Sec. 2. The court hereby created shall have exclusive, concurrent civil jurisdiction of all cases, original and appellate, over which by the laws of the State of Texas the existing County Courts of Dallas County at Law Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 have original and appellate jurisdiction. cifically provided that the County Courts of Dallas County at Law Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 shall have concurrent and coextensive and equal jurisdiction over all civil, administrative, and ministerial acts and over the filing and disposition of all proceedings in eminent domain matters. The judge of any county court at law of Dallas County may sit for the judge of any other county court at law of Dallas County when such judge is unavailable for the performing of any of the administrative acts in connection with eminent domain proceedings, but the performing of the same shall not transfer the cause or proceedings from the court for which the act was performed. All civil cases appealed from the several justice courts of Dallas County shall be filed by the county clerk in the several county courts of Dallas County at law consecutively as the appeal cases are received by the clerk from the several justices of the peace in the county, except in cases wherein the judge of any one of the county courts at law has granted a writ of certiorari, in which case the same shall be docketed in the court so granting the writ and shall not be transferred from that court.

Effective January 1, 1978, the judges of the county criminal courts of Tarrant County, the probate court of Tarrant County, and the county courts at law of Tarrant County may be paid annually a sum that is at least equal to that sum which is $8,000 less than the total annual salary as of January 1, 1978, including supplements, of any district judge in Tarrant County. Effective January 1, 1979, they may be paid annually a sum that is at least equal to that sum which is $5,500 less than the total annual salary as of January 1, 1979, including supplements, of any district judge in Tarrant County. Effective January 1, 1981, they may be paid annually a sum that is at least equal to that sum which is $1,000 less than the total annual salary, including supplements, of any district judge in Tarrant County. If the annual salary of any district judge in Tarrant County is increased within any calendar year, the salary of the judge of each county court of Tarrant County included in this Act may be increased in an equal amount so that the variance between the salaries of the judges of the county courts and the judges of the district courts does not exceed the amounts specified in this Act. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1821, ch. 730, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 1970-62.2. County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County

Sec. 1. (a) There is created a court to be held in Tarrant County to be known and designated as the "County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County."

(b) The County Court at Law of Tarrant County shall be hereafter known and designated as the "County Court at Law No. 1 of Tarrant County."

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County has jurisdiction of all civil matters and causes, original and appellate, over which by the general laws of the state the county court of the county would have jurisdiction, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court at Law of Tarrant County in civil matters and causes, original and appellate. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or of the county judge of Tarrant County as the presiding officer of that court as to roads, bridges, and public highways, and matters which are now within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or of the judge of the county court of Tarrant County. The county judge of Tarrant County shall be the judge of the county court of Tarrant County, and all ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the county court of Tarrant County.

(b) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Tarrant County, concurrent with the jurisdiction of the County Court of Tarrant County and the Probate Court of Tarrant County in such matters and proceedings. It shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and habitual drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, transact all business appertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and habitual drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of deceased persons, lunacy proceedings and the apprenticing of minors as provided by law.

(c) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest, as provided by general law.

Sec. 3. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court, to punish for contempts under such provisions as are, or may be, provided by the general laws governing county courts throughout the state, and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any court or tribunal inferior to that court.

Sec. 4. (a) The judges of the County Court at Law of Tarrant County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts. The judges of the County Court of Tarrant County, the Probate Court of Tarrant County, and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County may transfer matters and proceedings to and from the dockets of their respective courts. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(b) The judges of the county courts at law with civil jurisdiction may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in a county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. In case of the absence, disqualification or incapacity of either the judge of the Probate Court of Tarrant County, or the County Judge of Tarrant County, or the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County, or in the discretion of any of them for any other reason, any of those judges may sit and act as judge of another of those courts with respect to any matters referred to in Subsection (b) of Section 2 of this Act, and any of those judges may hear and determine, either in his own courtroom or, with the consent of the judge thereof, in the courtroom of another of those courts, any matter or proceeding pending in any of those courts, and may enter any orders in such matters or proceedings as the judge of the other court might enter if personally presiding therein. However, the judge of any court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

(c) In cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of one of the other courts, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 5. The terms of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County are the same as the terms for the County Court at Law of Tarrant County. The practice in the court, and appeals and writs of error therefrom, shall be as prescribed by the laws relating to county courts.

Sec. 6. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County must be a citizen of the United States and of this state, who shall have been a practicing lawyer of this state, or a judge of a court in this state, for four years next preceding his election or appointment, and who shall have resided in the county of Tarrant for two years next preceding his election or appointment.

(b) At the primaries and general election in 1978, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Tarrant County a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 for a four-year term beginning on January 1, 1979. Every four years thereafter, this judge shall be elected by the qualified voters of Tarrant County for a four-year term as provided in the Texas Constitution. A vacancy in the office shall be filled by appointment by the Commissioners Court of Tarrant County until the next general election.

Sec. 7. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by the law relating to county judges.

Sec. 8. A special judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may be appointed or elected as provided by law relating to county courts and to the judges thereof.

Sec. 9. The county clerk of Tarrant County shall be the clerk for the County Court at Law No. 2. The seal of the court shall be the same as that provided for county courts, except that the seal shall contain the words, "County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County." The sheriff of Tarrant County shall, in person or by deputy, attend the court when required by the judge thereof.

Sec. 10. The jurisdiction and authority now vested by law in the County Court at Law of Tarrant County for the selection and service of jurors shall be exercised by the County Court at Law No. 2.

Sec. 11. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County shall collect the same fees provided by law for county judges in similar cases, all of which shall be paid by him monthly into the county treasury. The commissioners court may fix the amount of compensation to be paid to the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County, such compensation to be paid monthly out of the county treasury, provided however, that any such compensation shall be equal to the compensation as provided by law and fixed by the commissioners court for the judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Tarrant County. The judge shall not engage in the practice of law while in office.

Sec. 12. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as any other county judge may be removed under the laws of this state.

Sec. 13. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County shall appoint an official shorthand reporter, who shall be well skilled in his profession, shall be a sworn officer of the court, and who shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court. The provisions of the general laws of Texas relating to the appointment of reporters for the district courts shall apply in all their provisions, insofar as they are applicable, to the official shorthand reporter herein authorized to be appointed, and the reporter is entitled to the same fees and salary and shall perform the same duties and shall take the same oath as provided for the reporters of district courts of this state, and shall be governed by any other laws covering the reporters of the district courts of this state.

Sec. 14. With the exception of Subsection (b), Section 6, the provisions of this Act take effect on January 1, 1979.

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Cameron County shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all matters and causes, civil and criminal, original and appellate, over which by the general laws of the state, the county courts have jurisdiction, and shall have jurisdiction concurrent with the County Court at Law of Cameron County in matters and causes, civil and criminal, original and appellate.

(b) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Cameron County shall have and exercise original concurrent jurisdiction with the justice courts and with the County Court at Law of Cameron County in all civil and criminal matters which by the general laws of this state is conferred on justice courts. This Act does not deprive the justice courts of the jurisdiction conferred on them by law, but gives concurrent original jurisdiction to the county courts at law of Cameron County over the matters specified in this subsection. This Act does not deny the right of appeal to the county courts at law of Cameron County from the justice court where the right of appeal to the county court exists by law. All cases appealed from the justice court and other inferior courts in Cameron County shall be made direct to the county courts at law under the provisions governing such appeals.

(c) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Cameron County shall also have the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Cameron County, concurrent with jurisdiction of the County Court of Cameron County and the County Court at Law of Cameron County in such matters and proceedings.

The county judge of Cameron County shall be the judge of the County Court of Cameron County, and all ex officio duties of the county judge shall continue to be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Cameron County unless by this Act committed to the judges of the county courts at law. The county courts at law do not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways or the general administration of county business which is within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or the presiding judge of the commissioners court.

Sec. 5. (a) There shall be elected in Cameron County, by the qualified voters of the county, a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2. No person may be elected judge of the court who has not been a resident citizen and practicing attorney of Cameron County for at least one year prior to the election and who does not possess all of the qualifications for the office that are required by the general laws of the state for county judges. As soon as this court is created, the Commissioners Court of Cameron County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law No. 2 of Cameron County, who shall hold the office as judge until the next general election and until his or her successor is elected and has qualified. Beginning at the general election in 1982 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. A vacancy in the office of the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Cameron County shall be filled by appointment of the Commissioners Court of Cameron County, and when so filled, the judge shall hold the office until the next general election and until his or her successor is elected and has qualified.

(b) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by law relating to county judges.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by law for county judges.

(d) A special judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may be appointed or elected as provided by law relating to county courts and to the judges thereof, who shall be compensated in the same manner as provided for special judges of the county courts.

Compensation

Sec. 6. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Cameron County may receive an annual salary, the amount of which shall be fixed by the Commissioners Court of Cameron County. The salary shall be paid out of the county treasury of Cameron County on the order of the commissioners court and shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The amount shall not exceed 90 percent of the amount paid a district court judge having jurisdiction in Cameron County.

Personnel

Sec. 7. (a) The county clerk, county attorney, and sheriff of Cameron County shall serve as clerk, county attorney, and sheriff, respectively, for the County Court at Law No. 2. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their offices and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall appoint an official shorthand reporter for the court who shall have the qualifications provided by law for official court reporters, shall be a sworn officer of the court, and shall hold office at the pleasure of the judge. The duties of the reporter shall be the same as provided by general law for official court reporters, and the salary of the reporter shall be set by the commissioners court and paid monthly by the commissioners court out of any funds available for the purpose. All other provisions of the law relating to official court reporters shall apply insofar as they are applicable to the court reporter authorized by this Act and insofar as they are not inconsistent with this Act.

Jurors

Sec. 8. (a) The jurisdiction and authority vested by law in the county court and the judge thereof for the drawing, selection, and service of jurors shall also be exercised by the county courts at law and the judges thereof. Jurors summoned for a county court at law or the county court may, by order of the judge of the court in which they are summoned, be transferred to any of the other courts for service and may be used as if summoned for the court to which they may be transferred. On concurrence of the judges of the county courts at law and the county judge, jurors may be summoned for service in all of those courts and shall be used interchangeably in all of those courts.

(b) Jurors, regularly impaneled for the week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of a county court at law, be made available by the district judge or judges in such numbers as may be requested for service for the week in either or both of the county courts at law or the county court, and such jurors shall serve in the county court and county court at law the same as if they had been drawn and selected as is otherwise provided by law.

Transfer of Cases; Exchange of Benches

Sec. 9. (a) The judges of the county court and the county courts at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred. In cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of one of the other courts, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before the transfer, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(b) The county judge and the judges of the county courts at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him or her without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Any judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or a county court at law, but only in matters within his or her jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his or her own docket. However, the judge of any court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his or her court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. This provision providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judge of the county court and the judges of the county courts at law is cumulative of and in addition to the provisions in this Act for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Seal

Sec. 10. The seal of the court shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 2 of Cameron County, Texas."

Jurors summoned for either of the county courts at law or the county court may, by order of the judge of the court in which they are summoned, be transferred to either of the other courts for service and may be used as if summoned for the court to which they are thus transferred. Upon the concurrence of the judges of the county courts at law and the county judge, jurors may be summoned for service in all of those courts and shall be used interchangeably in all of those courts.

(b) Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the district court or courts may on request of either the county judge or the judge of either of the county courts at law be made available by the district judge or judges in such numbers as may be requested for service for the week in either or all of the county

(c) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the County Court at Law No. 2, and in cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or any other obligation issued or made in the case shall be returned to and filed in the court to which transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the term of the court to which the case is transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before the transfer shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(d) The county judge and judges of the county courts at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or is otherwise absent, either of the other judges may hold court for such judge without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Any judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or in a county court at law, but only in matters within the judge's jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to the judge's own docket. However, the judge of any court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of that judge's court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. This provision for the exchange of benches by and between the judge of the county court and the judges of the county courts at law is cumulative of and in addition to the provisions in this Act for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Date Created

Sec. 10. This Act takes effect and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County is created on January 1, 1982, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered in its minutes, whichever date is earlier.

A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 8. (a) The District Attorney of the 49th Judicial District and the Sheriff of Webb County shall serve as district attorney and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Webb County, except that the County Attorney of Webb County shall handle and prosecute all juvenile, child welfare, and mental health cases and the other civil cases where the State of Texas is a party. The District Clerk of Webb County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in the cases enumerated in Section 3 of this Act, and the County Clerk of Webb County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2 of this Act. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Webb County.

Sec. 9. (a) As soon as practicable following the effective date of this Act, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the County Court of Webb County and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act, and the district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district courts of Webb County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law, and in cases transferred to any of the courts in Webb County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated or included in Section 3 of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Webb County and the County Court at Law of Webb County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within his jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. This provision providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law is cumulative of and in addition to the provisions herein provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or of the county judge of Midland County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court. The county judge of Midland County shall be the judge of the county court of Midland County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the county court of Midland County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

He shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office, who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Midland County, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law. continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts.

(c) After the initial appointment, a vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the county court at law shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Medina County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his or her successor is elected and has qualified.

(d) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. The judge may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall receive a salary to be set by the commissioners court and to be paid out of the county treasury by the commissioners court in an amount not to exceed 90 percent of the amount paid a district judge having jurisdiction in Medina County. The salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments. The judge of the county court at law shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed or may be established by law, relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge.

(f) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his or her court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Personnel

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Medina County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, for the county court at law, except that the district clerk of Medina County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act and shall establish a separate docket for the county court at law. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be as provided by law for official court reporters. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Medina County.

Transfer of Cases and Judges

Sec. 6. (a) As soon as practicable after this court is created, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the county court, and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act, and the district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district courts of Medina County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Medina County and the County Court at Law of Medina County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law, and in cases transferred to any of the courts in Medina County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before transfer, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him or her without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his or her own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his or her court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions here-in provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Practice and Procedure

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Sec. 10. The County Court at Law of Medina County is created on January 1, 1980, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes, whichever date is earlier. [Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 931, ch. 426, §§ 1 to 11, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

TITLE 42

COURTS—PRACTICE IN DISTRICT AND COUNTY

CHAPTER ONE. INSTITUTION, PARTIES AND VENUE

3. PARTIES TO SUITS

Art. 1994. Suit and Representation by Next Friend

Minors, lunatics, idiots or non compos mentis persons who have no legal guardian may sue and be represented by "next friend" under the following rules:

1. In such cases when a judgment is recovered for money or other personal property, the court may by order entered of record, authorize such next friend or other person to take charge of such money or other property for the use and benefit of the plaintiff when he has executed a proper bond (in the sum at least double the value of the property), payable to the county judge, conditioned that he will pay said money with lawful interest thereon or deliver said property and its increase to the person entitled to receive the same when ordered by the court to do so, and that he will use such money or property for the benefit of the owner under the direction of the court. The bond shall be in a sum at least double the value of the property and money recovered, with the exception that a bond which is executed by the next friend or other person taking charge of the money or property, as principal, and by a solvent surety company authorized under the laws of Texas to execute such bonds, as surety, shall be in a sum equal to the value of the property and money recovered.

2. The judge of the court in which the judgment is rendered upon an application and hearing, in termtime or vacation, may provide by decree for an investment of the funds accruing under such judgment. Such decree, if made in vacation, shall be recorded in the minutes of the succeeding term of the court.

3. The person who takes such money or property shall receive such compensation as the court may allow and shall make such disposition thereof as the court may order; and he shall return such money or property into court upon the order of the court.

4. If any person has an interest in such recovery, the court may hear evidence as to such interest, and order such claim, or such part as is deemed just, to be paid to whoever is entitled to receive the same.

5. If not otherwise invested in the manner provided in this article, any moneys recovered by the plaintiff, regardless of the amount, may be invested as follows by either the next friend or the Clerk of the Court:

(a) in savings accounts or certificates of any savings and loan association domiciled in this State provided such accounts are insured by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation; or

(b) in interest-bearing time deposits in any bank doing business in this State provided the payment of such time deposits is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation; and if such moneys are so invested in such manner as to prevent the withdrawal of such moneys from the financial institution in which they are invested without an order of the court no bond shall be required of the "next friend" in respect to such moneys until the same are withdrawn from such financial institution, at which time the court shall order such bond to be made as may be appropriate under the other provisions of this article, or the court may order such funds turned over directly to the person entitled thereto upon the court finding that the previous disability had ceased to exist.

6. If not otherwise invested in the manner provided in this article, the judge of the court in which the judgment is rendered upon application of the next friend or a duly appointed guardian ad litem for the minor, or either or both of them, after hearing and upon a finding that the best interests of the minor would be served thereby, may by decree entered of record direct the clerk to deliver any funds accruing under such judgment to any trust company or state or national bank in Texas having trust powers, as trustee, to be held and invested as a trust estate for the benefit of such minor, under such terms and provisions of trust as may be provided by the court; provided, however, that any decree establishing such a trust estate shall contain the following trust provisions, in addition to such other terms, provisions, conditions, or limitations not inconsistent therewith as may be established by the court:

(a) the minor shall be the sole beneficiary of such trust;

(b) the trustee shall be authorized to disburse such amounts of the corpus, income, or both, of the trust as may be reasonably necessary in the sole discretion of the trustee to provide for the health, education, support, or maintenance of the beneficiary. Any income not so distributed by the trustee shall be added to the corpus of the trust;

(c) the trust shall provide for termination of the trust upon the death of the beneficiary or upon the beneficiary attaining a stated age, which shall not exceed 25 years of age. Upon termination, the then existing trust principal and any undistributed income shall be paid to the beneficiary or to the personal representative of the estate of a deceased beneficiary;

(d) the trust shall provide that the trustee serve without bond and that the trustee receive reasonable compensation, to be paid out of the income or corpus of the trust, or both, upon application and approval of the court. Any trust established by the court pursuant to this article may provide for distributions of a stated percentage of the then existing trust corpus prior to termination of the trust, as the beneficiary from time to time attains a particular stated age, and may also provide that all distributions and all uses and applications of trust funds, either income or corpus, may be made directly to or expended for the benefit of the beneficiary without the intervention of any legal guardian or other legal representative, and that the trustee may pay any income or principal distribution to or for the benefit of a beneficiary directly to such beneficiary; to the legal or natural guardian or person having custody of such beneficiary; or directly for the maintenance or support of such beneficiary. Any trust established by the court pursuant to this article shall not be subject to revocation by the beneficiary or any guardian of the beneficiary's estate, but shall remain subject to amendment, modification, or revocation by the court at any time prior to termination of the trust. If any trust established hereunder is revoked by the court prior to the beneficiary attaining the age of 18, the court may enter such further or additional orders concerning the trust corpus and any undistributed income as may be authorized by this article. If any trust established hereunder is revoked by the court after the beneficiary has attained the age of 18, after payment of all proper and necessary expenses, the trust corpus and any undistributed income shall be delivered to the beneficiary. Any trust established pursuant to this article shall take precedence over any existing law or statute concerning minors or their property, and such trust shall continue in full force and effect until terminated or revoked notwithstanding the appointment of a guardian of the estate for such minor or such minor attaining his majority.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 2(c) to 3]

Art. 2101. Interchangeable Juries

The provisions of this article shall be applicable only to such counties of this State as may now maintain three or more district courts, or in which three or more district courts may be hereafter established. A criminal court in any county with jurisdiction in felony cases shall be considered a district court within the meaning of this article. The "Interchangeable Jury Law" shall not apply to a selection of jurors in lunacy cases or in capital cases.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1 to 5]

6. A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, in a county in which two district courts have jurisdiction, both district judges may meet together at such times as they may agree upon and determine approximately the number of jurors that are reasonably necessary for jury service in the district courts of the county for each week for as many weeks in advance as they deem proper, and may order the drawing of such number of jurors for each of said weeks, which jury is known as the general panel of jurors for service in both district courts for the respective weeks for which they are designated to serve. Both judges shall act together in carrying out the provisions of this section. They may increase or diminish the number of jurors to be selected for any week and may order the jurors drawn for as many weeks in advance of service as they deem proper. From time to time they shall designate the judge to whom the general panel shall report for duty, and the designated judge, for the time he is chosen to act, shall organize the juries and have immediate supervision and control of them. The jurors, after being regularly drawn from the wheel, shall be served by the sheriff to appear and report for jury service before the judge so designated, who shall hear the excuses of the jury and swear them in for service for the week that they are to serve to try all cases that may be submitted to them in either of the district courts. The jurors, when impaneled, constitute a general jury panel for service as jurors in both district courts in the county and shall be used interchangeably. In the event of a deficiency of jurors at any given time to meet the requirement of either court, the judge having control of the general panel shall order such additional jurors to be drawn from the wheel as may be sufficient to meet the emergency, but such jurors shall act only as special jurors and shall be discharged as soon as their services are no longer needed. Resort to the wheel shall be had in all cases to fill out the general panel.

B. With the approval of both district judges, jurors impaneled under the provisions of Subdivision A of this subsection may constitute a general jury panel for service as jurors in all county courts and statutory county courts in the county, in addition to service as jurors in both district courts, and in such event, shall be used interchangeably in all district and county courts.

C. The provisions of this subsection are cumulative of and in addition to the methods now authorized by law for the selection of a jury panel in the counties herein named, and the adoption of the method provided in this subsection is entirely optional with and in the discretion of the district judges of any such county coming under the terms of this law. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 330, ch. 137, § 1, eff. May 8, 1975.]

(a) Each grand juror and each petit juror in a civil or criminal case in a district or criminal district court, county court, county court at law, or justice court is entitled to receive not less than $6 nor more than $30 for each day or fraction of a day that he serves as a juror. The commissioners court of each county shall determine annually, within the minimum and maximum prescribed in this subsection, the amount of per diem for jurors, which shall be paid out of the jury fund of the county. A person who responds to the process of a court, but who is excused from petit jury service by the court for any cause after being tested on voir dire, is entitled to receive not less than $6 nor more than $30 for each day or fraction of a day that he attends court in response to such process.

4. THE JURY IN COURT

Art. 2133. Qualifications

All persons both male and female eighteen years of age or older are competent jurors, unless disqualified under some provision of this chapter. No person shall be qualified to serve as a juror who does not possess the following qualifications:

1. He must be a citizen of the State and of the county in which he is to serve and qualified under the Constitution and laws to vote in said county.
2. He must be of sound mind and good moral character.
3. He must be able to read and write, except as otherwise provided herein.
4. He must not have served as a juror for six (6) days during the preceding six (6) months in the District Court, or during the preceding three (3) months in the County Court.
5. He must not have been convicted of a felony.
6. He must not be under indictment or other legal accusation of theft or of any felony.

A person who is legally blind is not disqualified to serve as a juror in a civil case solely by reason of his legal blindness, but is subject to a challenge for cause in a civil case unless, in the opinion of the court and all parties to the suit and the prospective juror, his legal blindness does not render him unfit to act as a juror in that particular case. If a party to the suit challenges a prospective juror by reason of his legal blindness, it shall not count as one of that party's peremptory challenges.

Whenever it shall be made to appear to the court that the requisite number of jurors able to read and write cannot be found within the county, the court may dispense with the exception provided for in the third subdivision; and the court may in like manner dispense with the exception provided for in the fourth subdivision, when the county is so sparsely populated as to make its enforcement seriously inconvenient.

Where the word "he" is used in this Section it shall be used in the generic term so as to include both male and female persons.

In this Article, "legally blind" shall mean having not more than 20/200 of visual acuity in the better eye with correcting lenses, or visual acuity greater than 20/200 but with a limitation in the field of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 474, ch. 202, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2135. Jury Service

All competent jurors are liable to jury service, except the following persons:

1. All persons over sixty-five (65) years of age.
 2. All persons who have legal custody of a child or children under the age of ten (10) years if jury service by that person would necessitate leaving the child or children without adequate supervision.
 3. All students of public or private secondary schools.
 4. Every person who is enrolled and in actual attendance at an institution of higher education.
- [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 804, ch. 363, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 2137a. Permanent Exemption for Elderly

Claim Filed with Tax Assessor-Collector

Sec. 2. (a) A person may claim the permanent exemption by filing with the county tax assessor-collector at any time a signed statement affirming that he or she is over 65 years of age and desires a permanent exemption on that ground.

(b) The statement may be filed by mail or by personal delivery.

Sec. 3. (b) Promptly after a statement claiming the permanent exemption is filed, the court clerk with whom it is filed shall have a copy delivered to the county tax assessor-collector.

Register of Permanently Exempt Persons

Sec. 4. The county tax assessor-collector shall maintain a current register indicating the name of each claimant who is entitled to the permanent exemption from jury service.

Permanently Exempt Persons Excluded from Jury List

Sec. 5. The names of persons listed on the register of persons permanently exempt from jury service may not be placed in the jury wheel or otherwise used in preparing the record of names from which a jury list is selected.

Rescission of Permanent Exemption

Sec. 6. (a) The claimant of a permanent exemption from jury service under this article may rescind the exemption at any time by filing a signed request for rescission with the county tax assessor-collector.

(b) Rescission does not affect a person's right to claim the permanent exemption at a later time. [Added by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 252, ch. 131, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

CHAPTER EIGHT. TRIAL OF CAUSES

5. CASE TO JURY

Art. 2194a. Bringing Meals into Jury Room

(a) Whenever the judge deems it advisable, in order to expedite the final disposition of any district court civil case for which a jury is empaneled, to keep the jury together for deliberation rather than to dismiss it for meals, he shall have the power to draw a warrant on the jury fund or other appropriate fund of the county in which the case is being tried, to cover the cost of buying meals and bringing same into the jury room. However, not more than Three Dollars ($3) may be spent per meal for any juror.

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court may from time to time designate some other Justice of that Court to act in his stead, and at his pleasure, as member of the Council. The Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals may from time to time designate some other Judge of that Court to act in his stead, and at his pleasure, as member of the Council. The foregoing references to justices and judges, other than the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, include respectively such retired justices and judges of the same grade as are legally eligible for assignment to part-time judicial duties. In the event the Chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee or the Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee is reappointed to such position, his immediate predecessor shall continue to serve on the Council as immediate past Chairman, it being the intent of the Legislature that two members of the Senate and two members of the House be at all times members of the Council; provided, however, that in the case of legislative members, cessation of membership in the Legislature shall not terminate their membership on the Council, but they shall continue to serve for their full term notwithstanding their cessation of membership in the Legislature. In the event of a vacancy in a legislative membership, such vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term only by the presiding officer of the appropriate house of the Legislature, and vacancies in other official memberships shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment and for the unexpired term only. Ex officio members of the Council shall be entitled to all the privileges of full membership thereon and shall be regarded and treated in every respect as full members thereon.

Art. 2338-1.1. Jurisdiction of District and County Courts; Actions of Juvenile Judge Not Licensed as Attorney

Each district court, county court, and statutory county court exercising any of the constitutional jurisdiction of either a county court or a district court has jurisdiction over juvenile matters and may be designated a juvenile court. Any action taken by a juvenile judge not licensed as an attorney by the State of Texas shall be subject to the trial de novo and appeal provisions as authorized by Sections 51.04, 51.18, and 56.01 of the Family Code. [Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 387, ch. 178, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 2338-1c. Appointment of Retired Special Juvenile Court or Domestic Relations Court, Judge to Sit for Regular Family District Court Judge

Absent, Disabled or Disqualified Regular Judge; Crowded Docket

Sec. 1. (a) When the regular judge of a Family District Court as created by the Family District Court Act in this state is absent or is from any cause disabled or disqualified from presiding, a retired judge of a special juvenile court or a domestic relations court may be appointed by the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district in which the appointed judge resides to sit for the regular judge of a Family District Court within the geographic limits of the respective administrative judicial district, provided the retired judge voluntarily retired from office and certifies his willingness to serve.

(b) When the docket of a Family District Court in this state becomes so excessive that the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district in which that court is located deems it an emergency, a retired judge of a special juvenile court or a domestic relations court residing within the geographic limits of the respective administrative judicial district, who meets the qualifications set out in Subsection (a) of this section, may be appointed by the presiding judge to sit for the regular judge for as long as the emergency exists.

(c) A presiding judge may, with the consent of a retired judge of a special juvenile court or a domestic relations court, within his district make an assignment outside of his judicial district with the specific authorization of the presiding judge of the district in which that assignment is made.

Bond and Oath of Retired Judge

Sec. 2. A retired judge appointed to sit for a regular judge under the provisions of this Act shall execute the bond and take the oath of office which is required by law for the regular judge for whom he is sitting.

Power and Jurisdiction

Sec. 3. A retired judge appointed under the provisions of this Act has all the power and jurisdiction of the court and the regular judge for whom he is sitting and may sign orders, judgments, decrees, or other process of any kind as "Judge Presiding" when acting for the regular judge.

Compensation

Sec. 4. A retired judge appointed to sit for the regular judge under the provisions of this Act shall receive for the services actually performed the same amount of salary which the regular judge is entitled to receive for such services. The amount to be paid for such services shall be paid in the same manner as the regular judge is paid on certification by the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district that the retired judge has rendered the services and is entitled to receive the salary. Such payment shall be made from the item in the judiciary section, comptrollers department, of the appropriations act providing for payment of salaries of district judges and criminal district judges. This Act does not entitle the retired judge of a special juvenile court or a domestic relations court to participate in the state Judicial Retirement System. No part of the amount paid to a retired judge sitting for the regular judge shall be deducted or paid out of the salary of the regular judge.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 5. The provisions of the Act are cumulative of all laws pertaining to the election or appointment of a special judge, and if, in addition to a retired judge appointed to sit temporarily for a regular judge, a special judge is needed, he shall be appointed or elected as now authorized by law.

Art. 2338-1d. Master in Domestic Relations Court in Counties Over 1,500,000

Authorization to Appoint Master; Termination; Qualifications; Compensation

Sec. 1. (a) Each judge of a court of domestic relations in a county of more than 1,500,000 population or any successor court thereto may appoint a master as provided in this Act. The services of the master may be terminated if the performance of his duties is unsatisfactory to the judge of the court, by which the master was appointed.

(b) A master shall be an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Texas and shall be a citizen of this state. The compensation for a master shall be fixed by the judge of the court making such appointment. If the judge of the court determines that the parties litigant are unable to defray the costs of the master's compensation, such costs shall be paid out of the jury fund of the county.

Matters Referred to a Master

Sec. 2. If the judge of a court of domestic relations in such county or any successor court thereto deems it advisable, he may appoint a master and refer to the master any civil case involving motions of contempt for failure or refusal to pay child support, temporary support, or separate maintenance; motions for failure or refusal to comply with court orders concerning visitation with children growing out of separate maintenance and divorce actions; motions for changes of conservatorships; motions for revision of child-support payments; and motions for revision of visitation privileges.

Powers

Sec. 3. (a) In all cases designated in Section 2 of this Act, the judge of a court of domestic relations in a county of more than 1,500,000 population or any successor court thereto may authorize the master to hear evidence, to make findings of fact thereon, to formulate conclusions of law, and to recommend judgment to be entered in such cases. In all cases referred to the master, the order of reference may specify or limit the powers of the master and may direct him to report only on particular issues, or to do or perform particular acts, or to receive and report on evidence only, and may fix the time and place for beginning and closing hearings and for filing reports.

(b) Subject to the limitations and specifications stated in the order, the master shall have the power to regulate all proceedings in every hearing before him and to do all acts and take all measures necessary and proper for the efficient performance of his duties under the order. He may require the production of evidence before him on all matters embraced in the reference, and he may rule on the admissibility of evidence, unless otherwise directed by the order of reference. He has the authority to issue summons for the appearance of witnesses and to swear the witnesses for the hearing and may examine them himself. A witness appearing before him that is duly sworn is subject to the penalties of perjury. If a witness after being duly summoned fails to appear or having appeared refuses to answer questions, on certification of such refusal to the referring court, the court may issue attachment against the witness and may fine or imprison the witness.

Report to Referring Judge; Notice to Parties

Sec. 4. On the conclusion of the hearing in each case, the master shall transmit to the referring judge all papers relating to the case, together with his findings and a statement that notice of his findings and of the right to a hearing before the judge has been given to all adult principals, minors, or parents, guardians, or custodians of any minor whose case has been heard by the master. This notice may be given at the hearing or otherwise as the referring court directs.

Disposition by Referring Judge

Sec. 5. After it is filed, the referring court may adopt, modify, correct, reject, or reverse the master's report or recommit it for further information as the court may deem proper and necessary in the particular circumstances of the case. Where judgment has been recommended, the court in its discretion may approve the recommendation and hear further evidence before rendition of judgment.

Hearing by Judge upon Request

Sec. 6. Adult principals or a minor child or his parents, guardians, or custodians are entitled to a hearing by the judge of the referring court if within three days after receiving notice of the findings of the master they file a request with the court for a hearing. The referring court may allow the hearing at any time.

Failure to Request Hearing

Sec. 7. If no hearing before the judge of the referring court is requested or the right to such hearing is waived, the findings and recommendations of the master become the decree of the court when adopted by an order of the judge.

Notice of Hearing by Master

Sec. 8. Prior to the hearing by the master, the parties litigant shall be given due notice as provided by law of the time and place of the hearing.

Jury Trial

Sec. 9. In any proceeding where a jury trial has been demanded, the master shall refer the case back to the referring court for a full hearing before the court and jury, subject to the usual rules of the court in such cases.

Appointment of Master not Mandatory

Sec. 10. Nothing in this Act shall be interpreted to require any judge of a court of domestic relations to appoint a permanent or standing master to serve in such court.

Art. 2370c-2. Criminal Justice Facilities in Certain Counties and Cities

Eligible Counties and Cities

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to any county in this state and to any city in such county which city is not the county seat of such county but has a population of more than 17,500 according to the last preceding federal census.

Authorization

Sec. 2. Counties and cities to which this Act is applicable are hereby authorized jointly or severally to own, construct, equip, enlarge, and maintain a building or buildings in such city to constitute a criminal justice center providing facilities of a public nature with relation to or incidental in the administration of criminal justice, including, without limitation, accommodations for the handling, processing, and detention of prisoners, and offices for state, county, and city administrative and judicial officials, courtrooms, garages, and parking areas.

Contracts

Sec. 3. Such county and city shall have authority to specify by contract the purpose, terms, rights, objectives, duties, and responsibilities of each of the contracting parties, including the amount, or proportionate amount, of money to be contributed by each for land acquisition, building acquisition, construction, and equipment; the method or methods by which such moneys are to be provided; the account or accounts in which such money is to be deposited; the party which shall award construction or other contracts or that such contracts shall be awarded by action of both parties; and the manner in which disbursements shall be authorized. Such contract may further provide for the creation of an administrative agency or may designate one of the parties to supervise the accomplishment of the purposes of the contract and to operate and maintain the joint facilities, and any administrative agency so created or party so designated shall have authority to employ personnel and engage in other administrative activities as necessary in accomplishing the purposes of the contract and in operating and maintaining the joint facilities.

Methods of Meeting Costs

Sec. 4. The county and city contract may specify that moneys required of them in meeting the cost of providing the criminal justice center shall be derived from current income and funds on hand budgeted by them for such purpose, or through the authorization and issuance of bonds by either or both the county and city under the procedures prescribed for the issuance of general obligation bonds for other public buildings and purposes, or by the issuance by either or both the county and the city of certificates of obligation under the provisions of Article 2368a-1,¹ Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, or by a combination of those methods. In lieu of or in combination with the employment of taxing power in the payment of such bonds or certificates of obligation, same may be payable from and secured by income derived from the criminal justice center facilities, including that from leases and from the proceeds of parking or other fees. In the financing of the facilities herein authorized eligible counties and cities jointly or severally may accept grants, gratuities, advances, and loans from the United States, the State of Texas, or any of their agencies, any private or public corporation, or any other person.

Office Facilities

Sec. 5. As applicable to counties eligible to employ the provisions of this Act, any county officer, in addition to the office he maintains at the county seat, may maintain office facilities in the herein authorized criminal justice center notwithstanding provisions of Article 1605, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or any other law limiting the location of county offices to the county seat of their respective counties.

Art. 2370c-3. Justice Centers Located on State Line

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Law" means a statute of a state, a written opinion of a court of record, a municipal ordinance, an order of a county commissioners court, or a rule authorized by and lawfully adopted pursuant to a statute.

(2) "Municipality" means an incorporated city or town.

Authorization for Contract

Sec. 2. (a) A county in this state and a municipality in that county, both located on the state line, may contract with an adjoining county and any municipality in that county located on the other side of the state line for the joint construction, financing, operation, and management of a justice center to be located on the state line. The contracting municipality in this state need not be the county seat of the contracting county in this state. The county and municipality in this state may contract for the center to contain:

(1) courtrooms and office space needed by municipal, justice, county, district, and appellate courts;

(2) jail, lockup, and other detention facilities;

(3) federal, county, precinct, and municipal offices for prosecuting attorneys and other personnel as needed;

(4) adult or juvenile probation offices;

(5) any other offices that either county or municipality is separately authorized or required to operate or provide; or

(6) parking space, dining areas, and other facilities incidental to operation of the center.

(b) A court of civil appeals or a district, county, justice, or municipal court having jurisdiction in the county or municipality in which a part of the center is located may maintain offices and courtrooms and hold proceedings at the center, except that no justice court other than the justice court for the precinct in which the part of the center in this state is located may maintain an office and courtroom in the center.

(c) A court of this state may not hold proceedings in the part of the center located in the other state. Courts of the other state may hold proceedings in the part of the center in this state.

Financing

Sec. 3. The governing body of a Texas municipality or Texas county contracting as provided by Section 1 of this Act may finance its share of the construction, financing, operation, or management of the center by any means that it could finance the type of facilities in the center to be used or provided by it. The contract may take advantage of the availability of federal funds to finance any part of the center.

Management of Center

Sec. 4. The contracting parties may specify in the contract the manner of determining the persons responsible for:

(1) the operation, alteration, maintenance, cleaning, and repair of the facilities;

(2) the employment of center personnel;

(3) the purchase of materials, supplies, tools, and other equipment to be jointly used by offices provided or used by the contracting parties;

(4) preparing reports to the governing bodies of the contracting parties;

(5) joint record-keeping, communications, or dispatch systems; and

(6) the performance of any other powers or duties relating to operation of the center.

Personnel

Sec. 5. The contracting parties may provide in the contract the manner of determining the personnel policies and employment benefit programs for center personnel.

Jail Management

Sec. 6. The contract must provide that the sheriffs of the two counties are jointly responsible for operation of any jail, lockup, or other detention facility in the center and the custody, care, and treatment of persons in custody in the facility or must provide for the hiring of a jailer with those responsibilities.

Law Applicable to the Center

Sec. 7. (a) Except as otherwise provided by this Act, the law of both states regarding rights, duties, liabilities, privileges, and immunities arising from conduct applies to conduct in any part of the center. If, however, it is impossible for a person to conform his or her conduct in the center to the law of both states, that person may choose which state's law governs that conduct. If a person chooses to conform his or her conduct in the center to the law of the other state, the conflicting law of this state does not apply to that conduct.

(b) The physical plant of the center and equipment and facilities used by personnel of both states employed at the center are constructively present in both states.

(c) Except as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, property in any part of the center that is owned by or in the possession of a person in custody or summoned to appear in the center is constructively present in the state under the law of which the person was taken into custody or summoned to appear.

(d) Possession of property that constitutes an offense committed in the center is conduct to which Subsection (a) of this section applies. A person's exercise of a duty in regard to property in the center is conduct to which Subsection (a) of this section applies.

(e) Property that is ordered by a court to be produced in the center or that is in the possession of a peace officer or a party to a proceeding for use as evidence before a court holding a proceeding in the center is constructively present in the state of the court.

(f) Property in the center that is not covered by Subsection (c), (d), or (e) of this section is constructively present in both states.

(g) The law of a state in which property is constructively present applies to that property to the same extent that that law would apply if the property were actually present in that state. If property is constructively present in only one state, the law of the state in which the property is not constructively present may be applied to that property only to the extent that that law would apply if the property were actually outside that state.

(h) Except as otherwise provided by this Act, the courts of both states have concurrent jurisdiction over the geographic area of both states in the center, but the state in which a prosecution is first instituted for an offense committed in the center retains jurisdiction to apply that state's law to the exclusion of the other state's jurisdiction, unless the prosecution is terminated without jeopardy attaching under the law of the state of the first prosecution. For the purposes of this Act, a prosecution is commenced in this state on the filing of an indictment, information, or complaint, and the attachment of jeopardy in this state is determined by Article 27.05, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended.

Arrest, Extradition, and Service of Process

Sec. 8. (a) A person who is in the center in the custody of a peace officer or center personnel under Texas law:

(1) is constructively present in Texas while that person is in custody in the part of the center in the other state;

(2) may be prosecuted for an offense against Texas law without extradition of that person; and

(3) may be personally served in any part of the center for a proceeding in Texas.

(b) A person who is in the center in the custody of a peace officer or center personnel under the law of the other state:

(1) is constructively present in the other state while that person is in custody in the part of the center in Texas;

(2) may not be prosecuted for an offense against Texas law without extradition of that person; and

(3) may not be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in Texas.

(c) Texas agrees that a person who is in the center in the custody of a peace officer or center personnel under the law of the other state may be prosecuted for an offense against the law of the other state without extradition of that person. Texas agrees that a person who is in the center in the custody of a peace officer or center personnel under the law of the other state may be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in the other state.

(d) Center personnel or a peace officer of either state may transfer across the state line in the center a person in custody in the center under the law of either state and may exercise control over that person on both sides of the state line in the center.

(e) A person in the center who has not been confined in the center, taken to the center under arrest, or summoned to appear in the center may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against the law of either state without extradition of that person. Extradition of a person who was arrested in the center under those circumstances is not required in order to prosecute the person for an offense against the law of either state if the person is physically present in any part of the center or the state of the prosecution at the time of the prosecution.

(f) A person who is summoned to appear in the center under Texas law:

(1) is constructively present in Texas while that person is appearing under the summons in the part of the center in the other state;

(2) without extradition, may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law and prosecuted for that offense if that person is physically present in any part of the center or Texas at the time of the prosecution; and

(3) may be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in Texas.

(g) A person who is summoned to appear in the center under the law of the other state:

(1) is constructively present in the other state while that person is appearing under the summons in the part of the center in Texas;

(2) without extradition, may not be arrested under Texas law in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law; and

(3) may not be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in Texas.

(h) Texas agrees that a person who is summoned to appear in the center under the law of the other state may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against the law of the other state and prosecuted for that offense without extradition if that person is physically present in any part of the center or the other state at the time of the prosecution. Texas agrees that a person who is summoned to appear in the center under the law of the other state may be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in the other state.

(i) If a person in the center is constructively present in one state under this section, the law of the state in which the person is not constructively present may be applied to that person only to the extent that that law would apply if the person were actually outside that state. However, the law applicable to that person's conduct in the center is governed by Section 7 of this Act, and whether extradition is required to arrest or prosecute that person for an offense committed in the center is governed by Section 8 of this Act.

(j) If the other state enacts legislation as provided in Section 9 of this Act, a peace officer of Texas may:

(1) arrest a person under Texas law in the part of the center in the other state for an offense against Texas law if that peace officer would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in Texas; and

(2) arrest a person under the law of the other state in any part of the center for an offense against the law of the other state if a peace officer of the other state would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in the other state.

(k) Texas agrees that a peace officer of the other state may arrest a person under Texas law in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law if a peace officer of Texas would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in Texas.

(l) Texas agrees that a peace officer of the other state may arrest a person under the law of the other state in the part of the center in Texas for an offense against the law of the other state if that peace officer would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in the other state.

(m) Notwithstanding Sections 3 and 6, Article 51-13, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, the governor of this state may recognize a demand for the extradition of a person charged with crime in the other state if the demand alleges that any element of the offense occurred in any part of the center.

Other State's Legislation

Sec. 9. A county and a municipality in this state may contract with a county and a municipality in an adjoining state as provided by Sections 2 and 3 of this Act only if the other state enacts legislation relating to the establishment of a justice center pursuant to a contract as provided in those sections that:

(1) provides for joint responsibility of the sheriffs of the two counties over the operation of a jail, lockup, or other detention facility in the center and persons in custody in the facility, or the hiring of a jailer with those responsibilities;

(2) provides for the application and enforcement of the law of both states in the manner provided by Section 7 of this Act;

(3) provides that a person in custody in the center under Texas law may be prosecuted for an offense against Texas law without extradition of that person, as provided by Section 8 of this Act;

(4) provides that a person in custody in the center under Texas law may not be prosecuted for an offense against the law of the other state without extradition of that person or personally served with process in the center for a proceeding in the other state;

(5) provides that a person summoned to appear in the center under Texas law may not be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in the other state and may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law and prosecuted for that offense without extradition of the person if the person is physically present in any part of the center or Texas at the time of the prosecution, as provided by Section 8 of this Act;

(6) provides that a person summoned to appear in the center under Texas law may not be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against the law of the other state;

(7) provides that center personnel or a peace officer of either state may transfer across the state line in the center a person in custody in the center under the law of either state and may exercise control over that person on both sides of the state line in the center, as provided by Section 8 of this Act;

(8) provides that a person in the center who is not confined in the center, taken to the center under arrest, or summoned to appear in the center may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against the laws of either state without extradition of that person, and that extradition of a person who was arrested in the center under those circumstances is not required in order for the person to be prosecuted for an offense against the law of either state if the person is physically present in any part of the center or the state of the prosecution at the time of the prosecution, as provided by Section 8 of this Act;

(9) authorizes a peace officer of either state, under Texas law, to arrest a person in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law if a peace officer of Texas would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in Texas, as provided by Section 8 of this Act; and

(10) authorizes a peace officer of either state, under the law of the other state, to arrest a person in any part of the center for an offense against the law of the other state if a peace officer of the other state would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in the other state, as provided by Section 8 of this Act.

Sec. 3. The commissioners court may lease the real property and air rights thereto, as provided herein, notwithstanding that the real property leased is presently encumbered by existing revenue bond indentures. In leasing the county-owned land or the air rights thereto, the commissioners court shall abide by all applicable terms and conditions of the existing revenue bond indentures, except such terms as are waived by the holders of the revenue bonds.

Creation of Encumbrance Prohibited

Sec. 4. No lease of county-owned land or air rights thereto hereunder shall in any way subject the county-owned land to a mortgage or encumbrance not heretofore existing and any lease executed hereunder shall specifically provide that such county-owned land shall not be deemed to be encumbered or mortgaged by any lease executed hereunder, or any agreement executed in connection with such lease.

Land May not be Mortgaged

Sec. 5. The county-owned land which may be leased hereunder shall not be in any way pledged or mortgaged (other than by existing revenue bond indentures or refunding or other release of existing revenue bond indentures), by any lease or agreement executed hereunder, and the county executing a lease hereunder shall not in any way lend its credit to any private corporation, association, or person in connection with a lease executed hereunder.

Lease Terms and Conditions

Sec. 7. Any lease hereunder of county-owned property or air rights thereto shall be leased upon a competitive bid and for a consideration of not less than the fair market lease value and may otherwise be upon such terms and conditions as the parties may mutually agree upon consistent with the constitution and laws of this state.

Sale of Property

Sec. 8. (a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law to the contrary, the commissioners court is specifically authorized to enter an agreement hereunder to provide for the sale of specified county-owned land to a private association, corporation, or individual once the following conditions have been fulfilled:

(3) the parties mutually agree to a sale of the realty and air rights thereto;

(4) the county receives an adequate sale price which is fair under the then existing market conditions for the sale of the land and any air rights thereto.

(b) The commissioners court may impose such deed restrictions or reverters as may be advisable to preserve the use of the land for a purpose consistent with the construction, expansion, ownership, and operation of a hotel and related facilities in conjunction with a convention center.

(c) The sale of the land may include land appurtenant to the land upon which said hotel or related facilities have been built.

Contracts: Parties, Purposes

Sec. 9. Expenditure of Tax Revenue

Sec. 10. In agreements and contracts authorized by this Act, the commissioners court may expend tax funds consistent with the provisions of this Act and other provisions of state law, but the commitment and expenditure of tax funds must be from current revenues of the county.

(17) change its principal place of business to another place in the state, or change the location in the state of any subsidiary places of business, on giving written notice to the commissioner;

(18) collect, receive, and disburse money in connection with the sale of travelers checks, money orders, and similar instruments, and for other purposes that may provide benefit or convenience for its members, and for those purposes, levy incident charges;

(19) levy a charge not to exceed reasonable administrative costs for each check negotiated to the credit union by a member or other person if the check is returned by the drawee bank because it is drawn against insufficient funds, there is a stop payment order, the account on which it is drawn is closed, or it is drawn against uncollected funds, or if it is returned for a similar reason; this charge is in addition to interest authorized by law and is not a part of the interest collected or agreed to be paid on a subject loan under any state law that limits the rate of interest that may be charged in any transaction, but the charge is an expense of administration;

(20) make donations or contributions to any nonprofit, civic, charitable, or community organization as authorized by the board of directors subject to rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner and subject to federal or state laws regulating these contributions;

(21) operate as a central credit union, with the approval of the commissioner; and

(22) cause any or all records kept by the credit union to be copied or reproduced by any photostatic, photographic, electronic, or microfilming process that correctly and permanently copies, reproduces, or forms a medium for copying or reproducing the original record on a file or other durable material, subject to any regulations promulgated by the commissioner, and dispose of the original record. Any copy or reproduction shall be deemed to be an original record for all purposes and shall be treated as an original record in all courts or administrative agencies for the purpose of its admissibility in evidence. A facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy shall, for all purposes, be deemed a facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy of the original record.

Art. 2461-4.02. Incidental Powers

A credit union may exercise all powers necessary or appropriate to accomplish the purposes for which the credit union is organized. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

CHAPTER 5. DIRECTION OF AFFAIRS

Art. 2461-5.01. Management

The business and affairs of a credit union are managed by a board of directors of not less than five members, by a credit committee of not less than three members, and by those officers prescribed in the bylaws of the credit union.

Art. 2461-5.02. Certificate of Election

The chairman of the board and the secretary shall execute a certificate of election that sets forth the names and addresses of the officers, directors, and committee members elected or appointed, and shall file a copy of the certificate of election with the department within 30 days after the election or appointment.

Art. 2461-5.03. Board of Directors

(b) The duties of the board of directors are prescribed by the bylaws.

(c) The terms of the members of the board of directors are prescribed in the bylaws.

(d) The board of directors shall elect from its own number a chairman, who shall preside at all meetings of the board. The board shall elect from its own members a treasurer and secretary of the credit union.

Art. 2461-5.04. Officers

(a) The officers of a credit union consist of:

(1) a chairman of the board;

(2) a chief executive officer in charge of operations whose title is president, who may or may not be a member of the board of directors;

(3) a treasurer;

(4) a secretary; and

(5) such other officers as may be prescribed in the bylaws.

(b) The board of directors may employ or shall designate the president, who may or may not be, in the discretion of the board, the same person as the treasurer or credit manager. The treasurer and the secretary may be the same person, but the president and secretary may not be the same person.

(c) The board of directors shall elect the officers of the credit union at the time and in the manner prescribed by the bylaws.

(d) Each officer shall serve for one year or until his successor is elected and qualifies.

(e) The duties of the officers are prescribed in the bylaws.

Art. 2461-5.05. Credit Committee; Credit Manager; Loan Officers

(a) The board of directors shall appoint a credit committee in the manner prescribed by the bylaws.

(b) The terms of the members of the credit committee are prescribed in the bylaws.

(c) The credit committee shall supervise the making of loans to members.

(d) The credit committee shall meet at least once a month or more frequently if the business of the credit union requires.

(e) A credit union may not make a loan unless it has been considered by the credit committee and approved by a majority of the credit committee present at the meeting at which the loan is considered.

(f) The credit committee may appoint one or more loan officers and delegate to each loan officer the power to approve loans. At least once a month, each loan officer shall furnish to the credit committee a record of each loan approved or not approved by the loan officer during the month preceding the date of the meeting of the credit committee. The loan officer may make loans without the necessity for any meetings other than those prescribed in this subsection and without the necessity of the prior approval by any members of the credit committee, if the bylaws permit. The credit committee shall consider and act on all applications for loans not approved by the loan officer within 30 days after the date the application or request for loan is forwarded to the credit committee.

(g) With the approval of the board of directors, the president may appoint a credit manager to serve in lieu of the credit committee. The credit manager, if so appointed, shall supervise the making of loans to members and shall have the same powers, duties, rights, and prerogatives extended the credit committee under the provisions of this section. A credit union may have only one credit manager, who may be the same person as the president.

Art. 2461-5.06. Compensation and Bond

(a) No director may receive compensation, directly or indirectly, for serving as a director or committee member. Directors may receive reimbursement for actual expenses incurred in carrying out their duties.

(b) The board of directors shall purchase from a surety company authorized to do business in this state a blanket security bond covering all officers, employees, members of official committees, attorneys at law, and other agents of the credit union to protect the credit union against loss caused by the failure of a person to faithfully perform his duties. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2461-5.07. Audits

(a) The board of directors shall make or cause to be made a comprehensive annual audit of the books and affairs of the credit union, in accordance with established principles and regulations promulgated by the commissioner, and shall submit a summary of the audit to the members of the credit union at the next annual membership meeting. The board shall report the results of the audit to the department. The board of directors shall make or cause to be made any supplementary audits or examinations that it deems necessary. The board of directors shall make or cause to be made verifications of the accounts of the members with the records of the credit union if required by regulations promulgated by the commissioner.

(b) If the representative examiners from the department find that the board of directors is not acting in accordance with this Act and the regulations issued under it, the commissioner may appoint an independent committee from outside the credit union and its membership to perform an audit, the costs and expenses of which are borne by the credit union.

Art. 2461-5.08. Misconduct and Penalties for Misconduct

(a) No person may demand or receive, directly or indirectly, any bonus, commission, or other consideration on account of the making of a loan or investment or the purchase of any asset by a credit union.

(b) Any officer, director, committee member, loan officer, or employee of a credit union who knowingly permits a loan to be made to a nonmember or participates in a loan to a nonmember commits a Class B misdemeanor. Additionally, the offender is primarily liable to the credit union for the amount illegally loaned. The illegality of the loan is no defense in any action of the credit union to recover on the loan. Extension of credit to a nonmember for the sale of real or personal property owned by the credit union or for the sale of assets acquired in liquidation or repossession shall not be construed as a loan to a nonmember.

(c) Any officer, director, committee member, loan officer, or employee of a credit union, or any person who knowingly permits or participates in a loan in violation of this Act, the bylaws of the credit union, or rules and regulations of the commissioner, other than a loan in violation of Subsection (b) of this section, commits a felony of the third degree.

Art. 2461-5.09. Officers, Directors, and Employees; Cease and Desist; Removal; Appeal

(a) The commissioner may find that an officer, director, or employee of a credit union, or the credit union itself, acting through any authorized person, has:

- (1) violated the provisions of this Act or any other law or regulation applicable to credit unions;
 - (2) refused to comply with the provisions of this Act or any other law or regulation applicable to credit unions;
 - (3) willfully neglected to perform duties, or committed a breach of trust or fiduciary duty;
 - (4) committed any fraudulent or questionable practice in the conduct of the credit union's business which endangers the credit union's reputation or threatens its solvency;
 - (5) refused to submit to examination under oath;
 - (6) conducted business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner; or
 - (7) violated any conditions of its charter or of any agreement entered with the commissioner or the department.
- (b) If the commissioner makes any of these findings, he shall give notice in writing to the credit union and the offending officer, director, or employee, stating the particular violations or practices found. The commissioner shall call a meeting of the directors of the credit union and lay before them the findings and demand a discontinuance of the violations and practices found.
- (c) If the commissioner finds that an order to cease and desist is necessary and in the best interest of the credit union involved and its depositors, creditors, and members, then at the directors' meeting above provided or within 30 days thereafter the commissioner may serve on the credit union, its board of directors, and any offending officers, directors, or employees, a written order to cease and desist from the violations and practices enumerated in the order and to take such affirmative action as may be necessary to correct the conditions resulting from the violations or practices. The cease and desist order is effective immediately if the commissioner finds that immediate and irreparable harm is threatened to the credit union, its depositors, or members; otherwise, the order shall state the effective date, not less than 10 days after delivery or mailing of the notice. Unless the credit union or directors file a notice of appeal with the commissioner within 10 days after the delivery or mailing of notice, whichever is the case, the order is final. A copy of the order shall be entered in the minutes of the directors, who shall certify to the commissioner in writing that each has read and understood the order.
- (d) If the commissioner subsequently finds by examination or other credible evidence that the offending officer, director, or employee has continued violations or practices previously charged and found by the commissioner, after notice and demand made under Subsection (b) of this section, and further finds that removal from office or employment is necessary and in the best interest of the credit union and its depositors, creditors, and members, then the commissioner may serve the officer, director, or employee with an order of removal. The order shall state the grounds for removal with reasonable certainty and shall effect immediate suspension from office or employment. Unless the credit union, the director, or the person removed files a notice of appeal with the commissioner within 10 days after the delivery or mailing of notice, whichever is the case, the order of removal is effective and final as of the date of suspension, and the person removed may not hold office, be employed by, or participate in the affairs of the credit union. A copy of the order shall be entered in the minutes of the directors, and an officer shall acknowledge receipt of the order and certify to the commissioner that the person has been removed from office.

(e) If the person removed files a timely appeal, the commissioner shall set a time and place for hearing the appeal, giving reasonable notice to the person removed. The commission may adopt any rules or procedures necessary to govern the fair hearing and adjudication of the questions appealed.

(f) If, after a cease and desist order or an order of removal becomes effective and final, a credit union or its board of directors or any duly authorized officer of the credit union fails or refuses to comply with an order, then the commissioner may, after giving notice, assess a civil penalty against the credit union in an amount not to exceed $100 for each day the credit union is in violation of the order. If a credit union fails to pay the penalty assessed, the commissioner may institute a suit for collection of the civil penalty in a district court of Travis County. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

CHAPTER 6. CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Art. 2461-6.01. Capital

The capital of a credit union consists of the aggregate amount of the share and deposit accounts of its members plus all reserves and undivided earnings of the credit union.

Art. 2461-6.02. Share Accounts

(a) Share accounts consist of payments made by members on shares, all of which are common shares of one class, subscribed, paid for, and transferred in the manner prescribed by the bylaws.

(b) Without qualifying any other statutory right to a setoff or lien, and subject to any contractual provisions accepted by the credit union, a credit union has a lien on the shares or deposits of a member for any sum due to the credit union from the member or for any loan endorsed by the member.

(c) The credit union may require 60 days' notice for withdrawal of shares.

Art. 2461-6.03. Deposit Accounts

Deposit accounts, if any, are operated in accordance with the policies and conditions prescribed by the board of directors.

Art. 2461-6.04. Thrift Club Accounts

Christmas clubs, vacation clubs, and other thrift programs, if provided for the use of members, are operated in accordance with the policies and conditions prescribed by the board of directors.

Art. 2461-6.05. Multiple-party Accounts

(a) A member may designate any person, organization, association, corporation, or partnership to hold shares, deposits, and thrift club accounts with the member in joint tenancy. One or more or all of the joint tenants may make deposits and withdrawals subject to the terms of a multiple-party account agreement accepted by the credit union. A credit union shall maintain all multiple-party account agreements as a permanent part of the records pertaining to multiple-party accounts. At least one party to a multiple-party account must be a member of the credit union in which the account is established. No joint tenant, unless also a member, may vote, obtain loans, or hold office in the credit union. Payment of part or all of a multiple-party account to any one or more of the joint tenants discharges, to the extent of the payment, the liability of the credit union to all.

(b) The net contribution of a party to a multiple-party account as of any given time is the sum of all deposits or shares made by or for the party, less all withdrawals made by or for the party which have not been paid to or applied to the use of any other party, plus a pro rata share of any interest or dividends included in the current balance. The net contribution includes, in addition, any share or deposit of life insurance proceeds added to the account by reason of the death of the party whose net contribution is in question. During the lifetime of all parties to a multiple-party account, unless the multiple-party account agreement with the credit union provides otherwise, sums on deposit or in share accounts may be paid on the demand of one or more parties even though it is presumed that sums on deposit or in share accounts belong to the parties in proportion to the net contributions by each to the sums on deposit or in share accounts. Unless the multiple-party account agreement with the credit union provides otherwise, and in the absence of satisfactory proof of the net contributions, those who are parties from time to time shall be presumed to own the joint account in equal undivided interests.

(c) The death of any party to a multiple-party account has no effect on the beneficial ownership of the account, other than to transfer the decedent's right in the account to the estate of the decedent, unless the account is a survivorship account or trust account established in accordance with the laws and with the constitution of this state and the bylaws of the credit union. Nothing in this Act otherwise prevents a credit union from operating the account in accordance with the terms of the multiple-party account agreement.

(d) A multiple-party account payable to two or more persons, jointly or severally, that does not expressly provide that there is a right of survivorship, is presumed to be a nonsurvivorship account.

(e) Without qualifying any other statutory right to a setoff or lien, and subject to any contractual provisions accepted by the credit union, when a party to a multiple-party account is indebted to a credit union, the credit union has a right to set off against the entire amount of the account.

(f) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as in conflict with the laws of the United States or of the State of Texas as those laws govern the taxation of multiple-party accounts.

Art. 2461-6.06. Minor Accounts

A credit union may issue shares or deposits in the name of a minor, and a minor may withdraw the shares or deposits. Payments made on withdrawals by a minor are valid. A minor may vote in the meetings of the members if permitted by the bylaws, except no minor may vote through his parent or guardian. No minor is eligible for any office or committee membership within the credit union unless the bylaws specify otherwise.

Art. 2461-6.07. Trust Accounts

A credit union may issue shares or deposits in the name of a member in trust for a beneficiary, including a minor, but no beneficiary, unless the beneficiary is also a member, may vote, obtain loans, hold office, or be required to pay an entrance fee. Payment of part or all of the shares or deposits to a member shall, to the extent of the payment, discharge the liability of the credit union to the member and the beneficiary, and the credit union shall be under no obligation to see the application of the payment. If a member to whom shares or deposits are issued or held in trust dies, and the credit union has no other written evidence of the existence or terms of any trust, the credit union shall pay the shares or deposits and any dividends or interest to the beneficiary or to the legal representative of the beneficiary; otherwise, the credit union shall administer and distribute the shares or deposits so issued or held under the provisions of the trust agreement, a copy of which must remain on file with the credit union until termination of the trust.

Art. 2461-6.08. Third Party Claims

No credit union organized under the laws of this state, nor any federal credit union domiciled in this state is required to recognize the claim of any third party to any share account or deposit, or to withhold payment of any share account or deposit to the depositor or to the order of the depositor, unless and until the credit union is served with citation or other appropriate process issuing out of a court of competent jurisdiction in connection with a suit instituted by the third party for the purpose of recovering or establishing an interest in the deposit or share account.

CHAPTER 7. LOANS

Art. 2461-7.01. Purpose, Terms, and Interest Rate

If made in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner, a credit union may make loans to members for such purposes and on such security and terms as the credit committee, credit manager, or loan officer approves, at rates of interest not exceeding one percent per month on the unpaid monthly balance. Every loan must be evidenced by a written instrument.

Art. 2461-7.02. Loan Limit

No credit union may make a loan or aggregate of loans to any one member in an amount greater than 10 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the credit union.

Art. 2461-7.03. Line of Credit

The credit committee, an authorized loan officer, or the credit manager may approve in advance a line of credit, and may grant advances to a member within the limit of the extension of credit. If a line of credit has been approved, no additional loan applications are required if the aggregate obligation does not exceed the limit of the extension of credit. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2461-7.04. Participation Loans and Other Loan Programs

(a) A credit union may participate in loans to members jointly with other credit unions, corporations, or financial organizations.

(b) A credit union may participate in guaranteed loan programs of the federal and state governments. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2461-7.05. Loans to Officials

(a) A credit union may make loans and extend lines of credit to its directors, employees, loan officers, credit manager, and to members of its credit committee, if:

(1) the loan complies with the requirements of this Act with respect to loans to other borrowers and is not on terms more favorable than those extended to other borrowers; and

(2) the board of directors approves the loan, if the loan or aggregate of outstanding loans to any one person is greater than $2,500, plus pledged shares and deposits.

(b) A credit union may permit a director, employee, loan officer, credit manager, and member of its credit committee to act as comaker, guarantor, or endorser of a loan to another member, unless the loan standing alone or added to any outstanding loan or loans to the comaker, guarantor, or endorser exceeds $2,500, plus pledged shares and deposits, in which case approval of the board of directors is required.

Art. 2461-7.06. Prepayment Privilege

Any loan may be paid or prepaid in whole or in part, without penalty, during regular working hours on any day on which the credit union is open for business.

CHAPTER 8. INVESTMENTS

Art. 2461-8.01. Investment of Funds

A credit union may invest funds not used in loans to members:

(1) in capital shares, obligations, participation certificates, or preferred stock issues of any agency, association, or company organized either as a stock company, mutual association, membership corporation, or trust company, if the membership or ownership of the agency, association, or company is confined or restricted to credit unions and their members or organizations of credit unions, and if the agency, association, or company is designed to serve or otherwise assist credit union operations; in loans to any credit union association or corporation, national or state, of which the credit union is a member; and investments in any one agency, association, or company of the type described in this subsection may not exceed an aggregate amount of five percent of the credit union's total assets or the amount of its reserve fund, whichever is less;

(2) in obligations of the State of Texas or any of its political subdivisions;

(3) in certificates of deposit or passbook accounts issued by a state or national bank, or issued by a building and loan association or a savings and loan association, subject to regulations promulgated by the commissioner;

(4) in securities, obligations, participations, or other instruments of, issued by, or fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the federal government or any of its agencies, or in any trust or trusts established for investing directly or collectively in the same;

(5) in loans to other credit unions in an amount not to exceed 25 percent of the total dollar amount of the capital of the lending credit union, or to any trust or trusts established for lending directly or collectively to credit unions;

(6) in purchases from any liquidating credit union, in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner, of notes made by individual members of the liquidating credit union at such prices as may be agreed to by the commissioner, or by the liquidating agent or board of directors of the liquidating credit union and the board of directors of the purchasing credit union.

CHAPTER 9. RESERVE ALLOCATIONS; DIVIDENDS; SHARE REDUCTION

Art. 2461-9.01. Reserve Allocations

(a) The commissioner shall, with the approval of the commission, promulgate rules and regulations prescribing reserve allocations and requiring credit unions to maintain any reserves necessary to protect the interests of their members.

(b) The reserve fund belongs to the credit union. The credit union shall use its reserve fund to meet all losses except those resulting from an excess of expenses over income. The credit union may not distribute its reserve fund except on liquidation of the credit union or in accordance with a plan approved by the department. The board of directors may increase, or if the fund equals or exceeds the percentage established by regulations promulgated under this Act, may decrease the proportion of the gross income to be placed in the reserve fund, and may transfer part or all of the undivided earnings to the reserve fund.

Art. 2461-9.02. Dividends

The board of directors of a credit union may declare a dividend from undivided earnings in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner.

Art. 2461-9.03. Share Reduction

When the losses of any credit union, resulting from a depreciation in value of its loans or investments or otherwise, exceed its undivided earnings and reserve fund and the estimated value of its assets is less than the total amount due the shareholders, the credit union may, by a majority vote of the entire membership, order a reduction in shares of each of its shareholders to divide the loss proportionately among the members. If the credit union later realizes from its assets a greater amount than was fixed by the order of reduction, the credit union shall divide the excess among the shareholders whose assets were reduced, but only to the extent of the reduction.

CHAPTER 10. CHANGE IN CORPORATE STATUS

Art. 2461-10.01. Suspension

(a) If the commissioner finds that the capital of a credit union is seriously impaired, or that it is conducting its affairs in an unsafe, unauthorized, or unlawful manner, or that it refuses to submit to examination, the commissioner may take possession of the property and business of the credit union and retain possession until the commissioner permits it to resume business or orders its liquidation. Simultaneously, the commissioner shall cause notice of suspension to be given to the board of directors and shall call for a hearing within 10 days, at which hearing the board of directors may show cause why the suspension should not be continued or the credit union should not be liquidated. The board of directors may waive this hearing.

(b) If the commissioner, after issuing notice of suspension and providing opportunity for a hearing, rejects the credit union's plan to continue operations, the commissioner may issue a notice of involuntary liquidation and appoint a liquidating agent who shall proceed as provided in Section 10.02 of this Act. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2461-10.02. Liquidation

(a) When the commissioner finds that the interests of depositors and creditors of a credit union are seriously jeopardized through insolvency or imminent insolvency and that it is to the best interest of the depositors and creditors that the credit union be closed and its assets liquidated, the commissioner may close and liquidate the credit union.

(b) Unless involuntary liquidation has already been initiated by the commissioner, a majority of the credit union members present at a meeting specially called to consider the matter, but not less than a quorum, may vote to dissolve and liquidate the credit union if a notice of the special meeting was mailed to the members of the credit union at least 10 days prior to the meeting. Immediately after the mailing of a notice of a special meeting called to consider the matter of liquidation, the credit union shall cease to operate except for the purposes of accepting payments on loans or other obligations due the credit union. If the vote to dissolve and liquidate the credit union passes, the credit union may do no further business except that incidental to liquidation. The chairman of the board or the president and the secretary shall, within five days following the meeting and the affirmative vote to dissolve and liquidate, notify the department of intention to liquidate and shall include a list of the names of the directors and officers of the credit union together with their addresses. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, the commissioner may appoint a liquidating agent to act for the board of directors of the credit union in liquidation if it is found that it is to the best interests of the depositors and creditors to do so.

(c) At any time within five days after the commissioner has closed any credit union under the provisions of Subsection (a) of this section or has appointed a liquidating agent to act for the board of directors under the provisions of Subsection (b) of this section, the credit union acting through its directors may sue in the district court of the county in which the credit union is located to enjoin the commissioner from liquidating the credit union. The court may, without notice or hearing, restrain the commissioner from liquidating the assets of such credit union pending hearing of the suit on the merits, and shall, in that event, instruct the commissioner to hold the assets of the credit union in the commissioner's possession pending final disposition of the suit. The commissioner may, with approval of the court, take such actions as may be necessary or proper to prevent loss or depreciation in the value of the assets.

The court shall, as soon as possible, hear the suit on the merits and shall enter a judgment either enjoining the commissioner from liquidating the assets of the credit union or refusing to issue an injunction. Appeal shall lie from the judgment as in other civil cases, but the commissioner, irrespective of the character of judgment entered by the trial court or of any supersedeas bond filed, shall retain possession of the assets of such credit union pending final disposition on appeal.

(d) The credit union in liquidation shall continue in existence for the purpose of discharging its debts, collecting and distributing its assets, and doing all acts required in order to wind up its business, and may sue and be sued for the purpose of enforcing such debts and obligations until its affairs are fully adjusted. The board of directors or the liquidating agent shall use the assets of the credit union to pay, in the following order:

- (1) expenses incidental to liquidation including any surety bond that may be required;
- (2) any liability due nonmembers;
- (3) depositors;
- (4) thrift club accounts as provided in this Act; and
- (5) distributions to members proportionate to the shares held by each member as of the date liquidation was voted.

(e) A liquidating agent may, subject to the control and supervision of the commissioner and under the rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner:

- (1) receive and take possession of the books, records, assets, and property of the credit union in liquidation; sell, enforce collection of, and liquidate all assets and property; compound all bad or doubtful debts; sue in the name of the liquidating agent or in the name of the credit union in liquidation; and defend actions brought against the liquidating agent or against the credit union;
- (2) receive, examine, and pass on all claims against the credit union in liquidation, including claims of members on shares;
- (3) make distribution and payment to creditors and members as their interests may appear; and
- (4) execute such documents and papers and do such other acts and things that the liquidating agent may deem necessary or desirable to discharge his duties.

(f) Subject to the control and supervision of the commissioner and under the rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner, the board of directors or liquidating agent of a credit union in liquidation shall:

- (1) cause notice to be given to creditors and members to present and make legal proof of their claims, which notice must be published once a week in each of three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in each county where the credit union in liquidation maintained an office or branch for the transaction of business on the date it ceased unrestricted operations; except that when the aggregate book value of the assets and property of the credit union in liquidation is less than $10,000, the commissioner shall declare the credit union in liquidation to be a "no publication" liquidation, and publication notice to creditors and members is not required in such case;

(2) from time to time make a ratable liquidation dividend on all claims that have been proved to the satisfaction of the board of directors or the liquidating agent or adjusted in a court of competent jurisdiction and, after the assets of the credit union have been liquidated, make further liquidation dividends on all claims previously proved or adjusted (the statement of any amount due to the creditor as shown on the books and records of the credit union may be accepted in lieu of a formal proof of claim on behalf of any creditor or member); but all claims not filed before payment of the final dividend are barred; claims rejected or disallowed by the board of directors or by the liquidating agent are also barred unless suit is instituted within three months after notice of rejection or disallowance; and

(3) in a "no publication" liquidation, determine from all sources available, and within the limits of available funds of the credit union, the amounts due to creditors and members, and after 60 days have elapsed from the date of notification to the department of a voluntary liquidation or from the date of appointment of the liquidating agent distribute the funds of the credit union to creditors and members ratably and as their interests may appear.

(g) The commissioner shall prescribe the certificate to be completed by the liquidating agent or by the board of directors attesting to liquidation, that distribution has been made and that liquidation has been completed. The commissioner, on receipt and approval of the certificate, shall cancel the charter of the credit union. The corporate existence of the credit union shall continue for a period of three years from the date of cancellation of its charter, during which period the liquidating agent, or any duly appointed successor, or such persons as the commissioner may designate, may act on behalf of the credit union for the purpose of paying, satisfying, and discharging any existing liabilities or obligations, collecting and distributing its assets, and doing all other acts required to adjust and wind up its business and affairs, and it may sue and be sued in its corporate name.

(h) No liquidating agent, officer, director, or employee of a credit union in liquidation may acquire any of the assets of the credit union or purchase any loans of the credit union. None of these persons may obtain from the liquidation any compensation or profit for personal benefit, whether directly, indirectly, for the benefit of any member of the person's family or any person associated with the person, or for the benefit of any business enterprise with which the person is associated, except for the credit union in liquidation. The liquidating agent may receive such reasonable compensation as may be set forth in the contract of employment, and nothing in this Act shall prevent compensation of the liquidating agent or those salaried employees and salaried officers of the credit union during the pendency of the liquidation, which payments shall be considered expenses incidental to liquidation. Any person who participates in a violation of this subsection commits a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 and not less than $100, or by confinement in jail for not more than six months, or both.

(a) A credit union may, with the approval of the department, merge with any other credit union under the existing charter of the other credit union, pursuant to a plan agreed to by the majority of the board of directors of each credit union joining in the merger and approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members of each credit union present at the meetings of members called for that purpose. The commissioner may waive the requirement that the plan be approved by a majority of the members of the credit unions.

(b) After agreement by the directors and approval by the members of each credit union, the president and secretary of each credit union shall execute a certificate of merger containing the following information:

(1) the time and place of the meeting of the board of directors at which the plan of merger was agreed to;

(6) the name of the surviving credit union.

(c) The merging credit union shall submit the certificates and a copy of the plan of merger to the department. On approving the merger, the department shall return the certificates and plan to the merging credit unions.

(d) After a merger is effected, all property, property rights, and interests of the merged credit union vest in the surviving credit union without deed, endorsement, or other instrument of transfer, and all debts, obligations, and liabilities of the merged credit union are assumed by the surviving credit union under whose charter the merger is effected.

(e) This section shall be construed, whenever possible, to permit a credit union organized under any other act to merge with one organized under this Act.

Provided, however, that such bank so designated as depository shall have the option, instead of depositing said pledged securities with the State Treasurer, of depositing same with another State or National Bank situated in the State, subject to the approval of the Board; said securities to be held in trust by said custodian bank to secure funds deposited by the State Treasurer in the State Depository bank. Upon the receipt of said securities, said custodian bank shall immediately issue and deliver to the State Treasurer controlled trust receipts for said securities pledged to the State Treasurer. The security evidenced by such trust receipts shall be subject to inspection by the Board or its agents at any time deemed advisable by said Board. Said custodian bank shall have a capital stock and permanent surplus of not less than Five Hundred Thousand ($500,000.00) Dollars, and said bank designated as depository shall itself defray the charges, if any, of such custodian bank for accepting and holding said securities.

The custodian bank shall immediately issue and deliver to the State Treasurer controlled trust receipts for said pledged securities. The trust receipt shall reflect that the custodian bank has deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas the pledged securities held in trust for the State Depository bank.

Subject to the approval of the Board, a State Depository may have the right to substitute one group of securities for another group of securities pledged with the State Treasurer, when and as such State Depository may desire to make such substitution, so long as the securities desired to be substituted by such bank shall come within the classification of securities acceptable under the terms of this Act.

If, in any case, or at any time, such bonds or other securities are not satisfactory security, in the opinion of the Board, for the deposits made under this Act, they may require such additional security to be given as will be satisfactory to them. Said Board shall, from time to time inspect such bonds and see that the same are actually kept in the vaults of the State Treasury and in said custodian banks. If the

In the event that any State Depository shall fail to pay deposits or any part thereof on the check of the Treasurer, he shall have the power to forthwith realize upon such bonds or other securities deposited by said bank, and disburse the money arising therefrom, according to law, upon the warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the funds for which said bonds or other securities were secured. Any bank making deposits of bonds or other securities with the Treasurer under the provisions of this Act may cause such bonds or other securities to be endorsed or stamped, as they may deem proper, so as to show that they are deposited as collateral and not transferable, except as herein provided.

Upon request of the owner or owners, the Treasurer or custodian bank may surrender interest coupons or other evidence of interest when due on securities deposited by depository banks, provided, said securities are ample to meet the requirements of the State.

Whenever any private bank now organized as provided for by the private banking laws of Texas should seek to become a depository for State funds or any other governmental agency, it shall agree in writing to submit itself to examination as to its solvency.

EMINENT DOMAIN

Art. 3265. Rule of Damages

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 1 to 5]

6. Where a plaintiff after filing a petition in condemnation, desires to dismiss or abandon the proceedings, said plaintiff shall by a motion filed to the judge of the court be heard thereon, and the court hearing the same shall make an allowance to the landowner for all necessary and reasonable attorneys', appraisers', and photographers' fees and all other expenses incurred to the date of such hearing on said motion; provided, however, after a special commissioners hearing has been held and the special commissioners have made an award, the plaintiff will not be permitted to dismiss the condemnation proceedings merely to file a new petition in condemnation involving substantially the same taking against the landowner in an effort to secure a lower commissioners award from a second special commissioners hearing. If the plaintiff does dismiss and files a second petition in condemnation to condemn from the same landowner the same substantial interest in the land as in the first petition in condemnation, the landowner is entitled to three (3) times the amount of all expenses allowed the landowner prior to the dismissal of the first petition in condemnation. The court will not appoint new commissioners under the second petition in condemnation, but the court will merely enter the special commissioners award as previously found under the first petition in condemnation as the award of the special commissioners in the second petition filed by the plaintiff.

7. The owner of the land who is actually and physically displaced and permanently moved from his dwelling or place of business shall be entitled to, as a separate item of damages, the reasonable moving expenses for personal property when personal property is moved from a place of residence or from a place of business, but the maximum distance of movement to be considered shall be fifty (50) miles. In no event shall such expenses exceed the market value of such personal property; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply in any condemnation proceeding whether before special commissioners or the court where the owner is entitled to reimbursement for moving expenses under other existing law.

ESCHEAT

Art. 3272b. Duties of Depositories of Dormant or Inactive Accounts

Report to State Treasurer

Sec. 4. On or before May 1st of the year following the first publication required by this Article, the depository shall submit in duplicate copies a report to the State Treasurer listing the names of all such depositors or creditors whose names were published, whose whereabouts and the whereabouts of any owner of such deposit or credit still remain unknown, and each of whose deposits or accounts still remain in a dormant or inactive status. Such report shall set forth in alphabetical order the name and last known address of the depositor or creditor, the date and amount appearing to be due each depositor or creditor when the account first became dormant or inactive, or on January 1, 1959, whichever date is later, the amount credited to such account at the time of the report, the date of the last transaction with the depositor or creditor, and its identification number, if any. If the amount then credited to an account is less than the amount of the initial dormant deposit or inactive account, except for its share of publication costs, the reason for such reduction shall be stated.

The subscribing officer shall certify under oath that the report is a complete and correct statement of all dormant deposits and inactive accounts held by the depository subject to the reporting provisions of Section 4 of Article 3272b; that the existence and whereabouts of the listed depositors or creditors are unknown to the depository; and that the listed depositors or creditors have not asserted any claim or exercised any act of ownership with respect to the reported accounts during the past seven (7) years.

Together with the foregoing report, the depository shall deliver to the State Treasurer a sum equal to the total amount of the accounts listed in the report, and the State Treasurer shall sign a receipt therefor and shall assume custody thereof. The State shall be responsible for the safekeeping thereof, and any depository delivering such deposits or accounts to the State Treasurer under this Act is relieved of all liability for any claim which then exists or which may thereafter arise or be made in respect to the property.

State Conservator Fund

Sec. 5. All funds received by the State Treasurer under the provisions of this Article or from the escheat of any deposit, credit, account or other property held by any bank or other institution covered by Section 1(a) hereof shall be deposited into a separate fund to be known as the "State Conservator Fund," from which there shall be set aside and maintained a revolving expense fund of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) for the purpose of paying expenses incurred by the State Treasurer in the enforcement of the provisions of this Article, including the expense of publications, forms, notices, examinations, travel, and employment of necessary personnel; and thereafter any amounts remaining unpaid to owners shall be transferred to the Available School Fund; provided that the State Conservator Fund shall never be reduced below Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000). This sum shall remain available for payments to those who may at any time in the future establish their ownership or right as herein provided to any deposit or account delivered to the State Treasurer under this Act. The moneys in such fund over Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) shall be invested from time to time by the State Treasurer in investments which are approved by law for the investment of any State funds, and the income thereof shall be and become a part of the said State Conservator Fund. The expense fund of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) is hereby appropriated to the State Treasurer for the purposes above stated for the biennium ending August 31, 1963.

The State Banking Commissioner shall transfer to the State Treasurer for deposit in the State Conservator Fund all dormant deposits and other funds formerly owned by or deposited in liquidated depositories which have been held by the Commissioner for more than twenty (20) years and of which the whereabouts of the depositors, creditors or owners have been unknown to him for more than twenty (20) years. Upon delivery, together with a certificate of such facts under oath of the State Banking Commissioner, the funds shall be subject to conservation and disposition under the terms of this Article. The State Banking Commissioner shall deliver to the State Treasurer a record of the names of the liquidated depositories, and the names and last known addresses of the depositors and creditors and the amounts of the deposits, credits, or other funds.

The State Treasurer shall compile an alphabetical list containing the name and last known address of each depositor or creditor listed on the depository reports and the amount of each depositor account. The State Treasurer shall revise the list not later than June 1 of each year. The list shall be available for public inspection at all reasonable business hours.

Art. 3712a. Interpreters for Deaf Persons

(a) In all civil cases or in the taking of depositions, where a party or a witness is a deaf person, he shall have the proceedings of the trial interpreted to him in any language that he can understand, including but not limited to sign language, by an interpreter appointed by the court, whose qualifications have been approved by the State Commission for the Deaf. In this Act, "deaf person" means a person who has a hearing impairment, regardless of whether the person also has a speech impairment, that inhibits the person's comprehension of the proceedings or communication with others.

(b) In any case where an interpreter is required to be appointed by the court under this Act, the court shall not commence proceedings until the appointed interpreter is in court in a position not exceeding 10 feet from and in full view of the deaf person.

(c) The interpreter appointed under the terms of this Act shall be required to take an oath that he will make a true interpretation to the deaf person of all the proceedings of the case in a language that he understands; and that he will repeat the deaf person's answer to questions to counsel, court, or jury, in the English language, in his best skill and judgment. When a deaf person communicates through an interpreter to a person under such circumstances that the communication would be privileged and the deaf person could not be compelled to testify as to the communications, the privilege applies to the interpreter as well.

(d) Interpreters appointed under this Act shall be paid a reasonable fee determined by the court after considering the recommended fees of the State Commission for the Deaf. When travel of the interpreter is involved all the actual expenses of travel, lodging, and meals incurred by the interpreter pertaining to the case he is appointed to serve shall be paid at the same rate applicable to state employees. The fee and expenses shall be paid from the general fund of the county in which the case was instituted.

(e) On the court's motion or the motion of a party, the court may order testimony of a deaf witness and the interpretation of that testimony by the interpreter visually, electronically recorded for use in verification of the transcription of the reporter's notes. The clerk of the court shall include the recording in the appellate record if requested by a party.

The attested records or copies or duplications thereof shall be, so far as relevant, admitted in the courts of this state as evidence of the matters stated therein, subject to the provisions of Section 3 of this Act, without the necessity of the presence in the court of the presiding officer or deputy designated to attest, preserve, or display the records, copies, or duplications.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 2 and 3]

Authentication of Copy

Sec. 4. Such writings or electronic records may be evidenced by an official publication thereof or by a copy or electronic duplication attested by the officer having the legal custody of the record, or by his deputy. Except in the case of a copy of an official writing or official electronic recording from a public office of this State or a subdivision thereof, the attestation shall be accompanied with a certificate that the attesting officer has the legal custody of such writing. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 666, ch. 280, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 3737g. Advance Payment to Tort Claimants; Introduction of Evidence

Purpose of Act

Sec. 1. The purpose of this Act is to promote the making of advance payments for economic loss to claimants without permitting the introduction of evidence of advance payments on the issue of liability or damages during subsequent litigation, but permitting the allowance of advance payments as a credit against any sum judicially established as a claimant's total damages. The making of periodic payments to claimants for medical expenses, wages lost, and property damaged, often without taking any form of release, will avoid delays in and promote payments for economic loss to persons in need.

"Advance Payment" Defined

Sec. 2. In this Act, "advance payment" includes but is not limited to, any partial payment or payments made by any person, corporation, or insurer to another which is predicated on possible tort liability for medical, surgical, hospital, or rehabilitation services, facilities, or equipment; loss of earnings; out-of-pocket expenses; bodily injury; death; or property damage, loss, or destruction.

Inadmissibility of Evidence of Advance Payment at Trial

Sec. 3. In any civil action in which a party or someone on his behalf, such as his insurer, has made an advance payment prior to trial, any evidence of or concerning the advance payment shall be inadmissible at the trial on liability or damages in any action brought by the claimant, his survivor, or his personal representative to recover damages for personal injuries or related damages, for wrongful death of another, or for property damage or destruction.

Admissibility of Evidence of Advance Payment after Verdict or Decision; Right to Jury Trial Undenied

Sec. 4. If an action results in a jury verdict or decision of the court for damages in favor of a party, the party against whom the verdict or decision is entered may introduce evidence of advance payments after the verdict or decision and before final judgment, and the court shall then reduce the amount awarded to the claimant by the amount of the advance payment proved to have been made prior to trial. Such advance payments shall not be permitted as a reduction of the amount awarded unless there is evidence at the trial on liability that the party to whom the advance payments were made suffered loss as described in Section 2 herein, equal to or exceeding the amount of such advance payments. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to deny to any party his constitutional right to trial by jury on the amount of the credit at a time subsequent to the trial on liability and damages.

Application of Act

The counter-affidavit shall give reasonable notice of the basis upon which the party filing it intends at trial to controvert all or part of the claim covered by the initial affidavit. The counter-affidavit shall be taken before a person authorized to administer oaths and may be made upon information and belief by the party filing it, or such party's attorney of record. When a counter-affidavit is so filed and served, then Subsection (a) of this Section 1 shall thereafter have no force or effect at the trial of the cause.

Inspection Fee

Sec. 7. (a) For the purpose of administering the Texas Commercial Feed Control Act of 1957, including the cost of equipment and facilities and the cost of inspecting, analyzing, and examining commercial feed manufactured for sale, sold, offered or exposed for sale or otherwise distributed in this state, and the expense of experiments and research relative to the value thereof, persons engaged in the manufacture, sale, or distribution of commercial feeds or the components of commercial feeds shall pay to the Director, at his office in College Station, Texas, an inspection fee of Twelve Cents (12¢) per ton on all such commercial feed. With the approval of the Board of Regents of The Texas A & M University System, the Director may reduce or increase the inspection fee in increments of one cent (1¢) per fiscal year, as needed, to a minimum of Ten Cents (10¢) or a maximum of Twenty-five Cents (25¢) per ton. The inspection fee herein levied shall be deposited in the State Treasury and shall there be set apart as a special fund to be known as the Feed Control Fund, and shall be used with the approval and consent of the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas for the purposes stated in this Section 7(a) of this Act.

(b) The procedure for paying the inspection fee shall, subject to the approval and consent of the Director, be either by the use of tax tags (or certificates) or by means of the tonnage reporting system or by a combination of both such procedures, and shall, in addition to regulations which the Director is herewith authorized to issue, be in compliance with all the provisions of this Act.

(c) When the inspection fee is to be paid by the use of the tax tag (or certificate) on any commercial feed which is manufactured for sale, sold, or offered for sale, or otherwise distributed in this state, the manufacturer or any other person who causes it to be manufactured for sale or who sells the same or offers it for sale or makes delivery or distribution of any such commercial feed within the State of Texas, shall affix to each container or package of such commercial feed, except customer-formula feed, and to the invoice of such customer-formula feed distributed in bulk or otherwise, and to the invoice of each lot of such other commercial feed distributed in bulk, a tag (or certificate), to be furnished by the Director, stating that all charges specified in this Article have been paid, and containing the information provided for in Section 6 of this Act. The Director is hereby authorized, empowered, and directed to prescribe the form and denomination of such tags and certificates; provided, however, that if at any time the actual cost to the Feed Control Service of tags (or certificates), including the printing and handling thereof, should be in excess of fifty percent (50%) of the amount of the inspection fee as provided in this Section 7, the Director may, after giving reasonable notice in such manner as he deems desirable, charge all persons who cause commercial feed to be manufactured, sold, exposed, or offered for sale or otherwise distributed, for the total actual cost of such tags (or certificates) in addition to the inspection fee; and provided further, that on individual containers of five (5) pounds or less, a manufacturer or other person may for each state fiscal year (September 1st to August 31st, inclusive) or any fractional part thereof, pay in advance a fee of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) for each brand of commercial feed manufactured for sale, sold, offered for sale or otherwise distributed in this state, and such manufacturer or other person shall not be required to affix official tags (or certificates) to such containers of the brands of commercial feed so registered.

In addition to all other provisions of this Act, each person who is issued a permit to sell, offer for sale, or otherwise distribute commercial feed and pay the inspection fee in accordance with the tonnage reporting system shall:

(1) Maintain and furnish such records as the Director may require to reflect accurately the total tonnage of all feed handled, and the portion of such tonnage that is sold, offered for sale, or otherwise distributed as commercial feed and is subject to the inspection fee. The Director or his duly authorized representatives shall have permission to examine the records of the permittee at all reasonable times. All records shall be preserved and retained in usable condition, and shall be available for examination by the Director or his representatives for a period of not less than two (2) years unless otherwise authorized by the Director, and the Director may require the retention of such records for a period of more than two years in instances where it is deemed desirable to do so.

(2) File in the office of the Director at College Station, Texas, within thirty (30) days after the close of each quarter year ending with the last day of November, February, May, and August, sworn reports covering the tonnage of all feed sold during the preceding quarter together with the payment of tax due for such quarter. A penalty of ten per cent (10%) of any tax which is not paid within the time allowed shall be added to the amount of the tax due, and the amount of the tax and the penalty shall constitute a debt, and shall be recoverable out of the bond hereinbefore referred to; provided that the Director may, if he deems it desirable to do so, require additional reports for the purpose of identification and verification of records.

(3) When located outside of the State of Texas and when distributing commercial feed in the State of Texas, maintain in the State of Texas the records and information required by this Section 7(d) of this Act or pay all costs incurred in the auditing of records at a location outside of the state. The Director is authorized and directed to revoke the permit and cancel all registrations of any permittee who fails to comply with this requirement. Itemized statements of costs incurred in any such audits shall be furnished the permittee by the Director promptly upon completion of any such audit, and he must pay the same within thirty (30) days from the date of such statement.

(4) Affix to each container or package of such commercial feed, except customer-formula feed, and to the invoice of each lot of commercial feed, except customer-formula feed, sold or otherwise distributed in bulk a printed statement setting forth the information provided for in Section 6(a) and (b) of this Act.

The Comptroller, when satisfied that any original warrant drawn upon the State Treasurer has been lost, destroyed, or stolen, or that the payee's endorsement on the original warrant has been forged, or when any certificate or other evidence of indebtedness approved by the auditing board of the State has been lost, is authorized to issue a duplicate warrant in lieu of the original warrant or a duplicate or a copy of such certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness in lieu of such original; but no such duplicate warrant, or other evidence of indebtedness, shall issue until the applicant has filed with the Comptroller his affidavit, stating that he is the true owner of such instrument, and that the same is in fact lost, destroyed, or stolen, or that the payee's endorsement on the instrument has been forged, and shall also file with the Comptroller his bond in double the amount of the claim with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the Governor, to be approved by the Comptroller, and conditioned that the applicant will hold the State harmless and return to the Comptroller, upon demand being made therefor, such duplicates or copies, or the amount of money named therein, together with all costs that may accrue against the State on collecting the same. Provided, however, that any state department, court, school, school district, or other state agency, or federal agency, shall not be required to make bond for the issuance of duplicate warrants. The head of such state agency or federal agency and one other person connected with the handling of warrants for such agency shall be required to make the affidavit for duplicate to issue in case of lost or destroyed warrant belonging to such agency. In the case of a stolen warrant or a warrant on which the payee's endorsement has been forged, if the Comptroller is satisfied that the warrant is in the possession of the appropriate law enforcement officials, and if the applicant is the same person as the payee, the Comptroller may issue the duplicate warrant without requiring a bond. Any entity, other than a law enforcement official, that has possession of a stolen warrant or a warrant on which the payee's endorsement has been forged shall immediately deliver the warrant to the issuing agency or the Comptroller upon request. The agency or Comptroller shall then issue a receipt for the warrant. Jailers and Guards; Training Requirements; Exceptions; Temporary Appointees; Certification

Sec. 7A. (a) A jailer or a guard of a county jail serving under permanent appointment before September 1, 1979, is not required to meet the requirements of Subsections (b) and (c) of this section as a condition of continued employment, nor does the failure of a jailer or guard to fulfill the requirements of this section make the person ineligible for a promotional examination for which the person is otherwise eligible. Those jailers and guards have satisfied the requirements of this section by their experience. Those jailers or guards are eligible to attend training courses in the operation of a county jail subject to the rules of the Commission. This subsection applies to a jailer or guard who was employed in a county jail before September 1, 1979, and whose employment was terminated before that date because of failure to satisfy educational standards adopted under Section 14, Chapter 480, Acts of the 64th Legislature, 1975 (Article 5115.1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except that:

(1) this subsection does not apply to an individual who attempted to satisfy those standards by taking an examination and because he or she committed a dishonest act regarding the examination, failed to pass or was not permitted to complete the examination; and

(2) this subsection does not apply to an individual if he or she attempted to prove compliance with those standards with a forged document.

(b) After September 1, 1979, a person may not be appointed as a jailer or guard of a county jail, except on a temporary or probationary basis, unless the person has satisfactorily completed a preparatory program of training in the operation of a county jail at a school approved or operated by the Commission. A jailer or guard of a county jail who has received a temporary or probationary appointment on or after September 1, 1979, and who fails to satisfactorily complete a basic course in the operation of a county jail, as prescribed by the Commission, within a one-year period from the date of his original appointment, forfeits his position and shall be removed from the position. The temporary or probationary employment may not be extended beyond one year by renewal of appointment or otherwise, except that after the lapse of one year from the date of the person's forfeiture and removal, the sheriff may petition the Commission for reinstatement of the person to temporary or probationary employment.

(c) In addition to the requirements of Subsection (b) of this section, the Commission may make rules about other qualifications for a jailer or guard of a county jail, including minimum age, education, physical and mental standards, citizenship, good moral character, experience, and other matters that relate to competence and reliability. The Commission shall prescribe the means of presenting evidence of fulfillment of these requirements. A person may not be appointed as a jailer or guard of a county jail unless the person fulfills these requirements.

(d) The Commission shall issue a certificate to a person who has fulfilled the requirements of Subsections (b) and (c) of this section. An applicant who presents evidence required by the Commission's rules of satisfactory completion of a program or course of instruction in another jurisdiction that is equivalent in content and quality to that required by the Commission may be issued a certificate.

(e) A person who knowingly accepts appointment as a jailer or guard of a county jail or a person who knowingly appoints or retains an individual as a jailer or guard of a county jail who is not certified under this section commits an offense. An offense under this section is punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000.

(b) Final conviction of a felony under the laws of this state, another state, or the United States disqualifies a person previously certified by the Commission as qualified to be a peace officer, or a jailer or guard at a county jail, and the Commission shall immediately revoke the certification of a person so convicted.

Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education Fund

Sec. 9B. (a) There is hereby created and established in the State Treasury a special fund to be known as the Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education Fund to be used by the Commission in administering this Act and performing other duties imposed on the Commission by law.

(b) The sum of One Dollar ($1.00) shall be paid as costs of court, in addition to other taxable court costs, by any person convicted of any criminal offense. Convictions arising under the traffic laws of this state are specifically included as follows:

(1) any offense defined in Chapter 173, Acts of the 47th Legislature, Regular Session, 1941, as amended (Article 6687b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and

(2) any offense defined in the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except Sections 34, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 93, 94, 95, 96, and 97 of that Act.

(c) Court costs due under this section shall be collected in the same manner as other fines or costs are collected in the case.

(d) The officer collecting the costs in a municipal court case shall keep separate records of the funds collected as costs under this section, and shall deposit the funds in the municipal treasury. The officer collecting the costs in a justice, county, and district court case shall keep separate records of the funds collected as costs under this section, and shall deposit the funds in the county treasury.

(e) All officers collecting court costs under this section shall file the reports required by Articles 1001 and 1002, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1925.

(f) The custodians of the municipal and county treasuries shall keep records of the amount of funds on deposit collected under this section, and shall on the tenth day of December, March, June and September of each year remit to the Comptroller of Public Accounts the funds collected under this section during the preceding quarter. Each city and county collecting funds under this section is hereby authorized to retain five percent (5%) of the funds collected by them as a service fee for said collection.

(g) The Comptroller of Public Accounts shall deposit the funds received by him under this section in the Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education Fund.

(h) The Comptroller of Public Accounts shall, on requisition of the Commission, draw warrants from time to time on the State Treasury for the amount specified in the requisition, not exceeding, however, the amount in the fund at the time of making a requisition. All money expended by the Commission in the administration of this Act and in performing the duties otherwise imposed upon it by law, shall be specified and determined by itemized appropriation in the general appropriations bill for the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education, and not otherwise. At the end of each state fiscal year, any unused portion of the money in this special fund, except those funds theretofore appropriated to the Commission to administer this Act and to perform the duties otherwise imposed on it by law for the next fiscal year, shall be paid into the state General Revenue Fund.

(i) This Act takes effect September 1, 1977.

Hearings

Sec. 3.04. (a) The Commission shall hear all contested cases, as defined in the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), arising under this Act. Such complaint must be made by letter to the dealer, a copy of which shall be sent to the applicable manufacturer or distributor, and must specify the defects in the vehicle which are covered by the warranty. The owner may make further complaint by sending to the Commission a copy of the letter. The Commission may hold a hearing on all unsatisfied complaints to determine whether there has been a violation of the Act.

(i) After the Commission schedules a hearing on a complaint made by a retail buyer under this section or by a licensed dealer under Section 4.06(c) of this Act, the Commission may cancel or adjourn the hearing if it determines, by an order entered on the records of the Commission, that the complaint was made for purposes of harassment of the dealer, the applicant, or the Commission.

(j) No dealer member of the Commission may participate in, deliberate on, hear, or consider, or decide any matter involving denial under Section 4.06(c) of this Act of an application to establish a dealership to sell the same motor vehicles manufactured or distributed by the same person or a subsidiary or affiliate of the same person for which the dealer member is franchised.

Enforcement; Contracts; Instruments

Sec. 3.05. The Commission shall conduct investigations and, if appropriate, shall cause legal proceedings to be instituted to enforce this Act and its rules, orders, and decisions, whenever the Commission has reason to believe, through receipt of a complaint or otherwise, that a violation of this Act or a Commission rule, order, or decision has occurred or is likely to occur. Should it appear from any investigation of a possible violation of any other law or regulation that a violation of this Act may have occurred, the matter shall be referred to the Commission to determine whether proceedings under this Act are also appropriate. The Commission may make contracts and execute instruments necessary or convenient to the exercise of its power or performance of its duties.

Complaint Status

Sec. 3.06. The Commission shall keep an information file about each complaint filed with the Commission. If a written complaint is filed with the Commission relating to a licensee under this Act, the executive director of the Commission, at least as frequently as quarterly, shall notify the persons involved of the status of the complaint until it has been resolved.

SUBCHAPTER D. LICENSES

License Required

Sec. 4.01A. The commission by rule shall adopt a system under which licenses expire, beginning in 1981, on various dates during the year. For 1981 only, license fees payable on the date of issuance shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On renewal of the license on the new expiration date, the total license fee is payable.

Notice of License Expiration

Sec. 4.01B. The Commission shall notify each person licensed under this Act of the date of license expiration and the amount of the fee required for license renewal. The notice shall be mailed at least thirty days before the date of license expiration.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 4.02(a) to (c)]

(d) A dealer licensed hereunder shall promptly notify the Commission of a change in ownership, location or franchise of a dealer, or any other matters the Commission may require by rule. Prior to a change in location of a dealership, a new license must be applied for as in any original application.

Manufacturer, Distributor and Representative Application

Sec. 4.03.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 4.03(a) and (b)]

(c) Each application for a manufacturer's license shall include an instrument setting forth the terms and conditions of all warranty agreements in force and effect on the products it sells in this State to ascertain the degree of protection afforded the retail purchasers of those products and the obligations of dealers in connection therewith as well as the basis for compensating dealers for labor, parts and other expenses incurred in connection with such manufacturer's warranty agreements including a statement of the manufacturer's compliance with Subdivision (9), Section 5.02 of this Act. In addition, all manufacturers shall specify on or with the application the delivery and preparation obligations of their dealers prior to delivery of a new motor vehicle to a retail purchaser and the schedule of compensation to be paid to dealers for the work and service performed by them in connection with such delivery.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 4.03(d) to 4.04]

Fees

Sec. 4.05. (a) The annual license fees for licenses issued hereunder shall be as follows:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 4.05(b)]

Denial, Revocation or Suspension of License

Sec. 4.06. (a) The Commission may deny an application for a license or revoke or suspend an outstanding license, for any of the following reasons:

(1) Proof of unfitness of applicant or licensee under standards set out in this Act or in Commission rules.

(2) Material misrepresentation in any application or other information filed under this Act or Commission rules.

(3) Willful failure to comply with this Act or any rule promulgated by the Commission hereunder.

(4) Failure to maintain the qualifications for a license.

(5) Willfully defrauding any retail buyer to the buyer's damage.

(6) Willful violation of any law relating to the sale, distribution, financing, or insuring of new motor vehicles.

(7) Any act or omission by an officer, director, partner, trustee, or other person acting in a representative capacity for a licensee which act or omission would be cause for denying, revoking, or suspending a license to an individual licensee.

(8) Repeated failure to fulfill written agreements between the licensee and retail buyers of new motor vehicles.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 4.06(b)]

(c) The Commission may deny a dealer application to establish a dealership if the same line-make of new motor vehicle is then represented in the county in which the proposed dealership site is located, or in an area within 25 miles of the proposed dealership site, by a dealer who is in compliance with his franchise agreement with the manufacturer or distributor, is adequately representing the manufacturer or distributor in the sale and service of its new motor vehicles, and good cause is shown why an additional dealer license is not in the public interest, provided that the Commission shall consider the desirability of a competitive marketplace in all determinations made pursuant to this subsection.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 4.06(d) and (e)]

Required Notice to Buyers

Sec. 4.07. (a) A dealer licensed under this Act shall provide notice of the complaint procedures provided by Section 3.04(h) of this Act to each person to whom the dealer sells a new motor vehicle.

(b) The Commission may require its approval of the contents of notices required by Subsection (a) of this section or may prescribe the contents of required notices.

(c) Failure to give the notice required by Subsection (a) of this section is a ground for suspension or revocation of a dealer's license.

SUBCHAPTER E. PROHIBITIONS

Dealers

Sec. 5.01. It shall be unlawful for any dealer to:

(1) Require a retail purchaser of a new motor vehicle as a condition of sale and delivery thereof to purchase special features, equipment, parts, or accessories not ordered or desired by the purchaser, provided such features, equipment, parts, or accessories are not already installed on the new motor vehicle when received by the dealer.

(2) Use false, deceptive, or misleading advertising, in connection with any of the business of a dealer, as defined in Section 17.12 of the Business and Commerce Code, as amended.

(3) Fail to perform the obligations placed on the selling dealer in connection with the delivery and preparation of a new motor vehicle for retail sale as provided in the manufacturer's preparation and delivery agreements on file with the Commission and applicable to such vehicle.

(4) Fail to perform the obligations placed on the dealer in connection with the manufacturer's warranty agreements on file with the Commission.

(5) Operate as a dealer without a currently valid license from the Commission or otherwise violate this Act or rules promulgated by the Commission hereunder.

Manufacturers; Distributors; Representatives

Sec. 5.02. It shall be unlawful for any manufacturer, distributor or representative to:

(1) Require or attempt to require any dealer to order, accept delivery of or pay anything of value, directly or indirectly, for any motor vehicle, appliance, part, accessory or any other commodity unless voluntarily ordered or contracted for by such dealer.

(2) Refuse or fail to deliver in reasonable quantities and within a reasonable time after receipt of an order to a dealer having a franchise agreement for the retail sale of any motor vehicles sold or distributed by such manufacturer, distributor, or representative, any new motor vehicle or parts or accessories to new motor vehicles as are covered by such franchise if such vehicle, parts or accessories are publicly advertised as being available for delivery or are actually being delivered; provided, however, this provision is not violated if such failure is caused by acts of God, work stoppage or delays due to strikes or labor disputes, freight embargoes or other causes beyond the control of the manufacturer, distributor, or representative.

(3) Notwithstanding the terms of any franchise agreement, terminate or refuse to continue any franchise with a dealer unless (A) the dealer and the Commission have received written notice sixty days before the effective date thereof setting forth the specific grounds for termination or noncontinuance and (B) if the dealer files a protest with the Commission, it is established by a preponderance of evidence at a hearing called by the Commission that there is good cause for the termination or noncontinuance. The Commission shall consider all the existing circumstances in determining good cause, including without limitation the dealer's sales in relation to the market, the dealer's investment and obligations, injury to public welfare, adequacy of service facilities, equipment, parts and personnel of the dealer and other dealers of new motor vehicles of the same line-make, whether warranties are being honored, and compliance with the franchise agreement. Good cause shall not be shown solely by a desire for further market penetration. If a franchise is terminated or not continued, another franchise in the same line-make will be established within a reasonable time unless it is shown to the Commission that the community or trade area cannot reasonably support such a dealership. If this showing is made, no dealer license shall be thereafter issued in the same area unless a change in circumstances is shown.

(4) Use any false, deceptive or misleading advertising, as defined in Section 17.12 of the Business and Commerce Code, as amended.

(5) Notwithstanding the terms of any franchise agreement, prevent any dealer from changing the capital structure of his dealership or the means by or through which he finances the operation thereof, provided that the dealer meets any reasonable capital requirements agreed to by contract of the parties.

(6) Notwithstanding the terms of any franchise agreement, fail to give effect to or attempt to prevent any sale or transfer of a dealer, dealership or franchise or interest therein or management thereof unless it is shown to the Commission after hearing that the result of such sale or transfer will be detrimental to the public or the representation of the manufacturer or distributor.

(7) Require or attempt to require that a dealer assign to or act as an agent for any manufacturer, distributor or representative in the securing of promissory notes and security agreements given in connection with the sale or purchase of new motor vehicles or the securing of policies of insurance on or having to do with the operation of vehicles sold.

(8) Fail, after complaint and hearing, to perform the obligations placed on the manufacturer in connection with the delivery, preparation and warranty of a new motor vehicle as provided in the manufacturer's warranty, preparation, and delivery agreements on file with the Commission.

(9) Fail to compensate its dealers for the work and services they are required to perform in connection with the dealer's delivery and preparation obligations according to the agreements on file with the Commission which must be found by the Commission to be reasonable, or fail to adequately and fairly compensate its dealers for labor, parts and other expenses incurred by such dealer to perform under and comply with manufacturer's warranty agreements. In no event shall any manufacturer or distributor pay its dealers an amount of money for warranty work that is less than that charged by the dealer to the retail customers of the dealer for nonwarranty work of like kind. All claims made by dealers for compensation for delivery, preparation, and warranty work shall be paid within thirty days after approval and shall be approved or disapproved within thirty days after receipt. When any claim is disapproved, the dealer shall be notified in writing of the grounds for disapproval. The dealer's delivery, preparation, and warranty obligations as filed with the Commission shall constitute the dealer's sole responsibility for product liability as between the dealer and manufacturer.

(10) Operate as a manufacturer, distributor, or representative without a currently valid license from the Commission or otherwise violate this Act or rules promulgated by the Commission hereunder.

(11) Notwithstanding the terms of any franchise agreement, to prevent or refuse to honor the succession to a dealership by any legal heir or devisee under the will of a dealer or under the laws of descent and distribution of this State unless it is shown to the Commission, after notice and hearing, that the result of such succession will be detrimental to the public interest or to the representation of the manufacturer or distributor; provided, however, nothing herein shall prevent a dealer, during his lifetime, from designating any person as his successor dealer, by written instrument filed with the manufacturer or distributor.

Brokers

Sec. 5.03. A person may not act as, offer to act as, or hold himself or herself out to be, a broker.

SUBCHAPTER F. ENFORCEMENT

Application of Other Law

Sec. 6.06. (a) In addition to the other remedies provided by this subchapter, a person who has sustained actual damages as a result of a violation of Section 5.01 or Subdivision (1), (2), (4), (7), (8), or (10), Section 5.02 of Subchapter E of this Code may maintain an action pursuant to the terms of Subchapter E, Chapter 17, Business and Commerce Code.¹

(b) In any action brought against a licensee under Subsection (a) of this section, or for any other type of conduct which is actionable pursuant to the provisions of Subchapter E, Chapter 17, Business and Commerce Code, the $1,000 limitation set forth in Section 17.50(b)(1) of Subchapter E, Chapter 17, Business and Commerce Code shall be adjusted to reflect any change in the consumer price index after the effective date of this section. Art. 4413(47b). Energy Development Act of 1977

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known as "The Texas Energy Development Act of 1977."

Declaration of Policy

Sec. 2. The legislature finds and declares that:

(1) Texas, the largest producer and consumer of energy among the 50 states, currently relies on oil and gas to supply at least 98 percent of its energy needs. Texas and the United States have less than 10 years' supply of oil and gas reserves based on current rates of production.

(2) Although an end to federal price controls on oil and gas would stimulate greater development of oil and gas supplies, the rapid depletion of these fossil fuels is inevitable.

(3) The nation and the state must develop known resources of more plentiful fuels and begin the shift to total reliance on alternate abundant energy resources.

(4) Development of alternative energy technologies is both an expensive and risky activity which often discourages adequate funding by private sources alone. Precedent exists for government involvement in research, development, and demonstration of new technologies.

(5) While the major responsibility for energy research, development, and demonstration lies with the federal government, federal programs will often overlook projects of regional or state significance in order to concentrate on national priorities. Federal programs often bypass competent local research facilities in preference to federal laboratories or contractors.

(6) Other states have been able to attract federally funded energy development projects with the use of matching funds or seed money. Texas is interested in competing with these other states to secure such projects.

(7) The most effective development of alternate technologies depends on the close cooperation and coordination among federal, state, and local governments and private participants. Such coordination can be enhanced through the planning, programming, and implementation of a state energy development fund.

(8) Funding of energy research and development under this Act should concentrate on technologies which offer the realistic promise of significant energy contributions within 25 years and which are of particular importance to Texas.

Definitions

Sec. 3. In this Act:

(1) "Fund" means the Energy Development Fund created by this Act.

(2) "Council" means the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council.

(3) "Person" means an individual, corporation, association, organization, business trust, or any other legal entity.

Creation of the Energy Development Fund

Sec. 4. The Energy Development Fund is created in the state treasury and is composed of funds provided by legislative appropriation, not to exceed $5 million, plus such additional funds as are received from other sources in accordance with Section 7 of this Act. The fund is created to support research, development, and demonstration of alternate energy supplies and energy conservation technologies of particular importance to Texas.

Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council

Sec. 5. The Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council shall be responsible for the proper administration of the Energy Development Fund and shall have the director for energy analysis and development submit to the governor and legislature before March 1 of each odd-numbered year a comprehensive report on the operation of the fund.

Administration of the Fund

Sec. 6. (a) The council shall provide for the administration of the fund.

(b) The council shall promulgate a plan for the development of alternative energy technologies. Such a plan shall prescribe detailed regulations for: submission and solicitation of proposals, evaluation and selection of proposals by an impartial group of technical experts, the disbursement of contracted funds, project cost accounting, and project reporting requirements. Such a plan shall be published within 60 days of the effective date of this Act. Within 90 days thereafter, the council shall adopt the plan following public hearing and appropriate review.

(c) The council may contract with universities, nonprofit institutions, and other persons that meet the criteria for funding adopted by the council.

Additional Sources of Funding

Sec. 7. The council may receive funds from private or public sources for the purposes of this Act.

Sec. 8. Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1550, ch. 666, § 15(3), eff. Sept. 1, 1979.

Effective Date

Sec. 9. This Act shall take effect on September 1, 1977.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2091, ch. 838, §§ 1 to 9, eff. Sept. 1, 1977. Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1549, ch. 666, §§ 12, 13, 15(3), eff. Sept. 1, 1979.]

Pending Projects

Sec. 6.02. (a) A person is eligible for an exemption certificate for a project under this Act who (1) within the period of 365 days immediately preceding the effective date of this Act filed an application for a health-care facility license, including submission of preliminary plans, and the agency approved the facility's preliminary plans, and (2) within 120 days after the effective date of this Act, applies for an exemption certificate. However, an exemption certificate issued under this section is void on and after February 1, 1976, if before that date the certificate holder has not begun development of the project, and it is void on and after January 15, 1977, if before that date the certificate holder has not placed on file with the commission an affidavit from the building department having jurisdiction indicating that substantial progress has been made on the project and the certificate holder has not placed on file with the commission a valid notice of construction completion indicating a completion date of not later than January 15, 1978, and certifying that the completed project is within the scope of the previously submitted and approved preliminary plans. Art. 4419c. Physical Restoration for Crippled Children

Creation of Service; Aid to Needy Children Distinguished

Sec. 1. There is hereby created in the Texas Department of Health a physical restoration service for crippled children under twenty-one (21) years of age and for persons, regardless of age, who have cystic fibrosis. This service shall make provisions for locating, examining and physically restoring crippled children of the State as hereinafter provided. The physical restoration service herein provided for crippled children is separate and distinct from the assistance or aid to needy children.

Eligibility of Children with Cancer; Cancer Defined

Sec. 1A. (a) The department shall provide the medical and rehabilitative services provided for crippled children under this Act for children under 21 years of age who have cancer and who meet the financial eligibility requirements for receiving crippled children's services.

(b) As used in this Act, cancer is defined as a malignant disease characterized by unrestricted growth of abnormal cells, the natural course of which is fatal; cancer includes but is not restricted to leukemia, lymphoma, and histiocytosis. To be eligible for medical and rehabilitative services for cancer as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, the child's condition must be such that it is reasonable to assume that the services provided may cure or arrest the condition (cancer) or prolong the child's period of independent function.

Sec. 3. The Crippled Children's Division of the State Department of Health is empowered to take census, make surveys and establish permanent records of crippled children and children who have cancer; to procure medical and surgical service for eligible children, provided that only physicians legally qualified to practice medicine and surgery in Texas be employed for purposes of diagnosis and treatment, that not more than the customary minimum fees be paid for such services, and that physicians or surgeons so employed shall be approved by the State Board of Health as qualified to render such service; to select and designate hospitals for the care of children contemplated by this Act, and to take such other steps as may be necessary in order to accomplish the purposes of this Act.

At the discretion of the State Department of Health, transportation, appliances, braces and material necessary in the proper handling of crippled children or children who have cancer may be in part or entirely provided. Such appliances, braces and material, being a part of the care and treatment program and necessary to the physical restoration of the individual crippled child as defined in this Act or a child who has cancer, shall not be considered to be state-owned personal property and shall be excluded from the personal property inventory required of state-owned property; and all such property including appliances, braces and materials, being a part of the care and treatment program, and which are now being accounted for under the provisions of the present system of accounting shall be deleted from and not required after the passage and effective date of this Act. The State Department of Health, however, shall maintain at all times a complete record of such appliances, braces and materials provided and such records shall be verified by the State Auditor.

The State Department of Health is directed to provide in Rules and Regulations, the necessary details for the conduct of this work, in accordance with the purposes of this Act, which shall permit as far as possible, the free choice of patients in their selections of physicians and hospitals, and shall arrange with hospitals, brace departments and other services providing for crippled children's work and children who have cancer, compensation for such services, provided that such fees or charges shall not exceed the average charges for the same services rendered to patients in the hospitals approved for purposes of this Act.

Sec. 4. No child shall be entitled to the care and treatment provided in this Act unless the Texas Department of Health determines that every person who has a legal obligation to provide care and treatment for the child is financially unable to provide for said care and treatment.

A person who has a legal obligation to provide care and treatment for a child and who is financially able to bear a portion of the expenses shall be required to pay for or reimburse the department for a portion of the cost of the services provided by the department to the child for whom the application is made or by whom the services are received. A schedule to govern this required proportional payment or reimbursement of the cost of services shall be included in the department's rules.

Provided further that at least one physician, regularly practicing under the laws of the State of Texas, must certify that the physician has examined said child and recommends said child as coming under the provisions and intent of this Act. Provided further that no employee, agent, or representative of the Department, or other official agent, shall, by virtue of this Act, have any right to enter any home over the objection of the person who has the legal responsibility to provide care and treatment for the child, and nothing in this Act shall be construed as limiting the power of those persons over such child.

Provided further that funds of the Division of Crippled Children's Services may be expended for the care of any patients either under the regular Crippled Children's Program, the Children's Cancer Services Program, or the Cardiac Program who expire while being hospitalized under the State Program for the following:

Transportation of the deceased and a parent or anyone who may accompany the body of the deceased from the hospital to the place of burial designated by the parents.

Expenses incidental to embalming of the deceased as required for transportation.

A casket purchased at the minimum price as required for transportation.

Any other necessary expenses directly related to the care of the body of the deceased and the return of the body to place of burial.

Eligibility for Other Benefits; Reimbursement of Department

Sec. 4A. (a) In this section, "other benefit" means a benefit to which a person is entitled other than a benefit under this Act for payment of the costs of medical care and treatment or burial, including but not limited to the following:

(2) benefits available from a cause of action for medical expenses to a child applying for or receiving services from the department or a settlement or judgment based on such a cause of action, if the expenses are related to the need for services provided by the program.

(b) A child is not eligible to receive services provided by this Act to the extent that the child or a person who has a legal obligation to support the child is eligible for some other benefit that would pay for the service or part of the service provided by this Act.

(c) An applicant or recipient of services provided by this Act shall inform the department at the time of application or at any time during eligibility and receipt of services of any other benefit to which the child for whom the application is made, the child's parent, the child's managing conservator, or other person who has a legal obligation to support the child may be entitled.

(d) The parent of a child, the managing conservator of a child, or other person who has a legal obligation to support a child who has received services that are covered by some other benefit shall reimburse the department to the extent of the services provided when the other benefit is received.

(e) The department may recover the expenditure for services provided under this Act from a person who does not reimburse the department as required by Subsection (d) of this section or from any third party upon whom there is a possible legal obligation to pay other benefits and to whom notice of the department's interest in the other benefits has been given. At the request of the commissioner of health, the attorney general may bring suit in the appropriate court of Travis County on behalf of the department. The court may award attorney's fees, court costs, and interest accruing from the date the department provides the service to the date the department is reimbursed in a judgment in favor of the department.

Art. 4419f. Children's Vision Screening Act of 1979

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known as and may be cited as "The Texas Children's Vision Screening Act of 1979."

Purpose

Sec. 2. The purpose of children's vision screening is to identify those children who need a thorough eye examination by a professional eye examiner. Such screening is particularly necessary in early childhood since many visual defects will become incurable if detected too late. Screening is not a diagnostic procedure and decisions about the need for treatment can only be made after a professional eye examination. Besides discovering vision defects which may interfere with the child's education, vision screening helps the teacher prepare assessments of the child's educational potential and helps to detect those children who are needing special educational services because of insufficient vision. It shall not be the intent of the legislature to impose any added fiscal implications or additional costs on units of local government.

Definitions

Sec. 3. (a) "Board" means the Texas Board of Health.

(b) "Department" means the Texas Department of Health.

(c) "Vision screening" means a test or battery of tests for rapid determination of the need for a more complete visual examination by an eye specialist.

Children's Vision Screening Required; Exception

Text of section effective September 1, 1980

Sec. 4. (a) It is required for all children enrolling in any public, private, parochial, or denominational school in Texas for the first time, that the parent, managing conservator, or other person having a legal responsibility for the child's support shall submit to the admitting officer of the school within 90 days after admission a certificate which states that the child has either (1) been examined by a physician licensed to practice in the United States or an optometrist licensed to practice in the United States or (2) undergone a vision screening test which has been approved by the board and which discloses the results of the examination or test.

(b) Subject to the exception in Subsection (c) of this section, the board may by rule modify the requirement of Subsection (a) to require the additional periodic examination or screening of children it determines is necessary.

(c) A child may be provisionally admitted to a kindergarten, elementary, or secondary school upon the submission of an affidavit signed by the parent, managing conservator, or person having a legal responsibility for the child's support, that the child will undergo the required vision screening test or examination as rapidly as is feasible.

(d) The requirements of this section are mandatory except in the event that the affected child's parent, managing conservator, or person having a legal responsibility for the child's support presents to the school authorities an affidavit signed by the parent, managing conservator, or person having a legal responsibility for the child's support stating that the visual screening test conflicts with the tenets or practices of a recognized church or religious denomination of which the affiant is an adherent or a member.

(e) The governing body of each school shall ensure that all parents, managing conservators, or persons having a legal responsibility for the support of school children within the jurisdiction of the governing body present the required certificate of examination or screening, or an affidavit of exemption based on religious tenet or practice.

Required Certificate

Text of section effective September 1, 1980

Sec. 5. (a) The certificate required shall be in a form prescribed by the board and shall contain that information which may be required by the board to carry out the intent of this Act.

(b) The certificate may be signed by:

(1) a physician licensed to practice in the State of Texas or an optometrist licensed to practice in the United States who performed the eye examination;

(2) a physician licensed to practice in the State of Texas or an optometrist licensed to practice in the United States who personally supervised a vision screening test; or

(3) health personnel, volunteers, school nurses or aides, or other school personnel who have undergone a special training program in the administration of children's vision screening testing which meets the standards approved by the board.

(c) The requirement of Section 4 may be met by an entry made in the official school record of the child which states that the child has undergone a vision screening test which meets the standards set by the board, that the test was administered by a person authorized in this section to sign the required certificate, and which discloses the results of the test.

Examination or Test Records; Reporting

Sec. 6. (a) Each school covered by this Act shall keep an individual eye examination or vision screening record for each student during the period of attendance for each child admitted, and the records shall be open for inspection at all reasonable times by representatives of the local health departments or the Texas Department of Health.

(b) Each school covered by this Act shall cooperate in transferring student's eye examination or vision screening records between other schools. Specific approval from the parent, managing conservator, or other person having a legal responsibility for the child's support is not required prior to making such transfers.

(c) The department shall develop the form for a required annual report of the results of the examinations or tests and the report will be submitted according to the instructions of the board.

The board shall appoint an advisory committee on children's vision to consult with and advise the board in determining acceptable technical and professional standards which must be met by any individual or public or private health care entity undertaking to perform the vision screening tests allowed in Section 4 of this Act. The advisory committee will also advise the board on referral and appropriate follow-up.

(a) The advisory committee shall be composed of:

(1) two physicians who are licensed to practice in Texas and whose medical specialty is ophthalmology;

(2) two optometrists who are licensed to practice in Texas, one of whom must be a member of the Texas Optometric Association and one of whom must be a member of the Texas Association of Optometrists; and

(3) two persons to represent the public who have experience in and an interest in children's visual problems.

In making the initial appointments to the advisory committee, the board shall appoint one ophthalmologist and one optometrist for terms expiring on August 31, 1981; one optometrist and a person representing the public for terms expiring August 31, 1983; and one ophthalmologist and a person representing the public for terms expiring August 31, 1985.

Board of Directors

Sec. 4. (a) The Authority shall be governed by a Board of Directors consisting of not less than seven (7) nor more than eleven (11) members to be determined at the time of creating the Authority. Unless otherwise provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds or the Trust Indenture securing them, the number of Directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment to the ordinance creating the Authority adopted by the Governing Body of the City or ordinances creating the Authority adopted by the Governing Bodies of the Cities, but no decrease in number shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent Director. Except as hereinafter in this Section provided, the first Directors shall be appointed by the Governing Body of the City or by the Governing Bodies of the Cities, and they shall serve until their successors are appointed as hereinafter provided. If Authority includes more than one City, each Governing Body shall appoint an equal number of Directors unless otherwise agreed by the Cities. When the Authority issues its revenue bonds the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or the Trust Indenture securing them may prescribe the method of selecting and the term of office of a majority of the members of the Board. The remaining members of the Board shall be appointed by the Governing Body of the City or the Governing Bodies of the Cities for two (2) year terms. The Trust Indenture may also provide that, in event of default as defined in the Trust Indenture, the Trustee may appoint all of the Directors, in which event the terms of the Directors then in office shall automatically terminate. Unless and until provision is made in the Bond Resolution or Indenture in connection with the issuance of bonds for the appointment by other means of part of the Directors, all of the Directors shall be appointed by the Governing Body of the City or each of the Cities, as the case may be, for terms not to exceed two (2) years, but the terms of Directors appointed prior to the issuance of the first issue of revenue bonds shall be subject to the exercise of the provision herein made for appointment of a majority of the members of the Board in connection with the issuance of the bonds. No officer or employee of any such City shall be eligible for appointment as a Director. Directors shall not receive compensation for services but shall be entitled to reimbursement of their expenses incurred in performing such service.

(b) In the event the Authority purchases from a nonprofit corporation a hospital then in existence or in process of construction, the first members of the Board of Directors and their successors shall be determined as provided in the contract of purchase.

Officers; Quorum; Committees; Manager or Executive Director; Lease; Legal Counsel

Sec. 5. The Board of Directors shall elect from among their members a president and vice-president, and shall elect a secretary and a treasurer who may or may not be Directors, and may elect such other officers as may be authorized by Authority's bylaws. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be combined. The president shall have the same right to vote on all matters as other members of the Board. A majority of the members of the Board shall constitute a quorum and when a quorum is present action may be taken by a majority vote of Directors present. If the bylaws so provide, the Board of Directors, by resolution adopted by a majority of the Directors in office, may designate one or more committees, which, to the extent and in the manner provided in such resolution or in the bylaws, shall have and exercise the authority of the Board of Directors in the management of the Authority. Each such committee shall consist of two or more persons who are directors and may have additional nonvoting members who, if such resolution or the bylaws so provide, need not be directors. The Board of Directors may not, however, provide for the delegation to such committees of the Authority of the power to issue bonds, enter into or amend a lease of a Hospital or a management agreement with respect to a Hospital or to employ or discharge a manager or an executive director. The Board may employ a manager or executive director of the Hospital and such other employees, experts and agents as it may see fit, or enter into a management agreement with any person and it may delegate to the manager the power to manage the Hospital and to employ and discharge employees. The Board may lease the Hospital as otherwise provided by law and may employ legal counsel.

(2) a petition requesting an election on a proposition for or against the sale, signed by 10 percent or more of the qualified voters residing in the Authority is not presented to the secretary or president of the Board of Directors before the scheduled date of the sale.

(c) If a petition described in Subdivision (2), Subsection (b) of this section is presented to the secretary or president of the Board of Directors before the scheduled date of the sale, the property may be sold to a political subdivision only if an election on the proposition is held and a majority of the qualified voters voting in the election favor the sale. The Board shall call the election on receiving the petition or may call the election on its own motion if no petition is filed. The Board shall determine and the order calling the election shall specify the date, place, or places of holding the election, the form of ballot, and the presiding judge, alternate judge, and clerks for each voting place. The form of the ballots at the election shall be in conformity with Section 61, Texas Election Code, as amended (Article 6.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code), so that ballots may be cast for or against the following proposition: "The sale of by the Hospital Authority." The Board shall canvass the returns and announce the results. Except as specifically provided in this section, the election shall be governed by the Texas Election Code.

(d) The Board may sell real property acquired by donation, gift, or purchase that the Board determines is not needed for Hospital purposes if the sale does not contravene (1) a trust indenture or bond resolution relating to outstanding bonds of the Authority, or any prior restrictions or limitations placed on the use of the property, or (2) any agreement entered into either prior to or after the effective date of this Section 6(d) between the Authority and a non-profit corporation under the provisions of Senate Bill No. 243, as enacted, Acts of the 64th Legislature, Regular Session, 1975.¹ The Board shall sell the property through sealed bids or at a public auction. If the Board conducts the sale by sealed bids, the Board shall provide notice of the sale in the manner provided by Chapter 455, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 5421c-12, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). If the Board conducts the sale by public auction, the Board shall publish notice of the sale, including a description of the property and the date, time, and place of the auction, in a newspaper with general circulation in each City of the Authority once a week for three consecutive weeks, the first notice to appear at least 20 days before the auction. Nothing in this Section 6(d) is intended to affect or amend the powers granted to the Authority by Senate Bill No. 243, as enacted, Acts of the 64th Legislature, Regular Session, 1975.

(i) "Non-profit corporation" means (1) a non-profit corporation established under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, as amended (Article 1396-1.01, et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other similar statute, or (2) an association, foundation, trust, cooperative, or similar person or organization no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual and which incurs a contractual obligation with an issuer with respect to a hospital project in accordance with the provisions of this Act. Payment of Bonds or Notes

Sec. 4. Bonds or notes issued in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall not be deemed to constitute general obligations of the State of Texas, the issuer, or any other political subdivision or agency of this state or a pledge of the faith and credit of any of them but such bonds or notes shall be payable solely from revenues of the hospital project for which they are issued and/or from such other revenues as may be provided by a non-profit corporation. No money of the State of Texas or any political subdivision or agency of this state, whether raised from taxation or any other source, except for revenue of the hospital project being financed with the bonds, shall ever be used to pay the principal of, redemption premium, if any, or interest on any revenue bonds or notes or refunding bonds or notes issued under this Act. The issuer shall not be authorized to incur financial obligations under this Act which cannot be paid from the proceeds of the bonds or notes, revenues derived from operating a hospital project, or any other revenues as may be provided by a non-profit corporation, in accordance with the provisions of this Act. In no event shall any appropriation be made by the Legislature of Texas or any issuer to pay all or any part of any cost of a hospital project or any operating cost of such hospital project in accordance with the provisions of this Act. The issuer shall be paid, out of money from the proceeds of the sale and delivery of its revenue bonds or notes issued in accordance with the provisions of this Act, an amount of money equal to all of the issuer's out-of-pocket expenses and costs in connection with the issuance, sale, and delivery of such bonds or notes, including, without limitation, all financing, legal, printing, and other expenses and costs incurred in issuing such bonds or notes, plus an amount of money equal to the compensation paid any of such issuer's employees for the time such employees spent on activities related to the issuance, sale, and delivery of such bonds or notes. All such costs and expenses shall be deemed to be a "cost" of a hospital project as defined in Section 3(c) of this Act.

Powers of Issuer

Sec. 5. In addition to all other powers which it may now or hereafter have, each issuer is authorized and empowered as follows:

(b) to cause title to a hospital project provided in accordance with the provisions of this Act to be vested in a non-profit corporation; provided that if the governing body of the issuer deems it advisable to so vest title in a non-profit corporation, such issuer may retain a mortgage interest in such hospital project, which mortgage interest shall expire if and when all bonds or notes of the issuer sold to provide such hospital project have been paid or provision has been made for their final payment;

(c) to enter into leases or other contracts with a non-profit corporation with respect to any hospital project whereby such non-profit corporation shall use, operate, or acquire such hospital project, and such leases or contracts may be for such payment and upon such terms and conditions as the governing body may deem advisable; and to sell such hospital project to any non-profit corporation, including a non-profit corporation using such hospital project, such sale to be by installment payments or otherwise, and to be fully consummated if and when all bonds or notes of the issuer issued to provide such hospital project have been paid or provision has been made for their final payment; provided that during the time the bonds or notes or interest thereon remains unpaid there is no failure to make any payments owing under any lease or contract at the time and in the manner as the same become due; and

(d) to refund outstanding obligations, mortgages, or advances issued, made, or given by a non-profit corporation for the cost of a hospital project.

Sec. 6. No issuer shall have the power under this Act to acquire any hospital project, or any part thereof, to be sold or leased under this Act, by the exercise of the power of eminent domain. Land previously acquired by an issuer in the exercise of the power of eminent domain may be sold or leased, under the provisions of this Act; provided that the governing body of the issuer determines that (a) such use will not interfere with the purpose for which such land was originally acquired or that such land is no longer needed for such purpose, (b) at least seven years have elapsed since such land was so acquired, and (c) such land was not acquired for park purposes unless such sale or lease of park land has been approved at an election held under the authority of Article 1112, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended by Chapter 108, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, 1973.

Issuance of Bonds or Notes

Sec. 7. (a) Each issuer is hereby authorized to provide by resolution, from time to time, for the issuance of negotiable revenue bonds or notes or any other evidences of indebtedness for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of a hospital project. The bonds or notes of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates, and shall mature at such time or times, not exceeding 40 years from their date, as may be determined by the issuer and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the issuer, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be determined by the issuer.

(b) The principal of, redemption premium, if any, and the interest on such bonds or notes shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of all or any part of the revenues of the issuer to be derived from the ownership, operation, lease, use, mortgage, and/or sale of the hospital project for which such bonds or notes have been issued and/or from such other revenues, if any, as may be provided by a non-profit corporation, all as specified by the resolution of the governing body or in any trust indenture or other instrument securing the bonds or notes.

(c) One or more series of bonds or notes may be issued for each hospital project or any hospital projects may be combined in one or more series of bonds or notes if the governing body, in the exercise of its discretion, deems the same to be in the best interest of the issuer, but each hospital project may be considered separately with respect to the provisions of Sections 8 and 9 of this Act.

(d) The issuer shall determine the form of the bonds or notes, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and shall determine the denomination or denominations of the bonds or notes and the place or places of payment of principal, redemption premium, if any, and interest. Provision may be made for execution of the bonds or notes and coupons, if any, under the provisions of Chapter 204, Acts of the 57th Legislature, 1961, as amended (Article 717j-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). In cases where any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds, notes, or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds or notes, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. The bonds or notes may be issued in coupon or in registered form, or both, or may be payable to a specific person, as the issuer may determine, and provisions may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds or notes as to the principal alone and also as to both principal and interest, and provision may be made for the conversion of coupon bonds or notes into registered bonds or notes without coupons and for the reconversion into coupon bonds or notes of any registered bonds or notes without coupons. If the duty of such conversion or reconversion is imposed upon a trustee in a trust agreement, the substituted bonds or notes need not be reapproved by the Attorney General of Texas, and they shall remain incontestable. The issuer shall sell the bonds or notes at such price or prices as shall be determined by the governing body of the issuer.

(e) The proceeds of the bonds or notes shall be used solely for the payment of the cost of the hospital project for which the bonds or notes were issued, and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, provided in the resolution authorizing their issuance or in the trust agreement securing the same. If the proceeds of the bonds or notes shall exceed the cost of the hospital project for which the same shall have been issued, the surplus shall be deposited to the credit of the sinking fund for such bonds or notes.

(f) From the proceeds from the sale of the bonds or notes, the governing body may set aside amounts for payments into reserve funds, and provisions for such funds may be made in the resolution authorizing the bonds or notes or any instruments securing the same. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds or notes may be invested: (1) in direct, indirect, or guaranteed obligations of the United States government or its agencies maturing in the manner that may be specified by the resolution authorizing the bonds or notes or any other instrument securing the bonds or notes; or (2) in certificates of deposit of any bank or trust company which deposits are secured by such obligations. Any bank or trust company with trust powers may be designated by the governing body to act as depository of the proceeds of the bonds or notes or of contract or lease revenues. Such bank or trust company shall furnish such indemnifying bonds or pledge such securities as may be required by the issuer to secure the deposits.

(g) Prior to the preparation or issuance of definitive bonds or notes, the issuer may issue interim receipts or temporary bonds or notes, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds or notes when such bonds or notes shall have been executed and are available for delivery. Such interim receipts or temporary bonds or notes shall be for a maximum term of two years. The issuer shall submit such interim receipts or temporary bonds or notes to the Attorney General of Texas in accordance with Subsection (i) of this Section 7.

(h) Bonds or notes may be issued in accordance with the provisions of this Act without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board, bureau, or agency of the State of Texas, and without any proceedings or the happening of any conditions or things other than those proceedings, conditions, or things which are specifically required by this Act.

(i) After issuance of the bonds or notes is authorized and before the bonds or notes may be delivered to the purchaser thereof, the bonds or notes and the proceedings authorizing their issuance and securing the bonds or notes shall be presented to the Attorney General of Texas for examination. Where such bonds or notes recite that they are secured by a pledge of all or any part of the revenues of the issuer to be derived from any lease or other contract, such contracts shall also be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas. If the attorney general finds that such bonds or notes have been duly authorized in accordance with the constitution and laws of the State of Texas and that such contracts, if any, submitted to him securing and relating to the bonds or notes have been made in accordance with the constitution and laws of the State of Texas, he shall approve the bonds or notes and such contracts. The bonds or notes when approved shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. After such approval and registration, the bonds or notes and any and all contracts submitted therewith shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms, and shall be incontestable in any court or other forum.

(j) Nothing in this Act shall supercede the provisions of the state certificate of need law.

(k) Before authorizing the issuance of any bonds or notes or calling an election on any matters authorized by this Act, the issuer shall deposit with the chief administrative officer of the issuer a full and complete description of any proposed hospital project, including a detailed listing and explanation of projected costs, the reasons for the hospital project, and the names of the owners of the non-profit corporation for whom the hospital project is to be constructed. All of the information deposited or required to be deposited by this section is public information.

Resolution for Issuance of Bonds or Notes; Publication; Protest of Issuance; Election

Sec. 8. Before issuing any bonds or notes in accordance with the provisions of this Act, the governing body of an issuer shall adopt a resolution declaring its intention to do so and stating the maximum amount of bonds or notes proposed to be issued, the purpose for which the bonds or notes are to be issued, and the tentative date, time, and place at which the governing body proposes to authorize the issuance of such bonds or notes. A substantial copy of such resolution shall be published three times in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the territorial limits of the issuer. The first publication shall be made not more than 45 days prior to the tentative date fixed in such resolution and the third publication shall be made not less than 10 days prior to the tentative date fixed in such resolution for the authorization of the bonds or notes. If at least 5 percent or 20,000 of the qualified electors of the issuer, whichever is less, shall file a written protest against the issuance of such proposed bonds or notes at no later than the close of business the business day before the tentative date specified for the authorization of such bonds or notes, then an election on the question of the issuance of such bonds or notes shall be called and held as herein provided. If no such protest is filed, then such bonds or notes may be issued by the issuer without an election at any time within a period of two years after the tentative date specified in the resolution; provided, however, that the governing body of an issuer, in its discretion, may call an election on such question, in which event it shall not be necessary to publish the notice of its intention to issue bonds or notes as provided herein.

Election on Issuance of Bonds or Notes

Sec. 9. If an election is called, notice thereof shall be published three times in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the territorial limits of the issuer. The first publication shall be made not more than 45 days prior to the date fixed for such election, and the third publication shall be made not less than 10 days prior to the date fixed for such election. The election shall be conducted in accordance with the general laws of Texas pertaining to bond elections in cities, except as modified by the provisions of this Act. The order calling the election shall specify the date of such election, the place or places of holding the election, and the presiding judge and alternate judge for each voting place, and shall provide for clerks as provided in the Election Code of the State of Texas. The form of ballot shall be in conformity with the applicable provisions of such election code and the ballots shall provide for voting for or against the following proposition: "The issuance of revenue bonds or notes or other evidences of indebtedness for the hospital project or hospital projects." As soon as practicable after such election is held, the governing body of the issuer shall convene and canvass the returns of the election, and in the event a majority of the voters voting in such election approves the proposition, such governing body shall so find and declare and shall be authorized to proceed with the authorization of bonds or notes. No election shall again be called on the proposition of issuing revenue bonds or notes for any hospital project which has been defeated by a majority of the voters voting in an election within six months of the proposed new election, and no bonds or notes shall be issued for any such hospital project until a majority of the voters voting in an election held for that purpose approve the issuance of such bonds or notes.

Leases and Other Contracts; Terms

Sec. 10. Any lease or other contract entered into pursuant to this Act may be for such term as the parties may agree, and may provide that it shall continue in effect until the bonds or notes specified therein, or refunding or substitution bonds or notes issued in lieu of such bonds or notes, are fully paid or provision has been made for their final payment.

Refunding Bonds or Notes

Sec. 11. An issuer is hereby authorized to provide by resolution for the issuance of its revenue refunding bonds or notes for the purpose of refunding any bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness then outstanding, issued to provide a hospital project, which bonds, notes, or evidences of indebtedness may or may not have been issued under the provisions of this Act, including the payment of any redemption premium thereon and any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of redemption of such bonds, notes, or evidences of indebtedness. The bonds, notes, or evidences of indebtedness previously issued and to be refunded by the revenue refunding bonds or notes described in this Section 11 need not have been originally issued by the issuer of the revenue refunding bonds or notes. The issuance of such bonds or notes, the maturities and other details thereof, the rights of the holders thereof, and the rights, duties, and obligations of the issuer in respect of the same, shall be governed by the provisions of this Act insofar as the same may be applicable. Within the discretion of the issuer, the refunding bonds or notes may be issued in exchange or substitution for outstanding bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness or may be sold and the proceeds used for the purpose of paying or redeeming outstanding bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness.

Securing Bonds or Notes by Trust Agreement

Sec. 12. (a) Any bonds or notes issued under the provisions of this Act may be secured by a trust agreement by and between the issuer and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within the State of Texas. Any such trust agreement may pledge or assign lease income, contract payments, fees, or any other charges to be received from a non-profit corporation. Such bonds or notes, within the discretion of the governing body of the issuer, may be additionally secured by a mortgage, a deed of trust lien, or other security interest upon a designated hospital project vesting in the trustee power to sell such hospital project for the payment of the indebtedness, power to operate such hospital project, and all other powers and authority for the further security of the bonds or notes.

(b) The trust agreement may evidence a pledge of all or any part of the revenues of the issuer to be derived from the ownership, operation, lease, use, mortgage, and/or sale of any hospital project for the payment of principal of, redemption premium, if any, and interest on such bonds or notes as the same shall become due and payable and may provide for the creation and maintenance of reserves. Any such trust agreement or any resolution providing for the issuance of such bonds or notes may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the holders thereof as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the issuer and the non-profit corporation in relation to the acquisition of property and the construction, improvement, maintenance, repair, operation, and insurance of the hospital project in connection with which such bonds or notes shall have been issued, and the custody, safeguarding, and application of all money. Any such trust agreement may set forth the rights and remedies of the bondholders or noteholders and of the trustee, and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders or noteholders as is customary in trust agreements or trust indentures securing bonds and debentures of corporations. In addition to the foregoing, any such trust agreement may contain such provisions as the issuer may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders or noteholders and may also contain provisions governing the issuance of bonds and notes to replace lost, stolen, or mutilated bonds or notes. All expenses incurred by any issuer in carrying out the provisions of any such trust agreement may be treated as a part of the cost of the operation of the hospital project with respect to which the bonds or notes have been issued.

Default in Payment of Bonds or Notes; Enforcement by Mandamus or by Appointment of Receiver

Sec. 13. Any agreement or contract made in accordance with the provisions of this Act may contain a provision that, in the event of a default in the payment of the principal of, redemption premium, if any, or the interest on bonds or notes issued in accordance with, or relating to, such agreement, or in the performance of any agreement contained in the proceedings, mortgage, or instruments relating to such bonds or notes, such payment and performance may be enforced by mandamus or by the appointment of a receiver in equity with power to charge and collect rates, rents, or contract payments and to apply the revenues from the hospital project in accordance with such resolution, mortgage, or instruments.

Foreclosure of Mortgage to Secure Bonds or Notes

Sec. 14. Any mortgage to secure bonds or notes issued in accordance with the provisions of this Act may also provide that, in the event of a default in the payment thereof or the violation of any agreement contained in the mortgage, the property secured by the mortgage may be foreclosed and sold under proceedings in equity or in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law. Such mortgage may also provide that any trustee under such mortgage or the holder of any of the bonds or notes secured thereby may become the purchaser at any foreclosure sale if the highest bidder therefor.

Members of Governing Body; Method of Selecting and Term of Office

Sec. 15. If an authority issues bonds or notes in accordance with the provisions of this Act, notwithstanding any provision of law, and under no circumstances, shall the method of selecting and the term of office of any of the members of the governing body of such authority be prescribed in the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds or notes, the trust agreement securing such bonds or notes, or any other agreement relating to such bonds or notes.

Authority of Governing Body

Sec. 16. Except as limited by the provisions of this Act, each governing body of an issuer shall have full and complete authority with respect to bonds or notes of such issuer, lease agreements in which such issuer is lessor, sales agreements, and all other contracts and the provisions thereof.

Tax Exemption for Bonds or Notes

Sec. 17. In carrying out the purposes of this Act, the issuer will be performing an essential public function and any bonds or notes issued by it and their transfer and the interest therefrom, including any profits made from the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation by the State of Texas or any municipality or political subdivision thereof.

Bonds or Notes as Securities

Sec. 18. Bonds or notes issued under the provisions of this Act, and coupons, if any, representing interest thereon, shall when delivered be deemed and construed to be a "security" within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, of the Uniform Commercial Code, as amended (Chapter 8, Title I, Business & Commerce Code),¹ and shall be exempt securities under the Texas Securities Act, as amended (Article 581-1, et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). A lease agreement, sales agreement, or other contract under this Act shall not be a security within the meaning of the Texas Securities Act.

Bonds or Notes as Legal and Authorized Investments and Security

Sec. 19. Unless the bonds and notes issued under this Act are ineligible for investments in accordance with the criterion established in other statutes, rulings, or regulations of the State of Texas or the United States, then the bonds and notes under this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for any banks; savings banks; trust companies; building and loan associations; insurance companies; fiduciaries; trustees and guardians; and sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, and other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds or notes shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, and other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and they shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits at their face value when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant thereto.

Expenses of Relocation, Rerouting, Altering Construction, etc.

Sec. 20. In the event any issuer, in the exercise of the power of relocation or any other power, makes necessary the relocation, raising, lowering, rerouting, or changing the grade of, or altering the construction of any highway, railroad, electric transmission line, cable television transmission line, telegraph or telephone properties and facilities, or pipelines, all such necessary relocation, raising, lowering, rerouting, changing of grade, or alteration of construction shall be accomplished at the sole expense of the issuer or the non-profit corporation. Such expense shall be paid from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds or notes. The term "sole expense" shall mean the actual cost of such relocation, raising, lowering, rerouting, changing the grade of, or alteration of construction to provide comparable replacement, without enhancement, of such facilities, after deducting therefrom the net salvage value derived from the old facility.

Severability

Sec. 21. The provisions of this Act are severable. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, section, part, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of this Act shall nevertheless be valid; and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, section, part, or provision.

(2) Members of the board, except those members who are duly licensed nursing home administrators, may not have personally, nor be related to persons within the second degree by affinity or third degree by consanguinity who have, except as consumers, financial interests in nursing homes as officers, directors, partners, owners, employees, attorneys, or paid consultants of the nursing homes or otherwise.

(3) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not act as the general counsel to the board or serve as a member of the board.

Organization of the Board

Sec. 4. (1) As soon as practicable after appointment, appointive members of the board shall be certified by the Governor's office and shall take the constitutional oath of office for officers of the State of Texas. The board shall elect from its appointive members a chairman and vice chairman and these officers shall be elected to serve for one (1) year or so much thereof as shall remain, and elections for these offices shall be held annually thereafter for the term of a year. Elections to fill vacancies shall be held in the same manner for the balance of any unexpired term. The board shall appoint a person to be secretary to the board who shall serve at the pleasure of the board and who shall be the chief executive officer to the board but not a member thereof. The secretary shall have such powers and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law or delegated to him by the board under its rules and regulations. Suitable office space, equipment and supplies and additional agents or employees as may be required for discharging the functions of the board shall be provided within the limits of the funds available to the board as hereinafter provided for. The board shall adopt an official seal which shall be affixed to licenses, certificates and other official documents of the board.

At no time shall the fidelity bond or bonds be for an amount less than $25,000.00.

(3) The board shall hold not less than four meetings per year after due notice thereof and at any meeting a majority of the board shall constitute a quorum. Board members shall receive a per diem of $25.00 while engaged in board business together with actual and necessary expenses.

(4) Each member of the board shall be present for at least one-half of the regularly scheduled meetings held each year by the board. The failure of a member to meet this requirement automatically removes the member from the board and creates a vacancy on the board.

(5) The Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators shall be administratively attached to the Texas Department of Health. The department shall provide administrative assistance to the board; and the department and the board shall coordinate administrative responsibilities in order to avoid unnecessary duplication and in furtherance of the objective of providing quality nursing home services. (6) conduct a continuing study and investigation of nursing homes and administrators of nursing homes within the State with a view to the improvement of the standards imposed for the licensing of such administrators and of procedures and methods for the enforcement of such standards with respect to administrators of nursing homes who have been licensed as such;

(7) conduct or cause to be conducted, one or more courses of instruction and training sufficient to meet the requirements of this Act, and make provisions for the conduct of such courses and their accessibility to residents of this State, unless it finds that there are a sufficient number of courses conducted by others within this State to meet the needs of the State. In lieu thereof the board may approve courses conducted within and without the State as sufficient to meet the education and training requirements of this Act; and

Qualifications for Licensure

Sec. 9. The Board shall have authority to issue licenses to qualified persons as nursing home administrators, and shall establish qualification criteria for such nursing home administrators. No license shall be issued to a person as a nursing home administrator unless:

(1) he is at least 18 years of age; of good moral character, and sound in mental and physical health;

(5) that applicant has complied with all other qualifications and requirements as may have been established by rule and regulation of the board.

Licenses and Fees

Sec. 10.

(2) Every holder of a nursing home administrator's license shall renew it biennially, by making application to the board. The license remains valid and is subject to renewal for 30 days after the expiration date of the license. The board shall notify each person licensed under this Act of the expiration date of the person's license and the amount of the fee that is required for its renewal. The notice shall be mailed at least 30 days before the expiration date of the license. A person renews an unexpired license or a license that has been expired for 30 days or less by paying to the board the renewal fee. A person renews a license that has been expired for more than 30 days but less than one year by paying to the board the renewal fee plus $20.00. A person may not renew a license that has been expired for one year or more, but the person may obtain a new license by applying for the license in the manner that a person applies for an original license. Renewals of licenses shall be granted as a matter of course, unless the board finds, after due notice and hearing, that the applicant has acted or failed to act in such a manner or under circumstances, as would constitute grounds for suspension or revocation of a license.

(3) Each person licensed as a nursing home administrator shall pay an initial license fee to be fixed by the board which shall not exceed $100.00. Renewal licenses shall be issued biennially at a fee to be set by the board which shall not exceed $100.00 for the biennium. Reasonable fees shall be set by the board for the issuance of copies of public records in its office as well as for certificates or transcripts and duplicates of lost instruments. Each applicant for examination and license shall accompany the application with an examination fee not to exceed $100.00 which shall not be refundable, for investigation, processing, and testing purposes. Upon the certification by any department, division, board or agency of the State of Texas of the necessity therefor, all examination fees and license fees provided for herein shall be waived for any employee of such state entity so long as such person remains an employee of the State of Texas and does not serve as a nursing home administrator of a nursing home operated other than by such state entity. The board shall set the fees in amounts that produce sufficient money for administering this Act.

(4) The board may issue a nursing home administrator's license for the regular fee to any person who holds a current license as a nursing home administrator from another jurisdiction, provided that the board finds that the standards for licensure in such other jurisdiction are at least the substantial equivalent of those prevailing in this State; and that the applicant is otherwise qualified; and that the other state gives similar recognition and endorsement to nursing home administrators licenses of the State of Texas.

(5) The board shall have authority to receive and disburse funds received pursuant to Section 1908(e)(1) of the Social Security Act¹ or from any other Federal source of funds or grants for the furtherance of board duties and responsibilities hereunder.

(6) Deleted by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1231, ch. 591, § 4, eff. Sept. 1, 1979.

Disciplinary Action

Sec. 11. (1) The board shall be authorized to revoke, suspend, or refuse to renew, a nursing home administrator's license after due notice and hearing upon the following grounds or any of them:

(a) upon proof that such licensee has wilfully or repeatedly violated any of the provisions of this Act or the rules adopted in accordance therewith;

(b) upon proof that such licensee has wilfully or repeatedly acted in a manner inconsistent with the health and safety of the patients of the home of which he is administrator;

(c) upon proof that the licensee was guilty of fraud in securing his license;

(d) upon proof of the intemperate use of alcohol or drugs which in the opinion of the board creates a hazard to patients;

(e) upon proof of a judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction finding the licensee insane;

(f) upon proof that such licensee has been convicted in a court of competent jurisdiction of a misdemeanor or a felony involving moral turpitude; and

(g) upon proof that the licensee has been grossly negligent in his duties as a nursing home administrator.

(2) The board shall have jurisdiction to hear all disciplinary charges brought under the provisions of this Act against persons licensed as nursing home administrators and upon such hearings shall determine such charges upon their merits. Proceedings under this Act shall be begun by filing with the board written charges under oath. Such charges may be preferred by any person and after notice in writing of not less than fifteen (15) full days, stating the place and date of the hearing, accompanied by a copy of the complaint or charges, the board, or a majority thereof, shall hold a hearing on said charges, cause a written record to be made of the evidence given at the hearing, accord the person charged a right to present evidence, be represented by an attorney, and to cross-examine the witnesses. In this connection the board shall be authorized to issue subpoenas for witnesses at the hearing, either at the request of the person cited or on behalf of the board or its representative; to compel the attendance of witnesses, and administer oaths to witnesses. Disobedience of a subpoena duly issued by the board or by its secretary under its direction, shall constitute a contempt of the board which shall be enforceable by any district court sitting in the county in which the hearing is being held upon petition of the board and the presentation to the court of evidence of wilful disobedience and if the district judge is of the opinion and finds that the subpoena was wilfully disobeyed, such judge shall be authorized to punish a subpoenaed witness in like manner and to the extent provided in like cases in civil actions in the district courts of Texas.

(3) Strict rules of evidence shall not apply in a hearing before the board but all decisions of the board shall be supported by sufficient legal and competent evidence.

(4) The failure of the nursing home to comply with Texas State Department of Health requirements for licensure of nursing homes may be considered by the board in determining whether the licensee meets standards for licensure as a nursing home administrator.

(5) If a written complaint is filed with the board or the Texas Board of Health relating to a licensee under this Act, the board, at least as frequently as quarterly, shall notify the complainant of the status of the complaint until the complaint is finally resolved.

(6) The board must within 31 days from the date of filing of the complaint determine whether a hearing shall be held on such complaint or whether such complaint shall be dismissed and shall notify both the person who filed the complaint and the person against whom the complaint has been filed of the board's decision.

(7) If the board determines that a hearing should be held on a complaint, the board shall designate a hearing officer to conduct the hearing on the complaint. The hearing shall be held within 61 days from the date that the written complaint was filed unless such time is extended in writing by the board.

(8) The hearing officer shall keep a complete record of the hearing and shall transmit the record to the board when completed.

(9) The hearing officer shall forward to the board the complete record of the hearing not later than 30 days from the date of the hearing along with the hearing officer's recommendations concerning what disciplinary action, if any, should be taken by the board with respect to the complaint.

(10) The board shall take action on such complaint by written order not later than the 120th day following the filing of the complaint, unless the date for hearing was delayed pursuant to Subsection (7) of this section, in which case the deadline for the order is extended accordingly. Copies of the order and the record of the hearing shall be filed together in the office of the board, indexed, and made available for public inspection.

(11) The board shall maintain an information file on each complaint it receives.

Injunction

Sec. 11A. A person who violates Section 7 of this Act or who engages in conduct that is grounds for revocation or suspension of the person's license under Section 11 of this Act, on petition of the board, may be enjoined or restrained by a district court from practicing nursing home administration.

Art. 4476-13. Hazardous Substances; Labeling; Sales

Definitions

Sec. 1. When used in this Act, unless the context requires a different definition:

(1) "Department" means the Texas Department of Health.

(2) "Person" includes any individual, partnership, corporation or association, or legal representative or agent.

(3) "Commerce" means any and all commerce within the State of Texas and subject to the jurisdiction thereof; and includes the operation of any business or service establishment.

(4) "Hazardous substance" means any substance or mixture of substances which is toxic, corrosive, flammable, an irritant, a strong sensitizer, or generates pressure through decomposition, heat, or other means, if the substance or mixture of substances may cause substantial personal injury or substantial illness during or as a proximate result of any customary or reasonably foreseeable handling or use, including reasonably foreseeable ingestion by children, or any toy or other article other than clothing intended for use by children which presents an electrical, mechanical, or thermal hazard; and any radioactive substance if, with respect to the substance as used in a particular class of article or as packaged, the department finds by regulation that the substance is sufficiently hazardous to require labeling in accordance with the provisions of this Act in order to protect the public health. The term "hazardous substance" does not apply to economic pesticides subject to the State or Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide¹ Act nor to foods, drugs, and cosmetics subject to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act² or to beverages complying with or subject to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act,³ or to the Texas Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act,⁴ nor to substances intended for use as fuels when stored in containers and used in the heating, cooking or refrigeration system of a private residence, nor does it apply to or include any source material, special nuclear material, or by-product material as defined in the federal Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended,⁵ and regulations issued pursuant thereto by the Atomic Energy Commission.

(5) "Toxic" means any substance other than a radioactive substance which has the capacity to produce personal injury or illness to any person through ingestion, inhalation, or absorption through any body surface.

(6) "Highly toxic" means any substance which produces death within 14 days in half or more than half of a group of 10 or more laboratory white rats each weighing between 200 and 300 grams, at a single dose of 50 milligrams or less per kilogram of body weight, when orally administered, or when inhaled continuously for a period of one hour or less at an atmospheric concentration of 200 parts per million by volume or less of gas or vapor or two milligrams per liter by volume or less of mist or dust, if the inhaled concentration is likely to be encountered by any person when the substance is used in any reasonably foreseeable manner; or which produces death within 14 days in half or more than half of a group of 10 or more rabbits tested in a dosage of 200 milligrams or less per kilogram of body weight, when administered by continuous contact with the bare skin for 24 hours or less. However, if the department finds that available data based on human experience indicate results different from those obtained on animals, the human data shall take precedence.

(7) "Corrosive" means any substance which in contact with living tissue will cause destruction of that tissue by chemical action. It does not refer to chemical action on inanimate surfaces.

(8) "Irritant" means any noncorrosive substance which on immediate, prolonged, or repeated contact with normal living tissue will induce a local inflammatory reaction.

(9) "Strong sensitizer" means any substance which will cause on normal living tissue, through an allergic or photodynamic process, a hypersensitivity which becomes evident on reapplication of the same substances. Before designating any substance as a strong sensitizer, the department, upon consideration of the frequency of occurrence and severity of the reaction, shall find that the substance has a significant potential for causing hypersensitivity.

(10) "Flammable" applies to any substance which has a flash point of above 20 degrees to and including 80 degrees Fahrenheit, as determined by the Tagliabue Open Cup Tester. Any substance which has a flash point at or below 20 degrees Fahrenheit, as determined by the Tagliabue Open Cup Tester shall be designated "extremely flammable." However, the flammability of solids, fabrics, children's clothing, household furnishings, and of the contents of self-pressurized containers shall be determined by methods found by the department to be generally applicable to these materials or containers, and shall be established by regulations issued by the department.

(11) "Radioactive substance" means a substance which emits ionizing radiation.

(12) "Label" means a display of written, printed, or graphic matter upon the immediate container of any substance, or in the case of an article which is unpackaged or is not packaged, in an immediate container intended or suitable for delivery to the ultimate consumer, a display of this matter directly on the article involved or on a tag or other suitable material affixed thereto.

(13) "Immediate container" does not include package liners.

(14) "Misbranded hazardous substance" means a hazardous substance (including a toy, or other article intended for use by children, which is a hazardous substance, or which bears or contains a hazardous substance in a manner which is susceptible of access by a child to whom the toy or other article is entrusted, intended or packaged in a form suitable for use in the household or by children) which fails to bear a proper label as required by this Act.

(15) "Electrical hazard" means an article which, in normal use or when subjected to reasonably foreseeable damage or abuse, by its design or manufacture may cause personal injury or illness by electrical shock.

(16) "Mechanical hazard" means an article which, in normal use or when subjected to reasonably foreseeable damage or abuse, by its design or manufacture presents an unreasonable risk of personal injury or illness;

(A) from fracture, fragmentation, or disassembly of the article;

(B) from propulsion of the article or any part or accessory thereof;

(C) from points or other protrusions, surfaces, edges, openings, or closures;

(D) from moving parts;

(E) from lack or insufficiency of controls to reduce or stop motion;

(F) as a result of self-adhering characteristics of the article;

(G) because the article or any part or accessory thereof may be aspirated or ingested;

(H) because of instability; or

(I) because of any other aspect of the article's design or manufacture.

(17) "Thermal hazard" means an article which, in normal use or when subjected to reasonably foreseeable damage or abuse, by its design or manufacture presents an unreasonable risk of personal injury or illness because of heat as from heated parts, substances, or surfaces.

Sec. 3. (a) Any article of clothing (other than diapers) intended for the use of children which is not in compliance with flammability standards for such clothing established by the department shall be declared to be a banned hazardous substance by the department. The determination by the department that articles of clothing of a specified range of sizes are intended for the use of a child 14 years or younger shall be conclusive.

(b) Any toy or other article other than clothing intended for use by children, which is a hazardous substance, or which bears or contains a hazardous substance in a manner susceptible of access by a child to whom the toy or other article is entrusted, shall be declared to be a banned hazardous substance by the department.

(c) Any hazardous substance intended, or packaged in a form suitable for, use in a household, which, notwithstanding cautionary labeling required by this Act, is potentially so dangerous or hazardous when present or used in a household, that the protection of the public health and safety can be adequately served only by keeping the substance out of the channels of commerce, shall be declared to be a banned hazardous substance by the department.

(d) Any article subject to the provisions of this Act which cannot be labeled adequately to protect the public health and safety, or which presents an imminent danger to the public health and safety, shall be declared a banned hazardous substance by the department.

(e) The provisions of this section do not apply to any toy or article such as chemical sets which by reason of functional purpose requires the inclusion of a hazardous substance, or necessarily presents an electrical, mechanical, or thermal hazard, and which bears labeling which in the judgment of the department gives adequate directions and warnings for safe use, and is intended for use by children who have attained sufficient maturity and may reasonably be expected to read and heed these directions and warnings; nor do the provisions of this section apply to the manufacture, sale, distribution, or use of fireworks of any class.

(b) The seizing officer shall immediately cause to be filed in the name of the State of Texas with the clerk of the district court of the county in which the seizure is made, or if the property is a conveyance, in any county in which the conveyance was used or intended for use to transport for delivery or in any manner facilitate the transportation for delivery of any property described in Paragraph (1), (2) or (3) of Section 5.03(a), a notice of the seizure and intended forfeiture. Certified copies of the notice shall be served upon the following persons as provided for the serving of process by citation in civil cases:

(2) any secured party who has registered his lien or filed a financing statement as provided by law; and

Replevy of Seized Property

Sec. 5.06. Any property, other than a controlled substance or raw material, or money derived from the sale, manufacture, distribution, dispensation, delivery, or other commercial undertaking violative of this Act, seized under this subchapter may be replevied by the owner, lienholder, secured party, or other party holding an interest in the nature of a security interest affecting the property, upon execution by him of a good and valid bond with sufficient surety in a sum double the appraised value of the property replevied, which bond shall be approved by the seizing officer and shall be conditioned upon return of the property to the custody of the officer on the day of hearing of the forfeiture proceeding and abide the judgment of the court.

Forfeiture Hearing

Sec. 5.07. (a) An owner of property, other than a controlled substance or raw material, that has been seized shall file a verified answer within 20 days of the mailing or publication of notice of seizure. If no answer is filed, the court shall hear evidence that the property is subject to forfeiture and may upon motion forfeit the property to the state or an agency of the state or to a political subdivision of the state authorized by law to employ peace officers. If an answer is filed, a time for hearing on forfeiture shall be set within 30 days of filing the answer and notice of the hearing shall be sent to all parties.

(b) If the owner of the property has filed a verified answer denying that the property is subject to forfeiture then the burden is on the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the property is subject to forfeiture. However, if no answer has been filed by the owner of the property, the notice of seizure may be introduced into evidence and is prima facie evidence that the property is subject to forfeiture.

(c) At the hearing any claimant of any right, title, or interest in the property may prove his lien, security interest, or other interest in the nature of a security interest, to be bona fide and created without knowledge or consent that the property was to be used so as to cause the property to be subject to forfeiture.

(d) If it is found beyond a reasonable doubt that the property is subject to forfeiture, then the judge shall upon motion forfeit the property to the state or an agency of the state or to a political subdivision of the state authorized by law to employ peace officers. However, if proof at the hearing discloses that the interest of any bona fide lienholder, secured party, or other person holding an interest in the property in the nature of a security interest is greater than or equal to the present value of the property, the court shall order the property released to him. If such interest is less than the present value of the property and if the proof shows beyond a reasonable doubt that the property is subject to forfeiture, the court shall order the property forfeited to the state or an agency of the state or to a political subdivision of the state authorized by law to employ peace officers.

(e) Upon petition of the seizing officer, filed in the name of the State of Texas with the clerk of the district court of the county in which the seizure of any controlled substance or raw material is made, the district court having jurisdiction may order the controlled substance or raw material summarily forfeited except when lawful possession and title can be ascertained. If a person is found to have had lawful possession and title prior to seizure, the court shall order the controlled substance or raw material returned to the owner, if the owner so desires.

Disposition of Forfeited Property

Sec. 5.08. (a) Regarding all controlled substances and raw materials which have been forfeited, the district court shall by its order direct a law enforcement agency to:

- (1) retain the property for its official purposes;
- (2) deliver the property to a government agency or department for official purposes;
- (3) deliver the property to a person authorized by the court to receive it; or
- (4) destroy the property that is not otherwise disposed. A record of the place where the controlled substances and raw materials were seized, of the kind and quantities so destroyed, and of the time, place, and manner of destruction, shall be kept, and a return under oath, reporting the destruction, shall be made to the district court by the officer who destroys them.

(b) All other property that has been forfeited, except the money derived from the sale, manufacture, distribution, dispensation, delivery, or other commercial undertaking violative of this Act, and except as provided below, shall be sold at a public auction under the direction of the county sheriff after notice of public auction as provided by law for other sheriff's sales. The proceeds of the sale shall be delivered to the district clerk and shall be disposed of as follows:

- (1) to any bona fide lienholder, secured party, or other party holding an interest in the property in the nature of a security interest, to the extent of his interest; and
 - (2) the balance, if any, after deduction of all storage and court costs, shall be forwarded to the state comptroller and deposited with and used as general funds of the state.
- (c) The state or an agency of the state or a political subdivision of the state authorized by law to employ peace officers may maintain, repair, use, and operate for official purposes all property that has been forfeited to it if it is free from any interest of a bona fide lienholder, secured party, or other party who holds an interest in the property in the nature of a security interest. The department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle may purchase the interest of a bona fide lienholder, secured party, or other party who holds an interest so that the property can be released for use by the department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle. The department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle may maintain, repair, use, and operate the property with money appropriated to the department or agency for current operations. If the property is a motor vehicle susceptible of registration under the motor vehicle registration laws of this state, the department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle is deemed to be the purchaser and the certificate of title shall be issued to it as required by Subsection (e) of this section.

(d) Storage charges on any property accrued while the property is stored at the request of a seizing officer of the department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle pending the outcome of the forfeiture proceedings shall be paid by the department or agency out of its appropriations if such property after final hearing is not forfeited to the department or agency.

If the person agrees to participate in treatment, the police officer may either (1) release the person unconditionally, or (2) issue a conditional citation for the offense for which the person was apprehended to be returned to the police department in 90 days and to be dismissed if the person has participated satisfactorily in the treatment program. The person's agreement to participate in treatment shall not be used against him in any criminal proceeding nor does it waive any rights that he has in any criminal proceedings later brought on the original offense.

(c) If, in the judgment of the person or agency supervising the treatment program, a person who has been issued a citation under Subsection (b) of this section fails to participate satisfactorily in the program or if the person fails to appear on the return date of the citation, a warrant shall issue for his arrest on the original offense, unless he is already in police custody. Timeliness of the person's initial appearance before the court on the original offense shall be determined on the basis of the return date of the citation.

(d) The police department shall record all dispositions under Subsection (b) of this section as detentions and not as arrests. Such records shall be treated as confidential, except for use in determining whether a person is given the benefit of this section upon apprehension at a later time.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of Rules 14 to 47]

Rule 47a. Form and Contents of Birth Certificates; Supplementary Certificate; Certificates of Adoption, Annulment and Revocation.—The standard certificate of birth shall be in such form and shall provide for such items of information as may be prescribed by the State Department of Health. Any person may apply to the State Department of Health to have any indication of illegitimacy removed from his or her birth record, including separate medical records. The Department shall charge a fee of $10.00 for this service. All items prescribed on the certificate of birth are hereby declared necessary for the legal, social and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records. The name of the father or any information by which he might be identified may be written in the birth or death certificate of any child:

(a) whose mother was married at the time of conception or birth; or whose mother was subsequently married to the father; or

(b) where paternity of the father has been established in a judicial proceeding. The State Department of Health shall be specifically authorized to use and to provide upon request to other state agencies records pertaining to all births in connection with programs to notify the mothers of young children about health needs for the children.

Subject to the regulations of the State Department of Health, any person:

(a) who becomes the legitimate child of its father by the subsequent marriage of its parents;

(b) whose parentage has been determined by a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(c) adopted under the law existing at the time of adoption in this state or any other state or territory of the United States of America may request the state registrar to file a supplementary certificate of birth on the basis of the status subsequently acquired or established and of which proof is submitted. The application to file a supplementary certificate of birth may be filed by the person, if of age, or a legal representative of the person. The state registrar shall require such proof in these cases as the State Department of Health may by regulation prescribe. The preparation and filing of supplementary certificates of birth based on legitimation, paternity determination, and adoption shall be in accordance with the regulations of the State Department of Health. Provided, however, that when a child is adopted the new birth certificate shall be in the names of the parents by adoption, and the copies of birth certificates or birth records made therefrom shall not disclose the child to be adopted. After the supplementary certificate is filed, any information disclosed from the record shall be made from the supplementary certificate, and access to the original certificate of birth and to the documents filed upon which the supplementary certificate is based shall not be authorized except upon order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

A certificate of each adoption, annulment of adoption, and revocation of adoption ordered or decreed in this state shall be filed with the state registrar as hereinafter provided. The information necessary to prepare the certificates shall be supplied to the clerk of the court by the petitioner for adoption, annulment of adoption, or revocation of adoption at the time the petition is filed. The clerk of the court shall thereupon prepare the certificate on a form furnished by and containing such items of information as may be determined by the State Department of Health and shall, immediately after the decree becomes final, complete the certificate. On or before the 10th of each month, the clerk shall forward to the state registrar the certificates completed by him for decrees which have become final during the preceding calendar month.

Provided, that the above provisions shall not, in any way, be construed as affecting the property rights of natural or adoptive parents or of natural or adopted children, or as amending, modifying, or repealing any of the present laws of the State of Texas governing descent and distribution of property.

Subject to the regulations of the State Department of Health, any person whose name has been changed by court order may request the state registrar to attach to the original birth record an amendment reflecting the change of name. The request to attach such amendment may be made by the person, if of age, or a legal representative of the person. The state registrar shall require such proof of change of name as the State Department of Health may by regulation prescribe.

Rule 47b. "For Medical and Health Use Only" Section of Birth Certificate.—The section entitled "For Medical and Health Use Only" shall not be considered a part of the legal certificate of birth.

purposes of this Act, and each city and incorporated town shall supply its local registrar, and each county shall supply the county clerk with permanent record books, in forms approved by the State Registrar, for the recording of all births, deaths, and stillbirths occurring within their respective jurisdictions. The State Registrar shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to procure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration; and no other forms shall be used than those approved by the State Department of Health. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local registrars, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory he shall require such further information to be supplied as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory. All physicians, midwives, informants or funeral directors, and all other persons having knowledge of the facts, are hereby required to supply, upon a form provided by the State Department of Health, or upon the original certificate, such information as they may possess regarding any birth, death, or stillbirth upon demand of the State Registrar, in person, by mail, or through the local registrar. After its acceptance for registration by the local registrar, no record of any birth, death, or stillbirth shall be altered or changed; provided, however, that if any such record is incomplete, or satisfactory evidence can be submitted proving the record to be in error in any respect, an amending certificate may be filed for the purpose of completing or correcting such record, which amendment shall be in a form prescribed by the State Department of Health and shall, if accepted for filing, be attached to and become a part of the legal record of such birth, death, or stillbirth. The State Registrar shall further arrange, bind, and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner, and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive index of all births and deaths registered; said index to be arranged alphabetically, in the case of deaths, by the names of decedents, and in the case of births, by the names of fathers and mothers. When the State Registrar receives the death certificate of a person under 18 years of age whose birth has been registered in this state, the State Registrar shall make a conspicuous notation on the face of the decedent's birth certificate showing that the person is dead and shall provide copies of the death certificate to the county clerk of the county in which the decedent was born and to the local registrar of the district in which the decedent was born. If any organization or individual is in possession of any record of births or deaths which may be of value in establishing the genealogy of any resident of this state, such organization or individual may file such record or a duly authenticated transcript thereof with the State Registrar. If any person desires a transcript of any such record, the State Registrar shall furnish the same upon application, together with a certificate that it is a true copy of such record, as filed in his office, and for his services in so furnishing such transcript and certificate he shall be entitled to a fee of Ten Cents (10¢) per folio, Fifty Cents (50¢) per hour or fraction of an hour necessarily consumed in making such transcript, and to a fee of Twenty-five Cents (25¢) for the certificate, which fees shall be paid by the applicant; provided, that before the issuance of any such transcript, the State Registrar shall be satisfied that the applicant is properly entitled thereto, and that it is to be used only for legitimate purposes.

Rule 52a. Duties of Local Registrars.—That each local registrar shall supply blank forms of certificates to such persons as require them. Each local registrar shall carefully examine each certificate of birth or death when presented for record in order to ascertain whether or not it has been made out in accordance with the provisions of this act and the instructions of the state registrar; and if any certificate of death is incomplete or unsatisfactory, it shall be his duty to call attention to the defects in the return. All certificates, either of birth or death, shall be written legibly, in durable black ink, and no certificate shall be held to be complete and correct that does not supply all of the items of information called for therein, or satisfactorily account for their omission.

If a certificate of birth is incomplete, the local registrar shall immediately notify the informant, and require him to supply the missing items of information if they can be obtained. He shall number consecutively the certificates of birth and death, in two separate series, beginning with number 1 for the first birth and the first death in each calendar year, and sign his name as registrar in attest of the date of filing in his office. He shall also make a complete and accurate copy of each birth and each death certificate registered by him in a record book supplied in accordance with provisions of Section 18 of this Act,¹ to be preserved permanently in his office as the local record, in such manner as directed by the state registrar, or in the event that local ordinances require that all reports of births and deaths be made in duplicate, he may permanently bind the duplicate reports and index them in the manner prescribed in Section 18 for the state registrar. And he shall, on the tenth day of each month, transmit to the state registrar all original certificates registered by him for the preceding month. And if no births or no deaths occurred in any month, he shall, on the tenth day of the following month, report that fact to the state registrar, on a card provided for such purposes.

When the state registrar notifies the county clerk of the county in which the decedent was born and the local registrar of the district in which the decedent was born, the county clerk and the local registrar shall make a conspicuous notation on the face of the decedent's birth certificate showing that the person is dead.

Certified copies shall be issued only in the form approved by the Texas Department of Health. And any such copy of a record, when properly certified by the State Registrar, shall be prima facie evidence in all courts and places of the facts therein stated. For any search of the files where a record is not found or a certified copy is not made, the State Registrar shall be entitled to a fee of Three Dollars ($3.00), said fee to be paid by the applicant. The State Registrar shall keep a true and correct account of all money received by him under these provisions, and deposit the same with the State Treasurer at the close of each month and at such other intervals as the Registrar deems advisable, and all such money shall be kept by the State Treasurer in a special and separate fund, to be known as the vital statistics fund, and the amounts so deposited in this fund shall be used for defraying expenses incurred in the enforcement and operation of this Act.

The State Registrar shall refund to the applicant any fee received for services which the Bureau cannot render. If the money has been deposited in the vital statistics fund, the Comptroller shall issue a warrant against the fund, upon presentation of a claim signed by the State Registrar, for the purpose of refunding the payment.

The State Registrar shall be entitled to a fee of Five Dollars ($5.00) for filing a new birth certificate based on adoption, a fee of Eight Dollars ($8.00) for filing a new birth certificate based on legitimation or paternity determination, and a fee of Five Dollars ($5.00) for filing an amendment to a birth certificate based on a court order of change of name, said fees to be paid by the applicants.

Permit and Variance Fees

Sec. 3.29. The board may adopt rules relating to charging and collecting fees for permits and variances, including schedules of fees to be charged. The fees shall be sufficient to cover the reasonable costs of review and action by the board on a permit or variance application and of implementing and enforcing the terms and conditions of the permit or variance. Fees adopted under this section shall be not less than $50 nor more than $7,500.

A Pilot Program for Motor Vehicle Inspection and Maintenance, a Study of such Programs, Reports to the Legislature, and Development of and Preparation for a Motor Vehicle Inspection and Maintenance Program

Sec. 3.30. (a) On or before December 1, 1980, the Texas Air Control Board shall submit to the 67th Session of the Legislature a report based on the results of the pilot program and study required by Subsections (b) and (c) of this section. The report required by this subsection shall contain recommendations as to the most feasible program, if any, for controlling motor vehicle emissions in the State of Texas and reflect consideration of the following factors as they relate to the alternative programs listed in Subsection (c):

- (1) acceptance by and protection of consumers;
- (2) overall effectiveness including costs versus benefits;
- (3) resulting social and economic impacts;

(4) appropriate geographic areas of applicability;

(5) the operating of motor vehicle inspection and maintenance, registration, and safety inspection programs in other states; and

(6) any additional factors deemed by the Texas Air Control Board to be appropriate.

(b) The Texas Air Control Board with the assistance and cooperation of the Department of Public Safety and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall develop and conduct either directly or through a private contractor a pilot program utilizing advanced computer technology for the purpose of inspecting, testing, and compiling a list of a representative sample of motor vehicles giving primary attention to vehicles operated in Harris and contiguous counties to determine:

(1) actual emissions of air contaminants from such vehicles and the cause of any excessive emissions and whether specific equipment and operating parameters identified by the Texas Air Control Board as significantly affecting vehicle emissions are installed, adjusted, and operating in accordance with manufacturers' specifications;

(2) whether required vehicle safety features as specified by Section 140 of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), are properly installed and operating; and

(3) the feasibility of performing any necessary registration of such vehicles at the time of inspection and testing.

(c) In conjunction with the pilot program established pursuant to Subsection (b) and using any available information, including but not limited to that generated by the program, the Texas Air Control Board with the assistance of the Department of Public Safety and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall conduct a comprehensive examination and evaluation of motor vehicle inspection, maintenance, and registration programs utilizing advanced computer technology. The study required by this subsection shall include an analysis of:

(1) the effectiveness of programs requiring actual testing of motor vehicle emissions and needed maintenance or the inspection and adjustment of appropriate vehicle operating parameters which relate to emissions of air contaminants;

(2) the effectiveness and efficiency of such a motor vehicle inspection and maintenance program operated in Texas in conjunction with a motor vehicle safety inspection program such as that required by Section 140 of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), through:

(A) existing inspection stations;

(B) state-operated inspection centers with vehicle maintenance performed in private repair facilities; or

(C) contractor-operated inspection centers with maintenance performed in private repair facilities; and

(3) the effectiveness and efficiency of such a motor vehicle inspection and maintenance program operated in Texas independently of a motor vehicle safety program such as that required by Section 140 of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), through:

(A) existing inspection stations;

(B) state-operated inspection centers with vehicle maintenance performed in private repair facilities; or

(C) contractor-operated inspection centers with maintenance performed in private repair facilities; and

(4) the effectiveness and efficiency of a motor vehicle registration program operated in conjunction with one or more of the alternative programs listed in Subsection (c)(1), (c)(2), or (c)(3) above.

(d) The Texas Air Control Board with the assistance and cooperation of the Department of Public Safety and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall develop and make preparations for a motor vehicle inspection and maintenance program for Harris County by designing, planning, and scheduling the implementation of the necessary elements of such program. The design of such program shall be based on the results of the pilot program and study required by Subsections (a) and (b) of this section and shall be consistent with the recommendations to be contained in the report required by Subsection (c) of this section. The schedule for such program:

(1) shall be adequate to allow and achieve full implementation of the inspection and maintenance program as it affects passenger automobiles in Harris County not later than December 31, 1982;

(2) shall not, prior to 120 calendar days after the convening of the 67th Session of the Legislature, require or include:

(A) mandatory participation in the program by the public;

(B) execution of an agreement with a private contractor to operate inspection centers; or

(C) construction or acquisition of inspection centers or acquisition of inspection equipment except as may be necessary or useful to the conduct of the pilot program required by Subsection (a) of this section;

(3) shall, to the maximum extent feasible and consistent with other requirements of this subsection, preserve and facilitate the range of choices available to the 67th Session of the Legislature as to the direction and further development of a motor vehicle inspection and maintenance program for the State of Texas.

(e) The Texas Air Control Board shall cooperate with any legislative committee appointed to monitor the progress made in satisfying the requirements of this section.

(f) This section shall become effective upon approval by the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency of those provisions of the plan submitted by the governor of the State of Texas in accordance with the Federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1977,¹ which relate to inspection and maintenance of motor vehicles and the use of emission reductions credited to the pilot program established by this Act to allow for new source growth in affected areas.

Sections 1 and 9 of the 1979 amendatory act provided:

"Sec. 1. Purpose and policy. The Texas Legislature recognizes both the importance and historical effectiveness of this state's efforts to control air pollution in order to protect the public health and improve air quality. It further recognizes the impact of the 1970 Federal Clean Air Act and subsequent amendments on the State of Texas. The Texas Legislature believes that in passing the Clean Air Act, the United States Congress intended that the national air quality standards promulgated thereunder by the Environmental Protection Agency be both reasonable and attainable.

"It is hereby declared the public policy of the State of Texas that the state in cooperation with the federal government should determine the appropriate environmental controls to be applied within its boundaries necessary to protect the public health and improve air quality. The State of Texas should continue to question and challenge federal air quality regulations and programs which establish unreasonable and unattainable standards; particularly when the programs are of doubtful scientific benefit and are established with no consideration of regional differences among the states. The Texas Legislature should undertake to conduct studies and pilot projects necessary to prove the need for air quality programs and control measures which will have major impact on the State of Texas."

"Sec. 9. The provisions of this Act which give the Texas Air Control Board authority to regulate radioactive air contaminants shall become effective only upon an affirmative determination relating to such contaminants by the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to Section 122 of the Federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1977."

State Solid Waste Agency; Designations; Duties

Sec. 3. (a) The department is hereby designated the state solid waste agency with respect to the collection, handling, storage, processing, and disposal of municipal solid waste, and shall be the coordinating agency for all municipal solid waste activities. The department shall be guided by the Texas Board of Health Resources in its activities relating to municipal solid waste. The department shall seek the accomplishment of the purposes of this Act through the control of all aspects of municipal solid waste collection, handling, storage, processing, and disposal by all practical and economically feasible methods consistent with the powers and duties given the department under this Act and other existing legislation. The department has the powers and duties specifically prescribed in this Act and all other powers necessary or convenient to carry out its responsibilities. The department shall consult with the department of water resources with respect to the water pollution control and water quality aspects, and with the Texas Air Control Board with respect to the air pollution control and ambient air quality aspects, of the matters placed under the jurisdiction of the department by this Act.

(b) The department of water resources is hereby designated the state solid waste agency with respect to the collection, handling, storage, processing, and disposal of industrial solid waste, and shall be the coordinating agency for all industrial solid waste activities. The department of water resources shall seek the accomplishment of the purposes of this Act through the control of all aspects of industrial solid waste collection, handling, storage, processing, and disposal by all practical and economically feasible methods consistent with the powers and duties given it under this Act and other existing legislation. The department of water resources has the powers and duties specifically prescribed in this Act and all other powers necessary or convenient to carry out its responsibilities. The department of water resources shall consult with the department with respect to the public health aspects, and with the Texas Air Control Board with respect to the air pollution control and ambient air quality aspects, of the matters placed under the jurisdiction of the department of water resources by this Act.

(c) Where both municipal solid waste and industrial solid waste, except Class I industrial solid waste which is not routinely collected with municipal solid waste, are involved in any activity of collecting, handling, storing, processing, or disposing of solid waste, the department is the state agency responsible and has jurisdiction over the activity; and, with respect to that activity, the department may exercise all of the powers, duties and functions vested in the department by this Act. Class I industrial solid waste under the jurisdiction of the Texas Department of Water Resources may be accepted in municipal solid waste disposal facilities if authorized by the department with the concurrence of the Texas Department of Water Resources.

State Agencies; Authority and Powers; Permits

Sec. 4. (a) As used in this section the term "state agency" refers to either the department or the department of water resources, and "state agencies" means both the department and the department of water resources.

(b) The department is authorized to develop a state municipal solid waste plan, and the department of water resources is authorized to develop a state industrial solid waste plan. The state agencies shall coordinate the solid waste plans developed. Before a state agency adopts its solid waste plan or makes any significant amendments to the plan, the Texas Air Control Board shall have the opportunity to comment and make recommendations on the proposed plan or amendments, and shall be given such reasonable time to do so as the state agency may specify.

(c) Each state agency may adopt and promulgate rules and regulations consistent with the general intent and purposes of this Act, and establish minimum standards of operation for all aspects of the management and control of the solid waste over which it has jurisdiction under this Act, including but not limited to collection, handling, storage, processing, and disposal.

(d) Each state agency is authorized to inspect and approve sites used or proposed to be used for the storage, processing, or disposal of the solid waste over which it has jurisdiction.

(e) Except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section with respect to certain industrial solid wastes, each state agency has the power to require and issue permits authorizing and governing the operation and maintenance of sites used for the storage, processing, or disposal of solid waste. This power may be exercised by a state agency only with respect to the solid waste over which it has jurisdiction under this Act. If this power is exercised by a state agency, that state agency shall prescribe the form of and reasonable requirements for the permit application and the procedures to be followed in processing the application, to the extent not otherwise provided for in this subsection. The following additional provisions apply if a state agency exercises the power authorized in this subsection:

(1) The state agency to whom the permit application is submitted shall mail a copy of the application or a summary of its contents to the Texas Air Control Board, to the other state agency, to the mayor and health authorities of any city or town within whose territorial limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction the solid waste storage, processing, or disposal site is located, and to the county judge and health authorities of the county in which the site is located. The governmental entities to whom the information is mailed shall have a reasonable time, as prescribed by the state agency to whom the application was originally submitted, to present comments and recommendations on the permit application before that state agency acts on the application.

(2) A separate permit shall be issued for each site. The permit shall include the names and addresses of the person who owns the land where the solid waste storage, processing, or disposal site is located and the person who is or will be the operator or person in charge of the site; a legal description of the land on which the site is located; and the terms and conditions on which the permit is issued, including the duration of the permit.

(3) The state agency may extend or renew any permit it issues in accordance with reasonable procedures prescribed by the state agency. The procedures prescribed in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (e) for permit applications apply also to applications to extend or renew a permit.

(4) Before a permit is issued, extended or renewed, the state agency to which the application is submitted shall issue notice and hold a hearing in the manner provided for other hearings held by the agency.

(5) Before a permit is issued, extended or renewed, the state agency to which the application is submitted may require the permittee to execute a bond or give other financial assurance conditioned on the permittee's satisfactorily closing the disposal site on final abandonment.

(6) If a permit is issued, renewed or extended by a state agency in accordance with this Subsection (e), the owner or operator of the site does not need to obtain a license for the same site from a county, or from a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act.

(7) A permit is issued in personam and does not attach to the realty to which it relates. A permit may not be transferred without prior notice to and prior approval by the state agency which issued it.

(8) The state agency has the authority, for good cause, after hearing with notice to the permittee and to the governmental entities named in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (e), to revoke or amend any permit it issues for reasons pertaining to public health, air or water pollution, land use, or violation of this Act or of any other applicable laws or regulations controlling the disposal of solid waste.

(9) Manufacturing and processing establishments, commonly known as rendering plants, which process for any purpose waste materials originating from animals, poultry, and fish (all hereinafter referred to as "animals") and materials of vegetable origin, including without limitation animal parts and scraps, offal, paunch manure, and waste cooking grease of animal and vegetable origin are subject to regulation under the industrial solid waste provisions of this Act and may also be regulated under Chapter 26, Water Code. When a rendering establishment is owned by a person who operates the rendering establishment as an integral part of an establishment engaged in manufacturing or processing for animal or human consumption food derived wholly or in part from dead, slaughtered, or processed animals, poultry, or fish, the combined business may operate under authority of a single permit issued pursuant to Chapter 26, Water Code. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to those rendering plants in operation and production on or before August 27, 1973.

(f)(1) This subsection applies to the collection, handling, storage, processing, and disposal of industrial solid waste which is disposed of within the property boundaries of a tract of land owned or otherwise effectively controlled by the owners or operators of the particular industrial plant, manufacturing plant, mining operation, or agricultural operation from which the waste results or is produced, and which tract of land is within 50 miles from the plant or operation which is the source of the industrial solid waste. This subsection does not apply if the waste is collected, handled, stored, or disposed of with solid waste from any other source or sources or if the waste, which is collected, handled, stored, processed, or disposed of is hazardous waste. The department of water resources may not require a permit under this Act for the disposal of any solid waste to which this subsection applies, but this does not change or limit any authority the department of water resources may have with respect to the requirement of permits, the control of water quality, or otherwise, under Chapter 26, Water Code. However, the department of water resources may adopt rules and regulations as provided under Subsection (c) of this section to govern and control the collection, handling, storage, processing, and disposal of the industrial solid waste to which this subsection applies so as to protect the property of others, public property and rights-of-way, groundwater, and other rights requiring protection. The department of water resources may require a person who disposes or plans to dispose of industrial solid waste under the authority of this subsection to submit to the department of water resources such information as may be reasonably required to enable the department of water resources to determine whether in its judgment the waste disposal activity is one to which this subsection applies.

(2) After the expiration of 90 days following the identification and listing of wastes as hazardous waste, no person shall process, store, or dispose of hazardous industrial solid wastes under this subsection without having first obtained a hazardous waste permit issued by the board; provided, however, that any person processing, storing, or disposing of hazardous waste under this subsection who has filed a hazardous waste permit application in accordance with the rules and regulations of the board may continue to process, store, or dispose of hazardous waste until such time as the board approves or denies the application. Upon its own motion or the request of a person affected, the board may hold a public hearing on an application for a hazardous waste permit. The board by rule shall establish procedures for public notice and any public hearing authorized by this subsection.

(g) The state agencies may, either individually or jointly:

(1) provide educational, advisory, and technical services to other agencies of the state, regional planning agencies, local governments, special districts, institutions, and individuals with respect to solid waste management and control, including collection, storage, handling, processing, and disposal;

(2) assist other agencies of the state, regional planning agencies, local governments, special districts, and institutions in acquiring federal grants for the development of solid waste facilities and management programs, and for research to improve the state of the art; and

(3) accept funds from the federal government for purposes relating to solid waste management, and to expend money received from the federal government for those purposes in the manner prescribed by law and in accordance with such agreements as may be necessary and appropriate between the federal government and each state agency.

If a state agency engages in any of the programs and activities named in this subsection on an individual basis, it may do so only as the participation by that state agency is related to the management and control of the solid waste over which it has jurisdiction. When the state agencies do not participate jointly, they shall coordinate on any efforts undertaken by either one individually so that similar programs and activities of the state agencies will be compatible.

(h) The state agencies are authorized to administer and expend state funds provided to them by legislative appropriations, or otherwise, for the purpose of making grants to local governments for solid waste planning, the installation of solid waste facilities, and the administration of solid waste programs. The grants made under the terms of this Act shall be distributed in a manner determined by the state agency to whom the appropriation is made. Any financial assistance granted by the state through either of the state agencies to any local government under the terms of this Act must, at a minimum, be equally matched by local government funds.

County Powers

Sec. 5. (a) Every county has the solid waste management powers which are enumerated in this Section 5. However, the exercise of the licensing authority and other powers granted to counties by this Act does not preclude the department or the department of water resources from exercising any of the powers vested in the department or the department of water resources under other provisions of this Act, including specifically the provisions authorizing the department and the department of water resources to issue permits for the operation and maintenance of sites for the processing or disposal of solid waste. The powers specified in Subsections (d) and (e) of this section and Section 18 of the County Solid Waste Control Act (Article 4477-8, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) may not be exercised by a county with respect to the industrial solid waste disposal practices and areas to which Subsection (f) of Section 4 of this Act applies. The department or the department of water resources, by specific action or directive, may supersede any authority or power granted to or exercised by a county under this Act, but only with respect to those matters which are, under this Act, within the jurisdiction of the state agency acting.

(b) A county is authorized to appropriate and expend money from its general revenues for the collection, handling, storage and disposal of solid waste and for administering a solid waste program; and to charge reasonable fees for the services.

(c) A county may develop county solid waste plans and coordinate those plans with the plans of local governments, regional planning agencies, other governmental entities, the department, and the board.

(d) Except as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, a county is empowered to require and issue licenses authorizing and governing the operation and maintenance of sites used for the processing or disposal of solid waste in areas not within the territorial limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction of incorporated cities and towns. If a county elects to exercise licensing authority, it must adopt, promulgate, and enforce rules or regulations for the management of solid waste. The rules or regulations shall not be less stringent than those of, and must be approved by, the department or the board as appropriate. The following additional provisions apply if a county exercises the power authorized in this Subsection (d):

(1) The county shall mail a copy of the license application with pertinent supporting data to the department, the board, and the Texas Air Control Board. The governmental entities to whom the information is mailed shall have a reasonable time, as prescribed by the county, to submit comments and recommendations on the license application before the county acts on the application.

(2) A separate license shall be issued for each site. The license shall include the names and addresses of the person who owns the land where the waste disposal site is located and the person who is or will be the operator or person in charge of the site; a legal description of the land on which the site is located; and the terms and conditions on which the license is issued, including the duration of the license. The county is authorized to charge a fee for a license of not to exceed $100.00, as set by the commissioners court of the county. Receipts from the fees shall be placed in the general revenue fund of the county.

(3) The county may extend or renew any license it issues in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the county. The procedures prescribed in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (d) apply also to applications to extend or renew a license.

(4) No license for the use of a site for processing or disposal of solid waste may be issued, renewed, or extended without the prior approval, as appropriate, of the department or the department of water resources. If a license is issued, renewed, or extended by a county in accordance with this Subsection (d), the owner or operator of the site does not need to obtain a permit from the department or the department of water resources for the same site.

(5) A license is issued in personam and does not attach to the realty to which it relates. A license may not be transferred without prior notice to and prior approval by the county which issued it.

(6) The county has the authority, for good cause, after hearing with notice to the licensee and to the governmental entities named in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (d), to revoke or amend any license it issues for reasons pertaining to public health, air or water pollution, land use, or violation of this Act or of any other applicable laws or regulations controlling the disposal of solid waste. For like reasons, the department and the department of water resources each may, for good cause, after hearing with notice to the licensee, the county which issued the license, and the other governmental entities named in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (d), revoke or amend any license issued by a county, but only as to those sites which fall, under the terms of this Act, within the jurisdiction of the state agency acting.

(e) Subject to the limitation specified in Subsection (a) of this section, a county may designate land areas not within the territorial limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction of incorporated cities and towns as suitable for use as solid waste disposal sites. The county shall base these designations on the principles of public health, safety, and welfare, including proper land use, compliance with state statutes, and any other pertinent considerations.

(f) A county is authorized to enforce the requirements of this Act and the rules and regulations promulgated by the department and the board as related to the handling of solid waste.

(g) Repealed by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1763, ch. 516, § 20, eff. Aug. 30, 1971.

(h) A county may enter into cooperative agreements with local governments and other governmental entities for the purpose of the joint operation of solid waste collection, handling, storage, processing or disposal facilities, and to charge reasonable fees for the services.

Right of Entry; Inspections; Access to Hazardous Waste Records

Sec. 7. (a) The authorized agents or employees of the department, the department of water resources, and local governments have the right to enter at all reasonable times in or upon any property, whether public or private, within the governmental entity's jurisdiction, including in the case of an incorporated city or town, its extraterritorial jurisdiction, for the purpose of inspecting and investigating conditions relating to solid waste management and control. Agents and employees shall not enter private property having management in residence without notifying the management, or the person in charge at the time, of their presence and exhibiting proper credentials. The agents and employees shall observe the rules and regulations of the establishment being inspected concerning safety, internal security, and fire protection.

(b) The authorized agents or employees of the department and the board may have access to, examine, and copy during regular business hours any records pertaining to hazardous waste management and control.

(c) Records copied pursuant to Subsection (b) of this section shall be public records, except that, if a showing satisfactory to the commissioner of the department or to the executive director of the board is made by the owner of such records that the records would divulge trade secrets if made public, then the department or the board shall consider such copied records as confidential. Nothing in this subsection shall require the board or the department to consider the composition or characteristics of solid waste being treated, stored, disposed, or otherwise handled to be held confidential.

Prohibited Acts; Violations; Penalties; Injunction

Sec. 8. (a) No person may cause, suffer, allow or permit the collection, storage, handling or disposal of solid waste, or the use or operation of a site for the disposal of solid waste, in violation of this Act or of the rules, regulations, permits, licenses or other orders of the department or the department of water resources, or a county or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act within whose jurisdiction the violation occurs.

(b) Any person who violates any provision of this Act or of any rule, regulation, permit, license, or other order of the department or the department of water resources, or a county or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act within whose jurisdiction the violation occurs, is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $50.00 nor more than $1,000.00 for each act of violation and for each day of violation, as the court may deem proper, to be recovered in the manner provided in this Section 8.

(c) Whenever it appears that a person has violated, or is violating or threatening to violate, any provision of this Act, or of any rule, regulation, permit, or other order of the department or the department of water resources, then the department or the department of water resources may cause a civil suit to be instituted in a district court for injunctive relief to restrain the person from continuing the violation or threat of violation, or for the assessment and recovery of a civil penalty of not less than $50.00 nor more than $1,000.00 for each act of violation and for each day of violation, as the court may deem proper, or for both injunctive relief and civil penalty. Upon application for injunctive relief and a finding that a person is violating or threatening to violate any provision of this Act or any rule, regulation, permit, or other order of the department or the department of water resources, the district court shall grant appropriate injunctive relief. At the request of the department or the executive director of the department of water resources when authorized by the Texas Water Development Board, the attorney general shall institute and conduct a suit in the name of the State of Texas for injunctive relief or to recover the civil penalty, or for both injunctive relief and penalty, as authorized in this subsection.

(d) Whenever it appears that a violation or threat of violation of any provision of this Act, or of any rule, regulation, permit, license, or other order of the department, the department of water resources, a county, or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, has occurred or is occurring within the jurisdiction of that county or political subdivision, the county or political subdivision, in the same manner as the department of water resources and the department, may cause a civil suit to be instituted in a district court through its own attorney for the injunctive relief or civil penalties, or both, as authorized in Subsection (c) of this section, against the person who committed, is committing, or is threatening to commit, the violation.

(e) Whenever it appears that a violation or threat of violation of any provision of this Act, or of any rule, regulation, permit, license, or other order of the department, the department of water resources, a county, or political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, has occurred or is occurring within the area of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of an incorporated city or town, or is causing or will cause injury to or an adverse effect on the health, welfare or physical property of the city or town or its inhabitants, then the city or town, in the same manner as the department of water resources and the department, may cause a civil suit to be instituted in a district court through its own attorney for the injunctive relief or civil penalties, or both, as authorized in Subsection (c) of this section, against the person who committed, is committing, or is threatening to commit, the violation.

(f) A suit for injunctive relief or for recovery of a civil penalty, or for both injunctive relief and penalty, may be brought either in the county where the defendant resides or in the county where the violation or threat of violation occurs. In any suit brought to enjoin a violation or threat of violation of this Act or of any rule, regulation, permit, license or other order of the department of water resources, the department, a county, or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, the court may grant the governmental entity bringing the suit, without bond or other undertaking, any prohibitory or mandatory injunction the facts may warrant, including temporary restraining orders after notice and hearing, temporary injunctions, and permanent injunctions.

(g) In a suit brought by a local government under Subsection (d) or (e) of this section, the department of water resources and the department are necessary and indispensable parties.

(h) Any party to a suit may appeal from a final judgment as in other civil cases.

(i) All civil penalties recovered in suits instituted under this Act by the State of Texas through the department of water resources or the department shall be paid to the General Revenue Fund of the State of Texas. All civil penalties recovered in suits first instituted by a local government or governments under this Act shall be equally divided between the State of Texas on the one hand and the local government or governments on the other, with 50 per cent of the recovery to be paid to the General Revenue Fund of the State of Texas and the other 50 per cent equally to the local government or governments first instituting the suit.

Appeals

Sec. 9. A person affected by any ruling, order, decision, or other act of the department or the department of water resources may appeal by filing a petition in a district court of Travis County. A person affected by any ruling, order, decision, or other act of a county, or of a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, may appeal by filing a petition in a district court having jurisdiction in the county or political subdivision. The petition must be filed within 30 days after the date of the action, ruling, order, or decision of the governmental entity complained of. Service of citation must be accomplished within 30 days after the date the petition is filed. The plaintiff shall pursue his action with reasonable diligence. If the plaintiff does not prosecute his action within one year after the action is filed, the court shall presume that the action has been abandoned. The court shall dismiss the suit on a motion for dismissal made by the governmental entity whose action is appealed, unless the plaintiff, after receiving due notice, can show good and sufficient cause for the delay. In an appeal from an action by the department, the department of water resources, a county, or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, the issue is whether the action is invalid, arbitrary or unreasonable. Art. 4477-10. Treating and Conveying Waste in Cities of 1,200,000 or More

Application

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to all incorporated cities, including home-rule cities, having a population of 1,200,000 or more according to the last preceding federal census (hereinafter called "eligible city").

Acquisition of Property; Construction of Improvements; "Waste" Defined

Sec. 2. An eligible city is authorized to acquire, by purchase, lease or otherwise, any or all property (real, personal or mixed) and to construct or otherwise acquire, improve and equip any property for the purposes of treating and conveying waste, including, but not limited to waste treatment facilities including plants, disposal fields, lagoons and areas devoted to sanitary landfills for the purposes of treating, neutralizing, stabilizing or disposal of waste, and sewer systems including pipelines, conduits, canals, pumping stations, force mains, and all other constructions, devices, and appurtenant appliances used to transport waste (such waste treatment facilities and sewer systems are hereinafter called "project" or "projects"). An eligible city is also authorized to enter into leases and other contracts, including installment sale agreements, with persons, firms or corporations to use or acquire a project or projects of such city and to enter into agreements under which the project or projects may be operated on behalf of such city; such leases, contracts and agreements to contain such terms and conditions as the eligible city deems appropriate. Each and all of the foregoing purposes are hereby found and declared to be public purposes and proper municipal functions. The term "waste" as used in this section has the meaning defined in the Texas Water Quality Act, codified as Chapter 21 of the Texas Water Code, as heretofore and hereafter amended.

Issuance of Bonds

Sec. 3. For any purpose or purposes authorized under Section 2 of this Act, the governing body of an eligible city may issue its revenue bonds from time to time in one or more series to be payable from and secured by liens on all or part of the revenues derived from any project or projects.

Ordinances Authorizing Bonds; Maturity; Registration as "Security"; Disposition of Proceeds from Sale; Property Tax

Sec. 4. (a) Said bonds may be issued when authorized by ordinance duly adopted by an eligible city's governing body and may mature serially or otherwise within not to exceed 40 years from their date or dates, and provision may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under any terms or conditions that may be set forth in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds.

(b) Said bonds, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto, shall be deemed and construed to be a "security" within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, Uniform Commercial Code (Chapter 785, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967).¹ The bonds may be issued registrable as to principal alone or as to principal and interest, and shall be executed, and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, and may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions and details, and may be sold in such manner, at such price, and under such terms, and such bonds shall bear interest at such rates, all as shall be determined and provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(c) If so provided in said ordinance, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used for paying interest on the bonds during and after the period of the acquisition, construction or improvement of any project or projects, for paying expenses of operation and maintenance of said project or projects, for creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and for establishing any other funds. The proceeds of sale of the bonds may be placed on time deposit or invested, until needed, all to the extent, and in the manner provided, in the bond ordinance.

(d) An eligible city is authorized to levy and pledge to the payment of the operation and maintenance of any project or projects, either as a supplement to the pledge of revenues for such purpose or in lieu thereof, a continuing annual ad valorem tax at a rate or rates on each $100 valuation of taxable property within said city sufficient for such purposes, all as may be provided in said ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds; provided, that such taxes shall be within any constitutional or charter limit for eligible cities; and provided further, that no part of any moneys raised by such taxes shall ever be used for the payment of the interest on or principal of any bonds issued hereunder. The proceeds of any such taxes thus pledged shall be utilized annually to the extent required by, or provided in, the ordinance for operation and maintenance of such projects, and such city in its discretion may covenant in such ordinance that certain costs of operating and maintaining such projects, as may be enumerated therein, or all of such costs, will be paid by the eligible city from the proceeds of such tax.

(e) An eligible city shall not acquire or construct any such project or projects with the proceeds of bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness the interest on which is exempt from federal income taxation by virtue of Section 103(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as heretofore or hereafter amended,² unless (1) such project is operated by an eligible city or a political subdivision of the State of Texas on behalf of such eligible city or, (2) such project provides pretreatment for waste which is then discharged into a project operated by an eligible city or a political subdivision on behalf of such city.

² 26 U.S.C.A. § 103(c)(4).

Fees, Purchase Prices, Rentals, Rates and Charges

Sec. 5. An eligible city is authorized to fix and collect fees, purchase prices, rentals, rates and charges for the sale, occupancy, use or availability of all or any of the projects in such amounts and in such manner as may be determined by the governing body of the eligible city.

Pledges for Payment of Bonds

Sec. 6. (a) An eligible city may pledge all or any part of the revenues, income or receipts from such fees, purchase prices, rentals, rates and charges to the payment of the bonds, including the payment of principal, interest and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds. The pledged fees, purchase prices, rentals, rates and charges shall be fixed and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds, and, to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds, to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds, and for the payment of operation, maintenance and other expenses in connection with the projects.

(b) The bonds may be additionally secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on any real property relating to the projects owned or to be acquired by the eligible city and by chattel mortgages, liens or security interests on any personal property appurtenant to that real property. The governing body of the eligible city may authorize the execution of trust indentures, mortgages, deeds of trust or other forms of encumbrances to evidence the indebtedness.

(c) An eligible city may also pledge to the payment of the bonds all or any part of any grant, donation, revenues or income received or to be received from the United States government or any other public or private source, whether pursuant to an agreement or otherwise.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 7. (a) Any bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be refunded or otherwise refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for that purpose under any terms or conditions as are determined by ordinance of the governing body of the eligible city. All appropriate provisions of this Act are applicable to refunding bonds, and the refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds. The refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts necessary to pay the principal, interest and redemption premium, if any, of bonds to be refunded, at maturity or on any redemption date.

(b) The refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds being refunded by them. In that case, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds. The exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(c) Bonds issued at any time by a city under this Act also may be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable law.

Examination of Bonds by Attorney General; Approval and Registration

Sec. 8. All bonds issued under this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If the bonds recite that they are secured by a pledge of revenues or rentals from a contract or lease, a copy of the contract or lease and the proceedings relating to it shall also be submitted to the attorney general. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized and any contract or lease has been made in accordance with law, he shall approve the bonds and the contract or lease, and thereupon the bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After approval and registration the bonds and any contract or lease relating to them are incontestable for any reason, and are valid and binding obligations for all purposes in accordance with their terms.

Bonds as Legal and Authorized Investments and Security

Sec. 9. All bonds issued under this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. The bonds are also eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of it, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of the bonds, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect; Conflicting Laws

Sec. 10. This Act is cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized by it without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided. When any bonds are issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any law or home-rule-charter provision, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control. An eligible city shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Severability

Sec. 11. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Sec. 4. Tuberculosis in a contagious, infectious, or communicable state is hereby declared to be dangerous to public health.

(a) Any physician, or other person, who makes a diagnosis in, or treats a case of tuberculosis, and every head or manager of a hospital, dispensary, or charitable, or penal institution in which there is a case of tuberculosis, shall report such case as soon as possible, in writing, or by an acknowledged telephone communication to the local health authority, stating the name, address, age, sex, color, and occupation of the diseased person and the date of the onset of the disease, and the probable source of infection.

(b) All local health authorities shall keep a careful and accurate record of all cases of tuberculosis as reported to them with the date, name, age, sex, race, location, and such other necessary data as may be prescribed by the Department. Such health authorities shall make a report of all tuberculosis cases of which they may be cognizant to the Department within forty-eight (48) hours of receiving a report upon blank forms provided by the Department. These reports may be used by the Department for any and all purposes consistent with the care and treatment of individuals afflicted with tuberculosis, for research purposes, for statistical purposes, for investigative purposes, with the ultimate goal being the eradication of tuberculosis in Texas.

(c) It shall be the duty of every physician and of every other person who examines or treats a person having tuberculosis to instruct him in measures for preventing the spread of such disease and of the necessity for treatment until cured.

Notice of Evidence of Tuberculosis

Sec. 4A. (a) The Bureau of Tuberculosis Services must be notified when a laboratory examination of a specimen derived from a human indicates microscopical, cultural, or other evidence of the presence or likely presence of Mycobacterium tuberculosis.

(b) The person in charge of the laboratory in which the evidence of tuberculosis disease is discovered shall notify the local health authority, or if there is no local health authority, the Bureau of Tuberculosis Services in the Department.

(c) The notification must contain:

(1) the name and age of the person from whom the specimen was obtained;

(2) the name and address of the physician requesting the tests; and

(3) the tests performed, the date of the tests, and the results.

(d) Cumulative reports must be reported weekly.

(e) All laboratory notifications required by this section are confidential and are not open for inspection by anyone other than authorized public health personnel.

(f) No person from the Bureau of Tuberculosis Services or the local health authority may communicate with a suspected tuberculosis patient or a person who may be exposed to tuberculosis by a suspected patient until a diagnosis is reported to the Department by the attending physician.

Measures for Protection of Persons not Having Tuberculosis

Sec. 5. Upon receipt of a report of a case of tuberculosis, the local health authority shall institute measures for protection of other persons from infection by such diseased person.

(a) All duly authorized health authorities of this State are authorized to notify any person who is known to be infected with tuberculosis, to place himself under the medical care of a physician licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, hospital, or clinic, for treatment or examination until such physician, hospital, or clinic shall furnish such health authority with a certificate that such person examined or treated is free from tuberculosis in an infectious or contagious state. The certificate shall state that the person examined has been given an actual and thorough examination. The test or tests for tuberculosis shall be that type of test or tests as approved by the Department. Such certificates shall also contain the report of the test.

(b) Physicians, local health authorities, and all other persons are prohibited from issuing certificates of freedom from tuberculosis unless the examination includes clinical and appropriate radiographic or laboratory evidence that the person so examined is free from tuberculosis in an infectious or contagious state. Before a certificate of freedom from tuberculosis can be issued in the case of a person who has previously had tuberculosis, it will be necessary that the physician or person on giving the certificate shall submit to the local health authority a report of the person summarizing the clinical and appropriate radiologic or laboratory evidence that the person no longer has tuberculosis in an infectious or contagious state.

(c) Any person who violates the provisions of Section 4, or who fails to follow the directions of the local health authority, or who fails to follow the directions of his attending physician pursuant to Section 4, or who in the opinion of the local health authority cannot be treated with reasonable safety to the public, at home, may be quarantined, as that term is hereinafter defined, and the local health authority may direct the removal of the person to a suitable place for examination, and if such person is found to have tuberculosis in an infectious and contagious state, then such person may be quarantined, as that term is hereinafter defined, until such person is no longer in an infectious and contagious state.

Quarantine, as used in this Section, means the limitation of movement and separation, during that period of time while infectious and contagious, from other persons not infected, in such places and under such conditions as will prevent the conveyance of such infectious or contagious condition to others not infected.

A person found to have tuberculosis in an infectious and contagious state and quarantined under the provisions of this Section may be placed in any place suitable for the detention and segregation required under the provisions of this Section. If suitable facilities are not available within the jurisdiction of the local health authority, then in such event, the person so quarantined may be transported to a State chest hospital designated by the Board. The Board is hereby empowered and directed to provide suitable facilities for detention of such individuals.

The Commissioners Courts of the various counties and the governing body of all incorporated towns and cities are hereby empowered to provide suitable places for the detention of persons who may be subject to quarantine and who should be segregated for the execution of the provisions of this Section; and such commissioners courts and governing body of incorporated cities and towns are hereby authorized to incur on behalf of their said counties, cities, or towns, the expenses necessary to the enforcement of this Section.

The Commissioners Courts of the various counties and the governing body of all incorporated towns and cities are hereby empowered and directed to provide transportation to the State chest hospital so designated by the Board for any person quarantined under the provisions of this Section when suitable facilities are not available within the jurisdiction of the local health authority.

The local health authority shall inform all persons who are to be released from quarantine for tuberculosis of the status of their disease and what further treatment is required.

(d) It shall be the duty of all persons with tuberculosis, or who, from exposure to tuberculosis, may be liable to endanger others who may come in contact with them, to strictly observe such instructions as may be given them by any local health authority of the State in order to prevent the spread of tuberculosis.

(e) If an attending physician or other person knows or has good reason to suspect that a person having tuberculosis is so conducting himself or herself so as to expose other persons to infection or is about so to conduct himself or herself, he shall notify the local health authority of the name and address of the diseased person and the essential facts in the case, and the local health authority shall investigate the facts of the case and shall adopt or employ the necessary measures as set out herein.

Violations; Penalties

Sec. 6. (a) A person commits an offense if he violates the provisions of Section 4, 4A, or 5 of this Act.

(b) An offense under this section is a Class B misdemeanor.

Local Regulations

Sec. 7. These regulations shall not be construed to prevent any city, county, or town from establishing such types of disinfection, isolation, control, and management of tuberculosis cases which they deem necessary for the preservation of the health of the individuals and the public; provided that such rules and regulations are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Code and are subordinate to said Code, and the rules and regulations prescribed by the Department. The local health authority shall at once furnish the Department with a true copy of any such regulations adopted by said local authorities.

Provided, however, that no provision in this Act shall be construed in any manner such that it would deprive any person of his right to depend on prayer or spiritual means alone for healing, in the practice of the principles, tenets, or teachings of his religion; provided that in so doing the isolation and quarantine rules and regulations under this Act are complied with.

Admission

Sec. 8. Residents of Texas as defined in Section 1 herein, having tuberculosis, may be admitted to a State chest hospital. Non-resident indigents with tuberculosis who have been quarantined under the provisions of Section 5 herein may be admitted to a State chest hospital pending their return to the State or country of their residence.

Classification of Patients

Sec. 9. Patients admitted to State chest hospitals shall be two (2) classes:

- (1) Indigent public patients and
- (2) Non-indigent public patients.

(a) Indigent public patients are those who possess no property of any kind nor have anyone legally responsible for their support, and who are unable to reimburse the State. This class shall be supported at the expense of the State.

(b) Non-indigent public patients are those who possess some property out of which the State may be reimbursed, or who have someone legally responsible for their support. This class shall be kept and maintained at the expense of the State as in (a) above, but in such case the State shall have the right to be reimbursed for the support of such patients, and the claim of the State shall constitute a valid lien against any property of any such patient, or in case he has a guardian, against any property of his which is in the possession of said guardian, or against the person or persons who may be legally responsible for his support and financially able to contribute as herein provided. Such claim may be collected by suit or other proceedings in the name of the State of Texas by the County or District Attorney of the county from which said patient is sent or the Attorney General against such patient or his guardian or the person or persons legally responsible for his support; and the suit shall be brought in the county from which such patient was sent. Such suit shall be instituted upon the written request of the head of the State chest hospital accompanied by a certificate as to the amount due the State. In all suits or proceedings, the certificate of the head of the hospital shall be sufficient evidence of the amount due the State for the support of such patient. It shall be the duty of said Attorney upon such request being made to institute and conduct such proceedings and for which he shall be entitled to a commission of ten per cent (10%) of the amount collected. All moneys so collected, less such commission, shall be paid by said County Attorney to the head of said hospital, who shall receive and receipt for the same.

Sec. 10. Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1529, ch. 658, § 9, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.

Certificate of Examination

Sec. 11. The application for admission to a State chest hospital shall be accompanied by a certificate of a physician licensed to practice medicine in the State of Texas by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, or in the case of indigent patients by a certificate from the local health authority if such individual or individuals are licensed to practice medicine in the State of Texas by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, stating that he has thoroughly examined the person for whose admission application has been made, and that such person is suffering from tuberculosis. The certificate shall be in the form and contain such information as prescribed by the Department.

In the event that the person applying for admission to a State chest hospital is afflicted with a contagious, infectious, or transmissible disease other than tuberculosis, then in such event the head of the State chest hospital to whom application has been made may use the presence of such contagious, infectious, or transmissible disease other than tuberculosis as a valid reason for delaying admission until such contagious disease is rendered non-contagious.

Duties of Board

Sec. 12. (a) The State chest hospital shall review applications for admission and admit or deny admission to applicants.

(b) The Board shall prepare and adopt by-laws, rules, and regulations for the government, control, and management of all State chest hospitals, prescribing the duties of all officers and employees, and for enforcing the necessary discipline and restraint of all patients.

(c) The Board shall appoint for each of said chest hospitals a physician licensed to practice medicine in the State of Texas by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners. Each physician so appointed shall be the head of the hospital under his control and shall have power to remove with just cause any person employed in said hospital over which he has such authority. Any such physician so appointed shall be removable at the discretion of the Board. The provisions applying to the powers and duties of the Board and of the head of the hospital as set forth in this Section are in addition to any others provided for by law. The Board shall supply each hospital with the necessary personnel for the operation and maintenance of such hospital.

(d) In addition to the specific authority granted by other provisions of law, the Board is authorized to prescribe the form of application, certificates, records, and reports provided for under this Code and the information required to be contained therein; to require reports from the head of any State chest hospital relating to the admission, examination, diagnosis, release, or discharge of any patient; to visit each hospital regularly to review the admitting procedures and care and treatment of all new patients admitted between visits; to investigate by personal visit complaints made by any patient or by any person on behalf of a patient; and to adopt such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this Code as may be necessary for proper and efficient hospitalization of tuberculosis patients.

(e) Unless otherwise expressly provided in this Code, a power granted to, or a duty imposed upon the Board may be exercised or performed by an authorized employee, but the delegation of a duty does not relieve the Board from its responsibility.

The Board may permit the return of any resident of this State who is admitted to a tuberculosis hospital in another state.

Such accommodations or any part of them not being used or required by those entitled to such preference, may be used and occupied by other patients in said State chest hospitals at the discretion of the head of the hospital and without any charge therefor against the State.

(c) Rules of admission.

The members of such charitable fraternities or societies, members of their families, and the widows and children of deceased members thereof, shall be classified according to the facts the same as other patients of said State chest hospitals are classified, and shall be admitted, maintained, cared for and treated in said hospitals upon the same terms and conditions and under the same regulations as all other patients therein, save and except that they shall at all times have the preference and right to occupy the accommodations erected and maintained hereunder by their several and respective fraternities or societies when not already filled with others having the same preferential right.

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Texas Cancer Control Act.

Purpose

Sec. 2. It is the intent of the legislature to require the establishment and maintenance of a cancer registry for the State of Texas. This responsibility is delegated to the Texas Board of Health, along with the authority to exercise certain powers to implement this requirement. To insure an accurate and continuing source of data concerning cancer and certain specified precancerous and tumorous diseases, the legislature by this Act requires all general and special hospitals, clinical laboratories, and cancer treatment centers within the state to make available to the Texas Board of Health information contained in the medical records of patients who have cancer or specified precancerous or tumorous diseases. It is intended that the product of these efforts will be a central data bank of accurate, precise, and current information regarding the subject diseases which medical authorities agree would serve as an invaluable tool in their early recognition, prevention, cure, or control.

(1) "Board" means the Texas Board of Health.

(2) "Department" means the Texas Department of Health.

(3) "Cancer" includes a large group of diseases characterized by uncontrolled growth and spread

Board of Directors

Sec. 4. (a) The Authority shall be governed by a Board of Directors consisting of not less than seven (7) nor more than eleven (11) members to be determined at the time of creating the Authority. Unless otherwise provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds or the Trust Indenture securing them, the number of Directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment to the order creating the Authority adopted by the Governing Body of the County, but no decrease in number shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent Director. Except as hereinafter in this Section provided, the first Directors shall be appointed by the Governing Body of the County, and they shall serve until their successors are appointed as hereinafter provided. When the Authority issues its revenue bonds the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or the Trust Indenture securing them may prescribe the method of selecting and the term of office of a majority of the members of the Board. The remaining members of the Board shall be appointed by the Governing Body of the County. The Trust Indenture may also provide that, in the event of default as defined in the Trust Indenture, the Trustee may appoint all of the Directors, in which event the terms of the Directors then in office shall automatically terminate. Unless and until provision is made in the Bond Resolution or Indenture in connection with the issuance of bonds for the appointment by other means of part of the Directors, all of the Directors shall be appointed by the Governing Body of the County for terms not to exceed three (3) years, but the terms of Directors appointed prior to the issuance of the first issue of revenue bonds shall be subject to the exercise of the provision herein made for appointment of a majority of the members of the Board in connection with the issuance of the bonds. No officer or employee of any such County shall be eligible for appointment as a Director. Directors shall not receive compensation for services but shall be entitled to reimbursement of their expenses incurred in performing such service.

(b) In the event the Authority purchases from a nonprofit corporation a hospital then in existence or in process of construction, the first members of the Board of Directors and their successors shall be determined as provided in the contract of purchase.

Sec. 5. The Board of Directors shall elect from among their members a president and vice president, and shall elect a secretary and a treasurer who may or may not be Directors, and may elect such other officers as may be authorized by Authority's bylaws. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be combined. The president shall have the same right to vote on all matters as other members of the Board. A majority of the members of the Board shall constitute a quorum and when a quorum is present action may be taken by a majority vote of Directors present. If the bylaws so provide, the Board of Directors, by resolution adopted by a majority of the Directors in office, may designate one or more committees, which, to the extent and in the manner provided in such resolution or in the bylaws, shall have and exercise the authority of the Board of Directors in the management of the Authority. Each such committee shall consist of two or more persons who are directors and may have additional non-voting members who, if such resolution or the bylaws so provide, need not be directors. The Board of Directors may not, however, provide for the delegation to such committees of the Authority of the power to issue bonds, enter into or amend a lease of a Hospital or a management agreement with respect to a Hospital or to employ or discharge a manager or an executive director. The Board may employ a manager or executive director of the Hospital and such other employees, experts and agents as it may see fit, or enter into a management agreement with any person and it may delegate to the manager the power to manage the Hospital and to employ and discharge employees. The Board may lease the Hospital as otherwise provided by law and may employ legal counsel.

Construction, Operation and Equipment of Hospitals;
Location; Sale of Real Property

Sec. 6. (a) The Authority shall have the power to construct, enlarge, furnish and equip Hospitals, purchase existing Hospitals, furnishings and equipment for its Hospitals, and to operate and maintain Hospitals. A Hospital must be located within the County creating the Authority.

(b) The Board may sell real property acquired by donation, gift, or purchase that the Board determines is not needed for Hospital purposes if the sale does not contravene (1) a trust indenture or bond resolution relating to outstanding bonds of the Authority or (2) any agreement entered into either prior to or after the effective date of this Section 6(b) between the Authority and a nonprofit corporation under the provisions of the Hospital Project Financing Act (Article 4437e-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The Board shall sell the property through sealed bids or at a public auction. If the Board conducts the sale by sealed bids, the Board shall provide notice of the sale in the manner provided by Chapter 455, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 5421c-12, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). If the Board conducts the sale by public auction, the Board shall publish notice of the sale, including a description of the property and the date, time, and place of the auction in a newspaper with general circulation in the County creating the Authority once a week for three consecutive weeks, the first notice to appear at least 20 days before the auction. Nothing in this Section 6(b) is intended to affect or amend the powers granted to the Authority by the Hospital Project Financing Act (Article 4437e-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Revenue Bonds

Sec. 7. The Authority may issue revenue bonds to provide funds for any of its purposes. Such bonds shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of all or any part of the revenues to be derived from the operation of the Hospital or Hospitals and any other revenues resulting from the ownership of the Hospital properties. The bonds may be additionally secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on real property of Authority or by a chattel mortgage on its personal property, or by both.

Content of Bonds; Maturity

Sec. 8. The bonds shall be authorized by resolution adopted by a majority vote of a quorum of the Board of Directors, and shall be signed by the president or vice president and countersigned by the secretary, or either or both of their facsimile signatures may be printed thereon. The seal of the Authority shall be impressed or printed thereon. The bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years and may be sold at a price and under terms determined by the Board of Directors to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, provided that the net effective interest rate as defined by law in Article 717k-2 does not exceed ten per cent (10%) per annum, and within the discretion of the Board, may be made callable prior to maturity at such times and prices as may be prescribed in the resolution authorizing the bonds, and may be made registrable as to principal or as to both principal and interest.

Junior Lien Bonds; Parity Bonds

Sec. 10. Bonds constituting a junior lien on the revenues or properties may be issued unless prohibited by the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture. Parity bonds may be issued under conditions specified in the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture.

Money Set Aside Out of Bond Sale Proceeds

Sec. 11. Money for the payment of not more than two (2) years' interest on the bonds and an amount estimated by the Board to be required for operating expenses during the first year of operation and an amount to fund any bond reserve fund or other reserve funds provided for in the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture may be set aside for those purposes out of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds.

Refunding Outstanding Bonds

Sec. 12. Bonds may be issued for the purpose of refunding outstanding bonds in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds, and may be exchanged by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas or sold and the proceeds applied in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Chapter 503, Acts of the Fifty-fourth Legislature¹ or other applicable law.

In the event the Hospital is being used, operated, or acquired by a nonprofit corporation under the provisions of the Hospital Project Financing Act (Article 4437e-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) or leased, it shall be the duty of the Board of Directors to provide that such nonprofit corporation or the lessee shall charge sufficient rates for services rendered by the Hospital which together with other sources of such nonprofit corporation's or the lessee's revenues will produce revenues sufficient to enable such nonprofit corporation or the lessee to pay all expenses in connection with the operation and upkeep of the Hospital and to make payments or to pay lease rentals to the Authority which will be sufficient, when taken with other pledged sources of the Authority's estimated revenues, to pay the interest on the bonds as it becomes due, to create a sinking fund to pay the bonds as they become due, and to create and maintain a bond reserve fund and other funds as provided in the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture. The Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture may prescribe systems, methods, routines, procedures, and policies under or in accordance with which the Hospital shall be operated, and in the event the Hospital is being used, operated, or acquired by a nonprofit corporation or leased, the Authority may delegate to such nonprofit corporation or the lessee the duty to establish the systems, methods, routines, procedures, and policies under or in accordance with which the Hospital shall be operated.

The Bond Resolution or the Indenture or both may further restrict the making of such investments. In addition to other powers Authority shall have the right to invest the proceeds of its bonds, until such money is needed, in the manner authorized in the Bond Resolution or Indenture, and the proceeds of its bond may be deposited in such banks and may be paid out pursuant to such terms as may be provided in the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture.

Repeal

Section 2 of this article is repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 2329, ch. 841, § 6(a)(1), effective January 1, 1982, § 1 of which enacts the Property Tax Code, constituting Title 1 of the Tax Code.

Art. 4494r-5. Payment of Current Operating Expenses of County-Wide Hospital District in Counties of 1,000,000 or More

Applicability of Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to counties now or hereafter containing a population of 1,000,000 or more according to the last preceding federal census, wherein there exists a county-wide hospital district whose taxes are levied and collected by the commissioners court and which has teaching hospital facilities that are affiliated with a state-owned medical school, such counties hereinafter referred to as "authorized counties."

Revenue Anticipation Agreements Authorized

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of any authorized county is hereby authorized to enter into and execute with any bank or banks or other corporations, partnerships, persons, financial institutions, or lending institutions revenue anticipation agreements in accordance with this Act.

Advances and Repayments: Revenue Anticipation Agreements

Sec. 3. Upon a finding and determination by the commissioners court of an authorized county that the projected revenues and tax collections of and for the hospital district will not be received by the district at the times necessary to pay when due the district's operating and maintenance expenses, the commissioners court may execute a revenue anticipation agreement by which the other contracting party (or parties) agrees to advance to the district, and the authorized county and the district agree to repay (from the sources hereinbelow specified), funds necessary for the operation and maintenance of the district's hospital facilities during the term of the revenue anticipation agreement. The revenue anticipation agreement may be upon such terms as the parties may agree, subject to the following limitations:

(a) The term of the revenue anticipation agreement shall not exceed two years.

(b) Advances made to the district during the term of the agreement shall not be made more frequently than once each month and each shall not be greater in amount than the difference between (i) the accumulated and unpaid operating and maintenance expenses of the district, and (ii) the revenues and income of the district, including tax revenues, actually received by the district to the date of the advance and lawfully available for the purpose of paying such expenses. The party or parties making the advances may conclusively rely on certifications made by authorized officers of the district as to the facts specified in this subsection.

(c) The advances under the revenue anticipation agreement may bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding the rate permitted by law for revenue bonds of the district, shall mature and become due and payable on a date not later than the last day of the term of the revenue anticipation agreement, shall be subject to prepayment without penalty at any time before their maturity date, and they shall not be refunded or in any manner refinanced or extended. The agreement may provide that the rates or rate of interest on the advances may be determined at the time made by reference to such determinative factors and formulae as the parties may agree.

(d) If, in any month during the term of the agreement while advances are outstanding, revenues, including tax revenues, are received and are not required to pay and are not lawfully committed to the payment of other obligations and expenses of the district, the commissioners court shall apply the same upon receipt to the payment or prepayment of any advances at the time outstanding and unpaid under the revenue anticipation agreement, and no advances shall be made under a subsequent revenue anticipation agreement until all advances made under the prior agreement have been paid in full, retired, and canceled.

(e) Advances made under the revenue anticipation agreement shall be and are hereby directed to be secured by and payable, either or both, (1) from a pledge of and lien upon revenues of the district derived from the operation and maintenance of its hospital facilities, and/or (2) from tax revenues when collected, levied for the purpose of operating and maintaining the district's facilities for the year during which the advances are made. Upon default in the payment or repayment of any advances made under the terms of the revenue anticipation agreement when due or when required to be prepaid under the terms of this Act, any district court may be petitioned by mandamus or otherwise to enforce the agreement and prepayment as required by this Act.

Use of Advances

Sec. 4. Funds received from advances made pursuant to revenue anticipation agreements authorized by this Act shall be used solely for the purposes authorized by this Act. However, it shall not be a defense to repayment of advances that the funds have been used for a purpose not authorized hereby. The auditor of the affairs of the hospital district shall concurrently with the regular audit thereof audit the use of said funds and shall certify to the commissioners court whether or not the funds have been used for proper operating and maintenance purposes as authorized hereby.

Bonds or Notes; Ad Valorem Taxes

Sec. 5. (a) The commissioners court of an authorized county is authorized to include in any revenue anticipation agreement provisions pursuant to which the authorized county will agree to execute and deliver, concurrently with the making of advances under the agreement, interest-bearing bonds (which also may be designated as notes) evidencing the obligation of the authorized county and the hospital district to repay the advances made pursuant to the agreement and in accordance therewith and with this Act. Such bonds or notes may be delivered upon such terms and may contain such provisions not inconsistent with Section 3 of this Act as may be prescribed in the revenue anticipation agreement.

(b) The provisions hereof relating to advances shall apply to bonds or notes evidencing the obligation to repay the same issued under this section. It is provided, however, that if such hospital district was created pursuant to the authority granted to the legislature by Article IX, Section 4, of the Texas Constitution and the creation of such hospital district was approved at an election held in such hospital district as required by Article IX, Section 4, of the Texas Constitution or if such hospital district was created pursuant to any other constitutional provision which would permit the levy and pledge of taxes as hereinafter authorized, then regardless of any restrictions in any other law of this state the commissioners court also is authorized in addition to the mandatory security required in Section 3(e) hereof to pay and secure the bonds or notes issued under this section from and by annual ad valorem taxes levied and to be levied on all taxable property in such hospital district, and such annual ad valorem taxes may be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds or notes to the extent required therein and in the agreement. If such annual ad valorem taxes are thus pledged it shall be the duty of the commissioners court annually to levy a tax on all taxable property in the hospital district sufficient or to the extent necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds or notes when due, but the rate of the tax, if any, for each year may be fixed after giving consideration to the amount of money estimated to be received from revenues pledged under Section 3 hereof which may be available for the payment of such principal and interest, all to the extent and in the manner provided in the revenue anticipation agreement, but provided further that such annual ad valorem tax together with all other annual ad valorem taxes levied in the hospital district shall never exceed a maximum annual rate of 75 cents on the $100 valuation of all taxable property within such hospital district. Further, if such annual ad valorem taxes are thus pledged, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court during each year while any of the bonds or notes or interest thereon is outstanding and unpaid to compute and ascertain a rate and amount of ad valorem tax, if any, which will be sufficient to raise and produce the money required to make the aforesaid payment to the extent required; and said tax shall be based on the latest approved tax rolls of such hospital district, with full allowance being made for tax delinquencies and the cost of tax collection. Said rate and amount of ad valorem tax shall be levied and ordered to be levied subject to the maximum limitation prescribed above against all taxable property in such hospital district for each year while any of the bonds or notes or interest thereon are outstanding and unpaid; and said tax shall be assessed and collected each such year and used for such purpose to the extent so required.

(c) Upon the issuance, sale, and delivery of bonds or notes under the authority of this section, such bonds or notes shall be incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms and conditions for all purposes. Such bonds or notes shall constitute "investment securities" under the Uniform Commercial Code of Texas. Any such bonds or notes shall be legal and authorized security for public funds of this state and its political subdivisions and shall be legal and authorized investments by all banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies of all types.

Cumulative Effect; Conflicting Provisions

Sec. 6. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the execution of revenue anticipation agreements and the issuance of bonds or notes to evidence obligations to repay advances made thereunder and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereby without reference to any other laws or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided; and when any bonds are being issued pursuant to the authority of this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provisions of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control.

Annual Registration Renewal

Sec. 8. It shall be unlawful for any person who shall be licensed for the practice of chiropractic by the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners as created by this Act, unless such person be registered as such practitioner with the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners on or before the first day of January A.D. 1950, or thereafter registered in like manner annually as provided by this Act on or before the first day of January each year to practice chiropractic in this State. Each person so licensed and registered shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements and prerequisites of the laws governing the practice of chiropractic in this State. Each person so registered with the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners shall pay in connection with each annual registration and for the receipt hereafter provided for, a fee fixed by the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners not to exceed Fifty Dollars ($50), which fee shall accompany the application of every such person for registration. Such payment shall be made to the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners. Every person so registered shall file with said Board a written application for annual registration, setting forth his full name, his age, post office address, his place of residence, the county or counties in which his certificate entitling him to practice chiropractic has been registered, and the place or places where he is engaged in the practice of chiropractic, as well as the college of chiropractic from which he graduated, and the number and date of his license certificate. Upon receipt of such application, accompanied by the registration fee, the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners, after ascertaining either from the records of the Board or from other sources deemed by it to be reliable, that the applicant is a licensed practitioner of chiropractic in this State, shall issue to the applicant an annual registration receipt certifying that the applicant has filed such application and has paid the registration fee mentioned for the year in question; provided, that the filing of such application, the payment of the registration fee and the issuance of such receipt shall not entitle the holder thereof to lawfully practice chiropractic within the State of Texas unless he has in fact been previously licensed as such chiropractor by the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners, as prescribed by law, and has recorded his license certificate entitling him to practice, as issued by said Board, in the district clerk's office of the several counties in which the same may be required by law to be recorded, and unless his license to practice chiropractic is in full force and effect; and provided further that, in any prosecution for the unlawful practice of chiropractic as denounced in Section 6 hereof, such receipt showing payment of the annual registration fee required by this Section shall not be treated as evidence that the holder thereof is lawfully entitled to practice chiropractic.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 8a to 9]

Examination of Applicants for License; Persons Practicing or Beginning Study Before Date of Act

Sec. 10. All applicants for license to practice chiropractic in this State, not otherwise licensed under the provisions of this law, must successfully pass an examination by the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners established by this law. The Board is authorized to adopt and enforce rules of procedure not inconsistent with the statutory requirements.

All applicants shall be eligible for examination who are citizens of the United States and present satisfactory evidence to the Board that they are more than twenty-one (21) years of age, of good moral character, have completed sixty (60) semester hours of college courses, other than a chiropractic school, and are graduates of bona fide reputable chiropractic schools (whose entrance requirements and course of instruction are as high as those of the better class of chiropractic schools in the United States); a reputable chiropractic school shall maintain a resident course of instruction equivalent to not less than four (4) terms of eight (8) months each, or a resident course of not less than the number of semester hours required by The University of Texas for the granting of a Bachelor of Arts degree; shall give a course of instruction in the fundamental subjects named in Section 12 of this Act; and shall have the necessary teaching force and facilities for proper instruction in all of said subjects. Applications for examination must be made in writing, verified by affidavit, and filed with the secretary of the Board, on forms prescribed by the Board, accompanied by a fee of Fifty Dollars ($50). All applicants shall be given due notice of the date and place of such examination.

The Board shall grant a license without a written examination to an applicant that holds a National Board of Chiropractic Examiners certificate who meets the requirements of this chapter and who has satisfactorily passed a personal interview and a practical examination and has paid an additional fee of Fifty Dollars ($50). The Board shall periodically determine to its satisfaction whether those applicants who hold National Board of Chiropractic Examiners certificates have been adequately examined. When the Board determines that those applicants have not been adequately examined, the Board shall require those applicants to be examined in accordance with other provisions of this Act.

If any applicant, because of failure to pass the required examination, shall be refused a license, he or she, at such time as the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners may fix, not exceeding one (1) year, shall be permitted to take a subsequent examination, upon such subjects required in the original examination as the Board may prescribe except that the applicant shall not be required to take a re-examination on subjects in which he has made a grade of seventy-five per cent (75%) or more, provided the applicant shall apply for re-examination within one (1) year upon the payment of such part of Fifty Dollars ($50) as the Board may determine and state. In the event satisfactory grades shall be made in the subjects prescribed and taken on such re-examination, the Board shall grant to the applicant a license to practice chiropractic. The Board shall determine the grade to be given the examinees on the answers turned in on the subjects of complete and partial examination, and its decision thereupon shall be final.

Provided, however, that those who are regularly engaged in the practice of chiropractic in this State on April 18, 1949, and who have completed a resident course and hold diplomas from schools recognized by the Board as being regularly organized and conducted as chiropractic schools at the time of the issuance of such diplomas, shall be licensed under this Act, provided they apply therefor within six (6) months after the effective date of this Act, and provided further that they shall meet the provisions of this Act with reference to citizenship, age, and good moral character; and

Provided that those who have begun the study of chiropractic prior to the effective date of this Act in institutions regularly organized and conducted as chiropractic schools shall be licensed under this Act, provided they complete a standard chiropractic resident course of one hundred and twenty (120) semester hours in such school or schools and receive diplomas therefrom; and provided further that they shall meet the provisions of this Act with reference to citizenship, age, and good moral character.

The Board may not establish examination requirements for a license in addition to the requirements provided in this section.

Conduct of Examinations; Subjects

Sec. 12. All examinations for license to practice chiropractic shall be conducted in writing in the English language and in such manner as to be entirely fair and impartial to all applicants. All applicants shall be known to the examiners only by numbers, without names or other method of identification on examination papers by which members of the Board may be able to identify such applicants, or examinees, until after the general averages of the examinees' numbers in the class have been determined, and license granted or refused. Examinations shall be conducted on practical and theoretical chiropractic and in the subjects of anatomy-histology, chemistry, bacteriology, physiology, symptomatology, pathology and analysis of the human spine, and hygiene and public health. Upon satisfactory examination, conducted as aforesaid under the rules of the Board, which shall consist of an average grade of not less than seventy-five per cent (75%) with not less than sixty per cent (60%) in any one subject, applicants shall be granted license to practice chiropractic. All questions and answers, with the grades attached, authenticated by the signature of the examiner, shall be preserved in the executive office of the Board for one (1) year. When personal service is impossible, or cannot be effected, the Board shall cause to be published once a week for two (2) successive weeks a notice of the hearing in a newspaper published in the county wherein the respondent was last known to live, and shall mail a copy of the charges and of such notice to the respondent at his last known address. When publication of the notice is necessary, the date of hearing shall not be less than ten (10) days after the date of the last publication of the notice. At said hearing the respondent shall have the right to appear either personally or by counsel, or both, to produce witnesses or evidence in his behalf, to cross-examine witnesses, and to have subpoenas issued by the Board. Any person whose license or certification has been cancelled, revoked or suspended by the Board, or whose license or certification the Board has refused to renew for any reason, including the person's refusal to submit to a physical or mental examination requested by the Board, may, within twenty (20) days after the making and entering of such order, take an appeal to any of the district courts in the county of his residence, but the decision of the Board shall not be enjoined or stayed except on application to such district court after notice to the Board. The proceeding on appeal shall be under the substantial evidence rule, and which appeal shall be taken in any District Court of the county in which the person whose certificate of registration or license is involved resides. Upon application, the Board may recertify the applicant or reissue a license to a person whose license has been cancelled or suspended, but such application, in the case of cancellation or revocation, shall not be made prior to one (1) year after the cancellation or revocation and shall be made in such manner and form as the Board may require.

The Board, at the time of probation, shall set out the period of time which shall constitute the probationary period. Provided further, that the Board may at any time while the probationer remains on probation hold a hearing, and upon majority vote, rescind the probation and enforce the Board's original action in revoking, cancelling, or suspending the psychologists' license or certification, the said hearing to rescind the probation shall be called by the Chairman of the Texas State Board of Examiners of Psychologists who shall cause to be issued a notice setting a time and place for the hearing and containing the charges or complaints against the probationer, said notice to be served on the probationer or his counsel at least ten (10) days prior to the time set for the hearing. When personal service is impossible, or cannot be effected, the same provisions for service in lieu of personal service as heretofore set out in this Act shall apply. At said hearing the respondent shall have the right to appear either personally or by counsel or both, to produce witnesses or evidence in his behalf, to cross-examine witnesses, and to have subpoenas issued by the Board. The Board shall thereupon determine the charges upon their merits. All charges, complaints, notices, orders, records, and publications authorized or required by the terms of this Act shall be privileged. The order revoking or rescinding the probation shall not be subject to review or appeal.

Enforcement of Competency Requirements

Sec. 24A. (a) If the Board reasonably believes that a person applying to take the certification examination, or applying for renewal of certification, is not physically and mentally competent to render psychological services with reasonable skill and safety to his patients, or is afflicted with a disease or condition, either physical or mental, which would impair his competency to render psychological services, the Board may request that that person submit to a physical examination by a medical doctor approved by the Board or submit to a mental examination by a medical doctor or licensed psychologist approved by the Board.

(b) If the applicant or person seeking renewal of certification refuses to submit to the examination, the Board shall issue an order requiring that person to show cause for his refusal and shall schedule a hearing on the order within thirty (30) days after notice is served on the person who has refused to submit to the examination. Notice shall be given either by personal service or by registered mail return receipt requested. At the hearing the person may appear personally and by counsel and present evidence in justification of his refusal to submit to the examination. After a complete hearing the Board shall issue an order either requiring the person to submit to the examination or withdrawing the request for the examination. Unless the request is withdrawn the person who has refused to take the examination may not take the certification examination, and is not entitled to renewal of his certification. An appeal from the order of the Board may be made under Section 23 of this Act.

Contents of the Rules

Sec. 12. The board is authorized to adopt rules and regulations, subject to the approval of the State Board of Health, relating to the professional behavior and ethics of the social psychotherapy profession and the qualifications and licensing of social psychotherapists, consistent with the protection of the health and general welfare of the people.

Qualification of Applicant for Examination for Licensing

Sec. 13. An applicant is qualified to take the examination for licensing as a social psychotherapist if

(1) he presents evidence of having received a master's degree based on a program of studies whose content was designed to develop skill and competence in the use of psychotherapeutic treatment methods with the degree being from a graduate school accredited by the Council on Social Work Education or from a graduate school equivalent in both subject matter and extent of training for social psychotherapists which meets accreditation requirements of the board;

(2) he has at least two years of full-time experience acceptable to the board subsequent to the granting of the master's degree in the use of psychotherapeutic methods under the supervision of a licensed social psychotherapist or a person qualified to become licensed under this Act, except that if the applicant works in a geographical area where no licensed social psychotherapist is available to provide the supervision, he shall have two years of full-time experience subsequent to the granting of the master's degree acceptable to the board in the use of psychotherapeutic methods under the supervision of a licensed psychologist or a board certified psychiatrist;

(3) he is at least 21 years of age;

(4) he is a resident of this state; and

(5) he is of good moral character.

Applications

Sec. 14. Application for examination for the social psychotherapy licensure shall be on the forms prescribed by the board. The board may require that the application be verified. The licensing fee shall accompany the application.

Evaluation of Experience

Sec. 15. In determining the acceptability of the applicant's professional experience, the board may require documentary evidence of the quality, scope, and nature of the applicant's experience the board deems necessary.

Examinations

Sec. 16. The department shall administer examinations to qualified applicants for licensure at least once a year. The board, with the approval of the State Board of Health, shall determine the subject matter, scope, and necessary scores for successful completion of the examinations. Written examinations may be supplemented by oral examinations. An applicant who fails his examination may be reexamined at a subsequent examination on payment of another examination fee. An applicant who fails his written examination has the right to review this examination and to have a full hearing.

Licensing

Sec. 17. (a) A qualified applicant for licensing who has successfully passed the examination prescribed by the board and has paid the licensing fee may be issued a license to hold himself forth as a social psychotherapist by the board.

(b) Until August 31, 1976, a person meeting the requirements of Section 13 of this Act and possessing the equivalent of the education and training requirements of that section as determined by the board, shall be issued a license on application.

(c) The board may, on application and payment of the licensing fee, license as a social psychotherapist a person who is licensed to practice social psychotherapy by another state, territory, or possession of the United States if the requirements of that state, territory, or possession for the license are the substantial equivalent of the requirements of this Act as determined by the board.

Licenses

Sec. 18. (a) The board shall issue a license to each person whom it licenses as a social psychotherapist. The license shall show the full name of the social psychotherapist and his address and shall bear a serial number. The license shall be signed by the chairman and the secretary of the board under the seal of the board.

(b) Licenses must be renewed at least once every two years. Licenses expire on August 31 and are invalid thereafter unless renewed.

(1) pay the renewal fee for the license; and

(2) if the board requires, give evidence that the social psychotherapist has participated in continuing education courses acceptable to the board toward the furthering of his professional development as a social psychotherapist.

(d) The board shall notify every person licensed under this Act of the amount of the renewal fee. This notice shall be mailed at least 60 days before the expiration of the license. Renewal may be made at any time during the months of July or August on application therefor by meeting the renewal requirements provided for in this Act. Failure to pay the renewal fee prior to September 1 shall not deprive a social psychotherapist of his right to renew his license, but the fee to be paid for renewal after August 31 shall be increased by 50 percent of the regular renewal fee.

Exemptions

Sec. 19. Nothing in this Act restricts the activities of the following; provided, however, no person shall state or imply that he is a "social psychotherapist" or use the letters "S.P." as part of his professional identification in conjunction with his name unless he is licensed under the provisions of this Act:

(1) a licensed physician, licensed psychologist, licensed attorney, social worker, lecturer, duly ordained priest, rabbi, minister of the gospel, Christian Science practitioner, or other licensed professional or ordained religious practitioner;

(2) a person who is performing activities of a psychotherapeutic nature, provided that he is performing those activities as part of the duties for which he is employed or under contract, and the activities are performed solely within the confines or under the control and supervision of one exempt under Section 19(1) of this Act or the jurisdiction of the organization in which he is employed or under contract, and provided that he does not state or imply that he is licensed to practice social psychotherapy, and provided that he may not offer to engage in the practice of social psychotherapy to the public for a fee, monetary or otherwise, over and above the salary or fee he receives for the performance of his official duties with the organization in which he is employed, or under contract, unless he is licensed under this Act;

(3) a person engaging in activities of a psychotherapeutic nature who is employed by accredited academic institutions, public schools, government agencies, or nonprofit institutions engaged in the training of graduate students or interns pursuing the course of study leading to a master's degree from a school accredited by the Council on Social Work Education, or working in a recognized training program, provided that these activities constitute a part of a supervised course of study and that the student is designated by a title such as social psychotherapy intern, social psychotherapy trainee, or other title clearly indicating the training status appropriate to his level of training; or

(4) a person from another state offering social psychotherapeutic services in this state; provided the services are performed for no more than five days in a calendar month, except that if the person meets the qualifications and requirements provided in this Act and resides in a state or territory of the United States, or foreign country, or province that does not grant a certification or license to practice social psychotherapy, he may offer social psychotherapeutic services in this state for a total of not more than 30 days in any calendar year without being licensed under this Act.

Revocation, Cancellation, or Suspension of License

Sec. 20. (a) The Texas State Board of Examiners in Social Psychotherapy may cancel, revoke, or suspend the license of any social psychotherapist on proof that the social psychotherapist:

(1) has been convicted of a felony or of a violation of the law involving moral turpitude by any court; or

(2) has the habit of intemperance or drug addiction such as the use of morphine, opium, cocaine, or other drugs having similar effects; or

(3) has been guilty of fraud or deceit in connection with his services rendered as a social psychotherapist or in connection with application for license renewal; or

(4) has aided or abetted a person, not a licensed social psychotherapist, in representing himself as a social psychotherapist within this state; or

(5) has been guilty of unprofessional conduct as defined by the rules established by the board; or

(6) for any cause for which the board shall be authorized to refuse to admit persons to its examination.

(b) Proceedings under this section shall be begun by filing charges with the Texas State Board of Examiners in Social Psychotherapy in writing and under oath. The charges may be made by any person. The chairman of the board shall set a time and place for hearing and shall cause a copy of the charges, together with a notice of the time and place fixed for hearing, to be served on the respondent or his counsel at least 30 days prior to the hearing date. When personal service is impossible, the board shall cause to be published, once a week for two successive weeks, a notice of the hearing in a newspaper published in the county wherein the respondent was last known to live and shall mail a copy of the charges and of such notice to the respondent at his last known address. When publication of the notice is necessary, the date of the hearing shall not be less than 30 days after the date of the last publication of the notice. At the hearing the respondent has the right to appear either personally, by counsel, or both, to produce witnesses or evidence in his behalf, to cross-examine witnesses, and to have subpoenas issued by the board. The board shall thereupon determine the charges on their merits. All charges, complaints, notices, orders, records, and publications authorized or required by the terms of this Act are privileged.

(c) A person whose license has been cancelled, revoked, or suspended by the board may, within 30 days after the making and entering of the order, appeal to a district court in the county of his residence, but the decision of the board may be enjoined or stayed only on application to the district court after notice to the board. The proceeding on appeal is tried according to the substantial evidence rule, and the appeal shall be taken in a district court of the county in which the person whose license is involved resides. On application, the board may reissue a license to a person whose license has been cancelled or suspended, but the application may not be made until one year after the cancellation or revocation and shall be made in the manner and form as the board requires.

(d) The board may, by a majority vote, rule that the order revoking, cancelling, or suspending the social psychotherapist's license be probated so long as the probationer conforms to the orders and rules the board may set out as the terms of probation. The board, at the time of probation, shall set out the period of time that shall constitute the probationary period.

(e) The board may at any time, while the probationer remains on probation, hold a hearing and by majority vote rescind the probation and enforce the board's original action in revoking, cancelling, or suspending the social psychotherapist's license. The hearing to rescind the probation shall be called by the chairman of the board who shall cause to be issued a notice setting the time and place for the hearing and containing the charges or complaints against the probationer, said notice to be served on the probationer or his counsel at least 30 days prior to the time set for the hearing. When personal service is impossible, the same provisions for service of process by publication in lieu of personal service as set out in Subsection (b) of this section apply. At the hearing the probationer has the right to appear either personally, by counsel, or both, to produce witnesses or evidence in his behalf, to cross-examine witnesses, and to have subpoenas issued by the board. The board shall determine the charges on the merits. All charges, complaints, notices, orders, records, and publications authorized or required by the terms of this Act are privileged. The order revoking or rescinding the probation is not subject to review or appeal.

Injunctions

Sec. 21. The department may institute an action to enjoin the violation of any provisions of this Act. The action is in addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy provided by law. The board shall be represented by the attorney general or a county or district attorney of this state.

(c) No person may represent himself as a social psychotherapist, or use the letters "S.P." as part of his professional identification in conjunction with his name, unless he is licensed under the provisions of this Act.

(d) No person licensed under the provisions of this Act may violate a rule or regulation promulgated by the Texas State Board of Examiners in Social Psychotherapy.

Penalties

Sec. 23. A person who violates a provision of this Act, or a rule or regulation or other order of the board, is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each day of violation.

Enforcement

Sec. 24. (a) When it appears that a person has violated or is violating or is threatening to violate any provision of this Act or any rule, regulation, or order of the board, then the board, or the executive secretary when duly authorized by the department, may cause a civil suit to be instituted in a district court for injunctive relief to restrain the person from continuing the violation or threat of violation or for the assessment and recovery of a civil penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each day of violation, as the court may deem proper, or for both injunctive relief and civil penalty. On application for injunctive relief and a finding that a person is violating or threatening to violate any provision of this Act or any rule, regulation, variance, or order of the board, the district court may grant the injunctive relief the facts warrant.

(b) At the request of the board, or the executive secretary when authorized by the department, the attorney general shall institute and conduct a suit in the name of the State of Texas for injunctive relief or to recover the civil penalty, or for both injunctive relief and penalty, as authorized in Subsection (a) of this section.

Revenue, Receipts, and Disbursements

Sec. 25. The State Department of Health shall receive and account for all money derived under this Act and shall pay the money weekly to the state treasurer who shall keep it in a separate fund to be known as the "Social Psychotherapist's Licensure Fund." The State Department of Health may make expenditures from this fund for any purpose which is reasonably necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act. The State Department of Health may impose examination, license, and renewal fees, in an amount fixed by the State Department of Health. The State Department of Health shall fix the amount of the fees sufficient to meet the expenses of administering this Act without unnecessary surpluses. Surpluses, if any, are reserved for the use of the State Department of Health in this program.

Annual Report of the Board

Sec. 26. Within 90 days after the close of each fiscal year, the board shall submit a report to the governor and the presiding officer of each house of the legislature concerning the work of the board during the preceding fiscal year.

Appropriation

Sec. 27. For the biennium ending August 31, 1977, the funds received in the Social Psychotherapist's Licensure Fund are appropriated to the State Department of Health to be expended by it in the administration of this Act. The salaries paid to persons employed by the State Department of Health shall be comparable to those prescribed in the general appropriations act for persons holding comparable positions. To the extent applicable, the general rules of the general appropriations act apply to the expenditure of funds under this appropriation. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2286, ch. 714, §§ 1 to 27, eff. Art. 4525. Disciplinary Proceedings

(a) The board of nurse examiners may refuse to admit persons to its examinations, may refuse to issue a license or certificate of registration or to issue a certificate of re-registration, may refuse to issue a temporary permit, may issue a warning or reprimand, may suspend for any period not to exceed 2 years, or may revoke the license or certificate of any practitioner of professional nursing, for any of the following reasons:

(1) The violation, or attempted violation, of any of the provisions of this law, any rule, regulation not inconsistent with this law, or order issued hereunder.

(2) Is guilty of fraud or deceit in procuring or attempting to procure a license to practice professional nursing.

(3) Conviction of a crime of the grade of felony, or a crime of lesser grade which involves moral turpitude.

(8) Intemperate use of alcohol or drugs if the nurse knows or should know that the effects of that use endangers or could endanger patients. Intemperate use includes but is not limited to practicing professional nursing or being on duty or call while under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

(9) Unprofessional or dishonorable conduct which, in the opinion of the board, is likely to injure the public.

(10) Adjudication of mental incompetency.

(11) Lack of fitness to practice by reason of mental or physical health or otherwise.

The board shall make such preliminary investigation of the charges as it deems necessary and may issue a warning or reprimand to the person charged. If the disciplinary proceedings under Subsection (a) of this Article are contemplated or, in any event, if the person charged so requests, a hearing shall follow. The president of the board shall set a time and place for hearing and shall cause a copy of the charges together with a notice of time and place fixed for the hearing to be served on the person charged at least 10 days prior thereto. Notice shall be sufficient if sent by registered or certified mail to the person charged at the address shown on his or her most recent application for certificate of registration or re-registration. (c) Any person whose license or certificate to practice professional nursing has been revoked or suspended by the board or who has been otherwise disciplined by the board may, within 30 days after the making and entering of such order, take an appeal to any of the district courts in the county of his residence, but the decision of the board shall not be enjoined or stayed except on application to such district courts after notice to the board. (d) The board shall have the right and may, upon majority vote, rule that the order denying an application for a license or any order revoking, cancelling, or suspending any license be probated so long as the probated practitioner conforms to such orders and rules as the board may set out in the terms of probation. The board, at the time of probation, shall set out the period of time which shall constitute the probationary period; provided further that the board may at any time while the probationer remains on probation hold a hearing and upon majority vote rescind the probation and enforce the board's original action in denying, revoking, cancelling, or suspending such license. The said hearing to rescind the probation shall be called by the president of the board who shall cause to be issued a notice setting the time and place for the hearing and containing the charges or complaints against the probationer, said notice to be served on the probationer or his counsel at least 20 days prior to the time set for the hearing. (e) The board of nurse examiners is charged with the duty of aiding in the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter, and may retain legal counsel to represent the board, but prior to retaining outside legal counsel, the board shall request the attorney general to perform such services and may only retain outside counsel if the attorney general so certifies to the board that the attorney general cannot provide such services. The board shall have the power to issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses, administer oaths to persons giving testimony at hearings, and cause the prosecution of all persons violating any provisions of this chapter. It shall keep a record of all its proceedings and make an annual report to the Governor. Any member of the board may present to a prosecuting officer complaints relating to violations of any of the provisions of this chapter, and the board through its members, officers, counsel, or agents shall assist in the trial of any cases involving alleged violation of this chapter, subject to the control of the prosecuting officers. The Attorney General is directed to render such legal assistance as may be necessary in enforcing and making effective the provisions of this chapter; provided that this shall not relieve the local prosecuting officers of any of their duties under the law as such.

Art. 4526b. Inactive Status List

Any nurse licensed under the provisions of this law, not actively or actually engaged in the practice of professional nursing, at the expiration of any such license upon written request to the board in such form and manner as the board shall determine may be placed on an inactive status list which shall be maintained by the board. No professional nurse on such inactive status list shall perform any professional nursing services or work or violate any of the provisions of this law or any rule or regulation of the board so long as on such inactive status. At any time such person desires to reenter the active practice of professional nursing or again begin performing or offering to perform professional nursing services, such person shall notify the board and upon payment of appropriate fees shall be removed from the inactive status list.

(l) That the holder thereof has been negligent in the performance of dental services which injured or damaged dental patients.

Proceedings to suspend or revoke a dental license on account of any one or more of the causes set forth in this Article shall be taken as follows:

(a) Proceedings before the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners shall be as follows:

All complaints to be considered by the Board shall be made in writing, subscribed and sworn to by the person presenting such complaint, which complaint shall set out the alleged violations of such Statutes and declaring it to be the opinion of the person presenting such complaint that the person or persons so accused have so violated said Statutes.

All complaints as received shall be presented to the Secretary of the Board or an authorized employee of the Board who shall cause copies of all complaints to be made and mailed or delivered to each member of the Board. When a complaint is made by a member of the Board, its agents or employees, the Secretary of the Board shall cause such complaint to be docketed on its records in the name of the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners versus the person against whom such complaint has been made, and shall mail a copy of such docketed complaint by registered mail to the accused person under the jurisdiction of the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners charged with having violated such Statutes. When a complaint is made by others than the members of the Board, its agents or employees, the Board or its duly authorized representative shall cause an investigation of such complaint to be made to determine the facts in such case, and if the facts as determined by such investigation, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Board, justify the docketing of such complaint for hearing before the Board, then the Secretary of the Board shall cause such complaint to be docketed on its records in the name of the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners versus the person against whom such complaint has been made, and shall mail a copy of such docketed complaint by registered mail to the accused person under the jurisdiction of the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners charged with having violated such Statutes.

The Secretary of the Board or its authorized officer or employee shall not less than ten (10) days prior to the next meeting of the Board called for the purpose of hearing and considering such complaint, mail by registered mail to the last known address of such person or persons against whom a complaint has been so docketed a notice of hearing, which notice shall contain the date, time, and place of the meeting of the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners called to consider such complaint, and such notice shall contain the alleged violations of such Statutes, and shall state that such accused person may appear and offer such evidence as is pertinent to his defense to such complaint. Such hearing shall be governed by such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Board, and the Board shall have the authority to subpoena and compel the attendance of such licensees or other persons deemed to have knowledge which would aid the Board in reaching a proper decision and for the enforcement of this Act. After such hearing, the Board shall enter an order in its minutes, as in the opinion of the majority of the Board the facts brought out at such hearing justify and require. Provided, however, that any order revoking or suspending such license or licenses shall be signed by a majority of such Board and by all the members of such Board present at such hearing.

If said Board shall make and enter any order revoking or suspending any license or licenses as hereinabove provided, the person or persons whose license shall have been so revoked or suspended may, within thirty (30) days after the making and entering of such order, take an appeal to the District Court of the County of the residence of the person or persons whose license shall have been so revoked or suspended, by filing an appropriate petition for such purpose. Said cause shall be placed on the docket of said Court in the name of the party or parties filing same, as plaintiff, and the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners, as defendants. It shall be the duty of said Board, upon the filing of a petition asking for an appeal and review of such proceedings of said Board by the person or persons accused, and after citation in such cause has been issued and served as in other civil cases, to prepare and transmit to such District Court upon notice from such Court a transcript of the orders hereinabove provided for, the same to be certified as true and correct by the Secretary of said Board. Such District Court shall thereafter and under the rules of procedure applicable to other civil cases, proceed to set such cause for hearing as in other civil cases. Upon the hearing of such cause, if such Court shall find that the action of such Board, in revoking or suspending such license or licenses is not well taken, such Court shall by appropriate order and judgment set aside such action of said Board; but if such Court or jury shall sustain such action of said Board in revoking or suspending such license or licenses an order shall be made and entered in appropriate form sustaining and affirming the action of such Board; provided, however, that the person or persons whose license shall have been so revoked or suspended may waive the impanelling of a jury, from which order an appeal may be taken to the Court of Civil Appeals, as in other civil causes.

(b) Proceedings before the District Courts of this State shall be as follows:

It shall be the duty of the several District and County Attorneys of this State, on the request of any member of the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners or by complaint presented to any District Court of the State or county in which such alleged offense occurred, to file and prosecute appropriate judicial proceedings in the name of the State against the person or persons alleged to have so violated such Statute. Such complaint shall be made in writing and filed in the District Court of the State or county in which the alleged offense occurred, and such complaint shall distinctly set forth the charges and grounds thereof and shall be subscribed and sworn to. When such complaint is made by any County or District Attorney, as herein provided, it shall be subscribed and sworn to by the prosecutor and shall be filed with the Clerk of the Court. The Court, upon the filing of said complaint, shall order the accused dentist to show cause why his license to practice dentistry in this State shall not be suspended or revoked.

Citation therein shall be issued in the name of the State of Texas and in manner and form as in other cases and the same shall be served upon the defendant at least ten (10) days before the trial date set therein. Upon the return of said citation executed, if the defendant shall appear and deny the charge, the cause shall be docketed for trial and conducted in the name of the State of Texas against the defendant. A jury of twelve (12) men shall be summoned as in cases during term time of the Court when no regular jury is available and as prescribed by law and shall be impanelled unless waived by the defendant, and the cause shall be tried in like manner as in other civil cases. If the said accused dentist be found guilty or shall fail to appear and deny the charge after being cited as aforesaid, the Court may by proper order entered on the minutes, suspend his license for a time or revoke and cancel it entirely and may also give proper judgment of costs, from which order an appeal may be taken to the Court of Civil Appeals as in other civil cases.

Sections 2 and 3 of the 1977 amendatory act provided:

"Sec. 2. All laws or parts of laws in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed.

"Sec. 3. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word in this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance for any reason is held invalid or unconstitutional, such holding shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining portions of this Act, and the legislature hereby declares that it would have passed such remaining portions of this Act despite such invalidity or unconstitutionality of any part or portion thereof."

(a) The board may issue a license to practice podiatry without administering the examination specified in Article 4569, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, to any podiatrist who at the time of applying for a license has accepted an appointment or is serving as a full-time member of the faculty of an educational institution in this state offering an approved or accredited course of study or training leading to a degree in podiatry, who is licensed to practice podiatry in any other state or territory of the United States having requirements for licensing substantially equivalent to those established by the laws of this state, and who otherwise satisfies the requirements of Article 4570, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(b) In this article a course of study, training, or education is considered approved or accredited if it is approved or accredited by the Texas State Board of Podiatry Examiners as constituting a bona fide reputable course of training, study, or education. (e) If the faculty appointment of a podiatrist licensed under this article is terminated, his license issued under this article terminates. However, nothing in this article is to be construed to prohibit the podiatrist from applying for and obtaining a license or in any way affect a license obtained by the podiatrist by complying with Article 4569, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and other applicable laws relating to the practice of podiatry. Art. 4571. Licenses

Annual License Renewal

Sec. 1. (a) The Texas State Board of Podiatry Examiners shall set and may from time to time change the amount of the annual license renewal fee as in the Board's judgment may be needed to provide for the reasonable costs and expenses of the Board in performing its duties and administering this Act, but such annual license renewal fee shall not exceed Fifty Dollars ($50). The annual license renewal fee shall be paid to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board.

(b) The Secretary-Treasurer of the Texas State Board of Podiatry Examiners on or before August first of each year shall notify, by mail, all Texas licensed podiatrists at their last known address that the annual license renewal fee is due on the following September first.

(c) If the annual license renewal fee is not paid on or before the following December first, the delinquent licensee shall be notified by mail at his last known address by the Secretary-Treasurer that such fee is due and unpaid and a delinquent penalty of Twenty Dollars ($20) is assessed and shall be paid on or before the following January first. If such fees are not paid by January first, it shall be the duty of the Texas State Board of Podiatry Examiners to suspend or revoke the license for nonpayment of the annual license renewal and delinquent fees for the current year.

(d) The Board by rule may adopt a system under which licenses expire on various dates during the year, and the dates for sending notice that payment is due and dates of suspension, revocation, and assessment of a penalty for nonpayment shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the license renewal date is changed, license fees payable on September 1 shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On renewal of the license on the new expiration date, the total license renewal fee is payable.

Effect of Practicing Without Renewing License

Sec. 2. Practicing podiatry without an annual renewal certificate for the current year, as provided herein, shall have the same force and effect and be subject to all penalties of practicing podiatry without a license.

Re-Examination If License Revoked

Sec. 3. After the Board has declared a license suspended or revoked for nonpayment of the annual license renewal fee as provided for in this Article, the Board may thereafter in its discretion refuse to reinstate the license or issue a new license until the podiatrist, whose license has been declared suspended or revoked has passed the regular examination for license.

Reissuance of Lost or Amended License

Sec. 4. If any license issued by the Board is lost, destroyed or stolen from the legally qualified and authorized person to whom it was issued, the owner of the license shall report the fact to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board, in an affidavit form. The affidavit shall set forth detailed information as to the loss, destruction or theft, giving dates, place and circumstances. If the owner of a license desires to have an amended license issued to him because of a lawful change in the name or degree designation of the licensee or for any other lawful and sufficient reason, the owner of the license shall make application for such amended license to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board setting forth the reasons the issuance of an amended license is requested. A duplicate or amended license shall be issued upon regular application of the owner of the original license and payment of a fee set by the Board for the duplicate or amended license; however, the Board shall not issue a duplicate or amended license until sufficient evidence by the owner of the original license has been submitted to prove the license has been lost or to establish the lawful reason an amended license should be issued, and unless the records of the Board show a license had been issued and been in full force and effect at the time of such loss, destruction or theft, or such request for an amended license. If an amended license is issued, the original license shall be returned to the Board.

Display of License

Sec. 5. Every person licensed by the State Board of Podiatry Examiners to practice in the state shall conspicuously display both his license and an annual renewal certificate for the current year of practice in the place or office wherein he practices and shall be required to exhibit such license and renewal certificate to a representative of the Board upon such representative's official request for its examination or inspection.

Renewal After Military Service

Sec. 6. Any licensed podiatrist whose license has been suspended or revoked or whose annual renewal certificate has expired while he has been engaged in Federal service or on active duty with the Army of the United States, the United States Navy, the United States Marine Corps, the United States Coast Guard, the United States Air Force, or the United States Maritime Service or the State Militia, called into service or training of the United States of America or in training or education under the supervision of the United States preliminary to induction into the military service, may have his license renewed without paying any lapsed renewal fee or without passing any examination, if, within one (1) year after termination of said service, training or education, other than by dishonorable discharge, he furnishes the State Board of Podiatry Examiners an affidavit to the effect that he has been so engaged and that his service, training or education has been so terminated.

Section 2 of the 1977 amendatory act repealed art. 4571a and § 3 thereof provided:

Art. 4571a. Repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1221, ch. 469, § 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1977

Art. 4574. Compensation and Expenses

Each member of the board shall receive for his services fifty dollars a day and necessary traveling and incidental expenses, while actually engaged in the performance of his official duties; except that no board member may be paid the per diem expenses allowed by this article for more than fifty days in a calendar year. The secretary shall receive his necessary expenses for services actually performed for the board. All printing, postage and other contingent expenses, necessarily incurred in administering this law shall be paid from the fees received by the board, and all expenses shall be itemized, verified, audited and an account kept thereof by the secretary of the board, who shall pay the same out of the fees which accrue to the board.

At least three (3) such licensed members shall be embalmers. Four (4) members must be representatives of the general public who are not regulated under this Act.

(2) The members of said Board shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate for staggered terms of six (6) years. 1. Apprenticeship for embalmer: A license to practice the science of embalming shall not be issued unless and until the applicant therefor has served an apprenticeship period of not less than twelve (12) consecutive months under the personal supervision and instruction of a licensed embalmer and has successfully completed all requirements of apprenticeship. The only exception to this requirement shall be in the case of an applicant under reciprocity.

(a) Any person, eighteen (18) years of age or more, who desires to practice the science of embalming in this state, files application therefor, meets the requirements of the law and this Board, and possesses such qualification to enter into apprenticeship training, may be registered as an apprentice. Apprentice for Funeral Director: The term of apprenticeship for a funeral director's license shall be a period of not less than twelve (12) months, and may be served concurrently with apprenticeship for an embalmer's license; however, apprenticeship must be served in twelve (12) consecutive months. A person desiring to become an apprentice funeral director shall make application to the Board on a form provided by the Board, and if the Board desires, he shall appear before at least one (1) member of the Board, or a designated representative thereof, for approval of his application, subject to review of it by the entire Board. Applicant must be not less than eighteen (18) years of age and have completed the educational requirements prescribed for a funeral director, except an applicant for a funeral director's license may elect to serve apprenticeship therefor in like manner to that of one who has applied for a license to practice the science of embalming, by serving one (1) year of apprenticeship prior to completing a course of study in funeral directing prescribed by the Board and graduating from a school of embalming or college of mortuary science. The application for registration shall be sworn to and accompanied by a fee of not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10). If the application is accepted, applicant will be issued a certificate of apprenticeship registration upon determination by the Board that his qualifications are satisfactory.

(a) An applicant for a funeral director's license and the examination therefor who has not completed one (1) year of apprenticeship prior to graduation from a school of embalming or college of mortuary science shall be admitted to apprenticeship only in the event he shall have attained a grade of 70% or higher on the written and practical examination given by the Board, and the payment of a fee of not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10) therefor, whereupon he shall be registered as an apprentice. Provided, however, applicant must register as an apprentice within six (6) months of such examination.

(b) An apprentice funeral director must report within ten (10) days after the end of each month each separate case with which he has assisted in handling. Each such report shall be certified to by the licensee under whom the apprentice performed the work. Throughout the period of apprenticeship the apprentice shall report on at least one (1) such case each calendar month, within the month. In any month within which he did not assist a funeral director in handling a funeral, a report shall be made to the Board notwithstanding.

(c) During the course of apprenticeship each apprentice shall assist a licensed funeral director in this state to prepare, other than by embalming, and to make final disposition of not less than sixty (60) dead human bodies, six (6) of which bodies the apprentice shall handle after the first six months of the apprenticeship. No more than two (2) apprentices may receive credit for work done on any one body.

3. Annual renewal apprenticeship certificate: Each certificate of apprenticeship issued by the Board to an apprentice embalmer or apprentice funeral director must be renewed on the first day of January of each year and will be renewed upon payment by the apprentice of a renewal fee not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10), provided the apprentice has observed the rules and regulations of the Board with respect to his apprenticeship. Notice shall be mailed, during the month of December each year, to each registered apprentice at his last known address, notifying him that the renewal fee is due. If the renewal fee is not paid on or before the 31st day of January in the year in which it became due, a penalty in the sum of not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10) will be added to the renewal fee of each certificate when paid. Thirty (30) days after the grace period as above provided, if said annual renewal fee and penalty still remain unpaid, it shall be the duty of the Board, acting through its Secretary, to suspend his certificate for nonpayment of the annual renewal fee and to notify such apprentice of such suspension by registered mail, addressed to his last known address. If the said renewal fee and penalty is not then paid within ninety (90) days from the date of such notice of suspension, the Board shall then cancel such certificate. Provided, however, after an apprentice certificate has been cancelled, the apprentice may apply for reinstatement within eighteen (18) months from the date such apprentice certificate was cancelled and the Board may reinstate said apprentice provided he meets all other requirements of the Board. It is provided that the registration fee of any apprentice who is actively engaged in the military service of the United States may be remitted for the duration of such service or for such fees and such time as the Board may deem advisable upon presentation of proper evidence required by the Board.

3a. The board by rule shall adopt a system under which certificates expire on various dates during the year. The date for sending notice that payment is due, the dates of the grace period, the date on which penalty attaches, and the date for suspension due to nonpayment shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the certificate expiration date is changed, certification fees payable on January 1 shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each certificate holder shall pay only that portion of the certification fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the certificate is valid. On renewal of the certificate on the new expiration date the total renewal fee is payable.

4. Notification of the Board upon entry into apprenticeship: When an apprentice enters the employ of a licensed embalmer or funeral director, he shall immediately notify the Board the name and place of business of the licensed embalmer or funeral director whose service he has entered and the name of the funeral director or embalmer under whom he will train, and such notification shall be signed by the embalmer or funeral director in each case. If at any time thereafter such apprentice leaves the employ of the licensed embalmer or funeral director whose services he has entered, the said licensed embalmer or funeral director shall give to such apprentice an affidavit showing the length of time he has served as an apprentice with him and the number of cases handled while so employed; the original of said affidavit shall be filed with the Board and made a matter of record, and a copy shall be furnished to the apprentice. The Board shall furnish report forms to be used by each apprentice.

(a) Any apprentice registration shall be cancelled, and the applicant required to re-register, including paying the required fees, for failure to pass the Board's examination of such apprentice after only part of the apprenticeship has been completed. Provided, however, such applicant shall be given credit for apprenticeship time served under the cancelled license in any new registration.

5. Certificate of Apprenticeship may be suspended or revoked as provided and set forth in Section 3, subsection H.

E. Any person engaged or desiring to engage in the practice of embalming or funeral directing in this state, in connection with the care and disposition of dead human bodies, shall make written application to the Board for a license accompanying same with a fee not to exceed Fifty Dollars ($50). The license or licenses when issued shall be signed by a majority of the Board and shall authorize the licensee to practice the science of embalming and/or funeral directing. All licenses shall be registered in the office of the County Clerk in any county in which the holder thereof resides and practices embalming and/or funeral directing and shall be displayed conspicuously in the place of business. Every licensed embalmer and/or funeral director who desires to continue his practice shall biennially pay to the Secretary of the said Board a fee not to exceed Forty Dollars ($40) for the renewal of each funeral director's license and each embalmer's license. Said license shall become due and payable biennially on the 31st day of May, and the Board will give written notice on or before April 1st, of each year that the license fees are due and payable.

When a licensee under this Act shall fail to pay his biennial registration fee, it shall be the duty of the Board to notify such licensee at his last known address that his biennial registration fee is due and unpaid and that a penalty equal to the amount of the registration fee has been added. If such fee and penalty are not paid within thirty (30) days after notification by regular mail, it shall be the duty of the Board to suspend the license and notify the licensee by certified mail, return receipt requested, of such suspension. Ninety (90) days after the Board shall have declared a license suspended, as provided herein, the license shall be automatically cancelled and the Board may thereafter refuse to reinstate the licensee until the applicant has passed a regular examination for license as provided in this Act. If any license issued under this Act shall be lost or destroyed, the holder of any such license may present his application for duplicate license to the State Board of Morticians, on a form to be prescribed by the Board, together with his affidavit of such loss or destruction, and that he is the same person to whom such license was issued, and such other information concerning its loss or destruction as the State Board of Morticians shall require, and shall, upon payment of a fee not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10), as determined by the Board, be granted a duplicate license. The Board shall adopt rules to carry out the biennial licensing system.

1. Any license that has been cancelled, suspended or lapsed for a period of five (5) years or more may be reinstated only after the applicant shall have passed a written and practical examination by the Board on embalming and/or a written examination on funeral directing.

2. The board by rule shall adopt a system under which licenses expire on various dates during the year. All dates for sending notice regarding payment of fees and dates for license suspension for nonpayment shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the license expiration date is changed, license fees payable on May 31 shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On renewal of the license on the new expiration date, the total license renewal fee is payable.

F. (1) On a reciprocal basis with other states, countries, or territories the Board may issue, without examination, a license to an applicant who has a corresponding certificate or license issued by another state, country, or territory having standards for the license that are at least substantially equivalent to those of this state and who pays a fee of Fifty Dollars ($50). The person's application shall be accompanied by an affidavit made by the President or Secretary of the Board of Mortician Examiners which issued the license, or by a duly constituted registration officer of the state, country, or territory by which the certificate or license was granted, and on which the application for registration in Texas is based, reciting that the accompanying certificate or license has not been cancelled, suspended or revoked, and that the statement of the qualifications made in the application for a license in Texas is true and correct. Applicants for a license under the provisions of this Act shall subscribe to an oath in writing before an officer authorized by law to administer oaths, which shall be a part of such application, stating that the license, certificate, or authority under which the applicant practiced as a funeral director or embalmer in the state, country, or territory from which the applicant removed, was at the time of such removal in full force and effect and not cancelled or suspended or revoked. Said application shall also state that the applicant is the identical person to whom the said certificate, license, or commission was issued, and that no proceeding has been instituted against the applicant for the cancellation, suspension or revocation of such certificate or license in the state, country, or territory in which the same was issued; and that no prosecution is pending against the applicant in any state or federal court for any offense which, under the laws of the State of Texas, is a felony, or is a misdemeanor related to the practice of embalming or funeral directing.

(2) Licenses granted under this subsection shall be on the following basis: Before a license is granted, the applicant shall receive a temporary permit good for one (1) year from date of issuance by the Board. At the end of one (1) year, the holder of said temporary permit shall again be considered by the Board, and if his application for license has been maintained and he meets all other requirements, the Board may grant said applicant a license.

Provided, however, that any person arranging for funeral services on merchandise may satisfy the itemization requirements of this Subsection H(23) by providing prices to the purchaser on a component or unit pricing basis that provides a discount to the purchaser if any component or unit is declined or if all components or units are selected. D. 1. The Board may initiate formal complaint or other action against a funeral establishment or in regard to the license of a funeral establishment only upon the following grounds:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 1(a) to (e)]

2. As to asserted violations of provisions of this Section, the Board shall have the following powers, rights and duties:

(a) The Board may, in any case, require a sworn statement setting forth matter complained of as a condition to taking further action.

(b) The Board shall cause an investigation to be made whenever a complaint is filed with or by the Board.

(c) As to the licenses of funeral establishments, except when the accused admits a violation and agrees in writing to a judgment of the Board suspending or revoking the license in question or placing the accused on probation, the Board shall have no power or authority to suspend or revoke the license of the accused. However, the Board shall have the right to initiate a civil action in a District Court in the county in which the accused resides for the purpose of seeking a revocation or suspension of such license or probationary action or fine all as hereinafter provided.

If the Board shall be of the opinion that the license of the accused should be revoked or suspended for a period not to exceed three years, and if the accused will accept a decision of the Board to such effect, it shall prepare a formal judgment and submit the same to him; and upon his agreement to its entry, evidenced by memorandum in writing signed and acknowledged by him, the Board shall enter judgment accordingly and the same shall have the force and effect of a judgment of the District Court of the county of the residence of the accused. A copy of the judgment, together with a copy of the complaint, shall be mailed to the clerk of the District Court of the county of residence of the accused for entry in the minutes of the court.

(d) The term "Accusation" or "Complaint" shall embrace all complaints brought before the Board. By the terms "civil suit," "court action" or "formal complaint" is meant the pleading by which disciplinary action is instituted by the Board in a District Court of this state.

The Texas rules of civil procedure shall govern the procedure in all proceedings under Civil Actions (Formal Complaint).

The District Attorney or the County Attorney of the county of residence of the accused licensee as defendant, or the Attorney General or such counsel as the Board may designate shall represent the Board as it shall determine.

The formal complaint shall be the pleading by which the proceeding is instituted. The formal complaint shall be filed in the name of the Texas State Board of Morticians as plaintiff against the accused licensee as defendant and shall set forth the violation with which the defendant is charged. The prayer may be that the defendant "be placed on probation or his (its) license suspended or revoked or he (it) be fined as the facts shall warrant."

The answer of the defendant to the formal complaint shall either admit or deny each allegation of the petition, except where the defendant is unable to admit or deny the allegation, in which case defendant shall set forth the reasons he (it) cannot admit or deny.

Proceedings under formal complaint shall be entitled to preferred setting at the request of either party.

If the court shall find from the evidence in a case tried without a jury, or from the verdict of the jury, if there be one, that the defendant is guilty of no violation, he shall enter judgment so declaring and dismiss the complaint; but if he shall find the defendant guilty, he shall determine whether the party shall be (a) placed under probation (in which case he shall specify the terms thereof), (b) the license suspended (in which case he shall fix the term of suspension), (c) the license revoked, or (d) fined (in which case he shall set the amount thereof); and he shall enter the judgment accordingly. If the judgment be one finding the defendant guilty as aforesaid, it shall direct transmittal of certified copies of the judgment and complaint to the Secretary of the Board of Morticians; and the latter shall make proper notation on the membership rolls.

At any time the expiration of one year from the date of final judgment or revocation of a license, such party may petition the District Court of the county of his residence for reinstatement. Notice of such action shall be given to the Secretary of the State Board of Morticians.

The Board shall have the right to institute an action in its own name to enjoin the violation of any of the provisions of this Section. Said action for an injunction shall be in addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy recognized by law. The Board shall be represented by counsel designated by it, or, by the Attorney General and/or County and District Attorney of this state.

Any fine imposed on the accused through judicial proceedings shall be no less than Two Hundred Dollars ($200) nor more than Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000). Any fines collected by the court shall be deposited in the General Fund of the State of Texas.

The determination shall be founded on sufficient legal evidence to sustain it. The State Board of Morticians shall have the right to institute an action in its own name to enjoin the violation of any of the provisions of this Act. Said action for an injunction shall be in addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy authorized by law. The State Board of Morticians shall be represented by the Attorney General and/or the County or District Attorneys of this state, or counsel designated and empowered by the Board. Before entering any order cancelling, suspending, refusing to renew, or revoking a license to practice as a funeral director and/or embalmer, the Board shall hold a hearing in accordance with the procedure as set forth in this Act.

Art. 4590-2a. Kidney Donation by Mentally Retarded Person

Sec. 1. (a) "Mentally retarded" as used in this Act means a person who is mentally retarded pursuant to the terms and provisions of the Mentally Retarded Persons Act of 1977 (Article 5547-300, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(b) The guardian of the person of a mentally retarded ward, 12 chronological years of age or more, may petition a district court which has jurisdiction of the guardian for an order authorizing said ward to donate one of his or her two kidneys to a father, mother, son, daughter, sister, or brother as hereinafter set out.

Sec. 2. (a) The court shall hold a hearing on the petition. An attorney ad litem and a guardian ad litem, neither of which shall be related to the ward within the second degree by consanguinity, shall be appointed by the court to represent the interest of the prospective donor.

(b) Petitioners shall have the burden of establishing good cause for the kidney donation by establishing the statutory prerequisites set out herein. The court may enter an order authorizing the kidney donation if it is established that: (1) the guardian of the prospective donor consents to the donation; (2) the prospective donor assents to the kidney transplant; (3) absent the transplant the donee will soon die or suffer severe and progressive deterioration; and with the transplant the donee will probably benefit substantially; (4) there are no medically preferable alternatives to a kidney transplant for the donee; (5) the risks of the operation and the long-term risks are minimal to the donor, and the donor will not likely suffer psychological harm; and (6) the transplant will promote the proposed donor's best interests.

(c) Within seven days of the hearing, the court shall conduct an "in chambers" interview with the mentally retarded ward, out of the presence of the guardian, to determine whether the prospective donor assents to the donation. If the court deems it necessary, it may order a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation, described in Section 3(24), Mentally Retarded Persons Act of 1977 (Article 5547-300, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), to be performed to aid the court in evaluating the prospective donor's capacity to agree to the donation.

(d) In order to secure a complete record, the hearing shall be adversary in nature. The attorney ad litem shall advocate the ward's interest, if any, in not being a donor.

(e) Upon request, any party to a proceeding instituted pursuant to this Act shall be entitled to a preferential setting.

"Sec. 4. - (1) the decedent from whom the tissue is to be taken died under circumstances requiring an inquest by the justice of the peace or the medical examiner;
- (2) no objection by a person listed in Section 2 of this Act is known by the justice of the peace or the medical examiner; and
- (3) the removal of corneal tissue will not interfere with the subsequent course of an investigation or autopsy, or alter the postmortem facial appearance.

- (1) the decedent's spouse;
- (2) if no spouse, the decedent's adult children;

- (4) if no parents, adult children, or spouse, the decedent's brothers or sisters.

Liability for Damages

Sec. 3. The justice of the peace, the medical examiner, and the eye bank official are not liable for damages in a civil action brought by a person listed in Section 2 of this Act who has not objected prior to the removal of the corneal tissue on any theory of civil recovery based on a contention that the consent of plaintiff was required prior to the removal of corneal tissue as authorized by this Act.

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known and may be cited as the Natural Death Act.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Attending physician" means the physician selected by, or assigned by the physician selected by, the patient who has primary responsibility for the treatment and care of the patient.

(2) "Directive" means a written document voluntarily executed by the declarant in accordance with the requirements of Section 3 of this Act. The directive, or a copy of the directive, shall be made part of the patient's medical records.

(3) "Life-sustaining procedure" means a medical procedure or intervention which utilizes mechanical or other artificial means to sustain, restore, or supplant a vital function, which, when applied to a qualified patient, would serve only to artificially prolong the moment of death and where, in the judgment of the attending physician, noted in the qualified patient's medical records, death is imminent whether or not such procedures are utilized. "Life-sustaining procedure" shall not include the administration of medication or the performance of any medical procedure deemed necessary to alleviate pain.

(4) "Physician" means a physician and surgeon licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners.

(5) "Qualified patient" means a patient diagnosed and certified in writing to be afflicted with a terminal condition by two physicians, one of whom shall be the attending physician, and the other shall be chosen by the patient or the attending physician, who have each personally examined the patient.

(6) "Terminal condition" means an incurable condition caused by injury, disease, or illness, which, regardless of the application of life-sustaining procedures, would, within reasonable medical judgment, produce death, and where the application of life-sustaining procedures serves only to postpone the moment of death of the patient.

Directive for Withholding or Withdrawal of Life-Sustaining Procedures in Event of Terminal Condition

Sec. 3. Any adult person may execute a directive for the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in the event of a terminal condition. The directive shall be signed by the declarant in the presence of two witnesses not related to the declarant by blood or marriage and who would not be entitled to any portion of the estate of the declarant on his decease under any will of the declarant or codicil thereto or by operation of law. In addition, a witness to a directive shall not be the attending physician, an employee of the attending physician or a health facility in which the declarant is a patient, a patient in a health care facility in which the declarant is a patient, or any person who has a claim against any portion of the estate of the declarant upon his decease at the time of the execution of the directive. The signature of the declarant shall be acknowledged, and the witnesses shall subscribe and swear to the directive before a notary public. The directive shall be in the following form:

"DIRECTIVE TO PHYSICIANS

"Directive made this _____ day of _____ (month, year).

"I _____, being of sound mind, willfully and voluntarily make known my desire that my life shall not be artificially prolonged under the circumstances set forth below, and do hereby declare:

"1. "2. In the absence of my ability to give directions regarding the use of such life-sustaining procedures, it is my intention that this directive shall be honored by my family and physicians as the final expression of my legal right to refuse medical or surgical treatment and accept the consequences from such refusal.

"3. If I have been diagnosed as pregnant and that diagnosis is known to my physician, this directive shall have no force or effect during the course of my pregnancy.

"4. I have been diagnosed and notified as having a terminal condition by _____, M.D., whose address is _____, and whose telephone number is _____. I understand that if I have not filled in the physician's name and address, it shall be presumed that I did not have a terminal condition when I made out this directive.

"5. This directive shall be in effect until it is revoked.

Revocation of Directive

Sec. 4. (a) A directive may be revoked at any time by the declarant, without regard to his mental state or competency, by any of the following methods:

(1) by being canceled, defaced, obliterated, or burnt, torn, or otherwise destroyed by the declarant or by some person in his presence and by his direction;

(2) by a written revocation of the declarant expressing his intent to revoke, signed and dated by the declarant. Such revocation shall become effective only on communication to an attending physician by the declarant or by a person acting on behalf of the declarant or by mailing said revocation to an attending physician. An attending physician or his designee shall record in the patient's medical record the time and date when he received notification of the written revocation and shall enter the word "VOID" on each page of the copy of the directive in the patient's medical records; or

(3) by a verbal expression by the declarant of his intent to revoke the directive. Such revocation shall become effective only on communication to an attending physician by the declarant or by a person acting on behalf of the declarant. An attending physician or his designee shall record in the patient's medical record the time, date, and place of the revocation and the time, date, and place, if different, of when he received notification of the revocation and shall enter the word

"VOID" on each page of the copy of the directive in the patient's medical records.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, there shall be no criminal or civil liability on the part of any person for failure to act on a revocation made pursuant to this section unless that person has actual knowledge of the revocation.

Duration of Directive

Sec. 5. A directive shall be effective until it is revoked in a manner prescribed in Section 4 of this Act. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent a declarant from reexecuting a directive at any time in accordance with the formalities of Section 3 of this Act, including reexecution subsequent to a diagnosis of a terminal condition. If the declarant has executed more than one directive, such time shall be determined from the date of execution of the last directive known to the attending physician. If the declarant becomes comatose or is rendered incapable of communicating with the attending physician, the directive shall remain in effect for the duration of the comatose condition or until such time as the declarant's condition renders him or her able to communicate with the attending physician.

Civil or Criminal Liability

Sec. 6. No physician or health facility which, acting in accordance with the requirements of this Act, causes the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient, shall be subject to civil liability therefrom unless negligent. No health professional, acting under the direction of a physician, who participates in the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall be subject to any civil liability unless negligent. No physician, or health professional acting under the direction of a physician, who participates in the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall be guilty of any criminal act or of unprofessional conduct unless negligent. No physician, health care facility, or health care professional shall be liable either civilly or criminally for failure to act pursuant to the declarant's directive where such physician, health care facility, or health care professional had no knowledge of such directive.

Failure to Execute Directive

Sec. 7. (a) Prior to effecting a withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient pursuant to the directive, the attending physician shall determine that the directive complies with the form of the directive set out in Section 3 of this Act, and, if the patient is mentally competent, that the directive and all steps proposed by the attending physician to be undertaken are in accord with the existing desires of the qualified patient and are communicated to the patient.

(b) If the declarant was a qualified patient prior to executing or reexecuting the directive, the directive shall be conclusively presumed, unless revoked, to be the directions of the patient regarding the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures. No physician, and no health professional acting under the direction of a physician, shall be criminally or civilly liable for failing to effectuate the directive of the qualified patient pursuant to this subsection. A failure by a physician to effectuate the directive of a qualified patient pursuant to this subsection may constitute unprofessional conduct if the physician refuses to make the necessary arrangements or fails to take the necessary steps to effect the transfer of the qualified patient to another physician who will effectuate the directive of the qualified patient.

(c) If the declarant becomes a qualified patient subsequent to executing the directive, and has not subsequently re-executed the directive, the attending physician may give weight to the directive as evidence of the patient's directions regarding the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures and may consider other factors, such as information from the affected family or the nature of the patient's illness, injury, or disease, in determining whether the totality of circumstances known to the attending physician justifies effectuating the directive. No physician, and no health professional acting under the direction of a physician, shall be criminally or civilly liable for failing to effectuate the directive of the qualified patient pursuant to this subsection.

Effect on Offense of Aiding Suicide and Insurance Policies

Sec. 8. (a) The withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall not, for any purpose, constitute an offense under Section 22.08, Penal Code.

(b) The making of a directive pursuant to Section 3 of this Act shall not restrict, inhibit, or impair in any manner the sale, procurement, or issuance of any policy of life insurance, nor shall it be deemed to modify the terms of an existing policy of life insurance. No policy of life insurance shall be legally impaired or invalidated in any manner by the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from an insured qualified patient, notwithstanding any term of the policy to the contrary.

(c) No physician, health facility, or other health provider, and no health care service plan, or insurer issuing insurance, may require any person to execute a directive as a condition for being insured for, or receiving, health care services nor may the execution or failure to execute a directive be considered in any way in establishing the premiums for insurance.

Tampering with Directive

Sec. 9. A person who willfully conceals, cancels, defaces, obliterates, or damages the directive of another without such declarant's consent shall be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor. A person who falsifies or forges the directive of another, or willfully conceals or withholds personal knowledge of a revocation as provided in Section 4 of this Act, with the intent to cause a withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures contrary to the wishes of the declarant, and thereby, because of any such act, directly causes life-sustaining procedures to be withheld or withdrawn and death to thereby be hastened, shall be subject to prosecution for criminal homicide under the provisions of the Penal Code.

Mercy Killing not Condoned

Sec. 10. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to condone, authorize, or approve mercy killing, or to permit any affirmative or deliberate act or omission to end life other than to permit the natural process of dying as provided in this Act.

Act as Cumulative

Sec. 11. Nothing in this Act shall impair or supersede any legal right or legal responsibility which any person may have to effect the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in any lawful manner. In such respect the provisions of this Act are cumulative.

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE. MEDICAL LIABILITY AND INSURANCE IMPROVEMENT

Art. 4590i. Medical Liability and Insurance Improvement Act

Text of article effective until August 31, 1993

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Short Title

Sec. 1.01. This part may be cited as the Medical Liability and Insurance Improvement Act of Texas.

Findings and Purposes

Sec. 1.02. (a) The Legislature of the State of Texas finds that:

- (1) the number of health care liability claims (frequency) has increased since 1972 inordinately;
- (2) the filing of legitimate health care liability claims in Texas is a contributing factor affecting medical professional liability rates;
- (3) the amounts being paid out by insurers in judgments and settlements (severity) have likewise increased inordinately in the same short period of time;

(4) the effect of the above has caused a serious public problem in availability of and affordability of adequate medical professional liability insurance;

(5) the situation has created a medical malpractice insurance crisis in the State of Texas;

(6) this crisis has had a material adverse effect on the delivery of medical and health care in Texas, including significant reductions of availability of medical and health care services to the people of Texas and a likelihood of further reductions in the future;

(7) the crisis has had a substantial impact on the physicians and hospitals of Texas and the cost to physicians and hospitals for adequate medical practice insurance has dramatically risen in price, with cost impact on patients and the public;

(8) the direct cost of medical care to the patient and public of Texas has materially increased due to rising cost of malpractice insurance protection for physicians and hospitals in Texas;

(9) the crisis has increased the cost of medical care both directly through fees and indirectly through additional services provided for protection against future suits or claims; and defensive medicine has resulted in increasing cost to patients, private insurers, and the state and has contributed to the general inflation that has marked health care in recent years;

(10) satisfactory insurance coverage for adequate amounts of insurance in this area is often not available at any price;

(11) the combined effect of the defects in the medical, insurance, and legal systems has caused a serious public problem both with respect to the availability of coverage and to the high rates being charged by insurers for medical professional liability insurance to some physicians, health care providers, and hospitals;

(12) the adoption of certain modifications in the medical, insurance, and legal systems, the total effect of which is currently undetermined, may or may not have an effect on the rates charged by insurers for medical professional liability insurance;

(13) these facts have been verified by the Medical Professional Liability Study Commission, which was created by the 64th Legislature.¹ For further amplification of these facts the legislature adopts the findings of the report of the commission.

(b) Because of the conditions stated in Subsection (a) of this section, it is the purpose of this Act to improve and modify the system by which health care liability claims are determined in order to:

(1) reduce excessive frequency and severity of health care liability claims through reasonable improvements and modifications in the Texas insurance, tort, and medical practice systems;

(2) decrease the cost of those claims and assure that awards are rationally related to actual damages;

(3) do so in a manner that will not unduly restrict a claimant's rights any more than necessary to deal with the crisis;

(4) make available to physicians, hospitals, and other health care providers protection against potential liability through the insurance mechanism at reasonably affordable rates;

(5) make affordable medical and health care more accessible and available to the citizens of Texas;

(6) make certain modifications in the medical, insurance, and legal systems in order to determine whether or not there will be an effect on rates charged by insurers for medical professional liability insurance; and

(7) make certain modifications to the liability laws as they relate to health care liability claims only and with an intention of the legislature to not extend or apply such modifications of liability laws to any other area of the Texas legal system or tort law.

Sec. 2.03. A professional society in this state comprised primarily of physicians that takes formal disciplinary action against a member relating to professional ethics, medical incompetency, moral turpitude, or drug or alcohol abuse may report in writing to the board the name of the member, together with the pertinent information relating to the action.

Effect of Filing, Investigation, or Disposition by Board

Sec. 2.04. The filing of a report with the board pursuant to this article, investigation by the board, or any disposition by the board shall not, in and of itself, preclude any action by a hospital or other health care facility or professional society comprised primarily of physicians to suspend, restrict, or revoke the privileges or membership of the physician.

Handling of Report

Sec. 2.05. On a determination by the board that a report submitted by a medical peer review committee is without merit, the report shall be expunged from the physician's or applicant's individual historical record in the board's office. A physician or applicant or his authorized representative is entitled on request to examine the physician's or applicant's medical peer review report submitted to the board under the provisions of this subchapter, and to place into the record a statement of reasonable length of the physician's or applicant's view with respect to any information existing in the report. The statement shall at all times accompany that part of the record in contention.

Confidentiality

Sec. 2.06. (a) Reports, information, or records received and maintained by the board pursuant to this subchapter, including any material received or developed by the board during an investigation or hearing shall be strictly confidential and subject to the provisions of Subsection (c) of this section; however, the board may only disclose this confidential information:

(1) in a disciplinary hearing before the board or in a subsequent trial or appeal of a board action or order;

(2) to the physician licensing or disciplinary authorities of other jurisdictions, to a local, state, or national professional medical society, or to a medical peer review committee located inside or outside this state that is concerned with granting, limiting, or denying a physician hospital privileges;

(3) pursuant to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(4) to qualified personnel for bona fide research or educational purposes, if personally identifiable information relating to any person or physician is first deleted.

(b) Orders of the board relating to disciplinary action against a physician shall not be confidential.

(c) In no event shall records and reports received, maintained, or developed by the board, or disclosed by the board to others, pursuant to this article, be available for discovery or court subpoena, or introduced into evidence in a medical professional liability suit or other action for damages arising out of the provision of or failure to provide medical or health care services.

(d) A person found guilty of an unlawful disclosure of this confidential information possessed by the board shall be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

Immunity from Civil Liability

Sec. 2.07. A person reporting to or furnishing information to a medical peer review committee, and a member, employee, or agent of the committee, who makes a report or other information available to the board pursuant to this subchapter, or who assists in the organization, investigation, or preparation of this information, or who assists the board in carrying out its duties or functions provided by law, shall be immune from civil liability.

Reports and Data from Insurers

Sec. 2.08. (a) Every insurer providing medical professional liability insurance covering a physician or physicians in this state shall submit to the board the report or data described in Subsections (b) and (c) of this section at the time prescribed. The report or data shall be provided with respect to a complaint filed against an insured in a court, if the complaint seeks damages relating to the insured's conduct in providing or failing to provide medical or health care services, and with respect to settlement of a claim or lawsuit made on behalf of the insured. In the event a physician practicing medicine in this state does not carry or is not covered by medical professional liability insurance, or is insured by a nonadmitted carrier, the information required to be reported in Subsections (b) and (c) of this section shall be the responsibility of the physician.

(b) The following report or data shall be furnished to the board within 90 days after receipt by the insurer of the complaint from the insured:

(1) the name of the insured;

(2) the policy number;

(3) the policy limits;

(4) a copy of the complaint;

(5) a copy of the answer; and

(6) other pertinent data and information within the knowledge of the insurer as the board may require.

(c) The following report or data and information shall be furnished to the board within 90 days from a judgment, dismissal, or settlement of suit involving the insured, or settlement of any claim on behalf of the insured without the filing of a lawsuit:

- (1) the date of a judgment, dismissal, or settlement;
- (2) whether an appeal has been taken and by which party;
- (3) the amount of the settlement or judgment against the insured; and
- (4) other pertinent information within the knowledge of the insurer as the board may require.

(d) There shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against an insurer reporting under this section, or its agents or employees, or the board or its employees or representatives, for any action taken by them pursuant to this section.

(e) In the trial of a suit against a physician based on his conduct in providing or failing to provide medical or health care services, no report or data submitted to the board under this section nor the fact that the report or data has been submitted to the board may be offered in evidence or in any manner used in the trial of the case.

Report of Felony Conviction

Sec. 2.09. Within 30 days after the conviction of a person, known to be a physician, licensed or otherwise lawfully practicing in this state or applying to be so licensed to practice, of a felony under the laws of this state, the clerk of the court of record in which the conviction was entered shall prepare and forward to the board a certified true and correct abstract of record of the court governing the case. The abstract shall include the name and address of the physician or applicant, the nature of the offense committed, the sentence, and the judgment of the court. The board shall prepare the form of the abstract and shall distribute copies of it to all clerks of courts of record within this state with appropriate instructions for preparation and filing.

Report of Board Actions

Sec. 2.10. The board shall report within 30 days the restriction, suspension, or revocation of a physician's license or other disciplinary action by the board against a physician to the appropriate health facilities and hospitals, professional societies of physicians in this state, and any entity responsible for the administration of Medicare and Medicaid in this state.

Denial of License or other Authorization and Discipline of Physician

Sec. 2.11. In addition to other powers previously granted, the board shall have authority to deny an application for a license or other authorization to practice medicine in this state and to discipline a physician licensed or otherwise lawfully practicing in this state, who, after a hearing, as provided in Article 4506, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, has been adjudged by the board of:

- (1) professional failure to practice medicine in an acceptable manner consistent with public health and welfare;
- (2) being removed, suspended, or having disciplinary action taken by his or her peers in any professional medical association or society, whether the association or society is local, regional, state, or national in scope, or of being disciplined by a licensed hospital or the medical staff of a hospital, including removal, suspension, limitation of hospital privileges, or other disciplinary action, if that action in the opinion of the board was based on unprofessional conduct or professional incompetence which was likely to harm the public, provided that the board finds that the actions taken were appropriate and reasonably supported by evidence submitted to it; or
- (3) repeated or recurring meritorious health care liability claims which in the opinion of the board evidence professional incompetence likely to injure the public.

Methods of Discipline

Sec. 2.12. If the board finds any person to have committed any of the acts set forth in Section 2.11 of this subchapter, it may enter an order imposing one or more of the following:

- (1) deny the person's application for a license or other authorization to practice medicine;
- (2) administer a public or private reprimand;
- (3) suspend, limit, or restrict the person's license or other authorization to practice medicine, including limiting the practice of the person to or by the exclusion of one or more specified activities of medicine;

- (5) require the person to submit to care, counseling, or treatment of physicians designated by the board as a condition for initial, continued, or renewal of license or other authorization to practice medicine;
- (6) require the person to participate in a program of education or counseling prescribed by the board; or
- (7) require the person to practice under the direction of a physician designated by the board for a specified period of time.

Temporary Suspension of License

Sec. 2.13. If the board determines from evidence or information presented to it that a person licensed to practice medicine in this state by his continuation in practice would constitute an immediate danger to the public, the board, on majority vote of the members, may temporarily suspend the license of that person without notice or hearing on the complaint, provided institution of proceedings for a hearing before the board is initiated simultaneously with the temporary suspension and provided that a hearing is held as soon as can be accomplished under Chapter 6, Title 71, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act.²

Appeal

Sec. 2.14. A person against whom disciplinary action is taken pursuant to this subchapter shall have the right of judicial appeal as provided under Article 4506, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, provided that the person may not be allowed to practice medicine or deliver health care services in violation of any disciplinary order or action of the board while the appeal is pending unless otherwise stayed by the district judge where-in the venue of the appeal lies.

Powers Cumulative

Sec. 2.15. The provisions of Subchapter B of this Act are in addition to other laws relating to medical disciplinary powers and procedures of the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners.

(2) "Committee" means a district review committee.

(3) "District" means the district established in Section 3.02 of this subchapter.

Districts

Sec. 3.02. For the purposes of this subchapter, there shall be established a reasonable number of districts in Texas. The number of and geographic areas composed of various counties shall be designated by the board. Within six months after the effective date of this Act, the board, after a public hearing, shall designate the number of districts as in its opinion are needed and the counties to be included in the districts, shall notify the governor of the designation, and shall have the designation published in the Texas Register. After the initial designation of geographic areas in accordance with this section, the board, after a public hearing, may revise the number of districts and the composition of the various counties as it shall deem appropriate. In the event of change of the number or the composition of the various counties the board shall follow the same procedure as applies to the initial designations.

Creation of Committees; Composition; Appointment of Members; Qualifications

Sec. 3.03. A district review committee is created under the jurisdiction of the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners for each of the districts established in Section 3.02 of this subchapter. Each committee shall be composed of three persons appointed by the governor from among persons who have resided and practiced medicine in the district for more than three years before their appointment.

Term; Manner of Appointment

Sec. 3.04. (a) Each member of each committee shall be appointed by the governor, after designation of the districts, for a term of six years, except the terms of the initial members shall be as provided in Subsection (c) of this section.

(b) Each member shall hold office as long as qualified and until the appointment and qualification of his successor or until six months have elapsed since the expiration of the term for which he was appointed, whichever first occurs.

(c) The initial members of each committee shall classify themselves by lot, so that one of them shall serve a term which expires January 15, 1978, one of them shall serve a term which expires January 15, 1980, and one of them shall serve a term which expires January 15, 1982.

Filling of Vacancies

Sec. 3.05. Vacancies in the membership of a committee shall be filled by the governor by appointment for the unexpired term in the manner provided for making other appointments to a committee.

Per Diem and Expenses

Sec. 3.06. Each member of the committee shall receive the per diem and expenses provided for board members for actual duty or as provided by the board.

Rules Governing Members

Sec. 3.07. Each member of a committee is subject to law and the rules of the board as if he were a member of the board, except members shall not be subject to the provisions of Chapter 421, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Adoption, Amendment, or Repeal of Rules

Sec. 3.08. The board may adopt, amend, or repeal rules as may be reasonably necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this subchapter relating to:

- (1) per diem and expenses of members;
- (2) matters to be heard by or considered by the committees;
- (3) the conduct of any hearings and the authority the board may delegate to the committees; and
- (4) other matters relating to the committee's actions, duties, and responsibilities as may be reasonable.

Limitation on Authority

Sec. 3.09. No committee may exercise final authority over the disposition of a complaint against a person licensed by the board or may issue a final order or rule, and the board must make final disposition of complaints against persons licensed by it and shall have the sole authority to issue final orders and rules.

SUBCHAPTER D. NOTICE

Notice

Sec. 4.01. (a) Any person or his authorized agent asserting a health care liability claim shall give written notice of such claim by certified mail, return receipt requested, to each physician or health care provider against whom such claim is being made at least 60 days before the filing of a suit in any court of this state based upon a health care liability claim.

(b) In such pleadings as are subsequently filed in any court, each party shall state that it has fully complied with the provisions of this section and shall provide such evidence thereof as the judge of the court may require to determine if the provisions of this Act have been met.

(c) Notice given as provided in this Act shall toll the applicable statute of limitations to and including a period of 75 days following the giving of the notice, and this tolling shall apply to all parties and potential parties.

(d) All parties shall be entitled to obtain complete and unaltered copies of the claimant's medical records from any other party within 10 days from the date of receipt of a written request for such records; provided, however, that the receipt of a medical authorization executed by the claimant herein shall be considered compliance by the claimant with this section.

SUBCHAPTER E. AD DAMNUM CLAUSE

Pleadings not to State Damage Amount; Special Exception; Exclusion from Section

Sec. 5.01. Pleadings in a suit based on a health care liability claim shall not specify an amount of money claimed as damages. The defendant may file a special exception to the pleadings on the ground the suit is not within the court's jurisdiction, in which event, the plaintiff shall inform the court and defendant in writing of the total dollar amount claimed. This section does not prevent a party from mentioning the total dollar amount claimed in examining prospective jurors on voir dire or in argument to the court or jury.

SUBCHAPTER F. INFORMED CONSENT

Definition

Sec. 6.01. In this subchapter, "panel" means the Texas Medical Disclosure Panel.

Theory of Recovery

Sec. 6.02. In a suit against a physician or health care provider involving a health care liability claim that is based on the failure of the physician or health care provider to disclose or adequately to disclose the risks and hazards involved in the medical care or surgical procedure rendered by the physician or health care provider, the only theory on which recovery may be obtained is that of negligence in failing to disclose the risks or hazards that could have influenced a reasonable person in making a decision to give or withhold consent.

Texas Medical Disclosure Panel

Sec. 6.03. (a) The Texas Medical Disclosure Panel is created to determine which risks and hazards related to medical care and surgical procedures must be disclosed by health care providers or physicians to their patients or persons authorized to consent for their patients and to establish the general form and substance of such disclosure.

(b) The panel established herein is administrative-ly attached to the Texas Department of Health. The Texas Department of Health, at the request of the panel, shall provide administrative assistance to the panel; and the Texas Department of Health and the panel shall coordinate administrative responsibilities in order to avoid unnecessary duplication of facilities and services. The Texas Department of Health, at the request of the panel, shall submit the panel's budget request to the legislature. The panel shall be subject, except where inconsistent, to the rules and procedures of the Texas Department of Health; however, the duties and responsibilities of the panel as set forth in the Medical Liability and Insurance Improvement Act of Texas, as amended (Article 4590i, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), shall be exercised solely by the panel and the board or Texas Department of Health shall have no authority or responsibility with respect to same.

(c) The panel is composed of nine members, with three members licensed to practice law in this state and six members licensed to practice medicine in this state. Members of the panel shall be selected by the Commissioner of Health.

(d) The commissioner shall select members of the panel according to the following schedule:

(1) one attorney and two physicians to serve a term of two years, which term shall begin on September 1, 1979, and expire on August 31, 1981, or until a successor is qualified;

(2) one attorney and two physicians to serve a term of four years, which terms shall begin September 1, 1979, and expire August 31, 1983, or until a successor is qualified;

(3) one attorney and two physicians to serve a term of six years, which term shall begin September 1, 1979, and expire on August 31, 1985, or until a successor is qualified.

Thereafter, at the expiration of the term of each member of the panel so appointed, the commissioner shall select a successor, and such successor shall serve for a term of six years, or until his successor is selected. Any member who is absent for three consecutive meetings without the consent of a majority of the panel present at each such meeting may be removed by the commissioner at the request of the panel submitted in writing and signed by the chairman. Upon the death, resignation, or removal of any member, the commissioner shall fill the vacancy by selection for the unexpired portion of the term.

(e) Members of the panel are not entitled to compensation for their services, but each panelist is entitled to reimbursement of any necessary expense incurred in the performance of his duties on the panel including necessary travel expenses.

(f) Meetings of the panel shall be held at the call of the chairman or on petition of at least three members of the panel.

(g) At the first meeting of the panel each year after its members assume their positions, the panelists shall select one of the panel members to serve as chairman and one of the panel members to serve as vice-chairman, and each such officer shall serve for a term of one year. The chairman shall preside at meetings of the panel, and in his absence, the vice-chairman shall preside.

(h) Employees of the Texas Department of Health shall serve as the staff for the panel.

Duties of Panel

Sec. 6.04. (a) To the extent feasible, the panel shall identify and make a thorough examination of all medical treatments and surgical procedures in which physicians and health care providers may be involved in order to determine which of those treatments and procedures do and do not require disclosure of the risks and hazards to the patient or person authorized to consent for the patient.

(b) The panel shall prepare separate lists of those medical treatments and surgical procedures that do and do not require disclosure and for those treatments and procedures that do require disclosure shall establish the degree of disclosure required and the form in which the disclosure will be made.

(c) Lists prepared under Subsection (b) of this section together with written explanations of the degree and form of disclosure shall be published in the Texas Register.

(d) At least annually, or at such other period the panel may determine from time to time, the panel will identify and examine any new medical treatments and surgical procedures that have been developed since its last determinations, shall assign them to the proper list, and shall establish the degree of disclosure required and the form in which the disclosure will be made. The panel will also examine such treatments and procedures for the purpose of revising lists previously published. These determinations shall be published in the Texas Register.

Duty of Physician or Health Care Provider

Sec. 6.05. Before a patient or a person authorized to consent for a patient gives consent to any medical care or surgical procedure that appears on the panel's list requiring disclosure, the physician or health care provider shall disclose to the patient, or person authorized to consent for the patient, the risks and hazards involved in that kind of care or procedure. A physician or health care provider shall be considered to have complied with the requirements of this section if disclosure is made as provided in Section 6.06 of this subchapter.

Manner of Disclosure

Sec. 6.06. Consent to medical care that appears on the panel's list requiring disclosure shall be considered effective under this subchapter if it is given in writing, signed by the patient or a person authorized to give the consent and by a competent witness, and if the written consent specifically states the risks and hazards that are involved in the medical care or surgical procedure in the form and to the degree required by the panel under Section 6.04 of this subchapter.

Effect of Disclosure

Sec. 6.07. (a) In a suit against a physician or health care provider involving a health care liability claim that is based on the negligent failure of the physician or health care provider to disclose or adequately to disclose the risks and hazards involved in the medical care or surgical procedure rendered by the physician or health care provider:

(1) both disclosure made as provided in Section 6.05 of this subchapter and failure to disclose based on inclusion of any medical care or surgical procedure on the panel's list for which disclosure is not required shall be admissible in evidence and shall create a rebuttable presumption that the requirements of Section 6.05 and 6.06 of this subchapter have been complied with and this presumption shall be included in the charge to the jury; and

(2) failure to disclose the risks and hazards involved in any medical care or surgical procedure required to be disclosed under Sections 6.05 and 6.06 of this subchapter shall be admissible in evidence and shall create a rebuttable presumption of a negligent failure to conform to the duty of disclosure set forth in Sections 6.05 and 6.06 of this subchapter, and this presumption shall be included in the charge to the jury; but failure to disclose may be found not to be negligent if there was an emergency or if for some other reason it was not medically feasible to make a disclosure of the kind that would otherwise have been negligence.

(b) If medical care or surgical procedure is rendered with respect to which the panel has made no determination either way regarding a duty of disclosure, the physician or health care provider is under the duty otherwise imposed by law.

SUBCHAPTER G. RES IPSA LOQUITUR

Application of Res Ipsa Loquitur

Sec. 7.01. The common-law doctrine of res ipsa loquitur shall only apply to health care liability claims against health care providers or physicians in those cases to which it has been applied by the appellate courts of this state as of the effective date of this subchapter.

SUBCHAPTER H. BAD FAITH CAUSE OF ACTION

Separate Cause of Action for Bad Faith

Sec. 8.01. With respect to a health care liability claim actually filed, a cause of action based on bad faith may be filed and litigated in a separate lawsuit.

Definition

Sec. 8.02. As used in this subchapter, "bad faith" means to file and maintain a claim with reckless disregard as to whether or not reasonable grounds exist for asserting the claim.

Notice of Bad Faith Claim

Sec. 8.03. At least 60 days before the filing of a suit based on bad faith in any court of this state, a person or his authorized agent asserting a bad faith cause of action shall give written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, of the claim, to the defendant or his attorney against whom the claim is being made.

Persons Against Whom Claims May be Made; Damage Limits

Sec. 8.04. The right of action created in this subchapter shall lie against any claimant or defendant or claimant's or defendant's attorney, or both, who file a health care liability claim in bad faith, or file a claim under this article in bad faith, and the measure of damages with respect thereto shall be limited to $100,000 for compensatory and exemplary damages, as applicable.

Effective Date

Sec. 8.05. This subchapter will take effect if and only if the State Bar of Texas fails to certify to the Supreme Court of Texas by January 31, 1979, that it has adopted rules for appropriate disciplinary measures against an attorney who has been determined to have filed a claim in bad faith. If the provisions of this section are held unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, the legislature specifically declares this section to be severable and that such holding shall in no way affect the validity of the other sections of this subchapter.

SUBCHAPTER I. ADVANCE PAYMENTS

Advance Payments not Admission of Liability

Sec. 9.01. In an action brought to recover damages based on a health care liability claim, no advance payment made on that claim by the defendant health care provider or physician, or the professional liability insurer, to or for the claimant, or any other person, shall be construed as an admission of liability by the health care provider or physician or any person for any injuries or damages suffered by the claimant or anyone else.

Admissibility of Advance Payments

Sec. 9.02. Except as provided in this subchapter, evidence of an advance payment shall not be admissible during the trial of an action based on a health care liability claim at any stage of the proceedings, unless and until there is a final award in favor of the claimant, in which event the trial judge shall reduce the award to the claimant to the extent of the advance payment.

Adjustments for Advance Payments

Sec. 9.03. The advance payment shall inure to the exclusive benefit of the defendant or his or its carrier making the advance payment, and in the event the advance payment exceeds the pro rata liability of the defendant or the carrier making the payment, the trial judge shall order any adjustment necessary to equalize the amount which each defendant is obligated to pay under this subchapter, exclusive of costs.

Certain Advance Payments Exempt from Repayment

Sec. 9.04. In no case shall an advance payment in excess of an award be repayable by the person receiving it.

SUBCHAPTER J. STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

Limitations on Health Care Liability Claims

Sec. 10.01. Notwithstanding any other law, no health care liability claim may be commenced unless the action is filed within two years from the occurrence of the breach or tort or from the date the medical or health care treatment that is the subject of the claim or the hospitalization for which the claim is made is completed; provided that, minors under the age of 12 years shall have until their 14th birthday in which to file, or have filed on their behalf, the claim. Except as herein provided, this subchapter applies to all persons regardless of minority or other legal disability.

Causes of Action Covered by Other Law

Sec. 10.02. Causes of action accruing between the effective date of this Act and the effective date of Article 5.82, Insurance Code, shall be filed pursuant to Section 4 of Article 5.82.

SUBCHAPTER K. LIABILITY LIMITS

Definition

Sec. 11.01. In this subchapter, "consumer price index" means the index published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor that measures the average change in prices of goods and services purchased by urban wage earners and clerical workers' families and single workers living alone.

Limit on Civil Liability

Sec. 11.02. (a) In an action on a health care liability claim where final judgment is rendered against a physician or health care provider, the limit of civil liability for damages of the physician or health care provider shall be limited to an amount not to exceed $500,000.

(b) Subsection (a) of this section does not apply to the amount of damages awarded on a health care liability claim for the expenses of necessary medical, hospital, and custodial care received before judgment or required in the future for treatment of the injury.

(c) This section shall not limit the liability of any insurer where facts exist that would enable a party to invoke the common law theory of recovery commonly known in Texas as the "Stowers Doctrine."

(d) In any action on a health care liability claim that is tried by a jury in any court in this state, the following shall be included in the court's written instructions to the jurors: Do not consider, discuss, nor speculate whether or not liability, if any, on the part of any party is or is not subject to any limit under applicable law.

Alternative Partial Limit on Civil Liability

Sec. 11.03. In the event that Section 11.02(a) of this subchapter is stricken from this subchapter or is otherwise invalidated by a method other than through legislative means, the following shall become effective:

In an action on a health care liability claim where final judgment is rendered against a physician or health care provider, the limit of civil liability of the physician or health care provider for all past and future noneconomic losses recoverable by or on behalf of any injured person and/or the estate of such person, including without limitation as applicable past and future physical pain and suffering, mental anguish and suffering, consortium, disfigurement, and any other nonpecuniary damage, shall be limited to an amount not to exceed $150,000.

Adjustment of Liability Limits

Sec. 11.04. When there is an increase or decrease in the consumer price index with respect to the amount of that index on the effective date of this subchapter each of the liability limits prescribed in Section 11.02(a) or in Section 11.03 of this subchapter, as applicable, shall be increased or decreased, as applicable, by a sum equal to the amount of such limit multiplied by the percentage increase or decrease in the consumer price index between the effective date of this subchapter and the time at which damages subject to such limits are awarded by final judgment or settlement.

Subchapter's Application Prevails over Certain Other Laws

Sec. 11.05. The provisions of this subchapter shall apply notwithstanding the provisions contained in Article 4671, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and the provisions of Article 5525, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

the invalid clause, sentence, subsection, section, article, or provision or application, and shall not affect, impair, invalidate, or nullify the remainder of this Act, but the effect thereof shall be confined to the clause, sentence, subsection, section, article, or provision of the Act so adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional and to this end the above are declared to be severable."
