Art. 1198. Term of Office

Wherever in any such city, town or village, the office of the presiding magistrate of the municipal court therein shall not have expired when the recorder is elected, the recorder first elected shall hold his term of office corresponding to the unexpired term of said magistrate; and every two years thereafter such recorder shall be elected for a term of two years.

Art. 1199. Vacancy

A vacancy in the office of recorder or clerk of the court in any city, town or village, shall be filled by the governing body for the unexpired term only.

Art. 1199a. Temporary Replacement

While a municipal judge is temporarily unable to act for any reason, the governing body of the city, town, or village incorporated and operating under the general laws of this state may appoint an additional person or persons meeting the qualifications for such position to sit for the regular municipal judge. The appointee shall have all the powers and duties of the office and shall receive the compensation set by the governing body of the city, town, or village.

Art. 1200. Clerk

A clerk for said corporation court shall be elected by the governing body of each such city, town or village, at the same time at which the recorder is elected; but it may be provided by ordinance that the city secretary shall be ex-officio clerk of the said court, who may be authorized to appoint a deputy with the same power as the secretary. Such clerk shall hold his office for two years. In case of ex-officio clerk, he shall hold his office during his term as city secretary. The clerk shall keep minutes of the proceedings of the said court, issue all process, and generally perform all the duties of the clerk of a court as prescribed by law for a county clerk in so far as the same may be applicable.

Art. 1200a. Two Courts Authorized in Cities Having Over 250,000 Population

Establishment; Judges

Sec. 1. All incorporated cities of this State having a population in excess of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) according to the latest preceding United States census, may, by an ordinance legally adopted, provide for the establishment of two (2) Corporation Courts. The Mayor of any such city shall have the power to appoint two (2) or more Judges for such Corporation Courts and designate the seniority of the Judges, with the confirmation of the governing body of the city, so that either or both Courts may be in concurrent or continuous session, either day or night.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. Each of such Corporation Courts, when established, shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction within the corporate limits of the city establishing them, and such jurisdiction shall be the same as is now or hereafter may be conferred upon all Corporation Courts by the General Laws of this State.

Ordinance; Provisions Authorized

Sec. 3. The governing body of the city establishing such Courts may provide by ordinance:

(1) Prescribe the qualifications of the persons to be eligible to appointment as Recorder of said Court or Courts.

(2) That such Courts and the Recorders thereof may transfer cases from one Court to another, and that any Recorder of any of such Courts may exchange benches and preside over any of such Courts.

(3) That there shall be a Corporation Court Clerk who shall be Clerk for all of such Corporation Courts, together with such number of deputies as may be needed.

(4) That complaints shall be filed with such Corporation Court Clerk in such manner as to provide for an equal distribution of cases among such Courts.

Procedure

Sec. 4. Except as modified by the terms of this Act, the procedure before such Courts and appeals therefrom shall be governed by the General Law applicable to all Corporation Courts.

Conflicting Laws Repealed

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict only, and this Act shall supersede any provisions of any special charters of cities which are contrary to the terms hereof.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 6. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this Act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, the validity of the remaining portions shall not be affected thereby, it being the intent of the Legislature in adopting this Act that no portion shall become inoperative by reason of the invalidity of any other portion.

Each of such corporation Courts, when established, shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction within the corporate limits of the city establishing them, and such jurisdiction shall be the same as is now or hereafter may be conferred upon all corporation Courts by the General Laws of this State.

Ordinance; Provisions Authorized

Sec. 3. The governing body of the city establishing such Courts may provide by ordinance:

(1) Prescribe the qualifications of the persons to be eligible to appointment as Recorder of said Court or Courts, one of which shall be designated the City Judge.

(2) Such Courts and the Recorder thereof may transfer cases from one Court to another, and that any recorder of any such Court may exchange benches and preside over any of such Courts.

(3) There shall be a corporation Court Clerk who shall be Clerk for all of such corporation Courts together with such number of deputies as may be needed.

Procedure

Sec. 4. Except as modified by the terms of this Act, the procedure before such Courts and appeals therefrom shall be governed by the General Law applicable to all corporation Courts.

Conflicting Laws Repealed

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict only and this Act shall supersede any charter provision of such cities which are contrary to the terms hereof.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 6. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, the validity of the remaining portions shall not be affected thereby, it being the intent of the Legislature in adopting this Act that no portion shall become inoperative by reason of the invalidity of any other portion.

Art. 1200c. Cities of 350,000 Population in Counties Having 500,000 But Less Than 650,000 Population

Establishment; Number; Judges

Sec. 1. All incorporated cities of this State having a population in excess of three hundred fifty thousand (350,000) and being in a county having a population in excess of five hundred thousand (500,000) but less than six hundred fifty thousand (650,000), according to the last preceding United States Census may, by an ordinance legally adopted, provide for the establishment of two (2) or more corporation courts, not to exceed one (1) court for each eighty thousand (80,000) population according to the last preceding census. The Mayor of any such city shall have the power to appoint two (2) or more judges for each such court and designate the seniority of the judges, with the confirmation of the governing body of the city, so that any of such courts may be in concurrent or continuous session either day or night.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. Each of such corporation Courts, when established, shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction within the corporate limits of the city establishing them, and such jurisdiction shall be the same as is now or hereafter may be conferred upon all corporation Courts by the General Laws of this State.

Art. 1200d. Cities Over 130,000 and Not More Than 285,000Establishment; Judges

Sec. 1. All incorporated cities of this State having a population over one hundred and thirty thousand (130,000) and not over two hundred and eighty-five thousand (285,000), according to the last preceding United States census, may, by ordinance legally adopted, provide for the establishment of one (1) or more Corporation Courts, not exceeding four (4). The judges of such courts shall have the same qualifications, and be selected in the same manner, as may be provided for the judge of the existing Corporation Court in the charter of such city, or as may be provided in any future charter or charter amendment. If the present charter of such city requires the election of the judge by vote of the people, the governing body may designate a person as judge of each newly created court until the next regular city election. Such courts may be in concurrent or continuous session, either day or night.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. Each of such Corporation Courts, when established, shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction within the corporate limits of the city establishing them, and such jurisdiction shall be the same as is now or hereafter may be conferred upon all Corporation Courts by the General Laws of this State.

(1) Prescribe the qualifications of the persons to be eligible to appointment as judge of said Court or Courts.

(2) That such Courts and the judges thereof may transfer cases from one (1) Court to another, and that any judge of any of such Courts may exchange benches and preside over any of such Courts.

(3) That there shall be a Corporation Court Clerk who shall be Clerk for all of such Corporation Courts, together with such number of deputies as may be needed.

(4) That complaints shall be filed with such Corporation Court Clerk in such manner as to provide for an equal distribution of cases among such Courts.

Procedure

Sec. 4. Except as modified by the terms of this Act, the procedure before such Courts and appeals therefrom shall be governed by the General Law applicable to all Corporation Courts.

[Acts 1955, 54th Leg., p. 465, ch. 130.]

Art. 1200e. Panels or Divisions of Municipal Court; Temporary or Relief Judges

(a) In lieu of one judge for the municipal court in a home-rule city, as provided in Article 1196(a), Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, the municipal court in any such city may by charter or ordinance be divided into two or more panels or divisions, one of which shall be presided over by a presiding judge, and each additional panel or division shall be presided over by an associate judge who shall be a magistrate with the same powers as those conferred on the presiding judge. Each such panel or division of the municipal court, when established, shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction with the other panels or divisions of such court within the corporate limits of the city establishing them, and such jurisdiction shall be the same as is now or hereafter may be conferred upon all municipal courts by the general laws of this state. Such panels or divisions of the municipal court may be in concurrent and continuous session, either day or night.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by the charter of such city, the governing body of the city establishing panels or divisions for such court may by ordinance:

(1) prescribe the qualifications of the persons to be eligible to appointment as judge or judges of said court or of its panels or divisions;

(2) provide that such court, its panels or divisions, and the judges thereof may transfer cases from one panel or division to another, and that any judge or any of such panels or divisions may exchange benches and preside over any of the panels or divisions of such court;

(3) provide for a municipal court clerk who shall be clerk for all of the panels or divisions of such municipal court, together with such number of deputies as may be needed. The clerk and the deputies under his direction and supervision shall keep minutes of the proceedings of said court and its panels and divisions, if any, administer oaths, issue all process, and generally perform all the duties of the clerk of a court as prescribed by law for a county clerk insofar as the same may be applicable;

(4) provide that complaints shall be filed with such municipal court clerk in such manner as to provide for an equal distribution among the panels or divisions of such court.

(c) Any such city may provide by charter or ordinance for the appointment of one or more temporary or relief judges to sit for the regular judge of the municipal court or for the presiding judge or any of the associate judges of such court, while such judge or judges, any or all, are temporarily unable to act for any reason. Such temporary or relief judge shall possess the same qualifications required of the judge for whom he is sitting. Any temporary or relief judge shall have all the powers and duties of the judge for whom he is sitting while so acting.

(d) Except as modified by the terms of this Act, the procedure before such court and its panels or divisions, if any, and appeals therefrom shall be governed by the general law applicable to all municipal courts.

Sections 3 and 4 of the 1977 Act provided as follows:

"Sec. 3. If any section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word of this Act is for any reason held to be invalid or unconstitutional in its application to particular persons or circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

"Sec. 4. This Act shall be cumulative as to all laws, charter provisions, and ordinances relating to the municipal court in home-rule cities in this state."

Art. 1200f. Continuing Legal Education of Municipal Court Judges

Judges Not Licensed as Attorneys

Sec. 1. Each municipal court judge in the State of Texas who is not a licensed attorney in this state must complete successfully within one year from the date he is first elected or appointed a 24-hour course in the performance of his duties. The judge must complete a minimum of 12 hours each calendar year following the calendar year in which the initial course was taken. The course may be completed in an accredited state-supported school of higher education or in a continuing education course, program, seminar, or law school or law enforcement school approved by the Texas Judicial Council.

Judges Licensed as Attorneys

Sec. 2. Each municipal court judge in the State of Texas who is a licensed attorney and in good standing with the State Bar must complete successfully within one year from the date he is first elected or appointed a 12-hour course in the performance of his duties. The judge must complete a 12-hours course each calendar year following the calendar year in which the initial course was taken. The course may be completed in an accredited state-supported school of higher education or in a continuing education course, program, or seminar approved by the Texas Judicial Council.

Administration of Act

Sec. 3. The Texas Judicial Council shall have general supervisory authority over the administration of this Act. The Texas Judicial Council shall accredit courses, programs, and seminars which will satisfy the educational requirements of this Act. The Texas Judicial Council may make and adopt rules and regulations not inconsistent with this Act governing the conduct of business and the performance of its duties.

Written Reports; Waivers or Extensions

Sec. 4. (a) Not later than the 60th day after the date on which an accredited course is completed each municipal court judge successfully completing the course shall make a written report of that fact to the Texas Judicial Council in the manner and form prescribed by the council.

(b) In individual cases, the Texas Judicial Council on proper application may grant waivers or extensions of the minimum educational or reporting requirements.

Judicial Council; Annual Report

Sec. 5. The Texas Judicial Council shall prepare an annual report containing a list of all accredited courses for the previous year, a list of all municipal court judges who attended the courses, and a list of all municipal court judges who did not attend the courses. The council shall submit the report to the chief justice of the supreme court, the attorney general, and the mayor of each municipality in which a judge who did not attend a course presides.

Municipal Court Judges and Personnel Training Fund

Sec. 6. (a) The municipal court judges and personnel training fund is established in the state treasury to be administered by the criminal justice division of the governor's office. The fund shall be used to provide grants to statewide professional associations of municipal court judges and municipal court personnel to provide continuing education courses or seminars for those judges and personnel. A course or seminar for municipal court judges created under this program must conform to Sections 1 and 2 of this Act and must be approved by the Texas Judicial Council.

(b) A person shall pay 50 cents as a court cost, in addition to other court costs, on conviction of any criminal offense in a municipal court. A conviction that arises under Chapter 173, Acts of the 47th Legislature, Regular Session, 1941 (Article 6687b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or under the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) is specifically included, except that a conviction arising under a law that regulates pedestrians or the parking of motor vehicles is excluded.

(c) Court costs due under this section shall be collected in the same manner as other fines or costs are collected in the case.

(d) The officer collecting the costs shall keep separate records of the funds collected as costs under this section, and shall deposit the funds in the municipal treasury.

(e) Each officer collecting court costs under this section shall file the reports required under Articles 944 and 945, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1925 (Articles 1001 and 1002, Part II, Vernon's Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965). If no funds due as costs under this section have been collected in any quarter, the report required for each quarter shall be filed in the regular manner, and the report shall state that no funds due under this section were collected.

(f) The custodian of a municipal treasury shall keep records of the amount of funds on deposit collected under this section, and shall remit to the comptroller of public accounts on or before the last day of the month following each calendar quarter period of three months the funds collected under this section during the preceding quarter. The city may retain as a collection fee 10 percent of the funds collected under this section. Funds collected are subject to audit by the comptroller and funds expended are subject to audit by the state auditor and by the governor's division of planning coordination.

(g) The comptroller shall deposit the funds received under this section in the municipal court judges and personnel training fund.

(h) On requisition of the criminal justice division of the governor's office, the comptroller shall draw a warrant on the fund for the amount specified in the requisition for a grant authorized by Subsection (a) of this section. A warrant may not exceed the amount in the fund at the time the requisition is made. At the end of each state fiscal year, any unexpended balance in the fund shall be paid into the general revenue fund.

Art. 1200g. Proceedings Outside Corporate Limits; Municipalities of 700 or Less

The municipal court of a city, town, or village with a population of 700 or less, according to the most recent federal census, may conduct the proceedings of the court outside of the corporate limits of the municipality if the proceedings are conducted within the corporate limits of a contiguous incorporated municipality.

Art. 1200h. Jurors Must be Residents

Sec. 1. As a qualification for service on a jury of a municipal court, including a municipal court of record, a person must be a resident of the municipality for which the court is established.

Sec. 2. This Act applies only to persons who are summoned as jurors after August 31, 1983.

[Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 1836, ch. 348, §§ 1, 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

PARTICULAR MUNICIPAL COURTS

Art. 1200aa. Wichita Falls

Creation; Formation by Ordinance; Additional Courts

Sec. 1. There is created in the City of Wichita Falls a court of record to be known as the "Municipal Court," to be held in that city if the governing body of the city, by legally adopted ordinance, finds and determines that the conditions of the dockets of the other courts of the county are such as to require the formation of the municipal court in order to properly dispose of the cases arising in the city. The governing body of the city may by ordinance determine that more than one municipal court is required in order to dispose of the cases arising in the city, in which case the governing body of the city may establish as many municipal courts as it deems necessary and the ordinance establishing the municipal courts shall designate the municipal courts as Municipal Court No. 1, Municipal Court No. 2, and as each municipal court is established it shall be designated with the next succeeding number.

Criminal Jurisdiction; Writs; Terms; Exchange of Benches

Sec. 2. (a) Municipal courts in Wichita Falls shall have concurrent jurisdiction in all criminal cases arising under the charter and ordinances of the city and shall also have concurrent jurisdiction in all criminal cases arising under the laws of the State of Texas and arising within the territorial limits of the city, in which punishment is by fine only, and where the maximum of such fine may not exceed $200.

(b) The judge of a municipal court may grant writs of mandamus, injunction, attachment, and all other necessary writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court, and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court.

(c) Municipal courts shall hold no terms and may sit at any time for the transaction of the business of the courts.

(d) Where more than one municipal court is established by the governing body of the city, the judges of the municipal courts may, at any time, exchange benches and may, at any time, sit and act for and with each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in their courts; and any and all acts thus performed by any of the judges shall be valid and binding upon all parties to such cases, matters, and proceedings.

Criminal Jurisdiction; Conformance to This Act

Sec. 3. The jurisdiction of all courts exercising criminal jurisdiction is conformed to the terms and provisions of this Act.

Judges; Qualifications; Appointment; Compensation; Removal; Vacancies; Bond and Oath

Sec. 4. Municipal courts shall be presided over by a judge, who shall be known as the "municipal judge," who shall be a licensed attorney in good standing with two or more years of experience in the practice of law in this state, a citizen of the United States and of this state. He need not be a resident of the city at the time of his appointment, but he shall maintain his residence within the city during his tenure of office. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office, and shall not engage in the private practice of law while in office. He shall be selected and appointed to office by the Board of Aldermen.

(a) Municipal court judges shall receive a salary to be set by the governing body of the city which may not be diminished during his term of office. A municipal judge may not be removed from office during the term for which he was appointed except for cause to the same extent and under the same rules that judges of the county courts may be removed from office.

(b) At the end of the term of office for which a municipal judge is appointed, the governing body of the city may appoint the person serving as municipal judge to another two-year term, or the governing body of the city may declare the office of municipal judge vacant.

(c) Any vacancy in the office of municipal judge by death, resignation, or otherwise shall be filled in the same manner as original appointments.

(d) Pending such nomination as hereinabove provided, as well as during any period during which a municipal judge is temporarily unable to act for any reason, the mayor of the city, by and with the consent of the governing body of said city, is authorized to appoint some qualified person to act in the place and stead of the municipal judge, and the appointee shall have all the powers and discharge all the duties of the office, and shall receive the same compensation therefor as is payable to the regular municipal judge while he is so acting.

(e) Municipal judges shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by law relating to county judges.

Complaints by City Attorney, Assistant or Deputy

Sec. 5. All proceedings in municipal courts shall be commenced upon original complaint approved for filing by the city attorney of the city, his assistant or deputy, and filed with the court clerk, provided, however, that parking tickets, including red meter tickets, need not be signed by the city attorney, his assistant or deputy, unless a complaint is tried in court. All such complaints shall be prepared under the direction of the city attorney, his assistant or deputy.

Filing of Original Papers; Notations on Case Folder

Sec. 6. The clerk of the municipal courts under the direction of the presiding judge shall file the original complaint and the original of all judgments, orders, motions, or other papers and proceedings in each case in a folder for permanent record. No separate minute book for the court is required, but the original papers filed with the court shall constitute the records of the courts, provided however, that such records may be kept by the clerk on microfilm when over one year old and shall be admissible in evidence as provided by Articles 3731a, 3731b, and 3731c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, in civil cases. The clerk of the municipal courts shall cause to be noted on the outside of each case folder the following information:

- (1) The style of the action;
- (2) The nature of the offense charged;
- (3) The date the warrant was issued and return made thereon;
- (4) The time when the examination or trial was had, and if a trial, whether it was by a jury or before the judge of the court;
- (5) Trial settings;
- (6) The verdict of the jury, if any;
- (7) Judgment of the court, if any;
- (8) Motion for a new trial, if any, and the decision thereon;
- (9) If an appeal was taken; and
- (10) The time when, and the manner in which the judgment and sentence was enforced.

Orders or judgments, showing disposition of parking tickets as well as red meter tickets, not tried in court, need not be signed by the court.

Clerk of Municipal Courts; Appointment; Duties

Sec. 7. The clerk of the municipal courts shall be appointed by the governing body of the city. It shall be the duty of the clerk or his deputies to keep the records of proceedings of the court and to issue all processes and generally to do and to perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of county court at law exercising criminal jurisdiction insofar as the same may be applicable. The clerk of the municipal courts shall hold his office at the pleasure of the governing body of the city, and shall perform his duties under the direction and control of the municipal judge.

Court Reporter; Qualifications; Appointment; Duties

Sec. 8. For the purpose of preserving a record in all cases tried before the municipal courts, the governing body of the city shall appoint an official shorthand reporter, who shall be well skilled in his profession and have the qualifications required of a court reporter in the county courts or county courts at law as provided by the general laws of Texas. The reporter shall be a sworn officer of the court and shall hold his office at the pleasure of the governing body of the city at a salary to be fixed by the governing body. The court reporter of the court is not required to take testimony in cases where neither the defendant, prosecutor, nor the judge demands it. The governing body of the city may authorize and appoint more than one court reporter for each court established so as to dispose of the business of the courts without delay. The court reporter shall perform his duties under the direction and control of the municipal judge.

Evidence; Admissibility in Other Proceedings

Sec. 8a. That testimony, exhibits or evidence given by any witness in the course of any proceeding in such municipal courts shall be solely for the purpose of such proceeding or appeal therefrom and, in any other civil proceeding, evidence relating to such testimony, exhibits, evidence or reproductions thereof shall be privileged and not admissible for any purpose.

Costs

Sec. 9. No court costs shall be assessed or collected by any municipal court in any case tried in the courts, except warrant fees or capias fees as authorized by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, for corporation courts and fees for the Criminal Justice Planning Fund as authorized by Chapter 935, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 1083, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965).

Service of Process

Sec. 10. All processes issuing out of municipal courts may be served by a policeman of the city or by any peace officer under the same rules as are provided for service by sheriffs and constables of process issuing out of a county court so far as applicable.

Prosecutions by City Attorney; Bailiff

Sec. 11. All prosecutions in municipal courts shall be conducted by the city attorney of the city, or his assistant or deputy. The chief of police of the city shall in person or by deputy attend the court and perform the duties of a bailiff.

Complaint; Form

Sec. 12. Proceedings in municipal courts shall be commenced by complaint which shall begin: "In the name and by authority of the State of Texas"; and shall conclude "Against the peace and dignity of the State." All complaints shall be prepared under the direction of the city attorney, his assistant or deputy, and may be signed by any credible person upon information and belief sworn to before the city attorney, or his assistant or deputy, or the clerk of the court or his deputy, each of whom, for that purpose, shall have power to administer oaths. The complaint shall be in writing and shall state:

(1) The name of the accused, if known, and if unknown, shall describe him as accurately as practicable;

(2) The offense with which he is charged in plain and intelligible words;

(3) It must appear that the place where the offense is charged to have been committed is within the jurisdiction of the municipal court; and

(4) It must show, from the date of the offense stated therein that the offense is not barred by limitations. All pleadings in the municipal courts shall be in writing and filed with the clerk of such courts.

Right to Jury Trial; Selection of Jurors

Sec. 13. (a) Every person brought before the municipal courts and charged with an offense shall be entitled to be tried by a lawful jury of six persons. The municipal judge may set certain days of each week or month for the trial of jury cases. Juries for the court shall be selected as follows: On the adoption of this Act by the governing body of the city and between the 1st and 15th days of August of each year thereafter, the clerk of the municipal court or one of his deputies, and the city clerk, or one of his deputies, shall meet together and select from the list of qualified jurors in the city, the jurors for service in the municipal courts for the ensuing year. The list of jurors shall be taken from the voters registration list of the City of Wichita Falls. The officers shall write the names of all persons who are known to be qualified jurors under the law residing in the city on separate cards of uniform size and color, writing also on the cards, whenever possible, the post-office address of each juror so selected. The cards containing the names shall be deposited in a jury wheel to be provided for that purpose by the governing body of the city. The wheel shall be constructed of any durable material, shall be so constructed so as to freely revolve on its axle, and may be equipped with a motor to revolve the wheel so as to thoroughly mix the cards. The wheel shall be locked at all times, except when in use as hereinafter provided, by the use of two separate locks so arranged that the key to one will not open the other lock. The wheel and the clasps into which the locks are fitted shall be arranged so that the wheel cannot be opened unless both of the locks are unlocked. The keys to the locks shall be kept one by the city clerk and the other by the clerk of the municipal court. The city clerk and the clerk of the municipal court shall not open the wheel nor permit it to be opened by any person except at the time and in the manner and by the persons herein specified. The city clerk shall keep the wheel when not in use in a safe and secure place where it cannot be tampered with.

(b) Not less than 10 days before January 1 and July 1 of each year, the clerk of the municipal court, or one of his deputies, and the city clerk or one of his deputies, in the presence and under the direction of the municipal judge shall draw from the wheel containing the names of jurors, after the wheel has been turned and the cards thoroughly mixed, one by one the names of jurors to provide the number directed by the judge for each week of the six months next ensuing for which a jury may be required, and shall record the names as they are drawn upon a separate sheet of paper for each week for which jurors may be required. At the drawing no person other than those above named shall be permitted to be present. The officers attending the drawing shall not divulge the name of any person that may be drawn as a juror to any person. If at any time during the next six months and prior to the next drawing date it appears that the list already drawn will be exhausted before the expiration of six months, additional lists for as many additional weeks as the judge may direct will be drawn in the same manner. The several lists of names so drawn shall be certified under the hand of the clerk of the municipal court, or the deputy, doing the drawing and the municipal judge in whose presence the names were drawn, to be the lists drawn by him for that semiannual period and shall be sealed up in separate envelopes endorsed "List No. _____ of the Petit Jurors drawn on the _____ day of _____, 19____, for the Municipal Court of Wichita Falls, Texas." The clerk doing the drawing shall write his name across the seals of the envelopes and deliver them to the judge who shall inspect the envelopes to see that they are properly endorsed and shall then deliver them to the clerk or his deputy, and the clerk shall then immediately file them away in some safe and secure place in his office under lock and key. When the names are drawn for jury service, the cards containing the names shall be sealed in separate envelopes endorsed "Cards containing the names of jurors list No. _____ of the Petit Jurors drawn on the _____ day of _____, 19____, for the Municipal Court of Wichita Falls, Texas." Each envelope shall be retained unopened by the clerk until after the jury selected from the corresponding list has been impaneled. After the jurors so impaneled have served four or more days, the envelope containing the cards bearing the names of the jurors on that list shall then be opened by the clerk or his deputy and those cards bearing the names of persons who have not been impaneled and who have not served as many as four days shall be immediately returned to the wheel by the clerk or his deputy; and the cards bearing the names of the persons serving as many as four days shall be put in a box provided for that purpose for the use of the officers who shall next select the jurors from the wheel. If any of the lists drawn are not used, the clerk or his deputy shall open the envelopes containing the cards bearing the names of the unused lists immediately after the expiration of the six-month period and return the cards to the wheel. A juror serving on a jury in the court shall receive not less than $5 for each day and for each fraction of a day he attends the court as a juror and in no event less than that paid in county courts.

(c) In lieu of the preceding method of jury selection, the judges of the municipal courts of Wichita Falls may adopt a plan for the selection of persons for jury service with the aid of mechanical or electronic means. If such a plan is adopted, the laws relating to the selection of petit juries by jury wheel shall not apply. Any such plan so adopted shall conform to the following requirements:

(1) The names taken for jury purposes shall be of registered voters in the City of Wichita Falls.

(2) It shall provide a fair, impartial, and objective method of selecting persons for jury service with the aid of mechanical or electronic equipment.

(3) It shall designate the clerk of the court as the official to be in charge of the selection process and shall define his duties.

(4) It shall specify that a true and complete written list showing the names and addresses of the persons summoned to begin jury services on a particular date shall be filed of record with the clerk of the court at least 10 days prior to the date such persons are to begin jury service.

Ordinances and Corporate Limits; Judicial Notice

Sec. 14. Municipal courts shall take judicial notice of all the city ordinances and the corporate limits of Wichita Falls in all cases tried in the courts.

Code of Criminal Procedure; Applicability

Sec. 15. Except as modified by this Act, the trial of cases before municipal courts shall be governed by the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas applicable to county courts.

Bonds

Sec. 16. All bonds taken in proceedings in the courts shall be payable to the State of Texas for the use and benefit of Wichita Falls.

Judgment and Sentence

Sec. 17. The judgment and sentence, in case of conviction before municipal courts shall be in the name of the State of Texas, and shall recover of the defendant the fine and costs for the use and benefit of the city; except when otherwise ordered by the court, the court shall require that the defendant remain in custody of the chief of police of such city until the fine and costs are paid; and order that execution issue to collect the fines and penalties.

Appeals

Sec. 18. Appeals from municipal courts shall be heard by the county court except in cases where the county court has no jurisdiction of appeals from justice courts, in which cases, the appeals shall be heard by the court having jurisdiction of appeals from justice courts.

Right of Appeal; State

Sec. 19. The state shall have no right of appeal.

Right of Appeal; Defendant; Motion for New Trial

Sec. 20. A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in a municipal court under the rules hereinafter prescribed, and a motion for a new trial shall be prerequisite to the right of appeal from a municipal court.

Motion for New Trial; Time; Filing

Sec. 21. A motion for a new trial must be made within 10 days after the rendition of judgment and sentence, and not afterward. Such motion must be in writing and filed with the clerk of the municipal court.

New Trial; State

Sec. 22. In no case shall the state be entitled to a new trial.

Notice of Appeal; Bond; Time

Sec. 23. An appeal may be taken by giving notice of appeal in open court, which shall be noted on the docket of the court or embodied in the order overruling the motion for new trial. The notice must be given or filed within 10 days after the order overruling the motion for a new trial is rendered. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been given and approved by the court. The appeal bond must be filed with the court within 10 days after the order of the court refusing a new trial has been rendered, and not afterwards.

Bail on Appeal

Sec. 24. In appeals from the judgments and sentence of a municipal court, the defendant shall, if he be in custody, be committed to jail unless he gives bail, to be approved by the judge of the municipal court, in an amount not less than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against him, payable to the State of Texas for the use and benefit of the city; provided the bail shall not in any case be for a less sum than $100. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant shall make his personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instanter, if the court is in session; and if the court is not in session, then at its next session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Perfecting Appeal; Filing of Bond

Sec. 25. Appeals from municipal courts may be perfected by filing the appeal bond provided for in the preceding section upon approval by the municipal court, subject to compliance with the provisions of Section 34.

Record and Briefs on Appeal

Sec. 26. In view of the crowded conditions of the dockets of the courts, the record and briefs on appeal in a case appealed from a municipal court shall be limited so far as possible to the questions relied on for reversal.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 27. The record on appeal in a case appealed from a municipal court shall consist of a transcript, and where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts.

Assignments of Error; Waiver

Sec. 28. The motion for a new trial in a case appealed from a municipal court shall constitute the assignments of error on appeal. A ground of error not distinctly set forth in a motion for new trial shall be considered as waived.

Record on Appeal; Stipulation

Sec. 29. The city attorney, or his assistant or deputy, and the defendant, or his attorney, by written stipulation filed with the clerk of the municipal court may designate the parts of the record, proceedings, and evidence to be included in the record on appeal.

Contents of Transcript

Sec. 30. The clerk of the municipal court, under written instructions of the defendant, or his attorney, shall prepare under his hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true copy of the proceedings in the municipal court, and, unless otherwise designated by agreement of the parties, shall include the following: (1) the complaint upon which the trial was had; (2) the order of the court upon any motions or exceptions; (3) the judgment of the court and the verdict of the jury; (4) any findings of fact or conclusions of law by the court; (5) the judgment of the court; (6) the motion for new trial and the order of the court thereon; (7) the notice of appeal; (8) any statement of the defendant or the city attorney as to the matter to be included in the record; (9) the appeal bond; (10) certified bill of cost; (11) any signed paper designated as material by the defendant, or his attorney, or the city attorney or his assistant or deputy. The defendant, or his attorney, may file with the clerk and deliver or mail to the city attorney a copy of the written instruction, and the city attorney may file and deliver or mail a written direction to the clerk to include in the transcript additional portions of proceedings in the trial court.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 31. (a) The statement of facts of the testimony of the witnesses need not be in narrative form but may be in question and answer form. The defendant, or his attorney, may prepare and file with the clerk a condensed statement in narrative form of all or part of the testimony and deliver a true copy thereof to the city attorney and if the city attorney is dissatisfied with the narrative statement, he may require the testimony in question and answer form to be substituted for all or part thereof.

(b) All matters not essential to the decision or the questions presented in the motion for new trial, shall be omitted from a statement of facts. Formal parts of all exhibits and more than one copy of any document appearing in the transcript or the statement of facts shall be excluded. All documents shall be abridged by omitting or abbreviating a formal portion thereof.

(c) It shall be unnecessary for the statement of facts to be approved by the trial court or judge thereof when agreed to by the defendant, or his attorney, and the city attorney.

(d) A written request for a statement of facts shall be made to the court reporter of the municipal court by the defendant or his attorney.

Agreed Statement of Case

Sec. 32. The defendant, or his attorney, and the city attorney may agree upon a brief statement of the case and upon the facts proven as will enable the appellate court to determine where there is error in the judgment of the trial court. Such statements shall be copied into the transcript in lieu of the proceedings themselves.

Transcript and Statement of Facts; Filing

Sec. 33. The transcript and the statement of facts shall be filed with the clerk of the municipal court within 60 days from the date of the order overruling the motion for new trial, and shall be promptly forwarded by the clerk of the municipal court to the clerk of the court to which the appeal is taken.

Preparation of Transcript and Statement of Facts; Fee

Sec. 34. The defendant shall pay a fee of $10 to the clerk of the municipal court for the preparation of the transcript and statement of facts, at the time of request therefor. If the case is reversed on appeal, the $10 fee shall be refunded to the defendant.

Briefs; Filing

Sec. 35. The defendant shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the clerk of the appellate court, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. The prosecuting attorney shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files his brief with the clerk. Each party, on filing his brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of his brief to be delivered to the opposing party.

Procedure on Appeal

Sec. 36. The court to which the appeal is taken shall hear and determine appeals from municipal courts at the earliest time it may be done, with due regard to the rights of parties and proper administration of justice. Oral arguments before the court shall be under such rules as the court may determine, and the parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

Disposition on Appeal; Presumptions; Decision

Sec. 37. The court, having jurisdiction of appeals from municipal courts, may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require. The court shall presume (1) that the venue was proven in the court below; (2) that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn; (3) that the defendant was arraigned and that he pleaded to the complaint; (4) that the court's charge was certified by the judge and filed by the clerk before it was read to the jury; unless such matters were made an issue in the municipal court, or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts. In each case decided by the court having jurisdiction of appeals, the court shall deliver a written opinion either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled no reason need be given by the court, but cases relied upon by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the court shall set forth the reasons for such decision. Copies of the decision of the court shall be mailed by the clerk of the court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as rendered by the court.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings; Filing of Record; Enforcement of Judgment

Sec. 38. When the judgment of the court having jurisdiction of appeal from municipal courts becomes final, the clerk of the court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and mail the certificate to the clerk of the municipal court from which the appeal was taken. When the record is received by the clerk of the municipal court, he shall file it with the papers in the case and note it upon the docket of the municipal court. Where the judgment has been affirmed no proceedings need be had after filing the record in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or an execution against his property.

New Trial

Sec. 39. Where the appeal court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Appeals to Court of Appeals; Applicability of Code of Criminal Procedure; Record

Sec. 40. Appeals to the Court of Appeals from the decision of the court having jurisdiction of appeals from municipal courts, when permitted by law, shall be governed by the Code of Criminal Procedure of Texas, except that when an appeal is permitted by law, the transcript, briefs, and statement of facts filed in the court having jurisdiction of appeals from municipal courts shall constitute the transcript, briefs, and statement of facts before the Court of Appeals or as the rules of the court of criminal appeals may provide in such cases.

Places and Quarters for Court, Etc., Salaries

Sec. 41. (a) The municipal court shall be held in the city at a place or places within the corporate limits of the city as may be designated by the governing body of the city in the ordinances establishing the court.

(b) The governing body of the city shall provide suitable quarters for the court, and all costs of providing a court and office space for the court, the clerk, and court reporter shall be paid for by the governing body of the city. All salaries paid to the judge, clerk, court reporter, and employees of the municipal court shall be paid by the governing body of the city.

Payment and Deposit of Fines, Etc.

Sec. 42. All fines, fees, costs, and cash bonds in municipal courts shall be paid to the clerk of the municipal court. The clerk of the municipal court shall deposit all fines, fees, costs, and cash bonds directly into the general fund of the city.

Judges, Clerks and Court Reporters: Civil Service Ordinance; Retirement; Vacation; Sick Leave; Etc.

Sec. 43. The judges of municipal courts, the clerks and deputy clerks of the courts, and the court reporters of the municipal courts shall not be considered to be classified employees under the city civil service ordinance. However, the governing body of the city may provide by ordinance that all other employees of the municipal courts may be hired and paid as classified employees of the city under the city civil service ordinance. The judges, clerks, deputy clerks, and court reporters may be authorized or required by the governing body of the city to participate in the retirement program of the city. The judges, clerks, deputy clerks, and court reporters of municipal courts shall receive the same vacation, sick leave, and other benefits as are provided for other nonclassified employees of the city under such regulations as may be provided by the governing body of the city by ordinance.

Vacation of Court; Transfer of Pending Cases

Sec. 44. After the establishment of a municipal court if the governing body of the city shall by legally adopted ordinance find and determine that the condition of the dockets of the other courts of the county is such as not to require the existence of the municipal court in order to properly dispose of the cases arising in the city, then the office of municipal judge, clerk of the municipal court, court reporter, and other employees of the court shall be declared vacated as of the end of the term for which the municipal court judge was last appointed. In that event, any case pending in the municipal court shall be transferred to the proper court having jurisdiction of the offense.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Art. 1200bb. MidlandCreation; Formation by Ordinance

Sec. 1. There is created in the city of Midland a court of record to be known as the "City of Midland Municipal Court," to be held in that city if the governing body of the city of Midland, by ordinance, finds and determines that the formation of a municipal court of record is necessary in order to provide a more efficient disposition of appeals arising from the municipal court.

The authority of the governing body of the city of Midland to create a municipal court of record in the city of Midland includes the authority to establish, in the manner set forth in this section, more than one municipal court of record if the governing body determines that it is necessary in order to dispose of the cases arising in the city. If more than one municipal court of record is created, the judges of the municipal courts may at any time exchange benches and sit and act for and with each other in a case, matter, or proceeding pending in a municipal court, and any and all acts thus performed by a judge are valid and binding on all parties to the case, matter, and proceeding.

The municipal court of record authorized in this section is referred to in this Act as the "municipal court."

Application of Other Laws Regarding Municipal Courts

Sec. 2. The general laws of the state regarding municipal courts, and regarding justice courts on matters where there is no law for municipal courts, and the valid charter provisions and ordinances of the city of Midland relating to the municipal court apply to the municipal court authorized in this Act, unless the laws, charter provisions, and ordinances are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Judge; Qualifications

Sec. 3. The municipal court shall be presided over by a judge, who shall be a licensed attorney in good standing in this state and a citizen of the United States and of this state. He need not be a resident of the city at the time of his appointment, but he shall maintain his residence in the city during his tenure of office. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and shall not engage in the private practice of law while in office. He shall be appointed by the governing body of the city. He shall be paid a salary to be determined by the governing body of the city. The salary shall not be based on or in any way contingent on the fines, fees, or costs collected by the municipal court.

If more than one municipal court is created by the governing body of the city, a judge shall be appointed for each court and the governing body of the city shall designate a judge to be the presiding judge.

Court Clerk

Sec. 4. The governing body of the city shall provide a clerk of the municipal courts, and such deputy clerks, warrant officers, and other municipal court personnel, including at least one bailiff for each court, as are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts. It is the duty of the clerk to keep the records of proceedings of the municipal courts and to issue all processes and generally to perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of the county courts at law exercising criminal jurisdiction insofar as the same may be applicable. The clerk of the municipal courts and all other personnel shall perform the duties of the office under the direction and control of the municipal court judge.

Court Reporter

Sec. 5. For the purpose of preserving a record in the cases tried before the municipal court, the city shall provide a court reporter, who shall be appointed by the municipal court judge and whose compensation shall be determined by the governing body of the city. The qualifications of the court reporter shall be determined by the judge, or if there is more than one judge, by the presiding judge.

The record of proceedings may be preserved by the court reporter by written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or any combination of them. The court reporter is not required to take testimony in cases where neither the defendant, the prosecutor, nor the judge demands it.

Ordinances; Judicial Notice

Sec. 6. The municipal court shall take judicial notice of the ordinances of the city.

Appeal; Appellate Courts

Sec. 7. A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The County Court of Midland County has jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal court.

Appeals on the Record; No de Novo Appeals

Sec. 8. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court solely on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant's motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. No appeal from the municipal court may be by trial de novo.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 9. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for new trial must be filed by the defendant no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction, and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after it is filed. The motion for new trial shall be presented to the court within 10 days after the filing of the original or amended motion, and shall be determined by the court within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant. For purposes of appeal, a point of error not distinctly set forth in the motion for new trial shall be considered as waived.

Notice of Appeal

Sec. 10. In order to perfect an appeal, the defendant shall give timely notice of appeal. In the event the defendant requests a hearing on his motion for new trial, the notice of appeal may be given orally in open court upon the overruling of the motion for new trial; otherwise, the notice of appeal shall be in writing and filed with the municipal court no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled.

Appeal Bond

Sec. 11. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed with and approved by the municipal court. The appeal bond must be filed no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled. If the defendant is in custody, he shall be committed to jail unless he posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond shall be in an amount not less than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for a less sum than $100. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant shall make his personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instantly, if the court is in session, and if the court is not in session, then at its next session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 12. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of a transcript and, where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts.

Contents of Transcript

Sec. 13. (a) The municipal court clerk, upon written request from the defendant, shall prepare under his hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court that shall always include the following:

- (1) the complaint;
- (2) material docket entries made by the court;
- (3) the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
- (4) the judgment;
- (5) the motion for new trial;
- (6) the notice of appeal;
- (7) all written motions and pleas and orders of the court; and
- (8) bills of exception, if any are filed.

(b) The municipal court clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court if so instructed in writing by either the defendant or the prosecuting attorney.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 14. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal, subject to complying with the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure governing the preparation of bills of exception and their inclusion in the record on appeal to the Court of Appeals, except that the bills of exception shall be filed with the municipal court clerk within 60 days after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal.

Statement of Facts; Agreed Statement; Designated Items and Payment

Sec. 15. (a) A statement of facts, when included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:

(1) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case that are shown by the notes of the court reporter to have occurred before, during, or after the trial if such transcription is requested of the court reporter by the defendant; or

(2) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial, as agreed to by the defendant and the prosecuting attorney; or

(3) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial.

(b) The court reporter shall transcribe any portion of his notes of the court proceedings in the case at the request of the defendant. The defendant shall pay for the transcription. The cost to the defendant for the transcription shall not exceed the fees or charges normally being made by court reporters in the county for similar transcriptions. The municipal court shall order the court reporter to make the transcriptions without charge to the defendant if the court finds, after hearing in the response to affidavit by the defendant, that he is too poor to pay or give security for the transcriptions.

Filing of Transcript and Statement of Facts; Time Limits; Completion and Approval of Record; Transfer of Record to Clerk of Appellate Court

Sec. 16. (a) Within 60 days of the giving or filing of the notice of appeal, the parties shall file with the municipal court clerk:

- (1) the statement of facts;
- (2) a written designation of all matter that is to be included in the transcript in addition to matter required to be in the transcript by Section 13 of this Act; and

(3) any matter designated to be included in the transcript that is not then in the custody of the municipal court clerk.

(b) On completing the record as designated by the parties in Subdivision (2), Subsection (a) of this section, the municipal court judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by law for record completion notification and approval in appeals to the Court of Appeals.

(c) On the municipal court judge's approval of the record, the municipal court clerk shall promptly forward it to be filed with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney that the record has been filed.

Brief on Appeal: Contents and Filing

Sec. 17. (a) A brief on appeal from the municipal court shall present points of error in the same manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the Court of Appeals, except that the points of error on appeal shall be confined to those points of error set forth in the defendant's motion for new trial.

(b) The defendant shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within fifteen days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. The prosecuting attorney shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files his briefs with the clerk. Each party, on filing his brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of his brief to be delivered to the opposing party.

Procedure on Appeal; Review or Error

Sec. 18. The appellate court shall hear and determine appeals from the municipal court at the earliest practical time it may be done, with due regard to the rights of parties and proper administration of justice, and no affirmance or reversal of a case shall be determined on mere technicalities or on technical errors in the preparation and filing of the record on appeal. Oral arguments before the appellate court shall be under the rules which the appellate court may determine, and the parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

Disposition on Appeal; Presumptions; Decision

Sec. 19. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume (1) that the venue was proven in the court below; (2) that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn; (3) that the defendant was arraigned and that he pleaded to the complaint; and (4) that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury; unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court, or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings; Filing of Record; Enforcement of Judgment

Sec. 20. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court.

When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, he shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or issue an execution against his property.

New Trial

Sec. 21. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Appeals to the Court of Appeals; Record

Sec. 22. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant shall have the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeals to the Court of Appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the Court of Appeals except that:

(1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court, plus the transcript of proceedings in the appellate court, shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the Court of Appeals unless the rules of the Court of Criminal Appeals provide otherwise; and

(2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the Court of Appeals.

Conflicting Laws Conformed

Sec. 23. All laws in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby conformed to the provisions of this Act.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Art. 1200cc. Cities Over 1,200,000

Creation of Municipal Courts of Record; Vacation of Additional Municipal Courts

Sec. 1. (a) A municipal court of record is created in any city with a population of more than 1,200,000 as determined by the last preceding federal census.

(b) Additional municipal courts of record may be created and judges for such courts may be authorized in any city with a population of more than 1,200,000 as determined by the last preceding federal census by action of the governing body of the city through a legally adopted ordinance that specifies that the condition of dockets in the other municipal courts of the city is such as to require additional municipal courts in order to properly dispose of the cases on the dockets of these courts, and that enumerates the number of additional municipal courts necessary to properly dispose of those cases. Municipal courts that are in existence on the effective date of this Act and that were created pursuant to any Article in Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ shall on such date become municipal courts of record and may, subject to meeting other requirements provided by law for municipal courts, continue their operation under the authority of this Act without passage of such ordinance.

(c) After the establishment of an additional municipal court or courts, if the governing body of the city determines that the continued existence of some or all of the additional municipal courts is not required in order to properly dispose of cases on the dockets of all the municipal courts, the governing body shall by legally adopted ordinance declare the offices of some or all of the additional municipal judges vacated at the end of the term or terms for which such judge or judges were last selected. In that event, any cases pending in a vacated municipal court shall be transferred to the proper court having jurisdiction of the offense.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. Municipal courts created under the provisions of this Act shall have jurisdiction within the territorial limits of the city in all criminal cases arising under the ordinances of the city and shall also have concurrent jurisdiction with any justice of the peace in any precinct in which the city is situated in criminal cases arising within such territorial limits under the criminal laws of this state in which punishment is only by fine not exceeding $200.

Judges; Additional Judges; Presiding Judge; Qualifications

Sec. 3. (a) Municipal courts shall be presided over by judges to be known as "municipal judges."

(b) The city shall provide by charter or by ordinance for the selection of its municipal judges, provided the selection shall be for a definite term in office of not less than two nor more than four years, whose duration within these limits shall be determined by charter, ordinance, or the method prescribed in Article XI, Section 11, of the Texas Constitution. Any definite term or indefinite period in office that a municipal judge has begun on the effective date of this Act shall terminate no later than four years after such effective date. A municipal judge may continue in office after the end of his term for not more than 90 days or until his successor is selected and qualified, whichever occurs first.

(c) If there is more than one municipal judge in the city the mayor and city council of the city shall appoint one of the judges to be the presiding municipal judge of the city. If the city has a municipal judge who is either its only municipal judge or its only municipal judge who is not serving in a temporary or part-time capacity, such judge shall be the presiding municipal judge for all purposes of this Act.

(d) The presiding judge shall:

(1) maintain a central docket for all cases filed in the geographical limits of the city over which the municipal courts of the city have jurisdiction;

(2) provide for the distribution of cases from the central docket to the individual municipal judge in order that the business of the courts will be continually equalized and distributed among them;

(3) temporarily assign various judges of the municipal courts to exchange benches for other such judges and to sit and act for each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in their courts, when necessary for the expeditious disposition of the business of the courts;

(4) cause all dockets, books, papers, and other records of the municipal courts to be permanently kept and permit these records to be available for inspection at all reasonable times by any interested party;

(5) cause to be maintained as part of the records of the municipal courts an index of municipal-court judgments such as county clerks are required by law to prepare for criminal cases arising in county courts;

(6) where necessary for the proper functioning of the municipal courts, provide for the preservation by microfilm of the records under the custody of county clerks; and

(7) supervise and have control over all of the operations and clerical functions of the administrative section or department of such municipal courts and be responsible for the supervision of all clerical personnel of the administrative department of such municipal court.

(e) A judge of a municipal court created under the provisions of this Act shall be a licensed attorney in good standing in this state. No person may serve in the office of municipal judge while he holds any other office or employment in the government of such city, and the holding of such other office or employment by any person serving in the office of municipal judge shall create an immediate vacancy in the judicial office.

Salary

Sec. 4. A municipal judge is entitled to compensation by the city on a salary basis. The amount of the salary shall be determined by the governing body of the city and may not be diminished during the judge's term of office. The salary may not be based, directly or indirectly, on fines, fees, or costs that the municipal judge is required by law to collect during his term of office. The governing body shall predetermine the salary of the municipal judge prior to his appointment, if he is appointed, or at least two weeks prior to the deadline for filing for election, if he is elected.

Vacancies; Temporary Replacements; Removal

Sec. 5. (a) When a vacancy in the office of municipal judge occurs, the governing body of the city shall appoint a person meeting the qualifications required by law for such position to fill the office of municipal judge for the unexpired term of the judge serving in that office prior to the vacancy.

(b) While a municipal judge is temporarily unable to act for any reason, the governing body of the city may appoint a person meeting the qualifications required by law for such position to sit for the regular municipal judge. The appointee shall have all the powers and duties of the office and shall receive the same compensation as is payable to the regular municipal judge while he is so acting.

(c) A municipal judge may be removed from office only under the procedures outlined in Article V, Section 1-a, of the Texas Constitution.

Court Facilities

Sec. 6. The governing body of the city shall provide such courtrooms, juryrooms, offices and office furniture, libraries, legal books and materials, and other supplies and facilities as the governing body determines are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts.

Appeals; Appellate Courts

Sec. 7. A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The county criminal court of such county where said court is situated shall have jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal court.

Appeals on the Record; No de Novo Appeals

Sec. 8. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court solely on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant's motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. No appeal from the municipal court may be by trial de novo.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 9. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for new trial must be filed by the defendant no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction, and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant. For purposes of appeal, a point of error not distinctly set forth in the motion for new trial shall be considered as waived.

Notice of Appeal

Sec. 10. In order to perfect an appeal, the defendant shall give timely notice of appeal. In the event the defendant requests a hearing on his motion for new trial, the notice of appeal may be given orally in open court upon the overruling of the motion for new trial; otherwise, the notice of appeal shall be in writing and filed with the municipal court no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled.

Appeal Bond

Sec. 11. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed with and approved by the municipal court. The appeal bond must be filed no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled. If the defendant is in custody, he shall be committed to jail unless he posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond shall be in an amount not less than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for a less sum than $50. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant shall make his personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instantly, if the court is in session, and if the court is not in session, then at its next session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 12. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of a transcript and, where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts, which may be prepared by a certified court reporter of such court or from mechanical recordings of the proceedings or from video-tape recordings of the proceedings. If the court finds, after hearing in response to affidavit by defendant that he is unable to pay or give security for the record on appeal, the court will order the reporter to make such transcription without charge to the defendant.

Contents of Transcript

Sec. 13. (a) The municipal court clerk, upon written request from the defendant, shall prepare under his hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court that shall include the following:

- (1) the complaint;
- (2) material docket entries made by the court;
- (3) the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
- (4) the judgment;
- (5) the motion for new trial;
- (6) the notice of appeal;
- (7) all written motions and pleas and orders of the court; and
- (8) bills of exception, if any are filed.

(b) The municipal court clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court prepared from mechanical recordings or video-tape recordings of the proceedings.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 14. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal, subject to complying with the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure governing the preparation of bills of exception and their inclusion in the record on appeal to the Court of Appeals, except that the bills of exception shall be filed with the municipal court clerk within 60 days after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal.

Statement of Facts; Agreed Statement; Designated Items and Payment

Sec. 15. A statement of facts, when included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:

- (a) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings, in the case, as provided herein, that are shown by the notes of the court reporter to have occurred before, during, or after the trial if such transcription is requested of the court reporter by the defendant; or
- (b) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial, as agreed to by the defendant and the prosecuting attorney; or
- (c) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial; or
- (d) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case that are prepared from the mechanical recordings or video-tape recordings of said proceedings.

Filing of Transcript and Statement of Facts; Time Limits; Completion and Approval of Record; Transfer of Record to Clerk of Appellate Court

Sec. 16. (a) Within 60 days of the giving or filing of the notice of appeal, the parties shall file with the municipal court clerk:

- (1) the statement of facts;
- (2) a written designation of all matter that is to be included in the transcript in addition to matter required to be in the transcript by Section 13 of this Act; and
- (3) any matter designated to be included in the transcript that is not then in the custody of the municipal court clerk.

(b) On completing the record as designated by the parties in Subdivision (2), Subsection (a) of this section, the municipal court judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by law for record completion notification and approval in appeals to the Court of Appeals.

(c) On the municipal court judge's approval of the record, the municipal court clerk shall promptly forward it to be filed with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney that the record has been filed.

Brief on Appeal: Contents and Filing

Sec. 17. (a) A brief on appeal from the municipal court shall present points of error in the same manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the Court of Appeals.

(b) The defendant shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. The prosecuting attorney shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files his brief with the clerk. Each party, on filing his brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of his brief to be delivered to the opposing party.

Disposition on Appeal; Presumptions; Decision

Sec. 18. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume (1) that the venue was proven in the court below; (2) that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn; (3) that the defendant was arraigned and that he pleaded to the complaint; and (4) that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury; unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court, or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings; Filing of Record; Enforcement of Judgment

Sec. 19. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, he shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or issue an execution against his property.

New Trial

Sec. 20. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Appeals to the Court of Appeals; Record

Sec. 21. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant shall have the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeals to the Court of Appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the Court of Appeals except that:

(1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court, plus the transcript of proceedings in the appellate court, shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the Court of Appeals unless the rules of the Court of Criminal Appeals provide otherwise; and

(2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the Court of Appeals.

Court Personnel

Sec. 22. (a) Each municipal judge in his discretion is authorized to appoint a court reporter to transcribe the trial proceedings, including testimony, voir dire examination, objections, and final arguments and shall appoint a court reporter when the defendant or the state requests it prior to trial.

Each reporter shall be a sworn officer of the court when transcribing testimony and shall be well skilled in his profession. Each reporter shall be compensated by the city in such manner as the governing body of the city shall determine.

(b) It shall be the duty of the clerk to perform such clerical duties, insofar as they are applicable, as are prescribed by law for the municipal judge and for the county clerk of a county court at law.

(c) The governing body of the city shall provide the municipal courts with such other municipal court personnel as the governing body determines is necessary for the proper operation of the court. Such personnel shall perform their duties under the direction and control of the municipal judge to whom assigned. The governing body shall determine the salaries of such personnel.

Seal

Sec. 23. The governing body of the city shall provide each municipal court with a seal with a star of five points in the center and the words "Municipal Court in _____, Texas." The impress of the seal shall be attached to all papers, except subpoenas, issued out of the court and shall be used by each municipal judge or his clerk to authenticate all official acts of the clerk and the municipal judge.

Effective Date

Sec. 24. This Act is effective beginning January 1, 1976.

Repealer

Sec. 25. To the extent that any local, special, or general law, including Acts of the 64th Legislature, Regular Session, 1975, conflicts with any provision of this Act, that law is repealed.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1299, ch. 489, eff. Jan. 1, 1976. Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 357, ch. 175, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 765, ch. 291, § 7, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Section 2 of the 1977 amendatory act provided: "All acts or charter provisions in conflict herewith are expressly repealed."

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Art. 1200dd. Sweetwater

Creation; Formation by Ordinance

Sec. 1. There is created in the city of Sweetwater a court of record to be known as the "City of Sweetwater Municipal Court," to be held in that city if the governing body of the city of Sweetwater, by ordinance, finds and determines that the formation of a municipal court of record is necessary in order to provide a more efficient disposition of appeals arising from the municipal court.

The authority of the governing body of the city of Sweetwater to create a municipal court of record in the city of Sweetwater includes the authority to establish, in the manner set forth in this section, more than one municipal court of record if the governing body determines that it is necessary in order to dispose of the cases arising in the city. If more than one municipal court of record is created, the judges of the municipal courts may at any time exchange benches and sit and act for and with each other in a case, matter, or proceeding pending in a municipal court, and any and all acts thus performed by a judge are valid and binding on all parties to the case, matter, and proceeding.

The municipal court of record authorized in this section is referred to in this Act as the "municipal court."

Application of Other Laws Regarding Municipal Courts

Sec. 2. The general laws of the state regarding municipal courts, and regarding justice courts on matters where there is no law for municipal courts, and the valid charter provisions and ordinances of the city of Sweetwater relating to the municipal court apply to the municipal court authorized in this Act, unless the laws, charter provisions, and ordinances are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Judge; Qualifications

Sec. 3. The municipal court shall be presided over by a judge, who shall be a licensed attorney in good standing in this state and a citizen of the United States and of this state. He need not be a resident of the city at the time of his appointment, but he shall maintain his residence in the city during his tenure of office. He shall be appointed by the governing body of the city. He shall be paid a salary to be determined by the governing body of the city. The salary shall not be based on or in any way contingent on the fines, fees, or costs collected by the municipal court.

If more than one municipal court is created by the governing body of the city, a judge shall be appointed for each court and the governing body of the city shall designate a judge to be the presiding judge.

Court Clerk

Sec. 4. The governing body of the city shall provide a clerk of the municipal courts, and such deputy clerks, warrant officers, and other municipal court personnel, including at least one bailiff for each court, as are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts. It is the duty of the clerk to keep the records of proceedings of the municipal courts and to issue all processes and generally to perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of the county courts at law exercising criminal jurisdiction insofar as the same may be applicable. The clerk of the municipal courts and all other personnel shall perform the duties of the office under the direction and control of the municipal court judge.

Court Reporter

Sec. 5. For the purpose of preserving a record in the cases tried before the municipal court, the city shall provide a court reporter, who shall be appointed by the municipal court judge and whose compensation shall be determined by the governing body of the city. The qualifications of the court reporter shall be determined by the judge, or if there is more than one judge, by the presiding judge.

The record of proceedings may be preserved by the court reporter by written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or any combination of them. The court reporter is not required to take testimony in cases where neither the defendant, the prosecutor, nor the judge demands it.

Ordinances; Judicial Notice

Sec. 6. The municipal court shall take judicial notice of the ordinances of the city.

Appeal; Appellate Courts

Sec. 7. A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The County Court of Nolan County has jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal court.

Appeals on the Record; No de Novo Appeals

Sec. 8. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court solely on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant's motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. No appeal from the municipal court may be by trial de novo.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 9. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for new trial must be filed by the defendant no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction, and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after it is filed. The motion for new trial shall be presented to the court within 10 days after the filing of the original or amended motion, and shall be determined by the court within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant. For purposes of appeal, a point of error not distinctly set forth in the motion for new trial shall be considered as waived.

Notice of Appeal

Sec. 10. In order to perfect an appeal, the defendant shall give timely notice of appeal. In the event the defendant requests a hearing on his motion for new trial, the notice of appeal may be given orally in open court upon the overruling of the motion for new trial; otherwise, the notice of appeal shall be in writing and filed with the municipal court no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled.

Appeal Bond

Sec. 11. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed with and approved by the municipal court. The appeal bond must be filed no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled. If the defendant is in custody, he shall be committed to jail unless he posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond shall be in an amount not less than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for a less sum than $100. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant shall make his personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instantly, if the court is in session, and if the court is not in session, then at its next session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 12. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of a transcript and, where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts. If the court finds, after hearing in response to affidavit by defendant that he is unable to pay or give security for the record on appeal, the court will order the reporter to make such transcription without charge to the defendant.

Contents of Transcript

Sec. 13. (a) The municipal court clerk, upon written request from the defendant, shall prepare under his hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court that shall always include the following:

- (1) the complaint;
- (2) material docket entries made by the court;
- (3) the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
- (4) the judgment;

- (5) the motion for new trial;
 - (6) the notice of appeal;
 - (7) all written motions and pleas and orders of the court; and
 - (8) bills of exception, if any are filed.
- (b) The municipal court clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court if so instructed in writing by either the defendant or the prosecuting attorney.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 14. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal, subject to complying with the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure governing the preparation of bills of exception and their inclusion in the record on appeal to the Court of Appeals, except that the bills of exception shall be filed with the municipal court clerk within 60 days after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal.

Statements of Facts; Agreed Statement; Designated Items and Payment

Sec. 15. (a) A statement of facts, when included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:

- (1) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case that are shown by the notes of the court reporter to have occurred before, during, or after the trial if such transcription is requested of the court reporter by the defendant; or
- (2) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial, as agreed to by the defendant and the prosecuting attorney; or
- (3) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial.

(b) The court reporter shall transcribe any portion of his notes of the court proceedings in the case at the request of the defendant. The defendant shall pay for the transcription. The cost to the defendant for the transcription shall not exceed the fees or charges normally being made by court reporters in the county for similar transcriptions. The municipal court shall order the court reporter to make the transcriptions without charge to the defendant if the court finds, after hearing in the response to affidavit by the defendant, that he is too poor to pay or give security for the transcriptions.

Filing of Transcript and Statement of Facts; Time Limits; Completion and Approval of Record; Transfer of Record to Clerk of Appellate Court

Sec. 16. (a) Within 60 days of the giving or filing of the notice of appeal, the parties shall file with the municipal court clerk:

- (1) the statement of facts;
- (2) a written designation of all matter that is to be included in the transcript in addition to matter required to be in the transcript by Section 13 of this Act; and

(3) any matter designated to be included in the transcript that is not then in the custody of the municipal court clerk.

(b) On completing the record as designated by the parties in Subdivision (2), Subsection (a) of this section, the municipal court judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by law for record completion notification and approval in appeals to the Court of Appeals.

(c) On the municipal court judge's approval of the record, the municipal court clerk shall promptly forward it to be filed with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney that the record has been filed.

Brief on Appeal: Contents and Filing

Sec. 17. (a) A brief on appeal from the municipal court shall present points of error in the same manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the Court of Appeals, except that the points of error on appeal shall be confined to those points of error set forth in the defendant's motion for new trial.

(b) The defendant shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. The prosecuting attorney shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files his briefs with the clerk. Each party, on filing his brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of his brief to be delivered to the opposing party.

Procedure on Appeal; Review or Error

Sec. 18. The appellate court shall hear and determine appeals from the municipal court at the earliest practical time it may be done, with due regard to the rights of parties and proper administration of justice, and no affirmance or reversal of a case shall be determined on mere technicalities or on technical errors in the preparation and filing of the record on appeal. Oral arguments before the appellate court shall be under the rules which the appellate court may determine, and the parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

Disposition on Appeal; Presumptions; Decision

Sec. 19. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume (1) that the venue was proven in the court below; (2) that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn; (3) that the defendant was arraigned and that he pleaded to the complaint; and (4) that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury; unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court, or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings; Filing of Record; Enforcement of Judgment

Sec. 20. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, he shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a writ of habeas corpus for the defendant, or issue an execution against his property.

New Trial

Sec. 21. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Appeals to the Court of Appeals; Record

Sec. 22. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant shall have the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeals to the Court of Appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the Court of Appeals except that:

(1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court, plus the transcript of proceedings in the appellate court, shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the Court of Appeals unless the rules of the Court of Criminal Appeals provide otherwise; and

(2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the Court of Appeals.

Conflicting Laws Conformed

Sec. 23. All laws in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby conformed to the provisions of this Act.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Art. 1200ee. El Paso.Establishment of Municipal Courts

Sec. 1. The city of El Paso may, by ordinance legally adopted, provide for the establishment of municipal courts as needed. The judges of the additional courts shall have the same qualifications, and be selected in the same manner, as is provided for the judges of the existing municipal courts in the charter of the city, or as may be provided in any future charter or charter amendment. If the charter of the city requires the election of the judge by vote of the people, the governing body may designate a person as judge of each newly created court until the next regular city election. The courts may be in concurrent or continuous session, either day or night.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. Each municipal court shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction within the corporate limits of the city, and the jurisdiction shall be the same as is now or may be hereafter conferred on all municipal courts by the general laws of this state.

Administration

Sec. 3. Except as otherwise provided by the charter of the city, the governing body of the city may provide by ordinance:

- (1) the qualifications of persons eligible for appointment as judge;
- (2) that a judge of any of these courts may transfer cases from one court to any other of these courts and may exchange benches and preside over any other of these courts;
- (3) that there shall be a municipal court clerk who is clerk of all of the municipal courts, together with such number of deputies as may be needed; and

(4) that complaints shall be filed with the municipal court clerk in a manner to provide for an equal distribution of cases among the courts.

Procedures

Sec. 4. Except as modified by the terms of this Act, the procedure before the courts and appeals therefrom shall be governed by the general law applicable to all municipal courts.

Art. 1200ee-1. Repealed by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4315, ch. 685, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1983

See, now, art. 1200ee-2.

Art. 1200ee-2. El Paso Courts ActARTICLE I. SHORT TITLE; GENERAL PROVISIONS*Short Title

Sec. 1.01. This Act may be cited as the El Paso Courts Act.

Appellate Court

Sec. 1.02. A reference in this Act to "appellate court" means the El Paso Municipal Court of Appeals.

Municipal Court

Sec. 1.03. A reference in this Act to a "municipal court" means a municipal court of record of the City of El Paso.

Duties of Judges

Sec. 1.04. The judge of the appellate court and the municipal judge of the municipal courts are authorized to conduct marriage ceremonies in the City of El Paso.

ARTICLE II. MUNICIPAL COURTS OF RECORDCreation

Sec. 2.01. The governing body of the City of El Paso may by ordinance establish the city's existing municipal courts as municipal courts of record in accordance with this Act. The governing body may by ordinance create additional courts as it deems necessary, but each subsequent court must be a municipal court of record.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2.02. (a) A municipal court of record created under this Act has jurisdiction within the territorial limits of the city in all criminal cases arising under the ordinances of the city.

(b) The court has concurrent jurisdiction with a justice of the peace in any precinct in which the city is located in criminal cases within the justice court jurisdiction that:

(1) arise within the territorial limits of the city; and

(2) are punishable only by fine not to exceed $200.

(c) The court has jurisdiction over cases arising outside the territorial limits of the city under ordinances authorized by Subdivision 19, Article 1175, Revised Statutes.

Writ Power

Sec. 2.03. The judge of a municipal court of record created under this Act may grant writs of mandamus, injunction, attachment, and other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases in which the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court.

Application of Other Laws Regarding Municipal Courts

Sec. 2.04. The general law regarding municipal courts and justice courts and the valid charter provisions and ordinances of the City of El Paso relating to the municipal courts of record apply to a municipal court created under this Act, unless the law, charter provision, or ordinance is in conflict or inconsistent with this Act. Except as modified by this Act, the trial of a case before a municipal court is governed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

Judges

Sec. 2.05. (a) A municipal court of record created under this Act shall be presided over by a municipal judge and one or more associate municipal judges. A municipal judge or an associate municipal judge must be a licensed attorney in good standing with two or more years of experience in the practice of law in this state who is a citizen of this state.

(b) A municipal judge is elected by the qualified voters of the city for a term of two years, unless the city by charter amendment provides for a four-year term as provided by Article XI, Section 11, of the Texas Constitution.

(c) A vacancy in the office of a municipal judge shall be filled by appointment of the governing body of the city, and the person appointed serves until the next regular municipal election, at which time his successor shall be elected. An appointee may succeed himself.

(d) Each associate municipal judge shall be appointed by the governing body of the city for a two-year term.

(e) The municipal judges shall select by a majority vote of those judges a presiding judge of the municipal courts of record.

(f) The presiding municipal judge of the municipal courts of record may, when necessary for the expeditious disposition of the business of the courts and with the approval of the governing body of the city, divide a municipal court of record into one or more divisions. A division shall be presided over by an associate municipal judge. A division has concurrent jurisdiction with the other divisions and municipal courts of record. Divisions of the municipal courts of record may be in concurrent and continuous session, either day or night, at the discretion of the presiding municipal judge. The presiding municipal judge may assign and transfer any case pending in any of the courts or divisions to any other of the courts or divisions. The presiding judge may direct the manner in which cases are filed and docketed. He may assign a case or proceeding pending in any of the courts to the judge of another court or division. He may assign the judge of any of the courts or divisions to try a case or hear a proceeding pending in another court or division.

(g) A municipal judge or an associated municipal judge is entitled to compensation from the city to be set by the governing body of the city. The compensation may not be diminished but may be increased during a judge's term of office. The compensation may not be based directly or indirectly on fines, fees, or costs that the municipal judge is required by law to collect during his term of office. The salary of the presiding judge must be set at an amount that is at least 20 percent more than the salary of the regular municipal judges.

(h) A municipal judge or an associate municipal judge may not be removed from office during the term for which he was elected or appointed except for cause to the same extent and under the same rules that the county judge may be removed from office.

(i) The municipal judges or associated municipal judges may at any time exchange benches and may at any time sit and act for or with each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in any court or division. An act performed by a judge sitting for another judge is valid and binding on all parties to the case, matter, or proceeding.

(j) A municipal judge or an associate municipal judge shall take the oath of office as required of city officials.

(k) A municipal judge or an associate municipal judge is a magistrate as that term is defined by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

Court Clerk

Sec. 2.06. The governing body of the city shall provide a clerk of the municipal courts of record, deputy clerks, and other municipal court personnel, including at least one bailiff for each court, as necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts. The clerk shall keep the records of proceedings of the municipal courts, issue all processes, and perform the duties prescribed by law for clerks of the county courts at law exercising criminal jurisdiction to the extent that law applies. The clerk of the municipal courts of record and other personnel shall perform the duties of their office under the direction and control of the presiding municipal judge.

Court Reporter; Use of Transcripts

Sec. 2.07. (a) To preserve a record in cases tried before the municipal courts of record, the city shall provide a court reporter. The governing body of the city shall determine the qualifications and compensation of the court reporter.

(b) The court reporter may preserve the record of proceedings by written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or any combination of those methods. The court reporter is not required to take or record testimony in cases in which the defendant, the prosecutor, or the judge does not demand it.

(c) Testimony, exhibits, and evidence given by a witness in a proceeding in a municipal court of record are solely for the purposes of the proceeding or appeal from the proceeding, and in any other civil proceeding, evidence relating to the testimony, exhibits, evidence, or reproductions of testimony, exhibits, or evidence is privileged and not admissible except for impeachment purposes.

Prosecutions by City Attorney

Sec. 2.08. The city attorney or his assistant shall conduct all prosecutions in the municipal courts.

Complaint; Form

Sec. 2.09. (a) Proceedings in municipal courts must be commenced by a complaint that begins: "In the name and by authority of the State of Texas," and concludes: "Against the peace and dignity of the State of Texas." Complaints before the municipal courts of record may be signed by any credible person on information and belief sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths or before a municipal judge, an associate municipal judge, the city attorney, an assistant city attorney, the clerk of the court, or any deputy clerk, each of whom, for that purpose, has authority to administer the oath. The complaint must be in writing and is sufficient if it contains the following:

(1) the name of the accused, if known, and if unknown, a description of the accused, as accurate as practicable;

(2) the offense with which the accused is charged in plain and intelligible words;

(3) a statement that the place where the offense is charged to have been committed is within the jurisdiction of the municipal courts of record; and

(4) a statement showing that the offense is not barred by limitations.

(b) All pleadings in the municipal courts of record must be in writing and filed with the clerk of the courts.

Right to Jury Trial

Sec. 2.10. (a) A person brought before the municipal courts of record and charged with an offense is entitled to be tried by a jury of six persons, unless that right is waived according to law.

(b) A juror in the municipal courts of record must have the same qualifications as jurors in the other courts in El Paso County as provided by Article 2133, Revised Statutes, and must be a registered voter in the City of El Paso. Jurors in the municipal courts of record are subject to the law governing exemption and excuse from jury service as are the jurors in the other courts in the county.

(c) The laws that govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the municipal courts. A general panel of jurors or jurors impaneled for a week by a district court in El Paso County or summoned for the county court or county court at law may, on request of any municipal court judge, be made available in the requested numbers for service in the municipal court and shall serve in the municipal court as if summoned for the municipal court to which they are transferred. The City of El Paso shall pay the jurors on the jury panel and the petit jury that are transferred to the municipal court under this section. El Paso County is not responsible for the pay of the transferred jurors.

Judicial Notice

Sec. 2.11. The municipal court and the appellate court created by this Act shall take judicial notice of city ordinances and of the corporate limits of the city. The courts of appeals shall take judicial notice of the city charter and of ordinances that created municipal courts, but may not take judicial notice of other ordinances of the city. In appeals from the appellate court to a court of appeals, the appellate court shall supplement the record on appeal with all city ordinances that relate to the conviction and punishment in the municipal court. The prosecutor and appellant shall be given notice of the supplementation of the record under rules set by the appellate court so that each party to the appeal is afforded due process of law. If a record on appeal before a court of appeals does not contain a city ordinance that may be necessary for a proper decision on the appeal, the court of appeals may abate the appeal and direct the appellate court to supplement the record on appeal with the city ordinance. The appellate court, the courts of appeals, and the court of criminal appeals shall presume that judicial notice of all ordinances of the city was taken in the court below unless the matter was made an issue in the court below, or it otherwise affirmatively appears to the contrary from the record.

Seal

Sec. 2.12. The governing body of the city shall provide each municipal court of record with a seal with a star of five points in the center and the words "Municipal Court in El Paso, Texas." The impress of the seal shall be attached to papers, except subpoenas, issued out of the courts and shall be used by each municipal judge, clerk of the court, or deputy clerk to authenticate all official acts of the clerk and the municipal judge.

ARTICLE III. MUNICIPAL COURT OF APPEALS

Creation

Sec. 3.01. The El Paso Municipal Court of Appeals is created on the date determined by Section 4.02 of this Act.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 3.02. (a) The appellate court has exclusive jurisdiction over all appeals from the municipal courts of record of the City of El Paso. The county courts at law of El Paso County have no jurisdiction over appeals from municipal courts.

(b) The appellate court and the judge of that court have the power in criminal law matters to issue to the municipal courts and judges of those courts the writs of mandamus, procedendo, prohibition, injunctions, and other writs necessary to protect the appellate court's jurisdiction or enforce its judgments.

(c) The appellate court has the power on affidavit or otherwise to ascertain matters of fact necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction.

(d) The judge of the appellate court is a magistrate within the meaning of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

Term of Court

Sec. 3.03. The appellate court may sit for the transaction of business at any time during the year and each term begins and ends with the calendar year. The appellate court may use the city council chambers or other appropriate location as its courtroom for argument of cases and other court matters.

Appellate Court Clerk

Sec. 3.04. In addition to his other duties, the city clerk serves as the clerk of the appellate court.

Judge

Sec. 3.05. (a) The judge of the appellate court shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city for a term of two years, unless the city by charter amendment provides for a four-year term as provided by Article XI, Section 11, of the Texas Constitution. The judge of the appellate court must be a citizen of the United States and of this state who has been a practicing attorney of this state for at least five years immediately preceding his election or appointment.

(b) A vacancy in the appellate court shall be filled by appointment by the governing body of the city.

The appointee serves until the next regular municipal election, and at that election the vacancy for the unexpired or full term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the city.

(c) The appellate judge shall take the oath of office required for a municipal judge.

(d) An appointed or elected judge of the appellate court may not be removed from office except in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by law for county judges and as provided by Article V, Section 1-a, of the Texas Constitution.

(e) The judge of the appellate court is entitled to compensation from the city as set by the governing body of the city. The judge's compensation may not be diminished but may be increased during his term of office.

(f) The City of El Paso shall provide the appellate court with necessary clerical help. The judge of the appellate court and the city may agree that the judge of the appellate court will provide for his own clerical help, and in that event the judge is entitled to additional reasonable compensation as agreed on with the city.

Seal

Sec. 3.06. The seal of the appellate court shall be the same as that provided by law for municipal courts, except that the seal shall contain the words "Municipal Court of Appeals of the City of El Paso," and the seal shall be judicially noticed.

Special Appellate Judge

Sec. 3.07. (a) If the judge of the appellate court is unable to act, the governing body of the city may appoint a person or the appellant and the city attorney, in a particular case, may agree on a person to serve as the special appellate court judge. The special appellate court judge has the powers and duties of the office and is entitled to receive the same compensation as is payable to the regular appellate court judge for serving as a special appellate court judge.

(b) A municipal judge or associate municipal judge may not be appointed or selected as a special appellate court judge.

(c) Except as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, an appointment of a special appellate court judge automatically terminates when the regular appellate court judge returns to duty.

(d) If a judge of the appellate court is disqualified from hearing a particular case, the governing body of the city may appoint a person or the appellant and the city attorney may agree on a person to serve as the special appellate court judge. A special appellate court judge appointed or selected under this subsection is entitled to receive the same daily compensation as is payable to the regular appellate court judge for each day he works on the case he was appointed or selected to hear. An appointment automatically terminates at the time the mandate or mandates issue in the case he was appointed to hear.

(e) A special appellate court judge must have the qualifications required of the regular appellate court judge and shall, before he begins serving as a special appellate court judge, take the oath of office required for a municipal judge.

Rules

Sec. 3.08. The judge of the appellate court may make and publish rules of appellate procedure as to criminal appeals and matters related to those appeals not inconsistent with this Act or law.

New Trial

Sec. 3.09. (a) A motion for a new trial is not necessary to authorize an appeal.

(b) If a motion for new trial is made, it must be filed not later than the 10th day after the date of the rendition of the judgment of conviction.

(c) One or more amended motions for new trial may be filed without leave of court before any preceding motion for new trial filed by the movant is overruled if the motion is filed not later than 15 days after the date of the rendition of the judgment of conviction.

(d) If an original or amended motion for new trial is not determined by written order signed not later than 20 days after the date of the rendition of the judgment of conviction, the motion is overruled by operation of law.

Right of Appeal

Sec. 3.10. A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The El Paso Municipal Court of Appeals has jurisdiction over appeals from the municipal courts, and all appeals from convictions in the municipal court must be prosecuted in the appellate court, the court of appeals, or the court of criminal appeals by the city attorney or his assistants.

No De Novo Appeals

Sec. 3.11. An appeal from the municipal court may not be taken to a trial de novo in the appellate court.

Perfecting Appeal

Sec. 3.12. (a) A defendant, as a condition of perfecting an appeal to the appellate court, must file an appeal bond, unless the defendant is in custody. An appeal may be perfected by timely filing with the municipal court clerk an appeal bond that meets the requirements of this Act. It is not necessary to file a notice of appeal. If the defendant is in custody, the appeal is perfected when notice of appeal is given as provided by Article 44.08, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

(b) At the same time the defendant files the appeal bond, the defendant shall pay to the clerk of the municipal court a $25 appellate court docket fee. The clerk collects the fee on behalf of the appellate court.

(c) The appeal bond must be filed not later than the 10th day after overruling of the motion or amended motion for new trial, or if there is no motion or amended motion for new trial, not later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction.

(d) For good cause shown, not later than the 100th day after the date of rendition of the judgment of conviction, the appellate court or the court of appeals may permit the filing of an appeal bond or the giving of notice of appeal in the municipal court even though the time limits set under this section have expired.

(e) Except for the limitation contained in Subsection (d) of this section, for good cause shown, the appellate court may extend any time limits set in this Act for the appellate process.

(f) In a case in which an appellant or the prosecutor files a motion in the appellate court, the opposite party shall be given an opportunity to answer the motion under time limits and conditions set by the appellate court rules.

(g) The appellate court shall waive the $25 appellate court docket fee if the appellate court finds after hearing that the defendant is unable to pay the fee. The defendant must file and personally sign an affidavit that he is unable to pay. The defendant must file the affidavit not later than the 10th day after the record on appeal is filed in the appellate court. The affidavit of inability to pay must contain reasonable information as the appellate court may require by rules. The prosecutor may controvert, under time limits and conditions set by the appellate court rules, the affidavit of inability to pay the docket fee and may call the appellant as a witness on that issue.

Appeal Bonds and Forfeitures

Sec. 3.13. (a) If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal is not perfected unless an appeal bond is filed within the time limits set under Section 3.12 of this Act or any extension of a time limit as provided by Section 3.12 of this Act. The trial court has no jurisdiction to grant extensions of any time limits set by this Act.

(b) The appeal bond must be set in an amount that is at least $50, but not more than double the amount of the fine and costs adjudged against the defendant.

(c) The appeal bond is sufficient if:

- (1) it is made payable to the State of Texas;
- (2) the defendant and his sureties bind themselves that the defendant will appear before any court or magistrate before whom the case is pending at any time and place where his presence may be required under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, or by the court or magistrate;

(3) the bond is signed by name or mark by the principal personally and the sureties, if any;

(4) the defendant's name and full residential mailing address and the name and residence or business mailing address of the sureties, if any, are printed or typed legibly on the appeal bond; and

(5) it meets the requirements of a bail bond under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, except as otherwise provided in this Act.

(d) The rules governing forfeitures of bail govern appeal bonds. The forfeiture and collection of the appeal bonds are in the municipal court and not in the appellate court. The municipal court clerk shall issue citation in appeal bond forfeiture cases under rules that govern citation in the county court. The clerk shall charge the same court costs as are charged in county court for bond forfeitures.

(e) Appeal bonds payable to the State of Texas and costs in connection with the appeal bond forfeiture that are collected in the municipal court shall be paid into the City of El Paso municipal treasury for the use and benefit of the city.

(f) The city attorney or his assistant shall represent the state in all appeal bond forfeiture cases in municipal court and the municipal court has jurisdiction over matters in connection with appeal bond forfeitures taken in a municipal court.

Effect of Appeal

Sec. 3.14. On the filing of the appeal bond in the municipal court, all further proceedings in the trial court, except as to any matter ordered to be heard by the appellate court in the trial court, and the transmission of the record on appeal to the appellate court, are suspended until the mandate of the appellate court is received by the trial court.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 3.15. (a) All original papers, orders, and exhibits filed in the municipal court, the transcript of proceedings or statement of facts, if any, a copy of the judgment of conviction, the appeal bond or notice of appeal, and a certificate from the municipal court clerk as to whether the appellate court docket fee was paid constitute the record on appeal.

(b) On the filing of the appeal bond or notice of appeal, the municipal court clerk shall immediately prepare the record on appeal under his hand and seal of the court. The record on appeal shall be assembled and its pages shall be numbered consecutively. The municipal court clerk shall prepare an index showing the location of each document in the record on appeal. In making the record on appeal all proceedings shall be entered in the order of time in which they occurred, except that any statement of fact shall be contained in a separate volume.

Transmission of Record

Sec. 3.16. (a) Immediately after the filing of the appeal bond or the notice of appeal if notice of appeal is required under Section 3.12 of this Act, the municipal court clerk shall prepare and transmit the record on appeal to the appellate court.

(b) If the municipal court clerk fails to transmit any matter as part of the record on appeal, the appellate court may at any time require the municipal court clerk to transmit that matter in a supplemental record on appeal.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 3.17. (a) If the defendant wants all or any portion of a transcription of the court reporter's notes included in the record, he must file a written notice requesting the inclusion with the municipal court clerk at the time he files his appeal bond. The defendant shall serve the prosecutor with a copy of the notice. The defendant has the responsibility of obtaining the transcription from the court reporter and furnishing it to the appellate court clerk in duplicate not later than the 30th day after the appeal bond is filed. The appellate court shall order the reporter to make the transcription without charge to the appellant if the appellate court finds after a hearing in response to an affidavit by the appellant that he is unable to pay or give security for the transcription. The affidavit must be signed by the appellant, must be filed with the appellate court not later than the 10th day after the appeal bond is filed, and must contain reasonable information as required by appellate court rules. The prosecutor may controvert, under time limits and conditions set by the appellate court rules, the affidavit of inability to pay for the statement of facts and may call the appellant as a witness on that issue. On certificate of the appellate court that this service has been rendered, the City of El Paso shall pay for the transcription from the city's general fund.

(b) The appellant or the prosecutor may file an objection to the record on appeal in the appellate court at the time the briefs on appeal are filed. An objection to the record on appeal must with particularity show how the objection is relevant to the issues on appeal. The appellate court shall set by rule the time limits and conditions for any response to an objection to the record on appeal. If the appellate court finds from the objections to the record, after consideration of any response, that a supplemental record or any other modification of the record is necessary to make the record correct, with or without objection from either party, and whether or not on the appellate court's own motion, the appellate court shall order the trial court to:

(1) hear the objections and make findings of fact under time limits and conditions that the appellate court considers just; and

(2) forward the findings of fact to the appellate court for inclusion in the record on appeal.

(c) Original papers transmitted in the record on appeal shall be returned to the municipal court clerk on final disposition of the case. The appellate court clerk shall preserve copies of briefs and other papers originally filed in the appellate court, except that the clerk shall return the statement of facts to the municipal court clerk.

Bill of Exception

Sec. 3.18. A party desiring to have the record disclose some action, testimony, evidence proceeding, objection, exception, or other event or occurrence not otherwise shown by the record may utilize a bill of exception under time limits and conditions set by the appellate court rules. Subsections (b), (c), and (d), Section 6, Article 40.09, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, govern bills of exception and statements of fact in the municipal court and appellate court. The appellate court may order the trial court to:

(1) hear any matter in connection with a bill of exception under time limits and conditions the appellate court considers just; and

(2) forward the matter to the appellate court for inclusion in the record on appeal.

Agreed Statement

Sec. 3.19. The parties may agree on a brief statement of the case and of the facts proven or the evidence presented at the trial to the truth of fact as will enable the appellate court to determine whether there is error in the trial. The agreed statement shall be filed with the appellate court in lieu of the statement of facts.

Docketing of Appeal

Sec. 3.20. (a) On receipt of the appeal bond and record on appeal, transmitted by the municipal court clerk pursuant to Section 3.16 of this Act, the clerk of the appellate court shall enter the appeal on the appellate docket.

(b) The appellate court shall examine all appeal bonds filed with the record on appeal immediately after an appeal is placed on the appellate court docket and shall approve the appeal bond provided it is not defective in form or substance and the surety or sureties are sufficient under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965. If the appellate court does not approve the appeal bond, the appellate court shall allow the appellant to amend the bond by filing a new bond under time limits and conditions set by the appellate court.

Dismissal for Failure to Prosecute

Sec. 3.21. (a) If an appellant fails to pay the appellate court docket fee, fails to file his brief within the time provided by this Act, or within the time as extended, files an appeal bond that is defective as to form or substance, files an appeal bond that has an insufficient surety or sureties, or otherwise fails to comply with this Act or the rules of the appellate court, the prosecutor may move for dismissal of the appeal or the appellate court may give notice of intent to dismiss on its own motion. The appellate court shall issue a notice to the appellant and his counsel, if any, that on the expiration of 10 days from the date specified in the notice, the appeal may be dismissed for want of prosecution unless before that date the default is remedied. If the default is remedied within the time period, the appellate court may not dismiss the appeal. If the default is not remedied within the time period, the appellate court may enter an order dismissing the appeal for want of prosecution.

(b) The appellate court shall dismiss an appeal if the appeal bond is not filed within the time limits set in this Act or within an extension of the time limits and shall adjudge all costs against the appellant.

(c) A copy of an order dismissing an appeal for want of prosecution shall be sent to the municipal court clerk as the mandate and must include the amount of costs adjudged against the appellant.

Appellant's Brief

Sec. 3.22. Not later than the 10th day after the filing of the appeal bond in municipal court, the appellant shall file with the clerk of the appellate court the original of his appellate brief and as many copies of the brief as are required by the rules of the appellate court. The appellant's brief must conform to the requirement for an appellant's brief filed under Section 9, Article 40.09, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965. However, if the appellant timely files a notice of his request for the record on appeal to contain a statement of facts, his appellant brief is due not later than the 10th day after the day the statement of facts is filed in the appellate court. If the appellant fails to file the statement of facts within the time limits of Section 3.17 of this Act, the appellant's brief is due not later than the 30th day after the appeal bond is filed with the municipal court.

Prosecutor's Brief

Sec. 3.23. Not later than the 10th day after the appellant files his brief with the appellate court, the prosecutor shall file with the clerk of the appellate court the original of his appellant brief and as many copies as are required by the rule of the appellate court.

Briefs and Statements of Fact in General

Sec. 3.24. (a) Each party, on filing his brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall deliver a true copy to the opposing party or the opposing party's counsel.

(b) The appellant's and the state's briefs and the statement of facts must conform to the requirement of Texas Rules of Post Trial and Appellate Procedure in Criminal Cases for briefs and statements of facts in the courts of appeals, unless the rules of the court of appeals of the Eighth Supreme Judicial District or the rules of the court of criminal appeals provide otherwise.

Oral Argument

Sec. 3.25. (a) Oral argument is allowed in all cases unless under appellate court rules, after examination of the briefs and record, the appellate court finds in writing that oral argument is not necessary.

(b) An appellate court rule providing a method for the court to find that oral argument is not necessary must provide each party with an opportunity to file a statement setting forth the reasons why oral argument should be heard.

(c) The court shall allow oral argument unless:

- (1) the appeal is frivolous;
- (2) the dispositive issue or set of issues has been recently authoritatively decided; or
- (3) the facts and legal arguments are adequately presented in the briefs and record and the decisional process would not be significantly aided by oral argument.

Costs

Sec. 3.26. If an appeal is dismissed for failure to pay the appellate court docket fee or for any other reason, the costs, including the $25 appellate court docket fee, shall be taxed against the appellant unless otherwise ordered by the appellate court. If a judgment of conviction is affirmed, costs shall be taxed against the appellant. If a judgment is reversed, the $25 appellate court docket fee paid by the appellant shall be returned by the city to the appellant, but in all other cases costs may not be awarded against the city. The costs shall be set out in the mandate of the appellate court and collected in the same manner the fine is collected.

Disposition on Appeal; Presumptions; Decision

Sec. 3.27. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, may reverse and remand for a new trial, may reverse and dismiss the case, may reform or correct the judgment, may abate the appeal or may dismiss the appeal, or may enter any other appropriate order, as the law and the nature of the case require.

(b) Unless the following matters were made an issue in the trial court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of the facts, the appellate court shall presume that:

- (1) venue was proven in the court below;
- (2) the jury was properly impaneled and sworn;
- (3) the defendant was arraigned;
- (4) the defendant pleaded to the complaint; and
- (5) the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented and a judgment shall be entered on the opinion or order. If an assignment of error is overruled, no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision and precedent if it exists. The clerk of the appellate court shall mail copies of the decision and judgment of the appellate court to the parties and to the clerk of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

(d) After the decision of the appellate court is delivered, a party desiring a rehearing must present, not later than the 10th day after the day the decision is delivered, to the court a motion for rehearing. The motion must distinctly specify the grounds relied on for rehearing and must be accompanied by written argument in behalf of the motion. Oral argument in support of the motion is not permitted. A reply to a motion for rehearing need not be filed unless requested by the court. If a motion for rehearing is granted, the court may make final disposition of the case without reargument, may order the case resubmitted, with or without oral argument, or may issue other orders appropriate under the circumstances of the particular case. A second motion for rehearing may not be filed by the losing party unless otherwise provided by appellate court rules.

(e) Immediately after a decision of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of that court shall issue a mandate and a bill of costs in the case to the trial court unless directed to withhold the mandate by the appellate court.

(f) In the event a decision of the appellate court is appealed to a court of appeals, the appellate court on receipt of the mandate or other order from the court of appeals shall immediately comply with the order or mandate by issuing its own order or mandate and bill of costs, as the case may be. When a decision of a court of appeals becomes final, the clerk of that court shall issue a mandate in the case to the appellate court. A decision of a court of appeals is final as provided under Article 42.04a, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

(g) Original papers transmitted as the record on appeal to the court of appeals, on final disposition of the case in the court of appeals or the court of criminal appeals, shall be returned to the court clerk from which they were received. The clerk of each court shall preserve copies of briefs and papers originally filed in that court.

(h) The clerk of the municipal court and the clerk of the appellate court shall keep a copy of each decision of the appellate court in a volume or volumes with an index so that the public can inspect the decisions of the appellate court without the necessity of inspecting individual records of each case.

(i) When the mandate of the appellate court is received by the clerk of the municipal court, the clerk shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed or the appeal is dismissed, a proceeding is not necessary after filing the appellate court mandate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a caus for the defendant, or to issue an execution against the defendant's property.

(j) If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court, and the defendant shall continue on his appeal bond and shall appear for trial on notification mailed to his address on the appeal bond.

Appeals to Court of Appeals; Records

Sec. 3.28. (a) If a judgment is affirmed or an appeal is dismissed by the appellate court, the appellant may appeal to the court of appeals if the fine assessed against the appellant in the municipal court exceeded $100 or if the appellant has placed in issue in his brief filed in the appellate court the constitutionality of the statute or ordinance on which his conviction is based. If the constitutionality of a statute or an ordinance is in issue, the court of appeals may only consider that issue and not other issues that were before the appellate court.

(b) To perfect an appeal from a decision of the appellate court to the court of appeals, an appellant shall file a written notice of appeal in the appellate court:

(1) not later than the 10th day after the final ruling on a motion for rehearing; or

(2) if there is no motion for rehearing, not later than the 10th day after the rendition of the decision.

(c) A decision of the appellate court is final on the 15th day after the ruling on the final motion for rehearing or after the rendition of the decision if no motion for rehearing is filed.

(d) An appeal to the court of appeals is governed by provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the court of appeals except that:

(1) on the filing of a notice of appeal to the court of appeals, the appellate court clerk shall immediately prepare under his hand and seal of the appellate court a transcript of all papers originally filed in the appellate court and a copy of the opinion and judgment of the appellate court; and

(2) immediately on completion of his transcript, the appellate court clerk shall transmit the record on appeal, briefs on appeal, and his transcript to the court of appeals.

(e) Unless the rules of the court of criminal appeals or the court of appeals provide otherwise, the record on appeal to the court of appeals consists of those documents described in Subdivision (2) of Subsection (d) of this section.

(f) For good cause shown, the court of appeals may extend the 10-day period under Subsection (b) of this section for giving written notice of appeal.

ARTICLE IV. TRANSITION PROVISIONS

Transition Provision

Sec. 4.01. (a) The person serving as judge of a municipal court of record in the City of El Paso on the date this Act takes effect continues in office as judge of that municipal court of record until the general city election for the City of El Paso in April, 1985, and until his successor is elected and has qualified. A city ordinance creating municipal courts of record under Chapter 410, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 1200ee-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is continued in effect as if the ordinance were passed under this Act.

(b) This Act governs all complaints filed in the municipal courts after the effective date of this Act and governs all further proceedings then pending in the municipal courts and county courts at law of El Paso County except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section.

(c) If in the opinion of the municipal courts, the appellate court, or the county courts at law of El Paso County application of this Act in a particular case pending in any court when this Act takes effect would not be feasible or would work an injustice, the law that existed before the effective date of this Act applying to the municipal courts of record applies, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

Creation and Continuation of Appellate Court

Sec. 4.02. If on the effective date of this Act there is in existence in the City of El Paso under city ordinance a municipal court of record in accordance with Chapter 410, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 1200ee-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the appellate court is created on that date. If there are no municipal courts of record in existence on that date, the appellate court is created on the date that a municipal court of record is created. The appellate court continues in existence as long as there exists a municipal court of record. If the municipal court of record ordinance is repealed, the appellate court continues in existence so long as there are any appeals before it. A reversal and remand for new trial or other order returning a case to the trial court shall be to the municipal court that replaces the municipal courts of record.

Initial Appointment of Appellate Judge

Sec. 4.03. The governing body of the City of El Paso shall appoint a judge of the appellate court, who shall serve beginning at the creation of the court as provided by Section 4.02 of this Act until the next regular municipal election for the City of El Paso and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

Pending Appeals

Sec. 4.04. The judges of the county courts at law of El Paso County shall on the creation of the appellate court as provided by Section 4.02 of this Act transfer all appeals pending from the municipal courts to the appellate court. Appeals that have not yet been filed in the County Court at Law of El Paso County, Texas, shall be filed in the appellate court. An appeal in which an opinion has been written by a county court at law of El Paso that is pending shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date established by Section 4.02 of this Act, and those laws are continued in effect for that purpose.

Alternate Appellate Procedure

Sec. 4.05. (a) If the El Paso Municipal Court of Appeals created by this Act is held unconstitutional or invalid, all appeals under this Act shall be considered as taken to the county courts at law of El Paso County as provided by this section. Those appeals shall be docketed as provided by county courts at law rules. The county courts at law of El Paso County have jurisdiction over those appeals and this Act applies to those appeals. One county court at law of El Paso County shall act as the appellate court. That court shall be designated from time to time as the appellate court by the majority vote of the judges of the county courts at law of El Paso County. All appeals pending in the appellate court on the date that any decision becomes final holding the municipal court of appeals unconstitutional or invalid shall be transferred by the appellate court to the county courts at law of El Paso County and all decisions of the appellate court that have become final on or before that date are valid.

(b) If Subsection (a) of this section takes effect, a reference to "appellate court" in this Act means the county court at law of El Paso County that is designated as the appellate court under this section except that a provision of this Act that is inconsistent with the laws, statutes, and rules applicable to creation and organization of the county courts at law of El Paso County will not apply, and an appeal is not tried de novo in the county court at law.

Art. 1200ff. Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 822, ch. 369, § 45, eff. Aug. 27, 1979

Art. 1200ff-1. Fort Worth

Creation; Formation by Ordinance; Additional Courts

Sec. 1. There are created municipal courts of record in the city of Fort Worth to be held in that city if the governing body of the city, by legally adopted ordinance, finds and determines that the conditions of the dockets of the other courts of the county are such as to require the formation of such municipal courts in order to properly dispose of the cases arising in the city. The governing body of the city may by ordinance determine the number of municipal courts that are required in order to dispose of the cases arising in the city, in which case the governing body of the city may establish as many municipal courts as it considers necessary, and the ordinance establishing the municipal courts shall designate the municipal courts as Municipal Court No. 1, Municipal Court No. 2, and as each municipal court is established, it shall be designated with the next succeeding number. Municipal courts of record shall not exist concurrently with municipal courts that are not courts of record in the city of Fort Worth.

Jurisdiction; Writs; Terms; Exchange of Benches

Sec. 2. (a) Municipal courts created under the provisions of this Act shall have jurisdiction within the territorial limits of the city in all criminal cases arising under the ordinances of the city and shall also have concurrent jurisdiction with any justice of the peace in any precinct in which the city is situated in criminal cases arising within such territorial limits under the criminal laws of this state in which punishment is only by fine not exceeding $200. Municipal courts shall also have jurisdiction over cases arising outside the territorial limits of the city under the ordinances authorized by Subdivision 19, Article 1175, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(b) The judge of a municipal court may grant writs of mandamus, injunction, attachment, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court, and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court.

(c) Municipal courts shall hold no terms and may sit at any time for the transaction of the business of the courts.

(d) The judges of the municipal courts may, at any time, exchange benches and may, at any time, sit and act for and with each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in their courts, and any acts thus performed by any of the judges shall be valid and binding on all parties to such cases, matters, and proceedings.

Jurisdiction Conformed

Sec. 3. The jurisdiction of all courts exercising criminal jurisdiction is conformed to the terms and provisions of this Act.

Judges; Qualifications; Election; Compensation; Vacancies; Bond and Oath

Sec. 4. (a) Each municipal court shall be presided over by a judge, who shall be known as the "municipal judge," who shall be a licensed attorney in good standing with two or more years of experience in the practice of law in this state and in the county in which the municipal court is located and a citizen of the United States and of this state. The judge shall be a resident of the city at the time of the election and shall maintain his or her residence within the city during the judge's tenure of office. Each municipal judge shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city for a term of two years, unless the city by charter amendment provides for a four-year term as provided by Article XI, Section 11, of the Texas Constitution. The governing body of the city may, by the procedure provided by Subsection (c) of this section, designate a qualified person to serve as judge of each municipal court of record created by it until the next regular municipal election.

(b) Municipal judges shall receive a salary, to be set by the governing body of the city, which may not be diminished during their terms of office. A municipal judge may not be removed from office during the term for which the judge was elected except for cause to the same extent and under the same rules that judges of the county courts may be removed from office.

(c) A vacancy in the office of municipal judge by death, resignation, creation of a new court, or otherwise shall be filled by appointment by a majority of the governing body, and the person appointed shall serve only until the next regular municipal election, at which time his or her successor shall be elected. An appointee may succeed himself or herself, if elected, as may judges regularly elected.

(d) A majority of the governing body of the city may appoint any number of qualified persons to act in the place of any municipal judge absent because of illness, family death or illness, continuing legal or judicial education programs, or otherwise. In the absence of a judge, the chief judge or his or her designate shall call on one of those persons to serve, and while serving the selectee shall have all the powers and discharge all the duties of the office and shall receive the same compensation that is payable to the regular municipal judge.

(e) Municipal judges shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by law relating to county judges.

(f) The chief judge of the municipal courts shall be the senior municipal judge in length of continuous service as judge.

Criminal Complaints

Sec. 5. All proceedings in municipal courts shall be commenced on original complaint filed by the city attorney of the city or the assistant city attorneys. All such complaints shall be prepared under the direction of the city attorney or his or her assistants.

Filing of Original Papers

Sec. 6. The clerk of the municipal courts, under the direction of the chief judge, shall file the original complaint and the original of all judgments, orders, motions, or other papers and proceedings in each case in a folder for permanent record. No separate minute book for the court is required, but the original papers filed with the clerk shall constitute the records of the courts. The clerk of the municipal courts shall cause to be noted on the outside of each case folder the following information:

- (1) the style of the action;
- (2) the nature of the offense charged;
- (3) the date the warrant was issued and return made thereon;
- (4) the time when the examination or trial was had, and if a trial, whether it was by a jury or before the judge of the court;
- (5) the trial settings;
- (6) the verdict of the jury, if any;
- (7) the judgment of the court, if any;
- (8) the motion for a new trial, if any, and the decision thereon;
- (9) if an appeal was taken; and
- (10) the time when and the manner in which the judgment and sentence were enforced.

Clerk; Duties

Sec. 7. The clerk of the municipal courts shall be appointed by the city manager with the consent of the governing body of the city and shall perform all duties in accordance with state statutes, the city charter, and city ordinances. It shall be the duty of the clerk or the clerk's deputies to keep the records of proceedings of the courts and to issue all processes and generally to do and perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of county courts exercising criminal jurisdiction insofar as the same may be applicable.

Court Reporter; Evidence Inadmissible in Civil Proceeding

Sec. 8. (a) For the purpose of preserving a record in all cases tried before the municipal courts, the judge of each court shall appoint an official court reporter, who shall be well-skilled in the profession and have the qualifications required of a court reporter in the courts as provided by the general laws of Texas. The reporter shall be a sworn officer of the court and shall hold the office at the pleasure of the judge at a salary to be fixed by the governing body of the city. The judge or judges of the courts may appoint the deputy official court reporters that are deemed necessary to promptly and efficiently dispose of the business of the courts. The court reporter shall perform duties under the direction and control of the municipal judge or judges. The court reporter shall take testimony in any case when a party or the judge requests it and no testimony shall be taken unless it is requested by a party or the judge.

(b) The testimony, exhibits, or evidence given by a witness in the course of a proceeding in the municipal courts shall be solely for the purpose of such proceeding or appeal therefrom, and in any other civil proceeding, evidence relating to such testimony, exhibits, evidence, or reproductions thereof shall be privileged and not admissible for any purpose.

Court Costs

Sec. 9. No court costs shall be assessed or collected by any municipal court in any case tried in the courts, except warrant fees, capias fees, and other fees authorized for municipal courts.

Service of Process

Sec. 10. All processes issuing out of municipal courts may be served by a policeman or warrant officer of the city or by any peace officer under the same rules as are provided for service by sheriffs and constables of process issuing out of a county court so far as applicable.

Prosecutor; Bailiff

Sec. 11. All prosecutions in municipal courts shall be conducted by the city attorney of the city or the assistant city attorneys. The chief of police of the city shall, in person or by designated officer or deputy, attend the court and perform the duties of a bailiff.

Form of Complaint

Sec. 12. Proceedings in municipal courts shall be commenced by complaint filed by the city attorney, or his or her assistants, which shall begin: "In the name and by authority of the State of Texas" and shall conclude "against the peace and dignity of the state." All complaints shall be prepared under the direction of the city attorney or his or her assistants and may be signed by any credible person on information and belief, sworn to before a notary public, the city attorney, an assistant city attorney, the clerk of the court, or any deputy clerk, each of whom, for that purpose, shall have power to administer the oath. The complaint shall be in writing and shall state:

(1) the name of the accused, if known, and if unknown, shall describe him or her as accurately as practicable;

(2) the offense with which the accused is charged in plain and intelligible words;

(3) facts showing that the place where the offense is charged to have been committed is within the jurisdiction of the municipal court; and

(4) facts showing, from the date of the offense stated therein, that the offense is not barred by limitations. All pleadings in the municipal courts shall be in writing and filed with the clerk of such courts.

Jury Trial; Selection of Jurors

Sec. 13. (a) Every person brought before the municipal courts and charged with an offense shall be entitled to be tried by a lawful jury of six persons. The municipal judge may set certain days of each week or month for the trial of jury cases. Juries for the court shall be selected by the following procedure. On the implementation of this Act by the governing body of the city and between the 1st and 15th days of August of each year thereafter, the tax assessor and collector of the city, or one of his or her deputies, and the city secretary, or one of his or her assistants, shall meet together and select, from the list of qualified jurors in the city, the jurors for service in the municipal courts for the ensuing year. The list of jurors shall be taken from the voters registration list of the city. The officers shall place on separate cards of uniform size and color the names of all persons who are known to be qualified jurors under the law residing in the city, placing also on the cards, whenever possible, the post office address of each juror so selected. The cards containing the names shall be deposited in a jury wheel to be provided for that purpose by the governing body of the city. The wheel shall be constructed of any durable material, shall be so constructed as to revolve freely on its axle, and may be equipped with a motor to revolve the wheel so as to thoroughly mix the cards. The wheel shall be locked at all times, except when in use as herein-after provided, by the use of two separate locks so arranged that the key to one will not open the other lock. The wheel and the clasps into which the locks are fitted shall be arranged so that the wheel cannot be opened unless both of the locks are unlocked. The keys to the locks shall be kept, one by the city secretary and the other by the clerk of the municipal courts. The city secretary and the clerk of the municipal courts shall not open the wheel or permit it to be opened by any person except at the time and in the manner and by the persons herein specified. The city secretary and clerk shall keep the wheel when not in use in a safe and secure place where it cannot be tampered with.

(b) Not less than 10 days before January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1 of each year, the clerk of the municipal courts, or one of the clerk's deputies, and the city secretary, or one of the secretary's assistants, in the presence and under the direction of one of the municipal judges shall draw from the wheel containing the names of jurors, after the wheel has been turned and the cards thoroughly mixed, one by one the names of jurors to provide the number directed by the judges for each week of the three months next ensuing for which a jury may be required, and shall record the names as they are drawn on a separate sheet of paper for each week for which jurors may be required. At the drawing, no persons other than those above named shall be permitted to be present. The officers attending the drawing shall not divulge to any person the name of any person that may be drawn as a juror. If at any time during the next three months and prior to the next drawing date it appears that the list already drawn will be exhausted before the expiration of three months, additional lists for as many additional weeks as the judges may direct will be drawn in the same manner. The several lists of names so drawn shall be certified under the hand of the clerk of the municipal courts, or the deputy doing the drawing, and the municipal judge in whose presence the names were drawn, to be the lists drawn by him or her for that quarter and shall be sealed in separate envelopes endorsed "List no. _____ of the petit jurors drawn on the ____ day of _____, 19____, for the Municipal Courts of _____." The clerk doing the drawing shall write his or her name across the seals of the envelopes and deliver them to the judge, who shall inspect the envelopes to see that they are properly endorsed and shall then deliver them to the clerk or the clerk's deputy, and the clerk shall then immediately file them away in some safe and secure place in his or her office under lock and key. When the names are drawn for jury service, the cards containing the names shall be sealed in separate envelopes endorsed "Cards containing the names of jurors list no. _____ of the petit jurors drawn on the ____ day of _____, 19____, for the Municipal Courts of _____." Each envelope shall be retained unopened by the clerk until after the jury selected from the corresponding list has been impaneled. After the jurors so impaneled have served four or more days, the envelope containing the cards bearing the names of the jurors on that list shall then be opened by the clerk or the clerk's deputy. Those cards bearing the names of persons who have not been impaneled and who have not served as many as four days shall be immediately returned to the wheel by the clerk or the deputy, and the cards bearing the names of the persons serving as many as four days shall be put in a box provided for that purpose for the use of the officers who shall next select the jurors from the wheel. If any of the lists drawn are not used, the clerk or the deputy shall open the envelopes containing the cards bearing the names of the unused lists immediately after the expiration of the three-month period and return the cards to the wheel. A juror serving on a jury in the court shall receive not less than $10 for each day and for each fraction of a day the juror attends the court as a juror, and in no event less than that paid in county courts.

(c) In lieu of the preceding method of jury selection, a majority of the judges of the municipal courts of the city may adopt a plan binding on all such judges for the selection of persons for jury service with the aid of mechanical or electronic means. If such a plan is adopted, the foregoing provisions of this section dealing with the selection of petit juries by jury wheel shall not apply. A plan so adopted shall include the following requirements:

(1) the names taken for jury purposes shall be names of registered voters in the city;

(2) provision of a fair, impartial, and objective method of selecting persons for jury service;

(3) designation of the clerk of the court as the official to be in charge of the jury selection process and providing the duties of the clerk in that process; and

(4) specification that a true and complete written list showing the names and addresses of the persons summoned to begin jury service on a particular date shall be filed with the clerk of the court at least 10 days prior to the date the persons are to begin jury service.

(d) In lieu of either of the foregoing methods of petit jury selection, a majority of the judges of the municipal courts of the city may adopt a plan binding on all the judges for the selection of persons for jury panels from a central jury pool maintained by the county in which the city is located to provide petit juries for the district courts, county courts, county courts at law, and justice courts of the county, if any such pool exists. If such a plan is adopted, the provisions of this section dealing with the selection of petit juries by jury wheel or mechanical or electronic means do not apply. A plan so adopted shall include the following requirements:

(1) the persons taken from the central jury pool shall be registered voters in the city;

(2) provision of a fair, impartial, and objective method of selecting persons for jury panels from the pool;

(3) designation of the clerk of the municipal courts as the official to be in charge of the selection process from such pool, except that the clerk may, with permission from such county employee, appoint the county employee in charge of the central jury pool as the clerk's deputy for this purpose; and

(4) provision for compensation to the county for juror fees paid by the county to jury panel members selected from the central jury pool for municipal court jury panels, if the fees are paid to the selectees by the county rather than by the city.

Judicial Notice

Sec. 14. Municipal courts shall take judicial notice of all the city ordinances and the corporate limits of that city in all cases tried in the courts.

Rules of Procedure

Sec. 15. Except as modified by this Act, the trial of cases before municipal courts shall be governed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, applicable to county courts.

Bonds

Sec. 16. All bonds taken in proceedings in the courts shall be payable to the State of Texas for the use and benefit of the city.

Judgment and Sentence

Sec. 17. The judgment and sentence, in case of conviction before municipal courts, shall be in the name of the State of Texas, and shall recover from the defendant the fine and costs for the use and benefit of the city. Except when otherwise ordered by the court, the court shall require that the defendant remain in custody of the chief of police of such city until the fine and costs are paid and shall order that execution issue to collect the fines and penalties.

Appellate Courts

Sec. 18. Appeals from municipal courts shall be heard by the county courts having appellate criminal jurisdiction.

No Appeal by State

Sec. 19. The state shall have no right of appeal.

Right of Appeal

Sec. 20. A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in a municipal court under the rules hereinafter described, and a motion for a new trial shall be prerequisite to the right of appeal from a municipal court.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 21. A motion for a new trial must be made within five days after the rendition of judgment and sentence and not thereafter. Such motion must be in writing and filed with the clerk of the court.

No New Trial for State

Sec. 22. In no case shall the state be entitled to a new trial.

Notice of Appeal; Bond

Sec. 23. After an order overruling a motion for new trial, an appeal may be taken by paying the $10 fee for preparation of the transcript which shall be noted on the docket of the court. The fee must be paid within 10 days after the order overruling the motion for a new trial is rendered. An appeal may not be taken until the required bail bond has been given and approved by the court. The bail bond must be filed with the court within 10 days after the order of the court refusing a new trial has been rendered and not afterwards.

Bail on Appeal

Sec. 24. In appeals from the judgments and sentence of a municipal court, the defendant shall, if the defendant is in custody, be committed to jail unless the defendant gives bail, to be approved by the judge of the municipal court in an amount not less than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against him or her, payable to the State of Texas for the use and benefit of the city. Bail shall not in any case be for a sum less than $100. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant shall make personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instanter, if the court is in session, and if the court is not in session, then at its next session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Perfecting Appeal

Sec. 25. Appeals from municipal courts may be perfected by filing the bail bond provided for in Section 24 of this Act on approval by the municipal court.

Record and Briefs on Appeal

Sec. 26. In view of the crowded conditions of the dockets of the courts, the record and briefs on appeal in a case appealed from a municipal court shall be limited so far as possible to the questions relied on for reversal.

Elements of the Record

Sec. 27. The record on appeal in a case appealed from a municipal court shall consist of a transcript.

Assignments of Error

Sec. 28. The motion for a new trial in a case appealed from a municipal court shall constitute the assignments of error on appeal. A ground of error not distinctly set forth in a motion for new trial shall be considered as waived.

Stipulation of Record on Appeal

Sec. 29. The city attorney, or the assistant city attorney, and the defendant, or the defendant's attorney, by written stipulation filed with the clerk of the municipal courts may designate the parts of the record, proceedings, and evidence to be included in the record on appeal.

Contents of Transcript

Sec. 30. The clerk of the municipal courts, under written instructions of the defendant, or the defendant's attorney, shall, after payment of the $10 preparation fee, prepare under his or her hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true copy of the proceedings in the municipal court, and, unless otherwise designated by agreement of the parties, shall include the following: (1) the complaint on which the trial was had; (2) the order of the court on any motions or exceptions; (3) the judgment of the court and the verdict of the jury; (4) any findings of fact or conclusions of law by the court; (5) the judgment of the court; (6) the motion for new trial and the order of the court thereon; (7) the notice of appeal; (8) any statement of the defendant or the city attorney as to the matter to be included in the record; (9) the bail bond; (10) the certified bill of costs; (11) any statement of facts; and (12) any signed paper designated as material by the defendant, or the defendant's attorney, or the city attorney or assistant city attorney. The defendant, or the defendant's attorney, may file with the clerk and deliver or mail to the city attorney, or assistant city attorney, a copy of the written instruction, and the city attorney, or assistant city attorney, may file and deliver or mail a written direction to the clerk to include in the transcript additional portions of proceedings in the trial court.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 31. (a) The statement of facts shall, except as hereinafter provided, consist of a transcription of the testimony of witnesses and bills of exception. The statement of facts shall be prepared by the court reporter of the municipal court at the request of any party or the court. The court reporter shall immediately notify all parties in writing that the request has been made. Copies of the statement of facts shall be provided all parties by the reporter and one copy shall be filed by the reporter with the clerk of the municipal courts to be forwarded immediately to the clerk of the appellate court. The transcription shall be in narrative form unless written notice of objection to narrative form is made by a party within five days of receiving notice that the transcription was requested.

(b) All matters not essential to the decision or the questions presented in the motion for new trial shall be omitted from a statement of facts. Formal parts of all exhibits and more than one copy of any document appearing in the transcript or the statement of facts may be excluded. All documents may be abridged by omitting or abbreviating a formal portion thereof.

(c) It shall be unnecessary for the statement of facts to be approved by the trial court or judge thereof when agreed to by the defendant, or the defendant's attorney, and the city attorney, or assistant city attorney.

(d) The cost of preparation of the statement of facts shall be paid by the requesting party, unless the requesting party is the State of Texas or the city. The cost, if paid by the defendant, is recovered by the defendant if the case is overturned or dismissed on appeal.

Agreed Statement of Case

Sec. 32. The defendant, or the defendant's attorney, and the city attorney, or assistant city attorney, may agree on a brief statement of the case and on the facts proven as will enable the appellate court to determine where there is error in the judgment of the trial court. Such statements shall be copied into the transcript in lieu of the proceedings themselves.

Date for Filing Record

Sec. 33. The transcript and statement of facts shall be filed with the clerk of the municipal courts within 60 days from the date of the payment of the $10 fee for preparation of the transcript and shall be promptly forwarded by the clerk of the municipal courts to the clerk of the court to which the appeal is taken.

Fee for Preparation of Record

Sec. 34. The defendant shall pay a fee of $10 to the clerk of the municipal courts for the preparation of the transcript. If the case is reversed on appeal, the $10 fee shall be refunded to the defendant.

Date for Filing Brief

Sec. 35. Briefs shall be filed with the clerk of the court to which an appeal is taken within 10 days of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts in the municipal court. At the same time, a true copy of the brief shall be provided to opposing counsel.

Hearing Appeals; Oral Arguments

Sec. 36. The court to which the appeal is taken shall hear and determine appeals from municipal courts at the earliest time it may be done, with due regard to the rights of parties and proper administration of justice. Oral arguments before the court shall be under such rules as the court may determine, and the parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral argument.

Disposition on Appeal

Sec. 37. A county court having jurisdiction of appeals from municipal courts may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require. Unless such matters were made an issue in the municipal court, or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts, the court shall presume that the venue was proven in the court below, that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn, that the defendant was arraigned and that he or she pleaded to the complaint, and that the court's charge was certified by the judge and filed by the clerk before it was read to the jury. In each case decided by the court having jurisdiction of appeals, the court shall deliver a written opinion either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled, no reason need be given by the court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the court shall set forth the reasons for such decision. Copies of the decision of the court shall be mailed by the clerk of the court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as rendered by the court.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings; Enforcement of Judgment

Sec. 38. When the judgment of the court having jurisdiction of appeals from municipal courts becomes final, the clerk of the court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and mail the certificate to the clerk of the municipal courts from which the appeal was taken. When the record is received by the clerk of the municipal courts, the clerk shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket of the municipal court. Where the judgment has been affirmed, no proceedings need be had after filing the record in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except forfeiture of the bond of the defendant, issuance of a caapias for the defendant, or an execution against the defendant's property.

Award of New Trial

Sec. 39. Where the appeal court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Appeal to Court of Appeals

Sec. 40. Appeals to the Court of Appeals from the decision of the court having jurisdiction of appeals from municipal courts, when permitted by law, shall be governed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, except that when an appeal is permitted by law, the transcript, briefs, and statement of facts filed in the court having jurisdiction of appeals from municipal courts shall constitute the transcript, briefs, and statement of facts before the Court of Appeals or as the rules of the Court of Criminal Appeals may provide in such cases.

Facilities of Court; Salaries

Sec. 41. (a) The municipal courts shall be held in the city at a place or places within the corporate limits of the city as may be designated by the governing body of the city.

(b) The governing body of the city shall provide suitable quarters for the courts, and all costs of providing courtrooms and office space for the courts, the clerk, and court reporters shall be paid for by the governing body of the city. All salaries paid to the judges, the clerk, court reporters, and employees of the municipal courts shall be paid by the governing body of the city.

Disposition of Fines, Fees, Costs, and Bonds

Sec. 42. All fines, fees, costs, and cash bonds in municipal courts shall be paid to the clerk of the municipal courts. The clerk of the municipal courts shall deposit all fines, fees, costs, and cash bonds directly into the general fund of the city.

Classification of Personnel

Sec. 43. The judges of municipal courts, the clerk and deputy clerks of the courts, and the court reporters of the municipal courts shall not be considered to be classified employees under civil service, charter, or ordinance provisions. However, the governing body of the city may provide by ordinance that all other employees of the municipal courts may be hired and paid as classified employees under the city civil service, charter, or ordinance provisions. The judges, clerk, deputy clerks, and court reporters may be authorized or required by the governing body of the city to participate in the retirement program of the city. The judges, clerk, deputy clerks, and court reporters of municipal courts shall receive the same vacation, sick leave, and other benefits as are provided for other nonclassified employees of the city under such regulations as may be provided by the governing body.

Vacation of Unnecessary Court

Sec. 44. After the establishment of municipal courts, if the governing body of the city shall, by legally adopted ordinance, find and determine that the condition of the dockets of the other courts of the county is such as not to require the existence of one or more municipal courts in order to properly dispose of the cases arising in the city, then the offices of municipal judge, clerk of the municipal courts, court reporters, and other employees of the courts may be declared vacated as of the end of the term for which the municipal court judges were last elected or appointed. In that event, any case pending in the municipal courts shall be transferred to the proper court having jurisdiction of the offense.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Art. 1200gg. Lubbock

Creation

Sec. 1. The governing body of the City of Lubbock may by ordinance establish the city's existing municipal courts as municipal courts of record in accordance with this Act. Additional municipal courts of record may be created and one or more judges for each court may be authorized by ordinance on a finding that an additional court or courts or additional judges are necessary to properly dispose of the cases arising in the city.

Jurisdiction; Writs

Sec. 2. (a) Municipal courts created under the provisions of this Act shall have jurisdiction within the territorial limits of the city in all criminal cases arising under the ordinances of the city and shall also have concurrent jurisdiction with any justice of the peace in any precinct in which the city is situated in criminal cases arising within such territorial limits under the criminal laws of this state in which punishment is only by fine not exceeding $200. Municipal courts shall also have jurisdiction over cases arising outside the territorial limits of the city under the ordinances authorized by Subdivision 19, Article 1175, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(b) The municipal court of record shall take judicial notice of all ordinances of the city.

(c) The judge of a municipal court may grant writs of mandamus, injunction, attachment, and all other necessary writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court.

Judges

Sec. 3. (a) Each municipal court shall be presided over by one or more judges to be known as "municipal judges."

(b) Each municipal judge shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city for a term of two years, unless the city by charter amendment provides for a four-year term as provided by Article XI, Section 11, of the Texas Constitution. The governing body of the city may appoint a person or persons with the qualifications required for a judge to serve as the judge or judges authorized for each newly created municipal court of record until the next regular city election.

(c) The judges or substitute judges of the municipal courts may at any time exchange benches and may at any time sit and act for or with each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in their courts. An act performed by any of the judges shall be valid and binding on all parties to the cases, matters, and proceedings.

(d) If there is more than one municipal judge in the city, the governing body of the city shall appoint one of the judges to be the presiding municipal judge of the city. If the city has a municipal judge who is either its only municipal judge or its only municipal judge who is not serving in a temporary or part-time capacity, that judge shall be the presiding municipal judge for all purposes of this Act.

(e) The presiding judge shall:

(1) maintain a central docket for all cases filed in the geographical limits of the city over which the municipal courts of the city have jurisdiction;

(2) provide for the distribution of cases from the central docket to the individual municipal judges in order that the business of the courts will be continually equalized and distributed among them;

(3) request the jurors needed for cases that are set for trial by jury in the municipal courts of record, which, as provided by Section 11(b) of this Act, shall be transferred to and serve in the municipal court as if summoned for the municipal court to which they are transferred;

(4) temporarily assign various judges or substitute judges of the municipal courts to exchange benches and to sit and act for each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in their courts when necessary for the expeditious disposition of the business of the courts;

(5) cause all dockets, books, papers, and other records of the municipal courts to be permanently kept and permit these records to be available for inspection at all reasonable times by any interested parties;

(6) cause to be maintained as part of the records of the municipal courts an index of municipal court judgments such as county clerks are required by law to prepare for criminal cases arising in county courts; and

(7) where necessary for the proper functioning of the municipal courts, provide for the preservation by microfilm of the records of the courts, subject to the same requirements provided by law for the preservation by microfilm of records under the custody of county clerks.

(f) A judge of a municipal court created under the provisions of this Act shall have been a licensed attorney in good standing in the practice of law in this state for a period of five years, shall be a citizen of the United States and of this state, and shall be required to satisfy the same residency requirements as those pertaining to a member of the city council of the City of Lubbock. No person may serve in the office of municipal judge while he or she holds any other office or employment in the government of the city, and the holding of the other office or employment by a person serving in the office of municipal judge shall create an immediate vacancy in the judicial office.

Salary

Sec. 4. A municipal judge is entitled to compensation by the city on a salary basis. The amount of the salary shall be determined by the governing body of the city and may not be diminished during the judge's term of office. The salary may not be based, directly or indirectly, on fines, fees, or costs that the municipal judge is required by law to collect during his or her term of office.

Vacancies; Temporary Replacements; Removal

Sec. 5. (a) When a vacancy in the office of municipal judge occurs, the governing body of the city shall appoint a person meeting the qualifications required by law for the position to fill the office of municipal judge for the unexpired term of the judge serving in that office prior to the vacancy. If a judge is temporarily unable to act for any reason, the governing body may appoint a person meeting the qualifications for the position to serve during the absence of the judge with all the powers and duties of the office and shall provide for the person's compensation.

(b) A municipal judge may be removed from office for cause to the same extent and under the same rules that judges of the county courts at law may be removed from office. A municipal judge is answerable to the governing body of the city only on budgetary matters.

(c) Each municipal judge shall comply with the same provisions for filing a financial statement as are required of other judges by Chapter 421, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Court Facilities

Sec. 6. The governing body of the city shall provide the courtrooms, jury rooms, offices and office furniture, libraries, legal books and materials, and other supplies and facilities that the governing body determines are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts.

Court Clerk

Sec. 7. The governing body of the city shall provide a clerk of the municipal courts and the deputy clerks, warrant officers, and other municipal court personnel that are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts. It is the duty of the clerk to keep the records of proceedings of the municipal courts and to issue all processes and generally to perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of the county courts at law exercising criminal jurisdiction, insofar as the same may be applicable. The clerk of the municipal courts and all other personnel shall perform the duties of the office under the direction and control of the presiding municipal judge.

Court Reporter

Sec. 8. (a) For the purpose of preserving a record in cases tried before the municipal court, the city shall provide a court reporter with the qualifications provided by law for official court reporters, whose compensation shall be determined by the chief administrative officer of the city on the recommendation of the presiding municipal judge.

(b) The record of proceedings may be preserved by written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or any combination of these methods. The court reporter is not required to take or record testimony in cases where neither the defendant, the prosecutor, nor the judge demands it.

Prosecutions by City Attorney

Sec. 9. All prosecutions in municipal courts shall be conducted by the city attorney of the city or his or her assistant or deputy.

Complaint

Sec. 10. (a) Proceedings in municipal courts shall be commenced by complaint, which shall begin: "In the name and by the authority of the State of Texas"; and shall conclude: "Against the peace and dignity of the State"; and if the offense is only covered by an ordinance, it may also conclude: "Contrary to the said ordinance." The municipal judge shall charge the jury in accordance with Subsection (a) of Section 11 of this Act. Complaints before the court may be sworn to before any officer authorized to administer oaths or before the municipal judge, clerk of the court, city secretary, or city attorney or his or her assistant or deputy, each of whom, for that purpose, shall have power to administer oaths. The complaint shall be in writing and shall state:

(1) the name of the accused, if known, and if unknown, shall describe the accused as accurately as practicable;

(2) the offense with which the accused is charged in plain and intelligible words;

(3) the place where the offense is charged to have been committed, which must appear to be within the jurisdiction of the municipal court; and

(4) the date of the offense which, as stated, must show that the offense is not barred by limitations.

(b) All pleadings in the municipal courts shall be in writing and filed with the clerk of the courts.

Right to Jury

Sec. 11. (a) Every person brought before the municipal courts and charged with an offense is entitled to be tried by a jury of six persons, unless waived according to law. The jury shall decide all questions of fact or credibility of witnesses. The court shall determine all matters of law and shall charge the jury on the law.

(b) When requested by the clerk of the municipal courts, the officials in the county who draw the names of jurors from the county jury wheel for the county's central jury system shall draw from the same jury wheel, and in the same manner, the names of jurors to compose as many lists for service in the municipal courts as the clerk of the municipal courts requested. The jury lists drawn for the municipal courts shall be delivered to the clerk of the municipal court. The governing body of the city shall establish the necessary procedures for the summoning and impaneling of jury panels by the municipal courts and for the payment of the jurors. A juror serving in the municipal court shall receive the same pay for each day or fraction of a day that he or she serves as jurors receive for service in the other courts of Lubbock County, as provided by Article 2122, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(c) A juror in the municipal courts shall have the same qualifications as jurors in the other courts in Lubbock County as provided by Article 2133, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, except that a juror in municipal court shall also be a registered voter in the City of Lubbock. Jurors in the municipal courts are subject to the same law governing exemption and excuse from jury service as the jurors in the other courts in the county.

Appeals; Appellate Courts

Sec. 12. (a) In this Act, "appellate courts" means the county courts at law in Lubbock County.

(b) A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment or conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The appellate courts have jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal courts, and all appeals from convictions in the municipal court shall be prosecuted in the appellate court by the city attorney or his or her assistants or deputies.

No de Novo Appeals

Sec. 13. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant's motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. No appeal from the municipal court may be by trial de novo.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 14. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for a new trial must be filed by the defendant no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown, the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court, not to exceed 90 days. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion, if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant.

Notice of Appeal

Sec. 15. In order to perfect an appeal, the defendant shall give timely notice of appeal. In the event the defendant requests a hearing on his or her motion for a new trial, the notice of appeal may be given orally in open court on the overruling of the motion for new trial. Otherwise, the notice of appeal shall be in writing and filed with the municipal court no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled. For good cause shown, the time for giving notice of appeal may be extended by the court, not to exceed 90 days.

Appeal Bond

Sec. 16. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed with and approved by the municipal court. The appeal bond must be filed no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial has been overruled. If the defendant is in custody, the defendant shall be committed to jail unless he or she posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond shall be in an amount not less than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for a sum less than $50. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant was convicted and has appealed and be conditioned that the defendant shall make his or her personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instanter, if the court is in session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 17. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of a transcript and where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts, which shall be prepared by a court reporter of the court from the reporter's record of the proceeding, mechanical recordings of the proceedings, or from videotape recordings of the proceedings. If the court finds, after hearing in response to an affidavit by defendant, that the defendant is unable to pay or give security for the record on appeal, the court will order the reporter to make the transcription without charge to the defendant.

Contents of Transcripts

Sec. 18. (a) The municipal court clerk, on written request from the defendant or the defendant's attorney, shall prepare under the clerk's hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court and shall include copies of the following:

- (1) the complaint;
- (2) material docket entries made by the court;
- (3) the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
- (4) the judgment;
- (5) the motion for a new trial;
- (6) the notice of appeal;
- (7) all written motions and pleas and orders of the court;
- (8) bills of exception, if any are filed; and
- (9) the appeal bond.

(b) The municipal court clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court prepared by mechanical recordings or videotape recordings of the proceedings.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 19. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal, subject to complying with the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, governing the preparation of bills of exception and their inclusion in the record on appeal to the court of appeals, except that the bills of exception shall be filed with the municipal court clerk within 60 days after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 20. A statement of facts, when included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:

(1) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case, as provided in this Act, that are shown by the notes of the court reporter to have occurred before, during, or after the trial, if such a transcription is requested of the court reporter by the defendant;

(2) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial, as agreed to by the defendant and the prosecuting attorney;

(3) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial; or

(4) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case that are prepared from the mechanical recordings or videotape recordings of the proceedings.

Completion, Approval, and Transfer of Record

Sec. 21. (a) Within 60 days of the giving or filing of the notice of appeal, the parties shall file with the municipal court clerk:

(1) the statement of facts;

(2) a written designation of all matter that is to be included in the transcript in addition to matter required to be in the transcript by Section 18 of this Act; and

(3) any matter designated to be included in the transcript that is not then in the custody of the municipal court clerk.

(b) On completing the record as designated by the parties in Subdivision (2), Subsection (a) of this section, the municipal court judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by law for record completion notification and approval in appeals to the court of appeals.

(c) On the municipal court judge's approval of the record, the municipal court clerk shall promptly forward the record to be filed with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney that the record has been filed.

New Trials

Sec. 22. It is the duty of the trial court to decide from the briefs of the parties whether the defendant should be permitted to withdraw his or her notice of appeal and be granted a new trial by the court. The court may grant a new trial at any time prior to the record being filed with the appellate court clerk.

Brief on Appeal

Sec. 23. (a) A brief on appeal from the municipal court shall present points of error in the same manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the court of appeals.

(b) The defendant shall file his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, and the defendant or the defendant's attorney shall certify in the brief to the posting of such by United States mail with proper postage affixed and addressed to the office of the prosecuting attorney. The prosecuting attorney shall file his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files the defendant's brief with the clerk. Each party, on filing his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of the brief to be delivered to the opposing party and to the municipal court judge.

Court Rules

Sec. 24. (a) Except as modified by this Act, the trial of cases before municipal courts shall be governed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended.

(b) The municipal courts may make and enforce all necessary rules of practice and procedure, not inconsistent with the law, so as to expedite the trial of cases in the courts.

(c) The county courts at law of Lubbock County may make and enforce all necessary rules of practice and procedure for appeals from municipal courts, not inconsistent with the law, so as to expedite the dispatch of appeals from the municipal courts.

Disposition on Appeal

Sec. 25. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume that the venue was proven in the court below, that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn, that the defendant was arraigned and pleaded to the complaint, and that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury, unless such matters were made an issue in the trial.

court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. The appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings

Sec. 26. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, the clerk shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or to issue an execution against the defendant's property.

Order of New Trial by Appellate Court

Sec. 27. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Appeal to the Court of Appeals

Sec. 28. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant has the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeal to the Court of Appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the Court of Appeals except that:

(1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the Court of Appeals unless the rules of the Court of Criminal Appeals provide otherwise; and

(2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the Court of Appeals.

Seal

Sec. 29. The governing body of the city shall provide each municipal court with a seal with a star of five points in the center and the words "Municipal Court in Lubbock, Texas." The impress of the seal shall be attached to all papers, except subpoenas, issued out of the court and shall be used by each municipal judge or the clerk to authenticate all official acts of the clerk and the municipal judge.

Section 30 of the 1979 Act provided:

"The residency requirements for a judge of a municipal court of record do not apply to a person serving as a municipal judge in the City of Lubbock on the effective date of this Act until the first regular city election after the establishment of the municipal courts of record."

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Art. 1200hh. Longview

Creation; Formation by Ordinance

Sec. 1. (a) There is created in the city of Longview a court of record to be known as the "City of Longview Municipal Court," to be held in that city if the governing body of the city of Longview, by ordinance, finds and determines that the formation of a municipal court of record is necessary in order to provide a more efficient disposition of appeals arising from the municipal court.

(b) The authority of the governing body of the city of Longview to create a municipal court of record in the city of Longview includes the authority to establish, in the manner set forth in this section, more than one municipal court of record if the governing body determines that it is necessary in order to dispose of the cases arising in the city. If more than one municipal court of record is created, the judges of the municipal courts may at any time exchange benches and sit and act for and with each other in a case, matter, or proceeding pending in a municipal court, and any and all acts performed by a judge are valid and binding on all parties to the case, matter, and proceeding.

(c) The municipal court of record authorized in this section is referred to in this Act as the "municipal court."

Application of Other Laws Regarding Municipal Courts

Sec. 2. The general laws of the state regarding municipal courts and regarding justice courts on matters where there is no law for municipal courts, and the valid charter provisions and ordinances of the city of Longview relating to the municipal court apply to the municipal court authorized in this Act, unless the laws, charter provisions, and ordinances are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Judge; Qualifications

Sec. 3. (a) The municipal court shall be presided over by a judge, who shall be a licensed attorney in good standing in this state and a citizen of the United States and of this state. The judge need not be a resident of the city. The judge shall devote as much of his or her time to the duties of the office as the office shall require. The judge shall be appointed by the governing body of the city and shall be paid a salary to be determined by the governing body of the city. The salary shall not be based on or be in any way contingent on the fines, fees, or costs collected by the municipal court.

(b) If more than one municipal court is created by the governing body of the city, a judge shall be appointed for each court and the governing body of the city shall designate a judge to be the presiding judge.

Court Clerk

Sec. 4. The governing body of the city shall provide a clerk of the municipal courts and the deputy clerks, warrant officers, and other municipal court personnel that are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts. It is the duty of the clerk to keep records of proceedings of the municipal courts and to issue all processes and generally to perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of the county courts at law exercising criminal jurisdiction, insofar as the same may be applicable. The clerk of the municipal courts and all other personnel shall perform the duties of the office under the direction and control of the municipal court judge.

Court Reporter

Sec. 5. (a) For the purpose of preserving a record in the cases tried before the municipal court, the city shall provide a court reporter, who shall be appointed by the municipal court judge and whose compensation shall be determined by the governing body of the city. The qualifications of the court reporter shall be as provided by law for official court reporters.

(b) The record of proceedings may be preserved by the court reporter by written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or any combination of them. The court reporter is not required to take testimony in cases where neither the defendant, the prosecutor, nor the judge demands it.

Jury Selection

Sec. 6. The names of the prospective jurors for trials in the Longview Municipal Court of Record shall be drawn from a jury wheel maintained by the District Court of Gregg County, Texas, or from a jury wheel maintained by the clerk of the Longview Municipal Court of Record, with names of Longview voter registration rolls of Gregg County and Harrison County, Texas.

Ordinances; Judicial Notice

Sec. 7. The municipal court shall take judicial notice of the ordinances of the city.

Appeal; Appellate Courts

Sec. 8. A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The County Court of Gregg County has jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal court.

Appeals on the Record; No de Novo Appeals

Sec. 9. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court solely on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant's motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. No appeal from the municipal court may be by trial de novo.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 10. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for new trial must be filed by the defendant no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction, and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after it is filed. The motion for new trial shall be presented to the court within 10 days after the filing of the original or amended motion, and shall be determined by the court within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown, the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant. For purposes of appeal, a point of error not distinctly set forth in the motion for new trial shall be considered as waived.

Notice of Appeal

Sec. 11. In order to perfect an appeal, the defendant shall give timely notice of appeal. In the event the defendant requests a hearing on the motion for new trial, the notice of appeal may be given orally in open court on the overruling of the motion for new trial. Otherwise, the notice of appeal shall be in writing and filed with the municipal court no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled.

Appeal Bond

Sec. 12. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed with and approved by the municipal court. The appeal bond must be filed no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled. If the defendant is in custody, the defendant shall be committed to jail unless he or she posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond shall be in an amount not less than double the amount of the fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for a sum less than $100. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant was convicted and has appealed, and be conditioned that the defendant shall make his or her personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instanter, if the court is in session, and if the court is not in session, then at its next session, and there remain from day to day to answer in the cause.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 13. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of a transcript and, where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts.

Contents of Transcript

Sec. 14. (a) The municipal court clerk, on written request from the defendant, shall prepare under the clerk's hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court that shall always include the following:

- (1) the complaint;
- (2) material docket entries made by the court;
- (3) the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
- (4) the judgment;
- (5) the motion for new trial;
- (6) the notice of appeal;
- (7) all written motions and pleas and orders of the court; and
- (8) bills of exception, if any are filed.

(b) The municipal court clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court if so instructed in writing by either the defendant or the prosecuting attorney.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 15. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal, subject to complying with the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure governing the preparation of bills of exception and their inclusion in the record on appeal to the court of appeals, except that the bills of exception shall be filed with the municipal court clerk within 60 days after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 16. (a) A statement of facts, when included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:

(1) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case that are shown by the notes of the court reporter to have occurred before, during, or after the trial if such a transcription is requested of the court reporter by the defendant;

(2) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial, as agreed to by the defendant and the prosecuting attorney; or

(3) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial.

(b) The court reporter shall transcribe any portion of the reporter's notes of the court proceedings in the case at the request of the defendant. The defendant shall pay for the transcription. The cost to the defendant for the transcription shall not exceed the fees or charges normally being made by court reporters in the county for similar transcriptions. The municipal court shall order the court reporter to make the transcriptions without charge to the defendant if the court finds, after hearing in the response to an affidavit by the defendant, that the defendant is unable to pay or give security for the transcriptions.

Completion, Approval, and Transfer of Record

Sec. 17. (a) Within 60 days of the giving or filing of the notice of appeal, the parties shall file with the municipal court clerk:

- (1) the statement of facts;
- (2) a written designation of all matter that is to be included in the transcript in addition to matter required to be in the transcript by Section 14 of this Act; and

(3) any matter designated to be included in the transcript that is not then in the custody of the municipal court clerk.

(b) On completing the record as designated by the parties in Subdivision (2), Subsection (a), of this section, the municipal court judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by law for record completion notification and approval in appeals to the court of appeals.

(c) On the municipal court judge's approval of the record, the municipal court clerk shall promptly forward it to be filed with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney that the record has been filed.

Brief on Appeal

Sec. 18. (a) A brief on appeal from the municipal court shall present points of error in the same manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the court of appeals, except that the points of error on appeal shall be confined to those points of error set forth in the defendant's motion for new trial.

(b) The defendant shall file the defendant's brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. The prosecuting attorney shall file his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files the defendant's brief with the clerk. Each party, on filing his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of the brief to be delivered to the opposing party.

Procedure on Appeal

Sec. 19. The appellate court shall hear and determine appeals from the municipal court at the earliest practical time it may be done, with due regard to the rights of parties and proper administration of justice, and no affirmance or reversal of a case shall be determined on mere technicalities or on technical errors in the preparation and filing of the record on appeal. Oral arguments before the appellate court shall be under the rules which the appellate court may determine, and the parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

Disposition on Appeal

Sec. 20. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume that the venue was proven in the court below, that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn, that the defendant was arraigned and pleaded to the complaint, and that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury, unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In the case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled, no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings

Sec. 21. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, the clerk shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or issue an execution against the defendant's property.

New Trial

Sec. 22. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Appeal to the Court of Appeals

Sec. 23. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant has the right to appeal to the court of appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeal to the court of appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the court of appeals except that:

(1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court, plus the transcript of proceedings in the appellate court, shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the court of appeals unless the rules of the court of criminal appeals provide otherwise; and

(2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the court of appeals.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Art. 1200ii. San Antonio

Creation

Sec. 1. The governing body of the city of San Antonio may by ordinance establish the city's existing municipal courts as municipal courts of record in accordance with this Act. Additional municipal courts of record may be created and one or more judges for each court may be authorized by ordinance on a finding that an additional court or courts, or additional judges, are necessary to properly dispose of the cases arising in the city.

Jurisdiction; Writs

Sec. 2. (a) Municipal courts created under the provisions of this Act shall have jurisdiction within the territorial limits of the city in all criminal cases arising under the ordinances of the city and shall also have concurrent jurisdiction with any justice of the peace in any precinct in which the city is situated in criminal cases arising within such territorial limits under the criminal laws of this state in which punishment is only by fine not exceeding $200. Municipal courts shall also have jurisdiction over cases arising outside the territorial limits of the city under the ordinances authorized by Subdivision 19, Article 1175, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(b) The municipal court of record shall take judicial notice of all ordinances of the city.

(c) The judge of a municipal court may grant writs of mandamus, injunction, attachment, and all other necessary writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court, and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court.

(d) The general laws of the state regarding municipal courts and regarding justice courts on matters where there is no law for municipal courts, and the valid charter provisions and ordinances of the city of San Antonio relating to the municipal court apply to the municipal court authorized in this Act, unless the laws, charter provisions, and ordinances are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Judges

Sec. 3. (a) Each municipal court shall be presided over by one or more judges to be known as "municipal judges."

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of the charter or an ordinance of the city, each municipal judge shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city for a term of two years. The governing body of the city may appoint a person or persons, with the qualifications required for a judge, to serve as the judge or judges authorized for each newly created municipal court of record until the next regular city election.

(c) The judges or substitute judges of the municipal courts may at any time exchange benches and may at any time sit and act for or with each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in their courts. An act performed by any of the judges shall be valid and binding on all parties to the cases, matters, and proceedings.

(d) If there is more than one municipal judge in the city, the municipal judges shall determine which of them shall serve as presiding judge of the city. In the event the judges are unable to determine which of them shall serve as presiding judge, after notification of such impasse, the governing body of the city shall appoint one of the judges to be the presiding municipal judge of the city. If the city has a municipal judge who is either its only municipal judge or its only municipal judge who is not serving in a temporary or part-time capacity, that judge shall be the presiding municipal judge for all purposes of this Act.

(e) The presiding judge shall:

(1) maintain a central docket for all cases filed in the geographical limits of the city over which the municipal courts of the city have jurisdiction;

(2) provide for the distribution of cases from the central docket to the individual municipal judges in order that the business of the courts will be continually equalized and distributed among them;

(3) request the jurors needed for cases that are set for trial by jury in the municipal courts of record, which, as provided by Section 11(b) of this Act, shall be transferred to and serve in the municipal court as if summoned for the municipal court to which they are transferred;

(4) temporarily assign various judges or substitute judges of the municipal courts to exchange benches and to sit and act for each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in their courts when necessary for the expeditious disposition of the business of the courts;

(5) cause all dockets, books, papers, and other records of the municipal courts to be permanently kept and permit these records to be available for inspection at all reasonable times by any interested parties;

(6) cause to be maintained as part of the records of the municipal courts an index of municipal court judgments such as county clerks are required by law to prepare for criminal cases arising in county courts; and

(7) where necessary for the proper functioning of the municipal courts, provide for the preservation by microfilm of the records of the courts, subject to the same requirements provided by law for the preservation by microfilm of records under the custody of county clerks.

(f) A judge of a municipal court created under the provisions of this Act shall be a licensed attorney in good standing with two or more years of experience in the practice of law in the state and a citizen of the United States and of this state. No person may serve in the office of municipal judge while he or she holds any other office or employment in the government of the city, and the holding of the other office or employment by a person serving in the office of municipal judge shall create an immediate vacancy in the judicial office.

Salary

Sec. 4. A municipal judge is entitled to compensation by the city on a salary basis. The amount of the salary shall be determined by the governing body of the city and may not be diminished during the judge's term of office. The salary may not be based, directly or indirectly, on fines, fees, or costs that the municipal judge is required by law to collect during his or her term of office.

Vacancies; Temporary Replacements; Removal

Sec. 5. (a) When a vacancy in the office of municipal judge occurs, the governing body of the city shall appoint a person meeting the qualifications required by law for the position to fill the office of municipal judge for the unexpired term of the judge serving in that office prior to the vacancy. If a judge is temporarily unable to act for any reason, the governing body may appoint a person meeting the qualifications for the position to serve during the absence of the judge with all the powers and duties of the office and shall provide for the person's compensation.

(b) A municipal judge may be removed from office for cause to the same extent and under the same rules that judges of the county courts may be removed from office. A municipal judge is answerable to the governing body of the city only on budgetary matters.

Court Facilities

Sec. 6. The governing body of the city shall provide the courtrooms, jury rooms, offices and office furniture, libraries, legal books and materials, and other supplies and facilities that the governing body determines are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts.

Court Clerk

Sec. 7. The governing body of the city shall provide a clerk of the municipal courts, and the deputy clerks, warrant officers, and other municipal court personnel that are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts. It is the duty of the clerk to keep the records of proceedings of the municipal courts and to issue all processes and generally to perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of the county courts at law exercising criminal jurisdiction, insofar as the same may be applicable. The clerk of the municipal courts and all other personnel shall perform the duties of the office under the direction and control of the presiding municipal judge.

Court Reporter

Sec. 8. (a) For the purpose of preserving a record in cases tried before the municipal court, the city shall provide a court reporter with the qualifications provided by law for official court reporters, whose compensation shall be determined by the chief administrative officer of the city on the recommendation of the presiding municipal judge.

(b) The record of proceedings may be preserved by written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or any combination of these methods. The court reporter is not required to take or record testimony in cases where neither the defendant, the prosecutor, nor the judge demands it.

Prosecutions by City Attorney

Sec. 9. All prosecutions in municipal courts shall be conducted by the city attorney of the city, or his or her assistant or deputy.

Complaint

Sec. 10. (a) Proceedings in municipal courts shall be commenced by complaint, which shall begin: "In the name and by the authority of the State of Texas"; and shall conclude: "Against the peace and dignity of the State"; and if the offense is only covered by an ordinance, it may also conclude: "Contrary to the said ordinance." The municipal judge shall charge the jury in accordance with Section 11(a) of this Act. Complaints before the court may be sworn to before any officer authorized to administer oaths or before the municipal judge, clerk of the court, city secretary, or city attorney or his or her assistant or deputy, each of whom, for that purpose, shall have power to administer oaths. The complaint shall be in writing and shall state:

(1) the name of the accused, if known, and if unknown, shall describe the accused as accurately as practicable;

(2) the offense with which the accused is charged in plain and intelligible words;

(3) the place where the offense is charged to have been committed, which must appear to be within the jurisdiction of the municipal court; and

(4) the date of the offense which, as stated, must show that the offense is not barred by limitations.

(b) All pleadings in the municipal courts shall be in writing and filed with the clerk of the courts.

Right to Jury

Sec. 11. (a) Every person brought before the municipal courts and charged with an offense is entitled to be tried by a jury of six persons, unless waived according to law. The jury shall decide all questions of fact or credibility of witnesses. The court shall determine all matters of law and shall charge the jury on the law.

(b) Each juror in the municipal courts shall be a resident of the city of San Antonio.

Appeals; Appellate Courts

Sec. 12. (a) In this Act, "appellate courts" means the county courts at law in Bexar County.

(b) A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment or conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The appellate courts have jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal courts, and all appeals from convictions in the municipal court shall be prosecuted in the appellate court by the city attorney or his or her assistants or deputies.

No de Novo Appeals

Sec. 13. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant's motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. No appeal from the municipal court may be by trial de novo in the county court.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 14. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for a new trial must be filed by the defendant no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction, and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown, the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court, not to exceed 90 days. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion, if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant.

Notice of Appeal

Sec. 15. In order to perfect an appeal, the defendant shall give timely notice of appeal. In the event the defendant requests a hearing on his or her motion for a new trial, the notice of appeal may be given orally in open court on the overruling of the motion for new trial. Otherwise, the notice of appeal shall be in writing and filed with the municipal court no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled. For good cause shown, the time for giving notice of appeal may be extended by the court, not to exceed 90 days.

Appeal Bond

Sec. 16. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed with and approved by the municipal court. The appeal bond must be filed no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial has been overruled. If the defendant is in custody, the defendant shall be committed to jail unless he or she posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond shall be in an amount not less than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for a sum less than $50. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant was convicted and has appealed and be conditioned that the defendant shall make his or her personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instanter, if the court is in session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 17. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of the transcript and, where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts, which shall be prepared by a court reporter of the court from the reporter's record of the proceedings, mechanical recordings of the proceedings, or from videotape recordings of the proceedings. The defendant shall pay for the transcription. The municipal court shall order the court reporter to make the transcriptions without charge to the defendant if the court finds, after hearing in the response to affidavit by the defendant, that he is too poor to pay or give security for the transcriptions. If the case is reversed on appeal, the cost shall be refunded to the defendant.

Contents of Transcripts

Sec. 18. (a) The municipal court clerk, on written request from the defendant or the defendant's attorney, shall prepare under the clerk's hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court and shall include the following:

- (1) the complaint;
- (2) material docket entries made by the court;
- (3) the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
- (4) the judgment;
- (5) the motion for a new trial;
- (6) the notice of appeal;
- (7) all written motions and pleas and orders of the court;
- (8) bills of exception, if any are filed; and
- (9) the appeal bond.

(b) The municipal court clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court prepared by mechanical recordings or videotape recordings of the proceedings.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 19. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal, subject to complying with the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure governing the preparation of bills of exception and their inclusion in the record on appeal to the court of appeals, except that the bills of exception shall be filed with the municipal court clerk within 60 days after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 20. A statement of facts, when included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:

- (1) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case, as provided in this Act, that are shown by the notes of the court reporter to have occurred before, during, or after the trial, if such a transcription is requested of the court reporter by the defendant;

(2) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial, as agreed to by the defendant and the prosecuting attorney;

(3) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial; or

(4) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case that are prepared from the mechanical recordings or videotape recordings of the proceedings.

Fee for Preparation of Transcript

Sec. 21. The defendant shall pay a fee of $50 to the clerk of the municipal court for the preparation of the transcript at the time of the request for the transcript, subject to the provisions of Section 17 of this Act. If the case is reversed on appeal, the $50 fee shall be refunded to the defendant.

Completion, Approval, and Transfer of Record

Sec. 22. (a) Within 60 days of the giving or filing of the notice of appeal, the parties shall file with the municipal court clerk:

(1) the statement of facts;

(2) a written designation of all matter that is to be included in the transcript in addition to matter required to be in the transcript by Section 18 of this Act; and

(3) any matter designated to be included in the transcript that is not then in the custody of the municipal court clerk.

(b) On completing the record as designated by the parties in Subdivision (2), Subsection (a) of this section, the municipal court judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by law for record completion notification and approval in appeals to the court of criminal appeals.

(c) On the municipal court judge's approval of the record, the municipal court clerk shall promptly forward the record to be filed with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney that the record has been filed.

New Trials

Sec. 23. It is the duty of the trial court to decide from the briefs of the parties whether the defendant should be permitted to withdraw his or her notice of appeal and be granted a new trial by the court. The court may grant a new trial at any time prior to the record being filed with the appellate court clerk.

Brief on Appeal

Sec. 24. (a) A brief on appeal from the municipal court shall present points of error in the same manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the court of appeals.

(b) The defendant shall file his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. The prosecuting attorney shall file his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files the defendant's brief with the clerk. Each party, on filing his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of the brief to be delivered to the opposing party and to the municipal court judge.

Court Rules

Sec. 25. (a) Except as modified by this Act, the trial of cases before municipal courts shall be governed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

(b) The municipal courts may make and enforce all necessary rules of practice and procedure, not inconsistent with the law, so as to expedite the trial of cases in the courts.

(c) The county courts at law of Bexar County may make and enforce all necessary rules of practice and procedure for appeals from municipal courts, not inconsistent with the law, so as to expedite the dispatch of appeals from the municipal courts.

Disposition on Appeal

Sec. 26. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume that the venue was proven in the court below, that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn, that the defendant was arraigned and pleaded to the complaint, and that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury, unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled, no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings

Sec. 27. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, the clerk shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a caus for the defendant, or issue an execution against the defendant's property.

Order of New Trial by Appellate Court

Sec. 28. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Appeal to the Court of Appeals

Sec. 29. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant has the right to appeal to the court of appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeal to the court of appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the court of appeals except that:

- (1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the court of appeals unless the rules of the court of criminal appeals provide otherwise; and
- (2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the court of appeals.

Seal

Sec. 30. The governing body of the city shall provide each municipal court with a seal with a star of five points in the center and the words "Municipal Court of San Antonio, Texas." The impress of the seal shall be attached to all papers, except subpoenas, issued out of the court and shall be used by each municipal judge or the clerk to authenticate all official acts of the clerk and the municipal judge.

Sec. 31. [Amends § 2 of Code of Criminal Procedure, art. 42.13]

Severability

Sec. 32. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act in all its particulars and as to all other persons and circumstances shall be valid and of full force and effect, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

[Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 944, ch. 428, §§ 1 to 30, 32, eff. Aug. 27, 1979. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 771, ch. 291, § 13, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Art. 1200jj. Dallas

Creation of Municipal Courts of Record

Sec. 1. (a) In addition to its existing municipal court, the governing body of the City of Dallas may create municipal courts of record by adoption of an ordinance consistent with this Act.

(b) The ordinance must specify the number of courts of record created, and it may be amended to increase or decrease the number of courts when determined necessary by the governing body.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. A municipal court of record created under this Act has exclusive original jurisdiction in all criminal cases, other than traffic offenses, arising under the ordinances of the city and has the jurisdiction granted to municipal courts by state law.

Judges

Sec. 3. (a) A municipal court of record shall be presided over by a judge to be known as a municipal judge.

(b) The city shall provide by charter or ordinance for the appointment or election of a municipal judge of a court of record. The selection must be for a definite term in office of not less than two nor more than four years.

(c) The governing body of the city shall appoint one of the municipal judges to be the administrative municipal judge of the municipal courts of record.

(d) The administrative judge shall:

(1) provide for the distribution of cases from the central docket among the individual municipal judges to equalize the distribution of business in the courts; and

(2) temporarily assign judges of the municipal courts of record to exchange benches and to sit and act for each other in a proceeding pending in a court if necessary for the expeditious disposition of business in the courts.

(e) A judge of a municipal court of record must be a licensed attorney in good standing in this state. A person may not serve as a municipal judge while the person holds any other office or employment with the city government.

Salary

Sec. 4. A municipal judge of a court of record is entitled to compensation by the city on a salary basis. The amount of the salary shall be determined by the governing body of the city and may not be diminished during the judge's term of office. The salary may not be based directly or indirectly on fines, fees, or costs that the municipal judge is required by law to collect during his term of office. The governing body shall determine the salary of the municipal judge prior to his appointment if he is appointed or at least two weeks prior to the deadline for filing for election if he is elected.

Vacancies; Temporary Replacements

Sec. 5. (a) If a vacancy occurs in the office of municipal judge of a court of record, the governing body of the city shall appoint a qualified person to fill the office of municipal judge for the remainder of the unexpired term.

(b) If a municipal judge is temporarily unable to act for any reason, the governing body of the city may appoint a qualified person to sit for the regular municipal judge. The appointee has all the powers and duties of the office and while serving is entitled to the same compensation as the regular municipal judge. A temporary judge serves at the pleasure of the governing body until the regular judge returns.

Court Facilities

Sec. 6. The governing body of the city shall provide courtrooms, juryrooms, offices, office furniture, libraries, legal books and materials, and other supplies and facilities that the governing body determines are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts of record.

Clerk; Other Personnel

Sec. 7. (a) The governing body shall provide for the appointment of a clerk of the municipal courts of record, who shall be known as the municipal clerk. The municipal clerk shall perform, insofar as applicable, the duties prescribed by law for the county clerk of a county court at law. In addition, the municipal clerk shall:

- (1) maintain central docket records for all cases filed in the municipal courts of record;
- (2) cause all public records of the municipal courts and the municipal courts of record to be permanently kept and permit those records to be available for inspection at all reasonable times by any interested party;
- (3) maintain an index of all municipal court judgments in the same manner as county clerks are required by law to prepare for criminal cases arising in county courts; and
- (4) if necessary for the proper functioning of the municipal courts of record, provide for the preservation of records by microfilming.

(b) The governing body of the city shall provide the municipal courts of record with other municipal court personnel that the governing body determines is necessary for the proper operation of the courts. Those persons shall perform their duties under the direction and control of the clerk of the municipal court or the municipal judge to whom assigned. The governing body shall determine the salaries of the court personnel.

Recording of Proceedings; Court Reporter

Sec. 8. (a) All proceedings in a municipal court of record shall be recorded by a good quality electronic recording device and the recording kept and stored for not less than 20 days. The proceedings that are appealed shall be transcribed from the recording by a court reporter.

(b) A municipal judge may appoint a court reporter for a particular case to transcribe the trial proceedings, including testimony, voir dire examination, objections, and final arguments. Each reporter must be a sworn officer of the court and must be well-skilled in the profession. The reporter shall be compensated by the city in the manner determined by the governing body of the city.

Appellate Courts

Sec. 9. (a) A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in a municipal court of record under the procedures prescribed by this Act.

(b) The county court and a county court at law of Dallas County have jurisdiction of appeals from a municipal court.

(c) Appeals from convictions of the municipal courts that are not of record are de novo. This Act does not affect the procedure for an appeal from a municipal court that is not of record.

Appeals on Record

Sec. 10. An appeal from a municipal court of record conviction is determined by the appellate court solely on the basis of errors presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court of record proceedings.

Perfecting Appeal

Sec. 11. (a) To perfect an appeal, the defendant must give timely notice of the appeal. The notice of appeal may be given orally in open court, or it may be given in writing and filed with the municipal court of record. The notice is sufficient if it shows the desire of the defendant to appeal from the municipal court of record conviction.

(b) Notice of appeal must be given or filed:

- (1) not later than the 10th day after the day on which a motion for new trial is overruled, if a motion is made; or

(2) not later than the 10th day after the day on which judgment is rendered, whether or not the punishment is suspended by an order of probation.

(c) A motion for a new trial must be made not later than the fifth day after the day on which judgment is rendered. If no ruling is made, the motion is overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 10th day after its filing date.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 12. The record on appeal consists of a transcript and, if necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts.

Contents of Transcript

Sec. 13. (a) On written instructions from the defendant or the defendant's attorney, the municipal clerk shall prepare under his hand and seal a transcript of the municipal court of record proceedings for transmission to the appellate court. The transcript must include copies of:

- (1) the complaint;
- (2) material docket entries made by the court;
- (3) the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
- (4) the judgment;
- (5) the notice of appeal;
- (6) all written motions, pleas, and orders of the court;
- (7) bills of exception; and
- (8) certified copies of all ordinances of which the municipal judge took notice.

(b) The municipal clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court of record if so instructed in writing by either party.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 14. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal subject to the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965. The bills of exception must be filed with the clerk not later than the 60th day after the day on which the notice of appeal is given or filed.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 15. (a) A statement of facts included in the record on appeal must contain:

(1) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court of record proceedings in the case as recorded on the electronic recording device or that are shown by the notes of the court reporter recorded or taken before, during, or after the trial, if the transcription is requested by a party, his attorney, or the municipal judge;

(2) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial as agreed to by the defendant or his attorney and the prosecuting attorney; or

(3) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case.

(b) The court reporter shall transcribe in duplicate any portion of the recorded proceedings or the notes of the court proceedings in the case at the request of either party or the municipal judge. The defendant shall pay for the transcriptions unless the municipal court of record finds, after hearing in response to affidavit by the defendant, that the defendant is unable to pay or give security for the transcriptions. On certification by the municipal court of record that the court reporter has rendered the service without charge to the defendant, the court reporter shall be paid for the services by the city.

Filing of the Record

Sec. 16. (a) Not later than the 60th day after the date the notice of appeal is given or filed, the parties must file with the clerk of the municipal court of record:

- (1) the statement of facts;
- (2) a written designation of material to be included in the transcript in addition to the material required under Subsection (a) of Section 13 of this Act; and
- (3) any matter to be included in the transcript that is not in the custody of the municipal clerk.

(b) The municipal judge may extend the time for filing for good cause.

(c) At the time of requesting the clerk of the municipal court of record to prepare a record on appeal from the transcript and statement of facts, the defendant must pay to the clerk a record preparation fee of $10. If the case is reversed upon appeal, the clerk shall refund the $10 fee to the defendant.

(d) On completion of the record, the municipal clerk shall notify the parties and the municipal court of record judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, for record completion notification and approval in the court of appeals.

(e) Following court approval, the municipal clerk shall promptly forward the record to the appellate court clerk for filing.

Brief on Appeal

Sec. 17. (a) A brief on appeal from a municipal court of record must present points of error in the manner required by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, for a brief on appeal to the court of criminal appeals.

(b) The defendant must file the brief with the appellate court clerk not later than the 15th day after the day on which the transcript and statement of facts are filed with the appellate court clerk.

(c) The prosecuting attorney must file the brief with the appellate court clerk not later than the 15th day after the day on which the defendant files his brief with the clerk.

(d) On filing, each party shall deliver a copy of the brief to the opposing party or the opposing party's attorney.

(e) The appellate court may in its discretion extend the times for filing briefs.

Procedure on Appeal

Sec. 18. (a) The appellate court shall hear and determine an appeal from a municipal court of record at the earliest possible time with due regard to the rights of parties and the proper administration of justice. The court may not affirm or reverse a case based on mere technicalities or on technical errors in the presentation and filing of the record on appeal. The court may determine the rules for oral argument. The parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

(b) The appellate court shall review all grounds of error and arguments urged in the defendant's brief on appeal and may review any unassigned error in the interest of justice.

Disposition on Appeal

Sec. 19. (a) According to the law and the nature of the case, the appellate court may:

- (1) affirm the judgment of the municipal court of record;
- (2) reverse and remand for a new trial;
- (3) reverse and dismiss the case; or
- (4) reform and correct the judgment.

(b) Unless the matter was made an issue in the trial court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or the statement of facts, the appellate court shall presume that:

- (1) venue was proven in the trial court;
- (2) the jury, if any, was properly impaneled and sworn;
- (3) the defendant was arraigned and pleaded to the complaint;
- (4) the municipal judge certified the charge before it was read to the jury; and
- (5) the municipal clerk filed the charge before it was read to the jury.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled, no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied upon by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. The clerk of the appellate court shall mail copies of the decision of the appellate court to the parties and to the municipal judge as soon as the decision is rendered.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings

Sec. 20. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of that court shall certify the proceedings and the judgment and shall mail the certificate to the clerk of the municipal court of record. The municipal clerk shall file the certificate with the records in the case and note the certificate on the docket. If the judgment is affirmed, further action to enforce the judgment is not necessary except to:

- (1) forfeit the bond of the defendant; or
- (2) issue a writ of capias for the defendant.

New Trial

Sec. 21. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the case stands as if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court of record.

Appeals to Court of Appeals

Sec. 22. Appeals to the court of appeals from the decision of the appellate court if permitted by law are governed by the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, relating to direct appeals from a county or a district court to the court of appeals except that:

- (1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the court of appeals unless the rules of the court of criminal appeals provide otherwise; and
- (2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the court of appeals.

Seal

Sec. 23. The governing body of the city shall provide each municipal court of record with a seal to be used to authenticate the official acts of the clerk and the municipal judge. The impress of the seal must be attached to all papers issued by the court except subpoenas. The seal must include a five-pointed star and must be engraved with the words "Municipal Court of Record of Dallas, Texas."

Art. 1200kk. Odessa

Creation of Municipal Courts of Record

Sec. 1. (a) In addition to its existing municipal court, the governing body of the City of Odessa may create municipal courts of record by adoption of an ordinance consistent with this Act.

(b) The ordinance must specify the number of courts of record created, and it may be amended to increase or decrease the number of courts when determined necessary by the governing body.

(c) The governing body may not adopt an ordinance creating municipal courts of record until a majority of the voters of the city voting on the question at an election called by the governing body approve the creation of the courts. The governing body shall order the ballot to be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "Authorizing the City of Odessa to adopt an ordinance creating municipal courts of record." Each qualified voter of the city is entitled to vote in the election. An election under this subsection may be held only once.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. A municipal court of record created under this Act has exclusive original jurisdiction in all criminal cases other than traffic offenses arising under the ordinances of the city and has the jurisdiction granted to municipal courts by state law.

Judges

Sec. 3. (a) A municipal court of record shall be presided over by a judge to be known as a municipal judge.

(b) The city shall provide by charter or ordinance for the election of a municipal judge of a court of record. The election must be for a definite term in office of not less than two nor more than four years.

(e) A judge of a municipal court of record must be a licensed attorney in good standing in this state. A person may not serve as a municipal judge while the person holds any other office or employment with the city government.

Salary

Sec. 4. A municipal judge of a court of record is entitled to compensation by the city on a salary basis. The amount of the salary shall be determined by the governing body of the city and may not be diminished during the judge's term of office. The salary may not be based directly or indirectly on fines, fees, or costs that the municipal judge is required by law to collect during his term of office. The governing body shall determine the salary of the municipal judge at least two weeks prior to the deadline for filing for election.

Vacancies; Temporary Replacements

Sec. 5. (a) If a vacancy occurs in the office of municipal judge of a court of record, the governing body of the city shall appoint a qualified person to fill the office of municipal judge for the remainder of the unexpired term.

(b) If a municipal judge is temporarily unable to act for any reason, the governing body of the city may appoint a qualified person to sit for the regular municipal judge. The appointee has all the powers and duties of the office and while serving is entitled to the same compensation as the regular municipal judge. A temporary judge serves at the pleasure of the governing body until the regular judge returns.

Court Facilities

Sec. 6. The governing body of the city shall provide courtrooms, jury rooms, offices, office furniture, libraries, legal books and materials, and other supplies and facilities that the governing body determines are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts of record.

Clerk; Other Personnel

Sec. 7. (a) The governing body shall provide for the appointment of a clerk of the municipal courts of record, who shall be known as the municipal clerk. The municipal clerk shall perform, insofar as applicable, the duties prescribed by law for the county clerk of a county court at law. In addition, the municipal clerk shall:

(1) maintain central docket records for all cases filed in the municipal courts of record;

(2) cause all public records of the municipal courts and the municipal courts of record to be permanently kept and permit those records to be available for inspection at all reasonable times by any interested party;

Those persons shall perform their duties under the direction and control of the clerk of the municipal court or the municipal judge to whom assigned. The governing body shall determine the salaries of the court personnel.

Recording of Proceedings; Court Reporter

Sec. 8. (a) All proceedings in a municipal court of record shall be recorded by a good quality electronic recording device and the recording kept and stored for not less than 20 days. The proceedings that are appealed shall be transcribed from the recording by a court reporter.

(b) A municipal judge may appoint an official court reporter to transcribe the trial proceedings, including testimony, voir dire examination, objections, and final arguments. Each reporter must be a sworn officer of the court and must be well skilled in the profession. The reporter shall be compensated by the city in the manner determined by the governing body of the city.

Appellate Courts

Sec. 9. (a) A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in a municipal court of record under the procedures prescribed by this Act.

(b) The county court and a county court at law of Ector County have jurisdiction of appeals from a municipal court. The county court's jurisdiction under this subsection is limited to the jurisdiction it has of appeals from a justice court.

(c) Appeals from convictions of the municipal courts that are not of record are de novo. This Act does not affect the procedure for an appeal from a municipal court that is not of record.

Appeals on Record

Sec. 10. An appeal from a municipal court of record conviction is determined by the appellate court solely on the basis of errors presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court of record proceedings.

Perfecting Appeal

Sec. 11. (a) To perfect an appeal, the defendant must give timely notice of the appeal. The notice of appeal may be given orally in open court, or it may be given in writing and filed with the municipal court of record. The notice is sufficient if it shows the desire of the defendant to appeal from the municipal court of record conviction.

(b) Notice of appeal must be given or filed:

(1) not later than the 10th day after the day on which a motion for new trial is overruled, if a motion is made; or

(2) not later than the 10th day after the day on which judgment is rendered, whether or not the punishment is suspended by an order of probation.

(c) A motion for a new trial must be made not later than the fifth day after the day on which judgment is rendered. If no ruling is made, the motion is overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 10th day after its filing date.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 12. The record on appeal consists of a transcript and, if necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts.

Contents of Transcript

Sec. 13. (a) On written instructions from the defendant or the defendant's attorney, the municipal clerk shall prepare under his hand and seal a transcript of the municipal court of record proceedings for transmission to the appellate court. The transcript must include copies of:

- (1) the complaint;
- (2) material docket entries made by the court;
- (3) the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
- (4) the judgment;
- (5) the notice of appeal;
- (6) all written motions and pleas and orders of the court; and
- (7) bills of exception.

(b) The municipal clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court of record if so instructed in writing by either party.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 14. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal subject to the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965. The bills of exception must be filed with the clerk not later than the 60th day after the day on which the notice of appeal is given or filed.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 15. (a) A statement of facts included in the record on appeal must contain:

(1) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court of record proceedings in the case as recorded on the electronic recording device or shown by the notes of the court reporter recorded or taken before, during, or after the trial, if the transcription is requested by a party, his attorney, or the municipal judge;

(2) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial as agreed to by the defendant or his attorney and the prosecuting attorney; or

(3) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case.

(b) The court reporter shall transcribe in duplicate any portion of the recorded proceedings or the notes of the court proceedings in the case at the request of either party or the municipal judge. The defendant shall pay for the transcriptions unless the municipal court of record finds, after hearing in response to affidavit by the defendant, that the defendant is unable to pay or give security for the transcriptions. On certification by the municipal court of record that the court reporter has rendered the service without charge to the defendant, the court reporter shall be paid for the services by the city.

Filing of the Record

Sec. 16. (a) Not later than the 60th day after the date the notice of appeal is given or filed, the parties must file with the clerk of the municipal court of record:

- (1) the statement of facts;
 - (2) a written designation of material to be included in the transcript in addition to the material required under Subsection (a) of Section 13 of this Act; and
 - (3) any matter to be included in the transcript that is not in the custody of the municipal clerk.
- (b) The municipal judge may extend the time for filing for good cause.
- (c) On completion of the record, the municipal clerk shall notify the parties and the municipal court of record judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, for record completion notification and approval in the court of appeals.

(d) Following court approval, the municipal clerk shall promptly forward the record to the appellate court clerk for filing.

Brief on Appeal

Sec. 17. (a) A brief on appeal from a municipal court of record must present points of error in the manner required by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, for a brief on appeal to the court of criminal appeals.

(b) The defendant must file the brief with the appellate court clerk not later than the 15th day after the day on which the transcript and statement of facts are filed with the appellate court clerk.

(c) The prosecuting attorney must file the brief with the appellate court clerk not later than the 15th day after the day on which the defendant files his brief with the clerk.

(d) On filing, each party shall deliver a copy of the brief to the opposing party or the opposing party's attorney.

(e) The appellate court may in its discretion extend the times for filing briefs.

Procedure on Appeal

Sec. 18. (a) The appellate court shall hear and determine an appeal from a municipal court of record at the earliest possible time with due regard to the rights of parties and the proper administration of justice. The court may not affirm or reverse a case based on mere technicalities or on technical errors in the presentation and filing of the record on appeal. The court may determine the rules for oral argument. The parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

(b) The appellate court shall review all grounds of error and arguments urged in the defendant's brief on appeal and may review any unassigned error in the interest of justice.

Disposition on Appeal

Sec. 19. (a) According to the law and the nature of the case, the appellate court may:

- (1) affirm the judgment of the municipal court of record;
- (2) reverse and remand for a new trial;
- (3) reverse and dismiss the case; or
- (4) reform and correct the judgment.

(b) Unless the matter was made an issue in the trial court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or the statement of facts, the appellate court shall presume that:

- (1) venue was proven in the trial court;
- (2) the jury, if any, was properly impaneled and sworn;
- (3) the defendant was arraigned and pleaded to the complaint;
- (4) the municipal judge certified the charge before it was read to the jury; and
- (5) the municipal clerk filed the charge before it was read to the jury.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled, no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied upon by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. The clerk of the appellate court shall mail copies of the decision of the appellate court to the parties and to the municipal judge as soon as the decision is rendered.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings

Sec. 20. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of that court shall certify the proceedings and the judgment and shall mail the certificate to the clerk of the municipal court of record. The municipal clerk shall file the certificate with the records in the case and note the certificate on the docket. If the judgment is affirmed, further action to enforce the judgment is not necessary except to:

- (1) forfeit the bond of the defendant; or
- (2) issue a writ of habeas corpus for the defendant.

New Trial

Sec. 21. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the case stands as if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court of record.

Appeals to Court of Appeals

Sec. 22. Appeals to the court of appeals from the decision of the appellate court, if permitted by law, are governed by the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, relating to direct appeals from a county or a district court to the court of appeals except that:

- (1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the court of appeals unless the rules of the court of criminal appeals provide otherwise; and
- (2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the court of appeals.

Seal

Sec. 23. The governing body of the city shall provide each municipal court of record with a seal to be used to authenticate the official acts of the clerk and the municipal judge. The impress of the seal must be attached to all papers issued by the court except subpoenas. The seal must include a five-pointed star and must be engraved with the words "Municipal Court of Record of Odessa, Texas."

[Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4227, ch. 673, eff. Aug. 29, 1983.]

Art. 1200ll. MarshallCreation; Formation by Ordinance

Sec. 1. (a) There is created in the city of Marshall a court of record to be known as the "City of Marshall Municipal Court," to be held in that city if the governing body of the city of Marshall, by ordinance, finds and determines that the formation of a municipal court of record is necessary in order to provide a more efficient disposition of appeals arising from the municipal court.

(b) The authority of the governing body of the city of Marshall to create a municipal court of record in the city of Marshall includes the authority to establish, in the manner set forth in this section, more than one municipal court of record if the governing body determines that it is necessary in order to dispose of the cases arising in the city. If more than one municipal court of record is created, the judges of the municipal courts may at any time exchange benches and sit and act for and with each other in a case, matter, or proceeding pending in a municipal court, and any and all acts performed by a judge are valid and binding on all parties to the case, matter, and proceeding.

(c) The municipal court of record authorized in this section is referred to in this Act as the "municipal court."

Application of Other Laws Regarding Municipal Courts

Sec. 2. The general laws of the state regarding municipal courts and regarding justice courts on matters for which there is no law for municipal courts, and the valid charter provisions and ordinances of the city of Marshall relating to the municipal court apply to the municipal court authorized in this Act, unless the laws, charter provisions, and ordinances are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Judge; Qualifications

Sec. 3. (a) The municipal court shall be presided over by a judge, who shall be a licensed attorney in good standing in this state and a citizen of the United States and of this state. The judge need not be a resident of the city. The judge shall devote as much of his time to the duties of the office as the office requires. The judge shall be appointed by the governing body of the city and shall be paid a salary to be determined by that governing body. The salary may not be based on or be in any way contingent on the fines, fees, or costs collected by the municipal court.

(b) If more than one municipal court is created by the governing body of the city, a judge shall be appointed for each court and the governing body shall designate a judge to be the presiding judge.

Court Clerk

Sec. 4. The governing body of the city shall provide a clerk of the municipal courts and the deputy clerks, warrant officers, and other municipal court personnel that are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts. It is the duty of the clerk to keep records of proceedings of the municipal courts and to issue all processes and generally to perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of the county courts at law exercising criminal jurisdiction, insofar as the same may be applicable. The clerk of the municipal courts and all other personnel shall perform the duties of the office under the direction and control of the municipal court judge.

Court Reporter

Sec. 5. (a) For the purpose of preserving a record in the cases tried before the municipal court, the city shall provide a court reporter, who shall be appointed by the municipal court judge and whose compensation shall be determined by the governing body of the city. The qualifications of the court reporter shall be as provided by law for official court reporters.

(b) The record of proceedings may be preserved by the court reporter by written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or any combination of them. The court reporter is not required to take testimony in cases where neither the defendant, the prosecutor, nor the judge demands it.

Jury Selection

Sec. 6. The names of the prospective jurors for trials in the Marshall Municipal Court of Record shall be drawn from a jury wheel maintained by the District Court of Harrison County, Texas, or from a jury wheel maintained by the clerk of the Marshall Municipal Court of Record, with names of Marshall voter registration rolls of Harrison County, Texas.

Ordinances; Judicial Notice

Sec. 7. The municipal court shall take judicial notice of the ordinances of the city.

Appeal; Appellate Courts

Sec. 8. A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The County Court of Harrison County has jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal court.

Appeals on the Record; No De Novo Appeals

Sec. 9. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court solely on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant's motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. No appeal from the municipal court may be by trial de novo.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 10. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for new trial must be filed by the defendant not later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction, and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on not later than the 20th day after it is filed. The motion for new trial shall be presented to the court not later than the 10th day after the filing of the original or amended motion, and shall be determined by the court not later than the 20th day after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown, the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant. For purposes of appeal, a point of error not distinctly set forth in the motion for new trial shall be considered as waived.

Notice of Appeal

Sec. 11. In order to perfect an appeal, the defendant shall give timely notice of appeal. In the event the defendant requests a hearing on the motion for new trial, the notice of appeal may be given orally in open court on the overruling of the motion for new trial. Otherwise, the notice of appeal shall be in writing and filed with the municipal court not later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled.

Appeal Bond

Sec. 12. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed with and approved by the municipal court. The appeal bond must be filed not later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled. If the defendant is in custody, the defendant shall be committed to jail unless he posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond must be in an amount equal to not less than double the amount of the fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for a sum less than $100. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant was convicted and has appealed, and be conditioned that the defendant shall make his personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instanter, if the court is in session, and if the court is not in session, then at its next session, and there remain from day to day to answer in the cause.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 13. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of a transcript and, if necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts.

Contents of Transcript

Sec. 14. (a) The municipal court clerk, on written request from the defendant, shall prepare under the clerk's hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court that shall always include the following:

- (1) the complaint;
- (2) material docket entries made by the court;
- (3) the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
- (4) the judgment;
- (5) the motion for new trial;
- (6) the notice of appeal;
- (7) all written motions and pleas and orders of the court; and
- (8) any filed bills of exception.

(b) The municipal court clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court if so instructed in writing by either the defendant or the prosecuting attorney.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 15. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal, subject to complying with the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure governing the preparation of bills of exception and their inclusion in the record on appeal to the court of appeals, except that the bills of exception shall be filed with the municipal court clerk not later than the 60th day after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 16. (a) A statement of facts, included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:

(1) a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case that are shown by the notes of the court reporter to have occurred before, during, or after the trial if a transcription is requested of the court reporter by the defendant;

(2) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial, as agreed to by the defendant and the prosecuting attorney; or

(3) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial.

(b) On the defendant's request the court reporter shall transcribe any portion of the reporter's notes of the court proceedings in the case. The defendant shall pay for the transcription. The cost to the defendant for the transcription shall not exceed the fees or charges normally being made by court reporters in the county for similar transcriptions. The municipal court shall order the court reporter to make the transcriptions without charge to the defendant if the court finds, after hearing in the response to an affidavit by the defendant, that the defendant is unable to pay or give security for the transcriptions.

Completion, Approval, and Transfer of Record

Sec. 17. (a) Not later than the 60th day after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal, the parties shall file with the municipal court clerk:

(1) the statement of facts;

(2) a written designation of all matter that is to be included in the transcript in addition to matter required to be in the transcript by Section 14 of this Act; and

(3) any matter designated to be included in the transcript that is not then in the custody of the municipal court clerk.

(b) On completing the record as designated by the parties in Subdivision (2), Subsection (a), of this section, the municipal court judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by law for record completion notification and approval in appeals to the court of appeals.

(c) On the municipal court judge's approval of the record, the municipal court clerk shall promptly forward it to be filed with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney that the record has been filed.

Brief on Appeal

Sec. 18. (a) A brief on appeal from the municipal court shall present points of error in the same manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the court of appeals, except that the points of error on appeal shall be confined to those points of error set forth in the defendant's motion for new trial.

(b) The defendant shall file the defendant's brief with the clerk of the appellate court not later than the 15th day after the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. The prosecuting attorney shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court not later than the 15th day after the defendant files the defendant's brief with the clerk. Each party, on filing his brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of the brief to be delivered to the opposing party.

Procedure on Appeal

Sec. 19. The appellate court shall hear and determine appeals from the municipal court at the earliest practical time it may be done, with due regard to the rights of parties and proper administration of justice, and no affirmance or reversal of a case shall be determined on mere technicalities or on technical errors in the preparation and filing of the record on appeal. Oral arguments before the appellate court shall be under the rules which the appellate court may determine, and the parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

Disposition on Appeal

Sec. 20. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, reverse or remand for a new trial, reverse and dismiss the case, or reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume that the venue was proven in the court below, that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn, that the defendant was arraigned and pleaded to the complaint, and that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury, unless those matters were made an issue in the trial court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In the case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled, no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

Certificate of Appellate proceedings

Sec. 21. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, the clerk shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or issue an execution against the defendant's property.

New Trial

Sec. 22. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Appeal to the Court of Appeals

Sec. 23. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant has the right to appeal to the court of appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeal to the court of appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the court of appeals except that:

(1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court, plus the transcript of proceedings in the appellate court, shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the court of appeals unless the rules of the court of criminal appeals provide otherwise; and

(2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the court of appeals.

Art. 1200mm. Austin

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, "appellate courts" mean the county courts at law in Travis County.

Creation

Sec. 2. The governing body of the city of Austin may by ordinance establish the city's existing municipal courts as municipal courts of record. The governing body may by ordinance authorize additional municipal courts of record if it finds that additional courts are necessary to properly dispose of the cases arising in the city.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 3. (a) A municipal court of record has jurisdiction within the territorial limits of the city in all criminal cases arising under the ordinances of the city.

(b) The court has concurrent jurisdiction with a justice court in any precinct in which the city is located in criminal cases within the justice court jurisdiction that:

(1) arise within the territorial limits of the city; and

(2) are punishable by fine only.

(c) The court has jurisdiction over criminal cases arising under ordinances authorized by Subdivision 19, Article 1175, Revised Statutes.

Judge

Sec. 4. (a) A municipal court of record shall be presided over by one or more judges, each of whom is to be known as a "municipal judge."

(b) The governing body of the city shall provide by charter or by ordinance for the selection of its municipal judges, provided the selection shall be for a definite term in office of not less than two nor more than four years, whose duration within these limits shall be determined by charter, ordinance or the method prescribed in Article XI, Section 11, of the Texas Constitution. A municipal judge may continue in office after the end of his or her term for not more than 90 days or until his or her successor is selected and qualified, whichever occurs first.

(c) The judge shall take judicial notice of the ordinances of the city and of the territorial limits of the city. The judge may grant writs of mandamus, attachment, and other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court, and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases in which the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court.

(d) If there is more than one municipal judge in the city, the governing body of the city shall appoint one of the judges to be the presiding municipal judge.

(e) The presiding municipal judge shall:

(1) maintain a central docket for cases filed within the territorial limits of the city over which the municipal courts of record have jurisdiction;

(2) provide for the distribution of cases from the central docket to the individual municipal judges to equalize the distribution of business in the courts;

(3) call the jury docket and request the jurors needed for cases that are set for trial by jury; and

(4) temporarily assign judges or relief judges to act for each other in a proceeding pending in a court if necessary for the expeditious disposition of business in the courts.

(f) The municipal judges of the municipal courts or relief judges may act for each other in any proceeding pending in the courts. An act performed by any of the judges is binding on all parties to the proceeding.

(g) A municipal judge must be a licensed attorney in good standing in the practice of law in this state for two years, be a citizen of the United States, and have been a resident of the city for the two-year period immediately preceding appointment. A person may not serve as a municipal judge while the person holds other office or employment with the city government. A municipal judge who takes such an office or employment vacates the judicial office.

(h) A municipal judge is entitled to a salary from the city, the amount of which shall be determined by the governing body of the city and may not be diminished during the judge's term of office. The salary may not be based directly or indirectly on fines, fees, or costs that the judge is required by law to collect during the term of office.

Vacancies: Temporary Replacement; Removal

Sec. 5. (a) If a vacancy occurs in the office of municipal judge of a court of record, the governing body of the city shall appoint a qualified person to fill the office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

(b) The governing body of the city may appoint persons as relief municipal judges. A relief judge must meet the qualifications of the regular judge. The governing body shall set the compensation of the relief judges. The presiding judge may assign a relief judge to act for a municipal judge who is temporarily unable to act for any reason. A relief judge shall have all the powers and duties of the office while so acting.

(c) A municipal judge may be removed in the manner prescribed for removal of a county court at law judge.

Clerk: Other Personnel

Sec. 6. (a) The governing body of the city shall appoint a clerk of the municipal courts of record, who shall be known as the municipal clerk. The municipal clerk serves at the pleasure of the governing body. The municipal clerk shall perform, insofar as applicable, the duties prescribed by law for the county clerk of a county court at law, and any other duty necessary to issue process and conduct business of the court. The clerk may administer oaths and affidavits and make certificates and affix the court's seal to those certificates. In addition, the municipal clerk shall:

- (1) maintain central docket records for all cases filed in the municipal courts of record;
- (2) cause all public records of the municipal courts to be permanently kept and permit those records to be available for inspection at all reasonable times by any interested party.
- (3) maintain an index of all municipal court judgments in the same manner as county clerks are required by law to prepare for criminal cases arising in county courts; and
- (4) if necessary for the proper functioning of the municipal courts of record, provide for the preservation of records by electronic means or by microfilming.

(b) With the consent of the governing body of the city, the municipal clerk may appoint one or more deputy clerks to act for and on behalf of the municipal clerk.

(c) The governing body of the city shall provide the municipal courts of record with other municipal court personnel that the governing body determines is necessary for the proper operation of the courts. Those persons shall perform their duties under the direction and control of the clerk of the municipal court or the municipal judge to whom assigned. The governing body shall determine the salaries of the court personnel.

Court Reporter

Sec. 7. (a) The governing body of the city shall provide an official court reporter to preserve a record in cases tried before the municipal court with the qualifications provided by law for official court reporters. The reporter shall be compensated by the city in the manner determined by the governing body of the city.

(b) The court reporter may use written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or a combination of those methods to record the proceedings of the court.

(c) The court reporter is not required to record testimony in a trial unless the judge or one of the parties requests a record.

Prosecutions by City Attorney

Sec. 8. All prosecutions in municipal courts shall be conducted by the city attorney of the city, or his or her assistant or deputy.

Filing of Original Papers

Sec. 9. (a) The clerk of the municipal courts of record shall file the original complaint and the original of other papers in each case under the direction of the presiding judge. The filed original papers constitute the records of the courts and a separate record book is not required.

(b) The municipal clerk shall keep a separate folder for each case, and shall note on the outside of the folder:

- (1) the style of the case;
- (2) the nature of the charged offense;
- (3) the dates that the warrant was issued and returned;
- (4) the date the examination or trial was held;
- (5) whether trial was held by jury or before a judge of the courts;
- (6) trial settings;
- (7) any verdict of the jury;
- (8) any judgment of the court;

(9) any motion for a new trial and the decision on the motion;

(10) whether an appeal was taken; and

(11) the date and the manner in which the judgment and sentence were enforced.

Jury

Sec. 10. (a) Each person charged with an offense is entitled to a trial by a jury of six persons unless the right is waived according to law.

(b) A majority of the judges of the municipal courts of record may adopt a plan binding on each municipal court of record for the selection of persons for jury service from the voter registration rolls of the counties in which the city of Austin is located. A plan adopted by the courts must:

(1) require the compilation of jurors from the voter registration lists of all voting precincts within the city and the registry of permanently exempt persons residing in the city maintained by the county tax collector as prescribed by Article 2137a, Revised Statutes;

(2) require selection of jurors who are eligible to vote in Austin and have the qualifications prescribed by Article 2133, Revised Statutes;

(3) require the courts to establish a fair, impartial, and objective method of selecting persons for jury service.

(c) The clerk of the court shall be the official in charge of the selection process.

(d) Each juror is subject to the laws governing exemptions and excuses from jury service in other courts.

Appeal

Sec. 11. (a) A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment or conviction in a municipal court of record. The county courts at law of Travis County have jurisdiction of appeals from a municipal court of record. The city attorney or his assistants or deputies shall prosecute all appeals from the municipal courts.

(b) The appellate court shall determine each appeal from a municipal court of record conviction on the basis of the errors that are set forth in the defendant's motion for a new trial and that are presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the proceedings leading to the conviction. An appeal from the municipal court of record may not be by trial de novo.

(c) To perfect an appeal, the defendant must file a written motion for a new trial not later than the 10th day after the date on which judgment is rendered. The motion or an amended motion may be amended by leave of court at any time before action on the motion is taken, but not later than the 20th day after the day on which the original or amended motion is filed. The court may extend the time for filing or amending for good cause, but the extension may not exceed 90 days from the original filing deadline. If the court does not act on the motion before the expiration of the 30 days allowed for determination of the motion, the original or amended motion is overruled by operation of law. The motion must set forth the points of error of which the defendant complains.

(d) To perfect an appeal, the defendant must also give timely notice of the appeal. If the defendant requests a hearing on the motion for a new trial, the defendant may give the notice of appeal orally in open court on the overruling of the motion for new trial. If there is no hearing, the defendant must give a written notice of appeal and must file the notice with the court not later than the 10th day after the date on which the motion for new trial is overruled. The court may extend that time period for good cause, but the extension may not exceed 90 days from the original filing deadline.

Appeal Bond

Sec. 12. (a) If the defendant is not in custody, the defendant may not take an appeal until the defendant files the required appeal bond with the municipal court. The bond must be approved by the court, and must be filed not later than the 10th day after the date on which the motion for new trial is overruled. If the defendant is in custody, the defendant shall be committed to jail unless the defendant posts the required appeal bond.

(b) The appeal bond must be in the amount of $50 or double the amount of the fines and costs adjudged against the defendant, whichever is greater. The bond must state that the defendant was convicted in the case and has appealed, and must be conditioned on the defendant's immediate and daily personal appearance in the court to which the appeal is taken.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 13. The record on appeal consists of a transcript and, if necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts. The court reporter shall prepare the record from the reporter's record, mechanical, or videotape recordings of the proceedings. The defendant shall pay for the cost of the transcription. If the court finds that the defendant is unable to pay or give security for the record on appeal after a hearing in response to an affidavit by the defendant, the court shall order the reporter to prepare the record without charge to the defendant.

Transcript

Sec. 14. (a) On the written request of the defendant or the defendant's attorney, the clerk of the municipal court of record shall prepare under his hand and seal a transcript of the municipal court of record proceedings for transmission to the appellate court. The transcript must include copies of:

(1) the complaint;

(2) material docket entries made by the court;

- (3) the jury charge and verdict in a trial by jury;
- (4) the judgment;
- (5) the motion for new trial;
- (6) the notice of appeal;
- (7) written motions and pleas;
- (8) written orders of the court;
- (9) any bills of exception filed with the court; and
- (10) the appeal bond.

(b) The clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court of record prepared by mechanical or videotape recordings.

Bills of Exception

Sec. 15. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript subject to the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965. The bills of exception must be filed with the municipal clerk not later than the 60th day after the date on which the notice of appeal is given or filed.

Statement of Facts

Sec. 16. A statement of facts included in the record on appeal must contain:

(1) a transcript of all or part of the municipal court of record proceedings that are shown by the notes of the court reporter to have occurred before, during, or after the trial, if the transcription is requested by the defendant;

(2) a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at trial as agreed to by the defendant and the prosecuting attorney;

(3) a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case; or

(4) a transcription of all or part of the municipal court of record proceedings in the case that is prepared from mechanical or videotape recordings of the proceedings.

Completion, Approval, and Transfer of Record

Sec. 17. (a) Not later than the 60th day after the date on which the notice of appeal is given or filed, the parties must file with the clerk of the municipal court of record:

(1) the statement of facts;

(2) a written description of material to be included in the transcript in addition to the required material; and

(3) any material to be included in the transcript that is not in the custody of the clerk.

(b) On completion of the record, the municipal judge shall approve the record in the manner provided for record completion, notification, and approval in the court of appeals.

(c) Following court approval, the clerk shall promptly forward the record to the appellate court clerk for filing. The appellate court clerk shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney that the record has been filed.

Brief on Appeal

Sec. 18. (a) A brief on appeal from a municipal court of record must present points of error in the manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the court of appeals.

(b) The defendant must file the brief with the clerk of the appellate court not later than the 15th day after the date on which the transcript and statement of facts are filed with that clerk. The defendant or the defendant's attorney must certify that the brief has been properly mailed to the prosecuting attorney.

(c) The prosecuting attorney must file the brief with the clerk of the appellate court not later than the 15th day after the date on which the defendant's brief is filed.

(d) On filing, each party shall deliver a copy of the brief to the opposing party and to the municipal judge.

Court Rules

Sec. 19. (a) Except as modified by this Act, the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, governs the trial of cases before the municipal courts of record. The courts may make and enforce all rules of practice and procedure necessary to expedite the trial of cases before the courts that are not inconsistent with general law.

(b) The appellate courts may make and enforce all rules of practice and procedure necessary to expedite the dispatch of appeals from the municipal courts of record that are not inconsistent with general law.

Disposition on Appeal

Sec. 20. (a) According to the law and the nature of the case, the appellate court may:

(1) affirm the judgment of the municipal court of record;

(2) reverse and remand for a new trial;

(3) reverse and dismiss the case; or

(4) reform or correct the judgment.

(b) Unless the matter was made an issue in the trial court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or the statement of facts, the appellate court shall presume that:

(1) venue was proven in the trial court;

(2) the jury, if any, was properly impaneled and sworn;

(3) the defendant was arraigned and pleaded to the complaint; and

(4) the municipal judge certified the charge before it was read to the jury.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. The court shall set forth the reasons for its decision. The clerk of the appellate court shall mail copies of the decision to the parties and to the municipal judge as soon as the decision is rendered.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings

Sec. 21. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of that court shall certify the proceedings and the judgment and shall mail the certificate to the clerk of the municipal court of record. The municipal clerk shall file the certificate with the papers in the case and note the certificate on the case docket. If the municipal court of record judgment is affirmed, further action to enforce the judgment is not necessary except to:

- (1) forfeit the bond of the defendant;
- (2) issue a writ of habeas corpus for the defendant; or
- (3) issue an execution against the defendant's property.

Effect of Order of New Trial

Sec. 22. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the case stands as if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court of record.

Appeal to Court of Appeals

Sec. 23. If the judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant has the right to appeal to the court of appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant exceeds $100. The appeal is governed by the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, relating to direct appeals from a county or a district court to the court of appeals except that:

- (1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the court of appeals unless the rules of the court of criminal appeals provide otherwise; and
- (2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the court of appeals.

Seal

Sec. 24. The governing body of the city shall provide each municipal court with a seal with a star of five points in the center and the words "Municipal Court of Austin, Texas." The impress of the seal shall be attached to all papers, except subpoenas, issued out of the court and shall be used by each municipal judge or the clerk to authenticate all official acts of the clerk and the municipal judge.

Severability

Sec. 25. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act in all its particulars and as to all other persons and circumstances shall be valid and of full force and effect, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Art. 1201. Cities Empowered

Cities having more than one thousand inhabitants under the preceding Federal census may proceed in accordance with the provisions hereof, independently of and without reference to any other applicable law or charter provision, present or future, which, however, shall remain in force as alternative methods. The term "city" or "cities" used herein shall include all incorporated towns and cities acting hereunder.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1202. Powers

Subject to the terms hereof, the governing body of a city may lay out, open, establish, widen, straighten, or extend any highway within its limits, and purchase, condemn, and take property therefor. The cost of property purchased, taken or damaged, and costs of condemnation and making assessments hereinafter referred to, and of the enforcement, collection, sale or realization into money of assessments or certificates, together with all other costs of making such improvements, may be paid wholly from any fund of the city available therefor, or wholly from the fund created by said assessments, or partly from each of said funds. The governing body shall have power to assess part or all of such costs against the owners of property abutting or in the vicinity of such improvements specially benefited thereby, and against said property, and to collect, enforce, sell or realize said assessments into money. The term "highway" shall include any street, avenue, boulevard, alley, public place or square, dedicated or to be dedicated to public use.

Art. 1203. Further Powers

Cities may purchase by agreement with the owner any property, all or part of which in the opinion of the governing body is necessary for the making of improvements under the terms hereof and pay for same out of any fund available. Cities may sell and convey any part of such property not appropriated to such improvement on such terms and for such consideration as they may see fit, and the proceeds shall become a part of a special fund out of which the cost of improvements provided for herein may be defrayed and shall be used for no other purpose, but only the cost of property actually appropriated to such improvement shall be included in any assessment made under the provisions hereof.

Art. 1204. Resolution

When the governing body shall determine to proceed hereunder it shall so declare by resolution which may state the nature and extent of the improvement to be made and the limits thereof, and may describe the parcel or parcels of land proposed to be taken or condemned by any description substantially identifying the same, or by lot or block number, or number of front feet, or by the name of the owner, or if owned by an estate, the name thereof. No mistake or omission of said resolution shall invalidate it, and its passage shall be conclusive of the public use and necessity of the proposed improvement.

Art. 1205. Survey

Upon passage of such resolution, the city engineer or engineer designated by the governing body shall prepare and submit to said body a plat showing the nature and limits of the proposed investments,¹ the boundaries thereof, and the points between which it is proposed to establish the same, and the property through which it is to be extended, which is to be taken or condemned therefor, and shall in writing report the estimated total cost of said improvement, and of each parcel of property to be condemned or acquired. The governing body shall examine said plat and report and correct errors therein, if any, but no error or omission shall invalidate the same, or any proceeding had thereafter pursuant thereto.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

¹ So in enrolled bill; probably should read "improvements".

Art. 1206. Condemnation Commission

(a) No property shall be taken without just compensation first made to the owner. If the amount of said compensation shall not be agreed upon, the governing body shall cause to be prepared, on behalf of the city, a statement in writing containing a description of the parcel or parcels of property sought to be taken, the names of the owner or owners thereof, if known, and the purpose for which said property is sought to be taken. The statement shall be filed with the Judge of a County Court at Law, if such Court exists in the county where the property is situated, otherwise with the County Judge of such county. Upon filing the statement the Judge shall forthwith, in term time or vacation, appoint a Commission consisting of three disinterested freeholders of said county who are qualified voters to assess the damages to accrue to said owners, or other interested parties, by reason of condemnation of said property.

In event of the death, disability, refusal to act, incapacity for any reason, or absence for more than thirty days from said county of any Commissioner appointed, at any time, the Judge shall forthwith appoint a new Commissioner or Commissioners having the qualifications herein prescribed, who shall succeed to and exercise all the powers and duties of the Commissioner or Commissioners originally appointed, and vacancies so caused in said Commission shall be so filled by the Judge whenever they occur. But all proceedings of said Commissioners prior to said vacancy shall be valid and it shall not be necessary for the Commissioners then qualified and acting to again do any Act or take any proceeding already done or performed, but said Commissioners shall proceed after the filling of said vacancy and take all steps and do all things provided to be done hereunder as if no such vacancy had occurred.

(b) The clerk, secretary, or recording officer of the city, or the said Commission itself, shall give written notice to the owners of property proposed to be taken or damaged and to all persons having any interest in or lien upon said property, of a hearing before said Commission, which notice shall state the time and place of hearing, and may contain a brief statement of the nature and extent of the proposed improvement, and a description of the property proposed to be taken; such description may be by lot and block number, front feet, the name of the owner or owners, or by any other description which will substantially identify said property. Notice of said hearing shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the property is situated, not less than three separate days, the first publication to be not less than ten days prior to the date of hearing. Notice by publication shall be valid and binding upon the real and true owners of property and all persons having an interest in or lien upon the same, if it shall generally notify them to appear and be heard, without specifically designating said parties by name, and no error or mistake in the name of any person to whom said notice is directed shall invalidate the same. Said notice shall also be served by delivering to said owners, lienholders, or interested parties, if residents of the county where said property is situated, or to their agent or attorney, or if a minor to the Guardian thereof, a copy of said notice. The person serving said notice shall make and file with the clerk, secretary or recording officer of the city a return in writing thereon, stating when and how he served said notice. The governing body may provide for other and additional notice, but notice by publication shall in all cases be valid and binding, whether other notice is given or not. The governing body may provide for and cause to be given, in accordance with due process of law, any other and additional notice of any other hearing which may become or be deemed necessary upon the vacation of the office of a Commissioner and appointing of a new one, or for any other reason, and to provide for such hearings and the nature and effect thereof, and to cause as many and different hearings to be held in the course of condemnation proceedings as may be deemed necessary. Said Notices, and the return thereon, shall be filed with the city and preserved in its records.

(c) Hearings shall be adjourned and shall be kept open until all parties interested and appearing shall be fully heard. All owners, interested parties, or lienholders shall have the right to appear at said hearings in person or by agent or attorney, and be heard as to the value of property proposed to be taken or as to the damages to property not taken, resulting from the improvement, or as to the legality or regularity of the proceedings or any right of said owners and other parties. All objections or contests shall be in writing and filed with said Commission. When all parties have been heard the Commission shall close the hearing and find the damages due owners, lienholders, or others interested, for property taken or damaged, and shall in their findings apportion between them the amounts payable to each, and shall date and sign a report in writing, in duplicate, one of which reports shall be filed with the clerk, secretary or recording officer of the city, and one with the Clerk of the Court by whose Judge the Commission was appointed.

All proceedings of the governing body with reference to such condemnation, as well as all notices issued in connection therewith, returns thereof, orders, reports, and other proceedings of the Commission, and certified copies of all orders or proceedings of any Judge or Court with reference thereto, may be recorded in the Minutes of said governing body, and said record, or certified copies, thereof, and the original shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all facts therein recited.

(d) Any party affected by the decision of said Commission who shall be dissatisfied therewith, shall, within ten days after the filing of said report with said Judge, file in his Court in opposition thereto, setting forth in writing the particular cause or causes of objection, and thereupon the adverse party or parties shall be cited and said cause shall be tried and decided as other civil causes in said Court. If no objections are filed with said Judge within said time, he shall cause the said report to be entered in the Minutes of his Court and make the same the judgment thereof, and may issue the necessary process to enforce the same.

Upon the expiration of said time for filing objections, the findings of said Commission shall become final and binding upon the parties, their heirs, successors and assigns, and shall not thereafter be questioned in any proceeding.

(e) Said Commissioners shall each be entitled to receive as compensation not exceeding Ten ($10.00) Dollars for every day employed by them in the performance of their duties.

Art. 1207. Statutes Applicable

The applicable provisions of the laws relating to eminent domain are made a part of this law, and shall apply to proceedings hereunder, and all parties shall proceed in accordance with and be governed by said articles, unless otherwise herein provided. The city shall not be required to execute the bond referred to in said laws.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1208. Errors

The governing body, said commission and judge before whom condemnation proceedings are pending, shall take all steps and do all things proper to correct any error, invalidity or irregularity in any proceeding with reference thereto, and shall do so at the instance of any interested party. No error or omission in said proceedings shall invalidate the same, but any proceeding may be corrected, taken again, or adjourned, until such corrections are made or omissions supplied.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1209. Assessments

Whenever the governing body shall order the making of any improvement herein referred to, it may then or thereafter at any time provide by resolution that all or part of the costs thereof, as defined in the third article of this chapter, shall be assessed against said property abutting said proposed improvement, or in the vicinity thereof, and the owners thereof specially benefited thereby, together with reasonable attorney's fees and all costs incurred in the collection of said assessments, and shall have power to apportion the same among the owners of said property, and may designate the property proposed to be assessed, or the district within which property will be benefited and within which assessments may be made, provided no assessment shall be made against any property, or its owner, in excess of the special benefits thereto in the enhanced value thereof from said improvement.

No assessments shall be made against any property exempt from execution, but the owner shall be personally liable and assessed therefor.

Art. 1210. Lien

Assessments shall constitute a prior lien upon the property to all others, except ad valorem taxes, and shall relate back and take effect as of the date of the resolution ordering the same.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1211. Notice of Assessment

No assessment shall be made against owners of property benefited, or their property, until after a reasonable opportunity to be heard shall have been given them, lienholders, and others interested, before such governing body, or the commission hereafter referred to, preceded by a reasonable notice thereof published three (3) times prior to said hearing in some newspaper of general circulation in the city; and, if the owner is a railway or street railway, by additional written notice delivered either in person to its local agent, or by depositing said written notice in the city post office, postage paid, and properly addressed to the offices of the railway or street railway at the address as it appears on the last approved city tax roll; and the written notice, if required, to be mailed or delivered, and the first publication to be made not less than ten (10) days prior to said hearing, and the names of owners, lienholders, and others interested need not be specifically set out in said notice, but the parcel or parcels of land proposed to be assessed shall be briefly described in said notice, either by lot and block, number, front feet, or by any other description reasonably identifying the same, or by reference to any plat, report or record filed in connection with said proceedings. The governing body or commission shall have the power to give other and additional notice, but said published notice, together with said written notice, if required, shall be sufficient.

Art. 1212. Hearing

At said hearing said owners, lienholders, and other interested parties shall have the right to contest in writing said assessments, the special benefits, irregularities or invalidities thereof, or any prerequisite thereto, and to produce testimony in support of said contests, and the governing body or said commission shall determine the amounts, if any, to be assessed.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1213. Assessments Levied

The governing body shall make assessments by ordinance. Said assessments may be enforced by suit brought by the city for the benefit of any holder and owner of such assessments or of the certificates issued thereon, or brought by such holder and owner; or by the sale of the property assessed in the same manner as near as possible as is provided for the sale of real estate for municipal taxes. Assessments may be made payable in not exceeding sixteen installments, the last maturing in not over fifteen years, and may bear interest at not over eight per cent per annum.

Art. 1214. Assessment Commission

At the time of or after the passage by the governing body of the resolution ordering such assessments, it shall have power in its discretion to declare that said hearing to property owners and other interested parties shall be had before the commissioners then or thereafter appointed to make condemnations, or before their successors are appointed should a vacancy occur, and thereupon such commission shall cause to be given the notice or notices provided in the third preceding article, and it shall have all the powers conferred by this law upon such governing body, and shall do all things with reference to said assessments which said governing body is hereby empowered to do, except as herein expressly provided. If said hearing shall be before said commission, it shall report in writing its findings to the governing body, which shall examine said report, and, if found correct, approve the same, and shall by ordinance assess against the owners and their property found to be benefited by said improvements, the amounts found to be properly chargeable against them.

Art. 1215. Certificates

The city may issue assignable certificates, payable to the city, or to the purchaser thereof, declaring the liability of owners and their property for the payment of assessments, and may fix the terms, time of payment, the conditions of default, and maturity thereof.

Art. 1216. Suit on Certificate

The allegations of such recitals of such certificates in any suit brought for the enforcement thereof, shall be a sufficient allegation of all proceedings had by said governing body with reference to the making of said improvements and the assessment of the cost thereof, and of all prerequisites to the said assessment, and shall be deemed sufficient to permit proof of said proceedings and prerequisites without the necessity of alleging and setting forth the same in the pleadings, by caption, substantially or in full.

Art. 1217. Reassessments

No error in any proceeding hereunder, or in the description of property, or in the name of the owner, shall invalidate an assessment, which shall nevertheless be in effect as against the real and true owner and his property. Whenever the governing body is advised of such error it shall correct the same, and shall at the request of any interested party reassess any owner or property erroneously assessed, after lawful notice and hearing and in accordance with benefits as herein provided as to original assessments, and may fix the time and terms of payment of said sums so reassessed, and issue assignable certificates evidencing the same as herein provided as to original assessments. The right to make said reassessments shall continue until the expiration of six years from the date of the ordinance making the original assessment. But if the same shall have been resisted or brought in question in any action at law, the time consumed in said action shall be excluded in computing said term of six years. In making such reassessments it shall not be necessary to do any act, or take any step, or again perform any prerequisite already legally done or performed with reference to the original assessment, but the governing body may in its discretion proceed without again taking steps already validly taken or performed provided no reassessment shall be made until after the notice and hearing and in accordance with benefits, as herein provided.

Art. 1218. Deficiency Assessments

If after any assessment has been made hereunder, if by means of an increased award of compensation for property taken or damaged in condemnation proceedings hereunder, or on appeal from the award of said commission, or for any other reason, the amount assessed and apportioned between the property owners benefited shall be found insufficient to defray all the costs of the improvement as herein defined, the governing body may, in its discretion, assess the deficiency against owners of property benefited, and their property, and apportion same among them, after the hearing and notice herein provided and after complying with each provision hereof applicable to original assessments; or said deficiency assessments may be made after notice and hearing before said commission in the manner provided in the fourth preceding article and assignable certificates evidencing said assessment may be issued by the city.

Art. 1219. Suit

Any property owner against whom or whose property an assessment or reassessment has been made, may, within ten days thereafter bring suit to set aside or correct the same, or any proceeding with reference thereto on account of any error or invalidity therein, but thereafter such owner, his heirs, assigns, or successors shall be barred from such action or any defense of invalidity in such proceedings or assessment or reassessment, in any action in which the same may be brought into question.

Art. 1220. Enforcement of Law

The governing body shall have power to pass any ordinance or resolution, or to adopt rules and regulations, or to take any steps proper to give full legal effect to every part of this chapter. No assessment or reassessment shall be affected or invalidated in any manner by any error, omission or invalidity in any proceeding of the city hereunder with reference to the making of any improvement herein provided for, or with reference to the taking or condemnation of any property therefor, or with reference to determining and paying damages for property taken or damaged, but regardless thereof, and regardless of the fact that at the date of said assessments said improvements may not have been completed, the said assessments shall be in all things valid and binding.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1220a. Notices of Assessments for Street Improvements"Street" Defined

Sec. 1. That the term "street" as used herein, shall include any street, avenue, alley, highway, boulevard, drive, public place, square or any portion or portions thereof.

Filing Notice of Assessment

Sec. 2. That whenever the Governing Body of any city, town or village shall, by resolution, ordinance or other proceedings, order, direct or provide or determine it to be necessary that any street be improved in any manner, then if it is proposed that all or any part of the cost of such improvements be levied or assessed and made a lien on property abutting thereon, there shall be filed with the County Clerk of the county or counties in which such property is situated, a notice signed in the name of such city, town or village by its Clerk, Secretary or Mayor or other officer performing the duties of such. Such notice shall meet all requirements of this Act when it shows substantially that the Governing Body of such city, town or village has ordered, directed or otherwise provided or determined it to be necessary that such street be improved and shall give the name thereof with the two cross streets or other approximate lengthwise limits between which same is to be or has been improved, or shall otherwise identify or designate same and shall state that a portion of the cost of such improvement is to be or has been specially assessed as a lien upon property abutting thereon. It is specially provided that one notice may embrace and include any number of streets or improvements.

Notice Designating Property Subject to Lien

Sec. 3. If it is proposed that all or any part of the cost of improving any such street be assessed as a lien on any property other than that abutting thereon, then a notice so signed shall be filed with the Clerk of the county or counties in which such property affected is situated, and such notice in such cases shall designate the property proposed to be assessed or the district within which assessments have been or may be made or shall otherwise identify the property against which a lien is proposed to be assessed.

Requisites of Notice; Filing

Sec. 4. It shall not be necessary that any notice required by this Act give details or that it be sworn to or acknowledged, and same may be filed at any time and the County Clerk with whom any such notice is filed shall record same in the records of mortgages or deeds of trust and shall index same in the name of the city, town or village and in the name or other designation of the street or streets to the improvement of which the notice relates.

Time of Taking Effect of Lien

Sec. 5. That in all instances coming within the purview of this Act the lien of any assessment or re-assessment upon the property assessed or re-assessed shall take effect and be in force at and from the filing of the notice herein provided for and not before such filing and substantial compliance with the provisions of this Act shall be sufficient.

No Retroactive Effect

Sec. 6. That this Act shall not apply to or in any wise affect special assessments or re-assessments or liens fixed nor to any assessments, re-assessments or liens for any such improvements ordered, directed or provided for prior to the time this Act takes effect.

Other Laws Superseded as to Time Liens Take Effect

Sec. 7. That this Act shall supersede all other parts of laws with reference to the time that liens of any assessments or re-assessments shall take effect.

[Acts 1930, 41st Leg., 5th C.S., p. 147, ch. 21.]

Repeal

Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2721, ch. 886, effective June 14, 1971, relating to the microfilming of records by counties, and classified as art. 1941(a), provided in § 2 that all laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of said Act are hereby repealed, to the extent of conflict only, including but not limited to this article.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN. ARTIFICIAL LIGHTING SYSTEM

- Art.
 1221. May Install.
 1222. Petition.
 1223. Plans.
 1224. Resolution.
 1225. Specifications.
 1226. Bids.
 1227. Contract.
 1228. Assessments.
 1229. Mode of Assessment.
 1230. Statement.
 1231. Notice of Hearing.

 1235. Suit.
 1236. Proceedings.
 1237. Certificates.
 1238. Public Improvements.
 1239. General Powers.
 1240. Control.

Art. 1221. May Install

Incorporated cities or towns of more than five thousand inhabitants under the preceding Federal census for the purpose of making local public street improvements by installing and maintaining special lighting systems in said cities or portions thereof, may proceed in accordance with the provisions of the next succeeding nineteen articles, independently of and without reference to any other applicable law or charter provisions, present or future, except as herein provided for, which said law or charter provision shall remain in force as alternative methods. The term "city" or "cities," as used herein, shall include all incorporated cities and towns acting hereunder.

Art. 1222. Petition

Subject to the terms hereof, whenever a petition is filed with the governing body setting forth that a certain street, streets, or portions thereof not less than one block, naming and describing the same, or certain districts composed of streets, highways, boulevards or alleys, should be specially illuminated, and that an additional system is necessary for that purpose, and stating that such illumination thereof will be a public improvement and will be conducive to the public welfare, and is signed by a majority of the owners of property abutting on said street, streets or portions thereof, and praying that the governing body of such city specially illuminate such street, streets or portion thereof, and construct, install, equip and maintain additional system of street lights for that purpose, the governing body shall proceed in the manner hereinafter set out.

Art. 1223. Plans

The petitioning property owners may provide in said petition plans and specifications together with the kind of poles and lights and other material necessary to properly install said special lighting system, or such part of same as they desire to specify, and the governing body in that instance may order the same or any part thereof used in the construction of said system. If the kind specified in said petition is not available, the governing body shall use material of like kind and quality to that specified in said petition. Said body may reject any or all of said plans and specifications and have same prepared as hereinafter provided for.

Art. 1224. Resolution

The governing body shall have power, by resolution, to order the making of the public improvements mentioned herein, or any of them, by a majority vote, without first being petitioned to do so by the abutting property owners as hereinbefore provided, and the passage of such resolution shall be conclusive of the public necessity and the benefits thereof, and no notice of such action by the governing body shall be requisite to its validity. Such resolution shall in general terms, set forth the nature and extent of the improvements or improvement to be made, the street, streets or portions thereof to be illuminated, the material or materials with which the improvements are to be constructed, and the method or methods under which the cost of such improvements are to be paid. Such resolution shall be passed whether the improvements are made with or without the petition of the abutting property owners.

Art. 1225. Specifications

Upon the passage of the resolution by the governing body as hereinbefore provided, it shall be the duty of the city engineer, or the official of the city whose duties most nearly correspond to that of city engineer, to forthwith prepare plans and specifications for the said improvement, which, when completed, shall be submitted to the governing body for its approval.

Art. 1226. Bids

When the plans and specifications have been approved and adopted by the governing body, it shall be the duty of the city secretary, or other officer as may be designated by the governing body, to at once advertise for sealed bids for the construction of such improvements in accordance with the specifications. Such advertisement shall be inserted in a daily paper of general circulation in the city concerned, and shall state the time within which the bids may be received as prescribed by the governing body, which shall not be less than ten and not more than fifteen days from the insertion of said advertisement. Bids shall be filed with the city secretary, or such other officer as the governing body may designate, and shall be opened and read at a public meeting of the governing body. Such body shall have the right to accept such bids as it shall deem most advantageous to the abutting property owners concerned in the improvement, or may reject any and all bids. No bid shall be amended, changed or revised after being filed.

Art. 1227. Contract

When the bids for such improvements have been accepted by the governing body, the city shall enter into a contract with the contractor or contractors to whom the work has been let for the performance thereof, which contracts shall be executed in the name of the city by its chief executive and attested by the city secretary, or such other officer as may be designated by the governing body, with the corporate seal.

Art. 1228. Assessments

The city shall have power to assess the whole cost of installing and completing the improvements provided for herein, both for labor and material, against the owners of property abutting upon the street, streets or portions thereof, upon which said improvements are to be constructed, and who are specially benefited thereby, and shall have power to fix a lien against such property to secure the payment of the proportion of such costs assessed against the owners of such property. In no event shall costs be assessed against such owners or their property, or their personal liability therefor finally determined until after the hearing hereinafter mentioned, and after the adjustment of equities between such owners. The cost assessed against any property or the owner thereof, shall not exceed the amount of the special benefit in enhanced value which such property shall receive from such improvement.

Art. 1229. Mode of Assessment

The portion of the costs of such improvements which may be assessed against any such property or its owners, shall be in proportion as the frontage of the property of each owner is to the whole frontage of the property on the street, streets or portions thereof abutting on the special lighting system, and such cost shall be apportioned in accordance with what is commonly known as the frontage or front foot rule; provided that if the application of this rule would, in the opinion of the governing body in particular cases be unjust or unequal, it shall be the duty of said body to assess and apportion said costs in such proportion as it may deem just and equitable, having in view the specific benefit in enhanced value to be received by each owner of such property, the equities of such owners and the adjustment of such apportionment, so as to produce a substantial equality of the benefits received by and the burdens imposed upon each owner.

Art. 1230. Statement

The contract or contracts for such improvements having been executed and approved by the governing body, the city engineer, or the officer of the city whose duties most nearly correspond to that of city engineer, shall prepare a written statement which shall contain the names of such persons, firms, corporations or estates as may own property abutting on the section to be improved, the number of front feet owned by each, and describing the property owned by each, either by lot and block number, or otherwise so describing such property as may be sufficient to identify same; and such statement shall contain an estimate of the total cost of the improvement, the amount per front foot to be assessed against abutting property and its owners, and the total estimated amount to be assessed against each owner. Such statement shall be submitted to the governing body whose duty it shall be to examine same and correct any errors that may appear therein, but no error, omission or mistake in said statement shall in any manner invalidate any assessment made, or lien or claim of personal liability fixed thereunder.

Art. 1231. Notice of Hearing

When the statement shall have been examined and approved by the governing body, it shall declare by resolution, and directing notice thereof to be given to the owners aforesaid by publication for ten consecutive days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the city where the improvement is to be made; but if there be no daily newspaper in such place, then the governing body shall give such notice to such owners by registered mail at least ten days before the time set for the hearing as hereinafter provided. The notice shall state the time and place of the hearing and the street, streets or portions thereof to be improved, with a general description of such improvements and a statement of the amount per front foot proposed to be assessed against the property, and a notice to all such property owners and all persons interested to appear at such hearing. It shall not be necessary to include in such notice a description of any property or the name of the owner, but such notice shall nevertheless be binding and conclusive upon all owners of property, or persons interested in or having a lien or claim thereon.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1232. Hearing

On the day set out in the notice for the hearing, not less than ten days from the date of such notice, or at any time thereafter before the close of the hearing, any person, firm or corporation interested in any property which may be claimed to be subject to assessment for the purpose of paying the cost of the improvement, in whole or in part, shall be entitled to a hearing before the governing body as to all matters affecting said property, or the benefits thereto, or such improvements, or any claim of liability, or objection to the making of said improvements, or any invalidity or irregularity in any proceeding with reference to making said improvements, or any other objection thereto. Such person, firm, or corporation shall file their objections in writing, and thereafter the governing body shall hear and determine the same, and all persons interested shall have full opportunity to produce evidence and witnesses and appear in person or by attorney; and a full and fair hearing thereof shall be given by such governing body, which hearing may be adjourned from time to time without further notice. The governing body shall have the power to inquire into and determine all facts necessary to the adjudication of such objections and the ascertainment of the special benefits to such owners by reason of the contemplated improvements; and shall render such judgment or order in each case as may be just and proper. Any objection to the irregularity of the proceedings with reference to the making of such improvements as herein provided, or to the validity of any assessment or adjudication of personal liability against such property or the owners thereof, shall be deemed waived unless presented at the time and in the manner herein specified.

Art. 1233. Order of Assessments

When the hearing above mentioned has concluded, the governing body shall, by ordinance, assess against the several owners of the property abutting on the street, streets or portions thereof, such proportionate part of the cost of improvements as said body shall have adjudged against the respective owners and their property. Said ordinance shall fix a lien upon such property and declare the respective owners thereof to be personally liable for the respective amounts to be assessed; and shall state the time and manner of payment of such assessment; and said governing body may order that the said assessments shall be payable in installments, and prescribe the amount, time and manner of payment of such installments, which, except as hereinafter provided, shall not exceed six, and the last payment shall not be deferred beyond five years from the completion of such improvement and its acceptance by the city. The said ordinance shall also prescribe the rate of interest to be charged upon deferred payments, not to exceed seven per cent per annum; and may provide for the maturity of all deferred payments and their collection upon default of any installment of principal or interest.

Art. 1234. Lien

Each property owner shall have the privilege of discharging the whole amount assessed against him, or any installment thereof, at any time before maturity, upon payment thereof with accrued interest. The fact that more than one parcel of land, the property of one owner or jointly owned by two or more persons, firms or corporations, have been assessed together in one assessment, shall not invalidate the same or any lien thereon, or any claim of personal liability thereunder. The cost of any such improvement assessed against any property or owner thereof, together with all costs and reasonable attorneys fees when incurred, shall constitute a personal claim against such property owner, and shall be secured by a lien on such property superior to all other liens, claims, or titles, except city, county and State taxes, and such personal liability may be enforced by suit in any court of competent jurisdiction. In any suit brought under this article, it shall be proper to join as defendants two or more property owners who are interested in any single improvement or any single contract for such improvement. The person or persons who own property at the date of any ordinance providing for the assessment thereof, shall be severally and personally liable for their respective portions of the said assessment. The lien of such improvements shall revert back and take effect as of the date of the original resolution ordering the improvement, and the passage of such resolution shall operate as notice of such lien to all persons. Any error or mistake in such ordinance in the name of the owner of the property assessed, shall not invalidate the lien or personal liability thereby created, but the same shall nevertheless exist against the real and true owner of such property as if correctly described.

Art. 1235. Suit

At any time within ten days after the hearing herein provided for has been concluded, any person or persons having an interest in any property which may be subject to assessment under this law, or otherwise having any financial interest in such improvement or improvements or in the manner in which the cost thereof is to be paid, who may desire to contest on any ground the validity of any proceeding that may have been had with reference to the making of such improvements or the validity in whole or in part of any assessment or lien or personal liability fixed by said proceedings, may institute suit for that purpose in any court of competent jurisdiction. Any person who shall fail to institute such suit in said period of ten days, or who shall fail to diligently prosecute such suit in good faith to final judgment, shall be forever barred from making any such contest or defense in any other action, and this estoppel shall bind their heirs, successors, administrators and assigns. The city and the person or persons to whom the contract has been awarded shall be made defendants in such suit, and any other proper parties may be joined therein.

Art. 1236. Proceedings

There shall be attached to the plaintiff's petition an affidavit of the truth of the matters therein alleged, except such matters as are alleged on information and belief, that said suit is brought in good faith and not to injure or delay the city or the contractor or any owner of real estate abutting on the improvement. Unless the provisions of this article are complied with by the plaintiff or plaintiffs, such suit shall be dismissed on motion of any defendant and in that event plaintiff or plaintiffs shall be barred and estopped to the same extent as if suit had not been brought. In any case where a suit is brought as above provided, then the performance of the work may be suspended at the election of either the city or contractor until such suit shall be finally determined in the court of original jurisdiction or any appellate court to which the same may be taken by appeal or writ of error. Every appeal or writ of error shall be perfected within thirty days from the adjournment of the term of court of original jurisdiction at which final judgment was rendered in such suit; and no appeal or writ of error to review the judgment of said court may thereafter be taken or sued out by either party. Any such suit shall be entitled to precedence in the courts of this State of appellate jurisdiction, and shall be heard and determined as promptly as practicable.

Art. 1237. Certificates

The governing body may provide that for the cost, which is assessed against the abutting property and its owners, the contractor to whom the work may be let shall look only to such property owners and their property, and that the city shall be relieved of liability for such cost. The governing body may also authorize assignable certificates against abutting property or property owners. The recital in such certificates that the proceedings with reference to making such improvements have been regularly had in compliance with the terms of this law, and all prerequisites to the fixing of this lien and the claim of personal liability evidenced by such certificate, have been performed, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts so recited, and no other proof thereof shall be required, but in all courts the said proceedings and prerequisites shall, without further proof, be presumed to have been had or performed. Such certificates shall be executed by the chief executive of the city, and attested with the corporate seal by the city secretary or such other officer as may be designated by the governing body.

Art. 1238. Public Improvements

The governing body, if it deems it to be more advantageous to the public, provided public funds are available therefor, may order by resolution the making of any local public improvement by installing a special lighting system as contemplated herein, and for such purpose shall prescribe the district composed of the street or streets, highways, boulevards or alleys, or any portion thereof, that are sought to be improved by the establishment and maintenance of such special lighting system. Specifications shall be prepared therefor under the direction of the governing body and bids shall be invited upon the same as provided herein for making such local improvements. Contracts shall be let as provided herein for making contracts in other cases. A hearing shall be accorded to all property owners owning property abutting upon the streets in such districts to be improved by the said lighting system, and the cost of the same shall be assessed against such property in the same manner as provided herein in other cases; a special lien shall be created against the abutting property and the owners thereof shall be personally liable as is provided herein in all other cases. The cost of making the said improvement shall be paid out of any available funds of the city which may be provided by said body. The amount of the cost of making such improvements so paid by the city to the contractor shall be reimbursed to the city by the property owners whose property is assessed in the manner provided for herein. All proceedings relative to making the assessments and issuing assignable certificates shall apply as far as practicable to the procedure to be followed in making the public improvements under the terms of this article.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1239. General Powers

The governing body may provide additional rules and regulations governing hearings and the issuance of notices therefor as may be deemed advisable in order to afford a full hearing to all property owners concerning the assessments levied or to be levied against them on account of the special benefits received from the improvements so ordered. Such body may use such money as is at its disposal to assist in the financing of the public improvements herein provided for.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1240. Control

After the public improvements provided for in the preceding nineteen articles have been completed and the job accepted by the city, the same shall become the property of the city, and the city shall maintain the same at its own expense, as a part of its regular lighting system.

Art. 1241a. Procedure for Abolition of Cities and Towns

Authority to Abolish Corporate Existence

Sec. 1. Incorporated towns and villages, and cities and towns incorporated under the general laws, and cities and towns of ten thousand inhabitants or less chartered under special law, including those which may have heretofore accepted the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 28, may abolish their corporate existence in the manner hereinafter provided.

Petition and Election

Sec. 2. When four hundred of the qualified voters resident in any such city, town, or village desire the abolishment of such corporation, they may petition the mayor to that effect, who shall thereupon order an election to be held in such city, town, or village on the same date provided by law for the next general election for mayor therein. If a majority of the qualified voters resident in any such city, town, or village is less than four hundred in number, then the mayor shall order an election as above provided upon the presentation to him of a petition signed by two-thirds of the resident voters of such city, town, or village.

Eligible Voters; Results; Declaration of Abolition

Sec. 3. All persons who are legally qualified resident voters of the city, town, or village where such election is to be held shall be entitled to vote at such election. If a majority of such voters voting at such election shall vote to abolish such corporation, the mayor shall declare such corporation abolished and certify such fact to the commissioners court of the county. Such commissioners court shall enter said order upon its minutes, and said corporation shall cease to exist.

Order; Conduct and Canvass of Election by Mayor; Laws Governing Election

Sec. 4. The election as herein provided shall be ordered, conducted and canvassed by the mayor as in the case of the incorporation of such city, town, or village, except that the mayor shall perform all acts performable in the case of incorporation by the county judge. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, such election shall be governed by the laws of the State of Texas applicable generally to elections in incorporated cities.

Repeals

Sec. 5. The following statutes are specifically repealed: Acts 1895, p. 166, G.L. Vol. 10, p. 896; Acts 1899, p. 245; Acts 1897, p. 194; these being codified respectively as Articles 1241, 1242, 1243, and 1261. No other laws are hereby repealed except insofar as they are inconsistent herewith.

Arts. 1242, 1243. Repealed by Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 1988, ch. 736, § 5, eff. June 18, 1967

Art. 1244. Receiver

In all cases where any city or town having theretofore had a valid corporate existence, under the laws of this State, has abolished said corporate existence in the manner provided by law, and in all cases where any city or town having a valid corporate existence under such laws may hereafter abolish their corporate existence, any creditor of any such city or town may apply to the judge of the district court of the district in which such city or town may be situated, for the appointment of a receiver for said corporation. After having posted up in at least three public places in the county where such city or town is located, one of which shall be in said city or town, written notice stating the substance of the application, when and before whom the same will be heard, such judge in term time or vacation, may appoint a suitable person as such receiver for such corporation, and shall fix the amount of bond to be given by such receiver in at least double the probable amount of the indebtedness or value of the property of such town or city, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as such officer, and for the paying over and delivery of all money and property coming into his hands as such receiver, to the parties entitled to receive same, such bond to be approved by the judge making the appointment; and same, together with order of appointment, shall be filed with, and recorded in, the minutes of said court by the district clerk of the county where such city or town is situated. Receivers appointed under the provisions of this chapter shall receive such compensation as the court may allow.

Art. 1245. Duties of Receiver

A receiver appointed under the preceding article, after having given the required bond, and after having same duly filed and recorded, shall take charge of all the real and personal property, including moneys, minute books, ordinances, etc., except such property as pertains to the public free schools or devoted exclusively to public use, and shall return an inventory of all such property, money, books, etc., so received by him to the next succeeding term of the district court for the county in which such city or town is situated; and; for the purpose of securing such property, money, books, etc., he may, under the order of said court, or the judge thereof in vacation, bring suit against any person in possession of such property, books, or moneys, or indebted to said city or town, the same as such city or town could were it still incorporated.

Art. 1246. Claim

Any person, firm or corporation, having any claim against such city or town, shall within six months from the appointment of said receiver, present to him a statement of the amount of such claim, duly verified, which, if he finds correct, he will mark allowed, and file same in the district court; and at its next regular term, if no protest be filed, said claim shall be approved by said court and shall thereafter be considered a valid debt against such city or town.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1247. Notice of Claim

No such claim or account against such city shall be allowed or approved by the receiver without notice of the presentment thereof first having been given, by publication in some newspaper, if any, in the town or city where same is filed or presented, for four consecutive weeks, and in case there be no newspaper published in such town or city, then by posting notice of the presentment of such claim at the courthouse door of the county in which said town or city is situated, for four weeks prior to the allowance of said claim or account. Such notice, whether published or posted, shall state the name and residence of the creditor, the amount and date of said claim and account, and for what purpose incurred.

Art. 1248. Adjustment

If such receiver finds any claim so presented to him unjust, in whole or in part, he shall endorse his finding thereon, and return same to the claimant, who may file same with the district court, if he desires to accept the findings of the receiver, and such claim for the amount allowed by the receiver may be acted upon by said court as other claims.

Art. 1249. Contest, Suit

In case any protest by any taxpayer of said city or town be filed against any claim in said court, together with a bond to be approved by said court, that he will pay all costs of suit in case said claimant established his claim in full in any State court in which he may sue thereon, then such district court shall refuse to approve such claim until it shall have been established by judgment, recovered thereon in a State court of competent jurisdiction. Such suit to establish such claim or any claim disallowed in part or in whole, may be brought against the receiver, who shall make all legal defense against such claim. The court trying said claim is hereby authorized to hear and consider any material defense that may be or may have been urged against said claim, except that of limitation, though such claim, prior thereto, may have been reduced to judgment, but such judgment shall be considered, upon such trial, as prima facie evidence of the justness of such a claim.

Art. 1250. Judgment and Costs

Any judgment recovered against such receiver upon a claim against such city or town shall be allowed by the receiver and approved by the district court wherein the receivership is pending. In all suits upon claims wherein protest and bond were filed in the district court, the claimant shall be liable for the costs of the suit, unless he recovers judgment for the full amount for which he asked the approval of the said district court. In suits upon claims rejected in part by the receiver, the claimant shall be liable for the costs of the suit, unless he establishes his claim for a greater amount than was allowed by the receiver.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1251. Limitation

Limitations shall not run, begin to run or be plead against any claim against such city or town at any time prior to six months after the appointment of such receiver.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1252. Certain Dissolutions

No receiver shall be appointed for any such city or town whose corporate existence was dissolved prior to July 17, 1905, where the application therefor was not filed in said court within two years from and after July 10, 1905.

Art. 1253. Suits Barred

No suit shall be brought against such receiver upon any claim, against the allowance of which a protest has been filed, as herein provided for, at any time after six months from the date of filing such protest, nor after the expiration of six months from the date of the disallowance of any such claim in whole or in part, where the claim has not been filed in the district court, after such disallowance as hereinbefore provided.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1254. Payment of Claims

The district court of the county in which such town or city is situated, and in which such receivership is pending, shall provide for the payment of all claims legally established against such city or town, and determine the priority of any claims and order the sale of all property in the hands of the receiver subject to sale for such purpose, and direct such receiver to pay such claims. If the money and proceeds of property are insufficient to pay such indebtedness, then said court, at the request of any creditor, at the first regular term of said court in each year, shall levy a tax upon all the property and real and personal estate situated within the limits of said city or town, as previously incorporated, on the first day of the preceding January, not exempt from taxation under the Constitution and laws of this State, sufficient to discharge the indebtedness, but not to exceed the rate allowed by existing law for such purposes in incorporated cities and towns.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1255. Collection of Tax, Etc.

Whenever the district court, having jurisdiction in the premises, has or may order the assessment and collection of taxes for the payment of the indebtedness of such town, or city, the tax assessor for the county in which such town or city is situated, shall assess the taxes so ordered in like manner as taxes in rural school districts. The county tax collector for such county shall collect such taxes in like manner as taxes in rural school districts. This article shall not repeal any part of Articles 1245 to 1250 inclusive. For the services rendered under this article, the assessor and collector shall receive the same compensation as for like services for the assessment and collection of taxes in rural school districts; and said collector shall pay such taxes when collected, to the receiver of such city or town.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1256. Delinquent Taxes

Suits may be brought by the receivers against delinquents, and a lien shall exist upon all property for such taxes, the same as though the corporate existence of such city or town had never been abolished, and such levy and assessment had been made by its council and assessor.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1257. Prior Claims

The compensation of the receiver, together with all court costs and expenses, shall constitute a prior claim against such city or town, and shall be first paid out of any money on hand or collected. In case of taxation the money collected each year shall be paid pro rata upon all claims according to their priorities until all claims established and all costs and expenses are fully paid. On final settlement of such receivership, any money or property left on hand shall be turned over by the receiver to the trustees or other officers in charge of the public free school the district of which is wholly situated within the boundaries of such city or town for the benefit of such school, but if there be no public free school the district of which is within the boundaries of said city or town, then the money or property left on hand shall be turned over to the county in which said city or town is situated, the money to be placed in the general fund of such county, and property to be used for the benefit of such county.

Art. 1258. Public Schools

Where the public free schools of such city or town are under the management of trustees appointed or elected by the voters of the city or town, or by the city or town council, at the time its incorporation is abolished under the provisions of this chapter, such trustees shall have the management of said schools for the remainder of the term for which they were appointed or elected, subject to the supervision of the commissioners court, unless such city or town shall sooner become incorporated for school purposes only.

Art. 1259. School Taxes

All taxes for municipal or school purposes which shall have been levied prior to the date of the abolishment of such corporation, and which shall not have been paid, shall be collected by the receiver, together with such penalties and interest as may be due; but the portion of such taxes levied for the purpose of maintaining the public free schools or said city or town shall be paid over by said receiver to the trustees of the public free schools of said city or town and applied by them for the purpose for which they were levied.

Art. 1260. Public Buildings

When any corporation is abolished under the provisions of this chapter, and shall at the time of any such abolishment own any public buildings, public parks, public works or other property, and the same shall not have been sold or disposed of as provided in this chapter, the same shall be managed and controlled by the commissioners court of such county for the purpose to which same were originally used and intended; and, for this purpose, the commissioners court shall have and exercise, with reference thereto, the powers originally conferred by charter upon the mayor and aldermen of such city.

Art. 1261. Repealed by Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 1988, ch. 736, § 5, eff. June 18, 1967

Art. 1262. When Corporation Ceases to Function

When any corporation is abolished, or if any de facto corporation has been or shall be declared void by any court of competent jurisdiction, or if the same shall cease to operate and exercise the functions of such corporation or de facto corporation, when such corporation or de facto corporation has indebtedness outstanding, then the officers of such corporation, in office at the time of such dissolution, or at the time such corporation ceases to operate and exercise the functions of such corporation, shall take charge of the property of the corporation and sell and dispose of same, and shall settle the debts due by the corporation, and for said purpose shall have power to levy and collect a tax from the inhabitants of said city, town or village in the same manner as the said corporation. In the event of their failure or refusal to do so, and upon the petition of any number of the citizen taxpayers of such corporation or of the holders of the evidences of indebtedness of such corporation or de facto corporation, to the proper court within this State having jurisdiction in the county in which such dissolved or de facto corporation shall have been situated, the judge of said court shall appoint three trustees to take charge of such property and dispose of same and settle the debts of such corporation or de facto corporation, and for said purpose the said trustees so appointed shall be vested with all the powers herein given to the officers of such corporation.

Art. 1263. Action for Debt

The holder of any indebtedness against any municipal corporation which has or may be dissolved in any way provided in the preceding article, including dissolution of a de facto corporation by a court of competent jurisdiction, may maintain a suit in the proper court within this State having jurisdiction in the county in which such dissolved or de facto corporation shall have been situated, to establish said indebtedness against said municipal corporation, and service may be had on such dissolved corporation by serving the citation upon any person who was the mayor, secretary or treasurer of said corporation or pretended to act as such, at the time of its dissolution, and judgment may be rendered in such suit in favor of the holder of such indebtedness against such municipal corporation as fully as if it had not been dissolved or its organization declared void. The status of such city, town or village shall be and remain the same in so far as it affects the holders of its indebtedness, until such indebtedness has been paid.

Art. 1264. Current Expenses

Any incorporated city or town in this State, whether incorporated under the general laws of this State, or incorporated by special charter adopted in the manner provided by law, and having a population of 161,000 or more according to the preceding Federal census, may, through its governing body, provide for the payment of its current expenses for any current fiscal year, or for any portion of such fiscal year, by the issuance of warrants or notes drawn against the current revenues of said city or town for such fiscal year, in the manner following:

1. Such warrants or notes shall be dated and numbered consecutively as they are issued, and shall become a lien upon all or any designated portion of the revenues of said city or town for such fiscal year, available for the payment thereof, and shall be paid either consecutively according to their respective dates and numbers as funds for the payment thereof become available or on any date or dates within such fiscal year on which, in the estimate of the governing body, sufficient revenues for the payment thereof will be available for such purpose.

2. Such warrants or notes may be issued in one or more installments in any fiscal year to provide for the payment of current expenses in that fiscal year or to refund, as to principal and interest, warrants or notes issued under this Act. However, the aggregate principal amount of warrants or notes outstanding at any time in any fiscal year may not exceed the greatest amount by which the proposed expenditures for such fiscal year are estimated by the governing body to exceed the estimated revenues, calculated as set out by Subdivision 3 of this Act, available for the payment thereof at any time during such fiscal year. Such warrants or notes may be issued at a discount and/or bear interest at any rate or rates permitted by law and may be sold at public or private sale for any price or prices, all within the discretion of the governing body as may be provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance and sale thereof.

3. In no event shall the governing body provide for the issuance of warrants or notes pursuant to this Act in excess of eighty per cent of the estimated revenues of said city or town for such fiscal year, after the deduction from the estimated revenues of all interest upon the bonded indebtedness of such city or town to be paid out of the revenues for such fiscal year, and such sums as may be required to be paid into any sinking fund or into any special fund or any special trust fund of said city or town out of its revenues for such fiscal year. However, this limitation does not apply to warrants or notes issued for refunding purposes.

4. Such warrants or notes and any coupons representing interest thereon constitute negotiable instruments and are investment securities governed by Chapter 8, Business & Commerce Code, notwithstanding any provision of law or court decision to the contrary.

5. All warrants or notes issued pursuant to this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies and shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts or other political subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such obligations shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant thereto.

Art. 1265. Extension of Limits

Any city having a population of 100,000 and under 150,000 as shown by the preceding Federal census, shall have the power and authority to amend its charter so as to extend its boundary limits by annexing additional territory adjacent and contiguous to such city, where the territory so annexed does not include any incorporated city or town having more than five thousand inhabitants according to the preceding Federal census. Such extension shall be effected in the manner following:

1. The governing body of such city may, upon its own motion, and shall upon the petition of at least ten per cent of the qualified voters of said city as shown by the preceding general election, submit such proposed amendment to a vote of the qualified voters of such city, which election shall be held as provided by chapter 13 of this title.

2. If such amendment is adopted by a majority of those voting at such election, and such annexed territory shall include any incorporated city or town of five thousand inhabitants or less, then, from and after the adoption of such amendment, the incorporation of such city or town of five thousand inhabitants or less shall be abolished and shall cease to exist, and all record books, public property, public buildings, money on hand, credit accounts and other assets of the annexed incorporated city or town shall become the property of said larger city and shall be turned over to the officers thereof, and by such annexation, the offices existing in the smaller municipality shall be abolished and the persons holding such offices shall not be entitled to further remuneration or compensation; and all legal outstanding liabilities of such smaller city shall be assumed by the enlarged city.

3. Whenever such annexed city or town shall have on hand any bond funds for public improvement and not already appropriated or contracted for, such money shall be kept in a separate special fund and devoted to public improvements in the territory for which such bonds were voted, and shall not be diverted or used for any other purpose.

4. After such annexation, all claims, fines, debts and taxes due or payable to the annexed city or town shall thereupon become due and payable to said larger city and shall be collected by it. If taxes for the current year shall have been duly assessed prior to said annexation, then the amount so assessed shall remain as the amounts due and payable from the inhabitants of such annexed city or town for such current year.

5. Providing however that nothing in this Article shall be held or construed to repeal or nullify any charter provision of any city of over 100,000 and under 150,000 inhabitants, according to the preceding Federal census, operating under Article 11, Section 5 of the Constitution providing for the annexation of additional territory by ordinance but shall be construed as an additional power and cumulative of the said charter provisions, and all such charter provisions in effect at the time of the original passage of this Article are hereby ratified and confirmed and declared to be in full force and effect.

Art. 1266. Discontinuing Territory

Whenever there exists within the corporate limits of any city in this state of four thousand (4,000) or more population according to the preceding Federal Census located in a county having a population according to such census in excess of two hundred and five thousand (205,000) territory to the extent of at least three (3) acres contiguous, unimproved and adjoining the lines of any such city, or wherever there exists within the corporate limits of any city in this state of five hundred and ninety-six thousand (596,000) or more population according to the last preceding Federal Census, improved territory which is non-taxable to the city and which is contiguous and adjoining the lines of any such city, the governing body of any such city, whether organized by Special Law, home rule charter, or General Laws of this state, may by ordinance duly passed discontinue said territory as a part of any such city. When said ordinance has been duly passed, the governing body shall cause to be entered an order to that effect on the minutes or records of such city; and from and after the entry of such order, said territory shall cease to be a part of such city.

Art. 1267. Oil, Gas or Mineral Lands

Sec. 1. Cities and towns chartered or organized under the general laws of Texas, or by special Act or charter, which may own oil, gas or mineral lands, shall have the power and right to lease such oil, gas or mineral lands for the benefit of such town or city in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as the governing body of such town or city may determine, but shall not lease for such purposes any street or alley or public square in said town or city; and no well shall be drilled within the thickly settled portion of any city or town, nor within two hundred feet of any private residence.

Sec. 2. If any portion of this Act is held unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remaining portion shall nevertheless be valid the same as if the invalid portion had not been a part hereof. A lease executed pursuant to the provisions of this Act shall not be deemed to be a sale within the meaning of the laws of this state relating to the sale of city land. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of all other laws which are by their terms expressly applicable to city land, and any such laws which are not by their terms expressly so applicable shall not be construed as affecting the right and power granted to towns and cities by this Act.

Art. 1268a. Natural Gas Systems; Authority to Lease and Grant Option to Purchase

Any city which owns its natural gas distribution system and has heretofore had an election resulting favorably to a sale of such system may, by majority vote of its governing body, enter into a contract leasing said system to any person, firm or corporation. Any such city may also grant an option to the lessee or to any other person, firm or corporation to purchase the system at a price specified or to be determined in the manner provided in such lease or option contract. It is provided, however, that if the city has any bonds outstanding payable from the revenues of its gas system, it shall not make such lease or option contract except under conditions specified in the ordinance authorizing the bonds, unless provision is made for the full payment of the bonds with interest to their maturities or to the date they are to be redeemed prior to maturity.

Art. 1268b. Lease of City-owned Swimming Pools

Sec. 1. The governing body of any incorporated city or town (including home rule cities) is hereby authorized to lease any city-owned swimming pool, to be operated by the lessee as a public swimming pool under such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon by such governing body and such lessee. Any such lease shall be authorized by ordinance or resolution adopted by such governing body, and the lease agreement shall be executed on behalf of the city or town, by the mayor and the city secretary or clerk, and the seal of the city shall be impressed thereon. Such lease may cover any period of time not to exceed fifty (50) years.

Art. 1269. Repealed by Acts 1929, 41st Leg., p. 667, ch. 299, § 1

Art. 1269a. Municipal Bands

That the word "band" as used in this Act shall mean a band composed of such musical instruments as are recognized in the standard instrumentation established for the use of United States Army Bands.

[Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 22, p. 82, § 1.]

Art. 1269b. Same Subject—Establishment and Maintenance

That any incorporated city or town in this State is authorized to establish and maintain a band in such city or town, and to appropriate such part of the revenues of such city or town for the maintenance and operation of such band as the governing body of such city or town may determine. It is provided, however, that the total amount of such appropriation for any one year shall not exceed three mills for each one dollar of taxable value of property within such city or town.

Art. 1269c. Same Subject—Election

That it shall be the duty of the governing body of any city or town within this State upon a written petition signed by a number of property tax paying voters in such city or town equal to at least ten per cent of the total number of votes cast at the last regular municipal election, to submit to the qualified property tax paying voters within such city or town, at an election for that purpose, the question of whether or not a band shall be established and maintained by such city or town. Such elections shall be held as nearly as possible in accordance with the law in reference to regular elections in said city or town, but said governing body is hereby empowered by resolution to order such elections and prescribe the form of ballot for use therein and the time and manner of holding the same. Such governing body shall canvass and determine the result of such elections in the manner provided by law for canvassing and returning the results of general elections held therein, and the result of the election shall be entered upon the minutes of said governing body. If the majority of the voters voting upon said question at such election shall vote to establish and maintain a band, the governing body shall thereupon proceed to establish, and thereafter maintain, such band.

Art. 1269d. Same Subject—Subsequent Elections

That the governing body of any city or town shall upon similar petition as provided in Section 3 of Chapter 22 of the General Laws of the 39th Legislature, Regular Session, 1925,¹ cause subsequent elections to be held for the purpose of determining whether or not a band shall be established and maintained by a city or town; or where any city or town has been previously authorized to establish and maintain a band, at an election held for that purpose, whether or not the establishment and maintenance of said band by said city or town shall be abrogated. If at an election held to abrogate the establishment and maintenance of a band by a city or town, a majority of the voters voting at such an election shall vote in favor of the proposition to abrogate the establishment and maintenance of a band, the governing body of said city or town shall thereupon discontinue said band and the maintenance thereof. Said elections shall be held and conducted in the same manner as provided in Section 3 of Chapter 22 of the General Laws of the 39th Legislature, Regular Session, 1925, but no two of such elections shall be held within the same city or town within a period of less than two (2) years.

Art. 1269e. Same Subject—Ordinances

When it shall be determined to establish and maintain a band in any city or town, the governing body thereof shall have full power to pass all ordinances and resolutions to enable such city or town to maintain such band, and in addition thereto such governing body shall elect a non-partisan citizen commission of not more than five nor less than three members whose duty it shall be to negotiate contracts and formulate rules and regulations and do all things necessary or proper to establish, control and maintain said band.

Art. 1269f. Same Subject—Charters Affected

That this Act shall not modify or in any manner affect any special charter which has been heretofore granted by the Legislature, nor any charter heretofore adopted by the voters of any city or town.

Art. 1269h. Airports, Maintenance and Operation

Acquisition; Sale or Lease

Sec. 1. A—The governing body of any incorporated city in this State may receive through gift or dedication, and is hereby empowered to acquire, by purchase without condemnation or by purchase through condemnation proceedings, and thereafter maintain and operate as an airport, or lease, or sell, to the Federal Government, tracts of land either within or without the corporate limits of such city and within the county in which such city is situated, and the Commissioners Court of any county may likewise acquire, maintain and operate for like purpose tracts of land within the limits of the county.

B—The governing body of any incorporated city in this State may receive through gift or dedication, and is hereby empowered to acquire by purchase without condemnation, and thereafter maintain and operate as an airport, or lease, or sell to the Federal Government, tracts of land without the county in which such city is situated, provided said tracts are not within five (5) miles of another incorporated city that has a population of more than fifteen hundred (1500) people, according to the last preceding Federal Census.

C—The governing body of any incorporated city in this State may, and is hereby empowered, to acquire through condemnation proceedings, tracts of land located without the county in which said city is located, provided said tracts of land are within six (6) miles of the county boundary of the county in which said city is located, and are not within five (5) miles of another incorporated city having a population in excess of fifteen hundred (1500) people, according to the last preceding Federal Census; and that said city may thereafter maintain and operate as an airport, or lease, or sell, said tracts to the Federal Government; provided, however, that the grant herein made to acquire land through condemnation proceedings, without the county in which said city is located, shall expire on December 31, 1942, but that tracts of land acquired prior to that date, and under the authority of this Act, may continue to be operated, leased, or sold, as provided in this Act.

D—In addition to the power herein granted the Commissioners Courts of the several counties of this State are hereby authorized to lease any airport that has been or may be acquired by the county, as herein provided, to any incorporated city or municpality within such county, or to the Federal Government, or to any other person, firm or corporation for the purpose of maintaining and operating an airport; and providing further that any incorporated city having acquired land for an airport, or an airport, under the authority of this Act shall have the right to lease said land or airport to the county in which such incorporated city is located.

E—In addition to the power which it may now have, the Commissioners Court of any county, or the governing body of any incorporated city in this State, shall have the power to sell, convey or lease all or part of any airport or property connected therewith, heretofore established or that may be hereafter established; also any land which has been or may be acquired under the provisions of this Act, to the United States of America for any purpose necessary for National Defense, or for air mail purposes or any other public purpose; or to the State of Texas or any branch of the State Government which may be authorized to own or operate airports, and to any person, firm or corporation. The Commissioners Court and governing body of any incorporated city shall promulgate rules and regulations for the use of any such airports.

Bond Issues and Tax

Sec. 2. (a) For the purpose of condemning or purchasing, either or both, lands to be used and maintained as provided in Section 1 hereof, and improving and equipping the same for such use, the governing body of any city or the Commissioners Court of any county, falling within the terms of such Section, may issue negotiable bonds of the city or of the county, as the case may be, and levy taxes to provide for the interest and sinking funds of any such bonds so issued, the authority hereby given for the issuance of such bonds and levy and collection of such taxes to be exercised in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925.¹

(b) In addition to the powers herein granted, the Commissioners Courts of counties having a population of not less than fifteen thousand (15,000) and not more than fifteen thousand, two hundred and fifty (15,250), according to the last preceding Federal Census, are hereby authorized to issue time warrants for the purposes herein stated, but the Commissioners Court of any such county proposing to issue such warrants shall comply with the provisions of Chapter 163, Acts of the Forty-second Legislature,² with reference to notice to issue such warrants and with reference to the levy and collection of taxes in payment thereof, and the right to referendum election therein shall apply.

Management by City or Commissioners Courts; Nonliability for Injuries

Sec. 3. Any Air Port acquired under and by virtue of the terms of this Act shall be under the management and control of the governing body of the city or the Commissioners Court of the county acquiring the same, which is hereby expressly authorized and empowered to improve, maintain and conduct the same as an Air Port, and for that purpose to make and provide therein all necessary or fit improvements and facilities and to fix such reasonable charges for the use thereof as such governing body or Commissioners Court shall deem fit, and to make rules and regulations governing the use thereof. All proceeds, from such charges shall be devoted exclusively to the maintenance, up-keep, improvement and operation of such Air Port and the facilities, structures, and improvements therein, and no city or county shall be liable for injuries to persons resulting from or caused by any defective, unsound or unsafe condition of any such Air Port, or any part thereof, or thing of any character therein or resulting from or caused by any negligence, want of skill, or lack of care on the part of any governing Board or Commissioners Court, officer, agent, servant or employee or other person with reference to the construction, improvement, management, conduct, or maintenance of any such Air Port or any structure, improvement, or thing of any character whatever, located therein or connected therewith.

Special Tax for Maintenance or Operation

Sec. 4. That in addition to and exclusive of any taxes which may be levied for the interest and sinking fund of any bonds issued under the authority of this Act, the governing body of any city or the Commissioners Court of any county, falling within the terms hereof, may and is hereby empowered to levy and collect a special tax not to exceed for any one year five cents on each One Hundred Dollars for the purpose of improving, operating, maintaining and conducting any Air Port which such city or county may acquire under the provision of this Act, and to provide all suitable structures, and facilities therein. Provided that nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing any city or county to exceed the limits of indebtedness placed upon it under the Constitution.

Art. 1269h-2. Pledge of Ad Valorem Tax to Payment of Airport Operation and Maintenance Expense

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any city operating under its Home Rule Charter, either adopted pursuant to the Home Rule amendment to the Constitution of Texas, or granted by the Legislature and amended pursuant to said provision of the Constitution, having a population of 200,000 or more according to the last preceding Federal Census, which owns land acquired for airport purposes, and which, either in whole or in part, is leased to an airport operating company or corporation.

Sec. 2. In the event any such city shall determine to issue revenue bonds as authorized by Chapter 43, Acts of the 53rd Legislature of Texas, First Called Session, 1954, as amended,¹ to acquire the improvements constructed by any such airport operating company or corporation on any such land and to further improve its airport or airports, such city, in addition to the pledge of the revenues and income of said airport or airports to the payment of the operation and maintenance expenses and principal of and interest on such bonds, shall be authorized to levy and pledge to the payment of such operation and maintenance expenses, as a supplement to the pledge of revenues for such purpose, all or any part of the ad valorem tax authorized by Chapter 114, Acts 1947, 50th Legislature, Regular Session.² The proceeds of any tax thus pledged shall be utilized annually to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing such revenue bonds to assure the efficient operation and maintenance of such airport or airports and such city, in its discretion, may covenant in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of said bonds that certain costs of operating and maintaining such airport or airports, as may be enumerated in said proceedings, will be paid by the city from the proceeds of such tax. If it is deemed advisable by the city that revenue bonds theretofore issued under said Chapter 43, supra, and then outstanding, should be refunded so as to facilitate the financing of the acquisition of said improvements and the further improvement of its airport or airports, it shall be authorized to make a like pledge of said tax in the proceedings authorizing such refunding bonds and any additional revenue bonds issued for the purposes prescribed in said Chapter 43, supra.

Art. 1269h-3. Validation of Land Acquisition for County Airport Expansion

Sec. 1. Where any county before the effective date of this Act has acquired land for the expansion of a county airport established under Chapter 83, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 1269h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the acquisition was by purchase, gift, exchange, or a combination of those methods, the acquisition of the land and all transactions and proceedings related to it are validated in all respects.

Sec. 2. This Act does not apply to a matter that on the effective date of this Act is involved in litigation in a court of competent jurisdiction if the litigation ultimately results in a determination that the matter is invalid, nor does it apply to a matter that has been declared invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 1269i. Mortgage of Airports for Improvements

Cities to Which Applicable

Sec. 1. All cities having a population of more than One Hundred and Sixty Thousand (160,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding federal census shall have power to mortgage and encumber their airports and everything pertaining thereto acquired, or to be acquired, to secure the payment of funds to purchase the same or to build, improve, enlarge, extend, repair or construct any kind or character of permanent improvements, including buildings, repair shops and other structures, and, as additional security therefor, by the terms of such mortgage or encumbrance, may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder a franchise to operate such airport and the improvements situated thereon for a term of not over thirty (30) years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating the same then in force. No such obligation shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the properties so mortgaged or encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Pledge of Income

Sec. 2. All cities having a population of more than One Hundred and Sixty Thousand (160,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding federal census shall have power to pledge the income from their airports and everything pertaining thereto acquired, or to be acquired, to secure the payment of funds to purchase the same or to build, improve, enlarge, extend, repair or construct any kind or character of permanent improvements including buildings, repair shops and other structures, and, as additional security therefor, by the terms of such pledge may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder a franchise to operate such airport and the improvements situated thereon for a term of not over thirty (30) years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating the same then in force. No such obligation shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the properties so mortgaged or encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of any such city to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Notes or Warrants Issued Without Referendum

Sec. 3. Such cities shall have the power to issue notes or warrants in any sum not to exceed the sum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00) for such purposes without submitting such proposition to a vote of the qualified taxpaying voters. This law shall take precedence over all conflicting city charter provisions.

Repeals

Sec. 4. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed to the extent in conflict herewith.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 5. If any section, portion, clause, or part of this Act be invalid or unconstitutional, the same shall not affect any remaining part or parts of this Act and it is expressly hereby declared that the Legislature would have passed such remaining parts of this Act with such invalid or unconstitutional section, portion, clause or part omitted.

Acquisition; Bonds; Rates; Pledges; Definition

Sec. 1. In addition to the powers which it may now have, any City having a population of more than forty thousand (40,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, shall have power (a) to own, maintain and operate in airport, either within or without, or partially within and partially without, the corporate limits of such city; (b) to construct, acquire by gift, purchase, lease or the exercise of the right of eminent domain, improve, enlarge, extend or repair any airport, and to acquire by gift, purchase, lease or the exercise of the right of eminent domain, lands or rights in land in fee simple in connection therewith; (c) to borrow money and issue its bonds or warrants to finance in whole or in part the cost of the acquisition, construction, improvement, enlargement, extension or repair of any airport; (d) to prescribe and collect rates, fees, rents, tolls or other charges for the service and facilities afforded by such airport; and (e) to pledge to the punctual payment of said warrants and interest thereon all or any part of the income, rents, revenues, tolls or other receipts derived from the operation of such airport, in addition to the taxes which shall be levied annually, for the payment of the principal and interest on such warrants. An airport within the meaning of this Act shall include all lands and buildings or other improvements necessary or convenient in the establishment and operation of an airport, and shall include such lands and improvements as are necessary to assemble or manufacture aircraft for military or naval uses, or for any other governmental purpose, and to provide housing and office space for employees necessary or incidental to such purposes.

Form and Contents of Warrants

Sec. 2. Warrants may be authorized to be issued under this Act by ordinance which may be adopted at the same meeting at which it is introduced by a majority of all the members of the governing body of the city then in office and shall take effect immediately upon adoption. Such warrants shall bear interest at such rate or rates not exceeding five (5) per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, may be made payable to bearer, may be in one or more series, may bear such date or dates, may be in such denomination or denominations, may be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, may carry such registration privileges, may be subject to such terms of redemption, may be executed in such manner, may contain such terms, covenants and conditions, and may be in such form, either coupon or registered, as such ordinance or subsequent ordinance may provide. Said warrants shall mature annually in such amounts so that the aggregate amount of principal and interest falling due in each year shall be substantially equal over a period not to exceed thirty (30) years from their date. Said warrants shall be sold at public or private sale at not less than par. Said warrants shall be negotiable instruments within the meaning of the Negotiable Instruments Law¹ of this State. Said warrants bearing the signature of the officers in office at the date of the signing thereof shall be valid and binding obligations notwithstanding that before the delivery thereof and payment therefor any or all of the persons whose signatures appear thereon shall have ceased to be officers of the city issuing the same.

¹ Article 5932 et seq. (repealed; see, now, Business and Commerce Code, § 3.101 et seq.)

Limitation on the Amount of Warrants Which May Be Issued

Sec. 3. No city shall issue any warrants pursuant to this Act in an aggregate amount in excess of One Hundred and Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($125,000).

No Election Necessary

Sec. 4. No election shall be necessary to authorize the issuance of warrants pursuant to this Act, but the city shall comply with the provisions of Chapter 163, Acts of the Forty-second Legislature,¹ with reference to bidders and notice of intention to issue such warrants and the right to referendum therein specified shall apply.

Tax Levy

Sec. 5. Whenever any city shall issue warrants pursuant to this Act, a tax sufficient to pay when due the principal and interest on such warrant shall be levied annually and assessed, collected and paid in like manner with other taxes of such city, provided, however, that if such warrants are payable from taxes and additionally secured by a pledge of the income, rents, revenues, tolls, and other receipts derived from the operation of the airport for which such warrants were issued, the tax to be levied and assessed by such city may be reduced by the amount of money on hand pledged to the payment of the principal and interest of such warrants.

Charges for Use of Airport

Sec. 6. The governing body of a city issuing warrants pursuant to this Act shall prescribe by ordinance and collect reasonable rates, fees, tolls, rentals or other charges for the service and facilities furnished by the airport for which such warrants have been issued. The rates, fees, tolls, rentals or other charges so prescribed shall be such as will produce revenues sufficient (a) to pay when due all warrants and interest thereon, for the payment of which such revenues shall have been pledged, including reserves therefor; (b) to provide for all expenses of operation and maintenance of such airport, including reserves therefor.

Sale or Lease of Airport

Sec. 7. The governing body of the City shall have the power to sell, convey, or lease all or any portion of such airports heretofore established, or that may be hereafter established, to the United States of America for the purpose of air mail or any other public purpose, including the purpose of runways for the landing of aircraft, the assembling or manufacture of aircraft or aircraft parts, or any other purpose deemed by the Government of the United States necessary for the national defense, or to the State of Texas or any branch of the State Government, or to any municipality for any such purpose, or to any other person, firm or corporation to carry out any necessary or incidental purpose; and that such governing body shall provide rules and regulations for the proper use of any such airports, whether used for pleasure, experiment, exhibition, commercial purpose, or for the national defense.

Airport a Public Purpose

Sec. 8. The acquisition and operation of an airport are hereby declared to be a public purpose and a matter of public necessity.

Approval of Attorney General

Sec. 9. Said warrants shall be presented to the Attorney General for examination and if he approves the same they shall be registered in the office of the State Comptroller. Such warrants after receiving the certificate of the Attorney General and having been registered in the Comptroller's office, shall be held in each action, suit or proceeding in which their validity is or may be brought into question, prima facie valid and binding obligations. The only defense which can be offered against the validity of such warrants shall be forgery or fraud. In each action brought to enforce collection of such warrants the certificate of the Attorney General, or a duly certified copy thereof shall be admitted and received in evidence of the validity of such warrant or warrants together with the coupons attached thereto.

Construction of Act

Sec. 10. The powers conferred by this Act shall be in addition and supplemental to the powers conferred by any other law, including any charter provision. In so far as the provisions of this Act are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law, including any charter provision, the provisions of this Act shall be controlling. If any provision of this Act, or the application of such provisions to any person, body or circumstance shall be held invalid, the remainder of the Act, or the application of such provision to persons, bodies, or circumstances other than as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 1269j-1. Validating Interest Bearing Time Warrants Issued to Finance Airports or Airport Improvements by Cities Having Over 285,000 Population

All interest-bearing time warrants heretofore authorized by ordinance of the governing body of any city in Texas having a population of two hundred and eighty-five thousand (285,000) or more according to the latest United State Census, issued or authorized to be issued in payment or part payment for the construction of administration buildings, hangars, and hangar doors for its airport and/or to improve, enlarge, extend, or repair its airport, are hereby validated, ratified, and legalized, and such warrants shall not be invalid on account of irregularities in the notice to bidders, and shall not be invalid because the notice to bidders did not contain notice that it was the intention of the governing body to pay for such improvements and the contracts therefor by the issuance of time warrants. The contracts for such improvements and payment therefor by the issuance of interest-bearing time warrants shall not be invalid on account of the notice to bidders not containing a clause to the effect that it was the intention to pay for such improvements and the contracts therefore by the issuance of interest-bearing time warrants and stating the maximum amount, interest rate, and maximum maturity date of such contemplated warrants. This Act shall apply to such warrants and the contracts on which they are based whether such warrants shall have been completely issued, or whether they have been authorized by ordinance and not as yet completely issued; and in so far as they have not as yet been completely issued, the governing body of such city is authorized in due course to complete the issuance thereof.

Art. 1269j-2. Repealed by Acts 1947, 50th Leg., p. 784, ch. 391, § 16

Art. 1269j-3. Investments by Political Subdivisions of State in Defense Bonds or Other United States Obligations

All political subdivisions of the State of Texas which have balances remaining in their accounts at the end of any fiscal year may invest such balances in Defense Bonds or other obligations of the United States of America; provided, however, that when such funds are needed the obligations of the United States in which such balances are invested shall be sold or redeemed and the proceeds of said obligations shall be deposited in the accounts from which they were originally drawn.

Art. 1269j-4. Auditoriums, Exhibition Halls and Similar Buildings; Cities Over 125,000 Population

Powers of Cities; Obligations to be Charge on Property Only

Sec. 1. All incorporated cities and town, including home rule cities, having a population exceeding one hundred and twenty-five thousand (125,000) according to the last preceding Federal Census, shall have power to build and purchase, to mortgage and encumber their municipal auditoriums, exhibition halls, coliseums, and other buildings or structures for public gatherings, either, or all, and the income thereof and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired and to evidence the obligation therefor by the issuance of bonds, notes or warrants, and to secure the payment of funds to purchase same; or to purchase additional lands and facilities, or to build, improve, enlarge, extend or repair such buildings and structures, or any one of them, including the purchase of equipment and appliances necessary in the operation of such buildings and structures. No such obligation of any such municipal auditorium, exhibition hall, coliseum, or other building or structure for public gatherings shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the properties so encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of any such city to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Sale or Encumbrance; Submission to Voters

Sec. 2. No such municipal auditorium, exhibition hall, coliseum, or other building or structure for public gatherings, shall ever be sold until such sale is authorized by a majority vote of the qualified voters of such City; nor shall same be encumbered for more than Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) except for purchase money, or to refund any existing indebtedness lawfully created, until authorized in like manner. Such vote in either case shall be ascertained at an election, which election shall be held and notice thereof given as is provided in the case of the issuance of municipal bonds by such cities.

Lien of Expenses; Rates and Charges; System of Records and Account; Report of Operations

Sec. 3. Whenever the income of any municipal auditorium, exhibition hall, coliseum, or other building or structure for public gatherings, shall be encumbered under this law, the expenses of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repairs and additions necessary to render efficient service and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such income. Provided, that only such repairs and additions, as in the judgment of the governing body of such city, are necessary to keep such building or structure for public gatherings in operation and render adequate service to such city and the inhabitants thereof, or such as might be necessary to meet some physical accident or condition which would otherwise impair the original security, shall be a lien prior to any existing lien. The rates charged for the use and for services furnished by any such municipal auditorium, exhibition hall, coliseum, or other building or structure for public gatherings, shall be equal and uniform, and no free use or service shall be allowed except for activities and institutions operated by such city. There shall be charged and collected for such use and services a sufficient rate to pay all operating, maintenance, depreciation, replacement, betterment, and interest charges, and for interest and sinking fund sufficient to pay any bonds issued to purchase, construct or improve any such buildings or structures or any outstanding indebtedness against same. No part of the income of any such municipal auditorium, exhibition hall, coliseum, or other building or structure for public gatherings, shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expenses or obligation of such city, until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid.

It shall be the duty of the chief executive officer of such city to install and maintain, or cause to be installed and maintained, a complete system of records and accounts showing the free uses and services rendered, and the value thereof, and showing separately the amounts expended and the amounts set aside for operation, salaries, labor, materials, repairs, maintenance, depreciation, replacements, additions, interest, and the creation of a sinking fund to pay off such bonds and indebtedness.

It shall likewise be the duty of the superintendent or manager of such municipal auditorium or other building or structure for public gatherings, to file with the chief executive officer of such city, not later than February 1, a detailed report of the operation of such building or structure for the year ending January 1 preceding, showing the total sums of money collected and the balance due, as well as the total disbursements made and the amounts remaining unpaid as a result of operation of such building or structure during such calendar year.

Failure or refusal on the part of the chief executive officer to install and maintain, or cause to be installed and maintained, such system of records and accounts within ninety (90) days after the completion of such municipal auditorium, exhibition hall, coliseum, or other building or structure for public gatherings, or on the part of such superintendent or manager to file or cause to be filed such report, shall constitute a misdemeanor, and upon conviction therefor, such chief executive officer or such superintendent or manager shall be subject to a fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100) and not more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000); and any taxpayer or holder of such indebtedness, residing within such city shall have the right, by appropriate civil action in the district court of the county in which said city as located, to enforce the provisions of this Act.

Evidence of Indebtedness to Include Statement as to Funds from Which Payable; Approval and Registration of Bonds

Sec. 4. Every contract, bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness issued or included under this law shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation." Where bonds are issued hereunder, they may be presented to the Attorney General for his approval as is provided for the approval of municipal bonds issued by such cities. In such case, the bonds shall be registered by the State Comptroller as in the case of other municipal bonds.

Projects Self Liquidating

Sec. 5. Projects financed in accordance with this law are hereby declared to be self liquidating in character and supported by charge other than by taxation.

[Acts 1951, 52nd Leg., p. 595, ch. 350.]

Art. 1269j-4.1. Public Improvements in City, Town or Village; Bonds; Occupancy Tax

Applicability of Act

Sec. 1. In this Act, "city" means a home-rule city or a city, town, or village incorporated under general law.

Buildings, Structures, Parking Areas and Facilities; Leases

Sec. 2. Any such city is hereby authorized to establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate or maintain (any or all) public improvements such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, opera houses, music halls, exhibition halls, coliseums, museums, libraries, or other city buildings (either or all), and golf courses, tennis courts, and other similar recreational facilities, and to establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate or maintain (any or all) structures, parking areas, or facilities, located at or in the immediate vicinity of such public improvements, to be used in connection with such public improvements for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances; and provided that any such lease shall be on such terms and conditions as said city shall deem appropriate.

Revenue Bonds; Ordinance; Pledge of Revenues; Charges for Services; Leases

Sec. 3. (a) Any such city is hereby authorized to issue negotiable revenue bonds to provide all or part of the funds for the establishment, acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, equipment or repair (any or all) of public improvements such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, opera houses, music halls, exhibition halls, coliseums, museums, libraries or other city buildings, either or all, and golf courses, tennis courts, and other similar recreational facilities, and the establishment, acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, equipment of repair (any or all) of structures, parking areas or facilities, located at or in the immediate vicinity of such public improvements, to be used in connection with such public improvements for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances.

(b) Such revenue bonds may be issued when duly authorized by an ordinance passed by the governing body of such city and shall be secured by a pledge of and be payable from all or any designated part of the revenues of said public improvements or said parking or storage facilities, as may be provided in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of such bonds. To the extent that such revenues may have been pledged to the payment of revenue or revenue refunding bonds which are still outstanding, the pledge securing the proposed bonds shall be inferior to the previous pledge or pledges. Within the discretion of the governing body of the city, and subject to limitations contained in previous pledges, if any, in addition to the pledge of revenues a lien may be given on all or any part of the physical properties acquired out of the proceeds from the sale of such bonds.

(c) When any of the revenues of such public improvements and facilities are pledged to the payment of bonds, issued under this Act, it shall be the duty of the governing body of the city to cause to be fixed, maintained and enforced charges for services rendered by properties and facilities, and revenues of which have been pledged, at rates and amounts at least sufficient to comply with and carry out the covenants, and provisions contained in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of said bonds.

(d) If any such city leases as lessee any one or more such public improvements, structures, parking areas or facilities, such city shall have authority to pledge to the lease payments required to be made by such city all or any part of the revenues of such public improvements, structures, parking areas or facilities.

Occupancy Tax Authorized

Sec. 3a. (a) Any such city is hereby authorized to levy by ordinance a tax upon the cost of occupancy of any sleeping room furnished by any hotel, where the cost of occupancy is at the rate of $2 or more per day. Such tax may not exceed seven percent of the consideration paid by the occupant of the sleeping room to the hotel. Any revenues from a tax in excess of four percent of the consideration paid by an occupant of the sleeping room to the hotel may only be used for the purposes specified in Subdivisions (1), (2), and (3) of Subsection (a) of Section 3c. No more than one percent of the consideration paid by an occupant of the sleeping room to the hotel may be used for the purposes specified in Subdivision (4) of Subsection (a) of Section 3c.

(b) A city imposing the tax authorized by this section may permit the person required to collect the tax to deduct and withhold from the person's payment to the city, as reimbursement for the cost of collecting the tax, an amount not to exceed one percent of the amount of tax collected and required to be reported to the city. The city may provide for forfeiture of reimbursement for the failure to pay the tax or to file reports as required by the city.

Ordinances, Bonds and Taxes; Validation

Sec. 3b. All ordinances heretofore passed and adopted by the governing body of any such city levying a tax upon the cost of occupancy of any sleeping room furnished by any hotel, where such cost of occupancy is at the rate of two dollars ($2) or more per day and such tax is equal to or less than three percent (3%) of the consideration paid by the occupant of such room to such hotel, and any bonds heretofore issued that are secured in whole or in part by a pledge of such tax, are hereby in all respects validated and held to be enforceable as of the respective date of passage and adoption of said ordinances levying such tax or issuing such bonds. All such occupancy taxes to be levied or attempted to be levied pursuant to such ordinances are hereby validated and declared fully enforceable to the same extent as if levied or attempted to be levied pursuant to valid laws duly enacted by the Legislature of this State specifically providing authority for the passage and adoption of such ordinances and the levy of such taxes.

Disposition of Revenue

Sec. 3c. (a) The revenue derived from any occupancy tax authorized or validated by this Act may only be used for:

(1) the acquisition of sites for and the construction, improvement, enlarging, equipping, repairing, operation, and maintenance of convention center facilities including, but not limited to, civic center convention buildings, auditoriums, coliseums, civic theaters, museums, and parking areas or facilities for the parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances located at or in the immediate vicinity of the convention center facilities;

(2) the furnishing of facilities, personnel and materials for the registration of convention delegates or registrants;

(3) for advertising for general promotional and tourist advertising of the city and its vicinity and conducting a solicitation and operating program to attract conventions and visitors either by the city or through contracts with persons or organizations selected by the city;

(4) the encouragement, promotion, improvement, and application of the arts, including music (instrumental and vocal), dance, drama, folk art, creative writing, architecture, design and allied fields, painting, sculpture, photography, graphic and craft arts, motion pictures, television, radio, tape and sound recording, and the arts related to the presentation, performance, execution, and exhibition of these major art forms;

(5) historical preservation and restoration projects or activities at or in the immediate vicinity of convention center facilities or historical preservation and restoration projects or activities located elsewhere in the city that would be frequented by tourists and visitors to the city.

(b) Any city which levies and collects an occupancy tax which is authorized or validated by this Act may pledge a portion of the revenue derived therefrom to the payment of the bonds which the city may issue pursuant to the provisions of Section 3 of this Act, if such bonds are issued solely for one or more of the purposes set forth in the preceding subsection; provided that any city which levies and collects a tax of not more than three percent shall reserve a portion of the tax revenue equal to at least one-half of one percent of the cost of occupancy of hotel rooms, and any city which levies and collects a tax in excess of three percent shall reserve a portion of the tax revenue equal to at least one percent of the cost of the occupancy of hotel rooms for the purpose of advertising and conducting solicitation programs to acquaint potential users with public meeting and convention facilities, and for promotion of tourism and advertising of the city and its vicinity either by the city or through contract with persons or organizations selected by the city.

(c) It is the intent of the legislature that revenues derived from the tax authorized by this Act are to be expended in a manner directly enhancing and promoting tourism and the convention and hotel industry.

Definitions

Sec. 3d. As hereinabove employed, the following words, terms and phrases are defined as follows:

(a) "Hotel" shall mean any building or buildings in which the public may, for a consideration, obtain sleeping accommodations. The term shall include hotels, motels, tourist homes, houses, or courts, lodging houses, inns, rooming houses, or other buildings where rooms are furnished for a consideration, but "hotel" shall not be defined so as to include hospitals, sanitariums, or nursing homes.

(b) "Consideration" shall mean the cost of the room in such hotel only if the room is one ordinarily used for sleeping, and shall not include the cost of any food served or personal services rendered to the occupant of such room not related to the cleaning and readying of such room for occupancy.

(c) "Occupancy" shall mean the use or possession, or the right to the use or possession, of any room in a hotel if the room is one ordinarily used for sleeping and if the occupant's use, possession, or right to use or possession extends for a period of less than thirty (30) days.

(d) "Occupant" shall mean anyone, who, for a consideration uses, possesses, or has a right to use or possess any room in a hotel if the room is one ordinarily used for sleeping.

Special Provisions for Certain Eligible Cities

Sec. 3e. (a) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Eligible city" means any city that has a population of at least 1,200,000, according to the most recent federal census, and that pursuant to an ordinance adopted by its governing body has approved and adopted a capital improvement plan for convention and exposition facilities for such city.

(2) "Convention and exposition facilities" means public structures, such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, exhibition halls, coliseums, or other city buildings, that are suitable for use as convention and exposition facilities, and parking facilities located at or in the immediate vicinity of such public structures to be used in connection with those public structures for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances.

(b) Subject to the limitations described in Subsections (c), (d), and (e) of this section, each eligible city may:

(1) levy by ordinance on the cost of occupancy of any sleeping room furnished by any hotel, in which the cost of occupancy is at the rate of $2 or more per day, (A) a tax not to exceed four percent of the consideration paid by the occupant of the sleeping room to the hotel during the period beginning with the calendar quarter following the quarter in which this section is enacted and ending on December 31, 1983, and (B) a tax not to exceed six percent of the consideration paid by the occupant of the sleeping room to the hotel beginning with the first calendar quarter following December 31, 1983; and

(2) pledge to the payment of revenue bonds and revenue refunding bonds issued pursuant to this Act all or any portion of the revenues derived from the occupancy tax described in subdivision (1) of this subsection, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in Subsection (b) of Section 3c of this Act, and all or any portion of any other revenues of such eligible city as the governing body thereof shall determine in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds.

(c) As a condition precedent to the issuance by an eligible city of any revenue bonds secured in whole or in part from the revenues derived from the occupancy tax described in Subdivision (1) of Subsection (b) of this section, an eligible city shall certify that the average annual debt service on all such bonds outstanding prior to the date of issuance, and in the process of issuance, secured in whole or in part by the pledge of revenues derived from the occupancy tax described in Subdivision (1) of Subsection (b) of this section, and which were issued for purposes other than convention and exposition facilities, shall not exceed the sum of the maximum annual revenues that such city could derive from such occupancy tax under the sections of this Act other than this section plus any other revenues pledged to the payment of such bonds.

(d) Consistent with the requirements of Subsection (b) of Section 3c of this Act, any city which levies and collects a tax in excess of four percent under the provisions of this section shall reserve that portion of the tax revenues which are derived from the percentage of the tax in excess of four percent solely for the purposes described in Subdivision (1) of Subsection (a) of Section 3c of this Act and for the purpose of securing refunding bonds issued in connection therewith.

(e) The taxing authority granted under this section is in lieu of and not in addition to the taxing authority granted under Section 3a of this Act. Accordingly, any eligible city which levies and collects a tax under this section is prohibited from levying and collecting a tax under Section 3a of this Act.

(f) An eligible city imposing the tax authorized by this section may permit the person required to collect the tax to deduct and withhold from the person's payment to the city, as reimbursement for the cost of collecting the tax, an amount not to exceed one percent of the tax collected.

(g) Revenue received under this section not in excess of four percent may be used by the city as provided by Section 3c of this Act.

Special Provisions for Certain Eligible Coastal Cities

Sec. 3f. (a) In this section, "eligible coastal city" means a home-rule city that borders on the Gulf of Mexico and that has a population of less than 75,000, according to the most recent federal census. The definitions contained in Section 3d of this Act apply to this section.

(b) In lieu of the taxes authorized by Section 3a of this Act, an eligible coastal city may levy by ordinance on the cost of occupancy of any sleeping room furnished by any hotel, in which the cost of occupancy is $2 or more a day, a tax not to exceed seven percent of the consideration paid by the occupant of the sleeping room to the hotel.

(c) A city that levies and collects an occupancy tax authorized by this section may pledge a portion of the revenue equal to not more than one percent of the cost of the occupancy of hotel rooms to the payment of the bonds which the city may issue pursuant to the provisions of Section 3 of this Act. The city is authorized to establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) public improvements such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, exhibition halls, and coliseums that serve the purpose of attracting visitors and tourists to the city and to establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) structures, parking areas, or facilities located at or in the immediate vicinity of these public improvements to be used in connection with the public improvements for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances. Any lease under this subsection shall be on the terms and conditions the city deems appropriate.

(d) If the tax authorized by this section is levied by the city at a rate of four percent or more, an amount of revenue equal to at least three percent of the cost of the occupancy of hotel rooms shall be reserved for the purpose of advertising and conducting solicitation programs to acquaint potential users with public meeting and convention facilities and for promotion of tourism and advertising of the city and its vicinity either by the city or through contract with persons or organizations selected by the city.

(e) If the tax authorized by this section is levied by the city at a rate of five percent or more, an amount of revenue equal to at least one percent of the cost of the occupancy of hotel rooms shall be reserved for beach patrol, lifeguard services, and marine water safety under the provisions of Senate Bill 713, Acts of the 67th Legislature, Regular Session, 1981.¹

(f) If the tax authorized by this section is levied by the city at a rate of six percent or more, an amount of revenue equal to at least one percent of the cost of occupancy of hotel rooms shall be reserved for public beach cleaning funds for use as matching funds for state funds available to clean and maintain public beaches.

(g) This section does not permit the impairment of any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act and all revenue previously pledged to the payment of those bonds shall continue to be reserved for the payment of the principal and interest on those bonds.

Additional Definitions; Levy of Tax by Certain Cities

Text of § 3g as added by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4930, ch. 879, § 1

Sec. 3g. (a) For purposes of this section and in addition to the definitions contained in Section 3d of this Act which apply to this section:

(1) "City" means any city having a population of at least 900,000, according to the last preceding federal census, that has adopted a council-manager form of government.

(2) "Convention Center Complex" means public structures, such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, exhibition halls, coliseums, or other city buildings, that are suitable for use as convention and exposition facilities, and parking facilities, located at or in the immediate vicinity of such public structures, to be used in connection with those public structures for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances.

(b) The city is not authorized to levy the taxes authorized by Section 3a of this Act, but instead may levy by ordinance on the cost of occupancy of any sleeping room furnished by any hotel, in which the cost of occupancy is $2 or more a day, a tax not to exceed five percent of the consideration paid by the occupant of the sleeping room to the hotel.

(c) If the city levies and collects a tax in excess of four percent under the provisions of this section, it shall reserve that portion of the tax revenues which are derived from the percentage of the tax in excess of four percent solely for the following purposes:

(1) no more than 65 percent to:

(A) constructing, improving, enlarging, equipping, and repairing the Convention Center Complex; or

(B) pledging payment of revenue bonds and revenue refunding bonds issued pursuant to this Act for the Convention Center Complex;

(2) at least 35 percent to advertising and conducting solicitation programs to acquaint potential users with public meeting and convention facilities and promoting tourism and advertising of the city either by the city or through contract with persons or organizations selected by the city.

(d) Revenue received under this section not in excess of four percent may be used by the city as provided by Section 3c of this Act.

Failure to File Report or Pay Tax; Additional Remedy; Injunction From Operating Hotel

Text of § 3g as added by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 5421, ch. 1009, § 1

Sec. 3g. In addition to other remedies provided by law or by city ordinance for the collection of a tax imposed under this Act, the city attorney, or other attorney acting for the city attorney, may bring suit against a person who is required to collect the tax imposed by this Act and pay the collections over to the city and who has failed to file a report or pay the tax when it is due to enjoin the person from operating a hotel in the city until the tax is paid or the report is filed or both, as applicable and as provided in the injunction.

Payment of Principal or Interest on Bonds

Sec. 4. The owners or holders of such revenue or revenue refunding bonds shall never have the right to demand payment of either the principal or interest on such bonds out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation, except as to room taxes, if pledged.

Interest and Sinking Funds; Reserve Funds

Sec. 5. In the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of any revenue or revenue refunding bonds authorized hereunder, the city may provide for the flow of funds, the establishment and maintenance of the interest and sinking fund or funds, reserve fund or funds, and other funds, and may make additional covenants with respect to the bonds and the pledged revenues and the operation and maintenance of those improvements and facilities, the revenues of which are pledged, including provision for the operation or for the leasing of all or any part of said improvements or facilities and the use of pledge of moneys derived from such operation contracts and leases, as it may deem appropriate. Such ordinance or ordinances may also prohibit the further issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from the pledged revenues, or may reserve the right to issue additional bonds to be secured by a pledge of and payable from said revenues on a parity with, or subordinate to, the lien and pledge in support of the bonds being issued, subject to such conditions as are set forth in said ordinance or ordinances. Such ordinance or ordinances may contain other provisions and covenants, as the city may determine, not prohibited by the Constitution of Texas or by this Act, and the city may adopt and cause to be executed any other proceedings or instruments necessary or convenient in the issuance of any of said bonds.

Payment of Interest; Expense of Sale and Delivery of Bonds; Investment of Proceeds

Sec. 6. From the proceeds of sale of any bonds issued hereunder, the city may appropriate or set aside, out of the bond proceeds an amount for the payment of interest expected to accrue during the period of construction, an amount or amounts to be deposited into the reserve fund or funds as may be provided in the bond ordinance or ordinances, and an amount necessary to pay all expenses incurred and to be incurred in the issuance, sale, and delivery of the bonds. Until such time or times a the bond proceeds are needed to carry out the bond purpose, such bond proceeds may be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America or may be placed on time deposit, or both. Moneys in the interest and sinking fund or funds, in the reserve fund or funds, and in any other fund or funds established or provided for the bond ordinance or ordinances may be invested in such manner and in such securities as may be provided in the bond ordinance or ordinances.

Signatures on Bonds; Maturity Dates; Examination and Approval; Registration

Sec. 7. All bonds shall be signed by the Mayor of the city and countersigned by the City Secretary or City Clerk, and shall have the seal of the city impressed thereon; provided, that the bond ordinance or ordinances may provide for the bonds and any attached interest coupons to be signed by facsimile signatures and for the seal of the city on the bonds to be a facsimile as provided by Acts 1961, 57th Legislature, page 406, Chapter 204 (Article 717j-1, V.A.C.S.). Such bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years from their date or dates and may be sold at a price and under such terms determined by the governing body of the city to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, provided that the interest cost to the city, calculated by the use of standard bond interest tables currently in use by insurance companies and investment houses, does not exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, and within the discretion of the governing body such bonds may be callable prior to maturity at such time or times and at such price or prices as may be prescribed in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing such bonds. Any such bonds may be made registrable as to principal, or as to both principal and interest. All bonds issued hereunder and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for his examination as to the validity thereof, and after said Attorney General has approved the same, such bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. When such bonds have been approved by the Attorney General, registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and delivered to the purchasers, they shall thereafter be incontestable except for forgery or fraud.

Revenue Refunding Bonds; Examination and Approval; Registration

Sec. 8. Any city to which this Act applies shall have the power and authority to issue revenue refunding bonds similarly secured to refund either original bonds or revenue refunding bonds theretofore issued by such city under this Act, and such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate or rates than that of the bonds refunded unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid. Refunding bonds shall be authorized by ordinance or ordinances and shall be executed and shall mature as is provided in this Act for original bonds. They shall be approved by the Attorney General as in the case of original bonds, and shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts upon the surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded, but in lieu thereof the ordinance or ordinances authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited in the place or places where the underlying bonds are payable, in which case the refunding bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient to pay the interest on and principal of the underlying bonds to their option or maturity date, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall register them without the surrender and cancellation of the underlying bonds. All such refunding bonds, after they have been approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, shall be incontestable except for forgery or fraud.

Legal and Authorized Investment; Securing Deposit of Public Funds

Sec. 9. All bonds issued under this Act, whether original bonds or refunding bonds, shall be and are hereby declared to be, and to have all the qualifications of, negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Act of the State of Texas, and all such bonds shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies of every kind or type, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unma- tured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 10. This Act is cumulative of all existing laws of the State of Texas, but to the extent that such existing laws may be in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall govern and prevail; and this Act shall take precedence over any and all conflicting or inconsistent city charter provisions.

Art. 1269j-4.12. Public Improvement District Assessment Act of 1977

Title and Applicability

Sec. 1. (a) This Act shall be known as the Public Improvement District Assessment Act. The powers granted hereunder may be exercised by any incorporated city or town in which the governing body has initiated and/or received a petition requesting the establishment of a public improvement district. The petition shall include signatures of more than 50 percent of the property owners or represent more than 50 percent of the taxable land area and signatures of owners of taxable property representing more than 50 percent of the appraised value of the taxable real property including the value of structures and other improvements within the area as determined by the current roll of the countywide appraisal district in which the property is located.

(b) In this Act, the "city" means any authorized city to which this Act is applicable under Subsection (a) above.

Authorized Public Improvements

Sec. 2. (a) The governing body of a city may undertake improvement projects and/or services that confer a special benefit on a definable part of the city. The governing body may levy and collect special assessments on property in the area, based on the benefit conferred by the improvement project and/or services, to pay all or part of its cost.

(b) A public improvement project may include:

(1) landscaping; the erection of distinctive lighting and signs; the improvement, widening, narrowing, closing, or rerouting of streets or sidewalks; drainage improvements; the construction or improvement of pedestrian malls; the establishment or improvement of parks; the erection of fountains; the acquisition and installation of articles of art; and the acquisition, construction, or improvement of off-street parking facilities;

(2) other improvements similar to those described in Subdivision (1) of this subsection;

(3) the acquisition of real property in connection with an authorized improvement;

(4) special supplemental services for improvement and promotion of the district, including but not limited to advertising, promotion, health and sanitation, public safety, security, business recruitment, development, recreation and cultural enhancements; and

(5) expenses incurred in the establishment, administration, and operation of the district.

Act is Alternative

Sec. 3. This Act is a complete alternative to other methods by which a city may finance public improvements and/or special supplemental services by assessing property owners.

Financing Combined Improvements

Sec. 4. An improvement project on two or more streets or two or more types of improvements in, on, or adjacent to the same street or streets may be included in one proceeding and financed as one improvement.

Petition for Improvement District

Sec. 5. (a) A petition for any district authorized to be financed under this Act may be filed with the city secretary or other officer who performs the function of city secretary. The petition must state:

(1) the general nature of the proposed improvement and/or services;

(2) the estimated cost of the improvement and/or services;

(3) the boundaries of the proposed assessment district;

(4) the proposed method of assessment;

(5) the proposed apportionment of cost between the improvement district and the city as a whole;

(6) the proposed management structure for administration of the district by the city, the private sector, or public-private partnership;

(7) that the persons signing the petition request and/or concur with the making of the improvement district; and

(8) that an advisory body may be established with the responsibility of developing and recommending a service and improvement plan to the governing body. The composition of the advisory body shall include more than 50 percent of owners of record of property or record owners of property of more than 50 percent of the land area and owners of taxable property representing more than 50 percent of the appraised value of the taxable real property including the value of structures and other improvements within the area as determined by the current roll of the countywide appraisal district in which the property is located. The composition and appointments shall be approved by the governing body.

(b) The petition is sufficient if signed by:

(1) more than 50 percent of the owners of record of property liable for assessment under the proposal; or

(2) the record owners of property composing more than 50 percent of the area liable for assessment under the proposal; and

(3) owners of taxable property representing more than 50 percent of the appraised value of the taxable real property including the value of structures and other improvements within the area as determined by the current roll of the countywide appraisal district in which the property is located.

(c) When a petition which meets the requirements of this section is filed, the governing body of the city may make findings by resolution as to the advisability of the improvement, the estimated cost, the method of assessment, and the apportionment of cost between the improvement district and the city as a whole.

Feasibility Report, Etc.

Sec. 6. (a) Before holding a hearing on the advisability of a proposed improvement district, the governing body of a city may require that a feasibility report be made to assist in determining whether an improvement and/or service should be made as proposed or otherwise or whether it should be made in combination with other improvements and/or services authorized by this Act. The governing body may also require that a preliminary estimate of the cost of the improvement and/or service or combination of improvements and/or services be made. The governing body may use the services of employees of the city to make the report or estimate, or it may employ consultants.

(b) The governing body may also take other preliminary steps prior to the hearing or before establishing a district or letting a contract that will be of assistance in determining the feasibility and desirability of an improvement district.

Hearing as to Advisability

Sec. 7. (a) A district may be established, and services and/or an improvement may be financed under this Act after notice of the hearing has been given as required by this section and the governing body of the city holds a public hearing on the advisability of the improvements and/or services.

(b) Notice of the hearing shall be given in a newspaper of general circulation in the city. The final publication must be at least 15 days before the date of the hearing. The notice shall include the following information:

(1) the time and place of the hearing;

(2) the general nature of the proposed improvement;

(3) the estimated cost of the improvement;

(4) the boundaries of the proposed assessment district;

(5) the proposed method of assessment; and

(6) the proposed apportionment of cost between the improvement district and the city as a whole.

(c) Written notice containing the information required in Subsection (b) of this section shall be mailed at least 15 days before the hearing to "Property Owner," in care of the current address of the subject property as reflected on the tax rolls.

(d) The hearing may be adjourned from time to time until the governing body makes findings by resolution as to the advisability of the improvement and/or services, the nature of the improvement and/or services, the estimated cost, the boundaries of the improvement district, the method of assessment, and the apportionment of cost between the district and the city as a whole.

(e) The area of the improvement district to be assessed according to the findings of the governing body may be less than the area proposed in the notice of the hearing, but it may not include any property not within the original proposed boundaries unless there is an additional hearing, preceded by the required notice.

May Order Improvements

Sec. 8. (a) At any time within six months after the final adjournment of the hearing to establish an improvement district, the governing body of the city by a majority vote of all members may adopt a resolution authorizing the improvement district in accordance with its finding as to the advisability of the improvements and/or services. The authorization takes effect when it has been published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the city. Actual construction of the improvements or implementation of the services may not begin until 20 days after the authorization takes effect.

(b) An improvement may not be commenced if, within 20 days after the authorization takes effect, written protests signed by at least two-thirds of the owners of record of property within the improvement district or the owners of record of at least two-thirds of the total area of the district are filed with the city secretary or other officer who performs the function of city secretary.

(c) A public hearing as provided for in Section 7 of this Act may be called to dissolve a district and eliminate special supplemental services upon receipt of a petition signed by more than 50 percent of the owners of record of property within the district or the owners of record of more than 50 percent of the taxable land area of the district and owners of taxable property representing more than 50 percent of the appraised value of the taxable real property including the value of structures and other improvements within the area as determined by the current roll of the countywide appraisal district in which the property is located. However, the district shall remain in effect for the purpose of meeting obligations of indebtedness for improvements.

(d) Any person may withdraw his name from a protest at any time before the governing body convenes its meeting to determine the sufficiency of the protest.

Service and Assessment Plan

Sec. 9. (a) An ongoing service plan shall be prepared by the advisory body for review and approval by the governing body. The governing body shall assign responsibility for the plan in the absence of an advisory body. The plan shall be for a period not less than five years and shall be reviewed and updated annually to determine the annual budget for improvements and/or special supplemental services. The amount of assessment for each property owner may be adjusted annually, following approval of the plan.

(b) The portion of the cost of an improvement to be assessed against the property in the improvement district shall be apportioned by the governing body of the city based on the special benefits accruing to the property because of the improvement.

(c) The cost may be assessed equally per front foot or per square foot against all property within the district; it may be assessed against property according to the value of the property as determined by the governing body of the city, with or without regard to structures or other improvements on the property; or it may be assessed on the basis of any other reasonable assessment plan that results in imposing equal shares of the cost on property similarly benefitted.

(d) The governing body may establish by ordinance reasonable classifications and formulas for the apportionment of the cost between the city and the area to be assessed and the methods of assessing the special benefits for various classes of improvements.

Apportionment of Costs

Sec. 10. (a) An assessment plan must provide that at least 20 percent of the cost of an improvement be paid by special assessments against property in the improvement district.

(b) The city shall be responsible for payment of assessment for exempt city-owned property which is part of the district. Payment of assessment by other exempt jurisdictions shall be established by contract. Assessments paid by the city as a whole under this subsection are counted as having been paid by special assessment for the purpose of Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) The assessment plan shall be a part of the annual service plan which defines the annual indebtedness for improvements and the projected costs for all special supplemental services.

Preparing Assessment Roll; Notice; Etc.

Sec. 11. (a) When the total cost of an improvement and/or services are determined, the governing body shall cause the assessments against each parcel of land within the benefit district to be determined in accordance with the manner of assessment set forth in the resolution as to the advisability of the improvement district. The governing body shall also cause a proposed assessment roll to be prepared.

(b) The proposed assessment roll shall be filed with the city secretary or other officer who performs the function of city secretary and be open for public inspection. The governing body shall direct the secretary to publish notice that the governing body will meet to consider the proposed assessments at a public hearing. The notice must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city at least 10 days before the hearing and shall state the date, time, and place of the hearing, the general nature of the improvement and/or services, the cost of the improvement and/or services, the boundaries of the assessment district, and that written or oral objections will be considered at the hearing.

(c) At the time the assessment roll is filed with the city secretary or other officer, the city secretary or other officer shall also mail to the owners of property liable for assessment, at their last known address, a notice of the hearing which contains all the information required of the notice published in a newspaper. The failure of a property owner to receive the notice does not invalidate the proceedings.

Assessments: Hearing, Levy, Payment

Sec. 12. (a) At the hearing on proposed assessments or at any adjournment of the hearing, the governing body shall hear and pass on all objections to each proposed assessment. The governing body may amend the proposed assessments as to any parcel. When all objections have been heard and action has been taken with regard to them, the governing body by ordinance shall levy the assessments as special assessments on the property. The governing body by ordinance shall specify the method of payment of the assessments and may provide that they be payable in periodic installments which shall meet annual costs for special supplemental services and improvements as set forth in Section 9 of this Act and shall continue for the number of years required to retire indebtedness.

(b) All assessments bear interest at a rate specified by the governing body, which may not exceed one-half percentage point above the actual interest rate paid on the public debt being used to finance the improvements and/or services. Interest on the assessment between the effective date of the ordinance levying the assessment and the date the first installment is payable shall be added to the first installment. The interest for one year on all unpaid installments shall be added to each subsequent installment until paid. An assessment or any reassessment is a lien against the property until it is paid. The owner of any property assessed may pay the entire assessment against any lot or parcel with accrued interest to the date of the payment at any time.

Supplemental Assessments

Sec. 13. After notice and hearing in the manner required for original assessments, the governing body may make supplemental assessments to correct omissions or mistakes in the assessment relating to the total cost of the improvement and/or services.

Reassessments and New Assessments

Sec. 14. If an assessment against a parcel of land is set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, found excessive by the governing body, or determined to be invalid by the governing body on the written advice of counsel, the governing body may make a reassessment or new assessment as to the parcel.

Separate Improvement Funds

Sec. 15. A separate improvement district fund shall be created in the city treasury for each district. The proceeds from the sale of bonds, temporary notes and time warrants, and any other sums appropriated to the fund by the governing body shall be credited to the fund. The fund may be used solely to pay the costs incurred in the making of the improvement and/or providing the services. When the improvement is completed, the balance of that portion of the assessment for improvements shall be transferred to the fund established for the retirement of the bonds.

Special Improvement District Fund

Sec. 16. (a) A city proposing to establish a district to be financed under the authority of this Act may establish by ordinance a special improvement district fund in the city treasury. The city may levy annually a tax for the purpose of the fund.

(b) The fund may be used to pay the costs of planning, administration any improvement authorized by this Act, and for preparing preliminary plans, studies, and engineering reports preparatory to the consideration of the feasibility of an improvement and/or services and to pay the initial cost of the improvement and/or services when ordered by the governing body until temporary notes, time warrants, or improvement bonds have been issued and sold.

(c) The fund need not be budgeted for expenditure during any year, but the amount of the fund shall be stated in the city's annual budget. The fund shall be based on an annual service plan which shall define the public improvements and special supplemental services for the fiscal year. All grants-in-aid or contributions made to the city for planning and preparation of plans for improvements which are authorized under this Act may be credited to the special improvement district fund, and the amount of the aid or contribution shall not be considered in calculating the limitation on the fund imposed by Subsection (c) of this section.

Payment of Costs

Sec. 17. (a) The cost of any improvement and/or services made under the authority of this Act shall be paid in accordance with this section.

(b) All costs payable by the city as a whole may be paid from general funds available for the purpose or from other available general funds.

(c) Costs payable by special assessments which have been paid in full shall be paid from those assessments.

(d) Costs payable by special assessments to be paid in installments and costs made payable by the city as a whole but not payable from available general funds or other available general improvement funds shall be paid by the issuance and sale of revenue or general obligation bonds.

(e) During the progress of an improvement and/or services the governing body may issue temporary notes or time warrants of the city to pay costs of the improvements and/or services and on the completion of the work issue revenue or general obligation bonds.

(f) The costs of more than one improvement and/or services may be paid from a single issue and sale of bonds without other consolidation proceedings prior to the bond issue.

General Obligation Bonds

Sec. 18. A city may issue general obligation bonds under the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Statutes, as amended (Article 701 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), to pay all or part of the costs covered by Section 17(d) of this Act.

Issuance of Revenue Bonds

Sec. 19. For the payment of all or part of the costs covered by Section 17(d) of this Act, the governing body may issue revenue bonds from time to time in one or more series to be payable from and secured by liens on all or part of the revenue derived from improvements authorized under this Act, including installment payments of special assessments.

Terms and Conditions of Bonds

Sec. 20. (a) Revenue bonds may be issued to mature serially or otherwise within not more than 40 years from their date, and provision may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds or subordinate lien bonds under any terms or conditions that may be set forth in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(b) The bonds and any interest coupons appertaining thereto are negotiable instruments within the meaning and for all purposes of the Texas Uniform Commercial Code. The bonds may be issued registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest, and shall be executed, and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, and may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions, and details, and may be sold in such manner, at such price, and under such terms, and said bonds shall bear interest at such rates, all as shall be determined and provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(c) If so provided in the bond ordinance, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used for paying interest on the bonds during and after the period of the acquisition or construction of any improvement to be provided through the issuance of the bonds, for creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and for creating any other funds. The proceeds of the bonds may be placed on time deposit or invested, until needed, all to the extent, and in the manner provided, in the bond ordinance.

Pledges

Sec. 21. (a) The governing body may pledge all or any part of the income from improvements financed under this Act, including the installment payments described in Section 17(d) of this Act, to the payment of the bonds, including the payment of principal, interest, and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds. The pledged income shall be fixed and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest, and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds, and, to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds, to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds, and for the payment of operation, maintenance, and other expenses in connection with the improvements authorized under this Act.

(b) The bonds may be additionally secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on any real property relating to the facilities authorized under this Act owned or to be acquired by the city and by chattel mortgages, liens, or security interests on any personal property appurtenant to that real property. The governing body may authorize the execution of trust indentures, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other forms of encumbrances to evidence the indebtedness.

(c) The governing body may also pledge to the payment of the bonds all or any part of any grant, donation, revenues, or income received or to be received from the United States government or any other public or private source, whether pursuant to an agreement or otherwise.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 22. (a) Any revenue bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be refunded or otherwise refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for that purpose, under any terms or conditions, as are determined by ordinance of the governing body of the local government. All appropriate provisions of this Act are applicable to refunding bonds, and the refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds. The refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts necessary to pay the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of bonds to be refunded, at maturity or on any redemption date.

(b) The refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds being refunded by them. In that case, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds. The exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(c) General obligation bonds issued under this Act also may be refunded in the manner provided by law.

Approval and Registration of Bonds

Sec. 23. (a) All revenue bonds issued under this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If the bonds recite that they are secured by a pledge of revenues or rentals from a contract or lease, a copy of the contract or lease and the proceedings relating to it shall be submitted to the attorney general also. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized and any contract or lease has been made in accordance with law, he shall approve the bonds and the contract or lease, and thereupon the bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After approval and registration the bonds and any contract or lease relating to them are incontestable in any court or other form for any reason and are valid and binding obligations for all purposes in accordance with their terms.

(b) General obligation bonds issued under this Act shall be approved and registered as provided by law.

Authorized Investments and Security for Deposits

Sec. 24. All bonds issued under this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. The bonds also are eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of it, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of the bonds, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Art. 1269j-4.15. Park Purposes; Acquisition and Improvement of Property by Cities of 1,200,000 or MoreApplicability of Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to all incorporated cities, including home-rule cities, having a population of 1,200,000 or more according to the last preceding federal census.

Acquisition, Construction and Improvement of Property; Operating Contracts

Sec. 2. Any such city is authorized to acquire by purchase, lease, or otherwise, any or all, property (real, personal, or mixed) and to construct or otherwise acquire, improve, and equip any property for park purposes, including, but not by way of limitation: establishing, acquiring, leasing, or contracting as lessee or lessor, purchasing, constructing, improving, enlarging, equipping, repairing, operating, or maintaining (any or all) golf courses, clubhouses, and pro shops, tennis courts, and facilities, swimming pools, marinas, recreation centers, rugby fields, baseball fields, zoos, clarification lakes or pools, park transportation systems and equipment, theaters, bicycle trails, multipurpose shelters, service facilities, and any other recreational facilities, all or any (hereinafter called "Facility" or "Facilities"), together with all necessary water, sewer, and drainage facilities, and to establish, acquire, lease, or contract as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) structures, parking areas, or parking facilities to be used in connection with such Facilities for parking and storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances; and provided that any of such leases or contracts may be on such terms and conditions as said city shall deem appropriate. Also, such city shall have authority to enter into a contract or agreement under which the Facilities may be operated on behalf of the city, such operating contracts or agreements to contain such terms or conditions as said city shall deem appropriate. Each and all of the foregoing purposes are hereby found and declared to be public purposes and proper municipal functions.

Revenue Bonds Authorized

Sec. 3. For any purpose or purposes authorized under Section 2 of this Act, the governing body of the city may issue its revenue bonds from time to time in one or more series to be payable from and secured by liens on all or part of the revenues derived from any Facility or Facilities.

Issuance of Bonds; Proceeds From Sale of Bonds; Ad Valorem Tax

Sec. 4. (a) Said bonds may be issued when authorized by ordinance duly adopted by the city's governing body and may mature serially or otherwise within not to exceed 40 years from their date or dates, and provision may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under any terms or conditions that may be set forth in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(b) Said bonds, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto, shall be deemed and construed to be a "Security" within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, Business & Commerce Code.¹ The bonds may be issued registrable as to principal alone or as to principal and interest and shall be executed and may be made redeemable prior to maturity and may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner and under such terms, conditions, and details and may be sold in such manner, at such price, and under such terms, and such bonds shall bear interest at such rates, all as shall be determined and provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(c) If so provided in said ordinance, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used for paying interest on the bonds during and after the period of the acquisition, construction, or improvement of any Facility, for paying expenses of operation and maintenance of said Facilities, for creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and for establishing any other funds. The proceeds of sale of the bonds may be placed on time deposit or invested, until needed, all to the extent and in the manner provided in the bond ordinance.

(d) Any such city shall also be authorized to levy and pledge to the payment of the operation and maintenance of any Facility or Facilities, either as a supplement to the pledge of revenues for such purpose or in lieu thereof, a continuing annual ad valorem tax at a rate on each $100 valuation of taxable property within said city sufficient for such purposes, all as may be provided in said ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds; provided, that such taxes shall be within any constitutional or charter limit for cities included by this Act; and provided further, that no part of any moneys raised by such taxes shall ever be used for the payment of the interest on or principal of any bonds issued hereunder. The proceeds of any such taxes thus pledged shall be utilized annually to the extent required by or provided in the ordinance for operation and maintenance of such Facilities, and such city in its discretion may covenant in such ordinance that certain costs of operating and maintaining such Facilities, as may be enumerated therein, or all of such costs will be paid by the city from the proceeds of such tax.

¹ Business and Commerce Code, § 8.101 et seq.

Fees, Rentals, Rates and Charges

Sec. 5. Each such city shall be authorized to fix and collect fees, rentals, rates, and charges for the occupancy, use, or availability of all or any of the Facilities in such amounts and in such manner as may be determined by the governing body of the city.

Pledge of Revenues, Income or Receipts; Mortgages or Deeds of Trust

Sec. 6. (a) The city may pledge all or any part of the revenues, income, or receipts from such fees, rentals, rates, and charges to the payment of the bonds, including the payment of principal, interest, and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds. The pledged fees, rentals, rates, and charges shall be fixed and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest, and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds, and, to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds, to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds, and for the payment of operation, maintenance, and other expenses in connection with the Facilities.

(b) The bonds may be additionally secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on any real property relating to the Facilities owned or to be acquired by the city and by chattel mortgages, liens, or security interests on any personal property appurtenant to that real property. The governing body of the city may authorize the execution of trust indentures, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other forms of encumbrances to evidence the indebtedness.

(c) The city may also pledge to the payment of the bonds all or any part of any grant, donation, revenues, or income received or to be received from the United States government or any other public or private source, whether pursuant to an agreement or otherwise.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 7. (a) Any bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be refunded or otherwise refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for that purpose under any terms or conditions as are determined by ordinance of the governing body of the city. All appropriate provisions of this Act are applicable to refunding bonds, and the refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds. The refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts necessary to pay the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of bonds to be refunded, at maturity or on any redemption date.

(b) The refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds being refunded by them. In that case, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds. The exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(c) Bonds issued at any time by a city under this Act also may be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable law.

Examination, Approval and Registration of Bonds

Sec. 8. All bonds issued under this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If the bonds recite that they are secured by a pledge of revenues or rentals from a contract or lease, a copy of the contract or lease and the proceedings relating to it shall be submitted to the attorney general also. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized and any contract or lease has been made in accordance with law, he shall approve the bonds and the contract or lease, and thereupon the bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After approval and registration, the bonds and any contract or lease relating to them are incontestable for any reason and are valid and binding obligations for all purposes in accordance with their terms.

Legal and Authorized Investments; Security for Deposit of Public Funds

Sec. 9. All bonds issued under this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. The bonds also are eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of it, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of the bonds, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect; Conflicting Provisions

Sec. 10. This Act is cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized by it without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided. When any bonds are issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any law or home-rule charter provision, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control. A city shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Severability

Sec. 11. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Art. 1269j-4.2. Coliseums or Stadiums of Counties in Excess of 500,000; Sale to Certain Cities

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any city to which Chapter 63, Acts of the 59th Legislature, Regular Session, 1965, as amended (Article 1269j-4.1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), shall apply (each such city herein called an "authorized city") and to any county which has a population in excess of 500,000 according to the then most recent federal census, which county has issued bonds for the purpose of constructing a coliseum or stadium within the county and which is operating such coliseum directly and is not having the same operated by another through a lease or other agreement not subject to cancellation by the county in event of a sale of such facilities (each such county being herein called an "authorized county").

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of any authorized county, upon finding (a) that the coliseum or stadium owned and operated by it is in need of expansion or other improvement, and (b) that such expansion or other improvement may be better accomplished without resort to the tax funds and resources of the county by the sale of such coliseum or stadium and related land to an authorized city in which such facility is located, may sell such coliseum or stadium and related land and facilities to such authorized city pursuant to an agreement of sale and purchase entered into in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 3. A sale and purchase, as authorized in Section 2 of this Act, shall be upon such terms and for such price as shall be agreed between the authorized county and the authorized city, but in no event shall such price be less than the amount of the then outstanding bonds of the county issued for the purpose of constructing and equipping such coliseum or stadium. Such sale and purchase price may be paid by the authorized city in cash and the funds to pay the same may be obtained by such city in any manner now permitted by law; or, such sale and purchase price may be paid by the city in installments with interest at not lower than the same rates borne by the county's outstanding coliseum or stadium bonds. The funds with which to make such installments may be obtained by such city in any lawful manner, including, but not limited to, one or a combination of the following methods, to-wit: (a) Such installments, by the agreement, may be made payable to the authorized county out of revenues of the stadium or coliseum thus sold on dates coinciding with or earlier than the dates upon which principal and interest on such county's outstanding coliseum or stadium bonds shall mature and come due. If this method of payment is selected, the payments due the county may be treated as a fixed operating expense of the stadium or coliseum payable solely from the revenues of such facilities. When received by the county, such funds shall be utilized for the purpose of retiring and paying interest upon its outstanding coliseum or stadium bonds when due. (b) Such city and such county may agree that the city shall issue a series of coliseum or stadium acquisition revenue bonds (or include such purpose as a part of a larger series of coliseum or stadium revenue bonds), which revenue bonds (or part of a larger series allocable to such purchase) shall be delivered to the county in payment of the purchase price for said stadium or coliseum. Such bonds shall be at least payable at the times and in the same amounts as, and bear not lower than the same rates of interest borne by, the county's outstanding coliseum or stadium bonds, so as to provide funds from such revenue bonds to the county with which to pay the principal and interest when due upon its said outstanding bonds. Such revenue bonds of the city may be upon such other terms as the city and the county may agree and may include any mortgage security authorized by Chapter 63, Acts of the 59th Legislature, Regular Session, 1965, as amended. Upon delivery of such bonds to the county, the county shall hold the same for the account of the Interest and Sinking Fund created in connection with its outstanding coliseum or stadium bonds and shall utilize the payments when received to pay the principal and interest on its said bonds when due.

Sec. 4. Any such sale authorized by this law shall be effected by delivery of a deed, with reservation of such vendor's liens on such facilities as may be appropriate in connection with the selected method for payment of the purchase price, from the county and approved by the commissioners court and accepted by the city in accordance with the terms of such sale and purchase agreement. From and after the delivery of such deed, the city shall be the complete and total owner of the coliseum or stadium, and the land and facilities thus conveyed, and may thereafter exercise all the powers with respect thereto authorized and implied by Chapter 63, Acts of the 59th Legislature, Regular Session, 1965, as amended, and any other laws applicable to such city, for the purpose of operating, maintaining, improving, or expanding a coliseum or stadium, and may in connection with the financing thereof include such indoor and outdoor recreational facilities, properties and entertainment attractions as may be considered by the city to be appropriate in connection therewith and may lease, or enter into operating agreements with respect to, all or any part of the same for such periods and upon such terms as the city may determine.

Sec. 5. If the city council of any city which has acquired and owns a stadium or coliseum under the authority granted in this Act shall affirmatively find that escalating burdens and costs of operating its stadium or coliseum have caused continued ownership to cease to be economically feasible, resulting in increasing and unnecessary burdens on the taxpayers of the city, then, the city council, after giving at least 14 days' notice of and holding a public hearing on the question, may sell such stadium or coliseum to another public or private entity upon such terms and conditions as the city council may approve, and such city shall have all power necessary and appropriate to complete such sale in accordance with the terms of the sale.

Art. 1269j-4.3. Parking Facilities; Revenue Bonds; Gulf Coast Cities of 60,000 to 75,000 or 110,000 to 120,000

Application to Certain Cities

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to every incorporated city or town (including Home Rule Cities) located on the Coast of the Gulf of Mexico, or any channel, canal, bay or inlet connected therewith, having a population of more than sixty thousand (60,000) and less than seventy-five thousand (75,000) inhabitants or having a population of more than one hundred ten thousand (110,000) and less than one hundred twenty thousand (120,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding federal census.

Parking Facilities

Sec. 2. That any such city is hereby authorized to establish, acquire, lease as lessor or lessee, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate or maintain (any or all) permanent public improvements, to-wit: structures, parking areas or facilities (hereinafter called "improvements") for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances; provided that any such lease shall be on such terms and conditions as said city shall deem appropriate.

Revenue Bonds

Sec. 3. (a) Any such city is hereby authorized to issue negotiable revenue bonds to provide all or part of the funds for the establishment, acquisition, lease, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, equipment or repair (any or all) of said improvements.

(b) Such revenue bonds may be issued when duly authorized by an ordinance passed by the governing body of such city and shall be secured by a pledge of and be payable from all or any designated part of the revenues of said improvements (any or all) as may be provided in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of such bonds. To the extent that such revenues may have been pledged to the payment of revenue or revenue refunding bonds which are still outstanding, the pledge securing the proposed bonds shall be inferior to the previous pledge or pledges. Within the discretion of the governing body of the city, and subject to the limitations contained in previous pledges, if any, in addition to the pledge of revenues a lien may be given on all or any part of the physical properties acquired out of the proceeds from the sale of such bonds.

(c) When any of the revenues of such improvements are pledged to the payment of bonds issued under this Act, it shall be the duty of the governing body of the city to cause to be fixed, maintained and enforced charges for services rendered by such improvements, the revenues of which have been pledged, at rates and amounts at least sufficient to comply with and carry out the covenants and provisions contained in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of said bonds.

Bonds; Demand of Payment

Sec. 4. The owners or holders of such revenue or revenue refunding bonds shall never have the right to demand payment of either the principal of or interest on such bonds out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation.

Funds; Additional Bonds and Covenants

Sec. 5. In the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of any revenue or revenue refunding bonds authorized hereunder, the city may provide for the flow of funds, the establishment and maintenance of the interest and sinking fund or funds, reserve fund or funds, and other funds, and may make additional covenants with respect to the bonds and the pledged revenues and the operation and maintenance of those improvements and facilities, the revenues of which are pledged, including provisions for the operation or for the leasing of, as lessor or lessee, all or any part of said improvements and the use or pledge of moneys derived from such operation contracts and leases, as it may deem appropriate. Such ordinance or ordinances may also prohibit the further issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from the pledged reve-nuces, or may reserve the right to issue additional bonds to be secured by a pledge of and payment from said revenues on a parity with, or subordinate to, the lien and pledge in support of the bonds being issued, subject to such conditions as are set forth in said ordinance or ordinances. Such ordinance or ordinances may contain other provisions and covenants, as the city may determine, not prohibited by the Constitution of Texas or by this Act, and the city may adopt and cause to be executed any other proceedings or instruments necessary or convenient in the issuance of any of said bonds.

Bond Proceeds; Appropriation; Investment

Sec. 6. From the proceeds of sale of any bonds issued hereunder, the city may appropriate or set aside, out of the bond proceeds, an amount for the payment of interest expected to accrue during the period of construction, an amount or amounts to be deposited in the reserve fund or funds as may be provided in the bond ordinance or ordinances, and an amount necessary to pay all expenses incurred or to be incurred in the issuance, sale and delivery of the bonds. Until such time or times as the bond proceeds are needed to carry out the bond purpose, such bond proceeds may be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America or may be placed on time deposit, either or both, moneys in the interest and sinking fund or funds, and the reserve fund or funds, and any other fund or funds established or provided for in the bond ordinance or ordinances may be invested in such manner and in such securities as may be provided in the bond ordinance or ordinances.

Bond; Signatures; Seal; Facsimiles; Maturity; Interest; Approval and Registration

Sec. 7. That all bonds shall be signed by the mayor of the city and countersigned by the city secretary or city clerk, and shall have the seal of the city impressed thereon; provided, that the bond ordinance or ordinances may provide for the bonds and any attached interest coupons to be signed by facsimile signatures and for the seal of the city on the bonds to be in facsimile as provided by Acts, 1961, 57th Legislature, page 406, Chapter 204 (Art. 717j-1, V.A.C.S.), as amended. Such bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years from their date or dates and may be sold at a price and under such terms determined by the governing body of the city to be the most advantageous and reasonably obtainable, provided that the interest cost to the city, calculated by the use of standard bond interest tables currently in use by insurance companies and investment houses, does not exceed six and one-half per cent (6½%) per annum, and within the discretion of the governing body such bonds may be called prior to maturity at such time or times and at such price or prices as may be prescribed in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing such bonds. Any such bonds may be made registrable as to principal, or as to both principal and interest. All bonds issued hereunder and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for his examination as to the validity thereof, and after said Attorney General has approved the same, such bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. When such bonds have been approved by the Attorney General, registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and delivered to the purchasers, they shall thereafter be incontestable.

Refunding Bonds; Approval and Registration

Sec. 8. Any city to which this Act applies shall have the power and authority to issue revenue refunding bonds to refund either original bonds or revenue refunding bonds theretofore issued by said city under this Act, and such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate or rates than that of the bonds refunded unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid. Refunding bonds shall be authorized by ordinance or ordinances and shall be executed and shall mature as is provided in this Act for original bonds. They shall be approved by the Attorney General as in the case of original bonds, and shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts upon the surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded, but in lieu thereof the ordinance or ordinances authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited in the place or places where the underlying bonds are payable, in which case the refunding bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient to pay the interest on and principal of the underlying bonds to their option or maturity date, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall register them without the surrender and cancellation of the underlying bonds. All such refunding bonds, after they have been approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, shall be incontestable.

Bonds; Negotiability; Legal Investments; Security for Deposits

Sec. 9. All bonds issued under this Act, whether original bonds or refunding bonds, shall be and are hereby declared to be, and to have all the qualifications of, negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Act of the State of Texas, and all such bonds shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies of every kind or type, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect; Precedence

Sec. 10. This Act is cumulative of all existing laws of the State of Texas, but to the extent that such existing laws may be in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall govern and prevail; and this Act shall take precedence over any and all conflicting or inconsistent city charter provisions.

Art. 1269j-4.4. Sea Life Park and Oceanarium; Certificates of Indebtedness

Authorization

Sec. 1. Any city or town which owns a sea life park and oceanarium, the same having been, or the same being, constructed, equipped and developed wholly or partly with the proceeds of general obligation park bonds duly voted by the inhabitants of such city or town, is hereby authorized to issue Certificates of Indebtedness for the purpose of obtaining funds for operating, maintaining, repairing, further equipping, developing, expanding or obtaining inventories for such sea life park and oceanarium or for paying for such services and items when performed, obtained or acquired by others for the benefit of any such city or town under the terms of any lease, use, purchase, or concession agreement, operating agreement or other type of agreement relating to the development, operation, equipping, staffing, maintenance or upkeep of any such facilities; and for the same purposes, such obligations may be issued in connection with any other public facilities which are owned by such city or town in conjunction with such sea life park and oceanarium and which are of the type authorized by Chapter 63, Acts of the 59th Legislature, Regular Session, 1965 (Article 1269j-4.1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) or under said Act and Chapter 400, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 1269j-4-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Acquisition of Facilities and Rights by Cities and Towns from Person or Corporation

Sec. 1(a). If any such city or town has heretofore or shall hereafter cause any part or all of said facilities to be operated on its behalf by a person or corporation under the terms of a lease, use, purchase, concession agreement, operating agreement, or other type of agreement, such city or town, upon a determination by the governing body thereof that the same could be better and more efficiently operated directly by it or by another method, including an operating board appointed by it, with such powers as may be granted by ordinance, or by any other method, and with the consent and agreement of such person or corporation to the rescission of any such agreement shall be authorized to purchase or otherwise acquire all or any part of the properties, assets, rights and facilities of any such person or corporation and to issue certificates of indebtedness therefor in accordance with the terms of this Act, expressly including the right to purchase or acquire any broadcasting or similar rights, and the same may be used, sold or resold by such city or town and in conjunction with which such use or sales, such city or town may promote or advertise such city or town or any such facilities or any events to be conducted therein or in connection therewith.

Issuance; Terms and Conditions; Security

Sec. 2. The Certificates of Indebtedness authorized by this Act may be issued when authorized by ordinance adopted by the governing body of any such city or town and may mature serially or otherwise and may be issued upon such other terms and conditions as may be contained and specified in any such ordinance, including, but not limited to, provisions as to interest rate or rates, registration and redemption privileges, and any manner and method of sale, exchange for goods, property or services, and for the delivery thereof; and the same may be secured by and made payable from taxes or revenues, or both; provided that, in the issuance of any such obligations payable from taxes, the issuer shall comply with the provisions of the Texas Constitution requiring in such cases that sufficient taxes to pay the principal thereof and interest thereon when due be duly and properly levied.

Pledge of Revenues to Payment of Certificates of Indebtedness; Deed of Trust or Mortgage Lien

Sec. 2(a). If any such city or town shall elect to pledge the revenues from the aforesaid facilities to the repayment of any certificate of indebtedness issued under this Act, or in connection with the refunding thereof as herein permitted, either alone or in combination with taxes, as permitted in Section 2 of this Act, then such city or town may pledge all or any part of the designated revenues to result from the ownership or operation of any or all of the facilities, properties and rights described in Section 1 and Section 1(a) of this Act, and, within the discretion of the governing body of such city or town, may additionally secure the same by a deed of trust or mortgage lien on any part or all of the physical properties of the city which are described in this Act, in which event, such deeds of trust or mortgages may be executed as may be deemed appropriate in addition to the ordinance contemplated in Section 1 hereof. If any such city or town shall elect to refund any certificates of indebtedness issued hereunder pursuant to Section 4 of this Act, it is hereby expressly provided that any such refunding bonds may be secured by any part or all of the aforesaid revenues and by a deed of trust or other mortgage lien upon said properties or by taxes or by any combination thereof, and irrespective of the nature of the initial security pledged or committed to the payment of the certificate of indebtedness as initially issued.

Certificates as Investment Securities

Sec. 3. Any Certificates of Indebtedness issued under authority of this Act shall constitute "Investment Securities" under Chapter 8 of the Texas Uniform Commercial Code,¹ and may be issued in such form and denominations and under such other terms, conditions and details, and may be executed, all as provided in the proceedings authorizing the same; and all Certificates of Indebtedness which shall recite that they have been issued under authority of this Act for the purposes herein authorized shall be incontestable for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms and for all purposes.

¹ Business and Commerce Code, § 8.101 et seq.

Refunding into Bonds

Sec. 4. The Certificates of Indebtedness authorized by this Act may be wholly or partially refunded into bonds in any manner and upon such terms as now permitted by law with respect to the refunding of other indebtedness or obligations of any such city or town, including Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, 1955, as amended, and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, 1969 (Article 717k, and Article 717k-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Legal and Authorized Investments; Security for Deposit of Public Funds

Sec. 5. All Certificates of Indebtedness issued under this Act shall be legal and authorized investments for all banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies of all kinds and types, and for the interest and sinking funds and other public funds of any city, county or other political subdivision of this State. Said obligations also shall be eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of any city, county or other political subdivision or public agency.

Contracts and Agreements; Operation, etc. of Facilities; Proceeds of Certificates

Sec. 6. Upon or in anticipation of the issuance of any Certificates of Indebtedness authorized by this Act, (or in anticipation of the receipt of revenues from said facilities in lieu of the issuance of Certificates of Indebtedness) the governing body of any such city or town shall be authorized and permitted to make and enter into such contracts and agreements relating to the operation, maintenance, upkeep, equipment, development, expansion or supplying of or for any said public facilities, of such types and kinds, upon such terms, in such manner and in accordance with such procedures as the governing body of such city or town shall deem best, necessary and proper; and the proceeds of such Certificates of Indebtedness (or in lieu thereof such revenues) may be utilized and devoted to the satisfaction thereof.

Abandonment; Sale or Lease

Sec. 6a. In the event it shall be determined by proper findings of the governing body of any such city or town that the continuation of property wholly or partially financed under this Act as a sea life park and oceanarium has ceased to be economically feasible, that continuation for such purpose would be unprofitable, and that such purpose should be abandoned, then such governing body may by ordinance abandon such purpose and sell or lease such land and facilities for such other purpose or purposes as the governing body may deem appropriate and in the interest of the citizens thereof after notice and publication as provided in Chapter 455, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 5421c-12, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); provided that if any of such land shall be sold, then same shall be sold to the highest and best bidder as required for other land owned by any such city or town. If any part or all of the land is to be leased for another purpose, then the lease shall be for such term, terms and renewal terms and shall contain such other provisions as may be agreed by the governing body, provided that the rentals derived by the city from such source shall be applied to the same purposes required by any ordinances authorizing the issuance of bonds secured in whole or in part by the revenues derived from the sea life park and oceanarium prior to the abandonment of that purpose.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 7. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of such Certificates of Indebtedness and the performance of the other acts, powers and procedures authorized hereby, without reference to any other laws or any restrictions, procedures or limitations on borrowing or contracting contained therein, including the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as amended (Article 2368a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except as may be specifically required herein, and when any obligations are being issued or any act or contract is undertaken or made under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provisions of any other law otherwise applicable to such city or town, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control.

Severability

Sec. 8. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Art. 1269j-4.5. Civic Center Authority Act

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the "Civic Center Authority Act."

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this Act, unless the context requires a different definition:

- (1) "County" means any county in the state.
- (2) "Judge" or "county judge" means the county judge of a county.
- (3) "Authority" means a civic center authority created under this Act.
- (4) "Board" or "board of directors" means the board of directors of an authority.
- (5) "Bond resolution" means the resolution authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds.
- (6) "Person" means any individual, public agency as defined in this Act, public or private corporation, copartnership, association, firm, trust, estate, or any other entity.
- (7) "Public agency" means a city, as defined in this Act, the United States, this state, or a political subdivision or governmental agency of the United States or of this state.
- (8) "City" means an incorporated city, town, or village, whether operating under general law or under a home rule charter.
- (9) "Facility" means the improvements and facilities described in Section 21 of this Act, or a designated portion of those improvements and facilities.

SUBCHAPTER B. CREATION OF AUTHORITIES

Creation Authorized

Sec. 3. Civic center authorities without taxing power may be created in accordance with this Act.

Authority a Political Subdivision

Sec. 4. An authority created in accordance with this Act is a body politic and corporate and is a political subdivision of the state.

Composition of Authority

Sec. 5. An authority may include the area of any county or portion thereof, including cities and other public agencies, and the area comprising an authority need not be in one body, but may consist of separate bodies of land separated by land not included in the boundaries of the authority.

Petition Required

Sec. 6. (a) When it is proposed to create an authority, a petition requesting creation shall be filed with the county judge of the county in which such authority is proposed to be created. The petition shall be signed by a majority of the members of each of the governing bodies of two or more cities. Such petition shall describe the boundaries of the proposed authority by metes and bounds or by lot and block number, if there is a recorded map or plat and survey of such area, or by natural or artificial boundaries or survey lines. If the area of the authority is to be composed entirely of cities, it shall be sufficient if the petition recites that fact and specifies the cities to be included. Such petition shall contain the names of those persons recommended for the authority's first board of directors, the number of said directors shall be an odd number, but not less than five nor more than eleven. Such petition shall state the desirability of or the need for the creation of the authority and shall include the name of the authority which shall be generally descriptive of the locale of the authority followed by the words "Civic Center Authority." A copy of such petition shall be recorded in the deed records of the county in which the authority is located, and no other authority in the same county shall have the same name.

(b) The petition shall be accompanied by a deposit of $200 to cover the cost of publishing notice of the hearing hereinafter mentioned. If all of such moneys are not required for such purpose, the excess shall be returned to the petitioners.

Hearing

Sec. 7. (a) Upon the filing of a petition with the county judge, said judge shall fix a date, time and place at which the petition shall be heard by him, such date to be not more than 20 days from the date of such filing of the petition. The county judge shall issue notice of the date, time, and place of hearing, and the notice shall inform all persons of their right to appear and contest the form and allegations of the petition and the desirability of or need for the creation of the authority.

(b) Notice of the hearing shall be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the county in which the authority is located at least one time, the date of publication to be at least 10 days prior to the date fixed for the hearing.

(c) The county judge shall examine the petition to ascertain the sufficiency thereof, and any person interested may appear before him in person or by attorney and offer testimony touching the sufficiency of the petition and whether the creation of the authority is desirable or necessary. The county judge shall have jurisdiction to determine all issues raised touching the sufficiency of the petition and creation of the authority. The hearing may be adjourned from day to day, and the county judge shall have the power to make all incidental orders in respect to the matters before him.

(d) If, upon the hearing of the petition, the county judge finds that it conforms to the requirements of Section 6 of this Act and that the creation of the authority is desirable or necessary, the county judge shall so declare by his order and grant the petition. If he finds that such authority is neither desirable nor necessary, he shall refuse to grant the petition.

(e) Any person who signed the petition or any person who did actually appear and protest the petition and offer testimony for or against the creation of the authority may appeal to an appropriate district court from the order of the judge, granting or refusing the petition, within 30 days after the entry of such order.

SUBCHAPTER C. ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

Board of Directors

Sec. 8. An authority shall be governed by a board of not less than five nor more than eleven directors, as provided in Section 6 of this Act.

Qualifications of Directors

Sec. 9. To be qualified to serve as a director of an authority a person shall be 21 or more years of age, a resident citizen of the State of Texas and must reside within the boundaries of the authority.

Term of Office

Sec. 10. The term of office of the first board of directors shall be two years from the date the authority is created and until their successors are appointed and qualified. Thereafter, at two-year intervals the members of such boards of directors shall be appointed by the county judge upon the advice and consent of, and only from among those persons recommended by, all of the respective cities included within the boundaries of the authority and contracting with the authority under the terms of this Act. Such directors shall serve for a term of two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified.

Vacancies

Sec. 11. A vacancy in the office of a director or any office on the board shall be filled by appointment by the board of directors for the unexpired term. If at any time the number of qualified directors shall be less than a majority of the board because of the failure or refusal of one or more directors to qualify to serve, or because of his or their death or incapacitation, or for any other reason, then the county judge shall, upon the petition of any resident of the authority, appoint the necessary number of directors to fill all vacancies on the board.

Organization of Board; Election of Officers

Sec. 12. After the directors have qualified by making the proper bond and taking the proper oath, they shall organize by electing a president, a vice president, a secretary, and such other officers as in the judgment of the board are deemed necessary. The authority's treasurer may be a director of a state or national bank. The treasurer shall give bond in such amount as may be required by the board, conditioned that he or it will faithfully account for all moneys which shall come into his or its custody as treasurer of the authority.

Quorum

Sec. 13. A majority of the directors appointed shall constitute a quorum and a concurrence of such majority shall be sufficient in all matters pertaining to the business of the authority. The president shall preside at all meetings of the board and shall be the chief executive officer of the authority. The vice president shall act as president in case of the absence or disability of the president. The secretary shall act as president if both the president and vice president are absent or disabled. The secretary shall act as secretary of the board and shall be charged with the duty of seeing that all records and books of the authority are properly kept. The board may appoint another director, the general manager or any employee as assistant or deputy secretary to assist the secretary and any such person shall be entitled to certify as to the authenticity of any record of the authority.

Bylaws

Sec. 14. The board is empowered to adopt bylaws to govern:

- (1) the time, place, and manner of conducting its meetings;
- (2) the powers, duties, and responsibilities of its officers and employees;
- (3) the disbursement of funds by checks, drafts, and warrants;
- (4) the appointment and authority of director committees; and
- (5) the keeping of records and accounts and such other matters as the board deems appropriate.

Meetings and Notice

Sec. 15. The board shall establish regular meetings to conduct authority business and may hold special meetings at such other times as the business of the authority requires. The board shall hold its meetings at one of its designated meeting places. Notice of the time, place and purpose of any meeting of the board shall be given by posting at a place convenient to the public within the boundaries of the authority. A copy of the notice shall be furnished to the clerk of the county in which the authority is located who shall post the same on a bulletin board in the county courthouse or sub-courthouse used for such purpose. The notice of the meeting shall be posted for at least three days prior to a meeting, unless there is an emergency or urgent public necessity, which shall be expressed in the notice. Failure to post notice as required herein shall not affect the validity of any action taken at a regular meeting of the board but shall affect the validity of action taken at a special meeting unless the board declares in action taken at that special meeting that an emergency existed. Any interested person may attend any meeting of the board.

Authority Office and Meeting Place

Sec. 16. The board of directors shall designate, establish and maintain an authority office and meeting place within the authority. The board may also establish a meeting place outside the authority. If the board establishes a meeting place outside the authority, it shall give notice of the location thereof by filing a true copy of its order establishing the location of the authority office with the county clerk and also by publishing the location in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the authority is located. If the location of the meeting place outside the authority is thereafter changed, notice of the change shall be given in the same manner.

Fees of Office

Sec. 17. The directors may receive as fees of office the sum of not to exceed $25 per day for each day of service necessary to discharge their duties, but such fees shall not exceed the sum of $100 in any one month regardless of the number of days of necessary service during that month.

General Manager

Sec. 18. A director may be employed as general manager of the authority at such compensation as may be fixed by the other directors, and, when so employed, he shall continue to perform the duties of a director. If the general manager is not a director, he shall furnish a fidelity bond payable to the authority in the amount of $5,000 conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties.

Bond and Oath of Office

Sec. 19. As soon as practicable after a director is appointed, he shall give a bond for $5,000 payable to the authority and conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. Each director shall take the oath of office prescribed for the commissioners court, except that the name of the authority shall be substituted for the county. The bond and oath shall be filed with the authority and retained in its records.

Qualification of Directors

Sec. 20. After an authority has been created by the granting of a petition therefor, the first members of the board of directors shall make their bonds and take the oath of office and thereafter shall meet and organize. Said bonds of the first board of directors shall be approved by the county judge. The bonds for subsequent directors shall be approved by the board of directors of the authority.

SUBCHAPTER D. POWERS AND DUTIESGeneral Powers

Sec. 21. Any authority created under this Act is authorized to establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate or maintain (any or all) public improvements such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, opera houses, music halls, exhibition halls, coliseums, museums, libraries, recreational buildings or facilities, or other public buildings and related facilities (either or all), and to establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate or maintain (any or all) structures, parking areas, or facilities, located at or in the immediate vicinity of such public improvements, to be used in connection with such public improvements for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances. Any such lease may be on such terms and conditions as the board of directors of said authority shall deem appropriate as in this Act provided.

Addition of Cities

Sec. 22. A city may be added to and become a part of an authority upon filing a petition to that effect with an authority's board of directors. Such petition must be signed by a majority of the members of the governing body of such city. If the authority's board determines such addition to the authority is desirable or necessary, such board shall so find and enter its order adding such city to such authority, and a copy of same shall be recorded in the county deed records. Such an added city, however, shall not have any authority or power with respect to recommending or appointing members to the authority's board of directors unless and until it becomes a contracting city as mentioned in Section 10 of this Act.

Management of District

Sec. 23. The board shall have control over and management of all of the affairs of the authority and shall employ persons, firms, partnerships, or corporations deemed necessary by the board for the conduct of the affairs of said authority, including, but not limited to, engineers, attorneys, financial advisors, a general manager, bookkeepers, auditors, and secretaries. The board of directors shall determine the term of office and compensation of all employees. All employees may be removed by the board. The board of directors may require a bond of any employee payable to the authority and conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties.

Supplies

Sec. 24. The board shall also have the right to purchase all materials, supplies, equipment, vehicles, and machinery needed by the authority.

Seal

Sec. 25. The directors shall adopt a seal for the authority.

Destruction of Records

Sec. 26. All original minutes and orders of the board, all construction contracts and all instruments relating thereto, all bonds of the authority's board of directors, and all bonds of the authority's officers and employees shall be kept in a safe place and maintained as permanent records of said authority. No minutes or orders or resolutions of the board of directors shall be destroyed. All records necessary for the authority's annual audits and necessary to comply with the term of its bond resolutions shall be retained for at least one full year after the expiration of the next preceding fiscal year. Authority contracts other than construction contracts and records relating thereto shall be retained for at least four years after the performance thereof. Except for the foregoing, an authority's records may be destroyed when the board determines that they are no longer needed or useful. As to any authority records destroyed, the board of directors shall designate the person or persons to destroy same and the manner of such destruction. If the board deems it advisable it may cause any instruments to be first inventoried or microfilmed before they are destroyed.

Director Interested in Contract

Sec. 27. A director who is financially interested in any contract with the authority shall disclose that fact to the other directors and may not vote on the acceptance of the contract or participate in the discussion on the contract. The failure of a director to disclose his financial interest shall invalidate the contract.

Suits

Sec. 28. All authorities created under the provisions hereof shall be governmental agencies and bodies politic and corporate, and may, through their directors, sue and be sued in any and all courts of this state in the name of such authority. Service of process in any suit may be had by serving any three directors. All courts of this state shall take judicial knowledge of the establishment of such authorities.

Contracts in Name of Authority

Sec. 29. Authority shall contract and be contracted with in the name of said authority.

Fees and Charges

Sec. 30. An authority shall have the power to adopt, promulgate, and enforce all necessary charges, fees or rentals for providing any authority facilities or services.

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 31. An authority may adopt and enforce reasonable rules and regulations as to any or all of its facilities.

Acquisition of Land

Sec. 32. An authority is empowered to acquire lands, materials, easements, rights-of-way, and everything deemed necessary, incidental, or helpful for the purpose of accomplishing any one or more of the purposes provided in Section 21 of this Act. An authority shall have the right to acquire all such property by gift, grant, purchase, or condemnation, and the right to acquire property shall include property deemed necessary for the construction, improvement, extension, enlargement, operation, or maintenance of its facilities. An authority may acquire either the fee simple title to, or an easement upon, all lands, both public and private, either within or beyond its boundaries and may acquire the title to, or an easement upon, property other than lands held in fee. An authority may also lease property upon such terms and conditions as the board of directors may determine advantageous to the authority.

Eminent Domain

Sec. 33. An authority may acquire any lands, easements, or other property within its boundaries by condemnation, and in case of a condemnation, the authority may elect to condemn either the fee simple title, or an easement only. The right of eminent domain shall be exercised in the manner provided in Title 52, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 3264, et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except that an authority shall not be required to give bond for appeal or bond for costs in any condemnation suit or other suit to which it is a party and shall not be required to deposit double the amount of any award in any such suit. Such proceedings shall be instituted under the direction of the directors and in the name of the authority.

Costs of Relocation of Property

Sec. 34. In the event that the authority, in the exercise of the power of eminent domain or power of relocation, or any other power, makes necessary the relocation, raising, rerouting or changing the grade of, or altering the construction of, any highway, railroad, electric transmission line, telephone or telegraph properties and facilities, or pipeline, all such necessary relocations, raising, rerouting, changing of grade, or alteration of construction shall be accomplished at the sole expense of the authority. The term "sole expense" shall mean the actual cost of such relocation, raising, rerouting, or changing grade, or alteration of construction and providing comparable replacement without enhancing such facilities after deducting therefrom the net salvage value derived from the old facility.

Sale of Surplus Land

Sec. 35. Any property or land owned by the authority which may be found to be surplus and not needed by the authority may be sold under order of the directors of the authority either by public or private sale or such property may be exchanged for other property.

Leases

Sec. 36. An authority may lease to or from any person, all or any part of any facilities constructed or acquired or to be constructed or acquired by it. The lease may contain the terms and provisions which the board determines to be advantageous to the authority. The term of any lease shall not exceed 40 years from the date thereof.

Contracts

Sec. 37. An authority shall have authority to contract with a public agency for furnishing or making available all or a part of the authority's facilities or services and for the joint ownership and operation of any improvements, facilities, and equipment necessary to accomplish any purpose or function permitted by an authority. An authority may enter into contracts with any person in the performance of any purpose or function permitted by an authority, such contracts not to exceed 40 years' duration and to be on such terms and conditions as the board of directors may deem desirable, fair and advantageous.

Contracts Over $10,000

Sec. 38. (a) The board shall advertise a contract for more than $10,000 for the purchase of materials and all things to constitute the facilities of the authority or for construction as specified in Subsections (b) through (d) of this section.

(b) The board shall advertise the letting of a contract, including the general conditions, time, and place of opening of sealed bids. The notice shall be published in one or more newspapers published in the county. The notice shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks prior to the date that the bids are opened, and the first publication shall be at least 14 days before the opening of sealed bids.

(c) A contract may cover all the facilities to be provided by the authority, or the various elements of the facilities may be segregated for the purpose of receiving bids and awarding contracts. A contract may provide that the facilities will be constructed in stages over a period of years.

(d) A contract may provide for the payment of a total sum which is the completed cost of the facilities or may be based on bids to cover cost of units of the various elements entering into the work as estimated and approximately specified by the authority's architects or engineers or a contract may be let and awarded in any other form or composite of forms and to any responsible person or persons which, in the board's judgment, will be most advantageous to the authority and result in the best and most economical completion of the authority's proposed facilities.

Additional Work; Change Orders

Sec. 39. After a contract has been awarded and the authority determines that additional work is needed or that the character or type of work or facilities should be changed, the board may authorize change orders to such contract provided same does not increase the total cost of the contract by more than 25 percent.

Construction Bids

Sec. 40. (a) A person who desires to bid on proposed construction work shall submit to the board a written sealed bid together with a certified or cashier's check on a responsible bank in the state or a bidder's bond for at least two percent of the total amount of the bid.

(b) Bids shall be opened at the same time, and the board may reject any or all of the bids.

(c) If the successful bidder fails or refuses to enter into a proper contract with the authority or fails or refuses to furnish the bond required by law, he shall forfeit the amount of the check or bond which accompanied his bid.

Executing and Recording Construction Contract

Sec. 41. (a) Contracts for construction work shall be in writing and signed by the board and the contractor.

(b) The contract shall be kept in the authority's records and be available for public inspection.

Contractor's Bond

Sec. 42. Any person, firm, partnership, or corporation to whom a contract is let must give good and sufficient performance and payment bonds in accordance with Article 5160, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

Repayment of Organizational Expenses

Sec. 43. The authority's directors are authorized to pay all costs and expenses necessarily incurred in the creation and organization of an authority, the cost of investigation and making plans, engineer's or architect's report, and other incidental expenses, and to reimburse any person for money advanced for such purposes. Any such payments may be made from money obtained from the sale of bonds first issued by the authority.

Premium on Directors or Employees Bonds

Sec. 44. The board of directors may pay the premium on surety bonds required of officials or employees of the authority out of any available funds of the authority including proceeds from the sale of bonds.

Depository

Sec. 45. The board of directors shall by order or resolution designate one or more banks within or without the authority to serve as the depository for the funds of the authority. All funds of the authority shall be deposited in the depository bank or banks unless otherwise required by orders or resolutions authorizing the issuance of the authority's bonds. To the extent that funds in the depository bank or banks are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, they shall be secured in the manner provided by law for the security of funds of counties of the State of Texas.

Investments

Sec. 46. Funds of the authority may be invested and reinvested by the board of directors in direct or indirect obligations of the United States of America or any agency thereof, of the State of Texas or of any county, city, school district, or other political subdivision of the State of Texas. Funds of the authority may be placed in certificates of deposit of state or national banks or savings and loan associations within the State of Texas provided that the same are secured in the manner provided for the security of the funds of counties of the State of Texas.

Accounts and Records; Audits

Sec. 47. A complete system of accounts shall be kept by the authority and an audit of its affairs for each year shall be prepared by an independent certified public accountant or a firm of independent certified public accountants. The fiscal year of the authority shall be from January 1 to December 31, unless and until changed by the board of directors. A signed copy of the audit report shall be delivered to each member of the board of directors not later than 120 days after the close of each fiscal year. A copy of the audit shall be kept on file at the authority office and shall constitute a public record open for inspection by any interested person or persons during normal office hours.

SUBCHAPTER E. REVENUE BONDS

Issuance of Bonds

Sec. 48. The authority is authorized to issue its revenue bonds for all or any of the purposes set forth in this Act. Said bonds may be issued when duly authorized by a resolution adopted by the board and shall be secured by a pledge of and be payable from all or any designated part of the authority's revenues from its facilities or whatever source derived, including but not limited to the proceeds of contracts and leases. Said bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not more than 40 years from their date or dates, and shall bear interest at any rate or rates permitted by the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas, all as shall be determined by the board. Said bonds and interest coupons, if any, appertaining thereto, shall be investment securities under the terms of Chapter 8 of the Business & Commerce Code and may be issued registrable as to principal or as to both principal and interest and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, at the option of the board, or they may contain a mandatory redemption provision all as may be provided by said board. Such bonds may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner and under such terms, conditions and details, and shall be signed and executed, as provided by the board in the resolution authorizing their issuance.

Additional Security for Bonds

Sec. 49. The bonds, within the discretion of the board, may be additionally secured by a deed of trust or mortgage lien upon part or all of the physical properties of the authority, and franchises, easements, leases, and contracts and all rights appurtenant to such properties, vesting in the trustee power to sell such properties for payment of the bonds or interest thereon, power to operate the properties and all other powers and authority for the further security for the bonds. Such trust indenture, regardless of the existence of the deed of trust or mortgage lien on the properties, may contain provisions prescribed by the board for the security of the bonds and as preservation of the trust estate, and may make provisions for amendment or modification thereof, and may condition the right to expend authority money or sell authority property upon approval of a registered professional engineer or architect selected as provided therein and may make provisions for investment of funds of the authority. Any purchaser under a sale under the deed of trust or mortgage lien, where one is given, shall be absolute owner of the properties, facilities and rights so purchased and shall have the right to maintain and operate same.

Provisions of Bonds

Sec. 50. In the resolutions authorizing the issuance of bonds as provided in this Act (including refunding bonds) the board may provide for the flow of funds, the establishment and maintenance of the interest and sinking fund or funds, the reserve fund or funds, and other funds, and may make additional covenants with respect to the bonds and the pledged revenues and the operation and maintenance of those facilities (the revenues of which are pledged), including provisions for the operation or for the leasing of all or any part of said facilities and the use or pledge of moneys derived from such operation, contracts and leases, as such board may deem appropriate. The resolutions of the board authorizing the issuance of bonds may be also prohibit the further issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from the pledged revenues or may reserve the right to issue additional bonds to be secured by a pledge of and payable from said revenues on a parity with, or subordinate to, the lien and pledge in support of the bonds being issued, subject to such conditions as are set forth in such resolutions. The resolutions of the board issuing bonds may contain other provisions and covenants, as the authority's board may determine, not prohibited by the Texas Constitution or by this Act, and said board may adopt and cause to be executed any other proceedings or instruments necessary and/or convenient in the issuance of any authority bonds.

Use of Bond Proceeds

Sec. 51. From the proceeds of sale of any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, the board may appropriate or set aside an amount for the payment of interest and administrative and operating expenses expected to accrue during the period of construction, as may be provided in the bond resolutions, and an amount necessary to pay all expenses incurred and to be incurred in the issuance, sale, and delivery of the bonds.

Sale of Bonds

Sec. 52. After the issuance of said bonds, the board shall sell the bonds on the best terms and for the best possible price.

Approval by Attorney General; Registration by Comptroller

Sec. 53. All bonds issued by an authority shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for examination. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized in accordance with law he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. After the approval and registration of bonds by the comptroller, they shall be incontestable in any court or other forum, for any reason, and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes. If said bonds recite that they are secured partially or otherwise by a pledge of the proceeds of a contract or contracts or a lease or leases made between the authority and another party or parties (public agencies, cities, or otherwise), a copy of each such contract or lease and of the proceedings authorizing same may or may not be submitted to the attorney general along with the bond records, and, if so submitted, then the approval by the attorney general of the bonds shall constitute an approval of such contract or lease, and thereafter such contract or lease shall be incontestable.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 54. (a) By resolutions adopted by its board, an authority shall have the power and authority to issue bonds to refund all or any part of its outstanding bonds, including matured but unpaid interest coupons. Refunding bonds shall mature serially or otherwise not more than 40 years from their date and shall bear interest at any rate or rates permitted by the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas. Refunding bonds may be payable from the same source as the bonds being refunded or from other additional sources, shall be approved by the attorney general as in the case of original bonds, and shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts upon the surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded, but in lieu thereof, the resolutions authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited in the place or places where the underlying bonds are payable, in which case the refunding bonds may be issued before the cancellation of the bonds being refunded provided an amount sufficient to pay the interest and principal on the underlying bonds to their maturity dates, or to their option dates if said bonds have been duly called for payment prior to maturity according to their terms, has been so deposited in the place or places where said underlying bonds are payable, and the comptroller of public accounts shall register them without the surrender and cancellation of the underlying bonds. The refunding may be accomplished in one or several installment deliveries. Refunding bonds, and the interest coupons appurtenant thereto, shall be investment securities under the provisions of Chapter 8 of the Business & Commerce Code¹ and shall be issued as provided in this Act.

(b) In lieu of the method set forth in Subsection (a) of this section, an authority may refund its bonds as provided by the general laws of the State of Texas.

Bonds Legal Investments; Security for Funds

Sec. 55. All bonds issued by the authority shall be legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, and trustees, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the State of Texas, and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities thereof, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. Authority bonds also shall be eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the State of Texas, and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities thereof, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of said bonds, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Paid Bonds or Coupons

Sec. 56. All authority bonds and interest coupons, or notes and warrants when paid, shall be delivered to the authority or destroyed and evidence of such destruction furnished the board.

Art. 1269j-4.6. Contracts with Civic Center Authorities

Applicability of Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any incorporated city, town, or village (hereinafter "city") of the State of Texas, whether operating under the general laws or under a home-rule charter.

Contracts Authorized; Purposes

Sec. 2. A city, pursuant to approval by a majority of its governing body, is hereby authorized to enter into a contract or contracts with a civic center authority under which the authority, for the benefit of the contracting city or contracting cities, may establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) public improvements within or without the boundaries of such city such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, opera houses, music halls, exhibition halls, coliseums, museums, libraries, or other public buildings and related facilities (either or all), and may establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) structures, parking areas, or facilities, located at or in the immediate vicinity of such public improvements, to be used in connection with such public improvements for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances, as may be authorized to the authority by the laws of this state (hereinafter "facilities"), and under which the authority may furnish all or any part of its authorized services and facilities within or without the boundaries of such city to the contracting city or cities. Such contract may be upon such terms and conditions as the city may deem desirable, fair and advantageous, such contract not to exceed 40 years' duration.

Payments by City to Authority; Sources

Sec. 3. Payments by a city to an authority shall be made, as prescribed in the contract between the city and the authority, from any available funds, including, without limitation of the above, ad valorem taxes; provided, however, that if a city wishes to pledge ad valorem taxes as part or all of the required payments under the contract with an authority, it must follow the alternative procedure prescribed in Section 4. Unless the alternative procedure prescribed in Section 4 is followed, neither an authority nor the holder of any bonds of the authority shall have the right to demand payment of the city's obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation. If the alternative procedure prescribed in Section 4 is followed, payments under the contract may be payable from and constitute solely an obligation against the taxing powers of the city or may be payable both from taxes and from such funds and revenues as may be prescribed in the contract.

Election by City; Authority to Levy and Collect Ad Valorem Tax; Contracts as Obligations against Taxing Power; Qualified Electors

Sec. 4. (a) If an election is held, substantially according to applicable procedure prescribed in Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ in reference to the issuance of bonds by cities, by a city and carried, determining that the governing body of the city is authorized to levy and collect an ad valorem tax to pay all or a portion of the payments to be made by the city under a contract to be entered into by and between the city and an authority, the contract, in such event, will constitute an obligation against the taxing power of the city to the extent therein provided. After such election and at or prior to the time such city enters into such contract it shall, in accordance with the Texas Constitution, make provision for assessing and collecting annually a sufficient sum to pay such contract and creating a sinking fund of at least two percent thereon. No election is required for the exercise of any power conferred by this Act except for the levy of such tax.

(b) Only electors of the city who are qualified to vote at such elections under the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas and the Constitution of the United States shall be entitled to vote at such elections.

Authority of this Act

Sec. 5. If there be any conflict or inconsistency between this Act and the general laws of the State of Texas and/or any provision of a home-rule charter of a contracting city, the provisions of this Act shall control.

Art. 1269j-4.7. Certificates of Indebtedness Authorized for New Community Plan Adopted by City or Town Under Federal Act

Authorization

Sec. 1. Any city or town, which has by duly adopted resolution, order or ordinance approved or approved in principle a New Community plan in connection with a New Community Development project under the Urban Growth and New Community Development Act of 1970, enacted by the United States Congress as Title VII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1970, Public Law 91-609,¹ is hereby authorized to issue Certificates of Indebtedness for the purposes of acquiring, purchasing, constructing, repairing, renovating, improving and/or equipping any public projects or public facilities of any type, including but not excluding others, parks, streets, drainage facilities, water supply and distribution facilities, sewage and waste collection, disposal and treatment facilities, plants and properties, and for the purpose of planning, developing, engineering and financing such public projects and the payment for professional services incident thereto and in connection therewith.

Issuance; Ordinance; Terms and Conditions; Interest; Pledge of Revenues; Levy of Taxes

Sec. 2. The Certificates of Indebtedness authorized by this Act may be issued when authorized by ordinance adopted by the governing body of any such city or town and may mature serially or otherwise and may be issued upon such other terms and conditions as may be contained and specified in any such ordinance, including but not limited to provisions as to interest rate or rates, registration and redemption privileges, and any manner and method of sale, or as to exchange for goods, property or services, and for the delivery thereof. Said Certificates of Indebtedness may be issued in amount sufficient to provide for escrowed interest during such periods, not exceeding three years as such ordinance may direct, and/or may provide for deferred interest payments for such period as may be agreed upon with the purchaser thereof; and the same may be secured by and made payable from taxes or revenues by utility system or systems of the issuer, or both; provided that, in the issuance of any such obligations payable from taxes, the issuer shall comply with the provisions of the Texas Constitution requiring in such cases that sufficient taxes to pay the principal thereof and interest thereon when due be duly and properly levied.

Investment Securities; Incontestability

Sec. 3. Any Certificates of Indebtedness issued under authority of this Act shall constitute "Investment Securities" under Chapter 8 of the Texas Uniform Commercial Code,¹ and may be issued in such form and denominations and under such other terms, conditions and details, and may be executed, all as provided in the proceedings authorizing the same; and all Certificates of Indebtedness which shall recite that they have been issued under authority of this Act for the purposes herein authorized shall be incontestable for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms and for all purposes.

¹ Business and Commerce Code, § 8.101 et seq.

Refunding Bonds; Security

Sec. 4. The Certificates of Indebtedness authorized by this Act may be wholly or partially refunded into bonds in any manner and upon such terms as now permitted by law with respect to the refunding of other indebtedness or obligations of any such city or town, including Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, 1969 (Article 717k-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), which refunding bonds may be secured by taxes and/or any revenues of any utility system and/or in any other manner permitted by said acts, irrespective of the purposes for which such Certificates of Indebtedness were issued or the manner in, or source from, which they were secured or were payable.

Legal Investments and Security for Deposits

Sec. 5. All Certificates of Indebtedness issued under this Act shall be legal and authorized investments for all banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies of all kinds and types, and for the interest and sinking funds and other public funds of any city, county or other political subdivision of this State. Said obligations also shall be eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of any city, county or other political subdivision or public agency.

Cumulative and Prevailing Effect

Sec. 6. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of such Certificates of Indebtedness and the performance of the other acts, powers and procedures or limitations on borrowing contained therein, except as may be specifically required herein, and when any obligations are being issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provisions of any other law otherwise applicable to such city or town, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control.

Severability

Sec. 7. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Art. 1269j-4.8. Off-Street Parking Facilities, Terminals, and Stations; Revenue Bonds; Cities Over 650,000

Application

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any city with a population of more than 650,000 according to the last preceding federal census.

General Authority

Sec. 2. A city subject to this Act may acquire, lease as lessor or lessee, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, and operate off-street parking facilities, and may acquire, lease as lessor or lessee, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, and operate terminals, stations, and related properties and facilities for the use of passengers, commuters, travelers, shippers, and other members of the public and by companies or individuals engaged in the business of transporting the general public, goods, cargo, parcels, mail, commodities, or freight by bus, truck, or rail.

Issuance of Revenue Bonds

Sec. 3. For any purpose authorized under Section 2 of this Act, the governing body of the city may issue revenue bonds from time to time in one or more series to be payable from and secured by liens on all or part of the revenue derived from a facility authorized under this Act.

Terms and Conditions of Bonds

Sec. 4. (a) The bonds may be issued to mature serially or otherwise within not to exceed 40 years from their date, and provision may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under any terms or conditions that may be set forth in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(b) The bonds, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto, are negotiable instruments within the meaning and for all purposes of the Texas Uniform Commercial Code. The bonds may be issued registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest, and shall be executed, and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, and may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions, and details, and may be sold in such manner, at such price, and under such terms, and said bonds shall bear interest at such rates, all as shall be determined and provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(c) If so provided in the bond ordinance the proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used for paying interest on the bonds during and after the period of the acquisition or construction of any facilities to be provided through the issuance of the bonds, for paying expenses of operation and maintenance of facilities authorized under this Act, for creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and for creating any other funds. The proceeds of the bonds may be placed on time deposit or invested, until needed, all to the extent, and in the manner provided, in the bond ordinance.

Rentals, Rates, and Charges; Contracts and Leases; Development

Sec. 5. (a) Each eligible city shall be authorized to fix and collect fees, rentals, rates, and charges for the occupancy, use, or availability of all or any of its property, buildings, structures, or other facilities described in Section 2 of this Act in such amounts and in such manner as may be determined by the governing body of the city.

(b) The city may contract with any public or private entity for the performance of any function related to the facilities described in Section 2 of this Act, and may, as lessor, lease any of such properties or facilities to any public or private entity upon such terms, for such rentals, revenues and payments, and for such period or periods of years as shall be approved by the governing body of the city.

(c) Any of the properties and facilities described in Section 2 of this Act may be developed in conjunction with other public or private developments pursuant to agreements with the owners thereof upon such terms as may be approved by the city. The city may negotiate and include as a part of any such agreement such provisions as it may deem appropriate providing for the use, lease, or sale of any part of the subsurface, or airspace above the surface, of the city's property as the city may find to be surplus and not necessary for the purposes of such properties and facilities.

Pledges

Sec. 6. (a) The city may pledge all or any part of the revenues, income, or receipts from such fees, rentals, rates, and charges to the payment of the bonds, including the payment of principal, interest, and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds. The pledged fees, rentals, rates, and charges, shall be fixed and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest, and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds, and, to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds, to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds, and for the payment of operation, maintenance, and other expenses in connection with the facilities authorized under this Act.

(b) The bonds may be additionally secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on any real property relating to the facilities authorized under this Act owned or to be acquired by the city, and by chattel mortgages, liens, or security interests on any personal property appurtenant to that real property. The governing body of the city may authorize the execution of trust indentures, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other forms of encumbrances to evidence the indebtedness.

(c) The city may also pledge to the payment of the bonds all or any part of any grant, donation, revenues, or income received or to be received from the United States government or any other public or private source, whether pursuant to an agreement or otherwise.

(d) The city may create an off-street parking system by combining one or more parking facilities provided pursuant to this Act with one or more parking facilities previously owned by the city or hereafter acquired pursuant to any law or provision authorizing the ownership and operation of such parking facilities apart from this Act, whether or not such previously owned or hereafter acquired facility is operated in connection with any other city-owned facility.

(e) Any city which proposes to create an off-street parking system pursuant to this Act may issue bonds for the purposes of creating, extending, or improving the system to the same extent otherwise provided herein for bonds issued for a single parking facility hereunder, and the city may pledge to the payment of such bonds all or any part of the revenues, income, or receipts derived from the ownership and operation of any or all of the facilities comprising a part of the system upon such terms as the city shall deem appropriate. Additionally, the city may pledge to the payment of such bonds all or any part of the revenues derived by the city from parking meters on or adjacent to the public streets of the city.

Public Purpose

Sec. 7. The acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, equipment, operation, and maintenance by a city of any property, buildings, structures, or other facilities described in Section 2 of this Act, whether on land already owned by the city or hereafter acquired, is a public purpose and a proper municipal function.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 8. (a) Any bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be refunded or otherwise refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for that purpose, under any terms or conditions, as are determined by ordinance of the governing body of the city. All appropriate provisions of this Act are applicable to refunding bonds, and the refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds. The refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts necessary to pay the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of bonds to be refunded, at maturity or on any redemption date.

(b) The refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds being refunded by them. In that case, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds. The exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(c) Bonds issued at any time by a city under this Act also may be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable law.

Approval and Registration of Bonds

Sec. 9. All bonds issued under this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If the bonds recite that they are secured by a pledge of revenues or rentals from a contract or lease, a copy of the contract or lease and the proceedings relating to it shall be submitted to the attorney general also. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized and any contract or lease has been made in accordance with law, he shall approve the bonds and the contract or lease, and thereupon the bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After approval and registration the bonds and any contract or lease relating to them are incontestable in any court, or other forum, for any reason, and are valid and binding obligations for all purposes in accordance with their terms.

Authorized Investments and Security for Deposits

Sec. 10. All bonds issued under this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trusts companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. The bonds also are eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of it, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of the bonds, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 11. This Act is cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized by it without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided. When any bonds are issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control. A city shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Severability

Sec. 12. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Art. 1269j-4.9. Farmers' Markets; Revenue Bonds; Cities Over 650,000

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, "farmers' market" means a public marketplace at which persons are permitted to sell agricultural and other products.

Application

Sec. 2. This Act applies to any city with a population of more than 650,000 according to the last preceding federal census.

General Authority

Sec. 3. A city subject to this Act may acquire, lease as lessor or lessee, construct, improve, enlarge, and operate a farmers' market. The city may contract with any public or private entity for the performance of any function authorized under this section.

Issuance of Revenue Bonds

Sec. 4. For any purpose authorized under Section 3 of this Act, the governing body of the city may issue revenue bonds from time to time in one or more series to be payable from and secured by liens on all or part of the revenue derived from a facility authorized under this Act.

Terms and Conditions of Bonds

Sec. 5. (a) The bonds may be issued to mature serially or otherwise within not to exceed 40 years from their date, and provision may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under any terms or conditions that may be set forth in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(b) The bonds, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto, are negotiable instruments within the meaning and for all purposes of the Texas Uniform Commercial Code. The bonds may be issued registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest, and shall be executed, and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, and may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions, and details, and may be sold in such manner, at such price, and under such terms, and said bonds shall bear interest at such rates, all as shall be determined and provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(c) If so provided in the bond ordinance the proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used for paying interest on the bonds during and after the period of the acquisition or construction of any facilities to be provided through the issuance of the bonds, for paying expenses of operation and maintenance of facilities authorized under this Act, for creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and for creating any other funds. The proceeds of the bonds may be placed on time deposit or invested, until needed, all to the extent, and in the manner provided, in the bond ordinance.

Rentals, Rates, and Charges

Sec. 6. Each eligible city shall be authorized to fix and collect fees, rentals, rates, and charges for the occupancy, use, or availability of all or any of its property, buildings, structures, or other facilities authorized under this Act in such amounts and in such manner as may be determined by the governing body of the city.

Pledges

Sec. 7. (a) The city may pledge all or any part of the revenues, income, or receipts from such fees, rentals, rates, and charges to the payment of the bonds, including the payment of principal, interest, and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds. The pledged fees, rentals, rates, and charges, shall be fixed and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest, and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds, and, to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds, to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds, and for the payment of operation, maintenance, and other expenses in connection with the facilities authorized under this Act.

(b) The bonds may be additionally secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on any real property relating to the facilities authorized under this Act owned or to be acquired by the city, and by chattel mortgages, liens, or security interests on any personal property appurtenant to that real property. The governing body of the city may authorize the execution of trust indentures, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other forms of encumbrances to evidence the indebtedness.

(c) The city may also pledge to the payment of the bonds all or any part of any grant, donation, revenues, or income received or to be received from the United States government or any other public or private source, whether pursuant to an agreement or otherwise.

Public Purpose

Sec. 8. The acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, equipment, operation, and maintenance by a city of any property, buildings, structures, or other facilities for providing a farmers' market is a public purpose and a proper municipal function.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 9. (a) Any bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be refunded or otherwise refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for that purpose, under any terms or conditions, as are determined by ordinance of the governing body of the city. All appropriate provisions of this Act are applicable to refunding bonds, and the refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds. The refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts necessary to pay the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of bonds to be refunded, at maturity or on any redemption date.

(b) The refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds being refunded by them. In that case, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds. The exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(c) Bonds issued at any time by a city under this Act also may be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable law.

Approval and Registration of Bonds

Sec. 10. All bonds issued under this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If the bonds recite that they are secured by a pledge of revenues or rentals from a contract or lease, a copy of the contract or lease and the proceedings relating to it shall be submitted to the attorney general also. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized and any contract or lease has been made in accordance with law, he shall approve the bonds and the contract or lease, and thereupon the bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After approval and registration the bonds and any contract or lease relating to them are incontestable in any court, or other forum, for any reason, and are valid and binding obligations for all purposes in accordance with their terms.

Authorized Investments and Security for Deposits

Sec. 11. All bonds issued under this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. The bonds also are eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of it, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of the bonds, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 12. This Act is cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized by it without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided. When any bonds are issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control. A city shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Severability

Sec. 13. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Art. 1269j-5. Airport Revenue Bonds; Cities with Population Over 70,000

Sec. 1. All cities having a population of more than seventy thousand (70,000) according to the last preceding federal census, may issue revenue bonds for enlarging, or extending, or repairing, or improving its airport, or for any two (2) or more such uses. Included within the meaning of improvements without limiting the generality of the term, is the construction or enlargement of hangars and related buildings for use by tenants or concessionaires of the airport, including persons, firms or corporations rendering repair or other services to air carriers. Such revenue bonds may be issued when duly authorized by an ordinance passed by the governing body of such city. Such revenue bonds shall be secured by a pledge of all, or such part of, the revenues from the operation of the city's airport as may be prescribed in such ordinance. To the extent that the revenues of the airport may have been pledged to the payment of revenue bonds which are still outstanding, the pledge securing the proposed revenue bonds shall be inferior to the previous pledge or pledges. Within the discretion of the governing body of the city and subject to limitations contained in previous pledges, if any, in addition to the pledge of revenues, a lien may be given on all or any part of the physical properties comprising such airport. Included within the authority to pledge revenues and without limiting the generality of such authority is the right to pledge all or any part of the lease consideration to be received by the city for any such hangars or buildings, and within the discretion of the governing body of the city the sole security for such bonds may be the revenues to be received from leasing any one or more of such hangars and buildings, together with or without a lien upon such hangars or buildings and the land on which they are to be situated.

Sec. 2. No money raised or to be raised from taxation shall be used to pay the principal or interest on any revenue or refunding bonds issued under this Act. When any of the revenues of such airport are pledged to the payment of bonds issued under this Act, it shall be the duty of the governing body of the City in reference to the revenues pledged, to cause to be fixed, maintained and enforced charges for services to be rendered by properties and facilities whose revenues have been pledged at rates and amounts sufficient to provide for the expense of maintenance and operation of such properties and facilities and to provide the amounts of money required under such ordinance to pay principal of and interest on the revenue bonds and to provide the reserve funds required by such ordinance.

Sec. 3. The Revenue Bonds shall be sold at a price or prices so that the interest cost of the money received therefor, computed to maturity in accordance with standard bond interest tables, shall not exceed five per-cent (5%) per annum; shall mature serially or otherwise within thirty (30) years from their date; shall be negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Act of the State of Texas; shall not be finally issued until approved by the Attorney General of Texas and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and after such approval shall be incontestable.

Sec. 4. Refunding Bonds bearing an interest rate or interest rates which result in the same or a lower over-all interest cost to City may be either issued in exchange for or to provide funds to repurchase and retire any such revenue bonds.

Sec. 4(a). Bonds issued by any city having a population of one hundred fifty thousand (150,000) or more, according to the last preceding Federal Census, pursuant to the provisions of this law shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations and all insurance companies. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof, or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Art. 1269j-5.1. Airport Revenue Bonds

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to all incorporated cities, including Home Rule Cities.

Sec. 2. (a) Any such city is hereby authorized to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of establishing, improving, enlarging, extending or repairing (any or all) the airport or airports of such city, including the acquisition of land therefor, said bonds to be issued in the manner provided and as authorized by Chapter 43, Acts of the 53rd Legislature of Texas, First Called Session, 1954, as presently or hereafter amended,¹ the bonds issued hereunder to be payable from all or any designated part or parts of the revenues of said airport or airports (including the revenues from any airport or airports then existing or to be thereafter acquired, either or both) as may be provided in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of such bonds; and, except as the same may be inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of said Chapter 43, as presently or hereafter amended, shall apply to revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this Act (the provisions of said Act to govern and take precedence in the event of any such inconsistency or conflict). Without in any way limiting the generality of "establishing, improving, enlarging, extending, or repairing (any or all) the airport or airports of such city, including the acquisition of land therefor," as used above, it is expressly provided that the same shall include, among other things, buildings, improvements, landing fields, and such other facilities and services that the city deems to be necessary, desirable, or convenient to the efficient operation and maintenance of its airport or airports. With respect to the pledge of revenues and income of said airport or airports to the payment of the operation and maintenance expenses and principal of and interest on such bonds, as provided by said Chapter 43, such city shall be authorized to levy and pledge to the payment of such operation and maintenance expenses, either as a supplement to the pledge of revenues for such purpose or in lieu thereof, a continuing, annual ad valorem tax at a rate or rates on each One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) sufficient for such purposes, all as may be provided in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of any revenue bonds pursuant to the provisions of this Act; provided, that such tax or taxes shall be within the Constitutional or Charter limit for the cities covered by this Act; and provided further, that no part of any moneys raised by such tax or taxes shall ever be used for the payment of the interest on or principal of any bonds issued hereunder. The proceeds of any such tax or taxes thus pledged shall be utilized annually to the extent required by, or provided in, the ordinance or operation and maintenance of such airport or airports, and such city in its discretion may covenant in such ordinance or ordinances that certain costs of operating and maintaining such airport or airports, as may be enumerated therein, or all of such costs, will be paid by the city from the proceeds of such tax.

(b) In the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of any revenue bonds authorized hereunder, the city may provide for the flow of funds, the establishment and maintenance of the interest and sinking fund or funds, reserve fund or funds, and other funds, and may make additional covenants with respect to the bonds and the pledged revenues and the operation and maintenance of those improvements and facilities (the revenues of which are pledged), including provision for the operation or for the leasing of all or any part of said improvements and facilities and the use or pledge of moneys derived from such operation contracts and leases, as it may deem appropriate. Such ordinance or ordinances may also prohibit the further issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from the pledged revenues, or may reserve the right to issue additional bonds to be secured by a pledge of and payable from said revenues on a parity with, or subordinate to, the lien and pledge in support of the bonds being issued, subject to such conditions as are set forth in said ordinance or ordinances. Such ordinance or ordinances may contain other provisions and covenants, as the city may determine, not prohibited by the Constitution of Texas or by this Act, and the city may adopt and cause to be executed any other proceedings or instruments necessary and/or convenient in the issuance of any of said bonds.

(c) From the proceeds of sale of any bonds issued hereunder, the city may appropriate or set aside out of the bond proceeds an amount for the payment of interest expected to accrue during the period of construction, an amount or amounts to be deposited into the reserve fund or funds as may be provided in the bond ordinance or ordinances, and an amount necessary to pay all expenses incurred and to be incurred in the issuance, sale, and delivery of the bonds. Until such time or times as the bond proceeds are needed to carry out the bond purpose, such bond proceeds may be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America or may be placed on time deposit (either or both). Moneys in the interest and sinking fund or funds, in the reserve fund or funds, and in the other fund or funds established or provided for in the bond ordinance or ordinances may be invested in such manner and in such securities as may be provided in the bond ordinance or ordinances.

(d) All bonds shall be signed by the Mayor of the city and counter-signed by the City Secretary (or City Clerk), and shall have the seal of the city impressed thereon; provided, that the bond ordinance or ordinances may provide for the bonds to be signed by the facsimile signatures of said Mayor and City Secretary (or City Clerk), either or both, and for the seal of the city on the bonds to be a facsimile seal of the seal of the city; and provided further, that the interest coupons attached to said bonds may also be executed by the facsimile signatures of said officers. Such bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years from their date or dates and may be sold at a price and under such terms determined by the governing body of the city to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, provided that the interest cost to the city, calculated by the use of standard bond interest tables currently in use by insurance companies and investment houses, does not exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, and within the discretion of the governing body such bonds may be callable prior to maturity at such time or times and at such price or prices as may be prescribed in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing such bonds. Any such bonds may be made registrable as to principal, or as to both principal and interest. All bonds issued hereunder and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for his examination as to the validity thereof, and after said Attorney General has approved the same, such bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. When such bonds have been approved by the Attorney General, registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and delivered to the purchasers, they shall thereafter be incontestable except for forgery or fraud.

(e) Any city covered by this Act shall have the power and authority to issue revenue refunding bonds to refund revenue bonds (either original bonds or refunding bonds) theretofore issued by such city under Chapter 43, supra, or under said Chapter 43 and this Act, and such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate or rates than that of the bonds refunded unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid. Refunding bonds shall be authorized by ordinance or ordinances and shall be executed and mature as is provided in this Act for original bonds. They shall be approved by the Attorney General as in the case of original bonds, and shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts upon the surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded, but in lieu thereof, the ordinance or ordinances authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited in the place or places where the underlying bonds are payable, in which case the refunding bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient to pay the interest on the underlying bonds to their option or maturity date, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall register them without the surrender and cancellation of the underlying bonds. All such refunding bonds, after they have been approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, shall be incontestable except for forgery or fraud. The provisions of Sections 2(a) and 2(b) of this Act shall apply with equal force to refunding bonds issued hereunder.

(f) All bonds issued under this Act, whether original bonds or refunding bonds, shall be and are hereby declared to be, and to have all the qualifications of, negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of the State of Texas, and all such bonds shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies of every kind or type, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unmaturing coupons appurtenant thereto.

Art. 1269j-5.2. Airport Revenue Bonds; Home Rule Cities with Population of 125,000 or More

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to any home-rule city having a population of 125,000 or more according to the last preceding federal census, which owns or has leased or has otherwise acquired control of land for airport purposes, and which is operating such land for such purposes.

Sec. 2. In the event any such city shall determine to issue revenue bonds under and for any of the purposes and secured by any of the revenues authorized by Chapter 43, Acts of the 53rd Legislature of Texas, 1st Called Session, 1954, as amended (compiled as Article 1269j-5, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), such city, in addition to the revenues and income of said airport or airports pledged to the payment of operation and maintenance expenses and principal of and interest on such bonds, shall be authorized to levy and pledge to the payment of such operation and maintenance expenses, as a supplement to the pledge of revenues for such purpose, all or any part of the ad valorem tax authorized by Section 8 of Chapter 114, Acts of the 50th Legislature, Regular Session, 1947 (compiled as Article 46d-8, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The proceeds of any tax thus pledged shall be utilized annually to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing such revenue bonds to assure the efficient operation and maintenance of such airport or airports, and such city, in its discretion, may covenant in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of said bonds that certain costs of operating and maintaining such airport or airports, as may be enumerated in said proceedings, will be paid by the city from the proceeds of such tax. If it is deemed advisable by the city that revenue bonds theretofore issued under said Chapter 43, supra, and then outstanding, should be refunded so as to facilitate the financing of the acquisition of any improvements to and the further improvement of its airport or airports, it shall be authorized to make a like pledge of said tax in the proceedings authorizing such refunding bonds and any additional revenue bonds issued for the purposes prescribed in said Chapter 43, supra.

Art. 1269j-5.3. Airport Revenue Bonds; Cities of 1,200,000 or More; Proceeds

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any city having a population of 1,200,000 or more, according to the most recent federal census.

Sec. 2. (a) If a city covered by this Act issues revenue bonds to finance the construction or acquisition of buildings, improvements, or facilities at one or more airports owned and operated by the city, to be leased by the city to a private entity pursuant to a lease agreement under which the lessee is obligated to maintain the buildings, improvements, or facilities solely at its expense and is unconditionally obligated throughout the term of the bonds to make payments of net rent, which are pledged to the payment of the bonds, in amounts and at times as are sufficient to provide for the timely payment of all principal, interest, redemption premiums, and other costs and expenses arising or to arise in connection with the payment of the bonds, the city may spend or agree to spend all or any portion of the proceeds of the bonds without inviting, advertising for, or otherwise requiring competitive bids for the construction or acquisition of the buildings, improvements, or facilities or requiring or obtaining payment or performance bonds in connection with the construction or acquisition.

(b) This Act does not apply to the expenditure of the proceeds of bonds unless the bonds provide by their own terms that:

- (1) they are payable solely from net rents as provided by Subsection (a) of this section; and
- (2) they may not be repaid in any circumstances from tax revenues.

(c) This Act does not apply to the expenditure of the proceeds of bonds that create or provide for the creation of a lien against real property owned by the city.

(d) This Act does not affect the obligation of the city to obtain competitive bids or require a payment or performance bond in connection with a contract for the construction of a building, improvement, or facility if the contract is awarded by the city.

(e) Any expenditure of or agreement to spend proceeds of bonds covered by this Act for the construction of buildings, improvements, or facilities must be conditioned on the payment of not less than the rate of per diem wages for work of a similar character in the city as ascertained and established by the governing body of the city as provided by Chapter 45, General Laws, Acts of the 43rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1933, as amended (Article 5159a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein."

Section 2 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"The expenditure of the proceeds from airport revenue bonds issued before the effective date of this Act by a city affected by this Act is covered by the law as it existed before being amended by this Act, and the former law is continued in effect for that purpose."

Art. 1269j-6. Validating Bonds for Auditorium, Equipment and Facilities, Issued by Cities, Including Home-rule Cities

Sec. 1. All bonds heretofore authorized by an incorporated city, including home-rule cities, for the purpose of constructing a municipal auditorium and to purchase or acquire the necessary lands, equipment and facilities therefor, including lands for parking and the necessary equipment and facilities therefor, and which pledge the revenues of the auditorium to be acquired, constructed and equipped by the use of the proceeds of such bonds, and which pledge the revenues of a coliseum, if any, owned by the city, together with the parking facilities in connection therewith, for either or both, including all present and future extensions, additions, replacements and improvements thereto, for either or both, and which pledge other revenues to be derived from parking meters in the city and from certain existing swimming pools in the city, and any and all acts and proceedings pertaining to the authorization and issuance thereof, are hereby validated, ratified, approved and confirmed notwithstanding any lack of statutory or general authority of such city or the governing body thereof to authorize such bonds and make such pledge of the revenue or revenues; and such bonds, when approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas and sold and delivered, regardless of whether such sale and delivery is made prior to or after the effective date of this Act, shall be binding, legal, valid and enforceable obligations against the revenues so encumbered, and said bonds shall be incontestable.

Sec. 2. This Act shall take precedence over any law or parts of any law to the contrary or in conflict herewith.

Sec. 3. This Act shall not be construed as validating any such proceedings or bonds issued or to be issued, the validity of which is contested or under attack in any suit or litigation pending at the time this Act becomes effective, if such suit or litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of the proceedings.

Art. 1269j-7. Validating Interest-bearing Time Warrants and Scrip; Refunding Bonds; Proceedings; Exception

Sec. 1. In every instance since the approval by the Governor of Texas, of Chapter 362, Acts of the Fifth-fourth Legislature, Regular Session, 1955,¹ where the governing body of any city in this State has entered into contracts or agreements, or has incurred and recognized or approved claims for the construction of public works or improvements, or for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, or professional or personal services, and has heretofore adopted orders authorizing the issuance of scrip or interest-bearing time warrants to pay for or to evidence the indebtedness incurred by such city for the cost of such public works or improvements, and such materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision or professional or personal services, all such contracts or agreements and claims, and assignments of such claims and such scrip and interest-bearing time warrants, and the proceedings adopted by such governing body relating thereto, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. All scrip and interest-bearing time warrants heretofore issued by the governing body of any city in this State in payment for or to evidence the indebtedness incurred for work done by such city and paid for by the day as the work progressed, and for materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision or professional or personal services purchased or secured in connection with such work, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify or confirm any scrip or interest-bearing time warrants issued by the governing body of a city in this State unless such city has received full value and consideration for the issuance of such scrip or interest-bearing time warrants as may be evidenced by certificate of the Mayor and City Secretary. It is expressly further provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify or confirm any contract, scrip warrant, or time warrant executed or issued by any city the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Sec. 2. All proceedings, orders, resolutions, and other instruments heretofore adopted or executed by any governing body of a city in this State authorizing the issuance of bonds for the purpose of refunding time warrants issued by any such city and all refunding bonds heretofore issued for such purpose are hereby in all things validated, ratified, approved and confirmed. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify, or confirm any proceedings, orders, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds executed, adopted, or issued by any city the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Art. 1269j-8. Validating Notes and Warrants

Sec. 1. All notes, warrants, time warrants, and treasury warrants heretofore issued and sold or authorized to be issued and sold or attempted to be issued and sold by any and all cities in the state for the purpose of obtaining funds for public purposes are in all respects validated.

Sec. 2. All orders, ordinances, and resolutions of the governing bodies of such cities authorizing such notes, warrants, time warrants, and treasury warrants, or attempting to authorize the same, or any of the same, and the sales and attempted sales thereof for cash for the par or principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the date of delivery thereof, are in all respects validated.

Sec. 3. All orders, ordinances, and resolutions of said governing bodies of said cities levying and directing the levying and assessing of taxes to provide for the payment of interest and principal of such notes, warrants, time warrants, and treasury warrants, as they respectively mature, are in all respects validated.

Sec. 4. All notes, warrants, time warrants, and treasury warrants validated by this Act may be refunded into bonds at any time after the effective date of this Act upon proper authorization thereof by a duly adopted bond ordinance of the governing body of any such city. Such bonds shall be made to mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 40 years, and shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding six percent per annum, and shall contain such other covenants, details and specifications as may be contained in such bond ordinance, and after approval thereof by the attorney general and registration by the comptroller shall be incontestable for any cause.

Sec. 5. This Act is not intended to validate nor does it apply to any notes, warrants, time warrants, or treasury warrants which are on the effective date hereof the subject matter of any litigation pending in any court in this state in which the validity thereof is being challenged.

Art. 1269j-9. Validation of Proceedings for Public Improvements on Civic Centers, Etc.

Sec. 1. All proceedings, including all revenue bonds and all provisions, pledges, security, and other terms thereof, and the terms and conditions of the sale of such bonds; and all contracts, agreements, leases, operating agreements, options, and all other agreements and proceedings; taken, had, made, entered into or executed by the governing bodies of all cities and towns, including home rule cities, in the State of Texas, in connection with the establishment, acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, operation, maintenance and/or use of public improvements authorized by and described in Chapter 63, page 148, Acts of 1965, 59th Legislature, Regular Session, as amended by Chapter 563, page 1239, Acts of 1967, 60th Legislature, Regular Session (compiled, as amended, as Article 1269j-4.1, Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes), are in all things hereby fully validated, confirmed, approved and ratified.

Provided, however, nothing contained in this Act shall serve to validate, confirm, approve, or ratify any municipal ordinance, regulation, contract, agreement, or proceeding relating to utilities. Moreover, nothing contained in this Act shall serve to validate any contract or agreement relating to utilities entered into by the city or its agencies.

Sec. 2. All orders, resolutions, ordinances, indentures, and other actions authorizing the issuance of or securing any such revenue bonds, and the sale thereof, and the other agreements and proceedings validated in Section 1 hereof are themselves hereby in all things validated, confirmed, approved and ratified.

Sec. 2A. The provisions of this Act shall not serve to validate any proceedings the validity of which is being questioned on the effective date of this Act in any litigation in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state, if such proceedings are ultimately determined invalid in such litigation under the existing laws of this state.

Art. 1269j-10. Emergency Medical Technicians or Paramedics; Educational Incentive Pay

A city, town, or other political subdivision that employs emergency medical technicians or paramedics may pay educational incentive pay to employees holding certificates from the Texas Department of Health as emergency medical technicians or as paramedics. The incentive pay shall be in addition to any other form of compensation provided by law.

Art. 1269j-11. Validation of Notes, Refunding Bonds, Instruments, Acts, and Proceedings; Cities and Towns of 3,500 or Less

Application Date

Sec. 1. This Act applies to notes, refunding bonds, orders, ordinances, resolutions, and other instruments authorized or issued before the effective date of this Act and to governmental acts and proceedings occurring before the effective date of this Act.

Matters Relating to Certain Notes

Sec. 2. (a) If the governing body of a city or town issued a secured or unsecured interest-bearing note for any of the items listed in Subsection (b) of this section, and if the governing body adopted an order, ordinance, resolution, or other instrument authorizing the issuance of the secured or unsecured note to pay or to evidence the indebtedness of the city or town for the cost of the item, the note and the governmental acts and proceedings relating to the note are validated.

(b) Subsection (a) of this section applies to:

- (1) the construction of a public works project or improvement;
- (2) the purchase of land or an interest in land; and
- (3) the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervisory services, or professional or personal services in conjunction with Subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection.

Matters Relating to Other Notes

Sec. 3. The secured and unsecured notes issued by the governing body of a city or town for any of the following items are validated:

- (1) the payment of work that was done by the city or town in conjunction with Sections 2(b)(1) and (2) of this Act and that was paid for by the day as the work progressed; or
- (2) the payment for materials or supplies purchased in connection with the work.

Matters Relating to Refunding Bonds

Sec. 4. (a) The governmental acts and proceedings and the orders, ordinances, resolutions, and other instruments of the governing body or an officer of a city or town relating to the issuance of refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding secured or unsecured notes issued by the city or town, and all such notes and refunding bonds, are validated.

(b) The refunding bonds that on the effective date of this Act were in the process of being issued and that were authorized by orders, ordinances, resolutions, or other instruments adopted before the effective date of this Act may be issued regardless of the fact that the governing body of the city or town, in giving the notice of its intention to issue the refunding bonds, may not have complied in all respects with the requirements of law.

Terms of Notes

Sec. 5. The notes validated by this Act are payable in accordance with their terms.

Exceptions

Sec.6. (a) This Act does not apply to a city or town with a population of more than 3,500, according to the most recent federal census.

(b) This Act does not apply to any matter that on the effective date of this Act:

(1) is involved in litigation if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) has been held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Art. 1269k. Housing Authorities LawShort Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be referred to as the "Housing Authorities Law."

Finding and Declaration of Necessity

Sec. 2. It is hereby declared: (a) that there exist in the State insanitary or unsafe dwelling accommodations and that persons of low income are forced to reside in such insanitary or unsafe accommodations; that within the State there is a shortage of safe or sanitary dwelling accommodations available at rents which persons of low income can afford and that such persons are forced to occupy overcrowded and congested dwelling accommodations; that the aforesaid conditions cause an increase in and spread of disease and crime and constitute a menace to the health, safety, morals, and welfare of the residents of the State and impair economic values; that these conditions necessitate excessive and disproportionate expenditures of public funds for crime prevention and punishment, public health and safety, fire and accident protection, and other public services and facilities; (b) that these slum areas cannot be cleared, nor can the shortage of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons of low income be relieved, through the operation of private enterprise, and that the construction of housing projects for persons of low income (as herein defined) would therefore not be competitive with private enterprise; (c) that the clearance, replanning, and reconstruction of the areas in which insanitary or unsafe housing conditions exist and the providing of safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations for persons of low income are public uses and purposes for which public money may be spent and private property acquired and are governmental functions of State concern; that it is in the public interest that work on such projects be commenced as soon as possible in order to relieve unemployment which now constitutes an emergency; and the necessity in the public interest for the provisions hereinafter enacted; is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

Definitions

Sec. 3. The following terms, wherever used or referred to in this Act, shall have the following respective meanings, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(a) "Authority" or "Housing Authority" shall mean any of the public corporations created by Section 4 of this Act.

(b) "City" shall mean any city.

"The City" shall mean the particular city for which a particular housing authority is created.

(c) "Governing Body" shall mean the Council or Commission of the city.

(d) "Mayor" shall mean the Mayor of the city or the officer thereof charged with the duties customarily imposed on the Mayor or executive head of the city.

(e) "Clerk" shall mean the clerk of the city or the officer charged with the duties customarily imposed on such clerk.

(f) "Area of operation" shall include the city and the area within five (5) miles of the territorial boundaries thereof; provided, however, that the area of operation of a housing authority of any city shall not include any area which lies within the territorial boundaries of some other city as herein defined.

(g) "Federal Government" shall include the United States of America, the United States Housing Authority, or any other agency or instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, of the United States of America.

(h) "Slum" shall mean any area where dwellings predominate which, by reason of dilapidation, overcrowding, faulty arrangement or design, lack of ventilation, light, or sanitary facilities, or any combination of these factors, are detrimental to safety, health, and morals.

(i) "Housing Project" shall mean any work or undertaking:

(1) to demolish, clear, or remove buildings from any slum area; such work or undertaking may embrace the adaption of such area to public purposes, including parks or other recreational or community purposes; or

(2) to provide decent, safe, and sanitary urban or rural dwellings, apartments, or other living accommodations for persons of low income; such work or undertaking may include buildings, land, equipment, facilities, and other real or personal property for necessary, convenient, or desirable appurtenances, streets, sewers, water service, parks, site preparation, gardening, administrative, community, health, recreational, educational, welfare, or other purposes; or

(3) to accomplish a combination of the foregoing. The term "housing project" also may be applied to the planning of the buildings and improvements, the acquisition of property, the demolition of existing structures, the construction, reconstruction, alteration, and repair of the improvements and all other work in connection therewith.

(j) "Persons of low income" shall mean families or persons who lack the amount of income which is necessary (as determined by the authority undertaking the housing project) to enable them, without financial assistance, to live in decent, safe, and sanitary dwellings, without overcrowding.

(k) "Bonds" shall mean any bonds, notes, interim certificates, debentures, or other obligations issued by the authority pursuant to this Act.

(l) "Real Property" shall include all lands, including improvements and fixtures thereon, and property of any nature appurtenant thereto, or used in connection therewith, and every estate, interest, and right, legal or equitable, therein, including terms for years and liens by way of judgment, mortgage, or otherwise and the indebtedness secured by such liens.

(m) "Obligee of the authority" or "obligee" shall include any bondholder, trustee, or trustees for any bondholder, or lessor demising to the authority property used in connection with a housing project, or any assignee or assignees of such lessor's interest or any part thereof, and the Federal Government when it is a party to any contract with the authority.

Creation of Housing Authorities

Sec. 4. In each city (as herein defined) of the State there is hereby created a public body corporate and politic to be known as the "Housing Authority" of the city; provided, however, that such authority shall not transact any business or exercise its powers hereunder until or unless the governing body of the city, by proper resolution shall declare at any time hereafter that there is need for an authority to function in such city. The governing body may upon its own motion, or shall upon the filing of a petition signed by one hundred (100) qualified voters and residents of the city, make a determination as to whether or not there is need for an authority to function in the city.

The governing body shall adopt a resolution declaring that there is need for a housing authority in the city, if it shall find (a) that insanitary or unsafe inhabited dwelling accommodations exist in such city or (b) that there is a shortage of safe or sanitary dwelling accommodations in such city available to persons of low income at rentals they can afford. In determining whether dwelling accommodations are unsafe or insanitary said governing body may take into consideration the degree of overcrowding, the percentage of land coverage, the light, air, space, and access available to the inhabitants of such dwelling accommodations, the size and arrangement of the rooms, the sanitary facilities, and the extent to which conditions exist in such buildings which endanger life or property by fire or other causes.

In any suit, action, or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of or relating to any contract of the authority, the authority shall be conclusively deemed to have become established and authorized to transact business and exercise its powers hereunder upon proof of the adoption of a resolution by the governing body declaring the need for the authority. Such resolution or resolutions shall be deemed sufficient if it declares that there is such need for an authority and finds in substantially the foregoing terms (no further detail being necessary) that either or both of the above enumerated conditions exist in the city. A copy of such resolution duly certified by the clerk shall be admissible in evidence in any suit, action, or proceeding.

Appointment, Qualifications, and Tenure of Commissioners

Sec. 5. When the governing body of a city adopts a resolution as aforesaid, it shall promptly notify the Mayor of such adoption. Upon receiving such notice, the Mayor shall appoint five (5) persons as commissioners of the authority created for said city. Two (2) of the commissioners who are first so appointed shall be designated to serve for terms of one year and the remaining commissioners shall be designated to serve for terms of two (2) years, respectively, from the date of their appointment, but thereafter commissioners shall be appointed as aforesaid for a term of office of two (2) years except that all vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term. No commissioner of an authority may be an officer or employee of the city for which the authority is created. A commissioner shall hold office until his successor has been appointed and has qualified. A certificate of the appointment or reappointment of any commissioner shall be filed with the clerk and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the due and proper appointment of such commissioner. A commissioner shall receive no compensation for his services, but he shall be entitled to the necessary expense, including traveling expenses, incurred in the discharge of his duties.

The powers of each authority shall be vested in the commissioners thereof in office from time to time. Three (3) commissioners shall constitute a quorum of the authority for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers and for all other purposes. Action may be taken by the authority upon a vote of a majority of the commissioners present, unless in any case the bylaws of the authority shall require a larger number. The Mayor shall designate which of the commissioners appointed shall be the first chairman, but when the office of the chairman of the authority thereafter becomes vacant, the authority shall select a chairman from among its commissioners. An authority shall select from among its own commissioners a vice-chairman, and it may employ a secretary (who shall be executive director), technical experts, and such other officers, agents, and employees, permanent and temporary, as it may require, and shall determine their qualifications, duties, and compensation. For such legal services as it may require, an authority may call upon the chief law officer of the city or may employ its own counsel and legal staff. An authority may delegate to one or more of its agents or employees such powers or duties as it may deem proper.

Interested Commissioners

Sec. 6. (a) No commissioner of an authority shall own, acquire, or control any interest, direct or indirect, in any housing project or in any property included or planned to be included in any project. Nor shall he have any interest, direct or indirect, in any contract or proposed contract for:

- (1) the sale of land to be used for a housing project;
- (2) the construction of a housing project; or
- (3) the sale of materials or services to be furnished or used in connection with any housing project. Nor shall he have any dealings for pecuniary gain with any housing project.

However, it is not unlawful for a commissioner:

- (1) to manage a housing project or to own, acquire, or control a management company rendering management services to a housing project;
- (2) to continue to own or control any interest in a housing project held by the commissioner prior to his term as commissioner; or
- (3) to own, acquire, or control any interest in or have any dealings with a housing project over which the commissioner's housing authority has no jurisdiction.

(b) If any commissioner of an authority manages, owns, acquires, or controls an interest, direct or indirect, in any property included or planned to be included in any housing project, or if any commissioner has any other dealings for pecuniary gain with any housing project, he shall immediately disclose the same in writing to the authority. The disclosure shall be entered upon the minutes of the authority. Failure to so disclose such interest shall constitute misconduct of office.

(c) A commissioner who knowingly or intentionally violates Subsection (a) or (b) of this section commits an offense. An offense under this subsection is a felony of the third degree.

(d) A person finally convicted under Subsection (c) of this section is ineligible for future employment with the State, its political subdivisions, or a public corporation formed under authority of the State or a political subdivision of the State.

Interested Employees

Sec. 6a. (a) No employee of an authority shall own, acquire, or control any interest, direct or indirect, in any housing project or in any property included or planned to be included in any housing project. Nor shall the employee own, acquire, or control any interest, direct or indirect, in any contract or proposed contract for:

(1) the sale of land to be used for a housing project;

(2) the construction of a housing project; or

(3) the sale of materials or services to be furnished or used in connection with any housing project. Nor shall the employee have any dealings for pecuniary gain with any housing project, except in the performance of his duties as an employee of the housing authority.

(b) An employee who knowingly or intentionally violates Subsection (a) of this section commits an offense. An offense under this subsection is a felony of the third degree.

(c) A person finally convicted under Subsection (b) of this section is ineligible for future employment with the State, its political subdivisions, or a public corporation formed under authority of the State or a political subdivision of the State.

Removal of Commissioners

Sec. 7. For inefficiency or neglect of duty or misconduct in office, a commissioner of an authority may be removed by the Mayor, but a commissioner shall be removed only after he shall have been given a copy of the charges at least ten (10) days prior to the hearing thereon and had an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel. In the event of the removal of any commissioner, a record of the proceedings, together with the charges and findings thereon, shall be filed in the office of the clerk.

Powers of Authority

Sec. 8. An authority shall constitute a public body corporate and politic, exercising public and essential governmental functions, and having all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this Act, including the following powers in addition to others herein granted:

(a) To sue and to be sued; to have a seal and to alter the same at pleasure; to have perpetual succession; to make and execute contracts and other instruments necessary or convenient to the exercise of the powers of the authority; and to make and from time to time amend and repeal bylaws, rules, and regulations, not inconsistent with this Act, to carry into effect the powers and purposes of the authority.

(b) Within its area of operation: to prepare, carry out, acquire, lease, and operate housing projects; to provide for the construction, reconstruction, improvement, alteration, or repair of any housing project or any part thereof.

(c) To arrange or contract for the furnishing by any person or agency, public or private, of services, privileges, works, or facilities for, or in connection with, a housing project or the occupants thereof; and (notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Act or in any other provision of law) to include in any contract let in connection with a project; stipulations requiring that the contractor and any subcontractors comply with the requirements as to minimum wages and maximum hours of labor, and comply with any conditions which the Federal Government may have attached to its financial aid of the project.

(d) To lease or rent any dwellings, houses, accommodations, lands, buildings, structures, or facilities embraced in any housing project and (subject to the limitations contained in this Act) to establish and revise the rents or charges therefor; to own, hold, and improve real or personal property; to purchase, lease, obtain options upon, acquire by gift, grant, bequest, devise, or otherwise any real or personal property or any interest therein; to acquire by the exercise of the power of eminent domain any real property; to sell, lease, exchange, transfer, assign, pledge, or dispose of any real or personal property or any interest therein to insure or provide for the insurance of any real or personal property or operations of the authority against any risks or hazards; to procure insurance or guarantees from the Federal Government of the payment of any debts or parts thereof (whether or not incurred by said authority) secured by mortgages on any property included in any of its housing projects.

(e) To invest any funds held in reserves or sinking funds, or any funds not required for immediate disbursement, in property or securities in which savings banks may legally invest funds subject to their control; to purchase its bonds at a price not more than the principal amount thereof and accrued interest, all bonds so purchased to be cancelled.

(f) Within its area of operation: to investigate into living, dwelling, and housing conditions and into the means and methods of improving such conditions; to determine where slum areas exist or where there is a shortage of decent, safe, and sanitary dwelling accommodations for persons of low income; to make studies and recommendations relating to the problem of clearing, replanning, and reconstructing of slum areas, and the problem of providing dwelling accommodations for persons of low income, and to cooperate with the city, the county, the State or any political subdivision thereof in action taken in connection with such problems; and to engage in research, studies, and experimentation on the subject of housing.

(g) Acting through one or more commissioners or other person or persons designated by the authority; to conduct examinations and investigations and to hear testimony and take proof under oath at public or private hearings on any matter material for its information; to administer oaths, issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the production of books and papers and to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses who are outside of the State or unable to attend before the authority, or excused from attendance; to make available to appropriate agencies (including those charged with the duty of abating or requiring the correction of nuisances or like conditions, or of demolishing unsafe or unsanitary structures within its area of operation) its findings and recommendations with regard to any building or property where conditions exist which are dangerous to the public health, morals, or safety or welfare.

(h) To exercise all or any part or combination of powers herein granted. No provisions of law with respect to the acquisition, operation, or disposition of property by other public bodies shall be applicable to an authority unless the Legislature shall specifically so state.

Operation Not for Profit

Sec. 9. It is hereby declared to be the policy of this State that each housing authority shall manage and operate its housing projects in an efficient manner so as to enable it to fix the rentals for dwelling accommodations at the lowest possible rates consistent with its providing decent, safe, and sanitary dwelling accommodations, and that no housing authority shall construct or operate any such project for profit, or as a source of revenue to the city. To this end an authority shall fix the rentals for dwellings in its projects at no higher rates than it shall find to be necessary in order to produce revenues which (together with all other available moneys, revenues, income, and receipts of the authority from whatever sources derived) will be sufficient (a) to pay, as the same become due, the principal and interest on the bonds of the authority; (b) to meet the cost of, and to provide for, maintaining and operating the projects (including the cost of any insurance) and the administrative expenses of the authority; and (c) to create (during not less than the six (6) years immediately succeeding its issuance of any bonds) a reserve sufficient to meet the largest principal and interest payments which will be due on such bonds in any one year thereafter and to maintain such reserve.

Rentals and Tenant Selection

Sec. 10. In the operation or management of housing projects an authority shall at all times observe the following duties with respect to rentals and tenant selection:

(a) It may rent or lease the dwelling accommodations therein only to persons of low income and at rentals within the financial reach of such persons.

(b) It may rent or lease to a tenant dwelling accommodations consisting of the number of rooms (but no greater number) which it deems necessary to provide safe and sanitary accommodations to the proposed occupants thereof, without overcrowding.

(c) It shall not accept any person as a tenant in any housing project if the person or persons who would occupy the dwelling accommodations have an aggregate annual income, excluding that earned by children attending school full time, in excess of five (5) times the annual rental of the quarters to be furnished such person or persons except that in the case of families with three (3) or more minor dependents such ratio shall not exceed six to one; in computing the rental for this purpose of selecting tenants, there shall be included in the rental the average annual cost (as determined by the authority) to the occupants, of heat, water, electricity, gas, cooking range, and other necessary services or facilities, whether or not the charge for such services and facilities is in fact included in the rental.

Nothing contained in this or the preceding section shall be construed as limiting the power of an authority to vest in an obligee the right, in the event of a default by the authority, to take possession of a housing project or cause the appointment of a receiver thereof or acquire title thereto through foreclosure proceedings, free from all the restrictions imposed by this or the preceding section.

Co-operation Between Authorities

Sec. 11. Any two (2) or more authorities may join or co-operate with one another in the exercise of any or all of the powers conferred hereby for the purpose of financing, planning, undertaking, constructing or operating a housing project or projects located within the area of operation of any one or more of said authorities.

Eminent Domain

Sec. 12. An authority shall have the right to acquire by the exercise of the power of eminent domain any interest in real property, including a fee simple title thereto, which it may deem necessary for its purposes under this Act after the adoption by it of a resolution declaring that the acquisition of the real property described therein is necessary for such purposes. An authority may exercise the power of eminent domain in the manner provided in Articles 3264 to 3271, both inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and Acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto; or it may exercise the power of eminent domain in the manner provided by any other applicable statutory provisions for the exercise of the power of eminent domain. Property already devoted to a public use may be acquired in like manner, provided that no real property belonging to the city, the county, the State, or any political subdivision thereof may be acquired without its consent.

Planning, Zoning, and Building Laws

Sec. 13. All housing projects of an authority shall be subject to the planning, zoning, sanitary and building laws, ordinances, and regulations applicable to the locality in which the housing project is situated. In the planning and location of any housing project, an authority shall take into consideration the relationship of the project to any larger plan or long-range program for the development of the area in which the housing authority functions.

Notice of Proposed Housing Projects

Sec. 13a. (a) A housing authority may not authorize the construction of a housing project and may not obtain any permit, certificate, or other authorization required by an incorporated city or town or other political subdivision of the State for any part of the construction of a housing project unless the commissioners of the authority hold a public meeting about the proposed project prior to that site being approved for the housing project. The commissioners shall hold the meeting at the closest available facility to the site of the proposed project. At least a majority of the commissioners must attend the meeting. The commissioners shall give any person who owns or leases real property within a one-fourth mile radius of the site of the proposed housing project the opportunity to comment on the proposed project.

(b) In addition to any other notice required by law, the commissioners shall post notice of the date, hour, place, and subject of the meeting at least 30 days before the scheduled day of the meeting on a bulletin board at a place convenient to the public in the county courthouse of the county in which the proposed project is to be located and on a bulletin board at a place convenient to the public in the city hall if the proposed project is to be located within the boundaries of an incorporated city. The commissioners shall have a copy of the notice published in a newspaper or newspapers that individually or collectively provide general circulation to the county in which the proposed project is to be located. The notice must be published one time at least 30 days before the scheduled day of the meeting. The commissioners shall mail a notice containing the same information 30 days before the date of the meeting to any person who owns real property within one-fourth of a mile radius of the site of the proposed project. The commissioners may rely on the most recent county tax roll for the names and addresses of the owners. The commissioners shall also have posted at the proposed project site 30 days before the date of the meeting a sign having dimensions no smaller than four feet by four feet and bearing in eight-inch letters a caption stating "Site of Proposed Housing Project." The sign shall be located at a point on the proposed project site visible from a regularly travelled thoroughfare and shall state the nature of the project, the location of the project, the names and addresses of all governmental entities involved in the development of the proposed project, and the date, time, and place of the public meeting.

(c) An incorporated city or town or other political subdivision of the State may not issue a permit, certificate, or other authorization for any part of the construction or for the occupancy of a housing project under this Act unless the housing authority has complied with the requirements of this section.

(d) For purposes of the public meeting requirements in Subsection (a) of this section and for the purposes of Section 6 of this Act, "housing project" means, in addition to the definition prescribed in Subsection (i), Section 3, of this Act:

(1) any work or undertaking that is financed in any way by public funds or tax exempt revenue bonds and undertaken for any of the reasons listed in Subsection (i) of Section 3; or

(2) a building over which a housing authority has jurisdiction and which has any part reserved for occupancy by persons receiving income or rental supplements from a governmental entity.

Bonds

Sec. 14. An authority shall have power to issue bonds from time to time in its discretion, for any of its corporate purposes. An authority shall also have power to issue refunding bonds for the purpose of paying or retiring bonds previously issued by it. An authority may issue such types of bonds as it may determine, including bonds on which the principal and interest are payable; (a) exclusively from the income and revenues of the housing project financed with the proceeds of such bonds, or with such proceeds together with a grant from the Federal Government in aid of such project; (b) exclusively from the income and revenues of certain designated housing projects whether or not they were financed in whole or in part with the proceeds of such bonds; or (c) from its revenues generally. Any of such bonds may be additionally secured by a pledge of any revenues or a mortgage of any housing project, projects, or other property of the authority.

Neither the commissioners of an authority nor any person executing the bonds shall be liable personally on the bonds by reason of the issuance thereof. The bonds and other obligations of an authority (and such bonds and obligations shall so state on their face) shall not be a debt of the city, the county, the State or any political subdivision thereof and neither the city nor the county, nor the State or any political subdivision thereof shall be liable thereon, nor in any event shall such bonds or obligations be payable out of any funds or properties other than those of said authority. The bond shall not constitute an indebtedness within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitation or restriction. Bonds of an authority are declared to be issued for an essential public and governmental purpose and to be public instrumentalities and, together with interest thereon and income therefrom, shall be exempt from taxes.

Bonds or Legal Investments

Sec. 14-A. Repealed by Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 427, § 2.

Form and Sale of Bonds

Sec. 15. Bonds of an authority shall be authorized by its resolution and may be issued in one or more series and shall bear such date or dates, mature at such time or times, bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding eight (8) per centum per annum, be in such denomination or denominations, be in such form, either coupon or registered, carry such conversion or registration privileges, have such rank or priority, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, and be subject to such terms of redemption (with or without premium) as such resolution, its trust indenture or mortgage may provide.

The bonds may be sold at not less than par at public sale held after notice published once at least five (5) days prior to such sale in a newspaper having a general circulation in the city or the county and in a financial newspaper published in the City of New York, New York, provided, however, that such bonds may be sold at not less than par to the Federal Government at private sale without any public advertisement.

In case any of the commissioners or officers of the authority whose signatures appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such commissioners or officers before the delivery of such bonds, such signatures shall, nevertheless, be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if they had remained in office until such delivery. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds issued pursuant to this Act shall be fully negotiable.

In any suit, action, or proceedings involving the validity or enforceability of any bond of an authority or the security therefor, any such bond reciting in substance that it has been issued by the authority to aid in financing a housing project to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income shall be conclusively deemed to have been issued for a housing project of such character and said project shall be conclusively deemed to have been planned, located, and constructed in accordance with the purposes and provisions of this Act.

Provisions of Bonds, Trust Indentures, and Mortgages

Sec. 16. In connection with the issuance of bonds or the incurring of obligations under leases and in order to secure the payment of such bonds or obligations, an authority, in addition to its other powers, shall have power:

(a) To pledge all or any part of its gross or net rents, fees, or revenues to which its right then exists or may thereafter come into existence.

(b) To mortgage all or any part of its real or personal property, then owned or thereafter acquired.

(c) To covenant against pledging all or any part of its rents, fees, and revenues, or against mortgaging all or any part of its real or personal property, to which its right or title then exists or may thereafter come into existence or against permitting or suffering any lien on such revenues or property; to covenant with respect to limitations on its right to sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of any housing project or any part thereof; and to covenant as to what other, or additional debts or obligations may be incurred by it.

(d) To covenant as to the bonds to be issued and as to the issuance of such bonds in escrow or otherwise, and as to the use and disposition of the proceeds thereof; to provide for the replacement of lost, destroyed, or mutilated bonds; to covenant against extending the time for the payment of its bonds or interest thereon, and to redeem the bonds, and to covenant for their redemption and to provide the terms and conditions thereof.

(e) To covenant (subject to the limitations contained in this Act) as to the rents and fees to be charged in the operation of a housing project or projects, the amount to be raised each year or other period of time by rents, fees, and other revenues, and as to the use and disposition to be made thereof; to create or to authorize the creation of special funds for moneys held for construction or operating costs, debt service, reserves, or other purposes, and to covenant as to the use and disposition of the moneys held in such funds.

(f) To prescribe procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with bond holders may be amended or abrogated, the amount of bonds of holders of which must consent thereto and the manner in which such consent may be given.

(g) To covenant as to the use of any or all of its real or personal property; and to covenant as to the maintenance of its real and personal property, the replacement thereof, the insurance to be carried thereon and the use and disposition of insurance moneys.

(h) To covenant as to the rights, liabilities, powers, and duties arising upon the breach by it of any covenant, condition, or obligation; and to covenant and prescribe as to events of default and terms and conditions upon which any or all of its bonds or obligations shall become or may be declared due before maturity, and as to the terms and conditions upon which such declaration and its consequences may be waived.

(i) To vest in a trustee or trustees or the holder of bonds or any proportion of them the right to enforce the payment of the bonds or any covenants securing or relating to the bonds; to vest in a trustee or trustees the right, in the event of a default by said authority, to take possession and use, operate, and manage any housing project or part thereof, and to collect the rents and revenues arising therefrom and to dispose of such moneys in accordance with the agreement of the authority with said trustee; to provide for the powers and duties of a trustee or trustees and to limit the liabilities thereof; and to provide the terms and conditions upon which the trustee or trustees or the holders of bonds or any proportion of them may enforce any covenant or rights securing or relating to the bonds.

(j) To exercise all or any part or combination of the powers herein granted; to make covenants other than and in addition to the covenants herein expressly authorized, of like or different character; to make such covenants and to do any and all such acts and things as may be necessary or convenient or desirable in order to secure its bonds, or, in the absolute discretion of said authority, as will tend to make the bonds more marketable notwithstanding that such covenants, acts, or things may not be enumerated herein.

Certificate of Attorney General

Sec. 17. Any authority may submit to the Attorney General of the State any bonds to be issued hereunder after all proceedings for the issuance of such bonds have been taken. Upon the submission of such proceedings to the Attorney General, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to examine into and pass upon the validity of such bonds and the regularity of all proceedings in connection therewith. If such proceedings conform to the provisions of this Act and are otherwise regular in form and if such bonds when delivered and paid for will constitute binding and legal obligations of such authority enforceable according to the terms thereof, the Attorney General shall certify in substance upon the back of each of said bonds that it is issued in accordance with the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas.

Remedies of an Obligee of Authority

Sec. 18. An obligee of an authority shall have the right in addition to all other rights which may be conferred on such obligee, subject only to any contractual restrictions binding upon such obligee:

(a) By mandamus, suit, action, or proceeding at law or in equity to compel said authority and the commissioners, officers, agents, or employees thereof to perform each and every term, provision, and covenant contained in any contract of said authority with or for the benefit of such obligee, and to require the carrying out of any or all such covenants and agreements of said authority and the fulfillment of all duties imposed upon said authority by this Act.

(b) By suit, action, or proceeding in equity, to enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful, or the violation of any of the rights of such obligee of said authority.

Additional Remedies Conferrable by Authority

Sec. 19. An authority shall have power by its resolution, trust indenture, mortgage, lease, or other contract to confer upon any obligee holding or representing a specified amount in bonds, or holding a lease, the right (in addition to all rights that may otherwise be conferred) upon the happening of an event of default as defined in such resolution or instrument, by suit, action, or proceeding in any Court of competent jurisdiction:

(a) To cause possession of any housing project or any part thereof to be surrendered to any such obligee.

(b) To obtain the appointment of a receiver of any housing project of said authority or any part thereof and of the rents and profits therefrom. If such receiver be appointed, he may enter and take possession of such housing project or any part thereof and operate and maintain same, and collect and receive all fees, rents, revenues, or other charges thereafter arising therefrom, and shall keep such moneys in a separate account or accounts and apply the same in accordance with the obligations of said authority as the Court shall direct.

(c) To require said authority and the commissioners thereof to account as if it and they were the trustees of an express trust.

Exemption of Property from Execution Sale

Sec. 20. All real property of an authority shall be exempt from levy and sale by virtue of an execution, and no execution or other judicial process shall issue against the same nor shall any judgment against an authority be a charge or lien upon its real property; provided, however, that the provisions of this Section shall not apply to or limit the right of obligees to foreclose or otherwise enforce any mortgage of an authority or the right of obligees to pursue any remedies for the enforcement of any pledge or lien given by an authority on its rents, fees, or revenues.

Aid from Federal Government

Sec. 21. In addition to the powers conferred upon an authority by other provisions of this Act, an authority is empowered to borrow money or accept grants or other financial assistance from the Federal Government for or in aid of any housing project within its area of operation, to take over or lease or manage any housing project or undertaking constructed or owned by the Federal Government, and to these ends, to comply with such conditions and enter into such mortgages, trust indentures, leases, or agreements as may be necessary, convenient or desirable. It is the purpose and intent of this Act to authorize every authority to do any and all things necessary or desirable to secure the financial aid or cooperation of the Federal Government in the undertaking, construction, maintenance, or operation of any housing project by such authority.

Tax Exemption and Payments in Lieu of Taxes

Sec. 22. The property of an authority is declared to be public property used for essential public and governmental purposes and such property and an authority shall be exempt from all taxes and special assessments of the city, the county, the State or any political subdivision thereof; provided, however, that in lieu of such taxes or special assessments, an authority may agree to make payments to the city or the county or any such political subdivision for improvements, services, and facilities furnished by such city, county, or political subdivision for the benefit of a housing project, but in no event shall such payments exceed the estimated cost to such city, county, or political subdivision of the improvements, services, or facilities to be so furnished.

Reports

Sec. 23. At least once a year, an authority shall file with the clerk a report of its activities for the preceding year, and shall make recommendations with reference to such additional legislation or other action as it deems necessary in order to carry out the purposes of this Act.

Housing Authorities in Counties

Sec. 23a. In each county of the State there is hereby created a public body corporate and politic to be known as the "Housing Authority" of the county; provided, however, that such housing authority shall not transact any business or exercise its powers hereunder until or unless the Commissioners Court of such county, by proper resolution shall declare at any time hereafter that there is need for a housing authority to function in such county, which declaration shall be made by such Commissioners Court for such county in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as the declaration of the governing body of a city required by Section 4 of the Housing Authorities Law for the purpose of authorizing a housing authority created for a city to transact business and exercise its powers (except that the petition referred to in said Section 4 shall be signed by one hundred qualified voters and residents of such county).

The commissioners of a housing authority created for a county may be appointed and removed by the Commissioners Court of the county in the same manner as the commissioners of a housing authority created for a city may be appointed and removed by the Mayor, and except as otherwise provided herein, each housing authority created for a county and the commissioners thereof, within the area of operation of such housing authority as hereinafter defined, shall have the same functions, rights, powers, duties, immunities, privileges, and limitations provided for housing authorities created for cities and the commissioners of such housing authorities, in the same manner as though all the provisions of law applicable to housing authorities created for cities were applicable to housing authorities created for counties; provided, that for such purposes the term "Mayor" or "governing body" as used in the Housing Authorities Law shall be construed as meaning "Commissioners Court", and the term "city" as used therein shall be construed as meaning "county" unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context; and provided further that a housing authority created for a county shall not be subject to the limitations provided in clause (c) of Section 10 of the Housing Authorities Law with respect to housing projects for farmers of low income.

The area of operation of a housing authority created for a county shall include all of the county in which it is created except that portion of the county which lies within the territorial boundaries of any city.

Creation of Regional Housing Authority

Sec. 23b. If the Commissioners Court of each of two (2) or more contiguous counties by resolution declares that there is a need for one housing authority to be created for all of such counties to exercise powers and other functions herein prescribed for a housing authority in such counties, a public body corporate and politic to be known as a regional housing authority shall thereupon exist for all of such counties and exercise its powers and other functions in such counties; and thereupon each county housing authority created for each of such counties shall cease to exist except for the purpose of winding up its affairs and executing a deed to the regional housing authority as hereinafter provided; provided that the Commissioners Court of a county shall not adopt a resolution as aforesaid if there is a county housing authority created for such county which has any obligations outstanding unless first, all obligees of such county housing authority and parties to the contracts, bonds, notes, and other obligations of such county housing authority agree with such county housing authority to the substitution of such regional housing authority in lieu of such county housing authority on all such contracts, bonds, notes, or other obligations; and second, the commissioners of such county housing authority adopt a resolution consenting to the transfer of all the rights, contracts, obligations, and property, real and personal, of such county housing authority to such regional housing authority as hereinafter provided; and provided further that when the above two (2) conditions are complied with and such regional housing authority is created and authorized to exercise its powers and other functions, all rights, contracts, agreements, obligations, and property of such county housing authority shall be in the name of and vest in such regional housing authority, and all obligations of such county housing authority shall be the obligations of such regional housing authority and all rights and remedies of any person against such county housing authority may be asserted, enforced, and prosecuted against such regional housing authority to the same extent as they may have been asserted, enforced, and prosecuted against such county housing authority.

When any real property of a county housing authority vests in a regional housing authority as provided above, the county housing authority shall execute a deed of such property to the regional housing authority which thereupon shall file such deed with the clerk of the county where such real property is, provided that nothing contained in this sentence shall affect the vesting of property in the regional housing authority as provided above.

The Commissioners Court of each of two (2) or more contiguous counties shall by resolution declare that there is a need for one regional housing authority to be created for all of such counties to exercise powers and other functions herein prescribed in such counties, if such Commissioners Court finds (and only if it finds) (a) that insanitary or unsafe inhabited dwelling accommodations exist in such county or there is a shortage of safe or sanitary dwelling accommodations in such county available to persons of low income at rentals they can afford and (b) that a regional housing authority would be a more efficient or economical administrative unit than the housing authority of such county to carry out the purposes of the Housing Authorities Law in such county.

In any suit, action, or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of or relating to any contract of the regional housing authority, the regional housing authority shall be conclusively deemed to have become created as a public body corporate and politic and to have become established and authorized to transact business and exercise its powers hereunder upon proof of the adoption of a resolution by the Commissioners Court of each of the counties creating the regional housing authority declaring the need for the regional housing authority. Each such resolution shall be deemed sufficient if it declares that there is need for the regional housing authority and finds in substantially the foregoing terms (no further detail being necessary) that the conditions enumerated above in (a) and (b) exist. A copy of such resolution of the Commissioners Court of a county, duly certified by the county clerk of such county, shall be admissible in evidence in any suit, action, or proceeding.

Area of Operation of County or Regional Housing Authorities

Sec. 23c. (a) The area of operation of a regional housing authority shall include all of the counties for which such regional housing authority is created and established except that portion of the counties which lies within the territorial boundaries of any city. Provided that a county or regional housing authority shall not undertake any housing project or projects within the boundaries of any city unless a resolution shall have been adopted by the governing body of such city (and also by any housing authority which shall have been theretofore established and authorized to exercise its powers in such city) declaring that there is a need for the county or regional housing authority to exercise its powers within such city.

(b) The area of operation of a regional housing authority shall be increased from time to time to include one or more additional counties not already within a regional housing authority (except in such portion or portions of such additional county or counties which lie within the territorial boundaries of any city) if the Commissioners Court of each of the counties then included in the area of operation of such regional housing authority, the commissioners of the regional housing authority and the Commissioners Court of each such additional county or counties each adopt a resolution declaring that there is a need for the inclusion of such additional county or counties in the area of operation of such regional housing authority as provided by Subsection (g) of this section. Those resolutions may not be adopted if there is a county housing authority created for any such additional county which has any obligations outstanding unless:

(1) all obligees of any such county housing authority and parties to the contracts, bonds, notes, and other obligations of any such county housing authority agree with such county housing authority and the regional housing authority to the substitution of such regional housing authority in lieu of such county housing authority on all such contracts, bonds, notes, or other obligations; and

(2) the commissioners of such county housing authority and the commissioners of such regional housing authority adopt resolutions consenting to the transfer of all the rights, contracts, obligations, and property, real and personal, of such county housing authority to such regional housing authority as provided by Subdivision (2) of Subsection (e) of this section.

(c) If one or more of the obligees whose agreement is required by Subdivision (1) of Subsection (b) of this section before adoption of a resolution are unknown, the county housing authority shall cause notice to be published in a newspaper of general national circulation. The notice must set forth:

- (1) the name of the county housing authority;
- (2) the name of the regional housing authority;

(3) a statement that the county and regional housing authorities propose that on all contracts, bonds, notes, and other obligations of the county housing authority, the regional housing authority will be substituted for the county housing authority and that the existence of the county housing authority will be terminated; and

(4) an address where objections to the substitution may be sent.

(d) For the purposes of Subsection (b) of this section, failure to receive an objection to the substitution of the regional housing authority on the obligations of the county housing authority before the 31st day after the day on which notice is published in accordance with Subsection (c) of this section is equivalent to consent to the substitution given by the unknown obligees of the county housing authority.

(e) When all resolutions required by Subsection (b) of this section are adopted in accordance with this section:

(1) the county housing authority created for each county over which the area of operation of the regional housing authority is being extended ceases to exist except to wind up its affairs and to execute a deed to the regional housing authority in accordance with Subsection (f) of this section;

(2) all rights, contracts, agreements, obligations, and property of such county housing authority shall be in the name of and vest in such regional housing authority;

(3) all obligations of such county housing authority shall be the obligations of such regional housing authority; and

(4) all rights and remedies of any person against such county housing authority may be asserted, enforced, and prosecuted against such regional housing authority to the same extent as they may have been asserted, enforced, and prosecuted against such county housing authority.

(f) When any real property of a county housing authority vests in a regional housing authority as provided by Subdivision (2) of Subsection (e) of this section, the county housing authority shall execute a deed of such property to the regional housing authority which thereupon shall file such deed with the clerk of the county where such real property is located. This subsection does not affect the vesting of property in the regional housing authority as provided by Subdivision (2) of Subsection (e) of this section.

(g) The Commissioners Court of each of the counties in the regional housing authority, the commissioners of the regional housing authority and the Commissioners Court of each such additional county or counties shall by resolution declare that there is a need for the addition of such county or counties to the regional housing authority, if:

(1) the Commissioners Court of each such additional county or counties finds that insanitary or unsafe inhabited dwelling accommodations exist in such county or there is a shortage of safe or sanitary dwelling accommodations in such county available to persons of low income at rentals they can afford; and

(2) the Commissioners Court of each of the counties then included in the area of operation of the regional housing authority, the commissioners of the regional housing authority and the Commissioners Court of each such additional county or counties find that the regional housing authority would be a more efficient or economical administrative unit to carry out the purposes of this Housing Authorities Law if the area of operation of the regional housing authority shall be increased to include such additional county or counties.

(h) In connection with the issuance of bonds or the incurring of other obligations, a regional housing authority may covenant as to limitations on its right to adopt resolutions relating to the increase of its area of operation.

(i) In determining whether dwelling accommodations are unsafe or insanitary under this section or

Section 23b of this Act, the Commissioners Court of a county shall take into consideration the safety and sanitation of dwellings, the light and air space available to the inhabitants of such dwellings, the degree of overcrowding, the size and arrangement of the rooms and the extent to which conditions exist in such dwellings which endanger life or property by fire or other causes.

(j) No governing body of a county shall adopt any resolution authorized by this section or Section 23b of this Act unless a public hearing has first been held. The clerk of such county shall give notice of the time, place, and purpose of the public hearing at least ten days prior to the day on which the hearing is to be held, in a newspaper published in such county, or if there is no newspaper published in such county, then in a newspaper published in the State and having a general circulation in such county. Upon the date fixed for such public hearing an opportunity to be heard shall be granted to all residents of such county and to all other interested persons.

Commissioners of Regional Housing Authority

Sec. 23d. When a regional housing authority has been created as provided above, the Commissioners Court of each county included in such regional housing authority shall thereupon appoint one person as a commissioner of the regional housing authority. When the area of operation of a regional housing authority is increased to include an additional county or counties as provided above, the Commissioners Court of each county shall thereupon appoint one additional person as a commissioner of the regional housing authority. The Commissioners Court of each such county shall thereafter appoint each person to succeed such commissioner of the regional housing authority. A certificate of the appointment of any such commissioner shall be filed with the clerk of the county, and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the due and proper appointment of such commissioner. If a regional housing authority includes only two counties, the commissioners of such authority appointed by the Commissioners Court of such counties shall appoint one additional commissioner to such authority. The commissioners of such authority appointed by the Commissioners Court of such counties shall likewise appoint each person to succeed such additional commissioner; provided that the term of office of such person begins during the terms of office of the commissioners appointing him; and provided further that no person shall be appointed to succeed such additional commissioner in the event the area of operation of the regional housing authority is increased to include more than two counties. A certificate of the appointment of any such additional commissioner of such regional housing authority shall be filed with the other records of the regional housing authority and shall be conclusive evidence of the due and proper appointment of such additional commissioner. The commissioners of a regional housing authority shall be appointed for terms of two (2) years except that all vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired terms. Each commissioner shall hold office until his successor has been appointed and has qualified, except as otherwise provided herein.

For inefficiency or neglect of duty or misconduct in office, a commissioner of a regional housing authority may be removed by the Commissioners Court appointing him, or in the case of the commissioner appointed by the commissioners of the regional housing authority by such commissioners; provided that such commissioner shall be removed only after he shall have been given a copy of the charges against him at least ten (10) days prior to the hearing thereon and provided that such commissioner shall have had an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel. In the event of the removal of a commissioner by the Commissioners Court appointing him, a record of the proceedings, together with the charges and findings thereon, shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county; and in the case of the removal of the commissioner appointed by the commissioners of the regional housing authority, such record shall be filed with the other records of the regional housing authority.

The commissioners appointed as aforesaid shall constitute the regional housing authority, and the powers of such authority shall be vested in such commissioners in office from time to time.

The commissioners of a regional housing authority shall elect a chairman from among the commissioners and shall have power to select or employ such other officers and employees as the regional housing authority may require. A majority of the commissioners of a regional housing authority shall constitute a quorum of such authority for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers and for all other purposes.

Powers of Regional Housing Authority

Sec. 23e. Except as otherwise provided herein, a regional housing authority and the commissioners thereof shall, within the area of operation of such regional housing authority, have the same functions, rights, powers, duties, privileges, immunities and limitations provided for housing authorities created for cities or counties and the commissioners of such housing authorities in the same manner as though all the provisions of law applicable to housing authorities created for cities or counties were applicable to regional housing authorities; provided, that for such purposes the term "Mayor" or "governing body" as used in the Housing Authorities Law shall be construed as meaning "Commissioners Court" and the term "city" as used therein shall be construed as meaning "county" unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context; and provided further that a regional housing authority shall not be subject to the limitations provided in clause (c) of Section 10 of the Housing Authorities Law with respect to housing projects for farmers of low income. A regional housing authority shall have power to select any appropriate corporate name.

Rural Housing Projects

Sec. 23f. County housing authorities and regional housing authorities are specifically empowered and authorized to borrow money, accept grants and exercise their other powers to provide housing for farmers of low income. In connection with such projects, any such housing authority may enter into such leases or purchase agreements, accept such conveyances and rent or sell dwellings forming part of such projects to or for farmers of low income, as such housing authority deems necessary in order to assure the achievement of the objectives of this Act. Such leases, agreements or conveyances may include such covenants as the housing authority deems appropriate regarding such dwellings and the tracts of land described in any such instrument, which covenants shall be deemed to run with the land where the housing authority deems it necessary and the parties to such instrument so stipulate. Nothing contained in this Section shall be construed as limiting any other powers of any housing authority.

Housing Applications by Farmers

Sec. 23g. The owner of any farm operated, or worked upon, by farmers of low income in need of safe and sanitary housing may file an application with a county housing authority or a regional housing authority requesting that it provide for a safe and sanitary dwelling or dwellings for occupancy by such farmers of low income. Such application shall be received and examined by housing authorities in connection with the formulation of projects or programs to provide housing for farmers of low income.

Farmers of Low Income Defined

Sec. 23h. "Farmers of low income," as used in this Act, shall mean persons or families who at the time of their admission to occupancy in a dwelling of a housing authority: (1) live under unsafe or insanitary housing conditions; (2) derive their principal income from operating or working upon a farm; and (3) had an aggregate average annual net income for the three years preceding their admission that was less than the amount determined by the housing authority to be necessary, within its area of operation, to enable them, without financial assistance, to obtain decent, safe and sanitary housing, without overcrowding.

Severability

Sec. 24. Notwithstanding any other evidence of legislative intent, it is hereby declared to be the controlling legislative intent that if any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provision to persons or circumstances, other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected hereby.

Act Controlling

Sec. 25. In so far as the provisions of this Act are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall be controlling.

Section 2 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 630, ch. 251, provides:

"Section 13a, as added by this Act to Chapter 462, Acts of the 45th Legislature, Regular Session, 1937, as amended (Article 1269k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), does not affect the construction or occupation of a housing project that was authorized by a housing authority before the effective date of this Act."

Section 2 of Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2429, ch. 430, provides:

"The construction of a housing project that was authorized before September 1, 1983, and a permit, certificate, or other authorization obtained before September 1, 1983, are covered by Subsections (a) and (c), Section 13a, Housing Authorities Law (Article 1269k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as those subsections existed when the construction began or the permit, certificate, or authorization was obtained. The former law is continued in effect for this purpose."

Section 4 of Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 1835, ch. 347, provides:

"The amendment to the Housing Authorities Law (Article 1269k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) by this Act does not affect any ground for removal of a commissioner of a housing authority or any criminal offense committed under that Act before the effective date of this Act. A proceeding to enforce such a ground for removal or criminal penalty may be continued or may be initiated on or after the effective date of this Act as if this Act were not in force. The previous law is continued in effect for that purpose. For the purposes of this section, an offense was committed before the effective date of this Act if any element of the offense was committed before that date."

Art. 1269k-1. Bonds or Other Obligations of Housing Authorities as Legal Investments and Security

Authorization; Purpose

Sec. 1. Notwithstanding any restrictions on investments contained in any laws of this State, the State and all public officers, municipal corporations, political subdivisions, and public bodies, all banks, bankers, trust companies, savings banks and institutions, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, investment companies, and other persons carrying on a banking business, all insurance companies, insurance associations and other persons carrying on an insurance business and all executors, administrators, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries may legally invest any sinking funds, moneys or other funds belonging to them or within their control in any bonds or other obligations issued by a housing authority pursuant to the Housing Authorities Law (Chapter 462, Regular Session of the 45th Legislature, as amended by House Bill No. 102, 2nd Called Session of the 45th Legislature, and amendments thereto)¹ or issued by any public housing authority or agency in the United States, when such bonds or other obligations are secured by a pledge of annual contributions to be paid by the United States Government or any agency thereof, or secured or guaranteed by a pledge of the full faith and credit of the United States Government or any agency thereof, and such bonds and other obligations shall be authorized security for all public deposits; it being the purpose of this Act to authorize all persons, firms, corporations, associations, political subdivisions, bodies and officers, public or private, to use any funds owned or controlled by them, including, but not limited to, sinking, insurance, investment, retirement, compensation, pension and trust funds, and funds held on deposit, for the purchase of any such bonds or other obligations; provided, however, that nothing contained in this Act shall be construed as relieving any person, firm, or corporation from any duty of exercising reasonable care in selecting securities.

Sec. 2. [Repeals art. 1269k, § 14-A].

Severability

Sec. 3. Notwithstanding any other evidence of legislative intent, it is hereby declared to be the controlling legislative intent that if any provisions of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, are held invalid the remainder of the Act and the application of such provisions to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

Act Controlling

Art. 1269k-2. Validation of Establishment and Acts of Housing Authorities

Establishment and Organization

Sec. 1. The establishment and organization of housing authorities pursuant to the provisions of the Housing Authorities Law (House Bill Number 821, Chapter 462, page 1144, Regular Session of the Forty-fifth Legislature, as amended by House Bill Number 102, Chapter 41, page 1924, Second Called Session of the Forty-fifth Legislature, as amended by House Bill Number 834, Chapter 1, page 427, Regular Session of the Forty-sixth Legislature, and any amendments thereto),¹ together with all proceedings, acts, and things heretofore undertaken, performed or done with reference thereto, are hereby validated, ratified, confirmed, approved, and declared legal in all respects, notwithstanding any defect or irregularity therein or any want of statutory authority.

Contracts and Undertakings

Sec. 2. All contracts, agreements, obligations, and undertakings of housing authorities heretofore entered into relating to financing or aiding in the development, construction, maintenance, or operation of any housing project or projects or to obtaining aid therefor from the United States Housing Authority, including (without limiting the generality of the foregoing) loan and annual contributions, contracts, and leases with the United States Housing Authority, agreements with municipalities or other public bodies (including agreements which are pledged or authorized to be pledged for the protection of the holders of any notes or bonds issued by housing authorities or which are otherwise made a part of the contract with such holders of notes or bonds) relating to cooperation and contributions in aid of housing projects, payments (if any) in lieu of taxes, furnishing of municipal services and facilities, and the elimination of unsafe and unsanitary dwellings, and contracts for the construction of housing projects, together with all proceedings, acts, and things heretofore undertaken, performed or done with reference thereto, are hereby validated, ratified, confirmed, approved, and declared legal in all respects, notwithstanding any defect or irregularity therein or any want of statutory authority.

Notes and Bonds

Sec. 3. All proceedings, acts, and things heretofore undertaken, performed or done in or for the authorization, issuance, sale, execution, and delivery of notes and bonds by housing authorities for the purpose of financing or aiding in the development or construction of a housing project or projects, and all notes and bonds heretofore issued by housing authorities are hereby validated, ratified, confirmed, approved, and declared legal in all respects, notwithstanding any defect or irregularity therein or any want of statutory authority.

Art. 1269k-3. Validation of Acts, Bonds, Contracts, Etc., of Housing Authorities in Counties of 90,000 to 100,000; National Defense Activities

Sec. 1. The acts of any housing authority created by and organized pursuant to the "Housing Authorities Law" of the State of Texas, and which is located in any county in Texas having a population of not less than ninety thousand (90,000) and not more than one hundred thousand (100,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, in undertaking the development and administration of housing projects to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, whom the housing authority determines would not otherwise be able to secure safe and sanitary dwellings within the vicinity thereof, are hereby validated, ratified, approved, and confirmed in all respects.

Sec. 2. All bonds, notes, contracts, agreements, and obligations of housing authorities created by and organized pursuant to the "Housing Authorities Law" of the State of Texas, and which are located in any county in Texas having a population of not less than ninety thousand (90,000) and not more than one hundred thousand (100,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, heretofore issued or entered into relating to financing or undertaking (including cooperating with or acting as agent of the Federal Government in) the development or administration of any housing project to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, are hereby validated, ratified, approved, confirmed, and declared enforceable in all respects.

[Acts 1941, 47th Leg., p. 1301, ch. 576.]

Art. 1269k-4. Projects by Housing Authorities to Make Available Dwellings for Persons in National Defense Activities

Declaration of Necessity

Sec. 1. It is hereby found and declared that the national defense program involves large increases in the military forces and personnel in this State, a great increase in the number of workers in already established manufacturing centers, and the bringing of a large number of workers and their families to new centers of defense industries in the State; that there is an acute shortage of safe and sanitary dwellings available to such persons and their families in this State, which impedes the national defense program; that it is imperative that action be taken immediately to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for such persons, to enable the rapid expansion of national defense activities in this State and to avoid a large labor turnover in defense industries which would seriously hamper their production; that the provisions hereinafter enacted are necessary to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, which otherwise would not be provided at this time; and that such provisions are for the public use and purpose of facilitating the national defense program in this State. It is further declared to be the purpose of this Act to authorize housing authorities to do any and all things necessary or desirable to secure the financial aid of the Federal Government, or to cooperate with or act as agent of the Federal Government, in the expeditious development and the administration of projects to assure the availability, when needed, of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities.

Time Limit for Initiation of Development; Rights and Powers of Authority; Definitions

Sec. 2. Any housing authority may undertake the development and administration of projects to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, whom the housing authority determines would not otherwise be able to secure safe and sanitary dwellings within the vicinity thereof; but no housing authority shall initiate the development of any such project pursuant to this Act after December 31, 1943.

In the ownership, development or administration of such projects, a housing authority shall have all the rights, powers, privileges and immunities that such authority has under any provision of law relating to the ownership, development or administration of slum clearance and housing projects for persons of low income, in the same manner as though all the provisions of law applicable to slum clearance and housing projects for persons of low income were applicable to projects developed or administered to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities as provided in this Act; and housing projects developed or administered hereunder shall constitute "housing projects" under the Housing Authorities Law, as that term is used therein; provided, that during the period (herein called the "National Defense Period") that a housing authority finds (which finding shall be conclusive in any suit, action or proceeding) that within its area of operation (as defined in the Housing Authorities Law), or any part thereof, there is an acute shortage of safe and sanitary dwellings, which impedes the national defense program in this State, and that the necessary safe and sanitary dwellings would not otherwise be provided when needed for persons engaged in national defense activities, any project developed or administered by such housing authority (or by any housing authority cooperating with it) in such area pursuant to this Act, with the financial aid of the Federal Government (or as agent for the Federal Government as hereinafter provided), shall not be subject to the limitations provided in Section 10 and the second sentence of Section 9 of the Housing Authorities Law;¹ and provided further, that, during the National Defense Period, a housing authority may make payments in such amounts as it finds necessary or desirable for any services, facilities, works, privileges or improvements furnished for or in connection with any such projects. After the National Defense Period, any such projects owned and administered by a housing authority shall be administered for the purposes and in accordance with the provisions of the Housing Authorities Law.

Cooperation with Federal Government; Sale of Project to Federal Government

Sec. 3. A housing authority may exercise any or all of its powers for the purpose of cooperating with, or acting as agent for, the Federal Government, in the development or administration of projects by the Federal Government, to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, and may undertake the development or administration of any such project for the Federal Government. In order to assure the availability of safe and sanitary housing for persons engaged in national defense activities, a housing authority may sell (in whole or in part) to the Federal Government, any housing project developed for persons of low income but not yet occupied by such persons; such sale shall be at such price and upon such terms as the housing authority shall prescribe, and shall include provision for the satisfaction of all debts and liabilities of the authority relating to such project.

Cooperation with Federal Government by other State Public Bodies

Sec. 4. Any state public body, as defined in the Housing Cooperation Law (House Bill No. 820, Regular Session of the 45th Legislature, page 1141, as amended by House Bill No. 103, Second Called Session of the 45th Legislature, page 1940,¹ and any additional amendments thereto) shall have the same rights and powers to cooperate with housing authorities, or with the Federal Government, with respect to the development or administration of projects, to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, that such state public body has pursuant to such Law for the purpose of assisting the development or administration of slum clearance or housing projects for persons of low income.

Bonds as Security for Public Deposits and as Legal Investments

Sec. 5. Bonds or other obligations issued by a housing authority for a project developed or administered pursuant to this Act, shall be security for public deposits and legal investments to the same extent and for the same persons, institutions, associations, corporations, bodies and officers, as bonds or other obligations issued pursuant to the Housing Authorities Law¹ for the development of a slum clearance or housing project for persons of low income.

Validation of Bonds, Notes, Contracts, and Obligations

Sec. 6. All bonds, notes, contracts, agreements and obligations of housing authorities heretofore issued or entered into relating to financing or undertaking (including cooperating with or acting as agent of the Federal Government) in the development or administration of any project to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, are hereby validated and declared legal in all respects, notwithstanding any defects or irregularities therein, or any want of statutory authority.

Act as Independent Authorization

Sec. 7. This Act shall constitute an independent authorization for a housing authority to undertake the development or administration of projects to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, as provided in this Act, and for a housing authority to cooperate with, or act as agent for, the Federal Government in the development or administration of similar projects by the Federal Government. In acting under this authorization, a housing authority shall not be subject to any limitations, restrictions or requirements of other laws (except those relating to land acquisition) prescribing the procedure or action to be taken in the development or administration of any public works, including slum clearance and housing projects for persons of low income, or undertakings or projects of municipal or public corporations or political subdivisions, or agencies of the State. A housing authority may do any and all things necessary or desirable to cooperate with, or act as Agent for, the Federal Government, or to secure financial aid, in the expeditious development or in the administration of projects to assure the availability of safe and sanitary dwellings for persons engaged in national defense activities, and to effectuate the purposes of this Act.

Definitions

Sec. 8. (a) "Persons engaged in national defense activities," as used in this Act, shall include: enlisted men in the military and naval services of the United States and employees of the War and Navy Departments assigned to duty at military or naval reservations, posts or bases; and workers engaged, or to be engaged, in industries connected with, and essential to, the national defense program; and shall include the families of the aforesaid persons who are living with them.

(b) "Persons of low income," as used in this Act, shall mean persons or families who lack the amount of income which is necessary (as determined by the housing authority undertaking the housing project) to enable them, without financial assistance, to live in decent, safe and sanitary dwellings, without overcrowding.

(c) "Development" as used in this Act, shall mean any and all undertakings necessary for the planning, land acquisition, demolition, financing, construction or equipment in connection with a project (including the negotiations or award of contracts therefor), and shall include the acquisition of any project (in whole or in part) from the Federal Government.

(d) "Administration," as used in this Act, shall mean any and all undertakings necessary for management, operation or maintenance, in connection with any project, and shall include the leasing of any project (in whole or in part) from the Federal Government.

(e) "Federal Government," as used in this Act, shall mean the United States of America or any agency or instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, of the United States of America.

(f) The development of a project shall be deemed to be "initiated", within the meaning of this Act, if a housing authority has issued any bonds, notes or other obligations with respect to financing the development of such project of the authority, or has contracted with the Federal Government, with respect to the exercise of powers hereunder, in the development of such project of the Federal Government for which an allocation of funds has been made prior to December 31, 1943.

(g) "Housing Authority", as used in this Act, shall mean any housing authority established or hereafter established pursuant to the Housing Authorities Law (House Bill No. 821, Regular Session of the 45th Legislature, page 1144, as amended by House Bill No. 102, Second Called Session of the 45th Legislature, page 1924, as amended by Section 2 of House Bill No. 834, Regular Session of the 46th Legislature, page 427, and any additional amendments thereto).¹

Powers Additional and Supplemental

Sec. 9. The powers conferred by this Act shall be in addition, and supplemental, to the powers conferred by any other law, and nothing contained herein shall be construed as limiting any other powers of a housing authority.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 10. Notwithstanding any other evidence of legislative intent, it is hereby declared to be the controlling legislative intent that if any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any persons or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 1269L. Housing Co-operation LawShort Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be referred to as the "Housing Co-operation Law."

Finding and Declaration of Necessity

Sec. 2. It has been found and declared in the Housing Authorities Law that there exist in the State unsafe and insanitary housing conditions and a shortage of safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations for persons of low income; that these conditions necessitate excessive and disproportionate expenditures of public funds for crime prevention and punishment, public health and safety, fire and accident protection, and other public services and facilities; and that the public interest requires the remedying of these conditions. It is hereby found and declared that the assistance herein provided for the remedying of the conditions set forth in the Housing Authorities Law constitutes a public use and purpose and an essential governmental function for which public moneys may be spent and other aid given; that it is a proper public purpose for any State Public Body to aid any housing authority operating within its boundaries or jurisdiction or any housing project located therein, as the State Public Body derives immediate benefits and advantages from such an authority or project; and that the provisions hereinafter enacted are necessary in the public interest.

Definitions

Sec. 3. The following terms, whenever used or referred to in this Act shall have the following respective meanings, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(a) "Housing authority" shall mean any housing authority created pursuant to the Housing Authorities Law of this State.

(b) "Housing project" shall mean any work or undertaking of a housing authority pursuant to the Housing Authorities Law or any similar work or undertaking of the Federal Government.

(c) "State Public Body" shall mean any city, town, county, municipal corporation, commission, district, authority, other subdivision or public body of the State.

(d) "Governing Body" shall mean the council, Commissioners Court, board, or other body having charge of the fiscal affairs of the State Public Body.

(e) "Federal Government" shall mean the United States of America, the United States Housing Authority, or any other agency or instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, of the United States of America.

Cooperation in Undertaking Housing Projects

Sec. 4. For the purpose of aiding and cooperating in the planning, undertaking, construction or operation of housing projects located within the area in which it is authorized to act, any State Public Body may upon such terms, as it may determine:

(a) Dedicate, sell, convey or lease any of its property to a housing authority or the Federal Government;

(b) Cause parks, playgrounds, recreational, community, educational, water, sewer or drainage facilities, or any other works, which it is otherwise empowered to undertake, to be furnished adjacent to or in connection with housing projects;

(c) Furnish, dedicate, close, pave, install, grade, regrade, plan or replan streets, roads, roadways, alleys, sidewalks or other places which it is otherwise empowered to undertake;

(d) Plan or replan, zone or re-zone any part of such State Public Body; make exceptions from building regulations or ordinances; any city or town also may change its map;

(e) Enter into agreements, (which may extend over any period, notwithstanding any provision or rule of law to the contrary) with a housing authority or the Federal Government respecting action to be taken by such State Public Body pursuant to any of the powers granted by this Act; and

(f) Do any and all things, necessary or convenient to aid and co-operate in the planning, undertaking, construction, or operation of such housing projects.

(g) Purchase or legally invest in any of the bonds of a housing authority and exercise all of the rights of any holder of such bonds.

(h) With respect to any housing project which a housing authority has acquired or taken over from the Federal Government and which the housing authority by resolution has found and declared to have been constructed in a manner that will promote the public interest and afford necessary safety, sanitation, and other protection, no State Public Body shall require any changes to be made in the housing project or the manner of its construction or take any other action relating to such construction.

(i) In connection with any public improvements made by a State Public Body in exercising the powers herein granted, such State Public Body may incur the entire expense thereof. Any law or Statute to the contrary notwithstanding, any sale, conveyance, lease, or agreement provided for in this Section may be made by a State Public Body without appraisal, public notice, advertisement, or public bidding.

Further Cooperation in Undertaking Housing Projects

Sec. 4-a. For the purpose of aiding and cooperating in the planning, undertaking, construction or operation of housing projects located within the area in which it is authorized to act, any State Public Body may upon such terms as it may determine: (a) enter into agreements with respect to the exercise by such State Public Body of its powers relating to the repair, elimination or closing of unsafe, insanitary or unfit dwellings; and (b) cause services to be furnished to the housing authority of the character which it is otherwise empowered to furnish.

Contracts for Payments for Services

Sec. 5. In connection with any housing project located wholly or partly within the area in which it is authorized to act, any State Public Body may contract with a housing authority or the Federal Government with respect to the sum or sums (if any) which the housing authority or the Federal Government may agree to pay during any year or period of years, to the State Public Body for the improvements, services and facilities to be furnished by it for the benefit of said housing project, but in no event shall the amount of such payments exceed the estimated cost to the State Public Body of the improvements, services or facilities to be so furnished; provided, however, that the absence of a contract for such payments shall in no way relieve any State Public Body from the duty to furnish, for the benefit of said housing project, customary improvements and such services and facilities as such State Public Body usually furnished without a service fee.

Loans to Housing Authority

Sec. 6. When any housing authority which is created for any city, becomes authorized to transact business and exercise its powers therein, the governing body of the city shall immediately make an estimate of the amount of money necessary for the administrative expenses and overhead of such housing authority during the first year thereafter, and shall appropriate such amount to the authority out of any moneys in such city treasury not appropriated to some other purposes. The moneys so appropriated shall be paid to the authority as a loan. Any city located in whole or in part within the area of operation of a housing authority shall have the power from time to time to lend money to the authority or to agree to take such action. The housing authority, when it has money available therefor, shall make reimbursements for all such loans made to it.

Procedure for Exercising Powers

Sec. 7. The exercise by a State Public Body of the powers herein granted may be authorized by resolution of the governing body of such State Public Body adopted by a majority of the members of its governing body present at a meeting of said governing body, which resolutions may be adopted at the meeting at which such resolution is introduced. Such a resolution or resolutions shall take effect immediately and need not be laid over or published or posted.

Notice of Proposed Action; Petitions and Election

Sec. 7-a. None of the actions named in this Act shall ever be consummated until the governing body of such state public body shall have given notice of its intention to enter into a cooperation agreement with a housing authority, such notice to be given by publishing a copy thereof in its officially designated newspaper, if it has one, at least twice; which notice shall state that at the expiration of sixty (60) days the governing body will consider the question of whether or not it will enter into a cooperation agreement. If, during such sixty-day period, there is presented to the governing body a petition that an election be held on the question of whether or not such governing body shall enter into such cooperation agreement, signed by two thousand (2,000) or five per cent (5%), in number, of all the qualified voters of such state public body, and such petition is found to have the requisite number of legally qualified voters, then it shall be the duty of the governing body to order an election to be held for such purpose at such time as it may designate in the election call; provided, however, that no such election shall be held unless two (2) weeks notice is given as is presently required by law to be given in connection with elections on the question of issuing tax supported bonds. All qualified voters residing in such state public body shall be entitled to vote at such election, and if a majority of those shall be entitled to vote at such election, and if a majority of those voting at such election shall vote in favor of such cooperation agreement, the governing body shall execute such cooperation agreement.

Provided, however, the governing body of said state public body may on its own motion call an election to be held on the question of whether such governing body shall enter into such cooperation agreement. All qualified voters residing in such state public body shall be entitled to vote at such election, and if a majority of those voting at such election shall vote in favor of such cooperation agreement, the governing body of such state public body shall then be authorized to execute such cooperation agreement.

In the event such governing body of a state public body fails or refuses to give notice of its intention to enter into a cooperation agreement with a "Housing Authority" or fails or refuses on its own motion to submit said proposition to the qualified voters of such state public body, as hereinabove provided, then upon the filing of a petition demanding same signed by two thousand (2,000) or five per cent (5%) in number of the qualified voters of said state public body, the governing body of said state public body shall order an election for the purpose of submitting a proposition for the approval of such "Housing Project". All qualified voters residing in such state public body shall be entitled to vote at such election, and if a majority of those voting at such election shall vote in favor of such cooperation agreement, the governing body shall then be authorized to execute such cooperation agreement; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not affect any actions taken or to be taken by a state public body with respect to a "Housing Project" for which a cooperation agreement as that term is defined by this Article has been executed prior to the effective date of this Act. The law pertaining to elections for the issuance of city and county bonds as contained in Chapters 1 and 2, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes, 1925, insofar as applicable to and not inconsistent with the provisions of this section, shall govern the elections herein provided for.

Supplemental Nature of Act

Sec. 8. The powers conferred by this Act shall be in addition and supplemental to the powers conferred by any other law.

Severability

Sec. 9. Notwithstanding any other evidence of legislative intent, it is hereby declared to be the controlling legislative intent that if any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 1269L-1. Rent Control

Sec. 1. Rent control as established by the Act of the Eighty-first Congress of the United States, extending rent control for a period of fifteen (15) months from and after March 31, 1949, as further described in Housing and Rent Act of 1949, H.R. 1731,¹ is hereby abolished in the State of Texas and is declared to be no longer needed in the State of Texas, and all Federal rent controls are hereby declared no longer needed in the State of Texas.

Sec. 1a. It is further provided however that the governing body of any city or town may, by ordinance duly passed, finding that a housing emergency exists, establish rent control in such city or town for the duration of such housing emergency provided that the ordinance so passed is approved by the Governor of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. If any part, Section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word contained in this Act shall be held by the courts to be unconstitutional or invalid, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act, and the Legislature hereby declares that it would have enacted, and does here now enact, such remaining portions despite any such invalidity.

Art. 1269L-2. State Department of Health; Planning and Assistance for Political Subdivisions; Acceptance of Federal Grants for Housing

The Texas State Department of Health is hereby authorized, upon the request of the governing body of any political subdivision or the authorized agency of any group of political subdivisions: (a) to arrange planning assistance (including surveys, community renewal plans, technical services, and other planning work) and to arrange for the making of a study or report upon any planning problem of any such political subdivision or political subdivisions submitted to the State Department of Health, provided, however, that the employees of the State Department of Health shall not themselves make such surveys, studies, or reports; (b) to agree with such governing body or the agency of such governing bodies as to the amount, if any, to be paid to the State Department of Health for such service; and

(c) to apply for and accept grants from the Federal Government or other sources in connection with any such assistance, study, or report, and to contract with respect thereto. The regular functions of the Texas State Department of Health may be utilized in this program, provided that any additional employees shall be paid from sources other than General Revenue Funds of the State.

Art. 1269L-2.1. Governor's Office; Planning Assistance for Political Subdivisions; Payment; Federal Grants; Transfer of Property, Etc.

Sec. 1. The governor or his designated representative is hereby authorized, upon request to¹ the governing body of any political subdivision or the authorized agency of any group of political subdivisions:

(a) to arrange planning assistance (including surveys, community renewal plans, technical services, and other planning work) and to arrange for the making of a study or report upon any planning problem of any such political subdivision or political subdivisions submitted to the governor or his representative;

(b) to agree with such governing body or the agency of such governing bodies as to the amount, if any, to be paid to the governor's office for such service; and

(c) to apply for and accept grants from the federal government or other sources in connection with any such assistance, study or report, and to contract with respect thereto. The regular functions of the office of the governor or other state agencies may be utilized in this program.

Sec. 2. All property, records, and personnel used by the State Department of Health in administering such programs for planning assistance as are authorized in this Act are transferred to the governor's office.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall take effect and be in full force on and after September 1, 1969.

Sec. 4. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

Art. 1269L-3. Urban Renewal LawShort Title

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Urban Renewal Law."

Findings and Declarations of Necessity

Sec. 2. It is hereby found and declared that there exist in cities of the State slum and blighted areas (as herein defined) which constitute a serious and growing menace, injurious and inimical to the public health, safety, morals and welfare of the residents of the State; that the existence of such areas contributes substantially and increasingly to the spread of disease and crime, necessitating excessive and disproportionate expenditures of public funds for the preservation of the public health and safety, for crime prevention, correction, prosecution, and punishment and for the treatment of juvenile delinquency and for the maintenance of adequate police, fire and accident protection and other public services and facilities, and that the existence of such areas constitutes an economic and social liability, substantially impairs or arrests the sound growth of such cities and retards the provision of housing accommodations; that the prevention and elimination of slum and blighted areas is a matter of State policy and State concern in order that the State and its cities shall not continue to be endangered by areas which are focal centers of disease, constitute pernicious environments for the young, and while contributing little to the tax income of the State and its cities, consume an excessive proportion of its revenues because of the extra services required for police, fire and other forms of protection; that by such prevention and elimination property values, freed from the depressing influence of blight, will be stabilized, and tax burdens will be distributed more equitably, and the financial and capital resources of the State, required for the prosperity of, and provision of necessary governmental services to, its people, will be strengthened; that this menace can best be remedied by conjunctive action of private enterprise, of the cities through the regulatory process and the exercise of other powers provided hereunder, and of other public bodies, acting pursuant to approved urban renewal plans; that the carrying out of plans for a program of voluntary or compulsory repair and rehabilitation of buildings and improvements in such areas, the public acquisition of real property and demolition or removal of buildings and improvements where necessary to eliminate slum conditions or conditions of blight or to prevent the development, spread or recurrence of such conditions in such areas, the disposition of any property acquired in such areas incidental to the foregoing, and any assistance which may be given by any public body in connection therewith, are public uses and purposes for which public money may be expended and the power of eminent domain exercised; and that the necessity in the public interest for the provisions herein enacted is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

It is further found and declared that slum and blighted areas, if permitted to continue without the governmental aids herein provided, will produce the conditions and evils hereinabove enumerated; that a slum area or a badly deteriorated area may require clearance therefrom of the buildings and improvements thereon, as provided in this Act, since the prevailing condition of decay may make impracticable the reclamation of the area by rehabilitation; that a less deteriorated area, a deteriorating area, or an area blighted for other reasons may, through the means provided in this Act, be susceptible of rehabilitation in such manner that the conditions and evils hereinabove enumerated may be remedied or prevented; and that it is the intent of this Act that to the greatest extent feasible, and compatible with sound and enduring urban renewal objectives—to wit, eliminating slums and urban blight, preventing the spread or recurrence thereof, and remedying the physical causes thereof in terms of blighted properties—private enterprise shall, in the administration of this Act, be encouraged to carry out such objectives to the extent of its capacity to do so with the assistance of the aids herein provided.

Not Available for Public Housing; Exception; Election

Sec. 3. (a) No real property acquired under the provisions of this Act shall be sold, leased, granted, conveyed or otherwise made available for any public housing, except as provided in subsection (b) of this Section.

(b) Real property acquired under the provisions of this Act may be sold, leased, granted, conveyed or otherwise made available for public housing if an election is held at which a majority of the qualified electors voting approve that use of the property. The election shall be called and held in the same way that an election is called and held under Section 5 of this Act, except that any qualified voter of the city may vote at the election. At the election, the ballots shall be printed to permit voting for or against the proposition: "Permitting the use of land acquired by urban renewal for public housing."

(c) If the qualified voters of a city have approved the use of land acquired under this Act for public housing, an election may be called for the purpose of prohibiting the use of land of that type for public housing. The election shall be called and held in the same manner as an election held under subsection (b) of this Section, except the ballots shall be printed to permit voting for or against the proposition: "Prohibiting the use of land acquired by urban renewal for public housing." If a majority of the qualified electors voting favor prohibiting the use of land acquired by urban renewal for public housing, the prohibition contained in subsection (a) of this Section applies. An election which results in prohibiting the use of land acquired by urban renewal for public housing does not affect land which has been sold, leased, granted, conveyed or otherwise made available for public housing at the time of the election.

(d) When an election is held under this Section, no other election may be held under this Section in the same city for a period of one year.

Definitions

Sec. 4. The following terms wherever used or referred to in this Act, shall have the following meanings, unless a different meaning is clearly indicated by the context.

(a) "Agency" or "Urban Renewal Agency" shall mean a public agency created by Section 16 of this Act.

(b) "City" shall mean any incorporated city, town or village in the State of Texas.

(c) "Public body" shall mean the State of Texas or any political subdivision thereof, or any department, agency or instrumentality of any such public body.

(d) "City Council" shall mean the city council or other legislative body charged with governing the city.

(e) "Mayor" shall mean the mayor or other chief executive officer of a city.

(f) "Clerk" shall mean the clerk or other official of the city who is the custodian of the official records of such city.

(g) "Federal Government" shall include the United States of America or any agency or instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, of the United States of America.

(h) "Slum Area" shall mean an area within a city in which there is a predominance of either residential or nonresidential buildings or improvements which are in a state of dilapidation, deterioration or obsolescence due to their age, or for other reasons; or an area in which inadequate provisions have been made for open spaces and which is thus conducive to high population densities and overcrowding of population; or an area of open land which, because of its location and/or situation within the city limits of a city, is necessary for sound community growth, by re-platting and planning and development, for predominantly residential uses; or an area in which conditions exist, due to any of the hereinabove named causes, or any combination thereof, which endanger life or property by fire or by other causes, or which is conducive to the ill-health of the inhabitants of the area or to the transmission of disease, and to the incidence of abnormally high rates of infant mortality, or which is conducive to abnormally high rates of crime and juvenile delinquency, or which is not conducive to an orderly development by reason of inadequate and/or improper platting with adequate lots for residential development of lots, streets and public utilities, and is thus an area which is detrimental to the public health, safety, morals or welfare of the city.

(i) "Blighted Area" shall mean an area (other than a slum area) which, by reason of the presence therein of slum or deteriorated or deteriorating residential or nonresidential buildings, structures, or improvements, or by reason of the predominance therein of defective or inadequate streets or defective or inadequate street layout or accessibility, or by reason of the existence therein of insanitary, unhealthful or other hazardous conditions which endanger the public health, safety, morals or welfare of the inhabitants thereof and of the city, or by reason of the predominance therein of the deterioration of site or other improvements, or by reason of the existence therein of conditions which endanger life, or property by fire or from other causes, or by reason of the existence therein of any combination of the hereinabove stated causes, factors, or conditions, results in a condition in that area which substantially retards or arrests the provisions of a sound and healthful housing environment, or which thereby results in and constitutes an economic or social liability to the city, and is thus a menace, in its present condition and use, to the public health, safety, morals or public welfare of the city, provided, that any disaster area referred to in Section 7(h) of this Act shall constitute a blighted area.

(j) "Urban Renewal Project" may include undertakings of a city (as herein defined) in an urban renewal area for the elimination and for the prevention of the development or spread of slums and blight, and may involve slum clearance and redevelopment (as herein defined) in an urban renewal area, or rehabilitation or conservation (as herein defined) in an urban renewal area, and may include open land which, because of its location and/or situation, is necessary for sound community growth which is to be developed, by re-platting and planning, for predominantly residential uses, or any combination or part thereof in accordance with the urban renewal plan therefor.

(k) "Urban Renewal Activities" shall, wherever used in this Act, include "slum clearance and redevelopment" or "rehabilitation or conservation" which shall be limited to clearance or rehabilitation measures or any combination thereof which might be required to prevent further deterioration of an area which is tending to become either a blighted or a slum area and shall specifically include: (1) acquisition of (i) a slum area or a blighted area or portion thereof or (ii) land which is predominately open and which because of obsolete platting, diversity of ownership, deterioration of structures or of site improvements or otherwise, substantially impairs or arrests the sound growth of the community; (2) demolition and removal of buildings and improvements; (3) installation, construction, or reconstruction of streets, utilities, parks, playgrounds and other improvements necessary for carrying out in the urban renewal area the urban renewal objectives of this Act in accordance with the urban renewal plan; (4) disposition of any property acquired in the urban renewal area including sale, initial leasing or retention by the city at its fair value for uses in accordance with the urban renewal plan; (5) carrying out plans for a program of voluntary repair and rehabilitation of buildings or other improvements in accordance with the urban renewal plan; and (6) acquisition of any real property in the urban renewal area where necessary to remove or prevent the spread of blight or deterioration or to provide land for needed public facilities.

(l) "Urban Renewal Area" shall mean a slum area or a blighted area or a combination thereof, which the city council designates as appropriate for an urban renewal project.

(m) "Urban Renewal Plan" shall mean a plan for an urban renewal project, which plan (1) shall conform to the general plan of the city as a whole, except as provided in Section 7(h) of this Act and (2) shall be sufficiently complete to indicate zoning and planning changes, if any; building requirements; land uses; maximum densities; such land acquisition, redevelopment, rehabilitation, and demolition and removal of structures as may be proposed for the urban renewal area; and the plan's relationship to local objectives respecting public transportation, traffic conditions, public utilities, recreational and community facilities, and other improvements.

(n) "Real Property" shall include all lands, including improvements and fixtures thereon, and property of any nature appurtenant thereto, or used in connection therewith, and every estate, interest, right and use, legal or equitable, therein, including terms for years and liens by way of judgment, mortgage or otherwise.

(o) "Bonds" shall mean any bonds (including refunding bonds), notes, interim certificates, certificates of indebtedness, debentures or other obligations.

(p) "Obligee" shall include any bondholder, agents or trustees for any bondholders, or lessor demising to the city property used in connection with an urban renewal project, or any assignee or assignees of such lessor's interest or any part thereof, and the Federal Government when it is a party to any contract with the city.

(q) "Person" shall mean any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, association, joint stock association, or body politic; and shall include any trustee, receiver, assignee, or other person acting in a similar representative capacity.

(r) "Area of Operation" shall mean the area within the corporate limits of a city.

(s) "Board" or "Commission" shall mean a board, commission, department, division, office, body or other unit of the city through which the city elects, pursuant to Section 15 hereof, to perform powers, functions or duties under this Act.

(t) "Conservation" shall mean the preserving, protecting and keeping of an area which is susceptible to blight from succumbing to blight.

(u) "Deteriorated" shall mean the impairment as to quality, character, value or safety due to use, wear and tear or other physical causes.

(v) "Planning Commission" shall mean a planning commission established pursuant to law or charter.

(w) "Rehabilitate" shall mean to restore to a former state of solvency, efficiency or the like. "Rehabilitation" shall mean the restoration of buildings or structures in order to prevent deterioration of an area which is tending to become either a blighted or slum area.

(x) When this Act is applied to a county, "mayor" means county judge, "city council" means the commissioners court, and the "city" means county, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(y) "Comptroller" means the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas.

(z) "Captured Market Value" means any amount by which the current market value of property within the boundaries of an urban renewal project area exceeds its market value at the time such urban renewal project was designated in accordance with the requirements of this Act.

(aa) "Taxable Property" means all real taxable property, but shall not include personal property or intangible property.

(bb) "Tax Assessor-Collector" means the tax assessor-collector of the municipality.

(cc) "Taxing Entity" means any governmental unit, including the State and its political subdivisions, but not including municipalities, authorized by law to levy taxes on property located within an urban renewal project area.

(dd) "Tax Increment" means that amount of property taxes levied and collected each year on property within an urban renewal project area in excess of the amount levied and collected on such property during the year prior to the date of adoption of the urban renewal project plan. A tax increment is calculated by multiplying the total in property taxes levied and collected by the municipality and all other taxing entities on the taxable property within an urban renewal project area in any year by a fraction having a numerator equal to that year's market value of all taxable property in such area minus the tax incremental base and a denominator equal to that year's market value of all taxable property in such area.

(ee) "Tax Incremental Base" means the aggregate market value of all taxable property within an urban renewal project area on the date of approval of the urban renewal project plan in accordance with the requirements of this Act.

(ff) "Tax Increment Fund" means a fund into which all tax increments produced from the captured market value of property located within an urban renewal project area are paid, and from which moneys are disbursed to pay costs with respect to such project or to satisfy claims of holders of tax increment bonds issued with respect to such project.

Finding of Necessity; Powers of Counties

Sec. 5. (a) No city shall exercise any of the powers conferred upon cities by this Act until after the City Council shall have adopted a resolution, after giving notice and ordering an election on the question of whether the City Council shall adopt such resolution, finding that: (1) one or more slum or blighted areas exist in such city; and (2) the rehabilitation, conservation, or slum clearance and redevelopment, or a combination thereof, of such area or areas is necessary in the interest of public health, safety, morals or welfare of the residents of such city. Such notice shall be published at least twice in the newspaper officially designated by the City Council and shall state that on a date certain, which date shall be stated in the notice and shall be not less than sixty (60) days after the publication of the first of such notices, the City Council will consider the question of whether or not it will order an election to determine if it should adopt such a resolution. On the date specified in the notice to consider such question the City Council may, on its own motion, call an election to determine whether it shall adopt such a resolution and shall, in any event, call such election if there has been presented to it during such period a petition that such election be held, signed by at least five per cent (5%) of the legally qualified voters residing in such city and owning taxable property within the boundaries thereof, duly rendered for taxation. If it be determined to call such an election, at least thirty (30) day's notice thereof shall be given. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, no powers granted by this Act shall be exercised by any city until an election shall have been held as herein provided with a majority of the votes cast at such election being cast in favor of the exercise of such powers by such city. Only qualified voters residing in said city, owning taxable property within the boundaries thereof, who have duly rendered the same for taxation, shall be entitled to vote at such election. If a majority of those voting at such election shall vote in favor of the adoption of such resolution, the City Council shall then be authorized to adopt it. If a majority of those voting at such election shall vote against the adoption of such resolution, the City Council shall not adopt it and such resolution shall not again be proposed within the period of one (1) year.

(b) Any county that has a population of more than 700,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may exercise all powers provided for cities under this Act. Those powers may be exercised only with respect to areas of the county not inside the corporate limits of a city or town. The county may not exercise any power under this Act unless the commissioners court adopts a resolution as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, the adoption of which has been first approved at an election. The election shall be held throughout the county in the same way an election is held in a city under Subsection (a) of this section. The adoption of a resolution is not approved unless a majority of the voters voting on the question in the entire county as well as in each incorporated city and town in the county approves adoption. In cities only partly in the county, only voters residing in the county may vote.

Alternate Method of Approval

Sec. 5a. Provisions in Section 5 to the contrary notwithstanding, any city which has not approved the exercise of urban renewal powers pursuant to Section 5 prior to the enactment of this Section may, in lieu of complying with Section 5, approve the exercise of urban renewal powers for a specific urban renewal project in the following manner:

(a) An election to approve an urban renewal project shall be called and held in the same manner that elections are called and held under Section 5 of this Act. Only qualified voters residing in the city, who own taxable property within the boundaries thereof duly rendered for taxation, may vote at the election.

(b) The resolution calling the election and the notice of the election shall contain the following information:

(1) a complete legal description of the area included in the proposed project;

(2) a statement of the nature of the proposed project; and

(3) the total amount of local funds to be spent on the proposed project.

(c) The ballot proposition at the election need not contain a complete legal description of the area included in the project, but shall contain a general description of the area which is sufficient to give notice to the voters of where the proposed project is to be carried out. The proposition shall also contain a statement of the nature of the proposed project and the total amount of local funds to be spent on the project.

(d) If the ballot proposition is approved, the city may not exceed in any respect the limitations imposed on the project in the resolution calling the election with respect to the area, nature, or amount of local funds to be spent on the project. If the city desires to expand the project beyond any of those limitations, the proposed expansion must be approved at an election in the same manner as an original project.

(e) Voter approval is not required for preliminary planning of an urban renewal project.

(f) This Section shall not require any further elections, resolutions or actions of any city presently exercising the powers conferred by this Act. All elections, findings, actions, determinations, decisions, rules, regulations and conveyances of any city or agency exercising the powers conferred by this Act are hereby ratified, validated and confirmed; except such elections, findings, actions, determinations, decisions, rules, regulations or conveyances which are the subject of litigation pending at the time of enactment of this amendment.

Approval of Tax Increment Financing

Sec. 5b. A city may not use the tax increment method of financing prescribed by Sections 22a, 22b, 22c, and 22d of this Act unless a majority of the qualified voters of the city voting on the question, who own taxable property within the city that is duly rendered for taxation, approve that method of financing in an election held by the city. At an election held under this section, the ballots shall provide for voting for or against the proposition: "Use of tax increment financing for urban renewal purposes." An election under this section may be held in conjunction with an election held under Section 5 or 5a of this Act. This referendum shall not be necessary if the constitutional amendment on tax increment financing is approved by the voters.

Workable Program

Sec. 6. A city, in furtherance of the urban renewal objectives of this Act, may formulate a workable program for utilizing appropriate private and public resources (including those specified in Section 8 hereof) to encourage needed urban rehabilitation, to provide for the redevelopment of slum and blighted areas, or to undertake such of the aforesaid activities or other feasible municipal activities as may be suitably employed to achieve the objective of such a workable program. Such workable program should include specifically, without limitation, provision for the prevention of the spread of blight into areas of the city which are free from blight, through diligent enforcement of housing and occupancy controls and standards; the rehabilitation or conservation of slum and blighted areas, in so far as it shall be practicable to convert them into areas free from blight, by replanning, removing congestion, providing parks, playgrounds and other public improvements, encouraging voluntary rehabilitation, and compelling the repair and rehabilitation of deteriorated or deteriorating structures; and the clearance and redevelopment of slum areas.

Preparation and Approval of Urban Renewal Plan

Sec. 7. (a) A city shall not prepare an urban renewal plan for an urban renewal area unless the City Council has, by resolution, determined such an area to be a slum area or a blighted area or a combination thereof, and designated such area as appropriate for an urban renewal project. The City Council shall not approve an urban renewal plan until a general plan for the city has been prepared. A city shall not acquire real property for an urban renewal project unless the City Council has approved the urban renewal plan in accordance with subsection (d) hereof.

(b) Any person or agency, public or private, may submit an urban renewal plan to the city. Prior to its approval of such an urban renewal plan, the City Council shall submit such proposed plan to the urban renewal agency and the planning commission of the city, if any, for review and recommendations as to its conformity with the general plan for the development of the city as a whole. The agency and planning commission shall submit their written recommendations with respect to the proposed urban renewal plan to the City Council within thirty (30) days after receipt of the plan for review. Upon receipt of such recommendations or, if no recommendations are received within said thirty (30) days, then without such recommendations, the City Council may proceed with the hearing on the proposed urban renewal plan prescribed by subsection (c) hereof.

(c) The City Council shall hold a public hearing on the proposed urban renewal plan before it may approve the urban renewal plan, after notice of hearing has been given by publication three (3) times in a newspaper having a general circulation in the city, the first of which notices shall be published at least thirty (30) days prior to the hearing. Such notice shall describe the time, date, place and purpose of the hearing, shall generally identify the urban renewal area and shall outline the general scope of the urban renewal project under consideration.

(d) Following such hearing, the City Council may approve an urban renewal plan if it finds that (1) a feasible method exists for the location of families or individuals who will be displaced from the urban renewal area in decent, safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations within their means and without undue hardship to such families or individuals; (2) the urban renewal plan conforms to the general plan of the city as a whole; and (3) the urban renewal plan will afford maximum opportunity, consistent with the sound needs of the city as a whole, for the rehabilitation or redevelopment of the urban renewal area by private enterprise.

(e) An urban renewal plan may be modified at any time; provided, that if modified after the lease or sale by the city of real property in the urban renewal project area, such modification shall be subject to such rights at law or in equity as a lessee or purchaser, or his successor or successors in interest, may be entitled to assert. If any proposed modification of the urban renewal plan adopted for an area should affect the street layout, land use, public utilities, zoning, if any, open space and density, then such modification shall not be made until it has been submitted to the planning commission and a report rendered to the City Council as outlined in subsection (b) hereof.

(f) Upon the approval of an urban renewal plan by the city, the provisions of said plan with respect to the future use and building requirements applicable to the property covered by said plan shall be controlling with respect thereto.

(g) In any urban renewal area or project, if there exists a building or buildings in good state of repair and so located that the building or buildings can be incorporated into the renewal project pattern or plan adopted for that area, such building or buildings shall not be acquired without the consent of the owner or owners; provided further that if any owner of property in such area agrees to use such property in a manner not inconsistent with the purposes of the urban renewal plan and the improvements on such property do not constitute a fire or health hazard, then such property shall not be subject to the powers of eminent domain. Any property owner shall have the right to contest before the City Council such powers of eminent domain as respects his individual ownership and shall have the right of appeal to the District Court with a trial de novo.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, where the local governing body certifies that an area is in need of redevelopment or rehabilitation as a result of a flood, fire, hurricane, earthquake, storm, or other catastrophe respecting which the Governor of the State has certified the need for disaster assistance under Public Law 875, Eighty-first Congress, or other Federal law, the local governing body may approve an urban renewal plan and an urban renewal project with respect to such area without regard to the provisions of subsection (d) of this Section and the provisions of this Act requiring a general plan for the municipality and a public hearing on the urban renewal project.

(i) Upon approval of an urban renewal plan by the city and approval of the tax increment method of financing as required under Section 5b of this Act, a fund, to be known as the "Tax-increment Fund" shall be established by the adoption of a resolution by the City Council.

Encouragement of Private Enterprise

Sec. 8. A city, to the greatest extent it determines to be feasible in carrying out the provisions of this Act, shall afford maximum opportunity, consistent with the sound needs of the city as a whole, to the rehabilitation or redevelopment of the urban renewal area by private enterprise. A city shall give consideration to this objective in exercising its powers under this Act, including the formulation of a workable program, the approval of urban renewal plans (consistent with the general plan of the municipality), the exercise of its zoning powers, and enforcement of other laws, codes and regulations relating to the use of land and the use and occupancy of buildings and improvements, the disposition of any property acquired, and the provision of necessary public improvements.

Powers

Sec. 9. A city shall have all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this Act, including the following powers in addition to others herein granted:

(a) To conduct preliminary surveys to determine if the undertakings and carrying out of urban renewal projects is feasible.

(b) To undertake and carry out urban renewal projects within its area of operation.

(c) To make and execute contracts and other instruments necessary or convenient to the exercise of its powers under this Act.

(d) To provide or arrange or contract for the furnishing or repair by any person or agency, public or private, of services, privileges, works, streets, roads, public utilities or other facilities for or in connection with an urban renewal project; to install, construct and reconstruct streets, utilities, parks, playgrounds, and other public improvements necessary for carrying out urban renewal projects.

(e) To acquire by purchase, lease, option, gift, grant, or bequest, devise, eminent domain or otherwise, any real property (or personal property for its administrative purposes) together with any improvements thereon, necessary or incidental to an urban renewal project; to hold, improve, clear or prepare for redevelopment any such property; to mortgage, pledge, hypothecate or otherwise encumber or dispose of any real property; to insure or provide for the insurance of any real or personal property or operations of the city against any risks or hazards, including the power to pay premiums on any such insurance; and to enter into any contracts necessary to effectuate the purpose of this Act.

(f) To invest any urban renewal project funds held in reserves or sinking funds or any such funds not required for immediate disbursements, in property or securities in which banks may legally invest funds subject to their control; to redeem such bonds as have been issued pursuant to Section 15 of this Act at the redemption price established therein or to purchase such bonds at less than redemption price, all such bonds so redeemed or purchased to be cancelled.

(g) To borrow money and to apply for and accept advances, loans, grants, contributions and any other form of financial assistance from the Federal Government, the State, County or other public body or from any sources, public or private, for the purposes of this Act, and to give such security as may be required and to enter into and carry out contracts in connection therewith. A city may include in any contract for financial assistance with the Federal Government for an urban renewal project such provisions and conditions imposed pursuant to Federal Law as the city may deem reasonable and appropriate and which are not inconsistent with the purposes of this Act.

(h) Within its area of operation, to make or have made all plans necessary to the carrying out of the purposes of this Act and to contract with any person, public or private, in making and carrying out such plans and to adopt or approve, modify and amend such plans. The city is authorized to develop, test and report methods and techniques and carry out demonstrations and other activities, for the prevention and the elimination of slums and urban blight, and to apply for, accept and utilize grants of funds from the Federal Government for such purposes.

(i) To prepare plans and provide reasonable assistance for the relocation of persons (including families, business concerns, and others) displaced from an urban renewal project area to the extent essential for acquiring possession of and clearing such area or parts thereof to permit the carrying out of the urban renewal project.

(j) To appropriate such funds and make such expenditures as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act, and to levy taxes and assessments for such purposes; to close, vacate, plan or replan streets, roads, sidewalks, ways or other places; to plan or replan, zone or rezone any part of the city and to make exceptions from building regulations; and to enter into agreements with an urban renewal agency vested with urban renewal powers under Section 15 of this Act (which agreements may extend over any period, notwithstanding any provision or rule or law to the contrary), restricting action to be taken by such city pursuant to any of the powers granted by this Act; provided, however, that no taxes or assessments shall be levied under authority or for the purposes of this Act unless and until such levy shall first have been submitted to a vote of the property-owning taxpayers of said city, and said proposition shall have received a majority of the votes cast as being "for" such levy.

(k) Within its area of operation to organize, coordinate and direct the administration of the provisions of this Act as they apply to such city in order that the objective of remedying slum and blighted areas and preventing the causes thereof within such city may be most effectively promoted and achieved, and to establish such new office or offices of the city or to reorganize existing offices in order to carry out such purpose most effectively.

(l) To issue tax increment bonds.

(m) To exercise all or any part or combination of powers herein granted.

Eminent Domain

Sec. 10. A city shall have the right to acquire by condemnation any interest in any real property, including a fee simple title thereto, which it may deem necessary for or in connection with an urban renewal project under this Act; provided, however, that if any such urban renewal project shall include a "slum clearance and redevelopment section," as that term is hereinafter defined, which section a city shall propose to clear for redevelopment and re-use other than for a public use, a city may not acquire by condemnation any such "slum clearance and redevelopment section" or portion thereof, unless it shall appear, and the City Council shall have found and determined, by resolution duly adopted, that the rehabilitation of such section without clearance would be impractical, infeasible and ineffective, based upon its finding that at least fifty per cent (50%) of the structures in such section are dilapidated beyond the point of feasible rehabilitation, or are otherwise unfit for rehabilitation, and that there exist other blighting characteristics, such as overcrowding of structures on the land, mixed uses of structures, narrow, crooked, inconvenient, congested, unsafe or otherwise deficient streets, or deficiencies in public utilities or recreational and community facilities. A city may exercise the power of eminent domain in the manner provided in Articles 3264 to 3271, both inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto. Property already devoted to a public use may be acquired in like manner; provided, that no real property belonging to the State, or any political subdivision thereof, may be acquired without its consent. The term "slum clearance and redevelopment section," as that term is used in this Section, shall be construed as meaning, and shall mean, any substantial contiguous part or portion of an urban renewal area which a city shall propose to acquire and clear of all buildings, structures and other improvements thereon for redevelopment and reuse in accordance with the urban renewal plan.

Relocation of Transmission Lines, Etc.

Sec. 10a. In the event any city or urban renewal agency or other public body, in exercising any of the powers conferred by this Act, makes necessary the relocation, raising, re-routing or changing the grade of or altering the construction of any railroad, electric transmission line, telephone or telegraph property or facility, or pipeline, all such necessary relocation, raising, re-routing, changing of grade or alteration of construction, shall be accomplished at the expense of the city, urban renewal agency or other public body making the same necessary.

Disposal of Property in Urban Renewal Area

Sec. 11. (a) A city may sell, lease, or otherwise transfer real property or any interest therein acquired by it, and may enter into contracts with respect thereto, in an urban renewal area for residential, recreational, commercial, industrial or other uses or for public use, or may retain such property or interest for public use, in accordance with the urban renewal plan, subject to such covenants, conditions, and restrictions, including covenants running with the land, as it may deem to be in the public interest or necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act, all of which shall be written into the instrument transferring or conveying titles; provided, that such sale, lease, other transfer, or retention or any agreement relating thereto may be made only after approval of the urban renewal plan by the City Council. The purchasers or lessees and their successors and assigns shall be obligated to devote such real property only to the uses specified in the urban renewal plan, and may be obligated to comply with conditions enumerated in the deed of conveyance, including the obligation to begin within a reasonable time any improvements on such real property required by the urban renewal plan. Such real property or interest shall be sold, leased, otherwise transferred, or retained at not less than the fair value for uses in accordance with the urban renewal plan. In determining the fair value of real property for uses in accordance with the urban renewal plan, a city shall take into account and give consideration to the uses provided in such plan; the restrictions upon, and the covenants, conditions, and obligations assumed by the purchaser or lessee or by the city retaining the property; the objectives of such plan for the prevention of the recurrence of slums or blighted areas; and such other matters as the city shall specify as being appropriate. The city or renewal agency in an instrument of conveyance to a private purchaser or lessee may provide that such purchaser or lessee may sell any or all of the unimproved property without profit to the seller. The purchaser, after improving a parcel or parcels of land in accordance with the plan of development adopted for the area, may sell the same before he completes the development of the area or tract of land he purchased; provided, however, that such sale of parcel or parcels of improved land will not relieve him from the obligation of completing the development of the area of land that he had purchased. The purchaser likewise may sell a parcel or parcels of land that he has purchased for redevelopment to another person who will be obligated to improve the parcel or parcels purchased by him in accordance with the plan of development for that project; provided, however, that such resale of any unimproved parcel of land will be without profit to the seller and provided that any subsequent purchaser will be obligated to improve the property as provided by the urban renewal plan and the conditions set forth in the deed of conveyance. Real property acquired by a city which, in accordance with the provisions of the urban renewal plan, is to be sold to private developers shall be sold as rapidly as feasible in the public interest consistent with the carrying out of the provisions of this urban renewal plan. Any instrument executed by a city or urban renewal agency and purporting to convey any right, title or interest in any property under this Act shall be presumed to be executed in compliance with the provisions of this Act in so far as title or other interest of any bona fide lessees or transferees or purchasers, or such property is concerned.

(b) All sales of real property in an urban renewal area to private persons shall be sold upon competitive sealed bids after advertising in the official publication or newspaper of general circulation, said advertisement to be published once at least fifteen (15) days before such sale, inviting bids for purchase of real estate in the urban renewal area in whole or parcels as the city may determine. Prior to the advertising for bids for the sale of any real estate the city shall adopt as part of the specifications in the general plan of improvement the conditions that will be binding upon the purchaser, his heirs, assigns or successors in title as the case may be. The city or renewal agency shall have the right to accept the highest and best responsible bid and the purchase price must be paid in cash. If the city or agency shall be of the opinion that the bids are not satisfactory in adequacy of price, or bid, they may reject all and readvertise; provided, however, that the agency will not make a sale of any property unless the price and conditions are approved by the governing body of the city. It is the declared policy of this Act that any real estate acquired in connection with an urban renewal and rehabilitation project shall be sold by the city or urban renewal agency within a reasonable length of time for purposes applicable to each project, save and except that land the city will retain for the use of the general public for municipal purposes. Land to be resold shall be resold within a reasonable time, taking into account the general economic condition at that time.

(c) Any real estate except real property not fit for human habitation or real property declared substandard by any governmental agency, acquired in an urban renewal area may be temporarily leased by the city, provided that any such temporary lease shall provide for the right of cancellation so that the city may sell or dispose of the property for the purposes intended by this Act.

(d) Any real property acquired under the terms of this Act which is not, within a reasonable length of time, devoted to a purpose or purposes applicable to the urban renewal project for which it was acquired, may, after notice, be repurchased by the former owner as a matter of right, at the price for which it was acquired from him, less any actual damages sustained by him by virtue of such taking of his land, unless the land be devoted to such purpose or purposes within sixty (60) days after such former owner shall have given the record owner and the city notice in writing of his intention to exercise his right of repurchase; provided, that after such repurchase by such former owner, any building or buildings placed or allowed to remain on such property shall be made to conform to the pattern and intent of the urban renewal project if and when it be carried out.

(e) Any purchaser, lessee, or subsequent purchaser or lessee referred to above as private developers of any portion of the lands acquired under this Act is expressly authorized to give said lands as security for loans for the purpose of financing the development of the property. Such purchasers and lessees are expressly authorized to execute and deliver to any lenders, notes, deeds of trust with powers of sale, mortgages and any other instruments which may be required in connection with obtaining and securing the repayment of such loans, it being the intention of this section that purchasers, and lessees of such lands have all the rights, titles and incidents of ownership therein which are enjoyed by purchasers and lessees of lands generally, and that as such purchasers and lessees they be entitled to mortgage and encumber said lands either for purchase price or for improvements in accordance with the objectives of this Act as any other purchaser or lessee of land in Texas might be entitled to do, and that any subsequent owner or lessee of said land who might acquire title by virtue of a foreclosure of any lien given to secure such indebtedness or by conveyance or assignment in satisfaction of debt shall become the owner or lessee of said land subject only to the restrictive covenants with respect to the use and improvement of said land which might be set forth in the original conveyance from the municipality, and subject in no manner to any condition precedent or condition subsequent which might result in reverter or forfeiture of title and without restraint as to the amount for which said property may thereafter be resold or leased.

(f) Notwithstanding another provision of this Act or another law relating to competitive bid requirements, the city or urban renewal agency may sell, for uses in accordance with the urban renewal plan, urban renewal land to a public or private nonprofit corporation or a public or private nonprofit foundation. The sale must be at a price, as determined by the city or urban renewal agency, that is not less than the fair market value of the land.

Property Exempt from Taxes and from Levy and Sale by Virtue of an Execution

Sec. 12. (a) All property of a city, including funds, owned or held by it for the purposes of this Act shall be exempt from levy and sale by virtue of an execution, and no execution or other judicial process shall issue against the same nor shall judgment against a city be a charge or lien upon such property; provided, however, that the provisions of this Section shall not apply to or limit the right of obligees to pursue any remedies for the enforcement of any pledge or lien given pursuant to this Act by a city on its rents, fees, grants or revenues from urban renewal projects.

(b) Where real estate property in the project area is acquired and is owned as a part of the project by the city or the urban renewal agency and such project is not subject to ad valorem taxes by reason of its ownership due to the provisions of Section 12(a) hereof there may be, as a part of gross project cost, reasonable payments in lieu of taxes.

Co-operation of Public Bodies

Sec. 13. (a) For the purpose of aiding in the planning, undertaking or carrying out of an urban renewal project located within the area in which it is authorized to act, any public body may, if it determines that such project will benefit and be of advantage to the public body or its residents, upon such terms, with or without consideration, as it may determine: (1) dedicate, sell, convey or lease any of its interest in any project or grant easements, licenses, or other rights or privileges therein to a city; (2) incur the entire expense of any public improvements made by such public body in exercising the powers granted in this Section; (3) do any and all things necessary to aid or co-operate in the planning or carrying out of an urban renewal plan; (4) lend, grant or contribute funds to a city; (5) enter into agreements which may extend over any period notwithstanding any provision or rule of law to the contrary with a city or other public body respecting action to be taken by such public body pursuant to any of the powers granted by this Act, including the furnishing of funds or other assistance in connection with an urban renewal project; and (6) cause public buildings and public facilities, including parks, playgrounds, recreational, community, educational, water, sewer, or drainage facilities, or any other works which it is otherwise empowered to undertake to be furnished; furnish, dedicate, pave, install, grade, regrade, plan or replan streets, roads, sidewalks, ways or other places; plan or replan, zone or rezone any part of the public body or make exceptions from building regulations; and cause administrative and other services to be furnished to the city. If at any time title to or possession of any urban renewal project is held by the Federal Government, the provisions of the agreement referred to shall inure to the benefit of and may be enforced by the Federal Government. As used in this subsection, the term "city" shall also include an urban renewal agency vested with all of the urban renewal project powers pursuant to the provisions of Section 15.

(b) Any sale, conveyance, lease or agreement provided for in this Section may be made by and between public bodies without appraisal, public notice, advertisement or public bidding.

(c) For the purpose of aiding in the planning, undertaking or carrying out of an urban renewal project of an urban renewal agency hereunder, a city (in addition to its other powers and upon such terms, with or without consideration, as it may determine) may do and perform any or all of the actions or things which, by the provisions of subsection (a) of this Section, a public body is authorized to do or perform, including the furnishing of financial and other assistance.

(d) For the purpose of this Section or for the purpose of aiding in the planning, undertaking or carrying out of an urban renewal project of a city, such city may in addition to any authority to issue bonds pursuant to Section 15 hereof, issue and sell its general obligation bonds. Any bonds issued by a city pursuant to this Section shall be issued in the manner and within the limitations prescribed by the laws of this State for the issuance and authorization of bonds by such city for public purposes generally.

Title of Purchaser

Sec. 14. Any instrument executed by a city or by an urban renewal agency and purporting to convey any right, title or interest in any property under this Act shall be conclusively presumed to have been executed in compliance with the provisions of this Act in so far as title or other interest of any bona fide purchasers, lessees or transferees of such property is concerned.

Exercise of Powers in Carrying Out Urban Renewal Project

Sec. 15. (a) A city itself may exercise its urban renewal project powers (as herein defined) or may, if the City Council by resolution determines such action to be in the public interest, elect to have such powers exercised by an urban renewal agency created by Section 16 hereof. In the event the City Council makes such determination, the urban renewal agency shall be vested with all of the urban renewal project powers in the same manner as though all such powers were conferred on such agency instead of the city. If the City Council does not elect to make such determination, the city in its discretion may exercise its urban renewal project powers through a board or commission or through such officers of the city as the City Council may by resolution determine.

(b) As used in this Section, the term "urban renewal project powers" shall include the rights, powers, functions and duties of a city under this Act, except the following: the power to determine an area to be a slum or blighted area or combination thereof and to designate such area as appropriate for an urban renewal project; the power to approve and amend urban renewal plans and to hold any public hearings required with respect thereto; the power to establish a general plan for the locality as a whole; the power to establish a workable program under Section 6; the power to make the determinations and findings provided for in Section 5, Section 7(d) and Section 8; the power to issue general obligation bonds; and the power to appropriate funds, to levy taxes and assessments, and to exercise other powers provided for in Section 9(j).

(c) In the event the city elects to create an urban renewal agency under the terms of this Act, no renewal or rehabilitation project shall be undertaken by the agency unless the area proposed to be a renewal or rehabilitation area and the plan of improvement of the project area is approved by the governing body of such city.

(d) An urban renewal agency created by Section 16 hereof, shall, in addition to all other powers which may be vested in it, have power to issue bonds from time to time in its discretion to finance the undertaking of any urban renewal project under this Act, including, without limiting the generality thereof, the payment of principal and interest upon any advances for surveys and plans, and shall also have power to issue refunding bonds for the payment or retirement of such bonds previously issued by it. Such bonds shall be made payable, as to both principal and interest, solely from the income, proceeds, revenues, and funds of the urban renewal agency derived from or held in connection with its undertaking and carrying out of urban renewal projects under this Act; provided, however, that payment of such bonds, both as to principal and interest, may be further secured by a pledge of any loan, grant or contribution from the Federal Government or other source, in aid of any urban renewal projects of the urban renewal agency under this Act, and by a mortgage of any such urban renewal projects, or any part thereof, title to which is in the urban renewal agency. Bonds issued under this Section of this Act shall not constitute an indebtedness of the State of Texas or any county or political subdivision of such state other than the issuing urban renewal agency, and shall not be subject to the provisions of any other law relating to the authorization, issuance or sale of bonds. Bonds issued under this Section of this Act are declared to be issued for an essential public and governmental purpose and, together with interest thereon and income therefrom, shall be exempt from all taxes. Bonds issued under this Section shall be authorized by resolution or ordinance of the governing body of the urban renewal agency and may be issued in one or more series and shall bear such date or dates, be payable upon demand or mature at such time or times, bear interest at such rates or rate, not exceeding six per centum (6%) per annum, be in such denomination or denominations, be in such form either coupon or registered, carry such conversion or registration privileges, have such rank or priority, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, and be subject to such terms of redemption (with or without premium), be secured in such manner, and have such other characteristics, as may be provided by such resolution or trust indenture or mortgage issued pursuant thereto. Such bonds may be sold at not less than par at public sales held after notice published prior to such sale in a newspaper having a general circulation in the area of operation and in such other medium of publication as the urban renewal agency may determine or may be exchanged for other bonds on the basis of par; provided, that such bonds may be sold to the Federal Government at private sale at not less than par, and, in the event less than all of the authorized principal amount of such bonds is sold to the Federal Government, the balance may be sold at private sale at not less than par at an interest cost to the urban renewal agency of not to exceed the interest cost to the urban renewal agency of the portion of the bonds sold to the Federal Government. In case any of the officials of the urban renewal agency whose signatures appear on any bonds or coupons issued under this Act shall cease to be such officials before the delivery of such bonds, such signatures shall, nevertheless, be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officials had remained in office until such delivery. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds issued pursuant to this Act shall be fully negotiable. In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of any bond issued under this Act or the security therefor, any such bond reciting in substance that it has been issued by the urban renewal agency in connection with an urban renewal project, as herein defined, shall be conclusively deemed to have been issued for such purposes and such project shall be conclusively deemed to have been planned, located and carried out in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(e) All banks, trust companies, bankers, savings banks and institutions, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, investment companies and other persons carrying on a banking or investment business; all insurance companies, insurance associations, and other persons carrying on an insurance business; and all executors, administrators, curators, trustees, and other fiduciaries, may legally invest any sinking funds, moneys, or other funds belonging to them or within their control in any bonds or other obligations issued by an urban renewal agency pursuant to this Act; provided that such bonds and other obligations shall be secured by an agreement between the issuer and the Federal Government in which the issuer agrees to borrow from the Federal Government and the Federal Government agrees to lend to the issuer, prior to the maturity of such bonds or other obligations, moneys in an amount which (together with any other moneys irrevocably committed to the payment of interest on such bonds or other obligations) will suffice to pay the principal of such bonds or other obligations with interest to maturity thereon, which moneys under the terms of said agreement are required to be used for the purpose of paying the principal of and the interest on such bonds or other obligations at their maturity. Such bonds and other obligations shall be authorized security for all public deposits. It is the purpose of this Section to authorize any persons, political subdivisions and officers, public or private, to use any funds owned or controlled by them for the purchase of any such bonds or other obligations. Nothing contained in this Section with regard to legal investments shall be construed as relieving any person of any duty of exercising reasonable care in selecting securities.

Urban Renewal Agency

Sec. 16. (a) There is hereby created in each city a public body corporate and politic to be known as the "urban renewal agency" of the city; provided, that such agency shall not transact any business or exercise its powers hereunder until or unless the City Council has made the findings prescribed in Section 5 and has elected to have the urban renewal project powers exercised by an urban renewal agency as provided in Section 15, and has submitted such proposition to a vote of the people of said city, and received a favorable vote thereon, as provided in Section 5 of this Act.

(b) If an urban renewal agency is created by the city under this Act to exercise the powers of this Act, the mayor, by and with the advice and consent of the City Council, shall appoint a board of commissioners of the urban renewal agency which shall consist of not less than five (5) members nor more than nine (9) members who shall serve for two (2) years. The commissioners shall designate one of their number to serve as Chairman and one as Vice-chairman, for terms of one (1) year, respectively. A commissioner must be a resident citizen of the city and a real property owner. The actual number of commissioners of the urban renewal agency shall be determined by the City Council at the time of appointment and the number may not be increased or decreased more than once every two (2) years. At the time of their original appointment, a bare majority of the commissioners shall be designated to serve for one (1) year and the remaining for two (2) years, respectively. In the event of a vacancy caused by death, removal from the city or any valid cause, such vacancy shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment but only for the unexpired term. A commissioner shall hold office until his successor has been appointed and has qualified.

(c) A commissioner shall receive no compensation for his services but shall be entitled to the necessary expenses, including traveling expenses, incurred in the discharge of his duties. A certificate of the appointment or re-appointment of each commissioner shall be filed with the clerk of the city and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the due and proper appointment of such commissioner. A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum; provided, however, that if the agency is composed of five (5), seven (7) and nine (9) members, respectively, any action to be valid must be adopted or rejected by a vote of a majority of the total commissioners of the agency. An urban renewal agency may employ an executive director, technical experts and such other agents and employees, permanent and temporary, as it may require, and determine their qualifications, duties and compensation. For such legal service as it may require, an agency may employ or retain its own counsel and legal staff. An agency authorized to conduct business and exercise powers under this Act shall file with the city on or before March 31st of each year a report of its activities for the preceding calendar year, or quarterly if requested by the City Council. Said report shall include a complete financial statement by the agency setting forth its assets, liabilities, income and operating expense as of the end of such calendar year. At the time of filing the report, the agency shall publish a notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the city that such report has been filed with the city and that the report is available for inspection during business hours in the office of the city secretary and in the office of the agency.

(d) For inefficiency or neglect of duty or misconduct in office, a commissioner may be removed by the City Council only after a hearing and after he shall have been given a copy of the charges at least ten (10) days prior to such hearing and have had an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel.

Judicial Proceedings

Sec. 17. In all suits brought to review, modify, suspend, or satisfy rules, orders, decisions, or other acts of the City Council, or other agency, the trial shall be de novo, as that term is used and understood in an appeal from a Justice of the Peace Court to the County Court. In such de novo trials, no presumption of validity or reasonableness or presumption of any character shall be indulged in favor of any such order, rule or regulation, nor shall evidence as to the validity or reasonableness thereof be heard, and the determination in respect thereto shall be made upon facts found therein, as in other civil cases, and the procedure for such trials and the determination of the orders and judgments to be entered therein shall be governed solely by the rules of law, evidence and procedure prescribed for the courts of this State by its Constitution, statutes and rules of procedure applicable to the trial of civil actions. It is the intent of the Legislature that such trial shall be strictly de novo and that the decision in each such case shall be made independently of any action taken by the Board, upon preponderance of the evidence adduced at such trial and entirely free of the so-called "substantial evidence" rule enunciated by the courts in respect to orders of other administrative or quasi-judicial agencies.

Interested Public Officials, Commissioners or Employees

Sec. 18. No public official or employee of a city (or board or commission thereof) and no commissioner or employee of an urban renewal agency which has been vested by a city with urban renewal project powers under Section 15 hereof, shall voluntarily acquire any interest, direct or indirect, in any urban renewal project or in any property included or planned to be included in any urban renewal project of such city or in any contract or proposed contract in connection with such urban renewal project. Where such acquisition is not voluntary, the interest acquired shall be immediately disclosed in writing to the City Council and such disclosure shall be entered upon the minutes of the City Council. Such official or employee shall then, within three (3) months after such involuntary acquisition, either resign his position, or divest himself of his interest in such urban renewal project. If any such official, commissioner or employee shall own or control or shall have owned or controlled within the preceding two (2) years, any interest, direct or indirect, in any property which he knows is included or planned to be included in any urban renewal project, he shall immediately disclose this fact in writing to the City Council, and such disclosure shall be entered upon the minutes of the City Council, and any such official, commissioner or employee shall not participate in any action by the City (or board or commission thereof), or urban renewal agency affecting such property. Any disclosure required to be made by this Section to the City Council shall concurrently be made to any urban renewal agency which has been vested with urban renewal project powers by the city pursuant to the provisions of Section 15. No commissioner or other officer of any urban renewal agency, board or commission exercising powers pursuant to this Act shall hold any other public office under the city other than his commissionership or office with respect to such urban renewal agency, board or commission. Any violation of the provisions of this Section shall constitute misconduct in office.

Separability of Provisions

Sec. 19. Notwithstanding any other evidence of legislative intent, it is hereby declared to be the controlling legislative intent that if any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provisions to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

Inconsistent Provisions

Sec. 20. In so far as the provisions of this Act are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall be controlling but shall not repeal any charter provision of any home rule city which provides for the same purposes set forth in this Act and shall be considered cumulative of the powers of the cities.

Additional Conferred Powers

Sec. 21. The powers conferred by this Act shall be in addition and supplemental to the powers conferred upon cities by any provision of the Constitution of Texas, the general laws of the State of Texas, or by the charters of home rule cities of the State of Texas.

Right to Repurchase

Sec. 22. Provided, however, the original owner from which property was acquired hereunder by condemnation or through the threat of condemnation, shall have the first right to repurchase at the price at which same shall be offered.

Computation of Tax Increments

Sec. 22a. (a) For purposes of this Act, the market value of property located within an urban renewal project area shall be determined by the tax assessor-collector, and only the tax assessor-collector, during the time such project exists. Provided, however, that such determination shall require the concurrence of the comptroller; and provided, further, that any property owner aggrieved by a determination of the tax assessor-collector shall have the same right of appeal provided by law to owners of property not affected by this Act.

(b) At the time an urban renewal project is designated by the governing body, the tax assessor-collector shall, with the concurrence of the comptroller, certify to the governing body the market value of property within the boundaries of such district. Property taxable at the time the urban renewal project is designated shall be included at its most recently determined market value; property exempt from taxation at the time the redevelopment district was designated shall be included at zero.

(c) The tax assessor-collector shall, within one year of the time an urban renewal project is designated, and annually thereafter, certify to the governing body the amount of the captured market value of property within the boundaries of the district and the amount of tax increments produced from such captured market value.

(d) For any years in which taxes are to be paid into the tax increment fund required under Subsection (i), Section 7 of this Act, any captured market value with respect to an urban renewal project shall not be considered by any taxing entity in computing any debt limitation or for any other purpose except in determining the amount to be paid into the tax increment fund.

Allocation of Tax Collections and Tax Increments

Sec. 22b. (a) For purposes of this Act, the tax assessor-collector shall have the sole authority and the duty to collect the taxes levied by the city and all other taxing entities on property located within an urban renewal project and for allocating taxing and tax increments in the manner required by this Act.

(b) Commencing with the first payment of taxes levied by the city or other taxing entities subsequent to the time an urban renewal project is designated, receipts from such taxes shall be allocated and paid over as follows:

(1) There shall first be allocated and paid over in such amounts as belong to each respectively, to the city and to each other taxing entity, all of the property taxes collected which are produced from the tax incremental base.

(2) There shall next be deposited into the tax increment fund established for such project all tax increments produced from the captured market value of property located within the project.

Tax Increment Bonds

Sec. 22c. (a) A city shall, in addition to any other powers vested in it, have the power to issue tax increment bonds, the proceeds of which may be used to pay redevelopment costs with respect to the urban renewal project on behalf of which the bonds were issued or to satisfy claims of holders of such bonds. Upon approval of two-thirds of the resident property taxpayers who are qualified electors of the city, such city shall also have the power to issue refunding bonds for the payment or retirement of tax increment bonds previously issued by it. Such tax increment bonds shall be made payable, as to both principal and interest, solely from tax increments allocated to and paid into the tax increment fund established by the city in accordance with this Act, or from any private sources, or contributions or other financial assistance from the State or United States Government, or by any combination of these methods.

(b) Tax increment bonds issued under this Act, together with interest thereon and income therefrom, shall be exempt from all taxes. The period of maturity of tax increment bonds is limited to a maximum of 20 years from the date of issuance. Bonds issued under this Act shall be authorized by resolution or ordinance of the governing body and may be issued in one or more series, and shall bear such date or dates, be payable upon demand or mature at such time or times, bear interest at such rate or rates, be in such denomination or denominations, be in such form either coupon or registered, carry such conversion or registration privileges, have such rank or priority, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, and be subject to such terms of redemption (with or without premium), be secured in such manner, and have such other characteristics, as may be provided by such resolution or trust indenture or mortgage issued pursuant thereto. Such bonds may be sold at not less than par at public sales held after notice published prior to such sale in a newspaper having a general circulation in the city and in such other medium of publication as the governing body may determine or may be exchanged for other bonds on the basis of par. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds issued pursuant to this Act shall be fully negotiable. In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of any bond issued under this Act or the security therefor, any such bond reciting in substance that it has been issued by the city in connection with an urban renewal project, as herein defined, shall be conclusively deemed to have been issued for such purposes and the urban renewal project shall be conclusively deemed to have been planned, located and carried out in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(c) All banks, trust companies, bankers, savings banks and institutions, buildings and loan associations, savings and loan associations, investment companies and other persons carrying on a banking or investment business; all insurance companies, insurance associations, and other persons carrying on an insurance business; and all executors, administrators, curators, trustees, and other fiduciaries, may legally invest any sinking funds, moneys, or other funds belonging to them or within their control in any tax increment bonds issued by a city pursuant to this Act. Such bonds shall be authorized security for all public deposits. Any persons, political subdivisions and officers, public or private, are authorized to use any funds owned or controlled by them for the purchase of any such bonds. Nothing in this Act with regard to legal investments shall be construed as relieving any person of any duty of exercising reasonable care in selecting securities.

(d) Tax increment bonds shall be payable only out of the tax increment fund created pursuant to Subsection (i), Section 7 of this Act. The City Council may irrevocably pledge all or a part of such fund to the payment of such bonds or notes. Such fund or the designated part thereof may thereafter be used only for the payment of such bonds and interest thereon until the same have been fully paid; and a holder of such bonds or of any coupons appertaining thereto shall have a lien against such fund for payment of such bonds or notes and interest thereon and may either at law or in equity protect and enforce such lien.

(e) To increase the security and marketability of tax increment bonds, the city may create a lien for the benefit of the bondholders upon any public improvements or public works financed thereby or the revenues therefrom, or make such covenants and do any and all such acts as may be necessary or convenient or desirable in order to additionally secure such bonds or tend to make the bonds more marketable according to the best judgment of the City Council.

(f) Moneys shall be disbursed from the tax increment fund only to satisfy the claims of holders of tax increment bonds issued in aid of the urban renewal project with respect to which the fund was established, or to pay project costs. "Project costs" means any expenditure made or estimated to be made or monetary obligations incurred or estimated to be incurred by the city which are listed in an urban renewal project, plus any costs incidental thereto, diminished by any income or revenues other than tax increments, received or reasonably expected to be received by the city in connection with the implementation of such plan. Such project costs include, but are not limited to:

(1) capital costs, including, but not limited to, the actual costs of the construction of public works or improvements, new buildings, structures, and fixtures; the demolition, alteration, remodeling, repair or reconstruction of existing buildings, structures and fixtures; the acquisition of equipment; and the clearing and grading of land;

(2) financing costs, including, but not limited to, all interest paid to holders of tax increment bonds issued to pay for project costs and any premium paid over the principal amount thereof because of the redemption of such obligations prior to maturity;

(3) professional service costs, including, but not limited to, costs incurred for architectural, planning, engineering or legal services;

(4) imputed administrative costs, including, but not limited to, reasonable charges for the time spent by employees of the city in connection with the implementation of an urban renewal plan; or

(5) organizational costs, including, but not limited to, the cost of conducting studies and the cost of informing the public with respect to the creation of urban renewal projects and the implementation of project plans.

(g) Subject to any agreement with the holders of tax increment bonds, moneys in a tax increment fund may be temporarily invested in the same manner as other municipal funds.

(h) After all project costs and all tax increment bonds issued with respect to an urban renewal project have been paid or the payment thereof provided for, and subject to any agreement with bondholders, if there remain in such fund any moneys, they shall be paid over to the city and other taxing entities levying taxes on property within such project in such amounts as belong to each respectively.

(i) Tax increment bonds issued under this Act shall not be general obligations of the city, nor in any event shall they give rise to a charge against its general credit or taxing powers, or be payable other than as provided by this Act; and any tax increment bonds issued under this Act shall so state on their face.

(j) Tax increment bonds issued under this Act shall not be included in any computation of the debt of the issuing city.

(k) Tax increment bonds may not be issued in an amount exceeding the aggregate costs of implementing the urban renewal plan for the project in aid of which they were issued, and such bonds shall mature over a period not exceeding twenty (20) years from the date thereof.

Annual Report

Sec. 22d. (a) On or before July 1 each year, the City Council shall submit to the chief executive officer of every taxing entity a report on the status of such district. The report shall include the following information:

(1) the amount and source of revenue in the tax increment fund established in accordance with the requirements of this Act;

(2) the amount and purpose of expenditures from the fund;

(3) the amount of principal and interest due on any outstanding bonded indebtedness;

(4) the tax incremental base and the current captured market value retained by the project; and

(5) the captured market value shared by the city and other taxing entities, the total in tax increments received, and any additional information necessary to demonstrate compliance with the tax increment financing plan adopted by the City Council.

(b) On or before July 1 of each year, the City Council shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city a statement showing:

(1) the tax increment received and expended during the previous year;

(2) the original market value and captured market value of all property located within the urban renewal project;

(3) the amount in outstanding indebtedness incurred in aid of the urban renewal project; and

(4) any additional information the City Council deems necessary.

"Except to the extent otherwise specifically provided in this Act, if any provision of this Act or its application to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Art. 1269L-4. Community Development Act of 1975

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the "Texas Community Development Act of 1975."

Public Purposes

Sec. 2. It is hereby found and declared that the activities specified in this Act contribute to the development of viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities for persons of low and moderate income in that the activities are directed toward the following specific objectives:

(a) the elimination of slums and blight and the prevention of blighting influences and the deterioration of property and neighborhood and community facilities of importance to the welfare of the community;

(b) the elimination of conditions that are detrimental to the public health, safety, and welfare;

(c) the expansion and improvement of the quantity and quality of community services that are essential for the development of viable urban communities;

(d) a more rational use of land and other natural resources, the better arrangement of residential, commercial, industrial, recreational, and other needed activity centers, and the restoration and preservation of properties of special value for historic, architectural, or aesthetic reasons;

(e) the reduction of the isolation of income groups in communities and geographical areas and the promotion of an increase in the diversity and vitality of neighborhoods through the spatial deconcentration of housing opportunities for persons of low and moderate income and the revitalization of deteriorating or deteriorated neighborhoods to attract persons of higher income; and

(f) the alleviation of physical and economic distress through the stimulation of private investment and community revitalization in slum or blighted areas.

Definitions

Sec. 3. In this Act:

(a) "Community Development Program" means a planned and publicized program of work or activities designed to:

(1) improve the living and economic conditions of primarily low and moderate income persons;

(2) benefit low or moderate income neighborhoods;

(3) aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight; or

(4) aid or assist any federally assisted new community or meet other community development needs having a particular urgency, including any of the activities or functions specified for a community development program under this Act including federally assisted new communities.

(b) "Governing body" means the governing body of any municipality in this state.

(c) "Municipality" means any city, town, or village incorporated under the laws of this state.

(d) "Texas Urban Renewal Law" means Chapter 298, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Regular Session, 1957, as amended (Article 1269L-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Powers of Municipalities; Limitations

Sec. 4. (a) Any municipality is hereby authorized to implement a community development program upon adoption by the governing body of an ordinance or resolution enacting the same.

(b) A community development program implemented by any municipality may include the following activities:

(1) the acquisition of real property, including air rights, water rights, and other interests therein which is blighted, deteriorated, deteriorating, undeveloped, or inappropriately developed from the standpoint of sound community development and growth; appropriate for rehabilitation or conservation activities; appropriate for the preservation or restoration of historic sites, the beautification of urban land, the conservation of open spaces, natural resources, and scenic areas, the provision of recreational opportunities or the guidance of urban development; to be used for the provision of public works, facilities, and improvements eligible for assistance under this Act, or to be used for other public purposes;

(2) the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, or installation of public works, facilities, and sites or other improvements, including neighborhood facilities, senior centers, historic properties, utilities, streets, street lights, water and sewer facilities, foundations and platforms for air rights sites, pedestrian malls and walkways and parks, playgrounds, and recreation facilities, flood and drainage facilities, and parking facilities, solid waste disposal facilities, and fire protection services and facilities which are located in or which serve designated community development areas;

(3) code enforcement in deteriorated or deteriorating areas in which such enforcement, together with public improvements and services to be provided, may be expected to arrest the decline of the area;

(4) clearance, demolition, removal, and rehabilitation of buildings and improvements, including assistance and financing public or private acquisition for rehabilitation and the rehabilitation of privately owned properties when incidental to other activities;

(5) special projects directed to the removal of material and architectural barriers which restrict the mobility and accessibility of elderly and handicapped persons;

(6) payments to housing owners for losses of rental income incurred in holding for temporary periods housing units to be utilized for the relocation of individuals and families displaced by program activities under this Act;

(7) disposition, through sale, lease, donation or otherwise, of any real property acquired pursuant to this Act or its retention for public purposes;

(8) provision of public services not otherwise available in areas where other activities authorized under this Act are being carried out, if such services are determined to be necessary or appropriate to support such other activities, and/or if such services are directed toward improving the community's public services and facilities, including those concerned with the employment, economic development, crime prevention, child care, health, drug abuse, education, welfare, or recreation needs of persons residing in such areas, and coordinating public and private development programs;

(9) payment of the nonfederal share required in connection with a federal grant-in-aid program undertaken as part of a local community development program;

(10) payment of the cost of completing a project funded under Title I of the federal Housing Act of 1949¹ or federally assisted new communities assisted in the form of loan guarantees under Title X of the National Housing Act² and a portion of the federally assisted area has received grants under Section 107(A)(1) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended;³

(11) relocation payments and assistance for individuals, families, businesses, organizations, and farm operations displaced by activities assisted under this Act;

(12) activities necessary to develop a comprehensive community development plan, and to develop a policy-planning-management capacity, so that recipients of assistance under this Act may more rationally and effectively determine their needs, set long-term goals and objectives, devise programs and activities to meet these goals and objectives, evaluate the progress of such programs in accomplishing these goals and objectives, and carry out management, coordination, and monitoring of activities necessary for effective planning implementation;

(13) payment of reasonable administrative costs and carrying charges related to the planning and execution of community development and housing activities, including the provisions of information and resources to residents of areas in which community development and housing activities are to be concentrated with respect to the planning and execution of such activities;

(14) activities that are carried out by public or private entities if the activities are necessary or appropriate to meet the needs and objectives of the community development plan, including:

(A) acquisition of real property;

(B) acquisition, construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, or installation of public facilities, site improvements, utilities, commercial or industrial buildings or structures, or other commercial or industrial real property improvements; and

(C) planning; and

(15) grants to neighborhood-based nonprofit organizations, local development corporations, or entities organized to carry out neighborhood revitalization or community economic development projects or federally assisted new communities.

(c) Any municipality may provide for and implement programs to provide financing for the acquisition, construction, improvement, or rehabilitation of privately owned buildings and improvements through the use of loans and grants from federal money remitted to a municipality at interest rates and on the terms and conditions as the municipality shall determine; except that municipalities are prohibited from providing municipal property or municipal funds for private purposes the programs or financing shall be in keeping with an approved community development plan that has been determined by the municipality to be a public purpose. Any program established for financing the acquisition, construction, improvement, or rehabilitation of buildings and improvements from federal funds may prescribe procedures under which the owner(s) of such building(s) or improvement(s) shall agree to partially or fully reimburse the municipality for the cost of such acquisition, construction, improvement, or rehabilitation.

² 42 U.S.C.A. § 1749aa et seq.

³ 42 U.S.C.A. § 5307(a)(1).

Required Procedures

Sec. 5. Prior to the exercise of powers established under Section 4 of this Act, the governing body of any municipality shall:

(a) identify areas of the municipality in which predominantly low and moderate income persons dwell, or that are blighted or slum areas or federally assisted new communities, and set out within the community development program areas of the municipality where community development activities, building rehabilitation, or the acquisition of privately owned buildings or land are proposed to be undertaken; and

(b) adopt, by resolution or ordinance, a plan under which citizens may publicly comment on the proposed community development program; and

(c) conduct public hearings on the proposed community development program at least 15 days prior to its final adoption by the governing body; and

(d) adopt the provisions of the community development program by resolution or ordinance.

Limitations on Powers

Sec. 6. For the purpose of implementing any of the activities enumerated in Section 4 of this Act, compliance with Section 5 shall be sufficient; provided, however, that this Act does not grant a municipality implementing any of the activities enumerated in Section 4 the power of condemnation for the purpose of rehabilitating or removing buildings or for the purpose of acquiring real property of any kind for the purpose of resale. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to grant municipalities the authority to implement an urban renewal project under the terms and provisions of the Texas Urban Renewal Law without an enabling referendum passed by the voters or to exercise powers of eminent domain as granted by the Texas Urban Renewal Law. In order to exercise such powers, the municipality must have adopted the provisions of the Texas Urban Renewal Law in the manner prescribed by such Act and the power will be exercised by the designated urban renewal agency in that municipality.

Continuation of Urban Renewal

Sec. 7. This Act shall not be construed to alter or change the status, operations, contracts, or obligations of any existing urban renewal agency adopted pursuant to the Texas Urban Renewal Law, nor should any provisions of this Act be construed as to prevent the governing body of any municipality from adopting the provisions of and authority granted under the Texas Urban Renewal Law.

Scope

Sec. 8. The powers of municipalities described in this Act are granted in addition to all other powers of municipalities, and are intended to be cumulative thereof.

Validation of Previous Proceedings

Sec. 9. All ordinances or resolutions heretofore passed and adopted by the governing body of any such municipality implementing a community development program as defined and authorized by this Act are hereby validated as of the date of such ordinance or resolution, and are declared fully enforceable to the same extent as if such ordinance or resolution had been passed in accordance with laws duly enacted by the legislature of this state specifically providing for the passage and adoption of such ordinances or resolutions. All governmental proceedings and acts heretofore performed by the governing bodies of such municipalities and all officers thereof in implementing a community development program as authorized by this Act are hereby ratified as of the date of such proceedings and acts.

Applicability to "New Towns"

Sec. 10. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize the use of the powers or federal funds referred to herein to establish any "new town" or "new town in town" pursuant to Title IV of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C.A. 3901 et seq.), Title VII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1970 (42 U.S.C.A. 4501 et seq.), or Section 107(a) of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C.A. 5307).

Severability

Sec. 11. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Art. 1269L-5. Housing Rehabilitation Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Texas Housing Rehabilitation Act.

Legislative Findings

Sec. 2. The legislature finds that:

(1) a substantial amount of housing in the State of Texas is deteriorating and does not conform to accepted minimum standards applicable to structures for human habitation;

(2) deteriorating housing contributes to the decline of residential areas in urban and rural communities throughout this state, and such housing causes reductions in the taxable values of cities, counties, and other units of local government;

(3) declining residential areas require large-scale public investment to mitigate the effect of slums, health and safety problems, and retard the development of socially and economically disruptive conditions within affected communities;

(4) many owners of deteriorating housing cannot afford to make needed repairs and improvements without expending more than a reasonable portion of their incomes for housing, and some homeowners are financially unable to afford to spend any amount whatsoever to upgrade the quality of their dwellings;

(5) existing programs sponsored by public and private agencies to facilitate the rehabilitation of housing owned by persons of low and moderate income are inadequate to meet current and future needs, and a cooperative state-local government housing rehabilitation program therefore is clearly warranted; and

(6) unless the problem of deteriorating housing and other problems associated with the decline of residential areas are affirmatively addressed by the legislature, the health, safety, and welfare of the residents of such areas, as well as the citizens of the State of Texas generally, will be detrimentally affected.

Policy; Purpose

Sec. 3. It is the policy of the state and the purpose of this Act to provide a means by which the further deterioration of housing and the decline of residential areas in urban and rural communities throughout the State of Texas can be arrested and prevented. The legislature therefore declares that all of the purposes of this Act are public purposes and uses for which public money may be borrowed, expended, and loaned.

Definitions

Sec. 4. In this Act:

(1) "Borrower" means a household whose loan application is approved by a local government.

(2) "Department" means the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

(3) "Direct housing rehabilitation cost" means the amount contracted for between borrowers and contractors in a contract approved by a local government.

(4) "Fund" means the Texas Housing Rehabilitation Loan Fund.

(5) "Household" means a person or persons owning housing in an area designated under this Act.

(6) "Housing" means a structure which is situated on a permanent foundation and which consists of from one to four family units used exclusively for residential purposes.

(7) "Local agency" means a nonprofit organization whose principal purpose is to improve housing conditions or a local housing authority, urban renewal agency, or other public entity.

(8) "Local government" means a county, city, town, or village.

(9) "Rehabilitation" means the repair, renovation, or other improvement of housing with the object of making such housing decent, safe, sanitary, and more habitable.

Housing Rehabilitation Loan Fund

Sec. 5. (a) Funds for the implementation and administration of this Act shall be provided by the General Appropriations Act. A special account in the state treasury, to be known as the Texas Housing Rehabilitation Loan Fund is hereby created. Funds appropriated by the legislature for housing rehabilitation loans, together with any funds received from other sources for the purpose of making loans under this Act, must be placed in the fund. All repayments received from borrowers for loans made from the fund, income from the transfer of interests in property acquired in connection with rehabilitation loans made from the fund, and interest earned on deposits and investments of the fund shall be credited to the fund. It is the intent of this Act that the housing rehabilitation loan fund operate as a revolving fund whereby all appropriations and payments made thereto may be applied and reapplied to the purposes of this Act.

(b) The state treasurer shall invest and disburse money from the fund upon the written authorization of the executive director of the department. The department shall administer the fund as a revolving loan fund for carrying out the purposes of this Act and may designate separate accounts in the fund and the purposes for which the accounts are to be used.

(c) Money in the fund may be used only for:

(1) financing loans made pursuant to this Act, including the administrative charge provided for in Subsection (c) of Section 12 of this Act; and

(2) paying expenses incurred by the department in connection with the acquisition or disposal of real property under this Act.

Area Rehabilitation Plan

Sec. 6. (a) In order to qualify households within its boundaries for rehabilitation loans under this Act, a local government must designate a specific area, or areas, in conformity with standards established by the department, and must prepare an area rehabilitation plan for each designated area in the form prescribed by the department.

(b) An area rehabilitation plan must provide relevant information concerning the area and must include the following elements:

(1) a description of the physical, social, and economic characteristics of the area(s);

(2) a description of housing conditions in the area(s);

(3) an assessment of the need for housing rehabilitation loans in the area(s), such assessment to be expressed in terms of numbers and characteristics of households and average and total loan amounts;

(4) a description of methods by which the local government will determine whether the rehabilitation of housing in the area(s) is economically feasible;

(5) a description of methods by which rehabilitation work will be supervised and methods by which compliance with departmental regulations governing materials, fixtures, and rehabilitation contracts will be ensured;

(6) a description of methods and procedures that will be used to enforce local housing, building, fire, and related codes, or if such codes have not been enacted, a description of methods and procedures for enforcing the standards promulgated by the department;

(7) an assessment of the need for additional public improvements and public services in the area(s), together with a description of the specific means by which these improvements and services will be provided; and

(8) a description of methods by which private investment to improve conditions in the area(s) will be encouraged.

(c) An area rehabilitation plan must be approved by resolution or order of the governing body of the local government and submitted to the department for review. The department shall determine whether the designated area meets the standards established by the department and whether the plan contains all the prescribed elements. If so, the department must accept the plan. Upon acceptance of the plan, households in the designated area are qualified to apply for housing rehabilitation loans. If an area does not meet the department's standards or a plan does not contain all the prescribed elements, the department shall return the plan to the local government with a list of deficiencies. No loans may be made within a designated area unless the deficiencies are corrected and the plan is resubmitted and accepted by the department.

Authority of the Department

Sec. 7. The department has all the powers necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this Act. The department may:

(1) acquire interests in property necessary to and in connection with the making of rehabilitation loans under this Act as set forth in Section 8 of this Act;

(2) make contracts and agreements with the federal government, other agencies of the state, any other public agency, or any other person, association, corporation, local government, or other entity in exercising its powers and performing its duties under this Act;

(3) make regulations governing the disposition or further encumbrance by the borrower of property subject to a lien in connection with a rehabilitation loan;

(4) expend funds appropriated by the legislature to employ staff and for travel, supplies, materials, and equipment or to contract for services necessary to carry out its powers and duties under this Act;

(5) provide technical assistance to local governments; and

(6) seek and accept funding from any public or private source.

Interests in Property; Disposition

Sec. 8. (a) The department may not construct residential housing, nor may the department acquire residential housing except in connection with the enforcement of a lien under this Act, and then only by a foreclosure of a mortgage, a sale under a deed of trust, or by a voluntary conveyance from a borrower in full or partial settlement of a rehabilitation loan.

(b) If the department acquires residential housing in the enforcement of a lien, it must, within six months of such acquisition, offer the housing for public sale or auction. Notice of the public sale or auction must be provided by the department by publication once each week for three consecutive weeks prior to the day of the sale or auction in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the housing is located. The notice must contain a description of the property and must specify procedures for submitting competitive bids and the time and location of the public sale or auction. The department may reject any or all bids.

(c) If a sale cannot be effected by public sale or auction, the department may enter negotiations with any party for the expeditious sale of the housing. First priority must be given to selling the housing to a purchaser that will be required to pay ad valorem taxes on the property. If it is not practicable to sell it to such a purchaser, the department shall attempt to sell it to a purchaser that is exempt from ad valorem taxes but will make payments in lieu of taxes on the property. If neither type of purchaser is available, the department may sell it to any purchaser.

Regulations and Standards

Sec. 9. (a) The department shall adopt regulations for making and servicing housing rehabilitation loans, and for the foreclosure of defaulted loans. The regulations must require that each loan be evidenced by a promissory note payable to the state and secured by a valid lien on real property in this state.

(b) The department shall establish:

(1) standards by which households within the boundaries of a local government may qualify for loans;

(2) standards and procedures for the administration of this Act by local governments and local agencies;

(3) standards for the selection of contractors and for contracts between borrowers and contractors performing rehabilitation work under this Act; and

(4) standards for materials and fixtures used in performing rehabilitation work under this Act.

(c) The department shall set minimum and maximum interest rates for loans made under this Act.

(d) The department shall adopt minimum housing, building, fire, and related code standards for application in designated areas for which a rehabilitation plan has been accepted and no such local government standards are in effect.

Administration by Department

Sec. 10. (a) The department shall audit the local administration of rehabilitation loans under this Act to determine if good faith efforts are being made to comply with the applicable area rehabilitation plan and the regulations, standards, and guidelines adopted by the department.

(b) If in any fiscal year anticipated rehabilitation loans exceed estimated available funds, the department shall allocate the estimated available funds for that fiscal year among the local governments that have filed area rehabilitation plans, taking into account the probable amount of rehabilitation loans to be made by each local government.

(c) Upon receipt of notification of approval of a loan application by a local government, the director shall authorize the state treasurer to disburse the approved amount from the fund to the local government unless:

(1) the department has found that the local government is currently not making good faith efforts to substantially comply with the applicable area rehabilitation plan or the regulations, standards, and guidelines adopted by the department; or

(2) the remaining portion of the fund allocated to the local government under Subsection (b) of this section is insufficient to allow payment of the approved amount.

Loan Eligibility

Sec. 11. (a) The department shall establish eligibility guidelines for local governments to use in determining whether households qualify for housing rehabilitation loans under this Act. In establishing these guidelines, the department shall take into account:

(1) household gross income;

(2) household income available for housing needs;

(3) household size;

(4) the value and condition of the housing to be rehabilitated; and

(5) the ability of households to compete successfully in the private housing market and to pay the amounts at which private enterprise is providing sanitary, decent, and safe housing.

(b) The department shall not approve any loan unless it finds that the benefit to an area designated pursuant to the requirements of Section 6 of this Act will exceed the financial commitment of the department and that the approval of the particular loan will be of benefit to the state and its taxpayers.

General Powers and Duties of Local Governments

Sec. 12. (a) A local government may approve or disapprove loan applications from households according to the eligibility guidelines and regulations of the department. Upon approval of a loan application, the local government shall notify the department of the amount of the approved loan.

(b) A local government shall fix the interest rate for each loan within the minimum and maximum rates established by the department and shall fix the term of each loan and any other necessary conditions pertaining to the repayment of the loan pursuant to this Act and the regulations of the department.

(c) A local government may impose an administrative charge of not more than three percent of the direct housing rehabilitation cost and may deduct the charge from the amount loaned to borrowers.

(d) A local government may contract with any public or private entity for servicing rehabilitation loans.

(e) The governing body of a local government may designate a local agency or agencies to carry out any of the powers and duties of the local government under this Act. Any power or duty that a governing body delegates to a local agency may be withdrawn by the governing body at any time.

(f) A local government engaged in housing rehabilitation under this Act shall carry on a program of general education designed to inform residents in designated areas of methods for maintaining their housing and of the availability of housing rehabilitation loans.

Loan Conditions

Sec. 13. (a) Rehabilitation loans must be used primarily to make housing comply with state, county, or municipal building, housing maintenance, fire, health, or similar codes and standards applicable to housing.

(b) No loan made under this Act may exceed an amount which, when added to all other existing indebtedness secured by the property, would exceed the market value of the rehabilitated property as determined by the local government. No loan may exceed the total of the approved direct housing rehabilitation cost together with the administrative charge provided for in Subsection (c) of Section 12 of this Act.

(c) The term of a loan made under this Act may not exceed 20 years. It must be repaid by installments and must be secured as required by this Act and the regulations of the department. The local government may allow deferment of payments or adjust the interest rate or term of the note if the borrower is unable to make the required payments.

(d) A borrower must agree that if he voluntarily destroys, moves, or relinquishes ownership of the rehabilitated housing within one year after completion of the rehabilitation, the loan is immediately due and payable, together with an interest surcharge sufficient to make the total interest paid equivalent to an amount determined by prevailing interest rates for rehabilitation loans from private sources at the time of the sale. If the local government finds that the borrower must sell due to financial hardship or similar circumstances, the interest surcharge may be waived by the local government with the consent of the department.

(e) The department may take title by foreclosure to any project where such acquisition is necessary to protect any loan previously made therefor by the department and to pay all costs arising out of such foreclosure.

Rehabilitation Contracts

Sec. 14. (a) A borrower and contractor may not enter into a contract for rehabilitation work to be financed under this Act unless the proposed contract has first been approved by the local government in accordance with standards established by the department. The local government shall supervise all work performed under the contract. The contractor is not entitled to payment until the work has been approved by the local government, and the borrower is not liable to the contractor for any work not approved by the local government.

(b) Any contract involving the expenditure of more than $3,000 for housing rehabilitation construction or other work financed by means of loan funds applied by the department may be made only after advertising in the manner provided by Chapter 163, General Laws, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1931, as amended (Article 2368a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The provisions of Article 5160, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, relating to performance and payment bonds, shall apply to construction contracts.

Pledge of State Credit Prohibited

Sec. 15. The department shall have no power at any time to borrow money, incur pecuniary obligations, or in any manner to pledge the credit or taxing power of the State of Texas or any of its political subdivisions.

Transfer of Encumbered Property

Sec. 16. Upon sale or gift of the encumbered property, or upon the death of the borrower, the local government may, subject to approval of the department, declare all or part of any deferred payments due and payable, declare the balance of the loan due and payable, or allow the buyer, donee, or other successor in title of the borrower to assume the loan if the buyer, donor, or successor qualifies under the provisions of Section 11 of this Act.

Art. 1269L-6. Housing Agency Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known and may be cited as the Texas Housing Agency Act.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act the following words, as used in this Act, shall have the meanings set forth below, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) "Act" means the Texas Housing Agency Act.

(b) "Agency" means the Texas Housing Agency created by the Act.

(c) "Board" means the board of directors of the agency.

(d) "Bond" means any type of interest-bearing obligation, including, without limitation, any bond, note, bond anticipation note, or other evidence of indebtedness, whether general or special, whether negotiable or nonnegotiable in form, whether in bearer or registered form, whether in temporary or permanent form, whether with or without interest coupons, and regardless of the source of payment.

(e) "Director" means a member of the board.

(f) "Federal government" means the United States of America or any department, division, agency, or instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, of the United States of America.

(g) "Federally insured mortgage" means a mortgage loan for residential housing which is insured or guaranteed by the federal government or for which there is a commitment to insure or guarantee the mortgage by the federal government.

(h) "Federal mortgage" means a mortgage loan for residential housing made by the federal government or for which there is a commitment by the federal government to make the mortgage loan.

(i) "Housing development costs" means the total of all costs incurred in financing, creating, or purchasing any housing development, including but not limited to a single-family dwelling, which is approved by the agency as reasonable and necessary. The costs may include but are not limited to:

(1) the value of land and any buildings on the land owned by the sponsor or the cost of land acquisition and any buildings on the land, including payments for options, deposits, or contracts to purchase properties on the proposed housing sites;

(2) cost of site preparation, demolition, and development;

(3) any expenses relating to the issuance of bonds;

(4) fees paid or payable in connection with the planning, execution, and financing of the housing development, such as those to the architects, engineers, attorneys, accountants, and the agency;

(5) cost of necessary studies, surveys, plans, permits, insurance, interest, financing, tax and assessment costs, and other operating and carrying costs during construction;

(6) cost of construction, rehabilitation, reconstruction, fixtures, furnishings, equipment, machinery, and apparatus related to the real property;

(7) cost of land improvements, including without limitation, landscaping and off-site improvements, whether or not the costs have been paid in cash or in a form other than cash;

(8) necessary expenses in connection with initial occupancy of the housing development;

(9) a reasonable profit and risk fee in addition to job overhead to the general contractor and, if applicable, a limited profit housing sponsor;

(10) an allowance established by the agency for working capital and contingency reserves and reserves for any anticipated operating deficits during the first two years of occupancy; and

(11) the cost of the other items, including tenant relocation, if tenant relocation costs are not otherwise being provided for, as the agency shall determine to be reasonable and necessary for the development of the housing development, less any and all net rents and other net revenues received from the operation of the real and personal property on the development site during construction.

(j) "Housing development" or "housing project" means any real or personal property, project, building, structure, facilities, work, or undertaking, whether existing, new construction, remodeling, improvement, or rehabilitation, which meets or is designed to meet minimum property standards prescribed by the agency and which is financed pursuant to the provisions of this Act for the primary purpose of providing sanitary, decent, and safe dwelling accommodations for persons and families of low income and families of moderate income in need of housing. The term may include buildings, structures, land, equipment, facilities, or other real or personal properties which are necessary, convenient, or desirable appurtenances, such as but not limited to streets, water, sewers, utilities, parks, site preparation, landscaping, stores, offices, and other nonhousing facilities, such as administrative, community, and recreational facilities the agency determines to be necessary, convenient, or desirable appurtenances. "Housing development" and "housing project" include both single-family dwellings and multifamily dwellings in rural and in urban areas.

(k) "Housing sponsor" means individuals, including persons and families of low income or families of moderate income, joint ventures, partnerships, limited partnerships, trusts, firms, corporations, and cooperatives, approved by the agency as qualified either to own, construct, acquire, rehabilitate, operate, manage, or maintain a housing development, subject to the regulatory powers of the agency and other terms and conditions set forth in this Act. In economically depressed or blighted areas or in federally assisted new communities located within a home-rule city, "housing sponsor" may include a person or persons or family or families whose income exceeds the amount constituting moderate income if at least 90 percent of the total mortgage amount available under a mortgage revenue bond issue is designated for persons and families of low income or families of moderate income.

(l) "Land development" means the process of acquiring land for residential housing construction and making, installing, or constructing nonresidential improvements, including, without limitation, waterlines and water supply installations, sewer lines and sewage disposal installations, steam, gas, and electric lines and installations, roads, streets, curbs, gutters, and sidewalks, whether on or off the site, which the agency deems necessary or desirable for housing developments to be financed by the agency.

(m) "Mortgage" means a mortgage, mortgage deed, deed of trust, or other instrument which constitutes a lien:

(1) on real property; or

(2) on a leasehold under a lease having a remaining term which at the time the mortgage is acquired does not expire until after the maturity date of the interest-bearing obligation secured by the mortgage.

(n) "Mortgage lender" means any bank or trust company, savings bank, mortgage company, mortgage banker, credit union, national banking association, savings and loan association, building and loan association, life insurance company, or other financial institution authorized to transact business in the state that is approved as a mortgage lender by the agency.

(o) "Mortgage loan" means an interest-bearing obligation secured by a deed of trust, a mortgage, bond, note, or other instrument which is a lien on real property in the state.

(p) "Municipality" means any city, town, or village in this state.

(q) "Persons and families of low income" means persons and families determined by the board to require assistance as is made available by this Act because of insufficient personal or family income taking into consideration, without limitation, such factors as:

- (1) the amount of the total income of such persons and families available for housing needs;
- (2) the size of the family;
- (3) the cost and condition of housing facilities available;
- (4) the ability of the persons and families to compete successfully in the private housing market and to pay the amounts required by private enterprise for sanitary, decent, and safe housing; and
- (5) standards established for various federal programs determining eligibility based on income.

(r) "Family of moderate income" means a family:

- (1) that is determined by the board to require assistance, taking into account the factors listed in Subdivision (q) of this section; and
- (2) that does not qualify as a family of low income.

(s) "Public agency" means any board, authority, agency, department, commission, political subdivision, municipal corporation, district, public corporation, body politic, or instrumentality of the state including, without limitation, any county, home-rule charter city, general-law city, town, or village, any housing authority, any state-supported educational institution of higher learning, any school, junior college, hospital, water, sewerage, waste disposal, pollution, road, navigation, levee, drainage, conservation, reclamation, or other district or authority, and any other type of political or governmental entity of the state.

(t) "Real property" means all land, including improvements and fixtures thereon, and property of any nature appurtenant thereto, or used in connection therewith, and every estate, interest, and right, legal or equitable, therein, including leasehold interests, terms for years, and liens by way of judgment, mortgage, or otherwise.

(u) "Reserve fund" means the Texas Housing Agency Reserve Fund which may be created pursuant to this Act and which may be established by the agency with the State Treasurer of the State of Texas out of proceeds from the sale of the agency's bonds or other resources, as additional security for the agency's bonds.

(v) "Residential housing" means a specific work or improvement within this state undertaken primarily to provide dwelling accommodations, including the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, remodeling, improvement, or rehabilitation of land, buildings, and improvements thereto, for residential housing, and such other nonhousing facilities as may be incidental or appurtenant thereto.

(w) "State" means the State of Texas.

(x) "Economically depressed or blighted area" means: (i) an area that has been determined by the agency to be a qualified census tract or an area of chronic economic distress pursuant to the requirements of Section 103A, Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. Section 103A), or (ii) an area established within a city that has a substantial number of substandard, slum, deteriorated, or deteriorating structures, that suffers from a high relative rate of unemployment, or (iii) that has been designed and included in a tax increment district created under Chapter 695, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 1066d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). To establish an economically depressed or blighted area, pursuant to the provisions of (ii) or (iii) of this subsection, the governing body of the city must hold a public hearing and find that the area substantially impairs or arrests the sound growth of the city, or that it constitutes an economic or social liability and is a menace to the public health, safety, morals, or welfare in its present condition and use. The governing body of a city holding such a hearing must give notice as provided by Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except that notice must be published not less than 10 days before the day of the hearing.

(y) "Federally assisted new communities" shall mean those federally assisted areas which have received or will receive assistance in the form of loan guarantees under Title X of the National Housing Act¹ and a portion of the federally assisted area has received grants under Section 107(a)(1) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended.²

Creation of the Agency

Sec. 3. (a) There is hereby created and established a public and official governmental agency of the state, to be known as the Texas Housing Agency, and the state shall act by and through the agency in carrying out all powers and duties conferred by this Act. The exercise by the agency of all powers and duties conferred by this Act shall constitute and be deemed and held to be an essential public and official governmental function and purpose of the state, acting by and through the agency, in promoting the general welfare and prosperity of the state and all of its citizens.

(b) The agency is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Unless continued in existence as provided by that Act, the agency is abolished and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

Primary Purpose of the Agency: Declaration of Policy

Sec. 4. It is hereby declared:

(a) that there exists within both rural and urban areas of this state a shortage of sanitary and safe residential housing at prices or rentals which persons and families of low income and families of moderate income can afford; that this shortage has contributed to and will contribute to the creation and persistence of substandard living conditions and is inimical to the health, welfare, and prosperity of the residents and communities of this state;

(b) that it is imperative that the supply of residential housing for such persons and families and for persons and families displaced by public actions or natural disaster be increased;

(c) that private enterprise and investment are unable, without financial assistance, to provide in sufficient quantities the needed construction or rehabilitation of sanitary and safe residential housing at prices or rentals which persons and families of low income and families of moderate income can afford and to provide sufficient long-term mortgage financing for residential housing for occupancy by such persons and families;

(d) that private enterprise and investment be encouraged to develop land and to build and to rehabilitate residential housing for such persons and families, and that private financing be supplemented by financing as provided in this Act in order to help prevent the creation and recurrence of substandard living conditions and to assist in their permanent elimination throughout this state. It is further declared that in order to provide a fully adequate supply of sanitary and safe dwelling accommodations at rents, prices, or other costs which such persons or families can afford, the legislature finds that it is necessary to create and establish a housing finance agency for the purpose of encouraging the investment of private capital and stimulating the acquisition, construction, and rehabilitation of residential housing to meet the needs of such persons and families through the use of public financing, to provide construction and mortgage loans, and to make provision for the purchase of mortgage loans and otherwise. It is hereby further declared to be necessary and in the public interest that such housing finance agency provide for predevelopment costs, temporary financing, incidental land development expenses, and residential housing acquisition, construction, or rehabilitation by housing sponsors for sale or rental to persons and families of low income and families of moderate income; and further, to provide mortgage financing, including, without limitation, long-term federally insured mortgages to eligible housing sponsors; and further, to increase the acquisition, construction, and rehabilitation of low income housing through the purchase from mortgage lenders authorized to transact business within the state of first mortgage loans for residential housing for persons and families of low income and families of moderate income in this state; and further, to assist in making financing available for the purchase, installation, or repair of energy conservation devices or renewable energy systems by persons and families of low income and families of moderate income; and further, to provide technical, consultative, and project assistance services to private sponsors, to assist in coordinating federal, state, regional, and local public and private efforts and resources, to guarantee to the extent provided herein the repayment of certain loans secured by residential mortgages, and to preserve the quality of life in this state. It is hereby further declared that all of the foregoing are public purposes and uses for which public money may be borrowed, expended, advanced, loaned, granted, or appropriated, and that such activities serve a public purpose in improving or otherwise benefitting the people of this state; that the necessity of enacting the provisions of this Act is in the public interest and is hereby so declared as a matter of express legislative determination.

Appointment and Removal of Directors

Sec. 5. (a) The board of directors of the agency which is and constitutes a "board" of the state, within the meaning of Article XVI, Section 30a, of the Texas Constitution and which shall have such powers and duties as are prescribed in this Act shall consist of nine members, entitled directors. Each director occupies one of the nine places on the board designated as Places 1 through 9.

(b) The nine regular directors shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate.

(c) Except for the initial appointees, directors hold office for staggered terms of six years, with the terms of three directors expiring on January 31 of each odd-numbered year. Each director shall hold office until a successor is appointed and has qualified.

(d) The directors initially appointed to occupy Places 1, 4, and 7 shall serve terms expiring on January 31, 1981. The directors initially appointed to occupy Places 2, 5, and 8 shall serve terms expiring on January 31, 1983. The directors initially appointed to occupy Places 3, 6, and 9 shall serve terms expiring on January 31, 1985.

(e) Each director is eligible for reappointment.

(f) Any vacancy on the board is filled by appointment by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. A vacancy, except for expiration of term, is filled for the unexpired term only. If a vacancy occurs while the senate is not in session, the governor may make the appointment subject to confirmation by the senate when convened.

(g) To be eligible for appointment as a director, a person must be a qualified voter of the state and not hold any other public office. The governor shall make appointments so that the places on the board are occupied by persons having the following experience:

(1) Place 1—a person with experience in housing development administration;

(2) Place 2—a person with experience in commercial banking;

(3) Place 3—a person with experience in real estate operations;

(4) Place 4—a person with experience in home building;

(5) Place 5—a person with experience in apartment construction or ownership;

(6) Place 6—a person with experience in mortgage banking;

(7) Place 7—a person with experience in savings and loan operations;

(8) Place 8—a person with experience in municipal or county government;

(9) Place 9—a person with experience in housing problems of persons and families of low income and families of moderate income.

General Provisions Relating to the Board

Sec. 6. (a) The directors do not receive any compensation but each director is entitled to reimbursement for actual expenses incurred in performing duties of office to the extent authorized by the board.

(b) The board shall employ an executive administrator of the agency. The administrator may attend all meetings and participate in all proceedings of the board, but may not vote.

(c) The executive director of the Texas Department of Community Affairs, shall, as part of his or her regular duties of office, serve, ex officio, as the chairman of the board, who shall preside at meetings of the board and perform such other duties as are prescribed by the board and this Act, except that he or she shall not have a vote.

(d) The board shall elect one of the directors as vice-chairman to perform the duties of the chairman when the chairman is not present or is incapable of performing duties. The board shall elect a secretary to be the official custodian of the minutes, books, records, and seal of the board and to perform other duties as prescribed by the board. The board shall elect a treasurer to perform duties prescribed by the board. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be held by one person, and the holder of each of these offices need not be a director. The board may appoint one or more persons who are not directors to be assistant secretaries who may perform any duty of the secretary.

(e) A majority of the regular members of the board of directors constitutes a quorum. The board shall act and proceed by and through resolutions adopted by the board. The affirmative vote of at least five directors is necessary to adopt a resolution.

(f) The vice-chairman, secretary, and treasurer of the board shall be elected at the first meeting of the board after all directors shall have been appointed, taken the oath required by Article XVI, Section 1, of the Texas Constitution, and otherwise qualified for office. Thereafter, officers of the board shall be elected at the first meeting of the board on or following January 31 of each odd-numbered year, or at any time necessary to fill a vacancy.

(g) The board shall hold regular meetings at times specified by resolution of the board and may hold special meetings when called by the chairman, the administrator, or three of the directors.

(h) Prior to the issuance of bonds, each director shall execute a surety bond in the penal sum of $25,000, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of director, executed by a surety company authorized to transact business in this state, approved by the attorney general, and filed with the secretary of state. The surety bonds shall be kept in force at all times thereafter and the costs shall be paid by the agency.

(i) A director, chairman of the board, or administrator is not liable personally for any bonds issued or contracts executed by the agency.

Powers of the Administrator and the Board

Sec. 7. (a) The administrator of the agency shall exercise and perform all powers, duties, and functions prescribed by this Act except those prescribed in Subsection (b) of this section or otherwise required to be exercised by the board. The administrator, with the advice and consent of the board, shall appoint a deputy administrator of the agency. The administrator may employ any other employees necessary for the discharge of the duties of the agency, in such number and for such time as may be necessary for the performance of such duties and functions and to remove same, subject to the annual budget and the provisions of any resolution authorizing the issuance of the agency's bonds.

(b) The board shall have the following specific duties and powers, in addition to any other specific duties and powers assigned to the board in this Act:

(1) in its discretion, authorize all bonds of the agency;

(2) make rules, not inconsistent with this Act, governing the administration of the agency and its programs;

(3) adopt procedures for approving loans, purchases of loans, and commitments to purchase loans under this Act;

(4) adopt underwriting standards for loans made or purchased by the agency;

(5) adopt minimum property standards for housing developments financed under this Act;

(6) establish interest rates and amortization schedules for loans made or purchased by the agency;

(7) establish a schedule of fees and penalties authorized by this Act, including but not limited to application, processing, loan commitment, origination, servicing, and administrative fees;

(8) establish eligibility criteria for persons and families of low income and families of moderate income to participate in and benefit from the agency's programs;

(9) compile a list of approved mortgage lenders;

(10) approve an annual report of the agency; and

(11) approve an annual budget pursuant to Section 18 of this Act.

General Powers of the Agency

Sec. 8. (a) The agency is hereby granted, has, and may exercise all powers necessary or appropriate to carry out, achieve, or effectuate the purposes of this Act, including, without limitation, the following powers:

(1) to sue and be sued, and plead and be impleaded, in its own name; and it is specifically enacted that the agency is and constitutes a separate governmental agency and a body politic and corporate of this state, acting for and on behalf of this state;

(2) to adopt an official seal and alter same when deemed advisable;

(3) to adopt and enforce bylaws and rules for the conduct of its affairs not inconsistent with bylaws and this Act;

(4) to acquire, hold, invest, deposit, use and dispose of its revenues, income, receipts, funds, and money from every source and to select its depository or depositories, subject only to the provisions of this Act and any covenants with respect to the agency's bonds;

(5) to acquire, own, rent, lease, accept, hold, or dispose of any real, personal, or mixed property, or any interest therein, in performing its duties and exercising its powers under this Act, by purchase, exchange, gift, assignment, transfer, foreclosure, sale, lease, or otherwise, including rights or easements and to hold, manage, operate, or improve real, personal, or mixed property, except that:

(A) the agency may not construct or acquire any housing development unless acquired through foreclosure of mortgages or sales under deeds of trust;

(B) the agency shall make a diligent effort to sell a housing development so acquired to a purchaser who will be required to pay ad valorem taxes on the housing development or, if such a purchaser cannot be found, to any other purchaser; and

(C) in any event the agency shall sell a housing development so acquired within three years after the date of acquisition unless the board adopts a resolution stating that a purchaser for the housing development cannot be found after diligent search by the agency, in which case the agency shall continue to try to find a purchaser and shall sell the housing development when a purchaser is found;

(6) to sell, assign, lease, encumber, mortgage, or otherwise dispose of any real, personal, or mixed property, or any interest therein, or any deed of trust or mortgage lien interest owned by it or under its control, custody, or in its possession, and release or relinquish any right, title, claim, lien, interest, easement, or demand however acquired, including any equity or right of redemption in property foreclosed by it, and to do any of the foregoing by public or private sale, with or without public bidding, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law; and to lease or rent any dwellings, houses, accommodations, lands, buildings, structures, or facilities from private parties to effectuate the purposes of this Act;

(7) to request and accept any appropriations, grants, allocations, subsidies, rent supplements, guaranties, aid, contributions, services, labor, materials, gifts, or donations from the federal government, the state, any public agency, or any other sources;

(8) to maintain an office or offices throughout the state and appoint and determine the duties, tenure, qualifications, and compensation of its officers, employees, agents, professional advisors, and counselors, including, without limitation, financial consultants, accountants, attorneys, architects, engineers, real estate consultants, appraisers, housing construction and financing experts, as are determined necessary or advisable; it is the intention of this Act that the programs of the agency be coordinated with the programs of the Texas Department of Community Affairs with respect to their design and implementation in order to avoid duplication of governmental housing programs;

(9) to make, enter into, and enforce contracts and agreements with the federal government, the state, any public agency, or any person, firm, corporation, or other entity in performing its duties and exercising its powers under this Act; to make and enter into all contracts, agreements, and other arrangements with mortgage lenders; to designate mortgage lenders to act for and in behalf of the agency, with respect to originating, servicing, and processing mortgage loans of the agency, under the terms and conditions agreed on between the parties; and to provide, contract, or arrange for consolidated processing of any aspect of a housing development in order to avoid duplication;

(10) to issue its bonds, to provide for and secure the payment of the bonds, and to provide for the rights of the holders of the bonds, in the manner and to the extent permitted by this Act and the Texas Constitution; and to purchase, hold, cancel, or resell or otherwise dispose of any of its bonds, subject to any restrictions in any resolution authorizing the issuance of its bonds;

(11) to fix, charge, and collect fees and charges in connection with loans made or other services provided by the agency pursuant to this Act;

(12) to do anything authorized by this Act, through its directors, officers, or employees, or by contracts with the federal government, the state, any public agency, or any person, firm, corporation, or other entity;

(13) to invest its money in any bonds, obligations, or other securities or place such money in demand or time deposits, whether or not evidenced by certificates of deposit unless otherwise provided by this Act or a resolution authorizing the issuance of its bonds;

(14) to do all things necessary, convenient, or desirable to carry out the powers expressly granted or necessarily implied by this Act;

(15) to conduct hearings and to take testimony and proof, under oath or affirmation, at public hearings, on any matter necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act;

(16) to procure and pay premiums on insurance of any type whatsoever, in amounts and from insurers as the board deems necessary or advisable;

(17) to encourage individual or cooperative home ownership among persons and families of low income and families of moderate income in this state; and

(18) to investigate housing conditions and the means for improving those conditions and determine where slum or blighted areas exist.

(19) The Texas Housing Agency may target the proceeds from housing bonds issued by it to any geographic area or areas of the state. The Texas Housing Agency is also authorized to make loans to mortgage lenders or to public agencies, the proceeds of which will be used to make loans for multifamily housing developments which will be substantially occupied by persons and families of low income or families of moderate income.

Powers Relative to Making Mortgage Loans and Construction Loans to Housing Sponsors

Sec. 9. In addition to all other powers, the agency shall have the following specific powers:

(a) The agency may make, undertake commitments to make, and participate in the making of mortgage loans, including, without limitation, federally insured mortgage loans, and/or make temporary loans and advances in anticipation of permanent mortgage loans to housing sponsors to finance the purchase, construction, remodeling, improvement, or rehabilitation of housing developments for residential housing designed and planned for persons and families of low income and/or families of moderate income, upon the terms and conditions set forth in this Act.

(b) The agency may make and publish rules respecting making mortgage loans pursuant to this Act, the regulations of borrowers, the construction of ancillary commercial facilities, and resale and disposition of any real property, or any interest therein, financed by the agency.

(c) The agency may enter into agreements and contracts with housing sponsors and mortgage lenders under the provisions of this Act with respect to making or participating in making mortgage loans for residential housing for persons and families of low income and/or families of moderate income.

(d) The agency may institute any action or proceeding against any housing sponsor receiving a loan under the provisions hereof, or owning any housing development hereunder in any court of competent jurisdiction in order to enforce the provisions of this Act, the terms and provisions of any agreement or contract between the agency and such recipients of loans under the provisions hereof, including, without limitation, provisions as to rental or carrying charges and income limits as applied to tenants or occupants, or to foreclose its mortgage, or to protect the public interest, persons and families of low income or families of moderate income, stockholders, or creditors of the sponsor. In connection with any such action or proceeding the agency may apply for the appointment of a trustee or receiver to take over, manage, operate, and maintain the affairs of a housing sponsor. The agency through such agent as it shall designate is hereby authorized to accept appointment as trustee or receiver of any such sponsor when so appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Loan Terms and Conditions

Sec. 10. Loans made by the agency under the preceding section shall be subject to the following terms and conditions:

(a) The agency shall not process an application for a loan for a housing development unless the applicant is a housing sponsor and the application is submitted and recommended by a mortgage lender.

(b) The ratio of loan to total housing development cost and the amortization period of loans made under this Act which are insured or guaranteed by the federal government are governed by the federal government mortgage insurance commitment or federal guarantee for each housing development, except the amortization period may not exceed 40 years.

(c) A mortgage loan not insured by the federal government may not exceed 95 percent of the total housing development cost as determined by the agency. The amortization period of the loan shall be determined in accordance with regulations formulated and published by the agency, except the amortization period may not exceed 40 years.

(d) A mortgage loan made under this Act may be prepaid to maturity after the period of years and under the terms and conditions decided upon by the board.

(e) The agency may set the interest rates at which it makes loans and commitments therefor. The interest rates shall be established by the board in its sole discretion so as to produce at least the amounts required, together with other available funds, to pay for the agency's costs of operation and to meet its covenants with and responsibilities to the holders of its bonds. In addition to such interest charges the agency shall make and collect such fees and charges, including but not limited to reimbursement of the agency's financing costs, service charges, insurance premiums, and mortgage insurance premiums, as the agency determines to be reasonable.

(f) In considering an application for a loan, the agency shall give first priority to applications for well-planned and well-designed housing developments. The agency shall also give consideration to:

(1) the comparative need for housing for persons and families of low income and families of moderate income in the area to be served by the proposed housing development;

(2) the ability of the applicant to carry out, operate, manage, and maintain the proposed housing development;

(3) the existence of zoning, protective covenants, or regulations that adequately protect the proposed housing development against detrimental future uses that could cause undue depreciation in the value of the housing development; and

(4) the availability in urban areas of adequate parks, recreational areas, utilities, schools, transportation, and parking.

(g) Each mortgage loan shall be evidenced by a mortgage or deed of trust note or bond and by a mortgage or deed of trust that constitutes a lien on the housing development and on all the real property constituting the site of or relating to the housing development, and that contains provisions and is in a form required by the agency. The note or bond and mortgage or deed of trust may contain exculpatory provisions relieving the borrower or its principal from personal liability if agreed upon by the agency.

(h) Each mortgage loan is subject to an agreement between the agency and the housing sponsor that subjects the sponsor and its principals or stockholders to limitations established by the agency as to rentals and other charges, builders' and developers' profits and fees, and the disposition of its property and on all of the real property constituting the site of or relating to the housing development.

(i) As a condition of each loan, the agency may at any time during the construction, rehabilitation, or operation of a housing development:

(1) enter upon and inspect the housing development, including all parts thereof, for the purpose of investigating the physical and financial condition thereof, and its construction, rehabilitation, operation, management, and maintenance and to examine all books and records with respect to capitalization, income, and other matters relating thereto and to make such charges as may be required to cover the cost of such inspections and examinations;

(2) order alterations, changes, or repairs necessary to protect the security of the agency's investment in a housing development or the health, safety, and welfare of the occupants; and

(3) order any managing agent, housing development manager, or owner of a housing development to do whatever is necessary to comply with the provisions of applicable laws, ordinances, or rules of the agency or the terms of any agreement concerning the housing development or to refrain from doing any acts in violation thereof and in this regard the agency shall be a proper party to file a complaint and to prosecute thereon for any violations of laws or ordinances as set forth herein.

(j) A housing sponsor may not make distributions in any one year with respect to a housing development financed by the agency in excess of that which shall be prescribed by rules of the agency of the housing sponsor's equity in the development. The principals or stockholders of a housing sponsor may not at any time earn, accept, or receive a return greater than that which shall be prescribed by rules of the agency per annum of their investment in a housing development financed by the agency. A housing sponsor's equity in a housing development consists of the difference between the mortgage loan and the total housing development cost. The agency shall establish the sponsor's equity at the time of the making of the final mortgage advance and, for the purposes of this subsection, that figure remains constant during the life of the agency's mortgage or deed of trust on the development, except for additional equity investment made by the sponsor with the agency's approval or at its order.

Purchase and Sale of Mortgage Loans

Sec. 11. (a) The agency may purchase and take assignments from mortgage lenders or the federal government of notes and mortgages evidencing loans for the construction, remodeling, improvement, or rehabilitation, purchase, leasing, or refinancing of housing developments for persons and families of low income and families of moderate income.

(b) The agency may sell, at public or private sale, with or without public bidding, a mortgage or other obligation held by the agency.

Terms of the Purchase and Sale of Mortgage Loans

Sec. 12. (a) No mortgage loan purchased from a mortgage lender is eligible for purchase by the agency unless the mortgage lender certifies that:

(1) the mortgage loans transferred to the agency are for housing developments for persons or families of low income or for families of moderate income; or

(2) the proceeds of the sale or the equivalent have been or will be invested in mortgage loans that benefit persons and families of low income and families of moderate income or invested in short-term obligations pending the making of such mortgage loans.

(b) When the agency purchases a mortgage loan from a mortgage lender, it shall pay a purchase price equal to the outstanding principal balance, except that discount from the principal balance or the payment of a premium may be employed to effect a fair rate of return consistent with the obligations of the agency and the purposes of this Act. In addition to payment of the outstanding principal balance, the agency shall pay the accrued interest due to the date on which the mortgage loan is delivered against payment.

(c) Mortgage loans purchased or sold under this section may include mortgage loans that are insured, guaranteed, or assisted by the federal government, or for which there is commitment by the federal government to insure, guarantee, or assist the mortgage loan.

(d) The agency shall adopt rules governing the purchase and sale of mortgage loans and the application of the proceeds thereof, including rules governing:

(1) procedures for submitting requests or inviting proposals for the purchase and sale of mortgage loans;

(2) restrictions as to the number of family units, location, or other qualifications of residences to be financed by residential mortgage loans, and income limits of persons and families of low income or families of moderate income occupying the residence;

(3) restrictions as to the interest rates on mortgage loans or the return realized by mortgage lenders;

(4) requirements for commitments by mortgage lenders with respect to mortgage loans;

(5) schedules of fees and charges necessary for expenses and reserves of the agency;

(6) resale of the housing development; and

(7) any other matters related to the powers of the agency to purchase and sell mortgage loans.

(e) The agency shall review each mortgage loan purchased by the agency to determine if the loan meets the conditions of this Act, the rules of the agency, and any commitment made with the mortgage lender to purchase mortgage loans. The agency may require the substitution of another mortgage loan when it determines that a loan does not comply with this Act, its rules, or a commitment made with the mortgage lender. Subsections (b), (c), (d), (e), and (g) of Section 10 of this Act apply to the purchase of mortgage loans.

(f) The agency may not purchase an obligation that is more than two years old.

Supervising Housing Sponsors

Sec. 13. The agency shall have the power to supervise housing sponsors of housing developments that are rented or leased to tenants, including limited profit housing sponsors, and their real and personal property, in the following respects:

(a) The agency may prescribe uniform systems of accounts and records for housing sponsors and may require housing sponsors to make reports and certifications of their expenditures and to answer specific questions on forms and at such times as may be necessary for the purposes of this Act.

(b) The agency, through its agents or employees, may enter upon and inspect the land, buildings, and equipment of a housing sponsor, including all parts thereof, and may examine all records showing the capital structure, income, expenditures, and other payments of a housing sponsor.

(c) The agency may supervise the operation and maintenance of a housing development and may order repairs as necessary to protect the public interest or the health, welfare, or safety of the housing development occupants.

(d) The agency shall approve and may alter from time to time a schedule of rents and charges for a housing development.

(e) The agency shall determine standards for and shall control tenant and management selection by a housing sponsor.

(f) The agency may require a housing sponsor to pay the agency fees and charges for the costs of regulating the housing sponsor, including, without limitation, the costs of examination, inspection, supervision, and auditing the housing sponsor.

(g) The agency may order a housing sponsor to do or to refrain from doing what is necessary to comply with the provision of law, the rules of the agency, and the terms of a contract or agreement to which the housing sponsor is a party.

(h) The agency shall regulate the retirement of any capital investment or the redemption of stock of a limited profit housing sponsor if the retirement or redemption, when added to any dividend or other distribution, exceeds in any one fiscal year the permitted percentage, as shall be prescribed by rules of the agency, of the original face amount of the limited profit housing sponsor's investment or equity in any housing development.

(i) The agency shall make rules specifying the categories of cost allowable in the construction, reconstruction, remodelling, improvement, or rehabilitation of a housing development. The agency shall require a housing sponsor to certify the actual housing development costs on completion of the housing development, subject to audit and determination by the agency, except that the agency may accept, in lieu of certification of housing development costs, other assurances of the housing development costs, in any form or manner whatsoever, that will enable the agency to determine with reasonable accuracy the amount of the housing development costs.

(j) This section does not apply to any housing development for which persons or families of low income or families of moderate income receive a mortgage loan hereunder and which initially is intended for occupancy by such persons or families.

Admission to Housing Developments

Sec. 14. (a) Admission to housing developments that are rented or leased to tenants financed under this Act is limited to persons or families of low income and families of moderate income.

(b) The agency shall periodically examine the income of any person or family who are tenants residing in a housing development. The agency or, with the approval of the agency, the housing sponsor of a housing development may terminate the tenancy or interest of any person or family whose gross income exceeds the income level prescribed for admission by more than 25 percent for a period of six months or more. No tenancy or interest of any person or family in any housing development may be terminated except on reasonable notice and opportunity to obtain suitable alternate housing in accordance with rules of the agency. A person or family whose gross income would not otherwise permit continued occupancy of a dwelling unit may, with the approval of the agency, continue to occupy a dwelling unit on payment of a surcharge to the housing sponsor in accordance with a schedule of surcharges fixed by the agency.

(c) If a person or family who resides in a cooperative housing development must move from the housing development because of excessive income, the person or family must be discharged from liability of any note, bond, or other evidence of indebtedness and reimbursed, in accordance with the rules of the agency, for all sums paid to the housing sponsor on account of the purchase of stock or debentures as a condition of occupancy or on account of the acquisition of title for that purpose.

(d) This section does not apply to any housing development for which persons or families of low income or families of moderate income receive a mortgage loan hereunder and which initially is intended for occupancy by such persons or families.

Procedure Prior to Financing of Housing Developments Undertaken by Housing Sponsors

Sec. 15. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the agency is not empowered to finance any housing development undertaken by a housing sponsor unless, prior to the financing of any housing development hereunder, the agency finds that:

(1) the housing development is necessary to provide needed decent, safe, and sanitary housing at rentals or prices which persons or families of low income or families of moderate income can afford;

(2) the housing sponsor or sponsors undertaking the proposed housing development in this state will supply well-planned and well-designed housing for persons or families of low income or families of moderate income and that such sponsors are financially responsible;

(3) the financing of the housing development pursuant to the provisions of this Act will constitute a public purpose and will provide a public benefit; and

(4) the housing development will be undertaken within the authority conferred by this Act upon the agency and the housing sponsor or sponsors.

Exemption from Taxation

Sec. 16. The property of the agency, its income, and operations are exempt from all taxes and assessments imposed by the state and all public agencies on property acquired or used by the agency under the provisions of this Act. The agency may, under its terms, conditions, and rules, make payments to public agencies in lieu of ad valorem taxes on any property which the agency has acquired through foreclosure or sale under a deed of trust. It shall be the policy of the agency to make these payments in lieu of taxes whenever practicable with any money lawfully available for this purpose, subject to the provisions, requirements, and restrictions of any bond resolution.

Fiscal Year; Annual Report; Audit

Sec. 17. The agency shall operate on a fiscal year beginning September 1 and ending August 31. The agency shall have an audit of its books and accounts for each fiscal year by the state auditor or by a certified public accountant. The cost of the audit is an expense of the agency. A copy of the audit shall be filed with the governor and the legislature on or before January 1 of each year, except if the audit is being made by the state auditor and is not available by January 1, it shall be filed as soon as it is available. Also, on or before January 1 of each year, the agency shall prepare a report of its activities for the preceding fiscal year for the governor and the legislature. The report shall set forth a complete operating and financial statement.

Annual Budget

Sec. 18. (a) On or before August 1 of each year, the administrator shall file with the board a proposed annual budget for the succeeding fiscal year. The budget shall set forth the general categories of expected expenditures out of revenues and income of the agency, and the amount on account of each, and may include a provision or reserve for contingencies or over expenditures. On or before September 1 in each year, the board shall consider the proposed annual budget and shall approve it or change it as the board determines necessary or advisable. Copies of the annual budget certified by the chairman of the board shall be filed promptly with the governor and the legislature. The annual budget is not effective until it is filed.

(b) If for any reason the agency does not adopt the annual budget before September 2, the budget for the preceding year shall remain in effect until a new budget is adopted.

(c) The agency may adopt an amended annual budget for the current fiscal year, but the amended annual budget may not supersede a prior budget until it is filed with the governor and the legislature.

(d) All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of the Act shall be payable solely from revenues or funds provided or to be provided pursuant to the provisions of this Act, and nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize the agency to incur any indebtedness or liability on behalf of or payable by the State of Texas, except as provided in this Act, or as otherwise provided by law.

Selection of Depository

Sec. 19. (a) The agency shall choose a depository for its revenues and funds, other than appropriated funds, after inviting bids for favorable interest rates. The agency shall publish notice in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the state at least 14 days before the last day set for the receipt of the bids. The notice shall state the types of deposits planned, the last day on which bids will be received, and the time and place for opening bids.

(b) Sealed bids that are identified as bids on the envelope must be submitted to the agency before the deadline for receiving bids. The state auditor or a member of the auditor's staff must be present at the bid opening. The agency shall provide a tabulation of all submitted bids for public inspection.

(c) The agency shall choose the depository submitting the bid with the most favorable interest rate.

(d) If covenants related to the agency's bonds specify one or more depositories or set out a method of selecting depositories different from the method prescribed by this section, the covenants prevail with respect to the funds to which they apply.

Agency Records

Sec. 20. (a) The agency shall keep complete records and accounts of its business transactions according to generally accepted methods of accounting.

(b) The agency shall keep complete minutes of its meetings. The agency accounts, minutes, and other records shall be kept at its principal office.

Issue of Housing Finance Agency Bonds

Sec. 21. (a) The board of directors of the agency by resolution from time to time may provide for the issuance of negotiable bonds as authorized by the Texas Constitution. The bonds shall be on a parity and shall be called Texas Housing Bonds. The board may issue them in one or several installments and shall date the bonds of each issue.

(b) In addition to the authority to issue general obligation bonds as provided in Subsection (a) of Section 21 of this Act, the agency may issue its revenue bonds for the purpose of providing money with which to carry out, achieve, or effectuate any purpose, power, or duty of the agency under this Act. The agency's bonds may be issued from time to time in one or more series or issues, payable as to principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, from and secured by a first lien or a subordinate lien on and pledge of all or any part of the revenues, income, or other resources of the agency including, without limitation, the repayments of mortgage loans, the earnings from investment or deposit of the reserve fund and other funds of the agency, the fees, charges, and any other amounts or payments received pursuant to this Act, and any appropriations, grants, allocations, subsidies, rent supplements, guaranties, aid, contribution, or donations from the federal government.

(c) Also, the agency may issue its bonds, which may be designated as "bond anticipation notes," which may be made payable as to principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, solely from the proceeds from the sale of the agency's definitive refunding bonds if or when issued and delivered for the purpose of refunding such bond anticipation notes or payable as to principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, from such definitive refunding bonds and any other revenues, income, or resources of the agency, and the agency may covenant that it will issue, sell, and deliver such definitive refunding bonds in such manner as will provide the money necessary to pay any required part of the principal of and interest and redemption premium, if any, on the bond anticipation notes when due; provided that such bond anticipation notes may be refunded in any other manner permitted by the Act.

(d) The payment of the principal of and the interest and redemption premium, if any, on the agency's bonds additionally may be secured by a first lien or a subordinate lien on and pledge of all or any part of the assets and real, personal, or mixed property of the agency (including mortgages and obligations securing same, and investments), and the reserve fund, or other reserves or funds of the agency.

(e) All bonds issued by the agency shall be authorized by resolution of the board and may be secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on property, and/or by trust agreements or trust indentures administered by one or more corporate trustees, in such manner as may be prescribed by the board; and the substantial form of any such mortgage, deed of trust, trust agreement, or trust indenture shall be set forth in and constitute a part of the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds. Any resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds of the agency may provide that part of the proceeds from the sale thereof may be used for paying the costs and expenses of issuing the bonds, for paying interest on the bonds during such period as may be prescribed by the board, and for paying or repaying operation and maintenance expenses of the agency to the extent and for the period of time specified in said resolution, and also for the funding, increasing, or restoring any depletions of the reserve fund or other reserves or funds for any purposes.

(f) The agency may provide for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under such terms or conditions as may be set forth in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(g) The agency also may issue its bonds for the specific purpose of providing all or any part of the money required for funding or increasing the reserve fund or other reserves or funds of the agency.

Interest on Bonds

Sec. 22. The agency's bonds may be issued to bear interest at any rate or rates as shall be determined by the board.

Form; Denomination; Place of Payment

Sec. 23. (a) The agency's bonds may be issued as serial bonds, or as term bonds, or any combination of each as shall be determined by the board.

(b) The agency's bonds may be issued in coupon form payable to bearer, or in fully registered form, or as coupon bonds payable to bearer but registrable as to principal alone, or as to both principal and interest, or in any other form.

(c) The agency's bonds may be payable at any place or places, may be made redeemable prior to maturity, and may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions, and details, and shall be executed, all as provided by the board in the resolution authorizing the issuance of said bonds.

(d) The agency's bonds may be sold in such manner, at such price, and under such terms and conditions, as shall be determined by the board.

Maturity of Bonds

Sec. 24. The agency's bonds may mature within any period as shall be determined by the board.

Redemption Before Maturity; Conversion

Sec. 25. (a) The board may provide and covenant for the conversion of any form of bond into any other form or forms of bond, and for reconversion of bonds into any other form.

(b) If the duty of replacement, conversion, or reconversion of bonds is imposed upon a place of payment (paying agent) of any bonds, or upon a corporate trustee under a trust agreement or trust indenture, the replacement, converted, or reconverted bond need not be reapproved by the attorney general or reregistered by the comptroller of public accounts as provided in Section 27 of this Act.

Otherwise, all replacement, converted, or reconverted bonds must be so approved and registered as provided in Section 27 of this Act, in accordance with the procedures established in the resolution authorizing the bonds.

Agency's Bonds not Obligations of the State

Sec. 26. (a) The agency's bonds are solely obligations of the agency and are payable solely from funds of the agency, and this Act and the agency's bonds are not and do not create or constitute in any way an obligation, a debt, or a liability of the state, or create or constitute a pledge, giving, or lending of the faith or credit or taxing power of the state except bonds authorized by the Texas Constitution and as provided in Subsection (a) of Section 21 of this Act.

(b) Each bond of the agency not authorized by Subsection (a) of Section 21 of this Act shall contain on its face a statement to the effect that the state is not obligated to pay the principal thereof or interest thereon; and that neither the faith or credit nor the taxing power of the state is pledged, given, or loaned to such payment.

(c) However, the state hereby pledges to and agrees with the holders of any bonds issued under this Act that the state will not limit or alter the rights hereby vested in the agency to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the said holder thereof or in any way impair the rights and remedies of such holders until such bonds, together with the interest thereon, with interest on any unpaid installments of interest, and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceeding by or on behalf of such holders, are fully met and discharged. The agency is authorized to include this pledge and agreement of the state in any agreement with the holders of such bonds.

Approval of Bonds; Registration

Sec. 27. All bonds issued by the agency and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for examination. If the attorney general finds that such bonds have been authorized in accordance with this Act, the attorney general shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas.

Execution of Bonds

Sec. 28. The bonds authorized by Subsection (a) of Section 21 of this Act shall be executed on behalf of the board as general obligations of the state in the following manner: the chairman of the board shall sign the bonds; the board shall impress its seal on the bonds; the governor shall sign the bonds; and the secretary of state shall attest the bonds and impress on them the state seal.

Facsimile Signatures and Seals

Sec. 29. The resolution authorizing the issuance of an installment or series of bonds may prescribe the extent to which the board in executing the bonds and appurtenant coupons may use facsimile signatures and facsimile seals instead of manual signatures and manually impressed seals. Interest coupons may be signed by the facsimile signatures of the chairman of the board of the agency.

Signature of Former Officer

Sec. 30. If an officer whose manual or facsimile signature appears on a bond or whose facsimile signature appears on any coupon ceases to be an officer before the bond is delivered, the signature is valid and sufficient for all purposes as if the officer had remained in office until the delivery had been made.

Bonds Incontestable

Sec. 31. (a) After approval by the attorney general and registration by the comptroller of public accounts, the bonds shall be incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

(b) In addition, general obligation bonds issued as provided in Subsection (a) of Section 21 of this Act and after approval and registration as provided in this Act shall constitute general obligations of the state.

Reserve Fund

Sec. 32. (a) There may be created and established by the agency, with the State Treasurer of the State of Texas, a separate and special fund to be entitled the Texas Housing Agency Reserve Fund. The reserve fund may be used for the purpose of paying principal of and interest, and redemption premium, if any, on any of the agency's bonds secured by the reserve fund, or any account therein, in order to prevent or cure a default, if, when, and to the extent the revenues, income, and receipts of the agency are insufficient for such payment, and for such other purposes as are provided in any resolution authorizing the issuance of the agency's bonds. The agency may establish separate accounts within the reserve fund to secure and be applicable only to the agency's bonds for which they are established.

(b) It shall be an additional duty of the State Treasurer, in the State Treasurer's official capacity, ex officio, to accept the reserve fund, as custodian thereof, in accordance with the provisions of this section; but the reserve fund shall not be commingled with the General Revenue Fund of the state or any other special funds or accounts in the State Treasury, and the reserve fund shall not constitute or be a part of the State Treasury. The reserve fund and any account therein shall be kept and maintained separate and apart from all other money, funds, deposits, and accounts and shall be kept and held in escrow and in trust by the State Treasurer, for and on behalf of, and charged with an irrevocable lien and pledge in favor of, the holders of the agency's bonds secured thereby; and the reserve fund shall be used only as provided in this Act. Legal title to the reserve fund shall be in the agency unless or until paid out as herein provided, but the State Treasurer, as custodian, shall administer the reserve fund strictly and solely as provided in this Act and the agency's bond resolutions, and the State Treasurer shall take no action with respect to the reserve fund other than that specified in this Act and in said bond resolutions.

(c) Out of proceeds from the sale and delivery of its first series or issue of bonds which are secured by the reserve fund, or from any other source available to it, the agency may provide for depositing into the reserve fund, or an account therein, such amount as is specified in the bond resolution, and thereafter the reserve fund, or such accounts therein, shall be increased to, when necessary, and maintained at, said amount with respect to all bonds at any time outstanding which are secured by the reserve fund, or such account therein. The board is authorized to establish the procedures for funding, increasing, and maintaining the reserve fund, or any account therein, and the operation and use of, and the priorities of bondholders in connection with, the reserve fund, or any account therein, in the resolutions authorizing the issuance of its bonds. The State Treasurer shall be furnished certified copies of said bond resolutions, and the State Treasurer shall comply therewith.

(d) Amounts in the reserve fund, or any account therein, at any time in excess of the amount then required to be on hand therein, whether by reason of investment or deposit earnings or otherwise, shall be paid by the State Treasurer directly to, or upon the order of, the agency, upon written request by the agency, or disposed of and disbursed by the State Treasurer as provided in any bond resolution of the agency.

(e) The State Treasurer shall place the money in the reserve fund, or any account therein, in demand or time deposits, or invest said money in any direct obligations of, or obligations the payment of the principal of and interest on which are guaranteed by, the federal government, and such deposits and/or investments shall be made by the State Treasurer at the places and in the amounts and manner as provided in written instructions from the agency as to the procedures and details thereof, or as provided in any bond resolution of the agency. If said money is placed in demand or time deposits, such deposits shall be secured at all times by the same type of obligations as those in which the reserve fund may be invested. Earnings from such deposits and investments shall be credited to the reserve fund, or the account therein from which the money was deposited or invested, or disposed of as provided in any bond resolution. Said investments shall be sold promptly by the State Treasurer if and when necessary to prevent or cure any default in connection with the agency's bonds, as provided in this Act and the resolutions authorizing such bonds.

(f) The State Treasurer's surety bond required by law, and conditioned that the State Treasurer will faithfully execute the duties of the treasurer's office, shall be applicable to and cover the execution of the State Treasurer's duties with respect to the reserve fund as required by this Act.

(g) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the agency may or may not, at its option, create or fund the reserve fund and may issue its bonds which are not secured by the reserve fund, or any account therein, but which may be secured by any other or separate reserve fund or account to be kept at any place, or secured in any other manner provided in the agency's bond resolutions.

Payment Enforceable by Mandamus

Sec. 33. The writ of mandamus and all other legal and equitable remedies shall be available to any party at interest to require the agency, the State Treasurer, and any other party to carry out its or their agreements and to perform its or their functions and duties under this Act, the Texas Constitution, or the agency's bond resolutions.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 34. (a) Any bonds issued by the agency may be refunded, or otherwise refinanced, by the issuance by the agency of refunding bonds for such purpose, under such terms, conditions, and details as shall be determined by the board.

(b) All pertinent and appropriate provisions of this Act shall be applicable to such refunding bonds, and they may be issued in the manner provided herein for other bonds authorized under this Act; provided that such refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of any bonds to be refunded, at maturity or on any redemption date, in accordance with such procedures as shall be determined by the board, and the comptroller of public accounts shall register such refunding bonds without the necessity of cancelling the bonds being refunded.

(c) Also, such refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds being refunded thereby. In any case where refunding bonds are to be exchanged, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver the same to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded thereby, in accordance with the provisions of the resolution authorizing the refunding bonds; and any such exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(d) Bonds issued by the agency also may be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable statute, including Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended, and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Articles 717k and 717k-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Bonds Negotiable Instruments

Sec. 35. Notwithstanding any statute to the contrary, each bond and interest coupon issued and delivered by the agency is and constitutes a negotiable instrument within the meaning and for all purposes of the Texas Uniform Commercial Code,¹ except that said bonds may be registered or subject to registration as permitted by this Act.

¹ Business and Commerce Code, § 1.101 et seq.

Payment of Agency's Obligations

Sec. 36. It is the duty of the board to establish and collect sufficient fees and charges for services and facilities and to utilize all other available sources of revenues, income, and receipts, in order to pay all expenses of operation and maintenance of the agency, to pay the principal of and interest on its bonds, and to create and maintain the reserve fund and any other reserves or funds as provided in each resolution authorizing the issuance of its bonds. In any resolution authorizing the issuance of the agency's bonds the board may prescribe systems, methods, routines, and procedures under which the agency shall function, consistent with this Act.

Validity of Liens and Pledges

Sec. 37. Each lien on or pledge of revenues, income, or other resources of the agency, or on the assets of the agency, or on the reserve fund, or other reserves or funds of the agency, as authorized by this Act, shall be valid and binding from the time of payment for and delivery of the bonds authorized by the resolution of the board creating or confirming any such lien or pledge. All such liens and pledges shall be fully effective as to items then on hand or thereafter received, and said items shall be subject to such liens or pledges without any physical delivery thereof or further act. All such liens and pledges shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract, or otherwise against the agency or other party, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither any resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds of the agency nor any other instrument by which any such lien or pledge is created or confirmed need be filed or recorded except in the records of the agency, and except that each bond resolution of the agency shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas as required by Section 27 of this Act.

Bonds not Taxable

Sec. 38. As set forth in this act the agency will be performing an essential governmental function in the exercise of the powers conferred upon it by this Act, and the bonds of the agency issued pursuant to this Act, and the interest and income therefrom, including any profit made on the sale thereof, and all its fees, charges, gifts, grants, revenues, receipts, and other money received or pledged to pay or secure the payment of such bonds shall at all times be free from taxation and assessments of every kind by this state and by all public agencies.

Authorized Investments

Sec. 39. (a) All bonds issued by the agency under this Act shall be legal and authorized investments for all:

- (1) banks;
- (2) savings banks;
- (3) trust companies;
- (4) building and loan associations;
- (5) savings and loan associations;
- (6) insurance companies of all kinds and types;
- (7) fiduciaries;
- (8) trustees;
- (9) guardians; and
- (10) sinking and other public funds of the state, cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, and other political subdivisions and public agencies of the state.

Security for Deposit of Funds

Sec. 40. All bonds also shall be eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the state and all public agencies, to the extent of the par or market value of said bonds, whichever is greater, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Mutilated, Lost, Stolen, Destroyed Bonds

Sec. 41. The board may provide procedures for the replacement of any mutilated, lost, stolen, or destroyed bond or interest coupon.

No Gain Allowed

Sec. 42. Neither the administrator, chairman of the board, nor any director of the agency, for purposes of personal pecuniary gain, shall have or attempt to have any pecuniary interest in any transaction to which the agency is a party.

No Discrimination

Sec. 43. No person in the state shall, on the grounds of race, color, national origin, or sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity funded in whole or in part with funds made available under this Act.

Liberal Construction of the Act

Sec. 44. This Act shall be construed liberally to effectuate the legislative intent and the purposes of this Act, and all powers herein granted shall be broadly interpreted to effectuate such intent and purposes and not as a limitation of powers.

Cumulative Effect of the Act; Conflicting Laws

Sec. 45. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereby, without reference to any other laws or any restrictions, approvals, or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided; and to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provisions of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control; provided, however, that the board shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws not in conflict with the provisions hereof to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Severability Clause

Sec. 46. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application of such sections, provisions, clauses, or words to any situation or circumstance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application of such sections, provisions, clauses, or words to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Appropriation

Sec. 47. If the General Appropriation Act for the fiscal biennium ending on August 31, 1981, contains an appropriation for the administration of this Act, the validity of the appropriation is not affected by the fact that it refers to the Texas Housing Agency as the Texas Housing Finance Authority.

Authority to Issue General Obligation Bonds Contingent

Sec. 48. Subsection (a) of Section 21 of this Act, to the extent it authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds, takes effect if and when the Texas Constitution is amended to permit the issuance of such bonds as contemplated by that provision of this Act.

Section 4(c) of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"The terms used in Section 4 of this Act shall have the same meaning as defined in the Texas Housing Agency Act (Article 1269-6, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes)."

Section 3 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application of such sections, provisions, clauses, or words to any situation or circumstance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of the Act or the application of such sections, provisions, clauses, or words to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that the Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein."

Art. 1269/7. Housing Finance Corporations Act

Short Title, Captions, Sections, Subsections, and Paragraphs

Sec. 1. A. This Act shall be known and may be cited as the "Texas Housing Finance Corporations Act."

B. The division of this Act into sections, subsections, and paragraphs and the use of captions in connection therewith are solely for convenience and shall have no legal effect in construing the provisions of this Act.

Definitions

Sec. 2. Wherever used in this Act, unless a different meaning clearly appears in the context, the following terms, whether used in the singular or plural, shall be given the following respective interpretations:

"Bonds" means the revenue bonds authorized under this Act and includes notes and any and all other limited obligations payable as provided hereunder.

"City" means any city or town of this state presently existing or hereafter created, whether existing or created by general law or pursuant to a home-rule charter.

"Corporation" means any public nonprofit corporation organized pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

"County" means any county of the State of Texas.

"Development costs" means and includes the sum total of all reasonable or necessary costs incidental to the providing, acquisition, construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, repair, alteration, improvement, and extension of a residential development, including, without limitation, the following: the cost of studies and surveys; plans and specifications; architectural and engineering services; financial advisory, mortgage banking and administrative services; underwriting fees; legal, accounting, marketing, and other special services relating to residential development or incurred in connection with the issuance and sale of bonds; necessary application and other fees to federal, state, and local government agencies for any requisite approvals for construction, for assisted financing or otherwise; financing, acquisition, demolition, construction, equipment, and site development of new and rehabilitated buildings; the relocation of utilities, public ways, and parks; the construction of recreational, cultural, and commercial facilities; rehabilitation, reconstruction, repair, or remodeling of existing buildings and all other necessary and incidental expenses, including trustee and rating agency fees and an initial bond and interest reserve together with interest on bonds issued to finance a residential development to a date 12 months subsequent to the estimated date of completion; any premiums for mortgage insurance or insurance with respect to bonds; and such other expenses as the corporation may deem appropriate to effectuate the purposes of this Act.

"Economically depressed or blighted area" means: (i) an area that has been determined by the issuer to be a qualified census tract or an area of chronic economic distress pursuant to the requirements of Section 103A, Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. Sec. 103A), or (ii) an area established within a city that has a substantial number of substandard, slum, deteriorated, or deteriorating structures, that suffers from a high relative rate of unemployment, or (iii) that has been designed and included in a tax increment district created under Chapter 695, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 1066d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). To establish an economically depressed or blighted area, pursuant to the provisions of (ii) or (iii) of this subsection, the governing body of the city must hold a public hearing and find that the area substantially impairs or arrests the sound growth of the city, or that it constitutes an economic or social liability and is a menace to the public health, safety, morals, or welfare in its present condition and use. The governing body of a city holding such a hearing must give notice as provided by Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except that notice must be published not less than 10 days before the day of the hearing.

"Federally assisted new communities" shall mean those federally assisted areas which have received or will receive assistance in the form of loan guarantees under Title X of the National Housing Act¹ and a portion of the federally assisted area has received grants under Section 107(a)(1) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended.²

"Governing body" means, with reference to a local governmental unit, as herein defined, the council, commission, commissioners court, or similar body charged by law with the governance of a local governmental unit.

"Home" means real property and improvements thereon located within a local governmental unit (but as to a county, not within a city within the county without approval of the governing body of the city if the population of the city exceeds 20,000 as determined by the corporation's rules or regulations, resolutions relating to the issuance of bonds, or financing documents relating to such issuance) consisting of not more than four connected dwelling units, including but not limited to condominium units, owned by one mortgagor who occupies or intends to occupy one of such units.

"Home mortgage" means an interest-bearing loan to a mortgagor, or a participation therein, for the purpose of purchasing, improving, or constructing a home, evidenced by a promissory note, secured by a mortgage, mortgage deed, deed of trust, or other instrument which constitutes a lien on such home, and which is guaranteed or insured by the United States or any agency, department, or instrumentality thereof, or by any private mortgage insurance or surety company, to the extent that such loan exceeds 80 percent of the lesser of (i) the appraised value of the home at the time of its making or (ii) the sales price of such home. Such guaranty or insurance shall not be required on home mortgages if the principal of and interest on the corporation's bonds issued to make or purchase such home mortgages or to make loans to lending institutions are guaranteed or insured by an agency, department or instrumentality of the United States government or any insurance or surety company authorized to issue municipal bond insurance.

"Lending institution" means any bank, trust company, savings bank, national banking association, savings and loan association, building and loan association, mortgage banker, mortgage company, credit union, life insurance company, or other financial institution or governmental agency which customarily provides service or otherwise aids in the financing of mortgages on single family residential housing or multifamily residential housing located in the local governmental unit, or any holding company for any of the foregoing.

"Local governmental unit" means any city or county.

"Mortgagor" means a person or persons of low or moderate income whose adjusted gross aggregate income, together with the adjusted gross aggregate income of all persons who intend to reside with such person or persons in one dwelling unit, did not, for the immediately preceding taxable year, exceed the maximum amount established as constituting moderate income by the corporation's rules or regulations, resolutions relating to the issuance of bonds, or financing documents relating to such issuance. In economically depressed or blighted areas or in federally assisted new communities located within a home-rule city, "mortgagor" may include a person or persons whose adjusted gross aggregate income exceeds the amount constituting moderate income if at least 90 percent of the total mortgage amount available under a home mortgage revenue bond issue is designated for persons of low or moderate income.

"Person" means any individual, partnership, co-partnership, firm, company, corporation, lending institution, association, joint stock company, trust, estate, political subdivision, state agency, or any other legal entity, or its legal representative, agent, or assigns, but shall, when used with reference to a mortgagor or owner of a home, mean a natural person or a trust for the benefit of such natural person.

"Residential development" means the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, repair, alteration, improvement, or extension of any land, interest in land, building, structure, facility, system, fixture, improvement, addition, appurtenance, machinery, or equipment or any combination thereof, all real and personal property deemed necessary in connection therewith, and all real and personal property or improvements functionally related and subordinate thereto, substantially (at least 90 percent) for use by or intended to be occupied substantially (at least 90 percent) by persons of low and moderate income whose adjusted gross income, together with the adjusted gross income of all persons who intend to reside with such persons in one dwelling unit, did not, for the immediately preceding taxable year, exceed the maximum amount established as constituting moderate income by the corporation's rules or regulations, resolutions relating to the issuance of bonds, or financing documents relating to such issuance, for the purpose of obtaining decent, safe, and sanitary housing, and in connection therewith nonhousing facilities which are an integral part of or functionally related to such residential development. Any such residential development shall be located within the local governmental unit.

Purpose of Act—Liberal Construction

Sec. 3. It is hereby determined and declared that the purpose of this Act is to provide a means of financing the cost of residential ownership and development that will provide decent, safe, and sanitary housing for residents of local governmental units at prices they can afford; it is further determined and declared that such residential ownership and development will (a) provide for and promote the public health, safety, morals, and welfare; (b) relieve conditions of unemployment and encourage the increase of industry and commercial activity and economic development so as to reduce the evils attendant upon unemployment; (c) provide for efficient and well-planned urban growth and development including the elimination and prevention of potential urban blight and the proper coordination of industrial facilities with public services, mass transportation, and residential development; (d) assist persons of low and moderate income in acquiring and owning decent, safe, and sanitary housing which they can afford; and (e) preserve and increase ad valorem tax bases of local governmental units; and the foregoing are hereby determined and declared to lessen the burdens of government and to be public purposes and functions; and it is the intent of the legislature by the passage of this Act to authorize local governmental units to create and utilize public nonprofit corporations to issue obligations to accomplish such public purposes. This Act shall be liberally construed in conformity with its intention.

Application to Governing Body of Local Governmental Unit

Sec. 4. A. Whenever any number of individuals, not less than three, each of whom shall be a citizen of the State of Texas, of the age of 18 years or more and residents of the local governmental unit, shall file with the governing body of the local governmental unit an application in writing seeking the incorporation of a housing finance corporation under the provisions of this Act, the governing body shall proceed to consider such application. If the governing body shall by appropriate resolution duly adopted find and determine that it is wise, expedient, necessary, or advisable that the corporation be formed and shall approve the form of articles of incorporation proposed to be used in organizing the corporation, then articles of incorporation for the corporation may be filed as hereinafter provided. No corporation may be formed unless such application shall have first been filed with the governing body of the local governmental unit and the governing body shall have adopted a resolution as provided in this section. The approval of the articles of incorporation of one corporation shall not preclude the approval by the governing body of the local governmental unit of the articles of incorporation of other corporations with names or designations sufficient to distinguish them from any corporation theretofore incorporated; provided that the governing body of the local governmental unit shall not permit the existence of more than one corporation created on its behalf which has the power to make or acquire home mortgages, or make loans to lending institutions, the proceeds of which will be used to make home mortgages or to make loans on residential developments.

B. Corporations acting on behalf of more than one local governmental unit may be created as set forth in this subsection. Not less than three residents of each local governmental unit on whose behalf the corporation is to be formed who are of the age of 18 years or more, and citizens of the state shall file with the governing body of each local governmental unit on whose behalf the corporation is to be formed (the sponsoring local governmental units) an application in writing seeking the incorporation of a joint housing finance corporation under the provisions of this Act.

If the governing body of each sponsoring local governmental unit shall by appropriate resolution duly adopted find and determine that it is wise, expedient, necessary, or advisable that the joint corporation be formed and shall approve the form of articles of incorporation proposed to be used in organizing the joint corporation, then articles of incorporation for the joint corporation may be filed as hereinafter provided. No joint corporation may be formed unless such application shall have first been filed with the governing body of each proposed sponsoring local governmental unit and the governing body of each such unit shall have adopted a resolution as provided in this subsection. The approval of the articles of incorporation of one joint corporation shall not preclude the approval by the governing body of the local governmental unit of the articles of incorporation of other corporations with names or designations sufficient to distinguish them from any corporation theretofore incorporated; provided, however, (without affecting the power of corporations heretofore created) a local governmental unit that creates a joint corporation may not thereafter create a corporation that has power to make home mortgages or make loans to lending institutions, the proceeds of which will be used to make home mortgages or to make loans on residential developments.

Incorporators or directors of a joint corporation shall reside in one of the sponsoring local governmental units. Initial directors of a joint corporation shall be appointed by all sponsoring local governmental units. Succeeding directors appointed to the board shall be appointed by one or more of the sponsoring local governmental units as provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws.

All sponsoring local governmental units of a joint corporation shall be deemed to be one local governmental unit for purposes of this Act. When action of the governing body of a local governmental unit is required, this Act shall be construed to mean action by the governing body of each sponsoring local governmental unit of a joint corporation. A joint corporation shall have all powers granted to corporations pursuant to this Act. A joint corporation shall be deemed to be acting on behalf of all sponsoring local governmental units as provided in the articles of incorporation. Net earnings of a joint corporation and funds and properties of a joint corporation upon dissolution shall be disbursed to the sponsoring local governmental units as provided in the articles of incorporation. Joint corporations may not operate in more than one State planning region.

Articles of Incorporation—Contents

Sec. 5. A. The articles of incorporation of a housing finance corporation shall set forth:

- (1) the name of the corporation;
- (2) a statement that the corporation is a public nonprofit corporation;
- (3) the period of duration, which may be perpetual;
- (4) a statement that the corporation is organized solely to carry out the purposes of this Act;
- (5) a statement that the corporation is to have no members;
- (6) any provision, not inconsistent with law, including any provision which under this Act is required or permitted to be set forth in the bylaws, for the regulation of the internal affairs of the corporation;

(7) the street address of its initial registered office (which shall be within the local governmental unit) and the name of its initial registered agent at such street address;

(8) the number of directors constituting the initial board of directors, and the names and addresses of the persons who are to serve as the initial directors together with a recital that each of them resides within the local governmental unit;

(9) the name and street address of each incorporator together with a recital that each of them resides within the local governmental unit;

(10) a recital that a resolution approving the form of the articles of incorporation has been duly adopted by the governing body of the local governmental unit and the date of the adoption of such resolution.

B. It shall not be necessary to set forth in the articles of incorporation any of the corporate powers enumerated in this Act; provided, however, that the articles of incorporation may prohibit the exercise by the corporation of any power or powers enumerated in this Act.

C. Unless the articles of incorporation provide that a change in the number of directors shall be made only by amendment to the articles of incorporation, a change in the number of directors made by amendment to the bylaws shall be controlling. In all other cases, whenever a provision of the articles of incorporation is inconsistent with a bylaw, the provision of the articles of incorporation shall be controlling.

Incorporators

Sec. 6. Three or more residents of the local governmental unit, of the age of 18 years or more, may act as incorporators of a corporation by signing, verifying, and delivering in duplicate to the secretary of state articles of incorporation for such corporation. An incorporator may be a member of the governing body, an officer, or an employee of the local governmental unit.

Filing of Articles of Incorporation—Effect of Issuance of Certificate of Incorporation

Sec. 7. A. Duplicate originals of the articles of incorporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that the articles of incorporation conform to this Act, he shall, when a fee of $25 has been paid:

(1) endorse on each duplicate original the word "Filed," and the month, day, and year of the filing thereof;

(2) file one of such duplicate originals in his office;

(3) issue a certificate of incorporation to which he shall affix the other duplicate original.

B. The certificate of incorporation, together with the duplicate original of the articles of incorporation affixed thereto by the secretary of state, shall be delivered to the incorporators or their representatives.

C. Upon the issuance of the certificate of incorporation, the corporate existence shall begin, and such certificate of incorporation shall be conclusive evidence that all conditions precedent required to be performed by the local governmental unit and the incorporators have been complied with, and that the corporation has been duly incorporated under this Act. The corporation shall constitute a public instrumentality and nonprofit corporation under the name set out in the articles of incorporation. The corporation does not and will not constitute a county, city, or other political corporation or subdivision of the state, but the corporation is authorized to issue bonds and to carry out the public purposes for which it is incorporated on behalf of and for the benefit of the general public, the governmental unit, and the state.

Amendment of Articles of Incorporation—Articles of Amendment

Sec. 8. A. The articles of incorporation may at any time and from time to time be amended so as to make any changes therein and add any provisions thereto which might have been included in the articles of incorporation in the first instance. Any such amendment shall be effected in either of the following manners: (i) the members of the board of directors of the corporation shall file with the governing body of the local governmental unit an application in writing seeking permission to amend the articles of incorporation, specifying in such application the amendment proposed to be made, such governing body shall consider such application and, if it shall by appropriate resolution duly find and determine that it is wise, expedient, necessary, or advisable that the proposed amendment be made and shall authorize the same to be made, and shall approve the form of the proposed amendment, then the board of directors of the corporation may amend the articles of incorporation by adopting such amendment at a meeting of the board of directors and delivering articles of amendment to the secretary of state, or (ii) the governing body of the local governmental unit may, at its sole discretion, and at any time, alter or change the structure, organization, programs, or activities of the corporation (including the power to terminate the corporation) subject to any limitation on the impairment of contracts entered into by the corporation, by adopting an amendment to the articles of incorporation of the corporation at a meeting of the governing body of the local governmental unit and delivering articles of amendment to the secretary of state.

B. The articles of amendment shall be executed in duplicate by the corporation by its president or by a vice-president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary, or by the local governmental unit by its presiding officer and secretary or clerk, shall be verified by one of the officers signing such articles, and shall set forth:

- (1) the name of the corporation;
- (2) if the amendment alters any provision of the original or amended articles of incorporation, an identification by reference or description of the altered provision and a statement of its text as it is amended to read. If the amendment is an addition to the original or amended articles of incorporation, a statement of that fact and the full text of each provision added;
- (3) the date of the meeting of the board of directors, or of the governing body of the local governmental unit, at which the amendment was adopted, and a statement of the fact that such amendment received the vote of a majority of the directors, or of the members of the governing body of the local governmental unit, in office.

Filing of Articles of Amendment—Effect of Certificate of Amendment

Sec. 9. A. Duplicate originals of the articles of amendment shall be delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that the articles of amendment conform to law, he shall, when a fee of $25 has been paid:

- (1) endorse on each of such duplicate originals the word "Filed," and the month, day, and year of the filing thereof;
- (2) file one of such duplicate originals in his office;
- (3) issue a certificate of amendment to which he shall affix the other duplicate original.

B. The certificate of amendment, together with the duplicate original of the articles of amendment affixed thereto by the secretary of state, shall be delivered to the corporation or its representative.

C. Upon the issuance of the certificate of amendment by the secretary of state, the amendment shall become effective and the articles of incorporation shall be deemed to be amended accordingly.

D. No amendment shall affect any existing cause of action in favor of or against the corporation, or any pending suit to which the corporation shall be a party, or the existing rights of persons other than members; and, in the event the corporate name shall be changed by amendment, no suit brought by or against the corporation under its former name shall abate for that reason.

Board of Directors

Sec. 10. The corporation shall have a board of directors in which all powers of the corporation shall be vested and which shall consist of any number of directors all of whom shall be residents of the local governmental unit. A director may be a member of the governing body, an officer, or an employee of the local governmental unit. The initial board of directors shall be named in the articles of incorporation approved by the local governmental unit and shall hold office for such period as may be specified in the articles of incorporation. Thereafter, directors shall be appointed by the governing body of the local governmental unit in the manner and for the terms provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Directors may be divided into classes and the terms of office of the several classes need not be uniform. Each director shall hold office for the term for which he is elected or appointed and until his successor shall have been elected or appointed and qualified. A director may be removed from office pursuant to any procedure therefor provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws. Any vacancy occurring in the board of directors shall be filled by appointment by the governing body of the local governmental unit in the manner provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. A majority of the directors shall constitute a quorum, and when a quorum is present action may be taken by a majority vote of the directors present. Meetings of the board of directors, regular or special, may be held within or without the state. Regular meetings may be held with or without notice as prescribed in the bylaws. Special meetings shall be held upon such notice as is prescribed in the bylaws. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, one or more vice-presidents, a secretary, a treasurer, and such other officers and assistant officers as may be deemed necessary, each of whom shall be elected or appointed at such times and in such manner and for such terms as may be prescribed in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws.

Organization Meeting

Sec. 11. After the issuance of the certificate of incorporation, an organization meeting of the board of directors named in the articles of incorporation shall be held, either within or without this state, at the call of a majority of the incorporators, for the purpose of adopting bylaws, electing officers, and for such other purposes as may come before the meeting. The incorporators calling the meeting shall give at least three days' notice thereof by mail to each director named in the articles of incorporation, which notice shall state the time and place of the meeting.

Registered Office and Registered Agent

Sec. 12. The corporation shall maintain a registered office and registered agent in accordance with the provisions of Article 2.05, Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act.¹ The corporation may change its registered office and registered agent in accordance with the provisions of Article 2.06, Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act.² Process may be served on the corporation in accordance with the provisions of Article 2.07, Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act.³

¹ Article 1396-2.05.

² Article 1396-2.06.

³ Article 1396-2.07.

Powers of Corporation

Sec. 13. A corporation organized under this Act shall have the following powers together with all powers incidental thereto or necessary for the performance of those hereinafter stated:

(1) to have perpetual succession by its corporate name, unless a limited period of duration is stated in its articles of incorporation;

(2) to sue and be sued, complain and defend, in its corporate name;

(3) to have a corporate seal which may be altered at pleasure, and to use the same by causing it, or a facsimile thereof, to be impressed on, affixed to, or in any manner reproduced upon, instruments of any nature required to be executed by its proper officers;

(4) to purchase, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, improve, use, or otherwise deal in and with, real or personal property, or any interest therein, wherever situated, as the purposes of the corporation shall require, or as shall be donated to it;

(5) to sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, transfer, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property and assets;

(6) to purchase, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, use, employ, mortgage, lend, pledge, sell, or otherwise dispose of, and otherwise use and deal in and with, shares or other interests in, or obligations of, other domestic or foreign corporations, whether for profit or not for profit, associations, partnerships, or individuals, or direct or indirect obligations of the United States or of any other government, state, political subdivision of a state, territory, government district, or of any instrumentality thereof;

(7) to make contracts and incur liabilities, borrow money at such rates of interest as the corporation may determine, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage or pledge of all or any of its property, franchises, and income;

(8) to lend money for its corporate purposes, invest and reinvest its funds, and take and hold real and personal property as security for the payment of funds so loaned or invested;

(9) to elect or appoint officers and agents of the corporation for such period of time as the corporation may determine and define their duties and fix their compensation;

(10) to make, alter, amend, and repeal bylaws, not inconsistent with its articles of incorporation or with this Act, for the administration and regulation of the affairs of the corporation;

(11) to make donations for the public welfare or for charitable, scientific, or educational purposes;

(12) to plan, conduct research, study, develop, and promote the establishment of residential development;

(13) to acquire, and contract and enter into advance commitments to acquire, by assignment or otherwise, home mortgages owned by lending institutions at such purchase prices and upon such other terms and conditions as shall be determined by the corporation or such other person as it may designate as its agent;

(14) to make, and contract and enter into advance commitments to make, home mortgages; provided, however, that such home mortgages shall be originated and serviced by lending institutions;

(15) to make and execute contracts with lending institutions for the origination, administration, and servicing of home mortgages and to pay the reasonable value of services rendered under those contracts;

(16) to make loans to lending institutions under terms and conditions which, in addition to other provisions as determined by the corporation, shall require the lending institutions to use substantially all of the net proceeds thereof, directly or indirectly, for the making of home mortgages in an aggregate principal amount substantially equal to the amount of such net proceeds; provided that such loans to lending institutions shall be fully secured in the same manner as deposits of public funds of the local governmental unit to the extent not secured by home mortgages;

(17) to establish, by rules or regulations, in resolutions relating to any issuance of bonds, or in any financing documents relating to such issuance, such standards and requirements applicable to the making or purchase of home mortgages or the making of loans to lending institutions as the corporation deems necessary or desirable, including but not limited to: (i) the time within which lending institutions must make commitments and disbursements for home mortgages; (ii) the location and other characteristics of homes to be financed by home mortgages; (iii) the terms and conditions of home mortgages to be made or acquired; (iv) the amounts and types of insurance coverage required on homes, home mortgages, and bonds; (v) the representations and warranties of lending institutions confirming compliance with such standards and requirements; (vi) restrictions as to interest rate and other terms of home mortgages or the return realized therefrom by lending institutions; (vii) the type and amount of collateral security to be provided to assure repayment of any loans from the corporation and to assure repayment of bonds; and (viii) any other matters related to the making or purchase of home mortgages or the making of loans to lending institutions as shall be deemed relevant by the corporation;

(18) to require from each lending institution from which home mortgages are proposed to be purchased or to which loans are made, the submission of evidence satisfactory to the corporation of the ability and intention of such lending institution to make home mortgages, and the submission, within the time specified by the corporation for making disbursements for home mortgages, of evidence satisfactory to the corporation of the making of home mortgages and of compliance with any standards and requirements established by the corporation;

(19) to issue its bonds to defray, in whole or in part, the development costs of any residential development; to issue its bonds the aggregate principal amount of which issued in any calendar year shall not exceed the total of (a) the costs of issuance of such bonds, any reserves or capitalized interest required by the resolution or resolutions authorizing the bonds, plus any bond discounts, and (b) the greater of (i) $20,000,000, (ii) a figure determined by multiplying $150 times the population of the local governmental unit as determined by the corporation's rules or regulations, resolutions relating to the issuance of bonds, or financing documents relating to such issuance, which determination shall be conclusive, or (iii) an amount equal to 25 percent of the total dollar amount of the market demand for home mortgages during such calendar year as determined by the corporation's rules or regulations, resolutions relating to the issuance of bonds, or financing documents relating to such issuance, which determination shall be conclusive, to defray, in whole or in part, the costs of purchasing, or funding the making of, home mortgages including, but not limited to, the costs of studies and surveys, insurance premiums, financial advisory, mortgage banking and administrative services, underwriting fees, legal, accounting, and marketing services incurred in connection with the issuance and sale of such bonds, including bond and interest reserve accounts, capitalized interest accounts, and trustee, custodian, and rating agency fees; and to designate appropriate names for such bonds. The corporation need not acquire or hold title to or any interest in a residential development or home mortgage;

(20) to rent, lease, sell, or otherwise dispose of any residential development or home mortgages, in whole or in part, or to loan sufficient funds to any person to defray, in whole or in part, the development costs of any residential development or the costs of purchasing home mortgages, so that the rents or other revenues to be derived with respect to the residential development or home mortgages, together with any insurance proceeds, reserve accounts and earnings thereon shall be designed to produce revenues and receipts at least sufficient to provide for the prompt payment at maturity of principal, interest, and redemption premiums, if any, upon all bonds issued to finance such costs;

(21) to pledge all or any part of the revenues, receipts, or resources of the corporation, including the revenues and receipts to be received from any residential development or home mortgages to the punctual payment of bonds authorized under this

Act, and the interest and redemption premiums, if any, thereon;

(22) to mortgage, pledge, or grant security interests in any residential development, home mortgages, notes, or other property in favor of the holder or holders of bonds issued therefor;

(23) to sell and convey any residential development or home mortgages, including, without limitation, the sale and conveyance thereof subject to a mortgage, pledge, or security interest, if any, as provided in the resolution relating to the issuance of the bonds for such prices and at such times as the board of directors of the corporation may determine;

(24) to issue its bonds to refund in whole or in part at any time bonds theretofore issued by the corporation under authority of this Act;

(25) to apply for and accept on its own behalf or on behalf of any person, advances, loans, grants, contributions, guarantees, rent supplements, mortgage assistance, and any other form of financial assistance from the federal government, the state, any county or city, or any other public or quasi-public body, corporation or foundation, or from any other source, public or private, including any person, for any of the purposes of this Act, and to include in any contract for financial assistance such conditions as it may deem reasonable and appropriate and which are not inconsistent with the purposes of this Act;

(26) to make and execute contracts and other instruments necessary or convenient to the exercise of any of the powers granted herein;

(27) whether included in the foregoing or not, to have and exercise all powers necessary or appropriate to effect any or all of the purposes for which the corporation is organized.

Bonds of Corporation

Sec. 14. The exercise of any or all powers granted by this Act may be authorized and the bonds may be authorized to be issued under this Act for the purposes set forth in this Act, by resolution of the board of directors of the corporation, which shall take effect immediately upon adoption. The bonds shall bear interest at such rate or rates as authorized by the provisions of Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 717k-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may be payable at such times, may be in one or more series, may bear such date or dates, may mature at such time or times, may be payable in such medium of payment at such place or places, may carry such registration privileges, may be subject to such terms of redemption at such premiums, may be executed in such manner, may contain such terms, covenants, and conditions, and may be in such form, either coupon or registered, as such resolution may provide. The bonds may be sold at public or private sale in such manner and upon such terms as may be provided in such resolution. Pending the preparation of definitive bonds, interim receipts, or certificates in such form and with such provisions as may be provided in such resolution, may be issued to the purchaser or purchasers of bonds sold pursuant to this Act.

Covenants in Bonds

Sec. 15. Any resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds under this Act may contain covenants as to (a) the use and disposition of the proceeds of the bonds and the revenues and receipts from any residential development or home mortgages for which the bonds are to be issued, including the creation and maintenance of reserves; (b) the issuance of other or additional bonds relating to any residential development or any rehabilitation, improvements, renovations, enlargements, or additions thereto; (c) the maintenance and repair of such residential development or any homes; (d) the insurance to be carried on any residential development, home, home mortgage, or bonds and the use and disposition of insurance moneys; (e) the appointment of one or more banks or trust companies within or outside the State of Texas, having the necessary trust powers, as trustee and/or custodian for the benefit of the bondholders, paying agent, or bond registrar; (f) the appointment of one or more mortgage bankers to provide requisite administrative and mortgage servicing functions to assure the proper administration, for the benefit of the bondholders, of the corporation's portfolio of home mortgage loans; (g) the investment of any funds held by such trustee or custodian; (h) the maximum interest rate payable on any home mortgage; and (i) the terms and conditions upon which the holders of the bonds or any portion thereof or any trustees therefor, are entitled to the appointment of a receiver by a court of competent jurisdiction, and said terms and conditions may provide that the receiver may enter and take possession of the residential development or home mortgages, or any part thereto, and maintain, lease, sell, or otherwise dispose of such development or mortgages, prescribe rentals or other payments, and collect, receive, and apply all income and revenues thereafter arising therefrom. Any resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds under this Act may provide that the principal of and interest on any bonds issued under this Act shall be secured by a mortgage, pledge, security interest, insurance agreement, or indenture of trust covering such residential development or home mortgages for which the bonds are issued and may include any improvements or extensions thereafter made. Such mortgage, pledge, security interest, insurance agreement, or indenture of trust may contain such covenants and agreements to properly safeguard the bonds as may be provided for in the resolution authorizing such bonds and shall be executed in the manner as may be provided for in the resolution. The provisions of this Act and any such resolution and any such mortgage, pledge, security interest, or indenture of trust shall constitute a contract with the holder or holders of the bonds and continue in effect until the principal of, the interest on, and the redemption premiums, if any, on the bonds so issued have been fully paid or provision made therefor, and the duties of the corporation and its corporate authorities and officers under this Act and any such resolution and any such mortgage, pledge, security interest, or indenture of trust shall be enforceable as provided therein by any bondholder by mandamus, foreclosure of any such mortgage, pledge, security interest, or indenture of trust or other appropriate suit, action, or proceeding in any court of competent jurisdiction; provided the resolution or any mortgage, pledge, security interest, or indenture of trust under which the bonds are issued may provide that all such remedies and rights to enforcement may be vested in a trustee (with full power of appointment) for the benefit of all the bondholders, which trustee shall be subject to the control of such number of holders or owners of any outstanding bonds as provided therein.

Signature of Officers on Bonds—Validity of Bonds

Sec. 16. The bonds shall bear the manual or facsimile signatures of such officers of the corporation as may be designated in the resolution authorizing such bonds, and such signatures shall be the valid and binding signatures of the officer of the corporation, notwithstanding that before the delivery thereof and payment therefor any or all of the persons whose signatures appear thereon have ceased to be officers of the corporation issuing such bonds. The validity of the bonds is not dependent on nor affected by the validity or regularity of any proceedings relating to the residential development or home mortgages for which the bonds are issued. The resolution authorizing the bonds may provide that the bonds shall contain a recital that they are issued pursuant to this Act, which recital shall be conclusive evidence of their validity and of the regularity of their issuance.

Lien of Bonds

Sec. 17. Bonds issued under this Act may be secured by a pledge of or lien upon all or any part of the revenues, receipts, or resources of the corporation, including the revenues and receipts derived from the residential development or home mortgages or from any notes or other obligations of lending institutions with respect to which the bonds have been issued, and the board of directors may provide in the resolution authorizing such bonds for the issuance of additional bonds to be equally and ratably secured by a lien upon such revenues and receipts or may provide that the lien upon such revenues and receipts is subordinate. Subordinate lien bonds also may be issued unless prohibited in any bond resolution.

Liability for Bonds

Sec. 18. All bonds issued under and pursuant to this Act shall be limited obligations of the corporation payable solely out of the revenues, receipts, and resources pledged to their payment. No holder of any bonds issued under this Act has the right to compel the local governmental unit to pay the bonds, the interest or redemption premium, if any, thereon, and the bonds shall not constitute an indebtedness or obligation of the local governmental unit or any other county, city, or other municipal or political corporation or subdivision of the state or of the state, or a loan of credit of any of them, within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory provision, nor shall the bonds be construed to create any moral obligation on the part of the local governmental unit or any other county, city, or other municipal or political corporation or subdivision of the state or of the state, with respect to the payment of such bonds, and all such entities are hereby prohibited from making any payments with respect to said bonds. It shall be plainly stated on the face of each bond that it has been issued under the provisions of this Act and that it does not constitute an indebtedness or obligation of the local governmental unit or any other county, city, or other municipal or political corporation or subdivision of the state or of the state, or a loan of credit of any of them, within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory provisions.

Investment of Funds

Sec. 19. The corporation, or any trustee or custodian on behalf of the corporation, may invest any funds held by it as provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

Exception From Construction and Bidding Requirements for Public Buildings

Sec. 20. The acquisition, construction, or rehabilitation of a private residential development or a home shall not be subject to any requirements relating to public buildings, structures, grounds, works, or improvements imposed by the laws of the State of Texas or any other similar requirements, and any requirement of competitive bidding or restriction imposed on the procedure for award of contracts for such purpose or the lease, sale, or other disposition of property of the local governmental unit is not applicable to any action taken under authority of this Act.

Exemption From Taxation

Sec. 21. It is hereby determined that the creation of the corporation is in all respects for the benefit of the people of the state, for the improvement of their health and welfare, and for the promotion of the economy, and that said purposes are public purposes and the corporation, being a public instrumentality and nonprofit corporation, will be performing an essential governmental function on behalf of and for the benefit of the general public, the local governmental unit, and the state. Accordingly, the corporation and all properties at any time owned by it and the income therefrom and all bonds issued by it, and their transfer, and the income therefrom shall be exempt from the franchise tax, license and recording fees, and all other taxes imposed by the State of Texas or any political subdivision thereof as public property used for public purposes. However, a corporation is exempt from the franchise tax imposed by Chapter 171, Tax Code, only if the corporation is exempted by that chapter.

Bonds and Coupons are Securities

Sec. 22. Bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, and coupons, if any, representing interest thereon, shall when delivered be deemed and construed to be a "security" within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, of the Uniform Commercial Code, as amended (Chapter 8, Title 1, Business & Commerce Code), and shall be exempt securities under the Texas Securities Act, as amended (Article 581-1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). No contract under this Act shall be a security within the meaning of the Texas Securities Act.

Bonds are Legal and Authorized Investments and Security

Sec. 23. Bonds issued under the provisions of this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for any banks; savings banks; trust companies; building and loan associations; insurance companies; fiduciaries; trustees and guardians; and sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, and other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, and other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and they shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits at their face value when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant thereto.

Nonliability of Local Governmental Unit and the State

Sec. 24. The local governmental unit and the state shall not in any event be liable in any manner for or with respect to the bonds of the corporation, and none of the corporation's agreements or obligations shall be construed to constitute an agreement, obligation, or indebtedness of the local governmental unit or the state within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory provision whatsoever.

Nonprofit Corporation—Disposition of Earnings

Sec. 25. The corporation shall be a public nonprofit corporation. No dividends shall ever be paid, and no part of the net earnings of the corporation shall be distributed to, or enure to the benefit of, its directors or officers, or other private person, association, or corporation, except in reasonable amounts for services rendered, and except that in the event the board of directors of the corporation shall determine that sufficient provision has been made for the full payment of the expenses, bonds, and other obligations of the corporation, then any net earnings of the corporation thereafter accruing shall be paid to the local governmental unit on behalf of which the corporation was organized; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the board of directors from transferring all or any part of its properties in accordance with the terms of any contract or agreement entered into by the corporation.

Books and Records

Sec. 26. The corporation shall keep correct and complete books and records of account and shall keep minutes of proceedings of its board of directors.

Completion of Corporate Purpose—Dissolution

Sec. 27. Whenever the board of directors of the corporation shall by resolution determine that the purposes for which the corporation was formed have been substantially complied with and all bonds theretofore issued and all obligations theretofore incurred by the corporation have been fully paid, then the directors of the corporation shall thereupon execute and file for record in the office of the secretary of state a certificate of dissolution reciting such facts and declaring the corporation to be dissolved. Such certificate of dissolution shall be executed under the corporate seal of the corporation. Upon the filing of such certificate of dissolution the corporation shall stand dissolved, the title to all funds and properties owned by it at the time of such dissolution shall vest in the local governmental unit, and possession of such funds and properties shall forthwith be delivered to such local governmental unit.

Powers Not Restricted—Law Complete in Itself

Sec. 28. Neither this Act nor anything herein contained shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any powers which the corporation might otherwise have under any laws of this state, but shall be construed as cumulative of any such powers. No proceedings, notice, or approval shall be required for the organization of the corporation or the issuance of any bonds or any instrument as security therefor, except as herein provided, any other law to the contrary notwithstanding; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to deprive the state and its governmental subdivisions of their respective police powers over properties of the corporation, or to impair any power thereover of any official or agency of the state and its governmental subdivisions which may be otherwise provided by law.

Residential Development Sites

Sec. 29. Any local governmental unit may transfer any residential development site to a corporation by sale or lease. Such transfer may be authorized by a resolution of the governing body of the local governmental unit without submission of the question to the voters, and without regard to the requirements, restrictions, limitations, or other provisions contained in any other general, special, or local law. Such project site may be within or without the local governmental unit or partially within and partially without the local governmental unit.

Powers Additional to Those Granted by Other Laws—Severability

Sec. 30. The powers conferred by this Act shall be in addition and supplementary to, and the limitations by this Act shall not affect the powers conferred by any other general, special, or local law. If any one or more sections or provisions of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, shall ever be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the remaining provisions of this Act and the application thereof to persons or circumstances other than those to which it is held to be invalid, shall not be affected thereby, it being the intention of this legislature to enact the remaining provisions of this Act notwithstanding such invalidity.

Art. 1269I-8. State Ceiling, Allocation, and Local Share of Housing Bonds

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Executive director" means the executive director of the Texas Department of Community Affairs of the State of Texas.

(2) "Housing bonds" means bonds that are issued by the Texas Housing Agency or a housing finance corporation and that are subject to the state ceiling imposed by Section 103A, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (26 U.S.C. Section 103A).

(3) "Housing finance corporation" means a corporation created under the Texas Housing Finance Corporations Act (Article 1269I-7, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(4) "Local population" means the population in the local governmental unit or units on whose behalf the housing finance corporation is created as determined in the 1980 decennial census. If two local governmental units which overlap have created housing finance corporations that have the power to issue bonds to provide financing for home mortgages, prior to the sale of housing bonds by either corporation there shall be excluded from the population of the larger local governmental unit that portion of the population of any smaller local governmental unit having a population as determined in the 1980 decennial census of 20,000 or more which is within the larger local governmental unit, unless the smaller local governmental unit assigns its authority to issue bonds prior to September 1, 1981, or June 1 of 1982 or 1983, based upon its population, to the larger local governmental unit.

(5) "Local share" means the product which results from multiplying the state ceiling by 70 percent.

(6) "State ceiling" means the state ceiling imposed on housing bonds for each calendar year by Section 103A, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (26 U.S.C. Section 103A).

(7) "State population" means the population of the state as determined by the 1980 decennial census.

(8) "State share" means the product which results from multiplying the state ceiling by 30 percent.

Determination of State Ceiling

Sec. 2. The state ceiling shall be determined for each calendar year by the board of directors of the Texas Housing Agency on or before July 1, 1981, and on or before February 1 of the calendar years 1982 and 1983 based upon such evidence as the board of directors shall determine.

Allocation of State Ceiling

Sec. 3. (a) There is hereby allocated to the Texas Housing Agency for the calendar years 1981, 1982, and 1983, the state share of the state ceiling.

(b) Subject to the receipt of a reservation certificate there is hereby allocated jointly to housing finance corporations and the Texas Housing Agency for the calendar years 1981, 1982, and 1983, the local share of the state ceiling.

(c) The allocation made by Subsection (b) of this section is not available to the Texas Housing Agency in a calendar year until it has exhausted its allocation under Subsection (a) of this section for that year.

Amendments to Texas Housing Agency Act

Sec. 4. [Amends §§ 2 and 8(a) of art. 1269L-6].

Reservation of Local Share

Sec. 5. (a) Upon the determination of the state ceiling in each calendar year, a housing finance corporation or the Texas Housing Agency in accordance with the terms of Section 3 of this Act, may reserve a portion of the local share by filing a reservation request, accompanied by a bond purchase contract executed by the issuer and the purchaser of such bonds, with the executive director. Such reservation request must be on such forms as the executive director may prescribe and must contain the following information: (i) identify the issuer of the bonds; (ii) identify the series of bonds which are the subject of the bond purchase contract; (iii) state the execution date of the bond purchase contract; and (iv) state the aggregate amount of the bonds.

(b) Prior to September 1, 1981, and June 1 of 1982 and 1983, the maximum amount of the local share which may be reserved by a housing finance corporation may not exceed $100 times the local population of such housing finance corporation, except (i) if the local population is 200,000 or more but less than 300,000, the maximum amount of the local share which may be reserved prior to the foregoing dates may not exceed $150 times the local population, (ii) if the local population is 100,000 or more but less than 200,000, the maximum amount of the local share which may be reserved prior to the foregoing dates may not exceed $200 times the local population, and (iii) if the local population is less than 100,000, the maximum amount of the local share which may be reserved prior to the foregoing dates may not exceed $300 times the local population. In each calendar year following the applicable dates set forth in the preceding sentence, reservation of the local share shall not be restricted other than as otherwise provided by the laws of the State of Texas.

(c) Any reservation of a portion of the local share shall lapse and no longer be effective upon the expiration of 45 days following the date of filing the reservation request with the executive director, if prior thereto the issuer has failed for whatever reason to file with the executive director a certificate evidencing that the bonds for which the reservation was filed have been delivered and paid for along with the final official statement or disclosure document relating to the housing bonds.

Reservation Certificate

Sec. 6. (a) Upon the filing of a reservation request complying with Section 5 of this Act, the executive director shall promptly issue a reservation certificate. The executive director shall issue certificates according to the order in which the requests are filed. If two or more reservation requests are filed on the same date, certificates shall be issued in the order of the date of execution of the bond purchase contracts. If both the date of filing of the requests and the date of execution of the bond purchase contracts are the same, the executive director shall issue certificates in an order determined by lot, unless otherwise agreed by the affected housing finance corporations or the Texas Housing Agency.

(b) Each reservation certificate must contain the following information: (i) the local share; (ii) the name of the issuer; (iii) the amount and identity of the bonds sold by the issuer under the bond purchase contract of which the certificate applies; (iv) the date of execution of the bond purchase contract; and (v) the aggregate amount of the local share reserved by all issuers in the current calendar year for which reservation requests have been received and certificates have been issued which have not expired, including the bonds for which the certificate was issued.

Specification of Forms

Sec. 7. The executive director may prescribe forms for use in connection with any filing required under this Act.

Amendment to Definitions in Housing Finance Corporations Act

Sec. 8. [Amends §§ 2 and 4 of art. 1269l-7].

Definitions

Sec. 9. Except as otherwise provided herein, the terms used in this Act shall have the same meaning as in the Texas Housing Finance Corporations Act (Article 1269l-7, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Severability

Sec. 10. The powers conferred by this Act shall be in addition and supplementary to, and the limitations by this Act shall not affect the powers conferred by any other general, special, or local law. If any one or more sections or provisions of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, shall ever be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the remaining provisions of this Act and the application thereof to persons or circumstances other than those to which it is held to be invalid, shall not be affected thereby, it being the intention of this legislature to enact the remaining provisions of this Act notwithstanding such invalidity.

Art. 1269m. Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service in Cities Over 10,000

Creation of Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service

Sec. 1. There is hereby established in all cities in this State having a population of ten thousand (10,000) or more inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, and having a paid Fire Department and Police Department, a Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service.

Definitions

Sec. 2. By the term "Fireman" is meant any member of the Fire Department appointed to such position in substantial compliance with the provisions of Sections 9, 10 and 11 of this Act, or entitled to Civil Service Status under Section 24 of this Act. The term includes firemen who perform fire suppression, fire prevention, fire training, fire safety education, fire maintenance, fire communications, fire medical emergency technology, fire photography, or fire administration. By the term "Policeman" is meant any member of the Police Department appointed to such position in substantial compliance with the provisions of Sections 9, 10 and 11 of this Act, or entitled to Civil Service Status under Section 24 of this Act. By the term "Commission" as used herein is meant the Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service Commission. The term "Director" means Director of Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service.

Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service Commission

Sec. 3. There is hereby established in all such cities a Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service Commission, which shall consist of three (3) members, to be selected as follows: Members of the Commission shall be appointed by the chief executive of any such city, and such appointment shall be confirmed by the City Council or legislative body of any such city before any such appointments shall be effective. Of the first three (3) Commissioners so selected under the provisions of this Act to comprise the Commission, one (1) shall be appointed for a term of one (1) year, one (1) shall be appointed for a term of two (2) years, and one (1) shall be appointed for a term of three (3) years. Thereafter the term of office of each Commissioner shall be for three (3) years, or until a successor is appointed, confirmed, and qualified. Any such vacancies in said Commission, caused by death, resignation, or otherwise, or by failure of any appointee to qualify within ten (10) days after appointment, shall be filled in the manner hereinabove specified, and such appointment shall be for the unexpired term of the retiring Commissioner of the appointee failing to qualify.

All such Commissioners shall be of good moral character, resident citizens of the particular city for which they are appointed, shall have resided in said city for a period of more than three (3) years, shall each be over the age of twenty-five (25) years, and shall not have held any public office within the preceding three (3) years.

It is provided however, that in all such cities which have in existence a Civil Service Commission, that said Civil Service Commission shall constitute the Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service Commission of that city, but said Commissioner shall administer the Civil Service of Firemen and Policemen in accordance with this law.

It is further provided that in any such city which has in existence a Civil Service Commission, the appointment of members to such Civil Service Commission shall be made in conformity with provisions of this Act, after the expiration of presently existing term or terms of the members comprising such Civil Service Commission and, if necessary, in such cities having staggered terms of membership on such Civil Service Commission, the first appointment made under the provisions of this Act shall be made for terms of such number of years less than three (3) as will cause a staggered or rotating system of terms to conform with the provisions of this Act.

Organization of Commission

Sec. 4. The Commissioners shall within ten (10) days after the qualification of the membership, and annually thereafter during the month of January, elect a Chairman and a Vice-chairman.

Powers of Commission

Sec. 5. Two (2) members of the said Commission shall constitute a quorum to transact business. The Commission shall make such rules and regulations for the proper conduct of its business as it shall find necessary and expedient, provided that no rules or regulations shall ever be adopted which will permit the appointment or employment of any person without good moral character; or any person unfit mentally or physically; or any person incompetent to discharge the duties of such appointment or employment. Such rules and regulations shall prescribe what shall constitute cause for removal or suspension of Firemen or Policemen, but no rule for the removal or suspension of such employees shall be valid unless it involves one or more of the following grounds:

Conviction of a felony or other crime involving moral turpitude; violations of the provisions of the charter of said city; acts of incompetency; neglect of duty; discourtesy by said employee to the public or to fellow employees while said employee is in line of duty; acts of said employees showing a lack of good moral character; drinking of intoxicants while on duty, or intoxication while off duty; or whose conduct was prejudicial to good order; refusal or neglect to pay just debts; absence without leave; shirking duty, or cowardice at fires; violation of any of the rules and regulations of the Fire Department or Police Department or of special orders, as applicable.

Investigations and Inspections

Sec. 5a. The Commission may make investigations concerning, and report upon all matters touching, the enforcement and effect of the provisions of this Act, and the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder; and shall ascertain whether this Act and all such rules and regulations are being obeyed. Such investigations may be made by the Commission or by any Commissioner designated by the Commission for that purpose. In the course of such investigation the Commission or designated Commissioner shall have the power to administer oaths, subpoena and require the attendance of witnesses and the producing by them of books, papers, documents, and accounts pertaining to the investigation, and also to cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the State to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the court of original and unlimited jurisdiction to civil suits of the United States; and the oaths administered hereunder and the subpoenas issued hereunder shall have the same force and effect as the oaths administered by a magistrate in his judicial capacity; and the failure upon the part of any person so subpoenaed to comply with the provisions of this Section shall be deemed a violation of this Act, and punishable as such.

Public Records

Sec. 5b. The Commission shall keep records of all hearings or cases that come before it. Commission decisions shall be signed by the concurring Commissioners. All rules, opinions, directives, decisions, and orders issued by the Commission shall be written and are public records that shall be retained on file by the Commission.

Director of Civil Service

Sec. 6. (a) There is hereby created the office of Director of Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service, which shall be filled by the appointment of the Commission. The person appointed must meet the same requirements as hereinabove provided for members of the Commission, except that in a city having a population of fewer than 1,500,000, according to the most recent federal census, the Director is not required to meet the three-year local residency requirement prescribed by Section 3 of this Act. Said Director may be either a member of the Commission, another employee of said city, or some other person. The legislative body of such city shall determine what salary, if any, shall be paid to such Director. Said Director shall at all times, be subject to removal by the Commission. He shall serve as Secretary to the Commission, and shall perform all such work incidental to the Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service as may be required of him by the Commission.

(b) In those cities which have a duly and legally constituted Director of Civil Service, by whatever name he may be called, said Director shall be the Director of the Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service, but he shall administer civil service pertaining to Firemen and Policemen in accordance with this Law.

Office Space

Sec. 7. The City Council or governing body of any such city shall provide adequate and suitable office space for the conduct of the business of the Commission.

Classification of Firemen and Policemen; Educational Incentive Pay

Sec. 8. (a) In a city having a population of 1,500,000 or more, according to the most recent federal census, the Commission shall provide for the classification of all firemen and policemen. Such classification shall be provided by ordinance of the City Council, or legislative body. Said City Council, or legislative body, shall prescribe by ordinance the number of positions of each classification.

(b) No classification now in existence, or that may be hereafter created in such cities, shall ever be filled except by examination held in accordance with the provisions of this law. All persons in each classification shall be paid the same salary and in addition thereto be paid any of the following types of pay that they may be entitled to: (1) longevity pay; (2) seniority pay; (3) educational incentive pay; or (4) assignment pay. This shall not prevent the Head of such Department from designating some person from the next lower classification to fill a position in a higher classification temporarily, but any such person so designated by the Head of the Department shall be paid the base salary of such higher position plus his own longevity pay during the time he performs the duties thereof. The temporary performance of the duties of any such position by a person who has not been promoted in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall never be construed to promote such person. All vacancies shall be filled by permanent appointment from eligibility lists furnished by the Commission within ninety (90) days after such vacancy occurs.

(c) Firemen and policemen shall be classified as above provided, and shall be under civil service protection except the Chief or Head of such Fire Department or Police Department, by whatever name he may be known.

(d) Said Chiefs or Department Heads shall be appointed by the Chief Executive, and confirmed by the City Council or legislative body except in cities where the Department Heads are elected. In those cities having elective Fire and Police Commissioners the appointments for Chiefs and Heads of those Departments shall be made by the respective Fire or Police Commissioners in whose Department the vacancy exists, and such appointments shall be confirmed by the City Council or legislative body.

(e) Said City Council or legislative body may authorize educational incentive pay in addition to regular pay for policemen and firemen within each classification, who have successfully completed courses in an accredited college or university, provided that such courses are applicable toward a degree in law enforcement-police science and include the core curriculum in law enforcement or are applicable toward a degree in fire science. An accredited college or university, as that term is used herein, shall mean any college or university accredited by the nationally recognized accrediting agency and the state board of education in the state wherein said college or university is located and approved or certified by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education as teaching the core curriculum or its equivalent or, in the case of fire science degree courses, approved or certified by the Texas Commission on Fire Protection, Personnel Standards, and Education. Core curriculum in law enforcement, as used herein, shall mean those courses in law enforcement education as approved by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System and the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

Classification and Appointment of Certain Firemen and Policemen

Sec. 8A. (a) In a city having a population of less than 1,500,000 according to the most recent federal census, the Commission shall provide for the classification of all firemen and policemen. The classification shall be provided by ordinance of the city council or legislative body. The city council or legislative body shall prescribe the number of positions in each classification by ordinance.

(b) Except as prescribed by this section, a classification now in existence, or that may be hereafter created, may not be filled except by examination held in accordance with this Act. If the city council or governing body of the city approves by resolution or ordinance, the chief or head of a fire or police department in which at least four classifications exist below the classification of chief or head may appoint each person occupying authorized positions in the classification immediately below that of chief or department head, as provided by this section.

(c) The total number of persons appointed to the classification immediately below that of the police chief in the police department may not exceed the total number of persons, plus one, serving in the classification immediately below that of the police chief or head of the police department in that city on January 1, 1983. In a city having fewer than 300 certified fire fighters, the chief or head of the department may appoint not more than one person to the classification immediately below that of chief or head. In a city having 300 or more certified fire fighters but not more than 600, the chief or head of the fire department may appoint two persons. In a city having more than 600 certified fire fighters, the chief or head of the department may appoint three persons. This subsection does not apply to a city that has adopted The Fire and Police Employee Relations Act (Article 5154c-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), unless the city specifically adopts the appointment procedure prescribed by this subsection through the collective bargaining process.

(d) All persons in each classification shall be paid the same salary and in addition thereto be paid any of the following types of pay to which they may be entitled: (1) longevity or seniority pay; (2) educational incentive pay; (3) assignment pay; and (4) certification pay. This shall not prevent the head of the department from designating some person from the next lower classification to fill a position in a higher classification temporarily, but any person designated by the head of the department shall be paid the base salary of the higher position plus his own longevity or seniority pay, educational incentive pay, and certification pay during the time he performs the duties. The temporary performance of the duties of a higher position by a person who has not been promoted as prescribed by this Act may not be construed as a promotion of the person.

(e) All vacancies in classifications other than the classification immediately below that of the chief or department head which is selected and filled by the chief or department head shall be filled by permanent appointment from eligibility lists furnished by the commission within 60 days after the vacancy occurs. If before the expiration of the current eligibility list a vacancy occurs in a classification other than a classification immediately below that of the chief or department head which is filled by the chief or department head, the commission shall submit names from the list to the department head until the vacancy is filled or the list is exhausted. If no list is in existence, the vacancy shall be filled from a list which the commission shall provide within 90 days after the vacancy occurs.

(f) Except for the chief or head of the fire or police department, and except for those persons selected and appointed to the classification immediately below the chief or department head by the chief or head of the fire or police department, firemen and policemen are classified as prescribed by this section, and are under civil service protection.

(g) Except in cities in which the department heads are elected, the chiefs or department heads are appointed by the chief executive and confirmed by the city council or legislative body. In a city with elected fire and police commissioners, the appointments of the chiefs and heads of those departments shall be made by the fire or police commissioner in whose department the vacancy exists, and the appointments shall be confirmed by the city council or legislative body.

(h) If authorized by this Act and by the city council or legislative body, each person occupying a position in the classification immediately below that of the chief or department head is appointed by the chief or department head in whose department the vacancy exists and serves at the pleasure of the chief or department head. The classification immediately below that of the chief or department head may include a person with a different title but who has the same pay grade.

(i) To be eligible for appointment in the police department, a person must be employed by the police department of that city as a sworn police officer with at least two years' continuous service in that department as a sworn police officer and must meet the requirements for appointment as the chief or head of a police department prescribed by Section 14D(7) of this Act. To be eligible for appointment in the fire department, a person must be employed by the fire department of that city with a permanent classification in at least an officer level and must meet the requirements for appointment as the chief or head of a fire department prescribed by Section 14D(7) of this Act.

(j) Those persons already serving under permanent appointment to a position in the classification immediately below that of the chief or department head prior to the effective date of this Act are not required to be appointed or reappointed as a condition of tenure or continued employment, nor does failure by any person already serving under permanent employment to fulfill the requirements of this section make the person ineligible for continued employment in the position in his department. The chief or department head shall make all appointments not later than the 90th day after the day on which the vacancy occurs. A person appointed by the chief or department head to a position in the classification immediately below that of the chief or department head who is subsequently removed from that position by the chief or department head shall be reinstated in the department and placed in the same classification, or its equivalent, that the person held prior to appointment, and retains all rights of seniority in the department.

(k) If the person is charged with an offense in violation of civil service rules and indefinitely suspended by the chief or department head, the person shall have the same rights and privileges of a hearing before the commission, and in the same manner and under the same conditions as classified employees. If the commission, the hearing examiner, or a court of competent jurisdiction finds the charges to be untrue or unfounded, the person shall immediately be restored to the same classification, or its equivalent, that the person held prior to appointment. The person shall enjoy all the rights and privileges of his prior position according to seniority and shall be repaid for any lost wages.

(l) The city council or legislative body of a city may authorize educational incentive pay in addition to regular pay for a fireman or policeman who has successfully completed courses at an accredited college or university if the criteria for the educational incentive pay are clearly established, are in writing, and are applied equally to all firemen and policemen meeting the criteria. If all firemen or policemen are afforded an opportunity to qualify themselves for certification, certification pay may be authorized by the city council or legislative body of the city in addition to regular pay for those firemen meeting the requirements for certification set by the Commission on Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education.

Cities of 1,500,000 or More; Assignment Pay

Sec. 8B. (a) In any city having a population of 1,500,000 or more, according to the most recent federal census, the city council or legislative body may authorize assignment pay for emergency ambulance attendants and field training officers in an amount and payable under conditions as set by ordinance. The assignment pay shall be in addition to the regular pay received by members of the fire department. The chief of the fire department is not eligible for the assignment pay authorized by this section.

(b) In this section:

(1) "Emergency ambulance attendant" means a member of the fire department who provides emergency medical care and emergency transportation for members of the public.

(2) "Helicopter personnel" means a member of the police department who pilots helicopters or rides as an observer in helicopters.

(3) "Bomb squad personnel" means a member of the police department who is assigned to the bomb squad and actually participates in the detection, handling, or disarming of explosive devices or materials.

(4) "Special weapons and tactics personnel" means a member of the police department who is assigned to the special weapons and tactics squad and actually performs the duties and responsibilities of the special weapons and tactics squad.

(5) "Field training officer" means a member of the fire department who is assigned to the field training officers program and who actually performs the duties and responsibilities of the field training officers program.

(c) In any city having a population of 1,200,000 or more according to the most recent federal census, the city council or legislative body may authorize assignment pay for helicopter personnel, bomb squad personnel, and special weapons and tactics personnel. Assignment pay shall be in an amount and payable under conditions as set by ordinance. The assignment pay shall be in addition to the regular pay received by members of the police department. The chief of the police department is not eligible for the assignment pay authorized by this section.

Field Training Officers; Assignment Pay

Sec. 8C. (a) In this section, "field training officer" means a member of the police department who is assigned to the field training officers program and actually performs the duties and responsibilities of the field training officers program.

(b) The city council or legislative body of a city that adopts this Act may authorize assignment pay for field training officers. Assignment pay shall be in an amount and payable under conditions as set by ordinance. The assignment pay shall be in addition to the regular pay received by members of the police department. The chief of the police department is not eligible for the assignment pay authorized by this section.

Assignment Pay

Sec. 8D. In any city having a population of less than 1,500,000 according to the most recent federal census, the city council or legislative body may authorize assignment pay for fire fighters and police officers performing specialized functions in their respective departments. The assignment pay is in an amount and is payable under conditions as set by ordinance, and is in addition to the fire fighters' and police officers' regular pay. If the ordinance applies equally to all persons meeting criteria established by the ordinance, the ordinance may provide for payment to each fire fighter and police officer who meets training or education criteria for an assignment, or the ordinance may set criteria that provide for payment only to a fire fighter or police officer in a special assignment. The chief or head of the fire or police department is not eligible for the assignment pay authorized by this section.

Examination for Eligibility Lists

Sec. 9. The Commission shall make provisions for open, competitive and free examinations for persons making proper application and meeting the requirements as herein prescribed. All eligibility lists for applicants for original positions in the Fire and Police Departments shall be created only as a result of such examinations, and no appointments shall ever be made for any position in such Departments except as a result of such examination, which shall be based on the applicant's knowledge of and qualifications for fire fighting and work in the Fire Department, or for police work and work in the Police Department, as shown by competitive examinations in the presence of all applicants for such position, and shall provide for thorough inquiry into the applicant's general education and mental ability. Fire Department entrance examinations may be given at different locations if all applicants are given the same examination and examined in the presence of other applicants. An applicant may not take the examination more than once for each eligibility list. An applicant may not take an examination unless at least one (1) other applicant being tested is present.

An applicant who has served in the armed forces of the United States and who received an honorable discharge shall receive five (5) points in addition to his competitive grades.

The Commission shall keep all eligibility lists for applicants for original positions in the Fire Department or Police Department in effect for not less than six (6) months nor more than twelve (12) months unless the names of all applicants have been referred to the appropriate Department. The Commission shall give a new examination at the end of the twelve (12) month period or sooner, if applicable, or if all names on the list have been referred to the appropriate Department. The Commission shall determine how long each eligibility list shall remain in effect within the six (6) to twelve (12) month period.

and shall include this information on the eligibility announcement.

Appropriate physical examinations shall be required of all applicants for beginning or promotional positions, and the examinations shall be given by a physician appointed by the Commission and paid by such city; and in the event of rejection by such physician, the applicant may call for further examination by a board of three (3) physicians appointed by the Commission, but at the expense of the applicant, whose findings shall be final. The age and physical requirements shall be set by the Commission in accordance with provisions of this law and shall be the same for all applicants.

No person shall be certified as eligible for a beginning position with a Fire Department who has reached his thirty-sixth birthday. No person shall be certified as eligible for a beginning position with a Police Department who has reached his thirty-sixth birthday unless the applicant has at least five (5) years prior experience as a peace officer, or 5 years of military experience. No person shall be certified as eligible for a beginning position with a Police Department who has reached his forty-fifth birthday.

All police officers and firemen coming under this Act must be able to intelligently read and write the English language.

When a question arises as to whether a fireman or policeman is sufficiently physically fit to continue his duties, the employee shall submit a report from his personal physician to the Commission. If the Commission, the head of the Department, or the employee questions the report, the Commission shall appoint a physician to examine the employee and to submit a report to the Commission, to the head of the Department, and to the employee. If the appointed physician's report disagrees with the report of the employee's personal physician, the Commission shall appoint a board of three (3) physicians to examine the employee. Their findings as to the employee's fitness for duty shall determine the issue. The cost of the services of the employee's personal physician shall be paid by the employee. All other costs shall be paid by the city.

A fireman or policeman who has been certified by a physician selected by a firemen's or policemen's relief or retirement fund as having recovered from a disability for which he has been receiving a monthly disability pension shall, with the approval of the Commission and if otherwise qualified, be eligible for reappointment to the classified position that he held as of the date that he qualified for a monthly disability pension.

Method of Filling Positions

Sec. 10. When a vacancy occurs in the Fire Department or Police Department, the Fire Chief or head of the Fire Department or the Police Chief or head of the Police Department shall request in writing from the Commission the names of suitable persons from the eligibility list, and the Director shall certify to the chief executive of said city, the names of three (3) persons having the highest grades on the eligibility list, and the said chief executive shall thereupon make an appointment from said three (3) names. The appointment shall be of the person with the highest grade, except there be a valid reason why such appointment should be given to the one making the second or third highest grade. Whenever such appointment is made of one not holding the highest grade, such reasons shall be reduced to writing and filed with the Commission, and there shall be set forth plainly and clearly good and sufficient reasons why said appointment was not made to the person holding the highest grade in the event the one holding the third highest grade shall receive the appointment. In the event the person holding the highest is not certified for the appointment, he shall be furnished with a copy of the reasons therefor as filed with the Commission, and in the event the one having the third highest grade is appointed a copy of such reasons shall also be furnished to the one holding the second highest grade. This Section shall be limited by the other provisions hereof relating to promotions.

Certification of Employees

Sec. 11. Whenever a person is certified and appointed in the said Fire Department or Police Department, the Director shall forward a record of the person so certified and appointed to the Fire Chief or head of the Department or Police Chief or head of that Department, forward a similar copy to the chief executive, and retain a copy in the civil service files. The record shall show: The date notice of examination was posted, date on which person certified took examination to be placed on eligibility list, name of person or persons conducting examination, relative position of person on eligibility list, date when person certified took physical examination, name of physician making examination, with information as to whether or not applicant was accepted or rejected, date on which request for filling such vacancy was made, date on which applicant was notified to report for duty and date on which his pay is to start. If the Director shall willfully fail to comply with any provisions of this Section, it shall be the duty of the Commission to forthwith remove him from office. The failure however, of the Director of Civil Service to comply with any of the provisions of this Section shall in no way impair the civil service standing of any employee.

Probationary and Full-fledged Firemen and Policemen

Sec. 12. (a) A person who has received appointment to the Fire Department or Police Department hereunder, shall serve a probationary period of one (1) year from date of employment with the Department as a Fireman, Policeman, or trainee in an academy.

(b) In any city having a population of 1,200,000 or more, according to the most recent federal census, a person who has received appointment to the Police Department and has ended his service with the Department for any reason shall serve a probationary period of six (6) months from date of reappointment. A reappointed officer is not entitled to full civil service protection until the officer has served the full probationary period after reappointment. For purposes of determining classification, pay status, and eligibility for promotion of the reappointed officer, the probationary period after reappointment is counted as if the reappointed officer were not on probation.

(c) During such probationary period, it shall be the duty of the Fire Chief or head of the Fire Department or Police Chief or head of the Police Department to discharge all Firemen or Policemen whose appointments where not regular, or not made in compliance with the provisions of this Act, or of the rules or regulations of the Commission, and to eliminate from the payrolls any such probationary employee. When Firemen or Policemen, however, have served the full probationary period, having been appointed in substantial compliance with Sections 9, 10, and 11 of this Act and not otherwise, they shall automatically become full-fledged civil service employees and shall have full civil service protection. All positions in the Fire Department, except that of Chief or head of the Department, and in the Police Department, except that of Chief or head of the Department, shall be classified by the Commission and the positions filled from the eligibility lists as provided herein.

(d) All offices and positions in the Fire Department or Police Department shall be established by ordinance of the City Council or governing body, provided however that the failure of a City Council or governing body to establish a position by ordinance shall not result in the loss of Civil Service benefits under this Act by any person appointed to such position in substantial compliance with the provisions of Sections 9, 10, and 11 of this Act, or entitled to Civil Service Status under Section 24 of this Act.

Employee Organization Membership Requirements Prohibited

Sec. 12A. An employee who is on probation may not be prohibited from joining or required to join an employee organization. Joining or not joining an employee organization is not a ground for retention or nonretention of an employee who is serving a probationary period.

Notice of Examinations

Sec. 13. At least ten (10) days in advance of any entrance examination and at least thirty (30) days in advance of any examination for promotion, the Commission shall cause to be posted on a bulletin board located in the main lobby of the city hall, and the office of the Commission, and in plain view, a notice of such examination, and said notice shall show the position to be filled or for which examination is to be held, with date, time, and place thereof, and in case of examination for promotion, copies of such notice shall be furnished in quantities sufficient for posting in the various stations or subdepartments in which position is to be filled. No one under eighteen (18) years of age shall take any entrance examination, and appointees to the Police and Fire Department shall not have reached their thirty-sixth birthday for entrance into the Fire Department or Police Department. The results of each examination for promotion shall be posted on a bulletin board located in the main lobby of the city hall by the Commission within twenty-four (24) hours after such examination.

Promotions; Filling Vacancies

Sec. 14. The Commission shall make rules and regulations governing promotions and shall hold promotional examinations to provide eligibility lists for each classification in the Police and Fire Departments, which examinations shall be held substantially under the following requirements:

A. (1) All promotional examinations shall be open to all policemen who have held a continuous position for two (2) years or more immediately prior to the examination in the classification immediately below, in salary, that classification for which the examination is to be held. In police departments that have adopted a classification plan that classifies positions on the basis of similarity in duties and responsibilities, all promotional examinations shall be open to a policeman who has held a continuous position for two (2) years or more immediately prior to the examination at the next lower paygrade, if it exists, in the classification for which the promotional examination is being offered. When there is not a sufficient number of members in the next lower position with two (2) years' service in that position to provide an adequate number of persons to take the examination, the Commission shall open the examination to members in that position with less than two (2) years' service. If there is still an insufficient number, the Commission may extend the examination to the members in the second lower position in salary to that for which the examination is to be held.

(2) All promotional examinations shall be open to all firemen who have ever held a continuous position for two (2) years or more in the classification immediately below, in salary, that classification for which the examination is being held. In fire departments that have adopted a classification plan that classifies positions on the basis of similarity in duties and responsibilities, all promotional examinations shall be open to a fireman who has ever held a continuous position for two (2) years or more at the next lower paygrade, if it exists, in the class for which the promotional examination is being offered. This section may not be construed to prohibit lateral crossover between classes. If there are not enough members in the next lower position with two (2) years' service in that position to provide an adequate number of persons to take the examination, the Commission may open the examination to members in that position with less than two (2) years' service. If there is still an insufficient number, the Commission may extend the examination to the members in the second lower position in salary to that for which the examination is to be held with two (2) years' service in that position.

B. Each fireman shall be given one (1) point for each year of seniority in his Department, but never to exceed ten (10) points. Each policeman shall be given one (1) point for each year of seniority as a classified police officer in his Department, but never to exceed ten (10) points.

C. The Commission may formulate proper procedure and rules for semi-annual efficiency reports and grade of each member of the Police or Fire Departments. If the Commission compiles efficiency reports for members of the Police or Fire Department, the Commission shall provide a copy of a member's efficiency report to the member. Any fireman or policeman may, within ten (10) days after receiving his efficiency report, make a statement in writing about the efficiency report. The statement shall be placed in his personnel file with the efficiency report.

D. (1)(a) Except as prescribed by Subdivision (6) of this subsection, all applicants shall be given an identical examination in the presence of each other, which promotional examination shall be entirely in writing and no part of which shall be by oral interview, and all of the questions asked therein shall be prepared and composed in such a manner that the grading of the examination papers can be promptly completed immediately after the holding of the examination and shall be prepared so as to test the knowledge of the applicants concerning information and facts, and all of said questions shall be based upon material which is a reasonably current publication and has been made reasonably available to all members of the Fire or Police Department involved and shall be based upon the duties of the position sought and upon any study courses given by such Departmental Schools of Instruction. All promotional examination questions must be taken from sources that are listed in a notice that is posted by the Commission at least thirty (30) days before the date of the examination. Firemen or policemen may suggest source materials for promotional examinations. The notice required by Section 13 of this Act may include the name of each source used and the number of questions taken from each source. The Commission may include the chapter of each source. When one of the applicants taking an examination for promotion has completed his answers, the grading of such examination shall begin, and all of the examination papers shall be graded as they are completed, at the place where the examination is given and in the presence of any applicants who wish to remain during the grading.

(b) The Director is responsible for the preparation and security of all promotional examinations. The fairness of the competitive promotional examinations is the responsibility of the Commission, the Director, and any municipal employee involved in the preparation or administration of the examination. A person who knowingly or intentionally reveals any part of a promotional examination to an unauthorized person or a person who knowingly or intentionally receives from an unauthorized person any part of a promotional examination commits a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) or imprisoned for not more than one (1) year in the county jail or both.

(2) Except as prescribed by Subdivision (6) of this subsection, the grade which shall be placed on the eligibility list for each policeman applicant shall be computed by adding such policeman applicant's points for seniority to his grade on such written examination. Grades on such written examinations shall be based upon a maximum grade of one hundred (100) points and shall be determined entirely by the correctness of each applicant's answers to such questions. The minimum passing score for the written examination is seventy (70) points.

(3) The grade which shall be placed on the eligibility list for each fireman applicant shall be computed by adding the fireman applicant's points for seniority to his grade on the written examination. Grades on the written examination shall be based on a maximum grade of one hundred (100) points and shall be determined entirely by the correctness of each fireman applicant's answers to the questions. The minimum passing score for the written examination is seventy (70) points.

(4) Each applicant shall have the opportunity to examine the source materials, his examination, and his answers thereto together with the grading thereof and if dissatisfied shall, within five (5) working days, appeal the same to the Commission for review in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(5) Except as prescribed by Section 8A of this Act, a fireman is not eligible for promotion unless he has served in such Department for at least two (2) years at any time prior to the day of such promotional examination in the next lower position or other positions specified by the Commission, and no person with less than four (4) years' actual service in such Department shall be eligible for promotion to the rank of captain or its equivalent. Except as prescribed by Section 8A of this Act, a policeman is not eligible for promotion unless the policeman has served in the Department for at least two (2) years immediately preceding the date of the promotional examination in the next lower position or other positions specified by the Commission, and no person with less than four (4) years' actual service in the Department shall be eligible for promotion to the rank of captain or its equivalent. Provided, however, that the requirement of two (2) years' service in the Fire Department at any time prior to the day of promotional examination shall not be applicable to those persons recalled on active military duty for a period not to exceed twenty-four (24) months. The Police Department's requirement of two (2) years' service immediately preceding the date of the promotional examination does not apply to persons recalled to active military duty for a period not to exceed twenty-four (24) months. Such persons shall be entitled to have time spent on active military duty considered as duty in the Department concerned. However, any person whose absence for active military duty exceeds twelve (12) months, shall be required to serve ninety (90) days upon returning to the Department before he shall become eligible to participate in a promotional examination, such period of time to be considered essential for bringing him up to date on equipment and techniques.

(6)(a) In a city having a population of less than 1,500,000 according to the last preceding federal census, the Commission may, on the recommendation of the Chief or Head of the Police Department and a majority vote of the sworn police officers, adopt an alternate promotional system to select persons to occupy nonentry level positions other than positions that are filled by appointment by the Chief or Head of the Police Department. The promotional system shall comply with the following requirements:

(1) the Commission shall order the Director to conduct an election and to submit the revised promotional system by secret ballot to all sworn police officers;

(2) the election shall be held no earlier than the thirtieth (30th) day after the day on which notice of the election is posted at the Department. The election shall be conducted throughout each regular work shift at an accessible location within the Department during a 24-hour period;

(3) the ballot shall contain the specific amendment to the promotional procedure and each sworn police officer shall be given the opportunity to vote "for" or "against" the amendment;

(4) the revised promotional system must be approved by a majority vote of the sworn police officers voting;

(5) a defeated promotional system amendment may not be placed on a ballot for vote before the sworn police officers for at least twelve (12) months after the date on which the prior election was held;

(6) if approved by the sworn police officers, the promotional system amendment becomes effective after all election disputes have been ruled on and the election votes have been canvassed by the Commission;

(7) the Commission shall canvass the votes not later than the thirtieth (30th) day after the date on which the election was held; and

(8) all appeals alleging election irregularity must be filed with the Commission not later than the fifth (5th) working day after the date on which the election closes.

(b) At any time after an alternate promotional system has been adopted under this subdivision and has been in effect for at least one hundred and eighty (180) days, the Police Chief may petition the Commission to terminate the alternate system and the Commission shall terminate the alternate system. If the alternate system is terminated, an additional list may not be created under the alternate system.

(c) At any time after an alternate promotional system has been adopted under this subdivision and has been in effect for at least one hundred and eighty (180) days, a petition signed by at least thirty-five percent (35%) of the sworn police officers may be submitted to the Commission asking that the alternate promotional system be reconsidered. If a petition is submitted, the Commission shall, not later than the sixtieth (60th) day after the date on which the petition was filed, hold an election as prescribed by Paragraph (a) of this subdivision. If a majority of those voting vote to repeal, the Commission shall terminate the alternate promotional system. If the alternate system is terminated, an additional list may not be created under the alternate system.

(d) A promotional list may not be created if an election under this subdivision is pending. An existing eligibility list, whether created under the system prescribed by this Act or created under an alternate system adopted under this subdivision, may not be terminated before or extended beyond its expiration date. A person promoted under an alternate system has the same rights and the same status as a person promoted under this Act even if the alternate system is later repealed.

(e) This subdivision does not apply to a city that has adopted The Fire and Police Employee Relations Act (Article 5154c-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(7) No person shall be eligible for appointment as Chief or Head of the Fire Department of any city coming under the provisions of this Act who is not eligible for certification by the Commission on Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education at the intermediate level or its equivalent as determined by that Commission and who has not served at least five (5) years as a fully paid fireman. No person may be eligible for appointment as Chief or Head of the Police Department who is not eligible for certification by the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education at the intermediate level or its equivalent as determined by that Commission and who has not served as a bona fide law enforcement officer for five (5) years.

E. (1) Upon written request by the Heads of the Departments for a person to fill a vacancy in any classification, the Commission shall certify to the Head of the Department the three (3) names having the highest grades on such eligibility list for such classification for the vacancy requested to be filled. If fewer than three (3) names remain on the eligibility list, all the names must be submitted to the Head of the Department, and the Head of such Department shall appoint the person having the highest grade, except where such Head of the Department shall have a valid reason for not appointing such highest name, and in such cases he shall, before such appointment, file his reasons in writing, for rejection of the higher name or names, with the Commission, which reasons shall be valid and subject to review by the Commission upon the application of such rejected person.

(2) The name of each person on the eligibility lists shall be submitted to the Head of the Department three (3) times; and if passed over three (3) times with written reasons filed thereafter and not set aside by the Commission, he shall thereafter be dropped from the eligibility list. All promotional eligibility lists shall remain in existence for one (1) year unless exhausted, and at the expiration of one (1) year they shall expire and new examinations may be given.

F. The Commission shall proceed to hold examinations to create eligibility lists within ninety (90) days after a vacancy in any classification occurs, or new positions are created, unless an eligibility list is in existence. If an eligibility list exists, the Commission shall certify within ten (10) days after notification of the vacancy to the Head of the Department the names of persons eligible to fill all promotional positions. The certified names must come from the eligibility list which exists on the date the vacancy occurs.

G. In the event any new classification is established either by name or by increase of salary, the same shall be filled by competitive examination in accordance with this law.

Crossover Promotions

Sec. 14A. (a) In any city in this state having a population of 1,500,000 or more inhabitants, according to the last preceding federal census, all members of the police department, who shall be employed by such department with duties in a specialized technical area, to wit: (1) technical class, which includes but is not limited to criminal laboratory analysis and interpretations, and the technical criminal aspects of identification and photography, or (2) communications class, which includes but is not limited to the technical operations of police radio communications, shall be eligible for promotions within their respective classes. In addition, all peace officers employed by the city, who shall be employed by such city department with duties in separate specialized police divisions, to wit: (1) park police class, which includes all sworn park police officers except those in ranks excluded from civil service status by this Act, or (2) airport police class, which includes all sworn airport police officers except those in ranks excluded from civil service status by this Act, or (3) city marshal class, which includes all sworn deputy city marshals except those in ranks excluded from civil service status by this Act, shall be eligible for promotions within their respective classes.

(b) In no event shall the members of the technical class, communications class, park police class, airport police class, city marshal class, or uniformed and detective class be eligible for promotion to a position outside of their respective class. This section shall be construed so as to preclude the lateral crossover by promotion by members of the technical, communications, park police, airport police, and city marshal classes into the uniformed and detective class of the department; also to preclude the lateral crossover by promotion of members of the uniformed and detective class into the technical, communications, park police, airport police, and city marshal classes of the department. In the event a member of one class desires to change classes, such may be accomplished upon qualification and only by entry into the new class at the lowest entry level of that class.

(c) This section shall not operate so as to prevent the chief of police, assistant chiefs of police, and deputy chiefs of police, or their equivalent, by whatever name or title they may be called, from exercising the full sanctions, powers, duties, and authority of their respective offices in the supervision, management, and control over the uniformed and detective class, technical class, communications class, park police class, airport police class, and city marshal class.

(d) All provisions of this article regarding eligibility lists, examinations, appointments, and promotions shall apply to members of the technical class, communications class, park police class, airport police class, city marshal class, uniform class and detective class. However, said provisions shall apply only to the appointment and promotion of a member of a particular class to a new position within such class.

Civil Service Rights of Department Head

Sec. 15. When the services of the Chief or head of the Fire Department or Police Department are terminated as such and he is removed as such Department head, he shall be reinstated in the Department and placed in a position no lower than the rank he held at time of appointment, and he shall retain all rights of seniority in the Department; provided, that should such Department head be charged with an offense in violation of civil service rules, and be dismissed from the public service, or be discharged from his position, he shall have the same rights and privileges of a hearing before the Commission, and in the same manner and under the same conditions as may classified employees, and if the Commission should find such charges to be untrue, or unfounded, said employee shall thereupon immediately be restored to the Department as above provided, and said employee shall enjoy all the rights and privileges thereunder according to seniority, and shall be paid his full salary for the time of suspension.

Indefinite Suspensions

Sec. 16. (a) In a city having a population of 1,500,000 or more according to the most recent federal census, the Chief or Head of the Fire Department or Police Department of the city government shall have the power to suspend indefinitely any officer or employee under his supervision or jurisdiction for the violation of civil service rules, but in every such case the officer making such order of suspension shall, within one hundred and twenty (120) hours thereafter, file a written statement with the Commission, giving the reasons for such suspension, and immediately furnish a copy thereof to the officer or employee affected by such act, said copy to be delivered in person to such suspended officer or employee by said department head. Said order of suspension shall inform the employee that he has ten (10) days after receipt of a copy thereof, within which to file a written appeal with the Commission. The Commission shall hold a hearing and render a decision in writing within thirty (30) days after it receives said notice of appeal. Said decision shall state whether or not the suspended officer or employee shall be permanently or temporarily dismissed from the Fire or Police Department or be restored to his former position or status in the classified service in the department. In the event that such suspended employee is restored to the position or class of service from which he was suspended, such employee shall receive full compensation at the rate of pay provided for the position or class of service from which he was suspended, for the actual time lost as a result of such suspension. All hearings of the Commission in case of such suspension shall be public.

(b) The written statement above provided to be filed by the department head with the Commission, shall not only point out the civil service rule alleged to have been violated by the suspended employee, but shall contain the alleged acts of the employee which the department head contends are in violation of the civil service rules. It shall not be sufficient for the department head merely to refer to the provisions of the rules alleged to have been violated and in case the department head does not specifically point out the act or acts complained of on the part of such employee, it shall be the duty of the Commission promptly to reinstate him. In any civil service hearing hereunder, the department head is hereby restricted to his original written statement and charges, which shall not be amended, and no act or acts may be complained of by said department head which did not happen or occur within six (6) months immediately preceding the date of suspension by the department head. No employee shall be suspended or dismissed by the Commission except for violation of the civil service rules, and except upon a finding by the Commission of the truth of the specific charges against such employee.

(c) In the event the Commission orders that such suspended employee be restored to his position as above provided, it shall be the duty of the department head immediately to reinstate him as ordered and in event the department head fails to do so, the employee shall be entitled to his salary just as though he had been regularly reinstated.

(d) In the event such department head wilfully refuses to obey the orders of reinstatement of the Commission, and such refusal persists for a period of ten (10) days, it shall be the duty of the chief executive or legislative body of the city to discharge such department head from his employment with the city.

(e) The Commission may punish for contempt any department head who wilfully refuses to obey any lawful order of reinstatement of the Commission, and such Commission shall have the same authority herein to punish for contempt as has the Justice of the Peace.

Purpose of Law; Hearings

Sec. 16a. It is hereby declared that the purpose of the Firemen and Policemen's Civil Service Law is to secure to the cities affected thereby efficient Police and Fire Departments, composed of capable personnel, free from political influence, and with permanent tenure of employment as public servants. The members of the Civil Service Commissions are hereby directed to administer the civil service law in accordance with this purpose; and when sitting as a board of appeals for a suspended or aggrieved employee who has invoked any review procedures under the provisions of this Act, they are to conduct such hearing fairly and impartially under the provisions of this law and are to render a fair and just decision, considering only the evidence presented before them in such hearing.

Disciplinary Suspensions

Sec. 16b. (a) In a city having a population of 1,500,000 or more according to the most recent federal census, the head of either the fire or the police department may suspend an officer or employee under his jurisdiction or supervision for disciplinary purposes, for reasonable periods, not to exceed 15 days. If the department suspends a person, the department head shall file with the commission not later than the 120th hour after the person is suspended a written statement of action, and the commission shall, on appeal of the suspended officer or employee, hold a public hearing as prescribed by Section 17 of this Act. The commission shall determine whether just cause exists for the suspension. If the department head fails to file the statement with the commission within the 120-hour time period, the suspension is void and the employee is entitled to his full salary. The commission may reverse the decision of the department head and instruct the department head to immediately restore the employee to his position and to repay the employee for any lost wages. If the commission finds that the period of disciplinary suspension should be reduced, it may order a reduction in the period of suspension. If the department head refuses to obey the order of the commission, the provisions of Section 16 of this Act relating to salaries of employees, the discharge of the department head, and the other provisions relating to the refusal of the department head apply.

(b) In a city having a population of less than 1,500,000 according to the most recent federal census, the chief or head of the fire department or police department may suspend an officer or employee under his supervision or jurisdiction for the violation of a civil service rule for a reasonable period not to exceed 15 calendar days, or for an indefinite period. An indefinite suspension is equivalent to permanent dismissal from the department. If offered by the chief or head of the department, the officer or employee may agree in writing to voluntarily accept, with no right of appeal, a suspension of not less than 16 or more than 90 calendar days for violation of civil service rules. The officer or employee must accept the offer not later than the fifth working day after the offer is made. If the chief or head of a department suspends a person, the chief or head shall, not later than the 120th hour after the hour of suspension, file a written statement with the commission giving the reasons for the suspension, and shall immediately furnish a copy of the statement to the suspended officer or employee. The chief or department head shall deliver the copy in person to the suspended officer or employee. The order of suspension shall inform the officer or employee that if he wishes to appeal, he must file a written appeal with the commission not later than the 10th day after the date on which the officer or employee receives a copy of the statement. If the officer or employee refuses an offer of suspension of not less than 16 or more than 90 calendar days and wishes to appeal to the commission, the officer or employee must file a written appeal with the commission not later than the 15th day after the date the officer or employee receives the statement. Unless the suspended officer or employee and the commission mutually agree to postpone the hearing for a definite period of time, the commission shall hold a hearing and render a decision in writing not later than the 30th day after the date on which it receives the notice of appeal. The decision of the commission shall state whether or not the suspended officer or employee is permanently dismissed, or temporarily suspended from the fire or police department, or restored to his former position or status in the classified service in the department. If the commission finds that the period of disciplinary suspension should be reduced, it may order a reduction in the period of suspension. If the suspended officer or employee is restored to the position or class of service from which he was suspended, the officer or employee shall receive full compensation at the rate of pay provided for the position or class of service from which he was suspended for the actual time lost as a result of the suspension. All hearings of the commission in case of a suspension are public. The commission may deliberate the decision in closed session but may not consider evidence that was not presented at the hearing. The commission shall vote in open session. The written statement filed by the department head with the commission shall point out the civil service rule alleged to have been violated by the suspended officer or employee and shall contain the alleged acts of the officer or employee that the department head contends are in violation of the civil service rules. It is not sufficient for the department head merely to refer to the provisions of the rules alleged to have been violated. If the department head does not specifically point out the act or acts complained of on the part of the officer or employee, the commission shall promptly reinstate the officer or employee. In a civil service hearing conducted under this subsection, the department head is restricted to his original written statement and charges which may not be amended. In the original written statement and charges and in any hearing conducted under this subsection, the department head may not complain of an act or acts that occurred earlier than the 180th day immediately preceding the date on which the department head suspends the officer or employee. An officer or employee may not be suspended or dismissed by the commission except for violation of the civil service rules, and after a finding by the commission of the truth of specific charges against the officer or employee.

Hearing Examiners

Sec. 16c. (a) In a city having a population of less than 1,500,000 according to the most recent federal census, in an appeal of an indefinite suspension, a suspension, a promotional passover, or a recommended demotion, the appealing employee may elect to appeal to an independent third party hearing examiner instead of to the commission. To exercise this choice, the appealing employee must submit a letter to the director stating his decision to appeal to an independent third party hearing examiner.

(b) The decision of the hearing examiner is final and binding on all parties. If the employee decides to appeal to an independent third party hearing examiner, the employee automatically waives all rights to appeal to district court.

(c) If the appealing employee chooses to appeal to a hearing examiner, the employee and the chief shall first attempt to mutually agree on the selection of an impartial hearing examiner. If an agreement is not reached on the selection of the hearing examiner on or before the 10th day after the date the appeal is filed, the director shall immediately request a list of seven qualified neutral arbitrators from the American Arbitration Association or Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, or their successor in function. The employee and the chief may mutually agree on one of the seven neutral arbitrators on the list. If they do not agree within five working days after receipt of the list, each party shall alternate striking a name from the list and the name remaining shall be the hearing examiner.

(d) The appeal hearing shall commence as soon as the hearing examiner selected can be scheduled. If the hearing examiner cannot commence the hearing within 45 calendar days after the date of selection, the employee may, within two days of learning of that fact, call for the selection of a new hearing examiner using the same procedure as provided by Subsection (c) of this section.

(e) All fees and expenses of the hearing examiner are shared equally by the appealing officer or employee and by the department. The costs of witnesses for either side shall be paid by the party who calls the witnesses.

(f) A state district court may hear appeals of an award of a hearing examiner only on the grounds that the arbitration panel was without jurisdiction or exceeded its jurisdiction or that the order was procured by fraud, collusion, or other unlawful means. An appeal must be brought in the state district court having jurisdiction in the municipality in which the department is located.

Procedures After Criminal Indictment

Sec. 16d. (a) In a city having a population of less than 1,500,000 according to the most recent federal census, if a fire fighter or police officer is indicted for a felony or officially charged with the commission of a Class A or B misdemeanor, the procedures prescribed by this section apply.

(b) The head of the department may temporarily suspend the fire fighter or police officer with or without pay. The head of the department shall notify the fire fighter or police officer in writing that he is being temporarily suspended with or without pay for a period not to exceed 30 days after the date of final disposition of the specified felony or misdemeanor complaint, and that the temporary suspension is not intended to reflect an opinion on the merits of the indictment or complaint.

(c) If the action directly related to the felony indictment or misdemeanor complaint occurred or was discovered on or after the 180th day before the date of the indictment or complaint, the head of the department may, not later than the 30th day after the date of final disposition of the felony charge or misdemeanor complaint, bring a civil service charge against the fire fighter or police officer.

(d) Conviction of a felony is cause for dismissal, and conviction of a Class A or B misdemeanor may be cause for disciplinary action or indefinite suspension.

(e) Acquittal or dismissal of an indictment or a misdemeanor complaint does not mean that a fire fighter or police officer has not violated civil service rules or regulations and does not negate the charges that may have been or may be brought against him by the department head.

(f) A fire fighter or police officer indicted for a felony or officially charged with the commission of a Class A or B misdemeanor who has also been charged by the department head with civil service violations directly related to the indictment or misdemeanor complaint may delay the civil service hearing for a period of not more than 30 days after final disposition of the indictment or complaint.

(g) If the head of the department temporarily suspends a fire fighter or police officer who has been indicted for a felony or officially charged with a Class A or B misdemeanor, and the fire fighter or police officer is not found guilty of the indictment or complaint in the court of competent jurisdiction, the fire fighter or police officer may appeal to the commission or to a hearing examiner for recovery of back pay. The commission or hearing examiner may award all or part of the back pay or reject the appeal.

(h) The department head may order an indefinite suspension based on an act or acts classified as a felony or a Class A or B misdemeanor after the 180-day period after discovery of the act or acts by the department if delay is considered necessary by the department head to protect a criminal investigation of the employee's conduct. If the department head intends to order an indefinite suspension after the 180-day period, the department head must file a statement describing the criminal investigation and its objectives with the attorney general not later than the 180th day after the date on which the act complained of occurred.

Procedure Before Commission

Sec. 17. In order for a Fireman or Policeman to appeal to the Commission from any action for which an appeal or review is provided under the terms of this Act, it shall only be necessary for him to file within ten (10) days with the Commission an appeal setting forth the basis of his appeal. The appeal shall include a statement denying the truth of the charge as made, a statement taking exception to the legal sufficiency of such charges, a statement alleging that the recommended action does not fit the offense or alleged offense, or any combination of the statements, and in addition, a request for a hearing by the Commission. In all hearings, appeals, and reviews of every kind and character, wherein the Commission is performing an adjudicatory function, the employee shall have the right to be represented by council or any person of his choice. The employee may request the Commission to subpoena any books, records, documents, papers, accounts, or witnesses that the employee considers pertinent to his case. The request to have materials subpoenaed must be made at least ten (10) days before the date of the hearing. If the Commission does not subpoena the requested material, at least three (3) days prior to the hearing date, it shall make a written report to the employee stating the reason it will not subpoena the requested material, and this report shall be read into the public records of the Commission hearing. The witnesses may be placed under the rule. All such proceedings shall be public. The Commission shall consider only evidence submitted at the hearing. The Commission shall have the authority to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum for the attendance of witnesses and for the production of documentary material. The Commission shall maintain a permanent public record of all proceedings with copies available at cost.

Appeal to District Court

Sec. 18. In the event any Fireman or Policeman is dissatisfied with any decision of the Commission, he may, within ten (10) days after the rendition of such final decision, file a petition in the District Court, asking that the decision be set aside, and such case shall be tried de novo. The court in such actions may grant such legal or equitable relief as may be appropriate to effectuate the purposes of this Act, including reinstatement or promotion with back pay where an order of suspension, dismissal, or demotion is set aside. The court may award reasonable attorney's fees to the prevailing party and assess court costs against the nonprevailing party. If the court finds for the fireman or policeman, the court shall order the city to pay lost wages to the fireman or policeman.

Demotions

Sec. 19. Whenever the head of the Fire Department or Police Department may desire the demotion to a lower rank of an officer or employee under his supervision or jurisdiction, such Department head may recommend in writing to the Commission that such employee be so demoted, giving his reasons therefor, and requesting that the Commission make such order of demotion, furnishing a true copy of such recommendation immediately, in person, to the employee to be affected by such demotion. Said Commission shall have the authority to refuse to grant said request for demotion. If however, said Commission feels that probably¹ cause exists for said demotion, they shall give such employee ten (10) days advance written notice to appear before them at a time and place specified in said written notice to the employee, and said employee shall have the right to a full and complete public hearing upon such proposed demotion. The Commission shall not demote any employee without such hearing.

Uncompensated Duty

Sec. 20. (a) In this section, "uncompensated duty" means days of police work without pay and in addition to regular or normal work days.

(b) In a city having a population of less than 1,500,000 according to the most recent federal census, the head of the Police Department may assign any officer or employee under his jurisdiction or supervision to uncompensated duty. The chief or department head may not impose uncompensated duty unless the officer or employee agrees. The duty may be in place of or in combination with a period of disciplinary suspension without pay. If uncompensated duty is combined with a disciplinary suspension, the total number of uncompensated duty days may not exceed 15. If the officer or employee agrees to accept uncompensated duty, the chief or department head shall give the officer or employee a written statement that specifies the date or dates on which the officer or employee will perform uncompensated duty.

(c) An officer or employee may not earn or accrue any wage, salary, or benefit arising from length of service while the officer or employee is suspended or performing uncompensated duty. A disciplinary suspension does not constitute a break in a continuous position or service in the department for the purpose of determining eligibility for a promotional examination. The days on which an officer or employee performs assigned uncompensated duty may not be taken into consideration in determining eligibility for a promotional examination. Except as provided by this subsection, an officer or employee performing assigned uncompensated duty retains all rights and privileges of his position in the Police Department and of his employment by the city.

Reduction of Force; Reinstatement List

Sec. 21. In the event that any position in the Fire Department or Police Department is vacated or abolished by ordinance of the City Council, or legislative body, the employee holding such position shall be demoted to the position next below the rank of the position so vacated or abolished; provided that when any position or positions of equal rank may be abolished or vacated, the employee or employees with the least seniority in the said rank shall be the one or ones who are demoted.

In the event that it thereby becomes necessary to demote an employee or employees to the position next below the rank of the position so vacated or abolished, such employee or employees as are involuntarily demoted without charges having been filed against them for violation of civil service rules shall be placed on a position reinstatement list in order of their seniority. If any such position so vacated or abolished is filled or re-created within one (1) year, the position reinstatement list for such position shall be exhausted before any employee not on such list is promoted to such position. Promotions from the position reinstatement list shall be in the order of seniority.

In the event positions in the lowest classifications are abolished or vacated, and it thereby becomes necessary to dismiss employees from the Department, the employee with the least seniority shall be dismissed, but such employees as are involuntarily separated from the Department without charges having been filed against them for violation of civil service rules, shall be placed on the reinstatement list in order of their seniority. The reinstatement list shall be exhausted before appointments are made from the eligibility list. Appointments from reinstatement list shall be in the order of seniority. Those who shall have been on any such reinstatement list for a period of three (3) years shall be dropped from such list but shall be reinstated upon request from the Commission.

Political Activities; Leaves of Absence

Sec. 22. Employees in the Fire Department or Police Department shall not be permitted to take an active part in any political campaign of another for an elective position of the city if they are in uniform or on active duty. The term active part means making political speeches, passing out cards, or other political literature, writing letters, signing petitions, actively and openly soliciting votes and making public derogatory remarks about candidates for such elective positions.

Firemen and Policemen coming under the provisions of this Act are not required to contribute to any political fund or render any political service to any person or party whatsoever; and no person shall be removed, reduced in classification or salary, or otherwise prejudiced by refusing to do so; and any official of any city coming under the provisions of this Act who attempts the same shall be guilty of violating the provisions of this Act.

No fireman or policeman shall be refused reasonable leave of absence without pay, provided that a sufficient number of employees to carry out the normal functions of the Department shall be provided, for the purpose of attending any fire or police school, conventions, or meetings, the purpose of which is to secure more efficient departments and better working conditions for the personnel thereof, nor shall any rule ever be adopted affecting their constitutional right to appear before or petition the Legislature. Provided however, that no Civil Service Commission or governing body of any city shall further restrict the rights of employees of the Police and Fire Departments to engage in political activities except as herein expressly provided.

Military Leave of Absence

Sec. 22a. The Civil Service Commission on written application of a member of the fire or police department shall grant military leave of absence without pay to such member to enable him to enter military service of the United States in any of its branches. Such leave of absence may not exceed the compulsory military service or the basic minimum enlistment period for that branch of service. The Commission shall grant a leave of absence to a member of the fire or police department for initial training or annual duty in military reserves or the national guard. The Civil Service Commission shall grant such leave retroactively back to the commencement of the Korean War. Any such member receiving military leave of absence hereunder shall be entitled to be returned to the position in the department held by him at the time the leave of absence is granted, upon the termination of his active military service, provided he receives an Honorable Discharge and remains physically and mentally fit to discharge the duties of that position; and further provided he makes application for reinstatement within ninety (90) days after his discharge. Upon being returned to said position, such member shall receive full seniority credit for the time spent in the military service. During the absence from the department of any such member to whom military leave of absence shall have been granted by the Civil Service Commission the position in the department held by such member shall be filled in accordance with the other provisions of the Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service Act subject to the person filling such position being replaced by the member to whom military leave of absence has been granted upon his return to active duty with the department. Any person so replaced and remaining with the department and by reason of such replacement being returned to a position lower in grade or compensation shall have a preferential right for subsequent appointment or promotion to the same or similar position of that from which he has been replaced over any eligibility list for such position, provided he remains physically and mentally fit to discharge the duties of such position.

Publishing of Rules; Mailing, Posting and Distribution

Sec. 23. The Commission shall cause to be published all rules and regulations which may be promulgated by it, and shall publish classification and seniority lists for each department, and such rules and regulations and lists shall be made available upon demand.

Whenever the Commission shall have adopted any such rules or regulations by a majority vote, and shall have caused same to be reduced to writing, typewriting or printing, such rules and such regulations shall thereupon be deemed to be sufficiently published and promulgated within the meaning of this Act and shall be valid and binding, upon the Commission doing or causing to be done the following:

(1) By mailing a copy of such rules and regulations to the Commissioner of Fire and Police, the Chief of the Police Department, and the Chief of the Fire Department.

(2) By posting all such rules and regulations at a conspicuous place for a period of seven (7) days in the Central Police Station and for the same period in the Central Fire Station.

(3) By mailing a copy of all such rules and regulations to each branch fire station.

The Director of Civil Service shall keep on hand copies of said rules and regulations for free distribution to members of the Fire and Police Departments requesting same, and said rules and regulations shall be kept available for inspection by any interested citizen.

No additional publication by way of insertion in a newspaper shall be required and no action need be taken by the City Council or governing body of any such city with reference to said rules or regulations; and in all cities coming under the provisions of this Act, where the Commission has heretofore adopted any such rules and regulations, and has caused same to be reduced to writing, typewriting or printing, and complied with all provisions of this Section, such rules and such regulations are hereby validated ab initio regardless of whether same have been published in a newspaper, or by posting, or otherwise, and regardless of whether any section has been taken with reference thereto by the City Council or governing body of such city.

Status of Present Employees

Sec. 24. Firemen or Policemen in the actual service of each city affected hereby, at the time of the final passage of this Act, and entitled to civil service classification, shall enjoy the status of civil service employees without having to take any competitive examinations for the position occupied at the time, provided such Firemen and Policemen have been in the service of said city for more than six (6) months.

Sec. 25. Repealed by Acts 1957, 55th Leg., p. 1171, ch. 391, § 8.

Penalties

Sec. 25a. Any chief executive of a city who knowingly or intentionally fails or refuses to appoint the Civil Service Commissioners provided by Section 3 of this Act within sixty (60) days after the city has adopted this Act commits a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100) nor more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200). Each day after the 60-day deadline that the chief executive fails or refuses to make an appointment constitutes a separate offense. A chief executive or any city official who knowingly or intentionally refuses to implement this Act or attempts to obstruct the enforcement of this Act commits a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100) nor more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200) for each offense.

Sick and Injury Leaves of Absence

Sec. 26. (a) Permanent and temporary employees in the classified service shall be allowed a total of sick leave with full pay computed upon a basis of one and one-fourth (1¼) full working days allowed for each full month employed in a calendar year, so as to total fifteen (15) working days to an employee's credit each twelve (12) months. Employees shall be allowed to accumulate fifteen (15) working days of sick leave with pay in one (1) calendar year.

(b) Sick leave with pay may be accumulated without limit and may be used while an employee is unable to work because of any bona fide illness. In the event that the said employee can conclusively prove that the illness was incurred while in performance of his duties, an extension of sick leave in case of exhaustion of time shall be granted.

(c) In the event that a Fireman or Policeman for any reason leaves the classified service, he shall receive, in a lump sum payment, the full amount of his salary for the period of his accumulated sick leave, provided that if the Fireman or Policeman has more than ninety (90) working days of accumulated sick leave, the employer may limit the payment to that sum equal to the sum that the employee would have been paid had he been allowed to use the ninety (90) days of accumulated sick leave during the last six (6) months of employment. The lump-sum payment provided in this section is calculated as follows: the employee is compensated for the accumulated time at the highest permanent classification of pay for which the employee was eligible during the last six (6) months of employment. The employee is paid for the same period of time the employee would have been paid if the sick leave had been taken but excluding additional holidays and any sick leave or vacation time which the employee might have accrued during the ninety (90) working days.

(d) If an active Fireman or Policeman dies as a result of a line of duty injury or line of duty illness, the entire amount of his accumulated sick leave shall be paid as provided in this section. Provided, that in order to facilitate the settlement of the accounts of deceased employees of the Fire or Police Departments, all unpaid compensation due such employee at the time of his death shall be paid to the person or persons surviving at the date of death, in the following order or precedence and such payments shall be a bar to recovery by any other person of amounts so paid.

First, to the beneficiary or beneficiaries designated by the employee in writing to receive such compensation filed with the Civil Service Commission prior to the employee's death;

Second, if there be no such beneficiary, to the widow or widower of such employee;

Third, if there be no such beneficiary or surviving spouse, to the child or children of such employee, and descendants of deceased children, by representation;

Fourth, if none of the above, to the parents of such employee, or the survivor of them;

Fifth, if there be none of the above, to the duly appointed legal representative of the estate of the deceased employee, or if there be none, to the person or persons determined to be entitled thereto under the laws of descent and distribution of the State of Texas.

(e) Provided that all such cities coming under the provisions of this Act shall provide injury leaves of absence and line of duty illness leaves of absence for Firemen and Policemen with full pay for periods of time commensurate with the nature of the line of duty illness or injuries for at least one (1) year. At the expiration of said one-year period, the City Council or governing body may extend such line of duty illness or injury leave, at full or reduced pay, provided that in cities that have a Firemen's or Policemen's Pension Fund, that if said injured employee's salary should be reduced below sixty per cent (60%) of his regular monthly salary, said employee shall have the option of being retired on pension until able to return to duty.

(f) If there are no pension benefits available to an employee who is temporarily disabled by a line of duty injury or illness and the year at full pay and any extensions which may have been granted by the employer have expired, the employee may use accumulated sick leave, vacation time, and other accrued benefits before being temporarily placed on leave.

(g) If an employee is temporarily disabled by an injury or illness not related to the employee's line of duty, the employee may use all sick leave, vacation time, and any other time the employee may have accumulated before being placed on temporary leave.

(h) After recovery from a temporary disability, a Fireman or Policeman shall be reinstated at the same rank and with the same seniority the person had before going on temporary leave. Another Fireman or Policeman may voluntarily do the work of an injured or ill Fireman or Policeman until the Fireman or Policeman returns to duty.

Vacations; Accumulations of Vacation Leave

Sec. 26(a). All firemen and policemen in the classified service shall earn a minimum of fifteen (15) working days vacation with pay in each year. In computing the length of time during which a fireman or policeman may be absent from work for the vacation provided by this Section, only those calendar days during which the member would be required to work if he were not on vacation shall be counted as vacation days. Vacation leave may not be accumulated from year to year, except as approved by the governing body of the city.

Termination of Service, Lump Sum Payments: Cities of 1,200,000 or More, Accumulated Sick Leave; Cities of 650,000 or More, Accumulated Vacation Leave

Sec. 26(b). (a) In any city in this State having a population of one million, two hundred thousand (1,200,000) or more inhabitants, according to the last preceding federal census, a fireman or policeman who leaves the classified service for any reason or the beneficiaries of any fireman or policeman who loses his life as a result of a line of duty injury or illness shall receive in a lump sum payment the full amount of his salary for the period of his accumulated sick leave. Sick leave shall be accumulated without limit.

(b) In any city in this State having a population of six hundred and fifty thousand (650,000) or more inhabitants, according to the last preceding federal census, a fireman or policeman who leaves the classified service for any reason shall receive in a lump sum payment the full amount of his salary for the period of his accumulated vacation leave, provided that such payment shall be based upon not more than sixty (60) working days of accumulated vacation leave. Any fireman or policeman who leaves the classified service or loses his life as the result of a line of duty injury or illness or the beneficiaries of such fireman or policeman shall be paid the full amount of his salary for the total number of his working days of accumulated vacation leave.

Firemen or Policemen Prohibited from Striking

Sec. 27. It shall be unlawful from and after the passage of this Act for any Fireman or Policeman, coming under the provisions of this Act, to engage in any strike against the agency of the government by which they are employed.

Firemen or Policemen, coming under the provisions of this Act, who shall violate any of the provisions of this Act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, after conviction, be fined not less than Ten Dollars ($10) or more than One Hundred Dollars ($100), or by confinement in the county jail for not more than thirty (30) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

And in addition to such fine and imprisonment, any Fireman or Policeman who has been convicted of the violation of the provisions of this Section of this Act shall thereby be automatically released and discharged from such Police or Fire Department and shall thereafter be ineligible to receive any pay or compensation out of any public funds provided for the support of such Police or Fire Department.

Adoption of Act by Vote or Otherwise

Sec. 27(a). Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act as amended by this House Bill No. 79, passed at the Fifty-fifth Regular Session of the Legislature, shall not apply to any city unless such city has already adopted and has in effect the provisions of this Act before the effective date of this amending Act, or unless first determined at an election at which the adoption or rejection of this Act shall be submitted. Upon receiving a petition signed by qualified voters in said city in number not less than ten per cent (10%) of the total number voting in the last preceding municipal election, the governing body of said city shall call and hold an election within sixty (60) days after said petition has been filed with governing body. If at said election a majority of the votes cast shall favor the adoption of this Act, said governing body shall put such Act into effect within thirty (30) days after the beginning of the first fiscal year of said city after said election. The question shall be submitted for the vote of the qualified electors as follows:

FOR the adoption of the Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service Act.

AGAINST the adoption of the Firemen's and Policemen's Civil Service Act.

When any election has been held in a city, at which election the adoption or rejection of Chapter 325, Acts of the Fiftieth Legislature, 1947, (Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes, Article 1269m) has been submitted, whether such election has been held prior to the effective date of this amending Act or subsequent thereto, a petition for another such election shall not be filed for at least one (1) year subsequent to the election so held; and said petition for any such election after the first election shall be signed by qualified voters in said city in number not less than twenty per cent (20%) of the total number voting in the last preceding municipal election; and any such election after the first election shall be held at the next general municipal election to be held in such city after the filing of such petition.

This Act may be adopted to apply only to a Fire Department or a Police Department. If the Act, as adopted, is to be limited to one or the other department, the ballot question shall be printed to reflect which department will be covered by this Act.

Repeal of Provisions in City by Vote

Sec. 27(b). In any city in which the provisions of this Act have been in effect for a period of one (1) year, if a petition of ten per cent (10%) of the qualified voters of such city shall be presented to the governing body of such city to call an election for the repeal of the provisions of this Act, then and in that event, the governing body of such city shall call an election of the qualified voters to determine if they desire the repeal of such provisions. Should a majority of the qualified voters so vote to repeal the provisions of this Act, then the provisions shall become null and void as to such city.

Repeal and Saving Clause

Sec. 28. This Act shall supersede all other civil service pertaining to Firemen and Policemen in the cities covered hereby. If any section, paragraph, portion, sentence, line, phrase, clause, or word of this Act should be held to be unconstitutional or invalid, then such unconstitutionality or invalidity of any other section, paragraph, portion, sentence, line, phrase, or word hereof, and it is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that each and all of the said portions as above specified that are not held to be unconstitutional or invalid, shall be and remain in full force and effect, just as though said unconstitutional or invalid portions, if any, were eliminated from the text of this Act.

Emergency Appointment of Persons Over 35

Sec. 28(a). When a city affected by the provisions of this Act is unable to recruit qualified employees in the Fire and Police Departments because of the maximum age limit provided by this Act, and the governing body finds that such condition constitutes an emergency, then the Civil Service Commission of said city shall recommend to the governing body such additional rules and regulations governing the temporary employment of persons in the Fire and Police Departments who are over the age of thirty-five (35) years. Provided, however, that persons employed under the provisions of such rules shall:

- A. Be designated as "temporary" employees.
- B. Be ineligible for pension benefits.
- C. Be ineligible for appointment or promotion when one or more permanent applicants or employees are available.
- D. Be ineligible to become full-fledged Civil Service Employees.
- E. Be terminated before any permanent Civil Service Employee is terminated pursuant to Section 21 of this Act.

Full Civil Service Status for Certain Temporary Employees

Sec. 28(b). Any person employed under the provisions of Section 28(a) of this Act prior to January 1, 1970, and who has been continually employed in the temporary status provided by Section 28(a) shall be granted full civil service status with all the rights and privileges granted by this Act in Section 24, and shall be eligible to participate in earned pension benefits. Employees affected by this section shall be allowed to buy back service credits in the pension fund that permanent employees have been participating in since his/her employment at a rate to be determined by the actuary of the affected pension fund.

Savings Clause

Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 1158, ch. 546, codified as article 4413(29aa), provides in section 8 that nothing contained in the Act should be deemed to limit the powers and duties of municipal or county governments, nor to affect the provisions of this article. See art. 4413(29aa), § 8.

Acts 1977, 65th Leg., ch. 63, which by § 1 added § 14A to this article, provided in §§ 2 and 3:

"Sec. 2. All prior laws shall be deemed to have been superseded by the provisions hereof and, to the extent that any other law is in conflict with or inconsistent with the provisions hereof, the provisions of this Act shall take precedence and be effective. This section shall apply to each and every section of this Act.

"Sec. 3. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Acts 1977, 65th Leg., ch. 86, which by § 1 amended § 26(b) of this article, provided in § 2:

"This Act shall take effect on August 1, 1977."

However, since the Act did not receive the requisite two-thirds record vote in each house, it became effective on August 29, 1977, 90 days after adjournment.

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2677, ch. 728, § 2, provided:

"The entitlement of field training officers to assignment pay is effective for the first full calendar month that begins on or after the effective date of this Act."

Art. 1269n. Political Campaigns; Coercing Policeman or Fireman

(a) No person may coerce a policeman or a fireman to participate or to refrain from participating in a political campaign.

(b) Any person who violates Subsection (a) of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction is punishable by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $2,000 or by confinement in the county jail for not more than two years, or both.

[Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 1255, ch. 457, § 2, eff. Aug. 27, 1973.]

Art. 1269o. Two Platoon Fire System and Hours of Labor in Certain Counties

Sec. 1. In all cities containing more than One Hundred Thousand (100,000) inhabitants and less than One Hundred Twenty Thousand (120,000) inhabitants, in this State, according to the last preceding Federal Census, in counties containing more than Nine Hundred (900) square miles, and in all cities of Two Hundred Sixty-five Thousand (265,000) inhabitants, or more, in this State, according to the last preceding Federal Census, in counties containing more than Fifteen Hundred (1500) square miles, which maintain an organized, paid fire department, there shall be established and maintained two platoon fire system, and no employee of such department shall be compelled to be on duty more than ten (10) consecutive hours during the day time, nor more than fourteen (14) consecutive hours during the night time; provided, that in no event shall employees of such fire departments be required to be on duty more than fourteen (14) hours in any period of twenty-four (24) consecutive hours, except as provided in Section 2 of this Act.

Sec. 2. The head or chief officer of such fire department or companies in such cities shall so arrange the working hours of the employees of such fire department or companies so that each employee shall work, as near as practicable, an equal number of hours per month; provided the two platoons may be so arranged as to work twenty-four (24) hours each on duty and twenty-four (24) hours off duty; provided, that the head or chief officer of such department, his aids or assistants may, in their discretion, in cases of emergency or great conflagrations require such employee, or employees to continue on duty during such conflagration or emergency, for a greater period than specified in Section 1 hereof.

Sec. 3. That any chief of such fire department or companies or any other officer or person who violates or causes to be violated any provision of this Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than Ten and No/100 ($10.00) Dollars, nor more than One Hundred and No/100 ($100.00) Dollars; each employee required or permitted to work in violation of the provisions hereof and each and every day of such violation shall constitute a separate offense.

Art. 1269p. Hours of Labor and Vacations of Firemen and Policemen in Certain CitiesCities Over 25,000; Hours of Labor

Sec. 1. No member of any fire department or police department in any city of more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants shall be required to be on duty more than six (6) days in any one week.

Exception for Emergencies

Sec. 2. The preceding subdivision shall not apply to cases of emergency.

Cities Over 30,000; Vacations

Sec. 3. Each member of any such departments in any city of more than thirty thousand (30,000) inhabitants shall be allowed fifteen (15) days vacation in each year with pay; provided that the provisions of this Section of this Act shall not be applied to any member of any such department in any city of more than thirty thousand (30,000) inhabitants unless such member shall have been regularly employed in such department or departments for a period of at least one (1) year.

Number of Vacation Days and Holidays

Sec. 3a. Firemen and Policemen shall have the same number of vacation days and the same number of holidays, or days in lieu thereof, that is granted to other municipal employees.

Federal Census

Sec. 4. Each preceding Federal Census shall determine the population.

Designation of Vacation Days and Holidays

Sec. 5. The city officials having supervision of the fire department and police department shall designate the days of the week upon which each such member shall not be required to be on duty, and the days upon which each such member shall be allowed to be on vacation.

Cities Over 10,000; Hours of Labor

Sec. 6. It shall be unlawful for any city having more than ten thousand (10,000) inhabitants but not more than sixty thousand (60,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, to require or permit any fireman to work more than seventy-two (72) hours during any one calendar week. It shall be unlawful for any city having more than sixty thousand (60,000) inhabitants but not more than one hundred twenty-five thousand (125,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, to require or permit any fireman to work more than an average, during a calendar year, of sixty-three (63) hours per week. It shall be unlawful for any city having more than one hundred twenty-five thousand (125,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, to require or permit any fireman to work more than an average, during a calendar year, of sixty (60) hours per week.

Provided further, that in any city having more than ten thousand (10,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, the number of hours in the work week of members of the fire department whose duties to not include fighting fires, including but not limited to mechanics, clerks, investigators, inspectors, fire marshals, fire alarm dispatchers and maintenance men, shall not exceed the number of hours in the normal work week of the majority of the employees of said city other than firemen and policemen.

Provided further, that in computing the hours in the work week of firemen subject to the provisions of the preceding paragraph, there shall be included and counted any and all hours during which such firemen are required to remain available for immediate call to duty by continuously remaining in contact with a fire department office by telephone or by radio.

Provided, however, that in any such city having more than ten thousand (10,000) inhabitants, in the event of an emergency, firemen may be required to work more than the maximum number of hours herein provided; and in such event firemen working more than the maximum hours herein provided shall be compensated for such overtime at a rate equal to one and one-half times the compensation paid to such firemen for regular hours.

Cities Over 10,000; Overtime

Sec. 6A. It shall be unlawful for any city having more than ten thousand (10,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, to require any policeman to work more hours during any calendar week than the number of hours in the normal work week of the majority of the employees of said city other than firemen and policemen.

Provided, however, that in any such city having more than ten thousand (10,000) inhabitants, in the event of an emergency, policemen may be required to work more than the number of hours in the normal work week of the majority of other city employees; and in the event policemen are ordered to work a greater number of hours than the number of hours in such normal work week of other city employees, such policemen shall be compensated for any such overtime at a rate equal to one and one-half times the compensation paid to such policemen for regular hours unless a policeman decides, with the approval of the city governing body, to accept compensatory time equal to one and one-half times the number of overtime hours.

Provided, further that in cases where a majority of policemen working for a city sign a written waiver of the prohibition against cities requiring any policeman to work more hours during any calendar week than the number of hours in the normal work week of the majority of the employees of said city other than firemen and policemen, a city may adopt a work schedule for policemen requiring any policeman to work more hours than the number of hours in the normal work week of the majority of the employees of said city other than firemen and policemen, so long as no policeman works more hours during any calendar month than the number of hours in the normal work month of the majority of the employees of said city other than firemen and policemen without overtime pay. An emergency shall be defined as any unexpected happening or event; or unforeseen situation or crisis that calls for immediate action and requires the police chief or head of the department to order policemen to work overtime.

Effectiveness of Act

Sec. 6B. The governing body of each city which comes under the provisions of this Act¹ shall put into effect the provisions hereof, without referendum or election, on or before the first day of the next fiscal year of such city after the effective date of this Act.

Uncompensated Duty

Sec. 6C. This Act does not prohibit the chief or head of a police department from assigning a policeman under his jurisdiction or supervision to work periods of uncompensated duty as prescribed by Section 20, Chapter 325, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 1269m, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). A period of uncompensated duty may not be considered or otherwise taken into account in determining compliance with this Act, and Sections 1, 3, 3a, and 6A of this Act do not apply to or include periods of uncompensated duty to which a policeman is assigned.

Working Extra Hours

Sec. 7. The provisions of this Act shall not be construed to prevent firemen and policemen from working extra hours when exchanging hours of work with each other with the consent of the department head.

Penalty

Sec. 8. The city official having charge of the fire department or police department in any such city who violates any provision of this Act shall be fined not less than Ten ($10.00) Dollars nor more than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars, and each day on which said city official shall cause or permit any Section of this Act to be violated shall constitute and be a separate offense.

Cumulative Effect of Act

Sec. 9. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as amending, altering or changing in any manner whatsoever the provisions of Article 1583, Penal Code of Texas, as amended,² Acts 1935, 44th Legislature, page 377, Chapter 139, Section 1; Acts 1937, 45th Legislature, page 358, Chapter 173, Section 1; Acts 1943, 48th Legislature, page 309, Chapter 201, Section 1. This Act is cumulative and in addition to said laws set out in this Section.

Art. 1269q. Compensation of Employees of Fire, Police, and Sheriff's Departments in Certain Counties

Sec. 1. (a) In any city of this State of not less than one hundred seventy-five thousand (175,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any succeeding Federal Census, each member of the Fire Department and of the Police Department shall receive and be paid the sum of not less than Two Hundred Twenty ($220.00) Dollars per month, and the additional sum of Three Dollars and Fifty Cents ($3.50) per month commencing January 1, 1974, which shall be increased to Four ($4.00) Dollars per month commencing January 1, 1975, for each year of service in such Police or Fire Department up to and including twenty-five (25) years of service in such department, as a minimum wage for the services so rendered. This longevity or service pay shall be paid in addition to all other moneys paid for services rendered in said department.

(b) In all cities in this State with inhabitants thereof between ten thousand (10,000) and one hundred seventy-five thousand (175,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, each member of the Fire Department and of the Police Department shall receive and be paid the following sums per month according to the population of each such city of ten thousand (10,000) or more and up to forty thousand and one (40,001), such salary shall be One Hundred Sixty-five ($165.00) Dollars per month minimum; in all such cities with inhabitants of forty thousand and one (40,001) to one hundred thousand and one (100,001) inhabitants, such minimum salaries shall be One Hundred Ninety-five ($195.00) Dollars per month; and in all such cities from one hundred thousand and one (100,001) to one hundred seventy-five thousand (175,000) inhabitants, such minimum salaries shall be Two Hundred Ten ($210.00) Dollars per month; and in all such cities the additional sum of Three Dollars and Fifty Cents ($3.50) per month commencing January 1, 1974, which shall be increased to Four ($4.00) Dollars per month commencing January 1, 1975, for each year of service in such Fire or Police Department up to and including twenty-five (25) years of service in such department, as a minimum wage for the services so rendered. This longevity or service pay shall be paid in addition to all other moneys paid for services rendered in said departments.

(c) In all cities in this State having a population in excess of ten thousand (10,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any succeeding Federal Census, the minimum salary of each member of the Fire Department, the Police Department, or both may be increased to not less than the minimum amount stated in a petition signed by not less than twenty-five (25%) per cent of the qualified voters who voted in the last preceding municipal election. The petition shall designate five (5) qualified voters as a committee of petitioners who are authorized to negotiate with the governing body of the city as prescribed by Subsection (d) of this section. The petition shall state the amount of the proposed minimum salary for each rank, pay grade, or classification and the effective date of the proposed salary increase. Except as prescribed by Subsection (d) of this section when a petition is filed with the governing body of a city said governing body shall call an election on the first uniform election date authorized by Section 9b, Texas Election Code (Article 2.01b, Vernon's Texas Election Code), that occurs at least sixty-five (65) days after the petition is filed to determine whether said proposed minimum salary shall be adopted. If at said election a majority of the votes cast shall favor the adoption of said proposed minimum salary, said governing body shall put such salary into effect on or before the date specified in the petition. No other issue shall be joined on the same ballot with the proposition submitted at the election as herein provided. The question shall be submitted for the vote of the qualified electors and the ballot shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "Adoption of the proposed minimum salaries of _____ applicable to _____." The requested salary for each rank, pay grade, or classification, the affected department or departments, and the effective date of the proposed salary increase set forth in the petition mentioned above shall be inserted in lieu of the blank spaces in the proposition.

(d) Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the city concerned from adopting under the provisions of this Act without an election the minimum salary set forth in the petition filed with the governing body of said city. After the petition prescribed by Subsection (c) of this section is filed, the governing body of the city may confer with the committee of petitioners designated in the petition and offer an alternate salary proposal. If the committee accepts the alternate salary proposal, the governing body is not required to call an election.

(e) When an election has been held as prescribed by Subsection (c) of this section or the committee has accepted an alternate salary proposal as prescribed by Subsection (d) of this section, a petition for another election in the city may not be filed for at least one year after the date on which the first election was held or the alternate salary proposal was accepted.

Sec. 2. (a) In any county in this state having a population of more than seventy-five thousand (75,000) according to the most recent Federal Census, the minimum salary of each member of the Sheriff's Department may be increased to not less than the minimum amount stated in a petition signed by not less than twenty-five (25%) per cent of the qualified voters who voted in the last preceding countywide election for county officers. The petition shall designate five (5) qualified voters as a committee of petitioners who are authorized to negotiate with the governing body of the county as prescribed by Subsection (c) of this section. The petition shall state the amount of the proposed minimum salary for each rank, pay grade, or classification.

(b) Except as prescribed by Subsection (c) of this section, when a petition is filed with the governing body of a county, the governing body shall call an election on the first uniform election date authorized by Section 9b, Texas Election Code (Article 2.01b, Vernon's Texas Election Code), that occurs at least sixty-five (65) days after the petition is filed to determine whether the proposed minimum salary shall be adopted. If at the election a majority of the votes cast favor the adoption of the proposed minimum salary, the salary shall take effect on or before the date specified in the petition. No other issue may be joined on the same ballot. The ballot shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "Adoption of the proposed minimum salaries of _____ for members of the Sheriff's Department." The requested salary for each rank, pay grade, or classification set forth in the petition mentioned above shall be inserted in place of the blank space in the proposition.

(c) A county may adopt the minimum salary set forth in the petition filed with the governing body without calling an election. After the petition prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section is filed, the governing body of the county may confer with the committee of petitioners designated in the petition and offer an alternate salary proposal. If the committee accepts the alternate salary proposal, the governing body is not required to call an election.

(d) When an election has been held as prescribed by Subsection (b) of this section or the committee has accepted an alternate salary proposal as prescribed by Subsection (c) of this section, a petition for another election in the county may not be filed for at least one year after the date on which the first election was held or the alternate salary proposal was accepted.

Sec. 3. Any city or county official, or officials, who have charge of the Fire Department, Police Department, or Sheriff's Department, or who are responsible for the fixing of the wages herein provided in any such city or county, who violate any provisions of this Act, shall be fined not less than Ten ($10.00) Dollars nor more than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars; and each day on which such city or county official, or officials, shall cause or permit any violation of this Act shall constitute and be a separate offense.

Sec. 4. All municipal and county governments affected by this Act, shall, within thirty (30) days following enactment, set up classifications in the Sheriff's, Police, and Fire Departments providing for duties under such classifications and specifying salary for each classification; and thereafter any member of any Sheriff's, Fire, or Police Department who is called upon to perform the duties under any such classification shall be paid the salary provided therefor for such period as he performs such duties.

Art. 1269r. Compensation of Firemen and Policemen for Court Appearances

Sec. 1. (a) A municipality shall pay firemen and policemen for appearances, made on their time off, as witnesses in criminal suits or in suits in which the municipality or other political subdivision or governmental agency is a party in interest.

(b) Payment for court appearances made on time off shall be at the fireman's or policeman's regular rate of pay and shall be limited to required appearances made by the fireman or policeman in his capacity as a fireman or policeman.

Sec. 2. Payment made under the provisions of this Act may be taxed as court costs in civil suits in which a fireman or policeman appears as a witness.

Sec. 3. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to reduce or prohibit compensation paid in excess of the regular rate of pay.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 696, ch. 238, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

Art. 1269s. Defense of Civil Suits Against Peace Officers

Sec. 1. An incorporated city or town or special purpose district shall provide a peace officer employed by it with legal counsel without cost to the peace officer, on the officer's request, to defend the officer against a suit for damages by a party other than a governmental entity if the claim involves an official act of the peace officer in the scope of the officer's authority. The city, town, or special purpose district may provide counsel already employed by it or may employ and pay private counsel to defend the officer against the claim. In this Act, "peace officer" has the meaning given in Article 2.12, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended.

Sec. 2. If the municipality or district fails to provide counsel as required by Section 1 of this Act, the officer may recover from it the reasonable attorney's fees incurred in defending the suit if the trier of fact finds that the fees were incurred in defending a suit covered by Section 1 of this Act and determines that the officer is without fault or finds that the officer acted with a reasonable good faith belief that his actions were proper.

Art. 1269t. Disease Benefit

(a) In this article, "employee" means a peace officer, fire fighter, or emergency medical services employee of this state or a political subdivision of this state.

(b) An employee who is exposed to a contagious disease is entitled to reimbursement from the employing governmental entity for reasonable medical expenses incurred in treatment for the prevention of the disease if:

(1) the disease is not an "ordinary disease of life" as that term is used by the Industrial Accident Board;

(2) the exposure to the disease occurs during the course of the employment; and

(3) the employee requires preventative medical treatment because of exposure to the disease.

(c) An employee who is exposed to such a disease is entitled to be treated for the prevention of that disease by the physician of the employee's choice.

[Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 5627, ch. 1064, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Section 2 of the 1983 Act provides:

"This Act takes effect September 1, 1983, and applies only to reimbursement for treatment that occurs on or after that date."

TITLE 29

COMMISSIONER OF DEEDS

Art.

1270. Appointment.

1271. Oath.

1272. Seal.

1273. Authority.

Art. 1270. Appointment

The Governor is authorized to biennially appoint and commission one or more persons in each or any of the other states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and in each or any of the territories of the United States, and in each or any foreign country, upon the recommendation of the executive authority of said state, District of Columbia or territory or foreign country to serve as commissioner of deeds. Such commissioner shall hold office for two years.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1271. Oath

Such commissioner, before he shall proceed to perform any duty under and by virtue of this title, shall take and subscribe an oath or affirmation, before the clerk of any court of record in the city, county or country in which such commissioner may reside, well and faithfully to execute and perform all the duties of such commissioner under the laws of this State; which oath or affirmation, certified to by the clerk under his hand and seal of office, shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State in this State.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1272. Seal

Every such commissioner shall provide for himself a seal with a star of five points, in the center, and the words, "Commissioner of the State of Texas," engraved thereon, which seal shall be used to certify all the official acts of such commissioner; and without the impress of said seal upon any instrument, or to certify any act of such commissioner, said act shall have no validity in this State.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 1273. Authority

The commissioner of deeds shall have the same authority as to taking acknowledgments and proofs of written instruments, administering oaths, and taking depositions to be used or recorded in this State, as is conferred by law upon a notary public of this State.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

TITLE 29ACOMMISSIONERS ON UNIFORM LAWS*Art.

1273a. Repealed.

1273b. Commission on Uniform State Laws.

Art. 1273a. Repealed by Acts 1951, 52nd Leg., p. 763, ch. 415, § 6

Art. 1273b. Commission on Uniform State LawsAppointment of Commission

Sec. 1. (a) A Commission is hereby created to be known as the Commission on Uniform State Laws which shall consist of six recognized members of the bar who shall be appointed by the Governor for staggered terms of six years, with the terms of two members expiring on September 30 of each even-numbered year; and in addition thereto, any residents of this state who because of long service in the cause of the uniformity of state legislation shall have been elected life members of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws.

(b) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), by virtue of his activities for compensation in or on behalf of a profession related to the operation of the Commission may not serve as a member of the Commission or act as the general counsel to the Commission.

(c) Appointments to the Commission shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees.

(d) At least one of the Commissioners, at the time of his most recent appointment, must be a state judge, and at least one of the Commissioners, at the time of his most recent appointment, must be a legal educator.

(e) As the terms of members of the Commission expire or as their offices are vacated, the Governor first shall appoint to the Commission a state judge or legal educator if that appointment is required to comply with Subsection (d) of this section.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 1a. The Commission on Uniform State Laws is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1995.

Appointments to Fill Vacancies

Sec. 2. Upon the death, resignation, failure or refusal to serve, or removal of any appointed Commissioner, his office becomes vacant; and the Governor shall make an appointment to fill the vacancy, such appointment to be for the unexpired term of the former appointee.

Removal

Sec. 2a. (a) It is a ground for removal from the Commission if a member:

(1) does not have at the time of appointment the qualifications required by Subsections (a) and (d) of Section 1 of this Act for appointment to the Commission;

(2) does not maintain during the service on the Commission the qualifications required by Subsection (a) of Section 1 of this Act for appointment to the Commission;

(3) violates a prohibition established by Subsection (b) of Section 1 of this Act; or

(4) becomes ineligible to participate in National Conference activities.

(b) The validity of an action of the Commission is not affected by the fact that it was taken when a ground for removal of a member of the Commission existed.

Meeting and Organization

Sec. 3. (a) The Commissioners shall meet at least once in two years and shall organize by the election of one of their number as Chairman and another as Secretary, who shall hold their respective offices for a term of two years and until their successors are elected.

(b) The Commission is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Duties of Commissioners

Sec. 4. Each Commissioner shall attend the meeting of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, and both in and out of such National Conference shall do all in his power to promote uniformity in state laws, upon all subjects where uniformity may be deemed desirable and practicable; said Commission shall submit a biennial report to the Legislature before January 1 of each odd-numbered year and may supplement the report from time to time as said Commission may deem proper. The biennial report must contain an account of the Commission's transactions, and its advice and recommendations for legislation. It shall also be the duty of said Commission to bring about as far as practicable the uniform judicial interpretation of all uniform laws.

Expenses

Sec. 5. A Commissioner may not receive compensation for service as a Commissioner but is entitled to be reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of official duties.

Audit

Sec. 6. The State Auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the Commission during each fiscal year.

Administrative Functions

Sec. 7. The Texas Legislative Council shall provide accounting, clerical, and other support services necessary for the Commission to carry out its duties.

[Acts 1951, 52nd Leg., p. 763, ch. 415. Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 341, ch. 168, § 1, eff. May 20, 1977; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1843, ch. 735, § 2.078, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2871, ch. 487, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Section 2 of Acts 1977, 65th Leg., ch. 168, amending § 1 of this article, provided:

"In making the initial appointments following the effective date of this Act, the governor shall designate two members for terms expiring September 30, 1978, two for terms expiring September 30, 1980, and two for terms expiring September 30, 1982."

Section 2 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"A person holding office as a member of the Commission on Uniform State Laws on the effective date of this Act continues to hold the office for the term for which the member was originally appointed."
