PREFACE

This 1979 Supplement to West's Texas Statutes and Codes, Compact Edition, includes the text of all the general and permanent laws of the State of Texas enacted at the Regular Session of the 64th Legislature (1975), the Regular and First Called Sessions of the 65th Legislature (1977), the Second Called Session of the 65th Legislature (1978), the Regular Session of the 66th Legislature (1979) and the text of changes in the Texas Constitution as adopted by the people at the Elections held on April 22, 1975, November 8, 1977, November 7, 1978, and November 6, 1979.

The laws in West's Texas Statutes and Codes are under the same classification as Vernon's Annotated Texas Statutes and Vernon's Texas Codes Annotated. Therefore, the user of this Supplement may go from any article or section herein to the same article or section in the annotated editions, where the complete constructions of the laws by the state and federal courts, historical data relative to the origin and development of the law, and other helpful research aids, are conveniently available.

New Codes

Included are the complete texts, as amended, of four new Codes adopted during the period covered by this Supplement under the Texas Legislative Council's statutory revision program, authorized by Civil Statutes, Art. 5429b-1:

Alcoholic Beverage Code, enacted by Acts 1977, 65th Leg.,
ch. 194;

Human Resources Code, enacted by Acts 1979, 66th Leg.,
ch. 842;

Natural Resources Code, enacted by Acts 1977, 65th Leg.,
ch. 871;

Parks and Wildlife Code, enacted by Acts 1975, 64th Leg.,
ch. 545.

Disposition Tables, providing a means of tracing repealed subject matter into the new Codes, and detailed descriptive word Indexes, facilitating the search for specific provisions therein, are included following the text of each of the above new Codes.

PREFACE

In addition, included is the complete text of Title 1 of the Tax Code, enacted by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., ch. 841. Title 1, known as the Property Tax Code, was also adopted as part of the Legislative Council's statutory revision program. In order that the user might have all of the statutes relating to taxation in one convenient location, the material supplementing Title 122, Taxation, and Title 122A, Taxation—General, which appear following the Probate Code in the Compact Edition, are to be found immediately following the Tax Code in Volume 1 of this Supplement.

Special Law Tables

Special laws pertaining to education and water, enacted or amended in 1975, 1977, and 1979, are tabulated following the Education and Water Codes.

Indexes

The index references following each Code and the Civil Statutes cover both new and amendatory laws. With respect to new laws the coverage is complete. For amendatory laws, references are added only when the existing Compact Edition references are inadequate to cover the changed provisions.

TEXAS BUSINESS CORPORATION ACT

PART ONE

Art. 1.02. Definitions

A. As used in this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1 to 18]

(19) "Conspicuous" or "conspicuously", when prescribed for information appearing on a certificate for shares or other securities, means the location of such information or use of type of sufficient size, color, or character that a reasonable person against whom such information may operate should notice it. For example, a printed or typed statement in capitals, or boldface or underlined type, or in type that is larger than or that contrasts in color with that used for other statements on the same certificate, is "conspicuous."

PART TWO

Art. 2.01. Purposes

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of A]

B. No corporation may adopt this Act or be organized under this Act or obtain authority to transact business in this State under this Act:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of B(1) and (2)]

(3) If among its purposes for the transaction of business in this State, there is included, however worded, a combination of the two businesses listed in either of the following:

(a) The business of raising cattle and owning land therefor, and the business of operating stockyards and of slaughtering, refrigerating, canning, curing or packing meat. Owning and operating feed lots and feeding cattle shall not be considered as engaging in "the business of raising cattle and owning land therefor" within the purview of this paragraph of this subsection.

(b) The business of engaging in the petroleum oil producing business in this State and the business of engaging directly in the oil pipe line business in this State: provided, however, that a corporation engaged in the oil producing business in this State which owns or operates private pipe lines in and about its refineries, fields or stations or which owns stock of corporations engaged in the oil pipe line business shall not be deemed to be engaging directly in the oil pipe line business in this State; and provided that any corporation engaged as a common carrier in the pipe line business for transporting oil, oil products, gas, salt brine, fuller's earth, sand, clay, liquefied minerals or other mineral solutions, shall have all of the rights and powers conferred by Sections 111.019 through 111.022, Natural Resources Code.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2690, ch. 871, art. II, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

Art. 2.02. General Powers

A. Subject to the provisions of Sections B and C of this Article, each corporation shall have power:

(1) To have perpetual succession by its corporate name unless a limited period of duration is stated in its articles of incorporation. Notwithstanding the articles of incorporation, the period of duration for any corporation incorporated before September 6, 1955, is perpetual if all fees and franchise taxes have been paid as provided by law.

(2) To sue and be sued, complain and defend, in its corporate name.

(3) To have a corporate seal which may be altered at pleasure, and to use the same by causing it, or a facsimile thereof, to be impressed on, affixed to, or in any manner reproduced upon, instruments of any nature required to be executed by its proper officers.

(4) To purchase, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, improve, use and otherwise deal in and with, real or personal property, or any interest therein, wherever situated, as the purposes of the corporation shall require.

(5) To sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, transfer and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property and assets.

(6) To lend money to, and otherwise assist, its employees, but not to its officers and directors.

(7) To purchase, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, use, employ, mortgage, lend, pledge, sell or otherwise dispose of, and otherwise use and deal in and with, shares or other interests in, or obligations of, other domestic or foreign corporations, associations, partnerships, or individuals, or direct or indirect obligations of the United States or of any other government, state, territory, government district, or municipality, or of any instrumentality thereof.

(8) When permitted by the other provisions of this Act, to purchase or otherwise acquire its own bonds, debentures, or other evidences of its indebtedness or obligations, and, to purchase or otherwise acquire its own shares, and to redeem or purchase shares made redeemable by the provisions of its articles of incorporation.

(9) To make contracts and incur liabilities, borrow money at such rates of interests as the corporation may determine, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage or pledge of all or any of its property, franchises, and income.

(10) To lend money for its corporate purposes, invest and reinvest its funds, and take and hold real and personal property as security for the payment of funds so loaned or invested.

(11) To conduct its business, carry on its operations, and have offices and exercise the powers granted by this Act, within or without this State.

(12) To elect or appoint officers and agents of the corporation for such period of time as the corporation may determine, and define their duties and fix their compensation.

(14) To make donations for the public welfare or for charitable, scientific, or educational purposes.

(15) To transact any lawful business which the board of directors shall find will be in aid of government policy.

(16) To indemnify any director or officer or former director or officer of the corporation, or any person who may have served at its request as a director or officer of another corporation in which it owns shares of capital stock or of which it is a creditor, against expenses actually and necessarily incurred by him in connection with the defense of any action, suit, or proceeding in which he is made a party by reason of being or having been such director or officer, except in relation to matters as to which he shall be adjudged in such action, suit or proceeding to be liable for negligence or misconduct in performance of duty, but such indemnification shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which such director or officer may be entitled, under any bylaw, agreement, vote of shareholders, or otherwise.

A corporation shall have power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee, or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, or other enterprise against any liability asserted against him and incurred by him in any such capacity or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him against such liability under the provisions of this Article.

(17) To pay pensions and establish pension plans, pension trusts, profit sharing plans, stock bonus plans, and other incentive plans for all of, or class, or classes of its officers and employees, or its officers or its employees.

(18) To be an organizer, partner, member, associate, or manager of any partnership, joint venture, or other enterprise, and to the extent permitted in any other jurisdiction to be an incorporator of any other corporation of any type or kind.

(19) To cease its corporate activities and terminate its existence by voluntary dissolution.

- (a) the name of the corporation;
- (b) that the copy of the bylaw or agreement is a true and correct copy of the same; and
- (c) that such filing has been duly authorized by the board of directors or, in the case of a close corporation managed by its shareholders pursuant to Article 2.30-1, by its shareholders.

(2) Such statement shall be executed by the corporation by its president or a vice-president and verified by the officer signing such statement. The original and a copy of the statement shall be delivered to the Secretary of State with copies of such bylaw or agreement restricting the transfer of shares or other securities attached thereto. If the Secretary of State finds that such statement conforms to law and all franchise taxes and fees have been paid as prescribed by law, he shall:

- (a) endorse on the original and the copy the word "Filed", and the month, day, and year of the filing thereof;
- (b) file the original in his office; and
- (c) return the copy to the corporation or its representative.

(3) After the filing of such statement by the Secretary of State, the bylaw or agreement restricting the transfer of shares or other securities shall become a matter of public record and the fact of such filing shall be stated on any certificate representing the shares or other securities so restricted if required by Section G, Article 2.19, of this Act.

F. A corporation that is a party to an agreement restricting the transfer of its shares or other securities may make such agreement part of its articles of incorporation without restating the provisions of such agreement therein by complying with the provisions of Part Four of this Act for amendment of the articles of incorporation. If such agreement shall alter any provision of the original or amended articles of incorporation, the articles of amendment shall identify by reference or description the altered provision. If such agreement is to be an addition to the original or amended articles of incorporation, the articles of amendment shall state that fact. The articles of amendment shall have attached thereto a copy of the agreement restricting the transfer of shares or other securities, and shall state that the attached copy of such agreement is a true and correct copy of the same and that its inclusion as part of the articles of incorporation has been duly authorized in the manner required by this Act to amend the articles of incorporation.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 306, ch. 134, §§ 4 and 5, Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 223, ch. 120, § 26, eff. May 9, 1979.]

Art. 2.30-1. The Close Corporation: Definition; Formation; Election to Become; Termination of the Election; Management by Shareholders

A. As used in this Act, a "close corporation" means a domestic corporation which (i) is organized under or is subject to this Act and (ii) has elected to be a close corporation by including in its articles of incorporation (whether original or amended or restated), in addition to the provisions required by Article 3.02 of this Act, the following:

- (1) a statement that it is a close corporation;
- (2) a statement that no shares of any class and no securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the close corporation shall be issued by means of any public offering, solicitation, or advertisement;
- (3) a statement that all of the issued shares of each class and all of the issued securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the close corporation shall be subject to one or more of the restrictions on transfer permitted by Articles 2.22 or 2.30-2 of this Act, and if such restrictions on transfer are being imposed on the articles of incorporation or in an agreement permitted by this Act to be set forth in full in or made a part of the articles of incorporation, the statement shall be followed either by (i) the provisions of the articles of incorporation or amendment thereto that impose such restrictions, (ii) the agreement if it is being set forth in full in the articles of incorporation, or (iii) a reference to such agreement if it is being made a part of the articles of incorporation; and
- (4) a statement that all of the issued shares of all classes, excluding treasury shares, and all of the issued securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the close corporation shall be held of record by no more than a specified number of persons, not exceeding thirty-five (35) in the aggregate. To determine the number of holders of record for purposes of this definition, shares and securities evidencing rights to acquire shares which are held (1) by husband and wife as (a) community property, (b) joint tenants (with or without right of survivorship), or (c) tenants by the entirety, or (2) by an estate of a decedent or an incompetent, or (3) by an express trust, partnership, association, or corporation created or organized and existing other than for the primary purpose of holding shares or securities evidencing rights to acquire shares in a close corporation, shall be treated as held by one person. Nothing in this definition shall be deemed to affect the right of any corporation which has not elected to be a close corporation as provided in this Article, or its shareholders, directors, or officers to exercise any power or right, granted or permitted by any provision of this Act. To the extent not inconsistent with any provision of this Act dealing specifically with a close corporation, all other provisions of this Act shall apply to a close corporation.

B. The articles of incorporation also may set forth the qualifications of shareholders and/or security-holders, either by specifying classes of persons who shall be entitled to be holders of record of any class of shares or securities, or by specifying classes of persons who shall not be entitled to be holders of record of any class of shares or securities, or both.

C. Nothing contained in this Article shall be deemed to prohibit or preclude the inclusion of any other matters required or permitted to be set forth in articles of incorporation by this Act, to the extent they are not inconsistent with the matters actually set forth in articles of incorporation of a close corporation pursuant to Sections A and B of this Article.

D. To form a close corporation, all of the initial subscribers to the corporation's shares and securities evidencing the right to acquire its shares shall serve as incorporators and the articles of incorporation, in addition to the matters required or permitted to be set forth therein by this Act, also shall include a statement that the incorporators include all such subscribers. The filing of the articles of incorporation by the Secretary of State shall constitute acceptance by the close corporation of the subscriptions of all such subscribers.

E. If an existing corporation desires to become a close corporation, it shall adopt articles of amendment in the manner provided by this Act which state that it has elected to become a close corporation and which make such other amendments to its articles of incorporation as may be required in order that the articles of incorporation, as so amended, shall set forth the matters required of a close corporation by this Act. The articles of amendment may include any other matter permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of a close corporation by this Act and, to the extent not inconsistent with its status as a close corporation, any other matter that may be set forth in articles of incorporation. The election to become a close corporation and any amendments in connection therewith shall be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of all of the outstanding shares of each class, whether or not entitled to vote thereon by the articles of incorporation.

F. If a close corporation desires to terminate its status as a close corporation, it shall adopt articles of amendment in the manner provided by this Act which state that it has elected to terminate its status as a close corporation and which delete the provisions required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of a close corporation under this Act that are not permitted for corporations generally. Such election to terminate its status as a close corporation and amendments required in connection therewith shall be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of each class, whether or not entitled to vote thereon by the articles of incorporation, unless a greater or lesser vote is required or permitted by the articles of incorporation for such termination. Any provision of the articles of incorporation requiring a greater vote for such termination shall not be amended, repealed, or modified by any vote less than that required to terminate the corporation's status as a close corporation. Any provision restricting the transfer of the shares or other securities evidencing the right to acquire shares contained in or made part of the articles of incorporation pursuant to Article 2.30-2 of this Act, shall remain in effect to the extent not prohibited by other provisions of this Act whether or not thereafter contained in or made a part of the articles of incorporation or bylaws unless, in connection with the adoption of articles of amendment to terminate the corporation's status as a close corporation, a resolution is adopted or an agreement is entered into terminating or amending such restrictions on transfer by the number or percentage of shareholders and/or security-holders (whether or not entitled to vote in the case of a resolution) required by the articles of incorporation, bylaws or agreement for termination or amendment of such restrictions on transfer.

G. If the articles of incorporation of a close corporation expressly so state and if each certificate representing its issued and outstanding shares so conspicuously states, the business and affairs of such close corporation shall be managed by the shareholders of the close corporation rather than by a board of directors, and the following provisions shall apply:

(1) Whenever the context requires, the shareholders of such close corporation shall be deemed directors of such corporation for purposes of applying any of the provisions of this Act.

(2) The shareholders of such close corporation shall be subject to the liabilities imposed by this Act or by law for any action taken or neglected to be taken by directors of a corporation.

(3) Any action required or permitted by this Act to be taken by the board of directors of a corporation shall or may be taken by action of the shareholders of such close corporation at a meeting thereof or in the manner permitted by this Act without a meeting. Any such action taken shall be on the basis of the vote, cast in person or by proxy, by the holders of shares having a majority of the total voting power of all outstanding shares entitled to vote with respect to such action, unless the articles of incorporation either in general or on specified matters provide (a) for a greater vote or (b) for a vote on the basis of one or some other specified number of votes per such shareholder. In addition, any action consented to by all the shareholders shall be binding upon the corporation. Such consent may be evidenced (a) by the full knowledge of such action by all the shareholders and their failure to object thereto in a timely manner or (b) a consent in writing to such action in accordance with Article 9.10 of this Act or any other writing executed by or on behalf of all the shareholders reasonably evidencing such consent or (c) by any other means reasonably evidencing such consent.

H. A close corporation that is managed by its shareholders in accordance with this Act may elect to have its business and affairs managed by a board of directors by amending its articles of incorporation in the manner provided in this Act. At the meeting of shareholders to approve such amendment, there shall be elected such number of directors specified in the articles of amendment or provided for in the bylaws. The name and post office address of each person who is to serve as a director on the amendment becoming effective shall be set forth in the articles of amendment.

I. If any event occurs as a result of which one or more of the provisions or conditions included in a close corporation's articles of incorporation pursuant to Section A of this Article to qualify it as a close corporation has been breached:

(1) The corporation's status as a close corporation shall terminate unless:

(a) within thirty (30) days after the occurrence of the event, or within thirty (30) days after the event has been discovered, whichever is later, the corporation (i) files with the Secretary of State a certificate, executed by the corporation by its president or a vice-president and verified by the officer signing such statement, setting forth (A) the name of such corporation, and (B) a statement that a specified provision or condition included in its articles of incorporation pursuant to Section A of this Article to qualify it as a close corporation has been breached, and (ii) delivers to each shareholder of record, either personally or by mail (if mailed, in accordance with the requirements of the second sentence of Article 2.25), a copy of such certificate; and

(b) the corporation, within sixty (60) days after the filing of such certificate, takes such steps as are necessary to correct the situation which threatens its status as a close corporation, including, without limitation, the refusal to register the transfer of any shares which have been wrongfully transferred, or commencement in a court of competent jurisdiction of a proceeding to prevent the corporation from losing its status as a close corporation or to restore its status as such, as permitted by Article 2.30-3 of this Act.

(2) When the situation which threatens the status of the corporation as a close corporation has been remedied, and if the corporation has not amended its articles of incorporation in accordance with Section F of this Article, the corporation shall file with the Secretary of State a certificate, executed by the corporation's president or a vice-president and verified by the officer signing such statement, setting forth (a) the name of such corporation, (b) a reference to the statement previously filed with the Secretary of State by such corporation pursuant to paragraph (a) of Subsection (1) of this Section, and (c) a statement that no breach of any of the provisions or conditions included in its articles of incorporation pursuant to Section A of this Article exists.

(3) If within the sixty (60) day period provided in Subsection (1)(b) of this Section, the situation which threatened the status of such corporation as a close corporation is not remedied, the corporation's status as a close corporation shall thereafter be terminated, unless its status as a close corporation has been stayed by a court of competent jurisdiction pending final adjudication in a proceeding under Article 2.30-3 or in any other proceeding that will result in the corporation being unable to maintain or being restored to its status as a close corporation. If pursuant to Section G of this Article the business and affairs of such corporation are being managed by its shareholders rather than by a board of directors, the president shall call a meeting of the shareholders entitled to vote thereon to elect a board of directors; and if he fails to call such a meeting within thirty (30) days from the date when the corporation's status as a close corporation so terminated, any shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, may call such meeting with the same rights and powers as are provided in this Act with respect to the call of an annual meeting of shareholders by a shareholder. At such meeting there shall be elected such number of directors as have been specified in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws of such corporation or, if no such number is specified, one (1) director shall be elected. During the period until such director(s) is elected, the person or persons to whom management of the corporation has been delegated by the shareholders shall act as a board of directors and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be conducted in the manner provided for corporations generally under this Act.

J. A corporation which met the definition of a close corporation immediately prior to the effective date of the 1975 amendment to this Article 2.30-1 shall retain its status as a close corporation for a period of one year after such effective date, provided it continues during such one-year period to meet all the requirements of a close corporation set forth in Section A of this Article, as amended, other than the inclusion of the required statements in its articles of incorporation. After such one-year period, a corporation no longer shall have the status of a close corporation unless during such year it shall have amended its articles of incorporation to set out the matters required to be stated therein by Section A of this Article; provided, however, that nothing in this Article shall require a close corporation to so amend its articles of incorporation if, before the effective date of the 1975 amendment to this Article, the articles of incorporation of such corporation provided that its business and affairs were to be managed by its shareholders or granted any shareholder or other holders of any specified number or percentage of shares of any class of shares an option to dissolve the close corporation. Should any such corporation subsequently amend its articles of incorporation, the matters required to be stated by Section A shall be set forth in the articles of amendment and approved in the manner required by that Section. No agreement among the shareholders of a close corporation as heretofore permitted to be entered into by Article 2.30-2, or any other act performed by or in behalf of such corporation, before the effective date of the 1975 amendment to this Article 2.30-1, shall be invalidated or otherwise affected by such corporation electing to become a close corporation in the manner provided by this Article.

Art. 2.30-2. Agreements Among Shareholders of a Close Corporation

A. The shareholders of a close corporation or the subscribers to its shares, if no shares have been issued, may enter into a written agreement executed by all the holders of and subscribers to shares of the corporation to regulate any phase of the business and affairs of the corporation or the relations of the holders of or subscribers to shares of the corporation, including, but not limited to, the following:

- (1) Management of the business and affairs of the corporation whether by the board of directors in a manner otherwise than provided in this Act or by one or more of the shareholders or one or more other parties to be selected by the shareholders;
- (2) Restrictions on the transfer of shares or other securities more restrictive than otherwise would be permitted to be imposed by Article 2.22, if not manifestly unreasonable;
- (3) Exercise or division of voting requirements or power beyond those that would otherwise be permitted by this Act;
- (4) Terms and conditions of employment of any shareholder, director, officer, or employee regardless of the length of time of such employment;
- (5) Persons who shall or may be directors and officers of the corporation;

(6) Declaration and payment of dividends or division of profits;

(7) Arbitration of issues as to which the shareholders are deadlocked in voting power or as to which the directors or other parties managing the corporation are deadlocked in the event the shareholders are unable to break the deadlock; or

(8) Treatment of the business and affairs of the corporation as if it were a partnership or arrangement of the relations among the shareholders or between the shareholders and the corporation in a manner that would otherwise be appropriate only among partners.

B. Such shareholders' agreement shall either (1) be set forth in or made part of the original or amended articles of incorporation; or (2) be set forth in or made part of the bylaws of the corporation, provided such bylaws and a counterpart of the agreement be placed on file by the corporation at its principal place of business and its registered office and shall be subject to the same right of examination by a shareholder of the corporation, in person, or by agent, attorney, or accountant, as are the books and records of the corporation. If the agreement is set forth in or made part of the original articles of incorporation, all of the parties to the agreement at the time of incorporation who shall have subscribed to shares of the corporation shall serve as incorporators of the close corporation. If set forth in or made part of an amendment to the articles of incorporation, the provisions of this Act for amendment of the articles of incorporation shall be complied with. In addition, such amendment shall have been adopted by an affirmative vote of all of the subscribers to shares if no shares have been issued, or of the holders of all outstanding shares, whether or not entitled to vote by the articles of incorporation. If set forth in or made part of the bylaws of the corporation either when originally adopted or later amended, such provision of the bylaws shall have been adopted, amended, or ratified by an affirmative vote of all the subscribers to shares, if no shares have been issued, or of the holders of all outstanding shares, whether or not entitled to vote by the articles of incorporation. Once such agreement has been set forth in or made part of the articles of incorporation or bylaws as provided herein, it may not be amended or removed therefrom, unless otherwise provided by the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, as the case may be, except by the affirmative vote or consent of all of the subscribers to shares, if no shares have been issued, or of the holders of all outstanding shares, whether or not entitled to vote by the articles of incorporation. If these provisions are not complied with, such agreement, even though otherwise enforceable among the parties thereto, shall not be enforceable by any party thereto who is knowingly responsible for such noncompliance nor against any transferee of shares except one who has actual knowledge of the existence of the agreement or who has acquired his shares by gift, bequest, or inheritance from a party to the agreement.

C. Each certificate representing shares issued by a close corporation whose shareholders have entered into an agreement permitted by this Article shall (1) set forth conspicuously a full or summary statement of such agreement on the face of the certificate; or (2) set forth such statement on the back of the certificate and conspicuously refer to the same on the face of the certificate; or (3) if the agreement has been set forth in or made part of the articles of incorporation, conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that such shares are subject to an agreement among all the shareholders of the close corporation and that the corporation will furnish to the record holder of the certificate without charge upon written request to the corporation at its principal place of business or registered office a copy of such agreement and that such agreement either is set forth in the articles of incorporation or it is made a part thereof and is on file in the office of the Secretary of State; or (4) if the agreement has been set forth in or made part of the bylaws and a counterpart of the agreement placed on file by the corporation at its principal place of business and its registered office, conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that such shares are subject to an agreement among all the shareholders of the close corporation and that the corporation will furnish to the record holder of the certificate without charge upon written request to the corporation at its principal place of business or registered office a copy of such bylaw or agreement. An agreement permitted by this Article, which is noted conspicuously on the certificates representing shares of a close corporation in the manner prescribed in the preceding paragraph, shall be binding on and enforceable against a holder of such a certificate or any successor or transferee of such holder, including an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary entrusted with like responsibility for the person or estate of such holder. Unless noted conspicuously on the certificates representing shares of the close corporation in the manner prescribed in the preceding paragraph, an agreement permitted by this Article, even though otherwise enforceable, shall be ineffective except against a person with actual knowledge of such agreement.

D. If an agreement authorized by this Article contains any provisions which would not be valid under other provisions of the Act, such provisions shall be valid only so long as the corporation maintains its status as a close corporation under this Act. No other provision of the agreement shall be affected unless the parties thereto otherwise provide.

E. In the event a close corporation shall have a board of directors, the effect of an agreement authorized by this Article shall be to relieve the director or directors of, and to impose upon the shareholders who are parties to or are bound by the agreement and who voted for or assented to the transaction in question, the liabilities imposed by this Act or by law for action taken or neglected to be taken by directors to the extent that and so long as the discretion or powers of the directors in their management of corporate affairs is controlled by any such provision.

F. The provisions of this Article shall not be construed to prohibit any other agreements among two or more shareholders or security-holders permitted by other provisions of this Act.

Art. 2.30-3. Proceedings to Prevent Loss of Close Corporation Status or to Enforce Agreements Among Shareholders of a Close Corporation

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of A and B]

C. Any court of competent jurisdiction in which a proceeding provided for in Section A of this Article may be brought may enjoin or set aside any transfer or threatened transfer of shares or any securities of a close corporation which will adversely affect its status as a close corporation, or which is contrary to restrictions on the transfer of such shares permitted by Article 2.22 or 2.30-2 of this Act, and may enjoin any public offering, solicitation, or advertisement of shares or securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the close corporation.

D. Nothing contained in this Article shall be construed to prevent or impair the ability of the close corporation or its shareholders or security-holders from properly terminating its status as a close corporation and from terminating or amending any restrictions on the transfer of shares or securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the corporation in accordance with Article 2.30-1 of this Act, or shall impair the power of any court of competent jurisdiction in any proceeding properly brought before it to enforce any restriction on the transfer of shares or other securities permitted by Article 2.22 or 2.30-2 of this Act or any agreement among any number of holders of the shares or securities of a corporation or any number of the holders of such shares or securities and the corporation not provided for in Article 2.30-2 of this Act and to grant whatever remedies may be properly available in such proceedings.

Art. 2.36. Executive and Other Committees

A. If the articles of incorporation or the bylaws so provide, the board of directors, by resolution adopted by a majority of the full board of directors, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each of which, to the extent provided in such resolution or in the articles of incorporation or in the bylaws of the corporation, shall have and may exercise all of the authority of the board of directors, except that no such committee shall have the authority of the board of directors in reference to amending the articles of incorporation, approving a plan of merger or consolidation, recommending to the shareholders the sale, lease, or exchange of all or substantially all of the property and assets of the corporation otherwise than in the usual and regular course of its business, recommending to the shareholders a voluntary dissolution of the corporation or a revocation thereof, amending, altering, or repealing the bylaws of the corporation or adopting new bylaws for the corporation, filling vacancies in the board of directors or any such committee, electing or removing officers or members of any such committee, fixing the compensation of any member of such committee, or altering or repealing any resolution of the board of directors which by its terms provides that it shall not be so amendable or repealable; and, unless such resolution, the articles of incorporation, or the bylaws of the corporation expressly so provide, no such committee shall have the power or authority to declare a dividend or to authorize the issuance of shares of the corporation. The designation of such committee and the delegation thereto of authority shall not operate to relieve the board of directors, or any member thereof, of any responsibility imposed by law.

Art. 2.43. Removal of Officers

A. Any officer or agent or member of a committee elected or appointed by the board of directors may be removed by the board of directors whenever in its judgment the best interests of the corporation will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent or member of a committee shall not of itself create contract rights.

PART THREE

Art. 3.01. Incorporators

TITLE 32

CORPORATIONS

CHAPTER ONE. TEXAS MISCELLANEOUS CORPORATION LAWS ACT

PART TWO

Article

1302-2.10. Corporations Discounting with Federal Intermediate Credit Bank; Interest Rate.

PART TWO

Art. 1302-2.02. Notice by Firm

A. Whenever any banking, mercantile or other business firm desires to become incorporated without a change of firm name, such firm shall, in addition to the notice of dissolution required at Common Law, give notice of such intention to become incorporated for at least four (4) consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the county in which such firm has its principal business office, if there be a newspaper in such county; and, if not, then in some newspaper published in some adjoining county; provided, however, that such notice shall only be published one (1) day in each week during the said four (4) weeks. Until such notice has been so published for the full period above-named, no change shall take place in the liability of such firm or the members thereof to those dealing with the firm or its members. It shall be a defense that a claimant had actual notice or knowledge of such incorporation.

Art. 1302-2.06. Consideration for Indebtedness; Guaranties

A. No corporation, domestic or foreign, doing business in this state shall create any indebtedness whatever except for money paid, labor done, which is reasonably worth at least the sum at which it was taken by the corporation, or property actually received, reasonably worth at least the sum at which it was taken by the corporation, subject to the provisions of Sections B and C of this Article. In the absence of fraud in the transaction, the judgment of the Board of Directors or the shareholders, as the case may be, as to the value of the consideration received for any such indebtedness shall be conclusive.

B. Notwithstanding Section A of this Article, any corporation, domestic or foreign, doing business in this state shall have the power and authority to make a guaranty if the guaranty reasonably may be expected to benefit, directly or indirectly, the guarantor corporation. For purposes of this section and Section C of this Article, "guaranty" means a guaranty, mortgage, pledge, security agreement, or other agreement making the guarantor corporation or its assets responsible respecting the contracts, securities, or other obligations of any person (including, but not limited to, any domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, association, joint venture, or trust, but excluding any officer or director of such guarantor corporation). The decision of the Board of Directors that the guaranty may reasonably be expected to benefit, directly or indirectly, the guarantor corporation shall be binding upon the guarantor corporation, and no guaranty made by a corporation in accordance with the provisions of this Section B shall be invalid or unenforceable as against such corporation, unless such guaranty is sought to be enforced by a person who participated in a fraud on the guarantor corporation resulting in the making of the guaranty or by a person who had notice of such fraud before he acquired his rights under the guaranty. Nothing herein contained shall prevent a suit (1) prior to the making of a guaranty by a corporation, by a shareholder in a representative suit against the guarantor corporation, to enjoin the making of such guaranty on the ground that such guaranty could not reasonably be expected to benefit, directly or indirectly, the guarantor corporation, or (2) after the making of a guaranty by a corporation, by the guarantor corporation, whether acting directly or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative or through a shareholder in a representative suit, against the directors who voted for or assented to the making of such guaranty for damages or other appropriate relief on the ground that such guaranty could not reasonably have been expected to benefit, directly or indirectly, the guarantor corporation, but such directors shall be entitled to assert any defenses which they may have under law.

C. In addition to the power and authority granted in Section B of this Article, any domestic or foreign corporation doing business in the state has the power and authority to make a guaranty respecting any subsidiary, parent, or affiliated corporation if the action is approved by the Board of Directors of the guarantor corporation. For the purposes of this section only:

(1) "subsidiary corporation" means a corporation, 100 percent of whose outstanding shares are owned at the time of the action:

- (a) by the guarantor corporation itself;
- (b) by one or more of the guarantor corporation's subsidiary corporations; or
- (c) by the guarantor corporation and one or more of its subsidiary corporations;

(2) "parent corporation" means a corporation that at the time of the action owns 100 percent of the outstanding shares of the guarantor corporation:

- (a) by itself;
- (b) through one or more of its subsidiary corporations; or
- (c) with one or more of its subsidiary corporations; and

(3) "affiliated corporation" means a corporation, 100 percent of whose outstanding shares are owned at the time of the action:

- (a) by the parent corporation of the guarantor corporation;
- (b) by one or more of the parent corporation's subsidiary corporations; or
- (c) by the parent corporation and one or more of its subsidiary corporations.

D. Nothing in Section B or C of this Article is intended or shall be construed to limit or deny to any corporation, domestic or foreign, the right or power to do or perform any act which it is or may be empowered or authorized to do or perform under any other laws of the State of Texas now in force or hereafter enacted. Provided, however, Sections B and C of this Article shall not apply to nor enlarge the powers of any corporation, domestic or foreign, that does business pursuant to any provision of the Insurance Code of Texas, whether licensed in Texas or not, nor shall those sections allow or permit any corporation, not licensed under the Insurance Code of Texas, to engage in any character, type, class, or kind of fidelity, surety, or guaranty business or transaction subject to regulation under the Insurance Code.

tion, may charge the borrower interest at a rate not to exceed three percent per annum plus the rate of discount established and promulgated by the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks.

A. All private corporations (except corporations that are organized under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act and that are exempt from Federal income tax under the provisions of Section 501(c)(3), Internal Revenue Code of 1954,¹ as now or hereafter amended, or under its successor statute) who are authorized by the laws of Texas to do business in this State and whose main purpose is not the acquisition or ownership of lands, which have or may acquire by lease, purchase, or otherwise, more land than is necessary to enable them to carry on their business, shall within fifteen (15) years from the date said land may be acquired, in good faith, sell and convey in fee simple all lands so acquired which are not necessary for the transaction of the business. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Part, it shall be lawful for such surplus lands to be conveyed and acquired by another corporation which may have among its purposes the acquisition, development and sale of such surplus lands, provided, however, that any such acquiring corporation shall in good faith sell and convey any such land on or before the expiration of the aforesaid fifteen-year period just as the conveying corporation would have had to do if it had not conveyed such land to such acquiring corporation, and if such acquiring corporation does not so convey such land on or before such time, it shall thereafter hold the same subject to the same forfeiture and escheat provisions provided for in this Part as though such lands were still held by the conveying corporation.

under which voting rights or other rights of membership are granted to subscribers.

Share and Membership Certificates: Issuance and Contents

Sec. 28. (a) No certificates for membership capital may be issued until its par value, if any, has been paid in full. Each certificate issued by an association shall bear a full or condensed statement of the requirements of Sections 16, 17, and 29(a) of this Act.

(b) No certificate for invested capital may be issued until its par value, if any, has been paid in full. Each certificate for invested capital issued by an association shall bear a full or condensed statement of restrictions on transferability if specifically provided for in the by-laws of the association.

Transfer of Shares and Membership: Withdrawal

Sec. 29. (a) If a member decides to withdraw from the association, the member shall offer his membership certificates to the directors in writing and the directors may purchase such holdings within a 90-day period following receipt of notice by paying the member the par value. The directors shall then reissue or cancel those shares. A vote of the majority of the members voting at a regular or special meeting may order the directors to exercise this power to purchase.

(b) If an investor owning investor certificates desires to sell, assign, or convey his certificates, he must do so in accordance with the by-laws of the association; otherwise such investment certificates shall be repurchased by the association upon written notice to the directors within a 90-day period following receipt of notice by paying the investor the par value of the certificate, together with any investment dividend accrued.

Share and Membership Certificates: Recall

Sec. 30. (a) The by-laws may give the directors the power to use the reserve funds to recall, at par value, the membership certificates of any member in excess of the amount requisite for membership, and may also provide that if any member has failed to patronize the association during a time specified and in accordance with the by-laws, the directors may recall the member's membership certificates, thereby terminating his membership in the association. When membership certificates are recalled, they shall be either reissued or cancelled. No recall may be made if the solvency of the association would be jeopardized.

(b) The directors shall have the power to use the reserve funds to recall and repurchase at par value, together with any investment dividends due on the investment certificates of any investor. The by-laws may establish specific procedures, terms and conditions for such recall and repurchase.

Certificates: Attachment

Sec. 31. The holdings of any member of an association, to the extent of the minimum amount necessary for membership, but not to exceed $50, are exempt from attachment, execution, or garnishment for the debts of the owner. If any holdings in excess of this amount are subjected to attachment, execution, or garnishment, the directors of the association may either admit the purchaser to membership, or may purchase the holdings at par value.

Liability of Members

Sec. 32. Members are not jointly or severally liable for debts of the association, nor is a subscriber liable, except to the extent of the unpaid amount on the membership certificates or on the invested capital certificates subscribed by him. No subscriber may be released from liability by assignment of his interest in the membership capital certificates or the invested capital certificates, but he is jointly and severally liable with the assignee until the membership certificates or investor certificates are fully paid up.

Expulsion

Sec. 33. A member may be expelled by the vote of a majority of the members voting at a regular or special meeting. The member against whom the charges are to be preferred shall be informed of the charges in writing at least 10 days in advance of the meeting, and shall be given an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel at the meeting. If the association votes to expel a member, the board of directors shall purchase the member's capital holdings at par value if and when such purchases may be made without jeopardizing the solvency of the association.

Allocation and Distribution of Net Savings

Sec. 34. (a) At least once each year the members or the directors, as the articles or by-laws may provide, shall apportion the net savings of the association in the following order:

(1) investment dividends, within the limitations of Section 25 may be paid on invested capital, or if the by-laws so provide, on the membership certificates, but the investment dividends may be paid only out of the surplus of the aggregate of the assets over the aggregate of the liabilities;

(2) a portion of the remainder, as determined by the articles or by-laws, may be allocated to an educational fund to be used in teaching cooperation, and a portion may also be allocated to funds for the general welfare of the members of the association;

(3) a portion of the remainder may be allocated to retained earnings;

(4) the remainder shall be allocated at the same uniform rate to all patrons of the association in proportion to their individual patronage as follows:

(A) in the case of a member patron, the proportionate amount of savings return distributed to the member may be in the form of cash, property, membership certificates, investment certificates or in any combination of these;

(B) in the case of a subscriber patron, his proportionate amount of savings returns as the articles or by-laws provide, may be distributed to him or credited to his account until the amount of capital subscribed for has been fully paid.

(b) This section does not prevent an association engaged in rendering services from disposing of the net savings from the rendering of services in a manner calculated to lower the fees charged for services or otherwise to further the common benefit of the members.

(c) This section does not prevent an association from adopting a system in which the payment of savings returns which would otherwise be distributed are deferred for a fixed period of time, nor from adopting a system in which the savings returns distributed are partly in cash, partly in shares, with the shares to be retired at a fixed future date, in the order of their serial number or date of issue.

Recordkeeping

Sec. 35. (a) To record its business operation, every association shall keep a set of books according to standard accounting practices.

(b) A written report shall be submitted to the annual meeting of the association which shall include the following:

(1) a balance sheet, and income and expense statement;

(2) the amount and nature of the association's authorized, subscribed, and paid-in capital, the number of its shareholders, and the number of shareholders who were admitted or withdrew during the year, the par value of its shares, and the rate at which any return on capital has been paid; and

(3) for nonshare associations, the total number of members, the number of members who were admitted or withdrew during the year, and the amount of membership fees received.

(c) The directors shall appoint a review committee, composed of members who are not principal bookkeepers, accountants, or employees of the association.

(d) The committee shall report on the quality of the annual report and the bookkeeping system at the annual meeting.

Annual Report

Sec. 36. (a) Every association having 100 or more members or an annual business amounting to $20,000 or more shall prepare, within 120 days of the close of its operations each year, a report of its condition, sworn to by the president and secretary, which shall be filed in its registered office. The report shall state:

(1) the name and principal address of the association;

(2) the names, addresses, occupations, and date of expiration of the terms of the officers and directors, and their compensation, if any;

(3) the amount and nature of the association's authorized, subscribed, and paid-in capital, the number of its shareholders and the number of shareholders who were admitted or withdrew during the year, the par value of its shares, and the rate at which any investment dividends have been paid;

(4) for nonshare associations, the total number of members, the number of members who were admitted or withdrew during the year, and the amount of membership fees received; and

(5) the receipts, expenditures, assets, and liabilities of the association.

(b) Every association having 3,000 or more members or an annual business amounting to $750,000 or more shall file a copy of the report with the secretary of state.

(c) A person who subscribes or verifies a report containing a materially false statement, known to the person to be false, commits a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $200, or by confinement in the county jail for not less than 30 days nor more than one year, or by both.

Notice of Delinquent Reports

Sec. 37. (a) If an association required by Section 36 of this Act to file a report with the secretary of state fails to do so in the prescribed time, the secretary of state shall notify the association of the delinquency by registered letter mailed to its principal office within 60 days after the report becomes delinquent. If an association required by Section 36 of this Act to file a report at its registered office but not required to file a copy with the secretary of state fails to do so in the prescribed time, the secretary of state or any member may notify the association of the delinquency by registered letter mailed to its principal office.

(b) If the association fails to file the report within 60 days from the date of notice under Subsection (a) of this section, a member of the association or the attorney general may seek a writ of mandamus against the association and the appropriate officer or officers to compel the filing to be made, and in the court shall require the association or the officers at fault to pay all the expenses of the proceeding including attorney fees.

Dissolution

Sec. 38. (a) An association may, at a regular or special meeting legally called, be directed to dissolve by a vote of two-thirds of the entire membership. If it is directed to dissolve, by a vote of a majority of the members voting, three of their number shall be designated as trustees, who shall liquidate, on behalf of the association and within a time fixed in their designation or within any extension of time, its assets, and shall distribute them in the manner set forth in this section.

(b) A suit for involuntary dissolution of an association organized under this Act may be instituted for the causes and prosecuted in the manner set forth in Articles 7.01 to 7.12, Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act (Articles 1396-7.01 through 1396-7.12, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except that any distribution of assets shall be in the manner set forth in this section.

(c) When an association is dissolved, its assets shall be distributed in the following manner and order:

- (1) by paying its debts and expenses;
- (2) by returning to the investors the par value of their capital;
- (3) by returning to the subscribers to invested capital the amounts paid on their subscriptions;
- (4) by returning to patrons the amount of patronage dividends credited to their accounts;
- (5) by returning to members their membership capital; and
- (6) by distributing any surplus in either or both of the following ways, as the articles may provide: either among those patrons who have been members or subscribers at anytime during the six years preceding dissolution, on the basis of patronage during that period, or as a gift to any cooperative association or other non-profit enterprise which may be designated in the articles.

Use of Name "Cooperative"

Sec. 39. (a) Only an association organized under this Act, a group organized on a cooperative basis under any other law of this state, or a foreign corporation operating on a cooperative basis and authorized to do business in this state under this or any other law of this state may use the term "cooperative," or any abbreviation or derivation of the term "cooperative," as part of its business name, or represent itself, in advertising or otherwise, as conducting business on a cooperative basis.

(b) A person, firm, or corporation that violates Subsection (a) of this section commits a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $200, with an additional fine of not more than $200 for each month during which a violation occurs after the first month, or by confinement in the county jail for not less than 30 days nor more than one year, or by any combination of those punishments.

(c) The attorney general may sue to enjoin a violation of this section.

(d) If a court of competent jurisdiction renders judgment that a person, firm, or corporation which employed the name "cooperative" prior to this Act, is not organized on a cooperative basis, but may nonetheless continue to use the word "cooperative," the business shall always place immediately after its name the words "does not comply with the cooperative association law of Texas" in the same kind of type, and in letters not less than two-thirds as large, as those used in the word "cooperative."

Sec. 39A. [Expired]

Promotion Expenses

Sec. 40. (a) No association may use its funds, directly or indirectly, issue shares, or incur indebtedness for the payment of compensation for the organization of the association, except necessary legal fees, or for the payment of promotion expenses, in excess of five percent of the amount paid for the shares or membership certificates involved in the promotion transaction.

(b) An officer, director, or agent of an association who gives, or any person, firm, corporation or association who receives a promotion commission in violation of this section commits a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine of not less than $25, nor more than $200, or by confinement in the county jail for not less than 30 days nor more than one year, or by both.

False Reports

Sec. 41. A person, firm, corporation, or association that maliciously and knowingly spreads false reports about the management or finances of any association commits a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $200, or by confinement in the county jail for not less than 30 days nor more than one year, or by both.

Existing Cooperative Groups

Sec. 42. Any group operating on a cooperative basis on the effective date of this Act may elect by a vote of two-thirds of the members voting to secure the benefits of and be bound by this Act. If it elects to secure the benefits of this Act, it shall amend its articles and by-laws to conform with this Act. A certified copy of the amended articles shall be filed and recorded with the secretary of state and a fee of $5 shall be paid.

Foreign Corporations and Associations

Sec. 43. A foreign corporation or association operating on a cooperative basis and complying with the applicable laws of the state in which it is organized may transact business in this state as a foreign cooperative corporation or association.

Exemption From Taxes

Sec. 44. Each association organized under this Act is exempt from the franchise tax and from license fees imposed by the state or a political subdivision of the state.

Exemption

Sec. 45. This Act does not apply to any corporation or association organized and now existing or in the future organized under the Cooperative Marketing Act, as amended (Articles 5737 through 5764, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925).

Effect of Invalidity of Part of This Act

Sec. 46. If a court of competent jurisdiction shall adjudge to be invalid or unconstitutional any clause, sentence, subsection or section of this Act, such judgment or decree shall not affect, impair, invalidate, or nullify the remainder of this Act, but the effect thereof shall be confined to the clause, sentence, subsection or section of this Act so adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional.

Sec. 2. As used in this Act:

(4) "Electric facilities" means any facilities necessary or incidental to the generation of electric power and energy or the transmission thereof, including electric generating units, electric generating plants, electric transmission lines, plant sites, rights-of-way, and real and personal property and equipment and rights of every kind in connection therewith.

Rights and Powers of Participating Entities

Sec. 4. Without limiting the general scope and application of Section 3 of this Act:

(2) Each participating public entity and each participating private entity shall have the right and power to acquire, for the use and benefit of all participating entities, by purchase or through the exercise of the power of eminent domain, lands, easements, and properties for the purpose of jointly owned electric facilities, and shall have the power to transfer or convey such lands, easements, and properties, or interests therein, or otherwise to cause such lands, easements, and properties, or interests therein, to become vested in other participating entities to the extent and in the manner agreed between the participating entities. In all cases in which a participating entity exercises the right and power of eminent domain conferred hereby, it shall be controlled by the law governing the condemnation of property by incorporated cities and towns in this state, and the right and power of eminent domain hereby conferred shall include the right and power to take the fee title in land so condemned, except that no participating entity has the right or power to take by the exercise of the power of eminent domain any electric facilities, or interest therein, belonging to any other entity, or the power to take land or any interest therein, by exercise of the power of eminent domain, for the purpose of drilling for, mining, or producing from said land, any oil, gas, geothermal, geothermal/geopressured, lignite, coal, sulphur, uranium, plutonium, or other minerals belonging to another, whether the same be in place, or in the process of being mined and produced, or mined or produced. Provided, however, this provision shall not impair the right of any such entity to acquire full title to real property for plant sites, including cooling reservoirs and related surface installations and equipment.

Joint Powers Agency

Sec. 4a. (a) In order to more readily accomplish the purposes of this Act, two or more public entities by concurrent ordinances may create a joint powers agency to be known as a municipal power agency, without taxing power, as a separate municipal corporation, a political subdivision of the state, and body politic and corporate, to have and exercise all of the powers which are by Chapter 10 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ and this Act, conferred upon a public entity or entities, provided that such agency shall not be authorized to engage in any utility business other than generation, transmission, and sale or exchange of electric energy to the participating public entities and to private entities who are joint owners with the agency of an electric generating facility located within the state. A public entity, at the time of the passage of such concurrent ordinance, must be one which has the authority to and is engaged in the generation of electric energy for sale to the public upon the effective date of this Act, but such entity may thereafter dispose of its electric generating capabilities. Prior to the passage of a concurrent ordinance to create a joint powers agency, the governing body of each public entity shall cause notice of its intention to adopt such ordinance to be published once a week for two consecutive weeks, the date of the first publication to be at least 14 days prior to the date set for the passage of the concurrent ordinance. The notice shall state the date, time, and place such governing body proposes to pass such ordinance, and that upon the effective date of the concurrent ordinances, the public entities so adopting them shall have created a public powers agency. If, prior to the day set for the passage of a concurrent ordinance, 10 percent of the qualified electors of the particular public entity shall present a petition to such governing body requesting a referendum election be called, then such ordinance shall not become effective until the qualified electors of such entity have approved such ordinance. The election shall be called and held in conformity with the Texas Election Code, the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,² and this Act. Except as herein provided, a concurrent ordinance shall not be subject to a referendum election.

(b) Public entities which establish a joint powers agency may, by concurrent ordinances, provide for the re-creation of such agency by the addition and deletion, either or both, of a public entity so long as there is no impairment of obligation of any existing obligation of the agency, provided that no agency may be re-created by the addition of a public entity from and after April 1, 1976, unless a majority of the participating qualified electors of the entity seeking to be added to the agency approve the same by a majority vote in an election called for that purpose, and provided further that no agency may be created from and after January 1, 1977, unless a majority of the participating qualified electors of each entity seeking to create such agency approve such creation by a majority vote in an election called for that purpose. Notice of such election shall be given as provided by Article 704, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(c) Concurrent ordinances are ordinances or orders adopted by the governing bodies of more than one public entity which contain identical provisions with respect to the creation or re-creation of a public powers agency.

(d) The public entities which create, or provide for re-creation by addition or deletion of a public entity, a joint powers agency shall by concurrent ordinances (1) define the boundaries of the agency, to include the territory within the limits of such public entities, (2) designate the name of the Municipal Power Agency, (3) designate the number of directors (not less than four) that will constitute the board of directors of the agency and the initial term (so as to initially provide staggered terms) as may be agreed upon by the said public entities as evidenced by such concurrent ordinances, and (4) specify the manner in which such directors shall be appointed, but in any event each public entity shall be entitled to appoint at least one director.

(e) Directors shall serve by places and the concurrent ordinances shall specify the director for which place (and his successors) the governing body of the particular public entity may appoint. A director shall be a qualified elector and reside within the boundary of the agency at the time of execution of his constitutional oath of office. Directors shall serve without compensation, and an employee, officer, or member of the governing body of a public entity may serve as a director of the agency, but shall have no personal interest, other than as may exist as an employee or officer or member of the governing body of a public entity, in any contract executed by the agency.

(f) The agency is empowered to make contracts, leases, and agreements with, and accept grants and loans from, the United States of America, its departments and agencies, the State of Texas, its agencies, counties, municipalities, and political subdivisions, and public or private corporations and persons, and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in it; to participate through appropriate contracts in power pooling and power exchange arrangements with other entities either through direct or indirect system interconnections and each entity is given full authority to purchase electric energy from the agency or to sell, dispose of, or exchange electric energy to the agency. The agency may sell, lease, convey, or otherwise dispose of any of its rights, interests, or properties which are, in its judgment, not needed for the efficient operation and maintenance of its electric facilities. The responsibility of the management, operation, and control of the properties belonging to the agency shall be vested in the board of directors.

(g) Contracts for the sale or exchange of energy by the agency may be entered whereby the purchaser is obligated to pay for the same irrespective of whether such energy is produced or delivered to the purchaser. The agency is likewise empowered to establish and maintain rates and charges for energy delivered, transmitted, or exchanged, which shall be reasonable and in accordance with prudent utility practices. In the absence of a contract whereby a purchaser of energy waives such right, the rates and charges for power and energy sold or exchanged by the agency shall be based upon periodic "cost of service studies" and be subject to modification. The rates and charges schedule or contract payments shall be developed with regard to the recovery of the cost of producing and transmitting, if such service is performed, such electric power and energy, including the amortization of the capital investment.

(h) The State of Texas reserves its power to regulate and control such rates and charges for electric energy supplied by the electric facilities, but does hereby pledge to and agree with the purchasers and successive holders of the obligations issued hereunder that the state will not limit or alter the powers hereby vested in the agency to establish and collect such rates and charges as will produce revenues sufficient to pay for (1) all necessary operational and maintenance expenses, (2) all interest and principal on obligations issued by the agency, (3) all sinking funds and reserve fund payments, and (4) for any other charges necessary to fulfill the terms of any agreements theretofore made or in any way to impair the rights or remedies of the holders of the obligations, until the obligations, together with the interest thereon, with interest on unpaid installments of interest, and any other obligations of the agency in connection therewith, are fully met and discharged.

(i) To the payment of obligations issued by it, the agency may pledge the revenues of all or part of its electric facilities, including or not including those thereafter acquired, as the agency may determine, but the expense of operation and maintenance, including salaries, labor, materials, and repairs necessary to render efficient service, of the facilities whose revenues are so encumbered and pledged shall be a first lien on and charge against such revenues.

(j) The agency shall have the full power to issue revenue bonds or notes, herein sometimes referred to as obligations, from time to time for the accomplishment of its purposes within the interest rate limitations of Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 717k-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(k) From the proceeds from the sale of obligations of the agency, the agency may set aside amounts for payments into the interest and sinking fund and reserve funds, and for interest and operating expenses during construction and development, as may be specified in the authorizing proceedings. Bond proceeds may be invested pending their use for the purpose for which issued, in such securities or interest bearing certificates or in time deposits as may be specified in such authorizing proceedings.

(l) Prior to delivery thereof, all obligations authorized to be issued hereunder and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for examination, and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with the constitution and this Act, and that they will be binding special obligations of the agency issuing same, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and after such approval and registration and the sale and delivery of the bonds or notes to the purchaser, they shall be incontestable.

(m) Refunding bonds or notes may be issued for the purposes and in the manner now or hereafter provided by general law, including, without limitation, Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as presently enacted or hereafter amended.

(n) All obligations issued by an agency pursuant to this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies and shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such obligations shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof, or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant thereto.

(o) The agency may adopt, and from time to time amend, rules and regulations to govern the operation of the agency, its employees, facilities, and service, but contracts for the construction of improvements which involve the expenditure of more than $20,000 shall be awarded by the agency only after notice of intent to receive competitive bids has been published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the state, the date of the first publication being at least 14 days prior to the date set for the receipt of bids, but contracts awarded by another entity, which is a joint owner of the facilities to be constructed or an agent of any of the joint owners shall be let under its contracting procedures. An entity may negotiate and enter into contract for the purchase of electric energy from the agency and payments for such energy purchased shall be an operating expense of the electric system of the purchaser.

(p) The agency may elect to utilize the Uniform System of Accounts Prescribed For Utilities and Licenses prescribed by the Federal Power Commission.

(q) The bonds or notes shall be signed by the presiding officer or the assistant presiding officer of the agency, shall be attested by its secretary, and shall bear the seal of the agency. It is provided, however, that such signatures may be printed or lithographed on the bonds and notes if authorized by the agency, and such may be impressed on the bonds or notes or may be printed or lithographed thereon. The agency may adopt or use for any purpose the signature of any person who shall have been an officer, notwithstanding the fact that he may have ceased to be such officer at the time when bonds or notes shall be delivered to a purchaser or purchasers. The bonds or notes shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 50 years, from their respective dates of issuance, may be sold, within interest rate limitations herein provided, at a public or private sale at a price or under terms determined by the agency to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, within the discretion of the agency, may be made callable prior to maturity at such times and prices as approved by the agency, and may be in coupon form with or without provisions for registration as to principal or may be registrable as to both principal and interest.

(r) Bonds and notes issued under the provisions of this Act, and coupons, if any, representing interest thereon, when made payable from (i) revenues of the agency, or (ii) anticipated bond proceeds shall when delivered be deemed and construed to be a "security" within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, of the Uniform Commercial Code (Chapter 785, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967),³ and shall constitute obligations which must be submitted to the attorney general under the provisions of Subsection (l) of this section. Nonnegotiable purchase money notes, payable in installments, issued by the agency for the acquisition of land or fuel resources shall not be a security or obligation within the aforesaid provisions; such notes shall be secured by the properties being acquired, with the right in the agency to substitute collateral, and may be further secured by a pledge and undertaking to thereafter issue bonds or bond anticipation notes for their ultimate payment. Bond anticipation notes may be issued, with the same limitations and conditions prescribed herein for bonds, for any purpose for which the agency may issue bonds or for the purpose of refunding or paying off previously issued bond anticipation notes or nonnegotiable purchase money notes, and the agency may covenant with the purchaser of bond anticipation notes that the proceeds of one or more particular series of bonds will be used to provide for the ultimate payment or refunding of such notes.

(s) This Act shall be liberally construed to carry out the purpose of its adoption and shall be in full and complete authority for the creation and operation of public powers agencies and the performance of the public duties imposed upon them. Insofar as this Act is inconsistent with any other laws, including Chapter 10 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or others regulating the affairs of municipal corporations, or with any home-rule charter provisions, then the provisions of this Act shall control.

Public Entities Within 100 Miles of Sabine River and South of Sam Rayburn Reservoir

Sec. 4b. Notwithstanding any term, condition, or provision of Section 4a of this Act to the contrary, any public entity located within 100 miles of the Sabine River and south of Sam Rayburn Reservoir which is engaged in the distribution and sale of electric energy to the public may pass a concurrent ordinance as provided in and with the effect specified in Section 4a of this Act. Any municipal power agency created by two or more public entities located within 100 miles of the Sabine River and south of Sam Rayburn Reservoir may engage in the generation and transmission of electric power and energy within or outside the State of Texas and may engage in the sale, purchase, or exchange of electric power and energy with entities within or outside the State of Texas; provided, that nothing in this section authorizes an agency to engage in the distribution and retail sale of electric power and energy. The election required by Subsection (b) of Section 4a of this Act need not be held in connection with the creation of any such agency unless the concurrent ordinances are passed after December 31, 1981.

Section 2 of the 1975 amendatory act provided:

"Nothing in this Act shall be construed to violate any provision of the federal or state constitutions, and all acts done under this Act shall be in such manner as will conform thereto, whether expressly provided or not. Where any procedure hereunder may be held by any court to be violative of either of such constitutions, the agency shall have the power by resolution to provide an alternative procedure conformable with such constitutions. If any provision of this Act should be invalid, such fact shall not affect the validity of any other provisions of this Act, and the legislature hereby declares that it would have enacted the valid provisions of this Act notwithstanding the invalidity of any other provision or provisions hereof."

Art. 1435b. Joint Acquisition, Construction, and Operation of Electric Utility Facilities

Sec. 1. Two or more political subdivisions heretofore or hereafter created are authorized to join together to finance, construct, complete, acquire, or operate electric utility facilities so that the same (or an undivided interest therein) will be jointly owned as cotenants or coowners with such ownership shares in such facilities as may be approved by their governing bodies and set forth in an agreement authorized by said governing bodies. Such agreement may provide for any political subdivision to increase its present or future ownership share of the facilities by installment purchase payments and for any other political subdivision party to such agreement to transfer, in consideration of such installment purchase payments, all or any portion of its present or future ownership share of such facilities to the political subdivision, so increasing its present or future ownership share as aforesaid. Payments made to acquire an ownership interest shall not be treated as a maintenance and operating expense but shall be treated as a capital cost in the same manner as if such political subdivision had issued bonds to construct or acquire such ownership interest, unless otherwise set forth in the agreement of the parties. All agreements by and between political subdivisions establishing an ownership interest in facilities (or undivided interest therein) executed pursuant to this Act shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas (in connection with any proceedings to finance said contractual obligation by the issuance of bonds) and when approved as to legality by such officer shall be incontestable.

Sec. 2. In the event the facilities financed, acquired, constructed, or completed constitute a part of a utility system or a combined utility system of a political subdivision, the obligation to make the said contract payments to acquire an ownership interest shall constitute a lien on the revenues of such system or combined system on a parity with outstanding bonds of such system or combined system to the extent permitted in the ordinance, resolution, deed of trust, or indenture authorizing or securing the payment of such outstanding bonds. In instances in which the ordinance, resolution, or deed of trust or trust indenture authorizing or securing such revenue bonds (whether such bonds have been issued prior to the passage of this Act or may be hereafter issued) provides for the subsequent issuance of additional bonds or incurring of such contractual obligation and that the payments to be made for the security or payment thereof are to be on a parity with or of equal dignity to the previously issued revenue bonds (whether an original issue or a refunding issue) or bonds then to be issued, such entity shall have the power to authorize, issue, and sell additional bonds or incur such contractual obligation from time to time and in different series payable from the entire revenues of such system or combined systems on a parity with bonds previously issued or then to be issued and secured by a lien on the revenues of such system or combined systems on a parity with and of equal dignity with the lien securing the bonds previously issued or then to be issued, subject to such conditions as may be contained in the ordinance, resolution, deed of trust, or trust indenture providing for or securing such issue of original bonds or refunding bonds.

The pledge of revenues of a utility system or a combined utility system for the payment of such contract payments to acquire an ownership interest is hereby approved and authorized.

Sec. 3. The powers and authority granted by this Act shall be in addition to and in substitution for any powers and authority granted to political subdivisions under the laws of this state, and the exercise by any political subdivision of the powers and authority granted hereby and the performance or effectuation of any agreements entered into pursuant to the provisions hereof shall be deemed to constitute additional public purposes of such political subdivision (including the power to issue bonds, notes, or other obligations for the accomplishment of such purposes), notwithstanding the existence of any express or implied limitations of the powers, authority, or purposes under any other general or special laws or charter provisions.

As to municipal corporations, this law shall be given effect as though originally contained in Chapter 10 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, so as to provide full authority for the execution of agreements contemplated by the provisions hereof, and this law shall prevail over any charter provisions or general or special law.

Sec. 4. All agreements heretofore executed by and between political subdivisions whereby the parties will jointly own electric utility facilities or whereby one political subdivision agrees to pay the other as a maintenance and operating expense of all or part of its utility systems for services supplied or to be supplied from facilities owned by the other are hereby validated, ratified, and confirmed provided that such agreements have been heretofore submitted to the Attorney General of Texas in connection with the issuance of bonds and are on file in the office of the comptroller of public accounts and provided further that such agreements are not in litigation upon the effective date of this Act.

Sec. 5. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act shall nevertheless be valid, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1287, ch. 506, §§ 1 to 5, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

8. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Art. 1446c. Public Utility Regulatory Act

ARTICLE I. SHORT TITLE, LEGISLATIVE POLICY, AND DEFINITIONS

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be referred to as the "Public Utility Regulatory Act."

Legislative Policy and Purpose

Sec. 2. This Act is enacted to protect the public interest inherent in the rates and services of public utilities. The legislature finds that public utilities are by definition monopolies in the areas they serve; that therefore the normal forces of competition which operate to regulate prices in a free enterprise society do not operate; and that therefore utility rates, operations and services are regulated by public agencies, with the objective that such regulation shall operate as a substitute for such competition. The purpose of this Act is to establish a comprehensive regulatory system which is adequate to the task of regulating public utilities as defined by this Act, to assure rates, operations, and services which are just and reasonable to the consumers and to the utilities.

Definitions

Sec. 3. (a) The term "person," when used in this Act, includes natural persons, partnerships of two or more persons having a joint or common interest, mutual or cooperative associations, water supply or sewer service corporations, and corporations, as herein defined.

Sec. 5. A commission, to be known as the "Public Utility Commission of Texas" is hereby created. It shall consist of three commissioners, who shall be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the members of the senate present, and who shall have and exercise the jurisdiction and powers herein conferred upon the commission. Immediately after this Act takes effect, the governor shall, with the advice and consent of the senate, appoint one commissioner whose term shall expire two years after appointment; one commissioner whose term shall expire four years after appointment; and one commissioner whose term shall expire six years after appointment. At the expiration of each of the above named terms, there shall be appointed, in the same manner, one commissioner to hold office for a term of six years. Each commissioner shall hold office until his successor is appointed and qualified. At its first meeting following the biennial appointment and qualification of a commissioner, the commission shall elect one of the commissioners chairman.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 5a. The Public Utility Commission of Texas is subject to the Texas Sunset Act;¹ and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1983.

Qualifications; Oath and Bond; Prohibited Activities

Sec. 6. (a) To be eligible for appointment as a commissioner, a person must be a qualified voter, not less than 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of the State of Texas. No person is eligible for appointment as a commissioner if at any time during the two-year period immediately preceding his appointment he personally served as an officer, director, owner, employee, partner, or legal representative of any public utility or any affiliated interest, or he owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, stocks or bonds of any class with a value of $10,000, or more in a public utility or any affiliated interest. Each commissioner shall qualify for office by taking the oath prescribed for other state officers and shall execute a bond for $5,000 payable to the state and conditioned on the faithful performance of his duties.

(b) No commissioner or employee of the commission may do any of the following during his period of service with the commission and for two years thereafter:

(1) have any pecuniary interest, either as an officer, director, partner, owner, employee, attorney, consultant, or otherwise, in any public utility or affiliated interest, or in any person or corporation or other business entity a significant portion of whose business consists of furnishing goods or services to public utilities or affiliated interests, but not including a nonprofit group or association solely supported by gratuitous contributions of money, property or services;

(2) own or control any securities in a public utility or affiliated interest, either directly or indirectly;

(3) accept any gift, gratuity, or entertainment whatsoever from any public utility or affiliated interest, or from any person, corporation, agent, representative, employee, or other business entity

a significant portion of whose business consists of furnishing goods or services to public utilities or affiliated interests, or from any agent, representative, attorney, employee, officer, owner, director, or partner of any such business entity or of any public utility or affiliated interest; provided, however, that the receipt and acceptance of any gifts, gratuities, or entertainment after termination of service with the commission whose cumulative value in any one-year period is less than $100 shall not constitute a violation of this Act.

(c) The prohibited activities of this section do not include contracts for public utility products and services or equipment for use of public utility products when a member or employee of the commission is acting as a consumer.

(d) No commissioner or employee of the commission may directly or indirectly solicit or request from or suggest or recommend to, any public utility, or to any agent, representative, attorney, employee, officer, owner, director, or partner thereof, the appointment to any position or the employment in any capacity of any person by such public utility or affiliated interest.

(e) No public utility or affiliated interest or any person, corporation, firm, association, or business that furnishes goods or services to any public utility or affiliated interest, nor any agent, representative, attorney, employee, officer, owner, director, or partner of any public utility or affiliated interest, or any person, corporation, firm, association, or business furnishing goods or services to any public utility or affiliated interest may give, or offer to give, any gift, gratuity, employment, or entertainment whatsoever to any member or employee of the commission except as allowed by Subdivision (3) of Subsection (b) of this section, nor may any such public utility or affiliated interest or any such person, corporation, firm, association, or business aid, abet, or participate with any member, employee, or former employee of the commission in any activity or conduct that would constitute a violation of this subsection or Subdivision (3) of Subsection (b) of this section.

(f) It shall not be a violation of this section if a member of the commission or a person employed by the commission, upon becoming the owner of any stocks or bonds or other pecuniary interest in a public utility or affiliated interest under the jurisdiction of the commission otherwise than voluntarily, informs the commission and the attorney general of such ownership and divests himself of the ownership or interest within a reasonable time. In this section, a "pecuniary interest" includes income, compensation and payment of any kind, in addition to ownership interests. It is not a violation of this section if such a pecuniary interest is held indirectly by ownership of an interest in a retirement system, institution, or fund which in the normal course of business invests in diverse securities independently of the control of the commissioner or employee.

(g) Unless specifically authorized by this Act for disposition of ex parte matters, no member or employee of the commission assigned to render a decision or to make findings of fact and conclusions of law in a proceeding may communicate, directly or indirectly, in connection with any issue of fact or law with any party or his representative, except on notice and opportunity for all parties to participate.

(h) No member of the commission may seek nomination or election to any other civil office of the State of Texas or of the United States while he is a commissioner. If any member of the commission files for nomination for or election to any civil office of the State of Texas or of the United States, his office as commissioner immediately becomes vacant, and the governor shall appoint a successor.

Vacancies

Sec. 7. Whenever a vacancy in the office of commissioner occurs, it shall be filled in the manner provided herein with respect to the original appointment, except that the governor may make interim appointments to continue until the vacancy can be filled in the manner provided. Any person appointed with the advice and consent of the senate to fill a vacancy shall hold office during the unexpired portion of the term.

Employees

Sec. 8. (a) The commission shall employ such officers, hearing examiners, investigators, lawyers, engineers, economists, consultants, statisticians, accountants, inspectors, clerical staff, and other employees as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act. All employees receive such compensation as is fixed by the legislature. (c) The general counsel and his staff are responsible for the gathering of information relating to all matters within the authority of the commission.

The duties of the general counsel include:

(1) accumulation of evidence and other information from public utilities and from the accounting and technical and other staffs of the commission and from other sources for the purposes specified herein;

(2) preparation and presentation of such evidence before the commission or its appointed examiner in proceedings;

(8) such other activities as are reasonably necessary to enable him to perform his duties.

Salary

Sec. 9. The annual salary of the commissioners shall be determined by the legislature. Pending legislative determination, the commissioners shall be paid the same salary as members of the Railroad Commission.

Office; Meetings

Sec. 10. The principal office of the commission shall be located in the City of Austin, Texas, and shall be open daily during the usual business hours, Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excepted. The commission shall hold meetings at its office and at such other convenient places in the state as shall be expedient and necessary for the proper performance of its duties.

Seal

Sec. 11. The commission shall have a seal bearing the following inscription: "Public Utility Commission of Texas." The seal shall be affixed to all records and authentications of copies of records and to such other instruments as the commission shall direct. All courts of this state shall take judicial notice of said seal.

Quorum

Sec. 12. A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, for the performance of any duty, or for the exercise of any power of the commission. No vacancy or disqualification shall prevent the remaining commissioner or commissioners from exercising all the powers of the commission.

Orders; Transcript and Exhibits; Public Records

Sec. 13. All orders of the commission shall be in writing and shall contain detailed findings of the facts upon which they are passed. The commission shall retain a copy of the transcript and the exhibits in any matter in which the commission issues an order. All files pertaining to matters which were at any time pending before the commission and to records, reports, and inspections required by Article V hereof shall be public records, subject to the terms of the Texas Open Records Act, Chapter 424, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973 (Article 6252-17a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Annual Report

Sec. 14. (a) The commission shall publish an annual report to the governor, summarizing its proceedings, listing its receipts and the sources of its receipts, listing its expenditures and the nature of such expenditures, and setting forth such other information concerning the operations of the commission and the public utility industry as it considers of general interest.

(b) In the annual report issued in the year preceding the convening of each regular session of the legislature, the commission shall make such suggestions regarding modification and improvement of the commission's statutory authority and for the improvement of utility regulation in general as it may deem appropriate for protecting and furthering the interest of the public.

Attorney General to Represent Commission

Sec. 15. The Attorney General of the State of Texas shall represent the commission in all matters before the state courts, and any court of the United States, and before any federal public utility regulatory commission.

ARTICLE III. JURISDICTION

General Power; Rules; Hearings

Sec. 16. The commission has the general power to regulate and supervise the business of every public utility within its jurisdiction and to do all things, whether specifically designated in this Act or implied herein, necessary and convenient to the exercise of this power and jurisdiction. The commission shall make and enforce rules reasonably required in the exercise of its powers and jurisdiction, including rules governing practice and procedure before the commission. The commission may call and hold hearings, administer oaths, receive evidence at hearings, issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers and documents, and make findings of fact and decisions with respect to administering the provisions of this Act or the rules, orders, or other actions of the commission.

Jurisdiction of Municipality; Surrender; Original and Appellate Jurisdiction of Commission

Sec. 17. (a) Subject to the limitations imposed in this Act, and for the purpose of regulating rates and services so that such rates may be fair, just, and reasonable, and the services adequate and efficient, the governing body of each municipality shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over all electric, water, and sewer utility rates, operations, and services provided by an electric, water, and sewer utility within its city or town limits.

(b) At any time after two years have passed from the date this Act becomes effective, a municipality may elect to have the commission exercise exclusive original jurisdiction over electric, water, or sewer utility rates, operations, and services within the incorporated limits of the municipality. The governing body of a municipality may by ordinance elect to surrender its original jurisdiction to the commission, or the governing body may submit the question of the surrender to the qualified voters at a municipal election. Upon receipt of a petition signed by the lesser of 20,000 or ten percent of the number of qualified voters voting in the last preceding general election in that municipality, the governing body shall submit the question of the surrender of the municipality's original jurisdiction to the commission at a municipal election.

(c) A municipality that surrenders its jurisdiction to the commission may at any time, by vote of the electorate, reinstate the jurisdiction of the governing body; provided, however, that any municipality which reinstates its jurisdiction shall be unable to surrender that jurisdiction for five years after the date of the election at which the municipality elected to reinstate its jurisdiction. No municipality may, by vote of the electorate, reinstate the jurisdiction of the governing body during the pendency of any case before the commission involving the municipality.

(d) The commission shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction to review orders or ordinances of such municipalities as provided in this Act.

(e) The commission shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over electric, water, and sewer utility rates, operations, and services not within the incorporated limits of a municipality exercising exclusive original jurisdiction over those rates, operations, and services as provided in this Act.

Telecommunications Utilities

Sec. 18. Subject to the limitations imposed in this Act, and for the purpose of regulating rates, operations, and services so that such rates may be just, fair, and reasonable, and the services adequate and efficient, the commission shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over the business and property of all telecommunications utilities in this state. In the exercise of its jurisdiction to regulate the rates, operations, and services of a telecommunications utility providing service in a municipality on the state line adjacent to a municipality in an adjoining state, the commission may cooperate with the utility regulatory commission of the adjoining state or the federal government and may hold joint hearings and make joint investigations with any of those commissions.

Gas Utilities

Sec. 19. (a) Subject to the limitations imposed in this Act, and for the purpose of regulating rates and services so that such rates may be fair, just, and reasonable, and the services adequate and efficient, the governing body of each municipality shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over all gas utility rates, operations, and services provided by any gas utility within its city or town limits.

(b) The railroad commission shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction to review all orders or ordinances of municipalities as provided in this Act. The railroad commission shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over the rates and services of gas utilities distributing natural gas or synthetic natural gas in areas outside the limits of municipalities, and it shall also have exclusive original jurisdiction over the rates and services of pipelines transmitting, transporting, delivering, or selling natural gas or synthetic natural gas to gas utilities engaged in distributing such gas to the public.

(c) The provisions of this Act shall be deemed to be in addition to all existing laws relating to the jurisdiction, power, or authority of the railroad commission over gas utilities and, except as specifically in conflict with this Act, such laws shall not be deemed to be limited hereby. Provisions of this Act applicable to gas utilities within the jurisdiction of the railroad commission shall apply to all such gas utilities, including those that are within the jurisdiction, power, or authority of the railroad commission by virtue of laws other than this Act.

Municipally Owned Utilities

Sec. 20. Nothing in this article shall be construed to confer on the commission or railroad commission power or jurisdiction to regulate or supervise the rates or service of any utility owned and operated by any municipality within its boundaries either directly or through a municipally owned corporation, or to affect or limit the power, jurisdiction, or duties of the municipalities that have elected to regulate and supervise public utilities within their boundaries, except as provided in this Act.

ARTICLE IV. MUNICIPALITIES

Franchises

Sec. 21. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as in any way limiting the rights and powers of a municipality to grant or refuse franchises to use the streets and alleys within its limits and to make the statutory charges for the use thereof, but no provision of any franchise agreement shall limit or interfere with any power conferred on the commission or railroad commission by this Act. If a municipality performs regulatory functions under this Act, it may make such other charges as may be provided in the applicable franchise agreement, together with any other charges permitted by this Act.

Local Utility Service; Exempt and Nonexempt Areas

Sec. 22. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, municipalities shall continue to regulate each kind of local utility service inside their boundaries until the commission has assumed jurisdiction over the respective utility pursuant to this Act. If a municipality does not surrender its jurisdiction, local utility service within the boundaries of the municipality shall be exempt from regulation by the commission under the provisions of this Act to the extent that this Act applies to local service, and the municipality shall have, regarding service within its boundaries, the right to exercise the same regulatory powers under the same standards and rules as the commission, or other standards and rules not inconsistent therewith. Notwithstanding any such election, the commission may consider a public utility's revenues and return on investment in exempt areas in fixing rates and charges in nonexempt areas, and may also exercise the powers conferred necessary to give effect to orders under this Act, for the benefit of nonexempt areas. Likewise, in fixing rates and charges in the exempt area, the governing body may consider a public utility's revenues and return on investment in nonexempt areas. Utilities serving exempt areas shall be subject to the reporting requirements of this Act. Such reports shall be filed with the governing body of the municipality as well as with the commission. Nothing in this section shall limit the duty and power of the commission to regulate service and rates of municipally regulated utilities for service provided to other areas in Texas.

Rate Determination

Sec. 23. Any municipality regulating its public utilities pursuant to this Act shall require from those utilities all necessary data to make a reasonable determination of rate base, expenses, investment, and rate of return within the municipal boundaries. The standards for such determination shall be based on the procedures and requirements of this Act and said municipality shall retain any and all personnel necessary to make the determination of reasonable rates required under this Act.

Authority of Governing Body; Cost Reimbursement

Sec. 24. The governing body of any municipality shall have the right to select and engage rate consultants, accountants, auditors, attorneys, engineers, or any combination thereof, to conduct investigations, present evidence, advise and represent the governing body, and assist with litigation on public utility ratemaking proceedings; and the public utility engaged in such proceedings shall be required to reimburse the governing body for the reasonable costs of such services.

Assistance by Commission or Railroad Commission

Sec. 25. The commission or the railroad commission may advise and assist municipalities upon request in connection with questions and proceedings arising under this Act. Such assistance may include aid to municipalities in connection with matters pending before the commission, the railroad commission, or the courts, or before the governing body of any municipality, including making members of the staff available as witnesses and otherwise providing evidence to them.

Appeal

Sec. 26. (a) Any party to a rate proceeding before the governing body of a municipality may appeal the decision of the governing body to the commission or railroad commission.

(b) Citizens of a municipality may appeal the decision of the governing body in any rate proceeding to the commission or railroad commission through the filing of a petition for review signed by the lesser of 20,000 or 10 percent of the number of qualified voters of such municipality.

(c) Ratepayers of a municipally owned gas or electric utility outside the municipal limits may appeal any action of the governing body affecting the rates of the municipally owned gas or electric utility through filing with the commission or railroad commission, as appropriate, petition for review signed by the lesser of 10,000 or 5 percent of the ratepayers served by such utility outside the municipal limits. For purposes of this subsection each person receiving a separate bill shall be considered as a ratepayer. But no person shall be considered as being more than one ratepayer notwithstanding the number of bills received. Such petition for review shall be considered properly signed if signed by any person, or spouse of any such person, in whose name residential utility service is carried.

(d) The appeal process shall be instituted within 30 days of the final decision by the governing body with the filing of a petition for review with the commission or railroad commission and copies served on all parties to the original rate proceeding.

(e) The commission or railroad commission shall hear such appeal de novo and by its final order shall fix such rates as the municipality should have fixed in the ordinance from which the appeal was taken.

ARTICLE V. RECORDS, REPORTS, INSPECTIONS, RATES AND SERVICES

Records of Public Utility; Rates, Methods and Accounts

Sec. 27. (a) Every public utility shall keep and render to the regulatory authority in the manner and form prescribed by the commission or railroad commission uniform accounts of all business transacted. The commission or railroad commission may also prescribe forms of books, accounts, records, and memoranda to be kept by such public utilities, including the books, accounts, records, and memoranda of the rendition of and capacity for service as well as the receipts and expenditures of moneys, and any other forms, records, and memoranda which in the judgment of the commission or railroad commission may be necessary to carry out any of the provisions of this Act. In the case of any public utility subject to regulations by a federal regulatory agency, compliance with the system of accounts prescribed for the particular class of utilities by such agency may be deemed a sufficient compliance with the system prescribed by the commission or railroad commission; provided, however, that the commission or railroad commission may prescribe forms of books, accounts, records, and memoranda covering information in addition to that required by the federal agency. The system of accounts and the forms of books, accounts, records, and memoranda prescribed by the commission or railroad commission for a public utility or class of utilities shall not conflict nor be inconsistent with the systems and forms established by a federal agency for that public utility or class of utilities.

(b) The commission or railroad commission shall fix proper and adequate rates and methods of depreciation, amortization, or depletion of the several classes of property of each public utility, and shall require every public utility to carry a proper and adequate depreciation account in accordance with such rates and methods and with such other rules and regulations as the commission or railroad commission prescribes. Such rates, methods, and accounts shall be utilized uniformly and consistently throughout the ratesetting and appeal proceedings.

(c) Every public utility shall keep separate accounts to show all profits or losses resulting from the sale or lease of appliances, fixtures, equipment, or other merchandise. No such profit or loss shall be taken into consideration by the regulatory authority in arriving at any rate to be charged for service by any such public utility, to the extent that such merchandise is not integral to the provision of utility service.

(d) Every public utility is required to keep and render its books, accounts, records, and memoranda accurately and faithfully in the manner and form prescribed by the commission or railroad commission, and to comply with all directions of the regulatory authority relating to such books, accounts, records, and memoranda. The regulatory authority may require the examination and audit of all accounts.

(e) In determining the allocation of tax savings derived from application of such methods as liberalized depreciation and amortization and the investment tax credit, the regulatory authority shall equitably balance the interests of present and future customers and shall apportion such benefits between consumers and the public utilities accordingly. Where any portion of the investment tax credit has been retained by a public utility, that same amount shall be deducted from the original cost of the facilities or other addition to the rate base to which the credit applied, to the extent allowed by the Internal Revenue Code.

(f) For the purposes of this section, "public utility" includes "municipally owned utility."

Powers of Commission and Railroad Commission

Sec. 28. (a) The commission and the railroad commission shall have the power to:

(1) require that public utilities report to it such information relating to themselves and affiliated interests both within and without the State of Texas as it may consider useful in the administration of this Act;

(2) establish forms for all reports;

(3) determine the time for reports and the frequency with which any reports are to be made;

(4) require that any reports be made under oath;

(5) require that a copy of any contract or arrangement between any public utility and any affiliated interest be filed with it. It may require any such contract or arrangement not in writing to be reduced to writing and filed with it;

(6) require that a copy of any report filed with any federal agency or any governmental agency or body of any other state be filed with it; and

(7) require that a copy of annual reports showing all payments of compensation (other than salary or wages subject to the withholding of federal income tax) to residents of Texas, or with respect to legal, administrative, or legislative matters in Texas, or for representation before the Texas Legislature or any governmental agency or body.

(b) On the request of the governing body of any municipality, the commission or railroad commission may provide sufficient staff members to advise and consult with such municipality on any pending matter.

Inspections; Examination Under Oath; Compelling Production of Records; Inquiry Into Management and Affairs

Sec. 29. (a) Any regulatory authority, and when authorized by the regulatory authority, its counsel, agents, and employees, shall have the right, at reasonable times and for reasonable purposes, to inspect and obtain copies of the papers, books, accounts, documents, and other business records, and to inspect the plant, equipment, and other property of any public utility within its jurisdiction. The regulatory authority may examine under oath, or it may authorize the person conducting such investigation to examine under oath, any officer, agent, or employee of any public utility in connection with such investigation. The regulatory authority may require, by order or subpoena served on any public utility, the production within this state at the time and place it may designate, of any books, accounts, papers, or records kept by that public utility outside the state, or verified copies in lieu thereof if the commission or railroad commission so orders. Any public utility failing or refusing to comply with any such order or subpoena is in violation of this Act.

(b)(1) A member, agent, or employee of the regulatory authority may enter the premises occupied by a public utility to make inspections, examinations, and tests and to exercise any authority provided by this Act.

(2) A member, agent, or employee of the regulatory authority may act under this section only during reasonable hours and after giving reasonable notice to the utility.

(3) The public utility is entitled to be represented when inspections, examinations, and tests are made on its premises. Reasonable time for the utility to secure a representative shall be allowed before commencing an inspection, examination, or test.

(c) The regulatory authority may inquire into the management and affairs of all public utilities, and shall keep itself informed as to the manner and method in which the same are conducted.

Reporting of Advertising or Public Relations Expenses

Sec. 30. The regulatory authority may require an annual reporting from each utility company of all its expenditures for business gifts and entertainment, and institutional, consumption-inducing and other advertising or public relations expenses. The regulatory authority shall not allow as costs or expenses for rate-making purposes any of these expenditures which the regulatory authority determines not to be in the public interest. The cost of legislative-advocacy expenses shall not in any case be allowed as costs or expenses for rate-making purposes. Reasonable charitable or civic contributions may be allowed not to exceed the amount approved by the regulatory authority.

Unlawful Rates, Rules and Regulations

Sec. 31. It shall be unlawful for any utility to charge, collect, or receive any rate for public utility service or to impose any rule or regulation other than as herein provided.

Filing Schedule of Rates, Rules and Regulations

Sec. 32. Every public utility shall file with each regulatory authority schedules showing all rates which are subject to the original or appellate jurisdiction of the regulatory authority and which are in force at the time for any public utility service, product, or commodity offered by the utility. Every public utility shall file with, and as a part of such schedules, all rules and regulations relating to or affecting the rates, public utility service, product, or commodity furnished by such utility.

Office of Public Utility; Records; Removal From State

Sec. 33. Every public utility shall have an office in a county of this state in which its property or some part thereof is located in which it shall keep all books, accounts, records, and memoranda required by the commission or railroad commission to be kept in the state. No books, accounts, records, or memoranda required by the regulatory authority to be kept in the state shall be removed from the state, except on conditions prescribed by the commission or railroad commission.

Communications by Public Utilities With Regulatory Authority; Regulations and Records

Sec. 34. (a) The regulatory authority shall prescribe regulations governing communications by public utilities, their affiliates and their representatives, with the regulatory authority or any member or employee of the regulatory authority.

(b) Such records shall contain the name of the person contacting the regulatory authority or member or employee of the regulatory authority, the name of the business entities represented, a brief description of the subject matter of the communication, and the action, if any, requested by the public utility, affiliate, or representative. These records shall be available to the public on a monthly basis.

Standards of Service

Sec. 35. (a) Every public utility shall furnish such service, instrumentalities, and facilities as shall be safe, adequate, efficient, and reasonable.

(b) The regulatory authority after reasonable notice and hearing had on its own motion or on complaint, may ascertain and fix just and reasonable standards, classifications, regulations, or practices to be observed and followed by any or all public utilities with respect to the service to be furnished; ascertain and fix adequate and reasonable standards for the measurement of the quantity, quality, pressure, initial voltage, or other condition pertaining to the supply of the service; prescribe reasonable regulations for the examination and testing of the service and for the measurement thereof; and establish or approve reasonable rules, regulations, specifications, and standards to secure the accuracy of all meters, instruments and equipment used for the measurement of any service of any public utility. Any standards, classifications, regulations, or practices now or hereafter observed or followed by any public utility may be filed by it with the regulatory authority, and the same shall continue in force until amended by the public utility or until changed by the regulatory authority as herein provided.

Examination and Test of Equipment

Sec. 36. (a) The regulatory authority may examine and test any meter, instrument, or equipment used for the measurement of any service of any public utility and may enter any premises occupied by any public utility for the purpose of making such examinations and tests and exercising any power provided for in this Act and may set up and use on such premises any apparatus and appliances necessary therefor. The public utility shall have the right to be represented at the making of the examinations, tests, and inspections. The public utility and its officers and employees shall facilitate the examinations, tests, and inspections by giving every reasonable aid to the regulatory authority and any person or persons designated by the regulatory authority for the duties aforesaid.

(b) Any consumer or user may have any meter or measuring device tested by the utility once without charge, after a reasonable period to be fixed by the regulatory authority by rule, and at shorter intervals on payment of reasonable fees fixed by the regulatory authority. The regulatory authority shall declare and establish reasonable fees to be paid for other examining and testing such meters and other measuring devices on the request of the consumer. If the test is requested to be made within the period of presumed accuracy as fixed by the regulatory authority since the last such test of the same meter or other measuring device, the fee to be paid by the consumer or user at the time of his request shall be refunded to the consumer or user if the meter or measuring device is found unreasonably defective or incorrect to the substantial disadvantage of the consumer or user. If the consumer's request is made at a time beyond the period of presumed accuracy fixed by the regulatory authority since the last such test of the same meter or measuring device, the utility shall make the test without charge to the consumer or user.

ARTICLE VI. PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE REGULATORY AUTHORITY

Power to Insure Compliance; Rate Regulation

Sec. 37. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the commission or railroad commission is hereby vested with all authority and power of the State of Texas to insure compliance with the obligations of public utilities in this Act. For this purpose the regulatory authority is empowered to fix and regulate rates of public utilities, including rules and regulations for determining the classification of customers and services and for determining the applicability of rates. No rule or order of the regulatory authority shall be in conflict with the rulings of any federal regulatory body.

Just and Reasonable Rates

Sec. 38. It shall be the duty of the regulatory authority to insure that every rate made, demanded, or received by any public utility, or by any two or more public utilities jointly, shall be just and reasonable. Rates shall not be unreasonably preferential, prejudicial, or discriminatory, but shall be sufficient, equitable, and consistent in application to each class of consumers. For ratemaking purposes, the commission or railroad commission may treat two or more municipalities served by a public utility as a single class wherever the commission or railroad commission deems such treatment to be appropriate. Rates charged by gas utility to an industrial customer for supplying gas under a contract and other similar large volume contract customers are just and reasonable and shall be approved by the regulatory authority if the regulatory authority finds that:

- (1) neither the gas utility nor the industrial customer had an unfair advantage during the contract negotiations; or
- (2) the rates in the contract are substantially the same as rates contained in contracts between the gas utility and two or more other industrial customers contracting under the same or similar conditions of service; or
- (3) competition exists either with another gas utility, another supplier of natural gas, or with a supplier of an alternative form of energy.

Fixing Overall Revenues

Sec. 39. In fixing the rates of a public utility the regulatory authority shall fix its overall revenues at a level which will permit such utility to recover its operating expenses together with a reasonable return on its invested capital.

Fair Return; Burden of Proof

Sec. 40. (a) The regulatory authority shall not prescribe any rate which will yield more than a fair return upon the adjusted value of the invested capital used and useful in rendering service to the public.

(b) In any proceeding involving any proposed change of rates, the burden of proof to show that the proposed change, if proposed by the utility, or that the existing rate, if it is proposed to reduce the rate, is just and reasonable shall be on the public utility.

Components of Adjusted Value of Invested Capital and Net Income

Sec. 41. The components of adjusted value of invested capital and net income shall be determined according to the following rules:

(a) Adjusted Value of Invested Capital. Utility rates shall be based upon the adjusted value of property used by and useful to the public utility in providing service including where necessary to the financial integrity of the utility construction work in progress at cost as recorded on the books of the utility. The adjusted value of such property shall be a reasonable balance between original cost less depreciation and current cost less an adjustment for both present age and condition. The regulatory authority shall have the discretion to determine a reasonable balance that reflects not less than 60% nor more than 75% original cost, that is, the actual money cost, or the actual money value of any consideration paid other than money, of the property at the time it shall have been dedicated to public use, whether by the utility which is the present owner or by a predecessor, less depreciation, and not less than 25% nor more than 40% current cost less an adjustment for both present age and condition. The regulatory authority may consider inflation, deflation, quality of service being provided, the growth rate of the service area, and the need for the public utility to attract new capital in determining a reasonable balance.

(b) Separations and Allocations. Costs of facilities, revenues, expenses, taxes, and reserves shall be separated or allocated as prescribed by the regulatory authority.

(c) Net Income. By "net income" is meant the total revenues of the public utility less all reasonable and necessary expenses as determined by the regulatory authority. The regulatory authority shall determine expenses and revenues in a manner consistent with the following:

(1) Transactions with Affiliated Interests. Payment to affiliated interests for costs of any services, or any property, right or thing, or for interest expense shall not be allowed either as capital cost or as expense except to the extent that the regulatory authority shall find such payment to be reasonable. Any such finding of reasonableness shall include specific statements setting forth the cost to the affiliate of each item or class of items in question and a finding that the price to the utility is no higher than prices charged by the supplying affiliate to its other affiliates or divisions for the same item or items, or to unaffiliated persons or corporations.

(2) Income Taxes. If the public utility is a member of an affiliated group that is eligible to file a consolidated income tax return, and if it is advantageous to the public utility to do so, income taxes shall be computed as though a consolidated return had been so filed and the utility had realized its fair share of the savings resulting from the consolidated return, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the regulatory authority that it was reasonable to choose not to consolidate returns. The amounts of income taxes saved by a consolidated group of which a public utility is a member by reason of the elimination in the consolidated return of the intercompany profit on purchases by the public utility from an affiliate shall be applied to reduce the cost of the property or services so purchased. The investment tax credit allowed against federal income taxes, to the extent retained by the utility, shall be applied as a reduction in the rate based contribution of the assets to which such credit applies, to the extent and at such rate as allowed by the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) Expenses Disallowed. The regulatory authority may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations with respect to the allowance or disallowance of certain expenses for ratemaking purposes.

Unreasonable or Violative Existing Rates; Investigating Costs of Obtaining Service from Another Source

Sec. 42. Whenever the regulatory authority, after reasonable notice and hearing, on its own motion or on complaint by any affected person, finds that the existing rates of any public utility for any service are unreasonable or in any way in violation of any provision of law, the regulatory authority shall determine the just and reasonable rates, including maximum or minimum rates, to be thereafter observed and in force, and shall fix the same by order to be served on the public utility; and such rates shall constitute the legal rates of the public utility until changed as provided in this Act. Whenever a public utility does not itself produce or generate that which it distributes, transmits, or furnishes to the public for compensation, but obtains the same from another source, the regulatory authority shall have the power and authority to investigate the cost of such production or generation in any investigation of the reasonableness of the rates of such public utility.

Statement of Intent to Change Rates; Major Changes; Hearing; Suspension of Rate Schedule; Determination of Rate Level

Sec. 43. (a) No utility may make changes in its rates except by filing a statement of intent with the regulatory authority having original jurisdiction at least 35 days prior to the effective date of the proposed change. The statement of intent shall include proposed revisions of tariffs and schedules and a statement specifying in detail each proposed change, the effect the proposed change is expected to have on the revenues of the company, the classes and numbers of utility consumers affected, and such other information as may be required by the regulatory authority's rules and regulations. A copy of the statement of intent shall be mailed or delivered to the appropriate officer of each affected municipality, and notice shall be given by publication in conspicuous form and place of a notice to the public of such proposed change once in each week for four successive weeks in a newspaper having general circulation in each county containing territory affected by the proposed change, and to such other affected persons as may be required by the regulatory authority's rules and regulations.

(b) The regulatory authority, for good cause shown, may, except in the case of major changes, allow changes in rate to take effect prior to the end of such 35 day period under such conditions as it may prescribe, subject to suspension as provided herein. All such changes shall be indicated immediately upon its schedules by such utility. "Major changes" shall mean an increase in rates which would increase the aggregate revenues of the applicant more than the greater of $100,000 or two and one-half percent, but shall not include changes in rates allowed to go into effect by the regulatory authority or made by the utility pursuant to an order of the regulatory authority after hearings held upon notice to the public.

(c) Whenever there is filed with the Regulatory Authority any schedule modifying or resulting in a change in any rates then in force, the Regulatory Authority shall on complaint by any affected person or may on its own motion, at any time within 30 days from the date when such change would or has become effective, and, if it so orders, without answer or other formal pleading by the utility, but on reasonable notice, including notice to the governing bodies of all affected municipalities and counties, enter on a hearing to determine the propriety of such change. The Regulatory Authority shall hold such a hearing in every case in which the change constitutes a major change in rates, provided that an informal proceeding may satisfy this requirement if no complaint has been received before the expiration of 45 days after notice of the change shall have been filed.

(d) Pending the hearing and decision, the Regulatory Authority, after delivery to the affected utility of a statement in writing of its reasons therefor, may suspend the operation of the schedule for a period not to exceed 120 days beyond the date on which the schedule of rates would otherwise go into effect. If the Regulatory Authority finds that a longer time will be required for a final determination, the Regulatory Authority may further extend the period for an additional 30 days. If the Regulatory Authority does not make a final determination concerning any schedule of rates within a period of 150 days after the time when the schedule of rates would otherwise go into effect, the schedule shall be deemed to have been approved by the Regulatory Authority. This approval is subject to the authority of the Regulatory Authority thereafter to continue a hearing in progress. The Regulatory Authority may in its discretion fix temporary rates for any period of suspension under this section. During the suspension by the Regulatory Authority as above provided, the rates in force when the suspended schedule was filed shall continue in force unless the Regulatory Authority shall establish a temporary rate. The Regulatory Authority shall give preference to the hearing and decision of questions arising under this section over all other questions pending before it and decide the same as speedily as possible.

(e) If the regulatory authority fails to make its final determination of rates within 90 days from the date that the proposed change otherwise would have gone into effect, the utility concerned may put a changed rate, not to exceed the proposed rate, into effect upon the filing with the regulatory authority of a bond payable to the regulatory authority in an amount and with sureties approved by the regulatory authority conditioned upon refund and in a form approved by the regulatory authority. The utility concerned shall refund or credit against future bills all sums collected during the period of suspension in excess of the rate finally ordered plus interest at the current rate as finally determined by the regulatory authority.

(f) If, after hearing, the Regulatory Authority finds the rates to be unreasonable or in any way in violation of any provision of law, the Regulatory Authority shall determine the level of rates to be charged or applied by the utility for the service in question and shall fix the same by order to be served upon the utility; these rates are thereafter to be observed until changed, as provided by this Act.

Rates for Areas Not Within Municipality

Sec. 44. Public utility rates for areas not within any municipality shall not exceed without commission or railroad commission approval 115 percent of the average of all rates for similar services of all municipalities served by the same utility within the same county.

Unreasonable Preference or Prejudice as to Rates or Services

Sec. 45. No public utility may, as to rates or services, make or grant any unreasonable preference or advantage to any corporation or person within any classification, or subject any corporation or person within any classification to any unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage. No public utility may establish and maintain any unreasonable differences as to rates of service either as between localities or as between classes of service.

Equality of Rates and Services

Sec. 46. No public utility may, directly or indirectly, by any device whatsoever or in any manner, charge, demand, collect, or receive from any person a greater or less compensation for any service rendered or to be rendered by the utility than that prescribed in the schedule of rates of the public utility applicable thereto when filed in the manner provided in this Act, nor may any person knowingly receive or accept any service from a public utility for a compensation greater or less than that prescribed in the schedules, provided that all rates being charged and collected by a public utility upon the effective date of this Act may be continued until schedules are filed. Nothing in this Act shall prevent a cooperative corporation from returning to its members the whole, or any part of, the net earnings resulting from its operations in proportion to their purchases from or through the corporation.

Discrimination; Restriction on Competition

Sec. 47. No public utility may discriminate against any person or corporation that sells or leases equipment or performs services in competition with the public utility, nor may any public utility engage in any other practice that tends to restrict or impair such competition.

Payments in Lieu of Taxes

Sec. 48. No payments made in lieu of taxes by a public utility to the municipality by which it is owned may be considered an expense of operation for the purpose of determining, fixing, or regulating the rates to be charged for the provision of utility service to a school district or hospital district. No rates received by a public utility from a school district or hospital district may be used to make or to cover the cost of making payments in lieu of taxes to the municipality by which the public utility is owned.

ARTICLE VII. CERTIFICATES OF CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

Definitions

Sec. 49. For the purposes of this article only: (a) "Retail public utility" means any person, corporation, water supply or sewer service corporation, municipality, political subdivision or agency, or cooperative corporation, now or hereafter operating, maintaining, or controlling in Texas facilities for providing retail utility service.

(b) "Public utility" does not include any person, corporation, municipality, political subdivision or agency, or cooperative corporation under the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission. For the purposes of this article only, "public utility" includes a water supply or sewer service corporation.

Certificate Required

Sec. 50. Beginning one year after the effective date of this Act, unless otherwise specified:

(1) No public utility may in any way render service directly or indirectly to the public under any franchise or permit without first having obtained from the commission a certificate that the present or future public convenience and necessity require or will require such installation, operation, or extension.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this article no retail public utility may furnish, make available, render, or extend retail public utility service to any area to which retail utility service is being lawfully furnished by another retail public utility on or after the effective date of this Act, without first having obtained a certificate of public convenience and necessity that includes the area in which the consuming facility is located.

Exceptions for Extension of Service

Sec. 51. (a) A public utility is not required to secure a certificate of public convenience and necessity for:

(1) an extension into territory contiguous to that already served by it and not receiving similar service from another public utility and not within the area of public convenience and necessity of another utility of the same kind;

(2) an extension within or to territory already served by it or to be served by it under a certificate of public convenience and necessity; or

(3) operation, extension, or service in progress on the effective date of this Act.

(b) Any extensions allowed by Subsection (a) of this section shall be limited to devices for interconnection of existing facilities or devices used solely for transmitting public utility services from existing facilities to customers of retail utility service.

Application; Maps; Evidence of Consent

Sec. 52. (a) A public utility shall submit to the commission an application to obtain a certificate of public convenience and necessity or an amendment thereof.

(b) On or before 90 days after the effective date of this Act, or at a later date on request in writing by a public utility when good cause is shown, or at such later dates as the commission may order, each public utility shall file with the commission a map or maps showing all its facilities and illustrating separately facilities for generation, transmission, and distribution of its services.

(c) Each applicant for a certificate shall file with the commission such evidence as is required by the commission to show that the applicant has received the required consent, franchise, or permit of the proper municipality or other public authority.

Prior Construction or Operation

Sec. 53. On application made to the commission within six months after the effective date of this Act, the commission shall issue a certificate of public convenience and necessity for the construction or operation then being conducted to any public utility actually providing service to any geographical area on the effective date of this Act, or to any person or corporation actively engaged on the effective date of this Act in the construction, installation, extension, or improvement of, or addition to, any facility or system used or to be used in providing public utility service.

Notice and Hearing; Issuance or Refusal; Factors Considered

Sec. 54. (a) When an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity is filed, the commission shall give notice of such application to interested parties and, if requested, shall fix a time and place for a hearing and give notice of the hearing. Any person interested in the application may intervene at the hearing.

(b) Except for certificates for prior operations granted under Section 53, the commission may grant applications and issue certificates only if the commission finds that the certificate is necessary for the service, accommodation, convenience, or safety of the public. The commission may issue the certificate as prayed for, or refuse to issue it, or issue it for the construction of a portion only of the contemplated system or facility or extension thereof, or for the partial exercise only of the right or privilege.

(c) Certificates of convenience and necessity shall be granted on a nondiscriminatory basis after consideration by the commission of the adequacy of existing service, the need for additional service, the effect of the granting of a certificate on the recipient of the certificate and on any public utility of the same kind already serving the proximate area, and on such factors as community values, recreational and park areas, historical and aesthetic values, environmental integrity, and the probable improvement of service or lowering of cost to consumers in such area resulting from the granting of such certificate.

Area Included Within City, Town or Village

Sec. 55. (a) If an area has been or shall be included within the boundaries of a city, town, or village as the result of annexation, incorporation, or otherwise, all public utilities certified or entitled to certification under this Act to provide service or operate facilities in such area prior to the inclusion shall have the right to continue and extend service in its area of public convenience and necessity within the annexed or incorporated area, pursuant to the rights granted by its certificate and this Act.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a public utility shall have the right to continue and extend service within its area of public convenience and necessity and to utilize the roads, streets, highways, alleys, and public property for the purpose of furnishing such retail utility service, subject to the authority of the governing body of a municipality to require any public utility, at its own expense, to relocate its facilities to permit the widening or straightening of streets by giving to the public utility 30 days' notice and specifying the new location for the facilities along the right-of-way of the street or streets.

(c) This section may not be construed as limiting the power of cities, towns, and villages to incorporate or extend their boundaries by annexation, nor may this section be construed as prohibiting any city or town from levying taxes and other special charges for the use of the streets as are authorized by Article 11.03, Title 122A, Taxation—General, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

Contracts Valid and Enforceable

Sec. 56. Contracts between retail public utilities designating areas to be served and customers to be served by those utilities, when approved by the commission, shall be valid and enforceable and shall be incorporated into the appropriate areas of public convenience and necessity.

Preliminary Order for Certificate

Sec. 57. If a public utility desires to exercise a right or privilege under a franchise or permit which it contemplates securing but which has not as yet been granted to it, such public utility may apply to the commission for an order preliminary to the issuance of the certificate. The commission may thereupon make an order declaring that it will, on application, under such rules as it prescribes, issue the desired certificate on such terms and conditions as it designates, after the public utility has obtained the contemplated franchise or permit. On presentation to the commission of evidence satisfactory to it that the franchise or permit has been secured by the public utility, the commission shall issue the certificate.

Continuous and Adequate Service; Discontinuance, Reduction or Impairment of Service

Sec. 58. (a) The holder of any certificate of public convenience and necessity shall serve every consumer within its certified area and shall render continuous and adequate service within the area or areas.

(b) Unless the commission issues a certificate that neither the present or future convenience and necessity will be adversely affected, the holder of a certificate shall not discontinue, reduce, or impair service to a certified service area or part thereof except for:

- (1) nonpayment of charges;
- (2) nonuse; or

(3) other similar reasons in the usual course of business.

(c) Any discontinuance, reduction, or impairment of service, whether with or without approval of the commission, shall be in conformity with and subject to such conditions, restrictions, and limitations as the commission shall prescribe.

Sale, Assignment or Lease of Certificate

Sec. 59. If the commission determines that a purchaser, assignee, or lessee is capable of rendering adequate service, a public utility may sell, assign, or lease a certificate of public convenience and necessity or any rights obtained under the certificate. The sale, assignment, or lease shall be on the conditions prescribed by the commission.

Interference with Other Public Utility

Sec. 60. If a public utility in constructing or extending its lines, plant, or system interferes or attempts to interfere with the operation of a line, plant, or system of any other public utility, the commission may issue an order prohibiting the construction or extension or prescribing terms and conditions for locating the lines, plants, or systems affected.

Improvements in Service; Interconnecting Service; Extended Area Toll-free Telephone Service

Sec. 61. After notice and hearing, the commission may:

(1) order a public utility to provide specified improvements in its service in a defined area, if service in such area is inadequate or is substantially inferior to service in a comparable area and it is reasonable to require the company to provide such improved service;

(2) order two or more public utilities to establish specified facilities for the interconnecting service; and

(3) order a telephone company or telephone companies to provide extended area toll-free service within a specified metropolitan area where there is a sufficient community of interest within the area and such service can reasonably be provided.

Revocation or Amendment of Certificate

Sec. 62. (a) The commission at any time after notice and hearing may revoke or amend any certificate of convenience and necessity if it finds that the certificate holder has never provided or is no longer providing service in the area, or part of the area, covered by the certificate.

(b) When the certificate of any public utility is revoked or amended, the commission may require one or more public utilities to provide service in the area in question.

ARTICLE VIII. SALE OF PROPERTY AND MERGERS

Report of Sale, Merger, etc.; Investigation; Disallowance of Transaction

Sec. 63. No public utility may sell, acquire, lease, or rent any plant as an operating unit or system in this state for a total consideration in excess of $100,000 or merge or consolidate with another public utility operating in this state unless the public utility reports such transaction to the commission or railroad commission within a reasonable time. On the filing of a report with the commission or railroad commission, the commission or railroad commission shall investigate the same with or without public hearing, to determine whether the action is consistent with the public interest. In reaching its determination, the commission or railroad commission shall take into consideration the reasonable value of the property, facilities, or securities to be acquired, disposed of, merged or consolidated. If the commission or railroad commission finds that such transactions are not in the public interest, the commission or railroad commission shall take the effect of the transaction into consideration in the rate-making proceedings and disallow the effect of such transaction if it will unreasonably affect rates or service. The provisions of this section shall not be construed as being applicable to the purchase of units of property for replacement or to the addition to the facilities of the public utility by construction.

Purchase of Voting Stock in Another Public Utility; Report

Sec. 64. No public utility may purchase voting stock in another public utility doing business in Texas, unless the utility reports such purchase to the commission or railroad commission.

Loans to Stockholders; Report

Sec. 65. No public utility may loan money, stocks, bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness to any corporation or person owning or holding directly or indirectly any stock of the public utility unless the public utility reports the transaction to the commission or railroad commission within a reasonable time.

Gas Reserve Rights: Approval of Sale, Conveyance, etc.

Sec. 66. No gas utility may sell, convey, bank, or assign rights to gas reserves to a utility or, where not in conflict with federal law, to an interstate pipeline without prior approval of the railroad commission.

ARTICLE IX. RELATIONS WITH AFFILIATED INTERESTS

Jurisdiction Over Affiliated Interests

Sec. 67. The commission or railroad commission shall have jurisdiction over affiliated interests having transactions with public utilities under the jurisdiction of the commission or railroad commission to the extent of access to all accounts and records of such affiliated interests relating to such transactions, including but in no way limited to accounts and records of joint or general expenses, any portion of which may be applicable to such transactions.

Disclosure of Substantial Interest in Voting Securities

Sec. 68. The commission or railroad commission may require the disclosure of the identity and respective interests of every owner of any substantial interest in the voting securities of any public utility or its affiliated interest. One percent or more is a substantial interest within the meaning of this section.

ARTICLE X. JUDICIAL REVIEW

Right to Judicial Review; Evidence

Sec. 69. Any party to a proceeding before the commission is entitled to judicial review under the substantial evidence rule. The issue of confiscation shall be determined by a preponderance of the evidence.

Costs and Attorneys' Fees

Sec. 70. Any party represented by counsel who alleges that existing rates are excessive or that those prescribed by the commission are excessive, and who is a prevailing party in proceedings for review of a commission order or decision, may in the same action recover against the regulation fund reasonable fees for attorneys and expert witnesses and other costs for its efforts before the commission and the court, the amount of such attorneys' fees to be fixed by the court. On a finding by the court that an action under this article was groundless and brought in bad faith and for the purpose of harassment, the court may award to the defendant public utility the reasonable attorneys' fees.

ARTICLE XI. VIOLATIONS AND ENFORCEMENT

Action to Enjoin or Require Compliance

Sec. 71. Whenever it appears to the commission or railroad commission that any public utility or any other person or corporation is engaged in, or is about to engage in, any act in violation of this Act or of any order, rule, or regulation of the commission or railroad commission entered or adopted under the provisions of this Act, or that any public utility or any other person or corporation is failing to comply with the provisions of this Act or with any such rule, regulation, or order, the attorney general on request of the commission or railroad commission, in addition to any other remedies provided herein, shall bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in the name of and on behalf of the commission or railroad commission against such public utility or other person or corporation to enjoin the commencement or continuation of any such act, or to require compliance with such Act, rule, regulation, or order.

Penalty Against Public Utility or Affiliated Interest

Sec. 72. (a) Any public utility or affiliated interest that knowingly violates a provision of this Act, fails to perform a duty imposed on it, or fails, neglects, or refuses to obey an order, rule, regulation, direction, or requirement of the commission or railroad commission or decree or judgment of a court, shall be subject to a civil penalty of not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000 for each offense.

(b) A public utility or affiliated interest commits a separate offense each day it continues to violate the provisions of Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) The attorney general shall institute suit on his own initiative or at the request of, in the name of, and on behalf of the commission, or railroad commission, in a court of competent jurisdiction to recover the penalty under this section.

Penalty for Violating Section 6 of This Act

Sec. 73. (a) Any member of the commission, or any officer or director of a public utility or affiliated interest, shall be subject to a civil penalty of $1,000 for each and every knowing violation of Section 6 of this Act, such penalty to be recovered in a suit filed in a court of competent jurisdiction by the attorney general on his own initiative or at the request of, in the name of, and on behalf of, the commission.

Sec. 3. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the Public Utility Commission of Texas shall promulgate rules, regulations, and standards under which any owner, operator, or manager of an apartment house which is not individually metered for electricity for each dwelling unit may install submetering equipment for each individual dwelling unit for the purpose of fairly allocating the cost of each individual dwelling unit's electrical consumption. Any rule, regulation, or standard promulgated by the commission pursuant to this section shall be deemed to have been entered or adopted under the Public Utility Regulatory Act (Article 1446c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and for purposes of enforcement, both utility companies and the owners, operators, or managers of apartment houses included in this Act are subject to enforcement pursuant to Sections 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, and 77 of the Public Utility Regulatory Act (Article 1446c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Sec. 4. If, during the 90-day period preceding the installation of individual meters or submeters, an owner, operator, or manager of an apartment house has increased rental rates and such increase is attrib-

(d) As used in this Code, the term "ward" in reference to a geographical subdivision of a city or town includes every geographical subdivision, by whatever name it is known, from which any members of the municipal governing body are elected by only the voters residing therein.

Art. 1.01-1. Expired

This article, derived from Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 880, ch. 331, §§ 1 to 7, and relating to the Election Code Revision Commission, expired of its own terms on May 29, 1979.

Art. 1.03. Secretary of State as Chief Election Officer

Subd. 2. At least 35 days before each general election for state and county officers, the Secretary of State shall prescribe forms of all blanks necessary under this code and shall furnish same to each county clerk. The Secretary of State shall at the same time certify to each county clerk a list of all the candidates who have been nominated for state and district offices and all other candidates whose names have been certified to the Secretary of State to be placed on the general election ballot.

Subd. 3. Upon petition of fifteen or more resident citizens of any one county to the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State shall, or may at any time upon his own initiative, appoint inspectors to observe all functions, activities, or procedures conducted pursuant to the election laws of this State. Any such inspectors shall be subject to the direction of and responsible to the Secretary of State and he may terminate any appointment at any time. Any such inspectors may be present at, observe, and take reasonable steps to evidence all activities, functions, and procedures (except for the marking of any ballot by a voter, unless being assisted by an election officer) at any polling place, place of canvass, central counting station, or other place where official election or registration functions take place. The Secretary of State or any member of his staff may, upon the initiative of the Secretary of State alone, whether any violation of election laws is suspected or not, be present at, observe, and take reasonable steps to evidence any activities, functions, and procedures at any polling place, place of canvass, central counting station, or other place where official election or registration functions take place. Any inspectors appointed under this provision shall report to the Secretary of State any violations of law observed and the Secretary of State may refer the violation to the Attorney General or a prosecuting attorney for appropriate action.

Art. 1.05. Ineligibility

Subd. 1. No person shall be eligible to be a candidate for, or to be elected or appointed to, any public elective office in this state unless he is a citizen of the United States eligible to hold such office under the Constitution and laws of this state, is not mentally incompetent as determined by a court, has not been convicted of a felony for which he has not been pardoned or had his full rights of citizenship restored by other official action, and will be 18 years of age or older on the commencement of the term to be filled at the election or on the date of his appointment, and unless he will have resided in this state for a period of 12 months next preceding the applicable date specified below, and for any public office which is less than statewide, shall have resided for six months next preceding such date in the district, county, precinct, municipality or other political subdivision for which the office is to be filled:

(1) For a candidate whose name is printed on the ballot for a general (first) primary election, the applicable date is the last day on which any candidate for the office involved could file his application to have his name printed on the ballot for that primary election.

(2) For an independent or nonpartisan candidate in a general or special election, the applicable date is the last day on which the candidate's application for a place on the ballot could be delivered to the appropriate officer for receiving the application.

(3) For a write-in candidate, the applicable date is the day of the election at which the candidate's name is written in.

(4) For a party nominee who is nominated by any method other than by primary election, the applicable date is the day on which the nomination is made.

(5) For an appointee to an office, the applicable date is the day on which the appointment is made.

Subd. 2. The foregoing requirements do not apply to any office for which the Constitution or statutes of the United States or of this state prescribe the exclusive qualifications for the office or prescribe qualifications in conflict herewith, and in such case the provisions of such other laws control.

Subd. 2a. In the circumstances described in this subdivision, the residence requirements stated herein supersede the six-month precinct residence requirement stated in Subdivision 1 of this section. If the date of an order changing the boundaries of county commissioners precincts or justice of the peace precincts is less than seven months before the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1 of this section, a candidate for a precinct office in a precinct whose boundaries are affected by the order (including any newly created precinct) must have been a resident of the county in which the precinct is situated for six months next preceding the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1 and must be a resident of the precinct on that date. When a precinct office of an affected precinct is to be filled by an appointment to take effect on or after the date on which the boundary changes become effective but less than seven months after the date of the order making the changes, the appointee must have been a resident of the county for six months next preceding the effective date of the appointment and must be a resident of the precinct on that date.

For the purpose of the first paragraph of this subdivision, the date of the order changing the precinct boundaries means the appropriate date defined in this paragraph, as follows:

(1) If the change is made by an order of the commissioners court which is not challenged in a judicial proceeding brought before the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1 of this section, the date of the order means the date on which the commissioners court entered its order setting out the new boundaries.

(2) If the change is made, confirmed, or modified by a judicial decree or if judicial review of an order of the commissioners court is denied before the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1, the date of the order means the date of entry of the decree (including an order denying a motion for new trial, motion for rehearing, or similar motion) finally concluding the legal action establishing or confirming the boundary lines or denying review of the order establishing the lines.

(3) If on the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1 of this section a final decree concluding legal action has not been entered but there is an outstanding judicial decree putting a change in boundaries into effect or refusing to enjoin or to stay enforcement of an order establishing new boundary lines pending final disposition of the action, the date of the order means the date of entry of that decree.

Subd. 3. A home-rule city by charter may prescribe for its elective officers different age and residence requirements from those prescribed in Subdivision 1 of this section, but a charter may not set a minimum age greater than 21 years or a minimum length of residence in the state or city greater than 12 months next preceding the election.

Subd. 4. Except as provided in Section 104 of this code (Article 8.22, Vernon's Texas Election Code), no ineligible candidate shall ever have his name placed upon the ballot at any primary, general or special election. No ineligible candidate shall ever be voted upon nor have votes counted for him at any such primary, general or special election for the purpose of nominating or electing him, but votes cast for an ineligible candidate shall be taken into account in determining whether any other candidate received the necessary vote for nomination or election.

Subd. 5. No person who advocates the overthrow by force or violence or change by unconstitutional means of the present constitutional form of government of the United States or of this state shall be eligible to have his name printed on any official ballot in any general, special or primary election in this state.

Art. 1.05-1. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2098, ch. 682, § 28, eff. Sept. 1, 1975

Art. 1.08a. Bilingual Election Materials in English and Spanish

Elections and Areas in Which Bilingual Materials are Required

Subd. 1. (a) In every general, special, or primary election, by whatever authority held, which is held within a county in which five percent or more of the inhabitants are persons of Spanish origin or descent, according to the federal census specified in Paragraph (b) of this subdivision, the election materials enumerated in Subdivision 3 of this section shall be printed in both English and Spanish for use at the polling place in each election precinct that is not exempt from this requirement under Subdivision 2. In the elections of a political subdivision that includes territory in more than one county, the bilingual materials must be used in each precinct that includes territory lying within a county to which this subdivision applies unless the precinct is exempt under Subdivision 2.

(b) The census used for determining the percentage of persons of Spanish origin or descent is the last preceding federal decennial census for which the enumeration date was more than two years before January 1 of the calendar year in which the election is held.

Election Precincts Exempt from Requirement

Subd. 2. (a) An election precinct situated in a county to which Subdivision 1 applies is exempt from the requirement for bilingual election materials if official census information or other information shows that persons of Spanish origin or descent comprise less than five percent of the inhabitants of the precinct. The authority holding the election has the burden of establishing entitlement to the exemption. Unless otherwise ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction, the officer or body responsible for obtaining the supplies for the election is relieved of the duty to furnish bilingual materials for those precincts for which there has been filed with the clerk or secretary of the political subdivision responsible for the expenses of the election, at least 30 days before the date of the election, a certificate executed by the presiding officer of the governing body of the political subdivision and approved by the governing body, identifying the precinct or precincts for which the exemption is claimed, together with an abstract of the official census information or other information relied on to support the exemption and a map or maps showing the precinct boundaries and the boundaries of the census enumeration areas referred to in the abstract. An authenticated copy of the resolution or other document evidencing the governing body's approval must be filed with the certificate.

(b) A new certificate and new supporting information must be filed following each decennial census. The supporting information must be revised following a change in election precinct boundaries, and a revised certificate must be filed if the certificate on file no longer correctly reflects the exempt precincts.

(c) In the case of a primary election held by a political party, the exempt precincts are those reflected in a certificate executed by the county judge or the secretary of state and filed in the office of the county clerk. The secretary of state is authorized to file a certificate for a county whenever the county judge has not filed a certificate by the 60th day before the date of the primary or whenever the certificate on file does not correctly reflect the exempt precincts.

Enumeration of Required Bilingual Materials; Preparation of the Materials

Subd. 3. (a) At each polling place where election materials in English and Spanish are required, the following materials shall be provided in bilingual form:

(1) Instruction cards for the information of voters shall be printed in both English and Spanish, either on separate cards to be posted side by side or on the same card with the Spanish text alongside the English text.

(2) Where voting machines or voting devices are used, a Spanish translation of the instructions for operating the machines or devices shall be posted in the compartment or booth that the voter occupies.

(3) All ballots and ballot labels may be printed with all ballot instructions, office titles, and propositions appearing in both Spanish and English. If the bilingual listing on the face of the ballot is not utilized, then a Spanish translation of the ballot shall be posted in each compartment or booth, and a statement shall be placed on the face of the ballot in Spanish to inform the voter that the Spanish translation is posted in the compartment or booth; and where paper ballots are used and booths are not provided for all voters, copies of the Spanish translation shall also be made available at the table where the voter selects his ballot, and a sign printed in Spanish shall be displayed at the table, informing the voter that he may take a copy of the Spanish translation for his use in preparing his ballot.

(4) All affidavit forms or other forms that voters are required to sign may have a Spanish translation printed beneath the English text or on the reverse side of the printed matter appearing on the form. If this translation is not utilized, then a Spanish translation of the affidavit shall be made available, and a statement shall be placed on the affidavit in Spanish that a Spanish translation is available upon request.

(b) The secretary of state shall prepare the Spanish translation for all bilingual materials required by Subdivisions 3 and 4 of this section, except ballot forms for local elections. The secretary of state shall prepare the Spanish translation of the ballot propositions for proposed constitutional amendments and other measures submitted by the legislature if the legislature fails to provide a Spanish text. The officer having the duty to make up the ballot for a local election shall prepare the Spanish translation of ballot material if the governing body of the political subdivision fails to provide a Spanish text.

Bilingual Materials for Absentee Voting

Subd. 4. In any countywide election, or in any election held in a political subdivision other than a county, in which bilingual election materials are required at any polling place in the county or other political subdivision, the absentee voting materials shall be printed in both English and Spanish. The forms for applying for an absentee ballot, the ballot envelopes and carrier envelopes, and any other instructions or forms furnished to the voters shall be printed in English with a Spanish translation on the face of the instrument or furnished separately along with the instrument. All ballots and ballot labels used for absentee voting shall be printed in the manner described in Subdivision 3; and whenever the Spanish translation of ballot propositions is printed separately from the ballot, a copy of the translation shall be furnished to each voter who votes by mail. In the conduct of absentee voting by personal appearance, any other materials enumerated in Subdivision 3 which are used in the voting shall be in bilingual form.

Optional Use of Bilingual Materials

Subd. 5. In any election held in a county to which Subdivision 1 of this section does not apply, or at any polling place where bilingual materials are not made mandatory under Subdivision 1, the governing body of the political subdivision responsible for the costs of the election may require the use of bilingual ballots and such other items of election materials enumerated in Subdivisions 3 and 4 as the governing body specifies, for any or all of the polling places as specified by the governing body; and the election officers of the political subdivision shall furnish bilingual materials in accordance with the resolution, ordinance, or other document by which their use is required. The governing body may provide for use of the bilingual materials on a continuing basis or on an election-by-election basis, as it sees fit.

Art. 1.08b. Encouragement to Vote of Non-English-Speaking Citizens

Text as added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2078, ch. 681, § 18

Sec. 8b. It is the intent of the legislature that non-English-speaking citizens, like all other citizens, should be encouraged to vote. Therefore, appropriate efforts should be made to minimize obstacles to voting by citizens who lack sufficient skill in English to vote without assistance.

The presiding judge of a voting precinct in which the election materials provided in Section 8a of this code¹ are required to be used shall make reasonable efforts to appoint election clerks who are fluent in both English and Spanish.

As used in this section "county officer in charge of election duties" means the county elections administrator in a county which has that office and the county clerk in a county which does not have the separate office of county elections administrator; and "contracting officer" means the county officer in charge of election duties.

Subd. 2. (a) The county officer in charge of election duties may contract with the governing body of any city, school district, water district, or other political subdivision situated wholly or partly within the county to conduct or supervise the conduct of any single election or series of elections to be held by the political subdivision and to perform or supervise the performance of any or all of the functions enumerated in Subdivision 3 of this section in connection with the holding of the election or elections.

(b) The county officer in charge of election duties may contract with the county executive committee of any political party holding primary elections in the county to conduct or supervise the conduct of the party's general primary election or runoff primary election, or both, to be held within the county in an election year. The contract must be approved by the secretary of state before any duties may be performed or any payments may be made under the terms of the contract.

(c) When requested to do so by a political subdivision or political party, the county elections administrator shall enter into a contract to furnish the services requested in accordance with a cost schedule mutually agreed upon by the contracting parties. If a mutual agreement cannot be reached, the secretary of state shall prescribe the agreement, to which both parties are bound, or, in his discretion, the secretary of state may instruct the county elections administrator to decline to enter into a contract with the requesting party. The county clerk in counties not having the office of county elections administrator is not required to enter into a contract with a political subdivision or political party requesting services, but he may do so at his discretion.

Subd. 3. A contract with a political subdivision pursuant to Subdivision 2 of this section may include any or all of the following services, and a contract with a political party may include any or all of such services that pertain to a party primary:

(1) Recommendations on the formation of election precincts and the location of polling places and preparation of the appropriate documents for establishing the precincts and polling places.

(2) Preparation of election orders, resolutions, notices, and other pertinent documents for adoption or execution by the appropriate officer or body.

(3) Posting or publication of election notices.

(4) Preparation of lists of persons to recommend for appointment as election judge or clerk and the recruiting and training of the judges and clerks.

(5) Procurement and distribution of election supplies, including the preparation, printing, and distribution of ballots.

(6) Assembly and editing of the lists of registered voters to be used in conducting the election, in conformity with the boundaries of the political subdivision and the election precincts established for the election.

(7) Procurement, preparation, and distribution of election equipment and transportation of equipment to and from the polling places.

(8) The conduct of absentee voting, subject to the provisions of Subdivision 4 of this section.

(9) Arrangements for use of polling places on election day.

(10) In an election using electronic voting equipment, arrangements for use of a central counting station and for the personnel and equipment needed at the counting station and assistance in preparation of programs and test materials for tabulation of the ballots.

(11) Supervision of the handling and disposition of election returns, voted ballots, etc., and tabulation of unofficial returns and assistance in preparing the tabulation for the official canvass.

(12) Information services for voters and election officers.

(13) General overall supervision of the elections and advisory services in connection with decisions to be made and actions to be taken by officers of the political subdivision or political party holding the election.

(14) Preparation of submissions on voting changes to be made to the United States Department of Justice under the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965, as amended.¹

(15) Preparation of data to support exemptions from the requirements for bilingual materials under Section 8a (Article 1.08a) of this code.

Subd. 4. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the contracting officer or any regular or temporary employee of the contracting officer may be designated as the absentee voting clerk for any political subdivision other than a municipality. The contracting officer may not replace the city secretary or clerk as the absentee voting clerk for a city election, but a contract may provide that the contracting officer is to supervise the conduct of the absentee voting and/or is to supply personnel to serve as deputy absentee voting clerks for the election.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, where a contract provides that the contracting officer is to serve as absentee voting clerk or that the contracting officer is to supply personnel to serve as deputy absentee voting clerks, residence within the county of the contracting officer satisfies the residence requirements for the positions filled under the contract.

Subd. 5. Nothing in this section authorizes or permits a change in the officer with whom or the place at which any document or record relating to an election is to be filed, or the place at which any function is to be carried out, or the officers to make the official canvass of the election returns, or the officer to serve as custodian of voted ballots or other election records, except that in elections held by a political subdivision other than a municipality, the contract may provide that the contracting officer will be custodian of the voted ballots as is permitted under Section 111a (Article 8.29a) of this code.

Subd. 6. A contract may provide that the contracting officer will pay the expenses payable to third persons which are incurred for an election or that the authority holding the election will make the payments directly to the claimants. If the contract provides that the authority holding the election is to pay the claimants, the contracting officer becomes the agent of the authority holding the election and he may contract with third persons in the name of the authority with respect to expenses within the scope of his duties. The contracting officer is not liable for the default of the authority holding the election. If the contract provides that the contracting officer is to pay the expenses, the authority holding the election is not liable for defaults of the contracting officer.

Subd. 7. (a) The contracting officer shall file with the county treasurer a copy of each contract for services to be performed under this section and shall file another copy with the county auditor or, in a county not having an auditor, with the county judge as presiding officer of the commissioners court.

(b) Contracts executed pursuant to this section need not be submitted to the commissioners court for approval. All moneys received by the contracting officer under such contracts shall be deposited in the county treasury in a special fund separate from any other funds, and shall be subject to expenditure by the contracting officer to defray the costs of carrying out the contracts without prior budgeting or appropriation by the commissioners court. However, all claims against the fund shall be audited and approved in the same manner as other claims against the county before they are paid. Salaries of personnel regularly employed by the contracting officer shall be paid from funds regularly budgeted and appropriated for that purpose, but salaries and wages paid to persons especially employed to perform duties under a contract and all other expenses directly attributable to the contract which are charged to the contracting officer shall be paid out of the special fund. From time to time, as surplus amounts accumulate in the special fund, the contracting officer may direct the treasurer to transfer the surplus, in specified amounts, to the special fund created by Section 51b (Article 5.19b) of this code.

Subd. 8. Any of the services to be performed by the contracting officer may be performed by deputies or other employees assigned by him to perform the services. In a county which does not have the separate office of county elections administrator, the county clerk may establish an elections division in his office and assign a deputy clerk to oversee the operation of the division and may delegate to the deputy the power to enter into contracts under this section.

CHAPTER TWO. TIME AND PLACE

Article

- 2.01b. Dates for Holding General and Special Elections.
- 2.01c. Joint Elections of Political Subdivisions.
- 2.06a. Municipal and School District Election Dates.

Art. 2.01. Time and Place

A general election shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A.D. 1964, and every two years thereafter, at such places as may be prescribed by law after notice as prescribed by law. Special elections shall be held at such times and places as may be fixed by law providing therefor. In all elections, general, special, or primary, the polls shall be open from seven o'clock a. m. to seven o'clock p. m.; provided, that in any county having a population of one million or more, according to the last preceding federal census, the polls may be opened one hour earlier at six o'clock a. m. on order of the commissioners court of such county entered in the minutes thereof. The foregoing authority of the commissioners court shall extend to all elections held within the county, by whatever authority the election may be ordered, but the court may exercise this authority with respect to such elections as it deems necessary or desirable without advancing the opening hour for other elections, subject to the requirement that the court's order must apply uniformly to comparable types of elections held on the same day; and the order shall specify the elections to which it applies. The election shall be held for one day only.

All persons who are within the polling place and all persons who are waiting to enter the polling place at seven o'clock p. m. shall be allowed an opportunity to present themselves for voting in the same manner as if they had appeared and offered themselves for voting during regular voting hours. The presiding judge shall take necessary precautions to prevent voting by any person not present and waiting to vote at the time for official closing of the polls. If feasible, all persons waiting to vote at the time for official closing of the polls shall be required to enter the polling place, and the door to the polling place shall be closed and locked, and each such person shall remain inside the polling place until he has voted. If such procedure is not feasible, numbered identification cards or tokens shall be distributed to identify those persons waiting to vote at the time for official closing of the polls.

Art. 2.01b. Dates for Holding General and Special Elections

(a) Except as provided in Subsections (b) and (e) of this section, every general (regular) or special election held by the state or by any county, city, school district, water district, or any other political subdivision or agency of this state must be held on one of the following dates: the third Saturday in January, the first Saturday in April, the second Saturday in August, or the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. Provided, however, that in even-numbered years the only issues which may be submitted to the voters in an election held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November shall be the election of state and county officers, the election of officers of a general-law city or town wherein the governing body of said city finds that the religious tenets of more than 50 percent of the registered voters of said city prohibit the adherents from voting in an election held on Saturday, the election of officers of a home-rule city with a population of less than 30,000, according to the last preceding federal census, where such city or town used, prior to 1975, the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of even-numbered years as the date for the election of its officers, and amendments to the constitution of this state submitted to the voters by the legislature. This requirement does not apply to runoff elections, political subdivisions using the convention method of election, elections held under Chapter 467, Acts of the 44th Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1935, as amended,¹ elections for bonds and school maintenance taxes, or to the biennial party primary elections held to nominate candidates for public office. An election held on an unauthorized date is void.

(b) When a vacancy in office is to be filled at a special election, the election must be called for a date specified in Subsection (a) unless the governor finds the existence of an emergency that warrants calling the election for an earlier date. When the governing body of a political subdivision wishes to call an emergency special election to fill a vacancy, the governing body shall submit a request to the governor for permission to call the election, and the governor may grant permission if he finds that an emergency exists.

(c) In even-numbered years the only issues which may be included on the ballot of the election held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November shall be the election of state and county officers, the election of officers of a general-law city wherein the governing body of said city finds that the religious tenets of more than 50 percent of the registered voters of said city prohibit the adherents from voting in an election held on Saturday, the election of officers of a home-rule city with a population of less than 30,000, according to the last preceding federal census, where such city or town used, prior to 1975, the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of even-numbered years as the date for the election of its officers, and constitutional amendments submitted to the people by the legislature. The governing body of local political subdivisions shall be allowed to choose for their permanent election day any of the above four election dates. The filing deadline for candidates, the dates for canvassing the returns of the election, the date for commencement of terms of office filled at the election, and any other date incidental to the election shall fall on the date that has the same relationship to the date of the election as provided under the preexisting law. Where by preexisting law the terms of office are set to commence on a specified calendar date and the date of the election is changed by this section, the governing board of the political subdivision shall set the date on which the terms begin until otherwise provided by law. A runoff election, when required, shall be held on a date that provides the same time interval with relation to the main election as provided under the preexisting law.

(d) When under the provisions of Subsection (c) the beginning date for a term of office is changed to fall on an earlier date, the current term on the effective date of this section is shortened accordingly, and the holder of the current term shall surrender the office to his successor on the beginning date of the succeeding term or as soon thereafter as the successor has qualified. When the beginning date is changed to fall on a later date, the incumbent in office at the expiration of the current term as set by preexisting law shall continue to perform the duties of the office, as required by Section 17 of Article XVI of the Texas Constitution, until the successor has qualified for the succeeding term.

(e) When a preexisting law requires that a special election be called within a specified time period after the occurrence of a certain event, the election shall be called for a date authorized in Subsection (a) of this section that falls within that time period; or if there is no authorized date within the period that allows sufficient time to comply with other requirements of law, the election shall be called for the first authorized date after its expiration, except that the election shall be called for some other date within the time period where the constitution requires it.

Section 2 of the 1975 Act added art. 2.01c; § 3(a) provided that the Act shall take effect on January 1, 1976; § 3(b) thereof, providing that the Act shall no longer be in effect after the first Monday after the third Saturday in January, 1978, was repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2032, ch. 811, § 1.

Section 3 of the 1977 Act provided:

"The provisions of Sections 9b and 9c, Texas Election Code (Articles 2.01b and 2.01c, Vernon's Texas Election Code), enacted by Chapter 715, Acts of the 64th Legislature, 1975, supersede any inconsistent or conflicting provision of any other statute enacted before the regular session of the 65th Legislature, provided, that nothing contained herein shall be construed as superseding the provisions of Subsection (i), Section 130.082, Texas Education Code, as amended. They also supersede any inconsistent or conflicting provision of any other statute enacted at the regular session of the 65th Legislature, regardless of the relative order of passage with respect to this Act, unless the other statute expressly states that its provisions prevail over the provisions of Sections 9b and 9c."

Art. 2.01c. Joint Elections of Political Subdivisions

(a) When two or more political subdivisions of this state are holding elections on the same day in all or part of the same territory, the governing bodies of any two or more of the political subdivisions may agree to hold their elections jointly in the election precincts that can be served by common polling places. When any other statute makes a joint election mandatory, a joint election must be held in accordance with the terms of the statute; and if any other political subdivisions are holding elections in any part of the same territory, any or all of them may also join in the agreement for a joint election.

(b) When a joint election is to be held, a resolution reciting the terms of the agreement, including the method for allocating the expenses for the election, shall be adopted by the governing body of each of the participating political subdivisions. The agreement may provide for use of a single ballot form at each polling place, to contain all the offices or propositions to be voted on at that polling place, or for separate ballot forms; provided, however, that no voter shall be given a ballot containing any office or proposition on which the voter is ineligible to vote. One set of election officers may be appointed to conduct the joint election, and any person who is qualified to serve as an election officer in the election of any one of the participating political subdivisions may be appointed to serve in the joint election. Poll lists, tally lists, return forms, and other records for the various elections may be combined in any manner convenient and adequate to record and report the results of each election. Where paper ballots or punchcard ballots are used, one set of ballot boxes and one stub box may be used for receiving all ballots and ballot stubs for the joint election. Returns on joint or separate forms may be made to, and the canvass made by, each officer, board, or body designated by law to receive and canvass the returns for each election, or one of such officers, boards, or bodies may be designated to receive and canvass the returns for the joint election and to report the results of each election to the proper authority. Where other records are combined, the officer designated by law to be the custodian of the records for any participating subdivision may be designated in the agreement to be the custodian of the combined records. Where the counted ballots for more than one subdivision are deposited in a single ballot box, the officer designated by law to be the custodian of the voted ballots for any one of the subdivisions may be designated in the agreement to be the custodian.

Art. 2.02. Formation of Election Precincts; Consolidation for Certain Elections

Unless a specific statute provides otherwise, the following rules shall govern the establishment of election precincts and the designation of polling places for the conduct of the various kinds of elections held within this state.

(a) County-wide elections held at the expense of the county. In general elections for state and county officers, special elections called by the Governor (including both county-wide elections and elections to fill vacancies in offices elected by districts which are less than county-wide), and in all other county-wide elections held at the expense of the county other than elections coming within Subsection (d) of this section, the election precincts shall be the regular election precincts established by the commissioners court pursuant to Section 12 of this code (Article 2.04, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The commissioners court shall designate the polling place for each regular precinct, in accordance with the following procedure. The county officer in charge of election duties (the county elections administrator in a county which has that office and the county clerk in a county which does not have the separate office of county elections administrator) shall recommend to the commissioners court the location of the polling place for each precinct, and the commissioners court shall designate as the polling place the location so recommended unless good cause exists for rejecting the recommendation. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1508, ch. 609, § 6, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 2.04. County Election Precincts Formed by Commissioners Court

Subd. 1. Each county shall be divided into convenient election precincts by the Commissioners Court of the county, each of which precincts shall be differently numbered and described by natural or artificial boundaries or survey lines by an order entered upon the minutes of the Court. At any July or August term, the Court may make such changes in the election precincts as they deem proper, by such order entered upon the minutes of the Court. When such an order is entered, they shall immediately thereafter publish in some newspaper in the county for three consecutive weeks a notice of the entry of such order, giving a brief description in general terms of the changes made, without the necessity of including in such notice the field notes or other detailed description of the precinct boundaries. If there be no newspaper in the county, then a copy of such order shall be posted in some public place in each election precinct in the county which is affected by the order.

Subd. 2. No election precinct shall be formed out of two or more justice precincts or commissioners precincts, nor out of the parts of two or more justice precincts or commissioners precincts; and no election precinct shall be formed out of two or more congressional districts or state senatorial districts or state representative districts, nor out of the parts of two or more such districts. If in September of any year there exists any election precinct in the county which does not comply with the foregoing requirements, the commissioners court shall make the necessary changes before the first day of October, either at a regular meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose; and the order shall be published as provided in Subdivision 1 of this section. Subject to the provisions of the first sentence of this paragraph, no election precinct shall have resident therein less than 100 nor more than 2000 voters as ascertained by the number of registered voters for the last preceding presidential general election year; provided, however, that in counties of less than 100,000 population according to the last preceding federal census, the commissioners court may establish precincts of less than 100 but not less than 50 voters; and provided further, that in counties of less than 50,000 population according to the last preceding federal census, the commissioners court may establish precincts of less than 50 voters upon the petition of 25 or more registered voters within the county. In precincts in which voting machines or devices have been adopted for use in accordance with Section 79 or Section 80 of this Code,¹ the maximum number of voters shall be 3000. There shall be a minimum of one election precinct wholly contained within each commissioners precinct.

Subd. 3. In cities and towns having ten thousand or more inhabitants, each ward shall constitute an election precinct unless there are more than two thousand registered voters residing in the ward. In such cities and towns, no precinct shall be made out of parts of two wards; and no precinct shall include territory outside the corporate limits of the city or town unless the Commissioners Court finds that adjacent unincorporated territory is so situated that it cannot be formed into or included within an election precinct wholly outside the city, of suitable size and shape and containing a suitable number of voters. If the Commissioners Court finds this condition to exist, it may include such territory in a precinct or precincts formed within the city or town, and the finding of the Commissioners Court shall be conclusive. If on September 15 of any year there exists any election precinct in the county which does not comply with the requirements of this paragraph, the Commissioners Court shall make the necessary changes before the first day of October, either at a regular meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose; and the order shall be published as provided in Subdivision 1 of this Section.

Subd. 4. In cities, towns and villages of less than ten thousand inhabitants, election precincts may be formed without regard to the wards or the corporate limits of the city, town or village.

Subd. 5. Changes in election precincts shall not become operative in the holding of elections until the beginning of the following voting year. The Commissioners Court shall cause to be made out and delivered to the County Tax Collector before the first day of each September a certified copy of such last order for the year following; provided, however, that any order entered during the month of September, as provided in Subdivisions 2 and 3 of this Section, shall be delivered to the Tax Collector forthwith.

Subd. 6. (a) This subdivision applies only to counties having a population of 500,000 or more, according to the last preceding federal census.

(b) If a change in the boundary of one or more county election precincts will be considered at a meeting of the Commissioners Court, not later than seven days before the day of the meeting, the Commissioners Court shall give written notice to each county chairman of a political party and to the affected precinct chairmen and presiding precinct election judges of the proposed change, identifying the precincts to be considered and the date, place, and hour of the meeting.

(c) Not later than seven days after entry of an order changing the boundary of one or more county election precincts, the Commissioners Court shall give written notice to the persons specified in Subsection (b) of this subdivision that the change has been made.

(d) Notice required by this subdivision may be delivered by regular first-class mail or by any other method. Notice delivered by mail is considered delivered when deposited in the mail. Notice delivered by mail must be addressed to the most recent address appearing on the records of the county clerk or Commissioners Court.

(e) The Commissioners Court shall maintain a record containing a copy of each notice given under this subdivision and the date of its delivery. The record may be destroyed or discarded at any time after one year following the date of delivery of the notice.

(f) Failure to deliver notice as required by this subdivision nullifies the boundary change as to which notice was required.

Art. 2.06a. Municipal and School District Election Dates

In counties where voting machines or electronic voting systems are used, all municipal and school district elections in which candidates are running for office, including without limitation, elections in home-rule cities and independent, municipal, and county school districts, otherwise scheduled to be held within 14 days of the date on which a proposed amendment or amendments to the Constitution of Texas are to be submitted to a vote of the electorate, may be held on the same date as the constitutional amendment election if the governing body of the municipality or the school district so provides. If the governing body changes the date of the elections as authorized by this Act, it may set the date of any second or runoff primary which may be necessary for any date not earlier than the 14th day after the first election and not later than the latest date which would have been permissible if the date of the first election had not been changed. This Act shall make no change in the term of office or commencement thereof in any election affected hereby. [Added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2108, ch. 688, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2.06-1. ExpiredCHAPTER THREE. OFFICERS OF ELECTION

Article

3.09b. Training of Election Officers.

Art. 3.01. Appointment of Election Officers

(a) For county elections. The commissioners court at its July term shall appoint from among the citizens of each election precinct one qualified voter as presiding judge of elections held at the expense of the county in that precinct and one qualified voter as alternate presiding judge, each of whom shall continue to act until his successor is appointed. Whenever a vacancy arises in either of such offices, the commissioners court may fill the vacancy at any regular or special term of court. All orders appointing judges and alternates shall be entered of record. Each presiding judge shall appoint two voters, who are eligible for appointment, to serve as election clerks, and shall appoint for each election as many additional clerks as he deems necessary for the proper conduct of the election, not to exceed the maximum number authorized by the commissioners court. The commissioners court shall fix the maximum number of clerks that may be appointed for each precinct, and may fix different maximums depending on the type of election. The clerks shall be selected from different political parties, when practicable. The chairman of the county executive committee of each of the two parties whose candidate for Governor received the most votes statewide in the last prior gubernatorial general election may submit a list of not less than two eligible nominees who are members of that party to each election judge at least 30 days prior to the date of a general election or 10 days prior to the date of a special election. If any such list is submitted to him, the election judge shall appoint at least one clerk from each list submitted. For the purpose of this section, the term "members of that party" means persons who affiliated with the party in the manner prescribed in Section 179a of this code. (Article 13.01a, Vernon's Texas Election Code) during the last preceding set of primary elections and conventions.

(a-1) List of recommended appointees for judges of county precincts. Prior to the time at which the commissioners court makes its appointment of election judges pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section, the county officer in charge of election duties as defined by Section 8d of this code¹ shall select a presiding judge and an alternate presiding judge for each county election precinct to recommend for appointment to those offices and shall present a list of his selections to the commissioners court. The court shall give due consideration to these recommendations in making its appointments. This procedure shall also be followed whenever a vacancy is to be filled in the office of presiding judge or alternate presiding judge.

Art. 3.02. Duties and Working Hours of Clerks

(a) In all elections, general, special, or primary, the presiding judge shall be in charge of the management of the polling place and the conduct of the election. He shall designate the working hours and assign the duties to be performed by the clerks. Clerks may be assigned to work for different lengths of time and to begin work at different hours during the day while the polls are open or during the time necessary for counting the ballots after the polls are closed. Clerks who begin work at any time before closing of the polls shall remain on duty without leaving the polling place while the polls are open, except for such periods of absence for meals and other necessary reasons as may be permitted by the presiding judge.

(b) One or more clerks shall be assigned to assist in checking the names of voters on the list of registered voters and performing such other duties as are necessary in receiving the voters and supervising the deposit of the voted ballots. At every election there shall be kept a poll list in the number of copies required by law on which an election officer shall enter the name of each voter at the time he votes. In lieu of a poll list, the signature roster, together with any other forms, may be combined with the list of registered voters in the format prescribed by the secretary of state.

(c) In elections where paper ballots are used, the ballots shall be counted by one or more sets of counting officers, each set to consist of one judge or clerk who shall read the ballots, and one or more clerks who shall enter the votes on tally lists prepared for the election. As a safeguard in the accuracy of the tallying, the votes shall be entered on three original tally lists, and during the progress of the counting the lists shall be compared and errors and discrepancies shall be corrected, and at the close of the counting the tally clerks shall certify officially to the correctness of the lists.

(d) The clerks may be assigned to perform such other duties as the presiding judge directs.

Art. 3.03. Qualifications of Judges, Clerks and Watchers

(a) All judges of any general, special, or primary election shall be qualified voters of the election precinct in which they are named to serve. Unless otherwise provided in a statute pertaining to the specific type of election being held, in any general, special, or primary election all clerks and watchers shall be qualified voters of the county if the election is countywide, and shall be qualified voters of the city or other political subdivision in which the election is held if less than countywide, but it shall not be necessary that they reside within the election precinct in which they are named to serve.

(b) No person shall serve as a judge or a clerk in any general, special, or primary election who is employed by any candidate whose name appears on the ballot in that election either for a public office or for the party office of county chairman, or who is related to such candidate within the second degree either by affinity or consanguinity. Within the meaning of this section, a governmental employee is employed by the officer or officers who head the department or agency in which he is employed.

(c) No watcher shall be an employee or employer of any election judge or clerk in the election precinct in which he is named to serve or related to any such election officer within the second degree either by affinity or consanguinity.

CHAPTER FOUR. ORDERING ELECTIONS

Art. 4.10. Vacancy: Application to Get on Ballot

Subd. 1. (a) Any person desiring his name to appear upon the official ballot at any special election held for the purpose of filling a vacancy, when no party primary has been held, may do so by presenting his application to the proper authority. Such application shall set forth:

- (1) The name of the office sought;
- (2) His occupation, his postoffice address, and the county of his residence;
- (3) His age, place of birth, kind of citizenship, and length of residence in the county and state.

(b) In any special election for a statewide or district office which is regularly filled at the general election for state and county officers, the application shall also set forth the candidate's political party affiliation or shall state that the candidate is not affiliated with any political party.

Subd. 2. Such application must be filed not later than 5 p. m. of the 31st day before any such special election, and shall not be considered filed unless it has actually been received by the officer with whom it is to be filed.

Subd. 3. (a) The application must be filed with the Secretary of State in the case of a statewide or district special election. It must be accompanied with a fee of $1,000 for a statewide office, including without limitation the office of United States Senator, a fee of $500 for the district office of United States Representative, a fee of $400 for the district office of State Senator, and a fee of $200 for the district office of State Representative; or, in lieu of the filing fee, the application must be accompanied with a petition signed by at least 5,000 registered voters of the state in the case of a statewide office, and by at least 500 registered voters of the district in the case of a district office. A petition must show the address, voter registration number, and date of signing for each signer. No person may sign the petition of more than one candidate for the same office, and if a person signs the petition of more than one candidate, the signature is void as to all such petitions. A petition may be in multiple parts.

To each part, which may consist of one or more sheets, there must be attached the affidavit of some registered voter, giving his address and voter registration number, and stating that each signature appearing in that part of the petition was affixed in the presence of the affiant and that to the best knowledge and belief of the affiant each signature is genuine and each person signing was a registered voter at the time of signing. A petition so verified is prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and that the persons signing it are registered voters. Fees received under this subdivision shall be deposited in the general revenue fund of the state.

(b) Upon receipt of an application which conforms to the above requirements, the Secretary of State shall issue his instruction to the county clerks of the state, or of the district in the case of a district vacancy, directing that the name of the applicant be printed on the official ballot.

(c) The party affiliation of the candidate shall be printed on the official ballot following the name of the candidate. If the candidate has stated in his application that he is not affiliated with any political party, the word "Independent" shall be printed on the ballot following the candidate's name. In other respects, the ballot shall be printed as indicated in Section 61 of this code (Article 6.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code) for a special election in which no party nomination has been made.

Subd. 4. The application must be filed with the city secretary or clerk in the case of a municipal special election. A home-rule city by charter may require that the application be accompanied with a reasonable filing fee or a petition of voters in lieu of the filing fee.

Art. 5.02. Qualifications and Requirements for Voting

(a) Every person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications who is a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state and is eighteen years of age or older, and who has complied with the registration requirements of this code, is a qualified voter. No person may vote in an election held by a county, municipality, or other political subdivision unless he is a resident of the subdivision on the day of the election; and, except, as expressly permitted by some other provision of this code or another statute of this state, no person may vote in an election precinct other than the one in which he resides. The provisions of this section, as modified by Section 35 of this code (Article 5.03, Vernon's Texas Election Code), apply to all elections, including general, special, and primary elections, whether held by the state, by a county, municipality, or other political subdivision of the state, or by a political party.

Art. 5.05. Absentee Voting

Who May Vote Absentee

Subd. 1. (a) Any qualified voter of this state who expects to be absent from the county of his residence on the day of the election, or who will be 65 years of age or older on the day of the election, or who because of sickness, physical disability, confinement in jail, or religious belief cannot appear at the polling place in the election precinct of his residence on the day of the election, or who expects to serve as an election clerk or as a poll watcher on election day in an election precinct other than the precinct of his residence, or who participates in the administration of the election by reason of his or her employment, may nevertheless cause his vote to be cast at any election held in this state by compliance with the applicable method herein provided for absentee voting. If a voter's religious belief prohibits him from voting during any part of the time during which the polls are open on the day of the election, he shall nevertheless be entitled to vote absentee even though the prohibition does not operate throughout the entire time that the polls are open. A voter who is confined in jail is entitled to vote absentee if at the time of applying for an absentee ballot he is: (1) serving a misdemeanor sentence which extends through election day; (2) being held for trial after a denial of bail; (3) being held without bail pending the appeal of a felony conviction; or (4) being held for trial or pending an appeal on a bailable charge but he expects not to have been released on bail by the date of the election.

(b) Absentee voting shall be conducted by two methods: (1) voting by personal appearance at the clerk's office, and (2) voting by mail. All voters coming within the foregoing provisions of this subdivision may vote by personal appearance at the clerk's office if they are able to make such appearance within the period for absentee voting. Where the ground for voting absentee is confinement in jail, it is not mandatory that the voter be allowed to make a personal appearance, but the officer in charge of the jail, in his discretion is authorized to make the necessary arrangements to permit the voter to vote by personal appearance.

(c) The following persons, and no other, may vote by mail:

(i) Qualified voters who will be 65 years of age or older on the day of the election, or who because of sickness or physical disability, or because of religious beliefs, cannot appear at the polling place on the day of the election. The application for an absentee ballot shall be made not more than sixty days before the day of the election. It must be mailed to the clerk, and the clerk shall preserve the envelope in which it is received. If the application is delivered to the clerk by any method other than by mailing it to him, the ballot shall be void and shall not be counted. The voter shall state in his application the address to which the ballot is to be mailed to him, which must be either his permanent residence address or the address at which he is temporarily living. If the ballot is furnished to the voter by any method other than by mailing it to him, or if it is mailed to any address other than one of the foregoing, it shall be void and shall not be counted. The marked ballot must be mailed to the clerk, and if returned in any other manner it shall be void and shall not be counted.

(ii) Qualified voters who, before the beginning of the period for absentee voting, make application for an absentee ballot on the ground of expected absence from the county of their residence on election day, and who expect to be absent from the county during the clerk's regular office hours for the entire period of absentee voting. The voter must state in his application that he expects to be absent from the county of his residence on election day and during the clerk's regular office hours for the entire period for absentee voting. The application shall be made not more than sixty days before the day of the election, and may be mailed to the clerk or delivered to him by the voter in person, but the clerk shall not furnish a ballot to the voter by any method other than by mailing it to him. Applications made under this paragraph may be mailed either from within or without the county of the voter's residence, but in every case the ballot must be mailed to the voter at an address outside the county. The ballot shall not be counted unless the carrier envelope in which the ballot is returned to the clerk is postmarked from a point outside the county and the affidavit on the carrier envelope is certified by an officer other than an officer of the county of the voter's residence.

(iii) Qualified voters who, after the beginning of the period for absentee voting, apply for an absentee ballot on the ground of expected absence from the county and who are absent from such county at the time of applying for an absentee ballot and expect to be absent from such county during the clerk's regular office hours for the remainder of the period for absentee voting. The voter must state in his application that he is absent from the county at the time of making the application and expects to be absent on election day and during the clerk's regular office hours for the remainder of the period for absentee voting. The clerk shall not mail a ballot to any such voter unless the envelope in which the application is received is postmarked from a point outside the county, and the ballot must be mailed to the voter at an address outside the county. The ballot shall not be counted unless the envelope in which the application is received and the carrier envelope in which the ballot is returned to the clerk are each postmarked from a point outside the county and the affidavit on the carrier envelope is certified by an officer other than an officer of the county of the voter's residence.

(iv) Qualified voters who are confined in jail under one of the circumstances listed in the first paragraph of this subdivision. The application for an absentee ballot shall be made not more than twenty days before the day of the election. It must be enclosed in an envelope and either mailed to the clerk or delivered to him by the jailer or one of his deputies or assistants, who shall place his signature on the envelope at the time of its delivery. The clerk shall preserve the envelope in which the application is received. If the application is delivered to the clerk by any method other than as expressly authorized herein, the ballot shall be void and shall not be counted. The clerk shall mail the ballot to the voter in care of the jail where he is confined; and if the ballot is furnished to the voter by any method other than by mailing it to him, or if it is mailed to any other address, it shall be void and shall not be counted. The marked ballot must be mailed to the clerk, and if returned in any other manner it shall be void and shall not be counted.

(d) An application for an absentee ballot to be voted by mail shall state the applicant's permanent address and the address to which the absentee ballot is to be mailed to the applicant, and shall also state the address to which his voter registration certificate is to be mailed back to him.

Application for Ballot

Subd. 2. (a) The secretary of state shall prescribe the official form or forms for an application for an absentee ballot to be voted by personal appearance and of an application for a ballot to be voted by mail. The application for a ballot to be voted by mail shall be in the form of a postcard. Each clerk for absentee voting shall obtain and keep on hand a supply of the official application forms to furnish to voters who request them. The secretary of state shall keep on hand a supply of the official application forms for voting by mail and shall furnish the forms in reasonable quantities to individuals and organizations requesting them for use in furnishing the forms to voters who wish to vote absentee by mail. A voter desiring to vote absentee shall make written application for an official ballot to the absentee voting clerk for the election in which the voter wishes to vote, which application shall be signed by the applicant or by a witness in the manner provided by Subdivision 2, Section 45a, of this code (Article 5.13a, Vernon's Texas Election Code), for signing an application for voter registration except that the application may not be signed by an agent for the applicant. The application shall state the ground on which the applicant is entitled to vote absentee, and in case of an application by mail, it shall also state the additional information required by Subdivision 1 of this section. An applicant is not required to use the official application form to apply for an absentee ballot. An application not made on the official form is referred to in this section as an "informal application."

(b) The application shall state the voter's voter registration certificate number or, in case the voter does not have his certificate in his possession at the time of making the application, to indicate whether the certificate has been lost or mislaid, has been left at the voter's home (where he is applying from a temporary address), or has been used for applying for an absentee ballot in another election (stating the nature and date of the election) and has not been returned to him. Before furnishing a ballot to a voter, the clerk shall verify the voter's registration certificate number, or in case the number is not stated on the application, the clerk shall enter it from the list of registered voters. If the ground of application is sickness or physical disability by reason of which the voter cannot appear at the polling place on election day, a certificate of a duly licensed physician or chiropractor or accredited Christian Science practitioner certifying to such sickness or physical disability shall accompany the application, which certificate shall be in substantially the following form:

This is to certify that I have personal knowledge of the physical condition of _____, and that because of sickness or physical disability he (she) will be unable to appear at the polling place for an election to be held on the ____ day of ____, 19__.

Witness my hand at _____, Texas, this ____ day of ____, 19__.

(Signature of Practitioner)

(c) Expected or likely confinement for childbirth on election day shall be sufficient to entitle a voter to vote absentee on the ground of sickness or physical disability, and a physician executing a certificate for a pregnant woman may state in the certificate that because of pregnancy and possible delivery she will be or may be unable to appear at the polling place on election day.

Any person who requests a physician, chiropractor, or Christian Science practitioner to execute a certificate for another person without having been directed by such other person to do so, and any physician, chiropractor, or Christian Science practitioner who knowingly executes a certificate except upon the request of the voter named therein or upon request of someone at the voter's direction, or who knowingly delivers a certificate except by delivering it to the voter in person or by mailing it to the voter at his permanent residence address or the address at which he is temporarily living, or who knowingly falsifies a certificate, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than Five Hundred Dollars or imprisoned in the county jail for not more than thirty days, or both so fined and imprisoned.

(d) A voter who gives false information in his application for an absentee ballot is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished as provided in Section 347 of this code (Article 15.47, Vernon's Texas Election Code). Printed application forms furnished to voters by the county clerk shall contain the following statement immediately preceding the space for the voter's signature: "I certify that the information given in this application is true, and I understand that the giving of false information in the application is a crime." An informal application need not contain the statement, but a voter who gives false information is subject to the criminal penalty regardless of whether the statement appears on the application.

(e) In any single election, a person, other than the absentee voting clerk or a deputy absentee voting clerk, may not sign applications as a witness for more than one applicant. However, a person may sign more than one application as a witness if the second and subsequent applicants are related to the witness as parent, grandparent, spouse, child, brother, or sister. An application signed by a witness must contain, in addition to the witness' signature, the witness' full name in printed form, residence address, and relationship to the applicant, if any. The validity of an application is not affected by a violation of this paragraph.

(f) A person, other than the absentee voting clerk or a deputy absentee voting clerk, who witnesses an application in violation of Paragraph (e) of this subdivision commits a Class B misdemeanor. The official application form shall contain a statement informing persons attesting applications as witnesses of this offense.

Absentee Voting by Members of the Armed Forces, Etc.

Subd. 2a.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a) to (c)]

(d) If the applicant is not currently registered through the registrar of voters, the clerk shall examine the information on the federal post card application, and if it shows that the applicant possesses the qualifications for voting at that election in the precinct of his residence, the clerk shall enter his name on a list headed "Absentee voters registering by FPCA for the _____ election held on _____" and shall also enter thereon the voter's local permanent address and election precinct number, the address to which the ballot is mailed, and the date on which it is mailed. The list shall be made up in duplicate and shall be kept up from day to day. After the election is held, one copy shall be filed as a record of the clerk's office if the clerk conducting the absentee voting is a county clerk or a city secretary or city clerk, and as a record of the authority which appointed the clerk for absentee voting in other instances, to be preserved for a period of two years, after which it may be destroyed. The other copy shall be placed with the records of the election which are delivered into the custody of the officer designated in Paragraph (a)(2) of Section 111b of this code (Article 8.29b, Vernon's Texas Election Code), to be subject to the same regulations as those records.

Voting by Personal Appearance in County-wide Elections

Subd. 3a. (a) In a county-wide election, or in an election less than county-wide where the authority holding the election has provided that absentee voting by personal appearance shall be conducted on a voting machine or that absentee paper ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board, upon receipt of an application for an absentee ballot to be voted by personal appearance, if the clerk is satisfied as to the right of the applicant to vote, the clerk shall place a notation on the list of registered voters showing that the particular person has voted absentee and shall enter the voter's name on a poll list of absentee voters. The application shall be preserved in the clerk's office for the length of time provided by law for preservation of voted ballots.

(b) In the conduct of absentee voting under this subdivision, the clerk shall possess the same power as a presiding judge with respect to examination and acceptance of a voter. If the right of an applicant to vote is challenged, the procedure prescribed in Section 91 of this Code (Article 8.09, Vernon's Texas Election Code) shall be followed.

(c) Where paper ballots are used for absentee voting, after a voter has been accepted, the clerk shall furnish the voter with an official ballot which has been prepared in accordance with law for use in such election. The voter shall then and there, in the office of the clerk, mark his ballot and detach and sign the ballot stub, and shall deposit the ballot in a ballot box and the stub in a stub box in the manner provided in Section 97 of this Code (Article 8.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The ballots shall be deposited in a ballot box locked with two locks, the keys of one of which shall be kept during the period for absentee voting by the sheriff and the keys of the other by the county clerk. The stubs shall be deposited in a stub box prepared in accordance with Section 97 of this Code (Article 8.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

(d) Where a voting machine is used for absentee voting by personal appearance, after a voter has been accepted, he shall then be permitted to cast his ballot on the voting machine. Returns of absentee votes cast on a voting machine shall be made under the appropriate provision of Section 79 of this Code (Article 7.14, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Voting by Personal Appearance in Election Less

Subd. 3b. (a) In an election less than county-wide in which absentee paper ballots are to be sent to the regular polling places for counting, upon receipt of an application for an absentee ballot to be voted by personal appearance, the clerk shall thereupon furnish to the voter the following absentee voting supplies:

(1) One official ballot which has been prepared in accordance with law for use in such election.

(2) One ballot envelope, which shall be a plain envelope, without any markings except the words "Ballot Envelope" printed on the face thereof, followed by the instructions contained in this subdivision and Subdivision 4 for marking the ballot, for placing it in the carrier envelope, and for returning a ballot to be voted by mail, together with a statement of the deadline for delivery of the marked ballot to the clerk's office in that election and a statement of the substance of Subdivision 15 of this section and of Sections 330 and 330a of this code (Articles 15.30 and 15.30a, Vernon's Texas Election Code) relating to assistance to a voter in preparing his ballot. The textual material may be continued onto the reverse side of the envelope if necessary. The secretary of state shall prescribe the wording of the textual material.

(3) One carrier envelope, upon the face of which there shall appear the words "Carrier Envelope for Absentee Ballot" and the name, official title, and post-office address of the absentee voting clerk, upon the other side there shall appear spaces for showing the nature and date of the election and the number or name of the election precinct in which the voter resides (which the clerk shall fill in before he furnishes the supplies to the voter), and a certificate in substantially the following form:

"I certify that the enclosed ballot expresses my wishes, independent of any dictation or undue persuasion of any person and that I did not use any memorandum or device to aid me in the marking of the ballot.

Kinship to voter, if related: _____

If the voter has received assistance in marking the ballot, the person rendering the assistance shall print the name of the voter in the space for the voter's signature and shall fill in the remaining spaces in the certificate.

(b) The voter shall then and there, in the office of the clerk, mark the ballot, sign his name on the back of the ballot stub, detach the stub from the ballot, fold the ballot and place it in the envelope marked "Ballot Envelope" and seal the same. Absentee Voting by Sick or Disabled Voter after Close of Regular Period

Subd. 3e. (a) The provisions of this subdivision apply only to county-wide elections and to elections less than county-wide where the authority holding the election has provided that absentee ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board. In such an election, a voter who because of sickness or physical disability originating on or after the fifth day preceding election day will be unable to attend the polling place on election day may vote absentee under the procedure outlined in this subdivision. The voter shall make a written request signed by him, or signed by a witness at the voter's direction if the voter is unable to sign his name, and presented to the absentee voting clerk at his office, that the clerk send him a ballot by the person who presents the request to the clerk. The voter may select any person 18 years of age or older who shall not be employed by nor related within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity to any person whose name appears on the ballot, to act as his representative in presenting the request or delivering the marked ballot back to the clerk. No person may serve as the representative to present the request for a ballot or to deliver the marked ballot back to the clerk for more than one absentee voter in any election held under the provision of the Texas Election Code as amended. The voter's request must state in effect that sickness or physical disability will prevent the voter from appearing at the polling place on election day, giving the date of the election or otherwise identifying the election for which the ballot is requested, and that the inability to attend the polling place originated after the fifth day preceding the day of the election. The request must be accompanied by a certificate of a duly licensed physician or chiropractor or accredited Christian Science practitioner in substantially the following form:

"This is to certify that I have personal knowledge of the physical condition of _____; that because of sickness or physical disability he (she) will be unable to appear at the polling place for an election to be held on the _____ day of _____, 19____; and that the inability to attend the polling place originated after the fifth day preceding the day of the election.

Witness my hand at _____, Texas, this _____ day of _____, 19____.

The request must state in effect that sickness or physical disability will prevent the voter from appearing at the polling place on election day, giving the date of the election or otherwise identifying the election for which the ballot is requested, and that the inability to attend the polling place arose on or after the fifth day preceding the day of the election. The request must be accompanied by the voter's voter registration certificate or his signed statement (either separately or included in the signed request) that the certificate has been lost or mislaid, has been left at the voter's home (when he is applying from a hospital or other temporary address), or has been used for applying for an absentee ballot in another election (stating the nature and date of the election) and has not been returned to him. Upon receiving a request that complies with the foregoing conditions at any time after the close of business on the fourth day preceding election day and before 12 noon on election day, the clerk shall deliver to the voter's representative the balloting materials used for voting absentee by mail, but before doing so he shall record the representative's name and address on the request and shall require the representative to place his signature alongside his name.

(b) The clerk shall add to the list of absentee voters described in Subdivision 11 of this section the name of each voter to whom an absentee ballot is sent under this subdivision, with a notation that the ballot was sent to the voter through a representative, but the clerk is not required to include the names of these voters on the precinct lists of absentee voters sent to the presiding election judges.

(c) After receiving the balloting materials, the voter shall follow the procedure prescribed in Subdivision 4 of this section for voting absentee by mail, except that the marked ballot shall be hand-delivered to the clerk by the voter's representative instead of being mailed to the clerk. The ballot must be delivered to the clerk by the deadline for receiving ballots voted by mail. It must be delivered by the person who delivered the request to the clerk. Upon receiving the marked ballot, the clerk shall make a notation on the carrier envelope of the name and address of the person who delivered it and shall require the person to place his signature alongside his name on the envelope. The clerk shall then follow the same procedure as for a ballot received by mail. He shall return the voter's registration certificate to him by mailing it to his permanent address.

(d) A voter who gives false information in his request for an absentee ballot is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished as provided in Section 347 of this code (Article 15.47, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Voting by Mail

Subd. 4. (a) The period for absentee voting by mail shall begin on the twentieth day preceding the date of the election. An application for an absentee ballot to be voted by mail must be received in the clerk's office not later than the close of business on the fourth day preceding election day. In county-wide elections and in elections less than county-wide where the authority holding the election has provided that absentee ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board, the marked ballot must be received in the clerk's office before one o'clock p. m. on election day, except that in an election in which the offices of president and vice president of the United States appear on the ballot, the deadline for receipt of the ballot in the clerk's office is the official time of closing of the polls on the day of the election. In all other elections which are less than county-wide, the marked ballot must be received in the clerk's office before ten o'clock a. m. on the second day preceding election day. The ballot may be marked by the voter at any time after he receives it.

(b) On the twentieth day preceding election day, or as soon thereafter as possible, the clerk shall mail an official ballot, ballot envelope, and carrier envelope, as described in Subdivision 3b of this section, to each voter who has theretofore made application for a ballot in compliance with this section. On applications which are received between the twentieth day and the fourth day preceding election day, the clerk shall forthwith mail the absentee voting supplies to the voter.

(c) The voter shall mark the ballot, sign his name on the back of the ballot stub, detach the stub from the ballot, fold the ballot, and place it in the envelope marked "Ballot Envelope" and seal the same. The voter shall then place the stub and the ballot envelope in the carrier envelope, seal the same and sign the certificate on the carrier envelope. The carrier envelope shall then be mailed, postage prepaid, to the county clerk.

(d) Repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1688, ch. 668, § 4, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.

Defective, Mutilated, and Unused Ballots

Subd. 4f. The absentee voting clerk shall handle and account for defectively printed, defaced, and mutilated ballots and other unused ballots in the same manner as prescribed by this code for unused ballots in regular voting on election day.

Counting of Ballots in County-wide Elections

Subd. 6. (a) In all countywide elections, and in elections less than countywide where the authority holding the election has provided that absentee paper ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board, on the day of the election the ballot box and stub box used for absentee voting by personal appearance, the keys to the ballot box, the jacket envelopes containing the ballots voted by mail and accompanying papers, the poll list for absentee voting on which the clerk has entered the names of persons voting by personal appearance, and the list of registered voters used by the county clerk, shall be delivered to a special canvassing board consisting of a presiding judge and two or more election clerks appointed in the same manner as provided for appointment of the election officers for regular polling places at that election. The county clerk shall deliver the ballots to the canvassing board at such hour as the presiding judge shall direct, but not earlier than the hour at which the polls are opened and not later than the hour specified in Subdivision 4 of this section as the deadline for returning the marked ballots to the clerk's office. If delivered before the deadline, the clerk shall deliver in like manner to the board, immediately following the deadline, all ballots received by mail before the deadline which have not previously been delivered to the board.

(b) This special canvassing board shall open the jacket envelopes, announce the voter's name, and ascertain in each case if he is qualified to vote at that election and if he has complied with all applicable provisions of this section to entitle his ballot to be cast. On ballots voted by mail, the board shall compare the signatures on the application and the carrier envelope, and in case the board finds that the signatures correspond, that the application and the certificate on the carrier envelope are duly executed, that the voter is a qualified elector, and that he has voted in a manner authorized in this section, they shall enter his name on the official poll list (on which voters voting by mail shall be listed separately from those who have voted by personal appearance) and shall open the carrier envelope so as not to deface the certificate thereon, and shall place the sealed ballot envelope in the ballot box and the stub in the stub box. The carrier envelope, application, and accompanying papers shall be replaced in the jacket envelope and returned to the county clerk at the same time the voted ballots are returned, and shall be preserved for the length of time provided by law for the preservation of the voted ballots.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 6(c) to 6(f)]

(g) After the absentee ballots are counted, the ballot box containing the voted ballots and the returns and other records of the election shall be delivered to the proper officers as provided by law for regular polling places.

Records of Absentee Voters; Inspection of Applications, etc.

Subd. 11. (a) The county clerk and each other clerk for absentee voting designated in accordance with Subdivision 1a of this section shall maintain in his main office a complete record, in card-index or list form, of persons who have voted absentee by personal appearance and of persons to whom absentee ballots have been sent by mail (or, if authorized by some provision of law, have been sent by some other method of transmission). The record shall contain the voter's name, address, precinct of residence, voter registration number, a notation of whether the voter voted by personal appearance or was furnished a ballot to be returned by mail (or by other means of transmission, if authorized), and the date on which the voter voted, if by personal appearance, or on which the ballot was transmitted to the voter. The record shall be kept up from day to day.

(b) On or before the day preceding election day, the clerk for absentee voting shall deliver to each presiding election judge, in person or by mail, a list containing the name, address, and voter registration number of each resident of the precinct in which the judge serves, who has voted absentee by personal appearance or has been furnished an absentee ballot to be returned by mail. Before the hour for opening the polls on election day, the presiding judge shall cause the notation "absentee voter" to be placed by the name of each such voter on the list of registered voters to be used in accepting voters for voting at the polling place.

(c) The clerk's records of absentee voters and the applications for absentee ballots and accompanying papers shall be open to public inspection during the clerk's regular office hours, but under such reasonable rules and regulations as the clerk may adopt to safeguard the records and papers and to economize his own time. The clerk may require a person to present proof of identity before permitting him to inspect the records. The clerk must accept a current Texas voter registration certificate, Texas driver's license, or Department of Public Safety personal identification certificate as sufficient proof of identity.

Branch Offices for Absentee Voting by Personal Appearances
Subd. 14.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a) and (b)]

(c) Any voter eligible to vote absentee by personal appearance in the main office of the clerk may vote in any branch office. The deputy clerk in charge of absentee voting at each branch office shall transmit to the clerk at the close of each day of absentee voting the names of all persons who have voted absentee in the branch office on that day, together with other necessary information as provided in Subdivision 11, for inclusion in the record of absentee voters maintained in the main office. During the period for absentee voting by personal appearance, the applications and ballots of persons who have voted absentee may be retained in the branch office or may be delivered to the main office from time to time, but all applications and ballots shall be delivered to the main office not later than one o'clock p. m. on the third day prior to election day. Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, the voting in a branch office shall be subject to the same regulations as the voting in the main office.

Branch Offices for Absentee Voting by Personal Appearance in Counties Having a Population of More Than 1,500,000

Subd. 14a. (a) Upon authorization of the Commissioners Court of a county having a population of more than 1,500,000, the county clerk of such county shall conduct absentee voting by personal appearance at one or more suitable locations in each justice precinct in the county in elections in which the county clerk is the officer for conducting the absentee voting. The number of locations in each justice precinct may not exceed the number of justices of the peace elected in that precinct. This subdivision does not apply to elections in which the absentee voting is conducted by any officer other than the county clerk. Notwithstanding the provisions of Subdivision 14 of this section, if suboffices are established under this Subdivision 14-a, the county clerk shall not conduct absentee voting at any location other than his main office and the suboffices authorized by this subdivision. Such voting in each election suboffice shall be for the full period of time, and for the same hours, for which absentee voting is conducted at the main office.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (b)]

(c) The list of voters who vote absentee in each election suboffice each day shall be available for inspection the next day both in the election suboffice in which the voter voted and in the main office, with the list of each election suboffice being maintained in the main office separate and apart from the lists of the other election suboffices. Each such list of voters shall be compiled in accordance with statutory requirements.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (d) and (e)]

Assistance to Voter; Use of English Language

Subd. 15. (a) No assistance shall be given a voter in marking his absentee ballot except where the voter is unable to prepare the same himself because of his inability to read the language in which the ballot is printed or because of some bodily infirmity which renders him physically unable to write or to see or to operate the voting equipment. If a voter who is voting by personal appearance is entitled to assistance, he may be assisted by the clerk or a deputy clerk or by any qualified voter of the political subdivision in which the election is held, selected by the voter, subject to the restriction stated in Section 330a of this code.¹ When a person other than the clerk or a deputy clerk assists a voter who is voting by personal appearance, the clerk or a deputy shall make a notation on the voter's ballot application of the name and address of the person rendering the assistance and also of the person's kinship to the voter if related as parent, grandparent, spouse, child, brother, or sister. Subdivision 4 of Section 95 of this code (Article 8.13, Vernon's Texas Election Code) applies to absentee voting by personal appearance. If a voter who is voting by mail is entitled to assistance, he may be assisted by any person 18 years of age or older, selected by the voter, subject to the restriction stated in Section 330a of this code. A person assisting a voter shall not suggest, by word or sign or gesture, how the voter shall vote, and shall confine the assistance to answering the voter's questions, to stating the propositions to be voted on, and to naming the candidates and the political parties to which they belong, and the person shall prepare the ballot as the voter directs. Where any assistance is rendered in marking an absentee ballot other than as allowed in this subdivision, the ballot shall not be counted but shall be void for all purposes.

(b) In absentee voting by personal appearance at the clerk's office, any voter unable to speak or understand the English language may communicate with the clerk in some other language, and if the clerk is unable to speak or understand the language used by the voter or if he requests that the voter communicate through an interpreter, the voter shall be entitled to communicate through an interpreter of his choice, who shall be a qualified voter in the county. Before acting as interpreter, the person chosen by the voter shall take the following oath, to be administered by the clerk: "I solemnly swear that I will correctly interpret and translate each question, answer, or statement addressed to the voter by the clerk and each question, answer, or statement addressed to the clerk by the voter." When any language other than the English language is used either by the voter or by the clerk, any watcher present shall be entitled to request and receive a translation into the English language of anything spoken in some other language.

Art. 5.05b. Voting by Former Residents of State in Presidential Elections

Former Residents Eligible to Vote

Subd. 1. A former resident of this state who has become a legal resident of another state of the United States or of the District of Columbia may vote for presidential and vice presidential electors in the county of his former residence if:

(1) on the day of the election he will not have resided in the state of his present residence for a period of 30 days and will not be eligible to vote in that state, and

(2) he otherwise possesses the substantive qualifications of an elector in this state, as defined in Section 34 of this code (Article 5.02, Vernon's Texas Election Code), except the requirement of residence, and

(3) at the time of his removal he was registered as a voter in this state, and

(4) he complies with the provisions of this section.

Application for Presidential Ballot

Subd. 2. (a) A person eligible to vote under the provisions of this section may vote either by personal appearance or by mail. The voter shall make a written, signed application to the county clerk of the county of his former residence for a ballot permitting him to vote for president and vice president only, on a form to be prescribed by the secretary of state and furnished by the county clerk.

Procedure for Voting by Mail

Subd. 3. When a voter desires to vote a ballot by mail, the procedure for absentee voting by mail in a countywide election shall be followed insofar as it can be made applicable and is not inconsistent with this section. The clerk shall mail the voter a ballot from which the clerk has stricken all offices and propositions other than the offices of president and vice president, together with a ballot envelope and a carrier envelope containing such markings and instructions as the secretary of state prescribes. When the election officer checks the voter's name on the list of registered voters and enters his name on the poll list, the officer shall add a notation that the voter is voting under this section, in the presidential race only. The ballots cast under this section shall be counted and return made thereof along with and on the same forms as the other absentee ballots.

Procedure for Voting by Personal Appearance

Subd. 4. A voter may vote by personal appearance at the clerk's office at any time that the office is open to the public, beginning on the 20th day preceding the election and ending on the day of the election. When the voter appears in person, the clerk shall furnish him with a ballot, ballot envelope, and carrier envelope prepared in accordance with Subdivision 3 of this section, and the ballot shall be processed and counted along with the absentee ballots voted by mail.

Cancellation of Registration

Subd. 5. When the registrar receives a list of registered voters containing a notation that a voter has voted under this section, he shall cancel the registration if it is still in the active file in his records.

Art. 5.05c. Voting Limited Ballot After Removal to Another County

Definition of Limited Ballot

Subd. 1. The term "limited ballot" is used to mean a ballot listing only the offices and propositions on which a voter is entitled to vote under the procedure outlined in this section during a period not exceeding 90 days after his removal from one county to another county within the state. The term includes the ballot for any election at which the voter is entitled to vote, even though at some special or runoff elections the ballot may be identical with the full ballot for that election. For the purposes of this section, the day of arrival in the county of new residence is counted as the first day after removal.

Who is Eligible to Vote a Limited Ballot

Subd. 2. (a) Where a registered voter moves from one county to another county in the state, during the first 90 days after the removal he is entitled to vote, under the procedure outlined in this section, on all offices, questions, or propositions to be voted on by the electors throughout the state, if on the day of the election (1) he would have been eligible to vote in the county of his former residence except for the removal, and (2) a registration in the county of new residence has not become effective. He may also vote on all district offices for any district of which he was a resident before the removal and continues to be a resident after the removal. The term "district office" refers to the district offices which are regularly filled at the general election provided for in Section 9 of this code (Article 2.01, Vernon's Texas Election Code). After a new registration in the county of new residence becomes effective, he must thereafter vote under the normal procedures for voters registered in that county. In no event may he vote under the procedure outlined in this section after 90 days following the removal.

(b) Voting rights and registration requirements in other elections after removal from one county to another are governed by Subdivision 3 of Section 50a of this code (Article 5.18a, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Application for Limited Ballot; Procedure for Voting

Subd. 3. A person who is entitled to vote a limited ballot, as described in Subdivision 2 of this section, shall be permitted to vote upon making a written, signed application for a limited ballot to the county clerk of the county of his residence at the time of the election, upon an official application form to be prescribed by the Secretary of State and furnished by the county clerk. The voter shall state in his application that he was registered in the county of his former residence at the time of his removal, and he shall accompany his application with his voter registration certificate from that county or shall state in his application that the certificate has been lost or misplaced. The procedure for voting a limited ballot shall be similar to the procedure for absentee voting. If the voter meets the requirements of Section 37 of this code (Article 5.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code) for voting an absentee ballot by mail, he shall be permitted to vote the limited ballot by mail under the procedure for absentee voting by mail upon submitting both an application for a limited ballot and an application for an absentee ballot. Otherwise, he shall vote by personal appearance during the period for absentee voting by personal appearance and under the procedure for voting by personal appearance in countywide elections insofar as it can be made applicable and is not inconsistent with this section. Ballots cast under this section shall be counted and return made thereof along with and on the same forms as the absentee ballots."

Art. 5.05d. General Provisions on Voting by Persons Lacking Full Voting Rights

Record of Applicants

Subd. 1. The county clerk shall maintain in his office, for public inspection, a complete record of persons who have applied for a ballot under Section 37b or 37c of this code (Article 5.05b or 5.05c, Vernon's Texas Election Code), stating thereon the applicant's name, address, precinct of residence, the section of this code under which the application was made, and the date on which the ballot was delivered or mailed, which record shall be kept up from day to day. The record is subject to the same regulations as the record of absentee voters under Subdivision 11 of Section 37 of this code (Article 5.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The names of persons voting under Section 37c shall be included on the precinct lists of absentee voters which the clerk furnishes to the presiding judges of the election, as provided in Subdivision 11 of Section 37, with a notation by each name to indicate that the voter received a limited ballot under Section 37c.

Preservation of Applications; Inspection

Subd. 2. Applications and accompanying papers received pursuant to Sections 37b and 37c of this code (Articles 5.05b and 5.05c, Vernon's Texas Election Code) shall be preserved in the clerk's office for the length of time provided by law for preservation of voted ballots and shall be open to public inspection under the same rules as apply to applications for absentee ballots.

Art. 5.09a. Register of Voters

Subd. 1. Unless the county commissioners court makes a different designation as authorized in Section 41b or Section 56a of this code, the county tax assessor-collector of each county in this State is the registrar of voters in that county.

Subd. 2. The registrar of voters shall be responsible for the registration of voters, the keeping of records, the preparation of lists of registered voters, and such other duties incident to voter registration as are placed upon him by law. Any of the duties of the registrar, except the hearing of appeals on denial of registration and the hearing of challenges of registration, may be performed through a deputy or deputies. The registrar shall not make any charge against a voter for performing any duty incident to voter registration unless expressly authorized by law to do so. The registrar is authorized to administer oaths and certify thereto under the seal of his office in every case where an oath is required in complying with any portion of this code connected with his official duties. The registration records, the applications for registration, and the duplicate registration certificates on file in the registrar's office shall be open for public inspection at all times when the office is open.

Subd. 3. The expenses of the registrar in excess of the reimbursements received from the state under Section 51b of this code (Article 5.19b, Vernon's Texas Election Code) shall be borne by the county. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1497, ch. 609, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 5.09b. County Clerk as Registrar

Subd. 1. The commissioners court of any county in this state may designate the county clerk to be the registrar of voters for that county, by order recorded in its minutes. If some other officer is the registrar at the time the order is adopted, the order shall state the date on which the transfer of registration duties to the county clerk becomes effective. The commissioners court may rescind the order at any time after two years have elapsed from the date of its adoption, by a rescission order recorded in its minutes, to become effective on a date stated in the order. Thereafter, the duties of the registrar of voters shall be performed by the county tax assessor-collector unless the commissioners court establishes the office of county elections administrator and transfers the duties to that officer, as authorized in Section 56a of this code.¹ Within three days after the entry of an order transferring registration duties to the county clerk or after the entry of an order, rescinding an order of transfer, the county clerk shall send a copy of the order to the secretary of state and the comptroller of public accounts.

Subd. 2. In a county where the commissioners court has designated the county clerk to serve as the registrar of voters, all references to the county tax assessor-collector in Sections 3, 12, 64, 199, 301, 321, and 335 of this code (Articles 1.03, 2.04, 6.09, 13.21, 15.01, 15.25, and 15.35, Vernon's Texas Election Code), and in any other statutes pertaining to voter registration, mean the county clerk.

Subd. 3. Where the county clerk is the registrar of voters, the amount appropriated by the commissioners court for the registration duties of the registrar shall not be less than the amount previously appropriated to the county tax assessor-collector for the registration duties formerly performed by him, with additional appropriations, if required, to compensate for the effects of inflation and rising costs of supplies, equipment, and personnel.

Subd. 4. The secretary of state shall prepare advisory budgetary guidelines for the establishment and operation of a division of elections in the county clerk's office for administering the consolidated election duties of the clerk as provided in this section and for the establishment and operation of the separate office of county elections administrator as provided in Section 56a of this code. In preparing the guidelines the secretary of state shall consider and accommodate the differing needs of counties and their differing capabilities for financing the administration of the consolidated duties.

(1) the office of the county clerk shall remain open for the purpose of performing the clerk's duties in connection with administration of the election in counties where no county elections administrator has been appointed; and

(2) within 60 days after applying for registration he will be 18 years of age or older.

Subdivision 2 of this article provided: "This section expires on March 2, 1976."

See, now, art. 5.13a.

Art. 5.13a. Mode of Applying for Registration; Period for Which Registration is Effective

Subd. 1. Registration shall be conducted at all times the registrar's office is open for business. A person may apply for registration in person or by mail. Each applicant shall submit to the registrar of the county in which he resides a written application which supplies all the information required by Section 45b of this code (Article 5.13b, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The Secretary of State shall prescribe the application form. The application for registration by mail shall be in the form of a business reply postcard, or other suitable form, with postage to be paid by the state. The Secretary of State shall make necessary arrangements with the United States Postal Service for obtaining a permit for use of the business reply mail form, or other suitable form, and for payment of the postal charges through warrants issued by the comptroller of public accounts. The Secretary of State shall be authorized to use any form or system made available by the United States Postal Service if such other form or system will be less costly than business reply, and he shall be authorized to implement any procedures necessary to accommodate such other form or system. The application shall be available to individuals, organizations, businesses, and political subdivisions in reasonable quantities. No fee shall ever be charged for voter registration applications. The Secretary of State may prescribe one or more forms for use in counties using electronic data processing methods for issuing voter registration certificates and a different form for use in counties not using those methods, but the registrar in each county shall accept any application made upon any form prescribed by the Secretary of State which supplies all the necessary information for registration. In addition to other requirements, the application form shall contain the following statement: "I understand that the giving of false information to procure the registration of a voter is a felony." It shall also contain a space for recording the number of the voter's registration certificate.

Subd. 2. The application shall be signed by the applicant or his agent. However, if the person making the application is unable to sign his name either because of physical disability or illiteracy, he shall affix his mark, if able to do so, which shall be attested by a witness, whose signature and address shall be shown on the application. If a person making the application is physically unable to make a mark, the witness shall so state on the application.

Subd. 3. The husband, wife, father, mother, son, or daughter of a person entitled to register may act as agent for such person in applying for registration, without the necessity of written authorization therefor, may sign for the applicant, and may receive the registration certificate. However, none of these persons may act as agent unless he is a qualified elector of the county. No person other than those mentioned in this subdivision may act as agent for a person in applying for registration. Except as permitted in this subdivision, a person who wilfully acts as agent for another in applying for registration or in obtaining a registration certificate is guilty of a Class B misdemeanor.

Subd. 4. A registration becomes effective on the 30th day after the date on which the registrar receives the application or on the day that the registrant attains the age of 18 years (the day before his 18th birthday), whichever is later. An application by mail is deemed to have been received by the registrar when it is actually placed into the possession of the registrar or his agent by a post-office employee, or is deposited in the registrar's mail box, or is left at the usual place of delivery for the registrar's official mail. If the registrar is unable to determine the exact date on which the application is deposited in his mail box, he shall treat it as having been deposited on the date of the last previous removal of mail from the box. Every registration of a voter which becomes effective on or after March 1, 1976, shall continue in effect until cancelled under some provision of this code.

Subd. 5. Any person who applies for registration of any person, or who signs an application purporting to be the application for registration of any person, either real or fictitious, other than the person making the application or affixing the signature, or someone for whom he may lawfully act as agent, or someone who is unable to sign and who requests him to sign for such other person, is guilty of a felony of the third degree.

Art. 5.13b. Information on ApplicationRequired Information

Subd. 1. An application form for voter registration shall provide that the following required information be furnished by the applicant:

(1) The applicant's first name, middle name (if any), and surname. If the applicant is a married woman using her husband's surname, she shall furnish her first name, maiden name, and husband's surname.

(2) The applicant's sex.

(8) The registrant's complete current permanent residence address (including apartment number, if any); or, if none, a concise description of the location of the registrant's residence.

Subd. 2. The application form shall contain a space for showing the election precinct in which the applicant resides, but an application is not deficient for failure to list the number or name of the precinct or for listing an incorrect number or name where the applicant's correct permanent residence address is given. It shall also contain a space for the applicant's social security number and telephone number, but an application is not deficient for failure to list these numbers. However, should it be made possible for the state to require that a registrant provide his social security number when applying for a registration certificate, the providing of such a number by all those applicants who possess such a number may be made mandatory by directive of the Secretary of State in the exercise of his authority pursuant to the provisions of Section 3, Texas Election Code (Article 1.03, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The registrar shall not transcribe, copy, or record any telephone number furnished on an application for registration. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 752, ch. 296, § 4, eff. Art. 5.13c. Voter Registration Forms in Spanish

The secretary of state shall prescribe a voter registration application form that is printed in Spanish. In each county in which five percent or more of the inhabitants are persons of Spanish origin or descent, according to the last preceding federal decennial census, the registrar shall keep a supply of these, and shall keep a notice in Spanish posted at the place in his office where voter registration is conducted, stating that application forms in Spanish are available. Registrars in other counties may also use this form if they wish to do so. Every registrar in the state is required to accept and process applications that are tendered to him on the bilingual form, in the same manner as other applications.

Art. 5.14a. Registration Certificate Forms; Issuance of Certificates; Information Required on CertificateRegistration Certificate Forms

Subd. 1. (a) The form for a voter registration certificate shall be prescribed by the Secretary of State. He may prescribe one or more forms for use in counties using electronic data processing methods for issuing certificates and a different form for use in counties not using those methods. A certificate form prescribed by the Secretary of State shall be valid for use only during a two-year period, such two-year period to begin on March 1 of even-numbered years, unless rescinded by the Secretary of State.

(b) The registration certificates for each county may be numbered or labeled in any manner which will enable the registrar to efficiently and accurately maintain the voter registration rolls. However, the Secretary of State may establish a standardized numbering or labeling system and require its adoption by the various counties.

Issuance of Certificates

Subd. 2. (a) When a properly executed application is received by the registrar, he shall make out an initial registration certificate in duplicate and shall mail the original copy to the voter at his regular mailing address, or if none, at his permanent residence address, in time for him to receive it before his registration becomes effective. The registrar may also deliver the original copy to the voter personally, or to an agent making the application under Section 45a of this code (Article 5.13a, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The duplicate copy shall be retained by the registrar. At the time he prepares the initial registration certificate, the registrar shall enter the certificate number in an appropriate space on the voter's application for registration.

(b) Between November 1 and November 15 of each year in which no general election is held, beginning in 1977, the registrar shall prepare and mail to each registered voter in the county as of the preceding October 31 a registration certificate for use during the succeeding two voting years. The certificate shall be mailed to the permanent residence address shown on the voter's registration application; or, if provided, the mailing address. It shall not be sent in the same envelope as the voter's tax statement. Attached to or made a part of the registration certificate shall be adequate space for the voter to insert any change of information other than that printed on the certificate. If the voter has noted such changes, the notice shall be signed and affirmed by the voter and returned to the registrar for correction of the records and issuance of a corrected certificate to the voter.

The registration certificate or envelope containing the certificate shall be marked with a direction to the postal authorities not to forward it to any other address and to return it to the registrar if the addressee is no longer at that address. In the event the certificate is returned, the registrar shall cancel the voter's registration. The registrar shall maintain a list of all returned and cancelled registration certificates showing the name, address, birth date, and registration number of the person to whom the certificate was issued. The list shall be kept in the registrar's office and shall be open to public inspection at all times during regular office hours of the registrar, subject to reasonable regulations and to proper safeguards against alterations, mutilation, or removal. The registrar shall furnish a copy of such list to any person requesting it and shall be permitted to charge One Dollar ($1) for each 10,000 names contained on the list, to be paid by the person so ordering such list. Any money collected pursuant to this subdivision shall be accounted for as official fees of office.

In the event that a person believes that his registration has been cancelled under Section 46a of this code¹ solely because of postal service error, address reclassification, or clerical error on the part of the registrar of voters, he may present to the registrar of voters a sworn statement challenging such cancellation. Upon receiving such statement, the registrar shall give notice to the person whose registration has been cancelled of a hearing to be held on the third working day after receipt of such statement. At the hearing, the registrar may consider such information relating to the challenge as may be presented. If no information controverting the sworn statement of the person claiming to have an erroneously cancelled registration is introduced, such person's name shall be reinstated on the list of registered voters. If controverting information is introduced, the registrar of voters shall consider the information, including the sworn statement of the person whose name was allegedly erroneously placed on the list of cancelled voter registration certificates, and if satisfied that the sworn statement of the person whose registration has been cancelled is true, he shall reinstate the person's name on the list of registered voters. If the registrar refuses to reinstate such person, the person may appeal from the decision of the registrar to a district court of the county within 30 days after the registrar's decision, and the decision of the district court shall be final.

Prior to the succeeding January 15, the registrar shall send to the Secretary of State a list of all the persons, along with all corresponding information available and required by the Secretary of State, whose registration certificates were cancelled as a result of the provisions of this section. Such list shall be in computer readable form. The Secretary of State shall furnish a copy of such list to any person requesting it and shall be permitted to charge One Dollar ($1) for each 10,000 names contained on the list, to be paid by the person so ordering such list. Funds collected by the Secretary of State pursuant to this subdivision shall be used by the Secretary of State to defray any expenses incurred in the preparation of such list.

Any person who uses information obtained under this subdivision for any purpose other than informing voters about candidates for public offices or public issues or for voter registration purposes is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(c) Each voter whose registration becomes effective after October 31 of an odd-numbered year, beginning with 1977, but before the following March 1 shall be issued an initial certificate valid for the remainder of that voting year and a certificate valid for use during the two-year period beginning the following March 1.

(d) A registrar of voters who knowingly issues, mails, or delivers a registration certificate to a person other than the applicant therefor or his lawful agent as provided in Section 45a of this code (Article 5.13a, Vernon's Texas Election Code), is guilty of a felony of the third degree.

(e) Any person whose registration is cancelled under the provision of this section shall be required to reregister in the same manner as an initial registrant. The secretary of state shall prescribe forms for the various documents required by this section.

Information Required on Certificate

Subd. 3. (a) Each certificate shall show the voter's name, permanent residence address, mailing address if any, sex, election precinct number, and if an initial certificate, the effective date of the registration. It shall contain a blank space for political party affiliation of the voter, to be completed as provided in Section 179a, of this code (Article 13.01a, Vernon's Texas Election Code). It shall not show the voter's telephone number or social security number. The certificate shall have a place for the voter's signature, and shall contain or be accompanied by a written instruction to the voter that the certificate is to be signed by the voter personally immediately upon receipt, if the voter is able to sign his name. Each certificate shall clearly indicate the two-year period for which it is issued, and shall contain a statement that the voter shall receive a new certificate every two years so long as such voter does not become disqualified under some provision of the election laws. Each certificate shall contain a statement giving notice that voting by use of the certificate by any person other than the person in whose name the certificate is issued is a felony. Voting by use of certificate which has been issued to another is hereby expressly made a felony of the third degree.

(b) Each certificate may contain a notice to the voter to correct and return the certificate to the registrar in case any of the information thereon changes or is incorrect. It may be accompanied by a more detailed explanation of the registrant's rights and duties under this code, including, but not limited to: a statement that his registration is permanent unless cancelled under some provision of the election laws; the procedure by which he will receive a new certificate every two years; the need to reregister if he moves to another county; the period during which he may vote a limited ballot after removal from the county; the need to notify the registrar to transfer his registration if he moves to a new precinct within the county; the period during which he may vote in his old precinct after removal to another precinct within the county; his right to vote without a certificate; and the procedure for obtaining a replacement for a lost certificate.

Art. 5.15a. Registration Files

Subd. 1. (a) The applications on which registration certificates are issued shall be filed in an active application file and shall remain in that file as long as the registration continues in effect. The active application file shall be maintained in alphabetical order by voter name for the entire county, except that if the registrar regularly obtains a list of registrants in that order through use of electronic data processing equipment, he may keep the file in numerical order by certificate number.

(b) The registrar shall also maintain an inactive application file. The registrar shall place in alphabetical order into this file all applications which are rejected. He shall also transfer to a separate inactive file the application of each voter whose registration is cancelled. The registrar shall enter on the application form the date on which the registration is rejected or the date on which the registration is cancelled before filing an application in the inactive file. The application shall be kept in the inactive file for a period of two years from the date of rejection or cancellation, after which it may be destroyed.

Subd. 2. (a) After the registrar adds a voter's name to the list of registered voters from the duplicate registration certificate, he shall file the duplicate in an active duplicate registration certificate file. An active file shall be maintained in numerical order for the entire county.

(b) When a registration is cancelled, the registrar shall enter the date of and reason for cancellation on the duplicate certificate and shall transfer it to an inactive file arranged numerically for each voting year. The duplicate shall be kept in the inactive file for a period of two years from the date of cancellation, after which it may be destroyed.

Subd. 3. Applications and duplicate registration certificates may be removed from the registrar's office temporarily, under proper safeguards, for use in preparing registration certificates, lists of registered voters, and other registration papers by electronic data processing methods, but they may not be removed for any other purpose. Except as permitted in the preceding sentence, the applications, and the duplicate registration certificates shall be kept in the registrar's office at all times in a place and in such a manner as to be properly safeguarded. The files shall be open to public inspection at all times during regular office hours of the registrar, subject to reasonable regulations and to proper safeguards against alteration, mutilation, or removal.

Art. 5.15b. Service Program of Secretary of State; Copies of Master State Voter File

Subd. 1. The secretary of state is hereby authorized to provide a service program to assist registrars in efficiently maintaining accurate and current lists of registered voters. Such service program shall provide for, but is not limited to:

(a) obtaining initial lists of registered voters and other necessary information from the registrars of voters in order to create master files of such information;

(b) obtaining periodic information from registrars and from any other available sources for the following purposes:

(1) to maintain the master files,

(2) to aid in the determination of the proper status of persons on the lists of registered voters,

(3) to aid in the determination of the proper registration information to be associated with each registrant;

(c) conducting the various procedures necessary or proper for the implementation of the service program by utilization of automatic data processing equipment or by other means;

(d) furnishing information which may be useful to the registrars in the performance of their duties;

(e) contracting with political subdivisions of this state to provide such other services as are necessary to the performance of the duties of election officials. Fees collected through such contracts shall be retained by the secretary of state to defray expenses of the service program.

Subd. 2. Implementation of this program shall be by directive of the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall make a full report to the legislature which convenes in January of 1977 of all steps taken to implement this program. He shall include in his report a description of any difficulties encountered and his recommendations, if any, for corrective legislation.

Subd. 3. Each March 1 and September 1 the secretary of state shall prepare a copy of the master state voter file on magnetic tape, which shall include each voter's county, voting precinct number, name, permanent residence address, mailing address if any, sex, year of birth, and registration number. It shall not include any voter's social security number or telephone number. The secretary of state shall furnish a copy of this tape to any person requesting it. Each person requesting a copy shall submit an affidavit that the information obtained will be used only for the purpose of informing voters about candidates for public office or about public issues, and will not be used to advertise or promote commercial products or services. The secretary of state shall provide the copy within 15 days of the date on which he receives the request. He shall exact a uniform charge against each person to whom he furnishes a copy of the tape. The charge shall not be greater than an amount deemed sufficient to reasonably reimburse the secretary of state for his actual expense in furnishing the copy, and in any event shall not exceed five cents per hundred names furnished.

Subd. 4. Any person who uses information obtained under Subdivision 3 of this section for any purpose other than informing voters about candidates for public office or about public issues is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

Sections 17 and 18 of the 1975 Act provided:

"Sec. 17. The secretary of state is hereby authorized to utilize any funds previously appropriated for the biennium ending August 31, 1975, for the purpose of publication of constitutional amendment explanatory statements, but which have not and will not be expended for that purpose, in connection with the implementation of the service program described in Section 7 of this Act.

"Sec. 18. Sections 1, 7, and 17 of this Act take effect immediately upon passage or as soon thereafter as permitted by law. All other sections preceding this section take effect on November 5, 1975."

Art. 5.16a. Correction of Errors on Certificates; Lost Certificates

Correction of Error

Subd. 1. When after issuance of a registration certificate it is discovered that an error has been made in filling out the blanks on the certificate through mistake of the registrar or through mistake of the voter in supplying the information, the voter may present the certificate to the registrar for correction and the registrar shall issue a corrected certificate and correct the information on the registration records on file in his office.

Error in Election Precinct

Subd. 2. Except as permitted in Section 50a of this code,¹ no person is entitled to vote in a precinct of which he is not a resident and an election officer shall not knowingly permit a voter to do so. However, where a voter is erroneously registered in a precinct in which he does not reside and the election officer permits him to vote without knowing of the erroneous registration, in an election contest a ballot cast in that precinct shall be given effect as to any offices or propositions on which the voter would have been entitled to vote in the precinct in which he resides unless it is proved that the voter intentionally gave false information to procure his registration in the wrong precinct, in which event the ballot is void for all purposes.

If an error in the election precinct has not been corrected at the time the voter offers to vote, he may vote in the precinct of his residence, if otherwise qualified, by making and leaving with the presiding judge an affidavit, in any form authorized by the secretary of state, that he is or has been during the previous 90 days a resident of the precinct and is voting only one ballot in this election and that the error was not intentional.

Cancelled Voter Registration Certificate

Subd. 3a. For elections held between March 1 and no later than June 30 in even-numbered years, where a voter's name is not shown on the precinct list of registered voters but does appear on the precinct list of cancelled voter registration certificates, the election officer shall permit such voter to cast a ballot, provided such voter submits a completed voter registration application to the election officer and an affidavit that he still resides within the county for county administered and primary elections or within the municipality or other political subdivision if administered by such authority. In the event the runoff primary election occurs within 29 days after the date of the general primary, the voter may vote at the election under the procedure outlined in this subdivision, except that the voter shall inform the presiding judge that he voted under this procedure at a previous election, and the presiding judge shall note that fact on the application. When the registrar receives such an application, he shall attach it to the application previously received.

All affidavits required by this subdivision shall contain the content and be in the form prescribed by the Secretary of State. The date on which the election officer accepts an application is considered to be the date on which the registrar receives it, and the registration becomes effective for voting in other elections on the 30th day after that date.

A ballot of a voter cast in willful disregard of this subdivision is invalid.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 4 and 5]

Replacement of Lost Certificate

Subd. 6. (a) If a voter to whom a registration certificate has been issued presents to the registrar his signed statement that the certificate has been lost or destroyed, the registrar shall issue to the voter a replacement certificate as a single-copy document, showing the same registration number and the same information as shown on the original certificate. The registrar shall make a notation on the face of the certificate showing it to be a replacement. He shall attach the statement to the voter's application.

A person who states in a request for a replacement certificate that his registration certificate has been lost or destroyed, knowing the statement to be false, is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(b) A replacement certificate issued after October 31 in an odd-numbered year shall be valid for use during the two-year period beginning on the following March 1. But it shall bear a notation that it may be used beginning on the date of issuance, except that a corrected replacement certificate shall be dated for use beginning on the 30th day following receipt by the registrar of the voter's old certificate or statement of loss.

Art. 5.18a. Change of Residence; Cancellation or Transfer of Registration

Change of Residence Within Precinct

Subd. 1. A registered voter who changes his place of residence within the election precinct shall give written notice to the registrar of the change of address and obtain a corrected certificate as provided in Subdivision 1 of Section 48a of this code (Article 5.16a, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Change of Residence to Another Precinct Within County

Subd. 2. A registered voter who changes his residence to another election precinct within the county may vote a full ballot in the precinct of his former residence, if otherwise qualified, during the first 90 days after the removal, but not thereafter, in any election in which there is listed on the ballot any office or proposition on which he is eligible to vote at his new residence.

If he obtains a transfer of his registration to the precinct of his new residence during the 90-day period, he may vote only in the precinct of his new residence after the 29th day following the transfer. He may not vote in the precinct of his new residence before the 30th day following the transfer.

To obtain a transfer of his registration, the voter shall present the registrar with a written, signed request that his registration be transferred to the precinct of his new residence. Upon receiving a request for transfer, the registrar shall make the necessary changes on the registration records in his office and shall issue a new corrected registration certificate to the voter. He shall attach the request to the registrant's original application.

Change of Residence to Another County

Subd. 3. (a) A registered voter who moves from one county to another within the State must reregister in the county of his new residence in the same manner as an initial registrant. However, during the first 90 days after removal the voter may vote a limited ballot, as provided in Section 37c of this code (Article 5.05c, Vernon's Texas Election Code), if a reregistration in the county of new residence has not become effective.

(b) Where a registered voter who resides in a municipality or other political subdivision which is situated in more than one county moves from one county to another within the political subdivision, if the election precincts of the political subdivision are so constituted that the voter lives in the same precinct, he may continue to vote on the registration in the county of former residence at elections held by that political subdivision so long as that registration continues in effect. If he resides in a different precinct, during the first 90 days after the removal he may continue to vote in the precinct of his former residence at elections held by the political subdivision, on the registration in the county of former residence, if a reregistration in the county of new residence has not become effective.

Notification to Registrar in County of Former Residence

Subd. 4. When the registrar receives an application for registration of a voter who is registered in some other county, he shall notify the registrar of that county, giving him the voter's name, former registration certificate number if known, and former residence address. Upon receipt of notice, the registrar of the county wherein the voter was formerly registered shall cancel the registration in that county. When the registrar receives an application for registration of a voter who was registered in the previous two-year certificate period in any county and has not received a current registration certificate, he shall notify the registrar of that county, if different from the registrar's county, giving him the voter's name, former residence address, birth date, and social security number if available, and may also include a copy of the voter's signature. Upon receipt of such notice, the registrar of the county wherein the voter was formerly registered shall remove the voter from the list of cancelled voter registration certificates of the appropriate election precinct. If the voter's name is on a list of cancelled voter registration certificates in the county wherein he is attempting to register, the registrar of such county shall cause the voter's name to be removed from the appropriate precinct list. The name of any person shall not be removed from the list of cancelled voter registration certificates until such registration is effective.

Subd. 5. (a) The registrar may utilize any means available to determine whether a registered voter's current legal residence may be other than that indicated as the voter's legal residence on the registration records.

(b) Upon receiving information indicating that a registrant has a residence other than that shown on the registrant's registration records, or that indicates the existence of any grounds of disqualification other than death, the registrar shall send a notice to such person by forwardable mail at the permanent residence address or, if provided, the mailing address on the registrant's registration application and any new address of the registrant, if known, requesting a verification of the registrant's current residence address, or other relevant information which would be determinative of the registrant's right to retain his current registered status, and providing information of the necessity for the registrant to amend the registration records subsequent to a change in legal residence or to provide information establishing his right to retain his current registered status. The notice shall state that the registrant's registration will be cancelled if the registrar does not receive an appropriate reply within 60 days from the date on which the notice is mailed. If the registrant replies to the notice, the registrar shall take the appropriate action indicated by the reply. If no reply is timely received, the registrar shall cancel the registration. Notice of such cancellation shall be sent to the registrant at the new address, if it is known; otherwise it shall be sent to the residence or mailing address on the registration records. If the notice mailed to the permanent residence address on the registrant's application is returned to the registrar with no forwarding address information available, the registrar shall cancel the registration.

(c) In the event the registrar cancels a voter's registration pursuant to Paragraph (b) of this subdivision, such voter may, within 10 days after the date of cancellation by the registrar, request, in writing, a hearing before the registrar. The registrar, upon notice to the voter, shall conduct a hearing within five days of receipt of the request from the voter, or at any later time upon the consent of the voter. The registrar shall then determine whether to cancel the registration. The voter may appeal from a decision to cancel his registration to a district court of the county of registration within 29 days after the registrar's decision, and the decision of the district court shall be final. A voter who appeals a cancellation of his registration under the provisions of this paragraph may continue to vote until a final decision is made cancelling his registration.

Subd. 6. The Secretary of State shall prescribe forms for the various documents required by this section. However, the registrar may also accept and use forms other than those prescribed by the Secretary of State.

Art. 5.18d. Change of Name

Subd. 1. A registered voter who changes his name through marriage or judgment of a court shall present his registration certificate to the registrar, with a signed request that his name be changed on the registration records. The registrar shall make the necessary changes on his records and issue a corrected certificate to the voter under his new name. The registrar shall attach the request to the registrant's original application.

Subd. 2. If otherwise qualified, a voter whose name is changed is eligible to vote under the new name at any election held more than 29 days after the request for change of name was received by the registrar. He may vote under the former name at any election held within 29 days after the day the request was received by the registrar, upon making an affidavit that his certificate of registration under the former name has been surrendered to the registrar. The voter shall sign the form for the affidavit of a lost certificate, and the election officer shall add a notation in explanation of the circumstances. Art. 5.19a. List of Registered Voters

(1) The registrar shall prepare for each election precinct of the county a certified list of registered voters who are registered as of the 30th day prior to the first election in each voting year. Each precinct list shall be arranged alphabetically by the names of the voters and showing each voter's name, residence address, sex, date of birth and registration number. The Secretary of State may prescribe the content and format of the precinct list. The registrar shall deliver to each board, executive committee, or other authority having the duty of furnishing supplies for any general, special, or primary election to be held within the county during the voting year for which the list is prepared, one set of such lists for all precincts in the county if any election which may be held by such authority is countywide, and one set of such lists for all precincts wholly or partially within the boundaries of the particular political subdivision if all elections which may be held by such authority are less than countywide. The registrar shall also furnish to each such authority an updated supplemental list of the voters in each precinct who will have been registered for 29 days on the day of the election and whose names do not appear on the original list. In the event the prescribed combination form in accordance with Section 16 of this code¹ has been furnished, before the first day of absentee voting in any subsequent election held by the authority during that voting year, the registrar shall furnish to the authority in either the prescribed combination form or simple list form, another copy of the original list and an updated supplemental list of the voters in each precinct who will have been registered for 29 days on the day of the election and whose names do not appear on the original list, except that in the case of a runoff election the registrar may furnish a copy of the supplemental list prepared for the preceding election and a supplemental list of the voters who will have been registered for 29 days on the day of the runoff election and whose names do not appear on the original list or the supplemental list prepared for the preceding election instead of preparing a single updated supplemental list for that election. In every instance, instead of preparing a supplemental list or lists, the registrar may prepare a revised original list consolidating into it the names of the voters that would have been included on the supplemental list or lists. With each supplemental list or revised original list the registrar shall also furnish a list of persons whose registration information has been changed or corrected or whose registration has been cancelled or transferred to another precinct since preparation of the last set of lists. The authority shall furnish to the presiding judge in each precinct the original and supplemental lists of voters in his precinct at the time it furnishes other election supplies. Prior to the opening of the polls, the presiding judge shall strike from the registration list the names of persons whose registration has been cancelled or transferred to another precinct, and shall correct the list for persons whose registration information has been changed or corrected.

Before the first day of March in each even-numbered year and whenever appropriate thereafter, the registrar shall attach to each list herein required an alphabetical corresponding certified list of all the persons whose registration certificates were cancelled, pursuant to the provisions of Section 46a of this code,² and such list shall remain attached to the election precinct list for four months thereafter. The precinct lists may be combined with the corresponding lists of cancelled registrations in accordance with the form and content prescribed by the Secretary of State.

(2) In addition to the lists to be furnished under Subsection (1) of this section, the registrar shall furnish without charge to each clerk having the duty of conducting absentee voting in any election the appropriate lists for use in the conduct of absentee voting for the election. He shall also maintain in his office for a period of three years one set of the original lists and one set of the supplemental lists prepared for each county-wide election, which shall be public records available for public inspection at all times that his office is open.

Art. 5.19b. Reimbursement of County by State

Subd. 1. Before April 1 of each year, the registrar shall submit to the Comptroller of Public Accounts a certified statement of the total number of new registrants, together with the total number of registration certificates which were cancelled under the provisions of Section 50a of this code (Article 5.18a, Vernon's Texas Election Code), during the 12-month period ending February 1 of the year in which the statement is submitted. Before April 1 of each even-numbered year, the registrar shall include, in addition to the above statement, a certified statement of the total number of registered voters shown on the precinct registration lists as of March 1 of that year.

Subd. 2. Before June 1 of the year in which the statement is submitted, the Comptroller shall issue a warrant to each county in the aggregate of the following amounts:

(1) 40 cents multiplied by the total number of new registrants, and

(2) 40 cents multiplied by the number of voter registration certificates cancelled under the provisions of Section 50a of this code (Article 5.18a, Vernon's Texas Election Code), as shown by the certified statement required by Subdivision 1 of this section, and

(3) when the total number of registered voters is supplied in accordance with Subdivision 1 of this section, 40 cents multiplied by the difference between the total number of registered voters and the total number of new registrants under this Act during the two 12-month periods prior to the statement in each county. However, before issuing a warrant the Comptroller may require additional proof to substantiate the certified statement.

Subd. 3. The Secretary of State shall determine whether the registrar has complied with the provisions of Section 46a of this code¹ and he shall notify the comptroller. The comptroller shall not issue the warrant provided for in Subdivision 2 of this section until notified by the Secretary of State that the registrar is in compliance.

Subd. 4. The disbursements prescribed by this section shall be made from the general revenue fund as provided by legislative appropriations. All money received by a county under this section shall be deposited in the county treasury in a special fund to be used for defraying expenses of the registrar's office in the registration of voters. None of the money shall be deemed to be fees of office or be retained by the registrar as fees in counties where the registrar is compensated on a fee basis.

Art. 5.24a. County Elections Administrator

Creation of Office

Subd. 1. In any county in this state, the commissioners court by order recorded in its minutes may establish the appointive office of county elections administrator of the county, who shall perform the duties and functions specified in Subdivision 3 of this section. The order of the commissioners court shall state the date on which the creation of the office of administrator becomes effective, but the date may not be earlier than March 1, 1979. The order may provide for placing the administrator-designate on the county payroll at a date not more than 90 days before the effective date for creation of the office so that he may make suitable plans for assuming his duties on the effective date. Within three days after the entry of the order, the county clerk shall send a copy of the order to each member of the county elections commission and to the secretary of state and the comptroller of public accounts.

Appointment of Administrator; County Elections Commission

Subd. 2. (a) Composition of the commission. Where the office of county elections administrator is created in a county, the office shall be filled by appointment of the county elections commission of the county, which shall consist of the following members: the county judge of the county as chairman of the commission; the county clerk of the county as vice-chairman of the commission; the tax assessor-collector of the county as clerk of the commission; and the chairman of the county executive committee of each political party whose nominees at the last general election for state and county officers were nominated by primary election. In any county in which the offices of sheriff and tax assessor-collector are combined, the sheriff shall hold the position specified for the tax assessor-collector. In any county in which a party which nominates by primary election does not have a county organization, the membership of the commission is reduced accordingly. A majority of the total membership of the commission constitutes a quorum. The affirmative vote of a majority of the total membership of the commission is necessary for the selection of an administrator. Each member of the commission who is present at a meeting, including the presiding officer, is entitled to vote. Each appointment made by the commission shall be evidenced by a written resolution or order signed by the number of members necessary to make the appointment, and the resolution or order shall be filed as a public record in the office of the county clerk. Within three days after the filing, the county clerk shall forward a copy of the resolution or order to the secretary of state.

(b) Meetings of the commission. Meetings of the commission shall be called by the chairman. If the chairman fails to call a meeting within 10 days after the entry of the order creating the office of county elections administrator or within 10 days after a vacancy arises in the office, or if he fails to call a meeting by January 15 of an odd-numbered year, preceding the expiration of the administrator's term of office, the vice-chairman shall call the meeting. The person who calls a meeting shall set the time and place for the meeting and shall give written notice of the time and place to each other member at least three days in advance of the meeting date.

(c) Qualifications for administrator. (1) The person appointed as administrator must be a resident of this state but need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment; but after he assumes the office, he must maintain his residence in the county during his tenure in office.

(2) He must be a registered voter at his place of residence.

(3) He may not be a candidate for public office, as defined by Chapter 14 of this code, while holding the office of county elections administrator. Filing for candidacy constitutes an automatic resignation from the position of county elections administrator effective at the time of filing.

(4) He may not actively support or contribute to any candidate for public office, any officeholder, or any political party while holding the office of county elections administrator. Violation of this provision is a Class A misdemeanor and conviction produces automatic removal from office. A person so convicted is ineligible for appointment as county elections administrator in any county in the state.

(d) Time of appointment; rescission. The county elections commission may make the initial appointment of an administrator at any time after the entry of the commissioners court's order creating the office, regardless of the length of time remaining between the date of the appointment and the effective date of the creation of the office, and it may make an appointment to fill an anticipated vacancy arising from a resignation to take effect at a future date at any time after the resignation is accepted. After an appointment is made and accepted, it may not be rescinded without the consent of the appointee, regardless of any changes that may occur in the membership of the commission before the appointee assumes his duties.

Duties of the Administrator

Subd. 3. (a) Registration of voters. On the effective date of an order entered pursuant to Subdivision 1 of this section, or as soon thereafter as an administrator has been appointed and has qualified, the county elections administrator shall assume and thereafter perform all the duties and functions to be performed by the registrar of voters, pursuant to Section 41a of this code (Article 5.09a, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

(b) Conduct of elections. In addition to the duties and functions specified in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the administrator shall perform all the duties and functions which are placed upon the county clerk by any provision of this code or any other statute of this state in connection with the conduct of elections, as more fully defined in Section 56b of this code.¹

Salary of Administrator; Office Staff; Operating Expenses

Subd. 4. Where the office of county elections administrator is created, the commissioners court shall fix his salary, and shall also fix the number, grade, and salaries of paid deputies, assistants, and other persons that he may employ. However, the administrator may appoint unpaid deputies to assist in voter registration, as authorized in Section 52a of this code (Article 5.20a, Vernon's Texas Election Code), without the approval of the commissioners court. The salary of the administrator shall not exceed the salary paid to the county clerk of that county, and the salaries paid to his employees shall not exceed the salaries paid to the employees of the county clerk in comparable positions. The commissioners court may allow such automobile expense as it deems necessary to the administrator and to any of his employees in the performance of their official duties. The commissioners court shall make provision for furnishing the administrator with suitable office space and with the necessary equipment and operating expenses for the proper conduct of his office. The amount appropriated by the commissioners court for the administrator's office shall not be less than the amounts previously appropriated to the county clerk and the county tax assessor-collector for the duties formerly required of them but now assigned to the administrator, with additional appropriations, if required, to compensate for the effects of inflation and rising costs of supplies, equipment, and personnel.

Term of Office

Subd. 5. The initial appointment of the county elections administrator shall be until the beginning of the first regular term thereafter. The regular term of office for the administrator is for a period of two years beginning on March 1 in each odd-numbered year. Between January 1 and January 15 preceding the expiration of the term, the chairman of the county elections commission shall call a meeting of the commission for the purpose of making an appointment for the succeeding term. Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the commission for the remainder of the unexpired term. The administrator may be removed from office in the same manner and on the same grounds as provided by general law for removal of county officers or as provided for under paragraph (c) of Subdivision 2 of this section.

Bond of Administrator and Deputies

Subd. 6. Before entering into the duties of his office, the county elections administrator shall take and subscribe to the official oath and shall give an official bond in an amount to be fixed by the commissioners court, made payable to the county judge and approved by the commissioners court, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. Either the commissioners court or the administrator may require his deputies to give a similar bond in an amount not exceeding the amount of the administrator's bond.

Seal of Administrator

Subd. 7. The administrator shall provide himself with an official seal, on which shall be inscribed a star with five points surrounded by the words

"County Elections Administrator, _____ County, Texas" (the blank to be filled in with the name of the county), for use in certifying documents which are required to be impressed with the seal of the certifying officer.

Transfer of Records

Subd. 8. As soon as practicable after the effective date of the order creating the office of county elections administrator, the officer formerly serving as the registrar of voters shall transfer to the administrator all records and papers pertaining to voter registration, and the county clerk shall transfer to him all voting equipment and supplies of which the clerk has custody and all records and papers in his possession which pertain to an uncompleted election. The commissioners court shall determine which records of prior elections are to be transferred to the administrator and which are to remain in the county clerk's office.

Abolishment of Office

Subd. 9. The commissioners court may abolish the office of county elections administrator at any time after two years have elapsed from the date of the order creating it by having an order entered into the minutes of the court to become effective at the expiration of the current term of the administrator. If the office is abolished, voter registration duties thereafter shall be performed by the county tax assessor-collector and the other duties shall be performed by the county clerk, except that the commissioners court may designate the county clerk to be the registrar of voters and to perform the duties assigned to the registrar, as authorized in Section 41b of this code.² Within three days after the entry of an order abolishing the office of county elections administrator, the county clerk shall send a copy of the order to the secretary of state and the comptroller of public accounts.

Office Hours on Election Day

Subd. 10. The office of the county elections administrator shall remain open during the hours the polls are open on the day of any general election, primary election, or runoff primary election in which a statewide office appears on the ballot.

² Article 5.09b.

Section 11 of the 1977 Act provided: "Sections 3 and 4 of this Act take effect 90 days after the adjournment of the regular session of the 65th Legislature for the purpose of authorizing the creation of the office of county elections administrator and the promulgation of rules with respect to the duties transferred to the administrator, but an appointment to that office or a transfer of duties to the administrator may not become effective before March 1, 1979."

Art. 5.24b. Election Duties of County Clerk Transferred to County Elections Administrator

Subd. 1. (a) Where the office of county elections administrator is created, in addition to performing the duties of the registrar of voters, the administrator shall perform all duties and functions which are placed upon the county clerk by any provision of this code or any other statute of this state in connection with the calling or holding of elections, the preparation of ballots, the preparation and furnishing of election equipment and supplies, the conduct of voting, the canvass of election returns, the custody of voted ballots and other election records, the filing of instruments relating to primary elections, conventions, or other affairs of political parties, and the filing of instruments under Chapter 14 of this code (the Political Funds Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1975).

(b) The enumeration in paragraph (a) of this subdivision states the general guidelines for determining what duties and functions are to be transferred from the county clerk to the administrator. In order to eliminate possible uncertainties in several types of situations, the rules stated in Subdivision 2 of this section establish the division of duties in the specific areas covered by those rules.

(c) The guidelines and rules stated in this section apply in the construction of statutes enacted or amended after the enactment of this section as well as to those previously enacted, unless the statute expressly states that the county clerk is to perform the function in counties having the office of administrator as well as in other counties.

Subd. 2. (a) This subdivision states rules for the division of duties between the county clerk and the county elections administrator in a county which has the office of administrator.

(b) With respect to every meeting of the commissioners court, including meetings at which the only business to be conducted pertains to election matters, the county clerk shall continue to perform all duties regularly performed by that officer in giving notice of meetings of the commissioners court and making up the agenda for the meetings, in attending the meetings and making a record of the proceedings and preparing and maintaining the minutes of the court, and in filing and preserving copies of the court's orders. The administrator shall cooperate with the county clerk in supplying the information on election matters which are to be brought before the court, and he shall attend or be represented at the meetings of the court at which such matters are to be considered. The county clerk shall furnish to the administrator a copy of each order of the court which pertains to or affects any election, and the administrator shall maintain in his office a file of all such orders, in addition to the record maintained by the county clerk.

(c) Every reference in this code to the county clerk or the clerk of the commissioners court which relates to the performance of any function or the receipt or filing of any instrument by that officer is to be construed as referring to the administrator, except for Subsection (3) of Section 208 of this code (Article 13.30), relating to service of process on the county clerk in a contest of a primary election under certain circumstances. References to the clerk of the county court are not to be construed as referring to the administrator.

(d) Certificates and supporting documents filed under Subdivision 2, Section 8a (Article 1.08a) of this code for the exemption of election precincts from requirements for bilingual materials in primary elections and in elections held at the expense of the county are to be filed in the office of the administrator.

(e) When any statute, including Section 28 (Article 4.05) of this code, provides for the filing or posting of an election notice in the office of the county clerk, the notice shall be filed or posted in the office of the administrator. When a statute provides for the filing of proof of posting, publication, or issuance of an election notice in the office of the county clerk, it shall be filed in the office of the administrator.

(f) Under the supervision of the county election board, the administrator shall make the record of blank ballots furnished for an election which is required by Section 64 (Article 6.09) of this code and shall file the record in his office, in lieu of recordation in the minutes of the commissioners court.

(g) The administrator shall have custody of and be responsible for maintaining the book for recording in detail the results of elections, as provided in Section 116 (Article 8.34) of this code.

(h) When a statute provides that the return of an election notice is to be recorded in the minutes of the commissioners court, in lieu of that procedure the return shall be filed in the office of the administrator.

(i) When a statute provides that an order declaring the outcome of an election on a question or proposition is to be filed in the office of the county clerk, the order shall be filed both in the office of the county clerk and in the office of the administrator.

(j) When a statute provides for the calling of an election on a question or proposition by the commissioners court or the county judge upon the presentation or filing of a petition therefor, the administrator shall perform, in addition to the duties and functions directly relating to the holding of the election, all duties and functions which the statute places on the county clerk or the clerk of the commissioners court, either expressly or by implication, in connection with the filing of the petition and the determination of its sufficiency, and any other preliminary matters which precede the entry of the order calling the election.

(k) The application for issuance of a petition seeking a local option election on the sale of alcoholic beverages and the signed petition for the election shall be filed with the administrator; and the administrator shall perform all duties relating to the election which are placed upon the county clerk or the clerk of the commissioners court through and including the canvass of the returns, the posting of the order declaring the result of the election where required, and certification of the results to the proper authorities. A copy of the order declaring the result of the election shall be entered of record in the office of the county clerk and a copy shall also be filed in the office of the administrator.

(l) When a statute prescribing the procedure for creation of a special district provides for the calling of an election as a step in completing the creation, in addition to performing the duties directly related to the holding of such an election after it is called, the administrator shall also perform all acts which otherwise would be performed by the county clerk in connection with all preliminary matters leading up to the entry of the order on whether the election will be called, including but not limited to the presentation or filing of the petition for creation of the district, the holding of any hearing on the proposal, the filing of any report or other document that is a step in the procedure, and the taking of an appeal from the order on whether the election is to be called. When the holding of an election is not one of the steps in the creation, the county clerk shall continue to perform all duties placed by statute upon that officer in connection with the creation of a district, including duties relating to a petition for its creation.

(m) The county clerk is the proper officer to receive and post copies of proposed constitutional amendments under Article XVII, Section 1, of the Texas Constitution. However, the secretary of state shall send an information copy of each proposed amendment to the administrator also.

Subd. 3. (a) In keeping with the general guidelines and the specific statutory rules stated in Subdivisions 1 and 2 of this section, the secretary of state shall promulgate rules, as necessary, classifying the various statutes according to which of the two offices of county clerk or county elections administrator is to perform the duties and functions prescribed therein. The secretary of state's classification has the force of law unless or until the legislature enacts a statute expressly providing for a different assignment of that specific function.

(b) The secretary of state may initiate the promulgation of a rule on his own motion, and he may promulgate rules at any time after this section becomes law, regardless of whether the office of administrator has yet been created in any county.

Whenever the county clerk or the administrator in any county in which the office of administrator has been created is uncertain as to which officer should perform a function under a statute for which the secretary of state has not made a classification, the officer shall request the secretary of state to promulgate a rule classifying that function, and the secretary of state shall comply with the request as expeditiously as possible.

(c) In addition to other notice of a proposed rule or of an adopted rule which is required by law, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of each rule proposed under this section to the county clerk and the county elections administrator in each county having the office of administrator within five days after notice of the proposal is published in the Texas Register and shall mail a copy of each adopted rule to those officers within five days after the certified copy of the rule is filed in the secretary of state's office. However, failure to mail the notice to these officers does not invalidate any actions taken or rules adopted.

(d) Upon receiving notification of the creation of the office of administrator in a county, the secretary of state shall mail to the county clerk a complete set of the rules previously promulgated under this section; and upon receiving notification of the appointment of the administrator, the secretary of state shall mail a complete set of rules to the administrator.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the secretary of state may adopt an emergency rule under the emergency provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act¹ whenever a determination of the classification of a function is needed in a shorter time than that provided by normal procedures. The prior notice requirements prescribed in paragraph (c) of this subdivision do not apply to the promulgation of an emergency rule; however, notification of the adoption of an emergency rule is to be given in accordance with those provisions.

Subd. 4. (a) When an instrument which should be filed with the county elections administrator is mailed to the county clerk, or vice versa, the officer receiving the instrument shall make a notation thereon of the time of its receipt and shall promptly deliver it to the proper officer. If the statute does not specify that the instrument is to be filed with the administrator in a county which has that office, the misdirection does not prejudice the timeliness of the filing where time of mailing or time of receipt is material, and timeliness is determined by the time of mailing or the time of receipt by the officer to whom the instrument is addressed.

(b) When an instrument which should be filed with the county elections administrator is tendered in person to the county clerk, or vice versa, the officer to whom the instrument is tendered shall direct the person making the tender to take it to the proper office.

(c) Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subdivision, where a statute specifies that an instrument is to be filed with the county clerk, without specifying that it is to be filed with a county elections administrator in a county which has that office, but the place of filing is changed to the office of the administrator by virtue of this section, if the county clerk accepts and files the instrument, the filing has the same legal effect as if the instrument had been filed with the administrator.

(d) Where a statute specifies that an action is to be taken by the county clerk, without specifying that it is to be taken by the county elections administrator in a county which has that office, but the officer to act is changed to the administrator by virtue of this section, action taken by the county clerk without objection from the administrator has the same legal effect as action taken by the administrator.

Subd. 5. Statutes prescribing criminal penalties against the county clerk or his deputies or other employees for acts or omissions relating to duties which are transferred to the county elections administrator are to be construed as applying to the administrator or his deputies or employees, as the case may be.

CHAPTER SIX. OFFICIAL BALLOT

Art. 6.01. Official Ballot

In all elections by the people, the vote shall be by official ballot, which shall be numbered and elections so guarded and conducted as to detect fraud and preserve the purity of the ballot. No ballot shall be used in voting at any general, primary or special election held to elect public officers, select candidates for office or determine questions submitted to a vote of the people, except the official ballot, unless otherwise authorized by law. At the top of the official ballot shall be printed in large letters the words "Official Ballot." It shall contain the printed names of all candidates whose nominations for an elective office have been duly made and properly certified. The names shall appear on the ballot under the head of the party that nominates them, except as otherwise provided by this Code. No name shall appear on the official ballot except that of a candidate who was actually nominated (either as a party nominee or as a non-partisan or independent candidate) in accordance with the provisions of this Code. The name of no candidate shall appear more than once upon the official ballot, except (a) as a candidate for two or more offices permitted by the Constitution to be held by the same person; or (b) when a candidate has been duly nominated for the office of President or Vice-President of the United States and also for an office requiring a state-wide vote for election. The name of no candidate of any political party that cast 20 percent or more of the votes for governor at the last preceding general election for that office shall be printed on any official ballot for a general election, unless nominated by primary election, on primary election day, except as otherwise provided in this code.

Art. 6.04. Removing or Substituting Names on Printed Ballots

Subd. 1. If the ballots for an election have already been printed when notice of a substitute nomination for an office is received, instead of having new ballots printed, the official board charged with the duty of furnishing the supplies for the election may make the necessary change in either of the following methods: (1) by having the ballots overprinted to blot or line out the name of the former nominee and to print above, below, or alongside it the name of the new nominee, if space on the ballot permits use of this method, or (2) by printing pasters or stickers bearing the name of the new nominee, to be pasted over the name of the former nominee.

Subd. 2. If after the ballots are printed it becomes necessary to remove the name of a nominee for whom a substitute nomination has not been made or to remove the name of an independent candidate in order to comply with Section 233 of this code, instead of having new ballots printed, the officer or board charged with the duty of furnishing the supplies for the election may make the change either by having the ballots overprinted to blot out the name of the candidate (and also the square beside the name in the case of paper ballots) or by furnishing blank pasters or stickers to be pasted over the name and square.

Subd. 3. When pasters are used, a paster shall be affixed to each ballot before the presiding judge of the precinct, or the absentee voting clerk, endorses his name on the ballot for identification, or before the opening of the polls where the voting is by use of a voting machine or a voting device to which ballot labels are attached. As used in this section, the term "ballots" includes ballot labels.

Art. 6.05. Form of the Ballot

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1]

Subd. 2. The designation of the election (e. g., "General Election, Travis County, Texas") and the date on which the election is held shall be printed at the top of the ballot, above the words "Official Ballot." All ballots prepared for the election shall be numbered consecutively beginning with No. 1 in each county if the election is to be held in a single county or part thereof, or is to be held in more than one county or part thereof and the result in each county is to be canvassed separately prior to the final canvass. In elections held by a city or other political subdivision of the State, all ballots for the election shall be numbered consecutively beginning with No. 1. The numbers shall be printed or stamped in consecutive order on all the ballots prepared for any election, with a separate number for each ballot, at the time of printing and before they are divided up and delivered to the election judges.

Subd. 4. When presidential electors are to be voted upon, their names shall not appear on the official ballot, but the names of the candidates for president and vice-president, respectively, of the political parties shall appear at the head of their respective tickets, printed as one race, and the names of each set of independent candidates for president and vice-president, printed as one race, shall be printed at the head of the independent column in the order determined under Subdivision 3 of Section 61c of this Code (Article 6.05c, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The votes for presidential candidates shall be canvassed, counted, and returns made in accordance with Section 171 and Section 172 of this Code (Articles 11.02 and 11.03, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 5 to 7]

Subd. 8. When constitutional amendments or other propositions are to be voted on, they shall appear once on each ballot in uniform style and type. Each proposition shall be submitted by printing the word "FOR" and beneath it the word "AGAINST" on the left-hand side of a single statement of the proposition, with a brace or parallel horizontal lines or other suitable device to show clearly to which proposition each "FOR" and "AGAINST" belongs. A square shall be printed on the left-hand side of the word "FOR" and of the word "AGAINST" in the statements submitting each proposition, and the following instruction note shall be printed immediately above the propositions: "Place an 'X' in the square beside the statement indicating the way you wish to vote." The provisions of this subdivision shall supersede all existing statutes on the form in which propositions are to be submitted in all elections where paper ballots are used and shall also supersede any conflicting enactment passed by the 60th Legislature at its regular session unless such enactment expressly excepts it from the operation of this subdivision.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 557, ch. 194, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1977; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 649, ch. 240, § 6, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 657, ch. 247, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1159, ch. 560, § 5, eff. Sept. 1, 1979.]

Art. 6.05b. Order of Party Columns on the Ballot

In any election held at the expense of the county, in which party columns appear on the official ballot, the columns shall be arranged in the following order, beginning on the left-hand side of the ballot:

(1) columns of parties with state organization which have nominated candidates to be voted on at the election, arranged in the order of the number of votes cast throughout the state for each party's candidate for Governor at the last preceding general election for that office, with the party whose candidate for Governor received the highest vote being placed in the first column;

(2) columns of parties without state organization which have nominated candidates to be voted on at the election;

(3) a column for independent candidates;

(4) a column for write-in candidates.

If there is no independent or nonpartisan candidate whose name is to be printed on the ballot, the column for independent candidates shall be omitted.

Where voting machines are used in the election and the columns on the ballot are arranged horizontally, the columns shall appear on the ballot in the order herein provided, beginning at the top of the ballot instead of on the left-hand side.

Order of Names of Candidates

Subd. 3.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 3(a) and 3(b)]

(c) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision apply to every runoff election following a general or special election, except runoff elections which are governed by Section 81 of this code (Article 7.16, Vernon's Texas Election Code) and runoff elections in home-rule cities which have charter provisions specifying a different method for determining the order of the names on the ballot in a runoff election.

Art. 6.06. How to Mark Ballot

In all elections, general, special, or primary, the voter shall place an "X" in the square beside the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote; provided, however, that if the voter places a plus sign (+) or a check mark (✓) or any other mark that clearly shows his intention, in such space, it shall be counted as a vote for that candidate, provided that no more names are thus marked than there are places to be filled. When party columns appear on the ballot, a voter desiring to vote a straight ticket may do so by placing an "X" or other clear mark in the square at the head of the column of the party for which he wishes to vote. If the name of the person for whom the voter wishes to vote is not printed on the ballot, the voter shall write in the name of the candidate for whom he wishes to vote, in the write-in column under the appropriate office title in elections where party columns appear on the ballot, and in an appropriate space under the title of the office in other elections; provided, however, that a voter shall not be entitled to vote for any candidate whose name is not printed on the ballot in any runoff election for nominating candidates or electing officers, and a space for write-in votes shall not be provided on the ballot for such elections. A voter shall also not be entitled to vote for any candidate whose name is not printed on the ballot in any other type of election where the law expressly prohibits votes for write-in candidates. In all elections where questions or propositions are to be voted on, the voter shall place an "X" or other clear mark in the square beside the statement indicating the way he wishes to vote on each proposition. The failure of a voter to mark his ballot in strict conformity with these directions or failure to vote a full ballot shall not invalidate the ballot, and a ballot shall be counted on all races and propositions wherein the intention of the voter is clearly ascertainable, except where the law expressly prohibits the counting of the ballot. It is specifically provided that the election officers shall not refuse to count a ballot because of the voter's having marked his ballot by scratching out the names of candidates for whom or the statement of propositions for which he does not wish to vote.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 557, ch. 194, § 4, eff. Sept. 1, 1977; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1159, ch. 560, § 6, eff. Sept. 1, 1979.]

Art. 6.06b. Write-in Candidate for Public Office; Declaration of Candidacy

Elections to Which Applicable; Procedure for Filing Declaration

Subd. 1. In the general election for state and county officers held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of even-numbered years, no write-in vote may be counted for a person unless that person files a declaration of write-in candidacy within the time specified in Subdivision 2 or Subdivision 3 of this section, whichever is applicable. The declaration shall be filed with the same person with whom an independent candidate for the same office files his application to have his name printed on the ballot. It shall contain the same information as that required on the application of a candidate whose name is to be printed on the ballot, but shall state that the person is running as a write-in candidate instead of requesting that his name be printed on the ballot.

Filing Deadline

Subd. 2. Except as provided in Subdivision 3 of this section, the declaration of write-in candidacy must be filed not later than 5 p. m. of the last day which is not a Saturday, a Sunday, or an official state holiday, preceding the beginning of the period for absentee voting in the election. The declaration must reach the office of the appropriate officer by that deadline, and a mailing without a delivery by the deadline is not sufficient.

Extended Deadline

Subd. 3. Where a candidate whose name is to be printed on the ballot dies or is declared ineligible to hold this office on or after the second day preceding the filing deadline stated in Subdivision 2 of this section, a write-in candidate may file his declaration at any time before 12 noon of the day preceding election day. Absentee ballots voted before the death or ineligibility or before the filing of the declaration of write-in candidacy shall be counted in the same manner as if the write-in candidate had filed under Subdivision 2.

Certification of Filing

Subd. 4. On a declaration which is filed under Subdivision 2 of this section, the officer with whom it is filed shall certify the name of the write-in candidate to the clerk for absentee voting in the election (or to each clerk, if there is more than one), before the absentee voting begins. On a declaration which is filed under Subdivision 3, he shall notify the clerk for absentee voting immediately if the period for applying for an absentee ballot has not expired. He shall also certify the name of each write-in candidate to the officer who is in charge of distribution of ballots to the presiding judges of the election.

Notification to Presiding Election Judges

Subd. 5. (a) Before election day, the officer having charge of distribution of the ballots for the election shall furnish to each presiding judge a sufficient number of copies of a list of the names of write-in candidates who have qualified under this section so that the presiding judge shall be able to comply with the requirements of Subsection (b) of this subdivision.

(b) Each presiding judge shall post a copy of the list of write-in candidates in the same locations where instruction cards are posted in accordance with Section 80, Texas Election Code (Article 7.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code) and Section 85, Texas Election Code (Article 8.03, Vernon's Texas Election Code), or in the same location where sample ballots are posted in accordance with Section 80, Texas Election Code (Article 7.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code) and Section 79, Texas Election Code (Article 7.14, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Art. 6.07. Constitutional Amendments and Other Questions

Subd. 1a. A proposed constitutional amendment submitted to the voters by the legislature in the Called Special Session of the 65th Legislature shall be designated "Tax Relief Amendment," and the place of the amendment on the ballot shall be determined by the legislature in the resolution proposing the amendment.

Subd. 2. A notice of each proposed constitutional amendment shall be published, under the authority of the Secretary of State, as required by Section 1, Article XVII, Constitution of Texas. The Secretary of State shall contract with the eligible newspapers for the publication of the notices; shall furnish affidavit forms, in duplicate, to be executed by the owner, editor or publisher of the newspaper, when two publications have been made; shall furnish one approved copy of each executed affidavit to the Comptroller, who shall then authorize the Treasurer to issue a warrant in the amount specified. Executed affidavits must be returned from the owner, editor, or publisher of the newspaper to the Secretary of State within 30 days from the date of the last publication; unless this time limit is observed, the Secretary of State shall refrain from approving affidavits for payment. Provided, however, if the Secretary of State deems it more expeditious or economical, he may make a written contract with any state-wide association of daily and weekly newspapers in Texas for the publication of the notices of such constitutional amendments in newspapers eligible to publish them. Such association shall cause such notices to be published in the eligible newspapers in the manner required by the Constitution; shall furnish such materials as are necessary for a correct and uniform publication of such notices; shall furnish affidavit forms, in duplicate, to such newspapers, to be executed by the owner, editor, or publisher thereof, when two publications have been made; shall make an itemized report to the Secretary of State showing the names of all the newspapers in which such notices were published, the number of column inches submitted to each publication, the cost of publication in each newspaper, together with a clipping for such newspaper, and any other information desired by the Secretary of State pertaining to such task; shall return within 30 days from the date of the last publication all affidavits executed by the owner, editor, or publisher of such newspapers, together with an affidavit executed in duplicate by the general manager of such association that the notices have been published by said newspapers as required by the Constitution, to the Secretary of State, who shall, after satisfying himself as to the proper publication of such notices, furnish one approved copy of the executed affidavit of the general manager of the association to the Comptroller, who shall authorize the Treasurer to issue a warrant in the amount specified to the association. The Comptroller and Treasurer shall forthwith perform their duties in this connection, so that undue length of time shall not elapse between publication and payment therefor. The Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient fund for such publication, such fund to be estimated by the Secretary of State.

Subd. 2a. (a) Where the Secretary of State contracts directly with the newspapers for publication of notices of proposed constitutional amendments, each newspaper which publishes a notice is entitled to be paid for the publication an amount computed at the rate of 85 percent of the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch if the Secretary of State furnishes to the newspaper a copy of the notice in the form of a camera-ready paste-up proof, a matrix, or a printing plate, and an amount computed at the full rate of the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch if the Secretary of State does not furnish a copy of the notice in that form.

(b) Where the Secretary of State contracts with a state-wide association of newspapers for the publication of the notices, the association is entitled to be paid an amount equal to the sum of the cost of publication in each newspaper, computed at the full rate of each newspaper's national rate for advertising per column inch. The commission retained by the association shall be on a percentage basis uniformly applied to all newspapers, and the percentage shall be stipulated in the contract between the Secretary of State and the association.

Art. 6.09. Ballots Furnished

(a) The authority responsible for furnishing the ballots in an election shall furnish each election precinct a number of ballots sufficient to conduct the election. The official ballots to be counted before delivery and sealed up and together with the instruction cards, with poll lists, tally sheets, distance markers, returning blanks and stationery, shall be delivered to the precinct judges, and the number of each endorsed on the package, and entered of record by the clerk in the minutes of the Commissioners Court or, in an election ordered by an authority of a political subdivision other than a county, on the minutes of the governing body of that subdivision. In like manner, shall be sent the list of qualified voters for the precinct certified to by the collector.

(b) The number of ballots delivered for use in absentee voting and the range of serial numbers on those ballots and on the ballots delivered for use in regular voting on election day shall also be entered of record in the minutes.

Arrangement of Ballot and Write-in Vote in Certain Counties Sec. 16a.

(b) In any election in which, pursuant to the authorization in paragraph (a) hereof, the ballot is so arranged that the write-in slot on the voting machine cannot be utilized, and the election is one in which write-in voting is permitted, a sufficient supply of write-in ballots as described herein shall be provided at each polling place. The ballots shall bear the heading prescribed in Subdivision 2 of Section 61 of this code, as amended (Article 6.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code), with the substitution of the words "Official Write-in Ballot" for "Official Ballot," and shall bear the following instruction note: "Do not cast a vote on the voting machine for the office for which you cast a ballot herewith by way of a write-in." The instruction note for the write-in ballot for a general election for state and county officers shall contain the following additional sentence: "If you pull the straight-party lever of a political party that has a nominee for the office for which you are casting a write-in vote, be sure to turn up the selector key by the name of the nominee before you pull the voting lever." Beneath the instruction note there shall appear the following:

For the office of:

(Title of office)

If an open write-in campaign is being conducted for more than one office, the ballots shall provide as many spaces as there are offices for which write-in campaigns are being conducted.

Each voter is entitled, but is not required, to receive one official write-in ballot. The procedure outlined in Section 93 of this code, as amended (Article 8.11, Vernon's Texas Election Code), shall be observed in the authentication and delivery of the ballot to the voter. After filling in the write-in ballot, the voter shall deposit the ballot in a ballot box prepared for that purpose in the manner provided for elections conducted by use of paper ballots. No write-in ballot shall be cast or counted for any person whose name appears on the ballot on the voting machine.

Provided however, that the following affidavit shall be signed by any voter who receives an official write-in ballot.

STATE OF TEXAS

The presiding judge, in the presence of at least two clerks and two watchers of opposed interest (if such there be) and of any other person lawfully present who wishes to observe, shall take the necessary steps to secure a printed record from each machine. Ample opportunity shall be given to all persons lawfully entitled to be present at the polling place to examine the printed record. The printed record shall then be signed by the presiding judge and two clerks and by two watchers of opposed interest (if such there be), certifying that the printed record was obtained from the machine designated thereon, and the certified printed record shall constitute the official statement of canvass for that machine.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 2(a)]

(b) "Automatic tabulating equipment" or "tabulating equipment" means any apparatus which automatically examines and counts voted ballots and tabulates the results.

Examination and Approval of Electronic Voting Systems

Subd. 3.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 3(a)]

(b) Before making and filing his report, the Secretary of State shall require the system to be examined by three examiners to be appointed by the Secretary of State for such purpose, one of whom shall be expert in patent law, one of whom shall be expert in electronic data processing, and one of whom shall be expert in election law and procedure, and shall require from them a written report on their examination, which shall be attached to the Secretary of State's report and kept on file. Each examiner shall receive one hundred and fifty dollars as his compensation and expenses in making the examination and report. Neither the Secretary of State nor any examiner shall have any pecuniary interest in any electronic voting system. When a system has been approved, every improvement or change must be filed with the Secretary of State. The Secretary of State may, at any time, in his discretion, reexamine an electronic voting system. Any electronic voting system not approved as herein provided cannot be used at any election in this state.

Adoption by Commissioners Court

Subd. 5. (a) The commissioners court of any county in the state may adopt one or more kinds of approved electronic voting systems for use in elections in part or all of the election precincts in the county or in part or all of the conduct of absentee voting, or both. If a particular system is not adopted for use throughout the county, the commissioners court shall designate the precincts in which such system is to be used, and any other authorized method of voting may be used in the remaining precincts. In any precinct designated for use of a particular electronic voting system, the voting in that precinct may be supplemented by use of some other authorized method of voting when in any election it appears that the number of available units of the system designated for use in that precinct is inadequate for that election; and the officer or board charged with the duty of furnishing supplies of the election may make such supplementation under those conditions.

(b) The commissioners court at any time may rescind or modify its previous order or orders adopting any electronic voting system and may discontinue use of the system altogether.

(c) The electronic voting system adopted by the commissioners court shall be used at the biennial general elections for state and county officers in precincts and for absentee voting as designated by the court for use of such system. In all other elections, general, special, or primary, the authority holding the election shall determine within its discretion whether the voting for the particular election shall be by use of such system or by some other authorized method of voting. The determination shall be made by the commissioners court in elections held at the expense of the county, by the governing body of the municipality or political subdivision in elections held by municipalities and other political subdivisions, and by the county executive committee of the party holding the election in primary elections of political parties.

Experimental Use of Electronic Voting Systems

Subd. 6. The commissioners court of any county in the state may secure, for experimental use in elections in one or more precincts or for absentee voting, without formal adoption thereof, any kind of electronic voting system approved by the Secretary of State, and its use at any election in designated precincts or for absentee voting within the period specified by the commissioners court for experimental use of such electronic voting system shall be as valid for all purposes as if it has been formally adopted; provided, however, that the period for experimental use shall not exceed two years from the date of the order authorizing its use.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 7 and 8]

Absentee Voting

Subd. 9. (a) When an electronic voting system has been adopted by the commissioners court, then the system may be used in any election for absentee voting by personal appearance or by mail, or both. The authority charged with holding the election may within its discretion determine by proper resolution or order whether or not an electronic voting system will be used for absentee voting by personal appearance or by mail, or both, at such election. If an electronic voting system is to be used for such absentee voting and more than one kind of system has been adopted by the commissioners court, the authority shall specify what kind is to be used.

(b) If the authority holding the election determines that an electronic voting system shall be used for absentee voting, the necessary ballots and voting equipment shall be provided in the clerk's office. The procedure for absentee voting where ordinary paper ballots are used shall be followed insofar as it can be made applicable. If an electronic voting system is used for voting by personal appearance and the absentee ballots voted by mail are counted manually, such ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board as provided in Subdivision 6 of Section 37 of this code (Subdivision 6, Article 5.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code), except that the county clerk shall deliver the ballots to the canvassing board when the presiding judge so directs. The board shall also prepare the voted electronic voting system ballots for delivery to the central counting station in the manner provided in Subdivision 19 of this section, and such ballots shall be delivered to the central counting station and there tabulated, as provided in Subdivisions 19 and 20 of this section. The presiding judge of the central counting station shall add and attach the results of any manually counted ballots and attach the results of any write-in votes to the tabulation made on the automatic tabulating equipment, and shall make returns showing the totals thus obtained.

(c) When absentee ballots voted by personal appearance or by mail are to be marked with an ordinary pen or pencil in the manner that ordinary paper ballots are marked, and the absentee ballots are to be counted manually, the ballots shall be handled in the manner provided in Section 37 of this code (Subdivision 6, Article 5.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code) for the handling of absentee paper ballots, and shall be counted and tallied by a special canvassing board in the same way that ordinary paper ballots are tallied.

Subd. 11.

(4) Repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 661, ch. 247, § 11, eff. Aug. 29, 1977

(5) In elections in which party columns appear on the ordinary paper ballot, the following method of showing party affiliations may be used in lieu of party columns. The title of each office shall be printed on the ballot followed by the names of the candidates for that office and their party affiliations, if any. Provision shall be made at the head of the ballot for voting a straight party ticket, and the candidate of the party which is printed in the first party column on ordinary paper ballots shall be printed in the first position under the office title, the candidate of the party which is printed in the second column on ordinary paper ballots shall be printed in the second position, and so on. Uncontested races may be listed separately from contested races under the heading "Uncontested Races," and may be voted on as a bloc.

(c) This paragraph (c) shall govern the form of the ballot to be used with electronic voting systems in which the names of offices, candidates and parties and statements of measures to be voted on are set forth on ballot labels and the voter records his vote by marking or punching a ballot card which is used in conjunction with the ballot labels.

(1) Ballot cards may be of such size, composition, texture and color (other than yellow, which shall be used for sample ballots only) and may be printed in any type of ink or combinations of ink that will be suitable for use in the automatic tabulating equipment in which they are intended to be placed. Ballot labels may be of such size, composition, texture and color (other than yellow) that will be suitable for the intended manner of use. Printing on the ballot label shall be of such size that it will be clearly legible when read by the voter in the manner contemplated by the voting system being used.

(2) Ballot cards may contain printed code marks or prepunched holes to assure that the card is properly positioned in the voting device, if the ballot labels are attached to a voting device, or to assure that the card is placed in correct reading position in the tabulating equipment, but the code marks or prepunched holes shall not be used in any way that will reveal the identity of the voters voting the ballots.

(3) The names of candidates, offices, parties and statements of issues to be voted on may be printed on two or more ballot labels. Where all candidates for the same office or all party columns cannot conveniently be placed on the same face of the same label, the candidates or columns may be carried on more than one page, but in such event the first page of the sequence shall contain a statement that the names of other candidates or other parties appear on the following page or pages. If the ballot is printed on more than one ballot label, different tints of paper, other than yellow, may be used for different pages of the ballot labels, and other suitable means may be adopted to facilitate the use of the ballot labels with the ballot card. When party columns appear on the ballot, there shall be printed at the head of the ballot the names of the parties and a space for voting a straight ticket.

(5) The ballot card may have attached at the top an unnumbered detachable stub, which may contain the designation and date of the election and the instructions for marking the ballot and depositing it in the ballot box. The stub shall contain an instruction to the voter not to detach the stub; however, detachment of the stub before the ballot is deposited in the ballot box does not invalidate the ballot card. The election officers who prepare the voted ballot cards for counting shall detach and discard the stubs at the time they examine the ballots as provided in paragraph (a) of Subdivision 19 of this section.

(6) If the number of candidates and/or propositions to be voted upon in any election exceeds the capacity of one ballot card, the ballot may be divided into parts and a different ballot card used for each of the separate parts, but in all cases where more than one card is necessary to accommodate the entire ballot, the names of all candidates for any particular office shall be placed on the same part. A separate voting device shall be provided for each part at each polling place. Each ballot card shall bear the ballot number, and other appropriate provisions may be made for identifying the related ballot cards. In lieu of using separate ballot parts for listing the ballot, uncontested races may be listed separately under the heading "Uncontested Races," with the name of each candidate appearing under the title of the office for which he is a candidate, and if the election is one in which party columns appear on the ballot, the party affiliation of the candidate shall be indicated by printing the name of the party which nominated him (or the word "Independent" if he is an independent candidate) after the candidate's name; and all such uncontested races may be voted on as a bloc.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 11(c)(7)]

(8) A separate write-in ballot, which may be in the form of a card, ballot, or envelope which the voter places with his ballot or ballot card after voting, shall be provided to permit voters to vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot.

(d) This paragraph (d) shall apply to the form of the ballot for all electronic voting systems.

(2) The statement of propositions and measures submitted to the voters may be abbreviated on the ballot if necessary, provided there is displayed at the polling place the verbatim statement on each proposition or measure as it appears on paper ballots. Abbreviation of matter to be voted on throughout the state shall be done by the Secretary of State.

Preparation of Ballot and Program

Subd. 11a. (a) The ballots to be used at an election shall be prepared and procured under the same regulations as ordinary paper ballots, except that the officer responsible for making up the ballot may determine the number of ballots or ballot cards needed for the election based on the turnout for similar elections in the past and shall confer with the programmer for that election before ordering the ballots printed, to make sure that the ballot is properly prepared for counting by means of the electronic tabulating equipment which will be used.

(b) The authority charged with the duty to provide ballots shall select a competent person to prepare the program for the electronic tabulating equipment. The programmer may be one of the persons appointed or approved by the commissioners court under Paragraph (b), Subdivision 20 of this section or some other person, but if the program is prepared by anyone other than the tabulation supervisor, it must be submitted to the tabulation supervisor for his approval at least 10 days before the election.

Assistance to Voter

Subd. 14. If a voter is unable to read the language in which the ballot is printed or if because of some bodily infirmity he is physically unable to operate the voting equipment or to see, he may be assisted by two election officers, or by a person selected by the voter, who shall mark the ballot in accordance with the voter's wishes. The provisions of Section 95 of this code¹ govern the assistance rendered insofar as they can be made applicable.

Ballot boxes

Subd. 15. For each polling place where an electronic voting system is used, there shall be supplied two ballot boxes for the deposit of voted ballots, which shall be of suitable design and with a suitable opening for placing the ballots therein in such manner that the ballots will not be damaged or rendered unfit for counting on the tabulating equipment. There shall also be supplied suitable containers for transporting the voted ballots to the central counting station.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 16]

Conduct of the Voting

Subd. 17. (a) The procedure at the polls where voting is by use of an electronic voting system shall be the same as at polling places where paper ballots are used, except as provided in this section. Where the portion of the ballot to be marked by the voter consists of more than one page or ballot card, the related parts may be placed in an envelope or otherwise secured so that the parts will not become separated before delivery to the voter. When a voter selects his ballot, he shall be instructed to use only the voting equipment provided for marking the ballot and that he is not to mark his ballot in any other way and is not to place any other marks thereon, except for write-ins. After a voter has marked his ballot, he shall deposit it in the ballot box provided for the deposit of voted ballots.

Procedure while Polls are Open

Subd. 18. (a) At any time after the expiration of one hour after the voting has begun, the presiding judge may direct the receiving officers to deliver ballot box No. 1 to the clerks preparing the ballots for the central counting station, who shall immediately deliver in its place ballot box No. 2, which shall be opened and examined and securely closed and locked; and until the boxes are again interchanged, the voters shall deposit their ballots in box No. 2. In this manner, ballot boxes No. 1 and No. 2 may be interchanged periodically as directed by the presiding judge, but the box for receiving the ballots shall not be exchanged and the ballots shall not be removed from it at any time before the polls are closed unless there are more than 10 ballots in the box. Once the box for receiving the ballots is delivered to the clerks preparing the ballots for the central counting station, they shall remove the voted ballots from the ballot box and carry out the procedures prescribed in Subdivision 19 of this section preparatory to making the ballots, envelopes, and other materials ready for delivery to the central counting station.

(b) The authority holding the election may in its discretion also provide that voted ballots of designated precincts shall be delivered by authorized election officials, in the presence of watchers, to a central counting station at stated intervals during the day and that the processing of such ballots in accordance with the procedures prescribed in Subdivision 20 may begin prior to the close of the polls. Such processing may be limited by the authority holding the election to procedures preparatory to the counting and tabulating of ballots, or the authority holding the election may also permit the preliminary counting and tabulating of ballots with automatic tabulating equipment; but in no event shall any results be disclosed prior to the close of the polls, and all persons connected with the handling and tabulating of the ballots shall be subject to the provisions of Section 105 of this code (Article 8.23, Vernon's Texas Election Code) with respect to revealing information as to the results of the election.

Procedure after Polls are Closed

Subd. 19.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 19(a) to (e)]

(f) After the election officers at the polling place have delivered all ballots to the central counting station, the ballot label assemblies and all other election supplies and records, including all duplicate certificates and unused seals, shall be delivered to the proper authority designated by law to receive them.

Art. 7.16. Runoff Elections in Cities and Towns of over 200,000

Sec. 1. In all cities and towns in this State, whether incorporated under General and Special Law, (including home rule cities) having a population in excess of two hundred thousand (200,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding or future Federal Census the election of candidates for all municipal offices shall be determined in the following manner:

(b) In the event any candidate for either of said offices fails to receive a majority of all votes cast for all the candidates for such office at such election the Mayor of said city shall, on the first day following the completion of the official count of the ballots cast at said first election, issue a call for a second election to be held in said city within thirty (30) days following the issuance of such call, at which said second election the two (2) candidates receiving the highest number of votes for any such office in the first election at which no one was elected at said first election by receiving a majority of all votes cast for all candidates for such office, shall again be voted for. The official ballot to be used at said second election shall be prepared by the City Clerk or City Secretary and the name of no person shall appear thereon unless he was a candidate for the office designated at said first election, and the two (2) persons receiving at said first election the first and second highest number of votes cast for candidates for such office at such first election shall be entitled to have their names printed on said official ballot in the order of their standing in the computation of the votes cast for such candidates at said first election as candidates at said second election for such office; provided, however, that in the event any person who was a candidate at said first election and who shall be entitled to become a candidate at such second election shall fail to request that his name shall appear on the official ballot therefor at such second election as herein provided, the candidate for such office standing next highest in the computation of votes shall succeed to the rights of such candidate who failed to request that his name appear upon the ballot at said second election; provided further, that two (2) candidates for such office at said first election shall be entitled to become candidates therefor at said second election, which two (2) candidates shall be those two (2) among such candidates as shall stand highest respectively in the computation of all votes cast for all the candidates for such office at said first election as shall file written request to be placed on the official ballot as candidates for such office at said second election. In the event of a tie in the vote for the two (2) leading candidates for any office at said first election, said office shall be filled at a second election as herein provided for, at which such candidates so tied in said first election may again become candidates. In the event such candidates who tied in said first election, or either or them, shall fail so to do, the two (2) candidates for such office who are next highest in the computation of votes therefor and who desire to become candidates therefor at said second election shall be entitled so to do in order of the number of votes they respectively received at said first election. In the event of a tie between the two (2) candidates for any office at said second election, they shall cast lots to determine who shall be elected to such office.

Sec. 2. Notwithstanding any provision in Section 1 of this statute, when in any municipal election nominations have been made by one or more political parties and the names of the candidates are listed on the ballot in party columns in conformity with the provisions of this code applicable to the method of voting used in the election, if any party nominee is a candidate in a succeeding runoff election, the ballot for the runoff election shall also be arranged in party columns in the same relative order as they appeared on the ballot for the first election, omitting any column in which no candidate's name is to be printed on the runoff ballot. If all candidates whose names appear on the runoff ballot are independent candidates, the ballot shall be made up without party columns, and the names of the two candidates in each race shall be printed on the ballot in the order of their standing in the computation of the votes cast at the first election.

Sec. 3. Whenever any home-rule city whose charter provides for election of more than one member of its governing body from the same list of candidates attains a population in excess of 200,000 inhabitants, not later than the 90th day before the first regular election at which the provisions of this section are applicable, the governing body of the city shall assign a place number to each such position, identifying it by the name of the incumbent member at the time the designation is made; and thereafter one person to fill each such position shall be elected separately by place number until such time as the charter is amended to provide for some other method of election that is consistent with an election by majority vote.

Sec. 4. This law does not apply to any city whose charter provides for the selection of its officers by means of a preferential type of ballot or to any city whose charter requires that its officers be elected by majority vote and specifies the procedures for conducting a runoff election.

The 1977 amendatory act repealed former § 3 of this article, renumbered and amended former § 2 as § 4 and added new §§ 2 and 3.

Art. 7.17a. Secretary of State to Certify Voting Devices

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation owning or controlling any voting device or system and desiring to have the same adopted for use in this state may apply to the secretary of state to have such device or system examined under the provisions of this section if in the opinion of the secretary of state the device or system cannot be adequately examined under either Section 79 or Section 80 of this code (Article 7.14 or Article 7.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code). Before the examination the applicant shall pay to the secretary of state the sum of $450. The secretary of state shall cause the device or system to be examined as hereinafter provided and shall make and file and keep on file in the office of the secretary of state a report of such examination, which shall show whether the kind of device or system so examined can safely be used by the voters under the conditions hereinafter provided. If the report states that the device or system can be so used, it shall be deemed approved and the device or system may be adopted for use in any election held in this state. Before making and filing such report, the secretary of state shall require the voting device or system to be examined by three examiners to be appointed by the secretary of state for such purpose, one of whom shall be an expert in patent law and the other two shall be mechanical experts or electronics experts, as may be appropriate, and shall require each of them to make a written report on such device or system, which reports shall be attached to the secretary of state's report and kept on file. Each examiner shall receive the sum of $150 as his compensation and expenses in making an examination and report as to each voting device or system examined by him. Neither the secretary of state nor any examiner may have any pecuniary interest in any voting device or system. When a device or system has been approved, every improvement or change must be filed with the secretary of state. The secretary of state may, at any time, in his discretion, reexamine a device or system approved under this section. Any form of voting device or system not approved under either this section or Section 79 or 80 of this code cannot be used at any election in this state.

(b) A voting device or system approved by the secretary of state must be so constituted as to provide facilities for voting for such candidates as may be legally placed on an official ballot in any election in this state. It must also permit a voter in a general election to vote for any person for any office, whether or not nominated as a candidate by any party but whose name is legally on the ballot as an independent candidate, and must permit voting in absolute secrecy. It also must be so constituted that a voter cannot vote for a candidate or on a proposition for whom or on which he is not lawfully entitled to vote. It also must be so constituted as to prevent a voter from having his vote counted for more than one person for the same office, unless permitted by law, and at the same time preventing his vote from being counted for the same person twice. It must also permit each voter to vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, in any election and for any office where write-in votes are permitted by law. It must also permit the voter to vote by means of a single mark or punch or other appropriate act for all the candidates of one party or to vote a split ticket as he desires. No voting device or system shall be approved by the secretary of state unless he finds that it is suitable for the purpose for which it is intended, and that it will operate efficiently and accurately and provide adequate safeguards against fraudulent manipulation under the conditions under which it is intended to be used.

(c) In the event a voting system is approved under this section for which this code prescribes no applicable or suitable procedures concerning its use, the secretary of state shall, upon certification of such system, issue a directive prescribing the procedures, limitations, and conditions for the implementation of such system.

CHAPTER EIGHT. CONDUCTING ELECTIONS AND RETURNS THEREOF

Article

8.19b. Tallying Votes of Write-in Candidates.

8.36a. County Chairmen to Send Lists of Elected Party Nominees to State Chairman.

Art. 8.07. Present Registration Certificate

No citizen shall be permitted to vote, except as provided in the Constitution of Texas unless he first presents to the judge of election his registration certificate unless the same has been lost or mislaid, or left at home, in which event he shall make an affidavit of that fact, to be left with the judges and sent by them with the returns of the election; provided, that, if since he obtained his certificate he removes from the precinct or county of his residence, he may vote on complying with other provisions of this Code. The affidavit may be incorporated into any combination signature roster and list of registered voters as prescribed by the secretary of state. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 592, ch. 209, § 4, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 8.08. Procedure for Accepting Voter; Signature Roster

Subd. 1. An election officer shall receive from the voter his registration certificate, when he presents himself to vote. If the voter has lost or mislaid his certificate or left it at home, he shall make an affidavit of that fact. For elections held on or after April 1 and no later than June 30 in even-numbered years, if any voter who is a resident of a county in a primary election or of a county, municipality, or district which is conducting any other election has failed to receive a certificate for the current two-year registration period, the election officer shall determine if the name of such voter appears on the list of cancelled voter registration certificates for the particular election precinct, and, if so, the election officer shall allow such voter to cast a ballot in the manner stated in Section 48a of this code. The election officer shall announce the voter's name in an audible voice and shall ascertain that his name appears on the list of registered voters or shall satisfy himself, in the manner stated in Section 48a of this code, that the voter is a registered voter and is entitled to vote in that precinct. He shall then require the voter to sign the signature roster provided for in Subdivision 3 of this section. If the voter has presented his registration certificate, the election officer shall compare the signature on the roster with the signature on the certificate to see that it is the same. If he finds that the signatures do not correspond, he shall not allow the voter to vote unless the voter complies with the procedure prescribed in Section 91 of this code for acceptance of a challenged voter.

Subd. 2. When a voter is accepted for voting, the election officer shall place a notation on the list of registered voters showing that he has voted and shall enter the voter's name on the poll list or shall use a combination signature roster and list of registered voters in the manner and format prescribed by the secretary of state. If a separate poll list is used, the names on the poll list shall be entered in the same order as the names on the signature roster. The officer shall return the registration certificate to the voter and shall allow him to select his ballot. The voter shall then immediately retire to a voting booth or a place prepared for voting by the election officers, and there prepare his ballot in the manner provided by law.

Subd. 4. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code which prescribes a criminal penalty, an election officer who knowingly violates any provision of this section shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not more than 90 days, or be both so fined and imprisoned.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2079, ch. 681, § 20, eff. June 20, 1975; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 593, ch. 209, § 5, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1215, ch. 468, § 4, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 8.09. Vote Challenged

When a person offering to vote at any general, special, or primary election shall be objected to by an election judge or clerk, a poll watcher, or any other person, the presiding judge shall examine him upon oath touching the points of such objection, and if such person establishes his right to vote to the satisfaction of the presiding judge, he shall be permitted to vote, and the word "sworn" shall be written upon the poll list or on the prescribed combination form opposite the name of the voter. If upon his own oath the person fails to establish his right to vote to the satisfaction of the presiding judge, his vote shall not be accepted unless in addition to his own oath he submits proof by the oath of one well-known resident of the precinct that he is a qualified voter at such election and in such precinct. When such proof is submitted, his vote shall be accepted, and the word "challenged" and the name and address of the person testifying under oath as to the voter's qualifications shall be written on the poll list or on the prescribed combination form opposite the name of the voter.

Art. 8.13. Aid to Voter

Subd. 1. Not more than one person at the same time shall be permitted to occupy any one compartment, voting booth or place prepared for a voter, nor shall any assistance be given a voter in preparing his ballot, except when a voter is unable to prepare the same because of the voter's inability to read the language in which the ballot is printed or because of some bodily infirmity which renders the voter physically unable to write or to see, in which case two officers of such election shall assist the voter (with the aid of an interpreter, when necessary), they having first sworn that they will not suggest, by word or sign or gesture, how such voter shall vote; that they will confine their assistance to answering the voter's questions, to stating the propositions to be voted on, and to naming candidates and the political parties to which they belong; and that they will prepare the voter's ballot as such voter directs. If the election is a general election, the election officers who assist such voters shall be of different political parties, if there be such officers present. One or more watchers may be present when the assistance herein permitted is being given by election officers, but each watcher must remain silent except in cases of irregularity or violation of the law.

Subd. 2. Instead of being assisted by two election officers as provided in Subdivision 1 of this section, a voter who is entitled to assistance may select any qualified voter residing in the precinct to assist him, subject to the restriction stated in Section 330a of this code,¹ and no other person shall be permitted to be present while the ballot is being prepared. Before assisting the voter, the person selected shall take the following oath, which shall be administered by one of the election officers: "I solemnly swear that I will not suggest, by word or sign or gesture, how the voter shall vote; I will confine my assistance to answering the voter's questions, to stating propositions to be voted on and to naming candidates and the political parties to which they belong; and I will prepare the voter's ballot as the voter directs." The election officer who administers the oath shall cause a notation of the name and address of the person rendering the assistance to be entered on the poll list by the name of the voter who is assisted, together with a notation of the person's kinship to the voter if related as parent, grandparent, spouse, child, brother, or sister.

Subd. 3. Where any assistance is rendered in preparing a ballot other than as herein allowed, the ballot shall not be counted, but shall be void for all purposes.

Subd. 4. When an election officer assists a voter, the officer shall read the entire ballot to the voter unless the voter informs the officer that he wishes to vote only in certain specified races. When a voter is to be assisted by someone other than an election officer, the officer who waits on the voter shall ask the voter if he wants the entire ballot read to him, and if the voter says that he does, the officer shall instruct the person who will render the assistance that he must read the entire ballot to the voter.

Art. 8.15. Deposit of Ballot

Subd. 1. After the voter has prepared his ballot, he shall fold it so as to conceal the printing thereon and so as to expose the signature of the presiding judge on the back of the ballot (except that ballot cards and certain other types of ballots used in electronic voting systems should not be folded), and then deposit it in the proper ballot box.

Subd. 2. The ballot stub to be signed by the voter and the stub box for the deposit of the signed stub, formerly provided for in this and other sections of this code, are eliminated by amendments enacted by the 65th Legislature at its regular session in 1977. All statutory provisions relating to the use of ballot stubs and stub boxes which appear in other statutes enacted at the regular session of the 65th Legislature, regardless of whether they are enacted before or after this amendment, or enacted at any prior session, except provisions relating to stubs attached to ballot cards used in an electronic voting system, are to be treated as void.

Section 12 of the 1977 amendatory act provided:

"The statutory provisions relating to the preservation, examination, and destruction of ballot stubs which were in effect on the date of the election continue to apply to the ballot stubs for elections held before the effective date of this Act."

Art. 8.17. Bystanders Excluded

From the time of opening the polls until the announcement of the results of the canvass of votes cast and the signing of the official returns, the boxes and official ballots shall be kept at the polling place in the presence of one or more of the judges, and watchers, if any. No person, except those admitted to vote, shall be admitted within the room where the election is being held, except the judges, clerks, persons admitted by the presiding judge to preserve order, inspectors, watchers, and children under 10 years old who accompany a parent who is admitted to vote. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, the child or children may also be present in the voting booth or compartment while the parent is voting.

Art. 8.19b. Tallying Votes for Write-in Candidates

In the general election for state and county officers held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of even-numbered years, before the counting begins the presiding judge shall furnish the counting officers with the list of write-in candidates who have qualified for the election as provided in Section 62b of this code.¹ Only the names of the candidates printed on the ballot and the names of write-in candidates appearing on the list shall be entered on the tally sheets, and a write-in vote for any other person shall not be tallied.

Art. 8.22. Death or Ineligibility of Candidate Before Election

(a) When the name of a deceased or ineligible candidate is printed on the ballot for a general or special election, as provided in Section 233 of this code,¹ the votes cast for him shall be counted and return made thereof; and if he receives a plurality of the votes cast for the office where a plurality is sufficient for election, or if he receives a majority of the votes cast for the office where a majority is required for election, the vacancy shall be filled as in the case of a vacancy occurring after the election. If he is one of the two highest candidates in an election where a majority is required and no one has a majority, the two candidates with the highest votes other than the deceased or ineligible candidate shall be certified as the two highest candidates for the runoff election.

(b) If after the 45th day preceding the first primary election, a candidate in that primary dies or is declared ineligible to be elected to the office, his name shall be printed on the first primary ballot and the ballots cast for him shall be counted and a return made thereof. If such a deceased or ineligible candidate receives a majority of the votes, the proper executive committee shall choose a nominee and certify such name to the proper officer, as provided in Section 233 of this code, to be printed on the general election ballot. If such a deceased or ineligible candidate is one of the two highest candidates in that race in the first primary and if no one has a majority vote, the two candidates with the highest votes, other than the deceased or ineligible candidate, shall be certified to have their names printed on the second primary ballot. If a candidate whose name is to appear on the second primary ballot dies between the dates of the first and second primaries, his name shall be printed on the second primary ballot and the votes cast for him shall be counted and returned for him; and if such a deceased candidate receives a majority of the votes in the second primary, the proper executive committee shall choose a nominee and certify his name to the proper officer, as provided in Section 233 of this code, to be printed on the general election ballot. Withdrawal of a candidate in the second primary is regulated by Section 204a of this code.

(1) if the difference in the number of votes received by him and the next highest candidate above him is less than five percent of the number of votes received by such next highest candidate, as shown by the returns of the election officers, and the candidate seeking the recount would gain the election or nomination or a place on a runoff election ballot if the recount showed him to have received a greater number of votes than that opponent, or

(2) if one or more judges of the election make an uncontradicted affidavit stating that certain ballots cast for the office were counted or were not counted, as the case may be, and the Secretary of State certifies that, on the basis of the statements in the affidavit, the election officers were in error in either counting or failing to count the ballots, as the case may be, and further certifies that from the affidavit or affidavits submitted to him and on the basis of the unofficial returns it appears likely that the number of miscounted ballots were of sufficient number to change the result of the election in that race as it affects the candidate seeking the recount.

(b) In addition to recount grounds prescribed by Paragraph (a) of this subdivision, a candidate for nomination or election to an office may obtain a recount of the votes cast for the office on manually counted paper ballots in the manner outlined in this section if the candidate did not receive the greatest number of votes and if the total number of votes cast for all candidates for such office is less than 1,000, as shown by the returns.

(c) If the ground of the application for a recount is that prescribed by Paragraph (a)(1) or (b) of this subdivision, the request must be for a recount of all the ballots cast for the office in each and every election precinct, including the absentee ballots cast for the office; and the canvassing board shall order a complete recount.

(d) If the ground of the application is that prescribed by Paragraph (a)(2) of this subdivision, the candidate at his option may request a recount of all the ballots cast in the election or only the ballots cast in the election precincts in which the miscounting is alleged to have occurred; and if only a partial recount is requested, the canvassing board shall order a recount only of all the ballots cast in those precincts in which the Secretary of State certifies that ballots were erroneously counted or not counted.

Art. 9.38b. Compelling Voter to Testify how He Voted

In an election contest or criminal proceeding in which the issue is relevant, any voter who fraudulently or illegally casts a ballot or who casts a fraudulent or illegal ballot at any general, special, or primary election may be required and compelled, after the fraud or illegality has been established by competent evidence before a tribunal of competent jurisdiction, to disclose in testimony before the tribunal having jurisdiction of the matter the name of any candidate for whom he voted and the way he voted on any question at the election. The voter's testimony may be impeached by the testimony of other witnesses in regard to statements by the voter, either before or after the election, or by other competent evidence; and the issue of how the voter voted shall be decided on the basis of all the evidence before the tribunal. In an election contest, instead of undertaking to determine how individual voters voted, the tribunal may declare the election void and order another election if the number of illegal votes is sufficient to change the outcome of the election. This section applies to election contests and criminal proceedings instituted under any provision of this code or under any other statute of this state.

Art. 11.01. Time of Election; Qualifications of Electors

Subd. 1. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in the year 1980 and every four years thereafter, there shall be elected by the voters of the State as many electors for President and Vice-President of the United States as the State of Texas may at that time be entitled to elect.

Subd. 2. Each elector at the time of nomination as a presidential elector candidate, at the time of election, and at the time of the convening of the electors must be a registered, qualified voter of this state and must not hold the office of senator or representative in congress, or any office of trust or profit under the United States.

Art. 11.01b. Independent Candidate for President

Subd. 1. Any person eligible to hold the office of President of the United States may have his name and the name of a vice-presidential running mate printed on the ballot as independent candidates in the presidential race by complying with the provisions of this section.

Subd. 2. A person desiring to become an independent candidate for president shall file with the Secretary of State, not later than the second Monday in July before the general election at which his name will appear on the ballot:

- (1) an application to have his name and the name of an eligible vice-presidential candidate as his running mate printed on the ballot on a form prescribed by the Secretary of State;
- (2) the signed written consent of the person designated as the vice-presidential candidate to have his name printed on the ballot in that capacity;

- (4) a petition of voters signed by qualified voters of the state in a number equal to not less than one percent of the entire vote of the state cast for president and vice-president at the last preceding presidential general election.

Subd. 3. A petition may not be circulated for signatures until after the date of the general primary election in that election year, and any signature obtained on or before that date is void. A voter who voted in the general primary of any political party that held a presidential primary that year is ineligible to sign the petition of an independent candidate for president. The following statement shall appear at the head of each page of a petition: "I certify that I did not vote this year in the general primary election of any political party that held a presidential primary."

Subd. 4. The Secretary of State shall prescribe the form for the petition of voters to be filed by an independent candidate for president. For each signer the petition shall show the signer's address, the county of issuance and number of his voter registration certificate, and the date of signing. The petition may be in multiple parts. To each part shall be attached an affidavit of the person who circulated it, stating that he witnessed the affixing of each signature, that he called the attention of each signer to the statement at the head of the page before the person signed the petition, that the correct date of signing is shown on the petition, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name is signed. A petition so verified is prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and that the persons signing it are registered voters. [Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 647, ch. 240, § 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

No write-in vote cast for the office may be counted unless the person whose name is written in has complied with these requirements. The Secretary of State shall certify to the county clerks the names of write-in candidates who have complied with this section at the same time that he certifies the names of the presidential candidates to be printed on the ballot.

Subd. 2. A person desiring to become a write-in candidate for president shall file with the Secretary of State, not later than the 45th day before the general election:

Art. 11.02. Effect of Votes for Presidential Candidates

A vote for the set of candidates of any political party or for a set of independent or write-in candidates for both President and Vice-President of the United States shall be conclusively deemed to be a vote for the presidential elector candidates representing that party or that set of independent or write-in candidates, and shall be so counted and recorded for such electors as the state shall be empowered to elect. No vote shall be counted unless the voter has cast his vote for both the candidate for President and the candidate for Vice-President of the same political party or set of independent candidates. A ballot on which a voter has written in the name of a presidential candidate who has filed a declaration of write-in candidacy in accordance with this section shall be counted as a vote for the presidential elector candidates representing that write-in candidate, regardless of whether the name of the corresponding vice-presidential candidate is written in.

Art. 11.03. Canvass of Votes and Returns

The canvass of the votes for candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States and the returns thereof shall be a canvass and return of the votes cast for the electors of the same party or set of independent or write-in candidates, respectively, and the certificate of such election made by the Governor shall be in accord with such return.

At the head of the signature roster for each primary election there shall be printed the following statement: "I swear that I have not voted at a primary election or participated in a convention of any other political party during this voting year." The presiding judge or another election officer designated by him shall place each voter under oath and require him to swear to this statement before he signs the roster. The first time a voter presents his voter registration certificate at a primary election, the election officer shall stamp the appropriate party designation within the party affiliation space on the face of the certificate. If the voter is voting on a statement of a lost registration certificate, the presiding judge shall issue to him a certificate of his having voted, in the following form:

The county clerk shall keep the affidavits on file in alphabetical order within each precinct for a period of two years after the end of the voting year in which they are filed. The county clerk shall maintain a separate file for each political party.

(6) A voter registration certificate which has been stamped with a party designation, a certificate of having voted in a primary election, or a certificate of party affiliation issued by a precinct chairman, all as provided in this section, shall serve as evidence that the person whose name appears on the certificate is affiliated with the party designated on the certifi-

No fee shall be charged for any office of a political party.

(d) In lieu of the payment of a filing fee, a candidate may file a nominating petition which may be in multiple parts and must be signed by the qualified voters eligible to vote for the office for which the candidate is running as follows:

For statewide office, 5,000 signatures.

For district, county, precinct, or other political subdivisions, equal in number to at least two percent of the number of votes cast in the territory for that party's candidate for governor in the last preceding gubernatorial general election. However, in no event shall the number required be more than 500; and if two percent of the votes cast in the territory was less than 25, the number required is the lesser of 25 signatures or 10 percent of the number of votes cast.

Where a candidate is running in a district, county, or precinct which has been created or the boundaries of which have been changed since the last gubernatorial general election, he may request that the secretary of state in the case of a district or county office, or the county clerk of the county in which the precinct is situated in the case of a precinct office, make an estimate in advance of the filing deadline of the number of votes cast for that party's candidate for governor within that territory at the last gubernatorial election. Not later than the 15th day after receiving such a request, the officer shall make the estimate and notify the candidate, and also the officer with whom the candidate files his application. The estimate shall be used as the official basis for computing the number of signatures required on a petition. If an advance estimate is not requested, the officer with whom the petition is filed shall make the estimate, whenever necessary, before he acts on the sufficiency of the petition. In every instance, the candidate may challenge the accuracy of the estimate, and if he is dissatisfied with the final decision of the officer he may appeal the decision to any district court having jurisdiction in the territory involved.

The following statement shall appear at the head of each page of the petition: "I know the contents of this petition. I am a qualified voter eligible to vote in the forthcoming primary election of the (fill in name) Party for the office for which (fill in name) is a candidate. I have not signed the petition of a candidate who is running for any office² the primary of any other party. I understand that by signing this petition I become ineligible to affiliate with any other party or to participate in the primary elections, conventions, or other party affairs of any other party, including a party which is not holding a primary election, during the voting year in which this election is held, and that I am guilty of a misdemeanor if I attempt to do so."

To each part of the petition shall be attached an affidavit of the person who circulated it, stating that he called each signer's attention to the statement and read it to him before the signer affixed his signature to the petition, and further stating that he witnessed the affixing of each signature, that the correct date of signing is shown on the petition, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name is signed. A petition so verified is prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and the persons signing it are registered voters.

The petition must show the following information with respect to each signer: His address (including his street address if residing in a city, and his rural route address if not residing in a city), his current voter registration certificate number (also showing the county of issuance if the office includes more than one county), and the date of signing. The secretary of state shall prescribe a form for the petition before the 30th day prior to the filing deadline and provide copies of that form to the state chairman and the county chairmen of each party holding a primary election. However, a candidate may use any other form which complies with the requirements of this section. It is the specific intent of the legislature that there shall be no requirement for the administering of an oath to any person signing a petition under the provisions of this section.

A petition filed under this section shall be filed with the same officer with whom an application for a place on the ballot for the office being sought is to be filed and must be filed at the same time as such an application.

(e) The fees paid to the county chairman on applications filed with him pursuant to the provisions of Section 190 of this code, as amended (Article 13.12, Vernon's Texas Election Code), the apportionment of fees received from the state chairman pursuant to this subsection, and any contributions made to the county chairman or the county executive committee for the specific purpose of helping defray the costs of the primary elections shall be deposited to the credit of the primary fund referred to in Section 196 of this code, as amended (Article 13.18, Vernon's Texas Election Code), and shall be applied to payment of the costs of the primary elections. The county chairman and the committee may also use any other available funds toward defraying costs.

The remaining costs incurred shall be borne by the state except as otherwise provided by procedures outlined in this code. Within five days after the regular filing deadline, the chairman of the state executive committee shall forward to the secretary of state an itemized listing of all filing fees for statewide offices and for district offices collected on applications filed with him pursuant to Section 190. Within 10 days after the regular filing deadline, the state chairman shall also forward all filing fees for district offices collected by him pursuant to Section 190 to the county chairmen for the counties lying partially or wholly within such district. The amount forwarded to each county chairman shall be equal to the quotient obtained upon dividing the appropriate filing fee by the number of counties in the district of the candidate paying the fee. The state chairman shall retain all filing fees for statewide offices and all filing fees for district offices paid to him under filing deadlines falling after the regular deadline and shall apply them to the sole use of helping defray the costs incurred by the state chairman and the state executive committee in conducting the primary elections.

(f) In each county in which voting machines or an electronic voting system has been adopted, the county commissioners court shall permit the county-owned voting machines or voting equipment to be used for the primary elections, including the conduct of absentee voting for the elections, at a charge for use at each election not exceeding $16 per unit for voting machines adopted under Section 79 (Article 7.14, Vernon's Texas Election Code), and not exceeding $3 per unit for voting equipment adopted under Section 80 (Article 7.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code); provided, however, that the county commissioners court shall not be required to provide voting machines or equipment for use in any election precinct in which fewer than 100 votes were cast in the preceding first or general primary or runoff primary election. The maximum amount fixed in this subsection includes the lease price for the use of the unit, and also the charge for its preparation and maintenance if the county provides these services. The county is entitled to reimbursement for the cost of transporting the machines or equipment to and from the polling places if the county provides this service. Where voting is by an electronic voting system, the county may not charge for use of county-owned automatic tabulating equipment at the central counting station; but all actual expenditures incidental and necessary to operation of the central counting station in counting the ballots are payable out of the primary fund.

(g) All expenses of the county clerk in conducting absentee voting in the primary elections, including the employment of additional deputies where necessary, shall be paid by the county. A county is not entitled to reimbursement for any expenditure of county funds in connection with absentee voting or any other services rendered by the county clerk in the primary elections, except for voting machines and/or punch card units used in conducting the absentee voting or any other services for which reimbursement is specifically authorized by law.

(h) The secretary of state is authorized to promulgate rules under which compensation is limited to polling places at which voters of more than one election precinct cast their votes, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 10(g) (Article 2.02(g), Vernon's Texas Election Code). The rules for such common polling places shall provide for adequate public notice by the county chairman to the voters in election precincts affected by the application of such rules and shall provide for an adequate number of polling places taking into account all other relevant factors including distances of polling places from parts of the precincts served, estimated voter turnout, and geographic or other boundaries. However, the secretary of state may not require that there be less than one polling place for each commissioner's precinct for reimbursement purposes.

(i) The secretary of state is authorized to promulgate rules in regard to the maximum number of election clerks who may be compensated for their services at a polling place and the maximum number of other necessary office personnel employed to assist in the performance of the duties placed upon the county chairman, taking into account the number of registered voters in the election precinct or precincts, the number of votes cast in the precinct, county, or state in previous elections, the method of voting, and any other relevant factors. The secretary of state must allow compensation for the presiding judge, alternate judge, and at least one clerk for each precinct. The secretary of state may allow compensation for clerks and other necessary office personnel employed in excess of the applicable limits set by his rules if he finds that the employment of additional clerks or other office personnel was justified by a good cause. The total compensation paid to the county chairman and the secretary of the county executive committee (where the executive committee has named a secretary) in the performance of the duties placed upon the chairman shall not exceed five percent of the amount actually spent in holding the primary elections for the year; provided, however, that in no case shall the total compensation paid be less than $300 nor more than $8,000.

(j) The secretary of state is authorized to promulgate any other reasonable rules which will minimize the costs of the primary elections. The secretary of state shall furnish a copy of all rules promulgated pursuant to this section to each county chairman at least 10 days before the election to which the rules apply.

(k) The county chairman shall account for the primary fund in the manner provided in Section 196 of this code.

(l) The secretary of state shall not approve any expenditure of state funds to any county organization that practices discrimination based on race, sex, age, creed, or national origin. The attorney general shall be specifically responsible for the enforcement of this section.

(m) In the event a court of competent jurisdiction declares any portion of this section or any other provision of this code relating to the financing of primary elections to be invalid, the secretary of state shall promulgate reasonable rules for the enforcement of the intent of the legislature, consistent with the court's judgment and the valid portions of the code. Such authority of the secretary of state shall include authority to promulgate a schedule of filing fees, if necessary, and that schedule shall be substituted for the statutory schedule until the legislature enacts a new schedule.

Section 2 of Acts 1977, 65th Leg., ch. 502, provided:

"If any filing fee amended by this Act is declared invalid, then the amount of such filing fee shall be the amount prescribed by prior law."

Art. 13.08a. State Financing

(a) Each county chairman of each political party in the state which is holding primary elections shall submit to the secretary of state at least 30 days before the first primary election a sworn itemized estimate of the costs for conducting the first primary election in his county, together with a sworn statement of the filing fees and contributions received by the chairman, for such primary elections to and including the date of such sworn statement. The secretary of state shall review the estimate and shall notify the chairman of any items which he has disallowed as unauthorized or excessive expenditures. Expenditures may be allowed only for those purposes which are properly payable out of the primary fund under existing law as established by the statutes, court decisions, and administrative rulings of this state. Any other provisions of this code notwithstanding, the secretary of state shall pay for expenditures which, in his discretion, are reasonably necessary for the proper conduct and supervision of the primary elections under the provisions of this code. The secretary of state is authorized to set forth guidelines to determine the necessity of expenditures in conducting primary elections. The secretary of state shall subtract from the approved estimate any balance remaining from previous primary elections in the appropriate primary fund, and any amount of the fees and contributions received by the chairman for the conduct and financing of the primary elections for the particular year, and shall certify to the comptroller of public accounts the net estimated amount which is payable out of the state funds, together with the secretary of state's calculation of three-fourths of that amount. The comptroller shall forthwith issue a warrant to the chairman for three-fourths of the certified amount.

(b) In each county in which a second or runoff primary is necessary, within 10 days after the first primary the county chairman shall submit to the secretary of state a sworn itemized estimate of the costs of the runoff primary. As in the case of the first primary, the secretary of state shall notify the chairman of items which he disallows, and shall certify to the comptroller the approved estimated amount which is payable out of state funds, together with the secretary of state's calculation of three-fourths of that amount; and the comptroller shall issue a warrant to the chairman for three-fourths of the certified amount.

(c) Within 20 days after the date of the runoff primary, the county chairman shall submit to the secretary of state a sworn itemized report of the actual costs, filing fees collected, and contributions received for the primary election or elections (as the case may be) held by his party in his county. If the actual expenditure for an item exceeded the estimated amount, the chairman shall submit an explanation of the reason for the increased expenditure, and the secretary of state shall allow the increase if good cause is shown. The secretary of state shall certify to the comptroller the difference between the total amount payable out of state funds and the amount which has already been transmitted to the chairman. If the total amount of fees and contributions and the payments from the state exceeds the actual expenditures incurred, the chairman shall retain the difference in the primary fund referred to in Section 196 of this code (Article 13.18, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The exact amount of the balance in the primary fund shall be reported to the secretary of state in the actual expense report provided by this section and said amount shall be a beginning balance on hand for the next ensuing primary conducted by the chairman or his successor. If the primary fund is invested as authorized in Section 196, the beginning balance on hand for the next ensuing primary shall be the amount of the primary fund after termination of the investment.

(d) Each county chairman shall deposit to the credit of the primary fund all warrants received by him under this section. Expenses properly incurred by or on behalf of the county executive committee for the conduct of the primary elections shall be paid from the primary fund, in the manner authorized by the committee.

(e) The county chairman is responsible for payment of claims for primary election expenses, and the state is not liable to any claimant for failure of the county chairman to pay a claim. No county chairman shall be personally liable, nor shall a county executive committee be liable for any debts incurred in the administration of the primary but unpaid because the appropriation provided by the legislature was not sufficient to cover the actual expenditures made.

(f) A county chairman may request that the secretary of state approve an expenditure for the purposes of the auditing of the expenditures made out of the primary fund; however, the secretary of state shall not be required to approve such an expenditure. The secretary of state may require an audit of the primary fund, without such a request, when, in his discretion, he believes a valid purpose will be served by such a procedure.

(g) The secretary of state shall prescribe and shall furnish to the county chairmen the forms which they are to use in submitting statements and reports to the secretary of state.

(h) Wherever the word "county chairman" is used in this section, it shall apply to the county chairman or his successor in office, and such county chairman shall not be personally liable except for the misapplication of funds.

(i) In any case in which the secretary of state disallows an item of expenditure under Subsection (a) or (b) of this section, or refuses to allow an increase under Subsection (c) of this section, the county chairman may appeal to the district court of Travis County by filing a petition within 20 days after the date the notification is received from the secretary of state, and the district court shall allow such expenditures as are properly payable out of the primary fund under existing law. Any item not certified to the comptroller of public accounts within 15 days after its submission to the secretary of state may be considered disallowed for this purpose.

Art. 13.08a-1. State Financing of Primary Expenses of State Executive Committee

(a) If the state executive committee of a political party which is holding primary elections wishes to obtain state financing of the expenses incurred by the state chairman and the committee in conducting the primary elections in addition to the filing fees retained by the state chairman under Section 186 of this code, as amended (Article 13.08, Vernon's Texas Election Code), the state chairman shall submit to the secretary of state at least 30 days before the first primary election a sworn itemized estimate of the costs for conducting the first primary, together with an itemized statement of any filing fees received by him under filing deadlines falling after the regular deadline to and including the date of the estimate and a statement of the amount of any balance remaining from previous primary elections. The secretary of state shall review the estimate and shall notify the chairman of any items which he has disallowed as unauthorized or excessive expenditures. No expenditure in connection with a party convention or with any party activity other than the conduct of a primary election may be allowed. The secretary of state is authorized to set forth guidelines to determine the necessity of expenditures in conducting primary elections. The secretary of state shall subtract from the approved estimate the amount of the fees collected and retained by the state chairman for that election year and any balance remaining from previous primary elections and shall certify to the comptroller of public accounts the net estimated amount which is payable out of state funds, together with the secretary of state's calculation of three-fourths of that amount. The comptroller shall forthwith issue a warrant to the chairman for three-fourths of the certified amount.

(b) When a runoff for any statewide or district office is necessary, within 15 days after the first primary the state chairman shall submit to the secretary of state a sworn itemized estimate of the state executive committee's costs for the runoff primary. As in the case of the first primary, the secretary of state shall notify the chairman of items which he disallows and shall certify to the comptroller the approved estimated amount which is payable out of state funds, together with the secretary of state's calculation of three-fourths of that amount; and the comptroller shall issue a warrant to the chairman for three-fourths of the certified amount.

(c) Within 20 days after the date of the runoff primary, the state chairman shall submit to the secretary of state a sworn itemized report of the actual costs incurred by the state chairman and the state executive committee in conducting the primary election or elections (as the case may be) and of any filing fees not previously reported. If the actual expenditure for an item exceeded the estimated amount, the chairman shall submit an explanation of the reason for the increased expenditure, and the secretary of state shall allow the increase if good cause is shown. The secretary of state shall certify to the comptroller the difference between the total amount payable out of state funds and the amount which has already been transmitted to the chairman. If the total amount of fees retained and the payments from the state exceed the actual expenditures incurred, the chairman shall retain the difference, to be used as a beginning balance on hand for the next ensuing primary conducted by the party.

(d) In any case in which the secretary of state disallows an item of expenditure under Subsection

(a) or (b) of this section or refuses to allow an increase under Subsection (c), the state chairman may appeal to the district court of Travis County by filing a petition within 20 days after the date the notification is received from the secretary of state, and the district court shall allow such expenditures as are properly payable under existing law. Any item not certified to the comptroller of public accounts within 15 days after its submission to the secretary of state may be considered disallowed for this purpose.

Art. 13.08b. Refund Upon Death of Candidate

No refund of a filing fee shall be made except to a candidate who dies or is declared ineligible to be a candidate for the office before the date of the first or general primary election, in which case the fee paid by the candidate shall be refunded to the candidate or to his estate, as appropriate.

Funds for the administration of the primary financing provisions of this code shall be supplied from the General Revenue Fund or any special fund which the legislature may direct by the General Appropriations Act. Said funds shall be appropriated for the 1976 primary elections and for subsequent primary elections thereafter, and shall be an amount payable from the General Revenue Fund or any special fund which the legislature may direct to pay all necessary expenses of primary elections approved by the secretary of state under the provisions of this code. The secretary of state is authorized to expend funds appropriated in the General Appropriations Act for the administration of primary elections for seasonal and part-time help, consumable supplies and materials, travel expenses, professional fees and services, and current and recurring operating expenses in an amount not to exceed $60,000.

Art. 13.09. Balloting at Primaries: Write-in Votes Permitted for Party Offices Only

(a) The vote at all primary elections shall be by official ballot, which shall conform to the provisions of this section and other provisions of this code relating to the official ballot for a primary election that are applicable to the method of voting used in the election. The provisions of this section which are expressed in terms applicable to paper ballots shall be construed in a manner consistent with the method of voting used in the election whenever some other method is used. The name of the party shall be printed at the head of the ballot, and under such head shall be printed the names of all candidates, those for each nomination being arranged in the order determined by the county executive committee as provided in Section 195 of this code,¹ beneath the title of the office for which the nomination is sought.

Art. 13.12. Application for Place on Ballot; Filing; Deadline; Extension; Withdrawal; Notice

(a) The application to have the name of any person affiliating with a party placed on the official ballot for a general primary as a candidate for the nomination of such party for any office for which a nomination may be made at such primary shall be governed by the rules stated in this section.

(b) Such application shall be in writing, indicating the office for which nomination is sought and whether for a full term or for an unexpired term, signed and duly acknowledged by the person desiring such nomination, or by twenty-five qualified voters. It shall state the occupation, county of residence, and post-office address of such person, and if made by him shall also state his age. If the application is made by qualified voters, there shall be endorsed on the application or filed in a separate instrument, before the deadline for filing applications, a statement signed by the candidate showing his consent to such candidacy.

(c) The application shall be filed with the state chairman in the case of all statewide offices and all district offices which are filled by the choice of voters residing in more than one county. It shall be filed with the county chairman of the particular county in the case of county and precinct offices and district offices which are filled by the choice of voters residing in only one county or less than one county. Except as provided in Subsection (d) of this section, the application shall be filed not later than 6 p. m. on the first Monday in February preceding such primary.

(d) The filing deadline stated in Subsection (c) of this section shall be extended for the particular party primary and office involved, as provided in this subsection:

(i) if between the fifth day preceding the filing deadline stated in Subsection (c) and the 45th day preceding the general primary, both dates included, any candidate for an office dies, if the candidate had complied with all prerequisites for having his name placed on the ballot which he was required to perform by the date of his death;

(ii) if between the filing deadline stated in Subsection (c) and the 45th day preceding the general primary, both dates included, any candidate who is seeking nomination to an office which he then holds withdraws or is declared ineligible for election to that office; or

(iii) if between the filing deadline stated in Subsection (c) and the 45th day preceding the general primary, both dates included, the only candidate who has filed for a particular office in the primary of that party withdraws or is declared ineligible. In the enumerated circumstances, the name of the deceased, withdrawn, or ineligible candidate shall not be printed on the ballot, and applications for that party's nomination for that office may be filed not later than 6 p. m. on the 15th day following the death, withdrawal, or declaration of ineligibility of the candidate; provided, however, that where the death, withdrawal, or declaration of ineligibility occurs less than 15 days before the 40th day preceding the primary, the deadline for filing shall be 6 p. m. on the 40th day preceding the primary. Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (e) of this section, an application which is not received by the chairman until after 6 p. m. on the 40th day shall not be timely, and applications mailed but not actually received by that time shall not be accepted for filing.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (d), an application filed under either Subsection (c) or (d) of this section shall be considered filed if sent to the proper chairman at his post-office address by registered or certified mail from any point in this state not later than the day on which the filing deadline falls, as shown by the postmark, provided, however, that if the deadline falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday observed by the post office, it must be postmarked not later than the next regular business day for the post office. Any application not received by the chairman before the deadline does not comply with this law unless it has been mailed by registered or certified mail as herein provided, and it shall not be sufficient to send the application by any other type of mail unless it is delivered before the deadline.

(f) A candidate may withdraw by filing with the chairman with whom his application was filed, a signed request, duly acknowledged by him, that his name not be printed on the primary ballot. Whenever a filing period is extended by the death, withdrawal, or ineligibility of a candidate, each county chairman with whom the candidate's application was filed shall give notice of the opening of the filing and of the deadline to file by mailing or delivering a news release within 48 hours after his first knowledge of the death, withdrawal, or ineligibility, to each newspaper, as defined in Article 28a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, as amended, which is published in the county. Where the application was filed with the state chairman, he shall give notice in like manner by mailing or delivering the release to at least three daily newspapers which maintain news representatives in the State Capitol. The failure of a county chairman or state chairman to comply with this requirement shall be ground for his removal from office by the committee of which he is chairman.

(g) A candidate shall not be permitted to withdraw after the 45th day preceding the general primary. If after the 45th day preceding the general primary a candidate dies or is declared ineligible, the procedure detailed in Section 104 of this code¹ shall be followed. Except as provided in that section, the name of a deceased, withdrawn, or ineligible candidate shall not be printed on the ballot.

(h) Within ten days after the first Monday in February, the state chairman shall file with the Secretary of State, and each county chairman shall file with the county clerk of his county a list containing the names of all candidates, as the names are to appear on the primary election ballot, arranged by office for which nomination is sought, whose applications have been timely received and the candidates' addresses, as entered on the applications. In like manner each chairman shall file, within three days after any extended filing deadline under Subsection (d) of this section, a supplemental list of candidates whose applications were timely received after the original list was prepared. Each county chairman shall forward to the chairman of the state executive committee a copy of each list which he files with the county clerk.

(i) On the second Monday in March preceding each general primary, the state committee shall meet at some place to be designated by its chairman, who shall not less than three days prior to such meeting notify by mail all members of the committee and all persons whose names have been requested to be placed upon the official ballot of such designation. Such committee at this meeting by resolution shall direct their chairman to certify to each county chairman the names of such candidates as shown by the applications received by him. Copies of such certificates shall be immediately furnished to each newspaper in the state desiring to publish same, and one copy shall at once be mailed to the chairman of the executive committee of each county.

(j) The terms of this law shall apply to the county chairman and precinct committeemen, and the names of such candidates shall not be printed on the primary ballot unless such application shall have been filed as provided herein.

Art. 13.12a. Nomination and Election to Fill Unexpired Term

(a) Offices to which applicable; occurrence of vacancy. The provisions of this section shall govern nomination for and election to unexpired terms which are to be filled by election at the general election, in state, district, county and precinct offices where the vacancy occurs by reason of the creation of a new office or the death, resignation, or removal from office of the incumbent in an existing office, and the length of the unexpired term to be filled at the election extends beyond the first day of January following the election. This section does not apply to offices, vacancies which are to be filled by special election, nor does it apply to the office of United States Senator, which is governed by Section 177 of this code.¹ For the purpose of this section, where a new office is created to come into existence at a date subsequent to the effective date of the statute or date of entry of the order creating it, the vacancy shall be deemed to occur as of the effective date of the statute or date of entry of the order, and where the incumbent of an office has submitted a resignation to become effective at a future date, the vacancy shall be deemed to occur upon acceptance of the resignation.

(b) Nominations by parties holding primary elections. For any party holding primary elections for nominating candidates for the ensuing general election, nominations for unexpired terms shall be made in accordance with the following provisions.

(1) If the vacancy occurs more than five days prior to the regular deadline for filing an application for a place on the general primary ballot, as provided in Section 190 of this Code,² nomination for the unexpired term shall be made by primary election in the same manner and under the same rules applicable to nominations for full terms.

(2) If the vacancy occurs on or after the fifth day preceding the regular filing deadline and on or before the 45th day before the day of the general primary election, nomination for the unexpired term shall be made by primary election, and candidates shall have until the end of the 40th day preceding the day of the general primary in which to file applications for a place on the primary ballot. The applications must be received and filed in the office of the proper chairman before the deadline, and applications mailed but not actually received before the deadline shall not be accepted for filing. Except as otherwise provided herein, the application shall conform to the requirements of Section 190 of this Code and shall be accompanied by the filing fee or petition provided for in Section 186 of this Code.³ Immediately following the deadline for filing applications, the state chairman shall certify to the county chairman the names of candidates, if any, who have filed applications with him and paid their filing fee or filed a petition in accordance with this paragraph. Whenever the name of more than one candidate for the same office is to be placed on the ballot pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph, the county chairman shall call a meeting of the primary committee, in time to allow printing of the ballots before commencement of absentee voting in the general primary, and the primary committee shall determine by lot, in open meeting, the order in which the names of the candidates shall be printed on the ballot. If there is not more than one candidate for the same office, the county chairman shall make any necessary changes in the ballot as previously made up by the primary committee.

(3) If the vacancy occurs after the 45th day preceding the day of the general primary and on or before the 45th day before the day of the general election, the state executive committee in the case of state offices, the appropriate district executive committee in the case of district offices, the county executive committee in the case of county offices, and the appropriate precinct committee in the case of precinct offices, shall have the power to name a nominee for such office, and a nomination shall not be made by any other method; provided, however, that in any case where a district committee empowered to name a nominee fails to do so because it is unable to agree upon a nominee by majority vote, the state executive committee of that political party may name a candidate for such office and certify the name of the nominee to the proper officer.

(c) Nominations by parties not holding primary elections. For any party which is authorized to make nominations by party conventions, as provided in this Code, a nomination for the unexpired term shall be made at the appropriate party convention having power to make nominations for the particular office if the vacancy occurs more than two days prior to the date on which the convention is held. If the vacancy occurs on or after the second day preceding the convention and on or before the 45th day before the day of the general election, the appropriate executive committee of the party shall have the power to name a nominee, and a nomination shall not be made by any other method.

(d) Nominations by executive committees. The nomination must be made and certified to the proper officer not later than the 40th day before the day of the general election. Nominations for state offices and for district offices (including districts composed of only one county or part of one county) shall be certified to the Secretary of State, and nominations for county and precinct offices shall be certified to the county clerk. The certificate of nomination shall be signed and acknowledged by the chairman of the committee making the nomination, and shall set forth the name of the nominee, the office for which he was nominated, and when, where, by whom, and how the nomination was made.

(e) Independent and nonpartisan candidates. If the vacancy occurs on or before the date of the second primary election, applications of independent or nonpartisan candidates must be filed in accordance with the provisions of Section 227 of this Code,⁴ not later than thirty days after the second primary election day. If the vacancy occurs after the second primary election day, and on or before the 45th day before the day of the general election, independent or nonpartisan candidates may file applications in the manner provided in Section 227, except that the application shall be filed not later than the 40th day before the day of the general election. No person shall sign an application prior to the occurrence of the vacancy, and any signature before that time shall be void.

(f) Write-in candidates. If the vacancy occurs on or before the 45th day before the day of the general election, the title of the office shall be printed on the ballot for the general election regardless of whether any nominations have been made for the unexpired term, and each voter may write in the name of the candidate of his choice.

(g) When election not to be held. Art. 13.45. Nominations by Parties Receiving Less Than 20 Percent of Vote for Governor

Parties Receiving Less Than Two Percent of Vote for Governor

Subd. 2. (a) Any political party whose nominee for governor received less than two percent of the total votes cast for governor in the last preceding general election for that office, or any new party, or any previously existing party which did not have a nominee for governor in the last preceding general election for that office, may nominate candidates by conventions as provided in Sections 224 and 225 of this code,¹ but in order to have the names of its nominees printed on the general election ballot there must be filed with the secretary of state, within 30 days after the date for holding the party's state convention, the lists of participants in precinct conventions held by the party in accordance with Sections 222a and 224 of this code,² signed and certified by the temporary chairman of each respective precinct convention, listing the names, addresses (including street address or post-office address), and registration certificate numbers of qualified voters attending such precinct conventions in an aggregate number of at least one percent of the total votes cast for governor at the last preceding general election for that office; or if the number of qualified voters attending the precinct conventions is less than that number, there must be filed along with the precinct lists a petition requesting that the names of the party's nominees be printed on the general election ballot, signed by a sufficient number of additional qualified voters to make a combined total of at least one percent of the total votes cast for governor at the last general election for that office. The address and registration certificate number of each signer shall be shown on the petition. No person who, during that voting year, has voted at any primary election or participated in any convention of any other party shall be eligible to sign the petition.

(b) The following statement shall appear at the head of each page of the petition: "I know the contents of this petition, requesting that the names of the nominees of the _____ Party be printed on the ballot for the next general election. I am a qualified voter at the next general election under the constitution and laws in force, and during the current voting year I have not voted in any primary election or participated in any convention held by any other political party, and I will not vote in a primary election or participate in a convention of any other party during the remainder of this voting year." The petition may be in multiple parts. To each part of the petition shall be attached an affidavit of the person who circulated it, stating that he called each signer's attention to the statement and read it to him before the signer affixed his signature to the petition, and further stating that he witnessed the affixing of each signature, that the correct date of signing is shown on the petition, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name is signed. A petition so verified is prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and the persons signing it are registered voters. The petition may not be circulated for signatures until after the date of the party's precinct conventions.

Any signatures obtained on or before that date are void.

(c) Any person who signs a petition after having voted in a primary election or participated in a convention of any other party during the same voting year, or any person who votes in a primary election or participates in a convention of any other party during the same voting year after having signed the petition, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500.

(d) The chairman of the state executive committee shall be responsible for forwarding the precinct lists and petition to the secretary of state.

Art. 13.50. Nonpartisan or Independent Candidate

Subd. 1. This section applies to nonpartisan or independent candidates for federal, state, district, county, and precinct offices in the general election provided for in Section 9 of this code (Article 2.01, Vernon's Texas Election Code). A person may run as a nonpartisan or independent candidate for any such office, other than the offices of president, vice president, and presidential elector, by complying with this section and other applicable provisions of this code.

Subd. 2. (a) As a condition precedent to having a candidate's name printed on the official ballot as an independent candidate under this section, in addition to the application required by Subdivision 3 of this section, the person must file, by the deadline provided in Section 190 of this code (Article 13.12, Vernon's Texas Election Code), a declaration of his intent to run as an independent candidate. The declaration shall state the person's name, occupation, county of residence, post office address, age, and the office for which he intends to run, and shall be signed and duly acknowledged by the person desiring to be a candidate. It shall be filed with the officer with whom the application required by Subdivision 3 of this section is filed.

(b) The requirements of Paragraph (a) of this subdivision do not apply to candidates for unexpired terms where the vacancy in office occurs subsequent to the tenth day preceding the regular deadline for filing application for a place on a primary election ballot as prescribed in Section 190 of this code (Article 13.12, Vernon's Texas Election Code), and do not apply to candidates for any office for which the filing deadline in a primary election is extended under the provisions of Paragraph 2a of Section 190. However, an independent candidate who is not required to file a declaration of intent under Paragraph (a) of this subdivision must file with the secretary of state or the county judge, as the case may be, his written consent to become a candidate, within 30 days after the second primary election day.

Subd. 3. The name of a nonpartisan or independent candidate may be printed on the official ballot in the column for independent candidates, after a written application signed by qualified voters addressed to the proper officer, as herein provided, and delivered to him within 30 days after the second primary election day, as follows:

If for an office to be voted for throughout the state, the application shall be signed by one per cent of the entire vote of the state cast for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial general election, and shall be addressed to the Secretary of State.

If for a district office in a district composed of more than one county, the application shall be signed by three per cent of the entire vote cast for Governor in such district at the last preceding gubernatorial general election, and shall be addressed to the Secretary of State.

If for a district office in a district composed of only one county or part of one county, the application shall be signed by five per cent of the entire vote cast for Governor in such district at the last preceding gubernatorial general election, and shall be addressed to the Secretary of State.

If for a county office, the application shall be signed by five per cent of the entire vote cast for Governor in such county at the last preceding gubernatorial general election, and shall be addressed to the county judge.

If for a precinct office, the application shall be signed by five per cent of the entire vote cast for Governor in such precinct at the last preceding gubernatorial general election, and shall be addressed to the county judge.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, the number of signatures required on an application for any district, county, or precinct office need not exceed 500.

Subd. 4. No application shall contain the name of more than one candidate. No person shall sign the application of more than one candidate for the same office; and if any person signs the application of more than one candidate for the same office, the signature shall be void as to all such applications. No person shall sign such application unless he is a qualified voter, and no person who has voted at either the general primary election or the runoff primary election of any party shall sign an application in favor of anyone for an office for which a nomination was made at either such primary election. An application may not be circulated for signatures until the day after the general primary election day, or if a runoff primary election is held for the office sought by the applicant, until the day after the runoff primary election day. A signature obtained before the day an application may be circulated is void.

Subd. 5. In addition to the person's signature, the application shall show each signer's address, the number of his voter registration certificate, and the date of signing.

Subd. 6. Any person signing the application of an independent candidate may withdraw and annul his signature by delivering to the candidate and to the officer with whom the application is filed (or is to be filed, if not then filed), his written request, signed and duly acknowledged by him, that his signature be cancelled and annulled. The request must be delivered before the application is acted on, and not later than the day preceding the last day for filing the application. Upon such withdrawal, the person shall be free to sign the application of another candidate for the same office.

The application may be in multiple parts. To each part of the application shall be attached an affidavit of the person who circulated it, stating that he called each signer's attention to the statement and read it to him before the signer affixed his signature to the application, and further stating that he witnessed the affixing of each signature, that the correct date of signing is shown on the application, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name is signed. All nominations made by any such parties shall be certified to the county clerk by the chairman of the county committee of such party, and, after taking the same course as nominations of other parties so certified, shall be printed on the official ballot in a separate column, headed by the name of the party; provided, a written application for such printing shall have been made to the county judge not later than June 30 following the conventions, signed by qualified voters of the county equal in number to at least three per cent of the entire vote cast for governor in such county at the last general election for that office. No person who is affiliated with any other political party is eligible to sign the application. (a) A nominee of a political party may decline and annul his nomination by delivering to the officer with whom the certificate of his nomination is filed and to the chairman of the executive committee having the power to fill a vacancy in such nomination, not later than the 45th day before the day of the general election, a declaration in writing, signed by him and acknowledged before some officer authorized to take acknowledgments, whereupon the officer receiving the declaration shall take the necessary action to have the name of the nominee removed from the ballot. A nominee may not decline the nomination after the 45th day before election day.

(b) If on or before the 45th day before the day of the election, a nominee dies or declines the nomination, or is declared ineligible to be elected to or to hold the office for which he is a candidate, the executive committee of the party for the state, district, county, or precinct, as the office to be nominated may require, may nominate a candidate to supply the vacancy. A certificate of such nomination, signed and duly acknowledged by the chairman of the executive committee, must be filed with the officer with whom the certificate of the original nomination was filed and must set forth the name of the original nominee, the cause of the vacancy, the name of the new nominee, the office for which he was nominated, and when, where, by whom, and how he was nominated. (d) If a party nominee dies or declines the nomination or is declared ineligible after the 45th day preceding the day of the general election, the procedure set out in Section 104 of this code¹ shall be followed.

(e) An independent candidate may withdraw his candidacy and cause his name to be kept off the ballot by delivering to the officer with whom the application requesting his name to be placed on the ballot was filed, not later than the 40th day before election day a declaration in writing, signed and duly acknowledged by him, whereupon the officer with whom the declaration is filed shall immediately take the necessary action to cause the candidate's name to be removed from the ballot. A candidate may not withdraw after the 40th day before election day.

(f) If an independent candidate in the general election for state and county officers withdraws or is declared ineligible before the 44th day before election day, his name shall not be printed on the ballot. If he dies after completing all the procedural requirements for candidacy and before the 44th day before election day, his name shall be printed on the ballot if he was the incumbent in the office for which he was a candidate or if no other candidate's name is to be printed on the ballot in that race; otherwise, his name shall not be printed on the ballot. If he dies or is declared ineligible after the 45th day before election day, his name shall be printed on the ballot. Art. 14.02. Appointment of Campaign Treasurer

(A) Notwithstanding the following subsections of this section, no designation of a campaign treasurer shall be required in order that an office-holder accept contributions or make expenditures as defined in Section 237(D)(2), Texas Election Code, as amended (Article 14.01(D)(2), Vernon's Texas Election Code) and Section 237(E)(2), Texas Election Code, as amended (Article 14.01(E)(2), Vernon's Texas Election Code). Unexpended campaign contributions, as defined in Subsection (D)(1) of Section 237, which are lawfully accepted, may be used by an office-holder for expenditures in connection with the office pursuant to subsection (E)(2) of Section 237. Notwithstanding the requirement set forth in subsection (F)(1) of this section, any contribution as defined in Section 237(D)(2), Texas Election Code, as amended (Article 14.01(D)(2), Vernon's Texas Election Code) that has been lawfully accepted prior to the designation of a campaign treasurer may be utilized as campaign contributions after such designation.

(B) Every candidate for nomination to or election to a state or district office and every specific purpose political committee in any such election or in an election involving a statewide or district measure and every general purpose political committee shall designate a campaign treasurer by written appointment filed with the Secretary of State, and may also designate assistant campaign treasurers for each county by written appointment to be filed either with the county clerk of said county, or the Secretary of State.

No contribution shall be accepted nor any expenditure made by a political committee until it has filed the name of its campaign treasurer with the appropriate authority. If it is not otherwise possible for a candidate or specific purpose political committee to determine which authority is appropriate for the filing of campaign treasurer designation, then a filing with the Secretary of State shall be sufficient, but only until such time as the appropriate authority may be determined in accordance with the provisions of Subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this Section.

Art. 14.07. Records and Sworn Statement

(A) Each candidate, office-holder, and political committee, or a campaign treasurer representing the same, is hereby required to keep an accurate record of contributions received, and of all expenditures made. Such record shall contain all information hereinafter required to be reported by such candidate, office-holder, or political committee.

(B) Each opposed candidate whose name is printed on the ballot, each write-in candidate taking affirmative action in an election and each political committee involved in an election concerning a candidate or measure shall file a sworn statement at each time required herein. Each office-holder and political committee as defined in Subsections (O)(2), (P)(2), or (Q)(2) in Section 237 of this Code,¹ shall file a sworn statement as required herein.

The statements filed by a political committee, or a campaign treasurer representing the same, shall list all contributions received and expenditures made by the committee during the appropriate reporting period as described in Subsection (H) of this section. Each statement shall include the dates and amounts and the full name and complete address of each person from whom contributions in an aggregate amount of more than $50 has been received or borrowed during the appropriate reporting period as described in Subsection (H) of this section. Each statement shall also include the dates and amounts and the full names and complete addresses of all persons to whom any expenditures aggregating more than $50 were made during the appropriate reporting period, and the purpose of such expenditures. Each report shall also include a total of all contributions received and all expenditures made during the appropriate reporting period and a total of all contributions of $50 and less received and all expenditures of $50 and less made during the appropriate reporting period. However, for purposes of the time and manner of reporting, no expenditure need be deemed to have been made until the amount is readily determinable or, if the character of the expenditure is such that normal business practice is not to disclose the amount until the next periodic bill is received, then such expenditure need not be deemed to have been made until the date of receipt of such bill.

(D) Each political committee receiving contributions or making expenditures on behalf of a candidate, or office-holder, shall notify the candidate, or office-holder, as to the name and address of the political committee and its campaign treasurer, if one is required. The candidate, or office-holder, shall include within each statement required by this code a list identifying the name and address of each such political committee and its campaign treasurer, if one is required. General purpose political committees shall file the required sworn statements and oaths with the Secretary of State. next day which is not a Saturday or Sunday or enumerated holiday. A statement shall be deemed to be timely filed if it is placed in the United States Post Office or in the hands of a common or contract carrier properly addressed to the appropriate authority within the time limits applicable to the statement. The postmark or receipt mark (if received by a common or contract carrier) will be prima facie evidence of the date that such statement was deposited with the post office or carrier. The person making the report may show by competent evidence that the actual date of posting was to the contrary.

A candidate, office-holder, or political committee shall not accept a contribution aggregating more than $500 in a reporting period from a political committee not in this state unless the contribution is accompanied by a written statement which sets forth the full name and complete address of each person who contributed more than $100 to such committee during the preceding twelve months and which is certified by an officer of the contributing political committee. A correct copy of any such statement shall be included with the statement filed on which the contribution is reported. For the purpose of reporting, "political committee not in this state" shall mean any political committee expending 80 percent or more of its expenditures in any combination of elections outside of this state and federal offices not voted on in this state within the immediately preceding twelve-month period.

(H)(1)(a) Candidates and the campaign treasurers of specific purpose political committees as defined in subsection (P)(1) of Section 237, shall file sworn statements at the times required in paragraph (4) of this subsection.

(ii) In addition to the annual statement required in subsection (H)(1)(b)(i) above, any such office-holder shall file additional statements to cover all contributions received and expenditures made by such office-holder for that period of time prior to the designation of a campaign treasurer by such office-holder, and after such designation all contributions and expenditures are to be reported pursuant to subsection (H)(1)(a). The statements required by this subsection shall be filed not later than the 15th day following the designation of a campaign treasurer.

(2) Campaign treasurers of general purpose political committees shall file sworn statements at times required in paragraph (7) of this subsection.

(3) If the operations of a political committee necessitate a change in the applicability of paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection, the campaign treasurer of such political committee shall make such change and declare the identity of the authorities with whom future filings are expected to be made by filing (a) notification(s) with the authority(ies) with whom such committee has previously been required to file sworn statements. Failure to file such notice(s), when such change has been properly made, before the next applicable deadline for filing sworn statements under the formerly applicable sections, shall constitute a Class B misdemeanor.

(4) Every candidate or specific purpose political committee shall file three sworn statements relating to the election in which such person is involved in addition to any statement as provided in paragraph (6) below. The three sworn statements shall be filed not later than the 30th day prior to the election, not later than the 7th day prior to the election, and not later than the 30th day after the election, respectively. A candidate who has been nominated by his party's primary or a specific purpose political committee existing for the sole purpose of supporting such candidate and having given notice of such sole purpose in lieu of filing his third statement which encompasses nine (9) days prior to the twenty-five (25) days after the election shall include in his first statement prior to the general election all previously unreported contributions and expenditures. The period reported in the first such statement shall begin on the day of campaign treasurer designation, and end on and include the 40th day prior to the election. The period reported in the second such statement shall begin on the 39th day before the election and end on and include the 10th day before the election. The period reported in the third such statement shall begin on the 9th day before the election and end on and include the 25th day after the election. In the event a candidate or specific purpose political committee becomes involved in an election after the end of any period covered by the regular reports otherwise required herein, the first applicable sworn statement shall be filed at the next regularly required deadline and its reporting period shall begin on the date of designation of campaign treasurer.

(5) In lieu of any third statement required, which falls on the 30th day after any general primary or special elections, whenever a candidate or specific purpose political committee is involved in a run-off election, not later than the 7th day before the run-off election, the candidate or specific purpose political committee shall file a statement of all previously unreported contributions and expenditures through the 10th day before the run-off election. The next statement required shall be filed not later than the 30th day after the run-off election and shall report all contributions received and all expenditures made during a period beginning on the 9th day before the run-off election and ending on the 25th day after the run-off election.

(6) Each year after the last deadline for filing a statement of contributions and expenditures, an additional statement shall be filed, provided, however, if there have been no expenditures made or contributions knowingly accepted since the last required reporting period, or if any contributions knowingly accepted and any expenditures made have all been reported under Subsection (H)(1)(b) of this section, there shall be no filing required. The annual statement shall be filed on or before January 15 (following the last filing) and the period shall cover all previously unreported contributions and expenditures through and including the 31st day of December.

(7) All general purpose political committees shall file sworn statements as designated either in this paragraph or in Paragraph (8) of this subsection:

(a) On January 15th of each year, a statement of all contributions received and all expenditures made during the previous calendar year which have not been previously reported;

(b) Not earlier than the 40th day and not later than the 30th day before the date of an election in which the general purpose committee is involved, a statement of all contributions received and all expenditures made during the period from the date on which the general purpose political committee filed a designation of a campaign treasurer through the 40th day before the date of the election which have not been previously reported;

(c) Not earlier than the 10th day and not later than the 7th day before the date of an election in which the general purpose political committee is involved, a statement of all contributions received and all expenditures made through the 10th day before the date of the election which have not been previously reported;

(d) Not earlier than the 25th day and not later than the 30th day after the date of an election in which the general purpose political committee is involved, a statement of all contributions received and all expenditures made since the date covered by the last report filed under this subsection;

(e) Whenever a general purpose political committee is involved in a run-off election, in lieu of the statement to be filed by not later than the 30th day after the first election, the committee shall file a statement on the 7th day before the date of the run-off election showing all contributions received and all expenditures made since the date of the last report filed under this subsection;

(f) In the event a general purpose political committee becomes involved in an election after the end of any periods covered by the regular reports otherwise required herein, the first applicable sworn statement shall be filed at the next regularly required deadline and its reporting period shall begin on the date of designation of campaign treasurer.

(8) In lieu of the sworn statements required under Paragraph (7), a general purpose political committee may elect to file sworn monthly statements of all contributions received and all expenditures made which have not been previously reported by filing the sworn statements designated herein:

(a) Between January 1 and January 15 of each year, even if there has been no activity, in addition to a statement of all contributions received and all expenditures made during the previous calendar year which have not been previously reported, a notice of intent to file monthly statements pursuant to this paragraph. However, a general purpose political committee formed after January 15 of any particular year may upon designation of its campaign treasurer file at the same time a notice of intent to file monthly statements pursuant to this paragraph;

(b) On the first day of each calendar month, even if there has been no activity, a statement of all previously unreported contributions received and all previously unreported expenditures made through the 25th day of the preceding month. Any general purpose political committee filing under the procedures of this paragraph shall include in each statement the dates and amounts and the full name and complete address of each person from whom contributions in an aggregate amount of more than $10 has been received or borrowed during the reporting period. Each statement shall also include the dates and amounts and the full names and complete addresses of all persons to whom any expenditures aggregating more than $10 were made during the appropriate reporting period and the purpose of such expenditures.

(c) If a general purpose political committee electing to file sworn monthly statements wishes to revert to filing the sworn statements required under Paragraph (7), such committee must file its intent to do so between January 1 and January 15 in addition to a statement of all contributions received and expenditures made which have not previously been reported.

(9) Candidates for offices created under laws of the United States are specifically exempted from the requirements of this section. It is provided, however, that they shall file copies of any reports required by federal laws with the secretary of state on the same date they file such reports with the appropriate federal authorities.

(10) Final Statement. A candidate or political committee may cease filing sworn statements regarding a campaign after a final statement has been filed and designated as such. Any of the required sworn statements may constitute a final statement if its filing results in the completion of the reporting of all contributions and expenditures involved in an election, together with the appropriate related information, required to be reported.

(11) In the event a general purpose political committee makes a contribution to either another general purpose political committee or an out of state political committee, and cannot thereby make the determination of the appropriate times to make filings of sworn statements, such contributing general purpose political committee shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this Section by filing a sworn statement with the Secretary of State fully reporting such contribution (as an expenditure) no later than the next succeeding filing deadline for the January 15th annual statement.

(12) In the event a campaign treasurer of a political committee is terminated, either voluntarily or by action of the political committee, he shall file a sworn statement no later than the 10th day after such termination, reporting all appropriate matters for the period from the end of the period reported in the preceding sworn statement through the day of his termination. Any subsequent sworn statement which is to be filed by a successor campaign treasurer need not report those matters included in the previous campaign treasurer's termination statement.

(I)(1) If any candidate, office-holder, or campaign treasurer of a political committee fails to file a sworn statement containing all information required by this chapter, such person shall be guilty of a Class C misdemeanor.

(2) Any candidate, office-holder, campaign treasurer, or other person managing a political committee who swears falsely in a filed statement is subject to the provisions of Section 37.02 of the Texas Penal Code.

(J) Any candidate or campaign treasurer of a political committee who fails to report in whole or in part any contribution or expenditure as provided in the foregoing provisions of this Section shall be liable for double the amount or value of such unreported contribution or expenditure or unreported portion thereof, to each opposing candidate in the election in which same should have been reported. Each of such opposing candidates shall also recover reasonable attorneys' fees for collecting the above liquidated damages.

(K) Any candidate, office-holder, or campaign treasurer, of a political committee who fails to report in whole or in part any contribution or expenditure as provided in this Section, shall be civilly liable to the State of Texas for an amount equal to triple the amount or value of such unreported contribution or unreported expenditure.

(L) Statements filed under this Section shall be open to public inspection. They shall be preserved for a period of two years, after which they may be destroyed unless a court of competent jurisdiction has ordered their further preservation.

(M) No charge shall be levied for the filing of any report required by this section.

(N) No charge greater than that authorized by the State Board of Control for copies of similar documents filed with state agencies shall be charged for copies of any reports required to be filed by this section.

A violation of this provision shall constitute a Class A misdemeanor. However, in the event the political advertisement conveys the impression that it emanates from a source other than its true source for the purpose of injuring any candidate or influencing the vote in any election, the candidate, campaign treasurer, assistant campaign treasurer or any other person purchasing or contracting for the furnishing of such political advertisement in support of or in opposition to any candidate or measure, who knowingly violates this subsection shall be guilty of a felony of the third degree.

(2) For advertising printed or published by any other medium, the rate charged shall not exceed the lowest charge made for comparable use of such space for other purposes. The rate shall take into account the amount of space used, the number of times used, the frequency of use, and the kind of space used, as well as the type of advertising copy submitted by or on behalf of a candidate, or political committee. All discount privileges otherwise offered by a newspaper or magazine to advertisers shall be available upon equal terms to all candidates, or political committees.

(C) It is unlawful for an officer or employee of any political subdivision of this state to expend or authorize the expenditure of the funds of such political subdivision for the purpose of political advertising. (B)(1) It is unlawful for any candidate for nomination or election to a public office to use the title of an office in his political advertising when the use of such title could reasonably be construed to lead the voters to believe that the candidate is the holder of an office, unless the candidate is the holder of the office at the time the representation is made.

(2) It is unlawful for any person to print, publish, or broadcast any political advertising, or to make any written or oral commercial communication, relating to the campaign of a candidate for nomination or election to a public office which states, implies, or otherwise represents that the candidate is the holder of an office, unless the candidate is the holder of the office at the time the representation is made.

(4) Making or accepting an unlawful contribution or making an unlawful expenditure.

(B) Form and contents of complaint. A complaint must:

(1) be signed and sworn to by the complainant as containing allegations that are true and correct and made on personal knowledge; and

(C) Notice to the accused. Upon receipt of a complaint meeting the requirements of Paragraphs (A) and (B) of this section, the Secretary of State shall give notice by registered or certified mail, restricted delivery, return receipt requested, to the person who is the subject of the complaint:

(1) informing the person that the complaint has been filed;

(3) requesting the person to make a written response within 15 days after the date shown on the notice (the date of mailing); and

(4) attaching a copy of this section.

(D) Referral to prosecuting attorney and Attorney General.

(1) If the accused is a candidate or the campaign treasurer of a candidate or of a political committee supporting a candidate, the Secretary of State shall not report any alleged violations to the prosecuting attorney or to the Attorney General while the candidate is still engaged in the campaign in the specific election in which the alleged violation is said to have occurred or in a subsequent runoff or general election for the same term of office.

(2) After a lapse of 25 days from the date of a notice pursuant to Paragraph (C) or after a lapse of 25 days from an election described in (D)(1) above of this section, if it appears that the person accused in the complaint may have failed to comply with the relevant provisions of law, the Secretary of State shall forward to the appropriate prosecuting attorney the original complaint and the accused's response (if any) to the notice, together with certified copies of all pertinent records filed with the Secretary of State, in order that appropriate action may be taken.

(3) If the alleged violation is one for which a civil penalty accrues in favor of the state, the Secretary of State shall also forward to the Attorney General certified copies of the original complaint, the accused's response, and all pertinent records filed with the Secretary of State, in order that appropriate action be taken.

(E) Malicious complaints. A civil action for damages exists against the complainant in favor of any person against whom a complaint is filed maliciously and without probable cause, after the termination of any resulting prosecution. In addition, a person who makes a false allegation in a complaint is subject to the provisions of the Texas Penal Code relating to the offense of perjury.¹

(F) The procedures outlined in this section are cumulative of other available procedures for investigation and enforcement of violations of this chapter. (G) Duties of Secretary of State.

(1) It shall be the duty of the Secretary of State to prescribe forms for any instruments required to be filed by this code, regardless of whether the instruments are to be filed with the Secretary of State or with some other authority, and to make such forms available to persons required to file such statements and information with the Secretary of State, or any other authority.

Examiners' remuneration and expenses shall be the same as that which would be paid by the home state of a company under examination to persons conducting the examination of a Texas company admitted to do business in that State. If there be no recognized charge for such service, the Commissioner of Insurance shall fix the remuneration and expense allowance of the examiners at such reasonable figure as he may determine.

Reserves for Life Insurance and Endowment Benefits of Policies Providing Uniform Amount of Insurance and Requiring Payment of Uniform Premiums

Sec. 5. (A) Except as otherwise provided in Section 5(B), reserves according to the commissioners reserve valuation method, for the life insurance and endowment benefits of policies providing for a uniform amount of insurance and requiring the payment of uniform premiums shall be the excess, if any, of the present value, at the date of valuation, of such future guaranteed benefits provided for by such policies, over the then present value of any future modified net premiums therefor. The modified net premiums for any such policy shall be such uniform percentage of the respective contract premiums for such benefits that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such modified net premiums shall be equal to the sum of the then present value of such benefits provided for by the policy and the excess of (a) over (b), as follows:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 5(A)(a) and (b)]

Reserves according to the commissioners reserve valuation method for (1) life insurance policies providing for a varying amount of insurance or requiring the payment of varying premiums, (2) group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation, established or maintained by an employer (including a partnership or sole proprietorship) or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under Section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (Title 26, United States Code, as amended), (3) disability and accidental death benefits in all policies and contracts, and (4) all other benefits, except life insurance and endowment benefits in life insurance policies and benefits provided by all other annuity and pure endowment contracts, shall be calculated by a method consistent with the principles of the preceding paragraph, except that any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards shall be disregarded in the determination of modified net premiums. Such impairments and special hazards may also be disregarded in determining present value of benefits.

(B) This subsection shall apply to all annuity and pure endowment contracts other than group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation, established or maintained by an employer (including a partnership or sole proprietorship) or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under Section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as now or hereafter amended.

Reserves according to the commissioners annuity reserve valuation method for benefits under annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, shall be the greatest of the respective excesses of the present values, at the date of valuation, of the future guaranteed benefits, including guaranteed non-forfeiture benefits, provided by such contracts at the end of each respective contract year, over the present value, at the date of valuation, of any future valuation considerations derived from future gross considerations, required by the terms of such contract, that become payable prior to the end of such respective contract year. The future guaranteed benefits shall be determined by using the mortality table, if any, and the interest rate or rates specified in such contracts for determining guaranteed benefits. The valuation considerations are the portions of the respective gross considerations applied under the terms of such contracts to determine non-forfeiture values.

Aggregate Reserves for All Life Policies; Minimum Amount

Sec. 6. In no event shall a company's aggregate reserves for all life insurance policies, excluding disability and accidental death benefits, issued on or after the operative date of Article 3.44a (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law), be less than the aggregate reserves calculated in accordance with the methods set forth in Sections 5 and 8 and the mortality table or tables and rate or rates of interest used in calculating non-forfeiture benefits for such policies.

Calculation of Reserves for Policies and Contracts Issued Prior to Operative Date of Standard Non-forfeiture Law; Standards

Sec. 7. Reserves for all policies and contracts issued prior to the operative date of Article 3.44a (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) may be calculated, at the option of the company, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for all such policies and contracts than the minimum reserves required by the laws in effect immediately prior to such date.

Reserves for any category of policies, contracts or benefits as established by the State Board of Insurance, issued on or after the operative date of Article 3.44a (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law), may be calculated, at the option of the company, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for such category than those calculated according to the minimum standard herein provided, but the rate or rates of interest used for policies and contracts, other than annuity and pure endowment contracts, shall not be higher than the corresponding rate or rates of interest used in calculating any non-forfeiture benefits provided for therein.

Any such company which at any time shall have adopted any standard of valuation producing greater aggregate reserves than those calculated according to the minimum standard herein provided may, with the approval of the State Board of Insurance, adopt any lower standard of valuation, but not lower than the minimum herein provided.

Deficiency Reserve

Sec. 8. If in any contract year the gross premium charged by any life insurance company on any policy or contract is less than the valuation net premium for the policy or contract calculated by the method used in calculating the reserve thereon but using the minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest, the minimum reserve required for such policy or contract is the greater of either the reserve calculated according to the mortality table, rate of interest, and method actually used for such policy or contract, or the reserve calculated by the method actually used for such policy or contract but using the minimum standards of mortality and rate of interest and replacing the valuation net premium by the actual gross premium in each contract year for which the valuation net premium exceeds the actual gross premium.

3. Investments of Companies Reinsured.

In any case in which a life insurance company organized under the laws of this state shall reinsure the business and take over the assets of another life insurance company, either domestic or foreign, all investments of such reinsured company that were authorized, when made, by the laws of the state in which it was organized, as proper securities for investment of the funds of a life insurance company, and which are taken over by such reinsuring company, shall be considered as valid securities of such reinsuring company under the laws of this state, provided such investments are approved by the Board of Insurance Commissioners of this state, and the same are taken over on terms satisfactory to said Board; and upon the condition that the Board of Insurance Commissioners shall have the power to require the reinsuring company to dispose of such investments upon such notice as it may deem reasonable.

PART II. AUTHORIZED LOANS

A life insurance company organized under the laws of this state may loan its several funds identified as follows, taking as collateral security for the payment of such loans the securities named below, and none other.

A. ANY OF ITS FUNDS ACCUMULATIONS

Such company may loan any of its funds and accumulations on the following securities:

1. First Liens Upon Real Estate.

First liens upon real estate, the title to which is valid and provided the amount of the loan does not exceed: (a) seventy-five (75%) per cent of the value of such real estate; or (b) ninety (90%) per cent of the value of such real estate if it contains only a dwelling designed exclusively for occupancy by not more than four families for residential purposes; or (c) ninety-five (95%) per cent of the value of such real estate if it contains only a dwelling designed exclusively for occupancy by not more than four families for residential purposes, and the portion of the unpaid balance of such loan which is in excess of an amount equal to eighty (80%) per cent of such value is guaranteed or insured by a mortgage insurance company qualified to do business in the State of Texas; provided, however, that loans in excess of seventy-five (75%) per cent of the value of such real estate authorized under (b) or (c) hereof shall not be originated by such company; provided, however, that the aggregate amount of loans secured by first liens on real estate to any one corporation, company, partnership, individual, or any affiliated person or group may not exceed ten (10%) per cent of the admitted assets of such insurer, and provided further that the amount of any such single loan secured by a first lien on real estate may not exceed five (5%) per cent of the admitted assets of the insurer. The limitation provided by this subsection shall not apply to any first lien on real estate where the Commissioner of Insurance finds that: (1) the making or acquiring of such lien is beneficial to and protects the interest of the insurer and (2) no substantial damage to the policyholders and creditors of such insurer appears probable from the taking or acquiring of such lien.

2. First Liens Upon Leasehold Estates.

First liens upon leasehold estates in real property and improvements situated thereon, the title to which is valid; provided that the duration of any loan upon such leasehold estates shall not exceed a period equal to four-fifths ($\frac{4}{5}$) of the then unexpired term of such leasehold estate, provided the unexpired term of the leasehold estate must extend at least ten (10) years beyond the term of the loan, and any such loan shall be payable only in equal monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual installments, on principal and interest during a period not exceeding four-fifths ($\frac{4}{5}$) of the then unexpired term of such leasehold estate.

3. Collateral Securities.

Upon any obligation secured collaterally by any such first liens on real estate or leasehold estates.

4. Policy Loans.

Security of its own policies. No loan on any policy shall exceed the reserve values thereof.

5. Other Securities.

It may loan any of its funds and accumulations, taking as collateral to secure the payment of such loan, any of the securities named or referred to in Part 1 of this Article 3.39 above in which it may invest any of its funds and accumulations.

6. Restrictions as to Value of Real Estate Removed Where Loans Insured by the United States.

The foregoing restrictions as to the value of the real estate security compared to the amount loaned thereon and as to the duration of such loans shall not be applied to loans if the entire amount of the indebtedness is insured or guaranteed in any manner by the United States, the Federal Housing Administration pursuant to the National Housing Act of 1934, as amended (12 U.S.C.A. Sec. 1701 et seq.), or by the State of Texas, or, if not wholly insured or guaranteed, the difference between the entire amount of the indebtedness and that portion thereof insured or guaranteed by the United States, the Federal Housing Administration pursuant to the National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, or by the State of Texas, would not exceed the amount of loan permissible under said restrictions.

7. Loans to be Authorized by Board of Directors.

No loan, except policy loans, shall be made by any such insurance company unless the same shall first have been authorized by the Board of Directors or by a committee charged with the duty of supervising such loans.

8. Insurance Requirements.

If any part of the value of buildings is required to be included in the value of such real estate to attain the minimum authorized value of the security, such buildings shall be insured against loss by fire in a company authorized to transact business in the state in which such real estate is located, or in a company recognized as acceptable for such purpose by the insurance regulatory official of the state in which such real estate is located, which insurance shall be in an amount of at least fifty per cent (50%) of the value of such buildings; provided, that the insurance coverage need not exceed the outstanding balance owed to the lending company when the outstanding balance falls below fifty per cent (50%) of the value of the buildings. The loss clause shall be payable to such company.

B. CAPITAL, SURPLUS AND CONTINGENCY FUNDS OVER AND ABOVE POLICY RESERVES

1. Capital Stock, Bonds, and Other Obligations of Solvent Corporations, and Educational or Religious Corporations.

It may loan its capital, surplus, and contingency funds, or any part thereof over and above the amount of its policy reserves, taking as security therefor the capital stock, bonds, bills of exchange, or other commercial notes or bills and the securities of any solvent corporation which has not defaulted in the payment of any debt within five (5) years next preceding such investment; or of any solvent corporation which has not been in existence for five (5) consecutive years next preceding such investment, provided such corporation has succeeded to the business and assets and has assumed the liabilities of another corporation, and which corporation and the corporation so succeeded have not defaulted in the payment of any debt within five (5) years next preceding such investment; or in the bonds or notes of any Educational or Religious Corporation where provision has been made for the payment of a sufficient amount of the first weekly or monthly revenues thereof to an interest and sinking fund account in a bank or trust company as an independent paying agent; provided, the market value of such stock, bills of exchange, or other commercial notes or bills and securities shall be at all times during the continuance of such loan at least fifty per cent (50%) more than the sum loaned thereon; provided that it shall not take as collateral security for any loan its own capital stock, nor shall it take as collateral security for any loan the stock of any one corporation to any extent more than ten per cent (10%) of the amount of its own capital, surplus, and contingency funds, nor shall it take as collateral security for any loan the stock of any manufacturing corporation with a net worth of less than Twenty-

Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000), nor the stock of any oil corporation with a net worth of less than Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000); and provided further, that it shall not take as collateral security for any such loan any stock on account of which the holder or owner thereof may in any event be or become liable to any assessment except for taxes.

Art. 3.40. May Hold Real Estate

Every such insurance company may secure, hold and convey real property only for the following purposes and in the following manner:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1(a) to (c), 2 to 4]

5. All such real property specified in Subdivisions 2, 3, and 4 of this Article which shall not be necessary for its accommodation in the convenient transactions of its business, except interests in minerals and royalties reserved upon the sale of land acquired under such Subdivisions 2, 3, and 4 hereof, and further excepting interests in producing royalties and producing overriding royalties otherwise acquired, shall be sold and disposed of within five (5) years after the company shall have acquired title to the same, or within five (5) years after the same shall have ceased to be necessary for the accommodation of its business. It shall not hold such property for a longer period, unless it shall procure a certificate from the Board that its interests will suffer materially by the forced sale thereof; in which event the time for the sale may be extended to such time as the Board shall direct in such certificate.

In addition to, and without limitation on, the purposes for which real property may be acquired, secured, held or retained pursuant to other provisions of this Article, every such insurance company may secure, hold, retain and convey production payments, producing royalties and producing overriding royalties as an investment for the production of income; provided, however, that the total amount of all such investments in production payments, producing royalties and producing overriding royalties plus the total amount of investments in home office and branch office properties under Subdivision 1(a) of this Article shall not exceed the total amount permitted by and shall be subject to all of the limitations and restrictions of Subdivisions 1(b) and 1(c) of this Article and for this purpose all investments in production payments, producing royalties and producing overriding royalties pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph shall be deemed to be "properties described in Subdivision 1(a)" of this Article; and provided further, that in valuing each such production payment, producing royalty and producing overriding royalty for the purposes of Subdivision 1(c) of this Article the State Board of Insurance may establish such value as being the maximum amount which the company purchasing such production payment, producing royalty and producing overriding royalty could loan against a first lien on such production payment, producing royalty and producing overriding royalty under the provisions of Part II, Section A, Subsection 2 of Article 3.39 of the Insurance Code; and provided further, no such company shall make any investment in such production payments, producing royalties and producing overriding royalties solely as an investment for the production of income if, after making such investment, the total investment of the company at cost in such production payments, producing royalties and producing overriding royalties is in excess of ten per cent (10%) of its admitted assets as of December 31st next preceding the date of such investment. For the purposes of this paragraph, a production payment is defined to mean a right to oil, gas or other minerals in place or as produced that entitles its owner to a specified fraction of production until a specified sum of money, or a specified number of units of oil, gas or other minerals, has been received; a royalty and an overriding royalty are each defined to mean a right to oil, gas and other minerals in place or as produced that entitles the owner to a specified fraction of production without limitation to a specified sum of money, or a specified number of units of oil, gas or other minerals; "producing" is defined to mean producing oil, gas or other minerals in paying quantities, provided that it shall be deemed that oil, gas or other minerals are being produced in paying quantities if a well has been "shut in" and "shut in royalties" are being paid. In the event production in paying quantities should cease from any such royalty interest or overriding royalty interest held by any insurance company, such royalty or overriding royalty shall be sold and disposed of within two (2) years after such production shall have ceased, unless production in paying quantities shall have been resumed, or unless such Insurance Company shall have procured a certificate from the Board that its interests will suffer materially by the forced sale thereof; in which event the sale may be extended to such time as the Board shall direct in such certificate.

Section 2 of the 1977 amendatory act provided:

"All laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this article are repealed to the extent of such conflict only."

SUBCHAPTER D. POLICIES AND BENEFICIARIES

Art. 3.42. Policy Form Approval

(a) No policy, contract or certificate of life, term or endowment insurance, group life or term insurance, industrial life insurance, accident or health insurance, group accident or health insurance, hospitalization insurance, group hospitalization insurance, medical or surgical insurance, group medical or surgical insurance, or fraternal benefit insurance, and no annuity or pure endowment contract or group annuity contract, shall be delivered, issued or used in this state by a life, accident, health or casualty insurance company, a mutual life insurance company, mutual insurance company other than life, mutual or natural premium life insurance company, general casualty company, Lloyds, reciprocal or interinsurance exchange, fraternal benefit society, group hospitalization service or any other insurer, unless the form of said policy, contract or certificate has been filed with the State Board of Insurance and approved by said Board as provided in Paragraph (c) of this Article. Provided, however, that this Article shall not apply to any society, company or other insurer whose activities are by statute exempt from the control of the State Board of Insurance and which is entitled by statute to an exemption certificate from said Board in evidence of its exempt status; provided, further, that this Act shall not be construed to enlarge the powers of any of the insurers subject to this Article.

(b) No application form which is required to be or is attached to the policy, contract or certificate, and no rider or endorsement to be attached to, printed upon or used in connection with any policy, contract or certificate described in Paragraph (a) of this Article shall be delivered, issued or used in this state by any insurer described in Paragraph (a) of this Article unless the form of said application, rider or endorsement has been filed with the State Board of Insurance and approved by said Board as provided in Paragraph (c) of this Article. Each individual accident and sickness insurance policy application form, which is required to be or is attached to the policy, shall comply with the rules and regulations of the Board promulgated pursuant to Subchapter G of this chapter. Provided, however, that this Article shall not apply to riders or endorsements which relate to the manner of distribution of benefits or to the reservation of rights and benefits under such policies, contracts and certificates, and which are used at the request of the holder of the policy, contract or certificate.

(c) Every such filing hereby required shall be made not less than sixty days in advance of any such issuance, delivery, or use. At the expiration of sixty days the form so filed shall be deemed approved by the State Board of Insurance unless prior thereto it has been affirmatively approved or disapproved by the written order of said Board. The State Board of Insurance may withdraw any such approval at any time. Approval of any such form by such Board shall constitute a waiver of any unexpired portion of the waiting period, or periods, herein provided.

(d) The order of the State Board of Insurance disapproving any such form or withdrawing a previous approval shall state the grounds for such disapproval or withdrawal.

(e) The State Board of Insurance may, by written order, exempt from the requirements of this Article for so long as it deems proper, any insurance document or form specified in such order, to which in its opinion this Article may not practicably be applied, or the filing and approval of which are, in its opinion, not desirable or necessary for the protection of the public.

(f) The State Board of Insurance shall forthwith disapprove any such form, or withdraw any previous approval thereto if, and only if,

(1) It is in any respect in violation of or does not comply with this Code.

(2) It contains provisions which encourage misrepresentation or are unjust, unfair, inequitable, misleading, deceptive or contrary to law or to the public policy of this state.

(3) It has any title, heading or other indication of its provisions which is misleading.

(g)(1) The Board may, after notice and hearing, withdraw any previous approval of an individual accident and sickness insurance policy form if, after consideration of all relevant facts, the Board finds that the benefits provided under such policy form are unreasonable in relation to the premium charged. The Board shall from time to time as conditions warrant, and after notice and hearing, promulgate such reasonable rules and regulations and amendments thereto as are necessary to establish the standard or standards by which any previous approval of a policy form may be withdrawn. Any such rule or regulation shall be promulgated in accordance with Article 3.70-10 of the Texas Insurance Code. Nothing in this section shall be construed as granting the State Board of Insurance any power or authority to determine, fix, prescribe, or promulgate the rates to be charged for any individual accident and sickness insurance policy or policies.

(2) The Board shall require the filing of all rates to be charged for individual accident and sickness policies and may adopt necessary forms to be filed by insurers in conjunction with the annual statement required under Articles 3.07 and 3.20 of this code for reporting the experience on all individual accident and sickness insurance policy forms issued by the insurer so as to determine compliance with Subsection (1).

(h) Appeals from any order of the State Board of Insurance issued under this Article may be taken to the District Court of Travis County, Texas, in accordance with Article 21.44 of Sub-Chapter F of this Insurance Code, or any amendments thereof.

Art. 3.44a. Standard Non-forfeiture Law

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1 to 4]

Adjusted Premiums

Sec. 5. Except as provided in the third paragraph of this Section, the adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis, or at the option of the company on a fully continuous basis provided such basis is consistent with actual policy provisions and the use of such basis is specified therein, and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards, that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of (i) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy; (ii) two per cent (2%) of the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or of the equivalent uniform amount, as hereinafter defined, if the amount of insurance varies with duration of the policy; (iii) forty per cent (40%) of the adjusted premium for the first policy year; (iv) twenty-five per cent (25%) of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole of life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance, whichever is less. Provided, however, that in applying the percentages specified in (iii) and (iv) above, no adjusted premium shall be deemed to exceed four per cent (4%) of the amount of insurance or uniform amount equivalent thereto. The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this Section shall be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined.

In the case of a policy providing an amount of insurance varying with duration of the policy, the equivalent uniform amount thereof for the purpose of this Section shall be deemed to be the uniform amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy, containing the same endowment benefit or benefits, if any, issued at the same age and for the same term, the amount of which does not vary with duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the date of issue as the benefits under the policy; provided, however, that in the case of a policy providing a varying amount of insurance issued on the life of a child under age ten, the equivalent uniform amount may be computed as though the amount of insurance provided by the policy prior to the attainment of age ten were the amount provided by such policy at age ten.

The adjusted premiums for any policy providing term insurance benefits by rider or supplemental policy provision shall be equal to (a) the adjusted premiums for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without such term insurance benefits, increased, during the period for which premiums for such term insurance benefits are payable, by (b) the adjusted premiums for such term insurance, the foregoing items (a) and (b) being calculated separately and as specified in the first two paragraphs of this Section.

Except as otherwise provided in Sections 6 and 7, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this Article shall for all policies of ordinary insurance be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, provided that for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated according to an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured and such calculations for all policies of industrial insurance shall be made on the basis of the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table. All calculations shall be made on the basis of the rate of interest, not exceeding three and one-half per cent (3½%) per annum, specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up non-forfeiture benefits. Provided, however, that in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a non-forfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than one hundred and thirty percent (130%) of the rates of mortality according to such applicable table. Provided further, that for insurance issued on a sub-standard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the State Board of Insurance.

Calculation of Adjusted Premiums and Present Values of Ordinary Policies Issued on or After Operative Date of This Section

Sec. 6. In the case of ordinary policies issued on or after the operative date of this Section as defined herein, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this Article shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table and the rate of interest specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up non-forfeiture benefits provided that such rate of interest shall not exceed three and one-half per cent (3½%) per annum except that a rate of interest not exceeding four per cent (4%) per annum may be used for policies issued on or after June 14, 1973, and prior to the effective date of this amendatory Act of 1977. For policies issued on and after the effective date of this amendatory Act of 1977, a rate of interest not exceeding five and one-half per cent (5½%) per annum may be used, except that for any single premium whole life or endowment insurance policy a rate of interest not exceeding six and one-half per cent (6½%) per annum may be used. For any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated according to age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured for policies issued prior to the effective date of this amendatory Act of 1977 and for policies issued on and after such effective date adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated according to an age not more than six (6) years younger than the actual age of the insured. Provided, however, that in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a non-forfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioners 1958 Extended Term Insurance Table. Provided further, that for insurance issued on a sub-standard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the State Board of Insurance.

On or after the operative date of this Article, any company may file with the State Board of Insurance a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this Section after a specified date before January 1, 1974. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date (which shall be the operative date of this Section for such company), this Section shall become operative with respect to the ordinary policies thereafter issued by such company. If a company makes no such election, the operative date of this Section for such company shall be January 1, 1974.

Industrial Policies; Adjusted Premiums and Present Values

Sec. 7. In the case of industrial policies issued on or after the operative date of this Section as defined herein, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this Article shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table and the rate of interest specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up non-forfeiture benefits provided that such rate of interest shall not exceed three and one-half per cent (3½%) per annum, except that a rate of interest not exceeding four per cent (4%) per annum may be used for policies issued on or after June 14, 1973, and prior to the effective date of this amendatory Act of 1977. For policies issued on and after the effective date of this amendatory Act of 1977 a rate of interest not exceeding five and one-half per cent (5½%) per annum may be used, except that for any single premium whole life or endowment insurance policy a rate of interest not exceeding six and one-half per cent (6½%) per annum may be used. Provided, however, that in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a non-forfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioners 1961 Industrial Extended Term Insurance Table. Provided further, that for insurance issued on a sub-standard basis, the calculations of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the State Board of Insurance.

On or after the operative date of this Article, any company may file with the State Board of Insurance a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this Section after a specified date before January 1, 1974. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date (which shall be the operative date of this Section for such company), this Section shall become operative with respect to the industrial policies thereafter issued by such company. If a company makes no such election, the operative date of this Section for such company shall be January 1, 1974.

Art. 3.44b. Standard Non-forfeiture Law for Individual Deferred Annuities

Contracts of Annuity to Contain Certain Provisions

Sec. 1. In the case of contracts issued on or after the operative date of this Article as defined in Section 11, no contract of annuity, except as stated in Section 10, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it contains in substance the following provisions, or corresponding provisions which in the opinion of the State Board of Insurance are at least as favorable to the contract holder, on cessation of payment of considerations under the contract.

(a) That on cessation of payment of considerations under a contract, the company will grant a paid-up annuity benefit on a plan stipulated in the contract of such value as is specified in Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, and 8 of this Article.

(b) If a contract provides for a lump-sum settlement at maturity, or at any other time, that on surrender of the contract at or prior to the commencement of any annuity payments, the company will pay in lieu of any paid-up annuity benefit a cash surrender benefit of such amount as is specified in Sections 3, 4, 6, and 8 of this Article. The company shall reserve the right to defer the payment of such cash surrender benefit for a period of six (6) months after demand therefor with surrender of the contract.

(c) A statement of the mortality table, if any, and interest rates used in calculating any minimum paid-up annuity, cash surrender or death benefits that are guaranteed under the contract, together with sufficient information to determine the amounts of such benefits.

(d) A statement that any paid-up annuity, cash surrender or death benefits that may be available under the contract are not less than the minimum benefits required by any statute of the state in which the contract is delivered and an explanation of the manner in which such benefits are altered by the existence of any additional amounts credited by the company to the contract, any indebtedness to the company on the contract or any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract.

Notwithstanding the requirements of this Section, any deferred annuity contract may provide that if no considerations have been received under a contract for a period of two (2) full years and the portion of the paid-up annuity benefit at maturity on the plan stipulated in the contract arising from considerations paid prior to such period would be less than twenty dollars ($20.00) monthly, the company may at its option terminate such contract by payment in cash of the then present value of such portion of the paid-up annuity benefit, calculated on the basis of the mortality table, if any, and interest rate specified in the contract for determining the paid-up annuity benefit, and by such payment shall be relieved of any further obligation under such contract.

Minimum Non-forfeiture Amounts

Sec. 2. The minimum values as specified in Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, and 8 of this Article of any paid-up annuity, cash surrender, or death benefits available under an annuity contract shall be based upon minimum non-forfeiture amounts as defined in this Section.

(a) With respect to contracts providing for flexible considerations, the minimum non-forfeiture amount at any time at or prior to the commencement of any annuity payments shall be equal to an accumulation up to such time at a rate of interest of three per cent (3%) per annum of percentages of the net considerations (as hereinafter defined) paid prior to such time, decreased by the sum of:

(1) any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract accumulated at a rate of interest of three per cent (3%) per annum; and

(2) the amount of any indebtedness to the company on the contract, including interest due and accrued; and increased by any existing additional amounts credited by the company to the contract.

The net considerations for a given contract year used to define the minimum non-forfeiture amount shall be an amount not less than zero and shall be equal to the corresponding gross considerations credited to the contract during that contract year less an annual contract charge of thirty dollars ($30.00) and less a collection charge of one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25) per consideration credited to the contract during that contract year. The percentages of net considerations shall be sixty-five per cent (65%) of the net consideration for the first contract year and eighty-seven and one-half per cent (87½%) of the net considerations for the second and later contract years. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the percentage shall be sixty-five per cent (65%) of the portion of the total net consideration for any renewal contract year which exceeds by not more than two times the sum of those portions of the net considerations in all prior contract years for which the percentage was sixty-five per cent (65%).

(b) With respect to contracts providing for fixed scheduled considerations, minimum non-forfeiture amounts shall be calculated on the assumption that considerations are paid annually in advance and shall be defined as for contracts with flexible considerations which are paid annually with two exceptions:

(1) the portion of the net consideration for the first contract year to be accumulated shall be the sum of sixty-five per cent (65%) of the net consideration for the first contract year plus twenty-two and one-half per cent (22½%) of the excess of the net consideration for the first contract year over the lesser of the net considerations for the second and third contract years; and

(2) the annual contract charge shall be the lesser of (i) thirty dollars ($30.00) or (ii) ten per cent (10%) of the gross annual consideration.

(c) With respect to contracts providing for a single consideration, minimum non-forfeiture amounts shall be defined as for contracts with flexible considerations except that the percentage of net consideration used to determine the minimum non-forfeiture amount shall be equal to ninety per cent (90%) and the net consideration shall be the gross consideration less a contract charge of seventy-five dollars ($75.00).

Present Value of Paid-up Annuity

Sec. 3. Any paid-up annuity benefit available under a contract shall be such that its present value on the date annuity payments are to commence is at least equal to the minimum non-forfeiture amount on that date. Such present value shall be computed using the mortality table, if any, and the interest rate specified in the contract for determining the minimum paid-up annuity benefits guaranteed in the contract.

Contracts Which Provide Cash Surrender Benefits

Sec. 4. For contracts which provide cash surrender benefits, such cash surrender benefits available prior to maturity shall not be less than the present value as of the date of surrender of that portion of the maturity value of the paid-up annuity benefit which would be provided under the contract at maturity arising from considerations paid prior to the time of cash surrender reduced by the amount appropriate to reflect any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract, such present value being calculated on the basis of an interest rate not more than one per cent (1%) higher than the interest rate specified in the contract for accumulating the net considerations to determine such maturity value, decreased by the amount of any indebtedness to the company on the contract, including interest due and accrued, and increased by any existing additional amounts credited by the company to the contract. In no event shall any cash surrender benefit be less than the minimum non-forfeiture amount at that time. The death benefit under such contracts shall be at least equal to the cash surrender benefit.

Contracts Which Do Not Provide Cash Surrender Benefits

Sec. 5. For contracts which do not provide cash surrender benefits, the present value of any paid-up annuity benefit available as a non-forfeiture option at any time prior to maturity shall not be less than the present value of that portion of the maturity value of the paid-up annuity benefit provided under the contract arising from considerations paid prior to the time the contract is surrendered in exchange for, or changed to, a deferred paid-up annuity, such present value being calculated for the period prior to the maturity date on the basis of the interest rate specified in the contract for accumulating the net considerations to determine such maturity value, and increased by any existing additional amounts credited by the company to the contract. For contracts which do not provide any death benefits prior to the commencement of any annuity payments, such present values shall be calculated on the basis of the interest rate and the mortality table specified in the contract for determining the maturity value of the paid-up annuity benefit. However, in no event shall the present values of a paid-up annuity be less than the minimum non-forfeiture amount at that time.

Maturity Dates

Sec. 6. For the purpose of determining the benefits calculated under Sections 4 and 5 of this Article, in the case of annuity contracts under which an election may be made to have annuity payments commence at optional maturity dates, the maturity date shall be deemed to be the latest date for which election shall be permitted by the contract, but shall not be deemed to be later than the anniversary of the contract next following the annuitant's 70th birthday or the 10th anniversary of the contract, whichever is later.

Statement Indicating No Benefits

Sec. 7. Any contract which does not provide cash surrender benefits or does not provide death benefits at least equal to the minimum non-forfeiture amount prior to the commencement of any annuity payments shall include a statement in a prominent place in the contract that such benefits are not provided.

Benefits Available Other Than On Contract Anniversary

Sec. 8. Any paid-up annuity, cash surrender or death benefits available at any time, other than on the contract anniversary under any contract with fixed scheduled considerations, shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of any scheduled considerations beyond the beginning of the contract year in which cessation of payment of consideration under the contract occurs.

Contracts Which Provide Both Annuity Benefits and Life Insurance Benefits

Sec. 9. For any contract which provides, within the same contract by rider or supplemental contract provision, both annuity benefits and life insurance benefits that are in excess of the greater of cash surrender benefits or a return of the gross considerations with interest, the minimum non-forfeiture benefits shall be equal to the sum of the minimum non-forfeiture benefits for the annuity portion and the minimum non-forfeiture benefits, if any, for the life insurance portion computed as if each portion were a separate contract. Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, and 8 of this Article, additional benefits payable (a) in the event of total and permanent disability, (b) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits, or (c) as other policy benefits additional to life insurance, endowment and annuity benefits, and considerations for all such additional benefits, shall be disregarded in ascertaining the minimum non-forfeiture amounts, paid-up annuity, cash surrender and death benefits that may be required by this Article. The inclusion of such additional benefits shall not be required in any paid-up benefits, unless such additional benefits separately would require minimum non-forfeiture amounts, paid-up annuity, cash surrender and death benefits.

Inapplicability of Article

Sec. 10. This Article shall not apply to any reinsurance, group annuity purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation established or maintained by an employer (including a partnership or sole proprietorship), or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under Section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (Title 26, United States Code, as amended), premium deposit fund, variable annuity, investment annuity, immediate annuity, any deferred annuity contract after annuity payments have commenced, or reversionary annuity, nor to any contract which shall be delivered outside this state through an agent or other representative of the company issuing the contract.

Operative Date of Article

Sec. 11. After the effective date of this Article, any company may file with the State Board of Insurance a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this Article after a specified date before the second anniversary of the effective date of this Article. After the filing of such notices, then upon such specified date, which shall be the operative date of this Article for such company, the Article shall become operative with respect to annuity contracts thereafter issued by such company. If a company makes no such election, the operative date of this Article for such company shall be the second anniversary of the effective date of this Article.

SUBCHAPTER E. GROUP; INDUSTRIAL AND CREDIT INSURANCE

Art. 3.50. Group Life Insurance

Definitions

Sec. 1. No policy of group life insurance shall be delivered in this state unless it conforms to one of the following descriptions:

(1) A policy issued to an employer, or to the trustees of a fund established by an employer, which employer or trustees shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure employees of the employer for the benefit of persons other than the employer, subject to the following requirements:

(a) The employees eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the employees of the employer, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the employees of one or more subsidiary corporations, and the employees, individual proprietors, and partners of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietors or partnerships if the business of the employer and of such affiliated corporations, proprietors or partnerships is under common control through stock ownership, contract, or otherwise. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the individual proprietor or partners if the employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees.

(b) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either wholly from the employer's fund or funds contributed by him, or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured employees. No policy may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees. A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees may be placed in force only if at least seventy-five percent (75%) of the then eligible employees, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required contributions. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees must insure all eligible employees, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(c) The policy must cover at least ten (10) employees at date of issue.

(d) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the employees or by the employer or trustees. No policy may be issued which provides insurance on any employee which together with any other insurance under any group life insurance policies issued to the employer or to the trustees of a fund established by the employer exceeds Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), unless two hundred percent (200%) of the annual compensation of such employee from his employer or employers exceeds Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), in which event all such term insurance shall not exceed One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00), or two hundred percent (200%) of such annual compensation, whichever is the lesser, except that this limitation shall not apply to group insurance on other than the term plan where such insurance is to be used to fund the benefits under a pension or profit sharing plan and the amount of such insurance does not exceed that required to provide at normal retirement date the pension specified by the plan, and except that a group policy which is issued by the same or another carrier to replace another group policy may provide term insurance not to exceed the amounts provided by the policy which it replaces, or the amounts provided above, whichever are greater.

(2) A policy issued to a labor union, which shall be deemed the employer and policyholder, to insure the members of such union who are actively engaged in the same occupation and who shall be deemed to be the employees of such union within the meaning of this Article.

(3) A policy issued to any association of employees of the United States Government or any subdivision thereof, provided the majority of the members of such association are residents of this state, an association of public employees, an incorporated city, town or village, an independent school district, common school district, state colleges or universities, any association of state employees, any association of state, county and city, town or village employees, and any association of any combination of state, county or city, town or village employees and any department of the state government which employer or association shall be deemed the policyholder to insure the employees of any such incorporated city, town or village, of any such independent school district, of any common school district, of any such state college or university, of any such department of the state government, members of any association of state, county or city, town or village or of the United States Government or any subdivision thereof, provided the majority of such employees reside in this state, employees for the benefit of persons other than the policyholder subject to the following requirements:

(a) The persons eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the employees of the employer or if the policyholder is an association, all of the members of the association.

(b) The premium for a policy issued to any policyholder authorized to be such policyholder under Subsection (3) of Section 1, Article 3.50, Texas Insurance Code, may be paid in whole or in part from funds contributed by the employer, or in whole or in part from funds contributed by the persons insured under said policy; or in whole or in part from funds contributed by the insured employees who are members of such association of employees; provided, however, that any monies or credits received by or allowed to the policyholder pursuant to any participation agreement contained in or issued in connection with the policy shall be applied to the payment of future premiums and to the pro rata abatement of the insured employees' contribution therefor; and provided further, that the employer may deduct from the employees' salaries the employees' contributions for the premiums when authorized in writing by the respective employees so to do. Such policy may be placed in force only if at least 75% of the eligible employees or if an association of employees is the policyholder, 75% of the eligible members of said association, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required premium contributions and become insured thereunder. Any group policies heretofore issued to any of the groups named in Section 1(3) above and in existence on the effective date of this Act shall continue in force even though the number of employees or members insured thereunder is less than 75% of the eligible employees or members on the effective date of this Act.

(c) The policy must cover at least ten (10) employees at date of issue, or if an association of employees is the policyholder, ten (10) members of said association at date of issue.

(d) The term employees as used herein in addition to its usual meaning shall include elective and appointive officials of the state.

(4) A policy issued to a creditor, who shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure debtors of the creditor, subject to the following requirements:

(a) The debtors eligible for insurance under the policy shall all be members of a group of persons numbering not less than fifty (50) at all times, who become borrowers, or purchasers of securities, merchandise or other property, under agreement to repay the sum borrowed or to pay the balance of the price of the securities, merchandise or other property purchase, to the extent of their respective indebtedness, but not to exceed Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00) on any one life; provided, however, the face amount of any loan or loan commitment, totally or partially executed, made to a debtor for educational purposes or to a debtor with seasonal income by a creditor in good faith for general agricultural or horticultural purposes, secured or unsecured, where the debtor becomes personally liable for the payment of such loan, may be so insured in an initial amount of such insurance not to exceed the total amount repayable under the contract of indebtedness and, when such indebtedness is repayable in substantially equal installments, the amount of insurance shall at no time exceed the scheduled or actual amount of unpaid indebtedness, whichever is greater, and such insurance on such credit commitments not exceeding one year in duration may be written up to the amount of the loan commitment on a nondecreasing or level term plan, but such insurance shall not exceed Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) on any one life.

(b) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either from the creditor's funds or from charges collected from the insured debtors, or both.

(c) The insurance issued shall not include annuities or endowment insurance.

(d) The insurance shall be payable to the policyholder. Such payment shall reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness of the debtor to the extent of such payment; provided that in the case of a debtor for educational purposes or of a debtor with seasonal income, under a loan or loan commitment for general agricultural or horticultural purposes of the type described in paragraph (a), the insurance in excess of the indebtedness to the creditor, if any, shall be payable to the estate of the debtor or under the provision of a facility of payment clause.

(5) A policy issued to the trustees of a fund established by two or more employers in the same industry or by one or more labor unions, or to the trustees of a fund established by one or more employers in the same industry and one or more labor unions, or by one or more employers and one or more labor unions whose members are in the same or related occupations or trades, which trustees shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure employees of the employers or members of the unions for the benefit of persons other than the employers or the union, subject to the following requirements:

(a) The persons eligible for insurance shall be all of the employees of the employers and the employees of the trade association of such employers or all of the members of the union, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment, or to membership in the unions, or both. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees, and the individual proprietor or partners if an employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. No director of a corporate employer shall be eligible for insurance under the policy unless such person is otherwise eligible as a bona fide employee of the corporation by performing services other than the usual duties of a director. No individual proprietor or partner shall be eligible for insurance under the policy unless he is actively engaged in and devotes a substantial part of his time to the conduct of the business of the proprietor or partnership. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the trustees or their employees, or both, if their duties are principally connected with such trusteeship.

(b) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the trustees wholly from funds contributed by the employer or employers of the insured persons, or by the union or unions, or by both, or, partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured persons, except that in no event shall the contribution by an insured person toward the cost of his insurance exceed forty cents per thousand per month. A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons specifically for their insurance may be placed in force only if at least seventy-five percent (75%) of the then eligible persons of each participating employer unit, excluding any as to whom evidence of insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required contributions. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons specifically for their insurance must insure all eligible persons, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(c) The policy must cover at date of issue at least one hundred (100) persons; unless the policy is issued to the trustees of a fund established by employers which have assumed obligations through a collective bargaining agreement and are participating in the fund either pursuant to those obligations with regard to one or more classes of their employees which are encompassed in the collective bargaining agreement or as a method of providing insurance benefits for other classes of their employees, or unless the policy is issued to the trustees of a fund established by one or more labor unions.

(d) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the insured persons or by the policyholder or employer. No policy may be issued which provides term insurance on any person which together with any other term insurance under any group life insurance policy or policies issued to trustees or employers exceeds Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), unless two hundred percent (200%) of the annual compensation of such employee from his employer or employers exceeds Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), in which event all such term insurance shall not exceed One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00) or two hundred percent (200%) of such annual compensation, whichever is the lesser.

(e) The limitation as to amount of group insurance on any person shall not apply to group insurance on other than the term plan where such insurance is to be used to fund the benefits under a pension plan and the amount of such insurance does not exceed that required to provide at normal retirement date the pension specified by the plan, and except that a group policy which is issued by the same or another carrier to replace another group policy may provide term insurance not to exceed the amount provided by the policy which it replaces, or the amounts provided above whichever is greater.

(f) No policy may be issued (i) to insure employees of any employer whose eligibility to participate in the fund as an employer arises out of considerations directly related to the employer being a commercial correspondent or business client or patron of another employer (regardless of whether such other employer is or is not participating in the fund); or (ii) to insure employees of any employer which is not located in this state, unless the majority of the employers whose employees are to be insured are located in this state, or unless the policy is issued to the trustees of a fund established by one or more labor unions.

(6) A policy issued to cover any other substantially similar group which, in the discretion of the commissioner of insurance, may be subject to the issuance of a group life insurance policy or contract.

(7) No policy of wholesale, franchise or employee life insurance, as hereinafter defined, shall be issued or delivered in this state unless it conforms to the following requirements:

(a) Wholesale, franchise or employee life insurance is hereby defined as: a term life insurance plan under which a number of individual term life insurance policies are issued at special rates to a selected group. A special rate is any rate lower than the rate shown in the issuing insurance company's manual for individually issued policies of the same type and to insureds of the same class.

(b) Wholesale, franchise or employee life insurance may be issued to (1) the employees of a common employer or employers, covering at date of issue not less than five employees; or (2) the members of a labor union or unions covering at date of issue not less than five members; or (3) the members of a credit union or credit unions covering at date of issue not less than five (5) members.

(c) The premium for the policy shall be paid either wholly from funds contributed by the employer or employers of the insured persons, or by the union or unions or by both, or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured person, except that in no event shall the contribution by an insured person toward the cost of his insurance exceed forty cents per thousand per month.

(d) No policy may be issued on a wholesale, franchise or employee life insurance basis which, together with any other term life insurance policy or policies issued on a wholesale, franchise, employee life insurance or group basis, provides term life insurance coverage for an amount in excess of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), unless two hundred percent (200%) of the annual compensation of such employee from his employer or employers exceeds Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00), in which event all such term insurance shall not exceed One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00), or two hundred percent (200%) of such annual compensation, whichever is the lesser. An individual application shall be taken for each such policy and the insurer shall be entitled to rely upon the applicant's statements as to applicant's other similar coverage upon his life.

(e) Each such policy of insurance shall contain a provision substantially as follows:

A provision that if the insurance on an insured person ceases because of termination of employment or of membership in the union, such person shall be entitled to have issued to him by the insurer, without evidence of insurability an individual policy of life insurance without disability or other supplementary benefits, provided application for the individual policy shall be made, and the first premium paid to the insurer, within thirty-one (31) days after such termination.

(f) Each such policy may contain any provision substantially as follows:

(1) A provision that the policy is renewable at the option of the insurer only;

(2) A provision for termination of coverage by the insurer upon termination of employment by the insured employee;

(3) A provision requiring a person eligible for insurance to furnish evidence of individual insurability satisfactory to the insurer as condition to coverage.

(g) The limitation as to amount of group and wholesale, franchise or employee life insurance on any person shall not apply to group insurance on other than the term plan where such insurance is to be used to fund benefits under a pension plan and the amount of such insurance does not exceed that required to provide at normal retirement date the pension specified by the plan, and except that a group policy which is issued by the same or another carrier to replace another group policy may provide term insurance not to exceed the amounts provided by the policy which it replaces, or the amounts provided above, whichever are greater.

(h) Nothing contained in this Subsection (6) shall in any manner alter, impair or invalidate (1) any policy heretofore issued prior to the effective date of this Act; nor (2) any such plan heretofore placed in force and effect provided such prior plan was at date of issue legal and valid; nor (3) any policy issued on a salary savings franchise plan, bank deduction plan, pre-authorized check plan or similar plan of premium collection.

(7A) A policy may be issued to a principal, or if such principal is a life or life and accident or life, accident and health insurer, by or to such principal, covering when issued not less than ten (10) agents of the principal, subject to the following requirements:

(a) As used in this section, the term "agents" shall be deemed to include general agents, sub-agents and salesmen.

(b) The agents eligible for insurance under the policy shall be those who are under contract to render personal services for the principal for a commission or other fixed or ascertainable compensation.

(c) The premium for the policy shall be paid either wholly by the principal or partly from funds contributed by the principal and partly from funds contributed by the insured agents. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured agents must insure all of the eligible agents or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to the services to be rendered by the agents to the principal. A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured agents must cover at issue at least seventy-five percent (75%) of the eligible agents or at least seventy-five percent (75%) of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to the services to be rendered by the agents; provided, however, that the benefits may be extended to other classes of agents as seventy-five percent (75%) thereof express the desire to be covered.

(d) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the principal or by the agents. The duties of such employees and their compensation shall be determined and assigned by the trustee. The trustee may, on a competitive bid basis, contract with a qualified, experienced firm of group insurance specialists who shall act for the trustee in a capacity as independent administrators and managers of the programs authorized under this Act. The independent administrator so selected by the trustee shall assist the trustee to insure the proper administration of the Act and the insurance coverages, services, and benefits provided for or authorized by the Act and shall be paid by the trustee. Compensation of all persons employed by the trustee and their expenses shall be paid at such rates and in such amounts as the trustee shall approve, providing that in no case shall they be greater than those expenses paid for like or similar services. Also, as an agency of the State of Texas, the trustee shall have full power and authority to enter into interagency contracts with any department of the State of Texas. The interagency contracts shall provide for reimbursement to the state departments and shall define the services to be performed by the departments for the trustee. The trustee shall have full power and authority to promulgate all rules, regulations, plans, procedures, and orders reasonably necessary to implement and carry out the purposes and provisions of this Act in all its particulars, including but not limited to the following:

(j) to provide either additional statewide optional programs or individual agency optional programs as the trustee may determine is appropriate.

Authority to Purchase Group Insurance

Sec. 5. (a) The trustee shall establish a plan or plans for active employees and retired employees, and is hereby authorized, empowered, and directed to contract with one or more qualified carriers or a combination of qualified carriers for the establishment of such plans. The trustee is further authorized, empowered, and directed to establish the above referenced plans of group insurance which in the trustee's discretion may include but are not necessarily limited to the following: group life insurance, accidental death and dismemberment, health benefits plans, including but not limited to hospital care and benefits, surgical care and treatment, medical care and treatment, dental care, obstetrical benefits, prescribed drugs, medicines, and prosthetic devices and supplement benefits, supplies, and services in conformity with the provisions of this Act, insurance protection against either long or short term loss of salary and any other coverages of group insurance which in the discretion of the trustee with consultation from the advisory committee shall be deemed advisable. All rules and regulations shall be promulgated pursuant thereto upon such terms and conditions as shall be agreed upon between the trustee and the carrier or carriers selected to provide such insurance coverages and benefits. The trustee shall determine the insurance coverages desired for state employees and will submit this information to the State Board of Insurance for any recommendations as to the types and sufficiency of such coverages. The State Board of Insurance will notify the board of trustees within 15 days as to any such recommendations and will furnish the board of trustees with a list of all carriers authorized to do business in the State of Texas who would be eligible to bid on the insurance coverage proposed. The trustee will notify those carriers that competitive bidding will be conducted and that they are to submit their bids to the State Board of Insurance by a specified date if they wish to bid on the contract. The State Board of Insurance will, after the designated closing date for receiving bids, examine and evaluate the bidding contracts and certify their actuarial soundness to the trustee within 15 days from the closing date. The trustee shall select the desired carrier or carriers and will notify the bidding eligible carriers as to the results of the bidding. The trustee shall select the desired carrier or carriers to provide services which shall be in the best interest of the employees covered by this Act. The trustee is not required to select the lowest bid but shall take into consideration other factors such as ability to service contracts, past experience, financial ability, and other relevant criteria. Should the trustee select a carrier whose bid differs from that advertised, such deviation shall be recorded and the reasons for such deviation shall be fully justified and explained in the minutes of the next meeting of the trustee.

(b) In the event the trustee shall select as the carrier one whose bid was not the lowest of all bids submitted, such selection shall be submitted together with justifications and reasons therefor to the State Board of Insurance. Such deviating selection shall not be deemed final and binding unless and until a majority of the State Board of Insurance has certified its approval in writing to the trustee, or upon the expiration of 30 days after receipt thereof by the State Board of Insurance such deviating selection shall be deemed approved.

(c) The trustee will be required to submit for competitive bidding the coverages provided by the group plan as follows:

(1) at least every three years;

(2) whenever a change in the types and amounts of coverage occurs, provided that submission for competitive bidding shall not be required more than once within a year from the last submission.

(d) No department shall establish, continue, or authorize payroll deductions for any benefits or coverage as provided in this section without the express approval of the trustee, except for benefits from the deferred compensation program established pursuant to Chapter 197, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973 (Article 6252-3b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(e) The trustee is authorized to select and contract for services performed by health maintenance organizations which are approved by the federal government or the State of Texas to offer health care services to eligible employees and annuitants in a specific area of the state. Eligible employees and annuitants may participate in a selected health maintenance organization in lieu of participation in the health insurance benefits in the Employees Uniform Group Insurance Program, and the employer contributions provided by Subsection (a), Section 15 of this Act for health care coverage shall be paid to the selected health maintenance organizations on behalf of the participants.

Benefit Certificates

Sec. 6. The trustees shall provide for the issuance to each employee insured under this Act a certificate of insurance setting forth the benefits to which the employee is entitled, to whom the benefits are payable, to whom the claims shall be submitted, and summarizing the provisions of the policy principally affecting the employee.

Annual Report

Sec. 7. As soon as practicable after the end of each calendar year but not later than 90 days thereafter, the trustee shall make a written report to the State Board of Insurance concerning the insurance coverages provided and the benefits and services being received by all state employees insured under the provisions of this Act. It shall be the duty of the State Board of Insurance to review such report and advise the trustee in regard to the insurance features of the coverages provided for all state employees and cooperate fully with the trustee in carrying out the purposes of this Act.

Reinsurance

Sec. 8. (a) The trustee shall arrange with any carrier or carriers issuing any policy or policies under this Act for the reinsurance, under conditions approved by the trustee, of portions of the total amount of insurance under such policy or policies, with other qualified carriers which elect to participate in the reinsurance.

(b) The trustee shall determine for and in advance of a policy year which qualified carriers are eligible to participate as reinsurers and the amount of insurance under a policy or policies which is to be allocated to the issuing company and reinsurers. The trustee shall make this determination at least every three years and when a participating company withdraws.

Annual Accounting; Special Contingency Reserve

Sec. 9. (a) Carriers providing any policy purchased under this Act shall provide an accounting to the trustee not later than 90 days after the end of each policy year. The accounting shall set forth, in a form approved by the trustee:

(2) the total of all mortality and other claims, charges, losses, costs, and expenses incurred for that period; and

(3) the amounts of the insurers' allowance for a reasonable profit and contingencies for that period.

(b) An excess of the total of Subdivision (a)(1) of this section over the sum of Subdivisions (a)(2) and (a)(3) of this section shall be held by the carrier issuing the policy as a special contingency reserve to be used by the carrier only for charges, claims, costs, and expenses under the policy. The reserve shall bear interest at a rate determined in advance of each policy year by the carrier and approved by the trustee as being consistent with the rates generally used by the carrier for similar funds held under other group insurance policies. When the trustee determines that the special contingency reserve has attained an amount estimated by it to make satisfactory provision for adverse fluctuations in future charges, claims, costs, or expenses under the policy, any further excess shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Employees Life, Accident, and Health Insurance and Benefits Fund. When a policy is discontinued, any balance remaining in the special contingency reserve after all charges have been made shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the fund. The carrier may make the deposit in equal monthly installments over a period of not more than two years.

In addition to the benefits hereinabove provided and subject to the conditions and limitations of the policy or policies purchased by the trustee, such policy or policies shall provide such payments and benefits for employees and retired employees as shall be determined by the trustee. The trustee is also authorized to include the dependents of employees in the group life insurance program.

(b) The trustee shall prescribe regulations providing for the conversion of other than annual rates of pay to annual rates of pay, and specify the types of pay included in annual pay and all other matters necessary to implement this section.

Third, if none of the above, to the child or children of the employee and descendants of deceased children by representation.

Fourth, if none of the above, to the parents of the employee or the survivor of them.

(c) If, within two years after the death of the employee, no claim for payment has been filed by a person entitled under the order of precedence named in Subsection (a) of this section, and neither the trustee nor the office established by the administering carrier has received notice that such a claim will be made, payment may be to the claimant who in the judgment of the trustee is equitably entitled thereto, and the payment bars recovery by any other person.

(d) If, within four years after the death of the employee, payment has not been made under this section and no claim for payment by a person entitled under this section is pending, the amount payable escheats to the credit of the fund.

(b) If an employee or annuitant refuses in writing the coverages, benefits, or services provided by this Act by a statement in writing satisfactory to the trustee, then in no event shall the State of Texas or the employee's department make any contribution to the cost of any other insurance coverages, services, or benefits on such employee or annuitant.

(c) If any insured employee or annuitant applies for coverage for which the premium exceeds the state's or the employing department's contribution under this Act, he shall authorize in writing and in a form satisfactory to the trustee a deduction from his monthly compensation or annuity the difference between the cost of premiums under said group policies and the amount contributed therefor by the State of Texas or the employing department.

Sec. 15. (a) On or before the first day of November next preceding each regular session of the legislature, the trustee shall certify to the Legislative Budget Board and budget division of the governor's office for information and review the amount necessary to pay the contributions of the State of Texas to the trustee for insurance premiums on the coverages provided under this Act during the ensuing biennium. This amount shall be included in the budget of the state which the governor submits to the legislature. The trustee shall certify on or before August 31 of each year to the state comptroller of public accounts and the State Treasurer the estimated amount of state contributions to be received for employees covered by this Act during the ensuing year.

(b) From and after the effective date of this Act, there is hereby allocated and appropriated to the trustee, in accordance with the provisions of this Act, from the several funds from which state employees receive their respective salaries, a sum equal to the total of all employer contributions computed in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the rules and regulations of the trustee promulgated pursuant thereto.

(c) All money hereby allocated and appropriated by the state to the trustee under this Act shall be paid to the trustee in monthly installments based on the annual estimate by the trustee of the contributions to be received for all state employees during said year; provided, however, that in the event said estimate of the contributions of the state employees shall vary from the actual amount of the employer contributions during the year, such adjustments shall be made at the close of each fiscal year as may be required. Each of said monthly installments shall be paid into the appropriate fund created by this Act in the amount certified by the trustee.

(d) The trustee shall certify to the governing boards of those state departments who provide contributions for their employees from operating budgets provided from sources other than the General Appropriations Act the proportionate amounts needed to pay their respective contributions. Such certifications shall be made at least 30 days prior to the meeting at which the governing board adopts its operating budget.

Employees Life, Accident, and Health Insurance and Benefits Fund

Sec. 16. (a) There is hereby created with the treasury of the State of Texas an Employees Life, Accident, and Health Insurance and Benefits Fund which shall be administered by the trustee. The contributions of employees, annuitants, and the state provided for under this Act shall be paid into the fund. The fund is available:

(1) without fiscal year limitation for all payments for any insurance coverages provided for under this Act; and

(2) to pay expenses for administering this Act within the limitations that may be specified annually by the legislature.

(b) Portions of the contributions made by employees, annuitants, and the state shall be regularly set aside in the fund as follows: a percentage, not to exceed one percent of all contributions, determined by the trustee to be reasonably adequate to pay the administrative expenses made available by Subsection (a) of this section. When funds are so transferred, each contingency reserve shall be credited in proportion to the total amount of the subscription charges paid and accrued to the plan for the contract term immediately before the contract term in which the transfer is made. The income derived from dividends, rate adjustments, or other refunds made by a plan shall be credited to its contingency reserve. The contingency reserves may be used to defray increases in future rates, or may be applied to reduce the contributions of employees and the state to, or to increase the benefits provided by, the plan from which the reserves are derived, as the trustee from time to time shall determine.

(c) The trustee shall have full power to invest and reinvest any of the money in the fund subject only to the restrictions contained in Section 7, Chapter 352, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947, as amended (Article 6228a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The interest on and the proceeds from the sale of these obligations become a part of the fund.

(d) When insurance coverages or benefits provided for under this Act are discontinued, the contingency reserve of that plan shall be credited to the contingency reserves of such insurance continuing under this Act for the contract term following that in which termination occurs, each reserve to be credited in proportion to the amount of the subscription charges paid and accrued to the plan for the year of termination.

Studies, Reports, Records, and Audits

Sec. 17. (a) The trustee shall make a continuing study of the operation and administration of this Act, including surveys and reports on group insurance coverages and benefits available to employees and on the experience thereof.

(b) Each contract entered into under this Act shall contain provisions requiring carriers to

(1) furnish such reasonable reports as the trustee determines to be necessary to enable it to carry out its functions under this Act; and

(2) permit the trustee and representatives of the state auditor to examine records of the carriers as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(c) Each state department shall keep such records, make such certifications, and furnish the trustee with such information and reports as may be necessary to enable the trustee to carry out its functions under this Act.

The committee shall cooperate and work with the trustee in coordinating and correlating the administration of the Employees Uniform Group Insurance Program among the various state departments and agencies. Coverage for Dependents

Sec. 19. (a) Any employee or annuitant shall be entitled to secure for his dependents any uniform group insurance coverages provided for employees under this Act, as shall be determined by the trustee. Premium payments required of the employee in excess of employer contributions shall be deducted from the monthly pay of the employee or from his retirement benefits in such manner and form as the trustee shall determine.

(b) A surviving spouse of an employee or a retiree who is entitled to monthly benefits paid by a retirement system named in this Act may, following the death of the employee or retiree, elect to retain the spouse's authorized insurance coverage and also retain authorized insurance coverage for any dependent of the spouse, at the group rate for employees, provided such coverage was previously secured by the employee or retiree for the spouse or dependent, and the spouse directs the applicable retirement system to deduct required premiums from the monthly benefits paid the surviving spouse by the retirement system.

(c) The surviving spouse of an employee or a retiree who designated or selected a time certain annuity option, upon expiration of the annuity option, may retain authorized insurance coverage by advance payment of premiums to the Employees Retirement System of Texas under rules and regulations adopted by the trustee.

Authority

Sec. 4. (a) A Texas State College and University Employees Uniform Insurance Benefits Program is hereby created. The commissioner of higher education, acting under the direction and established policies of the coordinating board, shall appoint a coordinating board staff member who shall serve as executive secretary for the program, and shall provide from appropriated funds such additional staff and other resources necessary to provide technical consulting and administrative and clerical support for the effective administration of this Act by the administrative council and the advisory committee as hereinafter provided.

(b) The administrative council shall be selected, serve, and perform duties as hereinafter described:

(1) Selection. (A) Acting as a group, the presidents of the six senior level institutions having the highest number of employees as defined in this Act, based on the most current statistical reports of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, shall with prior consultation with all other presidents of all senior level institutions covered by this Act, designate three representatives to serve as members of the council. The persons so designated shall be employees as defined in this Act and may be from any of the senior level institutions.

(B) Acting as a group, the presidents of the three junior level institutions or technical institutions having the highest number of employees as defined in this Act, based on the most current statistical reports of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, shall with prior consultation with all other presidents of all junior level institutions covered by this Act, designate three representatives to serve as members of the council. The persons so designated shall be employees as defined in this Act and may be from any of the junior level institutions or technical institutions.

(C) The commissioner of higher education shall appoint three members of the council, which members shall not be subject to the restrictions in Section 4(b)(2).

(2) Qualifications of members. The persons designated as members of the administrative council, in addition to being employees as defined in this Act, shall have demonstrable qualifications for the administration of the program established by this Act.

(3) Terms of membership. (A) Except for initial appointments, all appointments shall serve for a period of six years each except for appointments to fill vacancies occurring in cases of incompleting terms, in which case the appointment shall be for the remainder of the unexpired term.

(B) The administrative council initially shall be established as follows:

(i) Of the three appointments made by the presidents of senior level institutions as described in Subsection (b)(1)(A) of this section, one of the members so appointed shall serve for a period of six years, one shall serve for a period of four years, and one shall serve for a period of two years from the effective date of this Act. Thereafter terms of all appointees shall be for six years.

(ii) Of the three appointments made by the presidents of the junior level institutions or technical institutions as described in this Act, one of these appointments shall be for a period of six years, one shall be for a period of four years, and one shall be for a period of two years from the effective date of this Act. Thereafter terms of all appointees shall be for six years.

(iii) The members thus appointed shall, at the first organizational meeting of the administrative council, draw lots for terms of office as described above in this Act and shall elect a chairman and other such officers as may be necessary. Thereafter, elections shall be held annually for the chairmanship and other such offices.

(4) Duties. The administrative council shall:

(A) determine basic coverage standards which shall be at least equal to those commonly provided in private industry and those provided employees of other agencies of the State of Texas under the Texas Employees Uniform Group Insurance Benefits Act,¹ after considering recommendations of the advisory committee.

(B) determine maximum costs for administration of the plans by the administering carriers.

(C) determine basic procedural and administrative practices for insurance coverages to be provided employees covered under the provisions of this Act, after considering recommendations of the advisory committee.

(D) determine if existing institutional programs meet, equate to, or exceed standards for such basic coverages. If so, such programs may be continued in accordance with existing contractual arrangements between those institutions and their carrier or carriers, provided, however, that each program so continued shall be submitted by the institution for competitive bidding within standards established by the administrative council at least once during each four-year period following the effective date of coverage under this Act. It is further provided that:

(i) The State Board of Insurance shall provide, by request of the institution, a list of all carriers authorized to do business in the State of Texas and who will be eligible to bid on the insurance coverage or coverages provided in this Act.

Should the institution select a carrier whose bid differs from that advertised, such deviation shall be reported to the administrative council and the reasons for such deviation shall be fully justified and recorded in the minutes of the next meeting of the administrative council.

(E) determine those institutions whose programs contain deficiencies with regard to the basic standards, administrative costs, and practices provided for under this Act. The purpose of such authorization shall be to provide institutions of higher education with the ability to obtain the benefits of economy and/or improved coverages for their employees which may occur through increased purchasing economies for larger groups of employees. All contracts for basic coverages negotiated from the effective date of this Act shall be in compliance with basic coverage standards, rules, and regulations of the administrative council promulgated pursuant to this Act. Each governing board may provide such additional or optional insurance programs and coverages as it deems desirable for its employees.

(J) develop policies, practices, and procedures as necessary in accordance with provisions of applicable statutes to provide for greater uniformity in the administration of retirement annuity insurance programs available to employees of Texas state colleges and universities through the Optional Retirement Program, Article 51.351 et seq., Texas Education Code, as amended, and tax sheltered annuity programs as provided in Chapter 22, Acts of the 57th Legislature, 3rd Called Session, 1962, as amended (Article 6228a-5, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(K) establish rules, regulations, and procedures for preparation and review of the annual reports of the institutions as further provided for under Section 6 of the Act.

(c) The advisory committee shall be selected, serve, and perform duties as hereinafter described:

(1) Selection. One member of the advisory committee shall be elected from each of the institutional components, units, or agencies under the policy direction of a single governing board at such times as designated by the administrative council and in accordance with general guidelines for such elections provided by the administrative council.

The persons so elected shall demonstrate mature judgment, special abilities, and sincere interests in employee insurance programs and be able to represent the needs of all employees of the institution represented with regard to advisory committee actions.

At the initial meeting of the advisory committee, and subsequently each year, the members who are elected shall elect a chairman and other such officers as may be necessary. A vacancy shall be filled by an employee of the same institution from which the vacancy occurred, being appointed by the president of said institution for the balance of the vacated term.

(4) Duties. (A) The advisory committee shall cooperate and work with the administrative council in coordinating and correlating the administration of the group insurance program among the various institutions. ¹ Article 3.50-2.

Benefit Certificates

Sec. 5. The administrative council shall assure that each employee insured under this Act is issued a certificate of insurance setting forth the benefits to which the employee is entitled, to whom the benefits are payable, to whom the claims shall be submitted, and summarizing the provisions of the policy principally affecting the employee.

Annual Report

Sec. 6. As soon as practicable after the end of each contract year, but not later than 180 days thereafter, each institution covered under the provisions of this Act shall submit an annual report to the administrative council, comparing the insurance coverages provided and the benefits and services received by its employees insured under the provisions of this Act. The administrative council shall, within 30 days of receipt of the institutional annual reports, submit the annual reports together with a summary and commentary to the commissioner of higher education for submission to the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

Reinsurance

Sec. 7. (a) The institutions may arrange with any administering carrier or carriers issuing any policy or policies under this Act for the reinsurance of portions of the total amount of insurance under such policy or policies with other qualified carriers which elect to participate in the reinsurance.

(b) The administrative council may determine all rules, regulations, and actions necessary for the providing of such reinsurance through qualified carriers.

Annual Accounting

Sec. 8. (a) Carriers providing any policy purchased under this Act shall provide an accounting to the institution not later than 120 days after the end of each policy year. The accounting for each line of coverage shall set forth, in a form acceptable to the administrative council:

(1) the cumulative amount of premiums actually remitted to the carrier under the policy from its date of issue to the end of the policy year, the amount of premiums actually remitted under the policy for each year from the anniversary date to the end of that policy year;

(2) the total of all mortality and other claims, charges, losses, costs, contingency reserve for pending and unreported claims and expenses incurred for each of the periods corresponding to each of the periods heretofore described in Subsection (a)(1) of this section;

(3) the amounts of the allowance for a reasonable profit, contingency reserves, and all other administrative charges corresponding to each of the periods as heretofore described in Subsection (a)(1) of this section.

(b) Any excess of the total of Subsection (a)(1) of this section over the corresponding sum of Subsections (a)(2) and (a)(3) of this section may be held by the carrier issuing the policy as a special reserve. Such reserve may be used at the discretion of the institution with prior approval of the administrative council for, but not limited to, providing additional coverage for participating employees, offsetting necessary employee premium rate increases, or to reduce participating employee premium contributions to the coverage. Any reserve held by the carrier would bear interest at a rate determined each policy year by the carrier and approved by the institution as being consistent with the rate generally used by the carrier for similar funds held under other group insurance policies. Alternative report requirements or arrangements may be approved by the administrative council.

Exemption from Execution

Sec. 9. All insurance benefits and other payments and transactions made pursuant to the provisions of this Act to any employee covered under the provisions of this Act shall be exempt from execution, attachment, garnishment, or any other process whatsoever.

(a) to the beneficiary or beneficiaries designated by the employee in a signed and witnessed writing received before death in the employing office. For this purpose, a designation, change, or cancellation of beneficiary in a will or other document not so executed and filed has no force or effect.

(b) if no beneficiary is designated in accordance with Subsection (a) of this section, payment shall be made in accordance with the death benefit provisions of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, Chapter 3, Title 1, Texas Education Code, as amended.¹

Automatic Coverage

Sec. 11. No eligible employee shall be denied enrollment in any of the coverages provided by this Act; provided, however, that the employee may waive in writing any or all such coverages. Each policy of insurance shall provide for automatic coverage on the date the employee becomes eligible for insurance. From the first day of employment, each active full-time employee who has not waived basic coverage or selected optional coverages shall be protected by a basic plan of insurance coverage automatically. The premium for such coverage shall not exceed the amount of the employer contribution. Each employee who is automatically covered under this section may subsequently retain or waive the basic plan and may make application for any other coverages provided under this Act within institutional and administrative council standards.

Payment of Premiums

Sec. 12. Each institution and agency covered under the provisions of this Act shall contribute monthly to the cost of each insured employee's coverage no less than the amount appropriated therefor by the legislature in the General Appropriations Act or as determined by the governing board of the institution in its respective official operating budget, if the employees are compensated from funds appropriated by such budgets rather than by the General Appropriations Act. The employees shall authorize in writing and in a form satisfactory to the institution a deduction from his monthly compensation of the difference between the total cost of benefits and the amount contributed therefor by the institution or agency.

Employer Contributions

Sec. 13. Certification shall be submitted on or before the first day of November next preceding each regular session of the legislature; the institutions and agencies covered under the provisions of this Act shall certify to the Legislative Budget Board and budget division of the Governor's Budget and Planning Office the amount necessary to pay employer contributions for each active and retired employee from the effective date of this Act. The Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's Budget and Planning Office will establish procedures to insure that eligible institutions request appropriate funds to support this program and shall present appropriate budget recommendations to the legislature. The Teacher Retirement System of Texas, Optional Retirement Program carriers, and Employees Retirement System of Texas shall furnish each institution such information as may be deemed necessary by the administrative council to provide retired employees with the coverages and employer contributions provided under the Act.

Administrative Costs

Sec. 14. No employee covered under the provisions of this Act shall be required to pay out of the amount of employer contributions due him or out of the amount of his additional premiums due for selected coverages, any administrative costs, fees, or tax whatsoever to pay expenses of a state institution, the coordinating board, or committees as herein established for administering this Act. The duties of each member of the administrative council and the advisory committee shall be considered additional duties to those required of his other state office or employment, and all expenses incurred by any such member in performing his duties as a member of the council or committee shall be paid out of funds made available for those purposes to the institution of which he is an employee or officer.

Studies, Reports, Records, and Audits

Sec. 15. (a) The administrative council shall cause to be established a continuing study of the operation and administration of this Act, including surveys and reports on group insurance coverages and benefits.

(b) Each contract entered into under this Act shall contain provisions requiring administering carriers to

(1) furnish such reasonable reports as the administrative council determines to be necessary to enable it to carry out its functions under this Act; and

(2) permit the administrative council and representatives of the state auditor to examine records of the carriers as may be necessary to carry out the purpose of this Act.

(c) Each institution shall keep such records, make such certifications, and furnish the administrative council with such information and reports as may be necessary to enable the administrative council to carry out its functions under this Act.

Applicability of State Open-Meetings and Open-Records Statutes and Federal and State Privacy Statutes

Sec. 16. Any reports which shall be required by action of the administrative council and advisory committee which have been established under the Act shall be a matter of open record, available for review under the provisions of applicable open-record statutes of the State of Texas. This shall not be interpreted to require the release of any records pertaining to individuals insured under the provisions of this Act, the release of which would be in conflict with the rights of these individuals under federal and state privacy statutes. Meetings which are necessary for the administration of the Act shall be subject to applicable provisions of state open-meetings statutes.

Coverage for Dependents

Sec. 17. Any employee or retired employee shall be entitled to secure for his dependents any uniform group insurance coverages provided for such dependents under the rules and regulations to be promulgated by the administrative council. Such payments for such coverages for dependents shall be deducted from the monthly pay of the employee or paid in such manner and form as the administrative council shall determine.

Effective Date

Sec. 18. This Act shall become effective September 1, 1977, and basic coverages shall be provided by each institution covered under this Act beginning no later than September 1, 1979.

Severability

Sec. 19. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act in all its particulars and as to all other persons and circumstances shall be valid and of full force and effect, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Repeal

(9) under a policy issued to cover any other risk or class of risks which, in the discretion of the commissioner of insurance, may be properly eligible for blanket accident and sickness insurance. The discretion of the commissioner of insurance may be exercised on an individual risk basis or class of risks, or both.

(b) An individual application need not be required from a person covered under a blanket accident and sickness policy or contract, nor shall it be necessary for the insurer to furnish each person a certificate.

Payment so made shall discharge the obligation of the insurer with respect to the amount of insurance so paid.

(1) "Health insurance policy" means a group policy or contract, including group contracts issued by companies subject to Chapter 20, Insurance Code, as amended, providing insurance for hospital, surgical, or medical expenses incurred as a result of an accident or sickness.

(2) "Insured" means an employee or member of a group that is covered by a health insurance policy.

If the conversion privilege available to the insured provides for coverage of the insured's spouse, the group insurer shall not be required to issue a separate conversion policy to the spouse.

(c) Subsection (b) of this section applies only to a spouse of an insured if the spouse is covered under the health insurance policy at the time of the insured's death or divorce from the insured or termination of the insured's coverage.

Art. 3.51-7. Continuation of Group Life and Group Accident and Health Insurance During Labor Dispute

No group life insurance policy or group accident and health insurance policy shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state where the premiums or any part thereof is paid or is to be paid in whole or in part by an employer pursuant to the terms of a collective bargaining agreement unless the policy provides that in the event of a cessation of work by the employees covered by the policy as the result of a labor dispute, the policy upon timely payment of the premium shall continue in effect with respect to all employees insured by the policy on the date of the cessation of work who continue to pay their individual contribution and who assume and pay the contribution due from the employer for the period of cessation of work, under the following conditions:

(a) If the policyholder is not a trustee or the trustees of a fund established or maintained in whole or in part by the employer, the policy shall provide that the employee's individual contribution shall be the rate in the policy, on the date cessation of work occurs, applicable to an individual in the class to which the employee belongs as set forth in the policy. If the policy does not provide for a rate applicable to individuals, the policy shall provide that the employee's individual contribution shall be an amount equal to the amount determined by dividing (1) the total monthly premium in effect under the policy at the date of cessation of work by (2) the total number of persons insured under the policy at such date.

(b) If the policyholder is a trustee or the trustees of a fund established or maintained in whole or in part by the employer, the employee's contribution shall be the amount which he and his employer would have been required to contribute to the trust for such employee if (1) the cessation of work had not occurred and (2) the agreement requiring the employer to make contributions to the trust were in full force.

(c) The policy may provide that the continuation of insurance is contingent upon the collection of individual contributions by the union or unions representing the employees for policies referred to in Subdivision (a) above and by the policyholder or the policyholder's agent with respect to policies referred to in Subdivision (b) above.

(d) The policy may provide that the continuation of insurance on each employee is contingent upon timely payment of contributions by the individual and timely payment of the premium by the entity responsible for collecting the individual contributions.

(e) The policy may provide that each individual premium rate shall be increased by any amount up to 20 percent, or any higher percent which may be approved by the commissioner, of that otherwise shown in the policy during the period of cessation of work in order to provide sufficient compensation to the insurer to cover increased administrative costs and increased mortality and morbidity. If the policy does provide for such an increase, this shall have the effect of increasing the employee's contribution by a like percent.

(f) Nothing in this article shall be deemed to limit any right which the insurer may have in accordance with the terms of the policy to increase or decrease the premium rates before, during, or after such cessation of work if in fact the insurer would have had the right to increase the premium rate had the cessation of work not occurred. If such a premium rate change is made, it shall be effective, notwithstanding any other provisions of this article, on such date as the insurer shall determine in accordance with the terms of the policy.

(g) The policy may contain such other provisions with respect to such continuation of insurance as the Commissioner of Insurance may approve.

(h) The policy may provide that, if a premium is unpaid at the date of cessation of work and such premium became due prior to such cessation of work, the continuation of insurance is contingent upon payment of such premium prior to the date the next premium becomes due under the terms of the policy.

(i) Nothing herein shall be deemed to require the continuation of any loss of time payments included in any such group accident and health insurance policy, nor of any other coverages beyond the time that 75 percent of the employees continue such coverage or as to any individual employee beyond the time that he takes full-time employment with another employer; nor shall anything herein be deemed to require continuation of coverage more than six months after the cessation of work.

(G) Outline of Coverage.

(1) In order to provide for full and fair disclosure in the sale of individual accident and sickness insurance policies, no such policy shall be delivered, or issued for delivery, in the State of Texas unless: (i) in the case of a direct response insurance product, the outline of coverage described in Subsection (2) of this section accompanies the policy; (ii) in all other cases, the outline of coverage described in Subsection (2) of this section is delivered to the applicant at the time application is made and an acknowledgement of receipt or certificate of delivery of such outline is provided the insurer with the application. In the event the policy is issued on a basis other than that applied for, the outline of coverage properly describing the policy must accompany the policy when it is delivered and clearly state that it is not the policy for which application was made.

(2) The Board shall prescribe the format and content of the outline of coverage required by Subsection (1) of this section. "Format" means style, arrangement, and overall appearance, including such items as the size, color, and prominence of type and the arrangement of text and captions. Such outline of coverage shall include:

(a) a statement identifying the applicable category or categories of coverage provided by the policy as prescribed in Section (F) of this article;

(b) a description of the principal benefits and coverage provided in the policy;

(c) a statement of the exceptions, reductions, and limitations contained in the policy;

(d) a statement of the renewal provision including any reservation by the insurer of a right to change premiums;

(e) a statement that the outline is a summary of the policy issued or applied for and that the policy should be consulted to determine governing contractual provisions;

(f) a summary of such provisions required to be in the policy by Section 3, Chapter 397, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 3.70-3, Vernon's Texas Insurance Code), as the Board may determine to be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(g) Any other statements, descriptions, or outlines that the Board may determine to be reasonably necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(H) Pre-existing Conditions. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 3(A)(2)(b), Chapter 397, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 3.70-3, Vernon's Texas Insurance Code), if an insurer elects to use a simplified application form, with or without a question as to the applicant's health at the time of application, but without any questions concerning the insured's health history or medical treatment history, the policy must cover any loss occurring after 12 months from any pre-existing condition not specifically excluded from coverage by terms of the policy. (2) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 3(A)(2)(b), Chapter 397, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 3.70-3, Vernon's Texas Insurance Code), or of Paragraph (1) of this subsection, no individual policy of accident and sickness insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state to a person age 65 or over may contain a provision excluding from coverage any loss due to a pre-existing condition, not specifically excluded from coverage by name or specific description in an exclusion endorsement or rider effective on the date of the loss, for a period in excess of six months from the effective date of coverage under the policy; provided, however, that if the Board finds that the public interest would be served thereby, it may authorize a policy provision excluding coverage for pre-existing conditions for a period in excess of six months but in no event shall such period exceed one year. (3) Except as so provided, a policy issued under the provisions of this section may not include wording that would permit a defense based on pre-existing conditions.

(I) Administrative Procedures. Rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to this Article shall be subject to notice and hearing pursuant to Section 10, Chapter 397, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955 (Article 3.70-10, Vernon's Texas Insurance Code).

Sections 2 and 3 of the 1975 amendatory act amended subsecs. (A) and (B) of art. 3.70-3; § 4 amended art. 3.42; § 5 amended art. 3.70-9; and § 6 thereof provided:

"This Act shall apply to all policies of accident and sickness insurance issued, or issued for delivery, in the State of Texas after June 1, 1976. This Act shall not apply to policies issued, or issued for delivery, in the State of Texas prior to such date."

Art. 3.70-3. Accident and Sickness Policy Provisions

(A) Required Provisions. Except as provided in paragraph (C) of this section each such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state shall contain the provisions specified in this subsection in the words in which the same appear in this section; provided, however, that the insurer may, at its option, substitute for one or more of such provisions, provisions of different wording approved by the Board, in accordance with reasonable rules and regulations promulgated by the Board, which are in each instance not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary; and provided further that Provisions 6, 8, and 9 shall not be required provisions under this Subsection A for companies organized under Chapter 20 of this code, as amended. Such provisions shall be preceded individually by the caption appearing in this subsection or, at the option of the insurer, by such appropriate individual or group captions or subcaptions as the Board may approve.

(1) A provision as follows:

Entire Contract; Changes: This policy, including the endorsements and the attached papers, if any, constitutes the entire contract of insurance. No change in this policy shall be valid until approved by an executive officer of the insurer and unless such approval be endorsed hereon or attached hereto. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions.

(2) A provision as follows:

Time Limit on Certain Defenses: (a) After two years from the date of issue of this policy no misstatements, except fraudulent misstatements, made by the applicant in the application for such policy shall be used to void the policy or to deny a claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after the expiration of such two-year period.

(The foregoing policy provision shall not be so construed as to affect any legal requirement for avoidance of a policy or denial of a claim during such initial two-year period, nor to limit the application of Section 3(B), (1), (2), (3), (4), and (5) in the event of misstatement with respect to age or occupation or other insurance.)

(A policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premium (1) until at least age 50 or, (2) in the case of a policy issued after age 44, for at least five years from its date of issue, may contain in lieu of the foregoing the following provision (from which the clause in parentheses may be omitted at the insurer's option) under the caption "incontestible":

After this policy has been in force for a period of two years during the lifetime of the insured (excluding any period during which the insured is disabled), it shall become incontestible as to the statements contained in the application.)

(b) No claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after two years from the date of issue of this policy shall be reduced or denied on the ground that a disease or physical condition not excluded from coverage by name or specific description effective on the date of loss had existed prior to the effective date of coverage of this policy.

(3) A provision as follows:

Grace Period: A grace period of (insert a number not less than "7" for weekly premium policies, "10" for monthly premium policies, and "31" for all other policies) days will be granted for the payment of each premium falling due after the first premium, during which grace period the policy shall continue in force.

(A policy which contains a cancellation provision may add, at the end of the above provision, subject to the right of the insurer to cancel in accordance with the cancellation provision hereof.

A policy in which the insurer reserves the right to refuse any renewal shall have, at the beginning of the above provision:

Unless not less than five days prior to the premium due date the insurer has delivered to the insured or has mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer written notice of its intention not to renew this policy beyond the period for which the premium has been accepted.)

(4) A provision as follows:

Reinstatement: If any renewal premium be not paid within the time granted the insured for payment, a subsequent acceptance of premium by the insurer or by any agent duly authorized by the insurer to accept such premium, without requiring in connection therewith an application for reinstatement, shall reinstate the policy; provided, however, that if the insurer or such agent requires an application for reinstatement and issues a conditional receipt for the premium tendered, the policy will be reinstated upon approval of such application by the insurer or, lacking such approval, upon the forty-fifth day following the date of such conditional receipt unless the insurer has previously notified the insured in writing of its disapproval of such application. The reinstated policy shall cover only loss resulting from such accidental injury as may be sustained after the date of reinstatement and loss due to such sickness as may begin more than ten days after such date. In all other respects the insured and insurer shall have the same rights thereunder as they had under the policy immediately before the due date of the defaulted premium, subject to any provisions endorsed hereon or attached hereto in connection with the reinstatement. Any premium accepted in connection with a reinstatement shall be applied to a period for which premium has not been previously paid, but not to any period more than sixty days prior to the date of reinstatement.

(The last sentence of the above provision may be omitted from any policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premium (1) until at least age 50 or, (2) in the case of a policy issued after age 44, for at least five years from its date of issue.)

(5) A provision as follows:

Notice of Claim: Written notice of claim must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the occurrence or commencement of any loss covered by the policy, or as soon thereafter as is reasonably possible. Notice given by or on behalf of the insured or the beneficiary to the insurer at

..... (insert the location of such office as the insurer may designate for the purpose), or to any authorized agent of the insurer, with information sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed notice to the insurer.

(In a policy providing a loss-of-time benefit which may be payable for at least two years, an insurer may at its option insert the following between the first and second sentences of the above provision:

Subject to the qualifications set forth below, if the insured suffers loss of time on account of disability for which indemnity may be payable for at least two years, he shall, at least once in every (insert a number not less than one nor more than six) months after having given notice of claim, give to the insurer notice of continuance of said disability, except in the event of legal incapacity. The period of (insert a number not less than one nor more than six) months following any filing of proof by the insured or any payment by the insurer on account of such claim or any denial of liability in whole or in part by the insurer shall be excluded in applying this provision. Delay in the giving of such notice shall not impair the insured's right to any indemnity which would otherwise have accrued during the period of (insert a number not less than one nor more than six) months preceding the date on which such notice is actually given.)

(6) A provision as follows:

Claim Forms: The insurer, upon receipt of a notice of claim, will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss. If such forms are not furnished within fifteen days after the giving of such notice the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting, within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, the character and the extent of the loss for which claim is made.

(7) A provision as follows:

Proofs of Loss: Written proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office in case of claim for loss for which this policy provides any periodic payment contingent upon continuing loss within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable and in case of claim for any other loss within ninety days after the date of such loss. Failure to furnish such proof within the time required shall not invalidate nor reduce any claim if it was not reasonably possible to give proof within such time, provided such proof is furnished as soon as reasonably possible; and in no event, except in the absence of legal capacity, later than one year from the time proof is otherwise required.

(8) A provision as follows:

Time of Payment of Claims: Indemnities payable under this policy for any loss other than loss for which this policy provides any periodic payment will be paid immediately upon receipt of due written proof of such loss. Subject to due written proof of loss, all accrued indemnities for loss for which this policy provides periodic payment will be paid (insert period for payment which must not be less frequently than monthly) and any balance remaining unpaid upon the termination of liability will be paid immediately upon receipt of due written proof.

(9) A provision as follows:

Payment of Claims: Indemnity for loss of life will be payable in accordance with the beneficiary designation and the provisions respecting such payment which may be prescribed herein and effective at the time of payment. If no such designation or provision is then effective, such indemnity shall be payable to the estate of the insured. Any other accrued indemnities unpaid at the insured's death may, at the option of the insurer, be paid either to such beneficiary or to such estate. All other indemnities will be payable to the insured.

(The following provisions, or either of them, may be included with the foregoing provision at the option of the insurer:

If any indemnity of this policy shall be payable to the estate of the insured, or to an insured or beneficiary who is a minor or otherwise not competent to give a valid release, the insurer may pay such indemnity, up to an amount not exceeding $. (insert an amount which shall not exceed $1,000), to any relative by blood or connection by marriage of the insured or beneficiary who is deemed by the insurer to be equitably entitled thereto. Any payment made by the insurer in good faith pursuant to this provision shall fully discharge the insurer to the extent of such payment.

Subject to any written direction of the insured in the application or otherwise all or a portion of any indemnities provided by this policy on account of hospital, nursing, medical or surgical services may, at the insurer's option and unless the insured requests otherwise in writing not later than the time of filing proofs of such loss, be paid directly to the hospital or person rendering such services; but it is not required that the service be rendered by a particular hospital or person.)

(10) A provision as follows:

Physical Examinations and Autopsy: The insurer at its own expense shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and as often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of a claim hereunder and to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law.

(11) A provision as follows:

Legal Actions: No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after written proof of loss has been furnished in accordance with the requirements of this policy. No such action shall be brought after the expiration of three years after the time written proof of loss is required to be furnished.

(12) A provision as follows:

Change of Beneficiary: Unless the insured makes an irrevocable designation of beneficiary, the right to change of beneficiary is reserved to the insured and the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy or to any change of beneficiary or beneficiaries, or to any other changes in this policy.

(The first clause of this provision, relating to the irrevocable designation of beneficiary, may be omitted at the insurer's option.)

(B) Other Provisions. Except as provided in paragraph (C) of this section, no such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state shall contain provisions respecting the matters set forth below unless such provisions are in the words in which the same appear in this section; provided, however, that the insurer may, at its option, use in lieu of any such provision a provision of different wording approved by the Board, in accordance with reasonable rules and regulations promulgated by the Board, which is not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary. Any such provision contained in the policy shall be preceded individually by the appropriate caption appearing in this subsection or, at the option of the insurer, by such appropriate individual or group captions or subcaptions as the Board may approve.

(1) A provision as follows:

Change of Occupation: If the insured be injured or contract sickness after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in this policy or while doing for compensation anything pertaining to an occupation so classified, the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in this policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rates and within the limits fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation. If the insured changes his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in this policy, the insurer, upon receipt of proof of such change of occupation, will reduce the premium rate accordingly, and will return the excess pro-rata unearned premium from the date of change of occupation or from the policy anniversary date immediately preceding receipt of such proof, whichever is the more recent. In applying this provision, the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be such as have been last filed by the insurer prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable or prior to date of proof of change in occupation with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided at the time this policy was issued; but if such filing was not required, then the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be those last made effective by the insurer in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss or prior to the date of proof of change in occupation.

(2) A provision as follows:

Misstatement of Age: If the age of the insured has been misstated, all amounts payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

(3) A provision as follows:

Other Insurance in This Insurer: If an accident or sickness or accident and sickness policy or policies previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for (insert type of coverage or coverages) in excess of $. (insert maximum limit of indemnity or indemnities) the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured or to his estate; or, in lieu thereof:

Insurance effective at any one time on the insured under a like policy or policies in this insurer is limited to the one such policy elected by the insured, his beneficiary or his estate, as the case may be, and the insurer will return all premiums paid for all other such policies.

(4) A provision as follows:

Relation of Earnings to Insurance: If the total monthly amount of loss of time benefits promised for the same loss under all valid loss of time coverage upon the insured, whether payable on a weekly or monthly basis, shall exceed the monthly earnings of the insured at the time disability commenced or his average monthly earnings for the period of two years immediately preceding a disability for which claim is made, whichever is the greater, the insurer will be liable only for such proportionate amount of such benefits under this policy as the amount of such monthly earnings or such average monthly earnings of the insured bears to the total amount of monthly benefits for the same loss under all such coverage upon the insured at the time such disability commences and for the return of such part of the premiums paid during such two years as shall exceed the pro-rata amount of the premiums for the benefits actually paid hereunder; but this shall not operate to reduce the total monthly amount of benefits payable under all such coverage upon the insured below the sum of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) or the sum of the monthly benefits specified in such coverages, whichever is the lesser, nor shall it operate to reduce benefits other than those payable for loss of time.

(The foregoing policy provision may be inserted only in a policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premiums (1) until at least age 50 or, (2) in the case of a policy issued after age 44, for at least five years from its date of issue. The insurer may, at its option, include in this provision a definition of "valid loss of time coverage," approved as to form by the Board, which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by governmental agencies or by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada, or to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the Board or any combination of such coverages. In the absence of such definition such term shall not include any coverage provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute (including any workmen's compensation or employer's liability statute), or benefits provided by union welfare plans or by employer or employee benefit organizations.)

(5) A provision as follows:

Unpaid Premium: Upon the payment of a claim under this policy, any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom.

(6) A provision as follows:

Cancellation: The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured, or mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer, stating when, not less than five days thereafter, such cancellation shall be effective; and after the policy has been continued beyond its original term the insured may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered or mailed to the insurer, effective upon receipt or on such later date as may be specified in such notice. In the event of cancellation, the insurer will return promptly the unearned portion of any premium paid. If the insured cancels, the earned premium shall be computed by the use of the short-rate table last filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided when the policy was issued. If the insurer cancels, the earned premium shall be computed pro-rata. Cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior to the effective date of cancellation.

(7) A provision as follows:

Conformity With State Statutes: Any provision of this policy which, on its effective date, is in conflict with the statutes of the state in which the insured resides on such date is hereby amended to conform to the minimum requirements of such statutes.

(8) A provision as follows:

Illegal Occupation: The insurer shall not be liable for any loss to which a contributing cause was the insured's commission of or attempt to commit a felony or to which a contributing cause was the insured's being engaged in an illegal occupation.

(9) A provision as follows:

Intoxicants and Narcotics: The insurer shall not be liable for any loss sustained or contracted in consequence of the insured's being intoxicated or under the influence of any narcotic unless administered on the advice of a physician.

Art. 3.70-9. Violation

Any person, partnership, or corporation wilfully violating any provision of this Act or order of the Board made in accordance with this Act, shall forfeit to the people of the state a sum not to exceed Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) for each such violation, which may be recovered by a civil action. The Board may also suspend or revoke the license of an insurer or agent for any such wilful violation. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2210, ch. 703, § 5, eff. June 21, 1975.]

Art. 3.72. Variable Annuity Contracts

Investment of Separate Account Funds

Sec. 8. Any domestic insurance company which has established one or more separate variable annuity accounts pursuant to this article may invest and reinvest all or any part of the assets allocated to any such account in and only in the securities and investments authorized by Article 3.39 of this Insurance Code for any of the funds of a domestic life insurance company, free and clear of any and all limitations and restrictions in such Article 3.39, and in addition thereto in common capital stocks or other equities which are listed on or admitted to trading in a securities exchange located in the United States of America, or which are publicly held and traded in the "over-the-counter market" as defined by the State Board of Insurance and as to which market quotations have been available. None of the assets allocated to any such variable annuity account shall be invested in common stocks of corporations which shall have defaulted in the payment of any debt within five years next preceding such investment. No such company shall invest in excess of the greater of (a) Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) or (b) five percent (5%) of the assets of any such separate variable annuity account in any one corporation issuing such common capital stock, except that subject to the approval of the State Board of Insurance all of the assets of a separate account may be invested in the shares of one or more open-end management companies registered under the Federal Investment Company Act of 1940¹ and qualifying as a diversified company thereunder. The assets and investments of such separate variable annuity accounts shall not be taken into account in applying the quantitative investment limitations applicable to other investments of the company. In the purchase of common capital stock or other equities, the insurer shall designate to the broker, or to the seller if the purchase is not made through broker, the specific variable annuity account for which the investment is made.

Variable Annuity Agents' Licenses

Sec. 13. (a) Notwithstanding any other law of this State, no person shall, within this State, sell or offer for sale a variable annuity contract, or do or perform any act or thing in the sale, negotiation, making or consummating of any variable annuity contract other than for himself unless such person shall have a valid and current certificate from the State Board of Insurance authorizing such person to act within this State as a variable annuity insurance agent. No such certificate shall be issued unless and until the said Board is satisfied, after examination, that such person is by training, knowledge, ability and character qualified to act as such agent. Any such certificate may be withdrawn and cancelled by said Board, after notice and hearing, if it shall find that the holder thereof does not then have the qualifications required for issue of such certificate.

(b) The Commissioner of Insurance shall collect in advance from variable annuity agent applicants a license fee of $25 and an examination fee of $10. A new examination fee shall be paid for each and every examination. The examination fee shall not be returned under any circumstance other than for failure to appear and take the examination after the applicant has given at least 24 hours notice of an emergency situation to the Commissioner of Insurance and received the commissioner's approval. All fees collected pursuant to this section shall be paid into the State Treasury to the credit of the Insurance Agents License Fund to be used to administer the provisions of this section and Article 21.07-1, Insurance Code.

(c) Each license issued to a variable annuity agent shall expire two years following the date of issue, unless prior thereto it is suspended or revoked by the Commissioner of Insurance or the authority of the agent to act for the insurer is terminated.

(d) Licenses which have not expired or which have not been suspended or revoked may be renewed upon request in writing of the agent and payment of a renewal fee of $25.

(e) Any agent licensed under this article may represent and act as an agent for more than one insurance carrier any time while his or its license is in force, if he or it so desires. Any such agent and the insurance carrier involved must give notice to the State Board of Insurance of any additional appointment or appointments authorizing him or it to act as agent for an additional insurance carrier or carriers. Such notice must set forth the insurance carrier or carriers which the agent is then licensed to represent and shall be accompanied by a certificate from each insurance carrier to be named in each additional appointment that said insurance carrier desires to appoint the applicant as its agent. This notice shall also contain such other information as the State Board of Insurance may require. The agent or company shall be required to pay a fee of $8 for each additional appointment applied for, which fee shall accompany the notice.

Any such agent and the insurance carrier involved must give notice to the State Board of Insurance of any additional appointment or appointments authorizing him or it to act as agent for an additional insurance carrier or carriers. Such notice must set forth the insurance carrier or carriers which the agent is then licensed to represent and shall be accompanied by a certificate from each insurance carrier to be named in each additional appointment that said insurance carrier desires to appoint the applicant as its agent. This notice shall also contain such other information as the State Board of Insurance may require. A rating plan promulgated by the State Board of Insurance respecting the writing of motor vehicle insurance, other than insurance written pursuant to Section 35 of the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act (Article 6701h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not assign any rate consequence to a charge or conviction, or otherwise cause premiums for motor vehicle insurance to be increased because of a charge or conviction for a violation of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Art. 5.03. Promulgated Rates as Controlling

(a) On and after the filing and effective date of such classification of such risks and rates, no such insurer, except as otherwise provided herein, shall issue or renew any such insurance at premium rates which are greater or lesser than those promulgated by the Board as just, reasonable, adequate and not excessive for the risks to which they respectively apply, and not confiscatory as to any class of insurance carriers authorized by law to write such insurance after taking into consideration the deviation provisions of this Article. Any insurer desiring to write insurance at rates different from those promulgated by the Board shall make a written application to the Board for permission to file a uniform percentage deviation for a lesser or greater rate, on a statewide basis unless otherwise ordered by the Board, from the class rates or classes of rates promulgated by the Board. Any insurer desiring to write insurance under a classification plan different from that promulgated by the Board shall make written application to the Board for permission to do so; provided, however, the Board shall approve the use of only such additions or refinements in its classification plan as will produce subclassifications which, when combined, will enable consideration of the insurer's experience under both the Board classification plan and its own classification plan. Such application shall be approved in whole or in part by the Board, provided the Board finds that the resulting premiums will be just, adequate, reasonable, not excessive and not unfairly discriminatory, taking into consideration the following:

- (1) the financial condition of the insurer;
- (2) the method of operation and expenses of such insurer;
- (3) the actual paid and incurred loss experience of the insurer;
- (4) earnings of the insurer from investments together with a projection of prospective earnings from investments during the period for which the application is made; and
- (5) such application meets the reasonable conditions, limitations, and restrictions deemed necessary by the Board.

In considering all matters set forth in such application the Board shall give consideration to the composite effect of items (2), (3), and (4) above and the Board shall deny such application if it finds that the resulting premiums would be inadequate, excessive, or unfairly discriminatory. Any original or renewal policy of insurance issued pursuant to an approved plan of deviation shall have attached to or imprinted on the face of such policy the following notice: "The premium charged for this policy is greater than the premium rates promulgated by the State Board of Insurance." The notice shall be in 10-point or larger prominent type-size.

Except as the Board may authorize, the deviation provisions in this Article shall not apply to insurance written pursuant to other provisions of this Chapter in which a deviation from standard rates is authorized, including, but not limited to, automobile liability experience rating and fleet rating plans.

Art. 5.06-1. Uninsured or Underinsured Motorist Coverage

(1) No automobile liability insurance (including insurance issued pursuant to an Assigned Risk Plan established under authority of Section 35 of the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act),¹ covering liability arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of any motor vehicle shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless coverage is provided therein or supplemental thereto, in at least the limits described in the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act, under provisions prescribed by the Board, for the protection of persons insured thereunder who are legally entitled to recover damages from owners or operators of uninsured or underinsured motor vehicles because of bodily injury, sickness, or disease, including death, or property damage resulting therefrom. The coverages required under this Article shall not be applicable where any insured named in the policy shall reject the coverage; provided that unless the named insured thereafter requests such coverage in writing, such coverage need not be provided in or supplemental to a renewal policy where the named insured has rejected the coverage in connection with a policy previously issued to him by the same insurer.

(2) For the purpose of these coverages: (a) the term "uninsured motor vehicle" shall, subject to the terms and conditions of such coverage, be deemed to include an insured motor vehicle where the liability insurer thereof is unable to make payment with respect to the legal liability of its insured within the limits specified therein because of insolvency.

(b) The term "underinsured motor vehicle" means an insured motor vehicle on which there is valid and collectible liability insurance coverage with limits of liability for the owner or operator which were originally lower than, or have been reduced by payment of claims arising from the same accident to, an amount less than the limit of liability stated in the underinsured coverage of the insured's policy.

(c) The State Board of Insurance is hereby authorized to promulgate the forms of the uninsured and underinsured motorist coverages. The Board may also, in such forms, define "uninsured motor vehicle" to exclude certain motor vehicles whose operators are in fact uninsured.

(d) The forms promulgated under the authority of this section shall include provisions that, regardless of the number of persons insured, policies or bonds applicable, vehicles involved, or claims made, the total aggregate limit of liability to any one person who sustains bodily injury or property damage as the result of any one occurrence shall not exceed the limit of liability for these coverages as stated in the policy and the total aggregate limit of liability to all claimants, if more than one, shall not exceed the total limit of liability per occurrence as stated in the policy; and shall provide for the exclusion of the recovery of damages for bodily injury or property damage or both resulting from the intentional acts of the insured. The forms promulgated under the authority of this section shall require that in order for the insured to recover under the uninsured motorist coverages where the owner or operator of any motor vehicle which causes bodily injury or property damage to the insured is unknown, actual physical contact must have occurred between the motor vehicle owned or operated by such unknown person and the person or property of the insured.

(3) The limits of liability for bodily injury, sickness, or disease, including death, shall be offered to the insured in amounts not less than those prescribed in the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act and such higher available limits as may be desired by the insured, but not greater than the limits of liability specified in the bodily injury liability provisions of the insured's policy.

(4) (a) Coverage for property damage shall be offered to the insured in amounts not less than those prescribed in the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act and such higher available limits as may be desired by the insured, but not greater than limits of liability specified in the property damage liability provisions of the insured's policy, subject to a deductible amount of $250.

(b) If the insured has collision coverage and uninsured or underinsured property damage liability coverage, the insured may recover under the policy coverage chosen by the insured. In the event neither coverage is sufficient alone to cover all damage resulting from a single occurrence, the insured may recover under both coverages. When recovering under both coverages, the insured shall designate one coverage as the primary coverage and pay the deductible applicable to that coverage. The primary coverage must be exhausted before any recovery is made under the secondary coverage. If both coverages are utilized in the payment of damages from a single occurrence, the insured shall not be required to pay the deductible applicable to the secondary coverage when the amount of the deductible otherwise applicable to the secondary coverage is the same as or less than the amount of the deductible applicable to the primary coverage. If both coverages are utilized in the payment of damages from a single occurrence and the amount of the deductible otherwise applicable to the secondary coverage is greater than the amount of the deductible applicable to the primary coverage, the insured shall be required to pay in respect of the secondary coverage only the difference between the amount of the two deductibles. In no event shall the insured recover under both coverages more than the actual damages suffered.

(5) The underinsured motorist coverage shall provide for payment to the insured of all sums which he shall be legally entitled to recover as damages from owners or operators of underinsured motor vehicles because of bodily injury or property damage in an amount up to the limit specified in the policy, reduced by the amount recovered or recoverable from the insurer of the underinsured motor vehicle.

(6) In the event of payment to any person under any coverage required by this Section and subject to the terms and conditions of such coverage, the insurer making such payment shall, to the extent thereof, be entitled to the proceeds of any settlement or judgment resulting from the exercise of any rights of recovery of such person against any person or organization legally responsible for the bodily injury, sickness or disease, or death for which such payment is made, including the proceeds recoverable from the assets of the insolvent insurer; provided, however, whenever an insurer shall make payment under a policy of insurance issued pursuant to this Act, which payment is occasioned by the insolvency of an insurer, the insured of said insolvent insurer shall be given credit in any judgment obtained against him, with respect to his legal liability for such damages, to the extent of such payment, but such paying insurer shall have the right to proceed directly against the insolvent insurer or its receiver, and in pursuance of such right such paying insurer shall possess any rights which the insured of the insolvent company might otherwise have had if the insured of the insolvent insurer had made the payment.

(7) If a dispute exists as to whether a motor vehicle is uninsured, the burden of proof as to that issue shall be upon the insurer.

SUBCHAPTER B. CASUALTY INSURANCE AND FIDELITY, GUARANTY AND SURETY BONDS

Art. 5.13-1. Legal Service Contracts

(a) Every insurer governed by Subchapter B of Chapter 5 of the Insurance Code, as amended,¹ and every life, health, and accident insurer governed by Chapter 3 of the Insurance Code, as amended,² is authorized to issue prepaid legal services contracts. Every such insurer or rating organization authorized under Article 5.16 of the Insurance Code shall file with the State Board of Insurance all rules and forms applicable to prepaid legal service contracts in a manner to be established by the State Board of Insurance. All rates, rating plans, and charges shall be established in accordance with actuarial principles for various categories of insureds. Rates, rating plans, and charges shall not be excessive, inadequate, unfairly discriminatory, and the benefits shall be reasonable with respect to the rates charged. Certification, by a qualified actuary, to the appropriateness of the charges, rates, or rating plans, based upon reasonable assumptions, shall accompany the filing along with adequate supporting information.

(b) The State Board of Insurance shall, within a reasonable period, approve any form if the requirements of this section are met. It shall be unlawful to issue such forms until approved or to use such schedules of charges, rates, or rating plans until filed and approved. If the State Board of Insurance has good cause to believe such rates and rating plans do not comply with the standards of this article, it shall give notice in writing to every insurer or rating organization which filed such rates or rating plans, stating therein in what manner and to what extent such noncompliance is alleged to exist and specifying therein a reasonable time, not less than 30 days thereafter, in which such noncompliance may be corrected. If the board has not acted on any form, rate, rating plan, or charges within 30 days after the filing of same, they shall be deemed approved. The board may require the submission of whatever relevant information is deemed necessary in determining whether to approve or disapprove a filing made pursuant to this section.

(c) The right of such insurers to issue prepaid legal services contracts on individual, group, or franchise bases is hereby recognized, and qualified agents of such insurers who are licensed under Articles 21.07 and 21.14 of the Insurance Code, as amended, and Chapter 213, Acts of the 54th Legislature, 1955, as amended (Article 21.07-1, Vernon's Texas Insurance Code), shall be authorized to write such coverages under such rules and regulations as the State Board of Insurance may prescribe.

(d) The State Board of Insurance is hereby vested with power and authority under this article to promulgate, after notice of hearing, and to enforce, rules and regulations concerning the application to the designated insurers of this article and for such clarification, amplification, and augmentation as in the discretion of the State Board of Insurance are deemed necessary to accomplish the purposes of this article.

(e) This article shall be construed as a specific exception to Article 3.54 of the Texas Insurance Code.

(f) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as compelling the State Board of Insurance to establish standard or absolute rates and the board is specifically authorized, in its discretion, to approve different rates for different insurers for the same risk or risks on the types of insurance covered by this article; nor shall this article be construed as to require the State Board of Insurance to establish a single or uniform rate for each risk or risks or to compel all insurers to adhere to such rates previously filed by other insurers; and the board is empowered to approve such different rates for different insurers, and is required to approve such rates as filed by any insurer unless it finds that such filing does not meet the requirements of this article.

Limitations. Section 3 of the 1975 Act provided:

"An insurer operating under the requirements of Section 2 shall not contract itself to practice law in any manner, nor shall it control or attempt to control the relations existing between an insured and his or her attorney. These attorneys shall never be employees of the insurer but shall at all times be independent contractors maintaining a direct lawyer and client relationship with the insured. Such insurer must agree to pay any attorney licensed by the Supreme Court to practice law in Texas for such services rendered."

Art. 5.15. Filing of Rates and Rating Information; Approval

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a) to (c)]

(d) It is expressly provided, however, that notwithstanding any other provision of this subchapter to the contrary, a rate or premium for such insurance greater than the standard rate or premium that has been approved by the Board may be used on any specific risk if:

(1) a written application is made to the Board naming the insurer and stating the coverage and rate proposed;

(2) the person to be insured or person authorized to act in relation to the risk to be insured consents to such rate;

(3) the reasons for requiring such greater rate or premium are stated in or attached to the application;

(4) the person to be insured or person authorized to act for such person signs the application; and

(5) the Board approves the application by order or by stamping.

(e) Any filing for which there is no approved rate shall be deemed approved from the date of filing to the date of such formal approval or disapproval.

(f) If at any time the Board finds that a filing so approved no longer meets the requirements of this subchapter, it may, after a hearing held on not less than twenty (20) days' notice specifying the matters to be considered at such hearing, to every insurer and rating organization which made such filing, issue an order withdrawing its approval thereof. Said order shall specify in what respects the Board finds that such filing no longer meets the requirements of this subchapter and shall be effective not less than thirty (30) days after its issuance. Copies of such order shall be sent to every such insurer and rating organization.

(g) Any person or organization aggrieved by the action of the Board with respect to any filing may, within thirty (30) days after such action, make written request to the Board for a hearing thereon. The Board shall hear such aggrieved party within thirty (30) days after receipt of such request and shall give not less than ten days' written notice of the time and place of the hearing to the insurer or rating organization which made the filing and to any other aggrieved party. Within thirty (30) days after such hearings the Board shall affirm, reverse or modify its previous action. Pending such hearing and decision thereon the Board may suspend or postpone the effective date of its previous action.

Art. 5.15-1. Professional Liability Insurance for Physicians and Health Care Providers

Scope of Article

Sec. 1. This article shall apply to the making and use of insurance rates by every insurer licensed to write or engaged in writing professional liability insurance for any physician or any health care provider including rating organizations, acting on behalf of insurers.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this article:

(1) "Physician" means a person licensed to practice medicine in this state.

(2) "Health care provider" means any person, partnership, professional association, corporation, facility, or institution licensed or chartered by the State of Texas to provide health care as a registered nurse, hospital, dentist, podiatrist, chiropractor, optometrist, blood bank that is a nonprofit corporation chartered to operate a blood bank and which is accredited by the American Association of Blood Banks, or not-for-profit nursing home, or an officer, employee, or agent of any of them acting in the course and scope of his employment.

(3) "Hospital" means a licensed public or private institution as defined in Chapter 223, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959, as amended (Article 4437f, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or in Section 88, Chapter 243, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Regular Session, 1957 (Article 5547-88, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Rate Standards

Sec. 3. Rates shall be made in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) Consideration shall be given to past and prospective loss and expense experience inside this state, unless the State Board of Insurance shall find that the group or risk to be insured is not of sufficient size to be deemed credible, in which event, past and prospective loss and expense experience outside this state shall also be considered, to a reasonable margin for underwriting profit and contingencies, to investment income, to dividends or savings allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders or members.

(b) For the establishment of rates, risks may be grouped by classifications, by rating schedules, or by any other reasonable methods. Classification rates may be modified to produce rates for individual risks in accordance with rating plans which establish standards for measuring variations in hazards or expense provisions, or both. Those standards may measure any difference among risks that can be demonstrated to have a probable effect upon losses or expenses.

(c) Rates shall be reasonable and shall not be excessive or inadequate, as defined in this subsection, nor shall they be unfairly discriminatory. No rate shall be held to be excessive unless the rate is unreasonably high for the insurance coverage provided and a reasonable degree of competition does not exist in the area with respect to the classification to which the rate is applicable. No rate shall be held to be inadequate unless the rate is unreasonably low for the insurance coverage provided and is insufficient to sustain projected losses and expenses; or unless the rate is unreasonably low for the insurance coverage provided and the use of the rate has or, if continued, will have the effect of destroying competition or creating a monopoly.

Filing Rates

Sec. 4. (a) The provisions of Article 5.15, Insurance Code, shall apply to the filing of rates and rating information required under this article.

(b) Nothing contained in this article or other provisions of this subchapter concerning the regulation of rates, rating plans, and rating classifications shall, as applies to the writing of professional liability insurance for health care providers and physicians, give the board the power to prescribe uniform or absolute rates; nor shall anything therein be construed as preventing the filing of different rates for risks in a given classification or modified rates for individual risks made in accordance with rating plans, as filed by different insurers or organizations authorized to file such rates. As used in this subsection, "absolute rates" means rates, rating classifications, or rating plans filed by an insurer or authorized rating organization in accordance with this subchapter and the rates, rating classifications, or rating plans so filed are required to be used, to the exclusion of all others, by each insurer lawfully engaged in writing policies.

(c) The State Board of Insurance shall prescribe standardized policy forms for occurrence, claims-made and claims-paid policies of professional liability insurance covering health care providers and physicians, and no insurer may use any other forms in writing professional liability insurance for health care providers and physicians without the prior approval of the State Board of Insurance. However, an insurer writing professional liability insurance for health care providers and physicians may use any form of endorsement if the endorsement is first submitted to and approved by the board.

Reporting of Claims and Claims Information

Sec. 5. Each insurer who issues policies of professional liability insurance covering physicians and health care providers shall file annually with the State Board of Insurance a report of all claims and amount of claims, amounts of claims reserves, investment income of the company derived from medical professional liability premiums, information relating to amounts of judgments and settlements paid on claims, and other information required by the board. The board may formulate and promulgate a form on which this information shall be reported. The form shall be so devised as to require the information to be reported in an accurate manner, reasonably calculated to facilitate interpretation and to protect the confidentiality of the health care provider or physician.

Annual Premiums

Sec. 6. Policies of professional liability insurance under this article shall be written on not less than an annual premium basis.

Notice of Cancellation or Nonrenewal

Sec. 7. An insurer who issues a policy of professional liability insurance covered by this article shall give at least 90 days' written notice to an insured if premiums on the insurance are to be increased or the policy is to be cancelled or is not to be renewed other than for nonpayment of premiums or because the insured is no longer licensed. If the premiums are to be increased, the notice shall state the amount of the increase, and if the policy is to be cancelled or is not to be renewed, the insurer shall state in the notice the reason for cancellation or nonrenewal. Notice of cancellation under this section may only be given within the first 90 days from the effective date of the policy.

Punitive Damages under Medical Professional Liability Insurance

Sec. 8. No policy of medical professional liability insurance issued to or renewed for a health care provider or physician in this state may include coverage for punitive damages that may be assessed against the health care provider or physician.

Claim Surcharges

Sec. 9. A claim surcharge assessed by an insurer against a health care provider or physician under a professional liability insurance policy may be based only on claims actually paid by an insurer as a result of a settlement or an adverse judgment or an adverse decision of a court.

Art. 5.15-2. Accident Prevention Services

(a) Any insurer desiring to write professional liability insurance for hospitals in Texas shall maintain or provide accident prevention facilities as a prerequisite for a license to write such insurance. Such facilities shall be adequate to furnish accident prevention services required by the nature of its policyholder's operations and shall include surveys, recommendations, training programs, consultations, analyses of accident causes and hospital risk control management, to implement the program of accident prevention services. Each field safety representative shall be either a college graduate who shall have a bachelor's degree in science or engineering, a registered professional engineer, a certified safety professional, or an individual who shall have completed a course of training in accident prevention services approved by the State Board of Insurance.

(b) The insurer shall render accident prevention services to its policyholders reasonably commensurate with the risks and exposures and experience of the subscriber's business. To provide such facilities, the insurer may employ qualified personnel, retain qualified independent contractors, contract with the policyholder to provide qualified accident prevention personnel and services, or use a combination of the methods enumerated in this subsection. Such personnel shall have the qualification required for field safety representatives as provided in Subsection (a) of this article.

(c) If the Commissioner of Insurance shall determine that reasonable accident prevention services are not being maintained or provided by the insurer or are not being used by the insurer in a reasonable manner to prevent injury to patients of its policyholders, the fact shall be reported to the State Board of Insurance, and the board shall order a hearing to determine if the insurer is not in compliance with this article. If it is determined that the insurer is not in compliance, its authority to write professional liability insurance for hospitals in Texas shall be revoked.

(d) The State Board of Insurance may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations for the enforcement of this article after holding a public hearing on the proposed rules and regulations.

(e) In this article, "hospital" means a licensed public or private institution as defined in Chapter 223, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959, as amended (Article 4437f, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or in Section 88, Chapter 243, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Regular Session, 1957 (Article 5547-88, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(f) The provisions of this section shall become effective on January 1, 1978.

Under no circumstances may any title insurance company or title insurance agent use any form which is required under the provisions of this Chapter 9 to be promulgated or approved until the same shall have been so promulgated or approved by the Board.

The Board shall have the duty to fix and promulgate the premium rates to be charged by title insurance companies and title insurance agents created or operating under this Chapter for policies of title insurance or other promulgated or approved forms, and the premiums therefor shall be paid in the due and ordinary course of business. Premium rates for reinsurance as between title insurance companies qualified under this Chapter shall not be fixed or promulgated by the Board, and title insurance companies may set such premium rates for reinsurance as such title insurance companies shall agree upon. Premium rates when once fixed shall not be changed until after a public hearing shall be had by the Board, after proper notice sent direct to all title insurance companies and title insurance agents qualified or authorized to do business under this Chapter, and after public notice in such manner as to give fair publicity thereto for at least four (4) weeks in advance. The Board must call such additional hearing to consider premium rate changes at the request of a title insurance company.

The Board may, on its own motion, following notice as required for the annual hearing hold at any time a public hearing to consider adoption of premium rates and such other matters and subjects relative to the regulation of the business of title insurance as the Board shall determine necessary or proper.

Any title insurance company, any title insurance agent, or other person interested, feeling injured by any action of the Board with regard to premium rates or other action taken by the Board, shall have the right to file a suit in the District Court of Travis County, within thirty (30) days after the Board has made such order, to review the action. Such cases shall be tried de novo in the District Court in accordance with the provisions of Article 21.44 of the Insurance Code and shall be governed by the same rules of evidence and procedure as other civil cases in said court; in which suit the court may enter a judgment setting aside the Board's order, or affirming, the action of the Board.

Corporations, domestic or foreign, operating under this Chapter shall not transact, underwrite or issue any kind of insurance other than title insurance on real property; nor shall title insurance be transacted, underwritten or issued by any company transacting any other kinds of insurance; provided, however, that the above prohibitions shall not apply as to any corporation, domestic or foreign, which on October 1, 1967 was transacting, underwriting and issuing within the State of Texas title insurance and any other kind of insurance. Any corporation now organized and doing business under the provisions of Chapter 8 and actively writing title insurance shall be subject to all the provisions of this Chapter except Article 9.18 relating to investments.

Art. 9.11. Revocation of Right to Do Business

Any foreign or domestic corporations issuing any form of title insurance policy or other promulgated or approved forms, or charging any premium rates on an owner, mortgagee, or other title insurance policy, or on other promulgated or approved forms, except for the premium rates charged for reinsurance, on Texas real property other than forms and premium rates prescribed by the Board, under the provisions of this Chapter shall forfeit its right to do business in this state. The provisions of this Article 9.11 shall not, however, be applicable to premium rates charged in connection with reinsurance transactions between or among title insurance companies doing business under the provisions of this Chapter, provided any such reinsurance contract complies with the provisions of Article 9.19 of this Chapter. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1063, ch. 409, § 6, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 9.13. Fees

The general laws applicable to payment of filing fees of corporations having capital stock are hereby made applicable to corporations coming under the provisions of this Chapter. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1063, ch. 409, § 7, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 9.14. Charter and Amendments

The original charter of corporations doing the business of title insurance and incorporated under the provisions of this Chapter, or under Subdivision 57, Article 1302, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, or under Article 1302a, Texas Civil Statutes (Acts 1929, 41st Legislature, page 383, Chapter 245, Section 1) or under any other law regardless of the nature of such amendment, shall be certified only to and filed only with the Board, and only the Board shall collect from the said companies filing fees required under the law. All other laws or parts of laws, to the extent that the same are in conflict with the provisions of this Article, shall not hereafter apply to such corporations.

Art. 9.15. Certificate of Authority

The Board after having satisfied itself by such investigation as it may deem proper with reference to the payment of capital stock and surplus as required by this Chapter 9, and the value of the assets offered in payment thereof (the expense of which examination shall be borne by the title insurance company), shall issue to such title insurance company a certificate of authority to transact the characters of business provided for in this Chapter on either an annual or a continuing basis. No title insurance company, domestic or foreign, shall transact business under this Chapter unless it shall hold a valid certificate of authority.

Art. 9.19. Maximum Liability

A. No title insurance company operating under the provisions of this Chapter shall issue any policy of title insurance on any real property located within the State of Texas involving a potential liability by virtue of such policy of more than fifty (50%) percent of the capital stock and surplus as stated in the most recent annual statement of the company unless the excess shall in due course be reinsured in some other title insurance company authorized to do business in Texas under this Chapter. Each title insurance company authorized to do business under the provisions of this Chapter may reinsure any or all of its policies and contracts issued on real property situated within the State of Texas, provided:

(i) the reinsuring title insurance company shall be licensed to do business in the State of Texas under the provisions of this Chapter; and

(ii) the form of the reinsurance contract shall be approved in advance by the Board.

B. If the Board has first approved one or more forms of reinsurance contracts for a title insurance company, such title insurance company may thereafter continue using such form or forms without submitting individual reinsurance contracts to the Board. Authority is reserved to the Board, however, to alter the required form so previously approved by it after first giving written notice to the title insurance company or title insurance companies affected by such required change.

C. No title insurance company authorized to do business in Texas under the provisions of this Chapter may accept reinsurance risks on real property situated within the State of Texas except from other title insurance companies holding a certificate of authority to do business in the State of Texas under the provisions of this Chapter.

D. The Board may, however, upon application and hearing permit any title insurance company licensed to do business in this State under this Chapter to acquire reinsurance upon an individual policy or facultative basis from title insurance companies not licensed to do business in this State, provided:

(i) any such non-admitted foreign title insurance company has a combined capital and surplus of at least $1,400,000 evidenced by its annual statement last preceding the acceptance of such reinsurance; and

(ii) any such title insurance company so authorized to do business under this Chapter has exhausted the opportunity to acquire such reinsurance from all other title insurance companies so authorized to do business under the provisions of this Chapter.

Art. 9.25. Capital and Surplus Required; Foreign Corporations

No foreign corporation shall conduct the business of title insurance in this state unless it shall show from its financial statement and such other examination as the Board may desire to make, an unimpaired capital of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00) and surplus of not less than Four Hundred Thousand Dollars ($400,000.00), provided, however, that the minimum unimpaired capital and surplus requirements for a foreign corporation operating under a certificate of authority on the effective date of this Chapter, which corporation on such date had an unimpaired capital of less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00) and surplus of less than Four Hundred Thousand Dollars ($400,000.00) shall be as follows:

(a) Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000.00) capital and One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00) surplus until July 1, 1976;

(b) From July 1, 1976, to July 1, 1977, Five Hundred Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($525,000.00) capital and One Hundred Sixty Thousand Dollars ($160,000.00) surplus;

(c) From July 1, 1977, to July 1, 1978, Six Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($650,000.00) capital and Two Hundred Twenty Thousand Dollars ($220,000.00) surplus;

(d) From July 1, 1978, to July 1, 1979, Seven Hundred Seventy-five Thousand Dollars ($775,000.00) capital and Two Hundred Eighty Thousand Dollars ($280,000.00) surplus;

(e) From July 1, 1979, to July 1, 1980, Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars ($900,000.00) capital and Three Hundred Forty Thousand Dollars ($340,000.00) surplus; and

(f) After July 1, 1980, every such corporation shall be required to have and maintain unimpaired capital of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00) and surplus of not less than Four Hundred Thousand Dollars ($400,000.00) as otherwise required by this Chapter.

Art. 9.30. Rebates and Discounts

A. No commission, rebate, discount, or other thing of value shall be paid, allowed or permitted by any title insurance company, domestic or foreign, or by any title insurance agent doing the business of title insurance provided for in this Chapter, relating to title policies or underwriting contracts and no portion of any premium shall be paid to any person for soliciting or referring title insurance business; provided this Article 9.30 shall not prevent any title insurance company, domestic or foreign, doing business under this Chapter, from appointing as its title insurance agent in any county any person, firm, or corporation owning and operating an abstract plant of such county as its title insurance agent and making such arrangements for division of premiums as may be approved by the Board.

B. No person shall give and no person shall accept any portion, split, or percentage of any charge made or received for the rendering of a real estate settlement or closing in connection with a transaction involving the conveyance or mortgaging of real estate located in the State of Texas other than for services actually performed.

C. Nothing in this Article 9.30 shall, however, be construed as prohibiting (a) the payment of a fee to attorneys at law for services actually rendered or (b) the payment to any person of a bona fide salary, compensation or other payment for goods or facilities actually furnished or for services actually performed.

Art. 9.40. Right of Title Insurance Company to Examine Agent's Trust Fund Accounts and to Require Reports

Any title insurance company may at such time or times as it sees fit, through its examiners or auditors or through independent certified public accountants commissioned by it, examine the trust fund accounts and records pertaining thereto of any of its title insurance agents, such examination to be made at the expense of the title insurance company; or the title insurance company may require special reports from any such agent regarding any of its transactions. Each title insurance company shall periodically, but at least every two years, audit the unused forms in the possession of each of its title insurance agents so as to determine that all used forms have been reported to the title insurance company. A report of each such audit shall be made to the State Board of Insurance.

Art. 9.36. Agent's License: Application, Issuance, Renewal, and Cancellation

A. Before an initial license is issued to any person, firm, association or corporation to act as agent within the State of Texas for any title insurance company, there shall first be filed by the title insurance company with the Board an application for agent's license, on forms to be provided by the Board, accompanied by a license fee of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25), which fee including license renewal fees shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the title insurance fund to be used by the State Board of Insurance to enforce the provisions of this article and all laws of this state governing and regulating title agents for such insurance companies. On initial application if an applicant fails to qualify for, or is refused a license, the license fee shall be refunded. The application shall be signed and duly sworn to by the title insurance company and the proposed agent. Such application shall contain the following:

(1) That the proposed agent, if an individual, is a bona fide resident of Texas; or if a firm or association, that it is composed wholly of Texas residents; or if a corporation, that it is a Texas corporation or a foreign corporation which has been authorized to do business in Texas; and

(2) That the proposed agent (and if a corporation, its managerial personnel) has reasonable experience or instruction in the field of title insurance; and

(3) That the proposed agent is known to the title insurance company to have a good business reputation and is worthy of the public trust and said title insurance company knows of no fact or condition which would disqualify him from receiving a license; and

(4) That the proposed agent qualified as a title insurance agent as defined in this Act.

The Board shall grant such license if it determines from the application and its own investigation that the foregoing requirements have been met.

B. On or before the first day of June of each year, every title insurance company, domestic or foreign, operating under the provisions of this Act, shall certify to the Board, on forms provided by the Board, the names and addresses of every title insurance agent of said company within the state whose license is to be renewed, and shall apply for and pay a license renewal fee of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25) for a license in the name of each such agent included in said list; if any such company shall terminate any licensed agent, it shall immediately notify the Board in writing of such act and request cancellation of such license, notifying the agent of such action. No such title insurance company shall permit any agent appointed by it to write, sign, or deliver title insurance within the state until the foregoing conditions have been complied with, and the Board has granted said license. The Board shall deliver such license to the title insurance company for transmittal to the Agent.

A license shall continue in force until the second June first following its issuance, unless previously cancelled; provided, however, that if any title insurance company surrenders or has its certificate of authority revoked by the Board, all existing licenses of its title insurance agents shall automatically terminate without notice.

Any title insurance agent may be licensed to represent one or more such title insurance companies, with a separate license granted for each.

The Board shall keep a record of the names and addresses of all licensed agents in such manner that the agents appointed by any company authorized to transact title insurance business within the State of Texas may be conveniently ascertained and inspected by any person upon request.

C. A licensed title insurance agent may be licensed to represent additional title insurance companies upon application by such additional title insurance company for agent's license, on forms to be provided by the Board, and upon payment of a license fee. The application shall be signed and duly sworn to by such additional title insurance company. Such application shall contain the following:

(1) That the proposed agent, if an individual, is a bona fide resident of Texas; or if a firm or association, that it is composed wholly of Texas residents; or if a corporation, that it is a Texas corporation or a foreign corporation which has been authorized to do business in Texas; and

(2) That the proposed agent (and if a corporation, its managerial personnel) has reasonable experience or instruction in the field of title insurance; and

(3) That the proposed agent is known to the title insurance company to have a good business reputation and is worthy of the public trust and said title insurance company knows of no fact or condition which would disqualify him from receiving a license; and

(4) That the proposed agent qualified as a title insurance agent as defined in this Act; and

(5) That the proposed agent is currently licensed by a title insurance company.

D. If a title insurance company terminates its contract with a title insurance agent or gives notice of termination to the title insurance agent, then any such agent may, within thirty (30) days after either occurrence apply to the Board for continuation of his license with an amendment thereto showing the name of another title insurance company for whom he is or will be authorized to act.

Art. 9.39. Annual Audit

Every title insurance agent shall have an annual audit, at its or his expense, made of trust fund accounts, and within ninety (90) days from the termination of its fiscal year, shall send by certified mail, postage prepaid, to the Board one copy of such audit report with a letter of transmittal, and each such agent, shall also send a copy of such letter of transmittal and audit report to every title insurance company which it represents.

Every title insurance company shall have an annual audit, at its expense, made of trust fund accounts for each county in which it operates in its own name and within ninety (90) days from the termination of its fiscal year shall send by certified mail, postage prepaid, to the Board one copy of such audit report.

The Board shall promulgate regulations setting forth the standards of audit and the form of audit report required.

Said audit shall be made by an independent certified public accountant or licensed public accountant, or a firm composed of either.

Each title insurance company shall examine and analyze the audit report furnished by each of its agents, and shall within three (3) months of receipt of same report to the Board on forms to be furnished by the Board the findings and results of its examination and analysis of such audit report. If a title insurance company fails to receive an audit report from any of its agents within the time specified above, it shall forthwith report such omission to the Board.

All such reports and analyses furnished by the title insurance company to the Board shall, at the election of the Commissioner, be classed as confidential and privileged after having been filed with the Board.

If any agent or title insurance company shall fail or refuse to furnish an audit report within the time required, or shall furnish an audit report which reveals any shortage or other irregularity, or any practice not in keeping with sound, honest business practices, the Board may, after notice to the agent or each title insurance company involved and after a hearing at which the agent or title insurance company may offer evidence explaining or excusing such omissions or irregularity, revoke the license of such agent or revoke the certificate of authority of such title insurance company.

Any agent or title insurance company feeling aggrieved by any action of the Board hereunder shall have the right to file a suit in the District Court of Travis County in the time and manner provided in Article 9.37.

Art. 9.42. List of Escrow Officers Must Be Filed

Every title insurance agent licensed and operating under the provisions of this Act shall on or before the first day of June of each year, certify to the Board on forms provided by the Board the names and addresses of every person employed by it to serve in the capacity of escrow officer within the state, whose license is to be renewed, and shall apply for and pay a license renewal fee of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25) for each person included in said list. If it shall terminate any licensed escrow officer, it shall immediately notify the Board in writing of such act and request cancellation of the license, notifying such escrow officer of such action. No agent shall permit any person to act as escrow officer within the state until the foregoing conditions have been complied with, and the Board has granted the said license.

A license shall continue in force until the second June first following its issuance, unless previously cancelled. Provided, however, that if any title insurance agent surrenders all its licenses, or has all its licenses revoked by the Board, all existing licenses of its escrow officers shall automatically terminate without notice.

The Board shall keep a record of the names and addresses of all escrow officers licensed by it in such manner that the escrow officers employed by any title insurance agent within the state may be conveniently determined.

Art. 9.43. Application for Escrow Officer's License

A. Before an initial license is issued to any person to act as escrow officer within the State of Texas for any title insurance agent, there shall be first filed by such title insurance agent with the Board an application for an escrow officer's license on forms provided by the Board, accompanied by a license fee of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25), which fees including license renewal fees under Article 9.42 shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the title insurance fund to be used by the State Board of Insurance to enforce the provisions of this article and all laws of this state governing and regulating escrow officers for such title insurance agents. In the event an applicant fails to qualify for, or is refused a license, the license fee shall be refunded. The application shall be signed and duly sworn to by such title insurance agent and by the proposed escrow officer.

B. Such application shall contain the following:

(1) that the proposed escrow officer is a natural person and a bona fide resident of the State of Texas;

(2) that the proposed escrow officer has reasonable experience or instruction in the field of title insurance;

(3) that the proposed escrow officer is known to the agent to have a good business reputation and is worthy of the public trust and the agent knows of no fact or condition which would disqualify him from receiving a license;

(4) that the proposed escrow officer qualifies as an escrow officer as defined in this Act.

The Board shall grant such license, if it determines from the application and its own investigation that the foregoing requirements have been met. [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1893, ch. 765, § 4, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 9.48. Title Insurance Guaranty

Title

Sec. 1. This article shall be known and may be cited as the "Texas Title Insurance Guaranty Act."

Purpose

Sec. 2. This article is for the purposes and findings set forth in Section 1 of Article 21.28-A of the Insurance Code and in supplementation thereto by providing funds in addition to assets of impaired insurers for the protection of the holders of "covered claims" as defined herein through payment and through contracts of reinsurance or assumption of liabilities or of substitution or otherwise.

Scope

Sec. 3. This article shall apply only to all title insurance (direct and reinsurance) written by title insurance companies authorized to do business in this state and doing business under and regulated by the provisions of this Chapter 9.

Construction

Sec. 4. This article shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose under Section 2 which shall constitute an aid and guide to interpretation.

Definitions

Sec. 5. As used in this article

(1) A. "State Board of Insurance" is the State Board of Insurance of this State.

B. "Commissioner" is the Commissioner of Insurance of this State.

(2) "Covered claim" is an unpaid claim of an insured which arises out of and is within the coverage and not in excess of the applicable limits of a title insurance policy to which this article applies, issued or assumed (whereby an assumption certificate is issued) by an insurer licensed to do business in this state and covered by this article, if such insurer becomes an "impaired insurer" after the effective date of this article and the insured real property (or lien thereon) is located within this state. Individual "covered claims" shall be limited to $100,000 and shall not include any amount in excess of $100,000. "Covered claim" shall also include any sum up to $100,000 for which any insurer is liable in connection with the fidelity or solvency of any title insurance agent of such insurer as authorized by Article 9.49 of this chapter of this code. "Covered claim" shall not include any amount due any reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool, or underwriting association, as subrogation recoveries or otherwise. "Covered claim" shall not include supplementary payment obligations, including but not limited to adjustment fees and expenses, attorneys' fees and expenses, court costs, interest, and bond premiums, incurred prior to the determination that an insurer is an "impaired insurer" under this article.

(3) "Insurer" is any title insurance company authorized to do business in this state, and doing business under and regulated by the provisions of this Chapter 9.

(4) "Impaired insurer" is (a) an insurer which, after the effective date of this article, is placed in temporary or permanent receivership under an order of a court of competent jurisdiction based on a finding of insolvency, and which has been designated an "impaired insurer" by the commissioner; or (b) after the effective date of this article, an insurer placed in conservatorship after it has been deemed by the commissioner to be insolvent and which has been designated an "impaired insurer" by the commissioner.

(5) "Payment of covered claims" is actual payment of claims and also is the utilization of funds of the impaired insurer and funds derived from assessments for consummation of contracts of reinsurance or assumption of liabilities or contracts of substitution to provide for liabilities arising from covered claims.

(6) "Net direct written premiums" is the gross amount of premiums paid by policyholders for issuance of policies of title insurance insuring risks located in this state and to which this article applies. The term does not include premiums for reinsurance accepted from other licensed insurers, and there shall be no deductions for premiums for reinsurance ceded to other insurers.

Assessments

Sec. 6. Whenever the commissioner determines that an insurer has become an impaired insurer, the receiver appointed in accordance with Article 21.28 of the Insurance Code or the conservator appointed under the authority of Article 21.28-A or Article 9.29 of the Insurance Code shall promptly estimate the amount of additional funds needed to supplement the assets of the impaired insurer immediately available to the receiver or the conservator for the purpose of making payment of all covered claims. Thereafter, the commissioner shall be empowered to make such assessments as may be necessary to produce the additional funds needed to make payment of all covered claims. The commissioner may make partial assessments as the actual need for additional funds arises for each impaired insurer.

The commissioner shall assess individual insurers in proportion to the ratio that the total net direct written premium collected in the State of Texas by the insurer during the next preceding year bears to the total net direct written premium collected by all insurers (except impaired insurers) in the State of Texas. Assessments during a calendar year may be made up to, but not in excess of, two percent of each insurer's net direct written premium for the preceding calendar year. If the maximum assessment in any calendar year does not provide an amount sufficient for payment of covered claims of impaired insurers, assessments may be made in the next successive calendar years.

Insurers designated as impaired insurers by the commissioner shall be exempt from assessment from and after the date of such designation and until the commissioner determines that such insurer is no longer an impaired insurer.

The commissioner shall designate the impaired insurer for which each assessment or partial assessment is made and it shall be the duty of each insurer to pay the amount of its assessment to the conservator or receiver, as the case may be, within 30 days after the commissioner gives notice of the assessment, and assessments may be collected by the conservator or receiver through suits brought for that purpose. Venue for such suits shall lie in Travis County, Texas, and actions to collect such assessments shall have precedence over all other causes on the docket of a different nature. Either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction over said cause, and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction over said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending. Neither the receiver nor the conservator shall be required to give an appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder.

Funds derived from assessments under the provisions of this article shall not become assets of the impaired insurer but shall be deemed a special fund loaned to the receiver or the conservator for payment of covered claims, which loan shall be repayable to the extent available from the funds of such impaired insurer, as herein provided.

No insurer shall be deemed or considered to have or incur any liability, real or contingent, under the provisions of this Article 9.48 of this Chapter 9 until any such assessment shall have been actually made in writing by the commissioner under the provisions of this Article 9.48.

Penalty for Failure to Pay Assessments

Sec. 7. The commissioner may suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact business in this state of any insurer who fails to pay an assessment when due.

Any insurer whose certificate or authority to do business in this state is cancelled or surrendered shall be liable for any unpaid assessments made prior to the date of such cancellation or surrender.

Accounting for and Repayment of Assessments

Sec. 8. Upon receipt from an insurer of payment of an assessment or partial assessment, the receiver or conservator shall provide the insurer with a participation receipt which shall create a liability against the impaired insurer, and the holder of such participation receipt shall be regarded as a general creditor of the impaired insurer; provided, however, that with reference to the remaining balance of any portions of assessments received by the receiver or conservator and not expended in payment of "covered claims," the holders of such participation receipts shall have preference over other general creditors and shall share pro rata with other holders of participation receipts. The receiver or conservator of any impaired insurer shall adopt accounting procedures reflecting the expenditure and use of all funds received from assessments or partial assessments and shall make a final report of the expenditure and use of such funds to the commissioner, which final report shall set forth the remaining balance, if any, from the funds collected by assessment. The receiver or conservator shall also make any interim reports concerning such accounting as may be required by the commissioner. Upon completion of the final report, the receiver or conservator shall, as soon thereafter as is practicable, refund pro rata the remaining balance of such assessments to the holders of the participation receipts.

Payment of Covered Claims

Sec. 9. When an insurer has been designated by the commissioner as an impaired insurer, the receiver or conservator, as the case may be, shall marshal all assets of the impaired insurer, including but not limited to those which are designated as or that constituted reserve assets offsetting reserve liabilities for all liabilities falling within the definition of "covered claim" as defined in this article. The receiver or conservator shall apply all of such assets to the payment of covered claims, but may utilize funds received from assessments in the payment of claims, pending orderly liquidation or disposition of such assets. When all covered claims have been paid or satisfied by the receiver or conservator, any balance remaining from the liquidation or disposition of such assets shall first be applied in repayment of funds expended from assessments. Such repayments shall be credited as remaining balances and be refunded as provided in Section 9 of this article.

In addition to authorization to make actual payment of covered claims, the receiver or conservator is specifically authorized to utilize such marshalled assets and funds derived from assessments for the purpose of negotiating and consummating contracts of reinsurance or assumption of liabilities or contracts of substitution to provide for outstanding liabilities of covered claims. The commissioner shall not require the insurer that reinsures or assumes the policies of the impaired insurer or enters into an agreement to substitute itself in the place of the impaired insurer, to issue assumption certificates or other written evidence of such agreement to the policyholders of the impaired insurer, except to policyholders that have made a claim for loss arising under their policy (issued by the impaired insurer) before the date of such reinsurance, assumption or substitution agreement. The commissioner shall require that the reinsurance, assumption, or substitution agreement be filed as a public record with the State Board of Insurance. The commissioner shall approve such agreement unless, after public hearing held within 30 days following such filing, he determines that such agreement does not effectively protect the policyholders of the insurers to give notice of such hearing to its policyholders. Such notice shall be by publication, not less than seven days in advance of the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation printed in the State of Texas. No cause of action shall lie against the impaired insurer for breach of contract or refund of premium after the agreement has been approved by the commissioner and the notice of hearing before the commissioner shall so advise the policyholders of the impaired insurer.

This article shall not be construed to impose restriction or limitation upon the authority granted or authorized the commissioner, the conservator, or the receiver elsewhere in the Insurance Code and other statutes of this state but shall be construed and authorized for use in conjunction with other portions of the Insurance Code dealing with delinquency proceedings or threatened insolvencies or supervisions or conservatorships.

Approval of Covered Claims

Sec. 10. Covered claims against an impaired insurer placed in temporary or permanent receivership under an order of liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation by a court of competent jurisdiction shall be processed and acted upon by the receiver or ancillary receiver in the same manner as other claims as provided in Article 21.28 of the Insurance Code and as ordered by the court in which such receivership is pending; provided, however, that funds received from assessments shall be liable only for the difference between the amount of the covered claims approved by the receiver and the amount of the assets marshalled by the receiver for payment to holders of covered claims; and provided further that in ancillary receiverships in this state, funds received from assessments shall be liable only for the difference between the amount of the covered claims approved by the ancillary receiver and the amount of assets marshalled by the receivers in other states for application to payment of covered claims within this state. Such funds received from assessments shall not be liable for any amount over and above that approved by the receiver for a covered claim, and any action brought by the holder of such covered claim appealing from the receiver's action shall not increase the liability of such funds; provided, however, that the receiver may review his action in approving a covered claim and for just cause modify such approval at any time during the pendency of the receivership.

If a conservator is appointed to handle the affairs of an impaired insurer, the conservator shall determine whether or not covered claims should or can be provided for in whole or in part by reinsurance, assumption, or substitution. Upon determination by the conservator that actual payment of covered claims should be made, the conservator shall give notice of such determination to claimants falling within the class of "covered claims." The conservator shall mail such notice to the latest address reflected in the records of the impaired insurer. If the records of the impaired insurer do not reflect the address of a claimant, the conservator may give notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation. Such notice shall state the time within which the claimant must file his claim with the conservator, which time shall in no event be less than 90 days from the date of the mailing or publication of such notice. The conservator may require, in whole or in part, that sworn claim forms be filed and may require that additional information or evidence be filed as may be reasonably necessary for the conservator to determine the legality or the amount due under a covered claim. When an impaired insurer has been placed in conservatorship, the funds received from assessments shall be liable only for the difference between the amount of the covered claim approved by the conservator and the amount of assets marshalled by the conservator for payment to holders of covered claims. Any action brought by the holder of such covered claim against the impaired insurer shall not increase the liability of such funds; provided, however, that the conservator may review his action in approving a covered claim and may for just cause modify such approval at any time during the pendency of the conservatorship.

Upon determination by the conservator that actual payment of covered claims should be made or upon order of the court to the receiver to give notice for the filing of claims, any person who has a cause of action against an insured of the impaired insurer under a title insurance policy issued or assumed by such insurer shall, if such cause of action meets the definition of "covered claim," have the right to file a claim with the receiver or the conservator, regardless of the fact that such claim may be contingent, and such claim may be approved as a "covered claim" (1) if it may be reasonably inferred from the proof presented upon such claim that such person would be able to obtain a judgment upon such cause of action against such insured; and (2) if such person shall furnish suitable proof that no further valid claims against such insurer arising out of his cause of action other than those already presented can be made; and (3) if the total liability of such insurer to all claimants arising from the same title insurance policy shall be no greater than its total liability would be were it not in liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation. In the proceedings of considering "covered claims," no judgment against an insured taken after the date of the commencement of the delinquency proceedings or the appointment of a conservator shall be considered as evidence of liability, or of the amount of damages, and no judgment against an insured taken by default or by collusion prior to the commencement of the delinquency proceedings or the appointment of a conservator shall be considered as conclusive evidence either (1) of the liability of such insured to such person upon such cause of action, or (2) of the amount of damages to which such person is therein entitled.

The acceptance of payment from the receiver or conservator by the holder of a covered claim or the acceptance of the benefits of contracts negotiated by the receiver or conservator providing for reinsurance or assumption of liabilities or for substitution shall constitute an assignment to the impaired insurer of any cause of action or right of the holder of such covered claim arising from the occurrence upon which the covered claim is based. Such assignment shall be to the extent of the amount accepted or the value of the benefits provided by such contracts of reinsurance or assumption of liabilities or substitution. Such assignment to the impaired insurer may be assigned to the insurer executing such reinsurance, assumption or substitution agreement.

Release From Conservatorship or Receivership

Sec. 11. An impaired insurer placed in conservatorship or receivership for which assessments have been made under the provisions of this article shall not be authorized, upon release from conservatorship or receivership, to issue new or renewal insurance policies until such time as the impaired insurer has repaid pro rata in full to each holder of a participation receipt the assessment amount paid by the receipt holder or its assigns; provided, however, the commissioner may, upon application of the advisory association and after hearing, permit the issuance of new policies in accordance with a plan of operations by the released insurer for repayment of assessments. The commissioner may, in approving such plan, place such restrictions upon the issuance of new or renewal policies as he deems necessary to the implementation of the plan. The commissioner shall give 10 days notice of such hearing to the insurers to whom the participation receipts were issued for an assessment made for the benefit of the released insurer, and the holders of the receipts shall be entitled to appear at and participate in such hearing.

Creation of Advisory Association

Sec. 12. There is created by this article an advisory association to be known as the "Texas Title Insurance Advisory Association", herein called the "advisory association", to be composed of four insurers. Within 30 days after the effective date of this article, the State Board of Insurance shall appoint the insurers who will serve as the initial advisory association. Of the initial advisory association members, one shall be appointed to serve for a one-year term of office, one shall be appointed to serve for a two-year term of office, one shall be appointed to serve for a three-year term of office, and one shall be appointed to serve a four-year term of office. Subsequent members of the advisory association shall serve for the term of office as stated above and shall be elected by insurers, subject to the approval by the commissioner.

The initial members of the advisory association and subsequent members shall be chosen to afford fair representation to all insurers subject to this article, giving due consideration to geographical location and segments of the industry represented in Texas. Vacancies on the advisory association shall be filled for the remaining period of the term in the same manner as the initial appointments.

The advisory association shall conduct its meetings in Austin, Texas, in the Insurance Building of the State of Texas. Meetings shall be held upon call by the commissioner or upon written request of a majority of the members. Meetings shall not be open to the public, and only members of the advisory association, members of the State Board of Insurance, the commissioner, and persons authorized by the commissioner shall attend such meetings.

The advisory association shall advise and counsel with the commissioner upon matters relating to the solvency of insurers. The commissioner shall call a meeting of the advisory association when he determines that an insurer is insolvent or impaired and may call a meeting of the advisory association when he determines that a danger of insolvency or impairment of an insurer exists. The advisory association shall, upon majority vote, notify the commissioner of any information indicating that an insurer may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations and request a meeting with the commissioner. At such meetings the commissioner may divulge to the advisory association any information in his possession and any records of the State Board of Insurance, including examination reports or preliminary reports from examiners relating to such insurer. The commissioner may summon officers, directors, and employees of an insolvent or impaired insurer, or an insurer the commissioner considers to be in danger of insolvency or impairment, to appear before the advisory association for conference or for the taking of testimony. Members of the advisory association shall not reveal information received in such meetings to anyone unless authorized by the commissioner or the State Board of Insurance or when required as witness in court. Advisory association members shall be subject to the same standard of confidentiality as is imposed upon examiners under Article 1.18 of the Insurance Code, except that no bond shall be required of advisory association members.

The advisory association shall, upon request by the commissioner, attend hearings before the commissioner and meet with and advise the commissioner, the liquidator or conservator appointed by the commissioner, on matters relating to the affairs of an impaired insurer and relating to action that may be taken by the commissioner, liquidator, or conservator to best protect the interests of persons holding covered claims against an impaired insurer and relating to the amount and timing of partial assessments and the marshalling of assets and the processing and handling of covered claims.

Reports or recommendations made by the advisory association to the commissioner, liquidator, or conservator shall not be considered public documents, and there shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action against a member of the advisory association or the advisory association for any report, individual report, recommendation or individual recommendation by the advisory association or members to the commissioner, liquidator, or conservator.

Members shall serve without pay, but their expenses in attending meetings shall be paid subject to the authorization by the legislature in its appropriations bills or otherwise, and subject to the rules of the State Board of Insurance. Members shall serve until their successors are appointed.

Any insurer that has an officer, director, or employee serving as a member of the advisory association shall not lose the right to negotiate for and enter into contracts of reinsurance or assumption of liability or contracts of substitution to provide for liabilities for covered claims with the receiver or conservator of an impaired insurer. The entering into any such contract shall not be deemed a conflict of interest.

The advisory association or any insurer assessed under this article shall be an interested party under Section 3(h) of Article 21.28 of the Insurance Code.

The State Board of Insurance shall within 90 days after the effective date of this article promulgate reasonable organizational rules for the association which shall set forth, among other things, quorum and attendance requirements for meetings, procedural rules to be followed at association meetings and rules concerning the replacement of members.

Recognition of Assessments in Rates and Premium Tax Offset

Sec. 13. Insurers shall be entitled to recoup assessments up to one percent of their net direct written premiums from rates promulgated, established, or approved by the State Board of Insurance in the next calendar year. The State Board of Insurance in promulgating, establishing, or approving rates shall take into account assessments and refunds of assessments made in accordance with this article and shall include in the formula forming the basis for promulgating, establishing, or approving rates sums sufficient to provide for such recoupment.

Unless the State Board of Insurance has determined that all amounts paid by each insurer on assessments on total net direct written premiums have been included in the rates and premiums as provided above, any amounts not so included shall be allowed to such insurer as a credit against its premium tax under Article 7064, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended. The tax credit referred to herein shall be allowed at a rate of 20 percent per year for five successive years following the date of assessment and at the option of the insurer may be taken over an additional number of years.

Advertisement

Sec. 14. It shall be unlawful for an insurer to advertise or refer to this Act in any manner as an inducement to the purchase of title insurance.

Immunity

Sec. 15. There shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against any insurer subject to this article or its agents or employees, the advisory association, or the commissioner or his representatives for any action taken by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this article.

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 16. The State Board of Insurance is authorized and directed to issue such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the various purposes and provisions of this article and in augmentation thereof.

Appeals

Sec. 17. Any action or ruling of the commissioner under this article may be appealed as provided in Article 1.04 of the Insurance Code, as amended. The liability of the appealing insurer for an assessment shall be suspended pending appeal by such insurer contesting the amount or legality of such assessment.

Control Over Conflicts

Sec. 18. The provisions of this article and the powers and functions authorized by this article are to be exercised to the end that its purposes are accomplished. This article is cumulative of existing laws, but in the event of conflict between this article and any other law relating to the subject matter of this article or its application, the provisions of this article shall control.

Unconstitutional Application Prohibited

Sec. 19. This article and law does not apply to any insurer or other person to whom, under the Constitution of the United States or the Constitution of the State of Texas, it cannot validly apply. [Added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1063, ch. 409, § 13, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

After January 1, 1976, only the form prescribed by the board shall be used thereafter in issuing such insured closing and settlement letters. The liability of the title insurance company shall not be changed or altered by the failure of the title insurance company to issue such insured closing and settlement letters as authorized by this Article 9.49.

[Added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1063, ch. 409, § 14, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 9.50. Home Solicitation Transactions Act as Consumer Protection Law

Chapter 246, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973 (Article 5069-13.01 through Article 5069-13.06, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), shall be deemed and considered a consumer protection law when construed in connection with any policy of title insurance issued in this state.

No title insurance agent shall be permitted to surrender his license under the provisions of Article 9.37 of this Chapter 9 if, prior to the offer to surrender such license, an action shall have been commenced under the provisions of Article 9.37 by the commissioner of insurance for revocation of such person's title insurance agent's license.

Art. 9.52. Escrow Officer's Right to Surrender License

No escrow officer shall be permitted to surrender his license under the provisions of Article 9.44 of this Chapter 9 if, prior to the offer to surrender such license, an action shall have been commenced under the provisions of Article 9.44 by the commissioner of insurance for revocation of such person's escrow agent's license.

Art. 9.53. Uniform Closing and Settlement Statements

On or prior to January 1, 1976, the board, after notice and hearing, shall prescribe uniform settlement and closing statement forms to be used in connection with the settlement and closing of any conveyance or mortgaging of real estate in which transaction a title insurance policy is issued by any title insurance company or title insurance agent. The board is specifically authorized to establish separate forms for transactions involving improved residential real property and for all other real property transactions. The forms prescribed by the board shall be designed so that dual forms or separate forms provided for each party to the transaction identifying only the charges made to such party may be used at any settlement or closing.

Every such settlement and closing statement furnished to a party to the transaction shall state thereon the name of any person, firm, or corporation receiving any sum from such party to the settlement or closing. The title insurance company and the title insurance agent, however, shall be required to include within the closing and settlement statement only those items of disbursement as are actually disbursed by the title insurance company or the title insurance agent. If a title is examined or any closing or settlement services rendered by an attorney, other than a full-time employee of either the title insurance company or the title insurance agent, the amount of such fee (shown as included in the premium) and the name of the attorney (which may be expressed by the name of the firm, if applicable) to whom such fee was paid shall be shown thereon. Such form shall also conspicuously and clearly itemize the charges imposed upon such party in connection with the settlement and closing. If a charge for title insurance is made to such party, the form shall state whether the title insurance premium included in such charges covers or insures the mortgagee's interest in the property, the borrower's interest, or both.

Any title insurance company or any title insurance agent may at its election use the uniform closing statement prepared under the provisions of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-533)¹ in lieu of the uniform closing statement prescribed by the board.

The provisions of this Article 9.53 of this Chapter 9 shall not apply to the settlement or closing of any residential real estate transaction regulated by the provisions of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-533).

The provisions of this Article 9.53 of this Chapter 9 shall not apply to a settlement or closing if neither a title insurance company, a title insurance agent, an attorney for a title insurance company or title insurance agent, nor a representative of the title insurance company, title insurance agent or attorney for a title insurance company or title insurance agent has actually handled the closing or settlement of such real estate transaction.

Art. 9.54. Advance Disclosure of Settlement Costs Involving Residential Property

Every title insurance company and every title insurance agent licensed to do business in Texas under the provisions of this Chapter 9 shall, in connection with the issuance of any type of title policy guaranteeing either a lien upon or the title to improved residential property, upon written request of the buyer, seller, or borrower prior to settlement and closing, furnish to any such requesting party to such transaction an itemized disclosure in writing, to the extent that the information is available, each charge to be made to such party, arising in connection with such closing and settlement, upon any standard real estate settlement and closing form developed, prescribed or authorized under Article 9.53 of this chapter. If information is not available concerning any item or items of charges to be made to such party, proper notation shall be made that a charge is to be made, but the information is not available or that the amount shown is an estimate of such charge. Such person shall be advised in writing as to the identity of the person or organization responsible for such charges to be made for which an estimate has been made or for which notation has been made that the information is not available.

Provided, however, that the title insurance company or title insurance agent providing the disclosures of items of charge shall not be required to disclose costs or charges which the lender is required by any law to disclose to such party. Nothing contained in this Article 9.54 shall be deemed or construed as placing upon any title insurance company or title insurance agent any of the obligations imposed upon lenders by reason of the Federal Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-533).¹

The provisions of this Article 9.54 of this Chapter 9 shall not apply to a settlement or closing if neither

a title insurance company, a title insurance agent, an attorney for a title insurance company or title insurance agent, nor a representative of the title insurance company, title insurance agent or attorney for a title insurance company or title insurance agent has actually handled the closing or settlement of such real estate transaction.

Art. 9.55. Requirement for Issuance of Owners and Mortgagee Title Policies in Connection With Residential Property

After January 1, 1976, whenever any improved residential real property situated in the State of Texas shall be sold and a mortgagee title policy issued to guarantee the validity of a lien thereon, the title insurance company or title insurance agent so issuing such mortgagee title policy of insurance shall also issue an owner title policy to the owner of such property and the required premium as promulgated by the board shall be charged.

The provisions of this article may, however, be rejected, provided that the person acquiring title shall, at or prior to closing and settlement, execute a written and acknowledged rejection wherein the purchaser rejects issuance of such owner title policy. The form of such rejection shall be prescribed, after notice and hearing, by the board.

The provisions of this Article 9.55 of this Chapter 9 shall not apply to a settlement or closing if neither a title insurance company, a title insurance agent, an attorney for a title insurance company or title insurance agent, nor a representative of the title insurance company, title insurance agent or attorney for a title insurance company or title insurance agent has actually handled the closing or settlement of such real estate transaction.

(b) All provisions of Chapter 9 of this Insurance Code shall be applicable to such attorney's title insurance company as may be so incorporated, except as shall be otherwise expressly provided in this Article 9.56. (d) It is the express intent of the Legislature of the State of Texas that any such attorney's title insurance company as and when created shall be expressly regulated as are other title insurance companies conducting the business of title insurance under the provisions of this Chapter 9 of this Insurance Code unless expressly provided in this Article 9.56 to the contrary.

May Incorporate

Sec. 3. Private corporations may be created by 15 or more State of Texas resident members of the State Bar of Texas to insure titles to lands or interest therein in this state and indemnify the owners of such lands, or the holders of interests in or liens on such lands, against loss or damage on account of encumbrances upon or defects in the title to such lands or interests therein, provided that such title insurance shall be issued only in connection with and as a part of a title opinion of a title attorney, without any premium or fee therefor except the prescribed title insurance rates provided for in Article 9.07 of this Chapter 9.

Subject to the provisions of Article 9.06 of this Chapter 9, and Section 4 of this article, the capital shares of such corporations may be issued for a par value of $100 or more per share, and in one or more classes, provided, however, that (a) except as provided in (b) hereafter, all such shares shall be subscribed and paid for, and issued to members of the State Bar of Texas, residing in the State of Texas, subject to the right of reacquisition of such shares by such corporation in the event of death of such attorney shareholder or failure of such attorney shareholder to be and remain a licensed member of the State Bar of Texas, or failure of such attorney shareholder to be and remain qualified to be appointed a title attorney under the provisions of this Article 9.56; and (b) nothing herein contained prohibits an association of the organized State Bar of Texas, the State Bar of Texas, or any foundation created by or through the State Bar of Texas, whose purposes include among others the continuing legal education of the bench and bar of Texas, from owning shares of any class thereof, providing at least 15 resident members of the State Bar of Texas at all times own shares therein whether of the same class or not.

Sec. 4. (a) The attorney's title insurance company created as an affiliate or subsidiary of the organized State Bar of Texas, the State Bar of Texas, or any foundation created by or through the State Bar of Texas, and operating under the provisions of this section, must have a paid-up capital of not less than $250,000 and a surplus of not less than $150,000.

(b) Any other attorney's title insurance company shall meet the capital and surplus requirements upon organization as required by Article 9.06 of this Chapter 9.

Requirements for Title Attorneys

Sec. 5. No attorney shall act within this state as a title attorney for an attorney's title insurance company without first having been (1) licensed as a title attorney for such company by the board and (2) filing a bond or cash deposit in lieu thereof as required in Section 9; and no attorney's title insurance company shall allow or permit any attorney to act as its title attorney within the state unless said attorney shall first have obtained a license and filed a bond as required by this chapter.

Title Attorney's Licenses

Sec. 6. (a) Before an initial license is issued to any Texas licensed attorney to act as a title attorney within the State of Texas for an attorney's title insurance company, there shall first be filed by the attorney's title insurance company with the board an application for a title attorney's license, on forms to be provided by the board, accompanied by a fee of $2. The application shall be signed and duly sworn to by the attorney's title insurance company and the applicant title attorney. Such application shall contain the following:

- (1) that the applicant title attorney is a bona fide licensed Texas attorney, resident of Texas; and
- (2) that the applicant title attorney is actively engaged in the practice of law; and
- (3) that the applicant title attorney is known to the attorney's title insurance company to have a good business reputation, to be a current member of the State Bar of Texas, in good standing, and is worthy of the public trust and said attorney's title insurance company knows of no fact or condition which would disqualify him from receiving a license; and
- (4) that the applicant title attorney is qualified as defined in this Article 9.56 of this Chapter 9.

The board shall grant such title attorney's license if it determines from the application and its own investigation that the foregoing requirements have been met.

(b) On or before the first day of June of each year, every attorney's title insurance company operating under the provisions of this Chapter 9 shall certify to the board, on forms provided by the board, the names and addresses of every title attorney of said attorney's title insurance company, and shall apply for and pay a fee of $2 for an annual license in the name of each title attorney included in said list; if any such attorney's title insurance company shall terminate any licensed title attorney, it shall immediately notify the board in writing of such act and request cancellation of such license, notifying the title attorney of such action. No such attorney's title insurance company shall permit any title attorney appointed by it to write, sign, or deliver title insurance policies within the state until the foregoing conditions have been complied with, and the board has granted said license. The board shall deliver such license to the attorney's title insurance company for transmittal to the title attorney.

Licenses shall continue until the first day of the next June unless previously cancelled; provided, however, that if any attorney's title insurance company surrenders or has its certificate of authority revoked by the board, all existing licenses of its title attorneys shall automatically terminate without notice.

The board shall keep a record of the names and addresses of all licensed title attorneys in such manner that the title attorneys appointed by any attorney's title insurance company authorized to transact the business of an attorney's title insurance company within the State of Texas may be conveniently ascertained and inspected by any person upon request.

(c) If an attorney's title insurance company terminates its contract with a title attorney or gives notice of termination to the title attorney, then any such title attorney may, within 30 days after either occurrence apply to the board for continuation of his license with an amendment thereto showing the name of another attorney's title insurance company for whom he is or will be authorized to act.

Authority of Title Attorney

Sec. 7. (a) A duly licensed title attorney may issue policies of title insurance for an attorney's title insurance company only if: (1) such title attorney is an appointed title attorney for an attorney's title insurance company; and (2) such title attorney bases each title opinion upon separate and current title evidence furnished by a licensed abstract plant of the records of the county in which the real property, the title to which is to be insured, is located; and (3) if such title attorney does not own or lease and control a licensed abstract plant and does not participate in a bona fide joint plant operation, such title attorney pays to the licensed abstract plant furnishing the title information the portion of the premium which may be agreed upon between the title attorney and the licensed abstract plant and approved by the board under the contract to furnish title information provided for under Paragraph (b) of this Section 7.

(b) The board shall, not later than January 1, 1976, promulgate the form of the contract to be made and entered into between a title attorney and a licensed abstract plant whereby title information shall be furnished by a licensed abstract plant to a title attorney. Such contract shall state therein the standards for the information which is to be furnished. Contracts shall be entered into between each title attorney and each licensed abstract plant. The board may from time to time alter, change, or amend the form of such contract.

The parties to any such contract shall determine the portion of the premium to be paid by the title attorney to the licensed abstract plant, except that the board is authorized to and may disapprove any division of the premium which the board finds to be excessive or inadequate. Such portion of the premium to be paid to the licensed abstract plant shall be deemed and considered as the "regular charge" for title information as that term is used in Article 9.34 of this Chapter 9. Within 10 days following execution, the parties to each such contract shall file a copy of the executed contract with the board. Each such contract shall be deemed to be approved as to the division of the premium until the parties are notified of disapproval by the board.

(c) In the event a title attorney does not own or lease and control a licensed abstract plant nor is a participant in a bona fide joint plant operation and is unable to contract with a licensed abstract plant to obtain the required title information in the county in which the real property, the title to which is to be insured, is located, such title attorney may deliver (but not issue) title insurance policies in conformity with the provisions of Article 9.34 of this Chapter 9. Likewise, a title attorney may deliver (but not issue) a title insurance policy upon real property in conformity with the provisions of Article 9.34 of this Chapter 9 when based upon a duly certified abstract of title prepared by a licensed abstract plant covering the particular real property from the sovereignty of the soil to the date of the transaction.

(d) Each annual audit of each title attorney shall include therein disclosure of the payments for title information and to whom such payments were made."

Title Attorneys' Licenses: Surrender, Forfeiture, Grounds for Revocation; Notice, Hearing, and Appeal

Sec. 8. (a) Any title attorney may surrender his license at any time by giving notice to the board and to the attorney's title insurance company concerned, except that no title attorney shall be permitted to surrender his license under the provisions of this Section 8 if prior to the offer to surrender such license an action shall have been commenced under the provisions of this Section 8 by the Commissioner of Insurance for revocation of such title attorney's license. Any title attorney shall automatically forfeit the license under the attorney's title insurance company represented if he shall terminate his relationship with the attorney's title insurance company.

(b) The license of any title attorney may be denied, or a license duly issued may be suspended or revoked or a renewal thereof refused by the board, if, after notice and hearing as hereafter provided, it finds that the applicant for or holder of such license:

- (1) has wilfully violated any provision of this Chapter 9; or
- (2) has intentionally made a material misstatement in the application for such license; or
- (3) has obtained, or attempted to obtain, such license by fraud or misrepresentation; or

(4) has misappropriated or converted to his own use or illegally withheld money belonging to an attorney's title insurance company, an insured, or any other person; or

(5) has otherwise demonstrated lack of trustworthiness or competence to act as a title attorney; or

(6) has been guilty of fraudulent or dishonest practices; or

(7) has materially misrepresented the terms and conditions of title insurance policies or contracts; or

(8) is not of good character or reputation; or

(9) has failed to maintain a separate and distinct accounting of escrow funds, and has failed to maintain an escrow bank account or accounts separate and apart from all other accounts; or

(10) has failed to remain a member of the State Bar of Texas, or has been disbarred; or

(11) is no longer actively engaged in the practice of law.

(c) Before the license of any title attorney shall be denied, or suspended or revoked, or the renewal thereof refused hereunder, the board shall give notice of its intention so to do, by registered mail, to the applicant for or holder of such license and to the attorney's title insurance company who desires that such license be granted or continued in effect, and shall set a date not less than 20 days from the date of mailing such notice when the applicant or licensee and a duly authorized representative of the attorney's title insurance company may appear to be heard and produce evidence. In the conduct of such hearing, the commissioner of insurance or any regular salaried employee specially designated by him for such purpose shall have power to administer oaths, to require the appearance of and examine any person under oath, and to require the production of books, records, or papers relevant to the inquiry upon his own initiative or upon the request of the applicant or licensee. Upon termination of such hearing, findings shall be reduced to writing and, upon approval by the commissioner, shall be filed in his office and notice of the findings sent by registered mail to the applicant or licensee and the attorney's title insurance company concerned.

(d) No applicant or licensee whose license has been denied, refused, or revoked hereunder shall be entitled to file another application for a license as a title attorney within one year from the effective date of such denial, refusal, or revocation, or, if judicial review of such denial, refusal, or revocation is sought, within one year from the date of final court order or decree affirming such action. Such application, when filed after one year, may be refused by the board unless the applicant shows good cause why the denial, refusal, or revocation of his license shall not be deemed a bar to the issuance of a new license.

(e) If the board shall refuse an application for any license provided for in this Act, or shall suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew any such license at said hearing, then any such applicant or licensee, and any attorney's title insurance company concerned, may appeal from said order by filing suit against the board as defendant in any of the district courts of Travis County, Texas, and not elsewhere, within 20 days from the date of the order of said board. Said action shall have precedence over all other causes of a different nature on the docket. The action shall not be limited to questions of law and shall be tried and determined upon a trial de novo to the same extent as now provided for in the case of an appeal from the justice court to the county court. Any party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause, and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending. The board shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder.

Bonds for Title Attorneys

Sec. 9. (a) Every attorney who has been licensed as a title attorney shall make, file, and pay for a surety bond with a corporate surety company authorized to write surety bonds in this state, payable to the State Board of Insurance in the sum of $7,500, which bond shall obligate the principal and surety to (1) pay such pecuniary losses as may result to any participant in a real estate settlement or closing where an attorney's title insurance policy is issued by such title attorney which shall be sustained through acts of fraud, dishonesty, theft, embezzlement, or wilful misapplication on the part of any title attorney, (2) to pay such pecuniary loss as any party to an escrow agreement in which the title attorney is escrowee shall sustain through acts of fraud, dishonesty, forgery, theft, embezzlement, or wilful misapplication on the part of such title attorney, either directly and alone, or in connivance with others. In lieu of such bond any title attorney may deposit with the board cash (or securities approved by the board) which cash and securities shall be in the amount of $7,500 and subject to the same conditions as provided for in said bond.

(b) If at any time it appears to the board that the terms of any title attorney's bond may have been violated, the board may require the title attorney to appear in Travis County with such records as the board deems proper on a named date not earlier than 10 days nor later than 15 days from service of notice, and there conduct an examination into the matter. If upon such examination the board is satisfied that the terms of said bond have been violated, the board shall immediately notify the surety and prepare a written statement covering the facts and deliver it to the Attorney General of Texas, whose duty it shall be to investigate the charges, and if satisfied that the terms of said bond have been violated, then to enforce the liability against cash or securities, or by suit on said bond in Travis County in the name of the board for the benefit of all parties who have suffered any loss because of breach of the terms of said bond.

Annual Audit and Report of Title Attorneys

Sec. 10. Every title attorney shall have an annual audit, at his expense, made of trust fund accounts, and within 90 days after January 1 of each calendar year shall send by certified mail, postage prepaid, to the board one copy of such audit report with a letter of transmittal, and each such title attorney shall also send a copy of such letter of transmittal and audit report to the attorney's title insurance company which he represents.

Said audit shall be made by an independent certified public accountant or licensed public accountant, or a firm composed of either, recommended by said title attorney and approved by the title insurance company represented by said title attorney.

Each attorney's title insurance company shall examine and analyze the audit report furnished by each of its title attorneys and shall within three months of receipt of same report to the board on forms to be promulgated by the board the findings and results of its examination and analysis of such audit report. If an attorney's title insurance company fails to receive an audit report from any of its title attorneys within the time specified above, it shall forthwith report such omission to the board.

All such reports and analyses furnished by the attorney's title insurance company to the board shall, at the election of the commissioner, be classed as confidential and privileged after having been filed with the board.

If any title attorney shall fail or refuse to furnish an audit report within the time required, or shall furnish an audit report which reveals any shortage or other irregularity, or any practice not in keeping with sound, honest business practices, the board may, after notice to the title attorney and the attorney's title insurance company involved and after a hearing at which the attorney and attorney's title insurance company may offer evidence explaining or excusing such omissions or irregularity, revoke the license of such title attorney.

Any title attorney or attorney's title insurance company feeling aggrieved by any action of the board hereunder shall have the right to file a suit in a District Court of Travis County in the time and manner provided in Section 8.

Right of Attorney's Title Insurance Company to Examine Title Attorney's Fund Accounts and Require Reports

Sec. 11. Any attorney's title insurance company may at such time or times as it sees fit, through its examiners or auditors or through independent certified public accountants commissioned by it, examine the trust fund accounts and records pertaining thereto of any of its title attorneys, such examination to be made at the expense of the attorney's title insurance company; or the attorney's title insurance company may require special reports from any such title attorney regarding any of its transactions.

Application to Other Title Insurance Companies

Sec. 12. The business of attorney's title insurance shall only be conducted by attorney's title insurance companies, as defined herein, and no title insurance company, foreign or domestic, or title insurance agent or escrow officer of a title insurance agent presently or hereafter licensed to transact a title insurance business in the State of Texas, pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter 9 of this Insurance Code, may operate as an attorney's title insurance company or a title attorney under the provisions of this chapter.

Exemption From Other Acts

Sec. 13. (a) The sale, issuance, or offering of any capital stock to persons permitted by the provisions of this Article 9.56 to own such capital stock are hereby exempted from all provisions of the laws of this state, other than this Chapter 9, which provide for supervision, registration, or regulation in connection with the sale, issuance, or offering of securities; and the sale, issuance, or offering of any such capital stock to such persons shall be legal without any action or approval whatsoever on the part of any official or state regulatory agency authorized to license, regulate, or supervise the sale, issuance, or offering of securities.

(b) The shares of stock of each attorney's title insurance company (regardless of class) may be owned only (except as provided in Section 3 of this Article 9.56) by attorneys duly licensed by the State Bar of Texas, residing in the State of Texas, and qualified to be appointed a title attorney under the provisions of this Article 9.56. Each certificate evidencing any share shall have endorsed thereon provisions relating to limitation upon the alienation of such shares whereby such shares may be owned only by such qualifying attorneys or the attorney's title insurance company so issuing such shares. The provisions of this Section 13B shall not, however, be applicable to shares owned by the organized State Bar of Texas, the State Bar of Texas, or any foundation created by or through the State Bar of Texas, whose purposes include among others the continuing legal education of the bench and bar of Texas.

(c) At time of organization of any attorney's title insurance company, the applicants for such attorney's title insurance company shall, as a part of the application for granting and approving the charter of such attorney's title insurance company, file with and obtain the approval of the State Board of Insurance an acceptable plan providing for the reacquisition of any and all shares of stock of such attorney's title insurance company issued to any qualified attorney when such attorney no longer remains qualified to own the same or upon the death of such attorney, whichever shall first occur. Such plan shall, in addition to its other provisions, contain an express provision that under no circumstance may such attorney's title insurance company acquire outstanding shares of its stock as treasury stock if such reacquisition of such shares will result in reducing the capital and surplus of such attorney's title insurance company below the minimum capital and surplus required for the initial organization of such attorney's title insurance company.

(d) In the event of the death of any title attorney, the attorney's title insurance company shall have a period of nine months following the death of such title attorney within which to acquire such deceased title attorney's share or shares.

Art. 14.17. Certificate of Authority Required; Exemptions

It shall be the duty of the Board of Insurance Commissioners to require any corporation, person, firm, association, local mutual aid association, or any local association, company, or organization to have a certificate of authority before being authorized to carry on any insurance business in this State. If, in any event, any such company, person, firm, association, corporation, local aid association, or local organization is writing any form of insurance whatsoever without a permit or certificate of authority issued by the Department of Insurance of Texas, it shall be the duty of the Board to make known said fact to the Attorney General of the State of Texas, who is hereby required to institute proceedings in the District Court of Travis County, Texas, to restrain such corporation, person, firm, association, company, local aid association, or organization from writing any insurance of any kind or character without a permit; provided no provision of this and the preceding Article shall be construed to apply to associations which limit their membership to the employees and the families of employees of any particular designated firm, corporation, or individual, nor shall it apply to associations which limit their membership to bona fide borrowers of a Federal agency in Texas and members of the borrower's immediate family who are living with him and who are not engaged in nonfarm work for their chief income, and which association has been in existence for at least five (5) years, and which are not operated for profit and which pay no commissions to anyone and whose operating expenses do not exceed One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per month; provided, however, that all such associations shall make annual reports to the Department of Insurance on blanks furnished for that purpose, showing the financial condition, the receipts and expenditures, and such other facts as the Board of Insurance Commissioners may require. No such association shall be permitted to operate, however, without making report to the Insurance Department of the State of Texas and securing a permit to so function. Such permit shall be for the current year or fractional part thereof and shall expire on the thirty-first day of May thereafter and shall be renewed annually upon the approval of the financial statement of the organization by the Board of Insurance Commissioners.

The provisions of this Section 1 of this Article 14.20 shall apply to all outstanding policies already containing such limitations.

Sec. 2. In the event a policy providing natural death benefits shall contain a provision for reduction (other than for the specific reductions enumerated and authorized by Section 1 of this Article 14.20) of the highest or ultimate death benefit stated in such policy for a specified insured, such reduced death benefit for such specified insured shall at all times during the period of time such reduction in death benefit is in effect equal at least 120 percent of the total premium then paid upon such policy by such specified insured; the period of any such reduced benefit (other than as enumerated and authorized by Section 1 of this Article 14.20) shall not exceed five years from issue date. This Section 2 of this Article 14.20 shall not be applicable, however, to any policy of life insurance upon which the reduction of the death benefit is not applicable at the time of the death of such specified insured.

Sec. 3. In the event a policy of life insurance shall provide, during any of the first five years of such policy, for an increase in the death benefit whereby the initial amount of the death benefit for a specified insured shall be increased one or more times during such five-year period, such amount of death benefit for any such specified insured shall at all times during the period or periods of such increasing benefit equal at least 120 percent of the premiums paid on such policy by such specified insured during the period of such increase. This Section 3 of this Article 14.20 shall not be applicable, however, to any policy of life insurance after it has been in force for more than five years from the policy issue date.

Sec. 4. The provisions of Section 2 and Section 3 of this Article 14.20 shall not be applicable to family group life policies as the term "family group life policies" is defined in Section 2(a)(2) of Article 14.15 of this Insurance Code.

Sec. 5. The provisions of this Article 14.20 shall not apply to health and accident policies.

The State Board of Insurance shall adopt a schedule of reasonable and adequate rates, giving the maximum and minimum rates which may be charged per week, per month, per quarter, per six (6) months and per annum by burial associations for the definite benefits at the definite ages, which ages will be in convenient groups as designated by said Board. Such schedule of rates shall be adopted in compliance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). To insure the adequacy and reasonableness of rates the Board may take into consideration experience gathered from a territory within this State sufficiently broad to include the varying conditions of the risks involved and over a period sufficiently long to insure that the minimum and maximum rates determined therefrom shall be just and reasonable as they may apply to the insuring public, and adequate and non-confiscatory as they may apply to the burial associations. The Board is hereby authorized and empowered to require sworn statements from any burial association within this State showing its experience in assessments collected and claims paid over a reasonable period of time and such other information as the Board shall find to be necessary or helpful in making the maximum and minimum rate schedules. After said rate schedules have been adopted, the Board shall cause to be mailed a copy of such rate schedule to each burial association having a permit to do business in Texas. Until the schedule of rates is adopted under this section, the schedule of rates in effect on the effective date of this Act continues in force."

Art. 14.45. Adoption and Filing of Rate Schedule by Associations

After such rate schedule has been so mailed by the State Board of Insurance, it shall be the duty of the officers and directors of each burial association to convene and to adopt a rate schedule to be thereafter used and charged by such association for the different benefits at the different ages and which schedule shall use the same age groups and benefits as is given in the rate schedule so mailed to it by the State Board of Insurance and which rates so adopted shall not be less than the minimum nor more than the maximum rates adopted by the Board. Each burial association shall file with the State Board of Insurance, duplicate copies of the rate schedule adopted by it and which rate schedule must be so filed at least within thirty (30) days from the date the rate schedule was so mailed by the State Board of Insurance. Such copy shall be endorsed by the State Board of Insurance showing the date of its filing and one of such copies shall be retained by the Board and the other copy returned to the association to be kept as a part of its permanent files. [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1250, ch. 593, § 1, eff. June 13, 1979.]

The Board's duties and power shall not cease upon the adoption of its first rate schedule, but it shall continue to study the statistics, rates, and experiences of burial associations and at any time it deems proper, it may adopt a new rate schedule or amendment to a previous schedule and when any such amendment or new schedule is adopted, it shall thereafter be considered the official rate schedule of burial associations. When a new or amended schedule is adopted and copies forwarded to the burial associations by the State Board of Insurance, the new or amended rate schedule shall be thereafter used by it as to members thereafter accepted and such procedure shall be followed from time to time, when and as often as the Board shall adopt an amended or new rate schedule for the State. [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1250, ch. 593, § 1, eff. June 13, 1979.]

(a) Notwithstanding any law of this state to the contrary, any person may apply to the commissioner for and obtain a certificate of authority to establish and operate a health maintenance organization in compliance with this Act. No person shall establish or operate a health maintenance organization in this state, or sell or offer to sell or solicit offers to purchase or receive advance or periodic consideration in conjunction with a health maintenance organization without obtaining a certificate of authority under this Act. A foreign corporation may qualify under this Act, subject to its registration to do business in this state as a foreign corporation under the Texas Business Corporation Act and compliance with all provisions of this Act and other applicable Texas statutes.

(b) Within 90 days of the effective date of this Act, every existing health maintenance organization shall submit an application for a certificate of authority. Each such applicant may continue to operate until the commissioner acts on the application. In the event that an application is denied, the applicant shall henceforth be treated as a health maintenance organization whose certificate of authority has been revoked.

(8) a financial statement showing the applicant's assets, liabilities, and sources of financial support; if the applicant's financial affairs are audited by an independent certified public accountant, a copy of the applicant's most recent regular certified financial statement shall be deemed to satisfy this requirement unless the commissioner directs that additional or more recent financial information is required for the proper administration of this Act;

As soon as reasonably possible after any filing for approval required by this subsection is made, the commissioner shall in writing approve or disapprove it. Art. 20A.05. Issuance of Certificate of Authority

(a)(1) Upon receipt of an application for issuance of a certificate of authority, the commissioner shall begin consideration of the application and forthwith transmit copies of such application and accompanying documents to the board.

(2) The board shall determine whether the applicant for a certificate of authority, with respect to health care services to be furnished:

(C) has a procedure, established by rules and regulations of the board with the concurrence of the commissioner, to develop, compile, evaluate, and report statistics relating to the cost of operation, the pattern of utilization of its services, availability and accessibility of its services.

(3) Within 45 days of receipt of the application by the board for issuance of a certificate of authority, the board shall certify to the commissioner whether the proposed health maintenance organization meets the requirements of this section. If the board certifies that the health maintenance organization does not meet such requirements, it shall specify in what respects it is deficient.

(b) The commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, issue or deny a certificate of authority to any person filing an application pursuant to Section 4 of this Act within 75 days of the receipt of the certification of the board; provided, however, that the commissioner may grant a delay of final action on the application to an applicant who has demonstrated a need therefor, including any delay occasioned by an application to the federal government. Issuance of the certificate of authority shall be granted upon payment of the application fee prescribed in Section 32 of this Act if:

(1) the board certifies that the health maintenance organization's proposed plan of operation meets the requirements of Subsection (a)(2) of this section; and

(2) the commissioner is satisfied that:

(A) the person responsible for the conduct of the affairs of the applicant is competent, trustworthy, and possesses a good reputation;

(B) the health care plan constitutes an appropriate mechanism whereby the health maintenance organization will effectively provide or arrange for the provision of basic health care services on a prepaid basis, through insurance or otherwise, except to the extent of reasonable requirements for co-payment;

(C) the health maintenance organization is fully responsible and may reasonably be expected to meet its obligations to enrollees and prospective enrollees. In making this determination, the commissioner shall consider:

(i) the financial soundness of the health care plan's arrangement for health care services and a schedule of charges used in connection therewith;

(ii) the adequacy of working capital;

(iii) any agreement with an insurer, group hospital service corporation, a political subdivision of government, or any other organization for insuring the payment of the cost of health care services or the provision for automatic applicability of an alternative coverage in the event of discontinuance of plan;

(iv) any agreement which provides for the provision of health care services; and

(v) any surety bond or deposit of cash or securities submitted in accordance with Section 13 of this Act as a guarantee that the obligations will be duly performed;

(D) the enrollees will be afforded an opportunity to participate in matters of policy and operation pursuant to Section 7(b) of this Act;

(E) nothing in the proposed method of operation, as shown by the information submitted pursuant to Section 4 of this Act, or by independent investigation, is contrary to Texas law.

(c) If the board or the commissioner, or both, shall certify that the health maintenance organization's proposed plan of operation does not meet the requirements of this section, the commissioner shall not issue the certificate of authority. The commissioner shall notify the applicant that it is deficient, and shall specify in what respects it is deficient.

(d) A certificate of authority shall continue in force as long as the person to whom it is issued meets the requirements of this Act or until suspended or revoked by the commissioner or terminated at the request of the certificate holder. Any change in control, as defined by Article 21.49-1 of the Insurance Code of Texas, of the health maintenance organization, shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner.

(b)(1) The health maintenance organization shall file notice, with adequate supporting information, with the commissioner prior to the exercise of any power granted in Subdivision (1) or (2) of Subsection (a) of this section. The commissioner shall disapprove such exercise of powers which, in his or her opinion would substantially and adversely affect the financial soundness of the health maintenance organization and endanger its ability to meet its obligations. If the commissioner does not disapprove within 30 days of filing, it shall be deemed approved; provided that the commissioner may, by official order, postpone action for such further time, not exceeding 30 days, as may be considered necessary for proper consideration.

Otherwise, the health maintenance organization shall issue the evidence of coverage.

(2) No evidence of coverage, or amendment thereto, shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state until a copy of the form of evidence of coverage, or amendment thereto, has been filed with and approved by the commissioner.

(3) An evidence of coverage shall contain:

Art. 20A.14. Prohibited Practices

(a) No health maintenance organization, or representatives thereof, may cause or knowingly permit the use of advertising which is untrue or misleading, solicitation which is untrue or misleading, or any form of evidence of coverage which is deceptive. For the purposes of this Act:

(1) a statement or item of information shall be deemed to be untrue if it does not conform to fact in any respect which is or may be significant to an enrollee of, or person considering enrollment in, a health care plan;

(2) a statement or item of information shall be deemed to be misleading, whether or not it may be literally untrue, if, in the total context in which said statement is made or such item of information is communicated, such statement or items of information may be reasonably understood by a reasonable person, not possessing special knowledge, regarding health care coverage, as indicating any benefit or advantage or absence of any exclusion, limitation, or disadvantage of possible significance to an enrollee of or person considering enrollment in, a health care plan, if such benefit or advantage or absence of limitation, exclusion, or disadvantage does not in fact exist;

(3) an evidence of coverage shall be deemed to be deceptive if the evidence of coverage, taken as a whole, and with consideration given to typography and format, as well as language, shall be such as to cause a reasonable person, not possessing special knowledge regarding health care plans, and evidence of coverage therefor, to expect benefits, services, charges, or other advantages which the evidence of coverage does not provide or which the health care plan issuing such evidence of coverage does not regularly make available for enrollees covered under such evidence of coverage.

(b) Article 21.21, as amended, of the Insurance Code, shall be construed to apply to health maintenance organizations and health care plans and evidence of coverage, except to the extent that the commissioner determines that the nature of health maintenance organizations and health care plans and evidence of coverage renders such sections clearly inappropriate.

(c) An enrollee may not be cancelled or not renewed except for the failure to pay the charges for such coverage, or for such other reason as may be promulgated by rule of the commissioner.

(d) No health maintenance organization, unless licensed as an insurer, may use in its name, contracts, or literature, any of the words "insurance," "casualty," "surety," "mutual," or any other words descriptive of the insurance, casualty, or surety business or deceptively similar to the name or description of any insurance or surety corporation doing business in this state.

(e) No physician or health care provider or group of physicians or providers or health care facility or institution may exclude any other physician or provider from staff privileges, facilities, or institutions solely on the ground that such physician or provider is associated with a health maintenance organization issued a certificate of authority under this Act.

(f) Only those persons who comply with the provisions of this Act and are issued a certificate of authority by the commissioner may use the phrase "health maintenance organization" or "HMO" in the course of operation.

Sec. 1. (a) No person or corporation shall act as an agent of any (i) local mutual aid association, (ii) local mutual burial association, (iii) statewide mutual assessment corporation, (iv) stipulated premium company, (v) county mutual insurance company, (vi) casualty company writing accident and health insurance, or (vii) any other type of insurance carrier licensed to do business in the State of Texas and which insurance carrier's agents are required to be licensed under the provisions of Article 21.07, Texas Insurance Code, 1951, as amended, on the date that this Act shall become effective, unless he or it shall have first procured a license from the State Board of Insurance as in this Article 21.07, as amended hereby, is provided, and no such insurance carrier shall appoint any person or corporation to act as its agent unless such person or corporation shall have obtained a license under the provisions of this Article, and no such person or corporation who obtains a license shall engage in business as an agent until he or it shall have been appointed to act as an agent by some duly authorized insurance carrier designated by the provisions of this Article 21.07 and authorized to do business in the State of Texas. Any person or corporation desiring to act as an agent of any insurance carrier licensed to do business in the State of Texas and writing health and accident insurance may obtain a separate license as an agent to write health and accident insurance provided such person or corporation complies with the provisions of this Article and has been appointed to act as an agent by some duly authorized insurance carrier authorized to do health and accident insurance business in the State of Texas.

(b) No insurer or licensed insurance agent doing business in this State shall pay directly or indirectly any commission, or other valuable consideration, to any person or corporation for services as an insurance agent within this State, unless such person or corporation shall hold a currently valid license to act as an insurance agent as required by the laws of this State; nor shall any person or corporation other than a duly licensed insurance agent, accept any such commission or other valuable consideration; provided, however, that the provisions of this Section shall not prevent the payment or receipt of renewal or other deferred commissions to or by any person solely because such person or corporation has ceased to hold a license to act as an insurance agent.

Application for License; To Whom License May Be Issued

Sec. 2. (a) Hereafter, when any person or corporation shall desire to become a agent for a (i) local mutual aid association, (ii) a local mutual burial association, (iii) a statewide mutual assessment corporation, (iv) a stipulated premium company, (v) a county mutual insurance company, (vi) a casualty company writing accident and health insurance, or (vii) any other type of insurance carrier licensed to do business in the State of Texas and which insurance carrier's agents are required to be licensed under the provisions of Article 21.07, Texas Insurance Code, 1951, as amended, such person or corporation shall, in such form and giving such information as may be reasonably required, make application to the State Board of Insurance for a license to act as an agent. The application shall be accompanied by a certificate on forms to be prescribed and furnished by the State Board of Insurance and signed by an officer or properly authorized representative of the insurance carrier the applicant proposes to represent, stating that the insurance carrier has investigated the character and background of the applicant and is satisfied that he or its officers, directors, and shareholders are trustworthy and qualified to hold himself or the corporation out in good faith to the general public as an insurance agent, and that the insurance carrier desires that the applicant act as an insurance agent to represent it in this state.

(b) The Board shall issue a license to a corporation if the Board finds:

- (1) That the corporation is a Texas corporation organized or existing under the Texas Business Corporation Act having its principal place of business in the State of Texas and having as one of its purposes the authority to act as an agent covered by this Article;

(2) That every officer, director, and shareholder of the corporation is individually licensed under the provisions of this Article; and

(3) That such corporation will have the ability to pay any sums up to $25,000 which it might become legally obligated to pay on account of any claim made against it by any customer and caused by any negligent act, error, or omission of the corporation or any person for whose acts the corporation is legally liable in the conduct of its business under this Article. The term "customer" means any person, firm, or corporation to whom such corporation sells or attempts to sell a policy of insurance, or from whom such corporation accepts an application for insurance. Such ability shall be proven in one of the following ways:

(A) an errors and omissions policy insuring such corporation against errors and omissions in at least the sum of $50,000 with no more than a $2,500 deductible feature issued by an insurance company licensed to do business in the State of Texas or, if a policy cannot be obtained from a company licensed to do business in Texas, a policy issued by a company not licensed to do business in Texas on filing an affidavit with the State Board of Insurance stating the inability to obtain coverage and receiving the Board's approval;

(B) a bond executed by such corporation as principal and a surety company authorized to do business in this State, as surety, in the principal sum of $25,000, payable to the State Board of Insurance for the use and benefit of customers of such corporation, conditioned that such corporation shall pay any final judgment recovered against it by any customer; or

(C) a deposit of cash or securities of the class authorized by Articles 2.08 and 2.10, Insurance Code, as amended, having a fair market value of $25,000 with the State Treasurer. The State Treasurer is directed to accept and receive such deposit and hold it exclusively for the protection of any customer of such corporation recovering a final judgment against such corporation. Such deposit may be withdrawn only upon filing with the Board evidence satisfactory to it that the corporation has withdrawn from business and has no unsecured liabilities outstanding, or that such corporation has provided for the protection of its customers by furnishing an errors and omissions policy or a bond as provided. Securities so deposited may be exchanged from time to time for other qualified securities.

A binding commitment to issue such a policy or bond, or the tender of such securities, shall be sufficient in connection with any application for license.

Nothing contained herein shall be construed to permit any unlicensed employee or agent of any corporation to perform any act of an agent under this Article without obtaining a license.

If at any time, any corporation holding an agent's license does not maintain the qualifications necessary to obtain a license, the license of such corporation to act as an agent shall be cancelled or denied in accordance with the provisions of Sections 10 and 11 of this Article; provided, however, that should any person who is not a licensed agent under this Article acquire shares in such a corporation by devise or descent, he shall have a period of 90 days from date of acquisition within which to obtain a license or to dispose of the shares of a person licensed under this Article.

Should such an unlicensed person acquire shares in a corporation and not dispose of them within a period of 90 days to a licensed agent, then they must be purchased by the corporation for their book value, that is, the value of said shares of stock as reflected by the regular books and records of said corporation, as of the date of the acquisition of said shares by said unlicensed person. Should the corporation fail or refuse to so purchase such shares, its license shall be cancelled.

Any such corporation shall have the power to redeem the shares of any shareholder, or the shares of a deceased shareholder, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the board of directors and such shareholder or his personal representative, or at a price and upon such terms as may be provided in the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or an existing contract entered into between the shareholders of the corporation.

Each corporation licensed as an agent under this Article shall file, under oath, a list of the names and addresses of all of its officers, directors, and shareholders with its yearly application for renewal license.

Each corporation shall immediately notify the State Board of Insurance upon any change in its officers, directors, or shareholders.

No other corporation may own any interest in a corporation licensed under this Article, and each owner of an interest in a corporation licensed under this Article shall be a natural person who holds a valid license issued under this Article.

Issuance of License Under Certain Circumstances

Sec. 3. After the State Board of Insurance has determined that such applicant is of good character and trustworthy, the State Board of Insurance shall issue a license to such person or corporation in such form as it may prepare authorizing such applicant to write the types of insurance authorized by law to be issued by applicant's appointing insurance carrier, except that such applicant shall not be authorized to write health and accident insurance unless: (i) applicant, if not a corporation, shall have first passed a written examination as provided for in this Article 21.07, as amended, or (ii) applicant will act only as a ticket-selling agent of a public carrier with respect to accident life insurance covering risks of travel or as an agent selling credit life, health and accident insurance issued exclusively in connection with credit transactions, or (iii) applicant will write policies or riders to policies providing only lump sum cash benefits in the event of the accidental death, or death by accidental means, or dismemberment, or providing only ambulance expense benefits in the event of accident or sickness.

Examination of Applicant for License to Write Health and Accident Insurance

Sec. 4. (a) Each applicant for a license under the provisions of this Article 21.07, Texas Insurance Code, 1951, as amended, who desires to write health and accident insurance, other than as excepted in Section 3 of this Article 21.07, within this State shall submit to a personal written examination prescribed and administered in the English or Spanish language by the State Board of Insurance to determine his competency with respect to health and accident insurance and his familiarity with the pertinent provisions of the laws of the State of Texas relating to health and accident insurance, and shall pass the same to the satisfaction of the State Board of Insurance; except that no written examination shall be required of:

(i) An applicant for the renewal of a license issued by the State Board of Insurance pursuant to Article 21.07, Texas Insurance Code, 1951, as amended, which is currently in force at the effective date of this Act;

(ii) An applicant whose license expired less than one year prior to the date of application may, in the discretion of the State Board of Insurance, be issued a license without written examination, provided such prior license granted such applicant the right to sell health and accident insurance; or

(iii) An applicant that is a corporation.

(b)(i) The State Board of Insurance shall, within sixty (60) days from the effective date of this Act, establish reasonable rules and regulations with respect to the scope, type and conduct of such written examination and the times and places within this State where such examinations shall be held; applicants, shall, however, be permitted to take such examinations at least once in each week at the office of the State Board of Insurance. The rules and regulations of the State Board of Insurance shall designate text books, manuals and other materials to be studied by applicants in preparation for examination pursuant to this Section. Such text books, manuals and other materials may consist of matter available to applicants by purchase from the publisher or may consist of matter prepared at the direction of the State Board of Insurance and distributed to applicants upon request therefor and payment of the reasonable cost thereof. All examination questions shall be prepared from the contents of the text books, manuals and other materials designated or prepared by the State Board of Insurance pursuant to this Section and such questions shall be limited to and substantially similar to the questions relating to health and accident insurance contained in the written examination prescribed by the State Board of Insurance pursuant to Article 21.07-1 of this Insurance Code. The State Board of Insurance shall charge each applicant a fee of $10.00 for the privilege of taking such written examination and which fee shall not be returned under any circumstance other than for failure to appear and take the examination after the applicant has given at least 24 hours' notice of an emergency situation to the State Board of Insurance and received board approval. A new examination fee shall be paid for each and every examination.

of 4(b)(ii) to (e)]*

Failure of Applicant to Qualify for License

Sec. 5. If the State Board of Insurance is not satisfied that the applicant for a license is trustworthy and of good character, or, if applicable, that the applicant, if required to do so, has not passed the written examination to the satisfaction of the State Board of Insurance, the State Board of Insurance shall forthwith notify the applicant and the insurance carrier in writing that the license will not be issued to the applicant, and return to said agent the $25.00 fee for application for license and the $8.00 fee for appointment.

Agent May Be Licensed to Represent Additional Insurers

Sec. 6. Any agent licensed under this Article may represent and act as an agent for more than one insurance carrier at any time while his or its license is in force, if he or it so desires. Any such agent and the insurance carrier involved must give notice to the State Board of Insurance of any additional appointment or appointments authorizing him or it to act as agent for an additional insurance carrier or carriers. Such notice must set forth the insurance carrier or carriers which the agent is then licensed to represent, and shall be accompanied by a certificate from each insurance carrier to be named in each additional appointment, that said insurance carrier desires to appoint the applicant as its agent. This notice shall also contain such other information as the State Board of Insurance may require. The agent shall be required to pay a fee of $8.00 for each additional appointment applied for, which fee shall accompany the notice.

Expiration and Renewal of License

Sec. 7. (a) Each license issued to an agent shall expire two years following the date of issue, unless prior thereto it is suspended or revoked by the State Board of Insurance or the authority of the agent to act for the insurance carrier is terminated.

(b) Licenses which have not expired or which have not been suspended or revoked may be renewed upon request in writing of the agent.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (c)]

(d) The appointment or appointments given under any Section of this Article authorizing the agents to act as an agent for an insurance carrier shall continue in full force and effect without the necessity of renewal until terminated and withdrawn by the insurance carrier in accordance with Section 9 of this Article 21.07 or otherwise terminated in accordance with this Article 21.07, and each renewal license issued to the agent shall authorize him or it to represent and act for the insurance carriers for which he or it holds an appointment until the appointment is so terminated, and the agent shall prima facie be deemed, for the purpose of this Article 21.07, to be the agent of the appointing insurance carriers, provided that on or before April 1st of each and every calendar year, commencing on or before April 1, 1970, each such insurance carrier so appointing such agent shall file with the State Board of Insurance a certificate, upon forms promulgated by the State Board of Insurance, certifying that such insurance carrier desires to continue the appointment of such agent, and if such insurance carrier shall for any reason fail to file such certificate for any year as relates to such agent, it shall be deemed and considered for all purposes that such insurance carrier has terminated the appointment of such agent in like manner as if compliance had been made by such insurance carrier with Section 9 of this Article.

Denial, Refusal, Suspension or Revocation of Licenses

Sec. 10. (a) A license may be denied, or a license duly issued may be suspended or revoked or the renewal thereof refused by the State Board of Insurance if, after notice and hearing as hereafter provided, it finds that the applicant, individually or through any officer, director, or shareholder, for, or holder of, such license:

- (1) Has wilfully violated any provision of the insurance laws of this State; or
- (2) Has intentionally made a material misstatement in the application for such license; or
- (3) Has obtained, or attempted to obtain, such license by fraud or misrepresentation; or

(4) Has misappropriated or converted to his or its own use or illegally withheld money belonging to an insurance carrier or an insured or beneficiary; or

(5) Has otherwise demonstrated lack of trustworthiness or competence to act as an agent; or

(6) Has been guilty of fraudulent or dishonest practices; or

(7) Has materially misrepresented the terms and conditions of any insurance policy or contract; or

(8) Has made or issued, or caused to be made or issued, any statement misrepresenting or making incomplete comparisons regarding the terms or conditions of any insurance contract legally issued by any insurance carrier, for the purpose of inducing or attempting to induce the owner of such contract to forfeit or surrender such contract or allow it to lapse for the purpose of replacing such contract with another; or

(9) Is not of good character or reputation.

(b) Before any license shall be denied (except for failure to pass a required written examination), or suspended or revoked, or the renewal thereof refused hereunder, the Board shall give notice of its intention so to do, by registered mail, to the applicant for, or holder of, such license and the insurance carrier whom he or it represents or who desires that he or it be licensed, and shall set a date not less than twenty days from the date of mailing such notice when the applicant or licensee and a duly authorized representative of the insurance carrier may appear to be heard and produce evidence. In the conduct of such hearing, the Board or any regular salaried employee specially designated by it for such purpose shall have power to administer oaths, to require the appearance of and examine any person under oath, and to require the production of books, records or papers relevant to the inquiry upon its own initiative or upon the request of the applicant or licensee. Upon termination of such hearings, findings shall be reduced to writing and, upon approval by the Board, shall be filed in its office and notice of the findings sent by registered mail to the applicant or licensee and the insurance carrier concerned.

(c) No applicant or licensee whose license has been denied, refused or revoked hereunder (except for failure to pass a required written examination) shall be entitled to file another application for a license as an agent within one year from the effective date of such denial, refusal or revocation, or, if judicial review of such denial, refusal or revocation is sought, within one year from the date of final court order or decree affirming such action. Such application, when filed after one year, may be refused by the Board unless the applicant shows good cause why the denial, refusal or revocation of his or its license shall not be deemed a bar to the issuance of a new license.

Judicial Review of Acts of State Board of Insurance

Sec. 11. If the said Board shall refuse an application for any license provided for in this Article, or shall suspend, revoke or refuse to renew any such license or permit at said hearing, then any such applicant or accused may appeal from said order by filing suit against the State Board of Insurance as defendant in any of the District Courts of Travis County, Texas, or in any District Court in the county of the applicant's residence or principal place of business, and not elsewhere, within twenty (20) days from the date of the order of said State Board of Insurance.

Said action shall have precedence over all other causes of a different nature on the docket. The action shall not be limited to questions of law and shall be tried and determined upon a trial de novo to the same extent as now provided for in the case of an appeal from the justice court to the county court. Either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause, and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending. The State Board of Insurance shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder.

Penalty

Sec. 12. Any person or officer, director, or shareholder of a corporation required to be licensed by this Article who individually, or as an officer or employee of an insurance carrier, or other corporation, wilfully violates any of the provisions of this Article shall, in addition to any other penalty specifically provided, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be fined not more than $500.00 or imprisoned not more than six (6) months, or both, each such violation being a separate offense hereunder. In addition, if such offender or the corporation of which he is an officer, director, or shareholder holds a license as an agent, such license shall automatically expire upon such conviction.

(b) For those agents subject to licensing under the provisions of this Act, the license fee shall be Twenty-five Dollars ($25) and Eight Dollars ($8) for each appointment.

Acting for Unauthorized Companies Prohibited

Sec. 2. (a) No person or corporation shall, within this State, solicit, procure, receive, or forward applications for life insurance or annuities, or issue or deliver policies for, or in any manner secure, help, or aid in the placing of any contract of life insurance or annuity for any person other than himself, or itself, directly or indirectly, with any legal reserve life insurance company not authorized to do business in this State.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 2(b)]

Acting as Agent Without License Prohibited; No Commissions to Be Paid to Unlicensed Persons

Sec. 3. (a) No person or corporation shall act as a life insurance agent within this State until he or it shall have procured a license as required by the laws of this State.

(b) No insurer or licensed life insurance agent doing business in this State shall pay directly or indirectly any commission, or other valuable consideration, to any person or corporation for services as a life insurance agent within this State, unless such person or corporation shall hold a currently valid license to act as a life insurance agent as required by the laws of this State; nor shall any person or corporation, other than a duly licensed life insurance agent, accept any such commission or other valuable consideration; provided, however, that the provisions of this Section shall not prevent the payment or receipt of renewal or other deferred commissions to or by any person solely because such person or corporation has ceased to hold a license to act as a life insurance agent.

Application for License; To Whom License May Be Issued

Sec. 4. (a) Each applicant for a license to act as a life insurance agent within this State shall file with the Insurance Commissioner his or its written application on forms furnished by the Commissioner. The application shall be signed and duly sworn by the applicant. The prescribed form shall require the applicant to state his full name; residence; age; occupation and place of business for five years preceding date of the application; whether applicant has ever held a license to solicit life, or any other insurance in any State; whether he has been refused, or has had suspended or revoked a license to solicit life, or any other insurance in any State; what insurance experience, if any, he has had; what instruction in life insurance and in the insurance laws of this State he has had or expects to have; whether any insurer or general agent claims applicant is indebted under any agency contract, and if so, the name of the claimant, the nature of the claim and the applicant's defense thereto; whether applicant has had an agency contract cancelled and, if so, when, by what company or general agent and the reasons therefor; whether applicant will devote all or part of his efforts to acting as a life insurance agent, and, if part only, how much time he will devote to such work, and in what other business or businesses he is engaged or employed; whether, if applicant is a married woman, her husband has ever applied for or held a license to solicit life, or any other insurance in any State and whether such license has been refused, suspended, or revoked; and such other information pertinent to the licensing of such agent as the Insurance Commissioner in his discretion may prescribe. It is not intended that the Insurance Commissioner shall be authorized to deny a license to an applicant on the sole ground that he will act only part time as a life insurance agent.

(b) The application shall be accompanied by a certificate on forms furnished by the Insurance Commissioner and signed by an officer or properly authorized representative of the legal reserve life insurance company he or it proposes to represent, stating that the insurer has investigated the character and background of the applicant and is satisfied that he or the officers, directors, and shareholders of the corporation are trustworthy and qualified to hold himself or itself out in good faith to the general public as a life insurance agent, that the applicant has completed the educational requirements as provided in sub-section (e), Section 4 of this Act, and that the insurer desires that the applicant be licensed as a life insurance agent to represent it in this State.

(c) The application, when filed, shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the amount of $25.00 and, in the case of applicants required to take an examination administered by the Commissioner of Insurance as hereafter prescribed, by an examination fee in the amount of $10.00. In the event an applicant fails to qualify for, or is refused a license, the filing fee shall be returned; the examination fee shall not be returned for any reason other than for failure to appear and take the examination after the applicant has given at least 24 hours' notice of an emergency situation to the Commissioner of Insurance and received the commissioner's approval. A new examination fee shall be paid for each and every examination.

(d) The Insurance Commissioner shall issue a license to a corporation if he finds:

(1) That the corporation is a Texas corporation organized or existing under the Texas Business Corporation Act or the Texas Professional Corporation Act¹ having its principal place of business in the State of Texas and having as one of its purposes the authority to act as agent under this Act;

(2) That every officer, director, and shareholder of the corporation is individually licensed as an agent under the provisions of this Act; and

(3) That such corporation will have the ability to pay any sums up to $25,000.00 which it might become legally obligated to pay on account of any claim made against it by any customer and caused by any negligent act, error, or omission of the corporation or any person for whose acts the corporation is legally liable in the conduct of its business as under this Act. The term "customer" as used herein shall mean any person, firm, or corporation to whom such corporation sells or attempts to sell a policy of insurance or from whom such corporation accepts an application for insurance. Such ability shall be proven in one of the following ways:

(A) An errors and omissions policy insuring such corporation against errors and omissions in at least the sum of $50,000.00, with no more than a $2,500.00 deductible feature issued by an insurance company licensed to do business in the State of Texas or, if a policy cannot be obtained from a company licensed to do business in Texas, a policy issued by a company not licensed to do business in Texas on filing an affidavit with the State Board of Insurance stating the inability to obtain coverage and receiving the Board's approval; or

(B) A bond executed by such corporation as principal and a surety company authorized to do business in this State, as surety, in the principal sum of $25,000.00, payable to the State Board of Insurance for the use and benefit of customers of such corporation, conditioned that such corporation shall pay any final judgment recovered against it by any customer; or

(C) A deposit of cash or securities of the class authorized by Articles 2.08 and 2.10 of the Insurance Code, having a fair market value of $25,000.00 with the State Treasurer. The State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to accept and receive such deposit and hold it exclusively for the protection of any customer of such corporation recovering a final judgment against such corporation. Such deposit may be withdrawn only upon filing with the Insurance Commissioner evidence satisfactory to it that the corporation has withdrawn from business and has no unsecured liabilities outstanding, or that such corporation has provided for the protection of its customers by furnishing an errors and omissions policy or a bond as hereinbefore provided. Securities so deposited may be exchanged from time to time for other qualified securities.

A binding commitment to issue such a policy or bond, or the tender of such securities, shall be sufficient in connection with any application for license.

Nothing contained herein shall be construed to permit any unlicensed employee or agent of any corporation to perform any act of an agent under this Act without obtaining a license.

If at any time, any corporation holding a license under this Act does not maintain the qualifications necessary to obtain a license, the license of such corporation to act as an agent shall be cancelled or denied in accordance with the provisions of Sections 12 and 13 of this Act; provided, however, that should any person who is not an agent licensed under this Act acquire shares in such a corporation by devise or descent, they shall have a period of 90 days from date of acquisition within which to obtain a license as an agent or to dispose of the shares to an agent licensed under this Act.

Should such an unlicensed person acquire shares in such a corporation and not dispose of them within said period of 90 days to a licensed agent, then they must be purchased by the corporation for their book value, that is, the value of said shares of stock as reflected by the regular books and records of said corporation as of the date of the acquisition of said shares by said unlicensed person. Should the corporation fail or refuse to so purchase such shares, its license shall be cancelled.

Any such corporation shall have the power to redeem the shares of any shareholder, or the shares of a deceased shareholder, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the board of directors and such shareholder or his personal representative, or at such price and upon such terms as may be provided in the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or an existing contract entered into between the shareholders of the corporation.

Each corporation licensed as an agent under this Act shall file, under oath, a list of the names and addresses of all of its officers, directors, and shareholders with its yearly application for renewal license.

Each corporation licensed as an agent under this Act shall immediately notify the State Board of Insurance upon any change in its officers, directors, or shareholders.

No other corporation may own any interest in a corporation licensed under this Act, and each owner of an interest in a corporation licensed under this Act shall be a natural person who holds a valid license issued under this Act.

No association, partnership, or any legal entity of any nature, other than an individual person or corporation, may be licensed as a life insurance agent.

(e) Each applicant, prior to sitting for the written examination as provided for in Section 5 of this Act, shall complete, under the supervision of such sponsoring insurer, an educational program that shall include:

(1) such texts as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Insurance on the recommendation of the Advisory Board as provided in Subsection (c) of Section 5 of this Act; and

(2) materials that will provide the applicant with the basic knowledge of:

(A) the broad principles of insurance, licensing, and regulatory laws of this State; and

(B) the obligations and duties of a life insurance agent.

(a) Each applicant for a license to act as a life insurance agent within this State shall submit to a personal written examination administered in the English or Spanish language, and as shall be prescribed by the State Board of Insurance, to determine his competence with respect to insurance and annuity contracts and his familiarity with the pertinent provisions of the laws of this State, and shall pass the same to the satisfaction of the State Board of Insurance; except that no such written examination shall be required of:

(1) An applicant for the renewal of a license issued by the State Board of Insurance pursuant to Article 21.07, Texas Insurance Code, 1951, which is currently in force at the time of the effective date of this Act;

(2) An applicant whose license as a life insurance agent expired less than one year prior to the date of application may, in the discretion of the State Board of Insurance, be issued a license without written examination;

(3) A person who holds the designation Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU);

(4) An applicant that is a corporation.

(b) The Commissioner shall establish rules and regulations with respect to the scope, type and conduct of such written examinations and the times and places within this State where they shall be held; provided, that applicants shall be permitted to take such examinations at least once in each week at the office of the Commissioner, and at least once in each month in the county court house of the residence of the applicant. The rules and regulations of the Commissioner shall designate text books, manuals and other materials to be studied by applicants in preparation for examinations pursuant to this Section. Such text books, manuals or other materials may consist of matter available to applicants by purchase from the publisher or may consist of matter prepared at the direction of the Commissioner and distributed to applicants upon request therefor and payment of the reasonable cost thereof. All examination questions shall be prepared from the contents of the text books, manuals and other materials designated or prepared by the Commissioner pursuant to this Section.

(c) The Commissioner shall appoint an Advisory Board consisting of eight persons of whom two shall be holders of licenses issued under this Article, two shall be employed by and familiar with the operations of legal reserve life insurance companies, two shall be general agents and managers, and two shall be citizens of the State of Texas who are neither agents, general managers, nor employees of legal reserve life insurance companies, which shall make recommendations to him with respect to the scope, type, and conduct of written examinations and the times and places within the State where they shall be held. This Advisory Board shall make such recommendations not less frequently than once every four years. The members of the Advisory Board shall serve without pay but shall be reimbursed for their reasonable expenses in attending meetings of the Advisory Board.

(d) An applicant other than a corporation for a license to act as a combination life insurance agent for a combination company, or as an industrial life agent for an industrial company, may, in lieu of taking and passing to the satisfaction of the Insurance Commissioner a personal written examination as provided in Sub-section (a) of this Section 5, submit to a personal written examination given by the combination or industrial insurer for which he is to be licensed, subject to the following definitions and conditions:

(2) Any combination or industrial insurer desiring to qualify to administer the examination to its agents shall file with the Commissioner a complete outline and explanation of the course of study and instruction to be given such applicants and the nature and manner of conducting the examinations of applicants and, after official approval thereof by the Commissioner, may administer such examinations.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 5(d)(3)]

(4) It shall be the duty of the Commissioner to investigate the manner and method of instruction and examination of each combination and industrial insurer as often as deemed necessary by the Commissioner and the Commissioner may, in his discretion, withdraw from any insurer the privilege of examining agents in lieu of the examination administered by the Commissioner pursuant to Sub-section (a) of this Section 5.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 5(d)(5), 6 and 7]

Agent May Be Licensed to Represent Additional Insurers

Sec. 8. (a) Any life insurance agent licensed in this state may represent and act as a life insurance agent for more than one legal reserve life insurance company at any time while his or its license is in force, if he or it so desires. Any such life insurance agent and the company involved must give notice to the Commissioner of Insurance of any additional appointment or appointments authorizing him or it to act as a life insurance agent for an additional legal reserve life insurance company or companies.

Such notice must set forth the insurer or insurers which the agent is then licensed to represent, and shall be accompanied by a certificate from each insurer to be named in each additional appointment, that said insurer desires to appoint the applicant as its agent. This notice shall also contain such other information as the Commissioner may require. The agent shall be required to pay a fee of $8.00 for each additional appointment applied for, which fee shall accompany the notice. Any insurer may file a request with the Insurance Commissioner for notification in the event any agent licensed to represent such insurer has given the Commissioner of Insurance notice of an additional appointment to represent another insurer; and in such event the Commissioner shall notify the insurer filing such request.

(b) Any life insurance agent licensed in this state may place excess or rejected risks with any legal reserve life insurance company lawfully doing business in this state other than an insurer such agent is licensed to represent; provided, however, that such life insurance agent shall procure an additional appointment to represent such other insurer before receiving commissions or other compensation for his or its services.

Expiration and Renewal of License

Sec. 9. (a) Each license issued to a life insurance agent shall expire two years following the date of issue, unless prior thereto it is suspended or revoked by the Insurance Commissioner or the authority of the agent to act for the insurer is terminated.

(b) Licenses which have not expired or which have not been suspended or revoked, may be renewed upon request in writing of the agent.

(c) Each request for renewal of license shall show whether the agent devotes all or part of his or its efforts to acting as a life insurance agent, and if part only, how much time he or it devotes to such work.

(d) Upon the filing of a request for renewal of license, and payment of a renewal fee of $25.00 for such license, prior to the date of expiration, the current license shall continue in force until the renewal license is issued by the Commissioner or until the Commissioner has refused, for cause, to issue such renewal license, as provided in Section 12, of this Act, and has given notice of such refusal in writing to the insurer and the agent.

(e) The appointment or appointments given under Section 4 or Section 8 of this Act authorizing the agents to act as a life insurance agent for a legal reserve life insurance company or companies, shall continue in full force and effect, without the necessity of renewal, until terminated and withdrawn by the companies in accordance with Section 11 of this Act, or otherwise terminated in accordance with this Act, and each renewal license issued to the agent shall authorize him or it to represent and act for the companies for which he or it holds an appointment until the appointment is so terminated, and the agent shall prima facie be deemed, for the purpose of this Article, to be the agent of the appointing companies, provided that on or before April 1st of each and every calendar year, commencing on or before April 1, 1968, each such company so appointing such life insurance agent shall file with the Commissioner a certificate, upon forms promulgated by the Commissioner, certifying that such legal reserve life insurance company desires to continue the appointment of such life insurance agent, and if such company shall for any reason fail to file such certificate for any year as relates to such agent, it shall be deemed and considered for all purposes that such company has terminated the appointment of such life insurance agent in like manner as if compliance has been made by such company with Section 11 of this Act.

Temporary License

Sec. 10. The Life Insurance Commissioner, if he is satisfied with the honesty and trustworthiness of the applicant, may issue a temporary life insurance agent's license, effective for ninety days, without requiring the applicant to pass a written examination, as follows:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 10(a) to (b)(3)]

(4) that such person will complete, under such insurer's supervision, at least forty hours of training as prescribed by sub-section (c) of Section 10 of this Act within fourteen days from the date on which the application and certificate were delivered or mailed to the Commissioner.

(5) The Commissioner shall have the authority to cancel, suspend, or revoke the temporary appointment powers of any life insurance company, if, after notice and hearing, he finds that such company has abused such temporary appointment powers. In considering such abuse, the Commissioner may consider, but is not limited to, the number of temporary appointments made by a company, the percentage of appointees sitting for the examination as life insurance agents under this Article as it may be in violation of sub-section (d) of this Section, and the number of appointees successfully passing said examination. Appeals from the Commissioner's decision shall be made in accordance with Section 13 hereof.

(c) At least forty hours of training must be administered to any applicant for a temporary license as herein defined within fourteen days from the date on which the application and certificate were delivered or mailed to the Commissioner. Such training program shall be constructed so as to provide an applicant with the basic knowledge of:

- (1) the broad principles of insurance, licensing, and regulatory laws of this State; and
- (2) the obligations and duties of a life insurance agent.

The Commissioner of Insurance may, in his discretion, require that such training program shall be filed with the State Board of Insurance for approval in the event he finds an abuse of temporary appointment powers under sub-section (b)(5) of this Section.

(d) Each insurer is responsible for requiring at least 70 percent of such insurer's applicants for temporary licenses during a fiscal year to sit for the examination as defined in Section 5 of this Act.

Denial, Refusal, Suspension, or Revocation of Licenses

Sec. 12. (a) A license may be denied, or a license duly issued may be suspended or revoked or the renewal thereof refused by the Insurance Commissioner if, after notice and hearing as hereafter provided, he finds that the applicant, individually or through any officer, director, or shareholder, for, or holder of such license:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 12(a)(1) to (3)]

(4) Has misappropriated or converted to his or its own use or illegally withheld money belonging to an insurer or an insured or beneficiary; or

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 12(a)(5) to (8)]

(9) Has obtained, or attempted to obtain such license, not for the purpose of holding himself or itself out to the general public as a life insurance agent, but primarily for the purpose of soliciting, negotiating or procuring life insurance or annuity contracts covering himself or itself or members of his family or his or its business associates; or

(b) Before any license shall be denied (except for failure to pass a required written examination), or suspended or revoked, or the renewal thereof refused hereunder, the Insurance Commissioner shall give notice of his intention so to do, by registered mail, to the applicant for, or holder of such license and the insurer whom he or it represents or who desires that he or it be licensed, and shall set a date not less than twenty days from the date of mailing such notice when the applicant or licensee and a duly authorized representative of the insurer may appear to be heard and produce evidence. In the conduct of such hearing, the Commissioner or any regular salaried employee specially designated by him for such purpose shall have power to administer oaths, to require the appearance of and examine any person under oath, and to require the production of books, records or papers relevant to the inquiry upon his own initiative or upon the request of the applicant or licensee. Upon termination of such hearing, findings shall be reduced to writing and, upon approval by the Commissioner, shall be filed in his office and notice of the findings sent by registered mail to the applicant or licensee and the insurer concerned.

(c) No applicant or licensee whose license has been denied, refused or revoked hereunder (except for failure to pass a required written examination) shall be entitled to file another application for a license as a life insurance agent within one year from the effective date of such denial, refusal or revocation, or, if judicial review of such denial, refusal or revocation is sought, within one year from the date of final court order or decree affirming such action. Such application, when filed after one year, may be refused by the Commissioner unless the applicant shows good cause why the denial, refusal or revocation of his or its license shall not be deemed a bar to the issuance of a new license.

Judicial Review of Acts of Commissioner

Sec. 13. If the said Insurance Commissioner shall refuse an application for any license provided for in this Act, or shall suspend, revoke or refuse to renew any such license or permit at said hearing, then any such applicant or accused may appeal from said order by filing suit against the Insurance Commissioner as defendant in any of the District Courts of Travis County, Texas, or in any District Court in the county of the applicant's residence or principal place of business, and not elsewhere, within twenty (20) days from the date of the order of said Insurance Commissioner.

Said action shall have precedence over all other causes of a different nature on the docket. The action shall not be limited to questions of law and shall be tried and determined upon a trial de novo to the same extent as now provided for in the case of an appeal from the justice court to the county court. Either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause, and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending. The Board shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder.

Penalty

Sec. 14. Any person or officer, director, or shareholder of a corporation required to be licensed by this Act who individually, or as an officer or employee of a legal reserve life insurance company, or other corporation, violates any of the provisions of this Act shall, in addition to any other penalty specifically provided, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be fined not more than $500.00 or imprisoned not more than six months, or both, each such violation being a separate offense hereunder. In addition, if such offender or corporation of which he is an officer, director, or shareholder holds a license as a life insurance agent, such license shall automatically expire upon such conviction.

Art. 21.09. Resident Agents, Companies Excepted

Any fire, fire and marine, marine, tornado, rent, accident, casualty, liability, health, elevator, disability, plate glass, burglary, bonding, title, surety, or fidelity insurance company, legally authorized to do business in this State is hereby prohibited from authorizing or allowing any person, agent, firm or corporation that is a nonresident of the State of Texas to issue, or cause to be issued, to sign or countersign, or to deliver, or cause to be delivered, any policy or policies of insurance on property, person or persons located in this State, except through regularly licensed local recording agents of such companies in Texas. By the term "Local Recording Agent" is meant a person or firm engaged in soliciting and writing insurance, being authorized by an insurance company or insurance carrier including Fidelity and Surety Companies to solicit business and to write, sign, execute and deliver policies of insurance and to bind companies on insurance risks, and who maintains an office and a record of such business and the transactions which are involved, who collects premiums on such business and otherwise performs the customary duties of a local recording agent representing an insurance carrier in its relation with the public.

This law shall not apply to property owned by the railroad companies or other common carriers. Upon oath made in writing by any person that he can not procure insurance on property through such agents in Texas it shall be lawful for any insurance company not having an agent in Texas to insure property of any person upon application of said person, upon his filing said oath with the county clerk of the county in which such person resides, and with the Board of Insurance Commissioners.

Countersigning may be effected manually or by stamp or by any other method of printing, if authorized by the agent in writing.

This Article shall not apply to insurance companies whose general plan of operation does not contemplate the use of local recording agents, and such companies may issue policies signed by any of their other resident licensed agents.

This Article shall not apply to bid bonds issued by any surety company authorized to do business in the State of Texas in connection with any public or private contract.

Art. 21.14. Licensing of Local Recording Agents and Solicitors; Life, Health and Accident Insurance Excepted; Other Exceptions

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1 and 2]

Application for License; To Whom License May Be Issued

Sec. 3. (a) When any person, partnership or corporation shall desire to engage in business as a local recording agent for an insurance company, or insurance carrier, he or it shall make application for a license to the State Board of Insurance, in such form as the Board may require. Such application shall bear a signed endorsement by a general, state or special agent of a qualified insurance company, or insurance carrier that applicant or each member of the partnership or each stockholder of the corporation is a resident of Texas, trustworthy, of good character and good reputation, and is worthy of a license.

(b) The Board shall issue licenses to individuals or to individuals engaging as partners in the insurance business, provided the names of all persons interested in any such partnership are named in the license, and each named as active in the business of the partnership qualify, and it be established that none not active have interest in the partnership principally to have written and be compensated therefor for insurance on property controlled through ownership, mortgage or sale, family relationship, or employment; and provided further, that all licensed agents must be residents of Texas. Provided, that a person who may reside in a town through which the state line may run and whose residence is in the town in the adjoining state may be licensed, if his business office is being maintained in this state. All persons acting as agent or solicitor for health and accident insurance within the provisions hereof, and who represent only fire and casualty companies, and not life insurance companies, shall be required to procure only one license, and such license as is required under the provisions of this article.

(c) The Board shall issue a license to a corporation if the Board finds:

(1) That the corporation is a Texas corporation organized or existing under the Texas Business Corporation Act or the Texas Professional Corporation Act¹ having its principal place of business in the State of Texas and having as one of its purposes the authority to act as a local recording agent; and

(2) That every officer, director and shareholder of the corporation is individually licensed as a local recording agent under the provisions of this Insurance Code, except as may be otherwise permitted by this Section or Section 3a of this article; and

(3) That such corporation will have the ability to pay any sums up to Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) which it might become legally obligated to pay on account of any claim made against it by any customer and caused by any negligent act, error or omission of the corporation or any person for whose acts the corporation is legally liable in the conduct of its business as a local recording agent. The term "customer" as used herein shall mean any person, firm or corporation to whom such corporation sells or attempts to sell a policy of insurance, or from whom such corporation accepts an application for insurance. Such ability shall be proven in one of the following ways:

(a) An errors and omissions policy issued by an insurance company licensed to do business in the State of Texas insuring such corporation against errors and omissions in at least the sum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00), with no more than a Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) deductible feature; or

(b) A bond executed by such corporation as principal and a surety company authorized to do business in this state, as surety, in the principal sum of Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00), payable to the State Board of Insurance for the use and benefit of customers of such corporation, conditioned that such corporation shall pay any final judgment recovered against it by any customer; or

(c) A deposit of cash or securities of the class authorized by Articles 2.08 and 2.10 of this Code, having a fair market value of Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) with the State Treasurer. The State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to accept and receive such deposit and hold it exclusively for the protection of any customer of such corporation recovering a final judgment against such corporation. Such deposit may be withdrawn only upon filing with the Board evidence satisfactory to it that the corporation has withdrawn from business, and has no unsecured liabilities outstanding, or that such corporation has provided for the protection of its customers by furnishing an errors and omissions policy or a bond as hereinbefore provided. Securities so deposited may be exchanged from time to time for other qualified securities.

A binding commitment to issue such a policy or bond, or the tender of such securities, shall be sufficient in connection with any application for license.

Nothing contained herein shall be construed to permit any unlicensed employee or agent of any corporation to perform any act of a local recording agent without obtaining a local recording agent's license. The Board shall not require a corporation to take the examination provided in Section 6 of this Article 21.14.

If at any time, any corporation holding a local recording agent's license does not maintain the qualifications necessary to obtain a license, the license of such corporation to act as a local recording agent shall be cancelled or denied in accordance with the provisions of Sections 16, 17 and 18 of this Article 21.14; provided, however, that should any person who is not a licensed local recording agent acquire shares in such a corporation by devise or descent, they shall have a period of ninety (90) days from date of acquisition within which to obtain a license as a local recording agent or to dispose of the shares to a licensed local recording agent except as may be permitted by Section 3a of this article.

Should such an unlicensed person, except as may be permitted by Section 3a of this article, acquire shares in such a corporation and not dispose of them within said period of ninety (90) days to a licensed local recording agent, then they must be purchased by the corporation for their book value, that is, the value of said shares of stock as reflected by the regular books and records of said corporation, as of the date of the acquisition of said shares by said unlicensed person. Should the corporation fail or refuse to so purchase such shares, its license shall be cancelled.

Any such corporation shall have the power to redeem the shares of any shareholder, or the shares of a deceased shareholder, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the Board of Directors and such shareholder or his personal representative, or at such price and upon such terms as may be provided in the Articles of Incorporation, the Bylaws, or an existing contract entered into between the shareholders of the corporation.

Each corporation licensed as a local recording agent shall file, under oath, a list of the names and addresses of all of its officers, directors and shareholders with its yearly application for renewal license.

Each corporation licensed as a local recording agent shall immediately notify the State Board of Insurance upon any change in its officers, directors or shareholders.

The term "firm" as it applies to local recording agents in Sections 2, 12 and 16 of this Article 21.14 shall be construed to include corporations.

Persons Other Than Licensed Local Recording Agents Who May Share in Profits of Local Recording Agent

Sec. 3a. (1) Upon the death of a duly licensed local recording agent who is a member of an agency partnership, the surviving spouse and children, if any, of such deceased partner, or a trust for such surviving spouse and children, may share in the profits of such agency partnership during the lifetime of such surviving spouse or such children, as the case may be, if and as provided by a written partnership agreement, or in the absence of any written agreement, if and as agreed by the surviving partner or partners and the surviving spouse, the trustee, and the legal representative of the surviving child or children. Such surviving spouse and any such surviving children or trusts shall not be required to qualify as local recording agents to participate in such profits, but shall not do or perform any act of a local recording agent on behalf of such partnership without having qualified as a local recording agent; provided, however, that a duly licensed local recording agent who is a member of an agency partnership may, with the approval of the other members of the partnership, transfer an interest in the agency partnership to his children or a trust for same, and may operate such interest for their use and benefit; and such children or trusts may share in the profits of such agency partnership. Such child or children or trusts shall not be required to qualify as a local recording agent to participate in such profits, but shall not do or perform any act of a local recording agent on behalf of such partnership without having qualified as a local recording agent.

(2) Upon the death of a duly licensed local recording agent, who is a sole proprietorship, unless otherwise provided by the last will of such deceased agent, the surviving spouse and children, if any, of such deceased agent, or a trust for such spouse or children, may share in the profits of the continuance of the agency business of said deceased agent, provided such agency business is continued by a duly licensed local recording agent. Said surviving spouse, trusts or children, may participate in such profits during the lifetime of such surviving spouse and said children. Said surviving spouse, trusts or children shall not be required to qualify as local recording agents in order to participate in the profits of such agency, but shall not do or perform any act of a local recording agent in connection with the continuance of such agency business without first having been duly licensed as a local recording agent; provided, however, that a duly licensed local recording agent who is a sole proprietorship may transfer an interest in his agency to his children, or a trust for same, and may operate such interest for their use and benefit; and such children may share in the profits of such local recording agency during their lifetime, and during such time shall not be required to qualify as a local recording agent in order to participate in such profits, but shall not do or perform any act of a local recording agent in connection with such agency business without first having been duly licensed as a local recording agent.

(3) Upon the death of a shareholder in a corporate licensed local recording agency, the surviving spouse and children, if any, of such deceased shareholder, or a trust for such surviving spouse and children, may share in the profits of such corporate agency during the lifetime of such surviving spouse or children, as the case may be, if and as provided by a contract entered into by and between all of the shareholders and the corporation. Any such surviving spouse, surviving children, or trusts shall not be required to individually qualify as a local recording agent in order to participate in such profits, but shall not do or perform any act of a local recording agency on behalf of such corporation without having qualified as a local recording agent; provided, however, that a shareholder in a corporate licensed local recording agent, may, if provided by a contract entered into by and between all of the shareholders and the corporation, transfer an interest in the agency to his children or a trust for same, and such children or trusts may share in the profits of such agency to the extent of such interest during their lifetime. Such children or trusts shall not be required to qualify as a local recording agent to participate in such profits, but shall not do or perform any act of a local recording agent on behalf of such corporation without having qualified as a local recording agent.

(4) Except as provided in Subsections (1), (2), and (3) above, and as may be provided in Section 6a, Article 21.14 of the Insurance Code, no person shall be entitled to perform any act of a local recording agent nor in any way participate as a partner or corporate shareholder in the profits of any local recording agent, without first having qualified as a duly licensed local recording agent and having successfully passed the examination required by the Insurance Code; provided, however, that all persons, or trusts for any person, that received licenses before March 1, 1963, as silent, inactive, or non-active partners, or who are silent, inactive, or non-active partners in an agency which was so qualified before such date, shall continue to receive licenses, or renewals thereof, as partners in such agency or in any successor agency, providing: (a) that such persons are members of an agency in which there is at least one partner who has qualified as a duly licensed local recording agent; (b) that such non-active partner or partners do not actively solicit insurance; and (c) that such agency is not a limited partnership.

Death, Disability or Insolvency; Emergency License Without Examination

Sec. 6a. In event of death or disability of a local recording agent or in event a local recording agent is found to be insolvent and unable to pay for premiums coming to his hands as such local recording agent, the Board may issue to an applicant for local recording agent's license an emergency local recording agent's license for a period of ninety (90) days in any twelve (12) consecutive months and at the Board's option, an additional period up to ninety (90) days without an examination provided the other requirements of this article are met and if it is established to the satisfaction of the Board that such emergency license is necessary for the preservation of the agency assets of a deceased or disabled local recording agent or of an insolvent local recording agent.

Conduct of Examinations; Notice; Manual of Questions and Answers

Sec. 7. All examinations provided by this article shall be conducted by the State Board of Insurance, and shall be held not less frequently than one each sixty (60) days every year at times and places prescribed by the State Board of Insurance, of which applicants shall be notified by the State Board of Insurance in writing, ten (10) days prior to the date of such examinations, and shall be conducted in writing in either the English or Spanish language, except that the applicant upon notice to the State Board of Insurance shall be entitled to be examined in the county seat of the county of his residence. Provided, further, that printed copies of a manual of questions and answers thereto pertaining to the examination published under the direction of the State Board of Insurance shall be made available to all companies, general agents, and managers for the use of their prospective agents, to all agents for the use of their prospective solicitors in preparing for such examination. The questions to be asked on such examination shall be based upon the questions and answers contained in the manual.

Expiration of License; Renewal

Sec. 8. Every license issued to a local recording agent shall expire two years from the date of its issue, unless an application to qualify for the renewal of any such license shall be filed with the Board of Insurance Commissioners and fee paid on or before such date, in which event the license sought to be renewed shall continue in full force and effect until renewed or renewal is denied. Every license issued to a solicitor for a local recording agent shall expire on the same date that the license of the local recording agent expires, unless an application to qualify for the renewal of the local recording agent's license and the solicitor's license shall be filed with the Board of Insurance Commissioners and fee paid on or before such date, in which event the solicitor's license sought to be renewed shall continue in full force and effect until renewed or renewal is denied.

Fees Payable Before Examination

Sec. 9. Applicants required to be examined shall, at time and place of examination, pay prior to being examined the following fees: For a local recording agent's license a fee of Twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and for a solicitor's license a fee of Ten Dollars ($10.00). The fees paid under this section shall not be returned for any reason other than failure to appear and take the examination after the applicant has given at least 24 hours' notice of an emergency situation to the State Board of Insurance and received board approval. A new fee shall be paid before each and every examination.

Renewal Fees

Sec. 10. An applicant for the renewal of a local recording agent's license shall pay, at the time the renewal application is filed, a fee of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00). An applicant for the renewal of a solicitor's license shall pay, at the time the renewal application is filed, a fee of Ten Dollars ($10.00).

Purchase of Outstanding Stock: Conditions and Limitations

Sec. 7. One life insurance corporation may purchase or contract to purchase all or part of the outstanding stock of another life insurance corporation for purposes of merger or consolidation. The provisions contained in Article 3.39 of the Insurance Code which limit investments in the corporate stock of another corporation shall not apply provided that such purchase or contract to purchase shall be subject to the following conditions or limitations:

(b) The purchasing corporation shall either (1) initially purchase or contract to purchase at least the number of shares of the stock of the other insurance corporation necessary to vote an approval of such merger or consolidation under the laws of the state in which such other insurance corporation was organized, (2) offer to purchase, make a tender offer for, request or invite tenders of, or otherwise seek to acquire, in the open market or otherwise, at least the number of shares of the stock of the other insurance corporation necessary to vote an approval of such merger or consolidation under the laws of the state in which such other corporation was organized, or (3) by any combination of the provisions of (1) and (2) hereof, obtain or seek to obtain the number of shares of stock of the other insurance corporation necessary to vote an approval of such merger or consolidation under the laws of the state in which such other insurance corporation was organized; and

(f) If the merger or consolidation fails to become effective within such time as may be finally determined and extended by the commissioner, the purchasing corporation must sell or otherwise dispose of such purchased shares which are in excess of the investment limitations of Article 3.39 of this code within six months of such final effective date; and

(g) In no event shall any sums actually paid out by the purchasing corporation for the purchase of stock acquired or obtained hereunder include the minimum capital, minimum surplus, and policy reserves required by law for such corporation.

Art. 21.26. Purchase of Stock for Total Assumption Reinsurance

Sec. 1. Nothing in this Act or in the Insurance Code shall be construed as in any way affecting or limiting the right of a life insurance corporation organized or operating under Chapter Three (3) or Chapter Eleven (11) of the Insurance Code of the State of Texas to purchase or to contract to purchase all or part of the outstanding shares of another life insurance corporation, domestic or foreign, doing a similar line of business for the purpose of reinsuring all of the business of such other insurance corporation and assuming all of the liabilities and taking over all of the assets of such other corporation. The provisions contained in Article 3.39 of the Insurance Code limiting investments in the purchase of the corporate shares of another corporation shall not apply to such purchase or contract to purchase provided that:

(b) The reinsuring corporation shall either (1) initially purchase or contract to purchase the number of shares of the stock of the other insurance corporation necessary to vote an approval of a total assumption reinsurance agreement under the laws of the state in which such other insurance corporation was organized, (2) offer to purchase, make a tender offer for, request or invite tenders of, or otherwise seek to acquire, in the open market at least the number of shares of the stock of the other insurance corporation necessary to vote an approval of such reinsurance agreement under the laws of the state in which such other corporation was organized, or (3) by any combination of the provisions of (1) and (2) hereof, obtain or seek to obtain the number of shares of stock of the other insurance corporation necessary to vote an approval of such reinsurance agreement under the laws of the state in which such other insurance corporation was organized; and

(c) No such purchase of stock, offer to purchase, tender offer, request or invitation to purchase stock in excess of the limits of Article 3.39 of the Insurance Code may be made until such proposed purchase, offer to purchase, tender offer, request or invitation to purchase has been filed with and approved by the commissioner in accordance with the provisions of Article 21.49-1 of this code; and

(d) Following the date of the contract to purchase such shares or the date of the commissioner's approval of such purchase, offer to purchase, tender offer, request or invitation to purchase such stock, whichever shall first occur, the corporation whose stock is being purchased shall not purchase or contract to purchase any of its own shares as treasury stock, issue or contract to issue any of its authorized but unissued stock, nor shall such corporation make any investments in or loans to the purchasing corporation or any of its affiliates unless such investment or loan is otherwise authorized and approved in advance by the commissioner under the provisions of Article 21.49-1, Insurance Code as amended, of the Insurance Code; and

(e) The reinsurance agreement shall become effective on or before December 31st in the second year following the year in which the initial purchase of such stock is made or the initial contract to purchase is executed, whichever shall occur first, unless the commissioner for good cause shown shall extend such time for the effective date of the reinsurance agreement; and

(f) If the reinsurance agreement fails to become effective within such time as may be finally determined and extended by the commissioner, the purchasing corporation must sell or otherwise dispose of such purchased shares which are in excess of the investment limitations of Article 3.39 of this code within six months of such final effective date; and

(g) In no event shall any sums actually paid out by the purchasing corporation for the purchase of stock acquired or obtained hereunder include the minimum capital, minimum surplus, and policy reserves required by law for such corporation.

Definitions

Sec. 5. As used in this Act

(2) "Covered claim" is an unpaid claim of an insured or third party liability claimant which arises out of and is within the coverage and not in excess of the applicable limits of an insurance policy to which this Act applies, issued or assumed (whereby an assumption certificate is issued to the insured) by an insurer licensed to do business in this State, if such insurer becomes an "impaired insurer" after the effective date of this Act and (a) the third party claimant or liability claimant or insured is a resident of this State at the time of the insured event; or (b) the property from which the claim arises is permanently located in this State. "Covered claim" shall also include seventy-five percent (75%) of unearned premiums but in no event shall a "covered claim" for unearned premiums exceed Five Hundred Dollars ($500). Individual "covered claims" shall be limited to Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) and shall not include any amount in excess of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000). "Covered claim" shall not include any amount due any reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool or underwriting association, as subrogation recoveries or otherwise. "Covered claim" shall not include supplementary payment obligations, including but not limited to adjustment fees and expenses, attorneys fees and expenses, court costs, interest and bond premiums, incurred prior to the determination that an insurer is an "impaired insurer" under this Act. With respect to a "covered claim" for unearned premiums, both persons who were residents of this State at the time the policy was issued and persons who are residents of this State at the time the company is found to be an "impaired insurer" shall be considered to have "covered claims" under this Act. Where the impaired insurer has no assets within the State of Texas, or has insufficient assets to pay the expenses of administering the receivership or conservatorship estate, that portion of the expenses of administration incurred in the processing and payment of claims against the estate shall also be a "covered claim" under this Act.

(3) "Insurer" and "member insurer" includes all stock and mutual fire insurance companies, casualty insurance companies and fire and casualty insurance companies licensed to do business in this State; and also includes all county mutual insurance companies, Lloyd's and reciprocal exchanges licensed to do business in this State; but shall not include farm mutual insurance companies, title insurance companies, mortgage guaranty insurance companies or Mexican casualty insurance companies.

(4) "Impaired insurer" is (a) a member insurer which, after the effective date of this Act, is placed in temporary or permanent receivership under an order of a court of competent jurisdiction based on a finding of insolvency, and which has been designated an "impaired insurer" by the Commissioner; or (b) after the effective date of this Act, a member insurer placed in conservatorship after it has been deemed by the Commissioner to be insolvent and which has been designated an "impaired insurer" by the Commissioner.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 5(5) to (7)]

(8) "Association" means the Texas Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association created under Section 14 of this article.

(9) "Account" means one of the four accounts created under Section 14 of this article.

(10) "Board" or "board of directors" means the board of directors of the Texas Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association created under Section 14 of this article.

Assessments

Sec. 7. Whenever the Commissioner determines that an insurer has become an impaired insurer the receiver appointed in accordance with Article 21.28 of the Insurance Code or the conservator appointed under the authority of Article 21.28-A of the Insurance Code shall promptly estimate the amount of additional funds, by lines of business, needed to supplement the assets of the impaired insurer immediately available to the receiver or the conservator for the purpose of making payment of all covered claims. The receiver or conservator shall advise the board of directors of the association of such estimates, and the board shall make available from the account maintained by the association for each line of business funds sufficient to enable the receiver or conservator to carry out an efficient program of paying the covered claims of the impaired insurer. The board shall make additional funds available as the actual need therefor arises for each impaired insurer.

When the board of directors shall determine that additional funds are needed in any of the three accounts, they shall advise the Commissioner who shall make such assessments as may be needed to produce the necessary funds. The Commissioner in determining the proportionate amount to be paid by individual insurers under an assessment shall take into consideration the lines of business written by the impaired insurer and shall assess individual insurers in proportion to the ratio that the total net direct written premium collected in the State of Texas by the insurer for such line or lines of business during the next preceding year bears to the total net direct written premium collected by all insurers (except impaired insurers) in the State of Texas for such lines of business. Assessments during a calendar year may be made up to, but not in excess of, two percent (2%) of each insurer's net direct written premium for the preceding calendar year in the lines of business for which the assessments are being made. If the maximum assessment in any calendar year does not provide an amount sufficient for payment of covered claims of impaired insurers, assessments may be made in the next and successive calendar years.

Insurers designated as impaired insurers by the Commissioner shall be exempt from assessment from and after the date of such designation and until the Commissioner determines that such insurer is no longer an impaired insurer.

It shall be the duty of each insurer to pay the amount of its assessment to the association within thirty (30) days after the Commissioner gives notice of the assessment, and assessments may be collected on behalf of the association by the conservator or receiver through suits brought for that purpose. Venue for such suits shall lie in Travis County, Texas, and actions to collect such assessments shall have precedence over all other causes on the docket of a different nature. Either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction over said cause and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction over said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending. Neither the receiver, the conservator, nor the association shall be required to give an appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder.

Funds advanced by the association under the provisions of the Act shall not become assets of the impaired insurer but shall be deemed a special fund loaned to the receiver or the conservator for payment of covered claims, which loan shall be repayable to the extent available from the funds of such impaired insurer, as herein provided.

Income from the investment of any of the funds of the association may be transferred to the administrative account authorized in Section 14A(1) of this article. The funds in this account may be used by the association for the purpose of meeting administrative costs and other general expenses of the association. Upon notification by the association of the amount of any additional funds needed for the administrative account the Commissioner shall assess member insurers to obtain the needed funds in the same manner as hereinbefore set out, provided, that he shall take into consideration the net direct written premium collected in the State of Texas for all lines of business covered by this article.

Penalty for Failure to Pay Assessments

Sec. 8. The Commissioner may suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact business in this State of any insurer who fails to pay an assessment when due, and the association shall promptly report to the Commissioner any such failure.

Any insurer whose certificate of authority to do business in this State is cancelled or surrendered shall be liable for any unpaid assessments made prior to the date of such cancellation or surrender.

Accounting for and Repayment of Assessments

Sec. 9. Upon receipt from an insurer of payment of an assessment or partial assessment, the association shall provide the insurer with a participation receipt which shall create a liability against the account for the line or lines of business for which the assessment was made. The account from which an advance is made to an impaired insurer for the payment of covered claims shall be regarded as a general creditor of the impaired insurer for the amount of funds so advanced; provided, however, that with reference to the remaining balance of any advances received by the receiver or conservator and not expended in payment of "covered claims" the claim of such account shall have preference over other general creditors. The receiver or conservator of any impaired insurer shall adopt accounting procedures reflecting the expenditure and use of all funds received from the association and shall make a final report of the expenditure and use of such funds to the Commissioner and to the association, which final report shall set forth the remaining balance, if any, from the moneys advanced. The receiver or conservator shall also make any interim reports concerning such accounting as may be required by the Commissioner or requested by the association. Upon completion of the final report, the receiver or conservator shall, as soon thereafter as is practicable, refund by line of business the remaining balance of such advances to the accounts maintained by the association.

Should the association at any time determine that there exist moneys in the account for any line of business in excess of those reasonably necessary for efficient future operation under the terms of this Act, it shall cause such excess moneys to be returned pro rata to the holders of any participation receipts on which there is a balance outstanding after deducting any credits taken against premium taxes as authorized in Section 15 of this article, which receipts were issued for an assessment on the same line of business as that for which the excess moneys are found to exist. If after such a distribution the association finds that an excess amount still exists in any such fund, or if there are no such participation receipts on which there is an outstanding balance, it shall cause such excess amount to be deposited with the State Treasurer for credit to the general fund of this State.

Sec. 10. When an insurer has been designated by the Commissioner as an impaired insurer, the receiver or conservator, as the case may be, shall marshal all assets of the impaired insurer, including but not limited to those which are designated as or that constitute reserve assets offsetting reserve liabilities for all liabilities falling within the definition of "covered claim" as defined in this Act. The receiver or conservator shall apply all of such assets to the payment of covered claims, but may utilize funds received from the association in the payment of claims, pending orderly liquidation or disposition of such assets. When all covered claims have been paid or satisfied by the receiver or conservator, any balance remaining from the liquidation or disposition of such assets shall first be applied in repayment of funds expended from those advanced by the association. Such repayments shall be credited as remaining balances and be refunded as provided in Section 9 of this Act.

In addition to authorization to make actual payment of covered claims, the receiver or conservator is specifically authorized to utilize such marshalled assets and funds derived from the association for the purpose of negotiating and consummating contracts of reinsurance or assumption of liabilities or contracts of substitution to provide for outstanding liabilities of covered claims. This Act shall not be construed to impose restrictions or limitations upon the authority granted or authorized the Commissioner, the conservator or the receiver elsewhere in the Insurance Code and other statutes of this State but shall be construed and authorized for use in conjunction with other portions of the Insurance Code dealing with delinquency proceedings or threatened insolvencies or supervisions or conservatorships.

Approval of Covered Claims

Sec. 11. Covered claims against an impaired insurer placed in temporary or permanent receivership under an order of liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation by a court of competent jurisdiction shall be processed and acted upon by the receiver or ancillary receiver in the same manner as other claims as provided in Article 21.28 of the Insurance Code and as ordered by the court in which such receivership is pending; provided, however, that funds received from the association shall be liable only for the difference between the amount of the covered claims approved by the receiver and the amount of the assets marshalled by the receiver for payment to holders of covered claims; and provided further, that in ancillary receiverships in this State, funds received from the association shall be liable only for the difference between the amount of the covered claims approved by the ancillary receiver and the amount of assets marshalled by the receivers in other states for application to payment of covered claims within this State. Such funds received from the association shall not be liable for any amount over and above that approved by the receiver for a covered claim, and any action brought by the holder of such covered claim appealing from the receiver's action shall not increase the liability of such funds; provided, however, that the receiver may review his action in approving a covered claim and for just cause modify such approval at any time during the pendency of the receivership.

If a conservator is appointed to handle the affairs of an impaired insurer the conservator shall determine whether or not covered claims should or can be provided for in whole or in part by reinsurance, assumption or substitution. Upon determination by the conservator that actual payment of covered claims should be made the conservator shall give notice of such determination to claimants falling within the class of "covered claims." The conservator shall mail such notice to the latest address reflected in the records of the impaired insurer. If the records of the impaired insurer do not reflect the address of a claimant, the conservator may give notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation. Such notice shall state the time within which the claimant must file his claim with the conservator, which time shall in no event be less than ninety (90) days from the date of the mailing or publication of such notice. The conservator may require, in whole or in part, that sworn claim forms be filed and may require that additional information or evidence be filed as may be reasonably necessary for the conservator to determine the legality or the amount due under a covered claim. When an impaired insurer has been placed in conservatorship, the funds received from the association shall be liable only for the difference between the amount of the covered claim approved by the conservator and the amount of assets marshalled by the conservator for payment to holders of covered claims. Any action brought by the holder of such covered claim against the impaired insurer shall not increase the liability of such funds; provided, however, that the conservator may review his action in approving a covered claim and may for just cause modify such approval at any time during the pendency of the conservatorship.

Upon determination by the conservator that actual payment of covered claims should be made or upon order of the court to the receiver to give notice for the filing of claims, any person who has a cause of action against an insured of the impaired insurer under a liability insurance policy issued or assumed by such insurer shall (if such cause of action meets the definition of "covered claim") have the right to file a claim with the receiver or the conservator, regardless of the fact that such claim may be contingent, and such claim may be approved as a "covered claim" (1) if it may be reasonably inferred from the proof presented upon such claim that such person would be able to obtain a judgment upon such cause of action against such insured; and (2) if such person shall furnish suitable proof that no further valid claims against such insurer arising out of his cause of action other than those already presented can be made; and (3) if the total liability of such insurer to all claimants arising out of the same act of its insured shall be no greater than its total liability would be were it not in liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation. In the proceedings of considering "covered claims" no judgment against an insured taken after the date of the commencement of the delinquency proceedings or the appointment of a conservator shall be considered as evidence of liability, or of the amount of damages, and no judgment against an insured taken by default or by collusion prior to the commencement of the delinquency proceedings or the appointment of a conservator shall be considered as conclusive evidence either (1) of the liability of such insured to such person upon such cause of action, or (2) of the amount of damages to which such person is therein entitled.

The acceptance of payment from the receiver or conservator by the holder of a covered claim or the acceptance of the benefits of contracts negotiated by the receiver or conservator providing for reinsurance or assumption of liabilities or for substitution shall constitute an assignment to the impaired insurer of any cause of action or right of the holder of such covered claim arising from the occurrence upon which the covered claim is based. Such assignment shall be to the extent of the amount accepted or the value of the benefits provided by such contracts of reinsurance or assumption of liabilities or substitution.

Release from Conservatorship or Receivership

Sec. 13. An impaired insurer placed in conservatorship or receivership for which advances have been made under the provisions of this Act shall not be authorized, upon release from conservatorship or receivership, to issue new or renewal insurance policies until such time as the impaired insurer has repaid in full to the association the funds advanced by it; provided, however, the Commissioner may, upon application of the association and after hearing, permit the issuance of new policies in accordance with a plan of operations by the released insurer for repayment of advances. The Commissioner may, in approving such plan, place such restrictions upon the issuance of new or renewal policies as he deems necessary to the implementation of the plan.

Advisory Association

Sec. 14. A. Creation of the Association. (1) There is hereby created a nonprofit legal entity to be known as the Texas Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association. All member insurers shall be and remain members of the association as a condition precedent to their authority to transact insurance in this State. The association shall perform its functions under the plan of operation established and approved as set out below and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established as set out below. For the purposes of administration and assessment, the board shall establish four accounts:

- (a) the administrative account;
- (b) the workmen's compensation account;
- (c) the automobile account; and
- (d) the other lines of insurance account.

(2) The association shall come under the immediate supervision of the Commissioner and shall be subject to the applicable provisions of the insurance laws of this State.

B. Board of Directors. (1) The association shall exercise its powers through a board of directors consisting of eight (8) persons who shall be chosen from employees or officers of the member insurers and who shall be chosen to give fair representation to all member insurers giving due consideration to the various categories of premium income, geographical location, and segments of the industry represented in Texas. Members of the board shall be elected for overlapping four-year terms, with the terms of two of the members expiring each year. The initial membership of the board of directors shall consist of the industry representatives in the Texas Property and Casualty Advisory Association as it exists under this Act prior to the time this amendment takes effect, and those members shall serve out the terms for which they were elected to the advisory association. Their replacements shall be elected by the member insurers under procedures to be established in the plan of operation. All directors shall be eligible to succeed themselves in office.

(2) Directors shall not receive any remuneration or emolument of office, but they shall be entitled to reimbursement for their actual expenses incurred in performing their duties as directors.

C. Powers and Duties of Association. In addition to the powers and duties enumerated in other sections of this article, the association:

(1) May render assistance and advice to the Commissioner, upon his request, concerning rehabilitation, payment of claims, continuations of coverage, or the performance of other contractual obligations of any impaired insurer;

(2) Shall have the standing to appear before any court in this State with jurisdiction over an impaired insurer concerning which the association is or may become obligated under this Act;

(3) May enter into such contracts as are necessary or proper to carry out the provisions and purposes of this article;

(4) May sue or be sued, including taking any legal actions necessary or proper for recovery of any unpaid assessments;

(5) May employ or retain such persons as are necessary to handle the financial transactions of the association, and to perform such other functions as become necessary or proper under this Act;

(6) May negotiate and contract with any liquidator, rehabilitator, conservator, receiver, or ancillary receiver to carry out the powers and duties of the association; and

(7) May take such legal action as may be necessary to avoid the payment of improper claims.

D. Plan of Operation. (1)(a) The association shall submit to the Commissioner a plan of operation and any amendment thereto necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and any amendments thereto shall become effective upon approval in writing by the Commissioner.

(b) If the association fails to submit a suitable plan of operation within one hundred and eighty (180) days following the effective date of this Act, or if at any time thereafter the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the Commissioner may, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate such reasonable rules as are necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this Act. Such rules shall continue in force until modified by the Commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the Commissioner.

(2) All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

(3) The plan of operation shall, in addition to requirements enumerated elsewhere in this Act:

(a) establish procedures for handling the assets of the association;

(3) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the Commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation of any member insurer. Such reports and recommendations shall not be considered public documents. Reports or recommendations made by the board of directors to the Commissioner, liquidator, or conservator shall not be considered public documents, and there shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action against a member of the board of directors or the board of directors for any report, individual report, recommendation, or individual recommendation by the board of directors or members to the Commissioner, liquidator, or conservator.

(4) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the Commissioner for the detection and prevention of member insurer impairments.

(2) "Borrower" means any person, partnership, corporation, association, or other entity, who has or acquires a legal or equitable interest in real or personal property which is or becomes subject to a mortgage, lien, security agreement, deed of trust, or other security instrument.

Prohibited Practices

(a) No Lender shall require a fee of over Ten Dollars ($10.00) for the substitution by the Borrower of an insurance policy for another insurance policy still in effect, or require any fee for the furnishing by the Borrower of an insurance policy for an existing policy upon termination of the existing policy, when such insurance policy is provided through an insurance company duly licensed to do business in the State of Texas pursuant to the provisions of this Insurance Code.

(b) No Lender shall directly or indirectly impose or require as a condition of any financing or lending of money or the renewal or the extension thereof, that the purchaser or borrower or his successors, shall procure any policy of insurance or the renewal or extension thereof, covering the property involved in the transaction, from or through any particular agent or agents, solicitor or solicitors, insurer or insurers, or any other person or persons, or from or through any particular type or class of any of the foregoing.

(c) No Lender shall use or permit the use of any of the information taken from a policy of insurance insuring the property of a Borrower for the purpose of soliciting insurance business from the Borrower, or make any of such information available to any other person for any purpose, unless such Lender has first been furnished specific written authority from the Borrower permitting or directing such particular use or disclosure; provided, however, this paragraph shall not prevent a Lender who is a licensed local recording agent from selling insurance to a Borrower.

(d) No Lender may require a Borrower to furnish evidence of insurance more than fifteen (15) days prior to the termination date of an existing policy.

Exceptions

Sec. 3. Nothing contained in Section 2 hereof shall be deemed to prevent such Lender from:

(b) requiring insurance in an insurer authorized to do business and having a licensed resident agent in this state;

(e) requiring at or before the time of delivery of an insurance policy to the Lender by a local recording agent or insurer a statement in writing from the Borrower designating such agent or insurer as his agent for such purpose; provided, however, such statement shall not be required when an agent or insurer is furnishing a renewal of an existing expiring policy provided by such agent or insurer;

(f) furnishing to any person, firm, or corporation who is or becomes the owner or holder of any note or obligation secured by a mortgage, security agreement, deed of trust, or other security instrument the policy of insurance or any information contained therein covering property which is security for such loan; or

The provisions of this section are cumulative of the other penalties or remedies provided for by law.

(b) A Borrower may recover from any Lender who violates any of the provisions of this article civil damages in an amount equal to three (3) times the annual premium for the policy of insurance in force upon the mortgaged property. prior to consummation of such offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition, was not issued and outstanding and which acquisition is solely for resale under a plan approved by the commissioner that will not reasonably result in acquisition of control on resale and where during the period prior to resale no actual positive act of control by virtue of those shares is committed;

(2) any transaction which is subject to the provisions of: (i) Article 21.25, Sections 1 through 5, of this code, dealing with the merger or consolidation of two or more insurers and complying with the terms of such article until the plan of merger or consolidation has been filed by the insurer with the Commissioner of Insurance in accordance with such Article 21.25. After the filing of such plan of merger or consolidation the transaction shall be subject to the approval provisions of Subsection (e) of Section 5 of this article, but the Commissioner may exempt such transaction from any or all of the other provisions and requirements of Section 5 of this article if he finds that the notice, proxy statement, and other materials furnished to shareholders and security holders in connection with such merger or consolidation contained reasonable and adequate factual and financial disclosure, material and information relating to such transaction, (ii) Article 11.20 of this code, (iii) Article 11.21 of this code, (iv) Article 14.13 of this code, (v) Article 14.61 of this code, (vi) Article 14.63 of this code, (vii) Article 21.26 of this code, provided that the requirements of said article are fully complied with, (viii) Article 22.15 of this code, and (ix) Article 22.19 of this code, provided that the reinsurance is a total direct reinsurance agreement; or

(3) any offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition which the commissioner by order shall exempt therefrom as (i) not having been made or entered into for the purpose and not having the effect of changing or influencing the control of a domestic insurer, or (ii) as otherwise not comprehended within the purposes of this section.

(h) Retention of Control. (1) The following conditions affecting any controlled insurer, regardless of when such control has been acquired, are violations of this article: (i) the violation of this article, or other demonstration of untrustworthiness, by the insurer, its holding company or any controlling person, or any of the officers or directors of either; or (ii) the violation of any provision of Chapter 15 of the Business and Commerce Code, Chapter 785, Acts of the 60th Legislature, 1967, as amended, or any other antitrust law of this State by the insurer, the holding company or any affiliate. If, after notice and an opportunity to be heard the commissioner determines that any of the foregoing violations exists, he shall reduce his findings to writing and shall issue an order based thereon and cause the same to be served upon the insurer and upon all persons affected thereby directing any person found to be in violation hereof to take appropriate action to cure such violation. Upon the failure of any such person to comply with such order, Section 3 of Article 1.14 of this code shall become applicable to such person, as well as any other provisions of this article.

(2) The commissioner may require the submission of such information as he deems necessary to determine whether any retention of control complies with this article and may require, as a condition of approval of such retention of control, that all or any portion of such information be disclosed to the insurer's stockholders.

(i) Duty of Insurer. Unless subject to registration under Section 3, or unless it is a foreign insurer not subject to disclosure requirements and standards adopted by statute or regulation in the jurisdiction of its domicile which are substantially similar to those contained in this article, or unless acquisition of its control is subject to Subsections (a), (b), (c), and (d) hereof, every authorized insurer shall, on or before November 1, 1971, or within 30 days after any event requiring notice hereunder, whichever is later, notify the commissioner in writing of the identity of any person whom the insurer then knows, or has reason to believe, controls or has taken any action, other than preliminary negotiations or discussions, to acquire control of the insurer.

(j) Violations. The following shall be violations of this section:

(1) the failure to file any statement, amendment, or other material required to be filed pursuant to this section; or

(2) the effectuation or any attempt to effectuate an acquisition of control of, or merger with, a domestic insurer unless the commissioner has given his approval thereto.

(k) Jurisdiction; Consent to Service of Process. The courts of this State are hereby vested with jurisdiction over every person not resident, domiciled, or authorized to do business in this State who files a statement with the commissioner under this section, and over all actions involving such person arising out of violations of this section, and each such person shall be deemed to have performed acts equivalent to and constituting an appointment by such person of the commissioner to be his true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit, or proceeding arising out of violations of this section. Copies of all such lawful process shall be served on the commissioner and transmitted by registered or certified mail by the commissioner to such person at his last known address.

Subsidiaries of Insurers

Sec. 6. (a) Any domestic insurer, either by itself or in cooperation with one or more persons, may organize, acquire, invest in or make loans to one or more subsidiaries, and may loan to or invest in affiliates, as permitted by the investment provisions of the Insurance Code.

(b) Additional investment authority. In addition to investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities permitted under all other sections of the Insurance Code, a domestic insurer may also:

(1) invest in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries and affiliates organized for any lawful purpose amounts which in the aggregate do not exceed the lesser of five percent of the insurer's assets or 50 percent of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, but after such investments the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders must be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs. In calculating the amount of such investments, there must be included (i) total net money or other consideration expended and obligations assumed in the acquisition or formation of a subsidiary, including all organizational expenses and contributions to capital and surplus of the subsidiary whether or not represented by the purchase of capital stock or issuance of other securities, and (ii) all amounts expended in acquiring additional common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities and all contributions to the capital or surplus of a subsidiary subsequent to its acquisition or formation;

(2) if the insurer's total liabilities, as calculated for National Association of Insurance Commissioners annual statement purposes, are less than 10 percent of assets, invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries and affiliates organized for any lawful purpose, but after such investment the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, considering such investment as if it were a nonadmitted asset, must be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs;

(3) invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries and affiliates organized for any lawful purpose, provided that such subsidiary or affiliate agrees to limit its investments in any particular asset so that such investments will not cause the amount of the total investment of the insurer to exceed the amount the insurer could have directly invested in such asset. For the purpose of this clause, "the total investment of the insurer" will include (i) any direct investment by the insurer in an asset and (ii) the insurer's proportionate share of any investment in such asset by any subsidiary or affiliate of the insurer, which must be calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary's or affiliate's investment by the percentage of the insurer's ownership of such subsidiary or affiliate; and

(4) with the prior approval of the commissioner, invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of one or more subsidiaries and affiliates, but after such investment the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders must be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

(c) Exemption from Investment Restrictions. Investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of subsidiaries and affiliates made under Subsection (b) hereof are not subject to any of the otherwise applicable restrictions or prohibitions contained in this code applicable to such investment of a company subject to this code, but such investments are subject to all of the provisions of Section 4 of this Act.

(d) Qualification of Investment. Whether any investment under Subsection (b) hereof meets the applicable requirements thereof is to be determined on a pro forma basis as of the time immediately after such investment is made, taking into account the insurer's assets, liabilities, and surplus as regards policyholders, the then outstanding principal balance of all previous investments in debt obligations of subsidiaries and affiliates, and the value of all previous investments in equity securities of subsidiaries and affiliates.

(e) Cessation of Control. If an insurer ceases to control a subsidiary, it must dispose of any investment therein made under Subsection (b) within three years from the time of the cessation of control or within such further time as the commissioner may prescribe and approve, unless at any time after the investment is made the investment otherwise meets the requirements of and qualifies for investment under any other section of this code, and the insurer has notified the commissioner thereof.

Valuation of Investment in a Subsidiary or Affiliate

Sec. 6A. (a) Valuation of an investment by an insurer in a subsidiary or affiliate of an insurer, which is not itself an insurer, shall be valued, subject to the additional provisions of this section, on the basis of the greater of:

(1) the net stockholder equity value owned by the insurer in the subsidiary or affiliate, adjusted to include the value of only such of the assets of such subsidiary as would constitute lawful investments for the insurer if acquired or held directly by the insurer; or

(2) one of the following bases appropriate to each type of subsidiary or affiliate owned by it, provided, however, that an insurer shall not be required to value the stock of all its subsidiaries or affiliates on the same basis:

(i) the net worth of the subsidiary or affiliate determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles as of the end of its most recent fiscal year, provided, subject to the other provisions of this section, that the financial statements of the subsidiary or affiliate for its most recent fiscal year have been audited by an independent certified public accountant in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; or

(ii) a value equal to the cost of the stock of the subsidiary or affiliate, provided such value is determined and adjusted to reflect subsequent operating results in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles; or

(iii) the market value of the stock of the subsidiary or affiliate, if the stock is listed on a national securities exchange; or

(iv) the value, if any, placed on the stock of such subsidiary or affiliate by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners; or

(v) any other value which the insurer can substantiate to the satisfaction of the commissioner as being a reasonable value.

(b) Within 60 days after the effective date of this section, an insurer shall file with the commissioner relevant information identifying, supporting, and justifying the value of and basis of valuation used in accordance with the provisions of Subsection (a) hereof for each of its noninsurer subsidiaries and affiliates.

(c) Within 30 days after the acquisition of a noninsurer subsidiary or affiliate, an insurer shall file with the commissioner relevant information identifying, supporting, and justifying the value of and the basis of valuation used in accordance with the provisions of Subsection (a) for such subsidiary or affiliate.

(d) A valuation basis used for a subsidiary or affiliate shall thereafter be consistently used unless a change is substantiated as reasonable and on that basis is approved in writing by the commissioner.

(e) If a subsidiary or affiliate is valued on the basis of Subsection (a)(2)(i) and the books of the subsidiary or affiliate are not audited at the time the valuation is included in the insurer's annual statement, the insurer shall thereafter report and explain the difference, if any, between the value of the subsidiary or affiliate as reported in the annual statement and the value as determined by audit. Such report and explanation shall be made as soon as possible following such audit.

(f) If any subsidiary or affiliate, which is not itself an insurance company, is valued other than on a basis of market value as defined in Subsection (a)(2)(iii), there shall be deducted from otherwise determined value a sum equal to the value claimed for any of its assets which would not constitute admitted assets for the insurer if held directly by the insurer, if such assets

(1) are held by the subsidiary or affiliate but used, under a lease agreement or otherwise, significantly in the conduct of the insurer's business; or

(2) were acquired from or purchased for the benefit or use of the insurer by the subsidiary or affiliate under specific circumstances that, in the opinion of the commissioner, support a reasonable finding that the primary purpose of such acquisition or purchase was the evasion or avoidance of the Insurance Code.

(g) The commissioner may, after notice and opportunity to be heard, determine that the basis used for valuation of the stock of any subsidiary or affiliate does not, under the specific circumstances of the case, reflect the value of the subsidiary or affiliate and may order either an adjustment in valuation or the use of one of the other specified bases of valuation.

Rescission, Revocation, and Reversal of Unauthorized Transactions

Sec. 16. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any person has entered into any transaction or act without having first complied with the provisions of this article applicable to such transaction or act, and in violation hereof, or has obtained his approval of or acquiescence in a transaction or act subject to this article based upon a material fraudulent misrepresentation, misstatement, or omission, the commissioner may, after giving notice and an opportunity to be heard, determine and order that such transaction or act be set aside, rescinded, revoked, reversed, and rendered void and of no force or effect, and that the parties to such transaction or act shall be returned to the position they would have occupied had not such transaction or act occurred in violation of this article.

Joint Underwriting Association

Sec. 3. (a) A joint underwriting association is hereby created, consisting of all insurers authorized to write and engaged in writing, within this state, on a direct basis, automobile liability and liability other than auto insurance on or after January 1, 1975, as provided in the Insurance Code, specifically including and applicable to Lloyds and reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges, but excluding farm mutual insurance companies as authorized by Chapter 16 of this code, and county mutual insurance companies as authorized by Chapter 17 of this code. Every such insurer shall be a member of the association and shall remain a member as a condition of its authority to continue to transact such kind of insurance in this state. The purpose of the association shall be to provide medical liability insurance on a self-supporting basis. The association shall not be a licensed insurer within the meaning of Article 1.14-2, Insurance Code.

(b) The association shall, pursuant to the provisions of this article and the plan of operation with respect to medical liability insurance, have the power on behalf of its members:

(1) to issue, or to cause to be issued, policies of insurance to applicants, including primary, excess, and incidental coverages and subject to limits as specified in the plan of operation; provided that no individual or organization may be insured by policies issued by the association for an amount exceeding a total of $750,000 per occurrence and $1.5 million aggregate per annum;

(2) to underwrite such insurance and to adjust and pay losses with respect thereto, or to appoint service companies to perform those functions;

(3) to either or both accept and refuse the assumption of reinsurance from its members; and

(4) to cede and purchase reinsurance.

(c)(1) The board shall, after consultation with the joint underwriting association, representatives of the public, the Texas Medical Association, the Texas Podiatry Association, the Texas Hospital Association, and other affected individuals and organizations, promulgate a plan of operation consistent with the provisions of this article, to become effective and operative no later than 90 days after the effective date of this Act.

(2) The plan of operation shall provide for economic, fair, and nondiscriminatory administration and for the prompt and efficient provision of medical liability insurance, and shall contain other provisions including, but not limited to, preliminary assessment of all members for initial expenses necessary to commence operations, establishment of necessary facilities, management of the association, assessment of members and assessment of policyholders to defray losses and expenses, administration of the policyholder's stabilization reserve fund, commission arrangements, reasonable and objective underwriting standards, acceptance, assumption, and cession of reinsurance, appointment of servicing carriers, and procedures for determining amounts of insurance to be provided by the association.

(3) The plan of operation shall provide that any balance remaining in the funds of the association at the close of its fiscal year, meaning its then excess of revenue over expenditures after reimbursement of members' contributions in accordance with Section 4(b)(5) of this article by the association shall be added to the reserves of the association.

(4) Amendments to the plan of operation may be made by the directors of the association, subject to the approval of the board, or shall be made at the direction of the board.

Eligibility for Coverage

Sec. 3A. The board shall establish by order the categories of physicians and health care providers who are eligible to obtain coverage from the association and may, from time to time, revise its order to include or exclude from eligibility particular categories of such physicians and health care providers.

Procedures

Sec. 4. (a)(1) Any health care provider or physician included in one of the categories of health care providers eligible for coverage by the association shall, on or after the effective date of the plan of operation, be entitled to apply to the association for such coverage. Such application may be made on behalf of an applicant by an agent authorized pursuant to Article 21.14 of this code.

(2) If the association determines that the applicant meets the underwriting standards of the association as prescribed in the plan of operation and there is no unpaid, uncontested premium, policyholder stabilization reserve fund charge, or assessment due from the applicant for prior insurance (as shown by the insured having failed to pay or make written objection to such charges within 30 days after billing) then the association, upon receipt of the premium and the policyholder stabilization reserve fund charge, or such portion thereof as is prescribed in the plan of operation, shall cause to be issued a policy of medical liability insurance for a term of one year.

(b)(1) The rates, rating plans, rating rules, rating classifications, territories, and policy forms applicable to the insurance written by the association and statistics relating thereto shall be subject to Subchapter B of Chapter 5 of the Insurance Code, as amended,¹ giving due consideration to the past and prospective loss and expense experience for medical professional liability insurance within and without this state of all of the member companies of the association, trends in the frequency and severity of losses, the investment income of the association, and such other information as the board may require; provided, that if any article of the above subchapter is in conflict with any provision of this Act, this Act shall prevail.

(2) Within such time as the board shall direct, the association shall submit, for the approval of the board pursuant to Article 5.15 of the Insurance Code, an initial filing, in proper form, of policy forms, classifications, rates, rating plans, and rating rules applicable to medical liability insurance to be written by the association.

(3) Any deficit sustained by the association in any one year shall be recouped, pursuant to the plan of operation and the rating plan then in effect, by one or more of the following procedures in this sequence:

First, a contribution from the policyholder's stabilization reserve fund until the same is exhausted.

Second, an assessment upon the policyholders pursuant to section 5(a) of this article;

Third, an assessment upon the members pursuant to Section 5(b) of this article. To the extent a member has paid one or more assessments and has not received reimbursement from the association in accordance with Subdivision (5) of this subsection, a credit against premium taxes under Article 7064, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended shall be allowed. The tax credit shall be allowed at a rate of 20 percent per year for five successive years following the year in which said deficit was sustained and at the option of the insurer may be taken over an additional number of years.

(4) After the initial year of operation, rates, rating plans, and rating rules, and any provision for recoupment should be based upon the association's loss and expense experience, together with such other information based upon such experience as the board may deem appropriate. The resultant premium rates shall be on an actuarially sound basis and shall be calculated to be self-supporting.

(5) In the event that sufficient funds are not available for the sound financial operation of the association, in addition to assessments paid pursuant to the plan of operation in accordance with Section 3(c)(2) of this article and contributions from the policyholder's stabilization reserve fund, all members shall, on a basis authorized by the board, as long as the board deems it necessary, contribute to the financial requirements of the association in the manner provided for in Section 5. Any assessment or contribution shall be reimbursed to the members with interest at a rate to be approved by the board. Pending recoupment or reimbursement of assessments or contributions paid to the association by a member, the unrepaid balance of such assessments and contributions may be reflected in the books and records of the insurer as an admitted asset of the insurer for all purposes, including exhibition in annual statements pursuant to Article 6.12 of this code.

(c) Excess insurance coverage written for a health care provider or a physician by the association under this article shall be written on a following form basis to the primary insurance coverage of that health care provider.

Policyholder's Stabilization Reserve Fund

Sec. 4A. There is hereby created a policyholder's stabilization reserve fund which shall be administered as provided herein and in the plan of operation of the association. Each policyholder shall pay annually into the stabilization reserve fund a charge, the amount of which shall be established annually by advisory directors chosen by health care providers and physicians eligible for insurance in the association in accordance with the plan of operation. The charge shall be in proportion to each premium payment due for liability insurance through the association. Such charge shall be separately stated in the policy, but shall not constitute a part of premiums or be subject to premium taxation, servicing fees, acquisition costs, or any other such charges. The policyholder's stabilization reserve fund shall be collected and administered by the association and shall be treated as a liability of the association along with and in the same manner as premium and loss reserves. The fund shall be valued annually by the board of directors as of the close of the last preceding year. Collections of the stabilization reserve fund charge shall continue until such time as the net balance of the stabilization reserve fund is not less than the projected sum of premiums to be written in the year following valuation date. The fund shall be credited with all stabilization reserve fund charges collected from policyholders and shall be charged with any deficit from the prior year's operation of the association.

Participation

Sec. 5. (a) Each policyholder shall have contingent liability for a proportionate share of any assessment of policyholders made under the authority of this article. Whenever a deficit, as calculated pursuant to the plan of operation, is sustained by the association in any one year, its directors shall levy an assessment only upon those policyholders who held policies in force at any time within the two most recently completed calendar years in which the association was issuing policies preceding the date on which the assessment was levied. The aggregate amount of the assessment shall be equal to that part of the deficit not recouped from the stabilization reserve fund. The maximum aggregate assessment per policyholder shall not exceed the annual premium for the liability policy most recently in effect. Subject to such maximum limitation, each policyholder shall be assessed for that portion of the deficit reflecting the proportion which the earned premium on the policies of such policyholder bears to the total earned premium for all policies of the association in the two most recently completed calendar years.

(b) All insurers which are members of the association shall participate in its writings, expenses, and losses in the proportion that the net direct premiums, as defined herein, of each such member, excluding that portion of premiums attributable to the operation of the association, written during the preceding calendar year bears to the aggregate net direct premiums written in this state by all members of the association. Each insurer's participation in the association shall be determined annually on the basis of such net direct premiums written during the preceding calendar year, as reported in the annual statements and other reports filed by the insurer that may be required by the board. No member shall be obligated in any one year to reimburse the association on account of its proportionate share in the deficit from operations of the association in that year in excess of one percent of its surplus to policyholders and the aggregate amount not so reimbursed shall be reallocated among the remaining members in accordance with the method of determining participation prescribed in this subdivision, after excluding from the computation the total net direct premiums of all members not sharing in such excess deficit. In the event that the deficit from operations allocated to all members of the association in any calendar year shall exceed one percent of their respective surplus to policyholders, the amount of such deficit shall be allocated to each member in accordance with the method of determining participation prescribed in this subdivision.

Directors

Sec. 6. The association shall be governed by a board of nine directors, to be elected annually by the members of the association. On or before 15 days after the effective date of this Act, the State Board of Insurance shall appoint a temporary board of directors of the association which shall consist of nine members who are representatives of the association, selected so as to fairly represent various classes of member insurers and organizations of insurers. Such temporary board of directors shall serve until the first annual meeting of the members of the association or until their successors have been elected in accordance with this section. The first elected board shall be elected at the annual meeting of the members, or their authorized representatives, which shall be held at a time and place designated by the board.

Appeals

Sec. 7. (a) Any person insured or applying for insurance pursuant to this Act, or his duly authorized representative, or any affected insurer who may be aggrieved by an act, ruling, or decision of the association, may, within 30 days after such act, ruling, or decision, appeal to the board of directors of the association. The board of directors of the association shall hear said appeal within 30 days after receipt of such request or appeal and shall give not less than 10 days' written notice of the time and place of hearing to the person making such request or the duly authorized representative. Within 10 days after such hearing, the board of directors of the association shall affirm, reverse, or modify its previous action or the act, ruling, or decision appealed to the board of directors of the association.

(b) In the event any person insured or applying for insurance is aggrieved by the final action of the board of directors of the association or in the event the association is aggrieved by the action of the board with respect to any ruling, order, or determination of the board of directors of the association or the board, the aggrieved party may, within 30 days after such action, make a written request to the board for a hearing thereon. The board shall hear the association, or the appeal from an act, ruling, or decision of the association, within 30 days after receipt of such request or appeal and shall give not less than 10 days' written notice of the time and place of hearing to the association making such request or the person, or his duly authorized representative, appealing from the act, ruling, or decision of the board of directors of the association. Within 30 days after such hearing, the board shall affirm, reverse, or modify its previous action or the act, ruling, or decision appealed to the board. Pending such hearing and decision thereon, the board may suspend or postpone the effective date of its previous rule or of the act, ruling, or decision appealed to the board. The association, or the person aggrieved by any order or decision of the board, may thereafter appeal in accordance with Article 1.04(f) of the Insurance Code of Texas.

Privileged Communications

Sec. 8. There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against the association, its agents or employees, an insurer, any licensed agent, or the board or its authorized representatives, for any statements made in good faith by them in any reports or communications, concerning risks insured or to be insured by the association, or at any administrative hearings conducted in connection therewith.

Annual Statements

Sec. 9. The association shall file in the office of the board, annually on or before the first day of March, a statement which shall contain information with respect to its transactions, condition, operations, and affairs during the preceding calendar year. Such statement shall contain such matters and information as are prescribed and shall be in such form as is approved by the board. The board may, at any time, require the association to furnish additional information with respect to its transactions, condition, or any matter connected therewith considered to be material and of assistance in evaluating the scope, operation, and experience of the association.

Examinations

Sec. 10. The board shall make an examination into the affairs of the association at least annually. Such examination shall be conducted, the report thereon filed, and expenses borne and paid for, in the manner prescribed in Articles 1.15 and 1.16 of the Insurance Code.

Dissolution of the Association

Sec. 11. Upon the effective date of this article, the board shall, after consultation with the joint underwriting association, representatives of the public, the Texas Medical Association, the Texas Podiatry Association, the Texas Hospital Association, and other affected individuals and organizations, promulgate a plan of dissolution consistent with the provisions of this article, to become effective and operative on December 31, 1981, unless the board determines before that time that the association is no longer needed to accomplish the purposes for which it was created and orders its dissolution, in which case, the plan of dissolution shall become effective on the date of dissolution ordered by the board. The plan of dissolution shall contain provisions for maintaining reserves for losses which may be reported subsequent to the expiration of all policies in force. If, at the expiration of five years and annually thereafter, if necessary, from December 31, 1981, or the date of dissolution ordered by the board, the board finds, after notice and hearing, that all known claims have been paid or otherwise disposed of by the association, then the board may wind up the affairs of the association by paying to a special fund created by the statutory liquidator of the board a reasonable reserve to be administered by said liquidator for unknown claims; reimbursing assessments and contributions of members in accordance with Section 4(b)(5) of this article, and distributing the remainder to the policyholders ratably in proportion to premiums and assessments paid during or after the last two years in which the association was issuing policies. If such reserve fund administered by the statutory liquidator proves inadequate, the association shall be treated as an insolvent insurer in respect to the application of the provisions of Article 21.28-C, Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Act, Insurance Code. Notice of claim shall be made upon the board.

Authority of the Board Over Dissolution

Sec. 12. Before December 31, 1979, if the board finds that the association is no longer needed to accomplish the purposes for which it was created, the board may issue an order dissolving the association as of a certain date stated in the order.

Termination of Policies

Sec. 13. After December 31, 1981, if no earlier dissolution date is ordered by the board, or after the date ordered for dissolution by the board, no policies will be issued by the association. All then issued policies shall continue in force until terminated in accordance with the terms and conditions of such policies.

Any duty stated by this chapter to be performed by or to be placed on the State Board of Insurance is placed upon and is to be performed by the insurance regulatory official or group of officials on whom similar duties are placed or to be performed for insurers or the business of insurance by the Insurance Code. The multimember insurance regulatory body designated by the Insurance Code as the uniform insurance rule-making authority is authorized to enact rules designating the proper insurance regulatory official to perform any duty placed by this chapter on the insurance regulatory officials where such duty is not similar to duties otherwise performed by a specific official or group of such officials.

Art. 23.02. Supervision; Requirements

All corporations organized under the provisions of this chapter shall be under the direct supervision of the State Board of Insurance, and shall be subject to the following requirements:

(1) After incorporation, but as a condition of doing business other than seeking applicants and obtaining contracting attorneys, they shall have collected in advance from at least 200 applicants (unless a lesser number of applicants is found by the State Board of Insurance to be a large enough number of applicants to constitute a workable prepaid legal service plan) the application fee and at least one month's payment for services. Such funds shall, at all times prior to issuance by the State Board of Insurance of its certificate of authority as below provided, be maintained in a trust account in a bank in Texas and shall be refunded in full should such certificate of authority not be issued. It shall thereafter be a condition of continued operation that a minimum number of 200 participants or lesser number previously approved by the State Board of Insurance be maintained.

(2) They shall file a statement of their operations for the year ending December 31 each year, said statement to reach the State Board of Insurance not later than March 1 of the succeeding year. The statements shall be on such forms and shall reveal such information as shall be required by the State Board of Insurance.

(3) They shall maintain solvency in each of its funds, i. e., the admitted assets of each such fund shall exceed its liabilities (except for claim liability covered by attorney guarantees provided by Article 23.15 of this code), and it shall be a continuing condition of licensing by the State Board of Insurance that such solvency be maintained.

(4) If any such corporation files an acceptable statement showing solvency, and otherwise complies with this chapter, the State Board of Insurance shall issue it a certificate of authority authorizing it to transact business until such certificate shall be revoked for noncompliance with law, by operation of law or as provided by this chapter.

Art. 23.03. Attorneys Under Contract

Each corporation complying with the requirements of this chapter before issuing any contract for pre-paid legal services shall have and so long as it issues such contracts maintain such number of contracting attorneys as is sufficient in the determination of the State Board of Insurance to service the participant contracts contemplated by the corporation's plan of operation.

Art. 23.04. Officers: Employees Bond

Each corporation complying with the requirements of this chapter shall, by resolution adopted and entered on its minute book, a copy of which properly certified to by the president, secretary, or general manager shall be filed with the State Board of Insurance, designate some officer or officers who shall be responsible in the handling of the funds of the corporation. Said corporation shall make and file for each such officer a surety bond or blanket bond covering all such officers with a corporate surety company authorized to write surety bonds in this state, as surety, satisfactory and payable to the State Board of Insurance in the sum of not less than $25,000 for each officer for the use and benefit of said corporation, which said bond shall obligate the principal and surety to pay such pecuniary loss as the corporation shall sustain through acts of fraud, dishonesty, forgery, theft, embezzlement, wrongful abstraction or willful misapplication on the part of each such officer, either directly and alone or in connivance with others, while employed as such an officer or exercising powers of such office. In lieu of such bond any such officer may deposit with the State Board of Insurance cash (or securities approved by the State Board of Insurance) which cash or securities shall be in the amount and subject to the same conditions as provided for in said bond.

In addition to the bond required in the preceding paragraph, each corporation shall procure for all other office employees, or other persons who may have access to any of its funds, separate bonds or blanket bonds with some surety licensed by the State Board of Insurance to do business in Texas, in an amount or amounts fixed by the State Board of Insurance with a minimum of $1,000 and a maximum of $10,000 for each employee, satisfactory and payable to the State Board of Insurance for the use and benefit of the corporation obligating the principal and surety to pay each pecuniary loss as the corporation shall sustain through acts of fraud, dishonesty, forgery, theft, embezzlement, wrongful abstraction or willful misapplication on the part of such persons, either directly and alone, or in connivance with others. Successive recoveries on any of the bonds provided from this article may be had on such bonds until same are exhausted.

Art. 23.05. Claims; Cancellation of Certificate of Authority

All lawful claims for payment based upon certificates issued to participants shall be paid within 120 days after receipt of due proof of claim. Written notice of claim given to a corporation complying with the requirements of this chapter shall be deemed due proof in the event the corporation fails, upon receipt of notice, to furnish the participant making claim within 15 days such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing such claims. The State Board of Insurance after public hearing on written specifications after 20 days notice shall cancel the certificate of authority of any such corporation found to be not in compliance with this chapter, operating fraudulently, or which fails to pay its valid claims in accordance with the provisions of this article.

Art. 23.06. Dissolution

Any dissolution or liquidation of any corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be under the supervision of the State Board of Insurance. In case of dissolution of any group formed under the provisions of this chapter, participants' claims shall be given priority over all other claims except cost of liquidation.

Art. 23.07. Method of Dissolution

Any corporation operating under this chapter may be dissolved at any time by a vote of its board of directors, and after such action has been approved by the State Board of Insurance. In the case of voluntary dissolution, the disposition of the affairs of the corporation shall be made by the officers (including the settlement of all outstanding obligations to participants), and when the liquidation has been completed and a final statement, in acceptable form, filed with and approved by the State Board of Insurance, the provisions for voluntary dissolution under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act shall be followed to dissolve the corporation. In all other cases where a corporation operating under this chapter is found to be insolvent, or to have violated the provisions of this chapter, on a determination of this condition, and after due notice and hearing, the affairs of the corporation shall be disposed of by a liquidator appointed by and under the supervision of the State Board of Insurance, or, in appropriate cases, under the direction of a court of competent jurisdiction in Travis County.

Art. 23.08. Fees; Taxes

(a) The State Board of Insurance shall charge a fee of $50 for filing the annual statement of each corporation operating under this chapter; an application fee of $100 for each corporation applying under this chapter; and a fee of $25 for the issuance of each certificate of authority to the corporation.

(b) To defray the expense of carrying out the provisions of this chapter, there shall be annually assessed and collected by the State of Texas, through the State Board of Insurance, from each corporation operating under this chapter, in addition to all other taxes now imposed, or which may hereafter be imposed by law, a tax of one percent of all revenues received by such corporation in return for issuance of prepaid legal services contracts in this state, according to the reports made to the State Board of Insurance as required by law. Said taxes, when collected, shall be placed in a separate fund with the State Treasurer which shall be kept separate and apart from other funds and money in his hands, and shall be known as the Prepaid Legal Services Fund, said fund to be expended during the current and succeeding years, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in carrying out such provisions. Such expenditures shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum assessed and collected from such corporations; and should there be an unexpended balance at the end of any year, the State Board of Insurance shall reduce the assessment for the succeeding year so that the amount produced and paid into the State Treasury together with said unexpended balance in the treasury will be sufficient to pay all expenses of carrying out the provisions of this chapter, which funds shall be paid out and filed by a majority of the State Board of Insurance when the comptroller shall issue warrants therefor. Any amount remaining in said fund at the end of any year shall be carried over and expended in accordance with the provisions of this article during the subsequent year or years. Provided, that no expenditures shall be made from said fund except under authority of the legislature as set forth in the general appropriations bill.

(c) The payment of the maximum tax of one percent provided by the preceding section of this article by any corporation complying with this chapter in any year either as a maintenance tax or as a voluntary elected payment into the General Revenue Fund of the State of Texas or a combination of such payments equaling such one percent shall be deemed to be a payment in lieu of any franchise or other gross receipts tax by or under the laws of this state and such corporation shall be exempt from such franchise and other gross revenue taxes as would apply to such corporation during the period for which the one percent tax or voluntary payment or combination thereof is made.

Art. 23.09. Applications

Any corporation complying with the requirements of this chapter shall be authorized to accept applicants, who upon issuance of a benefit certificate shall be entitled to legal services for such period of time as is provided therein. Such corporation shall be governed by this chapter and shall not be construed as being engaged in the business of insurance nor subject to laws respecting insurers so long as it complies with the provisions of this chapter. The provisions of this article shall not be deemed to declare the issuance of contracts for prepaid legal services when done by those entities other than corporations complying with this chapter not to be the business of insurance. The right of corporations complying with the requirements of this chapter to issue prepaid legal services contracts on individual, group, and franchise bases is recognized.

Art. 23.10. Corporations Non-Profit; Funds; Investments

The corporations complying with the requirements of this chapter shall be governed and conducted as non-profit nonmembership organizations for the purpose of contracting for and obtaining legal services for their participants through contracting attorneys, in consideration of the payment by the participants of a definite sum to fund the payment of attorneys fees for the legal services to be furnished by the contracting attorneys. Provided further, that each such corporation shall have two funds, namely: the claim fund and the expense fund. The claim fund shall be composed of at least 80 percent of the regular payments by participants, and the application fees. The percentage amounts above stated may be modified by the State Board of Insurance upon showing that such is in the best interest of the then existing persons receiving legal services under contract or that such is necessary for the development of the corporation during its first year of existence. The application fees shall be paid by applicants prior to issuance of a benefit certificate, and shall not apply as a part of the cost of receiving benefits under the benefit certificate issued. Claim fund investments may include, besides lawful money and demand deposits, only certificates of deposits, share accounts, and time deposits in public banks and savings and loan institutions whose deposits are insured by a federal governmental agency, and obligations of a state or the federal government; and the expense fund investments may include only such as are legal investments for the capital, surplus, and contingency funds of capital stock life insurance companies. The net income from the investments shall accrue to the funds, respectively, from which the investments were made. The claim fund shall be disbursed only for the payment of valid claims, taxes on income of such fund, security transfer costs, and refunds of fees paid into such fund; and to the extent approved by the State Board of Insurance, cost of settling contested claims, expenses directly incurred on or for preservation of investments of the claim fund and contracts authorized under Article 23.19 of this code.

Art. 23.11. Authority to Contract

Corporations complying with the requirements of this chapter shall have authority to contract in accordance with this chapter with attorneys in such manner as to assure to each participant holding a benefit certificate of the corporation the furnishing of such legal services by attorney under contract, or who shall agree to contract, to the extent agreed upon in prepaid legal service contract between the corporation and the participant, with the right to the corporation to limit in the prepaid legal service contract and benefit certificate the types and extent of benefits and the circumstances for which such legal services shall be furnished.

Art. 23.12. Limitations

The corporation complying with the requirements of this chapter shall not contract itself to practice law in any manner, nor shall the corporation control or attempt to control the relations existing between a participant and his or her attorney, but the corporation shall confine its activities to contracting as an agent on behalf of its participants for legal services to be rendered only by and through contracting attorneys, who shall never be employees of the corporation but shall at all times be independent contractors maintaining a direct lawyer and client relationship with the participants. Such corporation must agree to contract under Article 23.11 of this code with any attorney licensed by the Supreme Court to practice law in Texas. Contracting attorneys shall maintain such professional liability, and errors and omissions insurance as the corporation shall deem proper and the State Board of Insurance may by uniform rule declare a minimum amount of each such coverage to be maintained.

Art. 23.13. Contingent Liabilities

Any person may advance to the corporation on contingent liability basis such funds as are necessary for the purposes of its business or to enable it to comply with any requirements of this chapter and such money and interest thereon as may have been agreed upon shall be repayable and shall be repaid only on prior approval of the State Board of Insurance.

Art. 23.14. Supervision

Every corporation complying with the requirements of this chapter shall, before accepting applications for participation in said non-profit legal service plan, have sufficient money in its expense fund to cover initial operations and shall submit to the State Board of Insurance a plan of operation together with a rate schedule of its charges to participants and a schedule and projections of costs of legal services to be contracted for on behalf of the participants; which plan, rate schedule, and the sufficiency of expense fund shall first be approved by the State Board of Insurance as adequate, fair, and reasonable and not excessive before such corporation shall engage in business. The State Board of Insurance shall have continuing control over the plan of operation of such corporation and its rate schedule of charges to participants. No change in such plan or rate schedule shall be effectuated without its first being filed and approved by the State Board of Insurance.

Art. 23.15. Approval of Rates

The State Board of Insurance shall likewise approve the ratio of benefits to be paid to anticipated revenues from the rate schedule proposed to be used if such be found to be actuarially sound. No prepaid legal services contract or benefit certificate thereunder shall be issued by corporations complying with this chapter without such finding. The contracting attorneys shall guarantee to the participants the services stated under the benefit certificates and shall agree to perform such services which they agree to render to the participants under the benefit certificates without there being any liability for the cost thereof to the participants beyond the funds of such corporation held for their benefit in accordance with the plan of operation of the corporation. Such corporations may issue prepaid legal service contracts without such guarantees and providing for indemnity for costs of attorney services where the attorney is not a contracting attorney under such rules and regulations as may be approved by the State Board of Insurance provided that the State Board of Insurance be satisfied that the plan of operation, financial standing and experience of the corporation (including but not limited to a proper amount of free surplus) is adequate to assure the performance of such contracts.

Art. 23.16. Benefit Certificates and Legal Services Contracts

Every corporation shall issue to its applicants that are covered by a contract for prepaid legal services benefit certificates setting forth the benefits to which they are or may become entitled. Such certificates, application forms, and contracts made between the corporation and the participants' employer or group representative shall be in form approved by the State Board of Insurance prior to issuance. The State Board of Insurance shall be authorized to issue rules and regulations concerning such forms to provide that they shall properly describe their benefits and not be unjust, misleading, or deceptive. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 126, ch. 60, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 23.17. Blank Deposits

All funds collected from applicants and participants of a corporation complying with this chapter shall be deposited to the account of the corporation in a public bank, which is a state depository having Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation protection of its deposits.

Art. 23.18. Finance Procedures

A corporation complying with the requirements of this chapter shall not pay any of the claim funds collected from participants to any attorney except for legal services rendered by such attorney to the participants.

Art. 23.19. Participation Contracts; Agreements with Insurers

Corporations complying with the requirements of this chapter shall be authorized to contract with other organizations complying with this chapter and insurers licensed to do business in Texas for joint participation through mutualization contract agreements or guaranty treaties or otherwise cede or accept legal services obligations from such companies on the whole or any part of such legal service obligations, provided that such contract forms, documents, treaties, or agreement forms are filed with and approved by the State Board of Insurance to be in accordance with the plan of operation of the corporation prior to their effectiveness.

The State Board of Insurance shall be authorized to issue rules and regulations concerning such participation contracts and agreements with insurers as provided by this article in accordance with and in carrying out its purposes.

Art. 23.20. Expenses of Directors: Meetings

No director of any corporation created under this chapter shall receive any salary, wages, or compensation for his services, but shall be allowed reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in attending any meeting called for the purpose of managing or directing the affairs of the corporation.

Art. 23.21. Examination of Books and Records

Every corporation complying with this chapter shall keep complete books and records, showing all funds collected and disbursed, and all books and records shall be subject to examination by the State Board of Insurance, the expense of such examination to be borne by said corporation.

Art. 23.22. Complaints

The State Board of Insurance shall refer any complaints received by it concerning the performance of any attorney connected with any corporation complying with this chapter to the Supreme Court of the State of Texas or to any person designated by the Supreme Court to receive attorney grievances from the public.

Art. 23.23. Regulation of Agents

(a) The State Board of Insurance may after notice and hearing promulgate such reasonable rules and regulations as are necessary to license and control agents of corporations complying with this chapter. An agent means a natural person who solicits legal services contracts or enrolls applicants.

(b) The Commissioner of Insurance shall collect in advance from agents of corporations complying with this chapter a license fee of $25 and an examination fee of $10. A new examination fee shall be paid for each and every examination. The examination fee shall not be returned under any circumstances other than for failure to appear and take the examination after the applicant has given at least 24 hours notice of an emergency situation to the Commissioner of Insurance and received the commissioner's approval.

(c) Each license issued to agents of corporations complying with this chapter shall expire two years following the date of issue, unless prior thereto it is suspended or revoked by the Commissioner of Insurance or the authority of the agent to act for the corporation complying with this chapter is terminated.

(d) Licenses which have not expired or which have not been suspended or revoked may be renewed upon request in writing of the agent and payment of $25 renewal fee.

(e) Any agent licensed under this article may represent and act as an agent for more than one corporation complying with this chapter at any time while his or its license is in force, if he or it so desires. Any such agent and the corporation complying with this chapter involved must give notice to the State Board of Insurance of any additional appointment or appointments authorizing him or it to act as agent for an additional corporation complying with this chapter. Such notice must set forth the corporation or corporations complying with this chapter which the agent is then licensed to represent and shall be accompanied by a certificate from each corporation complying with this chapter to be named in each additional appointment that said corporation desires to appoint the applicant as its agent. This notice shall also contain such other information as the State Board of Insurance may require. The agent shall be required to pay a fee of $8 for each additional appointment applied for, which fee shall accompany the notice.

(f) All fees collected pursuant to this article constitute a fund to be used by the State Board of Insurance to administer the provisions of Chapter 23 and all laws of this state governing and regulating agents for such corporations complying with this chapter, which fees shall be paid into the State Treasury to the credit of the Prepaid Legal Services Fund and shall be paid out for salaries, traveling expenses, office expenses, and other incidental expenses incurred and approved by the State Board of Insurance.

Art. 23.24. Hazardous Financial Condition

(a) Whenever the financial condition of any corporation complying with the requirements of this chapter indicates a condition such that the continued operation of such corporation might be hazardous to its participants, creditors, or the general public, then the State Board of Insurance may, after notice and hearing, order such corporation to take such action as may be reasonably necessary to rectify the existing condition, including but not necessarily limited to one or more of the following steps:

(1) to reduce the total amount of present and potential liability for benefits by use of Article 23.19 of this code;

(2) to reduce the volume of new business being accepted;

(3) to reduce expenses by specified methods; or

(4) to suspend or limit the writing of new business for a period of time.

Where none of the foregoing remedies is effective and the hazardous condition is determined to be a shortage of money in the expense fund the State Board of Insurance may after further notice and hearing order funds sufficient to cure the hazardous condition to be placed in the expense fund. The State Board of Insurance shall not have authority hereby to require the maintenance of money in the expense fund except as provided by Article 23.02(3) of this code.

(b) The State Board of Insurance is authorized, by rule and regulations, to fix uniform standards and criteria for early warning that the continued operation of any company might be hazardous to its participants, creditors, or the general public, and to fix standards for evaluating the financial condition of any corporation complying with the requirement of this chapter, which standards shall be consistent with the purposes expressed in this article.

Art. 23.25. Management and Exclusive Agency Contracts

(a) No corporation complying with the requirements of this chapter may enter into an exclusive agency contract or management contract, unless the contract is first filed with the State Board of Insurance and approved under this article within 30 days after filing or such reasonable extended period as the State Board of Insurance may specify by notice given within the 30 days.

(b) The State Board of Insurance shall disapprove a contract submitted under Section (a) of this article if it finds that:

(1) it subjects the corporation to excessive charges;

(2) the contract extends for an unreasonable period of time;

(3) the contract does not contain fair and adequate standards of performance;

(4) the persons empowered under the contract to manage the corporation are not sufficiently trustworthy, competent, experienced, and free from conflict of interest to manage the corporation with due regard for the interest of its participants, creditors, or the public; or

(5) the contract contains provisions which impair the interests of the corporation's participants, creditors, or the public in this state.

Art. 23.26. Application of Other Laws

(a) Corporations complying with this chapter shall be subject to and are required to comply with the provisions of the Texas Miscellaneous Corporation Laws Act and the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act as those laws now exist or may be amended in the future to the extent the provisions of this chapter are not in conflict therewith.

(b) The following provisions of the Insurance Code as they now exist or shall hereafter be amended shall, where not in conflict with this chapter, apply to corporations complying with the provisions of this chapter to the same extent as they apply to insurers and to those doing the business of insurance: Articles 1.01, 1.02, 1.04, 1.08, 1.09, 1.09-1, 1.11, 1.12, 1.13, 1.14, 1.15, 1.16, 1.17, 1.18, 1.19, 1.20, 1.21, 1.22, 1.23, 1.24, 1.25, 1.29, 3.12, 3.13, 3.14, 21.21, 21.25, 21.28, 21.28A, and 21.47 and Sections 1, 2, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, and 17 of Article 1.10 of the Insurance Code, as amended.

(C) an insurance agent or broker making loans under this chapter who holds premium finance agreements made and delivered by insureds payable to him or her or his or her order.

(2) "Premium finance agreement" means an agreement by which an insured or prospective insured promises to pay to a premium finance company the amount advanced or to be advanced under the agreement to an insurer or to an insurance agent in payment of premium on an insurance contract.

(1) the application has been approved and a license will be issued on payment of the appropriate license fee; or

(2) the application has been denied.

(c) The board may refuse to issue a license if it finds that:

(1) the financial responsibility, experience, character, or general fitness of the applicant or any person associated with the applicant does not command the confidence of the community and does not warrant the belief that the business will be conducted honestly, fairly, and efficiently; or

(2) the applicant does not have available for the operation for the business net assets of at least $25,000.

(d) After approval and on receipt of the license fee, the board shall execute the license to engage in the business of a premium finance company at the location specified in the application and shall transmit the license to the applicant.

(e) The refusal of the board to issue a license does not entitle the applicant to a return of any part of the investigation fee that accompanied the application.

(f) The fee for each license is $100 and shall be paid to the board. Each license shall be issued for the calendar year and shall remain in force until December 31 of each year, unless suspended, revoked, or surrendered in accordance with Article 24.05 of this chapter. If a license is granted after June 30 of any year, the fee is $50 for that year.

(g) Any person holding a license under Chapter 3, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-3.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), on the effective date of this chapter is required only to pay the license fee required under this article and is not required to pay the investigation fee required by Section (a) of this article. [Added by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 2149, ch. 825, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 1980.]

Sections 2 and 4 of the 1979 Act provided:

"Sec. 2. Beginning November 1, 1979, the license fee for a license to engage in the business of insurance premium financing shall be paid to the State Board of Insurance."

"Sec. 4. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, this Act takes effect January 1, 1980.

"(b) Section 1 of this Act to the extent that it relates to the collection of license fees; the deposit of those fees in the State Treasury, and the use of those fees and Section 2 of this Act take effect November 1, 1979.

"(c) The provisions of this Act shall not apply to arrangements and accounts covered by Chapter 15 of Subtitle 3, Title 79, Interest-Consumer Credit-Consumer Protection, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended by Senate Bill Number 811, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 [Civil Statutes, art. 5069-15.01 et seq.]."

Art. 24.04. License Provisions; Posting; Change of Location; Other Business

(a) A license issued under this chapter must state the name and address of the licensee. The license shall be conspicuously posted in the specified office of the licensee. Except as provided in this chapter, the license is not transferable or assignable. Before a licensee changes an office from one location to another, the licensee shall give written notice of the change to the board which, if it approves the change, shall issue an endorsement indicating the change and the date of the change. The licensee shall attach the endorsement to the license for that office. The endorsement constitutes authority for the operation of the business under the license at the new location.

(b) A licensee may conduct the business of premium financing under this chapter in any office, suite, room, or place of business in which any other business is solicited or engaged in or in association or conjunction with any other business, unless the board:

(1) finds, after a hearing, that the conduct by the licensee of the other business in the particular licensed office has concealed evasions of this chapter; and

(2) orders the licensee in writing to stop conducting the business of premium financing in that office.

(c) A licensee may not conduct the business of premium financing provided for by this chapter under any name or at any place of business other than that stated in the license. The preparation and delivery of a premium finance agreement by an insurance agent on behalf of the insured does not constitute doing business as an insurance premium finance company, unless the agreement is held for the benefit of the agent in accordance with Article 24.01(1)(C) of this chapter.

(d) Nothing in this chapter limits the premium financing of any licensee to residents of the community in which the licensed office is situated or prohibits the licensee from conducting premium financing by mail.

Art. 24.05. Grounds for Revocation of License; Procedure

(a) After notice and hearing, the board may revoke or suspend any license issued under this chapter if it finds:

(1) that the licensee has violated this chapter or any rule lawfully made by the board under this chapter; or

(2) the existence of any fact or condition that, if it had existed at the time of the original application for the license, clearly would have warranted the board to refuse to issue the license.

(b) The board, after notice and hearing, may suspend or revoke a license if it learns from the commissioner of insurance or from any other source that the licensee has failed to return all amounts due from the insurance premium finance company to the person whose insurance policy has been canceled as required by Section (g), Article 24.17 of this chapter.

(c) Any licensee may surrender any license by delivering to the board written notice that the licensee surrenders the license. The surrender of a license does not affect the licensee's civil or criminal liability, if any, for acts committed before the surrender.

(d) A revocation, suspension, or surrender of any license does not affect the obligation of any insured under a lawful premium finance agreement previously acquired or held by the licensee.

(e) If the board revokes or suspends a license, it shall immediately execute in duplicate a written order to that effect and shall file one copy of that order in the office of the secretary of state and mail one copy to the licensee.

(f) The board may reinstate a suspended license or issue a new license to a person whose license has been revoked if no fact or condition then exists that clearly would have justified the board in refusing originally to issue the license under this chapter. [Added by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 2149, ch. 825, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 1980.]

Art. 24.06. Examinations, Investigations, and Use of Fees

(a) The board may make examinations or investigations necessary to determine whether a licensee is in compliance with this chapter or whether a licensee has conducted himself or herself so as to justify the revocation of his or her license. The board or its duly authorized representatives may require the attendance of any person, may examine the person under oath, and may compel the production of all relevant books, records, accounts, and documents.

(b) All reports of examinations or investigations and all correspondence and memoranda concerning or arising out of those examinations or investigations, including any duly authenticated copy or copies of those reports in the possession of any licensee or the board, are confidential communications, are not subject to subpoena, and may not be made public, except in connection with a hearing under Article 24.05 of this chapter and any appearance in connection with such a hearing. Information obtained in the course of these examinations or investigations may be made available to other governmental agencies when the information involves matters within the scope or jurisdiction of those agencies.

(c) In addition to the investigation and license fees set forth in Article 24.03 of this chapter, each licensee shall pay to the board an amount assessed by the board to cover the direct and indirect cost of examinations and investigations made under this article and a proportionate share of general administrative expense attributable to the regulation of the persons licensed under this chapter.

(d) Fees collected under this chapter shall be placed in the State Treasury in a separate fund. The board may use any portion of those fees to enforce this chapter. The board may employ persons as necessary to examine or investigate and make reports on alleged violations of this chapter or on compliance with the other provisions of this code by persons licensed under this chapter and may pay the salaries and expenses of those persons and of all office employees and the expenses necessary to enforce this chapter.

(e) If any residue of those funds remains after the amounts necessary to carry on the work, examinations, and investigations and to employ the persons as authorized by this chapter have been paid, the residue shall be carried over from year to year and used in the enforcement of this article. All funds collected under this provision shall be paid into the State Treasury at least once each week and kept in a special fund and shall be paid out for salaries, traveling expenses, office expenses, and other expenses incurred by the board under this chapter on proper account duly approved by the board.

Art. 24.07. Hearings and Investigations; Subpoena Power

In conducting a hearing or investigation under this chapter, the board or any person duly designated by it may:

- (1) subpoena witnesses;
- (2) take depositions of witnesses residing outside of the state in the manner provided for in civil actions in district courts;
- (3) pay to those witnesses the fees and mileage for their attendance as provided for witnesses in civil actions in district courts; and
- (4) administer oaths.

Art. 24.08. Violations

(a)(1) A person commits an offense if the person:

(A) intentionally, knowingly, recklessly, or negligently engages in the operation of a premium finance company without first obtaining a license;

(B) intentionally, knowingly, recklessly, or negligently acts in violation of this chapter;

(C) intentionally or knowingly omits to state any material fact necessary to give the board any information lawfully required of the person; or

(D) refuses to permit any lawful investigation or examination under this chapter.

(2) An offense under this chapter is a Class B misdemeanor.

(b) A premium finance company's taking or receiving from or charging an insured a greater charge than authorized by this chapter does not invalidate the premium finance agreement or the principal balance payable under the agreement but may be adjudged a forfeiture of all charges that the premium finance agreement carries with it or that have been agreed to be paid on the agreement. If a greater charge has been paid by an insured, the person paying the charge or the person's legal representative may recover from the premium finance agency twice the entire amount of the charges paid if action is brought within two years after the day on which the payment was made.

Art. 24.09. Rules

The board may adopt and enforce rules necessary to carry out this chapter. Those rules may contain the classifications, differentiations, or other provisions and may provide for the adjustments and exceptions for any class of transactions that are necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter, to prevent circumvention or evasion of this chapter, or to facilitate compliance with this chapter. Those rules may not contain any classification, differentiation, or other provision with respect to or provide for any adjustment or exception for any class of transaction that would result in less stringent disclosure requirements than afforded that class of transaction under the Federal Consumer Credit Protection Act of 1970 (15 U.S.C.A. Section 1601 et seq.; 18 U.S.C.A. Section 891 et seq.) and the applicable portions of Regulation Z (12 C.F.R. 226.1 et seq.).

Art. 24.10. Licensee's Books and Records

(a) The licensee shall keep and use books, accounts, and records that enable the board to determine whether the licensee is complying with this chapter and with the rules lawfully made by the board under this chapter. Every licensee shall preserve those books, accounts, and records, including cards used in a card system, if any, for at least two years after making the final entry of any premium finance agreement recorded in those books, accounts, and records.

(b) On or before the first day of April of each year each licensee shall file with the board a report giving the information that the board requires concerning the business and operations during the preceding calendar year of each licensed place of business conducted by the licensee in the state.

Art. 24.11. Written Premium Finance Agreement

(a) A premium finance agreement shall be in writing on a form approved by the board.

(b) The agreement shall be dated and signed by the insured. If the agreement contains policies for other than personal, family, or household purposes and if the premiums for the policies exceed $1,000, it may be signed on behalf of the insured by the insured's agent.

(c) The agreement must contain:

(1) the name and business address of the insurance agent or insurance broker negotiating the related insurance contract;

(2) the name and residence or business address of the insured as specified by the insured;

(3) the name and place of business of the premium finance company to which payments are to be made;

(4) a description of each insurance contract involved;

(5) the amount of the premium for each insurance contract;

(6) the total amount of the premiums for all insurance contracts;

(7) the amount of the down payment;

(8) the principal balance (difference between items (6) and (7));

(9) the total amount of the finance charge, with a description of each amount included, using the term "finance charge"; and

(10) the balance payable by the insured (sum of items (8) and (9)).

(d) The premium finance agreement in addition must contain the following items as applicable:

(1) the finance charge expressed as an annual percentage rate, using the term "annual percentage rate";

(2) the number of installments required, the amount of each installment expressed in dollars, and the due date or period of each installment;

(3) the amount or method of computing the amount of any default or delinquency charge that is payable in the event of late payment; and

(4) identification of the method of computing any unearned portion of the finance charge in the event of prepayment of the obligation.

(e) The disclosures required to be given shall be made clearly, conspicuously, and in meaningful sequence. Where the terms "finance charge" and "annual percentage rate" are required to be used, they shall be printed more conspicuously than other terminology required by this chapter. All numerical amounts and percentages shall be stated in figures and shall be printed in not less than the equivalent of 10-point type, 75/1,000 inch computer type, or elite size typewritten numerals or shall be legibly handwritten.

(f) It shall be a violation of this Act for any licensee to take an insurance premium finance agreement that has not been fully completed and executed at the time the insurance premium finance agreement is executed. The insurance agent is responsible for the completion of the insurance premium finance agreement and for delivery to the insured any and all disclosure statements that are required by any existing law.

(g) If, in a premium finance agreement, changes in an insured's policy due to amending of the rate classification by endorsement or otherwise result in an increased principal balance and the amount under the previous contract has not been fully paid, the subsequent increase may at the insured's option be included in and consolidated with the previous contract, if so provided in the premium finance agreement.

(h) Those additions may be accomplished by a memorandum of agreement between the agent and the insured, if before the first scheduled payment date of the amended transaction the premium finance company gives to the insured the following information in writing:

(1) the amount of the premium increase;

(2) the down payment on increase;

(3) the principal amount of increase;

(4) the total amount of finance charge on increase;

(5) the total of additional balance due;

(6) the outstanding balance of original agreement;

(7) the consolidated agreement balance;

(8) the annual percentage rate of finance charge on additional balance due;

(9) the revised schedule of payments;

(10) the amount or method of computing the amount of any default, deferment, or similar charges authorized in Chapter 3, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-3.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), payable in the event of late payments; and

(11) identification of the method of computing any unearned portion of the finance charge in the event of prepayment of the obligation.

Art. 24.12. Application of Truth-in-Lending Act

A transaction, although subject to this chapter, is also subject to the Consumer Credit Protection Act of 1970 (15 U.S.C.A. Section 1601 et seq.; 18 U.S.C.A. Section 891 et seq.) and those applicable portions of Regulation Z (12 C.F.R. 226.1 et seq.) adopted under that Act.

Art. 24.13. Deceptive Advertising

A licensee may not advertise or cause to be advertised in any manner whatsoever any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation with regard to the rates, terms, or conditions of any premium finance agreement. If rates or charges are stated in advertising, the licensee shall express them in terms of a simple annual percentage rate as defined by federal law.

Art. 24.14. Rebate of Finance Charge; Filing of Premium Finance Agreement

(a) A premium finance company or an employee of such a company may not pay or allow or offer to pay or allow in any manner whatsoever to an insurance agent or broker or any employee of an insurance agent or broker or to any other person any consideration or compensation whatsoever, either from the charge for financing specified in the premium finance agreement or otherwise, or give or offer to give any valuable consideration or inducement of any kind directly or indirectly to an insurance agent or broker or any employee of an insurance agent or broker other than an article of merchandise not exceeding $1 in value on which there is an advertisement of the premium finance company, except that nothing in this article prevents payments by a premium finance company under contractual arrangements with a validly organized and operating association of insurance agents or its subsidiary, so long as no part of any funds received under the agreement is distributed to any insurance agent or broker or employee of any insurance agent or broker or inures directly to the benefit of any member of the association or employee of the member. All of those contractual agreements must be in writing and are not valid until approval of the board has been received.

(b) Filing of a premium finance agreement or a financing statement is not necessary to perfect the validity of such an agreement as a secured transaction against creditors, subsequent purchasers, pledgees, encumbrancers, successors, or assigns of the insured or any other party.

Art. 24.15. Services Charges; Limitation of Charges; Computation

A premium finance company may not take or receive from an insured a greater rate or charge than is provided by Chapters 3 and 4, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-3.01 et seq. and Article 5069-4.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Those charges begin on the date from which the insurance company requires payment of the premium and payment was made to the insurance company for the finance policy or on the effective date of the policy, whichever is earlier. The finance charge shall be computed on the balance of the premiums due after subtracting the down payment made by the insured in accordance with the premium finance agreement. On insurance premium finance agreements made under this chapter, no insurance charges or any other charge or fee, except those authorized by this chapter, are permitted.

Art. 24.16. Prepayment; Refund

Notwithstanding the provisions of any premium finance agreement to the contrary, any insured may pay it in full at any time before the maturity of the final installment of the balance of the agreement, and if the insured does so and the agreement included an amount for a charge, the insured shall receive for the prepayment either by cash or by renewal a refund credit in accordance with the provisions for refunds contained in Section (6), Article 3.15, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-3.15, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the regulations issued under that article. Where the amount of the credit for anticipation of payments is less than $1, no refund need be made.

Art. 24.17. Default and Cancellation; Right to Cancel; Refund

(a) A premium finance agreement may provide for the payment of a default charge by the insured as provided in Section (5), Article 3.15, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-3.15, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the Insurance Code, and the regulations issued under those statutes.

(b) A premium finance agreement may contain a power of attorney enabling the premium finance company to cancel any insurance contract or contracts listed in the agreement. An insurance contract or contracts may not be canceled by the premium finance company unless the cancellation is effectuated in accordance with this section.

(c) If the insured fails to make the payments at the time and in the amount provided in the premium finance agreement, the premium finance company shall mail to the insured a written notice of the intent of the premium finance company to cancel the insurance contract because of the default in payments by the insured unless the default in payments is cured within a time certain stated in the notice. That time may not be earlier than the 10th day after the date on which the written notice was mailed. The premium finance company shall also mail a copy of the notice to the insurance agent or insurance broker indicated on the premium finance agreements.

(d) After expiration of the period given to cure the default, the premium finance company may cancel the insurance contract or contracts by mailing to the insurer a notice of cancellation. The insurance contract shall be canceled as if the notice of cancellation had been submitted by the insured, but without requiring the return of the insurance contract or contracts. The premium finance company shall also mail a notice of cancellation to the insured at the insured's last known address and to the insurance agent or insurance broker indicated on the premium finance agreement.

(e) All statutory, regulatory, and contractual restrictions providing that the insurance contract may not be canceled unless notice is given to a governmental agency, mortgagee, or other third party apply where cancellation is effected under this section. The insurer shall give the prescribed notice on behalf of itself or the insured to any governmental agency, mortgagee, or other third party on or before the second business day after the day on which it receives the notice of cancellation from the premium finance company and shall determine the effective date of cancellation taking into consideration the number of days' notice required to complete the cancellation.

(f) Whenever a financed insurance contract is canceled, the insurer shall return whatever unearned premiums are due under the insurance contract to the premium finance company either directly or through the agent or agency writing the insurance where an assignment of those funds is included in the premium finance agreement for the account of the insured or insureds.

(g) In the event that the crediting of return premiums to the account of the insured results in a surplus over the amount due from the insured, the premium finance company shall refund the excess to the insured. No refund is required if it amounts to less than $1.

Art. 24.18. Assignments

Unless the insured has notice of actual or intended assignment of a premium finance agreement, payment under the agreement by the insured to the last known holder of the agreement is binding on all subsequent holders or assignees.

Art. 24.19. Restrictions on Premium Finance Agreements

(a) A premium finance agreement may not contain any provision by which, in the absence of default of the insured, the premium finance company holding the agreement may arbitrarily and without reasonable cause accelerate the maturity of any part or all of the amount owing thereunder. Reasonable cause without limitation includes a proceeding in bankruptcy, receivership, or insolvency being instituted by or against the insured or the insolvency of or suspension of business or cessation of the right to conduct business by an insurance company writing policies that are financed for the insured under the premium finance agreement.

(b) A licensee may not take:

(1) any instrument in which the borrower waives any right accruing to the borrower under this chapter;

(2) any instrument that has not been fully completed and executed by the insured;

(3) an assignment of wages as security for any insurance premium finance agreement made under this chapter;

(4) a lien on real estate as security for any insurance premium finance agreement made under this chapter, except such a lien as is created by law on the recording of an abstract of judgment; or

(5) any confession of judgment or any power of attorney running to the licensee or to any third person to confess judgment or to appear for a borrower in a judicial proceeding.

Art. 24.20. Authority of Licensed Local Recording Agents to Charge Interest to Certain Purchasers of Insurance

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any person, partnership, or corporation duly licensed as a local recording agent under Article 21.14, Insurance Code, as amended, may enter into or establish a written agreement with any purchaser of insurance from the agent providing for the payment of interest to the agent in an amount not to exceed the rate of one percent a month on any amount due and owing to the agent for insurance purchased by the purchaser. In those instances the claim or defense of usury is prohibited.

Art. 24.21. Transfer of Records and Funds

(a) There shall be transferred to the State Board of Insurance from the consumer credit commissioner all records collected under Chapter 12, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-12.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), necessary to insure the continuous regulation of insurance premium finance companies by the State Board of Insurance. This transfer shall be made no later than January 1, 1980.

(b) The consumer credit commissioner and the State Board of Insurance shall cooperate to ensure an orderly transition period. It is the intent and desire of the legislature that the consumer credit commissioner and the State Board of Insurance consult with the state auditor, the comptroller of public accounts, the Legislative Budget Board, and any other state agency for the orderly transfer of all funds and records as outlined in Subsection (a) of this section from the consumer credit commissioner to the State Board of Insurance.

TEXAS PROBATE CODE

Chapter XI. Nontestamentary Transfers ----- Sec. 436

CHAPTER I. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section

5A. Matters Appertaining and Incident to an Estate.

§ 3. Definitions and Use of Terms

When used in this Code, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a) to (d)]

(e) "County Court" and "Probate Court" are synonymous terms and denote county courts in the exercise of their probate jurisdiction, courts created by statute and authorized to exercise original probate jurisdiction, and district courts exercising probate jurisdiction in contested matters.

(f) "County Judge," "Probate Judge," and "Judge" denote the presiding judge of any court having original jurisdiction over probate proceedings, whether it be a county court in the exercise of its probate jurisdiction, a court created by statute and authorized to exercise probate jurisdiction, or a district court exercising probate jurisdiction in contested matters.

(g) "Court" denotes and includes both a county court in the exercise of its probate jurisdiction, a court created by statute and authorized to exercise original probate jurisdiction, or a district court exercising original probate jurisdiction in contested matters.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (h) to (p)]

(q) "Independent executor" means the personal representative of an estate under independent administration as provided in Section 145 of this Code. The term "independent executor" includes the term "independent administrator."

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (r) to (s)]

(t) "Minors" are all persons under eighteen years of age who have never been married or who have not had disabilities of minority removed for general purposes.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (u) to (z)]

(aa) "Personal representative" or "Representative" includes executor, independent executor, administrator, independent administrator, temporary administrator, guardian, and temporary guardian, together with their successors. The inclusion of independent executors herein shall not be held to subject such representatives to control of the courts in probate matters with respect to settlement of estates except as expressly provided by law.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (bb) to (hh)]

(ii) "Statutory probate court" refers to any statutory court presently in existence or created after the passage of this Act, the jurisdiction of which is limited by statute to the general jurisdiction of a probate court, and such courts whose statutorily designated name contains the word "probate." County courts at law exercising probate jurisdiction are not statutory probate courts under this Code unless their statutorily designated name includes the word "probate."

(jj) "Next of kin" includes an adopted child or his or her descendants and the adoptive parent of the adopted child.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 104, ch. 45, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2195, ch. 701, § 1, eff. June 21, 1975; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1061, ch. 390, §§ 1, 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1977; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1740, ch. 713, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Acts 1977, 65th Leg., ch. 390, which by §§ 1 to 8 amended subsecs. (q) and (aa) of this section, §§ 145, 147, 148, 149A(a), (b), and 150 and added § 154A, provided in §§ 9 and 10:

"Sec. 9. All other laws in conflict with this Act are hereby repealed to the extent they conflict.

"Sec. 10. This Act shall become effective September 1, 1977, and shall apply to estates of decedents who die intestate after September 1, 1977."

§ 5. Jurisdiction of District Court and Other Courts of Record With Respect to Probate Proceedings and Appeals from Probate Orders

(a) The district court shall have original control and jurisdiction over executors, administrators, guardians and wards under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

(b) In those counties where there is no statutory probate court, county court at law or other statutory court exercising the jurisdiction of a probate court, all applications, petitions and motions regarding probate, administrations, guardianships, and mental illness matters shall be filed and heard in the county court, except that in contested probate matters, the judge of the county court may on his own motion, or shall on the motion of any party to the proceeding transfer such proceeding to the district court, which may then hear such proceeding as if originally filed in such court. In contested matters transferred to the district court in those counties, the district court, concurrently with the county court, shall have the general jurisdiction of a probate court, and it shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, transact all business appertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of deceased persons and to apprentice minors, as provided by law. Upon resolution of all pending contested matters, the probate proceeding shall be transferred by the district court to the county court for further proceedings not inconsistent with the orders of the district court.

(c) In those counties where there is a statutory probate court, county court at law, or other statutory court exercising the jurisdiction of a probate court, all applications, petitions and motions regarding probate, administrations, guardianships, and mental illness matters shall be filed and heard in such courts and the constitutional county court, rather than in the district courts, unless otherwise provided by the legislature, and the judges of such courts may hear any of such matters sitting for the judge of any of such courts. In contested probate matters, the judge of the constitutional county court may on his own motion, and shall on the motion of any party to the proceeding, transfer the proceeding to the statutory probate court, county court at law, or other statutory court exercising the jurisdiction of a probate court, which may then hear the proceeding as if originally filed in such court.

(d) All courts exercising original probate jurisdiction shall have the power to hear all matters incident to an estate. When a surety is called on to perform in place of an administrator or guardian, all courts exercising original probate jurisdiction may award judgment against the personal representative in favor of his surety in the same suit.

(e) All final orders of any court exercising original probate jurisdiction shall be appealable to the courts of (civil) appeals.

§ 5A. Matters Appertaining and Incident to an Estate

(a) In proceedings in the constitutional county courts and statutory county courts at law, the phrases "appertaining to estates" and "incident to an estate" in this Code include the probate of wills, the issuance of letters testamentary and of administration, the determination of heirship, and also include, but are not limited to, all claims by or against an estate, all actions for trial of title to land incident to an estate and for the enforcement of liens thereon incident to an estate, all actions for trial of the right of property incident to an estate, and actions to construe wills, and generally all matters relating to the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of wards and deceased persons.

(b) In proceedings in the statutory probate courts and district courts, the phrases "appertaining to estates" and "incident to an estate" in this Code include the probate of wills, the issuance of letters testamentary and of administration, and the determination of heirship, and also include, but are not limited to, all claims by or against an estate, all actions for trial of title to land and for the enforcement of liens thereon, all actions for trial of the right of property, all actions to construe wills, the interpretation and administration of testamentary trusts and the applying of constructive trusts, and generally all matters relating to the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of wards and deceased persons. All statutory probate courts may, in the exercise of their jurisdiction, notwithstanding any other provisions of this Code, hear all suits, actions, and applications filed against or on behalf of any guardianship, heirship proceeding, or decedent's estate, including estates administered by an independent executor. This subsection shall be construed in conjunction with and in harmony with Section 145 and all other sections of this Code dealing with independent executors, but shall not be construed so as to increase permissible judicial control over independent executors. All statutory probate courts shall have the same powers over independent executors that are exercisable by the district courts. In situations where the jurisdiction of a statutory probate court is concurrent with that of a district court, any cause of action appertaining to estates or incident to an estate shall be brought in a statutory probate court rather than in the district court. [Added by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1741, ch. 713, § 3, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

§ 28. Personal Representative to Serve Pending Appeal of Appointment

Pending appeals from orders or judgments appointing administrators or guardians or temporary administrators or guardians, the appointees shall continue to act as such and shall continue the prosecution of any suits then pending in favor of the estate.

§ 36. Duty and Responsibility of Judge

It shall be the duty of each county and probate court to use reasonable diligence to see that personal representatives of estates being administered under orders of the court, guardians of the persons of wards, and other officers of the court, perform the duty enjoined upon them by law pertaining to such estates and wards. The judge shall annually, if in his opinion the same be necessary, examine the condition of each of said estates, the well-being of each ward of the court, and the solvency of the bonds of personal representatives of estate and guardians of persons. He shall, at any time he finds that the personal representative's bond is not sufficient to protect such estate or ward, require such personal representatives to execute a new bond in accordance with law. In each case, he shall notify the personal representative, and the sureties on the bond, as provided by law; and should damage or loss result to estates or wards through the gross neglect of the judge to use reasonable diligence in the performance of his duty, he shall be liable on his bond to those damaged by such neglect.

CHAPTER II. DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION

§ 37A. Means of Evidencing Disclaimer or Renunciation of Property or Interest Receivable from a Decedent Under a Will or by an Inheritance

Any person, or the personal representative of an incompetent, deceased, or minor person, with prior court approval of the court having, or which would have, jurisdiction over such personal representative or any independent executor of a deceased person, without prior court approval, who may be entitled to receive any property from a decedent by an insurance contract or under any will of or by inheritance from a decedent and who intends to effect disclaimer irrevocably on or after September 1, 1977, of the whole or any part of such property shall evidence same as herein provided. A disclaimer evidenced as provided herein, shall be effective as of the death of decedent and the property subject thereof shall pass as if the person disclaiming or on whose behalf a disclaimer is made had predeceased the decedent unless decedent's will provides otherwise. Failure to comply with the provisions hereof shall render such disclaimer ineffective except as an assignment of such property to those who would have received same had the person attempting the disclaimer died prior to the decedent. The term "property" as used in this section shall include all legal and equitable interests, powers, and property, whether present or future, whether vested or contingent, and whether beneficial or burdensome, in whole or in part. The term "disclaimer" as used in this section shall include "renunciation." Nothing in this section shall be construed to preclude a subsequent disclaimer by any person who shall be entitled to property as a result of a disclaimer.

The following shall apply to such disclaimers:

(a) Written Memorandum of Disclaimer and Filing Thereof.

In the case of property receivable under a will or by inheritance or by an insurance contract, the disclaimer shall be evidenced by a written memorandum, acknowledged before a notary public or other person authorized to take acknowledgements of conveyances of real estate. A written memorandum of disclaimer disclaiming a present interest shall be filed not later than nine months after the death of the decedent and a written memorandum of disclaimer disclaiming a future interest may be filed not later than nine months after the event determining that the taker of the property or interest is finally ascertained and his interest is indefeasibly vested. The written memorandum of disclaimer shall be filed in the probate court in which the decedent's will has been probated or in which proceedings have been commenced for the administration of the decedent's estate or which has before it an application for either of the same; provided, however, if the administration of the decedent's estate is closed, or after the expiration of one year following the date of the issuance of letters testamentary in an independent administration, or if there has been no will of the decedent probated or filed for probate, or if no administration of the decedent's estate has been commenced, or if no application for administration of the decedent's estate has been filed, the written memorandum of disclaimer shall be filed with the county clerk of the county of the decedent's residence, or, if the decedent is not a resident of this state but real property or an interest therein located in this state is disclaimed, a written memorandum of disclaimer shall be filed with the county clerk of the county in which such real property or interest therein is located, and recorded by such county clerk in the deed records of that county.

(b) Notice of Disclaimer.

Copies of any written memorandum of disclaimer shall be delivered in person to, or shall be mailed by registered or certified mail to and received by, the legal representative of the transferor of the interest or the holder of legal title to the property to which the disclaimer relates not later than nine months after the date on which the transfer creating the interest in the disclaiming person is made.

(c) Power of Testator to Provide for Disclaimer. Nothing herein shall prevent a testator from providing in a will for the making of disclaimers by legatees, devisees, and beneficiaries and for the disposition of disclaimed property in a manner different from the provisions hereof.

(d) Irrevocability of Disclaimer. Any disclaimer filed and served under this section shall be irrevocable.

(e) Partial Disclaimer. Any person who may be entitled to receive any property from a decedent by an insurance contract or under any will of or by inheritance from a decedent may disclaim such property in whole or in part, including but not limited to specific powers of invasion, powers of appointment, and fee estate in favor of life estates; and a partial disclaimer or renunciation, in accordance with the provisions of this section, shall be effective whether the property so renounced or disclaimed constitutes a portion of a single, aggregate gift or constitutes part or all of a separate, independent gift; provided, however, that a partial disclaimer shall be effective only with respect to property expressly described or referred to by category in such disclaimer; and provided further, that a partial disclaimer of property which is subject to a burdensome interest created by the decedent's will shall not be effective unless such property constitutes a gift which is separate and distinct from undisclaimed gifts.

(f) Disclaimer After Acceptance. No disclaimer shall be effective after the acceptance of the property by the heir, legatee, devisee, or beneficiary. For the purpose of this section, acceptance shall occur only if the person making such disclaimer has previously taken possession or exercised dominion and control of such property in the capacity of heir, legatee, devisee, or beneficiary.

§ 42. Inheritance Rights of Legitimated Children

(a) Maternal Inheritance. For the purpose of inheritance, a child is the legitimate child of his mother, so that he and his issue shall inherit from his mother and from his maternal kindred, both descendants, ascendants, and collaterals in all degrees, and they may inherit from him and his issue.

(b) Paternal Inheritance. For the purpose of inheritance, a child is the legitimate child of his father if the child is born or conceived before or during the marriage of his father and mother or is legitimated by a court decree as provided by Chapter 13 of the Family Code, or if the father executed a statement of paternity as provided by Section 13.22 of the Family Code, or a like statement properly executed in another jurisdiction, so that he and his issue shall inherit from his father and from his paternal kindred, both descendants, ascendants, and collaterals in all degrees, and they may inherit from him and his issue.

(c) Homestead Rights, Exempt Property, and Family Allowances. A legitimate child as provided by Subsections (a) and (b) of this section is a legitimate child of his mother, and a legitimate child of his father, for the purpose of determining homestead rights, distribution of exempt property, and the making of family allowances.

(d) Marriages Null in Law. The issue also of marriages deemed null in law shall nevertheless be legitimate.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 762, ch. 290, § 1, eff. May 28, 1977; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 40, ch. 24, § 25, eff. Aug. 27, 1979; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1743, ch. 713, § 5, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

§ 47. Requirement of Survival by 120 Hours

(a) Survival of Heirs. A person who fails to survive the decedent by 120 hours is deemed to have predeceased the decedent for purposes of homestead allowance, exempt property, and intestate succession, and the decedent's heirs are determined accordingly, except as otherwise provided in this section. If the time of death of the decedent or of the person who would otherwise be an heir, or the times of death of both, cannot be determined, and it cannot be established that the person who would otherwise be an heir has survived the decedent by 120 hours, it is deemed that the person failed to survive for the required period. This subsection does not apply where its application would result in the escheat of an intestate estate.

(b) Disposal of Community Property. When a husband and wife have died, leaving community property, and neither the husband nor wife survived the other by 120 hours, one-half of all community property shall be distributed as if the husband had survived, and the other one-half thereof shall be distributed as if the wife had survived. The provisions of this subsection apply to proceeds of life or accident insurance which are community property and become payable to the estate of either the husband or the wife, as well as to other kinds of community property.

(c) Survival of Devisees or Beneficiaries. A devisee who does not survive the testator by 120 hours is treated as if he predeceased the testator, unless the will of the decedent contains some language dealing explicitly with simultaneous death or deaths in a common disaster, or requiring that the devisee survive the testator or survive the testator for a stated period in order to take under the will. If property is so disposed of that the right of a beneficiary to succeed to any interest therein is conditional upon his surviving another person, the beneficiary shall be deemed not to have survived unless he or she survives the person by 120 hours. However, if any interest in property is given alternatively to one of two or more beneficiaries, with the right of each to take being dependent upon his surviving the other or others, and all shall die within a period of less than 120 hours, the property shall be divided into as many equal portions as there are beneficiaries, and those portions shall be distributed respectively to those who would have taken in the event that each beneficiary had survived.

(d) Joint Owners. If any stocks, bonds, bank deposits, or other intangible property shall be so owned that one of two joint owners is entitled to the whole on the death of the other, and neither survives the other by 120 hours, these assets shall be distributed one-half as if one joint owner had survived and the other one-half as if the other joint owner had survived. If there are more than two joint owners and all have died within a period of less than 120 hours, these assets shall be divided into as many equal portions as there are joint owners and these portions shall be distributed respectively to those who would have taken in the event that each joint owner survived.

(e) Insured and Beneficiary. When the insured and a beneficiary in a policy of life or accident insurance have died within a period of less than 120 hours, the insured shall be deemed to have survived the beneficiary for the purpose of determining the rights under the policy of the beneficiary or beneficiaries as such. The provisions of this subsection shall not prevent the application of subsection (b) above to the proceeds of life or accident insurance which are community property.

(f) Instruments Providing Different Disposition. When provision has been made in the case of wills, living trusts, deeds, or contracts of insurance, or any other situation, for disposition of property different from the provisions of this Section, this Section shall not apply.

CHAPTER III. DETERMINATION OF HEIRSHIP

§ 48. Proceedings to Declare Heirship. When and Where Instituted

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of
(a) and (b)]

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a probate court in which the proceedings for the guardianship of the estate of a ward who dies intestate were pending at the time of the death of the ward may, if there is no administration pending in the estate, determine and declare who are the heirs and only heirs of the ward, and their respective shares and interests, under the laws of this State, in the estate of the ward.

§ 49. Who May Institute Proceedings to Declare Heirship

(a) Such proceedings may be instituted and maintained in any of the instances enumerated above by any person or persons claiming to be the owner of the whole or a part of the estate of such decedent, or by the guardian of the estate of a ward, if the proceedings are instituted and maintained in the probate court in which the proceedings for the guardianship of the estate were pending at the time of the death of the ward. In such a case an application shall be filed in a proper court stating the following information:

(1) the name of the decedent and the time and place of death;

(2) the names and residences of the decedent's heirs, the relationship of each heir to the decedent, and the true interest of the applicant and each of the heirs in the estate of the decedent;

(h) The jurisdiction of the court over the guardianship is continuing. If the missing person returns, on motion of any interested person after a notice, stating that the motion has been filed and specifying the date of a hearing, has been issued and served on the formerly missing person as in other cases, the court shall amend or vacate the original order of guardianship. A copy of the motion shall accompany the notice.

§ 130D. Filing Fee

A fee of $15 shall be charged for filing a petition for limited guardianship, and a fee of $4 shall be charged for the service of notice and citation. However, no fees shall be charged by the court for filing a petition for limited guardianship unless the alleged mentally retarded person has an estate valued in excess of $1500. A party may file with the county clerk an affidavit stating that the estate of the alleged mentally retarded person is valued at less than $1500, and the clerk shall thereupon accept the application and issue process and perform all other services required of him in the same manner as if security had been given.

§ 130E. Notices and Citations in Limited Guardianship Proceedings

(a) On the filing of an application for appointment of a limited guardian, the clerk shall issue a notice setting forth that the application has been filed for the limited guardianship, the name of the person for whom the guardian is sought and the nature of the disability, and by whom the application is made. The notice shall cite all persons interested in the welfare of that person to appear at the time and place stated in the notice and contest the application, if they so desire.

(b) The notice shall be served by posting, and the sheriff or other officer posting the notice shall return the original, signed officially and stating thereon in writing the time and place that he posted the copy.

(c) The alleged mentally retarded person and his parents, if the parents can be found within this state, or the conservator or any person having control of the care and welfare of the alleged mentally retarded person shall be personally served with citation to appear and answer the application for the appointment of a limited guardian. Notwithstanding the foregoing, all persons then living who stand in the first degree of consanguinity or affinity to the alleged mentally retarded person shall be given notice if their whereabouts are known or can be reasonably ascertained.

§ 130F. Examination and Report

Within 30 days after the filing of the petition for limited guardianship, the person alleged to be mentally retarded shall be examined at a facility approved by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to perform such service. The examination shall be conducted in accordance with rules promulgated by the commissioner of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. The facility shall submit a written report of its findings and recommendations to the court with copies to the alleged mentally retarded person and the petitioner. The report may include a description of the alleged mentally retarded person's degree of incompetency, if any. The findings and recommendations of the examinations shall not be binding on the court.

§ 130G. Hearing

The person alleged to be mentally retarded shall be present at the hearing, unless the court determines that such personal appearance would not be in the person's best interest. He is entitled to be represented by counsel. If he is unable to pay for counsel, the county is responsible for costs of counsel. He is entitled, on request, to a jury trial. The hearing may be closed if the person alleged to be mentally retarded or his counsel requests a closed hearing. At the hearing, the court shall:

(1) inquire into the nature and extent of the general intellectual functioning of the individual asserted to need a limited guardian;

(2) evaluate the extent of the impairment in his adaptive behavior;

(3) ascertain his capacity to care for himself and manage his property; and

§ 130H. Order of the Court

If it is found that the alleged mentally retarded person possesses the capacity to care for himself and to manage his property as would a reasonably prudent person or if it is found that the alleged mentally retarded person is totally without capacity to care for himself and to manage his property, the court shall dismiss the petition for the appointment of a limited guardian. If it is found that the alleged mentally retarded person lacks the capacity to do some, but not all, of the tasks necessary to care for himself or to manage his property, the court may appoint a limited guardian for the individual and shall define the powers and duties of the limited guardian so as to permit the mentally retarded person to care for himself or to manage his property commensurate with his ability to do so. However, the powers and duties granted to and imposed on the limited guardian by the court in its order shall not duplicate or be in conflict with the powers and duties of any other limited guardian, and the powers and duties shall not exceed those applicable to full guardians under this code. An order appointing a limited guardian shall contain findings of fact and shall also specify:

(1) the properties of the mentally retarded person to which the limited guardian is entitled to possession and management, giving the description of the properties that will be sufficient to identify them;

(2) the debts, rentals, wages, or other claims due the mentally retarded person which the limited guardian is entitled to collect, or file suit with respect to, if necessary, and thereafter to possess and manage;

(3) the contractual or other obligations which the limited guardian may incur on behalf of the mentally retarded person;

(4) the claims against the mentally retarded person which the limited guardian may pay, compromise, or defend, if necessary; and

(5) any other powers, limitations, or duties with respect to the care of the mentally retarded person or the management of his property by the limited guardian which the court shall specifically and explicitly specify.

§ 130I. Who May be Guardians

(a) Only a person, institution, or corporation found by the court to be suitable may be appointed limited guardian of a mentally retarded person. The court shall not customarily or ordinarily appoint the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation or a community mental health and mental retardation center, or any other agency, public or private, that is directly providing services to the mentally retarded person, except as a last resort.

(b) Prior to appointment, the court shall make reasonable effort to question the mentally retarded person concerning his preference of the person to be appointed limited guardian, and a preference indicated shall be given due consideration by the court. [Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1171, ch. 449, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

§ 130J. Certain Duties of Limited Guardian

(a) It is the duty of the limited guardian to file annually within 30 days after the anniversary date of his appointment and also within 30 days after termination of his appointment as the limited guardian a written verified account of his administration. The court in its discretion may also allow such accounts to be filed at intervals of up to 36 months, with instructions to the limited guardian that any substantial increase in income or assets or substantial change in the mentally retarded person's condition shall be reported within 30 days of the substantial increase or change.

(b) It is the duty of the limited guardian who is managing properties to prepare and file within three months after his appointment a verified inventory of all the property of the mentally retarded person which shall come to his possession or knowledge, including a statement of all encumbrances, liens, and other secured charges on any item.

(c) To the extent that the order of the court gives the limited guardian control of any property of a mentally retarded person, the limited guardian must take care of and manage the property as a prudent man would manage his own property.

(d) Pursuant to the orders of the court, the limited guardian may expend funds of the limited guardianship in order to care for and maintain the mentally retarded person, including making application for residential care and services provided by public or private facilities. The limited guardian is required to report the condition of the mentally retarded person to the court at regular intervals or otherwise as the court may direct. If the person is receiving residential care in a public or private residential care facility, the limited guardian shall report to the court the necessity for continued care in the facility. [Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1171, ch. 449, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

§ 130K. Oath and Bond of Limited Guardian

The limited guardian shall take and subscribe an oath and, unless dispensed with by order of the court, shall file a bond in accordance with the provisions of Section 194, Texas Probate Code, as amended, except that in a limited guardianship of the person and in a limited guardianship of the estate in which the inventory filed with the court shows that the person has total accumulated assets of a value of less than $1500, the court may dispense with the requirement of a bond. If the court dispenses with a bond, the limited guardian shall report to the court any known changes in the accumulated assets of the mentally retarded person that increase the value to more than $1500.

§ 130L. Authority of Limited Guardian

On the filing of the oath and bond, if any, the order of the court appointing the limited guardian shall become effective without the necessity for issuance of letters of guardianship. The order shall be evidence of the authority of the limited guardian to act within the scope of the powers and duties set forth in the order.

§ 130M. Termination, Removal, or Resignation of Limited Guardian

(a) The limited guardianship shall be settled and closed when the mentally retarded person has died, or when he has been found by the court to have full capacity to care for himself and to manage his property, or when a full guardian of the person or estate of such individual has been appointed in this state and has qualified, or being married, when such individual's spouse has qualified as survivor in community.

(b) On petition of the mentally retarded person or any person interested in his welfare and on such notice as the court may direct, the court may remove the limited guardian if the court finds that to be in the best interest of the mentally retarded person. On petition of the limited guardian, the court may accept his resignation.

(c) When a limited guardian dies, resigns, or is removed, the court may, on application and on such notice as the court may direct, appoint a successor limited guardian. A successor limited guardian shall have all of the powers and rights and shall be subject to all of the duties of the prior limited guardian.

(d) An order appointing a limited guardian or a successor limited guardian may specify a minimum period, not exceeding one year, during which no petition for adjudication that the mentally retarded person no longer requires the limited guardianship may be filed without special leave. Subject to this restriction, the mentally retarded person or any person interested in his welfare may petition the court for an order that he is no longer in need of the limited guardianship and that requires the removal or resignation of the limited guardian. A request for this order may be made by informal letter to the court or judge, and a person who knowingly interferes with the transmission of this kind of request to the court or judge may be adjudged guilty of contempt of court.

§ 130N. Venue

A proceeding for the appointment of a limited guardian of a mentally retarded person shall begin in the county where the mentally retarded person resides or where his principal estate is situated.

§ 130O. Transfer of Venue

A court having venue of a limited guardianship proceeding may transfer venue of the limited guardianship proceeding to the court of any other county of the state on application of the limited guardian and with such notice to the mentally retarded person or other interested party as the court may require. A transfer of a limited guardianship proceeding shall be made to the court of the county in which either the limited guardian or the mentally retarded person resides, as the court may deem appropriate, at the time of making application for the transfer. The original order providing for a transfer shall be retained as the permanent record by the clerk of the court in which the order is entered, and a certified copy thereof, together with the original file in the limited guardianship proceeding and a certified transcript of all record entries up to and including the order for the change, shall be transmitted to the clerk of the court to which the proceeding is transferred.

PART 3. SMALL ESTATES

§ 137. Collection of Small Estates Upon Affidavit

The distributees of an estate shall be entitled thereto, to the extent that the assets, exclusive of homestead and exempt property, exceed the known liabilities of said estate, without awaiting the appointment of a personal representative when:

(a) No petition for the appointment of a personal representative is pending or has been granted; and

(b) Thirty days have elapsed since the death of the decedent; and

(c) The value of the entire assets of the estate, not including homestead and exempt property, does not exceed $50,000; and

(d) There is filed with the clerk of the court having jurisdiction and venue an affidavit sworn to by such distributees as have legal capacity, and, if the facts warrant, by the natural guardian or next of kin of any minor or incompetent who is also a distributee, which affidavit shall be approved by the judge of the court having jurisdiction and venue, to be recorded in "Small Estates" records by the clerk, showing the existence of the foregoing conditions, including a list of the assets and liabilities of the estate, the names and addresses of the distributees, and their right to receive the money or property of the estate, or to have such evidences of money, property or other rights of the estate as found to exist transferred to them, being heirs, devisees, or assignees, and listing all assets and known liabilities of the estates; and

Henceforth the county clerk of every county in this state shall provide and keep in his office an appropriate book labeled "Small Estates," with accurate index, in which he shall record every such affidavit so filed, upon being paid his legal recording fee, said index to show the name of decedent and reference to land, if any, involved.

§ 144. Payment of Claims Without Guardianship

(a) To Residents. Whenever a resident minor, or whenever a resident person legally adjudged to be of unsound mind or to be an habitual or common drunkard sometimes referred to in this Section as "creditor," being without a legal guardian of his person or estate, shall be entitled to money in an amount not exceeding Ten Thousand Dollars, the right to which is liquidated and is uncontested in any pending lawsuit, the debtor may pay same to the County Clerk of the county in which such creditor resides in this state, for the account of such creditor, giving his name, the nature of his disability, and if a minor his age, and his post-office address, and the receipt for such money signed by the clerk shall be forever binding on such creditor as of the date and to the extent of such payment. Upon receipt of such payment by the clerk, he shall forthwith call same to the attention of the court and shall invest such money as authorized by the Probate Code pursuant to the orders of the court in the name and for the account of such minor or other person entitled to same, and by letter mailed to the address given by the debtor, shall apprise such creditor of the fact that such deposit has been made. Any increase, dividend or income from such investments shall be credited to the account of such minor or other person entitled to such investment. Any money heretofore deposited under the terms of this section which has not been paid out shall within thirty (30) days after the effective date of this Act be subject to the provisions of this Act as amended.

Within sixty (60) days from the first day of each calendar year the clerk of the court shall make a report to the court in writing of the status of such investments. Such report shall contain the following:

- (1) The amount of the original investment or the amount of the investment at the last annual report, whichever is later.
- (2) Any increase, dividend or income from such investment since the last annual report.
- (3) The total amount of the investment and all increases, dividends or income at the date of the report.
- (4) The name of the depository or the type of investment.

The father or mother or unestranged spouse of such creditor, priority being given to such spouse, residing in this state or if there be no such spouse and both father and mother be dead or nonresidents of this state, then the person residing in this state who has actual custody of such creditor, may as custodian, upon filing with such clerk written application and bond approved by the County Judge of such county, withdraw such money from the clerk for the use and benefit of such creditor, such bond to be in double the amount of said money and to be payable to the judge or his successors in office and to be conditioned that such custodian will use said money for the benefit of such creditor under directions of the court and that he will, when legally called upon to do so, faithfully account to such creditor, his heirs or legal representatives for such money and any increase thereof upon removal of the disability to which such creditor is subject, or upon his death or the appointment of a guardian. No fees or commissions shall be allowed to such custodian for taking care of, handling or expending such money so withdrawn by him.

When such custodian shall have expended such money in accordance with directions of the court or shall have otherwise complied with the terms of his bond by accounting for said money and any increase, he shall file with the County Clerk of said county his sworn report of his accounting, the filing of which report, when approved by the court shall operate as a discharge of said person as custodian and his sureties from all further liability under said bond. The court shall satisfy itself that the report is true and correct and may require proof as in other cases.

(b) To Non-Resident. Whenever a non-resident minor or whenever a non-resident person duly adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be of unsound mind or to be an habitual drunkard, having no legal guardian qualified in this state, is entitled to money in an amount, not exceeding Ten Thousand Dollars owing as a result of transactions within this state, the right to which is liquidated and is uncontested in any pending lawsuit in this state, the debtor in this state may pay such money to the guardian of such creditor duly qualified in his domiciliary jurisdiction or to the county clerk of any county in this state in which real property owned by such non-resident person is situated. If such person is not known to own any real property in any county in this state such debtor shall have the right to pay such money to the county clerk of the county of this state in which the debtor resides. In either case, such payment to the clerk shall be for the use and benefit and for the account of such non-resident creditor, and the receipt for such payment signed by the clerk, reciting the name of such creditor and his post-office address, if known, shall be forever binding against such creditor as of the date and to the extent of such payment. Such money so paid to such clerk shall be handled by him in the same manner as above provided for in cases of payments to the clerk for the accounts of residents of this state, and all applicable provisions of Subsection (a) above shall apply to the handling and disposition of money or any increase, dividend, or income herefrom so paid to the clerk for the use, benefit, and account of such non-resident creditor.

(c) When the Deposit Is Not Withdrawn by Another Person. If no person authorized hereunder withdraws such money from the clerk as provided for in this Section, then the creditor himself, after termination of his disability, or his subsequent personal representatives or heirs, as the case may be, may at any time, without special bond for the purpose, withdraw such money upon simply exhibiting to the clerk an order of the county or probate court of the county where such money is held by the clerk, directing the clerk to deliver such money to such creditor or to his personal representative or heirs named in such order, the identity of such persons and their credentials being first proved to the satisfaction of the court.

(d) Money in the Registry of a Court and Belonging to an Inmate of a State Eleemosynary

Institute. Whenever it is made to appear to the judge of a county court, district court, or other court of the State of Texas, by an affidavit executed by the superintendent, business manager or field representative of any eleemosynary institution of the State of Texas, that a certain inmate therein is a lunatic, idiot, person of unsound mind or a person whose mental illness or mental incapacity, or both, renders him incapable of caring for himself and managing his property and financial affairs, and there is no known legal guardian appointed for the estate of such inmate, and that there is on deposit in the registry of the court a certain sum of money belonging to the inmate and not exceeding the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars, the judge of the court may order the disposition of the funds as herein provided. The judge of the court, upon satisfactory proof by affidavit or otherwise, that the inmate is a lunatic, idiot, person of unsound mind, or a person whose mental illness or mental incapacity, or both, renders him incapable of caring for himself and managing his property and financial affairs, without a legally appointed guardian of his estate, may by order direct the clerk of the court to pay the money to the institution for the use and benefit of the inmate. The State institution to which the payment is made shall not be required to give bond or security for receiving the fund from the registry of the court, and the receipt from the State institution for such payment, or the cancelled check or warrant by which the payment was made, shall be sufficient evidence of the disposition thereof and the clerk of the court shall be relieved of further responsibility therefor. Upon receipt of the money the institution shall deposit all of the amount received to the trust account of the inmate, to be used by or for the personal use of the owner thereof under the regulations or custom of the institution in the expenditure of such funds by the inmate or for the use and benefit of the inmate by the responsible officer of the institution. The provisions of this subdivision shall be cumulative of all other laws affecting the rights of lunatics, idiots, persons of unsound mind or of mental illness, and moneys belonging to such persons as inmates of a state eleemosynary institution.

Should such inmate become deceased leaving a balance in his trust account, such balance may be applied on the burial expenses of said inmate, or applied on his care, support and treatment account at said institution. After the expenditure of all funds in such trust account or after the death of such inmate the responsible officer shall furnish a statement of expenditures of such funds to nearest relative entitled to such statement; and, a copy of such statement shall be filed with the court which first granted the order to dispose of the funds in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

PART 4. INDEPENDENT ADMINISTRATION

§ 145. Independent Administration

(a) Independent administration of an estate may be created as provided in Subsections (b) through (e) of this section.

(b) Any person capable of making a will may provide in his will that no other action shall be had in the county court in relation to the settlement of his estate than the probating and recording of his will, and the return of an inventory, appraisalment, and list of claims of his estate.

(c) In situations where an executor is named in a decedent's will, but the will does not provide for independent administration of the decedent's estate as provided in Subsection (b) of this section, all of the distributees of the decedent may agree on the advisability of having an independent administration and collectively designate in the application for probate of the decedent's will the executor named in the will to serve as independent executor and request in the application that no other action shall be had in the county court in relation to the settlement of the decedent's estate other than the probating and recording of the decedent's will, and the return of an inventory, appraisalment, and list of claims of the decedent's estate. In such case the county court shall enter an order granting independent administration and appointing the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as independent executor, unless the county court finds that it would not be in the best interest of the estate to do so.

(d) In situations where no executor is named in the decedent's will, or in situations where each executor named in the will is deceased or is disqualified to serve as executor or indicates by affidavit filed with the application for administration of the decedent's estate his inability or unwillingness to serve as executor, all of the distributees of the decedent may agree on the advisability of having an independent administration and collectively designate in the application for probate of the decedent's will a qualified person, firm, or corporation to serve as independent administrator and request in the application that no other action shall be had in the county court in relation to the settlement of the decedent's estate other than the probating and recording of the decedent's will, and the return of an inventory, appraisalment, and list of claims of the decedent's estate. In such case the county court shall enter an order granting independent administration and appointing the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as independent administrator, unless the county court finds that it would not be in the best interest of the estate to do so.

(e) All of the distributees of a decedent dying intestate may agree on the advisability of having an independent administration and collectively designate in the application for administration of the decedent's estate a qualified person, firm, or corporation to serve as independent administrator and request in the application that no other action shall be had in the county court in relation to the settlement of the decedent's estate other than the return of an inventory, appraisalment, and list of claims of the decedent's estate. In such case the county court shall enter an order granting independent administration and appointing the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as independent administrator, unless the county court finds that it would not be in the best interest of the estate to do so.

(f) In those cases where an independent administration is sought under the provisions of Subsections (c) through (e) above, all distributees shall be served with citation and notice of the application for independent administration unless the distributee waives the issuance or service of citation or enters an appearance in court.

(g) In no case shall any independent administrator be appointed by any court to serve in any intestate administration until those parties seeking the appointment of said independent administrator offer clear and convincing evidence to the court that they constitute all of the said decedent's heirs.

(h) When an independent administration has been created, and the order appointing an independent executor has been entered by the county court, and the inventory, appraisalment, and list aforesaid has been filed by the executor and approved by the county court, as long as the estate is represented by an independent executor, further action of any nature shall not be had in the county court except where this Code specifically and explicitly provides for some action in the county court.

(i) If a distributee described in Subsections (c) through (e) of this section is a minor or an incompetent, the guardian of the person of the distributee may sign the application on behalf of the distributee. If the county court finds that either the granting of independent administration or the appointment of the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as independent executor would not be in the best interests of the minor or incompetent, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Subsections (c) through (e) of this section, the county court shall not enter an order granting independent administration of the estate. If such distributee who is a minor or incompetent has no guardian of the person, the county court may appoint a guardian ad litem to make application on behalf of the minor or incompetent if the county court considers such an appointment necessary to protect the interest of the distributees.

(j) If a trust is created in the decedent's will, the person or class of persons first eligible to receive the income from the trust, when determined as if the trust were to be in existence on the date of the decedent's death, shall, for the purposes of Subsections (c) and (d) of this section, be deemed to be the distributee or distributees on behalf of such trust, and any other trust or trusts coming into existence upon the termination of such trust, and are authorized to apply for independent administration on behalf of the trusts without the consent or agreement of the trustee or any other beneficiary of the trust, or the trustee or any beneficiary of any other trust which may come into existence upon the termination of such trust.

(k) If a life estate is created either in the decedent's will or by law, the life tenant or life tenants, when determined as if the life estate were to commence on the date of the decedent's death, shall, for the purposes of Subsections (c) through (e) of this section, be deemed to be the distributee or distributees on behalf of the entire estate created, and are authorized to apply for independent administration on behalf of the estate without the consent or approval of any remainderman.

(l) If a decedent's will contains a provision that a distributee must survive the decedent by a prescribed period of time in order to take under the decedent's will, then, for the purposes of determining who shall be the distributee under Subsections (c), (d), (h), and (i) of this section, it shall be presumed that the distributees living at the time of the filing of the application for probate of the decedent's will survived the decedent by the prescribed period.

(m) In the case of all decedents, whether dying testate or intestate, for the purposes of determining who shall be the distributees under Subsections (c), (d), (e), (h), and (i) of this section, it shall be presumed that no distributee living at the time the application for independent administration is filed shall subsequently disclaim any portion of such distributee's interest in the decedent's estate.

(n) If a distributee of a decedent's estate should die and if by virtue of such distributee's death such distributee's share of the decedent's estate shall become payable to such distributee's estate, then the deceased distributee's personal representative may sign the application for independent administration of the decedent's estate under Subsections (c), (d), (e), (h), and (i) of this section.

(o) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section, a person capable of making a will may provide in his will that no independent administration of his estate may be allowed. In such case, his estate, if administered, shall be administered and settled under the direction of the county court as other estates are required to be settled.

(p) If an independent administration of a decedent's estate is created pursuant to Subsections (c), (d), or (e) of this section, then, unless the county court shall waive bond on application for waiver, the independent executor shall be required to enter into bond payable to and to be approved by the judge and his or her successors in a sum that is found by the judge to be adequate under all circumstances, or a bond with one surety in a sum that is found by the judge to be adequate under all circumstances, if the surety is an authorized corporate surety. This subsection does not repeal any other section of this Code.

(q) Absent proof of fraud or collusion on the part of a judge, no judge may be held civilly liable for the commission of misdeeds, or the omission of any required act of any person, firm, or corporation designated as an independent executor under Subsections (c), (d), and (e) of this section.

§ 147. Enforcement of Claims by Suit

Any person having a debt or claim against the estate may enforce the payment of the same by suit against the independent executor; and, when judgment is recovered against the independent executor, the execution shall run against the estate of the decedent in the hands of the independent executor which is subject to such debt. The independent executor shall not be required to plead to any suit brought against him for money until after six months from the date that an independent administration was created and the order appointing an independent executor was entered by the county court.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 980, ch. 376, § 1, eff. June 19, 1975; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1064, ch. 390, § 4, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 148. Requiring Heirs to Give Bond

When an independent administration is created and the order appointing an independent executor is entered by the county court, any person having a debt against such estate may, by written complaint filed in the county court where such order was entered, cause all distributees of the estate, heirs at law, and other persons entitled to any portion of such estate under the will, if any, to be cited by personal service to appear before such county court and execute a bond for an amount equal to the amount of the creditor's claim or the full value of such estate, as shown by the inventory and list of claims, whichever is the smaller, such bond to be payable to the judge, and his successors, and to be approved by said judge, and conditioned that all obligors shall pay all debts that shall be established against such estate in the manner provided by law. Upon the return of the citation served, unless such person so entitled to any portion of the estate, or some of them, or some other person for them, shall execute such bond to the satisfaction of the county court, such estate shall thereafter be administered and settled under the direction of the county court as other estates are required to be settled. If the bond is executed and approved, the independent administration shall proceed. Creditors of the estate may sue on such bond, and shall be entitled to judgment thereon for the amount of their debt, or they may have their action against those in possession of the estate.

§ 149A. Accounting

(a) Interested Person May Demand Accounting.

At any time after the expiration of fifteen months from the date that an independent administration was created and the order appointing an independent executor was entered by the county court, any person interested in the estate may demand an accounting from the independent executor. The independent executor shall thereupon furnish to the person or persons making the demand an exhibit in writing, sworn and subscribed by the independent executor, setting forth in detail:

1. The property belonging to the estate which has come into his hands as executor.
2. The disposition that has been made of such property.
3. The debts that have been paid.
4. The debts and expenses, if any, still owing by the estate.
5. The property of the estate, if any, still remaining in his hands.
6. Such other facts as may be necessary to a full and definite understanding of the exact condition of the estate.
7. Such facts, if any, that show why the administration should not be closed and the estate distributed.

Any other interested person shall, upon demand, be entitled to a copy of any exhibit or accounting that has been made by an independent executor in compliance with this section.

(b) Enforcement of Demand. Should the independent executor not comply with a demand for an accounting authorized by this section within sixty days after receipt of the demand, the person making the demand may compel compliance by an action in the county court or by a suit in the district court. After a hearing, the court shall enter an order requiring the accounting to be made at such time as it deems proper under the circumstances.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (c) and (d)]

§ 149B. Accounting and Distribution

(a) In addition to or in lieu of the right to an accounting provided by Section 149A of this code, at any time after the expiration of 12 months after all estate and all inheritance taxes are paid or three years from the date that an independent administration was created and the order appointing an independent executor was entered, whichever date is later, a person interested in the estate may petition the court for an accounting and distribution. The proceeding for an accounting and distribution may be brought in the county court if the county judge is licensed to practice law in the State of Texas or may be brought in a statutory probate court, a county court at law with probate jurisdiction, or a district court of the county. The court may order an accounting to be made with the court by the independent executor at such time as the court deems proper. The accounting shall include the information that the court deems necessary to determine whether any part of the estate should be distributed.

(b) On receipt of the accounting and, after notice to the independent executor and a hearing, unless the court finds a continued necessity for administration of the estate, the court may order its distribution by the independent executor to the persons entitled to the property.

(c) If all the property in the estate is ordered distributed by the executor and the estate is fully administered, the court also may order the independent executor to file a final account with the court and may enter an order closing the administration and terminating the power of the independent executor to act as executor.

§ 149C. Removal of Independent Executor

(a) The county court, if the county judge is licensed to practice law in the State of Texas, or a statutory probate court, a county court at law with probate jurisdiction, or a district court of the county, on motion of any interested person, after the independent executor has been cited by personal service to answer at a time and place fixed in the notice, may remove an independent executor when:

(1) the independent executor fails to return within ninety days after qualification, unless such time is extended by order of the court, an inventory of the property of the estate and list of claims that have come to his knowledge;

(2) sufficient grounds appear to support belief that he has misapplied or embezzled, or that he is about to misapply or embezzle, all or any part of the property committed to his care;

(3) he fails to make an accounting which is required by law to be made;

(4) he is proved to have been guilty of gross misconduct or gross mismanagement in the performance of his duties; or

(5) he becomes an incompetent, or is sentenced to the penitentiary, or from any other cause becomes legally incapacitated from properly performing his fiduciary duties.

(b) The order of removal shall state the cause of removal and shall direct by order the disposition of the assets remaining in the name or under the control of the removed executor. The order of removal shall require that letters issued to the removed executor shall be surrendered and that all letters shall be canceled of record. If an independent executor is removed by the court under this section, the court may, on application, appoint a successor independent executor as provided by Section 154A of this code.

(c) An independent executor who defends an action for his removal in good faith, whether successful or not, shall be allowed out of the estate his necessary expenses and disbursements, including reasonable attorney's fees, in the removal proceedings.

§ 150. Partition and Distribution or Sale of Property Incapable of Division

If the will does not distribute the entire estate of the testator, or provide a means for partition of said estate, or if no will was probated, the independent executor may file his final account in the county court in which the will was probated, or if no will was probated, in the county court in which the order appointing the independent executor was entered, and ask for either partition and distribution of the estate or an order of sale of any portion of the estate alleged by the independent executor and found by the court to be incapable of a fair and equal partition and distribution, or both; and the same either shall be partitioned and distributed or shall be sold, or both, in the manner provided for the partition and distribution of property and the sale of property incapable of division in estates administered under the direction of the county court.

§ 151. Closing Independent Administration by Affidavit

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a) and (b)]

(c) Authority to Transfer Property of a Decedent After Filing the Affidavit. An independent executor's affidavit closing the independent administration shall constitute sufficient legal authority to all persons owing any money, having custody of any property, or acting as registrar or transfer agent or trustee of any evidence of interest, indebtedness, property, or right that belongs to the estate, for payment or transfer without additional administration to the persons described in the will as entitled to receive the particular asset or who as heirs at law are entitled to receive the asset. The persons described in the will as entitled to receive the particular asset or the heirs at law entitled to receive the asset may enforce their right to the payment or transfer by suit.

§ 152. Closing Independent Administration Upon Application by Distributee

(a) At any time after an estate has been fully administered and there is no further need for an independent administration of such estate, any distributee may file an application to close the administration; and, after citation upon the independent executor, and upon hearing, the court may enter an order closing the administration and terminating the power of the independent executor to act as such.

(b) The order of the court closing the independent administration shall constitute sufficient legal authority to all persons owing any money, having custody of any property, or acting as registrar or transfer agent or trustee of any evidence of interest, indebtedness, property, or right that belongs to the estate, for payment or transfer without additional administration to the persons described in the will as entitled to receive the particular asset or who as heirs at law are entitled to receive the asset. The persons described in the will as entitled to receive the particular asset or the heirs at law entitled to receive the asset may enforce their right to the payment or transfer by suit.

§ 154A. Court-Appointed Successor Independent Executor

(a) If the will of a person who dies testate names an independent executor who, having qualified, fails for any reason to continue to serve, or is removed for cause by the court, and the will does not name a successor independent executor or if each successor executor named in the will fails for any reason to qualify as executor or indicates by affidavit filed with the application for an order continuing independent administration his inability or unwillingness to serve as successor independent executor, all of the distributees of the decedent as of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration may apply to the county court for the appointment of a qualified person, firm, or corporation to serve as successor independent executor. If the county court finds that continued administration of the estate is necessary, the county court shall enter an order continuing independent administration and appointing the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as successor independent executor, unless the county court finds that it would not be in the best interest of the estate to do so. Such successor shall serve with all of the powers and privileges granted to his predecessor independent executor.

(b) If a distributee described in this section is a minor or an incompetent, the guardian of the person of the distributee may sign the application on behalf of the distributee. If the county court finds that either the continuing of independent administration or the appointment of the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as successor independent executor would not be in the best interest of the minor or incompetent, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in subsection (a) of this section, the county court shall not enter an order continuing independent administration of the estate. If the distributee who is a minor or incompetent has no guardian of the person, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem to make application on behalf of the minor or incompetent if the county court considers such an appointment necessary to protect the interest of such distributee.

(c) If a trust is created in the decedent's will, the person or class of persons first eligible to receive the income from the trust, determined as if the trust were to be in existence on the date of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration, shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be the distributee or distributees on behalf of such trust, and any other trust or trusts coming into existence upon the termination of such trust, and are authorized to apply for an order continuing independent administration on behalf of the trust without the consent or agreement of the trustee or any other beneficiary of the trust, or the trustee or any beneficiary of any other trust which may come into existence upon the termination of such trust.

(d) If a life estate is created either in the decedent's will or by law, and if a life tenant is living at the time of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration, then the life tenant or life tenants, determined as if the life estate were to commence on the date of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration, shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be the distributee or distributees on behalf of the entire estate created, and are authorized to apply for an order continuing independent administration on behalf of the estate without the consent or approval of any remainderman.

(e) If a decedent's will contains a provision that a distributee must survive the decedent by a prescribed period of time in order to take under the decedent's will, for the purposes of determining who shall be the distributee under this section, it shall be presumed that the distributees living at the time of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration of the decedent's estate survived the decedent for the prescribed period.

(f) In the case of all decedents, whether dying testate or intestate, for the purposes of determining who shall be the distributees under this section, it shall be presumed that no distributee living at the time the application for an order continuing independent administration of the decedent's estate is filed shall subsequently disclaim any portion of such distributee's interest in the decedent's estate.

(g) If a distributee of a decedent's estate should die, and if by virtue of such distributee's death such distributee's share of the decedent's estate shall become payable to such distributee's estate, then the deceased distributee's personal representative may sign the application for an order continuing independent administration of the decedent's estate under this section.

(h) If a successor independent executor is appointed pursuant to this section, then, unless the county court shall waive bond on application for waiver, the successor independent executor shall be required to enter into bond payable to and to be approved by the judge and his or her successors in a sum that is found by the judge to be adequate under all circumstances, or a bond with one surety in a sum that is found by the judge to be adequate under all circumstances, if the surety is an authorized corporate surety.

PART 5. GENERAL POWERS OF PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES

§ 230. Care of Property of Estates

(b) Estates of Wards (1) General Powers and Duties. The guardian of the estate of a ward is entitled to the possession and management of all properties belonging to the ward, to collect all debts, rentals, or claims due such ward, to enforce all obligations in his favor, and to bring and defend suits by or against him; but, in the management of the estate, the guardian shall be governed by the provisions of this Code. It is the duty of the guardian of the estate to take care of and manage such estate as a prudent man would manage his own property. He shall account for all rents, profits, and revenues that the estate would have produced by such prudent management.

(2) Power to Make Tax-Motivated Gifts. (A) On application of the guardian or any interested party, and after notice to all interested persons and to such other persons as the court may direct, and on a showing that the ward will probably remain incompetent during his lifetime, the court may, after hearing and by order, authorize the guardian to apply such principal or income of the ward's estate as is not required for the support of the ward during his lifetime or of his family towards the establishment of an estate plan for the purpose of minimizing income, estate, inheritance, or other taxes payable out of the ward's estate. The court may authorize the guardian to make gifts of the ward's personal property or real estate, outright or in trust, on behalf of the ward, to or for the benefit of

(i) organizations to which charitable contributions may be made under the Internal Revenue Code and in which it is shown the ward would reasonably have an interest,

(ii) the ward's heirs at law who are identifiable at the time of the order,

(iii) devisees under the ward's last validly executed will, if there be such a will,

(iv) and a person serving as guardian of the ward provided he is eligible under either category (ii) or (iii) above.

(B) The person making application to the court shall outline the proposed estate plan, setting forth all the benefits to be derived therefrom. The application shall also indicate that the planned disposition is consistent with the intentions of the ward insofar as they can be ascertained. If the ward's intentions cannot be ascertained, the ward will be presumed to favor reduction in the incidence of the various forms of taxation and the partial distribution of his estate as herein provided.

(C) The court may appoint a guardian ad litem for the ward or any interested party at any stage of the proceedings, if deemed advisable for the protection of the ward or the interested party.

(D) Subsequent modifications of an approved plan may be made by similar application to the court. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 268, ch. 114, § 1, eff. April 30, 1975.]

§ 236. Sums Allowable for Education and Maintenance of Ward

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a)]

(b) Court Approval of Previous Expenditures. When a guardian has in good faith expended funds from the corpus of his ward's estate for support and maintenance for the ward, and when it is not convenient or possible to first secure approval of the Court, if the proof is clear and convincing that such expenditures were reasonable and proper and such that the Court would have granted authority to make the expenditures out of the corpus, and that the ward received the benefits of such expenditures, the judge, in the exercise of his sound discretion, may approve such expenditures in the same manner as if such expenditures were made by the guardian out of the income from the ward's estate. Provided, however, such expenditures may not exceed the sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000) during an annual accounting period.

§ 238A. Administration of Partnership Interest by Personal Representative

If the decedent was a partner in a general partnership and the articles of partnership provide that, on the death of a partner, his or her executor or other personal representative shall be entitled to the place of the deceased partner in the firm, the executor or other personal representative so contracting to come into the partnership shall, to the extent allowed by law, be liable to third persons only to the extent of the deceased partner's capital in the partnership and the estate's assets held by the executor or other personal representative. This section does not exonerate an executor or other personal representative from liability for his or her negligence. [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 71, ch. 46, § 1, eff. April 1, 1979.]

PART 6. COMPENSATION, EXPENSES, AND COURT COSTS

§ 245. When Costs Are Adjudged Against Representative

When the personal representative of an estate or person neglects the performance of any duty required of him, and any costs are incurred thereby, or if he is removed for cause, he and the sureties on his bond shall be liable for costs of removal and other additional costs incurred that are not authorized expenditures, as defined by this code.

(b) If there be children and no surviving spouse, such property, except the homestead, shall be delivered to such children if they be of lawful age, or to their guardian if they be minors. (c) If there be children of the deceased of whom the surviving spouse is not the parent, the share of such children in such exempted property, except the homestead, shall be delivered to such children if they be of lawful age, or to their guardian, if they be minors. § 273. Allowance in Lieu of Exempt Property

In case there should not be among the effects of the deceased all or any of the specific articles exempted from execution or forced sale by the Constitution and laws of this state, the court shall make a reasonable allowance in lieu thereof, to be paid to such surviving spouse and children, or such of them as there are, as hereinafter provided. The allowance in lieu of a homestead shall in no case exceed Ten Thousand Dollars and the allowance for other exempted property shall in no case exceed One Thousand Dollars, exclusive of the allowance for the support of the surviving spouse and minor children which is hereinafter provided for.

(c) If there be a surviving spouse, and children of the deceased, some of whom are not children of the surviving spouse, the surviving spouse shall receive one-half of the whole, plus the shares of the children of whom the survivor is the parent, and the remaining shares shall be paid to the children of whom the survivor is not the parent, or, if they are minors, to their guardian.

§ 341. Application for Sale of Real Estate

(a) Application may be made to the court for an order to sell property of the estate when it appears necessary or advisable in order to:

(1) Pay expenses of administration, funeral expenses and expenses of last sickness of decedents, and allowances and claims against the estates of decedents and wards.

(2) Make up the deficiency when the income of a ward's estate, and the personal property thereof, and the proceeds of previous sales, are insufficient for the education and maintenance of the ward, or to pay debts against the estate.

(3) Dispose of property of the estate of a ward which consists in whole or in part of an undivided interest in real estate, when it is deemed to the best interest of the estate to sell such interest.

(4) Dispose of real estate of a ward, any part of which is nonproductive or does not produce sufficient revenue to make a fair return upon the value of such real estate, when the improvement of same with a view to making it productive is not deemed advantageous or advisable, and it appears that the sale of such real estate and the investment of the money derived therefrom would be to the best interest of the estate.

(5) Conserve the estate of a ward by selling mineral interest and/or royalties on minerals in place owned by a ward.

(6) Dispose of any interest in real property of the estate of a decedent, when it is deemed to the best interest of the estate to sell such interest.

(b) to (g) Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1755, ch. 713, § 27, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.

§ 343. Setting of Hearing on Application

Whenever an application for the sale of real estate is filed, it shall immediately be called to the attention of the judge by the clerk, and the judge shall designate in writing a day for hearing said application, any opposition thereto, and any application for the sale of other land, together with the evidence pertaining thereto. The judge may, by entries on the docket, continue such hearing from time to time until he is satisfied concerning the application.

§ 350. Private Sales of Real Estate

All private sales of real estate shall be made in such manner as the court directs in its order of sale, and no further advertising, notice, or citation concerning such sale shall be required, unless the court shall direct otherwise.

§ 355. Action of Court on Report of Sale

After the expiration of five days from the filing of a report of sale, the court shall inquire into the manner in which the sale was made, hear evidence in support of or against such report, and determine the sufficiency or insufficiency of the representative's general bond, if any has been required and given; and, if he is satisfied that the sale was for a fair price, was properly made and in conformity with law, and has approved any increased or additional bond which may have been found necessary to protect the estate, the court shall enter a decree confirming such sale, showing conformity with the foregoing provisions of the Code, and authorizing the conveyance of the property to be made by the representative of the estate upon compliance by the purchaser with the terms of the sale, detailing such terms. If the court is not satisfied that the sale was for a fair price, was properly made, and in conformity with law, an order shall be made setting the same aside and ordering a new sale to be made, if necessary. The action of the court in confirming or disapproving a report of sale shall have the force and effect of a final judgment; and any person interested in the estate or in the sale shall have the right to have such decrees reviewed as in other final judgments in probate proceedings.

PART 9. PARTITION OF WARD'S ESTATE IN REALTY

§ 388. Partition of Ward's Interest in Realty

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a) to (e)]

(f) Judicial Proceeding to Secure Partition. If the guardian of the estate of a ward is of the opinion that it is for the best interest of said ward's estate that any real estate which said ward owns in common with others, part owner or owners, should be partitioned, he may bring suit in the court in which such guardianship proceedings are pending against the other part owner for the partition of such real estate; and the court after hearing such suit may, if it is satisfied that such necessity exists, enter an order partitioning such real estate to the owner thereof.

PART 10. INVESTMENTS, LOANS, AND CONTRIBUTIONS OF ESTATES OF WARDS

§ 389A. Other Investments

(a) Application to Invest or Sell. When a guardian of an estate shall deem it to be in the best interest of its ward to invest in or sell any property or security in which a trustee is authorized to invest by either Article 7425b-46 V.A.T.S. (the Texas Trust Act) or Article 7425b-48 V.A.T.S. (the Uniform Common Trust Fund Act), and such investment or sale is not expressly permitted by other Sections of this Code, the guardian may file a written application in the court where the guardianship is pending, asking for an order authorizing it to make such desired investment or sale and stating the reason why the guardian is of the opinion that such investment or sale would be beneficial to the ward. No citation or notice is necessary unless ordered by the court.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (b) and (c)]

PART 12. FINAL SETTLEMENT, ACCOUNTING, AND DISCHARGE

§ 404. Closing Administration of Estates of Decedents and Guardianship of Wards or Their Estates

Administration of the estates of decedents and guardianship of the persons and estates of wards shall be settled and closed:

(a) Estates of Decedents. When all the debts known to exist against the estate of a deceased person have been paid, or when they have been paid so far as the assets in the hands of an administrator or executor of such estate will permit, and when there is no further need for administration.

(b) Persons and Estates of Wards.

1. Of a Minor. When the minor dies, or becomes an adult by becoming eighteen years of age, or by removal of disabilities of minority according to the law of this state, or by marriage.

2. Of Incompetents. When the ward dies, or is decreed as provided by law to have been restored to sound mind or sober habits, or, being married, when his or her spouse has qualified as survivor in community.

3. Of a Person Entitled to Funds From Any Governmental Source. When the ward dies, or when the court finds that the necessity for the guardianship has ended.

4. Exhaustion of Estate. When the estate of a ward becomes exhausted.

5. When Income Negligible. When the foreseeable income accruing to a ward or to his estate is so negligible that maintaining the guardianship in force would be burdensome. In such case the court may authorize such income to be paid to a parent, or some other person who has acted as guardian, to assist as far as possible in the maintenance of the ward, and without liability to account to the court for such income.

§ 404A. Payment of Funeral Expenses and Other Debts

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding Section, before the guardianship of the persons and the estates of wards shall be closed upon the death of any ward, the guardian subject to the approval of the Court may make all funeral arrangements, pay for such funeral expenses out of the estate of the deceased ward and pay all other debts out of such estate. If a personal representative of the estate of a deceased ward is appointed, the Court shall on the written complaint of the personal representative cause the guardian to be cited to appear and present a final account as provided in Section 406 of this Code.

§ 404B. Payment by Guardian of Taxes or Expenses

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Code, a Probate Court in which proceedings to declare heirship are maintained, under the provisions of Subsection (c), Section 48 of this Code, may order the payment by the guardian of inheritance or estate taxes or expenses of administering the estate and may order the sale of properties in the ward's estate, when necessary, for the purpose of paying inheritance or estate taxes, or expenses of administering the estate, or for the purpose of distributing the estate among the heirs.

§ 406. Procedure in Case of Neglect or Failure to File Final Account; Payments Due Meantime

If a personal representative charged with the duty of filing a final account fails or neglects so to do at the proper time, the court shall, upon its own motion, or upon the written complaint of any one interested in the decedent's or ward's estate which has been administered, cause such representative to be cited to appear and present such account within the time specified in the citation. So far as applicable, this Section shall also govern with respect to guardians of the person. Meantime, rentals or other payments becoming due to the ward, his estate, or his guardian, between the date the ward's disability terminates or the date of the ward's death and the effective date of the guardian's discharge may be paid or tendered to the emancipated ward, his guardian, or the personal representative of the ward's estate, at obligor's option, and such payment or tender shall constitute and be an absolute discharge of such matured obligation for all purposes to the extent of the amount thus paid or tendered. [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 758, § 3, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

§ 407. Citation Upon Presentation of Account for Final Settlement

Upon the filing of an account for final settlement by temporary or permanent personal representatives of the estates of decedents or wards, or of the persons of wards, citation shall contain a statement that such final account has been filed, the time and place when it will be considered by the court, and a statement requiring the person or persons cited to appear and contest the same if they see proper. Such citation shall be issued by the county clerk to the persons and in the manner set out below.

1. In case of the estates of deceased persons, notice shall be given as directed by the court by written order.

2. If a ward be a living resident of this state who is 14 years of age or older, and his or her residence be known, the ward shall be cited by personal service, unless the ward, in person or by attorney, by writing filed with the clerk, waives the issuance and personal service of citation.

3. If one who has been a ward be deceased, the ward's executor or administrator, if one has been appointed, shall be personally served, but no service is required if the executor or administrator is the same person as the guardian.

4. If a ward's residence is unknown, or if the ward is a non-resident of this state, or if the ward is deceased and no representative of the ward's estate has been appointed and qualified in this state, the citation to the ward or to the ward's estate shall be by publication, unless the court by written order directs citation by posting.

5. If the court deems further additional notice necessary, it shall require the same by written order.

§ 408. Action of the Court

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a)]

(b) Distribution of Remaining Property. Upon final settlement of an estate, if there be any of such estate remaining in the hands of the personal representative, the court shall order that it be delivered, in case of a ward, to such ward, or in the case of a deceased ward to the personal representative of the deceased ward's estate if one be appointed, or to any other person legally entitled thereto; in case of a decedent, that a partition and distribution be made among the persons entitled to receive such estate.

PART 2. PROVISIONS RELATING TO EFFECT OF DEATH

- 450. Provisions for Payment or Transfer at Death.

PART 1. MULTIPLE-PARTY ACCOUNTS

§ 436. Definitions

In this part:

(1) "Account" means a contract of deposit of funds between a depositor and a financial institution, and includes a checking account, savings account, certificate of deposit, share account, and other like arrangement.

(2) "Beneficiary" means a person named in a trust account as one for whom a party to the account is named as trustee.

(3) "Financial institution" means an organization authorized to do business under state or federal laws relating to financial institutions, including, without limitation, banks and trust companies, savings banks, building and loan associations, savings and loan companies or associations, and credit unions.

(4) "Joint account" means an account payable on request to one or more of two or more parties whether or not there is a right of survivorship.

(5) "Multiple-party account" means a joint account, a P.O.D. account, or a trust account. It does not include accounts established for deposit of funds of a partnership, joint venture, or other association for business purposes, or accounts controlled by one or more persons as the duly authorized agent or trustee for a corporation, unincorporated association, charitable or civic organization, or a regular fiduciary or trust account where the relationship is established other than by deposit agreement.

(6) "Net contribution" of a party to a joint account as of any given time is the sum of all deposits made to that account by or for him, less all withdrawals made by or for him which have not been paid to or applied to the use of any other party, plus a pro rata share of any interest or dividends included in the current balance. The term includes, in addition, any proceeds of deposit life insurance added to the account by reason of the death of the party whose net contribution is in question.

(7) "Party" means a person who, by the terms of the account, has a present right, subject to request, to payment from a multiple-party account. A P.O.D. payee or beneficiary of a trust account is a party only after the account becomes payable to him by reason of his surviving the original payee or trustee. Unless the context otherwise requires, it includes a guardian, personal representative, or assignee, including an attaching creditor, of a party. It also includes a person identified as a trustee of an account for another whether or not a beneficiary is named, but it does not include a named beneficiary unless the beneficiary has a present right of withdrawal.

(8) "Payment" of sums on deposit includes withdrawal, payment on check or other directive of a party, and any pledge of sums on deposit by a party and any set-off, or reduction or other disposition of all or part of an account pursuant to a pledge.

(9) "Proof of death" includes a certified copy of a death certificate or the judgment or order of a court in a proceeding where the death of a person is proved by circumstantial evidence to the satisfaction of the court as provided by Section 72 of this code.

(10) "P.O.D. account" means an account payable on request to one person during lifetime and on his death to one or more P.O.D. payees, or to one or more persons during their lifetimes and on the death of all of them to one or more P.O.D. payees.

(11) "P.O.D. payee" means a person designated on a P.O.D. account as one to whom the account is payable on request after the death of one or more persons.

(12) "Request" means a proper request for withdrawal, or a check or order for payment, which complies with all conditions of the account, including special requirements concerning necessary signatures and regulations of the financial institution, but if the financial institution conditions withdrawal or payment on advance notice, for purposes of this part the request for withdrawal or payment is treated as immediately effective and a notice of intent to withdraw is treated as a request for withdrawal.

(13) "Sums on deposit" means the balance payable on a multiple-party account including interest, dividends, and in addition any deposit life insurance proceeds added to the account by reason of the death of a party.

(14) "Trust account" means an account in the name of one or more parties as trustee for one or more beneficiaries where the relationship is established by the form of the account and the deposit agreement with the financial institution and there is no subject of the trust other than the sums on deposit in the account. It is not essential that payment to the beneficiary be mentioned in the deposit agreement. A trust account does not include a regular trust account under a testamentary trust or a trust agreement which has significance apart from the account, or a fiduciary account arising from a fiduciary relation such as attorney-client.

(15) "Withdrawal" includes payment to a third person pursuant to check or other directive of a party.

§ 437. Ownership as Between Parties and Others

The provisions of Sections 438 through 440 of this code that concern beneficial ownership as between parties, or as between parties and P.O.D. payees or beneficiaries of multiple-party accounts, are relevant only to controversies between these persons and their creditors and other successors, and have no bearing on the power of withdrawal of these persons as determined by the terms of account contracts. A multiple-party account created with community property funds is subject to Article XVI, Section 15, of the Texas Constitution, and will not in any way alter community property rights.

§ 438. Ownership During Lifetime

(a) A joint account belongs, during the lifetime of all parties, to the parties in proportion to the net contributions by each to the sums on deposit, unless there is clear and convincing evidence of a different intent.

(b) A P.O.D. account belongs to the original payee during his lifetime and not to the P.O.D. payee or payees. If two or more parties are named as original payees, during their lifetimes rights as between them are governed by Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) Unless a contrary intent is manifested by the terms of the account or the deposit agreement or there is other clear and convincing evidence of an irrevocable trust, a trust account belongs beneficially to the trustee during his lifetime, and if two or more parties are named as trustee on the account, during their lifetimes beneficial rights as between them are governed by Subsection (a) of this section. If there is an irrevocable trust, the account belongs beneficially to the beneficiary.

§ 439. Right of Survivorship

(a) Sums remaining on deposit at the death of a party to a joint account belong to the surviving party or parties against the estate of the decedent if, by a written agreement signed by the party who dies, the interest of such deceased party is made to survive to the surviving party or parties. A survivorship agreement will not be inferred from the mere fact that the account is a joint account. If there are two or more surviving parties, their respective ownerships during lifetime shall be in proportion to their previous ownership interests under Section 438 of this code augmented by an equal share for each survivor of any interest the decedent may have owned in the account immediately before his death, and the right of survivorship continues between the surviving parties if a written agreement signed by a party who dies so provides.

(b) If the account is a P.O.D. account, on death of the original payee or of the survivor of two or more original payees, any sums remaining on deposit belong to the P.O.D. payee or payees if surviving, or to the survivor of them if one or more die before the original payee. If two or more P.O.D. payees survive, there is no right of survivorship in event of death of a P.O.D. payee thereafter unless the terms of the account or deposit agreement expressly provide for survivorship between them.

(c) If the account is a trust account, on death of the trustee or the survivor of two or more trustees, any sums remaining on deposit belong to the person or persons named as beneficiaries, if surviving, or to the survivor of them if one or more die before the trustee, unless there is clear and convincing evidence of a contrary intent. If two or more beneficiaries survive, there is no right of survivorship in event of death of any beneficiary thereafter unless the terms of the account or deposit agreement expressly provide for survivorship between them.

(d) In other cases, the death of any party to a multiple-party account has no effect on beneficial ownership of the account other than to transfer the rights of the decedent as part of his estate.

§ 440. Effect of Written Notice to Financial Institution

The provisions of Section 439 of this code as to rights of survivorship are determined by the form of the account at the death of a party. Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, this form may be altered by written order given by a party to the financial institution to change the form of the account or to stop or vary payment under the terms of the account. The order or request must be signed by a party, received by the financial institution during the party's lifetime, and not countermanded by other written order of the same party during his lifetime.

§ 441. Accounts and Transfers Nontestamentary

Transfers resulting from the application of Section 439 of this code are effective by reason of the account contracts involved and this statute and are not to be considered as testamentary or subject to the testamentary provisions of this code.

§ 442. Rights of Creditors

No multiple-party account will be effective against an estate of a deceased party to transfer to a survivor sums needed to pay debts, taxes, and expenses of administration, including statutory allowances to the surviving spouse and minor children, if other assets of the estate are insufficient. A party, P.O.D. payee, or beneficiary who receives payment from a multiple-party account after the death of a deceased party shall be liable to account to the deceased party's personal representative for amounts the decedent owned beneficially immediately before his death to the extent necessary to discharge the claims and charges mentioned above remaining unpaid after application of the decedent's estate, but is not liable in an amount greater than the amount that the party, P.O.D. payee, or beneficiary received from the multiple-party account. No proceeding to assert this liability shall be commenced unless the personal representative has received a written demand by a surviving spouse, a creditor, or one acting for a minor child of the decedent, and no proceeding shall be commenced later than two years following the death of the decedent. Sums recovered by the personal representative shall be administered as part of the decedent's estate. This section shall not affect the right of a financial institution to make payment on multiple-party accounts according to the terms thereof, or make it liable to the estate of a deceased party unless before payment the institution received written notice from the personal representative stating the sums needed to pay debts, taxes, and expenses of administration.

§ 443. Protection of Financial Institutions

Sections 444 through 449 of this code govern the liability of financial institutions that make payments as provided in this chapter and the set-off rights of the institutions.

§ 444. Payment on Signature of One Party

Financial institutions may enter into multiple-party accounts to the same extent that they may enter into single-party accounts. A multiple-party account may be paid, on request, to any one or more of the parties. A financial institution shall not be required to inquire as to the source of funds received for deposit to a multiple-party account, or to inquire as to the proposed application of any sum withdrawn from an account, for purposes of establishing net contributions.

§ 445. Payment of Joint Account After Death or Disability

Any sums in a joint account may be paid, on request, to any party without regard to whether any other party is incapacitated or deceased at the time the payment is demanded, but payment may not be made to the personal representative or heirs of a deceased party unless proofs of death are presented to the financial institution showing that the decedent was the last surviving party or unless there is no right of survivorship under Section 439 of this code.

§ 446. Payment of P.O.D. Account

A P.O.D. account may be paid, on request, to any original party to the account. Payment may be made, on request, to the P.O.D. payee or to the personal representative or heirs of a deceased P.O.D. payee upon presentation to the financial institution of proof of death showing that the P.O.D. payee survived all persons named as original payees. Payment may be made to the personal representative or heirs of a deceased original payee if proof of death is presented to the financial institution showing that his decedent was the survivor of all other persons named on the account either as an original payee or as P.O.D. payee.

§ 447. Payment of Trust Account

A trust account may be paid, on request, to any trustee. Unless the financial institution has received written notice that the beneficiary has a vested interest not dependent upon his surviving the trustee, payment may be made to the personal representative or heirs of a deceased trustee if proof of death is presented to the financial institution showing that his decedent was the survivor of all other persons named on the account either as trustee or beneficiary. Payment may be made, on request, to the beneficiary upon presentation to the financial institution of proof of death showing that the beneficiary or beneficiaries survived all persons named as trustees.

§ 448. Discharge from Claims

Payment made as provided by Section 444, 445, 446, or 447 of this code discharges the financial institution from all claims for amounts so paid whether or not the payment is consistent with the beneficial ownership of the account as between parties, P.O.D. payees, or beneficiaries, or their successors. The protection here given does not extend to payments made after a financial institution has received written notice from any party able to request present payment to the effect that withdrawals in accordance with the terms of the account should not be permitted. Unless the notice is withdrawn by the person giving it, the successor of any deceased party must concur in any demand for withdrawal if the financial institution is to be protected under this section. No other notice or any other information shown to have been available to a financial institution shall affect its right to the protection provided here. The protection here provided shall have no bearing on the rights of parties in disputes between themselves or their successors concerning the beneficial ownership of funds in, or withdrawn from, multiple-party accounts.

§ 449. Set-Off to Financial Institution

Without qualifying any other statutory right to set-off or lien and subject to any contractual provision, if a party to a multiple-party account is indebted to a financial institution, the financial institution has a right to set-off against the account in which the party has or had immediately before his death a present right of withdrawal. The amount of the account subject to set-off is that proportion to which the debtor is, or was immediately before his death, beneficially entitled, and in the absence of proof of net contributions, to an equal share with all parties having present rights of withdrawal.

PART 2. PROVISIONS RELATING TO EFFECT OF DEATH

§ 450. Provisions for Payment or Transfer at Death

(a) Any of the following provisions in an insurance policy, contract of employment, bond, mortgage, promissory note, deposit agreement, pension plan, trust agreement, conveyance of real or personal property, or any other written instrument effective as a contract, gift, conveyance, or trust is deemed to be nontestamentary, and this code does not invalidate the instrument or any provision:

(1) that money or other benefits theretofore due to, controlled, or owned by a decedent shall be paid after his death to a person designated by the decedent in either the instrument or a separate writing, including a will, executed at the same time as the instrument or subsequently;

(2) that any money due or to become due under the instrument shall cease to be payable in event of the death of the promisee or the promisor before payment or demand; or

(3) that any property which is the subject of the instrument shall pass to a person designated by the decedent in either the instrument or a separate writing, including a will, executed at the same time as the instrument or subsequently.

(b) Nothing in this section limits the rights of creditors under other laws of this state.

TITLE 2

ACCOUNTANTS—PUBLIC AND CERTIFIED

Article

41a-1. Public Accounting Act of 1979.

41b. Audits of River Authorities.

Art. 41a. Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1496, ch. 646, § 30, eff. Sept. 1, 1979

Prior to repeal, this article was amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1834, ch. 735, § 2.017.

See, now, art. 41a-1.

Art. 41a-1. Public Accounting Act of 1979

Policy and Purpose

Sec. 1. The practice of public accountancy is in all respects a learned profession having specialized educational and experience requirements. The terms "accountant" and "auditor" and the derivations, combinations, and abbreviations of those terms carry with them an implication of competence in the profession of public accountancy on which the public relies in personal, business, and public activities and enterprises. It is the policy of this state and the purpose of this Act that the admission of persons to practice public accountancy depends on education and experience commensurate with and required by the exigencies of the profession, that persons professing to practice public accountancy be qualified to do so, that the persons continue to maintain high standards of professional competence, integrity, and learning, that areas of specialized practice require special training, and that the activities and competitive practices of those practicing public accountancy be regulated to be free of commercial exploitation toward the end that the public will be provided with a high level of professional competence at reasonable fees by independent, qualified persons.

Short Title

Sec. 1A. This Act may be cited as the Public Accountancy Act of 1979.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Board" means the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy.

(2) "Person" means an individual, partnership, or corporation.

(3) "State" includes any state, territory, or insular possession of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(4) "Corporation" means a professional public accounting corporation organized under The Texas

Professional Corporation Act, as amended (Article 1528e, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or an equivalent law of another state, territory, or foreign country.

(5) "Financial statement" means a statement and related footnotes that purport to show financial position at a specified time or changes in financial position during a specified period of time, including a statement that uses the cash or other incomplete basis of accounting. The term includes a balance sheet, statement of income, statement of retained earnings, statement of changes in financial position, and statement of changes in owners' equity or any combination thereof, but does not include incidental financial data included in a management advisory or consulting services report to support recommendations to a client, nor does it include a tax return and supporting schedules.

Acts Not Restricted

Sec. 3. (a) Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed as applying to restrict any official act of any county auditor or other officer of the state, county, municipality, or other political subdivision or any officer of a federal department or agency or of their assistants, deputies, or employees while working in their official capacities.

(b) Nothing contained in this Act shall prohibit any person not a certified public accountant or public accountant from serving as an employee of a certified public accountant or public accountant, partnership, or corporation composed of certified public accountants and/or public accountants holding a license or licenses to practice issued by the board; provided, however, that such employee shall not issue any accounting or financial statement over his own name.

(c) Nothing contained in this Act shall prohibit a certified public accountant or a registered public accountant of another state or any accountant who holds a certificate, degree, or license in a foreign country, constituting a recognized qualification for the practice of public accountancy in such country, from temporarily practicing in this state on professional business incident to his regular practice outside this state; provided that such temporary practice is conducted in conformity with the laws of Texas and the regulations and rules of professional conduct promulgated by the board. The person coming into this state shall notify the board of his incidental, temporary practice in the state and shall pay to the board a fee set by the board, not to exceed $10.

State Board of Public Accountancy

Sec. 4. (a) The Texas State Board of Public Accountancy shall consist of 12 members, each of whom shall be a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state. Members of the board and their successors shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. At least seven members shall be certified public accountants in public practice. Two members shall be certified public accountants or public accountants in public practice. The remaining three members shall be public representatives who are not licensed under this Act and who are not financially involved in an organization subject to regulation by the board. The term of office of each member of the board shall be six years and each member shall continue until a successor is appointed. Members of the present board shall continue in office until their respective terms have expired or until their successors have been appointed.

(b) A member of the board may not be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association of the public accountancy profession.

(c) A member or employee of the board may not be related within the second degree of affinity or within the second degree of consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association of the profession of public accountancy.

(d) A board member who has served as a member for six consecutive years shall not be eligible for reappointment until two years shall have elapsed between the end of the term of his last prior appointment and the beginning of the term of a new appointment.

(e) Each member of the board is entitled to reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred in performing the functions of the board and to $50 for each day on which the member attends an official meeting of the board or assists in the administration of an examination under this Act.

(f) Appointments to the board shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees.

(g) Each member of the board shall be present for at least one-half of the regularly scheduled board meetings held each year. Failure of a board member to meet this requirement automatically removes the member from the board and creates a vacancy on the board.

(h) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not act as a general counsel to the board or serve as a member of the board.

Powers and Duties of Board

Sec. 5. (a) The board shall administer and carry out this Act and shall:

(1) elect from its members a chairman, secretary, treasurer, and other officers as the board considers necessary;

(2) keep records of all proceedings and actions by and before the board;

(3) keep a seal which shall be judicially noticed; and

(4) employ personnel and independent contractors necessary to assist it in the performance of its duties.

(b) A majority of the board constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business. The members of the board who are not certified public accountants have all the authority, responsibility, and duties of any other member of the board.

(c) The board shall keep an information file about each complaint filed with the board. If a written complaint is filed with the board relating to a licensee under this Act, the board, at least as frequently as quarterly and until the complaint is finally disposed of, shall notify the complainant of the status of the complaint.

Rulemaking

Sec. 6. (a) The board shall promulgate rules deemed necessary or advisable to effectuate this Act, including the promulgation of rules of professional conduct in order to establish and maintain high standards of competence and integrity in the practice of public accountancy and to insure that the conduct and competitive practices of licensees serve the purposes of this Act and the best interest of the public. The board in its rules of professional conduct shall not restrict advertising or competitive bidding by licensees except if necessary to:

(1) insure that advertising, price information, and other communications from licensees are informative, free of deception, and consistent with the professionalism expected and deserved by the public from those engaged in the practice of public accountancy;

(2) insure that the conduct and dealings of licensees are free from fraud, undue influence, deception, intimidation, overreaching, harassment, and other forms of vexatious conduct, including uninvited solicitations to perform professional accounting services; provided, however, that the term "uninvited solicitation" shall not be deemed to include advertising in print, radio, motion pictures, and television media; or

(3) regulate the competitive practices of licensees to the extent necessary to insure that:

(A) contracts or engagements between a licensee and any state agency, political subdivision, county, municipality, district, authority, or publicly owned utility for the performance of professional accounting services are not solicited or awarded on the basis of competitive bids submitted for such contracts or engagements in violation of law;

(B) contracts or engagements for the preparation of or opinion on any financial statement which is or can be used by or given to a person or entity not a party to the contract or engagement for the purpose of inducing reliance thereon are not entered into on the basis of competitive bids; this paragraph shall not apply to any tax or consulting services; further, this paragraph shall not apply to any accounting services or any contracts or engagements for or opinion on any financial statement of any sole proprietorship, partnership, or corporation whose sales or other revenues did not exceed $300,000 for the latest complete fiscal year; however, the $300,000 amount provided in this paragraph shall be adjusted proportionately upward or downward on the first day of each calendar year according to changes from January 1, 1979, in the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers published by the United States Department of Labor; or

(C) no licensee engages in any competitive practice which would impair the independence of or quality of services rendered by any licensee or which would impair or restrict the opportunity for members of the public to seek and secure high quality professional accounting services at reasonable prices or which would unreasonably restrict competition among licensees.

The board may adopt a system of required annual continuing education for licensees to assure that the licensees remain informed of changes in the field of accountancy. The board may recognize areas of specialization in the field of accountancy and may recognize alternate ways by which licensees may demonstrate acceptable levels of competency.

(b) If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Section 5(g), Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as added (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), transmit to the board statements opposing adoption of a rule under that section, the rule may not take effect or, if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the board receives the committees' statements.

Expenses of Board

Sec. 7. (a). The fees and other money received by the board under this Act shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of a special fund to be known as the public accountancy fund and may be used only for the administration of this Act.

(b) The board shall file an annual report of its activities with the governor and the Legislative Budget Board. The report shall include a summary statement of all receipts and disbursements of the board for each calendar year. The board's funds shall be audited each fiscal year by the state auditor.

Sec. 8. (a). No person shall assume or use the title or designation "Certified Public Accountant" or the abbreviation "CPA" or any other title, designation, words, letters, abbreviation, sign, card, or device tending to indicate that such person is a certified public accountant, unless such person has received a certificate as a certified public accountant under this or prior Acts, holds a license issued under Section 9 of this Act which is not revoked or suspended, and all of such person's offices in this state for the practice of public accounting are maintained and registered as required under Section 10 of this Act; provided, however, that an accountant of another state or foreign country who has registered under the provisions of this or prior Acts and who holds a license issued under Section 9 of this Act may use the title under which he is generally known in his state or country followed by the name of the state or country from which he received his certificate, license, or degree.

(b) No partnership or corporation shall assume or use the title or designation "Certified Public Accountant" or the abbreviation "CPA" or any other title, designation, words, letters, abbreviation, sign, card, or device tending to indicate that such partnership or corporation is composed of certified public accountants unless such partnership or corporation is registered as a partnership or corporation of certified public accountants under this or prior Acts, holds a license issued under Section 9 of this Act, and all of such partnership's or corporation's offices in this state for the practice of public accountancy are maintained and registered as required under Section 10 of this Act.

(c) No person shall assume or use the title or designation "Public Accountant" or any other title, designation, words, letters, abbreviation, sign, card, or device tending to indicate that such person is a public accountant, unless such person is registered as a public accountant under this or prior Acts, holds a license issued under Section 9 of this Act, and all of such person's offices in this state for the practice of public accounting are maintained and registered as required under Section 10 of this Act or unless such person has received a certificate as a certified public accountant under this or prior Acts, holds a license issued under Section 9 of this Act, and all of such person's offices in this state for the practice of public accountancy are maintained and registered as required under Section 10 of this Act.

(d) No partnership or corporation shall assume or use the title or designation "Public Accountants" or any other title, designation, words, letters, abbreviation, sign, card, or device tending to indicate that such partnership or corporation is composed of public accountants, unless such partnership or corporation is registered as a partnership or corporation of public accountants under this or prior Acts or as a partnership or corporation of certified public accountants under this or prior Acts, holds a license issued under Section 9 of this Act, and all of such partnership's or corporation's offices in this state for the practice of public accountancy are maintained and registered as required under Section 10 of this Act.

(e) No person shall assume or use the title or designation "certified accountant," "chartered accountant," "enrolled accountant," "licensed accountant," or any other title or designation likely to be confused with "certified public accountant" or "public accountant," or any of the abbreviations, "CA," "PA," "EA," "RA," or "LA," or similar abbreviations likely to be confused with "CPA"; provided, however, that only a person holding a license issued under Section 9 of this Act and all of whose offices in this state for the practice of public accountancy are maintained and registered as required under Section 10 of this Act may hold himself out to the public as an "accountant" or "auditor" or any combination of said terms; and provided further that a foreign accountant registered under this or prior Acts who holds a license issued under Section 9 of this Act and all of whose offices in this state for the practice of public accountancy are maintained and registered as required under Section 10 of this Act, may use the title under which he is generally known in his state or country, followed by the name of the state or country from which he received his certificate, license, or degree.

(f) No person shall sign or affix his name or any trade or assumed name used by him in his profession or business with any wording indicating that he is an accountant or auditor or with any wording indicating that he has expert knowledge in accounting or auditing, to any accounting or financial statement or to any opinion on, report on, or certificate to any accounting or financial statement, unless he has complied with the applicable provisions of this Act; provided, however, that the provisions of this subsection shall not prohibit any officer, employee, partner, or principal of any organization from affixing his signature to any statement or report in reference to the financial affairs of the organization with any wording designating the position, title, or office which he holds in such organization, nor shall the provisions of this subsection prohibit any act of a public official or public employee in the performance of his duties as such.

(g) No licensee shall assume or use a name which is misleading in any way as to the legal form of the firm or as to the persons who are partners, officers, or shareholders of the firm. The name or designation any partnership or corporation may assume or use shall contain the personal name or names of one or more individuals presently or previously members thereof, and the name or designation any individual may assume or use shall contain his name. No trade name or descriptive words indicating character or grade of service offered may be used or included except as authorized by rules promulgated by the board.

(h) No licensee shall assume or use the designation "and Company" or "and Associates" or abbreviations thereof in designating a firm in the practice of public accountancy unless there are at least two persons holding licenses under this Act involved in the practice of the firm.

Annual Licenses to Practice

Sec. 9. (a) Licenses shall be issued by the board to the following upon the payment of fees hereinafter specified:

(1) holders of the certificate of "Certified Public Accountant" issued under this or prior Acts; and

(2) such persons as are registered with the board under the provisions of this or prior Acts.

There shall be paid to the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy by all persons referred to in Subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection an annual license fee not to exceed $60. All licenses shall expire on the 31st day of December of each year or on such other date or dates as set by the board pursuant to Subsection (b) of this section, but shall annually be renewed for a period of one year upon the payment of a fee of not more than $60, the board being hereby given the authority and duty to determine the amount of such renewal fee not less than 30 days prior to the beginning of the year to which it applies and to mail notices thereof each year by that date.

Failure of any licensee to pay the annual license renewal fee on or before the date it is due shall automatically cancel his license. Any licensee whose license shall have been canceled because of failure to pay the annual license renewal fee may secure reinstatement of his license at any time within that license year upon payment of the delinquent fee together with a penalty of $20. After expiration of the license year for which the license fee was not paid, no license shall be reinstated except upon application and examination satisfactory to the board and payment of delinquent fees and a penalty to be assessed by the board. The board shall have no authority to waive the collection of any fee or penalty.

(b) The board by rule may adopt a system under which licenses expire on various dates during the year. Dates relating to cancellation and reinstatement of licenses shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the license expiration date is changed, license fees shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On renewal of the license on the new expiration date, the total license renewal fee shall be payable.

Sec. 10. The following persons shall be registered with the board for the practice of public accountancy in this state:

- (1) all individuals qualified under this or prior Acts;

Each such office shall be under the direct supervision of a resident manager who may be either a principal or a staff employee holding a license issued by the board which is in full force and effect; provided that the title or designation "Certified Public Accountant" or the abbreviation "CPA" shall not be used in connection with such office unless such resident manager is the holder of a certificate as a certified public accountant and a license issued by the board, both of which are in full force and effect. Such resident manager may serve in such capacity only in one office at the same time except as authorized by rule of the board. The board shall by regulation prescribe the procedure to be followed in effecting such registrations. There shall at all times be prominently displayed in each office registered under the provisions of this section, a sign in letters no smaller than one inch in height, the contents of which shall contain the name, mailing address, and telephone number of the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy and which shall contain a statement informing consumers that complaints can be directed to the board.

All applicants for registration shall furnish satisfactory evidence of eligibility for registration. The board shall have power to examine such applications and may refuse registration to any applicant who is unable to meet the standards imposed by this Act.

Certification of Certified Public Accountants

Sec. 12. The certificate of a "Certified Public Accountant" shall be granted by the board to any person:

- (1) who is a citizen of the United States or who, if not a citizen, has lived in the State of Texas for the 90 days immediately preceding the date of submitting to the board the initial application to take the written examination conducted by the board for the purpose of granting a certificate of "Certified Public Accountant" or has maintained permanent legal residence in Texas for the six months immediately preceding the date of submission;
- (2) who shall have qualified to take the examination for the certificate in this state;
- (3) who has attained the age of 18 years;
- (4) who is of good moral character;
- (5) who meets the requirements of education and experience as hereinafter provided:

(A) the experience requirements shall be for the number of years as provided in Paragraph (B) or (C) below and shall be in public practice under the supervision of a certified public accountant or public accountant or in an activity comparable thereto or in any combination of such types of experience in work of a nonroutine accounting nature which continually requires independent thought and judgment on important accounting matters; and all such experience must be satisfactory to the board;

(B) the education requirement shall be either (i) a baccalaureate degree conferred by a college or university recognized by the board, with a major in accounting, or with a nonaccounting major, supplemented by what the board determines to be substantially the equivalent of an accounting major, with not less than 30 semester hours of accounting and 20 additional semester hours of related courses in other areas of business administration; and the experience requirement shall be two years of the experience described in Paragraph (A) above; or (ii) graduation from an accredited high school, plus two years of study of accounting or related subjects including at least 20 semester hours of accounting in one or more colleges or universities recognized by the board, plus six years of experience under the supervision of a certified public accountant in work described in Paragraph (A) above, in which event such certified public accountant or certified public accountants, if the applicant has been employed by more than one, shall certify to the board that the applicant has had during such six-year period the experience described in Paragraph (A) above; and

(C) the experience requirement shall be only one year of the experience described in Paragraph (A) above for any candidate holding a master's degree in accounting or business administration from a college or university recognized by the board or holding a professional degree in accounting with a minimum of 30 semester hours in accounting designated other than as a master's degree but judged by the board to be equivalent to that degree and to be at an appropriate professional level, if the candidate has satisfactorily completed at least 30 semester hours in accounting and 20 semester hours in other areas of business administration and such related subjects as the board shall determine to be appropriate; and

(6) who shall have passed a written examination in theory of accounts, accounting practice, auditing, commercial law affecting public accounting, and such other related subjects as the board shall determine to be appropriate. A grade of at least 75 percent on each subject shall be required as a passing grade.

Any candidate who meets the education requirements under Paragraph (B) or (C) of Subdivision (5) above and who is duly enrolled as an attorney by the Supreme Court of Texas shall be given credit for commercial law without taking the written examination on commercial law.

The board may by written regulations provide for granting credit to a candidate for his satisfactory completion of a written examination in any of the subjects specified in Subdivision (6) above given by the licensing authority in any other state. Such regulations shall include such requirements as the board shall determine to be appropriate in order that any examination approved as a basis for any such credit shall in the judgment of the board be at least as thorough as the most recent examination given by the board at the time of granting such credit.

None of the education or experience requirements specified above shall apply to a candidate who is registered as a public accountant under The Public Accountancy Act of 1945, as amended (Article 41a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and holds a license issued under this Act.

A candidate who has met the education requirements shall be eligible to take the examination in all subjects without waiting until he meets the experience requirements; provided that the candidate also meets the requirements of Subdivisions (1), (2), (3), and (4) of this section.

A candidate for the certificate of certified public accountant who has successfully completed the examination under Subdivision (6) above shall have no status as a certified public accountant, unless and until the candidate has the requisite experience and has received notice of certification as a certified public accountant.

The holder of a certificate heretofore issued under the provisions of prior Acts shall not be required to secure a new certificate as a certified public accountant under this Act.

The applicable education and experience requirements under this Act shall be those in effect on the date of the candidate's application for the examination or reexamination by which the candidate successfully completes the examination. Any person qualified to sit under The Public Accountancy Act of 1945, as amended (Article 41a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), shall continue to qualify to sit for the examination as long as the initial qualifications are met.

Any person who at the effective date of this Act has entered a program to meet the education and experience requirements of The Public Accountancy Act of 1945, as amended and as in force immediately prior to the effective date of this Act, shall file with the board within 180 days after the effective date of this Act a written declaration thereof and submit such proof thereof as the board may require. After the filing of such declaration and proof under rules and regulations prescribed by the board, a person shall be allowed the time reasonably required to complete his program to meet the education requirements in force immediately prior to the effective date of this Act, but no more than four years following the effective date of this Act to meet such education requirements in force immediately prior to the effective date of this Act. Upon completion of such requirements, if otherwise qualified to take the examination, he shall be permitted to make his application and take the examination under such education requirements.

Every person who has met the requirements of Subdivisions (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), and (6) of this section and is ready to receive his certificate as a "Certified Public Accountant" shall before receiving such certificate take an oath that he will support the Constitution of the United States and of this state and the laws thereof and will comply with the rules of professional conduct promulgated under this Act. This oath shall be administered by a member of the board or by such other person as may be authorized by law to administer oaths.

Reciprocity

Sec. 13. The board may in its discretion waive the examination of and may issue a certificate of "Certified Public Accountant" to any person possessing the other qualifications mentioned in Section 12 of this Act who is the holder of a certificate as certified public accountant issued under the laws of any state or territory or the equivalent thereof issued in any foreign country, provided the requirements for such certificate in the state or territory or foreign country which has granted it to the applicant were in the opinion of the board at least equivalent to those required in this state at the time the applicant's original certificate was issued. The board shall charge for the issuance of such a certificate as a "Certified Public Accountant" under this section a fee of not more than $100.

Registration of Certified Public Accountants of Other States and Persons Holding Similar Titles in Foreign Countries

Sec. 14. A certified public accountant of another state or territory or the holder of a certificate, license, or degree authorizing him to practice public accountancy in a foreign country may register with the board as a certified public accountant of such other state or territory or as holding such certificate, license, or degree of a foreign country, if the board determines that the standards under which the applicant became a certified public accountant or received such certificate, license, or degree were as high as the standards of this state at the same time for granting the certificate of certified public accountant. A person so registered may describe himself as a certified public accountant of the state or territory which issued his certificate or may use the title held by him in a foreign country; provided that the country of its origin is indicated. The registered person must pay the license fee provided in Section 9 of this Act and a processing fee set by the board of not more than $100.

Examinations, Reexaminations, and Fees

Sec. 15. All examinations provided for under this Act shall be conducted by the board. The examination for the certificate of "Certified Public Accountant" shall take place as often as the board deems necessary, but not less frequently than once each year. The board as it considers appropriate may use all or part of the Uniform CPA Examination and any related service available from the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants or the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy.

Not later than the 30th day after the day on which the board receives a person's examination results, the board shall send to the person the examination results.

A candidate who fails shall have the right to apply for additional examinations, subject to the satisfaction of the board that the candidate continues to meet requirements of Subdivisions (1), (2), and (4) of Section 12 of this Act.

Any candidate who at the time of filing his application to take the examination or reexamination provided for herein had prior to the effective date of this Act any examination credits or who after the effective date of this Act shall pass in a single examination of two or more subjects (accounting practice counting as two subjects), or who is registered as a public accountant under The Public Accountancy Act of 1945, as amended (Article 41a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and who shall pass one or more subjects after the effective date of this Act shall have the right, subject to the approval of his application for reexamination under the provisions of the preceding paragraph, to be reexamined in the remaining subjects only at subsequent examinations held by the board, except that the candidate must pass the remaining subjects within the next 10 consecutive examinations, and the candidate may receive credit for one or more subjects in any subsequent examination. When the candidate shall have received credit for all subjects, the candidate shall then be considered to have passed the examination. A candidate having two or more credits on September 1, 1979, is entitled to an unlimited number of reexaminations on the remaining parts of the examination.

The board shall charge for the first examination of a candidate for certification as a "Certified Public Accountant" a fee of not more than $150, which shall be payable by the applicant at the time of making the initial application. For each subsequent examination or reexamination, the fee shall not exceed for each subject for which the candidate is eligible $60 for accounting practice and $30 for each of theory of accounts, auditing, and commercial law, which shall be payable by the applicant at the time of making the application for the subsequent examination or reexamination. Where the applicant fails to be present for the examination and shows to the board satisfactory reason for such failure, the board may in its discretion refund any fee so paid.

All fees provided for herein shall be paid to the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy.

It is further provided that any applicant who has failed any such examination or reexaminations shall have a right to request a copy of the questions and the answers thereto made by him upon any such examination with the grade clearly shown, together with a copy of solutions to such questions; and the board shall forthwith comply with such request by delivering by registered or certified mail to such applicant a true copy of the questions and his answers thereto, together with a copy of solutions to such questions. The board may charge such applicant a reasonable fee therefor, and such request by the candidate shall be made within six months after the grades are mailed to said candidate and not thereafter.

If such conviction becomes final whether by passage of time, exhaustion of appeal, or otherwise, the board may without further notice and hearing take any action authorized in Subsection (a) of this section. If such conviction is reversed, set aside, or modified so that it no longer constitutes a conviction of a felony or of a crime of which an element is dishonesty or fraud, the board shall reinstate any license, registration, or certificate suspended under this subsection; provided, however, that such reinstatement shall be without prejudice to the rights of the board to invoke any other applicable provisions of this section.

(c) At any hearing the accused may appear in person and by counsel, produce evidence and witnesses on his own behalf, cross-examine witnesses, and examine such evidence as may be produced against him. The accused shall be entitled on application to the board to the issuance of subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses on his behalf.

(d) The board or any member thereof may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents and may administer oaths, take testimony, hear proofs, and receive exhibits in evidence in connection with or upon hearings under this Act. In cases of disobedience to a subpoena, the board may invoke the aid of any court of this state in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence.

(e) If, after having been served with the notice of hearing as provided for herein, the accused fails to appear at said hearing, the board may proceed to hear evidence against him and may enter such order as shall be justified by the evidence, and a copy of such order shall be mailed by registered or certified mail to the last known address of the accused. The board is hereby authorized to grant continuances upon written request and upon a showing of good cause for failure to appear at such hearing, set out in writing, signed by the accused, and filed with the board. The board may reopen said proceedings and permit the accused to submit evidence in his behalf; provided further that said written request to reopen is filed with the board within 20 days after the date a copy of said order has been mailed to the accused.

(f) A stenographic record of the hearings shall be kept, and if deemed necessary by the board, a transcript shall be ordered.

(g) At all hearings the attorney general or one of his assistants or such other legal counsel as may be employed shall appear and represent the board.

(h) The decision of the board shall be by majority vote.

(i)(1) Any person, firm, or corporation aggrieved by any order, ruling, or decision of the board may file a motion for rehearing. Such a motion must be filed within 15 days of the rendition of the order, ruling, or decision complained of. Replies to motions for rehearings must be filed within 25 days after the rendition of the order, ruling, or decision. Unless the board has acted upon a motion for rehearing within 45 days from the time it is filed, the motion shall be overruled as a matter of law. The board may extend the time for filing of motions for rehearings and replies, but in no event shall the board extend the period within which it may act to more than 90 days from the date of rendition of the order, ruling, or decision. Any motion for rehearing pending after the expiration of 90 days from the date of rendition of the order, ruling, or decision complained of shall be overruled as a matter of law.

(2) An order, ruling, or decision is final and appealable when the motion for rehearing is overruled or when the time for filing a motion has expired and no motion has been filed.

(3) Any party aggrieved by a final order, ruling, or decision of the board shall be entitled to judicial review under the substantial evidence rule. Proceedings for review shall be initiated by the filing of a petition in the District Court of Travis County, Texas, setting forth the particular objection to such decision, ruling, or order against the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy as defendant, such petition to be filed within 30 days after the decision, ruling, or order complained of is final and appealable. Service of citation on the board may be had by delivery of a copy of the petition to the board at its offices in Austin, Travis County, Texas. The board shall not be required to give any bond in any cause or appeal arising hereunder. Neither the board nor any member thereof shall be liable to any person, firm, or corporation charged or investigated by the board for any damages incident to such investigation or any complaint, charge, prosecution, proceeding, or trial of the results thereof.

Family Farm and Ranch Security Program

Sec. 2. A family farm and ranch security program is established under the administration of the commissioner of agriculture. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the commissioner may guarantee to lenders that, in the event of default on a family farm and ranch security loan, the state will pay the lender 90 percent of the sum due and payable under the first real estate mortgage or deed of trust.

Rules

Sec. 3. The commissioner shall adopt rules necessary for the efficient administration of this program.

Reports

Sec. 4. Before January 1 of each year, the commissioner shall submit a report to the legislature concerning his or her actions under this program during the past year and the status of loans guaranteed.

Advisory Council

Sec. 5. (a) A family farm advisory council is established, composed of nine members appointed by the governor for staggered terms of six years.

(b) The advisory council shall be composed of two officers of commercial lending institutions, one officer of a farm credit association, one general farmer, one agricultural economist, one dairy farmer, one livestock farmer, one cash grain farmer, and one cotton farmer.

(c) The members of the advisory council serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in carrying out official duties.

(d) In making the initial appointments, the governor shall designate the terms of three members to expire on January 31, 1981, three to expire on January 31, 1983, and three to expire on January 31, 1985.

(e) The members of the council annually shall elect a presiding officer and other officers they consider necessary.

(f) The council shall:

(1) review and appraise the family farm and ranch security program;

(2) give advice and counsel to the commissioner regarding the program;

(3) review all applications for family farm and ranch security loans, make recommendations to the commissioner as to their disposition, and approve applications for payment adjustments; and

(4) make recommendations to the legislature and to the commissioner regarding any needed state policy or legislative changes to foster and promote the economic health and continued existence of the family farm or ranch.

(g) The commissioner shall provide the council with necessary staff, office space, and administrative services.

Eligibility for Loans

Sec. 6. To be eligible for a family farm and ranch security loan, an applicant must:

(1) be a citizen of the United States;

(2) have been a resident of the State of Texas for five years;

(3) have education, training, or experience in the type of farming or ranching for which the applicant wishes the loan;

(4) together with the applicant's spouse and their dependents, have a total net worth of less than $100,000 and demonstrate the need for the loan; provided, however, that the value of any residential homestead owned by the applicant shall not be included in determining the applicant's net worth;

(5) intend to purchase farmland and/or ranchland to be used by the applicant and family for agricultural purposes as the applicant's primary occupation; and

(6) be worthy of credit according to standards established by the commissioner.

Application for Loans

Sec. 7. (a) An individual desiring to acquire farmland and/or ranchland may apply to a lender for a family farm and ranch security loan. On completion of the appropriate forms by the applicant and the lender, the lender shall forward the application to the commissioner for approval. The commissioner shall determine eligibility, shall approve the application if the requirements of Sections 6 and 8 of this Act are met, and shall notify the lender and the applicant of the decision.

(b) If the application is denied, the commissioner shall return the application to the lender with a written statement of the reasons for denial. The lender shall give a copy of those reasons to the applicant. If the circumstances of the applicant change so that he or she becomes eligible, the applicant may reapply.

(c) If the commissioner approves the loan application, the commissioner shall file a copy of the application and return the original to the lender. The applicant and the lender may then complete the loan transaction.

(d) No person related within the second degree by affinity or the third degree by consanguinity to any member of the advisory council or to the commissioner of agriculture, the deputy commissioner of agriculture, or the assistant commissioner of agriculture is eligible for a family farm and ranch security loan under this Act.

Terms of the Loan

Sec. 8. (a) A family farm and ranch security loan shall be transacted on forms approved by the commissioner with the advice of the attorney general. Before approving any application, the commissioner shall cause to be made an appraisal of the property in order to determine its value. Any appraiser representing the commissioner must be reasonably qualified to give competent appraisals of land. The appraiser shall make a written report to the commissioner in affidavit form, sworn to before a notary public or other official authorized to administer oaths, showing:

(1) the appraised value of the land;

(2) the names and addresses of any persons communicated with relative to the valuation of the land;

(3) that the appraiser has examined the records of the county clerk's office relative to the land;

(4) that the appraiser has checked past sales of adjacent lands to aid in determining valuation; and

(5) that neither the appraiser nor any member of the appraiser's family has received any personal benefits from the transaction and does not expect to receive any future personal benefits. The cost of this appraisal must be paid by the applicant prior to the date on which the application is approved by the advisory council and the commissioner. The commissioner shall establish by rule an appraisal procedure to determine the income potential of the property to be purchased under a family farm and ranch security loan and may not approve an application if the purchase price exceeds the appraisal value and income potential of the land.

(b) If the family farm and ranch security loan has a term of not more than 20 years and provides for payments at least annually so that the loan is amortized over its term with equal annual payments of principal and interest, an applicant may apply for a payment adjustment. If the application is approved by the advisory council, the commissioner may annually pay to the lender four percent of the outstanding balance due on the loan at the beginning of the year during the first 10 years of the loan. Beginning with the 11th year of the loan, the applicant shall reimburse the commissioner for the sums paid in his or her behalf plus six percent simple interest. An applicant may petition the commissioner for one 10-year renewal of the payment adjustment, in which case the applicant must reimburse the commissioner beginning with the 21st year after the loan was granted for all the sums paid in his or her behalf plus six percent simple interest. An applicant is entitled to make reimbursements for payment adjustments in equal annual payments over a term not to exceed 10 years.

(c) The borrower, the borrower's spouse, and their dependents shall annually submit to the commissioner a sworn statement of their net worth. If their net worth in any year exceeds $150,000, the applicant is ineligible for a payment adjustment in that year.

(d) The obligation to repay a payment adjustment is a lien against the property.

(e) A lender receiving a payment from the commissioner on behalf of a borrower under this section shall reduce the borrower's payments for the next year in accordance with the amount received from the commissioner.

Seller-Sponsored Loans

Sec. 9. (a) The commissioner may approve a family farm and ranch security loan to an applicant for a loan that is seller-sponsored.

(b) A seller-sponsored loan shall be secured by a purchase money first real estate mortgage or deed of trust evidenced by a negotiable note or notes, and the commissioner must be notified in writing by the holder of that note within 30 days after the note is sold or exchanged.

Sale or Conveyance

Sec. 10. Any borrower who sells or conveys the property for which a family farm and ranch security loan was issued shall immediately retire the entire indebtedness owed to the lender and the state. A family farm and ranch security loan may not be assumed by a new owner. This section does not prohibit a borrower from granting a security interest in the property for the purposes of securing an additional loan.

Default

Sec. 11. (a) Within 90 days of default on a family farm and ranch security loan, the lender shall notify the borrower that the lender must notify the commissioner if the default continues for another 90 days. The lender also shall inform the borrower of the consequences of that default. The lender and the borrower may agree to take any reasonable steps to insure the fulfillment of the loan obligation.

(b) If the borrower has not made arrangements to meet the obligation by the end of the 180th day following the initial default, the lender shall file a claim with the commissioner identifying the loan and the nature of the default. The commissioner shall then conduct a hearing on the alleged default as a contested case under the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Appeal of the commissioner's decision to the district court is under the substantial evidence rule. If the commissioner finds that the borrower is in default, the lender shall assign to the state all of the lender's security and interest in the loan in exchange for payment of 90 percent of all sums due and payable under the first real estate mortgage or deed of trust. In the case of a seller-sponsored loan, the seller may elect to pay the commissioner all sums owed the commissioner by the applicant and retain title to the property in lieu of payment by the commissioner under the terms of the loan guarantee. If the commissioner determines that the lender has met his or her obligations regarding the loan guarantee, the commissioner shall authorize payment to the lender and shall notify the defaulting party. The state shall then become holder of the mortgage or deed of trust.

(c) If the state acquires the mortgage or deed of trust on the property, the commissioner shall undertake to sell the property after all appeals are concluded. Notice of the impending sale shall be published at least once each week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the property is located and in a publication having general statewide circulation. This notice shall specify the time and place in the county at which the sale will be held and give a description of the lots or tracts to be offered and a general statement of the terms of sale. The commissioner shall sell the property to the highest bidder as determined by taking sealed bids or by public auction. In either case, the commissioner shall determine the successful bidder within 15 days of the date of the last published notice of sale. Bidders shall submit bid security in the form of a certified check or bid bond in the amount of two percent of their bid price. The successful bidder shall remit the balance of the purchase price to the commissioner within 90 days of the date of sale. On remittance of the balance, the commissioner shall transfer all right, title, and interest of the state in the property to the purchaser. If the purchaser fails to remit any part of the balance within the 90 days, the purchaser forfeits all rights to the property and any money paid for it, and the commissioner shall restart the sale process. Proceeds from the sale of property obtained by the state under this Act shall be paid into the special account established by Section 14 of this Act, except that if the payment made to a lender under this Act is less than the amount due and payable to the lender, proceeds in excess of the amount of that payment shall be paid to the lender to the extent required in order to reimburse the lender in full.

(d) A borrower who fails to maintain the land purchased under a family farm and ranch security loan in active agricultural production for any period of time longer than one year is in default. This default may be waived by the commissioner in the event of the borrower's physical disability or other extenuating circumstances.

Discrimination Prohibited

Sec. 12. In carrying out duties under this Act, the commissioner and council may not discriminate because of age, race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, marital status, disability, or political or ideological persuasion.

Farm and Ranch Loan Security Bonds

Sec. 13. (a) The commissioner by order may provide for the issuance of negotiable farm and ranch loan security bonds in one or more installments and in an aggregate amount not to exceed $10 million. The order entered shall describe the terms and conditions of the bonds.

(b) The commissioner may not sell an installment or series of bonds for an amount less than the face value of all of the bonds comprising the installment or series with the interest accrued from their date of issuance.

(c) The commissioner shall determine the rate of interest of an installment or series of bonds and shall determine whether interest is payable annually or semiannually.

(d) The commissioner shall determine:

- (1) the form of the bonds, including the form of any interest coupons to be attached;
- (2) the denominations of the bonds; and
- (3) the places for payment of principal and interest.

(e) The bonds of each issue mature, serially or otherwise, not more than 40 years from their date. In issuing bonds, the commissioner may determine the price, terms, and conditions for redemption of bonds before maturity.

(f) The commissioner may provide for the registration of bonds as to ownership, successive conversion and reconversion from bearer to registered bonds, and successive conversion and reconversion from registered to bearer bonds.

(g) After determining to sell a series of bonds, the commissioner shall publish notice of the sale at least once not less than 10 days before the date of the sale. The notice shall be published in at least one financial publication of general circulation published in the state and in at least one financial publication of general circulation published outside the state.

(h) The bonds shall be sold only after competitive bidding to the highest and best bidder. The commissioner may reject any or all bids. The commissioner shall require every bidder, except administrators of state funds, to include with the bid an exchange or cashier's check for an amount the commissioner considers adequate as a deposit guaranteeing acceptance of and payment for all bonds covered by the bid.

(i) Before delivering bonds to the purchasers, the commissioner shall submit the bonds and the records pertaining to them for approval by the attorney general. When approval is obtained, the bonds shall be registered in the office of the comptroller of public accounts.

(j) The bonds shall be executed on behalf of the commissioner as general obligations of the state. The bonds shall be signed by the commissioner and the seal of the commissioner shall be impressed on them. The bonds shall be signed by the governor and attested by the secretary of state, and the state seal shall be impressed on them.

(k) The commissioner may prescribe the extent to which facsimile signatures and facsimile seals instead of manual signatures and manually impressed seals may be used in executing the bonds and appurtenant coupons. Interest coupons may be signed by the facsimile signature of the commissioner. If an officer whose signature or facsimile signature appears on a bond or whose facsimile signature appears on a coupon ceases to be an officer before delivery of the bond, the signature is valid and sufficient for all purposes as if that officer had remained in office until the delivery had been made.

(l) After approval by the attorney general, registration by the comptroller, and delivery to the purchaser, the bonds are incontestable and constitute general obligations of the state and shall be held to be valid and binding obligations of the state in any action, suit, or other proceeding in which their validity is questioned. In an action to enforce collection of the bonds or rights incident to the bonds, the certificate of approval by the attorney general and a certificate of registration by the comptroller, or certified copies of these certificates, is admissible evidence constituting proof of the validity of the bonds.

(m) The state treasurer shall pay or cause to be paid the principal on bonds as they mature and the interest as it becomes payable.

(n) The performance of the official duties of the comptroller and the treasurer may be enforced by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding.

(o) The commissioner may provide for the issuance of refunding bonds. The commissioner may sell these bonds and use the proceeds to retire the outstanding bonds issued under this section, including interest accrued on outstanding bonds, or the commissioner may exchange refunding bonds for outstanding bonds, including accrued interest. The issuance of the refunding bonds, their maturity, the rights of the bondholders, and the duties of the commissioner's office regarding refunding bonds are governed by the provisions of this section relating to the original bonds, to the extent they are applicable, and by refunding statutes of general application not in conflict with the provisions of this section.

(p) The bonds issued under the provisions of this section are negotiable instruments. The bonds, income from the bonds, and profit made on their sale are exempt from taxation within this state.

(q) Bonds issued under this section are legal and authorized investments for:

- (1) banks;
- (2) savings banks;
- (3) trust companies;
- (4) building and loan and savings and loan associations;
- (5) insurance companies;
- (6) fiduciaries;
- (7) trustees;

(8) guardians; and

(9) sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, and other political subdivisions and public agencies of the state.

(r) Bonds issued under this section, when accompanied by all appurtenant unmatured coupons, are lawful and sufficient security for all deposits of funds of the state or of a city, town, village, county, school district, or other political subdivision or agency of the state, at the par value of the bonds.

(s) The commissioner may provide for the replacement of a mutilated, lost, or destroyed bond.

Special Fund

Sec. 14. (a) The farm and ranch loan security fund is created as provided in Article III, Section 50c, of the Texas Constitution. Proceeds derived from the sale of the farm and ranch loan security bonds, less the administrative costs of issuing the bonds, shall be deposited in the farm and ranch loan security fund.

(b) The commissioner may use the farm and ranch loan security fund only for payment to a lender in order to acquire interest in property purchased under a guaranteed family farm and ranch security loan or for payment adjustments.

(c) The interest and sinking fund for farm and ranch loan security bonds is created to be used exclusively for:

(1) paying the principal of farm and ranch loan security bonds as they mature;

(2) paying interest on the bonds as it comes due; and

(3) paying exchange and collection charges in connection with bonds.

(d) Accrued interest received in the sale of bonds and income from investments of the loan security fund and the interest and sinking fund shall be credited to the interest and sinking fund; provided, however, if the accrued interest and income in any year exceeds the cost of paying principal and interest on farm and ranch loan security bonds and any exchange and collection charges, the amount in excess of those payments shall be deposited in the farm and ranch security fund for the purpose of financing payment adjustments. In authorizing a series of bonds, the commissioner may appropriate from the proceeds of the sale of bonds an amount which, together with the accrued interest received, is sufficient to pay interest coupons becoming due during the fiscal year in which the bonds are sold and to establish appropriate reserves.

(e) After all bonds have been paid, the balance of the interest and sinking fund shall be transferred to the farm and ranch loan security fund.

(f) The comptroller of public accounts shall make any transfer of funds required by this Act.

(g) The commissioner may invest the farm and ranch loan security fund and, in making the investments, is governed by the provisions of Chapter 401, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967 (Article 6252-5a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The commissioner may invest the interest and sinking fund only in direct obligations of the United States, certificates of deposit in Texas banks, or in obligations the principal and interest of which are guaranteed by the United States.

(h) All proceeds from the sale of land held by the commissioner as a result of foreclosure on property purchased under a family farm and ranch security loan shall be deposited in the farm and ranch loan security fund.

Administrative Expenses

Sec. 15. The legislature shall appropriate the funds required for the administration of the program created by this Act.
