[1820-24] Of intervenor.—Any party may intervene in vacation, subject to be stricken out by the court for sufficient cause at the next term on the motion of the opposite party; and such intervenor shall, within five days from the filing of same, notify the opposite party or his attorney of the filing of such pleadings. When court is in session such pleadings shall be filed under the rules governing amendments to pleadings. Art. 2001. [1824-25-26] Amendments.—Parties may amend their pleadings, file suggestions of death and make representatives parties, make new parties, and file such other pleas as they may desire:

1. In vacation, by filing such pleas with the clerk of the court in which the suit is pending.

2. When court is in session, under leave of the court upon such terms as the court may prescribe before the parties announce ready for trial, and at such time as not to operate as a surprise to the opposite party.

3. When because of the insufficiency of the pleadings of the successful party, the judgment has been arrested or a new trial granted.

Art. 2002. Bill of discovery.—All trial courts shall entertain suits in the nature of bills of discovery, and grant relief therein in accordance with the usages of courts of equity. Such remedy shall be cumulative of all other remedies. [Acts 1923, p. 31.]

This article, prior to its incorporation into the Revised Statutes of 1925, contained after the words "all trial courts" the additional words "in this state having jurisdiction of the subject-matter of litigation."

2. PLEADINGS OF THE PLAINTIFF

Art. 2003. [1827] [1191] [1195] The petition.—The petition shall state the names of the parties and their residences, if known, with a concise statement of the cause of action, and such other allegations pertinent to the cause, as the plaintiff may deem necessary to sustain his suit, without any distinction between suits at law and in equity, and shall also state the nature of the relief sought. [Acts 1846, p. 363; P. D. 1427; Acts 1913, p. 256; Acts 1915, p. 155; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 2005. [1829] [1193] [1197] Special defenses.—The plaintiff need not deny any special matter of defense pleaded by the defendant, but the same shall be regarded as denied unless expressly admitted. [Id.]

3. PLEADINGS OF THE DEFENDANT

[1902] [1262] [1262] Answer may include several matters; etc.—The defendant in his answer may plead as many several matters, whether of law or fact, as he shall think necessary for his defense, and which may be pertinent to the cause; provided, that he shall file them all at the same time and in due order of pleading. A general denial of matters pleaded by the adverse party which are not required to be sworn to, shall be sufficient to put the same in issue. [Acts 1846, p. 3631; P. D. 1441; Acts 1913, p. 256; Acts 1915, p. 155; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

[1903] Plea of privilege.—A plea of privilege to be sued in the county of one's residence shall be sufficient if it be in writing and sworn to, and shall state that the party claiming such privilege was not, at the institution of such suit, nor at the time of the service of process thereon, nor at the time of filing such plea, a resident of the county in which such suit was instituted and shall state the county of his residence at the time of such plea, and that "no exception to exclusive venue in the county of one's residence provided by law exists in said cause"; and such plea of privilege when filed shall be prima facie proof of the defendant's right to change of venue. If the plaintiff desires to controvert the plea of privilege, he shall within five days after appearance day file a controverting plea under oath, setting out specifically the fact or facts relied upon to confer venue of such cause on the court where the cause is pending. [Acts 1907, p. 248; Acts 1917, p. 388.]

Art. 2008. [1903] Hearing on plea.—Upon the filing of such controverting plea, the judge or justice of the peace shall note on same a time for a hearing on the plea of privilege. Such hearing, unless the parties agree upon the date, shall not be had until a copy of such controverting plea, including a copy of such notation thereon, shall have been served on each defendant, or his attorney, for at least ten days exclusive of the day of service and the date of hearing, after which the court shall promptly hear such plea of privilege and enter judgment thereon. Either party may appeal from the judgment sustaining or overruling the plea of privilege, and if the judgment is one sustaining the plea of privilege and an appeal is taken, such appeal shall suspend the transfer of the venue and a trial of the cause pending the final determination of such appeal. [Id.]

Art. 2009. [1904-5] Answer filed.—Where citation has been personally served at least ten days before the first day of the term to which it is returnable, exclusive of the day of service and return, the answer of the defendant shall be filed on or before the second day of the return term, and before the call of the appearance docket on said second day. Where service of citation has been made by publication, the answer of the defendant shall be filed on or before the appearance day of the term to which the citation is made returnable. Banking commissioner and Board not required to give security.—That hereafter neither the Banking Commissioner of Texas nor the State Banking Board shall be required to give any cost bonds in trial courts in cases to which they may be a party in their official capacities, nor shall they be required to give any cost bond on appeal or supersedeas bond on appeal, or writ of error, in any civil case which they may be prosecuting, or defending in their official capacities. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 203, ch. 135, § 1.]

[3918 to 3922] Execution for costs.—When costs have been adjudged against a party and are not paid, the clerk or justice of the court in which the suit was determined may issue execution, accompanied by an itemized bill of costs, against such party to be levied and collected as in other cases; and said officer, on demand of any party to whom any such costs are due, shall issue execution for costs at once. This article shall not apply to executors, administrators or guardians in cases where costs are adjudged against the estate of a deceased person or of a ward. No execution shall issue in any case for costs until after judgment rendered therefor by the court. [Acts 1876, p. 285; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1120; Acts 1879, p. 93; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1393.]

1. Citation.—Citations issued for personal service in the county in which the suit is pending shall command the officer to summon the defendant to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next following the expiration of the twenty-five days from the date of citation and shall be executed and returned by the officer twenty days after the date of issuance.

2. Execution and return.—Citations or notices issued for personal service on a defendant to appear at or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next after the expiration of fifty-five days from the date the citation or notice is issued, shall be executed or served on or before thirty-five days from the date of issue and shall be made returnable thirty-five days after such date.

3. Out-county citation.—Citation for defendants alleged to reside or be outside of the county in which the suit is pending, but within this State, shall be directed to the Sheriff or any constable of the county where the defendant is alleged to reside or be and shall command him to summon the defendant to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next following the expiration of thirty days from the date the citation is issued and shall be executed and returned to the officer within twenty days after the date of issue.

4. Time for appearance.—Citations or notices issued for personal service on a defendant alleged to reside or be outside of the State but within the United States, shall notify the defendant to appear at or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next after the expiration of fifty-five days from the date the citation or notice is issued and shall be executed or served on or before thirty-five days from the date of issue and shall be made returnable thirty-five days after date of issue.

5. Citation shall specify day.—In each of said cases the citation or notice shall specify the day of the week, the day of the month and the time of day the defendant is required to appear and answer, and if any defendant so served does not appear and answer at or before the time specified in such citation or notice, judgment by default may be rendered against such defendant.

6. Citation by publication.—If citation is to be served by publication it shall be returnable forty-two days after the date of issue and shall command the defendant to appear at or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next following the expiration of forty-two days after the citation was issued, and shall specify the day of the week, the day of the month and the time of day the defendant is required to appear and answer, and shall be served by being published in the manner and for the length of time required by law for citations by publication in the same kind of cases or matters in other district courts at the time the publication is made and the first publication shall be at least twenty-eight days before the return day of the citation.

7. Service in foreign country.—If citation is issued to be served personally on any defendant or party in any foreign country it shall be made returnable at such time as the plaintiff or person procuring its issuance shall direct, which shall not be less than thirty days nor more than one hundred and twenty days after the date of issue and shall notify and command the defendant or person to be served to appear and answer at or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next following the expiration of twenty days after the return day of the citation or notice and shall specify the day of the week, the day of the month and the time of day the defendant is required to appear and answer, and shall be served on or before the return day, and if any defendant so served does not appear and answer at or before the time specified in the citation or notice, judgment by default may be rendered against such defendant.

8. Where citation or service is quashed.—If the citation or service thereof is quashed on motion of the defendant, such defendant shall be deemed to have entered his appearance at ten o'clock a. m. on the Monday next after the expiration of twenty days after the day on which the citation or service is quashed, and such defendant shall be deemed to have been duly served so as to require him to appear and answer at that time, and if he fails to do so, judgment by default may be rendered against him.

9. Writs of attachment.—Writs of attachment shall be executed immediately after their issuance. Every such writ shall be made returnable, on or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next after the expiration of fifteen days from the issuance of the writ, and the officer executing the writ shall return the same at or before that time with his action indorsed thereon or attached thereto, signed by him officially, showing how he has executed the writ.

10. Writs of garnishment.—Writs of garnishment shall be executed immediately after their issuance and every such writ shall command the officer to summon the garnishee to appear at or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next following the expiration of twenty-five days from the date the writ was issued and the writ shall specify when and where the garnishee is required to answer and the officer receiving the writ of garnishment shall within fifteen days after the issuance of the writ make his return showing how he has executed the writ.

11. Failure of garnishee to answer.—If the garnishee fails to make answer to the writ on or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next following the expiration of twenty-five days from the date of the writ, he shall be in default and it shall be lawful for the court, at any time after judgment shall have been rendered against the defendant, to render judgment by default against such garnishee for the full amount of such judgment against the defendant, with all accruing interest and costs. The plaintiff in garnishment shall have fifteen days after the garnishee's answer is filed within which to controvert the same if he so desires.

12. Other writs and process.—All other writs and process not expressly otherwise provided for in this article and which under the general law are now returnable to the first day of the next term of court after the issuance thereof, and which require the defendant or person served to appear on the first day of the next succeeding term, shall be returnable fifteen days after the date thereof and shall be executed and returned at or before the expiration of fifteen days from the date thereof and shall require the defendant or party served to appear and answer at or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next after the expiration of twenty-five days after such writ or process was issued, and all such writs or process shall so specify.

13. Appealed cases.—In cases appealed to said district courts from inferior courts, the appeal, including transcript, shall be filed in the district court within thirty days after the rendition of the judgment or order appealed from, and the appellee shall enter his appearance on the docket or answer to said appeal on or before ten o'clock a. m. of the Monday next after the expiration of twenty days from the date the appeal is filed in the district court.

14. Pleas of privilege.—Pleas of privilege shall be filed at or before the time the defendant is required to answer and a contest thereof if any, shall be filed within twenty days after the appearance day, and if a contest is filed, the same shall, when filed, be set for hearing by the court within not exceeding thirty days after being filed and shall be determined by the court within not exceeding ten days after the date for which the same is set unless postponed or continued without prejudice, by order or leave of the court, by agreement of the parties, and shall not be postponed longer than sixty days after being filed unless by order of the court entered by agreement of the parties.

15. Amended pleadings.—Whenever any party files a pleading of any character, he shall at the same time either deliver to the adverse party, or deposit with the clerk for the adverse party, a copy of such pleading, which copy shall not be filed by the clerk. All filed pleadings shall remain at all times in the clerk's office or in the court or in custody of the clerk, except that the court may by order entered on the minutes allow a filed pleading to be withdrawn for a limited time whenever necessary on leaving a certified copy on file. The party withdrawing such pleading shall pay the costs of such order and certified copy.

16. Where more than one adverse party.—If there is more than one adverse party and the adverse parties are represented by different attorneys, one copy of each pleading shall on request be furnished to each attorney representing the adverse parties, but a firm or attorneys associated in the case shall count as one. Not more than four copies of any pleading shall be required to be furnished to adverse parties and they shall be delivered to the first four applicants entitled thereto. After a copy of a pleading is furnished to an attorney or deposited with the clerk for him, he cannot require another copy of the same pleading to be furnished to him.

17. Failure to furnish copy.—If any party fails to furnish the adverse party with a copy of any pleading in accordance with this provision, he may be required to do so by order of the court on motion made and given, and if he fails to comply with any such order within five days after its date, he may be punished as for contempt of court, and a certified copy may be ordered to be furnished by the clerk and the costs thereof charged to the party who had failed to comply with the order to furnish the same.

18. Setting cases for trial, etc.—On the first Monday in each calendar month the judge of each court may, and as far as practicable shall, set for trial during the calendar month next after the month during which the setting is made, all contested cases which are requested to be set, and by agreement of the parties, or on motion of either party, or on the courts [court's] own motion with notice to the parties, the court may set any case for trial at any time so as to allow the parties reasonable time for preparation. Non-contested cases may be tried or disposed of at any time whether set or not, and may be set at any time for any other time.

19. Postponement or continuance.—Cases may be postponed or continued by agreement with the approval of the court, or upon the court's own motion or for cause. When a case is called for trial and only one party is ready, the court may for good cause either continue the case for the term or postpone and reset it for a later day in the same or succeeding term.

20. Cases may be reset.—A case that is set and reached for trial may be postponed for a later day in the term or continued and reset for a day certain in the succeeding term on the same grounds as an application for continuance would be granted in other district courts. After any case has been set and reached in its due order and called for trial two or more times and not tried, the court may dismiss the same unless the parties agree to a postponement or continuance but the court shall respect written agreements of counsel for postponement and continuance if filed in the case when or before it is called for trial unless to do so will unreasonably delay or interfere with other business of the court.

21. Exchange and transfer.—The judges of such courts may, in their discretion, exchange benches or districts from time to time, and may transfer cases and other proceedings from one court to another, and any of them may in his own court room try and determine any case or proceeding pending in another court without having the case transferred, or may sit in any other of said courts and there hear and determine any case there pending, and every judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending and at the time the judgment or order is rendered, and two or more judges may try different cases in the same court at the same time, and each may occupy his own court room or the room of any other court. The judge of any such court may issue restraining orders and injunctions returnable to any other judge or court, and any judge may transfer any case or proceeding pending in his court to any other of said courts, and the judge of any court to which a case or proceeding is transferred shall receive and try the same, and in turn shall have power in his discretion to transfer any such case to any other of said courts and any other judge may in his court room try any case pending in any other of such courts.

22. Cases transferred to judges not occupied.—When the judge of any such court shall become disengaged, he shall notify the presiding judge, and the presiding judge shall transfer to the court of the disengaged judge the next case which is ready for trial in any of said courts. Any judge not engaged in his own court may try any case in any other court.

23. Judge disqualified.—If a judge of any court is disqualified in any case pending in his court, and his disqualification is certified to the Governor, the Governor may require the judge of any other of such courts to exchange benches or districts with the disqualified judge, and may, at any time, require any of such judges to exchange districts with each other or with any other district judge. In case of the absence, sickness or disqualification of any judge, any other of said judges may hold court for him or may transfer from his court to any other of said courts any case or proceeding then pending in the court of said absent, sick or disqualified judge.

24. Judge may hear only part of case.—Any judge may hear any part of any case or proceeding pending in any of said courts and determine the same, or may hear and determine any question in any case, and any other judge may complete the hearing and render judgment in the case.

25. Any judge may hear dilatory pleas, etc.—Any judge may hear and determine demurrers, motions, petitions for injunction, applications for appointment of receivers, interventions, pleas of privilege, pleas in abatement, all dilatory pleas, motions for new trial and all preliminary matters, questions and proceedings and may enter judgment or order thereon in the court in which the case is pending without having the case transferred to the court of the judge acting, and the judge in whose court the case is pending may thereafter proceed to hear, complete and determine the case or other matter, or any part thereof, and render final judgment therein. Any judgment rendered or action taken by any judge in any of said courts in the county, shall be valid and binding.

26. Selection of presiding judge.—The judges of such courts shall twice a year, in January and July select one of their number as presiding judge and may at any time cancel and annul such selection and select any other judge as presiding judge. Each such proceeding shall be by majority vote. Each judge shall enter on his minutes an order reciting the selection of the presiding judge. The presiding judge may assign any case in his court or any of such courts in the county to any other judge or court, or may assign any judge to try any case in any of the courts, and the judge in whose court an assigned case is pending shall transfer the case to the court to which it is assigned, and the judge of the court to which it is assigned shall receive and try the case, and such judge shall hold any other court or try any case which he is requested by the presiding judge to try.

27. Judges may make rules.—The judges may by majority vote make rules for the calling of the docket, for the setting and postponement of cases, for the hearing and acting upon motions, questions of law, applications for injunctions and receivers, and for classifying and distributing cases and for having one calendar for all set cases in all courts and for prescribing when the different courts shall have jury trials and when they shall have non-jury trials, and such other rules as they deem advisable to facilitate the dispatch of business. All rules made by said judges shall be adopted by order of each judge and spread upon the minutes of his court, but such rules shall not be inconsistent with any rule adopted or prescribed by the Supreme Court, nor in conflict with any law of this State.

28. Motion for new trial.—A motion for new trial filed during one term of court may be heard and acted on at the next term of court. If a case or other matter is on trial or in process of hearing when the term of court expires, such trial, hearing or other matter may be proceeded with at the next term of the court. No motion for new trial or other motion or plea shall be considered as waived or over-ruled, because not acted on at the term of court at which it was filed, but may be acted on at the succeeding term or at any time which the judge may fix or to which it may have been postponed or continued by agreement of the parties with leave of the court. All motions and amended motions for new trials shall be presented within thirty days after the original motion or amended motion is filed and shall be determined within not exceeding forty-five days after the original or amended motion is filed, unless by written agreement of the parties filed in the case, the decision of the motion is postponed to a later date.

29. Time to file motion for new trial.—A motion for new trial where required shall be filed within ten days after the judgment is rendered or other order complained of is entered, and may be amended by leave of the court at any time before it is acted on within twenty days after it is filed.

30. Judgment final, when.—Judgments of such civil district courts shall become as final after the expiration of 30 days after the date of judgment or after a motion for a new trial is over-ruled as if the term of court had expired. After the expiration of thirty days from the date the judgment is rendered or motion for new trial is over-ruled, the judgment cannot be set aside except by bill of review for sufficient cause, filed within the time allowed by law for the filing of bills of review in other district courts.

31. Appeal bonds filed, when.—In appeals from such civil district courts the appeal bond shall be filed within thirty days after the judgment or order appealed from is rendered, if no motion for new trial is filed, and if a motion for new trial is filed, the appeal bond shall be filed within thirty days after the motion for new trial is overruled. In such appeals the statement of facts and bills of exception shall be filed within ninety days after the judgment is rendered if there is no motion for new trial, but if there is a motion for new trial then ninety days after motion for new trial is over-ruled. When a statement of facts or bills of exception is presented to the adverse party or his attorney it shall be returned within five days signed by the attorney of such adverse party if found correct, and if found incorrect shall be returned within that time with a written statement of the objections thereto. [Acts 1923, p. 215.]

Art. 2093. Rules in other courts apply.—All inconsistent laws and rules of practice and procedure shall be inoperative in the civil district courts of the class included within this chapter, but shall not be affected by this law in so far as they relate to other district courts. All laws and rules of practice and procedure provided for other district courts shall continue in effect and operate and be observed in the civil district courts of the class covered by this law. In all trials and proceedings not provided for herein, the general rules of practice and procedure provided for in other district courts shall be the rules of practice and procedure in the civil district courts of the class included herein. 1. JURIES IN CERTAIN COUNTIES

Article 2094. [5151] Selecting names for wheel.—Between the first and fifteenth days of August of each year, in all counties having therein a city containing a population aggregating twenty thousand or more people, as shown by the preceding Federal census, the tax collector or one of his deputies, together with the tax assessor or one of his deputies, together with the sheriff or one of his deputies, and the county clerk or one of his deputies, and the district clerk or one of his deputies, shall meet at the court house of their county and select from the list of qualified jurors of such county as shown by the tax lists in the tax assessor's office for the current year, the jurors for service in the district and county courts of such county for the ensuing year in the manner hereinafter provided. [Acts 1907, p. 269; Acts 1911, p. 150.]

Art. 2095. [5152-3] Cards put in wheel.—Said officers shall write the names of all men who are known to be qualified jurors under the law, residing in their respective counties, on separate cards of uniform size and color, writing also on said cards, whenever possible, the post-office address of each juror so selected. The cards containing said names shall be deposited in a circular hollow wheel, to be provided for such purpose by the commissioners court of the county. Said wheel shall be made of iron or steel and shall be so constructed as to freely revolve on its axle; and shall be kept locked at all times, except when in use as hereinafter provided, by the use of two separate locks, so arranged that the key to one will not open the other lock; and said wheel, and the clasps thereto attached into which the locks shall be fitted, shall be so arranged that said wheel cannot be opened unless both of said locks are unlocked at the time the wheel is opened. The keys to such locks shall be kept, one by the sheriff and the other by the district clerk. The sheriff and the clerk shall not open such wheel, nor permit the same to be opened by any person, except at the time and in the manner and by the persons herein specified; but said sheriff and clerk shall keep such wheel, when not in use, in a safe and secure place, where the same cannot be tampered with. [Acts 1907, p. 269.]

Art. 2096. [5154] Cards drawn from wheel.—Not less than ten days prior to the first day of a term of court, the district clerk or one of his deputies, and the sheriff, or one of his deputies, in the presence and under the direction of the district judge, if the jurors are to be drawn for the district court, or the clerk of the county court, or one of his deputies, and the sheriff, or one of his deputies, in the presence and under the direction of the county judge, if the jurors are to be drawn for the county court, shall draw from the wheel containing the names of jurors, after the same has been well turned so that the cards therein are thoroughly mixed, one by one the names of thirty-six jurors, or a greater or less number where such judge has so directed, for each week of the term of the district or county courts for which a jury may be required, and shall record such names as they are drawn upon as many separate sheets of paper as there are weeks for such term or terms for which jurors will be required. At such drawing, no person other than those above named shall be permitted to be present. The officers attending such drawing shall not divulge the name of any person that may be drawn as a juror to any person. [Id.]

Art. 2097. [5155] List certified.—The several lists of names so drawn, shall be certified under the hand of the clerk or the deputy doing the drawing, and the district or county judge in whose presence said names were drawn from the wheel, to be the list drawn by said clerk for the said several weeks, and shall be sealed up in separate envelopes indorsed, "List of petit jurors for the _____ week of the _____ term of the _____ court of _____ county," (filling in the blanks properly) and the clerk doing the drawing shall write his name across the seals of the envelopes and shall then immediately deliver the same to the judge in whose presence such names were drawn, or to his successor in office in case such judge dies before such delivery can be made to him. [Id.]

Art. 2098. [5156] List delivered to clerk.—The judge shall deliver such envelopes to the clerk, or one of his deputies, and shall in his discretion instruct the clerk to indorse on any of such envelopes that the jury for that week shall be summoned for some other day than Monday of said week, and the judge shall, at the same time, administer to the clerk and to each of his deputies an oath in substance as follows: "You and each of you do solemnly swear that you will not open the jury lists now delivered to you, nor permit them to be opened, until the time prescribed by law, nor communicate to any one the name or names of the men appearing on any of the jury lists, that you will not, directly or indirectly, converse or communicate with any one selected as juror concerning any case pending for trial in this court at its next term. So help you God." [Id.]

Art. 2099. [5157] Cards to be used again.—When the names are drawn for jury service, the cards containing such names shall be sealed in separate envelopes, indorsed, "Cards containing the names of jurors for the _____ week of the _____ term of the _____ court of _____ county," (filling in the blanks properly); and said envelopes shall be retained securely by the clerk, unopened, until after the jury has been impaneled for such week; and, after such jurors so impaneled have served four or more days, the envelopes containing the cards bearing the names of the jurors for that week shall then be opened by the clerk, or his deputy, and those cards bearing the names of men who have not been impaneled and who have not served as many as four days, shall be immediately returned to the wheel by the clerk, or his deputy; and the cards bearing the names of the men serving as many as four days shall be put in a box provided for that purpose for the use of the officers who shall next select the jurors for the wheel. [Id.]

Art. 2100. [5158] Loss of wheel.—If the wheel containing the names of jurors be lost or destroyed, with the contents thereof, or if all the cards in said wheel be drawn out, such wheel shall immediately be refurnished, and cards bearing the names of jurors shall be placed therein immediately in accordance with this law, and the judge desiring jurors for a regular or special term of his court may have the same selected in accordance with the general jury laws if such new wheel cannot be furnished in time to comply with the provisions of the jury wheel law. [Id.]

Art. 2101. Interchangeable juries.—The provisions of this article shall be applicable only to such counties of this State as may now maintain three or more district courts, or in which three or more district courts may be hereafter established. A criminal court in any county with jurisdiction in felony cases shall be considered a district court within the meaning of this article. The "Interchangeable Jury Law" shall not apply to a selection of jurors in lunacy cases or in capital cases.

1. Jury Wheel Law governs.—The provisions of the seven preceding articles, commonly known as the "Jury Wheel Law", shall remain in full force in the counties which may be governed by this law, except as modified by the special provisions of this law.

2. Organization and supervision.—In each county under this law, the district judges shall meet together and determine approximately the number of jurors that are reasonably necessary for jury service in all the county courts at law, county courts and district courts of such county, for each week during the time said courts may hold during the year, and shall thereupon order the drawing of such number of jurors from the wheel for each of said weeks, said jury to be known as the general panel of jurors for service in all such courts of such county for the respective weeks for which they are designated to serve. A majority of said district judges are authorized to act in carrying out the provisions of this law; they may increase or diminish the number of jurors to be selected for any week, and shall order said jurors drawn for as many weeks in advance of service as they deem proper. From time to time they shall designate the judge to whom the general panel shall report for duty, and said judge, for such time as he is chosen to so act shall organize said juries and have immediate supervision and control of them. The said jurors so limited in number shall, after being regularly drawn from the wheel, be served by the sheriff to appear and report for jury service before said judge so designated, who shall hear the excuses of the said jury and swear them in for service for the week that they are to serve to try all cases that may be submitted to them in any of said courts.

3. Used interchangeably.—Said jurors, when impaneled shall constitute a general panel for the week, for service as jurors in all county and district courts in said county, and shall be used interchangeably in all of the said courts. In the event of a deficiency of said jurors at any given time to meet the requirement of all said courts, the judge having control of said general panel for the week shall order such additional jurors to be drawn from the wheel as may be sufficient to meet such emergency, but such jurors shall act only as special jurors and shall be discharged as soon as their services are no further needed. Resort to the wheel shall be had in all cases to fill out the general panel, except where waived by the parties or their attorneys; provided that by written agreement entered into by all parties to any cause or suit, or the attorney of record in such suit or cause filed therein, the sheriff or other officer in attendance upon said court, may summon the jury needed, or any part of same, in such cause or suit by talesmen, without resorting to the jury wheel, and in such cause or suit said jurors so selected shall be paid as if regularly drawn from the jury wheel. [Acts 1917, p. 147; Acts 4th C. S. 1918, p. 136.]

Art. 2102. Jury quarters.—The commissioners court of each such county shall set apart for the use and convenience of said general panel some room or place in or near the court house, which shall be comfortably furnished and fitted up for them to stay when not required for actual jury service. Said quarters shall be occupied by said panel when not in service and they shall remain in or conveniently near thereto so as to be at all times subject to duty in any court when called for, without delaying the proceedings of such court. The sheriff shall assign one of his deputies to look after the said panel, call them when needed by the judges, provide for their wants and to have general custody and control of them when not in actual service. [Acts 1917, p. 147.]

Art. 2103. Reducing number in general panel.—When it becomes necessary to diminish the general panel for the week of its selection on account of lack of work in any court or for any other cause, the judge having supervision of said jury for the week shall designate the number to remain. He shall cause the clerk to draw from the names of the general panel the number required, and those jurors whose names are so drawn shall continue in service for the remainder of the week and the others excused. [Acts 1917, p. 147; Acts 4th C. S. 1918, p. 136.]

2. JURY COMMISSIONERS

Art. 2104. [5122-23-24] Appointment of jury commissioners.—The district court of each county shall at each term thereof appoint three jury commissioners for said court, and shall cause the sheriff to notify them of their appointment and when and where they are to appear. Such commissioners shall possess the following qualifications:

1. Be intelligent citizens of the county and able to read and write.
2. Be qualified jurors and freeholders of the county.
3. Be residents of different portions of the county.
4. Have no suit in said court which requires the intervention of a jury.
5. The same person shall not act as jury commissioner more than once in the same year. [Acts 1876, p. 79; G. L. vol. 8, p. 915.]

Art. 2105. [5125] [3148] [3020] Failure to attend.—One appointed jury commissioner who without reasonable excuse fails or refuses to attend and perform the duties required shall be fined by the court not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars. [Id.]

Art. 2106. [5126] [3149] [3021] Oath of jury commissioners.—When the appointees appear before the court, the judge shall administer to them the following oath: "You do swear faithfully to discharge the duties required of you as jury commissioners; that you will not knowingly elect any man as a jurymen whom you believe to be unfit and not qualified; that you will not make known to any one the name of any jurymen selected by you and reported to the court; that you will not, directly or indirectly, converse with any one selected by you as a jurymen concerning the merits of any case to be tried at the next term of this court until after such cause may be tried or continued, or the jury discharged." [Id.]

Art. 2107. [5128-29-30-31] Duties of jury commissioners.—The judge shall instruct said commissioners as to their duties and designate to them for what weeks they shall select petit jurors and the number for each week. They shall retire in charge of the sheriff to some suitable room and be kept free from intrusion during their session, and shall not separate until they complete their duties. The clerk shall furnish them with all necessary stationery, and with a list of those appearing from the records of the court to be exempt or disqualified from serving on the petit jury at each term, and shall also deliver to them the envelope required by law for the placing therein of the names selected, and take their receipt therefor showing whether or not the seal remained unbroken. The last assessment roll of the county shall be furnished them by the legal custodian of the same. [Id.]

Art. 2108. [5127] [3150] [3022] Failure to get jury.—If from any cause, the jury commissioners should not be appointed at the time prescribed, or should fail to select jurors as required, or should the panels selected to be set aside, or the jury lists returned into the court be lost or destroyed, the court shall forthwith proceed to supply a sufficient number of jurors for the term, and when deemed necessary may appoint jury commissioners for that purpose. [Id.]

Art. 2109. [5132-3-4] Jury commissioners for county court.—The county court shall, at its first term after the last day of December and the last day of June of each year, appoint three jury commissioners for said court, having the same qualifications as jury commissioners for the district court. The same proceedings shall be had in the county court by its officers and said commissioners to procure jurors as are required by this title for similar proceedings in the district court, except as modified by the provisions of this article.

1. Oath.—The oath to be administered to said commissioners shall be: "You swear faithfully to discharge the duties required of you as jury commissioners; that you will not knowingly elect any man as a jurymen whom you believe to be unfit and not qualified; that you will not make known to any one the name of any jurymen selected by you and reported to the court; that you will not, directly or indirectly, communicate with any one selected by you as a jurymen concerning the merits of any case to be tried by this court within the next six months, until said case shall have been tried or otherwise disposed of."

2. To select jurors.—Said commissioners shall select jurors for all the terms of the county court to be held within six months after the adjournment of the first week of said court after the dates first named. The county judge shall designate the number of jurors to be so selected for each term and week. [Acts 1876, p. 81; G. L. vol. 8, p. 917; Acts 1884, p. 27; G. L. vol. 9, p. 559.]

Art. 2110. [5135] [3158] Selecting jurors.—The jury commissioners shall select from the citizens of the different portions of the county, liable to serve as jurors, one hundred persons, or a greater or less number if so directed by the court, free from all legal exceptions, of good moral character, of sound judgment, well-informed, and, so far as practicable, able to read and write, to serve as petit jurors at the next term, if in the district court, and for the next six months, if in the county court, and shall write the names of such persons on separate pieces of paper, as near the same size and appearance as may be, and fold the same so that the names cannot be seen. [Id.]

Art. 2111. [5136] [3159] [3031] Drawing jurors.—The names of the persons so written and folded shall be deposited in a box, and after being well shaken and mixed, the commissioners shall draw therefrom the names, one by one, of thirty-six persons, or a greater or less number where the judge has so directed, for each week of the term of the district court or terms of the county court for which a jury may be required, and shall record such names as they are drawn upon as many separate sheets of paper as there are weeks of such term or terms for which juries will be required. [Id.]

Art. 2112. [5138–39] Certified lists delivered.—The several lists of names drawn shall be certified under the hands of the commissioners to be the lists drawn by them for the said several weeks, and shall be sealed in separate envelopes, indorsed, "List of petit jurors for the — week of the — term of the — court of — county," (filling in the blanks). The commissioners shall write their names across the seals of the envelopes and deliver them to the judge, who shall deliver them to the clerk, or to one of his deputies in open court, and the court may instruct the clerk to indorse on any of such envelopes that the jury for that week shall be summoned for some other day than Monday of said week. [Id.]

Art. 2113. [5140–41] Oath to clerk and deputies.—The judge shall at the same time administer to the clerk and each of his deputies an oath in substance as follows: "You do solemnly swear that you will not open the jury lists now delivered to you, nor permit them to be opened, until the time prescribed by law; that you will not directly or indirectly, converse or communicate with any one selected as a juror concerning any case pending for trial in this court at its next term," if in the district court; or if in the county court, "within the next six months." If for any reason such oath should not be administered to any of the deputies, or should the clerk subsequently appoint a deputy, the clerk shall administer to such deputy a like oath. [Id.]

Art. 2114. [5142–3–4–5] List sent to county court.—The district court commissioners shall make out for the use of the county court commissioners a complete list of the names of all persons selected by them as grand and petit jurors, and shall place said list in an envelope and seal the same and write their names across the seal; and shall address said envelope to the jury commissioners of the county court of the proper county and shall deliver the same to the district judge in open court. The judge shall immediately deliver said envelope to the county clerk or one of his deputies, at the same time administering to him this oath: "You do solemnly swear that you will, to the best of your ability, safely keep this envelope and that you will neither open the same nor allow it to be opened, except as provided by law; and that you will cause it to be delivered to the jury commissioners of the county court next hereafter appointed in and for this county." At the first term of the county court thereafter held, at which jury commissioners are appointed, said clerk shall deliver said envelope to the jury commissioners or one of them appointed at said term, and take a receipt therefor; and said receipt shall state whether the seal of said envelope be broken or not. After the jury commissioners appointed by said court have assembled for business, they shall open said envelope and read said list of names, and no person named on said list shall be selected as a juror by said commissioners. [Id.]

Art. 2115. [5146–7–8–9] List sent to district court.—The jury commissioners for the county court shall make out for the use of the jury commissioners of the district court a complete list of the names of all persons selected by them as jurors, and shall place said list in an envelope and seal the same, and write their names across the seal, and address said envelope to the jury commissioners of the district court of the proper county, and shall deliver the same to the county judge in open court. The county judge shall immediately deliver said envelope to the district clerk, or one of his deputies, at the same time administering to him this oath: "You do solemnly swear that you will, to the best of your ability, safely keep this envelope and that you will neither open the same nor allow it to be opened, except as provided by law, and that you will cause it to be delivered to the jury commissioners of the district court next hereafter appointed in and for this county." At the first term of the district court thereafter held, said clerk shall deliver said envelope to the jury commissioners or one of them appointed at said term, and take a receipt therefor showing whether the seal of said envelope be broken or not. After the jury commissioners appointed at said term of the district court have assembled for business, they shall open said envelope and read said list of names, and no person named on said list shall be selected as juror by said commissioners. [Id.]

Art. 2116. [5150] [3173] [3045] Shall destroy lists.—The jury commissioners in both the district and county courts, before leaving the apartment in which they have selected jurors, shall destroy said list of names, and it shall be unlawful for them, or any of them, to make known to any person the name of any juror on said lists. [Id.]

3. JURY FOR THE WEEK

Art. 2117. [5159–60] Summoning jurors.—Within not more than thirty days and not less than ten days prior to each term of the court, the clerk of the district and county courts, respectively, shall open the list of jurors selected for such term and make out a copy of the same, duly certified under his hand and the seal of his office, and deliver the same to the sheriff. Where the judge has directed that the jurors for any week shall be summoned for some other day than Monday, the clerk shall note such order for the information of the sheriff. On receipt of such lists, the sheriff shall immediately notify the several persons named therein to be in attendance on the court on the day and week for which they were respectively drawn to serve as jurors for said week. [Acts 1876, p. 171; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1007.]

Art. 2118. [5165–6–7–8–9] Jury for the week.—On Monday of each week of the court for which a jury shall be summoned, and for which there may be jury trials, or where the jury trials for the week have been set for some other day, then on such day the court shall select thirty qualified jurors, or a greater or less number, in its discretion, to serve as jurors for the week. If such selection is not from any cause then made, it may be made on any later day. Such jurors shall be selected from the names included in the jury list for the week, if there be the requisite number of such in attendance who are not excused by the court; if such number be not in attendance at any time, the court shall direct the sheriff to summon a sufficient number of qualified men to make up the requisite number of jurors. The court may adjourn the whole number of jurors for the week or any part thereof, to any subsequent day of the term, but the jurors shall not be paid for the time they may stand adjourned. [Id.]

Art. 2119. [5170] [3184] [3056] Oath to sheriff for talesmen.—Whenever it may be necessary to summon jurors who have not been selected by jury commissioners under the provisions of this title, the court shall administer to the sheriff and each of his deputies the following oath: "You do solemnly swear that you will, to the best of your skill and ability, and without bias or favor toward any party, summon such jurors as may be ordered by the court; that you will select none but impartial, sensible and sober men, having the qualifications of jurors under the law; that you will not, directly or indirectly, converse or communicate with any jurymen touching any case pending for trial; and that you will not by any means attempt to influence, advise or control any jurymen in his opinion in any case which may be tried by him. So help you God." [Id.]

Art. 2120. [5171] [3185] [3057] Excuses of jurors.—The court may hear any reasonable sworn excuse of a juror, and may release him entirely or until some other day of the term. [Id.]

Art. 2121. [5172] [3186] [3058] Defaulting juror.—Any defaulting juror lawfully notified who without reasonable excuse fails to be in attendance on the court in obedience to such notice shall be fined not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars. [Id.]

Art. 2122. [5218-19-20] Pay of jurors.—Each juror in the district or county court or county court at law shall receive three dollars for each day or fraction of a day that he may attend as such juror, to be paid out of the jury fund of the county by the county treasurer upon the certificate of the clerk of the court in which such service is rendered, stating the service, when and by whom rendered, and the amount due therefor. Such certificates may be transferred by delivery and shall be receivable at par from the holder for all county taxes. [Acts 1866, p. 201; G. L. vol. 5, p. 1119; Acts 1919, p. 35.]

4. THE JURY IN COURT

Art. 2123. [5173] [3187] [3059] Right to jury.—The right to trial by jury shall remain inviolate, subject to the following rules and regulations. [Const. art. 1, sec. 15.]

Art. 2124. [5174-80] Demand and fee.—No jury trial shall be had in any civil suit, unless an application therefor be made in open court, and a jury fee of five dollars if in the district court, and three dollars if in the county court, be deposited by the applicant with the clerk to the use of the county. [Acts 1876, p. 171; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1007.]

Art. 2125. [5175] [3189] [3061] Time to demand.—Any party to a civil suit in the district or county court desiring to have the same tried by jury, shall make an application therefor in open court on the first day of the term at which the suit is to be tried, unless the same be appearance day, in which event the application shall be made on default day. [Id.]

Art. 2126. [5178-9] Call of docket for demand.—On the first day of each term, the court shall call over the docket, except appearance cases, and shall note therein in each case whether or not a jury trial is applied for therein and by which party. On the call of the appearance docket, the court shall in like manner note in each appearance case whether or not and by whom a jury trial is applied for. [Id.]

Art. 2127. [5181-3] Oath of inability.—The deposit for a jury fee shall not be required when the party shall within the time for making such deposit, file with the clerk his affidavit to the effect that he is unable to make such deposit, and that he can not, by the pledge of property or otherwise, obtain the money necessary for that purpose; and the court shall then order the clerk to enter the suit on the jury docket. [Acts 1876, p. 171; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1007.]

Art. 2128. [5184] [3198] [3070] Jury docket.—The clerks of the district and county courts shall each keep a docket, styled, "The Jury Docket," in which shall be entered in their order the cases in which jury trials have been ordered by the court. [Id.]

Art. 2129. [5185] [3199] [3071] Jury trial day.—The court shall, by an order entered on the minutes, designate any day during the term for the taking up of the jury docket and the trial of the cases thereon. Such order may be revoked or changed at discretion. [Acts 1876, p. 78; G. L. vol. 8, p. 914.]

Art. 2130. [5186-7] Withdrawing demand for jury.—When one party has applied for a jury trial, he shall not be permitted to withdraw such application without the consent of the parties adversely interested. If so permitted, the court in its discretion may by an order permit him to withdraw also his jury fee deposit. [Id.]

Art. 2131. [5188-89-90-91] Challenge to the array.—Any party to a suit which is to be tried by a jury may, before the jury is drawn, challenge the array upon the ground that the officer summoning the jury has acted corruptly, and has wilfully summoned jurors known to be prejudiced against the party challenging or biased in favor of the adverse party. All such challenges must be in writing setting forth distinctly the grounds of such challenge and supported by the affidavit of the party or some other credible person. When such challenge is made, the court shall hear evidence and decide without delay whether or not the challenge shall be sustained. This article does not apply when the jurors summoned have been selected by jury commissioners. [Id.]

Art. 2132. [5192] [3206] [3078] When challenge is sustained.—If the challenge be sustained, the array of jurors summoned shall be discharged, and the court shall order other jurors summoned in their stead, and shall direct that the officer who summoned the persons so discharged, and on account of whose misconduct the challenge has been sustained, shall not summon any other jurors in the case. [Id.]

Art. 2133. [5114-15-16] Qualifications.—All men over twenty-one years of age are competent jurors, unless disqualified under some provision of this chapter. No man shall be qualified to serve as a juror who does not possess the following qualifications:

1. He must be a citizen of the State and of the county in which he is to serve, and qualified under the constitution and laws to vote in said county; provided, that his failure to pay poll tax as required by law shall not be held to disqualify him for jury service in any instance.

2. He must be a freeholder within the State, or a householder within the county.

3. He must be of sound mind and good moral character.

4. He must be able to read and write, except in cases provided for in the succeeding article.

6. He must not have been convicted of felony.

7. He must not be under indictment or other legal accusation of theft or of any felony. Whenever it shall be made to appear to the court that the requisite number of jurors able to read and write cannot be found within the county, the court may dispense with the exception provided for in the fourth subdivision and the court may in like manner dispense with the exception provided for in the fifth subdivision, when the county is so sparsely populated as to make its enforcement seriously inconvenient. [Acts 1905, p. 207; G. L. vol. 8, p. 914.]

Art. 2134. [5117] [3141] [3012] Disqualification.—The following persons shall be disqualified to serve as jurors in any particular case:

Art. 2135. [5118] [3142] [3013] Jury service.—All competent jurors are liable to jury service except the following persons:

1. All persons over sixty years of age.
2. All civil officers of this State and of the United States.
3. All ministers of the gospel engaged in the active discharge of their ministerial duties.
4. All physicians and attorneys engaged in actual practice.
5. All publishers of newspapers, school masters, druggists, undertakers, telegraph operators, railroad station agents, ferrymen, and all millers engaged in grist, flouring and saw mills.
6. All presidents, vice-presidents, conductors, engineers and firemen of railroad companies when engaged in the regular and actual discharge of their respective positions.
7. Any person who has acted as a jury commissioner within the preceding twelve months.
8. All members of the national guard of this State under the provisions of the title "Militia."

Art. 2136. [5119] [3143] Where several fire companies in one town.—If there be more than one organized fire company in such town or city, the whole number of exemptions provided under Subdivision Ten of the preceding article shall be equally divided between such companies. [Id.]

Art. 2137. [5121] Filing of exemptions.—All persons summoned as jurors in any court of this State, who are exempt by statutory law from jury service, may, if they so desire to claim their exemptions, make oath before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths, or before the officers summoning such persons, stating their exemptions, and file said affidavit at any time before the convening of said court with the clerk of said court, which shall constitute sufficient excuse without appearing in person. [Acts 1907, p. 216.]

Art. 2138. Jury list in certain counties.—In counties governed as to juries by the laws providing for interchangeable juries, the names of the panel [jurors] shall be placed upon the general panel in the order in which they are drawn from the wheel, and jurors shall be assigned for service from the top thereof, in the order in which they shall be needed, and jurors returned to the general panel after service in any of such courts shall be enrolled at the bottom of the list in the order of their respective return, provided, however, that the trial judge, upon the demand of any party to any case reached for trial by jury, or of the attorney for any such party, shall cause the names of all the members of the general panel available for service as jurors in such case to be placed in a hat or other receptacle and well-shaken, and said trial judge shall draw therefrom the names of a sufficient number of jurors from which a jury may be selected to try such case, and such names shall be transcribed in the order drawn on the jury list from which the juror is to be selected to try such case. Art. 2139. [5202-3] Preparing jury list.—When the parties have announced ready for trial, the clerk shall write the name of each regular juror entered of record for that week on separate slips of paper, as near the same size and appearance as may be, and shall place the slips in a box and mix them well. Art. 2140. [5204] [3218] [3090] Delivery of jury list.—The clerk shall draw from the box, in the presence of the court, the names of twenty-four jurors, if in the district court, or so many as there may be, if there be a less number in the box; and the names of twelve jurors if in the county court, or so many as there may be, and write the names as drawn upon two slips of paper and deliver one slip to each party to the suit or his attorney. [Id.]

Art. 2141. [5205] [3219] [3091] Summoning talesmen.—When there are not as many as twelve names drawn from the box, if in the district court, or if in the county court, as many as six, the court shall direct the sheriff to summon such number of qualified persons as the court deems necessary to complete the panel. Art. 2142. [5193-5200-1] Challenge to juror.—A challenge to a particular juror is either a challenge for cause or a peremptory challenge. The court shall decide without delay any such challenge, and if sustained, the juror shall be discharged from the particular case. Either such challenge may be made orally on the formation of a jury to try the case. [Id.]

Art. 2143. [5206] [3220] [3092] Challenge for cause.—When twelve or more jurors, if in the district court, or six or more, if in the county court, are drawn, and the lists of their names delivered to the parties, if either party desires to challenge any juror for cause, the challenge shall now be made. The name of a juror challenged and set aside for cause shall be erased from such lists. [Id.]

Art. 2144. [5194-5] "Challenge for cause."—A challenge for cause is an objection made to a juror, alleging some fact which by law disqualifies him to serve as a juror in the case or in any case, or which in the opinion of the court, renders him an unfit person to sit on the jury. Upon such challenge the examination is not confined to the answers of the juror, but other evidence may be heard for or against the challenge. [Id.]

Art. 2145. [5196] [3210] [3082] Certain questions not to be asked.—In examining a juror, he shall not be asked a question the answer to which may show that he has been convicted of an offense which disqualifies him, or that he stands by some legal accusation with theft or any felony. [Id.]

Art. 2146. [5207] [3221] [3093] Number reduced by challenge.—If the challenges reduce the number of jurors to less than will constitute a legal jury, the court shall order other jurors to be drawn or summoned and their names written upon the list instead of those set aside for cause. [Id.]

Art. 2147. [5197-5208] Making peremptory challenge.—If there remain on such lists not subject to challenge for cause, twelve names, if in the district court, or six names if in the county court, the parties shall proceed to make their peremptory challenges. A peremptory challenge is made to a juror without assigning any reason therefor. [Id.]

Art. 2148. [5198-9] Number of peremptory challenges.—Each party to a civil suit shall be entitled to six peremptory challenges in a case tried in the district court, and to three in the county court. [Acts Dec. 1, 1871, p. 61; G. L. vol. 7, p. 63.]

Art. 2150. [5210] [3224] [3096] If jury is incomplete.—When by peremptory challenges the jury is left incomplete, the court shall direct other jurors to be drawn or summoned to complete the jury; and such other jurors shall be impaneled as in the first instance. [Id.]

Art. 2156. [1938] [1284] [1284] Assessing damages on liquidated demands.—Where a judgment by default is rendered against the defendant, or all of several defendants, if the cause of action is liquidated and proved by an instrument in writing, the damages shall be assessed by the court, or under its direction, and judgment final shall be rendered therefor, unless the defendant shall demand and be entitled to a trial by jury. [Id.]

Art. 2158. [1941] [1346] [1212-1345] On service by publication.—Where service has been made by publication, and no answer has been filed nor appearance entered within the time prescribed by law, the court shall appoint an attorney to defend the suit in behalf of the defendant, and judgment shall be rendered as in other cases; but, in every such case, a statement of the evidence, approved and signed by the judge, shall be filed with the papers of the cause as a part of the record thereof. The court shall allow such attorney a reasonable fee for his services, to be taxed as part of the costs. [Acts 1846, p. 363; Acts 1866, p. 125; P. D. 1488, 26; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669; G. [1947] [1291] [1291] Issue of law and dilatory pleas.—When a case is called for trial, the issues of law arising on the pleadings, all pleas in abatement and other dilatory pleas remaining undisposed of shall be determined; and it shall be no cause for postponement of a trial of the issues of law that a party is not prepared to try the issues of fact. [Acts 1846, p. 363; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 2168. [1918] [1278] [1278] Application for continuance.—If the ground of such application be the want of testimony, the party applying therefor shall make affidavit that such testimony is material, showing the materiality thereof, and that he has used due diligence to procure such testimony, stating such diligence, and the cause of failure, if known; that such testimony cannot be procured from any other source; and, if it be for the absence of a witness, he shall state the name and residence of the witness, and what he expects [expects] to prove by him; and also state that the continuance is not sought for delay only, but that justice may be done; provided that, on a first application for a continuance, it shall not be necessary to show that the absent testimony cannot be procured from any other source. [Acts 1897, p. 117; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1171.]

Art. 2169. [1911] [1270] [1270] Change of venue by consent.—Upon the written consent of the parties filed with the papers of the cause, the court, by an order entered on the minutes, may transfer the same for trial to the court of any other county having jurisdiction of the subject matter of such suit. 1. That there exists in the county where the suit is pending so great a prejudice against him that he cannot obtain a fair and impartial trial.

2. That there is a combination against him instigated by influential persons, by reason of which he cannot expect a fair and impartial trial.

3. For other sufficient cause to be determined by the court. [Acts 1874, p. 67; P. D. 5885a, G. L. vol. 8, p. 69.]

Art. 2171. [1913] [1272] [1272] Shall be granted.—Where such application for a change of venue is duly made, it shall be granted, unless the credibility of those making such application, or their means of knowledge or the truth of the facts set out in the said application are attacked by the affidavit of a credible person; when thus attacked, the issue thus formed shall be tried by the judge, and the application either granted or refused. [Id.; P. D. 5885d; Acts 1893, p. 2; G. L. vol. 10, p. 432.]

Art. 2172. [1914] [1273] [1273] To what county.—If the application is granted, the cause shall be removed to an adjoining county, the court house of which is nearest the court house of the county in which the suit is pending, unless it appears in the application that such nearest county is subject to some objection sufficient to authorize a change of venue therefrom in the first instance; but the parties may, by consent, agree that it shall be changed to some other county, and the order of court shall conform to such agreement. [Id.]

Art. 2173. [1915] [1274] [1274] In case of new counties.—When a suit is pending in the district or county court of any county, out of the territory of which a new county has been or may be made, in whole or in part, if the defendants or any one of them, shall file a motion in the court where such suit is pending, to transfer the same to such new county, naming it, together with an affidavit stating that neither he nor any one of the defendants now resides in the territorial limits of the county where such suit is pending, and that neither he nor any one of the defendants resided in said territorial limit at the time the suit was instituted, and further stating that at the date of the filing of such suit, said defendant was a resident citizen within the territorial limits of the new county, the court shall grant a change of venue to such new county, unless the suit could be properly brought in the county in which the same is pending under some provision of law. [Acts 1876, p. 74; G. L. vol. 8, p. 910.]

Art. 2174. [1916] [1275] [1275] Transcript on change.—When a change of venue has been granted, the clerk shall immediately make out a correct transcript of all the orders made in said cause, certifying thereto officially under the seal of the court, and send the same, with the original papers in the cause, to the clerk of the court to which the venue has been changed.

3. THE TRIAL

Art. 2175. [2181] [1451] [1447] Obsolete procedure.—All vouchers, views, essoins, and also trials by wager of battle and wager of law are repealed. [Acts 1846, p. 363; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 2176. [1948] [1292] [1292] Trial by the court.—The rules governing the trial of causes before a jury shall govern in trials by the court in so far as applicable.

Art. 2177. [1949] [1293] [1293] Agreed case.—Parties may submit matters in controversy to the court upon an agreed statement of facts filed with the clerk, upon which judgment shall be rendered as in other cases; and such agreed statement signed and certified by the court to be correct and the judgment rendered thereon shall constitute the record of the cause. [Acts 1858, p. 110; P. D. 1516; G. L. vol. 4, p. 982.]

Art. 2178. [1950] [1294] [1294] Appeal tried de novo.—Cases brought up from inferior courts shall be tried de novo. [Acts 1846, p. 363; P. D. 1459, 1460; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 2179. [5212-3] Oath to jury.—The jury shall be sworn by the court or under its direction, as follows: "You, and each of you, do solemnly swear that in all cases between parties which shall be to you submitted, you will a true verdict render, according to the law, as it may be given you in charge by the court, and to the evidence submitted to you under the rulings of the court. So help you God." [Acts 1858, p. 205; G. L. vol. 4, p. 1077.]

Art. 2180. [1951] [1297] [1297] Order of proceedings on trial by jury.—The trial of cases before a jury shall proceed in the following order, unless the court should, for good cause, to be stated in the record, otherwise direct:

1. Plaintiff's petition shall be read to the jury.
2. Defendant's answer shall be read to the jury.
3. If there be any intervener his pleadings shall be read.
4. The party upon whom rests the burden of proof on the whole case under the pleadings, shall be permitted to state to the jury briefly the nature of his claim or defense and facts relied upon in support thereof.

5. Such party shall then introduce his evidence.
6. The adverse party may then state briefly the nature of his defense or claim and the facts relied on in support thereof.

7. He shall then introduce his evidence.
8. The intervenor may, in like manner, make his statement, and shall then introduce his evidence.

9. The parties shall then be confined to rebutting testimony on each side.

Art. 2181. [1952] Additional testimony.—At any time before the conclusion of the argument the court may permit additional evidence to be offered to supply an omission where it clearly appears to be necessary to the due administration of justice.

Art. 2182. [1955] [1301] [1301] Non-suit.—At any time before the jury has retired, the plaintiff may take a non-suit, but he shall not thereby prejudice the right of an adverse party to be heard on his claim for affirmative relief. When the case is tried by the judge, such non-suit may be taken at any time before the decision is announced. [Acts 1853, p. 19; P. D. 1464; G. L. vol. 3, p. 1302.]

Art. 2183. [1953] [1299] [1299] Order of argument.—After the evidence is concluded and the charge is read, the parties may argue the case to the jury. The party having the burden of proof on the whole case shall be entitled to open and conclude the argument; where there are several parties having separate claims or defenses, the court shall prescribe the order of argument between them.

4. CHARGE OF THE COURT

Art. 2184. [1970] [1316] [1316] Charge to jury.—Unless expressly waived by the parties, the judge shall prepare and in open court deliver a written charge to the jury on the law of the case, or if the case is submitted on special issues, he shall submit the issues of fact to the jury. [Acts 1913, p. 113.]

Art. 2185. [1971-2] Requisites.—The charge shall be in writing, signed by the judge, filed with the clerk, and shall be a part of the record of the cause. It shall be prepared after the evidence has been concluded and shall be submitted to the respective parties or their attorneys for inspection, and a reasonable time given them in which to examine and present objections thereto, which objections shall in every instance be presented to the court before the charge is read to the jury, and all objections not so made and presented shall be considered as waived. Failure of the Court to give reasonable time to the parties or their attorneys for examination of the charge shall be reviewable upon appeal upon proper exception. The judge shall so frame his charge as to distinctly separate questions of law from questions of fact, and not therein comment on the weight of the evidence, and so as to instruct the jury as to the law arising on the facts, and shall only submit controverted questions of fact. [Id.]

Art. 2186. [1973] [1319] [1319] Special charges.—Either party may present to the judge such written instructions as he desires to be given to the jury; and the judge may give such instructions, or a part thereof, or he may refuse to give them, as he may see proper. Such instructions shall be prepared and presented to the court and submitted to opposing counsel for examination and objection within a reasonable time after the charge is given to the parties or their attorneys for examination. [Id.]

Art. 2187. [1954-71-73] Charge read before argument.—Before the argument is begun, the judge shall read to the jury, in the precise words in which they were written, his charge and all special charges which he may give. [Id.]

Art. 2188. [1974] [1320] [1320] Refusal or modification.—When a special instruction is requested and the provisions of the law have been complied with and the trial judge refuses the same, he shall indorse thereon "Refused," and sign the same officially. If the trial judge modify a special charge, he shall indorse thereon "Modified as follows: (stating in what particular he has modified the charge) and given, and exception allowed" and sign the same officially. Such refused or modified charge when so indorsed shall constitute a bill of exceptions and it shall be conclusively presumed that the party asking said charge presented the same at the proper time, excepted to its refusal or modification, and that all the requirements of law have been observed, and the same shall entitle the party requesting such charge to have the action of the trial judge in refusing or modifying the same reviewed without preparing a formal bill of exceptions. [Id.; Acts 1917, p. 389.]

Art. 2189. [1984-1992] Special issues.—In all jury cases the court may submit said cause upon special issues without request of either party, and, upon request of either party, shall submit the cause upon special issues raised by the pleadings and the evidence in the case. Such special issues shall be submitted distinctly and separately. Each issue shall be answered by the jury separately. In submitting special issues the court shall submit such explanations and definitions of legal terms as shall be necessary to enable the jury to properly pass upon and render a verdict on such issues. If the nature of the suit is such that it cannot be determined on the submission of special issues, the court may refuse the request to do so, but the action of the court in refusing may be reviewed on proper exception in the appellate court, and this article shall be construed in connection with the succeeding article. [Acts 1913, p. 113.]

Art. 2190. [1985] [1331] [1331] Submission of issues.—When the court submits a case upon special issues, he shall submit all the issues made by the pleading. Failure to submit an issue shall not be deemed a ground for reversal of the judgment, unless its submission has been requested in writing by the party complaining of the judgment. Upon appeal or writ of error, an issue not submitted and not requested is deemed as found by the court in such manner as to support the judgment if there is evidence to sustain such finding. A claim that the testimony was insufficient to warrant the submission of an issue may be complained of for the first time after verdict. [Acts 1st C. S. 1897, p. 15; Id.]

5. CASE TO JURY

3. When the duty devolves upon the court to prepare the statement of facts, he shall have such time in which to do so as he deems necessary, but shall not postpone the preparation and filing of same, so as to delay the filing thereof, together with a transcript of the record in the appellate court within the time prescribed by law. [Acts 1892, p. 42; G. L. vol. 10, p. 406; Acts 1911, p. 264.]

Art. 2241. [2071] Party unable to pay.—In any civil case where the appellant or plaintiff in error has made the proof required to appeal his case without bond, such party may make affidavit of such fact, and upon the making and filing of such affidavit, the court shall order the official reporter to make a transcript in narrative form in duplicate and to deliver the same to said party, but such reporter shall receive no pay for same.

Art. 2241a. Return of bills of exceptions and statement of facts.—Whenever within the eighty days that are provided by law for filing bills of exceptions and statements of fact in the trial court, the appellant or his attorney shall present bills of exceptions and statements of fact to the appellee or his attorney for the purpose of procuring an agreement thereto as provided in Articles 2239 and 2240, it shall be the duty of the appellee and his attorney to return to the appellant or his attorney the bills of exceptions and statements of fact within twenty days after having received said bills of exceptions and statements of fact, with his approval or disapproval of the same. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 67, ch. 44, § 1.]

Art. 2241b. Failure to return bills of exceptions and statement of facts.—If the appellee or his attorney fails to return to the appellant or his attorney the bills of exceptions and statements of fact within twenty days after the date they are delivered to him, with his approval or disapproval, then it shall be conclusively assumed that there is a disagreement upon said bills of exceptions and statements of fact and upon proof in any manner satisfactory to the judge of the trial court that said bills of exceptions and statements of fact had been delivered to the appellee or his attorney for twenty days or more, said judge shall then make out, sign and file with the clerk proper bills of exceptions and statements of fact in the same manner as provided for in Articles 2239 and 2240 as in case of an actual disagreement. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 67, ch. 44, § 1.]

Art. 2242. [2072] Independent statement.—Nothing in this chapter shall prevent parties from preparing a statement of facts on appeal independent of the transcript of the notes of the official court reporter. [Acts 1911, p. 264.]

Art. 2243. [2068] [1379] Substance and approval.—After the trial of a cause, either party may make out a written statement of facts given in evidence on the trial, and submit the same to the opposite party or his attorney for inspection. If the parties or their attorneys agree upon such statement of facts, they shall sign the same; and it shall be submitted to the judge who shall, if he finds it correct, approve and sign it; and the same shall be filed with the clerk. [Acts 1892, p. 42; G. L. vol. 10, p. 406.]

Art. 2244. [2068] [1379] [1377] Agreed statement of evidence.—Where it is agreed by the parties to the suit, or their attorney of record, that the evidence adduced upon the trial of the cause is sufficient to establish a fact or facts alleged by either party, the testimony of the witnesses and the deeds, wills, records, or other written instruments, admitted as evidence relating thereto, shall not be stated or copied in detail into a statement of facts; but the facts thus established shall be stated as facts provided [proved] in the case; provided, an instrument, such as a note or other contract, mortgage or deed of trust, that constitutes the cause of action on which the petition, or answer, or cross bill, or intervention, is founded may be copied once in the statement of facts. When there is any reasonable doubt of the sufficiency of the evidence to constitute proof of any one fact under the preceding rule there may then be inserted such of the testimony of the witnesses and written instruments, or parts thereof, as relate to such facts. [Id.]

Art. 2245. [2074] [1382] Statement not filed in time.—Whenever a statement of facts has been filed after the time prescribed by law, and the party tendering the filing of same shall show to the satisfaction of the appellate court that he has used due diligence to obtain the approval and signature of the judge thereto, and to file the same within the time prescribed by law for filing the same, and that his failure to file the same within said time is not due to the fault or laches of said party or his attorney, and that such failure was the result of causes beyond his control, the appellate court shall permit said statement of facts to remain as part of the record and consider the same in the hearing and adjudication of said cause the same as if said statement of facts had been filed in time. [Acts 1887, p. 17; G. L. vol. 9, p. 815.]

Art. 2246. [2073] Time for filing.—The time for filing statements of fact and bills of exception in the district and county courts and county courts at law shall be governed by the following rules:

1. When the appeal is taken from a judgment rendered in a civil cause tried in any of said courts, the party appealing shall have eighty days after the adjournment of the term of the court wherein the cause is tried within which to prepare and file his statement of facts and bills of exception in the trial court.

2. If the term of court may by law continue more than eight weeks, the statement of facts and bills of exception shall be filed in the trial court within ninety days after final judgment is rendered.

3. Upon application of the party appealing, the judge before whom the cause is tried may, in term time or vacation for good cause shown, extend the time for filing such statements of fact and bills of exception; but the time shall not be extended in any case so as to delay the filing of the statement of facts together with the transcript of the record in the appellate court within ninety days after the date of filing the appeal or writ of error bond.

Art. 2247. [2075] Time to file conclusions.—When demand is made therefor, the judge of a district or county court shall have ten days after adjournment of the term at which the cause was tried in said court in which to prepare his findings of fact and conclusions of law in cases tried before the court. [Acts 1903, p. 32; Acts 1st C. S. 1907, p. 446.]

Art. 2248. [2076] Successor to trial judge.—Any judge of a district or county court whose term of office expires before the adjournment of the term of such court at which a cause may be tried, or during the period prescribed for the filing of the statement of facts and bills of exception, or conclusions of law and fact, may approve such statement of facts and bills of exception, or file such findings of fact and conclusions of law in such cause, as provided in this title, and where any such judge shall die before the time for such approval or filing, the same may be approved or filed by his successor, as provided by article 2288.

If the term of court may by law continue more than eight weeks, the bond or affidavit in lieu thereof shall be filed within twenty days after notice of appeal is given, if the party taking the appeal resides in the county, and within thirty days, if he resides out of the county. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 21, ch. 15, § 1.]

Art. 2254. [2085] [1388] [1388] No appeal bond required.—In cases where the appellant is not required by law to give bond on appeal, the appeal is perfected by the notice provided for in the preceding article.

Art. 2255. [2086] [1389] [1389] Writ of error sued out.—The writ of error, in cases where the same is allowed, may be sued out at any time within six months after the final judgment is rendered. [Acts 1892, p. 42; G. L. vol. 10, p. 406; Acts 1919, p. 136.]

Art. 2257. [2088] [1391] [1391] Requisites of petition.—The petition shall state the names and residences of the parties adversely interested, shall describe the judgment with sufficient certainty to identify it, and shall state that he desires to remove the same to the Court of Civil Appeals for revision and correction. Where the plaintiff in error desires the issuance of a supersedeas, he shall state the facts which entitle him thereto, and pray for the issuance thereof. [Acts 1892, p. 42; G. L. vol. 10, p. 406.]

Art. 2258. [2089] [1392] [1392] Error bond.—The plaintiff at the time of filing such petition shall file with the clerk a writ of error bond, or affi-

Art. 2260. [2091] [1394] [1394] Form and requisites of citation.—The citation shall be styled, dated and tested by the clerk as other writs, and the date of its issuance shall be noted thereon. It shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county where the defendant is alleged to reside or be, and shall command him forthwith to summon the defendant to appear and defend such writ before the Court of Civil Appeals within sixty days from date of service of said citation, stating the place of holding the same, according to the provisions of the law regulating the returns of appeals and writs of error from the court in which the judgment was rendered. It shall state the date of the filing of the petition in error, the names of the parties, and the description of the judgment as therein given. Such citation shall be made returnable within ten days from the issuance of the same, if defendant resides in the county, and within twenty days, if he resides out of the county. [Acts 1892, p. 42; G. L. vol. 10, p. 406.]

Art. 2261. [2092–3] Service and return.—The sheriff or constable receiving such citation shall indorse the day and hour on which he receives it, and execute and return it forthwith. Service shall be made by delivering to the defendant in error, and, if more than one, then, to each of them, in person, a true copy of such citation. The return of such officer shall state when and how the same was served, and shall be signed by him officially. If it has not been served, the return shall show the diligence used by the officer to execute the same, and a failure to execute the same, and where the defendant is to be found, so far as he has been able to ascertain. [Id.]

Art. 2262. [2094] [1397] [1397] Alias citation.—If the citation is returned not executed, the clerk shall forthwith issue an alias or pluries citation, as the case may be, which shall conform to the requisites prescribed for the issuance of citation in the first instance, and shall, in addition, indicate how many previous citations have been issued. [Acts 1846, p. 363; P. D. 1495; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 2263. [2095] [1398] [1398] Service on attorney.—If it appears from the allegations in the papers of the cause that the party is a non-resident of the State, or if it appears from the return of the sheriff or constable that the party cannot be found in the county of his residence, the citation shall direct the officer to summon the defendant by making service on his attorney of record, if there be one. [Id.]

Art. 2264. [2096] [1399] [1399] Service in other modes.—Service of the citations may be also made in either mode provided in chapter three of this title, so far as the same are applicable.

Art. 2265. [2097] [1400] [1400] Cost bond.—The appellant or plaintiff in error, as the case may be, shall execute a bond to be approved by the clerk, payable to the appellee or defendant in error, in a sum at least double the probable amount of the costs of the court below, the Court of Civil Appeals, and the Supreme Court, to be fixed by the clerk, conditioned that such appellant or plaintiff in error shall prosecute his appeal or writ of error with effect, and shall pay all the costs which have accrued in the court below, and which may accrue in the Court of Civil Appeals and the Supreme Court. [Acts 1892, p. 42; G. L. vol. 10, p. 406.]

Art. 2266. [2098] [1401] [1401] Party unable to give cost bond.—Where the appellant or plaintiff in error is unable to pay the costs of appeal, or give security therefor, he shall nevertheless be entitled to prosecute his appeal; but, to do so, he shall make strict proof of his inability to pay the costs, or any part thereof. Such proof shall be made before the county judge of the county where such party resides, or before the court trying the case, and shall consist of the affidavit of the party stating his inability to pay the costs; which affidavit may be contested by any officer of the court or party to the suit, whereupon the court trying the case, if in session, or the county judge of the county in which the suit is pending, shall hear evidence and determine the right of the party to his appeal. [Acts 1871, p. 74; Acts 1879, p. 90; P. D. 6180; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1390.]

Art. 2267. [2099] [1402] [1402] Appeal or writ of error perfected.—When the bond, or affidavit in lieu thereof, provided for in the two preceding articles, has been filed and the previous requirements of this chapter have been complied with, the appeal or writ of error, as the case may be, shall be held to be perfected.

Art. 2268. [2100] [1403] [1403] Judgment not suspended.—The bond or affidavit in lieu thereof, provided in the three preceding articles, shall not have the effect to suspend the judgment, but execution shall issue thereon as if no such appeal or writ of error had been taken.

Art. 2269. Revival against successor of officer.—When a suit in mandamus or injunction is brought against a person holding a public office, in his official capacity, and after final trial and judgment in the trial court, and notice of appeal to the Court of Civil Appeals or Supreme Court has been given, if such person should vacate such office, the suit shall not abate, but his successor may be made a party thereto by a motion showing such facts and that he has demanded such successor to such office to do or to refrain from doing such official act as such suit is based upon and such successor has failed or refused to comply with such demand, duly verified by any party to such suit or his attorney. After service is duly perfected or waived by the parties, the court shall proceed to hear and determine same, and its judgment, order or decree shall be enforced by the court, and such successor shall be bound thereby. In such cases, the successor shall not be liable for any costs that have accrued prior to the time he was made a party. [Acts 1917, p. 367.]

Art. 2270. [2101] [1404] [1404] Supersedeas bond.—An appellant or plaintiff in error, desiring to suspend the execution of the judgment may do so by giving a good and sufficient bond to be approved by the clerk, payable to appellee or defendant in error, in a sum at least double the amount of the judgment, interest and costs, conditioned that such appellant or plaintiff in error shall prosecute his appeal or writ of error with effect; and in case the judgment of the Supreme Court or the Court of Civil Appeals shall be against him, he shall perform its judgment, sentence or decree, and pay all such damages as said court may award against him. [Acts 1892, p. 42; G. L. vol. 10, p. 406.]

Art. 2271. [2102] [1405] [1405] Where judgment is for property.—Where the judgment is for the recovery of land or other property, the bond shall be further conditioned that the appellant or plaintiff in error shall, in case the judgment is affirmed, pay to the appellee or defendant in error the value of the rent or hire of such property in any suit which may be brought therefor. [Acts 1846, p. 363; P. D. 1492; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 2272. Additional bond.—In all cases carried by appeal or writ of error from the district or county court to the Court of Civil Appeals or to the Supreme Court, in which a supersedeas bond shall be given, and whenever the said bond shall become insufficient by reason of the insolvency of the sureties on such bond, or from any other cause, the court in which the said appeal or writ of error is pending, shall, upon proper showing of such insufficiency being made, require the giving of additional supersedeas bond in like amount as the original, to be approved by the clerk of the court in which said appeal or writ of error is pending. [Acts 1921, p. 223.]

Art. 2273. When party fails to comply.—Upon failure to comply with the rule of the court ordering the execution of said additional supersedeas bond within a period of twenty days after such order is served, the court in which said appeal or writ of error is pending shall issue an order to the trial court, directing or permitting the issuance of execution on the judgment appealed from; but said appeal or writ of error shall not be dismissed, but continued upon the docket as if said cause had been appealed or writ of error granted upon cost bond, provided the clerk of the court in which said appeal or writ of error is pending is satisfied that the original bond is still sufficient when considered as a cost bond. [Id.]

Art. 2274. Bond insufficient as cost bond.—In the event that said clerk shall consider the said original supersedeas bond insufficient when considered as a cost bond, then the said appeal or writ of error shall be dismissed, unless the appellant or the plaintiff in error within twenty days after notice served by the clerk that the said bond is deemed insufficient for the purposes of the cost bond, shall execute a new bond satisfactory to said clerk, sufficient to secure the payment of the costs theretofore accrued, or that might thereafter accrue in the further prosecution of the said appeal or writ of error. The giving of said additional original bond or bonds shall not release the liability of the sureties on the original supersedeas bond. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 40, ch. 27, § 1.]

Art. 2275. [2103] [1406] [1406] Judgment stayed.—Upon the filing of a proper supersedeas bond, the appeal or writ of error shall be held to be perfected, and the execution of the judgment shall be stayed, and should execution have been issued thereon, the clerk shall forthwith issue a supersedeas. [Acts 1846, p. 363; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669; P. D. 1495.]

Art. 2276. [2105-6] No bond required.—Neither the State of Texas, nor any county in the State of Texas, nor the Railroad Commission of Texas, nor the head of any department of the State of Texas, prosecuting or defending in any action in their official capacity, shall be required to give bond on any appeal or writ of error taken by it, or either of them, in any civil case.

Executors, administrators and guardians appointed by the courts of this State shall not be required to give bond on any appeal or writ of error taken by them in their fiduciary capacity. [Acts 1848, p. 106; G. L. vol. 3, p. 106; P. D. 1503; Acts 1897, p. 27; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1081; Acts 1909, S. S. p. 284.]

Art. 2278. [2108-9-10] Transcript delivered.—When an appeal or writ of error has been perfected, the clerk of the court shall, upon the application of either party, make out, and deliver to him a transcript of the record of the cause, which shall, except in the cases hereinafter provided, contain a full and correct copy of all the proceedings had in the cause. If the pleadings or the judgment show an appearance of the defendant, in person or by attorney, the citation and returns shall not be copied into the transcript. [Acts 1846, p. 363; P. D. 1494; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 2279. [2111] [1413] [1413] Omissions.—The parties may, by agreement in writing, with the approval of the judge, direct the clerk to omit from the transcript any designated portion of the proceedings not deemed material to the disposition of the cause in the appellate court. [2112] [1414] [1414] Agreed statement.—The parties may agree upon a brief statement of the case and of the facts proven, with or without copies of any part of the proceedings as shall, in their opinion, enable the appellate court to determine whether there has been any error in the judgment; and, if the judge shall approve and sign such statement, it shall be filed among the papers of the

[Id.]

Art. 2282. [2114] [1416] [1416] Clerk's certificate.—The clerk shall certify to the correctness of the transcript and sign the same officially with the seal of the court attached. Art. 2283. [2115] [1417] Briefs.—Not less than five days before the time of filing the transcript in the Court of Civil Appeals the appellant or plaintiff in error shall file with the clerk of the trial court a copy of his brief, which he shall deposit with the papers of the cause, with the date of filing indorsed thereon; and he shall forthwith give notice to the appellee or defendant in error, or his attorney of record, of the filing of such brief, and in twenty days after such notice the appellee or defendant in error shall file a copy of his brief with the clerk of said court below, and four copies with the clerk of the Court of Civil Appeals. [Const. art. 5, sec. 12; Acts 1866, p. 199; Acts 1846, p. 363; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1117.]

[Acts 1846, p. 363; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 2288. When judge dies during term.—If the judge dies during a session of court duly convened for the term and the time provided by law for holding said court has not expired, such death shall not operate to adjourn said court for the term, but the court shall be deemed at recess for not exceeding six days, and if no successor be appointed or elected during said recess, or if a person appointed or elected does not qualify and assume the duties of office during said recess, then the court shall be deemed to have adjourned. If a successor to such judge shall qualify and assume office during said recess, he may continue to hold said court for the term as provided, and all motions undisposed of shall be heard and determined by him, and statements of facts and bills of exception shall be approved by him. If the time for holding such court expire or the recess expire before a successor shall qualify, then all motions pending, including those in arrest of judgment or for new trial, shall stand as continued in force until such successor has qualified and assumed office, and he shall have power to act on them at the succeeding term, or on an earlier day in vacation on notice to all parties to the motion, and such orders shall have the same effect as if rendered in term time. The time of allowing statement of facts and bills of exception from such order shall date from the time the motion was decided. [Acts 1913, p. 260.]

Art. 2289. [2157-8-9-62-63] Lost records and papers.—When any papers or records are lost or destroyed during the pendency of a suit, the parties may, with the approval of the judge, agree in writing on a brief statement of the matters contained therein; or either party may supply such lost records or papers as follows:

1. After three days' notice to the adverse party or his attorney, make written sworn motion before the court stating the loss or destruction of such record or papers, accompanied by certified copies of the originals if obtainable, or by substantial copies thereof.

2. If the adverse party admit the correctness of such copies, and the court be satisfied that they are substantial copies of the originals, or on the approval of said brief statement an order shall be made substituting such copies or brief statement for the originals.

3. Such substituted copies or brief statement shall be filed with the clerk, constitute a part of the cause, and have the force and effect of the originals. [Acts 1850, p. 160, G. L. vol. 3, p. 598, P. D. 4969.]

Art. 2290. [2164-5-6] Deposits pending suit.—The officer having custody of any money, debt, script, instrument of writing, or other article paid or deposited in court during the progress of any cause to abide the result of any legal proceeding, shall seal up in a secure package the identical money or other article so received and deposit it in some safe or bank vault, keeping it always accessible and subject to the control of the court; and he shall also keep in his office as a part of the records thereof a correct itemized statement of such deposit, on what account received, and the disposition made of the same. When his term of office expires, such officer shall turn over to his successor all of such trust funds and other property and the record book thereof, taking his receipt therefor. Service of notice on a party may be made, when necessary, either by the proper sheriff or constable or by any person competent to testify, and may be served in like manner as an original writ, either on the party or his attorney of record. The return of such notice when made by such officer or person, verified by his affidavit, shall be prima facie evidence of the fact of service. If the time of service is not elsewhere prescribed, the adverse party is entitled to three days' notice of a motion not relating to a pending suit, and such motions shall be taken up and disposed of in their order as other suits are required to be. Notice of a motion in a suit pending is given by filing the motion and its entry in the motion docket during the term, and such motion which does not go into the merits of the case may be disposed of at any time before the trial of the case. [Acts 1846, p. 363; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 2292. [2124-5-6-7] Audit.—When an investigation of accounts or examination of vouchers appears necessary for the purpose of justice between the parties to any suit, the court shall appoint an auditor or auditors to state the accounts between the parties and to make report thereof to the court as soon as possible. The auditor shall verify his report by his affidavit stating that he has carefully examined the state of the account between the parties, and that his report contains a true statement thereof, so far as the same has come within his knowledge. Said report shall be admitted in evidence, but may be contradicted by evidence from either party where exceptions to such report or of any item thereof have been filed before the trial. The court shall award reasonable compensation to such auditor to be taxed as costs of suit. [Acts 1846, p. 389; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1695.]

Art. 2300. [2136] [1473] Discharge of receiver.—If a receiver is discharged pending suits against him for causes of action growing out of and arising during the receivership, the cause of action shall not abate, but may be prosecuted to final judgment against the receiver; and the plaintiff may make the party or corporation to whom the receiver has delivered the property a party to the suit. If judgment is finally rendered in favor of the plaintiff against the receiver, the court shall also enter judgment in favor of the plaintiff against the party to whom the property was delivered by the receiver. [Id.]

Art. 2301. [2137] [1472] When property subject to execution.—Where there is a judgment against a receiver and he shall have in possession moneys subject to the payment of such judgment, and the plaintiff owning the judgment shall apply to the court appointing the receiver for an order to pay said judgment, and if said court should refuse to order said judgment paid, when there is money in the hands of said receiver subject to the payment of the judgment, then the court rendering the judgment shall order an execution to issue on said judgment against said receiver upon the filing by the plaintiff in the court where the judgment was rendered an affidavit reciting that the plaintiff had applied to the court appointing the receiver for an order for said receiver to pay said judgment, and that it was shown to the court that there was money in the hands of the receiver at that time which was subject to the payment of the judgment, and that said court refused to order him to pay the judgment. Said execution when so issued shall be levied upon any property in the hands of the receiver and the same shall be sold as under ordinary execution; and a sale of the property will convey the title of the same to the purchaser. [Id.]

Art. 2302. [2138] [1475] Judgments first lien on property.—All judgments rendered against a receiver for causes of action arising during the receivership shall be a lien upon all property in the hands of the receiver superior to the mortgage lien. [Id.]

Art. 2303. [2139] [1476] Persons liable for debts.—If a receiver is discharged by the court before all of the liabilities of the receiver arising during the receivership are settled in full, then the person, persons, or corporation to whom the receiver delivers the property that was in his hands as receiver shall be liable to the persons having claims against said receiver for the full amount of the liabilities. [Id.]

Art. 2304. [2140] [1477] Effect of discharge.—The discharge of a receiver shall not work an abatement of the suit against a receiver nor in any way affect the right of the party to sue the receiver if he sees proper. [Id.]

Art. 2305. [2141] [1478] Property liable for debts.—When property has been returned to the original owner without any sale of said property, such owner shall be liable for all of the unpaid liabilities of the receiver in causes of action arising out of and during the receivership, and the plaintiff may make such owner to whom the property was delivered a party defendant along with the receiver; and, if judgment is rendered against the receiver upon a cause of action arising out of and during the receivership, then the court shall also, at the same time, render judgment against such defendants for the amount so found for plaintiff; and plaintiff shall have the right to foreclose his lien on the property so returned. [2143] [1480] Liability of receiver and person to whom property is delivered.—Any person having a claim against a receiver not sued on at the date of the discharge of the receiver, shall have the right to sue said receiver, either alone or jointly, with the person or corporation to whom the receiver delivered said property that was in his hands as such receiver; and, if any judgment is rendered against said receiver, a judgment shall also be rendered against the person or corporation for the same amount that is rendered against the receiver, not to exceed the value of the property so received by said person or corporation. [Id.]

Art. 2308. [2144] [1481] Receiver to give bond on appeal.—In a suit against a receiver, if the receiver desires to appeal or apply for a writ of error from judgment rendered against him, before such appeal or writ of error shall be perfected or allowed, such receiver shall enter into bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk of the court or justice of the peace, payable to the appellee or the defendant in error, in a sum at least double the amount of the judgment, interest and costs, conditioned that such receiver shall prosecute his appeal or writ of error with effect; and, in case the judgment of the court to which such appeal or writ of error be taken shall be against him, that he will perform its judgment, sentence, or decree, and pay all such damages and costs as said court may award against him. If the judgment of the appellate court shall be against such receiver, judgment shall, at the same time, be entered against the sureties on his said bond, and execution thereon may issue against such sureties within twenty days after such judgment is rendered. [Id.]

[2145] [1482] Deposit of railroad funds.—When a line of railroad operated by a receiver lies wholly within this State, all money which comes into the hands of the receiver, whether from operating the road or otherwise, shall be kept and deposited in such place within this State as the court may direct, until properly disbursed; but, if any portion of the road lies in another State, the receiver shall be required to deposit in this State at least such share of the funds in his hands as is proportioned to the value of the property of the company within this State.

[2146] [1483] Suit by or against.—When property within the limits of this State has been placed in the hands of a receiver who has taken charge of such property, such receiver may, in his official capacity, sue or be sued in any court of this State having jurisdiction of the cause of action, without leave of the court appointing him. If judgment is recovered against said receiver, the court shall order said judgment paid out of any funds in the hands of said receiver as such receiver. [Id.]

Art. 2311. [2147] [1484] Venue of suit against.—Actions may be brought against the receiver of the property of any person where said person resides; and against receivers of a corporation in the county where the principal office of said corporation may be located, and against receivers of railroad companies in any county through or into which the road is constructed. Service of summons may be had upon the receiver, or upon the general or division superintendent of the road, or upon any agent of said receiver who resides in the county where the suit is brought.

ceipts of the corporation that came into his hands as receiver, then, if there be any floating debts against said corporation, said corporation shall be made to contribute to the floating indebtedness to the full value of the money so spent by said receiver as aforesaid. When there are liens of any kind upon the property of said corporation in the hands of such receiver, and said property is sold under the order of the court, and said liens foreclosed, then the court appointing such receiver, if there be any unpaid debts or judgments, or claims against the corporation itself, shall detain in the hands of the clerk of the court money to the full value of the improvements made by the receiver of the property sold, and pay the same over to whoever has or may have a claim, debt, or judgment against said corporation; and the court, in ordering the sale of the property, shall require sufficient cash to be paid in at date of sale to cover the full value of the improvements so made by said receiver out of the current funds received by him from the property while receiver. [Acts 1911, p. 264.]

Art. 2322. Attend all sessions of the court, take full shorthand notes of all oral testimony offered in every case tried in said court, together with all objections to the admissibility of the evidence, the rulings and remarks of the court thereon, and all exceptions thereto.

Preserve all shorthand notes taken in said court for future use or reference for a full year, and furnish to any person a transcript in question and answer form or narrative form of all such evidence or other proceedings, or any portion thereof as such person may order, upon the payment to him of the fees provided by law.

When any party to any suit reported by any such reporter shall desire a transcript of the evidence in said suit, said party may apply for same and shall indicate whether he desires same in question and answer form or in narrative form. In the event such transcript should be ordered in question and answer form, then such reporter shall make the same up in duplicate in question and answer form, and shall receive as compensation therefor the sum of fifteen cents per hundred words for the original. In the event said transcript should be ordered made in narrative form, then such reporter shall make up same in duplicate in narrative form, and shall receive as compensation therefor the sum of twenty cents per hundred words for the original; provided, that in case any reporter charges more than the fees herein allowed he shall be liable to the person paying the same a sum equal to four times the excess so paid. Said salary shall be paid monthly by the commissioners' court of the county, out of the general fund of the county, upon the certificate of the district judge. In judicial districts of this State composed of two or more counties said salary shall be paid monthly by the counties of the district in proportion to the number of weeks provided by law for holding court in the respective counties in the district; provided, that in a district wherein in any county the term may continue until the business is disposed of, each county shall pay in proportion to the time court is actually held in such county. [Acts 1925, p. 670.] [39th Leg., ch. 202, § 1.]

Article 2329. [2185-2192] Juvenile Court.—When it is sought to have a child adjudged to be a "delinquent child," as that term is defined in Article 1083 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the county courts, district courts, and the criminal district courts shall have original jurisdiction in all such proceedings. When disposing of such cases the court may be known as the Juvenile Court, and shall at all times be deemed in session for the purpose of disposing of such cases, and shall have a juvenile docket. The district court only shall have original jurisdiction in all proceedings wherein it is sought to have a child adjudged to be a dependent or neglected child, and its findings in such cases shall be entered in a book kept for that purpose to be known as the "Juvenile Record." [Acts 1907, p. 137; Acts 1913, p. 214; Acts 4th C. S. 1918, p. 43.]

Art. 2330. [2184] "Dependent or neglected child."—The term "dependent child" or "neglected child" includes any child under sixteen years of age who is dependent upon the public for support or who is destitute, homeless or abandoned; or who has not proper parental care or guardianship, or who habitually begs or receives alms, or who is found living in any house of ill fame or with any vicious or disreputable person, or whose home, by reason of neglect, cruelty or depravity on the part of its parents, guardian or other person in whose care it may be, is an unfit place for such child; or any such child whose parents or guardian permit it to use intoxicating liquor except for medicinal purposes or to become addicted to the use of such liquors, or permits it in or about any place where intoxicating liquors are sold. [Acts 1907, p. 135.]

Art. 2331. [2186] Who may institute proceedings.—Any person who is a resident of the county, having knowledge of a child in his county who appears to be a "dependent" or "neglected" child may file with the district clerk of his county a written petition, setting forth the facts constituting the child "dependent" or "neglected;" which petition shall be verified by the affidavit of the petitioner. It shall be sufficient, if the affidavit shall be upon information and belief. Such petition shall set forth the name of the parent or parents of such child, if known, and their residence; and if such child has no parent living, then the name and residence of the guardian of such child, if it has one. [Id.]

Art. 2332. [2187] Citation.—Upon the filing of such petition, the judge of said court shall fix the day and time for the hearing of such petition. If it appears that one or both of such parents, or guardian, if there be no parents, reside in said county, the clerk of said court shall immediately issue citation; which citation shall include a copy of the petition, which shall be served on such parent, parents, or guardian, if any, if either can be found in said county, not less than two days before the time fixed for said hearing, requiring them to appear on said day and hour to show cause, if any, why such child should not be declared by said court to be a "dependent" and "neglected" child. Such citation shall be served by the sheriff or any constable of the county. If it appears from the petition that neither of said parents are living, or do not reside in said county and that said child has no guardian residing in said county, or in case one or both of said parents, or the guardian in case there be no parents, shall indorse on said petition a request that the child be declared a "dependent child," then the citation herein provided for shall not be issued; and the court may thereupon proceed to a hearing of the case. In case neither of the parents or guardian is found, then the court shall appoint some suitable person to represent said child in said cause. [Id.]

Art. 2333. [2188] Hearing.—Upon such hearing of such case the child shall be brought before said court; whereupon, the court shall investigate the facts, and ascertain whether the child is a "dependent child," its residence, and, as far as possible, the whereabouts of its parents or near adult relatives, when and how long the child has been maintained, in whole or in part, by private or public charity, the occupation of the parents, if living, whether they are supported by the public or have abandoned the child, and to ascertain, as far as possible, if the child is found dependent, the cause thereof. The court may compel the attendance of witnesses on such examination; and the clerk shall issue all process and the sheriff and other officers of the court shall serve the same as in other cases. The county attorney, when requested by the court, shall appear in any such examination in behalf of the petition. It shall be the duty of the county attorney of such county, upon the request of the court or any petitioner, to file a petition and to conduct any necessary proceedings in any case within the provisions of this title. [Id.]

Art. 2334. Jury.—Any person interested in any case under this title may appear therein and may be represented by counsel, and may demand a jury as in other cases. If no jury is demanded, it shall be deemed to have been waived. The judge of the court, of his own motion, may order a jury to try such case. [Id.]

Art. 2335. [2189] Adjudication.—Upon the hearing of such case, if the said child shall be found to be a dependent or neglected child, as defined herein, it shall be adjudged a "dependent child;" and an order may be entered making disposition of said child as to the court seems best for its moral and physical welfare. It may be turned over to the care and custody of any suitable person or any suitable institution in the county or State organized for the purpose of caring for "dependent children," and which is able and willing to care for same. And when such child is so turned over to the custody of such person or institution, such person or institution shall have the right to the custody of said child, and shall be at all times responsible for its education and maintenance, subject at all times to the order of the court. [Id.]

Art. 2336. Disposition of child.—In any case where the court shall award any dependent or neglected child to the care of any individual or institution in accordance with the provisions of this title, the child, unless otherwise ordered, shall become a ward and be subject to the guardianship of the institution or individual to whose care it is committed. Such institution or individual shall, with the consent of the court, have authority to place such child in a suitable family home, the head of such family being responsible for the maintenance and education of said child. Any institution or individual receiving any such child under the order of the court shall be subject to visitation or inspection by any person appointed by the court for such purpose; and the court, may at any time, require from any institution or person a report containing such information as the court shall deem proper or necessary, to be fully advised as to the care, education, maintenance and moral and physical training of the child, as well as the standing and ability of such institution or individual to care for such child. The court may change the guardianship of such child, if, at any time, it is made to appear to the court such change is to the best interest of the child. If, in the opinion of the court, the causes of the dependency of any child may be removed under such conditions or supervisions for its care, protection and maintenance as may be imposed by the court, so long as it shall be for its best interests, the child may be permitted to remain in its own home and under the care and control of its own parent, parents or guardian, subject to the jurisdiction and direction of the court; and when it shall appear to the court that it is no longer to the best interests of such child to remain with such parents or guardian, the court may proceed to a final disposition of the case. [Id.]

Art. 2337. Custody of child.—In case any child is adjudged to be dependent or neglected under this title then such parents or guardian shall thereafter have no right over or to the custody, services or earnings of said child except upon such conditions in the interest of such child as the court may impose, or where, upon proper proceedings, such child may lawfully be restored to the parents or guardian. [Id.]

Art. 2338. Care of delinquent child.—In any case of a "delinquent child," the court may continue the hearing from time to time and may commit the child to the care of a probation officer, or to the care or custody of any other proper person, and may allow said child to remain in its own home, subject to visitation of the probation officer or other person designated by the court, or under any other conditions that may seem proper and be imposed by the court; or the court may cause the child to be placed in the home of a suitable family, under such conditions as may be imposed by the court, or it may authorize the child to be boarded out in some suitable family, in case provision is made, by voluntary contribution or otherwise, for the payment of the board of such child until suitable provision may be made in a home without such payment; or the court may commit it to any institution in the county that may care for children that is willing to receive it, or which may be provided

In no case shall a child proceeded against under this law be committed beyond the age of twenty-one. The order of the court committing such child to the care and custody of any person shall prescribe the length of time and the conditions of such commitment. Such order shall be subject to change by further orders of the court with reference to said child; and the court shall have the power to change the custody of such child or to entirely discharge it from custody whenever, in the judgment of the court, it is to the best interest of the child to do so. [Acts 1913, p. 218.]

Art. 2344. [2278] [1566] [1529] Seal.—Each commissioners court shall have a seal, whereon shall be engraved a star with five points, the words, "Commissioners Court, _____ County, Texas," (the blank to be filled with the name of the County) which seal shall be kept by the clerk of said court and used in authentication of all official acts of the court, or of the presiding officer or clerk of said court, in all cases where a seal may be necessary for the authentication of any of said acts. [Acts 1876, p. 53; G. L. vol. 8, p. 889.]

Art. 2345. [2279] [1557] [1530] The clerk.—The county clerk shall be ex-officio clerk of the commissioners court; and he shall attend upon each term of said commissioners court; preserve and keep all books, papers, records and effects belonging thereto, issue all notices, writs and process necessary for the proper execution of the powers and duties of the commissioners court, and perform all such other duties as may be prescribed by law. No two such copies shall be posted in the same town or city. [Acts 1899, p. 39.]

Art. 2348. [2274-5] [1552-3] [1525-6] Regular terms.—The regular terms of the commissioners court shall be commenced and be held at the court house on the second Monday of each month throughout the year and may continue in session one week; provided the court need not hold more than one session each quarter if the business of the court does not demand a session. Art. 2451. execution shall be granted unless the party applying therefor shall first file an affidavit with the justice that he has not the money with which to pay such judgment, and that the enforcement of same by execution prior to three months would be a hardship upon him and would cause a sacrifice of his property which would not likely be caused should said execution be stayed. Such acknowledgment shall be entered by the justice on his docket, and shall constitute a judgment against the defendant and such sureties, upon which execution shall issue in case the same is not paid on or before the expiration of such day. Article 2525. [2417] Depository Board.—The State Treasurer as secretary, together with the Attorney General and the Banking Commissioner, shall constitute the Depository Board. The said Board shall have the right to make such rules and regulations governing the establishment and conduct of State depositories and the handling of funds therein as the public interest may require, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, which said rules and regulations shall be in writing and entered upon the minutes of said Board. Whenever in this chapter the word Treasurer is used it shall mean the State Treasurer, and the word Board shall mean the State Depository Board. [Acts 1923, p. 60; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 161, ch. 57, § 1.]

Art. 2526. [2418] Bids.—The treasurer on the 15th, day of September annually, shall mail to each state and national bank doing business in this State, a circular letter enclosing an application blank to be used by banks in making application for a deposit of State funds for a term of one year after the 1st, day of December next succeeding. Said letter shall state the conditions to be complied with by the applicants as herein provided. The Treasurer shall make four certified lists of the banks to which such letters are mailed, each to be accompanied by a copy of such letter, one of which he shall deliver to each member of the Board and the other he shall keep on file in his office for the inspection of any person desiring to see the same. Funds deposited shall be for a period of one year's time. If it develops that more depositories are required at any time, the Board may send out notices to all state and national banks who are not depositories, notifying them that further applications for funds for the unexpired term will be accepted. Said additional depositories shall comply with the same rules and conditions regarding all other depositories approved under this chapter. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 161, ch. 57, § 1.]

Art. 2527. [2419] Application for deposits.—The application of the bank applying for State funds shall state its amount of paid up capital stock and permanent surplus, and the maximum of State funds it will accept, accompanying same with a statement of the bank's condition at the date of said application. Such application shall contain a provision that the books and accounts of such bank, if designated as a State Depository, shall be open at all times to the inspection of the Board, any member or any accredited representative thereof. All such applications shall be mailed to the Treasurer at Austin in time to reach his office on or before noon of the fifteenth day of October next succeeding. Applications received in the next succeeding five days may be considered at the option of the Board. [Id.]

Art. 2528. [2420] Acceptance.—When the Treasurer receives such application, he shall endorse thereupon the date of its receipt, and shall on the first Monday in November prepare three lists giving the names of all applicants for funds and the amount applied for. One list shall be furnished each member of the Board. Said board shall meet promptly thereafter and consider said applications, giving approval to those applicants that are acceptable and having the power to reject those whose management or condition, in the opinion of the board, does not warrant the placing of State funds in their possession. No application for State funds shall be granted to any bank whose liabilities for borrowed money are in excess of its capital stock, but the board may in its discretion waive this provision. State depositories shall pay interest to the State upon funds deposited with them at the rate of 4% per annum on average daily net balances, payable to the Treasurer monthly. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 161, ch. 57, § 1.]

Art. 2529. [2423] Qualifications of Depositories.—As soon as practicable after the Board shall have passed upon all applications, the Treasurer shall notify all banks whose applications have been accepted of their designation as State depositories. The Treasurer shall require each bank so designated to qualify as a State depository on or before the twenty-fifth day of November next succeeding by (a) depositing a depository bond signed by some surety company authorized to do business in Texas in an amount equal to not less than double the amount of State funds allotted, such bond to be payable to the Treasurer and to be in such form as may be prescribed by the Board and subject to the approval of such Board; or (b) by pledging with the Treasurer any securities of the following kinds in an amount at par value one-fifth greater than the amount of State funds allotted; Bonds and certificates of indebtedness of the United States, bonds of this State, bonds issued by banks organized under the Federal Farm Loan Act located in Texas, bonds of counties, independent school districts, and common school districts located in Texas, and bonds issued by municipal corporations in Texas. No state, county, independent school district, common school district or municipal bonds shall be accepted as collateral security unless they shall be approved by the Attorney General. The Board shall have the power to reject, without assigning any reason therefor, any or all collateral or any surety bond tendered by a State depository, and its action in so doing, shall be final and not subject to any review.

When the collateral pledged by a State depository to secure a deposit of State funds shall be in excess of the amount required under the provisions of this chapter, the Treasurer may, subject to the approval of the Board, permit the release of any such excess. In the event the balance to the credit of the Treasurer on the books of such bank shall be thereafter increased, adequate security as provided for in this chapter, shall be deposited and maintained by such depository bank. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 161, ch. 57, § 1.]

Art. 2530. [2426] Deposit of securities.—The securities above mentioned shall be delivered to the Treasurer and received for by him, and retained by him in the vaults of the State Treasury and if, in any case, or at any time, such bonds or other securities are not satisfactory security in the opinion of the Board for the deposits made under this chapter, they may require such additional security to be given as will be satisfactory to them. Said Board shall, from time to time, inspect such bonds and see that the same are actually kept in the vaults of the State Treasury. In the event that any State depository shall fail to pay deposits or any part thereof on the check of the Treasurer, he shall have the power to forthwith realize upon such bonds or other securities deposited by said bank, and disburse the money arising therefrom, according to law, upon the warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the funds for which said bonds or other securities are secured. Any bank making deposits of bonds or other securities with the Treasurer under the provisions of this chapter may cause such bonds or other securities to be endorsed or stamped, as they may deem proper, so as to show that they are deposited as collateral and not transferable, except as herein provided. The right of substitution of securities shall be granted to depositories, provided the securities substituted meet with the requirements of the law and are approved by the Board.

Upon request of the owner or owners, the Treasurer may surrender interest coupons or other evidence of interest when due on securities deposited with him by depository banks, provided said securities are ample to meet the requirements of the State. [Id.]

Art. 2531. [2424] Failure to qualify.—In case any bank that has submitted an application for State funds shall fail to qualify within the time specified in this chapter after being notified to do so, it shall forfeit its right to act as a depository for a period of one year. [Id.]

Art. 2532. [2425] Placing deposits.—After the depositories have qualified as provided in the preceding articles, it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to deposit the funds belonging to the State in such depositories, as far as practical on a fair percentage basis, and shall at all times keep such funds equitably prorated in proportion to the amount which each is entitled to receive by drawing warrants alternately thereon, or by apportioning the warrants so drawn.

No depository shall be entitled to keep on deposit more than fifty per cent of its paid up capital stock and permanent surplus. Any reduction in the capital stock and surplus of any depository shall reduce correspondingly the amount of funds which it can retain as a depository, and the Treasurer is authorized to withdraw from said depository any funds in excess of fifty per cent of its capital and surplus.

The amount of funds allotted to any one depository shall at no time exceed one hundred thousand dollars. If there be a surplus after the awards are made, the surplus shall be prorated among the applying banks. Such provisions, however, shall not affect arrangements for clearing checks made by said Board with Reserve Depositories as hereinafter provided.

All State depositories shall collect at their own expense all checks, drafts and demands for money deposited with them by the Treasurer, and when using due diligence, shall not be liable on such collections until the proceeds thereof have been received by the depository bank.

If the Treasurer shall fail to exercise proper diligence in depositing or investing State funds in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, he shall be liable to the State for three per centum annually on funds which he fails to deposit or invest, excepting such as he may retain in the State Treasury or on deposit with Reserve Depositories sufficient to meet the current demands on the Treasury. The term "current demands on the Treasury" as herein used, shall be construed to mean funds which may be withdrawn in payment of the State's obligations at any time. It is not the purpose of this law to require the Treasurer to deposit funds in a State depository, which in his judgment, would have to be withdrawn before October 1st, next following such deposit.

State Depositories shall show in their published statements the amount of State funds on deposit with them. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 161, ch. 57, § 1.]

Art. 2533. [2428] Reserve Depositories.—The Board shall designate one or more banks in centrally located cities to be known as Reserve Depositories, to be used for clearing checks and other obligations due the State, and the Treasurer shall keep sufficient funds on deposit in said depositories to meet all current demands upon the State. All items received by the Treasurer for collection shall be deposited with such depositories for credit to the account of the Treasurer and all checks drawn by the Treasurer for the payment of obligations due by the State may be drawn on a reserve depository or on a State depository, so that the checks of the State may at all times pass current as cash. Reserve depositories shall pay interest to the State at the rate of two and one-fourth per cent per annum on daily net balances, payable monthly, provided, however, the Treasurer is hereby authorized to waive the collection of such interest from any reserve depository on funds in like amount and for a like period of time such depository may be holding, at the request of the Treasurer, treasury warrants drawn against the general revenue fund, to assist him in preventing the State from going on deficiency. All funds deposited with reserve depositories shall be subject to demand. The Board shall fix the amount of security to be required of any reserve depository and when so fixed, the reserve depository shall execute or give security of the kind or kinds provided for other State depositories. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 161, ch. 57, § 1.]

Art. 2534. [2431] Withdrawals.—The funds on deposit with depositories shall be subject to withdrawal at any time by the Treasurer. At no time shall the withdrawal from one depository be greater than twenty-five per cent of its quota for any one month, unless fifteen days notice has previously been given the depository by the Treasurer. Whenever the current demands upon the Treasurer are such that the said twenty-five per cent is insufficient to meet such current demands, then the Treasurer shall have power, without notice, to withdraw additional amounts above the twenty-five per cent to meet such current demands, provided that such additional amounts shall be drawn in equal portion as far as possible from different depositories, and not the full amount from any one depository. The limitation as to the withdrawal of only twenty-five per cent of any bank's quota and the limitation as to additional amounts, shall not apply to any reserve depository. [Id.]

Art. 2535. [2429] Remittances.—All State depositories shall remit free of charge to the Treasurer on his demand, all withdrawals of State funds as provided for in the preceding article. All remittances to the Treasurer made by the State or reserve depositories, or any person or persons may be in cash by registered letter, by post office money order, express money order of any company authorized to do business in Texas, or by any bank draft on any bank in the following cities: Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Houston, Austin, Galveston and San Antonio. The liability of any reserve depository, State depository or person sending the same shall not cease until the said money is actually received by the Treasurer. Any depository that refuses to remit for State items, or Treasury drafts, as above indicated, shall upon order of the Board forfeit its right to receive further deposits, and the Board shall have the right to withdraw all funds from said bank, which shall thereafter cease to be a State depository. [Id.]

Art. 2536. [2434] Extensions.—If it should be found by the Board at the expiration of any biennial depository period that any of the existing depository banks have not been or will not be selected as depositories for the ensuing period and that the withdrawal of State funds at any particular depository bank will create a demand on such funds at any particular depository bank which it will not be able to meet, though otherwise solvent, and if it should be further found by the Board that such action is warranted in the interest of the public welfare, then the Board shall have the discretion and authority to extend the time of payment of such funds into the State Treasury from time to time. Such extension shall not be made unless and until such depository bank executes a new application and gives security as provided in this chapter covering such time as the Board may designate. Any depository bank receiving the benefits of this extension privilege shall pay a rate of interest one per cent per annum in excess of the then current rate as fixed by the Board. [Id.]

Art. 2537. [2432] Cancellation of contracts.—Each depository shall have the right to cancel its depository contract upon accounting to the Treasurer for all funds deposited with it, (a) at the end of any year by giving thirty days notice in advance, or (b) when the interest rate is increased by the rate Board.

The Board shall have the right to terminate a contract with a depository at any time they deem it to be in the interest of the State to do so, upon giving the depository fifteen days notice of such termination. The Treasurer may discontinue making deposits in any bank, when in the opinion of the Board the condition or management of the bank warrants such action on his part. [Id.]

Art. 2538. [2433] Surplus.—If there should be at any time a surplus of State funds above the aggregate amount applied for by and allotted to State funds above the aggregate amount applied for by and allotted to State depositories, together with the amount necessary in the judgment of the Treasurer to be carried in reserve depositories, the Treasurer is hereby authorized and it shall be his duty, with the approval of the Board, to invest all of such surplus in bearer obligations of the United States Government yielding interest at a rate of not less than three per centum per annum, such securities to be purchased on the open market at the best price obtainable and to be held by him as the property of the State in such manner as similar securities are required by law to be held. As the needs of the State may require and before withdrawing funds from any State depository, it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to convert all such obligations into cash by selling the same on the open market at the best price obtainable and placing the proceeds thereof to the credit of the proper funds. [Id.]

Art. 2539. [2437] Interest.—Any State depository receiving State funds under the provisions of this chapter shall pay to the Treasurer at the end of each month in the manner prescribed by him, interest on the average daily balance for said month at the rate fixed by the Rate Board. All State funds deposited under the provisions of this chapter shall be subject to a change in the rate of interest by the Rate Board at the end of any one year. [Id.]

Art. 2540. [2421] Rate Board.—The Texas Rate Making Board shall be composed of five members who shall be citizens of Texas, and who shall be competent and skilled business men of known ability and high moral character and integrity, to be appointed biennially by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. All members of said Board shall hold office for two years beginning February 1, biennially [biennially]. Any vacancy in the membership of said Rate Board shall be filled by the Governor for the unexpired term. The Governor shall designate one of said members as chairman of said board. In appointing said members, the Governor shall not select any two from the same section of the State. The Governor shall have full power to remove any member of said board from office for good cause, the reasons for such removal to be specified and filed with the Secretary of State. [Id.]

Art. 2541. [2421] Expenses of Rate Board.—The members of said board shall serve without remuneration, but the Legislature shall make ample provision for the payment of their traveling expenses, including hotel expenses, necessarily incurred in connection with their official duties. [Id.]

Art. 2542. [2421] Duties of Rate Board.—The Rate Board shall have power and it shall be its duty to fix and specify annually the precise rate of interest which banks designated as State depositories shall pay to the credit of the Treasurer on average daily balances in said banks. The rate of interest to be charged shall be the same for all banks. Said Rate Board shall never fix a rate for less than four per cent. [Id.]

Art. 2543. [2421] Meetings.—Said Rate Board, for the purpose of fixing such interest rate shall meet on the first Monday in September of each year, at which meeting the rate of interest for the succeeding year, beginning on December 1st of each year and ending on the 30th day of November, shall be fixed. When the rate of interest has been fixed the Rate Board shall certify the rate to the State Depository Board.

All meetings of the Rate Board shall be upon call of the chairman, or in the event of his failure, refusal or neglect to act, upon the call of any three members thereof, such meetings to be held in any available room or space in the State Capitol. Said Rate Board shall meet at least once each year on the first Monday in September, and as often thereafter as may be necessary. Whenever a quorum of both the Rate Board and the State Depository Board shall deem it necessary, the Rate Board and the State Depository Board shall meet in joint session or meeting. [Id.]

Article 2544. [2440] Notice to bidders.—The commissioners court of each county is authorized and required at the February term thereof next following each general election to receive proposals from any banking corporation, association, or individual banker in such county that may desire to be selected as the depository of the funds of such county. Notice that such bids will be received shall be published by and over the name of the county judge, once each week for at least twenty days before commencement of such term in some newspaper published in said county; and if no newspaper be published therein, then in any newspaper published in the nearest county. In addition thereto, notice shall be published by posting same at the court house door of said county. [Acts 1905, p. 392; Acts 1907, p. 208; Acts 1917, p. 16.]

Art. 2545. [2441] Sealed proposals.—Any banking corporation, association or individual banker in such county desiring to bid, shall deliver to the county judge, on or before the first day of the term of the commissioners court at which the selection of a depository is to be made, a sealed proposal stating the rate of interest offered on the funds of the county for the term between the date of such bid and the next regular time for the selection of a depository. Said bid shall be accompanied by a certified check for not less than one-half of one per cent of the county revenue of the preceding year as a guarantee of the good faith on the part of the bidder, and that, if his bid is accepted, he will enter into the bond hereinafter provided. Upon the failure of the banking corporation, association or individual banker in such county that may be selected as such depository, to give the bond required by law, the amount of such certified check shall go to the county as liquidated damages, and the county judge shall readvertise for bids. [Id.]

Art. 2546. [2442] Opening bids and selecting depository.—It shall be the duty of the commissioners court at 10 o'clock a. m., on the first day of each term at which bids are required to be received, to publicly open such bids and cause each bid to be entered upon the minutes of the court, and to select as the depository of all the funds of the county the banking corporation, association or individual banker offering to pay the largest rate of interest per annum for said funds. The commissioners court may reject any and all bids. The interest upon such county funds shall be computed upon daily balances to the credit of such county with such depository, and shall be payable to the county treasurer monthly, and shall be placed to the credit of the jury fund or to such funds as the commissioners court may direct. When selection of a depository has been made, the checks of bidders whose bids have been rejected shall be immediately returned. The check of the bidder whose bid is accepted shall be returned when his bond is filed and approved by the commissioners court, and not until such bond is filed and approved. [Id.]

Art. 2547. [2443] Bond.—Within five days after the selection of such depository, it shall be the duty of the banking corporation, association or individual banker so selected, to qualify as County Depository, (a) By executing and filing with the commissioners court a bond or bonds payable to the county judge and his successors in office, to be approved by the commissioners court and Comptroller and filed in the office of the county clerk of said county with not less than five (5) sureties, who shall offer as security unincumbered real estate in this State not exempt from execution under the laws of this State of as great value as double the amount of said bond or of as great value as double the amount of all said bonds when more than one bond, and said bond or bonds shall in no event be less than double the amount of the revenues of such county for the next preceding year for which same are made.

Such bond or bonds shall contain an accurate description of the real estate offered as security by the several sureties who execute the same, and it shall be provided in said bond that the county shall have a first lien on all of the real estate set out and described therein, to secure the performance of the obligations of such bond. Said bond or bonds when approved and filed as herein provided shall be recorded in the deed of trust records of each county in which any of the land therein described is situated as other real estate mortgages are recorded, and when the obligations of such bond are discharged said lien shall be released of record by order of the commissioners court, which order may be recorded as other releases of deed of trust liens are recorded. Nothing herein shall prevent the making of such bond or bonds by a surety company or companies, as provided by law and payable as herein provided.

Or (b) in lieu of such personal bond or surety bond, as above specified, said banking corporation, association or individual banker so selected as County Depository may pledge, and said depository bank is hereby authorized to pledge with the Commissioner's Court for the purpose of securing such county funds, securities of the following kind, in an amount equal to the amount of such county funds on deposit in said depository bank, to-wit: United States Bonds, certificates of Indebtedness of the United States, Bonds of the State of Texas, or of any County, City, Town, Independent School District, Common School District, or bonds issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act, or road district bonds; and said Commissioner's Court may accept said securities in lieu of such personal or surety bonds; and such securities so pledged by such depository bank shall be deposited as the Commissioner's Court may direct.

When the securities pledged by a depository bank to secure county funds shall be in excess of the amount required under the provisions of this Article, the Commissioner's Court shall permit the release of such excess; and when the county funds deposited with said depository bank shall for any reason increase beyond the amount of securities pledged, said depository bank shall immediately pledge additional securities with the Commissioner's Court so that the securities pledged shall at no time be less than the total amount of county funds on deposit in said depository bank. The right of substitution of securities shall be granted to depositories, provided the securities substituted meet with the requirements of the law and are approved by the Commissioner's Court. Upon the request of such depository bank, the Commissioner's Court shall surrender interest coupons or other evidence of interest, when due, on securities deposited with said Commissioner's Court by such depository bank, provided said securities remaining pledged are ample to meet the requirements of said Commissioner's Court.

The condition of the bond or bonds, or contract for securities pledged shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of all the duties and obligations devolving by law upon such depository, and for the payment upon presentation of all checks drawn upon said depository by the county treasurer of the county and that said county funds shall be faithfully kept by said depository and accounted for according to law. Any suits arising thereon shall be tried in the county for which such depository is selected. [Acts 1905, p. 393; Acts 1909, p. 165; Acts 1917, p. 17; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 197, ch. 129, § 1.]

Art. 2548. Additional bond.—Whenever, after the creation of a county depository, as by this chapter provided, there shall accrue to the county or any subdivision thereof, any funds or moneys from the sale of bonds or otherwise, the commissioners court of such county at its first meeting after such special funds shall have come into the treasury, or depository of such county, or so soon thereafter as may be practicable, may make written demand upon the duly accredited and established depository of the county for a special additional bond as such depository in a sum equal to the whole amount of such special fund, to be kept in force so long as such fund remains in such depository. Such extra or special bond may be canceled and a new bond contemporaneously substituted therefor as such special fund may have been reduced. Such special bond shall at all times be sufficient in amount to cover such special fund then on hand. Upon the failure of such depository to furnish such additional bond within thirty days from the date of such demand, the commissioners court may cause such special funds to be withdrawn upon the drafts of the county treasurer from such depository, and cause the same to be deposited in some solvent national bank or State bank whose combined capital stock and surplus is in excess of such special fund, and to leave the same or so much thereof as may not have been expended with such national bank or State bank of last deposit, until such time that such county depository may have filed with the commissioners court the required additional bond, when such special fund or so much thereof as shall not have been expended shall be forthwith returned to and deposited with such county depository. The requiring of such additional or special bond shall be optional with such commissioners court. When a banking institution selected, qualified and acting as a county depository shall become insolvent and it shall become necessary to resort to the depository bond or bonds to collect the county and State funds deposited therein, payment shall be made to the county and State pro rata.

Art. 2549. [2444] Designating depository.—As soon as said bond be given and approved by the commissioners court, and the Comptroller, an order shall be made and entered upon the minutes of said court designating such banking corporation, association, or individual banker, as a depository of the funds of said county until sixty days after the time fixed for the next selection of a depository; and, thereupon, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer of said county, immediately upon the making of such order, to transfer to said depository all the funds belonging to said county, as well as all funds belonging to any district or other municipal subdivision thereof not selecting its own depository, and immediately upon receipt of any money thereafter, to deposit the same with said depository to the credit of said county, district and municipalities; and, for each and every failure to make such deposit, the county treasurer shall be liable to said depository for ten per cent, upon the amount not so deposited, to be recovered by civil action against such treasurer and the sureties on his official bond in any court of competent jurisdiction in the county. It shall also be the duty of the tax collector of such county to deposit all taxes collected by him, or under his authority, for the State and such county and its various districts and other municipal subdivisions, in such depository or depositories, as soon as collected, pending the preparation of his report of such collections and settlement thereon, which shall bear interest on daily balances at the same rate as such depository or depositories have undertaken to pay for the use of county funds, and the interest accruing thereon shall be apportioned by the tax collector to the various funds earning the same. The bond of such county depository or depositories shall stand as security for all such funds. If the tax collector of such county shall fail or refuse to deposit tax money collected as herein required, he shall be liable to such depository or depositories for ten per cent upon the amount not so deposited and shall in addition be liable to the State and county and its various districts and other municipal subdivisions for all sums which would have been earned had this provision been complied with, which interest may be recovered in a suit by the State. Upon such funds being deposited as herein required, the tax collector and sureties on his bonds shall thereafter be relieved of responsibility for its safe-keeping. All money subject to the control of the county treasurer or payable on his order, belonging to districts or other municipal subdivisions selecting no depository, are hereby declared to be "county funds" within the meaning of this chapter and shall be deposited in accordance with its requirements and shall be considered in fixing the amount of the bond of such depository. [Acts 1905, p. 393; Acts 1917, p. 19.]

Art. 2550. [2445] Deposits not bid for.—If for any reason there shall be submitted no proposals by any banking corporation, association or individual banker to act as county depository, or in case no bid for the entire amount of the county funds shall be made, or in case all proposals made shall be declined, then in any such case the commissioners court shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to deposit the funds of the county with any one or more banking corporation, association or individual banker, in the county or in adjoining counties in such amounts and for such periods as may be deemed advisable by the court, and at such rate of interest, not less than one and one-half per cent per annum, as may be agreed upon by the court and the banker or banking concern receiving the deposit, interest to be computed upon daily balances due the county treasurer. Any banker or banking concern receiving deposits under this article shall execute a bond in the manner and form provided for depositories of all funds of the county, with all the conditions provided for same, the penalty of said bonds to be not less than the total amount of county funds to be deposited with such banker or banking concern. [Id.]

Art. 2551. [2446] Clearing house to be selected.—When the funds of any county shall be deposited with two or more depositories, the commissioners court shall select and name by order one of said depositories to act as a clearing house for the others, at which all county warrants shall be finally paid. [Acts 1905, p. 393, sec. 26.]

Art. 2552. [2447] Checks payable at county seat.—It shall be the duty of the depository to provide for the payment, upon presentment at the county seat of the county, of all checks drawn by the county treasurer upon the funds of said county, as long as such funds shall be in the possession of the depository subject to such checks. For every failure to pay any such check at such county seat upon presentment, said depository shall forfeit and pay to the holder of such check ten per cent of the amount thereof; and the commissioners court shall revoke the order creating such depository and the amount of its bid shall not be returned, but shall be forfeited to the county. [Id. sec. 27.]

Art. 2553. [2448] Depository not located at county seat.—If any depository selected by the commissioners court be not located at the seat of such county, said depository shall file with the county treasurer of such county a statement designating the place at said county seat where, and the person by whom, all deposits may be received from the treasurer for such depository, and where and by whom all checks will be paid; and such depository shall cause every check to be paid upon presentation at the place so designated so long as the said depository has sufficient funds to the credit of said county applicable to its payment. [Id. sec. 28.]

Art. 2554. [2449] Warrants, how paid and charged.—It shall be the duty of the county treasurer, upon the presentation to him of any warrant drawn by the proper authority, if there shall be money enough in the depository belonging to the funds upon which said warrant is drawn and out of which the same is payable, to draw his check as county treasurer upon the county depository in favor of the legal holder of said warrant, and to take up said warrant and to charge same to the fund upon which it is drawn. No county treasurer shall draw any check upon the funds with said depository, unless there is sufficient money belonging to the fund upon which said warrant is drawn to pay the same. No money belonging to said county shall be paid by said depository, except upon the check of the county treasurer. It shall be the duty of such depository to make a detailed statement to the commissioners court at each regular term of said court, showing the daily balances of the preceding quarter. In case any bonds, coupons or other indebtedness of any county, by the terms thereof, are payable at any particular place other than the treasury of the county, nothing herein contained shall prevent the commissioners court of any such county from causing the treasurer to place a sufficient sum at the place where such debts shall be payable at the time and place of their maturity. [Id.]

Art. 2555. [2450] May select at subsequent term.—If for any reason, no selection of a depository be made at the time provided by law, the commissioners court may, at any subsequent time after twenty days notice, select a depository in the manner provided for such selection at the regular time; and the depository so selected shall remain the depository until the next regular time for selecting a depository, un-

Art. 2556. [2451] New bond may be required.—If the commissioners court shall at any time deem it necessary for the protection of the county, it may require any depository to execute a new bond; and, if said new bond be not filed within five days from the time of the service of a copy of said order upon said depository, the commissioners court may proceed to the selection of another depository in the manner provided for the selection of a depository at the regular time for such selection. [Id. sec. 31.]

Art. 2557. [2452] Liability of Treasurer.—The county treasurer shall not be responsible for any loss of the county funds through the failure or negligence of any depository; but nothing in this chapter shall release any county treasurer for any loss resulting from any official misconduct or negligence on his part, nor from any responsibility for the funds of the county until a depository shall be selected and the funds deposited therein, nor for any misappropriation of such funds by him. [Id. sec. 32.]

Art. 2558. [2453] Bids from adjoining county.—If there be no bank situated within the county that seeks to select a county depository, then the commissioners court shall advertise for bids in the adjoining counties in the manner provided by the first article of this chapter. When a depository has been selected by the commissioners court in the manner set forth in this law said county depository shall, within five days after notice of such selection has been given to said depository, file with the county treasurer of such county a statement designating the place at said county seat where, and the person by whom, all deposits may be received from the treasurer for such depository, and where and by whom all checks will be paid. Article 2559. [2454] Council to take bids for depository.—The governing body of every city in this State incorporated under the general laws thereof, or incorporated under special charter, at its regular meeting in July of each year, is authorized to receive sealed proposals for the custody of the city funds, from any banking corporation, association or individual banker, doing business within the city, that may desire to be selected as the depository of the funds of the city. The school funds, from whatever source derived, of incorporated cities, is part of the city funds and is subject to the provisions of this chapter. Notice that such bids will be received shall be published by the city secretary not less than one nor more than four weeks before such meeting, in some newspaper published in the city. Any banking corporation, association, or individual banker, doing business in the city desiring to bid, shall deliver to the city secretary, on or before the day of such meeting designated by said published notice, a sealed proposal, stating the rate per cent upon daily balances that such bidder offers to pay to the city for the privilege of being made the depository of the funds of the city for the year next following the date of such meeting; or, in the event that such selection shall be made for a less term than one year, as hereinafter provided, then for the time between the date of such bid and the next regular time for the selection of a depository as aforesaid. All such proposals shall be securely kept by the secretary, and shall not be opened until the meeting of the council for the purpose of passing upon the same; nor shall any other proposals be received after they shall have been opened. [Acts 1905, pp. 260, 395; Acts 1917, p. 132.]

Art. 2560. [2455] Award and bond.—Upon opening of the sealed proposals submitted, the governing body shall select as the depository of such funds the banking corporation, association, or individual banker offering to pay to the city the largest amount for such privileges. The council shall have the right to reject any and all bids, and readvertise for new proposals. Within five days after the selection of such depository, it shall be the duty of the banking corporation, association or individual banker, so selected to execute a bond, payable to the city, to be approved by the mayor with the concurrence of the city council, and filed with the city secretary, with not less than three solvent sureties, who [.] shall own unincumbered real estate in the county in which said city is located, of as great value as the amount of said bond; or said depository may make such bond in some approved fidelity and surety company, the penalty of said bond to be at least double the total revenues of the city for the preceding fiscal year, and conditioned for the faithful performance of all duties and obligations devolving by law or ordinance upon said depository, and for the payment upon presentation of all checks drawn upon said depository by the city treasurer, whenever any funds shall be in said depository applicable to the payment of said check, and that all funds of the city shall be faithfully kept by said depository, and with the interest thereon accounted for according to law; and for a breach of said bond, the city may maintain an action in its name. [Acts 1905, pp. 260, 396, sec. 35.]

Art. 2561. [2456] Designating depository, etc.—As soon as said bond shall be given and approved, an order shall be made by the council designating said banking corporation, association, or individual banker, as the depository of the funds of the city until the time fixed by this chapter for another selection, and such order shall be entered upon the minutes. It shall be the duty of the city treasurer, immediately upon the making of said order, to transfer to said depository all the funds in his hands belonging to the city, and, immediately upon the receipt of the money thereafter, he shall deposit the same with said depository to the credit of the city; and, for each and every failure to make such deposit, the treasurer and his bondsmen shall be liable to said depository for ten per cent per month upon the amount not so deposited, to be recovered by civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction. If any banking corporation, association, or individual banker, after having been selected as such depository, shall fail to give bond within the time provided by this chapter, then the selection of such banking corporation, association, or individual banker, as the depository of the city funds shall be set aside and be null and void, and the governing body shall, after notice published in the manner hereinbefore provided, proceed to receive new bids and select another depository. [Acts 1905, p. 261, Id. sec. 36.]

Art. 2562. [2457] Warrant and checks paid.—The city treasurer, upon presentation to him of any warrant drawn by the proper authority, if there shall be enough money in the depository belonging to the fund upon which said warrant is drawn and out of which the same is payable, shall draw his check as city treasurer upon the city depository in favor of the legal holder of said warrant, and take up said warrant, and charge the same to the fund upon which it is drawn. In no case shall the city treasurer draw any check upon any fund in the city depository, unless there is sufficient money belonging to the fund upon which said warrant is drawn to pay the same. No money belonging to the city shall be paid out of the city depository, except upon checks of the city treasurer. All such checks shall be payable by said depository at its place of business in the city. In case any bonds or coupons or other indebtedness of the city are payable, by the terms of such bonds, coupons or other indebtedness, at any particular place other than the city treasury, nothing herein shall prevent the governing body from causing the treasurer to withdraw from the depository and to place at the place where such bonds, coupons or other indebtedness shall be payable at the time of their maturity, a sufficient sum to meet the same. [Acts 1905, p. 261. Id. sec. 37.]

Art. 2563. [2458] May select at subsequent meeting.—If for any reason no selection of a depository is made at the time fixed by this chapter, said governing body may, at any subsequent meeting, after notice published as hereinbefore provided, receive bids and select a depository in the manner herein set out, and the banking corporation, association, or individual banker so selected shall remain the depository until the next regular term for the selection of a depository, unless the order selecting it be revoked for the causes specified in this chapter. If the governing body shall at any time deem it necessary for the protection of the city, it may by resolution, require the depository to execute a new bond; and, upon failure to do so within five days after the service of a copy of the resolution on said depository, said body may proceed to select another depository in the manner hereinbefore provided. [Id.]

Art. 2564. [2458] Liability of treasurer.—The city treasurer shall not be responsible for any loss of the city funds through the negligence, failure or wrongful act of such depository, but nothing in this chapter shall release said treasurer from responsibility for any loss resulting from any official misconduct on his part nor from responsibility for the said funds at any time when, for any reason, there shall be no city depository, nor until a depository shall be selected and the funds deposited therein, nor for any misappropriation of such funds in any manner by him. [Acts 1905, p. 261, Id. sec. 38.]

Art. 2565. [2459] Restrictions upon drawing.—No check shall be drawn upon the city depository by the treasurer, except upon a warrant signed by the mayor and attested by the secretary. No warrant shall be drawn by the mayor and secretary upon any of the special funds, created for the purpose of paying the bonded indebtedness of said city, in the hands of the city treasurer, or in the depository, for any purpose whatsoever other than to pay the principal or interest of said indebtedness, or for the purpose of investing said special fund according to law. No city treasurer shall pay or issue a check to pay any money out of any special fund created for the purpose of paying any bonded indebtedness of said city other than for the purpose of paying interest due on said bonds, the principal of said bonds, or for the purpose of making an investment of said fund according to law. The treasurer shall report to the council on or before its first regular meeting of July in each year, the amount of receipts and expenditures of the treasury, the amount of money on hand in each fund, and the amount of bonds falling due for the redemption of which provision must be made; also the amount of interest to be paid during the next fiscal year, and such other reports as the existing law requires of him. [Acts 1905, p. 262, Id. sec. 39.]

Art. 2566. [2460] Definitions of terms.—All provisions of this chapter shall apply to towns and villages incorporated under the general laws of Texas, as well as to cities so incorporated, and the terms "city secretary", and "secretary" shall be construed to include the clerk or secretary of such towns and villages; the term, "city treasurer" shall be construed to include the treasurer of such towns and villages, and the term "city" shall be construed to include towns and villages. [Acts 1905, p. 262, Id. sec. 40.]

2567. Selection of special depository.
2568. For State funds.
2569. Selection optional.

Article 2567. Selection of special depository.—When any bank, which is a county, city or district

depository of public funds under the laws of this State, suspends business or is taken charge of by the Comptroller of the currency or the Commissioner of Banking, as the case may be, the lawful county, city or district authorities, authorized to select the depository in the first instance, shall have the discretion and authority to select by contract a special depository for the public funds in such suspended bank. Such special depository shall assume the payment of the amount of public funds due by the suspended bank on the date of its suspension, including interest to that date, and shall pay the same to the lawfully designated public authority in accordance with the contract entered into by such special depository. The contract shall be for the performance of the agreement entered into between the proper public authorities designated above, and the special depository, and shall require the payment of the deposit in such installments as may be agreed upon, the last of which shall be paid not exceeding three years from the date of the contract. The installments, or the amount due, may be evidenced in the discretion of the contracting parties by negotiable certificates of deposit or cashier's checks, payable at specified dates, if made a part of the contract. The performance of the contract and the payment of funds described therein shall be secured by bond, or by several bonds in case of installments, to be given by the special depository with the same character of sureties as is required by regular depository bonds. The contracts and bonds of special depositories shall be approved by the authority authorized by law to approve contracts and bonds of regularly selected depositories. The rate of interest which funds placed in a special depository hereunder shall bear shall be fixed by the contract, or such funds may, in the discretion of the contracting parties, be non-interest bearing. [Acts 1921, p. 68.]

Art. 2568. For State funds.—If any State funds are in the county depository which has failed, the amount thereof shall be ascertained by the Comptroller, who shall be authorized in his discretion to enter into a contract for the custody and payment of the same, with the special depository selected by the county authorities in the same manner that the county authorities are herein authorized so to do, and to take and approve contracts and bonds therefor. State funds thus placed in such special depository shall bear the average rate of interest received by the State on State funds placed with the regularly selected State depositories. [Id.]

Art. 2569. Selection optional.—Nothing in this chapter shall require the State, county, city or district authorities to select any special depository as herein permitted, but they may proceed by their lawful remedies against the failed bank, if, in their discretion, it is best for the public interest so to do. [Id.]

Art. 2691. [2753] Teachers' institutes.—The County Superintendent or ex-officio County Superintendent in each county having more than fifteen teachers under his supervision during the preceding scholastic year shall organize and hold, in each of said counties, with such assistance as may be necessary, within the week preceding the opening of a majority of the schools of the county as determined by the County Board of Trustees, one institute of two consecutive days for white and for colored teachers, respectively, and he shall require the attendance of white teachers upon the institute for white teachers and the attendance of colored teachers upon the institute for colored teachers; provided, that the County Superintendent shall hold such additional teachers' meetings during the first nine months of the scholastic year, not to exceed three full days, as may be authorized by the County Board of School Trustees; provided, further, that the failure of the County Superintendent to comply with these requirements shall be sufficient cause for his removal from office. The County Superintendent shall be authorized to cancel the certificate of any teacher who wilfully and persistently absents himself from attendance upon the County Teachers Institute; and the County Superintendent may refuse to approve the contract of any teacher who waits until after the county institute to sign the contract if in his opinion the delay was for the purpose of avoiding institute attendance. Teachers shall be paid at the rate of their regular monthly salaries for attendance upon the two-day institute, and for attendance upon such additional teachers' meetings as may be authorized by the County Board of School Trustees; provided, that payment for institute attendance may be made at the close of the last school month of the term; provided, further, that the County Board of School Trustees shall determine whether teachers in their respective counties shall be paid for attendance upon such other teachers' meetings as may be authorized by said board. The plan, scope, and quality of work in both county and independent school district institutes shall be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The Board of Trustees of any independent school district having five hundred or more scholastic population may authorize the superintendent of schools in such district to organize and hold institutes for the teachers in such districts, in lieu of the county institute; provided, that the superintendent of schools in such district shall have authority to enforce attendance upon institute. Art. 2691a. Rural school supervisors.—Sec. 1. That the County Board of School Trustees in Counties having a population of 36,750 to 37,550, according to the Federal census of 1920, and a scholastic population of at least 9,000 as shown by the scholastic report for the school year of 1926-27, may employ a rural school supervisor to plan, outline, and supervise the work of the primary and intermediate grades of the rural schools of the county.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of such supervisor to visit the schools of the county and help the teachers with their class work by teaching demonstration lessons for them; suggesting methods of presenting the work and aiding them in any other ways possible.

Sec. 3. The supervisor may call meetings of the teachers when deemed necessary, for the purpose of discussing their work with them, and it shall be the duty of the teachers to attend all such meetings called by the supervisor, whenever possible.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Sec. 4. The salary of the rural school supervisor shall be determined by the County Board of School Trustees; provided that the total salary paid such supervisor for any one year shall not exceed $1,800.00. Said salary shall be paid out of the local or available funds of the districts in proportion to the weekly salary, or salaries, of the teachers of the district.

Sec. 5. The employment of a rural school supervisor under the terms of this Act shall exempt the county superintendent from holding a teachers' institute for rural teachers, and exempt the rural teachers of the county from attendance upon a teachers' institute as provided for in Article 2691, Revised Statutes of 1925, and as amended by the Fortieth Legislature; provided that such employment shall not exempt the County Superintendent from holding an institute for all independent school districts with a scholastic population of less than five hundred as provided for under Article 2691. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 249, ch. 91.]

Art. 2692. [2755] Shall apportion funds.—The county superintendent, upon the receipt of the certificate issued by the State Board of Education for the State fund belonging to his county, shall apportion the same to the several school districts, not including the independent school districts of the county, making a pro rata distribution as per the scholastic census, and shall at the same time apportion the income arising from the county school fund to all the school districts, including the independent school districts of the county, making a pro rata distribution as per scholastic census. Within thirty days after such apportionment, the trustees of each district shall, if possible, agree upon a division of the funds of the district among the schools thereof, and shall fix the term for which the schools of the district shall be maintained for the year. Should they agree upon a division of the funds of the district or upon the length of the term of which the schools of the district shall be maintained, they shall at once certify their agreement to the county superintendent who shall not approve any contracts with teachers of the district until such agreement is received. Should the trustees fail to agree, they shall at once certify their disagreement to the county superintendent who shall proceed to fix the school term of such school district and declare the division of the school fund of the district among the schools thereof, endeavoring as far as practicable to provide, for the schools of such district, school terms of the same length. [Acts 1905, p. 263; Acts 1907, p. 204.]

Art. 2693. [2756] General duties.—The county superintendent shall approve all vouchers legally drawn against the school fund of his county. He shall examine all the contracts between the trustees and teachers of his county, and if, in his judgment, such contracts are proper, he shall approve the same; provided, that in considering any contract between a teacher and trustees he shall be authorized to consider the amount of salary promised to the teacher. He shall distribute all school blanks and books to the officers and teachers of the public schools, and shall make such reports to the State Superintendent as may be required by that officer. He shall discharge such other duties as may be prescribed by the State Superintendent. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

Art. 2694. [2757] May administer oaths.—The county superintendents are hereby empowered to administer oaths necessary in transacting any business relating to school affairs; but shall receive no compensation for administering same. [Id.]

Art. 2695. [2759] Transfers.—Each year after the scholastic census of the county is completed, the county superintendent shall, if any district has fewer than twenty pupils of scholastic age, either white or colored, have authority to consolidate said district as to said white or colored schools with other adjoining districts, and to designate the board of trustees which shall control the white or colored school of such consolidated district. But this shall be done before the apportionment is made, and the apportionment shall be made with respect to such consolidation. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

Art. 2696. [2760] Application to transfer.—Any child lawfully enrolled in any district, or independent district, may at the discretion of the county superintendent be transferred to the enrollment of any other district, or independent district, in the same county, upon the written application of the parent or guardian or person having the lawful control of such child, filed with the county superintendent. No child shall be transferred more than once. The applicant shall state in said application that it is his bona fide intention to send said child to the school to which the transfer is asked. Upon the transfer of any child, its portion of the school funds shall follow and be paid over to the district, or independent district, to which such child is transferred; provided, no transfer shall be made after August first, after the enrollment was made. [Id.]

Art. 2697. [2761] Transfer to adjoining county.—Any child specified in the preceding article, and its portion of the school fund, may be transferred to an adjoining district in another county, in the manner provided in said article. It must be shown to the county superintendent that the school in the district in which such child resides, on account of distance or some uncontrollable and dangerous obstacle, is inaccessible to such child. [Acts 1907, p. 242.]

Art. 2698. Emergency transfers.—In case of conditions resulting from public calamity in any section of the State such as serious floods, prolonged drouth, or extraordinary border disturbances, resulting after the scholastic census has been taken, in such sudden change of the scholastic population of any county as would work a hardship in the support of the public free schools of the said county, the State apportionment of any child of school age may, on approval of the State Board, be ordered by the State Superintendent to be transferred to any other county or independent school district in any other county; provided, that the facts warranting such transfer shall be sent to the State Superintendent by the county or district board of trustees of schools to which transfer is to be made with a formal request for the said transfer before the first of August of the year in which such unusual conditions occur. No application for emergency transfers shall be granted unless the number of transfers applied for exceeds twenty per cent of the number of children assigned to said district including regular transfers as a result of the preceding census. The State Superintendent shall in such case notify the county superintendent of both counties that final apportionments of school funds cannot be made under these circumstances before August 15. All arrangements for the said emergency transfers must be completed by the 15th of August following the unusual conditions causing the emergency. Children whose State funds are thus transferred to any county shall be included in the number of children for whom the county school apportionment of the said county is made. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1919, p. 87; Acts 1923, p. 253.]

Art. 2699. [2762] By agreement of trustees.—Except as herein provided, no part of the school fund apportioned to any district or county shall be transferred to any other district or county; provided that districts lying in two or more counties, and situated on the county line, may be consolidated for the support of one or more schools in such consolidated district; and, in such case, the school funds shall be transferred to the county in which the principal school building for such consolidated district is located; and provided, further, that all the children residing in a school district may be transferred to another district, or to an independent district, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the trustees of said districts interested. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

1. COMMON SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Article 2741. [2815-6] Establishment of districts.—The commissioners courts of all organized counties not already subdivided shall subdivide their respective counties into convenient common school districts and designate them by number. Any county hereafter organized shall be so subdivided before the beginning of the next ensuing school year after its organization. The commissioners court of any organized county, to which any unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes, may, and, upon written petition of not less than ten resident citizens of such unorganized county shall create such unorganized county into one or more school districts, and shall cause an order to that effect to be entered upon the minutes of said court. Said courts may reduce the area of any common school district, create additional school districts, consolidate two or more adjacent districts, or subdivide any school district, if necessary for the interest of the school children; provided, no school district shall be established so as to contain less than nine square miles of territory. The area of a school district having an outstanding bonded indebtedness, shall never be reduced until after such bonded indebtedness shall have been fully discharged.

In counties containing a population of less than ten thousand, no common school district shall be organized or surveyed in such a manner that the geographical center of the same will be more than four miles from the farthest line of said district. All districts shall be located as conveniently as possible to the scholastic population. [Acts 1905, p. 263; Acts 1913, p. 259.]

Art. 2742. [2817] To designate districts.—Said courts shall give the metes and bounds of each district, and shall designate the same carefully by giving the whole surveys and parts of surveys with acreage of whole surveys and approximate acreage of parts of surveys in each district, and the county clerk shall carefully record the same; and each district shall be given a number which shall be painted in large letters or figures over the doors of the school houses, said signs to be provided by the district trustees of each district. [Id.]

Art. 2742a. Reduction and revision of districts.—Sec. 1. The County Board of Trustees in each organized county with common school districts containing one hundred and twenty-five square miles or more which have no bonded indebtedness, may subdivide such districts, or revise or rearrange the boundaries of any districts, or may detach territory therefrom and add such territory so detached to other adjoining common school districts or independent school districts which have heretofore been incorporated under general or special-law, if necessary for the interest of the school children, provided that no such common school district, when so reduced, shall contain less than nine square miles; and provided further that no such action shall be taken by said board of trustees without reasonable notice to the public and to the trustees of the districts affected nor without giving sufficient opportunity for all interested persons to be heard.

Sec. 2. The portion of territory detached from such common school district when added to an independent school district, shall become subject to and be governed by all laws governing such independent school district. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 239, ch. 165.]

Section 3 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 239, ch. 165, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

Art. 2742b. Method of increasing or diminishing area of districts and adjusting indebtedness.—

Sec. 1. Whenever a majority of the legally qualified property taxpaying voters residing in any territory contiguous to an Independent School District desire the annexation of said territory to the contiguous Independent School District, the County Judge, when petitioned by 20 or a majority of the property taxpaying voters residing in the district from which the territory is to be taken, shall order an election in said Common School District for the purpose of determining whether a majority of the legally qualified property taxpaying voters residing in said Common School District shall favor the annexation of the proposed territory.

The petition for the election must give the metes and bounds of the territory to be annexed and said metes and bounds shall be included and made a part of the order of the County Judge calling for the election. Said order for the election must be issued and public notice given thereof, as in other school elections, three weeks prior to the date of said election. The returns of said election shall be canvassed by the Commissioners' Court, and if it is found that a majority of the legally qualified property taxpaying voters residing in the district from which the territory is to be taken are in favor of the annexation, a petition shall then be presented to the Board of Trustees of the Independent District to which the territory is to be annexed, and if the Board of Trustees of the Independent District approve the annexation, it shall be made; but before said annexation shall become final, it shall be approved by the County Board of School Trustees of said County.

Provided that before the Independent Districts shall have the authority to accept the annexation of territory thereto, an election shall be ordered by the Trustees of said Independent District and notice thereof given as in other school elections. If a majority of the legally qualified voters residing in said District, voting at such election, vote in favor of annexation, the territory may be annexed as provided for herein; provided, however, that no consolidation or annexation can be had or effected unless and until each district affected shall, by a majority of the votes cast in said District, vote in favor of such annexation or consolidation.

Sec. 2. Whenever a majority of the legally qualified, taxpaying voters residing in a contiguous area of an Independent District or Common School District desire to have such territory detached from said Independent District or Common School District and annexed to some other Independent District or to a Common School District or for the purpose of forming a new district, they shall present a petition duly signed to the Board of Trustees of the Independent District or Common School District praying for the detachment of the territory for one of the purposes mentioned herein. If the Board of Trustees find that the petition is duly signed by a majority of the legally qualified taxpaying voters residing in such territory, it may pass an order detaching such territory therefrom and declaring it annexed to some other district or for the purpose of forming a new district; provided, that the order of the Board of Trustees of the Independent District or Common School District must be approved by the County Board of Trustees and the annexation of the detached territory to any other district must be made by the County Board of Trustees and the creation of any new district from the detached territory must be made by said County Board of Trustees; provided that no new district shall be created with an area of less than 25 square miles; and no district shall be created or have its area increased except for the convenience of the school children or avoidance of hazards to them.

Sec. 3. Territory may be annexed to a Common School District upon petition of a majority of the legally qualified property taxpaying voters residing within the proposed annexation by the County Board of School Trustees; provided that whenever a majority of the legally qualified property taxpaying voters residing within any Common School District shall vote so to do, the County Board of Trustees may abolish said Common School District and annex the territory contained therein to one or more contiguous school districts.

The election herein provided for shall be ordered by the County Judge and the returns canvassed and the results declared as is provided by law for other elections pertaining to Common School Districts.

Sec. 4. It is herein provided that the maximum limit of 25 square miles which an Independent District may contain shall not apply to any provision of this Act, and it shall be lawful to increase the area of an Independent District without any limitations being placed on the maximum number of square miles such district may contain; but no Common School District shall be encroached upon or reduced in area except by majority vote of the qualified voters of such Common School District.

Sec. 5. Whenever a majority of the legally qualified property taxpaying voters residing in a Common School District, or one or more Common School Districts formerly constituting an Independent School District, desire to incorporate the said Common School District as an Independent School District for school purposes only, they may do so on a petition presented to the County Board of Trustees, and when the said County Board of Trustees find that the petition is duly signed by a majority of the legally qualified property taxpaying voters, and sufficient evidence being presented that said district when formed into an Independent School District will be financially capable of maintaining High School work at a reasonable cost per capita, they shall grant said petition by making an order upon the minutes of said County Board of Trustees; said order shall state the name by which said Independent School District shall be known and by which it may sue and be sued; at the same time said County Board of Trustees shall order an election in said Independent School District for seven school trustees, said election to be held according to the General Election Laws of the State; the returns of said election shall be made to the County Board of Trustees who shall declare the result; when the newly elected school trustees have qualified, said Independent School District shall enjoy all the privileges of an Independent School District as provided by Statutes.

Sec. 5a. Whenever a majority of the legally qualified property taxpaying voters residing in two or more contiguous Common School Districts lying in two or more Counties desire to consolidate said contiguous Common School Districts for school purpose only, they may do so by a petition signed by twenty or more of the qualified taxpaying voters in each Common School District, presented to the County Board of School Trustees of the County in which the Common School District is situated.

Each County Board of County School Trustees upon the receipt of above mentioned application shall order an election in the Common School District of their respective Counties praying for the consolidation to determine if such Common School District shall consolidate with its contiguous Common School District lying in an adjoining County. Said election shall be held in each County upon the same date. The returns of said election shall be made to the respective Boards of County School Trustees who shall declare the result and if the consolidation is approved by a majority of the taxpaying voters of each Common School District applying for consolidation, the Board of County School Trustees of each County shall declare the result and at the same time notify the school trustees of each Common School District voting for consolidation who shall within ten days meet in joint meeting and select a name by which said new consolidated school district shall be known and designate the County having supervision of said consolidated district and at the same time they shall appoint school trustees for said new consolidated school district who shall serve until the next April election or until their successors shall qualify. Upon the election and qualifying of the above mentioned school trustees the new consolidated school district shall be in all manner and form governed by the general laws made and provided for the government of Common School Districts.

Sec. 5b. In the manner prescribed by general law, Article 2806, Revised Statutes, 1925, providing for the consolidation of school districts by election, Common School and Common County-line Districts may be consolidated, and Common School and Common County-line School Districts may be consolidated with a contiguous Independent District in the same or in an adjoining County; provided that when the proposition is to consolidate districts having territory in two or more adjoining Counties, the petitions and election orders prescribed in Article 2806, Revised Statutes, 1925, shall be addressed to and issued by the County Judge of each County for and in behalf of each district wholly in his County or over which his County has jurisdiction for administrative purposes, and the County Commissioners' Court of each County shall canvass the returns of the election in each district lying wholly within the County or under its jurisdiction for administrative purposes, and declare the results, as in the case of the consolidation of districts lying wholly within one County; and when the results are so declared the consolidation of the districts shall thereby become effective.

Districts formed under the provisions of this Act by the consolidation of Common School and Common County-line Districts shall be known as consolidated Common or consolidated Common County-line Districts, as the case may be, and shall function as Common School Districts, except as otherwise provided by general law governing consolidated Common School Districts.

Sec. 6. All districts heretofore created by the Commissioners' Court or by the County Board of Trustees are hereby validated in all respects as though they had been legally created and all acts of the Board of Trustees of said district are hereby made valid and legal; except in cases in which the creative orders have been appealed from and no final disposition of such appeals has been made all of which districts are expressly excluded from this provision.

Sec. 7. Nothing in any provision of this Act shall repeal or effect the law enacted by the Regular Session of the 39th Legislature, providing for the creation of rural high schools.

Sec. 8. One County Trustee shall be elected from the County at large and one from each Commissioners' Precinct by the voters of the districts under the supervision of the County Trustees and no school district not under the supervision of such trustees shall participate in their election.

Sec. 9. When the boundaries of any school district having an outstanding bonded indebtedness have been changed or its territory divided or two or more of such districts consolidated, it shall be the duty of the County Board of Trustees to make such an adjustment of such indebtedness and district properties between the districts effected and between the territory divided, detached or added, as may be just and equitable, taking into consideration the value of school properties and the taxable wealth of the districts effected and the territory so divided, detached or added as the case may be. And when said Board has arrived at a satisfactory basis of such an adjustment, it shall have the power to make such orders in relation thereto as shall be conclusive and binding upon the districts and the territory thereby effected.

Sec. 10. To carry into effect orders adjusting bonded indebtedness when changes are made in school districts, the County Board of Trustees shall have the power to order the Trustees of the districts effected, to order an election for the issuing of such refunding bonds as may be necessary to carry out the purpose of such order; and, in such case, it shall be the duty of the district trustee to order such election, cause the same to be held, and, if the proposition is carried, to issue the bonds voted. Such bonds shall be of the same denomination and carry the same interest rate and mature at the same time as the outstanding bonds owing by the district issuing them; and when so issued, shall if possible be exchanged for the outstanding bonds for which the district issuing them shall still be liable, according to the order adjusting such indebtedness; and in cases where such an exchange cannot be made the new bonds of the district, to the amount of the old bonds for which it is still liable and to which no exchange can be made, shall be deposited in the County Treasury to the account of such district. Thereafter taxes shall be levied and assessed only for the payment of interest, sinking fund and principal of the new bonds so issued; and the funds arising from such taxation shall be used to discharge the principal and interest of such new bonds as have been issued and exchanged and such old bonds as have not been exchanged. When taxes are collected applicable to new bonds not exchanged and the proceeds applied to payment on old bonds not exchanged, the corresponding new bonds in the County Treasury shall be credited with such payment and retired as the old unexchanged bonds are retired.

Sec. 11. In cases where changes are made and districts having outstanding bonded indebtedness and where the necessary refunding bonds are voted down or where the County Board of Trustees are otherwise unable to arrange an adjustment or settlement of such bonded indebtedness, it shall be the duty of the trustees to certify the fact and the territories effected by such changes, to the Commissioners' Court and thereupon it shall become the duty of the Commissioners' Court to thereafter annually levy and cause to be assessed and collected from the taxpayers of such districts as they existed before the changes were made, the tax necessary to pay the interest, the sinking fund and discharge the principal of such indebtedness as it matures. And it shall be the duty of each Independent School District so effected, to cause all funds in its hands, whether sinking funds or otherwise, which have been collected on account of such bonded indebtedness, to be transferred to the County Treasurer of the County in which such district is situated and such district shall thereafter cease to levy and collect any tax on account of such bonds; and it shall be the duty of the County Treasurer to keep the funds so transferred and those arising from taxation, in separate accounts and apply the same only to the discharge of such bonded indebtedness and the interest thereon, as the same matures.

Sec. 12. Nothing in the provision of this Act shall prevent the County Board of Trustees from arranging any other method for the adjustment and settlement of outstanding bonded indebtedness of school districts in which changes are made but they shall have full power and authority to make any legal and equitable adjustment and settlement in such cases that can be effected. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 228, ch. 84.]

Section 13 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 228, ch. 84, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws, and section 13a provides that if any section is held invalid such holding shall not affect the remaining sections.

Art. 2743. County line districts.—The boards of county school trustees shall have full power and authority to create common school districts, to contain territory within two or more counties. In creating said district each such board shall pass an order describing the territory to be included in such district by metes and bounds, giving the course and direction with the exact length of each line contained in such description and locating each corner called for upon the ground, and shall also give the acres of each survey and parts of survey of lands contained in such district, together with a map showing the conditions upon the ground as described in the field notes, giving the number of acres of land contained in each survey and parts of survey contained in each county; also showing the exact position and location of the county line in the territory created into such district. Said order shall also designate and name some one of the counties having territory included in the description of such district which shall manage and have control of the public schools therein for all school purposes.

Said district shall have no authority or power until said order has been passed by the board of county school trustees of each county having territory included therein. No common county line school district shall be created with or changed to a less area than nine square miles, and shall be laid out in as near the shape of a square as possible, and in no event shall the length of such district be greater than the width plus one-half of the width of such district. [Acts 1909, Ch. 17; Acts 1911, p. 200; Acts 1917, p. 441.]

Art. 2744. County line districts; powers.—Common county line school districts shall have all the rights, powers and privileges of common school districts, and for all school purposes, shall be managed and controlled by the county named in the order creating such district, and should such district desire to levy the special tax authorized by law to be levied for the purpose of the maintenance of its schools, or to issue bonds in accordance with the limitations for such purpose provided by law for common school districts, or both, after an election has been held in such common county line school district as provided by law and it has been determined by a majority vote that such district shall levy such special tax or issue such bonds, the commissioners court of the county having control of such district shall pass an order levying such tax or issuing such bonds, or both, against the territory included within such county where the commissioners court in control of the school is located, and such order levying said tax or issuing said bonds and levying a tax to pay the interest and sinking fund, shall be passed by the commissioners court of each county having territory in such district. Each such court shall continue to levy the said tax at such rate as is determined and certified by the county superintendent of the county having control of said schools until such tax be diminished or abrogated, as provided by law, or such bonds, if such a district has outstanding bonds, have been fully and finally paid and discharged. The tax assessor shall assess the taxes levied by the commissioners court of his county against the territory included in such county line school district for each year that such tax is levied, and shall make up a separate tax roll covering the special tax on territory in his county included in the county line school district, and deliver it with the general tax rolls of his county, which shall guide the tax collector in collecting the local taxes for such school district. The tax collector shall collect such special tax for such county line district in his county for every year that such tax has been levied in such districts and keep a separate account covering the territory of his county included in county line school districts, for the purpose of determining how much tax has been collected, and such taxes shall be paid by his county to the county line school district. Such district shall not be changed or abolished except by the consent of the commissioners court of each county having territory contained therein, and if such a district has outstanding bonds the same shall not be changed or abolished in any way until after such bonds are finally paid and discharged. [Acts 1911, p. 200.]

Art. 2744a. Districts and bonds validated.—

Sec. 1. All school districts, including all common county-line school districts, heretofore attempted to be created or consolidated by the proper authorities of the county, or by election in cases where an election for such purpose may have been authorized by law, and which have been recognized as valid by the proper school authorities of the respective counties, are hereby validated; provided that in case of such elections it appears that a majority of the votes cast in each district concerned was in favor of such creation or consolidation of such district or districts, or that in the case of common county-line school districts, the same territory has been designated by the proper authorities of each county concerned; such districts are hereby validated in all respects.

Sec. 2. All bond issues and all levies of special school taxes heretofore voted or which may hereafter be voted by any such district, are hereby validated, as though the original creation or consolidation of such district was in all respects regular; provided that the proceedings in the election for such bond issue or special taxes were or shall be in all other respects valid; and provided further that this Act shall not be construed as validating any bond issue attempted to have been voted upon any territory larger than, or in any way different from, that defined by the latest valid order of the county board of trustees, changing or defining the boundaries of the district for which such election was attempted to be held. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 196, ch. 71.]

Art. 2745. [2818] Election of trustees.—On the first Saturday in April of each year, the qualified voters of each common school district, at a school district meeting for that purpose, shall elect three trustees for said district, who shall enter upon the discharge of their duties on the first of May next following. No person shall be trustee who cannot read and write the English language intelligibly, and read, comprehend and interpret the school laws of Texas, and who has not been a resident of such district for six months prior to his election. They shall immediately organize by electing one of their number president and one secretary. The term of office of said trustees shall be divided into two classes, and they shall draw for the different classes; and one drawing number one shall serve for one year, and those drawing numbers two and three shall serve for two years. On the first Saturday in April of each year thereafter, alternately one and two trustees shall be elected each of whom shall serve for two years. Said trustees shall first take the official oath and shall, as soon as practicable, file same with the county superintendent or county judge. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

Art. 2746. [2819–20] Conduct of election.—Said trustees shall appoint three persons, qualified voters of the district, who shall hold such election and make returns thereof to said trustees within five days after such election, and said persons shall receive as compensation for their services the sum of one dollar each, to be paid out of the general fund of the county in which said election was held. The board of trustees, when ordering such election and appointing persons to hold election, shall give notice of the time and place where such election will be held, which notice shall be posted at three public places within the district at least twenty days prior to the date of holding said election. If, at the time and place for holding such election, any or all of the persons so appointed to hold such election are absent or refuse to act, then the electors present may select of their number a person or persons to act in the place of those absent or refusing to act. Said board of trustees shall meet and canvass the returns of said election within five days after returns have been made and declare the result of said election and issue to the persons so elected their commissions as such trustees, and shall notify the county judge or the county superintendent if the county has a superintendent. [Id.; Acts 1915, p. 204.]

Art. 2746a. [2820] Official ballots.—All of the ballots for the election of school trustees in common school districts and in independent school districts having fewer than 500 scholastics as shown by the last preceding scholastic census roll approved by the State Department of Education and exclusive of transfers shall be printed with black ink on clear white paper, of sufficient thickness to prevent the marks thereon being seen through the paper, and be of uniform style; at the top of the ballot shall be printed "Official Ballot, Independent School District," the number or name of the school district in which the election is to be held to be filled in by the judge of the county when he orders the ballots printed. Any person desiring to have his name placed on said official ballot, as a candidate for the office of trustee of a common school district or independent school district as herein provided shall, at least ten days before said election, file a written request with the county judge of the county in which said district is located, requesting that his name be placed on the official ballot, and no candidate shall have his name printed on said ballot unless he has complied with the provisions of this section; provided that five or more resident qualified voters in the district may request that certain names be printed. The county judge, upon receipt of said written request, and at least five days before the election, shall have the ballots printed as provided in this Act, placing on the ballot the name of each candidate who has complied with the terms of this Act and deliver a sufficient number of printed ballots and necessary election supplies to the presiding officer of the election at least one day before the election is held, the said election supplies including the ballots, poll lists and tally sheets to be delivered by the county judge by mail or in any other manner by him deemed best, to the presiding officer of said election in sealed envelopes, and said sealed envelopes shall not be opened by the election officers until the day of the election. The expense of printing the ballots and delivering same to the presiding officers, together with the other incidental expenses, shall be paid out of the general funds of the county. The election officers of said election shall be required to use the ballots so furnished by the county judge as provided by the terms of this Act. The election officers shall make returns of said election to the county judge and certify the result in the same manner as is now required by law, and said ballot boxes, which have been furnished by the local school officials shall be sent to the county judge and said election returns shall be canvassed by the commissioners' court, and together with ballot boxes shall be safely preserved for a period of three months next after the date of the election. [Acts 1925, p. 329.] [39th Leg., ch. 128, § 1.]

Art. 2747. Removal of trustee.—If a trustee so elected or appointed as herein provided, who in the opinion of the county superintendent, does not possess the qualifications prescribed by law, the county superintendent shall refuse to recognize such person who has been so elected and make written request within twenty days after such election, of the county attorney, or district attorney if there be no county attorney, to institute and prosecute with dispatch suit in the name of the State for the removal of such trustee, in the district court of the county where such trustee resides, at the option of said attorney. Upon good cause shown within the discretion of the court where such suit is pending, it shall be lawful to enjoin and restrain such person from acting as such trustee during the pendency of such suit. It shall be lawful to summon such trustee before the court in the trial of such cause, and there make examination of him as to his qualifications to serve as such. If after being so summoned, such trustee fails, neglects or refuses to obey said summons and fails to appear for the purpose of examination, and fails or refuses to submit to such examination, such failure, neglect or refusal shall be prima facie evidence of his disqualification, and because thereof the court trying such cause shall be authorized to render thereupon judgment by default against such trustee so defaulting, removing him from his said office and declaring the same vacant. The county board of education of the county where such trustee has been elected shall appoint some suitable person, who is qualified by law to act as such trustee, if during the pendency of such suit said trustee shall be enjoined from so acting. If such trustee so elected shall be so removed then such trustee so appointed shall continue to serve until the next regular election of school trustees for such district. The county board of education shall fill a vacancy in said office by appointing a suitable person qualified by law to act as trustee until the next regular election of school trustees for such district. [Acts 1905, p. 263; Acts 1907, p. 204; Acts 1917, p. 447.]

All reports and other official papers shall be headed with the number of district and name of county. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

They shall have the power to employ and dismiss teachers; but in case of dismissal, teachers shall have the right of appeal to the county and State Superintendents. They shall contract with teachers and manage and supervise the schools, subject to the rules and regulations of the county and State Superintendents; they shall approve all claims against school funds of their district; provided, that the trustees, in making contracts with teachers, shall not create a deficiency debt against the district. [Id.]

Art. 2750. [2825] Contracts with teachers.—Trustees of a district shall make contracts with teachers to teach the public schools of their district, but the compensation to a teacher, under a written contract so made, shall be approved by the county superintendent before the school is taught, stating that the teacher will teach such school for the time and money specified in the contract. The board of trustees shall have authority, whenever the average daily attendance exceeds thirty-five pupils, to employ one competent assistant to every thirty-five pupils of such excess and fractional part thereof exceeding fifteen pupils. All children within the scholastic age residing in such district, though they may have settled in such district since the scholastic census was taken, shall be entitled to receive all the benefits of the schools of such district. In a district that levies a special school tax the trustees shall have the right to increase the salaries of teachers and the scholastic age, and may also have the schools taught longer than six months, if it is deemed advisable. [Id.]

Art 2751. [2826] Check for payment of teacher.—The amount contracted by trustees to be paid a teacher shall be paid on a check drawn on the county treasurer by a majority of the trustees and approved by the county superintendent. [Id.; Acts 1921, p. 237.]

Art. 2751a. Prompt payment of teachers.—That County Boards of School Trustees of the various counties of Texas shall, on September 1st of each year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, ascertain the current financial resources of each school district under their supervision and in the event any of said districts do not or will not have sufficient funds on deposit to pay the salaries of teachers when and as due authorize the Depository Bank of the County to charge interest at a rate to be agreed upon by said depository and said trustees, which rate shall not exceed eight per cent per annum on vouchers issued to teachers from the date of the receipt by said depository until sufficient funds accrue to the credit of the district issuing said vouchers to liquidate the respective vouchers, the said interest to be paid from the available funds of the district affected; provided that no voucher shall draw interest after sufficient funds have accrued in the depository for its payment, and provided further that the vouchers on which the interest is to be charged shall not exceed in amount fifty per cent of the current available funds of the district issuing said vouchers. And in order to enable the County Board of Trustees to make provision for paying teachers' salaries when due as provided for herein, the Depository Bank shall, on the request of the County Board of Trustees, furnish the County Board with a report of the funds to the credit of the various school districts, and of the financial needs of said districts; and the financial statement of the said Depository Bank made at the close of scholastic year to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall include full reports of all interest charged under the provisions of this Act. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 385, ch. 260, § 1.]

Section 2 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 385, ch. 260, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

Art. 2752. [2844-5] Contracts for building.—The trustees of a school district shall contract for the erection of the buildings and superintend the construction of the same; and the county superintendent shall draw his warrant upon the school fund so appropriated only upon the accounts first approved by them. No mechanic, contractor, material man, or other person, can contract for, or in any other manner have or acquire, any lien upon the house so erected or the land upon which the same is situated; and all contracts with such parties shall expressly stipulate for a waiver of such lien. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

Art. 2753. [2846] Sale of school property.—The trustees of any school district, upon the order of the county trustees prescribing the terms thereof, when deemed advisable, may make sale of any property belonging to said school district, and apply the proceeds to the purchase of necessary grounds, or to the building or repairing of schoolhouses, or place the proceeds to the credit of the available school fund of the district. [Id.]

Art. 2754. [2847] Control of school property.—All school houses erected, grounds purchased or leased for a school district, and all other property belonging thereto, shall be under the control of the district trustees of such district. [Id.]

Art. 2755. [2848] Separate schools.—A school house constructed in part by voluntary subscription by colored parents or guardians, and for a school for colored children, shall not be used for white children without the consent of the trustees of the district, and a like rule shall protect the use of school houses erected in part by voluntary subscription of white parents or guardians for the benefit of white children. 2. INDEPENDENT DISTRICTS IN TOWNS

Art. 2757. [2851-54] Incorporation of town.—Any common school district containing seven hundred inhabitants or more may form an incorporation for free school purposes only, which may or may not include within its bounds any town or village incorporated for municipal purposes, the same not having assumed control of the public free schools within its limits. The territory so incorporated shall hereinafter be called an "independent school district" and said incorporation shall be laid out in a square as near as may be practicable with reference to the location of a school building.

Whenever any such common school district as herein provided is desired to be so incorporated there shall be presented to the county judge a petition signed by twenty or a majority of the resident qualified voters thereof praying for an election to be ordered for the purpose of determining the question of such incorporation. Said petition shall also contain a definite description by metes and bounds of such common school district proposed to be so incorporated, and said petition shall recite the name by which such independent school district shall be known, and said petition shall pray for an election to determine whether said common school district shall be incorporated as an independent school district and for the election of seven trustees.

Upon presentation of said petition to the county judge as herein provided such county judge shall enter his order upon the minutes of the commissioners court granting said petition, provided that said county judge finds and determines the sufficiency of such petition and that the facts presented to him in support of such petition are true and substantially inclusive. Such order of election by said county judge shall, when made, specify the date of said election which shall be held within twenty days from the date of such order, and shall designate the place or places at which said election shall be held in said common school district proposed to be so incorporated, and said county judge shall, by such order, appoint a presiding officer for the place or each of the places of said election, and said county judge shall also, in entering such election order, describe the proposition to be so submitted together with a definite description by metes and bounds of the common school district proposed to be so incorporated. The said county judge shall issue a notice of such election stating in substance the contents of such election order and the time and place or places of said election, and said county judge shall cause the sheriff to post a copy of such notice of election in three different public places within the boundaries of such common school district as described in said election order, which posting shall be done not less than ten days prior to the date fixed for said election.

The said election shall be held under the provisions of the laws of this State regulating general elections, except as herein otherwise provided, and only qualified voters who are residents of the common school district proposed to be so incorporated, shall be entitled to vote at said election. The officers holding the said election shall make returns of the result thereof to said county judge, and said county judge shall canvass such returns and declare the results of said election, and if a majority of the votes cast at said election shall have been cast in favor of such incorporation, then said county judge shall so find and enter his order to that effect and incorporating said independent school district upon the minutes of the commissioners court and cause the county clerk to record a certified copy of such order in the deed records of the county. Thereupon, such "independent school district" shall thereafter be regarded as duly incorporated for free school purposes only and shall have and is hereby vested with all the rights, powers and privileges conferred and imposed by the general laws of this State upon independent school districts. And said independent school district shall, upon notice to the State Superintendent of Education, be entitled to receive its share of the available school fund to which it is entitled as provided by the laws of this State.

Whenever any unincorporated town or village is included within the boundaries of any incorporated independent school district and such town or village be thereafter incorporated for municipal purposes, it shall not hereby acquire any right to take or assume control of the public free schools within its limits. [Acts 1905, p. 263; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 353, ch. 238, § 1.]

Section 3 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 353, ch. 238, provides that if any of its provisions shall be held invalid, such holding shall not affect the remaining provisions, and section 4 repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

Art. 2758. [2852-3] Board of trustees.—

When the said county judge shall enter his order for the incorporation election herein provided, he shall at the same time order an election to be held at the same time and place or places and by the same election officers for the election of a board of trustees to consist of seven members. Notice of the said election for the seven members of said board of trustees for the proposed independent school district shall be given within the same time and manner as herein provided for the giving of notice of election for the incorporation of an independent school district. The said election shall be held at the same time and place by the same election officers appointed to hold such incorporation election, and such election officers shall make returns of the result of such election for trustees to said county judge, and said county judge shall canvass the returns and declare the result thereof for said election and enter his order to that effect in the same manner as herein provided for such incorporation election. And said county judge shall issue his certificate of election to each of the seven candidates for the office of such trustee who received the greatest number of votes cast for the office of trustee, respectively. And upon the issuance of such certificate of election to and upon the taking of the oath of office provided in the Constitution of this State, by each of such trustees, they shall, respectively, be deemed to have fully qualified and shall immediately enter upon the discharge of their respective duties. When each of the seven trustees have so qualified as herein provided, they shall, respectively, file their oaths of office with the county judge, and proceed with the organization of the board of trustees by electing one of their number as president of the board of trustees, electing a secretary of such board of trustees who may or may not be a member of such board, and by election a treasurer and an assessor and collector of taxes, and such other officers and committees as shall be deemed by said board necessary.

Each of the seven trustees who were elected at such incorporation election shall hold office until the next regular trustee election to be held on the first Saturday in April next succeeding and until their respective successors have been duly elected and qualified, at which time seven trustees shall be elected for said independent school district, whose respective terms of office shall be determined in the following manner and by the following method: Such trustees shall draw by lot, and those trustees drawing the numbers 1, 2, 3 and 4 shall serve one year for the term of office ending with the next regular trustee election on the first Saturday in April of the following year and until their respective successors have been duly elected and qualified. And those trustees drawing the numbers 5, 6 and 7 shall serve for two years for the term of office ending with the next regular trustee election on the first Saturday in April of the second year following their election.

The said board of trustees of each of such independent school districts incorporated under the provisions of this Act shall have and exercise and are hereby vested with all the rights, powers, privileges and duties conferred and imposed upon the trustees and boards of trustees of independent school districts by the general laws of this State. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 353, ch. 238, § 2.]

See note to art. 2757.

Art. 2759. City control of district.—When a town or village incorporated for free school purposes only under the general law, and hereinafter designated as an "independent school district," and a city or town forming a part of such independent school district, which is incorporated for municipal purposes, under the general law, and hereinafter referred to as an incorporated city or town, shall desire to have the public schools within such independent district assumed by or under the control of such city or town, the same shall be done in the following manner:

Whenever as many as fifty or a majority of the resident qualified voters of such independent school district petition the district board of trustees thereof to order an election for the purpose of voting on such proposition of whether or not the public free schools in said district shall be assumed and controlled by such incorporated city or town, said board shall order an election to be held at the usual voting places within such district, and which election shall be ordered and held in conformity with the law governing bond and tax elections in independent school districts, except the qualified electors voting thereat need not be property tax payers, but must be qualified to vote under the laws of this State regulating general elections. [Acts 1919, 2nd C. S. p. 32.]

Art. 2760. City control: ballot.—All persons voting at such election in favor of such proposition shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "For assuming control of the public free schools of _____ Independent School District by the city of _____, Texas," and all persons voting at such election not in favor of such proposition shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "Against assuming control of the public free schools of _____ Independent School District by the city of _____, Texas." [Id.]

Art. 2761. Extent of city control.—If a majority of the qualified voters voting at the election in such independent school district, shall vote in favor of the incorporated city or town assuming control of the schools of such independent school district, the district board of trustees shall certify the results of such election to the governing authority of such incorporated city or town, together with a certified copy of the record showing all the proceedings had in the incorporation of such independent school district and all boundary extensions thereto, if any, together with a well defined map accurately showing the territory described in such record. If said governing authority finds that such election has been in all respects lawfully held and the returns thereof duly and legally made, then it shall, by ordinance duly passed and entered of record, assume control and management of the public free schools within its limits, in conformity with the provisions and requirements of subdivision 3 of this chapter except as otherwise provided herein; provided, that if the boundaries of such independent school district do not coincide with the boundaries of the incorporated city or town, then the city governing body shall on the same day pass an ordinance extending its corporate line for school purposes only so that the same shall coincide with and embrace the same territory within such independent school district. If such independent school district shall have an outstanding bonded indebtedness, then the incorporated city or town shall become liable and bound for the payment of such bonded indebtedness and the governing body thereof, shall levy and cause to be assessed and collected, upon all property subject to taxation within the limits of such incorporated city or town or within the limits of such corporation as extended for school purposes only if the boundaries of the former independent school district were not the same as the boundaries of the incorporated city or town, taxes to pay interest on such bonds and provide a sinking fund sufficient to redeem the same at maturity, and such tax thereafter shall be annually levied and collected so long as such bonds, or any of them, are outstanding and unpaid; and provided further that the assumption of the control of the schools of such independent school district shall not abrogate or affect any maintenance tax theretofore authorized in such independent school district and such tax shall thereafter be annually levied, assessed and collected by the proper authorities of such incorporated city or town, until increased or changed by the qualified voters in conformity with the provisions and requirements of subdivision 4 of this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 2761a. Abolishing corporate existence affecting school districts.—Sec. 1. That all cities and towns and villages that have heretofore assumed control of the schools within its limits, whether or not said districts have been added to as provided by the laws of Texas, are hereby declared to be Independent School Districts.

Sec. 2. That where towns and villages or cities and towns have heretofore abolished their corporate existence as in municipal corporation the public free schools theretofore under the control of said towns and villages or cities and towns, are hereby declared to be independent school districts and shall remain under the control of the Trustees theretofore elected or appointed, and said Trustees shall be annually elected thereafter, unless said city or town shall sooner re-incorporate for municipal purposes and again assume control of said schools as provided by Article 2759, Revised Civil Statutes, 1925. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 81, ch. 57.]

Section 3 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 81, ch. 57, validates all towns and villages or cities and towns that have heretofore assumed control of their free public schools and have abolished their corporate existence and reincorporated and again assumed control of their free public schools, and also all acts by the board of trustees of the district or the municipal authorities in accepting said acts and assuming control of the district.

Art. 2762. City control: officers.—Nothing in this law shall be construed as affecting the terms of office of any trustee previously elected in such independent school district and serving as such at the time of the assumption of the control of the district schools by the incorporated city or town, and such trustees shall be vested with the same authority as is conferred by law upon school trustees in cities and towns constituting separate and independent school districts, and shall thereafter be elected in the same manner as school trustees for such cities and towns, in accordance with the provisions of the succeeding subdivision of this chapter. [Acts 1919, 2nd C. S. p. 32.]

Art. 2763. [2856] Small districts: laws applicable.—All incorporated districts, having each fewer than one hundred and fifty scholastics according to the latest census, shall be governed in the general administration of their schools by the laws which apply to common school districts; and all funds of such districts shall be kept in the county depositories and paid out on order of the trustees approved by the county superintendent. [Id.; Acts 1909, p. 17.]

Art. 2764. Districts in several counties.—Independent school districts may be created containing territory within two or more counties in the same way and manner that towns and villages are created by law for municipal purposes; provided, that the map required by the law governing said incorporation shall show the correct location and position of the county lines involved in such incorporation proceedings. Said incorporated free school district containing territory in two or more counties shall have all the rights, powers, and privileges granted under the general laws to incorporations for free school purposes only. The same modes, manners, and methods of government and procedure provided by the general law for independent school districts incorporated for free school purposes only shall govern the management and control of the incorporated school districts for free school purposes containing territory within two or more counties. [Acts 1911, p. 200.]

Art. 2765. [2865] Extension of boundaries.—Whenever the territory heretofore incorporated, or which may hereafter be incorporated, for free school purposes, shall contain less than twenty-five square miles, and thereafter the majority of the inhabitants, qualified to vote for members of the Legislature, of any territory adjoining the limits of the town and village so incorporated, shall desire such territory to be added to and become a part of such incorporated town or village for free school purposes only, and a majority of such qualified voters sign a petition to that effect, any three of such qualified voters may file with the president of the board of trustees of such incorporated town or village the said petition, fully describing by metes and bounds the territory proposed to be annexed and showing its location with reference to the existing territory of the town or village already incorporated, provided that said territory proposed to be added must be contiguous to one line of said corporation. Upon so filing said petition, affidavits and descriptions, said president shall submit the same to the board, and, if upon investigation by the board it is found that the proposed addition will not increase the corporate limits so that the whole, when so increased, will exceed twenty-five square miles, the said board of trustees, by resolution duly entered upon its minutes, may receive such proposed territory as an addition to, and become a part of, the corporate limits of such town or village; a copy of which resolution, containing a description of the added territory, shall be filed for record in the county clerk's office of the county in which said town or village is situated, after which the territory so received shall be a part of said town or village; and the inhabitants thereof shall thenceforth be entitled to all the rights and privileges, and subject to the same liabilities of taxation as other citizens, and all property within said limits shall thenceforth be subject to such taxation as may have been, or may hereafter be, provided by said incorporation for free school purposes only. [Id.]

Art. 2766. [2866] Change of boundaries.—The commissioners court of any county shall have the authority to change the boundaries of any independent district incorporated for free school purposes only, situated in said county, when in the judgment of said court the public good demands such change; provided, that the president of the board of trustees of the independent district to be affected by the proposed change shall first be notified, and said board of trustees shall have the right to be heard in case there is opposition to the change. No such change shall be made that would reduce the total value of taxable property in any independent district against which there are outstanding bonds legally issued. [Id.]

Art. 2767. Change of districts.—All independent school districts incorporated for free school purposes within the State of Texas, whether created under the general laws or by special act, now in existence, or hereafter to be created may be abolished in the manner herein provided:

The County Judge of any county in which any independent school district or part thereof is situated, shall, upon petition in writing signed by twenty-five of the resident property tax payers, who are qualified voters of such independent school district, make an order for holding an election for such purposes, on a day therein stated, and at a place within said independent school district and within the county in which said county court is situated, therein designated. He shall appoint an officer to preside at the election, who shall select two judges and two clerks to assist in holding it. After previous notice of ten days by posting advertisements thereof at three public places within such independent school district, the election shall be held in the manner prescribed by law for holding general elections, except as is herein provided.

All persons who are legally qualified voters of the State and of the county in which such independent school district or part thereof is situated, and who have resided within said independent school district for at least six months next preceding, shall be entitled to vote at such election.

The officers holding such election shall make return thereof to the County Judge within ten days after the same is held. If a majority of such voters, voting at such election, shall vote to abolish such independent school district, the County Judge shall declare such independent school district abolished, and shall enter an order to that effect upon the minutes of the commissioners Court, and from the date of such order, said independent school district shall cease to exist. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 444, ch. 294, § 1.]

Section 2 of said Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 444, ch. 294, provides that if any provision thereof is held invalid such holding shall not affect the other provisions.

Art. 2767a. Payment of indebtedness of district abolished.—When any independent school district is abolished, whether as provided in this Chapter, or in any other lawful manner, having at the time of such abolishment, outstanding bonds or other indebtedness, enforceable either at law or in equity, then the County Board of School Trustees, or County Board of Education, as the case may be, for the purpose of paying such bonds, or other indebtedness, shall manage, control or dispose of all property of said independent school district; shall have power to levy and collect taxes; shall have power to bring and defend litigation in the name of said independent school district and shall have power to do any and all things necessary for the payment of such bonds or other indebtedness, which such independent school district, or the Trustees thereof, could have done if such independent school district had not been abolished. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 444, ch. 294, § 1.]

See note to art. 2767.

Art. 2767b. Suits against district abolished.—Any creditor of any independent school district which has been, or may be abolished, either under this Act [Arts. 2767–2767f], or in any other lawful manner, shall file his claim against said district with the County Board of School Trustees, or the County Board of Education, as the case may be, within sixty days after said school district has been abolished. If such claim is not allowed, such creditor may maintain suit against such abolished independent school district as such, in the proper court of the State. Service in such suit may be had upon the Chairman, or President of the County Board of School Trustees, or Board of Education, as the case may be, and such County Board of School Trustees, or Board of Education, shall defend such suit on behalf of such abolished independent school district, and may, within its discretion, make such settlement of such litigation as may be deemed advisable. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 444, ch. 294, § 1.]

See note to art. 2767.

Art. 2767c. Taxation for indebtedness.—As used in this, and the succeeding articles the term "Independent School District" is defined to mean any independent school district whether created by special act, or under the general laws; and the term "school district" shall include every school district now existing or hereafter to be created in any manner whatsoever and likewise any other corporation having assumed control of its schools.

When all of the territory embraced within the boundaries of any abolished independent school district, having previously had legal existence, and having outstanding bonds or other indebtedness, enforceable either at law, or in equity, shall thereafter be contained or included within the limits of any other school district, all taxes against the property of such abolished independent school district at the time at which it is included or contained within such other school district, shall remain in full force and effect and shall be levied and collected by such other school district and the proper officers thereof until said entire indebtedness is fully paid.

If a part of the territory embraced within such abolished independent school district shall thereafter be included or contained within the limits of such other school district, then such taxes shall remain in full force and effect upon the property so included and shall be collected as hereinbefore provided until the proportion of such indebtedness as the assessed value of the portion so included or contained bears to the entire assessed value of said abolished independent school district, has been paid fully. The assessed values of such property shall be those shown upon the preceding county tax assessment roll after such territory is included in such other district.

Such other school district may assume such bonds or other indebtedness at an election held for that purpose, at which a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters of such other district, shall vote in favor thereof; in which event, all of the property within such other district, not exempt under the law, shall be subject to taxation for the payment of such bonds or other indebtedness. And the proper officers of such other district, shall levy upon such property in said district, a tax adequate for the payment of said bonds and other indebtedness, over such a period of time as may be necessary for that purpose. Such election shall be held in the manner provided for holding an election for voting bonds, or for voting a special tax, as the case may be, within such other school district. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 444, ch. 294, § 1.]

[Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 444, ch. 294, § 1.]

See note to art. 2767.

Art. 2767e. Uncollected taxes.—When all or part of the territory embraced within an abolished independent school district, having at the time of such abolishment, no outstanding indebtedness, shall be included or contained within the limits of such other school district, all uncollected taxes on the property so included or contained for the years up to and including the last day of January of the year immediately following that in which such territory is included or contained, within such other school district, shall be levied and collected by such other school district at the rate in force at the time of such abolishment and in the same manner as such abolished independent school district might or could have done had no abolishment been had. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 444, ch. 294, § 1.]

See note to art. 2767.

Effect of abolishing district created out of territory of two districts.—Upon the abolishment of an independent school district created by special or local law out of territory theretofore containing two or more common school districts, said common school district shall immediately come into existence by operation of law with the same boundaries they had prior to the creation of said independent school district; and all funds, property, rights and liabilities of the abolished independent school district may be divided as between [between] the said common school districts by agreement between the trustees of said common school districts. In the event said trustees are unable to agree, decision shall be made by the county board of school trustees for said funds, property, rights and liabilities to be apportioned to the said common school districts in an equitable and just manner, taking into consideration the property owned and the assets and liabilities of said common school districts at the time such independent school district was created and also taking into consideration the assets and liabilities coming into existence after the formation of said independent school district. Any bonds issued by one of said common school districts prior to the creation of said independent school district shall be paid and retired by the common school district issuing same, and taxes for that purpose shall be levied and collected by said common school district. Any moneys paid by such abolished independent school district in connection with any such bond issue to take care of interest or sinking fund, shall be paid back by the common school district issuing such bonds in such an amount as will be necessary to reimburse the other common school district or districts in the territory of such abolished independent school district. High school children in any common school district within the territory of any such abolished independent school district which independent school district was created out of two common school districts shall have the right to attend school in the other common school district within the territory composing any such abolished independent school district without tuition, provided such other common school district has not more than 350 scholastic population. Such board of trustees shall constitute a body corporate, and shall have full power to protect the title, possession and use of all such property within the limits of such city or town, and may bring and maintain such suit or suits in law or in equity in any court of competent jurisdiction when necessary to recover the title or possession of any such property that may be adversely held or seized, or to prevent any trespass upon or injury to such property; provided, that the provisions of this article shall not apply to lands belonging to the State upon which houses for school purposes have been built without authority from the State. All such bonds shall bear not more than six per cent interest per annum, and may mature serially or otherwise, not exceeding forty years from their date; provided, that when the houses are to be built of wood, said bonds shall mature in not more than twenty years from their date. Such bonds shall be examined by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller. All bonds shall be sold to the highest bidder for not less than their par value, and the proceeds of such sale shall be deposited in the county depository for the common school districts, and in the district depository for the independent school districts, to the credit of such districts, and shall be disbursed only for the purpose for which said bonds were issued, on warrants issued by the district trustees and approved by the county superintendent for common school districts, and by the president of the board of trustees and countersigned by the secretary of said board for independent districts. [Id.]

Art. 2787. Common school bonds.—If the proposition to issue said bonds of a common school district carries at an election held therefor, the commissioners court as soon thereafter as practicable shall issue said bonds on the faith and credit of said common school district. Said bonds shall express on their face: The State of Texas, the name of the county, and the number or corporate name of the district issuing said bonds. They shall be signed by the county judge, countersigned by the county clerk and registered by the county treasurer, in accordance with the general law relative to county bonds. At the time of the issuance of said bonds and each year thereafter so long as any of said bonds are outstanding, the said court shall levy a bond tax within the limits herein specified to pay the interest on said bonds and redeem the same at maturity. The rate of such tax shall be determined by the trustees of the district and county superintendent and certified by the county superintendent to the commissioners court, and said court shall levy the tax at said rate until a change is recommended by said school officers. Said tax shall be assessed and collected as provided by law for the assessment and collection of special local tax for the maintenance of public free schools. After said bonds shall have been issued and sold and said bond tax has been levied, it shall be unlawful to hold an election in said district to determine whether or not said tax shall be discontinued or lowered until said bonds, together with the interest thereon, shall have been fully paid, nor shall the limits and boundaries of said common school district ever be decreased by the county board of school trustees until all of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon shall have been fully paid. [Id.]

Art. 2787a. May pay bond.—The State Board of Education may authorize the trustees of any common school district or of any independent school district of this State to pay off and discharge, at any interest paying date whether the bonds are matured or not, all or any part of any bonded indebtedness now owned or hereafter to be owned by the State Permanent School Fund, outstanding against any common school district, or any independent school district in this State.

It shall be the duty of the school trustees of any common school district, or any independent school district of this State desiring to pay off and discharge any bonded indebtedness now owned or hereafter to be owned by the Permanent School Fund of this State, outstanding against such district or districts, before maturity thereof, to make direct application in writing to the State Board of Education at least thirty days before any interest paying date on said bonds, making known to said State Board of Education the desire of said trustees to pay off and discharge said bonded indebtedness, or any part thereof, describing said bonds or the part thereof that the trustees desire to pay off and discharge; and it shall be the duty of the State Board of Education upon receipt of such application to act thereon in such manner as they deem best and notify the applicant or applicants whether the application is refused or granted in whole or in part; provided, that only such tax money as has been collected by virtue of tax levies made for the specific purpose of providing a sinking fund and paying interest on the particular bonds to be redeemed shall be expended in the redemption, taking up, or paying off of such bonds as provided in this Act; unless said bonds are being redeemed for the purpose of being refunded; and the application of the board of trustees of any common or independent school district desiring to retire bonds as herein provided shall include an affidavit to that effect in their application; and provided further, that it shall be unlawful for any person upon whom any duty rests in carrying out the provisions of this law to give or receive any commission, premium, or any compensation whatever for the performance of such duty or duties.

The provisions of this Act shall apply also to the governing boards of all cities, counties and political subdivisions in this State whose bonds are owned or may hereafter be owned by the Permanent School Fund of the State.

Art. 2788. Independent district bonds.—The bonds authorized to be issued by independent districts shall be coupon bonds, and the aggregate amount thereof shall never reach an amount such that a tax of fifty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property will not pay current interest and provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal at maturity. The election for said bonds shall be held within thirty days after order of election, as fixed in the election order. The board of trustees shall at the same time fix the polling places for holding such election and name a judge and two clerks at each polling place, or more judges and clerks, if deemed necessary, and furnish all necessary ballots and other election supplies requisite to such election. Immediately after the bond election the officers holding the same shall make returns of the result thereof to the board of trustees of the district, and return the ballot box to the secretary of such board, who shall safely keep the same and deliver them together with the returns of the election to the board of trustees at its next regular or special meeting; and said board shall then canvass the returns and declare the result of said election. If said election results in favor of the issuance of bonds and the levy of the tax in payment thereof, said board, after such result has been declared, shall make an order directing the issuance of the bonds of such district and provide for the levy and collection of a tax annually of sufficient amount with which to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund with which to pay such bonds at maturity. Such bonds shall state upon their face the purpose for which they are issued, and shall be issued in the name of the independent school district, signed by the president of the board of trustees of such district, and countersigned by the secretary of such district, and have the seal of the district affixed to each bond. When said bonds have been duly approved and registered, they shall continue in the custody of and under the control of said board and shall be sold by said board for cash, either in whole or in parcels. [Id.]

Art. 2789. [2864] Refunding bonds.—Where bonds have been legally issued, or may be hereafter issued, by any town or village incorporated for free school purposes only, new bonds, bearing the same or a less rate of interest, may be issued in conformity with this subdivision in lieu thereof; provided, no election shall be necessary to authorize the issuance of such new bonds; and provided, further, that the State Treasurer shall, upon order of the State Board, exchange bonds not matured held by him for the permanent school fund for the new refunding bonds issued by the same incorporation under the provisions of this subdivision, in case the rate of interest on the new bonds is not less than the rate of interest on the bonds for which they are exchanged. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

Art. 2790. Independent district tax.—If an independent school district votes a maintenance tax, the board of trustees shall thereafter annually levy and cause to be assessed and collected upon the taxable property in the limits of the district for the maintenance of the public free schools of the said district such ad valorem tax as the qualified voters of such district authorized at the election held for that purpose; or if no specific rate has been voted, said board shall levy such a rate each year within that limit as it may deem judicious. Where a maintenance tax has been voted, no election to revoke, modify or increase the same shall be held until two years from the date of the election authorizing such maintenance tax. An election to revoke, modify or increase such maintenance tax, when permissible, may be obtained and held substantially as herein provided for an election to authorize such tax; provided, however, that no change or modification in such maintenance tax shall ever affect any bond tax authorized by such district. [Acts 1921, p. 56.]

Art. 2791. [2861] Independent district assessor.—The district tax assessor and collector shall have the same power and shall perform the same duties with reference to the assessment and collection of taxes for free school purposes that are conferred by law upon the city marshal of incorporated towns or villages, and he shall receive such compensation for his services as the board of trustees may allow, except in cities and towns provided for, not to exceed four per cent of the whole amount of taxes received by him. He shall give bond in double the estimated amount of taxes coming annually into his hands, payable to and to be approved by the president of the board, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties, and that he will pay over to the treasurer of the board all funds coming into his hands by virtue of his office as such assessor and collector; provided that in the enforced collection of taxes the board of trustees shall perform the duties which devolve in such cases upon the city council of an incorporated city or town, the president of the board of trustees shall perform the duties which devolve in such cases upon the mayor of an incorporated city or town, and the county attorney of the county in which the independent school district is located shall perform the duties which in such cases devolve upon the city attorney of an incorporated city or town under the provisions of law applicable thereto. It shall be within the discretion of the board of trustees of any independent school district to name an assessor of taxes who shall assess the taxable property within the limits of the independent school district within the time and in the manner provided by existing laws, in so far as they are applicable, and when said assessment has been equalized by a board of equalization appointed by the board of trustees for that purpose, shall prepare the tax rolls of said district and shall duly sign and certify same to the county tax collector as provided for in the succeeding article. The said assessor of taxes shall receive a fee of two per cent of the whole amount of taxes assessed by him as shown by the completed certified tax rolls. [Acts 1905, p. 263; Acts 1923, 2nd C. S., p. 78.]

Art. 2792. [2862] County assessor for independent district.—When a majority of the board of trustees of an independent district prefer to have the taxes of their district assessed and collected by the county assessor and collector, or collected only by the county tax collector, same shall be assessed and collected by said county officers and turned over to the treasurer of the independent school district for which such taxes have been collected. The property of such districts having their taxes assessed and collected by the county assessor and collector, shall not be assessed at a greater value than that assessed for county and State purposes. If said taxes are assessed by a special assessor of the independent district and are collected only by the county tax collector, the property of said district may be assessed at a greater value than that assessed for State and county purposes and the county tax collector in such cases shall accept the rolls prepared by the special assessor and approved by the board of trustees as provided in the preceding article. When the county assessor and county collector are required to assess and collect the taxes of independent school districts they shall respectively receive one per cent for assessing and collecting same. [Id.]

Art. 2793. [2829–32] Common school tax: election.—The county judge shall appoint a presiding officer for each voting place to hold any such election in common school districts; and shall prepare the ballots for such elections, and the county shall bear the expense of having them printed. All polls for school district elections shall be opened at eight o'clock a. m., and shall be closed at six o'clock p. m. and none of the officers holding such election shall be entitled to compensation therefor. Any person may challenge a voter; but if the challenged party takes an oath that he is a qualified voter of the State and county, and that he is a resident property taxpayer in said district, he shall be entitled to vote. [Acts 1905, p. 263; Acts 1909, p. 17.]

Art. 2794. [2833–35] Change in common school tax.—At any time after the expiration of two years after any common school district has levied a school tax on itself, twenty property taxpaying qualified voters, or a majority of such voters of the district, may have an election held, upon the proper petition to the county judge, to determine whether such tax shall be abrogated, increased or diminished. Said election shall be held and conducted as other elections in said district. If the election be to abrogate or diminish the school tax, the ballots shall have written or printed thereon the words: "For abrogating school tax," or "For diminishing school tax to cents;" and "Against abrogating school tax," or "Against diminishing school tax to cents." If the election be to determine whether the tax shall be increased, the ballots shall have written or printed thereon the words: "For increase of school tax" and "Against increase of school tax." [Id.]

Art. 2795. Levy of common school tax.—The commissioners court, at the time of levying taxes for county purposes, shall also levy upon all taxable property within any common school district the rate of tax so voted if a specific rate has been voted; otherwise said court shall levy such a rate within the limit so voted as has been determined by the board of trustees of said district and the county superintendent and certified to said court by the county superintendent. If such tax has been voted after the levy of county taxes, it shall be levied at any meeting of said court prior to the delivery of the assessment rolls by the assessor. The tax assessor shall assess said tax as other taxes are assessed and make an abstract showing the amount of special taxes assessed against each school district in his county and furnish the same to the county superintendent on or before the first day of September of the year for which such taxes are assessed. The taxes levied upon the real property in said districts shall be a lien thereon and the same shall be sold for unpaid taxes in the manner and at the time of sales for State and county taxes. The tax collector shall collect said taxes as other taxes are collected. The tax assessor shall receive a commission of one-half of one per cent. for assessing such tax and the tax collector a commission of one-half of one per cent. for collecting the same. The tax collector shall pay all such taxes to the county treasurer, and said treasurer shall credit each school district with the amount belonging to it, and pay out the same in accordance with law. [Acts 1921, p. 56.]

Road districts organized and bonds issued under laws held invalid by the United States Supreme Court in Browning v. Hooper, 46 S. Ct. 141, 269 U. S. 396, 70 L. Ed. 330, were validated by Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 33, ch. 17.

Art. 2796. Districts affected.—The provisions of the twelve preceding articles relative to tax and bond elections in common school districts shall also apply to common county line school districts. The provisions hereof relative to tax and bond elections in independent school districts shall apply to any such district incorporated under general or special laws for school purposes only, and shall also apply to all such incorporated districts having each fewer than one hundred and fifty scholastics according to the latest census. [Id.]

Art. 2797. Teachers' homes.—Any common school district or independent school district, whether created by special act of the Legislature or by vote of the people, and any city or town which has assumed control of its public schools, may issue serial coupon bonds in the same manner as provided by law for the issuance of other bonds to build and equip school houses and to purchase sites therefor, for the purpose of purchasing or building a teachers' home and for purchasing land in connection therewith, provided no bonds shall be issued to provide a home in a district employing fewer than three teachers in a single school. [Acts 1923, p. 256.]

Art. 2798. [2875] Tax in cities.—After a city or town has assumed control of the public free schools within its limits, the governing body shall also submit the question to the property taxpayers as to whether or not the additional amount as provided for herein-after shall be raised by taxation. The provisions of this subdivision relative to the holding of elections in common school and other independent districts shall apply to elections held under the provisions of this law, except as otherwise provided herein. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

Art. 2799. [2877] Election for tax.—The governing body of any city or town which is a separate and independent school district, whether incorporated under any act of the Congress of the Republic or the Legislature of Texas, or under any act or incorporation whatever, shall have power by ordinance to annually levy and collect ad valorem taxes for the support and maintenance of public free schools and for the erection and equipment of public free school buildings in the city or town. The proposition submitted may be for such a rate of ad valorem tax not exceeding such per cent. as may be voted by a majority vote of all votes cast at any such election. If the proposition is carried, the school tax shall be continued to be annually levied and collected for at least two years, and thereafter, unless it be discontinued at an election held to determine whether the tax shall be continued or discontinued at the request of fifty property taxpayers of such independent district. When the tax is continued no election to discontinue it shall be held for two years; when the tax is discontinued no election to levy a tax shall be held during the same year. [Id.; Acts 1917, p. 380.]

Art. 2800. [2878–9] Governing body to fix rate.—If the vote of the taxpayers is in favor of said tax, then the governing body of a city or town which has assumed exclusive control of the public free schools in its limits shall annually thereafter levy and assess upon the taxable property in the limits of such district, by ordinance duly passed and approved, in accordance with the usual assessment of taxes for municipal purposes, such additional tax, not to exceed the rate voted, as may be necessary for the support and maintenance of the public schools and for the erection and equipment of public school buildings for nine months in the year. If a specific rate of tax has been voted, the governing body shall have no discretion in determining the rate to be levied, but shall levy and assess the same at the rate voted. [Id.]

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art. 2801. [2880] Trustees to fix rate.—In a city or town constituting an independent school district, and where a special tax for school purposes has been voted by the people or provided by special charter, the board of trustees shall determine what amount of said tax, within the limit voted by the people or fixed by special charter, will be necessary for the maintenance and support of the school and for the erection and equipment of public school buildings for each current year; and the governing body of such city or town, upon the requisition of the said board of trustees, shall annually levy and collect said tax, as other taxes are levied and collected; and said tax, when collected, shall be placed at the disposal of the said school board, by paying over monthly to the treasurer of said board the amount so collected, to be used for the maintenance and support of the public free schools and for the erection and equipment of public school buildings in such district. [Id.]

Art. 2802. [2881] Assessment and collection.—In an independent school district constituted of a city or town having a city assessor and collector of taxes, such assessor and collector of taxes shall assess and collect the taxes for school purposes; provided, that in a city or town having an assessor and collector of taxes, the levy of taxes for school purposes shall be based upon the same assessment of property upon which the levy for other city purposes is based. In such a city or town, the assessor and collector of taxes shall receive no other compensation for collecting school taxes than the compensation paid him for assessing and collecting city taxes; and taxes for school purposes in such a city or town shall be assessed and collected as other city taxes are assessed and collected. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

5. ADDITIONS AND CONSOLIDATIONS

Art. 2803. [2883] Extension of city limits for school purposes.—Any city or town that has taken charge of the public free schools within its limits, or that shall hereafter take charge of the same, may, by ordinance, extend its corporation lines for school purposes only, on a petition signed by a majority of the resident qualified voters of the territory, which is to be taken into said city or town for school purposes only, and recommended by a majority vote of the trustees of the public free schools of said city or town; provided, that the proposed change shall not deprive the scholastic children of the remaining part of the common school district or districts which may be affected by the proposed change, of the opportunity of attendance upon school. The added territory shall bear its pro rata part according to taxable values of any school debt or debts that may be owed or contracted by said city or town to which it shall have been added, and shall not bear any part of any other debt that may be owed or contracted by such town or city. The property of the added territory shall bear its pro rata part of all school taxes, but of no other taxes. The added territory shall not affect the city's debts or business relations in any manner whatever, except for school purposes as provided above. The officers whose duty it is to assess and collect school taxes within the city limits shall also assess and collect school taxes within the territory added for school purposes as herein provided. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

Art. 2803a. Disannexing territory for school purposes.—Sec. 1. Any city in this State with a population of more than 100,000 located in a county having a population of 210,000 or more at the then preceding United States census, through its governing body, by ordinance, shall have the power to disannex for school purposes only any territory without the municipal limits of such city and which has been annexed by such city for school purposes only, wherever the territory to be disannexed is at some point contiguous to an adjoining school district and where a majority of the persons owning property in such territory petition the city to be disannexed, and where the Board of Trustees of the school district, of which the city is a part, or other governing body of such school district, if there be any other governing body, consents to such disannexation.

Sec. 2. In the event of any territory being disannexed under the terms hereof, the liabilities of the territory disannexed for outstanding obligations shall be governed by the present general laws which are applicable to territory which is changed from one school district to another.

Sec. 3. In the event of the disannexation of any territory under the terms of this Act, such territory shall thereupon ipso facto immediately become a part of the adjoining school district other than that from which it has been disannexed; provided, however, that if it adjoins more than one school district, other than the one from which it has been disannexed, it shall become a part of the school district to be designated by the Commissioners' Court of the County in which it is mainly situated. Upon any city passing a disannexation ordinance, a certified copy of the same shall be furnished by the governing body of such city to the Commissioners' Court of the County in which the principal part of the land disannexed is situated. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 137, ch. 89.]

Art. 2804. Extending city limits to include district.—Whenever the limits of any incorporated city or town constituting an independent school district are so extended or enlarged as to embrace the whole or any part of any independent or common school district adjacent to such incorporated city or town, that portion of such adjacent district so embraced within the corporate limits of such incorporated city or town shall thereafter become a part of the independent school district constituted by such incorporated city or town.

If within the portion of such district so embraced there should be situated any real property belonging to such district, such city or town may acquire the same upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon between the governing body of such city or town and the authorities of such district.

This article shall not apply where it shall be determined at an election held within such city or town by majority vote of those voting thereon that the territory or any portion thereof to be so embraced shall not thereby become a part of the independent school district constituted by such city or town, but shall be taken into the city limits for municipal purposes only, and shall remain for school purposes a portion of the adjacent independent or common school district as though said city limits had not been extended. [Acts 1st C. S. 1917, p. 35; Acts 2nd C. S. 1919, p. 101.]

Art. 2805. Municipality assuming indebtedness.—In all cases where a district is embraced within an incorporated city or town, as provided in the preceding article; and in all cases where any town or village has been or may be incorporated for free school purposes only and which shall include within the limits thereof any portion of any common school district which has an outstanding bonded indebtedness, then such city, town or village shall become liable and bound for the payment of such proportion of the bonded indebtedness of such district as the assessed value of the portion thereof so included bears to the entire assessed value of the district from which the same was taken. The assessed values of the districts so included shall be those shown upon the last preceding county tax assessment roll after such districts are so included; such incorporated city, town or village shall pay either directly or through the officers of such district the proportion of the interest and principal of such bonded indebtedness for which it is liable. [Id.]

Art. 2806. Election to consolidate.—On the petition of twenty or a majority of the legally qualified voters of each of several contiguous common school districts praying for the consolidation of such districts for school purposes, the county judge shall issue an order for an election to be held on the same day in each such district. The county judge shall give notice of the date of such elections by publication of the order in some newspaper published in the county for twenty days prior to the date on which such elections are ordered, or by posting a notice of such elections in each of the districts, or by both such publication and posted notices. The commissioners court shall at its next meeting canvass the returns of such elections, and if the votes cast in each and all districts show a majority in favor of such consolidation, the court shall declare such common school districts consolidated.

Common school districts may in like manner be consolidated with contiguous independent school districts, and the district so created shall be known by the name of the independent school district included therein, and the management of the new district shall be under the existing board of trustees of the independent district, and all the rights and privileges granted to independent districts by the laws of this State shall be given to the consolidated independent districts created under the provisions of this law.

The term "district" as used in this and the succeeding nine articles means "consolidated common school districts," or "consolidated independent school district." [Acts 2nd C. S. 1919, p. 167; Acts 3rd C. S. 1923, p. 169.]

Art. 2807. Consolidation: Outstanding bonds.

—If at the time of such proposed consolidation there are outstanding bonds of any of such districts, then at an election held for that purpose on some future day, there shall be, or at the election held for the purposes of consolidation, there may be, submitted to the qualified tax paying voters of such proposed consolidated district the question as to whether or not the said consolidated district shall assume and pay off said outstanding bonds and whether or not a tax shall be levied therefor. If said election on the question of assuming said outstanding bonds is held on the day upon which the election on the question of consolidation is held, there shall be separate notices, ballots, and ballot boxes and tally sheets for the two separate elections. If a majority of said voters should vote at either of said elections to assume and pay off said bonded indebtedness, then said bonded indebtedness shall become valid and subsisting obligations of said consolidated district, and the proper officers thereof shall annually thereafter levy sufficient taxes to pay the interest thereon as it accrues and to create a sinking fund which in addition to the sinking funds already accumulated in the original bonded district will pay off and retire the said outstanding bonds when they shall become due. [Acts 1919, 2nd C. S., p. 167.]

Art. 2808. Consolidation: Trustees.

—The board of county school trustees at its next meeting after such consolidation of school districts is declared, shall appoint a board of seven trustees for the consolidated district. No person shall be trustee who cannot read and write the English language understandingly, and who has not been a resident of this State one year, and of the district six months, prior to his appointment or election. The terms of office of three of the trustees so appointed shall expire on the first day of May next following their appointment, and the terms of office of the other four trustees shall expire on the first day of May of the succeeding year, as those so appointed shall determine by lot. Each year thereafter alternately three trustees and four trustees shall be elected by the qualified voters of the district on the first Saturday of April and trustees so-elected shall enter upon the discharge of their duties on the first day of May next following and serve for a term of two years thereafter. District trustees shall qualify by taking the official oath which shall be filed with the county superintendent of the county wherein the district is situated. The board of trustees after being qualified shall immediately organize by electing one of their number president and another secretary, a report of which organization shall be filed with the county superintendent. The board of county school trustees shall fill any vacancy by appointment until the next regular election for district trustees. The board of trustees of the district shall appoint three qualified voters of the district to hold said election and make returns thereof in like manner as provided by law for holding elections for trustees in common school districts, except that the persons holding said election shall each receive two dollars a day for such services: [Id.]

Art. 2809. Consolidation: Teachers.

—The board of trustees so elected shall employ a superintendent for the district, who shall be elected for one year or for two years as the trustees may determine, and who, in addition to his duties as superintendent, shall be a teacher in one of the elementary schools or the high school of the district. Acting in collaboration with the district superintendent, the board of trustees shall employ teachers for the several elementary schools of the district, or for the departments of the high school, which teachers shall be elected for one year or two years as the trustees decide, and they shall serve under the direction and supervision of the district superintendent. Contracts between the trustees and the district superintendent and teachers shall be in writing and subject to the approval of the county superintendent of the county wherein such district is situated. [Id.]

Art. 2810. Consolidation: Superintendent.

—The district superintendent shall visit personally and inspect the several schools of the district and advise with the teachers therein, and he shall be responsible to the district trustees and to the county superintendent for the proper conduct of the school work and the management of the schools of the district. He shall spend at least one-fourth of his time in visiting and inspecting the schools of the district, and he shall make recommendations from time to time to the district trustees and to the county superintendent for any changes which in his judgment are necessary for the proper management of the schools of the district. He shall keep such records and make such reports as are required of him by the district trustees and the county superintendent, and the county superintendent shall refuse to approve vouchers drawn against the school funds of the district until such reports are made by the district superintendent. [Id.]

Art. 2811. Consolidation: Elementary schools.

—The district trustees shall recognize or establish elementary schools within the bounds of the district as the need for such elementary schools shall appear. They shall, in so far as is practicable, provide uniform school buildings and equipment for the several elementary schools so recognized or established, and they shall arrange an annual wage schedule for the teachers employed in such elementary schools as nearly uniform as is possible. The instruction in the elementary schools of the district shall embrace not more than the first seven grades or years of work as outlined in the course of study issued by the State Superintendent and approved by the county superintendent. [Id.]

Art. 2812. Consolidation: High schools.

—Said trustees may recognize or establish not more than one high school for white children and one high school for colored children within the limits of the district, which high schools shall be located with reference to the convenience of the majority of the high school pupils of either race. The instruction in such high schools may embrace any or all of the four years or grades of work above the seventh grade, as outlined by the State Superintendent and approved by the county board of trustees. Such high school may be located and conducted in connection with some of the elementary schools of the district as said trustees may decide. [Id.]

Art. 2813. Consolidation: Free transportation.

—When in their judgment it is deemed necessary or expedient, said trustees may provide for the transportation of pupils to and from any elementary school or high school of the district whereupon such pupils may be in attendance, and trustees are hereby empowered to employ transportation vehicles and drivers for such service, paying the cost thereof out of the local maintenance fund of the district or out of such other funds as may be appropriated for this purpose. [Id.]

Art. 2814. Consolidation: Laws applicable.

—Taxing and bonding powers as are provided for elsewhere in the laws of this State are hereby guaranteed

to such consolidated districts, and rural school aid shall be extended to any or all of the schools of the districts so consolidating which comply with the laws and rulings governing the distribution of State aid to rural schools and independent districts. Appeals from such districts shall be made to the county superintendent and county board. [Id.]

Art. 2815. Dissolution.—Such consolidated districts may in the same manner provided for their consolidation, be dissolved and the districts included therein restored to their original status, except that it shall not be necessary to provide polling places in each district. Each such district when so restored shall assume and be liable for its pro rata part of the outstanding financial obligations of the consolidated district, such pro rata part to be based on the relation the total assessed valuation of all property in the district bears to the total assessed valuation of property in the consolidated district, as shown by the assessment rolls of the district for the current year. No election for the dissolution of said consolidated districts shall be held until three years have elapsed after the date of the election at which such districts were consolidated. [Id.]

6. DISTRICTS IN LARGE COUNTIES

Art. 2815a. Rearrangement of districts.—It shall be the duty of the County Board of Trustees of the public schools in every county in this State, having 210,000 population or more, according to the last preceding federal census, as soon as may be after this Act shall take effect, to re-arrange and re-subdivide all the territory of their respective counties into such number of convenient school districts as it shall deem advisable and designate them by number.

Such re-arrangement and re-subdivision shall be accomplished by constituting such existing Independent school districts as the Board shall deem advisable, together with such territory adjacent to such Independent school districts as it may deem advisable to add thereto, the new districts into which such county shall be subdivided; and such existing Independent school districts, so enlarged shall continue to have and exercise all the powers and duties now provided by law and shall continue to be governed by existing law and by this Act.

The words, "School District," as herein used, shall refer to Common school districts or to Independent school districts, however created.

The County Board of Trustees shall have the power, from time to time, to alter or amend the re-arrangement and the re-subdivision of school districts herein provided for, and in making such original re-arrangement and re-subdivision, and in amending or altering same may increase or reduce the area of any school district; create additional school districts; consolidate two or more adjacent districts; revise or re-arrange the boundaries of any school district; attach territory thereto or detach territory therefrom, if necessary for the best interests of the school children, provided that the territory of no Independent school district having more than five hundred (500) scholastics shall be changed without the consent of its Board of Trustees, and provided further that said Board shall not subtract from the territory of any school district in such a way as to leave any portion thereof remaining in such district with insufficient taxable wealth to raise revenue sufficient to pay interest and create a sinking fund for outstanding bonds; and provided that no portion of the territory of the county shall be left in a school district, after such subdivision shall have been made, with insufficient taxable wealth to raise revenue sufficient to provide all the scholastics residing within such district with proper and convenient school facilities, both in the elementary and high school grades.

It shall be the further duty of the county Board of School Trustees at their first meeting after the State apportionment of available school funds has been made or as soon thereafter as practicable to apportion the available school funds of the county to the respective school districts within their jurisdiction on a per capita basis as shown by the last scholastic census, provided that the county Board of School Trustees shall be first required to set aside the entire available funds arising from the county permanent school funds, and to set aside not less than five per cent or not more than ten per cent of all other available school funds of the county derived from all other sources including the state per capita apportionment, the said sums so set aside to constitute a county equalization fund that shall not be apportioned on a per capita basis, but shall be expended by the said county Board of School Trustees as a fund for equalizing as far as possible educational opportunities in the county and giving special aid to small and weak schools and to extend the school privileges of such children as have no other adequate provision for schooling in the districts in which they live, and to defray the costs of the county school administration. Provided that no part of such county equalization fund shall be expended in any school district in which there is not levied and collected taxes for school purposes amounting to one dollar ($1.00) on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars of taxable property. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 124, ch. 82, § 1.]

Section 11 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 124, ch. 82, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

Art. 2815b. Maps of districts.—Before undertaking to create, revise or re-arrange the boundaries or to change the territory in any school district, the County Board of Trustees shall cause a plan and a map to be made showing the boundaries of all districts affected and of the new district, if any to be created, with the area, taxable wealth and scholastic population of such district so affected or to be created; and notice shall be given for ten days by posting advertisements thereof in three public places within the territory embraced in such new district before such action is taken. All interested persons shall be given full opportunity to be heard. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 124, ch. 82, § 2.]

Art. 2815c. Adjustment of bonded indebtedness.—Sec. 3. When the boundaries of any school district having an outstanding bonded indebtedness have been changed or its territory divided or two or more such districts consolidated, it shall be the duty of the County Board of Trustees to make such an adjustment of such indebtedness and district properties between the districts affected and between the territory divided, detached or added, as may be just and equitable, taking into consideration the value of the school properties and the taxable wealth of the districts affected and the territory so divided, detached or added, as the case may be. And when said Board has arrived at a satisfactory basis of such an adjustment, it shall have the power to make such orders in relation thereto as shall be conclusive and binding upon the districts and the territory thereby affected.

Sec. 4. To carry into effect orders adjusting bonded indebtedness when changes are made in school districts, the County Board of Trustees shall have the power to order the trustees of the districts affected, to order an election for the issuing of such refunding bonds as may be necessary to carry out the purpose of such order; and, in such case, it shall be the duty of the district trustees to order such election, cause the same to be held, and if the proposition is carried, to issue the bonds voted. Such bonds shall be of the same denomination and carry the same interest rate and mature at the same time as the outstanding bonds owing by the district issuing them; and when so issued, shall, if possible, be exchanged for the outstanding bonds for which the district issuing them shall still be liable, according to the order adjusting such indebtedness; and in cases where such an exchange can not be made, the new bonds of the district, to the amount of the old bonds for which it is still liable, and for which no exchange can be made, shall be deposited in the County Treasury to the account of such district. Thereafter taxes shall be levied and assessed only for the payment of the interest, sinking fund and principal of the new bonds so issued; and the funds arising from such taxation shall be used to discharge the principal and interest of such new bonds as have been issued and exchanged, and such old bonds as have not been exchanged. When taxes are collected applicable to new bonds not exchanged and the proceeds applied to payment on old bonds not exchanged, the corresponding new bonds in the County Treasury shall be credited with such payment and retired as the old unexchanged bonds are retired.

Sec. 5. In cases where changes are made in districts having outstanding bonded indebtedness and where the necessary refunding bonds are voted down or where the County Board of Trustees are otherwise unable to arrange an adjustment or settlement of such bonded indebtedness, it shall be the duty of the trustees to certify the fact and the territories affected by such changes, to the Commissioners' Court and thereupon it shall become the duty of the Commissioners' Court to thereafter annually levy and cause to be assessed and collected from the tax payers of such districts as they existed before the changes were made, the tax necessary to pay the interest, the sinking fund and discharge the principal of such indebtedness as it matures. And it shall be the duty of each independent school district so affected, to cause all funds in its hands, whether sinking funds or otherwise, which have been collected on account of such bonded indebtedness to be transferred to the County Treasurer of the county in which such district is situated and such district shall thereafter cease to levy and collect any tax on account of such bonds; and it shall be the duty of the County Treasurer to keep the funds so transferred and those arising from taxation, in separate accounts and apply the same only to the discharge of such bonded indebtedness and the interest thereon, as the same matures.

Sec. 6. Nothing in the provisions of this Act [Arts. 2815a-2815f] shall prevent the County Board of Trustees from arranging any other method for the adjustment and settlement of outstanding bonded indebtedness of school districts in which changes are made, but they shall have full power and authority to make any legal and equitable adjustment and settlement in such cases that can be effected. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 124, ch. 82.]

Art. 2815d. Condemnation of lands.—Said trustees shall have the power to condemn land for free school purposes and may institute, maintain and prosecute suits for that purpose following the procedure applicable to condemnation of lands by railways or any other method authorized by law. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 124, ch. 82, § 7.]

Art. 2815e. Free transportation.—It shall be the duty of any school district into which the county shall be subdivided under this Act [Arts. 2815a-2815g] to provide adequate and convenient means of transportation to and from the schools of such school children in any district as it may be reasonably necessary to make such provision for, and to establish such routes for that purpose as the Board of Trustees of such district may deem advisable and to alter and change the same from time to time and the expense of such transportation shall be paid by the district in which such children may reside. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 124, ch. 82, § 8.]

Art. 2815f. Appeals.—In all cases where changes have been made in the territory of existing school districts, any party aggrieved shall have the right to appeal to a District Court of the county in which such school district is located and the decision of such Court on such appeal shall be final; provided notice of such appeal is given to the County Board of Trustees within ten (10) days after the passage of any such order making such changes; and provided further that such appeal to the District Court shall be perfected within thirty (30) days from date of such order. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 124, ch. 82, § 9.]

Art. 2815g. Trustees.—For each county subject to the provisions of this Act [Arts. 2815a-2815g] the Board of County School Trustees shall consist of seven members, three of whom shall be elected from the county at large by the qualified voters of the county, and one from each commissioner's precinct by the qualified voters of such precinct, all of whom shall be elected on the first Saturday in April after this Act shall take effect and every two years thereafter for a term of two years. All vacancies on such Board shall be filled by the remaining Trustees. Such Board of County School Trustees shall have the powers and duties and possess the qualifications provided by law with respect to County School Trustees generally in this State, in addition to those provided by this Act.

The members of the County Board of Trustees of the Public Schools of any County affected by this Act shall receive five ($5.00) dollars per day for their services in complying with the duties imposed upon them by this Act, to be allowed by the Commissioners' Court and paid out of the General Fund of the County upon accounts to be approved by the Chairman of said County Board of Trustees; and the expense of making maps and plats provided for by this Act and all other expenses incident to carrying out its provisions shall be similarly allowed and paid. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 124, ch. 82, § 10.]

Article 2816. [2774] Taking census.—The county superintendent and the board of trustees of the independent school districts, on the first day of each January or as soon as practicable thereafter, shall appoint one of the trustees of each school district, or some other qualified person, to take the scholastic census, who shall be known as the census trustee of the district. The census trustee between the first day of March and the first day of April after his appointment, shall take a census of all the children that will be over seven and under eighteen years of age on the first day of the following September, and who are residents of the school district on said first day of April. In taking the said census he shall visit each home, residence, habitation and place of abode, and shall by actual observation and interrogation, enumerate the children thereof in the following manner: He shall use for each parent, or guardian or person having control of any such children, a prescribed form showing the name, color and nationality of the person rendering such children, the name and number of the school district in which the children reside, and the name, sex and date of birth of each such child of which he is a parent or guardian, or of which he has control. The census trustee shall require such forms to be subscribed and sworn to by the person rendering the children, and he is authorized to administer oaths for this purpose. When the census trustee visits any home or house or place of abode of a family, and fails to find either the parent or any person having legal control, he shall leave the prescribed census blank for the use of parents at such home or place of abode, with a note to the parent or guardian having legal control of such child or children, requiring that the form be filled out, signed and sworn to, and that the blank, when so filled out, shall be delivered by the parent or person having legal control of the child or children to the census trustee. [Acts 1905, p. 263; Acts 1915, p. 183.]

Art. 2817. [2775] Duty of census trustee.—Only children of the same family shall be listed on one form; and, if one person has under his control children of different family name, he shall use a separate form for each family name. The census trustee shall arrange the forms for white and colored children separately, in alphabetical order, according to the family name of the children reported thereon. He shall also make, on a prescribed form, separate census rolls for the white and colored children of his district, showing the name, age, sex and color of each child, and the name of the parent, guardian or person having control of said child, by whom it is reported. He shall also make a summary of his rolls showing the number of such children of each race of scholastic age. He shall make oath to all his rolls and summaries, and to the faithful and accurate discharge of his duties, and deliver said rolls, with the forms arranged in alphabetical order, to the county superintendent on or before June first next after his appointment. [Acts 1905, p. 263.]

Art. 2818. County line districts.—The scholastic census of all common county line school districts shall be taken under the supervision of the authorities of the county having control of such school district and reported by such county to the State Department of Education as provided by law governing the taking of the scholastic census of the State, except that the census trustee taking the census of a common county line school district shall make a separate roll of the scholastic population contained in the territory of each county in such district which shall be separate and distinct from the general census roll of such district and be returned together with the general census roll, as provided by law, to be made by the census trustees. The county superintendent of the county having control of the schools of such district shall make up a duplicate of the copy containing separately the scholastic population of each county having territory in such district and send such duplicate to the county superintendent and county treasurer of each such county to be by them used for the purpose of apportioning the county available school funds. If such district has voted a special tax for the purpose of school maintenance or the payment of interest and sinking fund on school bonds, the county superintendent of each of said counties shall, from time to time, as such taxes have been collected by his county, draw his warrant against the county treasurer or county depository of such county for such amount of available county school funds or special tax, or either or both, as the case may be, as shall be in the hands of the treasurer or depository in favor of the county treasurer of the county having control and management of the schools of such district, and upon the presentation of such warrant, the treasurer or depository against whom the warrant was drawn shall pay over to the treasurer named as depository of the county having control of the schools of the district such amount of money as is called for in such warrant. The said warrant shall be drawn in favor of the school district embracing the territory in the counties involved and in favor of the county treasurer or depository of the county having control of the schools of the districts and be credited to such school district, and the funds of such school districts shall be used as provided by law for the use of the different kinds of school funds. [Acts 1911, p. 201.]

Art. 2819. [2776] Duty of county superintendent.—The rolls and summaries of the census trustee shall be preserved by the county superintendent in his office for three years after they are filed. The county superintendent shall make, on prescribed forms, separate consolidated rolls for the white and colored children of his county, showing the name, age and sex of each, together with the number of the district in which it lives, and the name of the parent or guardian, arranging the names of the children according to the alphabetical order of their family names. In making these consolidated rolls, he shall scrutinize carefully the work of the census trustees, and shall have power to summon witnesses, take affidavits and correct any errors he may find in any census trustee's roll, and he shall carefully exclude all duplicates. If he deems it necessary he may reject any roll, and appoint another census trustee to take the census of the district, in which case he shall not approve the warrant to pay the census trustee whose work has been rejected. When the county superintendent has prepared his consolidated census rolls, one for each race, he shall make a duplicate of each, and he shall make affidavit to the correctness of both originals and duplicates. The originals he shall, on or before July first, forward to the State Superintendent, and the duplicates shall be filed with the county clerk and become permanent records of his office. The county superintendent shall forward with his consolidated rolls an abstract on the prescribed form, under oath, showing the number of children of each race, of the different years of school age, and the total number of children of each race, and the total of both races in his county. In making his consolidated rolls and in investigating the work of any census trustee, the county superintendent shall refer to the forms and rolls of previous years, when necessary, and they shall be carefully preserved for this purpose. [Id.]

Art. 2820. [2777] Duty of State Superintendent.—The State Superintendent shall have authority to investigate the census of any county, to correct errors, and in extreme cases when he believes gross errors have occurred or that fraud has been practiced, he may, with the approval of the State Board, reject any county roll and require the census of the county to be retaken. [Acts 1905, p. 287.]

Art. 2821. [2778] Compensation.—For their services, the census trustees shall receive four cents per capita of the children of scholastic age taken by them in county districts and three cents per capita in towns of twenty-five hundred and not more than five thousand inhabitants, and two cents per capita in cities of more than five thousand inhabitants. The county superintendent shall receive one cent per capita of the scholastic population reported by him. These amounts shall not be paid until the census of the county is accepted by the State Superintendent, and shall be forfeited as follows: The trustee's compensation, if his work is rejected by the county superintendent and the census of his district ordered retaken; and both the county superintendent's and the trustee's compensation, if the census of the county is rejected and ordered by the State Superintendent and the State Board to be retaken. [Id.]

Art. 2822. [2779] In independent districts.—The provisions of this chapter shall apply to the taking of the scholastic census in cities and towns constituting independent districts, except as specially provided herein, to wit: The census trustee shall be appointed by the president of the board of trustees, and a census trustee may be appointed for each ward or school sub-district, at the discretion of the president of the school board making such appointment. The forms for the parent and the rolls shall show the street and house number or location of the house or place in which each child resides. [Id.]

1. The State and county available funds shall be used exclusively for the payment of teachers' and superintendents' salaries, fees for taking the scholastic census, and interest on money borrowed on short time to pay salaries of teachers and superintendents, when these salaries become due before the school funds for the current year become available; provided that no loans for the purpose of payment of teachers shall be paid out of funds other than those for the then current year.

He shall register every warrant drawn by the Comptroller on such fund in favor of the treasurer of the available school fund of any county, city, town or school district having control of its public schools, and transmit such warrants to the State Superintendent. On presentation to him for payment properly endorsed, he shall pay such warrants each in the order in which presented. He shall not, under any circumstances, use any portion of the permanent or available school funds in payment of any warrant drawn against any other fund whatever. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. Art. 2838. 1. TEXTBOOK COMMISSION

Article 2839. The commission.—A permanent Textbook Commission of the State of Texas is hereby authorized and created, to be styled the "Texas State Textbook Commission" which shall be composed of seven members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, together with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Governor of the State, who shall be ex-officio members of the same. In appointing members of the Textbook Commission, the Governor shall select as such members citizens of recognized ability from the various business and professional activities and teachers of recognized scholarship and professional standing, and the teacher members of said board shall have been actively and continuously engaged in teaching or supervising in the public schools of this State for the past five years, and shall have State Permanent Primary, or State Permanent, State Permanent High School or State Permanent Elementary certificates. One member of the said Board shall have had at least three years' experience in teaching in the schools of Texas below the High school within five years immediately preceding the appointment, and the Commission shall represent as nearly as possible every phase of public school work. No two appointed members of the said Commission shall live in the same county. In the event any member, after appointment, shall move his place of abode into the same county as another member he shall thereby automatically vacate his position as a member of the said Commission.

The term of office of the appointive members shall extend to the end of the term of the officer making the appointment, unless sooner terminated by operation of the provisions of this law.

No person who has acted as a textbook agent for any author or textbook publishing houses, or has been an author or an associate author or directly or indirectly interested in the publication of any book, or who owns stock in any publishing house, or in any school book depository, shall be eligible to appointment on the Textbook Commission. Any vacancy occurring on said Commission from any cause shall be filled by appointment of the Governor as in the original appointments.

Appointments shall be made by the Governor during the regular session of the Legislature, and immediately thereafter the members shall be called together in special session to adopt such rules, regulations and by-laws to govern the action of the Commission as it may deem proper, not inconsistent with the provisions of this law. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 308, ch. 213, § 1.]

Art. 2840. Affidavit.—Each member of the Commission before entering upon his duties as a member of the Commission, shall make out and file with the Secretary of State an affidavit that he is not and has not been directly or indirectly interested in or connected with or employed by any publishing house, person, firm or corporation submitting any books for adoption, or in any books offered for adoption, or in any books adopted, nor is he connected in business with any person or agent representing such house, person, firm or corporation to whom any contract may be awarded by said Commission during the term and duration of said contract, nor does he own stock in any school book depository, and that he is not connected in any business with any person or agent representing such house, firm or corporation, and that he will not become so interested and will not accept any position as agent or representative of any person, firm or corporation who may submit any books for adoption or to whom any contract may be awarded by said Commission during the term, and duration of said contract, and that he is possessed of the qualifications required in Article 2839 as amended, and is under no disqualification mentioned therein. In the event any member of said Commission becomes interested in any publishing company, as an agent, representative, or author, such publishing company shall be barred from submitting bids until after the contracts made by the Commission, of which said agent, representative, or author was a member, have expired. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 308, ch. 213, § 2.]

Art. 2841. Chairman—secretary—annual meeting.—The Governor shall be chairman of the commission and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be its secretary, who shall keep a complete record of all proceedings of the Commission. The commission shall meet annually on the second Monday in October and at such other times and places as may be designated by the chairman for the purpose of considering and extending contracts, the making of new adoptions, and the keeping and operation of a complete system of uniform textbooks for the public free schools of this State in accordance with the provisions of this Act. The commission shall keep a minute book for its proceedings and on every action of the commission an "aye" and "no" vote of the members thereof shall be required, and such minute book shall be kept in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and shall be open to public inspection, and no adopted text shall be superseded or substituted or new text adopted except by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members of the commission.

Art. 2842. Continuing or discontinuing textbooks.—It shall be the duty of the Commission to meet annually on the second Monday in October, and at such other times as it may be called together by the Chairman, for the purpose of considering the advisability of continuing or discontinuing, at the expiration of each current contract, any or all of the State adopted textbooks in use in the public schools of Texas, and of making such adoptions as are provided for in Section 5 of this Act. Before making any change in the adopted series, however, the Commission shall, upon thorough investigation, satisfy itself that a change is necessary for the best interests of the school children and that such change is consistent with financial economy. Provided that unless new texts better suited to the requirements of the schools and at a price and quality satisfactory to the Commission are offered to supplant existing texts, then the Commission shall renew the existing contracts for such a period as may be deemed advisable not to exceed a period of six years. Provided, that wherever the contractor supplying any book agrees to renew the contract on the same terms for a period of not less than two years or more than six, the members of the Commission shall give preference to the offer of the Company holding the contract if they shall thereby secure as good or better books at a lower price than by making a different contract; and it shall always be lawful for them to renew a contract on such terms as in their judgment may be for the best interests of the State. Provided further that before the Commission shall determine to displace any book upon which the contract is expiring, it shall, before making a new contract for a new text, ascertain through the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the number of usable books of the kind on which the contract has, or is about to expire, there are on hand, and also the estimated number of such books that would be required to supply the needs of the schools of the State using said books for the first, second and third years immediately succeeding the expiration of the contract on such books. The Commission shall then secure from the publisher of such book a bid or offer for the furnishing of such textbooks to meet the actual necessities of the schools of the State during the said first, second, and or third year period, allowing the State, however, a margin of twenty-five per cent over, or twenty-five per cent under, the estimated number to be required. If, upon consideration of the cost of the books required to supply such needs for such a period, it appears to the Commission that it will be economical to do so, it may make a contract with such publisher to furnish such books during said first, second and, or third year period with a view to using up the entire supply of such books on hand instead of wasting the same at the expiration of the original contract. At the expiration of said period, the commission shall then make a contract for a textbook on the subject. No contract shall ever be made, binding the State to buy a specific number or a specific quantity of textbooks, but all contracts shall be for such books as the State may need and the purpose of furnishing an estimated number of the books needed, as above provided, shall have as its purpose to give the textbook publishers only an approximation as to the possible quantity of books which the State may need. The contracts for the total number of different texts adopted shall be so arranged, in adoptions taking place after the passage of this Act, that contracts on not more than one-sixth of the total number of different basal subjects shall expire in any one year, or shall be changed in any one year. The series of copy books and the series of drawing books shall each be considered as one book. If no text or texts on any prescribed subject or subjects are submitted by any particular publisher or publishers that meet the requirements of the schools, as may be determined by the Commission, then it shall be the duty of the Chairman of the Commission, to instruct the Secretary of the Commission to investigate the book markets for the purpose of securing bids with a view of providing at most reasonable price or prices possible, the best available texts on any and all subjects that are to be adopted by the Commission for the schools of Texas. At the time the Superintendent of Public Instruction undertakes to secure a statement of the number of usable books on hand, as provided above, he shall also secure from the superintendents of independent school districts and county superintendents an expression as to whether or not they believe the existing text should be re-adopted or a new text adopted, and such information shall be for the use of the Textbook Commission, but the Textbook Commission shall not be bound to re-adopt the old text or to adopt a new text by reason of such expression of preference by such superintendents. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 308, ch. 213, § 3.]

Art. 2843. Uniform system.—The Textbook Commission authorized by this Act shall have authority to select and adopt a uniform system of textbooks to be used in the public free schools of Texas, and the books so selected and adopted shall be printed in the English language, and shall include and be limited to textbooks on the following subjects: Spelling, reading, English language and grammar, geography, arithmetic, physiology-hygiene, civil government, history of the United States (in which the construction placed on the Federal Constitution by the fathers of the Confederacy shall be fairly represented) history of Texas, agriculture, a system of writing books, a system of drawing books, and may also, if deemed necessary, adopt a geography of Texas and a civil government of Texas; provided that none of said textbooks shall contain anything of a partisan or sectarian character, and that nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent the teaching of German, Bohemian, Spanish, French, Latin or Greek in any of the public schools.

Said Textbook Commission shall also adopt a multiple list of books for use in the high schools of the State, said multiple list including not fewer than three nor more than five textbooks on the following subjects: Algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, general science, biology, physics, chemistry, a one year general history, ancient history, modern history, American history, Latin, Spanish, physical geography, English composition, history of American literature, history of English literature, physiology, agriculture and civil government and for each high school branch of study any one textbook of said multiple list adopted for that subject may be selected for and used in any high school of the State as the textbook on such branch in that high school, but when such book is so chosen by the local authorities from the multiple list adopted such book shall be continued in that high school for the entire five years of the adoption period. Provided, however, that the multiple list herein provided for shall apply to all high schools classed by the Department of Education as high schools of the first class. For use in all other high schools a uniform system of textbooks on each subject mentioned above shall be selected by the commission; provided, that in any city or independent school district having more than one high school of the first class said city or independent school district shall adopt from said multiple list for use in each of said high schools the same books and shall use said books so adopted for a period of not less than five years.

Specific rules as to the manner of the selection of books by the high school shall be made by the State Textbook Commission.

The commission, as herein provided for, shall adopt textbooks in accordance with the provisions of this Act for every public free school in this State and no public free school in this State shall use any textbook unless same has been previously adopted and approved by this commission; and the commission shall prescribe rules under which all textbooks adopted and approved shall be introduced or used by or in the public schools of the State.

In the event as many as three suitable texts are not offered for adoption on any one subject, the commission may select fewer than three texts.

Existing contracts shall not be affected by any adoptions made under this Act.

Art. 2844. Supplementary readers.—The Textbook Commission shall have authority to adopt supplementary readers for the first seven grades and such other supplementary books for use in said elementary grades as it may deem advisable. Said other supplementary books may be arranged in a series by said commission, one book in each series for each elementary grade, and contracts for not more than four series of supplementary books and readers, inclusive, as provided for in this section, may be in force at the same time; provided, that such series of these supplementary books shall only be used to supplement the basal book on reading and in no case shall supplemental books be adopted for other subjects. Each bidder presenting such book or books shall state at what price it or they are offered, provided, however, that no supplementary books shall be purchased and used to the exclusion of the books prescribed under the provisions of Article 2343, but full use must be made in good faith of the books selected by said commission under Article 2343 before any of the supplementary books provided for in this article shall be purchased and used.

Art. 2845. May change textbooks.—The Textbook Commission may at any time require such changes, amendments or additions to the book or books adopted as in their judgment will be for the best interest of the public schools of this State; and contracts for books under the provisions of this Act shall be made upon the distinct condition that the commission provided for in this Act may, during the time for which the books are adopted under this Act, upon giving one year's previous notice to the publishers thereof, order such changes, amendments and additions to the book or books so adopted as such Textbook Commission may determine; provided, also that if in the judgment of the commission such changes or revisions make it impractical for the revised books to be used in the same class with the old books, the publishers will be required to give the same exchange terms as were given when the books were first adopted, and such exchange period shall extend two years from the time the revised books are first put into use in the schools; provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed so as to give said commission power or authority to abandon any book or books originally contracted for.

Art. 2846. Notice of meeting to be given.—When texts are to be selected and adopted under the provisions of this law, or where a contract for a text then in use is about to expire, the Chairman of the Commission shall, two months in advance of the meeting of the Commission, at which time, the adoption may be made, give public notice by having printed in the public press a notice to the effect that such meeting will be held and that adoptions will be made, and by sending written notices to all persons, firms or corporations in whose behalf such notices shall have been requested. Such notices shall state the time and place of the meeting of the Commission, the subjects on which textbooks may be adopted, and the last date on which sample copies of books offered, prepared as provided in the succeeding paragraph of this Article shall be deposited, the amount of the cash deposit required, the time allowed for signing contract and filing bond after award is made; and that formal proposals will be received on the date of the meeting.

Deposits of Samples.—At least thirty days prior to the date of the meeting of the said Commission, every person, firm or corporation desiring to submit bids shall file with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction nine copies of each book on which a bid will be submitted, in each of which copies there shall be printed or stamped a statement of the price at which such book and special editions thereof are sold in other places under State or county adoptions, and the minimum quantities in which it will be sold at such prices, and there shall also be printed or stamped in such books a statement of the publisher's catalogue price of the same and special editions thereof, together with trade discounts and the conditions under which, and the purchasers to whom, such discounts are allowed, and the place of delivery. There shall also be printed or stamped in each book the price at which it is offered to Texas, f. o. b. the Publisher's Texas depository, with and without exchange. There shall also be printed or stamped in each book, the minimum wholesale price at which such book, and special editions thereof, are sold f. o. b. the shipping point of the publisher and the name of the shipping point shall also be stated.

Bids and Cash Deposits.—Bids, when filed by the publishers, shall state specifically at what price each book will be furnished, and such bid shall be accompanied by specimen copies of each book offered, and it shall be required that each bidder deposit with the Treasurer of the State of Texas such sum of money as the Commission may require, to be not less than five hundred ($500.00) dollars, nor more than twenty-five hundred ($2,500.00) dollars, according to the value of the books each bidder may propose to supply; and each bidder shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on the day that the Commission meets or within the last five (5) days just preceding the date on which such Commission meets, an affidavit executed by the individual bidder or a member of the firm or the president and secretary of the corporation bidding; which shall set forth all of the facts with reference to the eligibility of the bidder to make a proposal. Such deposit shall be forfeited to the State absolutely if such bidder so depositing shall fail or refuse to make and execute the contract and the bond required within such time as the Commission may require, which time shall be specified in the notice advertised. Such deposits shall be returned to the unsuccessful bidders on certificate of the State Superintendent that no contract has been awarded on the bid for which the sum was deposited. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 308, ch. 213, § 4.]

Art. 2847. Filing of bids.—All bids submitted to the Textbook Commission for the furnishing of textbooks shall be deposited with the Chairman of the Commission, to be delivered by him to the Commission in session for the purpose of considering the same. Such bid shall state the price at which the books will be furnished to the State of Texas, f. o. b. the bidder's Texas depository, which price must be in accord with that printed or stamped in the sample copies of the books previously deposited, and shall also state the terms and conditions upon which said books shall be furnished, which terms and conditions shall not be in conflict with the other provisions of this Chapter.

Each bidder shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on the day that the Commission meets an affidavit executed by the individual bidder, or a member of the firm or the president and secretary of the corporation bidding, which shall state that all the taxes levied against the bidder under and by virtue of Chapter 148, Acts of the Twenty-ninth Legislature, and all other Acts amendatory thereof, have been paid and shall be accompanied by official certificates in support of such statement, where such certificate can be secured; such affidavit shall also state the name or names of all the people employed to act for such bidder, directly or indirectly, in any way whatsoever in securing the contract or in the preparation of its bids, and supporting documents, with the addresses of such individuals and the capacity in which they serve; and said affidavit shall further state the names of any and all other persons who may have at any time during the preceding year received, either directly or indirectly any money or other thing of value from said company, by way of emolument for services rendered in this State, either directly or indirectly, in securing or attempting to secure, contracts for the sale of books of said publisher, or in promoting the sale of such books to the State of Texas; and that no member of the Commission is in any way interested, directly or indirectly, in such individual, firm or corporation bidding; and in the event any publisher, after filing said affidavit, shall employ an attorney or other representative to assist in securing the award of a contract by the Commission, he shall disclose such employment to the Commission by filing a supplementary affidavit before any contract in which he is interested shall be awarded.

No publisher who cannot and does not comply with these provisions shall be eligible to bid.

No bid shall be considered from, and no contracts shall be made with any publisher not eligible to bid under the provisions of this law, and any contracts made with an ineligible bidder shall be void. The statements made in all affidavits filed by the publisher with the bid shall be considered warranties, and if found to be untrue, shall subject the contract to forfeiture and authorize a recovery on the bond to the full amount thereof, as liquidated damages, unless it be shown that such mis-statement or non-disclosure of fact was unintentional or an oversight on the part of said publisher. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 308, ch. 213, § 5.]

Art. 2848. Bids opened.—It shall be the duty of the commission to meet at the time and place mentioned in the notice and advertisement, and it shall then and there open and examine the sealed proposals received; and it shall be the duty of the commission to make a full and complete investigation of all the books and bids accompanying the same. The textbooks shall be selected and adopted after a careful examination and consideration of all books presented, and the books selected and adopted shall be those which in the opinion of the commission are most acceptable for use in the schools,—quality, mechanical construction, paper, print price, authorship, literary merit and other relevant matters being given such weight in making its decision as the commission may deem advisable. The commission shall proceed without delay to adopt for use in the public schools of this State textbooks on all branches hereinbefore mentioned; provided, that if the bids submitted to said commission should not be satisfactory to said commission, they may postpone the selection of such books or a part thereof to such time as they may select, and after the same is readvertised, new bids may be received and acted on by such commission as provided for in this Act; provided, that no textbook shall be adopted until it has been read carefully and examined by at least a majority of the commission.

Art. 2849. Bids in two forms.—All publishers submitting bids under the provisions of this law shall submit their bids in two forms, one in which is stated the allowance made for the books then in use, and the property of the State when offered in exchange for the new books adopted under this law; the other without stating the allowance for said books, which books would remain the property of the State; provided that said allowance and condition for exchange if agreed to and accepted by the State shall be enforced only during the two scholastic years following a change in books; both prices under these two forms of bids shall be printed or stamped upon the sample copies deposited under the provisions hereof. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 308, ch. 213, § 6.]

Art. 2850. Changes may be ordered.—Every contract entered into with a publisher for the adoption of any book or books shall contain a provision that the commission herein provided for may, during the life of the contract, upon giving one year's previous notice to the publishers of such book or books, order such changes, amendments and additions to the book or books so selected and adopted as in the discretion of said commission shall keep them up to date and abreast of the times; provided that such revisions shall not be made oftener than once in two years.

Art. 2851. Contractors bond.—The bidder to whom any contract may have been awarded shall execute a good and sufficient bond payable to the State of Texas in the sum of not less than ten thousand ($10,000.00) dollars for each basal book adopted under the provisions of this Act; and a good and sufficient bond payable to the State of Texas in the sum of not less than three thousand ($3,000.00) dollars for each supplementary textbook adopted under the provisions of this Act; provided further, that the commission is hereby given authority to require bond in such further and additional sums as it may deem advisable, said bond to be approved by the commission; such bond to be conditioned that the contractor shall faithfully perform all the conditions of the contract; the contract and bond shall be prepared by the Attorney General, and be payable in Travis County, Texas, and shall be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State. For the purpose of securing satisfactory bond a series of pamphlet writing books shall be considered as one basal book, and a series of pamphlet drawing books shall be considered as one basal book. The bond shall not be exhausted by a single recovery thereon, but may be sued upon from time to time until the full amount thereof is recovered; and the Texas State Textbook Commission may, at any time, on twenty days' notice, require a new bond to be given, and in the event the contractor shall fail to furnish such new bond the contract of such contractor may, at the option of the Texas State Textbook Commission, be forfeited.

Art. 2852. Books to be bought at minimum prices.—The maximum price which the Texas State Textbook Commission shall contract to pay, f. o. b. the Texas depository of the publisher, for any books to be used in the public schools of this State shall not exceed the minimum price at which the publisher sells such book in wholesale quantities, f. o. b. the publisher's publishing house, after all discounts have been deducted. Any contract made for the purchase of books for use in the public schools of this State at a higher price than the maximum price fixed by the preceding sentence of this article shall be void. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 308, ch. 213, § 7.]

Art. 2853. Anti-trust provision.—No book or books shall be purchased from any person, firm or corporation who is a member of or connected with any trust; and in the event it be established that this provision has been violated, such violation shall be held to be fraud and collusion as contemplated under Article 2852 of this Act, and the Attorney General shall bring suit upon the bond of such person, firm or corporation, and upon proof of such violation shall recover the liquidated damages as provided for in said Article 2852 hereof, as defined by the laws of this State, and a sworn affidavit that said person or corporation is not connected either directly or indirectly with a trust shall be required, and said affidavit shall be filed with said commission. Before proceeding to adopt books as provided under the provision of this Act, the commission shall require all persons, firms and corporations bidding for a contract to file with the commission a sworn statement on or before the date selected by the commission for receiving sealed bids, stating whether said person, firm or corporation is interested, or whether said person, firm or any member thereof, or any individual stockholder of such corporation is interested, or whether said person, firm, or any member thereof, or any individual stockholder of such corporation is interested or acting as a director, trustee or stockholder, either directly or indirectly or through a third party, or in any manner whatsoever in any other textbook publishing house, and this statement shall be sworn to by such person, a member of such firm or the president, secretary, and each of the directors of said corporation. All firms or persons bidding for a contract or supplying books shall present a sworn statement signed by all its members showing the names of all members of said firm, and whether any other person, firm or corporation has any financial interest in said firm, and also whether any individual member or members of said firm have any financial interest in any other textbook publishing firm or corporation or textbook publishers. The commission shall require all corporations, or persons, or firms to file with the Governor attested copies of all written agreements entered into and existing between them and others engaged in the textbook publishing business, and if in the opinion of the commission such written agreements or other facts adduced are violations of the anti-trust law of the State of Texas, or opposed to public policy, the bids of such houses shall not be considered by the commission.

Art. 2854. Contract approved.—Each contract shall be duly signed by the publishing house or its authorized officers and agents; and if it is found to be in accordance with all the provisions of this Act, and if the bond herein required is presented and duly approved, the commission shall approve said contract and order it to be signed on behalf of the State by the Governor in his capacity as chairman. All contracts shall be made in duplicate, one copy to remain in custody of the Secretary of State and be copied in full in the minutes of the meeting of the commission in a well bound book, and the other copy to be delivered to the company or its agent.

Art. 2855. Deposit to be returned.—When any person has been awarded a contract and he has filed his bond and contract with the commission and the same has been approved, the commission shall make an order on the Treasurer of the State reciting such fact, and thereupon the Treasurer shall return the deposit of such bidder to him; but if any successful bidder shall fail to make and execute the contract and bond as hereinbefore provided, the Treasurer shall place the deposit of such bidder in the State Treasury to the credit of the available school fund, and the commission shall readvertise for other bids to supply such books which said bidder may have failed to supply. All unsuccessful bidders shall have their deposit returned to them by the State Treasurer as soon as the commission has decided not to accept their bids.

Art. 2856. Commission to issue proclamation.—As soon as the State shall have entered into the contract for the furnishing of books for the public schools of this State under the provision of this Act, it shall be the duty of the commission to issue its proclamation of such facts to the people of the State; and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall carefully label and file away the copies of the books adopted as furnished for examination to the board; and such copies of such books shall be securely kept and the standard of quality and mechanical excellence of the book or books so furnished under this Act shall be maintained in said books so furnished under contract authorized by this Act during the continuance of the contract.

Art. 2857. List to be furnished.—As soon as practical after the adoption of the textbooks provided for in this Act, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall address a circular letter to the county superintendent and to the president of the school boards in independent school districts, which circular letter shall contain a list of all the books with their respective prices, together with such other information as he may deem advisable.

Art. 2858. Depository.—All parties with whom the contracts have been made shall establish and maintain in some city in the State a depository where a stock of their goods to supply all immediate demands shall be kept; and contractors not maintaining their own individual or separate State agencies or depositories shall maintain a joint agency or depository to be located at some suitable and convenient distributing point. Any person, dealer or school board in any county in the State may order from the central depository; provided that the price of books so ordered shall be paid in advance. Upon the failure of any contractor to furnish the books as provided in the contract and in this Act, the county judge in the county wherein such books have not been furnished shall report the fact to the Attorney General, and he shall bring suit on account of such failure in the name of the State of Texas in the district court of Travis County, and shall recover on the bond given by such contractor for the full value of the books not furnished as required, and in addition thereto the sum of one hundred dollars, and each day of failure to furnish the books shall constitute a separate offense, and the amounts so recovered shall be placed to the credit of the available school fund of the State. Any unorganized county shall be furnished from the same agency as the county to which said unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes in the same manner as such organized county.

Art. 2859. Price to be printed.—The contract price of each book shall be plainly printed on the inside of the back of each book, together with the following notice, "The price marked hereon is fixed by the State, and any deviation therefrom should be reported to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction;" provided this notice may be waived by the State Board of Education the last year of the contract.

Art. 2860. Textbooks exclusive.—The books adopted by the commission under the provisions of this law shall be introduced and used as textbooks to the exclusion of all others in public free schools of this State for such period of years as may be determined by the commission, not to exceed six years in any case; provided the right to the exclusive use of new books during the first three years of the term of any contract shall be waived by the contracting publishers to provide for the gradual introduction of new books; and provided further that nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent or prohibit the trustees of school districts from purchasing textbooks with the local maintenance funds and furnishing free textbooks to the students in the event that no contracts are made by the State. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 308, ch. 213, § 8.]

Art. 2861. Appearing before commission.—No person, not the author or publisher or the bona fide permanent and regular employé of such publisher, shall appear before such Textbook Commission in behalf of any book submitted to the Commission for adoption, or seek to influence the members thereof.

2. DISTRIBUTION OF BOOKS

Art. 2862. Additional supplementary books.—When the supplementary books other than those selected by the Textbook Commission are used, they shall be furnished at a price fixed by the trustees of the school in which they are used and approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, which price in no case shall be greater than the publishers list price; and if any teacher or trustee shall knowingly and directly or indirectly receive from any pupil a greater price therefor than the price fixed, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.

Art. 2863. Cancellation for fraud.—The State may, in a suit to be instituted by the Attorney General, cancel any contract entered into by virtue of the provisions of this Act for fraud, or collusion, or material breach of contract upon the part of either party of the contract, or any member of the commission or any person, firm or corporation or their agents making said bond or contract; and for the cancellation of any such contract the Attorney General is hereby authorized to bring suit in the proper court of Travis County, and in case of the cancellation of any contract as provided for, the damages are fixed at not less than the amount of said bond, to be recovered as liquidated damages in the same suit cancelling said contract; and on account of the difficulty of determining the damages that might accrue by reason of such fraud, collusion or material breach, and cancellation of such contract, the full amount of the bond given by the contractor shall be considered as liquidated damages to be recovered out of said bond by the State at the suit of the Attorney General, and every contract that shall contain a clause to this effect:

Art. 2864. Agent designated.—Any person, firm or corporation with whom a contract has been entered into under the provisions of this Act shall designate the Secretary of the State of Texas as its or their agent, upon whom citation and all other writs and processes may be served in the event any suit shall be brought against such person, firm or corporation.

Art. 2865. Each applicant for teachers' certificates based on college credentials from junior colleges, teachers' colleges, colleges or universities, shall pay a fee of one dollar to cover the expenses of inspection and standardization of approved colleges and of recording and issuing the certificate.

The State Superintendent shall appoint a suitable person or persons of recognized college standing, who shall make a thorough inspection of the equipment and standards of instruction maintained in each school applying for approval under this law, and who shall make a detailed report to the State Board of Examiners for their consideration. The State Board of Examiners shall make recommendation to the State Superintendent in regard to the classification of schools applying for approval under the provisions of this law, and shall give to them such rating as the standards of their work may justify.

The State Superintendent shall have each school receiving the benefits of this law thoroughly inspected from year to year as to its standards and facilities of instruction, and he shall have authority to suspend any school from the benefits of this law which fails for any reason to maintain the approved standards of classification. [Acts 1921, p. 242; Acts 1925, p. 370.]

The holder of such certificate after three years of satisfactory experience in teaching in a kindergarten, shall be entitled to receive a permanent kindergarten certificate; provided that it shall be illegal for a person to teach in a public school kindergarten unless he or she is the holder of a kindergarten certificate.

which shall be in English, at least one in education, and at least one in the special subject on which the certificate is issued, these courses to be taken in any Texas State normal college, or any university, or senior college, junior college, or normal college, which is ranked as first class by the State Superintendent, shall be entitled to receive a special certificate authorizing him to make contract to teach his special subject, which special certificate shall be valid until the third anniversary of the thirty-first day of August of the scholastic year in which the certificate was issued; provided that one of these courses must include special methods of teaching the subject on which the certificate is granted.

It is especially herein provided that the holder of a special kindergarten certificate, or a special certificate in commercial subjects, public school music, public school drawing, or physical training, on the completion of three years of teaching the special subject during the validity of his certificate or certificates, shall be entitled to receive a permanent special certificate in his subject, valid for use in the public schools, unless cancelled by lawful authority.

An applicant who has met the college entrance requirements of any Texas State normal college or any university or senior college, or normal college, ranked as first class by the State Department of Education, and in addition thereto, has completed twenty college courses; at least one of which shall be in English, at least one in education, and at least four of which shall be in his special subject, these courses to be taken in any Texas State normal college, senior college, or normal college, ranked by the State Superintendent as a college of the first class, shall be entitled to receive a permanent certificate in his special subject, valid for life unless cancelled by lawful authority; provided that the college courses shall include special methods of teaching the subject on which the certificate is issued.

Teachers who devote the major portion of their time to teaching or supervising special subjects shall be required to hold a high school certificate or a special certificate, as provided for in this law, on the special subject in which they give instruction or supervise work. [Acts 1921, p. 242.]

Art. 2889a. Special certificate.—Any person who for six years or more has been the holder of a State first grade certificate or its equivalent, and who can furnish evidence of successful experience in teaching in the public schools for six or more sessions subsequent to September 1, 1910, shall be entitled to receive a State permanent first grade certificate.

Any person who has been engaged in teaching a special subject in the public school for a period of four years, and who has been employed to teach the said subject during the last three years prior to September 1, 1925, shall be exempt from the requirement to hold a teacher's special certificate so long as he or she continues to be employed to teach the same subjects; provided that any person who has been engaged in the teaching of music, or writing and drawing in the public schools of Texas for ten years shall be exempt from the present law and be given a life certificate in that subject.

Any teacher who applies for a Texas teachers' certificate on credentials from another state may be granted by the State Superintendent an emergency certificate valid for four months, while the record is being completed, prior to determining the kind and class of certificate, if any, to be issued to the applicant. The applicant shall be required to pay the same fee for the issuance of an emergency certificate as is required by law to be paid on application for other teacher's certificates.

Any person who is employed to teach any trade or industry in the public schools may, upon application to the State Superintendent, signed by the majority of the board of trustees of the school desiring his services, be issued a temporary permit to teach said trade without being required to hold the special certificate prescribed by law; provided that no permit may be granted for a longer term than two years and provided further that the fee for issuing said permit shall be the same as is required by law for the issuance of teacher's certificates.

The provisions of this Act are cumulative of the laws now in force regulating the issuance of teacher's certificates and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions expressed herein are hereby repealed. [Acts 1925, p. 449.]

Art. 2890. Certificates from other States.—The holders of diplomas or certificates from other States, who desire certificates valid in Texas, shall present such diplomas or certificates to the State Superintendent, who shall require the State Board of Examiners to make investigations as to the value of such diplomas or certificates as measured by the standards for certificates in this State; and the State Superintendent shall have the power to issue to the holder of a diploma or certificate from another State such Texas certificate as, in his judgment, the holder is entitled to receive, when the value of his diploma or certificate is estimated by the standards required for Texas certificates; provided that no certificates may be issued if the said diploma or certificate is not estimated to equal the lowest State certificate issued in Texas. [Acts 1911, p. 189; Acts 1920, 3rd C. S., p. 112.]

Art. 2891. City certificates.—A city or town which has a scholastic population of one thousand or more and has become an independent school district and which levies a local tax for educational purposes or which maintains a system of free schools for nine months in each year, and which has employed a superintendent of city schools, may have a city Board of Examiners. Said Board of Examiners shall in all cases consist of the city superintendent of the city schools; together with two other persons who shall be appointed by him, and who shall be teachers. The city Board of Examiners is hereby authorized to issue certificates valid only in the city in which they are issued; such certificates shall be temporary.

Temporary city certificates shall be of three classes, as follows: Second Grade, First Grade, and High School. A temporary city certificate shall be good for two years, unless cancelled by lawful authority, and a second city certificate shall not be issued to any person. The further regulation of the issuance of such certificates shall be provided for by the board of trustees of such cities or towns; provided, that no city or town shall make the requirements for a temporary certificate inferior to the requirements provided by law for any State certificates of the corresponding grades. Any city or town may at the discretion of the superintendent of city schools, employ a teacher of any special branch not included in the requirements of a State certificate, without requiring an examination or a teacher's certificate. Nothing in this article shall prevent the board of trustees of any city or town from recognizing the certificate issued in any other such city or town in this State and validating the same in the city or town so recognizing.

A superintendent of schools in any city or town of this State shall be required to be the holder of a State first grade or State permanent certificate, and no school board may legally contract with any superintendent who is not the holder of a State first grade or State permanent certificate; provided, however, this certificate requirement shall not apply to a superintendent who has held a position as city or town superintendent for a period of ten consecutive years in the school in which he or she is employed. [Acts 1921, p. 243.]

Teachers' certificates revived and continued.—Any person holding a teacher's certificate of any kind or grade which has not expired at the beginning of any summer school of any State Teachers College or any other institution rated as first class by the State Department of Education in this State, shall have the right to have such certificate revived and continued in force for a period of one year by taking four courses or subjects and passing in same at such summer session of a State Teachers College or any other institution rated as first class by the State Department of Education in this State. Upon successfully passing such four courses or subjects, the President of the College shall certify to same and attach his certificate to the teacher's certificate so held by such person, and thereupon such teacher's certificate shall be presented to the State Department of Education and upon the payment of one dollar fee by the holder, shall be renewed and continued for one year from the beginning of the ensuing school year after taking said four courses; provided the word course or subject as herein specified shall mean one-third of a regular nine month's [months'] course. - 2894. Excuses for absences.
- 2895. Attendance officer.
- 2896. Powers and duties.
- 2897. Superintendent shall furnish list, etc.
- 2898. Parole of pupil.

Article 2892. Attendance requirements.—Every child in this State who is eight years and not more than fourteen years old shall be required to attend the public schools in the district of its residence, or in some other district to which it may be transferred, as provided by law, for a period of not less than one hundred days during each scholastic year. The period of compulsory school attendance at each school shall begin at the opening of the school term unless otherwise authorized by the district school trustees and notice given by the trustees prior to the beginning of such school term; provided that no child shall be required to attend school for a longer period than the maximum term of the public school in the district where such child resides. [Acts 1915, p. 93; Acts 1923, p. 255.]

Art. 2893. Exemptions.—The following classes of children are exempt from the requirements of this law:

1. Any child in attendance upon a private or parochial school which shall include in its course a study of good citizenship, and shall make the English language the basis of instruction in all subjects.

2. Any child whose bodily or mental condition is such as to render attendance inadvisable, and who holds definite certificate of a reputable physician specifying this condition and covering the period of absence.

3. Any child who is blind, deaf, dumb or feeble-minded, for the instruction of whom no adequate provision has been made by the school district.

4. Any child living more than two and one-half miles by direct and traveled road from the nearest public school supported for the children of the same race and color of such child and with no free transportation provided.

5. Any child more than twelve years of age who has satisfactorily completed the work of the seventh grade of a standard elementary school of seven grades, and whose services are needed in support of a parent or other person standing in parental relation to the child, may, on presentation of proper evidence to the county superintendent, be exempted from further attendance at school. [Id.]

Art. 2894. Excuses for absences.—Any child not so exempt may be excused for temporary absence due to personal sickness, sickness or death in the family, quarantine, severe storm which has destroyed bridges and made the regular means of travel dangerous, or for unusual causes acceptable to the teacher, principal or superintendent of the school in which the said child is enrolled; provided that the excuses are in writing and signed by the parent or guardian of said child. Any case so excused may be investigated by the authorities discharging the duties of attendance officer for the school from which said child is so excused. [Id.]

Art. 2895. Attendance officer.—The county school trustee of any county having a scholastic population of more than three thousand may elect a school attendance officer for said county upon petition of at least fifty resident freeholders of said county setting forth good reasons why said county should have an attendance officer. A public hearing shall be had on said petition after due notice thereof given by publication in a newspaper published at the county seat for three consecutive weeks, or if there be no such newspaper, then by posting printed notices in two public places within the county and one at the courthouse door of said county. If, after such hearing, said trustees believe that a school attendance officer is necessary to the proper enforcement of the provisions of this law, and that the schools of said county will be benefited by having said attendance officer, the said board may elect such officer as herein provided.

The board of trustees of any independent district having a scholastic population of more than two thousand may in like manner elect an attendance officer for said district.

Such attendance officer may have his salary paid from the available school funds belonging to said county or district, not exceeding two dollars per day for the time actually employed in discharging his duty. In any county or independent district where such attendance officer is not so elected, the duties of said attendance officer shall devolve upon the school superintendents and peace officers of such county or district who shall perform the same without additional pay. Counties or independent school districts which may avail themselves of the option to elect school attendance officers may elect the probation officer or some officer or officers of the juvenile court of said county to serve as such attendance officer. [Id.]

Art. 2896. Powers and duties.—The attendance officer shall have power to investigate all cases of unexcused absences from school, to administer oaths and to serve legal process, to enforce the provisions of this law, to keep records of all cases of any kind investigated by him in the discharge of his duties, and to make reports of his work as the State Superintendent may require. Nothing in this law shall be construed to authorize any attendance officer to invade or enter without permission of the owner or tenant thereof, or the head of any family residing therein, any private home, or private residence, or any room or apartment thereof, except to serve lawful process upon any parent, guardian or other person standing in parental relation to any child affected by this law, or to forcibly take corporal custody of any child anywhere without permission of the parent or guardian thereof, or other person standing in parental relation to such child, except in obedience to valid process issued by a court of competent jurisdiction. [Id.]

Art. 2897. Superintendent shall furnish list, etc.—The county superintendent shall furnish to the superintendent of schools of each school district in the county, and to the principal of the school in case there be no superintendent, a complete list of all children of scholastic age belonging in said district, as shown by the last scholastic census and the record of transfers to and from said district. The superintendents and principals of the various schools of said county shall report to said county superintendent the names of all children subject to the provisions of this law who have not enrolled in said school, and the superintendent, principal or other official of private, denominational or parochial schools shall furnish to said county superintendent a list of all children of scholastic age enrolled in the school presided over by said official and the district in which said child was enumerated in the public school census. From such reports the county superintendent shall make up a complete list of all children within scholastic age enrolled in the various districts of said county who have not enrolled in some school and are not complying with the compulsory attendance law, and said list shall be furnished to the attendance officer. All notices, forms and blanks to be used by any of the superintendents, principals or officials of any school shall be prescribed by the State Superintendent. Any teacher giving instruction to any child within compulsory attendance age shall promptly report any unexcused absences to the attendance officer. [Id.]

Art. 2898. Parole of pupil.—Any child within the compulsory school attendance ages who shall be insubordinate, disorderly, vicious or immoral in conduct, or who persistently violates the reasonable rules and regulations of the school which he attends, or who otherwise persistently misbehaves therein so as to render himself an incorrigible, shall be reported to the attendance officer who shall proceed against such child in the juvenile court. If such child is found guilty in said court the judge shall have the power to parole said child, after requiring the parent or other person standing in parental relation, to execute a bond in the sum of not less than ten dollars, conditioned that said child shall attend school regularly and comply with all the rules and regulations of said school. If the superintendent or principal of any school shall report to the attendance officer for said school that said child has violated the conditions of his parole, said attendance officer shall proceed against such child before the judge of the juvenile court, and if such child shall be found guilty of violating the conditions of said parole, the bond shall forthwith be declared forfeited and shall be collected in the same manner as other forfeited bonds under the general laws of this State, and the proceeds of same shall be paid into the available school fund of the common or independent school district. The judge of said court may, after a fair and impartial hearing given to said child, again parole said child, requiring such bond as he may deem prudent, and require said child to again enter school. If said child shall violate the conditions of the second parole and shall be convicted of same he shall be committed to a suitable training school as may be agreed upon by the parent of the child and the judge of the juvenile court in which the child is convicted. [Id.]

The petition for said permit shall be made in writing, and shall set forth such details of the plans and specifications as are necessary to pass upon the legality of the lighting, heating, ventilation, sanitation and fire protection in such proposed building. For buildings in a common school district the county superintendent of the county in which the school is to be located, and for buildings of an independent school district or in a city or town that has assumed control of its schools, the superintendent of public schools in that district or city or town, is hereby authorized, empowered and required to examine all plans for all proposed public school buildings, costing over four hundred dollars, and to grant permits only for such buildings, as conform to the requirements of this law, and to make a report to the State Superintendent of all such permits granted, transmitting all evidence. qualifications of trustees for common and independent districts, as provided by General Law. Provided that the county school trustees shall have the authority to abolish a rural high school district on a petition signed by a majority of the voters of each elementary school district composing the rural high school district and when such district has been abolished the elementary districts shall automatically revert back to their original status, with the exception that in the event there are any outstanding indebtednesses against the said rural school district each elementary district shall assume its proportional part of the debts. [As amended Acts 1925, 39th Leg., p. 204, ch. 59; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 206, ch. 78, § 1.]

Art. 2922b. How classed.—Rural high school districts as provided for in the preceding article shall be classed as common school districts, and all other districts, whether common or independent, composing such rural high school district shall be referred to in this Act as elementary school districts; provided that all independent school districts enlarged by the annexation thereto of one or more common school districts as provided for in Article 2922a shall retain its status and name as an independent school district, and shall continue to operate as an independent school district under the provisions of the existing laws and the laws hereafter enacted governing other independent school districts, except as otherwise provided for herein.

Art. 2922c. Area.—No rural high school district, as provided for herein, shall contain a greater area than one hundred square miles, or more than seven elementary school districts, except that the county school board of school trustees may form rural high school districts, as provided in Article 2922a, containing more than one hundred square miles, upon a vote of a majority of the qualified electors in the said proposed rural high school district voting at an election called for such purpose; and provided further, that the said board of county school trustees may form a rural high school district containing more than seven elementary districts upon a vote of a majority of the qualified voters in each of the elementary districts within such proposed rural high school district.

Art. 2922d. County line districts.—The county board of trustees of two or more adjoining counties shall have the authority, upon the written order of a majority of the members of each county board concerned, to establish a county line rural high school district, and to designate the county which shall have supervision of said county line rural high school district. Said county line rural high school district shall be governed as other rural high school districts herein provided for.

Art. 2922e. Any vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term by appointment by the county board of trustees. Provided that for a rural high school district formed with more than one hundred square miles of territory, or containing more than seven elementary districts, as provided in this Act, the board of trustees, as herein provided for, shall be elected from the district at large. Should any rural high school district fail to elect a trustee or trustees as provided for in this Act, the county board of trustees shall appoint said trustee or trustees. Four of said trustees shall be elected each odd number of years and three on each even number of years on the first Saturday in April. The trustees of the first board shall draw for terms. In the event a rural high school district is created subsequent to the date for the election of trustees of common school districts, as provided by General Law, it shall be the duty of the county board to appoint a board of trustees for the district, as prescribed herein, to serve until the next date for the election of common school district trustees. In the election of rural high school district trustees, at least one voting box shall be provided in each elementary district composing the high school district.

The present board of trustees of all elementary school districts which may be included within a rural high school district, as herein provided, shall continue in control of their respective districts until the close of the current scholastic year, but they shall make no contract effecting the expenditure of any school funds subsequent to September 1, 1925, nor shall they have any other authority in the management and control of the schools of the said districts after September 1, 1925. The boards of trustees of rural high school districts shall immediately upon their election and organization proceed to make contracts for the operation of all schools under their control. The first board of trustees herein provided for shall be elected on the first Saturday in April, 1925, and annually thereafter an election shall be held as provided for by law for holding trustee elections in common school districts.

Art. 2922f. Elementary schools—how abolished.

Whenever one or more common school districts are annexed to a common school district or to an independent district under the provisions of Section 1, such common or independent district shall maintain elementary schools of such classification as the county board may designate in each district so annexed, for the same length of term provided for the schools of the said common school district or independent district. Provided such schools may be discontinued by the local board of trustees when the average daily attendance of any such schools for the preceding year is less than twenty.

Art. 2922g. Districts classified.—The county board of school trustees shall classify the elementary schools in each rural high [school] district and designate the number of grades that shall be taught in such schools, and when such classification is made the board of trustees of the rural high school districts shall maintain a school of such classification for the same length of term as all other schools within said rural high school district. The board of trustees of a rural high school district shall have a right to be heard by the county board of trustees relative to the classification of schools within their districts and shall have the right of appeal from such classification from the county board of school trustees to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Art. 2922h. Outstanding bonds.—In the event any of the elementary districts included within a rural high school district or the common school districts annexed to a common or independent district, or the common school or independent district to which one or more common school districts are annexed, as herein provided for, have outstanding bonded or other valid indebtedness, then at an election for that purpose, at a date to be designated by the proper authorities, as provided by General Law, the question as to whether or not the said rural high school district, common school district, or independent school district as the case may be, shall assume and pay off such outstanding bonds or other indebtedness and whether a tax shall be levied therefor may be submitted to the qualified tax-paying voters of such high school, common or independent district. If a majority of the votes cast at such an election favor the assumption of such indebtedness then such indebtedness shall become valid and subsisting obligations of the said rural high school district, common school district, or independent district; and the board of trustees of such district shall annually thereafter levy and collect sufficient taxes to pay the interest on the bonds so assumed as it accrues, and create a sinking fund which, in addition to the sinking funds already accumulated in the original bonded district or districts, will pay off and retire the said outstanding bonds when they shall become due. The said election providing for the assumption of such bonded or other indebtedness shall be called and held in accordance with existing provisions of law relating to elections for the issuance of bonds by independent school districts. [As amended Acts 1925, 39th Leg., p. 204, ch. 59; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 206, ch. 78, § 2.]

Art. 2922i. Warrants.—All funds of every nature to which a rural high school district may be entitled shall be paid out on warrants issued by the secretary and signed by the secretary and president of the board of trustees and approved by the county superintendent of public instruction. The board of school trustees shall select its own president and secretary, each of whom shall be a member of the board. The secretary shall keep a complete itemized account of all receipts and disbursements in a well-bound book owned and paid for by the district, and his accounts shall be approved by the county superintendent and by the county board of school trustees at the end of each scholastic year. No school funds shall be allotted or apportioned and paid to any rural high school district for the following year thereafter until this report is submitted to and approved by the county superintendent and the county board of school trustees.

Art. 2922j. Deposit and disbursement of funds.—All funds belonging to a rural high school district shall be deposited in the county depository and disbursed in the same manner as other funds are disbursed from such depository under the depository law in so far as same are applicable.

Art. 2922k. Control by and of trustees.—All rural high schools within a rural high school district herein provided for shall be under the immediate control of the board of school trustees for such rural high schools, and such board of school trustees shall be under the control and supervision of the county superintendent and county board of school trustees, and shall be subject to the same provisions of law and restrictions that common school districts are now subject to, except where otherwise provided herein.

Art. 2922l. Tax.—The board of trustees of a rural high school district provided for in this Act shall have the power to levy and collect an annual ad valorem tax not to exceed one dollar on the hundred dollars valuation of taxable property of the district for the maintenance of schools therein, and a tax not to exceed fifty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property of the district for the purpose of the payment of accounts legally contracted in purchasing, constructing, repairing or equipping public free school buildings within the limits of each district, and the purchase of necessary sites therefor; provided, that the amount of maintenance tax, together with the amount of the bond tax of the district shall never exceed one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property; and provided further that no such tax shall be levied and no such bonds shall be issued until after an election shall have been held wherein a majority of the qualified tax-paying voters, voting at said election, shall have voted in favor of the levying of said tax, or of the issuance of said bonds, or both, as the case may be, and which election shall be held in accordance with the law now governing such elections in independent school districts, provided that the local taxes previously authorized by a district or districts included in a rural high school district or annexed to a common or independent school district, as provided for herein, shall be continued in force until such time as a uniform tax may be provided for the benefit of the rural high school district or said common or independent district as enlarged by the annexation of the said common school districts thereto. The board of trustees of any rural high school district may appoint an assessor of taxes who shall assess the taxable property within the limits of said district within the time provided by existing laws, and said assessment shall be equalized by the board of equalization composed of three members appointed by the board of trustees of said district. The said board of equalization shall be composed of legally qualified voters residing in said district, and shall have the same power and authority, and be subject to the same restrictions that now govern such boards in independent school districts. The tax assessor herein provided for shall receive such compensation for his services as the trustee of said district may allow, not to exceed two (2) per cent of taxes assessed by him. The county tax collector shall collect such tax and shall receive one-half of one per cent for his services for collecting such tax. Such tax when collected shall be deposited in the county depository to the credit of such rural high school district. The tax assessor herein provided for shall make a complete list of all assessments made by him, and when approved by the board of trustees shall be submitted to the county tax collector not later than September first of each year. [As amended Acts 1925, 39th Leg., p. 204, ch. 59; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 206, ch. 78, § 3.]

1. Each school receiving this aid shall be provided with a suitable school house, erected in accordance with the Texas School House Building Law, or meeting substantially the requirements thereof, which shall be well located on a plot of ground not less than one acre in extent, properly drained.

2. Each such school shall be provided with necessary desks, seats and blackboards, with library, maps and charts, with such heating and ventilating equipment and such sanitary closets as are approved by the State Superintendent or his representative.

3. Teachers employed in State aid schools shall furnish to the State Superintendent satisfactory evidence of professional training and worthy service.

4. No common or independent school district shall be eligible to receive aid unless it shall be providing for the maintenance of its schools by voting and levying a local school tax of not less than seventy-five cents on the hundred dollars of property valuation; and provided further that the property valuation shall not be less than said property is valued for State and county purposes.

5. Each school receiving State aid under the provisions of this Act shall teach the common school subjects as prescribed by law, and shall follow the State course of study and shall be required to observe the school laws and rulings of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and State Board of Education.

6. After August 31, 1926, no district shall be granted aid to be used directly or indirectly in assisting the district to liquidate outstanding indebtedness previously contracted. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 113, p. 293, § 2.]

Art. 2922o. Grant of aid.—Schools of not more [than] four hundred (400) and not less than fifteen (15) scholastics located in districts of not more than 500 enrollment, complying with the foregoing conditions may send to the State Superintendent on blanks provided by the State Department of Education, a list of teachers employed in the school, showing the monthly salary, experience and training of each, together with an itemized statement of expected receipts and expenditures, the length of term, and such other information as may be required. Art. 2922p. Preference in distribution of aid.—It is expressly hereby provided that all school districts meeting the requirements of this Act and not having sufficient available school funds to maintain their schools six months in the year shall be given the preference in the distribution of this fund to the end that all the public schools in the State can be maintained at least six months in the year, provided that no salaries to be paid out of State and county funds shall exceed those permitted in the General School Laws in accordance with the grade of certificate held. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 113, p. 294, § 4.]

Art. 2922q. Aid without compliance with conditions.—In case of extraordinary and unusual conditions where it can be shown that its own resources are insufficient, the State Board of Education may arrange for the support of the rural school from State aid funds for a period of not exceeding six months even though the school district be unable to comply with the foregoing conditions; provided, however, that the amount of the tax herein provided for must be voted by the patrons of said school district and cannot be waived by the State Board of Education, and provided further, that the amount granted in no case shall exceed $300.00. Said allowance of $5.00 per capita per month is to be in lieu of a transfer of the State and county per capita apportionment, and if such transfer is made, a credit shall be allowed the district for the same. The funds due to high school pupils, as provided in this section, shall be paid to them [by] warrants drawn by the trustees of the district, against the funds granted said district for such purpose.

Only districts that are levying and collecting a local tax of not less than seventy-five cents on the hundred dollars valuation are eligible for this special aid. The funds due for such tuition shall be paid by warrants drawn by the trustees of the pupil's home district against the funds granted said district for such purpose. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 113, p. 294, § 6.]

Art. 2922s. Special aid for teaching of special subjects.—State aid to the amount of not more than $250.00 to any one school in a district which will provide for proper instruction and demonstration in farm mechanics and carpentry, gardening and agriculture, home economics and sanitation, sewing, cooking and canning, according to plans furnished and approved by the State Department of Education, may be granted from the appropriation authorized by this Act. It is expressly provided that the school district which applies for special aid under this section must be complying with the foregoing conditions as stated in Section 2 of this Act. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 113, p. 295, § 7.]

Art. 2922t. Consolidated districts.—It is hereby further provided that the sum of one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars may be granted by the State Superintendent, with the approval of the State Board of Education, for each rural consolidation effected during the biennium ending August 31, 1927, between two or more common school districts, or between an independent school district and one or more common school districts, provided the total scholastic population does not exceed five hundred in such consolidated district; provided such consolidation results in the erection of a rural high school building with not fewer than four teachers, or the addition of at least one room and one teacher, as a consequence of the consolidation, to the high school already provided, and resulting in a school of not fewer than four teachers. This sum shall become available when the building has been erected, or is nearing completion. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 113, p. 295, § 8.]

Art. 2922u. Consolidated rural schools.—Consolidated rural schools, formed in accordance with Section 8 of this Act, which make provision for transportation of pupils to and from said schools at public expense, may be granted from this fund in addition to the amount provided in Section 8 of this Act, a sum equal to one-half the cost of transportation, in amount not to exceed five hundred ($500.00) dollars for any one school, provided the contract for said transportation be approved by the State Superintendent. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 113, p. 295, § 9.]

Art. 2922v. Maximum for district.—Except as authorized in Sections 8 and 9, no district shall receive a total of more than one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars in any one year under the provisions of this Act. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 113, p. 295, § 10.]

Art. 2922w. Power of State Board.—The State Board of Education shall be authorized and it shall be their duty to take such action and to make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the terms of this Act, as, in its opinion, may be necessary to carry out the provisions and intentions of this Act. They shall have the power to impose such other conditions and regulations as to the granting of State aid as may not conflict with provisions herein specified, as, in their opinion, may be for the best interests of the schools for whose benefit the funds are appropriated. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 113, p. 295, § 11.]

Art. 2922x. Duties of State Superintendent.—It shall be the duty of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to go in person or to send one of the rural school supervisors, authorized by this Act, who shall make a thorough investigation in person, or through representatives approved by the State Board of Education, of the grounds, buildings, equipment and possibilities of each school applying for State aid under the provisions of this Act, and aid shall not be granted to any school unless it be shown that such aid is actually needed for efficiency of school work and for the desired length of term. In cases where exceptional conditions, or lack of sufficient supervisory force renders personal inspection by the Department of Education impossible in time to grant State aid to some schools, the State Superintendent shall pursue such course, in regard to the final granting of State aid to such schools, as, on his recommendation, may be approved by the State Board of Education. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 113, p. 296, § 12.]

The name of no candidate of any political party that cast one hundred thousand votes or more at the last preceding general election shall be printed on any official ballot for a general election, unless nominated by primary election, on primary election day, except as herein otherwise provided. [Acts 1st C. S. 1905, p. 520.]

The space which shall contain the title of the office and the name of the candidate shall be of uniform style and type on said tickets. At the head of each ticket shall be printed the name of the party. [Id. sec. 53.]

Art. 2982. [2971] Constitutional amendment and other questions.—When a Constitutional amendment or other question submitted by the Legislature is to be voted on, the form in which it is submitted shall, if the Legislature has failed to prescribe a form be described by the Governor in his proclamation in such terms as to give the voter a clear idea of the scope and character of the amendment, and printed once at the bottom of each ballot as described by this title, the words "for" and "against" under it. If a proposition or question is to be voted on by the people of any city, county or other subdivision of the State, the form in which such proposition shall be voted on shall be prescribed by the local or municipal authority submitting it. [Id. sec. 4.]

Art. 2983. [2972] Form by local authorities.—At the election of school district officers or school officers for a city, town or village, at which no officer is to be elected, or election of officers of fire departments, any ballot may be used prescribed by local authorities. [Id. sec. 51.]

So help me God." [Acts 1st C. S. 1905, p. 533, sec. 56.]

Art. 2999. [2992] Preliminary arrangements.—The judges and clerks of election for each precinct, and supervisors if any, shall meet at the polling place at least half an hour before the time for opening the polls, and shall proceed to arrange the guard rail, the space within the guard rail, the voting booths, if any, and the furniture for the orderly and legal conduct of the election. The judges of election shall then examine the ballot boxes and the blank official ballots, and shall deposit such ballots as are found to be defective in printing in ballot box No. 4 for mutilated or return ballots. They shall examine the sample ballots, instruction cards, distance markers, tally sheets, return sheets, certified list of voters, rubber stamps and all things required for the election. The package of official ballots shall remain in the custody of the judges and the polling clerks, and shall not be opened until the morning of the election and at the polling place. The judges shall cause to be placed at the distance of one hundred feet from the entrance of the room at which the election is held visible distance markers in each direction of approaches to the polls, on each of which shall be printed in large letters the words: "Distance markers. No electioneering or loitering between this point and the entrance to the polls." The judges shall examine the ballot boxes and then relock them, after all present can see they are empty. [Id. sec. 55.]

Art. 3000. [2993] Instruction card posted.—Before the election begins, one instruction card shall be posted conspicuously near each distance marker and one posted up in each voting booth where it can be read. When there are no voting booths, one shall be posted up in plain view at the place prepared for the voter to make out his ballot. [Id. sec. 56.]

Art. 3001. [2994] Presiding judge absent.—If no presiding judge was appointed or fails to act or fails to attend on election day, the voters present may appoint their own presiding officer, who has paid his poll tax, and they may also appoint the necessary assistant judges of election. When a presiding officer who has been appointed by a commissioners court fails to act in conducting an election, and one is selected by the voters present, the judges and clerks at such election shall, in making their returns of election, certify to that fact, and state that the acting judges were appointed by the voters present. When an assistant judge or clerk having been appointed fails to act at the opening of the polls or during the election, the presiding judge shall appoint in his place another with the same qualifications, and return a certificate of such appointment with each election return. [Id. sec. 83.]

Art. 3002. [2995] Power of presiding judge.—Judges of election are authorized to administer oaths to ascertain all facts necessary to a fair and impartial election. The presiding judge of election, while in the discharge of his duties as such, shall have the power of the district judge to enforce order and keep the peace. He may appoint special peace officers to act as such during the election and may issue warrants of arrest for felony, misdemeanor or breach of peace committed at such election, directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county, or such special peace officer, who shall forthwith execute any such warrants, and, if so ordered by the presiding judge, confine the party arrested in jail during the election or until the day after the election, when his case may be examined into before some magistrate, to whom the presiding judge shall report it; but the party arrested shall first be permitted to vote, if entitled to do so unless he is drunk from the use of intoxicating liquor, then he shall not be permitted to vote until he is sober. [Id. sec. 67.]

Art. 3003. [2996] To inspect ballot boxes.—Before the balloting begins, the presiding judge shall unlock ballot box No. 1. and after all the officers of the election and supervisors have inspected the same to see that it is empty, relock it and place it within view, where it shall remain until removed to make room for ballot box No. 2. A like examination shall be made of ballot box No. 2. [Id. sec. 68.]

[2997] Present poll tax receipt.—No citizen shall be permitted to vote, unless he first presents to the judge of election his poll tax receipt or certificate of exemption issued to him before the first day of February of the year in which he offers to vote, except as otherwise permitted in this title, unless the same has been lost or mislaid, or left at home, in which event he shall make an affidavit of that fact; which shall be left with the judges and sent by them with the returns of the election; provided, that, if since he obtained his receipt or certificate he removes from the precinct or county of his residence, he may vote on complying with other provisions of this title. [Id. sec. 66.]

Art. 3005. [2998] Announcer.—One election judge shall receive from the voter his poll tax receipt or certificate of exemption, when he presents himself to vote; the voter shall announce his name, and the judge after comparing the appearance of the party with the description given in the certified list of qualified voters of the precinct made out by the county collector, and being satisfied that it accords therewith, shall pronounce in an audible voice the name of the voter, and his number as given in the list of qualified voters. If the voter has lost, mislaid or left at home his receipt or certificate, and shall present his affidavit of that fact, and if his appearance tallies with that given for the same number and name on the list of qualified voters, or if the voter presents his affidavit of removal from some other precinct or county, in cases where the same is permitted by this title, together with his receipt or certificate or affidavit of the loss thereof, and the judges of election shall be satisfied that he paid his poll tax or received his certificate of exemption before the first day of the preceding February, the judge shall in like manner pronounce in an audible voice the name and number of the elector on the certified list of qualified voters with the word, "correct." Art. 3006. [2999] Examination of challenged voter.—When a person offering to vote shall be objected to by an election judge or a supervisor or challenger, the presiding judge shall examine him upon an oath touching the points of such objection, and, if such person fails to establish his right to vote to the satisfaction of the majority of the judges, he shall not vote. If his vote be received, the word, "sworn," shall be written upon the poll list opposite the name of the voter. [Id. sec. 73.]

Art. 3007. [790-3000] Vote challenged.—In any election, State, county or municipal, being held in any city or town of ten thousand inhabitants or more according to the preceding Federal census, when the right of any elector to vote is challenged, the following proceedings shall be had:

1. The judges of election shall refuse to accept such vote of such elector unless in addition to his own oath he proves by the oath of one well known resident of the ward that he is a qualified voter at such election and in such ward.

2. When such vote is accepted, the word "challenged" shall be written on the ballot, and the judges shall cause the clerk of election to make a minute of the name of the elector and the party testifying under oath as to his qualifications, and such memoranda shall be kept by the county clerk of the county for six months after such election is held, subject to order of the district judge. [Acts 1891, p. 47; G. L. vol. 10, p. 49.]

Art. 3008. [3001] Delivery of ballot.—When the judges are satisfied as to the right of the citizen to vote, the judge shall stamp in legible characters with a stamp of wood or rubber the poll tax receipt or certificate of exemption with the words: "Voted day of, A. D. 19." Or write the same words in ink and then return said receipt or certificate to the voter, and shall at the same time deliver to him one official ballot on the blank side of which the presiding judge shall have previously written his signature. The voter shall then immediately repair to a voting booth or a place prepared for voting by the election officers, and there prepare his ballot in the manner provided by law. [Id. sec. 72.]

Art. 3009. [3002-3119] Marked ballot.—At either a general, special or primary election, any judge may require a citizen to answer under oath before he secures an official ballot whether he has been furnished with any paper or ballot on which is marked the names of any one for whom he has agreed or promised to vote or for whom he has been requested to vote, or has such paper or marked ballot in his possession, and he shall not be furnished with an official ballot until he has delivered to the judge such marked ballot on paper, if he has one. [Id. secs. 70 and 127.]

Art. 3010. [3003] Aid to voter.—Not more than one person at the same time shall be permitted to occupy any one compartment, voting booth or place prepared for a voter, nor shall any assistance be given a voter in preparing his ballot, except when a voter is unable to prepare the same himself because of some bodily infirmity, such as renders him physically [physically] unable to write or is over sixty years of age and is unable to read and write, in which case two judges of such election shall assist him, they having been first sworn that they will not suggest, by word or sign or gesture, how such voter shall vote; and they will confine their assistance to answering his questions, to naming candidates, and the political parties to which they belong, and that they will prepare his ballot as such voter himself shall direct; provided that the voter must in every case explain in the English language how he wishes to vote, and no judge of the election shall use any other than the English language in aiding the voter, or in performing any duty as such judge of the election. Where any assistance is rendered in preparing a ballot other than as herein allowed, the ballot shall not be counted, but shall be void for all purposes. If the election be a general election, the judges who assist such voters shall be of different political parties, if there be such judges present, and if the election be a primary election one or more supervisors may be present when the assistance herein permitted is being given, but each supervisor must remain silent except in cases of irregularity or violation of the law. [Id. sec. 82; Acts 4th C. S. 1918, p. 54; Acts 1919, p. 94.]

Art. 3011. [3004] Officers not to electioneer.—No election judge, clerk or other person connected with the holding of an election, shall on election day, indicate by words, sign, symbol or writing to any citizen, how he shall or should not vote; provided, nothing herein shall interfere with the operation of the preceding article. [Acts 1st C. S. 1905, p. 533, sec. 65.]

Art. 3012. [3005] Depositing ballot.—When a citizen shall have prepared his ballot, he shall fold the same so as to conceal the printing thereon, and so as to expose the signature of the presiding judge on the blank side, and shall, after leaving the booth, hand to the numbering judge his ballot. If the judges are satisfied that the ballot returned is the one delivered to the voter, the numbering judge shall number the ballot, writing on the blank side the number opposite the voter's name on the voting list, and shall stamp or write the same with the word "voted," and deposit the ballot in the ballot box. The letter, "V" shall, at the same time, be marked by any clerk on the certified list or supplemental list of qualified voters opposite the voter's name thereon, and the voter shall at once leave the polling place. [Id. sec. 74.]

Art. 3013. [3006-3119] Mutilated ballots.—At any general or primary election no voter shall be entitled to receive a new ballot in lieu of one mutilated and defaced, until he first returns such ballot. No one shall be supplied with more than three ballots in succession, when they are mutilated or defaced. A register shall be kept by the clerks as the voting progresses of the mutilated or defaced ballots, which shall be deposited in box No. 4. [Id. secs. 75 and 138.]

Art. 3014. [3007] Bystanders excluded.—From the time of opening the polls until the announcement of the results of the canvass of votes cast and the signing of the official returns, the boxes and official ballots shall be kept at the polling place in the presence of one or more of the judges and supervisors, if any. No person, except those admitted to vote, shall be admitted within the room where the election is being held, except the judges, clerks, persons admitted by the presiding judge to preserve order, and supervisors of election. The box shall be locked and so returned sealed to the county clerk, with a statement which shall be placed therein signed by the presiding judge of the number of ballots received by him, the number of mutilated or defaced ballots that the box contained, and also the number of ballots not given to voters, as well as those defectively printed, so that, after adding such numbers, all ballots delivered to the election officers may be accounted for. Such ballot box shall, when the returns of votes cast are canvassed by the commissioners court, be opened, the ballots counted and a record made of what they have found to be its contents. [Acts 1st C. S. 1905, p. 533, sec. 69.]

Art. 3016. [3009] Deposit and count.—At the expiration of one hour after voting has begun, the receiving judges shall deliver ballot box No. 1 to the counting judges, who shall at once deliver in its place ballot box No. 2, which shall again be opened and ex-

Ballot box No. 1 shall, on its receipt by the counting judges, be immediately opened and the tickets taken out by one of them, one by one, when he shall read and distinctly announce while the ticket remains in his hand, the name of each candidate voted for thereon, which shall be noted on the tally sheets, and shall then deliver the ballot to the other counting judge, who shall place the same in box No. 3, which shall remain locked and in view until the counting is finished, when said box shall be returned with the other boxes, locked and sealed, to the county clerk. Ballot boxes Nos. 1 and 2 shall be used by the receiving judge and the counting judge alternately, as above provided, as often as the counting judge has counted and exhausted the ballots in either box. [Id. sec. 80.]

Art. 3017. [3010] Examining ballots.—No officer of election shall unfold or examine the face of a ballot when received from an elector, nor the indorsement on the ballot, except the signature of the judge, or the words stamped thereon, nor compare it with the clerk's list of voters when the ballots are counted, nor shall he permit the same to be done; nor shall he examine or permit to be examined the ballots after they are deposited in a ballot box, except as herein provided for in canvassing the votes, or in cases especially provided by law. [Id. sec. 77.]

Art. 3018. [3011-12] Ballots not counted.—The counting judges and clerks shall familiarize themselves with the signature of the judge who writes his name on each ballot that is voted, and shall count no ballot where two or more are folded together, or that does not bear the judge's signature or is unnumbered, or if, on examination by the judges, such signature is found to be a forgery. If the names of two or more persons are upon a ballot for the same office, when but one person is to be elected to that office, such ballot shall not be counted for either of such persons. [Id. secs. 78; Acts 1876, p. 308; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1144.]

Art. 3022. [3016-17] Status of count announced.—Immediately upon the closing of the polls, and at intervals of two hours thereafter, a judge shall make a correct but unofficial memorandum of the total number of votes counted for each candidate at that time, such memorandum being in the order in which the names of the candidates appear upon the ballot; and thereupon he shall publicly announce from such memorandum the status of the count at the door of the building where the counting is in progress. This memorandum shall thereafter be accessible to the public, and especially newspaper reporters, who may call for information; and the presiding judge or an associate judge may furnish reporters information concerning the status of the count at other times after the polls have closed. The announcement of the status of the count shall continue as aforesaid until the count has been completed, when a correct but unofficial announcement of the total number of votes received by each candidate shall be announced as above provided. This article shall also apply so as to require

Art. 3025. The said court may proceed to the trial of said issue raised by said contest after having given the contestants and the contestees full and fair opportunity to produce before said court the evidence upon such issues. The court may adjourn the said hearing from time to time and may, before the final determination of said cause, make such orders and decrees as to the court may seem just and proper, requiring any election officers to make such certificate of the result of such election as in the judgment of the court such officers should have made in making the returns of such election. Upon the trial of said cause, the court shall have full power and authority to hear and determine all matters and things necessary or proper to the determination of the question whether a majority of the legal votes cast in said election, either in favor of or against said proposed amendment, including the manner of holding the election, any frauds or irregularities in the conduct thereof, or in the making of the returns thereof illegal votes cast at said election or legal votes prevented from being cast, false calculations, certificates or returns, and to exercise all powers of the court, in order to fully inquire into and ascertain the true and correct result of such election, free from any fraud, irregularity or mistake. [Id.]

Art. 3073. To compel returns.—The said court shall have full authority when the result of such election in any voting precinct box shall have been ascertained and determined, to order and compel the proper officers thereof to make true and correct returns of such election in such voting box as finally determined by said court, to the proper officers of such county and when the result in any county shall have been ascertained and determined by said court, to order and compel the proper returning officers of such county to make true and correct returns of the result of said election in said county as to said amendment as ascertained by said court to the Secretary of State, and to order the Secretary of State to make his returns, tabulations, canvassings, countings and certificates in accordance with the result of such election as finally ascertained and determined by the court. [Id.]

Either party may appeal as in other civil cases and the same shall have precedence over all other causes pending in the appellate courts to which the appeal or writ of error is taken, except such cases as may be entitled to precedence over said cause by virtue of some provision of the Constitution of this State. Upon final judgment in said appellate court, it shall enter a decree ordering and directing the Secretary of State to declare the true result of said election as judicially determined and ascertained by said court, and the Secretary of State shall make his tabulations, canvassings and certificates of the results of such election in accordance with the final judgment of said court, and said amendment shall be adopted or rejected in accordance with the final result of said election as finally determined by the judgment of said court. [Id.]

Art. 3075. Result final.—The result of said contest shall finally settle all questions relating to the validity of said election, and it shall not be permissible to again call the legality of said election in question in any other suit or proceeding. If no contest of said election is filed and prosecuted in the manner and within the time herein provided for, it shall be conclusively presumed that said election as held and the result thereof as declared are in all respects valid and binding upon all courts, provided, that pending such contest the enforcement of all laws in relation to the subject matter of such contest shall not be suspended, but shall remain in full force and effect. Article 3100. [3085] "Primary election."—The term "primary election," as used in this chapter, means an election held by the members of an organized political party for the purpose of nominating the candidates of such party to be voted for at a general or special election, or to nominate the county executive officers of a party. [Id.]

Art. 3101. [3084] Nominated at primary.—On primary election day in 1926, and every two years thereafter, candidates for Governor and for all other State offices to be chosen by vote of the entire State, and candidates for Congress and all district offices to be chosen by the vote of any district comprising more than one county, to be nominated by each organized political party that cast one hundred thousand votes or more at the last general election, shall, together with all candidates for offices to be filled by the voters of a county, or of a portion of a county, be nominated in primary elections by the qualified voters of such party. [Acts 1st C. S. 1905, p. 549.]

Art. 3102. [3086] Date of primary.—The fourth Saturday in July 1926, and every two years thereafter shall be general primary election day, and primary elections to nominate candidates for a general election shall be held on no other day, except when specially authorized. No person shall be declared the nominee of any political party at any primary election for any State or district office unless he has complied with every requirement of all laws applicable to primary and other elections, and has received a majority of all the votes cast at such primary elections for all candidates for such office. If at the general primary election for any political party, no candidate becomes the nominee for any State or district office under this article, a second primary election shall be held by such political party, in the State or such district, or districts, as the case may be, on the fourth Saturday in August succeeding such general primary election, and only the name of the two candidates who received the highest number of votes for any office for which nomination was made at the general election shall be placed on the official ballot as candidates for such office at such second primary. The second primary election shall be conducted according to the law prescribed for conducting the general primary election, and the candidates receiving a majority of all votes cast for the office to which they aspire shall be declared the nominee for their respective offices. Any political party may hold a second primary election on the fourth Saturday in August to nominate candidates for any county or precinct office, where a majority vote is required to make nomination; but at such second primary, only the two candidates who received the highest number of votes at the general primary for the same office shall have their names placed upon the official ballot. Nominations of candidates to be voted for at any special election shall be made at a primary election at such time as the party executive committee shall determine, but no such committee shall ever have the power to make such nominations. All precincts in the same county and all counties in the same district shall vote on the same day. Nominations of party candidates for offices to be filled in a city or town shall be made not less than ten days prior to the city or town election at which they are to be chosen, in such manner as the party executive committee for such city or town shall direct, and all laws prescribing the method for conducting county primary elections shall apply to them. [Id. Acts 4th C. S. 1918, p. 191.]

Art. 3103. [3087] Where to vote.—The places of holding primary elections of political parties in the various precincts of the State shall not be within one hundred yards of the place at which such elections or conventions are held by a different political party. When the chairmen of the executive committees of the different parties cannot agree on the places where precinct primary elections to be held on the same day shall be held, such places in each precinct shall be designated by the county judge, who shall cause public notice thereof to be given at once in some newspaper in the county, or if there be none, by posting notices in some public place in the precinct. [Acts S. S. 1905, p. 549.]

Art. 3104. [3089] Officers of primary.—All the precinct primary elections of a party shall be conducted by a presiding judge, to be appointed by a chairman of the county executive committee of the party, with the assistance and approval of at least a majority of the members of the county executive committee. Such presiding judge shall select an associate judge and two clerks to assist in conducting the election; two supervisors may be chosen by any one-fourth of the party candidates, who, with the judges and clerks, shall take the oath required of such officers in general elections. Two additional clerks may be appointed, but only when, in the opinion of the presiding judge, there will be more than one hundred votes polled at the primary election in the precinct. [Id.]

Art. 3105. [3090] Judges of primary.—Judges of primary elections have the authority, and it shall be their duty, to administer oaths, to preserve order at the election, to appoint special officers to enforce the observance of order and to make arrests, as judges of general elections are authorized and required to do. Such judges and officers shall compel the observance of the law that prohibits loitering or electioneering within one hundred feet of the entrance of the polling place, and shall arrest, or cause to be arrested, any one engaged in the work of conveying voters to the polls in carriages or other mode of conveyance, except as permitted by this title. [Id.]

Art. 3106. [3091–2] Majority or plurality vote.—The county executive committee shall decide whether the nomination of county officers shall be by majority or plurality vote, and, if by a majority vote, the committee shall call as many elections as may be necessary to make such nomination, and in case the committee fails to so decide, then the nomination of all such officers shall be by a plurality of the votes cast at such election. [Id.]

Art. 3107. Political party may prescribe qualifications of members.—Every political party in this State through its State Executive Committee shall have the power to prescribe the qualifications of its own members and shall in its own way determine who shall be qualified to vote or otherwise participate in such political party; provided that no person shall ever be denied the right to participate in a primary in this State because of former political views or affiliations or because of membership or nonmembership in organizations other than the political party. [As reenacted Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 193, ch. 67, § 1.]

Section 1 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 193, ch. 67, repeals Rev. St. 1925, art. 3107, but gives the new article the same number.

Art. 3108. [3094] Expenses of primary.—At the meeting of the county executive committee provided in Article 3117, the county committee shall also carefully estimate the cost of printing the official ballots, renting polling places where same may be found necessary, providing and distributing all necessary poll books, blank stationery and voting booths required, compensation of election officers and clerks and messengers, to report the result in each precinct to the county chairman, as provided for herein, and all other necessary expenses of holding such primaries in such counties, and shall apportion such cost among the various candidates for nomination for county and precinct offices only as herein defined, and offices to be filled by the voters of such county, or precinct only, (candidates for State offices excepted), in such manner as in their judgment is just and equitable, giving due consideration to the importance and emoluments of each such office for which a nomination is to be made, and shall, by resolution, direct the chairman to immediately mail to each person whose name has been requested to be placed on the official ballot a statement of the amount of such expenses so apportioned to him, with the request that he pay the same to the county chairman on or before the fourth Monday in June thereafter. [Acts S. S. 1905, p. 549.]

Art. 3109. [3095] Ballot at primaries.—The vote at all general primaries shall be by official ballot, which shall have printed at the head the name of the party, and under such head the names of all candidates, those for each nomination being arranged in the order determined by the various committees as herein provided for, beneath the title of the office for which the nomination is sought. The voter shall erase or mark out all names he does not wish to vote for. The official ballot shall be printed in black ink upon white paper, and beneath the name of each candidate thereof for State and district offices, there shall be printed the county of his residence. The official ballot shall be printed by the county committee in each county, which shall furnish to the presiding officer of the general primary for each voting precinct at least one and one-half times as many of such official ballots as there are poll taxes paid for such precinct, as shown by the tax collector's list. Where two or more candidates are to be nominated for the same office, to be voted for by the qualified voters of the same district, county or justice precinct, such candidates shall be voted for and nominations made separately, and all nominations shall be separately designated on the official ballots by numbering the same, "1," "2," "3," etc., printing the word "No.," and the designating number after the title of the office for which such nominations are to be made. Each candidate for such nomination shall designate in the announcement of his candidacy, and in his request to have his name placed on the official ballot, the number of the nomination for which he desires to become a candidate, and the names of all candidates so requesting shall have their names printed beneath the title of the office and the number so designated. Each voter shall vote for only one candidate for each such nomination. [Id.]

Art. 3110. [3096–7] Test on ballot.—No official ballot for primary election shall have on it any symbol or device or any printed matter, except a uniform primary test, reading as follows: "I am a(inserting name of political party or organization of which the voter is a member) and pledge myself to support the nominee of this primary;" and any ballot which shall not contain such printed test above the names of the candidates thereon, shall be void and shall not be counted.

Art. 3111. [3098-9] Request to go on ballot.—The request to have the name of any person affiliating with any party placed on the official ballot for a general primary as a candidate for the nomination of such party for any State office shall be governed by the following:

1. Such request shall be in writing signed and duly acknowledged by the person desiring such nomination, or by twenty-five qualified voters. It shall state the occupation, county of residence and post-office address of such person, and if made by him shall also state his age.

2. Any such request shall be filed with the State chairman not later than the first Monday in June preceding such primary, and shall be considered filed if sent to such chairman at his post-office address by registered mail from any point in this State.

3. On the second Monday in June preceding each general primary, the State committee shall meet at some place to be designated by its chairman who shall not less than three days prior to such meeting notify by mail all members of said committee and all persons whose names have been requested to be placed upon the official ballot of such designation. Such committee at this meeting by resolution shall direct their chairman to certify to each county chairman the names and county of residence of such candidates as shown by such requests. Copies of such certificates shall be immediately furnished to each newspaper in the State desiring to publish the same, and one copy shall at once be mailed to the chairman of the executive committee of each county. [Id.; secs. 108-9.]

Art. 3112. [3100] Request for district office.—Any person desiring his name to appear on the official ballot as a candidate for the nomination for chief justice or associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, or for representative in Congress, or for State Senator, or for representative, or district judge or district attorney in representative or judicial districts composed of more than one county, shall file with the chairman of the executive committee of the party for the district, said request with reference to a candidate for a State nomination, or if there be no chairman of such district executive committee, then with the chairman of each county composing such district, not later than the first Monday in June preceding the general primary. Such requests may likewise be filed not later than said date by any twenty-five qualified voters resident within such district, signed and duly acknowledged. Immediately after said date each such district chairman shall certify the names of all persons for whom such requests have been filed to the county chairman of each county composing such district. [Id.; sec. 110.]

Art. 3113. At such primary election or mass convention a new executive committee shall be selected to serve during the ensuing term; provided that this law shall not be construed so as to prevent independent candidates for city offices from having their names upon the official ballot, as provided for by law. This article shall not repeal the provisions of any charter heretofore or hereafter specially granted to any city in this State. [Id.; Acts 1911, p. 18.]

6. MISCELLANEOUS

A nominee may decline and annul his nomination by delivering to the officer with whom the certificate of his nomination is filed, ten days before the election, if it be for a city office, and twenty days in other cases, a declaration in writing, signed by him before some officer authorized to take acknowledgments. Upon such declination (or in case of death of a nominee), the executive committee of a party, or a majority of them for the State, district or county, as the office to be nominated may require, may nominate a candidate to supply the vacancy by filing with the Secretary of State in the case of State or district officers, or with the county judge in the case of county or precinct officers, a certificate duly signed and acknowledged by them, setting forth the cause of the vacancy, the name of the new nominee, the office for which he was nominated and when and how he was nominated. These primary conventions shall elect delegates to the county conventions of the several counties, which shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Saturday in May 1928, and every four years thereafter. The qualified voters of each voting precinct of the county shall assemble on the date named, and shall be presided over by a chairman who shall have been previously appointed by the county executive committee of the party, and shall be a qualified voter in said election precinct. Said convention may elect from among their number a secretary and such other officers as may be necessary to conduct its business. The chairman of said convention shall possess all the power and authority that is given to election judges under the provisions of this title. If, in case of emergency, any such person is so placed or detained in a jail or other lockup, he shall forthwith be examined by a physician and shall be furnished suitable medical care and nursing. The reasonable expense for board, lodging, medical care, nursing, clothing and all other necessary expenses incurred by the county health officer under this section, shall be allowed by the commissioners' court and paid out of the general fund of the county. Each female committed to any institution for the treatment of the insane and of other mentally ill persons shall be accompanied by a female attendant, unless accompanied by her father, brother, husband or son, during conveyance to such institution.

Art. 3193e. Certificate of physicians.—If a person is found by two properly qualified and licensed physicians to be in such mental condition that his commitment to an institution for the treatment of the insane and other mentally ill persons is necessary for his proper care or observation, he may be committed by the county judge to a State Hospital for thirty-five days pending the determination of his insanity; within thirty days after such commitment, the superintendent of the institution to which the person has been committed shall discharge him if he is not insane, and shall notify the judge who committed him, or if he is insane he shall report the patient's mental condition to the judge with the recommendation that he shall be committed as an insane person or discharged to the care of his guardian, relatives, or friends, if he is harmless and can properly be cared for by them, within the said thirty-five days, the committing judge may authorize a discharge as aforesaid, or he may commit the patient to the institution as an insane person, if, in his opinion, such commitment is necessary. If in the opinion of the judge, additional medical testimony as to the mental condition of the alleged insane person is desirable, he may appoint a physician to examine and report thereon.

Art. 3193f. Certificate of physician.—The superintendent of any institution for the treatment of the insane and other mentally ill person, may, without the order of the county judge, receive into his custody and detain in such institution for not more than five days any person whose case is certified to be one of violent and dangerous insanity, or of other emergency, by two properly qualified and licensed physicians, which certificate shall be filed with a county judge as the certificate required in Article 3193a. Such request for admission of a patient shall be put in writing and shall be filed at the institution at the time of the patient's reception or within twenty-four hours thereafter, together with the applicant's statement in the form procured or approved by the Board of Control giving such information as it deems advisable. Any such patient deemed by the superintendent as unsuitable for such care shall, upon the request of the superintendent, be removed forthwith from the institution by the party requesting his reception, and if he is not so removed, such person shall be liable to the State for all reasonable expenses incurred under this article on account of the patient, which may be recovered by the State. The superintendent shall cause every such patient either to be examined by two physicians, properly qualified and licensed, who shall cause application to be made for this admission or commitment to such institution, or to be removed therefrom before the expiration of said period of ten days unless he signs a request to remain therein as a voluntary patient as hereinafter provided. Whenever any such person is received into any institution, the superintendent thereof shall give immediate notice of such reception to the Board of Control.

Art. 3193i. Temporary absence.—The superintendent of any institution, after the examination as hereinafter provided, may permit any inmate thereof temporarily to leave such institution in charge of his guardian, relatives, friends, or by himself, for a period not exceeding twelve months, and may receive him when returned by any such guardian, relative, friend, or upon his own application, within such period, without any further order of commitment, but no patient, who has been charged with, or convicted of, some offense and been adjudged insane in accordance with the provisions of the code of criminal procedure, shall be permitted to temporarily leave such institution without the approval of the governor, nor shall such permission terminate or in any way affect the original order of commitment. The superintendent may require as a condition of such leave of absence, that the person in whose charge the patient is permitted to leave the institution, shall make reports to him of the patient's condition. Art. 3235. Accommodation for inmates.—The Board shall provide accommodations for only such number of inmates from year to year as can be advantageously cared for with the appropriation granted for that year, giving preference first to girls and women of child bearing age, and to those of both sexes who are most likely to profit by the special education and training. [Id.]

Art. 3236. Release and parole of inmates.—All persons committed or admitted to said institution shall remain in its custody as permanent wards of this State until released by the management thereof. STATE TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM for enforcing the necessary discipline and restraint of all patients. The Board shall appoint for each of said colonies a regularly licensed physician. The Board shall supply each colony with the necessary cooks, waiters, yard men, nurses, etc., for the operation and maintenance of such colonies. Each physician so appointed shall be superintendent of the institution under his control and shall have power to remove, at will, and without assigning any cause whatever, any person employed in any colony over which he has such authority. All such physicians shall hold their office for two years and shall be removed only for just cause to be determined by the Board. [Id.]

Art. 3240. Who admitted.—Persons afflicted with tuberculosis who shall have been citizens of this State and of the county from which he or she comes at the time of filing of their application with the county judge as hereinafter provided, shall be admitted to said institutions. A citizen of this State is defined to be any person who has actually resided therein with the bona fide intention of being a citizen thereof for a period of twelve months next preceding the date of such application. [Id.]

Art. 3241. Classification of patients.—Patients admitted to said institutions shall be of three classes, to-wit:

1. Indigent public patients.
2. Non-indigent public patients.
3. Private patients.

Indigent public patients are those who possess no property of any kind nor have any one legally responsible for their support, and who are unable to reimburse the State. This class shall be supported at the expense of the State.

Non-indigent public patients are those who possess some property out of which the State may be reimbursed, or who have some one legally liable for their support. This class shall be kept and maintained at the expense of the State, as in the first instance, but in such case the State shall have the right to be reimbursed for the support of such patients, and the claim of the State shall constitute a valid lien against any property of any such patient or in case he has a guardian, against any property of his which is in the possession of said guardian, or against the person or persons who may be legally liable for his support and financially able to contribute as herein provided; and such claim may be collected by suit or other proceedings in the name of the State of Texas by the county or district attorney of the county from which said patient is sent, against such patient or his guardian or the person or persons liable for his support; and the suit may be brought in the county from which such patient was sent. Such suit shall be instituted upon the written request of the superintendent of said colony accompanied by a certificate as to the amount due the State, which in no case shall exceed five dollars per week for the board of such patient, together with the necessary cost incident to his transportation to said colony. In all suits or proceedings, the certificate of the superintendent shall be sufficient evidence of the amount due the State for the support of such patient. It shall be the duty of said attorney upon such request being made to institute and conduct such proceedings and for which he shall be entitled to a commission of ten per cent of the amount collected. All moneys so collected less such commission shall be by the county attorney paid to the superintendent of said colony, who shall receive and receipt for the same and shall use the same for the maintenance and improvement of said property.

Private patients may be admitted into said colonies upon application of parent or guardian or friend, under such regulations as the Board may prescribe, not in conflict with this law. Such patients shall be kept and maintained at the colony at their own expense for the board and care of such patients. The Board may make special contracts for private patients at a rate not to exceed ten dollars per week, payable in advance. All moneys collected shall be paid to the superintendent of such institution, who shall account for the same and for its use in the maintenance and improvement of said colony at which the same is received. [Id.]

Art. 3242. Application for admission.—The parent, guardian or friend of any patient seeking admission may make application in writing and under oath to the county judge of the county wherein such patient resides, for admission of said patient into said State Colony, which application shall show:

1. The name of the patient.
2. The sex.
3. Age and nativity.
4. Whether possessing any property; if so, what, and the estimated value thereof, and where located.
5. Whether the patient has any one legally liable for his support; if so, whom; what property possessed by such person; the estimated value thereof, and where located.

9. Name of husband or wife, if any.
10. Children, if any; number, age and sex.
11. Relatives similarly affected, insane, invalid, consumptive and such other information as may be required by the Board.

Art. 3243. Certificate of examination.—Said application shall be accompanied by the certificate of a reputable practicing physician, or in the case of indigent patients, by a certificate from the county physician, stating that he has thoroughly examined the person for whose admission application has been made, and that such person is suffering from tuberculosis, and the duration of said disease if known, and the accompanying bodily disorders. No person afflicted with any contagious, infectious or transmissible disease, other than tuberculosis, shall be admitted. It shall be the duty of the county judge to certify that the physician making the certificate is a reputable physician actively engaged in the practice of his profession, and has complied with the law of this State governing licenses to practice medicine. [Id.]

Art. 3244. Duties of county judge.—If the county judge is not satisfied as to the showing made in said application and certificate or either, he may subpoena witnesses and examine them under oath touching such matters, and if it be made to appear to the judge that such person is entitled to admission into the colonies under the provisions of this law, he shall forward an application for admission, together with the application hereinbefore described, to the State Health Officer. If such county judge shall find that the person for whom application is made is in fact not indigent, then he shall make application for such person as a non-indigent patient. [Id.]

Art. 3245. Duties of State Health Officer.—The State Health Officer shall receive such applications, alphabetically index and file the same in his office where they shall become a permanent record. If the county judge shall determine not to make such application for any person, then such person may make an application direct to the State Health Officer, and if in the judgment and opinion of the State Health Officer such patient is entitled to admission into such colony, then he shall order him to be admitted upon his own motion, which order must be by him written, signed and filed with the superintendent of the institution into which such patient is admitted. [Id.]

Art. 3246. No preference in admission.—No patient in any State colony shall be discriminated against by virtue of the fact that he is an indigent, non-indigent or private patient, but they shall be treated alike, given equal facilities, equal attention and equal treatment. No patient in any such institution shall be permitted to give any officer, servant, agent or employé in any such institution any tip, pay or reward of any kind, and if such patient does so, it shall be a cause for his expulsion from said colony, and the discharge of any servant accepting the same; and the Board shall see that this provision is rigidly enforced. [Id.]

Art. 3247. Regulation of admission.—The State Health Officer shall keep on file an alphabetical index of applications of all patients, and patients shall be admitted according to their file number; reserving at all times not less than one-half of the accommodations afforded at each colony for indigent consumptives; one-fourth of the accommodations for non-indigent patients, and one-fourth for the accommodations for the private or pay patients; subject, however, to the control and discretion of the Board. If any applicant who complies with the provisions of this law applies for admission and said sanatoriums are full of patients, then such applicant shall have the right to furnish his own tent, bedding, and enter said sanatorium by paying the regular charges for board and treatment and complying in every respect with the law, rules and regulations governing said sanatorium. [Id.]

Art. 3248. Clothing, etc., expenses.—The county judge shall see that each patient admitted to the colony is supplied with three full suits of underwear and one neat top coat, all being such as may be prescribed by the State Health Officer; and the expenses of the clothing and transportation of public indigent patients shall be paid by the county from which the patient is sent. If any patient is admitted directly upon the certificate of the State Health Officer as an indigent patient, then the State Health officer shall supply such patient with such clothing and his certificate thereof shall be full evidence that the same was so supplied and of the value thereof, and the county from which said patient came shall be chargeable with said clothes and shall pay the same upon presentation of said certificate. Non-indigent public patients shall pay for their clothing and transportation themselves. [Id.]

Art. 3249. Private additions to sanatorium.—The Board is hereby authorized, on request of any charitable fraternity or society in this State, to permit the erection, furnishing and maintenance by such fraternities or societies upon the grounds of said sanatorium, of dormitories and such other accommodations as may be desired by any such fraternity or society for the proper treatment and care or [of] any member or members of such fraternity or society or for any members of their families, or for the widows and children of deceased members of such fraternity or society, who may be afflicted with tuberculosis, and which accommodations so erected shall be reserved for the preferential use of such members and members of their families and of the widows and children of deceased members of the fraternity or society so erecting, furnishing and maintaining such accommodations hereunder. The State shall be at no expense whatever in the erection, furnishing or maintenance of such accommodations, and the fraternity or society, entering a patient or patients shall provide such pro rata part for the maintenance of such patient or patients as may be found just and equitable pending the next succeeding appropriation to be made by the Legislature for the maintenance of said Tuberculosis Sanatorium. "Children" under this article shall mean any minor child of a deceased member of such fraternity or society. Such accommodations or any part of them not being used or required by those entitled to such preference, may be used and occupied by other patients in said sanatorium at the discretion of the superintendent thereof and without any charge therefor against the State. [Acts 1917, p. 408.]

Art. 3250. Plan of buildings.—All matters pertaining to the location, construction, style or character of buildings, term of their existence and all other questions arising in connection with the granting of the permission to erect and maintain the accommodations contemplated in the preceding article, shall be arranged and agreed upon in writing by and between the Board on the part of the State, and the properly authorized officers, board or committee of each respective charitable fraternity or society, and such written agreement in each case shall be recorded at length upon the minutes of the Board and be duly reported to the State Health Officer in the next succeed-

[Id.]

Admission of patients.—The superintendent and advisory board are hereby authorized to promulgate rules and regulations for the operation and maintenance of the Sanatorium, and shall prescribe rules for the admission of patients; provided in all cases priority and preferential rights of admission shall always be given to honorably discharged veterans of the World War. After such preference and priority shall be given, if there should be further available beds, then any bona fide citizen of this State who has been such for at least six months next preceding the date of his application, having tuberculosis, shall be entitled to be admitted upon application to the superintendent; provided that if such person shall make affidavit, which affidavit shall never be required of any honorably discharged veteran of the World War, that he or she is unable to pay for admission and treatment, such person shall be admitted and treated free of charge. Said Board shall also appoint a physician for said Home. [Acts 1919, p. 301.]

Art. 3256. Rules and regulations.—The board shall make necessary rules and regulations for the proper government of said Home, and shall see that the time of the children is properly distributed between the school of letters and the industrial and domestic pursuits according to what is deemed for their best interests and the facilities at hand. The superintendent shall from time to time make such recommendation to said board as may seem to be the best interests of all the children committed to said home. It shall be the duty of said controlling board to give diplomas or certificates of proficiency for grades made in any school that may be established by the board. [Id.]

Art. 3257. Commitment of child.—Whenever any child under sixteen years of age is brought before any juvenile court upon petition of any person within this State, charged with being a dependent or neglected child, the court may, if in the opinion of the judge the Home for Dependent and Neglected children is the proper place for said child, commit such child to said Home during its minority. No child who is feeble-minded, epileptic, insane or afflicted with a venereal, tubercular or other communicable disease shall be assigned to this institution until cured of such disease. No child shall be admitted to the Home until he has been examined by the physician of the Home and such physician has issued a certificate showing the exact condition in reference to said qualifications. The court committing any child to said Home shall prepare a transcript of all proceedings and attach thereto a certificate of the county health officer of such county to said transcript. If it be a girl or baby or infant committed to said Home, the judge of the court shall designate some reputable woman to convey said girl, baby or infant to said institution. The cost of conveying any child to said institution shall be paid out of the general fund of the county from which it may be committed but no compensation shall be allowed beyond actual and necessary expenses of the party conveying and the child conveyed. [Id.]

Art. 3258. Unruly child excluded.—All juvenile courts shall give preference to those children of tender age, and said courts shall not commit to said Home children under the age of sixteen years who are known to be habitual violators of the laws of this State or who have been committed to any other institution of this State or to the State School for the Training of Juveniles. The Board is authorized to refuse admittance to such juveniles, or if, after they are committed to said Home their conduct should be of such nature and character as to contaminate the interests of other children in said Home, the Board upon proper application, shall have the authority to transfer, and it shall be the duty of the superintendent of the State School for the Training of Juveniles to accept said child in said institution. [Id.]

Art. 3259. Dismissal of child.—No child shall be dismissed until some suitable home has been found for it, or it has become able to be self supporting and only then upon the written recommendation of the superintendent to the Board, or when any ward committed to said institution has become married with the consent of the Board and superintendent. Children may be placed for adoption only in homes where proper support and training can and will be given. Any child above the age of ten years and not adopted, but who goes out from this Home either under the custody of some adult or as self-supporting, shall continue under the supervision and guidance of the Board which shall require that the person or persons under whose care the child is placed or the child himself shall write bi-weekly letters to the controlling board for the first six months and monthly thereafter. The board, the superintendent, or some other employé of said Home may visit the place where said child is adopted, living or employed, and it shall be the duty of the person having said child in adoption or custody to answer all questions asked by said visiting committee concerning the conduct, employment, treatment or conditions of said child. If in the judgment of the Board it should be to the best interests of said child that it be returned to said Home, the Board is hereby empowered to have it returned. [Id.]

Art. 3259a. Colored girls training school established and maintenance provided.—Sec. 1. The State Board of Control is hereby authorized and directed to locate and establish in this State at some suitable place a school upon the cottage plan for the care, education and training of dependent and delinquent colored girls, provided such location is approved by the Governor.

Sec. 2. It shall be the purpose of this home and school to provide an institution of training and care of colored girls who by their own misconduct or by their unfavorable surroundings have become dependent or delinquent and need care and attention not otherwise provided; and in the accomplishment of the purpose of this Act the Board of Control shall provide adequate and proper quarters and exercise and diversion, and shall make provision for training of such girls in such of the useful arts and sciences to which women are adapted in order to prepare them for future usefulness and economic independence. Among other things, in connection with said institution a provision shall be made for instruction in nursing, sanitation and hygiene. Proper provision shall be made for the moral and religious training of such girls.

Sec. 3. The colored girls' training school provided for in this Act shall be under the control and management of the State Board of Control, who shall appoint a superintendent, and manage and control the same through such superintendent in similar manner as the Girls' Training School at Gainesville is operated and controlled under the laws of this State.

Sec. 4. The Board of Control shall employ as superintendent of said school a colored woman of previous experience and training. The superintendent and the Board of Control shall have as their advisers [advisors] in connection with said school a board of five members, all of whom shall be women, who shall be nominated by the Board of Control and confirmed by the Governor and who shall act in an advisory capacity, but shall not have power to manage or control said institution.

There shall be held semi-annually a joint conference of the Board of Control and said Advisory Board of this institution, for the purpose of considering all matters pertaining to the policies and general welfare of the institution.

The Board of Control shall fix the salary of the superintendent and all employees of said school. The superintendent or any other employee of the institution may be removed by the Board of Control on account of inefficiency, incompetency, inattention to his or her duties, misconduct or malfeasance in office, and the decision of the Board of Control as to such matters necessitating removal shall be final.

Sec. 5. Any colored girl between the ages of seven and eighteen years may be adjudicated to be a dependent or delinquent child in the same manner as provided in Title 43 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925 relating to dependent and neglected children. In such a proceeding the charge may be that such a child is a dependent or delinquent child as evidenced by the conduct of such child, and enough of the facts shall be alleged and proved to substantiate said charge. The court may, if it is the opinion of the Judge that the Colored Girls' Training School is a suitable place for the girl complained against, commit the defendant to said colored girls' training school for any period not to exceed the balance of her minority. No girl shall be committed to said school who is feeble-minded, epileptic or insane. Any girl committed to said school who is suffering with any communicable disease shall be assigned to a distinct and separate building of the institution and shall not be allowed to associate with other children or persons not so afflicted. No girl shall be admitted to said institution until she has been examined by the physician at said school, and such physician shall issue a certificate showing her exact physical and mental condition before she is admitted to the institution.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of the court committing any girl to said school in addition to the commitment to annex thereto a carefully prepared transcript of the trial to aid the officials of the institution in better understanding in classifying the girl.

The Court shall also designate some reputable woman to convey the girl to the institution. The cost of conveying any girl committed to said institution shall be paid by the county from which she is committed; provided that no compensation shall be allowed beyond the actual and necessary expenses of the person conveying and the girl so conveyed.

Sec. 7. No girl shall be dismissed or paroled from said school until some suitable home has been found for her, and then only upon the written recommendation of the superintendent of the school to the Board of Control, or unless she has become married with the consent of the superintendent of said institution and the Board of Control; provided that no provision of this act shall be construed to interfere with the power of the Governor in the exercise of executive clemency to any such girl when in his judgment it may be best. The State Board of Control shall have authority to parole, subject to the limitations of this Act. Any girl who is thus paroled from the institution shall be under the supervision and guidance of the superintendent for the remainder of the time for which she was committed and the superintendent shall require that said girl write letters twice per week to the superintendent of the school for the first six months after leaving the institution, and monthly letters thereafter. The Board of Control shall also see to it that the person under whose care or employ the girl is placed shall write monthly letters to the superintendent of the school for the first six months, and semi-annually thereafter.

Sec. 8. The Board of Advisors herein provided for, the superintendent of said school, any member of the Board of Control, or other person designated by the Board of Control, may visit the place where the girl is living or is employed, and it shall be the duty of the person having the girl in charge to answer all questions asked by said visitors concerning the conduct, employment or training of said girl. If, in the judgment of the Board of Control, it shall be for the best interest of the girl that she be returned to said school, the Board is hereby empowered to have her returned.

Sec. 9. The superintendent, with the assistance of the Advisory Board, in an advisory capacity only, with the approval of the Board of Control, shall make all necessary rules and regulations for the government and management of the Training School, and shall provide that the time of the pupils is properly distributed between academic subjects and industrial and domestic subjects and employment according to the needs of the various pupils and the facilities at hand.

Provision shall be made for giving diplomas or certificates of proficiency for graduates from the Nurses' Training School, or any other school or departments of learning that may be established and operated in connection with said institution.

Sec. 10. The Advisory Board provided for in this Act shall not be entitled to any compensation, but shall be paid out of the support and maintenance fund of said institution actual expenses incurred in traveling to and from said institution, or to and from any place where such a delinquent or neglected child is located upon authority of the Board of Control.

Sec. 12. Any city or county in this State is hereby authorized to donate money to said institution to the extent that such county or city may be interested in the same.

Sec. 13. Any and all funds which may be donated for the benefit of said institution shall be placed in the State Treasury and expended in the same manner as other State moneys are expended, upon warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the order of the Board of Control. Any of said moneys are hereby appropriated for the purpose of carrying out this Act. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 441, ch. 293.]

STATE HOSPITAL FOR CRIPPLED AND DEFORMED CHILDREN

Art. 3260. Hospital established.—There is hereby established a State Hospital for Crippled and Deformed Children. The gift to the State of Texas by the Texas Public Health Association of the Walter Colquitt Memorial Children's Hospital, also known as the children's ward of the John Sealy Hospital on the premises of the University of Texas at Galveston, Texas, is hereby accepted by the State, and this hospital shall be the State Hospital for Crippled and Deformed Children. The term "crippled and deformed children" as used herein shall include children suffering from disease from which they may become crippled or deformed. [Acts 1915, p. 32.]

Art. 3261. Management and Control.—Said hospital shall be under the control and management of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, which is hereby authorized and empowered to lease said hospital building to the city of Galveston in the same manner as the John Sealy Hospital buildings, and to require that provision be made in such hospital for the care and treatment of crippled and deformed children, who may be benefited or cured by treatment in said hospital, and for such other cases or patients as may be required in the interest of scientific study by the faculty and students of the Medical Department of the University of Texas.

Said Board of Regents may in its discretion receive in said hospital any sick or afflicted child who is not crippled or deformed, and who is not suffering from any communicable disease. [Id.]

Art. 3262. Rules and regulations.—The Board of Regents shall adopt such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary and proper for the admission, discharge, care and treatment of such children. It may require their parents or guardians to pay all or a part of the expenses of the care and treatment of patients when able to do so, otherwise it may require such payment of their home counties or cities. [Id.]

TITLE 52

EMINENT DOMAIN

Art.

- 3264. Procedure.
- 3264a. Eminent domain by counties.
- 3265. Rule of damages.
- 3266. General provisions.

Art.

- 3267. How costs awarded.
- 3268. Damages paid first.
- 3269. Practice in case specified.
- 3270. Property, how construed.
- 3271. Property vested by judgment.

Article 3264. [6506] [6528] Procedure.—

The exercise of the right of eminent domain shall in all cases be governed by the following rules:

1. When real estate is desired for public use by the State or by a county, or a political subdivision of a county, or by a city or town, or by the United States Government, or by a corporation having the right of eminent domain, the party desiring to condemn the property after having failed to agree with the owner of the land on the amount of damages shall file a statement in writing with the county judge of the county in which the land or a part thereof is situated. It shall describe the land sought to be condemned, state the purpose for which it is intended to be used, the name of the owner if known, and that the plaintiff and the owner have been unable to agree upon the value of the land or the damages. Where the land lies in two or more counties, in one of which the owner resides, the statement shall be filed in the county of the owner's residence.

2. When such statement is filed with the county judge, he shall, either in term time or vacation, appoint three disinterested freeholders of said county as special commissioners to assess said damages, giving preference to those that may be agreed upon between the parties.

3. The commissioners shall be sworn to assess said damages fairly and impartially and in accordance with law.

4. The commissioners shall promptly set a time and place for hearing the parties, and the day appointed shall be the earliest practicable day, and the place selected shall be as near as practicable to the property in controversy or at the county seat of the county in which the property is situated.

5. Notice in writing shall be issued by the commissioners to each of the parties interested, notifying them of the time and place selected for the hearing.

6. The notices shall be served upon the parties at least five days before the day set for the hearing, exclusive of the day of the service, and may be served by any person competent to testify, by delivering a copy of such notice to the party, his agent or attorney.

7. When the property sought belongs to the estate of a deceased person or a minor, or other person laboring under disability, and the estate has a legal representative, the notice shall be served upon such representative.

8. When the property belongs to a non-resident of the State, or if the owner is unknown, or if the residence of the owner is unknown, or the owner secretes himself so that the process of law cannot be served upon him, such notice may be served by publication in the manner provided for such service of citation by publication in other civil cases in the district or county court. When the owner is a non-resident of the State the notice may be served as provided in paragraph six hereof.

9. The person serving notice shall return the original to the commissioners on or before the day set for the hearing, with his return in writing thereon, stating how and when it was served.

10. When service of notice has been perfected, the commissioners shall at the time and place appointed or at any other time and place to which the hearing may be adjourned, proceed to hear the parties.

11. Commissioners shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses and production of testimony, administer oaths, and punish for contempt as fully and in the same manner as is provided by law for judges of the county courts.

Art. 3264a. Eminent domain by counties.—

The right of Eminent Domain is hereby conferred upon counties of the State of Texas for the purpose of condemning and acquiring land, right of way or easement in land, private or public, except property used for cemetery purposes, where said land, right of way or easement is necessary in the construction of jails, courthouses, hospitals, delinquent and dependent schools, poor farms, libraries or for other public purposes, where such purpose is now or may hereafter be authorized by the Constitution or Statutes of this State.

All such condemnation proceedings shall be instituted under the direction of the commissioners' court, and in the name of the county, and the assessing of damages shall be in conformity to the Statutes of the State of Texas for condemning and acquiring right of way by railroads. That no appeal from the finding and assessment of damages by the commissioners appointed for that purpose shall have the effect of causing the suspension of work by the county in connection with which the land, right of way, easement, etc., is sought to be acquired. In case of appeal, counties shall not be required to give bond, nor shall they be required to give bond for costs. [Acts 1925, p. 300.] [Acts 39th Leg., ch. 116, § 1.]

Art. 3265. [6518-28] Rule of damages.—1. The commissioners shall hear evidence as to the value of the property sought to be condemned and as to the damages which will be sustained by the owner, if any, by reason of such condemnation and as to the benefits that will result to the remainder of such property belonging to such owner, if any, by reason of the condemnation of the property, and its employment for the purpose for which it is to be condemned, and according to this rule shall assess the actual damages that will accrue to the owner by such condemnation.

2. When the whole of a tract or parcel of a person's real estate is condemned, the damages to which he shall be entitled shall be the market value of the property in the market where it is located at the time of the hearing.

3. When only a portion of a tract or parcel of a person's real estate is condemned, the commissioners shall estimate the injuries sustained and the benefits received thereby by the owner; whether the remaining portion is increased or diminished in value by reason of such condemnation, and the extent of such increase or diminution [diminution] and shall assess the damages accordingly.

4. In estimating either the injuries or benefits, as provided in the preceding article, such injuries or benefits which the owner sustains or receives in common with the community generally and which are not peculiar to him and connected with his ownership, use and enjoyment, of the particular parcel of land, shall not be considered by the commissioners in making their estimate.

5. When the commissioners have assessed the damages, they shall reduce their decision to writing, stating therein the amount of damages due the owner, if any be found to be due, and shall date and sign such decision and file it together with all other papers connected with the case promptly with the county judge.

Art. 3266. [6507-28] General provisions.—1. When the county judge is disqualified to act in the case, and the parties fail to agree upon a special judge, he shall certify such disqualification upon the petition or statement filed with him, and file it with the county clerk, who shall make a certified copy thereof and of the endorsement thereon and forward the same to the Governor, who shall appoint some person learned in the law to act as special judge, and such special judge when appointed and qualified, shall proceed with the case to its final conclusion, or the parties may agree upon a special judge.

2. The county judge may appoint other commissioners when one or more of those appointed shall fail to serve.

3. Commissioners shall receive for their services three dollars for each day they may be engaged in the performance of their duties, and may withhold their decision until their fees are paid.

4. The party seeking to condemn the property shall pay the expense of serving notice upon the owner, but may recover from the owner such expenses when it is decided that the owner shall pay the costs.

5. The commissioners may adjudge the costs against either party, and shall make a statement in writing of all the costs which have accrued and state therein the party against whom such costs have been adjudged, and shall sign such statement and deliver it with the other papers.

6. If either party be dissatisfied with the decision, such party may within ten days after the same has been filed with the county judge file his objection thereto in writing, setting forth the grounds of his objection, and thereupon the adverse party shall be cited and the cause shall be tried and determined as in other civil causes in the county court.

7. If no objections to the decision are filed within ten days, the county judge shall cause said decision to be recorded in the minutes of his court, and shall make the same the judgment of the court and issue the necessary process to enforce the same.

Art. 3267. [6529] [4470] [4204] How costs awarded.—The costs of the proceedings before the commissioners and in the court shall be determined as follows, to-wit: If the commissioners shall award greater damages than the plaintiff offered to pay before the proceedings commenced, or if objections are filed to the decision in the county court under the provisions of this title, and the judgment of the court is for a greater sum than the amount awarded by the commissioners, then the plaintiff shall pay all costs; but if the amount awarded by the commissioners as damages or the judgment of the county court shall be for the same or less amount of damages than the amount offered before proceedings were commenced, then the costs shall be paid by the owner of the property.

Art. 3268. [6530] [4471] [4205] Damages paid first.—If the plaintiff in the condemnation proceedings should desire to enter upon and take possession of the property sought to be condemned, pending litigation, it may do so at any time after the award of the commissioners, upon the following conditions, to-wit:

1. It shall pay to the defendant the amount of damages awarded or adjudged against it by the commissioners, or deposit the same in money in court, subject to the order of the defendant, and also pay the costs awarded against it.

2. In addition thereto, it shall deposit in said court a further sum of money equal to the amount of the damages awarded by the commissioners, and which shall be held, together with the award itself, should it be deposited in court instead of being paid, exclusively to secure all damages that may be awarded or adjudged against the plaintiff; and it shall also execute a bond with two or more good and solvent sureties, to be approved by the judge of the court in which such condemnation proceedings are pending, conditioned for the payment of any further costs that may be adjudged against it, either in the court below or upon appeal.

3. Should it be determined on final decision of the case that the right to condemn the property in question does not exist, the plaintiff shall surrender possession thereof, if it has taken possession pending litigation, and the court shall so adjudge and order a writ of possession for the property in favor of the defendant, and the court may also inquire what damages, if any, have been suffered by the defendant by reason of the temporary possession of the plaintiff, and order the same paid out of the award or other money deposited; provided, that in any case where the award paid the defendant or appropriated by him exceeds the value of the property as determined by the final judgment, the court shall adjudge the excess to be returned to the plaintiff.

If the cause should be appealed from the decision of the county court, the appeal shall be governed by the law governing appeals in other cases; except the judgment of the county court shall not be suspended thereby. [Const. art. 1. sec. 17; Acts 1899, p. 105.]

Art. 3269. [6531] [4472] Practice in case specified.—When those having the right of eminent domain are sued for property or for damages to property occupied by it for the purpose for which it has the right to exercise such power, the court in which such suit is pending may determine all matters in dispute between the parties, including the condemnation of property, upon petition or cross-bill asking such remedy by defendant, but the plea for condemnation shall be admission of the plaintiff's title to such property. [Acts 1899, p. 18.]

Art. 3270. [6532] [4473] [4206] Property, how construed.—Except where otherwise expressly provided by law, the right secured or to be secured to any corporation or other plaintiff in this State, in the manner provided by this law, shall not be so construed as to include the fee simple estate in lands, either public or private, nor shall the same be lost by the forfeiture or expiration of the charter, but shall remain subject to an extension of the charter or the grant of a new charter without a new condemnation. [Acts 1861, p. 12.]

Art. 3271. [6534] [4475] [4208] Property vested by judgment.—Whenever acquired as hereinbefore provided, the judgment of the court shall vest such right in the company acquiring the same.

Art. 3611. [3540] [2167] [2112] Partition by commissioners.—The commissioners shall make a fair, just and impartial partition and distribution of the estate in the following order:

1. Of the land or other property by allotment to each distributee of a part in each parcel or of parts in one or more parcels, or of one or more parcels either with or without the addition of a part or parts of other parcels as shall be most for the interest of the distributees; provided, the real estate is capable of being divided without manifest injury to all or any of the distributees.

2. If the real estate is not capable of a fair, just and equal division in kind, but may be made so by allotting to one or more of the distributees a proportion of the money or other personal property to supply the deficiency or deficiencies, the commissioners shall have power to make, as near as may be, an equal division of the real estate and supply the deficiency of any share or shares from the money or other property.

If such division shall appear to have been fairly made according to law, and no valid exceptions are taken to it, the court shall approve it and order it to be recorded, and shall enter a decree vesting title in the distributees of their respective shares or portions of the property as set apart to them by the commissioners, otherwise the court may set aside said report and division and order a new partition to be made. [Id.]

Art. 3614. [3543] [2170] [2115] Special finding.—When the whole or any portion of the estate is in the opinion of the court not capable of fair and equal division among the distributees, the court shall make a special finding in writing, specifying therein the property that is incapable of division, and the value of the same as found. [3550] [2177] [2122] Court may order sale.—When any portion of the estate to be partitioned lies in another county and cannot be fairly partitioned without prejudice to the interests of the distributees, the commissioners may report such facts to the county judge in writing; whereupon at some regular term of the court, if satisfied that the said property cannot be fairly divided, or that its sale would be more advantageous to the distributees, he may order a sale thereof for cash, or on a credit of not more than twelve months. [Id.]

Art. 3622. [3551] [2178] [2123] Commissioners in each county.—If the court is not satisfied that such property can be fairly and advantageously divided, or that its sale would be more advantageous to the distributees, three or more commissioners may be appointed in each county where any portion of the estate so reported is situated, and the same proceedings shall be had thereon as is provided in this chapter for commissioners to make partition.
