, however, as an alternative method of publication the governing body may publish a descriptive caption or title stating in summary the purpose of the ordinances and the penalty for violation thereof; and in the event the Charter of any Home Rule City makes no provision for the method of publication, a full text of the ordinance may be published at least twice in the official newspaper of the City, or in lieu thereof a descriptive caption or title stating in summary the purpose of the ordinance and the penalty for violation thereof may be published.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of all laws on this subject and wherever the provisions of this Act are in conflict with any existing law or laws on this subject, the provisions hereof, in so far as same are in conflict with any existing law or laws, shall govern and control.

Art. 1176b-2. Validation of Ordinances of Home Rule Cities Published in Compliance With Charters

All Ordinances heretofore passed by Home Rule Cities organized and operating under the provisions of Home Rule Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, and under the provisions of Title 28, Chapter 13, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925,¹ where such Ordinances have been passed in compliance with the provisions of the charters of said cities and have been duly published, as required by such charters, be and the same are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed, and are hereby declared to be in full force and effect, in so far as the required publication is concerned, as if published in strict compliance with all of the requirements of the General Laws of the State of Texas; provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any proceedings, levies, or to any bonds or warrants issued thereunder, nor to ordinances passed and published in violation of the method and procedure prescribed in said charters, the validity of which has been contested or attacked in suit or litigation which is pending at the time this Act becomes a law, or which may be filed within ninety (90) days after this Act becomes a law; provided further, that any person, whose rights are adversely affected by an ordinance hereafter enacted in violation of said charter, shall be entitled to injunctive relief in any court of competent jurisdiction upon proper application and satisfactory proof.

Art. 1176b-3. Validation of Ordinances of Home Rule Cities Authorizing Issuance of Time Warrants

This Act shall apply to every city or town incorporated and operating under a Home Rule Charter (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "city"). All ordinances or other proceedings heretofore adopted by the governing body of any city authorizing the issuance of time warrants of said city for the purpose of evidencing the indebtedness of such city for all or part of the cost of purchasing or acquiring, either or both, of rights-of-way for the public streets within said city, including incidental expenses in connection therewith, are hereby in all things validated; and any time warrants heretofore issued pursuant to the terms of any such ordinance or proceedings are hereby in all things validated; and any time warrants hereafter issued pursuant to the terms of any such ordinance or proceedings heretofore adopted shall, when issued, be valid and binding obligations of such city. It is expressly provided, however, that the validation provisions of this Act shall have no application to litigation pending upon the effective date of this Act which questions the legality of any of the matters hereby validated.

Art. 1177. Former Powers

All powers heretofore granted any city by general law or special charter are hereby preserved to each of said cities, and the power so conferred upon such cities, either by special or general law, is hereby granted to such cities when embraced in and made a part of the charter adopted by such city; and until the charter of such city as the same now exists is amended and adopted, it shall be and remain in full force and effect.

Art. 1178. Vested Rights

The adoption of any charter hereunder or any amendment thereof shall never be construed to destroy any property, action, rights of action, claims, and demands of any nature or kind whatever vested in the city under and by virtue of any charter theretofore existing or otherwise accruing to the city, but all such rights of action, claims or demands shall vest in and inure to the city and to any persons asserting any such claims against the city as fully as though the said charter or amendment had not been adopted hereunder. The adoption of any charter or amendment hereunder shall never be construed to affect the right of the city to collect by special assessment any special assessment heretofore levied under any law or special charter for the purpose of paving or improving any street, highway, avenue or boulevard of any city, or for the purpose of opening, extending, widening, straightening or otherwise improving the same, nor affect any right of any contract or obligation existing between the city and any person, firm or corporation for the making of any such improvements. For the purpose of collecting any such special assessment and carrying out of any such contract, the provisions of all charters shall be continued in force.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1179. Improvement Districts

Such city shall have the power to create and establish improvement districts, to levy, straighten, widen, enclose or otherwise improve any river, creek, bayou, stream or other body of water or streets or alleys, and to drain, grade, fill and otherwise protect and improve the territory within its limits, and shall have power to issue bonds for making such improvements, such improvement districts to be created and established agreeably to the general laws of this State providing for the creation of such improvement districts, and the issuance of such bonds shall be governed by the powers a city possesses in the matter of issuing bonds.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1180. Private Improvements

Such city shall further have the power to straighten, widen, levy, enclose, or otherwise improve any river, creek, bayou, stream, or other body of water, or streets or alleys and to drain, grade, fill and otherwise protect and improve the territory within its limits and to provide that the cost of making any such improvements shall be paid for by the property owners owning property in the territory specially benefited in enhanced value by reason of making such improvements, and a personal charge shall be made against such owners as well as a lien shall be fixed by special assessment against any such property, and the city may issue assignable certificates or negotiable certificates, as it deems advisable, covering such cost, and may provide for the payment of such cost in deferred payments and fix the rate of interest not to exceed eight per cent, and may provide for the appointment of special commissioners or otherwise for the making or levying of said special assessment, or may provide that the same shall be done by the governing authorities, and that such rules and regulations may be adopted for a hearing and other proceedings had as may be provided by said charter.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1180a. Improvement of Streams Within Boundaries by Certain Cities

Cities Which May Make Improvements; Power Conferred

Sec. 1. Any City having a population in excess of 150,000 people and less than 240,000 people, according to the last or any succeeding Federal Census, shall have and exercise the power and right to straighten, widen, levee, restrain or otherwise control or improve any river, creek, bayou, stream or other body of water, and to grade or fill land and otherwise protect life and property within the boundaries of such City, meaning hereby to confer the power to amend or abate any harmful excess of water, either constant or periodic, by any and all mechanical means, and, to that end, may provide and pay the cost of any such improvement, or any part thereof, in the manner and form provided by Articles 1179 and 1180, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, or the cost of any such improvement, or any part thereof, may be provided in any other manner or form lawful to be exercised by any such City under the Constitution of Texas and not expressly prohibited by the Charter of any such City.

Additional Powers

Sec. 2. Any such City, in addition to the power declared in Subdivision 1 of this Article, shall have these further specific powers, viz.:

a. To contribute to the cost, upkeep, replacement, alteration, extension, maintenance and operation of any works or improvements contemplated hereby, when such improvements are to be provided and/or operated by another.

b. To solicit and receive from another contribution to the cost of any such improvements and/or the alteration, enlargement, operation and maintenance thereof, when such works are to be provided and operated by any such City.

c. To purchase, or otherwise acquire and take over any such improvements, and/or the maintenance or the operation thereof, any one or all, and, electively and when so contracted, to assume any outstanding bond debt or other debt secured by lien, which debt does not bear interest at a rate greater than six per cent per annum, and which debt may have been incurred in order to provide any such works and improvements. It is the intent hereof that this provision shall supercede and control any provision of a City Charter not in conformity hereto, but it is expressly provided that nothing herein contained shall be held to create indebtedness exceeding the limit for debt appropriately fixed by Law; provided no such city, in purchasing or acquiring any such improvements, or the right to maintain and control the properties of such levee or improvement district, shall assume any bonded indebtedness outstanding and owing by such levee or improvement district, unless and until such city shall have first been authorized to do so by an election, at which such question of assuming any indebtedness and/or maintenance shall be first submitted to, and adopted by, the qualified property-tax-paying voters of said city.

d. To enter into contract with another whereby any such City may, jointly with another or independently, do any one or all of the things by this Act intended.

Powers Available to All Bodies Politic

Sec. 3. It is the intent hereof that any and all Bodies Politic which are subsidiary Governmental Agencies of the State, and otherwise having appropriate powers, may avail themselves of the provisions hereof and enter into contract one with another in order to accomplish the purpose of this Article.

Power to Provide Money

Sec. 4. Any such City and/or any other Body Politic and Corporate, which, under contract with a City having power hereunder, may seek to exercise the powers established by this Article, shall have the further power to provide the money required to construct, maintain and operate improvements hereunder, either separately or jointly under contract with another, in any manner lawful under the Constitution of Texas, and not expressly inhibited by the Charter and/or Statutory Act under which any such City or other contracting Body Politic may have its being.

Construction

Sec. 5. The word "another" or "others" as used herein shall be understood to include both the singular and the plural and shall be understood to include a City, a County, a Levee District, a Water Control and Improvement District, a Water Improvement District, a Navigation District and every other Body Politic under the Laws of Texas having Statutory powers concerning the control of harmful excess of water.

[Acts 1931, 42nd Leg., p. 831, ch. 345.]

Art. 1180b. Self-Liquidating Recreational Improvements

Powers Granted to Certain Cities; Encumbrances

Sec. 1. That all cities having two hundred and thirty thousand (230,000) or more inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, shall have the power to purchase and own, build, maintain, operate, mortgage and encumber health and recreational establishments, parks, playgrounds, hotels, bathhouses, bathing pools or facilities, and any and all other installations or establishments necessary or desirable as a part of health and recreational resorts, parks, or playgrounds, or any of them either, and the income therefrom and to provide, maintain, operate, and encumber such projects and facilities acquired by gift, devise, grant, or otherwise by such cities, and to evidence the obligations therefor by bonds, notes or warrants and to secure the payment of funds to purchase same with such instruments of pledge or mortgage as may be deemed to be desirable; or to remodel, rebuild, renovate, maintain and repair such health and recreational establishments, parks, playgrounds, hotels, bathhouses, bathing pools or facilities, and any and all other installations or establishments necessary or desirable as a part of such projects, or any of them. Provided, however, that such cities are prohibited from mortgaging or encumbering any property now owned by such cities, and the rights and privileges hereby conferred upon such cities shall only authorize such cities to mortgage and encumber property acquired by such cities after the date of the passage of this Act. No such obligation on any such project shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the property and revenue of the project or projects so encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of any such city to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Acts as to Notice, Competitive Bids, Etc., Inapplicable

Sec. 2. That the provisions of House Bill No. 312, Chapter No. 163; Acts of the Forty-second Legislature, 1931,¹ with reference to notice, competitive bids and the right to referendum shall not apply to cities issuing "revenue bonds" under the authority conferred in this Act.

Encumbrance of Income; Operating Expenses as Prior Lien

Sec. 3. Whenever the income to be derived from the operation of any such project or projects shall be encumbered under this law, the expense of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repairs, and extensions necessary to properly maintain said project or projects, and every proper item of expense, shall always be a first lien and charge against such income. The rate of rental and concession charges for the use of the various installations, facilities and establishments of such project or projects shall be determined by the governing body of such project and no free service or rental shall ever be allowed. Rental and concession charges shall be charged and collected for the use of the various installations, facilities and establishments of such project or projects in an amount sufficient to pay operating and maintenance expenses, depreciation, replacements, salaries and interest charges, and to provide interest and sinking funds to pay the amount of any bonds issued to purchase, construct, maintain or improve any such project as herein enumerated or allowed, or any outstanding indebtedness against such projects, or any of them, and such charges shall be in accordance with the requirements of the Governmental Agency or Agencies lending or furnishing funds in aid thereof.

Contents of Contracts, Bonds, Etc.

Sec. 4. Every contract, bond, warrant and note issued or executed under this law shall contain this clause:

"The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Management and Control by Governing Body

Sec. 5. The management and control of any such health and recreational establishments, parks, playgrounds, hotels, bathhouses, bathing pools or facilities, and any and all other installations or establishments necessary or desirable as a part of such project during the time that they are encumbered shall be, by the terms of such encumbrance, placed in the City Council or the Mayor and City Commissioners or other governing body as said city shall establish therefor. The City Council, Mayor and City Commissioners or the governing body of the project that shall be so established by the city shall have the power to make rules and regulations governing the use and rental of said various installations, facilities, premises and establishments of such project or projects and for the payment of said rentals and concession charges. Such governing body shall have the power to provide penalties for the violation of such rules and regulations and for the use of such project or projects of the facilities or equipment thereof without the consent or knowledge of the authorities in charge thereof and to provide penalties for all interference, trespassing, or injury to any such project or projects or premises on which same may be located.

Trustee Under Encumbrance

Sec. 6. A contract of encumbrance may provide for the selection of a trustee to make sale upon the default of principal or interest or violation of the terms and conditions of such contract and for the selection of his successor or successors if the original trustee of any substitute trustee should become disqualified or fail or refuse to act, and for attorneys' fees in amount not exceeding ten (10) per cent of the principal unpaid.

Foreclosure Procedure

Sec. 7. No collection fees shall accrue, and no foreclosure proceedings shall be begun in any Court or through any trustee, and no option to mature any part of any such obligation because of any default in payment of any installment of principal or interest or violation of the terms and conditions of such pledge or loan shall be exercised until ninety (90) days written notice shall be given to the City Council, Mayor and City Commissioners, or other governing body of such city, of the default claimed, which notice shall date from the sending of a prepaid registered letter to each person to be notified, addressed to them at the post office in such city. If the default claimed shall have been cured before the expiration of said ninety (90) days, it shall have like effect as if no default has occurred or been claimed.

Application of Income

Sec. 8. No part of the income of any such project or projects so encumbered shall be used to pay any other debt, expense, or obligation of such city until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid.

[Acts 1935, 44th Leg., 2nd C.S., p. 1848, ch. 470.]

Art. 1181. Franchises

No charter or any amendment thereof framed or adopted under this charter, shall ever grant to any person, firm or corporation any right or franchise to use or occupy the public streets, avenues, alleys or grounds of any such city, but the governing authority of any such city shall have the exclusive power and authority to make any such grant of any such franchise or right to use and occupy the public streets, avenues, alleys, and grounds of the city. If, at any time, before any ordinance granting a franchise takes effect, a petition shall be submitted to the governing authority signed by 10 percent of the bona fide qualified voters of the city or, in a city having a population of more than 1.2 million according to the last federal census, signed by a lesser number of qualified voters if so provided by city charter, then the governing body shall submit the question of granting such franchise to a vote of the qualified voters of the city, at the next succeeding election date authorized by Section 9b, Texas Election Code, as amended (Article 2.01b, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 10, ch. 9, § 1, eff. March 4, 1981.]

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"Articles 1181 and 1182, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended by this Act, apply only to a grant of a franchise that occurs on or after the effective date of this Act. The grant of a franchise before the effective date of this Act is covered by the law in effect on the date the franchise was granted, and the former law is continued in effect for this purpose."

Art. 1182. Franchise Election

Whenever said ordinance is submitted at any election, notice thereof shall be published at least twenty days successively in a daily newspaper in said city prior to the holding of said election. The ballot used at said election shall briefly describe the franchise to be voted on and the terms thereof and shall be prepared to permit voting for or against the proposition: "Granting of a franchise." If a majority of those voting at said election shall vote in favor of granting a franchise, the governing body upon canvassing the returns shall so declare and said franchise shall take effect in accordance with its terms. No franchise shall extend beyond the period fixed for its termination.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 10, ch. 9, § 1, eff. March 4, 1981.]

Art. 1182a. Annexation of Additional Territory

Election

Sec. 1. Whenever the City Commission of any City within this State, acting under and by virtue of any Charter adopted under Home Rule Amendment Article 11, Section 5, of the Constitution of this State, shall initiate or order an election for the extension of the territorial limits of said city, to be submitted to the legally qualified property tax paying voters residing within the territorial limits of said city, to determine whether or not the adjacent territory desired to be annexed shall be included within the territorial limits of said city, said City Commissioners shall at the same time order an election to be held at some convenient place within said city limits, so that the legally qualified property tax paying voters residing in the territory contiguous to said city and proposed to be annexed, may appear and cast their vote for the purpose of determining whether a majority of the legally qualified property tax paying voters residing in said territory proposed to be annexed, favor the annexation of said territory proposed to be annexed.

Ballots for Election

Sec. 2. Whenever an election for the annexation of additional territory is held in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing section, said City Commissioners, when ordering such election for the annexation of said territory, shall prepare for the legally qualified property tax paying voters, printed ballots containing the following propositions to be voted on thereat:

"For annexation of additional territory and assumption by the city of all bonded indebtedness and flat rates owing to such water control and improvement district on the territory to be annexed and the levying and collecting of a tax on all property within the city limits sufficient to pay off and discharge said bonded indebtedness and flat rates."

"Against annexation of additional territory and assumption by the city of all bonded indebtedness and flat rates owing to such water control and improvement district on the territory to be annexed and the levying and collecting of a tax on all property within the city limits sufficient to pay off and discharge said bonded indebtedness and flat rates."

Assumption of Indebtedness of Annexed Territory

Sec. 3. If, at any election to be held under the provisions hereof, a majority of the legally qualified tax paying voters residing within the territorial limits of such city, and those residing within the territorial limits proposed to be annexed, shall each vote in favor of the annexation of such additional territory, said city shall thereby assume all of said bonded indebtedness and flat rates on the territory thus annexed and due such Irrigation District, Water Improvement District or Water Control and Improvement District, or either of them, and shall from thence forth out of the taxes collected on the territory thus annexed pay to said Irrigation District, Water Improvement District or Water Control and Improvement District, said bonded indebtedness and flat rates, owing to such district, or either of them, as same become due and payable, and no city thus annexing such territory shall be entitled to collect any taxes due it from the property owners within the territory annexed until said City shall pay such bonded indebtedness and flat rates, for the current year same become due and payable, and present to said property owner a receipt showing that said City has paid the same.

The order of election must give the metes and bounds of the territory to be annexed, and said metes and bounds shall be include¹ and made a part of the ordinance calling for the election.

The election herein provided for shall be ordered by the City Commissioners and the returns canvassed and the results declared as is provided by law for other elections pertaining to said City.

Said ordinance for the election must provide for separate elections and must be issued and public notice given thereof as in other city elections, and provided further that if a majority of the legally qualified property tax paying voters residing within the territorial limits of said city or if a majority of the legally qualified property tax paying voters residing within the territory desired to be annexed shall not be in favor of such annexations then such annexations shall not be made.

Powers Additional to Charter Provisions

Sec. 4. Provided further, however, that nothing in this Act shall be held or construed to repeal or nullify any charter provision of any city of over one hundred thousand inhabitants according to the last United States census, operating under Article 11, Section 5 of the Constitution providing for the annexation of additional territory by ordinance, but shall be construed as an additional power and cumulative of the said charter provisions.

Art. 1182b. Annexation of Adjacent Territory Including Water District or TownsCities Which May Annex Territory

Sec. 1. In all cities having a population of more than One Hundred Fifty Thousand (150,000) and less than One Hundred Sixty Thousand (160,000) at the time of the taking of the Federal Census of 1920 and operating under a special charter or the Home Rule Act, the power to provide for the annexation of additional territory lying adjacent to said city according to such provisions as may be provided by said charter is hereby expressly granted, recognized, ratified and confirmed.

Annexation Authorized

Sec. 2. Said cities may annex territory which includes one or more fresh water supply districts, organized under authority of Section 59 of Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas whether organized under general or special law; also which includes cities and towns of less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants operating under the general law.

Property of Annexed Territory Vested in City

Sec. 3. In the event such district or districts, or incorporated cities and towns are included in the annexed territory, it shall be the duty of the Governing Board of said City annexing such territory to adopt a resolution or pass an ordinance providing that all physical property belonging to said fresh water supply district or districts, or cities and towns so annexed, shall thereafter be vested in said city, provided that prior to the passage of any ordinance or resolution of the city annexing territory including fresh water supply district or districts, or incorporated cities and towns of under five thousand (5,000) inhabitants, the Board of Commissioners of such city annexing such territory, shall have been presented with an application for such annexation from the governing authority of such fresh water supply district or districts, or cities and towns of under five thousand (5,000) inhabitants included in the territory to be annexed.

Assumption of Indebtedness by City

Sec. 4. The ordinance or resolution passed or adopted by the governing board of said City shall provide that all bonded indebtedness of said fresh water supply district or districts and all legal indebtedness of such cities and towns, as provided herein, be assumed by said City. Immediately upon the passage of such resolution or ordinance the corporate existence of said fresh water supply district or districts, or cities and towns so annexed will have legally terminated and the outstanding bonds and interest unpaid thereon of said fresh water supply district or districts, and the legal indebtedness of such cities and towns, shall be paid by said City as they mature and accrue.

Art. 1182c. Validating Annexation by Cities of Fresh Water Supply DistrictsCities in Which Proceedings Validated

Sec. 1. That in each instance when there has been presented to the governing body of any city having a population of 150,000 or more a petition by the supervisors of any Fresh Water Supply District theretofore organized under Title 128, Chapter 4, Vernon's Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, or said Chapter 4 as amended,¹ asking that the territory therein described, including such Fresh Water Supply District, be annexed to such city, and the governing body of such city has adopted an ordinance annexing such territory to such city, including such Fresh Water Supply District, said ordinance and all proceedings had in connection with its adoption and with said annexation of territory are hereby validated and legalized.

Assumption of Indebtedness

Sec. 2. That in each instance when the governing body of any such city has provided by ordinance for the annexation of territory, including any such Fresh Water Supply District, to such city and has provided in said ordinance that all outstanding legal indebtedness and all outstanding bonds and interest unpaid thereon of any such Fresh Water Supply District shall be assumed and paid by said city, such outstanding indebtedness and all such outstanding bonds and interest unpaid thereon are hereby declared to be the legal indebtedness of said city and for the payment thereof such city is authorized to levy taxes upon all taxable property therein, provided that this Act shall apply only on bonds or indebtedness of any Fresh Water Supply District, authorized and created pursuant to the approving vote of a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters of any such District; and provided, further, that this Act shall not operate to abolish or impair any of the contractual rights of the holders of said bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued or incurred by such Fresh Water Supply District.

[Acts 1931, 42nd Leg., Spec.Laws, p. 351, ch. 171.]

Art. 1182c-1. Cities and Towns Which Have Annexed Territory Within Water DistrictsApplication

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to all incorporated cities and towns, including Home Rule Cities, and those operating under general laws or special charters (hereinafter called "city" or "cities"), which have heretofore annexed, or hereafter may annex, all or any part of the territory within one (1) or more water control and improvement districts, fresh water supply districts or municipal utility districts, which districts were organized for the primary purpose of providing such municipal functions as the supply of fresh water for domestic or commercial uses, the furnishing of sanitary sewer service or drainage services, any or all. Such cities shall succeed to the powers, duties, assets, and obligations of such district or districts in the manner and to the extent hereinafter provided. Nothing herein shall prohibit any city from continuing to operate utility facilities within such districts in which such facilities are owned and are operated by such city at the effective date of annexation. This Act shall not apply in the case of any such district, the territory of which is now situated in more than one (1) incorporated city.

Taking Over Assets and Liabilities; Contracts

Sec. 2. In case all the territory within any such district is so annexed, such city shall take over all properties and assets, shall assume all debts, liabilities and obligations and shall perform all functions and services of such district, and after such annexation such district shall be abolished at the time and in the manner as provided in the sentence immediately following. The governing body of such city shall, by ordinance, designate the date upon which the city shall take over, shall assume all debts, and such district shall be abolished, and said date shall be in no event later than ninety (90) days after the effective date of such annexation; provided, that if the city fails to adopt such ordinance, the city shall automatically take over and assume such debts and the district shall be abolished ninety (90) days after the effective date of such annexation.

In case less than all of the territory within any such district is so annexed, the governing authorities of such city and district shall be authorized to enter into contracts in regard to the division and allocation of duplicate and overlapping powers, functions and duties between such agencies, and in regard to the use, management, control, purchase, conveyance, assumption and disposition of the properties, assets, debts, liabilities and obligations of such district. Any such district is expressly authorized to enter into agreements with such city for the operation of the district's utility systems and other properties by such city, and may provide for the transfer, conveyance or sale of such systems and properties of whatever kind and wherever situated (including properties outside the city) to such city upon such terms and conditions as may be mutually agreed upon by and between the governing bodies of such district and city. Such operating contracts may extend for such period of time not exceeding thirty (30) years as may be stipulated therein and shall be subject to amendment, renewal or termination by mutual consent of such governing bodies. No such contract shall contain any provision impairing the obligation of any existing contract of such city or district.

In the absence of such contract, such district shall be authorized to continue to exercise all the powers and functions which it was empowered to exercise and perform prior to such annexation, and the city shall not duplicate services rendered by the district within the district's boundaries without the district's consent, but may perform therein all other municipal functions in which the district is not engaged.

Abolition of Water Districts Within Cities and Towns

Sec. 2a. All water control and improvement districts, fresh water supply districts or municipal utility districts which have heretofore been or which may hereafter be created out of territory which, at the time of such creation, was situated wholly within the corporate limits of any incorporated city, town or village, including a home rule city (hereinafter called "City"), may be abolished in the manner herein provided. The governing body of such city shall be authorized, by a vote of not less than two-thirds (2/3) of the entire membership of its governing body, to adopt an ordinance abolishing such water control and improvement district, fresh water supply district or municipal utility district if such governing body finds (a) that such district is no longer needed or (b) that the services furnished and functions performed by such district can be served and performed by the city and (c) that it would be to the best interests of the citizens and property within said district and the citizens and property within such city that such district be abolished.

If prior to the date when an ordinance adopted pursuant to this Section shall take effect, or within thirty (30) days after the same takes effect, or the publication of same, a petition signed and verified by the qualified voters of the city, equal in number to ten percent (10%) of the total vote cast at the city election for municipal officers next preceding the filing of said petition shall be filed with the city secretary protesting against the enactment or enforcement of such ordinance, it shall be suspended from taking effect and no action theretofore taken under such ordinance shall be legal or valid. Immediately upon the filing of such petition the secretary shall present it to the governing body of the city. Thereupon the governing body shall immediately reconsider such ordinance and if it does not entirely repeal the same shall submit it to popular vote at the next municipal election or the governing body may, in its discretion, call a special election for that purpose, and such ordinance shall not take effect unless a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon at such election shall vote in favor thereof.

Upon the adoption of an ordinance as hereinabove provided, such water control and improvement district, fresh water supply district or municipal utility district shall be abolished and dissolved and all properties and assets of such district shall thereupon vest immediately in such city and such city shall thereby assume and become liable for all bonds and other obligations for which such district is liable. Such city shall thereafter perform all services and functions theretofore performed or rendered by said district. When any district bonds, warrants or other obligations payable in whole or in part from ad valorem taxes have been assumed by such city, the governing body of such city shall thereafter levy and cause to be collected upon all taxable property within such city, taxes sufficient to pay principal of, and interest on, such bonds, warrants or obligations as they respectively become due and payable. Such city shall be authorized to issue refunding bonds in its own name to refund any bonds, warrants or other obligations, including unpaid earned interest thereon, so assumed by it. Such refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as heretofore or hereafter amended, provided that it shall not be necessary to give any notice of intention to issue such refunding bonds and no right of referendum thereon shall be available.

Continued Existence of City Water Boards; Depositories for Funds

Sec. 2b. City Water Boards created by Section 6 of Chapter 134, Acts of the 52nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1951,¹ which have remained in existence to preserve vested rights created thereunder shall, after a relevant city has annexed all the territory of the Water Control and Improvement District whose functions it has assumed and delegated to the City Water Boards, remain in existence with its full powers, so long as lands located within its jurisdiction are being used for farming, ranching and/or orchard purposes, and such City Water Boards, without limitation of any other powers they have, shall select and designate one or more depositories of the proceeds of all maintenance and water charges and other charges levied by any water control and improvement district annexed by a relevant city and of any other income or funds of said water control and improvement district, regardless of the fact that one or more members of said City Water Board may be a member of the board of directors or a stockholder of any such depository, and that the funds of said water control and improvement district may be kept in one or more separate and distinct accounts in said depository or depositories if the funds deposited in each such separate account are to be used for a different or separate designated purpose from the funds deposited in any other such separate account, and such funds deposited in any depository selected by said City Water Board shall be insured by an official agency of the government of the United States and shall be at least equally as well insured and protected as funds deposited in the official city depository of said relevant city.

Taxes to Pay Bonds; Refunding Bonds or Warrants

Sec. 3. When any district bonds, warrants or other obligations payable in whole or in part from ad valorem taxes have been assumed by such city, the governing body of such city shall thereafter levy and cause to be collected upon all taxable property within such city, taxes sufficient to pay principal of, and interest on, such bonds, warrants or obligations as they respectively become due and payable. Such city shall be authorized to issue its refunding bonds or warrants to refund any bonds, warrants or other obligations, including unpaid earned interest thereon, so assumed by it. Such refunding bonds or warrants shall be issued in the manner provided in the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as heretofore or hereafter amended, provided that it shall not be necessary to give any notice of intention to issue such refunding bonds or warrants and no right of referendum thereon shall be available. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than that borne by the obligations refunded, unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid.

Outstanding Obligations

Sec. 4. When all of the territory within such district has been annexed as hereinabove provided and in cases where such district has outstanding bonds, warrants or other obligations, payable solely from the net revenues from the operation of any utility system or property, such city shall nevertheless take over and operate such system or properties, and shall apply the net revenues from the operation thereof to the payment of such outstanding district revenue bonds, warrants or other bonded obligations in all respects as though the district had not been abolished.

If such city does not itself have outstanding revenue bonds, warrants or other obligations payable from, and secured by a pledge of, the net revenues of its own utility system or properties of like kind, or, if such city does have outstanding revenue bonds, warrants or other obligations payable from, and secured by pledge of, the net revenues of its own utility system or properties of like kind, but the revenues therefrom are sufficient to meet its own outstanding obligations to which such revenues are pledged, and have over a period of five (5) years prior to the effective date of this Amendment hereto had an annual surplus in said fund sufficient to meet the annual obligations for which the revenues from the water district, or districts, are pledged, such city may, at its option, combine such utility system or properties acquired from such district or districts with its own similar utility system or properties and, in such case, such city shall levy each year against all property subject to taxation by such city, an ad valorem tax in sufficient amount, when taken together with other funds and revenues of the city which may be lawfully appropriated and devoted thereto, to provide sufficient funds and moneys to make the payment of the principal of and interest on any such assumed bonds, warrants or other obligations so secured.

If any such city does have outstanding bonds, warrants or other bonded obligations payable from, and secured by a pledge of, the net revenues of the city's said utility system or properties of like kind, and such city does not have annually accruing to its surplus revenue fund an amount over and above the amount of such fund pledged to the payment of outstanding obligations of the city sufficient to meet the annual obligations for which the revenues from the water district or districts are pledged, then, until the refunding hereinafter authorized has been accomplished, the city shall continue to operate former properties of the district separate and apart from any similar properties of the city and shall not commingle in any way the revenue of any such several systems. Such city shall faithfully perform all duties, functions and obligations imposed by law or by contract upon the governing body of such district in regard to the outstanding bonds, warrants, or other obligations payable solely from the revenues of such former district's utility system or properties and shall likewise, separate and apart, perform all duties, functions and obligations imposed upon such city in connection with its own revenue bonds, warrants or other obligations; provided that overhead expenses may be allocated between any two (2) or more such systems of properties in direct proportion of the gross income of each.

Revenue Refunding Bonds

Sec. 5. Any such city shall have authority to issue revenue refunding bonds in its own name for the purpose of refunding outstanding district revenue bonds, warrants or other obligations (including unpaid accrued interest thereon) assumed by such city and shall also have authority to combine any number of different issues of both district and city revenue bonds, warrants or other obligations into one series of revenue refunding bonds and pledge the net revenues of such utility systems or properties to the payment of such refunding bonds as the governing body shall deem proper. The provision of Articles 1111 to 1118, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, as amended, shall apply to such revenue refunding bonds except as otherwise provided herein and provided that no election for the issuance of such bonds shall be necessary. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than that borne by the obligations refunded, unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid.

Newly Incorporated Cities or Towns

Sec. 6. When any city or town is newly incorporated over all or any part of the territory within a water control and improvement district, a fresh water supply district or municipal utility district, the governing body may adopt an ordinance making the provisions of this Act applicable to such city or town and, upon the adoption of such an ordinance by a vote of not less than two-thirds (2/3) of the entire membership of such governing body, the provisions of this Act shall thereafter be applicable to such city or town and to such districts situated in whole or in part therein.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 7. If any clause, phrase, sentence, paragraph, section or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any particular person or thing, is held to be invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remainder of this Act or the application thereof to any other person or thing.

Art. 1182c-2. Validation of Annexations by Cities and Towns of Less Than 100,000 Population of Territories of Water Control and Improvement Districts, Etc.; Exception

All annexations by cities and towns of less than one hundred thousand (100,000) inhabitants, including Home Rule Cities, and those operating under general laws or special charters, heretofore made of territory or territories of water control and improvement districts or fresh water supply districts and the actions of such cities and towns in taking over all the properties and assets of such districts, in assuming the debts and liabilities and obligations of such districts, and in abolishing such districts are hereby in all things validated, ratified, and confirmed, and all bonds heretofore issued by such cities and towns to refund bonds, warrants or other obligations of such district or districts are hereby in all things validated, ratified, and confirmed; provided, that this Section shall have no application to pending litigation questioning the validity of any of the matters hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of the same.

Art. 1182c-4. Bonds; Issuance by Cities in Lieu of Unissued Bonds of Abolished Conservation and Reclamation District

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to all incorporated cities, including home-rule cities, and those operating under general laws or special charters, which have heretofore abolished or may hereafter abolish or which have heretofore annexed, or hereafter may annex, all the land within one or more conservation and reclamation districts created under Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution, including water control and improvement districts, fresh-water supply districts, or municipal utility districts and have abolished or may abolish such districts as provided by applicable law, including but not limited to Article 1182c-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes (Chapter 128, Acts of the Fiftieth Legislature of Texas, Regular Session, 1947), as same has been, or may hereafter be, amended. In the event any such district had, prior to such abolition, voted bonds for the purpose of providing waterworks, sanitary sewer or drainage facilities, any or all, which bonds were not issued, sold and delivered prior to such abolition, the governing body of such city shall be authorized to issue and sell bonds of said city in an amount not exceeding the amount of such voted but unissued district bonds, for the purpose of carrying out the purpose or purposes for which said district bonds were voted. Such bonds shall be authorized by ordinance adopted by the governing body of said city in which provision shall be made for the levy of taxes upon all taxable property within said city for the payment of principal and interest thereon when due. Said bonds shall be sold for not less than par and accrued interest, shall mature, bear interest, be subject to approval by the Attorney General of Texas and registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as provided by law for other general obligation bonds of such city, and when so approved, registered, and sold, shall be incontestable.

Sec. 2. All laws, general and special, and city charter provisions in conflict herewith are, to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed but nothing herein shall affect the right of such cities to issue bonds for other purposes. All ordinances, acts and proceedings of the governing bodies of any such cities for the annexation of territory which includes any such water district or districts are hereby in all things validated, ratified and confirmed; provided, however, that nothing in this Act shall affect any pending litigation or the legal rights of parties involved in any litigation pending upon the effective date of this Act.

Art. 1182c-5. Cities Which Have Annexed Territory Within Water Control and Improvement, Fresh Water Supply or Municipal Utility Districts

Application of Act; Succession to Powers, Duties, Assets and Obligations of Districts

Sec. 1. (a) This Act shall apply to all incorporated cities and towns, including Home Rule Cities and those operating under General Laws or special charters (hereinafter called "city" or "cities"), which now or hereafter contain within their city or corporate limits (by virtue of annexation of territory or original incorporation, either or both) any part of the territory within one (1) or more water control and improvement districts, freshwater supply districts or municipal utility districts (hereinafter called "district" or "districts"), which districts were organized for the primary purpose of providing such municipal functions as the supply of fresh water for domestic or commercial uses, or the furnishing of sanitary sewer service, any or all, when the balance of the territory comprising such district or districts lies in another city or cities so that the entire district lies wholly within two (2) or more cities. Such cities shall succeed to the powers, duties, assets and obligations of such district or districts in the manner and to the extent hereinafter provided. Nothing herein shall prohibit any city from continuing to operate utility facilities within any such district in which such facilities are, or were, owned and operated by such city at the time that the part of the territory of the district became, or becomes, a part of or included within the boundaries of such city.

(b) This Act shall also apply when the balance of the territory comprising a district or districts, other than a district created by a special act of the Legislature, lies in another city or cities and in unincorporated territory so that the entire district lies wholly within two (2) or more cities and in unincorporated territory. In this latter case dissolution of the district may be effected by the procedure in Section 2 hereof. This subsection shall not apply to a district created by a special act of the Legislature.

Abolition of Districts; Distribution of Assets; Assumption of Obligations

Sec. 2. (a) Such district may be abolished by mutual agreement between the district and the cities wherein such district lies. Subject to the provisions of Section 4 of this Act, such agreement shall provide for the distribution among such cities of all the properties and assets of the district and for the pro rata assumption by such cities of all the debts, liabilities and obligations of the district, said distribution and assumption to be predicated or based upon the pro rata value of the properties and assets of the district going to such cities, respectively, to the entire value of such properties and assets. The determination of the value of such properties and assets may be on an original cost basis, a reproduction cost basis, or a fair market value basis or by any other valuation method agreed upon by the parties which reasonably reflects the value of the properties, assets, debts, liabilities, and obligations of the district. Such agreement shall designate the date upon which the district shall be abolished, and the agreement shall be approved by ordinance adopted by the governing body of each of the cities and by order or resolution adopted by the governing board of the district, and the same shall be so approved prior to the date designated in the agreement for such abolition, distribution, and assumption.

(b) In the event a district, other than a district created by a special act of the Legislature, lies wholly within two (2) or more cities and in unincorporated territory, said district may be abolished by mutual agreement between the district and all of the cities wherein portions of the district lie. Subject to the provisions of Section 4 of this Act, the agreement of dissolution shall provide for the distribution of assets and liabilities as stated in Subsection (a) hereof. The agreement shall also include a distribution among one (1) or more of the cities of the pro rata assets and liabilities lying outside the limits of the contracting cities, in unincorporated territory. In addition, the agreement shall also include provisions for service to customers in unincorporated areas previously within the service area of the abolished district. In this connection, the city providing service to customers in unincorporated areas is specifically authorized to charge its usual and customary fees and assessments to such customers and to new customers outside its incorporated limits. The agreement shall be approved by ordinance adopted by the governing body of each city and by order or resolution adopted by the governing board of the district, and the agreement shall have this approval before the date designated in the agreement for abolition, distribution, and assumption.

Abolition of Certain Multi-City Conservation and Reclamation Districts

Sec. 2A(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of the law or this Act, any conservation and reclamation district created or existing pursuant to Article XVI, Section 59 of the Constitution of Texas which lies wholly within more than one city, and which, on April 1, 1971, did not lie wholly within more than one city, and which, on said date, was not a party to a contract providing for a federal grant for research and development pursuant to Title 33, Sections 1155(a)(2) and 1155(d) of the United States Code, as amended, and which has provided or is providing fresh water supply, sanitary sewer and drainage services shall be abolished ninety (90) days after the inclusion of all of the territory of said district within said cities, and the physical assets, properties and facilities of the district shall be distributed to said cities and its intangible assets, bonded indebtedness, liabilities, obligations and other debts assumed by said cities in the following manner:

(a) All physical assets, properties and facilities of said district located within the boundaries of each respective city shall, at the date of distribution, belong to said city. The intangible assets, bonded indebtedness, liabilities, obligations and other debts of the district shall be assumed by the cities. That part of the intangible assets, bonded indebtedness, liabilities, obligations and other debts of the district assumed by each city shall be determined by multiplying the total intangible assets, bonded indebtedness, liabilities, obligations or other debts of the district by a fraction, the numerator of which is the original cost of all physical assets, properties and facilities of said district distributed to the city and the denominator of which is the total original cost of all physical assets, properties and facilities of the district. The term "original cost" as used in this section shall mean the actual cost of construction or acquisition. Operating expenses during construction, interest during construction, organizational expenses, engineering fees, legal fees, fiscal fees and other fees and expenses shall not be considered when determining the original cost of any physical assets, properties or facilities. Each city shall faithfully perform all duties, functions and obligations imposed by law or by contract upon the abolished district and its governing body in regard to any outstanding district bonds, warrants or other obligations payable in whole or in part from the revenues from the operation of the district's properties, assets and facilities; provided, however, that maintenance and operation expenses may be allocated by a city between two or more similar properties, assets and facilities owned and operated by the city in direct proportion to the gross income of each.

(b) All of the physical assets, properties and facilities which serve territory within more than one city shall continue to serve such territory and shall be operated and maintained by the city within which such properties, assets and facilities are located. Said city may make reasonable charges to the other cities served by such assets, properties and facilities for the operation and maintenance of such assets, properties and facilities.

(2) Notwithstanding any contrary provision of the law or this Act, a district defined by Section 2A(1) may be abolished by mutual agreement between all of the cities wherein said district lies. Such agreement need not be approved by the district. The agreement may designate a date or dates, no later than ninety (90) days after the inclusion of all of the territory of said district within said cities, upon which the district shall be abolished. The agreement may provide a method by which the district's properties, assets and facilities shall be taken over by the cities, and the bonded indebtedness, liabilities, obligations and other debts of the district shall be assumed by said cities pursuant to such agreement. Said agreement may define those physical assets, properties and facilities of the district which serve territory within more than one city, and may provide a method by which said assets, properties and facilities shall be operated and maintained. An agreement executed pursuant to this section may contain all provisions necessary or proper to the abolition of said district, the distribution of its properties, assets and facilities, and the assumption of its bonded indebtedness, liabilities, obligations, and other debts. Said agreement may bind the parties for as long as fifty (50) years, notwithstanding any provision of the city charters of the respective cities to the contrary.

(3) If a city which has previously annexed territory within a district defined in Section 2A(1) annexes additional territory which lies wholly within such district and obtains the consent of all other cities which have previously annexed territory within said district and which have extraterritorial jurisdiction over the territory proposed to be annexed, then, notwithstanding any contrary provision of the Municipal Annexation Act (Article 970A, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, as amended), such annexing city need not obtain the consent of any other municipality.

Levy of Taxes to Pay Obligations

Sec. 3. When its pro rata part of any district bonds, warrants, or other obligations payable in whole or in part from ad valorem taxes have been assumed by any such city, the governing body of such city shall thereafter levy and cause to be collected upon all taxable property within such city, taxes to pay its pro rata part of the principal of and interest on such bonds, warrants, or obligations, as they respectively become due and payable.

Operation of Systems With Outstanding Obligations Payable From Revenue

Sec. 4. When any such district is abolished and has outstanding bonds, warrants, or other obligations payable in whole or in part from net revenues from the operation of the district utility system or properties, the affected cities shall nevertheless take over and operate such system or properties through a board of trustees, hereinafter provided for, and shall apply the net revenues from the operation thereof to the payment of such outstanding district revenue bonds, warrants, or other obligations in all respects as though the district had not been abolished, and such system or properties shall be so operated until all such bonds, warrants, or other obligations shall have been retired in full, either by the payment thereof or by the refunding thereof into obligations of the cities. Such board of trustees shall consist of not more than five (5) members, shall be appointed by the governing bodies of the cities, shall serve for such term or terms, and shall perform such duties as shall be set forth in the agreement mentioned in Section 2 of this Act. It is specifically provided, however, that such board of trustees shall faithfully perform all duties, functions, and obligations imposed by law or by contract upon the abolished district and its governing board in regard to said outstanding district bonds, warrants, or other obligations payable in whole or in part from net revenues of the district utility system or properties, including the charging and collection of sufficient rates for the services of such system or properties and the application of revenues so as to comply with all covenants and agreements contained in the proceedings pertaining to such bonds, warrants, or other obligations with respect to the payment of the interest thereon and principal thereof and the maintenance of reserves and other funds. When all such district revenue bonds, warrants, or other obligations have been retired in full, either by the payment thereof or by the refunding thereof, then the properties and assets of the district shall be distributed among the cities as provided in Section 2 hereof, and such board of trustees shall thereupon be abolished.

General Obligation Refunding Bonds; Warrants; Issuance; Notice; Interest

Sec. 5. Any such city shall be authorized to issue general obligation refunding bonds in its own name to refund in whole or in part its pro rata part of any outstanding district bonds, warrants, or other obligations payable in whole or in part from ad valorem taxes (including unpaid earned interest thereon) so assumed by it. Such refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as heretofore or hereafter amended;¹ provided, however, that it shall not be necessary to give any notice of intention to issue such refunding bonds and no right of referendum thereon shall be available. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than that borne by the obligations refunded unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid.

Revenue Refunding Bonds for Payment of District Bonds, Warrants or Obligations; Combination of Issues

Sec. 6. Any such city shall be authorized to issue revenue refunding bonds or general obligation refunding bonds, either or both, in its own name to refund in whole or in part its pro rata part of any outstanding district bonds, warrants, or other obligations payable solely from net revenues (including unpaid earned interest thereon) so assumed by it, and shall also have the authority to combine any number of different issues or bonds of different issues of both district and city revenue bonds, warrants, or other obligations into one (1) or more series of revenue refunding bonds (and pledge the net revenues of such utility systems or properties to the payment thereof) or into one (1) or more series of general obligation refunding bonds, either or both, as the governing body may deem proper; provided however, that no originally issued city revenue bonds shall be refunded into city general obligation refunding bonds. The provisions of Articles 1111 through 1118, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, 1925, as amended, shall apply to such revenue refunding bonds except as otherwise provided herein, and no election for the issuance of such revenue refunding bonds shall be necessary; and in the issuance of revenue refunding bonds, it is expressly provided that such cities shall have the benefits provided by Article 1118n-5, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, 1925, as amended, including the power and authority to issue and sell revenue refunding bonds under Section 1a of said Article, as amended in 1955, and the provisions of such Article, as amended, relating to outstanding revenue bonds shall apply to outstanding revenue bonds assumed by cities under this Act. General obligation refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as heretofore or hereafter amended; provided, however, that it shall not be necessary to give any notice of intention to issue such refunding bonds and no right of referendum thereon shall be available. Such revenue refunding bonds or general obligation refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than that borne by the obligations refunded unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid.

Art. 1182c-6. Validation of Contracts Affecting Water and Sewer Facilities of Cities and Contiguous Water Control and Improvement Districts

Sec. 1. In each instance where since Chapter 161, Laws of the Regular Session of the 55th Legislature of Texas, 1957, amending Article 1182c-1, Vernon's Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, became effective, any city, including home rule cities, has entered into a contract with a contiguous Water Control and Improvement District, part or all of which district by reason of annexations to such city was at the time of the making of such contract within the territorial limits of such city, which contract provides for the operation of the water and sewer facilities of such district by such city and makes other provisions with respect to the operation of the water and sewer facilities of such district and such city and with respect to the rights of such district and such city thereto, such contract is hereby validated, ratified and confirmed and declared to be enforceable and legally effective in accordance with its terms, and the parties thereto are authorized to perform and carry out the provisions and obligations of such contract. No such contract shall be so construed as to have the effect of giving the outstanding bonds of any such district a lien on any revenues not contemplated by the proceedings authorizing such bonds, nor to have the effect of giving any outstanding bonds of such city a lien on any of the revenues pledged to the payment of such outstanding district bonds until all such outstanding district bonds shall have been retired.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not apply to any contract, the validity of which is under attack, in litigation pending in any court in Texas at the time this Act becomes effective.

Art. 1182d. Validating Relinquishment of Territory

That the Legislature of the State of Texas hereby validates, ratifies and approves all ordinances, relinquishing, discontinuing, and segregating any territory within the corporate limits of any Home Rule City in this state, having a population of more than twenty thousand (20,000) inhabitants and less than twenty-one thousand (21,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal census; which city has adopted a charter under Article 11, Section 5, of the Constitution of the State of Texas and the provisions of Chapter 147, Acts of the Regular Session of the 33rd Legislature of the State of Texas, passed in 1913.

Art. 1182d-1. Donation of Unimproved Land to Counties for Use by Juvenile Boards; Validation; Authorization

Sec. 1. All donations of unimproved land by Home Rule cities of this State by grant or lease to the counties wherein they are located for use by the Juvenile Boards of said counties are hereby validated.

Sec. 2. Home Rule cities of this State are authorized and empowered to donate by grant or lease to the counties wherein they are located any unimproved land for use by the Juvenile Boards of such counties.

[Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 275, ch. 155.]

Art. 1182e. Exposition or Convention Halls in Cities of 290,000 or More

Powers Granted; Obligation Not a Debt

Sec. 1. That all cities having two hundred and ninety thousand (290,000) or more inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census shall have the power to build and purchase, mortgage and encumber exposition and convention halls, or either, and the income thereof and to evidence the obligations therefor by bonds, notes or warrants and to secure the payment of funds to purchase same; or to remodel, rebuild, renovate and repair such exposition and convention halls, or either. No such obligation of any such exposition and convention halls shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the property of the exposition and convention hall so encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of any such city to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Provisions as to Notice and Competitive Bids Inapplicable Until After January 1, 1936

Sec. 2. That notwithstanding any of the provisions of House Bill No. 312, Chapter No. 163, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, 1931, the requirements of said House Bill No. 312, Chapter No. 163, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, 1931,¹ with reference to notice, competitive bids and the right to referendum shall not apply to cities acting under the authority conferred in this Act until after January 1, 1936, instead of June 1, 1932, as provided in House Bill No. 312, Chapter No. 163, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, 1931.

Lien on Income; Rates for Use

Sec. 3. Whenever the income to be derived from the operation of any exposition and convention hall shall be encumbered under this law, the expense of operation and maintenance including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repairs, and extensions necessary to properly maintain said exposition and convention hall and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such income. The rate for the use of said exposition and convention hall shall be determined by the governing body of such city and no free service or rental shall ever be allowed. There shall be charged and collected for the use of such exposition and convention hall a sufficient rental to pay all operating, maintenance, depreciation, replacements, betterments, and interest charges and for interest and sinking fund to pay any bonds issued to purchase, construct or improve any such exposition and convention hall or of any outstanding indebtedness against it.

Provision to be Inserted in Contract, Bond or Note

Sec. 4. Every contract, bond, or note issued or executed under this law shall contain this clause:

"The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Governing Body to Manage

Sec. 5. The management and control of any such exposition and convention halls during the time that they are encumbered shall be, by the terms of such encumbrance, placed in the city council or other governing body of said city. The city council or other governing body shall have power to make rules and regulations governing the use and rental of said exposition and convention halls and for the payment of said rentals. Such governing body shall have the power to provide penalties for the violation of such rules and regulations and for the use of such exposition and convention halls without the consent or knowledge of the authorities in charge thereof and to provide penalties for all interference, trespassing, or injury to any such exposition and convention halls or premises on which same may be located.

Provision for Trustee

Sec. 6. A contract of encumbrance may provide for the selection of a Trustee to make sale upon the default of principal or interest or otherwise according to the terms of such contract and for the selection of his successor, if disqualified or failing to act, and for collection of fees not exceeding five (5) per cent of the principal. If such contract provides for the appointment of a Receiver, the Trustee, in the event of any default in the payment of principal and interest or otherwise under such contract, continuing for a period of thirty (30) days, may apply to the proper Court for the appointment of a Receiver. A Receiver so appointed may, subject to the order of the Court, enter and take possession of the properties and operate and maintain them and apply the net revenue to the liquidation of the debt. The Receiver may maintain and operate the properties and may use or rent any part of the properties for any purpose consistent with the continued use of the major part as an exposition and convention hall or, if so authorized by the Court, may rent all the properties for any lawful use, and all of such properties shall continue to be free from taxation until the indebtedness secured thereby is fully paid. The Receiver may rent any part or all of such properties to the city, and the city may lease the same from the Receiver. All rights of the Receiver and of any lessees or other persons holding under him shall cease when the indebtedness is paid or if the Trustee, in the exercise of its powers, shall sell the properties, provided that the Trustees may agree with any lessee of the properties from the Receiver not to sell the property during the term of his lease; provided also that if the principal of all the bonds shall not have been declared due or if such declaration being made shall have been annulled under the provisions of the contract of encumbrance, the rights of the Receiver may be terminated and the Receiver discharged by remedy or waiver of the default and upon application to the Court, and in such event the rights of any lessee from the Receiver shall be subject to adjudication and may be terminated or adjusted by the Court.

Validation of Proceedings, Mortgages, and Bonds

Sec. 6-a. Any proceedings taken by any such city under such Act and any mortgage or bonds heretofore authorized reciting the authority of such Act are hereby in all respects validated and confirmed as fully for all purposes as though duly and legally taken and authorized under such Act as now amended.

Notice to Governing Body Prior to Foreclosure or Action

Sec. 7. No collection fees shall accrue, and no foreclosure proceedings shall be begun in any Court or through any trustee, and no option to mature any part of any such obligation because of any default in payment of any installment of principal or interest shall be exercised until ninety (90) days written notice shall be given to each member of the city council or other governing body of such city that payment has been demanded and default made which notice shall date from the sending of a prepaid registered letter to each person to be notified, addressed to them at the post office in such city. If the installments of principal and interest then due shall be paid before the expiration of said ninety (90) days together with the interest prescribed in such contract, not exceeding ten (10) per cent per annum, from the date of default until the date of payment, it shall have like effect as if paid on the date when same was originally due.

Income Not to be Used for Other Debts

Sec. 8. No part of the income of any such exposition and convention hall so encumbered shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense, or obligation of such city until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid.

[Acts 1935, 44th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 1655, ch. 425. Amended by Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 614, ch. 307, §§ 1, 2.]

Art. 1182f. Validating Certain Tax Proceedings

Sec. 1. All elections, election orders, election proceedings, and city ordinances by which any city or town having a home rule charter has attempted to amend said charter so as to eliminate any requirement in said charter that any portion of the annual ad valorem tax levied in said city or town shall be provided for or set apart for the use of the Public Free Schools in said city or town, which election resulted in a majority of the votes cast being favorable to the amendment of said charter, shall be deemed and held valid in all respects and to the same extent as if each and all things done by said city or town in attempting to amend said charter had been done and performed in strict compliance with law, and each such charter amendment so adopted or attempted to be adopted are hereby fully validated, ratified, and confirmed, and are hereby declared to be in full force and effect as if adopted in strict compliance with all the requirements of the laws of the State of Texas and the charters of such cities and towns.

Sec. 2. Further provided that this Act shall only apply to cities and towns acting under a home rule charter and which charter sought to be amended provided that a portion of the annual ad valorem taxes levied shall be set apart for the use of the Public Free Schools; and further provided that this Act shall not apply to such cities and towns unless, prior to the voting of said amendment, the control of the Public Free Schools in such cities and towns had been separated from the jurisdiction of said cities and towns and such Public Free Schools were at the time of the holding of such election being operated under the control and jurisdiction of an independent school district.

Art. 1182g. Home Rule Cities of 900,000 or More; Investment of Trust Funds

Application of Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to all cities having a population of 900,000 or more, according to the preceding federal census, and whose home rule charter provides for an elected comptroller, auditor, or treasurer.

Authority to Make Investments of Trust Funds and Special Deposits; Amount

Sec. 2. Any such city, acting by and through the official or officials thereof charged with the duty of managing and conducting its fiscal affairs and subject to the supervision and control of its governing body, as established from time to time by ordinance, is hereby authorized from time to time to make investments of trust funds and special deposits in the custody of such city, to the extent of the amount of such funds that, according to official estimates, are not required for immediate disbursement, by purchasing with such funds or some of them obligations of the United States government, or by placing such funds or some of them on time deposit with one or more depository banks of such city.

Withdrawal of Funds

Sec. 3. If at any time any of the funds so placed on time deposit are required before maturity they shall be made available by the depository bank but the depository bank shall not be liable for interest earned on any amount withdrawn before maturity.

Interest

Sec. 4. Said city official is hereby authorized to receive all interest earned on such investments and to place the same in the general fund of such city as compensation to the city for holding and handling said trust funds and special deposits for the benefit of the persons ultimately entitled to receive such funds and deposits.

Cumulative Effect of Act

Sec. 5. The provisions of this Act are cumulative of all other powers of investment possessed by any such city, whether derived from its charter or from the general law; and nothing contained herein shall ever be held to have effected any limitation on any such city's powers of investment otherwise so derived.

Art. 1182h. Validation of Ordinances Authorizing Bond Elections and Issuance of Bonds, and of Bonds Issued

Where any city in the state which operates pursuant to a home-rule charter has heretofore passed by unanimous vote of the governing body ordinances as emergency measures calling bond elections and authorizing the issuance of bonds, said ordinances are hereby in all things ratified, validated, and confirmed, including the purposes as stated in the voted propositions. All such bonds authorized by ordinances passed as emergency measures, including voted and authorized but undelivered bonds, are in all things ratified, validated, and confirmed.

Art. 1182j. Cultural and Related Parking Facilities in Cities of 1,200,000 or More

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, "city" means a home-rule city having a population of at least 1,200,000 according to the last preceding federal census.

Cultural and Parking Facilities; Promotion

Sec. 2. (a) In addition to the authority provided by the provisions of any other law of this state, a city is hereby authorized to acquire sites for and establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) cultural facilities, such as opera houses, ballet and symphony halls, theaters or similar buildings, or any building or buildings combining same, and to acquire sites for and establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) parking facilities, including areas and structures, or any combination thereof, located at or in the immediate vicinity of such cultural facilities, to be used in connection with such cultural facilities and otherwise for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances.

(b) Further, a city is hereby authorized to expend funds derived from that portion of the mixed beverage tax revenues hereinafter authorized for (i) the advertising and promotion of events to take place in such cultural facilities and the attraction of events to such facilities either by such city or through contracts with persons or organizations selected by such city and (ii) the encouragement, promotion, improvement, and application of the cultural arts, including but not limited to opera, ballet, symphony, and theater, and the arts related to the presentation, performance, execution, and exhibition of these major art forms.

Issuance of Bonds; Pledge of Revenues

Sec. 3. (a) A city is hereby authorized to issue revenue bonds to provide all or part of the funds to provide the cultural facilities and parking facilities in order to accomplish the purposes of this Act as described in Subsection (a) of Section 2 hereof.

(b) Such revenue bonds may be issued when duly authorized by an ordinance passed by the governing body of a city and shall be secured by a pledge of and be payable from all or any designated part of the revenues of such cultural facilities or such parking facilities, as may be provided in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of such bonds. To the extent that such revenues may have been pledged to the payment of revenue or refunding bonds which are still outstanding, the pledge securing the proposed bonds shall be inferior to such previous pledge or pledges. Within the discretion of the governing body of such city, and subject to any limitations contained in previous pledges, in addition to the pledge of revenues, a lien may be given on all or any part of the physical properties and facilities constructed or acquired out of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds.

(c) When any of the revenues of such cultural facilities or parking facilities are pledged to the payment of bonds issued under this Act, it shall be the duty of the governing body of the city to cause to be fixed, maintained, and enforced charges for services rendered by the facilities and properties, the revenues of which have been pledged, at rates and amounts at least sufficient to comply with and carry out the covenants and provisions contained in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of such bonds.

(d) If a city leases as lessee any one or more of such cultural facilities or parking facilities, such city shall have authority to pledge to the lease payments required to be made by such city all or any part of the revenues of such cultural facilities or parking facilities.

Pledge of Mixed Beverage Tax Receipts

Sec. 4. (a) By official action of its governing body a city is hereby authorized to pledge for the purposes provided herein a portion of that part of the receipts of the mixed beverage tax presently collected by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission (the "commission") pursuant to the Alcoholic Beverage Code (the "code") which is remitted to such city pursuant to Section 205.03 of the code. The total amount of any such portion of such receipts so pledged shall not exceed the sum of 1½ percent of the gross receipts of each permittee, as defined in the code, located within the city from the sale, preparation, or service of mixed beverages, as defined in the code, or from the sale, preparation, or service of ice or nonalcoholic beverages that are sold, prepared, or served for the purpose of being mixed with alcoholic beverages and consumed on the premises of the permittee.

(b) All ordinances heretofore passed and adopted by the governing body of any city so pledging mixed beverage tax revenues which authorized the issuance of any bonds heretofore issued that are secured in whole or in part by a pledge of any portion of the mixed beverage tax presently collected by the commission and reimbursed to the city are hereby in all respects validated and held to be enforceable as of their respective dates of passage and adoption.

(c) In the event that at the time of any remittance of mixed beverage tax revenues by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas pursuant to Section 205.03 of the code the amount collected by the commission from permittees in a city having acted to pledge a portion of mixed beverage tax as provided in Subsection (a) of this section shall be less than the total amount required to be collected from such permittees by Chapter 202 of the code, then the amount to be pledged under this section shall be an amount equal to the total amount actually collected from permittees in such city multiplied by a fraction in which the numerator is the amount of the mixed beverage tax receipts authorized to be pledged pursuant to this section during the quarterly period for which such remittance is to be made and the denominator is the total of the amount of the receipts required to be collected from all permittees in such city pursuant to Chapter 202 of the code during such period.

Use of Revenues

Sec. 5. (a) The revenues derived from that portion of mixed beverage tax revenues authorized to be pledged by this Act shall be used for the purposes described in Section 2 of this Act, which shall include but not be limited to the pledge of such revenues to the payment of bonds which are issued for the purposes described in Subsection (a) of Section 2 of this Act.

(b) Any amounts received by a city from that portion of the mixed beverage tax revenues authorized to be pledged by this Act and pledged to the payment of bonds pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section which are in excess of the amounts required by the ordinance or ordinances under which such bonds are issued may be used for any other purpose described in Section 2 of this Act. Any amounts remaining after such application of funds may be determined by the governing body of a city to be excess funds and may be used by such city for any lawful purposes, provided that any such use does not violate the provisions of any ordinance passed by the governing body of such city in connection with the issuance of bonds for the payment of which such portion of the mixed beverage tax revenues are pledged.

Source of Funds for Payment of Bonds

Sec. 6. The owners and holders of any bonds issued pursuant to the Act shall never have the right to demand payment of either the principal or interest on such bonds out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation, except for that portion of the mixed beverage tax authorized herein if pledged.

Form of Bonds; Interim Certificates or Receipts; Approval and Registration of Bonds

Sec. 7. All bonds shall be signed by the manual or facsimile signatures of the mayor of the city and the city secretary or city clerk and shall bear the manual or facsimile seal of the city thereon. Such bonds may be payable at such times, may be in one or more series, may bear such date or dates, may mature at such time or times, may bear interest at any rate or rates permitted by the constitution and the laws of the State of Texas, may be payable in such medium of payment at such place or places, may be subject to such terms or redemption at such premiums, may contain such terms, covenants, and conditions, and may be in such form, either coupon or registered, as the ordinance of the governing body of the city may provide. The bonds may be sold at public or private sale in such manner and upon such terms as may be provided in such ordinance. Pending the preparation of definitive bonds, interim receipts or certificates in such form and with such provisions as may be provided in such ordinance may be issued to the purchaser or purchasers of bonds sold pursuant to this Act. All bonds issued hereunder and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for his examination as to the validity thereof. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized in accordance with law, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the comptroller. After the approval and registration of such bonds by the comptroller, they shall be incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Ordinances

Sec. 8. In the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of any revenue or refunding bonds authorized hereunder, the city may provide for the flow of funds, the establishment and maintenance of the interest and sinking fund or funds, reserve fund or funds, and other funds and may make additional covenants with respect to the bonds and the pledged revenues and the operation and maintenance of those facilities, the revenues of which are pledged, including provision for the operation or for the leasing of all or any part of such facilities and the use or pledge of money derived from such operation contracts and leases as it may deem appropriate. Such ordinance or ordinances may also prohibit the further issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from the pledged revenues or may reserve the right to issue additional bonds to be secured by a pledge of and payable from such revenues on a parity with, or subordinate to, the lien and pledge in support of the bonds being issued, subject to such conditions as are set forth in said ordinance or ordinances. Such ordinance or ordinances may contain other provisions and covenants, as the city may determine, not prohibited by the Constitution of Texas or by this Act, and the city may adopt and cause to be executed any other proceedings or instruments necessary or convenient in the issuance of any of such bonds.

Appropriation or Set Aside of Bond Proceeds

Sec. 9. From the proceeds of sale of any bonds issued under the provisions of the Act, the city may appropriate or set aside an amount for the payment of interest and administrative and operating expenses expected to accrue during the period of construction, an amount or amounts to be deposited into the reserve fund or funds as may be provided in the bond ordinance or ordinances, as well as an amount necessary to pay all expenses incurred and to be incurred in the issuance, sale, and delivery of the bonds.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 10. Refunding bonds may be issued for the purposes and in the manner provided by general law, including without limitation Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as presently enacted or hereafter amended.

Bonds as Investment Securities and to Secure Deposits

Sec. 11. All bonds issued under this Act shall be investment securities under the terms of Section 8 of the Business & Commerce Code and shall be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies of every kind or type, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for such deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unmaturing coupons appurtenant thereto.

Construction With Other Laws

Sec. 12. This Act is cumulative of all existing laws of the State of Texas, but to the extent that such existing laws may be in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall govern and prevail; and this Act shall take precedence over any and all conflicting or inconsistent city charter provisions.

Severability

Sec. 13. If any provisions of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provisions or applications, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Art. 1183. Extension of Limits

The city council of all cities situated along or upon navigable streams in this State, and acting under special charters, may extend the limits of said city for the limited purposes named in the four succeeding articles, so as to include in said city the said navigable streams and the land lying on both sides thereof for a distance of twenty-five hundred feet from the thread of said stream to a distance of twenty miles or less in an air line from the ordinary boundaries of said city, either above or below the boundaries of said city, or both, by the passage of an ordinance extending the boundaries of said city to include the territory aforesaid, being a strip five thousand feet wide, and twenty miles, more or less, in length, or so much thereof as the city council may consider advisable to add to the limits of said city.

Saved from Repeal

Acts 1963, 58th Leg., p. 447, ch. 160, enacting the Municipal Annexation Act (art. 970a) expressly provides in art. III of the Act that it shall not repeal or affect arts. 1183 to 1187 of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Art. 1184. Powers

The city council of said city shall have the right, power and authority to secure land within the territory so added to said city by purchase, condemnation or gift, for the improvement of the navigation of said navigable streams or waters either by the United States or by said city, or by any navigation or other improvement district, and for the purpose of establishing and maintaining wharves, docks, railway terminals, side tracks, warehouses or any other facilities or aids whatsoever to either navigation or wharves. In all condemnation proceedings under this law the same procedure shall apply that now applies in condemnation of land by cities for the purpose of streets.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1185. Status of Territory

For the purposes specified, the corporate limits of said cities shall, upon passage of said ordinance, be extended from the existing limits so as to include all the land added to said city by said ordinance. Such city shall have no right to tax the property over which such boundaries are extended, unless such property is within the line and within the limits of the general city boundaries or limits.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1186. Regulation

After the passage of the ordinance adding said territory to said city, said city shall have and exercise the fullest and most complete power of regulation of navigation and of wharfage and of wharfage rates and of all facilities, conveniences and aids to wharfage or navigation consistent with the Constitution of this State, and shall further have authority by criminal ordinances or otherwise, to police the navigation of said waters and the use of said wharves and facilities and aids to wharfage and navigation.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1187. Restrictions

The power granted in the four preceding articles shall not authorize the extension of the territory of any city for the limited purposes named so as to include any land which is already part of any other city or town corporation whether incorporated under the general laws or under special law, or any land at the time belonging to any other city or town.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1187a. Construction of Bridges Over Navigable Waters

Powers Granted; Wharves, Piers, Etc.; Sale or Lease

Sec. 1. Any city in this State, whether organized and operating under general law or under special charter granted by the Legislature of the State of Texas or under charter adopted or amended under Section 5 of Article 11 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which city is situated within the territorial limits of a navigation district organized under the general laws of the State of Texas and having a deep water port located within the limits of said city, may within such city purchase, construct, own, maintain and operate a bridge or bridges over or across any stream, inlet or arm of the Gulf of Mexico or entrance canal to said port connecting up any of the public streets, highways or other thoroughfares of said city and improve, enlarge or repair the same. Any such city may purchase, construct, own, maintain, operate or lease any wharf, pier, pavilion, and/or boat house and dams and dykes and spillways with roads and bridges thereon or thereover for the purpose of creating a fresh water supply for domestic, irrigation and other purposes within such navigation district, or within the county or counties adjacent to such fresh water basin and may acquire, reclaim, reconstruct, or fill in any submerged lands along its water front, may build and construct sea walls, breakwaters or other shore protection to protect its water front of said city, may provide for and construct water mains, gas mains, storm sewers, sanitary sewers, sidewalks, streets, or other like improvements in connection with such reconstructed or reclaimed properties and may operate, repair and otherwise maintain the same. And any such city reconstructing or reclaiming any such property may rent, lease or sell the same, or grant franchises for the use of any such reconstructed or reclaimed property and apply the income therefrom in accord with this Act, and may dredge out, construct, reconstruct, maintain and operate any channel in connection with any such deep water port in aid of navigation within said city and subject to the provisions of this Act.

Ordinances for Operation of Bridges

Sec. 2. Any such city may enact all necessary, appropriate and reasonable ordinances providing rules and regulations for the operation of any such bridge or bridges and concerning the manner in which traffic shall move over and across any such bridge or bridges not inconsistent with the General Laws of the State.

Construction of Act

Sec. 3. This Act shall be construed as cumulative authority for the purposes named herein, and as to the manner and form of issuance of any revenue bonds for any such purpose or purposes, and shall not be construed to repeal any existing laws with respect thereto, it being the purpose and intent of this Act to create an additional and alternate method for the purposes named herein.

Estimating Cost of Improvement

Sec. 4. Whenever the governing body of such city shall determine to acquire, construct, improve, enlarge, extend or repair any such bridge or bridges, and/or reclaim or reconstruct, improve, repair, or extend any such dams, dykes and spillways with roads and bridges thereon and thereover, sea walls, breakwaters, shore protection or water mains, gas mains, storm sewers, sanitary sewers, sidewalks, streets, wharfs, piers, pavilions, or other like improvements in any such reconstructed or reclaimed area or territory, it shall first cause an estimate to be made of the cost thereof, and thereafter it shall then cause a notice to be published in such city in a newspaper of general circulation once each week for four (4) consecutive weeks stating in said notice the following:

- (1) The contemplated improvement;
- (2) The estimated cost thereof;
- (3) The use or disposition of the reclaimed lands, if any;
- (4) The amount and location of lands to be reclaimed, if any;
- (5) The time when the ordinance authorizing said improvements and the issuance of the bonds shall be passed or acted upon (which shall be not less than twenty days after the last publication of said notice); and
- (6) Reference shall be made to the right of referendum, as provided for in the next succeeding paragraph.

If by the time set for action upon said ordinance, which shall be not less than twenty (20) days after the last publication of the notice provided for herein, as many as one hundred (100) of the qualified voters of such city whose names appear on the last approved tax rolls as property taxpayers, petition the city council or governing body of such city in writing to submit to a referendum vote the question as to the making of such improvements and the issuance of such bonds for such purposes, then such city, city council or governing body shall not be authorized to make said improvements or issue said bonds unless the proposition making such improvements and issuing such bonds for such purposes is sustained by a majority of the votes cast at such election for such purpose. The law in reference to elections for the issuance of city bonds as contained in Chapters 1 and 2, Title 22, Revised Statutes of 1925,¹ shall govern in so far as consistent with the provisions of this Act. If such petition is not so filed with the city secretary, or clerk, then the city council or governing body may proceed with the improvements and may issue said bonds, but in the absence of such petition, the city council or governing body may at its discretion submit such question to a vote of the people.

¹ Articles 701 et seq. and 718 et seq.

Bonds for Improvement

Sec. 5. For the purpose of acquiring, constructing, improving, enlarging, extending or repairing any such bridge or bridges, and/or for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, reclaiming, reconstructing, repairing or improving any such dams, dykes and spillways with roads and bridges thereon and thereover sea walls, breakwaters, shore protection, water mains, gas mains, storm sewers, sanitary sewers, sidewalks, streets and other like improvements in such reconstructed or reclaimed area or territory, anyone or all, any such city may borrow money and issue its negotiable bonds, provided that no such bonds shall be issued unless and until authorized by an ordinance which shall set forth a brief description of the contemplated improvement, the estimated cost thereof, the amount, the maximum rate of interest, time and place of payment and other details in connection with the issuance of such bonds. Such bonds shall bear interest at the rate of not more than six per centum (6%) per annum payable semiannually or otherwise, and shall be payable at such times, not exceeding forty-five (45) years from their date, and at such place or places as shall be prescribed in the ordinance providing for their issuance. The bonds and coupons shall be executed in such manner and shall be substantially in the form provided in the authorizing ordinance. Such bonds shall be sold in such manner and upon such terms as the governing body shall deem for the best interest of the city. In no event shall any of the bonds be sold on a basis to yield more than six per centum (6%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of average maturity of the bonds sold, provided, however, that in any contract for the purchase or construction of any such project or projects as hereinbefore described, or for the improvement, enlargement, extension, reclamation, reconstruction or repair of the same, provision may be made that payment therefor may be made in such bonds. Such bonds and their coupons may be made payable in lawful money of the United States of America, or in gold coin of or equal to the standard of weight and fineness existing on the date thereof. Such bonds shall mature annually and the first installment thereof shall be made payable not less than two (2) years nor more than five (5) years from the date of such bonds. No such installment shall be more than two and one-half times as great in amount as the smallest prior installment of the same issue. If all of the bonds of an issue are not issued at the same time, the bonds at any one time outstanding shall mature as aforesaid. The principal of and interest upon such bonds shall be payable solely from the income and revenues derived from the operation of the bridge or bridges, sea walls, breakwaters, shore protection, water mains, gas mains, storm sewers, sanitary sewers, sidewalks, streets and other like improvements including rentals or other charges received from any reclaimed or reconstructed area or territory for the acquisition, construction, improvement, reconstruction, reclamation, enlargement, extension or repair of which the same are issued; provided, however, that where any such city acquires or constructs a bridge or bridges under authority of this Act, and in connection therewith acquires or constructs any sea wall, breakwaters or other shore protection and reclaims or reconstructs any submerged area or territory and constructs therein or thereon any water mains, gas mains, storm sewers, sanitary sewers, sidewalks, streets or other like improvements, any such city may, as additional security for the payment of any bonds issued for the acquisition or construction of any such bridge or bridges, pledge any income or revenues derived from any such projects, and additionally secure the payment of any such bonds with a mortgage on any such project or projects or reclaimed area as hereinafter provided. No bond or coupon issued pursuant to this Act shall constitute an indebtedness of such city within the meaning of any State constitutional or statutory limitation. No such obligation shall ever be reckoned in determining the power of such city to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law. It shall be plainly stated on the face of each such bond and coupon that the same have been issued under the provisions of this Act and that it does not constitute an indebtedness of such city within any State constitutional or statutory limitation, and that the holder of such bond shall never have the right to demand payment of such obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation.

Security for Payment of Bonds

Sec. 6. As security for the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds, such city may mortgage and encumber any part, parts or all of the properties and facilities for the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, reclamation, repair or improvement of the same such bonds were issued, and may provide in such mortgage or encumbrance for a grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder of a franchise to operate the properties and facilities so encumbered for a term of not over twenty (20) years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating same then in force. The ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds shall contain a substantial description of the franchise which is to appear in the mortgage.

Provision of Mortgage as to Foreclosure

Sec. 7. The mortgage or encumbrance shall provide for a trustee to enforce foreclosure and the city shall have the option at any five (5) year period within said twenty (20) years after purchase of properties designated in the franchise to repurchase said properties under reasonable terms and reasonable prices, to be set forth in said mortgage or encumbrance, but this limitation shall not extend to any reclaimed area acquired by individual purchasers.

Management of Encumbered Property

Sec. 8. The management and control of any such properties and/or facilities so encumbered, during the time they are so mortgaged and encumbered, shall be in the hands of the governing body of the city, except as otherwise provided in Section 29 of this Act. The provisions of this Section and Section 29 hereof shall not apply when there has been a sale on foreclosure under the mortgage in this Act provided for.

Bonds as Legal Investments

Sec. 9. The bonds issued under the provisions of this Act are legal investments for executors, administrators, trustees and other fiduciaries and for savings banks and insurance companies organized under the laws of this State.

Bonds Exempt From Taxation

Sec. 10. Bonds and interest coupons issued hereunder are hereby exempted from any and all State, county, municipal and other taxation whatsoever under the laws of the State of Texas, and it shall be plainly stated on the face of each such bond as follows:

"The principal of and interest on this bond are exempted from any and all State, county, municipal and other taxation whatsoever under the laws of the State of Texas."

Bonds as Negotiable Instruments

Sec. 11. Bonds issued under the provisions of this Act shall have all of the qualities of negotiable instruments under the law merchant and the Negotiable Instruments law.¹

¹ Article 5932 et seq. (repealed; see now, Business and Commerce Code, § 3.101 et seq.).

Deposit of Proceeds of Bonds

Sec. 12. The governing body of any such city issuing any such bonds shall, where practicable, require that the proceeds of the sale of bonds issued under the provisions of this Act be deposited in a special account or accounts in a bank or banks which are members of the Federal Reserve System, and shall require, in so far as practicable, that each such deposit be secured by direct obligations of the United States Government having an aggregate market value at least equal to the sum at the time on deposit, or, in any event, the proceeds shall be deposited in some bank or other depository, either within or without the State, which will secure such deposit satisfactorily to said governing body.

Use of Proceeds of Bonds Solely for Improvements

Sec. 13. All moneys received from any such bonds shall be used solely for the acquisition, construction, improvement, reclamation, reconstruction, enlargement, extension or repair of the project or projects for which issued including not more than five per centum (5%) for engineering, legal and other expenses and discounts incident thereto; provided, however, that such moneys may be used also to advance the payment of interest on such bonds during the first three (3) years following the date of such bonds to not more than the contract rate of interest. Provided, that any unexpended balance of the proceeds of the sale of any such bonds remaining after the completion of the project for which issued shall be put immediately into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund for such bonds, and the same shall be used only for the payment of the principal of the bonds, or, in the alternative, to acquire outstanding bonds of the general issue from which the proceeds were derived, by purchase of such bonds at a price (exclusive of accrued interest) not exceeding the face amount thereof. Any bonds so acquired by purchase shall be cancelled and shall not be reissued.

Validity of Signatures to Bonds

Sec. 14. In case any of the officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officers before the delivery of such bonds, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if they had remained in office until such delivery.

Payment for Services Rendered City

Sec. 15. The reasonable cost and value of any service rendered to any such city by any such project or projects shall be charged against the city and shall be paid for monthly or otherwise, as the service accrues, from the current funds, or from the proceeds of taxes which such city, within constitutional limitations, is hereby authorized and required to levy in an amount sufficient for the purpose, and such funds, when so paid, shall be accounted for in the same manner as other revenues of such project or projects.

Additional Bonds for Extension of Projects

Sec. 16. Any city acquiring, constructing, reconstructing, reclaiming, improving, enlarging or repairing any project or projects as aforesaid pursuant to the provisions of this Act, may, at the time of the authorization of such bonds for any such purpose or purposes, provide in the authorizing ordinance for additional bonds for extensions and permanent improvements, which additional bonds may be issued and be negotiated from time to time as such proceeds for such purpose may be necessary. Such bonds, when so negotiated, shall have equal standing with the bonds of the same issue.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 17. Where a city has outstanding any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, it may thereafter issue and negotiate new bonds on such terms as the governing body of such city shall deem advisable for the purpose of providing for the payment of any such outstanding bonds. Such new bonds shall be designated "refunding bonds", and shall be secured to the same extent and shall have the same source of payment as the bonds which have been thereby refunded.

Rates or Charges for Services

Sec. 18. Rates or other charges for services and facilities afforded by the project and for sales of reclaimed area shall be sufficient to provide for the payment of the interest upon and principal of all such bonds as and when the same become due and payable, to create a Bond and Interest Redemption Fund therefor, to provide for the payment of expenses of administration and operation and such expenses for maintenance of the project or projects necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order, to build up a reserve for depreciation of the project or projects, and to build up a reserve for improvements, betterments and extensions thereto other than those necessary to maintain the same in good repair and working order, as herein provided. Such rates and/or charges shall be fixed and revised from time to time so as to produce these amounts, and the governing body shall covenant and agree in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds, and on the face of each bond at all times to maintain such rates and/or charges for services furnished by such project or projects as shall be sufficient to provide for the foregoing.

Cost of Operation as First Lien on Income

Sec. 19. The reasonable cost of administration and operation and the reasonable expense of maintaining such project or projects in good repair and working order shall be a first lien and charge against the income and revenues derived from the operation of such project or projects, superior to the lien of the mortgage or encumbrance on such project or projects.

Operation and Maintenance Account

Sec. 20. Out of the gross income and revenues of such project or projects there should be first set aside into an account to be known as the "Operation and Maintenance Account" monthly or oftener if necessary, sums sufficient to meet the cost and expenses set forth in Section 18 hereof. After provision for the "Operation and Maintenance Account" the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds shall make provision for a "Bond and Interest Redemption Fund" into which there shall be set aside monthly or oftener if necessary such portion of the gross income and revenues of such project or projects as shall be sufficient to pay when due the principal of and interest upon the bonds provided, however, that in the segregation and separation of such gross income and revenues the governing body of the city may prescribe a reasonable excess amount to be placed in said Bond and Interest Redemption Fund from time to time during the earlier years of maturities of such bonds so as thereby to produce and provide a reserve fund for contingencies to meet any possible deficiencies therein in maturities of future years.

Ordinance to Determine Fiscal Year

Sec. 21. The ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds shall definitely determine whether such project or projects shall be operated upon a calendar, operating or fiscal year basis and the dates of the beginning and ending of same.

Disposition of Surplus

Sec. 22. The governing body of such city may make adequate and suitable provision for the disposition of any surplus accumulations in the Operation and Maintenance Account, or Depreciation Account, by causing same to be transferred to the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, invested, or otherwise disposed of.

Provision for Redemption of Bonds Before Maturity

Sec. 23. The governing body of the city authorizing the bonds under the provisions of this Act may make provision for any such bonds to be called for payment on any interest payment date before maturity provided that the city shall have on hand in its Bond and Interest Redemption Fund sufficient moneys not otherwise appropriated or pledged, in excess of the interest and principal requirements within the next two succeeding calendar, operating or fiscal years.

Construction as Not Prohibiting Use of Available Incomes and Revenues

Sec. 24. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prohibit the city, county or the State from appropriating and using any part of its available income and revenues derived from any source, other than in case of the city, from the operation of such project or projects, in paying any immediate expenses of operation or maintenance of any such project or projects or otherwise aiding in financing any part of the construction of said bridge or bridges, or reclaiming any submerged area or territory herein described.

Projects Not Subject to Regulation by State Agencies

Sec. 25. Rates of the city charged for services and/or facilities furnished by any such project or projects shall not be subject to supervision or regulation by any State bureau, board, commission or other like agency or instrumentality thereof; provided however, that the functions, powers and duties of the State Board of Health shall remain unaffected by this Act.

Separate Books and Records to be Kept

Sec. 26. Any city issuing bonds under the provisions of this Act shall install and maintain proper books of record and account (separate entirely from other records and account of such city) in which full and correct entries shall be made of all dealings or transactions of or in relation to the properties, business and affairs of the project or projects and the same shall be open for examination and inspection by any taxpayer, user of the services furnished by the project or projects, or any holder of the bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, or any one acting for or on behalf of such taxpayer, user of the services of the project or projects, or bond-holder.

Construction as Not Authorizing Impairing Other Obligations

Sec. 27. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing any city to impair or commit a breach of the obligation of any valid lien or contract created or entered into by it, the intention hereof being to authorize the pledging, setting aside and segregation of income and revenues as aforesaid only where consistent with outstanding obligations of such city.

Borrowing From Federal Agencies

Sec. 28. Any such city mentioned in Section 1 of this Act, in addition to the powers conferred under this Act, is hereby granted and shall hereafter have the power to borrow money from the Federal Government or any of its agencies created for the purpose of making such loan, for the purpose of constructing and maintaining said bridge and the other improvements herein provided for and to mortgage and encumber said properties and facilities and the net revenues and income from the operation thereof and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired to secure the payment of the funds necessary to said construction and improvement and as additional security therefor by the terms of such encumbrance may pledge and encumber the net income and revenues from the operation of all of said properties and facilities and may provide in such encumbrance for a grant to the purchaser under a sale or foreclosure thereunder of a franchise to operate the property and facilities so encumbered for a term of not over twenty (20) years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating same then in force.

Permit From Navigation and Canal Commissioners

Sec. 29. Anything in this Act to the contrary notwithstanding, no such bridge shall be constructed, maintained or operated over any entrance channel to any port operated by any navigation district without a permit from the Navigation and Canal Commissioners of such District and all plans and specifications for said bridge shall be subject to the joint approval of the governing bodies of the city and district. Whenever any said toll bridge is constructed, maintained and operated over and across any entrance channel into a deep water port under the provisions of this Act, the Navigation and Canal Commissioners of the Navigation District governing said port shall have the power to prescribe reasonable rules and regulations for the operation of said bridge in aid of navigation and shall have and exercise direct control over the operation of the mechanical facilities of said bridge, providing for the clearance of the channel for the ingress and egress of vessels to said deep water port and to employ and direct all agencies in the management and operation of same, and said facilities shall be maintained and operated under the direct control and direction of said Navigation and Canal Commissioners; provided, that said Commissioners may appropriate and use any available revenues of said District in defraying part of the cost of operation and maintenance of any bridge or bridges constructed hereunder. No city shall have the power to construct, maintain or operate any such bridge over any such entrance channel to any such deep water port except in conformity with this section.

County Appropriation Authorized

Sec. 30. Any county in which any such city is situated is hereby authorized to appropriate to any such city for use in constructing any such bridge or bridges, or reclaiming or reconstructing any such submerged area or territory, or constructing seawall or breakwater protection for its waterfront, any available revenues of such county, and any such county is authorized to appropriate and apply any part of its available income and revenues to the operation and maintenance of any such project or projects.

Appropriations by State Highway Department

Sec. 31. The State Highway Department of the State of Texas, with the approval of the Governor may appropriate and apply any available revenues of such department to aid in the construction, operation and maintenance of any bridge or bridges acquired or constructed under the provisions of this Act, together with any approaches thereto, or the acquisition of any properties in connection with or in furtherance thereof.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 32. The invalidity of any section, sentence, clause, paragraph or portion of this Act shall not affect the validity of the remainder of this Act. [Acts 1933, 43rd Leg., p. 774, ch. 231.]

Art. 1187a-1. Bonds for International Bridge Across Rio Grande Validated; Additional Bonds for Repairs and Improvements

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any City operating under its Special Charter or Home Rule Charter, which has amended such Charter by a vote of the people so as to authorize the issuance of negotiable revenue bonds for the purpose of providing funds for paying the cost of the acquisition of the part of an International Bridge situated within the United States of America and extending from such City across the Rio Grande.

Sec. 2. All bonds authorized by the governing body of any such City for the purpose of acquiring the part of the International Bridge which is situated within the United States of America and which extends from such City across the Rio Grande, and which bonds are payable solely from the revenues derived from tolls charged for the use of such bridge are hereby validated, and when such bonds are approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, sold and delivered, they shall constitute valid, binding and negotiable obligations of such City payable only from the revenues pledged for their payment. The governing body of any such City within its discretion, is empowered to authorize and issue additional negotiable revenue bonds for the purpose of repairing and improving such bridge in an amount not exceeding ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the revenue bonds issued to acquire such property.

Art. 1187a-2. Home Rule Cities Owning Portion of Bridge Over Rio Grande River Financed by Revenue Bonds; Additional Bonds for Acquisition, Construction, Repair and Improvement

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any Home Rule City which owns the portion of an international toll bridge over the Rio Grande River which is situated within the United States of America and whose Home Rule Charter authorizes the City Council of any such city to issue bonds payable from the net revenues derived from the operation of such bridge for the purpose of providing funds to acquire such bridge and to construct, repair and improve such bridge, or for any of such purposes.

Sec. 2. Where any such city has bonds outstanding payable from the revenues of such bridge, additional bonds may be issued to the extent and under the conditions prescribed by the provisions of the outstanding bonds and the proceedings relating thereto, including the provisions of any trust indenture securing such outstanding bonds, and any such additional bonds may be secured by a pledge of and lien on the net revenues of the bridge on a parity with such outstanding bonds to the extent, in the manner, and under the conditions set out in the proceedings and the trust indenture authorizing and securing such previously issued and outstanding bonds.

Sec. 3. Any such city which, on or prior to the effective date of this Act, by ordinance duly passed by the governing body thereof and pursuant to published notice of intention as required by the charter to issue additional bonds for any one or more of the purposes specified in Section 1 hereof, or for capital improvements to such bridge, has authorized the issuance of any such additional bonds payable from the net revenues of such bridge and secured by a trust indenture or by a supplement to any previously executed indenture is authorized to issue, sell and deliver such additional bonds, and any such additional bonds when approved by the Attorney General of Texas, registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of Texas and sold and delivered in accordance with law, shall be valid and binding special obligations of such city. All proceedings authorizing and relating to the issuance of such bonds, including the execution and delivery of a trust indenture or supplemental trust indenture securing such bonds, and any provisions contained therein which by expression or reference provide for the substitution of new bonds or coupons for any such bonds or coupons which may be lost, mutilated or stolen, provide for the issuance of refunding bonds, authorize the issuance of additional parity bonds for the purpose of constructing another bridge, restrict the rights of minority bondholders, grant to the trustee a lien on the revenues and funds coming into its possession to secure the payment of fees and charges justly due such trustee and providing under certain conditions for the modification of such trust indenture or supplement thereto, be and they are hereby in all things ratified, confirmed and validated.

[Acts 1955, 54th Leg., p. 9, ch. 8.]

Art. 1187b. Revenue Bonds for Certain Purposes in Certain Cities Authorized

Purposes for Which Bonds May Be Issued

Sec. 1. Any city in this State, whether organized and operating under General Law or under Special Charter granted by the Legislature of the State of Texas, or under charter adopted or amended under Section 5 of Article 11 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which city is situated within the territorial limits of a navigation district organized under the General Laws of the State of Texas, and having a deep water port located within the limits of said navigation district, is hereby authorized and empowered to issue its negotiable bonds, notes, or warrants, payable from revenues other than taxation, for either one or any or all of the following purposes, to-wit:

(a) The construction, maintenance, and operation of a toll bridge or toll bridges over and across, or a tube, underpass, or tunnel under any stream, inlet, or arm of the Gulf of Mexico, or entrance channel to such port connecting up any of the public streets and thoroughfares of, or in, and to said city;

(b) The construction, maintenance, and operation, and/or extension of a sewage disposal plant within or without the limits of said city;

(c) The construction, maintenance, and/or extension, or improvement of sanitary sewer lines and/or storm sewer lines within or without the limits of said city;

(d) The construction, maintenance, and/or extension or improvement of water mains or water lines from the source of water supply of said city to any part of said city or within said city as may be found necessary by the governing body thereof;

(e) The acquisition, reclamation, reconstruction, elevation, and filling in of any submerged or lowlands along the water front of said city, and the construction of sidewalks, streets, and gas lines within the territory or area so acquired and/or reclaimed;

(f) The construction, maintenance, and/or extension or improvement of seawalls, breakwaters or other shore protections to protect the water front of said city;

(g) The construction, reconstruction, maintenance, operation and dredging out of any channel or boat basin in connection with any such deep water port;

(h) The construction, maintenance, replacement, and operation of a basin and boat slips, dry docks, boat service stations, walls, piers, wharfs, and structures in connection with such boat basin and slips.

Bonds as Charge on Revenues of Improvements

Sec. 2. No such bonds, notes or warrants shall ever evidence any debt or obligation of such city, but shall be solely a charge upon the revenues and/or properties and improvements pledged to secure their payment, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city to issue bonds, or otherwise lend its credit, for any purposes authorized by law.

Pledge of Revenues for Payment of Bonds, Notes or Warrants

Sec. 3. Any and all bonds, notes or warrants, as well as interest thereon, issued under authority of this Act, shall be redeemed or paid by an appropriation or pledge of all revenues derived from either one or all of the improvement projects herein authorized, and/or tolls collected from the operation of any existing bridge or bridges, if such tolls are so authorized, as hereinafter provided, and payment of such bonds, notes or warrants may be additionally secured by a mortgage on any such improvement project or projects, including any toll bridge or toll bridges and reclaimed lands; it being the intent hereof to authorize and to provide that all sources of income and revenue derived from any one or more of such improvement projects may be pledged and applied to the payment of the obligation or obligations issued for the purpose of constructing and providing for another one or more of such improvement projects; provided, that said city may provide for the construction, maintenance and operation of all of the improvement projects enumerated in Section 1 of this Act, and improvements in connection therewith, by the issuance and sale of one series of bonds, notes or warrants in the discretion of the governing body thereof.

Election for Issuance

Sec. 4. Any and all bonds, notes or warrants authorized by this Act shall never be issued unless a proposition for the issuance of such bonds, notes or warrants, as the case may be, shall have been first submitted to the qualified voters who are property taxpayers of such city. The method of ordering and holding such election shall be governed by the laws of this State regulating elections for the issuance of city bonds under Chapters 1 and 2, Title 22, Revised Statutes of 1925.¹ If at such election a majority of the property taxpaying voters, voting at such election, cast their ballots in favor of the issuance of the bonds, notes or warrants, as the case may be, the governing body of said city, shall as soon thereafter as practicable, issue said bonds, notes or warrants.

¹ Articles 701 et seq. and 718 et seq.

Maturity and Denominations

Sec. 5. Such bonds, notes or warrants shall mature not later than thirty years from their date; they shall be issued in such denominations, and payable at such time or times as may be deemed most expedient by the governing body of such city, and shall bear interest not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum. The General Laws relative to city bonds, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, shall apply to the issuance, approval, certification and registration, and the sale of the bonds, notes or warrants provided for in this Act.

Contents of Bonds; Attorney General's Approval

Sec. 6. Each bond, note or warrant issued under authority of this Act shall contain this clause:

"The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

All bonds, notes or warrants issued hereunder shall be presented to the Attorney General for his approval as is provided for the approval of municipal bonds issued by cities or towns; and in event such bonds, notes or warrants are approved by the Attorney General, they shall be registered by the State Comptroller as in the case of municipal bonds.

Borrowing From Federal Agencies

Sec. 7. Any such city is hereby further expressly authorized and empowered to borrow money from the Government of the United States, from the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, and any and all other agencies of the Government of the United States, which now are or hereafter may be authorized to make loans to public corporate bodies and municipalities, or from any person, firm, or corporation, and which loans may be made on such terms and in such amounts as may be agreed upon between the Government of the United States or its lending agency, or such person, firm, or corporation, and the governing body of such city; and any and all such loans shall be evidenced by negotiable bonds, notes, or warrants issued under the provisions of this Act in cases where the project or projects are to be financed pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

Destruction of Existing Bridges or Other Structures

Sec. 8. Power and authority is hereby conferred upon the governing body of any such city to remove or demolish any existing bridge or other structure owned and operated by said city, if in the discretion of such governing body the removal or the demolishing of such bridge or structure may be necessary in carrying out to completion any one or more of the improvement projects herein authorized.

Eminent Domain

Sec. 9. The right of eminent domain is hereby expressly conferred upon any such city operating under the provisions of this Act, for the purpose of enabling such city to acquire the fee simple title, easement or right-of-way to, over and through any and all lands, water, or lands under water, private or public (except land and property used for cemetery purposes), within or without the limits of any such city, necessary in the constructing and maintaining of either one or all of the improvements herein authorized. In the event of the condemnation, or the taking, damaging or destroying of any property for such purposes, the city shall pay to the owner thereof adequate compensation for the property taken, damaged or destroyed. All such condemnation and damages adjudicated in any condemnation proceedings, and all damages which may be done to the property of any person or corporation in the construction of any such improvement project, shall be paid out of funds derived from the sale of bonds, notes or warrants issued under the provisions of this Act. All procedure with reference to condemnation, the assessment of and estimating of damages, payment, appeal, the entering upon the property pending the appeal, etc., shall be in conformity with the procedure prescribed in Title 52, Articles 3264 to 3271, inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, and any amendments thereto.

Conversion of Existing Bridges Into Toll Bridges

Sec. 10. Whenever the governing body of any such city finds that it will not be necessary and/or practicable to construct any toll bridge or toll bridges under authority of Subdivision (a) of Section 1 of this Act, then in that event any existing bridge or bridges owned and/or operated by any such city over and across any such stream, inlet or arm of the Gulf of Mexico, or such entrance channel to such port, connecting up any of the public streets and thoroughfares of or in and to such city, may be by ordinance converted into a toll bridge or toll bridges, and the governing body of such city is hereby authorized to assess and collect such tolls for the use of any such bridge or bridges as within its judgment are reasonable and sufficient in amount, together with other income and revenues derived from the improvement projects, to pay the principal of and interest on all bonds, notes or warrants issued under the provisions of this Act as the same shall mature; provided, however, that all such tolls or charges so collected shall be placed in the interest and sinking fund account created for the purpose of paying the interest on and principal of all bonds, notes or warrants issued under the provisions of this Act, and such tolls or charges shall be applied to no other purpose; and, provided further, that the authority to assess and collect such bridge tolls and the irrevocable application of the same to the payment of bonds, notes or warrants issued under the provisions of this Act shall be authorized at the election to be ordered by the governing body of such city to determine whether or not any such bonds, notes or warrants shall be issued and sold.

Execution of Mortgages or Deeds of Trust

Sec. 11. Before such bonds, notes or warrants shall be put on the market the Mayor and the person acting as City Treasurer or Finance Commissioner, pursuant to authority conferred by ordinance of the governing body, may execute a proper indenture, mortgage or deed of trust, making effective the mortgage lien on the properties pledged or mortgaged to secure payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds, notes or warrants, naming in such indenture, mortgage or deed of trust a bank or banking institution, with trust powers, and such indenture, mortgage or deed of trust shall be placed of record in the proper Deed of Trust and Mortgage Records of the county or counties in which any of such mortgaged properties may be situated, and may provide in such indenture, mortgage or deed of trust for a grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder, a franchise to operate the properties so encumbered for a term of not over twenty (20) years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating same then in force; provided, however, that the city shall have the option at any five (5) year period within said twenty (20) years after purchase of the properties designated in the franchise, to repurchase said properties under reasonable terms and at reasonable prices, to be set forth in said mortgage or encumbrance, but this option shall not extend to any lands or properties in the reclaimed area which maybe acquired from the city by individual purchasers.

Costs of Administration and Operation as Lien

Sec. 12. The reasonable costs of administration and operation and the reasonable expense of maintaining such project or projects in good repair and working order shall be a first lien and charge against the income and revenues derived from the operation of such project or projects, superior to the lien of the indenture, mortgage or deed of trust on such project or projects.

Operation and Maintenance Account; Sinking Funds

Sec. 13. Out of the gross income and revenues of such project or projects, there shall be first set aside into an account to be known as the "Operation and Maintenance Account" monthly, or oftener if necessary, sums sufficient to meet the costs and expense set forth in Section 12 hereof. After provision for the "Operation and Maintenance Account," the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds, notes or warrants shall make provision for a "Special Interest and Sinking Fund Account" into which there shall be set aside monthly, or oftener if necessary, such portion of the gross income and revenues of either one or all of such project or projects as shall be sufficient to pay when due the principal of and interest on the bonds, notes or warrants.

Revenues Applied to Payment of Bonds

Sec. 14. No part of the income and revenues of either one or all of such project or projects shall be used or devoted to any purpose or purposes, save and except the purposes prescribed in Sections 12 and 13, hereof, so long as such notes, bonds or warrants shall be outstanding and unpaid; and the use or payment of such income and revenues, or any part thereof, for any other purpose shall be a diversion thereof and punishable as provided by Article 94 of the Penal Code of this State, Revision of 1925.¹

Permits for Bridges

Sec. 15. No such bridge shall be constructed, maintained or operated over any entrance channel to any port operated by any navigation district without a permit from the Navigation and Canal Commissioners of such District and all plans and specifications for said bridge shall be subject to the joint approval of the governing bodies of the city and district. Whenever any said toll bridge is constructed, maintained and operated over and across any entrance channel into a deep water port under the provisions of this Act, the Navigation and Canal Commissioners of the navigation district governing said port shall have the power to prescribe reasonable rules and regulations for the operation of said bridge in aid of navigation and shall have and exercise direct control over the operation of the mechanical facilities of said bridge, providing for the clearance of the channel for the ingress and egress of vessels to said deep water port and to employ and direct all agencies in the management and operation of same, and said facilities shall be maintained and operated at the expense of said city but under the direct control and direction of said navigation and canal commissioners. No city shall have the power to construct, maintain or operate any such toll bridge over any such entrance channel to any such deep water port except in conformity with this section.

Construction Against Repeal of Existing Law

Sec. 16. This Act shall not be construed to repeal any existing laws with respect thereto, it being the purpose and intent of this Act to create an additional and alternative method for the purposes named herein.

Bridge Defined; Toll Bridges

Sec. 16a. That wherever the word "bridge" or the word "bridges" appears in said Senate Bill No. 43, Chapter 17,¹ passed at the Second Called Session of the Forty-third Legislature of the State of Texas, the same shall be construed to mean and include the words "tube, underpass, or tunnel," and said Act, in authorizing the construction, maintenance, and operation of a toll bridge or toll bridges over and across any stream, inlet, or arm of the Gulf of Mexico, or entrance channel to such port connecting up any of the public streets or thoroughfares of or in and to said city, the same shall likewise authorize the construction, maintenance, and operation of a tube, underpass, or tunnel under any stream, inlet, or arm of the Gulf of Mexico, and entrance channel to such port connecting up any of the public streets or thoroughfares of or in and to said city, and the authority contained in said Chapter 17, passed at the Second Called Session of the Forty-third Legislature of the State of Texas, shall in all things authorize the construction, maintenance, and operation of a tube, underpass, or tunnel, and empower such city to charge tolls sufficient to pay from such revenues all bonds, notes, or warrants issued for the purposes enumerated in said Act.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 17. If any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this Act.

Art. 1187c. Municipal Fish Markets; Bonds Secured by Pledge of Properties

Powers Granted; Obligation Not a Debt

Sec. 1. That any City in this State with a population of over one thousand (1,000) people located on the Coast of Texas, or on any Gulf, Bay or Inlet, or within five (5) miles thereof, and in which commercial fishing and shrimping is an established industry, shall have the power to purchase and/or build a municipal fish market for the purpose of encouraging, developing and standardizing the fishing and shrimping industry, which among other services shall have sanitary facilities and equipment for cleaning, packing, shucking, canning and cold storage of shrimp, oysters and other sea food, and any such city shall have the right to borrow money, (and subject to the restrictions prescribed in Section 2 hereof to borrow money and to accept grants, either or both, from the United States of America or any agency thereof), for the purpose of building, purchasing or acquiring a municipal fish market and the necessary real property to be used as a site therefor; that any such city shall have the power to procure the funds for such purpose by issuing bonds or revenue notes for such purpose, and to secure the payment of such revenue bonds or revenue notes by mortgaging the physical properties so acquired, or to be acquired, and pledging the net revenues received therefrom, and by the terms of the encumbrance may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure a permit to operate the same subject to such laws as may then be in force regulating the operation of such industry, or may secure the revenue bonds or notes by pledge of revenues without a mortgage of the physical properties; such revenue bonds or revenue notes shall bear interest at a rate fixed by the governing body of such city not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, and shall mature serially in such installments as may be fixed by said governing body within forty (40) years from their date, and at the option of the holder, may be registered as to principal only. Such obligations as may be incurred under the terms of this Act shall never be a debt of such city but solely a charge upon the property so encumbered and the revenues therefrom, and such obligation shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city to issue any bonds for purpose authorized by law.

Conditions Precedent to Loans or Grants From United States

Sec. 2. No such city shall have authority to accept a loan and grant, either or both, from the United States of America or any agencies thereof, for such purpose, except subject to the following conditions:

(a) The construction of the market must be approved by the Health Department of the State of Texas, as conducive to the health of the people of the State who consume food products from Texas Coast waters;

(b) The construction of the market must be approved by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, as feasible, and of economic importance to the fishing industry generally, in the entire district to be served by the market, as distinguished from the local or civic benefits to the derived therefrom by such city, and that the economic need for such project is not already adequately met by some other or similar institution accessible to the district to be served;

(c) Any such market shall be and shall remain subject to such rules and regulations as to health and sanitation as shall be prescribed by the State Health Department and by all agencies and departments of the United States of America having power to impose such rules and regulations.

Bonds and Notes Negotiable

Sec. 3. All revenue bonds and all revenue notes issued hereunder shall be considered and held to be negotiable under the Negotiable Instruments Law heretofore enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas.

Disposition of Revenues

Sec. 4. The expense of operating and maintaining any such market including all salaries, labor, materials and repairs necessary to permit such market to render efficient service shall always be a first lien and charge against the revenues received from its operation. All of the gross revenues from the operation of such market, after the payment of such maintenance and operating expenses shall be pledged and used exclusively to the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds or notes. Provided if in the judgment of the governing body of such city it is necessary to extend or enlarge such market, the city is authorized to make a junior pledge of the revenues of such market and of the extension to be constructed. In the event such subsequent pledge is made it shall be inferior in all respects to the pledge theretofore made, and the city may issue such junior revenue bonds or notes having interest rates, maturities and covenants as herein prescribed for the first issue of such bonds or notes. The city shall establish, deposit and secure the special funds to facilitate the payment of the principal and interest of all of such bonds and/or notes. It is the intent of this Act that all of the revenues from the operation of such market, after paying maintenance and operating expenses shall be used for debt service, and the surplus if any shall be used to buy in and cancel such revenue bonds or revenue notes before maturity or in the alternative shall be invested in such securities as shall be prescribed in the contracts under which money for such construction of such market may be furnished to the city.

Law Governing Notice, Referendum and Competitive Bidding

Sec. 5. Cities and town building municipal fish markets under the provisions of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of Article 2368-a Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, with reference to notice, right of referendum and competitive bidding.

Bonds Not Payable From Taxation

Sec. 6. Any and all revenue bonds and revenue notes issued pursuant to the provisions of this Act shall have stamped or printed thereon the following:

"The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Refunding Bonds; Leases; Sale of Facilities

Sec. 7. Any city of the class described in Section 1 above, having outstanding municipal fish market revenue bonds may, by ordinance adopted by the governing body thereof, issue refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding all or any part of such outstanding bonds. Such refunding bonds shall be issued and the payment thereof secured in the same manner provided for the issuance of such original bonds, except that no election, notice or right of referendum shall be required. The governing body of such city shall be authorized to enter into lease contracts with persons, firms or corporations for the use of all or any part of the facilities of such municipal fish market and properties appurtenant thereto for such period of time not exceeding twenty (20) years and upon such terms and conditions as such governing body shall deem proper; and the governing body of such city shall be authorized to enter into sales contracts with persons, firms or corporations conveying all or any part of the facilities of such municipal fish market and properties appurtenant thereto under such terms and conditions as such governing body shall deem proper; provided that authority to enter into such lease or sales contracts shall be subject to the prior covenants and agreements relating to any outstanding revenue bonds issued for the purpose of acquiring such municipal fish market.

Art. 1187d. Municipalities Authorized to Encumber Abattoirs

Cities to Which Act Applies

Sec. 1. All cities situated not more than one hundred (100) miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and not more than fifty (50) miles from any stream forming an international boundary, shall have power to mortgage and encumber their abattoirs and everything pertaining thereto acquired, or to be acquired, to secure the payment of funds to construct the same, or to build, improve, enlarge, extend, repair or construct any kind or character of permanent improvements, including buildings and other structures, and as additional security therefor, by the terms of such mortgage or encumbrance, may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder a franchise to operate such abattoirs, and the improvements thereof, for a term of not over thirty (30) years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating the same then in force. No such obligation shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the properties so mortgaged or encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Pledge of Income

Sec. 2. All cities situated not more than one hundred (100) miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and not more than fifty (50) miles from any stream forming an international boundary, shall have power to pledge the income from their abattoirs and everything pertaining thereto acquired, or to be acquired, to secure the payment of funds to construct the same or to build, improve, enlarge, extend, repair or construct any kind or character of permanent improvements including buildings and other structures, and as additional security therefor, by the terms of such pledge may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder a franchise to operate such abattoirs, and the improvements thereof for a term of not over thirty (30) years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating the same then in force. No such obligation shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the properties so mortgaged or encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of any such city to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Notes or Warrants Issued Without Referendum

Sec. 3. Such cities shall have the power to issue notes or warrants in any sum not to exceed the sum of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), for such purposes without submitting such proposition to a vote of the qualified taxpaying voters. This law shall take precedence over all conflicting city charter provisions.

Repeals

Sec. 4. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed to the extent in conflict herewith.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 5. If any section, portion, clause, or part of this Act be invalid or unconstitutional, the same shall not affect any remaining parts of this Act and it is expressly hereby declared that the Legislature would have passed such remaining parts of this Act with such invalid or unconstitutional section, portion, clause or part omitted.

Art. 1187e. Harbors, Ports or Navigational FacilitiesCities on Gulf Coast; Authority to Issue Negotiable Revenue Bonds, Refunding Bonds or to Accept Loans or Grants

Sec. 1. (a) Any city located on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, or on any channel, canal, bay or inlet connected with the Gulf of Mexico shall have the right, power and authority to issue negotiable revenue bonds or accept loans or grants from the Federal, State or County Governments or any of their agencies, or from any other source or sources, to build, acquire, purchase, construct, enlarge, extend, repair, maintain, improve, replace, develop, regulate, operate, lease, mortgage and encumber their harbors, ports, or navigational facilities in connection therewith or any aids thereto, including but not limited to boathouses, boat pilings, seawalls, breakwaters, shore protections, wharfs, docks, walks, piers, pavilions, ways, walls, lands, bulkheads, fills, canals, channels, slips, pools, waterways, turning basins, dry docks, service facilities, bridges, tubes, underpasses, tunnels, ferries, buildings, warehouses, structures, bunkering facilities, equipment, loading devices, floating plants, lighters, aids to navigation, improvements, towing facilities, and all other facilities or improvements or aids incident to or necessary or desirable in connection therewith, and as additional security therefor, by the terms of such mortgage or encumbrance, may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder a franchise to operate such structures and facilities, and the improvements thereof, for a term of not over thirty (30) years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating the same then in force.

(b) Such city shall have the right, power and authority to issue negotiable revenue bonds for the purposes mentioned herein payable from such revenues as are pledged by the governing body of such city to the payment of such bonds, and the applicable provisions of Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended,¹ shall be applicable to the issuance of such bonds, except as otherwise provided in this Act.

(c) Such city shall have the right, power and authority to issue refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding any outstanding bonds authorized by this Act and interest thereon. Such refunding bonds may be issued to refund more than one series of outstanding bonds and combine pledges for the outstanding bonds for the security of the refunding bonds, and may be secured by other or additional revenues. The provisions of this law with reference to the approval by the Attorney General of Texas and the remedies of the holders shall be applicable to refunding bonds. Refunding bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts upon surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded, but in lieu thereof, the resolution authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited in the bank where the original bonds are payable, in which case the refunding bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient to pay the interest on the original bonds to their option date or maturity date, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall register them without concurrent surrender and cancellation of the original bonds. No election shall be necessary for the refunding of any bonds provided for in this Act. Refunding bonds may be issued for the purpose of refunding the bonds of a single series or issue or two or more consecutive issues or series of bonds, and such refunding bonds shall enjoy the same priority of lien on the revenues pledged to their payment as pledged to the bonds refunded, provided that when two or more consecutive series or issues of bonds are refunded in a single issue of refunding bonds, the lien on all such refunding bonds shall be equal if all of the outstanding bonds of the several series or issues of bonds to be refunded are surrendered in exchange for such new refunding bonds. No refunding bonds shall attain any degree of priority of lien greater than that enjoyed by the series or issue then to be refunded having the highest priority of lien. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than borne by the bonds refunded, unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid and that the annual principal and interest burden will not be increased so as to infringe upon or impair the rights of the holders of any bonds enjoying a prior or inferior lien.

Series Bonds; Pledge of Revenues; Rates for Charges; Payment of Interest and Expenses; Default in Payment of Principal or Interest

Sec. 2. (a) Bonds and refunding bonds provided for in this Act may be issued in more than one series and from time to time.

(b) To secure payment of principal and interest of the revenue bonds authorized by this Act, such city may pledge the gross or net revenues of: (1) any or all of the installations, improvements, projects, or properties which are built, purchased, constructed, enlarged, extended, repaired, improved, replaced, developed, or financed by the proceeds of bonds authorized by this Act, and (2) any or all of the existing facilities, installations, improvements, projects, or properties of such city existing prior to the issuance of such bonds under the provisions of this Act which may be pledged, and (3) any or all contracts theretofore or thereafter made by such city which may be pledged, and (4) any or all other revenues specified by the ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds authorized by this Act which may be pledged. The ordinance or resolution authorizing the bonds and pledging revenues may reserve the right, under conditions therein specified, to issue additional bonds which will be on a parity with or subordinate to the bonds then being issued. The term "gross revenues," as used in this Section of the Act, shall mean the entire revenues of the installations, improvements, projects, or properties pledged. The term "net revenues," as used in this Section of the Act, shall mean the gross revenues of the installations, improvements, projects, properties, or facilities pledged by the ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds after deducting the amount necessary to pay the cost of maintaining and operating such installations, improvements, projects, properties, or facilities. Any revenues from contracts which are pledged shall be the entire amount due such city under such contract unless specified in the ordinance or resolution authorizing the bonds. Such city shall have the right, power and authority to transfer to the general fund of such city and use for general or special purposes, revenues pledged of the said installations, improvements, projects, properties, or facilities, by the ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds but only in the amount and to the extent as may be authorized and permitted in the ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(c) When bonds payable from revenues are issued under this Act, it shall be the duty of the governing body of such city to fix, and from time to time to revise, the rates of compensation for charges, rates, rentals, tolls, leases, and services rendered by such city in connection with such installations, improvements, projects, properties, or facilities, of which the revenues are pledged which will be sufficient to pay the expense of operating and maintaining such installations, improvements, projects, properties, or facilities, and to pay the bonds as they mature and the interest as it accrues and to maintain the reserve and other funds as provided in the ordinance or resolution authorizing the bonds unless otherwise specifically provided for in the ordinance or resolution authorizing the bonds. When bonds payable from revenues are issued under this Act, the face of the bonds shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation." Such bonds authorized under this Act shall never be a debt of such city but solely a charge upon the property and facilities and contracts as authorized by the ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(d) From the proceeds from the sale of the bonds payable from revenues, such city may set aside an amount for the payment of interest expected to accrue during construction and a reserve interest and sinking fund, and such provision may be made in the ordinance or resolution authorizing the bonds.

(e) Proceeds from the sale of any bonds provided for in this Act may also be used for the payment of all expenses necessarily incurred in accomplishing the purposes for which the bonds are issued and in the issuance of the bonds, including but not limited to engineering fees, architectural fees, legal fees, fiscal agent fees, and the cost of printing, issuing and delivering the bonds.

(f) In the event of a default or a threatened default in the payment of principal or interest on bonds payable from revenues, any court of competent jurisdiction may, upon petition of the holders of twenty-five percent (25%) of the outstanding bonds of the issue thus in default or threatened with default, appoint a receiver with authority to collect and receive all income of the installations, improvements, projects, properties, facilities, or contracts of which the revenues were pledged, employ and discharge agents and employees, take charge of funds on hand, and manage the proprietary affairs of such installations, improvements, projects, properties, facilities, or contracts of which the revenues were pledged without consent or hindrance by the governing body of the city. Such receiver may also be authorized to rent or lease the installations, improvements, projects, properties, or facilities of which the revenues were pledged, renew such contracts with the approval of the court appointing him. The court may vest the receiver with such other powers and duties as the court may find necessary for the protection of the holders of the bonds.

Election Authorizing Bond Issue; Notice

Sec. 3. No bonds authorized by this Act, except refunding bonds, shall be issued unless authorized by an election at which only the qualified voters who reside in such city and who own taxable property therein and who have duly rendered the same for taxation and unless a majority of the votes cast is in favor of the issuance of the bonds. Such election shall be held and notice thereof given as is provided in the case of the issuance of municipal bonds by such city.

Examination of Bonds and Record by Attorney General; Approval; Registration; Incontestability

Sec. 4. After any bonds, including refunding bonds, are authorized under the provisions of this Act, such bonds and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for his examination as to validity thereof. If such bonds have been authorized in accordance with the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas, and subject to the limitation of Section 6(b) of this Act, he shall approve the bonds or refunding bonds and the bonds or refunding bonds then shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts. Thereafter, the bonds or refunding bonds shall be legal, valid and binding and shall be incontestable for any cause.

Legal and Authorized Investments

Sec. 5. All such bonds and refunding bonds of such city shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their value, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Authority of Cities to Issue Bonds Payable from Taxes; Applicability of Act; Location of Installations

Sec. 6. (a) No such city nor any other city in the State of Texas shall have any right, power or authority to issue any bonds payable from taxes under the provisions of this Act.

(b) The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city of the State of Texas having a population of twelve thousand (12,000) or more according to the last preceding United States census, and the Attorney General of Texas shall have no authority or duty to approve any bonds under the provisions of this Act for cities having a population of twelve thousand (12,000) or more according to the last preceding United States census.

(c) The installations, improvements, projects, properties, or facilities which are authorized by this Act to be built, acquired, purchased, constructed, enlarged, extended, repaired, maintained, improved, replaced, developed, or financed under the provisions of this Act shall be within the corporate limits of such city.

Exemption from Taxation of Installations and Bonds

Sec. 7. The accomplishment of the purposes stated in this Act being for the benefit of the people of such city and of this state and for the improvement of their properties and industries, such city in carrying out the purposes of this Act will be performing an essential public function under the Constitution and shall not be required to pay any tax or assessment on such installations, improvements, projects, properties, or facilities, or any part thereof, and the bonds or refunding bonds issued hereunder and their transfer and the income therefrom, including the profits made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation within this state.

Cumulative Effect of Act

Sec. 8. This law is cumulative of all existing laws of the State of Texas that are applicable but to the extent that the provisions of any such laws may be in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall prevail.

Severability

Sec. 9. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act, and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

[Acts 1934, 43rd Leg., 4th C.S., p. 73, ch. 30. Amended by Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 134, ch. 80, § 1.]

Art. 1187f. Harbor and Port Facilities; Cities and Towns Over 5,000 on Gulf or Connecting Waters; Bonds

Application of Act; Authority of City

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to every incorporated city or town (including Home Rule Cities) located on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, or any channel, canal, bay or inlet connected therewith, having a population of more than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants according to the Federal Census last preceding the taking of any action by such city under the provisions of this Act. Every such city or town owning and operating port facilities (referred to hereinafter as "city") is hereby empowered and authorized to build, construct, purchase, acquire, lease as lessee, improve, enlarge, extend, repair, maintain, replace, develop, operate, lease, or cause to be built, constructed, purchased, acquired, leased, improved, enlarged, extended, repaired, maintained, replaced, developed, or operated, any and all improvements and facilities necessary or convenient for the proper operation of the ports or harbors of such city. These powers are public and governmental functions, exercised for a public purpose, and matters of public necessity. Without in any way limiting the generalization of the foregoing, it is expressly provided that such improvements and facilities mentioned above shall include lands, interests in lands, properties, wharves, piers, docks, roadways, belt railways, warehouses, grain elevators, transport facilities handling facilities, storage facilities, ship repair facilities, dumping facilities, bunkering facilities, floating plants and facilities, lightering facilities, towing facilities, any other facilities which a navigation district is or may be authorized to provide by general law or specific act, any and all equipment and supplies, and all other structures, buildings, and facilities necessary or convenient for the proper operation of the ports or harbors of such city. The improvements and facilities mentioned in this Section 1 are hereinafter referred to as the "improvements and facilities." The improvements and facilities may be constructed on land acquired by purchase, lease, or otherwise and such land, or interest therein, or such improvements and facilities may be conveyed by lease, sublease or sale by installment or otherwise upon the terms and conditions as may be determined to be advantageous.

Bonds or Other Obligations Payable From Taxes or Revenues; Election

Sec. 2. For the purpose of providing funds for any of the improvements and facilities provided in Section 1 hereof, the governing body of the city shall have the power and authority to issue from time to time bonds or other obligations payable from taxes or revenues or both; provided, however, that no bonds or other obligations payable from ad valorem taxes, except for refunding, shall be issued unless and until they have been authorized at an election at which a majority of the persons qualified to vote and voting at said election have voted in favor thereof, said election to be called and held under the provisions of and in accordance with Chapter 1 of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as the same is now or may hereafter be amended.¹ Notwithstanding the provisions or restrictions of any general or special law or charter to the contrary, no election shall be required to authorize the issuance under this Act of bonds or other obligations payable solely from revenues if such bonds or other obligations do not constitute a debt of the city or a pledge of its faith and credit and if the owner or holder of any such bond or other obligation shall never have the right to demand payment out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation.

Outstanding Bonds or Obligations; Management and Control of Improvements and Facilities; Board of Trustees

Sec. 3. (a) While any revenue bonds or other obligations issued under the provisions of this Act or any interest thereon remain outstanding and unpaid, the management and control of such improvements and facilities (and the physical properties comprising the same) and of the income and revenue from them, including the authority to fix charges, prepare budgets, and authorize expenditures, by the terms of the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds or other obligations may be placed in the hands of the governing body of the city or may be placed in the hands of a board of trustees to be named in such ordinance, consisting of not more than seven (7) members, one (1) of whom shall be a member of the governing body of such city; provided, if the city is operating under a Home Rule Charter and said Charter contains provisions requiring that the improvements and facilities be managed or controlled by a board of trustees, then the provisions of such Charter shall be followed. The compensation of the members of the board of trustees, the terms of office of such members, their powers and duties, the manner of exercising the same, the election or appointment of their successors, and all matters pertaining to their organization and duties shall be specified in said ordinance; provided, if the city is operating under a Home Rule Charter as mentioned above and the Charter contains provisions relating to any of the foregoing matters mentioned in this sentence, it is expressly provided that the provisions of such ordinance relating to such matters shall be in accordance with and governed by the Charter provisions. In all matters where such ordinance or Charter are silent, the laws and rules governing the governing body of the city shall govern said board of trustees so far as applicable.

(b) If the management and control of the improvements and facilities is placed in the hands of a board of trustees by ordinance or Charter under Subsection (a) of this section, the board of trustees constitutes a body politic and corporate for the purpose of issuing bonds or other obligations and shall have and exercise, in addition to the powers enumerated in the ordinance or Charter, the following powers and authority:

(1) to exercise full management, control, maintenance, and operation of the improvements and facilities constituting the ports and harbors of the city;

(2) to employ a general manager and other officers, employees, and representatives as the board may consider appropriate and to fix their duties and compensation;

(3) to prepare and adopt budgets, fix charges for services and facilities, authorize expenditures, and manage and control the income and revenue of the city's ports and harbors;

(4) to determine policies and establish rules and procedures for the operation of the ports and harbors of the city;

(5) to acquire property and interest in property for the purposes set forth in Section 1 of this Act in the manner provided by this Act and to construct improvements and facilities on the property;

(6) to contract in its own name, but not in the name of the city. Except as otherwise provided by this Act, all such contracts involving the expenditure of more than $5,000 shall be awarded only pursuant to competitive bids. However, competitive bids are not required for contracts for personal or professional services, real estate transactions, operation of port facilities or improvements under specific agreements for a limited term, or insurance, or if the board of trustees determines that the time delay posed by the competitive bidding process would prevent or substantially impair the conduct of port operations;

(7) to issue in the name of the board, with the consent of the governing body of the city, revenue bonds or other obligations payable from revenues in the manner set out in this Act for the purpose of providing funds for any of the improvements and facilities provided by Section 1 of this Act or to refund any previously issued bonds or other obligations;

(8) to issue in the name of the board, with the consent of the governing body of the city, current expense warrants drawn against all or any part of the current revenues of the board to pay current expenses during the current fiscal year of the board or any part of the current fiscal year. However, in no event shall the aggregate amount of the warrants that are outstanding at any time during any fiscal year exceed 50 percent of the revenues budgeted for that fiscal year after subtracting from the budgeted revenues all principal and interest on bonds or obligations other than current expense warrants to be paid from the revenues during the fiscal year;

(9) to evidence contractual obligations to pay money by issuing in the name of the board, with the consent of the governing body of the city, certificates of participation in the contractual obligations;

(10) to sue and be sued in its own name;

(11) to adopt, use, and alter a corporate seal; and

(12) to establish a port security force and to commission one or more employees of the force as peace officers if they are certified as qualified to be peace officers by the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education, which peace officers commissioned under this Act are vested with all the rights, privileges, obligations, and duties of any other peace officer in this state while they are on the property under the control of the board of trustees, or in the actual course and scope of their employment.

Payment; Security; Collection of Fees and Charges; Sale of Bonds, Improvements and Facilities

Sec. 4. (a) Revenue bonds and other obligations issued under this Act and payable from revenues may be paid from and secured solely by a pledge of the net revenues derived or to be derived from the operation of all or any designated part or parts of the improvements and facilities then in existence or to be improved, constructed, or otherwise acquired, with the duty of the issuer to charge and collect fees, tolls, and charges, so long as such bonds or other obligations or interest thereon are outstanding and unpaid, sufficient to pay all maintenance and operation expenses of the improvements and facilities (the net revenues of which are pledged), the interest on such bonds or other obligations as it accrues, the principal of such bonds or other obligations as it matures, and to make any and all other payments as may be prescribed in the bond ordinance or resolution and other proceedings authorizing and relating to the issuance of such bonds or other obligations. "Net revenues" as used herein shall mean the gross revenues derived from the operation of those improvements and facilities the net revenues of which are pledged to the payment of the bonds or other obligations less (a) the reasonable expenses of maintaining and operating said improvements and facilities, and said maintenance and operation expenses shall include, among other things, necessary repair, upkeep, and insurance of said improvements and facilities, and (b) if the city is operating under a Home Rule Charter, any annual payment of the city as may be set out in said Charter. Revenue bonds and other obligations payable from revenues issued hereunder may be sold at public or private sale, notwithstanding the provisions or restrictions of any general or special law or Charter to the contrary.

(b) Revenue bonds or other obligations payable from revenues may be issued secured solely by a pledge of all or any part of the revenue from any leases, subleases, sales or contracts of sale entered into by the city or the board with respect to the improvements and facilities to be financed with such bonds or other obligations or may be additionally secured by a trust indenture and by a mortgage or deed of trust lien or security interest upon such improvements and facilities. In connection with the issuance of such revenue bonds or other obligations payable from revenues, the city or the board may lease as lessor, sublease as sublessor or sell to any person, firm, corporation, partnership, political subdivision of the State of Texas, or agency of the United States of America, all or any part of any improvements and facilities to be constructed or acquired with the proceeds of such bonds or other obligations, said lease, sublease, sale or contract of sale to contain such terms and provisions (including in the case of a lease, but not by way of limitation, provisions to sell the improvements and facilities at the termination of said lease and provisions relating to management and operation of the improvements and facilities by the lessee thereof) as the city or the board may determine to be advantageous. The terms of said lease or contract of sale may provide that the lessee or purchaser of the improvements and facilities is contractually unconditionally obligated to make payments for use or purchase of the facilities or improvements in amounts adequate to timely pay principal, interest, and premium on the revenue bonds or other obligations issued to finance the construction or acquisition of said facilities and improvements.

Interest, Sinking and Reserve Funds; Additional Bonds or Obligations; Surplus Revenues

Sec. 5. The ordinance of the governing body or the resolution of the board authorizing the issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from revenues may provide for the flow of funds, the establishment and maintenance of the interest and sinking fund, reserve fund or funds, and any other funds provided for therein, and may provide where such funds shall be deposited, and may make such additional covenants with respect to the bonds or obligations and the pledged revenues and the operation, maintenance, and upkeep of those improvements and facilities (the net revenues of which are pledged), including provision for the leasing of all or any part or parts of said improvements and facilities and the use or pledge of moneys derived from leases thereof, as may be considered appropriate. Said ordinance or resolution and other proceedings may also prohibit the further issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from the pledged revenues, or may reserve the right to issue additional bonds or obligations to be secured by a pledge of and payable from said net revenues on a parity with, or subordinate to, the lien and pledge in support of the bonds or obligations being issued, subject to such conditions as are set forth in said ordinance or resolution or other proceedings. Said ordinance or resolution and other proceedings may provide for an annual payment to the general fund of the city of such an amount as may be specified in said ordinance, resolution, or proceedings or as may be specified in the Home Rule Charter of the city if it is operating under such a Charter, said annual payment to be made from revenues received from the operation of the improvements and facilities the net revenues of which are pledged. Said ordinance or resolution and other proceedings may also provide that surplus net revenues received from the operation of the improvements and facilities (the net revenues of which are pledged) may be used for the payment of interest on and principal of any tax bonds or obligations issued by the city under this Act. Such ordinance or resolution and other proceedings may contain such other provisions and covenants not prohibited by the Constitution of the State of Texas or by this Act (provided, however, that if the city is operating under a Home Rule Charter and said Charter contains provisions relating to the improvements and facilities, such ordinance or resolution and other proceedings shall be in keeping with such Charter provisions if such Charter provisions are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act).

Ordinances and Resolutions Authorizing Obligation; Form of Obligation; Maturity; Interest; Examination and Approval; Registration

Sec. 6. (a) Obligations payable from taxes and issued pursuant to the provisions of this Act shall be authorized by ordinance of the governing body of the city, shall be issued in the name of the city, shall be signed by the mayor (or presiding officer) of the city and countersigned by the city secretary (or city clerk), and shall have the seal of the city impressed thereon; provided, that the ordinance may provide for the obligations to be signed by the facsimile signatures of said officers, either or both, and for the seal of the city on the obligations to be a printed facsimile seal; and provided further that any interest coupons attached to said obligations may also be executed by the facsimile signatures of said officers. Said obligations shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years from their date or dates, and shall be sold at public or private sale at a price and under terms determined by the governing body to be the most advantageous and reasonably obtainable, provided that the obligations shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding the maximum permitted by law, and within the discretion of the governing body such obligations may be callable prior to maturity at such time or times and at such price or prices as may be prescribed in the ordinance authorizing the obligations. Such obligations may be made registrable as to principal, or as to both principal and interest.

(b) Obligations that are payable from revenues and that are issued pursuant to this Act shall be authorized by ordinance of the governing body of the city, issued in the name of the city, and signed, countersigned, and sold and bear interest as provided by Subsection (a) of this section or, if management and control have been placed in the hands of a board of trustees pursuant to this Act, the obligations may be authorized by resolution of the board of trustees. If the obligations are authorized by resolution of the board of trustees, they shall be issued in the name of the board of trustees, shall be signed by the chairman (or presiding officer) of the board of trustees and countersigned by the secretary or assistant secretary, and shall have the seal of the board of trustees impressed on them. The resolution may provide for facsimile signatures and seals on the obligations and on any interest coupons attached to the obligations. The obligations shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years from their date or dates, and shall be sold at public or private sale at a price and under terms determined by the board of trustees to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable. The obligations shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding the maximum permitted by law, and may be made callable prior to maturity at such times and prices as may be prescribed in the resolution. The obligations may be made registrable as to principal, or as to both principal and interest.

(c) All obligations authorized under this Act (other than current expense warrants) and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for his examination as to the validity thereof, and if such obligations have been authorized in accordance with this Act, the said Attorney General shall approve the same. After such approval, such obligations shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. When such obligations have been approved by the Attorney General, registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and delivered to the purchasers, they shall thereafter be incontestable except for forgery or fraud. When any revenue obligations recite that they are secured partially or otherwise by a pledge of the proceeds of a contract or contracts (including lease contracts), a copy of such contract or contracts and of the proceedings authorizing the same shall be submitted to the Attorney General along with the record, and the approval by the Attorney General of the obligations shall constitute an approval of such contract or contracts, and thereafter the contract or contracts shall be incontestable except for forgery or fraud.

Proceeds of Sale

Sec. 7. From the proceeds of sale of any obligations issued under the provisions of this Act, there may be appropriated or set aside out of such proceeds (i) an amount for the payment of interest expected to accrue during the period of construction, (ii) an amount necessary to pay all expenses incurred and to be incurred in the issuance, sale, and delivery of the obligations, and, (iii) such amount or amounts as may be prescribed by the ordinance or resolution authorizing their issuance to be deposited into the reserve fund or funds and into any other funds specified in the ordinance or resolution.

Refunding Obligations

Sec. 8. (a) The governing body of the city shall have the power and authority to issue tax obligations for the purpose of refunding any outstanding tax obligations (original or refunding) issued by the city under the provisions of this Act under the procedures set out in this Act or in any other manner authorized by law.

(b) The governing body of the city or the board of trustees shall have the power and authority to issue obligations payable from revenues for the purpose of refunding any outstanding obligations payable from revenues (original or refunding) issued under the provisions of this Act, or heretofore issued for any of the purposes covered by Section 1 of this Act or payable from the revenues of any of the improvements and facilities covered by said Section 1, under the procedures set out in this Act or in any other manner authorized by law. Revenue refunding obligations may be combined with new or original revenue obligations into one series or issue. Such revenue refunding obligations may be issued to refund obligations of more than one series or issue and combine pledges for the outstanding obligations for the security of the refunding obligations, and may be secured by pledges of other net revenues and additional net revenues; provided, that such refunding will not impair the contract rights of the holders of any of the outstanding revenue obligations which are not to be refunded. Revenue refunding obligations may bear interest at a rate higher than that borne by the obligations refunded; provided, that such interest rate shall not exceed the rate specified in this Act.

(c) Refunding obligations shall be authorized and shall be executed and mature as is provided in this Act for original obligations. They shall be approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas as in the case of original obligations, and shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas upon surrender and cancellation of the obligations to be refunded; but in lieu thereof, the ordinance or resolution authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold at public or private sale and the proceeds thereof deposited in any place or places where any of the underlying obligations are payable, or with the State Treasurer, in which case the refunding obligations may be issued in an amount sufficient, not only to pay the principal of the underlying obligations, but also to pay the interest on the underlying obligations to their option or maturity dates, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall register them without the surrender and cancellation of the underlying obligations. In those situations where the proceeds of revenue refunding obligations are deposited in a place or places where the underlying obligations are payable, or with the State Treasurer, they shall be so deposited under an escrow agreement so that such proceeds and interest earned from the investment of such proceeds as hereinafter provided, will be available for the payment of the interest on and principal of said underlying obligations as such interest and principal respectively become due; and such escrow agreement may provide that such proceeds may, until such time as the same are needed to pay interest and principal as the same become due, be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America, in which instances the interest earned on such investments may be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the underlying obligations, the refunding obligations or shall be considered as revenues of the improvements and facilities.

(d) When any refunding obligations have been approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, they shall thereafter be incontestable except for forgery or fraud.

(e) All the provisions of this Act relating to original obligations, insofar as the same may be made applicable, shall also apply to refunding obligations issued hereunder.

Applicability of Statutes; Mortgage of Properties

Sec. 9. Insofar as the same may be applicable, the provisions of Article 1111 to 1118, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, together with all amendments thereof and additions thereto, shall apply to revenue obligations issued under the provisions of this Act, and any city covered by this Act shall have, with respect to revenue obligations issued hereunder, all the powers granted by said Statutes. However, where the provisions of said Statutes are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall govern and prevail. Further, it is expressly provided that the city shall have no power or authority to mortgage or encumber the physical properties of the improvements and facilities being financed in whole or in part by obligations payable from ad valorem taxes, unless authorized at the election required by Section 2 of this Act.

Legal and Authorized Investments

Sec. 10. All obligations issued under the provisions of this Act shall be, and are hereby declared to be, investment securities under Chapter 8 of the Business & Commerce Code and shall be, and are hereby declared to be, legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such obligations shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such obligations shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Issuance; Approval

Sec. 11. Notwithstanding any provision of this Act to the contrary, a board of trustees created under this Act shall have no power to issue bonds or other obligations or to sell any real property unless the governing body of the city approves such issue or such sale by ordinance.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 11A. This Act is cumulative of all existing laws of the State of Texas that are applicable, but when any action is taken under the provisions of this Act, to the extent that such existing laws may be in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall govern and prevail.

Validation of Bonds and Proceedings

Sec. 12. Any revenue bonds heretofore issued by a city which are payable from the revenues of any of the improvements and facilities covered by Section 1 hereof, and all the proceedings relating to such bonds, are hereby in all things validated. It is provided, however, that the validation provisions of this Section 12 shall have no application to litigation pending upon the effective date hereof questioning the validity of the matters hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of the same.

Sections 5 and 6 of the 1979 amendatory act provided:

"Sec. 5. The provisions of Sections 60.038, 61.116, and 61.117 of the Water Code, relating to the disposition of lands or flats heretofore purchased from the State of Texas under Article 8225, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, or granted by the State of Texas in any general or special act, shall continue to be applicable to the disposition of such lands or flats by any city acting under the authority of Chapter 341, Acts of the 57th Legislature, Regular Session, 1961, as amended (Article 1187f, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

"Sec. 6. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein."

Art. 1187g. City of Port Arthur; Lake Sabine; Regulations

Sec. 1. The governing body of the City of Port Arthur, with respect to the waters of Lake Sabine within the corporate limits of the city, may designate or otherwise regulate by ordinance certain areas of said lake as bathing, fishing, swimming, recreational, or otherwise restricted areas and may make rules and regulations relating to same.

Sec. 2. Notwithstanding any law or regulation of any state agency permitting the taking of crabs or other sea or water life by the use of traps, the governing body of the City of Port Arthur, with respect to the waters of Lake Sabine within the corporate limits of the city, may designate or otherwise regulate by ordinance the location and placement of traps within said lake.

Sec. 3. Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2725, ch. 741, § 2(1), eff. Jan. 1, 1982.

Sec. 4. The governing body of the City of Port Arthur may, by ordinance, regulate, notwithstanding any other state law or regulation, the speed of boats within and upon Lake Sabine within corporate limits of the city.

Sec. 5. In the event any one or more of the sections or provisions of this Act, or the application of such sections or provisions to any situation, circumstances, or persons, shall for any reason be held to be unconstitutional, such unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections or provisions of this Act, or the application of such sections or provisions to any situation, circumstances, or persons, and it is intended that this Act shall be construed as if such sections or provisions had not been included herein for any constitutional application.

Art. 1187-1. Designation of Annexed Territory as an Industrial District

The governing body of any incorporated city which has heretofore annexed or which shall hereafter annex territory under authority of and for the limited purposes described in Articles 1183 through 1187 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, shall have the right, power, and authority to designate all or any part of such area so annexed and remaining in such limited purpose annexation status as an industrial district, as the term is customarily used, and to treat with such area from time to time as such governing body may deem to be in the best interest of the city. Included in such rights and powers of the governing body of any such city is the permissive right and power to enter into contracts or agreements with the owner or owners of land in such industrial district to guarantee the continuation of the limited purpose annexation status of such district, and its immunity from general purpose annexation by the city for a period of time not to exceed ten years, and upon such other terms and conditions as the parties might deem appropriate. Such contract or agreement shall be evidenced in writing and may be renewed or extended for successive periods not to exceed ten years each by such governing body and the owner or owners of land in such industrial district.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN. CONSOLIDATION OF CITIES

- Art.
1188. Authority.
1188-(a). Consolidation of Cities, Towns or Villages Under 5000 With Cities Over 5000.
1189. Petition; Elections; Contests; Time Limitations.
1190. Election.
1191. "Consolidation."
1191a. Qualified Electors.
1192. Registration.
1193. Merger.
1193a. Validating Extension of Corporate Limits of Certain Cities and Towns.
1193b. Validating Extension of Limits of Certain Cities.

Art. 1188. Authority

When two (2) or more incorporated towns or cities in this State adjoining and contiguous to each other in the same county shall be desirous of being consolidated, it shall be lawful for them to do so by calling and holding an election for such purpose so as to consolidate under one government and take the name of the largest city, unless provided otherwise at the time of such consolidation, in the manner and subject to the provisions of Chapter 15, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925.

Art. 1188-(a). Consolidation of Cities, Towns or Villages Under 5000 With Cities Over 5000.

Upon complying with the provisions hereinafter prescribed in this Chapter, any city, town or village of less than five thousand (5,000) population according to the last preceding Federal Census may be consolidated under one government with an adjoining and contiguous city having a population of more than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, when both of said municipalities are situated in the same county having a population of more than three hundred thousand (300,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census.

This section is hereby declared retroactive to the following extent: All petitions purporting to be signed by qualified voters and presented to the governing body and all ordinances, resolutions, notices, declarations or other acts by the governing body of any city, town or village coming within the applicable provisions of this section, purporting to be in compliance with the statutory provisions contained in Chapter 15 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925; and any notice, declaration, certificate or other act required to be done or purporting to have been done by any Mayor, Councilman, Commissioner, Alderman, City Secretary or City Clerk in compliance with the statutory requisites of Chapter 15 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, shall have the same legal effect as if there had then existed a law authorizing each act to have been done and authorizing cities, towns and villages of less than five thousand (5,000) population to consolidate. Any election held prior to the enactment of this Act submitting the question of consolidation to the qualified voters of cities or towns authorized to consolidate by this Act, shall in all things be deemed a legal and valid election as if this law had been in existence on the date of such election; provided the requirements of law applicable to consolidation of cities and towns have otherwise been complied with.

Art. 1189. Petition; Elections; Contests; Time Limitations

(a) Whenever as many as one hundred (100) qualified voters of each of said cities shall petition the governing body of their respective cities to order an election for the purpose of voting on the consolidation of such cities into one city, said bodies may order an election to be held at the usual voting places in the city on such proposition. If any such petition be signed, however, by qualified voters equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the total vote cast at the last preceding general election for city officials in any of said cities, next preceding the filing of said petitions, the respective governing bodies receiving such a petition shall order an election to be held on such proposition, except as hereinafter provided.

(b) The election on consolidation shall first be held in the city having the smallest population according to the last preceding Federal Census. When a petition for consolidation has been presented to the governing body of the city having the smallest population, such governing body may, on a petition signed by one hundred (100) qualified voters, order an election for such purpose within forty-five (45) days after the receipt thereof. Upon the presentation of a petition in the city having the smallest population signed by qualified voters equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the total vote cast at the last preceding general election for the city officials in such city next preceding the filing thereof, the governing body of the city shall order an election within forty-five (45) days after the filing of the petition. Any such election shall be held within not less than thirty (30) nor more than ninety (90) days from the date of the election order.

(c) When the proposition has received a majority vote in favor of consolidation at an election in any city, the larger city or cities where no election has been held, in inverse order of rank in population according to the last preceding Federal Census, may or shall, depending on the number of qualified signatures on the petition presented in each such city, order an election on the same proposition within forty-five (45) days after the election returns have been canvassed in the next smaller city in which a majority have voted in favor of consolidation. Any such election shall be held within not less than thirty (30) nor more than ninety (90) days from the date of the election order. If the proposition for consolidation fails to receive a majority of the votes in an election held for that purpose in any city, the larger city or cities which have not held an election shall not order an election for consolidation.

(d) If an election contest is timely filed in any such election, the governing body of each larger city which has not held its consolidation election may defer holding the election until the election contest is finally terminated. If no election contest is timely filed in any such election, the governing body of the next larger city may, when acting on a petition filed by one hundred qualified voters, and shall, when acting on a petition filed by voters equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the total vote cast at the last preceding general election for city officials, order an election for such purpose.

(e) If the proposition for consolidation fails to receive a majority of votes in favor thereof in an election in any of such cities, no consolidation election involving the same identical cities on the consolidation proposition which is defeated shall be held within two (2) years from the date of the defeat of such proposition in a consolidation election in any such city.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 68, ch. 35, § 1, eff. March 22, 1971.]

Art. 1190. Election

The governing body of each of said cities shall appoint from among the qualified voters of their respective cities, judges and clerks of said elections, and such elections shall be conducted under the ordinances of said cities, and in conformity with the general laws of this State. All persons voting at such election in favor of consolidation shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "For Consolidation," and all persons voting at such election not in favor of consolidation shall have written or printed on their ballots the words, "Against Consolidation."

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1191. "Consolidation"

The term "consolidation," as used in this Chapter, means the adoption by the smaller city or cities of the charter and ordinances and name of the larger of said cities, and the inclusion within the larger city of all of the territory of the smaller city or cities so consolidated with it, and the area of the smaller city or cities shall become subject to all the laws and regulations of the larger city.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1957, 55th Leg., p. 380, ch. 183, § 2.]

Art. 1191a. Qualified Electors

All those Electors qualified to vote for city officers shall be eligible to vote in the elections herein provided.

[Acts 1957, 55th Leg., p. 380, ch. 183, § 3.]

Art. 1192. Registration

If a majority of the qualified voters at said election in each of said cities shall vote in favor of consolidation, the mayor or chief executive officer exercising like or similar powers of each of said cities as soon as practicable after the returns of said election have been made, shall certify to the Secretary of State an authenticated copy under the seal of the said cities showing the approval of the qualified voters of the consolidation of the two cities. The Secretary of State shall thereupon file and record the same in a separate book to be kept in his office for such purpose. The returns of such election shall be recorded at length in the record books of the respective cities, and the consolidation of such cities shall be held thereupon to be consummated.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1193. Merger

After the consummation of such consolidation, all record books, public property, money on hand, credits, accounts and all other assets of the smaller of the annexed cities shall be turned over to the officers of the larger city, who shall be retained in office as the officials of the consolidated city during the remainder of their respective terms, and by such consolidation the offices existing in the smaller municipality shall be abolished and declared vacant, and the persons holding such offices shall not be entitled after the consummation of such consolidation, to further remuneration or compensation. All outstanding liabilities of the two cities so consolidated shall be assumed by the consolidated city. Whenever at the time of any such consolidation the respective cities shall have on hand any bond funds voted for public improvements not already appropriated or contracted for, such money shall be kept in a separate fund and devoted to public improvements in the territory for which such bonds were voted, and shall not be diverted to any other purpose.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1193a. Validating Extension of Corporate Limits of Certain Cities and Towns

Sec. 1. That this Act shall affect all cities in the State of Texas having a population of not less than 11,000 and not more than 11,500, according to the 1920 United States Census, and which are located in counties situated on a boundary of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. In every instance wherein a city coming under the provisions of this Act has attempted to extend its corporate limits by including all of the territory of an adjoining city of less than 5,000 population, and has attempted to accomplish such extension of boundaries under Statutes providing for the consolidation of cities of more than 5,000 population, and/or in every instance wherein said extension of territory was attempted under Charter provisions which provide for the annexation of adjoining territory without reference to the fact that the adjoining territory is included in an incorporated city, all actions, resolutions, elections and ordinances taken, held, made or passed in reference thereto or pursuant thereto, are hereby confirmed, ratified and validated irrespective of any irregularities, and in like manner as if said consolidation or annexation had been authorized in the first instance.

Art. 1193b. Validating Extension of Limits of Certain Cities

That all ordinances and proceedings, and all actions and proceedings and contracts, taken or made in pursuance thereof, of any city having a population of more than twenty-five hundred (2500) inhabitants as shown by the last preceding Federal Census, which have been heretofore passed since the passage of Chapter 110 of the 41st Legislature of the State of Texas of 1929,¹ providing for the extension of corporate limits of such city, are hereby ratified and confirmed, such extensions and actions, proceedings and contracts, taken or made in pursuance thereof, shall be deemed and held valid in all respects to the same extent as if done under legislative authority, previously given.

The name of the "Corporation Court" was changed to the "Municipal Court" by Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 1689, ch. 547. See art. 1194A.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Art. 1194. Creation of Court

There is hereby created and established in each of the incorporated cities, towns, and villages of this State, a court to be known as the "Corporation Court."

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1194A. Change of Name

The name "Corporation Court" is changed to the "Municipal Court." All other statutory references to the Corporation Court shall be construed to mean the Municipal Court.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 1689, ch. 547, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

Art. 1195. Jurisdiction

A municipal court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction within the territorial limits of the city, town or village, in all criminal cases arising under the ordinances of the city, town or village in which punishment is by fine only and where the maximum of such fine does not exceed $1,000 in all cases arising under the ordinances of such city, town or village that govern fire safety, zoning and public health and sanitation other than vegetation and litter violations and where the maximum of such fine does not exceed $200 in all other cases arising under the ordinances of such city, town or village, and shall also have concurrent jurisdiction with any justice of the peace in any precinct in which the city, town or village is situated in all criminal cases arising under the criminal laws of this State, in which punishment is by fine only, and where the maximum of such fine may not exceed $200, and arising within such territorial limits.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 3839, ch. 601, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 1196. Judge of the Municipal Court

Such court shall be presided over by a judge to be known as the "judge of the municipal court" and such alternate judges who, in cities, towns or villages incorporated under special charter shall be selected under the provisions of the charter concerning the election or the appointment of the judges to preside over the municipal court. All such provisions are hereby made applicable to the judges of the municipal court herein provided for. All other statutory references to the "recorder" shall be construed to mean the "judges of the municipal court."

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2423, ch. 771, § 1, eff. Aug. 30, 1971; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1135, ch. 426, § 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 1196(a). Home Rule Cities; Judge of Municipal Court

The Municipal Court in any city heretofore or hereafter incorporated, which city has adopted or amended its Charter, or which may hereafter adopt or amend the same, under Article 11, Section 5, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, commonly known and referred to as the "Home Rule Amendment", shall be presided over by a judge to be known as the "Judge of the Municipal Court", or other title as such official may be called in the charter of any such city, and who shall be selected under the provisions of the City Charter or ordinance concerning the election or appointment of the judge to preside over the Municipal Court.

All judges now holding office and presiding over any such Municipal Court in any such city and heretofore appointed or elected in accordance with the provisions of the Charter or ordinance of such city are hereby declared to be the duly constituted, appointed or elected judge of such Court and shall hold office until his successor shall have been duly selected in accordance with the provisions hereof and shall have qualified according to law.

[Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 323, ch. 156, § 1. Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1993, ch. 796, § 1, eff. June 16, 1977.]

Sections 3 and 4 of the 1977 Act provided as follows:

"Sec. 3. If any section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word of this Act is for any reason held to be invalid or unconstitutional in its application to particular persons or circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

"Sec. 4. This Act shall be cumulative as to all laws, charter provisions, and ordinances relating to the municipal court in home-rule cities in this state."

Art. 1197. Judge in Other Cities

In cities, towns and villages, not incorporated under special charter, the mayor shall be ex-officio recorder of the "corporation court," unless the governing body shall by ordinance authorize the election of a recorder, in which case a recorder shall be elected in the same manner and for the same time as the mayor is elected.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1197a. Recorder

The governing body of any city, town or village not incorporated under special charter nor incorporated under or adopting or amending its charter under Article 11, Section 5, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, commonly known and referred to as the "Home Rule Amendment," may by ordinance provide for the appointment and qualifications of the recorder of the Corporation Court in any such city, town or village.

In any such city, town or village so providing by ordinance for the appointment of the recorder of such Corporation Court and which has not theretofore provided for the election of such recorder in the manner authorized by Article 1197, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, the mayor of such city, town or village shall cease to be the ex-officio recorder of such Court upon the enactment of such ordinance and the recorder first appointed shall hold his term of office corresponding to the unexpired term of said mayor, and every two (2) years thereafter a recorder shall be appointed for a term of two (2) years.

In any such city, town or village so providing for the appointment of the recorder of such Corporation Court and which has theretofore provided for the election of such recorder, the recorder first appointed shall be appointed at the expiration of the term of office of the then recorder so elected and shall hold his term of office for two (2) years, and every two (2) years thereafter a recorder shall be appointed for a term of two (2) years.

All recorders of such Corporation Courts in such cities, towns and villages shall hold their terms of office for the term appointed and until their successors have been appointed and qualified.
