PREFACE

The 1928 Complete Texas Statutes present the statutory law of Texas as embodied in the Revised Civil and Criminal Statutes 1925, together with subsequent legislation of a general nature down to and including the Regular and First Called Sessions of the Fortieth Legislature. Confined within the limits of one volume, and classified in accordance with the official arrangement of the Revised Statutes of 1925, the profession has conveniently before it the effective law of the state of Texas as it exists to-day. The 1928 Complete Texas Statutes is, in effect, a recompilation based upon the Revised Statutes of 1925, in which repeals and amendments by legislation subsequent to 1925 have been given full effect in arranging the text. This also means that the arrangement of this work conforms to the arrangement and article numbering of Vernon's Annotated Revised Civil and Criminal Statutes 1925.

The method adopted by the Legislature of inserting statutory references at the end of articles in the Revised Civil and Criminal Statutes of 1925, whereby successive sections from the same act or acts were designated by use of the word "Id.," has been disturbed only where the act or acts referred to could be definitely fixed; that is, where an article from an act subsequent to 1925 has been inserted between two earlier articles, and the statutory reference to the last article is designated by the word "Id.," it should be understood that in this compilation this word refers to the same article as in the 1925 Revised Statutes. In other words, if an article preceding an article with an "Id." citation in this work is of a date subsequent to 1925, the reader must go back until he finds an article with a statutory citation not later than the year 1925 in order to get the correct antecedent. For example, on page 294, the word "Id." occurring at the end of article 2294 refers back to article 2293, and does not refer to article 2293a; that is, article 2294 is not from the act of 1927 cited at the end of article 2293a, but is from one or more of the acts cited at the end of article 2293.

A comprehensive subject-matter index is provided, which should serve as a valuable and practical means of approach to the statutes. The Constitution of the United States, as well as the Constitution of the state of Texas, the latter completely indexed, are included.

Tables of Session Laws 1923 to 1927, as well as tables of corresponding articles from the Revised Civil and Criminal Statutes of 1879, 1895, and 1911, are among additional features which will commend the 1928 Complete Texas Statutes to the bench and bar of the state of Texas as an indispensable instrument in their professional labors.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES—1787*

WE THE PEOPLE of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I

Section. 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

*In May, 1785, a Committee of Congress made a report recommending an alteration in the Articles of Confederation, but no action was taken on it, and it was left to the State Legislatures to proceed in the matter. In January, 1786, the Legislature of Virginia passed a resolution providing for the appointment of five commissioners, who, or any three of them, should meet such commissioners as might be appointed in the other States of the Union, at a time and place to be agreed upon, to take into consideration the trade of the United States; to consider how far a uniform system in their commercial regulations may be necessary to their common interest and their permanent harmony; and to report to the several States such an act, relative to this great object, as, when ratified by them, will enable the United States in Congress effectually to provide for the same. The Virginia commissioners, after some correspondence, fixed the first Monday in September as the time, and the city of Annapolis as the place for the meeting, but only four other States were represented, viz.: Delaware, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania; the commissioners appointed by Massachusetts, New Hampshire, North Carolina, and Rhode Island failed to attend. Under the circumstances of so partial a representation, the commissioners present agreed upon a report, (drawn by Mr. Hamilton, of New York,) expressing their unanimous conviction that it might essentially tend to advance the interests of the Union if the States by which they were respectively delegated would concur, and use their endeavors to procure the concurrence of the other States, in the appointment of commissioners to meet at Philadelphia on the second Monday of May following, to take into consideration the situation of the United States; to devise such further provisions as should appear to them necessary to render the Constitution of the Federal Government adequate to the exigencies of the Union; and to report such an act for that purpose to the United States in Congress assembled as, when agreed to by them, and afterwards confirmed by the Legislatures of every State, would effectually provide for the same.

Congress, on the 21st of February, 1787, adopted a resolution in favor of a convention, and the Legislatures of those States which had not already done so (with the exception of Rhode Island) promptly appointed delegates. On the 25th of May, seven States having convened, George Washington, of Virginia, was unanimously elected President, and the consideration of the proposed constitution was commenced. On the 17th of September, 1787, the Constitution as engrossed and agreed upon was signed by all the members present, except Mr. Gerry, of Massachusetts, and Messrs. Mason and Randolph, of Virginia. The president of the convention transmitted it to Congress, with a resolution stating how the proposed Federal Government should be put in operation, and an explanatory letter. Congress, on the 28th of September, 1787, directed the Constitution so framed, with the resolutions and letter concerning the same, to "be transmitted to the several Legislatures in order to be submitted to a convention of delegates chosen in each State by the people thereof, in conformity to the resolves of the convention."

On the 4th of March, 1789, the day which had been fixed for commencing the operations of Government under the new Constitution, it had been ratified by the conventions chosen in each State to consider it, as follows: Delaware, December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New Jersey, December 18, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 21, 1788; Virginia, June 26, 1788; and New York, July 26, 1788.

The President informed Congress, on the 28th of January, 1790, that North Carolina had ratified the Constitution November 21, 1789; and he informed Congress on the 1st of June, 1790, that Rhode Island had ratified the Constitution May 29, 1790. Vermont, in convention, ratified the Constitution January 10, 1791, and was, by an act of Congress approved February 19, 1791, "received and admitted into this Union as a new and entire member of the United States."

Section. 2. ¹The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

²No Person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty-five Years and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

³[Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons.] The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New-York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

The clause of this paragraph inclosed in brackets was amended, as to the mode of apportionment of representatives among the several states, by the fourteenth amendment, § 2, post, and as to taxes on incomes without apportionment, by the sixteenth amendment, post.

⁴When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such Vacancies.

⁵The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

Section. 3. ¹[The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.]

This paragraph and the clause of paragraph 2 of this section next following, inclosed in brackets, were superseded by the seventeenth amendment, post.

²Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the Expiration of the second Year, of the second Class at the Expiration of the fourth Year, and of the third Class at the Expiration of the sixth Year, so that one-third may be chosen every second Year; [and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.]

See note to preceding paragraph of this section.

³No Person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

⁴The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

⁵The Senate shall chuse their other Officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the Absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

⁷ Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, Trust or Profit under the United States: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law.

Section. 4. ¹ The Times, Places, and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

² The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by Law appoint a different Day.

Section. 5. ¹ Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns, and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

² Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behavior, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Section. 6. ¹ The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their Services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

² No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil Office under the Authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no Person holding any Office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his Continuance in Office.

Section. 7. ¹ All bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

² Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by Yeas and Nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like Manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be a Law.

presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

Section. 8. ¹ The Congress shall have Power To lay and collect Taxes, Duties, Imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States; but all Duties, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

² To borrow Money on the credit of the United States;

³ To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian Tribes;

⁵ To coin Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin, and fix the Standard of Weights and Measures;

⁶ To provide for the Punishment of counterfeiting the Securities and current Coin of the United States;

⁷ To establish Post Offices and post Roads;

⁹ To constitute Tribunals inferior to the supreme Court;

¹² To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for a longer Term than two Years;

¹⁶ To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining, the Militia, and for governing such Part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively, the Appointment of the Officers, and the Authority of training the Militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

¹⁸ To make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers, and all other Powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Officer thereof.

Section. 9. ¹ The Migration or Importation of such Persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the Year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a Tax or duty may be imposed on such Importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each Person.

² The Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the public Safety may require it.

³ No Bill of Attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.

⁴ No Capitation, or other direct, tax shall be laid, unless in Proportion to the Census or Enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

* No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States: And no Person holding any Office of Profit or Trust under them, shall, without the Consent of the Congress, accept of any present, Emolument, Office, or Title of any kind whatever from any King, Prince, or foreign State.

Section. 10. ¹ No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money; emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.

² No State shall, without the Consent of the Congress, lay any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing it's inspection Laws: and the net Produce of all Duties and Imposts, laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the Use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Controul of the Congress.

³ No State shall, without the Consent of Congress, lay any Duty of Tonnage, keep Troops, or Ships of War in time of Peace, enter into any Agreement or Compact with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II

Section. 1. ¹ The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same Term, be elected, as follows

² Each State shall appoint, in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

[The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two Persons, of whom one at least shall not be an Inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number be a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a Majority, then from the five highest on the List the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from such State having one Vote; A quorum for this Purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two-thirds of the States, and a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every Case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice-President.]

This paragraph, inclosed in brackets, was superseded by the twelfth amendment, post.

³ The Congress may determine the Time of chusing the Electors, and the Day on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

⁴ No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty-five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

volve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation, or Inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

⁷ Before he enter on the Execution of his Office, he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation:—"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Section. 2. ¹ The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any Subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offences against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

Section. 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their Consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the Officers of the United States:

Section. 4. The President, Vice President and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III

Section. 1. The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their Offices during good Behaviour, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services, a Compensation, which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in Office.

Section. 2. ¹ The judicial Power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties made, or which shall be made, under their Authority;—to all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls;—to all Cases of admiralty and maritime Jurisdiction;—to Controversies to which the United States shall be a Party;—to Controversies between two or more States;—between a State and Citizens of another State;—between citizens of different States,—between citizens of the same State claiming Lands under Grants of different States, and between a State, or the Citizens thereof, and foreign States, Citizens or Subjects.

² In all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be Party, the supreme Court shall have original Jurisdiction. In all the other Cases before mentioned, the supreme Court shall have appellate Jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions, and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make.

³ The Trial of all Crimes, except in Cases of Impeachment, shall be by Jury; and such Trial shall be held in the State where the said Crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the Trial shall be at such Place or Places as the Congress may by Law have directed.

Section. 3. ¹ Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No Person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open Court.

ARTICLE IV

Section. 1. Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records, and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof.

Section. 2. ¹ The Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States.

² A person charged in any State with Treason, Felony, or other Crime, who shall flee from Justice, and be found in another State, shall on Demand of the executive Authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up to be removed to the State having Jurisdiction of the Crime.

³ No Person held to Service or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due.

Section. 3. ¹ New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

² The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

Section. 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government, and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic Violence.

ARTICLE V

The Congress, whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes, as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress; Provided that no Amendment which may be made prior to the Year One thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any Manner affect the first and fourth Clauses in the Ninth Section of the first Article; and that no State, without its Consent, shall be deprived of its equal Suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI

² This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

³ The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the several State Legislatures; and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to any Office or public Trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII

The Ratification of the Conventions of nine States, shall be sufficient for the Establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the Same.

Articles in Addition to, and Amendment of, the Constitution of the United States of America, Proposed by Congress, and Ratified by the Legislatures of the Several States Pursuant to the Fifth Article of the Original Constitution.

[ARTICLE I]*

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

[ARTICLE II]

A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

[ARTICLE III]

No Soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the Owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

[ARTICLE IV]

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

[ARTICLE V]

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous, crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any Criminal Case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

[ARTICLE VI]

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses

*The first ten amendments to the Constitution of the United States were proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the First Congress, on the 25th of September, 1789. They were ratified by the following States, and the notifications of ratification by the governors thereof were successively communicated by the President to Congress: New Jersey, November 20, 1789; Maryland, December 19, 1789; North Carolina, December 22, 1789; South Carolina, January 19, 1790; New Hampshire, January 25, 1790; Delaware, January 28, 1790; Pennsylvania, March 10, 1790; New York, March 27, 1790; Rhode Island, June 15, 1790; Vermont, November 3, 1791, and Virginia, December 15, 1791. There is no evidence on the journals of Congress that the legislatures of Connecticut, Georgia, and Massachusetts ratified them.

against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining Witnesses in his favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence.

[ARTICLE VII]

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

[ARTICLE VIII]

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

[ARTICLE IX]

The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

[ARTICLE X]

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

[ARTICLE XI]

The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State or by Citizens or Subjects of any Foreign State.

The eleventh amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Third Congress, on the 5th September, 1794, and was declared in a message from the President to Congress, dated the 8th of January, 1798, to have been ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States.

[ARTICLE XII]

The Electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate;—The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted;—The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

The twelfth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Eighth Congress, on the 12th of December, 1803, in lieu of the original third paragraph of the first section of the second article, and was declared in a proclamation of the Secretary of State, dated the 25th of September, 1804, to have been ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States.

[ARTICLE XIII]

Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

Section 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

The thirteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Thirty-eighth Congress, on the 1st of February, 1865, and was declared, in a proclamation of the Secretary of State, dated the 18th of December, 1865, to have been ratified by the legislatures of twenty-seven of the thirty-six States, viz: Illinois, Rhode Island, Michigan, Maryland, New York, West Virginia, Maine, Kansas, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Ohio, Missouri, Nevada, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Vermont, Tennessee, Arkansas, Connecticut, New Hampshire, South Carolina, Alabama, North Carolina, and Georgia.

[ARTICLE XIV]

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Section 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Section 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

The fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Thirty-ninth Congress, on the 16th of June, 1866. On the 21st of July, 1868, Congress adopted and transmitted to the Department of State a concurrent resolution, declaring that "the legislatures of the States of Connecticut, Tennessee, New Jersey, Oregon, Vermont, New York, Ohio, Illinois, West Virginia, Kansas, Maine, Nevada, Missouri, Indiana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Iowa, Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, Alabama, South Carolina, and Louisiana, being three-fourths and more of the several States of the Union, have ratified the fourteenth article of amendment to the Constitution of the United States, duly proposed by two-thirds of each House of the Thirty-ninth Congress: Therefore, Resolved, That said fourteenth article is hereby declared to be a part of the Constitution of the United States, and it shall be duly promulgated as such by the Secretary of State." The Secretary of State accordingly issued a proclamation, dated the 28th of July, 1868, declaring that the proposed fourteenth amendment had been ratified; in the manner hereafter mentioned, by the legislatures of thirty of the thirty-six States, viz: Connecticut, June 30, 1866; New Hampshire, July 7, 1866; Tennessee, July 19, 1866; New Jersey, September 11, 1866, (and the legislature of the same State passed a resolution in April, 1868, to withdraw its consent to it;) Oregon, September 19, 1866; Vermont, November 9, 1866; Georgia rejected it November 13, 1866, and ratified it July 21, 1868; North Carolina rejected it December 4, 1866, and ratified it July 4, 1868; South Carolina rejected it December 20, 1866, and ratified it July 9, 1868; New York ratified it January 10, 1867; Ohio ratified it January 11, 1867, (and the legislature of the same State passed a resolution in January, 1868, to withdraw its consent to it;) Illinois ratified it January 15, 1867; West Virginia, January 16, 1867; Kansas, January 18, 1867; Maine, January 19, 1867; Nevada, January 22, 1867; Missouri, January 26, 1867; Indiana, January 29, 1867; Minnesota, February 1, 1867; Rhode Island, February 7, 1867; Wisconsin, February 13, 1867; Pennsylvania, February 13, 1867; Michigan, February 15, 1867; Massachusetts, March 20, 1867; Nebraska, June 15, 1867; Iowa, April 3, 1868; Arkansas, April 6, 1868; Florida, June 9, 1868; Louisiana, July 9, 1868; and Alabama, July 13, 1868. Georgia again ratified the amendment February 2, 1870. Texas rejected it November 1, 1866, and ratified it February 18, 1870. Virginia rejected it January 19, 1867, and ratified October 8, 1869. The amendment was rejected by Kentucky January 10, 1867; by Delaware February 8, 1867; by Maryland March 23, 1867, and was not afterward ratified by either State.

[ARTICLE XVI]

Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Section 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

The fifteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several States by the Fortieth Congress, on the 27th of February, 1869, and was declared, in a proclamation of the Secretary of State, dated March 30, 1870, to have been ratified by the legislatures of twenty-nine of the thirty-seven States. The dates of these ratifications (arranged in the order of their reception at the Department of State) were: from North Carolina, March 5, 1869; West Virginia, March 3, 1869; Massachusetts, March 9-12, 1869; Wisconsin, March 9, 1869; Maine, March 12, 1869; Louisiana, March 5, 1869; Michigan, March 8, 1869; South Carolina, March 16, 1869; Pennsylvania, March 26, 1869; Arkansas, March 30, 1869; Connecticut, May 19, 1869; Florida, June 15, 1869; Illinois, March 5, 1869; Indiana, May 13-14, 1869; New York, March 17-April 14, 1869, (and the legislature of the same State passed a resolution January 5, 1870, to withdraw its consent to it;) New Hampshire, July 7, 1869; Nevada, March 1, 1869; Vermont, October 21, 1869; Virginia, October 8, 1869; Missouri, January 10, 1870; Mississippi, January 15-17, 1870; Ohio, January 27, 1870; Iowa, February 3, 1870; Kansas, January 18-19, 1870; Minnesota, February 19, 1870; Rhode Island, January 18, 1870; Nebraska, February 17, 1870; Texas, February 18, 1870. The State of Georgia also ratified the amendment February 2, 1870.

[ARTICLE XVI]

The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several states, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

The sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the Sixty-First Congress, on the 31st of July, 1909, and was declared, in a proclamation by the Secretary of State, dated the 25th of February, 1913, to have been ratified by the legislatures of the states of Alabama, Kentucky, South Carolina, Illinois, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Maryland, Georgia, Texas, Ohio, Idaho, Oregon, Washington, California, Montana, Indiana, Nevada, North Carolina, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, North Dakota, Michigan, Iowa, Missouri, Maine, Tennessee, Arkansas, Wisconsin, New York, South Dakota, Arizona, Minnesota, Louisiana, Delaware, and Wyoming, in all thirty-six, said states constituting three-fourths of the whole number of states. The legislatures of New Jersey and New Mexico also passed resolutions ratifying the said proposed amendment.

[ARTICLE XVII]

The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each state, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures.

When vacancies happen in the representation of any state in the Senate, the executive authority of such state shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, that the legislature of any state may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointment until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution.

The seventeenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the Sixty-Second Congress, on the 15th of May, 1912, in lieu of the original first paragraph of section 3 of article I, and in lieu of so much of paragraph 2 of the same section as related to the filling of vacancies, and was declared, in a proclamation by the Secretary of State, dated the 31st of May, 1913, to have been ratified by the legislatures of the states of Massachusetts, Arizona, Minnesota, New York, Kansas, Oregon, North Carolina, California, Michigan, Idaho, West Virginia, Nebraska, Iowa, Montana, Texas, Washington, Wyoming, Colorado, Illinois, North Dakota, Nevada, Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, Ohio, South Dakota, Indiana, Missouri, New Mexico, New Jersey, Tennessee, Arkansas, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin, said states constituting three-fourths of the whole number of states.

[ARTICLE XVIII]

Section 1. After one year from the ratification of this article the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

Section 2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Section 3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

This amendment was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the Sixty-Fifth Congress, on the 19th day of December, 1917, and was declared, in a proclamation by the Acting Secretary of State, dated on the 29th day of January, 1919, to have been ratified by the legislatures of the state of Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, South Carolina, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming; said states constituting three-fourths of the whole number of states in the United States, and certified as valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States.

[ARTICLE XIX]

The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

This amendment was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the Sixty-Sixth Congress, on the 5th day of June, 1919, and was declared, in a proclamation by the Secretary of State, dated on the 26th day of August, 1920, to have been ratified by the legislatures of the states of Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Dakota, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming—said states constituting three-fourths of the whole number of states in the United States, and certified as valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

NOTE—The following is the complete text of the Constitution of Texas, together with amendments adopted to November 2, 1926.

PREAMBLE

Humbly invoking the blessings of Almighty God, the people of the State of Texas, do ordain and establish this Constitution.

ARTICLE I

BILL OF RIGHTS

That the general, great and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and established, we declare:

Section 1. Texas is a free and independent State, subject only to the Constitution of the United States, and the maintenance of our free institutions and the perpetuity of the Union depend upon the preservation of the right of local self-government, unimpaired to all the States.

Sec. 2. All political power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their benefit. The faith of the people of Texas stands pledged to the preservation of a republican form of government, and, subject to this limitation only, they have at all times the inalienable right to alter, reform or abolish their government in such manner as they may think expedient.

Sec. 3. All free men, when they form a social compact, have equal rights, and no man, or set of men, is entitled to exclusive separate public emoluments, or privileges, but in consideration of public services.

Sec. 4. No religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office, or public trust, in this State; nor shall any one be excluded from holding office on account of his religious sentiments, provided he acknowledge the existence of a Supreme Being.

Sec. 5. No person shall be disqualified to give evidence in any of the Courts of this State on account of his religious opinions, or for the want of any religious belief, but all oaths or affirmations shall be administered in the mode most binding upon the conscience, and shall be taken subject to the pains and penalties of perjury.

Sec. 6. All men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences. No man shall be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship, or to maintain any ministry against his consent. No human authority ought, in any case whatever, to control or interfere with the rights of conscience in matters of religion, and no preference shall ever be given by law to any religious society or mode of worship. But it shall be the duty of the Legislature to pass such laws as may be necessary to protect equally every religious denomination in the peaceful enjoyment of its own mode of public worship.

Sec. 7. No money shall be appropriated, or drawn from the Treasury for the benefit of any sect, or religious society, theological or religious seminary; nor shall property belonging to the State be appropriated for any such purposes.

Sec. 8. Every person shall be at liberty to speak, write or publish his opinions on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that privilege; and no law shall ever be passed curtailing the liberty of speech or of the press. In prosecutions for the publication of papers, investigating the conduct of officers, or men in public capacity, or when the matter published is proper for public information, the truth thereof may be given in evidence. And in all indictments for libels, the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court, as in other cases.

Sec. 9. The people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions, from all unreasonable seizures or searches, and no warrant to search any place, or to seize any person or thing, shall issue without describing them as near as may be, nor without probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation.

Sec. 10. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall have a speedy public trial by an impartial jury. He shall have the right to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof. He shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself. He shall have the right of being heard by himself or counsel or both, shall be confronted with the witnesses against him, and shall have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor. And no person shall be held to answer for a criminal offence, unless on indictment of a grand jury, except in cases in which the punishment is by fine, or imprisonment otherwise than in the penitentiary, in cases of impeachment, and in cases arising in the army or navy, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 10. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have a speedy public trial by an impartial jury. He shall have the right to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof. He shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself, and shall have the right of being heard by himself or counsel, or both, shall be confronted by the witnesses against him and shall have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, except that when the witness resides out of the State and the offense charged is a violation of any of the anti-trust laws of this State, the defendant and the State shall have the right to produce and have the evidence admitted by deposition, under such rules and laws as the Legislature may hereafter provide; and no person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense, unless on an indictment of a grand jury, except in cases in which the punishment is by fine or imprisonment, otherwise than in the penitentiary, in cases of impeachment, and in cases arising in the army or navy, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger. (Sec. 10, Art. 1, adopted election Nov. 5, 1918.)

Sec. 11. All prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offenses, when the proof is evident; but this provision shall not be so construed as to prevent bail after indictment found upon examination of the evidence, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 12. The writ of habeas corpus is a writ of right, and shall never be suspended. The Legislature shall enact laws to render the remedy speedy and effectual.

Sec. 13. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishment inflicted. All courts shall be open, and every person for an injury done him, in his lands, goods, person or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law.

Sec. 14. No person, for the same offense, shall be twice put in jeopardy of life or liberty, nor shall a person be again put upon trial for the same offense, after a verdict of not guilty in a court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 15. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate. The Legislature shall pass such laws as may be needed to regulate the same, and to maintain its purity and efficiency.

Sec. 16. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, retroactive law, or any law impairing the obligation of contracts, shall be made.

Sec. 17. No person's property shall be taken, damaged or destroyed for or applied to public use without adequate compensation being made, unless by the consent of such person; and, when taken, except for the use of the State, such compensation shall be first made, or secured by a deposit of money; and no irrevocable or uncontrollable grant of special privileges or immunities, shall be made; but all privileges and franchises granted by the Legislature, or created under its authority shall be subject to the control thereof.

Sec. 18. No person shall ever be imprisoned for debt.

Sec. 19. No citizen of this State shall be deprived of life, liberty, property, privileges or immunities, or in any manner disfranchised, except by the due course of the law of the land.

Sec. 20. No citizen shall be outlawed, nor shall any person be transported out of the State for any offence committed within the same.

Sec. 21. No conviction shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture of estate, and the estates of those who destroy their own lives shall descend or vest as in case of natural death.

Sec. 22. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort; and no person shall be convicted of treason except on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

Sec. 23. Every citizen shall have the right to keep and bear arms in the lawful defence of himself or the State; but the Legislature shall have power, by law, to regulate the wearing of arms, with a view to prevent crime.

Sec. 24. The military shall at all times be subordinate to the civil authority.

Sec. 25. No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in the house of any citizen without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war but in a manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 26. Perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free government, and shall never be allowed, nor shall the law of primogeniture or entailments ever be in force in this State.

Sec. 27. The citizens shall have the right, in a peaceable manner, to assemble together for their common good; and apply to those invested with the powers of government for redress of grievances or other purposes, by petition, address or remonstrance.

Sec. 28. No power of suspending laws in this State shall be exercised except by the Legislature.

Sec. 29. To guard against transgressions of the high powers herein delegated, we declare that everything in this "Bill of Rights" is excepted out of the general powers of government, and shall forever remain inviolate, and all laws contrary thereto, or to the following provisions, shall be void.

THE POWERS OF GOVERNMENT

Section 1. The powers of the Government of the State of Texas shall be divided into three distinct departments, each of which shall be confided to a separate body of magistracy, to wit: Those which are Legislative to one; those which are Executive to another, and those which are Judicial to another; and no person, or collection of persons, being of one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly attached to either of the others, except in the instances herein expressly permitted.

ARTICLE III

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

Section 1. The Legislative power of this State shall be vested in a Senate and House of Representatives, which together shall be styled "The Legislature of the State of Texas."

Sec. 2. The Senate shall consist of thirty-one members, and shall never be increased above this number. The House of Representatives shall consist of ninety-three members until the first apportionment after the adoption of this Constitution, when or at any apportionment thereafter, the number of Representatives may be increased by the Legislature, upon the ratio of not more than one Representative for every fifteen thousand inhabitants; provided, the number of Representatives shall never exceed one hundred and fifty.

Sec. 3. The Senators shall be chosen by the qualified electors for the term of four years; but a new Senate shall be chosen after every apportionment, and the Senators elected after each apportionment shall be divided by lot into two classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the first two years, and those of the second class at the expiration of four years, so that one half of the Senators shall be chosen biennially thereafter.

Sec. 4. The members of the House of Representatives shall be chosen by the qualified electors, and their term of office shall be two years from the day of their election.

Sec. 5. The Legislature shall meet every two years, at such time as may be provided by law, and at other times when convened by the Governor.

Sec. 6. No person shall be a Senator, unless he be a citizen of the United States, and, at the time of his election a qualified elector of this State, and shall have been a resident of this State five years next preceding his election, and the last year thereof a resident of the district for which he shall be chosen, and shall have attained the age of twenty-six years.

Sec. 7. No person shall be a Representative, unless he be a citizen of the United States, and, at the time of his election, a qualified elector of this State, and shall have been a resident of this State two years next preceding his election, the last year thereof a resident of the district for which he shall be chosen, and shall have attained the age of twenty-one years.

Sec. 8. Each House shall be the judge of the qualifications and election of its own members; but contested elections shall be determined in such manner as shall be provided by law.

Sec. 9. The Senate shall, at the beginning and close of each session, and at such other times as may be necessary, elect one of its members President pro tempore, who shall perform the duties of the Lieutenant Governor in any case of absence or disability of that officer, and whenever the said office of Lieutenant Governor shall be vacant. The House of Representatives shall, when it first assembles, organize temporarily, and thereupon proceed to the election of a Speaker from its own members; and each House shall choose its other officers.

Sec. 10. Two-thirds of each House shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each House may provide.

Sec. 11. Each House may determine the rules of its own proceedings, punish members for disorderly conduct, and, with the consent of two-thirds, expel a member, but not a second time for the same offence.

Sec. 12. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same; and the yeas and nays of the members of either House on any question shall, at the desire of any three members present, be entered on the journals.

Sec. 13. When vacancies occur in either House, the Governor, or the person exercising the power of the Governor, shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies; and should the Governor fail to issue a writ of election to fill any such vacancy within twenty days after it occurs, the returning officer of the district in which such vacancy may have happened, shall be authorized to order an election for that purpose.

Sec. 14. Senators and Representatives shall, except in cases of treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during the session of the Legislature, and in going to and returning from the same, allowing one day for every twenty miles such member may reside from the place at which the Legislature is convened.

Sec. 15. Each House may punish, by imprisonment, during its sessions, any person not a member, for disrespectful or disorderly conduct in its presence, or for obstructing any of its proceedings; provided, such imprisonment shall not, at any one time, exceed forty-eight hours.

Sec. 16. The sessions of each House shall be open, except the Senate when in Executive session.

Sec. 17. Neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that where the Legislature may be sitting.

Sec. 18. No Senator or Representative shall, during the term for which he may be elected, be eligible to any civil office of profit under this State, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which may have been increased during such term; no member of either House shall, during the term for which he is elected, be eligible to any office or place, the appointment to which may be made, in whole or in part, by either branch of the Legislature; and no member of either House shall vote for any other member for any office whatever, which may be filled by a vote of the Legislature, except in such cases as are in this Constitution provided. Nor shall any member of the Legislature be interested, either directly or indirectly, in any contract with the State, or any county thereof, authorized by any law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected.

Sec. 19. No judge of any court, Secretary of State, Attorney General, clerk of any court of record, or any person holding a lucrative office under the United States, or this State, or any foreign government shall during the term for which he is elected or appointed, be eligible to the Legislature.

Sec. 20. No person who at any time may have been a collector of taxes, or who may have been otherwise entrusted with public money, shall be eligible to the Legislature, or to any office of profit or trust under the State government, until he shall have obtained a discharge for the amount of such collections, or for all public moneys with which he may have been entrusted.

Sec. 21. No member shall be questioned in any other place for words spoken in debate in either House.

Sec. 22. A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill, proposed, or pending before the Legislature, shall disclose the fact to the House, of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon.

Sec. 23. If any Senator or Representative remove his residence from the district or county for which he was elected, his office shall thereby become vacant, and the vacancy shall be filled as provided in section 13 of this article.

Sec. 24. The members of the Legislature shall receive from the public treasury such compensation for their services, as may, from time to time, be provided by law, not exceeding five dollars per day for the first sixty days of each session; and after that not exceeding two dollars per day for the remainder of the session; except the first session held under this Constitution, when they may receive not exceeding five dollars per day for the first ninety days, and after that not exceeding two dollars per day for the remainder of the session. In addition to the per diem the members of each House shall be entitled to mileage in going to and returning from the seat of government; which mileage shall not exceed five dollars for every twenty-five miles, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel by land, regardless of railways or water-routes; and the Comptroller of the State shall prepare and preserve a table of distances to each county seat, now or hereafter to be established, and by such table the mileage of each member shall be paid; but no member shall be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after the adjournment of a regular or called session.

Sec. 25. The State shall be divided into Senatorial Districts of contiguous territory according to the number of qualified electors, as nearly as may be, and each district shall be entitled to elect one Senator; and no single county shall be entitled to more than one Senator.

Sec. 26. The members of the House of Representatives shall be apportioned among the several counties, according to the number of population in each, as nearly as may be, on a ratio obtained by dividing the population of the State, as ascertained by the most recent United States census, by the number of members of which the House is composed; provided, that whenever a single county has sufficient population to be entitled to a Representative, such county shall be formed into a separate Representative District, and when two or more counties are required to make up the ratio of representation, such counties shall be contiguous to each other; and when any one county has more than sufficient population to be entitled to one or more Representatives, such Representative or Representatives shall be apportioned to such county, and for any surplus of population it may be joined in a Representative District with any other contiguous county or counties.

Sec. 27. Elections for Senators and Representatives shall be general throughout the State, and shall be regulated by law.

Sec. 28. The Legislature shall, at its first session after the publication of each United States decennial census, apportion the State into Senatorial and Representative districts, agreeably to the provisions of sections 25 and 26 of this Article; and until the next decennial census, when the first apportionment shall be made by the Legislature, the State shall be, and it is hereby divided into Senatorial and Representative districts as provided by an ordinance of the Convention on that subject.

Proceedings

Sec. 29. The enacting clause of all laws shall be: "Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas."

Sec. 30. No law shall be passed, except by bill, and no bill shall be so amended in its passage through either House, as to change its original purpose.

Sec. 31. Bills may originate in either House, and, when passed by such House, may be amended altered or rejected by the other.

Sec. 32. No bill shall have the force of a law, until it has been read on three several days in each House, and free discussion allowed thereon; but in cases of imperative public necessity (which necessity shall be stated in a preamble or in the body of the bill) four-fifths of the House, in which the bill may be pending, may suspend this rule, the yeas and nays being taken on the question of suspension, and entered upon the journals.

Sec. 33. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives, but the Senate may amend or reject them as other bills.

Sec. 34. After a bill has been considered and defeated by either House of the Legislature, no bill containing the same substance, shall be passed into a law during the same session. After a resolution has been acted on and defeated, no resolution containing the same substance, shall be considered at the same session.

Sec. 35. No bill, (except general appropriation bills, which may embrace the various subjects and accounts, for and on account of which moneys are appropriated) shall contain more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title. But if any subject shall be embraced in an act, which shall not be expressed in the title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof, as shall not be so expressed.

Sec. 36. No law shall be revived or amended by reference to its title; but in such case the act revived, or the section or sections amended, shall be re-enacted and published at length.

Sec. 37. No bill shall be considered, unless it has been first referred to a committee and reported thereon, and no bill shall be passed which has not been presented and referred to and reported from a committee at least three days before the final adjournment of the Legislature.

Sec. 38. The presiding officer of each House shall, in the presence of the House over which he presides, sign all bills and joint resolutions passed by the Legislature, after their titles have been publicly read before signing; and the fact of signing shall be entered on the journals.

Sec. 39. No law passed by the Legislature, except the general appropriation act, shall take effect or go into force until ninety days after the adjournment of the session at which it was enacted, unless in case of an emergency, which emergency must be expressed in a preamble or in the body of the act, the Legislature shall, by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, otherwise direct; said vote to be taken by yeas and nays, and entered upon the journals.

Sec. 40. When the Legislature shall be convened in special session, there shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the proclamation of the Governor calling such session, or presented to them by the Governor; and no such session shall be of longer duration than thirty days.

Sec. 41. In all elections by the Senate and House of Representatives, jointly or separately, the vote shall be given viva voce, except in the election of their officers.

Requirements and Limitations

Sec. 42. The Legislature shall pass such laws as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this Constitution.

Sec. 43. The first session of the Legislature under this Constitution shall provide for revising, digesting and publishing the laws, civil and criminal; and a like revision, digest and publication may be made every ten years thereafter; provided, that in the adoption of and giving effect to any such digest or revision, the Legislature shall not be limited by sections 35 and 36 of this Article.

Sec. 44. The Legislature shall provide by law for the compensation of all officers, servants, agents and public contractors, not provided for in this Constitution, but shall not grant extra compensation to any officer, agent, servant, or public contractor, after such public service shall have been performed or contract entered into, for the performance of the same; nor grant, by appropriation or otherwise, any amount of money out of the Treasury of the State, to any individual, on a claim, real or pretended, when the same shall not have been provided for by pre-existing law; nor employ any one in the name of the State, unless authorized by pre-existing law.

Sec. 45. The power to change the venue in civil and criminal cases shall be vested in the courts, to be exercised in such manner as shall be provided by law; and the Legislature shall pass laws for that purpose.

Sec. 46. The Legislature shall, at its first session after the adoption of this Constitution, enact effective vagrant laws.

Sec. 47. The Legislature shall pass laws prohibiting the establishment of lotteries and gift enterprises in this State, as well as the sale of tickets in lotteries, gift enterprises or other evasions involving the lottery principle, established or existing in other States.

Sec. 48. The Legislature shall not have the right to levy taxes or impose burdens upon the people, except to raise revenue sufficient for the economical administration of the government, in which may be included the following purposes:

The payment of all interest upon the bonded debt of the State;

The erection and repairs of Public Buildings;

The benefit of the sinking fund, which shall not be more than two per centum of the public debt; and for the payment of the present floating debt of the State, including matured bonds for the payment of which the sinking fund is inadequate.

The support of public schools, in which shall be included colleges and universities established by the State; and the maintenance and support of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas.

The payment of the cost of assessing and collecting the revenue; and the payment of all officers, agents and employees of the State Government, and all incidental expenses connected therewith.

The support of the Blind Asylum, the Deaf and Dumb Asylum and the Insane Asylum; the State Cemetery and the public grounds of the State:

The enforcement of quarantine regulations on the coast of Texas;

The protection of the frontier.

Sec. 49. No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in the revenue, shall never exceed in the aggregate at any one time two hundred thousand dollars.

Sec. 50. The Legislature shall have no power to give or to lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State in aid of, or to any person, association or corporation, whether municipal or other, or to pledge the credit of the State in any manner whatsoever, for the payment of the liabilities, present or prospective, of any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporation whatsoever.

Sec. 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant, or authorize the making of any grant, of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporation whatsoever; provided, that this shall not be so construed as to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant, or authorize the making of any grant, of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal, or other corporation whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to the establishment and maintenance of a home for indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers or sailors who are or may be bona fide residents of the State of Texas, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided, that such grant shall not exceed the sum of $100,000 for any one year; and provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity. (Sec. 51, Art. 3, adopted election November 6, 1894; proclamation December 21, 1894.)

Sec. 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant, or authorize the making of any grant, of public money to any individual, associations of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors who came to Texas prior to January 1st, 1880, and who are either over sixty years of age, or whose disability is the proximate result of actual service in the Confederate army for a period of at least three months, their widows in indigent circumstances who have never remarried, and who have been bona fide residents of the State of Texas since March 1, 1880, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors anterior to March 1, 1866; provided, said aid shall not exceed eight dollars per month; and provided, further, that no appropriation shall ever be made for the purpose hereinbefore specified, in excess of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars for any one year.

And also grant aid to the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided, the grant to aid said home shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars for any one year; and no inmate of said home shall be entitled to any other aid from the State; and provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity. (Sec. 51, Art. 3, adopted election November 1, 1898; proclamation December 22, 1898.)

Sec. 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant, or authorize the making of any grant, of public money to any individual associations or individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1880, and who are either over sixty years of age or whose disability is the proximate result of actual service in the Confederate army for a period of at least three months, their widows in indigent circumstances, who have never remarried and who have been bona fide residents of the State of Texas since March 1, 1880, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors anterior to March 1, 1880; provided, said aid shall not exceed eight dollars per month and provided further, that no appropriation shall ever be made for the purpose hereinbefore specified in excess of five hundred thousand dollars for any one year. And also grant aid to the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided, the grant to aid said home shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars for any one year; and no inmate of said home shall be entitled to any other aid from the State, and provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity. (Sec. 51, Art. 3, adopted election November 8, 1904; proclamation December 29, 1904.)

Sec. 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant, or authorize the making of any grant, of public money to any individual, associations of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1880, and who are either over sixty years of age or whose disability is the proximate result of actual service in the Confederate army for a period of at least three months, their widows in indigent circumstances who have never remarried and who have been bona fide residents of the State of Texas since March 1, 1880, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors anterior to March 1, 1880; provided, said aid shall not exceed eight dollars per month and provided, further, that no appropriations shall ever be made for the purpose hereinbefore specified in excess of five hundred thousand dollars for any one year. And also grant aid to the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided, the grant to aid said home shall not exceed one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for any one year, and no inmate of said homes shall be entitled to any other aid from the State; the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home; and provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity. (Sec. 51, Art. 3, adopted election November 8, 1910; proclamation December 31, 1910.)

er corporation whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1900, and their widows in indigent circumstances, and who have been bona fide residents of the State of Texas since January 1, 1900 and who were married to such soldiers and sailors anterior to January 1, 1900; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States served for a period of at least six months in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas, who were in active service for a period of at least six months during the war between the States, to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances, and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1900, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this section shall not apply to women born since 1861, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows, and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided for by law; provided, the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home.

The Legislature shall have the power to levy and collect, in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property not exceeding five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations, or militia. (Sec. 51, Art. 3, adopted election November 5, 1912; proclamation December 30, 1912.)

Sec. 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever, provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the States served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the States and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this section shall not apply to women born since the year 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the Legislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity. (Sec. 51, Art. 3, adopted election November 4, 1924.)

Sec. 52. The Legislature shall have no power to authorize any county, city, town, or other political corporation, or subdivision of the state, to lend its credit or to grant public money or thing of value in aid of, or to, any individual, association or corporation whatsoever, or to become a stockholder in such corporation, association or company. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 52. The Legislature shall have no power to authorize any county, city, town or other political corporation or subdivision of the State to lend its credit or to grant public money or thing of value [value] in aid of, or to any individual, association or corporation whatsoever, or to become a stockholder in such corporation, association or company; provided, however, that under legislative provision any county, any political subdivision of a county, any number of adjoining counties, or any political subdivision of the State, or any defined district now or hereafter to be described and defined within the State of Texas, and which may or may not include, towns, villages or municipal corporations, upon a vote of a two thirds majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of such district or territory to be affected thereby, in addition to all other debts, may issue bonds or otherwise lend its credit in any amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of such district or territory, except that the total bonded indebtedness of any city or town shall never exceed the limits imposed by other provisions of this Constitution, and levy and collect such taxes to pay the interest thereon and provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof, as the Legislature may authorize, and in such manner as it may authorize the same, for the following purposes to wit:

(a) The improvement of rivers, creeks, and streams to prevent overflows, and to permit of navigation thereof or irrigation thereof, or in aid of such purposes.

(b) The construction and maintenance of pools, lakes, reservoirs, dams, canals and waterways for the purposes of irrigation, drainage or navigation, or in aid thereof.

(c) The construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof. (Sec. 52, Art. 3, adopted election November 8, 1904; proclamation December 29, 1904.)

Sec. 53. The Legislature shall have no power to grant, or to authorize any county or municipal authority to grant, any extra compensation, fee or allowance to a public officer, agent, servant or contractor, after service has been rendered, or a contract has been entered into, and performed in whole or in part; nor pay, nor authorize the payment of, any claim created against any county or municipality of the State, under any agreement or contract, made without authority of law.

Sec. 54. The Legislature shall have no power to release or alienate any lien held by the State upon any railroad, or in any wise change the tenor or meaning, or pass any act explanatory thereof; but the same shall be enforced in accordance with the original terms upon which it was acquired.

Sec. 55. The Legislature shall have no power to release or extinguish, or to authorize the releasing or extinguishing, in whole or in part, the indebtedness, liability or obligation of any incorporation or individual, to this State, or to any county or other municipal corporation therein.

Sec. 56. The Legislature shall not, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, pass any local or special law, authorizing:

- The creation, extension or impairing of liens;
- Regulating the affairs of counties, cities, towns, wards or school districts;
- Changing the names of persons or places;
- Changing the venue in civil or criminal cases;
- Authorizing the laying out, opening, altering or maintaining of roads, highways, streets or alleys;
- Relating to ferries or bridges, or incorporating ferry or bridge companies, except for the erection of bridges crossing streams which form boundaries between this and any other State;
- Vacating roads, town plats, streets or alleys;
- Relating to cemeteries, grave-yards or public grounds not of the State;
- Authorizing the adoption or legitimation of children;
- Locating or changing county seats;
- Incorporating cities, towns or villages, or changing their charters;
- For the opening and conducting of elections, or fixing or changing the places of voting;
- Granting divorces;
- Creating offices, or prescribing the powers and duties of officers, in counties, cities, towns, election or school districts;

Changing the law of descent or succession;

Regulating the practice or jurisdiction of, or changing the rules of evidence in any judicial proceeding or inquiry before courts, justices of the peace, sheriffs, commissioners, arbitrators or other tribunals, or providing or changing methods for the collection of debts, or the enforcing of judgments, or prescribing the effect of judicial sales of real estate;

Regulating the fees, or extending the powers and duties of aldermen, justices of the peace, magistrates or constables;

Regulating the management of public schools, the building or repairing of school houses, and the raising of money for such purposes;

Fixing the rate of interest;

Affecting the estates of minors, or persons under disability;

Remitting fines, penalties and forfeitures, and refunding moneys legally paid into the treasury;

Exempting property from taxation;

Regulating labor, trade, mining and manufacturing;

Declaring any named person of age;

Extending the time for the assessment or collection of taxes, or otherwise relieving any assessor or collector of taxes from the due performance of his official duties, or his securities from liability;

Giving effect to informal or invalid wills or deeds;

Summoning or empannelling grand or petit juries;

For limitation of civil or criminal actions;

For incorporating railroads or other works of internal improvements;

And in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, no local or special law shall be enacted; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the Legislature from passing special laws for the preservation of the game and fish of this State in certain localities.

Sec. 57. No local or special law shall be passed, unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the locality where the matter or thing to be affected may be situated, which notice shall state the substance of the contemplated law, and shall be published at least thirty days prior to the introduction into the Legislature of such bill and in the manner to be provided by law. The evidence of such notice having been published, shall be exhibited in the Legislature, before such act shall be passed.

Sec. 58. The Legislature shall hold its sessions at the City of Austin, which is hereby declared to be the seat of government.

ARTICLE IV

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

Section 1. The Executive Department of the State shall consist of a Governor, who shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the State, a Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Comptroller of Public Accounts, Treasurer, Commissioner of the General Land Office, and Attorney General.

Sec. 2. All the above officers of the Executive Department (except Secretary of State) shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at the time and places of election for members of the Legislature.

Sec. 3. The returns of every election for said executive officers, until otherwise provided by law, shall be made out, sealed up, and transmitted by the returning officers prescribed by law, to the seat of Government, directed to the Secretary of State, who shall deliver the same to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, as soon as the Speaker shall be chosen, and the said Speaker shall, during the first week of the session of the Legislature, open and publish them in the presence of both Houses of the Legislature. The person, voted for at said election, having the highest number of votes for each of said offices respectively, and being constitutionally eligible, shall be declared by the Speaker, under sanction of the Legislature, to be elected to said office. But, if two or more persons shall have the highest and an equal number of votes for either of said offices, one of them shall be immediately chosen to such office by joint vote of both Houses of the Legislature. Contested elections for either of said offices, shall be determined by both Houses of the Legislature in joint session.

Sec. 4. The Governor shall be installed on the first Tuesday after the organization of the Legislature, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and shall hold his office for the term of two years, or until his successor shall be duly installed. He shall be at least thirty years of age, a citizen of the United States, and shall have resided in this State at least five years immediately preceding his election.

Sec. 5. He shall, at stated times, receive as compensation for his services an annual salary of four thousand dollars and no more, and shall have the use and occupation of the Governor's mansion, fixtures and furniture.

Sec. 6. During the time he holds the office of Governor, he shall not hold any other office: civil, military or corporate; nor shall he practice any profession, and receive compensation, reward, fee, or the promise thereof for the same; nor receive any salary, reward or compensation or the promise thereof from any person or corporation, for any service rendered or performed during the time he is Governor, or to be thereafter rendered or performed.

Sec. 7. He shall be Commander-in-Chief of the military forces of the State, except when they are called into actual service of the United States. He shall have power to call forth the militia to execute the laws of the State, to suppress insurrections, repel invasions, and protect the frontier from hostile incursions by Indians or other predatory bands.

Sec. 8. The Governor may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the Legislature at the seat of Government, or at a different place, in case that should be in possession of the public enemy or in case of the prevalence of disease thereat. His proclamation therefor shall state specifically the purpose for which the Legislature is convened.

Sec. 9. The Governor shall, at the commencement of each session of the Legislature, and at the close of his term of office, give to the Legislature information, by message, of the condition of the State; and he shall recommend to the Legislature such measures as he may deem expedient. He shall account to the Legislature for all public moneys received and paid out by him, from any funds subject to his order, with vouchers; and shall accompany his message with a statement of the same. And at the commencement of each regular session, he shall present estimates of the amount of money required to be raised by taxation for all purposes.

Sec. 10. He shall cause the laws to be faithfully executed and shall conduct, in person, or in such manner as shall be prescribed by law, all intercourse and business of the State with other States and with the United States.

Sec. 11. In all criminal cases, except treason and impeachment, he shall have power after conviction, to grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons; and under such rules as the Legislature may prescribe, he shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures. With the advice and consent of the Senate, he may grant pardons in cases of treason; and to this end he may respite a sentence therefor, until the close of the succeeding session of the Legislature; provided, that in all cases of remissions of fines and forfeitures, or grants of reprieve, commutation of punishment or pardon, he shall file in the office of the Secretary of State his reasons therefor.

Sec. 12. All vacancies in State or district offices, except members of the Legislature, shall be filled unless otherwise provided by law, by appointment of the Governor, which appointment, if made during its session, shall be with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate present. If made during the recess of the Senate, the said appointee, or some other person to fill such vacancy, shall be nominated to the Senate during the first ten days of its session. If rejected, said office shall immediately become vacant, and the Governor shall, without delay, make further nominations, until a confirmation takes place. But should there be no confirmation during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall not thereafter appoint any person to fill such vacancy who has been rejected by the Senate; but may appoint some other person to fill the vacancy until the next session of the Senate or until the regular election to said office, should it sooner occur. Appointments to vacancies in offices elective by the people shall only continue until the first general election thereafter.

Sec. 13. During the session of the Legislature the Governor shall reside where its sessions are held, and at all other times at the seat of Government, except when by act of the Legislature, he may be required or authorized to reside elsewhere.

Sec. 14. Every bill which shall have passed both houses of the Legislature shall be presented to the Governor for his approval. If he approve he shall sign it; but if he disapprove it, he shall return it, with his objections, to the House in which it originated, which House shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members present agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, with the objections, to the other House, by which likewise it shall be reconsidered; and, if approved by two-thirds of the members of that House, it shall become a law; but in such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor with his objections within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature, by its adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall be a law, unless he shall file the same, with his objections, in the office of the Secretary of State and give notice thereof by public proclamation within twenty days after such adjournment. If any bill presented to the Governor contains several items of appropriation he may object to one or more of such items, and approve the other portion of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects, and no item so objected to shall take effect. If the Legislature be in session, he shall transmit to the House in which the bill originated a copy of such statement and the items objected to shall be separately considered. If, on reconsideration, one or more of such items be approved by two-thirds of the members present of each House, the same shall be part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor. If any such bill, containing several items of appropriation, not having been presented to the Governor ten days (Sundays excepted) prior to adjournment, be in the hands of the Governor at the time of adjournment, he shall have twenty days from such adjournment within which to file objections to any items thereof and make proclamation of the same, and such item or items shall not take effect.

Sec. 15. Every order, resolution or vote to which the concurrence of both Houses of the Legislature may be necessary, except on questions of adjournment, shall be presented to the Governor, and, before it shall take effect, shall be approved by him; or, being disapproved, shall be repassed by both Houses, and all the rules, provisions and limitations shall apply thereto as prescribed in the last preceding section in the case of a bill.

Sec. 16. There shall also be a Lieutenant Governor, who shall be chosen at every election for Governor by the same electors, in the same manner, continue in office for the same time, and possess the same qualifications. The electors shall distinguish for whom they vote as Governor and for whom as Lieutenant Governor. The Lieutenant Governor, shall by virtue of his office, be President of the Senate, and shall have, when in Committee of the Whole, a right to debate and vote on all questions; and when the Senate is equally divided to give the casting vote. In case of the death, resignation, removal from office, inability or refusal of the Governor to serve, or of his impeachment or absence from the State, the Lieutenant Governor shall exercise the powers and authority appertaining to the office of Governor until another be chosen at the periodical election, and be duly qualified; or until the Governor impeached, absent or disabled, shall be acquitted, return, or his disability be removed.

Sec. 17. If, during the vacancy in the office of Governor, the Lieutenant Governor should die, resign, refuse to serve, or be removed from office, or be unable to serve; or if he shall be impeached or absent from the State, the President of the Senate, for the time being, shall, in like manner, administer the Government until he shall be superseded by a Governor or Lieutenant Governor. The Lieutenant Governor shall, while he acts as President of the Senate, receive for his services the same compensation and mileage which shall be allowed to the members of the Senate, and no more; and during the time he administers the Government, as Governor, he shall receive in like manner the same compensation which the Governor would have received had he been employed in the duties of his office, and no more. The President, for the time being, of the Senate, shall, during the time he administers the Government, receive in like manner the same compensation, which the Governor would have received had he been employed in the duties of his office.

Sec. 18. The Lieutenant Governor or President of the Senate succeeding to the office of Governor, shall, during the entire term to which he may succeed, be under all the restrictions and inhibitions imposed in this Constitution on the Governor.

Sec. 19. There shall be a Seal of the State which shall be kept by the Secretary of State, and used by him officially under the direction of the Governor. The Seal of the State shall be a star of five points encircled by olive and live oak branches, and the words "The State of Texas."

Sec. 20. All commissions shall be in the name and by the authority of the State of Texas, sealed with the State Seal, signed by the Governor and attested by the Secretary of State.

Sec. 21. There shall be a Secretary of State, who shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and who shall continue in office during the term of service of the Governor. He shall authenticate the publication of the laws, and keep a fair register of all official acts and proceedings of the Governor, and shall, when required, lay the same and all papers, minutes and vouchers relative thereto, before the Legislature, or either House thereof, and shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by law. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of two thousand dollars and no more.

Sec. 22. The Attorney General shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is duly qualified. He shall represent the State in all suits and pleas in the Supreme Court of the State in which the State may be a party, and shall especially inquire into the charter rights of all private corporations, and, from time to time, in the name of the State, take such action in the courts as may be proper and necessary to prevent any private corporation from exercising any power or demanding or collecting any species of taxes, tolls, freight or wharfage, not authorized by law. He shall, whenever sufficient cause exists, seek a judicial forfeiture of such charters, unless otherwise expressly directed by law, and give legal advice in writing to the Governor and other executive officers, when requested by them, and perform such other duties as may be required by law. He shall reside at the seat of the Government during his continuance in office. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of two thousand dollars, and no more, besides such fees as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the fees which he may receive shall not amount to more than two thousand dollars annually.

Sec. 23. The Comptroller of Public Accounts, the Treasurer and the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall each hold office for the term of two years, and until his successor is qualified; receive an annual salary of two thousand and five hundred dollars, and no more; reside at the capital of the State during his continuance in office, and perform such duties as are or may be required of him by law. They and the Secretary of State shall not receive to their own use any fees, costs or perquisites of office. All fees that may be payable by law for any service performed by any officer specified in this section, or in his office, shall be paid, when received, into the State Treasury.

Sec. 24. An account shall be kept by the officers of the Executive Department, and by all officers and managers of State institutions, of all moneys and choses in action received and disbursed or otherwise disposed of by them, severally, from all sources, and for every service performed; and a semi-annual report thereof shall be made to the Governor under oath. The Governor may, at any time, require information in writing from any and all of said officers or managers, upon any subject relating to the duties, condition, management and expenses of their respective offices and institutions, which information shall be required by the Governor under oath, and the Governor may also inspect their books, accounts, vouchers and public funds; and any officer or manager who, at any time, shall wilfully make a false report or give false information, shall be guilty of perjury, and so adjudged, and punished accordingly, and removed from office.

Sec. 25. The Legislature shall pass efficient laws facilitating the investigation of breaches of trust and duty by all custodians of public funds and providing for their suspension from office on reasonable cause shown, and for the appointment of temporary incumbents of their offices during such suspension.

Sec. 26. The Governor, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate, shall appoint a convenient number of Notaries Public for each county who shall perform such duties as now are or may be prescribed by law.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

Section 1. The judicial power of this State shall be vested in one supreme court, in a court of appeals, in district courts, in county courts, in commissioners' courts, in courts of justices of the peace, and in such other courts as may be established by law. The Legislature may establish criminal district courts with such jurisdiction as it may prescribe, but no such court shall be established unless the district includes a city containing at least thirty thousand inhabitants, as ascertained by the census of the United States or other official census; provided, such town or city shall support said criminal district courts when established. The criminal district court of Galveston and Harris counties shall continue with the district, jurisdiction and organization now existing by law, until otherwise provided by law.

Section 1. The judicial power of this State shall be vested in one Supreme Court, in Courts of Civil Appeals, in a Court of Criminal Appeals, in District Courts, in County Courts, in Commissioners Courts, in Courts of Justices of the Peace, and in such other courts as may be provided by law.

The Criminal District Court of Galveston and Harris Counties shall continue with the district jurisdiction and organization now existing by law until otherwise provided by law.

The Legislature may establish such other courts as it may deem necessary and prescribe the jurisdiction and organization thereof, and may conform the jurisdiction of the district and other inferior courts thereto. (Sec. 1, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and two Associate Justices, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of two judges shall be necessary to the decision of a case. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be at the time of his election a citizen of the United States and of this State, and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer or a judge of a court in this State, or such lawyer and judge together, at least seven years. Said Chief Justice and Associate Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election, shall hold their offices for six years, and shall each receive an annual salary of not more than three thousand five hundred and fifty dollars. In case of a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State.

Sec. 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and two Associate Justices, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of two Judges shall be necessary to the decision of a case. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election, a citizen of the United States and of this State and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer or a judge of a court, or such lawyer and judge together at least seven years. Said Chief Justice and Associate Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election, shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected and qualified, and shall each receive an annual salary of four thousand dollars until otherwise provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State. The Judges of the Supreme Court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their term of office under the present Constitution, and until their successors are elected and qualified. (Sec. 2, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 3. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the state; but shall only extend to civil cases of which the district courts have original or appellate jurisdiction. Appeals may be allowed from interlocutory judgments of the district courts, in such cases and under such regulations as may be provided by law. The Supreme Court and the judges thereof shall have power to issue, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, the writ of mandamus, and all other writs necessary to enforce the jurisdiction of said court. The Supreme Court shall have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, as by the court may be thought proper, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. The Supreme Court shall sit for the transaction of business from the first Monday in October until the last Saturday of June of every year, at the seat of government, and at not more than two other places in the State. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 4. The Supreme Court shall appoint a clerk for each place at which it may sit, and each of said clerks shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law; shall hold his office for four years, and shall be subject to removal by the said Court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 3. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only except as herein specified, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State. Its appellate jurisdiction shall extend to questions of law arising in cases of which the Courts of Civil Appeals have appellate jurisdiction under such restrictions and regulations as the Legislature may prescribe. Until otherwise provided by law the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court shall extend to questions of law arising in the cases in the Courts of Civil Appeals in which the Judges of any Court of Civil Appeals may disagree, or where the several Courts of Civil Appeals may hold differently on the same question of law or where a statute of the State is held void. The Supreme Court and the Justices thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, as may be prescribed by law, and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, the said courts and the Justices thereof may issue the writs of mandamus, procedendo, certiorari and such other writs, as may be necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The Legislature may confer original jurisdiction on the Supreme Court to issue writs of quo warranto and mandamus in such cases as may be specified, except as against the Governor of the State.

The Supreme Court shall also have power, upon affidavit or otherwise as by the court may be determined, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. The Supreme Court shall sit for the transaction of business from the first Monday in October of each year until the last Saturday of June in the next year, inclusive, at the capital of the State.

The Supreme Court shall appoint a clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter, be required by law, and he may hold his office for four years and shall be subject to removal by said court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said court who shall receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide (Sec. 3, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sections 3 and 4 of the Constitution of 1876 are arranged to precede section 3, adopted August 11, 1891, because of the subject matter of the amended sections.

Sec. 5. The Court of Appeals shall consist of three judges, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of two judges shall be necessary to a decision of said court. They shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election. They shall be citizens of the United States and of this State; shall have arrived at the age of thirty years at the time of election; each shall have been a practicing lawyer, or a judge of a Court in this State, or such lawyer and judge together, for at least seven years. Said judges shall hold their offices for a term of six years, and each of them shall receive an annual salary of three thousand five hundred and fifty dollars, which shall not be increased or diminished during their term of office. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 4. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall consist of three Judges, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of two Judges shall be necessary to a decision of said court. Said Judges shall have the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as the Judges of the Supreme Court. They shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election and shall hold their offices for a term of six years. In case of a vacancy in the office of a Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term.

The Judges of the Court of Appeals who may be in office at the time when this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their term of office under the present Constitution and laws as Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals. (Sec. 4, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Section 5 of the Constitution of 1876 is arranged to precede section 4, adopted August 11, 1891, because of the subject matter of the amended section.

Sec. 6. The Court of Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction, co-extensive with the limits of the State, in all criminal cases, of whatever grade, and in all civil cases, unless hereafter otherwise provided by law, of which the county courts have original or appellate jurisdiction. In civil cases its opinions shall not be published unless the publication of such opinions be required by law. The Court of Appeals and the judges thereof shall have power to issue the writ of habeas corpus; and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, issue such writs as may be necessary to enforce its own jurisdiction. The Court of Appeals shall have power upon affidavits, or otherwise, as by the court may be thought proper to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction. The Court of Appeals shall sit for the transaction of business from the first Monday of October until the last Saturday of June of every year, at the capitol, and at not more than two other places in the State, at which the Supreme Court shall hold its sessions. The court shall appoint a clerk for each place at which it may sit, and each of said clerks shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law; shall hold his office for four years, and shall be subject to removal by the said Court for good cause, entered of record on the minutes of said Court. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 5. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the State in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

The Court of Criminal Appeals and the Judges thereof shall have the power to issue the writ of habeas corpus, and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, issue such writs as may be necessary to enforce its own jurisdiction. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have power upon affidavit or otherwise to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall sit for the transaction of business from the first Monday in October to the last Saturday of June in each year, at the State capital and two other places (or the capital city) if the Legislature shall hereafter so provide. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall appoint a clerk for each place at which it may sit and each clerk shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and who shall hold his office for four years unless sooner removed by the court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said court. (Sec. 5, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Section 6 of the Constitution of 1876 is arranged to precede section 5, adopted August 11, 1891, because of the subject matter of the amended section.

Sec. 6. The Legislature shall as soon as practicable after the adoption of this amendment divide the State into not less than two nor more than three Supreme judicial districts and thereafter into such additional districts as the increase of population and business may require, and shall establish a Court of Civil Appeals in each of said districts, which shall consist of a Chief Justice and two Associate Justices, who shall have the qualifications as herein prescribed for Justices of the Supreme Court. Said Court of Civil Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of their respective districts, which shall extend to all civil cases of which the District Courts or County Courts have original or appellate jurisdiction, under such restrictions and regulations as may be prescribed by law. Provided, that the decision of said courts shall be conclusive on all questions of fact brought before them on appeal or error.

Each of said Courts of Civil Appeals shall hold its sessions at a place in its district to be designated by the Legislature, and at such time as may be prescribed by law. Said Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of their respective districts at a general election, for a [a] term of six years and shall receive for their services the sum of three thousand five hundred dollars per annum, until otherwise provided by law. Said courts shall have such other jurisdiction, original and appellate as may be prescribed by law. Each Court of Civil Appeals shall appoint a clerk in the same manner as the clerk of the Supreme Court which clerk shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by law.

Until the organization of the Courts of Civil Appeals and Criminal Appeals, as herein provided for, the jurisdiction, power and organization and location of the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeals and the Commission of Appeals shall continue as they were before the adoption of this amendment.

All civil cases which may be pending in the Court of Appeals shall as soon as practicable after the organization of the Courts of Civil Appeals be certified to, and the records thereof transmitted to the proper Courts of Civil Appeals to be decided by said courts. At the first session of the Supreme Court the Court of Criminal Appeals and such of [of] the Courts of Civil Appeals which may be hereafter created under this article after the first election of the Judges of such courts under this amendment. The terms of office of the Judges of each court shall be divided into three classes and the Justices thereof shall draw for the different classes. Those who shall draw class No. 1 shall hold their offices two years, those drawing class No. 2 shall hold their offices for four years and those who may draw class No. 3 shall hold their offices for six years, from the date of their election and until their successors are elected and qualified, and thereafter each of the said Judges shall hold his office for six years, as provided in this Constitution. (Sec. 6, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Explanatory

In the resolution proposing the above Amendment, Acts 1891, p. 197, the second and third sentences of the fourth paragraph were joined and read as follows: "At the first session of the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, and such of the Courts of Civil Appeals which may be hereafter created under this article after the first election of the Judges of such Courts under this amendment, the terms of office of the Judges of each Court shall be divided into three classes, and the Justices thereof shall draw for the different classes."

Sec. 7. The State shall be divided into twenty-six judicial districts, which may be increased or diminished by the Legislature. For each district there shall be elected, by the qualified voters thereof, at a general election for members of the Legislature, a judge, who shall be at least twenty-five years of age, shall be a citizen of the United States, shall have been a practicing attorney or a judge of a court in this State for the period of four years, and shall have resided in the district in which he is elected for two years next before his election; shall reside in his district during his term of office; shall hold his office for the term of four years; shall receive an annual salary of twenty-five hundred dollars, which shall not be increased or diminished during his term of service; and shall hold the regular terms of court at one place in each county in the district twice in each year, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall have power by general act to authorize the holding of special terms, when necessary and to provide for holding more than two terms of the court in any county, for the dispatch of business; and shall provide for the holding of district courts when the judge thereof is absent, or is from any cause disabled or disqualified from presiding. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 7. The State shall be divided into as many judicial districts as may now or hereafter be provided by law, which may be increased or diminished by law. For each district there shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof, at a general election, a judge, who shall be a citizen of the United States and of this State, who shall have been a practicing lawyer of this State or a judge of a court in this State, for four years next preceding his election, who shall have resided in the district in which he was elected for two years next preceding his election, who shall reside in his district during his term of office, who shall hold his office for the period of four years, and shall receive for his services an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars, until otherwise changed by law. He shall hold the regular terms of his court at the county seat of each county in his district at least twice in each year in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall have power by general or special laws to authorize the holding of special terms of the court or the holding of more than two terms in any county for the dispatch of business.

The Legislature shall also provide for the holding of District Court when the judge thereof is absent, or is from any cause disabled or disqualified from presiding.

The District Judges who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment. (Sec. 7, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 8. The District Court shall have original jurisdiction in criminal cases of the grade of felony; of all suits in behalf of the State to recover penalties, forfeitures and escheats; of all cases of divorce; in cases of misdemeanors, involving official misconduct; of all suits to recover damages for slander or defamation of character; of all suits for the trial of title to land; and for the enforcement of liens thereon; of all suits for trial of right to property levied on by virtue of any writ of execution, sequestration or attachment, when the property levied on shall be equal to or exceed in value five hundred dollars; and of all suits, complaints, or pleas whatever, without regard to any distinction between law and equity, when the matter in controversy shall be valued at, or amount to, five hundred dollars exclusive of interest; and the said courts and the judges thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in felony cases, mandamus, injunction, certiorari, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction. The District Court shall have appellate jurisdiction and general control in probate matters over the county court, established in each county, for appointing guardians, granting letters testamentary and of administration, for settling the accounts of executors, administrators and guardians, and for the transaction of business appertaining to estates; and original jurisdiction and general control over executors, administrators, guardians and minors, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Legislature. All cases now pending in the Supreme Court, of which the Court of Appeals has appellate jurisdiction under the provisions of this Article, shall, as soon as practicable after the establishment of said Court of Appeals, be certified, and the records transmitted to the Court of Appeals, and shall be decided by such Court of Appeals as if the same had been originally appealed to such court. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 8. The District Court shall have original jurisdiction in all criminal cases of the grade of felony; in all suits in behalf of the State to recover penalties, forfeitures and escheats; of all cases of divorce; of all misdemeanors involving official misconduct; of all suits to recover damages for slander or defamation of character; of all suits for trial of title to land and for the enforcement of liens thereon; of all suits for the trial of the right of property levied upon by virtue of any writ of execution, sequestration or attachment when the property levied on shall be equal to or exceed in value five hundred dollars; of all suits, complaints or pleas whatever, without regard to any distinction between law and equity, when the matter in controversy shall be valued at or amount to five hundred dollars exclusive of interest; of contested elections, and said court and the judges thereof, shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction and certiorari, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction.

The District Court shall have appellate jurisdiction and general control in probate matters, over the County Court established in each county, for appointing guardians, granting letters testamentary and of administration, probating wills, for settling the accounts of executors, administrators and guardians, and for the transaction of all business appertaining to estates; and original jurisdiction and general control over executors, administrators, guardians and minors under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The District Court shall have appellate jurisdiction and general supervisory control over the County Commissioners Court, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; and shall have general original jurisdiction over all causes of action whatever for which a remedy or jurisdiction is not provided by law or this Constitution, and such other jurisdiction, original and appellate, as may be provided by law. (Sec. 8, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 9. There shall be a clerk for the District Court of each county, who shall be elected by the qualified voters for the State and county officers, and who shall hold his office for two years, subject to removal by information, or by indictment of a grand jury, and conviction by a petit jury. In case of vacancy, the judge of the District Court shall have the power to appoint a clerk, who shall hold until the office can be filled by election.

Sec. 10. In the trial of all causes in the District Courts, the plaintiff or defendant shall, upon application made in open court, have the right of trial by jury; but no jury shall be empaneled in any civil case unless demanded by a party to the case, and a jury fee be paid by the party demanding a jury, for such sum, and with such exceptions as may be prescribed by the Legislature.

Sec. 11. No Judge shall sit in any case wherein he may be interested, or where either of the parties may be connected with him by affinity or consanguinity, within such degree as may be prescribed by law, or where he shall have been counsel in the case. When the Supreme Court, or the Appellate Court, or any two of the members of either, shall be thus disqualified to hear and determine any case or cases in said Court, the same shall be certified to the Governor of the State, who shall immediately commission the requisite number of persons learned in the law, for the trial and determination of said cause or causes. When a Judge of the District Court is disqualified by any of the causes above stated, the parties may, by consent, appoint a proper person to try said case; or, upon their failing to do so, a competent person may be appointed to try the same in the county where it is pending, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. And the District Judges may exchange districts, or hold courts for each other, when they may deem it expedient, and shall do so when directed by law. The disqualification of Judges of inferior tribunals shall be remedied, and vacancies in their offices shall be filled, as prescribed by law. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 11. No judge shall sit in any case wherein he may be interested, or where either of the parties may be connected with him, either by affinity or consanguinity, within such a degree as may be prescribed by law, or when he shall have been counsel in the case. When the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Court of Civil Appeals, or any member of either, shall be thus disqualified to hear and determine any case or cases in said court, the same shall be certified to the Governor of the State, who shall immediately commission the requisite number of persons learned in the law for the trial and determination of such cause or causes. When a judge of the District Court is disqualified by any of the causes above stated, the parties may, by consent, appoint a proper person to try said case; or upon their failing to do so, a competent person may be appointed to try the same in the county where it is pending, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

And the District Judges may exchange districts, or hold courts for each other when they may deem it expedient, and shall do so when required by law. This disqualification of judges of inferior tribunals shall be remedied and vacancies in their offices filled as may be prescribed by law. (Sec. 11, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 12. All judges of the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and district courts, shall, by virtue of their offices, be conservators of the peace throughout the State. The style of all writs and process shall be, "The State of Texas." All prosecutions shall be carried on in the name and by the authority of "The State of Texas," and conclude "Against the peace and dignity of the state." (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 12. All judges of courts of this State, by virtue of their office, be conservators of the peace throughout the State. The style of all writs and process shall be, "The State of Texas." All prosecutions shall be carried on in the name and by authority of the State of Texas, and shall conclude: "Against the peace and dignity of the State." (Sec. 12, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

The resolution proposing this section, Acts 22d Leg., 1891, p. 197, read as above. It is apparent that the word "shall" should be read into the first sentence making it read: "All Judges of Courts of this State, by virtue of their office, shall be conservators of the peace throughout the State."

Sec. 13. Grand and petit juries in the District Courts shall be composed of twelve men; but nine members of a grand jury shall be a quorum to transact business and present bills. In trials of civil cases, and in trials of criminal cases below the grade of felony in the District Courts, nine members of the jury, concurring, may render a verdict, but when the verdict shall be rendered by less than the whole number, it shall be signed by every member of the jury concurring in it. When, pending the trial of any case, one or more jurors not exceeding three, may die, or be disabled from sitting, the remainder of the jury shall have the power to render the verdict; provided, that the Legislature may change or modify the rule authorizing less than the whole number of the jury to render a verdict.

Sec. 14. The Judicial Districts in this State and the time of holding the Courts therein are fixed by ordinance forming part of this Constitution, until otherwise provided by law.

Sec. 15. There shall be established in each county in this State a County Court, which shall be a court of record; and there shall be elected in each county, by the qualified voters, a County Judge, who shall be well informed in the law of the State; shall be a conservator of the peace, and shall hold his office for two years, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified. He shall receive as a compensation for his services such fees and perquisites as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 16. The County Court shall have original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors, of which exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to the justices' court, as the same are now or may be hereafter prescribed by law, and when the fine to be imposed shall exceed two hundred dollars; and they shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in all civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars, and not exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest; and concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts, when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred and not exceed one thousand dollars, exclusive of interest, but shall not have jurisdiction of suits for the recovery of land. They shall have appellate jurisdiction in cases, civil and criminal, of which justices' courts have original jurisdiction, but of such civil cases only when the judgment of the court appealed from shall exceed twenty dollars, exclusive of costs, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. In all appeals from justice's courts, there shall be a trial de novo in the county court, and when the judgment rendered or fine imposed by the county court shall not exceed one hundred dollars such trial shall be final; but if the judgment rendered or fine imposed shall exceed one hundred dollars, as well as in all cases, civil and criminal, of which the county court has exclusive or concurrent original jurisdiction, an appeal shall lie to the Court of Appeals under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The county courts shall have the general jurisdiction of a probate court. They shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition and distribution of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as provided by law. And the county courts, or judges thereof, shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, injunction, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said courts; and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the county court, or any other court or tribunal inferior to said court. The county court shall not have criminal jurisdiction in any county, where there is a criminal district court, unless expressly conferred by law; and in such counties, appeals from justice's courts and other inferior courts and tribunals, in criminal cases, shall be to the criminal district courts, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and in all such cases an appeal shall lie from such district courts to the court of appeals. Any case pending in the county court, which the county judge may be disqualified to try, shall be transferred to the district court of the same county for trial; and where there exists any cause disqualifying the county judge for the trial of a cause of which the county court has jurisdiction, the district court of such county shall have original jurisdiction of such cause. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 16. The County Court shall have original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors of which exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to the Justices Court as the same is now or may hereafter be prescribed by law, and when the fine to be imposed shall exceed $200, and they shall have exclusive jurisdiction in all civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value $200, and not exceed $500, exclusive of interest, and concurrent jurisdiction with the District Court when the matter in controversy shall exceed $500, and not exceed $1,000, exclusive of interest, but shall not have jurisdiction of suits for the recovery of land. They shall have appellate jurisdiction in cases civil and criminal of which Justices Courts have original jurisdiction, but of such civil cases only when the judgment of the court appealed from shall exceed $20, exclusive of cost, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. In all appeals from Justices Courts there shall be a trial de novo in the County Court, and appeals may be prosecuted from the final judgment rendered in such cases by the County Court, as well as all cases civil and criminal of which the County Court has exclusive or concurrent or original jurisdiction of civil appeals in civil cases to the Court of Civil Appeals and in such criminal cases to the Court of Criminal Appeals, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

The County Court shall have the general jurisdiction of a Probate Court; they shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, transact all business appertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition and distribution of estates of deceased persons and to apprentice minors, as provided by law; and the County Court, or judge thereof, shall have power to issue writs of injunctions, mandamus and all writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said Court, and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the County Court, or any other Court or tribunal inferior to said Court. The County Court shall not have criminal jurisdiction in any county where there is a Criminal District Court, unless expressly conferred by law, and in such counties appeals from Justices Courts and other inferior courts and tribunals in criminal cases shall be to the Criminal District Court, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; and in all such cases an appeal shall lie from such District Court to the Court of Criminal Appeals. When the judge of the County Court is disqualified in any case pending in the County Court the parties interested may, by consent, appoint a proper person to try said case, or upon their failing to do so a competent person may be appointed to try the same in the county where it is pending in such manner as may be prescribed by law. (Sec. 16, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891: proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 17. The County Court shall hold a term for civil business at least once in every two months, and shall dispense of probate business, either in term time or vacation as may be provided by law, and said court shall hold a term for criminal business once in every month as may be provided by law. Prosecutions may be commenced in said court by information filed by the county attorney, or by affidavit, as may be provided by law. Grand juries empaneled in the District Courts shall enquire into misdemeanors, and all indictments therefor returned into the District Courts shall forthwith be certified to the County Courts or other inferior courts, having jurisdiction to try them for trial; and if such indictment be quashed in the County, or other inferior court, the person charged, shall not be discharged if there is probable cause of guilt, but may be held by such court or magistrate to answer an information or affidavit. A jury in the County Court shall consist of six men; but no jury shall be empaneled to try a civil case unless demanded by one of the parties, who shall pay such jury fee therefor, in advance, as may be prescribed by law, unless he makes affidavit that he is unable to pay the same.

Sec. 18. Each organized county in the State now or hereafter existing, shall be divided from time to time, for the convenience of the people, into precincts, not less than four and not more than eight. The present County Courts shall make the first division. Subsequent divisions shall be made by the Commissioner's Court, provided for by this Constitution. In each such precinct there shall be elected at each biennial election, one justice of the peace and one constable, each of whom shall hold his office for two years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified; provided that in any precinct in which there may be a city of 8000 or more inhabitants, there shall be elected two justices of the peace. Each county shall in like manner be divided into four commissioners' precincts in each of which there shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof one county commissioner, who shall hold his office for two years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified. The county commissioners so chosen, with the county judge, as presiding officer, shall compose the County Commissioners Court, which shall exercise such powers and jurisdiction over all county business, as is conferred by this Constitution and the laws of the State, or as may be hereafter prescribed.

Explanatory

The phrase "Commissioners' Court," in the third sentence of this section is as printed above in the original document.

Sec. 19. Justices of the peace shall have jurisdiction in criminal matters of all cases where the penalty or fine to be imposed by law may not be more than for two hundred dollars, and in civil matters of all cases where the amount in controversy is two hundred dollars or less, exclusive of interest, of which exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to the District or County Courts; and such other jurisdiction, criminal and civil, as may be provided by law, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; and appeals to the County Courts shall be allowed in all cases decided in Justices' Courts where the judgment is for more than twenty dollars exclusive of costs; and in all criminal cases under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. And the justices of the peace shall be ex officio notaries public. And they shall hold their courts at such times and places as may be provided by law.

Sec. 20. There shall be elected for each county, by the qualified voters, a county clerk, who shall hold his office for two years, who shall be clerk of the County and Commissioners' Courts and recorder of the county, whose duties, perquisites and fees of office shall be prescribed by the Legislature, and a vacancy in whose office shall be filled by the Commissioners' Court, until the next general election for county and State officers; provided, that in counties having a population of less than eight thousand persons there may be an election of a single clerk, who shall perform the duties of district and county clerks.

Sec. 21. A county attorney, for counties in which there is not a resident criminal district attorney, shall be elected by the qualified voters of each county, who shall be commissioned by the Governor, and hold his office for the term of two years. In case of vacancy the Commissioners' Court of the county shall have power to appoint a county attorney until the next general election. The county attorneys shall represent the State in all cases in the District and inferior courts in their respective counties; but if any county shall be included in a district in which there shall be a district attorney, the respective duties of district attorneys and county attorneys shall in such counties be regulated by the Legislature. The Legislature may provide for the election of district attorneys in such districts, as may be deemed necessary, and make provision for the compensation of district attorneys, and county attorneys; provided, district attorneys shall receive an annual salary of five hundred dollars, to be paid by the State, and such fees, commissions and perquisites as may be provided by law. County attorneys shall receive as compensation only such fees, commissions and perquisites as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 22. The Legislature shall have power, by local or general law, to increase, diminish or change the civil and criminal jurisdiction of County Courts; and in cases of any such change of jurisdiction, the Legislature shall also conform the jurisdiction of the other courts to such change.

Sec. 23. There shall be elected by the qualified voters of each county a sheriff, who shall hold his office for the term of two years, whose duties, and perquisites, and fees of office, shall be prescribed by the Legislature, and vacancies in whose office shall be filled by the Commissioners' Court until the next general election for county or State officers.

Sec. 24. County Judges, county attorneys, clerks of the District and County Courts, justices of the peace, constables, and other county officers, may be removed by the Judges of the District Courts for incompetency, official misconduct, habitual drunkenness, or other causes defined by law, upon the cause therefor being set forth in writing and the finding of its truth by a jury.

Sec. 25. The Supreme Court shall have power to make rules and regulations for the government of said court, and the other courts of the State, to regulate proceedings and expedite the dispatch of business therein. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 25. The Supreme Court shall have power to make and establish rules of procedure not inconsistent with the laws of the State for the government of said court and the other courts of this State to expedite the dispatch of business therein. (Sec. 25, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 26. The State shall have no right of appeal in criminal cases.

Sec. 27. The Legislature shall, at its first session, provide for the transfer of all business, civil and criminal, pending in District Courts, over which jurisdiction is given by this Constitution to the County Courts, or other inferior courts, to such County or inferior courts, and for the trial or disposition of all such causes by such County or other inferior courts.

Sec. 28. Vacancies in the office of judges in the Supreme Court, of the Court of Appeals, and District Court shall be filled by the Governor until the next succeeding general election; and vacancies in the office of county judge and justices of the peace shall be filled by the commissioners' court, until the next general election for such offices. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 28. Vacancies in the office of Judges of the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Court of Civil Appeals and District Courts shall be filled by the Governor until the next succeeding general election; and vacancies in the office of County Judge and justices of the peace shall be filled by the Commissioners Court until the next general election for such offices. (Sec. 28, Art. 5, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 29. The County Court shall hold at least four terms for both civil and criminal business annually, as may be provided by the Legislature, or by the Commissioners' Court of the county under authority of law, and such other terms each year as may be fixed by the Commissioners' Court; provided, the Commissioners' Court of any county having fixed the times and number of terms of the County Court, shall not change the same again until the expiration of one year. Said court shall dispose of probate business either in term time or vacation, under such regulation as may be prescribed by law. Prosecutions may be commenced in said courts in such manner as is or may be provided by law, and a jury therein shall consist of six men. Until otherwise provided, the terms of the County Court shall be held on the first Mondays in February, May, August and November, and may remain in session three weeks. (Sec. 29, Art. 5, adopted election August 14, 1883; proclamation September 25, 1883.)

SUFFRAGE

Section 1. The following classes of persons shall not be allowed to vote in this State; to wit:

First: Persons under twenty-one years of age.

Second: Idiots and lunatics.

Third: All paupers supported by any county.

Fourth: All persons convicted of any felony, subject to such exceptions as the Legislature may make.

Fifth: All soldiers, marines and seamen, employed in the service of the Army or Navy of the United States.

Sec. 2. Every male person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, and who shall be a citizen of the United States, and who shall have resided in this state one year next preceding an election, and the last six months within the district or county in which he offers to vote, shall be deemed a qualified elector; and every male person of foreign birth, subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who at any time before an election, shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, in accordance with the Federal naturalization laws, and shall have resided in this State one year next preceding such election, and the last six months in the county in which he offers to vote, shall also be deemed a qualified elector, and all electors shall vote in the election precinct of their residence; provided, that electors living in any unorganized county may vote at any election precinct in the county, to which such county is attached for judicial purposes. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 2. Every male person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, and who shall be a citizen of the United States, and who shall have resided in this state one year next preceding an election, and the last six months within the district or county in which he offers to vote, shall be deemed a qualified elector. And every male person of foreign birth, subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who, not less than six months before any election at which he offers to vote, shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States in accordance with the Federal naturalization laws, and shall have resided in this state one year next preceding such election, and the last six months in the county in which he offers to vote, shall also be deemed a qualified elector; and all electors shall vote in the election precinct of their residence; provided, that electors living in any unorganized county may vote at any election precinct in the county to which such county is attached for judicial purposes. (Sec. 2, Art. 6, adopted election November 3, 1896; proclamation December 18, 1896.)

Sec. 2. Every male person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years and who shall be a citizen of the United States and who shall have resided in this State one year next preceding an election and the last six months within the district or county in which he offers to vote, shall be deemed a qualified elector and every male person of foreign birth subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications who not less than six months before any election at which he offers to vote, shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States in accordance with the Federal Naturalization Laws, and shall have resided in this State one year next preceding such election and the last six months in the county in which he offers to vote, shall also be deemed a qualified elector; and all electors shall vote in the election precinct of their residence; provided, that electors living in any unorganized county may vote at any election precinct in the county to which such county is attached for judicial purposes; and provided further, that any voter who is subject to pay a poll tax under the laws of the State of Texas shall have paid said tax before he offers to vote at any election in this State and hold a receipt showing his poll tax paid before the first day of February next preceding such election. Or if said voter shall have lost or misplaced said tax receipt, he shall be entitled to vote upon making affidavit before any officer authorized to administer oaths that such tax receipt has been lost. Such affidavit shall be made in writing and left with the judge of the election. And this provision of the Constitution shall be self-enacting without the necessity of further legislation. (Sec. 2, Art. 6, adopted election November 4, 1902; proclamation December 26, 1902.)

Sec. 2. Every person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years and who shall be a citizen of the United States and who shall have resided in this State one year next preceding an election and the last six months within the district or county in which such person offers to vote, shall be deemed a qualified elector; provided, that electors living in any unorganized county may vote at any election precinct in the county to which such county is attached for judicial purposes; and provided further, that any voter who is subject to pay a poll tax under the laws of the State of Texas shall have paid said tax before offering to vote at any election in this State and hold a receipt showing that said poll tax was paid before the first day of February next preceding such election. Or if said voter shall have lost or misplaced said tax receipt, he or she, as the case may be, shall be entitled to vote upon making affidavit before any officer authorized to administer oaths that such tax receipt has been lost. Such affidavit shall be made in writing and left with the judge of the election. The husband may pay the poll tax of his wife and receive the receipt therefor. In like manner the wife may pay the poll tax of her husband and receive the receipt therefor. The Legislature may authorize absentee voting. And this provision of the Constitution shall be self-enacting without the necessity of further legislation. (Sec. 2, Art. 6, adopted election November 4, 1902; proclamation Dec. 26, 1902; Amendment adopted election fourth Saturday in July, 1921.)

Sec. 3. All qualified electors of the State, as herein described, who shall have resided for six months immediately preceding an election, within the limits of any city or corporate town, shall have the right to vote for Mayor and all other elective officers; but in all elections to determine expenditure of money or assumption of debt, only those shall be qualified to vote who pay taxes on property in said city or incorporated town; provided, that no poll tax for the payment of debts thus incurred, shall be levied upon the persons debarred from voting in relation thereto.

Sec. 4. In all elections by the people the vote shall be by ballot, and the Legislature shall provide for the numbering of tickets, and make such other regulations as may be necessary to detect and punish fraud and preserve the purity of the ballot-box; but no law shall ever be enacted requiring a registration of the voters of this State. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 4. In all elections by the people the vote shall be by ballot and the Legislature shall provide for the numbering of tickets and make such other regulations as may be necessary to detect and punish fraud and preserve the purity of the ballot box and the Legislature may provide by law for the registration of all voters in all cities containing a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more. (Sec. 4, Art. 6, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 5. Voters shall, in all cases, except treason, felony or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at elections, and in going to and returning therefrom.

ARTICLE VII

EDUCATION

The Public Free Schools

Section 1. A general diffusion of knowledge being essential to the preservation of the liberties and rights of the people, it shall be the duty of the Legislature of the State to establish and make suitable provision for the support and maintenance of an efficient system of public free schools.

Sec. 2. All funds, lands and other property heretofore set apart and appropriated for the support of public schools; all the alternate sections of land reserved by the State out of grants heretofore made or that may hereafter be made to railroads or other corporations of any nature whatsoever; one half of the public domain of the State; and all sums of money that may come to the State from the sale of any portion of the same, shall constitute a perpetual public school fund.

Sec. 3. There shall be set apart annually not more than one-fourth of the general revenue of the State, and a poll tax of one dollar on all male inhabitants in this State between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, for the benefit of the public free schools. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the state occupation taxes, and a poll tax of one dollar on every male inhabitant of this state, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools, and, in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem state tax of such an amount, not to exceed twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, as, with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public free schools of this state for a period of not less than six months in each year; and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts within all or any of the counties of this state, by general or special law, without the local notice required in other cases of special legislation, and may authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within such school districts for the further maintenance of public free schools and the erection of school buildings therein; provided, that two-thirds of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the district, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax, not to exceed in any one year twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, but the limitation upon the amount of district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns constituting separate and independent school districts. (Sec. 3, Art. 7, adopted election August 14, 1883; proclamation September 25, 1883.)

Sec. 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the state occupation taxes, and a poll tax of one dollar on every male inhabitant of this state, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools, and, in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem state tax of such an amount, not to exceed twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, as, with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public free schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year, and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts within all or any of the counties of this state, by general or special law, without the local notice required in other cases of special legislation, and may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within such school districts for the further maintenance of public free schools, and the erection and equipment of school buildings therein; provided, that a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters of the district, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote for such tax, not to exceed in any one year fifty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, but the limitation upon the amount of district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns constituting separate and independent school districts. (Sec. 3, Art. 7, adopted election November 3, 1908; proclamation February 2, 1909.)

Sec. 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the state occupation taxes and a poll tax of $1 on every male inhabitant of this state, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free school and in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem state tax of such an amount, not to exceed twenty cents on the $100 valuation, as, with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public free schools of this state for a period of not less than six months in each year, and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts by general or special law, without the local notice required in other cases of special legislation, and all such school districts, whether created by general or special law, may embrace parts of two or more counties. And the Legislature shall be authorized to pass laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in all said districts, and for the management and control of the public school or schools of such districts, whether such districts are composed of territory wholly within a county or in parts of two or more counties. And the legislature may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within all school districts, heretofore formed or hereafter formed, for the further maintenance of public free schools, and the erection and equipment of school buildings therein, provided, that a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters of the district, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax, not to exceed in any one year fifty cents on the $100 valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, but the limitation upon the amount of school district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns, constituting separate and independent school districts. (Sec. 3, Art. 7, adopted election August 3, 1909; proclamation September 24, 1909.)

Sec. 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State occupation taxes and a poll tax of one ($1.00) dollar on every male inhabitant of this State, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools; and, in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem State tax of such an amount not to exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollar valuation, as, with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year and it shall be the duty of the State Board of Education to set aside a sufficient amount out of the said tax to provide free text books for the use of children attending the public free schools of this State; provided, however, that should the limit of taxation herein named be insufficient, the deficit may be met by appropriation from the general funds of the State and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts by general or special law, without the local notice required in other cases of special legislation; and all such school districts, whether created by general or special law, may embrace parts of two or more counties. And the Legislature shall be authorized to pass laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in all said districts, and for the management and control of the public school or schools of such district, whether such districts are composed of territory wholly within a county or in parts of two or more counties. And the Legislature may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within all school districts heretofore formed or hereafter formed, for the further maintenance of public free schools, and the erection and equipment of school buildings therein; provided, that a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the district, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax, not to exceed in any one year fifty cents on the one hundred dollar valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district but the limitation upon the amount of school district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns, constituting separate and independent school districts. (Sec. 3, Art. 7, adopted November 5, 1918.)

Sec. 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State occupation taxes and a poll tax of one ($1.00) dollar on every inhabitant of this state, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools; and in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem state tax of such an amount not to exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation, as with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public schools of this state for a period of not less than six months in each year, and it shall be the duty of the State Board of Education to set aside a sufficient amount out of the said tax to provide free text books for the use of children attending the public free schools of this State; provided, however, that should the limit of taxation herein named be insufficient the deficit may be met by appropriation from the general funds of the State and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts by general or special law without the local notice required in other cases of special legislation; and all such school districts, whether created by general or special law may embrace parts of two or more counties. And the Legislature shall be authorized to pass laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in all said districts and for the management and control of the public school or schools of such districts, whether such districts are composed of territory wholly within a county or in parts of two or more counties. And the Legislature may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within all school districts heretofore formed or hereafter formed, for the further maintenance of public free schools, and the erection and equipment of school buildings therein; provided, that a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters of the district voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax not to exceed in any one year one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, but the limitation upon the amount of school district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns constituting separate and independent school districts, nor to independent or common school districts created by general or special law. (Sec. 3, Art. 7, adopted election November 2, 1920.)

Sec. 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State occupation taxes and poll tax of one dollar on every inhabitant of the State, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools; and in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem State tax of such an amount not to exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation, as with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year, and it shall be the duty of the State Board of Education to set aside a sufficient amount out of the said tax to provide free text books for the use of children attending the public free schools of this State; provided, however, that should the limit of taxation herein named be insufficient the deficit may be met by appropriation from the general funds of the State and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of school district[s] by general laws; and all such school districts may embrace parts of two or more counties, and the Legislature shall be authorized to pass laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in all said districts and for the management and control of the public school or schools of such districts, whether such districts are [are] composed of territory wholly within a county or in parts of two or more counties, and the Legislature may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within all school districts heretofore formed or hereafter formed, for the further maintenance of public free schools, and for the erection and equipment of school buildings therein; provided that a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters of the district voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax not to exceed in any one year one ($1.00) dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, but the limitation upon the amount of school district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns constituting separate and independent school districts, nor to independent or common school districts created by general or special law. (Sec. 3, Art. 7, adopted election November 2, 1926; proclamation January 20, 1927.)

Sec. 3a. Every school district heretofore formed, whether formed under the general law or by special act, and whether the territory embraced within its boundaries lies wholly within a single county or partly in two or more counties, is hereby declared to be, and from its formation to have been, a valid and lawful district.

All bonds heretofore issued by any such districts which have been approved by the Attorney General and registered by the Comptroller are hereby declared to be, and at the time of their issuance to have been, issued in conformity with the Constitution and laws of this State, and any and all such bonds are hereby in all things validated and declared to be valid and binding obligations upon the district or districts issuing the same.

Each such district is hereby authorized to, and shall, annually levy and collect an ad valorem tax sufficient to pay the interest on all such bonds and to provide a sinking fund sufficient to redeem the same at maturity, not to exceed such a rate as may be provided by law under other provisions of this Constitution.

And all trustees heretofore elected in districts made up from more than one county are hereby declared to have been duly elected, and shall be and are hereby named as trustees of their respective districts, with power to levy the taxes herein authorized until their successor shall be duly elected and qualified as is or may be provided by law. (Sec. 3a, Art. 7, adopted election August 3, 1909, proclamation September 24, 1909.)

Sec. 4. The lands herein set apart to the public free school fund shall be sold under such regulations, at such times and on such terms as may be prescribed by law; and the Legislature shall not have power to grant any relief to the purchasers thereof. The Comptroller shall invest the proceeds of such sales, and of those heretofore made, as may be directed by the Board of Education herein provided for, in the bonds of this State, if the same can be obtained, otherwise in United States bonds; and the United States bonds now belonging to said fund shall likewise be invested in State bonds, if the same can be obtained on terms advantageous to the school fund. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 4. The lands herein set apart to the Public Free School fund, shall be sold under such regulations, at such times, and on such terms as may be prescribed by law; and the Legislature shall not have power to grant any relief to purchasers thereof. The Comptroller shall invest the proceeds of such sales, and of those heretofore made, as may be directed by the Board of Education herein provided for, in the bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, or counties in said State, or in such other securities, and under such restrictions as may be prescribed by law; and the State shall be responsible for all investments. (Sec. 4, Art. 7, adopted election August 14, 1883; proclamation September 25, 1883.)

Sec. 5. The principal of all bonds and other funds, and the principal arising from the sale of the lands hereinbefore set apart to said school fund, shall be the permanent school fund; and all the interest derivable therefrom and the taxes herein authorized and levied shall be the available school fund which shall be applied annually to the support of the public free schools. And no law shall ever be enacted appropriating any part of the permanent or available school fund to any other purpose whatever; nor shall the same, or any part thereof, ever be appropriated to or used for the support of any sectarian school; and the available school fund herein provided shall be distributed to the several counties according to their scholastic population and applied in manner as may be provided by law. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 5. The principal of all bonds and other funds, and the principal arising from the sale of the lands hereinbefore set apart to said school fund, shall be the permanent school fund, and all the interest derivable therefrom and the taxes herein authorized and levied shall be the available school fund, to which the Legislature may add not exceeding one per cent annually of the total value of the permanent school fund, such value to be ascertained by the Board of Education until otherwise provided by law, and the available school fund shall be applied annually to the support of the public free schools. And no law shall ever be enacted appropriating any part of the permanent or available school fund to any other purpose whatever; nor shall the same, or any part thereof ever be appropriated to or used for the support of any sectarian school; and the available school fund herein provided shall be distributed to the several counties according to their scholastic population and applied in such manner as may be provided by law. (Sec. 5, Art. 7, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 6. All lands heretofore or hereafter granted to the several counties of this State for Education, or schools, are of right the property of said counties respectively to which they were granted, and title thereto is vested in said counties, and no adverse possession or limitation shall ever be available against the title of any county. Each county may sell or dispose of its lands in whole or in part, in manner to be provided by the Commissioners' court of the county. Actual settlers residing on said lands shall be protected in the prior right of purchasing the same to the extent of their settlement, not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres, at the price fixed by said court, which price shall not include the value of existing improvements made thereon by such settlers. Said lands and the proceeds thereof, when sold, shall be held by said counties alone as a trust for the benefit of public schools therein. Said proceeds to be invested in bonds of the State of Texas, or of the United States, and only the interest thereon to be used and expended annually. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 6. All lands heretofore, or hereafter granted to the several counties of this State for educational purposes, are of right the property of said counties respectively, to which they were granted, and title thereto is vested in said counties, and no adverse possession or limitation shall ever be available against the title of any county. Each county may sell or dispose of its lands in whole or in part, in manner to be provided by the Commissioners' Court of the county. Actual settlers residing on said lands, shall be protected in the prior right of purchasing the same to the extent of their settlement, not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres, at the price fixed by said court, which price shall not include the value of existing improvements made thereon by such settlers. Said lands, and the proceeds thereof, when sold, shall be held by said counties alone as a trust for the benefit of public schools therein; said proceeds to be invested in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, or counties in said State, or in such other securities, and under such restrictions as may be prescribed by law; and the counties shall be responsible for all investments; the interest thereon, and other revenue, except the principal shall be available fund. (Sec. 6, Art. 7, adopted election August 14, 1883; proclamation September 25, 1883.)

Sec. 6a. All agriculture or grazing school land mentioned in section 6 of this article owned by any county shall be subject to taxation except for State purposes to the same extent as lands privately owned. (Sec. 6a, Art. 7, adopted election November 2, 1926; proclamation January 20, 1927.)

Sec. 7. Separate schools shall be provided for the white and colored children, and impartial provision shall be made for both.

Sec. 8. The Governor, Comptroller and Secretary of State shall constitute a Board of Education, who shall distribute said funds to the several counties and perform such other duties concerning public schools as may be prescribed by law.

Asylums

Sec. 9. All lands heretofore granted for the benefit the Lunatic, Blind, Deaf and Dumb, and Orphan Asylums, together with such donations as may have been or may hereafter be made to either of them, respectively, as indicated in the several grants, are hereby set apart to provide a permanent fund for the support, maintenance and improvement of said Asylums. And the Legislature may provide for the sale of the lands and the investment of the proceeds in manner as provided for the sale and investment of school lands in section 4 of this Article.

University

Sec. 10. The Legislature shall as soon as practicable establish, organize and provide for the maintenance, support and direction of a University of the first class, to be located by a vote of the people of this State, and styled, "The University of Texas", for the promotion of literature, and the arts and sciences, including an Agricultural, and Mechanical department.

Sec. 11. In order to enable the Legislature to perform the duties set forth in the foregoing Section, it is hereby declared that all lands and other property heretofore set apart, and appropriated, for the establishment and maintenance of "The University of Texas", together with all the proceeds of sales of the same, heretofore made or hereafter to be made, and all grants, donations and appropriations that may hereafter be made by the State of Texas, or from any other source, shall constitute and become a permanent University fund.

And the same as realized and received into the Treasury of the State, (together with such sum, belonging to the fund, as may now be in the Treasury) shall be invested in Bonds of the State of Texas, if the same can be obtained, if not, then in United States Bonds and the interest accruing thereon, shall be subject to appropriation by the Legislature to accomplish the purpose declared in the foregoing Section.

Provided, that the one tenth of the alternate sections of the lands granted to rail roads, reserved by the state, which were set apart and appropriated to the establishment of the "University of Texas" by an act of the Legislature of February 11th, 1858, entitled "An Act to establish "The University of Texas", shall not be included in, or constitute a part of the permanent University fund.

Sec. 12. The land herein set apart to the University fund shall be sold under such regulations, at such times, and on such terms as may be provided by law; and the Legislature shall provide for the prompt collection, at maturity, of all debts due on account of University lands, heretofore sold, or that may hereafter be sold, and shall in neither event have the power to grant relief to the purchasers.

Sec. 13. The Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, established by an Act of the Legislature passed April 17th, 1871, located in the county of Brazos, is hereby made, and constituted a Branch of the University of Texas, for:

instruction in Agriculture, the Mechanic Arts, and the Natural Sciences connected therewith. And the Legislature shall at its next session, make an appropriation, not to exceed forty thousand dollars, for the construction and completion of the buildings and improvements, and for providing the furniture necessary to put said College in immediate and successful operation.

Sec. 14. The Legislature shall also when deemed practicable, establish and provide for the maintenance of a College or Branch University for the instruction of the colored youths of the State, to be located by a vote of the people: Provided, that no tax shall be levied, and no money appropriated, out of the general revenue, either for this purpose or for the establishment, and erection of the buildings of the University of Texas.

Sec. 15. In addition to the lands heretofore granted to the University of Texas, there is hereby set apart, and appropriated, for the endowment maintenance, and support of said University and its branches, one million acres of the unappropriated public domain of the State, to be designated, and surveyed as may be provided by law; and said lands shall be sold under the same regulations, and the proceeds invested in the same manner, as is provided for the sale and investment of the permanent University fund; and the Legislature shall not have power to grant any relief to the purchasers of said lands.

TAXATION AND REVENUE

Section 1. Taxation shall be equal and uniform. All property in this State, whether owned by natural persons or corporations, other than municipal, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, which shall be ascertained as may be provided by law. The Legislature may impose a poll tax. It may also impose occupation taxes, both upon natural persons and upon corporations, other than municipal, doing any business in this State. It may also tax incomes of both natural persons and corporations other than municipal, except that persons engaged in mechanical and agricultural pursuits shall never be required to pay an occupation tax; Provided, that two hundred and fifty dollars worth of household and kitchen furniture, belonging to each family in this State shall be exempt from taxation, and provided further that the occupation tax levied by any county, city or town for any year on persons or corporations pursuing any profession or business, shall not exceed one half of the tax levied by the State for the same period on such profession or business.

Sec. 2. All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the Legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes, (and the necessary furniture of all schools), and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation, other than the property above mentioned, shall be void. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 2. All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the Legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools, also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages; that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void. (Sec. 2, Art. 8, adopted election November 6, 1906; proclamation January 7, 1907.)

Sec. 3. Taxes shall be levied and collected by general laws and for public purposes only.

Sec. 4. The power to tax corporations and corporate property shall not be surrendered or suspended by act of the Legislature, by any contract or grant to which the State shall be a party.

Sec. 5. All property of railroad companies, of whatever description, lying or being within the limits of any city or incorporated town within this State, shall bear its proportionate share of municipal taxation, and if any such property shall not have been heretofore rendered, the authorities of the city or town within which it lies, shall have power to require its rendition, and collect the usual municipal tax thereon, as on other property lying within said municipality.

Sec. 6. No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in pursuance of specific appropriations made by law; nor shall any appropriation of money be made for a longer term than two years, except by the first Legislature to assemble under this Constitution, which may make the necessary appropriations to carry on the government until the assembling of the sixteenth Legislature.

Sec. 7. The Legislature shall not have power to borrow, or in any manner divert from its purpose, any special fund that may, or ought to, come into the Treasury; and shall make it penal for any person or persons to borrow, withhold or in any manner to divert from its purpose any special fund, or any part thereof.

Sec. 8. All property of railroad companies shall be assessed, and the taxes collected in the several counties in which said property is situated, including so much of the roadbed and fixtures as shall be in each county. The rolling stock may be assessed in gross in the county where the principal office of the company is located, and the county tax paid upon it, shall be apportioned by the Comptroller, in proportion to the distance such road may run through any such county, among the several counties through which the road passes, as a part of their tax assets.

Sec. 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, shall never exceed fifty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, and no county, city or town shall levy more than one half of said State tax, except for the payment of debts already incurred, and for the erection of public buildings, not to exceed fifty cents on the one hundred dollars in any one year, and except as in this Constitution is otherwise provided. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation; and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five cents for city or county purposes, and not to exceed fifteen cents, for roads and bridges on the one hundred dollars valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of this amendment, and for the erection of public buildings, street, sewer and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation in any one year, and except as is in this Constitution otherwise provided. (Section 9, Art. 8, adopted election August 14, 1883; proclamation September 25, 1883.)

Sec. 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of public free schools, shall never exceed thirty five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five cents for city or county purposes, and not exceed fifteen cents for roads and bridges on the one hundred dollars, valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the amendment, September 25, A. D. 1883, and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, waterworks and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation in any one year, and except as is in this constitution otherwise provided; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads; provided, that a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the county, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax, not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of public roads and highways without the local notice required for special or local laws. (Sec. 9, Art. 8, adopted election November 4, 1890; proclamation December 19, 1890.)

Sec. 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation.

tion: and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five cents for city or county purposes, and not exceeding fifteen cents for roads and bridges, and not exceeding fifteen cents to pay jurors, on the one hundred dollars valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the amendment September 25th, 1883; and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, water works and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year, and except as is in this Constitution otherwise provided; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads: provided, that a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax, not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of the public roads and highways, without the local notice required for special or local laws. (Sec. 9, Art. 8, adopted election November 6, 1906; proclamation January 7, 1907.)

Sec. 10. The Legislature shall have no power to release the inhabitants of, or property in, any county, city or town from the payment of taxes levied for State or county purposes, unless in case of great public calamity in any such county, city or town, when such release may be made by a vote of two-thirds of each House of the Legislature.

Sec. 11. All property, whether owned by persons or corporations shall be assessed for taxation, and the taxes paid in the county where situated, but the Legislature may, by a two-thirds vote, authorize the payment of taxes of non-residents of counties to be made at the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts. And all lands and other property not rendered for taxation by the owner thereof shall be assessed at its fair value by the proper officer.

Sec. 12. All property subject to taxation in, and owned by residents of unorganized counties, shall be assessed and the taxes thereon paid in the counties, to which such unorganized counties shall be attached for judicial purposes; and lands lying in and owned by non-residents of unorganized counties, and lands lying in the territory not laid off into counties shall be assessed and the taxes thereon collected at the office of the Comptroller of the State.

Sec. 13. Provision shall be made by the first Legislature for the speedy sale of a sufficient portion of all lands and other property for the taxes due thereon, and every year thereafter for the sale of [a] all lands and other property, upon which the taxes have not been paid, and the deed of conveyance to the purchaser for all lands and other property thus sold shall be held to vest a good and perfect title in the purchaser thereof, subject to be impeached only for actual fraud; provided that the former owner shall, within two years from date of purchaser's deed, have the right to redeem the land upon the payment of double the amount of money paid for the land.

Sec. 14. There shall be elected by the qualified electors of each county at the same time and under the same law regulating the election of State and county officers, an Assessor of Taxes, who shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Sec. 15. The annual assessment made upon landed property shall be a special lien thereon; and all property, both real and personal, belonging to any delinquent taxpayer shall be liable to seizure and sale for the payment of all the taxes and penalties due by such delinquent; and such property may be sold for the payment of the taxes and penalties due by such delinquent, under such regulations as the Legislature may provide.

Sec. 16. The Sheriff of each county, in addition to his other duties, shall be the collector of taxes therefor. But in counties having ten thousand inhabitants, to be determined by the last preceding census of the United States, a Collector of taxes shall be elected to hold office for two years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

Sec. 17. The specification of the objects and subjects of taxation shall not deprive the Legislature of the power to require other subjects or objects to be taxed in such manner as may be, consistent with the principles of taxation fixed in this Constitution.

Sec. 18. The Legislature shall provide for equalizing, as near as may be, the valuation of all property subject to or rendered for taxation, (the County Commissioner's Court to constitute a board of equalization); and may also provide for the classification of all lands with reference to their value in the several counties.

It is evident that "Commissioner's" should have been "Commissioners'."

Sec. 19. Farm products in the hands of the producer, and family supplies for home and farm use, are exempt from all taxation until otherwise directed by a two-thirds vote of all the members elect to both houses of the Legislature. (Sec. 19, Art. 8, adopted election first Tuesday in September, 1879; proclamation October 14, 1879.)

COUNTIES

Section 1. The Legislature shall have power to create counties for the convenience of the people subject to the following provisions:

First. In the territory of the State exterior to all counties now existing, no new counties shall be created with a less area than nine hundred square miles, in a square form, unless prevented by pre-existing boundary lines. Should the State lines render this impracticable in border counties, the area may be less. The territory referred to may, at any time, in whole or in part, be divided into counties in advance of population and attached, for judicial and land surveying purposes, to the most convenient organized county or counties.

Second. Within the territory of any county or counties now existing, no new county shall be created with a less area than seven hundred square miles, nor shall any such county now existing be reduced to a less area than seven hundred square miles. No new counties shall be created so as to approach nearer than twelve miles of the county seat of any county from which it may in whole or in part be taken. Counties of a less area than nine hundred, but of seven hundred or more square miles, within counties now existing, may be created by a two-thirds vote of each House of the Legislature, taken by yeas and nays and entered on the journals. Any county now existing may be reduced to an area of not less than seven hundred square miles by a like two-thirds vote. When any part of a county is stricken off and attached to, or created into another county, the part stricken off shall be holden for and obliged to pay its proportion of all the liabilities then existing, of the county from which it was taken, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

Third. No part of any existing county shall be detached from it and attached to another existing county until the proposition for such change shall have been submitted, in such manner as may be provided by law, to a vote of the electors of both counties, and shall have received a majority of those voting on the question in each.

County Seats

Sec. 2. The Legislature shall pass laws regulating the manner of removing county seats, but no county seat situated within five miles of the geographical centre of the county shall be removed, except by a vote of two-thirds of all the electors voting on the subject. A majority of such electors, however, voting at such election, may remove a county seat from a point more than five miles from the geographical centre of the county to a point within five miles of such centre, in either case the centre to be determined by a certificate from the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

RAILROADS

Section 1. Any railroad corporation or association, organized under the law for the purpose, shall have the right to construct and operate a railroad between any points within this State, and to connect at the State line with railroads of other States. Every railroad company shall have the right, with its road, to intersect, connect with or cross any other railroad; and shall receive and transport each the other's passengers, tonnage and cars, loaded or empty, without delay or discrimination, under such regulations as shall be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. Railroads heretofore constructed, or that may hereafter be constructed in this State, are hereby declared public highways and railroad companies common carriers. The Legislature shall pass laws to correct abuses and prevent unjust discrimination and extortion in the rates of freight and passenger tariffs on the different railroads in this State; and shall, from time to time, pass laws establishing reasonable maximum rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight on said railroads, and enforce all such laws by adequate penalties. (Const. 1876.)

Article [Sec.] 2. Railroads heretofore constructed or which may hereafter be constructed in this state are hereby declared public highways, and railroad companies, common carriers. The Legislature shall pass laws to regulate railroad, freight and passenger tariffs, to correct abuses and prevent unjust discrimination and extortion in the rates of freight and passenger tariffs on the different railroads in this state, and enforce the same by adequate penalties; and to the further accomplishment of these objects and purposes, may provide and establish all requisite means and agencies invested with such powers as may be deemed adequate and advisable. (Sec. 2, Art. 10, adopted election November 4, 1890; proclamation December 19, 1890.)

The resolution proposing this amendment has the word "Article" instead of "Sec." in first line.

Sec. 3. Every railroad or other corporation, organized or doing business in this State under the laws or authority thereof, shall have and maintain a public office or place in this State for the transaction of its business, where transfers of stock shall be made and where shall be kept for inspection by the stockholders of such corporations, books, in which shall be recorded the amount of capital stock subscribed, the names of the owners of the stock, the amounts owned by them respectively, the amount of stock paid, and by whom, the transfer of said stock, with the date of the transfer, the amount of its assets and liabilities, and the names and places of residence of its officers. The directors of every railroad company shall hold one meeting annually in this State, public notice of which shall be given thirty days previously, and the President or Superintendent shall report annually, under oath, to the Comptroller or Governor, their acts and doings, which report shall include such matters relating to railroads as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall pass laws enforcing by suitable penalties the provisions of this Section.

Sec. 4. The rolling stock and all other movable property belonging to any railroad company or corporation in this State shall be considered personal property, and its real and personal property, or any part thereof, shall be liable to execution and sale in the same manner as the property of individuals; and the Legislature shall pass no laws exempting any such property from execution and sale.

Sec. 5. No railroad or other corporation, or the lessees, purchasers or managers of any railroad corporation, shall consolidate the stock, property or franchises of such corporation, with, or lease or purchase the works or franchises of, or in any way control any railroad corporation owning or having under its control a parallel or competing line; nor shall any officer of such railroad corporation act as an officer of any other railroad corporation owning or having the control of a parallel or competing line.

Sec. 6. No railroad company organized under the laws of this State, shall consolidate by private or judicial sale or otherwise with any railroad company organized under the laws of any other State or of the United States.

Sec. 7. No law shall be passed by the Legislature granting the right to construct and operate a street railroad within any city, town, or village or upon any public highway, without first acquiring the consent of the local authorities having control of the street or highway proposed to be occupied by such street railroad.

Sec. 8. No railroad corporation in existence at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall have the benefit of any future legislation, except on condition of complete acceptance of all the provisions of this Constitution applicable to railroads.

Sec. 9. No railroad hereafter constructed in this State shall pass within a distance of three miles of any county seat, without passing through the same, and establishing and maintaining a depot therein unless prevented by natural obstacles, such as streams, hills or mountains; provided, such town or its citizens shall grant the right of way through its limits and sufficient ground for ordinary depot purposes.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS

Section 1. The several counties of this State are hereby recognized as legal subdivisions of the State.

Sec. 2. The construction of jails, court-houses and bridges and the establishment of county poor houses and farms, and the laying out, construction and repairing of county roads shall be provided for by general laws.

Sec. 3. No county, city, or other municipal corporation shall hereafter become a subscriber to the capital of any private corporation or association, or make any appropriation or donation to the same, or in anywise loan its credit; but this shall not be construed to in any way effect any obligation heretofore undertaken pursuant to law.

Sec. 4. Cities and towns, having a population of ten thousand inhabitants or less, may be chartered alone by general law. They may levy, assess and collect an annual tax to defray the current expenses of their local government, but such tax shall never exceed, for any one year, one-fourth of one per cent. and shall be collectible only in current money. And all license and occupation tax levied, and all fines, forfeitures, penalties and other dues accruing to cities and towns, shall be collectible only in current money. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 4. Cities and towns having a population of five thousand or less may be chartered alone by general law. They may levy, assess and collect an annual tax to defray the current expenses of their local government, but such tax shall never exceed for any one year one-fourth of one per cent. and shall be collectible only in current money, and all licenses and occupation taxes levied and all fines, forfeitures, penalties and other dues accruing to cities and towns shall be collectible only in current money. (Sec. 4, Art. 11, adopted election August 3, 1909; proclamation September 24, 1909.)

Sec. 4. Cities and towns having a population of five thousand or less may be chartered alone by general law. They may levy, assess and collect such taxes as may be authorized by law, but no tax for any purpose shall ever be lawful for any one year which shall exceed one and one-half per cent of the taxable property of such city; and all taxes shall be collectible only in current money, and all licenses and occupation taxes levied, and all fines, forfeitures and penalties accruing to said cities and towns shall be collectible only in current money. (As amended election November 2, 1920.)

Sec. 5. Cities having more than ten thousand inhabitants may have their charters granted or amended by special act of the Legislature, and may levy, assess and collect such taxes as may be authorized by law, but no tax for any purpose shall ever be lawful, for any one year, which shall exceed two and one-half per cent of the taxable property of such City, and no debt shall ever be created by any City, unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and create a sinking fund of at least two per cent thereon. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 5. Cities having more than five thousand inhabitants may have their charters granted or amended by special act of the Legislature, and may levy, assess and collect such taxes as may be authorized by law, but no tax for any purposes shall ever be lawful, for any one year, which shall exceed two and one-half per cent. of the taxable property of such city; and no debt shall ever be created by any city or town, unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and create a sinking fund of at least two per cent. thereon. (Sec. 5, Art. 11, adopted election August 3, 1909; proclamation September 24, 1909.)

Sec. 5. Cities having more than five thousand (5000) inhabitants may, by a majority vote of the qualified voters of said city, at an election held for that purpose, adopt or amend their charters, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by the Legislature, and providing that no charter or any ordinance passed under said charter shall contain any provision inconsistent with the Constitution of the State, or of the general laws enacted by the Legislature of this State; said cities may levy, assess and collect such taxes as may be authorized by law or by their charters; but no tax for any purpose shall ever be lawful for any one year, which shall exceed two and one-half per cent. of the taxable property of such city, and no debt shall ever be created by any city, unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and creating a sinking fund of at least two per cent. thereon; and provided further, that no city charter shall be altered, amended or repealed oftener than every two years. (Sec. 5, Art. 11, adopted election November 5, 1912; proclamation December 30, 1912.)

Sec. 6. Counties cities and towns are authorized in such mode as may now or may hereafter be provided by law, to levy, assess and collect the taxes necessary to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund to satisfy any indebtedness heretofore legally made and undertaken; but all such taxes shall be assessed and collected separately from that levied, assessed and collected for current expenses of municipal government, and shall when levied specify in the act of levying the purpose therefor, and such taxes may be paid in the coupons bonds or other indebtedness for the payment of which such tax may have been levied.

Sec. 7. All counties and cities bordering on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico are hereby authorized upon a vote of two thirds of the taxpayers therein (to be ascertained as may be provided by law) to levy and collect such tax for construction of sea walls, breakwaters, or sanitary purposes as may be authorized by law, and may create a debt for such works and issue bonds in evidence thereof. But no debt for any purpose shall ever be incurred in any manner by any city or county unless provision is made at the time of creating the same, for levying and collecting a sufficient tax to pay the interest thereon and provide at least two per cent. as a sinking fund; and the condemnation of the right of way for the erection of such works shall be fully provided for.

Sec. 8. The counties and cities on the Gulf Coast being subject to calamitous overflows, and a very large proportion of the general revenue being derived from those otherwise prosperous localities. The Legislature is especially authorized to aid by donation of such portion of the public domain as may be deemed proper, and in such mode as may be provided by law, the construction of sea walls, or breakwaters, such aid to be proportioned to the extent and value of the works constructed, or to be constructed, in any locality.

It is evident that the word "The" before "Legislature" in the fourth line, should be "the" with a comma after "localities," making the paragraph a single sentence.

Sec. 9. The property of counties, cities and towns, owned and held only for public purposes, such as public buildings and the sites therefor. Fire engines and the furniture thereof, and all property used, or intended for extinguishing fires, public grounds and all other property devoted exclusively to the use and benefit of the public shall be exempt from forced sale and from taxation, provided, nothing herein shall prevent the enforcement of the vendors lien, the mechanics or builders lien, or other liens now existing.

It is evident that the word "Fire" in the third line should read "fire," and the period after "therefor" in the same line should be a comma, making the paragraph one sentence.

Sec. 10. The Legislature may constitute any city or town a separate and independent school district. And when the citizens of any city or town have a charter, authorizing the city authorities to levy and collect a tax for the support and maintenance of a public institution of learning, such tax may hereafter be levied and collected, if at an election, held for that purpose, two thirds of the taxpayers of such city or town shall vote for such tax.

ARTICLE XII

PRIVATE CORPORATIONS

Section 1. No private corporation shall be created except by general laws.

Sec. 2. General laws shall be enacted providing for the creation of private corporations, and shall therein provide fully for the adequate protection of the public and of the individual stockholders.

Sec. 3. The right to authorize and regulate freights, tolls, wharfage or fares levied and collected or proposed to be levied and collected by individuals, companies or corporations for the use of highways, landings, wharves, bridges and ferries, devoted to public use, has never been and shall never be relinquished or abandoned by the State, but shall always be under Legislative control and depend upon Legislative authority.

Sec. 4. The first Legislature assembled after the adoption of this Constitution shall provide a mode of procedure by the Attorney General and District or County Attorneys in the name and behalf of the State to prevent and punish the demanding and receiving or collection of any and all charges, as freight, wharfage, fares, or tolls, for the use of property devoted to the public, unless the same shall have been specially authorized by law.

Sec. 5. All laws granting the right to demand and collect freights, fares, tolls or wharfage, shall at all times be subject to amendment, modification or repeal by the Legislature.

Sec. 6. No corporation shall issue stock or bonds except for money paid, labor done or property actually received, and all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void.

Sec. 7. Nothing in this Article shall be construed to divest or effect rights guaranteed by any existing grant or statute, of this State, or of the Republic of Texas.

SPANISH AND MEXICAN LAND TITLES

Section 1. All fines, penalties, forfeitures and escheats, which have heretofore accrued to the Republic and State of Texas, under their constitutions and laws, shall accrue to the State under this Constitution; and the Legislature shall provide a method for determining what lands have been forfeited, and for giving effect to escheats; and all such rights of forfeiture and escheat to the State shall, ipso facto, enure to the protection of the innocent holders of junior titles, as provided in sections two, three and four of this Article.

Sec. 2. Any claim of title or right to land in Texas, issued prior to the 13th day of November, 1835, not duly recorded in the county where the land was situated at the time of such record, or not duly archived in the General Land Office; or not in the actual possession of the grantee thereof, or some person claiming under him, prior to the accruing of junior title thereto from the sovereignty of the soil, under circumstances reasonably calculated to give notice to said junior grantee, has never had, and shall not have, standing or effect against such junior title, or color of title, acquired without such or actual notice of such prior claim of title or right; and no condition annexed to such grants, not archived, or recorded, or occupied, as aforesaid, has been, or ever shall be released or waived, but actual performance of all such conditions shall be proved by the person or persons claiming under such title or claim of right in order to maintain action thereon, and the holder of such junior title, or color of title, shall have all the rights of the government which have heretofore existed, or now exist, arising from the nonperformance of all such conditions.

Sec. 3. Non-payment of taxes on any claim of title to land, dated prior to the 13th day of November, 1835, not recorded, or archived, as provided in Section 2, by the person or persons so claiming, or those under whom he or they so claim, from that date up to the date of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be held to be a presumption that the right thereto has reverted to the State, and that said claim is a stale demand, which presumption shall only be rebutted by payment of all taxes on said lands, State, county, and city, or town, to be assessed on the fair value of such lands by the Comptroller, and paid to him, without commutation or deduction for any part of the above period.

Sec. 4. No claim of title or right to land, which issued prior to the thirteenth day of November, 1835, which has not been duly recorded in the county where the land was situated at the time of such record, or which has not been duly archived in the General Land Office, shall ever hereafter be deposited in the General Land Office, or recorded in this State, or delineated on the maps, or used as evidence in any of the courts of this State, and the same are stale claims; but this shall not affect such rights or pre-sumptions as arise from actual possession. By the words "duly recorded" as used in Sections two and four of this Article; it is meant that such claim of title or right to land shall have been recorded in the proper office, and that mere errors in the certificate of registration; or informality, not affecting the fairness and good faith of the holder thereof, with which the record was made, shall not be held to vitiate such record.

Sec. 5. All claims; locations, surveys, grants and titles, of any kind, which are declared null and void by the Constitution of the Republic or State of Texas, are, and the same shall remain forever null and void.

Sec. 6. The Legislature shall pass stringent laws for the detection and conviction of all forgers of land titles, and may make such appropriations of money for that purpose as may be necessary.

Sec. 7. Sections two, three, four and five of this Article, shall not be so construed as to set aside or repeal any law or laws of the Republic or State of Texas, releasing the claimants of head-rights of colonists of a league of land, or less, from compliance with the conditions on which their grants were made.

PUBLIC LANDS AND LAND OFFICE

Section 1. There shall be one General Land Office in the State, which shall be at the seat of government, where all land titles which have emanated or may hereafter emanate from the State shall be registered, except those titles the registration of which may be prohibited by this Constitution. It shall be the duty of the Legislature at the earliest practicable time to make the Land Office self sustaining, and from time to time the Legislature may establish such subordinate offices as may be deemed necessary.

Sec. 2. All unsatisfied genuine land certificates barred by section four, Article ten, of the Constitution of 1869, by reason of the holders or owners thereof failing to have them surveyed and returned to the Land Office by the first day of January, 1875, are hereby revived. All unsatisfied genuine land certificates now in existence shall be surveyed and returned to the General Land Office within five years after the adoption of this Constitution, or be forever barred; and all genuine land certificates hereafter issued by the State shall be surveyed and returned to the General Land Office within five years after issuance, or be forever barred; Provided, that all genuine land certificates heretofore or hereafter issued shall be located, surveyed or patented, only upon vacant and unappropriated public domain and not upon any land titled or equitably owned under color of title from the sovereignty of the State, evidence of the appropriation of which is on the county records or in the General Land Office; or when the appropriation is evidenced by the occupation of the owner, or of some person holding for him.

Sec. 3. The Legislature shall have no power to grant any of the lands of this State to any railway company except upon the following restrictions and conditions.

First. That there shall never be granted to any such corporation more than sixteen sections to the mile, and no reservation of any part of the public domain for the purpose of satisfying such grant shall ever be made.

Second. That no land certificate shall be issued to such company, until they have equipped, constructed and in running order at least ten miles of road, and on the failure of such company to comply with the terms of its charter, or to alienate its land at a period to be fixed by law, in no event to exceed twelve years from the issuance of the patent, all said land shall be forfeited to the State and become a portion of the public domain and liable to location and survey. The Legislature shall pass general laws, only, to give effect to the provisions of this section.

Sec. 4. No certificate for land shall be sold at the Land Office except to actual settlers upon the same, and in lots not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres.

Sec. 5. All lands heretofore or hereafter granted to railway companies where the charter or law of the State required or shall hereafter require their alienation within a certain period on pain of forfeiture, or is silent on the subject of forfeiture, and which lands have not been or shall not hereafter be alienated, in conformity with the terms of their charters, and the laws under which the grants were made, are hereby declared forfeited to the State and subject to pre-emption, location and survey, as other vacant lands. All lands heretofore granted to said railroad companies to which no forfeiture was attached, on their failure to alienate, are not included in the foregoing clause, but in all such last named cases it shall be the duty of the Attorney General in every instance where alienations have been or hereafter may be made, to inquire into the same, and if such alienation has been made in fraud of the rights of the State and is colorable only, the real and beneficial interest being still in such corporation, to institute legal proceedings in the county where the seat of government is situated to forfeit such lands to the State, and if such alienation be judicially ascertained to be fraudulent and colorable as aforesaid, such lands shall be forfeited to the State and become a part of the vacant public domain, liable to pre-emption, location and survey.

Sec. 6. To every head of a family without a homestead there shall be donated one hundred and sixty acres of public land, upon condition that he will select and locate said land, and occupy the same three years and pay the Office fees due thereon. To all single men of eighteen years of age and upwards shall be donated eighty acres of public land, upon the terms and conditions prescribed for heads of families.

Sec. 7. The State of Texas hereby releases to the owner or owners of the soil all mines and minerals that may be on the same, subject to taxation as other property.

Sec. 8. Persons residing between the Nueces river and the Rio Grande, and owning grants for lands which emanated from the Government of Spain, or that of Mexico which grants have been recognized and validated by the State by acts of the Legislature, approved February 10th, 1852, August 15th, 1870, and other acts, and who have been prevented from complying with the requirements of said acts by the unsettled condition of the country, shall be allowed until the first day of January 1880, to complete their surveys, and the plots thereof, and to return their field notes to the General Land Office; and all claimants failing to do so shall be forever barred; provided, nothing in this section shall be so construed as to validate any titles not already valid, or to interfere with the rights of third persons.

ARTICLE XV

IMPEACHMENT

Section 1. The power of impeachment shall be vested in the House of Representatives.

Sec. 2. Impeachment of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Treasurer, Commissioner of the General Land Office, Comptroller and the Judges of the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and District Court shall be tried by the Senate.

Sec. 3. When the Senate is sitting as a Court of Impeachment, the Senators shall be on oath, or affirmation impartially to try the party impeached, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the Senators present.

Sec. 4. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall extend only to removal from office, and disqualification from holding any office of honor trust or profit under this State. A party convicted on impeachment shall also be subject to indictment trial and punishment according to law.

Sec. 5. All officers against whom articles of impeachment may be preferred shall be suspended from the exercise of the duties of their office, during the pendency of such impeachment. The Governor may make a provisional appointment to fill the vacancy occasioned by the suspension of an officer until the decision on the impeachment.

Sec. 6. Any judge of the District Courts of the State who is incompetent to discharge the duties of his office, or who shall be guilty of partiality, or oppression, or other official misconduct, or whose habits and conduct are such as to render him unfit to hold such office, or who shall negligently fail to perform his duties as judge; or who shall fail to execute in a reasonable measure the business in his courts may be removed by the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction to hear and determine the causes aforesaid when presented in writing upon the oaths taken before some judge of a court of record of not less than ten lawyers, practicing in the courts held by such judge, and licensed to practice in the Supreme Court; said presentment to be founded either upon the knowledge of the persons making it or upon the written oaths as to the facts of creditable witnesses. The Supreme Court may issue all needful process and prescribe all needful rules to give effect to this section. Causes of this kind shall have precedence and be tried as soon as practicable.

Sec. 7. The Legislature shall provide by law for the trial and removal from office of all officers of this State, the modes for which have not been provided in this Constitution.

Address

Sec. 8. The Judges of the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and District Courts, shall be removed by the Governor on the address of two-thirds of each House of the Legislature, for wilful neglect of duty, incompetency, habitual drunkenness, oppression in office, or other reasonable cause which shall not be sufficient ground for impeachment; provided however, that the cause or causes for which such removal, shall be required, shall be stated at length in such address and entered on the journals of each House; and provided further, that the cause or causes shall be notified to the judge so intended to be removed, and he shall be admitted to a hearing in his own defense before any vote for such address shall pass, and in all such cases, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and entered on the journals of each House respectively.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1. Members of the Legislature, and all officers, before they enter upon the duties of their offices, shall take the following oath or affirmation: I, (———) do solemnly swear, (or affirm), that I will faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties incumbent upon me as ———, according to the best of my skill and ability, agreeably to the Constitution and laws of the United States and of this State; and I do further solemnly swear, (or affirm), that since the adoption of the Constitution of this State, I, being a citizen of this State, have not fought a duel with deadly weapons, within this State nor out of it, nor have I sent or accepted a challenge to fight a duel with deadly weapons, nor have I acted as second in carrying a challenge, or aided, advised or assisted any person thus offending. And I furthermore solemnly swear, (or affirm), that I have not directly, nor indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, nor promised to contribute any money, or valuable thing, or promised any public office or employment, as a reward for the giving or withholding a vote at the election at which I was elected, (or if the office is one of appointment, to secure my appointment.) So help me God.

Sec. 2. Laws shall be made to exclude from office, serving on juries, and from the right of suffrage, those who may have been or shall hereafter be convicted of bribery, perjury, forgery, or other high crimes. The privilege of free suffrage shall be protected by laws regulating elections and prohibiting under adequate penalties all undue influence therein from power, bribery, tumult or other improper practice.

Sec. 3. The Legislature shall make provision whereby persons convicted of misdemeanors and committed to the county jails in default of payment of fines and costs, shall be required to discharge such fines and costs by manual labor, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 4. Any citizen of this State who shall, after the adoption of this Constitution, fight a duel with deadly weapons, or send or accept a challenge to fight a duel with deadly weapons, either within this State or out of it, or who shall act as second, or knowingly assist in any manner those thus offending, shall be deprived of the right of suffrage, or of holding any office of trust or profit under this State.

Sec. 5. Every person shall be disqualified from holding any office of profit, or trust, in this State, who shall have been convicted of having given or offered a bribe to procure his election or appointment.

Sec. 6. No appropriation for private or individual purposes shall be made. A regular statement, under oath, and an account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published annually, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

Sec. 7. The Legislature shall, in no case, have power to issue "Treasury Warrants," "Treasury Notes," or paper of any description intended to circulate as money.

Sec. 8. Each county in the State may provide, in such manner as may be prescribed by law, a Manual Labor Poor House and Farm, for taking care of, managing, employing and supplying the wants of its indigent and poor inhabitants.

Sec. 9. Absence on business of the State, or of the United States, shall not forfeit a residence once obtained, so as to deprive any one of the right of suffrage, or of being elected or appointed to any office under the exceptions contained in this Constitution.

Sec. 10. The Legislature shall provide for deductions from the salaries of public officers who may neglect the performance of any duty that may be assigned them by law.

Sec. 11. The legal rate of interest shall not exceed eight per cent. per annum, in the absence of any contract as to the rate of interest; and by contract parties may agree upon any rate not to exceed twelve per cent. per annum. All interest charged above this last named rate, shall be deemed usurious, and the Legislature shall, at its first session, provide appropriate pains and penalties to prevent and punish usury. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 11. All contracts for a greater rate of interest than ten per centum per annum, shall be deemed usurious, and the first Legislature after this amendment is adopted, shall provide appropriate pains and penalties to prevent the same; but when no rate of interest is agreed upon, the rate shall not exceed six per centum per annum. (Sec. 11, Art. 16, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 12. No member of Congress, nor person holding or exercising any office of profit or trust, under the United States, or either of them, or under any foreign power, shall be eligible as a member of the Legislature, or hold or exercise any office of profit or trust under this State.

Sec. 13. It shall be the duty of the Legislature to pass such laws as may be necessary and proper to decide differences by arbitration, when the parties shall elect that method of trial.

Sec. 14. All civil officers shall reside within the State; and all district or county officers within their districts or counties, and shall keep their offices at such places as may be required by law; and failure to comply with this condition shall vacate the office so held.

Sec. 15. All property, both real and personal, of the wife, owned or claimed by her before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent, shall be her separate property; and laws shall be passed more clearly defining the rights of the wife, in relation as well to her separate property as that held in common with her husband. Laws shall also be passed providing for the registration of the wife's separate property.

Sec. 16. No corporate body shall hereafter be created, renewed or extended with banking or discounting privileges. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 16. The Legislature shall by general laws, authorize the incorporation of corporate bodies with banking and discounting privileges, and shall provide for a system of State supervision, regulation and control of such bodies which will adequately protect and secure the depositors and creditors thereof.

Each shareholder of such corporate body incorporated in this State, so long as he owns shares therein, and for twelve months after the date of any bona fide transfer thereof shall be personally liable for all debts of such corporate body existing at the date of such transfer, to an amount additional to the par value of such shares so owned or transferred, equal to the par value of such shares so owned or transferred.

No such corporate body shall be chartered until all of the authorized capital stock has been subscribed and paid for in full in cash. Such body corporate shall not be authorized to engage in business at more than one place which shall be designated in its charter.

No foreign corporation, other than the national banks of the United States, shall be permitted to exercise banking or discounting privileges in this State. (Sec. 16, Art. 16, adopted election November 8, 1904; proclamation December 29, 1904.)

Sec. 17. All officers within this State shall continue to perform the duties of their offices until their successors shall be duly qualified.

Sec. 18. The rights of property and of action, which have been acquired under the Constitution and laws of the Republic and State, shall not be divested; nor shall any rights or actions which have been divested, barred or declared null and void by the Constitution of the Republic and State, be re-invested, renewed, or re-instated by this Constitution; but the same shall remain precisely in the situation which they were before the adoption of this Constitution, unless otherwise herein provided; and provided further, that no cause of action heretofore barred shall be revived.

Sec. 19. The Legislature shall prescribe by law the qualification of grand and petit jurors.

Sec. 20. The Legislature shall, at its first session, enact a law whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct, town or city, by a majority vote, from time to time, may determine whether the sale of intoxicating liquors, shall be prohibited within the prescribed limits. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 20. The Legislature shall, at its first session, enact a law whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct, town, city (or such subdivision of a county as may be designated by the Commissioners' Court of said county) may, by a majority vote, determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be prohibited within the prescribed limits. (Sec. 20, Art. 16, adopted election August 11, 1891; proclamation September 22, 1891.)

Sec. 20. (a) The manufacture, sale, barter and exchange in the State of Texas, of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, or any other intoxicant whatever except for medicinal, mechanical, scientific or sacramental purposes, are each and all hereby prohibited.

The Legislature shall enact laws to enforce this section.

(b) Until the Legislature shall prescribe other or different regulations on the subject, the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, capable of producing intoxication, or any other intoxicant whatever, for medicinal purposes shall be made only in cases of actual sickness and then only upon the prescription of a regular practicing physician, subject to the regulations applicable to sales under prescriptions in prohibited territory by virtue of Article 598, Chapter 7, Title 11 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

(c) This amendment is self-operative and until the Legislature shall prescribe other or different penalties, any person acting for himself or in behalf of another, or in behalf of any partnership, corporation or association of persons, who shall, after the adoption of this amendment violate any part of this constitutional provision, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and shall, upon conviction in a prosecution commenced, carried on and concluded in the manner prescribed by law in cases of felonies, be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for a period of time not less than one year nor more than five years, without the benefit of any law providing for suspended sentence. And the district courts and the judges thereof, under their equity powers, shall have the authority to issue, upon suit of the Attorney General, injunctions against infractions or threatened infractions of any part of this constitutional provision.

(d) Without affecting the provisions herein, intoxicating liquors are declared to be subject to the general police power of the State; and the Legislature shall have the power to pass any additional prohibitory laws, or laws in aid thereof, which it may deem advisable.

(e) Liability for violating any liquor laws in force at the time of the adoption of this amendment shall not be affected by this amendment, and all remedies, civil and criminal, for such violations shall be preserved. (Sec. 20, Art. 16, adopted election May 24, 1919.)

Explanatory

It is very evident that this section is section 20, with five lettered subdivisions; as resolution proposing such section, Acts 36th Leg., 1919, p. 337, provided "that Article 16 of the Consti-tion be amended by striking out and repealing section 20 thereof and substituting in lieu of said section 20 the following."

Sec. 21. All stationery, and printing, except proclamations and such printing as may be done at the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, paper, and fuel used in the Legislative and other departments of the government, except the Judicial Department, shall be furnished, and the printing and binding of the laws, journals, and department reports, and all other printing and binding and the repairing and furnishing the halls and rooms used for the meetings of the Legislature and its committees, shall be performed under contract, to be given to the lowest responsible bidder, below such maximum price, and under such regulations, as shall be prescribed by law. No member or officer of any department of the government shall be in any way interested in such contracts; and all such contracts shall be subject to the approval of the Governor, Secretary of State and Comptroller.

Sec. 22. The Legislature shall have the power to pass such fence laws, applicable to any sub-division of the State, or counties, as may be needed to meet the wants of the people.

Sec. 23. The Legislature may pass laws for the regulation of live stock and the protection of stock raisers in the stock raising portion of the State, and exempt from the operation of such laws other portions, sections, or counties; and shall have power to pass general and special laws for the inspection of cattle, stock and hides and for the regulation of brands; provided, that any local law thus passed shall be submitted to the free holders of the section to be affected thereby, and approved by them, before it shall go into effect.

Sec. 24. The Legislature shall make provision for laying out and working public roads, for the building of bridges, and for utilizing fines, forfeitures, and convict labor to all these purposes.

Sec. 25. That all drawbacks and rebatement of insurance, freight, transportation, carriage, wharfage, storage, compressing, baling, repairing, or for any other kind of labor or service of, or to any cotton, grain, or any other produce or article of commerce in this State, paid or allowed or contracted for, to any common carrier, shipper, merchant, commission merchant, factor, agent, or middleman of any kind, not the true and absolute owner thereof, are forever prohibited, and it shall be the duty of the Legislature to pass effective laws punishing all persons in this State who pay, receive or contract for, or respecting the same.

Sec. 26. Every person, corporation, or company, that may commit a homicide, through wilful act, or omission, or gross neglect, shall be responsible, in exemplary damages, to the surviving husband, widow, heirs of his or her body, or such of them as there may be, without regard to any criminal proceeding that may or may not be had in relation to the homicide.

Sec. 27. In all elections to fill vacancies of office in this State, it shall be to fill the unexpired term only.

Sec. 28. No current wages for personal service shall ever be subject to garnishment.

Sec. 29. The Legislature shall provide by law for defining and punishing barrettry.

Sec. 30. The duration of all offices not fixed by this Constitution shall never exceed two years. (Const. 1876.)

Sec. 30. The duration of all offices not fixed by this Constitution shall never exceed two years; provided, that when a Railroad Commission is created by law it shall be composed of three Commissioners who shall be elected by the people at a general election for State officers, and their terms of office shall be six years; provided, Railroad Commissioners first elected after this amendment goes into effect shall hold office as follows: One shall serve two years, and one four years, and one six years; their terms to be decided by lot immediately after they shall have qualified. And one Railroad Commissioner shall be elected every two years thereafter. In case of vacancy in said office the Governor of the State shall fill said vacancy by appointment until the next general election. (Sec. 30, Art. 16, adopted election November 6, 1894; proclamation December 21, 1894.)

Sec. 30a. The Legislature may provide by law that the members of the Board of Regents of the State University and boards of trustees or managers of the educational, eleemosynary, and penal institutions of the State, and such boards as have been, or may hereafter be established by law, may hold their respective offices for the term of six (6) years, one-third of the members of such boards to be elected or appointed every two (2) years in such manner as the Legislature may determine; vacancies in such offices to be filled as may be provided by law,[""] and the Legislature shall enact suitable laws to give effect to this section. (Sec. 30a, Art. 16, adopted election Nov. 5, 1912, proclamation, Dec. 30, 1912.)

Sec. 31. The Legislature may pass laws prescribing the qualifications of practitioners of medicine in this State, and to punish persons for mal-practice, but no preference shall ever be given by law to any schools of medicine.

Sec. 32. The Legislature may provide by law for the establishment of a Board of Health and Vital Statistics, under such rules and regulations as it may deem proper.

Sec. 33. The accounting officers of this State shall neither draw nor pay a warrant upon the treasury in favor of any person, for salary or compensation as agent, officer, or appointee, who holds at the same time any other office or position of honor, trust, or profit, under this State or the United States, except as prescribed in this Constitution.

Sec. 33. The accounting officers of this State shall neither draw nor pay a warrant upon the treasury in favor of any person, for salary or compensation as agent, officer or appointee, who holds at the same time any other office or position of honor, trust or profit, under this State or the United States, except as prescribed in this Constitution. Provided, that this restriction as to the drawing and paying of warrants upon the treasury shall not apply to officers of the National Guard of Texas, the National Guard Reserve, the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, nor to enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States. (Sec. 33, Art. 16, adopted election November 2, 1926; proclamation January 20, 1927.)

Section 3 of the joint resolution proposing this Amendment, and also Amendment to Article 16, § 40 (Acts 1925, 39th Leg., p. 680); read as follows:

"The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday in November, A. D., 1926, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"For the constitutional amendment permitting officers and enlisted men of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, and officers of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the Organized Reserves of the United States, to hold other offices or positions of honor, trust or profit under this State or the United States,' and:

"Against the constitutional amendment permitting officers and enlisted men of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, and officers of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the Organized Reserve of the United States, to hold other offices or positions of honor, trust or profit under this State or the United States.'

"Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballots, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment."

Sec. 34. The Legislature shall pass laws authorizing the Governor to lease, or sell to the Government of the United States, a sufficient quantity of the public domain of the State necessary for the erection of forts, barracks, arsenals, and military stations, or camps, and for other needful military purposes; and the action of the Governor therein shall be subject to the approval of the Legislature.

Sec. 35. The Legislature shall, at its first session pass laws to protect laborers on public buildings, streets, roads, railroads, canals, and other similar public works, against the failure of contractors, and sub-contractors to pay their current wages when due, and to make the corporation, company or individual for whose benefit the work is done responsible for their ultimate payment.

Sec. 36. The Legislature shall, at its first session, provide for the payment, or funding, as they may deem best, of the amounts found to be justly due to the teachers in the public schools, by the State, for service rendered prior to the first day of July 1873 and for the payment by the school districts in the State, of amounts justly due teachers of public schools by such district to January 1876.

Sec. 37. Mechanics, artisans and material men, of every class, shall have a lien upon the buildings and articles made or repaired by them for the value of their labor done thereon, or material furnished therefor; and the Legislature shall provide by law for the speedy and efficient enforcement of said liens.

Sec. 38. The Legislature may, at such time as the public interest may require, provide for the office of Commissioner of Insurance, Statistics and History, whose term of office duties and salary shall be prescribed by law.

Sec. 39. The Legislature may, from time to time, make appropriations for preserving and perpetuating memorials of the history of Texas, by means of monuments, statues, paintings and documents of historical value.

Sec. 40. No person shall hold or exercise, at the same time, more than one civil office of emolument, except that of justice of the peace, county commissioner, notary public, and post master, unless otherwise specially provided herein.

Sec. 40. No person shall hold or exercise, at the same time, more than one civil office of emolument, except that of justice of peace, county commissioner, notary public and postmaster, officer of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the organized Reserves of the United States, unless otherwise specially provided herein. Provided, that nothing in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit an officer, or enlisted man of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, or an officer in the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, or an enlisted man in the Organized Reserves of the United States from holding in conjunction with such office any other office or position of honor, trust or profit, under this State or the United States. (Sec. 40, Art. 16, adopted election November 2, 1926; proclamation January 20, 1927.)

Sec. 41. Any person who shall, directly or indirectly, offer, give, or promise, any money or thing of value, testimonial, privilege or personal advantage, to any executive or judicial officer or member of the Legislature to influence him in the performance of any of his public or official duties, shall be guilty of bribery, and be punished in such manner as shall be provided by law. And any member of the Legislature or executive or judicial officer who shall solicit, demand or receive, or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, for himself, or for another, from any company, corporation or person, any money, appointment, employment, testimonial, reward, thing of value or employment, or of personal advantage or promise thereof, for his vote or official influence, or for withholding the same, or with any understanding, expressed or implied, that his vote or official action shall be in any way influenced thereby, or who shall solicit, demand and receive any such money or other advantage matter or thing aforesaid for another, as the consideration of his vote or official influence, in consideration of the payment or promise of such money, advantage, matter or thing to another, shall be held guilty of bribery, within the meaning of the Constitution, and shall incur the disabilities provided for said offenses, with a forfeiture of the office they may hold, and such other additional punishment as is or shall be provided by law.

Sec. 42. The Legislature may establish an Inebriate Asylum, for the cure of drunkenness and reform of inebriates.

Sec. 43. No man, or set of men, shall ever be exempted, relieved or discharged, from the performance of any public duty or service imposed by general law, by any special law. Exemptions from the performance of such public duty or service shall only be made by general law.

Sec. 44. The Legislature shall prescribe the duties and provide for the election by the qualified voters of each county in this State, of a county treasurer and a county surveyor, who shall have an office at the county seat, and hold their office for two years, and until their successors are qualified; and shall have such compensation as may be provided by law.

Sec. 45. It shall be the duty of the Legislature to provide for collecting, arranging and safely keeping such records, rolls, correspondence, and other documents, civil and military, relating to the history of Texas, as may be now in the possession of parties willing to confide them to the care and preservation of the State.

Sec. 46. The Legislature shall provide by law for organizing and disciplining the militia of the State, in such manner as they shall deem expedient, not incompatible with the Constitution and Laws of the United States.

Sec. 47. Any person who conscientiously scruples to bear arms, shall not be compelled to do so, but shall pay an equivalent for personal service.

Sec. 48. All laws and parts of laws now in force in the State of Texas, which are not repugnant to the Constitution of the United States, or to this Constitution, shall continue and remain in force as the laws of this State, until they expire by their own limitation or shall be amended or repealed by the Legislature.

Sec. 49. The Legislature shall have power, and it shall be its duty, to protect by law from forced sale a certain portion of the personal property of all heads of families, and also of unmarried adults, male and female.

Sec. 50. The homestead of a family shall be, and is hereby protected from forced sale, for the payment of all debts except for the purchase money thereof, or a part of such purchase money, the taxes due thereon, or for work and material used in constructing improvements thereon, and in this last case only when the work and material are contracted for in writing, with the consent of the wife given in the same manner as is required in making a sale and conveyance of the homestead; nor shall the owner, if a married man, sell the homestead without the consent of the wife, given in such manner as may be prescribed by law. No mortgage, trust deed, or other lien on the homestead shall ever be valid, except for the purchase money therefor, or improvements made thereon, as hereinbefore provided, whether such mortgage, or trust deed, or other lien, shall have been created by the husband alone, or together with his wife; and all pretended sales of the homestead involving any condition of defeasance shall be void.

Sec. 51. The homestead, not in a town or city, shall consist of not more than two hundred acres of land, which may be in one or more parcels, with the improvements thereon; the homestead in a city, town or village, shall consist of lot, or lots, not to exceed in value five thousand dollars, at the time of their designation as the homestead, without reference to the value of any improvements thereon; provided, that the same shall be used for the purposes of a home, or as a place to exercise the calling or business of the head of a family; provided also, that any temporary renting of the homestead shall not change the character of the same, when no other homestead has been acquired.

Sec. 52. On the death of the husband or wife, or both, the homestead shall descend and vest in like manner as other real property of the deceased, and shall be governed by the same laws of descent and distribution, but it shall not be partitioned among the heirs of the deceased during the lifetime of the surviving husband or wife, or so long as the survivor may elect to use or occupy the same as a homestead, or so long as the guardian of the minor children of the deceased may be permitted, under the order of the proper court having the jurisdiction, to use and occupy the same.

Sec. 53. That no inconvenience may arise from the adoption of this Constitution, it is declared that all process and writs of all kinds which have been or may be issued and not returned or executed when this Constitution is adopted, shall remain valid, and shall not be, in any way, affected by the adoption of this Constitution.

Sec. 54. It shall be the duty of the Legislature to provide for the custody and maintenance of indigent lunatics, at the expense of the State, under such regulations and restrictions as the Legislature may prescribe.

Sec. 55. The Legislature may provide annual pensions, not to exceed one hundred and fifty dollars per annum, to surviving soldiers or volunteers in the war between Texas and Mexico, from the commencement of the Revolution in 1835, until the first of January, 1837; and also to the surviving signers of the Declaration of Independence of Texas, and to the surviving widows continuing unmarried of such soldiers and signers; provided, that, no such pension be granted except to those in indigent circumstances, proof of which shall be made before the County Court of the County where the applicant resides, in such manner as may be provided by law.

Sec. 56. The Legislature shall have no power to appropriate any of the public money for the establishment and maintenance of a Bureau of Immigration, or for any purpose of bringing immigrants to this State.

Sec. 57. Three millions acres of the public domain are hereby appropriated and set apart for the purpose of erecting a new State Capitol and other necessary public building at the seat of government, said lands to be sold under the direction of the Legislature; and the Legislature shall pass suitable laws to carry this section into effect.

Sec. 58. The Board of Prison Commissioners charged by law with the control and management of the State prisons, shall be composed of three members appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate, and whose terms of office shall be six years, or until their successors are appointed and qualified; provided that the terms of office of the Board of Prison Commissioners first appointed after the adoption of this amendment shall begin on January 20th, of the year following the adoption of this amendment, and shall hold office as follows: One shall serve two years, one four years, and one six years. Their terms to be decided by lot after they shall have qualified, and one Prison Commissioner shall be appointed every two years thereafter. In case of a vacancy in said office the Governor of this State shall fill said vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term thereof. (Sec. 58, Art. 16, adopted election Nov. 5, 1912; proclamation Dec. 30, 1912.)

Sec. 58. The Legislature shall have full power and authority to provide by law for the management and control of the prison system of Texas; and to this end shall have power and authority to place the prison system under the supervision, management and control of such trained and experienced officer, or officers, as the Legislature may from time to time provide for by law. (Sec. 58, Art. 16, adopted election November 2, 1926; proclamation January 20, 1927.)

Section 2 of the resolution proposing this amendment (Acts 1925, 39th Leg., p. 683), provided that it be submitted at a general election to be held November 3, 1926.

Sec. 59a. The conservation and development of all of the natural resources of this State, including the control, storing, preservation and distribution of its storm and flood waters, the waters of its rivers and streams, for irrigation, power and all other useful purposes, the reclamation and irrigation of its arid, semi-arid and other lands needing irrigation, the reclamation and drainage of its over-flowed lands, and other lands needing drainage, the conservation and development of its forests, water and hydro-electric power, the navigation of its inland and coastal waters, and the preservation and conservation of all such natural resources of the State are each and all hereby declared public rights and duties; and the Legislature shall pass all such laws as may be appropriate thereto.

(b) There may be created within the State of Texas, or the State may be divided into, such number of conservation and reclamation districts as may be determined to be essential to the accomplishment of the purposes of this amendment to the constitution, which districts shall be governmental agencies and bodies politic and corporate with such powers of government and with the authority to exercise such rights, privileges and functions concerning the subject matter of this amendment as may be conferred by law.

(c) The Legislature shall authorize all such indebtedness as may be necessary to provide all improvements and the maintenance thereof requisite to the achievement of the purposes of this amendment, and all such indebtedness may be evidenced by bonds of such conservation and reclamation districts, to be issued under such regulations as may [may] be prescribed by law and shall also, authorize the levy and collection within such districts of all such taxes, equitably distributed, as may be necessary for the payment of the interest and the creation of a sinking fund for the payment of such bonds; and also for the maintenance of such districts and improvements, and such indebtedness shall be a lien upon the property assessed for the payment thereof; provided the Legislature shall not authorize the issuance of any bonds or provide for any indebtedness against any reclamation district unless such proposition shall first be submitted to the qualified property tax-paying voters of such district and the proposition adopted. (Sec. 59, Art. 16, adopted election Aug. 21, 1917; proclamation October 2, 1917.)

The resolution proposing this section (Acts 1917, 35th Leg., p. 500), read as above. The express purpose, however, was, "That Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto at the end thereof another section to be known as section 59." It is apparent that the intention was to add section 59 with three lettered subdivisions.

MODE OF AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION OF THIS STATE

Section 1. The Legislature, at any biennial session, by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, to be entered by yeas and nays on the journals, may propose amendments to the Constitution, to be voted upon by the qualified electors for members of the Legislature, which proposed amendments shall be duly published once a week for four weeks, commencing at least three months before an election, the time of which shall be specified by the Legislature, in one weekly newspaper of each county, in which such a newspaper may be published; and it shall be the duty of the several returning officers of said election, to open a poll for, and make returns to the Secretary of State, of the number of legal votes cast at said election for and against said amendments; and if more than one be proposed, then the number of votes cast for and against each of them; and if it shall appear from said return, that a majority of the votes cast, have been cast in favor of any amendment; the said amendment so receiving a majority of the votes cast, shall become a part of this Constitution, and proclamation shall be made by the Governor thereof.

CERTIFICATE OF SECRETARY OF STATE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, DEPARTMENT OF STATE

I, Emma Grigsby Meharg, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, do hereby certify that the attached and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which was submitted to the voters on February 15th, A. D. 1876, and adopted by them. Also, all Amendments to the Constitution that have been adopted since that date.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused to be impressed hereon the Seal of State at my office in the City of Austin, this 8th day of March, A. D. 1926.

(Signed) EMMA GRIGSBY MEHARG,
Secretary of State.

A BILL to be entitled "An Act to Adopt and Establish the 'REVISED CIVIL STATUTES of the State of Texas.'"

WHEREAS, It is expedient that the General Civil Statutes of this State should be arranged in appropriate titles, chapters and articles, and that the whole should, as far as practicable, be made concise, clear and consistent; therefore,

Section 1. BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

That the following titles, chapters, subdivisions and articles shall hereafter constitute THE REVISED CIVIL STATUTES of the State of Texas.

Article 1. [5492] [3258] Common law.—The common law of England, so far as it is not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State, shall together with such Constitution and laws, be the rule of decision, and shall continue in force until altered or repealed by the Legislature.

SPECIAL LAWS

Art. 2. [5494] [3260] Special laws; notice.—Any person intending to apply for the passage of any local or special law shall give notice of such intention by having a statement of the substance of such law published in some newspaper published in the county embracing the locality to be affected by said law, at least once each week for the period of thirty days prior to the introduction into the Legislature of such contemplated laws. [Const. art. 3, sec. 57; Acts 1876, p. 7; G. L. vol. 8, p. 843.]

Art. 3. [5495] [3261] If no newspaper published.—If no newspaper is published in said county, a written copy of such statement shall be posted at the court house door and in five other public places in the immediate locality to be affected thereby in said county, for thirty days, and such notice shall accurately define the locality to be affected by said law. [Id.]

Rev. Civ. St. 1911, art. 5495, required notices to be posted on the court house door.

Art. 4. [5496] [3262] Notice for each county.—Where the locality to be affected by said law shall extend beyond the limits of any one county, such notice shall be given for each county to be affected.

Art. 5. [5497] [3263] Affecting persons.—Whenever any person intends applying for the passage of a special law which shall affect persons chiefly, and not directly affect any particular locality more than others, such persons, if residing in this State, shall make publication of notice of such intention in the county of the residence of such person in the same manner as if the said law was to affect such locality. [Const. art. 3, sec. 2.]

The gist of this article is from Const. art. 3, sec. 57.

Art. 6. [5498] [3264] Where applicant is a non-resident.—If the applicant is a non-resident of this State, said publication need only be made in a newspaper published at the Capital, in like manner as if such person resided at the seat of government. [Id.]

Art. 7. [5499] [3265] Details unnecessary.—Said notice need not contain the particular form and terms of such contemplated law, but a statement only of the general purposes and nature of the same shall be sufficient. [Id.]

Art. 8. [5500] [3266] Proof of publication.—Whenever publication in a newspaper is required by law, proof of the same shall be made by the affidavit of the publisher accompanied with a printed copy of such notice as published.

Art. 9. [5501] [3267] Proof of posting.—The posting above provided for may be shown by the return of the sheriff or constable, or by the affidavit of any credible person made on a written copy of the notice so posted, showing the fact of such posting, and such proof or other competent proof of the giving of said notice shall accompany the introduction of every local or special law. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 42, ch. 29, § 1.]

CONSTRUCTION OF LAWS

Art. 10. [5502] [3268] General rules.—The following rules shall govern in the construction of all civil statutory enactments:

1. The ordinary signification shall be applied to words, except words of art or words connected with a particular trade or subject matter, when they shall have the signification attached to them by experts in such art or trade, with reference to such subject matter.

2. The present or past tense shall include the future.

3. The masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter.

4. The singular and plural number shall each include the other, unless otherwise expressly provided.

5. A joint authority given to any number of persons or officers may be executed by a majority of them, unless it is otherwise declared.

6. In all interpretations, the court shall look diligently for the intention of the Legislature, keeping in view at all times the old law, the evil and the remedy.

7. Whenever one law which shall have repealed another shall itself be repealed, the former law shall not be thereby revived without express words to that effect.

8. The rule of the common law that statutes in derogation thereof shall be strictly construed shall have no application to the Revised Statutes; but the said statutes shall constitute the law of this State respecting the subjects to which they relate; and the provisions thereof shall be liberally construed with a view to effect their objects and to promote justice.

Art. 11. [5503] [3269] Grammatical errors.—Grammatical errors shall not vitiate a law, and a transposition of words and clauses may be resorted to when the sentence or clause is without meaning as it stands. In no case shall the punctuation of a law control or affect the intention of the Legislature in the enactment thereof.

MISCELLANEOUS

Art. 12. [3935–36] Fiscal year.—The fiscal year of the State shall terminate on the thirty-first day of August of each year, and appropriations of the State government shall conform thereto. All officers who are required by law to report annually or biennially to the Legislature or Governor shall close their accounts on that date, and as soon thereafter as practicable shall prepare and compile their respective reports. [Acts 1901, p. 9.]

Art. 13. [3937–38] Reports of officers.—All annual or biennial reports intended for the use of the Legislature or Governor shall be sent by the respective officers to the Secretary of State on or before November first, and he shall promptly cause the same to be printed before the assembling of the Legislature, and upon its organization he shall send to the presiding officer of each house ten copies of each printed report for the members thereof. [Id.]

Art. 14. Quorum.—The majority of any legally constituted board or commission, unless otherwise specially provided, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Art. 15. Disqualifications.—No judge or justice of the peace shall sit in any case wherein he may be interested or where either of the parties may be connected with him by affinity or consanguinity within the third degree, or where he shall have been counsel in the case. [Const. art. 5, sec. 11.]

Art. 16. Oath of office.—Each officer in this State, whether elected or appointed shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the oath prescribed by Article 16, Section 1, of the Constitution of this State; and if he shall be required by law to give an official bond, said oath shall be filed with said bond.

Art. 17. Date to qualify.—After each general election, those who are elected to the various county and precinct offices shall qualify by taking the official oath and entering upon and assuming the duties of their respective offices on the first day of January following the last general election, or as soon thereafter as possible. Those officers holding office at said time shall surrender their offices to their successors accordingly on said date, or as soon after such date as their successors shall have qualified and be ready to assume the duties thereof. [Acts 1921, p. 96.]

Art. 18. Term of office.—Each officer, whether elected or appointed under the laws of this State, and each Commissioner, or member of any board or commission created by the laws of this State, shall hold his office for the term provided by law and until his successor is elected or appointed and qualifies; and each, on retiring from office, shall deliver to his successor all books, papers and documents relating to his office.

Art. 19. Vacancies; ratification by Senate.—All vacancies in State or district offices, except members of the Legislature, shall be filled unless otherwise provided by law, by appointment of the Governor, which appointment, if made during its session, shall be with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate present. If made during the recess of the Senate, the said appointee, or some other person to fill such vacancy, shall be nominated to the Senate during the first ten days of its session. If rejected, said office shall immediately become vacant, and the Governor shall, without delay, make further nominations until a confirmation takes place. But should there be no confirmation during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall not thereafter appoint any person to fill such vacancy, who has been rejected by the Senate; but may appoint some other person to fill the vacancy until the next session of the Senate, or until the regular election to said office, should it sooner occur. Appointments to vacancies in offices elective by the people shall only continue until the first general election thereafter. [Const. art. 4, sec. 12.]

Art. 20. Vacancy filled by election.—All elections to fill vacancies in office shall be to fill the unexpired term only.

Art. 21. Vacancy in board or commission.—Any vacancy in the office of any commissioner, commission or board created by law where the appointment to such office shall be authorized to be made by the Governor shall be filled by the Governor for the unexpired time, unless otherwise provided by law.

Art. 22. Officers of Texas.—When an officer is referred to in any civil or criminal law of this State, it shall mean an officer of this State, unless otherwise expressly provided.

Art. 23. [5504] [3270] Definitions.—The following meaning shall be given to each of the following words, unless a different meaning is apparent from the context:

1. "Property" includes real and personal property.
2. "Person" includes a corporation.
3. "Written" or "in writing" includes any representation of words, letters or figures, whether by writing, printing or otherwise.
4. "Oath" includes affirmation.
5. "Swear" or "sworn" includes affirm.
6. "Signature" or "subscribe" includes the mark of a person unable to write.
7. "Justice" when applied to a magistrate, means justice of the peace.
8. "Preceding Federal census" shall be construed to mean the United States census of date preceding the action in question and each such subsequent census as it occurs.
9. "Governing body," the governing or legislative body of any incorporated town, city or village, whether known as a council, commission, board of commissions, common council, board of aldermen, city council or by whatever name such bodies may be known or designated.
10. "Official oath" means the oath required by Article 16, Section 1, of the Constitution of Texas.
11. "Comptroller" means the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas.
12. "Land Commissioner" means the Commissioner of the General Land Office of Texas.
13. "Preceding" when used by way of reference to title, chapter or article, means the next preceding.
14. "Succeeding" in like manner, means the next succeeding.
15. "Month" means a calendar month.
16. "Year" means a calendar year.
17. "Effects" includes all personal property and all interest therein.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

18. "Affidavit" means a statement in writing of a fact or facts signed by the party making it, and sworn to before some officer authorized to administer oaths, and officially certified to by such officer under his seal of office.

Art. 24. [11] [5] Affidavit by agent.—Whenever it may be necessary or proper for any party to a civil suit or proceeding to make an affidavit, it may be made by either the party or his agent or attorney. [Acts Jan. 11, 1856, p. 13.]

Art. 25. [9] [3] Form of oath.—All oaths and affirmations shall be administered in the mode most binding upon the conscience of the individual taking same and shall be subject to the pains and penalties of perjury. [Const. art. 1, sec. 5.]

Art. 26. [10-13-14] By whom administered.—All oaths, affidavits or affirmations may be administered and a certificate of the fact given:

1. If within this State, by a notary public, judge or clerk of any court of record or justice of the peace.

2. If without this State and within the United States, before any clerk of a court of record having a seal, any notary public or any commissioner of deeds duly appointed under the law of this State residing within some other State or territory.

3. If without the United States, before any notary public, or any minister, commissioner or charge d'affaires of the United States, resident in and accredited to the country where the affidavit may be taken, or any consul general, consul, vice-consul, commercial agent, vice-commercial agent, deputy consul, or consular agent of the United States, resident in such country.

4. Any member of any board or commission created by the laws of this State, in matters pertaining to the duties thereof, may administer oaths or affirmations.

Art. 27. [7092] [7093] Seals and scrolls.—Each commissioner and each commission and each board which is or may be created by the laws of this State shall have authority to adopt a seal with which to attest its official documents, certificates or any official written paper of any kind. No private seal or scroll shall be required in this State on any written instrument except such as are made by corporations.

Art. 28. Legal notices.—Whenever by law notice is required to be given of any act or proceeding, whether public or private, or relating to a judicial, executive or legislative matter, which notice is now authorized by law or by contract to be made by posting notices in one or more public places, such notices shall be given by publication thereof in a newspaper of general circulation which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year, in the county in which said act or proceeding is to occur. Nothing in this article shall be construed to require the publication of any general election notice, public road notice or probate notice when the appraised value of the estate in which same is issued is less than one thousand dollars, nor shall this article apply to sales made under a written contract wherein it is provided that notice of sale thereunder may be posted. All notices published hereunder shall be printed at least once each week for the period of time now required for posting such notices. If no paper should be published in the county where such notice is required to be given, then such notice may be posted as now provided by law. The price to be paid for all publications hereunder shall be not more than one dollar per square of one hundred words for first insertion, and not more than fifty cents per one hundred words for each subsequent insertion, said publication fee to be taxed as other costs in the case. [Acts 1917, p. 391.]

Acts 1927, 40th Leg., ch. 232, p. 346, read as follows: "In all cases where guardians have been appointed by the Probate Courts of the several counties of this State after citation was published as provided in Chapter 179, Acts, Regular Session, 1917, being now Article 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and without service of citation or notice by posting as provided in Article 4115, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, such service of citation and appointment of guardian by any Probate Court in this State are hereby validated, and any such guardianship heretofore granted and closed or now pending are held to be legal guardianships, and the order appointing any guardian made on an application and after notice published as provided in said Chapter 179, Acts, Regular Session, 1917, are hereby declared to be legal guardianships and valid for all purposes."

Art. 29. Official publications.—All proclamations of the Executive Department and all other notices required to be published by the State, or any department or institution thereof, or the Board of Control, and all publications or advertising of any department, institution, board, district, county, or subdivision thereof, which are to be paid for out of State, district, or county funds, or that are required to be published under any law of this State and charged as costs or fees, shall be published in the newspaper selected by the Secretary of State if from the Executive Department, or in the newspaper selected by the department or institution or Board of Control or district or county official issuing such notice or charge, with the publication thereof. The rate charged for such official publication shall not exceed the lowest rate accorded commercial advertisers for a like amount of space. Within ten days after a request therefor by said officer, department or official, any newspaper carrying any such publication shall file with such official a schedule of rates showing the rate then charged by such newspaper for space therein; and said official may at any time require any further or additional information or proof necessary to insure the rigid compliance with the terms of this article. All bills for publication shall be accompanied by a certificate of the publisher, under oath, certifying the number of publications and the dates thereof, together with the clipping of said publication from an issue of said newspaper, and said bill shall be audited by said official. The Board of Control, or any district or county official charged with the publication of any notice required by law to be published, is hereby fully authorized and empowered to cancel any contract made by them, or either of them, in the event said Board or official may ascertain or determine that a higher rate is being charged by said newspaper for similar space for like or advertising purposes. All political advertising shall be done at the same rate as legal notices, and under the same supervision and regulations. Political advertising shall include the announcements for public office. [Acts 1923, p. 97.]

Art. 29a. Political advertisements.—For the purpose of this Act the word "Publication" shall mean any proclamation, publication, notice, citation, advertisement or matter required or authorized by law to be printed in a newspaper or newspapers which the law directs shall be inserted or caused to be inserted in such newspaper or newspapers by any institution, board, commission, department, officer, agent, representative or employee of the State or of any subdivision or department of the State, or of any county, political subdivision, or district, whether to be paid for out of public funds or charged as costs or fees. [Acts 1925, p. 372.] [39th Leg., ch. 161.]

The officer, agency or person charged with the duty of so inserting such publication shall select the newspaper or newspapers, in which same is to be inserted, and the charge for such publication shall not exceed the lowest rate accorded classified advertisers. Before any newspaper of this State shall be authorized to publish legal advertising of any character, such newspaper shall file with such officer, agency or person charged with the duty of so inserting such publication, a schedule or [of] rates then charged by such newspaper for classified advertising and shall make such additional proof of rates charged as may be required by the officer, agency or person inserting such publication. [Id.]

Newspapers shall not charge more for political advertising than is charged classified advertisers for a like class of advertising or matter. [Id.]

It is the purpose of this Act to provide a legal rate of charge for publications aforesaid regardless of the source of the fund out of which it is to be paid or the purpose of such publications, whether herein mentioned or not, and according to all laws, special or general. The fact that there may be a statute on a particular or special subject dealing with the subject matter of this Act shall not prevent this Act applying to the subject matter of any such statute. Without intending to exclude any other publication to which this Act applies, it is specially provided that this Act shall apply to citations or notices of any kind in delinquent tax suits and those under Article 3757 of the Revised Civil Statutes, and the fact that publications may be posted or printed in certain instances shall not prevent this Act applying to such publications if they are printed in a newspaper. Provided that if said newspapers refuse to publish legal notices in accordance with the terms of this act, then said legal notices may be posted. [Id.]

If any portion of this law be held unconstitutional by the courts of this State, such decision shall not affect the validity of the law as a whole nor any other portion thereof, except the portion directly involved. [Id.]

The reference to article 3757 in the fourth paragraph of this article is to Rev. Civ. St. 1911, art. 3757, which is art. 3808 of these statutes.

Art. 30. Revised Statutes cited.—These Revised Civil Statutes shall be known and may be cited as the "Revised Statutes."

ACCOUNTANTS—PUBLIC AND CERTIFIED

Art.

31. Board created.
32. Qualifications.
33. Rules and by-laws.
34. Meetings.
35. Records.
36. Applicant.
37. Reciprocity.
38. Fees.
39. Expenses.
40. Revocation of certificate.
41. Construction of law.

Article 31. Board created.—The State Board of Public Accountancy shall be composed of five members, who shall be public accountants of good moral character, each of whom shall have had at least three years practical experience as a public accountant on his own account, immediately preceding his appointment. [Acts 1915, p. 184.]

Art. 32. Qualifications.—On and after the third Tuesday in January, and regularly biennially thereafter, the Governor shall appoint five members on said board. All appointments or vacancies in said board shall be filled from the roster of certified public accountants created under this law. The revocation of the certificate of any member of this board shall terminate his membership thereon. [Id.]

Art. 33. Rules and by-laws.—At the first meeting after each biennial appointment the board shall elect from among its members a chairman and secretary-treasurer. The board may prescribe rules, regulations and by-laws not inconsistent with this title nor with the laws of this State for its own proceedings and government and for the examination of applicants for certificates as certified public accountants. All rules, regulations and by-laws adopted by the said board shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. [Id.]

Art. 34. Meetings.—The board shall meet within sixty days after its appointment and at least once in each year for the purpose of examining applicants for certificates, and may meet as many times during the year as may be in its discretion advisable. Notice of all meetings shall be given at least thirty days prior to the dates selected for same by publication three consecutive times in three daily newspapers published in the three most populous cities in the State, such notice giving the time and place of meeting and stating the purpose to be for the examination of applicants for certificates as certified public accountants. The board may hold any number of meetings, and at any time, without giving notice by publication of such meetings, if a meeting be called for any other purpose than the examination of applicants for certificates. Any applicant who has successfully passed an examination before said board upon three of the subjects required may have a re-examination upon the unsuccessful subject under the supervision of said board. Examinations by the board shall be on the following subjects: "Theory of Accounts," "Practical Accounting," "Auditing," and "Commercial Law as affecting Accountancy." Each applicant shall be required to make a general average of at least seventy-five per cent on all subjects. To each person passing such examination, if he has otherwise qualified, shall be issued by the board a certificate as a "Certified Public Accountant of the State of Texas." [Id.]

Art. 35. Records.—The board shall preserve a record of its proceedings in a book kept for that purpose, showing the name, age and duration of residence of each applicant, the time spent by the applicant in practice as a public accountant, or in employment in the office of a public accountant, and the year and school, if any, from which degrees were granted or in which the course of study was successfully completed by the applicant as required by law. Said register will show whether applicants were rejected or licensed, and shall be prima facie evidence of all matters contained therein. The secretary of the board shall, on December 31st of each year, transmit an official copy of said register to the Secretary of State for permanent record, certified copy of which, under the hand and seal of the secretary of said board or Secretary of State, shall be admitted in evidence in any court or proceeding. [Id.]

Art. 36. Applicant.—No person shall be permitted to take an examination unless he be twenty-one years of age, of good moral character, a citizen of the United States, and shall have had one year's study and practice in accountancy or accounting work. [Id.]

Art. 37. Reciprocity.—The board may in its discretion waive the examination and issue a certificate to any person who has received and holds a valid and unrevoked certificate as a certified public accountant issued by or under the authority of any State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia, or who holds the equivalent of such certificate by and under the express legal authority of any foreign nation, if such certificate or degree shall, in the opinion of the board, have been issued under a standard fully equivalent to that of the requirements of said board, and issued by such State or Territory as may extend the same privilege to certified public accountants holding certificates from this State; provided, that such applicant shall have qualified as provided in article 36. [Id.]

Art. 38. Fees.—Each applicant for a certificate as certified public accountant shall, at the time of making application, pay to the treasurer of said board a fee of twenty-five dollars, and no application shall be considered by said board until said fee shall have been paid. In case of failure to pass a satisfactory examination, said applicant may have the privilege of appearing at any subsequent examination conducted by said board for re-examination, upon the payment of an additional fee of ten dollars. The holder of each certificate issued hereunder shall pay an annual fee of one dollar into the treasury of the State Board of Public Accountancy. The failure on the part of the holder of any certificate issued under this law to pay this fee shall automatically cancel the privilege of using the title "Certified Public Accountant," but reinstatement may be had at any time within two years and two months, by the payment of the fee and application in such form as the board may provide and the payment of a penalty of $2.50 for each year lapsed. [Id.]

Art. 39. Expenses.—Each member of said board shall receive from the secretary-treasurer of the board, out of the funds in the hands of the board, if there be sufficient thereof, all of his necessary railroad and hotel expenses for attending the meetings of said board; but otherwise shall serve without compensation. The secretary-treasurer shall be required to keep an account of all money received and disbursed, and shall render an annual statement to the Governor showing receipts and disbursements and the balance on hand. The balance shall remain in the treasury of the board, and all expenses in connection with the maintenance of the board shall be paid from same. No provisions of this law shall be a charge upon the common funds of this State. [Id.]

Art. 40. Revocation of certificate.—The State Board of Public Accountancy shall revoke and recall any certificate issued under this Act if the holder thereof:

(1) Shall be convicted of a felony; (2) shall be declared by any court to have committed any fraud; or (3) shall be declared by any court or commission to be insane or otherwise incompetent; or (4) shall be held by this board to be guilty of any act or default discreditable to the profession. Written notice of the cause of such contemplated action and the date of the hearing thereof by this board shall be served upon the holder of such certificate at least fifteen days prior to such hearing, or shall be mailed to the last known address of such holder of such certificate at least twenty days prior to such hearing. At such hearing the Attorney General, or any one of his assistants, or any district attorney designated by him, may sit with the board as legal counsellor. [Id.]

Art. 41. Construction of law.—Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent any person from being employed as an accountant in this State in either public or private practice. The purpose of this law is to provide for the examination and the issuance of a certificate or degree, granting the privilege of the use of the title "Certified Public Accountant," and the use of the initials "C. P. A.," as indicative of the holder's fitness to serve the public as a competent and properly qualified accountant in public practice, and to prevent those who have no such certificate or degree from using such title or initials. [Id.]

ADOPTION

Art.

42. Mode of adoption.
43. Rights of adopted heir.
44. Authority transferred.
45. Authority of court.
46. Adoptions prohibited.

Article 42. [1] Mode of adoption.—Any person wishing to adopt another as his legal heir shall file in the office of the county clerk of the county in which he resides a written statement signed by him and duly authenticated or acknowledged as deeds are required to be, reciting in substance that he adopts the person named therein as his legal heir, and the same shall be admitted to record in said office. [Acts 1850, p. 36; G. L. vol. 3, p. 474.]

Art. 43. [2-5] Rights of adopted heir.—When such statement is so recorded it shall entitle any child so adopted to all the rights and privileges, both in law and equity, of a legal heir of the adoptive parent, as a child has by law against lawful parents. If the adoptive parent has at the time of such adoption or shall thereafter have, a child begotten in lawful wedlock, such adopted heir shall in no case inherit more than one-fourth of the estate of the adoptive parent. [Id.; Acts 1907, p. 103.]

Art. 44. [3-4-6] Authority transferred.—The parent or parents of a child who is to be so adopted may, by an instrument in writing duly signed and authenticated or acknowledged as deeds are required to be, transfer their parental authority and custody over such child to the adoptive parent. Where the lawful parent or parents have voluntarily abandoned such child and left it to the care of others for a period of at least three years, or voluntarily left it to be cared for by charity for a period of at least three years, and such child shall be so adopted, such parent or parents shall be held to have transferred their parental authority and custody over said child to the adoptive parent; and in all such cases such lawful parents shall thereafter be barred from exercising any authority, control or custody over the person or estate of such child as against the adoptive parent. No adoptive parent shall transfer his authority and custody to any other person. [Acts 1907, p. 103; Acts 3rd C. S. 1920, p. 115.]

Art. 45. [7] Authority of court.—Nothing in this title shall prevent a court of competent jurisdiction from taking away from such adoptive parent the custody of the adopted child and awarding the same to its natural parents, or either of them or to any other person, upon proof of the bad moral character of such adoptive parent, or upon proof of abuse, neglect or ill treatment of such adopted child by the adoptive parent. [Id.]

Art. 46. [8] Adoptions prohibited.—No white child can be adopted by a negro person, nor can a negro child be adopted by a white person. [Id.]

CHAPTER ONE

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE

Art.

47. Election and qualification.
48. Bond.
49. Clerks.
50. Chief clerk.
51. Duties.
52. Ex-officio duty.
53. Shall make report.
54. Report printed and distributed.
55. Commissioner shall co-operate.

Article 47. [4435-4436-4438] Election and qualification.—A Commissioner of Agriculture shall be elected at each general election for a term of two years. He shall be an experienced and practical farmer, and shall have knowledge of agriculture, manufacture and general industry. His office shall be in Austin. [Acts 1907, p. 127.]

Art. 48. [4437] Bond.—He shall first execute a good bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, payable to the State of Texas, to be approved by the Governor and conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office. [Id.]

Art. 49. [4439] Clerks.—Said commissioner shall appoint one chief clerk, who shall possess a practical knowledge of agriculture, horticulture, manufacturing and kindred industries, and the proper methods of marketing the products of said industries. He may appoint such other clerks as the labors of his office may require. All clerks shall be removable at the pleasure of the commissioner. [Id.]

Art. 50. [4440-1] Chief clerk.—The chief clerk shall possess all the powers and perform such duties as may be prescribed by the commissioner, and all duties attached by law to the office of commissioner during the necessary or unavoidable absence of the commissioner, or his inability to act for any cause. The commissioner shall be responsible for the acts of his chief clerk, who shall, before entering upon the duties of his position, take the oath required of the commissioner, and enter into bond in the sum of three thousand dollars with two or more sureties to be approved by the Governor, and payable to the State of Texas, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. His expenses while traveling on the business of the office, under the direction of the commissioner, shall be paid by the State. [Id.]

Art. 51. [4443-4448-4449] Duties.—The duties of the commissioner shall be as follows:

1. He shall cause to be executed all laws in relation to agriculture.

2. He shall encourage the proper development of agriculture, horticulture and kindred industries.

3. He shall encourage the organization of agricultural societies; and, for the benefit of the agricultural communities, he shall cause to be held farmers' institutes at such times and at such places throughout the State as will best promote the advancement of agricultural knowledge and the improvement of agricultural methods and practices. He shall publish and distribute such papers and addresses read or delivered at these institutes as he shall deem to be of value to the farming interest.

4. He shall investigate the subject of sub-soiling, the problems of drainage and of irrigation, their relation to agriculture, with a view to extending the area of the same, and the best modes of affecting [effecting] each in the different portions of the State.

5. He shall investigate and report upon the question of broadening the market and of increasing the demand for cotton goods and all other agricultural and horticultural products, both in the United States, and in foreign countries. He shall compile the statistics showing from abroad the number of bales of cotton consumed by the spinners, and demands for our cotton, the methods and course that sales to foreign countries now take, showing the purchasers, brokers, etc., through whose hands the cotton largely passes after leaving the producers, likewise showing in what countries an increased trade could be worked up, and thereby giving a better outlet for the trade and the best method to bring consumer and purchaser together, and all other information beneficial to farmers.

6. He shall cause to be investigated the diseases of grain, cotton, fruit, and other crops grown in this State, with a view to discovering remedies for such diseases. He shall also investigate the habits and propagation of the various insects that are injurious to the crops of this State, and the best methods for their destruction. The protection of fruit trees, shrubs and plants shall be under his direct supervision and control, and he shall have and exercise all the powers and perform all the duties in relation thereto, conferred or imposed by law.

7. He shall investigate the subject of grasses and report upon their value and the cultivation of the varieties best adapted to the different sections of the State. He shall collect and publish information relating to forestry, tree planting, the best means of preserving and replenishing forests, and shall encourage the planting and culture of nut trees and recommend such legislation as may be necessary for the protection, restoration and preservation of the forests of this State.

8. He shall inquire into the subjects connected with stock raising, dairying and poultry; the obtaining and rearing of such domestic animals and fowls as are of most value, and the breeding and improvement of the same. He shall encourage the raising of fish and the culture of bees.

9. He shall investigate and report upon the growing of wool, and the utility and profit of sheep raising; he shall also inquire into the culture of silk, its preparation for market and its manufacture.

10. He shall correspond with the department of agriculture at Washington, and with such departments of the several states and territories of the United States, and, at his option, with those of foreign countries, and with the representatives of the United States in foreign countries, with the view of gathering information that will advance the interests of agriculture in Texas. He may also, for the same purpose, correspond with such organizations, societies, associations and individuals in the State as he may choose, having for their object the promotion of agriculture in any of its branches.

11. He shall collect and publish statistics and such other information regarding such industries of this State and of other states as may be considered of benefit in developing the agricultural resources of this State. He shall cause a proper collection of agricultural statistics to be made annually; and shall furnish blank forms to the tax assessors of each county before the first of January of each year, including forms as to the acreage in cotton, grain and other leading products of the State to be filled out by persons assessed for taxes, together with such instructions as will properly direct said assessor in filling them out. The heads of the several State departments, and of the State institutions, are required to furnish accurately such information as may be at their command whenever called upon for same by said commissioner. In the prosecution of his work, the commissioner is hereby empowered to enter manufacturing establishments chartered or authorized to do business in this State, and said corporations shall furnish such information as said commissioner may request of them.

12. He shall collect and publish statistics and other information regarding the irrigation of rice and other crops as may be of benefit in developing a more efficient system of laws safe-guarding and defining the rights of users and sellers of water for irrigation purposes; he may employ a competent engineer and expert, possessing a practical knowledge of the application of irrigation to the raising of rice and other crops, for the purpose of assisting him in performing the duties required of him in this article, and he shall make up and file an annual report on same with such recommendations as he may deem beneficial to the industry, which report shall be filed with the Governor and transmitted to the Legislature.

13. He shall make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this chapter. [Id. sec. 11, Acts 1909, p. 353.]

Art. 52. [4444] Ex-officio duty.—The Commissioner shall be ex-officio a member of the board of directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of the State and shall be allowed all necessary expense in attending the meetings of said board. [Id. sec. 12.]

Art. 53. [4445] Shall make report.—The commissioner shall make and submit to the Governor, on or before the first day of November of each year, a full report showing the work and expenditures of his office during the fiscal year preceding, which report shall be transmitted by the Governor to the Legislature. [Id. sec. 13.]

Art. 54. [4446] Report printed and distributed.—Under the direction of the Commissioner, the Board of Control shall cause to be printed annually not to exceed ten thousand copies of the annual report of said commissioner, said report to be distributed to the farmers through the farmers' institutes and other agricultural organizations or otherwise, at the discretion of the commissioner. [Id. sec. 14.]

Art. 55. [4447] Commissioner shall co-operate.—No provision of this chapter shall be construed to in any way conflict with the scope and character of the work of the Agricultural and Mechanical College or of the agricultural experiment stations, but the said commissioner shall co-operate with the said college and said experiment stations in all lines looking toward the agricultural and horticultural interests of the State. [Id. sec. 15.]

CHAPTER TWO

PLANT BREEDER EXAMINERS

Art.

56. State Register.

57. Appointment.

58. Fees.

59. May register as breeder.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

- Art.
60. Certificate as breeder.
 61. May register as grower.
 62. Certificate as grower.
 63. Form of application.
 64. Tags and labels.
 65. Inspection fee.
 66. Fund.
 67. Cancelling registration.

Article 56. State Register.—The Commissioner of Agriculture is directed to establish a State Register of Cotton Seed Breeders and Cotton Seed Growers who produce and offer for sale cotton seed for planting purposes and who voluntarily apply for registration under the provisions of this chapter and conform to the rules and regulations established for the administration and enforcement thereof by said Commissioner. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1923, p. 127.]

Art. 57. Appointment.—The Commissioner of Agriculture of this State and the president of the A. & M. College of this State, shall appoint a State Board of Plant Breeder Examiners composed of three men who shall be experienced in the science of plant breeding. The State Board of Plant Breeder Examiners shall meet in the City of Austin on the second Tuesday in December of each year and shall hold such other meetings as may be necessary. All applicants for license as Cotton Breeder and all applicants for license as Certified Cotton Seed Grower shall appear in person before said Board and shall furnish such information as the Board may require. The Board shall prescribe the qualifications of inspectors that may be employed under this law. [Id.]

Art. 58. Fees.—All applicants for license as Registered Cotton Seed Breeder and Certified Cotton Seed Grower shall pay to the said Board a fee of ten dollars as a prerequisite to such application for such license. Such fees as may be collected shall be used by the said Board in defraying expenses incident to conducting such examinations. [Id.]

Art. 59. May register as breeder.—Any cotton breeder in the State, or any person, firm or corporation engaged in breeding cotton, who produces and offers for sale cotton seed for planting purposes, and who has in his or its employ experienced and competent cotton breeder or breeders shall be eligible to registration as a Registered Cotton Seed Breeder, when he or it has satisfied the State Board of Plant Breeder Examiners herein provided for:

1. That he or it is a person, firm or corporation of good character and reputation for honesty, competency and fair dealing;

2. That he is skilled in the science of cotton breeding or has in his or its employment one or more persons who are skilled in the science of cotton breeding;

3. That he, or persons in his or its employment has originated or made distinctive improvements in the character of a useful strain of cotton;

4. That he or it owns or controls land and other facilities necessary in the breeding and production of seed of high purity and excellence; and has complied with the rules and regulations established by said State Board of Plant Breeder Examiners in pursuance of law. [Id.]

Art. 60. Certificate as breeder.—When the application of breeder of cotton seed made under the provisions of this law has been approved by said Board, said applicant shall be registered as a "Registered Cotton Seed Breeder" and shall be issued a certificate to that effect and shall be entitled to use the title "Registered Cotton Seed Breeder" and to advertise and sell cotton seed produced in conformity with the provisions of this law and the rules and regulations established in pursuance thereof as "Registered Cotton Seed," which certificate shall expire one year from the date of issue unless otherwise revoked as herein provided. [Id.]

Art. 61. May register as grower.—Any person, firm or corporation engaged in producing cotton seed to be offered for planting purposes shall be eligible for registration as a "Certified Cotton Seed Grower," when he or it has satisfied the State Board of Plant Breeder Examiners:

1. That he or it is a person, firm or corporation of good character and reputation for honesty, competency and fair dealing.

2. That he or it will plant only seed obtained from a registered cotton seed breeder, and will offer for sale only the first or second year progeny of such registered cotton seed.

3. That he or it owns or controls land and other facilities necessary in the production of seed of high purity and excellence; and has complied with the rules and regulations established by said Board in pursuance of this law. [Id.]

Art. 62. Certificate as grower.—When the application of a cotton seed grower made under the provisions of this law has been approved by the said Board, said applicant shall be registered as a "Certified Cotton Seed Grower" and shall be issued a certificate to that effect and shall be entitled to use the title "Certified Cotton Seed Grower," and to advertise and sell cotton seed produced in conformity with the provisions of this law and the rules and regulations established in pursuance thereof as "Certified Cotton Seed." Said certificate shall expire one year from date of issuance unless otherwise revoked as herein provided for. [Id.]

Art. 63. Form of application.—The Board shall prepare suitable form of application for registration for cotton seed breeders and cotton seed growers, and shall establish rules and regulations, tests and standards to carry into effect the purposes of this law, which are to provide supplies of high grade cotton seed for planting purposes, and to enable the farmers to secure pure bred cotton seed for planting true to name. Said forms shall be in conformity with the provisions of this law and all tags furnished the registered seed breeders and certified seed growers, shall contain the words, "Registered Cotton Seed Breeder," or the words "Certified Cotton Seed Grower," and such other conditions as may be prescribed by the State Board of Plant Breeders. The Commissioner of Agriculture shall employ a sufficient number of competent inspectors to inspect fields of cotton, and the facilities for ginning, storing and handling cotton seed owned or controlled by persons registered under this law and used in the production of cotton seed to be offered for sale for planting purposes. Said inspectors shall make reports upon forms provided by said commissioner. [Id.]

Art. 64. Tags and labels.—If the reports of said inspectors show that the cotton grown by a licensee hereunder and the facilities for ginning, storing, and handling same conform to the rules and regulations and standards established by the board, there shall be issued to him or it a certificate evidencing his or its right to offer for sale the cotton seed so produced as "Registered Cotton Seed" or "Certified Cotton Seed." Then the said Commissioner of Agriculture shall also issue to said cotton seed breeders and cotton seed growers tags or labels to attach to packages or containers containing said cotton seed certifying that same has been produced under the terms of this law, and an amount sufficient to cover all cost of printing tags and inspection shall be collected by said Commissioner.

Art. 65. Inspection fee.—Before any cotton seed breeder or cotton seed grower is registered under this law he or it shall agree in writing to pay to the said Commissioner of Agriculture an inspection fee to be fixed by said commissioner to pay the expense of inspecting his fields, gin and other facilities used in producing cotton seed, and for printing tags. Said fee shall not exceed 25 cents per acre for each acre of cotton, and $1.00 for each gin and warehouse. [Id.]

Art. 66. Fund.—All money so collected shall be long to a special fund of this State and shall be paid over by the Commissioner of Agriculture to the State Treasurer, during the first week of each month, and shall be credited to the "Special Pure Bred Cotton Seed Inspection Fund," and such funds shall be expended in the enforcement of this law, by the Commissioner of Agriculture, and in the purchase and supply of means to enable the commissioner and his agents to enforce the provisions of this law. All such expenditures shall be verified by the affidavit of the Chief of the Division of Plant Pathology and Seeds to the Commissioner of Agriculture, and on the approval of such expenditures by the commissioner, the Comptroller shall draw his warrant on the Treasurer for the amount of such expenditures in favor of the person claiming the same, to be paid out of the "Special Pure Bred Cotton Seed Inspection Fund." [Id.]

Art. 67. Cancelling registration.—If the report of an inspector shall show that the character, quality and varietal purity of any field of cotton grown by any licensee hereunder does not conform to the rules, regulations, tests, and standards promulgated under authority of this law, or that the gin, warehouse, or other facilities do not conform to such rules, regulations, tests or standards, or if charges be made that any of the licensees hereunder have been guilty of any dishonest, unfair or improper conduct or practice in the conduct of his or its business of breeding or growing and selling cotton seed, the said Commissioner of Agriculture shall give written notice thereof to said breeder or grower and fix a time for hearing evidence relating to said report or charges of which the accused party shall have at least ten days' notice. If in the judgment of said Commissioner of Agriculture such adverse report or charges are sustained he shall cancel the registration and certificate of accused party and retake all tags or labels and license or certificate issued to him or it. If any registered cotton seed breeder or certified cotton seed grower is not satisfied with such verdict of the Commissioner of Agriculture, such person or persons shall have the right to appeal the case to the State Board of Plant Breeder Examiners, and shall be entitled to a hearing. Article 68. Declared a nuisance.—The Pectinophora gossypiella, Saunders, known as the pink bollworm, is hereby declared a public nuisance and a menace to the cotton industry, and its eradication is a public necessity. [Acts 3rd C. S. 1917, p. 62, Acts 1919, p. 72, Acts 3rd C. S. 1920, p. 71, Acts 1st C. S. 1921, p. 121.]

Art. 69. Definitions.—The term "pink bollworm" shall mean the insect in its various stages of development, including the egg, larval, pupal, and adult stages. The term "cotton" or "cotton products" shall mean cotton in the seed, ginned lint cotton, seed, hulls, cotton in the bolls, cotton stalks, and any and all character of cotton products except oil and meal. [Id.]

Art. 70. Policy and methods.—It is hereby declared the policy of the State in endeavoring to control and eradicate the pink bollworm to employ all such methods as scientific research demonstrates to be successful and as may be sanctioned by constitutional warrant, including inspection of cotton plants in the fields, or of cotton products wherever stored; the quarantine and fumigation of cotton and cotton products found to be contaminated; supervision of the growing of cotton in areas known to be contaminated; destruction of infested fields of cotton, or cotton products; and the prevention of planting of cotton in areas where infestation has been found. [Id.]

Art. 71. Investigation and recommendation.—If the Commissioner of Agriculture determines, through his co-operation with the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, that the pink bollworm exists outside of Texas but adjacent to the Texas border, he shall certify that fact to the Governor, who shall thereupon cause the convening of the Pink Bollworm Commission appointed as hereinafter provided for, which commission shall give notice of, and hold a hearing in the manner hereinafter provided at some central and easily accessible point in the county or counties in this State along the boundary adjacent to such infestation, and investigate into the danger to the cotton industry of Texas from such infestation adjacent to the Texas border and make such recommendation to the Governor as they deem sufficient to the protection of the cotton industry of the State. Should this report express the conclusion that it is dangerous to the cotton industry of Texas that cotton be grown in this State along the boundary adjacent to such infestation, the Governor shall thereupon proclaim such area as may be set out in said report a non-cotton zone, in which it shall be unlawful to plant, cultivate or grow any cotton for such period as the proclamation may specify; and if such report indicates that it will be safe to grow cotton under rules and regulations within such zone adjacent to the infestation outside of Texas, the Governor shall thereupon issue his proclamation declaring it unlawful to grow cotton within such area as may be recommended by the Pink Bollworm Commission, except under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner of Agriculture shall promulgate. Should the report of such commission indicate that it may be dangerous to the cotton industry of this State to allow the free movement of contaminated material from such infested territory into this State, the Governor shall thereupon proclaim a quarantine against such infested territory, and thereafter it shall be unlawful to import into Texas from such quarantined territory anything or substance liable to be contaminated with pink bollworm, and it shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Agriculture to maintain a rigid inspection of articles liable to be contaminated which are being carried from such quarantined territory into the State of Texas. Before recommending the establishment or continuance in any county in this State bounded by an international boundary line, or a non-cotton zone, under this or any other article of this chapter, the Pink Bollworm Commission shall give careful consideration to the conditions existing, or likely to exist, on the non-Texas side of said boundary line, and the evidence concerning such conditions shall be such as to reasonably show that the establishment of a non-cotton zone in said county will effectively protect the cotton industry of Texas against the further spread of the infestation. [Id.]

Art. 72. Emergency quarantine.—If the pink bollworm shall be found in any gin, cotton seed oil mill, cotton seed warehouse, compress, or transportation vehicle in the State, or in any field of cotton, the Commissioner of Agriculture shall immediately certify that fact to the Governor, who shall proclaim a special emergency quarantine surrounding the known location of the pest to such extent as may be determined sufficient to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm, and it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to ship any cotton or cotton products of any kind from such quarantine district, or transport any car, vehicle, or freight, or any other article liable to carry the pink bollworm from the quarantined area through, or to any other point in the State, except under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner of Agriculture shall promulgate; such emergency quarantine shall continue in full force and effect until such time as a hearing, as provided for in this chapter, can be held by the said Pink Bollworm Commission.

Art. 73. Destruction of cotton.—When it is deemed necessary to the protection of the cotton industry of Texas that the Commissioner of Agriculture shall destroy cotton, cotton products, or fields or [of] cotton in which the pink bollworm shall have been found or which are probably contaminated by being near infestation of the pink bollworm; he shall report such condition to the Governor, setting out in detail the area or amount of cotton or cotton products to be destroyed. The Governor shall thereupon declare such cotton or fields of cotton a public menace. Before the destruction of such cotton or cotton products the Compensation Claim Board, hereinafter provided for, shall go upon the premises and report to the Commissioner of Agriculture the value of the fields of cotton or cotton products to be destroyed. The Commissioner of Agriculture shall then be empowered to use all authority requisite to the complete destruction of such cotton, cotton products or fields of cotton to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm from such localities. The Commissioner of Agriculture shall certify to the fact of such cotton products or fields of cotton having been destroyed and shall file such report and certificate with the State Comptroller, who shall issue his warrant upon the State Treasurer for such sum as may be declared just and due. [Id.]

Art. 74. Examination of area.—Whenever the Commissioner of Agriculture shall deem it necessary to the protection of the cotton industry of Texas that the growing cotton within any area within the State, except as provided for in the preceding articles hereof, be placed under supervision, or that cotton growing be prohibited as a means of aiding in the control and eradication of the pink bollworm, he shall cause to be made a thorough examination of such area by a competent and experienced entomologist, who shall, after going upon the premises and after making an examination in person, report the result thereof to the Commissioner of Agriculture. Should this report express the conclusion that the pink bollworm exists within the territory under investigation, the Commissioner of Agriculture shall certify this report to the Governor, who shall cause the Pink Bollworm Commission, hereinafter provided for, to hold a hearing at some central and easily accessible point within the area under investigation; due notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be published in some newspaper in or near the county or counties under investigation, at least ten days before such hearing. The Commissioner of Agriculture shall present to the Commission a statement setting forth the following facts:

1. The name of the entomologist making the examination on behalf of the State Department of Agriculture.
2. The date when such examination was made.
3. The locality where the pink bollworm is alleged to exist.
4. Any other information deemed necessary by the Commission for the discharge of its duties under the provisions of this chapter.

Such statement shall be verified by oath of the person making the same and shall be filed and preserved in the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture and be open to the inspection of the public. Said Pink Bollworm Commission shall make a report to the Governor immediately after the hearing. Should this report and recommendation be for the prevention of the planting of cotton in any area and for the establishment of a non-cotton zone, such recommendation shall specify the area to be embraced in the proposed non-cotton zone. Upon receipt of this report, the Governor shall declare the growing of cotton within such area as may be recommended by the Pink Bollworm Commission a public menace, and thereafter it shall be unlawful to plant, cultivate or grow cotton, or to allow cotton to grow within such zone, such proclamation of the Governor to remain in effect until the Pink Bollworm Commission, herein provided for, shall have certified that the condition of menace no longer exists. In the event of the establishment of any non-cotton zone as authorized by this chapter, all persons prevented from producing cotton in the non-cotton zones shall be entitled to receive compensation from the State in the measure of the actual and necessary losses sustained thereby. The Compensation Claim Board, herein provided for, shall have full power and authority to determine the amount of compensation to such persons. In determining the actual and necessary losses, the Compensation Claim Board shall take into consideration the value of the average yield of cotton and other crops second in economic importance thereto in that vicinity; the total amount of land planted to crops during the year for which compensation is claimed; the percentage of such land customarily planted in cotton in that vicinity, and such other factors as they deem essential. The words "cultivated crops" as used above shall not be construed to include any small grain crops, hay or pasture crops which are not cultivated during the growing season. No person shall be entitled to compensation who does not in good faith obey the proclamation of the Governor establishing such non-cotton zone. Should the report of the Pink Bollworm Commission express the conclusion that it will not be dangerous to the cotton industry of Texas to permit the growing of cotton within such district under such rules and regulations as it shall be deemed adequate to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm, the Governor shall proclaim such area as may be set out in the report of the Pink Bollworm Commission a regulated zone, in which it shall be unlawful to plant, cultivate and market cotton under such rules and regulations as shall be promulgated therefor by the Commissioner of Agriculture, which may include the planting of seed from non-infested territory, ginning at designated gins, milling or disinfecting of all seed produced within such zone, marketing, cleaning of fields, and such other rules as may be found necessary; provided that no ginner shall be authorized to gin cotton from regulated zones unless he shall disinfect all seed under such rules as the Commissioner of Agriculture shall prescribe. Such proclamation of the Governor, establishing such regulated zone shall remain in effect until the Pink Bollworm Commission shall have certified that the menace no longer exists. [Id.]

Art. 75. Compensation Claim Board.—The Governor shall appoint a Compensation Claim Board for the State, who shall serve until relieved therefrom by the Governor, whose duty it shall be to determine in the manner herein provided the measure of compensation due persons prevented from growing cotton and the damages sustained by persons having cotton condemned and destroyed as provided for herein. The said board shall be composed of three citizens of the State residing outside any area under quarantine under the provisions of this law, at least two of whom are actually engaged in the production of cotton. Before entering upon their duties, the members of the Board shall take the official oath, and shall organize by electing one of its members chairman and the Commissioner of Agriculture shall act as ex-officio secretary. The concurrence of two members of the Board shall constitute legal action. The Compensation Claim Board shall conduct a public hearing in the county or counties from which the claims for compensation have been filed, due notice of which hearing shall be given by publication in some newspaper published in or near the county or counties in which the claimant resides, not less than ten days before the date of such hearing, and by mailing from the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture a letter to each claimant, not less than ten days before the date of such hearing, which notices shall state the time and place of each hearing. Every such claim for compensation from the State shall be made under oath, attested by two citizens of the county in which the claimant resides, upon blanks to be furnished by the Commissioner of Agriculture, and except when the claim is for compensation for losses under previous acts, shall be filed in the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture not later than November 15 of the year for which claim for compensation is made. Every such claim shall state:

1. The name and post office of the claimant.
2. The location of the farm upon which the claim is based.
3. The total acreage of all cultivated crops produced in the year in which such claim is presented.
4. All other information deemed essential by the said Compensation Claim Board for the performance of the duties devolved upon them by this law.

Each allotment of compensation shall be evidenced by a written order, entered in a permanently bound book kept by the Board in the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture, and a certified copy of each allotment shall be given the claimant. If any claimant is dissatisfied with the action of the Claim Board on his claim, he shall have the right within six months after the decision of the Claim Board to make application to the District Court of the county of which he is a resident or in which his cotton was destroyed or in which he was prevented from growing cotton and have the action of the Claim Board reviewed by such District Court. If the State, acting through the Commissioner of Agriculture, is dissatisfied with any such decision of the Claim Board, it shall likewise have the right to resort to said court for such review. [Id.]

Art. 76. Pink Bollworm Commission.—The Governor shall appoint a Pink Bollworm Commission for the State composed of five men who shall serve until relieved therefrom by the Governor. One shall be appointed upon the recommendation of the Commissioner of Agriculture; one upon the recommendation of the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States; one upon the recommendation of the District Judge of the county or counties under consideration; and two upon his own discretion. The latter two shall be actual cotton growers. Should any of the officials herein authorized to make recommendations for appointment fail or refuse so to do, or should any person so nominated refuse to serve or become incapacitated for service, the Governor shall make such appointment upon his own discretion. Said Bollworm Commission shall take the official oath. They shall organize by electing one of their number chairman and the Commissioner of Agriculture shall be ex-officio secretary. [Id.]

Art. 77. Salary and expenses.—The members of the said Board and of said Commission shall each receive a salary of five dollars per day and actual traveling expenses when engaged in the performance of their duties. [Id.]

Art. 78. Powers.—The Commissioner of Agriculture and his authorized agents shall have the power to enter into any field of cotton or upon any premises in which cotton or its products may be stored or held, and may examine any products or container of cotton or thing or substance liable to be infested with the pink bollworm, and shall have power to enter upon any premises for the purpose of issuing permits and to examine all books and records of purchasers or handlers or common carriers of cotton products. [Id.]

Art. 79. Inspectors.—The Commissioner of Agriculture shall make adequate investigation to determine the presence of the pink bollworm in the State and shall take prompt action to secure the establishment and maintenance of an effective quarantine of all infested areas that may be discovered within the State, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. The Commissioner of Agriculture may employ inspectors, and such other help as he may deem necessary, and may prescribe the duties of such inspectors and other help. No person shall be appointed as an inspector who has not had at least two years actual experience as an entomologist, or two years training as an entomologist in the Science Department of some reputable college or university. Such inspectors shall be paid not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars per month and their necessary expenses. [Id.]

Art. 80. Federal co-operation.—The Commissioner of Agriculture shall co-operate with the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States in any measure authorized and to be undertaken by authority of the Federal Government in preventing the introduction or establishment of the pink bollworm in the State of Texas. If the Congress of the United States should appropriate any moneys with which to assist this State in the payment of compensation to farmers for being deprived of the right to plant cotton, and should such appropriation by Congress provide for this money to be disbursed by the State of Texas, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to receive such moneys from the United States Government, and the Commissioner of Agriculture is hereby authorized to disburse same in accordance with the laws of this State and the United States. [Id.]

Art. 81. Payment of claims.—All claims for damages and claims for compensation arising from the enforcement of the provisions of this law shall be paid on certified statement by the Chairman of the Compensation Claim Board, or upon certified copy of the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction, by warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the State Treasurer, and all salaries and other expenses incurred in the administration of this law shall be paid in the usual way upon a certified statement of the Commissioner of Agriculture. [Id.]

Art. 82. Former zones.—All regulated zones and non-cotton zones in effect for 1921 are hereby renewed and carried forward and shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter and all procedure heretofore taken to establish such zones is hereby validated. [Id.]

AGRICULTURAL SEEDS

- Art.
83. "Agricultural seeds" defined.
 84. Label.
 85. Mixture of.
 86. Exceptions.
 87. Analysis.
 88. Fees for test.
 89. Samples.
 90. Liability for damages.
 91. Publishing report.
 92. Appropriation and expense.
 93. Definitions.

Article 83. "Agricultural seeds" defined.—For the purpose of this chapter, agricultural seeds are defined as the seeds of alfalfa, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, clovers, corn, cotton, saccharine sorghums, non-saccharine sorghums, broomcorn, small grains, (including rice), cow peas, soy beans, velvet beans, peanuts, vetch, rape, millet, Johnson grass, Bermuda grass, Kentucky blue grass, orchard grass, sudan grass, onion and Rhodes grass, which are to be used for sowing or seeding purposes. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1919, p. 158.]

Art. 84. Label.—Agricultural seeds, except as herein otherwise provided, which are offered or exposed for sale within this State for seeding purposes, in lots of ten pounds or more, shall bear a plainly written or printed statement in the English language stating:

- (a) Commonly accepted name of agricultural seed.
- (b) Correct weight in pounds and ounces.
- (c) Name of State where seed was grown, and if unknown, a statement that the locality where grown is unknown.
- (d) Approximate percentage of germible seed as determined by germination test and date on which germination test was made. Name and address of person, firm or party or agency making the germination test, provided however, that the statement shall not be a basis for prosecution under this chapter.
- (e) Name and address of vendor.
- (f) The approximate percentage, by weight, or purity, meaning freedom of such agricultural seed from foreign matter and from other seed distinguishable by their appearance.
- (g) The approximate total percentage, by weight, of weed seeds or other foreign matter.
- (h) The name and approximate number per pound of each kind of the seed of the following named noxious weeds which are present at the rate of, or in excess of, one such noxious weed seed in five grams of agricultural seed. Such noxious weed seed are defined as

seeds of dodder (cascuta, various species), bind weed or wild morning glory (convolvulus, various species), blue weed (helianthus ciliatus), wire grass (pasplum distichum), Bermuda grass, Johnson grass, and all other seeds of foreign matter known by science to be noxious, are hereby defined as noxious weed seeds. [Id.]

Art. 85. Mixture of.—Mixtures of seed offered or exposed for sale within the State for seeding purposes, in lots of ten pounds or more, containing one or more kinds of the agricultural seeds defined in the preceding article in excess of five percentum, by weight, of the total mixture, shall bear a plainly written or printed statement in the English language, stating:

- (a) That such seed is a mixture.
- (b) The approximate percentage, by weight of inert matter.
- (c) The requirements provided in paragraphs (c) (g) and (h) of the preceding article. [Id.]

Art. 86. Exceptions.—The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to agricultural seeds, or mixtures of seeds, when plainly labeled, "not clean seed," or "not tested seed" nor "seeds sold to merchants to be recleaned before being sold or exposed for sale for seeding purposes", or when in storage for the purpose of recleaning. [Id.]

Art. 87. Analysis.—The percentage of purity of agricultural seed and the mixture as defined in this chapter, and other percentages required by this law, shall be based upon a test or analysis, conducted either by the Commissioner of Agriculture, or his assistants or by the vendor of the agricultural seed or "mixture," provided that any test or analysis made by the vendor or his agent shall conform to the reasonable regulations which said Commissioner of Agriculture is hereby authorized and directed to prescribe, or shall conform to the reasonable regulations or methods of testing adopted or used by the Association of Official Seed Analysts of the United States Department of Agriculture. [Id.]

Art. 88. Fees for test.—Whoever buys or sells said agricultural seeds, or mixtures of seeds, for the use in this State for seeding purposes, may submit fair samples of such seeds to the Commissioner of Agriculture for examination, and test of purity and of vitality, and said commissioner shall cause such examination and test to be promptly made, and report thereon, and return to the sender. For the test of purity, said commissioner shall charge a fee of twenty-five cents, for the examination of each sample, and for a test of vitality, a fee of twenty-five cents, either or both of which fees shall be payable in advance, provided that these tests shall be made free of charge to the citizens of this State. All money received from receipt of such fees shall be paid into the State Treasury. [Id.]

Art. 89. Samples.—The enforcement of this law shall be entrusted to the Commissioner of Agriculture, and he is authorized in person or by his inspectors, or assistants, to take for analysis, paying the reasonable purchase price, a sample not exceeding four ounces in weight, from any lot of agricultural seeds or "mixtures" offered or exposed for sale. Said sample shall be drawn or taken in the presence of the vendor or parties interested, or his or their agents or representatives, and shall not be less than ten per cent of the whole lot inspected and shall be thoroughly mixed and then divided into two samples and placed in glass or metal vessels or containers, carefully sealed, and a label placed on each vessel stating the name of the agricultural seed or mixture sampled, the name of the vendor from whose stock said samples were taken, and the date and place of taking such samples, and said label shall be signed by said commissioner, or his authorized agent; or said sample may be taken in the presence of the disinterested witnesses if the vendor or party in interest fails or refuses to be present, when notified. One of said duplicate samples shall be left with or on the premises of the vendor or party in interest, and the other retained by the commissioner for analysis and comparison with the labels required by law. The Commissioner of Agriculture shall annually and prior to December first, make and submit to the Governor a report of the services performed by him or his assistants, together with an itemized account of all moneys paid out as authorized under this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 90. Liability for damages.—No action for the recovery of damages or any liability whatsoever for any violation of any provision of this chapter, or for the breach of any legal duty or obligation in the sale of the agricultural seeds defined in the first article of this chapter, or the sale of mixtures defined in the third article of this chapter, shall be maintained by the buyer and against the vendor of such seeds, unless the claim or claims of such buyer are based upon properly drawn samples of such seed, from the bulk thereof, and examined in the way provided in this law. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as preventing one farmer from selling to another farmer such seed grown on his own farm as covered by the provisions of this chapter without having such seed tested and labeled as provided for herein. [Id.]

Art. 91. Publishing report.—The result of the analysis and tests of seed made by the Commissioner of Agriculture of samples drawn by him or his inspectors may, at his discretion, be published in his report. [Id.]

Art. 92. Appropriation and expense.—There shall be appropriated annually from the State Treasury a sum in favor of the Department of Agriculture and the same together with the fees provided for in this law, may be expended in the enforcement of this law. So much of said appropriation and the moneys secured as fees for tests and analysis of seed after first exhausting the moneys secured from the collection of the fees as herein provided for, shall be paid to the Commissioner of Agriculture as he may show by his bills has been expended in performing the duties required by this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 93. Definitions.—The words, "persons", "vendor", and "party" in interest and "whoever" as used in this chapter shall include both the plural and singular, as the case demands, and shall include corporations, companies, societies and individuals. [Id.]

CHAPTER FIVE

COMMERCIAL FERTILIZERS

Art.

94. Branding or labeling.
95. Statement to be furnished chemist.
96. Words prohibited on tag.
97. Tax tags.
98. Analysis and publication.
99. Sale of inferior fertilizer.
100. Forbidden materials in fertilizer.
101. Statement of quantity.
102. Statement of sales.
103. Seizure.
104. Injunction.
105. Sale to user.
106. Containers and weights.
107. Analysis by purchaser.
108. Definitions.

Article 94. Branding or labeling.—All corporations, firms or persons, before selling or offering for sale any commercial fertilizer for use within this State, shall brand or attach to each bag, barrel or package a plainly printed statement, showing the brand or name of said fertilizer, the net weight of the contents of the package, the name and address of the corporation, firm or person registering said fertilizer and the minimum percentages guaranteed to be present of available phosphoric acid, of nitrogen and of potash soluble in distilled water. Only such potash shall be claimed to be present as sulphate, which is in excess of the quantity required to combine with the chlorine present, less one-half per cent. In bone meal, tankage, or other similar products, the phosphoric acid shall be claimed as total phosphoric acid, unless it be desired to claim available phosphoric acid only in which latter case the guarantee must take the form above set forth. In the case of bone meal and tankage, information showing the fineness of the product may be branded or attached to the package, provided it takes a form approved by the State Chemist. All branding or labeling must be durable and legible, and so placed as to be easily read. [Acts 1911, p. 218.]

Art. 95. Statement to be furnished chemist.—All firms, corporations or persons, before selling or offering for sale any commercial fertilizer for use within this State, shall annually file with the chemist of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, herein termed the State Chemist, a certified statement giving the information required by the preceding article and the true names and sources of all the ingredients used in the manufacture of the said fertilizer. If the same fertilizer is sold under a different name or names, said fact shall be stated, and the different brands which are identical shall be named. If the source of any ingredient of said fertilizer is changed, notification must be promptly furnished the State Chemist. A copy of the brand or stamp on the bag or other package or on the label attached thereto shall be filed with the State Chemist on or before delivery to the dealers, agents or consumers in this State, which brand or stamp shall be uniformly used during the fiscal year for which it is filed, but such brand or stamp shall truly set forth the data required in the first article of this chapter, and be otherwise in accordance with its provisions. On receipt of the certified statement above described, and the copy of the brand or stamp, and after compliance with other requirements of this chapter, the State Chemist shall issue a certificate of registration for the commercial fertilizer, which shall be in force until the succeeding September first. A brand name previously registered shall not be allowed to be registered by another firm, corporation or individual, and no brand or name shall be allowed to be registered which is so nearly similar to another as to lead to uncertainty, confusion or fraud. The party whom the previous records of the State Chemist's office show to have first registered the name shall be permitted to retain it, subject, however, to appeal and hearing before the State Chemist to determine who is entitled to the brand; but the action of the State Chemist shall be without prejudice to the legal rights of the parties to the brand or trade-mark. No brand or name once registered shall be changed to a lower grade at any subsequent registration. The State Chemist shall publish annually a list of brands or trade-marks registered with him. [Id.]

Art. 96. Words prohibited on tag.—The words "high grade" shall not appear upon any bag or other package of any complete fertilizer which complete fertilizer contains, by its guaranteed analysis, less than ten per cent available phosphoric acid, one and sixty-five one-hundredths per cent nitrogen and two per cent of potash, or a grade or analysis of equal total commercial value; the word "standard" shall not appear upon any bag or other package of any complete fertilizer which contains, by its guaranteed analysis, less than eight per cent available phosphoric acid, one and sixty-five one-hundredths per cent nitrogen and two per cent potash, or a grade or analysis of equal total commercial value; the words "high grade" shall not appear upon any bag or other package of any acid phosphate with potash, which shall contain, by its guaranteed analysis, less than thirteen per cent available phosphoric acid, and one per cent of potash, or a grade or analysis of equal total commercial value; the word "standard" shall not appear upon any bag or other package of any acid phosphate with potash which shall contain by its guaranteed analysis, less than eleven per cent available phosphoric acid, and one per cent potash, or a grade or analysis of equal total commercial value; the words "high grade" shall not appear upon any bag or other package of any plain acid phosphate which shall contain by its guaranteed analysis, less than fourteen per cent available phosphoric acid; and the word "standard" shall not appear upon any bag or other package of any plain acid phosphate which shall contain by its guaranteed analysis less than twelve per cent. available phosphoric acid. The word "standard" shall not appear upon any bag or other package of acid phosphate with nitrogen which shall contain, by its guaranteed analysis, less than nine per cent of available phosphoric acid and two per cent nitrogen, or a grade or analysis of equal total commercial value. No commercial fertilizer shall be sold, offered or exposed for sale for use within this State, upon which the use of the words "high grade" or "standard" is prohibited by this article, unless the words "low grade" is printed in two inch letters in a conspicuous place upon the package of said commercial fertilizer. No claim or guarantee for less than one per cent of phosphoric acid or of potash, or for less than a 0.82 per cent of nitrogen, shall be allowed in any commercial fertilizer. [Id.]

Art. 97. Tax tags.—To defray the expenses connected with the inspection of commercial fertilizer sold, or exposed, or offered for sale in this State, and experiments relative to the value thereof, all firms, corporations or persons engaged in the manufacture or sale of commercial fertilizers shall pay to the State Chemist an inspection tax of twenty-five cents per ton (2000 pounds) for such commercial fertilizers sold or exposed, or offered for sale in this State in order to entitle the same to inspection and delivery, and shall attach a tag furnished by the State Chemist as evidence that said tax is paid, and goods so tagged shall not be liable to any further tax. But nothing in this article shall interfere with fertilizers passing through the State in transit; nor apply to the delivery of fertilizing materials in bulk, to fertilizing factories for manufacturing purposes. The fees received by the State Chemist and all the penalties collected under this chapter shall be deposited with the treasurer of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, and shall be expended under the direction of the Board of Trustees of said College in defraying the expenses of inspecting and analyzing commercial fertilizers, the preparation of tags, and bulletins, experiments relative to the value of fertilizers, and for such other purposes as the Board of Trustees of said College shall allow or direct. Firms, corporations or persons, or agents representing them, who have registered their brands in compliance with this law, shall forward to the State Chemist a request for tax tags, stating that the said tags are to be used upon the brands of commercial fertilizers registered and sold in accordance with this chapter, and said request shall be accompanied with the inspection tax, whereupon the State Chemist shall issue tags to parties applying, who shall attach said tags to each bag, barrel or package thereof. All firms, corporations or persons are hereby forbidden to attach the tag prescribed by this article to any bag, barrel or package of any commercial fertilizer which has not been previously registered as required in this chapter, and which is not in accordance with all other provisions of this chapter. No tags shall be used after the end of the fiscal year for which they are issued, and they shall not be redeemed by the State Chemist. The fiscal year shall be comprised between the dates of September first and August thirty-first, inclusive. The State Chemist is hereby empowered to adopt a form for said tags. [Id.]

Art. 98. Analysis and publication.—The State Chemist shall cause one analysis or more to be made annually of such commercial fertilizer sold or offered for sale under the provisions of this Act as may be sampled under his direction. The State Chemist, in person or by deputy, shall have power to enter into any car, warehouse, store, building, boat, vessel, steamboat, or place, supposed to contain fertilizers for the purpose of inspection or sampling, and shall have the power to take a sample for analysis, not exceeding two pounds, from any package or lot of fertilizer found within the State. Said sample shall be drawn by means of a sampling tube of uniform diameter and at least eighteen inches long, placed in a jar or can, sealed and labeled by the inspector. Said sample shall be taken from not less than five bags, but in lots of 100 and over, from not less than 5 per cent of the entire number. All analyses shall be made by the official methods of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists of North America. In the trial of any suit or action wherein is called in question the value or composition of any fertilizer, a certificate signed by the State Chemist and attested with his seal, setting forth the analysis made by the State Chemist, or under his direction, of the sample of said fertilizer analyzed by him under the provisions of this chapter, shall be prima facie proof that the fertilizer was of the value and consistency shown by his said analysis. And the said certificate of the State Chemist shall be admissible in evidence to the same extent as if it were his deposition taken in said action in the manner prescribed by law for the taking of depositions. The State Chemist shall issue at least one bulletin annually, setting forth the analyses of fertilizers made under the provisions of this chapter, the operations of the law, and such other information concerning violations or operations of this chapter, or otherwise pertaining to the sale of fertilizers as may be considered necessary. The State Chemist shall also investigate the composition, properties and agricultural values of fertilizers or of fertilizer materials or ingredients of fertilizers sold or offered for sale within the State of Texas, and shall publish his results as he may find. [Id.]

Art. 99. Sale of inferior fertilizer.—Whenever the State Chemist shall be satisfied that any lot or shipment of fertilizer is four per cent or more below the guaranteed value in plant food, he shall assess such deficiency against the manufacturer or guarantor of the fertilizer, and require that the value of the deficiency be made good to all persons who have purchased said fertilizer; and the State Chemist may seize any fertilizer belonging to such manufacturer or guarantor if the deficiency shall not be paid within thirty days after notice to such manufacturer. Any person, firm or corporation who shall intentionally or knowingly sell or offer for sale any commercial fertilizer for use within this State which is materially below the guaranteed value in plant food, shall refund to all purchasers of said commercial fertilizer twice the value of the deficiency in plant food. [Id.]

Art. 100. Forbidden materials in fertilizer.—It shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale in this State any fertilizer or fertilizing materials which contain an undue quantity of hair, or which contains leather scraps, peat, or other substances of low availability as food for plants, but in which such forbidden materials aid in making up the required or guaranteed analysis. Whenever the analysis by the State Chemist shall show the presence of any of these unlawful materials in goods registered for sale, publication shall be made in bulletins giving the name or brand of the goods and the unlawful substance contained in its composition. No manufacturer or seller of such goods shall be allowed to collect pay for the same, and if payment has been made it shall be returned by the seller to the purchaser. A copy of the bulletin containing the statement of the presence of said unlawful materials in the named goods shall be evidence in any court in this State in bar of payment and for recovery of money paid for goods so named. The presence of any forbidden material shall vitiate the whole, provided that manufacturers who desire to use any such material may do so under such regulations as the State Chemist may prescribe, if it be shown that it is available for a proper purpose. [Id.]

Art. 101. Statement of quantity.—It shall be lawful for the State chemist to require the officers, agents, or managers of any railroad, steamboat or other transportation company, transporting fertilizers or fertilizing material in the State, to furnish monthly statements of the quantity of such fertilizers, with the names of the consignor and consignee and the name or brand delivered on their respective lines at any and all points within this State. The State Chemist is hereby empowered to compel such officers, agents or managers to submit their books for examination, if found expedient so to do. [Id.]

Art. 102. Statement of sales.—Every firm, corporation or person who has registered fertilizers for sale within this State, shall mail to the State chemist, on forms provided by the State chemist, within three days of each sale, shipment or delivery, a statement showing the official name of fertilizer, the quantity and the name and address of the person to whom the fertilizer is sold, and if such fertilizer is to be used for manufacturing purposes, the fact must be so stated, and also the composition of said fertilizer. Every corporation, firm or person registered to sell fertilizers within this State according to this chapter, shall annually on the first day of May, submit to the State chemist a statement of their sales of said fertilizer since September 1, preceding, and the State chemist is hereby authorized to require other statements of sales, if necessary, in such form as he may prescribe. The sales or shipments of any individual, corporation, firm, or person shall not be disclosed. [Id.]

Art. 103. Seizure.—Any commercial fertilizer sold, offered, or exposed for sale within this State in violation of any provision of this chapter, shall be liable to seizure at the instance of the State chemist. Upon complaint being filed by the State chemist, in person or by duly authorized deputy, with any county judge or justice of the peace, describing the commercial fertilizer and the place where it is believed that said commercial fertilizer is sold, offered or exposed for sale in violation of law, such county judge or justice of the peace shall issue his warrant directing and commanding the sheriff or any constable of his county to search such place, and if the law is being violated, to seize the commercial fertilizer, and it shall be the duty of the officer to whom such warrant is delivered to search the place described in the warrant and to seize all commercial fertilizer found therein which is in violation of law, and if admission into said place is refused, the officer executing said warrant is hereby authorized to force open the same. If it appears at the hearing before the county judge or justice of the peace who issued said writ, that the commercial fertilizer was being sold, exposed or offered for sale in violation of any provision of this chapter, said commercial fertilizer shall be condemned and delivered to an officer or agent of the State chemist, to be sold by or under the direction of the State chemist, and the net proceeds paid to the treasurer of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this chapter. The sale shall be made at the courthouse door in the county in which the seizure is made, after thirty days' advertisement in some newspaper published in said county, or if no newspaper is published in such county, then by like advertisement in a newspaper published in the nearest county thereto having a newspaper. The advertisement shall state the name or brand of the goods, the quantity, and why seized and offered for sale. Said commercial fertilizer shall be sampled and subjected to analysis, if necessary, or tagged or branded and otherwise brought into compliance with the requirements of this chapter, before being sold. The State chemist, however, may, in his discretion, release the commercial fertilizer seized or condemned, upon the payment of the required tax or charge and all cost and expense incurred in any proceeding connected with such seizure and condemnation and upon compliance with all other requirements of this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 104. Injunction.—The Attorney General and the several county attorneys, when requested by the State chemist, shall institute suit to enjoin any person, firm or corporation, resident or non-resident from manufacturing, or selling or soliciting orders for the sale of fertilizers in this State or selling fertilizers for use in this State without complying with all the provisions of this chapter, which injunction may issue without bond or advanced cost. [Id.]

Art. 105. Sale to user.—Manufacturers, jobbers, dealers or manipulators of commercial fertilizers may sell acid phosphate or other commercial fertilizer in bulk to persons, individuals or firms who desire to purchase the same for their own use on their own land but not for sale or distribution, under rules prescribed by the State chemist which shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter; provided, that the inspection tax shall be paid upon such fertilizer as provided in this chapter. But if such bulk fertilizer is offered for sale or distribution it must be tagged and branded and otherwise accord with the provisions of this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 106. Containers and weights.—All fertilizers or fertilizing materials sold or offered for sale for use within this State shall be in bags or packages of one hundred pounds net weight, except as provided in the preceding article. The weight of fertilizers shall be ascertained by the inspectors of the State chemist before drawing a sample, or by the purchaser within ten days of delivery to him, in the presence of at least two disinterested witnesses, one chosen by the purchaser and the other by the manufacturer, and the purchaser shall within five days notify the manufacturer to make good the deficiency. Upon failure of the manufacturer to do so within twenty days thereafter he shall be liable to a penalty of three dollars for each sack, barrel or package, which immediately attaches and becomes recoverable by the State, one-half of the penalty so received to be paid to the purchaser in case of a sale. If any such manufacturer shall refuse, decline or neglect to be present or to choose a witness within six days as herein provided, after having been notified or requested in writing by the purchaser so to do, then he shall have forfeited his right to do so and the purchaser may select two witnesses who shall select a third, and the three shall proceed to ascertain said weight. [Id.]

Art. 107. Analysis by purchaser.—Any person not a dealer in, or agent for the sale of any fertilizer, who may purchase any commercial fertilizer for his own use within this State and not for sale, may take a sample of same for analysis, which analysis shall be made free of charge by or under the direction of the State chemist. Said sample or samples of fertilizer shall be taken in the presence of both purchaser and seller. One cupful of the fertilizer shall be taken from the top and one cupful from the bottom of each sack, provided that there are not more than five sacks in the lot, but in lots of 10 to 100 sacks, from not less than five sacks; in lots of 100 and over, from not less than five per cent of the entire number. The samples so taken shall be intermixed upon some surface so as not to mix dirt or any other substance with the fertilizer. After thorough mixing, at least one pound of the material must be put into each of two cans or jars, one of which securely sealed and marked in such a way as to surely identify the sample and show by whom it was sent, but the name of the fertilizer or of the person from whom it was purchased need not be given, and must be forwarded by express, all charges prepaid, to the State chemist; the other sample, securely sealed, shall be turned over to the company or agent selling same. The purchaser shall also send with the sample a certificate signed by himself and two disinterested witnesses, stating that the sender has purchased the fertilizer for his own use and not for sale and that the sample was taken in the manner prescribed in this article, and that the sender has in his possession a certificate signed by himself and the two witnesses, giving the name of the fertilizer and manufacturer thereof as tagged or branded on the packages and will forward this certificate to the State chemist on receipt of the analysis. If the person, company or agent shall refuse, decline or neglect to witness the taking of samples, after having been requested or notified by the purchaser in writing six days before so to do, then the sample may be taken in the manner already described in the presence of two disinterested witnesses. Any person having sent a sample for analysis under the provisions of this article, who shall, after having received the report of analysis of same, refuse to furnish the required certificate, shall thereafter forfeit the privilege of analysis of fertilizers under this article. [Id.]

Art. 108. Definitions.—The terms "commercial fertilizer," "misbranded," and "adulterated," as used in this chapter, shall have the same meaning as is given those terms in Article 1716 of the Penal Code. [Id.]

Article 109. Standards of containers.—The following standards of containers for the shipment of fruits and vegetables in this State are hereby established and adopted as State standards.

1. Standard Bushel Basket. The standard bushel basket shall contain not less than 2150.4 cubic inches in the basket proper, regardless of the manner in which the lid is made.

2. Standard Four Basket Crate. The basket in said crates shall hold not less than three quarts dry measure, and the dimensions of such baskets shall be 5x8 inches at the bottom, 6x10 inches at the top, and 4 inches deep, and shall contain not less than 201.6 cubic inches. The heads of the crates holding said baskets shall be 4½ inches wide by 11 inches at the bottom, and 13 inches at the top in length and not less than 7/16 of an inch thick. The veneer or boards for the bottoms, sides and tops shall be not less than 4½, 4, and 5½ inches wide respectively, and not less than 1/4 of an inch thick and 22 inches long. Both crates and baskets shall be made of good, substantial material, sufficiently strong to withstand the ordinary strain incident to transportation and handling.

3. Standard Six-basket Crate. Each basket of a six-basket crate shall contain not less than 268.8 cubic inches.

4. Standard Folding Onion Crate. The standard folding onion crate shall not be less than 19½ inches long, 11¾ inches wide and 9¾ inches deep, inside measurements, containing not less than 2154.4 cubic inches.

5. Standard Orange Box. The dimensions of the standard orange box shall be 12x12x12 inches for each one-half of box, inside measurement, and the dimensions of a one-half (or strap box) shall be 12x12x6 inches for each one-half box, inside measurement.

6. Standard Berry Box or Crate. The standard quart berry box or crate shall contain not less than 24 quart baskets containing 67.2 cubic inches each, dry measure; and the standard pint berry box or crate shall hold not less than 24 pint baskets, containing not less than 33.6 cubic inches, dry measure. [Acts 1917, p. 396, Acts 3rd C. S. 1917, p. 55.]

Art. 110. Grades and packs.—The following "grades and packs" are hereby established as State standards for the State of Texas:

(a) Standard Peach Grades and Packs. Standard peach grades are three in number; namely, Fancy, Choice or No. 1, and No. 2.

Fancy peaches shall be medium to large size, good color for the variety named, firm and sound, or proper maturity for shipment to distant markets, carefully picked and closely packed in bushel baskets or crates of four or six basket capacity.

Choice or No. 1 peaches shall be of average size and color for the variety named, sound, firm, practically free from blemishes and defects, of proper maturity for shipment to distant markets, carefully picked and closely packed in bushel baskets or crates of four or six baskets capacity.

No. 2 peaches shall be all such sound fruit as is not good enough for No. 1's, such as small, slightly uneven surface, greens, ripens or slight defects of whatever kind, but suitable for market purposes and for reasonably distant shipments. Each and every package of fruits and vegetables offered for sale or shipment shall have plainly stamped on it the grade of such fruits or vegetables and the name and post office address of the person shipping the same, provided that this shall apply only to shipments of such fruits and vegetables as have grades established by law.

Culls. Any and all peaches that are too small in size, ill shaped and poor in general quality to measure up to any of the above grades, shall be known as culls, unfit for market purposes, and shall not be shipped unless branded "Culls" and shipped in a separate consignment.

Texas Standard Peach Packs. The standard peach packs for six basket crate shall be eight in number; namely, 72's, 96's, 138's, 162's, 180's, 216's, 270's and 324's.

To Pack 72's. (Begin at end of basket.) Place 1 and 2 alternately in 4 rows, two layers high, 6 to the layer on end, blossom end up.

To Pack 96's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 4 rows, 2 layers high, 8 to the layer on end, blossom end up.

To Pack 138's. Place 2 and 1 alternately in 5 rows, 3 lays high, 8 and 7 alternately to the layer, flat.

To Pack 162's. Place 2 and 1 alternately in 6 rows, 3 layers high, 9 to the layer, flat.

To Pack 180's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 5 rows, 3 layers high, 10 to the layer, flat.

To Pack 216's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 6 rows, 3 layers high, 12 to the layer, flat.

To Pack 270's. Place 3 and 3 alternately in 5 rows, 3 layers high, 15 to the layer, flat.

To Pack 324's. Place 3 and 3 alternately in 6 rows, 3 layers high, 18 to the layer, flat.

All packages must be filled tight, in all layers from bottom to top, and extend approximately 1 inch above the top rim or edge of the package, whether it be a bushel basket, crate basket, or box. All peaches in the same crate or package shall be as nearly as possible of a uniform degree of ripeness.

(b) Texas Standard Tomato Grades and Packs. Texas standard tomato grades may be two in number; namely, Fancy and Choice. Texas standard tomato packs shall be seven (7) in number for the six basket crate and nine (9) in number for the four basket crate and the manner in which tomatoes are packed will partly determine their grade.

Texas Standard Six Basket Crate. Fancy. To Pack 72's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 3 rows, 2 layers high, 6 to layer, blossom end up, 12 to the basket.

To Pack 84's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 4 rows on edge 8 to the layer for first layer, and 2 and 2 alternately in 3 rows, flat, blossom end up, 6 to the layer for the first layer, and 3 and 3 alternately in 3 rows, on edge, blossom end out; 9 to the layer for the second or last layer; 15 to the basket.

To Pack 108's. Place 3 and 3 alternately in 3 rows, on edge, 9 to the layer for the first layer, and 3 and 3 alternately in 3 rows on edge, blossom end out, 9 to the layer for the second or last layer, 18 to the basket.

Choice:

To Pack 120's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 4 rows, on edge, 8 to the layer for the first layer, and 3 and 3 alternately in 4 rows on edge, blossom end out, 12 to the layer for the second or last layer, 20 to the basket.

To Pack 144's. Place 3 and 3 alternately in 4 rows, on edge, 12 to the layer for the first layer and 3 and 3 in 4 rows, on edge, blossom end out, 12 to the layer for the second or last layer, 24 to the basket.

To Pack 180's. Place 3 and 3 alternately in 5 rows, on edge, blossom end out, 15 to the layer for the second or last layer, 30 to the basket.

Texas Standard Four Basket Crate: Fancy:

To Pack 48's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 3 rows, flat, blossom end up, 6 to the layer for the first layer and 2 and 2 alternately in 3 rows, flat, blossom end up, 6 to the layer for the second or last layer, 12 to the basket.

To Pack 56's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 4 rows, on edge, 8 to the layer for the first layer and 2 and 2 alternately in 3 rows, flat, blossom end up, 6 to the layer for the second or last layer, 14 to the basket.

To Pack 60's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 3 rows, flat, blossom end up, 6 to the layer for the first layer, and 3 and 3 alternately in 3 rows on edge, blossom end out, 9 to the layer for the second or last layer, 15 to the basket.

To Pack 64's. Place 2 and 2 alternately in 3 rows, flat, blossom end up, 6 to the layer for the first layer, and 1 and 2 alternately in 7 rows, on edge, blossom end out, 10 to the layer, 16 to the basket.

To Pack 72's. Place 3 and 3 alternately in 3 rows, on edge, 9 to the layer, for the first layer, and 3 and 3 alternately in 3 rows, on edge, blossom end out, 9 to the layer for the second or last layer, 18 to the basket.

Choice:

To Pack 84's. Place 3 and 3 alternately in 3 rows, on edge, 9 to the layer, for the first layer, and 3 and 3 alternately in 4 rows, on edge, blossom end out, 12 to the layer for the second or last layer, 21 to the basket.

To Pack 88's. Place 3 and 3 alternately in 3 rows, on edge, 9 to the layer for the first layer and 1 and 2 alternately in 9 rows, on edge, blossom end out, 18 to the layer, 22 to the basket.

To Pack 96's. Place 3 and 3 alternately in 4 rows, on edge, 12 to the layer for the first layer, and 3 and 3 alternately in 4 rows, on edge, blossom end out, 12 to the layer for the second or last layer, 24 to the basket.

To Pack 104's. Place 1 and 2 alternately in 9 rows, on edge, 13 to the layer for the first layer, and 1 and 2 alternately in 9 rows, on edge, 13 to the layer, blossom end out, for the second or last layer, 26 to the basket. All tomatoes in the same crate or package shall be as nearly as possible of a uniform degree of ripeness.

All fruit for both fancy and choice grades must be sound and free from undesirable scars, "cat faces", and damage from insects or other causes.

(c) Texas Standard Orange Grades.

Texas orange, satsuma, tangerine and grape fruit grades may be four in number, namely; Fancy Bright, Bright, Fancy Russet and Russet.

Fancy Brights shall be bright color, shapely form, practically free from any skin defects or blemishes, fine texture, reasonably thin, heavy, juicy and free from frost damage.

Brights shall be fairly bright color, texture not as fine or smooth as Fancy Brights, skin thicker, and may have other reasonable skin defects that do not affect the merchantable quality of the fruit.

Fancy Russets shall be of the same general quality as fancy brights, except in color which shall be "Golden" russet.

Russets shall be same general quality as Brights, except in color, which may be rusty brown, not "Golden" enough for fancy Russets.

Texas Standard Orange Packs. The Standard orange packs shall be 8 in number; namely, 96's, 126's, 150's, 176's, 200's, 216's, 252's, and 288's.

To Pack 96's. Put 3 and 3 alternately in 4 rows, 4 layers high, 12 to layer.

To Pack 126's. Put 3 and 2 alternately in 5 rows, 5 layers high, 13 and 12 alternately to layer.

To Pack 150's. Put 3 and 3 alternately in 5 rows, 5 layers high, 15 to the layer.

To Pack 176's. Put 4 and 3 alternately in 5 rows, 5 layers high, 18 and 17 alternately to the layer.

To Pack 200's. Put 4 and 4 alternately in 5 rows, 5 layers high, 20 to the layer.

To Pack 216's. Put 3 and 3 alternately in 6 rows, 6 layers high, 18 to the layer.

To Pack 252's. Put 4 and 3 alternately in 6 rows, 6 layers high, 21 to the layer.

To Pack 288's. Put 4 and 4 alternately in 6 rows, 6 layers high, 24 to the layer.

The Standard Satsuma and Tangerine packs shall be 7 in number; namely 90's, 106's, 120's, 168's, 196's, 216's and 224's.

To Pack 90's. Put 3 and 3 alternately in 5 rows, 3 layers high, 15 to the layer.

To Pack 106's. Put 4 and 3 alternately in 5 rows, 3 layers high, 18 and 17 alternately to the layer.

To Pack 120's. Put 4 and 4 alternately in 5 rows, 3 layers high, 20 to the layer.

To Pack 168's. Put 4 and 3 alternately in 6 rows, 4 layers high, 21 to the layer.

To Pack 196's. Put 4 and 3 alternately in 7 rows, 4 layers high, 25 and 24 alternately to the layer.

To Pack 216's. Put 5 and 4 alternately in 6 rows, 4 layers high, 27 to the layer.

To Pack 224's. Put 4 and 4 alternately in 7 rows, 4 layers high, 28 to the layer.

All oranges, satsumas and tangerines to conform to this standard must be packed "stem-in, twist" with blossom end down in first layer and stem end down in all other layers.

The standard grapefruit packs shall be 7 in number; namely, 28's, 36's, 46's, 54's, 64's, 80's, 96's.

To Pack 28's. Put 2 and 1 alternately in 3 rows, 3 layers high, 5 and 4 alternately to the layer.

To Pack 36's. Put 2 and 2 alternately in 3 rows, 3 layers high, 6 to the layer.

To Pack 46's. Put 3 and 2 alternately in 3 rows, 3 layers high, 8 and 7 alternately to the layer.

To Pack 54's. Put 3 and 3 alternately in 3 rows, 3 layers high, 9 to the layer.

To Pack 64's. Put 2 and 2 alternately in 4 rows, 4 layers high, 8 to the layer.

To Pack 80's. Put 2 and 2 alternately in 4 rows, 5 layers high, 8 to the layer.

To Pack 96's. Put 3 and 3 alternately in 4 rows, 4 layers high, 12 to the layer.

All grapefruit to conform to this standard must be packed on edge, except the 80 pack, which should be packed flat in the same manner as oranges.

In the enforcement of the above standards of grade and pack, an allowance may be made of not exceeding ten per cent difference in size between the fruit on top and in the interior of the package. A variation of not more than three per cent of actual count may be made in the number of any kind of fruit prescribed for each particular pack. [Acts 1917, p. 396.]

Art. 111. Culls.—Any and all fruits and vegetables for which standard grades and packs are established in this chapter or for which standard grades and packs may be hereafter promulgated by the Commissioner of Agriculture under the authority of this law, that are too small in size, ill shaped, and too poor in general quality to measure up to the grades herein established, shall be classed as "culls," and shall not be shipped, unless branded "culls" and shipped in a separate consignment. [Acts 3rd C. S. 1917, p. 55.]

Art. 112. Texas Bermuda Onion Grades.—Grade No. 1.—This grade shall consist of onions which are sound, mature, bright, well-shaped, of one variety, free from doubles, splits, bottle necks, and seed stems, and practically free from damage caused by dirt or other foreign matter, moisture, sunburn, cuts, disease, insects, or mechanical means. The minimum diameter shall be two inches. In order to allow for variation incident to commercial grading and handling, six per centum, by weight, of any lot need not meet the foregoing requirements of this grade. In the case of yellow onions, not more than five per centum, by weight, of any lot may be noticeably pink.

If any lot which meets the requirements of this grade contains more than ten per centum, by weight, of onions with a minimum diameter of three and one-half inches, the grade shall be "Grade No. 1, large."

Boiler Grade.—This grade shall consist of onions which are sound, mature, bright, well-shaped, of one variety, free from doubles, splits, bottle necks, and seed stems and practically free from damages caused by dirt or other foreign matter, moisture, sunburn, cuts, disease, insects, or mechanical means. The minimum diameter shall be one inch and the maximum diameter shall be two inches. In order to allow for variations incident to commercial grading and handling, six per centum by weight, of any lot need not meet the foregoing requirements of this grade. In case of yellow onions, not more than five per centum, by weight, of any lot may be noticeably pink.

Grade No. 2.—This grade shall consist of onions not meeting the requirements of Grade No. 1, which are sound, of one variety, free from doubles, splits, bottle necks and seed stems, and practically free from damage caused by moisture, sunburn, cuts, disease, insects, or mechanical means. The minimum diameter shall be two inches. In order to allow for variations incident to commercial grading and handling, ten per centum by weight, of any lot need not meet the requirements of this grade. If any lot which meets the requirements of this grade contains more than ten per centum, by weight of onions, with a minimum diameter of three and one-half inches, the grade shall be "Grade No. 2, Large."

Grade No. 3.—This grade shall consist of onions not meeting the requirements of any of the foregoing grades, which are sound, free from doubles, splits, bottle necks, and seed stems, and practically free from damage caused by moisture, sunburn, cuts, disease, insects, or mechanical means. The minimum diameter shall be one inch. In order to allow for variations incident to commercial grading and handling, ten per centum, by weight, of any lot, need not meet the foregoing requirements of this grade.

Culls.—Culls shall consist of doubles, splits, bottle necks, and seed stems, or other onions which do not meet the requirements of any of the foregoing grades.

Terms Defined.—"Sound" means free from water-soaked, decayed, sprouted, or otherwise unsound onions.

"Mature" means having reached a state of development at which the onions are firm—not soft or spongy.

"Bright" means having the normal, attractive, pearly luster of Bermuda onions.

"Well-shaped" means the general appearance of being round—not three, four, or five-sided, or badly pinched by dry, hard soil, or thick-necked, but need not be of the exact, typical, flat Bermuda shape.

"One variety" means one variety or type, such as the Crystal Wax (white) or White Bermuda (yellow), or Red Bermuda (red), and not a mixture of different varieties or types.

"Practically free from damage" means that the appearance shall not be injured to an extent readily apparent upon casual examination.

"Sunburn" means discoloration due to exposure to the sun, but does not mean the green color running down the "veins" in the Crystal Wax (white) variety, unless such green color covers the surface between the veins.

"Diameter" means the greatest dimension at right angles to a straight line running from stem to the root.

"Noticeable pink" means the pink color often found in the White Bermuda (yellow) variety which is to be readily apparent upon casual examination. [Acts 4th C. S. 1918, p. 145.]

Art. 113. Texas Cabbage Grades.—Grade No. 1.—This grade shall consist of sound, green colored, partially trimmed, and reasonably hard heads, weighing not less than one and one-half pounds nor more than eight pounds each; which are free from cracked or over-ripe heads, stem rot and other diseases, and practically free from dirt, worm holes and lice.

In order to allow for variations incident to commercial grading and handling, five per centum by weight, of any lot, may be under prescribed size, and in addition, three per centum, by weight, of any such lot, may be below the remaining requirements of this grade.

Grade No. 2.—This grade shall consist of sound cabbage not meeting the requirements of Grade No. 1.

Terms Defined. "Over-ripe" means such cabbage as shows signs of going to seed and turning white from age.

"Partially Trimmed" means that not more than three outside leaves shall be left on the head. [Id.]

Art. 114. Snap Beans.—Grade No. 1.—This grade shall consist of sound, bright, clean beans of one variety and color, from one-half to full grown; which are free from leaves, stems, spots, insect damage, rust, or other diseases, and over-ripe pods.

In order to allow for variation incident to commercial grading and handling, three per centum, by weight, may be of another variety of the same color.

Grade No. 2.—Any beans not meeting the above requirements shall be classed as No. 2.

All beans are to be packed in hamper weighing, when packed, not less than 17 pounds net weight for one-half bushel hamper, and 34 net weight for one bushel.

Terms Defined.—“Over-ripe” are such pods as will not snap on being broken, and where there is an absence of abundant juice (water) in the pods; also, when the beans in the pod show evidence of maturing.

Art. 115. Texas Bartlett Pear Grades.—Extra Fancy. Shall consist of Bartlett Pears clean, bright, natural color and shape, sound, free from worms, specks, blemishes, bruises or limb scar red fruit.

Fancy. Shall be the same as “Extra Fancy,” except it may contain ten per cent slightly scarred fruit and slight blemishes that do not injure texture of the skin or its keeping qualities.

Choice. Shall be the same as “Fancy,” except as it may contain ten per cent of fruit that is misshapen and with worm strings that have healed over.

Culls. Any pears not measuring up to the above specifications shall be branded as “Culls.”

Packing.—Fruit shall be tightly packed in clean standard boxes, one end stamped with the grade, number of pears, name of and post office of packer.

Packs Defined.—“Four Tier” shall be packed in four layers. Minimum pack 120 pears to the box.

“Five Tier” shall be packed in six layers. Minimum pack 135, maximum pack 180 pears to box.

“Six Tier” shall be packed in six layers, containing 216 pears to the box, or five layers containing 195 or 210 to the box, but will be considered “six tier.”

Art. 116. Texas Irish Potato Grades.—Grade No. 1.—This grade shall consist of sound potatoes of similar varietal characteristics, which are practically free from dirt or foreign matter, frost injury, sunburn, second growth, cuts, scab, blight, dry rot, and damage caused by disease, insects, or mechanical means. The minimum diameter shall be one and three-fourth inches. In order to allow for variation incident to commercial grading and handling, five per centum, by weight, of any lot, may be under the prescribed size, and, in addition, three per centum by weight of any such lot may be below the remaining requirements for quality of this grade.

Grade No. 2.—This grade shall consist of potatoes of similar varietal characteristics, which are practically free from frost injury and decay, and which are free from serious damage caused by dirt or other foreign matter, sunburn, second growth, cuts, scab, blight, dry rot, or other disease, insects or mechanical means. The minimum diameter shall be one and one-half inches. In order to allow for variations incident to commercial grading and handling, five per centum, by weight, of any lot, may be under the prescribed size, and, in addition, five per centum, by weight, of any such lot, may be below the remaining requirements for quality of this grade.

Culls. Any potatoes that do not measure up to the requirements for size and general quality in the grades number one and two shall be classed as “Culls,” and shall not be shipped unless branded or marked “Culls” and shipped in separate consignments.

Three per centum, by weight, shall be allowed on all Texas grown new potatoes, for natural shrinkage. In instances where dirt adheres to the potatoes a fair and reasonable estimate by weight, of such dirt, shall be made and deducted from the gross weight of the potatoes and dirt, which estimate may be made by removing and weighing the dirt from three or more samples of not less than fifty pounds each, that, when taken together, represents the average conditions of the potatoes.

All potato containers must have some mark or brand showing the name and post-office address of the grower or shipper.

Terms Defined. “Practically Free” means the appearance shall not be injured to an extent readily apparent upon casual examination, and that any damage from the causes mentioned can be removed by the ordinary process of paring without appreciable increase in waste over that which would occur if the potato were perfect. Loss of the outer skin (epidermis) only, shall not be considered as an injury to the appearance.

“Diameter” means the greatest dimensions at right angles to the longitudinal axis.

“Free from serious damage” means the appearance shall not be injured to the extent of more than twenty per centum of the surface and that any damages from the causes mentioned can be removed by the ordinary processes or paring without increase in waste of more than ten per centum, by weight, over that which would occur if the potato were perfect. [Id.]

Art. 117. Inspectors.—The Commissioner of Agriculture shall appoint inspectors to inspect fruits and vegetables at the different shipping or loading stations in this State, when called upon by the growers, shippers or shippers' agents representing the growers, and the expenses of such inspectors shall be paid by said growers, shippers or shippers' agents. Where two or more shipping agents are operating at the same shipping point, and one of them requests a State Inspector and such inspector is appointed by the Commissioner of Agriculture, each shipping agency at said shipping point shall be required to come under the State Inspector, and each shall pay his pro rata share of the expense of inspection.

In the grading, packing and inspection of onions, only those shippers who desire State Inspection shall be required to have their onions inspected under State authority, and all railway and express companies may accept and ship onions not inspected by State Inspectors, provided that graded and non-graded onions shall not be shipped in the same car, except in less than carload lots.

The Commissioner shall furnish a blank form or certificate to all State Inspectors, to be filled out by them to accompany each carload of fruits and vegetables, where State inspection is enforced. Said certificate shall contain the name and number of the car, the kind and grade of fruits or vegetables and number of the car, the kind and grade of fruits or vegetables, and number of packages contained, the date of shipment and name of inspector, together with the words, “Graded and Packed under State Inspection.” [Acts 1917, p. 396; Acts 1919, p. 93.]

Art. 118. Commissioner of Agriculture.—The Commissioner of Agriculture is hereby authorized and empowered to enforce each provision of this chapter, and he shall promulgate and publish all necessary rules and regulations for the enforcement of this law, and such other information as will aid fruit and truck growers and the manufacturers of containers in complying with the provisions of this chapter. [Acts 1917, p. 401.]

127. Certificate to accompany shipment.
128. Nursery stock shipped into State.
129. May revoke certificate.
130. Transportation companies not liable.
131. Unlawful shipments.
132. Chief inspector.
133. Inspection fees.
134. Salary and expenses.
135. Definitions.

Article 119. [4458–68] Control.—The protection of fruit trees, shrubs, and plants shall be under the supervision and control of the Commissioner of Agriculture. The Commissioner shall prepare and enforce suitable rules and regulations for the traffic and shipment of cape jasmine, cut flowers, and such greenhouse and floral shipments as may require control, and for the inspection of nurseries, greenhouses, orchards, forest trees, and all products originating from the same, within the meaning of this chapter. He shall enforce the provisions of this chapter and make and enforce such other rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith as may be deemed necessary to carry the same into effect. He shall also provide such rules and regulations concerning city, private or public parks, avenues of shade trees, shrubbery and ornamentals along the streets of cities, for city residences, and city property generally, as will secure a protection and immunity from insect pests and contagious diseases intended to be provided for by this law. [Acts 1909, p. 316.]

Art. 120. [4459] Diseases and pests.—No person in this State shall knowingly or wilfully keep any peach, almond, apricot, nectarine or other trees affected with the contagious disease known as yellows, nor keep for sale any apple, peach, plum or other tree affected with nematode galls, crown galls, fire blight or root rot. No person shall knowingly or wilfully keep any plum, cherry or other trees affected with the contagious disease or fungus known as black knot or plum canker; nor any tree, shrub or plant infested with or by the San Jose scale or other insect pest dangerously injurious to or destructive of trees, shrubs or other plants; nor any grapefruit, orange or lemon trees, citrus stocks, cape jasmines or other trees, plants or shrubs infested with "white fly," Florida scale, cottony cushion scale, wooly aphis, or other injurious insect pests, or citrus canker, or other contagious diseases of citrus fruits; nor subtropical plants, shrubs, evergreens or ornamentals; nor any china, forest or other trees, shrubs, or plants, infested with injurious insect pests or contagious diseases. [Acts 1921, p. 100.]

Art. 121. [4459] Abatement of nuisance.—Every such infested or diseased tree, shrub or plant shall be a public nuisance, and it shall be the duty of the Commissioner or his representatives to abate it. For such purpose, he shall have power to enter upon any premises so affected for the purpose of legally inspecting and treating or destroying the same, and no damages shall be awarded against the Commissioner or his representatives for the exercise of such duties. [Id.]

Art. 122. [4459] Notice.—If it shall be determined that any such tree, shrub, or plant should be destroyed, written notice, signed by the Commissioner or his representative, shall be delivered in person to the owner of such trees, shrubs or plants, or left at his usual place of residence, or left with the person in charge of such premises, trees, plants, or shrubs, if such owner be not a resident of the locality. Such notice shall contain a brief statement of the facts found to exist, whereby it is necessary to destroy such trees, shrubs, or plants, and call attention to the law under which it is proposed to destroy them. [Id.]

Art. 123. [4459] Treatment or destruction.—Within ten days from the receipt of such notice, the owner shall remove and burn all such diseased or infested trees, shrubs, or plants. If, however, in the judgment of said Commissioner or his representative, any such tree, shrub, or plant can be treated with sufficient remedies, he may direct such treatment to be carried out by the owner under the direction of the Commissioner or his representative. [Id.]

Art. 124. [4459] Appeal.—In case of objections to the findings of the chief inspector, employé or representative of the commissioner, an appeal may be made to the Commissioner, whose decision shall be final. An appeal must be taken within five days from the service of said notice, and shall act as a stay of proceedings until it is heard and decided. If the decision on such appeal be against such owner, he shall be ordered to forthwith proceed with such treatment or destruction, and upon his refusal or neglect to do so, then the Commissioner, or chief inspector or employé or representative appointed by him, may employ all necessary assistance for that purpose and such representative or representatives, agent or agents, employé or employées, may enter upon any or all premises necessary for the purpose of such treatment or destruction, and shall forthwith treat or destroy such trees, shrubs, or plants. [Id.]

Art. 125. [4459] Expense of treatment.—All charges and expenses of such treatment or destruction shall be paid by such owner or person in charge of said trees, shrubs, or plants, and shall constitute a legal claim against such owner or person in charge, which may be recovered by suit brought by such Commissioner or chief inspector or the county attorney of the county where such premises are situated, together with all costs, including an attorney fee of ten dollars, to be taxed as other costs.

Art. 126. [4460] Examination and certificate.—To ascertain whether nursery stock is infected with diseases or pests, the Commissioner shall cause to be made at least once each year, an examination of each nursery or other place where nursery stock is exposed for sale. If such stock so examined is apparently free in all respects from any contagious or infectious disease or dangerously injurious insect pests, the Commissioner shall issue to the owner or proprietor of such stock a certificate reciting that the stock so examined was at the time of such examination apparently free from any such disease or pest. No such certificate shall be negotiable or transferable, and if sold or transferred, it shall be void. [Acts 1909, p. 316.]

Art. 127. [4461] Certificate to accompany shipment.—All nursery stock consigned for shipment, or shipped by freight, express or other means of transportation, shall be accompanied by a copy of said certificate attached to each car, box, bale, bundle or package. When such box, bale, bundle, or package, contains nursery stock to be delivered to more than one person, partnership, or corporation, each portion of such nursery stock to be delivered to such person, partnership or corporation, shall also bear a copy of the certificate of inspection issued as provided in the preceding article. [Id.]

Art. 128. [4462] Nursery stock shipped into State.—No person, partnership, or corporation outside the State shall be permitted to ship nursery stock into this State without having first filed with the Commissioner of Agriculture a certified copy of his or their certificate of inspection issued by the proper authorities in the State from which the shipment originates. Such certificate must show that the stock to be shipped has been examined by the proper officers of inspection in such State, and that it is apparently free from all dangerous insect pests or contagious diseases and when fumigation is required by the Commissioner of Agriculture, that the stock has been properly fumigated. Upon receipt of such certificate, the Commissioner shall make such investigation as to moral standing and integrity as will satisfy him that the applicant is entitled to receive such certificate. A fee of five dollars shall be required from the applicant, upon the receipt of which the Commissioner may issue a certificate permitting the applicant to ship such nursery stock into this State.

Each box, bale or package of nursery stock from outside the State shall bear a tag on which is printed a copy of the certificate of this State, and also a copy of the certificate of the State in which it originates. [Id.]

Art. 129. [4464] May revoke certificate.—The Commissioner may revoke any certificate issued under this chapter when he finds that false representations have been made by the party to whom the same was issued, or upon refusal of such party to comply with the law, instructions or rules given by the Commissioner as authorized by this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 130. [4463] Transportation companies not liable.—No transportation company or common carrier shall be liable for damages to the consignee or consignor for refusing to receive for transportation or deliver such trees, packages, bales, bundles or boxes when not accompanied by copies of the certificates provided for in the second preceding article. The agent of any such company or carrier shall immediately report to the Commissioner of Agriculture any such shipment not so accompanied. [Id.]

Art. 131. [4463] Unlawful shipments.—The Commissioner shall inspect shipments of nursery stock into this State, or originating within this State without tags or proper certificates as above provided for,

for diseases or pests, and if infected, the same shall be dealt with as infected nursery stock. [Id.]

Art. 132. [4465] Chief Inspector.—The Commissioner shall appoint one person who shall be designated Chief Inspector, who shall inspect, or cause to be inspected, under the direction of the Commissioner, all trees, plants, and shrubs of every kind whatsoever, grown, produced or offered for sale by any nursery, dealer, person or corporation in this State, and also inspect, or cause to be inspected, all orchards provided for above. Such inspector may employ such persons or experts as may be necessary to enforce these provisions. [Id.]

Art. 133. [4465] Inspection fees.—The Commissioner shall fix and collect reasonable fees for the inspection herein provided for, of not less than two dollars and fifty cents nor more than fifteen dollars for each inspection. [Id.]

Art. 134. [4465] Salary and expenses.—Each person employed by the Commissioner as herein provided shall be paid a salary not exceeding five dollars per day and traveling expenses while actually engaged in the performance of his duties. [Id.]

Art. 135. [4467] Definitions.—The terms "nursery stock", "nursery" "dealer," and "agent of a nursery or dealer," as used in this chapter, shall have the same meaning as is given those terms by Article 1698 of the Penal Code. Any such agent shall have proper credentials from the dealer he represents or cooperates with; and failing in that, any such agent shall be classed as a dealer, and subject to such rules as may be adopted relating to them, and shall be amenable to the same penalties for the violation of any provision of this law. [Id.]

CHAPTER SEVEN A

PLANT DISEASES AND PESTS

Art.

135a. Insect pests and plant diseases.

135b. Quarantine and pest free zones.

135c. Investigations, hearings, and reports.

135d. Commissioners' court orders and regulations.

Article 135a. Insect pests and plant diseases.

—If the Commissioner of Agriculture of this State, hereinafter called the "Commissioner," determines the fact, as provided in Section 3 hereof [Art. 135c], that any dangerous insect pest or plant disease new to and not heretofore widely distributed in this State exists outside of Texas, or if such pest be introduced into this State, he is hereby authorized and it is made his duty to establish, maintain and enforce a quarantine against such infested area and shall prevent the movement from such quarantined areas into areas in this State not infested of any such plants and plant products as are liable to disseminate the pest under consideration. If such plants or plant products as shall be quarantined, as provided for herein, can be so disinfected or treated as to not endanger the agricultural interests of this State, then the Commissioner shall promulgate rules and regulations governing such disinfection or treatment before allowing such products to be shipped out of such quarantined area. The Commissioner shall have authority and it is hereby made his duty to promulgate rules and regulations governing the inspection and certification of seed beds or propagation grounds where plants are produced for sale and transplanting, when such plants as may be produced and offered for sale are known carriers of the sweet potato weevil, nematode gall worms or any dangerous fungus or bacterial disease of valuable agricultural or horticultural crops. As soon as practicable after the passage of this Act [Arts. 135a-135d; P. C. Art. 1700a] he shall publish a list of such plants, and thereafter it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to transport or sell any such plants that may be infested with sweet potato weevil, nematode gall worms or dangerous fungus or bacterial disease of valuable agricultural and horticultural crops. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 97, ch. 69, § 1.]

Art. 135b. Quarantine and pest free zones.—

When the Commissioner determines the fact that any insect pest or plant disease of general distribution in the State does not exist in any particular area, he is hereby authorized to publish such fact, and he shall have full power and authority to place a quarantine around such "free area" and prevent the introduction therein of any plants, plant products, things or substances liable to be infested with such insect pest or plant disease. Venue in cases arising under the provisions of this section shall be in courts of competent jurisdiction in the county in which such "pest-free" zones are established. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 97, ch. 69, § 2.]

Art. 135c. Investigations, hearings, and reports.—

Before any quarantine shall be established, as provided for in Sections 1 and 2 herein [Arts. 135a, 135b] the said Commissioner shall cause the Chief Entomologist of the Department of Agriculture and, if he deems it advisable, one or more other persons designated and appointed by the said Commissioner, to make an investigation and hold a public hearing at some convenient and accessible point, due notice of which shall have been given at least ten (10) days prior to the day of such hearing by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the area or areas to be considered. Such notice shall state the pests or plant diseases and the area to be considered, at which hearing all persons interested shall have the right to be heard. The Chief Entomologist and other persons appointed to conduct such hearing, if any, shall take the constitutional oath of office and be empowered to administer oaths for the purpose of taking testimony and shall record the proceedings had, and shall investigate whether or not the particular pests or plant diseases under consideration constitute a menace to any valuable plant or plant product and shall make a written report to the Commissioner of the findings thereof as to whether or not such pests or plant diseases as may be considered are in fact a menace to any valuable agricultural or horticultural crop and the reasons for such conclusions. Such report shall also indicate whether or not any quarantine action is necessary or desirable; and if so, the best known means of circumscribing, controlling, preventing the spread of or exterminating such pests or plant diseases. After receiving such report, the said Commissioner is authorized to promulgate such quarantine regulations as may be indicated to be necessary for the protection of the agricultural or horticultural interests of this state. Provided that in the event any person or persons are aggrieved, and will be injuriously affected by the said quarantine, or whose property is to be destroyed by any such quarantine or orders of the Commissioner, shall have the right to appeal such matter to the District Court of any Judicial District in which such quarantine or orders are promulgated by giving written notice thereof to the commissioner, stating to what District Court said application is made, such notice to be by registered mail within ten (10) days from the date of the Commissioner's proclamation. Immediately upon receipt of such notice the said Commissioner shall make a certified copy of his orders and proclamations in said cause and transmit same to the District Court named in the notice. Upon receipt of said papers by the Clerk of said Court, said cause shall be docketed ———, Commissioner of Agriculture vs. ———, defendant, on the Civil Docket of said Court, and tried in said Court in the manner provided for the trial of civil cases, and the judgment of the said court upon final hearing shall be "that the orders and proclamations of the said Commissioner be approved and enforced, or that said orders and proclamations be and are vacated and held for naught," as the Court or Jury may determine. Provided however that the Commissioner of Agriculture shall have no power under this Act to enforce a local quarantine in any County or a part thereof in this State until the Commissioner's Court of the County to be quarantined shall have passed an order entered upon the Minutes of said Court, requesting quarantine of such County or a part thereof. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 97, ch. 69, § 3.]

Art. 135d. Commissioners' court orders and regulations.—When so requested by the Commissioners' Court of any county in this state, the Commissioner shall cause an investigation to be made to determine whether or not any certain insect pest or pests or plant disease or diseases exist in such county or in any part thereof, and shall cause a written report to be made to the said Commissioners' Court which shall contain a statement as to the nature of the infestation, if any, the best known means or method of circumscribing, eradicating, controlling or exterminating the same, and shall state therein specifically what treatment or method is necessary to be applied in each case, as the matter may require, with detailed statement or description as to the method of making or procuring and of applying any preparation or treatment so recommended therefor and the time and duration for such treatment. Upon receipt of such statement, the Commissioners' Court of such county is hereby authorized to cause the same to be published two (2) consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation in the area or areas under consideration, together with notice of hearing to be held by said Commissioners' Court, which hearing shall be held not less than twenty (20) days after the first notice shall have been published, at which hearing all persons interested shall have the right to be heard. After such hearing, the said Commissioners' Court shall make a report to the Commissioner, giving its conclusions. If such report approves the recommendations that shall have been made and the Commissioners' Court of such county believes that such measures as shall have been recommended should be applied in such area or areas that may be under consideration; then the said Commissioners' Court shall, by an order duly entered in its minutes, request the said Commissioner to establish a "control" or "eradication" zone, as the matter may require, in said area, and the Commissioner shall issue a proclamation creating such area or areas as may be designated an "eradication" zone or "control" zone, as the case may be, and shall prescribe rules and regulations governing the circumscribing, control, eradication or extermination of such pest or disease, and thereafter it shall be unlawful for any person to do any act prohibited by such rules and regulations, or refuse to do anything commanded to be done by such rules and regulations. The Commissioners' Courts of the several counties shall have full power and authority to appropriate funds from the general revenue of the county and to employ such aid as may be necessary to carry into effect this provision. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 97, ch. 69, § 4.]

Section 6 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 97, ch. 69, provides that the Act shall be cumulative of all laws providing for quarantine and insect and plant disease control and shall not repeal any law or part of law except when in direct conflict.

1. STATE EXPERIMENT STATIONS

Article 136. Purposes.—There shall be established at such places in this State as the board hereinafter named may deem proper, experiment stations for the purpose of making experiments and conducting investigations in the planting and growing of agricultural and horticultural crops and soils, and the breeding, feeding and fattening of live stock for slaughter. Proceeds from the sale, barter or exchange of crops raised on any of said experiment stations shall go to defray the expenses of operating the same. [Acts 1st C. S. 1913, p. 98.]

Art. 137. Main station.—The experiment station located at the Agricultural and Mechanical College in Brazos County which is in part supported by the Federal Government shall remain at said point as a permanent institution. It shall be known as the Main State Experiment Station, and shall be under the supervision of the Board of Directors of such college. Such Board shall have the authority to accept from the Federal Government such aid in its support as may be provided by Congress. All other experiment stations of whatever character, now or which may hereafter be established under the authority of this subdivision shall be considered sub-stations. [Id.]

Art. 138. Supervising Board.—The Board of Directors of such college is vested with the authority, duties, and powers conferred by this subdivision upon said Board, and shall exercise a general supervision and direction over all sub-experiment stations established hereunder. [Acts 1st C. S. 1921, p. 148.]

Art. 139. Powers of Board.—The Board shall have power:

1. To establish sub-experiment stations at such places in this State as it shall deem proper, in addition to those now in operation.

2. To abandon or discontinue any sub-station which may become undesirable for experiment purposes, and if deemed necessary to establish others in their stead at such other places in the same county as it shall deem advisable.

3. To sell any land or other State property used in the operation of an experiment station when so abandoned, and to apply the proceeds of such sale in the purchase of other land and property for the establishment of experiment stations. [Acts 1st C. S. 1913, p. 98.]

Art. 140. Sale of stations.—In the event of any such sale, the title to said property shall not pass from this State until a deed of conveyance therefor is made to the purchaser duly signed by the Governor and attested by the Secretary of State under his official seal. All funds received from the sale of station lands or property shall be deposited in the State Treasury and shall be paid out in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 141. Valley Citrus Station.—The Board is authorized to establish and maintain a horticultural and agricultural experiment station in the citrus belt of Cameron or Hidalgo County for the purpose of making scientific investigations and experiments in the production of citrus fruits and in determining the best methods of eradicating insect pests and dangerous diseases that infect citrus trees, and for the purpose of studying the other horticultural and agricultural problems of that region. For such purposes, the Board is empowered to secure a suitable site for the location of said station in either of said counties containing a sufficient amount of land not exceeding one hundred acres well adapted to the growing of citrus fruits and supplied with water for irrigation purposes. Said station shall be subject to all the provisions of this chapter applicable to its operation, maintenance and control. [Acts 1923, p. 69.]

Art. 142. Donations.—The Board shall have power to accept and receive all donations in money or other property when given to be used in connection with any experiment work authorized by this subdivision. [Acts 1923, p. 69.]

Art. 143. Leases.—In the location of any experiment station, said board may take into consideration and receive any donation either in money, land or other property, to be used in the operation, equipment or management of any such station, and for experiment work, may lease such land as may, in its judgment, be necessary for any of the purposes named in this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 144. Inspections.—The Board shall visit said stations once each year, and make such criticisms to the director and his assistants as it shall deem expedient and needful. [Id.]

Art. 145. Expenses of Board.—The necessary traveling expenses of the members of the Board and those of the director and his assistants, shall be paid out of the funds appropriated by this State for the maintenance and support of said experiment stations. In addition to their actual traveling expenses, the members of said board, when traveling upon the official business of said stations, shall each be paid five dollars per day while actually engaged in the discharge of their duties. [Id.]

Art. 146. Director of Stations.—All sub-stations embraced within this subdivision shall be subject to the provisions of this law and shall be under the supervision, control, management and direction of the Director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at the Agricultural and Mechanical College. Such director shall reside at College Station. The board is authorized to pay a part of the director's salary from the funds appropriated by the Legislature for the maintenance and support of said experiment stations, in such proportion as in its judgment may be just and proper; taking into consideration the division of his time between said sub-stations and the Main Station, and the sum appropriated for such purposes by the Federal Government. The director may employ such assistants and labor and may purchase such live stock, farming implements, tools, seed, and such other materials and supplies as he shall deem necessary to the successful management of any or all of such experiment stations, subject to the approval of the Board. [Id.]

Art. 147. Reports.—On the first day of each month the director shall make a complete report to the Board showing receipts and disbursements, the source of such receipts and for what the same were disbursed; and on or before the first day of January of each year, he shall make a full and detailed report to said Board of the operation of said stations, including a statement of receipts and expenditures for the entire year. Such annual report shall be transmitted to the Governor with such additional report as the Board shall deem proper. [Id.]

Art. 148. Bulletin.—The director shall issue and circulate among the farmers and live stock raisers of Texas, from time to time, as may be deemed beneficial to such industries, printed bulletins showing the results of such experiments, and the results accomplished and the progress made in the improvement of the agricultural and live stock interests of this State. Such bulletins shall be mailed to such persons as may desire them. The director shall invite the co-operation of persons engaged in such industries, and shall give them advice when requested, with reference to the management and cultivation of their farms, and the care, management and feeding of their stock. [Id.]

Art. 149. Disbursements.—Before warrants are issued by the Comptroller in payment of State experiment station accounts, vouchers covering the same shall be audited and signed by the director or an assistant designated by him, in writing, for that purpose, and also by a member of the Board. [Id.]

2. COUNTY FARMS AND STATIONS

Art. 150. Establishment.—The commissioners court of any county shall, under the terms and provisions of this subdivision, establish and maintain an agricultural experiment farm and station within their county. [Acts 1911, p. 208.]

Art. 151. Petition and election.—On petition of not less than ten per cent of the legal voters of such county who voted for Governor in the preceding election, the commissioners court shall submit the question of the adoption of the provisions of this subdivision to the qualified voters of said county; and said court shall order an election to be held not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the date of the election order, which shall be signed by the county judge. Such election shall be held at the usual voting places and by the usual election officers, and as near as may be shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of Texas. Notice of such order shall be given by posting copies thereof at all the post offices within such county and at the court house door of such county. At such election those favoring a county experiment farm and station under the provisions of this subdivision shall vote a ticket on which shall be written or printed the words, "For a County Experiment Farm and Station," and those who are opposed shall vote a ticket on which shall be written or printed the words, "Against a County Experiment Farm and Station." Both tickets may be written or printed on the same piece of paper, and the voter may vote by erasing or drawing a line through the one he does not favor. [Id.]

Art. 152. Election returns.—The officers of the election shall make their report to and certify to the commissioners court the number of votes cast for and against such proposition, and if it appear that a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor of such farm and station, the court shall so declare the result, and shall then proceed to execute the provisions of this law by establishing such farm and station. [Id.]

Art. 153. Acquisition of property.—Said farm and station shall consist of such number of acres of land as might be reasonably expected to produce a revenue sufficient to maintain the same, to be determined by the commissioners court, and shall, with sufficient houses, residences, barns and lots thereon, be donated to the county with good and legal title thereto, free of cost to the county. [Id.]

Art. 154. Location of station.—Said farm shall be located at the county seat or as near thereto as practicable, but if no such donation is offered at or within reasonable distance from the county seat, not to exceed two miles, then such farm may be located elsewhere in the county, having due regard for the benefits to be derived from such farm and station. [Id.]

Art. 155. Supervision.—Said experiment farm shall be affiliated with and directed in a manner similar to that of all experiment stations, and shall be under the advisory direction of the Director of State experiment stations. [Id.]

Art. 156. Director.—The said station shall be in charge of and under the direction of a director who shall be appointed by the commissioners court. He shall be a practical farmer, and shall pass a satisfactory examination touching his general knowledge, information, education, and his knowledge of farming, stock raising and other affairs incident to successful farm life. Such examination shall be prescribed by and taken under the Director of State Experiment stations or some one designated by him for such purpose. The said director shall be furnished a residence on said farm, free of cost for himself and family, as a part of his compensation, and shall receive such salary as the commissioners court may fix, not less than seventy-five dollars per month. The commissioners shall not rent or lease said farm to any one, nor permit it to be done by any one. [Id.]

Art. 157. Supplies and improvements.—The commissioners court shall supply said farm and station with sufficient houses, barns, lots, machinery, farm utensils, scientific instruments, materials, seeds and such other necessities as may be necessary and shall make all needed improvements. Said farm shall be supplied with such stock, including work stock and cattle, both for service and breeding purposes, as may be necessary to promote the improvement of the farm and stock raising industry of such county. [Id.]

Art. 158. Labor.—The director of said farm shall conduct the same, and employ the necessary labor with the approval and advice of the commissioners court to conduct said farm. County paupers shall not be maintained or permitted to work upon said farm. [Id.]

Art. 159. Records.—The director shall keep a complete and accurate record of rainfall, temperature, the winds, and general climatic conditions; the planting, cultivation and marketing of all crops of every character; of his management and observation, and of his management of the live stock on said farm. [Id.]

Art. 160. Bulletins.—He shall make an annual report to the commissioners court showing in detail his methods and results, which report shall be published by the county, with the consent of the commissioners court, and mailed without cost to every person in the county engaged in farming and to others on request, to every experiment station in Texas, and to the State and United States Departments of Agriculture. [Id.]

Art. 161. Information.—The director shall at all reasonable times keep said farm open to the inspection of the public, and it shall be his duty to disseminate information, and to explain to all persons his manner and methods of preparation, soil culture, cultivation, gathering, preservation and marketing of the products of said farm. [Id.]

Art. 162. Sale of products.—He shall sell and market the products of said farm, under the rules made therefor by the commissioners court, and shall pay the proceeds thereof to the county treasurer, who shall place the same to the credit of the general fund of the county. The director shall perform such other duties as the commissioners court may prescribe not inconsistent with law. [Id.]

Art. 163. Expenses.—The labor necessary for the cultivation and care of said farm, including the salary of the director, and all expenses and expenditures provided for in this chapter, shall be paid by the county out of its general funds upon warrants drawn by the director and approved by the county judge. [Id.]

Art. 164. Demonstration work.—The Commissioner's Court of any county of this state is authorized to establish and conduct co-operative demonstration work in Agriculture and Home Economics in co-operation with the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon by the Commissioners' Court and the Agents of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas; and may employ such means, and may appropriate and expend such sums of money as may be necessary to effectively establish and carry on such demonstration work in Agriculture and Home Economics in their respective counties. [Acts 1911, p. 105; Acts 1st C. S. 1917, p. 56; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 9, ch. 6, § 1.]

3. RAILWAY FARMS AND STATIONS

Art. 165. Powers.—Any railway corporation in Texas may acquire by lease or purchase, and maintain and operate, or cause to be operated, demonstration and experimental farms, orchards and gardens, no one of which shall exceed one thousand acres in size, for the purpose of aiding in the development of the agricultural and horticultural resources of Texas. No such corporation shall own or control more than four such farms. [Acts 1913, p. 319.]

ALIENS

Art.

- 166. Ownership of land prohibited.
- 167. Exceptions.
- 168. Time to alienate.
- 169. Liens, loans and debts.
- 170. Term of title.
- 171. May sell before escheat.
- 172. Proceedings to escheat.
- 173. Qualification as guardian, etc.
- 174. Corporation controlled by aliens.
- 175. Land owned in trust.
- 176. Reports and record of ownership.
- 177. Personal property.

Article 166. [15] [19] Ownership of land prohibited.—No alien or alien corporation shall acquire any interest, right or title either legal or equitable in or to any lands in the State of Texas, except as hereinafter provided. [Acts 1854, p. 98, Acts C. S. 1892, p. 6, Acts 1921, p. 261.]

Art. 167. [16] [10] Exceptions.—This title shall not apply to any land now owned in this State by aliens, not acquired in violation of any law of this State, so long as it is held by the present owners; nor to lots or parcels of land owned by aliens in any incorporated town or city of this State, nor to the following classes of aliens, who are, or who shall become bona fide inhabitants of this State, so long as they shall continue to be bona fide inhabitants of this State:

1. Aliens who were bona fide inhabitants of this State on the date on which this Act becomes a law.

2. Aliens eligible to citizenship in the United States who shall become bona fide inhabitants of this State, and who shall, in conformity with the naturalization laws of the United States, have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States.

3. Aliens who are natural born citizens of nations which have a common land boundary with the United States.

4. Aliens who are citizens or subjects of a nation which now permits citizens of this State to own land in fee in such country. [Id.]

Art. 168. [16] [10] Time to alienate.—Any resident alien who shall acquire land under any provision of the preceding article shall have five years after he shall cease to be a bona fide inhabitant of this State in which to alienate said land. [Id.]

Art. 169. [17] [11] Liens, loans and debts.—The provisions of this title shall not prevent aliens or alien corporations from lending money secured by lien upon real estate or any interest therein, nor from enforcing any such lien, nor from acquiring and holding title to such real estate or any interest therein when sold for the purpose of enforcing such lien, or for enforcing the collection of a debt. [Id.]

Art. 170. [18] [12] Term of title.—All aliens and all alien corporations who are prohibited from owning land in this State under the provisions of this title, who shall hereafter acquire real estate in Texas by devise, descent, or by purchase as permitted by this title, may hold same for five years, and if such alien is a minor, he may hold same for five years after attaining his majority, or if of unsound mind for five years after the appointment of a legal guardian. [Id.]

Art. 171. [19] [13] May sell before escheat.—Any alien who shall hereafter acquire lands in Texas, in contravention of the provisions of this title, may, nevertheless, convey the fee simple title thereof at any time before the institution of escheat proceedings, as hereinafter provided. If any such conveyance shall be made by such alien either to an alien or to a citizen of the United States, in trust, and for the purpose and with the intention of evading the provisions of this title, such conveyance shall be null and void; and any such land so conveyed shall be forfeited and escheated to the State. [Id.]

Art. 172. [20] [14] Proceedings to escheat.—The Attorney General or the district or county attorney when he shall be informed or have reason to believe that lands in this State are being held contrary to the provisions of this title shall institute suit in behalf of the State of Texas praying for the escheat of the same on behalf of the State.

Art. 173. Qualification as guardian, etc.—No alien shall ever be appointed or permitted to qualify as guardian of the estate of any minor or person of unsound mind, or as executor or administrator of the estate of any decedent [decedent] in the State, unless he is permitted to own land under the provisions of this title. [Acts 1921, p. 262.]

Art. 174. Corporations controlled by aliens.—No corporation in which the majority of the capital stock is legally or equitably owned by aliens prohibited by law from owning land in Texas shall acquire title to or own any lands in Texas or any leasehold or other interest in such lands except as hereinafter provided and land so owned shall be subject to escheat as though owned by a non-resident alien. [Id.]

Art. 175. Land owned in trust.—Land owned in trust, either by an alien or by a citizen of the United States, for the beneficial use of any alien or aliens, or any corporation prohibited from owning land in this State under the provisions of this title, shall be subject to escheat as though the legal title thereto was in such alien or corporation. [Id.]

Art. 176. Report and record of ownership.—All alien[s] and all alien corporations now owning lands in this State shall on or before the last day of January 1926 file a written report under oath, with the clerk of the county court of the county in which such land is located, giving the name, age, occupation, personal description, place of birth, last foreign residence and allegiance, the date and place of arrival of said alien in the United States, and his or her present residence and post-office address, and the length of time of residence in Texas, the foreign prince, potentate, State or sovereignty, of which the alien may at the time be a citizen or subject, and the number of acres of land owned by such alien in such county, the name and number of the survey, the abstract and certificate number, the name of the person or persons, from whom acquired, and shall either describe said land by metes and bounds, or refer to recorded deed in which same is so described, which report shall be known as "REPORT OF ALIEN OWNERSHIP." All aliens and all alien corporations hereafter purchasing, or in any manner acquiring lands located in Texas, shall, within six months after such purchase, or acquisition, file with the county clerk of the county in which such land is located, a "Report of Alien Ownership," in terms as above required. Any alien or alien corporation who may now own land in Texas, or who may hereafter acquire any land in Texas, by purchase or otherwise, who does not within the time prescribed in this article, file the reports herein provided for, shall be subject to have such land forfeited and escheated to the State of Texas. The reports herein required shall, when the alien is a minor or insane person, be filed by the parent or guardian of such alien. The county clerk of each county shall file and record the reports above provided for in a separate volume, to be entitled "RECORD OF ALIEN OWNED LANDS," for said county. The recording of such reports shall be paid by the alien owner. [Id.]

Art. 177. [15] [9] Personal property.—Aliens shall have and enjoy in this State such rights as to personal property as are or shall be accorded to citizens of the United States by the laws of the Nation to which such alien shall belong or by the treaties by such Nation with the United States. [Id.]

AMUSEMENTS—PUBLIC HOUSES OF

Art.
178. "Public houses of amusement."
179. Leases.

Article 178. "Public houses of amusement."—All buildings constructed, fitted and equipped for the purpose of theaters, commonly called theaters, opera houses, play houses, or by whatever name designated, which are and shall hereafter be used for public performances, the production and exhibition of plays, dramas, operas, or other shows of whatever nature, to which admission fees are charged, are hereby declared to be public houses of amusement, and the same shall be subject to regulation by ordinance, statute, or other law. Owners and lessees shall have the right to assign seats to patrons thereof, and to refuse admission to objectionable characters. [Acts 1907, p. 21.]

Art. 179. Leases.—Upon the failure of [or] refusal of any lessee, or his assigns, of any such public house of amusement to comply with the law governing such places of amusement, or upon conviction of the violation of any provision of the Penal Code relating to discrimination in the booking of plays, opera shows, or other productions, by whatever name known, which are and shall hereafter be used for public performances, he shall forfeit his lease and all rights and privileges thereunder. [Id.]

ANIMALS

1. CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

Art.
180. Definitions.
181. Cruelty to fowls.
182. Cruelty to animals.
183. May take animal.
184. Lien.
185. Enforcing lien.
186. Impounded animal.
187. May destroy animal.
188. Badge.
189. Duty of officers.

2. DESTRUCTION OF ANIMALS

190. By poison.
190a. Bounty for destruction of predatory animals in certain counties.
191. Prairie dogs.
192. Bounties.
192a. Co-operation between state and federal agencies in destruction of predatory animals.

1. CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

Article 180. Definitions.—As used in this subdivision, the word "animal" includes every living dumb creature; the words "torture" and "cruelty" include every act, omission or neglect whereby unnecessary or unjustifiable pain or suffering is caused, permitted or allowed to continue when there is a reasonable remedy or relief. The words "owner" and "person" include corporations, and the knowledge and acts of agents and employes of corporations in regard to animals transported, owned, used by or in custody of the corporation shall be held to be the knowledge and acts of such corporation. [Acts 1913, p. 168.]

Art. 181. Cruelty to fowls.—Whoever receives live fowls, poultry or other birds for transportation or to be confined on wagons or stands, or by the owners of grocery stores, commission houses or other market houses, or by other persons when to be closely confined, shall place same immediately in coops, crates or cages made of open slats or wire on at least three sides and of such height that the fowls can stand upright without touching the top, have troughs or other receptacle easy of access at all times by the birds confined therein, and so placed that their contents shall not be defiled by them, in which troughs or other receptacles clean water and suitable food shall be constantly kept;

keep such coops, crates or cages in a clean and wholesome condition; place only such numbers in each coop, crate or cage as can stand without crowding one another, but have room to move around; not expose same to undue heat or cold, and remove immediately all injured, diseased or dead fowls or other birds. [Id.]

Art. 182. Cruelty to animals.—It shall be unlawful for any person to overdrive, willfully overload, drive when overloaded, overwork, torture, torment, deprive of necessary sustenance, unnecessarily or cruelly beat, or needlessly mutilate or kill any animal or carry any animal in or upon any vehicle, or otherwise, in a cruel or inhuman manner, or cause or procure the same to be done, or who having the charge or custody of any animal unnecessarily fails to provide it with proper food, drink or cruelly abandons it. [Id.]

Art. 183. May take animal.—When any person arrested under any provision of this law is, at the time of such arrest, in charge of any vehicle drawn by or containing any animal cruelly treated, any agent of the State Humane Society, having been authorized by the sheriff of the county to make arrests in such cases, may take charge of such animal and such vehicle and its contents, and the animal or animals drawing same, and shall give notice thereof to the owner, if known, and shall care and provide for them until their owner shall take charge of the same; and such agent shall have a lien on said animals and on said vehicle and its contents for the expense of such care and provision, or the said expense or any part thereof remaining unpaid may be recovered by such agent in a civil action. [Id.]

Art. 184. Lien.—Any officer or agent of said humane society may lawfully take charge of any animal found abandoned, neglected or cruelly treated and shall thereupon give notice thereof to the owner, if known, and may care and provide for such animal until the owner shall take charge of same, and the expense of such care and provision shall be a charge against the owner of such animal and collectible from such owner by said humane society in an action therefor. When said humane society shall provide neglected abandoned animals with proper food, shelter and care, it may detain such animals until the expense of such food, shelter and care is paid, and shall have a lien upon such animals therefor. [Id.]

Art. 185. Enforcing lien.—Any person or corporation entitled to a lien under any provision of this subdivision may enforce the same by selling the animals and other personal property upon which such lien is given, at public auction, upon giving notice to the owner, if he be known, of the time and place of such sale, at least five days previous thereto, and by posting three notices of the time and place of such sale in three public places within the county, at least five days previous thereto. If the owner be not known, then such notice shall be posted at least ten days previous to such sale. [Id.]

Art. 186. Impound animal.—Every person who under the laws of this State or of any municipality thereof shall impound or cause to be impounded any animal in any pound or corral shall supply it during such confinement with sufficient wholesome food and water. If any animal so impounded shall continue to be without necessary food and water for more than twelve successive hours it shall be lawful for any person as often as necessary to enter into or upon said pound or corral and supply such animal with necessary food and water; the reasonable cost for such food and water may be collected by him from the owner of such animal which shall not be exempt from levy and sale upon execution issued upon a judgment therefor. [Id.]

Art. 187. May destroy animal.—Any agent or officer of said humane society may lawfully destroy or cause to be destroyed any animal in his charge when, in the judgment of such agent or officer, and by written certificate of two reputable citizens called to view same in his presence, one of whom may be selected by the owner of said animal if he shall so request, it appears humane to do so, and said citizens shall so certify that said animal appears to be injured to such an extent that it would be humane to destroy it. [Id.]

Art. 188. Badge.—Officers and agents of said humane society shall be provided with a certificate by said society stating that they are such officers or agents, or with a badge bearing the name and seal of said society; and shall on request show such certificate or badge when acting officially. [Id.]

Art. 189. Duty of officers.—Any member of said humane society may require any sheriff, constable, marshal, or any policeman of any town or city or any agent of said society authorized by the sheriff to make arrests for the violation of the law relating to cruelty to animals, to arrest any person violating any provision thereof, and to take possession of any animal cruelly treated in their respective counties, cities or towns. [Id.]

2. DESTRUCTION OF ANIMALS

Art. 190. By poison.—1. May buy poison.—The commissioners court of each county may purchase the necessary poisons and accessories required by the citizens of such county for the purpose of destroying prairie dogs, wild cats, gophers, ground squirrels, wolves, coyotes, rats, English sparrows and ravens, and pay for the same out of the general fund of the county, and may furnish the same at cost or free to such citizens. If the court shall elect to sell the same, the proceeds shall be turned into the treasury to the credit of the general fund.

2. Notice of putting out poison.—Said court shall designate a certain day or days for putting out poison, giving notice of same by posting up notices in public places, such as school houses, gins and mills, or other public places, and also publishing the same in at least one county newspaper, if there be one, for three successive issues. Said notices shall be given at least twenty days prior to the first day of the time designated to put out the poison. Said notice shall state the time of putting out poison, and that the poisons can be secured from the commissioners court, and the terms on which it can be had.

3. Commissioner of Agriculture.—The Commissioner of Agriculture shall furnish said court with formulas and instructions for preparing the poisons and plans for using the same, and shall, upon the request of any such court, as soon as practicable after receiving such request, demonstrate and give instructions how to prepare the poison and when and how to apply the same.

4. Duty of land holder.—Every land holder whose premises are infested with any of such pests shall procure poison and apply the same as set forth in the plans furnished by the Commissioner of Agriculture.

5. Duty of lessee or tenant.—Every lessee or tenant holding premises by contract shall secure the poison and destroy all such pests. All such expenses incurred by such tenant or lessee in thus destroying such pests shall be charged against the owner of the land and collectible as other valid debts. [Acts 4th C. S. 1918, p. 144.]

Art. 190a. Bounty for destruction of predatory animals in certain counties.—It shall hereafter be lawful for the Commissioners' Court of McCulloch, San Saba, Lampasas, Burnet and Llano Counties to pay out of the general fund of said counties, bounties for the destruction of wolves, wildcats and other predatory animals within said counties, as hereinafter provided.

On the petition of two hundred resident freeholders of any one of said counties, being presented to the commissioners' court of such county, the commissioners' court may, by resolution entered upon its minutes, provide for the destruction of such animals and the amount of bounty to be paid for the destruction of each of said predatory animals and the method of proving such destruction so as to entitle the person destroying such predatory animals to receive said bounty.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

The amounts paid as bounties for the destruction of predatory animals in said counties shall be paid by warrant drawn upon the general fund of the county by the judge of such county on the filing with him of such proof as the commissioners' court may require. [Acts 1925, p. 179.] [39th Leg., ch. 44, §§ 1-3; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 151, ch. 100, § 1.]

Art. 191. Prairie dogs.—Prairie dogs are hereby declared to be a public nuisance, and it shall be the duty of every owner of land in this State to destroy all prairie dogs on his land.

1. Duty of commissioners court.—The commissioners court of any county in which the prairie dogs exist, shall investigate and determine whether owners of lands in their respective commissioner's precincts have killed or caused to be killed all prairie dogs, and if such land owners have failed to do so, said commissioners shall immediately notify the sheriff of his county of such failure, and of the name and post office address of such owner, or his agent, and said sheriff shall immediately mail, by registered letter, a notice to the said owner, or his agent, that if he shall fail, within thirty days from and after the date of mailing of notice, to kill or cause to be killed such prairie dogs, he, the said sheriff, will proceed to destroy all prairie dogs on said land.

2. Duty of sheriff.—If any land owner has not within thirty days after receiving said notice destroyed the prairie dogs on his land, said sheriff shall immediately proceed to destroy said prairie dogs by the use of practical and economical methods in general use. He shall report his action, together with a sworn itemized bill of expenses to the first term of the commissioners court of said county, which court shall examine said account, and if found correct and reasonable, shall allow the same, and by its order duly entered, assess said amount against said owner and enter same as a lien against his land. Said court may pay the sheriff not exceeding five dollars per day for each day he has performed actual services in supervising the destruction of said prairie dogs.

3. Suit to recover assessment.—If the owner of any land against which costs and expenses have been assessed by the commissioners court shall fail to pay the same within thirty days after notice of such assessment, the county attorney of such county shall bring suit to enforce the payment thereof. The county attorney shall, in each suit brought by him for said purpose, be allowed a reasonable fee to be fixed by the court trying the cause, to be taxed as costs in the case, and upon the rendition of any judgment for such costs and expenses, execution and order of sale shall issue and be executed as in other cases. [Acts 1st C. S. 1915, p. 26.]

Art. 192. [7166-7-8] Bounties.—When any person shall kill in this State any wolf, coyote, jack rabbit, panther, tiger, leopard or wild cat, he shall be paid five dollars for each panther, Mexican lion, tiger or leopard; two dollars for each wolf, one dollar for each coyote or wild cat, and five cents for each jack rabbit so killed.

1. Proof.—The scalps of said animals so killed shall be presented by the person having killed said animals to the commissioners court of the county in which said animals were killed, accompanied by affidavit stating where and when he killed said animal, and the kind of each; that affiant in person, and no other, killed said animal or animals.

2. Scalps.—Such scalps shall consist of the scalp and both ears, so that the court may sufficiently identify the class of animals so killed. The court, when not satisfied as to the sufficiency of the evidence before it, under this law, may reject any and all claims. The court shall immediately take and pass upon said scalp and burn the same, but in no case shall any such court be authorized under this law to issue warrant for bounty on any scalp when presented with either ear of same disfigured in the least, cut, slit or any defect whatever, except such cut, slit or defect that may have been caused in shooting, trapping or killing the animal. Both ears must be absolutely whole. Such court shall Issue a certificate signed by at least three members of said court, and attested by the signature of the clerk of said court, and under the seal of said court showing the kind of animals killed and the number of each, and the name of the party who killed same and the amount due such party. The county clerk shall issue a warrant on the county treasurer for the amount specified, payable to the party named in such certificate.

3. Statement of payments.—The commissioners court of each county at each regular session of each year shall make an itemized statement showing the several amounts paid, to whom and when paid, by order of said court under the provisions of this law, said statement shall be entered upon the minutes of said court, and a certified copy thereof shall be sent by the clerk of said court to the Comptroller. Upon receipt of said certified copy by the Comptroller, he shall draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer for one-half of the aggregate amount paid out by such county under the provisions of this law, as shown by said certified copy, payable to the treasurer of said county which said amount, when received by said county treasurer, shall be by him credited to the fund of the third class of said county.

4. No trespassing.—Nothing herein authorizes any person to enter on the enclosed or posted lands or premises of another for the purpose of trapping or hunting, or otherwise catching or trapping wild animals for their scalp without first obtaining the consent of the owner. [Acts 1903, p. 113, Acts 1911, p. 44, Acts 1915, p. 88.]

Art. 192a. Co-operation between state and federal agencies in destruction of predatory animals.—Sec. 1. That the State of Texas will co-operate through the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas with the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Biological Survey, in destroying coyotes, wolves, mountain lions, bobcats and other predatory animals, and through the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas will co-operate with the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Biological Survey, in destroying prairie dogs, salamander, jack rabbits, pocket gophers, ground squirrels and other rodent pests, in the State of Texas in the interest of the protection of livestock, crops and ranges.

Sec. 2. There is hereby appropriated out of any sum in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of $——— for the fiscal year ending August 31st, 1928, for said purpose, and the sum of $——— is hereby appropriated from any sum in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the fiscal year ending August 31st, 1929, for the same purpose, provided that such moneys so appropriated shall not be expended as hereinafter provided unless the Federal Congress shall appropriate adequate funds from the United States Treasury for each.

Sec. 3. The funds hereby appropriated shall be apportioned each year between the two divisions of predatory animal control and rodent control as follows: $——— for predatory animal control and $——— for rodent control. Such funds shall be expended in amounts as authorized by the Chairman of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas and disbursed by warrants issued by the State Comptroller upon vouchers or pay rolls certified by the Chairman of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas for the predatory animal control division of the work, and in amounts as authorized by the President of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, and disbursed by warrants issued by the State Comptroller upon vouchers or pay rolls certified by the Director of Rodent Control for the rodent control division of the work. The work of destroying predatory animals and rodent pests is to be carried on under the direction of the Bureau of Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Sec. 4. The Chairman of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas is hereby authorized and directed to execute a co-operative agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America or the Bureau of Biological Survey of the United States of America for carrying out such co-operative work in predatory animal control in such manner and under such regulations as may be stated in said agreement. The President of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas is hereby authorized and directed to execute a co-operative agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture or the Bureau of Biological Survey for carrying out such co-operative work in rodent control in such manner and under such regulations as may be stated in said agreement.

Sec. 5. That the Commissioners' Court of any county within the State or the governing body of any incorporated city or town within the State upon request of ten or more freeholders is empowered and authorized at its discretion to appropriate money out of the general fund not otherwise appropriated, or to levy taxes at a rate of not to exceed one-fourth of one mill on total assessed valuation of the county or incorporated city or town, to provide funds for the prosecution of the predatory animal and rodent work contemplated by this Act, and in co-operation with State and Federal authorities to purchase and provide supplies required for the effective prosecution of the predatory animal and rodent work, to employ labor and, wherever necessary for the eradication of these pests, to enter upon state and private owned lands for the purpose of destroying injurious rodents or predatory animals thereon and to assess the actual cost of rodent eradication work against such private lands.

Sec. 6. All furs, skins and specimens taken by hunters or trappers paid from State funds shall be sold under rules prescribed by the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas and the proceeds of such sales shall be paid into the State Treasury to be credited and added to said predatory animal fund. All furs, skins and specimens taken by hunters or trappers paid from county funds shall be sold as prescribed by the commissioners' court of the county, and the proceeds of such sale shall be paid into the county treasury to be credited and added to such predatory animal fund, provided that any specimen so taken may be presented free of charge to the Agricultural and Mechanical College or any other State institution or to the United States National Museum.

Sec. 7. No bounty is to be collected from any county or other source for animals taken by hunters or trappers operating under this Act. Scalps of all animals taken are to be destroyed and all skins of commercial value sold, and every precaution taken to prohibit the collection of bounty by any person herein mentioned.

Sec. 8. Any person working under the direction of the Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, or the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, shall be authorized to enter upon public or private lands within this State for the purpose of carrying on the work of extermination of predatory animals and injurious rodents named in this Act. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 278, ch. 195.]

Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 50, ch. 36, §§ 1-5, created the Twelfth Supreme Judicial District to include the counties of Wichita, Montague, Clay, Archer, Young, Baylor and Knox, from the Second Supreme Judicial District and Foard, Hardeman, and Wilbarger counties from the Seventh Supreme Judicial District, provided for the holding of the sessions of the Court of Civil Appeals for such district at Wichita Falls, for the appointment of judges, and made appropriations for the salaries and expenses for the maintenance of the court, which the Governor did not approve. Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 378, ch. 255, § 1, restores such counties in the eleven districts thereby abolishing the Twelfth Supreme Judicial District.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS

Art. 199. [30] [22] [17] Judicial Districts.

—The judicial districts of the State shall be composed of the following named counties, and the terms of court in said districts shall be held therein each year, as follows:

1.—San Augustine, Sabine, Newton, Jasper and Orange.

San Augustine County: Beginning the first Monday in January and July and continue six weeks.

Newton County: Beginning the seventh Monday after the first Monday in January and July and continue four weeks.

Sabine County: Beginning on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in January and July and continue five weeks.

Orange County: Beginning on the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in January and July and continue five weeks.

Jasper County: Beginning on the twenty-first Monday after the first Monday in January and July and continue six weeks. [Acts 1907, p. 100; Acts 1913, p. 176; Acts 1917, p. 263.]

2. Angelina, Cherokee and Nacogdoches.

Sec. 1. Cherokee County. On the first Monday in January and may continue eight weeks; on the 26th Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue nine weeks.

Nacogdoches County. On the eighth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue nine weeks; on the thirty-fifth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue eight weeks.

Angelina County. On the seventeenth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue nine weeks; on the forty-third Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue eight weeks.

Sec. 2. All processes, all writs and bonds, civil and criminal, issued or executed prior or subsequent to the taking effect of this Act and returnable to the terms of said Court as heretofore fixed by law in the several Counties composing the said Second Judicial District, as well as all grand and petit jurors, are hereby made returnable to the terms of said Courts, as said terms are here now fixed by this Act, and in conformity with the change herein made, and all bonds executed and recognizances entered into in said Courts, shall bind the parties for their appearances or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds and recognizances at the terms of said Courts as they are fixed by this Act, and all process of every kind heretofore returned to, as well as all bonds and recognizances heretofore taken or hereafter entered into after this Act takes effect in any of said Courts, in said District, shall be as valid and as binding as if no change had been made in the time of holding said Court. [Acts 1911, p. 93; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 196, ch. 128.]

Section 3 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 196, ch. 128, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

3.—Houston, Henderson and Anderson.

Henderson County: On the first Monday in February and the second Monday before the first Monday in September and may continue seven weeks.

Houston County: On the seventh Monday after the first Monday in February and on the fifth Monday after the first Monday in September, and may continue seven weeks.

Anderson County: On the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in February and may continue eight weeks; on the twenty-second Monday after the first Monday in February and may continue until the business is disposed of; on the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in September and may continue until the business is disposed of. [Acts 1905, p. 141; Acts 1915, pp. 34, 83.]

4.—Rusk, Panola and Shelby.

The Fourth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Rusk, Panola and Shelby and the terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In Rusk County, beginning on the first Monday in January and continuing for five weeks; on the third Monday in July and continuing for five weeks.

In Shelby County beginning on the second Monday in February and continuing for six weeks; on the first Monday in November and continuing for seven weeks.

In Panola County beginning on the fourth Monday in March and continuing for five weeks; on the fourth Monday in September and continuing for five weeks. [Acts 1925, p. 266.] [39th Leg., ch. 93, § 1.]

Acts 1925, 39th Leg., H. C. R. No. 52, p. 706, approved March 19, 1925, required the enrolling clerk of the House to correct Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 93, p. 266, by "adding an additional week to the November term of court in Shelby County."

5.—Cass.

Cass County: On the tenth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue seven weeks and on the first Monday in September and may continue seven weeks. [Acts 1907, p. 198; Acts 1911, p. 167; Acts 1915, p. 6; Acts 1st C. S. 1921, p. 20.]

Bowie County is made a part of the 102nd judicial district by Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 16, p. 41, § 1. By § 9 of said acts, the judge of the 5th Judicial District is authorized, either in term time or vacation, to transfer civil or criminal cases pending in the 5th Judicial District to the 102nd Judicial District, and the judge of the 102nd Judicial District is authorized to transfer such cases to the 5th Judicial District. See 102d District.

6.—Fannin and Lamar.

Section 1. The terms of the court in and for the Sixth Judicial District shall be hereafter held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Fannin on the second Monday in January of each year and may continue in session for ten weeks;

In the county of Lamar on the eleventh Monday after the second Monday in January of each year and may continue in session for ten weeks;

In Fannin County on the twenty-first Monday after the second Monday in January of each year and may continue in session for eight weeks;

In Lamar County on the fifth Monday after the second Monday in August of each year and may continue in session six weeks;

In Fannin County on the eleventh Monday after the second Monday in August of each year and may continue in session six weeks;

In Lamar County on the seventeenth Monday after the second Monday in August of each year and may continue in session until the second Monday in January the following year.

Sec. 2. The judge of the Sixth Judicial District shall convene a grand jury in Lamar County at only two terms of court in each year unless in his judgment it be necessary for a grand jury the third term. [Acts 1925, p. 254.] [39th Leg., ch. 84, §§ 1, 2.]

The Judges of the 6th Judicial District Court of Lamar County and of the 62nd Judicial District Court of Lamar County are hereby authorized to transfer any and all civil cases from their respective dockets in Lamar County to that of the other court, either by general order at the close of the term of each court or by order made with reference to any case on the civil docket either in term time or vacation. [Acts 1925, p. 254.] [39th Leg., ch. 84, §§ 1, 2; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 225, ch. 154, § 1.]

Red River County is placed in the 102d judicial district by Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 16, p. 41, § 1; and see § 5 of said ch. 16. See 102d district.

7.—Upshur, Wood and Smith.

Upshur County: On the first Monday in January and may continue four weeks; on the third Monday in April and may continue four weeks; and on the second Monday in September and may continue four weeks.

Wood County: On the fourth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue four weeks; on the fourth Monday after the third Monday in April and may continue four weeks; and on the fourth Monday after the second Monday in September and may continue four weeks.

Smith County: On the eighth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue six weeks; on the eighth Monday after the third Monday in April and may continue six weeks; and on the eighth Monday after the second Monday in September and may continue six weeks. [Acts 1909, p. 120; Acts 1917, p. 130; Acts 1923, p. 37.]

8.—Hunt, Hopkins, Delta and Rains.

Delta County: On the first Monday in January and may continue three weeks; and on the first Monday in June and may continue until the business is disposed of.

Hopkins County: On the fourth Monday in January and August and may continue six weeks.

Hunt County: On the sixth Monday after the fourth Monday in January and may continue nine weeks; and on the sixth Monday after the fourth Monday in August and may continue eight weeks.

Rains County: On the fifteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in January and may continue two weeks; and on the fourteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August and may continue until the business is disposed of.

The District Courts of the Eighth and Sixty-second Judicial Districts in Hunt County, shall have concurrent jurisdiction with each other in said county throughout the limits thereof, of all matters, civil and criminal, of which jurisdiction is given to the district courts by the Constitution and laws of the State; and the District Courts of the Eighth and Sixty-second Judicial Districts in the county of Delta shall have concurrent jurisdiction with each other in said county, throughout the limits thereof, of all matters civil and criminal, of which jurisdiction is given to the district courts by the Constitution and laws of the State; provided that the judge of the Sixty-second Judicial District shall never impanel the grand jury in said court in the counties of Lamar, Hunt and Delta, unless in his judgment he thinks it necessary. Either of the judges of the District Court of Hunt County may, in their discretion, either in term time or vacation, transfer any case or cases, civil or criminal, that may at any time be pending in his court, to the other district court in said county of Hunt, by order or orders entered upon the minutes of the court making such transfer; and, where such transfer or transfers are made, the clerk of said court shall enter such case or cases upon the dockets of the court to which such transfer or transfers are made, and when so entered upon the docket, the judge of said court shall try and dispose of said cases in the same manner as if such cases were originally filed in said court. Either of the judges of the District Courts of the County of Delta may, in their discretion, either in term time or vacation, transfer any case or cases of a civil or criminal nature that may at any time be pending in his court, to the other district court in said Delta County, by order or orders entered upon the minutes of the court making such transfer; and, when such transfer or transfers are made, and when so entered upon the docket, the judge of said court shall try and dispose of said case or cases in the same manner as if such cases were originally filed in said court. The clerks of the District Courts of Delta and Hunt counties respectively, as heretofore constituted, and their successors in office, shall be the clerks of both the Eighth and Sixty-second District Courts in said counties respectively. [Acts 1897, p. 111; Acts 1905, p. 75.]

9.—Polk, San Jacinto, Montgomery and Waller.

The Ninth Judicial District of Texas shall hereafter be composed of the following named counties, to-wit:

Polk, San Jacinto, Montgomery and Waller, and the terms of the district courts in and for said Ninth Judicial District of Texas, shall be begun and holden therein as follows, to-wit:

In the county of Polk, on the first Monday in January and July of each year and may continue in session for six weeks.

In the county of San Jacinto on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in January and July and may continue in session for five weeks.

In the county of Waller on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in January and July and may continue in session for six weeks.

In the county of Montgomery on the seventeenth Monday after the first Monday in January and July and may continue in session for six weeks.

10, 56.—Galveston County:

On the first Monday in February, April, June, October and December and may continue until the business is disposed of.

In all suits, actions or proceedings, it shall be sufficient for the address or designation to be merely the "District Court of Galveston County;" and the clerk of said courts shall file and docket the even numbers thereof in the Court of the Tenth Judicial District, and the odd numbers thereof in the Court of the Fifty-sixth Judicial District; but any case pending in either of said courts may, in the discretion of the judge thereof, be transferred from one of said district courts to the other, and so from time to time; and in case of the disqualification of the judge of either of said courts in any case, such case, on his suggestion of disqualification, shall stand transferred to the other of said courts, and be docketed by the clerk accordingly. The clerk of the court of the Tenth Judicial District shall perform the duties of the clerk of the Court of the Fifty-sixth Judicial District; in case of vacancy in said office of said clerk, the same shall be filled by appointment by the judge of the Tenth Judicial District. [Acts 1909, p. 116; Acts 1911, p. 111.]

11, [55, 61].—Harris County shall constitute the Eleventh, Fifty-fifth, Sixty-first and Eightieth Judicial Districts. None of said four district courts shall have nor exercise any criminal jurisdiction in Harris County. Said district courts of the Eleventh, Fifty-fifth, Sixty-first and Eightieth Judicial Districts shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction co-extensive within the limits of Harris County in all civil cases, proceedings and matters of which district courts are given jurisdiction by the Constitution and laws of this State. There shall be two terms of each of said four civil courts in Harris County in each year, and the first term, which shall be known as the January-June term, shall be begun on the first Monday in January and shall continue until and including Sunday next before the first Monday in July; and the second term, which shall be known as the July-December term, shall begin on the first Monday in July and shall continue until and including Sunday next before the first Monday in the following January.

In all suits, actions or proceedings in said courts it shall be sufficient for the address or designation to be merely "District Court of Harris County." The clerk of the civil district courts in Harris County shall be known as "Clerk of the District Court of Harris County, Texas." The clerk of said four civil district courts shall docket alternately on the dockets of the district courts of the Eleventh, Fifty-fifth, Sixty-first and Eightieth Judicial Districts in Harris County, all cases, actions, petitions, applications and other proceedings filed in the district courts of Harris County, so that the first case or proceedings filed after the first day of July 1927 and every fourth case or proceedings thereafter filed shall be docketed in the Eleventh Judicial District Court, and the second case or proceeding filed and every fourth case or proceeding thereafter filed shall be docketed in the Fifty-fifth Judicial District Court, and the third case or proceeding filed and every fourth case or proceeding thereafter filed shall be docketed in the Sixty-first Judicial District Court, and the fourth case or proceeding and every fourth case or proceeding thereafter filed shall be docketed in the Eightieth Judicial District Court, and so on seriatim, and all cases and proceedings shall in this manner be docketed in and divided and distributed among said four civil courts, one-fourth to each of them when first filed. All suits shall be filed by the clerk in the order in which the petitions are presented to or deposited with him and immediately after being so presented or deposited. In case of the disqualification of the judge of any of said four civil courts in any case or proceeding, such case or proceeding, on his suggestion of disqualification, shall be transferred to another of said courts, and the order of transfer may be made by any judge of another of said courts and may be transferred to any other of said courts, or instead of transferring the case the judge of any other of said courts may sit in the court in which the case is then pending and there try the same, and all transferred cases or proceedings shall be docketed by the clerk accordingly. The judges of said four civil courts shall sign the minutes of each term of the courts in Harris County within thirty days after the end of the term, and shall also sign the minutes at the end of each volume of the minutes, and each judge sitting in said courts shall sign the minutes of such proceedings as were had before him.

Each judge of said courts may take a vacation and not attend court for six weeks between the first day of July and the first day of October in each year, during which time the term of the court of which he is judge shall remain open, and the judge of any other civil district court in Harris County may hold such court during the vacation of the judges thereof. During the period of such vacation it shall not be lawful for a special judge of such court to be elected by the practicing lawyers of such court because of the absence of the judge on his vacation, unless no judge of said civil district courts is in the county. The judges of said courts shall, by agreement among themselves, take their vacations alternately so that there shall at all times be at least one of said judges in the county; and [on] the absence, sickness or disqualification of the judge of any of said civil district courts, any of the other judges of the said district courts may act and preside, or any regular practicing lawyers of the bar of Harris County, Texas, may be elected who have all the qualifications of a district judge to act and preside over any of the said courts during such absence, sickness or inability of any of the regular judges to act and preside therein; such special judge shall be elected according to Title 40 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925. [Acts 1903, p. 22; Acts 1923, p. 203; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 135, ch. 88, § 1.]

12.—Trinity, Leon, Walker, Madison and Grimes.

Trinity County: On the third Monday in February and September and may continue four weeks.

Leon County: On the fourth Monday after the third Monday in February and September and may continue four weeks.

Walker County: On the eighth Monday after the third Monday in February and September and may continue four weeks.

Madison County: On the twelfth Monday after the third Monday in February and may continue three weeks; and on the twelfth Monday after the third Monday in September and may continue four weeks.

Grimes County: On the third Monday in June and on the sixteenth Monday after the third Monday in September and may continue six weeks. [Acts 1905, p. 55; Acts 1919, p. 111.]

13.—Navarro. On the first Mondays in January, April, July and October. The January, April and October terms shall each continue twelve weeks or until all the business be disposed of, and the July term shall continue six weeks or until the business be disposed of. Jury trials may be had at each and all of said terms of court. There shall be organized grand juries at the April and October terms of said court, and at such other terms thereof as may be determined and ordered by the Judge thereof. The office of District Attorney for the Thirteenth Judicial District is hereby abolished; the County Attorney of Navarro County shall hereafter perform all the duties heretofore performed by said District Attorney. [Acts 1899, p. 38; Acts 1915, p. 11; Acts 1923, p. 45.]

14, 44, 68, 95, 101.—Dallas. None of the said district courts of Dallas County shall have nor exercise any criminal jurisdiction in Dallas County, but all of said courts shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of Dallas County in all civil cases, proceedings and matters of which district courts are given jurisdiction by the Constitution and laws of the State. The terms of said courts shall be as follows:

Fourteenth District: On the second Monday in January and ending on the Saturday before the second Monday in April; on the second Monday in April and ending on Saturday before the second Monday in July; on the second Monday in July and ending on Saturday before the second Monday in October; and on the second Monday in October and ending on Saturday before the second Monday in January.

Forty-fourth District: On the first Mondays in January, April, June and October and continue until all business be disposed of.

Sixty-eighth District: On the first Mondays in February, May, September and December and continue until all business be disposed of.

Ninety-fifth District: On the first Mondays in March, June, September and December, and each term shall continue until the Sunday immediately preceding the date set for the beginning of the next term thereof.

In case of vacancy by death, resignation or removal in the office of clerk of said district courts of Dallas County, his successor shall be appointed by a majority of the judges of the said four civil courts and the judges of the Criminal District Courts acting together, and if they fail to make such appointment within twenty days after such vacancy is created, then such appointment shall be made by the Commissioners Court of Dallas County.

The letters A, B, C and D shall be placed on the dockets and court papers in the respective district courts of Dallas County to distinguish them. A being used in connection with the Fourteenth District Court, B the Forty-fourth, C the Sixty-eighth, and D the Ninety-fifth District Court. All suits, prosecutions and proceedings hereafter instituted in the district courts of Dallas County shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with the next number after the last file number on the dockets of the Fourteenth, Forty-fourth and Sixty-eighth District Courts, and shall be entered by the district clerk upon the dockets of said courts alternately, beginning with the Fourteenth District Court, next the Forty-fourth District Court, third the Sixty-eighth District Court, and fourth the Ninety-fifth District Court.

The respective judges of the district courts of Dallas County shall, from time to time as occasion may require, transfer cases from any one of such courts to any other such court in order that the business may be equally distributed among them, that the judges thereof may at all times be provided with cases to be tried or otherwise considered, and that the trial of no case need be delayed because of the disqualification of the judge in whose court it is pending; provided, however, no case shall be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred. When any transfer is made, proper order shall be entered on the minutes of the court as evidence thereof, and notice of the transfer shall be given in writing by the clerk to the attorneys of record of all parties to the cause. [Acts 1913, p. 171; Acts 1917, p. 130; Acts 1923, p. 118.] Acts 1925, p. 210, gives District 101 concurrent jurisdiction except as to criminal matters with other district courts in Dallas County.

15, 59.—Grayson County shall constitute the Fifteenth Judicial District, and with Collin County shall constitute the Fifty-ninth Judicial District. The District Courts shall be held therein as follows:

Fifteenth District: On the first Monday in January and continuing until and including the last Saturday before the second Monday in March; on the second Monday in March and continuing until and including the last Saturday before the third Monday in May; on the third Monday in May and continuing until and including the last Saturday before the second Monday in August or until the business is disposed of; and on the first Monday in October and continuing until and including the last Saturday before the first Monday in January.

Fifty-ninth District: (a) Collin County: On the third Monday in January and continuing until and including Saturday before the second Monday in March; on the fourth Monday in April and continuing to and including Saturday before the third Monday in June; and on the second Monday in September and continuing until and including Saturday before the first Monday in December.

Fifty-ninth district: (b) Grayson County: On the second Monday in March and continuing until and including Saturday before the fourth Monday in April, on the third Monday in June and continuing until and including the Saturday before the fourth Monday in July; and on the first Monday in December and continuing until and including Saturday before the third Monday in January.

The District Courts of the Fifteenth and Fifty-ninth Judicial Districts, in the County of Grayson, shall have concurrent jurisdiction with each other throughout the limits of Grayson County of all matters civil and criminal of which jurisdiction is given to the district courts by the Constitution and laws of this State; provided, that the judge of the Fifteenth Judicial District may impanel the grand jury in Grayson County when, in the discretion of said court, it is deemed by him proper so to do, he may draw and impanel such grand jury for any terms of his court as provided by law for other district courts for impaneling grand juries. Either of the judges of the District Court of Grayson County may, in their discretion, either in term time or in vacation, transfer any case or cases, civil or criminal, that may at any time be pending in his court, to the other district court in Grayson County, by order or orders entered upon the minutes of the court making such transfer; and where such transfer or transfers are made, the clerk of said court shall enter such case or cases upon the dockets of the court to which such transfer or transfers are made, and when so entered upon the docket, the judge of said court shall try and dispose of said cases in the same manner as if such cases were originally in said court. The clerk of the District Court of Grayson County, as heretofore constituted, and his successor in office shall be the clerk of both the Fifteenth and Fifty-ninth District Courts in said Grayson County, and shall perform all the duties pertaining to the clerkship of both of said courts. [Acts 1903, p. 2; Acts 2nd C. S. 1909, p. 393; Acts 3rd C. S. 1923, p. 29.]

16.—Denton and Cooke.—Cooke County: On the first Monday in January and may continue eight weeks; on the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue six weeks; and on the first Monday in September and may continue eight weeks.

Denton County: On the eighth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue eight weeks; on the twenty-second Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue six weeks; and on the eighth Monday after the first Monday in September and may continue eight weeks. [Acts 1917, p. 43; Acts 3d C. S. 1923, p. 42.]

17, 48, 67, 96.—Tarrant.—The district courts of the Seventeenth, Forty-eighth, Sixty-seventh and Ninety-sixth Districts shall have concurrent jurisdiction throughout the limits of Tarrant County of all civil matters of which jurisdiction is given to the district courts by the Constitution and laws of the State. None of said courts shall have nor exercise any criminal jurisdiction. The terms of said district courts shall be as follows:

Seventeenth and Ninety-sixth Districts: On the first Mondays in January, April, July and October and continue until the business is disposed of.

Forty-eighth District: On the first Mondays in February, May, August and November and continue until the business is disposed of.

Sixty-seventh District: On the first Mondays in March, June, September and December and continue until the business is disposed of.

The judges of said four courts shall each have the right, within his discretion, to make transfer of cases from his court to any other of said courts.

The clerk of the district courts of Tarrant County shall make up dockets for each of said Courts. All cases, prosecutions and proceedings filed with the clerk shall by him be entered upon the dockets of said courts alternately, so that the business may be equally distributed between them; provided, that all garnishment cases shall follow the cases in which they are sued out, and that such garnishment cases shall not be estimated by the clerk in dividing business. In all injunctions granted by said judges, the suits wherein granted shall be docketed in the court of the judge who granted such injunctions; and in all cases wherein receivers may be appointed by said judges, the suit wherein such receivers shall be appointed shall be docketed in the court of the judge who appointed such receivers. [Acts 1907, p. 338; Acts 1923, p. 104.]

18.—Johnson, Bosque and Somervell.

Johnson County: On the first Monday in January and may continue until and including Saturday before the third Monday in March; on the first Monday in May and may continue until and including Saturday before the first Monday in July; and on the second Monday in October and may continue until and including Saturday before the first Monday in December.

Bosque County: On the third Monday in March and may continue until and including Saturday before the third Monday in April; on the third Monday in September and may continue until and including Saturday before the second Monday in October; and on the first Monday in December and may continue until and including Saturday before the first Monday in January.

Somervell County: On the third Monday in April and may continue until and including Saturday before the first Monday in May; on the first Monday in September and may continue until and including Saturday before the third Monday in September. [Acts 1905, p. 37; Acts 1917, p. 75.]

19, 54, 74.—McLennan.

Nineteenth District: On the first Mondays in January, April, July and October and continue until the business is disposed of; provided the October term shall not continue longer than the last Saturday before the 25th day of December.

Fifty-fourth District: On the first Monday in January, March, May, September and November, and each of said terms may continue until and including the Saturday next preceding the beginning of the next succeeding term, unless the business of the term shall be sooner disposed of; and grand juries shall be impaneled at the March and September terms of court and at such other terms as the judge of said district may determine and order.

Seventy-fourth District: On the second Mondays in February, April, June, August, October and December and continue until the business is disposed of.

The said three courts shall have concurrent jurisdiction throughout the limits of McLennan County in all civil and criminal cases and proceedings of which district courts are given jurisdiction by the Constitution and laws of the State. Any one of the judges of said courts may, in his discretion, either in term time or vacation, transfer any cause or causes, civil or criminal, that may at any time be pending in his court, to any other of said courts by order or orders entered upon the minutes of his said court, and where such transfer or transfers are made, the clerk of said courts shall enter such cause or causes upon the docket of the court to which such transfer or transfers are made, and when so entered upon the docket, the judge of said court to which such cause or causes have been transferred, shall try and dispose of said cause or causes in the same manner as if such cause or causes were originally in said court.

The judges of the Nineteenth and Seventy-fourth Judicial Districts shall never impanel a grand jury in their courts, but may at any time reconvene the grand jury impaneled by the judge of the Fifty-fourth District, when a necessity therefor exists in the judgment of the judge or judges of said Nineteenth and Seventy-fourth Judicial Districts. No petit juries shall be drawn for the July term of the Nineteenth Judicial District or for the August term of the Seventy-fourth Judicial District, unless the judges of said courts shall deem the same necessary. [Acts 1893, p. 52; Acts 1915, p. 3; Acts 1917, p. 13.]

20.—Milam. On the first Mondays in January, March, May and September, and the second Monday in November, and each term may continue until and including the Saturday next preceding the beginning of the next succeeding term, unless the business of the term shall be sooner disposed of.

Grand juries in said district shall be organized at the May and November terms of said court and at such other terms as the judge of said court may determine and order by causing an order to that effect to be entered upon the minutes of said court by the clerk thereof.

The office of district attorney for said district is hereby abolished, and the regularly elected county attorney of said county shall perform all the duties of district attorney. [Acts 1893, p. 52; Acts 1917, p. 256.]

28.—Nueces, Kleberg and Kenedy.

1. Criminal District Court.—There is hereby continued as established for the counties of Nueces, Kleberg, Kenedy, Willacy and Cameron a criminal district court, which shall have and exercise all of the criminal jurisdiction now vested in and exercised by the district court of the Twenty-eighth Judicial District of Texas, and said Criminal District Court shall try and determine all causes for divorce between husband and wife and adjudicate property rights in connection therewith in said counties, and try and determine all causes for the collection of delinquent taxes and the enforcement of liens for the collection of same. All appeals from the judgments of said courts shall be to the Court of Criminal Appeals, except appeals in divorce cases and suits for the collection of delinquent taxes, which shall be to the Court of Civil Appeals under the same rules and regulations as now or may hereafter be provided by law for the appeals in civil cases from district courts.

2. From and after the time when this Act shall take effect, the District Court of the Twenty-eighth Judicial District composed of the counties of Nueces, Kleberg and Kenedy, and the District Court of the One Hundred and Third Judicial District Court, composed of the counties of Willacy and Cameron, shall cease to have and exercise any criminal jurisdiction in either of said counties, and shall cease to have and exercise any jurisdiction of divorce cases in either of said counties, and shall cease to have and exercise any jurisdiction of suits for the collection of any delinquent taxes or the enforcement of liens for same.

3. The judge of said Criminal District Court for the counties of Nueces, Kleberg [Kleberg], Kenedy, Willacy and Cameron shall be elected by the qualified voters of said counties, for a term of four years, and shall hold his office until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified. He shall possess the same qualifications as are required of the judge of the district court, and shall receive the same salary as is now or may hereafter be paid to district judges, to be paid in like manner. He shall have and exercise all the powers and duties now or hereafter to be vested in or exercised by district judges in criminal cases. The judge of said court may exchange with any district judge, as provided by law in cases of district judges; and in case of disqualification or absence of the judge, a special judge may be selected or appointed as provided by law in cases of district judges; the judge of said criminal district court shall be and remain judge of said court as provided in this Act, until the expiration of his term of office to which he was elected, and until his successors shall have been elected and qualified.

4. The sheriff and clerk of the district court of Nueces county, as now provided by law, shall be the sheriff and clerk, respectively, of said criminal district court of Nueces county; and the sheriff and clerk of the district court of Kleberg County, as now provided by law, shall be the sheriff and clerk, respectively, of the criminal district court of Kleberg County; and the sheriff and clerk of the district court of Kenedy County, as now provided by law, shall be sheriff and clerk, respectively, of the criminal district court of Kenedy County; and the sheriff and clerk of the district court of Willacy County, as now provided by law, shall be the sheriff and clerk, respectively, of the criminal district court of Willacy County; and the sheriff and clerk of the district court of Cameron County, as now provided by law, shall be sheriff and clerk, respectively, of the criminal district court of Cameron County; and the district attorney of the said criminal district court elected and now acting for said district, shall be district attorney for said criminal district court in the counties of Nueces, Kleberg, Kenedy, Willacy and Cameron, and shall hold his office until the time for which he has been elected district attorney for the said criminal district court of Texas shall expire, and until his successor is duly elected and qualified; and there shall be elected for two years, beginning with the next general election after this Act takes effect, a district attorney for said criminal district court, whose power and duties shall be the same as other district attorneys; and said clerk, sheriff and district attorney shall, respectively, receive such fees and salaries as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by law for such officers in the district courts of the State of Texas, to be paid in the same manner.

5. Said criminal district court shall have a seal in like design as the seal now prescribed by law for district courts, except for Nueces County, the words "Criminal District Court of Nueces County, Texas" shall be engraved around the margin thereof; and for Kleberg County, the words "Criminal District Court of Kleberg County, Texas" shall be engraved around the margin thereof; and for Kenedy County, the words "Criminal District Court of Kenedy County, Texas" shall be engraved around the margin thereof; and for Willacy County, the words "Criminal District Court of Willacy County, Texas" shall be engraved around the margin thereof; and for Cameron County, the words "Criminal District Court of Cameron County, Texas" shall be engraved around the margin thereof.

6. The terms of said criminal district court shall be held in said district each year as follows:

In the county of Kenedy, on the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session one week, and on the tenth Monday after the first Monday in August of each year, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Willacy, on the first Monday after the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session three weeks; and on the second Monday after the first Monday in August of each year, and may continue in session for two weeks.

In the county of Cameron on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session ten weeks; and on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in August of each year, and may continue in session six weeks.

In the county of Kleberg, on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session two weeks; and on the first Monday in August of each year, and may continue in session two weeks.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

In the county of Nueces, on the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session six weeks; and on the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in August, of each year, and may continue in session nine weeks.

7. The trials and proceedings in said criminal district court shall be conducted in criminal cases according to the laws governing pleadings, practice and proceedings in criminal cases in the district courts.

The judge of the said criminal district court as heretofore existing, shall be and remain judge of said court as provided in this Act, until the expiration of his term of office to which he was elected, and until his successor [successor] is elected and qualified as now provided by law.

8. A grand jury shall be drawn and selected for each term of said criminal district court held in Nueces, Kleberg, Kenedy, Willacy and Cameron Counties in the manner now provided by law, and all grand and petit jurors for criminal cases drawn and selected for the said criminal district court under existing laws at the time this Act takes effect, shall be as valid as if no change had been made, and the persons constituting such juries shall be required to appear and serve at the next ensuing terms of said courts as fixed by this Act, and their acts shall be as if they had served as jurors in the court for which they were originally drawn, and all laws regulating the selection, summoning and impaneling of grand and petit jurors in the district court shall govern said criminal district court, and jury commissioners shall be appointed for drawing juries for said court as is now or may hereafter be required by law in district courts, and under like rules and regulations. [Acts 1925, p. 244.] [39th Leg., ch. 79, § 1.]

28.—The 28th Judicial District of the State of Texas shall be composed of the Counties of Kenedy, Nueces, and Kleberg, and the terms of the District Court shall be held therein as follows:

In the County of Kleberg on the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session two weeks; on the nineteenth Monday after the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session two weeks; and on the last Monday in August of each year, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the County of Kenedy on the second Monday after the first Monday in January, and may continue in session one week; and on the twenty-ninth Monday after the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the County of Nueces on the third Monday after the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks.

On the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks.

On the twenty-first Monday after the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks.

On the second Monday in September of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks.

On the eighth Monday after the second Monday in September, and may continue in session eight weeks. [Acts 1925, p. 244.] [39th Leg., ch. 79, § 1; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 89, ch. 64, § 1.]

Section 2 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 89, ch. 64, repeals all conflicting laws or parts of laws excepting the provisions relating to the criminal district court for the counties of Nueces, Kleberg, Kenedy, Willacy and Cameron, the intent being only to change the times of holding the terms of the court of the 28th judicial district.

29.—Hood, Palo Pinto and Erath.

That the Twenty-ninth Judicial District of Texas shall be composed of the Counties of Hood, Palo Pinto and Erath, as now constituted and the terms of the District Court shall be held therein as follows:

In Palo Pinto County beginning on the first Monday of March and September, each year and may continue in session for eight weeks.

Beginning in Carson County on the seventh Monday after the second Monday in January and August and may continue in session one week;

Beginning in Gray County on the eighth Monday after the second Monday in January and August and may continue in session one week;

Beginning in Hutchinson County on the ninth Monday after the second Monday in January and August and may continue in session one week;

Beginning in Hansford County on the tenth Monday after the second Monday in January and August and may continue in session two weeks;

Beginning in Ochiltree County on the twelfth Monday after the second Monday in January and August and may continue in session two weeks;

Beginning in Lipscomb County on the fourteenth Monday after the second Monday in January and August and may continue in session two weeks;

Beginning in Hemphill County on the sixteenth Monday after the second Monday in January and August and may continue in session until the business of the court is disposed of.

Sec. 7. There shall be no grand jury nor petit jury drawn for the said 31st District Court in the Counties of Hutchinson, Carson and Gray, except such as the judge of said court may in his discretion from time to time order.

Sec. 9. Inasmuch as the 84th Judicial District of Texas and the 31st Judicial District of Texas are composed of the same counties the District Clerk of the respective counties of the 31st Judicial District shall also be and act as clerk of the District Court of the 84th Judicial District Court in their respective counties.

Sec. 10. The 31st Judicial District of Texas and the 84th Judicial District of Texas and the Courts of said Judicial Districts in the various counties composing same shall have concurrent jurisdiction with each other in said counties in all matters over which jurisdiction is given or shall hereafter be given by the Constitution and laws of this State to District Courts. Either of the judges of the said District Courts for said counties may in their discretion in term time or in vacation transfer a case or cases, civil or criminal, to said other District Court by order entered on the minutes of his court from which said case is transferred or minutes or orders made in chambers as the case may be, which orders, when made shall be copied and certified to by the District Clerk of the County in which said transfer is made together with all orders made in said case and such certified copies of such orders together with the original papers shall be filed among the papers of any case thus transferred and the fees thereof shall be taxed as a part of the costs of said suit, and the Clerk of said Court shall docket any such case in the court to which it shall have been transferred and when so entered the court to which same shall have been thus transferred shall have like jurisdiction therein as in cases originally filed in said court and the same shall be dropped from the docket of the said court from which it was transferred, provided that all process and writs issued out of the District Court from which any such transfer is made shall be returnable to the term of court to which said transfer is made according to the terms of the District Court of said respective courts as fixed by this Act, and that all bonds executed and recognizances entered into in any District Court from which any such transfer is made shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds and recognizances at the terms of said court to which said transfer is made as said terms are fixed by this Act in the respective counties.

Sec. 11. The District Attorney of the 31st Judicial District may upon request of the District Attorney of the 84th Judicial District assist the said District Attorney in the trial of any criminal case or habeas corpus case pending in the District Court of said 84th Judicial District in any of the counties therein, and likewise the District Attorney of the 84th Judicial District may upon request of the District Attorney of the 31st Judicial District assist said District Attorney in the trial of any criminal case or habeas corpus case pending in the District Court of said 31st Judicial District in any of the counties therein, and in all such cases the District Attorney so assisting shall receive the same compensation for such services as is now provided by law for such services in the District for which he is appointed or has been elected, but nothing herein shall be construed as limiting the authority of the District Attorneys of the two districts from having absolute control and management of criminal cases and habeas corpus cases which are tried in their respective counties. [Acts 1925, p. 256.] [39th Leg., ch. 86, §§ 1-3; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 60, ch. 42.]

Section 12 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 60, ch. 42, provides that if a section, paragraph or provision thereof be held invalid, it shall not affect the remainder, which shall remain in force. Section 13 provides that said Act in so far as it pertains to the 84th judicial district shall expire in two years after it takes effect and all cases, matters and things pending shall by operation of law be transferred to the 31st judicial district, and section 14 repeals all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

33.—Kimble, Gillespie, Mason, Blanco, Menard, San Saba, Llano and Burnet.

Sec. 1. The Thirty-third Judicial District of Texas shall be composed of the counties of Kimble, Gillespie, Mason, Blanco, Menard, San Saba, Llano, and Burnet, and the terms of the district court shall be held therein as follows:

In Kimble County, beginning on the first Monday in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks;

In Gillespie County, beginning on the second Monday after the first Monday in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks;

In Mason County, beginning on the fifth Monday after the first Monday in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks;

In Blanco County, beginning on the seventh Monday after the first Monday in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks;

In Menard County, beginning on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks;

In San Saba County, beginning on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks;

In Llano County, beginning on the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in February and August and may continue in session three weeks; and

In Burnet County, beginning on the seventeenth Monday after the first Monday in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

Sec. 2. That all process and writs heretofore issued out of the district courts of said respective counties, and returnable to terms of court in said counties under existing law, are hereby made returnable to the terms of the district courts of said respective counties as said terms are fixed by this Act, and all bonds executed and recognizances entered into in said courts shall bind the parties for their appearance, or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds and recognizances at the terms of said courts as they are fixed by this Act, and all process heretofore returned, as well as all bonds and recognizances heretofore taken in the district courts of said respective counties shall be as valid as though no change had been made in the time of holding said courts, and all grand and petit jurors drawn and elected under existing laws for any of the counties of said district are hereby declared lawfully drawn and selected for the first term of the district courts of such respective counties held in conformity with this Act.

Sec. 3. Should any district court of the Thirty-third Judicial District be in session in any of the counties of said district, under existing laws, when this Act takes effect, such court shall continue and end its term under such existing laws as if no change in the time of holding courts in said district had been made, and all process, writs, judgments, decrees, and other proceedings in said court during such time shall be valid to all intents and purposes, and shall not be affected by the changes in the time of holding court therein made by this Act, but after the period provided for in the above contingency, the district courts, of the respective counties herein mentioned, shall be held in conformity with the terms as herein prescribed. [Acts 1913, p. 68; Acts 1915, 1st C. S. p. 33; Acts 1923, p. 74; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 15, ch. 10.]

Section 4 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 15, ch. 10, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

Change in jurisdiction of Menard county court affecting Menard District Court, see article 1970-302.

34, 41, 65.—El Paso County shall constitute the Forty-first and Sixty-fifth Judicial Districts, and with the Counties of Culberson and Hudspeth shall constitute the Thirty-fourth Judicial District, and the terms of the district courts therein shall be as follows:

Thirty-fourth District: (a) El Paso County: On the first Monday in September and may continue four weeks; on the first Monday in November and may continue until the last Saturday before the 25th day of December; on the first Monday in January and may continue until the last Saturday in March; and on the first Monday in May and may continue until the last Saturday in June. (b) Culberson County: On the first Monday in April and may continue four weeks; and on the first Monday in October and may continue four weeks. (c) Hudspeth County: to convene at the county seat of said county on the third Monday in April and October and continue two weeks.

Forty-first and Sixty-fifth Districts: On the first Mondays in January, March, May, September and November, and continue until the last Saturday before the next succeeding term of court, except the May term, which shall continue until the last Saturday before the first Monday in July.

The said three district courts of El Paso County shall have concurrent civil and criminal jurisdiction with each other in said county of matters over which the jurisdiction is given or shall be given by the Constitution and laws of Texas to district courts; provided, that no grand jury shall be impaneled in the district courts of said county, other than that of the Thirty-fourth Judicial District, unless by special order of the judge of either of the other district courts a grand jury shall be called for either of said courts.

Any one of the judges of said district courts in El Paso County may, in his discretion, either in term time or vacation, transfer any case or cases, civil or criminal, to any other of said district courts by order entered on the minutes of his court, or minutes of orders made in chambers, as the case may be, which orders when made shall be copied and certified to by the clerk of said courts, together with all orders made in said case, and such certified copies of such orders shall be filed among the papers of any case thus transferred, and the fees therefor shall be taxed as part of the costs of said suit. And the clerk of said courts shall docket any such cause in the court to which it shall have been transferred, and when so entered, the court to which the same shall have been thus transferred shall have like jurisdiction therein as in cases originally brought in said court, and the same shall be dropped from the docket of the court from which it was transferred; provided, that where there shall be a transfer of any case from one court to another, as herein provided, on motion of either of the parties to said suit, notice must be given to either the opposite party or his attorney by the party making the motion to transfer, one week before the time of entering the order of transfer.

The district attorney of the Thirty-fourth Judicial District shall also act as district attorney in and for the Forty-first and Sixty-fifth Judicial Districts, and the clerk of the District Court of El Paso County shall act as clerk of the District Court for each of said District Courts. [Acts 1903, p. 78; Acts 1913, 1st C. S. p. 17; Acts 1915, p. 40.]

35.—McCulloch, Concho, Runnels, Brown and Coleman.

In McCulloch County the terms of said court shall be as follows:

37, 45, 57, 73, 94.—Bexar.

Thirty-seventh, Forty-fifth and Ninety-fourth Districts: On the first Mondays in October, November, January, March and May, and may continue until the last Saturday before the next succeeding term, except the May term which may continue until the last Saturday before the first Monday in July.

Fifty-seventh and Seventy-third Districts: On the first Mondays in October, December, February, April and June, and may continue until the last Saturday before the next succeeding term, except the June term which may continue until the last Saturday before the first Monday in July.

The said courts of Bexar County shall have concurrent jurisdiction throughout the limits of said county over all cases, proceedings and matters of which district courts are given jurisdiction by the Constitution and laws of the State, except, and as hereinafter provided, the courts of the Thirty-seventh and Ninety-fourth Judicial Districts shall give preference to the trial of criminal cases, and the Ninety-fourth District Court shall also, next to the trial and determination of criminal causes, try and determine causes for divorce between husband and wife, the custody of children, and the adjudication of property rights in connection therewith, have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunctions and certiorari and all writs necessary to enforce its jurisdiction, and may appoint receivers, and shall try and determine no other causes; and the said Thirty-seventh district court and the Ninety-fourth district court shall impanel grand juries alternately for each term of court in said two districts, and the grand jury shall return their indictments into the court by which they were impaneled.

The judges of said district courts may, in their discretion, or by agreement of the parties, transfer any civil or criminal suit or cause of action of which said court has jurisdiction as declared herein, from one district court to another, by an order duly entered upon the minutes of the court, and when such transfer is made, the clerk shall enter such case or cases upon the docket of the court to which the transfer is made. When such transfer is so made, then all writs, processes, bonds and recognizances, civil and criminal, issued, executed or entered prior to the entry of such order of transfer in said suit or cause of action shall be transferred with said cause.

The district attorney of the Thirty-seventh Judicial District shall be and remain the district attorney of said district as herein defined, and shall also represent the State in all cases, criminal and civil, in the Forty-fifth, Fifty-seventh, Seventy-third and Ninety-fourth, and shall be elected by the qualified voters of said Thirty-seventh Judicial District. [Acts 1923, p. 101.]

Reeves County: On the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in February and September and may continue six weeks.

Ward County: On the second Monday in January and on the eighteenth Monday after the first Monday in February and may continue two weeks.

For Judicial and other purposes, the unorganized county of Loving is hereby attached to Reeves County, and the unorganized county of Crane is hereby attached to Ector County. [Acts 1917, pp. 4, 20, 125; Acts 1917, 3rd C. S. p. 51; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 134, ch. 87, § 1.]

Section 2 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 134, ch. 87, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

71.—Harrison and Gregg.

Harrison County: On the first Monday in January and continue until the second Monday in February; on the second Monday in March and continue until the first Monday in June; on the fourth Monday in June and continue until the first Monday in September unless sooner adjourned by the court; on the first Monday in September and continue until the first Monday in October; and on the first Monday in November and continue until the first Monday in January.

Gregg County: On the second Monday in February and continue until the second Monday in March; on the first Monday in June and continue three weeks; and on the first Monday in October and continue until the first Monday in November.

The District Court of the Seventy-first Judicial District shall have such jurisdiction and power as is conferred on district courts under the Constitution and laws, and in addition thereto, shall have jurisdiction of all matters of a civil nature over which the county court of Harrison County has jurisdiction, original or concurrent, and over all appeals of a civil nature from justice courts of Harrison County appealable to the county court of said county under existing laws.

The county attorney of Harrison County and the county attorney of Gregg County shall each have and perform all the duties and prerogatives of a district attorney in attendance upon the district court for each of their respective counties. [Acts 1911, p. 93; Acts 1921, p. 80; Acts 1923, p. 113.]

Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 150, ch. 99, changes the jurisdiction of the County Court of Harrison county and the jurisdiction of the District Court of the 71st Judicial District to conform thereto. See Art. 1970-299.

The 72nd Judicial District of this State shall be composed of Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley and Cochran Counties, and the terms of district court in said counties shall be held as follows:

In the County of Crosby on the second Monday in January, and may continue in session four weeks; and on the fifteenth Monday after the second Monday in January and continue in session four weeks; and on the third Monday after the first Monday in September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the County of Lubbock on the fourth Monday after the second Monday in January, and may continue in session six weeks; on the nineteenth Monday after the second Monday in January, and may continue in session five weeks; and on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in September, and may continue in session seven weeks.

In the County of Hockley on the tenth Monday after the second Monday in January, and may continue in session three weeks; and on the first Monday in September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the County of Cochran on the thirteenth Monday after the second Monday in January, and may continue in session two weeks; and on the third Monday after the first Monday in September, and may continue in session two weeks.

Sec. 3. All process issued, bonds and recognizances made, and all grand and petit juries drawn before this Act takes effect shall be valid for and returnable to the next succeeding terms of the district courts of the several counties as herein fixed as though issued and served for such terms and returnable to and drawn for the same.

Sec. 4. The 72nd Judicial District of Texas and the 90th Judicial District of Texas and the courts of said judicial districts in Lubbock County shall have concurrent jurisdiction with each other in said county in all matters over which jurisdiction is given or shall hereafter be given by the Constitution and laws of this State to district courts. Either of the judges of the said district courts for said county may in their discretion in term time or in vacation transfer a case or cases, civil or criminal, to said other district court, with the consent of the judge of said other district court, by order entered on the minutes of his court from which said case is transferred or minutes or orders made in chambers as the case may be, which orders when made shall be copied and certified to by the district clerk of said Lubbock County, together with all orders made in said case and such certified copies of such orders together with the original papers shall be filed among the papers of any case thus transferred and the fees thereof shall be taxed as a part of the costs of said suit, and the Clerk of said court shall docket any such case in the court to which it shall have been transferred and when so entered the court to which same shall have been thus transferred shall have like jurisdiction therein as in cases originally filed in said court and the same shall be dropped from the docket of the said court from which it was transferred, provided that all process and writs issued out of the district court from which any such transfer is made shall be returnable to the term of court to which said transfer is made according to the terms of the district court of said respective courts as fixed by this Act, and that all bonds executed and recognizances entered into in any district court from which any such transfer is made shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds and recognizances at the terms of said court to which said transfer is made as said terms are fixed by this Act in the respective counties. Morris County: On the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue four weeks; and on the eighth Monday after the fourth Monday in August and may continue four weeks.

Marion County: On the eighteenth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue four weeks; and on the twelfth Monday after the fourth Monday in August and may continue four weeks. [Acts 1915, p. 6; Acts 1917, p. 68.]

77, 87.—Limestone and Freestone.

Seventy-seventh District: (a) Limestone County: On the first Monday in December, March, June and September and shall continue eight weeks. (b) Freestone County: On the first Mondays in February, May, August and November and shall continue four weeks.

Eighty-seventh District: (a) Limestone County: On the first Monday in February, May, August and November and shall continue eight weeks. (b) Freestone County: On the first Mondays in January, April, July and October and shall continue four weeks.

The said district courts shall have concurrent jurisdiction of all cases, civil and criminal and appellate, over which the district courts of this State have jurisdiction under the Constitution and laws of this State, co-extensive with the limits of Limestone County and Freestone County, respectively, and grand juries shall be drawn for the Eighty-seventh District Court in Limestone County at the May and November terms and grand juries shall be drawn for said court in Freestone County for the January and July terms, and at such other terms of said court, both in Limestone and Freestone Counties, as the judge of said court may, from time to time, so order. There shall be organized grand juries at the March and September terms of the Seventy-seventh District Court in Limestone County, and at the May and November terms of said court in Freestone County, and at such other terms of said court in each county, as may be determined and ordered by the judge thereof.

The judges of the Seventy-seventh and Eighty-seventh Districts for the counties of Limestone and Freestone shall each, in his discretion, either in term time or vacation, on motion of any party, or on agreement of the parties, or in his own motion, where he thinks the administration of justice may be facilitated thereby, or for the purpose of equalizing the dockets of said court, transfer any cause, civil or criminal, from the dockets of their respective courts to the docket of the other district court of said county, and shall cause said transfer to be entered of record upon the minutes of his court, whereupon the clerk of the district court to which said cause has been transferred shall docket same and the same shall be tried and disposed of as if it had been originally filed in said court, and no transcript of the record shall be necessary to the jurisdiction of the court to which such case has been transferred and no formal proceedings shall be necessary to such transfer; provided that in any cause pending on any of the dockets of said district courts in either of said counties in which the judge of said court may be disqualified, recused or otherwise unable to try, he shall transfer said cause as above provided, to the other district court in the county where such cause is pending.

The clerks of the said district courts shall make up the dockets of the district courts of said counties, respectively, and shall file the new cases in the courts to which he may be directed to file same by the party filing them; and all criminal cases shall be originally filed in the court to which the indictment or information is returned, and all appeals in probate cases shall be to the court beginning the first term after such appeal is filed. The clerks of said courts shall respectively prepare civil, divorce, criminal and tax dockets as may now be customary or provided by law for the Seventy-seventh and the Eighty-seventh District Courts in their respective counties, and shall place letters on the envelope containing the file papers in each case after the number of said case, designating by the letter "A" causes pending in the Seventy-seventh District Court, and by the letter "B" causes pending in the Eighty-seventh District Court.

The clerk of the Seventy-seventh District Court in Limestone County and the clerk of the Seventy-seventh District Court in Freestone County shall be the clerk of the Eighty-seventh District Court of said counties, respectively; and the district attorney of the Seventy-seventh Judicial District shall be district attorney of said district in both Limestone and Freestone Counties, and shall represent the State in all criminal causes in said court in said counties. The office of district attorney for the Eighty-seventh District is hereby abolished, and the duties enjoined by law upon said attorney shall be performed by the respective county attorneys of said district. [Acts 1923, pp. 47-52.]

78.—See 30th District.

In Jim Wells County on the twenty-fifth Monday after the first Monday in January of each year and may continue in session four weeks, and on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in January of each year and may continue in session four weeks. [Acts 1925, p. 182.] [39th Leg., ch. 45, § 2.]

80.—The Eightieth District shall be composed of Harris County.

Section 1. There shall be two terms of the district court of the Eightieth Judicial District in each year, and the first term in each year, which shall be known [known] as the January-June term, shall be begun on the first Monday in January in each year and shall continue until and including Sunday next before the first Monday in July of the same year, and the second term in each year, which shall be known as the July-December term, shall be begun on the first Monday in July in each year and shall continue until and including Sunday next before the first Monday in the following January.

Sec. 2. All cases and proceedings pending in the district court of Waller County when this law takes effect, shall be and are hereby transferred from the Eightieth Judicial District as now constituted by said county, to the Ninth Judicial District Court as constituted by this Act; and all cases and proceedings pending in the district court of the Seventy-fifth Judicial District in Montgomery County when this law takes effect, shall be and are hereby transferred from the docket of the Seventy-fifth Judicial District Court as the same is now constituted in said county, to the docket of the Ninth Judicial District Court as the same is constituted by this Act; and all cases and proceedings pending on the docket of the Ninth Judicial District Courts in the counties of Hardin and Liberty when this Act takes effect, shall be and the same are hereby transferred from the Ninth Judicial District as now constituted in said counties, to the dockets of the Seventy-fifth Judicial District Courts of said Hardin and Liberty Counties as the same are constituted by this Act, and the judges of said Ninth and Seventy-fifth Judicial Districts as created by this Act shall carry into effect these provisions.

Sec. 3. The present judges of the Ninth and Seventy-fifth Judicial Districts as the same now exists, shall remain the district judges of their respective districts as reorganized under the provisions of this Act, and shall hold their offices until the next general election and until their successors are appointed or elected and duly qualified, and they shall receive the same compensation as is now, or may hereafter be provided by law for district judges, and a vacancy in either of said offices shall be filed as is now, or may hereafter be provided by law, and the present judge of the district court for the Eightieth Judicial District shall hold his office until his term expires and until his successor is elected and qualified, and a judge of said court shall hereafter be elected at the time and in the manner provided by law by the qualified voters of Harris County.

Sec. 4. The district attorneys of the Ninth and Seventy-fifth Judicial Districts as the same now exists, shall be and continue to remain as the district attorneys of said Ninth and Seventy-fifth Judicial Districts as the same are hereby reorganized, unless disqualified under the law to hold such offices hereunder, in which event the Governor shall appoint a district attorney for one or both of said districts with the qualifications required by law and he shall receive the salary as provided by law for such officers.

Sec. 5. All process and writs issued out of the district courts of the Seventy-fifth Judicial District in Montgomery County and out of the district court of the Ninth Judicial District in Hardin and Liberty Counties, and out of the district court of the Eightieth Judicial District in Waller County and all jurors selected prior to the taking effect of this Act are hereby made returnable to the terms of the Ninth Judicial District Court in Waller County and Montgomery County and the Seventy-fifth Judicial District Courts in Hardin and Liberty Counties, as said terms are fixed by this Act; and all bonds executed and recognizances entered in said courts shall bind the parties for their appearances or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds and recognizances at the terms of said courts as they are fixed by this Act; and all processes heretofore returned, as well as all bonds and recognizances heretofore taken in any of the district courts of said counties shall be as valid as though no change had been made in said districts and the times of holding courts therein.

Sec. 6. Should a district court be in session under the existing law in any county affected by this Act, the same shall continue and end its term under such existing law as if no change in the district had been made, and all process writs, judgments and decrees issued and rendered therein shall be valid and shall not be affected by the change of said districts and the time of holding courts therein made by this Act. [Acts 1925, p. 379.] [39th Leg., ch. 166, §§ 3-8.]

Sec. 6. There shall be no grand jury nor petit jury drawn for the 84th District Court in the Counties of Hemphill, Lipscomb, Wheeler, Roberts, Hansford and Ochiltree except such as the judge of said court may in his discretion from time to time order.

Sec. 8. The governor shall appoint as soon as this Act takes effect a person to act as judge of the 84th Judicial District and a person to act as District Attorney of such 84th Judicial District, such persons to have the qualifications as prescribed by law, which said appointees may hold their said respective offices until the next general election in this State, their successor to be elected as now provided by law. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 60, ch. 42.]

Section 12 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 60, ch. 42, provides that if a section, paragraph or provision thereof be held invalid, it shall not affect the remainder, which shall remain in force. Section 13 provides that said act in so far as it pertains to the 84th Judicial District shall expire in two years after it takes effect, and all cases and things pending shall by operation of law be transferred to the 31st Judicial District, and section 14 repeals all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

85.—Robertson and Brazos.

Robertson County: On the first Monday in January, April and July, and the second Monday in November and may continue five weeks.

Brazos County: On the second Monday in February and May, and third Monday in September and may continue six weeks.

There shall be organized grand juries at the January and July terms of said court in Robertson County, and at the February and September terms of said court in Brazos County, and at such other terms of the said court of each county as may be determined and ordered by the judge thereof.

The District Court of said Eighty-fifth Judicial District shall have all the powers and jurisdiction as district courts by and under the Constitution and laws of this State, and in addition thereto shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters and causes over which by the laws of this State the respective county courts of Robertson and Brazos Counties shall have jurisdiction, original or appellate, except as provided by law, and the same are hereby transferred to the District Court of said counties. [Acts 1917, p. 256.]

86.—Kaufman, Van Zandt and Rockwall.

Van Zandt County: On the first Monday in January and continue six weeks; on the thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in January and continue six weeks; and on the first Monday in September and continue six weeks.

Rockwall County: On the nineteenth Monday after the first Monday in January and continue four weeks; and on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in September and continue four weeks.

The county attorney of Van Zandt County shall represent the State in criminal cases in said county and receive the same fees and compensation as is now provided by law for the County Attorney of Kaufman County. [Acts 1917, p. 130.]

87.—See 77th District.

88, 91.—Eastland.

Eighty-eighth District: On the first Mondays in January, March, May, July, September and November, and may continue until the business is disposed of.

Ninety-first District: On the first Mondays in February, April, June, August, October and December, and may continue until the business of the court is disposed of.

The District Courts of Eastland County shall have concurrent civil and criminal jurisdiction with each other in said county in matters over which the jurisdiction is given or shall be given by the Constitution and laws of Texas to district courts; provided, that no grand jury shall be impaneled in the Ninety-first District Court, except that by the special order of the judge of said court, a grand jury shall be called for said court.

Either of the judges in the said District Courts of Eastland County may, in his discretion, either in term time or in vacation, transfer any case or cases, civil or criminal, to the other of said district courts by order entered on the minutes of his court, or minutes or orders made in chambers as the case may be, which orders when made shall be copied and certified to by the clerk of said courts together with all orders made in said case, and such certified copies of such orders shall be filed among the papers of any case thus transferred, and the fees thereof shall be taxed as a part of the costs of said suit, and the clerk of said court shall docket any such case in the court to which it shall have been transferred, and when so entered, the court to which it shall have been transferred shall have like jurisdiction therein as in cases originally brought in said court, and the same shall be dropped from the docket of the court from which it was transferred; provided, that when there shall be a transfer of any case from one court to the other, as herein provided, on motion of either of the parties to said suit, notice must be given to either the opposite party, or his attorney, by the party making the motion to transfer, one week before the time of entering the order of transfer.

The district clerk of Eastland County shall be the clerk of the district court of said Ninety-first Judicial District, sitting in Eastland County.

The county attorney of Eastland County shall perform all the duties of county attorney and district attorney in both of said district courts and shall receive the same compensation for his services as is or may be fixed by law for a district attorney acting in judicial districts composed of two or more counties.

The clerk of the District Court of Eastland County shall file all suits in his office alternately in said Eighty-eighth and Ninety-first District Courts. [Acts 1919, p. 256; Acts 3rd C. S. 1920, p. 57; Acts 1923, p. 143.]

89.—See 30th District.

90.—Stephens: On the first Monday in January, March, May, July, September and November and may continue eight weeks, and the judge of said court may, in his discretion, have a grand jury drawn for and organized at any of said terms of court. [Acts 1921, p. 111; Acts 1923, p. 346.]

98.—(No. 98th Judicial District.)

99.—

Sec. 1. There is hereby created the 99th Judicial District of the State of Texas to be composed of the County of Lubbock, and the district court therein shall have the jurisdiction of a district court under the Constitution and General Laws of this State.

Sec. 2. The terms of said Court shall be held in said County as follows:

On the second Monday in January and may continue in session twelve weeks; on the twelfth Monday after the second Monday in January and may continue in session twelve weeks; and on the first Monday in September and may continue in session eight weeks; and on the eighth Monday after the first Monday in September, and may continue in session eight weeks.

Sec. 3. The District Clerk of Lubbock County shall act as the District Clerk for the court herein created. Immediately upon this Act taking effect the District Judge of the 72nd Judicial District shall enter an order transferring a portion of the cases on the docket in said 72nd Judicial District Court in Lubbock County to the District Court of the 99th Judicial District herein created, and said District Clerk shall thereupon transfer such cases accordingly and enter the same upon the docket of said court created by this Act, together with all records and papers relating thereto.

Sec. 4. In all cases transferred under this Act, all process and writs issued out of the 72nd Judicial Dis-district Court of said county and jurors selected prior to the taking effect of this Act, are hereby made returnable to the terms of the District Court of the 99th Judicial District as herein created and fixed, and all bonds executed and recognizances entered in any such transferred cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds and recognizances at the terms of said court as they are fixed by this Act, and all process heretofore returned to, as well as all bonds and recognizances theretofore taken in said transferred cases, shall be as valid as though no change had been made in the district court and the times of holding court therein.

Sec. 5. All process issued or served before this Act goes into effect and returnable to the district court of the 72nd Judicial District of Lubbock County shall be considered as returnable to the district court of the 99th Judicial District of Lubbock County as established and created hereby and in accordance with the terms as established by this Act, and all such process is hereby validated and all juries heretofore drawn and selected in any case transferred under this Act shall be considered lawfully drawn for the next term of the district court to which it was transferred.

Sec. 6. The Governor shall appoint a judge for the district court of said district created by this Act possessing the qualifications prescribed by the Constitution and laws of this State, who shall hold said office until the next general election and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified and thereafter the judge of said court shall be selected as prescribed by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 7. The district attorney in and for the 72nd Judicial District shall act also as the district attorney for the district court herein established and created.

Sec. 8. The sheriff of Lubbock County shall perform the duties in connection with the court herein created as provided by law for sheriffs to perform in connection with district courts. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 85, ch. 61; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 72, ch. 22, § 2.]

100.—Childress, Hall, Donley and Collingsworth.

In Childress County:

On the first Monday in January and on the twenty-first Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue in session five weeks.

In Hall County:

On the fifth Monday after the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in September and may continue in session six weeks.

In Donley County:

On the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in January and on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in September and may continue in session five weeks.

In Collingsworth County:

On the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in January and on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in September and may continue in session five weeks.

Sec. 2. That all process and writs heretofore issued out of the district courts of the respective counties constituting the One Hundredth Judicial District and returnable to terms of court in said counties according to existing law are hereby made returnable to the terms of the district courts of said respective counties as said terms are fixed by this Act.

And all bonds executed and recognizances entered in said courts shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds and recognizances at the terms of said court as they are fixed by this Act, and all process heretofore returned, as well as all bonds and recognizances heretofore taken in the district courts of said respective counties shall be as valid as though no change had been made in the time of holding courts therein, and all grand and petit jurors drawn and selected under existing laws for any counties of said district are hereby declared lawfully drawn and selected for the first term of the district courts of such respective counties held in conformity with this Act.

Sec. 3. Should district court be in session under existing laws in any of the counties of said district, when this Act takes effect, such court, shall continue and end its term under such existing laws as if no change had been made in the time for holding such term, and all process, writs, judgments, decrees and other proceedings of said court during such time shall be valid to all intents and purposes and shall not be affected by the changes in the time of holding court therein made by this Act, but after the period provided in the above contingency the district courts of the respective counties herein mentioned shall be held in conformity with the terms herein prescribed. [Acts 1925, p. 178.] [39th Leg., ch. 43, §§ 1-3.]

101.—An additional district court is hereby created in and for Dallas County, the limits of which shall be coextensive with the limits of the county. The district shall be known as the One Hundred and First Judicial District.

Sec. 2. The One Hundred and First District Court shall not have or exercise any criminal jurisdiction, but in all other respects it shall have and exercise the jurisdiction prescribed by the Constitution and laws of the State for district courts in general, and the judge thereof shall have and exercise the powers conferred by the Constitution and laws of the State on the judges of district courts. Its jurisdiction shall be concurrent with that of the existing district courts of Dallas County.

Sec. 3. The terms of the One Hundred and First District Court shall begin on the first Mondays, respectively, in March _____ June _____, September _____ and December _____ of each year, and each term shall continue until the Sunday immediately preceding the date set for the beginning of the next term thereof.

Sec. 4. The Governor shall appoint a suitable person as judge for said One Hundred and First District Court, who shall hold his office until the next general election until his successor shall have been elected and qualified. Thereafter the judge of said court shall be elected as provided by the Constitution and laws of the State for the election of district judges.

Sec. 5. The clerk of the district courts of Dallas County shall, upon the taking effect of this Act, assume the duties of clerk of the One Hundred and First District Court and shall thereafter perform the duties of such position as if the court had existed at the time of his election. He shall promptly prepare a docket for the One Hundred and First District Court, placing thereon every fifth pending case on the respective dockets of the Fourteenth, Forty-fourth, sixty-eighth and Ninety-fifth District Courts, continuing in this manner through said dockets until all the cases thereon are exhausted and the dockets of the five courts are equalized as near as may be; provided, that no case then on trial in any of the existing district courts nor any case pending on appeal therefrom shall be transferred to the docket of the court created hereby. The cases so transferred shall bear the same docket numbers as in the court from which they are transferred, and the judges of the existing district courts, respectively, shall make proper orders transferring from said courts to the One Hundred and First District Court the cases which shall have been placed upon the docket of the latter court in pursuance of this Act.

Sec. 6. The letters A, B, C, D, and E shall be placed on the dockets and court papers in the respective district courts of Dallas County to distinguish them, A being used in connection with the Fourteenth District Court, B, the Forty-fourth District Court, C the Sixty-eighth District Court, D the Ninety-fifth District Court and E the One Hundred and First District Court.

Sec. 7. All suits, prosecutions and proceedings hereafter instituted in the district courts of Dallas County shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with the next number after the last file number on the dockets of the existing courts, and shall be entered by the district clerk upon the dockets of said courts alternately, beginning with the Fourteenth District Court; next, the Forty-fourth District Court, third, the Sixty-eighth District Court, fourth, the Ninety-fifth District Court and fifth, the One Hundred and First District Court.

Sec. 8. The respective judges of the district courts of Dallas County shall from time to time, as occasion may require, transfer cases from any one of such courts to any other such court in order that the business may be equally distributed among them, that the judges thereof may at all times be provided with cases to be tried or otherwise considered, and that the trial of no case need be delayed because of the disqualification of the judge in whose court it is pending; provided, however, no case shall be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred. When any transfer is made, proper order shall be entered on the minutes of the court as evidence thereof and notice of the transfer shall be given in writing by the clerk to the attorneys of record of all parties to the cause.

102.—Red River and Bowie.

In the county of Red River on the first Monday in January of each year and may continue in session for ten weeks;

In the county of Bowie on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in January of each year and may continue in session for seven weeks;

In the county of Red River on the eighteenth Monday after the first Monday in January of each year and may continue in session until the first Monday in September;

In the county of Bowie on the first Monday in September of each year and may continue in session for seven weeks;

In the county of Red River on the eighth Monday after the first Monday in September of each year and may continue in session until the first Monday in January of the following year.

Sec. 2. Immediately after this Act takes effect the Governor shall appoint some suitable person as judge of the One Hundred and Second Judicial District Court who shall hold said office until the next general election for State and county officers, and until the election and qualification of his successor in office.

Sec. 3. The clerk of the district court of Bowie County, Texas, as heretofore constituted, and his successors in office, shall be the clerk of both the Fifth Judicial District Court and of the One Hundred and Second Judicial District Court in Bowie County hereby created, and shall perform all the duties of the clerk of both courts in Bowie County.

Sec. 4. The clerk of the district court of Red River County, Texas, as heretofore constituted, and his successors in office, shall be the clerk of the One Hundred and Second Judicial District Court in Red River County hereby created, and shall perform all the duties of the clerk of said One Hundred and Second Judicial District Court in Red River County.

Changing jurisdiction of county court affecting District Court of Bowie County, see article 1970-306.

103.—Cameron and Willacy.

In the county of Cameron, on the third Monday in February of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks; on the third Monday in April of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks; on the third Monday in July of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks; on the third Monday in September of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks; on the third Monday in December of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks.

In the county of Willacy, on the third Monday in June of each year, and may continue in session four weeks; on the third Monday in November of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

The Governor shall appoint a suitable person possessing qualifications prescribed by the constitution and laws of this State, as judge of the 103rd Judicial District Court, as herein constituted, and such person shall hold said office until the next general election and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified and thereafterwards the judges of said 103rd Judicial District of Texas shall be elected as prescribed by the constitution and laws of this State for the election of district judges.

Immediately upon taking effect of this Act, all civil cases now pending in the Twenty-eighth Judicial District Court in the respective counties of Willacy and Cameron, together with all records and papers relating thereto, shall be transferred to said 103rd Judicial District Court in each said respective counties of Willacy and Cameron.

All process and writs issued out of the district court of said counties and jurors selected prior to the taking effect of this Act are hereby made returnable to the terms of said courts, as said terms are fixed by this Act and all bonds executed and recognizances entered in said courts shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds and recognizances at the terms of said courts as they are fixed by this Act, and all process heretofore returned to, as well as all bonds and recognizances, theretofore taken in any of said courts of said counties shall be as valid as though no change had been made in the said districts and the times of holding courts therein. [Id., p. 247.]

Sec. 2. The 104th Judicial District of Texas is hereby created by this Act and said Judicial District shall be composed of the following counties, to-wit: Jones, Fisher and Taylor; and the terms of court in said counties shall convene and be held as follows, to-wit:

In Jones County: On the first Monday in January and may continue in session seven weeks; on the fifteenth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue in session six weeks; on the first Monday in September and may continue in session five weeks.

In Fisher County: On the seventh Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue in session four weeks; on the twenty-first Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue in session three weeks; on the fifth Monday after the first Monday in September and may continue in session four weeks.

In Taylor County: On the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue in session four weeks; on the twenty-fourth Monday after the first Monday in January and may continue in session until the last Saturday in July; on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in September and may continue in session until the last Saturday in December.

Sec. 3. The Judge of the 39th Judicial District of Texas, who resides in Haskell County, shall be the judge of said 39th Judicial District of Texas, until the expiration of the term for which he was elected and until his successor is duly elected and qualified as provided by law. The district attorney of the 39th Judicial District who resides in Jones County, shall be district attorney of the newly created 104th Judicial District of Texas, until the next general election when his successor shall have been elected and qualified as provided by law.

Sec. 4. Immediately after this Act shall have gone into effect, it shall be the duty of the Governor of this State to appoint a person qualified by law to act as judge of said 104th Judicial District of Texas, and to appoint a person qualified by law to act as district attorney of the 39th Judicial District of Texas, which said appointees may hold their said respective offices until the next general election in this State, their successors to be elected as now provided by law.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the Commissioners' Court of Taylor County to provide in the county courthouse of said county, suitable quarters for holding the terms of court of said 104th Judicial District of Texas, in Taylor County, as well as suitable quarters for the officers of said court.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Sec. 6. All process and writs issued out of, and bonds and recognizances made and entered into, and all grand and petit juries drawn before this Act takes effect, shall be valid for and returnable to the next succeeding term of the district court in and for the several counties as herein fixed, as though issued and served for such terms, and returnable to and drawn for the same, and all such process, writs, bonds and recognizances taken before or issued in the various counties affected by this Act, shall be as valid as though no change had been made in the various districts or in the time of holding the terms of court therein.

Sec. 7. The District Clerk of Taylor County shall act as clerk of the newly created 104th Judicial District of Texas, in Taylor County, as well as the 42nd Judicial District of Texas, and in filing civil suits, said clerk shall file same alternately in said two district courts and in numbering all suits in each of said courts, said clerk shall place after all numbers of all suits which are filed after this Act takes effect; the letters A or B, so as to distinguish causes pending in said two courts, placing after the number of all suits filed in said 42nd District Court the capital letter A, and placing after the number of all suits filed in said 104th District Court the capital letter B.

Sec. 8. The 42nd Judicial District of Texas and the 104th Judicial District of Texas, and the courts of said Judicial Districts in and for Taylor County, shall have concurrent civil and criminal jurisdiction with each other in said county in all matters over which jurisdiction is given or shall be hereafter given by the Constitution and laws of this State to district courts. Either of the judges of said district courts for Taylor County may in their discretion, in term time or in vacation transfer any case or cases, civil or criminal, to said other district court by order entered on the minutes of his court from which said case is transferred or minutes or orders made in chambers as the case may be, which orders, when made, shall be copied and certified to by the district clerk of Taylor County together with all orders made in said case and such certified copies of such orders, together with the original papers, shall be filed among the papers of any case thus transferred, and the fees thereof shall be taxed as a part of the costs of said suit, and the clerk of said court shall docket any such case in the court to which it shall have been transferred, and when so entered the court to which same shall have been thus transferred shall have like jurisdiction therein as in cases originally brought in said court, and the same shall be dropped from the docket of the said court from which it was transferred.

Sec. 9. In Taylor County, the District Attorney of the 42nd Judicial District shall represent the State in all criminal cases, including habeas corpus cases, which are tried by the Judge of said 42nd Judicial District, or by any regular or special judge presiding for him in said county. Likewise in said county of Taylor, the District Attorney of the 104th Judicial District shall represent the State in all criminal cases, including habeas corpus cases, which are tried by the Judge of said 104th Judicial District, or by any regular or special judge presiding for him in said county. Provided that the District Attorney of the 42nd Judicial District may, upon request of the District Attorney of the 104th District assist the said district attorney in the trial of any criminal case or habeas corpus case pending in the District Court of said 104th Judicial District in Taylor County, and likewise the District Attorney of the 104th Judicial District may upon request of the District Attorney for the 42nd Judicial District assist said district attorney in the trial of any criminal case, or habeas corpus case, pending in the District Court of said 104th Judicial District in Taylor County, and in all such cases the district attorney assisting shall receive the same compensation for such services as is now provided by law for such services in the district for which he was elected, but nothing herein shall be construed as limiting the authority of the district attorneys of the two districts from having absolute control and management of criminal cases and habeas corpus cases which are tried in their respective courts. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 44, ch. 32.]

Section 10 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 44, ch. 32, declares that the invalidity of any part of the act shall not affect the remaining parts thereof.

105.—(No. 105th Judicial District.)

106.—Terry, Lynn, Garza, Dawson, Gaines and Yoakum.

In the County of Terry, on the third Monday in January, and on the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the County of Lynn, on the fourth Monday after the third Monday in January, and the fourth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the County of Garza, on the eighth Monday after the third Monday in January, and on the eighth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the County of Dawson, on the twelfth Monday after the third Monday in January, and may continue in session for five weeks, and on the twelfth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the County of Gaines, on the seventeenth Monday after the third Monday in January, and may continue in session three weeks, and on the sixteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August and may continue in session two weeks.

In the County of Yoakum, on the twentieth Monday after the third Monday in January, and on the eighteenth Monday after the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall appoint, as soon as this Act takes effect, a person to act as judge of the One Hundred and Sixth Judicial District, and a person to act as a district attorney of such judicial district such persons to have the qualification as prescribed by law.

Sec. 4. All process issued, bonds and recognizances made, and all grand and petit juries drawn before this Act takes effect shall be valid for and returnable to the next succeeding terms of the district courts of the several counties, as herein fixed as though issued and served for such terms and returnable to and drawn for the same.

Sec. 5. This Act shall take effect, and be in force from and after the first day of August, 1925. [Acts 1925, p. 250.] [39th Leg., ch. 80, §§ 2-5.]

The 108th Judicial District of Texas shall be composed of the county of Potter and the terms thereof shall be held as follows:

On the first Monday in February and may continue in session ten weeks.

On the tenth Monday after the first Monday in February and may continue in session twelve weeks.

On the second Monday in August and may continue in session twelve weeks.

On the twelfth Monday after the second Monday in August and may continue in session until business is disposed of. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 10, ch. 7, § 2.]

Section 9 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 10, ch. 7, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

Art. 200. [31] Amendments affecting Judicial Districts.—Wherever the law declaring what counties shall compose a judicial district, or the law prescribing the time or places for holding the terms of the district court of any judicial district shall have been or may hereafter be amended, in every such case all process and writs theretofore issued from any such district court and made returnable to a term of such court as fixed by law at the time of such issuance, shall be returnable to the next ensuing term of such court as prescribed by such amended law; and all such writs and process shall be as legal and valid as if the same had been made returnable to the term of such court as fixed by such amendment. All grand and petit jurors selected and drawn under theretofore existing laws in any county of any such judicial district shall be considered lawfully drawn and selected for the next term of the district court of such county as fixed by the amended law; and the obligees in all appearance bonds and recognizances taken in and for any such district court, as well as all witnesses summoned to appear before such district court under pre-existing law, shall be required to appear at the next term of such court as fixed by the amended law.

ADMINISTRATIVE JUDICIAL DISTRICTS

Art. 200a. Administrative judicial districts.—

Sec. 2. Immediately after this Act becomes effective it shall be the duty of the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to designate one of the regularly elected and commissioned district judges of each of said districts as Presiding Judge of the Administrative Judicial District. Upon the death, resignation or the expiration of the term of office of such Presiding Judge, the Governor shall thereafter immediately designate a new Presiding Judge of the Administrative District, as in the first instance.

Sec. 3. The Clerk of the District Court of the district from which the judge has been designated as the Presiding Judge of the Administrative District, and of the county of the residence of the judge, in addition to his regular duties as clerk of the district court, shall perform the duties of the clerk of the Administrative District.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the Presiding Judge of such Administrative District, once each year, to call a regular conference, and, at such times as may be necessary, a special conference, of the several district judges of the several judicial districts composing the Administrative District, at a time and place to be designated by the Presiding Judge, for consultation and counsel as to the state of business, civil and criminal, in the several district courts of the Administrative District, and to arrange for the disposition of the business pending on the dockets of the several district courts of the District. At the time of such consultation, or at any time thereafter, with or without an additional meeting of the judges, it shall be the duty of the Presiding Judge, from time to time, to assign any of the judges of the Administrative District to hold special or regular terms of court in any county of the Administrative District in order to try and dispose of accumulated business, under such rules as may be prescribed by the session, or sessions, of the district judges of the Administrative District. Such meeting or council of judges shall have the power to prescribe rules regulating and facilitating the order of trials, the keeping of records in the various counties of the district where judges are sent from one district into another to facilitate the disposition of cases, and to make such other rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry this Act into practical operation. When it is deemed necessary, the Presiding Judge of the Administrative District may call special or additional meetings of the conference of judges during the year. The District Judges shall lay before each conference of judges a list of all cases pending, and the exact status of their dockets, together, with such other information as may be required by the rules and regulations of the conference.

Sec. 5. Judges may be assigned in the manner herein provided for the holding of district court when the regular judge thereof is absent or is from any cause disabled or disqualified from presiding, and in instances where the regular district judge is present or himself trying cases where authorized or permitted by the Constitution and laws of the State.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of any district judge of any district within the Administrative District to extend the regular terms of his court, and to call special terms, when necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act and dispose of pending litigation. If the term be extended as herein provided no other term of the court in such district shall fail because of said extension, but such other terms may be opened and held as usual. The Presiding Judge of one Administrative District may call upon the Presiding Judge of another Administrative District to furnish judges to aid in the disposition of litigation pending in any judicial district within the Administrative District in which such judge so making the request has been designated as the Presiding Judge. For the trial of cases and the entry of orders and the disposition of other business necessary, the judge of any district in this State, or any District Judge sent to any district in this State by the Presiding Judge of an Administrative District, shall have power, by entering an order on the minutes, to convene a special term of the court for the disposition of the business coming before the district court.

Sec. 7. The district clerk performing the duties of clerk for the Administrative District shall conduct the correspondence for the Presiding Judge of the Administrative District, keep a record of all its proceedings, and a complete and accurate record of all cases pending in the several courts of the Administrative District, the time of their filing, the style and purposes of the causes, and their final disposition, and such other matters as may be prescribed by the council of judges herein referred to. For such purposes he is authorized, with the approval of the Presiding Judge, to purchase the necessary office equipment, stamps, stationery and supplies, and to employ one additional deputy clerk, under the direction of the council of judges or such rules as they may promulgate. Such cost shall be divided pro rata among the counties and paid by the counties on the certificate of the Presiding Judge. He shall, under the direction of the Presiding Judge of the Administrative District, make an annual report, and such special reports as may be directed by the Presiding Judge of the District, to the Attorney General. Such reports shall be there filed and open to public inspection, and shall be condensed and tabulated in the biennial reports of the Attorney General.

Sec. 8. The several district judges of the District, when required to attend the annual or special sessions of the judges herein prescribed, shall, in addition to all other compensation allowed them by law, receive their actual traveling expenses going to and returning from the place of meeting, and their actual expenses while in attendance on the meeting.

Sec. 9. All of the aforesaid salaries, compensation and expenses, and all other expenses authorized and incurred herein for the purpose of administering this law, shall be paid in equal portions by the several counties composing the Administrative District, out of the general funds of said counties. Said salaries, compensation, expenses and expenditures herein authorized are to be paid on certificates of approval of the Presiding Judge of the Administrative District.

Sec. 10. When the district judges are assigned under the provisions of this Act to districts other than their own district and out of their own counties, they shall, in addition to all other compensation permitted or authorized by law, receive their actual expenses in going to and returning from their several assignments, and their actual living expenses while in the performance of their duties under assignments, which expenses shall be paid out of the General Fund of the county in which their duties under assignments are performed, upon accounts certified and approved by the Presiding Judge of the Administrative District. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 228, ch. 156.]

Section 11 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 228, ch. 156, provides that if any part thereof is held invalid, such holding shall not affect the remainder.

TITLE 9

APPRENTICES

Art.

- 201. When minor may be apprenticed.
- 202. Minor not apprenticed to whom.
- 203. Duration of apprenticeship.
- 204. Shall not be apprenticed without notice.
- 205. In what county shall be apprenticed.
- 206. Obligation entered into.
- 207. Obligation approved and recorded.
- 208. Minor over 14 years of age may select.
- 209. Order of court apprenticing.
- 210. Evidence of authority.
- 211. Rights of master.
- 212. Residence of apprentice.
- 213. Removal from county.
- 214. When apprentice runs away.
- 215. Apprentice discharged when.
- 216. Citation to master.
- 217. Master released.
- 218. Inquiry into treatment.
- 219. Minor again apprenticed.
- 220. Proceedings may be had.
- 221. Suit upon obligation.
- 222. Costs paid by whom.
- 223. Guardian of person.

Article 201. [32] [23] [18] When minor may be apprenticed.—The county court may bind a minor as an apprentice—

1. When such minor is an orphan and without sufficient estate for his maintenance and education.

2. When the parents of such minor have suffered him to become a charge upon the county.

3. When the parents of such minor, not being a charge on the county, shall consent in writing to such apprenticeship, which consent shall be signed by them, and filed and entered of record in such court.

Art. 202. [33] [24] [19] Minor not apprenticed to whom.—A minor shall in no case be apprenticed to any one who is not legally competent to act as the guardian of such minor.

Art. 203. [34] [25] [20] Duration of apprenticeship.—The duration of apprenticeship shall be until the minor, if a male, arrives at the age of twenty-one years; if a female, until she arrives at the age of eighteen years, or until she marries if she marries before that age.

Art. 204. [35] [26] [21] Shall not be apprenticed without notice.—A minor shall not be apprenticed without citation in the same manner as is provided in the case of an application for the guardianship of a minor.

Art. 205. [36] [27] [22] In what county minor shall be apprenticed.—A minor shall be apprenticed in the county in which he resides, and shall not be apprenticed to any person who is not at the time a resident of such county.

Art. 206. [37] [28] [23] Obligation entered into.—The person to whom such minor is apprenticed shall enter into an obligation in writing, payable to such minor, in the sum to be fixed by the county judge, not less than one thousand dollars, and to be approved by such county judge, conditioned:

1. That he will furnish said minor sufficient food and clothing.

2. That he will treat said minor humanely.

3. That he will teach, or cause to be taught, to said minor some trade or occupation, the same to be specified in such obligation.

4. That he will furnish said minor medicine and medical attention when necessary.

5. That he will send said minor to school for the full term of the public free school in the community in which he resides.

6. That he will not remove said minor out of the county without the leave of the court.

7. That he will not remove said minor out of the State.

Art. 207. [39] [30] [25] Obligation approved and recorded.—The obligation provided for by the preceding article when approved by the court, shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county court and recorded upon the minutes of the court.

Art. 208. [38] [29] [24] Minor over 14 years of age may select.—A minor who is fourteen years, or over, may select the person to whom he desires to be apprenticed; and the court shall if such person be competent, apprentice the minor to the person so selected.

Art. 209. [40] [31] [26] Order of court apprenticing.—When such obligation has been approved and filed, the court shall enter an order upon the minutes, reciting such facts and directing that the same be recorded in the minutes, and authorizing the person to whom such minor is apprenticed to take charge and control of the person of such minor, and to retain the same until such minor arrives at the age of twenty-one years; or, if a female, until she arrives at the age of eighteen years, or until she marries, and the age of such minor at the time of entering such order shall be distinctly stated therein.

Art. 210. [41] [32] [27] Evidence of authority.—A certified copy of such order, under the seal of the court, shall be sufficient evidence of the authority of the person named therein to control the person of such minor.

Art. 211. [42-43] Rights of master.—The person to whom a minor has been apprenticed shall have the right, in the management and control of such minor, to inflict such moderate corporal chastisement as may be necessary and proper, and shall have the right to control the person of such minor, and shall be entitled to his services, and to all the profits arising from any such service during the continuance of such apprenticeship.

Art. 212. [44] [35] [30] Residence of apprentice.—It shall not be lawful for any apprentice to reside out of the county in which he has been apprenticed without the order of the county judge of such county, entered upon the minutes of the court. When such leave is obtained, a certified copy of the order granting the same shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county in which the future residence of the minor is to be, together with a certified copy of the obligation and order apprenticing such minor; and the same shall be filed and recorded upon the minutes of the county court of such last named county; and thereafter such court shall have the same power and control over the case as if it had been originally commenced therein.

Art. 213. [45] [36] [31]. Removal from county.—When an apprentice has been removed out of the county in which he was apprenticed, by the person to whom he was apprenticed, or with the knowledge or consent of such person, and without an order authorizing such removal, as provided in the preceding article, and shall be detained out of said county for more than thirty days, such apprentice shall not be held bound for a further compliance with his apprenticeship, and can only be retained at the pleasure of such apprentice.

Art. 214. [46] [37] [32]. When apprentice runs away.—If any apprentice shall run away from or leave the employment of the person to whom he is apprenticed without permission, such person may pursue and recapture such apprentice and bring him before the county judge having jurisdiction of the case, who shall investigate the case; and if satisfied that said apprentice ran away or left the employment of such person without good and sufficient cause, he shall order such apprentice to return to his service; and upon his failure or refusal to do so the court may punish him as for contempt of court.

Art. 215 [47] [38] [33]. Apprentice discharged when.—Upon the investigation provided for in the preceding article, if the court be satisfied that such apprentice has good and sufficient cause for running away from or leaving the employment of the person to whom he was apprenticed, the court shall discharge said apprentice, and revoke all authority granted to the person to whom such minor was apprenticed, and shall enter an order to that effect upon the minutes.

Art. 216. [48] [39] [34]. Citation to master.—The county judge may, upon the complaint of the minor or any other person, or without complaint, cause the person to whom a minor has been apprenticed, to be cited to appear before him at any time and place mentioned in such citation, and show cause why his authority over such minor should not be revoked and the minor discharged from his apprenticeship. And upon the return of such citation served, the judge, if satisfied that such person is incompetent from any cause to properly control such minor, or that such person has in any material respect violated the obligation entered into by him, shall enter an order upon the minutes revoking such authority granted to such person over such minor, and discharging such minor from such apprenticeship.

Art. 217. [49] [40] [35]. Master released.—A person to whom a minor has been apprenticed may at any time, upon good cause shown to the county judge, be released from future liability upon his obligation of apprenticeship; and in such case an order shall be entered upon the minutes revoking the authority of such person over such minor, and declaring such apprenticeship at an end.

Art. 218. [50] [41] [36]. Inquiry into treatment.—The county judge shall, from time to time, inquire into the treatment of the minors apprenticed by him, or by his predecessors in office, and shall defend them from all cruelty, neglect, breach of contract or misconduct on the part of the persons to whom they were apprenticed.

Art. 219. [51] [42] [37]. Minor again apprenticed.—When the person to whom a minor has been apprenticed dies, or when his authority has been revoked, the minor may be again apprenticed as in the first instance.

Art. 220. [52] [43] [38]. Proceedings may be had.—The proceedings provided for in the preceding articles of this title may be had either in term time or in vacation, except that a minor shall be apprenticed only at a regular term of the court for probate business, and after notice as in the case of the appointment of a guardian.

Art. 221. [53] [44] [39]. Suit upon obligation.—In case of a breach of the obligation on the part of the person to whom a minor has been apprenticed, the minor, or the county judge, or any person for the use of the minor, may sue upon such obligation in any court of the county where such obligation, or certified copy thereof, has been filed and recorded, and shall be entitled to recover such damages as the minor may have sustained by reason of such breach; and all such damages shall be the property of such minor.

Art. 222. [54] [45] [40]. Costs paid by whom.—In all proceedings apprenticing a minor, or discharging him from apprenticeship, and in all other proceedings connected with such apprenticeship, the person to whom such minor was apprenticed shall pay the costs of such proceedings, and the same shall be adjudged against him and collected as in other cases, except in a suit brought under the preceding article, in which case the costs shall be adjudged as in other civil suits.

Art. 223. [55] [46] [41]. Guardian of person.—When a minor is apprenticed, the person to whom such minor is apprenticed supplies the place of the guardian of the person of such minor, and in such case there shall be no guardian of the person of such minor.

ARBITRATION

1. ARBITRATION IN GENERAL

- Art.
 224. Right to arbitrate.

 245. Adjudication terminates powers.
 246. Status quo preserved.
 247. Compensation.
 248. Award to take effect when.
 249. Judgment entered.

1. ARBITRATION IN GENERAL

Article 224. [56] [47] [42]. Right to arbitrate.—All persons desiring to submit any dispute, controversy, or right of action supposed to have accrued to either party, to arbitration, shall have the right so to do in accordance with the provisions of this title. [Const., art. 16, sec. 13.]

Art. 225. [57] [48] [43]. Agreement.—Such persons shall sign an agreement in writing, as plaintiff and defendant, to arbitrate their differences or matters in dispute, and in such agreement each party shall name for himself one arbitrator, who shall be over the age of twenty-one years, not related to either party by consanguinity or affinity, possessing the qualifications of a juror, and who is not interested in the result of the cause to be submitted for his decision. [Act April 25, 1846, p. 127. G. L. vol. 2, p. 1433.]

Art. 226. [58] [49] [44]. Agreement filed.—If the amount in dispute is two hundred dollars or less, exclusive of interest, such agreement shall be filed with some justice of the peace of the county in which the defendant resides or in which the controversy arose. If the matter in dispute exceeds two hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, then such agreement shall be filed with the clerk of the district or county court of the county in which the controversy arose, according as the amount involved, or matter in dispute.

may come within the jurisdiction of one court or the other. [Id.]

Art. 227. [59] [50] [45] Day of trial designated.—When such agreement is filed, the justice of the peace or the clerk of county or district court, as the case may be, shall forthwith designate a day for the trial of the cause, not less than two days thereafter, and shall issue process for such witnesses as either party may desire, returnable on the day fixed for trial. [Id.]

Art. 228. [60] [51] [46] Oath of arbitrators.—On the assembling of the arbitrators on the day of trial, the justice or clerk shall administer an oath to each, substantially as follows: "You do solemnly swear that you will fairly and impartially decide the matter in dispute between the parties, according to the evidence adduced and the law and equity applicable to the facts proved. So help you God." [Id.]

Art. 229. [61] [52] [47] Continuances permissible.—After being sworn, the arbitrators may, for good cause shown, continue the hearing to some other day, and during the progress of any trial, for good cause, may adjourn the same over to some other time.

Art. 230. [62] [53] [48] Procedure on trial.—Any arbitrator shall administer the necessary oath to the witnesses, and the trial of the cause shall proceed in like manner with trials in the courts of this State, the plaintiff holding the affirmative, and entitled to open and conclude the argument.

Art. 231. [63] [54] [49] Award entered as judgment.—After hearing the evidence and arguments, if any, the arbitrators shall agree upon their award and reduce the same to writing, specifying plainly their decision, which award they shall file with the justice or clerk as the case may be, and at the succeeding term of the court if no appeal is applied for such award shall be entered and recorded as the judgment of the court, with like effect as other judgments of said court.

Art. 232. [64] [55] [50] Umpire selected.—If the arbitrators chosen as aforesaid cannot agree, they shall select an umpire with like qualifications as themselves, or in case they disagree in the choice of an umpire, the justice or clerk shall select such umpire, and he shall be sworn in like manner as the arbitrators; and the cause may be tried anew at such time as the board of arbitration thus constituted may designate, with like proceedings as are prescribed in the preceding article.

Art. 233. [65] [56] [51] Appeal from award.—If a right of appeal is not expressly reserved in the original agreement to arbitrate, no such right shall exist, but the decision of the arbitrators shall be final. If such right of appeal is reserved, and either party desires to appeal from such decision or award, he shall file his written application to that effect with the justice or clerk, as the case may be, on or before the return day of the term of the court next thereafter. [Id.]

Art. 234. [66] [57] [52] In case of appeal.—When an application for appeal is filed, as prescribed in the preceding article the same shall be noted on the docket of the court, and the opposite party served with a citation, as in ordinary cases of suit by petition. Upon return of service upon the opposite party, the cause shall stand for trial de novo as in ordinary cases.

Art. 235. [67] [58] [53] Costs.—The arbitrators may award the costs to either party; and, if their decision or award is silent as to costs, the same shall be taxed equally against both parties.

Art. 236. [68] [59] [54] Refusing to proceed.—After an agreement to arbitrate is filed, the parties thereto shall be bound to that mode of trial under the following penalties, to-wit: Such agreement may be pleaded in bar to any suit thereafter brought by a plaintiff in such agreement for the same cause of action, when such plaintiff has refused to proceed under such agreement; and said agreement may be pleaded in bar to any right claimed or defense set up by defendant in such agreement who has refused to proceed thereunder, where such right or defense existed at the time of filing such agreement. [Act 1846, p. 127.]

Art. 237. [69] [60] [55] Corporation, etc., may arbitrate.—The provisions of this title shall apply to corporations as well as natural persons; and executors, administrators and guardians may also consent to an arbitration of any controversy or matter of dispute relating to or affecting their respective trusts, with the consent of the court in which such administration or guardianship is pending.

Art. 238. [70] [61] [56] Mode not exclusive.—Nothing herein shall be construed as affecting the existing right of parties to arbitrate their differences in such mode as they may select.

2. ARBITRATION BETWEEN EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYED

Art. 239. [71] Board of arbitration authorized. Whenever any grievance or dispute of any nature, growing out of the relation of employer and employes, shall arise or exist between employer and employes, it shall be lawful, upon mutual consent of all parties, to submit all matters respecting such grievance or dispute in writing to a board of arbitrators to hear, adjudicate, and determine the same. Said board shall consist of five persons. When the employes concerned in such grievance or dispute, as the aforesaid, are members in good standing of any labor organization which is represented by one or more delegates in a central body, the said central body shall have power to designate two of said arbitrators, and the employer shall have the power to designate two others of said arbitrators; and the said four arbitrators shall designate a fifth person as arbitrator, who shall be chairman of the board. In case the employes concerned in any such grievance or dispute, as aforesaid, are members in good standing of a labor organization which is not represented in a central body, then the organization of which they are members shall designate two members of said board; and said board shall be organized as hereinbefore provided; and in case the employes concerned in any such grievance or dispute, as aforesaid, are not members of any labor organization, then a majority of said employes, at a meeting duly held for that purpose, shall designate two arbitrators for said board; and said board shall be organized as hereinbefore provided; provided, that when the two arbitrators shall have been selected by each of the respective parties to the controversy, the district judge of the district having jurisdiction of the subject matter shall, upon notice from either of said arbitrators that they have failed to agree upon the fifth arbitrator, appoint said fifth arbitrator. [Acts 1895, p. 85, G. L. vol. 10, p. 815.]

Art. 240. [72] District judge to establish board, etc.—Any board, as aforesaid selected, may present a written petition to the district judge of the county where such grievance or dispute to be arbitrated may arise, signed by a majority of said board, setting forth in brief terms the facts showing their due and regular appointment, and the nature of the grievance or dispute between the parties to said arbitration, and praying the license or order of such judge establishing and approving of said board of arbitration. Upon the presentation of said petition, said judge, if it appear that all requirements of this law have been complied with, shall make an order establishing such board of arbitration and referring the matters in dispute to it for hearing, adjudication and determination. The said petition and order, or a copy thereof, shall be filed in the office of the district clerk of the county in which the arbitration is sought. [Id.]

Art. 241. [73] Controversy involving labor organizations.—When a controversy involves and affects the interests of two or more classes or grades of employes belonging to different labor organizations, or of individuals who are not members of a labor organization, then the two arbitrators selected by the employes shall be agreed upon and selected by the concurrent action of all such labor organizations, and a majority of such individuals who are not members of a labor organization. [Id.]

Art. 242. [74] Submission in writing.—The submission shall be in writing, shall be signed by the employer or receiver and the labor organization representing the employes, or any laborer or laborers to be affected by such arbitration who may not belong to any labor organization, shall state the question to be decided, and shall contain appropriate provisions by which the respective parties shall stipulate as follows:

1. That pending the arbitration, the existing status prior to any disagreement or strike, shall not be changed.

2. That the award shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county in which said arbitration is held, and shall be final and conclusive upon both parties, unless set aside for error of law, apparent on the record.

3. That the respective parties to the award will each faithfully execute the same, and that the same may be specifically enforced in equity so far as the powers of a court of equity permit.

4. That the employes dissatisfied with the award shall not, by reason of such dissatisfaction, quit the service of said employer or receiver before the expiration of thirty days, nor without giving said employer or receiver thirty days written notice of their intention to quit.

5. That said award shall continue in force as between the parties thereto for the period of one year after the same shall go into practical operation; and no new arbitration upon the same subject between the same parties shall be had until the expiration of said one year. [Id.]

Art. 243. [75] Arbitrators to take oath, etc.—The arbitrators so selected shall sign a consent to act as such and shall take and subscribe an oath before some officer authorized to administer the same, to faithfully and impartially discharge his duties as such arbitrator, which consent and oath shall be immediately filed in the office of the clerk of the district court wherein such arbitrators are to act. When said board is ready for the transaction of business, it shall select one of its members to act as secretary, and the parties to the dispute shall receive notice of a time and place of hearing, which shall be not more than ten days after such agreement to arbitrate has been filed. [Id.]

Art. 244. Powers and duties of chairman and board.—The chairman shall have power to administer oaths and to issue subpoenas for the production of books and papers and for the attendance of witnesses, to the same extent that such power is possessed by a court of record, or the judge thereof, in this State. The board may make and enforce the rules for its government and transaction of the business before it and fix its sessions and adjournment, and shall hear and examine such witnesses as may be brought before the board, and such other proof as may be given relative to the matter in dispute. [Id.]

Art. 245. [77] Adjudication [Adjudication] terminates powers.—When said board shall have rendered its adjudication and determination, its powers shall cease, unless there may be at the time in existence other similar grievances or disputes between the same class of persons mentioned in the first article of this subdivision, and in such case such persons may submit their differences to said board, which shall have power to act and adjudicate and determine the same as fully as if said board were originally created for the settlement of such difference or differences. [Id.]

Art. 246. [78] Status quo preserved.—During the pendency of such arbitration it shall not be lawful for the employer or receiver party to such arbitration, nor his agent, to discharge the employes parties thereto, except for inefficiency, violation of law, or neglect of duty, or where reduction of force is necessary, nor for the organization representing such employes to order, nor for the employes to unite in, aid or abet strikes or boycotts [boycotts] against such employer or receiver. [Id.]

Art. 247. [79] Compensation.—Each of the said board of arbitrators shall receive three dollars per day for every day in actual service, not to exceed ten days, and traveling expenses not to exceed five cents per mile actually traveled in getting to, or returning from, the place where the board is in session. The fees of witnesses of the aforesaid board shall be fifty cents for each day's attendance and five cents per mile traveled by the nearest route to, and returning from, the place where attendance is required by the board. All subpoenas shall be signed by the secretary of the board and may be served by any person of full age authorized by the board to serve the same. And the fees and mileage of witnesses and the per diem and traveling expenses of said arbitrators shall be taxed as costs against either or all of the parties to said arbitration, as the board of arbitrators may deem just, and shall constitute part of their award; and each of the parties to said arbitration shall, before the arbitrators proceed to consider the matters submitted to them, give a bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, in an amount to be fixed by the board of arbitration, conditioned for the payment of all expenses connected with the said arbitration. [Id.]

Art. 248. [80] Award to take effect when.—The award shall be made in triplicate. One copy shall be filed in the district clerk's office, one copy shall be given to the employer or receiver, and one copy to the employes or their duly authorized representative. The award, being filed in the District Clerk's office, as hereinafter provided, shall go into practical operation, and judgment shall be entered thereon accordingly, at the expiration of ten days from such filing, unless within such ten days either party shall file exceptions thereto for matter of law apparent on the record; in which case said award shall go into practical operation, and judgment shall be rendered accordingly, when such exceptions shall have been fully disposed of by either said district court or on appeal therefrom. [Id.]

Art. 249. [81] Judgment entered.—At the expiration of ten days from the decision of the district court, upon exceptions taken to said award as aforesaid, judgment shall be entered in accordance with said decision, unless during the said ten days either party shall appeal therefrom to the court of civil appeals holding jurisdiction thereof. In such case, only such portions of the record shall be transmitted to the appellate court as is necessary to the proper understanding and consideration of the questions of law presented by said exceptions and to be decided. The determination of said court of civil appeals, upon said questions shall be final, and being certified by the clerk of said court of civil appeals, judgment pursuant thereto shall thereupon be entered by said district court. If exceptions to an award are finally sustained, judgment shall be entered setting aside the award; but in such case the parties may agree upon a judgment to be entered disposing of the subject matter of the controversy, which judgment, when entered, shall have the same force and effect as judgment entered upon an award. [Id.]

1. ARCHIVES OF THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE

Article 250. [82] [62] [57] Enumeration.—The following shall be deemed the records, books, and papers of the general land office and constitute a part of the archives of the same:

(1) All the records, books, titles, surveys, maps, papers and documents which in any manner pertain to the lands of the late Republic, or State of Texas, which have been, prior to the eighteenth day of April, A. D. 1876, delivered to the Land Commissioner in pursuance of, and in accordance with, the requirements of any law of the Republic or State of Texas, by any of the empresarios, political chiefs, alcaldes, regidores, commissioners, special or general, for extending titles.

(2) All books, papers, records, documents and archives pertaining to the lands of the Republic or State of Texas that have heretofore been delivered by the Commissioner of the Court of Claims to the Comptroller and by him turned over to the Land Commissioner in pursuance and by authority of law.

(3) All other books, records, papers and archives of the colony of Martin de Leon heretofore delivered by the Secretary of State, in accordance with law, to the Land Commissioner.

(4) The duly certified copy of the book or register of land certificates, usually known as the "Lost Book of Harris County," transmitted to the Land Commissioner by the clerk of the county court, in accordance with law.

(5) All other books, transfers, powers of attorney, field-notes, maps, plats, legal proceedings, official reports, original documents and other papers appertaining to the land of the Republic or State of Texas that have been deposited or filed in the general land office in accordance with any law of the Republic or of this State. [Act Dec. 22, 1836, p. 216; Act June 12, 1837, p. 263; Act Dec. 14, 1837, pp. 44, 62; Act Dec. 2, 1850, p. 32; G. L. vol. 1, pp. 1276, 1323, 1386; G. L. vol. 3, p. 860.]

(6) All owners of land between the Nueces and Rio Grande rivers, under grants or titles from the former government which grants or titles are such as are described in Section 4 of Article 13 of the present Constitution, and have been, previous to the adoption of his [this] Constitution, recorded in the respective counties where the land is situated, but have not yet been deposited or archived in the general land office of this State, be and they are hereby authorized and required to deposit and archive said grants or titles in said general land office. Such titles when so archived, shall be subject to all defenses and objections to which they would have been subject if not so archived; and said act of archiving shall invest said titles with no greater validity than they before had as titles recorded in the proper county; and the Land Commissioner is hereby authorized and required to receive the same as archives of said office. [Acts 1881, p. 37; G. L. vol. 9, p. 129.]

Art. 251. [83] [63] [58] Effect given to archives.—Nothing in the preceding article shall be construed to give any of the said books, records or other papers named in said article any greater force or validity by reason of their being so recognized as archives of the general land office than was accorded them by the laws in force at the date of their execution and deposit in the general land office. [Id.]

Art. 252. [84] [64] [59] Deeds, etc.—Deeds and other instruments of writing which were executed or issued prior to the second day of March A. D. 1836, upon stamped paper of the second or third seal, and which deeds or instruments of writing are not original documents in the general land office, nor expressly declared by law to be archives of the said office, are hereby declared to constitute no part of the archives of said office. [Act Feb. 11, 1850, p. 200; Act Jan. 11, 1862, p. 36; G. L. vol. 3, p. 638; G. L. vol. 5, p. 480.]

Art. 253. [85] [65] [60] Withdrawal.—The owners of any land to which the deeds or other instruments of writing named in the preceding article relate, may withdraw the same from the general land office on making a written sworn application therefor, to the Land Commissioner, setting forth the fact of such ownership; and, if the commissioner shall be satisfied that the person applying is in fact the owner of the land to which such deed or instrument of writing relates, he may deliver the same to such applicant, taking his receipt therefor, and describing in such receipt the deed or instrument of writing delivered, with a summary of its contents and the name of the original grantee of the land to which such deed or instrument of writing may relate or refer. [Id.]

2. OTHER PUBLIC ARCHIVES

Art. 254. [86] [66] [61] Of State Department.—The Secretary of State is authorized to take possession of rooms in the basement of the capitol for the use of the State Department and the better preservation of archives. [Acts 1856, p. 3; G. L. vol. 4, p. 421.]

Art. 255. [87] [67] [62] Archives of Republic.—The entire archives of the Congress of the Republic of Texas, and of the several Legislatures of this State, arranged and filed according to law, together with the records, books and journals of said Congress and Legislatures, prepared in accordance with law, and heretofore, or hereafter, deposited in the office of the Secretary of State are declared to be archives of said office. [Acts 1854, p. 113; Acts 1887, p. 47; G. L. vol. 3, p. 1557.]

Art. 256. [88] [68] [63] Historical archives.—All books, pictures, papers, maps, documents, manuscripts, memoranda and data which relate to the history of Texas as a province, colony, Republic or State, which have been or may be delivered to the State Librarian by the Secretary of State, Comptroller, Land Commissioner or by any head of any department, or by any person or officer, in pursuance of law, shall be deemed books and papers of the State Library and shall constitute a part of the archives of said State Library; and copies therefrom shall be made and certified by the State Librarian upon application of any person interested, which certificate shall have the same force and effect as if made by the officer originally in custody of them. [Acts 1907, p. 283.]

Art. 257. [89] [69] [64] Of Comptroller's office.—All books, papers, records and archives, that were heretofore archives of the auditor's office, or of the office of the Commissioner of the Court of Claims, and which have heretofore, in pursuance of law, been delivered to the Comptroller, shall be deemed papers and records of the Comptroller's office, and shall constitute a part of the archives of his office. [Acts 1858, p. 40; Acts 1860, p. 48; G. L. vol. 4, pp. 912, 1412.]

Art. 258. [90] [70] [65] Other archives.—All books, papers, records, rolls, documents, returns, reports, lists and all other papers that have been, are now, or that may be, required by law to be kept, filed or deposited in any office of the executive departments of this State, shall constitute a part of the archives of the offices in which the same are so kept, filed or deposited.

Art. 259. University archives.—The librarian of the University of Texas and the archivist of the Department of History of said University are hereby authorized to make certified copies of all public records in the custody of the University of Texas, and said certified copies shall be valid in law and shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as if certified to by the county clerk or other custodian as now provided for by law. In making the certificate to the said certified copies, either by the librarian or by the archivist of the Department of History, the said officer shall certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of said document, and after signing the said certificate shall swear to the same before any officer authorized to take oaths under the laws of this State. [Acts 1921, p. 94.]

Art. 260. Loan of archives.—County Commissioners and other custodians of public records are hereby authorized, in their discretion, to lend to the Library of the University of Texas, for such length of time and on such conditions as they may determine, such parts of their archives and records as have become mainly of historical value, taking a receipt therefor from the librarian of such University; and the librarian of said University is hereby authorized to receipt for such records as may be transferred to the said Library, and to make copies thereof for historical study. [Id.]

TITLE 12

ASSIGNMENTS FOR CREDITORS

Art.

- 261. General assignment.
- 262. Details of assignment.
- 263. Discharge of liability.
- 264. Notice of assignee's appointment.
- 265. Acceptance of creditors.
- 266. Qualifications and bond of assignee.
- 267. Fraud will not defeat assignment.
- 268. Fraudulent sale of assignor.
- 269. Proof of claim, etc.
- 270. Dividend and allowance.
- 271. Surplus.
- 272. Examination of assignor, etc.
- 273. May discount claims.
- 274. Final report of assignee.

Article 261. [91] General assignment.—Every assignment made by a debtor for the benefit of his creditors shall provide for a distribution of all of his real and personal estate among all of his creditors consenting thereto, in proportion to their respective claims, and however made or expressed shall have the effect aforesaid and shall be construed to pass all such estate, whether specified therein or not. The term "real and personal estate" shall not include property exempt by law from execution. [Acts 1879, p. 57; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1357.]

Art. 262. [92] Details of assignment.—Assignments shall be in writing and proved or acknowledged and recorded in the manner provided by law for conveyances of real estate, and the debtor shall annex to such assignment an inventory containing the following statement:

1. A list of all the creditors of such debtor or debtors;
2. The place of residence of each creditor, if known;
3. The sum owing to each creditor, and the nature of the debt or demand;
4. The consideration of such indebtedness in each case, and the place where such indebtedness arose;
5. A statement of any existing judgment or security for the payment of any such debt;
6. An inventory of all such debtor's estate at the date of such assignment, both real and personal, and any incumbrances existing thereon, and of all vouchers and securities relating thereto, and the value of such estate.

Such inventory shall be signed and sworn to by the assignor or assignors that the same is just and true. [Id.]

Art. 263. [93] Discharge of liability.—A debtor may make such assignment and shall thereupon stand discharged from all further liability to such consenting creditors on account of their respective claims. Such debtor shall not be discharged from liability to such creditor who does not receive as much as one-third of the amount due and allowed in his favor as a valid claim against the estate of such debtor. [Acts 1883, p. 46; G. L. vol. 9, p. 352.]

Art. 264. [94] Notice of assignee's appointment. Every assignee shall, within thirty days after the execution of an assignment, give public notice of his appointment in some newspaper printed in the county where the assignor resides or where his principal business was conducted. If no newspaper be printed therein, then such notice shall be published in the newspaper nearest to such place of residence or business. Such notice shall be published for three successive weeks. The assignee shall also give notice by mail to each of the listed creditors of the assignor. [Acts 1879, p. 57; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1357.]

Art. 265. [95] Acceptance of creditors.—The creditors of the assignor consenting to such assignment shall make their written consent known to the assignee within four months after the notice provided in the preceding article. No creditor not assenting shall receive or take any benefit under the assignment. Any creditor who had no actual notice of such assignment may assent before any distribution of assets under the assignment. The receipt by a creditor of any portion of his claim from the assignee, shall be conclusive evidence of the assent of such creditor to the assignment. [Id.]

Art. 266. [96] [104] Qualifications and bond of assignee.—Every such assignee shall be a resident of this State and of the county in which the assignor resides, or in which his principal business was conducted, and he shall forthwith after the execution and delivery of the assignment, cause the same to be recorded in the county of such assignee's residence and in every county in which there is any real property conveyed to him by such assignment; and shall execute a bond with sureties to be approved by either the judge of the county or district court in the county of residence of said assignee, in such sum as may be fixed by said judge, conditioned that he will faithfully discharge his duties as such assignee, and that he will make proportional distribution of the net proceeds of the assigned estate among the creditors entitled thereto. Such bond shall be payable to the State of Texas and shall be filed with the county clerk of the county in which such assignee resides, and shall inure to the benefit of the assignor and creditors. Upon filing said bond, the assignee shall take possession of the assigned property and proceed to execute the assignment; and if such assignee shall not within five days after the delivery of the assignment, execute an approved bond and file the same as herein provided, such assignment shall nevertheless take effect as against the assignor and his creditors. It shall be the duty of the county judge or judge of the district court of the county in which the assignee resides, either in term time or vacation, upon the application of the assignor or any creditor, and being satisfied that such bond has not been given, approved and filed, to appoint in writing another competent assignee who shall, upon the execution of such bond approved and filed as herein provided, take possession of the assigned property and proceed to execute the assignment. In case of vacancy by death or otherwise of any assignee, or upon removal of any assignee by the district or county judge for just cause, such judge shall appoint another in his place. [Acts 1883, p. 46; Id.; G. L. vol. 8, p. 352.]

Art. 267. [97] Fraud will not defeat assignment.—No fraudulent act, intent or purpose of the assignor or assignee shall have the effect to defeat the assignment or to deprive the creditors consenting thereto from the benefits thereof; and any consenting creditor may be or become a party to prosecute or defend in any suit or proceeding necessary or proper for the enforcement of his rights under such assignments, or for the protection of his interests in the assigned property. [Id.]

Art. 268. [100] Fraudulent sale by assignor.—Except as to innocent purchasers for value, all property conveyed or transferred by the assignor previous to and in contemplation of assignment with the intent or design to defeat, delay or defraud creditors, or give preference to one creditor over another, shall pass to the assignee by the assignment, notwithstanding such transfer; and the assignee, or in case of his neglect or refusal, any creditor or creditors may in his name, upon securing such assignee against cost or liability, sue for, recover and collect the same, and cause the same to be applied for the benefit of creditors as other property belonging to the debtor's estate in the hands of the assignee. [Acts 1879, p. 57; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1357.]

Art. 269. [98] [102] Proof of claim, etc.—Every creditor consenting to an assignment shall, within six months from the time of the first publication of the notice of the appointment of the assignee, file with such assignee a distinct statement of the particular nature and amount of his claim against the debtor, which shall be supported by an affidavit of the creditor, his agent or attorney, that the statement is true, that the debt is just and that all proper credits or offsets have been allowed, and the assignee shall allow such claim as a valid claim against the estate unless he has good reason to believe it is not just and true. No creditor shall take any benefit under any assignment who neglects to file such statement within such time. The assignor or any creditor disputing such claim may, within eight months after such first publication, sue to set aside any allowance made by the assignee, and to restrain the payment thereof, and such action shall be tried as in other cases. The assignee shall furnish to any creditor upon request a copy of any statement of a claim that has been filed with such assignee. [Id.]

Art. 270. [105] Dividend and allowance.—Whenever any assignee shall have in his hands funds sufficient to pay ten per cent. of the debts due by the assignor, he shall make a pro rata distribution of the same among said creditors entitled thereto; and the assignee shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for his services and his necessary costs and expenses, including also his attorney's fees, to be allowed by the county or district judge. [Id.]

Art. 271. [99] Surplus.—Any creditor not consenting to the assignment may garnishee the assignee for any excess of such estate remaining in his hands after the payment to the consenting creditors [of] the amount of their debts and the costs and expenses of executing the assignment. [Id.]

Art. 272. [101] Examination of assignor, etc.—The judge of the court in which any proceedings shall have been filed may, on the application of the assignee, or of any creditor of the assignor, or without such application if the judge see fit, at all times require, upon such reasonable notice as the judge may direct, the assignor or any other person to attend and submit to a sworn examination upon all matters relating to the disposition made, or status of the property of the estate assigned, including all transactions in the past bearing upon the rights of the assignee or creditors with respect to the estate in assignment, as contemplated in law. The judge may enforce attendance and obedience to such orders so made by a writ or order as in other cases. Such examination shall be in writing, signed by the persons examined, and attested or sworn to before and filed with the clerk of the court wherein the proceedings are pending, for the use of those interested in the estate. No assignor or debtor shall be prosecuted or punished for any matter or thing disclosed by him on such examination as had above. The costs of such proceedings to be paid out of the estate assigned, or by the applicant for the examination, as the judge in each case may deem proper. [Id.]

Art. 273. [103] May discount claims.—Claims not due may be allowed at their present value by discounting them at the legal rate. If any creditor holds collateral security of less value than his debt, the value thereof may be estimated by the assignee, and only the difference between such sum and the debt shall be allowed. [Id.]

Art. 274. [106] Final report of assignee.—If any assignee shall desire to be finally discharged, he may make a sworn report of his proceedings under the assignment, showing the moneys and assets that have come into his hands, and how the same have been disbursed and disposed of. Such report shall thereupon be filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the assignment is recorded. No action shall be brought against such assignee by reason of anything done by him under the assignment as shown by his report, unless the same be brought within twelve months from the time of the filing thereof, as aforesaid; and any moneys or funds on hand shall be deposited in the district court subject to be paid out upon the decree of said court. [Id.]

ATTACHMENT

Art.

- 275. Who may issue.
- 276. What facts must further appear.
- 277. Not to issue until suit begun.
- 278. May issue on debt not yet due.
- 279. Plaintiff must give bond.
- 280. Form of bond.
- 281. Attachment in tort or unliquidated demand.
- 282. Writ to issue instant.

- 285. Delivery of writ.
- 286. Duty of officer.
- 287. May demand indemnity.
- 288. Property subject to attachment.
- 289. Levy, how made.
- 290. Attachment of personal property.
- 291. Claimant's bond and affidavit.
- 292. Replevy by defendant.
- 293. Sale of perishable property.
- 294. To protect interests.
- 295. Procedure for sale.
- 296. Return of sale.
- 297. Judge may make necessary orders.
- 298. Return of writ.
- 299. Report of disposition of property.
- 300. Attachment creates a lien.
- 301. Judgment and foreclosure.
- 302. Judgment when property is replevied.
- 303. Order of court when attachment quashed.

Article 275. [240] [186] [152] Who may issue.—The judges and clerks of the district and county courts and justices of the peace may issue writs of original attachment, returnable to their respective courts, upon the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, making an affidavit stating:

- (1) That the defendant is justly indebted to the plaintiff, and the amount of the demand; and
- (2) That the defendant is not a resident of the State, or is a foreign corporation, or is acting as such; or
- (3) That he is about to remove permanently out of the State, and has refused to pay or secure the debt due the plaintiff; or
- (4) That he secretes himself so that the ordinary process of law can not be served on him; or
- (5) That he has secreted his property for the purpose of defrauding his creditors; or
- (6) That he is about to secrete his property for the purpose of defrauding his creditors; or
- (7) That he is about to remove his property out of the State, without leaving sufficient remaining for the payment of his debts; or
- (8) That he is about to remove his property, or a part thereof, out of the county where the suit is brought, with intent to defraud his creditors; or
- (9) That he has disposed of his property, in whole or in part, with intent to defraud his creditors; or
- (10) That he is about to dispose of his property with intent to defraud his creditors; or
- (11) That he is about to convert his property, or a part thereof, into money, for the purpose of placing it beyond the reach of his creditors; or
- (12) That the debt is due for property obtained under false pretenses. [Acts 1864, p. 37; G. L. vol. 5, p. 691.]

Art. 276. [241] [187] [153] What facts must further appear.—The affidavit shall further state that the attachment is not sued out for the purpose of injuring or harassing the defendant; and that the plaintiff will probably lose his debt unless such attachment is issued. [Id.]

Art. 277. [242] [188] [154] Not to issue until suit begun.—No such attachment shall issue until the suit has been duly instituted; but it may be issued in a proper cause either at the commencement of the suit or at any time during its progress. [Acts 1848, p. 65; G. L. vol. 3, p. 65.]

Art. 278. [243] [189] [155] May issue on debt not yet due.—The writ of attachment above provided for may issue, although the plaintiff's debt or demand be not due, and the same proceedings shall be had thereon as in other cases, except that no final judgment shall be rendered against the defendant until such debt or demand shall become due. [Id.]

Art. 279. [244-5] Plaintiff must give bond.—Before the issuance of any writ of attachment, the plaintiff must execute a bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the defendant in a sum not less than double the debt sworn to be due, conditioned that the plaintiff will prosecute his suit to effect, and will pay all such damages and costs as shall be adjudged against him for wrongfully suing out such attachment. Such bond shall be delivered to and approved by the officer issuing the writ, and shall, together with the affidavit, be filed with the papers of the cause. [Id.]

Art. 280. [246] [192] [158] Form of bond.—The following form of bond may be used:
“The State of Texas,
County of.....

We, the undersigned, as principal, and and as sureties, acknowledge ourselves bound to pay to C. D. the sum of dollars, conditioned that the above bound plaintiff in attachment against the said C D, defendant, will prosecute his said suit to effect, and that he will pay all such damages and costs as shall be adjudged against him for wrongfully suing out such attachment. Witness our hands this day of, 19...[”] [Id.]

Art. 281. Attachment in tort or unliquidated demand.—Nothing in this title shall prevent the issuance of attachments in suits founded in tort or upon unliquidated demands against persons, co-partnerships, associations or corporations upon whom personal service cannot be obtained within this State. Where the demand is unliquidated, the amount of the bond to be made by the plaintiff shall be fixed by the judge or clerk of the court or by the justice of the peace issuing the attachment. The bond shall be made in the sum so fixed and upon the approval and filing of same the attachment shall issue as in other cases. [Acts 1st C. S. 1913, p. 31.]

Art. 282. [248] [194] [160] Writ to issue instant.—Upon the execution of such affidavit and bond, it shall be the duty of the judge or clerk, or justice of the peace, as the case may be, immediately to issue a writ of attachment, directed to the sheriff or any constable of any county where property of the defendant is supposed to be, commanding him to attach so much of the property of the defendant as shall be sufficient to satisfy the demand of the plaintiff and the probable costs of the suit. [Id.]

Art. 283. [249] [195] [161] Several writs.—Several writs of attachment may, at the option of the plaintiff, be issued at the same time, or in succession, and sent to different counties, until sufficient property shall be attached to satisfy the writ.

Art. 284. [250] [196] [162] Form of writ.—The following form of writ may be issued:
“The State of Texas,
To the sheriff or any constable of county, greeting:

We command you that you attach forthwith so much of the property of C D, if to be found in your county, replevable on security, as shall be of value sufficient to make the sum of dollars, and the probable costs of suit, to satisfy the demand of A B and that you keep and secure in your hands the property so attached, unless repleved, that the same may be liable to further proceedings thereon, to be had before our court in county of, on the day of, 19..., when and where you shall make known how you have executed this writ.”

Art. 285. [251] [197] [163] Delivery of writ.—The writ of attachment shall be dated and tested as other writs, and may be delivered to the sheriff or constable by the officer issuing it, or he may deliver it to the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, for that purpose.

Art. 286. [252] [198] [164] Duty of officer.—The sheriff or constable receiving the writ shall immediately proceed to execute the same by levying upon so much of the property of the defendant subject to the writ, and found within his county, as may be sufficient to satisfy the command of the writ.

Art. 287. [253] [199] [165] May demand indemnity.—Whenever an officer shall levy an attachment, it shall be at his own risk. Such officer may, for his own indemnification, require the plaintiff in attachment to execute and deliver to him a bond of indemnity to secure him if it should afterward appear that the property levied upon by him does not belong to the defendant.

Art. 288. [254] [200] [166] Property subject to attachment.—The writ of attachment may be levied upon such property, and none other, as is, or may be, by law subject to levy under the writ of execution.

Art. 289. [255] [201] [167] Levy, how made.—The writ of attachment shall be levied in the same manner as is, or may be, the writ of execution upon similar property.

Art. 290. [256] [202] [168] Attachment of personal property.—When personal property is attached, the same shall remain in the hands of the officer attaching until final judgment, unless a claim be made thereto and bond be given to try the right to the same, or unless the same be repleved or be sold as provided by law.

Art. 291. [257] [203] [169] Claimant's bond and affidavit.—Any person other than the defendant may claim the personal property so levied on, or any part thereof, upon making the affidavit and giving bond required by the provisions of the title relating to the trial of the right of property.

Art. 292. [258] [204] [170] Replevy by defendant.—At any time before judgment, should the property not have been previously claimed or sold, the defendant may replevy the same, or any part thereof, by giving bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the officer who levied the writ, payable to the plaintiff, in double the amount of the plaintiff's debt, or, at the defendant's option, for the value of the property repleved, to be estimated by the officer, conditioned that should the defendant be condemned in the action, he shall satisfy the judgment which may be rendered therein, or shall pay the estimated value of the property with lawful interest thereon from the date of the bond.

Art. 293. [259] [205] [171] Sale of perishable property.—Whenever personal property which has been attached shall [have] not have been claimed or repleved, the judge, or justice of the peace, out of whose court the writ was issued, may, either in term time or in vacation, order the same to be sold, when it shall be made to appear that such property is in danger of serious and immediate waste or decay, or that the keeping of the same until the trial will necessarily be attended with such expense or deterioration in value as greatly to lessen the amount likely to be realized therefrom.

Art. 294. [260] [206] [172] To protect interests.—In ascertaining the facts which authorize the making of such order of sale under the preceding article, the judge, or justice of the peace, may require or dispense with notice to the parties, and may act upon such information, by affidavit, certificate of the attaching officer, or other proof as may seem to him necessary to protect the interest of the parties.

Art. 295. [261] [207] [173] Procedure for sale.—Such sale shall be conducted in the same manner as sales of personal property under execution, except as to the time of advertisement, which may be fixed by the judge, or the justice, for a shorter period, according to the exigency of the case.

Art. 296. [262] [208] [174] Return of sale.—The proceeds of such sale shall, within five days thereafter, be paid over by the officer making the sale to the clerk of the court, or justice of the peace, as the case may be, accompanied by a statement in writing, signed by such officer officially, to be filed with the papers, stating the time and place of the sale, the name of the purchaser, and the amount received, with an itemized account of the expenses attending the sale.

Art. 297. [263] [209] [175] Judge may make necessary orders.—If the personal property be not replevied or claimed or sold under the provisions of this title, the judge, or justice of the peace, as the case may be, may either in term time or in vacation, make such order for the preservation or use of the same as appears to be to the interest of the parties.

Art. 298. [264-5] Return of writ.—The officer executing the writ of attachment shall return the writ, with his action endorsed thereon or attached thereto, signed by him officially, to the court from which it issued, on or before the first day of the next term thereof. Such return shall describe the property attached with sufficient certainty to identify it, and shall state when the same was attached, and whether any personal property attached remains still in his hands, and, if not, the disposition made of the same. When property has been replevied he shall deliver the replevy bond to the clerk to be filed with the papers of the cause.

Art. 299. [266] [212] [178] Report of disposition of property.—When the property levied on is claimed, replevied or sold, or otherwise disposed of after the writ has been returned, the officer having the custody of the same shall immediately make a report in writing, signed by him officially, to the clerk, or justice of the peace, as the case may be, showing such disposition of the property. Such report shall be filed among the papers of the cause.

Art. 300. [267] [213] [179] Attachment creates a lien.—The execution of the writ of attachment upon any property of the defendant subject thereto, unless the writ should be quashed or otherwise vacated, shall create a lien from the date of such levy on the real estate levied on and on such personal property as remains in the hands of the attaching officer, and on the proceeds of such personal property as may have been sold.

Art. 301. [268] [214] [180] Judgment and foreclosure.—Should the plaintiff recover in the suit, such attachment lien shall be foreclosed as in case of other liens, and the court shall direct the proceeds of the personal property sold to be applied to the satisfaction of the judgment; and the sale of personal property remaining in the hands of the officer and of the real estate levied on, to satisfy the judgment. When an attachment issued from a county or justice court has been levied upon land, no order or decree foreclosing the lien thereby acquired shall be necessary, but the judgment shall briefly recite the issuance and levy of such attachment, and such recital shall be sufficient to preserve such lien. The land so attached may be sold under execution after judgment, and the sale thereof shall vest in the purchaser all the estate of the defendant in attachment in such land, at the time of the levy of such writ of attachment. [Acts 1885, p. 73; G. L. vol. 9, p. 693.]

Art. 302. [269] [215] [181] Judgment when property is replevied.—When personal property has been levied on, as hereinbefore provided, the judgment shall also be against the defendant and his sureties on his replevy bond for the amount of the judgment, interest and costs, or for the value of the property replevied and interest, according to the terms of such replevy bond.

Art. 303. [270] [216] [182] Order of court when attachment quashed.—If the attachment be quashed or otherwise vacated by interlocutory judgment or order of the court, the court shall make the proper order making disposition of the property, or the proceeds of the sale thereof, if the same has been sold under order of the court, directing that it be turned over to the defendant. The property or the proceeds of the sale thereof, if the same has not been replevied, shall remain in the hands of the officers pending the final disposition of the main case and until it shall be finally disposed of, or until the time for perfecting an appeal has elapsed and no appeal has been perfected, when said order disposing of the property shall be carried into effect. Pending the final disposition of the main case, the defendant shall have the right at any time to replevy the property in the same manner as is provided for in cases of replevy before judgment. If the property has been sold, he may replevy the proceeds of such sale by giving bond in double the amount of the money arising from such sale, with like conditions as when replevied before judgment. Any replevy bond given in such case, whether before or after the quashing or vacating such attachment, shall be as valid and binding as if such attachment had never been quashed or vacated. [Acts 1891, p. 29; G. L. vol. 10, p. 31.]

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Art.

- 304. Board of examiners.
- 305. Duties of board.
- 306. Authority of Supreme Court.
- 307. Graduates exempt.
- 308. Foreign attorneys.
- 309. Oath of attorney.
- 310. Fees.
- 311. Convicts barred.
- 312. Misbehavior or contempt.
- 313. Disbarment.
- 314. Complaint.
- 315. Citation to issue.
- 316. Trial.
- 317. Retention of client's money.
- 318. May inspect papers.
- 319. Officers not to appear.
- 320. Attorney to show authority.

Article 304. [317] [257] Board of Examiners.—The Board of Law Examiners shall consist of five lawyers having the qualifications required of members of the Supreme Court. They shall be biennially appointed by the Supreme Court and shall each hold office for two years and be subject to removal by the Supreme Court for incompetency or inattention to duty. [Acts 1919, p. 63.]

Art. 305. Duties of Board.—Such Board, acting under instructions of the Supreme Court as herein-after provided, shall pass upon the eligibility of all candidates for examination for license to practice law within this State, and examine such of these as may show themselves eligible therefor, as to their qualifications to practice law. Such Board shall not recommend any person for license to practice law unless such person shall show to the Board, in the manner to be prescribed by the Supreme Court, that he is of such moral character and of such capacity and attainment that it would be proper for him to be licensed. [Id.]

Art. 306. Authority of Supreme Court.—The Supreme Court is hereby authorized to make such rules as in its judgment may be proper to govern eligibility for such examination and the manner of conducting the same, covering, among other points, proper guarantee to insure:

1. Good moral character on the part of each candidate for license.
2. Adequate pre-legal study and attainment.
3. Adequate study of the law for at least two years, covering the course of study prescribed by the Supreme Court, or the equivalent of such course.
4. The legal topics to be covered by such study and by the examination given.
5. The time and place for holding the examinations, the manner of conducting same and the grades to be made by the candidates to entitle them to be licensed.

Whenever as many as five applicants shall request the Board to conduct an examination in any particular town or city convenient to their place of residence, the examination of such applicants shall be conducted at such town or city at some suitable time, to be determined by the Board.

6. Any other such matters as shall be desirable in order to make the issuance of a license to practice law evidence of good character, and fair capacity and real attainment and proficiency in the knowledge of law.

No license to practice law in this State shall be issued by any court or authority, except by the Supreme Court of this State, under the provisions of this title. [Id.]

Art. 307. Graduates exempt.—The Supreme Court by general order shall exempt graduates of such law schools as may be approved by such Court from taking any examination as to pre-legal or legal studies and attainments, but such graduates must in all instances furnish evidence as to moral character required of candidates. Every law school in this State shall be approved for this purpose which maintains the following standards:

1. Admission requirements of law equivalent to successful completion of the four years' high school course.

2. A law curriculum extending over at least three scholastic years, with not less than ten hours class room work in law a week for each of the three classes respectively.

3. Standards for credit based upon written examination satisfactory to the Supreme Court.

4. A library of not fewer than twenty-five hundred well selected law books. [Id.]

Art. 308. Foreign attorneys.—The Supreme Court shall make such rules and regulations as to admitting attorneys from other jurisdictions to practice law in this State as it shall deem proper and just. All such attorneys shall be required to furnish satisfactory proof as to good moral character. [Id.]

Art. 309. [322] [260] [225] Oath of attorney.—Every person admitted to practice law shall, before receiving license, take an oath that he will support the Constitution of the United States and of this State; that he will honestly demean himself in the practice of law, and will discharge his duty to his client to the best of his ability; which oath shall be indorsed upon his license, subscribed by him and attested by the officer administering the same. [Acts 1860, p. 23; G. L. vol. 4, p. 1385.]

Art. 310. Fees.—The fee for any examination given by the Board shall be fixed by the Supreme Court, not to exceed twenty dollars for each candidate, which shall be paid to the clerk of said court at the time the application for examination is made. The money thus obtained shall be used to pay all legitimate expenses incurred in holding the examination; and as compensation to the members of the Board, under such regulations as shall be agreed upon by the Board, or determined by the Supreme Court. [Acts 1919, p. 64.]

Art. 311. [323] [261] [226] Convicts barred.—No person convicted of a felony shall receive license as an attorney at law; or, if licensed, any court of record in which such person may practice shall, on proof of a conviction of any felony, revoke his license and strike his name from the roll of attorneys. [Acts 1846, p. 247; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1553.]

Art. 312. [324] [262] [227] Misbehavior or contempt.—An attorney at law may be fined or imprisoned by any court for misbehavior or for contempt of such court. No attorney shall be suspended or stricken from the rolls for contempt unless it involve fraudulent or dishonorable misconduct or malpractice. [Acts 1860, p. 23; G. L. vol. 4, p. 1385.]

Art. 313. [325] [331] Disbarment.—Any attorney at law who shall be guilty of barratry or any fraudulent or dishonorable conduct or malpractice, may be suspended from practice, or his license may be revoked by the district court of the county in which such attorney resides or where the act complained of occurred, regardless of the fact that such act may constitute an offense under the Penal Code of Texas, and regardless of whether he is being prosecuted or has been convicted for the violation of such penal provision. [Acts 1921, p. 127.]

Art. 314. [326] [327] [229] Complaint.—The judge of any court, a practicing attorney, a county commissioner or justice of the peace may file with the clerk of the district court a sworn complaint of fraudulent or dishonorable conduct or malpractice on the part of any attorney at law.

Art. 315. [328] [266] [231] Citation to issue.—Upon the filing of such complaint, or upon its own observance of such conduct, such district court shall order the attorney to be cited to show cause why his license shall not be suspended or revoked. If the citation be ordered upon the observation of the court, the charge and the grounds thereof shall be set out distinctly in the order of the court. Such citation shall be served upon defendant at least five days before the trial day.

Art. 316. [329-30] Trial.—Upon the return of said citation executed, if the defendant appear and deny the charge, the cause shall be docketed for trial and conducted in the name of the State of Texas against the defendant. The county or district attorney shall represent the State. A jury of twelve men shall be impaneled, unless waived by the defendant. If the attorney be found guilty, or if he fail to appear and deny the charge after being duly cited, the said court, by proper order entered on the minutes, may suspend his license for a time, or revoke it entirely, and may also give proper judgment for costs.

Art. 317. [332] [269] [234] Retention of client's money.—Each attorney who receives or collects money for his client and refuses to pay over the same when demanded, may be proceeded against by motion of the party injured or his attorney before the district court of the county in which such attorney usually resides or in which he resided when he collected or received the money; notice of which motion with a copy thereof shall be served on such party at least five days before the trial. In case the motion be sustained, judgment shall be rendered against the defendant, for the amount by him collected or received and not less than ten nor more than twenty per cent. damages on the principal sum. [Acts 1846, p. 245; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1551.]

Art. 318. [333] [270] [235] May inspect papers.—Each attorney at law practicing in any court, shall be allowed at all reasonable times to inspect the papers and records relating to any suit or other matter in which he may be interested. Any party withdrawing any papers shall leave a descriptive receipt for the same. [Id.]

Art. 319. [334] [271] [236] Officers not to appear.—No judge of the Supreme Court, Courts of Civil or Criminal Appeals or district court, or clerk of any court, or deputy, or sheriff or deputy or constable shall be allowed to appear and plead as an attorney at law in any court of record in this State. No county judge shall be allowed to appear and practice as an attorney at law in any county or justice court, except in cases where the court over which he presides has neither original or [nor] appellate jurisdiction. [Acts 1876, p. 216; Acts 1st C. S. 1879, p. 12; G. L. vol. 8, pp. 1052, 1312.]

Art. 320. [335-6-7] Attorney to show authority.—Any defendant in any suit or proceeding pending in any court of this State may, by sworn written motion stating that such defendant believes that such suit or proceeding was instituted against him or is being prosecuted against him without authority on the part of the plaintiff's attorney, cause such attorney to be cited to appear before such court and show his authority for same, notice of which motion shall be served upon such attorney before the trial of such motion. Upon the hearing of such motion, the burden of proof shall be upon the defendant therein to show sufficient authority from the plaintiff in such suit or proceeding to institute or prosecute the same. Upon his failure to show such authority, the court shall refuse to permit such attorney to appear in said cause, and shall dismiss the same if no person who is authorized to prosecute said cause appears. Such motion may be heard and determined at any time before the parties have announced ready for trial, but the trial shall not be unnecessarily continued or delayed for the hearing thereof.

1. DISTRICT ATTORNEYS

Article 321. [338] [275] [240] Term of office.—District Attorneys and criminal district attorneys shall hold office for the term of two years. [Const. art. 5, sec. 21.]

Art. 322. [339] [276] [241] Districts may elect.—The following Judicial Districts in this State shall each respectively elect a district attorney, viz.: first, second, third, fourth, fifth, seventh, eighth, ninth, twelfth, twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third, twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth, twenty-seventh, twenty-ninth, thirtieth, thirty-first, thirty-second, thirty-third, thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth, thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh, thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth, fortieth, forty-second, forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third, sixty-third, sixty-fourth, sixty-ninth, seventieth, seventy-second, seventy-fifth, seventy-sixth, seventy-seventh, seventy-ninth, eighty-first, eighty-third, ninetieth, hundredth, hundred and sixth. There shall also be elected a criminal district attorney for Harris County, a criminal district attorney for Dallas County, a criminal district attorney for Tarrant County, and one criminal district attorney for the counties of Nueces, Kleberg, Kennedy, Willacy and Cameron. [Acts 1901, p. 127; Acts 1915, p. 259; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 222, ch. 151.]

Art. 322a. Travis and Williamson County.—The office of district attorney of Travis and Williamson Counties from and after the first day of January, 1927, shall cease to exist, and there shall be elected a district attorney for the Fifty-third Judicial District at the next general election after the passage of this Act, and at each general election thereafter. He shall represent the State in all criminal cases in all of the district courts of Travis County, and perform such other duties as are or may be provided by law governing district attorneys; and he shall receive, in addition to the five hundred ($500.00) dollars per annum allowed by law to district attorneys, the same per diem and compensation provided by law for district attorneys in judicial districts of this State composed of two or more counties.

After the taking effect of this Act it shall be the duty of the county attorney of Williamson County to represent the State of Texas in all courts in Williamson County, in all matters and cases pertaining to the duties of county attorney and district attorney; and his fees and compensation shall be governed by the General Laws now existing, or hereafter enacted, pertaining to such matters and cases. [Acts 1925, p. 355.] [39th Leg., ch. 147, §§ 1, 2.]

Art. 322b. Fannin and Lamar Counties.—The office of District Attorney in the Sixth Judicial District of Texas is hereby abolished and the County Attorney of each county composing said District, to-wit: Fannin and Lamar Counties, shall represent the State of Texas in all matters wherein the State of Texas is a party in his respective county and shall receive such fees and compensation for his services as is now, or may hereafter, be provided by general laws of the State of Texas. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 11, ch. 6, § 1.]

Art. 323. [340] [277] [242] Bond.—Each district attorney, before entering on the duties of his office, shall give bond, payable to the Governor in the sum of five thousand dollars, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the district judge of their respective districts, conditioned that such district attorney will faithfully pay over, in the manner prescribed by law, all money which he may collect or which may come to his hands for the State or for any county. Such bond shall be deposited in the office of the Comptroller.

Art. 324. Assistants in certain counties.—The district attorney shall appoint one assistant district attorney in districts consisting of more than one county in which there is situated a city of twenty-eight thousand population or over according to the last preceding United States census, or any United States census which may hereafter be taken; provided the district attorney shall furnish data to the district judge of his district that he is in need of an assistant and is himself unable to attend to all the duties required of him by law, and that it is necessary to the best interests of the State that an assistant district attorney be appointed. Each person so appointed shall be a qualified resident attorney of the district in which said appointment is made, and shall give bond and take the official oath and shall have authority to perform all the acts and duties of district attorneys under the laws of this state. Said appointment shall be for such time as the district attorney shall deem best in the enforcement of the law, not to be less than one month. Said assistant district attorney shall be paid by the Comptroller for the time of actual service rendered at the rate of twenty-five hundred dollars per annum. Said sum shall be paid monthly upon certificate of the district clerk and the district judge of said district that said assistant district attorney has performed his duties and is entitled to pay. The district attorney of any such district at any time he deems said assistant unnecessary or finds that he is not attending to his duties as required by law, may remove said person from office by merely writing to said district judge to that effect. [Acts 1925, p. 212.] [39th Leg., ch. 62, § 1; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 32, ch. 23, § 1.]

Section 1a, of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 32, ch. 23, made an appropriation for the salary of such assistant district attorney for the year ending Aug. 31, 1927.

This article in so far as it applied to the 34th Judicial District, consisting of El Paso, Hudspeth, and Culberson counties, was amended by Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 14, ch. 9, arts. 326a-326e, which sec.

Art. 324a. Deputy district and county attorneys. The provision of this Act relating to the appointment and payment of deputies, or assistants, by the county attorneys and the district attorneys, in counties having a population in excess of one hundred thousand inhabitants, shall also apply to counties where one county composes a judicial district, and the population of the county is more than thirty-seven thousand five hundred, and less than one hundred thousand inhabitants, as shown by the last United States Census, and counties where the county attorney performs the duties of the county attorney and district attorney, as provided by law. [Acts 1925, p. 352.] [39th Leg., ch. 144, § 1.]

Acts 1917, 35th Leg., p. 94, ch. 55, in so far as applicable to the 34th Judicial District, consisting of El Paso, Hudspeth, and Culberson counties, was amended by Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 14, ch. 9, arts. 326a-326e, which see.

Art. 324b. Assistant district attorneys and investigators.—In any judicial district in this State consisting of more than one county in which there may be a county having a population in excess of 70,000 inhabitants, according to the last census of the United States, and according to any United States census which may hereafter be taken, the district attorney of each district in connection with and for the purpose of conducting his office in such county shall be and is hereby authorized, with the approval of the county commissioners court of such county to appoint one assistant district attorney, who shall receive a salary to be fixed by said commissioners court of such county, not to exceed $2,400.00 per annum. Such district attorney shall likewise be authorized, with the approval of such county commissioners court of such county, to appoint one special investigator, at a salary to be fixed by said commissioners court, not to exceed $2,400.00 per annum. The salary of such assistant and special investigator, above provided for, shall be paid by the county having a population of more than 70,000, by warrant drawn on the general funds thereof, all salaries payable monthly.

The assistant district attorney above provided for, when appointed, shall take the oath of office and be authorized to represent the State in any court or proceeding in said county in which such district attorney is, or shall be authorized to represent the State, such authority to be exercised under the direction of said district attorney, and such assistants and special investigators shall be subject to removal at the will of said district attorney. Said assistant district attorney shall be authorized to perform any official act devolving upon or authorized to be performed by such district attorney in said county, this Article is not intended to repeal any other law now existing, but is cumulative thereof.

This article in so far as it applied to the 34th Judicial District, consisting of El Paso, Hudspeth, and Culberson counties, was amended by Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 14, ch. 9, arts. 326a-326e, which see.

Art. 325. Assistant for Sixth District.—The district attorney of the Sixth Judicial District of Texas is hereby authorized to appoint an assistant district attorney, whose qualifications and authority shall be the same as now required by law for district attorneys, and he shall take the oath and execute the bond required by law. Said assistant shall receive a salary of not exceeding two thousand dollars per year to be paid out of excess fees of said office as the same accrue under the law. [Acts 1917, p. 268.]

Art. 326. Hudspeth and Culberson Counties.—The commissioners court of Hudspeth and Culberson Counties are hereby authorized to pay to the district attorney for the Thirty-fourth Judicial District of Texas a sum not to exceed seventy-five dollars each per month as specially provided by law. [Acts 1923, p. 382.]

Art. 326a. El Paso, Hudspeth, and Culberson Counties.—The District Attorney in and for the 34th Judicial District of Texas, composed of El Paso, Hudspeth and Culberson Counties, from and after January 1st, 1927, shall receive from the state as pay for his services the sum of $500.00 per annum, as provided for in the Constitution, and in addition thereto shall receive the sum of $5,500.00, said salary to be paid in monthly installments in the same manner as now provided for the payment of the $500.00 as fixed by the Constitution. All commissions and fees allowed District Attorneys by law, except in escheat cases shall, when collected, be paid to the District Clerk of El Paso County, who shall pay the same over to the State Treasurer. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 14, ch. 9, § 2.]

Section 1 of Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 14, ch. 9, read as follows: "That Chapter 64 of the Acts of the Regular Session of the Thirty-fifth Legislature, page 123 thereof, and chapter 55 of the Acts of the Regular Session of the Thirty-fifth Legislature, page 94 thereof, and Article 1021 Code of Criminal Procedure, and Articles 324 and 324-B of Rev. Civ. Statutes be amended so as the following provisions will apply to the 34th Judicial District of Texas, and are not amended, qualified, or repealed in any other manner, nor as to affect any other Judicial District in this State." Section 7, of such chapter, read as follows: "The provisions of this Act shall apply only to the 34th Judicial District of Texas, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby amended only as to this particular Judicial District, and it is not intended hereby to repeal, amend, or qualify any law in this State relative to District Attorneys other than the District in and for the 34th Judicial District of Texas, and the Legislature shall make due provision for the payment of the said District Attorney and the two assistants provided for above."

Art. 326b. Assistant district attorneys in such counties.—Said District Attorney in connection with, and for the purpose of conducting his office in said 34th Judicial District shall be, and is hereby, authorized to appoint two Assistant District Attorneys, one of whom shall receive from and after January 1st, 1927, as salary $3,600.00 per annum, and one of whom shall receive from and after January 1st, 1927, as salary $3,200.00 per annum, both such salaries payable by the State monthly. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 14, ch. 9, § 3.]

Art. 326c. Additional assistant district attorneys in such counties. Said District Attorney, in connection with and for the purpose of conducting his office in said District, shall be and is hereby authorized to appoint two additional Assistant District Attorneys, with the consent of the County Judge of El Paso County, Texas, one of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed $3,000.00, and one of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed $2,500.00. He shall also be authorized to employ a stenographer who shall receive a salary not to exceed $2,000.00 per annum, payable monthly, and two investigators, one of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed $2,400.00 and one of whom to receive a salary not to exceed $2,000.00, payable monthly. The salaries of the two last named assistants, investigators and stenographer, above provided for, shall be paid by said El Paso County by warrant drawn upon the general funds thereof. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 14, ch. 9, § 4.]

Art. 326d. Qualifications and duties of assistant district attorneys in such counties.—Each of said Assistant District Attorneys in said 34th Judicial District of Texas shall have all the qualifications that are now required by law of District Attorneys, and each of said assistants shall take an oath of office before the District Judge in and for said Judicial District, and said Assistant District Attorneys shall be authorized to represent the State in any Court or proceeding in which such District Attorney is or shall be authorized to so represent the State, such authority to be exercised under the direction of said District Attorney, such assistants, investigators, and stenographer, whether paid by the State or the County, shall be subject to removal at the will of said District Attorney, and each of such Assistant District Attorneys shall be authorized to perform any official act devolving upon or authorized to be performed by said District Attorney in said Judicial District. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 14, ch. 9, § 5.]

Art. 326e. Funds for use of district attorney in such counties.—El Paso County is hereby authorized to set aside each year a sum not to exceed $1,500.00 to be expended by said District Attorney in preparation and conduct of criminal affairs of said office and all sums of money now authorized by Art.

326 Civil Statutes to be paid by Hudspeth and Culberson Counties to the District Attorney shall by him be paid into the fund provided for in this Article and shall be used as directed and not as any part of salary of the District Attorney. This fund to be expended upon sworn claims of said District Attorney and approved by the County Judge of El Paso County. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 14, ch. 9, § 6.]

Art. 326f. District attorneys in large counties having county attorney.—Sec. 1. That in any county having a population in excess of 150,000 inhabitants, according to the last census of the United States and according to any United States census which may hereafter be taken and having a county attorney, the district attorney of such county shall receive a salary of five hundred dollars from the State of Texas, as provided in the Constitution of the State of Texas, and all fees, commissions and perquisites earned by such office; provided, that the amount of said salary, fees, commissions and perquisites to be so received and retained by him, shall not exceed the sum of ten thousand dollars in any one year, and provided further, that all salaries, fees, commissions and perquisites so earned and received by such office in excess of said salary during each and every fiscal year shall be paid into the county treasury of said county in accordance with the terms and provisions of the Maximum Fee Bill, except as to such portion of such excess as shall be used and expended in the payment of salaries to deputies, assistants, stenographers, investigators or other employees and incidental expenses of such office, as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Such district attorney, in connection with and for the purpose of conducting his office in such county, shall be and is hereby authorized to appoint seven assistant district attorneys, one of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed forty-eight hundred dollars per annum, three of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed thirty-six hundred dollars per annum each; two of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed three thousand dollars per annum each, one of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed twenty-eight hundred dollars per annum, all salaries payable monthly. He shall also be authorized to employ one stenographer, who shall receive a salary not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and one stenographer who shall receive a salary not to exceed two thousand dollars per annum, payable monthly. He shall also be authorized to employ four investigators, one of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed three thousand dollars per annum, and the others shall receive a salary of not to exceed twenty-two hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly. Said investigators shall have the power and shall be authorized to make arrests and to execute all processes in criminal cases. The salaries of assistants, deputies, stenographers, and investigators, and other employes above provided for, shall be paid by said county by warrant drawn from the general funds thereof.

Sec. 3. Should such district attorney be of the opinion that the number of deputies, assistants, stenographers, investigators or other employes above provided for are insufficient or inadequate for the proper investigation of crime and the efficient performance of the duties of said office, he may appoint such additional assistants and employes, and fix their salaries, provided such salaries shall in no event exceed the maximum provided herein to be paid to such assistants or other employes, but such additional assistants and employes, so appointed, before qualifying and entering upon the duties of such office and employment, shall be confirmed by the commissioners' court of the county court in which such appointments are made.

Sec. 4. The salaries for the additional assistants and employes, as hereinabove provided for herein, shall be paid monthly out of the excess fees collected by such district attorney and his office, which would otherwise go to said county, a detailed itemized statement under oath of which he shall include in his annual report, as provided to be made in the Maximum Fee Bill; and in no event shall said county be liable for the salaries of such additional assistants or employes.

Sec. 5. The assistant district attorneys above provided for, when appointed, shall take the oath of office and be authorized to represent the State in any court or proceeding in which such district attorney is or shall be authorized to represent the State, such authority to be exercised under the direction of said district attorney, and such assistants, deputies, stenographers, investigators and employes, whether regular or additional, shall be subject to removal at the will of said district attorney. Each of said assistant district attorneys shall be authorized to perform any official act devolving upon or authorized to be performed by such district attorney in said county.

Sec. 7. The provisions of this Act shall apply to every district attorney within the State of Texas, within counties of a population of more than 150,000 inhabitants and having a county attorney, to be determined as above provided, whether the said district attorney be of and for a judicial district called and known by number, or whether called and known as a criminal judicial district, or whether of and for any court called or known as a criminal district court; and whether such district attorney be called and known as a district attorney or a criminal district attorney, or a criminal district attorney of any named county or court. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 93, ch. 67.]

Section 8 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 93, ch. 67, repeals all conflicting laws or parts of laws excepting Acts 1917, 35th Leg., p. 315, ch. 121, Acts 1917, 35th Leg., p. 378, ch. 167, Acts 1923, 38th Leg., 3rd C. S., ch. 21, and provides that it shall be cumulative therewith and with all laws not in conflict, and excepts, also, from repeal, any law regulating grand jury bailiffs except the appointment by the court, which it expressly repeals.

Art. 326g. Assistant district attorneys in counties having no county attorney. Sec. 1. That in any county having a population in excess of 150,000 inhabitants, according to the last census of the U. S. and according to any U. S. census which may hereafter be taken, and in which there is no county attorney, the district attorney or criminal district attorney may appoint 7 assistant district attorneys, one of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed forty-eight hundred dollars per annum; two of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed thirty-six hundred dollars per annum, each; two of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed three thousand dollars per annum, each; two of whom shall receive a salary not to exceed two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and one stenographer who shall receive a salary not to exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum. He may employ three investigators who shall receive a salary not to exceed two thousand four hundred dollars per annum each. The salaries of assistants, stenographers and investigators, and other employees, above provided for, shall be paid monthly by said county by warrant drawn from the general funds thereof.

Sec. 2. Should such district attorney be of the opinion that the number of deputies, assistants, stenographers, investigators or other employees above provided for are inadequate for the proper investigation of crime and the efficient performance of the duties of said office, he may appoint such additional assistants and employees, and fix their salaries, provided such salaries shall in no event exceed the maximum provided herein to be paid to such assistants or other employees, but such additional assistants and employees, so appointed, before qualifying and entering upon the duties of such office and employment, shall be confirmed by the commissioners' court of the county in which such appointments are made.

Sec. 3. The salaries of such additional assistants and employees shall be paid monthly out of the excess fees collected by such district attorney and his office, which would otherwise go to said county, a detailed sworn itemized statement of which he shall include in his annual report, as provided to be made in the Maximum Fee Bill. In no event shall said county be liable for the salaries of such additional assistants or employees.

Sec. 4. The assistant district attorneys above provided for, when appointed, shall take the oath of office and be authorized to represent the State in any court or proceeding in which such district attorney is or shall be authorized to represent the State, such authority to be exercised under the direction of said district attorney. Any such assistant, stenographer, investigator, or employee, whether regular or additional, shall be subject to removal at the will of said district attorney or criminal district attorney.

Sec. 5. The commissioners' court of the county of the district attorney's or criminal district attorney's residence may, upon the written sworn application of the district attorney or criminal district attorney, stating the necessity therefor, allow one or more automobiles to be used by the district attorney or criminal district attorney in the discharge of his official duties, which if purchased shall be bought by the county in the manner prescribed by law for the purchase of supplies, and paid out of the general fund, and they shall be and remain the property of the county. The amount to be expended for the purchase of an automobile or automobiles shall not exceed the sum of twelve hundred dollars for the first year, and shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for any year thereafter. The expense of the maintenance and operation of such automobile or automobiles as may be allowed shall be paid for by the district attorney or the criminal district attorney from the fees of office, and the amount thereof shall be reported in detail by the district attorney or the criminal district attorney on a monthly report, as is now required by law in reporting expenses incurred by him in the conduct of his office, and shall be deducted by him from the amount due by him to the county in the same manner as the other expenses are deducted which are provided for by law. Such expense account for the maintenance and operation of such automobile or automobiles shall be subject to the audit of the county auditor, and if it appears that any item of such expense was not incurred by such officer, or that such item was not necessary thereto, such item may be by such auditor or court rejected, in which case the correctness or necessity of such item may be adjudicated in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The provisions of this Act shall apply to every district attorney within the State of Texas within counties of a population of more than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants, and in which there is no county attorney to be determined as above provided, whether the said district attorney be of and for a judicial district called and known by number, or whether called and known as a criminal judicial district, or whether of and for any court called or known as a criminal district court; and whether such district attorney be called and known as a district attorney, or a criminal district attorney, or a criminal district attorney of any named county or court. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 111, ch. 74.]

Section 7 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 111, ch. 74, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

Art. 326h. Assistant district attorneys in counties with city of 50,000.—Sec. 1. In any judicial district in this State composed of more than one county and in which there is a city having an actual population of 50,000 inhabitants or more, the district attorney shall have authority, with the approval of the commissioners' court of such county in which said city is situated, to appoint not more than two assistants, who shall be licensed to practice law in this State, and shall perform such duties as shall be required of them by the district attorney; and under the direction of the district attorney shall have all the authority that may be exercised by the district attorney. The district attorney shall use one of said assistants as an investigator to assist in the performance of the duties of his office, in addition to whatever other duties may be required of such assistant. Said assistants shall take the constitutional oath of office and serve at the will of the district attorney, not to exceed under any one appointment the maximum time fixed by the Constitution for such officers.

Sec. 2. The salary of each of said assistants shall not exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) per year, to be paid by the county in which said city is situated by warrant drawn on the general fund thereof, all salaries payable monthly. The district attorney shall ascertain the population of any city in his district necessary to be ascertained under this Act by making application to the mayor of any such city for a certificate as to the population of such city. It shall be the duty of any such mayor to ascertain by some reasonable accurate estimate the population of any such city, and his certificate to same under oath shall authorize the district attorney to assume its correctness and act upon the information contained in such certificate in making any appointment of an assistant or assistants under this Act. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 82, ch. 58.]

Art. 326i. Assistant district attorneys, criminal district courts.—Sec. 1. The district attorney of any criminal district court only for more than one county may appoint one assistant district attorney for each county containing a population of 22,000 or more as shown by the last preceding census of the United States, provided said district attorney shall furnish data to the judge of said criminal district court that he is in need of said assistants and it is necessary for the investigation and prosecution of crime and the efficient enforcement of law and to the best interest of the State that such assistant district attorneys be appointed. And when said data is furnished to said judge of said criminal district court he shall forthwith certify the same to the commissioners' court of the county in which such appointment is to be made.

And said district attorney is hereby authorized, with the approval of the commissioners' court of such county, to appoint one assistant district attorney for each county, as provided above, who shall receive a salary to be fixed by said commissioners' court in such county not to exceed $2,400.00 per annum. The salary of such assistant district attorneys above provided for shall be paid by the county for which said assistant is appointed, by warrant drawn on the general funds thereof, all salaries payable monthly.

Every person so appointed shall be a qualified resident attorney of the county and district in which such appointment is made, and shall give bond and take the oath of office required of district attorneys of this State, and shall have the power and authority to perform all the acts and duties of district attorneys under the law of this State, and said appointments shall be for such time as the district attorney shall deem best in the enforcement of the law, not to be less than one month.

Sec. 2. The assistant district attorneys, above provided for when appointed and qualified, shall be authorized to represent the State in any court or proceeding in said district in which such district attorney is or shall be authorized to represent the State, such authority to be exercised under the direction of said district attorney, and said assistant district attorneys shall be authorized to perform any official act devolving upon or authorized by said district attorney in said district.

Sec. 3. Said district attorney may likewise be, and he is hereby authorized, with the approval of such county commissioners' court of each county wherein an assistant district attorney may be appointed as provided by this Act, to appoint one special investigator for each of said counties wherein an assistant district attorney may be appointed as provided by this Act, at a salary to be fixed by said commissioners' court not to exceed $2,400.00 per annum. The salary of such special investigator above provided for shall be paid by each county in which a special investigator is appointed, by warrant drawn on the general funds thereof, all such salaries to be payable monthly. Said assistant district attorneys and special investigators shall be subject to removal at the will of said district attorney. This article is not intended to repeal any other law now existing, but is cumulative thereof. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 95, ch. 68.]

Art. 326j. District attorney abolished in certain counties.—The office of District Attorney in the Second Judicial District of Texas is hereby abolished and the County Attorney of each county composing said district, to-wit: Angelina, Cherokee, and Nacogdoches Counties, shall represent the State of Texas in all matters wherein the State of Texas is a party in his respective county, and shall receive such fees and compensation for his services as is now, or may hereafter, be provided by the General Laws of the State of Texas. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 195, ch. 127, § 1.]

Section 2 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 195, ch. 127, repeals all conflicting laws or parts of laws and section 3 makes it effective Jan. 1, 1929.

Art. 326k. District Attorney and Assistant Ninetieth Judicial District.—Sec. 1. The office of district attorney for the 90th Judicial District of Texas is hereby created, and the person now holding said office and acting as such district attorney shall continue to hold and exercise the duties of such office for the remainder of the term for which he was elected and until his successor is duly elected and qualified, and he shall receive such salary as now or hereafter provided by law for district attorneys in districts containing two or more counties.

Sec. 2. Said district attorney may appoint an assistant district attorney for said Judicial district whose salary shall not exceed three thousand dollars per annum, and which shall be paid out of the general fund of Stephens County at such times and on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the commissioners court of Stephens County. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 171, ch. 60.]

Section 3 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 171, ch. 60, validates all acts previously performed by such district attorney or his assistant and all payments of compensation made to them, and section 4 provides that if any provision of the act is held invalid, such holding shall not affect the remainder.

Art. 327. Failure to attend court.—When any district attorney shall fail to attend any term of the district court of any county in his district, the district clerk of such county shall certify the fact of such failure under his official seal to the Comptroller, and unless some satisfactory reason for such failure is shown to the comptroller, such district attorney shall receive no salary for the time that he has so failed to attend. [Acts 1846, p. 295; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1601.]

Art. 328. Vacancy in office.—When a vacancy occurs in the office of district attorney, the Governor shall appoint a qualified person, resident of the district, to fill the same.

2. COUNTY ATTORNEYS

Art. 329. [346] [280] [245] Election.—A county attorney for counties in which there is not a resident criminal district attorney, shall be biennially elected for a term of two years by the qualified voters of each county. [Acts 1883, p. 2; G. L., vol. 9, p. 308; Const., art. 5, sec. 21.]

Art. 330. [351] [285] [248] Bond.—Each county attorney shall execute a bond payable to the Governor in the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars, with at least two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the commissioners court of his county, conditioned that he will faithfully pay over in the manner prescribed by law all moneys which he may collect or which may come to his hands for the State or any county. [Acts 1876, p. 86; G. L. vol. 8, p. 922.]

Art. 331. [347] [281] Assistants.—County attorneys, by consent of the commissioners court, shall have power to appoint in writing one or more assistants, not to exceed three, for their respective counties who shall have the same powers, authority and qualifications as their principals, at whose will they shall hold office. Before entering on the duties of their offices, they shall each take the official oath which shall be indorsed upon their appointment, which oaths and appointments shall be recorded and deposited in the county clerk's office. [Acts 1891, p. 91.]

3. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Art. 332. [352] [354] [355] Qualifications.—No person who is not a duly licensed attorney at law shall be eligible to the office of district or county attorney. District and county attorneys shall reside in the district and county, respectively, for which they were elected; and they shall, as soon as practicable after their election and qualification, notify the Attorney General and Comptroller of their post-office address. [Acts 1876, p. 85.]

Art. 333. To report to Attorney General.—District and County Attorneys shall, when required by the Attorney General, report to him at such times and in such form as he may direct, such information as he may desire in relation to criminal matters and the interests of the State, in their districts and counties.

Art. 334. [356] [290] [253] Shall advise officers.—The district and county attorneys, upon request, shall give an opinion or advice in writing to any county or precinct officer of their district or county, touching their official duties. [Acts 1913, p. 48.]

Art. 335. [363] [297] [257] Collection and fees.—Whenever a district or county attorney has collected money for the State or for any county, he shall within thirty days after receiving the same, pay it into the treasury of the State or of the county in which it belongs, after deducting therefrom and retaining the commissions allowed him thereon by law. Such district or county attorney shall be entitled to ten per cent. commissions on the first thousand dollars collected by him in any one case for the State or county from any individual or company, and five per cent on all sums over one thousand dollars, to be retained out of the money when collected, and he shall also be entitled to retain the same commissions on all collections made for the State or for any county. This article shall also apply to money realized for the State under the escheat law. [Acts 1876, p. 86; G. L. vol. 8, p. 922.]

Art. 336. [365] [299] [259] Accepting reward.—No district or county attorney shall take any fee, article of value, compensation, reward or gift or any promise thereof, from any person whomsoever, to prosecute any case which he is required by law to prosecute, or consideration of or as a testimonial for his services in any case which he is required by law to prosecute, either before or after such case has been tried and finally determined. [Id.]

Art. 337. [361] [362] Collection reports.—On or before the last day of August of each year, each district or county attorney shall file in the office of the Comptroller or of the county treasurer, as the case may be, a sworn account of all money received by him by virtue of his office during the preceding year, payable into the State or county treasury. [Id.]

Art. 338. [364] [298] [258] Register.—Each district and county attorney shall keep in proper books, to be procured by them for that purpose at their own expense, a register of all their official acts and reports, and all actions or demands prosecuted or defended by them as such attorneys, and of all proceedings had in relation thereto, and shall deliver such books to their successors in office; and the same shall at all times be open to the inspection of any person appointed by the Governor or by the county commissioners court of a county, to examine the same. [Id.]

Art. 339. [366] [300] [260] To prosecute officers.—When it shall come to the knowledge of any district or county attorney that any officer in his district or county entrusted with the collection or safe keeping of any public funds is in any manner whatsoever neglecting or abusing the trust confided in him, or in any way failing to discharge his duties under the law, he shall institute such proceedings as are necessary to compel the performance of such duties by such officer and to preserve and protect the public interests. [Id.]

Art. 340. [369] [303] [261] Admissions.—No admissions made by the district or county attorney in any suit or action in which the State is a party shall operate to prejudice the rights of the State.

Art. 341. Population determined.—The preceding Federal census shall be the basis for determining population under any provisions of this title.

The Commissioner may employ counsel and procure such expert assistance as may be necessary in the liquidating and distribution of the assets of such insolvent bank. The Commissioner shall require from such special agents and assistants such security for the faithful performance of their duties as he may deem proper. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S. p. 406.]

Art. 350. Examiners.—The Commissioner from time to time shall appoint such number of State Bank Examiners as may be necessary to make the examination of banking corporations required by law, which number shall at no time exceed one for each thirty banking corporations then subject to examination under the law. One departmental examiner may be appointed by the Commissioner in addition to the field examiners. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1923, p. 107; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 423, ch. 282, § 1.]

Art. 351. Examiners' salaries.—The departmental examiner shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars; and the Field Examiners shall receive $3,000.00 for the first year's service; $3,500.00 for the second year's service, and $4,000.00 for the third year's service, $4,500.00 for the fourth year and $5,000.00 for the fifth year, and subsequent years. The examiners shall receive all necessary traveling expenses, a sworn itemized account of which shall be rendered monthly by each examiner and approved by the Commissioner. In determining the years of service, it is not necessary that the number of years shall have been served consecutively. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 434, ch. 289, § 1.]

Art. 352. [520] Examiner's bond, etc.—Each examiner, before entering upon the duties of his appointment, shall take and file in the office of the Secretary of State an oath to support the Constitution of this State, to faithfully demean himself in office, to make fair and impartial examinations, and that he will not accept as presents or emoluments any pay, directly or indirectly for the discharge of any act in the line of his duty other than remuneration fixed and accorded him by law, and that he will not reveal the condition of any bank or bank and trust company examined by him, or any information secured in the course of any examination of any bank or bank and trust company to any one except the Commissioner. Every such examiner shall enter into a bond payable to the State in the sum of ten thousand dollars to be approved by the Commissioner and deposited in the office of the State Comptroller, conditioned that he will faithfully perform his duties as such examiner. In case any such examiner shall knowingly report any such financial company in an insolvent condition, or in case he shall report any such financial company to be solvent, knowing the same to be otherwise, and any person be injured thereby, such person shall have a right of action on such bond for his injuries. Such action shall be brought in the name of the State on the relation of the injured party. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 501.]

Art. 353. [520] Examiner's qualifications.—Every examiner appointed by the Banking Commissioner shall be an expert bookkeeper and bank accountant. No such examiner shall be appointed who has not had practical experience in the banking business for at least five years. No such examiner shall be appointed who is an officer or stockholder in any bank organized under the laws of this State. No such examiner shall be appointed receiver of any bank whose books, papers and affairs he shall have examined pursuant to his appointment. [Id.]

Art. 354. Examiner disqualified.—Upon indictment of any such examiner for any violation of any provision of chapter seven of this title, he shall be disqualified from further discharging the duties of such office until such indictment is fully disposed of. [Id.]

Art. 355. [572] Interest in bank.—Neither the Commissioner nor any regularly appointed clerks or employes of the Banking Department, nor any State bank examiner shall at any time during his incumbency be financially interested directly or indirectly in any State bank or bank and trust company subject to the provisions of this title, or knowingly be or become indebted, either directly or indirectly, to any such bank. A violation of any provision of this article by any officer or employe named herein shall work a forfeiture of his office or position. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S. p. 423.]

Art. 356. [527] Commissioner disqualified.—The Commissioner, not less than twice during any one year or oftener in his discretion, shall call upon each banking corporation organized under or subject to the provisions of this title, for a statement of its assets and liabilities as provided in articles 494 and 495. The Commissioner shall not inform any person of the day on which he will call for such statement. For a violation of this requirement, or of any other duty imposed upon him by this title, he shall be deemed to have committed a misdemeanor in office, and upon conviction shall be removed from office. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 502.]

Art. 358. Examinations.—The Commissioner shall cause each banking corporation incorporated under the laws of this State, subject by law to examination, to be thoroughly and fully examined at least every four months and at such other times as the Commissioner may deem necessary. [Acts 1923, 2nd C. S. p. 107.]

Art. 359. Examination of Reserve banks.—Such banking corporations as shall become members of a Federal Reserve bank, should the Federal Reserve Board or the Comptroller of the Currency insist upon making examinations of such corporations by National bank examiners, shall be examined by or under the direction of the Commissioner semiannually or oftener in his discretion. The Commissioner or any State bank examiner, at his discretion, shall be authorized at any time to forward to the Comptroller of the Currency or the Federal Reserve Board, copies or certified copies of a State bank examiner's report of any regular or special examination made of any such member bank. [Acts 1914, 3rd C. S. p. 46.]

Art. 360. [429] Examination of savings banks.—The Commissioner shall examine or cause to be examined every savings bank organized under this title once in every two years, or oftener in his discretion. The expense of every such special examination, if any, shall be paid by the corporation examined in such manner as the Commissioner shall certify to be just and reasonable. Only actual and traveling expenses of the Commissioner or his examiners incident to such examinations shall be paid by such corporation. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 489.]

Art. 361. May take oaths.—The Commissioner and all State bank examiners shall have the power to administer oaths to any person whose testimony may be desired for the purpose of any such examinations. [Acts 1923, 2nd C. S. p. 107.]

Art. 362. Examination fees.—Except as to savings banks, the expense of every general and special examination shall be paid by the corporation examined in such amount as the Commissioner shall certify to be just and reasonable, and assessments therefor shall be made by the Commissioner upon the banks examined in proportion to assets or resources held by the banks upon the dates of the examination of the various banks. [Id.]

Art. 363. Disposition of fees.—All sums collected as examination fees shall be paid by the Commissioner directly into the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund. The expenses of examination and of the Commissioner in enforcing the provisions of this title shall be paid upon the certificate of the Commissioner by warrant of the Comptroller upon the State Treasury. [Id.]

Art. 364. [524] Hindering examination, etc.—If any banking corporation subject to the provisions of this title shall refuse to submit to the inspection of the Commissioner or any of his examiners, or if any officer or director thereof shall refuse to submit to be examined an oath touching the affairs of said corporation, or if it shall be found to have violated its charter, or any law of this State binding upon it, the Commissioner shall report the fact to the Attorney General, who shall institute such action or proceedings against such corporation as is authorized in cases of insolvent banks. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 502.]

Art. 365. [523] Impairment of capital.—Whenever the Commissioner shall have reason to believe that the capital stock of any banking corporation subject to the provisions of this title is reduced by impairment or otherwise below the amount required by law or by its certificates or articles of association, he shall require such corporation to make good the deficiency. [Id.]

Art. 366. [523] Illegal practices.—Whenever it shall appear to the Commissioner from any examination made by him or any of his examiners that any such banking corporation is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, he shall, by an order under his hand and seal, direct the discontinuance of such illegal, unsafe and unauthorized practices, and require a strict conformity with the provisions of the law, and if wrong entries or unlawful uses of the funds of such corporation have been made, he or they shall require that such entries shall be corrected and such sums unlawfully paid out shall be restored by the person or persons responsible for the wrongful or illegal payment thereof. [Id.]

Art. 367. Investigation of fraud.—If it should be brought to the knowledge of the Commissioner that any officer of a bank or bank and trust company organized and doing business under the laws of Texas is engaging in fraudulent business enterprises, or in any line of business reasonably calculated to bring discredit upon such corporation, the Commissioner shall call together the directors of said corporation and lay before them the facts and demand a discontinuance of such practices. [Acts 1923, p. 323.]

Art. 368. [523] Unsafe bank.—Should any banking corporation refuse or neglect to make any report as required by law, or to comply with any orders made by any official of the Banking Department, or whenever it shall appear to the Commissioner that it is unsafe or inexpedient for such corporation to continue to transact business, or that extraordinary withdrawals of money are jeopardizing the interest of remaining depositors, or that any director or officer has abused his trust, or been guilty of misconduct or malversation in his official position injurious to the institution, or that it has suffered a serious loss by fire, burglary, repudiation or otherwise, he shall communicate the facts to the Attorney General, who shall thereupon institute such proceedings as the nature of the case may require. Such proceedings may be for any character of relief or any remedy suggested by the conditions disclosed. The court, or the judge thereof in vacation, before whom such proceedings shall be instituted, shall have power forthwith to grant such orders, and in its or his discretion, from time to time to modify or revoke the same, and to grant such relief as the evidence, situation of the parties and the interests involved, shall seem to require. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 502.]

Art. 369. [513-523] Shall close bank.—If an examination made by the Commissioner or by one of his examiners shall disclose that any banking corporation organized under the provisions of this title is insolvent, or that its continuance in business will seriously jeopardize the safety of its depositors or other creditors; or if any such corporation shall make or undertake to make a voluntary assignment of its assets; or if the Banking Board shall disapprove any such bank and shall determine that it is not entitled under this title to conduct a banking business unless such bank goes into voluntary liquidation, then the Commissioner, acting himself or by one of his examiners, shall immediately close said banking corporation and take charge of all the property and effects thereof. [Id.]

Art. 369a. Forfeiture of charter of closed bank.—Sec. 1. Upon the closing of a liquidation of any State bank the Banking Commissioner shall file with the district court of the county in which such bank was located, or with the judge if in vacation, a final report of such liquidation, for the approval of the court or judge; and upon the approval thereof the charter of such bank shall thereupon be forfeited, without the necessity of judicial ascertainment.

Sec. 2. In every case of forfeiture of charter of an insolvent State bank, as above provided, the Banking Commissioner shall prepare an appropriate certificate of facts and shall file one copy of same with the clerk of the county in which such bank was located, one copy in the archives of the Banking Department, and one copy with the Secretary of State. Such certificates shall be filed and recorded by the respective officers in an appropriate book kept for that purpose. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 295, ch. 209.]

Art. 370. [523] Inspection.—The Commissioner, as soon as practicable after taking charge of such bank, shall ascertain by a thorough examination into the affairs its actual financial condition. If he is satisfied that it cannot resume business or liquidate its indebtedness to the satisfaction of all its creditors, he shall report the fact of its insolvency to the Attorney General. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 502.]

Art. 371. [453-523] Liquidating officer.—Immediately upon the receipt of such notice, the Attorney General shall institute proceedings for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of such bank and to wind up the affairs and business thereof for the benefit of its depositors, creditors and stockholders. The court, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall immediately appoint said receiver. Complaint or opposition of the bank or its officers subsequently may be heard in open court. Until a receiver is appointed, the Commissioner may appoint a competent person to take charge of the affairs of such insolvent bank. If a State bank or bank and trust company comes voluntarily into the hands of the Commissioner, no receiver shall be appointed, and the Commissioner shall appoint a competent person in lieu thereof. [Id.; Acts 2nd C. S. 1909, p. 408.]

Art. 373. Insolvency of Reserve bank.—If any State bank which is a member of a Federal Reserve bank shall be declared insolvent and taken over by the Banking Commissioner of Texas for the purpose of liquidation as provided by law, the stock held by it in the said Federal Reserve bank may be cancelled without impairment of its liability and all cash paid subscriptions on said stock with one-half of one per cent per month interest from the period of the last dividend, not to exceed the book value thereof, may be first applied to all the debts of said member bank to the Federal Reserve bank, and the balance, if any, paid to the Banking Commissioner, in charge of the liquidation of such insolvent bank. [Acts 1914, 3rd C. S. p. 46; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 291, ch. 204, § 1.]

Art. 374. Liquidation of savings banks.—If any savings bank incorporated under the laws of Texas shall become insolvent, its liquidation shall be accomplished by the Commissioner in the manner provided for other State banks.

Art. 375. [430] Report to Legislature.—The Banking Commissioner shall communicate to the Legislature at its regular sessions on or before February first, a statement of the condition of each savings bank from which a report has been received for the past preceding two years; also the name and location of the savings banks and institutions for savings authorized by him during the previous two years with the date of their corporation. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 489.]

CHAPTER TWO INCORPORATION

Art.

- 376. May incorporate.
- 377. Articles of association.
- 378. To be signed, etc.
- 379. Application for charter.
- 380. Board to investigate.
- 381. Issuance of charter.
- 381a. Amendment of charter.
- 382. Certificate of authority.
- 383. Form of certificate.
- 384. Tax and filing fee.
- 385. Oath of directors.
- 386. Disqualification.
- 387. Election of directors.
- 387a. By-laws and penalty for failure to adopt.
- 387b. Annual election of directors.

Article 376. [370] May incorporate.—Five or more persons, a majority of whom shall be residents of this State, who have associated themselves by written articles of agreement as provided by the general corporation law, may be incorporated for the purpose of establishing: (a) a bank of deposit or discount, or both of deposit and discount; (b) a banking and trust company; or (c) a savings bank. The name or title designating such business shall not be the name of any corporation heretofore incorporated in this State for similar purposes, or any imitation of such name, and in the case of banks, the word "bank" or "banking" shall be included as a part of the name of such corporation. All titles shall be submitted to the Banking Commissioner for approval. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 489.]

Art. 377. [371] Articles of association.—The articles of association shall state:

1. The corporate name of the proposed corporation.
2. The purpose for which the corporation is formed.
3. The name of the city or town and county in which the corporation is to be located.
4. The amount of the capital stock of the corporation, which shall be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each; that the same has been bona fide subscribed and actually paid up in lawful money of the United States, and is in the custody of the persons named as the first board of directors.
5. The name and place of residence of each shareholder, and the number of shares subscribed by each.
6. The number of directors, and the names of those agreed upon for the first year.
7. The number of years the corporation is to continue, which in no case shall exceed fifty. [Id.]

Art. 378. To be signed, etc.—Such articles of association shall be signed and acknowledged by the parties thereto. No certificate of incorporation under this title shall be valid unless at the time the articles of agreement were acknowledged the capital stock therein mentioned shall have been bona fide subscribed and paid up in lawful money. [Id.]

Art. 379. Application for charter.—The incorporators of any proposed State bank, savings bank or

bank and trust company shall make application to the State Banking Board for a charter in such form as said Board may prescribe and submit and present to said Board articles of incorporation or association, as prescribed by law. [Acts 1913, p. 211.]

Art. 380. Board to investigate.—The Board shall carefully examine the articles of association, and each such incorporator shall show to the satisfaction of said Board, by affidavit or otherwise as may be required by said Board, that he is worth over and above exemptions and liabilities at least double the amount of the par value of the stock subscribed by him. The said Board shall also inform itself as to the public necessity of the business of the community in which it is sought to establish the same, and determine whether its capital is commensurate with the requirements of law, and the location of the business, and that the applicants are acting in good faith. [Id.]

Art. 381. Issuance of charter.—If the Board determines any requirement unfavorably to the applicants, the charter shall be refused; but if favorably, then the charter shall be granted, and the articles of incorporation or association shall be filed with the Commissioner who shall deliver a certified copy thereof to the incorporators which shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the corporation may be located. [Id.]

Art. 381a. Amendment of charter.—That hereafter any State Bank or State Bank and Trust Company may amend its charter to increase or decrease its capital stock, to change its name, to adopt trust company powers, and for any other lawful purpose. Such amendments shall be in force and take effect when adopted by a vote of the stockholders holding two-thirds interest of the capital stock, and when approved by the Banking Commissioner of Texas and filed in the archives of his office. Stockholders shall be given notice of the intention to make such amendments by publication for not less than four consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the town or county where the bank is located, and also by notice mailed to each stockholder not less than thirty days next preceding the date of the stockholders' meeting. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 289, ch. 202, § 1.]

Art. 382. [511] Certificate of authority.—All State banks transacting business in Texas shall be required to hold a certificate of authority to transact a banking business issued by the Commissioner as provided in the succeeding article, and to keep same conspicuously posted at all times in the banking house where such business is transacted. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S. p. 406.]

Art. 383. [512] Form of certificate.—The Commissioner shall issue to each State bank which the State Banking Board shall have approved and certified to him as being entitled to transact a banking business, a certificate of authority in such form as the Board shall approve, to be signed by him under his official seal, certifying that such bank is authorized under the laws of this State to engage in the banking business. Such certificate, when issued to guaranty fund banks shall contain the following statement on the face thereof in bold type: "The noninterest bearing and unsecured deposits of this bank are protected by the State bank guaranty fund." And, when issued to bond security banks shall contain the following statement on the face thereof in bold type: "All deposits of this bank are protected by security bond under the laws of the State of Texas." When issued to the State banks other than guaranty fund and bond security banks, it shall contain neither of these, nor any similar statement. [Id.]

Art. 384. Tax and filing fee.—At the time the articles of incorporation aforesaid are submitted to the State Banking Board, the applicants for charter shall deposit with the Commissioner the fee required by law for the charter they seek to have granted. If the charter is refused by said Board, then the charter fee shall be returned to the applicants. A certified copy of the articles of incorporation shall not be delivered to the incorporators until they present to the Banking Commissioner a receipt from the Secretary of State showing that they have paid to the latter officer the required franchise tax. [Acts 1913, p. 211.]

Art. 385. Oath of directors.—Each person elected director of a State banking institution shall make oath that he will diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such corporation and will not knowingly violate or willingly permit to be violated any provision of the banking laws of this State; that he is the owner in good faith and in his own right of his legal quota of the stock of such corporation; and that same is not hypothecated or pledged for debt. Such oath when subscribed and duly certified, shall be filed permanently in the minutes of the corporation. [Acts 1917, p. 469.]

Art. 386. Disqualification.—Any director of such corporation who shall hypothecate or pledge his legal quota of the stock of such corporation shall automatically forfeit his position. [Id.]

Art. 387. Election of directors.—The charter of any such corporation need not be amended in order to increase or decrease the number of directors. The stockholders may at any regular annual election of directors elect such number as they may see fit, not less than five nor more than twenty-five, and such number so elected shall be the full number of directors for the ensuing year for which they are elected. When the number of directors is changed under this article, a certified copy of the resolution changing the number shall be forwarded at once to the Commissioner to be filed by him free of charge in the charter file of the corporation. [Id.]

Art. 387a. By-laws and penalty for failure to adopt.—Sec. 1. Hereafter all State Banks, Savings Banks and Bank and Trust Companies shall adopt by-laws and every such corporation shall file a certified copy of said by-laws with the Banking Commissioner and if said by-laws shall at any time be amended a certified copy of said amendment shall be filed with the Banking Commissioner.

Sec. 2. The failure of any State Bank to comply with the above provisions shall render it liable for a penalty of twenty-five dollars per day for each and every day such Bank may be delinquent, to be recovered in an action by the Attorney General. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 201, ch. 132.]

Art. 387b. Annual election of directors.—Hereafter, Directors of State Banks, Bank and Trust Companies and Banking Corporations, organized and doing business under the laws of this State, shall be elected annually. Should any State Bank or Bank and Trust Company, organized and doing business under the laws of this State, fail or refuse to hold an annual meeting of its stockholders and elect directors as hereby provided, upon the date fixed by law, or by the by-laws of such bank or bank and trust company or within sixty days after such date, then it shall be the duty of the Banking Commissioner to close such institution and liquidate same according to law. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 296, ch. 210, § 1.]

CHAPTER THREE

BANKS

- Art.
388. Board of directors.
389. Qualification.
390. Vacancy.
391. Capital stock.
392. Powers of corporation.

Article 388. [374] Board of directors.—The business of every banking corporation shall be managed by a board of directors, a majority of whom shall be bona fide resident citizens of this State, and each of whom shall be a bona fide owner of at least five shares of the capital stock thereof, unless the capital stock of the corporation exceeds seventeen thousand five hundred dollars, in which case each director shall be a bona fide owner of at least ten shares of the capital stock. No person shall be a director in any bank against whom such bank holds a judgment. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 489.]

Art. 389. [374] Qualification.—Every person who shall be elected a director of a bank shall within thirty days after said election, qualify as such director by filing with the officers of such bank a written acceptance of the position, a copy of which shall be spread upon the records of the acts of the directors. Failure to comply with this provision within the time specified shall work a forfeiture of the position. [Id.]

Art. 390. [374] Vacancy.—When any vacancy occurs by such failure, the board of directors shall at the next regular meeting thereafter enter the fact of such vacancy upon their records and immediately proceed to elect some competent person to fill the unexpired term. A vacancy in the board from any cause, previous to the annual election, may be filled by the remaining members. [Id.]

Art. 391. [375] Capital stock.—When a bank is located in a town having less than eight hundred inhabitants, its capital stock shall not be less than seventeen thousand five hundred dollars, nor less than twenty-five thousand dollars for banks located in towns and cities having eight hundred inhabitants and less than ten thousand inhabitants, nor less than fifty thousand dollars for banks located in towns and cities having ten thousand inhabitants and less than twenty thousand inhabitants, nor less than one hundred thousand dollars in towns and cities having twenty thousand inhabitants or more. No bank shall have a capital stock of more than ten million dollars. The population of all towns and cities for the purpose of fixing the minimum capital stock of banks under this title shall be ascertained by reference to the last preceding Federal census. [Acts 1923, p. 93.]

Art. 392. [376] Powers of corporation.—Banking corporations shall be authorized to conduct the business of receiving money on deposit, allowing interest thereon, and of buying and selling exchange, gold and silver coins of all kinds; of lending money upon real estate and personal property and upon collateral and personal securities at a rate of interest not exceeding that allowed by law; and of buying, selling and discounting negotiable and non-negotiable commercial paper of all kinds. No such bank shall lend more than fifty per cent of its securities upon real estate, nor make a loan on real estate to an amount greater than half the reasonable cash value thereof. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 489.]

CHAPTER FOUR

BANK AND TRUST COMPANIES

Art.

- 393. Board of directors.
- 394. Term of office.
- 395. Capital stock.
- 396. Powers of corporation.

Article 393. [383] Board of directors.—Bank and trust companies shall be controlled and managed by directors who shall be stockholders of such corporation, and a majority of whom shall be bona fide citizens of Texas. They shall be elected by the shareholders of such corporation who shall meet at such time and place as shall be directed by the by-laws of such corporation. At least two weeks notice of such time and place shall be published in some daily or weekly newspaper which circulates in the county or city in which the corporation is located. The election shall be by ballot only, and only those shareholders who shall attend the meeting in person or by proxy in writing, shall vote at such election. All directors shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified. [Acts 1st C. S. 1905, p. 489.]

Art. 394. [383] Term of office.—If the board of directors of such corporation shall exceed five in number, they shall as soon as practicable after their organization, divide themselves by ballot into three classes of equal number as near as may be, designated the first, second, and third class, of which the first class shall remain in office one year, the second class two years, and the third class three years; and at each annual election directors shall be elected for the term of three years to fill the vacancies created by the retiring class. If one or more directors dies or resigns, the survivors shall fill the vacancy until the next election. [Id.]

See article 387b.

Art. 395. [384] Capital stock.—The amount of capital stock of a bank and trust company shall not be less than fifty thousand nor more than ten million dollars. No bank and trust company shall be incorporated in a town or city having twenty thousand inhabitants or more with a capital stock of less than one hundred thousand dollars. [Id.; Acts 1913, p. 207.]

Art. 396. [385] Powers of corporation.—Bank and trust companies may be created for the purpose of establishing a bank of deposit or discount, or both of deposit and discount, with the powers set out in article 392, and any one or more of the following purposes:

1. To act as the fiscal or transfer agent of any State, municipality, body politic, or corporation, and in such capacity, to receive and disburse money; to transfer, register and countersign certificates of stock, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, and to act as agent of any corporation, foreign or domestic, for any lawful purpose.

2. To receive deposits or trust moneys, securities and other personal property from any person or corporation, and to lend money on real or personal securities.

3. To lease, hold, purchase and convey any and all real property necessary in the transaction of its business, or which it acquires in satisfaction or partial satisfaction of debts due the corporation, under sales, judgments or mortgages, or in settlement or partial settlement of debts due the corporation by any of its debtors; which shall be alienated in good faith within five years from the date of its acquisition to some person other than some one interested in the company.

4. To act as trustee under any mortgage or bond issue by any municipality, body politic or corporation, and accept and execute any other municipal or corporate trust not inconsistent with the laws of this State.

5. To accept trusts from, and execute trusts for married women, in respect to their separate property, and to be their agent in the management of such property or to transact any business in relation thereto.

6. To act under the order or appointment of any court of record as guardian, receiver or trustee of the estate of any minor, the annual income of which shall not be less than one hundred dollars, and as depository of any moneys paid into court, whether for the benefit of any such minor or other person, corporation or party.

7. To take, accept and execute any and all such legal trusts, duties and powers in regard to the holding, management and disposition of any estate, real or personal, and the rents and profits thereof, or the sale thereof, as may be granted or confided to it by any court of record, or by any person, corporation, municipality, or other authority; and it shall be accountable to all parties in interest for the faithful discharge of every such trust, duty or power which it may so accept.

8. To take, accept and execute any and all such trusts and powers of whatever nature or description, as may be conferred upon or intrusted or committed to it by any person or persons, or any body politic, corporation or other authority by grant, assignment, transfer, devise, bequest or otherwise, or which may be intrusted or committed or transferred to it or vested in it by order of any court of record, and to receive, take and hold any property or estate, real or personal, which may be the subject of any such trust.

9. To purchase, invest in, guarantee and sell stocks, bills of exchange, bonds and mortgages and other securities; and when moneys or securities for moneys are borrowed or received on deposit, or for investment, the bonds or obligation of the company may be given

Article 397. [390] Board of directors.—Savings banks shall be controlled and managed by a board of directors, not less than five nor more than thirteen in number, who shall be stockholders of the corporation, and a majority of whom shall be bona fide citizens of Texas. Their election, term of office and the filling of vacancies on the board shall be governed by the provisions of articles 393 and 394. The directors shall elect from their number a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary and treasurer, and may appoint such other officers and agents as they may deem necessary for the proper conducting of the business of the corporation, and may allow them reasonable compensation for services rendered. The vote of a majority of the full board shall be requisite for the appointment of any officer receiving a salary therefrom, or to fix or increase the salary of any officer. No person shall be disqualified from being a director by reason of his being a director or officer of a bank or savings institution organized under the laws of this State. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 489.]

Art. 398. [391] Meetings of board.—Regular meetings of the board of directors shall be held at least once in each month for the transaction of the business of the bank, at which meeting all the officers and committees shall report to the board. A quorum at any regular, special or adjourned meeting shall consist of not less than a majority of directors. Less than a quorum may adjourn from time to time, until the next regular meeting. [Id.]

Art. 399. [418-419-422] Compensation of directors.—It shall be lawful for directors, acting as officers of savings banks whose duties may require their regular and faithful attendance at the institution, to receive such compensation as the majority of the board of directors shall deem just and reasonable; such majority shall be exclusive of any director to whom such compensation shall be voted. It shall not be lawful to pay the directors, as such, for attendance at the meetings of the board. No director shall, directly or indirectly receive any payment or emolument for his services as such of any savings bank, except as herein provided. All sums paid for services, fees or otherwise to a member of the board shall be reported in detail at such regular meeting of the directors. [Id.]

Art. 400. [420] Fees restricted.—No such corporation, or any person acting in its behalf shall negotiate, take or receive a fee, brokerage, commission or gift or other consideration for or on account of the loan made by and in behalf of such corporation, other than appears on the face of the note or contract by which such loan purports to be made. Nothing herein shall apply to any reasonable charge for services in the examination of title and the preparation of conveyance to such corporation as security for its loan. [Id.]

Art. 401. [405] Application for loans.—All applications for loans shall be made in writing to the treasurer of the corporation, who shall keep a record thereof showing the date, name of applicant, amount asked for, and security offered, and shall cause the same to be presented to the board of directors. [Id.]

Art. 402. [421] Officers not to borrow.—No director or officer of such corporation shall, directly or indirectly, for himself or as agent or partner of others, borrow any of the funds of the corporation, or funds in its custody, or in any manner use the same, except to make necessary current payments for the corporation, or to make investments, or to deposit for safety under the direction and authority of the board of directors; nor shall any director or officer of such corporation be an indorser or surety or in any way be an obligor for moneys loaned or borrowed of the corporation. [Id.]

Art. 403. [423] Penalty for borrowing, etc.—If a director violates any provision of the preceding article; or fails to attend regular meetings of the board, or fails to perform any duty devolved upon him as such director for three successive months without having been excused by the board for such failure, the office of such director shall become vacant. Such director may, in the discretion of the board, be eligible to re-election. [Id.]

Art. 404. [424] Security from officers.—The board of directors may, from time to time, require from each officer, employé and agent of such corporation, such security for their fidelity and good conduct as may be necessary. [Id.]

Art. 405. [416] Powers of directors.—The board of directors of any such corporations shall have power from time to time to make such laws, rules and regulations as they may think proper for the election of officers, for prescribing their respective powers and duties, and the manner of discharging them; for the appointment of committees, and generally for transacting, managing and directing the affairs of the corporation. Such by-laws, rules and regulations shall not be repugnant to nor inconsistent with the provisions of this title, nor the Constitution of this State, nor of the United States. [Id.]

Art. 406. [397] Payment of deposits.—The board of directors may regulate the payment of deposits and require sixty days notice of the withdrawal of any deposit. Such regulations shall not be retroactive nor in conflict with any provision of this chapter, and shall be printed and conspicuously posted at the place of deposit. Upon notice to the depositor, any account may be closed whereupon it shall cease to draw interest. [Id.]

Art. 407. [417] Effect of notice.—Notices and rules posted conspicuously by savings banks in the room where such business is transacted, shall be equivalent to a personal notice to any party interested. [Id.]

Art. 408. [398] Pass book.—A pass book containing the rules and regulations adopted by the board of directors governing deposits shall be issued to each depositor, and all payments to and withdrawals by such depositor shall be entered therein. No payment or check against any such savings account shall be made unless accompanied by and entered in the pass book issued therefor, except for good cause and on assurance satisfactory to the officers of the bank. At least once in every three years all pass books shall be called in and verified in such manner as the board of directors shall elect. [Id.]

Art. 409. [399] Deposit of minor or female.—Whenever any deposit shall be made by or in the name of any minor, or a female being or thereafter becoming a married woman, the same shall be held for the exclusive right and benefit of such depositor, and shall be paid, together with the interest thereon upon the production of and proper entry in the pass book at the time of such payment, and in accordance with the by-laws of the corporation, to the person in whose name the deposit shall have been made, and the receipt or acquittance of such minor or female shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge for such deposit or any part thereof to the corporation. [Id.]

Art. 410. [400] Deposit in trust.—Whenever any deposit shall be made by any person in trust for another, and no other or further notice of the existence and terms of a legal and valid trust shall have been given in writing to the bank, in the event of the death of the trustee, the same or any part thereof together with the interest thereon may be paid to the person for whom the said deposit was made. [Id.]

Art. 411. [413] Safety deposit box rent.—Any corporation which has been authorized or may hereafter be authorized to own or control a safety vault and rent the boxes therein may, if the amount due for the use of any safe or box in the vault of such corporation shall not have been paid for two years, at the expiration thereof cause to be sent to the person in whose name such safe or box stands on its books, a written notice in a securely closed, postpaid registered letter directed to such person at his postoffice address as recorded upon the books of the corporation, notifying such person that if the amount then due for the use of such safe or box is not paid within sixty days from the date of such notice, the corporation will then cause such safe or box to be opened in the presence of its president or vice president, secretary or treasurer, and of a notary public not an officer or in the employ of the corporation, and the contents thereof, if any, to be sealed up by such notary public in a package, upon which such notary public shall distinctly mark the name and address of the person in whose name such safe or box stands upon the books of the corporation, and the estimated value thereof. And the package so sealed and addressed and marked for identification will be placed by such notary public in one of the general safes or boxes of the corporation and retained by the corporation subject to the payment of all rent that may be unpaid, and of all expenses incurred in opening the safe or box, and also of a reasonable compensation for the safekeeping of the contents after their removal from the safe or box. [Id.]

Art. 412. [392-393] Capital stock.—The capital stock of a savings bank shall not be less than ten thousand dollars in cities having a population of fifty thousand inhabitants or under, and not less than fifty thousand dollars in cities having a population of more than fifty thousand. Such corporation may increase its capital stock in the manner provided by law to an amount not greater than five million dollars. Stockholders shall have the first right to subscribe to such increase in proportion to the amount of stock held by each. [Id.]

Art. 413. [395] Powers of corporation.—Savings banks shall have authority:

1. To receive, accumulate and safely keep any deposits of money from any persons, corporations or societies, and to invest, hold and repay the same, crediting and paying interest thereon as in this chapter authorized and provided, and not otherwise;

2. To issue certificates of deposit payable on demand or such other time as may be agreed upon by the depositor and the bank;

3. At its option, to take and receive as bailee for safe keeping and storage, any character of acceptable valuable articles, guaranteeing their safety upon such terms and for such compensation as may be agreed upon with the owner, and to let out vaults, safes and other receptacles for the use, benefit and purposes of such corporations. [Id.; Acts 1907, p. 305.]

Art. 414. [414] Powers as to real estate.—It shall be lawful for any savings bank to purchase, hold, sell and convey real estate as follows:

1. The house and lot, not to exceed in value twenty per cent of the capital stock of such bank, on which is the domicile of such corporation, and from portions of which not required for its own use any revenue may be derived;

2. Such as shall be purchased by it at sales upon foreclosure of mortgages or deeds of trust owned by such corporations, or upon judgments or decrees rendered for debts due to it or purchased or taken in settlement to secure such debts, and all such interest shall be sold to some person other than some one interested in the bank within five years after same shall be vested in it, unless the Commissioner shall extend the time within which such sale shall be made. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 489.]

Art. 415. [396] May limit deposits.—Every such corporation shall have the right to limit, refuse or return any deposit at its discretion. No individual or corporation may deposit more than four thousand dollars inclusive of dividends. Sums in any amount arising from judicial sales or trust funds or received pursuant to the order of a court of record may be received for deposit. [Id.]

Art. 416. [403-432] Investment of savings.—Such corporations shall invest not more than eighty-five per cent of the total amount of its savings deposits in any of the following classes of securities, and not otherwise:

1. In bonds or interest bearing notes or obligations of the United States or of those for which the faith of the United States is pledged for the payment of principal and interest;

2. In bonds, interest bearing notes, or other obligations issued under due authority of law in payment for permanent improvements made; bearing a fixed rate of interest and payable within a definite number of years or over a series of years; of any city, county, town or school district or other subdivision in this State, now organized or which may hereafter be organized, and which is now or may hereafter be authorized to issue bonds under the Constitution and laws of this State, which has not defaulted in the payment of any part of either principal or interest thereof within five years previous to making such investments;

3. In bonds of this State, or of any State of the Union that has not within the last five years previous to making such investment, defaulted in the payment of any part of either principal or interest thereof;

4. In the first mortgage bonds of any steam or electric railroad, which has its domicile in this State, or other public utility corporations domiciled in this State, the average annual net earnings of which, for a period of five years next previous to the purchase of such bonds, have amounted at least to twice the annual interest charges on the entire funded debt of such railroad or public service corporation;

5. In bonds or notes secured by first mortgage, first deed of trust or other first lien on improved real estate in Texas worth at least twice the amount loaned thereon, such bonds or notes to run for a term of not longer than ten years, and to be always accompanied by a complete abstract of title to the property mortgaged and an attorney's certificate or title insurance policy in some company incorporated under the laws of Texas, certifying said bonds or notes to be the first lien on the land mortgaged; and further provided that the value of the real estate, exclusive of mineral leases or other mineral estate, shall be at least twice the amount loaned thereon; and in addition thereto, in assignable certificates issued by any city, town, or village for street paving the payments of which are secured by first liens fixed on the abutting properties by assessments levied in accordance with law and thereby made the personal obligations of the abutting property owners. It shall be the duty of the directors of such corporation as soon as practicable, to invest the moneys and funds of such savings accounts by purchase or otherwise, in the securities above described. Such directors, from time to time shall sell and invest the proceeds of such investments, and for the purpose of meeting current demands and expenses in excess of the receipts, any of the securities may be sold or pledged. [Id.; Acts 1909, 2nd C. S. p. 406; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 371, ch. 252, § 1.]

Art. 417. [406] Cash reserve.—There shall be kept an available cash fund of not less than fifteen per cent of the whole amount of its assets, and the same, or any part thereof, may be kept on hand or on deposit payable on demand in any bank or banking association of Texas, or under the laws of the United States approved by the Banking Commissioner, and having a paid up capital stock of fifty thousand dollars or more. The deposits in any one bank or trust company shall not exceed twenty per cent of the total deposits, capital and surplus of such savings bank. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 489.]

Art. 418. [394-397] Guarantee fund.—The capital stock shall be regarded as a guarantee fund for the security of depositors, and shall be invested as provided in article 416. [Id.]

Art. 419. [407] Indemnity fund.—When the guarantee fund of any savings bank amounts to a sum equal to the capital stock of the corporation, and after interest on the deposits and dividends on the capital stock have been paid as provided herein, the board of directors shall at the time of making the regular semi-annual dividends, set aside and reserve from the remaining net profits which have accumulated during the preceding six months, a sum not exceeding one-fourth of one per cent of the total deposits on such interest day, to be known as indemnity fund, until such fund amounts to ten per cent of the whole deposits, and such fund shall thereafter be maintained and held to meet any contingency or loss from depreciation of securities or otherwise. [Id.]

Art. 420. [408] Valuation of securities.—In determining the per cent of the guarantee and indemnity funds so held by savings banks, the interest-bearing notes and bonds shall not be estimated above their par value, or above their market value if below par; its bonds and mortgages and deeds of trust not in arrears of interest for a period longer than one year, at their face value; its real estate at not above cost. All debts due any savings bank or institution on which the interest is past due for a period of twelve months, unless well secured and in process of collection, shall be considered as bad debts, and shall be charged to profit and loss account at the expiration of that time. [Id.]

Art. 421. [401] Payment of interest.—No interest shall be paid or declared by savings banks until its board of directors cause an examination to be made of the assets and securities, and find the amount of such interest and dividend has been actually earned and accrued. No interest or dividend shall be paid or declared unless authorized by a vote of the board of directors and duly entered on the minutes at a regular meeting. [Id.]

Art. 422. [402] Interest rate.—The board of directors shall regulate from time to time the rate of interest to be allowed to depositors out of the net profits, and pay or credit the same on semi-annual interest dates to be fixed by the directors. The directors may classify the depositors according to character, amount and duration of their dealings with the corporation and regulate the interest allowed in such manner that each depositor shall receive the ratable portion of interest as all others of the same class. [Id.]

Art. 423. [409] Dividends.—No dividend exceeding ten per cent per annum shall be paid on its capital stock in any event, and no dividend shall be paid except as herein provided. Whenever interest at a rate of not less than three per cent per annum shall have been paid or credited by savings banks out of the net profits of the current six months on all savings or trust funds which may be entitled thereto, the board of directors may, out of the remaining net earnings of such six months, if any there be, declare and pay a dividend on the capital stock of the corporation not exceeding ten per cent of its par value. No such dividends shall be declared or paid until at least one-tenth of the profits of the corporation for such period of six months shall be carried to the credit of the guarantee fund until such fund equals the amount of the capital stock, which sum shall be invested as provided herein for the investment of the capital fund. [Id.]

Art. 424. [411] Net profits.—If for any period of six months, the net profits shall not be sufficient to pay a dividend on the capital stock of any savings bank amounting to three per cent for such six months, then, if there are any net profits in any succeeding six months period or periods and the amount required to be carried to the guarantee fund, such excess or net profits shall be applied to the arrears of the dividend on the capital stock, until such arrears of dividend are paid in full; and no part of the net profit shall be credited on the indemnity fund as provided in article 419, nor to the payment of the extra interest to the depositors as provided in the succeeding article. [Id.]

Art. 425. [412] Extra interest.—Once in every term of three years, if the net profits of savings banks which have accumulated over and above the guarantee and indemnity funds amount to one per cent of the deposits which have remained with such corporation for at least one year next preceding, such net profits shall be divided among the depositors whose deposits shall have remained therein at least one year next preceding, in proportion to the amount of interest which has been paid on their deposits during the three years then next preceding. Nothing herein shall be construed to require the payment of any interest on money or property received as bailee for safe keeping and storage only. [Id.]

Art. 426. [425] Annual report: assets.—Every savings bank organized under the provisions of this title shall, on or before the first day of November in each year make a written report to the Commissioner in such form as he may prescribe, of its condition on the first day of September preceding. Such report shall state the amount loaned on bonds and mortgages, together with a list thereof; the par value and the estimated market value of all bond investments, designating each particular kind, and the amount invested in each; the amount loaned upon pledge of deposits, with a statement of the amount held as collateral for such loans; the amount of cash on hand and on deposit with other banks or institutions, with their names and amount deposited in each; the amount of all assets, including interest accrued and not enumerated above. [Id.]

Art. 427. [426] Report: liabilities.—Such reports shall also state all liabilities of such savings bank on the morning of the first day of September, the amount due depositors, which shall include any dividend to be created to them for six months on that day, and any other claims against the corporation which are or may be charged against its assets; the amount of all deposits made during the fiscal year ending that day, and the amount drawn out during the same period; the whole amount of interest received and earned, and the amount of interest paid and credited to depositors, together with the amount of each semi-annual credit of interest; the number of accounts opened and re-opened, the number closed during the year, and the number of open accounts at the end of such year; and such other information as the Commissioner may require. [Id.]

Art. 428. [427] Report: verification.—Such report shall be verified by the oath of the two principal officers of such savings bank; and the statement of the assets shall be verified by the oath of at least three of the board of directors who shall have thoroughly examined the same. On or about the first day of September of each year such directors shall examine the books, vouchers, and assets of such institution, and its affairs generally; and the statement of assets and liabilities reported to the Commissioner on the first day of November of each year shall be based upon such examination. Nothing herein shall prohibit the directors from requiring such examination at such other times as they shall prescribe. [Id.]

Art. 429. [427] Penalty.—Any such corporation failing to furnish to the Commissioner any report or statement required in this chapter shall forfeit the sum of one hundred dollars per day for every day such report or statement shall be so withheld; and the Commissioner may maintain an action [in the name of his office] in his name of his office to recover such penalty, and when collected, the same shall be paid into the State Treasury and be applied to the school fund. The Commissioner may, for sufficient cause, extend the time for making such report, not exceeding thirty days. [Id.]

SAVINGS DEPARTMENTS

Art.

- 430. Adoption by bank.
- 431. Rules and regulations.
- 432. Reserve deposits.
- 433. Depositors' prior lien.
- 434. Payment of interest.
- 435. Accumulated earnings.
- 436. Statement of assets, etc.

Article 430. [431] Adoption by bank.—Any State bank or bank and trust company incorporated under the laws of this State desiring to maintain a savings department or to use or continue to use the word "savings" as part of its corporate name, or in or as part of any sign or advertisement, or in or upon any stationery used or to be used by it, shall establish and maintain a savings department in compliance with the provisions of this chapter, and shall, except as otherwise herein provided, be governed in the conduct of such savings department by the provisions of Chapter Five pertaining to savings banks when such provisions are not in conflict herewith. Such savings department may be established by a resolution to that effect adopted by the board of directors at a regular meeting, and shall contain a copy of this chapter. A certified copy of such resolution shall be filed in the office of the Commissioner, and also recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such bank or bank and trust company is located. The business of such savings department shall be kept entirely separate and distinct from the general business of such bank or bank and trust company, and all moneys received as such savings deposits and the funds and securities in which the same may be invested shall be kept at all times segregated from and unmingled with the other moneys and funds of the bank or bank and trust company. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S., p. 406.]

Art. 431. [442] Rules and regulations.—The board of directors, at any regular meeting of the stockholders, may adopt reasonable rules and regulations for the control of such savings department, to become effective when approved by the Commissioner. [Id.]

Art. 432. [435] Reserve deposits.—There shall be kept on hand at all times not less than fifteen (15%) per cent. of the whole amount of such deposits in such savings departments, two-thirds of which shall be kept with reserve agents designated and approved for such purposes by the Commissioner, and one-third of which shall be kept in actual cash in such savings departments, or the same, or any part thereof, may be invested in United States bonds or other direct obligations of United States Government. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S., p. 406; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 252, ch. 94, § 1.]

Art. 433. [437] Depositors' prior lien.—In case of the insolvency or liquidation of any such State bank or bank and trust company, its savings depositors shall have an exclusive prior lien upon all the assets, including cash of such savings department, and after such depositors have been paid in full, the remainder shall be applied to the payment of claims of general creditors. [Id.]

Art. 434. [439] Payment of interest.—The directors of any such State bank or bank and trust company may provide that such rate of interest shall be paid on the savings deposits as it may see fit, payable at such periods and upon such terms and conditions as may be reasonable. If the earnings of such savings department are insufficient to pay any interest due upon any savings deposits, such interest or the deficiency therein, shall be paid by the bank or bank and trust company out of its general funds. [Id.]

Art. 435. [440] Accumulated earnings.—At the end of any period for which such bank or bank and trust company may lawfully declare a dividend upon its stock, it shall be proper to transfer to the general fund of such bank or bank and trust company all accumulated earnings of said savings department after the payment or credit of all interest due on the accrued savings deposits and the legitimate expenses of such department have been provided for. [Id.]

Art. 436. [438] Statement of assets, etc.—The president of each State bank or bank and trust company maintaining a savings department, shall file with the Commissioner, not less than ten days after the first day of each calendar month, a statement of the assets and liabilities of such savings department, upon a form to be prescribed by the Commissioner. It shall be unlawful for any officer of such bank or bank and trust company to receive or assent to the receiving of any savings deposits when the last preceding monthly statement as herein provided for is not conspicuously posted in the office where such business is transacted. [Id.]

pending against it involving its said securities. Any action against the principal or securities of any bond, or other guaranty of indemnity, shall be brought within one year from the date of the expiration of such bond or other guaranty of indemnity; and not thereafter.

"And provided further, that the repeal of any statute or any portion thereof by this Act shall not affect or impair any act done, or right vested or accrued, or any proceeding, suit or prosecution commenced before or after this act shall take effect, to enforce rights vested or accrued prior to the passage of this act; and provided further, that no offense committed, and no liability, penalty or forfeiture, either civil or criminal, incurred prior to the time this Act takes effect shall be discharged or affected hereby; and provided further, that the statutes hereby repealed shall remain in full force and effect for the purpose of liquidating all failed banks in the hands of the Banking Commissioner of Texas at the time this Act shall take effect; and provided further, that the passage of this Act shall not affect the liability of state banks for assessments to the Guaranty Fund as such liability existed at the time this Act takes effect; nor shall any state bank be permitted to withdraw its interest in the Guaranty Fund until all lawful demands against such interest existing at the time this Act takes effect have been fully satisfied and discharged."

Art. 438. [515] False advertising.—All banks or bank and trust companies provided for in this chapter are authorized and empowered to use any truthful method of advertising, and in their advertisement to make any truthful statements as to the Guaranty Fund System or the Bond Security System of the State Banks of Texas, but if any State bank or bank and trust company shall advertise any untruthful statement as to either of said systems, the Banking Commissioner is hereby empowered to demand that said bank or bank and trust company immediately discontinue such untruthful advertising. The Commissioner shall be empowered to enforce said demand by removing any officer of such bank or bank and trust company who is found to be responsible for such untruthful advertising. [Acts 1923, p. 92.]

Art. 439. [446-7] State Banking Board.—The State Banking Board shall consist of the Attorney General, the Banking Commissioner and State Treasurer. Said Board shall have the power of regulation, control and supervision of all State Banking Corporations and Bank and Trust Companies, in conformity to law, and shall adopt all necessary rules and regulations in harmony with the law affecting the regulation of the same. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1909, p. 406; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 18, ch. 12, § 1a.]

GUARANTY FUND PLAN

Arts. 441-449. [Repealed by Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 18, ch. 12, § 1.]

Art. 450. [484-485] Voluntary surrender.—Any incorporated bank or bank and trust company doing business in this State under the provisions of this title may place its affairs and assets under the control of the Commissioner by posting a notice on its front door as follows: "This institution is in the hands of the Banking Commissioner of Texas." The posting of this notice or of any notice by the Commissioner that he has taken possession of any banking institution shall be sufficient to place all its assets and property, of whatever nature, in the possession of the Commissioner, and shall operate as a bar to any attachment proceedings whatever. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1909, p. 406.]

Art. 451. [454] Notice of insolvency.—After the Commissioner has taken possession of an insolvent bank or bank and trust company, he shall give notice thereof to each bank, bank and trust company, corporation and individual holding or in possession of any assets of such insolvent bank or bank and trust company, and no lien or charge for any payment, advance or clearance thereafter made, or liability thereafter incurred shall exist in favor of any person, firm or corporation against any of the assets of such bank. [Id.]

Art. 452. [455] May resume business.—Such bank may, with the consent of the State Banking Board, resume business upon such condition as may be approved by the Board. Such consent shall be evidenced by a written statement from the Commissioner. [Id.]

Art. 453. [456] Powers of Commissioner.—The Commissioner is authorized to collect moneys, claims and debts due to such insolvent bank and to perform such other acts as are necessary to conserve its assets and business, and to liquidate the affairs of such insolvent bank. [Id.]

Art. 454. [458] May sell property.—Upon the order of the district court of the county in which such bank was located, if in session, or the judge thereof if in vacation, the Commissioner may sell or compound all bad or doubtful debts, and may sell the real or personal property of such State bank on such terms as the court shall direct. [Id.]

Art. 455. [459] Liability of stockholders.—The Commissioner may, if necessary to pay the debts of such bank, enforce the individual liability of the stockholders. Suits to enforce such liability may be brought against the stockholders either in the county of the bank's domicile or in the county of the defendant's residence. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1909, p. 406; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 292, ch. 205, § 1.]

Art. 456. [463] Notice to creditors.—The Commissioner shall cause weekly notice to be given in one or more newspapers for three consecutive months, calling on all persons who may have claims against such bank to present the same to the Commissioner and make legal proof thereof at a designated place within ninety days after the date of the first insertion of such notice. The notice shall, in larger type than that in which the body of the notice is printed, specifically state that no claim of guaranteed depositors presented after such time shall be entitled to payment in whole or in part out of the Depositors' Guaranty Fund. The Commissioner shall mail a similar notice to all persons whose names appear as creditors upon the books of the bank. Provided, however, that the Commissioner shall have the discretion to approve any claim against insolvent banks and bank trust companies filed by depositors as claims against the Depositors' Guaranty Fund after the expiration of the time herein provided for the filing of such claim, provided such claim be filed before the declaring of the first dividend to creditors of such bank or bank and trust company; and provided further that claimant shows to the satisfaction of the Banking Commissioner that he did not receive the notice herein provided for or a reasonable excuse for not having filed his claim within the time prescribed by this article. (Acts 1909 [2nd Called Sess.] p. 406, § 9; Acts 1917, p. 469; Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 2, ch. 2, § 1.)

Art. 457. [465] Delayed claims.—Claims presented after the expiration of the time fixed in the preceding article shall be entitled to share in the distribution only to the extent of the assets remaining in the hands of the Commissioner equitably applicable thereto. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1909, p. 406.]

Art. 458. [471] Objections to claims.—Objections to any claim not rejected by the Commissioner may be made by any party interested, by filing such objections with the Commissioner, who shall present the same to the district court, if in session, or to the judge thereof, if in vacation, at the time of the next application to declare a dividend. [Id.]

Art. 459. [464] May reject claim.—The Commissioner may in his discretion reject any doubtful claim presented for allowance. He shall serve notice of such rejection upon the claimant, either by mail or by written notice personally served. An affidavit of the service of such notice shall be filed with the Commissioner. Action upon a claim so rejected must be brought within six months after service. [Id.]

Art. 460. [466] Inventory of assets and claims.—The Commissioner shall make an inventory in duplicate of the assets of such insolvent bank, one to be filed in the office of the Commissioner, and one in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such bank was located. Upon the expiration of the time fixed for the presentation of claims, the Commissioner shall make a full and complete list of all claims presented, specifying such claims as have been rejected by him, and showing all amounts paid to guaranteed depositors out of the Depositors' Guaranty Fund. The statement shall show the amount to which said fund is entitled by reason of its subrogation to the rights of such paid guaranteed depositors, and each amount retained by him on account of rejected claims of guaranteed depositors and those in dispute. One copy shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such State bank was located and one in the office of the Commissioner. Such inventory and list of claims shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection. [Id.]

Art. 461. [468] Disposition of moneys.—Moneys collected by the Commissioners shall be, from time to time, deposited in one or more State banks, and in case of the suspension or insolvency of the depository, such deposits shall be preferred. [Id.]

Art. 462. [467] Expenses of liquidation.—Compensation of counsel, employes and assistants, and all expenses of supervision and liquidation shall be fixed by the Commissioner, subject to the approval of the district court of the county in which said bank was located, if in session, or the judge thereof if in vacation. The compensation of special liquidation agents shall be the same as is provided by law for State bank examiners, and shall, upon the certificate of the Commissioner, be paid out of the fund of such insolvent bank in the hands of the Commissioner. [Id.]

Art. 463. [469] Dividends declared.—After the expiration of the date fixed for the presentation of claims, the Commissioner may declare one or more dividends, and after the expiration of one year from the first publication of a notice to creditors, he may declare a final dividend under the direction of the district court of the county in which such bank was located, if in session, or the judge thereof if in vacation. [Id.]

Art. 464. [Repealed by Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 18, ch. 12, § 1.]

Art. 465. [480] Unclaimed deposits.—Dividends and unclaimed deposits remaining in the hands of the Commissioner for six months after the order for final distribution shall be by him deposited in some State bank to be designated by the Banking Board, to the credit of the Commissioner in his official name, in trust for the bona fide depositors and creditors of the liquidated bank. [Id.]

Art. 466. [Repealed by Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 18, ch. 12, § 1.]

Art. 467. [482] Payment of trust moneys.—The Commissioner shall pay over the moneys so held by him to the persons respectively entitled thereto upon the order of the Banking Board, which shall direct such payment to such persons upon being furnished satisfactory evidence of their right to the same. In case of doubt or conflicting claims, the Banking Board may require an order of the district court, if in session, or the judge thereof, if in vacation, authorizing and directing the payment thereof. [Id.]

Art. 468. [474] Rights of stockholders.—Whenever the Commissioner shall have paid in full each depositor and creditor of such insolvent bank whose claim shall have been duly proved and allowed, and shall have fully reimbursed the Depositors' Guaranty Fund with interest as hereinbefore provided, and shall have made provision for unclaimed and unpaid deposits or dividends, and shall have paid all the expenses of the liquidation, he shall call a meeting of the stockholders of such bank by giving notice thereof for thirty days in one or more newspapers in the county where such bank was located. At such meeting, the stockholders shall determine whether the Commissioner shall be continued as liquidator and shall wind up the affairs of the bank, or whether an agent or agents shall be elected for that purpose. In so determining, the said stockholders shall vote by ballot in person or by proxy, each share of stock entitling the holder to one vote. A majority of the stock shall be necessary to a determination. [Id.]

Art. 469. [475] Liquidation continued.—If so decided by the stockholders, the Commissioner shall complete the liquidation of the bank, and after paying the expenses thereof, shall distribute the proceeds among the stockholders in proportion to the several holdings of stock, in such manner and upon such notice as may be directed by the district court. [Id.]

Art. 471. [476] Stockholders' agent.—In case it is determined to appoint an agent or agents to liquidate, the stockholders shall thereupon select such agent or agents. Such agent or agents shall execute and file with the Commissioner such bond as shall be approved by him, conditioned for the faithful performance of all the duties of his or their trust. [Id.]

Art. 472. [477] Transfer of assets.—Upon the filing and approval of such bond, the Commissioner shall transfer and deliver to such agent or agents all the assets of such bank remaining in his hands, whereupon the Commissioner shall be discharged from any further liability to such bank and its creditors and stockholders. [Id.]

Art. 473. [478] Duties of new agent.—Such agent or agents shall convert the assets into cash, and shall account for and make distribution of the property of said bank as herein provided in the case of distribution by the Commissioner, subject to the approval of the district court. [Id.]

Art. 474. [479] Death, etc., of agent.—In case of the death, or removal of such agent or agents, or their refusal to act, the stockholders may, upon giving notice and proof of such fact to the Commissioner, select a successor in the manner hereinbefore provided. [Id.]

Article 490. [557] Foreign corporations.—No foreign corporation other than the national banks of the United States shall be permitted to do a business of banking and discount in this State. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 511.]

Art. 491. [557] Misuse of banking titles.—It shall be unlawful for any incorporated bank other than State banking corporations and national banks to advertise or put forth any sign as a bank, bank and trust company or savings bank, or in any way solicit or receive business as such or as any such, or to use as their name or part of their name, or in or upon any sign, advertising, letterhead or envelope the word "bank," "banker," "banking," "trust," "trust company," "savings bank," "savings," or any other term which may be confused with the name of corporations organized under this title. Corporations heretofore organized under the general laws of this State, and foreign corporations heretofore or hereafter authorized to do business in this State, authorized by their charters to use such name or parts of names as are hereby prohibited, may continue to use the same by using thereafter the words "without banking privileges." Any corporation violating any provision of this article shall forfeit its charter, or if a foreign corporation, its permit to do business within this State. The Attorney General shall, upon information lodged with him to that effect, bring an action against such corporation to wind up its affairs as now provided by law for insolvent corporations, and in addition thereto, any corporation or officer or agent thereof who shall offend against these provisions, shall forfeit and pay the sum of one hundred dollars per day for every day such offense shall be continued, to be sued for and recovered in the name of the State, by prosecuting attorneys of the several counties for the use of the school fund in any county in which such offense shall be committed. [Id.]

Art. 492. [558] State control.—All corporations created under this title are hereby declared to be charged with the public use, and shall be under State control and be subject to such legislation as the Legislature may enact for the government and regulation of such banking institutions in this State. The rights, privileges and powers conferred by the terms of this title to corporations taking advantage thereof or incorporating hereunder are to be held subject to the right of the Legislature to amend, alter or reform the same. Every corporation operating a banking business in Texas under a charter authorized by this State prior to the adoption of the Constitution of 1876, shall be subject to all the provisions of this title. [Id.; Acts 1923, p. 424.]

Art. 493. [529] Inspection of records.—The books and records of the proceedings of all banking corporations shall be kept open for inspection of all persons interested. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 511.]

Art. 494. [525] Directors' statement.—Within ten days from the date of any call issued by the Banking Commissioner requiring a statement of the actual condition of the affairs of any State bank, bank and trust company or savings bank at the close of business on a day prior to such call, the board of directors of such corporation shall furnish such statement sworn to before a notary public by the president and cashier or secretary and attested by three of the directors. Each such corporation which fails to make and transmit any report required in this article within ten days from the date of such call shall be subject to a penalty of not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars for each day after the expiration of said ten days, which penalty may be recovered by the Commissioner in the name of this State in a suit in Travis County against such corporation. Such penalty, when collected, shall be paid into the State Treasury for the benefit of the general school fund. [Id.; Acts 1913, p. 207.]

Art. 495. [526] Form of statement.—The statement required by the preceding article shall be in the following form, to wit:

"Official statement of the financial condition of the(here insert name of bank), at, State of Texas, at the close of business on the day of, 19..., published in the, a newspaper printed and published at, State of Texas, on the day of, 19....

Art. 496. [528] Publication of statement.—Publication of the foregoing statement shall be made by banking institutions in one or more newspapers published in the town, city or county where it is located, if there is one so published. If said town or city has a population exceeding ten thousand inhabitants, then such publication must be in a daily newspaper, if such is published, otherwise it shall be made in a weekly newspaper. If such town or city has a population of ten thousand inhabitants or less, then said publication may be in either a daily or weekly newspaper published in said city or town as aforesaid. In all cases, a copy of the said statement shall be posted in the banking house, accessible to all. [Id.]

Art. 497. [573] Change of statements.—The Banking Commissioner shall have the power, from time to time, to require statements and to make such changes in the form of the statements required of each banking corporation as he may deem advisable, and to require any additional statements which he may deem necessary as to average daily deposits, capital stock, surplus, character of deposits and such other matters as he may deem necessary to the enforcement of this title. Every such corporation which fails to make and transmit any statement covered in this Article, within ten days from the date of demand therefor, shall be subject to a penalty of not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars for each day after the expiration of said ten days, which penalty may be recovered by the Commissioner in the name of the State, in a suit in Travis County, against such corporation. Such penalty, when collected, shall be paid into the State Treasury for the benefit of the general school fund. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S., p. 423; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 293, ch. 207, §§ 1, 2.]

Art. 498. [574] Bonds of officers.—All active or salaried officers and employes of State banking institutions whose duties permit or require the handling of any of the funds of the bank shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, give a good and sufficient bond in such sum as may be fixed by the board of directors of any such institution, conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties and such pecuniary loss as the bank may sustain for money or other valuable securities embezzled, wrongfully abstracted or willfully misapplied by any such officer or employe in the course of his employment as such or in the course of his employment in any other position in such bank, whether he be assigned, appointed, elected, re-elected or temporarily assigned to said position. The amount of such bond and the solvency of the sureties shall be subject to the approval of the Banking Commissioner, and such bonds shall be upon forms prepared by the Commissioner. All such bonds shall immediately after their execution be forwarded to the Commissioner and be filed by him as an archive in his office and a certified copy thereof shall be returned to the board of directors of such bank and be kept in their custody. The board of directors may require any other bond or bonds in addition to that herein required, at their discretion. Officers of banks who do not handle bank's money or draw a salary, shall not be required to give bond. [Id.; Acts 1917, p. 469.]

Art. 499. [530] Authority of officers.—The directors of any banking corporation organized under this title may appoint and remove any officer or other employe at pleasure. No officer or employe shall have power to endorse, sell, pledge or hypothecate any note, bond or other obligation received by such corporation for money loaned, until such power and authority shall have been given such officer or employe by the board of directors in a regular meeting of the board, a written record of which proceeding shall have first been made upon the minutes of the corporation; and all such acts done by any officer or employe without such authority shall be null and void. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 502; Acts 1909, 2nd C. S. p. 425.]

Art. 500. [531] Reduction of capital stock.—Any banking corporation doing business in this State may at any time reduce its capital stock to any sum not less than the minimum sum provided by law. No reduction of such stock shall be made except upon the written consent of the owners of not less than two-thirds of the stock of such corporation. Notice of the intention to reduce the capital stock shall be published for thirty days in some daily newspaper in the city or county where such bank is located, or in a weekly paper for four insertions before the time when such reduction shall be effected, and the last insertion of such notice shall be at least ten days before the date of the reduction. A statement of such reduction of the capital stock duly acknowledged by the officers of the corporation shall be recorded and filed in the same manner as provided for the original articles of agreement. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 508.]

Art. 501. [532] Increase of capital stock.—Any banking corporation doing business in this State may at any time increase its capital stock to any amount not exceeding the maximum provided by law, with the consent of the persons holding a majority of the stock of such corporation which shall be obtained at a meeting of the shareholders called for that purpose. Upon the presentation of a petition signed by the owners of a majority of the stock, asking for such increase, the board of directors shall call a meeting for the purpose of voting on such proposition, at least sixty days notice of which meeting shall be published by eight consecutive insertions in some daily or weekly newspaper printed and published in the city or town in which the corporation is located, the last insertion to be not less than five days before the day fixed for such meeting, giving the time and place of said meeting, and the amount of the proposed increase. If upon a canvass of the votes at such meeting it is ascertained that the proposition has carried, it shall be so declared by the chairman of the meeting, and the proceedings entered of record. When the full amount of said proposed increase has been bona fide subscribed and paid in cash to the board of directors of said corporation, then a statement of the proceedings, showing a compliance with the provisions of this chapter, and the increase of capital actually subscribed and paid up, shall be made out, signed and verified by the affidavit of the president and countersigned by the secretary, and such statement shall be acknowledged by the president and recorded and filed as provided for the original articles of agreement. [Id.]

Art. 502. Change in organization.—If any bank or bank and trust company organized under the general laws of this State wishes to convert such corporation into any other system of banking, its officers shall give notice of said change by publishing its intention to make the same by four insertions in some daily or weekly newspaper published in the town where it is domiciled or adjacent thereto, for at least thirty days before making such change. Such notice shall state under what system of banking said corporation shall be operated after its conversion. Said corporation shall notify the Banking Commissioner of such proposed change under the seal of said bank at least thirty days before said conversion shall be consummated. Such conversion shall be effected by the written consent or a vote of the owners of not less than a majority of the stock of such corporation, and a statement of such conversion duly acknowledged by the officers of the corporation shall be recorded and filed in the same manner as provided for the original articles of agreement. No fund or deposits of any kind that shall have been deposited in a State bank or bank and trust company, shall be protected by the Guaranty Fund Law or Bond Security Law of this State, after such corporation shall have converted to some other system of banking. [Acts 1923, p. 322.]

Art. 503. Power to vote.—In the elections of directors, and in deciding all questions at meetings of shareholders of any Texas banking institution, each shareholder shall be entitled to one vote on each share of stock held by him. Shareholders may vote by proxy duly authorized in writing. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 502.]

Art. 504. [537] Executor, etc., may vote.—Every executor, administrator, guardian or trustee shall represent the shares of stock in his hands at all meetings of the corporation, and may vote as a shareholder; and every person who shall pledge his stock in such corporation, may nevertheless represent the same at all such meetings and may vote accordingly as a shareholder.

Art. 505. [536] Certificate of approval.—Upon filing in the office of the Commissioner a statement of the proceedings duly executed by the officers of such corporation which has increased or diminished its capital stock or converted its organization as provided in the preceding articles, the Commissioner shall issue a certificate that such corporation has complied with the law provided in such cases, and the amount to which said capital stock is increased or decreased, or the system of banking to which such corporation has converted; and thereupon the capital stock of such corporation shall be increased or diminished to the amount specified in such certificate, or the system of banking converted. Such certificate shall be taken in all courts of this State as evidence of such increase or decrease of stock or conversion of system. [Id.]

Art. 506. [564] Ratio of capital to deposits.—Each State Bank or State Bank and Trust Company organized and operating under the laws of this State shall annually on the first day of January file with the Banking Commissioner a statement of the total average daily deposits of every kind of such Bank or Bank and Trust Company for the preceding year, sworn to by the President and Cashier of such Bank or Bank and Trust Company. If from such statement it shall appear that the average daily deposits of any Bank or Bank and Trust Company having a capital stock not exceeding $20,000.00 shall have exceeded five times the capital stock and surplus of such Bank, or the average daily deposits of any such Bank or Bank and Trust Company having a capital stock exceeding $20,000.00 and not exceeding $30,000.00 exceeds six times such capital and surplus, and where any such Bank or Bank and Trust Company with a capital stock exceeding $30,000.00 and not exceeding $50,000.00 has average daily deposits exceeding seven times said capital and surplus; and any such Bank or Bank and Trust Company having a capital stock exceeding $50,000.00 and not exceeding $75,000.00 shall show average daily deposits exceeding eight times such capital stock and surplus, and any such Bank or Bank and Trust Company having a capital stock in excess of $75,000.00 and not exceeding $100,000.00 shall show average daily deposits exceeding nine times the capital stock and surplus thereof, and any such Bank or Bank and Trust Company having a capital stock of $100,000.00 or more shall show average daily deposits in excess of ten times such capital and surplus, then in such event the Banking Commissioner may in his discretion, if he deems it necessary for the protection of the depositors require such Bank or Bank and Trust Company to increase its capital stock by twenty-five per cent of the then existing capital stock of said Bank or Bank and Trust Company; and for the purpose of maintaining the ratio between capital stock and surplus and deposits herein fixed, the Commissioner may, in his discretion, require a further increase of such capital stock in an amount not exceeding twenty-five per cent, if deemed necessary for the protection of the depositors; and upon receipt by any such Bank or Bank and Trust Company of an order under the hand and seal of office of the Banking Commissioner, the directors thereof shall within ninety days after said receipt of such order cause such increase to be made in the capital stock as hereinbefore set out, and if the same is not done within such time it shall be unlawful for such Bank or Bank and Trust Company to thereafter receive any deposits at any time when its total deposits of all kinds shall in the aggregate amount to more than the ratio herein placed upon said deposits, and in the event any such Bank or Bank and Trust Company does receive deposits in violation of this provision, the directors thereof shall become and be personally liable to the depositors owning and holding such deposits. [Acts 1921, p. 114; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 204, ch. 136, § 1.]

Art. 507. [548] Regulation of dividends.—No bank or bank and trust company or any member of either, during the time it shall continue its operations, shall withdraw or permit to be withdrawn any part of its capital, either in the form of dividends or otherwise. If losses have at any time been sustained by any such bank equal to or exceeding its undivided profits then on hand, no dividend shall be made; and no dividend shall ever be made by such bank while it continues its operations, to an amount greater than its net profits then on hand, deducting therefrom its losses and bad debts. All debts due to any State bank, on which interest is past due and unpaid for a period of six months, unless the same are well secured or in process of collection, shall be considered bad debts within the meaning of this article. The board of directors of any such bank may declare a semi-annual or quarterly dividend if such dividend has been earned, if the corporation be fully solvent without such earnings proposed to be divided. But they shall not declare a dividend at any time when the capital of such corporation shall have become impaired to such an extent that it is not worth in good resources the full amount paid in after the payment of all liabilities. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 507; Acts 1909, 2nd C. S. p. 425.]

Art. 508. [548-549] Liability of officers.—Any officer or director of such corporation who shall assent to declaring and paying dividends when the capital stock is so impaired shall be personally liable to the creditors of the corporation to the amount of his proportion of the proposed dividend, if any loss occur by reason of the payment of such dividend. If any of the directors shall object to the declaring of such dividend, or to the payment of the same, and shall at any time before the time fixed for the payment thereof, file a certificate of his objections in writing with the clerk of the corporation and with the county clerk of the county, he shall be exempt from the said liability. [Id.]

Art. 509. [550] Surplus fund.—When the board of directors shall declare a dividend, they shall first set apart to the surplus fund ten per cent of the net profits of the bank for the period covered by the dividend until the same shall amount to fifty per cent of its capital stock; and said surplus shall not be diminished except for the payment of losses which may occur. If there are undivided profits, these shall first be used in payment of such losses. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 511.]

Art. 510. [546] Powers limited.—No corporation organized under this title shall employ its moneys, directly or indirectly, in trade or commerce, by buying and selling ordinary goods, chattels, wares and merchandise, or by owning or operating industrial plants, but may sell all kinds of property which may come into its possession as security for loans, or in the ordinary collection of debts. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S. p. 425.]

Art. 511. [538] Investments.—The directors of banks and bank and trust companies created under this title shall have power to invest the moneys placed in their charge in loans secured by real estate or other sufficient collateral, in public bonds of the United States or of this State, or in the bonds of any incorporated city, county or independent school district in this State. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 508.]

Art. 512. Domicile and fixtures.—No State bank or bank and trust company shall invest more than fifty per cent of its capital stock and permanent surplus in its banking house, nor more than fifteen per cent of its capital stock and permanent surplus in the furniture and fixtures to be used in its said banking house, unless said corporation shall have first applied to the State Banking Board and received written permission to make a larger investment than is allowed hereunder, which written permission shall be entered upon the minutes of a regular meeting of said banking corporation. [Acts 1923, p. 322.]

Art. 512a. Charging off depreciation.—Hereafter all State Banks must charge off for depreciation each year ten per cent of the cost of furniture and fixtures until fifty per cent of the original cost thereof shall have been charged off; provided that the Banking Commissioner may in his discretion permit a lesser percentage to be charged off in any one year for good cause shown. No State Bank shall hereafter carry its bank building as an asset at an amount or value greater than its reasonable market value; which shall be shown in its annual report to the Banking Commissioner. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 292, ch. 206, § 1.]

Art. 513. [565-567] Interest in other bank.—Any State bank or bank and trust company which purchases the assets of any other bank shall, before the purchase of the assets of such other bank, increase its capital to such an amount that the same will have the ratio to the total deposits of the bank, the assets of which it has purchased, as defined and required in Article 506. It shall be unlawful for any State bank or bank and trust company to own more than ten per cent of the capital stock of any other banking corporation, or to make a loan secured by the stock of any other banking corporation, if by the making of such loan the total stock of such other banking corporation held by it as collateral will exceed, in the aggregate, ten per cent of the capital stock of such other banking corporation, unless the ownership or the taking of a greater percentage of such capital stock as collateral shall be necessary to prevent loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith; and any such excess so taken as collateral or owned by such bank shall not be held as collateral nor owned by it for a longer period than six months. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S. 423.]

Art. 514. [547] Real estate.—Banks and bank and trust companies created under this title shall own only such real estate as may be required for the transaction of their business, and such as they may acquire in the enforcement and collection of debts or liabilities due to them, which lands so acquired by any such corporation shall be alienated by it within five years after its acquisition to some one not interested, directly or indirectly, in said company. [Id.]

Art. 515. Limitation of indebtedness.—No State banking corporation shall at any time be indebted or in any way liable to an amount exceeding the amount of its capital stock at such time actually paid in and remaining undiminished by losses or otherwise, except on account of demands of the nature following:

1. Moneys deposited with or collected by it;
2. Bills of exchange or drafts drawn against money actually on deposit to the credit of the corporation or due thereto;
3. Liabilities to the stockholders of the association for dividends and reserve profits;
4. Liabilities incurred under the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act;
5. Liabilities incurred under the provisions of the Federal "Agricultural Credits Act of 1923."
6. This article shall not apply to any guaranty executed by any bank and trust company whose demand deposits are not in excess of its interest bearing deposits, provided such company is not a member of a Federal Reserve bank.

7. Upon a written permit obtained from the Commissioner, any bank may borrow a sum not in excess of its unimpaired surplus in addition to its capital stock. [Id.; Acts 1923, 2nd C. S. p. 86.]

Art. 516. Agricultural obligations.—State banks and bank and trust companies, with the permission and under the direction and control of the Banking Commissioner, may borrow or make discounts individually or collectively, or enter into any agreement or association for the purpose of obtaining funds to finance the movement of agricultural and farm products only; and when so doing, paper endorsed by them for such purpose shall not be considered as within the limitation prescribed in the preceding article. [Acts 1914, 3rd C. S. p. 46.]

Art. 517. [570] Pledge of securities.—It shall be unlawful for any bank or bank and trust company to hypothecate or pledge as collateral its securities to an amount greater than fifty per cent in excess of the amount borrowed upon bills payable, certificates of deposit or otherwise, or for any banking corporation to issue and execute any notes, bills or other evidence of indebtedness secured, or to be secured by the pledge or hypothecation of any of its securities, which shall not contain a provision that in the event such banking corporation shall for any cause have its property and business taken possession of by the Commissioner at any time before such pledge or hypothecation shall have been actually foreclosed, a grace of thirty days after date of such taking possession shall be allowed in which such bank or the Commissioner shall be permitted to redeem such securities so hypothecated or pledged by the payment of the amount due as principal and interest on such indebtedness. No attorney's fee shall be collectible on notes or other evidence of indebtedness executed by a State Bank in the hands of the Commissioner for liquidation, where such notes or other evidence of debt are placed with an attorney for collection within thirty days after such bank is taken over by the Commissioner for liquidation. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S. p. 423; Id.] [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 200, ch. 130, § 1.]

Art. 518. [570] Reserve bank excepted.—Banking corporations incorporated under the laws of this State, upon becoming members of a Federal Reserve Bank, shall not be required to insert the thirty days grace clause in their notes, bills or certificates of deposit made to a Federal Reserve bank, should a Federal Reserve bank decline to permit the insertion thereof. Collateral in excess of fifty per cent of the amount borrowed thereon may be hypothecated or pledged to secure money borrowed from a Federal Reserve bank, should it so require, in which case it shall be the duty of the officers of such member bank to immediately notify the Commissioner, giving the amount of money borrowed, and amount of securities hypothecated or pledged to secure same. [Id.]

Art. 519. Requirements of Reserve banks.—All banks or bank and trust companies incorporated under the laws of Texas shall have authority to become members of Federal Reserve Banks under such terms and limitations as may be prescribed by the laws of the United States and such rules and regulations relative thereto as may be promulgated by lawful authority. Such member bank shall be required to conform to the provisions of law imposed upon national banks respecting the limitations of liability which may be incurred by any person, firm or corporation to such banks, the prohibition against making purchases of or loans on stock of such bank, and the withdrawal or impairment of capital, and the payment of unearned dividends. [Acts 1914, 3rd C. S. p. 46.]

Art. 520. Powers of Reserve bank.—Such member bank shall have the right to discount to a Federal Reserve bank, notes, drafts, and bills of exchange arising out of actual commercial transactions and to endorse the same with a waiver of demand, notice and protest and to do any other thing necessary under the Federal Reserve Act or rules and regulations relative thereto promulgated by lawful authority, in order to obtain all the benefits and privileges of membership in a Federal Reserve bank. The lien and rights obtained by a Federal Reserve bank upon the discount to it of any such notes, drafts and bills of exchange shall be a first and preference lien. [Id.]

Art. 521. Cash reserve.—All banks and bank and trust companies chartered by the laws of this State which become members of a Federal Reserve bank under the Federal Reserve Act shall as to their reserves, be governed as follows:

1. A bank not in a reserve or central reserve city shall hold and maintain reserves equal to twelve per cent of the aggregate amount of its demand deposits and five per cent of its time deposits, as follows:

In its vaults for a period of thirty-six months after the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States has officially announced the establishment of a Federal Reserve bank in the district of which is located the subscribing bank, five-twelfths thereof and permanently thereafter four-twelfths;

In the Federal Reserve bank of its district for a period of twelve months after said date, two-twelfths, and for each succeeding six months an additional one-twelfth until five-twelfths have been so deposited, which shall be the amount permanently required;

For a period of thirty-six months after said date,

the balance of the reserve may be held in its own vaults or in the Federal Reserve bank or in national banks in reserve or central reserve cities.

After said thirty-six months period, said reserve other than those hereinbefore required to be held in the vaults of the member bank and in the Federal Reserve bank, shall be held in the vaults of the member bank or in the Federal Reserve bank, or in both, at the option of the member bank.

2. A bank in a reserve city shall hold and maintain reserves equal to fifteen per cent of the aggregate amount of its demand deposits, and five per cent of its time deposits, as follows:

In its vaults for a period of thirty-six months after the date of the establishment of the Federal Reserve bank of which any bank chartered under the laws of this State may become a member, six-fifteenths thereof and permanently thereafter five-fifteenths;

In the Federal Reserve bank of its district for a period of twelve months after the date aforesaid, at least three-fifteenths, and for each succeeding six months an additional one-fifteenth until six-fifteenths have been so deposited, which shall be the amount permanently required;

For a period of thirty-six months after said date, the balance of the reserve may be held in its own vaults, or in the Federal Reserve bank, or in national banks in reserve or central reserve cities;

After said thirty-six months period all of said reserves, except those hereinbefore required to be held permanently in the vaults of the member bank and in the Federal Reserve bank, shall be held in its vaults or in the Federal Reserve bank, or in both, at the option of the member bank.

3. Notwithstanding the limitations in the two preceding paragraphs, State banks becoming members of a Federal Reserve bank shall have all the rights permitted them under the Federal Reserve Act as to reserve deposits with State banks and bank and trust companies.

4. The kind of money which may be held as reserve by such member banks shall be the same as that required of national banks under the laws of the United States. [Id.]

Art. 522. [377] Reserve of non-members.—Every banking corporation chartered under the laws of this State with a capital stock of less than twenty-five thousand dollars, and which does not become a member of a Federal Reserve bank, shall at all times have an amount of cash on hand and cash due from other banks equal to at least twenty per cent of the aggregate amount of its demand deposits; and all banks not located in a Central Reserve City, having a capital stock of twenty-five thousand dollars or more, and which do not become members of a Federal Reserve bank, shall at all times have an amount of cash on hand and cash due from other banks equal to at least fifteen per cent of the aggregate amount of its demand deposits. Such reserve fund, or any part thereof, together with the current receipts, may be kept on hand or on deposit payable on demand in any bank or banking association of this State, or any bank, banking association or trust company regularly chartered and operating under the laws of any State or under the laws of the United States approved by the Banking Commissioner, having a paid up capital stock of fifty thousand dollars or more; but the deposit in any one bank or trust company shall not exceed twenty per cent of the total deposits, capital and surplus of the bank making the deposit. Whenever the reserve herein required shall fall below the amount specified for its class, such bank shall not make any new loans or discounts until it shall by collection restore its lawful reserve. [Acts 1907, p. 60; Id.; Acts 3rd C. S. 1920, p. 70.]

Art. 523. Definitions.—Demand deposits, within the meaning of this title, shall comprise all deposits payable within thirty days; and time deposits shall comprise all deposits payable after thirty days, and all savings accounts and certificates of deposit which are subject to not less than thirty days notice before payment; and a reserve or central reserve city is one defined by the laws of the United States or designated by the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States. [Acts 1914, 3rd C. S., p. 46.]

Art. 524. [569] Loans on own stock.—No State bank or bank and trust company shall make any loan or discount on the security of the shares of its own capital stock, nor be the purchaser or holder of any such shares, unless such security or purchase shall be necessary to prevent a loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith; and stock so purchased or acquired shall, within six months after its purchase, be sold or disposed of at public or private sale; or, in default thereof, such bank shall be considered to have its capital stock impaired to the extent of the par value of such shares. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S., p. 423.]

Art. 525. [568] Loans on cotton.—All State banks and bank and trust companies shall be permitted to loan upon or discount commercial or business paper secured by lien upon cotton and cotton seed products to the same extent and upon the same conditions as is now or may be provided for national banks under the laws of the United States. [Id.]

Art. 526. Loans to officers.—No director of a bank in this State shall be permitted to borrow any of the money of the bank of which he is a director, in excess of ten per cent of the capital and surplus, without the consent of a majority of the directors of the bank (other than the borrower) first having been obtained at a regular meeting of the board; said consent to be made a matter of record before the loan is made. No officer, whether a director or not, shall be indebted to such bank in any sum whatever without the consent of the board, obtained and recorded in like manner. [Acts 1905, p. 491.]

Art. 527. [378] Approval of loans.—The board of directors of each bank organized under this title shall meet at least once per month and pass upon the business of the bank back to their previous meeting, and shall keep a written record of its approval or disapproval of each loan. At each monthly meeting the records shall show the aggregate of the then existing indebtedness and liability of each of the directors and officers of the bank. [Id.]

Art. 528. [378] Bills payable and discounts.—No bank organized under the laws of this State shall ever make any bills payable, and no bills shall ever be rediscounted by such bank, except with the consent of the board of directors, said consent to be a matter of record. [Id.]

Art. 529. [571] Loans to Commissioner.—No State bank or bank and trust company shall directly or indirectly make a loan to the Banking Commissioner or any other person interested in or employed by the Banking Department, and a violation of this article shall render such corporation liable to a penalty of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars to be recovered for the benefit of this State. [Acts 1909, 2nd C. S., p. 428.]

Art. 530. Non-interest certificates.—No State bank or bank and trust company organized and doing business under the provisions of this title shall be allowed to issue any non-interest bearing certificates of deposit. Such certificates, if issued, shall not be protected under Chapter 7 of this title. [Acts 1923, p. 322.]

Art. 531. [551] Voluntary assignments.—It shall be unlawful for any banking corporation organized under this title to make a voluntary general assignment. [Acts 1905, S. S., p. 511.]

Art. 532. [551] Transfers prohibited.—All transfers of the notes, bonds, bills of exchange or other evidence of debt owing to any bank or bank and trust company organized under this title, or of deposits to its credit, all assignments of mortgages, securities on real estate or of judgment or decrees in its favor, all deposits of money, bullion or other valuable thing for its use, or for the use of any of its shareholders or creditors, and all payments of money to it made after the commission of an act of insolvency, or in contemplation thereof, made with a view to prevent the application of its assets in the manner prescribed by this title, or with a view to the preference of one creditor to another, shall be null and void. No attachment, injunction or execution shall be issued against such bank or its property before final judgment in any suit, action or proceedings in any court. [Id.]

Art. 533. [554] Debts created in insolvency.—No president, director, manager, cashier or other officer or agent of any bank or banking institution organized and doing business under the provisions of this article shall receive or assent to the reception of deposits, or create or assent to the creation of any debts by such bank after he shall have knowledge of the fact that it is insolvent or in failing circumstances. Every person violating the provisions of this article shall be individually responsible for such deposits so received and all debts so contracted. Any director who may have paid more than his share of the liabilities mentioned in this article may have the proper remedy at law against such other persons as shall not have paid their full share of such liabilities. In case of the insolvency of one or more of such officers, agents or managers, the same shall be paid for the time being by those who are solvent, in equal proportion. [Id.]

Art. 534. [555] Recovery of deposits.—In all suits brought for the recovery of the amount of any deposits received or debts created, all officers, agents or managers of any bank, savings bank or bank and trust company charged with having so assented to the reception of such deposits or the creation of such debt, may be joined as defendants or proceeded against severally; and the fact that such banking institution was so insolvent or in failing circumstances at the time of the reception of the deposit charged to have been received, or the creation of the debt charged to have been created, shall be prima facie evidence of such knowledge and assent to such deposit, or creation of such debt on the part of such officer, agent or manager so charged therewith. [Id.]

Art. 535. [552] Stockholder's liability.—If default shall be made in the payment of any debt or liability contracted by any bank, savings bank or bank and trust company, each stockholder of such corporation, as long as he owns shares therein, and for twelve months after the date of a transfer thereof, shall be personally liable for all debts of such corporation existing at the date of such transfer, or at the date of such default, to an amount double the par value of such shares. [Id.]

Art. 536. [553] Director's liability.—For any losses of money which the capital stock shall not be sufficient to satisfy, the directors of such corporations shall be responsible in the same manner and to the same extent that directors are now responsible in law or equity. [Id.]

Art. 537. [556] Liability of executor, etc.—No person holding stock in such corporation as executor, administrator, guardian or trustee, and no person holding such stock as collateral security, shall be personally subject to any liability as stockholder in such corporation; but the person pledging such stock shall be considered as holding the same, and shall be liable as stockholder accordingly. The estate and funds in the hands of such executors, administrators, guardians or trustees shall be liable in like manner and to the same extent as the testator or intestate or the ward or person interested in such trust fund would have been if he had been living and competent to act and hold the same stock in his own name. [Id.]

Art. 538. [379] Branch banks.—No banking corporation organized under the laws of this State shall ever engage in business at more than one place, which shall be designated in its charter. No such corporation shall maintain a branch bank, receive deposits or pay checks except in its own banking house. County or State depositories or county depositories not located at the county seat, and ordinary clearing house transactions between banks, are not affected by this article. [Acts 1905, p. 491.]

Art. 539. [561] Solvent bank may close.—Whenever the board of directors of any solvent banking corporation organized under or subject to the provisions of this title shall deem it necessary, expedient or desirable to close the business of the corporation, they shall call a meeting of the stockholders to vote upon such proposition by giving sixty days notice thereof by publication once every week in a newspaper published in the county or city in which such corporation is located, and by mailing notices at least sixty days prior to the day fixed for such meeting, addressed to the stockholders at their usual place of business or residence. The vote upon such proposition shall be taken by ballot, and the resolution and vote thereon shall be recorded in the minutes of the board of directors. If at such meeting at least two-thirds of the shares of the corporation are voted in favor of such proposition, the board of directors shall proceed to wind up the business of such corporation as in the succeeding article provided; and a copy of such proceedings shall be certified by the president and secretary of such corporation and filed with the Banking Commissioner. [Acts 1905, S. S., p. 511.]

Art. 540. [561] Final settlement.—The board of directors shall thereupon give notice to all depositors, creditors and stockholders of the adoption of such resolution by publication thereof once a week in a daily or weekly newspaper for three months thereafter, and by a written or printed notice personally served upon or mailed to every depositor, creditor or stockholder of such corporation at his last known residence, postage fully paid. Within six months after the filing of such certificate, the corporation shall pay all sums due depositors and creditors whom they can discover and who claim the moneys due them; and upon the expiration of said six months, it shall be the duty of the corporation to make a statement from the books of said corporation, certified by the president and secretary, of the names of all depositors and creditors who have not claimed or have not received the balances to their credit or due them respectively, and to file the same with the State Treasurer and to pay the said State Treasurer all such unclaimed deposits, moneys and credits for the use and benefit of such depositors and creditors. The board of directors shall then divide the capital stock, guaranty and indemnity fund and all other assets or the proceeds thereof among the stockholders ratably; and the board of directors shall thereupon file in the office of the Banking Commissioner a certificate surrendering the corporate franchise. [Id.]

Art. 541. [558] Private banks.—It is hereby declared to be the public policy of this State that no additional private banking institution or business shall be organized or established, and it shall be unlawful for any person, association of persons, partnerships or trustees acting under any common law declaration of trust to hereafter organize or establish, begin or resume the operation of any banking institution or business within this State. It shall be the duty of private individuals or firms engaging in the banking business to use after the name under which the business is conducted, the word in parenthesis "unincorporated," and failure to do so shall subject the offender to a penalty of one hundred dollars to be collected in the manner provided in Article 491. [Acts 1905, S. S., p. 11; Acts 1923, p. 422.]

Art. 541a. Advertising.—It shall be unlawful for any person, association of persons, partnerships or any trustee or trustees acting under any common law declaration of trust, to hereafter use, advertise or put forth any sign as a bank, trust company, bank and trust company or savings bank, or to in any way solicit or receive business as such, or to use as their name or part of their name on any sign, advertising or letter head or envelope the word bank, banker, banking, banking company, trust, trust company, bank and trust company, savings bank, savings, or any other term which may or might be confused with the name of a corporation organized under the general provisions of the banking laws of this State.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art. 541b. Name.—It shall be unlawful for any such person, association of persons, partnership or any trustee or trustees acting under any common law declaration of trust to adopt or use any artificial name or business title or to use any other than the name of the person or one or more of the persons, or a member or one or more of the members of the association of persons or partnership, or a member or one or more of the members of such common law trust association, in the management, conduct or operation of any private banking institution or bank of deposit within the State of Texas; provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any person, association of persons, partnerships or trustees, or trustees acting under any common law declaration of trust, who, at the time this Act becomes effective, are actively engaged in the operation of any bank, trust company, bank and trust company or savings bank within this State, nor to any bank which may have been in successful operation in this State for twenty years and shall have suspended operation prior to the passage of this Act, but which shall resume operation within twelve months after the passage of this Act. The right to continue such business of such bank, trust company, bank and trust company or savings bank so engaged, or which shall resume business as provided in this Act, or by their heirs, legal representatives, assigns and successors, is hereby expressly recognized, confirmed and fixed.

Art. 541c. Exception.—The provisions of the private bank law shall not apply to any person, association of persons, partnerships or trustee, or trustees acting under any common law declaration of trust, who has for a period of one year next preceding the date that this Act becomes effective, and who, as such, in the course of the liquidation of any bank or trust company or bank and trust company within this State, has acquired the assets, or any part thereof, including the real estate used as its banking house or place of business and has assumed the liabilities, or a part thereof, of such liquidation bank or trust company or bank and trust company. [Acts 1925, p. 356.] [39th Leg., ch. 148, § 1.]

CHAPTER NINE

MORRIS PLAN BANKS

Art.

- 542. Term defined.
- 543. How organized.
- 544. Capital stock.
- 545. Powers.
- 546. Acts prohibited.
- 547. Borrowed money.
- 548. Provisions applicable.

Article 542. Term defined.—The term "loan and investment company" as used in this chapter means any corporation formed under the provisions of this law. [Acts 1st C. S., 1917, p. 59.]

Art. 543. How organized.—Corporations may be organized under and by virtue of this chapter in the same manner as corporations for profit under the laws of this State, except as otherwise herein provided. [Id.]

Art. 544. Capital stock.—The aggregate amount of the capital stock of a loan and investment company shall not be less than $25,000 in any city having a population of less than 50,000 inhabitants, and shall not be less than $50,000 in any city having 50,000 or more inhabitants, and shall not be less than $100,000 in any city having 150,000 inhabitants or more, according to the preceding Federal census. The capital stock of any such corporation shall be divided into shares of the par value of $100 each. No corporation organized hereunder shall create more than one class of stock. [Id.]

Art. 545. Powers.—Every loan and investment company, in addition to the powers conferred upon corporations by the general corporation law, shall have the following powers:

1. To lend money and to deduct interest therefor in advance at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, and in addition to require and receive uniform weekly or monthly installments on its certificates of indebtedness purchased by the borrower simultaneously with the said loan transaction, or otherwise, and pledged with the corporation as security for the said loan, with or without an allowance of interest on such installments.

2. To sell or negotiate bonds, notes, certificates of investment and choses in action for the payment of money at the time, either fixed or uncertain, and to receive payments therefor in installments or otherwise, with or without an allowance of interest upon such installments.

3. To charge for a loan made pursuant to this article one dollar for each fifty dollars or fraction thereof loaned, for expenses, including any examination or investigation of the character and circumstances of the borrower, co-maker or surety, and the drawing and taking acknowledgment of necessary papers or other expenses incurred in making the loan; no charge shall be collected unless a loan shall have been made as a result of such examination or investigation. [Id.]

Art. 546. Acts prohibited.—No loan and investment company shall:

1. Hold at any one time the obligation of any one person, firm or corporation for more than two and one-half per cent of the amount of capital and surplus of such loan and investment company.

2. Make any loan under the provisions of this law for a longer period than one year from the date thereof.

3. Deposit any of its funds with any bank or trust company, unless such bank or trust company has been designated as such depository by a vote of the majority of the directors or of the executive committee, exclusive of any director who is an officer, director or trustee of the depository so designated. [Id.]

Art. 547. Borrowed money.—Issuing certificates of investment and the like in the transaction of the business of corporations organized hereunder, shall not be construed to be borrowed money. [Id.]

Art. 548. Provisions applicable.—The provisions of this title relating to the examination, supervision and liquidation of State banks by the Banking Commissioner, and statement of assets and liabilities required of such banks, so far as applicable, shall apply to corporations organized under this law. The provisions of law relating to bond investment companies shall not apply to corporations organized hereunder. [Id.]

TITLE 17

BEES

Art.

- 549. State Entomologist.
- 550. Power and authority.
- 551. Certificate of inspection.
- 552. Common carrier accepting shipment.
- 553. Seizure.
- 554. May enter premises.
- 555. Protective quarantine.
- 556. Restrictive quarantine.
- 557. Sale and shipment.
- 558. Legal remedies.
- 559. Bulletins.
- 560. Duty to report diseased bees.
- 561. Transfer of bees.
- 562. Inspection and eradication.
- 563. Cost of destruction.
- 564. No bond required.
- 565. Experimental apiary.

Article 549. State Entomologist.—The entomologist of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, shall be the State Entomologist of this State, and as such it shall be his duty to enforce the provisions of this title. As State Entomologist he shall receive no fees or remuneration other than his regular salary as Entomologist of such Experiment Station, provided, that he may be reimbursed for the necessary expenses incurred in discharge of his duties as State Entomologist. He shall employ such assistants and inspectors as may be necessary, subject to the approval of the Director and Governing Board of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. He shall make an annual report to such Director and Governing Board giving a detailed account of all funds received and disbursed, and for what purpose, as well as a full report upon all prosecutions, etc., made under the provisions of this title. [Acts 1913, p. 96.]

Art. 550. Power and authority.—The State Entomologist shall have power to deal with all contagious or infectious diseases of honey bees, which in his opinion, may be prevented, controlled or eradicated, and to do and perform such acts as, in his judgment, may be necessary to control, eradicate or prevent the introduction, spread or dissemination of any and all contagious diseases of honey bees as far as may be possible, and to make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as may be necessary to enforce this law. The State Entomologist shall have authority to prohibit the shipment or bringing into this State of any honey bees, honey, honey-comb, or articles or things capable of transmitting contagious or infectious diseases of bees from any State, territory or foreign country except under such rules and regulations as may be adopted and promulgated by said State Entomologist. [Id.]

Art. 551. Certificate of inspection.—All honey bees shipped or moved into this State shall be accompanied by a certificate of inspection signed by the State Entomologist or State Foul Brood Inspector of the State or county from which shipped. Such certificate shall certify to the apparent freedom of the bees, and their combs and hives, from contagious and infectious diseases and must be based upon an actual inspection of the bees themselves within a period of sixty days preceding date of shipment. The shipper of such bees is hereby required to file with the State Entomologist at College Station, at least ten days in advance of such shipment, a certified copy of said certificate, together with the names and addresses of both consignor and consignee. When honey bees are to be shipped into this State from other States or countries wherein no official apiary inspector or State entomologist is available, the State Entomologist of Texas may issue a permit for such shipment upon presentation of suitable evidence showing such bees to be free from diseases. Shipments of bees arriving at points within this State, not accompanied by the certificate herein described, shall be subject to confiscation and destruction by the State Entomologist or his assistants. This requirement shall not apply to shipments of live bees in wire cages, when without combs or honey. [Id.]

Art. 552. Common carrier accepting shipment.—No railroad company, express company, or other common carrier shall accept for intrastate shipment, any honey bees, used honey combs, used bee hives or fixtures, except under such regulations as the State Entomologist shall prescribe. [Id.]

Art. 553. Seizure.—The State Entomologist, through himself, assistants or inspectors, shall have authority to seize and confiscate any shipment of diseased bees found in transit in this State, or found in any depot, express office, store room, car, warehouse or premises awaiting transportation or delivery, and the State Entomologist, through himself or assistants, shall have authority to enter, during ordinary business hours, any depot, express office, store room, car, warehouse, or premises for the purpose of inspecting any shipment of honey bees therein which he may have reason to believe are or may be infected with a contagious or infectious disease or which he may have reason to believe are being transported or have been or are about to be transported in violation of any provision of this title. [Id.]

Art. 554. May enter premises.—The State Entomologist, and his assistants and inspectors, shall have authority to enter, during ordinary business hours, any premises, public or private, wherein may be located any honey bees, or wherein he or they may have reason to believe any honey bees are kept or located, for the purpose of examining said bees and determining whether or not they are infected with any contagious or infectious disease. [Id.]

Art. 555. Protective quarantine.—The State Entomologist shall have authority to declare a protective quarantine in any district, county, precinct or other defined area wherein foul brood or other contagious disease of bees is not known to exist, or wherein any disease of bees is being eradicated in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, said quarantine to prohibit the movement or shipment, into said district, county, precinct or other area, of any bees, honey, appliances or other things capable of transmitting the disease or infection, except under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe. [Id.]

Art. 556. Restrictive quarantine.—The State Entomologist shall have authority when, in his opinion, public welfare and necessity require it, to place a restrictive quarantine upon any district, county, precinct or other defined area wherein are located any honey bees infected with contagious or infectious disease, said quarantine to prohibit the movement or shipment therefrom of any bees, honey, appliances or other things capable of transmitting the infection, except under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe. [Id.]

Art. 557. Sale and shipment.—Queen bees and their attendant bees shall not be sold or offered for sale in this State unless accompanied by a copy of a certificate from a State or Government entomologist or apiary inspector to the effect that the apiary from which said queen bees are shipped have been inspected within the preceding twelve months and found apparently free from contagious or infectious diseases, or by a copy of an affidavit made by the bee-keeper that the bees are not diseased, to the best belief of affiant, and that the honey used in making the candy contained in the queen cage has been diluted and boiled for at least thirty minutes in a closed vessel. [Id.]

Art. 558. Legal remedies.—All prosecutions under this title shall be begun and carried on in any county affected by the violation of said orders, quarantines, rules or regulations. The State Entomologist may enjoin any threatened or attempted violation of his orders, quarantines, rules or regulations in any court of competent jurisdiction, or take any other civil proceedings necessary to carry out and enforce the provisions of this title. It shall be the duty of the Attorney General and the various county and district attorneys to represent said State Entomologist whenever called on to do so. The State Entomologist, in the discharge and enforcement of the duties and powers herein delegated, shall have the authority to compel the production for examination by said State Entomologist, or any one designated by him, of all books, papers and documents in the possession of any person; to take testimony and compel the attendance and examination under oath of witnesses; the various sheriffs and constables throughout the State shall serve all papers, orders, summons and writs that may be delivered to them by said State Entomologist and protect the State Entomologist or his assistants or inspectors in the discharge of their duties, as herein defined, whenever called upon to do so. [Id.]

Art. 559. Bulletins.—The State Entomologist shall publish methods and directions for treating, eradicating or suppressing contagious or infectious diseases of honey bees, including the rules and regulations above provided for, and such other information as he shall deem of value or necessity to the bee-keeping interests of the State. [Id.]

Art. 560. Duty to report diseased bees.—If the owner of, or any person having control or possession of, any honey bees in this State, knows that any bees so owned or controlled are affected with American foul brood, or any other contagious or infectious disease, or knows of any other bees so diseased, it shall be his duty to at once report such fact to the State Entomologist at College Station, setting out in his said report all the facts known with reference to said infection. [Id.]

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art. 561. Transfer of bees.—The State Entomologist may order any owner or possessor of bees dwelling in hives without movable frames, or not permitting of ready examination, to transfer such bees to a movable frame hive within a specified time. In default of such transfer such Entomologist may destroy, or order destroyed, such hives, together with the honey, frames, combs and bees contained therein, without recompense to the owner, lessee or agent thereof. [Id.]

Art. 562. Inspection and eradication.—If the State Entomologist finds, or has reason to believe, that the owner or keeper of any bees or the owner of any apiary has refused or is refusing to comply with any rule or regulation hereinbefore provided for, then in that event such entomologist is hereby authorized to inspect or cause to be inspected said bees, and, if necessary, burn diseased colonies, appliances and honey and do any and all things necessary to eradicate foul brood or any other contagious or infectious disease of bees. [Id.]

Art. 563. Cost of destruction.—When any owner or possessor of bees shall fail to carry out the instructions of the State Entomologist as hereinbefore set forth, such entomologist or his assistants or inspectors shall carry out such destruction or treatment and shall present to the owner or possessor of said bees a bill for the actual cost of such destruction or treatment, including the cost of such hives, foundation, etc., as may be necessary for the proper treatment of the disease. On the failure of the owner or possessor of such bees to pay said bill within thirty days after the delivery of same to himself, tenant, or agent, or within thirty days after mailing same to his usual post-office address, such Entomologist shall certify to the county attorney of the county where such bees were located the amount and items of such bill; and the county attorney shall file suit for the recovery of said account. All moneys recovered by the county attorney for such destruction or treatment shall be paid to the State Treasurer. [Id.]

Art. 564. No bond required.—The State Entomologist, his assistants and inspectors, shall not be required to give any bond or security in any legal proceedings which he or they may institute or defend in any court in this State. [Id.]

Art. 565. Experimental apiary.—The Director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations of the Agricultural and Mechanical College shall have power to establish and maintain experimental apiaries for the purpose of experimenting with the culture of honey, and studying honey yield conditions, and other bee-keeping problems confronting the bee-keepers and the bee-keeping industry of this State; such experimental apiaries to be under the care, control, management and direction of the director of the experimental stations, and to be maintained and operated at such places in Texas as said director may direct. In the location of such experimental apiaries, said director may take into consideration any donation of money or other property to be used in the operation and management of such apiaries and may accept any lease of lands upon which to locate such apiaries. The director shall have authority to employ such assistants as may be needed, and to purchase from time to time, such supplies, equipment and bees as may be necessary in the successful management thereof. The receipts from the sales of any products or old equipment, shall be deposited in the experiment station treasury, in a fund to be known as the "Experimental Apiaries Sales Fund," to be expended by said director for the purpose of said experimental apiaries. [Acts 1919, p. 102.]

BILLS AND NOTES

Art.
566. Fixing liability.
567. Drawer of bill liable.
568. Assignee may sue.
569. Instruments may be assigned.

Art.

570. Assignee may sue in his own name.
571. Assignor liable to assignee.
572. Parties to suit.
573. Plea of forgery.
574. Failure of consideration.
575. Liability fixed by protest.
576. Protest, how made.
577. Damages on protested bill.
578. Patent rights.

Article 566. [579] [580] Fixing liability.—The holder of any bill of exchange or promissory note, assignable or negotiable by law, may secure and fix the liability of any drawer or endorser of such bill of exchange and every endorser of such note, without protest or notice, by bringing suit against the acceptor of such bill of exchange, or against the maker of such note, before the first term of the district or county court to which suit can be brought after the right of action accrues, or before the second term with a showing of good cause for the delay; or when the justice court has jurisdiction by bringing such suit within sixty days after the right of action accrues. [Acts 1848, p. 137; G. L. vol. 3, p. 187.]

Art. 567. [581] [306] [264] Drawer of bill liable.—The drawer of any bill of exchange not accepted when presented for acceptance, shall be immediately liable for the payment thereof. The holders of such bill may secure and fix the liability of any endorser thereof by bringing suit against such drawer, within the time and in the manner prescribed by this title. [Id.]

Art. 568. [582] [307] [265] Assignee may sue.—The assignee of any negotiable instrument may maintain any suit in his own name which the original obligee or payee might have brought. He shall allow all just discounts against himself, and if he obtained the same after it became due, he shall also allow all just discounts against the assignor before notice of the assignment was given to the defendant. If he obtains such instrument before its maturity by giving for it a valuable consideration without notice of any discount or defense against it, he shall be compelled to allow only the just discounts against himself. [Acts 1840, p. 144; G. L. vol. 2, p. 318.]

Art. 569. [583] [308] [266] Instruments may be assigned.—The obligee or assignee of any written instrument not negotiable by the law merchant, may by assignment transfer all his interest therein to another. [Id.]

Art. 570. [584] [585] Assignee may sue in his own name.—The assignee of any instrument mentioned in the preceding article may sue thereon in his own name. He shall allow every discount and defense against the same which it would have been subject to in the hands of any previous owner before notice of the assignment was given to the defendant. In order to hold the assignor, drawer or endorser as surety for the payment of the instrument, the assignee shall use due diligence to collect the same. Such diligence can only be waived in writing. [Id.]

Art. 571. [586] [311] [269] Assignor liable to assignee.—The assignee of any instrument not negotiable by the law merchant, shall be entitled to recover from any previous assignor thereof. In any suit against a remote assignor of such instrument, he shall be subject only to such recovery and shall have the benefit of all defenses which he would have been entitled to had the suit been instituted by any intermediate assignee. [Id.]

Art. 572. [587] [312] [270] Parties to suit.—Assignors, indorsers and other parties not primarily liable upon any instrument named in this title, may be jointly sued with their principal obligors, or may be sued alone in the cases provided for in the laws relating to parties to suits. [Id.]

Art. 573. [588] [313] [271] Plea of forgery.—When suit is brought by an assignee or indorsee of a written instrument, the assignment or endorsement thereof shall be held as fully proved, unless the defendant shall file with the papers in the cause an affidavit stating that he has good cause to believe, and does believe that such assignment or endorsement is forged. [Id.]

Art. 574. [589] [314] [272] Failure of consideration.—The defendant in any suit upon a written instrument may plead want or failure, or partial failure of consideration, where such written instrument shall remain in the possession of the original payee or obligee or when it has been transferred or assigned after the maturity thereof, or when the defendant proves a knowledge of such want or failure of consideration on the part of the holder prior to such transfer. [Id.]

Art. 575. [590] [315] [273] Liability fixed by protest.—The holder of any bill of exchange or promissory note assignable or negotiable by the law merchant may also secure and fix the liability of any drawer or indorser of such bill of exchange or promissory note for the payment thereof, without suit against the acceptor, drawer or maker, by procuring such bill or note to be regularly protested by a notary public for non-acceptance or non-payment, and giving notice of such protest to such drawer or endorser, according to the usage and custom of merchants. [Acts 1848, p. 187; G. L. vol. 3, p. 187.]

Art. 576. [591] [316] [274] Protest, how made.—It shall be the duty of any notary public who shall protest any bill of exchange or promissory note for non-acceptance or non-payment, to set forth in his protest and in his notarial record a full and true statement of what was done by him in relation thereto by specifying therein whether demand was made of the sum of money in such bill or note specified, of whom, and when and where such demand was made, and to make the requisite notices of protest for the drawers and indorsers who are sought to be made liable. When such notice shall be served by him, he shall note in his protest and notarial record on whom and when such notice was served. If such notice is mailed by him, he shall specify when and where mailed, and to whom and where directed. Such protest, or a copy of such notarial record, certified under the hand and seal of such notary public, shall be admitted in any court of this State as evidence of the facts therein set forth. [Id.]

Art. 577. [592] [317] [275] Damages on protested bill.—The holder of any protested draft or bill of exchange, drawn by a merchant within the limits of this State upon his agent or factor living beyond the limits of this State shall, after having fixed the liability of the drawer or indorser of any such draft or bill of exchange, be entitled to recover and receive ten per cent on the amount of such draft or bill of exchange as damages, together with interest[s] and costs of suit thereon accruing. [Acts 1851, p. 23; G. L. vol. 3, p. 901.]

Art. 578. Patent rights.—All notes and liens given for a patent right consideration or patent right territory shall state on their face that the same were given for a patent right. Such statement shall be notice to all subsequent purchasers of said notes or liens of all equities existing between the parties to the original transaction, and the same shall be subject to all defenses against subsequent owners and holders that they would if the same had remained in the hands of the original owner. [Acts 1915, p. 138.]

Article 579. Definitions.—The term "stock" as used in this title shall include the certificates of stock of every corporation, as well as the certificates of any other written instruments evidencing ownership or membership in any joint stock association, common law trust, or any other organization, association or concern of whatsoever nature, which is organized, formed or created, or intended to be organized, formed or created, which may, or which is designed to own property of any character.

The terms "person," "company," or "concern," shall refer to and include any such concern, or individual, or person who may issue such stock, and whose stock or certificate shall represent or evidence ownership or membership therein, which ownership or membership may be designed to be transferred, assigned or negotiated by the transfer, assignment or negotiation of such instrument. [Acts 2d C. S. 1923, p. 114.]

Art. 580. Prerequisites of sale.—Every concern which shall hereafter be formed or created or which shall hereafter attempt to increase its capital stock or commence the transaction of business in this State, shall before offering for sale, directly or indirectly, through itself, its agents or employes, or through any holding company, sales company or any character of person or association, whether herein defined or not, any stock as defined in the preceding article, and before transacting any business in this State, except the preparation of instruments hereinafter mentioned and other instruments relative to the organization and transaction of business thereof, file in the office of the Secretary of State, together with a fee equal in amount to the filing fee of a private corporation having capital and surplus of like amount, the following: (This requirement as to fees shall not apply to corporations, by reason of the existing requirement as to the payment of filing fees upon obtaining charters and permits from the Secretary of State.)

1. An application for a permit to sell any of the securities mentioned herein, or any other securities offered, or to be offered for sale, and for the transaction of any and all other business in this State. Said application must show the name under which such business is to be conducted, its location and general purpose, the age, occupation and general qualifications of such trustees or managing officers, and also fully the business in which each has been engaged for the last five years immediately preceding the filing of such application.

2. A copy of its articles of association, partnership agreement, constitution, by-laws, or any other contract, agreement or other form of organization under which business is to be transacted, and all amendments thereto, showing the county or counties in which such instruments are filed, or to be filed for record.

3. Copies of stock certificates, bonds, debentures, or other securities offered, or to be offered for sale, or other disposition, together with copies of application blank for such securities. Such application must show the capital stock, par value of such stock, the price at which the same is to be sold, the commissions to be paid for the sale thereof, the amount of such stock or other interest therein issued, or to be issued for promotion, compensation or other purposes.

4. A detailed statement showing the assets and liabilities of such issuer, together with a profit and loss statement. [Id.]

Art. 581. Affidavit.—Before being filed with the Secretary of State, all documents mentioned in the preceding article must be subscribed and sworn to

by a managing officer or other executive of the issuer. [Id.]

Art. 582. Value of securities.—In any case wherein the values of the securities hereinbefore mentioned are in any way dependent upon the present, or proposed development of the land or mines, oil or gas wells, the Secretary of State may cause such investigation thereof, as he may desire, to be made at the expense of the applicant. [Id.]

Art. 583. Permit.—The Secretary of State, upon receipt and proper investigation of the information herein provided for, shall grant or refuse such permit. If he decides that values warrant and that the sale of stock, or other securities, and the business of the issuer will be conducted honestly and fairly in compliance with this law and the general laws of Texas, such permit shall be granted. Commissions for the sale of stock and other securities, promotion, and all other incidental expenses shall not, in the aggregate, exceed twenty per cent of the price at which the stock or other securities are to be sold, as shown by the application or amended application. Stock issued for property or other things of its equivalent value shall not be classed as promotion stock, the value at which such property is accepted to be approved by the Secretary of State. [Id.]

Art. 584. Foreign permit.—No permit hereunder shall be granted to a non-resident or foreign concern until it shall file in the office of the Secretary of State, an instrument constituting and appointing him its true and lawful attorney, upon whom process may be served in any action that may be brought against it. [Id.]

Art. 585. Escrow permit.—Where the promoter or promoters of any development proposition, or the originator or originators of any patent process, own no assets but a meritorious proposition, he or they, upon the presentation of the proper facts to the Secretary of State and securing his approval, and filing a bond as herein required may, in the discretion of said officer, secure a permit, conditioned that all moneys received for the sale of stock or units of interest shall be placed in escrow with the Secretary of State until the proposed amount of stock necessary to finance such undertaking has been sold and the money paid in therefor. [Id.]

Art. 586. Escrow bond.—Such bond shall be executed by such promoter or promoters for the use and benefit of all prospective holders of stock or units. It shall be in amount equal to the amount of stock or units whose sale is permitted, and shall be conditioned that all moneys paid for such stock or units shall be deposited in escrow as herein required, and thereafter faithfully applied. Such bond may be sued upon successively and severally in any county in Texas where plaintiff may reside, and if the whereabouts of any defendant be out of the State or unknown, such suit may be instituted against the sureties only upon such bond. A certified copy of such bond made by the Secretary of State shall be admissible in evidence in all courts in like manner as the original. [Id.]

Art. 587. Escrow fund; release.—On failure to dispose of sufficient stock or units to raise the proposed and necessary amount of money, all money so raised shall be returned by the Secretary of State to the investors, less the actual lawful expenses of selling such stock or units. All expenses incident to selling such stock or units, whether all or part thereof have been sold, shall be submitted to the Secretary of State by an itemized affidavit of the duly authorized agent of such concern, who shall be personally cognizant of the facts therein set forth. Such affidavit shall be accompanied by vouchers showing all such expenditures. [Id.]

Art. 588. Stock of solvent concerns.—Any concern which has been a solvent going concern for a period of two years next preceding the date of any application named in this article, may submit to the Secretary of State satisfactory evidence of such fact and of its present sound solvent condition; whereupon the Secretary of State shall consider the same and shall require such further evidence, and may make such independent investigation as he may deem proper, concerning such matter. If upon full consideration thereof he shall conclude that such concern has been a solvent going concern for a period of two years and is at present solvent, he shall enter such finding upon his record, whereupon the proposed issue and sale of such stock, debentures or other securities, as defined in this title, of such concern, shall be exempt from the general requirements of this title. [Id.]

Art. 589. Changing documents.—Any original document under which a permit has been granted shall not be changed or amended without permission to do so being granted by the Secretary of State. [Id.]

Art. 590. Suit to issue permit.—If a permit be refused by the Secretary of State, the parties applying therefor may bring suit in the district court of Travis County to determine the right of the applicant to have said officer to issue such permit. [Id.]

Art. 591. Using mail, etc., without permit.—Any person, broker, agent, joint stock company, co-partnership or other company, individual or organization, domestic or foreign, sending advertising matter through the mails, by express, telegram or otherwise wholly within this State, offering for sale or selling any of the securities enumerated in the second article of this title, without first having been issued a permit as provided herein, shall be deemed guilty of having violated the provisions of this title. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of State, immediately after discovering such violation, to seek to have a fraud order issued as provided by the laws of the United States affecting the postal service, covering all letters or other matter sent by mail by any such offender. [Id.]

Art. 592. Violations of Federal Laws.—It shall be the duty of the Secretary of State to co-operate with the United States District Attorney, and the United States Department of Justice, and the United States postal authorities, in furnishing them with such information, data and evidence as may come to his knowledge of violations of the Federal laws by any of the persons, brokers, agents, joint stock companies, co-partnerships or other companies, individuals or organizations mentioned in the preceding article. [Id.]

Art. 593. Merger.—The merger, absorption or transfer of property of any company, association, joint stock company, co-partnership or other company, individual or organization by another coming under the provisions of the first article of this title, is declared to be unlawful, unless same is approved by the Secretary of State, after notice to all stockholders of the interested companies, mailed thirty days in advance of said merger, and approved by the holders of a majority in amount of the outstanding and issued stock. [Id.]

Art. 594. Unlawfully paying dividends.—It shall be unlawful for any concern included in this title to declare, issue, or pay a cash dividend to its stockholders or any of them, out of any funds other than the actual earnings of such company in the course of its operations, except upon the lawful liquidation thereof. [Id.]

Art. 595. Publication of records.—All papers, documents, instruments and affidavits of any and every nature, whatsoever, which may be filed with the Secretary of State by any person or concern in connection with matters provided in this title, shall be deemed public records of this State, and the Secretary of State is required to give out any information applied for concerning any such matter, or any such instrument, and to give certified copies of any and all such instruments. The Secretary of State shall at least as often as quarterly, publish bulletins summarizing the applications for permits to sell stock under this title and the conclusions of the Secretary of State in respect thereto as to whether such concern was solvent and whether or not it was or is fraudulent, and whether or not such permit was granted. No action at law for damages shall lie against the Secretary of State or any employé thereof or any periodical on account of any publication or information herein permitted or required to be given. [Id.]

Art. 596. Powers of Secretary of State.—The power and authority is hereby vested in the Secretary of State, and it is hereby made his duty to perform the powers and authority granted herein, and he shall in all things carry out the provisions of this title. He shall have power and authority to appoint such employés and clerks as may be necessary to perform the duties herein imposed upon him. [Id.]

Art. 597. Disbursements.—Expenses incident to the enforcement of this law shall be paid by warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the State Treasurer, issued upon a verified statement of the persons entitled thereto, and with the approval of the Secretary of State indorsed thereon. [Id.]

Art. 598. State officers to assist.—Upon the request of the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, or any district or county attorney shall aid in any investigation, trial or proceeding provided for in this title, and shall institute and prosecute all such actions or proceedings for the enforcement thereof. The Attorney General shall act as the attorney for the Secretary of State in all actions and proceedings brought by or against them under or pursuant to any provision of this title. [Id.]

Art. 599. Exemptions.—This title shall not apply to banking corporations or private banks, railroad, or building and loan corporations, nor to the stock thereof, nor be construed to in any manner affect the existing laws of this State, relating to the regulation of any corporation or concern, whatsoever, but in all respects shall be cumulative thereof. [Id.]

Art. 600. Name of law.—This law shall be known and cited as the "Blue Sky Law of Texas." [Id.]

BOARD OF CONTROL

Chap.

1. General Provisions.
2. Division of Public Printing.
3. Purchasing Division.
4. Public Buildings and Grounds Division.
5. Division of Design and Construction.
6. Division of Estimates and Appropriations.
7. Division of Eleemosynary Institutions.

CHAPTER ONE

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Art.

601. Appointment.
602. Organization of Board.
603. General duties.
604. New divisions.
605. Qualifications and salary.
606. Suits and injunctions.

Article 601. Appointment.—The State Board of Control shall consist of three citizens of this State, one to be biennially appointed for a term of six years by the Governor with the advice of the Senate, the classification to remain as now constituted by law. Any member of the Board may at any time be dismissed by the Governor for good cause, the reasons for such dismissal to be specified and filed with the Secretary of State. The members of the Board shall be public officers and shall take the official oath, and each shall give bond in form prescribed by the Attorney General in the sum of fifty thousand dollars payable to and to be approved by the Governor, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. [Acts 1919, p. 323.]

Art. 602. Organization of Board.—The Board shall elect one of its number Chairman, and two members shall always be necessary for the consideration of any question. They shall keep minutes of their proceedings recorded in a book provided for that purpose. They may employ a secretary and such other clerks, stenographers, auditors, book-keepers and clerical help as may be necessary in the administration of their department, within the limits of the appropriations that may be made for the work of the Board, which shall in no case be exceeded. They shall occupy appropriate rooms in the Capitol, and may purchase such equipment and stationery as may be necessary. The Board shall be entitled to traveling expenses when absent from Austin on official business. [Id.]

Art. 603. General duties.—The Board shall administer the laws relating to the various departments, boards, institutions and public officers of the government herein named, and perform the additional duties and exercise the additional functions provided for in this title, and may combine under it the following subdivisions of its work:

1. Division of Public Printing.
2. Division of Purchasing.
3. Division of Auditing.
4. Division of Design, Construction and Maintenance.
5. Division of Estimates and Appropriations.
6. Division of Eleemosynary Institutions.
7. And such other divisions of its work as it may find necessary in the administration of its duties. [Id.]

Art. 604. New divisions.—The Board may from time to time create such other divisions of its work as may be necessary, and appoint chiefs of such divisions, but no person shall be appointed chief of any division who has had less than five years actual experience immediately preceding his appointment in the work or a profession similar to that to which he is assigned by the Board. [Id.]

Art. 605. Qualifications and salary.—Wherever certain qualifications are prescribed for an office or any employment or appointment by the Board and certain years of experience are required, the existence of such years of experience and such qualifications as a fact shall be a prerequisite to the assignment of such officer, appointee or employé to occupy such position, and the payment of his compensation by the accounting officers of this State and the State Treasurer. The Comptroller may refuse to issue his warrant to any person occupying any office or position of employment with the Board, where he shall find that such person is disqualified as provided in this article, and the State Treasurer may refuse to pay any warrant issued to such person. The party claiming the right to the issuance of such warrants and the payment thereof, may bring a mandamus suit against either of such officers in the Supreme Court as in other cases. [Id.]

Art. 606. Suits and injunctions.—Mandamus suits may be brought in the Supreme Court against the board, but no other suit shall be brought against the Board of any other character, except in the District Court of Travis County. No temporary injunction shall ever issue against the Board except upon notice and hearing. [Id.]

629. Interest in contracts.
630. Contracts: approval.

Article 607. Chief of Division.—The Board shall appoint a chief of the Division of Public Printing who shall be a practical competent printer, who has had not less than five years experience in a commercial printing office, including the duties of estimator. [Acts 1919, p. 323.]

Art. 608. Contracts.—The Board shall contract for a term of not exceeding two years with responsible persons, firms, corporations or associations of persons, who shall be residents of Texas, for supplying to the State all printing, binding, stationery and supplies of like character for all departments, institutions and boards, save and except such work as may be done at the various educational and eleemosynary institutions. Said contract shall be let to the lowest and best responsible bidder after public advertising of such proposed letting for once a week for four consecutive weeks in at least six newspapers of general circulation in this State. No two of such papers shall be published in the same county. The Board may reject any and all bids; the reason therefor shall be entered in full in the minutes of the Board and shall be open to the inspection of the public at all times. New contracts shall be made in the same manner as hereinbefore provided. [Id.]

Art. 609. Printing at School for Deaf.—Any public printing and binding for the State may be executed by the Texas School for the deaf without regard to any contract with an individual to do the public printing thereof. [Id.]

Art. 610. Rules for bids.—The Board may establish rules and regulations in advertising for bids for printing and stationery supplies in such manner as in its judgment will best serve the State.

Any bidder shall be allowed to bid on either any or all of the items to be contracted for. The Board may define, itemize and group any class in advertising for bids and awarding contracts, in such manner as shall give the State the most efficient service. [Id.]

Art. 611. Separate contracts.—The Board shall have authority to determine to which bidder the several classes of work shall be awarded. It may let the contract for the several classes of printing to separate bidders, and in calling for proposals, it shall be specified that bids for stationery and office supplies shall be separate and distinct from the bids for printing. [Id.]

Art. 612. Quantity of reports, etc.—The Board shall order such quantity of all reports, documents, messages, journals and laws to be published as it may deem necessary, not more than five thousand of such reports. [Id.]

Art. 613. Bidder's bond.—All bids or proposals shall be accompanied by a bond or certified check in such sum as the Board may require, and such requirement shall be stated in the advertisement calling for bids. [Id.]

Art. 614. Contractor's bond.—When any bid shall have been accepted, the Board shall require of the successful bidder a bond in an amount to be fixed by the Board, conditioned that the contractor will comply with all the terms and conditions of contract. Said bond shall have two or more good and sufficient sureties, or shall be made by a surety company authorized to do business in Texas. The Attorney General shall, when requested by the Board, file suit against any contractor for breach of contract. [Id.]

Art. 615. Accounts: regular.—All accounts for printing done, or stationery furnished, except for the Legislature when in session, shall be audited in the following manner: The accounts shall be verified by the affidavit of the contractor that it is true and correct, that the amount of work charged for has actually been performed, or the actual amount of stationery and supplies have been delivered, and that the prices charged in the account are in accordance with the stipulations of the contract. The account shall be accompanied by a sample of the work done, and a receipt from the department to which the goods were delivered. The account shall be examined by the Chief of the Division of Public Printing, and, when certified by him as correct, approved by the department to which delivery was made. After having been thus examined and approved, the Comptroller shall issue his warrant for payment of account out of funds appropriated for that purpose. [Acts 2d C. S. 1919, p. 303.]

Art. 616. Accounts: Legislative.—All accounts for printing done, or stationery used, in either house of the Legislature, shall before being approved by the Legislature be presented to the Chief of Division of Public Printing for his certificate that the printing or binding for stationery is charged for at the rate of the current contract, and such account when approved by the committee on public printing of either house of the Legislature, shall authorize the Comptroller to draw his warrant to pay such account out of the contingent fund. [Id.]

Art. 617. Abrogation of contracts.—The contracts for printing and for stationery herein provided for may be abrogated by the Legislature when in session, or by the Board of Control with the consent of the Governor or Comptroller when the Legislature is not in session, if the contractor shall fail to perform the work or furnish the supplies in accordance with the law and with his contract as promptly as the exigencies of the public service demand. [Id.]

Art. 618. New contracts.—Should all bids on any contract be rejected, or the successful bidder fail to execute bond as provided herein, or should the contract be abrogated, the Board shall let a new contract in the manner provided herein. The Board may in its discretion make such temporary arrangement to meet the emergency as the public interest may demand. [Id.]

Art. 619. Reporters' stationery.—The Board shall furnish the reporters for the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals with the necessary stationery for the performance of their duties. [Id.]

Art. 620. Judicial reports.—The Board shall from time to time cause the decisions of the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals to be printed and bound in the manner provided by law. [Id.]

Art. 621. [1575-1579] Printing of reports.—As fast as the Chief of the Printing Division shall receive the manuscript copy of reported cases from the court reporter, he shall cause the same to be printed at the printing office of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum of Texas, with proper index tables of cases cited and of cases reported; or should the Board find that the work of printing and binding the reports can be done more speedily and more economically by contract, or that ample material and means to carry out the provisions hereof are not readily obtainable, it shall at once let the printing and binding of the reports out by contract, require security for the performance of the work, and delivery to the State of electrotype plates. [Acts 1882, p. 71; Acts 1919, p. 60.]

Art. 622. [1577] [964] Specifications or reports.—The Board shall have one thousand copies of each volume of the decisions of said Courts printed and bound. Each volume shall contain not less than seven nor more than eight hundred pages; and pages shall be twenty-six ems pica wide and forty-six ems pica long. The type used shall be long prima [primer] and minion of the same size used in Volume 23, Wallace's United States Supreme Court Reports; the lines shall be leaded with not thicker than eight to pica leads. The paper, press work and binding shall be the same style and at least equal in quality in every respect with the volumes of Moore & Walker's Reports heretofore published. The volumes containing the Supreme Court decisions shall be styled "The Texas Reports," and shall be so styled on the title page and back, and the volumes shall be numbered. The name of the reporter may be printed on the back of each volume. [Id.]

Art. 623. Bids: advertisements.—The Board shall invite bids upon proposals advertised by the Board in the manner provided by the Board, and it shall not be confined to the residents of this State.

The lowest responsible bidder shall be awarded the contract. The Board may reject any and all bids. [Acts 1919, p. 60.]

Art. 624. Contracts: terms.—The Board may fix all conditions, provisions and details of such contracts concerning the printing, binding, publication and sale of such reports, and demand such security from the contractor as will secure the performance of such contract. Such contracts shall be for a term of six years' duration at a time; and may provide for the printing and binding of delayed manuscripts of said reports. [Id.]

Art. 625. Renewal contracts.—The Board may provide from time to time by separate contracts under similar conditions, for renewal contracts in the event of forfeiture or for other reasons, and in order to facilitate the prompt printing and binding of said reports. [Id.]

Art. 626. Price of reports. The price of such reports furnished by the contractor to the legal profession and to the public of this State shall not exceed the contract price fixed by said contract. The number of volumes delivered to the State for its use shall not exceed three hundred of each volume of said reports. [Id.]

Art. 627. Extra copies.—The contract shall also provide that the contractor shall keep on hand a sufficient number of volumes of said reports, or make such arrangements as to enable the legal profession and the public in this State to obtain from the contractor such reports at the price fixed in the contract. [Id.]

Art. 628. Printing plates.—The Board shall determine whether electrotypes or stereotype plates of said reports are to be made, and shall regulate the use thereof. The ownership of such plates, together with the copyright of the reports, shall remain in this State. [Id.]

Art. 629. Interest in contracts.—No member or officer of any department of the State Government shall be in any way interested in any contract which shall be let under the provisions of this law. [Id.]

Art. 630. Contracts: approval.—All contracts made under the provisions of this law shall be subject to the approval of the Governor, the Secretary of State and the Comptroller, as required by Article 16, Section 21, of the Constitution. [Id.]

662. Local dealers.
663. Appropriations.
664. Rules.

Article 631. Chief of Division.—The Board may appoint a Chief of its Division of Purchasing, who shall have had not less than five years experience immediately preceding his appointment, as a purchaser for a department store or wholesale establishment of recognized standard and successful experience, and no other person shall be eligible for such position. [Acts 1919, p. 323.]

Art. 632. Term of office, etc.—Said chief shall hold his office for a term of two years from the date of his qualification, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. He shall not receive, directly or indirectly, any extra compensation in the way of commission or otherwise, nor shall he collect or be paid his salary or any part thereof while he is in any manner indebted to the State, or in arrears in his accounts and reports as such agent. [Acts 1899, p. 138; Acts 1915, p. 193.]

Art. 633. Interest in contracts.—Neither said chief nor any member of the Board nor any employé or appointee of the Board shall be interested in, or in any manner connected with, any contract or bid for furnishing supplies or articles of any kind to any of the institutions or departments of this State, or with any person, firm or corporation who is interested in or in any manner connected with any kind of contract with this State or any of its institutions and departments. Neither shall said agent accept or receive from any person, firm or corporation to whom any contract may be awarded, directly or indirectly, by rebate, gift or otherwise, any money or other thing of value whatever, nor shall he receive any promise, obligation or contract for future reward or compensation from any such party. [Id.]

Art. 634. Departmental supplies.—The Board shall purchase all the supplies used by each department of the State government and each eleemosynary institution, normal school, Agricultural and Mechanical College, University of Texas, and each other State school heretofore or hereafter created, such supplies including furniture and fixtures, and all other things except strictly perishable goods, technical instruments and books. [Acts 1919, p. 323.]

Art. 635. Bidder's affidavit.—The bidder for the contract for such supplies shall be required to file with his respective bids an affidavit stating that neither the affiant nor the firm, corporation, partnership nor institution represented by the affiant, or any one acting for such firm, corporation or institution, has within twelve months past violated any law of this State relating to trusts or monopolies. The Attorney General shall prepare the form of such affidavit which shall embrace each phase of the statutes of Texas forbidding trusts and monopolies, and shall also provide that neither the affiant nor the firm, corporation or partnership represented by him has communicated directly or indirectly the bid made by such person, firm or corporation bidding, to any competitor bidding on said contract, or any person engaged in such line of business or any other person. [Id.]

Art. 636. Storekeepers.—The superintendent of each educational and eleemosynary institution placed by law under the management and control of the Board of Control, shall, with the consent of the Board, appoint one storekeeper and accountant for each of said institutions, who shall hold office for two years from the date of qualification, or until their successors shall have qualified, unless sooner removed by the Board. Where the magnitude of an institution is not sufficient to employ a storekeeper and accountant, the superintendent shall perform that service. [Acts 1899, p. 138; Acts 1915, p. 193.]

Art. 637. Bond.—Each storekeeper or accountant shall, before entering upon the performance of his duties, make and file with the Comptroller a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, payable to the State, conditioned for the full, faithful, accurate and honest performance of his duties, and approved by the Governor. [Id.]

Art. 638. Acts prohibited.—No such storekeeper or accountant shall sell or in any way be concerned in the sale of any merchandise, supplies or other articles to any such institution, or have any interest in any contract therewith, or with any other institution or department of the State government. [Id.]

Art. 639. Reports.—Such storekeeper or accountant shall keep the Board constantly informed as to the amount and character of supplies on hand and the amount and character required in order to keep the institution provided for. They shall make reports to the Board on or before the tenth day of each month, showing the total amount of the appropriation, the total amount expended, and the balance unexpended on the first day of each month. They shall also furnish any other information respecting such matters as the Board may request. [Id.]

Art. 640. Surplus supplies.—When any institution accumulates an amount of supplies on hand in excess of its needs, and another institution is in need of such supplies, the Board shall be authorized to transfer any of such supplies from the institution having such excess to such institution in need of such supplies, and the debit and credit shall be made on the basis that such supplies can be purchased in the open market at the time of the transfer, when it is less than the cost under the general contract for such supplies for the fiscal year, otherwise the debit and credit shall be made on the basis of the general contract price for that year. [Id.]

Art. 641. May dispense with storekeeper.—Any educational institution may dispense with the position of storekeeper and appoint some person at such institution to receive such supplies, and make the reports required of storekeepers. [Id.]

Art. 642. Supply contracts.—The Board shall contract for all supplies, merchandise and articles of every description needed for the maintenance and operation of such institutions, except those supplies designated as perishable, and supplies of a special character, as books for libraries and supplies for the laboratories and laboratory work and instruction, and any special supplies for instruction, demonstration and research for educational institutions, to be designated as "Special Supplies for Educational Institutions." The Board shall base its contracts upon estimates to be furnished the Board by the superintendents, by the first day of April of each year, for the entire year. [Id.]

Art. 643. Notice and limits.—All such contracts shall be made after full notice by advertisement once a week for not less than four weeks in at least four of the leading papers of this State, to be selected by the Board. Such contracts shall be made within the limits of the appropriations made by the Legislature for such purposes, regard being had to the appropriations for each institution. [Id.]

Art. 644. Requisites of bids.—The Board shall advertise for sealed bids or proposals to furnish the aggregate of the articles and supplies as estimated by such institutions, naming the articles and supplies and the quantities and character required. All such bids and proposals shall, when required by the Board, be accompanied by samples or designs furnished by the bidder, and shall be for the entire period of one year. Such supplies, articles and merchandise shall be delivered at such times and in such quantities to such institutions, as the Board may designate. [Id.]

Art. 645. Short term contracts.—If the Board at any time discovers that they can purchase the same supplies for less money than for any one year by buying the same for a less length of time, they shall make such purchases for a shorter length of time, not less than for three months. [Id.]

Art. 646. May reject bids.—The Board shall in all cases reserve the right to reject or accept any or all bids, or reject in part if it prefers, and in such case they may buy in the open market until a satisfactory bid is offered. [Id.]

Art. 647. Equal bids.—The terms and conditions, and the period for which such bids or proposals are invited shall be clearly stated in the advertisement. When the same article is estimated for by two or more institutions, but of different brands or grades, such articles shall be purchased so as to produce uniformity in use by each institution, and other things being equal, supplies offered by bidders who have an established local business, shall have preference. [Id.]

Art. 648. Equipment.—Furniture or equipment for educational institutions shall be such as is especially adapted or designed for such institutions. [Id.]

Art. 649. Bond or security.—All bids or proposals shall be accompanied by a bond or certified check in such sum as the Board may require. Such requirement shall be stated in the advertisements calling for bids. [Id.]

Art. 650. Separate bids.—The Board may advertise for the various articles and supplies needed either separately or all together, and may accept a bid for the same to be furnished either separately or all by one bidder. Preference shall be given, all things being equal, to State products. [Id.]

Art. 651. Opening of bids.—All bids shall be opened on the date and at the place specified in the advertisement. The opening and inspection of bids shall be made by the Board in the presence of the Governor and the Comptroller. [Id.]

Art. 652. Quality of goods.—The supplies and articles furnished under all bids and contracts shall be such as called for by requisition of the superintendents of the several institutions. Each article shall be equal to the sample which is required with the accompanying bid. [Id.]

Art. 653. Misrepresentation.—If supplies delivered under contract are not equal to the sample, the superintendent shall refuse to accept them. [Id.]

Art. 654. Estimates.—The estimates upon which advertisements and contracts are made shall as near as practicable state the quantity and quality of the articles and supplies needed. [Id.]

Art. 655. Invoice: affidavit.—The contractor or seller shall in all cases append an affidavit stating that the invoice is correct and that it corresponds in every particular to the supplies furnished and shipped. [Id.]

Art. 656. Invoice: delivery.—Invoices of all supplies shall be furnished in triplicate by the contractor or seller at the time of delivery of said supplies, one of which shall be sent to the storekeeper of the institution to which the supplies are sent. [Id.]

Art. 657. Invoice: check of goods.—As soon as supplies are received and examined by the storekeeper of the institution to which the same were shipped, if they check with the invoices transmitted and the samples by which the supplies were sold, he shall transmit to the Board of Control the original invoices and duplicate with his certificate thereon that the supplies received correspond in every particular with the invoice and with the samples by which they were sold. If the Board finds such invoice to be correct, it shall approve and transmit the same to the Comptroller. [Id.]

Art. 658. Invoice: payment.—When such invoice so approved by such storekeeper and by the Board of Control, shall be approved by the Comptroller, he shall draw his warrant upon the State Treasury for the amount due on the invoice or for so much thereof as has been allowed, and it shall be charged against the institution. [Id.]

Art. 659. Contract bond.—When any bid has been accepted, the Board shall require of the successful bidder a bond payable to the State with good and sufficient sureties in a sum not less than one-third the amount of the bid, conditioned that the bidder will faithfully and accurately execute the terms of the contract into which he has entered. Said bond shall be filed in the office of the Comptroller, and recoveries may be had thereon until exhausted. [Id.]

Art. 660. Purchase without contract.—In case of emergency, and where articles are necessary and needed by any institution, and it is impracticable to include them in the annual contract, the superintendent shall make a requisition for same to the Board of Control; and the Board may forthwith purchase such article in the open market. [Id.]

Art. 661. Equipment: specifications.—Furniture or equipment for educational institutions shall be of the particular kind and make as requisitioned by such institution and approved by the Board. [Id.]

Art. 662. Local dealers.—Preference shall be given to dealers in cities or towns in the county in which said institution is located, conditioned that the articles purchased shall be equal in price and quality to articles which can be purchased elsewhere. [Id.]

Art. 663. Appropriations.—All purchases by contract or otherwise, as herein authorized, shall be in accordance with such appropriations as shall be made by the Legislature for the support of the several institutions respectively. [Id.]

Art. 664. Rules.—The Board shall frame and transmit to each institution a system of rules and regulations for the purchase of such supplies as have been designated by them as perishable and as special supplies for educational institutions, and to which, conformity by all institutions is hereby required. [Id.]

CHAPTER FOUR

- 674. Maintenance of sewers.
- 675. Copy of plans.
- 676. Shall report to Governor.
- 677. State parks.
- 678. State cemetery.

Article 665. Custodianship of State property.—The State Board of Control shall have charge and control of all public buildings, grounds and property of the State which may not be used by the different officers of the State government, and is the custodian of all public personal property, and is charged with the responsibility to properly care for and protect such property from damage, intrusion, or improper usage. [Acts 1884, p. 60; Acts 1919, p. 326; G. L. vol. 9, p. 592.]

Art. 666. Shall sell property not needed.—All property belonging to the State, situated in the city of Austin, in any department, board or office of the State, when it shall become unfit for use or shall be no longer needed, shall be placed in the hands of the Board of Control, and the Board shall sell such property at public auction after advertising it for not less than five days in two newspapers, published in the City of Austin. The money from the sale of such property, less the expense of advertising and selling, shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the general revenue fund. The Board shall make a written report to the Comptroller after each sale, showing the articles received, each article sold, to whom sold and the price received. [Id.]

Art. 667. Charge of Capitol.—The Board, during the recess of the Legislature, shall have charge and control of the halls, chambers, and committee rooms of the State Capitol Building except as hereinafter provided. Before the assembling of each session of the Legislature, the Board shall prepare the different rooms for the use of the Legislature. [Id.]

Art. 668. Use of rooms in Capitol as bedrooms.—No room, apartment or office in the State Capitol

Building shall be used at any time by any person as a bed room or for any private purposes whatever. This article shall not apply to the rooms occupied by the judges of the Supreme Court and the Courts of Civil and Criminal Appeals on the third and fourth floors of the Capitol. [Id.]

Art. 669. Shall inspect Public Buildings, etc.—The Board shall frequently inspect all the public buildings and property of the State at the Capitol, and all other buildings and property of the State at such regular intervals as may be necessary for the Board to keep constantly informed of the condition of the same. [Id.]

Art. 670. Improvements and repairs.—The Board shall prepare plans and specifications for improvement and repairs to public buildings or property of the State, and shall superintend through its division of public buildings and grounds, the construction of said work when such supervision is not otherwise especially provided for by law. [Id.]

Art. 671. Inspection of plans and specifications.—The Board shall inspect all plans and specifications for the public buildings and the additions thereto to be constructed for the State before such plans and specifications are adopted. The Board may reject any and all such plans and specifications, and it shall have full and final superintendence over all buildings, structures or additions thereto that may be constructed for the State. [Id.]

Art. 672. Inspection of material and workmanship.—The Board shall carefully examine and inspect the material and workmanship of each building, structure and addition thereto built for the State out of brick or stone or substitutes therefor, and shall see that the same are constructed in accordance with the contract plans and specifications therefor. The work, workmanship and the material thereof shall be subject to the approval of the Board. [Id.]

Art. 673. Shall make needed improvements.—When needed improvements or repairs for respective buildings and offices are called to the attention of the Board by the heads of such departments or offices, the Board shall provide for such repairs or improvements, and they shall be made under its direction. [Id.]

Art. 674. Maintenance of sewers.—The Board shall give special attention to the effective maintenance of the State sewers and their connections in the use of the public buildings, and shall see that such sewerage and connections at all times be kept in a sanitary condition, and that the gas and water pipes with their connections and appliances are maintained in working order, ready at any time for immediate use. [Id.]

Art. 675. Copy of plans.—The Board shall prepare and keep in its offices a copy of the plans of all public buildings and improvements thereto under its charge showing the exact location of all water, gas and sewerage pipes. [Id.]

Art. 676. Shall report to Governor.—The Board shall biennially on December 1st make a report to the Governor showing all improvements and repairs that have been made with an itemized account of receipts and expenditures, and showing the condition of all property under its control with an estimate of needed improvements and repairs. [Id.]

Art. 677. State parks.—All State parks shall be under the control and custody of the Board, and all laws relating to the same shall be executed and administered by the Board. [Id.]

Art. 678. State cemetery.—The Board shall control, superintend and beautify the grounds of the State Cemetery. They shall preserve the grounds and everything pertaining thereto and protect the property from depreciation and injury. They shall procure and erect, at the head of each grave which has no permanent monument, an obelisk of marble upon which shall be engraved the name of the dead therein buried. [Id.]

679. Chief of division.
 680. May employ experts.
 681. Shall design public buildings.
 682. Shall design parks, etc.
 683. Shall furnish schools expert, etc.
 684. Shall inspect plans, etc.
 685. Assistants appointed.
 686. Salaries of assistants.
 687. One per cent to Treasurer.

Article 679. Chief of division.—The Board may select a chief of its division of design, construction and maintenance who shall be an architect of not less than five years experience next preceding his selection in the actual design, superintendency and construction of buildings. [Acts 1919, p. 326.]

Art. 680. May employ experts.—The Board may employ experts of masonry, plumbing, electrical construction, landscape gardening, and such other experts as may be necessary, as assistants to the chief of this division. [Id.]

Art. 681. Shall design public buildings.—The Board, through the chief of such division, shall design all public buildings erected at the expense of the State where designing is not otherwise provided for by law or by the appropriation bill, but in no instance shall plans or designs be adopted by the head of any department, board, institution, school or prison system of the State unless such design and plans have been approved by the Board. [Id.]

Art. 682. Shall design parks, etc.—The Board acting through such division shall design appropriate parks for each institution, school of the State, or prison system, which design shall be carried out by the head of such institution, school or prison system unless otherwise provided by law. [Id.]

Art. 683. Shall furnish schools expert, etc.—The Board through such division shall furnish any school, institution, department of the State, or prison system, on request, an expert to design and superintend any construction for landscape gardening provided for. [Id.]

Art. 684. Shall inspect plans, etc.—Where the contract price is twenty-five thousand dollars or more, the board shall inspect all plans and specifications for public buildings and structures and additions thereto that are to be constructed for and by the counties, municipalities and other political subdivisions of the State, and shall aid the commissioners court, city commission, board of aldermen, city manager, school board, committee board or other person or persons having in charge the preparation for construction of such public buildings, or structures or additions for such counties, cities, municipalities or other superintendence over all such buildings, structures or addition for such counties, cities, municipalities, and other political subdivisions, according to the terms of the contract. [Acts 1915, p. 253.]

Art. 685. Assistants appointed.—When the conditions require it, the Board may appoint not more than three assistants to the Chief of the Division of Design, Construction and Maintenance. Such assistants shall be skilled practical mechanics in the respective trades which enter into the construction of public buildings, and must have had at least ten years practical experience in their respective trade [trades] next prior to their appointment. [Id.]

Art. 686. Salaries of assistants.—The salary of each assistant shall not exceed eighteen hundred dollars per year, payable in equal monthly installments. They shall also receive their actual necessary traveling expenses while engaged in the actual performance of their duties. The Board shall not employ at any time more assistants than the fees which shall be collected under the provisions of this law shall be sufficient to pay. Expenses shall only be paid upon itemized sworn accounts, approved by the Board. The Board may discontinue the service of any assistant at its pleasure. [Id.]

Art. 687. One per cent to Treasurer.—The governing body of a city, county or political subdivision shall pay into the State Treasury one per cent of the estimated cost or contract price of each building or addition thereto to be constructed by such county, city or other political subdivision, immediately before beginning the work on such building, and the State Treasurer shall hold such sum for the purpose of defraying the salaries and other necessary expenses which may be incurred by the Board of Control in the performance of its duties as required by this Act, and such sum shall be paid out by the State Treasurer upon warrants issued by the Comptroller. [Id.]

CHAPTER SIX

DIVISION OF ESTIMATES AND APPROPRIATIONS

Art.

688. Estimates submitted.
 689. Shall investigate estimates, etc.

Article 688. Estimates submitted.—The head of each department, school, institution, and of the prison system, and the head of any of the divisions or departments of government for which appropriations are made by the Legislature, shall submit to the State Board of Control, not later than January 1st of each year preceding the regular biennial session of the Legislature, an itemized account of all items of expenses for the preceding two years, and an estimate of the appropriations required by such department, school or institution or by the prison system for the regular biennial appropriation made by the Legislature which estimate shall be submitted, itemized in such manner as the Board of Control may require. [Acts 1919, p. 327.]

Art. 689. Shall investigate estimates, etc.—Upon receipt of such estimates, the Board shall investigate and consider the same and give hearings to those who have submitted the same, and shall obtain information from every available source including the reports from its auditors and examiners. After such hearings, the Board shall make up an appropriation budget for the Legislature which shall be submitted not later than December 1st of the year immediately preceding the meeting of the regular biennial session of the Legislature. Such budget shall be made at the expense of the Board of Control, and a copy thereof shall be mailed to each person who will be a member of the next Legislature, to the Governor and to the heads of each department, institution, and school of the State, and to the prison commission. A sufficient number of copies for the use of all the members of the House and Senate during the session of the Legislature shall be delivered to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate. The Board shall also cause to be printed such extra copies for public distribution as they may deem necessary to be given to any person who calls or writes for same. [Id.]

CHAPTER SEVEN

DIVISION OF ELEEMOSYNARY INSTITUTIONS

Art.

690. Division chief.
 691. Superintendents elected.
 692. Oath of office.
 693. General powers and duties.
 694. Requisitions by the Board.
 695. Rules and regulations.

Article 690. Division chief.—The Board may employ a chief in the division of eleemosynary institutions who shall be an acting practicing surgeon, and who shall have been actively engaged in the practice of the profession for not less than ten years immediately preceding his appointment. Such physician shall be one of generally recognized eminence in his profession. [Acts 1919, p. 328.]

Art. 691. Superintendents elected.—The Board shall elect a superintendent for each institution under its control. Each superintendent shall have had special advantages and practical experience in the management of the class of persons committed to his charge. The term of office shall be two years, subject to removal by the Board for good cause. [Id.]

Art. 692. Oath of office.—Each superintendent shall take the official oath and within twenty days after receiving notice of appointment, enter into bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, payable to the state of Texas, to be approved by the Governor, and conditioned for the faithful performance of all the duties of said office. Such bond and oath shall be filed in the office of the Comptroller, and shall not become void on first recovery thereon, but may be sued upon until the full penalty is recovered.

Art. 693. General powers and duties.—The Board of Control shall have power:

1. To make rules and regulations for the government of the State eleemosynary institutions, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws.
2. To appoint all officers and employes of such institutions and fix their salaries and wages.
3. To discharge, upon the recommendation of the superintendent, any officer, employe or inmate.
4. To appoint assistant physicians, stewards, matrons and apothecaries.
5. To make all contracts and necessary arrangements for the erection of buildings or improvements upon the grounds of the institutions.
6. To examine and approve or reject any vouchers or accounts of the superintendents.
7. It shall exercise a careful supervision over the general operations of such institutions and control the expenditures, and direct the manner in which their revenue shall be disbursed.
8. It may take and hold in trust any gift or devise of real or personal estate for the benefit of such institution and apply the same as the donor or deviser may direct.
9. The Board shall maintain an effective inspection of each institution placed under its control and management, for which purpose a representative of the Board shall visit each institution once every month, and members of the Board shall visit each of such institutions at least once a year, at the time and in the manner as the board may prescribe by its rules or by-laws.
10. The general result of such inspection, with suitable suggestions, shall be inserted in a report detailing the past year's operations and the actual state of the institutions, which the Board shall make to the Legislature in January of each alternate year, accompanied by the report of the medical superintendents and stewards.
11. The Board shall keep a book in which shall be noted by the member making the visit to the institution, the date of his visit, the condition of the house, patients, and premises with such remarks of commendation or censure as may be considered by the member as pertinent, and each member shall sign the same. [Acts 1883, p. 103; Acts 1919, p. 326-7; G. L. vol. 9, p. 49.]

Art. 694. Requisitions by the Board.—All moneys appropriated by the Legislature for the erection of buildings or the making of improvements upon the grounds of an institution shall be subject to requisition by the Board of Control for the amount actually necessary to pay for such building or improvements; but no money shall be paid except it be upon estimate of completed work furnished by the contractor and approved by the architect. In no case shall more than three-fourths of the actual cost of building or improvements be paid until the work is completed and accepted. [Acts 1899, p. 318; Acts 1919, p. 326-7.]

Art. 695. Rules and regulations.—The Board may adopt such regulations as it deems proper and necessary for the payment of expenses other than salaries of officers, the purchase of supplies and such other expenditures as may be regulated by law; but under such regulations no money appropriated shall be drawn from the Treasury except upon vouchers specifying in detail the exact purpose for which the same is needed, certified as true and correct by the superintendent and approved by the Board. [Acts 1883, p. 103; G. L. vol. 9, p. 49.]

TITLE 21

BOND INVESTMENT COMPANIES

Art.

- 696. Deposit.
- 697. Default of deposit.
- 698. Receiver.
- 699. Interchange of deposit.
- 700. Return of deposit.

Article 696. [1309] Deposit.—Each corporation, company or individual, doing business in this State as a bond investment company, or company to place or sell bonds, certificates or debentures on the partial payment or installment plan, shall deposit with the State Treasurer, in cash or securities approved by said Treasurer, the sum of five thousand dollars, and shall deposit semi-annually with said Treasurer, in cash or securities, to be approved by said officer, ten per cent of all net premiums received until the sum deposited amounts to one hundred thousand dollars. [Acts 1897, p. 118; G. L. vol. 10; p. 1172.]

Art. 697. [1310] Default of deposit.—If any such domestic corporation, shall fail, for sixty days after its organization, to make with the State Treasurer the deposit required by this title, it shall be considered to have forfeited its charter; and the Attorney General shall upon information thereof, bring suit in the name of the State to have such charter or certificate of incorporation declared forfeited, and the court, upon so finding, shall declare such charter forfeited and appoint a receiver for such company, whose duty it shall be, under the order of the court, to distribute to the shareholders the assets of the company. The court shall out of such assets make equitable compensation for the receiver. [Id.]

Art. 698. [1311] Receiver.—In case of the failure of any such company, the district court of the county in which the principal office is located, upon the application of one or more shareholders, shall appoint a receiver for such company, whose duty it shall be to wind up its affairs, liquidate its debts, and distribute its assets, using therefor, upon the order of the court, the deposit previously made with the State Treasurer to secure the shareholders. Said Treasurer is authorized to pay out such deposit upon the warrant of the Comptroller in accordance with requisitions made upon the Comptroller by said receiver, approved by the court. [Id.]

Art. 699. [1312] Interchange of deposit.—On request of any such company, the State Treasurer is authorized to permit such company to interchange cash for the securities or securities for the cash deposited by such company under the provisions of this title with said Treasurer, such securities always to be approved by said Treasurer on the written advice of the Attorney General. [Acts 1901, p. 282.]

Art. 700. [1313] Return of deposit.—If any such company shall cease to do business in this State and satisfy the Comptroller and the Attorney General that it has no liabilities in this State, the Comptroller shall issue his warrant to the State Treasurer; and said Treasurer upon such warrant of the Comptroller, shall return to such company the cash or securities deposited by it under the provisions of this title. [Id.]

GENERAL PROVISIONS AND REGULATIONS

Art.

701. Shall hold election.
702. Question submitted.
703. Submission of proposition.
704. Time of election, etc.
705. Form of ballot.
706. Maturity dates.
707. Interest and sinking fund.
708. Sale price.
709. Examination of bonds, etc.
710. Registration.
711. Special registration.
712. Certificate of approval.
713. Shall cancel old bonds.
714. Requisites of cancellation.
715. Evidence of validity.
716. Validity of certain bonds.
717. Exceptions.

Article 701. [605] Shall hold election.—The bonds of a county or an incorporated city or town shall never be issued for any purpose unless a proposition for the issuance of such bonds shall have been first submitted to the qualified voters who are property tax payers of such county, city or town. [Acts 1899, pp. 103 and 258.]

Art. 702. Question submitted.—In all cases when the governing body of a county, city or town shall order an election for the issuance of the bonds of the county, city or town or of any political subdivision or defined district of a county, such body shall at the same time submit the question of whether or not a tax shall be levied upon the property of such county, city or town, political subdivision or defined district for the purpose of paying the interest on the bonds and to create a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds.

Art. 703. [606] Submission of proposition.—The proposition to be submitted shall distinctly specify:

1. The purpose for which the bonds are to be issued;
2. The amount thereof;
3. The rate of interest;
4. The levy of taxes sufficient to pay the annual interest and provide a sinking fund to pay the bonds at maturity;
5. The maturity date, or that the bonds may be issued to mature serially within any given number of years not to exceed forty. [Id. Acts 1899, p. 258; Acts 1st C. S. 1921, p. 37.]

Art. 704. [607] Time of election, etc.—The time and place or places of holding said election shall be designated in the election order. The manner of holding the same shall be governed by the laws regulating general elections. [Acts 1899, p. 258.]

Art. 705. [606] Form of ballot.—All voters desiring to support the proposition shall have written or printed upon their ballots the words "For the issuance of bonds," and those opposed, the words "Against the issuance of bonds." [Id.]

Art. 706. [611] [878] Maturity dates.—Bonds may be issued to mature serially within any given number of years not to exceed forty, within the discretion of the governing body issuing the same. [Acts 1893, p. 112; G. L. vol. 10, p. 542.]

Art. 707. [616] [918a] Interest and sinking fund.—When the issuance of bonds has been authorized, the governing body of a county or town shall provide for the levy and collection of a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest and provide a sinking fund for the payment of the bonds at maturity. Such bonds shall bear a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent. [Acts 1893, p. 84; G. L. vol. 10, p. 514.]

Art. 708. [617] [918b] Sale price.—Bonds shall never be sold at less than their par value and accumulated interest, exclusive of commissions. [Id.]

Art. 709. [619] [918d] Examination of bonds, etc.—Before any bonds shall be offered for sale, the county judge or the mayor, as the case may be, shall forward the bonds to the Attorney General, together with a certified copy of the order or ordinance levying the tax to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund, and a statement of the total bonded indebtedness of the county, city or town, including the series of bonds proposed, together with the amount of the assessed value of the property of the county, city or town for purposes of taxation as shown by the last official assessment of such county, city or town. Such county judge or mayor shall also furnish the Attorney General with any additional information he may require. [Id.]

Art. 710. [620] [918e] Registration.—When said bonds have been examined and certified by the Attorney General, they shall be registered by the Comptroller in a book kept for that purpose. [Id.; Acts 1901, p. 16.]

Art. 711. [621] [469] [423] Special registration.—The Comptroller shall indorse his certificate of registration on each city bond so registered, and at the request of the mayor, give his certificate to the amount of bonds so registered to date. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 506.]

Art. 712. [622] [918e] Certificate of approval.—The certificate of the Attorney General to the validity of such bonds shall be preserved of record. [Acts 1893, p. 84; Acts 1901, p. 16; G. L. vol. 10, p. 542.]

Art. 713. [623] [918e] Shall cancel old bonds.—In the case of funding or refunding bonds, the Comptroller shall not register the same until the original bonds are presented to him for cancellation. [Id.]

Art. 714. [624] [918e] Requisites of cancellation.—After registration of the new bonds, the Comptroller shall cancel the old, and deliver the new bonds to the proper party or parties. The old bonds may be presented for cancellation in installments, and a like amount of the new bonds registered and delivered as herein provided. [Id.]

Art. 715. [625] [918f] Evidence of validity.—Such bonds, after receiving the certificate of the Attorney General, and having been registered in the Comptroller's office, shall be held in every action, suit or proceeding in which their validity is or may be brought into question, prima facie valid and binding obligations. In every action brought to enforce collection of such bonds, the certificate of the Attorney General, or a duly certified copy thereof, shall be admitted and received in evidence of its validity, together with the coupons attached thereto. The only defense which can be offered against the validity of such bonds shall be forgery or fraud. This article shall not be construed to give validity to any such bonds as may be issued in excess of the limit fixed by the Constitution, or contrary to its provisions. [Id.]

Art. 716. Validity of certain bonds.—No bonds or coupons legally and lawfully issued and signed by the duly authorized officers of any county, city, town, political subdivision, defined district or school district of this State shall ever be held invalid by reason of the fact that at the time of the actual delivery of such bonds to a purchaser, the respective persons who had signed such bonds or coupons may have been replaced in their respective offices by other persons after the signing of such bonds or coupons but before the delivery thereof. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1923, p. 60.]

Art. 717. [608] Exceptions.—The first three articles of this chapter shall not apply to funding bonds issued, or to be issued, for the funding of any valid outstanding bonds of a county, town or city; nor to any bond issue for a sum less than two thousand dollars, when issued for the purpose of repairing buildings or structures for the building of which bonds are allowed to be issued. [Acts 1899, p. 258.]

CHAPTER TWO

COURTHOUSE, JAIL AND OTHER BONDS

Art.

- 718. County issues authorized.
- 719. Requisite vote.
- 720. Term of bonds.
- 721. Interest on bonds.
- 722. Limit of issue.
- 723. Interest and sinking fund.
- 724. Bonds to be signed, etc.
- 725. Substitution of bonds.

Article 718. [610] [877] County issues authorized.—After having been authorized as provided in Chapter One of this title, the commissioners court of a county may lawfully issue the bonds of said county for the following purposes:

1. To erect the county courthouse and jail, or either;
2. To purchase suitable sites within the county and construct buildings thereon to provide homes or schools for dependent and delinquent boys and girls or for either;
3. To establish county poor houses and farms in the county;
4. To purchase and construct bridges for public purposes within the county or across a stream that constitutes a boundary line of the county;
5. To improve and maintain the public roads in the county.

When the commissioners court shall deem it advisable to issue bonds for both the purchase or construction of bridges and improvement and maintenance of the public roads, both questions may be submitted and voted on as one proposition. [Acts 1903, C. S. p. 9; Acts 1893, p. 112; Acts 1911, p. 204; Acts 1921, p. 98; G. L. vol. 10, p. 542.]

Art. 719. [605] Requisite vote.—If a majority of the property tax paying voters voting at such election, shall vote in favor of the proposition, then such bonds shall be thereby authorized and shall be issued by the commissioners court. [Acts 1899, pp. 103 and 258.]

Art. 720. [611] [878] Term of bonds.—All bonds issued under this chapter shall run not exceeding forty years, and may be redeemable at the pleasure of the county at any time after five years after the issuance of the bonds, or after any period not exceeding ten years, which may be fixed by the commissioners court. [Acts 1893, p. 112; G. L. vol. 10, p. 542.]

Art. 721. [612] [879] Interest on bonds.—Such bonds shall draw interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent. per annum, payable annually or semi-annually within the discretion of the governing body. Interest shall be evidenced by attached coupons. [Id.]

Art. 722. [613] [880] Limit of issue.—The issue of bonds under this chapter shall be based upon the taxable values of the county according to the last approved assessment, and shall be limited as follows: Courthouse and jail bonds shall be limited to an amount not exceeding two per cent of said taxable values; bridge bonds, to an amount not exceeding one and one-half per cent of said taxable values. In determining the amount of the bonds of the respective kinds to be issued, previous indebtedness for said several purposes shall be considered. The total indebtedness of any county for the purposes provided in this chapter, shall not be increased by any issue of bonds to a sum exceeding five per cent of its said taxable values. [Id.; Acts 3rd C. S. 1920, p. 97.]

Art. 723. [614] [881] Interest and sinking fund.—The commissioners court shall levy annual ad valorem taxes sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and create a sinking fund for their redemption; which shall not exceed for courthouse and jail bonds, one-fourth of one per cent; for bridge or road and bridge bonds, fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars. [Acts 1893, p. 112; G. L. vol. 10, p. 542.]

Art. 724. [615] [882] Bonds to be signed, etc.—The bonds shall be signed by the county judge and countersigned by the county clerk and registered by the county treasurer before delivery. The county treasurer shall keep an account of the amount of principal and interest paid on each, and no bond shall be sold at less than its par value and accrued interest, exclusive of commissions. [Id.]

Art. 725. [657] Substitution of bonds.—Where bonds have been legally issued, or may be hereafter issued for any purpose authorized in this chapter, new bonds in lieu thereof bearing the same or a lower rate of interest may be issued, in conformity with existing law, and the commissioners court may issue such bonds to mature serially or otherwise, not to exceed forty years from their date. [Acts 1901, p. 16; Acts 1893, p. 112; G. L. vol. 10, p. 542.]

1. COUNTY AND DISTRICT BONDS

Articles 726–752. [Repealed by Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 30.]

Art. 752a. Power to issue road bonds.—Any county, or any political subdivision of a county, or any road district that has been or may hereafter be created by any general or special law, is hereby authorized to issue bonds for the purpose of the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, in any amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of such county or political subdivision or road district, and to levy and collect ad valorem taxes to pay the interest on such bonds and provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof. Such bonds shall be issued in the manner hereinafter provided, and as contemplated and authorized by section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution of this State. The term "political subdivision" as used in this Act, shall be construed to mean any commissioners precinct or any justice precinct of a county, now or hereafter to be created and established. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 1.]

Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 31, read as follows: "Nothing in this Act shall be construed as invalidating any bond elections previously ordered or held within and for any county in this state or any political subdivision or defined district of any county under the provisions of Chapter 2, Title 18, Revised Statutes of 1911, and amendments thereto, or Chapter 3, Title 22, Revised Statutes, 1925, or under authority of any special county road law."

Art. 752b. Bond elections.—Upon the petition of fifty resident property taxpaying voters of any county, the commissioners' court of such county, at any Regular or Special Session thereof, shall order an election to be held in such county to determine whether or not the bonds of such county shall be issued for the purpose of the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, and whether or not taxes shall be levied on all taxable property of said county, subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity. The election order and notice of election shall state the purpose for which the bonds are to be issued, the amount thereof, the rate of interest, and that ad valorem taxes are to be levied annually on all taxable property within said county sufficient to pay the annual interest and provide a sinking fund to pay the bonds at maturity. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 2.]

Art. 752c. Establishment of road districts.—The County Commissioners' Courts of the several counties of this State may hereafter establish one or more road districts in their respective counties, and may or may not include within the boundaries and limits of such districts, villages, towns and municipal corporations, or any portion thereof, and may or may not include previously created road districts and political subdivisions or precincts that have voted and issued road bonds pursuant to section 52 of Article 3, of the Constitution, by entering an order declaring such road district established and defining the boundaries thereof. Provided that nothing in this Act shall be construed so as to prevent the creation of defined road districts and the issuance of bonds of said districts in counties having outstanding county-wide road bonds, and said defined road districts may be created in such counties in the manner provided by statute for the creation of defined road districts and issuing the bonds thereof. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 3; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 250, ch. 92, § 1.]

Art. 752cc. Road district including portion of previous road district containing other improvement district.—If any road district a portion of which is proposed to be incorporated into a new road district, should embrace the whole or any part of any levee improvement district, drainage district, or other improvement district created under any law passed pursuant to Section 52, Article 3, of the Constitution of this

State, the territory covered by such other district and other territory adjacent thereto may be excluded from the district sought to be created, but except as herein specifically permitted, no fractional part of a previously created road district shall be included within the limits of the road district created under the provision of this Act, and such excluded territory shall continue to bear and pay its proper proportion or any existing debt created for the construction of macadamized, graveled, or paved roads and turnpikes or in aid thereof, but shall not pay any portion of any debt created for said purposes after such territory is excluded from the district. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 3a; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 201, ch. 75, § 1.]

Art. 752d. Petition for election.—Where any political subdivision, or any road district, desires to issue bonds, there shall be presented to the Commissioners' Court of the county in which such subdivision or district is situated, a petition signed by fifty or a majority of the resident property taxpaying voters of said subdivision or road district praying such court to order an election to determine whether or not the bonds of such subdivision or district shall be issued to an amount stated for the purpose of the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, and whether or not taxes shall be levied on all taxable property within said subdivision or district in payment thereof. Upon presentation of such petition, it shall be the duty of the court to which it is presented to fix a time and place at which such petition shall be heard, which date shall be not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of the order. The clerk of said court shall forthwith issue a notice of such time and place of hearing, which notice shall inform all persons concerned of the time and place of hearing and of their right to appear at such hearing and contend for or protest the ordering of such bond election. Such notice shall state the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, and shall describe such political subdivision or road district by its name or number, and shall describe the boundaries thereof as such boundaries are described and defined in the order of the Commissioners' Court establishing such subdivision or district. The clerk shall execute said notice by posting true copies thereof in three public places within such subdivision or road district and one at the court house door of the county. Said notice shall be posted for ten days prior to the date of said hearing. Said notice shall also be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the subdivision or district, if a newspaper is published therein, one time, and at least five days prior to such hearing. If no newspaper is published in such subdivision or district, then such notice shall be published in some newspaper published in the county, if there be one. The duties herein imposed upon the clerk may be performed by said clerk in person or by deputy, as provided by law for other similar duties. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 4.]

Art. 752e. Hearing and determination.—At the time and place set for the hearing of the petition, or such subsequent date as may then be fixed, the court shall proceed to hear such petition and all matters in respect of the proposed bond election. Any person interested may appear before the court in person or by attorney and contend for or protest the calling of such proposed bond election. Such a hearing may be adjourned from day to day and from time to time, as the court may deem necessary. If upon the hearing of such petition, it be found that the same is signed by fifty or a majority of the resident property tax paying voters of such subdivision or road district, and that due notice has been given, and that the proposed improvements would be for the benefit of all taxable property situated in such subdivision or road district, then such court may make and cause to be entered of record upon its minutes an order directing that an election be held within and for such subdivision or road district at a date to be fixed in the order, for the purpose of determining the questions mentioned in such petitions; provided, however, that such court may change the amount of the bonds proposed to be issued, if, upon the hearing such change be found necessary or desirable. The proposition to be submitted at such election shall specify the purpose for which the bonds are to be issued, the amount thereof, the rate of interest, and that ad valorem taxes are to be levied annually on all taxable property within said district or subdivision sufficient to pay the annual interest and provide a sinking fund to pay the bonds at maturity. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 5.]

Art. 752f. Notice of election.—If the proposed issue of bonds and levy of taxes is for the entire county, notice of the election shall be given by publication in a newspaper published in such county, for three successive weeks, if there be one. In addition thereto, for three weeks prior to said election, notice shall be posted by the county clerk at four public places in the county, one of which shall be the courthouse door. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 6.]

Art. 752f-1. Election in political subdivision or road district.—If the proposed issue of bonds and levy of taxes is for a political subdivision or road district, notice of such election shall be given by publishing in a newspaper in the subdivision or district for three successive weeks, and by posting notices in at least three public places in such subdivision or district and at the courthouse door of the county. If no newspaper is published therein, then such published notice shall be given in some newspaper published in the county, if there be one. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 7.]

Art. 752f-2. Place of holding election in subdivisions.—The commissioners' court shall determine the time and place or places of holding such election, and the date of such election shall be not less than thirty days from the date of making the order of election. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 8.]

Art. 752g. Manner of holding election.—The manner of holding such election and canvassing and making returns thereof, shall be governed by the General Laws of this State when not in conflict with the provisions of this Act [Arts. 752a-752w, 767a-767d]. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 9.]

Art. 752h. Issuance of bonds.—If at such election two-thirds of the property tax paying voters, voting at such election, cast their ballots in favor of the issuance of bonds, the Commissioners' Court shall, as soon [soon] thereafter as practicable, issue said bonds on the faith and credit of said county, or political subdivision or road district, as the case may be. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 10.]

Art. 752i. Maturity dates and interest rate.—Such bonds shall mature not later than thirty years from their date, except as herein otherwise provided; they shall be issued in such denominations, and payable at such time or times as may be deemed most expedient by the Commissioners' Court, and shall bear interest not to exceed five and one-half per cent per annum. The general laws relative to county bonds, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act [Arts. 752a-752w, 767a-767d], shall apply to the issuance, approval and certification, the registration, the sale and payment of the bonds provided for in this Act. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 11.]

Art. 752j. Sale of bonds and disposition of proceeds.—After approval and registration as provided by law relative to other bonds, such bonds shall continue in the custody and control of the Commissioners' Court of the county in which they were issued, and shall be by said court sold to the highest and best bidder for cash, either in whole or in parcels, at not less than their par value, and the purchase money therefor shall be placed in the county treasury of such county to the credit of the available road fund of such county, or of such political subdivision or road district of such county, as the case may be. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 12.]

Art. 752k. Ad valorem tax levy.—Before such bonds shall be put on the market, the County Commissioners' Court of the county in which such election was held, shall levy an ad valorem tax sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds and to provide a sinking fund to pay the bonds at maturity. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 13.]

Art. 752l. County assessments.—When such bonds are issued on the faith and credit of the county, the taxes herein authorized shall be assessed and collected in the same manner as now provided by law for the assessment and collection of other county taxes. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 14.]

Art. 752m. District and subdivision assessments.—When such bonds are issued for and on the faith and credit of a political subdivision or road district, such taxes shall be assessed and collected in the same manner as is now provided by law for the assessment and collection of common school district taxes. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 15.]

Art. 752n. Duties of assessor and collector.—The tax assessor and tax collector of the county wherein such taxes have been levied, shall assess and collect the same in the manner and at the time as other taxes; and when so collected, the tax collector shall pay them to the county treasurer as other taxes are paid. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 16.]

Art. 752o. Duties of custodian and depository of proceeds.—The county treasurer is custodian of all funds collected by virtue of this law, and shall deposit them, with the county depository in the same manner as county funds are deposited. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer to promptly pay the interest and principal as it becomes due on such bonds out of the funds collected and deposited for that purpose. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 17.]

Art. 752p. Disbursement of proceeds by county treasurer.—The purchase money for such county bonds shall be paid out by the county treasurer upon warrants drawn on the available road fund, issued by the county clerk, countersigned by the county judge, upon certified accounts approved by the Commissioners' Court of the county; and the purchase money for such bonds issued on the faith and credit of a political subdivision or road district shall be paid out by the county treasurer upon warrants drawn on the available road fund thereof, issued by the county clerk, countersigned by the county judge, and approved by the Commissioners' Court. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 18.]

Art. 752q. Expenses.—The expense incurred in surveying the boundaries of a political subdivision or road district, and other expenses incident to the issuance of bonds of such subdivision or district, shall be paid from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds of the subdivision or district issuing the same. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 19.]

Art. 752r. Districts and subdivisions bodies corporate.—Any road district, or any political subdivision accepting the provisions of this Act, shall be a body corporate and may sue and be sued in like manner as counties; provided, however, that no such road district or political subdivision shall ever be held liable for torts. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 20.]

Art. 752s. Classification of county bonds.—When the road bonds have been issued by a county as a whole, such bonds shall be known and designated as "_____ County Road Bonds," taking the name of the county issuing the same, and shall express on their face that they are issued under authority of Section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution of Texas, and laws enacted pursuant thereto. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 21.]

Art. 752t. Classification of subdivision bonds.—If the proposition to issue the road bonds of a political subdivision or road district is adopted, such bonds shall express on their face: The State of Texas, the name of the county, the number or corporate name of the subdivision or district issuing such bonds, and they shall be designated as "Road Bonds," and express on their face that they are issued under authority of Section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution of Texas, and laws enacted pursuant thereto. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 22.]

Art. 752u. Powers of county commissioner.—The County Commissioner in whose Commissioners' precinct such political subdivision or road district is located, shall be ex officio road superintendent of said subdivision or district with power to contract in behalf of such subdivision or district in an amount not to exceed fifty dollars, which shall be approved by the Commissioners' Court. All contracts exceeding the sum of fifty dollars shall be awarded by the entire court. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 23.]

Art. 752v. Award of contracts.—Before the Commissioners' Court shall let a contract for work in a county or road district or subdivision, bids shall be invited by publishing an advertisement in a newspaper published in such county, and outside of the county, if the Commissioners' Court deems it advisable to do so. All contracts shall be awarded to the lowest and best bidder. Any or all bids may be rejected. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 24.]

Art. 752w. Certain counties may avail.—Any county operating under the provisions of special road tax law may take advantage of any of the provisions of this Chapter. [Arts. 752a-752w, 767a-767d.] [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 29.]

2. COMPENSATION BONDS

Arts. 753-767. [Repealed by Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 30.]

Art. 767a. Compensation bond issue.—Whenever in any political subdivision or road district in any county bonds have been issued under the authority of any general or special law enacted pursuant to Section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution, and thereafter bonds are voted by the entire county for the purposes hereinafter authorized, such political subdivisions or road districts first issuing bonds may be fully and fairly compensated by the county in an amount equal in value to the amount of district bonds issued by such districts and which shall be done in the form and manner hereinafter prescribed:

(1) It shall be the duty of the Commissioners' Court, upon the presentation of a petition signed by two hundred and fifty resident property taxpaying voters of the county, whether residing in such road district or districts, or not, to order an election under the provisions of this Act to determine whether or not the bonds of such county shall be issued for road construction purposes as authorized by subdivisions 3 and 4 of this section.

(2) Such county bonds to be issued in such an amount as may be stated in the order of the Commissioners' Court, but within the limitations of the constitutional and statutory provisions; and at such election there shall also be submitted to the resident property taxpaying voters of the county the question as to whether or not a tax shall be levied upon the property of said county, subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof.

(3) When such road district or districts have by the requisite vote of the qualified property taxpaying voters thereof authorized, the issuance of bonds, and the same have not been issued and sold, or, if sold and the proceeds have not been expended at the time the election is to be ordered for the entire county, then the proposed county bonds shall be issued for the following purpose: "The issuance of county bonds for the construction of district roads and the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes or in aid thereof, throughout such county." If the proposition to issue such county bonds for said purpose shall receive the necessary favorable vote as is now provided by law, and said bonds shall have been approved and issued, then so much of the bonds so issued by the county as may be necessary to fairly and fully compensate such road district or districts shall be set aside by the Commissioners' Court for that purpose; provided, that in the event such district bonds have not been issued and sold, then so much of the bonds so issued by the county as may be necessary to fairly and fully compensate such road district or districts shall be set aside for that purpose, and the same shall be sold and the proceeds applied to the construction, maintenance and operation of the roads within and for such road district or districts as contemplated by the election or elections theretofore held within and for such road district or districts and such unsold district bonds shall thereupon become totally void, and it shall be the duty of the Commissioners' Court of such county to immediately cancel and destroy such unsold district bonds; provided, however, that in the event such district bonds have been sold, then an exchange of a like amount of said county bonds may be made with the holder or holders of said district bonds as provided by subdivision 1 of Section 26, of this Act [Art. 767b], but if the Commissioners' Court should find that such exchange cannot be made, then so much of the county bonds as may be necessary shall be transferred and placed to the credit of the interest and sinking fund account of such road district or districts in conformity with the procedure prescribed by subdivision 2 of Section 26 hereof.

(4) Where such road district or districts have issued bonds for the construction of public roads therein and the proceeds derived from the sale of the bonds have been applied to the construction of roads within and for such districts, then such district roads may be merged into and become a part of the general county system of public roads and such road district or districts shall be fully and fairly compensated by the county in an amount equal in value to the amount of bonds outstanding against such road district or districts at the time the bonds are issued by the county, and the proposed county bonds shall be issued for the following purpose: "The issuance of county bonds for the purchase of district roads and the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled, or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, throughout such county." In the event the proposition to issue such county bonds shall receive the necessary favorable vote as is now provided by law, and said bonds shall have been approved and issued, then so much of the bonds so issued by the county as may be necessary for that purpose shall be set aside and exchanged for a like amount of outstanding district bonds, or the same may be transferred and placed to the credit of such road district or districts for the purpose of paying and retiring such district bonds as the same may mature. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 25.]

See Art. 752w as to what counties may take advantage of Chapter 16, Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S.

See note to Art. 752a for general saving section of ch. 16, Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S.

Art. 767b. Exchange of bonds.—If the proposition to issue such county bonds shall receive the necessary favorable vote as is now provided by law, and said bonds shall have been approved and issued, the taxes theretofore levied and collected in any road district or districts shall from that date be dispensed with as hereinafter provided, and the bonds so set apart by the Commissioners' Court shall be used exclusively for the purpose of constructing the roads in any such subdivisions or districts or for the purpose of purchasing or taking over the improved roads in any such subdivisions or districts, as the case may be. The exchange of such county bonds for such outstanding district bonds shall be made in one of the following methods, to wit:

(1) An exchange of said bonds may be made with the holder or holders of any outstanding district bonds. The agreement for such exchange shall be evidenced by order of the Commissioners' Court authorizing the same and by the written consent of the holder or holders of such district bonds, properly signed and acknowledged, as provided for the acknowledgment of written instruments by the laws of this State, which said order of the Commissioners' Court, written agreement properly executed by the holder or holders of such district bonds, together with the county bonds to be given in exchange, shall be presented to and approved by the Attorney General of the State and shall bear his certificate of approval before the exchange is finally consummated [consummated]. When such exchange of county bonds for district bonds shall have been consummated [consummated], it shall be the duty of the Commissioners' Court to cancel and destroy said district bonds, and thereafter no tax shall ever be levied or collected therefor under the original election in such subdivisions or districts and the sinking funds then on hand to the credit of any such subdivisions or districts shall be passed to the sinking fund account of the county.

(2) In the event the exchange of the county bonds for the outstanding district bonds cannot be made as hereinabove provided for, it shall then be the duty of the Commissioners' Court, at as early a date as practicable, to deposit with the county treasurer for the credit of the interest and sinking fund account of such road district or districts an amount of county bonds equal in value to the amount of outstanding district bonds. The order of the Commissioners' Court authorizing the deposit of county bonds for the credit of the interest and sinking fund account of such road district or districts, together with the county bonds so authorized to be deposited, shall be presented to and approved by the Attorney General of the State and shall bear his certificate of approval before such deposit of county bonds shall be made and credit passed to such road district or districts; provided, however, that such county bonds before deposited shall have printed or written across the face thereof the word "Nonnegotiable" and shall further recite that they are deposited to the credit of the interest and sinking fund account of the road district therein named as a guarantee for the payment of the outstanding district bonds that have not been exchanged, and the coupons annexed to such county bonds so deposited shall have written or printed thereon the word "Nonnegotiable." After such county bonds shall have been deposited for the credit of the interest and sinking fund accounts of any such road district or districts the sinking fund then on hand to the credit of such road district or districts shall be passed to the credit of the sinking fund account of the county and the Commissioners' Court shall no longer levy and collect the taxes provided for under the original election for said bonds in such road district or districts, but in lieu thereof the said court shall, from the taxes levied for the purpose of providing the necessary interest on the county bonds hereinabove provided for, pay annually the interest on said county bonds deposited for the credit of such road district or districts, detaching the coupon therefor, and said payment of interest shall be passed to the credit of the interest account of such road district or districts as the owner or owners of said county bonds, and the funds so realized by said road district or districts shall be used by the Commissioners' Court for the purpose of paying the interest on all such outstanding district bonds. It shall also be the duty of the Commissioners' Court to set aside annually, from the taxes levied to provide the necessary sinking fund for such county bonds, the necessary sinking fund for the retirement of said county bonds and upon maturity of said county bonds the Commissioners' Court shall pay said bonds in full and said payments shall be passed to the credit of the sinking fund of such road district or districts and the funds so realized by said road district or districts shall be used by the Commissioners' Court to pay in full all outstanding district bonds. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 26.]

Art. 767c. Issuance, form and requisites of compensation bonds.—The county bonds issued for the purpose contemplated in subdivisions three and four of Section 25 [Art. 767a] hereof, shall be issued in similar denominations, bearing the same rate of interest, having the same date or dates of maturity and with similar options of payment as the outstanding district bonds, it being the intent hereof that said county bonds shall in every respect be similar to said district bonds, except they shall be county obligations instead of district obligations, and shall be dated on a date after the date of the election at which they were authorized; and the county bonds issued in excess of the amount required to exchange [exchange], offset and retire said outstanding district bonds shall be issued and sold in the manner now provided by law and may mature serially or otherwise at the discretion of the Commissioners' Court and may run for a term not to exceed forty years and such bonds shall bear not more than five and one-half per cent interest per annum, and the proceeds thereof shall be credited to the available [available] road fund of the county and shall be expended by the Commissioners' Court in constructing, maintaining and operating macadamized, graveled, or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, throughout such county. The issuance and sale of the bonds herein authorized and the levy and collection of taxes therefor shall be conducted as now required by law on other county bonds, except as herein otherwise provided; and provided further that the necessary expense incident to the issuance of said bonds may be paid out of the proceeds from the sale thereof. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 27.]

Art. 767d. Previously created districts and subdivisions.—Where any road district created under the provisions of this Act [Arts. 752a-752w, 767a-767d] includes within its limits any previously created road district, or any political subdivision or precinct, having at such time road bond debts outstanding, such included district or subdivision shall be fully and fairly compensated by the new district in an amount equal to the amount of the bonds outstanding against such included subdivision or district, and which shall be done in the form and manner prescribed for the issuance of county bonds under Sections 25 to 27, inclusive of this Act [Arts. 767a-767c], except the petition shall be signed by fifty or a majority of the resident property taxpaying voters of the new district, and the bonds proposed to be issued shall be for the purchase or construction of roads in the included subdivisions or districts and the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof. [Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 28.]

3. CONSOLIDATED DISTRICTS

Arts. 768-778. [Repealed by Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 30].

3a. DISTRICTS IN ADJOINING COUNTIES

Art. 778a. Power to issue bonds.—That, pursuant to authority conferred by Section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution, any number of adjoining counties within this State are hereby empowered and authorized to issue bonds in any amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of the territory included within such counties, and to levy and collect annually ad valorem taxes to pay the interest upon such bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof, for the purpose of the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof. The phrase "any number of adjoining counties" as used in this Act [Arts. 778a-778p], shall be construed to mean "two or more counties contiguous to each other." [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 1.]

Section 17 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, provided that if any part thereof is held invalid, such holding shall not affect the remainder.

Art. 778b. Procedure prescribed.—In the event the qualified property taxpaying voters residing within two or more adjoining counties desire to combine such counties into one defined road district, for the purpose of the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, it shall be lawful for them to do so by following the procedure prescribed in the subsequent sections of this Act [Arts. 778c-778p]. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 2.]

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art. 778c. Petition for road district.—The petition for the creation and establishment of a defined road district composed of two or more adjoining counties, shall be signed by not less than fifty qualified voters and property taxpayers in each county. A separate petition for the establishment of said district shall be presented to the commissioners' court of each county in said proposed district. The following proceedings shall be had in each county:

(1) Each petition shall describe in general terms the road or roads proposed to be constructed, and in like general terms the cities, towns and villages, if any, to be connected by such road or roads, and shall name each county proposed to be included within such road district. Each petition shall request the commissioners' court to order an election to determine whether said county shall be included in the proposed road district;

(2) Upon presentation of each petition, it shall be the duty of the court to which it is presented, to fix a time such petition shall be heard, and the date of hearing shall be not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of the order, and the place of hearing shall be the regular meeting place of the commissioners' court in the county courthouse;

(3) The county clerk shall forthwith issue notice of such time and place of hearing, which notice shall inform all persons concerned of the time and place of hearing, and of their right to appear at such hearing and contend for or protest the ordering of such election. Such notice shall set forth in substance the contents of the petition, and shall give the name of each county proposed to be included within the road district. The clerk shall execute said notice by posting true copies thereof in five public places, within the county, to-wit: One copy at the courthouse door, and one copy in each commissioners' precinct. Said notice shall be posted for ten days prior to the date of such hearing. Said notice shall also be published in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the county, one time, and at least five days prior to such hearing; provided, however, that if no newspaper is published in the county, then the posting of the notice as hereinabove directed, shall be sufficient. The duties herein imposed upon the clerk, may be performed by said clerk in person, or by deputy, as provided by law for similar duties;

(4) At the time and place set for the hearing of the petition or such subsequent date as may then be fixed, the court shall proceed to hear such petition and all matters in respect of the proposed road district. Any person interested may appear before the court in person, or by attorney, and contend for or protest the creation of the proposed road district. Such hearing may be adjourned from day to day, and from time to time, as the court may deem necessary. If upon the hearing of such petition, it be found that the same is signed by fifty of the resident property taxpaying voters of the county, and that due notice thereof has been given, and that the creation of the proposed district by the consolidation of such county with the other counties named in the proceedings, would be for the benefit of all taxable property situated in such county, then such court may make and cause to be entered of record upon its minutes, an order directing that an election be held within such county at a date to be fixed in the order, but not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of the election order. Notice of such election shall be given in the same manner and for the same time required for notices of the hearing on the petition. Provided, however, that the elections shall be held in each county on the same date;

(5) The manner of holding such election and canvassing and making the returns thereof, shall be governed by the General Laws of this State, when not in conflict with the provisions of this Act [Arts. 778a-778p];

(6) When the election for the creation of the district has been held, the officers named by the commissioners' courts of the different counties to hold the election in their respective counties, shall make returns of the election to the commissioners' courts of their respective counties, and return all ballot boxes to the clerk of the commissioners' court of the county. It shall be the duty of the commissioners' court of each county in the proposed road district, upon receiving the returns of the election, to canvass the same and certify the result of the election in the county to the county judge of the county having the largest number of inhabitants, as shown by the last Federal census. Upon receipt of the returns of the election in the different counties of the district, the county judge designated to canvass the vote, shall canvass such vote and certify the result to each county in the proposed district. If the votes cast in each and all counties show a majority in favor of the consolidation of such counties into a defined road district, the commissioners' court of each county shall thereupon declare such defined road district created, and such district shall be known as _____ Counties Road District of Texas, enumerating the counties embraced within such district in alphabetical order. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 3.]

Art. 778d. Directors of district.—The county judges and county commissioners of the counties composing such district shall be ex-officio directors of such district, and they shall have the same power and authority with reference to the management of the affairs of said district as commissioners' courts have in respect of road districts wholly within one county. Said district when so formed, shall be a defined district within the meaning of the Constitution and a body corporate. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 4.]

Art. 778e. Purchasing improved roads.—Such road district may or may not purchase or take over improved roads already constructed by any county or other road district included therein; provided, that in the event it is determined to take over or purchase such improved roads, then the same shall be done in conformity with the procedure prescribed by Section 25 et seq., of Chapter 16, of the General Laws passed by the Thirty-ninth Legislature, at its First Called Session, in 1926, except that no petition shall be necessary. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 5.]

Art. 778f. Bond election.—After the creation of any such road district, the commissioners' court of the counties included therein, at a joint meeting held in the county having the largest number of inhabitants, as shown by the last Federal census, may order an election to be held within such district at a time not less than thirty days from the date of said order, at which election there shall be submitted this proposition:

"Shall the _____ Counties Road District of Texas, be authorized to issue the bonds of said district in the total sum of _____ dollars ($—), and to levy annually ad valorem taxes on all taxable property in said district to pay the interest on said bonds and create a sinking fund to redeem the principal at maturity, for the purpose of the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, within said district.

"The roads to be constructed from the proceeds of the sale of said bonds, and the amount apportioned to each road, is as follows:

"(Here set out the road or roads as described in the order and notice of the election to determine the creation of the district, and the amount to be expended on each such road or roads.)"

In the event it is proposed to purchase or take over the improved roads already constructed by an included county, or any included road district, then the election order shall be in conformity with the provisions of Section 25, of Chapter 16, of the General Laws passed by the Thirty-ninth Legislature, at its First Called Session, in 1926. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 6.]

Art. 778g. Notice of election and declaring result.—After such election order has been passed at such joint meeting of the commissioners' courts, as the ex-officio directors of said road district, a certified copy thereof shall be transmitted to the county clerk of each county within such district. Thereupon, the commissioners' court of each county, at a regular or special session held in their respective counties shall give notice of such proposed bond election to be held on the date named in the order of the courts passed at such joint meeting. Each election notice shall state the time and place of holding such election, and shall also state in substance the contents of such election order, and all other proceedings in respect of the question so submitted shall be in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 16, of the General Laws, passed by the Thirtieth Legislature, at its First Called Session, in 1926, relative to county road bond elections. The commissioners' courts of such counties as ex-officio directors of said road district, shall by order declare the result, and the county judge shall certify the result to the county judge of the county having the largest population. If at such election two-thirds of the property taxpaying voters of each county, voting at such election, cast their ballots in favor of the issuance of the bonds, the commissioners' court of each county, as soon after the declaration of the result as practicable, shall pass all such orders that may be necessary in the issuance of such bonds and the levy of taxes in payment thereof. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 7.]

Art. 778h. Maturity dates, interest and proceeds.—The General Laws relative to county road bonds authorized pursuant to Section 52, of Article 3, of the Constitution, shall apply to the authorization and issuance, approval and certification, the registration, the sale and payment, of the bonds provided for in this Act [Arts. 778a-778p], except as herein otherwise provided. Such bonds shall mature not later than forty years from their date, and shall bear interest not to exceed six per cent per annum. The necessary expense incident to the issuance of said bonds may be paid out of the proceeds from the sale thereof. Upon the issuance and sale of the bonds provided for herein, the commissioners' court of each county may pass all such orders that may be necessary, setting aside so much of the proceeds derived from the sale of such bonds as the ex-officio directors of said road district may deem necessary to be used for the maintenance, repair and upkeep of the roads of such district. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 8.]

Art. 778i. Bond tax.—The amount of the bond tax to be levied annually shall be determined by the commissioners' courts of the respective counties before the period at which the annual levy of taxes is made in the counties composing said district, and the proportion of the tax levied against the property in each of the counties, respectively, shall be levied by the commissioners' court of such county at the same time and in the same manner that other taxes in such counties are levied, and the levy and collection thereof shall be governed by the same laws that govern the levy and collection of county taxes. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 9.]

Art. 778j. Issuance of bonds.—Said bonds shall be issued as nearly as may be in form now in use in this State in the issuance of county bonds, except that said bonds shall be issued in the name of the district, and shall be signed by the county judges of the several counties composing said district, and countersigned by the county clerks of such counties, with the seals of the commissioners' courts of such counties impressed thereon, and such bonds shall be attested by the treasurer or depository of said district. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 10.]

Art. 778k. Sale of bonds.—The commissioners' courts of the counties embraced in such district, at a joint meeting held in the county having the largest number of inhabitants, as shown by the last Federal census, shall advertise such bonds for sale, and the advertisement or notice of such proposed sale, shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, one time, and at least ten days before the time fixed for such sale. The commissioners' courts shall convene in joint meeting on the date specified in such published notice for the sale of said bonds, and which joint meeting shall be held in the county having the largest number of inhabitants, for the purpose of considering bids for the purchase of such bonds. Said courts shall have the right to reject any and all bids. Such bonds shall be sold by said courts, at such joint meeting, to the highest and best bidder for cash, either in whole or in parcels, at not less than their par value. The purchase money therefor shall be placed in the treasury or depository of said district to the credit of the available road fund of such district. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 11.]

Art. 778l. Meetings of Commissioners' Courts.—Any joint meeting of the courts may be adjourned from day to day and from time to time, as such courts may deem necessary and advisable. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 12.]

Art. 778m. Bond records.—The county commissioners' courts for each county included within such district shall provide a well bound book in which a list of said bonds shall be kept by the county clerk of each county, showing their numbers, amount, rate of interest, date of issue, when due, where payable, and said books shall be public records in each county. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 13.]

Art. 778n. Warrants.—The purchase money for such bonds shall be paid out by the treasurer or depository, of such district, upon warrants drawn on the available road fund issued by the county clerk of the county having the largest number of inhabitants, but such warrants shall be countersigned by the county judge of each county situated within the road district, and no such warrant shall be issued except in payment of certified accounts approved by the commissioners' court of each county. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 14.]

Art. 778o. Treasurer or depository of district.—The treasurer or depository of such district shall be any bank, banking corporation or individual banker resident in such district, and such treasurer or depository shall be selected by the commissioners' courts of the counties included within such district, at joint meetings held for that purpose in the county having the largest number of inhabitants. The treasurer or depository shall be governed by the same laws and shall be subject to the same penalties as are provided by law for depositories of county funds; provided, before any such treasurer or depository shall be entitled to receive any funds of the district, it shall give bond to the district with a corporate surety company as surety, which is authorized to do business in the State of Texas, in an amount equal to the funds so deposited, conditioned upon the safe-keeping of such funds and paying of the same. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 15.]

Art. 778p. Change of roads.—The commissioners' court of any such county shall have authority to change any road or roads designated in the petition to create such road district, provided, it shall be found at the hearing on such petition that such change is necessary and practicable, and would be a public benefit, and would be beneficial to all taxable property in the county. Nothing in this Act [Arts. 778a-778p] shall be construed as requiring any commissioners' court to grant a petition for the establishment of such road district, if at the hearing herein provided for it be found that it would not be beneficial to the taxable property in the county to include such county within the proposed road district. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 218, ch. 80, § 16.]

4. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Art. 779. Investment of sinking fund.—The commissioners courts may invest sinking funds accumulated for the redemption and payment of any bonds issued by such county, political subdivision or defined district thereof, in bonds of the United States, of Texas, or any county in this State; or in bonds of the Federal Farm Loan Bank System. No such bonds shall be purchased which, according to their terms, mature at a date subsequent to the time of maturity of the bonds for the payment of which such sinking fund was created. [Acts 1917, p. 464.]

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art. 780. Interest on investments.—All interest on such investments shall be applied to the sinking fund to which it belongs, and the use of such funds for any other purpose shall be considered a diversion thereof and punished as provided by article 94 of the Penal Code. [Id.]

Arts. 781–784. [Repealed by Acts 1926, 39th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 23, ch. 16, § 30.]

CHAPTER FOUR

VIADUCTS, BRIDGES, ETC.

Art.

- 785. May order election.
- 786. Survey and estimate.
- 787. Submission of resolution.
- 788. Conduct of election.
- 789. Ballot.
- 790. Issue of bonds.
- 791. Limit of issue.
- 792. Tax levy.
- 793. Court may contract.
- 794. Maintenance fund.
- 795. Rules and regulations.

Article 785. [642] May order election.—The county commissioners court of any county having a population in excess of fifty thousand inhabitants according to the last United States census, may in their discretion, order an election to determine the propriety of a bond issue to provide for the construction and maintenance of causeways, viaducts, bridges and approaches across any river and bottoms within the limits of such county, irrespective of any municipal boundaries. [Acts 1909, p. 46.]

Art. 786. [643] Survey and estimate.—The commissioners court of such county shall, prior to ordering any such election, provide for preliminary surveys and estimates for such work, and shall prescribe in the election order the amount and terms of such bond issue. [Id.]

Art. 787. [644] Submission of resolution.—The resolution providing for such election shall be recorded in the minutes of the commissioners court and shall be submitted to the property owning qualified voters of said county as a proposition at a regular or special election which may be ordered by said court for that purpose. If a majority of the votes cast shall be for such resolution, the same shall be deemed to be adopted. [Id.]

Art. 788. [645] Conduct of election.—Such election shall be governed in all respects by the laws governing elections in this State, and the returns made and canvassed in the same manner, and the results declared by proclamation of the county judge of said county. Such proclamation shall be posted in at least three public places in said county, and at the option of the county judge, published in some newspaper in said county. [Id.]

Art. 789. [647] Ballot.—Those desiring to vote for the resolution shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "For the Resolution to Issue Bonds to" (here insert purpose of the proposed bond issue as set forth in said resolution), and those desiring to vote against the resolution shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "Against the Resolution to Issue Bonds to" (here insert such purpose of the proposed bond issue, as set forth in said resolution). Such ballots shall be written or printed on plain white paper, with black ink or pencil, and shall contain no distinguishing mark or device, except as above provided. [Id.]

Art. 790. [648] Issue of bonds.—If the resolution be voted, the commissioners court, under the supervision and direction of the Comptroller, shall prepare and execute the bonds of the county accordingly. They shall bear interest not exceeding five per cent payable annually, and be redeemable in not less than five nor more than forty years from the date thereof. The time of maturity shall be expressed on the face of the bonds. Such bonds shall be registered or enrolled as other county bonds, and shall not be sold or negotiated at less than their par value. [Id.]

Art. 791. [648] Limit of issue.—In no case shall bonds be issued under this chapter for a greater sum than that a levy of five cents of the one hundred dollars property valuation of said county will yield sufficient revenue to pay the interest as it accrues, and create a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal of such bonds at maturity. [Id.]

Art. 792. [649] Tax levy.—When bonds are issued under the provisions of this chapter, the commissioners court shall levy an annual ad valorem tax on all property of the county, which shall be used only for the purpose of paying interest on said bonds and creating a sinking fund to pay the principal. [Id.]

Art. 793. [650] Court may contract.—The commissioners court may contract with individuals, firms or corporations for the use of such causeways, viaducts, bridges and approaches, or constructing and maintaining and using tracks, telegraph lines or other such privileges, but shall make no exclusive nor preferential contracts, and before executing any such contracts, shall give notice by posting at the courthouse door and in three other public places in said county the full terms and nature of such proposed contracts. [Id.]

Art. 794. [651] Maintenance fund.—Revenues that may accrue from any contract or contracts so made may be applied to the maintenance and repair of such structure or structures; and such court may make adequate provision for such maintenance and repair. In the event the revenues accruing from the use of any such structure shall exceed the expenditures for its maintenance and repair, such excess shall be applied to the road and bridge fund of the county. [Id.]

Art. 795. [652] Rules and regulations.—The commissioners court may make rules for the use of any structure erected under the provisions of this chapter, and provide for the enforcement thereof. [Id.]

CHAPTER FIVE

FUNDING, REFUNDING AND COMPROMISES

Art.

- 796. In case of storms, etc.
- 797. Regulation of bonds.
- 798. Order of commissioners court.
- 799. Classification of issues.
- 800. Apportionment of taxes.
- 801. Requisites of bonds.
- 802. Registration and sale.

Article 796. [660] In case of storms, etc.—Any county or any city incorporated under the general laws which may suffer great destruction or damage of property or depreciation of the value of taxable property from storms, floods or other disasters, may fund, refund, compromise or settle its valid outstanding bonded and floating indebtedness. [Acts 1901, S. S. p. 18.]

Art. 797. [661] Regulation of bonds.—For such purpose, the bonds of the county or city may be issued by the governing body without a vote of the tax payers in denominations of not less than one hundred, nor more than one thousand dollars each, for an amount sufficient to consummate such compromise or settlement, not to exceed the amount unpaid on the outstanding indebtedness. Such bonds may be exchanged for bonds or other evidences of outstanding indebtedness of such county or city, or may be sold and the proceeds applied in the purchase of outstanding bonds or the payment of outstanding floating indebtedness, and may be exchanged or sold from time to time in such amounts as may be required for refunding said outstanding bonds and funding or settling said floating debts. [Id.]

Art. 798. [662] Order of commissioners court.—Before issuing such bonds, and not later than two years after the disaster, the governing body of the county or city shall, by an order or ordinance, entered on the minutes, recite the nature and date of such disaster, the taxable value of the remaining property subject to taxation in said city or county as shown by the first approved assessment roll of such county or city made after such disaster, and the amount of bonds that will be sufficient to fund, refund or settle the outstanding bonded and floating indebtedness of such county or city, stating also, the amount of new bonds that will be required for refunding or settling each outstanding issue of bonds, and the amount of new bonds necessary to fund or settle the outstanding indebtedness charged against each particular fund. [Id.]

Art. 799. [663] Classification of issues.—Separate classes of bonds shall be issued to refund or settle, respectively, each separate issue of outstanding bonds, and to fund or settle, respectively, the indebtedness against each particular fund. [Id.]

Art. 800. [664-5-6] Apportionment of taxes.—The court or council shall determine and record in the minutes the proportion of the several annual ad valorem taxes authorized by law that can be applied, respectively, in payment of the interest and sinking funds of the several classes of bonds without depriving the city or county of the funds which will be required to meet the necessary current annual expenses of such county or city. A levy in proportion to such excess or excesses beyond the amount required for current annual expenses may be made to pay the interest and sinking fund, respectively, of the said several classes of bonds. The constitutional limitation as to the rates and purposes of the several taxes shall not be exceeded nor disregarded. [Id.]

Art. 801. [667 to 672] Requisites of bonds.—The court, or city council, shall also by order or ordinance, prescribe the form and the classes of said bonds, and provide for the issuance thereof, at such dates as may be expedient. Such bonds may be made payable at any date deemed expedient by the commissioners court or city council, not later than forty years from the date of the execution, and provision may be made for their redemption after five years, or after such longer period as may be deemed expedient. Said bonds shall bear interest as stipulated and specified in coupons attached thereto, not to exceed four per cent per annum. Said bonds shall be issued under and subject to all requirements of chapter one of this title, which are not in conflict with the requirements and provisions of this chapter, and shall be signed by the county judge or mayor, and attested by the county or city clerk, as the case may be. [Id.]

Art. 802. [673-4-5-6-7] Registration and sale.—When examined and certified by the Attorney General, said bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller without requiring the old bonds, warrants or other evidence of indebtedness to be presented to him for cancellation. Said bonds shall be delivered to the county or city treasurer, and said officer shall register said bonds in a book kept for that purpose, and said bonds may thereafter be sold or exchanged for not less than their face value and accrued interest. Before delivery of the bonds, the date of the sale or exchange thereof shall be indorsed and certified on the bonds by the county judge or mayor, whose signature shall be attested by the county or city clerk. [Id.]

CHAPTER SIX

816.	Sale of bonds and notes.
817.	Other counties may avail.
818.	Special powers.
819.	Special fund.
820.	Control of system.
821.	Other improvements.
822.	What counties may avail.

Article 803. Power to issue.—For the purpose of constructing and maintaining pools, lakes, reservoirs, dams, canals and waterways for irrigation purposes or in aid thereof, or purchasing any such improvements already existing and adding thereto and paying incidental expenses connected therewith, counties may issue bonds not to exceed one fourth of the assessed valuation of its real property and levy and collect necessary taxes to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof. [Acts 1923, p. 264.]

Art. 804. Order for election.—Upon the petition of fifty or more resident property taxpaying voters of a county for an election upon the question of issuing bonds under the provisions of Section 52, Article 3, or Section 59 of Article 16 of the State Constitution, the commissioners court shall at a regular or special session thereof, order an election to determine whether or not the bonds of such county shall be issued in an amount not to exceed one fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of such county for the purposes stated in the preceding article, and whether or not a tax shall be levied upon the property of said county for the purpose of paying the interest on such bonds and providing a sinking fund for the redemption thereof. [Id.]

Art. 805. Amount of bonds, etc.—The amount of bonds proposed to be issued, with the rate of interest thereon not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable annually or semi-annually, and the date of maturity, shall be stated in the petition, in the order for the election, and in the notice therefor; or such order and notice may provide that the bonds may bear interest at a rate to be fixed by the commissioners court, not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable annually or semi-annually, and that the bonds may mature at such times as may be fixed by the commissioners court, serially or otherwise, not to exceed forty years from their date. [Id.]

Art. 806. Limit of indebtedness.—Where such county contains any district or districts organized under Section 52 of Article 3, or Section 59 of Article 16 of the State Constitution, the percentage of indebtedness of any such district based upon its assessed valuation of real property in the district, together with the percentage of the proposed county indebtedness based upon the assessed valuation of the real property of the county as shown by the last approved assessment rolls of such district and of the county, shall never exceed in any one or more of such districts, or in the county, twenty-five per cent of the assessed valuation of real property of such district or districts, or of such county. [Id.]

Art. 807. Election.—These rules shall govern the conduct and holding of such election:

1. Only resident property taxpayers who are qualified electors of the county shall be allowed to vote in such election, and a two-thirds vote shall be necessary to carry the proposition submitted thereat.

2. The ballots to be used at such election shall have written or printed thereon the words "For the issuance of the bonds and levy of tax in payment thereof." and "Against the issuance of the bonds and levy of tax in payment thereof." The commissioners court shall furnish the ballots for each of the polling places.

3. The election order shall fix the time of holding said election and shall designate the polling place or places in each voting precinct in the county where said election shall be held, and shall name a presiding judge, a judge and two clerks for each polling place, or may name more election officers for any polling place if the court considers it necessary.

4. A copy of the election order signed by the county judge shall serve as proper notice of said election, and one copy shall be posted at each polling place and one at the courthouse door for at least full twenty days prior to the date of the election, and shall also be published in a newspaper published in said county for three consecutive weeks prior to the date of said election, the first publication to be full twenty-one days before the date of the election.

5. The manner of conducting said election shall be governed by the election laws of this State, except as otherwise herein provided.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

6. Immediately after the election the presiding judge at each polling place shall make returns of the result of the election showing the total number of votes cast, the number cast for and against the proposition, and he shall deliver such returns to the county clerk who shall keep them in a safe place and deliver them to the commissioners court, who shall at a regular or special session, canvass said returns and declare the result of said election by order entered upon the minutes of the court. [Id.]

Art. 808. Order of issuance.—If the issuance of the bonds and levy of the tax have been so adopted, the commissioners court, at a regular term thereof, shall make and enter an order directing the issuance of the bonds authorized, and in said order shall provide for the levy and collection of a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest thereon, payable at such place or places as provided in said order, and to redeem such bonds at maturity. [Id.]

Art. 809. Additional bond issue.—If bonds have been authorized to be issued, or have been issued as herein provided, and if the commissioners court of such county shall consider it necessary to make any modifications in any of the proposed improvements, or shall determine to purchase or construct further or additional improvements and issue additional bonds, or purchase additional property in order to carry out the purposes of the project, or to best serve the interests of the county, such findings shall be entered of record, and an order for an election shall be entered and notice thereof given, and such election shall be held and the result thereof declared, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and if the result of such election be in favor of the issuance of such additional bonds, the commissioners court may order such additional bonds to be issued in the manner herein provided. [Id.]

Art. 810. May issue notes.—Whenever a county shall have constructed or purchased improvements and the same shall be damaged so that it may be necessary to raise funds to repair such damage, the county may issue bonds to raise such funds in the manner provided in this chapter, or may issue its notes therefor. Such notes shall run not to exceed twenty years and bear interest not to exceed six per cent per annum payable annually or semi-annually. [Id.]

Art. 811. Shall order election.—Before such notes are issued, the commissioners' court shall order an election and give notice thereof, as required for elections upon bond issues, stating the purpose for which they are to be issued, the time they are to run, the rate of interest, and the time and place or places of election. [Id.]

Art. 812. Ballot, etc.—The ballots for such election shall have written or printed thereon "For the issuance of notes," and "Against the issuance of notes." Such election shall be held and returns made and canvassed as provided herein for bond elections. If a two-thirds majority of those voting at such election voted in favor of the issuance of such notes, the commissioners court may issue and sell same for the benefit of said county and the purpose or purposes for which authorized. [Id.]

Art. 813. Requisites of issuance.—The commissioners court shall pass and enter an order directing and authorizing the issuance of the notes, and in said order provisions shall be made for the levy and collection of a tax annually sufficient to pay the current interest and provide a sinking fund for the payment of the principal at maturity. Said notes may be issued to mature serially or otherwise, as may be provided in the election order and notice of election. The limitation of indebtedness hereinbefore provided shall also apply to the issuance of such additional bonds and such notes. [Id.]

Art. 814. Issuance of bonds and notes.—All bonds and notes issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be issued in the name of the county, and such bonds shall be designated "..... County Water Improvement Bonds," and such notes shall be designated "..... County Water Improvement Notes," and shall be signed by the county judge, countersigned by the county clerk and registered by the county treasurer, and the seal of the commissioners court shall be impressed thereon, and may be in such denominations as may be fixed by the commissioners court. [Id.]

Art. 815. May exchange bonds.—The commissioners court may exchange bonds for property or in payment of the contract price for work to be done in the construction of said improvements. [Id.]

Art. 816. Sale of bonds and notes.—The commissioners court shall sell or exchange such bonds and notes on the best terms and for the best obtainable price, not less than their par value. When the bonds or notes are sold, the proceeds shall immediately be delivered to the county treasurer. [Id.]

Art. 817. Other counties may avail.—Any county desiring to issue bonds in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, shall bring an action in the district court of such county, or in the district court of Travis County, to determine the validity of such bonds in the manner provided for the validation of Water Improvement District Bonds in Chapter 2 of the Title "Water" and each provision of said chapter relative to such suit, the duties of the Attorney General and Comptroller, the judgment to be rendered, the effect of such judgment, and other matters connected therewith, shall apply to the validation of such county bonds. [Id.]

Art. 818. Special powers.—Counties operating under the provisions of this chapter are hereby empowered to own and construct reservoirs, dams, levees, wells, canals and other improvements, and to acquire the necessary rights-of-way and other lands by purchase or by condemnation in the manner provided for the condemnation of right-of-way by railroad companies, and to do, construct, purchase and acquire all other works and improvements required for the proper and efficient irrigation of the lands in such county. [Id.]

Art. 819. Special fund.—The commissioners court shall annually levy a tax sufficient to pay the current interest on such bonds and to pay the principal thereof as the same becomes due, and said tax shall be assessed and collected as other county taxes, and when collected shall constitute a special fund and shall not be diverted or used for any other purpose than in this article provided. [Id.]

Art. 820. Control of system.—The commissioners court shall have and exercise the control and management of the affairs and operation of the irrigation system of such county to the same extent and in the manner provided in Chapter 2 of the Title "Water," as conferred upon the directors of Water Improvement Districts, and said court shall exercise all of the powers relative to the control, management, affairs and operation of such county irrigation system as such directors have under the provisions of said chapter, and all the provisions of said chapter relative to the control, management, affairs and operation of Water Improvement Districts shall apply to the control, management, affairs and operation of such county irrigation system. [Id.]

Art. 821. Other improvements.—Any county authorized under the provisions of this chapter, may issue bonds for the improvement of rivers, creeks and streams to prevent overflow and for all necessary drainage purposes in connection therewith, and bonds proposed to be issued for the combined purposes stated in this chapter, or for any two of said purposes, shall be treated and deemed as for one purpose and may be voted upon as one proposition. [Id.]

Art. 822. What counties may avail.—The terms of this chapter shall apply to such counties as may have been relieved from the payment of taxes for a term of years by act of the Legislature under and by virtue of the provisions of Section 10, Article 8, of the State Constitution. [Id.]

CHAPTER SIX—A

NAVIGATION AID BONDS

Art.

822a. Power to issue.

822b. Eminent domain.

822c. Elections and order for issuance.

822d. Bonds and warrants.

822e. Right of way and conveyance to United States.

Article 822a. Power to issue.—Sec. 1. Any county in this State may, upon a vote of a two-thirds majority of the resident property tax payers voting thereon, who are qualified electors of such county, at an election held hereunder as hereinafter provided, in addition to all other debts, issue bonds or warrants or otherwise lend its credit in any amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of such county, and levy and collect such taxes to pay the interest thereon, and provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof, as herein provided, for the purpose of navigation, or in aid of navigation, by securing right-of-way and necessary dumping privileges for any canal or water-way, authorized to be constructed under any Act of the United States Congress now in force, or hereafter enacted, and shall have the power, after any right-of-way and necessary dumping privileges have been secured, to convey same to the Government of the United States, if necessary to do so to aid in any navigation by water-ways, or canals. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 129, ch. 84, § 1.]

Art. 822b. Eminent domain.—Sec. 2. Any county in this State shall have the right of eminent domain for the purpose of carrying out the authority granted in Section 1 [Art. 822a] of this Act.

Sec. 3. Said county shall have the right in lieu of exercising its right to eminent domain, as hereinbefore provided, to permit the Government of the United States to exercise its right of eminent domain, and lend its credit in guaranteeing the Government of the United States to pay such judgment or assessment of damages, as may be entered against said Government of the United States, for the value of such property as it may condemn for such right-of-way and necessary dumping privileges. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 129, ch. 84.]

Art. 822c. Elections and order for issuance.—Sec. 4. The commissioners' court of any county in this State may, upon its own motion, and shall, upon a petition presented to it by twenty-five of the resident property tax payers therein, at a regular or special term of said court, order an election for the purpose of determining, as to whether or not said county shall issue bonds or warrants, or otherwise lend its credit for the purpose of navigation or in aid thereof, by securing the necessary right-of-way for the purposes indicated in Section 1 [Art. 822a] hereof; said election order shall describe as near as may be, the navigation purposes, or the aid thereto proposed, or the right-of-way and necessary dumping privileges, necessary to be secured and the amount of bonds or warrants, or extent of credit proposed to be authorized for such purposes; and if bonds or warrants are to be issued, their maturity dates and the rate of interest; and if it is proposed to lend the credit of the county in lieu of the issuance of bonds or warrants, said election order shall state the manner in which said credit is proposed to be used, and the extent thereof, and the terms and conditions thereof. Twenty days notice of the holding of said election shall be given by publication in some newspaper published at the county seat of said county, and by posting in three public places in the county, one of which, shall be at the county seat.

Sec. 5. The ballots for said election shall have printed thereon, the words and none other: "For the issuance of bonds (or warrants) or (loaning of credit) and levy of a tax in payment thereof," and "Against the issuance of bonds (or warrants) or (loaning of credit) and the levy of a tax in payment thereof."

Sec. 6. If the proposition submitted to the voters of said county is at said election, adopted by them the commissioners' court shall enter the same in the minutes of said court, setting out the date of election, the notice of election, the result of the election, together with an order providing for the issuance of such bonds, or warrants, stating the amount thereof, the maturities thereof, and the rate of interest, and at the same time levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest of said bonds or warrants, and providing a sinking fund sufficient to liquidate same at maturity, or as the case may be, setting out the mode and manner and conditions under which it is determined at said election to lend its credit and the extent thereof.

Sec. 7. If, at said election, the credit of the county is to be used otherwise than by the issuance of bonds or warrants, and in such manner as that its use creates a debt against the county, the commissioners' court shall, at a regular or special term thereof, at the time of the entering of said order, authorizing the use of said credit and the creation of said debt, levy a tax sufficient to pay said debt, or such amount thereof, as may mature during the current year, and shall from year to year, levy a tax sufficient to liquidate same as it accrues. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 129, ch. 84.]

Art. 822d. Bonds and warrants.—Sec. 8. All bonds or warrants issued under the provisions of this Act [Arts. 822a-822e] shall be issued in the name of the county; shall be signed by the county judge and attested by the county clerk under the seal of the commissioners' court; they shall be issued in such denominations and payable at such time, or times, not to exceed forty years from their date as may be deemed most expedient by the court, and shall bear interest not to exceed 6% per annum. All bonds shall be approved by the attorney general and registered by the comptroller as other county bonds are approved and registered; all bonds or warrants shall be sold by the commissioners' court on the best terms and for the best price possible, but for not less than face par value and accrued interest, and all moneys received therefor, shall be paid to the county treasurer, and by him placed to the credit of the navigation fund of such county, and paid out on warrants, as other county funds are disbursed.

Sec. 9. When bonds or warrants have been voted, the commissioners' court shall levy and cause to be assessed and collected annually, taxes sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds, and to provide a sinking fund to redeem the same at maturity, and if the credit of the county is used otherwise than by the issuance of bonds and warrants, in such a way as that a debt against the county is created, said court shall levy and cause to be assessed and collected annually a tax sufficient to pay said indebtedness as and when it accrues. The sinking fund of said bonds or warrants, shall be invested as the sinking fund of other county bonds are invested. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 129, ch. 84.]

Art. 822e. Right of way and conveyance to United States.—Sec. 10. When right-of-way and necessary dumping privileges have been secured by such county under the provisions hereof, either by purchase, condemnation, or donation, such county shall have the right, and is hereby authorized to convey said right-of-way and necessary dumping privileges to the Government of the United States by deed executed as other deeds by counties are required to be executed.

Sec. 11. The purpose of this Act being to grant authority to the counties of Texas to issue bonds, warrants or otherwise lend their credit to acquire and convey to the United States Government, the necessary right-of-way for waterways or navigable canals, the construction of which has been, or may be, authorized by the Government of the United States; the cost of construction and maintenance of which, is to be borne by the Government of the United States, and for no other purpose, and the provisions of this Act [Arts. 822a-822e] shall be liberally construed for the purpose of carrying out such intent. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 129, ch. 84.]

Section 12 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 129, ch. 84, repeals ch. 41, passed by the Fortieth Legislature at its regular session.

MUNICIPAL BONDS

Art.

- 823. May issue bonds.
- 824. Limitations.
- 825. Signature.
- 826. Shall provide for tax.
- 827. Funding of debt.
- 828. May compromise debts.
- 829. Exceptions.
- 830. Liquidation board.
- 831. Liquidation.
- 832. State tax laws.
- 833. Payment of taxes with bonds.
- 834. Further compromise.
- 835. Harbor bonds.

Article 823. May issue bonds.—Any city or town may issue its coupon bonds for such sum as it may deem expedient for the purpose of the construction or purchase of public buildings, waterworks, sewers, and other permanent improvements within the city limits, and for the construction and improvement of the roads, bridges, and streets of such city or town. This article includes building sites and buildings for the public free schools and institutions of learning within such cities and towns which assume the exclusive control of their public free schools and institutions of learning. Such bonds shall bear interest not to exceed six per cent per annum and shall become due and payable serially or otherwise not to exceed forty years from their date and may be payable at such place as may be fixed by ordinance. [Acts 1921, p. 13.]

Art. 824. Limitations.—The limitations now provided by law upon the bonds that such cities may issue shall not apply to bonds issued under this law. [Id.]

Art. 825. Signature.—All bonds issued by a city or town shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the city secretary. [Id.]

Art. 826. Shall provide for tax.—The governing body, when the issuance of bonds has been authorized, shall provide for the levy and collection of a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest and provide a sinking fund for the payment of such bonds and all other outstanding bonds of such city or town issued since September 25, 1883. [Id.]

Art. 827. [890] [465] [419] Funding of debt.—The governing body shall pass all necessary ordinances to provide for funding the whole or any part of the existing debt of the city or any future debt by cancelling the evidences thereof, and issuing to the holders or creditors, notes, bonds or treasury warrants, with or without coupons, bearing interest at any annual rate not to exceed six per cent. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 828. [891] [471] May compromise debts.—The governing body, by their resolution or ordinance, by referring to this law and adopting the same, are authorized to compromise and fund any existing valid indebtedness issued by the city or town, whether bonded or floating, and the coupons due upon the bonded debt. For such purpose, they are authorized to issue new bonds in denominations of not less than fifty nor more than one thousand dollars, in their discretion, with interest coupons payable annually, to become due and payable in not exceeding thirty years, and to bear interest not to exceed six per cent per annum. [Acts 1887, p. 50; G. L. vol. 9, p. 848.]

Art. 829. [892] [472] Exceptions.—No compromise shall be made by which any debt shall be funded when such debt is barred by the statutes of limitations. [Id.]

Art. 830. [896] [479] Liquidation board.—Whenever a compromise of the debt of any city or town shall be so affected, and the bonds are delivered to the creditors, a board of liquidation consisting of five reputable citizens of such city or town shall forthwith be appointed and organized in the manner following:

1. One each shall be appointed by the mayor of the city or town, the city counsel, the Governor, any district judge of the district in which such city or town is situated, and the holders of said indebtedness or a majority of them, and each shall fill vacancies in the office of their respective appointee in said board.

2. In case of failure, neglect or refusal of any or all of said officers to appoint a member of said board or to fill vacancies therein, then the holders of said bonds or any one or more of them may apply to any district court of the district in which such town or city is situated, or to the judge thereof in vacation, for the appointment of the members necessary to complete said board, and said court or judge shall make such appointment.

3. The members of said board shall serve without compensation, and shall hold office for four years. Each member of said board shall take an oath to faithfully perform the duties of his office. A majority of said board shall be a quorum to transact business. [Id.]

Art. 831. [896] [479] Liquidation.—These rules shall govern the handling and disposition of all moneys coming under the control of the board as hereinafter provided:

1. Said board shall select some solvent depository for such moneys, for whose acts they shall be responsible, and shall, in writing, signed by them, notify the tax collector of said city or town, of said selection.

2. Said collector shall thereupon deposit at the close of business of each day one-half of all moneys collected by him for the twenty-four hours next preceding, on account of all the taxes of whatever nature levied by said city or town, with the said depository, whose receipt therefor shall be an acquittance of said collector.

3. The collector shall be liable on his official bond for any failure to promptly make such deposits and for ten per cent per month of such amounts in addition thereto as penalty, which sums may be recovered by said board in a suit therefor, which they shall promptly institute.

4. Whenever the total of said deposits shall equal the annual interest on said bonds, it shall be lawful for the collector to discontinue said deposits until he shall be notified in writing by said board that said deposits are reduced below that sum.

5. Said funds shall be subject to said board and shall be applied by it to the payment, first of the interest on the said bonds as they mature, secondly, to the payment of the principal thereof, and thirdly, to the payment of interest of any valid bonds issued by such city and not embraced in any issue of bonds issued under the provisions of this law, and fourthly, to the payment of the principal of bonds of the character last referred to on the maturity of the same.

6. The members of said board shall be liable for the prompt payment of interest out of said funds, and in case of failure or refusal, they shall in addition be liable to ten per cent of the amount of such interest as damages to be recovered by any person aggrieved thereby.

7. Whenever there shall be in the hands of such depository a sufficient sum to pay two per cent of the principal of said bonds in addition to one year's interest, said board shall use the same in the purchase of outstanding bonds as provided by law, and such bonds when so purchased shall be returned to the city council together with all coupons which have been paid.

8. Expenses incurred by the board in advertising for purchasers of bonds shall be paid out of said funds.

9. Said board shall make semi-annual reports to the city council of its acts and of all receipts and disbursements of money coming under their control. [Id.]

Art. 832. [897] [477] State tax laws.—Whenever such compromise shall be entered into and accepted in good faith, either by the holders of the present bonds or by any persons purchasing new bonds, as herein provided, all laws now or hereafter in force for the assessment and collection of State taxes shall also be in force and apply to the assessment and collection of taxes levied to meet the interest and sinking fund of said new bonds; and in any suit instituted to enforce the payment of said bonds or coupons against any such city or town, no defense either in law or equity, shall be admitted in any court of this State, except such as originated upon, or subsequent to, the issuance of such new bonds. [Id.]

Art. 833. [900] [473] Payment of taxes with bonds.—The new bonds thus issued by a city or town shall be exempt from the payment of all taxes levied by such city or town. The taxes levied to pay such new bonds may be paid with the bonds or coupons thereof if matured. Said coupons and bonds shall only be received in payment of taxes which have been levied for the purpose of paying such bonds and coupons. [Id.]

Art. 834. [901] [481] Further compromise.—Cities and towns may compromise and liquidate their indebtedness and issue bonds therefor under such conditions as are prescribed in this title conferring such authority on counties, cities and towns, and as may be otherwise provided by law. [Id.]

Art. 835. [883] [482] Harbor bonds.—When necessary therefor, cities which border on the Gulf of Mexico may issue the coupon bonds of such cities to bear interest at not exceeding five per cent per annum for the purpose of improving or aiding the improvement of their harbors and the bars at the entrance thereof in such amounts as may be deemed necessary not to exceed the limit of indebtedness fixed by their respective charters, and may appropriate for such purpose money out of any surplus fund which may be on hand at any time, and when any bonds may be on hand, the issuance of which has been made for other purposes and may not be needed for such purpose. Such surplus bonds may be sold and the proceeds used for such improvements. [Acts 1883, p. 48; G. L. vol. 9, p. 354.]

CHAPTER EIGHT

SINKING FUNDS—INVESTMENTS, ETC.

Art.

- 836. Investments.
- 837. Secondary investments.
- 838. Annual report.
- 839. Disbursements.
- 840. Penalties.
- 841. Recovery.
- 842. Federal Farm Loan Bonds.

Article 836. [698] Investments.—The legally authorized governing body of any county, city or town, or the trustees of any school district or school community, may invest their respective sinking funds for the redemption and payment of the outstanding bonds of such county, city or town, or community, in bonds of the United States, war-savings certificates, and certificates of indebtedness issued by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and in bonds of Texas, or any county of this State, or of any incorporated city or town. No such bonds shall be purchased which, according to their terms, mature at a date subsequent to the time of maturity of the bonds for the payment of which such sinking fund was created. [Acts 1905, p. 25; Acts 1918, 4th C. S., p. 164.]

Art. 837. [698] Secondary investments.—In the event a governing body is unable to purchase securities of the character mentioned in the preceding article, which mature at a date prior to the time of maturity of the bonds for the payment of which such sinking fund was created, then they may invest such funds in the bonds of any school district or school community authorized to issue bonds, under the same restrictions as provided in the preceding article. [Id.]

Art. 838. [699] Annual report.—The county treasurer of each county and the treasurer of each city shall make an annual report to the State Comptroller on the first day of August, showing the condition of the interest and sinking fund for each set of bonds of said county or city outstanding on the thirtieth day of June of each year, which said report shall be made under oath, and shall show:

1. The outstanding bonded indebtedness of said city or county, giving date when issued, the amount of each set of bonds, the rate of interest they bear, and when they mature;

2. The tax levy in force to provide for the interest and sinking fund on each set of said bonds;

3. The amount on hand to the credit of the interest and sinking fund of each set of said bonds, showing whether in cash or securities;

4. The amount received by the said fund since last report, and from what source;

5. The disbursements from said fund since last report, and for what purpose;

6. The amount of said bonds redeemed since last report, and the amount still outstanding. [Acts 1899, p. 45.]

Art. 839. [700] Disbursements.—No city or county treasurer shall honor any draft upon the interest and sinking fund provided for any of the bonds of such city or county, nor pay out nor divert any of the same, except for the purpose of paying the interest on such bonds or for redeeming the same, or for investment in such securities as may be provided by law. [Id.]

Art. 840. [701] Penalties.—Any treasurer who shall fail to make the reports provided for in the third article of this chapter, or who shall divert said fund or apply said fund for any other purpose than as permitted by the preceding article, shall be subject to a penalty of not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, to be recovered by the State, and in addition thereto, shall be liable for the amount of such fund so diverted. [Id.]

Art. 841. [702] Recovery.—The Comptroller, whenever the reports of any treasurer show that he has diverted said funds, or when he shall fail to make such reports, shall notify the Attorney General or the district attorney of the district in which such treasurer resides, or county attorney in counties in which there is no district attorney provided for by law, of the fact, who shall thereupon institute suit against such treasurer and his official bondsmen for the amount of such penalty and of said fund so diverted. The amount of such penalty so recovered shall be paid into the State Treasury, and the amount of the diverted fund so recovered shall be paid into the county or city treasury to the credit of the fund from which it was so diverted. [Id.]

Art. 842. Federal Farm Loan bonds.—All bonds issued under and by virtue of the Federal Farm Loan Act, approved by the President of the United States, July 17, 1916, shall be a lawful investment for all fiduciary and trust funds in this State, and may be accepted as security for all public deposits where deposits of bonds or mortgages are authorized by law to be accepted. Such bonds shall be lawful investments for all funds which may be lawfully invested by guardians, administrators, trustees and receivers, for saving departments of banks incorporated under the laws of Texas, for banks, savings banks and trust companies chartered under the laws of Texas, and for all insurance companies chartered or transacting business under the laws of Texas, where investments are required or permitted by the laws of this State. [Acts 1917, p. 122.]

BRANDS AND TRADE MARKS

Art.

- 843. Trade mark of another.
- 844. Trade mark for dairymen.
- 845. Marks not to be similar.
- 846. Injunction.
- 847. Prima facie evidence of ownership.
- 848. Record for dairymen.
- 849. May assign.
- 850. Infringement enjoined.
- 851. Trade mark filed, etc.

Article 843. [1392] [918a] Trade mark of another.—All manufacturers or dealers in carbonated goods, mineral waters, soda water, or other beverage, or manufacturers of medicine or other compound requiring the use of kegs, casks, barrels, boxes, syphons, bottles, or any other vessels for containers, upon which the names, brands, marks, or trade marks, or other designation of ownership or proprietorship, is stamped, engraved, etched, blown in, impressed, or otherwise produced upon such boxes, syphons, bottles, or any other vessels [f]or containers, may file in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the principal place or office of business is situated, a fac simile or description of the name or names, marks or devices, so used by such manufacturer or dealer in such wares herein enumerated, and cause such description to be published in a public newspaper published in such county for three successive weeks; and the act of so filing and causing to be recorded by the county clerk, and publishing, shall operate as a trade mark, securing to the said manufacturer the full protection of the law as a trade mark, entitling the said manufacturer to the sole and exclusive use in Texas of said mark, name or device; for which service the clerk shall be allowed the sum of one dollar, to be paid by the party having such brands, etc., recorded. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person or persons, corporate or otherwise, other than the proprietor, or by his written consent, to fill, for the purpose of traffic, or for sale, with any compound whatever, any box, syphon, bottle or other container so marked, recorded in the office of the county clerk, and published as provided in this article, or to deface, erase, obliterate, cover up or otherwise remove or cancel any such mark or device. [Acts 1893, p. 125; Acts 1901, p. 288; G. L. vol. 10, p. 555.]

Art. 844. Trade mark for dairymen.—Any person, firm or corporation engaged in the dairying business, or in the distribution or sale of milk requiring the use of bottles, may file in the office of the county clerk of the county in which it is expected such person, firm or corporation will sell or distribute milk, a fac simile or description of the name or names, trade name, mark or design used by such person, firm or corporation for advertising purposes, and cause such fac simile or description to be published in a public newspaper published in such county for three successive weeks, and the act of filing and publication shall operate to secure to such dairyman, milk distributor or milk dealer, sole and exclusive right to use in said county or counties said name or names, trade name, mark or design. [Acts 1921, p. 161.]

Art. 845. Marks not to be similar.—No name or names, trade name, mark or design shall be filed by the county clerk as aforesaid that could probably be mistaken for a name or names, trade name, mark or design already of record. [Id.]

Art. 846. Injunction.—Any person, firm or corporation having adopted a name or names, trade name, mark or design, as provided herein, may proceed by suit to enjoin the use of said name, or names, trade name, mark or design by any other person, firm or corporation, and all courts having jurisdiction thereof shall grant injunction to restrain the unlawful use thereof. [Id.]

Art. 847. Prima facie evidence of ownership.—Any person, firm or corporation engaged in the dairying business or the sale or distribution of milk, who shall have filed with the county clerk of the county in which they may be engaged in the distribution or sale of milk, a name or names, trade name, mark or design as herein provided, may cause to be engraved, etched, blown in or impressed or otherwise produced upon the bottles owned by said person, firm or corporation such name or names, trade name, mark or design, and when such name or names, trade name, mark or design is so impressed upon a bottle, such bottle shall be prima facie the property of the person, firm or corporation which may appear upon the record of the office of the county clerk of such county to be the owner of such name or names, trade name, mark or design either as the original owner or transferee, as herein provided. [Id.]

Art. 848. Record for dairymen.—Upon the filing with the county clerk of such fac simile or description, as herein provided, the county clerk shall record the same in a well-bound book and index the same under the name of each owner and also under the trade name, and shall furnish to such owner a certificate containing a description of same, which said certificate shall be prima facie evidence that the person or persons therein named is the owner of said name or names, trade name, mark or design. The clerk shall be paid a fee of one dollar for recording such trade mark or name. [Id.]

Art. 849. May assign.—Any owner of a name or names, trade name, mark or design recorded as herein provided who desires to convey or assign same shall do so by written assignment duly acknowledged, and filed with said county clerk, which said assignment shall refer to the book and page where said original is recorded, and the clerk shall upon the filing of said assignment, record and index same as an original and note on the margin the fact of the assignment and refer to the book and page where such assignment is recorded, and furnish to such assignee a certificate of ownership. The clerk shall receive for recording such transfer, such fees as are now provided by law for similar services. [Id.]

Art. 850. [705] [318c] Infringement enjoined.—Every person, association or union of workmen, incorporated or unincorporated, having adopted a label, trade mark, design, device, imprint or form of advertisement, as aforesaid, may proceed by suit to enjoin the wrongful manufacture, use, display or sale of any such label, trade mark, design, device, imprint or form of advertisement, and the manufacture, use, display or sale of any such counterfeit or imitation; any court having jurisdiction thereof may grant an injunction to restrain such manufacture, use, display or sale, and shall award the plaintiff in such suit such damages resulting from such wrongful manufacture, use, display or sale as by him may have been sustained. Where such association or union is not incorporated, suits under this law may be commenced and prosecuted by any officer or member of such association or union in his own name, for himself and for the use and benefit of such association or union. [Acts 1895, p. 108; G. L. vol. 10, p. 838.]

Art. 851. [706] [318d] Trade mark filed, etc.—Every person, association or union of workmen, incorporated or unincorporated, that has heretofore or shall hereafter adopt a label, trade mark, design, device, imprint or form of advertisement, shall file the same in the office of the Secretary of State by leaving two fac simile copies, with the Secretary of State, and said Secretary shall return to such person, association or union so filing the same, one of said fac simile copies along with and attached to a duly attested certificate of the filing of same, for which he shall receive a fee of one dollar. Such certificate of filing shall in all suits and prosecutions under this chapter be sufficient proof of the adoption of such label, trade mark, design, device, imprint or form of advertisement, and of the right of such person, association or union to adopt the same. No label, trade mark, design, device, imprint or form of advertisement shall be filed as aforesaid that would probably be mistaken for a label, trade mark, design, device, imprint or form of advertisement already of record. No person, or association shall be permitted to register as a label, trade mark, design, device, imprint or form of advertisement any emblem, design or resemblance thereto that has been adopted or used by any charitable, benevolent or religious society or association, without their consent. [Id.]

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

- Art.
852. Articles of association.

854. Directors.
855. Bond of officers.

Art.

- 856. Capital stock and shares.
- 857. Loans and security.
- 858. Right to loan forfeited.
- 859. Repayment of loan.
- 860. Withdrawal value.
- 861. Lienholder may purchase.
- 862. Extension of time of corporation.
- 863. Financial statement.
- 864. Commissioner to supervise.
- 865. Statement to commissioner.
- 866. Examination by commissioner.
- 867. Liquidation.
- 868. Injunction.
- 869. Forfeiture of shares.
- 870. Expense and reserve fund.
- 871. Consolidation.
- 872. Dissolution.
- 873. Report of commissioner.
- 874. Foreign association.
- 875. Certificate of authority.
- 876. Custody of securities.
- 877. Statement of foreign association.
- 878. Judgment against foreign association.
- 879. Examination of same.
- 880. Revoking certificate.
- 881. Penalty.

Article 852. Articles of Association.—Any number of persons, not less than five, who are residents of this State, desiring to organize a building and loan association for the purpose of building and improving homesteads, removing incumbrances therefrom, and loaning money to the members thereof, may, by complying with the provisions of this title, and entering into articles of association, become a corporate body. Said articles of association shall be signed by persons associating and acknowledged before some person authorized by the laws of this State to take acknowledgments to deeds, and shall set forth:

1. The name assumed by the association, which shall not be the name assumed by any other association incorporated under this law, nor so similar as to be likely to mislead.
2. The purpose for which the association is formed.
3. The amount of its authorized capital stock; and the number of shares into which it is divided; the par value of each share; and the number of shares subscribed for, which shall not be less than fifty in number.
4. The names of the incorporators; their respective residences and the number of shares subscribed by each.
5. The term of its corporate existence, which shall not exceed fifty years.
6. The name of the town, city or village in which such association is to be located. [Acts 1st C. S. 1913, p. 72.]

Art. 853. Organization.—When executed as aforesaid, said articles of association shall be approved by, and filed with the Secretary of State, and a copy thereof, duly authenticated under the hand and seal of State, shall be delivered to the Commissioner of Insurance, who shall file the same in his office, and a like copy thereof shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county in which the principal office of such association is located, whereupon the persons named in the article of association, their associates and successors, shall become a corporate body for the period for which they were organized, and shall exercise such powers as are herein granted, and such other powers as are necessary to enable such association to carry out the purpose of its organization, not inconsistent with the provisions of this law. Before such association shall proceed to business it shall adopt by-laws for the regulation and management of its business. Said by-laws shall not become operative until a copy thereof, duly certified by the president and secretary of the association shall have been approved by and filed with the Commissioner, and when so approved and filed the said Commissioner shall issue his certificate of such approval and filing and thereupon said association may proceed to do business. The provisions of this law shall not apply to loan corporations heretofore incorporated under the laws of Texas loaning money on real estate, or improvements thereon, in cities of this State of more than thirty thousand inhabitants and not requiring the borrowers to be members thereof, or holders of such shares in such corporations, and which have been doing business for as long as ten years prior to the passage of this Act. [Id. sec. 2.]

Art. 854. Directors.—The corporate powers of every building and loan association heretofore organized under the laws of this State, or which may be incorporated under this title, shall be exercised by a board of directors of not less than five members, who shall elect from their own number the officers of the association. The mode of electing members of said board of directors and officers and their respective terms of office shall be prescribed in the by-laws. [Id. sec. 3.]

Art. 855. Bond of Officers.—The secretary and treasurer of such association, and all other officers who sign and endorse checks, or who have charge of money or securities of such association, shall, before entering upon the duties of their office, each give such bond for the faithful performance of the same as shall be required and approved by the board of directors. Additional sureties or such increase of said bond as they may deem necessary, may be required at any time by the board of directors. Directors shall not be accepted as sureties on such bonds, and shall be individually liable for any loss sustained through their negligence or failure to comply with any provision of this article. [Id. sec. 4.]

Art. 856. Capital stock and shares.—The authorized capital stock of such association shall be divided into shares having a par value of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars each, payable in periodical installments, called dues, not exceeding two dollars per month on each share; provided, that the by-laws may provide for the advance payment of installment dues and for which there may be issued an advance payment certificate. The shares may be issued in series, or at any time as the by-laws shall determine and subscriptions therefor shall be made payable to the association. Said shares shall be deemed personal property, transferable on the books of the association in the manner prescribed in the by-laws, and shall be paid off and retired as the by-laws shall direct. Every share shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid dues and such other charges as may be lawfully incurred thereon under the provisions of this title. The by-laws may prescribe the manner of enforcing such lien. New shares may be issued in lieu of shares matured, withdrawn, retired or forfeited. At no time shall the shares issued and in force exceed the aggregate number of shares into which the authorized capital stock is divided as designated in the articles of the association. Any building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this State, may, by a resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of shares represented and voted at any annual meeting, or at any meeting called for that purpose, increase its authorized capital stock and shares, or amend its articles of association or by-laws, in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this title. No such increase of capital stock nor amendments shall have effect until a copy of such resolution, certified by the president and secretary of such association, shall be filed, approved and recorded in the same manner as is provided in the second article of this title for the filing and recording of original articles of association or by-laws, in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this title. [Id. sec. 5.]

Art. 857. Loans and security.—At such times as the by-laws shall designate, not less frequently than once a month, the board of directors shall hold meetings, at which the funds in the treasury applicable for loans shall be loaned to the members who, in open competition, shall bid the highest premium for priority of right to a loan; or in lieu thereof, such funds may be loaned either with or without premium, as the borrower may, in writing agree to pay, in which case the priority of right to a loan shall be decided by the priority of the application therefor. The manner in which said premium may be paid shall be prescribed in the by-laws. No loans shall be made by such association to any one not a member thereof, except as hereinafter provided, nor to any member for an amount greater than the par value of the shares held by such member. Borrowers shall be required to give real estate security, unincumbered except by the prior liens held by such association, accompanied by a transfer and pledge to the association of the shares borrowed upon as collateral security for the payment of the loan. No loan made upon real estate security shall exceed in amount two-thirds of the appraised valuation of such real estate. The shares of such association may be received as security for the loan of an amount not to exceed ninety per cent of the withdrawal value of such shares. Subject to the approval of the Commissioner, the number of payment [payments] of dues, interest and premium required from the borrowing stockholder to pay off his loan and secure a release of his incumbrance may be limited to such a definite number as the by-laws may provide. When the funds in the treasury applicable for loans shall accumulate and be in excess of the amount required for loans to members, they may be loaned to non-members upon real estate securities unincumbered by prior liens in an amount not to exceed fifty per cent of the appraised value of such securities, or may be invested in such securities as are authorized to be accepted by saving banks in this State, but at no time shall such loans and investments exceed twenty per cent of the assets. [Id. sec. 6.]

Art. 858. Right to loan forfeited.—If the borrower neglects to offer security satisfactory to the board of directors within the time prescribed by the by-laws, his or her right to the loan shall be forfeited, and he or she shall be charged with interest or premium, if any, for one month, together with any expense incurred and the money appropriated for such loan may be reloaned at the next or any subsequent meeting. Whenever a borrowing shareholder shall be in arrears in the payment of dues, interest or premium for more than four months, the board of directors may, at their discretion, declare the pledged shares forfeited, and the whole amount of the loan due and payable, and its collection, together with the arrears of interest, premium and fines, may be enforced by proceedings upon the security held by the association, in accordance with law. The withdrawal value of the pledged shares, at the time of the commencement of the foreclosure proceedings shall be credited upon the loan. [Id. sec. 7.]

Art. 859. Repayment of loan.—Any borrowing shareholder desiring to repay his loan shall have the privilege of doing so at any time, by giving the association thirty days written notice of such intention. The borrower shall be charged with the amount of the original loan, together with all the arrearages of interest, premium and fines and other legal charges, and shall be given credit for the withdrawal value of his shares pledged as security; and the balance shall be received by the association in full satisfaction of said loan. In cases where the premium is deducted from the loan in a gross sum, and the borrower repays the loan before the expiration of the tenth year from the date upon which said loan was made, such borrower shall be given credit for one-tenth of the premium paid for every year of the said ten years then unexpired. Any borrower desiring to retain his or her shares and membership may repay his loan without claiming credit for the withdrawal value of said shares whereupon said shares shall be retransferred to him or her, and shall be free from any claim by reason of said loan. [Id. sec. 8.]

Art. 860. Withdrawal value.—By the term "withdrawal value" as used herein is meant: The then value of the stock at the time indicated in the connection in which the words are used, less the lawful charges against such shares in favor of the corporation. [Id. sec. 9.]

Art. 861. Lienholder may purchase.—Any loan or building association incorporated by or under this title is hereby authorized and empowered to purchase at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such association may have or hold any mortgage, lien or other incumbrance, or in which said association may have an interest for the purpose of collecting any debt due it, or for the protection of its interest in such real estate, and may sell, convey, lease or mortgage, at pleasure to any person or persons whomsoever the real estate so purchased to the highest bidder after advertising same in some local paper for four consecutive weeks. [Id. sec. 11.]

Art. 862. Extension of time of corporation.—Any loan or building association incorporated under this or any prior law, may extend the duration of time for which said association was organized by a vote of two-thirds of the capital stock of such association represented and voting at any annual meeting of the stockholders of such association, or at any special meeting called for that purpose; thereupon the board of directors shall transmit a copy of the proceedings of such annual meeting or of such special meeting, duly attested, to the Secretary of State, who shall make a duly authenticated copy thereof, as provided in the third article of this title, certifying to the extension of time of such corporation, and the same shall be filed with the Commissioner and recorded as provided in said third article. Any building and loan association incorporated under any prior law, and extending the duration of the time for which it was incorporated, in the manner herein provided, shall be deemed as incorporated under and be invested with all the power given in this title, the same as though such corporation had been originally incorporated under it. [Id. Sec. 12.]

Art. 863. Financial statement.—Each association formed under the provisions of this title shall, at the close of its first year's operations, and annually at the same period in each year thereafter publish in at least one newspaper published in the place where its principal office may be located, or if no newspaper be published in such place, then in a newspaper published nearest such place, a concise statement, verified by the oaths of its president and secretary, showing the actual financial condition of the association, and the amount of its property and liabilities, specifying the same particularly. [Id. Sec. 13.]

Art. 864. Commissioner to supervise.—The Commissioner of Insurance shall have supervision of all building and loan associations doing business in this State, and shall be charged with the execution of the laws of this State relating to such association. During the absence or disability of the Commissioner his chief clerk or deputy shall be authorized to perform all the duties relating to the control and supervision of such association and the execution of the laws above described. [Id. Sec. 14.]

Art. 865. Statement to commissioner.—Every building and loan association doing business in this State shall, on the first day of January of each year, or within sixty days thereafter, file with the Commissioner a full and detailed statement of its financial condition on the 31st day of the preceding December, and the business transacted during the preceding year within this State. Said statement shall set forth the amount and character of its assets, liabilities, receipts and disbursements, and shall contain such other information, and be in such form as said Commissioner may prescribe, and shall be subscribed and sworn to by the secretary and treasurer of such association. Any such association refusing or neglecting to file the annual statement herein required within the period hereinbefore prescribed shall forfeit five dollars per day for each and every day such statement shall be withheld, and the Commissioner may maintain an action in the name of the State to recover such penalty, which, upon its collection, shall be paid into the State Treasury. The Commissioner shall within thirty days after such neglect or refusal to file such annual statement investigate the affairs of the association, and if found in a failing condition, take charge of its affairs. [Id. Sec. 15.]

Art. 866. Examination by commissioner.—Once in each year, or oftener, if in the opinion of the Commissioner it shall be necessary, the Commissioner shall make or cause to be made, an examination into the affairs of all building and loan associations doing business in this State. Such examination shall be full and complete, and in making the same the examiner shall have access to, and may compel the production of all books, papers and moneys, etc., of the association under examination and may examine any officer of such association or any other person connected therewith, as to its business and affairs. The Commissioner may appoint such special examiners as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this title. Such examiner shall be paid at the rate of eight dollars per day; they shall also receive necessary traveling expenses connected with the duties of their office, which shall be paid by the State Treasurer on the warrant of the Commissioner and the approval of the Governor. The expense incurred and services, other than examinations, performed especially for such associations shall be paid in full by such associations. [Id. Secs. 16, 25.]

Art. 867. Liquidation.—Whenever it shall appear to the Commissioner that the affairs of any such association are in an unsound condition, or that it is conducting its business in an unsafe or unlawful manner, such Commissioner shall at once notify the board of directors of such association, giving them twenty days in which to restore its affairs to a safe and sound condition, or to discontinue its illegal practices. If after twenty days such restoration shall not have been made, or such illegal practices shall have not been discontinued, said Commissioner may order one of the examiners appointed to examine such association, or a special examiner appointed for that purpose, to take possession of all books, records and assets of every description of such association and hold and retain possession of the same pending the further proceedings hereinafter specified. Should the board of directors, secretary or person in charge of such association refuse to permit the said examiner to take possession aforesaid, said Commissioner shall communicate such fact to the Attorney General, whereupon the Attorney General shall at once institute such proceedings as may be necessary to place such examiner in immediate possession of the property of such association. Upon taking possession of the effects of the association as aforesaid, said examiner shall prepare a full and true statement of the affairs and conditions of such association, including an itemized statement of its assets and liabilities, and shall receive and collect all debts, dues and claims belonging to it, and may pay the immediate and reasonable expense of his trust. Said examiner shall be required to execute to the Commissioner a good and sufficient bond to be approved by such Commissioner, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties as custodian of such association. The Commissioner shall, within fifteen days next after said examiner has acquired possession of the property of such association, convene a special meeting of the shareholders for the purpose of considering and acting upon the examiner's report of the affairs and conditions of such association as found by him from his examination thereof. The shareholders may, at said special meeting, by votes of those owning two-thirds of the shares in force, resolve to go into liquidation and for that purpose may, by a majority vote of those present elect from their number a receiver and fix his compensation. The compensation to be allowed a receiver under this title shall be an amount reasonable in proportion to the value of the property of the association, and in no event shall exceed $2500.00 per annum. A copy of said resolution duly certified by the presiding officer and secretary of said special meeting, together with the name and address of the receiver thus elected, shall be filed with the Commissioner. Said receiver shall be charged with a proper distribution of the assets, the discharge of all liabilities and final closing up of the business of such association. Before he shall enter upon the duties of his office, he shall be required to execute to the association a good and sufficient bond, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties, which shall be approved by and filed with said Commissioner. Upon the election and qualification of said receiver as aforesaid, the examiner shall, when so ordered by the Commissioner, turn over and deliver to said receiver all the books, papers and effects of every description in his hands belonging to such association. Said receiver shall, upon the completion of said duties intrusted to him, prepare a statement to that effect, reciting therein that all of the liabilities of such association have been completely discharged [as far as its assets will permit] and its assets and property distributed among all the persons entitled thereto. Said statement shall be subscribed and sworn to by said receiver and filed with the Commissioner, and a notice of such dissolution shall be published for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county wherein the principal office of such association is located. Upon the filing of said statement and making publication as aforesaid, such association shall be deemed dissolved. [Id. Sec. 17.]

Art. 868. Injunction.—If after having called a meeting of the stockholders as herein provided, the Commissioner shall find that liquidation by the shareholders cannot be had or consummated, he shall communicate such fact, together with a statement of the condition of the association to the Attorney General, who shall thereupon institute the necessary proceedings to enjoin such association from doing any further business, and for the appointment of a receiver therefor. [Id. Sec. 18.]

Art. 869. Forfeiture of shares.—If a shareholder be in arrears in the payment of dues upon unpledged shares, the board of directors may, if the shareholder fails to pay the amount of arrears within thirty days after notice, declare said shares forfeited. The withdrawal value of said shares at the time of forfeiture shall be ascertained and paid to such stockholder upon such notice as the by-laws may prescribe. Fines for the non-payment of dues, interest or premium shall not exceed one per cent per month on each dollar in arrears. [Id. Sec. 19.]

Art. 870. Expense and reserve fund.—The gross earnings of every building and loan association shall be ascertained at least once in each year, from which shall be deducted a sufficient amount to meet the operating expenses of such association, and from said earnings only shall such expenses be paid. From the balance of the earnings there shall be set aside at least one per cent annually as a reserve fund, until such fund reaches five per cent of the outstanding loans, at which rate it shall thereafter be maintained and held by annual appropriations from the earnings. From said reserve fund shall be paid all losses sustained by said association from depreciation of securities or otherwise. After providing for expenses of the association, and the reserve fund as aforesaid, the residue of such earnings shall be transferred and apportioned to the credit of the shareholders as the association by its by-laws shall provide. [Id. Sec. 20.]

Art. 871. Consolidation.—At the annual meeting, or at any meeting called for that purpose, any two or more building and loan associations organized under the laws of this State may by two-thirds of the vote of all shareholders of each of the different associations resolve to consolidate into one upon such terms as shall be mutually agreed upon by the directors of such associations. Any shareholder not consenting to such consolidation shall be entitled to receive the withdrawal value of his stock in settlement, or, if a borrower, to have such value applied in part settlement of his loan. Such consolidation shall not take effect until a copy of said resolution, certified by a majority of the board of directors of each association, shall be filed with the Secretary of State and with the Commissioner and recorded in the manner hereinbefore provided. [Id. Sec. 21.]

Art. 872. Dissolution.—At the annual meeting, or at any meeting called for that purpose, any building and loan association of this State may, by a vote of shareholders owning two-thirds of the shares in force, resolve to liquidate and dissolve the corporation. In order to facilitate such dissolution, the board of directors may, if they deem desirable, sell and transfer the mortgage securities and other property of such association to another corporation, person or persons, subject, however, to the vested and accrued rights of the mortgagors. Before said resolution shall have effect, a copy thereof, certified by the president and secretary of such association, together with an itemized statement of its assets and liabilities, sworn to by a majority of the directors, shall be filed with the Commissioner. After filing a copy of the resolution as aforesaid, it shall be unlawful for such association to issue stock or make any loans, but all of its income and receipts in excess of actual expense of management shall be applied to the discharge of liabilities. [Id. Sec. 22.]

Art. 873. Report of Commissioner.—The Commissioner shall annually, at the earliest possible date after the statements of such associations are received, make a report to the Governor of the general conduct and condition of all building and loan associations doing business in this State, including the information contained in such statements, arranged in tabular form together with such suggestions as he may deem expedient. There shall be printed of said report as many copies as the Commissioner shall deem necessary. [Id. Sec. 24.]

Art. 874. Foreign association.—Foreign building and loan associations doing business in this State shall conduct the same in accordance with the laws of this State governing domestic building and loan associations, and shall comply with all requirements of said laws except as herein provided. [Id. Sec. 26.]

Art. 875. Certificate of authority.—No foreign building and loan association shall do any business in this State until it shall procure from the Secretary of State a certificate of authority to do so. To procure such certificate of authority such foreign association shall comply with the following provisions:

1. It shall file with the Secretary of State a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, a copy of its by-laws and rules governing it, and its certificates and all printed matter issued by it, together with a statement of its financial condition such as is required annually from all building and loan associations organized under the laws of this State.

2. It shall file with the Secretary of State a written instrument, properly executed, agreeing that any summons or process of any court in this State may issue against it from any county in this State, and when served upon the Secretary of State, shall be accepted irrevocably as a valid service upon such foreign association. The Secretary of State shall mail a copy of such legal process served upon him to the home office of such foreign association, and the Secretary of State shall, within six days, certify to the court from which such summons or process issued, the fact of such mailing. The plaintiff shall for each process so served pay to the Secretary of State, at the time of such service, a fee of two dollars, which shall be recovered by the plaintiff as a part of the taxable costs if he prevail in the suit.

3. It shall deposit with the Secretary of State one hundred thousand dollars, either in cash or bonds of the United States, or bonds of any State in the United States, or bonds of any county or municipal corporation in the State of Texas, or mortgages, being first liens on improved and productive real estate located within this State, and worth at least twice the amount of the liens, or furnish surety company bond in said sum of one hundred thousand dollars; which securities or surety company bond shall be approved by the Secretary of State. Said deposit shall be held as security for all claims of residents of this State against such foreign associations, and shall be liable for all judgments or decrees thereon; and said securities shall not be released until all shares of such foreign associations held by residents of this State shall have been fully redeemed and paid off, and its contracts and obligations to residents of this State shall have been fully performed and discharged. Such foreign associations may collect and use the interest on any securities so deposited, so long as it fulfills its obligations and complies with the provisions of this title. It may also exchange them for other securities of equal value, if satisfactory to the Secretary of State. If the business of such associations be solely that of lending money in this State, and it sells none of its stock except where loans are actually made on real estate in this State for the full amount of the stock so sold, and made at the time of the sale of such stock, then in such event the provisions of this title requiring a deposit or bond of one hundred thousand dollars shall not apply. [Id. Sec. 27.]

Art. 876. Custody of securities.—All such securities deposited with the Secretary of State shall be immediately deposited by him with the State Treasurer, who, with his sureties, shall be responsible for the safe keeping thereof. The State Treasurer shall deliver such certificates only upon the written order of the Secretary of State. [Id. Sec. 28.]

Art. 877. Statement of foreign association.—Whenever such foreign association has complied with the provisions of this title, the Secretary of State shall so certify to the Commissioner, and thereupon such foreign association, shall also furnish to said Commissioner a full and complete financial statement of its affairs duly sworn to by its president and secretary, together with such other information as said Commissioner may require, which said report shall be filed annually thereafter. If the Commissioner is satisfied that such association is in sound financial condition and shall be satisfied that such foreign association is conducting its business in accordance with the laws of this State, and shall regard it safe, reliable and entitled to public confidence, he shall so certify to the Secretary of State, who shall issue certificate of authority and renewals of such certificate of authority upon the payment of the fees as herein provided. [Id. Sec. 29.]

Art. 878. Judgment against foreign association.—If at any time any shareholder of such foreign association residing in this State, shall recover judgment against such foreign association, which after thirty days shall not have been satisfied, the State Treasurer, upon an order from the Secretary of State, shall appropriate from the cash deposited with him by such association as herein provided, if any, or shall proceed to sell at the current market value, sufficient of the bonds, or collect sufficient of the mortgage securities deposited with him to satisfy the amount of such judgment, together with five per cent for his services and expense. Before ordering the State Treasurer to so proceed, the Secretary of State shall be served with an affidavit by the plaintiff or his attorney, setting forth the recovery of judgment, and that same has remained unpaid for thirty days, and that no proceedings are pending for appeal or reversal of the same. Such foreign association after notice of the service of such affidavits, shall not transact any new business in this State until any deficiency of securities caused by the necessity of satisfying such judgments shall have been made good by further deposit of similar securities with the Secretary of State. [Id. Sec. 31.]

Art. 879. Examination of same.—Every foreign building and loan association doing business in this State shall be subject to the same examinations as are building and loan associations organized under the laws of this State. The expense of all examinations of such foreign associations shall be paid by the association examined, and the money so received shall be paid into the State Treasury. It shall not be necessary for such examination to be made but once in each year. Such expense shall only include the necessary traveling expenses of such examiner and the sum of eight dollars per day, for each day actually required in making such examinations. [Id. Sec. 32.]

Art. 880. Revoking certificate.—Should the Secretary of State find, upon examination, that such for-foreign association does not conduct its business in accordance with law, or that the affairs of such foreign associations are in an unsound condition, or if such foreign association refuses to permit examination to be made, he may revoke the certificate of authority granted such foreign association to do business in this State. Upon the revocation of such certificate of authority, the Secretary of State shall mail a notice thereof to the home office of such foreign association, and cause a similar notice to be published in at least one newspaper published in the city of Austin. After publication of said notice it shall be unlawful for any agent of such foreign association to receive any further payments on shares from stockholders residing in this State, except payment on shares on which a loan has been made. [Id. Sec. 33.]

Art. 881. Penalty.—No foreign building and loan association shall be permitted to do business in this State unless the provisions of this title are fully complied with. All contracts made by such foreign associations while in default shall be absolutely void. Any such association violating any provision of this title, or failing to comply with any of its provisions, shall be subject to a penalty of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, such penalty to be recovered by an action in the name of the State of Texas, and upon the collection thereof, the same shall be paid into the State Treasury. [Id. sec. 34.]

1. DUTIES AND LIABILITIES

Article 882. [707] [319] [277] At common law.—The duties and liabilities of carriers in this State and the remedies against them, shall be the same as are prescribed by the common law except where otherwise provided by this title.

Art. 883. [708] [320] [278] Liability fixed.—Railroad companies and other common carriers of goods, wares and merchandise, for hire, within this State, on land, or in boats or vessels on the waters entirely within this State, shall not limit or restrict their liability as it exists at common law, by any general or special notice, or by inserting exceptions in the bill of lading or memorandum given upon the receipt of the goods for transportation, or in any other manner whatever. No special agreement made in contravention of this article shall be valid. [Act Dec. 4, 1863, p. 7; G. L. vol. 5, p. 661.]

Art. 884. [709] [321] [279] Must carry goods.—Upon the tender of the legal or customary rates of freight on goods offered for transportation, to a common carrier other than a railroad, such carrier shall receive and transport such goods, provided his vehicle or vessel has capacity safely to carry the goods so offered on the trip or voyage then pending, and such goods are of the kind usually carried upon such vehicle or vessel, and are offered at a reasonable time. Any common carrier refusing to transport goods as above provided or to take the same in the order presented, shall be liable in damages to the party injured, by reason of such refusal, and shall also be liable to a penalty of not less than five nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered in each case by the owner of the goods in the county where the wrong is done or where the common carrier resides. [Acts 1860, p. 39; G. L. vol. 4, p. 1401; 1895, Sen. Jour. p. 478.]

Art. 885. [710] [322] [280] Must give bill of lading.—Common carriers, when they receive goods for transportation, shall give to the shipper, when it is demanded, a bill of lading, or written receipt stating the quantity, character, order and condition of the goods; and such goods shall be delivered in like order and condition to the consignee, the unavoidable wear and tare [tear] and deterioration in due course of transportation only, excepted. Any such common carrier failing to deliver goods as herein required shall be liable to the party injured for his damages, as at common law; and on refusal to execute and deliver a bill of lading or written receipt shall be liable to a penalty of not less than five nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered as in the preceding article. [Id.]

Art. 886. [711] [323] [281] Liability as a warehouseman, etc.—Railroad companies and other common carriers having depots and warehouses for storing goods shall be liable as warehousemen are at common law for goods and the care of the same stored at such depots or warehouses before the commencement of the trip or voyage on which said goods are to be transported. They shall be liable as common carriers from the commencement of the trip or voyage until the goods are delivered to the consignee at the point of destination. The trip or voyage shall be considered as having commenced from the time of the signing of the bill of lading, and the liability of the common carrier shall attach, as at common law, from and after such signing. [Id.]

Art. 887. [712] [324] [282] Diligence in delivery.—If the carrier at the point of destination shall use due diligence to notify the consignee, and the goods are not taken by the consignee, and have in consequence to be stored in the depots or warehouses of the common carriers, they shall thereafter only be liable as warehousemen. [Id.]

Art. 888. [713] [325] [283] Shall ship in order.—Where common carriers receive goods for transportation into their warehouses or depots, they shall forward them in the order in which they are received, the first received to be first forwarded, without giving the preference to one over another. For failure to do so, they shall be liable for all losses occurring while the goods remain, and for all damages occasioned or in any wise resulting from the delay. [Id.]

Art. 889. [714] [326] [284] Care of animals.—A common carrier who conveys live stock of any kind shall feed and water the same during the time of conveyance and until the same is delivered to the consignee or disposed of as provided in this title, unless otherwise provided by special contract. Any carrier who shall fail to so feed and water said live stock sufficiently shall be liable to the party injured for his damages, and shall be liable also to a penalty of not less than five nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered by the owner of such live stock in any county where the wrong is done or where the common carrier resides.

2. BILLS OF LADING.

Art. 890. [715] Who shall issue.—All railroad companies, steamship companies and other common carriers, or receivers thereof, except express companies and pipe line companies, upon the receipt of freight for transportation shall issue bills of lading therefor, and authenticate, validate or certify such bills of lading, when the same shall be demanded by the shipper, in accordance with the provisions of this title. [Acts 1910, 4th C. S. p. 138.]

Art. 891. [716] Requisites.—Each bill of lading issued by a common carrier to which the provisions of this law apply for an intrastate shipment shall contain, and each bill of lading issued by such carrier for interstate or foreign shipment may contain, within the written or printed terms in addition to the other requirements of this law, the following:

1. The date of its issuance;
2. The name of the person from whom the goods have been received;
3. The place where the goods have been received;
4. The place to which the goods are to be transported;
5. A statement of whether the goods will be delivered to a specific person or the order of a specific person;
6. A description of the goods or the package containing them, which may, however, be in terms such as the Railroad Commission may approve;
7. The signature of the carrier or the duly authorized agent of the carrier; said bill of lading shall be so signed with pen and ink, and the person signing the same shall attach his signature below all written, printed or stamped matter contained in said bill of lading, except the words, "Authorized Agent of" (stating the name of his principal), which shall appear below his signature.
8. The carrier may insert in a bill of lading any other terms and conditions; provided such terms and conditions shall not be contrary to law or public policy or the orders promulgated by the Railroad Commission. No language shall be inserted in any bill of lading having the effect of limiting or avoiding any provision of this law. When any form of bill of lading has been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission and has been adopted by any carrier and made a part of its tariff, then said bill of lading, as to interstate and foreign shipments, shall be a sufficient compliance with this article. [Id.]

Art. 892. [717] Definitions.—A bill of lading in which it is stated that the goods are consigned or destined to a specific person is a "straight" bill of lading. A bill of lading in which it is stated that the goods are consigned to the order of any person named in such bill of lading, is an "order" bill of lading. Order bills of lading shall not be issued in sets or in duplicate, but copies thereof may be issued. Such copies shall have written or printed across the face thereof: "Copy—Not Negotiable." [Id.]

Art. 893. [718] Agent's certificate.—The carriers affected by this law shall keep posted for public inspection in some conspicuous place in the station or place where freight is received, an instrument of writing authorizing the agent of such carrier, or person authorized to act for such carrier selected for such purpose, to execute, sign and issue bills of lading; and the agent or person authorized to act for said carrier, so selected, shall attach his signature to such instrument in the same manner that he signs bills of lading. [Id.]

Art. 894. [719] Validity of bills.—Each bill of lading issued by the authorized agent of any carrier or receiver thereof, affected by this law, shall be held to be the act and deed of such carrier or receiver thereof, and the principal shall be liable thereon in accordance with the terms thereof. When any such bill of lading shall be validated, authenticated or certified in accordance with the rules and regulations herein provided for, and as the Railroad Commission may prescribe in accordance with the provisions of this law, and in the hands of an innocent holder for value, it shall be incontestable as to the matters and things therein set forth. [Id.]

Art. 895. [720] Failure to deliver on order.—A carrier which delivers goods for which an "order" bill of lading has been issued, the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of the goods, and fails to take up and cancel said bill of lading shall be liable for the failure to deliver the goods to any one who, for value, in good faith, purchases such bill of lading, whether the purchaser acquired title to the bill of lading before or after the delivery of the goods by the carrier, notwithstanding such delivery was made to the person entitled thereto, except when goods are sold to satisfy the carrier's lien, and except when compelled to do so by legal process. [Id.]

Art. 896. [721] Partial delivery.—A carrier which delivers part of the goods for which an "order" bill of lading has been issued, and fails to take up and cancel the bill of lading, or to place plainly upon the bill of lading a statement that a portion of the goods had been delivered, with a description which may be in general terms, either of the goods or packages that had been so delivered, or of the goods or packages which still remain in the carrier's possession, shall be liable for the failure to deliver all of the goods specified in the bill of lading to any one who for value and in good faith purchases it, whether such purchaser acquires title to the bill of lading before or after the delivery of any portion of the goods by the carrier, and notwithstanding such delivery was made to the person entitled thereto, except when goods are sold to satisfy the carrier's lien, and except when compelled to do so by legal process. [Id.]

Art. 897. [722] Loss of order bill.—When an "order" bill of lading shall have been lost or destroyed, a court of competent jurisdiction, in term time or vacation, may order the delivery of the goods upon satisfactory proof of such loss or destruction, and upon the giving of a bond with good and sufficient sureties approved by the court, to protect the carrier or any person injured by such delivery from any liability or loss incurred by reason of the original bill of lading remaining outstanding. The court in its discretion may also order the payment of the carrier's reasonable costs and counsel fees. The delivery of the goods under an order of court as provided in this article, shall not relieve the carrier from liability to a person to whom the order bill of lading has been or shall be negotiated for value, and without notice of the proceedings or the delivery of the goods. Nothing herein shall prevent the carrier from delivering the property covered by such lost bill of lading to any party claiming the same, on such terms as such party and the carrier may agree upon. [Id.]

Art. 898. [723] Not liable when.—The carrier shall not be liable under this law where the property has been replevied or levied upon or taken from the possession of the carrier by other legal process, or has been lawfully sold to satisfy the carrier's lien, or in case of the sale or disposition of perishable, hazardous or unclaimed goods, in accordance with law. [Id.]

Art. 899. [724] Railroad Commission.—The Railroad Commission shall adopt and prescribe forms, terms and conditions for the authentication, certification or validation of bills of lading issued by common carriers referred to in the first article of this subdivision, and regulate the manner and method of their issuance, and take such steps as it may deem necessary to carry this law into effect. It shall have authority to amend, alter and modify, from time to time, as it may deem expedient, any regulation which may be adopted by it in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision, after giving due notice thereof to all carriers interested and to the public. [Id.]

3. DISPOSITION OF UNCLAIMED GOODS

Art. 900. [725] [327] [285] Unclaimed freight.—When any freight or baggage has been conveyed by a common carrier to any point in this State, and shall remain unclaimed for the space of three months at the office or depot nearest or most convenient to destination, and the owner, whether known or not, fails within that time to claim such freight or baggage, or to pay the proper charges if there be any against it, it shall be lawful for such common carrier to sell such freight or baggage at public auction, offering each article separately as consigned or checked. [Acts 1874, p. 203; G. L. vol. 8, p. 205.]

Art. 901. [726] [328] [286] Sale.—Thirty days' notice of the time and place of sale, and a descriptive list of the packages to be sold, with names and numbers or marks found thereon, shall be posted in three public places in the county where the sale is to be made and on the door of the depot or warehouse if any, where the goods are, and notice shall also be given in at least one newspaper in the county, if any be published therein, for thirty days before sale. Out of the proceeds of such sale, the carrier shall deduct the proper charges on such freight or baggage, including costs of storing and costs of sale, and hold the overplus, if any, to the order of the owner any time within five years, on proof of ownership made by the claimant or his duly authorized agent or attorney. [Id.]

Art. 902. [728] [330] [288] Sale of live stock.—If any live stock remains unclaimed for the space of forty-eight hours after its arrival at the place of its destination, the carrier may sell the same at public auction after giving five days' notice of the time and place of such sale, as prescribed in the preceding article and apply the proceeds as prescribed in said article, after deducting reasonable expenses for keeping, feeding and watering said live stock from the time of its arrival at the place of its destination until disposed of as herein provided. [Id.]

Art. 903. [729] [331] [289] Perishable property.—If any perishable property remains unclaimed after arrival of [at] its place of destination until in danger of depreciation the carrier shall sell the same at public auction, after giving five days' notice of the time and place of sale, as prescribed in the second preceding article and apply the proceeds as prescribed in said article. [Id.]

Art. 904. Data kept.—In each sale under the three preceding articles the carrier shall keep an account of such sale and the expense thereof proportioned to each article sold, a copy of the notice and a copy of the sale bill. [Id.]

4. CONNECTING LINES OF COMMON CARRIERS

Art. 905. [731] "Connecting lines."—All common carriers in this State over whose transportation lines, or parts thereof, is transported any freight, baggage or other property received by either of such carriers for shipment or transportation between points in this State, on a contract for carriage recognized, acquiesced in, or acted upon by such carriers shall, with respect to the undertaking and matter of such transportation be considered and construed to be connecting lines. Such lines shall be deemed and held to be agents of each other, each the agent of the others, and all the others the agents of each, and shall be deemed and held to be under a contract with each other and with the shipper, owner and consignee of such property for the safe and speedy transportation of such property from point of shipment to destination; and such contract as to the shipper, owner and consignee of such property shall be deemed and held to be the contract of each of such common carriers. The provisions of this law shall apply whether the route of such freight, baggage or other property be chosen by the owner or his agents, or by the initial carrier to whom such property is delivered. In any suit brought hereunder, the rights, duties and liabilities of the parties shall be determined by the initial contract executed by and between the owner, shipper or his or her duly authorized agents and the initial carrier, unless it be proved that a subsequent contract supported by a valuable consideration moving to the owner or shipper, in addition to that of the initial contract, was executed by such owner, shipper or his or their duly authorized agents with a subsequent connecting carrier handling the shipment, and the transportation of a caretaker shall not be deemed to be such valuable consideration. In any court of this State, any bill of lading, waybill, receipt, check or other instrument issued by either of such carriers, or other proof showing that either of them has received such freight, baggage or other property for shipment or transportation, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the subsistence of the relations; duties and liabilities of such carrier as herein provided, notwithstanding any stipulation or attempted stipulation to the contrary by such carrier, or either of them, and any stipulation contained in any contract contrary to any provision of this law shall be void. [Acts 1895, p. 186; Acts 1919, p. 320.]

Art. 906. [732] Recovery by shipper.—For any damage or injury to, or loss or delay of, any freight, baggage or other property, sustained anywhere during the transportation over connecting lines or either of them, as contemplated and defined in the preceding article, either or all of such connecting carriers, as the person or persons sustaining such damage may elect to sue therefor in this State, shall be held liable to such person or persons. The provisions of law allowing an apportionment of damage shall not be applicable to suits brought by such person or persons under the provisions of this subdivision except upon the plaintiff's request. Any carrier or carriers held liable under the provisions hereof shall be entitled in a subsequent action to recover the amount of any loss, damage or injury it has been required to pay hereunder, from the carrier or carriers through whose negligence the loss, damage or injury was sustained, together with all costs of suit; and for the purpose of such recovery, it shall only be necessary that the carrier against whom judgment was had, show which carrier or carriers caused the loss or damage and produce satisfactory evidence that the judgment rendered against it has been paid, and in such action between the carriers, the provisions of law allowing an apportionment of damage shall be applicable. [Id.]

5. PROTECTING MOVEMENT OF COMMERCE

Art. 907. Protecting commerce.—If at any time the movement of commerce by common carriers of this State or any of them is interfered with in violation of the provisions of Chapter 10, Title 14 of the Penal Code, and the Governor, after investigation, becomes convinced that the local authorities were failing to enforce the law, either because they were unable or unwilling to do so, the Governor shall, in order that the movement of commerce may not be interfered with, forthwith issue his proclamations declaring such conditions to exist and describing the area thus affected. Each article of said Title of the Penal Code is made a part hereof. [Acts 4th C. S. 1920, p. 8.]

Art. 908. Governor's jurisdiction.—Upon the issuance of the proclamation provided for in the preceding article, the Governor shall exercise full and complete police jurisdiction of the area described in the proclamation whether the same be all within or partly within, or partly without the limits of any incorporated city or county; the exercise of said police jurisdiction by the Governor as above set out, shall supersede all police authority by any and all local authority, provided that the Governor shall not disturb the local authorities in the exercise of police jurisdiction, at any place outside the district described in his proclamation. [Id.]

Art. 909. Arrests.—No peace officer of this State shall be permitted to make arrests after the Governor's proclamation has become effective, in the territory embraced by such proclamation, except officers acting under the authority of the Governor under the provisions of this law. Persons arrested within the district shall be delivered forthwith, to the proper authorities for trial. [Id.]

Art. 910. Rangers used.—The provisions of this law shall be effective without a declaration of martial law. The State Rangers may be used in the enforcement of the provisions of this law. If a sufficient number of Rangers are not available, the Governor is authorized to employ any number of men to be designated as special Rangers and such men shall have all the power and authority of the regular Rangers, and shall be paid the same salary as the Rangers are paid, and such salaries shall be paid out of the appropriation made to the executive office for the payment of rewards and the enforcement of the law.

Art. 911. Scope of law.—Nothing in this law shall be construed as limiting the power and authority of the Governor to declare martial law and to call forth the militia for the purpose of executing the law, when in the judgment of the chief executive it is deemed necessary so to do. This law shall be construed as cumulative of the existing laws of this State, and shall not be held to repeal any of the same except where in direct conflict herewith. [Id.]

6. REGULATION OF MOTOR BUS TRANSPORTATION

Art. 911a. Motor bus transportation and regulation by railroad commission.—Sec. 1 (a) That the term "Corporation" when used in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. 1690a] means a corporation, company, association or joint stock association.

(b) The term "Person" when used in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. 1690a] means an individual, firm, or co-partnership.

(c) The term "Motor-bus Company" when used in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. 1690a] means every corporation or person as herein defined, their lessees, trustees, receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating, or managing any motor propelled passenger vehicle, not usually operated on or over rails, and engaged regularly in the business of transporting persons as passengers for compensation or hire over the public highways between points within the State of Texas, whether operating over fixed routes or otherwise, and provided further, that the term "Motor-bus Company" as used in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] shall not include corporations or persons, their lessees, trustees, or receivers, or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, insofar as they own, control, operate, or manage motor propelled passenger vehicles operated wholly within the limits of any incorporated town or city and the suburbs thereof, whether separately incorporated or otherwise.

(d) The term "Public Highway" when used in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] means every street, road, or highway in this State.

(e) The term "Highway Commission" when used in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] means the Board of Highway Commissioners of the State of Texas.

(f) The term "Commission" when used in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] means the Railroad Commission of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. All motor-bus companies, as defined herein, are hereby declared to be "common carriers" and subject to regulation by the State of Texas, and shall not operate any motor propelled passenger vehicle for the regular transportation of persons as passengers for compensation or hire over any public highway in this State except in accordance with the provision of this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a], provided, however, that nothing in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] or any provision thereof shall be construed or held to in any manner affect, limit, or deprive cities and towns from exercising any of the powers granted them by Chapter 147, pages 307 to 318 inclusive, of the General Laws of the State of Texas, passed by the Thirty-third Legislature, or any amendments thereto.

Sec. 3. It is hereby declared that when existing transportation facilities on any highway in this State do not provide passenger service which the Commission shall deem adequate to provide for public convenience on such highway, then such inadequacy of service shall be considered as creating a condition wherein the public convenience and necessity require the designation of, and provision for, additional service on such highway, and it shall be the duty of the Commission to issue certificate or certificates as herein provided, if in the opinion of said Commission the issuance of such certificate will promote the public welfare.

Sec. 4. The Commission is hereby vested with power and authority, and it is hereby made its duty to supervise and regulate the public service rendered by every motor-bus company operating over the public highways in this State, to fix or approve the maximum, or minimum, or maximum and minimum, fares, rates or charges of, and to prescribe all rules and regulations necessary for the government of, each motor-bus company; to prescribe the routes, schedules, services, and safety operations of each such motor-bus company, to require the filing of such annual and other reports and of other data by such motor-bus company as the Commission may deem necessary; and to supervise and regulate motor-bus companies in all other matters affecting the relationship between such motor-bus companies and the traveling public, whether herein specifically mentioned or not. The Commission, in prescribing and adopting routes and dealing with all other matters affecting the physical operation and control of motor-bus companies over the public highways, under the power and authority of this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a], shall give due and proper consideration, in forming its conclusions and prescribing its orders and regulations, to the general highway laws of this State and to the orders, regulations, ordinances, or recommendations of the Highway Commission of Texas, or the Commissioners' Courts of any County or Counties or the local government of any municipality through or between which the routes for such motor-bus companies are prescribed and adopted.

Sec. 5. No motor-bus company shall hereafter regularly operate for the transportation of persons as passengers for compensation or hire over the public highways of this State without first having obtained from the Commission under the provisions of this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a], a certificate or permit declaring that the public convenience and necessity require such operation; provided, however, that when it appears to the satisfaction of the Commission that any motor-bus company making application for a certificate or permit is operating and has been continuously operating a motor-propelled passenger vehicle service in good faith, over the particular highways designated in said application for certificate or permit, for a period commencing January 11th, 1927, or prior thereto, said motor-bus company, shall upon application be granted a temporary permit to operate just as said company shall have been operating during said period and no more; said temporary certificate or permit shall become permanent without notice and hearing before the Commission unless a protest shall be filed with the Commission as provided herein; and in the event protest is filed to the application of such motor-bus company, then said temporary certificate or permit shall continue in effect until said application and protest is heard and decided upon by the Commission, and said hearing and decision shall be had and rendered by the Commission as speedily as possible.

At any time within thirty days after the day this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] shall take effect anyone affected by the granting of said certificate or permit may file with the Commission, a protest against said certificate or permit becoming or being made permanent, but such protest to be considered by the Commission must be filed within the specified thirty days and shall be in writing, and the author or authors of said protest shall supply the applying motor-bus company with a copy of same, setting forth in reasonable detail the reasons for said protest. In the event of protest to any application of any existing motor-bus company, hearing upon such application and protest shall be had and decision rendered as provided for all other applications.

In all other matters the holders of temporary or permanent certificates or permits obtained in this manner shall be subject to all of the provisions of this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a].

Any right, privilege, permit, or certificate held, owned or obtained by any motor-bus company under the provisions of this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] may be sold, assigned, leased or transferred, or inherited; provided, however, that any proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer shall be first presented in writing to the Commission for its approval or disapproval and the Commission may disapprove such proposed sale, assignment, lease, or transfer if it be found and determined by the Commission that such proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer is not made in good faith or that the proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee or transferee is not able or capable of continuing the operation of the equipment proposed to be sold, assigned, leased or transferred, in such manner as to render the service demanded by the public necessity and convenience on and along the designated route.

Provided, however, that any right, privilege, permit or certificate held, owned or obtained by any Motor Bus Company under the provisions of this Act or owned or obtained by any assignee or transferee of any such Motor Bus Company shall be taken and held subject to the right of the State at any time to limit, restrict or forbid the use of the Streets and Highways of this State to any owner or holder of such right, privilege, permit or certificate.

Sec. 6. The Commission is hereby vested with power and authority, and it is hereby made its duty upon the filing of an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, to ascertain and determine under such rules and regulations as it may promulgate, after considering existing transportation facilities on such highway, the service rendered and capable of being rendered thereby, and the demand for, or need of additional service, if there exists a public necessity for such service, and if public convenience will be promoted by granting said application and permitting the operating of motor vehicles on the highways designated in such application, as a common carrier for hire.

Sec. 7. The Commission shall also ascertain and determine if a particular highway or highways designated in said application are of such type of construction or in such state of repair, or subject to such use as to permit of the use sought to be made by the applicant, without unreasonable interference with the use of such highway or highways by the general public for highway purposes. And if the Commission shall determine, after hearing that the service rendered or capable of being rendered by existing transportation facilities or agencies on such highways is reasonably adequate, or that public convenience on such highways would not be promoted by granting of said application and the operation of motor vehicles on the public highways therein designated, or that such highway or highways are not in such state of repair, or are already subject to such use as would not permit of the use sought to be made by the applicant without unreasonable interference with the use of such highway or highways by the general public for highway purposes, then in either or any [of] such event said application may be denied and said certificate refused, otherwise the application shall be granted and the certificate issued upon such terms and conditions as said Commission may impose and subject to such rules and regulations as it may thereafter prescribe.

The Railroad Commission shall have no power in any event to refuse an application for a certificate of convenience and necessity on the ground that there are existing railroad or interurban railroad transportation facilities sufficient to serve the transportation needs of the territory involved.

In determining whether or not a certificate should be issued, the Commission shall give weight and due regard to (1) probable permanence and quality of the service offered by the applicant, (2) the financial ability and responsibility of the applicant and its organization and personnel (3) the character of vehicles and the character and location of depots or termini proposed to be used, and (4) the experience of the applicant in the transportation of passengers and the character of the bond or insurance proposed to be given to insure the protection of its passengers and the public.

The Commission shall have the power and authority to grant temporary certificates to meet emergencies and shall have the power to make special rules and regulations to meet special conditions in different localities and for such time as in its judgment may be deemed expedient and best for the public welfare.

Sec. 8. No application for certificate shall be considered by said Commission except that it be reduced to writing and set forth the following facts:

(a) It shall contain the name and address of the applicant, and the names and addresses of its officers; if any, and shall give full information concerning the financial condition and physical properties of the applicant.

(b) The complete route or routes over which the applicant desires to operate, together with a brief description of each vehicle which the applicant intends to use, including the seating capacity thereof.

(c) A proposed time schedule and a schedule of rates showing the passenger fares to be charged between the several points or localities to be served.

(d) It shall be accompanied by a plat or map showing the route or routes over which the applicant desires to operate, on which plat or map shall be delineated the line or lines of any existing transportation company or companies over the highways serving such territory, with the names and addresses of the owner or owners thereof, and shall point out the inadequacy of existing transportation facilities or services, and shall specify wherein additional facilities or service are required and would be secured by the granting of said application.

Sec. 9. Upon the filing of said application the Commission shall fix a time and place for hearing, and the place of hearing shall be the city of Austin, Texas, unless otherwise ordered by said Commission. Notice of the filing of said application, and the time and place of hearing shall be given by mail not less than ten days exclusive of the day of mailing before such hearing, addressed to the owner or owners of existing transportation facilities over the highways, serving such territory as applicant seeks to serve, as well as to the Highway Commission of the State of Texas, the County Judge or Judges of the Counties and to the Mayor of any incorporated city or town, through which such motor carriers seek to operate.

Sec. 10. The hearing shall be conducted under such rules and regulations as the Commission may prescribe, and all parties interested, including the Highway Commission of this State, may appear either in person or by counsel, and present such evidence and argument as they may desire and as the Commission may deem pertinent, in favor of or against the granting of said application. It shall be the duty of the Highway Commission of this State, upon the request of the Commission to furnish any and all information that it has at its command relating to the highway or highways designated in such application as well as such other information as said Commission may deem pertinent to the granting or refusal of such application. After such hearing, and such investigation as the Commission may make of its own motion, it shall be the duty of said Commission to either refuse said application and certificate, or to grant said application and issue said certificate, in whole or in part, upon such terms and conditions as it may impose, and subject to such rules and regulations as it may thereafter prescribe.

The Commission, at any time by its order duly entered after hearing had upon notice to the holder of any certificate granted under this Act [Art. 911a; P.

C. art. 1690a], and an opportunity given such holder to be heard, at which hearing it shall be proven to the satisfaction of the Commission, that such certificate holder has discontinued operation or has violated or refused or neglected to observe any of its proper orders, rates, fares, rules, or regulations, may suspend, revoke, alter or amend any certificate issued under the provisions of this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a], provided that the holder of such certificate shall have the right of appeal as provided herein.

Sec. 11. The Commission shall, in the granting of any certificate to any motor bus company for regularly transporting persons as passengers for compensation or hire, require the owner or operator to first procure liability and property damage insurance from a company licensed to make and issue such insurance policy in the State of Texas, covering each and every motor propelled vehicle while actually being operated by such applicant. The amount of such policy or policies of insurance shall be fixed by the Commission by general order or otherwise, and the terms and conditions of said policy or policies covering said motor vehicle are to be such as to indemnify the applicant against loss by reason of any personal injury to any person or loss or damage to the property of any person other than the assured and his employees. Such policy or policies shall furthermore provide that the insurer will pay all judgments which may be recovered against the insured motor bus company based on claims for loss or damage from personal injury or loss of, or injury to, property occurring during the term of the said policy or policies and arising out of the actual operation of such motor bus or busses, and such policy or policies shall also provide for successive recoveries to the complete exhaustion of the face amount thereof, and that such judgment will be paid by the insurer irrespective of the solvency or insolvency of the insured. Such liability and property damage insurance as required by the Commission shall be continuously maintained in force on each and every motor propelled vehicle while being operated in common carrier service. In addition to the insurance hereinabove set forth, the owner or operator shall also protect his employees by taking out workmen's compensation insurance either as provided by the Workmen's Compensation Laws of the State of Texas or in a reliable insurance company approved by the Railroad Commission of the State of Texas. The taking out of such indemnity policy or policies shall be a condition precedent to any operation and such policy or policies as required under this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a], shall be approved and filed with the Commission and failure to file and keep such policy or policies in force and effect as provided herein shall be cause for the revocation of the certificate and shall subject the motor bus company so failing to the penalties prescribed herein.

Sec. 12. The Commission shall have the power and authority under this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] to hear and determine all applications of motor-bus companies; to determine complaints presented to it by motor-bus companies, by any public official or by any citizen having an interest in the subject matter of the complaint, or it may institute and investigate any matter pertaining to automobile passenger transportation for compensation or hire upon its own motion. The Commission, or any member thereof, or authorized representative of the Commission, shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, swear witnesses, take their testimony under oath, make record thereof, and if such record is made under the direction of a Commission[er], or authorized representative of the Commission a majority of the Commission may upon the record render judgment as if the case had been heard before a majority of the members of the Commission. The Commission shall have the power and authority under this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] to do and perform all necessary things to carry out the purpose, intent, and provisions of this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a], whether herein specifically mentioned or not, and to that end may hold hearings at any place in Texas which it may designate.

Sec. 13. Each witness who shall be summoned to appear before the Commission or a Commissioner or authorized representative outside the county of his residence shall receive for his attendance the same per diem and fees as now provided for witnesses in attendance on district courts of this State in criminal cases; such fees and mileage shall be ordered paid upon proper voucher, sworn to by such witness and approved by the Commission or the Chairman thereof, out of the moneys and funds arising under this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a]; provided that no witness shall be entitled to any witness fees or mileage who is directly or indirectly interested in any motor-bus or other transportation company involved in or concerning which the investigation or hearing on account of which he is called shall relate, and no witness furnished with free transportation shall receive pay for the distance he may have traveled on such free transportation. All process issued by the Commission for summoning witnesses or other purposes shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of any county in the State of Texas and any sheriff or constable of any county in this State shall promptly execute any subpoena or other document directed to him by the Commission and shall receive such fees for this service as is now paid for like services in the district courts of this State, such payment to be made on accounts properly verified and approved by the Commission or the Chairman thereof out of the fund provided in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a].

Sec. 15. For the purpose of defraying the expense of administering this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a], every motor-bus company now regularly operating, or which shall hereafter regularly operate in this State, shall, in addition to other fees and charges provided for by law, at the time of the issuance of a certificate of convenience and necessity, as provided herein, and annually thereafter on or between September 1st and September 15th of each calendar year, pay a special minimum fee of Ten Dollars ($10.00) for each motor propelled vehicle, and a further fee computed on the basis of fifty (50) cents per passenger seat for the rated passenger capacity of the vehicle or vehicles used.

If the certificate of convenience and necessity herein referred to is issued after the month of September of any year, the fees paid shall be proportionate to the remaining portion of the year ending August 31st following, but in no case less than one-fourth the annual fee. In case of emergencies or unusual temporary demands for transportation the fee for additional motor propelled vehicles for less periods shall be fixed by the Commission in such reasonable amounts as may be prescribed by general rule or temporary order.

All fees accruing hereunder and all fines collected under the provisions of this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] shall be payable to the State Treasurer at Austin, Texas, and shall, by the State Treasurer, be deposited in the State Treasury at Austin and credited to the fund to be known and designated as the "Motor Transportation Fund" and out of which all warrants for expenditures necessary in administering and enforcing this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] shall be paid.

Sec. 16. The Commission shall have power to employ and appoint from time to time such experts, assistants, and other help, in addition to its present force, as may be deemed necessary to enable it at all times to properly administer and enforce this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a]. Such persons and employees of the Commission shall be paid for the services rendered such sums as may be fixed and prescribed by the Commission in monthly installments, and such salaries, wages and all fees that may be paid to witnesses and officers shall be paid out of the motor transportation fund by the State Treasurer on warrant of the Comptroller of Public Accounts on order or voucher approved by the Commission or the Chairman thereof. All actual and necessary traveling expenses of the members of the Commission and employees shall also be paid out of the said motor transportation fund in the same manner as salaries, wages, and fees when such accounts shall have been itemized and sworn to by the Commission or employee incurring the expense and approved by the Commission or the Chairman thereof.

If the amount or total of such gross receipts collected under the provisions of this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] shall not be sufficient during any annual period to pay such salaries, costs, charges, fees, and expenses, then the deficit shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of any funds not otherwise appropriated. Until sufficient funds have accrued to said motor transportation fund for the payment of expenses, fees, etc. as provided herein, said expenses shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of any funds not otherwise appropriated, such sum to be paid out of the general revenue not to exceed the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), and said sum is hereby appropriated. Any surplus remaining in the motor transportation fund at the end of any fiscal year, after paying all such salaries, accounts, fees, and charges and after deducting such amount as may be contracted to be paid and incurred and such sum as may be reasonably estimated by the Commission for its use pending further collection of fees shall be paid over to the general revenue fund.

Sec. 17. If any such auto transportation company, association, corporation, or other party at interest be dissatisfied with any decision, rate, charge, rule, order, act, or regulation adopted by the Commission, such dissatisfied person, association, corporation, or party may file a petition setting forth the particular objection to such decision, rate, charge, rule, order, act, or regulation, or to either or all of them in the district court in Travis County, Texas, against said Commission as defendant. Said action shall have precedence over all other causes on the docket of a different nature and shall be tried and determined as other civil causes in a said court; either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending; provided, that if the court be in session at the time such right of action accrues the suit may be filed during such term and stand ready for trial after ten days notice. In all trials under this section the burden of proof shall rest upon the plaintiff who must show by the preponderance of evidence that the decisions, rates, regulations, rules, orders, classifications, acts, or charges complained of are unreasonable and unjust to it or them. The Commission shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder and no injunction shall be granted against any order of the Commission without hearing unless it shall clearly appear that irreparable injury will be done the complaining party if the injunction is not granted.

Sec. 18. Whenever notice is required in this Act [Art. 911a; P. C. art. 1690a] to be given ten days exclusive of the day of service and return shall be considered as reasonable notice; provided, that in case of emergency the Commission may hear any cause or complaint on less than ten days notice.

Sec. 19. The State Board of Control is hereby authorized and directed to set aside such additional office space in the Capitol at Austin as may be deemed necessary by the Commission for the proper performance of its added duties as herein defined. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 399, ch. 270.]

Section 20 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 399, ch. 270, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws, and section 21 provides that if any provision is held invalid such holding shall not affect the remaining provisions.

TITLE 26

CEMETERIES

- Art.
912. Trust fund.
913. Who may be trustees.
914. Substitute trustees.
915. Construction of trust.
916. Powers of corporation.

- Art.
917. May convey lots.
918. Lot owners may vote.
919. Cemetery corporations.
920. Rights of lot owners.
921. May acquire land.
921a. Location of cemeteries.
922. Purchase and condemnation.
923. Former owners.
924. Preserving rights.
925. Plat and survey.
926. May make by-laws.
927. Rules for care of lot.
928. Meeting to receive title.
929. Reports not required.
930. Authority of city.
931. Authority of county.

Article 912. Trust fund.—Persons desiring to provide a fund for maintaining and keeping up and beautifying of private blocks or lots in any cemetery in this State may do so by setting aside for such purposes a reasonable sum of money and by providing by written instrument which shall recite the terms of the trust for a trustee or trustees to handle and invest said sum and spend the resources therefrom as follows: Not exceeding seventy-five per cent of the net income therefrom shall be devoted to keeping up and beautifying the private blocks and lots designated in the instrument. The portion of such income not expended annually as set out in the preceding paragraph, the amount not to be less than twenty-five per cent of such income, shall be devoted to the general up-keep and beautifying of the cemetery in which such blocks or lots are located. [Acts 1917, p. 364.]

Art. 913. Who may be trustees.—The trustees provided for may be natural persons designated by name and their successors, or persons holding designated positions and indicated as holders of such positions and their successors; or corporations whose charters authorize them to act in such capacity. [Id.]

Art. 914. Substitute trustees.—The founder of said fund may designate therein the number of trustees and the manner of renewing same. If no method of perpetuating the trustees shall be set out in the instrument or if the trustees therein provided or their successors shall fail to effect such perpetuity, then any court having equity jurisdiction located within the county wherein such cemetery is maintained shall be authorized, upon application of any person interested, or of the court's own motion, if facts come within its cognizance, to appoint suitable trustees to the number specified in such instrument to execute such trust. [Id.]

Art. 915. Construction of trust.—Such trust and the administration thereof shall not be regarded and held to be a perpetuity, but as a provision for the discharge of a duty due from the party founding such trust to the persons interred upon such blocks or lots and to the public. [Id.]

Art. 916. [1300] [715] [639] Powers of corporation.—Cemetery corporations shall have power to divide the land of the cemetery into lots and subdivisions for the purposes of the cemetery, and to tax the property for the purpose of its general improvement. [P. D. 6002.]

Art. 917. [1301] [716] [640] May convey lots.—Such corporation shall have power to convey by deed or otherwise, any lot or lots of the cemetery for purpose of sepulture. When such lots shall have been surveyed and platted, the survey and plat shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein same are situated, and shall not afterward be changed or altered. No lots shall be sold or disposed of until such plat shall have been recorded. [P. D. 6003.]

Art. 918. [1302] [717] [641] Lot owners may vote.—All owners of lots purchased of any such corporation shall become members thereof, and be entitled to vote in the election of its officers and upon any other matters to the same extent as stockholders in other corporations. [P. D. 6004.]

Art. 919. [1286] Cemetery corporations.—Corporations for the purpose of owning and maintaining public or private cemeteries, or for the purpose only of maintaining and caring for cemeteries, may be formed under and in accordance with the provisions of this title, and when so organized, shall have and exercise all the powers conferred by this title. In framing a charter for such corporation, if desired to confer upon it the powers specified in this title, the charter shall state that the corporation is organized in pursuance of this title. [Acts 1907, p. 37.]

Art. 920. [1287] Rights of lot owners.—Each owner of a lot or lots embraced in any cemetery subject to the provisions of this title shall be a shareholder in any corporation to which the land may belong, and shall be entitled to all rights and privileges of a shareholder whether the title to the lot or lots was acquired from the corporation, or was owned before its organization. [Id. sec. 2.]

Art. 921. [1289] May acquire land.—Every corporation organized under this title shall have the power to acquire, own, and hold all lands and other property which may be necessary or suitable to the accomplishment of its purposes, and may acquire lands which have been previously dedicated to burial purposes, by conveyance from the person or persons in whom title may be, or from any person who may hold such land in trust, with the power to transfer it to preserve the trust. [Id. sec. 4.]

Art. 921a. Location of cemeteries.—It shall be unlawful for any person, company, corporation or association to establish or use for burial purposes any graveyard or cemetery located less than one mile from the incorporated line of any city of not less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants within the State of Texas; provided, that where cemeteries have heretofore been used and maintained within less than one mile from any incorporated city or town, and additional lands are required for cemetery purposes, any person owning lands adjacent to said cemetery may lay out and use or sell the same to be used as an addition to such cemetery, and the use of the said additional lands for such purposes shall be exempt from the provisions of this Section.

The maintenance or location and use of any graveyard or cemetery in violation of the provisions of this Act are declared to be a nuisance, and any person owning a residence in or near said town or city may maintain an action in the courts to abate such nuisance and to enjoin its continuance, and if it appears that said nuisance exists or is threatened in violation of this Act, a perpetual injunction shall be granted against parties guilty of such nuisance. [Id. 327.]

Art. 922. Purchase and condemnation.—Cemetery associations, whether incorporated or unincorporated, shall have the power to purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire, such land as may be needed by them in the communities in which their cemeteries may be located for the purpose of the proper burial of the dead, and such power shall extend to the acquisition of such land as may reasonably be needed therefor in the future as well as such land as may be immediately needed. Such land may be acquired also by condemnation proceedings. The acquisition of such lands is hereby declared to be for a public purpose. [Acts 1917, p. 323.]

Art. 923. [1290] Former owners.—In case the land purchased as herein specified, or any portion of it, has been used as a cemetery, then the owners of lots therein shall have the right to participate in the organization of the corporation and shall be shareholders therein after the company has been organized. [Id. sec. 4.]

Art. 924. [1291] Preserving rights.—Whenever any corporations organizing under this title shall acquire lands already used for burial purposes, the division of the said ground into lots, streets, etc., existing at the time of the acquisition, shall be preserved so far as is necessary to protect the rights of those who have already acquired lots therein. [Id. sec. 5.]

Art. 925. [1292] Plat and survey.—Any such corporation, after its organization, shall cause the ground which it may acquire for cemetery purposes to be laid out in proper avenues and alleys, blocks and lots, as may be found convenient and necessary for the proper use thereof; and the corporation shall cause a plat to be made of said cemetery ground, which shall be approved by the board of directors, and shall be attested by the president and secretary of the corporation, after which it shall be recorded in the county clerk's office of the county. [Id. sec. 5.]

Art. 926. [1293] May make by-laws.—Every corporation organized under this title shall have the power to make all necessary by-laws as prescribed by this title, and also to make all rules and regulations necessary to govern in the sale of lots and the use of the same by the purchasers thereof. [Id. sec. 6.]

Art. 927. [1294] Rules for care of lot.—The board of directors shall have authority to make reasonable rules, requiring the lot owners to keep their lots clean from improper growth, so as to preserve the good order and proper appearance of the grounds, but shall not have the power to require of any lot owner a particular character of improvement therein. [Id. sec. 6.]

Art. 928. [1295] Meeting to receive title.—When it is desired to create a corporation under this title to receive the title to lands theretofore dedicated to the purpose of a cemetery, notice of the time and place of a meeting of the lot owners shall be published in a newspaper in the county, if there be one, for thirty days; and printed notices shall be posted at, and upon, such cemetery for thirty days prior to the time fixed for the meeting. When the lot owners and other persons uniting in the formation of the corporation shall assemble, the majority of those present and voting shall decide upon the question of incorporation, and the conveyance of the land to it. Such meeting shall select the board of directors to be named in the charter, which may consist of lot owners alone, or persons may be chosen as directors who are not owners of lots in the cemetery. [Id. sec. 7.]

Art. 929. [1297] Reports not required.—Corporations formed under this title shall be exempt from any provision of law requiring periodical reports to be made to any department of the State government. [Id. sec. 8.]

Art. 930. [1298] Authority of city.—The governing body of any city in which the cemetery is to be located shall have the power to control the location of any such cemetery, and to prescribe the maximum price at which lots therein shall be sold to the public. [Id. sec. 8.]

Art. 931. [1299] Authority of county.—When any such cemetery is located without the limits of any city, the commissioners court of such county shall have the power to prescribe the maximum at which lots therein shall be sold. [Id. sec. 8.]

1. CERTIORARI TO THE COUNTY COURT

Article 932. [733] [332] [290] Certiorari to county court.—Any person interested in the estate of a decedent or ward may have the proceedings of the county court therein revised and corrected at any time within two years after such proceedings were had, and not afterward. Persons non compos mentis, infants and femes covert shall have two years after the removal of their respective disabilities within which to apply for such revision and correction. [Acts March 16, 1848, p. 106, G. L. vol. 3, p. 106.]

Art. 933. [734] [333] [291] Application for.—An application for writ of certiorari to the county court shall be made to the district court, or a judge thereof. It shall state the name and residence of each party adversely interested, and shall distinctly set forth the error in the proceeding sought to be revised.

Art. 934. [735] [334] [292] Granted on execution of bond.—The writ of certiorari shall in all cases be granted upon the application of a party therefor upon the applicant entering into bond in such sum as shall be required by the judge, sufficient to secure the costs of the proceeding.

Art. 935. [736] [335] [293] Not to operate as supersedeas.—A writ of certiorari shall not operate as a supersedeas of the judgment of the county court, unless the applicant therefor shall enter into bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, in such sum as shall be fixed by the order of the district judge, payable to the adverse party, and conditioned for the performance of the judgment of the district court, in case such judgment shall be against the applicant.

Art. 936. [737] [336] [294] Writ.—The writ of certiorari shall be issued by the district clerk upon the compliance of the party with the order of the district court or the judge thereof. It shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of the proper county, and shall command him to cite the county clerk to make out a certified transcript of the proceedings designated in the writ, and transmit the same to the district court to which the writ is returnable, on or before the return day of the next succeeding term thereof.

Art. 937. [738] [337] [295] When supersedeas granted.—When an order for a supersedeas has been made, it shall also require the clerk and all officers of said court to stay further proceedings on the judgment specified in said writ.

Art. 938. [739] [338] [296] Citation as in ordinary cases.—Whenever a writ of certiorari has been issued, the clerk shall forthwith issue a citation for the party named in the application as being adversely interested in the proceedings sought to be revised.

Art. 939. [740] [339] [297] Trial de novo.—The cause shall be tried de novo in the district court, but the issues shall be confined to the grounds of error specified in the application for the writ. The judgment shall be certified to the county court for observance. [Act May 13, 1846, p. 363; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1669.]

Art. 940. [741] [340] [298] Appeals and writs of error.—Appeals and writs of error to the supreme court, from the judgments of the district courts in cases of certiorari, shall be allowed and governed by the rules as in other cases.

2. CERTIORARI TO JUSTICES' COURTS

Art. 941. [742] [341] [299] Certiorari to justices' court.—After final judgment in a justice court in any cause except in cases of forcible entry and detainer, the cause may be removed to the county court by writ of certiorari (or if the civil jurisdiction has been transferred from the county to the district court, then to the district court,) in the manner hereinafter directed. [Acts 1879, p. 125; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1425.]

Art. 942. [743] [342] [300] Order for writ.—The writ of certiorari shall be issued by order of the county court or the judge thereof (or district court or judge thereof, if jurisdiction is transferred to the district court), as provided in the preceding Article. [As amended Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 22, ch. 17, § 1.]

Art. 943. [744] [343] [301] Requisites of the writ.—The writ shall command the justice to make and certify a copy of the entries in the cause on his docket, and transmit the same, with the papers in his possession, to the proper court on or before the first day of the next term thereof. If there is not time for such transcript and papers to be filed at such term, then they shall be so filed at the next succeeding term of said court. [Act March 20, 1848, p. 163; G. L. vol. 3, p. 163.]

Art. 944. [745] [344] [302] Affidavit of sufficient cause.—The writ shall not be granted unless the applicant or some person for him having knowledge of the facts, shall make affidavit setting forth sufficient cause to entitle him thereto. [Id.]

Art. 945. [746] [345] [303] Application for certiorari.—To constitute a sufficient cause, the facts stated must show that either the justice of the peace had not jurisdiction, or that injustice was done to the applicant by the final determination of the suit or proceeding, and that such injustice was not caused by his own inexcusable neglect. [Id.]

Art. 946. [747] [346] [304] Within what time granted.—Such writ shall not be granted after ninety days from the final judgment of the justice. [Id.]

Art. 947. [748] [347] [305] Bond with sureties required.—The writ shall not be issued unless the applicant shall first cause to be filed a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk, payable to the adverse party, in such sum as the judge shall direct, to the effect that the party applying therefor will perform the judgment of the county or district court, if the same shall be against him. [Id.]

Art. 948. [749] [348] [306] Bond, affidavit and order.—The bond and affidavit, with the order of the judge, when made in vacation, shall be filed with the clerk of the court to which the same is returnable.

Art. 949. [750] [349] [307] Writ to issue instanter.—As soon as such affidavit, order of the judge, and bond, shall have been filed, the clerk shall issue a writ of certiorari. [Act May 10, 1850, p. 60.]

Art. 950. [751] [350] [308] Justice shall stay proceedings.—Upon service of such writ of certiorari being made upon the justice of the peace, he shall stay further proceedings on the judgment and forthwith comply with said writ. [Id.]

Art. 951. [752] [351] [309] Citation as in other cases.—Whenever a writ of certiorari has been issued, the clerk shall forthwith issue a citation for the party adversely interested.

Art. 952. [753] [352] [310] Cause docketed.—The action shall be docketed in the name of the original plaintiff, as plaintiff, and of the original defendant, as defendant.

Art. 953. [754] [353] [311] Motion to dismiss.—At the first term of the court to which the certiorari is returnable, the adverse party may move to dismiss the certiorari for want of sufficient cause appearing in the affidavit, or for want of sufficient bond.

Art. 954. [755] [354] [312] No amendment of bond or oath.—No amendment of the affidavit shall be made in the county or district court, nor shall a new affidavit be filed.

Art. 955. [756] [355] [313] Judgment of dismissal.—If the certiorari be dismissed, the judgment shall direct the justice to proceed with the execution of the judgment below.

Art. 956. [757] [356] [314] Pleading.—No pleading other than that required by law in the justice court shall be necessary, except in cases of amendment, as hereinafter provided.

Art. 957. [758] [357] [315] Issues made up.—When no pleadings were filed in the justice court, and none were necessary the issues shall be made up under the direction of the court.

Art. 958. [759] [358] [316] New matter may be pleaded.—Either party may plead any new matter in the county or district court which was not presented in the court below; but no new cause of action shall be set up by the plaintiff, nor shall any set-off or counter claim be set up by the defendant which was not pleaded in the court below. In all such cases the pleadings shall be in writing, and filed in the cause before the parties have announced ready for trial.

Art. 959. [760] [359] [317] Trial de novo.—The cause shall be tried de novo, in the county or district court; and judgment shall be rendered as in cases appealed from justice courts.

Art. 960. [761] [360] [318] Appeals and writs of error.—Appeals and writs of error from the judgments of the county or district court, in cases of certiorari from justice courts, shall be allowed, subject to such rules and limitations as apply in cases appealed from justices' courts.

- 974a. Platting and recording subdivisions or additions.
975. Segregating territory.
976. Liable for debts.

Article 961. [762-3] May adopt this title.—Any incorporated city, town or village in this State containing six hundred inhabitants or over, however legally incorporated, and any incorporated city, town or village of whatever population containing one or more manufacturing establishments within the corporate limits, may accept the provisions of this title relating to cities and towns, in lieu of any existing charter, by a two-thirds vote of the council of such city, town or village, had at a regular meeting thereof, and entered upon the journal of their proceedings, and a copy of the same signed by the mayor and attested by the clerk or secretary under the corporate seal, filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk in which such city, town or village is situated, and the provisions of this title shall be in force, and all acts theretofore passed incorporating said city, town or village which may be in force by virtue of any existing charter, shall be repealed from and after the filing of said copy of their proceedings, as aforesaid. When such city, town or village is so incorporated as herein provided, the same shall be known as a city or town, subject to the provisions of this title relating to cities and towns, and vested with all the rights, powers, privileges and immunities and franchises therein conferred. The provisions of this title shall not apply to any city, town or village until such provisions have been accepted by the council in accordance with this article. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485; Acts 1881, p. 115; G. L. vol. 9, p. 207; Acts 1885, p. 57; G. L. vol. 9, p. 667; Acts 1915, p. 64; Acts 1919, p. 110.]

Art. 962. [764] [383] [342] General powers.—All the inhabitants of each city, town or village so accepting the provisions of this title shall continue to be a body corporate, with perpetual succession, by the name and style by which such city, town or village was known before such acceptance, and as such they and their successors by that name shall have, exercise and enjoy all the rights, immunities, powers, privileges and franchises possessed and enjoyed by the same at the time of said acceptance, and those hereinafter granted and conferred, and shall be subject to all the duties and obligations pertaining to or incumbent on the same as a corporation at the time of said acceptance, and may ordain and establish such acts, laws, regulations and ordinances, not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State, as shall be needful for the government, interest, welfare and good order of said body politic and under the same name shall be known in law, and be capable of contracting and being contracted with, suing and being sued, impleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, in all courts and places, and in all matters whatever, may take, hold and purchase, lease, grant and convey such real and personal or mixed property or estate as the purposes of the corporation may require, within or without the limits thereof; and may make, have and use a corporate seal and change and renew the same at pleasure. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 963. [765-6] Not affected by this title.—All property, real, personal or mixed, belonging to any city accepting the provisions of this title, is hereby vested in the corporation created by this title, and the officers of said corporation, in office at the date of its acceptance, shall continue in the same, until superseded in conformity with the provisions of this title. All rights, actions, fines, penalties and forfeitures in suits or otherwise, which have accrued under the laws heretofore in force, shall be vested in and prosecuted by the corporation hereby created. No suit pending shall be affected by the passage and acceptance of this title, but the same shall be prosecuted or defended as the case may be, by the corporation hereby created. [Id.]

Art. 964. [767] [571] [500] Cemetery lots exempt.—The cemetery lots which have, and may hereafter be laid out and sold for said city for private places of burial shall, with their appurtenances, be forever exempt from taxes, executions, attachments or forced sales. [Id.]

Art. 965. [773] [384] [343] City limits.—The bounds and limits of said municipality shall be and remain the same as fixed and defined by the provisions of the act of incorporation, substituted by the provisions of this title; provided, that said limits of said corporation may be hereafter extended by adding additional territory to the same, whenever the majority of the qualified electors of said territory shall indicate a desire to be included within the limits of said corporation in the manner provided in Article 974 of this title. [Id.]

Art. 966. [774] [385] May incorporate.—Any city or town containing six hundred inhabitants or over may be incorporated as such, with all the powers, rights, immunities and privileges mentioned and described in the provisions of this title relating to cities and towns, in the manner described in Chapter 11 of this title for incorporating towns and villages, except that the application to become incorporated shall be signed by at least fifty electors, residents of such city or town, and except that when an election is held according to the provisions of such chapter the words "towns and villages" shall be construed to mean "cities and towns." When the entry by the county judge, provided in article 1139 is made with reference to a city or town of six hundred inhabitants and over, such city or town shall be vested with all the rights and privileges of such cities conferred by this title. [Acts 1881, p. 63; G. L. vol. 9, p. 155; Acts 1881, p. 115; G. L. vol. 9, p. 207; Acts 1915, p. 64.]

Art. 967. Cities of the Republic.—Any city, town or village, within this State, incorporated under any law, general or special, of the Republic of Texas, regardless of the extent of the boundaries thereof, or the number of its population, may accept the provisions of Chapters 1 to 10, both inclusive, of this title, in lieu of any existing charter created by any such law of the Republic of Texas, by a two-thirds vote of the council of such city, town or village; which action by the council shall be held at a regular meeting thereof and entered upon the journal of their proceedings, and a copy of the same signed by the mayor and attested by the clerk or secretary under the corporate seal, filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county in which such city, town or village is situated, and the provisions of said Chapters 1 to 10 both inclusive, of this title shall be in force, and all acts theretofore passed incorporating said city, town or village, which may be in force by virtue of any existing charter shall be repealed from and after the filing of said copy of their proceedings as aforesaid, when such city, town or village is so incorporated as herein provided, the same shall be known as a city or town, subject to the provisions of this title, vested with all the rights, powers, privileges, immunities and franchises therein conferred. [Acts 1917, p. 85.]

Art. 968. Effect of acceptance.—All the inhabitants of each city, town or village so accepting the provisions of chapters 1 to 10 of this title, shall continue to be a body corporate, with perpetual succession, by the name and style by which such city, town or village was known before the acceptance of the provisions of such law, and as such they and their successors by that name shall have, exercise and enjoy all the rights, immunities, powers, privileges and franchises possessed and enjoyed by the same at the time of the acceptance of the provisions of such title and those herein granted and conferred, and shall be subject to all the duties and obligations pertaining to or incumbent on the same as a corporation at the time of the acceptance of the provisions of such title, and may ordain and establish such acts, laws, regulations and ordinances not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State, as shall be needful for the government, interest, welfare and good order of said body politic, and, under the same name, shall be known in law, and be capable of contracting and being contracted with, suing and being sued, impleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, in all courts and places, and in all matters whatever, may take, hold and purchase, lease, grant and convey such real and personal or mixed property or estate as the purposes of the corporation may require, within or without the limits thereof; and may make, have and use a corporate seal and change and renew the same at pleasure. [Id.]

Art. 969. Property rights.—All property, real, personal or mixed, belonging to any such city, town, or village so incorporated under and by virtue of any law of the Republic of Texas, general or special, accepting said title, is hereby vested in the corporation thus created, and the council of such city, town or village is hereby authorized and empowered to sell and alienate such property and to appropriate the proceeds of such sale to the acquisition or construction, maintenance or operation of a water, sewer, gas and electric light and power system, or any one or more of such systems, within or without the limits of such city or town, or for any other public improvement within said city or town, as the council thereof may determine. [Id.]

Art. 970. To adjust boundaries.—Whenever there shall exist within the boundaries of any such city, town or village accepting said provisions, territory to the extent of at least ten acres contiguous, uninhabited [uninhabited] and adjoining the lines of such city or town, the mayor and council of such city or town shall, within one year from the filing in the office of the county clerk of the action of the council accepting the provisions of this law, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and before they shall levy any taxes for said city or town by ordinance duly passed, discontinue said territory as a part of said city or town and shall redefine the bounds and limits of such city or town so that they shall conform as nearly as practicable to the requirements of article 971, and when said ordinance has been duly passed, the clerk shall enter an order to that effect on the minutes or records of the city or town council; and from and after the entry of such order, said territory shall cease to be a part of said city or town; provided that should there be situated within the said territory, so discontinued, any property of any description belonging to said city or town, the title to said property, so situated, shall remain in such city or town and may be sold, alienated and disposed of by such city or town, the same as if it were situated within the bounds and limits of such city or town. [Id.]

Art. 971. [777] Territorial boundaries.—No city or town in this State shall be hereafter incorporated under the provisions of the general charter for cities and towns contained in this title with a superficial area of more than two square miles, when such town or city has less than two thousand inhabitants, nor more than four square miles when such city or town has more than two thousand and less than five thousand inhabitants, nor more than nine square miles, when such city or town has more than five and less than ten thousand inhabitants. The mayor and board of aldermen, immediately after they qualify as such officers, shall pass an ordinance causing an actual survey of the boundaries of such town to be made according to the boundaries designated in the petition for incorporation and the field notes thereof recorded in the minute book of such town or city, and also in the record books of deeds in the county in which such city or town is situated. [Acts 1895, p. 17; G. L. vol. 10, p. 747.]

Art. 972. [778] Territory relinquished.—The mayor and the board of aldermen of any town or city in this State heretofore incorporated under Title 18 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1895 of this State, and whose boundaries have been established so as to include more territory than is specified in the preceding article, shall immediately cause a resurvey of the boundaries of such city or town to be made, so as not to include more territory than is provided for in the preceding article; such resurvey to be made and the field notes thereof to be recorded as provided in said article. [Id.]

Art. 973. [780] Discontinuing territory.—Whenever there exists within the corporate limits of any city or town organized under the general laws within this State territory to the extent of at least ten acres, contiguous, uninhabited and adjoining the lines of any such city or town, the mayor and city or town council may by ordinance duly passed, discontinue said territory as a part of said city or town; and when said ordinance has been duly passed, the mayor shall enter an order to that effect on the minutes or records of the city or town council; and, from and after the entry of such order, said territory shall cease to be a part of said city or town. [Acts 1895, p. 178; G. L. vol. 10, p. 909.]

Art. 974. [781] [574] Adjoining inhabitants.—When a majority of the inhabitants qualified to vote for members of the State legislature of any territory adjoining the limits of any city incorporated under, or accepting the provisions of, this title, to the extent of one-half mile in width, shall vote in favor of becoming a part of said city, any three of them may make affidavit to the fact to be filed before the mayor, who shall certify the same to the city council of said city. The said city council may, by ordinance, receive them as part of said city; from thenceforth the territory so received shall be a part of said city; and the inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens, and bound by the acts and ordinances made in conformity thereto and passed in pursuance of this title. [Acts 1875, p. 156; G. L. vol. 8, p. 528.]

Art. 974a. Platting and recording subdivisions or additions.—Sec. 1. That hereafter, every owner of any tract of land situated within the corporate limits or within five miles of the corporate limits of any city in the State of Texas which contains twenty-five thousand inhabitants or more, according to the Federal Census of 1920, or any subsequent Federal Census, who may hereafter subdivide the same in two or more parts for the purpose of laying out any subdivision of any such town, or city, or any addition thereto, or any part thereof, or suburban lots or building lots, or any lots, and streets, alleys, parks or other portions intended for public use, or for the use of purchasers or owners of lots fronting thereon or adjacent thereto, shall cause a plat to be made which shall accurately describe all of the subdivision of such tract or parcels of land, giving dimensions thereof, and the dimensions of all the streets, alleys, squares, parks, or other portions of same intended to be dedicated to public use, or for the use of purchasers or owners of lots fronting thereon or adjacent thereto.

Sec. 2. That every such plat shall be duly acknowledged by owners or proprietors of the land, or by some duly authorized agent of said owners or proprietors, in the manner required for the acknowledgment of deeds; and the said plat, subject to the provisions contained in this Act [Art. 974a; P. C. art. 427b], shall be filed for record and be recorded in the office of the County Clerk of the County in which the land lies.

Sec. 3. That it shall be unlawful for the County Clerk of any county in which such land lies to receive or record any such plan, plat or replat, unless and until the same shall have been approved by the City Planning Commission of any city affected by this Act [Art. 974a; P. C., art. 427b] if said city have a City Planning Commission and if it have no City Planning Commission, unless and until the said plan, plat, or replat shall have been approved by the governing body of such city. If such land lies outside of and within five miles of more than one city affected by this Act [Art. 974a; P. C., art. 427b] then the requisite approval shall be by the City Planning Commission or Governing Body, as the case may be, of such of said cities having the largest population. Any person desiring to have a plan, plat or replat approved as herein provided, shall apply therefor to and file a copy with the Commission or governing body herein authorized to approve same, which shall act upon same within thirty days from the filing date. If said plat be not disapproved within thirty days from said filing date, it shall be deemed to have been approved and a certificate showing said filing date and the failure to take action thereon within thirty days from said filing date, shall on demand be issued by the City Planning Commission or Governing Body, as the case may be, of such city, and said certificate shall be sufficient in lieu of the written endorsement or other evidence of approval herein required. If the plan, plat, or replat is approved, such Commission or governing body shall indicate such finding by certificate endorsed thereon, signed by the Chairman or presiding officer of said Commission or governing body and attested by its Secretary, or signed by a majority of the members of said Commission or Governing Body. Such Commission or governing body shall keep a record of such applications and the action taken thereupon, and upon demand of the owners of any land affected, shall certify its reasons for the action taken in the matter.

Sec. 4. If such plan or plat, or replat shall conform to the general plan of said city and its streets, alleys, parks, playgrounds and public utility facilities, including those which have been or may be laid out, and to the general plan for the extension of such city and of its roads, streets and public highways within said city and within five miles of the corporate limits thereof, regard being had for access to and extension of sewer and water mains and the instrumentalities of public utilities, and if same shall conform to such general rules and regulations, if any, governing plats and subdivisions of land falling within its jurisdiction as the governing body of such city may adopt and promulgate to promote the health, safety, morals or general welfare of the community, and the safe, orderly and healthful development of said community (which general rules and regulations for said purposes such cities are hereby authorized to adopt and promulgate after public hearing held thereon), then it shall be the duty of said City Planning Commission or of the governing body of such city, as the case may be, to endorse approval upon the plan, plat, or replat submitted to it.

Sec. 5. That any such plan, plat or replat may be vacated by the proprietors of the land covered thereby at any time before the sale of any lot therein by a written instrument declaring the same to be vacated duly executed, acknowledged and recorded in the same office as the plat to be vacated, provided the approval of the City Planning Commission or governing body of such city, as the case may be, shall have been obtained as above provided, and the execution and recordation of such shall operate to destroy the force and effect of the recording of the plan, plat or replat so vacated. In cases where lots have been sold, the plan, plat or replat, or any part thereof, may be vacated upon the application of all the owners of lots in said plat and with the approval, as above provided, of the City Planning Commission or governing body of said city, as the case may be. The County Clerk of the county in whose office the plan or plat thus vacated has been recorded shall write in plain, legible letters across the plan or plat so vacated the word "Vacated," and also make a reference on the same to the volume and page in which said instrument of vacation is recorded.

Sec. 6. The approval of any such plan, plat, or replat shall not be deemed an acceptance of the proposed dedication and shall not impose any duty upon such city concerning the maintenance or improvement of any such dedicated parts until the proper authorities of said city shall have made actual appropriation of the same by entry, use or improvement.

Sec. 8. Unless and until any such plan, plat or replat shall have been first approved in the manner and by the authorities provided for in this Act [Art. 974a; P. C., art. 427b], it shall be unlawful within the area covered by said plan, plat or replat for any city affected by this Act [Art. 974a; P. C., art. 427b], or any officials of such city, to serve or connect said land, or any part thereof, or for the use of the owners or purchasers of said land, or any part thereof, with any public utilities such as water, sewers, light, gas, etc., which may be owned, controlled or distributed by such city.

Sec. 9. If any such plan, plat or replat is disapproved by the City Planning Commission or governing body of such city, as the case may be, such disapproval shall be deemed a refusal by the city of the offered dedication shown thereon.

Sec. 10. The benefits of the provisions of this law shall apply to, and the terms thereof extend to, any city in the State of Texas now or hereafter having less than twenty-five thousand inhabitants, as above defined, if and when the governing body thereof shall submit the question of the adoption or rejection hereof to a vote of the qualified voters of said city, either at a general election in said city or at a special election called for the purpose by said city, and if and when same shall have been adopted at such election by a majority vote of the qualified voters of said city voting at such election, said election shall be held as nearly as possible in compliance with the law with reference to regular city elections in said city, but said governing body is hereby empowered to order said election and to prescribe the time and manner of holding the same. Said body shall canvass and determine the result of said election, and if a majority of the voters voting upon the question of the adoption of said law at such election shall vote to adopt the same the result of said election shall by said governing body be entered upon their minutes, and thereupon all terms hereof shall be applicable to and govern such city adopting the same. A certified copy of said minutes shall be prima facie evidence of the result of such election and the regularity thereof, and the facts therein recited shall in all courts be accepted as true. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 342, ch. 231.]

Section 11 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 342, ch. 231, provides, that if any provision or part of the Act is held invalid such holding shall not affect the remaining provisions, and section 12 repeals all conflicting laws or parts of laws to the extent of such conflict.

Art. 975. [782] [575] Segregating territory.—Whenever fifty qualified voters of any territory within the limits of any incorporated town shall sign and present a petition to the mayor of such city, praying that such territory, setting the same out by metes and bounds, be declared no longer a part of such town, the mayor thereof shall order an election within thirty days thereafter to be held at the different voting precincts of said town; and if a majority of the legal voters of said town voting at such election cast their votes in favor of discontinuing said territory as a part of said town, the mayor of said city shall declare such territory no longer a part of said city, and shall enter an order to that effect on the minutes or records of the city council; and from and after the date of such order, said territory shall cease to be a part of said town; provided, no city or town shall thus be reduced to a less area than one square mile or one mile in diameter around the center of the original corporate limits. [Acts 1883, p. 99; G. L. vol. 9, p. 405.]

Art. 976. [783] [576] Liable for debts.—Whenever any territory shall withdraw as above provided, and such city or town shall at the time of such withdrawal owe any debts by bond or otherwise, such withdrawing territory shall not be released from the payment of its pro rata of such indebtedness; but it shall be the duty of said city council to continue to levy an ad valorem tax each year on the property of such territory of the same rate as is levied upon other property of such city, until the taxes collected from said territory shall equal its pro rata share of the indebtedness of said city or town at the time of the withdrawal. The taxes so collected shall be charged only with the cost of levying and collecting the same, and the same shall be applied exclusively to the payment of said pro rata share of indebtedness. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the inhabitants of said territory from paying in full, at any time, their pro rata share of the indebtedness of said city. [Id.]

CHAPTER TWO

OFFICERS AND THEIR ELECTION

Art.
977. City officials.
978. Election.
979. Ward election of councilmen.
980. Hours of election.
981. Returns.
982. Shall declare result.
983. Installation of officers.

Art.
984. Election managers.
985. Rejection of votes.
986. Tie vote.
987. Qualifications of officers.
988. Limitations of councilmen.
989. Vacancy.
990. Special election.
991. Mayor pro tempore.
992. Change of wards.

Article 977. [784] [387] [344] City officials.—The municipal government of the city shall consist of a city council composed of the mayor and two aldermen from each ward, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except at called meetings, or meetings for the imposition of taxes, when two-thirds of a full board shall be required, unless otherwise specified, provided that where the city or town is not divided into wards, the city council shall be composed of the mayor and five aldermen, and the provisions of this title relating to proceedings in a ward shall apply to a whole city or town. Other officers of the corporation shall be a treasurer, an assessor and collector, a secretary, a city attorney, a marshal, city engineer, and such other officers and agents as the city council may from time to time direct. The office of treasurer, assessor and collector, city attorney, and city engineer may be dispensed with by an ordinance to that effect, and the powers and duties herein prescribed for such officers may be conferred by the council upon other officers. The above named officers shall be elected by the qualified electors of the city for a term of two years. [Acts 1881, p. 115; G. L. vol. 9, p. 208.]

Art. 978. [785] [388] [345] Election.—An election shall be held annually in each ward of said city on the first Tuesday in April, at such places as the city council may direct, and of which thirty days notice shall be given. Such election shall be ordered and notice thereof shall be given, and the election of officers and supervisors appointed, as provided by article 2951. The presiding officers and judges must be qualified voters in the city. The city council shall provide for their compensation, and by ordinance, regulate and define their powers and duties. [Id.; Acts 1st C. S. 1905, p. 533.]

Art. 979. [786] [389] [346] Ward Election of Councilmen.—At the first election under this title there shall be elected a mayor, and two aldermen from each ward, one of whom shall hold office for one year, and the other for two years from the date of their election, to be determined by lot at the first regular meeting after said election. At each annual election thereafter there shall be elected one alderman from each ward, who shall hold office for two years. If the city or town is not divided into wards, the city council may determine by ordinance what number of aldermen shall go out of office in one year, and the manner of deciding which shall hold for the long term and which for the short term. [Acts 1895, p. 8, G. L. vol. 10, p. 783.]

Art. 980. [787] [390] [347] Hours of election.—The ballots of each ward shall be taken separately, the polls being opened in each ward for one day only, from eight o'clock a. m. until six o'clock p. m., with the privilege of a recess from 12 o'clock to one o'clock. If the polls are not promptly opened for the reception of votes at eight o'clock a. m., the time thus lost shall be extended beyond the hour of six p. m. so as to secure the full period of nine hours to vote. [Id.]

Art. 981. [787] [390] [347] Returns.—On closing the polls, the managers of the election shall immediately proceed to count and cast up the votes for each candidate and certify and sign the returns in duplicate, one of which shall be sealed and returned by the presiding officer for future use as a reference in the case of a contested election; the other shall be sealed with the name of the presiding officer written across the seals, and by the presiding officer, or in his absence or inability by one of the judges or clerks, delivered in open session to the city council as soon as practicable. The officer delivering the same shall make oath before the mayor or one of the aldermen that the returns, by him delivered have not been altered or opened since being signed and sealed as aforesaid. [Id.]

Art. 982. [787] [390] [347] Shall declare result.—The city council shall immediately open the returns from each ward, casting up the votes of the wards, and the persons receiving the highest number of votes for the respective offices shall be declared elected. In the first election held hereunder, the two persons from the same ward receiving the highest number of votes in the city for aldermen of the wards for which they are candidates shall be declared elected aldermen of such wards. If the city council fails to meet and declare the results of such election, the mayor shall discharge that duty. [Acts 1875, p. 113; Id.; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 983. [787] [390] [347] Installation of officers.—The newly elected officers may enter upon their duties on the fifth day thereafter, Sundays excepted. If any such officer fails to qualify within thirty days after his election, his office shall be deemed vacant, and a new election held to fill the same. The city council-elect shall meet at the usual place of meeting on the fifth day, Sundays excepted, after their election or as soon thereafter as possible, and be installed under the provisions of this title. [Id.]

Art. 984. [789] [392] [349] Election managers.—The election managers shall be sworn well and truly to conduct the election, without partiality or prejudice, and agreeably to law, and according to the best of their skill and understanding. Such oath shall be administered by the mayor or any justice of the peace. The presiding officers and judges thus qualified shall have power to administer oaths necessary to the performance of their official duties. [Id.]

Art. 985. [789] [392] [349] Rejection of votes.—When any person offering a vote shall be objected to by any one qualified to vote at such election, the managers shall examine him on oath touching the points objected to; and, if he fails to establish his qualification to their satisfaction his vote shall be rejected. [Id.]

Art. 986. [791] [394] [350] Tie vote.—If in any election there is a tie between two or more candidates for the same office, all of whom cannot be elected, the city council shall declare such election void as between such candidates only, and immediately order a new election for the office, giving not less than five days notice thereof. [Id.]

Art. 987. [792] [395] [351] Qualifications of officers.—No person shall be eligible to the office of mayor unless he is a qualified elector and has resided twelve months next preceding the election within the city limits. To be eligible for aldermen, one must reside in the ward from which he may be elected at the time of his election. If any alderman removes from the ward in which he was elected, his office shall be deemed vacant. [Id.]

Art. 988. [793] [566] [495] Limitations of councilmen.—No member of the city council shall hold any other employment or office under the city government until [while] he is a member of said council, unless herein otherwise provided. No member of the city council, or any other officer of the corporation, shall be directly or indirectly interested in any work, business or contract, the expense, price or consideration of which is paid from the city treasury, or by an assessment levied by an ordinance or resolution of the city council, nor be the surety of any person having a contract, work or business with said city, for the performance of which security may be required, nor be the surety on the official bond of any city officer. [Acts 1875, p. 154; G. L. vol. 8, p. 526.]

Art. 989. [797] [396] [352] Vacancy.—In case of a vacancy from any cause in the office of mayor or alderman, the city council shall order a new election to fill such vacancy. All special elections shall be conducted as is herein provided for in the annual election. In all special elections to fill vacancies, ten days notice shall be sufficient. In case of a vacancy in any other office in the city, the mayor or acting mayor shall fill such vacancy by appointment, to be confirmed by the city council. [Acts 1887, p. 41; G. L. vol. 9, p. 839.]

Art. 990. [798-9] Special election.—Whenever a vacancy occurs by resignation or otherwise, in the municipal offices of any incorporated city or town in this State, so that the vacancy cannot be filled under the charter of said city or town, or under the laws of this State now in force, then the commissioners court of said county in which said town or city is situated, upon a petition of not less than twenty-six tax paying voters living in such city, shall order an election to be held to fill such vacancy, giving notice of not less than ten days in the usual manner provided for such elections, which shall be held in like manner as similar elections and the officers so elected shall in like manner be qualified and installed. [Acts 1875, p. 159; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1213.]

Art. 991. [801] [399] [355] Mayor pro tempore.—At the first meeting of each new council, or as soon thereafter as practicable, one of the aldermen shall be elected president pro tempore, who shall hold his office for one year. In case of the failure, inability or refusal of the mayor to act, the president pro tempore shall perform the duties and receive the fees and compensation of the mayor. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 992. [802] [553] [482] Change of wards.—The wards of each city accepting the provisions of this title shall be and remain unchanged by its acceptance. The city council shall have power from time to time to cause a division of said city to be made into as many wards as they may deem necessary, and for the good of the inhabitants of said city, and may change the boundaries of the same. No such division or change shall be made unless it be done at least three months preceding the city election next ensuing; and said wards so established shall contain as far as practicable an equal number of voters. [Acts 1875, p. 151; G. L. vol. 8, p. 523.]

CHAPTER THREE

DUTIES AND POWERS OF OFFICERS

Art.
993.	Oath.
994.	Duties of mayor.
995.	Special police force.
996.	Powers of the mayor.
997.	Ordinances and resolutions.
998.	Police Officers.
999.	Marshal, duties, etc.
1000.	Secretary, duties, etc.
1001.	Treasurer, duties, etc.
1002.	Control of officers.
1003.	Qualifications of appointee.
1004.	Officer disqualified.
1005.	Resignation of officers.
1006.	Removal of officers.

Article 993. [803] [400] [356] Oath.—Every person elected or appointed to fill an office under this title shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the official oath. The city council by ordinance may require such additional oath as it may deem best calculated to secure faithfulness in the performance of their duties by such officers. [Acts 1875, p. 118; G. L. vol. 8, p. 490.]

Art. 994. [804] [401] [357] Duties of mayor.—The mayor shall be the chief executive officer of said corporation, and shall be active at all times in causing the laws and ordinances of said city to be duly executed and put in force. He shall inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers in the government thereof, and, shall cause all negligence, carelessness and other violations of duty to be prosecuted and punished. He shall have power, if in his judgment the good of the city may require it, to summon meetings of the city council; and he shall communicate to that body such information and recommend such measures as may tend to the improvement of the finances, the police, health security, cleanliness, comfort, ornament and good government of said city. [Acts 1881, p. 115; G. L. vol. 9, p. 207.]

Art. 995. [805] [402] [358] Special police force.—Whenever the mayor deems it necessary, in order to enforce the laws of the city, or to avert danger, or to protect life or property, in case of riot or any outbreak or calamity or public disturbance, or when he has reason to fear any serious violation of law or order, or any outbreak or any other danger to said city, or the inhabitants thereof, he shall summon into service as a special police force, all or as many of the citizens as in his judgment may be necessary. Such summons may be by proclamation or other order addressed to the citizens generally, or those of any ward of the city, or subdivision thereof, or may be by personal notification. Such special police force while in service, shall be subject to the orders of the mayor, shall perform such duties as he may require, and shall have the same power while on duty as the regular police force of said city. [Acts 1875, p. 119; G. L. vol. 8, p. 491.]

Art. 996. [806] [403] [359] Powers of the mayor.—The mayor shall have power to administer oaths of office. He shall have authority in case of a riot or any unlawful assemblage, or with a view to preserve peace and good order in said city, to order and enforce the closing of any theatre, ball room, or other place of resort, or public room or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence, the laws of this State, or any ordinance of the city. He shall perform such other duties and possess and exercise such other power and authority as may be prescribed and conferred by the city council. [Id.]

Art. 997. [807] [404] [360] Ordinances and resolutions.—All ordinances and resolutions adopted by the council shall, before they take effect, be placed in the office of the city secretary; and the mayor shall sign those he approves. Such as he shall not sign, he shall return to the city council with his objections thereto. Upon the return of any ordinance or resolution by the mayor, the vote by which the same was passed shall be reconsidered. If, after such reconsideration, a majority of the whole number of aldermen agree to pass the same, and enter their votes on the journal of their proceedings, it shall be in force. If the mayor shall neglect to approve or object to any such proceedings for a longer period than three days after the same shall be placed in the secretary's office as aforesaid, the same shall go into effect. [Id.]

Art. 998. [808] Police Officers.—The city or town council in any city or town in this State, incorporated under the provisions of this title may, by ordinance, provide for the appointment, term of office and qualifications of such police officers as may be deemed necessary. Such police officers so appointed shall receive a salary or fees of office, or both, as shall be fixed by the city council. Such council may, by ordinance, provide that such police officers shall hold their office at the pleasure of the city council, and for such term as the city council directs. Such police officers shall give bond for the faithful performance of their duties, as the city council may require. Such officers shall have like powers, rights and authority as are by said title vested in city marshals. [Acts 1907, p. 299.]

Art. 999. [809] [407] [363] Marshal, duties, etc.—The marshal of the city shall be ex-officio chief of police, and may appoint one or more deputies which appointment shall only be valid upon the approval of the city council. Said marshal shall, in person or by deputy, attend upon the corporation court while in session, and shall promptly and faithfully execute all writs and process issued from said court. He shall have like power, with the sheriff of the county, to execute warrants; he shall be active in quelling riots, disorder and disturbance of the peace within the city limits and shall take into custody all persons so offending against the peace of the city and shall have authority to take suitable and sufficient bail for the appearance before the corporation court of any person charged with an offense against the ordinance or laws of the city. It shall be his duty to arrest, without warrant, all violators of the public peace, and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the execution of the duties of his office or who shall be guilty of any disorderly conduct or disturbance whatever; to prevent a breach of the peace or preserve quiet and good order, he shall have authority to close any theatre, ball room or other place or building of public resort. In the prevention and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders, he shall have, possess and execute like power, authority, and jurisdiction as the sheriff. He shall perform such other duties and possess such other powers and authority as the city council may by ordinance require and confer, not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State. The marshal shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the city council may require. He shall receive a salary or fees of office, or both, to be fixed by the city council. The governing body of any city or town having less than three thousand inhabitants according to the preceding Federal census, may by an ordinance, dispense with the office of marshal, and at the same time by such ordinance confer the duties of said office upon any peace officer of the county, but no marshal elected by the people shall be removed from his office under the provisions of this article. [Acts 1875, p. 122; G. L. vol. 8, p. 494; Acts 1901, p. 114.]

Art. 1000. [810] [408] [364] Secretary, duties, etc.—The city secretary shall attend every meeting of the city council, and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose, and engross and enroll all laws, resolutions and ordinances of the city council, keep the corporate seal, take charge of and preserve and keep in order all the books, records, papers, documents and files of said council, countersign all commissions issued to city officers, and licenses issued by the mayor, and keep a record or register thereof, and make out all notices required under any regulation or ordinance of the city. He shall draw all the warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same and keep an accurate account thereof in a book provided for the purpose. He shall be the general accountant of the corporation, and shall keep in books regular accounts of the receipts and disbursements for the city, and separately, under proper heads, each cause of receipt and disbursement, and also accounts with each person including officers who have money transactions with the city, crediting accounts allowed by proper authority and specifying the particular transaction to which such entries apply. He shall keep a register of bonds and bills issued by the city, and all evidence of debt due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof, and all facts connected therewith, as they occur. He shall carefully keep all contracts made by the city council; and he shall perform all such other duties as may be required of him by law, ordinance, resolution or order of the city council. He shall receive for his services an annual salary payable at stated periods, and such additional fees as the city council may allow. [Id.]

Art. 1001. [811] [409] [365] Treasurer, duties, etc.—The treasurer shall give bond in favor of the city in such amount, and in such form as the city council may require, with sufficient security to be approved by the city council, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. He shall receive and securely keep all moneys belonging to the city, and making all payments for the same upon the order of the mayor, attested by the secretary under the seal of the corporation. No order shall be paid unless the said order shall show upon its face that the city council has directed its issuance, and for what purpose. He shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments to the city council, at their first regular meeting in every quarter and whensoever, at other times, he may be required by them so to do. At the end of every half year he shall cause to be published, at the expense of the city, a statement showing the amount of receipts and expenditures for the six months next preceding, and the general condition of the treasury. He shall do and perform such other acts and duties as the city council may require. He shall receive such compensation as the city council shall fix. [Id.]

Art. 1002. [812] [411] [367] Control of officers.—The city council shall have power from time to time to require other and further duties of all officers whose duties are herein prescribed, and to define and prescribe the powers and duties of all officers appointed or elected to any office under this title whose duties are not herein specially mentioned, and fix their compensation. They may also require bonds to be given to the said corporation by all officers for the faithful performance of their duties. The city council shall provide for filling vacancies in all offices, not herein provided for. In all cases of vacancy, the same shall be filled only for the unexpired term. [Id.]

Art. 1003. [794] [562] [491] Qualifications of appointee.—No person other than an elector resident of the city shall be appointed to any office by the city council. [Id.]

Art. 1004. [800] [565] [494] Officer disqualified.—Any officer who has been intrusted with the collection or custody of funds belonging to a city who shall be in default to said city, shall thereafter be incapable of holding any office under said city, until the amount of his defalcation shall have been fully paid to said city, with ten per cent interest. [Id.]

Art. 1005. [795] [563] [492] Resignation of officers.—Resignation by any officer authorized by this title to be elected or appointed shall be made to the city council in writing, subject to their approval and acceptance. Any appointee of the mayor may present his written resignation to that officer for his action. [Id.]

Art. 1006. [796] [564] [493] Removal of officers.—The city council shall have power to remove any officer for incompetency, corruption, misconduct or malfeasance in office, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard in his defense. The city council shall also have power at any time to remove any officer of the corporation elected by them, by resolution declaratory of its want of confidence in said officer; provided, that two-thirds of the aldermen elected vote in favor of said resolution. [Id.]

Article 1007. [813] [412] [368] Presiding officer.—The mayor shall preside at all meetings of the city council, and shall have a casting vote, except in elections. If he and the president pro tem are absent, any alderman may be appointed to preside. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1008. [814] [413] [369] Meetings.—Petitions and remonstrances may be presented to the council in writing only. The city council shall hold stated meetings at such times and places as they shall by resolution direct. The mayor, of his own motion, or on the application of three aldermen, may call special meetings, by notice to each member of said council, the secretary and city attorney, served personally or left at their usual place of abode. The council shall determine the rules of its proceedings and be the judge of the election and qualification of its own members, and may compel the attendance of absent members and punish them for disorderly conduct. [Id.]

Art. 1009. [815] [567] [496] Attendance of officers.—Each alderman shall be fined three dollars for each meeting which he fails to attend, unless on account of his own sickness or that of his family. Any member of the city council remaining absent for three regular consecutive meetings of the board, unless prevented by sickness, without first having obtained leave of absence at a regular meeting, shall be deemed to have vacated his office, and the mayor shall proceed to fill the vacancy in accordance with the charter. [Id.]

Art. 1010. [816] [569] [498] Salary of officers.—The city council shall, on or before the first day of January next preceding each election, fix the salary and fees of office of the mayor to be elected at the next regular election, and fix the compensation to be paid to the officers elected or appointed by the city council. The compensation so fixed shall not be changed during the term for which said officers shall be elected or appointed. [Id.]

Art. 1011. [817] [464] [418] Powers.—The city council shall have power to pass, publish, amend or repeal all ordinances, rules and police regulations, not contrary to the Constitution of this State, for the good government, peace and order of the city and the trade and commerce thereof, that may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers vested by this title in the corporation, the city government or in any department or office thereof; to enforce the observance of all such rules, ordinances and police regulations, and to punish violations thereof. No fine or penalty shall exceed one hundred dollars. [Id.]

Art. 1011a. Grant of power for zoning.—For the purpose of promoting health, safety, morals, or the general welfare of the community, the legislative body of cities and incorporated villages is hereby empowered to regulate and restrict the height, number of stories, and size of buildings and other structures, the percentage of lot that may be occupied, the size of yards, courts, and other open spaces, the density of population, and the location and use of buildings, structures, and land for trade, industry, residence, or other purposes. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 1.]

Section 10 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, provides that if any section or part is held invalid, such holding shall not affect the remainder.

Art. 1011b. Districts.—For any or all of said purposes the local legislative body may divide the municipality into districts of such number, shape, and area as may be deemed best suited to carry out the purposes of this Act [Arts. 1011a–1011j]; and within such districts it may regulate and restrict the erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, or use of buildings, structures, or land. All such regulations shall be uniform for each class or kind of buildings throughout each district, but the regulations in one district may differ from those in other districts. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 2.]

Art. 1011c. Purposes in view.—Such regulations shall be made in accordance with a comprehensive plan and designed to lessen congestion in the streets; to secure safety from fire, panic, and other dangers; to promote health and the general welfare; to provide adequate light and air; to prevent the overcrowding of land; to avoid undue concentration of population; to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage, schools, parks, and other public requirements. Such regulations shall be made with reasonable consideration, among other things, to the character of the district and its peculiar suitability for particular uses, and with a view to conserving the value of buildings and encouraging the most appropriate use of land throughout such municipality, and it is hereby provided that this Act [Arts. 1011a-1011j] shall not enable cities and incorporated villages aforesaid to require the removal or destruction of property, existing at the time such city or incorporated village shall take advantage of this Act [Arts. 1011a-1011j], actually and necessarily used in a public service business. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 3.]

Art. 1011d. Method of procedure.—The legislative body of such municipality shall provide for the manner in which such regulations and restrictions and the boundaries of such districts shall be determined, established, and enforced, and from time to time amended, supplemented, or changed. However, no such regulation, restriction, or boundary shall become effective until after a public hearing in relation thereto, at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard. At least 15 days' notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be published in an official paper, or a paper of general circulation in such municipality. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 4.]

Art. 1011e. Changes.—Such regulations, restrictions, and boundaries may from time to time be amended, supplemented, changed, modified, or repealed. In case, however, of a protest against such change, signed by the owners of 20 per cent of [or] more either of the area of the lots included in such proposed change, or of those immediately adjacent in the rear thereof extending 200 feet therefrom, or of those directly opposite thereto extending 200 feet from the street frontage of such opposite lots, such amendment shall not become effective except by the favorable vote of three-fourths of all the members of the legislative body of such municipality. The provisions of the previous section relative to public hearing and official notice shall apply equally to all changes or amendments. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 5.]

Art. 1011f. Zoning commission.—In order to avail itself of the powers conferred by this Act [Arts. 1011a-1011j], such legislative body shall appoint a commission, to be known as the zoning commission, to recommend the boundaries of the various original districts and appropriate regulations to be enforced therein. Such commission shall make a preliminary report and hold public hearings thereon before submitting its final report, and such legislative body shall not hold its public hearings or take action until it has received the final report of such commission. Where a city plan commission already exists, it may be appointed as the zoning commission. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 6.]

Art. 1011g. Board of adjustment.—Such local legislative body may provide for the appointment of a board of adjustment, and in the regulations and restrictions adopted pursuant to the authority of this Act [Arts. 1011a-1011j] may provide that the said board of adjustment may, in appropriate cases and subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards, make special exceptions to the terms of the ordinance in harmony with its general purpose and intent and in accordance with general or specific rules therein contained.

The board of adjustment shall consist of five members, each to be appointed for a term of two years and removable for cause by the appointing authority upon written charges and after public hearing. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term of any member whose term becomes vacant.

The board shall adopt rules in accordance with the provisions of any ordinance adopted pursuant to this Act [Arts. 1011a-1011j]. Meetings of the board shall be held at the call of the chairman and at such other times as the board may determine. Such chairman, or in his absence the acting chairman, may administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses. All meetings of the board shall be open to the public. The board shall keep minutes of its proceedings, showing the vote of each member upon each question, or, if absent or failing to vote, indicating such fact, and shall keep records of its examinations and other official actions, all of which shall be immediately filed in the office of the board and shall be a public record.

Appeals to the board of adjustment may be taken by any person aggrieved or by any officer, department, board, or bureau of the municipality affected by any decision of the administrative officer. Such appeal shall be taken within a reasonable time, as provided by the rules of the board, by filing with the officer from whom the appeal is taken and with the board of adjustment a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof. The officer from whom the appeal is taken shall forthwith transmit to the board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken.

An appeal stays all proceedings in furtherance of the action appealed from, unless the officer from whom the appeal is taken certifies to the board of adjustment after the notice of appeal shall have been filed with him that by reason of facts stated in the certificate a stay would, in his opinion, cause imminent peril to life or property. In such case proceedings shall not be stayed otherwise than by a restraining order which may be granted by the board of adjustment or by a court of record on application on notice to the officer from whom the appeal is taken and on due cause shown.

The board of adjustment shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of the appeal, give public notice thereof, as well as due notice to the parties in interest, and decide the same within a reasonable time. Upon the hearing any party may appear in person or by agent or by attorney.

The board of adjustment shall have the following powers:

1. To hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is error in any order, requirement, decision, or determination made by an administrative official in the enforcement of this Act [Arts. 1011a-1011j] or of any ordinance adopted pursuant thereto.

2. To hear and decide special exceptions to the terms of the ordinance upon which such board is required to pass under such ordinance.

3. To authorize upon appeal in specific cases such variance from the terms of the ordinance as will not be contrary to the public interest, where, owing to special conditions, a literal enforcement of the provisions of the ordinance will result in unnecessary hardship, and so that the the spirit of the ordinance shall be observed and substantial justice done.

In exercising the above mentioned powers such board may, in conformity with the provisions of this Act [Arts. 1011a-1011j], reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decision, or determination appealed from and may make such order, requirement, decision, or determination as ought to be made, and to that end shall have all the powers of the officer from whom the appeal is taken.

The concurring vote of four members of the board shall be necessary to reverse any order, requirement, decision, or determination of any such administrative official, or to decide in favor of the applicant on any matter upon which it is required to pass under any such ordinance, or to effect any variation in such ordinance.

Any person or persons, jointly or severally, aggrieved by any decision of the board of adjustment, or any taxpayer, or any officer, department, board, or bureau of the municipality, may present to a court of record a petition, duly verified, setting forth that such decision is illegal, in whole or in part, specifying the grounds of the illegality. Such petition shall be presented to the court within 10 days after the filing of the decision in the office of the board.

Upon the presentation of such petition the court may allow a writ of certiorari directed to the board of adjustment to review such decision of the board of adjustment and shall prescribe therein the time within which a return thereto must be made and served upon the relator's attorney, which shall not be less than 10 days and may be extended by the court. The allowance of the writ shall not stay proceedings upon the decision appealed from, but the court may, on application, on notice to the board and on due cause shown, grant a restraining order.

The board of adjustment shall not be required to return the original papers acted upon by it, but it shall be sufficient to return certified or sworn copies thereof or of such portions thereof as may be called for by such writ. The return shall concisely set forth such other facts as may be pertinent and material to show the grounds of the decision appealed from and shall be verified.

If, upon the hearing, it shall appear to the court that testimony is necessary for the proper disposition of the matter, it may take evidence or appoint a referee to take such evidence as it may direct and report the same to the court with his findings of fact and conclusions of law, which shall constitute a part of the proceedings upon which the determination of the court shall be made. The court may reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the decision brought up for review.

Costs shall not be allowed against the board unless it shall appear to the court that it acted with gross negligence, or in bad faith, or with malice in making the decision appealed from.

All issues in any proceeding under this section shall have preference over all other civil actions and proceedings. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 7.]

Art. 1011h. Enforcement and remedies.—The local legislative body may provide by ordinance for the enforcement of this Act [Arts. 1011a–1011j] and of any ordinance or regulation made thereunder. A violation of this Act [Arts. 1011a–1011j] or of such ordinance or regulation is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor, and such local legislative body may provide for the punishment thereof by fine or imprisonment or both. It is also empowered to provide civil penalties for such violation.

In case any building or structure is erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, repaired, converted, or maintained, or any building, structure, or land is used in violation of this Act [Arts. 1011a–1011j] or of any ordinance or other regulation made under authority conferred hereby, the proper local authorities of the municipality, in addition to other remedies, may institute any appropriate action or proceedings to prevent such unlawful erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, conversion, maintenance, or use, to restrain, correct, or abate such violation, to prevent the occupancy of said building, structure, or land, or to prevent any illegal act, conduct, business, or use in or about such premises. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 8.]

Art. 1011i. Buildings for telephone service excepted.—The provisions of this Act [Arts. 1011a–1011j] or of any ordinance of any city or town, enacted under the authority of this Act [Arts. 1011a–1011j], shall not apply to the location, construction, maintenance or use of central office buildings of corporations, firms or individuals engaged in the furnishing of telephone service to the public, or to the location, construction, maintenance or use of any equipment in connection with such buildings or a part of such telephone system, necessary in the furnishing of telephone service to the public. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 8a.]

Art. 1011j. Conflict with other laws.—Wherever the regulations made under authority of this Act [Arts. 1011a–1011j] require a greater width or size of yards, courts, or other open spaces, or require a lower height of building or less number of stories, or require a greater percentage of lot to be left unoccupied, or impose higher standards than are required in any other statute or local ordinance or regulation, the provisions of the regulations made under authority of this Act [Arts. 1011a–1011j] shall govern. Wherever the provisions of any other statute or local ordinance or regulation requires a greater width or size of yards, courts, or other open spaces, or require a lower height of building or a less number of stories, or require a greater percentage of lot to be left unoccupied, or impose other higher standards than are required by the regulations made under authority of this Act [Arts. 1011a–1011j], the provisions of such statute or local ordinance or regulation shall govern. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 424, ch. 283, § 9.]

Art. 1012. [818] [559] [488] Style of ordinances.—The style of all ordinances shall be "Be it ordained by the city council of the city of" (inserting the name of the city); but it may be omitted when published in the form of a book or pamphlet. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1013. [819–821] Publication of ordinances.—Every ordinance imposing any penalty, fine or forfeiture shall, after the passage thereof, be published in every issue of the official paper for ten days. If the official paper be published weekly, the publication shall be made in one issue thereof. Proof of such publication shall be made by the printer or publisher of such paper by affidavit filed with the city secretary, and shall be prima facie evidence of such publication and promulgation of such ordinances in all courts of the State. Such ordinances shall take effect and be in force from and after the publication thereof, unless otherwise expressly provided. Ordinances not required to be published shall take effect from their passage, unless otherwise provided. Any town or city desiring to publish its ordinances in pamphlets or book form need not republish such ordinances as have been previously published. All such ordinances, where printed and published by authority of the city council, shall be admitted and received in all courts without further proof. [Id.; Acts 1889, p. 4; G. L. vol. 9, p. 1032.]

Art. 1014. [823] [568] May remit fines.—The city or town council shall have power to remit in whole or in part by a vote of two-thirds of the members present, any fine or penalty belonging to the city, which may be imposed or incurred under this title, or under any ordinance or resolution passed in pursuance thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1015. Other powers.—The governing body shall also have power:

1. Promotion of health.—To do all acts and make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the promotion of health or the suppression of disease.

2. Quarantine regulations.—To make regulations to prevent the introduction of contagious disease into the city; to make quarantine laws for that purpose, and to enforce them within the city and within ten miles thereof.

3. Joint sanitary regulations.—To co-operate with the commissioners' court of the county in which the municipality is situated in making such improvements as may, by it and said court, be deemed necessary to improve the public health and promote efficient sanitary regulations, and to arrange for the construction of, and payment for, said improvements.

4. Hospitals.—To erect or establish one or more hospitals, and control and regulate the same, and to prohibit or to permit and regulate the establishment of private hospitals.

5. Food inspection, etc.—To regulate the inspection of beef, pork, flour, meal, salt and other provisions; to appoint weighers, gaugers and inspectors, and to prescribe their duties and regulate their fees.

6. Sale of bread.—To regulate the weight and quality of the bread to be sold or used within the city.

7. Butchers.—To make such rules and regulations in relation to butchers as they may deem necessary and proper.

8. Unclean establishments.—To compel the owner or occupant of any grocery, soap, tallow, or chandler establishment, or blacksmith shop, tannery, stable, slaughterhouse, sewers, privy, hide house or other unwholesome or nauseous house or place, to cleanse, remove or abate the same, as may be necessary for the health, comfort and convenience of the inhabitants.

9. Location of establishment.—To direct the location of business, tanneries, blacksmith shops, foundries, livery stables and any manufacturing establishments; to direct the location and regulate the management and construction of, restrain, abate and prohibit within the city limits, slaughtering establishments and hide houses or establishments for making soap, for steaming or rendering lard, tallow, offal and such other substances as may be rendered; and all other establishments or places where any nauseous, offensive or unwholesome business may be carried on.

10. Drains, sinks, etc.—To require the owner of private drains, sinks and privies to fill up, cleanse, drain, alter, relay, repair, fix or improve the same as may be ordered by any resolution or ordinance of said city; and in the event of any failure, neglect or refusal to comply with any such order, the party so failing shall be liable to fine. In the event of there being no person in the city on whom such order can be served, the city may have such work done and such improvements made on account of the owner thereof. All costs, charges and expenses shall be a lien on the property, on the filing of a memorandum by the mayor, under the seal of the corporation thereof, and recording the same with the clerk of the district court. The city may enforce said lien and institute suit in the corporate name and obtain judgment against said party for the amount so due as aforesaid in any court having jurisdiction.

11. Nuisances.—To abate and remove nuisances and to punish the authors thereof by fine, and to define and declare what shall be nuisances and authorize and direct the summary abatement thereof; and to abate all nuisances which may injure or affect the public health or comfort in any manner they may deem expedient.

12. Dead animals, etc.—To prevent any person from bringing, depositing or having within the limits of said city any dead carcass, or other offensive or unwholesome substance or matter, and to require the removal or destruction by any person who shall have placed or caused to be placed upon or near his premises, or elsewhere, of any substance or matter, filth, or any putrid or unsound beef, pork or fish, hides or skins of any kind; and, on his default, to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city, and to require the owner of any dead animal to remove the same to such place as may be designated.

13. Burial of dead, etc.—To regulate the burial of the dead; to purchase, establish and regulate one or more cemeteries; to regulate the registration of marriages; and to direct the returning and keeping of bills of mortality.

14. Driving animals in city.—To prevent, regulate and control the driving of cattle, horses and other animals into or through the city.

15. Dogs.—To tax, regulate or restrain and prohibit the running at large of dogs and to authorize their destruction when at large contrary to ordinances, and to impose penalties for violation of such ordinances.

16. Pounds.—To establish and regulate public pounds, and to regulate, restrain and prohibit the running at large of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, swine, and goats, and to authorize the distraining, impounding and sale of the same for the costs of the proceedings and the penalty incurred, and to order their destruction when they cannot be sold and to impose penalties on the owners thereof for the violation of any ordinance.

17. Breeding animals.—To pass necessary ordinances to prevent any person, corporation or association of individuals from keeping for breeding purposes a jack, bull or stallion within the corporate limits of such city or town.

18. Control of police.—To create, establish and regulate the police of the city; to appoint watchmen and policemen, and to prescribe their duties and powers and compensation.

19. Workhouses.—To erect and establish one or more workhouses or houses of correction, within or without the city limits, make all necessary rules and regulations therefor, and appoint all necessary keepers or assistants. In such workhouse or house of correction may be confined all vagrants and disorderly persons, who may be committed by the mayor or recorder, and any person who shall fail or refuse to pay the fine or costs imposed for any offense may, instead of being committed to jail, be kept therein.

20. Breach of peace, etc.—To prevent all trespasses, breaches of the peace and good order, assaults and batteries, fighting, quarreling, using abusive, obscene, profane or insulting language and all disorderly conduct, and punish all persons thus offending.

21. Public disturbances.—To suppress and prevent any riot, affray, noise, disturbance or disorderly assembly in any public or private place within the city.

22. Noises and annoyances.—To prohibit and restrain the firing of firecrackers, guns and pistols, use of velocipedes, or use of any pyrotechnic or any other amusements or practices tending to annoy persons passing in the streets or sidewalks, or to frighten horses or teams; to restrain and prohibit the ringing of bells, blowing of horns and bugles, crying of goods, and all other noises, practices and performances tending to the collection of persons on the streets and sidewalks, by auctioneers and others, for the purpose of business, amusement or otherwise.

23. Obstructions on public ways, etc.—To prevent the incumbering of the streets, alleys, sidewalks, and public grounds, with any vehicle whatsoever, boxes, lumber, posts, awnings, signs, or any other substance or material whatever, to compel persons to keep all weeds, filth or any kind of rubbish from the sidewalks and streets and gutters in front of their premises, and to compel the owners of property to fill up, grade, gravel and otherwise improve the sidewalks in front of same.

24. Dangerous buildings, etc.—To order, whenever in the opinion of the city council, any building, fence, shed, awning or any erection of any kind or any part thereof is liable to fall down and endanger persons or property, any owner or agent of the same, or any owner or occupant of the premises on which such building, shed, awning or other erection stands or to which it is attached, to take down and remove the same, or any part thereof, within such time as they may direct; and to punish by fine and imprisonment, or either; any neglect, failure or refusal to comply therewith. The city council shall have power to remove the same at the expense of the city, on account of the owner of the property or premises, and assess the expenses on the land on which it stood or to which it was attached, and shall, by ordinance, provide for such assessment, the mode and manner of giving notice and the means of recovering any such expenses.

25. Bridges, sewers, etc.—To establish, erect, construct, regulate and keep in repair, bridges, culverts, and sewers, sidewalks and crossways, and to regulate the construction and use of the same, and to abate any obstructions or encroachments thereon; and the cost of construction of sidewalks shall be defrayed by the owner of the lot, or part of lot or block, fronting on the sidewalk. The cost of any sidewalk constructed by the city shall be collected, if necessary, by the sale of the lot, or part of lot or block on which it fronts, together with the cost of collection, in such manner as the city council may by ordinance provide. A sale of any lot or part of lot or block to enforce collection of costs of sidewalks shall convey a good title to the purchaser. The balance of proceeds of such sale, after paying the amount due the city and costs of sale, shall be paid to the owner.

26. Street railways.—To compel street railway companies to keep their roads in repair, and to make them conform to the grades of the streets upon which their tracks may be laid, whenever said streets shall have been graded by the city, and to restrain the rate of speed and to compel such railroads to supply ample accommodation for the safe and convenient travel of the people on the street where their track may run. The city council may enforce these regulations by proper ordinances with suitable penalties.

27. Railway companies.—To direct and control the laying and constructing of railroad tracks, turnouts and switches, or prohibit the same in the streets, avenues and alleys, unless the same have been authorized by law, and the location of depots within the city; to require that railroad tracks, turnouts and switches shall be so constructed as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of streets, avenues and alleys and that sufficient space shall be left on either side of a track for the safe and convenient passage of teams, carriages and other vehicles, and persons; to require railroad companies to keep in repair the streets, avenues or alleys through which their track may run, and, if ordered by the city council, to construct and keep in repair, suitable crossings at the intersection of streets, avenues and alleys, and ditches, sewers and culverts, when the city council shall deem it necessary; to direct the use and regulate the speed of locomotive engines in said city, or to prevent and prohibit the use or running of the same within the city.

28. Unsafe driving.—To prevent, prohibit and suppress horse-racing, immoderate riding or driving in the streets; to compel persons to fasten their horses or other animals attached to vehicles, or otherwise, while standing or remaining in the streets.

29. Light and gas.—To provide for lighting the streets and erecting lamp posts therein, and regulating the lighting thereof, and from time to time create, alter or extend lamp districts, to exclusively regulate, direct and control the laying and repairing of the gas pipes and gas fixtures in the streets, alleys, sidewalks and elsewhere.

30. Water system.—To provide, or cause to be provided, the city with water; to make, regulate and establish public wells, pumps and cisterns, hydrants and reservoirs in the streets or elsewhere within said city or beyond the limits thereof, for the extinguishment of fires and the convenience of the inhabitants, and to prevent the unnecessary waste of water. Any city or town owning, or that may hereafter own, its water system and plant, shall not lease or sell the same without first submitting the question of such proposed lease or sale to a vote of the qualified voters who are property taxpayers of such town or city as shown by the last preceding tax rolls, at a general election, or at one held for that especial purpose, nor unless a majority of those voting shall vote in favor thereof. Before submitting such question to a vote as aforesaid, the proposed contract of lease or sale shall be distinctly set forth in the form of an ordinance or contract, and shall be filed with the city or town secretary or clerk at least twenty days prior to the day of the election, and shall at all times be subject to inspection by the people of such city.

31. Market house.—To establish or erect, or cause to be established or erected, markets and market houses; designate, control and regulate market places and privileges; inspect and determine the mode of inspecting meat, fish, vegetables and all produce and every article and thing therein brought for sale.

32. Parks, etc.—To provide for inclosing, regulating and improving all public grounds and cemeteries belonging to the city, and to direct and regulate the planting and preserving of ornaments and shade trees in the streets, sidewalks or public grounds.

33. Libraries.—To establish a free library in such city or town; to adopt rules and regulations for the proper management thereof, and to appropriate such part of the revenues of such city or town for the management and increase of such free library as the municipal government of such city or town may determine.

34. Street car taxes.—To assess and collect the ordinary municipal taxes upon street railways.

35. Trade taxes.—To tax all trades, professions, occupations and callings, the taxing of which is not prohibited by the Constitution of this State; which tax shall not be construed to be a tax on property.

36. Chauffeurs, porters, etc.—To license, tax and regulate hackmen, draymen, omnibus drivers and drivers of baggage wagons, porters, and all others pursuing like occupations, with or without vehicles, and prescribe their compensation, and provide for their protection and make it a misdemeanor to attempt to defraud them of any legal charge for services rendered, and to regulate, license and restrain runners for railroads, stages and public houses.

37. Peddlers, theaters, etc.—To license, tax and regulate or suppress and prevent hawkers, peddlers, pawnbrokers and keepers [of theatrical] or other exhibitions, shows and amusements.

38. Circuses, etc.—To license, tax or regulate theaters, circuses, the exhibitions of common showmen, shows of any kind, and the exhibition of natural and artificial curiosities, caravans, menageries and musical exhibitions and performances.

39. Licenses and fees.—To authorize the proper officer of the city to grant and issue licenses, and to direct the manner of issuing and registering thereof, and the fees to be paid therefor. No license shall be issued for a longer period than one year, and shall not be assignable except by permission of the city council.

40. Finances and property.—To manage and control the finances and all property, real and personal and mixed, belonging to the corporation.

41. Appropriations.—To appropriate money, and provide for the payment of debts and expenses of the city.

42. Special funds.—To provide by ordinance special funds for special purposes, and to make the same disbursable only for the purpose for which the fund was created. Any officer of the city misappropriating said special fund shall be deemed guilty of malfeasance in office, and shall, on complaint of any one interested in said funds misappropriated, be removed from office, and be incapable thereafter to hold any office in said city.

43. Improvements.—To appropriate so much of the revenues of the city emanating from whatever source, for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city, and for the purpose of improving the public markets and streets, erecting and conducting city hospitals, city hall, waterworks, and so forth, as they may from time to time deem expedient; and in furtherance of these objects, to borrow money upon the credit of the city.

Art. 1015a. Condemnation of lands for parks.
—In case of the condemnation of land for laying out, establishing or enlarging any parks, parkways or pleasure grounds by any city in Texas which now has or may hereafter have a population of 12,000 or more inhabitants, the governing body of said city may, by ordinance, provide that the cost of such land and improvements shall be paid for, wholly or in part to an extent not exceeding the special benefits received by the property owners owning property in the vicinity thereof and benefited thereby, and may fix liens against said property so benefited to the extent same is specially benefited, provided, however, no assessments nor liens shall hold against homestead property so designated under existing laws and the procedure for and manner of assessing and collecting said benefits against and from said property owners and their said property shall be the same as that authorized by law in such city in which such proceedings are had in connection with the opening or widening of streets. Such assessments may be made payable in not exceeding sixteen (16) installments, the last maturing in not over fifteen (15) years, and may bear interest at not more than eight per cent (8%) per annum. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 433, ch. 288, § 1.]

Section 2 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 433, ch. 288, provides that the act shall be in addition to and cumulative of any powers now or hereafter conferred by law on such cities.

Art. 1015b. Ordinances for segregation of races.—Sec. 1. That the power and authority is hereby conferred upon the Cities of Texas to provide by suitable ordinance for the segregation of negroes and whites in any such city and to withhold permits to build or construct a house to be occupied by white people in negro communities inhabited by negroes as defined by ordinance and to withhold building permits to any negro to establish a residence on any property located in a white community inhabited by white people as defined by ordinance.

Sec. 2. That it shall be lawful for negroes and whites to enter into mutual covenants or agreements concerning their respective residence and the power and authority is conferred upon the governing body of any city to pass suitable ordinances requiring the observance of any such agreement.

Sec. 3. That the governing authorities of any such city shall have the full power to define the negro race, negro community, white race and white community.

Sec. 4. That the governing authorities of any such city shall have full power to enforce the observance of any ordinance passed leading to or providing for the segregation of the races and to require the observance thereof by appropriate penalties. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 154, ch. 103.]

Section 5 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 154, ch. 103, repeals all laws in conflict therewith.

Art. 1016. [854] [419] [375] Streets and alleys, etc.—Any incorporated city or town containing not more than five thousand population in this State shall have the exclusive control and power over the streets, alleys, and public grounds and highways of the city, and to abate and remove encroachments or obstructions thereon; to open, alter, widen, extend, establish, regulate, grade, clean and otherwise improve said streets; to put drains or sewers therein, and prevent incumbering thereof in any manner, and to protect same from encroachment or injury; and to regulate and alter the grade of premises; to require the filling up and raising of same; and such city council shall also have power to alter or vacate the alley in any block of ground in the city upon written application of the owner of the block, or if there be more than one owner of such block, then upon the written application of all owners thereof uniting in such application; such alley so vacated shall thereupon revert to and become the property of the owner of the block of which it was a part, or if more than one, then to the owners of the adjoining lots therein, each extending to the center of the alley so vacated. [Acts 1889, p. 1; Acts 1913, p. 326; Acts 1917, p. 351; G. L. vol. 9, p. 1029.]

Art. 1017. Sale of parks, streets, etc.—The charter or any amendment thereof, may authorize the governing body to sell and cause to be conveyed any land held or claimed for or as a public square or park, and the parts of streets and alleys within the limits of the city. The proceeds of any such sale shall be used only for the purpose of acquiring public squares, streets, or alleys. [Acts 1913, p. 326.]

Art. 1018. Use by railway, etc.—The charter, or any amendment thereto, may authorize the governing body to close for the exclusive use temporarily or perpetually by any railroad company or other corporation having power of eminent domain, any part or parts, of any street or streets, alley or alleys, and to ratify and confirm any prior ordinances closing any street or streets, alley or alleys, or any part or parts thereof, for the use of any railroad company or any such other corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1019. Special election.—No public square or park shall be sold, and no street or alley, nor part or parts of any street or alley closed, until the question of such sale or closing has been submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of the city or town, and approved by a majority of the votes cast at such election. [Id.]

Art. 1020. Towns so empowered.—The provisions of the three preceding articles shall be enforced in towns or cities under five thousand population, or cities over five thousand population which have no special charter, and in towns or cities incorporated under this title, and in cities or towns incorporated under any special law. The power authorized by this article may be conferred upon the governing body by vote of the qualified voters as provided in the preceding article. [Id.]

Art. 1021. [876] [577] [504] Interest on indebtedness.—No indebtedness of any character whatever, hereafter incurred by said corporation shall draw a higher rate of interest than six per cent per annum. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1022. [885 to 888] Audit board.—With the consent of the governing body, the mayor of each city or town incorporated under the general laws, shall at the first meeting of said body in January of each year appoint three resident citizens of said city or town who shall constitute a board of examiners of the finances of said city or town. Such examiners shall proceed to examine the books and accounts of each officer of said city or town, and make a sworn true report of the financial condition thereof to said governing body as soon as practicable and not later than the first meeting of said body in March of each year. The annual report of said board shall be passed upon by said governing body and spread upon the minutes of their meeting at the first regular meeting after the return of such report. Such examiners shall receive for their services such compensation as said governing body shall fix for every day actually employed in their investigations, not to exceed fifteen days in each year, which shall be paid by order of said body. [Acts 1905, p. 41; G. L. vol. 10, p. 771.]

Art. 1023. [889] [556] [485] Financial statement.—The city council shall, at least ten days before the expiration of each municipal year, cause to be published in a city newspaper a correct and full statement of the receipts and expenditures from the date of the last annual report, together with the sources from which the funds were derived, and showing for what purpose disbursed, the condition of the treasury, together with such information as may be necessary to a full understanding of the financial condition of the city. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1024. [899] [480] Receiver appointed.—A city or town so situated as is herein set forth, which fails to effect a compromise of its debts, or pending the negotiation of a compromise, shall be permitted, on its application setting forth its financial condition and insolvency, to have the district court of the county in which said city or town is situated, take charge of the collection and appropriation of all taxes levied and assessed by said city or town, except so much thereof as is necessary to pay the current expenses of the city or town; and to that end, said court, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall appoint a receiver or make the assessor and collector of said city or town its receiver to collect and pay into a named depository all taxes levied by said city or town for the payment of its debts; and said courts shall decide all questions of priority between conflicting claimants of said funds, and shall provide for the ratable and equitable distribution of said funds among all creditors entitled thereto. But it shall not be lawful for any court to appoint a receiver of or concerning any city or town except upon the voluntary application of such city or town. [Acts 1887, p. 50; G. L. vol. 9, p. 848.]

Art. 1025. [902] [555] [484] Official paper.—The city council shall, as soon as may be after the commencement of each municipal year, contract, as they may by ordinance or resolution determine, with a public newspaper of the city as the official paper thereof, and to continue as such until another is elected, and shall cause to be published therein all ordinances, notices and other matters required by this title or by the ordinance of the city to be published. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Article 1026. [923] [484] Power to levy.—The governing body of any city or town in this State having a population of five thousand or less shall have power by ordinance to levy, assess and collect such taxes as such governing body may determine, not to exceed for any one year one and one-half per cent of the taxable property of such city or town, for current expenses and for the purpose of construction or the purchase of public buildings, water works, sewers, and other permanent improvements, within the limits of such city or town, and for the construction and improvement of the roads, bridges and streets of such city or town within its limits. [Acts 1921, p. 12.]

Art. 1027. [924] [485] Ad valorem tax.—The governing body of any incorporated city or town having a population of not more than five thousand inhabitants, shall have power, by ordinance, to levy and collect an annual ad valorem tax of not exceeding one and one-half per cent on the one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property within such city or town for the erection, construction or purchase of public buildings, streets, sewers and other permanent improvements within the limits of such city or town. Within the meaning of this article shall be included building sites and buildings for public free schools and institutions of learning within those cities and towns which have or may assume the exclusive control and management of public free schools and institutions of learning within their limits. [Acts 1885, p. 99; G. L. vol. 9, p. 719; Constitutional Amendment 1921.]

Art. 1028. Ad valorem tax in large cities.—The governing body of any city in this State having more than five thousand inhabitants, unless otherwise provided in its special charter granted by the Legislature or adopted by the people, shall have power by ordinance to levy, assess and collect such taxes as such governing body may determine, not to exceed for any one year two and one-half per cent of the taxable property of such city, for current expenses and for the purpose of construction or the purchase of public buildings, water works, sewers, and other permanent improvements, and for the construction and improvement of the roads, bridges and streets of such city, within its limits. [Acts 1921, p. 12.]

All ad valorem tax levies by resolution instead of by ordinance validated, except as to cities and towns in counties having a population of less than 30,000, by Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 263, ch. 184, § 1.

Art. 1029. Retirement of indebtedness.—To meet the interest and sinking fund on all indebtedness legally incurred prior to the adoption of the constitutional amendment of September 25, 1883, regarding the power of cities and towns to levy and collect taxes, etc., the governing body of the following cities and towns shall have power by ordinance to levy, assess and collect an annual ad valorem tax sufficient therefor:

1. Of any city or town having a population of five thousand or less.
2. Of any city having more than five thousand inhabitants, unless otherwise provided in the special charter granted by the Legislature or adopted by the people. [Id.]

Art. 1030. [927] [489] [428] Poll tax.—The city council shall have power to levy and collect an annual poll tax, not to exceed one dollar, of every male inhabitant of said city over the age of twenty-one and under sixty years, idiots and lunatics excepted, who is a resident thereof at the time of such annual assessment. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1031. [928-9] Occupation tax.—The city council shall have the power to levy and collect taxes, commonly known as licenses, upon trades, professions, callings and other business carried on; and each person and firm engaging in the following trades, professions, callings and business, among others, shall be liable to pay such license tax; every person or firm keeping a ball alley, or nine or ten-pin alley; every person or firm selling goods, wares and merchandise at public auction; every merchandise or cotton broker or commission merchant; every person or firm pursuing the occupation of hawker or peddler of goods or any article whatever; but this enumeration shall not be held to deprive the city council of the right to levy and collect other license taxes, and from other persons and firms under the general authority herein granted.

Art. 1032. [930] [492] [431] Power to collect tax.—Nothing herein shall prevent the city council from collecting the license, and each license tax provided for by this title. Each establishment shall be liable to said license tax; and any person or firm pursuing occupations, business, avocations or calling subject to said tax shall pay on each. No license shall extend to more than one establishment, or include more than one occupation, avocation, business or calling. [Id.]

Art. 1033. [931] [493] [432] Power to assess tax.—The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the assessing and collecting of said taxes, and to determine when taxes shall be paid by corporations, and when by the individual corporators. No tax shall be levied unless by consent of two-thirds of the aldermen elected. [Id.]

Art. 1034. [932] [494] [433] Collection of license tax.—The license tax shall be collected by the assessor and collector, and shall be paid to that officer by each person and firm owing such license and before engaging in any trade, profession, business, calling, avocation or occupation subject to said tax. This article shall apply to all persons owning [owing] any license and failing to pay the same. The city council may collect said license tax by suit under such rules as they may provide by ordinance. Said taxes, commonly known as licenses, shall not be construed to be a tax on property within the meaning of the provisions of this title. [Id.]

Art. 1035. [933] [554] [483] License revoked.—In any case where, by any provision of this title, or by an ordinance passed in pursuance thereof, a person is required to obtain a license for any calling, occupation, business or avocation, and has by the recorder been adjudged guilty of violating any city ordinance in relation thereto, the recorder, in addition to a fine, may institute proceedings to suspend or revoke the license so granted. [Id.]

Art. 1036. [934] [495] [434] "Real estate."—The term real estate or property as used in this law shall be held to include lots, lands, and all buildings or machinery and structures of every kind erected upon and affixed to the same. [Id.]

Art. 1037. [935] [496] [435] "Personal estate."—The term personal estate or property as used in this law shall be held to include all household furniture, money, goods, capital, chattels, public stocks and stocks of corporations, moneyed or otherwise, and generally all property which is not real. [Id.]

Art. 1038. [936] [497] [436] Exemptions.—The city council may, by ordinance, provide for the exemption from taxation of such property as they may deem just and proper. [Id.]

Art. 1039. [936] [497] [436] Special taxes.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent the city council from imposing, levying and collecting special taxes and assessments for the improvement of the avenues, streets and alleys, as hereinafter provided. [Id.]

Art. 1040. [937] [498] [437] Indebtedness.—The city council may also levy, assess and collect taxes necessary to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund to satisfy any indebtedness heretofore legally made and undertaken. All such taxes shall be assessed and collected separately from those levied, assessed and collected for current expenses of municipal government, and shall, when levied, specify in the act of levying the purpose therefor. Such taxes may be paid in coupons, bonds or other indebtedness for the payment of which such tax may have been levied. [Const. art. 11, sec. 6.]

Art. 1041. [938] [499] [438] Powers of council.—The city council may provide, by ordinance, for the prompt collection of all taxes assessed, levied and imposed under this title, and is authorized to sell or cause to be sold real as well as personal property, and may make such rules and regulations, and pass all ordinances as they may deem necessary to the levying, laying, imposing, assessing and collecting of any tax herein provided. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1042. [929] [500] [439] Further powers.—The city council may by ordinance, regulate the manner of making out tax lists or inventories and appraisements of property therein, and prescribe the oath that shall be administered on such rendition of property, and to prescribe how and when property shall thus be rendered, and to prescribe the number and form of assessment rolls, and fix the duties and powers of the assessor and collector, and adopt such measures as they deem advisable to secure the assessment of all property within the limits of said city, and collect the tax thereupon. [Id.]

Art. 1043. [940] [501] [440] Rendition.—Each person, partnership and corporation owning property within the limits of the corporation shall, between January first and April first of each year, hand to the city assessor and collector a full and complete sworn inventory of the property possessed or controlled by him, her or them, within said limits on the first day of January of the current year. [Id.]

Art. 1044. [941] [410] [366] Assessor and collector.—The assessor and collector shall make up the assessment of all property taxed by the city, and make duplicate rolls thereof, and on completion of the rolls, shall deliver one of them to the city secretary. He shall collect all the taxes due the city, and in the event of the non-payment of any taxes, shall proceed to sell the property to raise the amount of taxes so due; and shall in performance of his duties, observe the provisions of this title, and the ordinances of the city relating thereto. He shall give a good bond in such amount and form as the city council may prescribe. The council may require a new bond whenever they deem the existing bond insufficient; and when such bond is required, he shall perform no official act until said bond shall be given and approved. He shall at the end of every week, pay to the treasurer all money by him collected, and shall report to the city council at the first meeting in every month all money so collected and paid and perform all such other duties in such manner as the council may prescribe. The assessor and collector is authorized to require the owners of all property subject to taxation to render a correct account of the same under oath, to be administered by him. He shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the city ordinances. [Id.]

Art. 1045. [942] [502] [442] List of personal property.—The assessor and collector shall make out a list of all personal property which has not been given in for assessment according to the provisions of this title, and assess the same in the name of the owner, if he be known; if not, then it shall be assessed by description of the property and as unknown owner. The value of such property shall be determined by the board of equalization. The same may be sold as in other cases, if the tax be not paid in the time prescribed by law. [Id.]

Art. 1046. [943] [503] [443] Unrendered property.—The assessor and collector, at the expiration of the time fixed by ordinance for the rendition of property shall ascertain such property in the city subject to taxation as has not been rendered; and the same shall be by him presented to the board of equalization for valuation by said board; and the same shall be by him entered in a supplement to the assessment roll as unknown, specifying the year for which said tax is not paid within the time prescribed by law; said property shall be sold at the same time and with like effect as other property. [Id.]

Art. 1047. [944] [504] [444] Back taxes.—Whenever the assessor and collector shall ascertain that any taxable property, real or personal, has not been assessed for any previous year, he shall assess the same in a supplement to his next assessment roll, at the same rate under which such property should have been assessed for such year, stating the year for which such property should have been assessed; and the taxes thereon shall be collected in the same manner as other assessments. In any case where any party has omitted to render property for taxation for any former year or years, and such taxes have not been paid, such party shall give such property in for assessment for the years thus omitted and pay such taxes; and the assessor and collector shall enter all such property in a supplement to his next assessment roll, under the head of payments for former years. [Id.]

Art. 1048. [945-955] Equalization board.—The city councils of cities and towns incorporated under the general laws shall annually, at their first meeting, or as soon thereafter as practicable, appoint three commissioners, each a qualified voter, a resident and property owner of the city or town for which he is appointed who shall be styled the board of equalization. At the same meeting said council shall, by ordinance, fix the time for the meeting of such board. Before said board enters upon its duties, it shall be sworn to faithfully and impartially discharge all duties incumbent upon it by law as such board. [Acts 1887, p. 152; G. L. vol. 9, p. 950.]

Art. 1049. [946] [506] Meetings of board.—The board of equalization shall convene annually, at the time so fixed to receive all the assessment lists or books of the assessor of their city, for examination, correction, equalization, appraisal, and approval. At each meeting of said board the city secretary shall act as secretary therefor. [Id.]

Art. 1050. [947] [507] Shall value property.—The board of equalization shall cause the assessor to bring before them, at the time so fixed all the assessment lists or books of the assessor of their city for their examination. Said board shall have power to send for persons and papers, to swear persons who testify, to ascertain the value of such property; and, if they are satisfied it is too high, they shall lower it to its proper value; and if too low, they shall raise the value of such property to a proper figure. Said board shall also have power to correct any errors that may appear on the assessor's lists or books. [Id.]

Art. 1051. [948] [508] Complaint.—Any person may file with said board at any time before the final action of said board a complaint as to the assessment of his or any other person's property, and said board shall hear said complaint. Said complainant shall have the right to have witnesses summoned in sustaining said complainant [complaint] as to the insurance on said property, or the rents and profits it may bring to the holder thereof.

Art. 1052. [949] [509] Unrendered property appraisal.—The city assessor, when he delivers to said board his lists and books, shall also furnish a certified list of the names of all persons who either refuse to swear or qualify or to sign the oath as required by law, together with a list of the property of such persons situated within the corporate limits of their city, as made by him through other information. The board shall examine said lists and appraise the property so listed by the assessor. [Id.]

Art. 1053. [950] [510] Notice to owners.—In all cases where the board of equalization shall raise the value of any property appearing on the lists or books of the assessor, they shall, after having examined such lists or books and corrected all errors appearing therein, adjourn to a day not less than ten nor more than fifteen days from the date of adjournment, such day to be fixed in the order of adjournment, and shall cause the secretary of said board to give written notice to the owner of such property or to the person rendering the same of the time to which said board has adjourned, and that such owner or person rendering said property may at that time appear and show cause why the value of said property should not be raised. Such notice may be served by depositing the same, properly addressed and postage paid, in the city post office. [Id.]

Art. 1054. [951-953] Shall lower values.—The board of equalization shall meet at the time fixed in said order of adjournment, and shall hear all persons the value of whose property has been raised. If said board is satisfied they have raised the value of such property too high, they shall lower the same to its proper value. The action of said board at said meeting shall be final, and shall not be subject to revision by said board or by any other tribunal. [Id.]

Art. 1055. [952] [512] Approval of rolls.—The board of equalization, after it has finally examined and equalized the value of all property on the assessor's lists or books, shall approve said lists or books and return them, together with the lists that he may make up therefrom his general rolls as required by law; and when said general rolls are so made up, the board shall meet again to examine and approve said rolls. [Id.]

Art. 1056. [954] [514] Compensation of board.—The members of the board of equalization and the city secretary, while acting as secretary of said board, shall receive such pay for their services, to be allowed by the city council, as said council may deem just. [Id.]

Art. 1057. [956] [516] [445] Collection of taxes.—The assessor and collector, after the completion of the assessment roll, shall proceed to collect the taxes therein mentioned within the time, and give such notice as may be prescribed by the city council, and shall call once upon every person taxed, or on the agent or attorney of such person and demand the payment of the tax charged upon his or her person or property, if the person is to be found, and if not, then a written demand, specifying the amount of taxes due, left at the residence of some adult member of the family, shall be sufficient demand. If any person thus owing taxes has no residence, office or place of business, and no agent in the city or town known to the assessor and collector, then said demand shall not be necessary, and the ordinary published notice required by ordinance shall be sufficient. [Acts 1875, p. 115; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1058. [957] [517] [446] Tax sale.—If any person shall fail to pay the taxes imposed on him and his property within the time prescribed by the ordinances of the city, the assessor and collector shall, by virtue of his tax list and assessment roll, levy upon so much of the property subject to taxation belonging to such person as may be sufficient to pay his taxes and shall give notice of the time and place of the sale by advertisement (if not unknown property), of the property and amount of taxes, costs and fees due thereupon. Such notice shall be published in some newspaper published in said city. At the expiration of the time stated in such notice and on the day therein specified, the assessor and collector shall proceed to sell such property at public auction at some public place in said city designated in said notice. When real estate is offered for sale, the least amount of such real estate shall be sold as will be sufficient to bring the amount of the taxes, penalties and costs due by said delinquent. Should a less amount than the whole tract levied upon be sold, the assessor and collector shall, in making his deed to the purchaser, begin at a corner of said tract or parcel of land and designate the same as nearly as possible in a square so that the remaining portion will be affected to as little advantage as possible. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 485.]

Art. 1059. [958] [518] [447] Effect of deed.—The assessor and collector shall, when any property has been sold for the payment of taxes, make, execute, and deliver a deed for said property to the person purchasing the same, and such deed shall be prima facie evidence in all controversies and suits in relation to the right of the purchaser, his heirs and assigns, to the premises thereby conveyed of the following facts:

1. That the land or lot or portions thereof conveyed was subject to taxation or assessment at the time the same was advertised for sale, and had been listed or assessed in the time or manner required by law.

2. That the taxes or assessment were not paid at any time before the sale.

3. That the land, lot, or portion thereof conveyed had not been redeemed from the sale at the date of the deed, and shall be conclusive evidence of the following facts:

(a) That the land, lot or portion thereof sold was advertised for sale in the manner and for the length of time required by law.

(b) That the property was sold for taxes or assessments as stated in the deed.

(c) That the grantee in the deed was the purchaser.

(d) That the sale was conducted in the manner prescribed by law.

And in all controversies and suits involving the title to land claimed and held under and by virtue of such deed, the person claiming title adverse to the title conveyed by such deed shall be required to prove, in order to defeat said title, either that the land was not subject to taxation at the date of the sale, that the taxes or assessment had been paid, that the land had never been listed or assessed for taxation and assessment, as required by this title, or some ordinance of the city, or that the same had been redeemed according to the provisions of this title, and that such redemption was made for the use and benefit of the person having the right of redemption under the law; but no person shall be permitted to question the title acquired by the said deed without first showing that he, or the person under whom he claims title, had title to the land at the time of the sale, or that the title was obtained after the sale; provided, however, that the owner of such property shall have the right to redeem the same at any time within two years of the day and date of the sale thereof, upon payment to the purchaser of double the amount of taxes for which the same was sold, together with the costs of such sale and double the amount of all taxes paid by the purchaser since such sale. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1060. [958] [518] [447] Personal property.—The assessor and collector shall have power to levy upon any personal property to satisfy any tax imposed by this title. All taxes shall be a lien upon the property upon which they are assessed, and in case any property levied upon is about to be removed out of the city, the assessor and collector shall proceed to take into his possession so much thereof as will pay the taxes assessed and the costs of collection. [Id.]

Art. 1061. [959] [519] [448] May continue sale.—If, from any cause, the sale of property levied upon or seized for taxes shall not take place at the time first appointed, the assessor and collector shall appoint some other time, give like notice, and proceed to sell such property as prescribed in the first instance. If said property levied upon or seized for taxes cannot be sold on the day advertised, such sale may be postponed from day to day until completed, of which postponement the assessor and collector shall give verbal notice at the expiration of sale each day. [Id.]

Art. 1062. [960] [520] [449] Failure to sell.—If, at any sale of real or personal property or estate for taxes, no bid shall be made for any parcel of land, or any goods and chattels, the same shall be struck off to the city, and the city shall receive, in the corporate name, a deed for said property, and shall be vested with the same right as other purchasers at such sale, and may sell and convey the same. [Id.]

Art. 1063. [961] [5198] [4760] Laws applicable.—The provisions of Chapter 8 Title 122, in reference to the seizure and sale of real and personal property for taxes, penalties and costs due thereon, shall apply as well to tax collectors for towns and cities as for tax collectors for counties. Tax collectors for cities and towns shall be governed, in selling real and personal property, by the same rules and regulations in all respects as to time, place, manner and terms and making deeds as are provided for tax collectors for counties, except as in this chapter otherwise provided. [Acts 1876, p. 259; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1095.]

Art. 1064. [962] [521] [450] One year redemptions.—If the real estate of an infant, feme covert, or lunatic be sold under this title, the same may be redeemed at any time within one year after such disability be removed. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1065. [963] Two year redemptions.—All lands sold under and by virtue of decree and judgment of court or as otherwise provided by law, for taxes due any incorporated city or town within this State, may be redeemed by the owner or owners thereof within two years from the date of deed, upon the payment to the purchaser, or his assigns, of double the amount so paid, including costs of court. The purchaser at such foreclosure sale, and his assigns, shall not be entitled to the possession of the property sold for taxes until the expiration of two years from the date of deed. [Acts 1899, p. 50.]

Art. 1066. [964] [522] [452] Payment of taxes.—Taxes levied to defray the current expenses of the city government, and all license and occupation tax levied, and all fines, forfeitures, penalties and other dues accruing to cities, shall be collectible only in current money. [Const. art. 11, sec. 4.]

CHAPTER SIX

FIRE PREVENTION

Art.

- 1067. Frame building regulations.
- 1068. Fire regulations.
- 1069. Fire department.
- 1070. May destroy buildings.
- 1070a. Uniform fire hose couplings and hydrant outlets.

Article 1067. [965] [523] [453] Frame building regulations.—The city council may prohibit the erection, building, placing, moving or repairing of wooden buildings within such limits of the city as it may designate and prescribe, in order to guard against the calamities of fire; and may within said limits prohibit the moving or putting up of any wooden building from without said limits, and may also prohibit the removal of any wooden building from one place to another within said limits, and may direct that all buildings within the limits so designated as aforesaid, shall be made or constructed of fire-proof materials, and may prohibit the rebuilding or repairing of wooden buildings within the fire limits when the same shall have been damaged to the extent of fifty per cent of the value thereof, and may prescribe the manner of ascertaining such damage; and may declare any dilapidated building to be a nuisance and direct the same to be repaired, removed or abated in such manner as they shall direct; to declare all wooden buildings in the fire limits which they deem dangerous to contiguous buildings, or in causing or promoting fires, to be nuisances, and require and cause the same to be removed in such manner as they shall prescribe. [Acts 1875, p. 143; G. L. vol. 8, p. 515.]

Art. 1068. [966 to 975] Fire regulations.—The city council shall have power:

1. To prevent and prohibit the dangerous condition of chimneys, flues, fire-places, stove pipes, ovens or other apparatus used in or about any building or manufactory, and to cause the same to be removed or placed in a secure and safe condition.

2. To prevent the deposit of ashes where they would be liable to produce fire, or in any wooden box or barrel, or within any wooden building, and to appoint officers to enter into any building or inclosure to examine and discover whether the same are in a dangerous state, and to cause such as may be dangerous to be put in a safe condition.

3. To require the inhabitants to keep and provide as many fire buckets and ladders, or other means to reach the roof as they shall prescribe, and to regulate the use thereof in times of fire.

4. To compel the owners or occupants of houses or other buildings to have scuttles in the roofs and stairs or ladders leading to the same.

5. To regulate or prevent the carrying on of manufactories and works dangerous in promoting or causing fires; to prohibit or regulate the building and erection of cotton presses and sheds.

6. To regulate or prevent and prohibit the use of fireworks and firearms.

7. To direct, control or prohibit the keeping and management of houses or any buildings for the storing of gun powder and other combustible, explosive or dangerous materials within the city; to regulate the keeping and conveying of the same.

8. To regulate and prescribe the manner and to order the building of parapet and party walls.

9. To authorize the mayor, officers of fire companies or any officer of said city to keep away from the vicinity of any fire all idle, disorderly or suspicious persons, and arrest and imprison the same, and compel all officers of the city and all other persons to aid in the extinguishment of fires and in the preservation of property exposed to danger thereat, and in preventing theft.

10. And generally to establish such regulations for the prevention and extinguishment of fires as the city council may deem expedient. [Id.]

Art. 1069. [976] [534] [464] Fire department.—The city council may procure fire engines and other apparatus for the extinguishment of fires, and have control thereof, and provide engine houses for preserving the same; and shall have power to organize fire, hook and ladder, hose and ax companies and fire brigades. The companies so organized, the chief engineer and such assistant engineers as may be provided for, shall constitute the fire department. Each company may elect its own members and officers. The engineers shall be chosen as said department may determine, subject to the approval of the city council, who shall define the duties of said officers and pass such ordinances as they may deem proper for the welfare of said department. All officers so elected and approved shall be commissioned by the mayor. Said companies may adopt their own constitution and by-laws, not inconsistent with this title or the city ordinances. Said department shall take the care and management of the engines and other implements and apparatus provided and used for fighting fire, and their powers and duties shall be prescribed and defined by the city council. [Id.]

Art. 1070. [977-8] May destroy buildings.—When any building in the city is on fire, it shall be lawful for the chief or acting chief engineer, with the concurrence of the mayor, to direct such building, or any other building which they may deem hazardous and likely to take fire and communicate to other buildings, to be torn down or blown up or destroyed, and no action shall be maintained against any person or against the city therefor. Any person interested in any such building so destroyed or injured may, within six months, and not thereafter, apply in writing to the city council to assess and pay the damage he has sustained, and, if the city council and the claimant cannot agree on the terms of adjustment, then the application of such claimant shall be referred to three commissioners, one to be appointed by the claimant, one by the city council and the third by both. Said commissioners shall be qualified voters and owners of real estate in the city. They shall be sworn faithfully to execute their duty according to the best of their ability, shall have power to subpoena and swear witnesses and shall give all parties a fair and impartial hearing, and give notice of the time and place of meeting. They shall take into account the probabilities of the building being destroyed by fire if it had not been so destroyed, and the loss of insurance upon said property, if any, caused by destroying the same, and may report that no damage should equitably be allowed to such claimant. Whenever a report shall be made and finally confirmed for the appraising of said damages, a compliance with the terms thereof by the city council shall be deemed a full satisfaction of said damages. [Id.]

Art. 1070a. Uniform fire hose couplings and hydrant outlets.—Sec. 1. That after this Act takes effect all fire department hose couplings and fire hydrant hose outlets now in service or which may hereafter be installed in this State, except those which are commonly known as the large steamer or pumper outlets, shall be provided with an uniform thread conforming to the following specifications, to-wit:

Inside diameter of male thread 2.5 inches.

Outside diameter of finished male thread 3.0625 inches.

Diameter at root of finished male thread 2.8715 inches.

Pitch diameter of male thread 2.9670 inches.

Clearance between male and female thread .03 inches.

Total length of threaded male end one inch.

Flat at top and valley of thread .01 inch.

Pitch or number of threads per inch 7.5.

Pattern—60 degree V thread. Female end cut $\frac{1}{8}$ inch shorter than male end for endwise clearance. Outer ends of male and female threads terminated by the "Higbee Cut," to avoid crossing and mutilation of otherwise finely drawn out thread. Outer end of male thread left blank $\frac{1}{4}$ inch.

Sec. 2. The State Fire Insurance Commission of Texas shall have full supervision over the work necessary to be done in carrying out the provisions of this Act, and that department shall employ competent mechanics and provide all necessary equipment, tools and appliances and proceed with said work, and complete it at the earliest date circumstances will permit.

Sec. 3. The State Fire Insurance Commission shall notify all property owners having equipment for fire protection purposes which it may be necessary for a fire department to use in putting out fire, of the changes necessary to meet the requirements of this Act, and shall render such assistance as may be available in converting their equipment to conform to said requirements.

Sec. 4. The sum of $5,000 or such part thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1928, and $5,000 or such part thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1929, to be used for the purchase of equipment, tools and appliances, and for salaries and traveling expenses and all other necessary expenses of mechanics, in carrying out the provisions of this Act. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 380, ch. 257.]

CHAPTER SEVEN

SANITARY DEPARTMENT

Art.

- 1071. Health officers.
- 1072. Regulation of disease, etc.
- 1073. Public conveyances.
- 1074. Shall report disease.
- 1075. Physician, powers.
- 1076. Sewerage, etc.
- 1077. Plumbing inspector.

Art.

- 1078. Board of plumbers.
- 1079. Regulation of, plumbers.
- 1080. License.
- 1081. License denied.

Article 1071. [979] [537] [467] Health officers.—The city council shall appoint a health officer, and as many health inspectors as they may deem necessary, and shall prescribe, by ordinance, the powers and duties and compensation of the same. [Acts 1909, p. 340.]

Art. 1072. [980] [538] [468] Regulation of disease, etc.—The city council may take such measures as they may deem effectual to prevent the entrance of any pestilence, contagious or infectious diseases into the city; to stop, detain and examine for that purpose any person coming from any place infected, or believed to be infected, with such disease; to establish, maintain and regulate pesthouses or hospitals at some place within or not exceeding five miles beyond the city limits; to cause any person who shall be suspected of being infected with any such disease to be sent to such pesthouse or hospital; to remove from the city or destroy any furniture, wearing apparel, or property of any kind which shall be suspected of being tainted or infected with pestilence, or which shall be likely to pass into such a state as to generate or propagate diseases; to abate all nuisances of every description which are or may become injurious to the public health, in any manner that they deem expedient; and from time to time to do all acts, which they deem expedient; to preserve health and suppress disease in the city. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1073. [981] [539] [469] Public conveyances.—The owner, driver, conductor or person in charge of any stage, railroad car or public conveyance which shall enter the city, knowingly having on board any person sick of a malignant fever, or pestilential, contagious or infectious disease, unless such person become [became] sick on the way and could not be left, shall, within three hours after the arrival of such sick person, report in writing the facts, with the name of such person and the house where he was put down in the city, to the health officer. [Id.]

Art. 1074. [983] [541] [471] Shall report disease.—Every keeper of a hotel, boarding or lodging house in the city, in which any inmate thereof shall be sick with any infectious or pestilential disease, shall upon such fact coming to his knowledge, forthwith report the same to the health officer. Every physician in the city shall report, under his hand, to the officer above named, the name, residence and disease of every patient whom he shall have sick of any infectious or pestilential disease, within six hours after he shall have visited such patient. [Id.]

Art. 1075. [985] [543] [473] Physician, powers.—The health officer may be authorized by the council, when the public interest requires, to exercise for the time being such of the powers and perform such of the duties of the chief of police as the city council may direct, and is authorized to enter all houses and other places, private or public, at all times, in the discharge of such duties, having first asked permission of the owners or occupants. The city council shall have power to punish, by fine, any neglect or refusal to observe the orders and regulations of the health officer. [Id.]

Art. 1076. [986] Sewerage, etc.—Every city in this State, however organized, having underground sewers or cesspools, shall pass ordinances regulating the tapping of said sewers and cesspools, regulating house draining and plumbing. [Acts 1897, p. 236; Acts 1909, p. 162; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1290.]

Art. 1077. [990] Plumbing inspector.—In any such city where there is no city inspector of plumbing provided for by special charter, the governing body shall elect such inspector of plumbing, who shall hold office for such time as fixed by such board. Such inspector of plumbing may be the city engineer, if the board sees fit to elect him. [Id.]

Art. 1078. [1987-8-9] Board of plumbers.—Such cities shall create a board for the examination of plumbers, to be known as the examining and supervising board of plumbers, to provide for an inspection of plumbing. Members of said board shall receive no compensation for services on said board. The said board shall consist of the following five persons: A member of the local board of health, if there be such a board of health, and if not, then the city physician or the city health officer, the city engineer, the city inspector of plumbing, a master plumber of not less than ten years active and continuous experience as a plumber, and one journeyman plumber of not less than five years of such active and continuous experience. The mayor and the governing body shall regulate the term each member shall serve; they shall fill all vacancies for the unexpired term of the member whose place is filled. [Id.]

Art. 1079. [1991] Regulation of plumbers.—The examining and supervising board of plumbers shall examine and pass upon all persons now engaged in the business of plumbing, whether as master, employing, or journeyman plumber, in their respective cities, and all persons who may hereafter wish to engage in the business of plumbing as master, employing, or journeyman plumber, within their respective jurisdictions, and also any person who may apply for the office of plumbing inspector. They shall issue a license to such persons only as shall successfully pass a required examination. They shall register in a book to be kept for that purpose, the name and place of business of each person to whom a plumber's license is issued. Such license shall not be transferable. [Acts 1897, p. 236; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1290.]

Art. 1080. [1992-3-6] License.—The board shall not issue licenses for more than one year, but the same shall be renewed from year to year upon proper application. Each applicant for said examination for plumber's license shall pay, to such person as said board may designate, three dollars for each master plumber examined, and two dollars for each journeyman plumber examined, which fees may be used by said board to defray any of its legitimate expenses, the residue, if any, to be paid to the city treasurer. The examination and examination fee shall not be required of the same person more than once. [Id.]

Art. 1081. [1997] License denied.—Except in cities of less than five thousand inhabitants, a license shall not be issued to any person to carry on or work at the business of plumbing, or to act as an inspector of plumbing, until he has appeared before an examining or supervising board for examination and registration and shall have successfully passed the required examination. [Id.; Acts 1919, p. 248.]

CHAPTER EIGHT

STREETS AND ALLEYS

- Art. 1082. Powers of council.
- 1083. Estimates of cost.
- 1084. Execution on property.
- 1085. Suit.

Article 1082. [1999] [544] [474] Powers of council.—The city council shall be invested with full power and authority to grade, gravel, repair, pave or otherwise improve any avenue, street or alley, or any portion thereof, within the limits of said city, whenever, by a vote of two-thirds of the aldermen present, they may deem such improvement for the public interest; provided, the city council pay one-third and the owner of the property two-thirds thereof, except at the intersection of streets, from lot to lot across the streets either way shall be paid for by the city alone. Said costs shall be assessed on the property fronting on said street so improved, to be collected in equal annual payments, not less than five in number. All moneys collected from these assessments shall be appropriated exclusively to the payment of the bonds issued for the payment of the cost of said improvement. [Acts 1875, p. 113; G. L. vol. 8, p. 485.]

Art. 1083. [1000] [545] [475] Estimates of cost.—Whenever the city council shall determine to make any such improvement, they shall cause an estimate to be made of the probable cost thereof by the city engineer, or by some other officer of the city, or by a committee of three aldermen; and such engineer or other officer or committee shall also report a full list of all lots or fractional lots, giving number and size of the same, and the number of the block in which situated, and the names of the owners thereof, if known, and such other information as may be required by the city council; and if there be a lot or fractional lot the owner of which is not known, the same shall be entered on said list as unknown. The officer or committee aforesaid shall enter on said list, opposite each lot or fractional lot lying and being on each side of the street, avenue or alley so to be improved as aforesaid, one-third of the estimated expense for such work or improvement on such avenue, street or alley fronting, adjoining or opposite such lot or fractional lot; and, on the acceptance and approval of said report and list by the city council, said amount shall be imposed, levied and assessed as taxes, and shall be a lien upon the property until the payment of the same. [Id.]

Art. 1084. [1001] [546] [476] Execution on property.—After such action on the part of the city council, such officer or committee shall give such notice as may be required by ordinance, of said tax being due and, within what time payable, and shall begin to collect the same. After the expiration of the period for payment of said tax, said officer or committee shall levy on so much of any property on said list on which said tax has not been paid as will be sufficient to pay the same, and the same notice of sale as is required in sales for other tax shall be given. If said tax is not paid before the day of sale, said officer or committee shall sell property in the name and under the circumstances, and to the extent and subject to the same conditions which may be provided by ordinance for the sale of real estate in the city, charged with the payment of taxes imposed by said corporation. Said officer or committee shall execute a deed to the purchaser at any such sale; and all other provisions of this title in reference to a deed drawn by the assessor and collector shall apply to the deed herein provided for. [Id.]

Art. 1085. [1002] [547] [477] Suit.—In addition to the authority granted to the city council to collect said assessment of taxes, they shall have the additional remedy of instituting suit in the corporate name for the recovery against any owner of the property for the amount due for any such work so made as aforesaid. They shall provide by resolution or ordinance under the provision of this title, for carrying out and executing the powers in this chapter conferred, and may adopt necessary resolutions, ordinances and regulations. Article 1086. [1006-7] Powers of city.—Towns, cities and villages, incorporated under either general or special law, which shall accept the benefits of this chapter as herein provided, shall have power to improve any highway within their limits, by filling, grading, raising, paving or repaving the same in a permanent manner, or by the construction or reconstruction of sidewalks, curbs and gutters, or by widening, narrowing or straightening the same, and to construct necessary appurtenances thereto, including sewers and drains. "City," when used herein, shall include all incorporated towns, cities and villages, and the term "highway" shall include any street, avenue, alley, highway, or public place or square, or portion thereof, dedicated to public use. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1909, p. 402.]

Art. 1087. [1008] Order for improvements.—The governing body of any city shall have power to order the improvement of any highway therein, or part thereof, and to select the materials and methods for such improvement, and to contract for the construction of such improvements in the name of the city, and to provide for the payment of the cost of such improvements out of any available funds of the city. [Id.]

Art. 1088. [1009] Costs.—The cost of making such improvements may be wholly paid by the city, or partly by the city and partly by the owners of the property abutting thereon. In no event shall more than three-fourths of the cost of any improvement, except sidewalks and curbs, be assessed against such property owners or their property. The whole cost of construction of sidewalks and curbs in front of any property may be assessed against the owner thereof or his property. [Id.]

Art. 1089. [1010] Assessments, railway.—Subject to the terms hereof, the governing body of any city shall have the power to assess against the owner of any railroad or street railroad occupying any highway ordered to be improved, the whole cost of the improvement between or under the rails or tracks of said railroad or street railroad and two feet on the outside thereof, and shall have power, by ordinance, to levy a special tax upon said railroad, or street railroad, and its roadbed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchise, which tax shall constitute a lien thereon superior to any other lien or claim, except State, county and municipal taxes, and which may be enforced, either by sale of said property in the manner provided by law in the collection of ad valorem taxes by the city, or by suit against the owner. The ordinance levying said tax shall prescribe when same shall become due and delinquent, and the method of enforcing the same. [Id.]

Art. 1090. [1011] Assessment and certificates.—Subject to the terms hereof, the governing body shall have power by ordinance to assess the whole cost of constructing sidewalks or curbs, and not to exceed three-fourths of the cost of any other improvement, against the owners of property abutting on such improvement and against their abutting property benefited thereby, and to provide for the time and terms of payment of such assessments and the rate of interest payable upon deferred payments thereon, which rate shall not exceed eight per cent per annum, and to fix a lien upon the property and declare such assessments to be a personal liability of the owners of such abutting property; and such governing body shall have the power to cause to be issued in the name of the city, assignable certificates declaring the liability of such owners and their property for the payment of such assessments and to fix the terms and conditions for such certificate. If any such certificate shall recite that the proceedings with reference to making such improvements have been regularly had in compliance with law, and that all prerequisites to the fixing of the assessment lien against the property described in said certificate and fixing the personal liability of the owner have been performed, such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the facts so recited. The ordinance making such assessments shall provide for the collection thereof, with costs and reasonable attorney's fees, if incurred. Such assessments shall be secured by, and constitute a lien on said property, which shall be the first enforceable claim against the property against which it is assessed, superior to all other liens and claims, except State, county and municipal taxes. [Id.]

Art. 1091. [1012] Exempt property.—Nothing herein shall be construed to empower any city to fix a lien by assessment against any property exempt by law from sale under execution; but the owner of such exempt property shall nevertheless be personally liable for the cost of improvements constructed in front of his property, which may be assessed against him. The fact that any improvement is omitted in front of exempt property shall not invalidate the lien of assessments made against other property on the highway improved, not so exempt. [Id.]

Art. 1092. [1012] Enforcement of lien.—The lien created against any property, or the personal liability of the owner thereof, may be enforced by suit or by sale of the property assessed in the same manner as may be provided by law for the sale of property for ad valorem city taxes. The recital in any deed made pursuant to such sale, that all legal prerequisites to said assessment and sale have been complied with, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts so recited and shall in all courts be accepted without further proof. [Id.]

Art. 1093. [1013] Notice of hearing.—No assessment of any part of the cost of such improvement shall be made against any property abutting thereon or its owner, until a full and fair hearing shall first have been given to the owners of such property, preceded by a reasonable notice thereof given to said owners, their agents or attorneys. Such notice shall be by advertisement inserted at least three times in some newspaper published in the city, town or village where such tax is sought to be levied, if there be such a paper there, if not, then in the nearest to said city, town or village, of general circulation in the county in which said city is located, the first publication to be made at least ten days before the date of the hearing. The governing body may provide for additional notice cumulative of notice by advertisement. [Id.]

Art. 1094. [1013] Hearing.—Said hearing shall be before the governing body of such cities, at which such owners shall have the right to contest the said assessment and personal liability, and the regularity of the proceedings with reference to the improvement, and the benefit of said improvement to their property, and any other matter relating thereto. No assessment shall be made against any owner of abutting property or his property in any event in excess of the actual benefit to such owner in the enhanced value of his property, by means of such improvement, as ascertained at such hearing. The governing body of any city making improvements under the terms hereof shall, by ordinance, adopt rules and regulations providing for such hearings to property owners, and for giving reasonable notice thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1095. [1014] Reassessment.—The governing body of any city shall be empowered to correct any mistake or irregularity in any proceedings with reference to such improvement, or the assessment of the cost thereof against abutting property and its owners, and in case of any error or invalidity, to reassess against any abutting property and its owner the cost or part of the cost of improvements, subject to the terms hereof, not in excess of the benefits in enhanced value of such property from such improvement, and to make reasonable rules and regulations for a notice to and hearing of property owners before such reassessment. [Id.]

Art. 1096. [1015] Owner may sue.—Any property owner, against whom or whose property any assessment or reassessment has been made, shall have the right within twenty days thereafter, to bring suit to set aside or correct the same, or any proceeding with reference thereto, on account of any error or invalidity therein. But thereafter such owner, his heirs, assigns or successors, shall be barred from any such action, or any defense of invalidity in such proceedings or assessments or reassessments in any action in which the same may be brought in question. [Id.]

Art. 1097. Special reassessment.—In any case in which the public funds of a city or town may have been or may hereafter be expended, or its vouchers or certificates issued to any contractor, or any contract made therewith, for the special improvement, raising or lowering the grade of, opening, straightening, widening, paving, constructing or grading of any street, avenue, alley, sidewalk, gutter or public way, or any part thereof, and if for any reason, no part of the cost of such improvement has been borne by the abutting property or paid by the owner or owners thereof, either because an attempted assessment and enforcement thereof for the same was erroneous or void, or was so declared in any judicial proceeding, the governing body shall have the power to proceed at any time to specially assess or reassess, such abutting property with such amount of the cost of such improvement as it deems proper, but in no event shall the amount exceed the special benefits such property receives therefrom by enhanced value thereto, the amount of such special benefits to be determined on a basis of the condition of such improvement as it exists at the time of such assessment or reassessment. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1919, p. 105.]

Art. 1098. Notice, etc.—No such assessment or reassessment, shall be made without at least ten days written notice and an opportunity to be heard on such question of special benefits given to the owner or owners of such abutting property. Such notice may be served either personally or by publication in some newspaper of general circulation, published in said city or town; and the governing body of any such city or town shall have power to provide for all procedure, rules and regulations necessary or proper for such notice and hearing and to levy, assess and collect such assessment or reassessment. [Id.]

Art. 1099. Special lien.—Such assessment, or reassessment shall constitute a lien upon such abutting property and a personal charge against the owner or owners thereof, which amount shall not be construed as becoming due, or having become due, before such assessment or reassessment is properly made in accordance with the provisions of this law. [Id.]

Art. 1100. Time limit.—Such assessment or reassessment as hereinbefore provided shall be begun within three years after the completion of improvements contiguous to the property against which assessment or reassessment is made, and not thereafter. In cases of reassessments where the question of validity of the original assessment may be, or may have been, in litigation, the period of time during which it was in litigation shall not be considered in computing said period of limitation. [Id.]

Art. 1101. Amount of assessment.—Any such assessment or reassessment made by the governing body of any city or town with less than five thousand inhabitants may equal the entire cost of sidewalk, curb and gutter, and the cost of any street improvement, exclusive of street intersections, and such governing body of such town in making such assessment or reassessment, shall follow the procedure prescribed in articles 1082 and 1083 in so far as applicable, but no such assessment or reassessment shall be made in excess of the special benefits in enhanced value conferred thereby on the property abutting such improvement, or until the owner or owners of such property shall have had notice, as provided above, and opportunity to contest such issue before such governing body under such rules and regulations as it may, by ordinance, prescribe. [Id.]

Art. 1102. Enforcible when.—Such assessment, or reassessment, shall be due and payable in equal annual installments not less than five in number; provided that the owner of such property shall have the right to appeal from the decision of the governing board to any court of competent jurisdiction within twenty days after such reassessment shall have been made, and upon failure to do so in said period, such assessment shall be final and conclusive upon such owner and property. [Id.]

Art. 1103. Effect of law.—The provisions of the six preceding articles relating to special assessments or reassessments are cumulative of all powers heretofore granted to any city or town either by general or special law; and all charter provisions of all cities and towns in this State heretofore adopted relative to the subject covered by this law are hereby validated. [Id.]

Art. 1104. [1016] Adoption of provisions.—The benefits of the provisions of this article and Articles 1086 to 1096, both inclusive, and Article 1105 shall apply to any city, and the terms thereof extend to the same, when the governing body thereof shall submit the question of the adoption or rejection hereof to a vote of the resident property taxpayers, who are qualified voters of said city, at a special election called for the purpose by said city. Said election shall be held as nearly as possible in compliance with the law with reference to regular city elections in said city, but said governing body is hereby empowered, and it shall be their duty on the written petition of one hundred qualified voters of said city, by resolution, to order said election, and prescribe the time and manner of holding the same. Said body shall canvass and determine the results of such election. If a majority of the voters voting upon the question of the adoption of said article, at such election, shall vote to adopt the same, the result of the election shall be entered by said governing body upon their minutes, and thereupon all the terms of said articles shall be applicable to and govern such city adopting the same. A certified copy of said minutes shall be prima facie evidence of the result of such election and the regularity thereof. When the provisions of said articles have been adopted by any city, the governing body thereof shall have full power to pass all ordinances or resolutions necessary or proper to give full force and effect thereto and to every part thereof. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1909, p. 402.]

Art. 1105. [1017] Provisions cumulative.—The provisions of Articles 1086 to 1096, both inclusive, and Article 1104 and of resolutions or ordinances passed pursuant thereto shall be cumulative of and in addition to existing laws pertaining to the making of such improvements. In any case in which a conflict may exist or arise between the provisions of said articles and the provisions of any law granting a special charter to any city in this State, the provisions of such special charter shall control. [Id.]

Art. 1105a. Establishing building lines on streets.—Sec. 1. The word "street" as used in this Act, means any public highway, boulevard, parkway, square or street, or any part or side of any of the same.

Sec. 2. It shall hereafter be lawful for any city which now has, or may hereafter have population of fifteen thousand (15,000) or more inhabitants, to establish building lines on any public street or highway, or part thereof in such city.

Sec. 3. The Legislative Body of any such city desiring to establish a building line may do so by adopting a resolution or ordinance describing the street, highway or part thereof to be affected, and the location of the building line or lines, and except as herein otherwise provided, by following the same procedure as that authorized by law in such city for the acquiring of land for the opening of streets. After the establishment of any such line, no building or other structures shall be erected, reconstructed or substantially repaired, and no new buildings or other structures, or part thereof, shall be erected or re-erected within said lines so established.

Sec. 4. The procedure for instituting and conducting the condemnation proceedings to condemn the easements and interests necessary to be taken and acquired to establish a building line under the authority of this Act, and to assess and collect benefits against property owners and their property abutting on or the vicinity of said building line arising out of the establishment of said building line, shall be the same as that authorized by law in such city in connection with the opening of streets. In the condemnation of any tract where the ownership of or interests in said tract is in controversy or is unknown, the award may be made in bulk as to such tract, and paid into court for the use of the parties owning or interested therein, whoever they may be, as their interests may appear. The award and findings of the Special Commissioners when filed with the Judge of the County Court, or other court having jurisdiction over the condemnation proceedings, shall be final, and shall be made the judgment of said court. Compensation shall be due and payable upon rendition of the judgment by the court adopting the award.

Sec. 5. Whenever and wherever a building line shall be established under authority of this Act, all structures extending within such building lines shall be required to conform to the new line within a period of not more than twenty-five (25) years from the time of establishing said lines; such time to be provided in the ordinance providing for the establishment of such line. At any time, however, before or after the expiration of the time so fixed, the proper municipal authorities shall have the power to proceed in the manner then provided by law relating to condemnation proceedings by such cities to remove all structures and to condemn any property then within such line, and to assess benefits against property owners and their property benefited thereby, provided, however, that all owners of property so affected shall receive due notice and hearing in the manner then provided by law in the determination of the additional damages then sustained by the removal of such structures or the taking of land then within the building line and in the determination of benefits to be assessed against property owners affected and their property affected.

Sec. 6. This Act shall be in addition to and cumulative of any powers now or hereafter conferred by law on such cities. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 415, ch. 276.]

Art. 1105b. Street improvements and assessments in cities having more than 1000 inhabitants.—Sec. 1. That cities, towns and villages incorporated under either general or special law, including those operating under special charter, or amendments of charter adopted pursuant to the Home Rule provisions of the Constitution, shall have power to cause to be improved, any highway, within their limits by filling, grading, raising, paving, repaving, and repairing in a permanent manner, and by constructing, reconstructing, repairing and realigning curbs, gutters and sidewalks, and by widening, narrowing and straightening, and by constructing appurtenances and incidentals to any of such improvements, including drains and culverts, which power shall include that of causing to be made any one or more of the kinds or classes of improvements herein named or any combination thereof, or of parts thereof.

Sec. 2. That the term "city" whenever used herein shall include all incorporated cities, towns and villages; that the term "governing body" whenever used herein, includes the governing or legislative bodies of all incorporated towns, cities and villages, whether known as councils, commissions, boards of commissioners, common councils, boards of aldermen, city councils, or by whatever name such bodies may be known or designated under general or special laws or charters. That whenever the term "highway" is used herein it shall include any street, avenue, alley, highway, boulevard, drive, public place, square, or any portion or portions thereof, including any portion that may have or may be left wholly or partly unimproved in connection with other street improvements heretofore or hereafter made. The term "improve" or "improvements" when used herein shall include the kinds and classes of improvements, with incidentals and appurtenances thereto, and any portions or combinations thereof, or of parts thereof, hereinabove mentioned, liberally construed. That whenever the term "cost" or "costs of improvements" or similar terms are used herein, same shall include expenses of engineering and other expenses incident to construction of improvements, in addition to the other costs of the improvements.

Sec. 3. That the governing body of any city shall have power to determine the necessity for, and to order, the improvement of any highway, highways, or parts thereof within such city, and to contract for the construction of such improvements in the name of the city, and to provide for the payment of the cost of such improvements by the city, or partly by the city and partly by assessments as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 4. That the cost of such improvements may be wholly paid by the city, or partly by the city and partly by property abutting upon the highway or portion thereof ordered to be improved, and the owners of such property, but if any part of the cost is to be paid by such abutting property and the owners, then before any such improvements are actually constructed, and before any hearing herein provided for is held, the governing body shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, an estimate of the cost of such improvements, and in no event shall more than all the cost of constructing, reconstructing, repairing and realigning curbs, gutters and sidewalks, and nine-tenths of the remaining cost of such improvements as shown on such estimate be assessed against such abutting property and owners thereof.

Sec. 5. If improvements be ordered constructed in any part of the area between and under rails, tracks, double tracks, turn outs and switches, and two feet on each side thereof, of any railway, street railway, or interurban, using, occupying, or crossing any such highway, portion or portions thereof, ordered improved, then the governing body shall have power to assess the whole cost of the improvements in such area against such railway, street railway, or interurban, and shall have power, by ordinance, to levy a special tax upon such railway, street railway, or interurban, and its road-bed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchises, which tax shall constitute a lien thereon superior to any other lien or claim except State, County and City ad valorem taxes, and which may be enforced either by sale of said property in the manner provided by law for the collection of ad valorem taxes by the city, or by suit in any court having jurisdiction. The ordinance levying such tax shall prescribe the time, terms and conditions of payment thereof, and the rate of interest, not to exceed 8% per annum, and same, if not paid when due, shall be collectible, together with interest, expenses of collection and reasonable attorney's fees, if incurred. The Governing Body shall have power to cause to be issued assignable certificates in evidence of any such assessments as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 6. Subject to the terms hereof, the Governing Body of any city shall have power by ordinance to assess all the cost of constructing, reconstructing, repairing and realigning, curbs, gutters and sidewalks, and not exceeding nine-tenths of the estimated cost of such improvements, exclusive of curbs, gutters and sidewalks, against property abutting upon the highway or portion thereof ordered to be improved, and against the owners of such property, and to provide the time, terms and conditions of payment and defaults of such assessments, and to prescribe the rate of interest thereon not to exceed eight per cent (8%) per annum. Any assessments against abutting property shall be a first and prior lien thereon from the date the improvements are ordered, and shall be a personal liability and charge against the true owners of such property at said date, whether named or not. The Governing Body shall have power to cause to be issued in the name of the city assignable certificates in evidence of assessments levied declaring the lien upon the property and the liability of the true owners or owners thereof whether correctly named or not, and to fix the terms and conditions of such certificates.

If any such certificate shall recite substantially that the proceedings with reference to making the improvements therein referred to have been regularly had in compliance with the law and that all prerequisites to the fixing of the assessment lien against the property described in said certificate and the personal liability of the owner or owners thereof have been performed, same shall be prima facie evidence of all the matters recited in said certificate, and no further proof thereof shall be required. In any suit upon any assessment or reassessment in evidence of which a certificate may be issued under the terms of this Act it shall be sufficient to allege the substance of the recitals in such certificate and that such recitals are in fact true, and further allegations with reference to the proceedings relating to such assessment or reassessment shall not be necessary.

Such assessments shall be collectible with interest, expense of collections, and reasonable attorney's fee, if incurred, and shall be a first and prior lien on the property assessed, superior to all other liens and claims except state, county and city ad valorem taxes, and shall be a personal liability and charge against the said owners of the property assessed.

Sec. 7. The part of the cost of improvements on each portion of highway ordered improved which may be assessed against abutting property and owners thereof shall be apportioned among the parcels of abutting property and owners thereof, in accordance with the Front Foot Plan or Rule provided that if the application of this rule would, in the opinion of the Governing Body, in particular cases, result in injustice or inequality, it shall be the duty of said Body to apportion and assess said costs in such proportion as it may deem just and equitable, having in view the special benefits in enhanced value to be received by such parcels of property and owners thereof, the equities of such owners, and the adjustment of such apportionment so as to produce a substantial equality of benefits received and burdens imposed.

Sec. 8. Nothing herein shall empower any city, or its governing body, to fix a lien against any interest in property exempt, at the time the improvements are ordered, from the lien of special assessment for street improvements, but the owner or owners of such property shall nevertheless be personally liable for any assessment in connection with such property. The fact that any improvement, though ordered, is omitted in front of property, any interest in which is so exempt, shall not invalidate the lien or liability of assessments made against other property.

The lien created against any property and the personal liability of the owner or owners thereof may be enforced by suit in any court having jurisdiction, or by sale of the property assessed in the same manner as may be provided by law or charter in force in the particular city for sale of property for ad valorem city taxes.

Sec. 9. No assessment herein provided for shall be made against any abutting property or its owners, nor against any railway, street railway or interurban, or owner, until after notice and opportunity for hearing as herein provided, and no assessment shall be made against any abutting property or owners thereof in excess of the special benefits of such property, and its owners in the enhanced value thereof by means of such improvements as determined at such hearing. Such notice shall be by advertisement inserted at least three times in some newspaper published in the city where such special assessment tax is to be imposed, if there be such a paper; if not, then the nearest to such city of general circulation in the county in which such city is located; the first publication to be made at least ten days before the date of the hearing. If any such notice shall describe in general terms the nature of the improvements for which assessments are proposed to be levied and to which such notice relates, shall state the highway, highways, portion or portions thereof to be improved, shall state the estimated amount or amounts per front foot proposed to be assessed against the owner or owners of abutting property and such property on each highway or portion, with reference to which hearing mentioned in the notice is to be held, and shall state the estimated total cost of the improvements on each such highway, portion or portions thereof, and if the improvements are to be constructed in any part of the area between and under rails and tracks, double tracks, turn-outs, and switches, and two feet on each side thereof of any railway, street railway or interurban, shall also state the amount proposed to be assessed therefor, and shall state the time and place at which such hearing shall be held then such notice shall be sufficient, valid and binding upon all owning or claiming such abutting property, or any interest therein, and upon all owning or claiming such railway, street railway, or interurban, or any interest therein, such hearing shall be by and before the governing body of such city and all owning any such abutting property, or any interest therein, and all owning any such railway, street railway, or interurban, or any interest therein, shall have the right, at such hearing, to be heard on any matter as to which hearing is a constitutional prerequisite to the validity of any assessment authorized by this Act, and to contest the amounts of the proposed assessments, the lien and liability thereof, the special benefits to the abutting property and owners thereof by means of the improvements for which assessments are to be levied, the accuracy, sufficiency, regularity and validity of the proceedings and contract in connection with such improvements and proposed assessments, and the governing body shall have power to correct any errors, inaccuracies, irregularities, and invalidities, and to supply any deficiencies, and to determine the amounts of assessments and all other matters necessary, and by ordinance to close such hearing and levy such assessments before, during or after the construction of such improvements, but no part of any assessment shall be made to mature prior to acceptance by the city of the improvements for which assessment is levied.

Anyone owning or claiming any property assessed, or any interest therein, or any railway, street railway, or interurban assessed or any interest therein, who shall desire to contest any such assessment on account of the amount thereof, or any inaccuracy, irregularity, invalidity, or insufficiency of the proceedings or contract with reference thereto, or with reference to such improvements, or on account of any matter or thing not in the discretion of the governing body, shall have the right to appeal therefrom and from such hearing by instituting suit for that purpose in any court having jurisdiction within fifteen (15) days from the time such assessment is levied; and anyone who shall fail to institute such suit within such time shall be held to have waived every matter which might have been taken advantage of at such hearing, and shall be barred and estopped from in any manner contesting or questioning such assessment, the amount, accuracy, validity, regularity and sufficiency thereof, and of the proceedings and contract with reference thereto and with reference to such improvements for or on account of any matter whatsoever. And the only defense to any such assessment in any suit to enforce the same shall be that the notice of hearing was not published or did not contain the substance of one or more of the requisites therefor herein prescribed, or that the assessments exceed the amount of the estimate, and no words or acts of any officer or employee of the city, or member of any governing body of the city, other than the action of the governing body shown in its written proceedings and records shall in any way affect the force and effect of the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 10. The governing body of the city shall have power to provide for changes in plans, methods or contracts for improvements, or other proceedings relating thereto, but any change substantially affecting the nature or quality of any improvements shall only be made when it is determined by two-thirds vote of the governing body that it is not practical to proceed with the improvement as theretofore provided for, and if any such substantial change be made after any hearing has been ordered or held then unless the improvement be abandoned altogether a new estimate of cost shall be made and a new hearing ordered, and held, and new notices given, all with like effect and in like manner as herein provided for original notices and hearings. Changes in or abandonment of improvements must be with the consent of such person, firm or corporation as may have contracted with the city for the construction thereof, if any such contract has been entered into, and in case of abandonment of any particular improvement an ordinance shall be passed which shall have the effect of cancelling any assessments theretofore levied therefor, and all other proceedings relating thereto.

Sec. 11. Assessments against several parcels of property may be made in one assessment when owned by the same person, firm, corporation or estate, and property owned jointly by one or more persons, firms or corporations, may be assessed jointly.

Sec. 12. Said governing body shall have power to carry out all the terms and provisions of this Act and to exercise all the powers thereof, either by resolution, motion, order or ordinance, except where ordinance is specifically prescribed, and such governing body shall have power to adopt, either by resolution or ordinance, any and all rules or regulations appropriate to the exercise of such powers, the method and manner of ordering and holding such hearings, and the giving of notices thereof.

Sec. 13. In case any assessment shall for any reason whatsoever be held or determined to be invalid or unenforceable, then the governing body of such city is empowered to supply any deficiency in proceedings with reference thereto and correct any mistake or irregularity in connection therewith, and at any time to make and levy reassessments after notice and hearing as nearly as possible in the manner herein provided for original assessments, and subject to the provisions hereof with reference to special benefits. Recitals in certificates issued in evidence of reassessments shall have the same force as provided for recitals in certificates relating to original assessments.

Sec. 14. Anyone owning or claiming any property or interest in any property against which such reassessment is levied shall have the same right of appeal as herein provided in connection with original assessments, and in the event of failure to appeal within fifteen (15) days from the date of such reassessment, the provisions hereinabove made with reference to waiver, bar, estoppel, and defense shall apply to such reassessment. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 489, ch. 106.]

Section 15 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 489, ch. 106, provides that the act shall not repeal Rev. St. 1925, articles 1086-1096, 1104, 1105, and shall not repeal any charter or law, but shall exist as alternative provisions and that any city which may adopt or amend its charter under the Home Rule provision may provide therein for any of the provisions thereof as part of or as alternative to any charter provision, and provides further that the act shall not apply to cities not having more than one thousand inhabitants, and section 16 provides that if any section or part is held invalid, such holding shall not affect the remainder.

1. CITY OWNED UTILITIES

Article 1106. Appropriation of revenue.—The governing body of any city or town in this State, whether operating under special charter or under general law, may appropriate and apply the net revenues of its water works system or other public utility system, service or enterprise to the payment of the sinking fund and interest due by said city or town on the bonded indebtedness incurred on account of said system, service or enterprise, producing such revenues in the following manner:

1. Whenever said governing body desires to take advantage of the provisions of this article it shall at the end of its fiscal year, and before the passage of any ordinance levying taxes for that year, appropriate and set aside out of the net revenues such sums for such purpose only as such governing body shall deem to the best interest of the city or town.

2. Where the sums so set aside and appropriated shall be sufficient to pay in full the amounts needed for such sinking fund and interest for the fiscal year in which said revenues are produced, it shall not be thereafter necessary for the governing body to levy any tax for such sinking fund or interest for which this appropriation is made; but when said sums so appropriated shall not be sufficient to meet the required amounts for such sinking fund and interest, then the governing body shall include in the general tax ordinance for that year a tax sufficient to meet the deficiency in such sinking fund and interest allowance for that year. Nothing herein shall authorize said city or town to exceed the authorized tax limit. [Acts 1917, p. 355.]

Art. 1107. [1003] [548] Condemnation of property.—An incorporated city or town shall have the right of eminent domain to condemn private property for either of the following purposes:

1. To open, change or widen any public street, avenue, or alley.

2. To construct water mains, or supply reservoirs, or stand pipes for water works or sewers.

3. To establish thereon one or more hospitals or pest houses, within or without the limits of such city or town.

4. To construct and maintain sewer pipes, mains and laterals and connections and also private property upon which to maintain vats, filtration [filtration] pipes and other pipes, and which to use and occupy as a place for ultimate disposition of sewerage in or out of the town or city limits, whenever it be made to appear that the use of any such private property is necessary for successful operation of such sewer system, and when it also be made to appear that such sewer system is beneficial to the public use, health and convenience. [Acts 1909, p. 9.]

Art. 1108. [769 to 722] Public utilities.—Any town or city in this State which has or may be chartered or organized under the general laws of Texas, or by special Act or charter, and which owns or operates waterworks, sewers, gas or electric lights, shall have the power and right:

1. To own land for such purposes within or without the limits of such town or city.

2. To purchase, construct and operate water, sewer and gas and electric light systems inside or outside of such towns or city limits, and regulate and control same in a manner to protect the interests of such town or city.

3. To sell water, electric light or power and sewer privileges to any person or corporation outside of the limits of such town or city and to permit them to connect therewith under contract with such town or city, under such terms and conditions as may appear to be for the best interests of such town or city.

4. To prescribe the kind of water or gas mains or sewer pipes and electric appliances within or beyond the limits of such town or city, and to inspect the same and require them to be kept in good order and condition at all times and to make such rules and regulations and prescribe penalties concerning same, as shall be necessary and proper. [Acts 1909, p. 159.]

In the catchline "722" should evidently be "772."

Art. 1109. Waterworks.—These rules shall govern incorporated cities having more than one thousand inhabitants according to its preceding Federal census and owning and operating their own waterworks systems for the purpose of supplying the inhabitants thereof with water for fire protection or domestic consumption and the users of the city:

1. They may proceed in accordance with the provisions of this article independently of and without reference to any other applicable law or charter provision, present or future, except as hereinafter provided, which said law or charter provisions shall remain in force as alternate methods.

2. Subject to the terms hereof, any such city may by purchase, gift or devise, or by the exercise of the right of eminent domain, acquire and own in fee simple or otherwise public or private lands and property including riparian rights, within or without the city limits or within any county in this State.

3. To furnish any such city an adequate and wholesome supply of water, any such city may exercise the right of eminent domain to acquire and condemn either public or private lands or property for the extension, improvement or enlargement of its waterworks system, including water supply reservoirs, riparian rights, stand pipes, water sheds, the construction of water supply reservoirs, wells or artesian wells and dams and the construction, building, erection or establishment of any necessary appurtenances or facilities which will furnish to the inhabitants of the city an abundant supply of wholesome water.

4. Any such city shall also have all the powers conferred upon water improvement districts or water control and preservation districts under the statutes now or hereafter existing providing for the exercise of the right of eminent domain, and shall have all the powers conferred by general law authorizing cities and towns to exercise the right of eminent domain.

5. Any such city may acquire the fee simple title to any land or property when same is expressed in the resolution ordering said condemnation proceedings by the governing body.

6. The term "city" or "cities" as used herein shall include all incorporated towns and cities acting hereunder. [Acts 1923, p. 29.]

Art. 1109a. Cities may mortgage.—All cities having more than one hundred and sixty thousand (160,000) inhabitants shall have power to issue bonds or notes therefor, and to secure payment thereof, to mortgage and encumber any such water system, and the incomes thereof and everything pertaining thereto.

And to purchase or otherwise acquire additions to, or extensions or enlargements of any such water systems, or additional water powers, riparian rights, or repair of such systems, or either of them; all cities having more than one hundred and sixty thousand (160,000) inhabitants shall have power to issue bonds and notes therefor, and to secure payment thereof, to mortgage and encumber such additions, extensions, enlargements, additional water powers, riparian rights, the income therefrom, and everything pertaining thereto, either separately or with such systems, or either of them.

And as additional security therefor, by the terms of such encumbrance, may grant to the purchaser, or purchaser under any sale or foreclosure thereunder, a franchise to operate the system and properties so purchased, for a term not over twenty years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating the same then in force. [Acts 1925, p. 154.] [39th Leg. ch. 33, § 1.]

2. Whenever the income of any water system shall be encumbered under this Act, the expense of operating and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repairs, and extensions, necessary to render efficient service, and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such income. The rates charged for services furnished by any of said systems shall be equal and uniform, and no free service shall be allowed except for city public schools, or buildings and institutions operated by such city, and there shall be charged and collected for such services a sufficient rate to pay for all operating, maintenance, depreciation, replacement, betterment and interest charges, and for interest and sinking fund sufficient to pay any bonds or notes issued to purchase, construct or improve any such systems or of any outstanding indebtedness against same. No part of the income of any such system shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense or obligation of such city, until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid. [Id.] [39th Leg. ch. 33, § 2.]

3. All cities acquiring a water system, or any addition, improvement or extension thereto, under this Act, may borrow money on the security of the plant, or addition or extension, so acquired, or owned, for the purpose of paying the purchase price and for the addition, improvement and extension thereof, and may issue bonds, notes or other obligations to evidence the moneys so borrowed, which bonds, notes or other obligations shall have the characteristics of negotiable instruments under the law merchant. Every contract, bond or note executed or issued under this Act shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation." No such obligation shall ever be a debt of such city, but solely a charge upon the properties so encumbered, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city to issue bonds for any purpose authorized by law. [Id.] [39th Leg. ch. 33, § 3.]

4. The management and control of any such system or systems during the time same are encumbered, may by the terms of such encumbrance be placed in the hands of the city council of such city; but if deemed advisable may be placed in the hands of a board of trustees to be named in such encumbrance, consisting of not more than five members, one of whom shall always be the mayor of such city; and the compensation of such trustees shall be fixed by such contract, but shall never exceed five per cent of the gross receipts of any such systems in any one year. The terms of office of such board of trustees, their powers and duties, the manner of exercising same, the election of their successors, and all matter pertaining to their organization and duties may be specified in such contract of encumbrance; but in all matters where such contract is silent, the laws and rules governing the council of such city shall govern said board of trustees so far as applicable. Said city council or board of trustees having such management and control shall have power to make rules and regulations governing the furnishing of service to patrons and for the payment for same, and providing for discontinuance of such service to those failing to pay therefor when due until payment is made; and such city council shall have power to provide penalties for the violation of such rules and regulations and for the use of such service without the consent or knowledge of the authorities in charge thereof, and to provide penalties for all interference, trespassing or injury to any such systems, appliances or premises on which same may be located. [Id.] [39th Leg. ch. 33, § 4.]

5. Any contract of encumbrance under this Act may name, or provide for the selection of a trustee to make sale upon default in the payment of the principal or interest according to the terms of such contract, and for the selection of his successor, if disqualified or failing to act, and may provide for collection fees not exceeding five per cent of the principal; but no collection fees shall accrue, and no foreclosure proceedings shall be begun in any court or through any trustee, and no option to mature any part of such obligation, because of default in payment of any installment of principal shall be exercised until ninety days written notice shall be given to each member of the city council of such city and to each member of such board of trustees, if any, that payment has been demanded and default made, which notice shall date from the sending of a letter to each person to be notified, by registered mail, postage and registration fees prepaid, and addressed to them at the post office in such city; and if the installments of principal and interest then due shall be paid before the expiration of said ninety days, together with the interest prescribed in such contract, not exceeding ten per cent per annum, from the date of default until the date of payment, it shall have like effect as if paid on the date same was originally due. [Id.] [39th Leg. ch. 33, § 5.]

6. In the encumbrance of any properties under this Act such city may encumber any such water systems, or any extensions, additions or enlargements thereof, singly or together, and may or may not include in such encumbrance the franchise provided for, and may omit or include in said encumbrances the whole or any part of the properties mentioned in Section 1 of this Act; but no such system shall ever be sold until such sale is authorized by a majority vote of the qualified property taxpayers of such city, or under the terms of any such mortgage or encumbrance, nor shall same be encumbered for purchase money or original cost, until authorized in like manner; such vote in either case to be ascertained at an election, of which notice shall have [been] given in like manner as cases of the issuance of municipal bonds by such cities.

All obligations herein authorized to be issued under Section 1 of this Act shall be submitted to the Attorney General for examination, and upon his approval as to the form thereof, shall be registered by the Comptroller in a book kept for that purpose; the Comptroller shall endorse his certificate of registration on each such obligation. [Id.] [39th Leg. ch. 33, § 6.]

7. All proceedings heretofore had by cities having more than one hundred and sixty thousand (160,000) inhabitants, in the acquisition of any water systems, and the encumbrance of same, within the authority given by this Act, be and the same are hereby approved and ratified. [Id.] [39th Leg. ch. 33, § 7.]

In the section of the law from which this article was taken, "To purchase or otherwise acquire any water systems," preceded the first paragraph as given here.

Art. 1109b. Eminent domain.—Incorporated cities and towns of less than five thousand inhabitants shall have the power to appropriate private property for public purposes whenever the governing authorities shall deem it necessary and to take any private property within or without the city limits for any of the following purposes, to-wit:

To have the power to appropriate private property for public purposes whenever the governing authorities shall deem it necessary and to take any private property within or without the city limits for any of the following purposes, to-wit: City halls, police stations, jails, calaboose, fire stations, libraries, school houses, high school buildings, academies, hospitals, sanitariums, auditoriums, market houses, reformatories, abattoirs, railroad terminals, docks, wharves, warehouses, ferries, ferry landings, elevators, loading and unloading devices, shipping facilities, piers, streets, alleys, parks, highways, boulevards, speedways, playgrounds, sewer systems, storm sewers, sewage disposal plants, drains, filtering beds and emptying grounds for sewer systems, reservoirs, water sheds, water supply sources, wells, water and electric light systems, gas plants, cemeteries, crematories, prison farms, and to acquire lands with and without the city for any other municipal purposes that may be deemed advisable.

The power herein granted for the purpose of acquiring private property shall include the power of the improvement and enlargement of the water works, including water supply, riparian rights, stand pipes, water sheds, the construction of supply reservoirs, parks, squares, and pleasure grounds, public wharves and landing places for steamers and other crafts, and for the purpose [e] of straightening or improving the channel of any stream, branch or drain, or the straightening or widening or extension of any street, alley, avenue or boulevard. That, in all cases where the city seeks to exercise the power of eminent domain, it shall be controlled, as nearly as practicable, by the law governing the condemnation of property of railroad corporations, in this State, the city taking the position of the railroad corporations in any such case; that the power of eminent domain hereby conferred shall include the right of the governing authority, when so expressed, to take the fee in the lands so condemned and such power and authority shall include the right to condemn public property for such purposes.

Art. 1110. Waterworks right of way.—To acquire rights of way for digging or excavating canals, laying mains or pipe lines for the purpose of conducting water through the same into the cities or towns for the use of the public, incorporated cities and towns owning their own waterworks system shall have the right of eminent domain to condemn private property for public use in and outside of the city or town limits of such cities or towns. [Acts 1915, p. 166.]

2. ENCUMBERED CITY SYSTEM

Art. 1111. Powers.—All cities and towns operating under this title have power to mortgage and encumber their light systems, water systems, or sewer systems, either, both, or all, and the franchise and income thereof, and everything pertaining thereto, acquired or to be acquired, to secure the payment of funds to purchase same, or to purchase additional water powers, riparian rights, or to build, improve, enlarge, extend or repair such systems, or either, or all of them, and as additional security therefor, by the terms of such encumbrance, may grant to the purchaser under sale or foreclosure thereunder, a franchise to operate the systems and properties so purchased for a term of not over twenty years after such purchase, subject to all laws regulating same then in force. No such obligation shall ever be a debt of such city or town, but solely a charge upon the properties so encumbered and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of such city or town to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law. [Acts 1911, p. 230; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 276, ch. 194, § 1.]

Section 4 of said Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 276, ch. 194, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

Art. 1112. Vote, etc.—No such light, water or sewer system shall ever be sold until such sale is authorized by a majority vote of the qualified voters of such city or town; nor shall same be encumbered for more than five thousand dollars, except for purchase money, or for extensions, or to refund any existing indebtedness, until authorized in like manner. Such vote in either case shall be ascertained at an election, of which notice shall be given in like manner as in cases of the issuance of municipal bonds by such cities and towns. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 276, ch. 194, § 2.]

Art. 1113. Income.—Whenever the income of any lighting, water or sewer systems shall be encumbered under this law, the expense of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repairs and extensions, necessary to render efficient service, and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such incomes. The rates charged for services furnished by any said system shall be equal and uniform, and no free service shall be allowed except for city public schools, or buildings and institutions operated by such city or town. There shall be charged and collected for such services a sufficient rate to pay for all operating, maintenance, depreciation, replacement, betterment and interest charges, and for interest and sinking fund sufficient to pay any bonds issued to purchase, construct or improve any such systems or of any outstanding indebtedness against same. No part of the income of any such system shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense or obligation of such city or town, until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 276, ch. 194, § 3.]

Art. 1114. Notes, etc.—Every contract, bond or note issued or executed under this law shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation." [Id.]

Art. 1115. Control.—The management and control of any such system or systems during the time they are encumbered, may by the terms of such encumbrance, be placed in the hands of the city council of such town, or may be placed in the hands of a board of trustees to be named in such encumbrance, consisting of not more than five members, one of whom shall be the mayor of such city or town. The compensation of such trustees shall be fixed by such contract, but shall never exceed five per cent of the gross receipts of such systems in any one year. The terms of office of such board of trustees, their powers and duties, the manner of exercising same, the election of their successors, and all matters pertaining to their organization and duties may be specified in such contract of encumbrance. In all matters where such contract is silent, the laws and rules governing the council of such city or town shall govern said board of trustees so far as applicable. [Id.]

Art. 1116. Rules.—The city council or board of trustees having such management and control shall have the power to make rules and regulations governing the furnishing of service to patrons and for the payment of the same, and providing for the discontinuance of such service failing to pay therefor when due until payment is made. The city council shall have power to provide penalties for the violation of such rules and regulations and for the use of such service without the consent or knowledge of the authorities in charge thereof, and to provide penalties for all interference, trespassing or injury to any such systems, appliances or premises on which same may be located. [Id.]

Art. 1117. Default.—A contract of encumbrance may provide for the selection of a trustee to make sale upon default in the payment of the principal or interest according to the terms of such contract, and for the selection of his successor if disqualified or failing to act, and for collection fees not exceeding five per cent of the principal. [Id.]

Art. 1118. Notice.—No collection fees shall accrue, and no foreclosure proceedings shall be begun in any court or through any trustee, and no option to mature any part of such obligation because of default in payment of any installment of principal or interest shall be exercised until ninety days written notice shall be given to each member of the city council of such city or town and to each member of such board of trustees, if any, that payment has been demanded and default made, which notice shall date from the sending of a prepaid registered letter to each person to be notified, addressed to them at the post office in such city or town. If the installments of principal and interest then due shall be paid before the expiration of said ninety days, together with the interest prescribed in such contract, not exceeding ten per cent per annum, from the date of default until the date of payment, it shall have like effect as if paid on the date the same was originally due. [Id.]

3. CITY REGULATION

Art. 1119. [1018] Rates prescribed, etc.—The governing body of all cities and towns in this State of over two thousand population, incorporated under the general laws thereof, shall have the power to regulate, by ordinance, the rates and compensation to be charged by all water, gas, light and sewer companies, corporations or persons using the streets and public grounds of said city or town, and engaged in furnishing water, gas, light or sewerage service to the public, and also to prescribe rules and regulations under which such commodities shall be furnished, and service rendered, and to fix penalties to enforce such charges, rules and regulations. The governing body shall not prescribe any rate or compensation which will yield less than ten per cent per annum net on the actual costs of the physical properties, equipment and betterments. [Acts 1907, p. 217, § 1.]

Art. 1120. [1020] Protective ordinances, etc.—The governing body shall have power to pass such ordinances as they may deem proper to protect any said company, corporation or person, in the free enjoyment of all their rights and franchises, to protect any interference with their property or privileges, and to prevent the free or unauthorized use or waste of the water or other commodity or service furnished. [Id.]

Art. 1121. [1021] Reports.—Any such company, corporation or person who may be engaged in furnishing to the inhabitants of any such city or town any water, light, gas or sewerage service, shall, on or before the first day of March of each year, file with the mayor of such city or town a written report sworn to by the manager, secretary or president of such corporation, by a member of such company, and by any such person, which shall show:

1. The amount of any lien or mortgage upon the properties composing such plant;

2. All other indebtedness pertaining to such enterprise and the consideration therefor;

3. The actual cost of the visible physical properties, date when installed and the present value thereof, and herein the lands, machinery, buildings, pipes, poles, circuits, mains shall each be treated separately;

4. The annual cost of operating such plant, showing separate items, the amount paid for actual salaries, amount paid for labor of all kinds, fixed charges, including interest, taxes and insurance, giving each separately, amount paid for fuel, for extension and repairs, giving each separately, and particularizing the extension and repairs the cost of maintenance, amount paid for damages, claim or suits for damages, identifying each claim or suit, amount paid for miscellaneous expenses, and, if any machinery or equipment is abandoned, worn out or its use discontinued within the preceding year, the same shall be stated, the original cost, and the present value thereof shall be given;

5. The report shall give the gross earnings from any such plant, including revenues from every source whatever, stating items separately, amount received by each department. [Id.]

Art. 1122. [1022] Penalties.—Any such corporation, or any member of such company, or any such person mentioned in this chapter, who shall for thirty days wilfully refuse or fail to report in the manner provided by this chapter, shall forfeit and pay to any such city or town the sum of one hundred dollars per day for each and every day during which it shall continue in default; or, if any such corporation, or company, or person, shall file any report, knowing that the same does not truly report the facts about the matters mentioned therein, it shall forfeit and pay to such city or town the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars for each such wilfully false report. Such forfeitures and penalties shall be recovered at the suit of such city or town brought in the county where such city or town is located. [Id.]

Art. 1123. [1023] City owned plants.—The governing body of any city or town incorporated under the general laws shall have the power where such city or town owns the plant, to regulate by ordinance, the rates and compensation to be charged the public by such city or town for water, sewerage, gas, electricity or other fluid or substance used for lights, heat or power, to establish and operate necessary plants for the manufacture, generation or production thereof, and to sell and distribute the same to the public within the corporate limits. [Id.]

Art. 1124. Rates in certain cities.—Any city having a special charter or a charter adopted or amended under the provisions of chapter 13 of this title, and having authority under its charter to determine, fix and regulate the charges, fares or rates of compensation to be charged by any person, firm or corporation enjoying a franchise in said city, shall in determining, fixing and regulating such charges, fares or rates of compensation, base the same upon the fair value of the property of such person, firm or corporation devoted to furnishing service to such city, or the inhabitants thereof, and not upon any stocks or bonds issued or authorized to be issued, by, or any other indebtedness of, such person, firm or corporation. No city shall be responsible for, concerned with, authorize, approve or have jurisdiction over, the issuance or sale of any stocks or bonds by any such person, firm or corporation, but the issuance and sale thereof shall be governed solely by the Constitution and laws of this State applicable thereto. [Acts 1st C. S. 1921, p. 152.]

Art. 1124a. Official reading of meters.—Sec. 1. That hereafter any consumer or user of electric power, current, natural or artificial gas furnished by any private concern in any city, town or village in this State on complaint made to the city Commissioners or city council of any city, town or village within this State, shall have the right to have any meter which measures the amount of electricity or gas installed by the person furnishing said electrical current or gas for the purpose of ascertaining what amount to charge him for the use thereof, examined, read and tested by the agents, servants and employees of the city commissioners or city council, as the case may be; said agents, servants and employees being hereby given the right to break the seal, and examine, read and test the various meters and similar devices, in company with an agent of the furnisher of said electrical power, current and gas, if said furnisher desires its representative to be present, if not, then such examination to be had without him but three days' notice shall be given to all persons, firms or corporations furnishing said electricity or gas of said test.

Sec. 2. The word "meter" as used in this Act applies to any instrument, apparatus or machine used for measuring electric currents or gas and recording the results obtained.

Sec. 3. The words "person" and "furnisher" used in this Act refer to any corporation, association, partnership or individual engaged in furnishing electricity, electric current, electrical power or gas for consumption for hire in cities.

Sec. 4. That on demand [of] said city council or city commissioners shall furnish the complaining consumer with a detailed report of the result of their reading, examination and testing of said meters or other said measuring devices for electrical current or gas as hereinbefore referred to, said report to state whether or not said meter or measuring device is functioning properly, is in good condition, and the amount of electrical current, power or gas used by the consumer for any period of time preceding of not more than one year, such period to be designated by the consumer in his complaint hereinbefore mentioned. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 71, ch. 47.]

Section 6 of said Act 1927, 40th Leg., p. 71, ch. 47, provides that the Act shall not affect any special charter granted any city, town or village, and section 7 provides that if any section or part shall be declared invalid the decision shall not affect the remainder.

4. JUDICIAL REGULATION

Art. 1125. [1025] Excessive rates.—All extortionate and unreasonable rates charged by public utility corporations, as hereinafter defined, are hereby declared to be unlawful; and the district courts of this State are hereby vested with jurisdiction and full power and authority to regulate, prevent and abolish the same; and said courts are given the power and authority whenever the public interest may require, to fix and establish rates for the service and products of all public utility corporations, and whenever the public interest may require and to carry out the provisions herein conferred, said courts are hereby expressly authorized to issue injunctions, quo warranto, and all other writs for the purpose of carrying out and making effective the purposes of this chapter, and said writs shall be governed by the rules and regulations now prescribed by law. No proceeding shall be begun in the district court having for its purpose the fixing or [of] rates of public utility corporations until and unless the city council of the city or town desiring to invoke the power herein conferred upon the district courts shall comply with the provisions of the succeeding article. [Acts 1905, p. 348.]

Art. 1126. [1026] Complaint.—If the city council of any city or town incorporated under the general laws of this State, shall desire to invoke the power of the district court granted in the preceding article, such council shall, by a two-thirds vote of all the members elected to said council, pass a resolution setting forth the matters complained of, naming the corporation against which the complaint is made, and in a general way the reasons for such complaint, and shall cause a copy of the same to be delivered to the president, vice president or secretary of said corporation, or cause to be left a copy of said resolution at the principal office of such corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1127. [1027] Suit.—If, within twenty days after the said corporation has been furnished with a copy of the resolution of the city council, the wrongs complained of shall not be corrected to the satisfaction of the city council, a petition setting forth the wrongs and grievances complained of, and stating the relief sought, may be filed in the name of the city or town as plaintiff against the corporation as defendant in any district court of the county in which such city or town may be situated. Process shall be issued upon said petition, and be served upon such corporation as now provided by law in civil cases. The case shall be set for trial in the same manner as other civil cases, except that it shall have precedence over all cases of a different character filed in such court as to the time of trial. Process shall issue in said cause in the same manner as process may issue in civil cases. The right of trial by jury of the issues involved shall also be given upon the demand of either party. [Id.]

Art. 1128. [1028] Trial.—Upon the trial of the cause, the court or jury, in arriving at a decision as to whether or not the rates complained of are reasonable or extortionate, and in fixing the rates, shall consider the cost of construction of the plant of the public utility corporation against which the petition is filed, the cost of the operation of such plant, its maintenance and repairs, the fixed charges that may be against the corporation, amount invested in such plant, and such other matters as may be material to the issues. The court trying the same shall have the power to order the corporation to make profert of its books and records for inspection in court in determining the question in issue. After a full hearing of all the evidence adduced, the court or jury shall have power, and it shall be their duty to fix the rates which may be charged by such public utility corporation; provided, that the rates fixed must be sufficient to yield such public utility company not less than ten per cent upon the investment, and the same shall continue in force for a period of three years. The rates fixed shall be entered of record upon the minutes of the court, and shall be held conclusive, as reasonable, fair and just, and shall remain for three years as the rates to be charged by such corporation, unless changed or modified by the judgment of said district court, or by the appellate courts to which either of the parties to said suit may appeal, or have writ of error. [Id.]

Art. 1129. [1029] Appeal.—If either party to the suit shall be dissatisfied with the decision of the court and the rate thereby established, an appeal may be taken by either party to the proper court of civil appeals, and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said court of civil appeals, and shall have precedence in such court of all cases of a different character therein pending. The parties to said suit may apply to the Supreme Court for a writ of error. [Id.]

Art. 1130. [1030] Enforcement.—When the final judgment is rendered in any cause fixing the rates to be charged by said corporation, the court rendering such judgment shall order in its decree the enforcement of the same; and is authorized and empowered to provide in its decree that, if the same is not obeyed according to the terms thereof, the said corporation shall forfeit its charter, if the same be a domestic corporation, or its permit to do business in this State if the corporation be a foreign corporation. If said order or decree be violated, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General, or county or district attorney, under the direction of the Attorney General, to institute suit in the district court of the county in which such corporation may have its principal office, or in Travis County, for the forfeiture of the charter of such corporation or the cancellation of its permit, as the case may be, and, if said charter be forfeited or permit canceled, the offending corporation shall thereafter be prohibited from carrying on its business within this State. [Id.]

Art. 1131. [1031] Corporations affected.—The public utilities included within the meaning of this subdivision are defined to be water companies furnishing water to the public; gas companies furnishing gas to the public, electric light or power companies furnishing light or power to the public; telephone companies furnishing telephones to the public; sewerage companies conducting sewerage for the public, whether said companies are incorporated under the laws of this or a foreign State. [Id.]

Art. 1132. [1032] Cities affected.—Any city within this State, incorporated under a special law, may at its option, avail itself of the provisions of this subdivision, but the same shall be cumulative of any other method which may now be provided in such special charter, and this law shall not repeal any provisions of such special charters. [Id.]

Article 1133. [1033] [579] [506] May be incorporated.—When a town or village may contain more than four hundred and less than ten thousand inhabitants, it may be incorporated as a town or village in the manner prescribed in this chapter. [Acts 1881, p. 63; G. L. vol. 9, p. 155; Acts 1897, p. 193; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1247; Acts 1915, p. 130.]

Cities and towns incorporated under Rev. St. 1925, Title 28, having 600 inhabitants or over, validated by Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 79, ch. 55, § 1.

Art. 1134. [1034] [580] [507] Mode of incorporation.—If the inhabitants of such town or village desire to be so incorporated, at least twenty residents thereof, who would be qualified voters under the provisions of this chapter, shall file an application for that purpose in the office of the county judge of the county in which the town or village is situated, stating the boundaries of the proposed town or village, the name by which it is to be known when incorporated, and accompany the same with a plat of the proposed town or village including therein no territory except that which is intended to be used for strictly town purposes. If any town or village be situated on both sides of a line dividing two counties, application may be made to the county judge of either county in which a portion of said town or village is located, in manner and form as herein provided. A new election shall not be ordered in less than one year. [Acts 1889, p. 5; G. L. vol. 9, p. 1033.]

Art. 1135. [1035] Adjoining territory added.—Whenever a majority of the inhabitants, who are qualified voters of any territory adjoining the limits of any town or village incorporated hereunder, shall vote in favor of becoming a part of said town or village, any three of them may make affidavit to such fact and file such affidavit with the mayor of said town or village, and such mayor shall certify the same to the council of said town or village. Thereupon, such council may, by ordinance, receive such inhabitants as a part of said town or village. Thenceforth the territory so received shall be a part of said town or village and the inhabitants shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens and bound by all the acts and ordinances made in conformity thereto and passed in pursuance of this chapter; provided, that the area of no town or village shall ever exceed that of cities or towns, as provided for in chapter one of this title. [Acts 1903, p. 116.]

Art. 1136. [1036-7] Election order.—If satisfactory proof is made that the town or village contains the requisite number of inhabitants, the county judge shall make an order for holding an election on a day therein stated and at a place designated within the town or village for the purpose of submitting the question to a vote of the people. He shall appoint an officer to preside at the election, who shall select two judges and two clerks to assist in holding it. After a previous notice of ten days, by posting advertisement thereof at three public places in the town or village, the election shall be held in the manner prescribed for holding elections in other cases.

Art. 1137. [1038] [583] [510] Qualifications of electors.—Every person who has attained the age of twenty-one years and who has resided within the limits of the proposed town for the six months next preceding and is a qualified elector under the laws of this State, shall be entitled to vote at the election.

Art. 1138. [1039] [584] [511] Ballots.—On each ticket the voter must write or cause to be written or printed, "corporation" or "no corporation."

Art. 1139. [1040-41] Returns.—If a majority of the votes are cast in favor of incorporation the officers holding the election shall make return thereof to the county judge within ten days after the same was held. The county judge shall, within twenty days after the receipt thereof make an entry upon the records of the commissioners court that the inhabitants of the town or village are incorporated within the boundaries thereof; which boundaries shall also be designated in the entry. A certified copy of such entry, together with the plat of the town or village, shall thereupon be recorded in the proper record of deeds of such county. [Acts 1897, p. 193; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1247.]

Art. 1140. [1042] [587] [514] Powers of corporation.—When the entry mentioned in the preceding article has been made, the town shall be invested with all the rights incident to such corporation under this chapter, and shall have power to sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, and to hold and dispose of real and personal property, provided such real property is situated within the limits of the corporation.

Art. 1141. [1043-4] Election of officers.—The county judge shall immediately order an election for a mayor, a marshal and five aldermen. No person shall be eligible to any of said offices unless he possess the requisites provided by this chapter for persons qualified to vote hereunder.

Art. 1142. [1045] [590] [517] Commission.—The county judge shall, immediately after the returns have been made, commission the candidate who received the highest number of votes for the office of mayor, and shall deliver certificates of election to the other officers elected. [R. S. 1879, p. 517.]

Art. 1143. [1046] [591] [518] Term of office.—The mayor, aldermen and all other officers

elected at the first election under this chapter, regardless of the time of such first election, shall hold their offices until their successors shall have been duly elected and qualified at the next succeeding annual election, according to the provisions of the succeeding article. [Acts 1873, p. 99; G. L. vol. 7, p. 551.]

Art. 1144. [1047] [592] [519] Annual election.—The annual election of officers of all towns and villages incorporated under the provisions of this chapter shall take place on such day as may be fixed by law for municipal elections throughout the towns and cities of the State. Should no such uniform day be fixed, then the elections herein provided for shall take place on the first Tuesday in April of each year. The mayor, or in case of his inability or refusal to act, any two aldermen, shall order such annual election by notices posted for at least ten days at three public places within the corporate limits. The returns of such election shall be made to the town or village council, and certificates of election given by the mayor or person, acting as such to the persons elected to the various offices of such corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1145. [1048] [593] [520] Quorum may pass by-laws.—The mayor shall be the president of the board of aldermen and shall, with three of the aldermen, constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; and the quorum shall have power to enact such by-laws and ordinances not inconsistent with the laws and constitution of this State as shall be deemed proper for the government of the corporation.

Art. 1146. [1049 to 1055] Powers of aldermen.—The board of aldermen shall:

1. Have power to levy and collect an occupation tax of not more than one-half of the amount levied by the State; also to levy taxes on persons and property, real and personal, within the corporation, subject to taxation by the laws of this State; but the tax on persons and property shall not, in any one year, exceed the rate of one-fourth of one per cent on the one hundred dollars valuation.

2. Have and exercise exclusive control over the streets, alleys and other public places within the corporate limits; provided, that, with the consent of the board of aldermen, where streets are continuations of public roads, the commissioners court shall have power to construct bridges and other improvements thereon which facilitate the practicability of travel on said streets.

3. Have the power to cause the male inhabitants between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five years, except ministers of the gospel actually engaged in the discharge of their duties, to work on the streets and public alleys not to exceed five days in any one year, or furnish a substitute, or a sum of money, not to exceed one dollar for each day's work demanded, to employ such substitute.

4. Prevent, as far as practicable, any nuisances within the limits of the corporation, and cause such as exist to be removed at the expense of the person by whom they were occasioned or upon whose property they may be found.

5. Have power to prescribe the fine to be imposed by the mayor for the violation of any by-laws or ordinance, which shall in no case exceed one hundred dollars; but no fine shall be imposed except upon the verdict of a jury, should the defendant demand a trial by jury.

6. Fill, for the unexpired term, any vacancy which may occur in any office created by this chapter or by the board of aldermen under its provisions, such vacancy to be filled by the acting aldermen.

7. Have power to appoint such officers, other than those mentioned in this chapter, as shall be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of the same, to prescribe their duties and to fix their compensation; and shall also have power to dismiss them at any time and appoint others in their stead.

8. Prescribe the bonds and security which the marshal and such other officers as may be appointed shall give, which shall be executed and approved by the mayor, before the marshal or other officer shall enter upon the discharge of his duties, said bond to be payable to the corporation.

9. Have power to appoint another marshal or officer in the place of the one so elected or appointed if the bond required in the preceding paragraph is not given within five days after the marshal is elected or appointed.

10. The board of aldermen may establish markets and may do whatever else may be necessary to give effect to the provisions of this chapter.

Art. 1147. [1056-7] Powers of marshal.—The marshal shall have the same power within the town that constables shall have within their precincts, and shall be entitled to the same fees. He shall discharge all other duties that may be prescribed by the by-laws and ordinances, not inconsistent with the laws of this State, and shall receive therefor such fees as may be fixed by the board. He shall assess and collect the corporation tax, and if the same be not voluntarily paid, he shall have power to make the collection in the same manner and with like effect as is prescribed in chapter 5 of this title for collection of taxes in cities, so far as applicable.

Art. 1148. [1058-9-61] Tax sales.—When any property shall be liable to assessment for corporation taxes, and the owner is unknown, such property shall be valued by the marshal and assessed by its description, stating that the owner of the property is unknown; unless the taxes are paid, the property shall be sold for the payment thereof, as nearly as may be in the manner in which such property when duly rendered is required to be sold, and the sale shall be equally valid. Real estate sold for taxes due the corporation may be redeemed as provided in chapter 5 of this title. Where the purchaser does not reside within the limits of the corporation, the estate may be redeemed by making the payment into the treasury of the corporation for the benefit of the purchaser.

Art. 1149. [1066-7] Condemnation for highways.—Any town or village in this State, incorporated under this chapter or by special charter, shall have the right, and they are hereby empowered, to condemn the right of way and roadbed of any railway company whose roadbed runs within the corporate limits of such town or village, when deemed necessary and so declared, by a majority vote of the board of aldermen, for the purpose of opening, widening or extending the streets of such town or village; provided, there are less than four railroad tracks. Failing to agree on the damages to be paid therefor, the mayor shall prepare a statement in writing showing the point on said railroad right of way where said street is desired to be opened, widened or extended, giving the width and length of that portion of the right of way of the railroad sought to be condemned, and describing it so that it can be clearly identified, the object for which it is sought to be condemned, the name and style of the railway company, and file the same with the county judge of the county in which such town or village is situated, whereupon proceedings shall be had to condemn said right of way. [Acts 1897, p. 216; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1270.]

Art. 1150. [1069] Commissioners court may condemn.—County commissioners shall have the right, upon petition of twenty freeholders of any community, or unincorporated town or city, to condemn roadbed of railroads for the same purpose mentioned in the preceding article. [Id.]

Art. 1151. [1068] Crossings: duty of railroad.—Every railroad company in this State shall place and keep that portion of its roadbed and right of way over or across which any public street of any incorporated town or village may run, in proper condition for the use of the traveling public; and in case of its failure to do so for thirty days after written notice given to the section boss of the section where such work or repairs are needed, by the town marshal of such town or village, it shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each week such railroad may fail or neglect to comply with the requirements of this article, recoverable in any court having jurisdiction of the amount involved, in a suit in the name of such town or village. [Id.]

Art. 1152. [1060] [611] [538] Publication of ordinances.—No ordinance or by-laws shall be enforced until it has been published at least ten days in three public places in the town, or in a newspaper if one be published in the corporation. [R. S. 1879, § 538.]

Art. 1153. [1062-3] Amendment of charter.—Towns and villages heretofore incorporated by the Congress of the Republic or the Legislature of this State may, by a resolution of the board of aldermen and a two-thirds vote of the voters at an election held therefor, amend their charters in any particular not in conflict with the constitution of this State or the Revised Statutes. In order to amend the charter of any town or village, it shall be necessary, before said amendment shall go into effect, for the board of aldermen to adopt a resolution setting forth the amendment; and a certified copy of the same shall be approved by the Attorney General and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State before the same shall take effect. [Acts 1881, p. 83; G. L. vol. 9, p. 175.]

CHAPTER TWELVE

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Art.

- 1154. Petition.
- 1155. Unincorporated towns.
- 1156. Ballot.
- 1157. Election.
- 1158. Officers.
- 1159. Vacancies.
- 1160. Shall supersede council.
- 1161. Officers appointed.
- 1162. Bonds of officers.
- 1163. Commissioners, duties, etc.
- 1164. Meetings and salary.

Article 1154. [1070] Petition.—Whenever ten per cent of the qualified voters of any incorporated city or town having a population of over five hundred and less than five thousand inhabitants incorporated under the provisions of this title or any previous general law, or hereafter incorporated under any general law, or of any incorporated town or village having a population of more than five hundred and less than one thousand inhabitants incorporated under chapter 11 of this title or any previous general law, or hereafter incorporated under any general law, shall petition in writing the mayor of said city, town or village requesting that an election be ordered to determine whether such city, town or village shall adopt the commission form of government, the mayor shall order an election in such city, town or village, to determine whether or not the commission form of government shall be adopted. Thirty days notice of such election shall be given by publishing such notice in some newspaper therein if there be one, and if none, then by posting notices of same at three public places in such town, city or village. [Acts 1909, p. 189; Acts 1913, p. 36; Acts 1921, p. 123.]

Art. 1155. [1070] Unincorporated towns.—If any unincorporated city or town in this State, having a population of over five hundred and less than five thousand inhabitants, or any unincorporated town or village in this State having a population of more than two hundred and less than one thousand inhabitants, shall desire to be incorporated under the commission form of government as herein provided, an election to determine whether such incorporation may be had shall be called by the county judge of the county under the provisions herein governing incorporated cities and towns, and incorporated towns and villages, and notice of such election shall be given as herein provided, and if satisfactory proof is made that the city or town or village contains the requisite number of inhabitants, the county judge shall make an order for holding an election on a day therein stated, and at a place designated within the city or town or village, for the purpose of submitting the question to a vote of the people. [Id.]

Art. 1156. [1071] Ballot.—The ballots to be used in said election shall have written or printed thereon "For Commission" or "Against Commission." [Acts 1909, p. 189; Acts 1913, p. 36.]

Art. 1157. [1072] Election.—The mayor or county judge, as the case may be, shall appoint two judges of election, one of which shall be designated as the presiding judge, and two clerks, to hold said election. The election shall be held and governed by the general laws of this State except as herein otherwise provided, and the returns shall be made to the mayor or the county judge, as the case may be within five days after said election shall have been held. If a majority of the votes cast are "For Commission," then the mayor or county judge shall enter an order to that effect upon the minutes of the city council, or board of aldermen, or of the commissioners court, and after the entry of said order said incorporated city or town or village shall be under the commission form of government, and said unincorporated city or town, or unincorporated town or village, shall be incorporated and under the commission form of government. [Id.]

Art. 1158. [1073] Officers.—At such election there shall be elected two commissioners, who shall serve until the first Tuesday in April following, and in said unincorporated cities and towns, and unincorporated towns and villages, there shall at such elections be elected a mayor and two commissioners, who shall serve until the first Tuesday in April following. The mayor of the incorporated cities and towns, and incorporated towns and villages, adopting the commission form of government shall continue to hold his office for the term for which he was elected. The term of office of the mayor and commissioners, except the first elected under the provisions hereof, shall be two years, and they shall be elected on the first Tuesday in April every two years. [Id.]

Art. 1159. [1073] Vacancies.—In case of the death or the resignation of the mayor or commissioners, the others shall fill the place by appointment, provided, that shall a vacancy occur from death, resignation, or failure to qualify, or any other cause, of the mayor and one commissioner at the same time, or of two commissioners at the same time, the vacancy shall be filled by special election called by the county judge of the county, upon notice for the time, and subject to all the regulations herein for the original election; the result of said election shall be certified by the county judge to the clerk of said commission, and shall be entered upon the minutes. [Id.]

Art. 1160. [1073] Shall supersede council.—In incorporated cities and towns and incorporated towns and villages, adopting the commission form of government under the provisions hereof, the members of the city council, and board of aldermen shall hold their offices until the commissioners elected hereunder shall have qualified, and after such qualification, the officers of the city council, and board of aldermen shall be abolished, and the mayor and commissioners herein provided for shall constitute the "Board of Commissioners" of said city or town, or town or village. [Id.]

Art. 1161. [1074] Officers appointed.—Said "Board of Commissioners" shall appoint a competent person to be clerk, who shall also be treasurer and assessor and collector of taxes of such city or town, or town or village. He shall before entering upon the duties of his office, enter into a good and sufficient bond in double the estimated amount of annual revenues of such city or town or of such town or village, said estimate to be made by the "Board of Commissioners" and said bond to be approved by the said board and filed and recorded in the minutes thereof. Said clerk shall be invested and charged with and shall exercise all the power, rights and duties conferred upon and imposed by the general laws, upon the clerk, treasurer, assessor and collector of taxes, of cities and towns, or towns and villages, as the case may be. The board shall also have the authority to appoint a city attorney and such police force and such other officers as they may deem necessary, and fix the salary or other compensation to be received by such clerk, and by such officers, and define their duties, and at any time may abolish any office which it creates, and may discharge any officer, clerk or employé which it appoints. [Id.]

Art. 1162. [1074] Bond of officers.—The mayor and each commissioner shall enter into a bond in the sum of three thousand dollars each, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of their office; said bond of the officers, first elected hereunder, shall be approved within twenty days after the entry upon the minutes of the city council, or board of aldermen or the commissioners court, as the case may be, by the county judge of the county in which such city or town, or town or village is located, and to be payable to said city or town or town or village for its use and benefit. All subsequent bonds of officers elected hereunder shall be approved by the "Board of Commissioners." [Id.]

Art. 1163. [1075] Commissioners, duties, etc.—The "Board of Commissioners" of all incorporated and unincorporated cities or towns or towns and villages of over five hundred and less than five thousand inhabitants incorporated under or adopting the commission form of government under the provisions of this chapter, shall have all of the authority and powers, and be subject to all of the duties granted and conferred under Chapters 1 to 10 both inclusive of this title, except where same may conflict with some provision of this chapter. In incorporated and unincorporated towns and villages of more than two hundred and not more than five hundred inhabitants, adopting or incorporated under the commission form of government hereunder, the "Board of Commissioners" shall have all authority and powers conferred under Chapter 11 of this title except where the same may be in conflict with some provision contained herein. [Id.; Acts 1921, p. 123.]

Art. 1164. [1076] Meetings and salary.—Said Board shall hold at least one regular monthly meeting and the mayor or two commissioners may call as many special meetings as may be necessary to attend to the municipal business. Each commissioner and said mayor shall receive for their service five dollars per day for each regular meeting, and three dollars per day for each special meeting. The Mayor or any commissioner shall not receive pay for more than five special meetings in any one month. In lieu of such per diem said "Board of Commissioners" of any such town or city with not less than two thousand population may fix a salary to be received by the mayor and commissioners, not to exceed the sum of twelve hundred dollars per year for said mayor and six hundred dollars per year for each commissioner. [Id.]

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

HOME RULE

- Art.
 1165. May change charter.
 1166. Requisites of submission.
 1167. Submission of charter.
 1168. First election.
 1169. Adoption of charter.
 1170. Amendments.
 1171. Notice of intention.
 1172. Other issues.
 1173. Certification.
 1174. Registration.
 1174a. Validating charter or charter amendments.
 1175. Enumerated powers.
 1176. Further powers.
 1177. Former powers.
 1178. Vested rights.
 1179. Improvement districts.
 1180. Private improvements.
 1181. Franchises.
 1182. Franchise election.

Article 1165. May change charter.—Cities having more than five thousand inhabitants may, by a majority vote of the qualified voters of said city, at an election held for that purpose, adopt or amend their charters, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by the Legislature. No charter or any ordinances passed under said charter shall contain any provision inconsistent with the Constitution or general laws of this State; said cities may levy, assess and collect such taxes as may be authorized by law, or by their charters; but no tax for any purpose shall ever be lawful for any one year which shall exceed two and one-half per cent of the taxable property of such city, and no debt shall ever be created by any city unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and create a sinking fund of at least two per cent thereon. No city charter shall be altered, amended or repealed oftener than every two years. The governing body of such city may, by two-thirds votes of its members, or upon petition of ten per cent of the qualified voters of said city, shall provide by ordinance for the submission of the question, "shall a commission be chosen to frame a new charter." [Acts 1913, p. 307.]

Art. 1166. Requisites of submission.—The ordinance providing for the submission of such question shall require that it be submitted at the next regular municipal election, if one should be held, not less than thirty nor more than ninety days after the passage of said ordinance; otherwise it shall provide for the submission of the question at a special election to be called and held not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days after the passage of said ordinance and the publication thereof in some newspaper published in said city. The ballot containing such question shall bear no party designation, and provision shall be made thereon for the election from the city at large of a charter commission of not less than fifteen members, nor more than one member for each three thousand inhabitants, provided, that a majority of the qualified voters, voting on said question shall have voted in the affirmative. [Id.]

Art. 1167. Submission of charter.—The charter so framed by said commission shall be submitted to the qualified voters of said city at an election to be held at a time fixed by the charter commission not less than forty nor more than ninety days after the completion of the work of the charter commission; provision for which shall be made by the governing body of the city in so far as not prescribed by the general law. Not less than thirty days prior to such election, the governing body shall cause the city clerk or city secretary to mail a copy of the proposed charter to each qualified voter in said city as appears from the tax collector's rolls for the year ending January 31st, preceding said election. In preparing the charter the commission shall, as far as practicable, segregate each subject so that the voter may vote "Yes" or "No" on the same. [Id.]

Art. 1168. First election.—Where the legislative or governing authority of any city, or where any mass meeting has selected a charter committee or charter commission, or where the mayor of any city has appointed a charter committee which has proceeded with the formation of a charter for said city, the provisions hereof as to the selection of the charter commission shall not apply to the first charter election to be held in said city under the terms of this law.

Art. 1169. Adoption of charter.—If such proposed charter is approved by a majority of the qualified voters, voting at said election, it shall become the charter of said city until amended or repealed. No charter shall be considered adopted until an official order has been entered upon the records of said city by the governing body thereof declaring the same adopted. [Id.]

Art. 1170. Amendments.—When the governing body desires to submit amendments to any existing charter and in the absence of such petition, said body may, on its own motion, and shall upon the petition of at least ten per cent of the qualified voters of said city, submit any proposed amendment or amendments to such charter. The ordinance providing for the submission of any proposed amendment shall make the same provisions for holding the election and publishing notice thereof as provided in the second article of this chapter. The governing body of said city shall cause the city clerk or city secretary to mail a copy of the proposed amendment or amendments to every qualified voter in said city as appears from the tax collector's rolls for the year ending January 31st, preceding said election. Every amendment submitted must contain only one subject, and in preparing the ballot for such amendment, it shall be done in such manner that the voter may vote "Yes" or "No" on any amendment or amendments without voting "Yes" or "No" on all of said amendments. Each such proposed amendment, if approved by the majority of the qualified voters voting at said election, shall become a part of the charter of said city. No amendment shall be considered adopted until an official order has been entered upon the records of said city by the governing body thereof declaring the same adopted. [Id.]

Art. 1171. Notice of intention.—No ordinance shall be passed submitting an amendment or amendments until twenty days' notice has been given of such intention by publication for ten days in some newspaper published in said city. By "twenty days" is meant from the first date said notice is published. [Id.]

Art. 1172. Other issues.—Nothing in this chapter shall prevent the qualified voters of any city of over five thousand inhabitants from adopting any charter or amendment thereto, and at the same time electing officers under such charter or amendment. [Id.]

Art. 1173. Certification.—Upon the adoption of any such charter or amendment to any existing charter as provided herein, the mayor or chief executive officer exercising like or similar powers, of any such city, as soon as practicable, after the adoption of any such charter or amendment, shall certify to the Secretary of State an authenticated copy under the seal of the city, showing the approval by the qualified voters of any such charter or amendment, and the Secretary of State shall thereupon file and record the same in a separate book to be kept in his office for such purpose. [Id.]

Art. 1174. Registration.—The city secretary of any such city or officer exercising like or similar powers, upon the adoption and approval of any such charter or any amendment thereof by the qualified voters as herein provided, shall record at length upon the records of the city, in a separate book to be kept in his office for such purpose, any such charter, or amendment so adopted. When such charter or any amendment thereof shall be so recorded, it shall be deemed a public act and all courts shall take judicial notice of same and no proof shall be required of same. All cities may institute and prosecute suits without giving security for cost and may appeal from judgment without giving supersedeas or cost bond. [Id.]

Art. 1174a. Validating charter or charter amendments.—That each charter, and amendment to a charter adopted by any city of more than five thousand inhabitants in this State, or where such city has amended or attempted to amend or adopt such charter, since the enactment of Chapter 147, Acts of the Regular Session of the Thirty-third Legislature of the State of Texas, 1913, and all proceedings had with reference thereto, are hereby validated, and are hereby declared to be in full force and effect, the same as if adopted in strict compliance with all the requirements of said Chapter 147, Acts of the Thirty-third Legislature, and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage. [Inserted by Compiler from Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 50, p. 187, § 1.]

Art. 1175. Enumerated powers.—Cities adopting the charter or amendment hereunder shall have full power of local self-government, and among the other powers that may be exercised by any such city the following are hereby enumerated for greater certainty:

1. The creation of a commission, aldermanic or other form of government; the creation of offices, the manner and mode of selecting officers and prescribing their qualifications, duties, compensation and tenure of office.

2. The power to fix the boundary limits of said city, to provide for the extension of said boundary limits and the annexation of additional territory lying adjacent to said city, according to such rules as may be provided by said charter.

3. To hold by gift, deed, devise or otherwise any character of property, including any charitable or trust fund; to plead and be impleaded in all courts, and to act in perpetual succession as a body politic.

4. To provide that no public property or any other character of property owned or held by said city shall be subject to any execution of any kind or nature.

5. To provide that no fund of the city shall be subject to garnishment, and the city shall never be required to answer in any garnishment proceedings.

6. To provide for the exemption from liability on account of any claim for any damages to any person or property, or to fix such rules and regulations governing the city's liability as may be deemed advisable.

7. To provide for the levying of any general or special ad valorem tax for any purpose not inconsistent with the Constitution of this State.

8. To provide for the mode and method of assessing taxes, both real and personal, against any person and corporation, including the right to assess the franchise of any public corporation using and occupying the public streets or grounds of the city, separately from the tangible property of such corporation.

9. To provide for the collection of all taxes, including the right to impose penalties for delinquent taxes.

10. The power to control and manage the finances of any such city; to prescribe its fiscal year and fiscal arrangements; the power to issue bonds upon the credit of the city for the purpose of making permanent public improvements or for other public purposes in the amount and to the extent provided by such charter, and consistent with the Constitution of this State; provided, that said bonds shall have first been authorized by a majority vote by the duly qualified property tax-paying voters voting at an election held for that purpose. Thereafter all such bonds shall be submitted to the Attorney General for his approval, and the Comptroller for registration, as provided by law, provided that any such bonds after approval, may be issued by the city, either optional or serial or otherwise as may be deemed advisable by the governing authority. Whenever any city has heretofore been authorized, under any special charter, creating such city, to issue any bonds by the terms of such charter, the provisions of this chapter shall not be construed to interfere with the issuance of any such bonds under the provisions of any charter under which such bonds were authorized.

11. To have the exclusive right to own, erect, maintain and operate water works and water works system for the use of any city, and its inhabitants, to regulate the same and have power to prescribe rates for water furnished and to acquire by purchase, donation or otherwise, suitable grounds within and without the limits of the city on which to erect any such works and the necessary right of way, and to do and perform whatsoever may be necessary to operate and maintain the said water works or water works system and to compel the owners of all property and the agents of such owners or persons in control thereof to pay all charges for water furnished upon such property and to fix a lien upon such property for any such charges. To provide that all receipts from the water works may, in its discretion, constitute a separate or sacred fund which shall be used for no other purpose than the extension, improvement, operation, maintenance, repair and betterment of said water works system or water works supply, and to provide for the pledging of any such receipts and revenues for the purpose of making any of such improvements, and the payment of the principal and providing an interest and sinking fund for any bonds issued therefor under such regulations as may be provided by the charter adopted by such city.

12. To prohibit the use of any street, alley, highway or grounds of the city by any telegraph, telephone, electric light, street railway, interurban railway, steam railway, gas company, or any other character of public utility without first obtaining the consent of the governing authorities expressed by ordinance and upon paying such compensation as may be prescribed and upon such condition as may be provided by any such ordinance. To determine, fix and regulate the charges, fares or rates of any person, firm or corporation enjoying or that may enjoy the franchise or exercising any other public privilege in said city and to prescribe the kind of service to be furnished by such person, firm or corporation, and the manner in which it shall be rendered, and from time to time alter or change such rules, regulations and compensation; provided that in adopting such regulations and in fixing or changing such compensation, or determining the reasonableness thereof, no stock or bonds authorized or issued by any corporation enjoying the franchise shall be considered unless [on] proof that the same have been actually issued by the corporation for money paid and used for the development of the corporate property, labor done or property actually received in accordance with the laws and Constitution of this State applicable thereto. In order to ascertain all facts necessary for a proper understanding of what is or should be a reasonable rate or regulation, the governing authority shall have full power to inspect the books and compel the attendance of witnesses for such purpose.

13. To buy, own, construct within or without the city limits and to maintain and operate a system or systems, of gas, or electric lighting plant, telephone, street railways, sewerage plants, fertilizing plants, abattoir, municipal railway terminals, docks, wharfs, ferries, ferry landings, loading and unloading devices and shipping facilities, or any other public service or public utility, and to demand and receive compensation for service furnished for private purpose or otherwise, and to exercise the right of eminent domain as herein-after provided for the appropriation of lands, rights of way or anything whatsoever that may be proper and necessary to efficiently carry out said objects. Any city shall have the power to condemn the property of any person, firm or corporation now conducting any such business and for the purpose of operating and maintaining any such public utilities and for the purpose of distributing such service throughout the city or any portion thereof; provided that any city may adopt by its charter any such rules and regulations as it may deem advisable for the acquiring and operation of any such public utilities.

14. To manufacture its own electricity, gas, or anything else that may be needed or used by the public; to purchase and make contracts with any person or corporation for the purchasing of gas, electricity, oil or any other commodity or article used by the public and to sell the same to the public upon such terms as may be provided by the charter.

15. To have the power to appropriate private property for public purposes whenever the governing authorities shall deem it necessary; to take any private property within or without the city limits for any of the following purposes; city halls, police stations, jails, calaboose, fire stations, libraries, school houses, high school buildings, academies, hospitals, sanitariums, auditoriums, market houses, reformatories, abattoirs, railroad terminals, docks, wharves, warehouses, ferries, ferry landings, elevators, loading and unloading devices, shipping facilities, piers, streets, alleys, parks, highways, boulevards, speedways, playgrounds, sewer systems, storm sewers, sewerage disposal plants, drains, filtering beds and emptying grounds for sewer systems, reservoirs, water sheds, water supply sources, wells, water and electric light systems, gas plants, cemeteries, crematories, prison farms, and to acquire lands within and without the city for any other municipal purposes that may be deemed advisable. The power herein granted for the purpose of acquiring private property shall include the power of the improvement and enlargement of the water works, including water supply, riparian rights, stand pipes, water sheds, the construction of supply reservoirs, parks, squares and pleasure grounds, public wharves, and landing places for steamers and other crafts, and for the purpose of straightening or improving the channels of any stream, branch or drain, or the straightening, widening or extension of any street, alley, avenue or boulevard. The power of eminent domain hereby conferred shall include the right of the governing authority, when so expressed, to take the fee in the lands so condemned and such power and authority shall include the right to condemn public property for such purposes.

16. To have exclusive dominion, control, and jurisdiction in, over and under the public streets, avenues, alleys, highways and boulevards, and public grounds of such city and to provide for the improvement of any public street, alleys, highways, avenues or boulevards by paving, raising, grading, filling or otherwise improving the same and to charge the cost of making such improvement against the abutting property, by fixing a lien against the same, and a personal charge against the owner thereof according to an assessment specially levied therefor in an amount not to exceed the special benefit any such property received in enhanced value by reason of making such improvement, and to provide for the issuance of assignable certificates covering the payments for said cost, provided that the charter shall apportion the cost to be paid by the property owners and the amount to be paid by the city, and provided further, that all street railways, steam railways, or other railways, shall pay the cost of improving the said street between the rails and tracks of any such railway companies and for two feet on each side thereof. The city shall have the power to provide for the construction and building of sidewalks and charge the entire cost of constructing of said sidewalks, including the curb, against the owner of abutting property, and to make a special charge against the owner for such cost and to provide by special assessment a lien against such property for such cost; to have the power to provide for the improvement of any such sidewalk or the construction of any such curb by penal ordinance and to declare defective sidewalks to be a public nuisance. The power herein granted for making street improvements and assessing the cost by special assessment in the manner herein stated shall not be construed to prevent any city from adopting any other method or plan for the improvement of its streets, sidewalks, alleys, curbs, or boulevards, as it may deem advisable by its charter.

17. To open, extend, straighten, widen any public street, alley, avenue or boulevard and for such purpose to acquire the necessary lands and to appropriate the same under the power of eminent domain and to provide that the cost of improving any such street, alley, avenue or boulevard by opening, extending and widening the same shall be paid by the owners of property specially benefited whose property lies in the territory of such improvement and to provide that the cost shall be charged by special assessment and that a personal charge shall be made against any owner for the amount due by him and to provide for the appointment by the county judge or other officer exercising like or similar powers, of three special commissioners for the purpose of condemning the said lands and for the purpose of apportioning the said cost, which apportionment of said cost shall be specially assessed by the governing authorities against the owners and the property of the owners lying in the territory so found to be specially benefited in enhanced value by said special commissioners. The city shall pay such portion of such cost as may be determined by the said special commissioners, provided the same shall never exceed one third the cost, and the property owners and their property shall be liable for the balance of the same as may be apportioned by said commissioners. The city may issue assignable certificates for the payment of any such cost against such property owners and may provide for the payment of any such cost in deferred payments, to bear interest at such rate as may be prescribed by the charter not to exceed eight per cent. The city may adopt any other method for the opening, straightening, widening or extending of its streets as herein provided for as may be deemed advisable, and charge the cost of same against the property and the owner specially benefited in enhanced value and lying in the territory of said improvement, that its charter may provide. The authority to adopt any other method shall include the manner of appointing commissioners, the manner of giving notice and the manner of fixing assessments or providing for the payment of any such improvement.

18. To control, regulate and remove all obstructions or other encroachments or encumbrances on any public street, alley or ground, and to narrow, alter, widen or straighten any such streets, alleys, avenues or boulevards, and to vacate and abandon and close any such streets, alleys, avenues or boulevards, and to regulate and control the moving of buildings or other structures over and upon the streets or avenues of such city.

19. Each city shall have the power to define all nuisances and prohibit the same within the city and outside the city limits for a distance of five thousand feet; to have power to police all parks or grounds, speedways, or boulevards owned by said city and lying outside of said city; to prohibit the pollution of any stream, drain or tributaries thereof, which may constitute the source of water supply of any city and to provide for policing the same as well as to provide for the protection of any water sheds and the policing of same; to inspect dairies, slaughter pens and slaughter houses inside or outside the limits of the city, from which meat or milk is furnished to the inhabitants of the city.

20. To license, operate and control the operation of all character of vehicles using the public streets, including motorcycles, automobiles or like vehicles, and to prescribe the speed of the same, the qualification of the operator of the same, and the lighting of the same by night and to provide for the giving bond or other security for the operation of the same.

21. To regulate, license and fix the charges or fares made by any person owning, operating or controlling any vehicle of any character used for the carrying of passengers for hire or the transportation of freight for hire on the public streets and alleys of the city.

22. To regulate the location and control the conduct of theaters, moving picture shows, ten pin alleys, vaudeville shows, and all places of public amusements.

23. To license any lawful business, occupation or calling that is susceptible to the control of the police power.

24. To license, regulate, control or prohibit the erection of signs or bill boards as may be provided by charter or ordinance.

25. To provide for the establishment and designation of fire limits and to prescribe the kind and character of buildings or structures or improvements to be erected therein, and to provide for the erection of fire proof buildings within certain limits, and to provide for the condemnation of dangerous structures or buildings or dilapidated buildings or buildings calculated to increase the fire hazard, and the manner of their removal or destruction.

26. To divide the city in zones or districts, and to regulate the location, size, height, bulk and use of buildings within such zones or districts, and to establish building lines within such zones or districts or otherwise, and make different regulations for different districts and thereafter alter the same. The governing authorities may be authorized by their charter to create a commission or board for the purpose of carrying out the powers of this section, or may provide for the creation of a board of appeals or review for the purpose of hearing and deciding on appeals from and reviewing any order, requirement, decision or determination of the governing authorities in carrying out the powers and authority herein conferred; provided the authority and power herein conferred shall never be construed to be a limitation of any other power and authority conferred in this chapter.

27. To provide for police and fire departments.

28. To provide for a health department and the establishment of rules and regulations protecting the health of the city and the establishment of quarantine stations, and pest houses, emergency hospitals and hospitals, and to provide for the adoption of necessary quarantine laws to protect the inhabitants against contagious or infectious diseases.

29. To provide for a sanitary sewer system and to require property owners to make connections with such sewers with their premises and to provide for fixing a lien against any property owner's premises who fails or refuses to make sanitary sewer connections and to charge the cost against said owner and make it a personal liability. To provide for fixing penalties for a failure to make sanitary sewer connections.

30. The power to require water works corporations, gas companies, street car companies, telephone companies, telegraph companies, electric light companies or other companies or individuals enjoying a franchise now or hereafter from the city, to make and furnish extensions of their service to such territory as may be required by the charter.

31. Provided that in all cities of over twenty-five thousand inhabitants, the governing body of such city, when the public service of such city may require the same, shall have the right and power to compel any street railway or other public utility corporation to extend its lines of service into any section of said city not to exceed two miles; all told, in any one year.

32. To provide for the establishment of public schools and public school system in any such city, and to have exclusive control over same and to provide such regulations and rules governing the management of same as may be deemed advisable; to levy and collect the necessary taxes, general or special, for the support of such public schools and public school system.

33. Whenever any city may determine to acquire any public utility using and occupying its streets, alleys, and avenues as hereinbefore provided, and it shall be necessary to condemn the said public utility, the city may obtain funds for the purpose of acquiring the said public utility and paying the compensation therefor, by issuing bonds, notes or other evidence of indebtedness and shall secure the same by fixing a lien upon the said properties constituting the said public utility so acquired by condemnation or purchase or otherwise; said security shall apply alone to said properties so pledged; and such further regulations may be provided by any charter for the proper financing or raising the revenue necessary for obtaining any public utilities and providing for the fixing of said security.

34. To enforce all ordinances necessary to protect health, life and property, and to prevent and summarily abate and remove all nuisances and to preserve and enforce the good government, order and security of the city and its inhabitants. [Id.; Acts 1921, p. 169.]

Art. 1176. Further powers.—The enumeration of powers hereinabove made shall never be construed to preclude, by implication or otherwise, any such city from exercising the powers incident to the enjoyment of local self-government, provided that such powers shall not be inhibited by the State Constitution. [Id.]

Art. 1177. Former powers.—All powers heretofore granted any city by general law or special charter are hereby preserved to each of said cities, and the power so conferred upon such cities, either by special or general law, is hereby granted to such cities when embraced in and made a part of the charter adopted by such city; and until the charter of such city as the same now exists is amended and adopted, it shall be and remain in full force and effect. [Id.]

Art. 1178. Vested rights.—The adoption of any charter hereunder or any amendment thereof shall never be construed to destroy any property, action, rights of action, claims, and demands of any nature or kind whatever vested in the city under and by virtue of any charter theretofore existing or otherwise accruing to the city, but all such rights of action, claims or demands shall vest in and inure to the city and to any persons asserting any such claims against the city as fully as though the said charter or amendment had not been adopted hereunder. The adoption of any charter or amendment hereunder shall never be construed to affect the right of the city to collect by special assessment any special assessment heretofore levied under any law or special charter for the purpose of paving or improving any street, highway, avenue or boulevard of any city, or for the purpose of opening, extending, widening, straightening or otherwise improving the same, nor affect any right of any contract, or obligation existing between the city and any person, firm or corporation for the making of any such improvements. For the purpose of collecting any such special assessment and carrying out of any such contract, the provisions of all charters shall be continued in force. [Id.]

Art. 1179. Improvement districts.—Such city shall have the power to create and establish improvement districts, to levy, straighten, widen, enclose or otherwise improve any river, creek, bayou, stream or other body of water or streets or alleys, and to drain, grade, fill and otherwise protect and improve the territory within its limits, and shall have power to issue bonds for making such improvements, such improvement districts to be created and established agreeably to the general laws of this State providing for the creation of such improvement districts, and the issuance of such bonds shall be governed by the powers a city possesses in the matter of issuing bonds. [Id.]

Art. 1180. Private improvements.—Such city shall further have the power to straighten, widen, levy, enclose, or otherwise improve any river, creek, bayou, stream, or other body of water, or streets or alleys and to drain, grade, fill and otherwise protect and improve the territory within its limits and to provide that the cost of making any such improvements shall be paid for by the property owners owning property in the territory specially benefited in enhanced value by reason of making such improvements, and a personal charge shall be made against such owners as well as a lien shall be fixed by special assessment against any such property, and the city may issue assignable certificates or negotiable certificates, as it deems advisable, covering such cost, and may provide for the payment of such cost in deferred payments and fix the rate of interest not to exceed eight per cent, and may provide for the appointment of special commissioners or otherwise for the making or levying of said special assessment, or may provide that the same shall be done by the governing authorities, and that such rules and regulations may be adopted for a hearing and other proceedings had as may be provided by said charter. [Id.]

Art. 1181. Franchises.—No charter or any amendment thereof framed or adopted under this charter, shall ever grant to any person, firm or corporation any right or franchise to use or occupy the public streets, avenues, alleys or grounds of any such city, but the governing authority of any such city shall have the exclusive power and authority to make any such grant of any such franchise or right to use and occupy the public streets, avenues, alleys, and grounds of the city. If, at any time, before any ordinance granting a franchise takes effect, a petition shall be submitted to the governing authority signed by five hundred of the bona fide qualified voters of the city, then the governing body shall submit the question of granting such franchise to a vote of the qualified voters of the city, at the next succeeding general election. [Id.]

Art. 1182. Franchise election.—Such election shall occur within twelve months from the date such ordinance takes effect. If such election shall not occur within the said twelve months, then such ordinance may be submitted, if petitioned therefor as before provided, at a special election to be called by the governing body therefor. Whenever said ordinance is submitted at any election, notice thereof shall be published at least twenty days successively in a daily newspaper in said city prior to the holding of said election. The ballot used at said election shall briefly describe the franchise to be voted on and the terms thereof and shall contain the words "For the granting of a franchise" and "Against the granting of a franchise." If a majority of those voting at said election shall vote in favor of granting a franchise, the governing body upon canvassing the returns shall so declare and said franchise shall take effect in accordance with its terms. No franchise shall extend beyond the period fixed for its termination. [Id.]

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

CITIES ON NAVIGABLE STREAMS

- Art.
1183. Extension of limits.
1184. Powers.
1185. Status of territory.
1186. Regulation.
1187. Restrictions.

Article 1183. Extension of limits.—The city council of all cities situated along or upon navigable streams in this State, and acting under special charters, may extend the limits of said city for the limited purposes named in the four succeeding articles, so as to include in said city the said navigable streams and the land lying on both sides thereof for a distance of twenty-five hundred feet from the thread of said stream to a distance of twenty miles or less in an air line from the ordinary boundaries of said city, either above or below the boundaries of said city, or both, by the passage of an ordinance extending the boundaries of said city to include the territory aforesaid, being a strip five thousand feet wide, and twenty miles, more or less, in length, or so much thereof as the city council may consider advisable to add to the limits of said city. [Acts 1913, p. 47.]

Art. 1184. Powers.—The city council of said city shall have the right, power and authority to secure land within the territory so added to said city by purchase, condemnation or gift, for the improvement of the navigation of said navigable streams or waters either by the United States or by said city, or by any navigation or other improvement district, and for the purpose of establishing and maintaining wharves, docks, railway terminals, side tracks, warehouses or any other facilities or aids whatsoever to either navigation or wharves. In all condemnation proceedings under this law the same procedure shall apply that now applies in condemnation of land by cities for the purchase of streets. [Id.]

Art. 1185. Status of territory.—For the purposes specified, the corporate limits of said cities shall, upon passage of said ordinance, be extended from the existing limits so as to include all the land added to said city by said ordinance. Such city shall have no right to tax the property over which such boundaries are extended, unless such property is within the line and within the limits of the general city boundaries or limits. [Id.]

Art. 1186. Regulation.—After the passage of the ordinance adding said territory to said city, said city shall have and exercise the fullest and most complete power of regulation of navigation and of wharfage and of wharfage rates and of all facilities, conveniences and aids to wharfage or navigation consistent with the Constitution of this State, and shall further have authority by criminal ordinances or otherwise, to police the navigation of said waters and the use of said wharves and facilities and aids to wharfage and navigation. [Id.]

Art. 1187. Restrictions.—The power granted in the four preceding articles shall not authorize the extension of the territory of any city for the limited purposes named so as to include any land which is already part of any other city or town corporation whether incorporated under the general laws or under special law, or any land at the time belonging to any other city or town. [Id.]

CHAPTER FIFTEEN CONSOLIDATION OF CITIES

- Art.
1188. Authority.
1189. Petition.
1190. Election.
1191. "Consolidation."
1192. Registration.
1193. Merger.

Article 1188. Authority.—When two or more cities in this State over five thousand in population, adjoining and contiguous to each other in the same county, shall be desirous of being consolidated, it shall be lawful for them to adopt or amend their respective charters so as to consolidate under one government and take the name of the larger city, in the manner and subject to the provisions hereinafter prescribed. [Acts 1917, p. 71.]

Art. 1189. Petition.—Whenever as many as one hundred qualified voters of each of said cities shall petition the governing body of their respective cities to order an election for the purpose of voting on the consolidation of such cities into one city, said bodies may, at their next regular meeting order an election to be held at the usual voting places in the cities, on the same day, not less than thirty days after such order is made. If said petitions be signed respectively, however, by qualified electors equal to fifteen per cent of the total vote cast at the last preceding general election for city officials in each of said cities, next preceding the filing of said petitions, the respective governing bodies shall, within ten days after the receipt thereof, order an election to be held. [Id.]

Art. 1190. Election.—The governing body of each of said cities shall appoint from among the qualified voters of their respective cities, judges and clerks of said elections, and such elections shall be conducted under the ordinances of said cities, and in conformity with the general laws of this State. All persons voting at such election in favor of consolidation shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "For Consolidation," and all persons voting at such election not in favor of consolidation shall have written or printed on their ballots the words, "Against Consolidation." [Id.]

Art. 1191. "Consolidation."—The term "consolidation," as used in this chapter, means the adoption by the smaller cities of the charter and name of the larger of said cities, and the amendment of the charter of the larger cities so as to include in its boundaries the territory of the smaller city or cities so consolidated with it. [Id.]

Art. 1192. Registration.—If a majority of the qualified voters at said election in each of said cities shall vote in favor of consolidation, the mayor or chief executive officer exercising like or similar powers of each of said cities as soon as practicable after the returns of said election have been made, shall certify to the Secretary of State an authenticated copy under the seal of the said cities showing the approval of the qualified voters of the consolidation of the two cities. The Secretary of State shall thereupon file and record the same in a separate book to be kept in his office for such purpose. The returns of such election shall be recorded at length in the record books of the respective cities, and the consolidation of such cities shall be held thereupon to be consummated. [Id.]

Art. 1193. Merger.—After the consummation of such consolidation, all record books, public property, money on hand, credits, accounts and all other assets of the smaller of the annexed cities shall be turned over to the officers of the larger city, who shall be retained in office as the officials of the consolidated city during the remainder of their respective terms, and by such consolidation the offices existing in the smaller municipality shall be abolished and declared vacant, and the persons holding such offices shall not be entitled after the consummation of such consolidation, to further remuneration or compensation. All outstanding liabilities of the two cities so consolidated shall be assumed by the consolidated city. Whenever at the time of any such consolidation the respective cities shall have on hand any bond funds voted for public improvements not already appropriated or contracted for, such money shall be kept in a separate fund and devoted to public improvements in the territory for which such bonds were voted, and shall not be diverted to any other purpose. [Id.]

CHAPTER SIXTEEN CORPORATION COURT

- Art.
1194. Creation of court.
1195. Jurisdiction.
1196. Judge or recorder.
1197. Judge in other cities.
1198. Term of office.
1199. Vacancy.
1200. Clerk.

Article 1194. [903] Creation of court.—There is hereby created and established in each of the incorporated cities, towns, and villages of this State, a court to be known as the "Corporation Court." [Acts 1899, p. 40.]

Art. 1195. [904] Jurisdiction.—A corporation court shall have jurisdiction within the territorial limits of the city, town or village, in all criminal cases arising under the ordinances of the said city, town or village, and shall also have concurrent jurisdiction with any justice of the peace in any precinct in which said city, town or village is situated in all criminal cases arising under the criminal laws of this State, in which punishment is by fine only, and where the maximum of such fine may not exceed two hundred dollars, and arising within such territorial limits. [Id.]

Art. 1196. [905] Judge or recorder.—Such court shall be presided over by a judge to be known as the "recorder" who, in cities, towns or villages incorporated under special charter shall be selected under the provisions of the charter concerning the election or appointment of the judge to preside over the municipal court. All such provisions are hereby made applicable to the recorder herein provided for. [Id.]

Art. 1197. [905] Judge in other cities.—In cities, towns and villages, not incorporated under special charter, the mayor shall be ex-officio recorder of the "corporation court," unless the governing body shall by ordinance authorize the election of a recorder, in which case a recorder shall be elected in the same manner and for the same time as the mayor is elected. [Id.]

Art. 1198. [906] Term of office.—Wherever in any such city, town or village, the office of the presiding magistrate of the municipal court therein shall not have expired when the recorder is elected, the recorder first elected shall hold his term of office corresponding to the unexpired term of said magistrate; and every two years thereafter such recorder shall be elected for a term of two years. [Id.]

Art. 1199. [906] Vacancy.—A vacancy in the office of recorder or clerk of the court in any city, town or village, shall be filled by the governing body for the unexpired term only. [Id.]

Art. 1200. [907] Clerk.—A clerk for said corporation court shall be elected by the governing body of each such city, town or village, at the same time at which the recorder is elected; but it may be provided by ordinance that the city secretary shall be ex-officio clerk of the said court, who may be authorized to appoint a deputy with the same power as the secretary. Such clerk shall hold his office for two years. In case of ex-officio clerk, he shall hold his office during his term as city secretary. The clerk shall keep minutes of the proceedings of the said court, issue all process, and generally perform all the duties of the clerk of a court as prescribed by law for a county clerk in so far as the same may be applicable. [Id.]

- 1216. Suit on certificate.
- 1217. Reassessments.
- 1218. Deficiency assessments.
- 1219. Suit.
- 1220. Enforcement of law.

Article 1201. Cities empowered.—Cities having more than one thousand inhabitants under the preceding Federal census may proceed in accordance with the provisions hereof, independently of and without reference to any other applicable law or charter provision, present or future, which, however, shall remain in force as alternative methods. The term "city" or "cities" used herein shall include all incorporated towns and cities acting hereunder. [Acts 1923, p. 4.]

Art. 1202. Powers.—Subject to the terms hereof, the governing body of a city may lay out, open, establish, widen, straighten, or extend any highway within its limits, and purchase, condemn, and take property therefor. The cost of property purchased, taken or damaged, and costs of condemnation and making assessments hereinafter referred to, and of the enforcement, collection, sale or realization into money of assessments or certificates, together with all other costs of making such improvements, may be paid wholly from any fund of the city available therefor, or wholly from the fund created by said assessments, or partly from each of said funds. The governing body shall have power to assess part or all of such costs against the owners of property abutting or in the vicinity of such improvements specially benefited thereby, and against said property, and to collect, enforce, sell or realize said assessments into money. The term "highway" shall include any street, avenue, boulevard, alley, public place or square, dedicated or to be dedicated to public use. [Id.]

Art. 1203. Further powers.—Cities may purchase by agreement with the owner any property, all or part of which in the opinion of the governing body is necessary for the making of improvements under the terms hereof, and pay for same out of any fund available. Cities may sell and convey any part of such property not appropriated to such improvement on such terms and for such consideration as they may see fit, and the proceeds shall become a part of a special fund out of which the cost of improvements provided for herein may be defrayed and shall be used for no other purpose, but only the cost of property actually appropriated to such improvement shall be included in any assessment made under the provisions hereof. [Id.]

Art. 1204. Resolution.—When the governing body shall determine to proceed hereunder it shall so declare by resolution which may state the nature and extent of the improvement to be made and the limits thereof, and may describe the parcel or parcels of land proposed to be taken or condemned by any description substantially identifying the same, or by lot or block number, or number of front feet, or by the name of the owner, or if owned by an estate, the name thereof. No mistake or omission of said resolution shall invalidate it, and its passage shall be conclusive of the public use and necessity of the proposed improvement. [Id.]

Art. 1205. Survey.—Upon passage of such resolution, the city engineer or engineer designated by the governing body shall prepare and submit to said body a plat showing the nature and limits of the proposed investments [improvements], the boundaries thereof, and the points between which it is proposed to establish the same, and the property through which it is to be extended, which is to be taken or condemned therefor, and shall in writing report the estimated total cost of said improvement, and of each parcel of property to be condemned or acquired. The governing body shall examine said plat and report and correct errors therein, if any, but no error or omission shall invalidate the same, or any proceeding had thereafter pursuant thereto. [Id.]

Art. 1206. Condemnation commission.—No property shall be taken without just compensation first made to the owner. If the amount of the compensation can not be agreed upon, the city may condemn said property under the rules governing procedure as provided by law under the title of "Eminent Domain." [Id.]

Art. 1207. Statutes applicable.—The applicable provisions of the laws relating to eminent domain are made a part of this law, and shall apply to proceedings hereunder, and all parties shall proceed in accordance with and be governed by said articles, unless otherwise herein provided. The city shall not be required to execute the bond referred to in said laws. [Id.]

Art. 1208. Errors.—The governing body, said commission and judge before whom condemnation proceedings are pending, shall take all steps and do all things proper to correct any error, invalidity or irregularity in any proceeding with reference thereto, and shall do so at the instance of any interested party. No error or omission in said proceedings shall invalidate the same, but any proceeding may be corrected, taken again, or adjourned, until such corrections are made or omissions supplied. [Id.]

Art. 1209. Assessments.—Whenever the governing body shall order the making of any improvement herein referred to, it may then or thereafter at any time provide by resolution that all or part of the costs thereof, as defined in the third article of this chapter, shall be assessed against said property abutting said proposed improvement, or in the vicinity thereof, and the owners thereof specially benefited thereby, together with reasonable attorney's fees and all costs incurred in the collection of said assessments, and shall have power to apportion the same among the owners of said property, and may designate the property proposed to be assessed, or the district within which property will be benefited and within which assessments may be made, provided no assessment shall be made against any property, or its owner, in excess of the special benefits thereto in the enhanced value thereof from said improvement. No assessments shall be made against any property exempt from execution, but the owner shall be personally liable and assessed therefor. [Id.]

Art. 1210. Lien.—Assessments shall constitute a prior lien upon the property to all others, except ad valorem taxes, and shall relate back and take effect as of the date of the resolution ordering the same. [Id.]

Art. 1211. Notice of assessment.—No assessment shall be made against owners of property benefited, or their property, until after a reasonable opportunity to be heard shall have been given them, lienholders, and others interested, before such governing body, or the commission hereafter referred to, preceded by a reasonable notice thereof, published three times prior to said hearing in some newspaper of general circulation in the city, the first publication to be not less than ten days prior to said hearing, and the names of owners, lienholders, and others interested need not be specifically set out in said notice, but the parcel or parcels of land proposed to be assessed shall be briefly described in said notice, either by lot and block, number, front feet, or by any other description reasonably identifying the same, or by reference to any plat, report or record filed in connection with said proceedings. The governing body or commission shall have power to give other and additional notice, but said published notice shall be sufficient. [Id.]

Art. 1212. Hearing.—At said hearing said owners, lienholders, and other interested parties shall have the right to contest in writing said assessments, the special benefits, irregularities or invalidities thereof, or any prerequisite thereto, and to produce testimony in support of said contests, and the governing body or said commission shall determine the amounts, if any, to be assessed. [Id.]

Art. 1213. Assessments levied.—The governing body shall make assessments by ordinance. Said assessments may be enforced by suit brought by the city for the benefit of any holder and owner of such assessments, or of the certificates issued thereon, or brought by such holder and owner; or by the sale of the property assessed in the same manner as near as possible as is provided for the sale of real estate for municipal taxes. Assessments may be made payable in not exceeding sixteen installments, the last maturing in not over fifteen years, and may bear interest at not over eight per cent per annum. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 334, ch. 227, § 1.]

Art. 1214. Assessment commission.—At the time of or after the passage by the governing body of the resolution ordering such assessments, it shall have power in its discretion to declare that said hearing to property owners and other interested parties shall be had before the commissioners then or thereafter appointed to make condemnations, or before their successors are appointed should a vacancy occur, and thereupon such commission shall cause to be given the notice or notices provided in the third preceding article, and it shall have all the powers conferred by this law upon such governing body, and shall do all things with reference to said assessments which said governing body is hereby empowered to do, except as herein expressly provided. If said hearing shall be before said commission, it shall report in writing its findings to the governing body, which shall examine said report, and, if found correct, approve the same, and shall by ordinance assess against the owners and their property found to be benefited by said improvements, the amounts found to be properly chargeable against them. [Id.]

Art. 1215. Certificates.—The city may issue assignable certificates, payable to the city, or to the purchaser thereof, declaring the liability of owners and their property for the payment of assessments, and may fix the terms, time of payment, the conditions of default, and maturity thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1216. Suit on certificate.—The allegations of such recitals of such certificates in any suit brought for the enforcement thereof, shall be a sufficient allegation of all proceedings had by said governing body with reference to the making of said improvements and the assessment of the cost thereof, and of all prerequisites to the said assessment, and shall be deemed sufficient to permit proof of said proceedings and prerequisites without the necessity of alleging and setting forth the same in the pleadings, by caption, substantially or in full. [Id.]

Art. 1217. Reassessments.—No error in any proceeding hereunder, or in the description of property, or in the name of the owner, shall invalidate an assessment, which shall nevertheless be in effect as against the real and true owner and his property. Whenever the governing body is advised of such error it shall correct the same, and shall at the request of any interested party reassess any owner or property erroneously assessed, after lawful notice and hearing and in accordance with benefits as herein provided as to original assessments, and may fix the time and terms of payment of said sums so reassessed, and issue assignable certificates evidencing the same as herein provided as to original assessments. The right to make said reassessments shall continue until the expiration of six years from the date of the ordinance making the original assessment. But if the same shall have been resisted or brought in question in any action at law, the time consumed in said action shall be excluded in computing said term of six years. In making such reassessments it shall not be necessary to do any act, or take any step, or again perform any prerequisite already legally done or performed with reference to the original assessment, but the governing body may in its discretion proceed without again taking steps already validly taken or performed provided no reassessment shall be made until after the notice and hearing and in accordance with benefits, as herein provided. [Id.]

Art. 1218. Deficiency assessments.—If after any assessment has been made hereunder, if by means of an increased award of compensation for property taken or damaged in condemnation proceedings hereunder, or on appeal from the award of said commission, or for any other reason, the amount assessed and apportioned between the property owners benefited shall be found insufficient to defray all the costs of the improvement as herein defined, the governing body may, in its discretion, assess the deficiency against owners of property benefited, and their property, and apportion same among them, after the hearing and notice herein provided and after complying with each provision hereof applicable to original assessments; or said deficiency assessments may be made after notice and hearing before said commission in the manner provided in the fourth preceding article and assignable certificates evidencing said assessment may be issued by the city. [Id.]

Art. 1219. Suit.—Any property owner against whom or whose property an assessment or reassessment has been made, may, within ten days thereafter bring suit to set aside or correct the same, or any proceeding with reference thereto on account of any error or invalidity therein, but thereafter such owner, his heirs, assigns, or successors shall be barred from such action or any defense of invalidity in such proceedings or assessment or reassessment, in any action in which the same may be brought into question. [Id.]

Art. 1220. Enforcement of law.—The governing body shall have power to pass any ordinance or resolution, or to adopt rules and regulations, or to take any steps proper to give full legal effect to every part of this chapter. No assessment or reassessment shall be affected or invalidated in any manner by any error, omission or invalidity in any proceeding of the city hereunder with reference to the making of any improvement herein provided for, or with reference to the taking or condemnation of any property therefor, or with reference to determining and paying damages for property taken or damaged, but regardless thereof, and regardless of the fact that at the date of said assessments said improvements may not have been completed, the said assessments shall be in all things valid and binding. [Id.]

- 1239. General powers.
- 1240. Control.

Article 1221. May install.—Incorporated cities or towns of more than five thousand inhabitants under the preceding Federal census for the purpose of making local public street improvements by installing and maintaining special lighting systems in said cities or portions thereof, may proceed in accordance with the provisions of the next succeeding nineteen articles, independently of and without reference to any other applicable law or charter provisions, present or future, except as herein provided for, which said law or charter provision shall remain in force as alternative methods. The term "city" or "cities," as used herein, shall include all incorporated cities and towns acting hereunder. [Acts 2d C. S. 1923, p. 16.]

Art. 1222. Petition.—Subject to the terms hereof, whenever a petition is filed with the governing body setting forth that a certain street, streets, or portions thereof not less than one block, naming and describing the same, or certain districts composed of streets, highways, boulevards or alleys, should be specially illuminated, and that an additional system is necessary for that purpose, and stating that such illumination thereof will be a public improvement and will be conducive to the public welfare, and is signed by a majority of the owners of property abutting on said street, streets or portions thereof, and praying that the governing body of such city specially illuminate such street, streets or portion thereof, and construct, install, equip and maintain additional system of street lights for that purpose, the governing body shall proceed in the manner hereinafter set out. [Id.]

Art. 1223. Plans.—The petitioning property owners may provide in said petition plans and specifications together with the kind of poles and lights and other material necessary to properly install said special lighting system, or such part of same as they desire to specify, and the governing body in that instance may order the same or any part thereof used in the construction of said system. If the kind specified in said petition is not available, the governing body shall use material of like kind and quality to that specified in said petition. Said body may reject any or all of said plans and specifications and have same prepared as hereinafter provided for. [Id.]

Art. 1224. Resolution.—The governing body shall have power, by resolution, to order the making of the public improvements mentioned herein, or any of them, by a majority vote, without first being petitioned to do so by the abutting property owners as hereinbefore provided, and the passage of such resolution shall be conclusive of the public necessity and the benefits thereof, and no notice of such action by the governing body shall be requisite to its validity. Such resolution shall in general terms, set forth the nature and extent of the improvements or improvement to be made, the street, streets or portions thereof to be illuminated, the material or materials with which the improvements are to be constructed, and the method or methods under which the cost of such improvements are to be paid. Such resolution shall be passed whether the improvements are made with or without the petition of the abutting property owners. [Id.]

Art. 1225. Specifications.—Upon the passage of the resolution by the governing body as hereinbefore provided, it shall be the duty of the city engineer, or the official of the city whose duties most nearly correspond to that of city engineer, to forthwith prepare plans and specifications for the said improvement, which, when completed, shall be submitted to the governing body for its approval.

Art. 1226. Bids.—When the plans and specifications have been approved and adopted by the governing body, it shall be the duty of the city secretary, or other officer as may be designated by the governing body, to at once advertise for sealed bids for the construction of such improvements in accordance with the specifications. Such advertisement shall be inserted in a daily paper of general circulation in the city concerned, and shall state the time within which the bids may be received as prescribed by the governing body, which shall not be less than ten and not more than fifteen days from the insertion of said advertisement. Bids shall be filed with the city secretary, or such other officer as the governing body may designate, and shall be opened and read at a public meeting of the governing body. Such body shall have the right to accept such bids as it shall deem most advantageous to the abutting property owners concerned in the improvement, or may reject any and all bids. No bid shall be amended, changed or revised after being filed. [Id.]

Art. 1227. Contract.—When the bids for such improvements have been accepted by the governing body, the city shall enter into a contract with the contractor or contractors to whom the work has been let for the performance thereof, which contracts shall be executed in the name of the city by its chief executive and attested by the city secretary, or such other officer as may be designated by the governing body, with the corporate seal. [Id.]

Art. 1228. Assessments.—The city shall have power to assess the whole cost of installing and completing the improvements provided for herein, both for labor and material, against the owners of property abutting upon the street, streets or portions thereof, upon which said improvements are to be constructed, and who are specially benefited thereby, and shall have power to fix a lien against such property to secure the payment of the proportion of such costs assessed against the owners of such property. In no event shall costs be assessed against such owners or their property, or their personal liability therefor finally determined until after the hearing hereinafter mentioned, and after the adjustment of equities between such owners. The cost assessed against any property or the owner thereof, shall not exceed the amount of the special benefit in enhanced value which such property shall receive from such improvement. [Id.]

Art. 1229. Mode of assessment.—The portion of the costs of such improvements which may be assessed against any such property or its owners, shall be in proportion as the frontage of the property of each owner is to the whole frontage of the property on the street, streets or portions thereof abutting on the special lighting system, and such cost shall be apportioned in accordance with what is commonly known as the frontage or front foot rule; provided that if the application of this rule would, in the opinion of the governing body in particular cases be unjust or unequal, it shall be the duty of said body to assess and apportion said costs in such proportion as it may deem just and equitable, having in view the specific benefit in enhanced value to be received by each owner of such property, the equities of such owners and the adjustment of such apportionment, so as to produce a substantial equality of the benefits received by and the burdens imposed upon each owner. [Id.]

Art. 1230. Statement.—The contract or contracts for such improvements having been executed and approved by the governing body, the city engineer, or the officer of the city whose duties most nearly correspond to that of city engineer, shall prepare a written statement which shall contain the names of such persons, firms, corporations or estates as may own property abutting on the section to be improved, the number of front feet owned by each, and describing the property owned by each, either by lot and block number; or otherwise so describing such property as may be sufficient to identify same; and such statement shall contain an estimate of the total cost of the improvement, the amount per front foot to be assessed against abutting property and its owners, and the total estimated amount to be assessed against each owner. Such statement shall be submitted to the governing body whose duty it shall be to examine same and correct any errors that may appear therein, but no error, omission or mistake in said statement shall in any manner invalidate any assessment made, or lien or claim of personal liability fixed thereunder. [Id.]

Art. 1231. Notice of hearing.—When the statement shall have been examined and approved by the governing body, it shall declare by resolution, and directing notice thereof to be given to the owners aforesaid by publication for ten consecutive days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the city where the improvement is to be made; but if there be no daily newspaper in such place, then the governing body shall give such notice to such owners by registered mail at least ten days before the time set for the hearing as hereinafter provided. The notice shall state the time and place of the hearing and the street, streets or portions thereof to be improved, with a general description of such improvements and a statement of the amount per front foot proposed to be assessed against the property, and a notice to all such property owners and all persons interested to appear at such hearing. It shall not be necessary to include in such notice a description of any property or the name of the owner, but such notice shall nevertheless be binding and conclusive upon all owners of property, or persons interested in or having a lien or claim thereon. [Id.]

Art. 1232. Hearing.—On the day set out in the notice for the hearing, not less than ten days from the date of such notice, or at any time thereafter before the close of the hearing, any person, firm or corporation interested in any property which may be claimed to be subject to assessment for the purpose of paying the cost of the improvement, in whole or in part, shall be entitled to a hearing before the governing body as to all matters affecting said property, or the benefits thereto, or such improvements, or any claim of liability, or objection to the making of said improvements, or any invalidity or irregularity in any proceeding with reference to making said improvements, or any other objection thereto. Such person, firm, or corporation shall file their objections in writing, and thereafter the governing body shall hear and determine the same, and all persons interested shall have full opportunity to produce evidence and witnesses and appear in person or by attorney; and a full and fair hearing thereof shall be given by such governing body, which hearing may be adjourned from time to time without further notice. The governing body shall have the power to inquire into and determine all facts necessary to the adjudication of such objections and the ascertainment of the special benefits to such owners by reason of the contemplated improvements; and shall render such judgment or order in each case as may be just and proper. Any objection to the irregularity of the proceedings with reference to the making of such improvements as herein provided, or to the validity of any assessment or adjudication of personal liability against such property or the owners thereof, shall be deemed waived unless presented at the time and in the manner herein specified. [Id.]

Art. 1233. Order of assessments.—When the hearing above mentioned has concluded, the governing body shall, by ordinance, assess against the several owners of the property abutting on the street, streets or portions thereof, such proportionate part of the cost of improvements as said body shall have adjudged against the respective owners and their property. Said ordinance shall fix a lien upon such property and declare the respective owners thereof to be personally liable for the respective amounts to be assessed; and shall state the time and manner of payment of such assessment; and said governing body may order that the said assessments shall be payable in installments, and prescribe the amount, time and manner of payment of such installments, which, except as hereinafter provided, shall not exceed six, and the last payment shall not be deferred beyond five years from the completion of such improvement and its acceptance by the city. The said ordinance shall also prescribe the rate of interest to be charged upon deferred payments, not to exceed seven per cent per annum; and may provide for the maturity of all deferred payments and their collection upon default of any installment of principal or interest. [Id.]

Art. 1234. Lien.—Each property owner shall have the privilege of discharging the whole amount assessed against him, or any installment thereof, at any time before maturity, upon payment thereof with accrued interest. The fact that more than one parcel of land, the property of one owner or jointly owned by two or more persons, firms or corporations, have been assessed together in one assessment, shall not invalidate the same or any lien thereon, or any claim of personal liability thereunder. The cost of any such improvement assessed against any property or owner thereof, together with all costs and reasonable attorneys fees when incurred, shall constitute a personal claim against such property owner, and shall be secured by a lien on such property superior to all other liens, claims, or titles, except city, county and State taxes, and such personal liability may be enforced by suit in any court of competent jurisdiction. In any suit brought under this article, it shall be proper to join as defendants two or more property owners who are interested in any single improvement or any single contract for such improvement. The person or persons who own property at the date of any ordinance providing for the assessment thereof, shall be severally and personally liable for their respective portions of the said assessment. The lien of such improvements shall revert back and take effect as of the date of the original resolution ordering the improvement, and the passage of such resolution shall operate as notice of such lien to all persons. Any error or mistake in such ordinance in the name of the owner of the property assessed, shall not invalidate the lien or personal liability thereby created, but the same shall nevertheless exist against the real and true owner of such property as if correctly described. [Id.]

Art. 1235. Suit.—At any time within ten days after the hearing herein provided for has been concluded, any person or persons having an interest in any property which may be subject to assessment under this law, or otherwise having any financial interest in such improvement or improvements or in the manner in which the cost thereof is to be paid, who may desire to contest on any ground the validity of any proceeding that may have been had with reference to the making of such improvements or the validity in whole or in part of any assessment or lien or personal liability fixed by said proceedings, may institute suit for that purpose in any court of competent jurisdiction. Any person who shall fail to institute such suit in said period of ten days, or who shall fail to diligently prosecute such suit in good faith to final judgment, shall be forever barred from making any such contest or defense in any other action, and this estoppel shall bind their heirs, successors, administrators and assigns. The city and the person or persons to whom the contract has been awarded shall be made defendants in such suit, and any other proper parties may be joined therein. [Id.]

Art. 1236. Proceedings.—There shall be attached to the plaintiff's petition an affidavit of the truth of the matters therein alleged, except such matters as are alleged on information and belief, that said suit is brought in good faith and not to injure or delay the city or the contractor or any owner of real estate abutting on the improvement. Unless the provisions of this article are complied with by the plaintiff or plaintiffs, such suit shall be dismissed on motion of any defendant and in that event plaintiff or plaintiffs shall be barred and estopped to the same extent as if suit had not been brought. In any case where a suit is brought as above provided, then the performance of the work may be suspended at the election of either the city or contractor until such suit shall be finally determined in the court of original jurisdiction or any appellate court to which the same may be taken by appeal or writ of error. Every appeal or writ of error shall be perfected within thirty days from the adjournment of the term of court of original jurisdiction at which final judgment was rendered in such suit; and no appeal or writ of error to review the judgment of said court may thereafter be taken or sued out by either party. Any such suit shall be entitled to precedence in the courts of this State, both of original and appellate jurisdiction, and shall be heard and determined as promptly as practicable. [Id.]

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art. 1237. Certificates.—The governing body may provide that for the cost, which is assessed against the abutting property and its owners, the contractor to whom the work may be let shall look only to such property owners and their property, and that the city shall be relieved of liability for such cost. The governing body may also authorize assignable certificates against abutting property or property owners. The recital in such certificates that the proceedings with reference to making such improvements have been regularly had in compliance with the terms of this law, and all prerequisites to the fixing of this lien and the claim of personal liability evidenced by such certificate, have been performed, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts so recited, and no other proof thereof shall be required, but in all courts the said proceedings and prerequisites shall, without further proof, be presumed to have been had or performed. Such certificates shall be executed by the chief executive of the city, and attested with the corporate seal by the city secretary or such other officer as may be designated by the governing body. [Id.]

Art. 1238. Public improvements.—The governing body, if it deems it to be more advantageous to the public, provided public funds are available therefor, may order by resolution the making of any local public improvement by installing a special lighting system as contemplated herein, and for such purpose shall prescribe the district composed of the street or streets, highways, boulevards or alleys, or any portion thereof, that are sought to be improved by the establishment and maintenance of such special lighting system. Specifications shall be prepared therefor under the direction of the governing body and bids shall be invited upon the same as provided herein for making such local improvements. Contracts shall be let as provided herein for making contracts in other cases. A hearing shall be accorded to all property owners owning property abutting upon the streets in such districts to be improved by the said lighting system, and the cost of the same shall be assessed against such property in the same manner as provided herein in other cases; a special lien shall be created against the abutting property and the owners thereof shall be personally liable as is provided herein in all other cases. The cost of making the said improvement shall be paid out of any available funds of the city which may be provided by said body. The amount of the cost of making such improvements so paid by the city to the contractor shall be reimbursed to the city by the property owners whose property is assessed in the manner provided for herein. All proceedings relative to making the assessments and issuing assignable certificates shall apply as far as practicable to the procedure to be followed in making the public improvements under the terms of this article. [Id.]

Art. 1239. General powers.—The governing body may provide additional rules and regulations governing hearings and the issuance of notices therefor as may be deemed advisable in order to afford a full hearing to all property owners concerning the assessments levied or to be levied against them on account of the special benefits received from the improvements so ordered. Such body may use such money as is at its disposal to assist in the financing of the public improvements herein provided for. [Id.]

Art. 1240. Control.—After the public improvements provided for in the preceding nineteen articles have been completed and the job accepted by the city, the same shall become the property of the city, and the city shall maintain the same at its own expense, as a part of its regular lighting system. [Id.]

- 1263. Action for debt.

Article 1241. [1077] Authority.—Cities and towns incorporated under the general laws and cities and towns of ten thousand inhabitants or less chartered under special law, including those which may have heretofore accepted the provisions of Chapter 1 of this title, may abolish their corporate existence in the manner hereinafter provided. [Acts 1895, p. 166; G. L. vol. 10, p. 896.]

Art. 1242. [1078] Petition.—When one hundred of the property tax-payers, who are qualified voters of any such city or town, desire the abolishment of such corporation, they may petition the county judge to that effect, who shall thereupon order an election to be held in such city or town, as in the case of its incorporation. If a majority of the property taxpayers, who are qualified voters, of any such city or town is less than one hundred in number, then the county judge shall order an election as above provided upon the presentation to him of a petition signed by a majority of the tax payers of such city or town, who are qualified voters thereof. [Acts 1899, p. 245.]

Art. 1243. [1079] Requisites of abolition.—All persons who are legally qualified voters of the State and county in which such an election is ordered, and are resident property taxpayers in the city or town where such election is to be held, as shown by the last assessment roll of such city or town, shall be entitled to vote at such election. If a majority of such voters voting at such election shall vote to abolish such corporation, the county judge shall declare such corporation abolished, and enter an order to that effect upon the minutes of the commissioners court, and from the date of such order, said corporation shall cease to exist. [Acts 1895, p. 166; G. L. vol. 10, p. 896.]

Art. 1244. [1080] Receiver.—In all cases where any city or town having theretofore had a valid corporate existence, under the laws of this State, has abolished said corporate existence in the manner provided by law, and in all cases where any city or town having a valid corporate existence under such laws may hereafter abolish their corporate existence, any creditor of, any such city or town may apply to the judge of the district court of the district in which such city or town may be situated, for the appointment of a receiver for said corporation. After having posted up in at least three public places in the county where such city or town is located, one of which shall be in said city or town, written notice stating the substance of the application, when and before whom the same will be heard, such judge in term time or vacation, may appoint a suitable person as such receiver for such corporation, and shall fix the amount of bond to be given by such receiver in at least double the probable amount of the indebtedness or value of the property of such town or city, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as such officer, and for the paying over and delivery of all money and property coming into his hands as such receiver, to the parties entitled to receive same, such bond to be approved by the judge making the appointment; and same, together with order of appointment, shall be filed with, and recorded in, the minutes of said court by the district clerk of the county where such city or town is situated. Receivers appointed under the provisions of this chapter shall receive such compensation as the court may allow. [Acts 1905, p. 325.]

Art. 1245. [1081] Duties of receiver.—A receiver appointed under the preceding article, after having given the required bond, and after having same duly filed and recorded, shall take charge of all the real and personal property, including moneys, minute books, ordinances, etc., except such property as pertains to the public free schools or devoted exclusively to public use, and shall return an inventory of all such property, money, books, etc., so received by him to the next succeeding term of the district court for the county in which such city or town is situated; and, for the purpose of securing such property, money, books, etc., he may, under the order of said court, or the judge thereof in vacation, bring suit against any person in possession of such property, books, or moneys, or indebted to said city or town, the same as such city or town could were it still incorporated. [Id.]

Art. 1246. [1082] Claim.—Any person, firm or corporation, having any claim against such city or town, shall within six months from the appointment of said receiver, present to him a statement of the amount of such claim, duly verified, which, if he finds correct, he will mark allowed, and file same in the district court; and at its next regular term, if no protest be filed, said claim shall be approved by said court and shall thereafter be considered a valid debt against such city or town. [Id.]

Art. 1247. [1082] Notice of claim.—No such claim or account against such city shall be allowed or approved by the receiver without notice of the presentment thereof first having been given, by publication in some newspaper, if any, in the town or city where same is filed or presented, for four consecutive weeks, and in case there be no newspaper published in such town or city, then by posting notice of the presentment of such claim at the courthouse door of the county in which said town or city is situated, for four weeks prior to the allowance of said claim or account. Such notice, whether published or posted, shall state the name and residence of the creditor, the amount and date of said claim and account, and for what purpose incurred. [Id.]

Art. 1248. [1082] Adjustment.—If such receiver finds any claim so presented to him unjust, in whole or in part, he shall endorse his finding thereon; and return same to the claimant, who may file same with the district court, if he desires to accept the findings of the receiver, and such claim for the amount allowed by the receiver may be acted upon by said court as other claims. [Id.]

Art. 1249. [1082] Contest, suit.—In case any protest by any taxpayer of said city or town be filed against any claim in said court, together with a bond to be approved by said court, that he will pay all costs of suit in case said claimant established his claim in full in any State court in which he may sue thereon, then such district court shall refuse to approve such claim until it shall have been established by judgment, recovered thereon in a State court of competent jurisdiction. Such suit to establish such claim or any claim disallowed in part or in whole, may be brought against the receiver, who shall make all legal defense against such claim. The court trying said claim is hereby authorized to hear and consider any material defense that may be or may have been urged against said claim, except that of limitation, though such claim, prior thereto, may have been reduced to judgment, but such judgment shall be considered, upon such trial, as prima facie evidence of the justness of such a claim. [Id.]

Art. 1250. [1082] Judgment and costs.—Any judgment recovered against such receiver upon a claim against such city or town shall be allowed by the receiver and approved by the district court wherein the receivership is pending. In all suits upon claims wherein protest and bond were filed in the district court, the claimant shall be liable for the costs of the suit, unless he recovers judgment for the full amount for which he asked the approval of the said district court. In suits upon claims rejected in part by the receiver, the claimant shall be liable for the costs of the suit, unless he establishes his claim for a greater amount than was allowed by the receiver. [Id.]

Art. 1251. [1083] Limitation.—Limitations shall not run, begin to run or be plead against any claim against such city or town at any time prior to six months after the appointment of such receiver. [Id.]

Art. 1252. [1084] Certain dissolutions.—No receiver shall be appointed for any such city or town whose corporate existence was dissolved prior to July 17, 1905, where the application therefor was not filed in said court within two years from and after July 10, 1905. [Id.]

Art. 1253. [1085] Suits barred.—No suit shall be brought against such receiver upon any claim, against the allowance of which a protest has been filed, as herein provided for, at any time after six months from the date of filing such protest, nor after the expiration of six months from the date of the disallowance of any such claim in whole or in part, where the claim has not been filed in the district court, after such disallowance as hereinbefore provided. [Id.]

Art. 1254. [1086] Payment of claims.—The district court of the county in which such town or city is situated, and in which such receivership is pending, shall provide for the payment of all claims legally established against such city or town, and determine the priority of any claims and order the sale of all property in the hands of the receiver subject to sale for such purpose, and direct such receiver to pay such claims. If the money and proceeds of property are insufficient to pay such indebtedness, then said court, at the request of any creditor, at the first regular term of said court in each year, shall levy a tax upon all the property and real and personal estate situated within the limits of said city or town, as previously incorporated, on the first day of the preceding January, not exempt from taxation under the Constitution and laws of this State, sufficient to discharge the indebtedness, but not to exceed the rate allowed by existing law for such purposes in incorporated cities and towns. [Id.]

Art. 1255. [1087] Collection of tax, etc.—Whenever the district court, having jurisdiction in the premises, has or may order the assessment and collection of taxes for the payment of the indebtedness of such town, or city, the tax assessor for the county in which such town or city is situated, shall assess the taxes so ordered in like manner as taxes in rural school districts. The county tax collector for such county shall collect such taxes in like manner as taxes in rural school districts. This article shall not repeal any part of Articles 1245 to 1250 inclusive. For the services rendered under this article, the assessor and collector shall receive the same compensation as for like services for the assessment and collection of taxes in rural school districts; and said collector shall pay such taxes when collected, to the receiver of such city or town. [Id.; Acts 1909, p. 68.]

Art. 1256. [1088] Delinquent taxes.—Suits may be brought by the receivers against delinquents, and a lien shall exist upon all property for such taxes, the same as though the corporate existence of such city or town had never been abolished, and such levy and assessment had been made by its council and assessor. [Acts 1905, p. 327.]

Art. 1257. [1090-1-2] Prior claims.—The compensation of the receiver, together with all the court costs and expenses, shall constitute a prior claim against such city or town, and shall be first paid out of any money on hand or collected. In case of taxation the money collected each year shall be paid pro rata upon all claims according to their priorities until all claims established and all costs and expenses are fully paid. On final settlement of such receivership, any money or property left on hand shall be turned over to the trustees or other officers in charge of the public free school situated in said city or town for the benefit of such school. [Id.]

Art. 1258. [1093] Public schools.—Where the public free schools of such city or town are under the management of trustees appointed or elected by the voters of the city or town, or by the city or town council, at the time its incorporation is abolished under the provisions of this chapter, such trustees shall have the management of said schools for the remainder of the term for which they were appointed or elected, subject to the supervision of the commissioners court, unless such city or town shall sooner become incorporated for school purposes only. [Acts 1895, p. 166.]

Art. 1259. [1094] School taxes.—All taxes for municipal or school purposes which shall have been levied at the date of the abolishment of such corporation, and which shall not have been paid, shall be collected by the collector of the county in the same manner provided by law for the collection of State and county taxes, and paid into the county treasury; but the portion of such taxes levied for the purpose of maintaining the public free schools of such city or town shall be paid over to the trustees of the public free schools of said city or town and applied by them to the purpose for which they were levied.

Art. 1260. [1095] Public buildings.—When any corporation is abolished under the provisions of this chapter, and shall at the time of any such abolishment own any public buildings, public parks, public works or other property, and the same shall not have been sold or disposed of as provided in this chapter, the same shall be managed and controlled by the commissioners court of such county for the purpose to which same were originally used and intended; and, for this purpose, the commissioners court shall have and exercise, with reference thereto, the powers originally conferred by charter upon the mayor and aldermen of such city.

Art. 1261. [1096] [615] [540] Abolition of towns.—When twenty-five of the qualified voters of any incorporated town or village shall desire the abolishment of such corporation they may petition the county judge to that effect, who shall thereupon order an election to be held in such town or village, as in the case of its incorporation; and, if there be a majority of the voters of said corporation, voting at such election in favor of abolishing such corporation, the county judge shall declare the corporation abolished, and enter an order to that effect upon the minutes of the commissioners court. From and after the date of such order, the said corporation shall cease to exist. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to repeal or otherwise affect any laws now upon the statutes of this State providing for the incorporation of towns and villages for school purposes; said towns and villages having not less than two hundred inhabitants. [Acts 1897, p. 194.]

Art. 1262. When corporation ceases to function.—When any corporation is abolished, or if any de facto corporation has been or shall be declared void by any court of competent jurisdiction, or if the same shall cease to operate and exercise the functions of such corporation or de facto corporation, when such corporation or de facto corporation has indebtedness outstanding, then the officers of such corporation, in office at the time of such dissolution, or at the time such corporation ceases to operate and exercise the functions of such corporation, shall take charge of the property of the corporation and sell and dispose of same, and shall settle the debts due by the corporation, and for said purpose shall have power to levy and collect a tax from the inhabitants of said city, town or village in the same manner as the said corporation. In the event of their failure or refusal to do so, and upon the petition of any number of the citizen taxpayers of such corporation or of the holders of the evidences of indebtedness of such corporation or de facto corporation, to the proper court within this State having jurisdiction in the county in which such dissolved or de facto corporation shall have been situated, the judge of said court shall appoint three trustees to take charge of such property and dispose of same and settle the debts of such corporation or de facto corporation, and for said purpose the said trustees so appointed shall be vested with all the powers herein given to the officers of such corporation. [Acts 1923, p. 309.]

Art. 1263. Action for debt.—The holder of any indebtedness against any municipal corporation which has or may be dissolved in any way provided in the preceding article, including dissolution of a de facto corporation by a court of competent jurisdiction, may maintain a suit in the proper court within this State having jurisdiction in the county in which such dissolved or de facto corporation shall have been situated, to establish said indebtedness against said municipal corporation, and service may be had on such dissolved corporation by serving the citation upon any person who was the mayor, secretary or treasurer of said corporation or pretended to act as such, at the time of its dissolution, and judgment may be rendered in such suit in favor of the holder of such indebtedness against such municipal corporation as fully as if it had not been dissolved or its organization declared void. The status of such city, town or village shall be and remain the same in so far as it affects the holders of its indebtedness, until such indebtedness has been paid. [Id.]

CHAPTER TWENTY

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Art.

- 1264. Current expenses.
- 1265. Extension of limits.
- 1266. Discontinuing territory.
- 1267. Oil and mineral lands.
- 1268. Sale or lease of franchise.

- 1269a. Municipal bands.
- 1268b. Same subject—establishment and maintenance.
- 1269c. Same subject—election.
- 1269d. Same subject—subsequent elections.
- 1269e. Same subject—ordinances.
- 1269f. Same subject—charters affected.

Article 1264. Current expenses.—Any incorporated city or town in this State, whether incorporated under the general laws of this State, or incorporated by special charter adopted in the manner provided by law, and having a population of 161,000 or more according to the preceding Federal census, may, through its governing body, provide for the payment of its current expenses for any current fiscal year, or for any portion of such fiscal year, by the issuance of warrants drawn against the current revenues of said city or town for such fiscal year, in the manner following:

1. Such warrants shall be dated and numbered consecutively as they are issued, and shall become a lien upon the revenues of said city or town for such fiscal year, available for the payment thereof, and shall be paid consecutively according to their respective dates and numbers as funds for the payment thereof become available.

2. If no funds are available to pay such warrants at the time of their issuance, the governing body may provide for the payment of interest upon such warrants, or may provide for the payment of a discount thereon. Such interest or discount shall never exceed an amount equal to six per cent per annum upon the face of such warrants for the period of time intervening between the date of their issuance and the time of their payment.

3. In no event shall the governing body provide for the issuance of warrants upon which interest or discount is to be paid, in excess of eighty per cent of the estimated revenues of said city or town for such fiscal year, after the deduction of all interest upon the bonded indebtedness of such city or town to be paid out of the revenues for such fiscal year, and such sums as may be required to be paid into any sinking fund or into any special fund or any special trust fund of said city or town out of its revenues for such fiscal year. [Acts 1st C. S. 1921, p. 25.]

Art. 1265. Extension of limits.—Any city having a population of 100,000 and under 150,000 as shown by the preceding Federal census, shall have the power and authority to amend its charter so as to extend its boundary limits by annexing additional territory adjacent and contiguous to such city, where the territory so annexed does not include any incorporated city or town having more than five thousand inhabitants according to the preceding Federal census. Such extension shall be effected in the manner following:

1. The governing body of such city may, upon its own motion, and shall upon the petition of at least ten per cent of the qualified voters of said city as shown by the preceding general election, submit such proposed amendment to a vote of the qualified voters of such city, which election shall be held as provided by chapter 13 of this title.

2. If such amendment is adopted by a majority of those voting at such election, and such annexed territory shall include any incorporated city or town of five thousand inhabitants or less, then, from and after the adoption of such amendment, the incorporation of such city or town of five thousand inhabitants or less shall be abolished and shall cease to exist, and all record books, public property, public buildings, money on hand, credit accounts and other assets of the annexed incorporated city or town shall become the property of said larger city and shall be turned over to the officers thereof, and by such annexation, the offices existing in the smaller municipality shall be abolished and the persons holding such offices shall not be entitled to further remuneration or compensation; and all legal outstanding liabilities of such smaller city shall be assumed by the enlarged city.

3. Whenever such annexed city or town shall have on hand any bond funds for public improvement and not already appropriated or contracted for, such money shall be kept in a separate special fund and devoted to public improvements in the territory for which such bonds were voted, and shall not be diverted or used for any other purpose.

4. After such annexation, all claims, fines, debts and taxes due or payable to the annexed city or town shall thereupon become due and payable to said larger city and shall be collected by it. If taxes for the current year shall have been duly assessed prior to said annexation, then the amount so assessed shall remain as the amounts due and payable from the inhabitants of such annexed city or town for such current year. [Id. p. 153.]

Art. 1266. Discontinuing territory.—Whenever there exists within the corporate limits of any city in this State of 150,000 or more population according to the preceding Federal census located in a county having a population according to such census in excess of 205,000, whether such city was organized by special law, home rule charter, or general laws of this State, territory to the extent of at least three acres contiguous, unimproved and adjoining the lines of any such city, the governing body of any such city may, by ordinance duly passed, discontinue said territory as a part of any such city. When said ordinance has been duly passed, the governing body shall cause to be entered an order to that effect on the minutes or records of such city; and from and after the entry of such order, said territory shall cease to be a part of such city. [Acts 3rd C. S. 1923, p. 166.]

Art. 1267. Oil and mineral lands.—Cities and towns chartered or organized under the general laws of Texas, or by special Act or charter, which may own oil or mineral lands, shall have the power and right to lease such oil or mineral lands for the benefit of such town or city, but shall not lease for such purposes any street or alley or public square in said town or city, or any land therein dedicated by any person to public uses in such town or city; and no well shall be drilled within the thickly settled portion of any city or town, nor within two hundred feet of any private residence. [Acts 1919, p. 183.]

Art. 1268. Sale or lease of franchise.—Any individual, association or corporation now or hereafter organized under the laws of this State, including any municipal corporation of this State, engaged in manufacturing, producing, supplying or selling electricity, natural or artificial gas, steam, or water, or owning or operating any street railway within any incorporated city, town or village within this State, where the rates charged for such service are subject to regulation under authority of the laws of this State, may, by a majority vote of the qualified voters thereof having been first obtained at an election held for that purpose, lease, sell or otherwise dispose of its entire plant or business or any part thereof, to any other individual, association or corporation which, at the time of said sale, lease or other disposition of said plant or business or any part thereof, is doing, or has authority to do, a like business in said incorporated city, town or village. Nothing herein shall authorize any corporation to engage in any kind of business not authorized by its charter. [Acts 1915, p. 131.]

Art. 1269. Salaries of officers.—The municipalities of this State, having a population exceeding 150,000 according to the preceding Federal census, organized under any special Act of this State or by virtue of the Constitutional provisions of this State, shall have power and authority, acting by and through their governing bodies, to fix and prescribe from time to time, and to alter, modify and change the same, a salary or compensation of not exceeding the following sums, anything in any charter of such municipality or any special law to the contrary:

An annual salary to be paid the corporation judge, four thousand dollars; city attorney and city auditor, six thousand dollars each. No salary of said officers shall be decreased, after being fixed by said governing bodies, during the term of office for which they are elected or appointed. The salaries named herein may be changed in any charter or any amendment to any charter voted on at the home rule election by any such city. [Acts 3rd C. S. 1920, p. 31; Acts 3rd C. S. 1923, p. 187.]

Art. 1269a. Municipal Bands.—That the word "band" as used in this Act shall mean a band composed of such musical instruments as are recognized in the standard instrumentation established for the use of United States Army Bands. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 22, p. 82, § 1.]

Art. 1269b. Same subject—establishment and maintenance.—That any incorporated city or town in this State is authorized to establish and maintain a band in such city or town, and to appropriate such part of the revenues of such city or town for the maintenance and operation of such band as the governing body of such city or town may determine. It is provided, however, that the total amount of such appropriation for any one year shall not exceed three mills for each one dollar of taxable value of property within such city or town. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 22, p. 82, § 2.]

Art. 1269c. Same subject—election.—That it shall be the duty of the governing body of any city or town within this State, upon a written petition signed by a number of property tax paying voters in such city or town equal to at least ten per cent of the total number of votes cast at the last regular municipal election, to submit to the qualified property tax paying voters within such city or town, at an election for that purpose, the question of whether or not a band shall be established and maintained by such city or town. Such elections shall be held as nearly as possible in accordance with the law in reference to regular elections in said city or town, but said governing body is hereby empowered by resolution to order such elections and prescribe the form of ballot for use therein and the time and manner of holding the same. Such governing body shall canvass and determine the result of such elections in the manner provided by law for canvassing and returning the results of general elections held therein, and the result of the election shall be entered upon the minutes of said governing body. If the majority of the voters voting upon said question at such election shall vote to establish and maintain a band, the governing body shall thereupon proceed to establish, and thereafter maintain, such band. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 22, p. 82, § 3.]

Art. 1269d. Same subject—subsequent elections.—That the governing body of any city or town shall upon similar petition cause subsequent elections for said purpose to be held, as provided by Section 3 hereof [Art. 1269c]; but no two of such elections shall be held within the same city or town within a period of less than twelve months. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 22, p. 82, § 4.]

Art. 1269e. Same subject—ordinances.—When it shall be determined to establish and maintain a band in any city or town, the governing body thereof shall have full power to pass all ordinances and resolutions to enable such city or town to maintain such band, and in addition thereto such governing body shall elect a non-partisan citizen commission of not more than five nor less than three members whose duty it shall be to negotiate contracts and formulate rules and regulations and do all things necessary or proper to establish, control and maintain said band. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 22, p. 83, § 5.]

Art. 1269f. Same subject—charters affected.—That this Act shall not modify or in any manner affect any special charter which has been heretofore granted by the Legislature, nor any charter heretofore adopted by the voters of any city or town. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 22, p. 83, § 6.]

TITLE 29

COMMISSIONER OF DEEDS

- Art.
1270. Appointment.
1271. Oath.
1272. Seal.
1273. Authority.

Article 1270. [1097] [618] [542] Appointment.—The Governor is authorized to biennially appoint and commission one or more persons in each or any of the other states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and in each or any of the territories of the United States, and in each or any foreign country, upon the recommendation of the executive authority of said state, District of Columbia or territory or foreign country to serve as commissioner of deeds. Such commissioner shall hold office for two years. [Acts 1885, p. 98; G. L. vol. 9, p. 718.]

Art. 1271. [1098] Oath.—Such commissioner, before he shall proceed to perform any duty under and by virtue of this title, shall take and subscribe an oath or affirmation, before the clerk of any court of record in the city, county or country in which such commissioner may reside, well and faithfully to execute and perform all the duties of such commissioner under the laws of this State; which oath or affirmation, certified to by the clerk under his hand and seal of office, shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State in this State. [Acts 1846, p. 187; G. L. vol. 2, p. 1493.]

Art. 1272. [1102] [623] [547] Seal.—Every such commissioner shall provide for himself a seal with a star of five points, in the center, and the words, "Commissioner of the State of Texas," engraved thereon, which seal shall be used to certify all the official acts of such commissioner; and without the impress of said seal upon any instrument, or to certify any act of such commissioner, said act shall have no validity in this State. [Act Dec. 31, 1861, p. 21; G. L. vol. 5, p. 465.]

Art. 1273. [1097] [618] [542] Authority.—The commissioner of deeds shall have the same authority as to taking acknowledgments and proofs of written instruments, administering oaths, and taking depositions to be used or recorded in this State, as is conferred by law upon a notary public of this State. [Acts 1885, p. 98; G. L. vol. 9, p. 718.]

TITLE 30 COMMISSION MERCHANTS

1. COMMISSION MERCHANTS

- Art.
1274. "Commission Merchant" defined.
1275. Bond of.
1276. Suits on bond.
1277. Unlawful interest in sales.
1278. Account of sales.
1279. False charges.
1280. Duties of shipper.

2. LIVE STOCK COMMISSION MERCHANTS

- Art.
1281. Live stock commission merchant.
1282. To make bond.
1283. Conditions and amount of bond.
1284. Duty of court, judge.
1285. Bond recorded.
1286. Deposit of proceeds.
1287. Suit on bond.

1. COMMISSION MERCHANTS

Article 1274. [3826] "Commission Merchant" defined.—Any person, firm or corporation pursuing, or who shall pursue the business of selling produce, or goods, wares or merchandise of any kind upon consignment for a commission, shall be held to be a commission merchant. [Acts 1907, p. 61.]

Art. 1275. [3827] Bond of.—Every commission merchant shall make bond in the sum of three thousand dollars, with a solvent surety company doing business in this State or with two or more good and sufficient sureties, who are residents of this State, and who shall make affidavit that they in their own right, over and above all exemptions, are worth the full amount of the bond they sign as sureties, payable to the county judge of each county in which such commission merchant maintains an office, and to the successors in office of such county judge as trustees for all persons who may become entitled to the benefits of this subdivision; conditioned that such commission merchant will faithfully and truly perform all agreements and contracts entered into with consignors for said produce, goods, wares or merchandise, will promptly receive and sell such produce, goods, wares or merchandise, and will on receipt of such produce, goods, wares or merchandise class the same, and if such class as made by such commission merchant is not as high as that made and sent to him by the consignor, he (the commission merchant) will immediately notify the consignor of such fact and of the class made by him; and, as soon as sold will send to the consignor a full and complete account of sales of same, giving an itemized account thereof, and the price received, the dates of sales, and shall, within five days after said produce, goods, wares or merchandise are sold, send to the consignor the full amount received for the same, less the commission due said commission merchant under the contract of assignment, such bond to be approved by the county judge of the county in which said commission merchant maintains an office, and by said judge filed for record in the county clerk's office as chattel mortgages are now authorized to be filed by law. [Acts 1907, p. 61; Acts 1913, p. 178.]

Art. 1276. [3828] Suits on bond.—Such bond shall be made and filed for record in each county in which such commission merchant maintains an office, and in which county suits may be maintained upon such bond by any person claiming to have been damaged by a breach of its condition. Said bond shall not become void upon the first recovery thereon, but may be sued upon until the amount thereof is exhausted. When said bond by suits of recovery has been reduced to the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, said commission merchant shall be required to enter into a new bond in the sum of three thousand dollars as required in the first instance. Said new bond shall be liable for all future contracts, agreements or consignments thereafter entered into by said commission merchant and consignor of such produce, cotton, sugar, goods, wares or merchandise, and upon failure of said commission merchant to give said new bond as above required, he shall cease doing business in this State. [Id.]

Art. 1277. [3829] [2432] Unlawful interest in sales.—No factor or commission merchant to whom any cotton, sugar, produce or merchandise of any kind is consigned for sale on commission or otherwise, shall purchase the same or reserve any interest whatever therein upon the sale of same, either directly or indirectly, in his own name or in the name or through the instrumentality of another, for his own benefit or for the benefit of another, or as a factor or agent of any other person, without express written license from the owner or consignor of such cotton, sugar, produce or other merchandise, or some person authorized by him, under a penalty of forfeiture of one-half the value of cotton, sugar, produce or other merchandise so purchased or sold, to be recovered by the owner of the same by suit in the county where the sale took place, or wherein the offending party resides. [Acts 1860, p. 82; G. L. vol. 4, p. 1444.]

Art. 1278. [3830] [2433] Account of sales.—Upon the shipment of any produce, cotton, sugar, goods, wares or merchandise, consigned for sale to any factor or commission merchant, it is hereby made his duty that such commission merchant will faithfully and truly perform all agreements and contracts entered into with consignors for said produce, cotton, sugar, goods, wares and merchandise; that said commission merchant will promptly receive and sell such produce, cotton, sugar, goods, wares or merchandise, in accord with the contract of consignment and will on receipt of such produce, cotton, sugar, goods, wares or merchandise class the same, and if such class as made by such commission merchant is not as high as that made and sent to him by the consignor, he, (the commission merchant) will immediately notify the consignor of such fact and of the class made by him and as soon as sold will send to the consignor a full and complete account of sales of same, giving an itemized account thereof, and the price received, the dates of sales, and shall, within five days after said produce, cotton, sugar, goods, wares or merchandise are sold, send to the consignor the full amount received for the same, less the commission due said commission merchant under the contract of consignment; and if cotton, sugar, or other produce sold by weight, the weight of same in gross, and the tare allowed, and be accompanied by the certificate or memorandum, signed by the weigher who weighed the same, of the weight and condition as required by law, and upon failure of said commission merchant to comply with any one of the provisions of this article, he and the bondsmen required by this subdivision shall be liable for all actual damages incurred by the consignor by reason thereof, and in addition thereto a penalty of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered by the consignor in a suit filed for said actual damages and for said penalty. [Acts 1913, p. 178.]

Art. 1279. [3831] [2434] False charges.—No commission merchant or factor shall be permitted to make any charge for mending or patching, or roping bales, or for cooperage or repairing bales, or for labor, or hauling, or cartage, or for storage, marking or weighing, unless the same has been actually done; and, in case of any such charge, a bill of particulars shall be rendered notwithstanding any usage or custom to the contrary to make such charge, by rate or average; and the person offending against any provision of this article shall be liable to a penalty of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered by suit by the owner or consignor. [Acts 1860, p. 82; G. L. vol. 4, p. 1444.]

Art. 1280. Duties of shipper.—Each consignor of produce, goods, wares, or merchandise in this State consigning produce goods, wares, or merchandise to commission merchants to be sold on commission shall, when he consigns such produce, goods, wares or merchandise, send to such commission merchant a written statement in which such consignor shall state the amount, the quality or class, the condition of such produce, goods, wares or merchandise so consigned, and if said merchant, on receipt of same, fails to promptly notify said consignor of any objection he may have to the class, quality or quantity so consigned, then such statement shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that said consignment of such produce, goods, wares or merchandise is truly stated in said statement by the consignor to said commission merchant. When such produce, goods, wares or merchandise is received by said commission merchant, such merchant shall give to the agent of the railroad or other carrier so delivering such produce, goods, wares or merchandise, a receipt for same which receipt shall state the quality, quantity, grade and condition of such produce, goods, wares or merchandise, and said agent of the railroad or other carrier shall keep such receipt on file in his office subject to the inspection of any one interested in such shipment, for six months from the date of such receipt. [Acts 1913, p. 278.]

2. LIVE STOCK COMMISSION MERCHANT

Art. 1281. Live stock commission merchant.—Any person, firm or corporation, who shall pursue the business of selling live stock, cattle, cows, calves, bulls, steers, hogs, sheep, goats, mules, horses, jacks, and jennets or any of them, upon consignment for a commission or other charges, or who shall solicit consignment of live stock as a commission merchant or agent, or who shall advertise or hold himself out to be such, shall be deemed and held to be a live stock commission merchant within the meaning of this subdivision and subject to all the provisions and penalties herein prescribed. [Acts 1921, p. 175.]

Art. 1282. To make bond.—All live stock commission merchants before they shall engage in said business within this State, are hereby required to make bond in an amount hereinafter specified, signed by a solvent surety company authorized to do business in this State and having a paid up capital of not less than five hundred thousand dollars, which said bond shall be payable to the county judge of the county in which such commission merchant has his principal office or place of business, and to his successors in office, as trustee for all persons who may become entitled to the benefits of this law, such bond to be filed by such county judge in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such commission merchant has his principal office or place of business, and in which county suits shall be instituted for any illegal breaches of said bond. [Id.]

Art. 1283. Conditions and amount of bond.—Said bond shall be conditioned that such live stock commission merchant will faithfully obey and carry out all the terms and provisions of this law, and will faithfully and truly perform all agreements entered into with all the consignors, owners or those holding valid liens on said live stock with respect to receiving, handling, selling and making remittances and payments of the net proceeds thereof to the said named parties, or to the person, firm or corporation to whom said consignors, owners or valid lien holders shall direct such payments to be made; and said bond shall further provide and shall be conditioned that such commission merchant shall within forty-eight hours of the sale of live stock so consigned, excluding the day of sale, Sundays, and holidays, remit the net proceeds thereof to the parties rightfully entitled to receive the same, or to such person, firm or corporation to whom such parties shall direct the payment to be made, or shall within forty-eight hours of the sale of such live stock for said parties at interest deposit to the credit of such parties their respective interest in the net proceeds thereof in some State or National bank in the city or town where such live stock commission merchant has his principal office or place of business, if requested by any or all of the said parties at interest to do so. Said bond shall be made annually and shall expire on September 1st of each year. The amount of such bond shall be fixed by the county judge as follows: Double the amount of the average daily sales of the stock sold on commission for the preceding twelve months period (computed upon the number of business days) by the person, firm or corporation desiring to pursue the business of a live stock commission merchant, which facts shall be made to appear to the county judge by the sworn statement of the individual, or member of the partnership, or by the president or secretary of the corporation, seeking the approval of said bond. Any person, firm or corporation who has not heretofore engaged in the business of a live stock commission merchant shall give bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, which shall be the minimum bond to be given under this law. The period of forty-eight hours shall be computed excluding the day of sale, Sundays and holidays. [Id.]

Art. 1284. Duty of court, judge.—The county judge shall carefully scrutinize said bond when tendered and if satisfied therewith approve said bond. No bond shall be approved by him which is not in the amount prescribed by this law, and conditioned as required by this law and executed by such surety company. The data as to such surety company shall be first duly certified to the said county judge by a certificate to that effect issued by the Commissioner of Insurance. [Id.]

Art. 1285. Bond recorded.—Said bond together with the sworn statement made to the county judge by the applicant seeking the approval of the same and setting forth the average daily sales of such applicant for the twelve months period next prior thereto, shall, as soon as practicable after the approval of said bond by the county judge, be filed for record in the county clerk's office in the county where the principal business of said commission merchant is to be carried on, and shall be recorded at length and properly indexed in a well-bound book kept for that purpose, to be labeled "Bonds of Live Stock Commission Merchants" and shall also file and securely retain in the archives of his office said original bond and sworn statement. Said clerk shall immediately upon the recording and indexing of said bond and statement furnish to the person, firm or corporation filing the same a correctly certified copy thereof. It is also made the duty of said commission merchant to procure said certified copy from said clerk at the earliest practicable date after the filing and recording thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1286. Deposit of proceeds.—If the proceeds of any live stock sold by said live stock commission merchant shall become involved in a dispute between contending claimants or if said live stock commission merchant is notified that other parties are asserting rights to said proceeds, or any part thereof, in opposition to the claim of those shipping said stock to said commission merchant, said live stock commission merchant shall deposit the amount of said net proceeds involved in such contention in some State or National bank in the town or city where said live stock commission merchant has his principal place of business, and promptly notify all interested parties of his said action in the premises; whereupon no further liability as to such funds so deposited shall accrue or continue as to said live stock commission merchant, either personally or on his bond. [Id.]

Art. 1287. Suit on bond.—The bond provided for by this law may be sued upon and recovery had thereon by any persons claiming to have been damaged by a breach of its conditions. Said bond shall not become void upon the first recovery thereon but may be sued upon until the amount thereof is exhausted. Upon a reduction of said bond by recoveries thereon to the extent of one-half thereof said live stock commission merchant shall be required forthwith to make and file a new bond conditioned as in the third article of this subdivision so as to restore said bond to the required amount. If it shall come to the knowledge of the county judge that the surety company making such bond has become insolvent or is not financially able to make the said bond ample and sufficient in the opinion of said judge, then said officer shall notify said commission merchant to execute a new bond as herein provided for; whereupon it shall be the duty of such commission merchant to make a new bond the same as originally required by the provisions of this law. [Id.]

- 1300. Conveyance of homestead.
- 1301. Failing as a conveyance.

Article 1288. [1103] [624] [548]. Instrument of conveyance.—No estate of inheritance or freehold, or for a term of more than one year, in lands and tenements, shall be conveyed from one to another, unless the conveyance be declared by an instrument in writing, subscribed and delivered by the party disposing of the same, or by his agent thereunto authorized by writing. [Act Feb. 5, 1840: P. D. 671: G. L. vol. 2, p. 327.]

Art. 1289. [1104] [625] [549]. Notice.—A conveyance, such as is described in the preceding article, shall not be good and effectual against a purchaser in good faith, without notice thereof and for a valuable consideration, nor against any creditor, unless such conveyance be acknowledged by the party who shall have signed or delivered it, or proved, in the manner required by law, and before some officer authorized by law to take such acknowledgment or proof, and be filed for record with the clerk of the county in which the land, or a part thereof, is situated. [Id.]

Art. 1290. [1105] [626] [550]. Partial conveyances.—All alienations of real estate, made by any person purporting to pass or assure a greater right or estate than such person may lawfully pass or assure, shall operate as alienations of so much of the right and estate in such lands, tenements or hereditaments as such person might lawfully convey; but shall not pass or bar the residue of said right or estate purporting to be conveyed or assured; nor shall the alienation of any particular estate on which any remainder may depend, whether such alienation be by deed or will, nor shall the union of such particular estate with the inheritance by purchase or by descent, so operate as to defeat, impair or in any wise affect such remainder. [Id.]

Art. 1291. [1106] [627] [551]. When an estate deemed a fee simple.—Every estate in lands which shall thereafter [hereafter] be granted, conveyed or devised to one although other words heretofore necessary at common law to transfer an estate in fee simple be not added, shall be deemed a fee simple, if a less estate be not limited by express words or do not appear to have been granted, conveyed or devised by construction or operation of law. [Id.]

Art. 1292. [1107] [628] [552]. Form of conveyance.—The following form, or the same in substance, shall be sufficient as a conveyance of the fee simple of any real estate with a covenant of general warranty, viz.:

"The State of Texas,
"County of"

"Know all men by these presents, That I,, of the (give name of city, town or county), in the state aforesaid, for and in consideration of dollars, to me in hand paid by, have granted, sold and conveyed, and by these presents do grant, sell and convey unto the said, of the (give name of city, town or county), in the state of, all that certain (describe the premises). To have and to hold the above described premises, together with all and singular the rights and appurtenances thereto in any wise belonging, unto the said his heirs or assigns forever. And I do hereby bind myself, my heirs, executors and administrators to warrant and forever defend all and singular the said premises unto the said, his heirs and assigns, against every person whomsoever, lawfully claiming or to claim the same, or any part thereof.

"Witness my hand, this day of, A. D. 19.

"Signed and delivered in the presence of [Id.]

Art. 1293. [1108] [629] [553] Other forms and clauses valid.—No person shall be obliged to insert the covenant of warranty, or be restrained from inserting any clause or clauses in conveyances hereafter to be made, that may be deemed proper and advisable by the purchaser and seller; and other forms not contravening the laws of the land shall not be invalidated. [Id.]

Art. 1294. [1109] [630] [554] Must be witnessed or acknowledged.—Every deed or conveyance of real estate must be signed and acknowledged by the grantor in the presence of at least two credible subscribing witnesses thereto; or must be duly acknowledged before some officer authorized to take acknowledgments, and properly certified to by him for registration. [R. S. 1879, 554.]

Art. 1295. [1110] [631] [555] Conveyance by authorized officer.—Every conveyance of real estate by a commissioner, sheriff or other officer legally authorized to sell, under or by virtue of a decree or judgment of any court within this State, shall be good and effectual to pass the absolute title to such real estate to the purchaser thereof; but nothing herein shall be construed to affect the right, title or interest of any person or persons other than the parties to such conveyance, decree or judgment, and those claiming under them. [Id.]

Art. 1296. [1111] [632] [556] Estates in futuro.—An estate or freehold or inheritance may be made to commence in futuro, by deed or conveyance, in like manner as by will. [Id.]

Art. 1297. [1112] [633] [557] Implied covenants.—From the use of the word "grant" or "convey," in any conveyance by which an estate of inheritance or fee simple is to be passed, the following covenants, and none other, on the part of the grantor for himself and his heirs to the grantee, his heirs or assigns, are implied, unless restrained by express terms contained in such conveyance:

1. That previous to the time of the execution of such conveyance the grantor has not conveyed the same estate, or any right, title or interest therein, to any person other than the grantee.

2. That such estate is at the time of the execution of such conveyance free from incumbrances.

Such covenants may be sued upon in the same manner as if they had been expressly inserted in the conveyance.

Art. 1298. [1113] [634] [558] Incumbrances include what.—The term "incumbrances" includes taxes, assessments and all liens upon real property.

Art. 1299. [1114] [635] [559] Conveyance of separate lands of wife.—The husband and wife shall join in the conveyance of real estate, the separate property of the wife; and no such conveyance shall take effect until the same shall have been acknowledged by her privily and apart from her husband before some officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments to deeds for the purpose of being recorded, and certified to in the mode pointed out in articles 6605 and 6608. [Acts 1897, p. 41; G. L., vol. 10, p. 1095.]

Art. 1300. [1115] [636] [560] Conveyance of homestead.—The homestead of the family shall not be sold and conveyed by the owner, if a married man, without the consent of the wife. Such consent shall be evidenced by the wife joining in the conveyance, and signing her name thereto, and by her separate acknowledgment thereof taken and certified to before the proper officer, and in the mode pointed out in articles 6605 and 6608. [Id.]

Art. 1301. [1116] [637] [561] Failing as a conveyance.—When an instrument in writing, which was intended as a conveyance of real estate, or some interest therein, shall fail, either in whole or in part, to take effect as a conveyance by virtue of the provisions of this chapter, the same shall nevertheless be valid and effectual as a contract upon which a conveyance may be enforced, as far as the rules of law will permit.

Article 1302. [1121] [642] [566] Purposes.—The purposes for which private corporations may be formed are:

1. The support of public worship.
2. The support of any benevolent, charitable, educational or missionary undertaking.
3. The support of any literary and scientific undertaking; the maintenance of a library, or promotion of painting, music and other fine arts.
4. The protection of women and children and the prevention of cruelty to animals.
5. The protection and preservation and propagation of fish, oysters and game.
6. The erection and maintenance of sanitoriums, with the right to acquire and own lands and town lots; to improve, cultivate, rent and alienate same; to erect storage dams and otherwise develop irrigation on such lands; to erect, acquire and maintain hotels and bath houses on its property; and in conjunction therewith, to erect and maintain training schools and outdoor sports on its property for the training and pleasure of its patients and their families; to maintain and carry on such industrial enterprises in conjunction therewith as shall be necessary to furnish employment to the patients therein and their families; provided such corporation shall not own or control more land than is necessary for the actual conduct and control of a sanitarium. [Acts 1897, p. 191; Acts 1913, p. 114; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1245.]
7. The encouragement of agriculture and horticulture by associations for the maintenance of public fairs and exhibitions of stock and farm products.
8. To grow, sell and purchase seeds, plants, trees, etc., for agricultural, horticultural and ornamental purposes, and to purchase and lease all lands necessary for that purpose.
9. To support and maintain bicycle clubs, and other innocent sports. [Acts 1897, p. 189; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1243.]
10. To establish and maintain fishing, hunting and boating clubs; to protect, preserve and propagate fish and game; to purchase and own such lands and bodies of water as may be desirable in connection therewith; to erect suitable improvements thereon; and to raise such live stock for profit only as the preserves of the club will maintain. [Acts 1907, p. 291.]
11. To construct and maintain a telegraph and telephone line.
12. To engage in radio telegraphy and telephony and wireless telegraphy and telephony, with authority to own, lease, conduct, maintain and operate all the necessary plants, equipment and facilities thereto pertaining. [Acts 1923, 3rd C. S. p. 171.]
13. To supply water to the public.
14. To manufacture and supply gas, light, heat and electric motor power, or either of them to the public by any means.
15. Private corporations may be created for, or after being created, may be so amended as to include two or more of the following purposes: To construct or purchase and maintain mills and gins; to manufacture and supply to the public by any means, ice, gas, light, heat, water and electric motor power, or either, in connection with such mills and gins, or either; to harvest grain, or to harvest and thresh grain; provided, that the authorized capital stock of any corporation authorized by this subdivision shall not exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. [Acts 1903, p. 227.]
16. The authorized capital stock of corporations created under or authorized by subdivision 88 hereof which shall include irrigation and any one or more of the other purposes named herein shall not exceed one million dollars; the authorized capital stock of corporations created under or authorized by this subdivision which shall include water works for the supply of water to the public or municipalities, and any one or more of the other purposes named, except irrigation, shall not exceed five hundred thousand dollars; and the authorized capital stock of corporations so authorized for any two or more of the purposes named herein, except irrigation and water works, or the supply of water to the public, shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars. [Acts 1907, pp. 291, 294; Acts 1913, p. 352.]

17. To manufacture ice and non-intoxicating beverages, and in connection therewith, to operate a general storage business; provided, that no beverage of any kind prohibited by any law of this State from being manufactured, sold or stored, shall be so manufactured, sold, stored or in any manner kept in the possession of any company so incorporated. [Acts 1st C. S. 1921, p. 151.]

18. To manufacture and sell denatured alcohol and its by-products, provided such corporation shall by provision in its charter, or by amendment thereof, limit the amount of its capital stock that may be owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by one stockholder, and the number of votes that may be cast in any stockholders' meeting by one stockholder. [Acts 1907, p. 291.]

19. To construct and maintain establishments for the preserving and canning of fruits, vegetables and fish.

20. To grow and sell fruits, vegetables and tobacco. [Acts 1901, p. 70.]

21. To establish and carry on a dairy and creamery business. [Acts 1897, p. 192; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1245.]

22. To raise, buy and sell live stock.

23. To construct and maintain stock yards and pens.

24. To construct and maintain establishments for slaughtering, refrigerating, canning, curing and packing meat, and to lend or advance money by such establishments on any class of live stock.

25. To grow and sell sugar cane with the right to make and refine sugar, molasses, and all by-products of sugar cane and to sell the same. [Acts 1905, p. 28.]

26. To conduct and carry on a general apiary business, and in connection therewith, to manufacture bee hives and bee keepers' supplies, and purchase and sell such goods, wares and merchandise used, manufactured and produced in such business. [Acts 1907, p. 11.]

27. To gather and harvest cotton; provided that the capital stock of such corporation shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars. [Acts 1911, p. 28.]

28. To grow, prepare for market, and sell rice, with power to construct, maintain and operate such dams, reservoirs, lakes, wells, canals, flumes, laterals, and other appurtenances as may be necessary or convenient for the purpose of irrigating. [Acts 1905, p. 28.]

29. To construct and maintain sewers.

Article 1303. [1120] [641] [565] May create.—Private corporations may be created by the voluntary association of three or more persons for the purposes authorized by law and in the manner hereinafter mentioned. [Acts 1874, p. 120; G. L. vol. 8, p. 122; Act 1897, p. 188; P. D. 5935; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1242.]

Art. 1303a. Corporations for handling animals for menageries.—Private corporations may be created under the general laws of this State by the voluntary association of three or more persons for the purpose of owning, raising, selling and leasing animals used in circuses, menageries and zoos, and to buy, lease, own, build, construct, repair and sell wagons, chariots, harnesses, cages and other equipment necessary to and used in the operation of raising and handling animals used in circuses, menageries and zoos, and to own and lease such lands and construct such buildings and improvements as may be necessary for the accomplishment of such purpose. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 266, ch. 187, § 1.]

Art. 1303b. Corporations to deal in securities without banking privileges.—A private corporation may be formed for any one or more of the following purposes, without banking or insurance privileges: to accumulate and loan money, to sell and deal in notes, bonds and securities; to act as Trustee under any lawful express trust committed to it by contract, and as agent for the performance of any lawful act; to subscribe for, purchase, invest in, hold, own, assign, pledge and otherwise deal in and dispose of shares of capital stocks, bonds, mortgages, debentures, notes and other securities or obligations, contracts and evidences of indebtedness of foreign or domestic corporations not competing with each other in the same line of business, to borrow money or issue debentures for carrying out any or all purposes above enumerated. Provided that the power and authority herein conferred shall in no way affect any of the provisions of the anti-trust laws of this State. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 414, ch. 275, § 1.]

Art. 1304. [1122] [643] [567] Charter.—A charter must be prepared setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation;
2. The purpose for which it is formed;

3. The place or places where its business is to be transacted;

4. The term for which it is to exist;

5. The number of directors or trustees, and the names and residences of those who are appointees for the first year;

6. The amount of its capital stock, if any, and the number of shares into which it is divided. [Id.]

Art. 1305. [1123] [644] [568] Acknowledgment.—It must be subscribed by three or more persons, two of whom must be citizens of this State, and must be acknowledged by them, before an officer duly authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds. [Acts 1887, p. 103; Acts 1919, p. 246; G. L. vol. 9, p. 901.]

Art. 1306. [1123] [644] [568] Female incorporators.—Charters may be subscribed by married women who may be stockholders, officers and directors thereof; and their acts, contracts and deeds as such stockholders, officers and directors shall be as binding and effective for all the purposes of said corporation as if they were males. The joinder and consent of the husband and privy examinations separate and apart from him shall not be required. [Id.]

Art. 1307. [1124] [679] [603] Notice by firm.—Whenever any banking, mercantile or other business firm desires to become incorporated without a change of the firm name, such firm shall, in addition to the notice of dissolution required at common law, give notice of such intention to become incorporated, for at least four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published at the seat of State government, and in the county in which such firm has its principal business office, if there be a newspaper in such county, and, if not, then in some newspaper published in some adjoining county. Until such notice has been so published for the full period above named, no change shall take place in the liability of such firm or the members thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1308. [1125–1126–1127] Capital stock.—Before the charter of a private corporation created for profit can be filed by the Secretary of State, the full amount of its authorized capital stock must be in good faith subscribed by its stockholders and fifty per cent thereof paid in cash, or its equivalent in other property or labor done, the product of which shall be worth to the company the actual value at which it was taken or at which the property was received. The affidavit of those who executed the charter shall be furnished to the Secretary of State, showing:

1. The name, residence and postoffice address of each subscriber to the capital stock of such company;

2. The amount subscribed by each, and the amount paid by each;

3. The cash value of any property received, giving its description, location and from whom and the price at which it was received;

4. The amount, character and value of labor done, from whom, and price at which it was received. [Acts 1901, p. 18; Acts 1897, p. 192; Acts 1907, p. 309; G. L. vol. 10, p. 246.]

Art. 1309. [1128] [642] Further evidence.—If the Secretary of State is not satisfied, he may, at the expense of the incorporators, require other satisfactory evidence before he shall be required to receive, file and record such charter. [Id.]

Art. 1310. [1129] [642] Corporations exempt.—Corporations created under subdivisions 48, 67, 68, 71, 72 of Article 1302; corporations formed for the construction, purchase and maintenance of mills and gins, having a capital stock of not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars; mutual building and loan associations; corporations formed for the construction, purchase, maintenance and operation of cotton mills; and waterworks, ice plants, electric light plants and cotton warehouses in cities of less than ten thousand inhabitants, are exempt from the provisions of the two preceding articles. [Id. 3d C. S. 1920, p. 86.]

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art. 1311. [1130] [642] Exempt corporations: stock.—The stockholders of all private corporations such as are designated in the preceding article; with an authorized capital stock under the provisions of this chapter, shall be required to pay in at least one hundred thousand dollars in cash of their authorized capital stock, or to subscribe at least fifty per cent and pay in at least ten per cent of their authorized capital, before they shall be authorized to do business in this State. [Acts 1907, p. 309.]

Art. 1312. [1224] [714] [638] No capital stock.—No society, association, company, corporation or institution that does not have a capital stock is required in its charter to make any statement of the amount of capital stock or amount of each share; but it will suffice if the charter contains the other statements required, and also an estimate of the value of the goods, chattels, lands, rights and credits owned by the corporation.

Art. 1313. [1130-1-2] Filing charter.—When the stockholders of any company shall furnish satisfactory evidence to the Secretary of State of a compliance with the provisions of this chapter, said officer shall receive, file and record the charter of such company in his office, upon application and the payment of all fees therefor, and give his certificate showing the record of such charter and authority to do business thereunder. The charter shall thereupon be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall record the same at length in a book to be kept for that purpose, and retain the original on file in his office. A copy of the charter, or of the record thereof, certified under the great seal of the State, shall be evidence of the creation of the corporation. The existence of the corporation shall date from the filing of the charter in the office of the Secretary of State. The certificate of the Secretary of State shall be evidence of such filing. [Acts 1874, p. 121, sec. 9; P. D. 5940; G. L. vol. 8, p. 123.]

Art. 1314. [1133-4-5] Amendments.—Any private corporation organized or incorporated for any purpose mentioned in this title, may amend or change its charter or act of incorporation by filing, authenticated in the same manner as the original charter, such amendments or changes with the Secretary of State. A corporation created by special Act of the Legislature shall also file with said officer its original charter and such amendments thereto or changes therein, if any, as have been made by special Act of the Legislature; and the same shall be recorded by the Secretary of State, followed by the proposed amendments or changes thereof. Such amendments or changes shall take effect and be in force from the date of the filing thereof. The certificate of the Secretary of State shall be evidence of such filing. No amendment or change violative of the Constitution or laws of this State or any provision of this title or which so changes the original purpose of such corporation as to prevent the execution thereof, shall be of any force or effect. [Acts 1874, sec. 10, p. 120; G. L. vol. 8, p. 122; Acts 1903, p. 227.]

Art. 1315. [1136] [651] Renewal of charter.—Corporations created for the support of benevolent, charitable, educational or missionary undertakings, the support of any literary or scientific undertaking, the maintenance of a library, or the promotion of painting, music or other fine arts, whose charter has expired by limitation, may revive such charter with all the privileges and immunities and rights of property, real and personal, exercised and held by it at the date of the expiration of its said charter, by filing, with the consent of a majority of its stockholders, a new charter under the provisions of this chapter, reciting therein such original privileges and immunities and rights of property, and by filing therewith a certified copy of such original expired charter. [Acts 1874, p. 120; G. L. vol. 8, p. 122; Acts 1883, p. 98; G. L. vol. 9, p. 404; Acts 1907, p. 301; Acts 1909, p. 226; P. D. 5942.]

Art. 1316. [1137] [651] Consolidation.—Any two or more of such corporations may revive and consolidate their charters under a new corporate name, or under the name of either, with all privileges, immunities and rights of property, real and personal, enjoyed by each at the date of the expiration of their several charters, by, in like manner, filing a charter, which shall recite the facts of consolidation, accompanied by certified copies of said original charters; provided the provisions thereof shall not be construed to relieve any corporation from the payment of occupation taxes, now or hereafter required by law. [Id.]

Art. 1317. [1138] [675] [599] Ostensible corporation: debt.—No person who assumes an obligation to an ostensible corporation as such, shall resist the enforcement of such obligation, on the ground that there was in fact no such corporation, until that fact shall have been adjudged in a direct proceeding had for that purpose.

Art. 1318. [1139] [650] [574] Legislative authority.—All charters or amendments to charters, under the provisions of this chapter, shall be subject to the power of the Legislature to alter, reform or amend the same. [Act April 23, 1874, p. 120; G. L. vol. 8, p. 122.]

Article 1319. [1117-18-19] Corporations classified.—Corporations are either public or private. A public corporation is one which has for its object the government of a portion of the State. Private corporations are of three kinds:

1. Religious.
2. For charity or benevolence.
3. For profit. [Acts 1874, p. 120; G. L. vol. 8, p. 122.]

Art. 1320. [1140] [651] [575] General powers.—Every private corporation as such has power:

1. To have succession by its corporate name for the period limited in its charter, not to exceed fifty years, and when no period is limited, for twenty years.
2. To maintain and defend judicial proceedings.
3. To make and use a common seal.
4. To purchase, hold, sell, mortgage or otherwise convey such real estate and personal estate as the purposes of the corporation shall require, and also to take, hold and convey such other property, real, personal, or mixed, or [as] shall be requisite for such corporation to acquire in order to obtain or secure the payment of any indebtedness or liability due, or belonging to, the corporation.

5. To appoint and remove subordinate officers and agents as the business of the corporation shall require, and to allow them a suitable compensation.

6. To make by-laws not inconsistent with existing laws, for the management of its property, the regulation of its affairs and the transfer of its stock.

7. To enter into any obligation or contract essential to the transaction of its authorized business.

8. To increase or diminish, by a vote of its stockholders cast as its by-laws may direct, the number of its directors or trustees, to be not less than three nor more than twenty-one; provided, that any corporation formed under Subdivisions 1, 2 and 3, of Chapter 1, may increase the number of its directors or trustees to not more than seventy-five. [Acts 1874, p. 120; G. L., vol. 8, p. 122; Acts 1907, p. 301; Acts 1909, p. 225; Acts 1923, p. 261.]

Art. 1321. [1162] [653] [577] May borrow money.—Corporations may borrow money on the credit of the corporation and may execute bonds or promissory notes therefor and may pledge the property and income of the corporation. [Acts 1874, p. 120; G. L. vol. 8, p. 122; Acts 1883, p. 98; G. L. vol. 9, p. 404; Acts 1917, p. 66.]

Art. 1322. [1173] [676] [600] Conveyances.—Any corporation may convey lands by deed, sealed with the common seal of the corporation, and signed by the president or presiding member or trustee of said corporation, or in common form without seal by its attorney in fact where the instrument constituting such attorney in fact is executed in said manner first mentioned. Such deed, when acknowledged by such officer or attorney in fact to be the act of the corporation, or proved in the manner prescribed for other conveyances of lands, may be recorded in like manner and with the same effect as other deeds. [Acts 1905, p. 230.]

Art. 1323. [1153] [655] [579] Directors: quorum.—A majority of the directors or trustees shall constitute a quorum, and be competent to fill vacancies in the board, and to transact all business of the corporation. An annual election shall be held for directors or trustees, at such time and place as the by-laws of the corporation may require. Provided that any corporation formed under subdivisions 1, 2 and 3 of Chapter 1, Title 32 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925 may elect all or a part of its directors for terms of not exceeding three years. [Acts 1907, p. 311, sec. 15; P. D. 5946; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 349, ch. 235, § 1.]

Section 2 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 349, ch. 235, repeals all conflicting laws and parts of laws.

Art. 1324. [1157] [659] [583] Failure to elect officers.—Should an election for directors not be held on the day appointed by the by-laws of any corporation organized under any law of this State, such corporation shall not, for that reason, be deemed to be dissolved. It shall be lawful on any other day to hold a meeting and elect its directors or trustees, in such manner as shall be prescribed by the by-laws thereof. [Id., sec. 19; P. D. 5950.]

Art. 1325. [1154] [656] [580] Officers.—The directors or trustees shall choose one of their number president, and shall appoint a secretary and treasurer and such other officers as they may deem necessary for the corporation. [Id., sec. 16.]

Art. 1326. [1155] [657] [581] By-laws.—The directors may adopt by-laws for the government of the corporation. Such by-laws may be altered, changed or amended by a majority vote of the stockholders at any election or special meeting ordered for that purpose by the directors or trustees, on a written application of a majority of the stockholders or members. [Id.]

Art. 1327. [1159] [661] [585] Directors' powers.—The directors shall have the general management of the affairs of the corporation, and may dispose of the residue of the capital stock at any time remaining unsubscribed, in such manner as the by-laws may prescribe. [Id., sec. 21.]

Art. 1328. [1160] [662] [586] Records.—They shall cause a record to be kept of all stock subscribed and transferred, and of all business transactions. Their books and records shall at all reasonable times be open to the inspection of any stockholder. [Id.]

Art. 1329. [1161] [663] [587] Dividends.—They shall, when required by one-third of the stockholders, present written reports of the situation and amount of business of the corporation, and declare and make such dividends of the profits from the business of the corporation as they shall deem expedient, or as the by-laws may prescribe. [Id.]

Art. 1330. [1145] [652] [576] Increase of capital.—The board of directors, trustees or managers of a corporation may increase its authorized capital when empowered to do so by a two-thirds vote of all its stock by complying with the provisions of Article 1348. Upon such increase of stock being made in accordance with such provisions and certified to the Secretary of State by the directors, and, if the Secretary of State is satisfied that the increase has been made in accordance with law and that the requirements of law have been complied with as to the subscription and payment of stock and in other respects, as on an original application for charter, he shall file such certificate of increase; and thereupon the same shall become a part of the capital stock of such corporation. Such certificate shall be filed and recorded in the same manner as the charter. [Id.; Acts 1893, p. 123; G. L. vol. 10, p. 553.]

The reference in this article to art. 1348 is erroneous, and was evidently intended for art. 1308.

Art. 1331. [1151] [652] Unpaid increase.—In case of failure by the stockholders to pay the unpaid portion of an increase of stock within two years from the date of the filing of the certificate of increase in the office of the Secretary of State, the charter of such company shall be forfeited, and the provisions of Articles 1339 to 1343 inclusive, shall govern the same as in case of the creation of a corporation. [Acts 1907, p. 311.]

Art. 1332. [1152] [652] Decrease of capital.—A corporation may decrease its capital stock by such amount as its stockholders may decide, by a two-thirds vote of all its outstanding stock, in like manner as is required for an increase. No such decrease shall prejudice the rights of any creditor of such corporation in any claim or cause of action such creditor may have against the company, or any stockholder thereof. Such decrease shall not become effective until full proof is made by affidavit of the directors to the Secretary of State of the financial condition of such corporation, giving therein all its assets and liabilities, with names and postoffice addresses of all creditors and amount due each; and the Secretary of State may require, as a condition precedent to the filing of such certificate of decrease, that the debts of such corporation be paid or reduced. [Id.]

Art. 1333. Reduction: voting.—Whenever any corporation shall reduce its capital stock, and by reason thereof fractional shares of its stock shall be issued to or held by any of its stockholders, the holder of any such fractional share shall be entitled to vote the same at any meeting of the stockholders in accordance with the proportionate or ratable value of such shares. [Acts 1919, p. 173.]

Art. 1334. [1168] [666] [590] Stock, status of.—The stock of any corporation created under this title shall be deemed personal estate, and shall be transferable only on the books of the corporation in such manner as the by-laws may prescribe. [Acts 1907, p. 312, P. D. 5955.]

Art. 1335. [1169] [667] [591] Payment of stock.—The board of directors of any corporation may require the subscribers to the capital stock of the corporation to pay the amount by them respectively subscribed, in such manner, and in such installments, as may be required by the by-laws. [Id.]

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art. 1336. [1170] [668] [592] Stock forfeited.—If any stockholder shall neglect to pay any installment as required by the board of directors, the directors may declare his stock and all previous payments forfeited to the use of the company; but no stock shall be forfeited until the directors have caused a written notice to be served on him personally, or by depositing the same in the postoffice, properly directed to him at the postoffice nearest his usual place of residence, stating that he is required to make such payment at the time and place specified in said notice, and that if he fails to make the same, his stock and all previous payments thereon will be forfeited for the use of the company. Such notice may be served at least thirty days previous to the day on which such payment is required to be made. [Id.]

Art. 1337. [1171] [669] [593] May sue members.—All bodies corporate may sue for, recover and receive from their respective members all arrears or other debts, dues or demands owing to them, in like mode, manner and form as they might sue for, recover and receive the same from any person not a member of their body. [Id.]

Art. 1338. [1141] [642] Unpaid stock.—The stockholders of all corporations chartered under the provisions of the preceding chapter shall, within two years from the date of the filing of such charter, pay in the unpaid portion of the capital stock of such company; proof of which shall, within said time, be made to the Secretary of State, in the manner provided in said articles, for the filing of charters. [Acts 1907, p. 309.]

Art. 1339. [1142] [642] Default of payment.—In cases of the failure to pay the unpaid portion of capital stock, and to make proof thereof to the Secretary of State within two years from the date of the filing of the charter, the charter of such company shall become forfeited. Such forfeiture shall be consummated without judicial ascertainment by the Secretary of State entering upon the margin of the ledger kept in his office relating to such corporations the word, "forfeited," giving the date and reason therefor. [Id.]

Art. 1340. [1143] [642] Forfeiture notice.—The Secretary of State shall notify such corporation by mailing to the postoffice named as its principal place of business, or to any other place of business of such corporation, addressed in its corporate name, a written or printed statement of the date and fact of such forfeiture. A record of the date and fact of such notice shall be kept by such officer. [Id.]

Art. 1341. [1143] [642] Redemption.—The stockholders of any such corporation whose charter has been so forfeited, who shall within six months from the date of such forfeiture and not thereafter, pay in full the unpaid capital of such company and furnish to the Secretary of State proof of such fact as required herein, and in addition, shall pay the Secretary of State as fees belonging to his office, the sum of five dollars per month for each month and fractional part thereof between the date of forfeiture and settlement, shall be relieved from such forfeiture; and said officer shall write on the margin of said ledger the word "revived," giving the date thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1342. [1144] [642] Avoidance of forfeiture.—The stockholders of any such company shall have the right, at any time within two years from the date of filing of the charter, to make payment of the unpaid portion of the capital stock, to reduce the same so that by reduction, or reduction and payment, the full amount of the capital stock authorized by such reduction shall be paid, and thus avoid a forfeiture of the charter. No creditor of said company shall in any wise be prejudiced by such reduction of its capital stock in any claim or cause of action such creditor may have against such company or any stockholder or officer thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1343. [1144] [642] Failure to revive.—If the stockholders fail to cause the charter powers of said corporation to be revived, the affairs of such company shall be administered and wound up as on dissolution. [Id.]

Art. 1344. [552] Liable for debt.—If default shall be made in the payment of any debt or liability contracted by a trust, guaranty or surety company, each stockholder thereof, as long as he owns shares therein, and for twelve months after the date of a transfer thereof, shall be personally liable for all debts or such corporation existing at the date of such default or transfer, to an amount double the par value of such shares. [Acts 1905, S. S. p. 511.]

Art. 1345. [1198] [671] [595] Stockholders' liability.—If execution has issued against the property of a corporation, except a railway or a religious or charitable corporation, and there cannot be found any property whereon to levy such execution, then the execution may be issued against any of the stockholders to an extent equal to the amount of the stock unpaid. No execution shall issue against any stockholder, except upon an order of the court in which the suit or other proceeding was instituted, made in open court upon motion after a reasonable written notice to the person or persons sought to be charged. Upon such motion, such court may order execution to issue accordingly; or the plaintiff in execution may proceed by action to charge the stockholders with the amount of his judgment, in accordance with the liability of the stockholders. [Acts 1874, p. 120; G. L. vol. 8, p. 122.]

Art. 1346. [1199] [672] [596] Lists of stockholders.—The secretary or other officer having charge of the books of any corporation, on demand of the plaintiff in any execution against the corporation, his agent or attorney, shall furnish such plaintiff, his agent or attorney, with the name and place of residence of each stockholder as far as known, and the amount of stock held by each, as shown by such books. [Id.]

Art. 1347. [1200] [670] [594] Directors' liability.—If the directors of any corporation shall knowingly declare and pay any dividend when the corporation is insolvent, or any dividend the payment of which would render it insolvent, they shall be jointly and severally liable for all the debts of the corporation then existing, and for all debts of the corporation which thereafter, during the time such directors respectively remain in office, shall be contracted. The amount for which they shall be so liable shall not exceed the amount of such dividend. If any director is absent at the time of declaring the dividend, or shall object thereto at the time such dividend is declared and shall file his objections in writing with the secretary or other officer of the corporation having charge of the books, he shall be exempt from said liability. [Id.; Acts 1871, 2nd C. S. p. 66; Acts 1893, p. 123; G. L. vol. 7, p. 68; vol. 10, p. 553.]

Art. 1348. [1165] [665] [589] Indebtedness.—No corporation, domestic or foreign, doing business in this State shall create any indebtedness whatever except for money paid, labor done which is reasonably worth at least the sum at which it was taken by the corporation, or property actually received reasonably worth at least the sum at which it was taken by the corporation. [Acts 1907, p. 312.]

Art. 1349. [1164] [665] [589] Acts prohibited.—No corporation, domestic or foreign, doing business in this State, shall employ or use its stock, means, assets or other property, directly or indirectly for any purpose whatever other than to accomplish the legitimate business of its creation, or those purposes otherwise permitted by law; provided that nothing in this article shall be held to inhibit corporations from contributing to any bona fide association, incorporated or unincorporated, organized for and actively engaged for one year prior to such contribution in purely religious, charitable or eleemosynary activities, nor to local, district, or statewide commercial or industrial clubs or associations or other civic enterprises or organizations not in any manner nor to any extent directly or indirectly engaged in furthering the cause of any political party, or aiding in the election or defeat of any candidate for office, or aiding in defraying the expenses of any candidate for office, or defraying or aiding in defraying the expenses of any political campaign, or political headquarters, or aiding or assisting the success or defeat of any question to be voted upon by the qualified voters of this State or any subdivision thereof. [Acts 1917, p. 25.]

Art. 1350. [1166] Campaign expenditures.—No corporation, domestic or foreign, doing business in this State shall, directly or indirectly, contribute or pay any part of its assets, property or funds to any political party, or to any officer or campaign manager of any political party, or to any person whatsoever, for or on account of such party, nor to any candidate for any office, before or after nominations are made, or to aid in defraying the expenses of any candidate for office, or to any person for or on account of aid in defraying the expenses of a candidate for office, or to any person whatsoever for or on account of aid in maintaining or defraying the expenses of any campaign or political headquarters, or to any person whatsoever for or on account of the success or defeat of any question to be voted upon by the qualified voters of this State or any subdivision thereof. [Acts 1907, p. 312.]

Art. 1351. [1167] Penalty.—Any corporation which shall violate any provision of the three preceding articles, shall, on proof thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, forfeit its charter, permit or license, and all rights and franchises which it holds under, from or by virtue of the laws of this State.

Whenever it appears that the money, assets, property or funds of a corporation have been issued, paid out, or used, in violation of any provision of the three preceding articles, by any agent, attorney, director or officer of such corporation, it shall be considered the act of the corporation, unless, within one year from the date of such violation it has caused to be entered, through its board of directors on its records in this State, an order repudiating the wrong and permanently dismissing from its service all persons directly or indirectly connected with such violation. [Id.]

Art. 1352. Political contributions.—No national bank, or any other corporation organized by authority of any law of Congress, and doing business in this State, or authorized to do business in this State, or any other corporation organized by the authority of the laws of this State, or of any foreign country, or any corporation authorized by the authority of the laws of any other State of the United States, doing business in this State, or authorized to do business in this State, shall make any money contribution, or its equivalent, or offer to pay at any future time any money, or its equivalent, directly or indirectly, for the purpose of aiding or defeating the election of any candidate for the office of Representative in Congress, or Presidential or Vice-Presidential Electors from this State, or any candidate for any State, district, county or precinct office in this State, or the success or defeat of any political measure submitted to a vote of the people of this State. Every corporation which shall make, or offer to make, any contribution in violation of the provisions of this article shall be subject to a penalty payable to the State of Texas of not less than five thousand nor more than ten thousand dollars for each offense. [Acts 1907, p. 169.]

Art. 1353. [1146] Watering stock.—No corporation shall issue any stock whatever, except for money paid, labor done which is reasonably worth at least the sum at which it was taken by the corporation, or property actually received reasonably worth at least the sum at which it was taken by the company. Any corporation which violates any provision of this article shall, on proof thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, forfeit its charter, permit or license, as the case may be, and all rights and franchises which it holds under, from, or by virtue of the laws of this State. [Acts 1907, p. 309.]

Art. 1354. [1147] Suit.—When any corporation has issued and has outstanding any stocks or bonds given or issued for any purpose, other than money paid to, labor done for, or property actually received by the corporation, the Attorney General when convinced that the facts exist which authorize the action, shall institute quo warranto or other appropriate judicial proceedings in Travis County or in any other county of this State where such corporation may be sued, to have such stocks or bonds issued in violation of the Constitution or laws of Texas, cancelled, expunged, and held for naught.

Within the meaning of the above, is included any bond or stock given in renewal, or in lieu of, any originally issued for purposes other than those mentioned above, also any issued by any corporation with which the corporation originally issuing any such stock or bonds has merged or been consolidated and given by said issuing corporation in the place of those originally issued for purposes other than as mentioned above. [Id.]

Art. 1355. [1148] Avoidance of suit.—If any suit authorized under the preceding article has been instituted, the same shall be dismissed at the cost of the defendant, or if not instituted, no action shall be brought, if the defendant corporation shall surrender, or cause to be surrendered, to the court, or to the Railroad Commission of Texas, for destruction, all such illegal stocks and bonds complained of, with proper and legal releases thereof, suitably executed for record, with such other written evidences and documents as may be necessary to show that such stocks or bonds are no longer outstanding against the corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1356. [1149] Remedies cumulative.—The rights and remedies given by the two preceding articles are cumulative, and shall not affect, change or repeal any other remedies or rights now existing in this State for the enforcement, payment, or collection of fines, forfeitures and penalties. [Id.]

Art. 1357. [1172] [674] [598] Misnomer.—No misnomer of any corporation shall defeat or vitiate any gift, grant, conveyance, devise, or bequest to the same. [Acts 1907, p. 312.]

Art. 1358. [1174] [673] [597] Principal office.—Each corporation or joint stock company of every description, whether organized and acting under a special charter or general law of this State, shall keep its principal office within this State. [Acts 1905, p. 230.]

CHAPTER FOUR

LANDS

- Art.
1359. Conditions of purchase.
1360. Sale of surplus.
1361. Liquidation.
1362. Corporations prohibited.
1363. Town lot corporations.
1364. Escheat proceedings.
1365. Disposition of penalties.

Article 1359. [1175] Conditions of purchase.—No private corporation shall be permitted to purchase any lands under any provision of this chapter, unless the lands so purchased are necessary to enable such corporation to do business in this State, or except where such land is purchased in due course of business to secure the payment of debt. [Acts 1893, p. 36; Acts 1897, p. 48; G. L. vol. 10, pp. 466, 1102.]

Art. 1360. [1176] Sale of surplus.—All private corporations authorized by the laws of Texas, to do business in this State, whose main purpose is not the acquisition or ownership of lands, which have or may acquire by lease, purchase or otherwise more land than is necessary to enable them to carry on their business, shall, within fifteen years from the date said land may be acquired, in good faith sell and convey in fee simple all lands so acquired which are not necessary for the transaction of their business. [Id.]

Art. 1361. [1178] Liquidation.—Any lands acquired by corporations in payment of debts due such corporations shall be sold and conveyed as herein provided, within fifteen years from the date of the acquisition of such land. [Id.]

Art. 1362. [1177] Corporations prohibited.—No private corporation heretofore or hereafter chartered or created whose main purpose of business is the acquisition or ownership of land by purchase, lease or otherwise, shall hereafter be permitted to acquire any land within this State by purchase, lease or otherwise. [Id.]

Art. 1363. [1179] Town lot corporations.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit the lease, purchase, sale or subdivision of real property within incorporated towns, cities or villages, and their suburbs not extending more than two miles beyond their corporate limits, by corporations whose charters authorize them to lease, purchase, sell and subdivide real estate, within towns, cities and villages, and their suburbs, whether their suburbs be stated to be measured from the limits merely, or the corporate limits, of such towns, cities and villages. All such corporations now existing, or which may be hereafter created shall be authorized to lease, sell or subdivide real property in any unincorporated city, town or village, or the suburbs thereof, within this State, not exceeding two miles in any direction from the courthouse, or depot nearest the center of such city, town or village, or from the center thereof, if there be no courthouse or depot. [Id.]

Art. 1364. [1180] Escheat proceedings.—All corporations holding lands contrary to the provisions of this law shall hold the same subject to forfeiture and escheat proceedings. The Attorney General, or any district or county attorney, when either of them has reason to believe that any corporation is holding lands in violation of this law, shall institute suit in the name of the State of Texas, in Travis County, or in any county in Texas where such corporation may have an agent, or in any county where any part of the land may be situated, against such corporation, as is provided for the escheat of estates of deceased persons dying without devise thereof and having no heirs. [Acts 1893, p. 36; G. L. vol. 10, p. 466.]

Art. 1365. [1181] Disposition of penalties.—If it be determined upon the trial of said suit that lands are held contrary to this law, the court trying said cause shall enter judgment condemning such lands and ordering them to be sold as under execution, the proceeds of such sale to be first applied to the payment of costs of such suit, and the balance to be paid into the State Treasury subject to be paid to the stockholders, or persons entitled to receive the same as owners, upon proper proof made within twelve months from date of sale. If the legal representatives of such corporation fail to claim the said balance of money realized on sale of said land, then it shall escheat to the State and be applied to the available school fund. The court trying said cause shall allow the attorney representing the State a reasonable fee, to be taxed as cost in the suit. In no case shall the State be liable for costs or fees unless it is successful in said suit. [Id.]

CHAPTER FIVE

BOOKS, RECORDS, ETC.

- Art.
1366. Examination.
1367. Request to examine.
1368. Authority to examine.
1369. Disclosures.
1370. Penalty.
1371. Provisions cumulative.

Article 1366. [1187] Examination.—Every corporation, domestic or foreign, doing business in Texas, shall permit the Attorney General or any of his authorized assistants or representatives, to make examination of all the books, accounts, records, minutes, letters, memoranda, documents, checks, vouchers, telegrams, constitution and by-laws, and other records of said corporation as often as he may deem necessary. [Acts 1907, p. 34.]

Art. 1367. [1187] Request to examine.—A written request shall be made to the president or other officer of said corporation at the time the Attorney General or his assistants desire to examine the business of said corporation. It shall be the duty of the officer or agent of any corporation to whom said request is presented to immediately permit the Attorney General, or his authorized assistant or representative to inspect and examine all the said books, records and other documents of said corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1368. [1188] Authority to examine.—The Attorney General, or any of his assistants or representatives when authorized by the Attorney General, has the power and authority to make investigation into the organization, conduct and management of any corporation authorized to do business within this State, and has authority to inspect and examine any of its said books, records and other documents, and take such copies thereof as in his judgment may show or tend to show that said corporation has been or is engaged in acts or conduct in violation of its charter rights and privileges, or in violation of any law of this State. [Id.]

Art. 1369. [1188] Disclosures.—The Attorney General, or his authorized assistants or representatives shall not make public, or use said copies or any information derived in the course of said examination of said records or documents, except in the course of some judicial proceedings in which the State is a party, or in a suit by the State to cancel the permit or forfeit the charter of such corporation, or to collect penalties for a violation of the laws of this State, or for information of any officer of this State charged with the enforcement of its laws. [Id.]

Art. 1370. [1189–1190] Penalty.—Any foreign corporation doing business in Texas under a permit granted under the laws of this State, or any officer or agent thereof, or any domestic corporation which shall fail or refuse to permit the Attorney General, or his authorized representative or representatives, to examine or take copies of any of its said books, records, and other documents whether same be situated within this or any other State within the United States, shall thereby forfeit its right to do business in this State; and its permit or charter shall be canceled or forfeited. [Id.]

Art. 1371. [1192] Provisions cumulative.—The provisions of this chapter shall be cumulative of all other laws now in force in this State, and shall not be construed as repealing any other means afforded by law for securing testimony or inquiring into the charter rights and privileges of corporations. [Id.]

CHAPTER SIX

LIENS FOR FINES, ETC.

- Art.
1372. Law violations.
1373. Lien, notice.
1374. Abatement of suit.
1375. Receiver.
1376. Rights of State.
1377. Foreclosure.
1378. Law cumulative.

Article 1372. [1193] Law violations.—Whenever any domestic or foreign corporation in this State shall violate any law of this State, including the law against trusts, monopolies and conspiracies or combinations or contracts in restraint of trade, for the violation of which fines or penalties or forfeitures are provided, all property of such corporation within this State at the time of such violation, or which may thereafter come within this State, shall, by reason of such violation, become liable for such fines or penalties and for costs of suit and costs of collection. [Acts 1907, p. 175.]

Art. 1373. [1193] Lien, notice.—The State of Texas shall have a lien on all such property from the date that suit shall be instituted by the Attorney General or district or county attorney acting under his direction, in any court of competent jurisdiction within this State, for the purpose of forfeiting the charter or canceling the permit of such corporation, or for such fines or penalties. The institution of such suit for such fine, penalties or forfeiture, shall constitute notice of such lien. [Id.]

Art. 1374. [1194] Abatement of suit.—Any action or cause of action for any fine, forfeiture or penalty that the State of Texas has, or may have, against any corporation chartered under the laws of this or any other state, territory or nation, shall not abate or become abated by reason of the dissolution of such corporation, whether voluntary or otherwise, or by the forfeiture of its charter or permit. [Id.]

Art. 1375. [1194] Receiver.—Whenever a corporation, against which the State has instituted suit for forfeiture of its charter or cancellation of its permit or for fines or penalties, shall dissolve in this or any other state, or shall have a judgment rendered against it in this or any other state for the forfeiture of its charter, the court in this State in which such suit is pending shall appoint a receiver for the property and business of such corporation within this State, or that may come or be brought within this State during such receivership; or the court may, in any case wherein the State is suing any such corporation for the forfeiture of its charter, or of its permit to do business in this State, or for fines or penalties, appoint a receiver for such corporation whenever the interest of the State may seem to require such action. [Id.]

Art. 1376. [1194] Rights of State.—The State shall have the right to writs of attachment, garnishment, sequestration or injunction, without bond, to aid in the enforcement of its rights created by this law; and all property not otherwise exempt by law that may come into the possession of any receiver appointed under any provision of this chapter, shall be subject to the lien herein created, and for the payment of any such fine or penalty. [Id.]

Art. 1377. [1195] Foreclosure.—The Attorney General or any district or county attorney acting under his direction, may bring suit in the name of this State for the foreclosure of such lien. In case the suit for foreclosure is brought against any corporation which has dissolved or had a judgment for the forfeiture of its charter or the cancellation of its permit rendered against it, pending any suit by the State of Texas against such corporation for the forfeiture of its charter or cancellation of its permit or for penalties or fines, service may be had upon any person within this State who acted and was acting as agent of any such corporation in this State at the time of such dissolution or forfeiture of charter or cancellation of permit. [Id.]

Art. 1378. [1196] Law cumulative.—The rights and remedies given by this law shall be construed as cumulative of all other laws in force in this State, and shall not affect, change or repeal any other remedies or rights now existing in this State for the enforcement, payment or collection of fines, penalties and forfeitures. [Id.]

CHAPTER SEVEN

INSOLVENT CORPORATIONS

Art.
1379.	Unlawful to operate.
1380.	Attorney General to sue.
1381.	Liquidation.
1382.	May dismiss action.
1383.	Suit to dissolve.
1384.	Permission to sue.
1385.	Examination and notice.
1386.	Provisions cumulative.

Article 1379. [1201] Unlawful to operate.—It shall be unlawful for any insolvent corporation, domestic or foreign, to do business in this State, or to exercise or retain any franchise or permit or charter granted from or by this State. [Acts 1907, p. 341.]

Art. 1380. [1202] Attorney General to sue.—The Attorney General, when convinced that any corporation is insolvent, shall institute quo warranto or other appropriate proceedings to forfeit its charter or cancel its permit. [Id.]

Art. 1381. [1202] Liquidation.—Each district and county attorney shall bring and prosecute the proceedings mentioned in the preceding article whenever directed so to do by the Attorney General. The court trying said cause, after the corporation has been shown to be insolvent, may, in its discretion, appoint a receiver or receivers for said corporation and all its properties, with full power to settle its affairs, collect its outstanding debts and divide the moneys and other properties belonging to said company among the stockholders thereof, after paying the debts due and owing by such corporation, and all expenses incident to the judicial proceedings and receivership. The court may continue the existence of such corporation for three years, and for such further reasonable time as may be necessary to accomplish the objects and purposes of this law. [Id.]

Art. 1382. May dismiss action.—If any suit authorized by this chapter has been instituted, the same shall be dismissed at the cost of the defendant; or, if not instituted, the same shall not be begun, if the defendant corporation, through its stockholders, shall pay off its indebtedness or reduce the same by paying, so that it is relieved of insolvency. [Id.]

Art. 1383. [1203] Suit to dissolve.—Stockholders of any insolvent corporation who own twenty-five per cent of its stock, or creditors of any such insolvent corporation who own twenty-five per cent of its indebtedness, may institute and prosecute a suit for the dissolution of such corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1384. [1203] Permission to sue.—Before such petition is filed by the Attorney General, or under his authority, or by the stockholders or creditors, as provided herein, leave therefor shall be first granted by the judge of the court in which the proceeding is to be instituted. [Id.]

Art. 1385. [1203] Examination and notice.—On presentation of such petition, before granting leave to sue, the judge shall carefully examine the same; and he may also require an examination into the facts; and if it shall be made to appear with reasonable certainty from said petition, or from the petition and facts, that the relief sought should be granted, the judge may grant such relief. On an application for the appointment of a receiver, the corporation proceeded against shall have ten full days notice prior to the day set for the hearing. [Id.]

Art. 1386. [1204] Provisions cumulative.—The rights and remedies given by this chapter are cumulative, and shall not affect, change or repeal any other remedies or rights now existing in this State for the enforcement, payment or collection of fines, forfeitures and penalties. [Id.]

CHAPTER EIGHT

DISSOLUTION OF CORPORATIONS

Art.
1387.	How dissolved.
1388.	Liquidation by officers.
1389.	Extension of existence.
1390.	Effect of dissolution.
1391.	Suit on claim.
1392.	May sue stockholders.
1393.	Apportionment of debt.
1394.	Forced apportionment.
1395.	Extent of liability.

Article 1387. [1205] [680] [604] How dissolved.—A corporation is dissolved:

1. By the expiration of the time limited in its charter.
2. By a judgment of dissolution rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction.
3. Where four-fifths in interest of all the stock outstanding shall vote in favor of a dissolution at a stockholders' meeting called for that purpose on notice signed by a majority of the directors, stating time, place and object of the meeting, served personally or by mail at least thirty days next before the meeting.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

If, at said meeting, four-fifths in interest of all the stockholders of said company shall consent in writing to the dissolution of the corporation, such written consent, together with a list of the directors and officers of the company, giving postoffice address and place of residence of each, certified by the president and secretary and treasurer as a true and correct action of the stockholders, shall be filed with the Secretary of State.

4. When, without a stockholders' meeting, all the stockholders of the corporation consent in writing to a dissolution, the same shall be certified to as above and filed with the Secretary of State. When any such certificate is filed with the Secretary of State, he shall issue a certificate that such consent has been filed and that the corporation is dissolved; and said officer shall so note on the ledger in his office.

5. By forfeiture of its charter without judicial ascertainment under any special provision of law.

6. Where a corporation created under this title or a general law of Texas shall fail to commence active operations within three years after filing its charter with the Secretary of State.

7. Whenever a corporation upon proper judicial ascertainment is found to be insolvent. [Acts 1907, p. 311.]

Art. 1388. [1206-7] Liquidation by officers.—Upon the dissolution of a corporation, unless a receiver is appointed by some court of competent jurisdiction, the president and directors or managers of the affairs of the corporation at the time of its dissolution shall be trustees of the creditors and stockholders of such corporation, with power to settle the affairs, collect the outstanding debts, and divide the moneys and other property among the stockholders after paying the debts due and owing by such corporation at the time of its dissolution, as far as such money and property will enable them after paying all just and reasonable expenses; and for this purpose they may in the name of such corporation, sell, convey and transfer all real and personal property belonging to such company, collect all debts, compromise controversies, maintain or defend judicial proceedings, and exercise full power and authority of said company over such assets and property. Said trustees shall be severally responsible to the creditors and stockholders of such corporation to the extent of its property and effects that shall have come into their hands. [Id.; Acts 1919, 2nd C. S., p. 140.]

Art. 1389. [1206] [682] [606] Extension of existence.—The existence of every corporation may be continued for three years after its dissolution from whatever cause, for the purpose of enabling those charged with the duty, to settle up its affairs. In case a receiver is appointed by a court for this purpose, the existence of such corporation may be continued by the court so long as in its discretion it is necessary to suitably settle the affairs of such corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1390. [1206] [682] [606] Effect of dissolution.—The dissolution of a corporation shall not operate to abate, nor be construed as abating any pending suit in which such corporation is a defendant, but such suit shall continue against such corporation and judgment shall be rendered as though the same were not dissolved. [Id.]

Art. 1391. [1206] [682] [606] Suit on claim.—When no receiver has been appointed for said corporation, suit may be instituted on any claim against said corporation, as though the same had been dissolved, and service of process may be obtained on the president, directors, general manager, trustee, assignee, or other person in charge of the affairs of the corporation at the time it was dissolved, and judgment may be rendered as though the corporation had not been dissolved, and the assets of said corporation shall be liable for the payment of such judgment just as if said corporation had not been dissolved. [Id.]

Art. 1392. [1208] [684] [608] May sue stockholders.—If a corporation, except a railway, charitable or religious corporation, be dissolved leaving debts unpaid, suit may be brought against any person or persons who were stockholders at the time of such dissolution, without joining the corporation in such suit; and if judgment be rendered and execution satisfied, any defendant may sue all who were stockholders at the time of dissolution for the recovery of the portion of such debt for which they were liable.

Art. 1393. [1208] [684] [608] Apportionment of debt.—Execution upon such judgment shall direct the collection to be made from the property of each stockholder respectively. If any number of stockholders defendants in the case shall not have property enough to satisfy his or their portion of the execution, then the amount of deficiency shall be divided equally among all the remaining stockholders, and collections made accordingly, deducting from the amount a sum in proportion to the amount of stock owned by the plaintiff at the time the company dissolved.

Art. 1394. [1209] [685] [609] Forced apportionment.—Any stockholder who pays more than his due proportion of any debt of the corporation may, by suit, compel contribution from the other stockholders.

Art. 1395. [1210] [686] [610] Extent of liability.—No stockholder shall be liable to pay debts of the corporation beyond the amount unpaid on his stock.

1415. Removal.

1. RELIGIOUS AND CHARITABLE

Article 1396. [1212] [713] [637] Powers.—Any religious society, charitable, benevolent, literary or social association (other than colleges, universities, academies or seminaries), and any military or fire company, may, by the consent of a majority of its members become a body corporate under this title, electing directors or trustees, and performing such other things as are directed in the case of other corporations; and when so organized shall have all the powers and privileges, and be subject to all the restrictions in this title contained, for the objects named in the charter, and shall have the same power to make by-laws for the regulation of their affairs as other corporations. [Acts 1899, p. 236.]

Art. 1397. [1158] [660] [584] Secular affairs.—The secular affairs of a religious corporation shall be under the control of a board of trustees, to be elected by the members of such corporation; and the title to all property of any such corporation shall vest in such trustees. [Acts 1907, p. 311.]

Art. 1398. [1213] [713] [637] Spiritual affairs.—The directors or trustees of any corporation under this title shall not usurp or exercise the functions of any officer in charge of the spiritual affairs of any society. [Acts 1899, p. 236.]

Art. 1399. [1214] Lodges.—The grand lodge of Texas, Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Texas, the Grand Commandery of Knights Templars of Texas (Masonic); the grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Texas, and other like institutions and orders organized for charitable or benevolent purposes may, by the consent of their respective bodies expressed by a resolution or otherwise, become bodies corporate under this title. [Id.]

Art. 1400. [1215-18] Lodges: charter.—The incorporation of any such grand lodge shall include all of its subordinate lodges, or bodies holding warrant or charter under such grand body, and each of such subordinate bodies shall have all the rights of other corporations under and by the name given it in such warrant or charter issued by the grand body to which it is attached, such rights being provided for in the charter of the grand body. Such subordinate bodies shall, at all times, be subject to the jurisdiction and control of their respective grand bodies, and subject to have their warrants or charters revoked by such grand body. [Id.]

Art. 1401. [1216] Lodges: trustees.—Such grand bodies and their subordinates may elect their own trustees or directors, or name certain of their officers as such, and perform such other acts as are directed or provided by law in the case of other corporations, and shall have power to make constitutions and by-laws for the government of their affairs. [Id.]

Art. 1402. [1217] Lodges: property.—Such orders, grand and subordinate, shall have the right to acquire and hold such lands and personalty as may be necessary or convenient for sites upon which to erect buildings for their use and occupancy, and for homes and schools for their widows, orphans or aged or decrepit or indigent members, and to sell or mortgage the same, such conveyances to be executed by the presiding officer, attested by the secretary with the seal. The power and authority of such subordinate bodies to sell or to mortgage shall be subject to such conditions as may be from time to time prescribed or established by the grand body to which the subordinate is attached. [Id.]

Art. 1403. [1219] Lodges: demise.—Upon the demise of any subordinate body so incorporated, all property and rights existing in such subordinate body shall pass to, and vest in, the grand body to which it was attached, subject to the payment of all debts due by such subordinate body; but the grand body shall never be liable for any sum greater than the actual cash value of the effects of such subordinate actually received by it, or its authority. [Id.]

Art. 1404. [1220] Lodges: loans.—Any grand body incorporated under this subdivision shall have the right and authority to loan any funds held and owned by it for charitable purposes, for the endowment of any of its institutions, or otherwise, and may secure such loans by taking and receiving liens on real estate, or in such other manner as it may elect. Upon sale of any real estate under such lien, such grand body may become the purchaser thereof, and hold title thereto. [Id.]

Art. 1405. [1221] Lodges: duration.—Any grand body incorporating under this subdivision may provide in its charter for the expiration of its corporate powers at the end of any given number of years; or it may provide in its charter for its perpetual existence, and by its corporate name have perpetual succession of the officers and members. [Id.]

Art. 1406. [1222] Existing lodge.—Any such grand body or subordinate body now having a valid chartered existence may continue under its present charter, or reincorporate under this subdivision. [Id.]

Art. 1407. [1223] Lodges: tax.—Bodies incorporated under this subdivision shall not be subject to, or required to pay a franchise tax. [Id.]

Art. 1408. May affiliate.—Boards of trustees of religious, charitable, educational or eleemosynary institutions may be affiliated with, elected and controlled by a convention, conference or association organized under the laws of this State or another State, whether incorporated or unincorporated, whose membership is composed of representatives, delegates, or messengers from any church or other religious association. [Acts 1923, p. 171.]

Art. 1409. Property rights.—Any religious, charitable, educational or eleemosynary institution organized under the laws of this State may acquire, own, hold, mortgage and dispose of and invest its funds in real and personal property in this State for the use and benefit and under the discretion of, and in trust for, such electing, controlling and parent body in furtherance of the purposes of the organization of the member institution. This article shall not apply to corporations organized for profit. [Id.]

2. EDUCATIONAL

Art. 1410. [1225] [707] [631] Faculty.—The president, professors or principals shall constitute the faculty in academy, college or university corporations, and shall have power to enforce the rules and regulations enacted by the directors or trustees for the government and discipline of the students, and to suspend and expel offenders, as may be deemed necessary. [Acts 1874, p. 135; G. L. vol. 8, p. 137.]

Art. 1411. [1226] [708] [632] Powers of trustees.—The directors or trustees named in the charter of any college, academy, university or other corporation to promote education, and their successors, may make all necessary by-laws, elect and employ officers, provide for filling vacancies, appoint and remove professors, teachers, agents, etc., and fix their compensation, confer degrees, and do and perform all necessary acts to carry into effect the objects of the corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1412. [1227] [709] [633] Property.—Such corporations may procure, to be used as a part of the course of education, shops, tools and machinery, land for agricultural purposes and necessary buildings for carrying on their mechanical and agricultural operations. [Id.]

Art. 1413. [1228] [710] [634] Conversion of property.—Any such corporation may when a majority of its stockholders consent thereto, convert its property, except when held upon some special trust, into stock or scholarships, and file a certificate of their action, as required in the case of an increase of capital stock of a corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1414. [1229] [711] [635] Directors' liability.—The directors of any such corporation, whose property is held not as stock, but upon trust or devise, donation, gift or subscription, shall not contract debts beyond the means of the corporation. If they do contract debts to a larger amount, they shall be held individually liable for the same, after the means of the corporation are exhausted. [Id.]

Art. 1415. [1230] [712] [636] Removal.—Any such corporation, may by a vote of three-fourths of the directors, or if the same is owned in shares of stock, then by three-fourths of the stockholders, change the location and name of the institution, and transfer the effects thereof to the place of the new location, or may apply the property thereof to other purposes of education than those named in the original charter filed with the Secretary of State.

1. TELEGRAPH

Article 1416. [1231] [698] [622] Public ways: use.—Corporations created for the purpose of constructing and maintaining magnetic telegraph lines, are authorized to set their poles, piers, abutments, wires and other fixtures along, upon and across any of the public roads, streets and waters of this State, in such manner as not to incommode the public in the use of such roads, streets and waters. [Acts 1874, p. 132; G. L. vol. 8, p. 134.]

Art. 1417. [1332] [699] [623] Right of way.—They may also enter upon any lands owned by private persons or by a corporation, in fee or less estate, for the purpose of making preliminary surveys and examinations with a view to the erection of any telegraph line, and from time to time appropriate so much of said lands as may be necessary to erect such poles, piers, abutments, wires and other necessary fixtures for a magnetic telegraph, and to make such changes of location of any part of said lines as may from time to time be deemed necessary, and shall have a right of access to construct said line, and when erected, from time to time as may be required, to repair the same, and shall have the right of eminent domain to obtain the right of way and condemn lands for the use of the corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1418. [1233] [700] [624] Competitor: rights.—No corporation shall have power to contract with any owner of land for the right to erect and maintain a telegraph line over his lands to the exclusion of the lines of other companies. [Id.]

Art. 1419. [1234] [701] [625] Interstate lines.—Any corporation created as herein provided may construct, own, use and maintain any line or lines of telegraph, whether wholly within, or wholly or partly beyond the limits of this State. [Id.]

Art. 1420. [1234] [701] [625] Consolidations.—They shall have power to lease or attach to their line or lines other telegraph lines, by lease or purchase, and may join with any other corporation or association in constructing, leasing, owning, using or maintaining their line or lines, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the directors or managers of the respective corporations, and may own and hold any interest in such line or lines, or may become lessees thereof on such terms as the respective corporations may agree. [Id.]

Art. 1421. [1236] [703] [627] Consolidation: powers.—Any telegraph company organized under the laws of this State may, at any regular meeting of the stockholders thereof, by vote of persons holding a majority of shares of the stock of such company, unite or consolidate with any other company or companies organized under the laws of the United States or of any State or territory, by the consent of the company with which it may consolidate or unite; and such company so formed may hold, use and enjoy all the rights and privileges conferred by the laws of Texas on companies separately organized under the provisions of this title, and be subject to the same liabilities. [Id.]

Art. 1422. [1235] [702] [626] Municipal regulation.—The corporate authorities of any city, town or village through which the line of any telegraph corporation is to pass, may, by ordinance or otherwise, specify where the posts, piers or abutments shall be located, the kind of posts that shall be used, the height at which the wires shall be run; and such company shall be governed by the regulations thus prescribed. After the erection of said telegraph lines, the corporate authorities of any city, town or village shall have power to direct any alteration in the erection or location of said posts, piers or abutments, and also in the height at which the wires shall run, having first given such company or its agents opportunity to be heard in regard to such alteration. [Id.]

2. TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH

Art. 1423. Consolidations.—Any person, firm or corporation organized under the laws of Texas owning a local telephone exchange, whether wholly within or partly beyond the State limits, shall have power to purchase and may join with any other individual, firm or corporation in constructing, leasing, owning, using or maintaining any other local telephone exchange, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between such persons, or the directors or managers of the respective corporations, and may own and hold any interest in such local telephone exchange or may become lessees thereof on such terms as the respective persons, firms or corporations may agree. In case of the purchase, lease or acquisition of one local telephone exchange by a company owning another when both systems are operating in the same incorporated city or town, the consent of such city or town shall be secured. [Acts 1913, p. 92.]

Art. 1424. Consolidation: mode.—Any telephone company organized under the laws of Texas owning a local telephone exchange may at any regular meeting of the stockholders thereof by vote of persons holding a majority of shares of the stock of such company, unite or consolidate such local exchange with the local exchange of any other company or companies organized under the laws of the United States, or of any State or territory, by the consent of the company with which it may so consolidate or unite. Such company so formed may hold, use and enjoy all the rights and privileges conferred by the laws of Texas on companies separately organized under the provisions of this title, and be subject to the same liabilities. Where two or more local exchanges are operating in the same incorporated city or town, the consent of such city or town shall be secured for such consolidation. [Id.]

Art. 1425. Consolidation: rates.—In case of the purchase, lease, acquisition or consolidation of one local telephone exchange with another, when both systems are operating in the same incorporated city or town, the rates charged for local telephone service after such consolidation shall not exceed the rate charged by the company charging the lowest rates in such city or town at the time of such purchase, lease, acquisition or consolidation, unless authorized by such city or town. [Id.]

Art. 1426. [1237] Transfer of messages.—All companies and corporations that own or operate telephone or telegraph lines for the purpose of transmitting messages from one point to another, are hereby required to arrange for conversations or transfer of messages as hereinafter provided. [Acts 1907, S. S. p. 462.]

Art. 1427. [1238] Telephone connections.—All persons, companies, firms or corporations doing a telephone business in this State shall be compelled to make physical connections between their toll line at common points, for the transmission of messages or conversations from one line to another. Such connection shall be made through the switchboard of such persons, companies, firms or corporations, if any is maintained at such points, so that persons so desiring may converse from points on one of such lines to points on another. [Id.]

Art. 1428. [1239] Telegraph connections.—Each telegraph company or person, firm, corporation or association engaged in the business of accepting and transmitting messages to and from different points in this State, where the use of a telegraph instrument or instruments is necessary in the conduct of such business, shall, if there be any other persons, firm, corporation or association engaged in such business at the same point or in the same town, city or village, provide means whereby all messages conveyed to such points over the lines of any such companies shall be transferred to the lines of either or all other such companies engaged in such business at such common points, and transmitted to their final destination; and such facilities shall be provided as will guarantee the transfer of such messages in compliance with the provisions of this subdivision. [Id.]

Art. 1429. [1239] Transfers excepted.—In no case shall any message be transferred from one line to another against the will of the company first handling the same, when it is possible for such company to deliver said message direct to the party for whom it is intended by way of the line or lines operated and owned by said company. No telegraph or telephone company shall, under the provisions of this subdivision be compelled to receive from the wires or lines of any other telegraph or telephone company and convey to its final destination any message originating at any point on its own lines. [Id.]

Art. 1430. [1240] Transfer hearing.—The city council in incorporated cities, and the commissioners court at points where there is no city council, shall on application of one hundred resident citizens, or upon its own motion, hear such evidence as they think necessary, and upon a final hearing they shall determine whether or not it would be necessary for public convenience, and just to the telephone or telegraph companies, to make such connection or arrange for the transfer of messages; whereupon they shall enter of record their findings, and shall also set out in their order the conditions upon which such arrangements for conversation or transfer of messages shall be made, and shall decide what proportion of expense shall be paid by each of said connecting lines. [Id.]

Art. 1431. [1241] Penalty.—Whenever the city council or commissioners court shall enter an order in compliance with Arts. 1428 and 1429 requiring telephone or telegraph companies to arrange for conversation or transfer of messages, it shall be compulsory on said company to arrange for such conversation or transfer of messages, and failing to do so, they shall forfeit to the State of Texas on suit by the county or district attorney, the sum of ten dollars for each day they so neglect. The penalty herein assessed shall not be operative against a company which is prevented from making connections as herein required, through the fault or omission of another company, so long as such fault or omission shall cause such failure on its part to so connect. [Id.]

Art. 1432. [1241] Appeals.—Any company ordered to arrange for conversations or to transfer messages between its line and another line as herein provided, shall have the right to appeal from such order to the court having jurisdiction over said matter, and the court shall, if it shall find that appellant had reasonable grounds for prosecuting such appeal, suspend the penalty herein provided for until such appeal is finally determined. [Id.]

3. WATER

Art. 1433. [1004—1282] Privileges.—Any water corporation shall have power to sell and furnish such quantities of water as may be required by the city, town or village where located, for public or private buildings, or for other purposes; and such corporation shall have power to lay pipes, mains and conductors for conducting water through the streets, alleys, lanes and squares in any such city, town or village, with the consent of the governing body thereof, and under such regulations as it may prescribe. When deemed necessary to preserve the public health, any company or corporation chartered under the laws of this State for the purpose of constructing water works or furnishing water supply to any city or town, shall have the right of eminent domain to condemn private property necessary for the construction of supply reservoirs or standpipes for water work. [Acts 1874, p. 134; G. L. vol. 8, p. 136; Acts 1909, p. 8.]

Art. 1434. [1283] [706] [630] Contracts.—The governing body of any city, town or village in which any water corporation shall exist, is hereby authorized to contract with any such corporation for supplying with water the streets, alleys, lots, squares and public places in any such city, town or village. [Acts 1874, p. 134; G. L. vol. 8, p. 136.]

4. GAS AND LIGHT

Art. 1435. Powers.—Gas, electric current and power corporations shall have power to generate, make and manufacture, transport and sell gas, electric current and power to individuals, the public and municipalities for light, heat, power and other purposes, and to make reasonable charges therefor; to construct, maintain and operate power plants and substations and such machinery, apparatus, pipes, poles, wires, devices and arrangements as may be necessary to operate such lines at and between different points in this State; to own, hold and use such lands, right of way, easements, franchises, buildings and structures as may be necessary for the purpose of such corporation. [Acts 1911, p. 228.]

Art. 1436. Right of way.—Such corporation shall have the right and power to enter upon, condemn and appropriate the lands, right of way, easements and property of any person or corporation, and shall have the right to erect its lines over and across any public road, railroad, railroad right of way, interurban railroad, street railroad, canal or stream in this State, any street or alley of any incorporated city or town in this State with the consent and under the direction of the governing body of such city or town. Such lines shall be constructed upon suitable poles in the most approved manner and maintained at a height above the ground of at least twenty-two feet; or pipes may be placed under the ground, as the exigencies of the case may require. [Id.]

Art. 1437. Finances.—Such corporation shall have the right to borrow money, to issue stock and preferred stock, to mortgage its franchises and property to secure the payment of any debt contracted for any of the purposes of such corporation, and shall possess all the rights and powers of corporations for profit in this State, whenever the same may be applicable. [Id.]

Art. 1438. Discrimination.—It shall be unlawful for any such corporation to discriminate against any person, corporation, firm, association or place, in the charge for such gas, electric current or power, or in the service rendered under similar and like circumstances. [Id.]

5. SEWERAGE

Art. 1439. [1284] Eminent domain.—Every company or corporation incorporated under the laws of this State for the purpose of owning, constructing or maintaining a system of sewerage in any city or town in this State, shall be empowered by the exercise of the right of eminent domain, to condemn private property through which to lay, construct and maintain sewer pipes, mains and laterals, and connections, and also private property upon which to maintain vats, filtration [filtration] pipes and other pipes, such property to be used and occupied as a place for ultimate disposition of sewage, in or out of the town or city limits, whenever it be made to appear that the use of any such private property is necessary for the successful operation of such sewer system, and when it also be made to appear that such sewer system is beneficial to the public use, health or convenience. The right of condemnation herein permitted shall not be invoked nor exercised within the corporate limits of the city or town, except as permitted or required by the city or town granting franchise to the company or corporation seeking the right of condemnation. [Acts 1899, p. 263.]

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

6. DEPOSITS

Art. 1440. Deposits for installing service.—Every person, firm, company, corporation, receiver or trustee engaged in the furnishing of water, light, gas or telephone service which requires the payment on the part of the user of such service [of] a deposit of money as a condition precedent to furnishing the same, shall pay six per cent interest per annum on such deposit to the one making same, or to his heirs or assigns, from the time of such deposit, the same to be paid on the first day of January of each year or sooner if such service be discontinued. When such service is discontinued, such deposit, together with any unpaid interest thereon, or such part of such deposit and unpaid interest, not consumed in bills due for such service, shall be returned to such depositor, his heirs or legal representatives. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1923, p. 101.]

7. REPORTS

Art. 1441. [1182] Corporations subject.—Every corporation within this State owning, leasing or operating in this State, in cities or towns of over twenty-five hundred population according to the preceding Federal census, a street railway, electric light or power plant furnishing light or power to the public, gas plant furnishing gas to the public, water plant furnishing water to the public, and sewerage company furnishing sewerage to the public, shall annually on or before the first day of March, file the report hereinafter provided with the Secretary of State, upon blank forms to be furnished by said officer. [Acts 1905, p. 40.]

Art. 1442. [1182] Report.—The report shall show the following facts:

1. The authorized capital stock of such corporation, the amount of such stock that has actually been issued, and how much of such stock actually issued is common, and how much preferred, and how much is due upon unpaid stock.
2. The bonded indebtedness of such corporation, and how many bonds have been actually sold, and the price of such sale, the rate of interest upon such bonds, and when such bonds mature.
3. Any other fixed lien or mortgage upon such property, and the amount thereof.
4. The floating indebtedness of such corporation, including all bills payable of whatever nature.
5. The value of the visible tangible property of such corporation, giving separate values of lands, machinery, buildings, tracks and equipment, and in gross, all bills receivable and cash on hand.
6. The annual cost of operating such corporation, showing under separate items: (a) amount paid for salaries; (b) amount paid for labor; (c) fixed charges including interest, taxes and insurance, giving each separately; (d) amount paid for fuel; (e) amount paid for extensions, repairs and maintenance, giving each separately; (f) amount paid for claims or suits for damages; (g) amount paid for miscellaneous expenses.
7. The annual gross earnings of such corporation, including revenues from every source, showing by separate items amount received by departments, such as amount received for light, sewerage, power, water, gas, street railway fares and tickets. [Id.]

Art. 1443. [1183] Additional reports.—Such corporations shall also make to the Secretary of State, upon blanks furnished by him, reports as to the price charged the public for sewerage, gas, water, light, power, and the price charged per passenger upon street railways, and if such corporations have contracts with cities or towns for furnishing water or light, then, the amount of such charge. [Id.]

Art. 1444. [1184] Sworn reports.—All reports provided for in this subdivision shall be under oath, and shall be made by any officer of the corporation having knowledge of the facts, or its general manager or superintendent. [Id.]

Art. 1445. [1185] Registration.—A true sworn copy of the reports required by this subdivision shall be filed annually on or before the first day of March with the Mayor of the city or town where the corporation has its principal place of business; and there shall also be filed at the same time a true sworn copy of said reports with the county clerk of the county in which such corporation has its principal place of business; and the same shall be by said clerk delivered to the commissioners court. Such reports shall be recorded in a properly indexed book, to be kept for that purpose, and open to the inspection of the public at all times. [Id.]

Art. 1446. [1186] Penalty.—Any corporation which shall for thirty days willfully fail or refuse to file such reports in the manner provided by this subdivision shall forfeit and pay to the State one hundred dollars for each day during which it shall continue in default; which shall be recovered by suit by the Attorney General. [Id.]

TOLL ROADS
1448. 1449. 1450. 1451. 1452. 1453. 1454. 1455. 1456. 1457. 1458. 1459. 1460. 1461. 1462. 1463. 1464. 1465.	Toll road: incorporation. Charter. Examination. Registration. Duration. Charter amendments. Powers. Use of State lands. Private lands. Road construction. Railroad crossings. Public way crossings. Openings. Culverts, etc. Obstruction of streams. Eminent domain. Rules and rates. Use of road.

Article 1447. Charter.—The charter of a road company, in addition to the information required by article 1304, shall state: First, the kind of road intended to be constructed; Second, the places from and to which the road is intended to be run; Third, the counties through which it is intended to be run; Fourth, the estimated length of the road. [Acts 1874, p. 120; G. L. vol. 8, p. 122.]

TOLL ROADS

Art. 1448. Toll road: incorporation.—Any number of persons, not less than five, being subscribers to the stock, may organize themselves into a corporation for the purpose of constructing, building, acquiring, owning, operating and maintaining toll roads within this State by complying with the requirements of this subdivision. No corporation, except one chartered under the laws of this State, shall be authorized or permitted to construct, build, operate, acquire, own or maintain any toll road within this State. [Acts 1913, p. 143.]

Art. 1449. Charter.—The persons proposing to form a toll road corporation shall adopt and sign articles of incorporation, which shall contain, in addition to the general requirements, the following:

1. The terminal points, and the intermediate counties through which it is intended to construct the toll road;
2. The names and places of residence of the several persons forming the association for incorporation; and
3. In what officers the management and control of the corporation shall be vested. [Id.]

Art. 1450. Examination.—The articles of incorporation, when so prepared, adopted and signed, shall be submitted to the Attorney General, who shall carefully examine the same; and, if he finds them to be in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision, and not in conflict with the laws of the United States or of this State, he shall attach thereto a certificate to that effect. [Id.]

Art. 1451. Registration.—When said articles have been examined and certified, the same shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, accompanied by the affidavit of at least three of the directors named in such articles. Such affidavit shall state that the entire amount of the capital stock of such proposed corporation has been in good faith subscribed, and that fifty per cent of the amount subscribed has been actually paid to the directors named in such articles; and the Secretary of State shall cause such affidavit and articles to be recorded in his office, and shall attach a certificate of the fact of such record to said articles, and return the same to such corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1452. Duration.—No toll road corporation shall be formed to continue more than fifty years in the first instance, but such corporation may be renewed from time to time, for periods not longer than fifty years, in the manner provided for the renewal of railroad corporations. [Id.]

Art. 1453. Charter amendments.—Any toll road corporation may amend or change its articles of incorporation in the manner provided by law for railroad corporations. [Id.]

Art. 1454. Powers.—Every toll road corporation organized hereunder shall have the right to construct, build, acquire, own, operate and maintain toll roads between any points within this State. [Id.]

Art. 1455. Use of State lands.—Every such corporation shall have the right of way for its line of road through and over any land belonging to this State, and to use any earth, timber, stone or other material upon any such land necessary to the construction and operation of its road through or over said land. [Id.]

Art. 1456. Private lands.—Every toll road corporation shall have the right to cause such examination and survey for its proposed road to be made as may be necessary to the selection of the most advantageous route, and for such purposes may enter upon the lands or waters of any person or corporation, but subject to responsibility for all damage that may be occasioned thereby. [Id.]

Art. 1457. Road construction.—Every such corporation shall have the right to lay out its road, not exceeding two hundred feet in width, and to construct the same; and for the purpose of cuttings and embankments, to take as much more land as may be necessary for the proper construction and security of its road, and to cut down any standing trees that may be in danger of falling upon or obstructing such road, making compensation in the manner provided by law. [Id.]

Art. 1458. Railroad crossings.—Every such corporation shall have the right to construct its road across any railroad, street railroad or interurban line within this State, which it may intersect or touch; provided that it shall properly fence such crossings, and restore, in other respects, the property thus intercepted or crossed, to its former state. [Id.]

Art. 1459. Public way crossings.—Every such corporation shall have the right to construct its own road across any stream of water, water course, street, highway, plank road, turnpike or canal, which the route of said road shall intersect or touch; but such corporation shall restore the stream, water course, street, highway, plank road, turnpike or canal thus intersected or touched, to its former state, or to such state as not to unnecessarily impair its usefulness, and shall keep such crossings in repair. [Id.]

Art. 1460. Openings.—Every such corporation which may fence its right of way, may be required to make openings or crossings through its fence and over its roadbed every five miles thereof, in the manner provided by law with reference to railroad corporations. [Id.]

Art. 1461. Culverts, etc.—In no case shall any toll road corporation construct its road without first constructing the necessary culverts or sluices, as the natural lay of the land requires, for the necessary drainage thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1462. Obstruction of streams.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to authorize the erection of any bridge or any other obstruction across or over any stream of water navigable by steamboats or sail vessels at the place where any bridge or other obstruction may be proposed to be placed, so as to prevent the navigation of such stream of water. [Id.]

Art. 1463. Eminent domain.—Every toll road corporation shall have and enjoy all of the rights, privileges and immunities conferred by and be subject to each provision of the law relating to the exercise of the right of eminent domain. [Id.]

Art. 1464. Rules and rates.—Every toll road corporation shall have the power to promulgate, by its board of directors, all necessary and reasonable rules and regulations relating to the manner in which traffic shall move over any toll road operated by it, and to refuse the use of such road to any person who shall fail or refuse to abide by such rules and regulations; and shall be empowered to fix and charge tolls for the use of such roads; provided, that such rules and regulations shall not be contrary to law, and that the rate to be charged for each class of vehicle shall be the same to all in each of such classes. [Id.]

Art. 1465. Use of road.—No such corporation shall have the right arbitrarily to refuse the use of such road to any person who shall offer to pay the regular toll therefor, except that such corporation shall be authorized to refuse to permit such road to be used by any vehicle which shall render the same unduly hazardous to the patrons of said road or damaging to the surface thereof, or to any person who shall fail or refuse to abide by the reasonable and necessary traffic regulations promulgated by such corporation. [Id.]

CHAPTER TWELVE

BRIDGES, FERRIES AND CAUSEWAYS

1. CAUSEWAYS

- Art.
1466. Authority to build.
1467. Statement of location.
1468. Priority.
1469. Condemnation of approaches.
1470. Land under water.
1471. Lease of right of way.
1472. Lessee may issue bonds.
1473. Causeway corporations.

2. BRIDGES AND FERRIES

1474. Bridge charter.
1475. Rights of corporation.
1476. Toll rate.
1477. Owner's liability.

1. CAUSEWAYS

Article 1466. Authority to build.—Any person, corporation or association of persons, hereinafter called the owner, may purchase, build, construct, own, maintain and operate a combination bridge, dam, dike, causeway and roadway across any arm of the Gulf of Mexico or inlet thereof, or any of the saltwater bays, wholly within the limits of this State, to provide a causeway, roadway or highway for vehicles, teams, pedestrians, railroads, and for every character of inland transportation. [Acts 1913, p. 331.]

Art. 1467. Statement of location.—Within ninety days after the commencement of construction of such structure, said owner shall file for record with the clerk of the county where the greater part of such structure is situated, a sworn statement showing the location of said proposed structure, the name of the same, the size of the same, the name of the stream, bay or arm of the gulf or inlet thereof, or salt water bay over which it is to be built, the time when the work was commenced and the name of the owner, together with a map showing the location of said structure. [Id.]

Art. 1468. Priority.—The claimant's right to build said structure will relate back to the time of so filing said statement and map, and the first in time shall be the first in right. The filing of said statement and map shall be considered as taking "formal action." [Id.]

Art. 1469. Condemnation of approaches.—Said claimant may acquire by purchase or by the exercise of the right of eminent domain, all necessary approaches to said structure that said claimant deems necessary. [Id.]

Art. 1470. Land under water.—The land under water to be occupied by such structure and approaches thereto is hereby granted absolutely to said claimant, and five hundred feet more on each side of such structure is also granted with the right only to dredge therefrom or beyond same for material for causeways if required in construction and maintenance. [Id.]

Art. 1471. Lease of right of way.—Such owner may lease the right of way over said structure to cities and towns for public utilities owned and operated by them, and to corporations for the constructions by such corporations of railroad tracks over which steam and electric trains and cars may be operated for the transportation of freight and passengers; such right not to be granted in such way as to obstruct or interfere with the use of such structure for pedestrians, teams and vehicles, or to permit a monopoly. Said lease to railroad corporations shall be for such time and on such terms and conditions as the Railroad Commission of Texas may prescribe. Said railroad companies shall only charge for the use of said tracks as a part of the mileage according to statutory rates and the general laws of Texas. [Id.]

Art. 1472. Lessee may issue bonds.—Any corporation so contracting for the right of way over any part of said structure shall have the right to make and enter into any contract with said owner subject to the approval of the Railroad Commission, for the payment to said owner of all sums of money due thereunder, and for this purpose may issue and sell its bonds to the extent of the amount of such corporation's obligations to the said owner. No such bonds shall be issued by any railroad company or other corporation without first obtaining the permission, order and approval of the Railroad Commission. [Id.]

Art. 1473. Causeway corporations.—Corporations may be formed and chartered under the provisions of this law and of this title for the purposes stated in article 1466 hereof. All such corporations shall have full power and authority to make contracts with other persons or corporations conveying to said persons or corporations the right of easement or user of any portion of any such structure, and shall have full power and authority to charge, demand and receive reasonable and just tolls and charges for the use of said portions of said bridge, causeway or roadway, and the same shall be equal, just and uniform to all persons, corporations, cities and towns as herein provided, without discrimination as to the amount charged or delay in handling same. Any such corporation shall be subject to the regulation and control of the Railroad Commission as to all the powers and provisions of this law. [Id.]

2. BRIDGES AND FERRIES

Art. 1474. [1122] [643] [567] Bridge charter.—The charter of a bridge or ferry company, in addition to the general information required by law, shall state the stream intended to be crossed by the bridge or ferry. [Acts 1874, p. 122; G. L. vol. 8, p. 124.]

Art. 1475. [1279] [718] [642] Rights of corporation.—Whenever any person shall file with the Secretary of State any article of association for the erection and maintenance of a bridge or ferry, it shall not be lawful for any other toll-bridge or toll-ferry, to be established on the same stream within the limits specified in said article; provided, that said limits shall not extend more than three miles above and three miles below said bridge or ferry. This article shall not be construed to prohibit bridges and ferries at the crossings of any road on such stream within such limits, declared, either before or after the erection of such bridge or ferry, to be a public road by the commissioners court of the county in which such crossing is situated. [Acts 1874, p. 139; G. L. vol. 8, p. 141.]

Art. 1476. [1280] [719] [643] Toll rate.—All charges or tolls for crossing any bridge or ferry shall be regulated by the commissioners court by an order made at a regular term, and spread upon the minutes of said court, as provided in the case of other bridges and ferries. [Id.]

Art. 1477. [1281] [720] [644] Owner's liability.—All persons or corporate companies owning any toll bridge or ferry shall be liable for all damages caused by neglect, delay or the insufficiency of their bridge or ferry boat, which damages may be recovered by suit therefor. [Id.]

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

CHANNEL AND DOCK

Art.

- 1478. Purposes.
- 1479. Powers.
- 1480. Docks: powers.
- 1481. Further powers.
- 1482. Rate control.

Article 1478. [1249] [721] Purposes.—This chapter includes corporations created for the purpose of constructing, owning and operating deep water channels from the waters of the Gulf of Mexico along and across any of the bays on the coast of this State to the mainland, for the purposes of navigation and transportation, and for the construction, owning and operating of docks on the coast of this State for the protection and accommodation of ships, boats and all kinds of vessels for navigation, and their cargoes. [Acts 1887, p. 91; G. L. vol. 9, p. 889.]

Art. 1479. [1250] [722] Powers.—Every such channel corporation shall, in addition to the powers herein conferred, have power:

1. To cause such examination and survey for its proposed channel to be made as may be necessary to the selection of the most advantageous route for such purpose, by its officer, agents or servants; to enter upon any of the waters of such bays and upon any of the lands of this State, or of any person.

2. To take and hold voluntary grant of real estate and other property as shall be made to it to aid in the construction and maintenance of its deep water channel and works pertinent thereto.

3. To construct its channel across, along, through, or upon, any of the waters of the bays within the jurisdiction of this State, and so far into the main land as may be necessary to reach a place for its docks that will afford security from cyclones, storms, swells or tidal waves, with such depth as may suit its convenience and the wants of navigation, not less than five feet, and a width of not less than forty feet.

4. To furnish to vessels and boats adapted to the purpose, facilities for navigating in and along the entire length of its channel, and to charge and collect a toll therefor, to be prescribed by its by-laws, in no case to exceed one cent per barrel bulk of the capacity of each vessel for each mile of the length of its channel used by the vessel going either way.

5. To borrow such sums of money as may be necessary for constructing, finishing, or operating its channel, and to issue and dispose of its bonds, for any amount so borrowed, and to mortgage its corporate property and franchises to secure the payment of any debt contracted for the purposes aforesaid; provided, that damages for any property appropriated by such corporation shall be assessed and paid for as is provided for in case of railroads.

6. To enter upon and condemn and appropriate any lands of any persons or corporation that may be necessary for the uses and purposes of such channel corporation. No damages shall be assessed against or paid by it for any portion of the route of the channel embraced within and covered by the waters of any bay or lake on the coast of this State, nor for any portion of any island belonging to the State that may be requisite and necessary to the construction and successful operation of its channel; and provided, that its right of way shall not be less than the actual width of its channel, and not more than seven hundred feet in width on each side of its channel. When the land sought to be condemned is arable land, such right of way shall not extend farther than six hundred feet on each side of the channel from the edge or boundary of said channel.

7. To construct, own, and operate its channel so far into the waters of the Gulf of Mexico as may be necessary to obtain an adequate depth of water at its gulf entrance to facilitate the ingress and egress of such vessels as may navigate the same, in so far as this State may have the power to grant such right, which shall be in subordination to that of the United States government, in so far as that government has the constitutional power to control the same. [Acts 1874, p. 134; G. L. vol. 8, p. 136; Acts 1887, p. 91; G. L. vol. 9, p. 889; Acts 1895, p. 185; Acts 1897, p. 19; G. L. vol. 10, pp. 915, 1073.]

Art. 1480. [1251] [723] Docks: powers.—Every such dock corporation shall in addition to the powers heretofore conferred, have power:

1. To purchase, take and hold such land or real estate as shall be necessary for the construction and operation of its docks, approaches, entrances, moorings and ways, and the construction, use and enjoyment of such warehouses, stores and sheds as may be necessary to the receiving and discharging of freights, goods, wares and merchandise, and the proper protection and preservation thereof. No such dock corporation shall ever have the right or power to take or condemn to its use any private property without the free consent of the owner thereof, expressed by a sufficient deed in writing.

2. To construct its dock or docks in such manner and of such size and depth as it may deem proper to suit the convenience of such vessels as may see fit to use and occupy the same, and to collect from the vessels using the same, or from their masters, owners or consignees, such sum for the use thereof as may be authorized by its by-laws and agreed to by such masters, owners or consignees.

3. To borrow such sums of money as may be necessary for constructing, completing or operating its dock or docks, and to issue and dispose of its bonds for such amount borrowed, and to mortgage its corporate property and franchises to secure the payment of any debt contracted for the purposes aforesaid. [Acts 1887, p. 91; G. L. vol. 9, p. 889.]

Art. 1481. [1252] [724] Further powers.—Every such corporation shall, in addition to the powers heretofore conferred, have power:

1. To purchase, take and hold such land or real estate as shall be necessary for the construction, maintenance and operation of its harbor approaches, entrances, and ways thereto, and the construction of wharves, piers and warehouses.

2. To construct, own and maintain its harbor by building piers and breakwaters so far into the gulf as may be necessary to obtain sufficient depth of water to facilitate the ingress and egress, and the safety while in port of such vessels as may enter the same, in so far only as the State may have power to grant such right, which, however, shall be exercised subject and in subordination to the government of the United States, in so far as it may have constitutional power to control the same.

3. To provide facilities to vessels and boats entering its harbor, for anchorage, receiving and discharging cargoes and passengers; and to charge and collect fair and reasonable tolls and wharfage therefor, to be prescribed by its by-laws.

4. To borrow money in such amounts and on such terms as may be necessary for constructing and finishing or operating its harbor or piers, and to issue and dispose of its bonds for any amount so borrowed, and to mortgage its corporate franchises to secure the payment of any debt contracted for the purposes aforesaid. [Id.]

Art. 1482. [1253] [725] Rate control.—All rates, tolls or charges made by any corporation formed under the provisions of this chapter, shall be subject to the right of the Legislature from time to time to alter, revise, change or amend the same. [Id.]

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

DEEP WATER

Art.

- 1483. Powers.
- 1484. Frontage.
- 1485. Application.
- 1486. Survey.
- 1487. Deferred payments.
- 1488. Forfeiture.
- 1489. Harbor facilities.
- 1490. Rate control.
- 1491. Railroad facilities.
- 1492. Effect of law.
- 1493. Other railroads.
- 1494. Shall file release.

Article 1483. [1254] [726] Powers.—Any corporation organized under the laws of Texas which is now authorized or which may hereafter be authorized by an Act of Congress of the United States to construct, own, operate or maintain, with private capital, a deep water harbor, navigable channel, docks or wharves on the Gulf Coast of Texas, shall be permitted to purchase from this State, at two dollars per acre, so much of any public lands, islands, shore or shallow bays belonging to this State, as may be situated within one-half mile from any point or points on the construction works of any jetties or any such deep water channel leading into the main harbor from the open sea. In no case shall such strip or body of land be more than one-half mile in width. Such company or corporation may also purchase from the State, at the same price per acre, any lands, shores, islands or shallow bays within one-fourth mile of each side of every navigable channel that such company or corporation may construct through or across such shallow bays in the prosecution of such work. [Acts 1891, p. 166; G. L. vol. 10, p. 168.]

Art. 1484. [1255] [727] Frontage.—Any such company or corporation owning in whole or in part any lands fronting or abutting upon any shallow bays in which any such work is being constructed, may purchase at the same price per acre any lands, shores or shallow bays adjoining and lying in front of such lands; provided, that such purchase shall not extend into such bay so as to include land covered with water having an average depth of more than three and one-half feet at mean low tide. The purchases under the provisions of this article shall not extend a greater distance along the front of the survey on the shore than three miles, nor a greater distance into the bay than one-half mile. The islands known as Tolly Island and Lydia Ann Islands, situated in Aransas Bay, shall not be subject to purchase hereunder. One-half of the proceeds of the sale of the lands provided for herein shall belong to the permanent free school fund of this State. [Id.]

Art. 1485. [1256] [728] Application.—All applications of a purchaser to buy under the foregoing articles shall be made in writing to the Land Commissioner, accompanied by one-fifth of the purchase money, and also a copy of the Act of Congress authorizing the construction of such deep water harbor, navigable channel, docks or wharves, and a complete plat or map showing the location and design of such improvements. Said map shall show the public lands, shores, islands and shallow bays applied for, and the depth of such shallow bays in feet, determined by actual survey, or as shown by the United States coast survey map. [Id.]

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art. 1486. [1257] [729] Survey.—Upon the payment of one-fifth of the purchase money, the Land Commissioner shall issue a receipt therefor, and attach thereto a copy of the application and plat filed by said purchaser. Said receipt shall be sufficient authority to the proper county surveyor to survey the lands, shores, islands or shallow bays sold. [Id.]

Art. 1487. [1257] [729] Deferred payments.—The remainder of the purchase money may be paid at any time within five years after the date of first payment. Deferred payments shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum. If the purchaser of any island, shallow water bay, land, or either, under these articles, shall fail to pay the annual interest upon any part of the purchase money when such interest shall become due, or if such purchaser shall fail to pay the principal when the same shall become due, then all rights acquired under such purchases shall be forfeited, with all payments made thereon, without any judicial ascertainment of such forfeiture; and the Land Commissioner shall indorse upon the contract of purchase that the same is forfeited, whereby all rights so acquired shall be forfeited and revert to the State. [Id.]

Art. 1488. [1257] [729] Forfeiture.—If any such corporation, within five years from the date of the filing of its charter, shall fail to conform to the Act of Congress in prosecuting such work, or if such corporation shall fail to secure twenty feet of water at low tide upon the bars and other obstructions between the main harbor and the Gulf of Mexico, or if such corporation shall fail to maintain said twenty feet of water continuously for two years thereafter, then in any such case all islands, lands, shallow bays and other rights acquired under this chapter shall be forfeited and shall revert to and vest in the State of Texas. [Id.]

Art. 1489. [1258] [730] Harbor facilities.—Any such corporation may construct, own and maintain upon the Gulf Coast of Texas, in connection with its deep water harbor and navigable channels, docks and wharves and navigable channels for the accommodation [accommodation] of commerce, and such corporation may charge, demand and receive reasonable and just tolls and charge for the use of such docks and wharves, but such navigable channels so constructed shall forever remain open and free to all vessels without fee or charge. [Id.]

Art. 1490. [1258] [730] Rate control.—The tolls and charges for the use of said docks and wharves shall be equal, just and uniform to all vessels, persons and corporations, without discrimination as to amount charged or delay in handling the same. Such tolls and charges shall be under the control of the Legislature, and until otherwise directed by the Legislature, shall be subject to control and regulation by the Railroad Commission, under the rules prescribed for the regulations of railroads, so far as applicable. [Id.]

Art. 1491. [1258] [730] Railroad facilities.—Any railroad, or other means of transportation, which may be constructed between the mainland and any deep water harbor or channel shall be a public highway. All rates and charges for the transportation of freights and passengers thereon shall be subject to the control and regulation of the Railroad Commission as a railroad. Such railroad or other means of transportation shall receive from each ship, boat and vessel, or from the wharf on which the same is discharged, all freights and passengers, and transport and deliver them to the consignee, or any connecting line of railroad, without discrimination as to charges or delay in transportation and delivery, and shall in like manner receive from every person and from every connecting line of railroad, all freight and passengers, and transport and deliver the same to each and every ship, boat, vessel, person or corporation for delivery to such ship, boat or vessel on like equal and just terms, without discrimination as to charges and delay in transportation or delivery thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1492. [1258] [730] Effect of law.—Nothing herein shall be construed to affect any rights acquired before the enactment of this law. The acceptance of the provisions herein, or the exercise of any rights or privileges granted herein, by said corporation, or any person or corporation holding under the same, shall be deemed and held to be a contract with the State. Any wilful violation of these provisions, or the doing of any act herein prohibited, shall work a forfeiture of all rights acquired hereunder, so far as then held or claimed by the person or corporation guilty of such violation. [Id.]

Art. 1493. [1259] [731] Other railroads.—The privileges and rights granted herein shall never be exercised so as to in any way hinder or interfere with the completion of any railroad heretofore chartered to be built to and upon Harbor Island, in and upon the location designated in such charter; nor with any such railroads acquiring and controlling all necessary depot grounds, wharf grounds and deep water fronts that it may or could have acquired legally had not this law been enacted. [Id.]

Art. 1494. [1260] [732] Shall file release.—Before any rights can vest in any corporation by virtue of any purchase of public lands, islands, shores or shallow bays, the said corporation shall file with the Secretary of State a release to the State of Texas of all claim or right to have its tolls or charges imposed for any use to be made of such property or structures thereon regulated by any Act of Congress now existing or hereafter to be passed. [Id.]

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

OIL, GAS, SALT, ETC.

Art.

- 1495. Purposes.
- 1496. Powers.
- 1497. Right of condemnation.
- 1498. Fiscal powers.
- 1499. Oil and gas.
- 1500. Oil pipe lines.
- 1501. Separate corporations.
- 1502. Ownership of stock.
- 1503. Private pipe line.
- 1504. Effect of law.
- 1505. Discrimination.
- 1506. Additional powers.
- 1507. Fuller's earth pipe lines.

Article 1495. [1303] Purposes.—This chapter embraces corporations created for the purpose of storing, transporting, buying and selling oil, gas, salt brine and other mineral solutions; also sand and clay for the manufacture and sale of clay products; and the production of oil and gas. [Acts 1899, p. 202; Acts 1915, p. 259.]

Art. 1496. [1305] Powers.—Such corporations shall have power:

1. To store and transport oil, gas, brine and other mineral solutions, and also sand, clay and clay products, and to make reasonable charges therefor.

2. To buy, sell and furnish oil and gas for light, heat and other purposes; to lay down, construct, maintain and operate pipe lines, tubes, tanks, pump stations, connections, fixtures, storage houses and such machinery, apparatus, devices and arrangements as may be necessary to operate such pipes and pipe lines between different points in this State.

3. For the transportation of sand and clay, corporations shall have the right to construct, maintain and operate aerial tramways, a system consisting of wire cables supported by wooden, concrete or steel towers, over which buckets or carriers are propelled; and may own such connections, fixtures, guy lines and all necessary devices, storage houses and such machinery, apparatus and arrangements as may be necessary to operate such aerial tramways between different points in this State.

4. To own, hold, use and occupy such lands, right of way, easements, franchises, buildings and structures as may be necessary to the purposes of such corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1497. [1306] Right of condemnation.—Such corporation shall have the right and power to enter upon, condemn and appropriate the lands, right of way, easements and property of any person or corporation. Such corporation shall have the right to lay its pipes and pipe lines across and under any public road or highway, or under any railroad, railroad right of way, street railroad, canal or stream in this State, and to lay its pipes and pipe lines across or along and under any street or alley in any incorporated city or town in this State with the consent and under the direction of the governing body of such city or town. No pipe lines shall be laid parallel with and on any public highway, closer than fifteen feet from the improved section thereof, except with the approval and under the direction of the commissioners court of the county in which such highway is located. Said pipes and pipe lines shall be so buried and covered as not to interfere with the use and occupancy of such road, highway, street or alley by the public, or use and occupancy of such railroad or street railroad by the owner or owners thereof. Such pipes or pipe lines shall not pass through or under any cemetery, church or college, school house, residence, business, or storehouse, or through or under any building in this State, except by the consent of the owner or owners thereof. All such pipes and pipe lines, when same shall pass through or over the cultivated or improved lands of another, shall be well buried under ground at least twenty inches under the surface, and such surface shall be properly and promptly restored by such corporation unless otherwise consented to by the owners of such land. When such pipes and pipe lines shall be laid over or along any uncultivated or unimproved lands of another, and such lands shall thereafter become cultivated or improved, such pipes or pipe lines shall be buried by said corporation as herein provided for cultivated lands, within a reasonable time after notice by the owner of such lands, or his agent, to said corporation or any agent thereof. [Id.; Acts 1919, p. 272.]

Art. 1498. [1307] Fiscal powers.—Such corporation shall have the right to borrow money to an amount not in excess of its paid up capital stock, as provided by law, to issue stock and preferred stock, to mortgage its franchises and property to secure the payment of any debt contracted for any purposes of such corporation, and shall possess all the rights and powers of corporations for profit in this State whenever the same may be applicable to corporations of this character. [Acts 1899, p. 202; Acts 1915, p. 259; Acts 1917, p. 54.]

Art. 1499. [1307] Oil and gas.—Such corporation may also engage in the oil and gas producing business, prospecting for and producing oil and gas and owning and holding lands, leases and other property for said purposes and subject to the provisions of Chapter 4 of this title. No corporation shall exercise these powers while owning or operating oil pipe lines in this State. [Id.]

Art. 1500. [1307] Oil pipe lines.—Any corporation heretofore or hereafter organized under this chapter, and owning or operating oil pipe lines in this State, shall separately incorporate such oil lines, with the consent of a majority in amount of its stockholders and subject to the restrictions hereinafter imposed, whereupon, in addition to other powers which it may possess, it shall then acquire the right and power to engage in said oil and gas producing business. [Id.]

Art. 1501. [1307] Separate corporations.—Such separate incorporation shall be accomplished by the organization of another pipe line corporation under this chapter and the sale and conveyance to it of such oil pipe lines of the organizing company. In case of the ownership also of oil pipe lines beyond the borders of this State, additional pipe line corporations may be organized outside of this State, and such oil pipe lines located outside of Texas may be sold and conveyed to them. In every case herein provided for, the organizing company may subscribe for and own the capital stock of the organized pipe line corporation without being precluded from engaging in said oil and gas producing business. [Id.]

Art. 1502. [1307] Ownership of stock.—In lieu of engaging directly in the oil and gas producing business in any State or country, a corporation organized under this chapter and authorized to engage in said producing business may own the stock of other corporations engaged therein, provided that it shall not own the stock of more than one producing corporation, or one pipe line corporation, organized under the laws of this or any other single State. No corporation organized in any other state or country shall be permitted to own or operate oil pipe lines or engage in the oil producing business in this State when the stock of such corporation is owned in whole or in part by a corporation organized under this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 1503. [1307] Private pipe line.—Nothing in this chapter shall preclude the ownership or operation by any corporation, of private pipe lines in and about its refineries, fields or stations, even though such corporation may be engaged in the producing business. [Id.]

Art. 1504. [1307] Effect of law.—No provision of the six preceding articles shall be construed as limiting, modifying or repealing any part of the law regulating oil pipe lines, or as authorizing any ownership or transaction, the effect of which would be to substantially lessen competition or to violate any law of this State prohibiting trusts and monopolies and conspiracies in restraint of trade or to violate any provision of the anti-trust laws of this State. [Id.]

Art. 1505. [1308] Discrimination.—It shall be unlawful for any corporation organized under this chapter to discriminate against any person, corporation, firm, association or place in the charge for such storage or transportation, or in the service rendered; but it shall receive, store or transfer oil or gas, salt, sand and clay for any person, corporation, firm or association upon equal terms, charges and conditions with all other persons, corporations, firms or associations for like service. [Acts 1899, p. 202; Acts 1915, p. 259.]

Art. 1506. Additional powers.—Corporations organized under this chapter which shall file with the Secretary of State a duly authorized acceptance of the provisions of this law, are hereby declared to have, in addition to the powers enumerated in this chapter, the power to carry on the business therein authorized outside of as well as within this State; to own and operate refineries, casing and treating plants, sales offices, warehouses, docks, ships, tank cars and vehicles necessary in the conduct of their business; and to cause the formation of corporations outside of this State, not exceeding one in any state, territory or foreign country, whose purposes and powers exercised shall be only those conferred by law upon the forming or holding corporation as incorporated under the laws of Texas, and own and hold the stock of such corporation when the effect of such formation or stock holding is not substantially to lessen competition or otherwise to violate laws prohibiting trusts and monopolies and conspiracies in restraint of trade. [Acts 1915, p. 82.]

Art. 1507. Fuller's earth pipe lines.—Every person, firm, corporation, limited co-partnership, joint stock association or associations of any kind whatsoever owning, operating or managing any pipe line, or any part of any pipe line within this State for the transportation of fuller's earth for the public for hire, are declared to be common carriers, and shall have the right and power of eminent domain, and may condemn the necessary rights of way, easements, and sites, under the same terms and subject to the same conditions as are conferred by articles 1497 and 6022, on like persons, natural or otherwise, owning, operating or managing crude petroleum pipe lines. [Acts 1919, p. 272.]

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

WASTE WATER CORPORATIONS

- Art.
 1508. Purposes.
 1509. Powers.
 1510. Condemnation.
 1511. Services.
 1512. Ownership of stock.

Article 1508. Purposes.—Corporations may be created for the purpose of gathering, storing, and impounding water containing salt or other substances [produced] in the drilling and operation of oil and other wells, and to prevent the flow thereof into streams at times when the latter may be used for irrigation. [Acts 4th C. S. 1918, p. 122.]

Art. 1509. Powers.—Such corporations, in addition to the general powers conferred by law upon private corporations, may acquire, own, and operate ditches, canals, pipe lines, levees, reservoirs, and their appliances appropriate for the gathering, impounding or storage of such water and for the protection of such reservoirs from inflow or damage by surface waters. [Id.]

Art. 1510. Condemnation.—Such corporation shall have power to condemn lands and rights necessary for the purposes of such corporation; and also to cross with their ditches, canals, and pipe lines under any highways, canals, pipe lines, railroads, and tram or logging roads; conditioned that the use thereof be not impaired longer than essential to the making of such crossings. No right is conferred to pass through any cemetery or under any residence, school house or other public building, nor to cross any street or alley of any incorporated city or town without the consent of the authorities thereof. [Id.]

Art. 1511. Services.—In the localities in which they operate and to the extent of the facilities provided, such corporations shall serve all producers of such waters in the gathering, impounding, and storage of such waters, in proportion to the needs of such producers at fair and reasonable charges, and without discrimination between such producers under like conditions. [Id.]

Art. 1512. Ownership of stock.—Corporations interested in the proper disposition of such waters may subscribe for, own, and vote stock in the corporations which may be created hereunder. [Id.]

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

TRUST COMPANIES AND INVESTMENTS

- Art.
 1513. Trust companies.

AGRICULTURAL FINANCE CORPORATIONS

1514. Purposes.
 1515. "Agricultural products."
 1516. Assets and liabilities.
 1517. Limit of indebtedness.
 1518. Ownership of stock.
 1519. Regulation.

LOAN AND BROKERAGE COMPANIES

1520. Powers.
 1521. Statements.
 1522. Examinations.
 1523. Liquidation.
 1524. Violations of law.

Article 1513. Trust companies.—Every trust company organized under the laws of the State with a capital of not less than five hundred thousand dollars shall, in addition to all other powers conferred by law, have the power to purchase, sell, discount and negotiate with or without its endorsement or guaranty, notes, drafts, checks, bills of exchange, acceptances, including bankers' acceptances, cable transfers and other evidences of indebtedness; to purchase and sell, with or without its endorsement or guaranty, stocks, bonds, securities, including the obligations of the United States or of any States thereof; to issue debentures, bonds and promissory notes, to accept bills or drafts drawn upon it, but in no event having liabilities outstanding thereon at any one time exceeding five times its capital stock and surplus; provided, however, that with the consent in writing of the Banking Commissioner they may have outstanding at any one time ten times the capital stock and surplus; and generally to exercise such powers as are incidental to the powers conferred by this article. [Acts 3rd C. S. 1920, p. 90.]

AGRICULTURAL FINANCE CORPORATIONS

Art. 1514. Purposes.—This subdivision embraces private corporations formed for the purpose of dealing in acceptances and other receipts growing out, or to be used in aid, of the transportation, warehousing, distribution, or financing, in either domestic or foreign trade, of readily marketable, staple, non-perishable, agricultural products; and for dealing in acceptances of banking corporations not secured upon nor representing any such products. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1919, p. 21.]

Art. 1515. "Agricultural products."—By ready marketable, staple, non-perishable agricultural products are meant those classes of agricultural products which are subject to such constant dealing in ready markets as to make their values easily and definitely ascertainable and realizable on short notice, and which are not ordinarily subject to substantial depreciation in quality within the period of immaturity of the obligations which they secure, or by which they are represented. [Id.]

Art. 1516. Assets and liabilities.—The total liabilities to any corporation chartered under this law of any such banking corporation, on account of any such unsecured acceptances, shall at no time be permitted to exceed ten per cent of the unimpaired capital of such corporation. Each such corporation shall invest and keep invested in obligations of the United States, Texas, or political sub-divisions or incorporated cities of Texas, not less than one-half of its paid in capital. Such corporation shall have an unauthorized [authorized] capital stock of not less than five hundred thousand dollars which shall not be reduced by amendment to less than such sum. [Id.]

Art. 1517. Limit of indebtedness.—No such corporation shall enter into any contract or contracts of acceptances, guaranty, indorsement or suretyship when its obligation thereon in connection with its entire existing obligations and indebtedness primary or secondary, fixed or contingent, shall exceed five times its then unimpaired capital and surplus, unless previously authorized in writing by the Banking Commissioner so to do, in which case it may enter into such contract not to exceed the limit so fixed by such Commissioner, in no case to exceed ten times its said capital and surplus. Those obligations, to pay which at maturity, any such corporation has been furnished funds by other parties liable thereon, need not be considered in determining the amount of its existing obligations and indebtedness hereunder. All such contracts and obligations entered into in violation of this article shall be unenforceable against such corporation. Nothing herein shall prevent the enforcement of any such prohibited obligations by any holder who has acquired the same in due course, for value, before maturity, and without notice of its infirmity. [Id.]

Art. 1518. Ownership of stock.—Any private corporation formed under this title, and any banking corporation or trust company, except savings banks, may hold stock in corporations created hereunder, and in corporations chartered under the laws of the United States or in any State thereof, and principally engaged in financing domestic or foreign trade in any such agricultural products, in amounts not to exceed in the aggregate, ten per cent of the capital and surplus of such private corporation, banking or trust company, nor to exceed ten per cent of the capital stock of such corporation in which such stock is to be held. No banking corporation or trust company shall acquire stock in such corporation without express written authorization therefor from the Banking Commissioner, under such rules and regulations as he may provide, except in payment of debt. If it shall acquire same in payment of debt, it shall promptly dispose of same unless expressly permitted to retain same by such commissioner. [Id.]

Art. 1519. Regulation.—Such corporations shall be subject at all times to the supervision and control of the Banking Commissioner, and shall conform to all lawful regulations of such Commissioner. No such corporation shall begin business until authorized to do so by such Commissioner after satisfactory showing made that such corporation has complied with the law, and thereafter it shall make reports to such Commissioner and be subject to such periodical visitations and examinations under his direction, and shall pay fees therefor, all as in the case of State banking corporations. Said Commissioner shall have such powers with reference to taking charge of such corporations, liquidating same, and for like causes as are possessed by him with reference to State banks. [Id.]

LOAN AND BROKERAGE COMPANIES

Art. 1520. Powers.—This subdivision shall embrace corporations created for any or all of the following purposes: To accumulate and lend money, purchase, sell and deal in notes, bonds, and securities, but without banking and discounting privileges; and to act as trustee under any lawful express trust committed to them by contract and as agent for the performance of any lawful act. No such corporation shall act as agent or trustee in the consolidation of or for the purpose of combining the assets, business or means of any other persons, firms, associations or corporations, nor shall such corporation as agent or trustee carry on the business of another. No such corporation shall be authorized to engage in or carry on any such business unless it shall have an actual paid in capital of not less than ten thousand dollars. [Acts 1919, p. 134.]

Art. 1521. Statements.—Such corporation shall publish in some newspaper of general circulation in the county where it has its principal place of business, on or before the first day of February of each year, a statement of its condition on the previous thirty-first day of December, in such form as may be required by the Banking Commissioner, showing under oath its assets and liabilities; and shall file a copy of such statement with the Commissioner, together with a fee of ten dollars for filing same. [Id.]

Art. 1522. Examinations.—The Banking Commissioner shall examine or cause to be examined, such corporation annually. Said corporation shall pay the actual traveling expenses, hotel bills, and all other actual expenses incident to such examination, and a fee therefor not exceeding one-eighth of one per cent of its actual paid in capital. [Id.]

Art. 1523. Liquidation.—If upon examination it shall appear that the assets of said corporation, exclusive of its said capital paid in, are less than its liabilities, the said Commissioner shall notify it thereof in writing, and if said corporation shall not within thirty days from the receipt of said notice restore and make good such impairment of its capital, then it shall be the duty of the Commissioner to take possession of said corporation and its property and to wind the same up and distribute its assets in accordance with the provisions of law with reference to the liquidation of State banks. [Id.]

Art. 1524. Violations of law.—If it shall appear from such examination that said corporation has exceeded its corporation powers, or has been guilty of an unlawful act or acts, the said commissioner shall give written notice to such corporation to cease such act or practice and to conduct its business in accordance with law and its charter powers. If such corporation shall fail or refuse for a period of thirty days thereafter to comply with such notice, then it shall be the duty of said Commissioner to take possession of said corporation and its assets and wind up and distribute the said assets as hereinbefore provided. [Id.]

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

MISCELLANEOUS

Art.

- 1525. Drainage.
- 1526. Irrigation and waterpower.
- 1527. International trading companies.
- 1528. Ice companies.

Article 1525. [1262-3-4-5-6-7] Drainage.—Corporations chartered for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating canals, drains and ditches outside of the corporate limits of cities and towns in any county in Texas shall:

1. Have power for the purpose of drainage, to acquire lands for the purpose of its business or in payment of stock or drainage rights, and to hold and dispose of such lands and all other property.

2. Alienate within fifteen years from the date of acquiring same all lands acquired by such corporations, subject to judicial forfeiture, except lands used for the construction, maintenance and operation of drains, ditches and laterals.

3. Have power to make contracts for the permanent drainage of any tract of land and the charges therefor, said charges to be subject to the control of the Legislature; and the rights therein shall be secured by a lien expressly given upon the lands, other than homesteads, benefited by said drain or canal.

4. Have the right to borrow money for the construction, maintenance and operation of its ditches, canals and laterals, and to issue bonds and mortgage its franchises to secure the payment of any debts contracted for the same.

5. Report to the commissioners court of the county wherein constructed, all drains and canals so constructed by such corporations; such report to be approved by said court. [Acts 1897, p. 109; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1163.]

Art. 1526. Irrigation and waterpower.—Corporations organized to construct, maintain and operate canals, ditches, flumes, feeders, laterals, dams, reservoirs, lakes and wells, and for conserving, storing, conducting and transferring water to all persons entitled to the use of same for irrigation, mining, milling, manufacturing, the development of power, to cities and towns for waterworks, and for stockraising, shall have power to acquire lands by voluntary donation or purchase in payment of stock or bonds or water rights; and to hold, improve, subdivide and dispose of all such land and other property. Such corporations may elect directors or trustees to hold office for a period of three years, and may provide for the election of one-third in number thereof each year. [Acts 1917, p. 224.]

Art. 1527. International trading corporations.—Corporations created for the purpose of engaging in international trading and the purchase and sale of the products of the farm, ranch, orchard, mine and forest shall be empowered to pledge, borrow, hypothecate and receive in trust for the purpose of sale any and all products of the farm, ranch, and orchard, and shall be authorized to buy, sell and exchange raw products of the farm, ranch, orchard, mine and forest, and to take in payment therefor finished products of whatever kind and character that they may determine at a fair, equitable and just valuation. Such corporations shall have power to charter, lease, construct or purchase necessary vessels, ships, docks, wharves, and warehouses for the conduct of their business; to pool products of the farm in the sale of same; to hypothecate or pledge the credit of such corporations for the products so received under contract for the necessary funds with which to market same; to borrow money as other business corporations and to lend the same upon products that they may be engaged in the sale of, either as owner, agent, consignee, or commission merchant. They shall have generally and specially all the rights, powers and privileges belonging to a corporation engaging in international trading. Such corporations shall have authority to receive in payment of capital stock, manufacturing establishments, and the stocks and bonds of same at a fair and just valuation, and to so receive the products of the farm, ranch and orchard. Whenever property is received in payment for capital stock, the Secretary of State shall appoint a board of appraisers who are familiar with the valuations of such property so taken in payment for capital stock to appraise same and furnish him with a sworn statement of the valuations of the property so taken in payment for capital stock. On receipt of same he shall approve, file and record the charter of such corporation. A majority of the stock shall in all instances be owned by citizens of the United States, and a majority of the officers and directors thereof shall in all instances be citizens of the United States and of this State. Nothing in this article shall prevent citizens of foreign countries from becoming stockholders in such corporations, but the control of such corporations shall never in any instance be vested in citizens of other countries than the United States. Violation of any provision herein as to the control of stock of such corporation shall be sufficient for the Secretary of State to cancel the charter of said corporation and same shall be placed in the hands of a receiver as provided by law. [Acts 1921, p. 227.]

Art. 1528. Ice companies.—Corporations organized or chartered under the laws of this State for the manufacture of ice shall also be authorized to engage in and transact the business of buying, selling and refrigerating poultry and poultry products, and buying, selling, canning and refrigerating fruits, produce and dairy products. [Acts 1913, p. 267.]

CHAPTER NINETEEN

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS

Art.

- 1529. Permit.
- 1530. Stock.
- 1531. Affidavit.
- 1532. Rights under permit.
- 1533. Property rights.
- 1533a. Voting stock and participating in management of domestic corporation.
- 1534. Disposal of property.
- 1535. Evidence.
- 1536. Right to sue.
- 1537. Amendments to charter.
- 1538. Corporations exempt.

Article 1529. [1314—20] Permit.—Any corporation for pecuniary profit, except as hereinafter provided, organized or created under the laws of any other State, or of any territory of the United States, or of any municipality of such State or territory, or of any foreign government, sovereignty or municipality, desiring to transact or solicit business in Texas, or to establish a general or special office in this State, shall file with the Secretary of State a duly certified copy of its articles of incorporation; and thereupon such official shall issue to such corporation a permit to transact business in this State for a period of ten years from the date of so filing such articles of incorporation. If such corporation is created for more than one purpose, the permit may be limited to one or more purposes. [Acts 1889, p. 87; Acts 1901, p. 18; G. L. vol. 9, p. 1115.]

Art. 1530. [1314] [745] Stock.—Before such permit is issued such corporation shall show to the satisfaction of the Secretary of State that at least one hundred thousand dollars in cash of their authorized capital stock has been paid in, or that fifty per cent of their authorized capital stock has been subscribed, and at least ten per cent thereof paid in. [Id.]

Art. 1531. [1315] Affidavit.—Before a permit is issued to such corporation, its president, vice president, secretary or treasurer, or two of the directors thereof, shall make and file in the office of the Secretary of State an affidavit stating that such corporation is not a trust or organization in restraint of trade in violation of the laws of this State, has not, within twelve months next preceding the making of such affidavit, become or been a party to any trust agreement of any kind which would constitute a violation of any anti-trust law of Texas existing at the date of such affidavit, and has not within that time, entered into or been in any wise a party to, any combination in restraint of trade within the United States, and that no officer of such corporation has, within the knowledge of affiant, within such time and on behalf of such corporation or for its benefit, made any such contract, or entered into or become a party to any such combination in restraint of trade. The jurat of the officer making such affidavit shall be attested by his official signature and seal of office. [Acts 1909, C. S. p. 267; Id.]

Art. 1532. [1317] [745] Rights under permit.—Such corporations, on obtaining such permit, shall have and enjoy all the rights and privileges conferred by the laws of this State on corporations organized under the laws of this State. [Acts 1897, p. 167; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1221.]

Art. 1533. Property rights.—Such corporations shall be authorized to hold, purchase, sell, mortgage or otherwise convey such real estate and personal estate as the purposes of such corporation may require, and to take, hold and convey such other property, real, personal, or mixed, as may be requisite for such corporation to acquire in order to obtain or secure the payment of any indebtedness or liability due, or which may become due, or belonging to, the corporation. [Id.]

Art. 1533a. Voting stock and participating in management of domestic corporation.—That when any foreign corporation without a permit to do business in this State lawfully owns or may lawfully own or acquire stock in Texas corporation, it shall not be unlawful for such foreign corporation to vote said stock and participate in the management and control of the business and affairs of such Texas corporation, as other stockholders, subject to all laws, rules and regulations governing Texas corporations, and especially subject to the provisions of the Anti-trust Laws of the State of Texas. [Acts 1925, 39th Leg., ch. 185, p. 455, § 1.]

Art. 1534. Disposal of property.—Such corporations shall alienate all real property so acquired not necessary for its purposes, within fifteen years from the time of acquisition; and shall alienate all real estate acquired for the purposes of such corporation within fifteen years from the expiration of the time for which the permit is issued, or, if such permit be renewed or such corporation be otherwise authorized to carry on business in Texas, then such real estate shall be alienated within fifteen years from the expiration of such renewal or authorization. If such corporation shall cease to carry on business in Texas, it shall alienate all such real estate so acquired by it, within fifteen years from the time of such cessation. [Id.]

Art. 1535. [1321] [749] Evidence.—Either the original permit or certified copies thereof by the Secretary of State shall be evidence of the compliance on the part of any corporation with the terms of this chapter. A certificate of the Secretary of State to the effect that the corporation named therein has failed to file in his office its articles of incorporation shall be evidence that such corporation has in no particular complied with the requirements of this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 1536. [1318] [746] Right to sue.—No such corporation can maintain any suit or action, either legal or equitable, in any court of this State upon any demand, whether arising out of contract or tort, unless at the time such contract was made, or tort committed, the corporation had filed its articles of incorporation under the provisions of this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 1537. Amendments to charter.—Each foreign corporation, after a permit has been granted it to do business in this State, shall immediately file with the Secretary of State a certified copy of any amendment or supplement to its original articles of incorporation when any such amendment or supplement to its original articles of incorporation is filed in the state territory or foreign country under whose laws such corporation is incorporated. [Acts 1919, p. 81.]

Art. 1538. [1319] [747] Corporations exempt.—The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to corporations created for the purpose of, constructing, building, operating or maintaining any railway, or to such corporations as are required by law to procure certificates of authority to do business from the Commissioner of Insurance or from the Banking Commissioner. [Acts 1897, p. 167; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1221.]

CHAPTER NINETEEN "A" NON-PAR CORPORATIONS

Art.

- 1538a. Non-par stock.
- 1538b. Statement on face.
- 1538c. Consideration for stock.
- 1538d. Shall file with Secretary of State.
- 1538e. Certificate by directors.
- 1538f. Fees.
- 1538g. Value of shares.
- 1538h. May amend charter.
- 1538i. Franchise tax.
- 1538j. Stock to be subscribed.
- 1538k. Forfeiture of charter.
- 1538l. Blue sky law.
- 1538m. Constitutionality.

Article 1538a. Non-par stock.—Upon the organization, under the laws of this State, of any private corporation for profit, other than corporations authorized to conduct a banking or insurance business, or upon the amendment of the charter in the manner now or hereafter provided by law of any private corporation for profit organized under the laws of this State other than corporations authorized to conduct a banking or insurance business, provision may be made for the issuance of shares of its stock without nominal or par value. Every such share shall be equal in all respects to every other such share, except that the charter or any amendment thereof may provide that such shares should be divided into different classes, the shares of each class to have such preferences, designations, rights, privileges and powers and be subject to such restrictions, limitations and qualifications as shall be stated in the charter or any amendment thereof. Any law of this State requiring that the par value of shares of stock of a corporation be stated in any certificate, report, or other instrument or paper shall be complied with by stating, in respect to shares without nominal or par value, that such stock is without par value, and wherever the amount of stock is required to be stated, the number of such shares without nominal or par value shall be stated and that such shares are without nominal or par value.

Art. 1538b. Statement on face.—Every certificate issued for shares of stock without nominal or par value shall have plainly stated on its face the number of shares which it represents and the class thereof, and shall not set forth any par value or value in dollars of such shares. No such certificate shall express or state thereon any rate of dividend, preference as to assets in liquidation, or price at which such shares may be redeemed except in dollars and cents per share.

Art. 1538c. Consideration for stock.—Corporations may issue and dispose of their authorized shares having no nominal or par value for such consideration as may be prescribed in the original charter or any amendment thereof; or, if no consideration is so prescribed, then for such consideration as may be fixed by the stockholders at a meeting duly called and held for that purpose, or by the board of directors when acting under general or special authority granted by the stockholders, or by the board of directors when acting under general authority conferred by the original charter or any amendment thereof; such consideration to be in the form of money paid, labor done or property actually received. Any and all shares without nominal or par value issued for the consideration prescribed or fixed in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be fully paid stock and not liable to any further call or assessment thereon, nor shall the subscriber or holder be liable for any further payments.

Art. 1538d. Shall file with Secretary of State.—Corporations authorizing the issuance of shares of its [their] stock without nominal or par value shall furnish to, and file with, the Secretary of State at the time of filing the charter or amendment to a charter authorizing the issuance of such stock a certificate authenticated by the incorporators as to original charter, and by a majority of the directors as to any amendment thereof, in the manner required by the laws of this State as to an original charter of incorporation, setting forth the following:

(a) The number of shares with a par or face value and the number of shares without nominal or par value that may be issued by the corporation and the classes, if any, into which such shares are divided.

(b) The par or face value of shares other than the shares which it is stated are to be without nominal or par value.

(c) That all stock having a par or face value, if any, has been in good faith subscribed, and fifty per cent thereof paid in, in cash, property or labor done.

(d) The number of shares without nominal or par value subscribed and the actual consideration received by the corporation for such shares; and upon receiving such certificate it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State, on payment of office fees and franchise tax due, to file and record the charter, or amendment thereof, of such corporation and to give his certificate showing the record thereof, provided, however, the stockholders of any corporation authorizing the issuance of shares of its stock without nominal or par value shall be required, in good faith, to subscribe and pay for at least ten per cent of the authorized shares to be issued without nominal or par value before said corporation shall be chartered or have its charter amended so as to authorize the issuance of shares without par or nominal value; provided further that in no event the amount so paid shall be less than $25,000.00.

Art. 1538e. Certificate by directors.—In the event the original charter or any amendment to a charter of a corporation authorizing the issuance of shares of stock without nominal or par value does not prescribe the consideration for which such shares, other than those subscribed and paid for at the time of the filing of the charter or any amendment to a charter, shall be issued, then, within ninety (90) days after the issuance of any such shares, the corporation shall file, with the Secretary of State a certificate, authenticated by a majority of the directors in the manner required by the laws of this State as to an original charter of incorporation, setting forth the number of such shares so issued and the actual consideration received by the corporation for such shares.

Art. 1538f. Fees.—Any corporation authorizing the issuance of shares of its stock without nominal or par value shall be required to pay to the Secretary of State, for the use of the State, fees as follows:

(a) The fees now or hereafter provided by the laws of this State as to any shares of its stock having a par or face value; and

(b) as to any shares of its stock without nominal or par value a fee of fifty dollars for the first ten thousand dollars of actual consideration received by the corporation for any such shares issued, provided, that if the actual consideration received by said corporation shall exceed ten thousand dollars, it shall be required to pay an additional fee of ten dollars for each additional ten thousand dollars, or fractional part thereof, of actual consideration received by it; and, provided further, that any shares without nominal or par value not subscribed and paid for at the time of filing said original charter or amendment to a charter shall for the sole and only purpose of computing the filing fees, be assumed to have the same value per share as that for which the shares actually subscribed and sold were issued so that the filing fees, as fixed herein, shall be paid upon the entire authorized number of shares to be issued without nominal or par value; which said fees shall be paid to the Secretary of State at the time of filing the charter or any amendment thereof, provided, that if, after payment of the fees herein provided, the corporation should thereafter issue shares of its stock without nominal or par value, which said shares were not subscribed, paid for, or issued, when the fees thereon were paid for a consideration or value per share in excess of the value such shares were assumed to have when the charter or amendment to a charter was filed, then said corporation, at the time of filing the certificate showing the actual consideration received by it for said shares so subsequently sold and issued, shall pay further or additional fees at the rates herein stipulated, upon such excess value or consideration; provided that the aggregate fees to be paid by a corporation as prescribed in this Section 6 shall never exceed the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars ($2500).

Art. 1538g. Value of shares.—The certificate required by this Act to be filed setting forth the value received by a corporation for the shares of its stock without nominal or par value which it may issue shall not be construed as fixing any value upon such shares, but said certificate shall be for the sole and only purpose of furnishing the Secretary of State a basis upon which to compute the filing fees and franchise tax to be paid upon said shares without nominal or par value.

Art. 1538h. May amend charter.—Any private corporation for profit, other than corporations authorized to conduct a banking or insurance business, having authorized shares with par or face value, or shares without nominal or par value, or both, may, by vote of the holders of a majority of its outstanding stock entitled to vote at any annual meeting or at any special meeting called and held for the purpose, amend its charter so as to change its shares or [of] stock with par or face value, or any class or classes thereof, into the same number or into a larger or smaller number of shares without nominal or par value provided that all shares in any one class shall be changed on the same basis, or so as to change its shares without nominal or par value, or any class or classes thereof [thereof], into a larger or smaller number of shares without nominal or par value provided that all shares in any one class shall be changed on the same basis; and provided further that the preferences, rights, limitations, privileges and restrictions granted or imposed with respect to any shares of outstanding stock shall not be impaired, diminished or changed without the consent of the holder thereof. Whenever any such amendment shall be made effective, all the shares with par or face value of the class or classes specified in said amendment shall be deemed for all purposes to have been converted, on the basis in said amendment stated, shares without nominal or par value of the class or classes specified, and all of the shares without nominal or par value changed into a larger or smaller number of shares without nominal or par value shall be deemed for all purposes to have been converted, on the basis in said amendment stated, into such larger or smaller number of shares without nominal or par value, and the corporation shall, in writing, notify all holders of shares of stock of the class or classes effected [affected] and shall thereafter, whenever any certificate for any such shares is presented for transfer or exchange, cancel the same, and in its place, issue, on the basis in said amendment stated, a new certificate, which shall conform to the provisions of Article 1538b hereof.

Art. 1538i. Franchise tax.—The amount of franchise tax to be paid by any corporation having shares of stock without nominal or par value shall be determined in the manner as now or hereafter prescribed by the laws of this State, except that such shares without nominal or par value shall, for the purpose of computing such tax only, be treated and considered as having and being of the value actually received by the corporation for the issuance of such shares as disclosed by the charter or any amendment thereof, as provided in Article 1538d hereof, or by a certificate as provided in Article 1538e hereof.

Art. 1538j. Stock to be subscribed.—Corporations authorizing the issuance of shares of its [their] stock without nominal or par value are exempt from the provisions of Articles 1308 to 1311, inclusive, and of Article 1338 of the Revised Civil Statutes, provided that no original charter nor any amendment to a charter which provides for stock having a nominal or par value shall be filed or recorded by the Secretary of State until the full amount of all such authorized capital stock having a par value shall have been subscribed, and fifty per cent thereof paid, and proof thereof made in the manner provided in said Articles 1308 to 1311, inclusive; and provided further, that the provisions of said Article 1338 as to the payment of the unpaid portion of capital stock shall apply to the payment of the unpaid portion of any stock which has a nominal or par value.

The Revised Civil Statutes above referred to are the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925.

Art. 1538k. Forfeiture of charter.—Any corporation authorized to issue shares of its stock without nominal or par value which shall fail or refuse to make and file within the time provided, any certificate or report required by this Act to be made and filed shall thereupon forfeit and pay to the State a penalty of not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every day, during which it shall continue in default, which penalty shall be recovered by suit in a court of competent jurisdiction by the Attorney General of Texas; and upon proof in said suit that such corporation has not then filed the certificate or report required to be filed by it, said corporation shall forfeit its charter and all rights and franchises which it holds under, from, or by virtue of, the laws of this State.

Art. 1538l. Blue sky law.—The privileges and powers conferred by this chapter shall be deemed to be in addition to any and all powers and authority conferred by any other law or laws, and not in restriction or limitation of any of the powers now permitted to corporations of this State; provided, that nothing in this chapter shall be construed to in any way exempt the sale of such par value stock or non par value stock from the operation and control of the Blue Sky Law of this State as the same now exists or may hereafter be amended.

Art. 1538m. Constitutionality.—Should any provision of this Act be held invalid, the validity of the other provisions shall not be affected or impaired thereby. [Acts 1925, pp. 236-240.] [39th Leg. ch. 77, §§ 1-13.]

CREATION OF COUNTIES

Art.

1539. Legislature may create counties.
1540. Area required.
1541. Division of exterior territory.
1542. Created out of other counties.
1543. Line of new county.
1544. County from existing county.
1545. Existing counties reduced.
1546. Liability of new county.
1547. Pro rata of indebtedness.
1548. Apportionment of indebtedness.
1549. Suits and special tax.
1550. Non-residents to pay.
1551. When territory added.
1552. Tax for pro-rata indebtedness.
1553. County bonds held by school funds.
1554. Levy of tax for debt.
1555. Detachment by vote.
1556. Election ordered.
1557. Application.
1558. Notices of election.
1559. Question to be voted upon.

Art.

1560. Law governing such elections.
1561. Returns of election.
1562. Subsequent election.

Article 1539. [1331] [756] [651] Legislature may create counties.—The Legislature shall have power to create counties for the convenience of the people. [Const. art. 9, sec. 1.]

Art. 1540. [1332] [757] [652] Area required.—In the territory of the State exterior to the counties now existing, no new county shall be created with a less area than nine hundred square miles in a square form unless prevented by pre-existing boundary lines. If the State lines render this impracticable in border counties, the area may be less. [Id.]

Art. 1541. [1333] [758] [653] Division of exterior territory.—The territory referred to in the preceding article may at any time, in whole or in part, be divided into counties in advance of population, and attached for judicial and land surveying purposes to the most convenient organized county. [Id.]

Art. 1542. [1334] [759] [654] Created out of other counties.—Within the territory of any county or counties now existing no new county shall be created with less area than seven hundred square miles. No such county now existing shall be reduced to a less area than seven hundred square miles. [Id.]

Art. 1543. [1335] [760] [655] Line of new county.—No new county shall be created so as to approach nearer than twelve miles of the county seat of any county from which it may, in whole or in part be taken. [Id.]

Art. 1544. [1336] [761] [656] County from existing county.—Counties of less area than nine hundred, but of seven hundred or more square miles, within counties now existing, may be created by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature, taken by yeas and nays, and entered on the journals. [Id.]

Art. 1545. [1337] [762] [657] Existing counties reduced.—Any county now existing may be reduced to an area of not less than seven hundred square miles by a like two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature, taken by yeas and nays, and entered on the journals. [Id.]

Art. 1546. [1338] [763] [658] Liability of new county.—When any part of a county is stricken off and attached to, or created into another county, the part stricken off shall be obligated to pay its proportion of all existing liabilities of the county from which it was taken, in such manner as the law shall provide. [Id.]

Art. 1547. [1339] [764] Pro rata of indebtedness.—Any county which has been or may hereafter be created by the Legislature out of any other county or counties, shall be held liable for its proportion of all the liabilities of the county or counties from which it was taken, existing at the date of its creation as such new county, according to the proportionate value of the property in the excised territory, and the value of the property remaining in the old county. A suit to recover the same may be brought in the district court by the parent county, either in such parent county, or in the newly created county; and the court shall have power to make any order or render any judgment necessary to carry out and satisfy its decree therein. The provisions of this article shall not apply to any county, the claims against which have already been placed before courts having jurisdiction thereof and tried or dismissed under laws that were at such time constitutional. [Acts 1893, p. 124; G. L. vol. 10, p. 554.]

Art. 1548. [1340] [765] Apportionment of indebtedness.—Where any suit has been, or shall be, brought to enforce payment of the indebtedness created by the parent county or counties, or for the pro rata share of the excised territory, the assessment rolls of the parent county or counties for the year in which such new county was created shall be conclusive evidence of the property and value thereof remaining in the parent county, and in the excised territory at the date of the creation of such new county; provided that when the new county was organized and made assessment rolls for the same year as that in which it was created, such rolls shall be taken as conclusive evidence of the property therein and the taxable values thereof at the date of the creation of such new county, and the assessment rolls of the parent county for the same year shall be conclusive evidence of the property and the value thereof remaining in the parent county at the date of the creation of such new county. [Id.]

Art. 1549. [1341] [765a] Suits and special tax.—All suits brought under this law shall be given precedence upon the dockets of the courts. If the plaintiff shall recover, the commissioners court of the newly created county shall levy a special tax on all property in the territory taken from the plaintiff county sufficient to pay off the judgment, and, if the first levy be insufficient, to make said levy annually till said judgment is satisfied, and the judgment of the court shall order said commissioners court to make such levies. [Id.]

Art. 1550. [1342] [766] Non-residents to pay.—The Comptroller shall assess and collect from the non-residents of unorganized counties such rate of taxation, to pay the pro-rata share of the debt due by such unorganized county, as the commissioners court of the parent county shall levy on property in said parent county to pay such debt, and a certified statement of the commissioners court making the levy in the parent county, giving the amount of the levy, shall be authority for his action. [Acts 1889, p. 136; G. L. vol. 9, p. 1164.]

Art. 1551. [1343] [767] When territory added.—When the territory taken is added to and made a part of an organized county, the commissioners' court of such county shall levy and have collected on all property in such territory a tax sufficient to pay their pro-rata of the indebtedness, said tax not to exceed the constitutional limit; and the commissioners court of the county to which any unorganized county may be attached for judicial purposes shall levy and have collected on all property in such unorganized county owned or held by resident citizens a tax for the purpose of paying such indebtedness. [Id.]

Art. 1552. [1344] [768] Tax for pro-rata indebtedness.—When any county has organized, the commissioners court of such county shall levy and have collected on all property in this county such rate of taxation to pay the pro rata share of the debt due by such county as the commissioners court of the parent county shall levy on property in said parent county to pay such debt. [Id.]

Art. 1553. [1346] [770] County bonds held by school funds.—When any new county has been created wholly out of an existing county, if any bonds were legally issued by the parent county prior to the severance of a part of its territory, such of said bonds and the coupons due thereon as are held by the school fund of this State shall be apportioned by the Comptroller between the parent county and the new county on the basis now provided by law. [Acts 1891, p. 39; G. L. vol. 10, p. 41.]

Art. 1554. [1347] [771] Levy of tax for debt.—The commissioners court of the parent county, or of any county created out of the parent county, which has now or may hereafter be organized, shall levy and have collected on all property in such county a tax to pay such county's pro-rata share of the debt. The commissioners court of a county to which any unorganized county may be attached for judicial purposes shall levy and have collected on all property in said unorganized county owned by resident citizens thereof a tax for the purpose of paying said county's part of the debt. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller to assess and collect on all property in such unorganized counties owned by non-residents, a tax to pay said counties' pro rata part of said debt. Nothing herein shall be held to authorize the levy and collection of any tax in excess of that now allowed by the Constitution of this State. [Id.]

Art. 1555. [1348] [772] [659] Detachment by vote.—No part of any existing county shall be detached from it and attached to another existing county until the proposition for such change has been submitted to a vote of the electors of both counties, and shall have received a majority of those voting on the question in each. [Const. art. 9.]

Art. 1556. [1349] [773] [660] Election ordered.—An election for such purpose shall be ordered by the county judge, or county judges of the county or counties from which it is proposed to detach any proportion [portion] thereof, or to attach any portion thereto, upon the written application of not less than fifty qualified voters of said county or counties.

Art. 1557. [1350] [774] [661] Application.—Such application shall designate particularly by metes and bounds, the portion of the territory proposed to be detached, and shall show the number of square acres contained within said bounds, and the number of square acres remaining in the county or counties from which it is proposed to detach such part or parts, and the distance on a direct line of the county seat of any such county or counties from the nearest boundary line of the territory which it is proposed shall be detached.

Art. 1558. [1351] [775] [662] Notices of election.—The notices of such election shall contain substantially the boundaries and statements contained in the application, and in order of election.

Art. 1559. [1352] [776] [663] Question to be voted upon.—The question to be voted upon at such election shall be, for or against the proposition, and the ballots shall be, "For the proposition," or "Against the proposition."

Art. 1560. [1353] [777] [664] Law governing such elections.—Such election shall be governed by the law governing other elections so far as applicable, and not in conflict with any provisions of this chapter.

Art. 1561. [1354] [778] [665] Returns of election.—The returns of such election shall be made to the county judge or county judges of the county or counties in which the election takes place; and such judge or judges shall estimate the vote and make duplicate statements of the same, and shall officially certify to such statements, and one of said statements, together with a copy of the application so certified, he shall seal in an envelope, writing his name across the seal, and endorsing upon the package "Election returns of _____ County," and direct and transmit the same by mail or other safe conveyance to the Speaker of the House of Representatives at the seat of government, in time for the same to be received as early as practicable during the next session of the Legislature.

Art. 1562. [1355] [779] [666] Subsequent election.—When any such election has been held in a county, and the proposition to detach a portion thereof has been defeated, no other election for the same purpose shall be ordered or held within five years thereafter.

CHAPTER TWO

ORGANIZATION OF COUNTIES

Art.

- 1563. Old county shall organize new one.
- 1564. Election to be ordered when and by whom.
- 1565. County commissioners may act.
- 1566. Unorganized county.
- 1566a. Appraisers of taxable property in unorganized counties.
- 1567. Disorganized counties.
- 1568. Organization of attached county.
- 1569. Certificates of election.
- 1570. Delivery to new officers.
- 1571. Elections in unorganized counties.

Article 1563. [1356] [780] [667] Old county shall organize new one.—Whenever any new county shall hereafter be established, the commissioners court of the county from which the territory of such new county, or the greater part thereof was taken, at least one month previous to the general election next after such new county shall have been established shall lay off and divide such new county into convenient precincts for the election of justices of the peace and other precinct officers, defining particularly the boundaries of such precincts; and shall also designate convenient places in such new county where elections shall be held, and shall cause a record thereof to be made by the clerk. A copy thereof shall be transmitted to the county judge of such new county when elected. [Act March 20, 1848, p. 284; P. D. 1063; G. L. vol. 3, p. 284.]

Art. 1564. [1357] [781] [668] Election to be ordered when and by whom.—It shall be the duty of the county judge of every county from which any new county has been so taken at least one month previous to the general election of county officers next after such new county has been established, to order an election to be held in such new county or [on] said general election day, for all county officers authorized to be elected by the people of such new county, and to appoint a presiding officer for each place designated in such new county, for holding elections; such order of elections shall specify the number of precincts, their boundaries, and the officers to be elected in such county. Such presiding officers shall hold such elections in accordance with the laws regulating elections, and shall make their returns to the county judge who ordered such election, who shall open and examine such returns and give certificates to the persons elected. [Id.]

Art. 1565. [1358] [782] [669] County commissioners may act.—In any case where the office of county judge shall be vacant, any two of the county commissioners shall be authorized to perform each duty required of the county judge under this chapter. [Id.]

Art. 1566. [1359] [783] [670] Unorganized county.—Until a new county is legally organized, the territory thereof shall remain in all respects subject to the county from which the same has been taken. [Id.]

Art. 1566a. Appraisers of taxable property in unorganized counties.—Sec. 1. That the sum of Two Thousand ($2,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be, and the same is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to each of the counties in this State to which an unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes, to be used by said county through its Commissioners' Court for the employment of a skilled appraiser, with the consent and approval of the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, to assist in the appraisal of taxable property situated in any such unorganized county, of which fund herein provided for, not exceeding One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars, shall be available for each calendar year for each such county for the years 1927 and 1928.

Sec. 2. After said appraiser has completed his work of the appraisal of the properties in the unorganized county, he shall make a report in duplicate to the Commissioners' Court of the county to which such unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes, stating therein in detail the values placed upon all classes of property by him in said unorganized county.

Sec. 3. After the Commissioners' Court has finally passed on the values fixed by said appraiser in his report, they shall certify their action to the Comptroller of Public Accounts, furnishing him with a duplicate of the report filed by the appraiser, and showing the action of the court had thereon, together with a certificate showing the extent of the services performed by the appraiser, and the value thereof, which shall be authority for the Comptroller to draw his warrant in favor of said appraiser for the amount shown to be due. [Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 199, ch. 74.]

Art. 1567. [1360] [784] [671] Disorganized counties.—All legally organized counties that, from any cause, may have lost, or may hereafter lose, their county organization, shall be, for all judicial and surveying purposes, and for the registration of deeds, mortgages and all other instruments that are now, or may hereafter be, required or permitted by law to be recorded attached to the organized county whose county seat is nearest to the county seat of such disorganized county, and so remain attached until such disorganized county shall again be legally organized. [Act Nov. 5, 1866, p. 90; G. L. vol. 5, p. 1008.]

Art. 1568. [1361] [785] [672] Organization of attached county.—When any unorganized or disorganized county has been attached to another county for judicial or other purposes, and desires to be organized or reorganized, a petition expressing such desire, signed by not less than seventy-five qualified voters residing in such county, may be presented to the commissioners court of the county to which such unorganized or disorganized county is attached, and thereupon said court shall proceed without delay to the organization or reorganization of such county in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for the organization of new counties. [Act May 1, 1874, p. 188; Acts 1918, 4th C. S. p. 17; G. L. vol. 8, p. 189.]

Art. 1569. [1362] [786] [673] Certificates of election.—The county judge of the county conducting the organization of another county shall issue certificates of election to the officers elected in such organized or reorganized county, and approve the bonds of such officers. [Act May 1, 1874, p. 188; G. L. vol. 8, p. 189.]

Art. 1570. [1363] [787] [674] Delivery to new officers.—All officers of the county from which a new county has been created or to which any such newly organized or reorganized county has been attached, and all other persons who may have in their possession any books, records, maps, or other property belonging to such newly organized or reorganized county, shall deliver the same to the proper officers of such newly organized or reorganized county within five days after such officers have been legally qualified.

Art. 1571. [1364] [788] [675] Elections in unorganized counties.—Where a county is not organized and there is no officer in the same authorized by law to organize such county, the county judge of the nearest county which is organized may order elections for county officers in any such county, and appoint the presiding officers and managers and clerks of election. [Acts March 26, 1848; P. D. 3624.]

CHAPTER THREE

CORPORATE RIGHTS AND POWERS

- Art. 1572. County a body corporate.
- 1573. Suits against.
- 1574. Jurors.
- 1575. Execution against county.
- 1576. Validity of deed, etc.
- 1577. Sale of real estate.
- 1578. Contracts with a county valid.
- 1579. Suits on writings by county.
- 1580. Agents to contract for county.
- 1581. Costs in suit against county.

Article 1572. [1365] [789] [676] County a body corporate.—Each county which now exists or which may be hereafter established, shall be a body corporate and politic. [P. D. 1044.]

Art. 1573. [1366] [790] [677] Suits against.—No county shall be sued unless the claim upon which such suit is founded shall have first been presented to the commissioners court for allowance, and such court shall have neglected or refused to audit and allow the same, or any part thereof. [P. D. 1045.]

Art. 1574. [1367] [791] [678] Jurors.—In any suit instituted by or against any county, the inhabitants of the county so suing or being sued may if otherwise competent, be jurors or witnesses. [P. D. 1049.]

Art. 1575. [1368] [792] [679] Execution against county.—No execution shall be issued on any judgment against any county. When a judgment is rendered against a county the commissioners court of such county shall settle and pay such judgment in like manner and pro rata as other similar claims are settled and paid by said court. [P. D. 1050.]

Art. 1576. [1369] [793] [680] Validity of deed, etc.—All deeds, grants and conveyances heretofore or hereafter made and duly acknowledged, or proven, and recorded as other deeds of conveyance, to any county, or to the courts or commissioners of any county, or any other person or persons, by whatever form of conveyance, for the use and benefit of any county, shall be good and valid to vest in such county in fee simple or otherwise all such right, title, interest and estate as the grantor in any such instrument had at the time of the execution thereof in the lands conveyed and was intended thereby to be conveyed. [P. D. 1051.]

Art. 1577. [1370] [794] [681] Sale of real estate.—The commissioners court may, by an order to be entered on its minutes, appoint a commissioner to sell and dispose of any real estate of the county at public auction. The deed of such commissioner, made in conformity to such order for and in behalf of the county, duly acknowledged and proven and recorded shall be sufficient to convey to the purchasers all the right, title, and interest and estate which the county may have in and to the premises to be conveyed. Nothing contained in this article shall authorize any commissioners court to dispose of any lands given, donated or granted to such county for the purpose of education in any other manner than shall be directed by law. [P. D. 1052.]

Art. 1578. [1371] [795] [682] Contracts with a county valid.—Any note, bond, bill, contract, covenant, agreement or writing, made or to be made, whereby any person is or shall be bound to any county, or to the court or commissioners of any county, or to any other person or persons, in whatever form, for the payment of any debt or duty or the performance of any matter or thing to the use of any county, shall be valid and effectual to vest in said county any right, interest and action which would be vested in any person if any such contract had been made directly with him. [P. D. 1053.]

Art. 1579. [1372] [796] [683] Suits on writings by county.—Suits may be begun and prosecuted on such notes, bonds, bills, contracts, covenants, agreements, and writings, in the name of such county, or in the name of the person to whom they were made, for the use of the county, as fully and as effectually as any person may or can sue on like instruments made to him. [P. D. 1054.]

Art. 1580. [1373] [797] [684] Agents to contract for county.—The commissioners court may appoint an agent or agents to make any contract on behalf of the county for the erection or repairing of any county buildings, and to superintend their erection or repairing, or for any other purpose authorized by law. The contract or acts of such agent or agents, duly executed and done, for and on behalf of the county, and within his or their powers, shall be valid and effectual to bind such county to all intents and purposes. [P. D. 1055.]

Art. 1581. [1374] [798] [685] Costs in suit against county.—When the plaintiff in any suit against a county shall fail to recover a greater amount than the commissioners court of such county shall have allowed to such plaintiff on the presentation of his claim to such court, such plaintiff shall pay all costs of such suit. [P. D. 1056.]

COUNTY LINES

- Art. 1582. Survey made.
- 1583. Marking boundary.
- 1584. Natural objects.
- 1585. Notice to other counties.
- 1586. Oath and bond of surveyors.
- 1587. Return and record of field notes.
- 1588. Absence of surveyor.
- 1589. Land Commissioner to direct survey.

For Annotations and Historical Notes, see Vernon's Texas Annotated Statutes

Art.

1590. Division of expense.
1591. Suit to establish boundary.
1592. Marking line on map.

Article 1582. [1375] [799] Survey made.—

Whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the county court of any county, or notice shall be given such court by the Land Commissioner that the boundary or any part thereof, of the county is not sufficiently definite and well defined, such court shall appoint an experienced and competent practical surveyor, whose duty it shall be to ascertain by actual survey the boundary, or any part thereof, of said county, and to make and establish the lines and corners in the manner herein prescribed. The court, in the order making the appointment, shall specify the line or lines to be run, and the corners to be established and marked; and shall in all things conform to the law defining the boundaries of said county. [Acts 1879, p. 137; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1437.]

Art. 1583. [1376] [800] Marking boundary.—

The initial corners of the surveys herein provided for shall be designated by posts, mounds or stone monuments; the posts shall be of hewn cedar, cypress or bois d' arc, at least eight inches in diameter, five feet long, and set in the ground not less than three feet; the mounds shall be of stone when practicable, otherwise of earth, and not less than two feet high; at the end of each mile in said boundary a like post, mound or stone monument shall be established; the initial corners shall be described on the post or monument established there. [Id.]

Art. 1584. [1377] [801] Natural objects.—

In the field notes of the survey of the lines ordered to be run, the surveyor shall give accurate description of all prominent natural objects crossed by, or adjacent to said lines, as well as of the corners and lines of surveys on or near said boundaries. [Id.]

Art. 1585. [1378] [802] Notice to other counties.—

The court making such order shall cause a copy thereof to be sent to the county courts of the counties interested in such boundary, stating the time and place, which time shall not be later than twenty days after the meeting of the county court of the county notified, for the commencement of the survey; and such notice shall be given at least ten days before the meeting of said county court; and the court so notified shall appoint an experienced and competent practical surveyor to proceed at the time and place to assist in running and establishing such line. [Id.]

Art. 1586. [1379] [803] Oath and bond of surveyors.—

Such surveyors shall take the oath of office prescribed by law for county surveyors, and shall, before entering upon the duties herein prescribed, enter into bond in the sum of one thousand dollars, with two or more sureties to be approved by the county judge, payable to the county judge or his successors in office, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duty. [Id.]

Art. 1587. [1380] [804] Return and record of field notes.—

When the line shall have been surveyed and marked as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the surveyor to make due return of the field notes and map to the county court; which field notes and map shall be recorded by the clerk, and a certified copy thereof returned to the general land office. [Id.]

Art. 1588. [1381] [805] Absence of surveyor.—

If either of the surveyors appointed to run and mark such line shall fail to attend at the time and place appointed, the one in attendance shall proceed alone to perform the duties assigned and make his report to the county court of the county employing him, which being approved by such court, shall be recorded as evidence of the line in question. The line so surveyed and marked shall thereafter be regarded as the true boundary line between the counties. [Id.]

Art. 1589. [1382] [806] Land Commissioner to direct survey.—

If the surveyors above provided for fail to agree as to the true boundary line between their respective counties, the facts of such disagreement, with a full statement of the questions at issue between them, shall be by them reported to the Land Commissioner, who shall examine the disputed matter at once; and from such data as the maps and archives of his office furnish, shall designate to such surveyors the line to be run stating at what specific point they shall begin and to what specific point they shall run, adhering as nearly as possible to the line designated in the act creating such county line, which instructions shall be authority for said surveyors to run such line. The line so run as above directed shall thereafter be the true dividing line between said counties. [Id.]

Art. 1590. [1383] [807] Division of expense.—

The expense of surveying and marking such line shall be divided between the counties interested, in proportion to the frontage of each county upon the line, and paid for by each county as proportioned. The surveyors appointed as herein provided shall receive for their services three dollars per mile for each mile run. The expense of establishing the posts, mounds, or stone monuments shall be paid by the counties interested, and they shall be erected under the supervision and direction of the surveyor. [Id.]

Art. 1591. [1385] Suit to establish boundary.—

Notwithstanding any preceding article of this chapter, any county in this State may bring suit against any adjoining county or counties, for the purpose of establishing the boundary line between them. Such suit shall be brought in the district court of the county in an adjoining judicial district whose boundaries are not affected by the suit, and whose county seat is nearest the county seat of the county suing. Said court shall try said cause as other causes, and shall have jurisdiction to determine where such boundary line is located, and, if necessary, shall order the same to be remarked and resurveyed. If, in the trial of any such cause, it is found that the boundary line between the counties involved has never been established and marked, or if marked has become indefinite and undefined, said court shall have power to re-establish the same and order it marked. Any boundary line so established by such judgment shall thereafter be regarded as the true boundary line between the counties in question; provided, that if it shall be found in any such cause that the boundary line in question has been heretofore established under the law then in force, the same shall be declared to be the true line, and shall be resurveyed and established as such. [Acts 1897, p. 222; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1276.]

Art. 1592. [1386] Marking line on map.—

It shall be unlawful for the Land Commissioner to mark, fix or place on any of the maps in said office any contested county line at any definite point thereon, until a certified copy of the final judgment of the court is filed in the General Land Office, together with a certified copy of the field notes of the line so established by such judgment. [Id.]

CHAPTER FIVE

COUNTY SEATS

Art.

1593. Election for county seats.
1594. Vote necessary.
1595. Election for removal of.
1596. Proceedings for removal of county seat.
1597. Geographical center.
1598. Who may vote and form of ballot.
1599. Election.
1600. County seats removed, when.
1601. Subsequent election.
1602. Courts shall hold at seat.
1603. Buildings to be provided.
1604. Place of holding court.
1605. Location of officers.

Article 1593. [1387] [809] Election for county seats.—

In the organization of any county or counties now existing, or hereafter created by the Legislature, it shall be the duty of the county judge holding the election in such county for county officers thereof to order an election for the location of a county seat therein, which shall be conducted in the same manner as that regulating the election of the officers of such new county. The place receiving a majority of all the votes cast by the electors voting on the location of such county seat shall thereafter be the county seat of such county, subject to be removed as other county seats. When any county has been organized, and no county seat has been located, the county judge of such county shall order an election for the location of a county seat. [Acts 1883, p. 82; G. L. vol. 9, p. 388.]

Art. 1594. [1388] [810] Vote necessary.—No county seat first established in a newly organized county shall be located at any point more than five miles from the geographical center of any county in this State, unless by a two-thirds vote of all the electors voting on the subject in said county. [Acts 1881, p. 67; G. L. vol. 9, p. 159.]

Art. 1595. [1389] [811] Election for removal of.—No county seat situated within five miles of the geographical center of any county shall be removed except by a vote of two-thirds of all the electors in said county voting on the subject; nor shall any county seat be removed from a point more than five miles from the geographical center of any county to any other point more than five miles from such center, nor from a point within five miles of the geographical center to any other point within five miles of such center, except by a two-thirds vote of all the electors in said county voting on the subject. No person shall be allowed to vote except he be a bona fide citizen of the county in which he offers to vote. A majority of said electors, however, voting at such election may remove a county seat from a point more than five miles from the geographical center of the county to a point within five miles of such center; and in counties having a population of not less than 1300 nor more than 1400, according to the last United States census, a majority of said electors voting at such election may remove a county seat from a point more than five miles from the geographical center of the county to another point more than five miles from such center; in either event the center to be determined by a certificate from the Land Commissioner. [Acts 1879, p. 84; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1384; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 7, ch. 5, § 1.]

Art. 1596. [1390] [812] Proceedings for removal of county seat.—When it becomes desirable to remove the county seat of any county, the county judge of said county, upon the written application of not less than one hundred freeholders and qualified voters, who are resident citizens of said county shall make a written order upon the minutes of said commissioners court for the holding of an election at various voting precincts in said county on a day therein named, which shall not be less than thirty nor more than sixty days from date of order, for the purpose of submitting the question to the electors of said county. When a county seat has been established for more than ten years, it shall require two hundred freeholders and qualified voters to make said application. In counties having less than three hundred and fifty legal voters, to be determined by the number of votes cast at the last preceding general election such application may be made by one hundred resident freeholders and qualified voters of said county. When a county seat has been established for more than forty years, it shall require a majority of the resident freeholders and qualified voters of said county to make the application, said majority to be ascertained by the county judge from the assessment rolls thereof. In counties having not more than 150 qualified voters, such application shall be held sufficient when it shall have been signed by a majority of the resident freeholders and qualified voters of said county, said majority to be ascertained by the county judge from the assessment rolls thereof. In the event of the failure, refusal or inability of the county judge to perform any duty imposed upon him by this article such duty may be performed by any two county commissioners of the county. [Acts 1893, p. 164; Acts 1919, 2nd C. S. p. 77.]

Art. 1597. [1391] [813] Geographical center.—The Land Commissioner, upon being notified by the county judge that a proposition is submitted to the people of his county, or that it is desirable on the part of the people thereof, that the center of such county shall be designated, preliminary to the removal of any county seat, shall from the maps, surveys and other data on file in his office, designate the center of such county, and shall certify the same to such county judge, who shall cause the same to be spread upon the records of deeds of his county. [Acts 1879, p. 84; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1354.]

Art. 1598. [1392] [814] Who may vote and form of ballot.—All persons who are qualified voters under the Constitution and laws of the State shall be entitled to vote at said election. On each ticket, the voter shall write or cause to be written or printed: "For removal to" (inserting the name of the place); or, should the voter be in favor of the county seat remaining where it is, he shall write or cause to be written or printed on his ticket: "For remaining at" (inserting the name of the place.) [Id.]

Art. 1599. [1393] [815] Election.—The county judge or commissioners shall order said election in each voting precinct in said county, which shall be conducted as near as may be, as elections for county officers. The officers holding the elections shall make return thereof to the authority ordering said election within ten days after the same was held, who shall then proceed to open said returns and count the same, and declare the result, which shall be entered upon the records of said commissioners court, and shall also state the name of the place from which, and the name of the place to which, the same is removed. A certified copy of such entry shall thereupon be recorded in the proper record deeds of such county. [Id.]

Art. 1600. [1394] [816] County seats removed, when.—When such entry has been made, the county seat, if the election be held to move the county seat from a point within five miles of the geographical center, to a point more or less than five miles from the geographical center, or from a point more than five miles from the geographical center, to any other point more than five miles from such center, shall be removed to the place receiving the votes of two-thirds of all the electors voting on the subject; and such place shall thereafter be the county seat of such county. If the election be held to move the county seat from a point more than five miles from the geographical center to a point within five miles of such center, then the county seat shall be moved to the place receiving a majority of all the electors in the county voting at such election, and such place shall thereafter be the county seat of such county. In counties having a population of not less than 1300 nor more than 1400 according to the last United States census, if the election be held to remove the county seat from a point more than five miles from the geographical center to another point more than five miles from such center, then the county seat shall be removed to the place receiving a majority of all the electors in the county voting at such election, and such place shall thereafter be the county seat of such county. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 7, ch. 5, § 2.]

Art. 1601. [1395] [817] Subsequent election.—Whenever an election for the location or removal of a county seat has been voted on by the electors of any county, and the question settled, it shall not be lawful for a like application to be made for the same purpose within five years thereafter. Provided, that an application may be made and an election held to remove the county seat from a location more than five miles from a railroad operating as a common carrier, to a location on a railroad within two years thereafter. [Id.; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 264, ch. 185.]

Art. 1602. [1396] [818] [704] Courts shall hold at seat.—All terms of the district, county and commissioners court shall be held at the county seat.

Art. 1603. [1397] [819] [705] Buildings to be provided.—The county commissioners court of

each county, as soon as practicable after the establishment of a county seat, or after its removal from one place to another, shall provide a court house and jail for the county, and offices for county officers at such county seat and keep the same in good repair. [R. S. 1879; (Art.) 705.]

Art. 1604. [1398] [820] Place of holding court.—Until the county seats of new counties are established, as required under this chapter, the courts of such new counties shall be held at such place as may be appointed by the commissioners court of such county. [Acts 1879, p. 84; G. L. vol. 8, p. 1354.]

Art. 1605. [1399] Location of officers.—The county judge, sheriff, clerks of the district and of the county courts, county treasurer, assessor of taxes, collector of taxes, county surveyor and county attorney of the several counties of this State shall keep their offices at the county seats of their respective counties, provided, however, that in all counties having a city or cities, other than the county seats, within their boundaries, having a population of 20,000 and over, the assessor of taxes and the collector of taxes when authorized by order of the commissioners' court may maintain a branch office in said city or cities, and may appoint one or more deputies for said offices, and the salaries to be paid said deputies together with the office rent and other expenses incidental to maintaining said offices shall be considered as a part of the necessary expenses of the assessor of taxes and collector of taxes, respectively, and shall be paid in the manner now provided by law for the payment of the expenses of the assessor of taxes and collector of taxes. [Acts 1925, p. 508.]

CHAPTER SIX

1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1607. [1401-2-6-52] Finance ledger.—Each commissioners court shall procure a well-bound ledger and index, to be known as the finance ledger, and shall cause to be entered therein a full and orderly statement of the condition of the county finances. The county clerk shall open and keep in said book an account with each officer of the county, district or State, who may be authorized or required by law to receive or collect all money or other property for the use of, or belonging to the county, and shall state at the top of each page of said account the name of such officer and his office. The clerk shall keep such other accounts as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this title, and shall conveniently index each. And items shall be entered daily under their respective heads. All reports and vouchers shall be filed with said clerk and carefully preserved, and briefly noted in the proper account upon the ledger. Said finance ledger shall be at all times subject to the inspection of the public. [Acts 1893, p. 160; G. L. vol. 10, p. 590.]

Art. 1608. [1403] [824a] [935a] Quarterly statement.—Said clerk shall balance each account so kept, and make a sworn tabular statement at each regular term of the commissioners' court for the three months preceding the month when such court meets in regular session, to be presented to said court during the second day of its term, specifying therein the names of the creditors of said county, and the items of indebtedness, with their respective dates of accrual, and also the names of persons to whom moneys have been paid, with the amounts paid each, the names of persons from whom moneys have been received, with the date of receipt and for what account received, during the quarter for which such statement is prepared; said statement shall also separately show the amount to the credit or debit of each fund. [Id.]

Art. 1609. [1404] Exhibit published.—Immediately after the first regular term of said court in each year said clerk shall publish once in some weekly newspaper published in his county, or if there be no paper published therein, then by posting four copies of such exhibit, one in each commissioners precinct, one of which shall be at the court house door, the other three at public places in such precincts, an exhibit showing the aggregate amount paid out of each fund for the four preceding quarters, and the balance to the credit or debit of each fund; also the amount of indebtedness of said county, with their respective dates of accrual, and to whom and for what due; also the amount to the debit or credit of each officer or other persons with whom an account is kept. The cost for publishing the same shall be paid by order of said court out of the general fund of the county. [Id.]

Art. 1610. [1407-12] Account with tax collector.—The accounts of the tax collector shall be kept as follows: A separate account shall be kept for each separate fund that may be upon the tax rolls; each account shall state the name of the collector, the character of the fund entered therein, and the year for which the same is assessed; and the taxes assessed for each year shall be kept separate and distinct.

Art. 1611. [1408] [827] [938] Receipts for tax rolls.—Whenever the tax rolls are ready for delivery to the tax collector, the court or officer having control of the same shall take from the collector a written receipt for the same, specifying the amount therein assessed and due the county, stating separately the amount assessed to each fund, and shall deliver said receipt to the county clerk, who shall charge the collector with the amount stated in said receipt in the proper account; and said amounts shall be treated as debts due the county by the collector.

Art. 1612. [1409] [828] [939] Collector's credits.—The collector shall discharge said indebtedness within the time prescribed by law, by filing with said clerk receipts for the same, as follows:

1. The commission due the collector.
2. The assessor's receipt for commissions due such assessor, if any, are to be paid by the county.
3. Proper vouchers for such payments as he may be required to pay out of any money on hand.
4. The county treasurer's receipt for the money paid into the treasury.

Art. 1613. [1410-11] Indigent and delinquent tax accounts.—The collector shall make separate lists of the indigent and delinquent taxpayers, showing their names, and the amount due by each taxpayer. The court shall carefully examine said list, and shall make an order and enter the same upon its minutes, stating the names and amounts that are adjudged uncollectible; and the collector shall have credit for the amounts included in said order in the proper accounts, only after said order has been made and entered.

Art. 1614. [1413] [832] [943] Shall deliver tax rolls to successor.—On leaving office the tax collector shall deliver to his successor the tax rolls in his possession, and shall receive from his successor a written receipt for the amount of taxes due on the tax rolls so delivered, specifying the amount of each fund and each year separately, and also the amount due on the indigent and delinquent list; and deliver said receipts to the county clerk, who shall enter those allowed by the court to the credit of the collector, presenting them, and shall charge the amounts so credited to the successor in office of such collector, in the proper accounts.

Art. 1615. [1414-15-16-17-18] Occupation tax.—Said collector shall collect all occupation taxes due the county without assessment and give the party paying the tax a written receipt, stating his name, the occupation paid for, the time such occupation is to be pursued, and the amount collected for the State and for the county. On presentation of such receipt, the county clerk shall issue to the payee therein a license in the name of the State or county or both, in accordance with the tax so paid, authorizing said payee to pursue such occupation during the time for which the tax is paid. The clerk shall keep an occupation tax account with the collector of the county, in which he shall charge the collector with all licenses issued for the county. The collector shall have credit in said account for his commissions, and the amount paid into the treasury upon filing the proper receipt of the county treasurer with such clerk. Said clerk shall, at the end of every month, make two reports, one of licenses issued on taxes paid to the State which he shall forward to the Comptroller by mail; the other of licenses issued on taxes paid to the county and file the same in his office. Such reports shall recite the information contained in the tax collector's receipt for such tax, and shall be dated and signed under the clerk's official seal.

Art. 1616. [1419-20] Account with sheriff.—An account shall be kept with the sheriff charging him with all judgments, fines, forfeitures and penalties, payable to and rendered in any court of the county, the collection of which he is by law made chargeable. The sheriff may free himself from liability from such charge, by:

1. Producing the receipt of the county treasurer showing the payment of such judgment, fine, forfeiture or penalty.

2. Showing to the satisfaction of the commissioners court that the same cannot be collected, or that the same has been discharged by imprisonment or labor, or by escape, without his fault or neglect, and obtaining an order from said court allowing the same.

Art. 1617. [1421] [840] [951] Officers to report collections.—Each district clerk, county clerk, county judge, county treasurer, sheriff, district and county attorney, constable and justice of the peace, who shall collect or handle any money for the use of the county, shall make a full report to the commissioners court, at each regular term thereof, of all fines imposed and collected and all judgments rendered and collected for the use of the county, and all jury fees collected in their respective courts in favor of, or for the use of the county; and at the same time present their receipts and vouchers showing what disposition has been made of the money collected, fines imposed and judgments rendered. Said court shall carefully examine said reports, receipts and vouchers and, if found correct, shall cause the clerk to enter the same on the finance ledger, and, if found to be incorrect, shall summon said officer before them, and have the same corrected. Said reports, receipts, and vouchers shall be filed in the county clerk's office. [Acts 1887, p. 36; G. L. vol. 9, p. 834.]

Art. 1618. [1422] [841] [952] Collections: form of report.—The reports required by the preceding article shall state fully:

1. The name of the party fined and the amount of the fine, or the name of the party against whom judgment was rendered and the amount of such judgment.

2. The style and number of the cases in which fines have been imposed or judgments rendered, and the date thereof.

3. The amount of jury fees collected, and the style and number of the case in which each jury fee was collected and from whom collected.

Art. 1619. [1423] [842] [953] Accounts of justice.—Fines imposed and judgments rendered by justices of the peace shall be charged against the justice imposing or rendering the same. He may discharge said indebtedness by filing with the county clerk the treasurer's receipt for the amount thereof, or by showing to the satisfaction of the commissioners court that he has used due diligence to collect the same without avail, or that the same have been satisfied by imprisonment or labor.

Art. 1620. [1424-5] Report of attorneys.—The district attorney of each district shall, at each term of the district court for each county in his district, make a report to the county clerk, of all moneys received by him since the last term of the district court for such county for the use of such county. Each county attorney shall make a similar report to the said clerk at the end of each month.

Art. 1621. [1426] [845] Judgment sold.—Whenever the proceeds of any judgment revert to and belong to any county, if the principal and sureties thereon are insolvent so that under any existing process of law said judgment or any part thereof cannot be collected, the commissioners court is hereby constituted a board to dispose of such judgment, and may offer for sale, by such advertising as it deems necessary and to the best interests of the county, all the right of the county to such judgment. If the amount bid on same at public sale shall not be deemed sufficient, said court shall refuse to accept the same, and shall dispose of said judgment in any manner deemed most advantageous to the interest of the county. Upon sale said court shall make a proper assignment of said judgment to the purchaser. [Acts 1st C. S. 1879, p. 9; G. L. vol. 9, p. 40.]

Art. 1622. [1427-8] Collections: report to clerk.—When any officer collects money belonging to, and for the use of, any county, he shall, except where otherwise provided in this title, forthwith report the same to the proper county clerk stating fully from whom collected, the amount collected, the time when collected, and by virtue of what authority or process collected. On making such report, such amount shall be charged to such officer, and he may discharge himself therefrom by producing the receipt of the proper county treasurer therefor.

Art. 1623. [1429-30] Estray account.—When an application to stray an animal is filed with the county clerk, said clerk shall keep an estray account on the debit side of said finance ledger showing, the date of the application, the name of the person straying, and a brief description of the animal to be estrayed. The amount of such charge shall be left blank until said person shall file his account of the sale thereof. Upon the filing of said account, the net amount due the county from such sale shall be entered in the blank. When the receipt of the county treasurer is presented to the clerk, showing any amount paid into the treasury on account of such sale, the same shall be entered on the credit side of the account, showing the date, name of payer, amount paid and a brief description of the estray, and such amount shall be charged on the debit side of the county treasurer's account.

Art. 1624. [1431] [850] [960] Account with county treasurer.—An account with the county treasurer shall be kept in said ledger, in which such treasurer shall be charged separately with the amount of each fund for which he gives a receipt to the sheriff, collector, or other person paying the same into the treasury; and such treasurer shall have credit for all moneys paid out by him, when the commissioners court has approved his reports of the same and for his legal commissions.

Art. 1625. [1432-6-7] Claim registers.—Each county treasurer shall keep a well-bound book in which he shall register all claims against his county in the order of presentation, and if more than one is presented at the same time he shall register them in the order of their date. He shall pay no such claim or any part thereof, nor shall the same, or any part thereof, be received by any officer in payment of any indebtedness to the county, until it has been duly registered in accordance with the provisions of this title. All claims in each class shall be paid in the order in which they are registered.

Art. 1626. [1433] [852] [962] Claims classified.—Claims against a county shall be registered in three classes, as follows:

1. All jury scrip and scrip issued for feeding jurors.
2. All scrip issued under the provisions of the road law or for work done on roads and bridges.
3. All the general indebtedness of the county, including feeding and guarding prisoners, and paupers' claims.

Art. 1627. [1434-5] Registering claims.—Said treasurer shall enter each claim in the register, stating the class to which it belongs, the name of the payee, the amount, the date of the claim, the date of registration, the number of such claim, by what authority issued, and for what service the same was issued, and shall write on the face of the claim its registration number, the word, "registered," the date of such registration, and shall sign his name officially thereto.

Art. 1628. [1438] [857] [967] Classification of county funds.—The funds received by the county treasurer shall be classed as follows, and shall be appropriated, respectively, to the payment of all claims registered in the first, second and third classes:

1. All jury fees, all money received from the sale of estrays, and all occupation taxes.

2. All money received under any of the provisions of the road and bridge law, including the penalties recovered from railroads for failing to repair crossings, and all fines and forfeitures.

3. All money received, not otherwise appropriated herein or by the commissioners court. [Const. art. 16, sec. 24.]

Art. 1629. [1439] [858] [968] Other classes of funds.—The commissioners court may cause such other accounts to be kept, creating other classes of funds, as it may deem proper, and require the scrip to be issued against the same and registered accordingly.

Art. 1630. [1440] [859] [969] Transfer of funds.—The commissioners court by an order to that effect may transfer the money in hand from one fund to another, as it may deem necessary and proper, except that the funds which belong to class first shall never be diverted from the payment of the claims registered in class first, unless there is an excess of such funds.

Art. 1631. [1441-2] Report of claims.—At the end of each month the county treasurer shall file in the office of the county clerk a report showing the total amount of claims registered by him during said months stating each class separately. He shall enter the same upon the ledger under the head of "Registered indebtedness of the county," keeping a separate account of each class of indebtedness, and, from the reports of the treasurer of disbursements made, credit said accounts with the total amount of vouchers of each class of claims paid.

Art. 1632. [1443] [862] [972] Receipt of payee.—The county treasurer or any other officer disbursing money for the county, or receiving county claims in payment of dues of any kind, shall require the party receiving payment of, or credit for the same, his agent or attorney, to receipt in writing upon the face of such claim for the amount so paid or received thereon.

Art. 1633. [1444-5] Report of claims collected.—Every officer who shall collect any fine, penalty, forfeiture, judgment, tax or other indebtedness due the county in claims against the county, shall keep a descriptive list of such claims, and shall when he reports such collection, file with his report a list stating the party in whose favor each claim was issued, the class and register number thereof, the name of the party paying in such claim, and the amount received, and for what purpose received. Such claims and report shall be turned over to the county treasurer who shall give a proper receipt for the same, and he shall file said list with his report in the office of the county clerk.

Art. 1634. [1446] [865] [975] Accounts of treasurer.—The county treasurer shall keep accurate detailed accounts showing all the transactions of his office. And all warrants by him paid off shall be punched at the time he pays them; and the vouchers relating to and accompanying each report shall be presented to the commissioners court with the corresponding report, when said court shall compare the vouchers with the report, and all proper vouchers shall be allowed and the treasurer credited with the amount thereof. [Acts 1889, p. 6; G. L. vol. 9, p. 6.]

Art. 1635. [1447] [866] [976] Claim canceled.—When a claim presented as a voucher has been found by the court to be correct, the court shall cause the same to be canceled by writing or stamping upon the fact [face] thereof the word, "canceled," and the clerk shall attest the same by his official signature.

Art. 1636. [1448-9-50] To inspect treasurer's accounts.—When the commissioners court has compared and examined the quarterly report of the treasurer, and found the same correct, it shall cause an order to be entered upon the minutes of the court, stating the approval thereof, and reciting separately the amount received and paid out of each fund by the treasurer since the preceding treasurer's quarterly report, and the balance of such fund, if any, remaining in the treasurer's hands and the court shall cause the proper credit to be made in the accounts of the treasurer, in accordance with said order. Said court shall actually inspect and count all the actual cash and assets in the hands of the treasurer belonging to the county at the time of the examination of his said report. Prior to the adjournment of each regular term of the court, the county judge and each commissioner shall make affidavit that the requirements of this article have been in all things fully complied with by them at said term of said court, and that the cash and other assets mentioned in said county treasurer's quarterly report made by said treasurer to said court, and held by him for the county, have been fully inspected and counted by them giving the amount of said money and other assets in his hands. Such affidavits shall be filed with the county clerk and recorded in the minutes of said court the term at which the same were filed; and the same shall be published in some newspaper published in the county if there be a newspaper published in the county, for one time. [Acts 1897, p. 27; G. L. vol. 10, p. 1081.]

Art. 1637. [1451] [868] [978] To examine finance accounts.—The commissioners court shall, at each regular term, examine all accounts and reports relating to the finances of the county, and compare the same with the vouchers accompanying them, and cause such corrections to be made as are necessary, in order to make said accounts and reports correct, and shall cause all orders made by them, appertaining to said accounts and reports, to be properly entered upon the minutes of said court and noted upon said accounts and reports.

Art. 1638. [1453-4] Finance committee.—At each term of the district court, the district judge, upon request of the grand jury, may appoint a committee consisting of three citizens of the county, men of good moral character and intelligence, and experienced accountants, to examine into the condition of the finances of the county. Said committee shall examine all the books, accounts, reports, vouchers and orders of the commissioners court relating to the finances of the county that have not been examined and reported upon by a previous committee; count all the money in the office of the county treasurer belonging to the county, and make such other examination as it deems necessary and proper in order to ascertain the true condition of the finances of the county. The court shall, if necessary, upon the application of said committee, send for persons and evidence to aid in such investigation.

Art. 1639. [1455] [872] [982] Report of committee.—Said committee shall, at the earliest practicable day after its appointment, make to said district court a detailed written report stating whether the books and accounts required to be kept by the provisions of this title are correctly kept in accordance with said provisions, and setting forth fully the condition of the finances of the county, the state of each officer's account, and specifying all irregularities, omissions and malfeasance of any kind that they may discover. Said report shall be signed and sworn to by said committee and filed in the office of the district clerk, and the attention of the grand jury called thereto as soon after the filing of the same as practicable.

Art. 1640. [1456] [873] [983] Pay of committee.—Said committeemen shall each be entitled to receive for their services three dollars for each day, not to exceed five days, that they may be engaged in the performance of their duties as such, to be paid out of the county treasury upon the certificate of the district judge stating the number of days served.

Art. 1641. Audit by accountant.—Any commissioners court, when in its judgment an imperative public necessity exists therefor, shall have authority to employ a disinterested, competent and expert public accountant to audit all or any part of the books, records, or accounts of the county; or of any district, county or precinct officers, agents or employes, including auditors of the counties, and all governmental units of the county, hospitals, farms, and other institutions of the county kept and maintained at public expense, as well as for all matters relating to or affecting the fiscal affairs of the county. The resolution providing for such audit shall recite the reasons and necessity existing therefor such as that in the judgment of said court there exists official misconduct, willful omission or negligence in records and reports, misapplication, conversion or retention of public funds, failure in keeping accounts, making reports and accounting for public funds by any officer, agent or employe of the district, county or precinct, including depositories, hospitals, and other public institutions maintained for the public benefit, and at public expense; or that in the judgment of the court, it is necessary that it have the information sought to enable it to determine and fix proper appropriation and expenditure of public moneys, and to ascertain and fix a just and proper tax levy. The said resolution may be presented in writing at any regular or called session of the commissioners court, but shall lie over to the next regular term of said court, and shall be published in one issue of a newspaper of general circulation published in the county; provided if there be no such newspaper published in the county, then notice thereof shall be posted in three public places in said county, one of which shall be at the court house door, for at least ten days prior to its adoption. At such next regular term said resolution shall be adopted by a majority vote of the four commissioners of the court and approved by the county judge. Any contract entered into by said commissioners court for the audit provided herein shall be made in accordance with the statutes applicable to the letting of contracts by said court, payment for which may be made out of the public funds of the county in accordance with said statutes. The authority conferred on county auditors contained in this title as well as other provisions of statutes relating to district, county and precinct finances and accounts thereof shall be held subordinate to the powers given herein to the commissioners' court. [Acts 1923, p. 170.]

Art. 1642. [1457-8] Requisites of report.—All reports required under any provision of this title shall be in writing and sworn to by the officer making the same, before some officer authorized to administer oaths; and all such monthly reports shall be filed within five days after the end of each month.

Art. 1643. [1459] [876] [986] Warrants attested.—All warrants or scrip issued against the county treasurer by any judge or court shall be signed and attested by the clerk or judge of the court issuing the same, under his official seal. No justice of the peace shall have authority to issue warrants against the treasury for any purpose whatever, except as provided in the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Art. 1644. [1405] Compensation of clerk.—The clerk shall receive annually as compensation for the labor performed in keeping the finance ledger and making the quarterly statement required by this title, the sum of five dollars for each one thousand dollars tax assessed as due the county, to be paid quarterly on order of the commissioners court out of the general fund of the county; provided, the same be not less than one hundred nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars per annum. [Acts 1893, p. 160; G. L. vol. 10, p. 590.]

2. COUNTY AUDITOR

Art. 1645. [1460] Appointment authorized.—In any county having a population of 35,000 inhabitants, or over, according to the preceding Federal census, or having a tax valuation of fifteen million dollars, or over, according to the last approved tax roll, there shall be biennially appointed an Auditor of Accounts and Finances, the title of said officer to be County Auditor, who shall hold his office for two years, and who shall receive as compensation for his services $125.00 for each million dollars, or major portion thereof of the

assessed valuation, the annual salary to be computed from the last approved tax roll; said annual salary from county funds shall not exceed $3,600.00. Provided that in all counties of not less than 35,000, nor over 37,500 inhabitants, according to the 1920 Federal census, the salary shall not be less than $2,400.00 annually, said salary to be paid monthly out of the general revenue of the county upon an order of the commissioners' court. [Acts 1905, p. 381; Acts 1907, p. 315; Acts 1915, p. 203; Acts 1917, p. 337; Acts 1923, p. 391; Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C. S., p. 104, ch. 35, § 1.]

Art. 1646. Auditors for other counties.—When the commissioners court of a county, not mentioned and enumerated in the preceding article shall determine that an auditor is a public necessity in the dispatch of the county business and shall enter an order upon the minutes of said court fully setting out the reasons and necessity of an auditor, and shall cause said order to be certified to the district judges having jurisdiction in the county, said judges shall, if such reason be considered good and sufficient, appoint a county auditor, as provided in the succeeding article, who shall qualify and perform all the duties required of county auditors by the laws of this State; provided said judge shall have the power to discontinue the office of such county auditor at any time after the expiration of one year when it is clearly shown that such auditor is not a public necessity and his services are not commensurate with his salary received. [Acts 1917, p. 338.]

Art. 1646a. County auditors.—The commissioners' court of any county under twenty-five thousand population according to the last United States census may make an arrangement or agreement with one or more other counties whereby all counties, parties to the arrangement or agreement, may jointly employ and compensate a special auditor or auditors for the purposes specified in Articles 1645 and 1646. The county commissioners' court of every county affected by this article may have an audit made of all the books of the county, or any of them, at any time they may desire whether such arrangements can be made with other counties or not; provided the district judge or grand jury may order said audit if either so desires. [Acts 1925, p. 220.] [39th Leg. ch. 67, § 1.]

Art. 1647. [1461] Appointment.—The district judges having jurisdiction in the county, shall appoint the county auditor at a special meeting held for that purpose, a majority ruling; provided, that if a majority of such judges fail to agree upon the selection of some person as auditor, then either of said judges shall certify such fact to the Governor, who shall thereupon appoint some other district judge to act and vote with the aforesaid judges in the selection of such auditor. The action shall then be recorded in the minutes of the district court of the county and the clerk thereof shall certify the same to the commissioners court, which shall cause the same to be recorded in its minutes together with an order directing the payment of the auditor's salary. [Id.; Acts 1905, p. 381; Acts 1915, p. 182.]

Art. 1648. [1462] Qualification.—Said auditor shall be a citizen of the county of at least two years residence, and must be a man of unquestionable good moral character and intelligence, thoroughly competent in public business details; and he must be a competent accountant of at least two years experience in auditing and accounting. The judges making such appointment must first carefully investigate and consider the qualifications of said person. If no such qualified citizen of the county can be procured, said judges may appoint a qualified citizen from another county. [Id.]

Art. 1649. [1463] Bond and oath.—The auditor shall, within twenty days of his appointment, and before he enters upon the duties of his office, make a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, in the sum of five thousand dollars, payable to the county judge, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, to be approved by the commissioners court.

He shall also take the official oath and an additional one in writing, stating that he is in every way qualified under the provisions and requirements of this title, and giving fully the positions of private or public trust he has heretofore held, and the length of service under each. He shall further include in his oath that he will not personally be interested in any contract with the county. [Acts 1905, p. 381.]

Art. 1650. [1464-5-6] Organization.—The auditor may at any time with the consent of the county judge appoint an assistant to act in his stead, who may discharge the duties of the auditor during his absence or unavoidable detention. The county judge shall require said assistant to take the usual oath of office for faithful performance of duty. The auditor with the consent of the county judge or of the commissioners court may appoint additional clerical help when needed. He shall provide himself with all necessary ledgers, books, records, blanks and stationery at the county's expense. [Id.]

Art. 1651. [1467-73] General duties.—The auditor shall have a general oversight of all the books and records of all the officers of the county, district or State, who may be authorized or required by law to receive or collect any money, funds, fees or other property for the use of, or belonging to, the county; and he shall see to the strict enforcement of the law governing county finances. [Id.]

Art. 1652. School ledger.—The auditor shall install in his office a school ledger showing an accurate account of all funds received and disbursed by the common school districts of his county; a bond register showing all the school bonds issued by the common school districts of his county, their rate of interest, date issued and maturity date; and he shall also keep an interest and sinking fund account of such school bonds. [Acts 1917, p. 337.]

Art. 1653. [1468] To examine accounts.—He shall have continual access to and shall examine all the books, accounts, reports, vouchers and other records of any officer, the orders of the commissioners court, relating to finances of the county, and all vouchers given by the trustee of all common school districts of the county and shall inquire into the correctness of same. [Id.; Acts 1905, p. 381.]

Art. 1654. [1469-70-71] To examine reports.—All reports of collections of money for the county required to be made to the commissioners court shall also be carefully examined and reported on by him. He shall at least once in each quarter check the books and examine all the reports of the tax collector, the treasurer and all other officers, in detail, verifying the footings and correctness of same, and shall stamp his approval thereon, or note any differences, errors or discrepancies. He shall carefully examine the quarterly report of the treasurer, of all the disbursements, together with the canceled warrants which have been paid, and shall verify the same with the register of warrants issued as shown on the books of the auditor. [Id.]

Art. 1655. [1472-4-5] To count cash.—The auditor, without giving any notice beforehand, shall examine fully into the condition of, or inspect and count the cash in the hands of the county treasurer, or in the bank in which he may have placed same for safe keeping, not less than once in each quarter, and oftener if desired, and shall see that all balances to the credit of the various funds are actually on hand in cash, and that none of said funds are invested in any manner, except as the law may authorize. [Id.]

Art. 1656. [1476-7] To prescribe forms and rules.—He shall prescribe and prepare the forms to be used by all persons in the collection of county revenues, funds, fees and all other moneys, and the mode and manner of keeping and stating their accounts, and the time, mode and manner of making their reports to the auditor, also the mode and manner of making their annual report of office fees collected and disbursed, and the amount refunded to the county in excess of those allowed under the general fee bill law. He shall have power to adopt and enforce such regulations not inconsistent with the constitution and laws, as he may deem essential to the speedy and proper collection, checking and accounting of the revenues and other funds and fees belonging to the county. [Id.]

Art. 1657. [1478] Deposits.—All deposits that are made in the county treasury shall be upon a deposit warrant issued by the county clerk in triplicate; said warrants shall authorize the treasurer to receive the amount named, for what purpose, and to which fund the same shall be applied. The treasurer shall retain the original; and the duplicate shall be signed and returned to the county clerk for the county auditor and the triplicate signed and returned to the depositor. The auditor shall then enter same upon his books, charging the amounts to the county treasurer and crediting the party depositing same. The treasurer shall not, under any circumstances, receive any money in any other manner than that named herein. [Id.]

Art. 1658. [1479] Bids for supplies.—Bids shall be asked for all supplies of stationery, books, blanks, records, and other supplies for the various officers for which the county is required to pay, and the purchase made from the lowest bidder, after filing said bid with the auditor for record. [Id.]

Art. 1659. [1480] Bids for material.—Supplies of every kind, road and bridge material, or any other material, for the use of said county, or any of its officers, departments, or institutions must be purchased on competitive bids, the contract to be awarded to the party who, in the judgment of the commissioners court, has submitted the lowest and best bid. The county auditor shall advertise for a period of two weeks in at least one daily newspaper, published and circulated in the county, for such supplies and material according to specifications, giving in detail what is needed. Such advertisements shall state where the specifications are to be found, and shall give the time and place for receiving such bids. All such competitive bids shall be kept on file by the county auditor as a part of the records of his office, and shall be subject to inspection by any one desiring to see them. Copies of all bids received shall be furnished by the county auditor to the county judge and to the commissioners court; and when the bids received are not satisfactory to the said judge or county commissioners, the auditor shall reject said bids and re-advertise for new bids. In cases of emergency, purchases not in excess of one hundred and fifty dollars may be made upon requisition to be approved by the commissioners court, without advertising for competitive bids. [Id.; Acts 1921, p. 185.]

Art. 1660. [1481-2-3] Approval of claims.—All claims, bills and accounts against the county must be filed in ample time for the auditor to examine and approve same before the meetings of the commissioners court. No claim, bill or account shall be allowed or paid until it has been examined and approved by the county auditor. The auditor shall examine the same and stamp his approval thereon. If he deems it necessary, all such accounts, bill, or claims must be verified by affidavit touching the correctness of the same. The auditor is hereby authorized to administer oaths for the purposes of this law. [Acts 1905, p. 381.]

Art. 1661. [1484-5] Requisites of approval.—He shall not audit or approve any such claim unless it has been contracted as provided by law, nor any account for the purchase of supplies or materials for the use of said county or any of its officers, unless, in addition to other requirements of law, there is attached thereto a requisition signed by the officer ordering same and approved by the county judge. Said requisition must be made out and signed and approved in triplicate by the said officers, the triplicate to remain with the officer desiring the purchase, the duplicate to be filed with the county auditor, and the original to be delivered to the party from whom said purchase is to be made before any purchase shall be made. All warrants on the county treasurer, except warrants for jury service, must be countersigned by the county auditor. [Id.]

Art. 1662. [1486] Register of warrants.—He shall keep a register of all warrants issued by the judges or the district or county clerks on the county treasurer, and their dates of payment by the treasurer. Such clerks or judges shall daily furnish the auditor an itemized report specifying the warrants that have been issued, their numbers, their several amounts, the names of the persons to whom payable, and for what purpose, on forms prepared by the auditor. [Id.]

Art. 1663. [1487-8] Accounts with officers.—He shall keep an account with each person named in the preceding articles and in doing so he shall relieve the county clerk of keeping the finance ledger. His books shall show the detailed items of the indebtedness against all of said officers and the manner of discharging same. He shall require all persons who shall have received any moneys belonging to the county, or having the disposition or management of any property of the county to render statements to him. [Id.]

Art. 1664. [1489-90] General accounts.—He shall keep a general set of books showing all the transactions of the county relating to accounts, contracts, indebtedness of the county, and its receipts and disbursements of all kinds, and shall make tabulated reports of said funds and accounts for each regular meeting of the commissioners court. [Id.]

Art. 1665. [1491] Reports to commissioners.—He shall make quarterly and annual reports to the commissioners court, setting forth all the facts of interest, and showing the aggregate amounts received and disbursed out of each fund, the condition of each account on the books, the amount of bonded and other indebtedness of the county, together with such other information and suggestions as he may deem proper, or said court may require. Said annual report shall be made to include all transactions during the year ending July 31 of each year, and shall be completed and filed at a special term of the commissioners court in September. [Id.]

Art. 1666. [1492-3-4] Budget.—He shall prepare an estimate of all the revenues and expenses, and annually submit it to the commissioners court, which court shall carefully make a budget of all appropriations to be set aside for the various expenses of the county government in each branch and department. He shall open an account with each appropriation in said budget, and all warrants drawn against same shall be entered to said account. He shall carefully keep an oversight of same to see that the expenses of any department do not exceed said budget appropriations, and keep said court advised of the condition of said appropriation accounts from time to time. [Id.]

Art. 1667. Improvement district finances.—In all counties which have or may have a county auditor, and containing a population of 110,000 or more, as shown by the preceding Federal census, in which there exists or in which there may be created any improvement, navigation, drainage, road or irrigation district, or any other character of district having for its purpose the expenditure of public funds for improvement purposes, or for improvements of any kind, whether derived from the issuance of bonds or through any character of special assessment, the county auditor shall exercise such control over the finances of said districts as hereinafter provided. [Acts 1915, p. 17.]

Art. 1668. Improvement districts: supplies.—All purchases for supplies and materials, and all contracts for labor on behalf of any such districts shall be made in accordance with the law governing such districts, provided, that the commissioners or other governing body be authorized, without the taking of bids in cases of emergency to make purchases or contracts not to exceed the sum of fifty dollars, upon requisition signed by at least two members of the governing body of such district. A requisition shall be issued therefor, executed in triplicate, one copy to be delivered to the person or corporation from whom the purchase is made, one to be delivered to the county auditor, and one to remain on file with the governing body of such district before any purchase shall be made. [Id.]

Art. 1669. Improvement districts: expenditures.—All bills for supplies, materials, labor, work or anything necessary to the carrying out of the purposes of any such district shall be contracted in accordance with the law creating and governing such district, except as may be otherwise provided herein. The proper officers of said districts shall file all bills with the county auditor before payment, and he shall audit and approve the same, provided said bills have been contracted in accordance with law and are found by him to be correct, and no bill shall be paid until the same has been audited and approved by the county auditor as provided by this article. All warrants in payment of bills of any such districts shall be drawn and signed in accordance with the law governing the issuance of warrants of such district, and shall be countersigned by the county auditor, and no treasurer or other depository of any such districts shall pay out any money except upon warrants so duly countersigned. He shall countersign warrants for the investment of funds only when invested in the manner authorized by law. He shall keep an accurate account of all balances on hand in the various district funds. [Id.]

Art. 1670. Improvement districts: forms.—The county auditor from time to time shall prescribe and prepare all necessary forms for the use of any of such districts in the payment of bills, collection and disbursements of money, keeping of accounts, and the making of reports; the expense of necessary printing and stationery used therefor shall be paid by the district. [Id.]

Art. 1671. Improvement districts: reports.—The county auditor shall check all reports required by law to be filed by any district officer, and within thirty days after the filing thereof shall make a detailed report to the commissioners court showing his finding thereon and the condition of such district as shown by said report, and as shown by the records of his office. He shall keep a set of books, showing all receipts and expenditures of the funds of such districts. It shall not be lawful for the treasurer or other depository to receive money for said district without executing proper receipts upon forms to be provided by the county auditor. All books, accounts, records, bills and warrants in the possession of any officer of any such district, or in the possession of any other person legally charged with their custody, shall at all times be subject to the inspection of the county auditor.

Art. 1672. Improvement districts: compensation.—The county auditor shall receive for his services in auditing the affairs of such districts, such compensation as the commissioners court may prescribe, which shall be paid by the county out of the general fund and repaid to the county by such districts by warrants drawn upon the proper funds of such district. In such counties which have or may have as many as five such districts, the compensation allowed the county auditor for his services on behalf of such districts shall be not less than the sum of twelve hundred dollars per annum, to be prorated among the districts in such proportion as the commissioners court may determine. [Id.]

Art. 1673. Pay of assistants.—In all counties having a population of one hundred and ten thousand or more, as shown by the preceding Federal census, the county auditor may appoint two assistants. He may also appoint a stenographer. The rate of pay for said assistants and stenographer shall be the same as fixed by general law for the payment of deputies or assistants to other officers. In addition to the assistants provided for in this article, the county auditor may appoint, by and with the consent of the county judge, or of the commissioners' court, such additional assistants as may be necessary to the proper conduct of his office. All of said assistants shall take the official oath, and shall be paid out of the general fund of the county upon the order of the commissioners' court. [Id.]

Art. 1674. [1495] Provisions controlling.—The provisions of this subdivision are cumulative, and, where conflicting with any existing law, the provisions of this subdivision shall control. [Acts 1905, p. 381.]

Art. 1675. [1496] County clerk's duties.—Where the provisions of this subdivision impose upon the auditor like duties as are required of the county clerk, the provisions of this law shall prevail, and to such extent only is the county clerk relieved of his duties. [Id.]

Art. 1676. [1497] Removal of auditor.—An auditor appointed under the provisions of law, who has been sufficiently proven guilty of official misconduct, or has proven to be incompetent to faithfully discharge the duties required of him, after due investigation by the same power which appointed him, may be removed, and his successor appointed. [Id.]

1. COUNTY FREE LIBRARIES

Article 1677. Authority to establish.—The commissioners court of any county may establish, maintain, and operate within their respective counties, county free libraries in the manner and with the functions prescribed in this title. The said court shall also have the power and authority to establish in cooperation with another county or counties a joint free county library for the benefit of the co-operative counties. [Acts 2nd C. S. 1919, p. 219.]

Art. 1678. Territory.—The commissioners court of any county may establish county free libraries for that part of such county lying outside of the incorporated cities and towns already maintaining free public libraries and for such additional parts of such counties as may elect to become a part of or to participate in such county free library system. On their own initiative, or when petitioned to do so by a majority of the voters of that part of the county to be affected, said court shall proceed to establish and provide for the maintenance of such library according to the further provisions of this title. The county library shall be located at the county seat in the court house, unless more suitable quarters are available. [Id.]
