courts, except that a case or proceeding may not be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred and may not be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred. If a judge is disqualified in a case or proceeding, he shall transfer the case or proceeding from his court to another of the courts. When a case is transferred from one court to another as provided by this subsection, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued from the transferring court are returnable to the court to which the case is transferred as if originally issued by that court. The obligees in all bonds and recognizances taken in and for a court from which a case is transferred, and all witnesses summoned to appear in a court from which a case is transferred, are required to appear before the court to which the case is transferred as if originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) The county judge and the judges of the county courts at law may exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, another may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Any of those judges may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or a county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring the case to his own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of the provisions for the election and appointment of a special judge.

(d) The laws that govern the drawing, selection, and service of jurors for county courts apply to the County Court at Law No. 2, including the provisions for interchangeable juries applicable in counties with at least three district courts and the provisions applicable in counties with at least two county courts at law. Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the district court of Ector County may, at the request of either the judge of the county court or the judge of a county court at law, be made available by the district judge in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in the county court or the county court at law.

Facilities

Sec. 8. (a) The County Court at Law No. 2 shall sit in Odessa. The commissioners court shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the county court at law.

(b) The seal of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 2 of Ector County."

Date of Creation

Sec. 9. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Ector County is created on January 1, 1986, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes, whichever date is earlier.

NOLAN COUNTY

Art. 1970-347. County Court at Law of Nolan County

Sec. 1. There is hereby created a Court to be held in Sweetwater, Nolan County, Texas, which shall be known as the County Court at Law of Nolan County; providing, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not become operative until the Commissioners Court of Nolan County enters an order adopting same.

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Nolan County shall have original and concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court of Nolan County, in all matters and causes, civil and criminal, original and appellate, over which by the General Laws of this State, County Courts have jurisdiction, except as provided in Section 6 of this Act; but this provision shall not affect jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or the County Judge of Nolan County, Texas, as the presiding officer of the Commissioners Court as to roads, bridges and public highways, and matters of eminent domain, which are now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or the Judge of Nolan County.

(b) With the consent of the other, the Judge of either of such Courts shall have the power to transfer to the other Court any case over which the Courts have concurrent jurisdiction pending upon the docket of his Court except in cases where the writ of certiorari has been granted.

Sec. 3. The County Court at Law of Nolan County shall have and exercise original concurrent jurisdiction with the Justice Courts in all civil matters which by the General Laws of this State is conferred upon Justice Courts. Neither the County Court at Law of Nolan County nor the Judge thereof shall have jurisdiction to act as a Coroner nor to preside at inquests, nor have jurisdiction of claims which come within the jurisdiction of the Small Claims Court as prescribed by Article 2460a of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas.

Sec. 4. No appeal or writ of error shall be taken to the Court of Civil Appeals from any final judgment of the County Court at Law of Nolan County in civil cases of which said court had appellate or original concurrent jurisdiction with the Justice Court where the judgment or amount in controversy would not exceed One Hundred Dollars ($100), exclusive of interest and costs.

Sec. 5. This Act shall not be construed to deprive the Justice Courts of jurisdiction now conferred upon them by law, but only to give concurrent original jurisdiction to the County Court at Law of Nolan County over such matters as are specified in this Act; nor shall this Act be construed to deny the right of an appeal to the County Court of Law of Nolan County from the Justice Court, where the right of appeal to the County Court now exists by law.

Sec. 6. The County Court of Nolan County shall retain, as heretofore, the general jurisdiction of a Probate Court; it shall probate wills; appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary and of administration; settle accounts of executors, administrators and guardians; transact all business appertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition and distribution of estates of deceased persons; and to apprentice minors as provided by law; and the said Court, or the Judge thereof, shall have the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, and all writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said Court; and also to punish contempts under such provisions as are or may be provided by General Law governing County Courts throughout the State. The County Judge of Nolan County shall be the Judge of the County Court of Nolan County. All ex-officio duties of the County Judge shall be exercised by the Judge of the County Court of Nolan County except in so far as the same shall, by this Act, be committed to the Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County.

Sec. 7. The terms of the County Court at Law of Nolan County shall be as prescribed by the laws relating to the County Courts. The terms of the County Court at Law of Nolan County shall be held as now established for the terms of the County Court of Nolan County and the same may be changed in accordance with the laws governing the change in the terms of the County Court of Nolan County.

Sec. 8. There shall be elected in Nolan County by the qualified voters thereof, at each General Election, a Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County. No person shall be elected or appointed Judge of the Court who is not a resident citizen of Nolan County. He shall also be a licensed Attorney of the State of Texas and shall have been a licensed Attorney of the State of Texas for at least two (2) years immediately prior to his appointment or election. The person elected such Judge shall hold his office for four (4) years and until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified.

Sec. 9. The County Attorney of Nolan County shall represent the State in all prosecutions in the County Court at Law of Nolan County, as provided by law for such prosecutions in County Courts, and shall be entitled to the same fees as now prescribed by law for such prosecutions in the County Courts.

Sec. 10. As soon as this Act becomes effective the Commissioners Court of Nolan County shall appoint a Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County, who shall hold his office until the next General Election and until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified, and shall provide suitable quarters for the holding of said court.

Sec. 11. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as any County Judge may be removed under the laws of this State.

Sec. 12. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by law relating to County Judges.

Sec. 13. A special Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County may be appointed or elected as provided by law relating to County Courts and to the Judge thereof. He shall receive the sum of Thirty Dollars ($30) per day for each day he so actually serves, to be paid out of the general fund of the county by the Commissioners Court.

Sec. 14. In the case of the disqualification of the Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County to try any case pending in his Court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a Special Judge to try such case or cases where the Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County is disqualified. In case of the selection of such Special Judge by agreement of the parties or their Attorneys, such Special Judge shall draw the same compensation as that provided in Section 13 of this Act.

Sec. 15. The County Court at Law of Nolan County, or the Judge thereof, shall have the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, superseades, and all writs necessary to the enforcement of jurisdiction of the Court and to issue writs of habeas corpus in such cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of said Court or of any other Court in said County of inferior jurisdiction to the County Court at Law.

Sec. 16. The County Clerk of Nolan County shall be the clerk of the County Court at Law of Nolan County, and the seal of the Court shall be the same as that provided by law for County Courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Nolan County."

Sec. 17. The Sheriff of Nolan County shall in person or by deputy attend the County Court at Law of Nolan County when required by the Judge thereof.

Sec. 18. The jurisdiction and authority now vested by law in the County Court of Nolan County and the Judge thereof, for the drawing, selection and service of jurors and talesmen shall also be exercised by the County Court at Law of Nolan County and the Judge thereof; but jurors and talesmen summoned for either of said Courts may by order of the Judge of the Court in which they are summoned be transferred to the other Court for service therein and may be used therein as if summoned for the Court to which they may be thus transferred. Upon concurrence of the Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County and the Judge of the County Court of Nolan County, jurors may be summoned for service in both Courts and shall be used interchangeably in both such Courts. All summons for petit jurors for all civil and criminal cases under existing laws at the time this Act takes effect, shall be as valid as if no change had been made and the persons constituting such jury panels shall be required to appear and serve at the ensuing term of said Courts as fixed by this Act, and their acts as jurors shall be as valid as if they had been selected as jurors in the Court for which they were originally drawn.

Sec. 19. Any vacancy in the office of the Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County shall be filled by the Commissioners Court, and when so filled, the Judge shall hold office until the next General Election and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Sec. 20. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County shall receive the same salary and be paid from the same fund and in the same manner as is now prescribed or may be established by law for the County Judge of Nolan County, to be paid out by the County Treasurer of Nolan County, Texas, on the order of the Commissioners Court of said County, and said salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments.

Sec. 21. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County shall assess the same fees as are prescribed by law relating to the County Judge's fees all of which shall be collected by the Clerk of the Court and shall be paid into the County Treasury on collection, no part of which shall be paid to the Judge, but he shall draw the salary as above specified in this Act.

Sec. 22. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Nolan County may appoint an official shorthand reporter for such Court who shall be well-skilled in his profession and shall be a sworn officer of the Court and shall hold his office at the pleasure of the Court. Such reporter shall take the oath required of official court reporters and shall receive a salary as set by the Commissioners Court of Nolan County to be paid out of the County Treasury of Nolan County, as other county officials are paid, in equal monthly installments. All other provisions of Chapter 13, Title 42, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and as the same may hereafter be amended, and all other provisions of the law relating to official court reporters shall be and are hereby made to apply in all its provisions in so far as they are applicable to the official shorthand reporter herein authorized to be appointed and in so far as they are not inconsistent with this Act.

Sec. 23. The laws of the State of Texas, the rules of procedure and the rules of evidence shall be applicable to and control trials and proceedings in the County Court at Law of Nolan County, and shall be applicable to and govern the proceedings in and appeals to and appeals from the County Court at Law of Nolan County.

SMITH COUNTY

Art. 1970-348. County Court at Law of Smith County

Sec. 1. There is hereby created a court to be held in Tyler, Smith County, Texas, which shall be known as the County Court at Law of Smith County.

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Smith County shall have jurisdiction in all matters, causes, and proceedings, civil, criminal and probate, original and appellate, and also including eminent domain proceedings, over which by the General Laws of this State county courts have jurisdiction, and jurisdiction of said County Court at Law shall be concurrent with that of the County Court of Smith County; but this provision shall not affect the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or the County Judge of Smith County as the presiding officer of the Commissioners Court.

(b) The Judge of the County Court at Law may sit in the absence of the County Judge of Smith County from the courtroom in all matters, causes, and proceedings without the necessity of transferring those matters, causes, and proceedings except matters coming under the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court where the County Judge would be the presiding officer of that Court.

(c) The County Judge, if a duly licensed attorney, may sit in the absence of the Judge of the County Court at Law from the courtroom in all matters and causes without the necessity of transferring those matters and causes.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this Act shall diminish the jurisdiction of the County Court of Smith County. The County Court of Smith County, or the Judge thereof, shall have the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, and all writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court; and also to punish contempts under such provisions as are or may be provided by General Law governing county courts throughout the State. The County Judge of Smith County shall be the Judge of the County Court of Smith County. All ex officio duties of the County Judge shall be exercised by the Judge of the County Court of Smith County, except insofar as the same shall, by this Act, be committed to the Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County.

Sec. 4. The terms of the County Court at Law of Smith County shall be as prescribed by the laws relating to the county courts. The terms of the County Court at Law of Smith County shall be held as now established for the terms of the County Court of Smith County and the same may be changed in accordance with the laws governing the change in the terms of the County Court of Smith County.

Sec. 5. At the next general election after the effective date of this Act there shall be elected a Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County who shall have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than five (5) years, well-informed in the laws of the state, who shall have resided in and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Smith County, Texas, for a period of not less than two (2) years prior to such general election, and who shall hold his office for the unexpired term. At the general election in November, 1966, he shall be elected to hold his office for four (4) years and until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified. When this Act becomes effective the Commissioners Court of Smith County, Texas, shall appoint a judge of said court at law of Smith County, who shall have the qualifications herein prescribed and who shall serve until the next general election and until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified. Any vacancy thereafter occurring in the office of the Judge of said County Court at Law of Smith County shall in like manner, as hereinabove provided, be filled by said Commissioners Court of Smith County, the appointee thereof to hold office until the next succeeding general election and until his successor shall be duly elected and qualified.

Sec. 6. The Criminal District Attorney of Smith County shall represent the state in all prosecutions in the County Court at Law of Smith County, as provided by law for such prosecutions in county courts, and shall be entitled to the same fees as now prescribed by law for such prosecutions in the county courts.

Sec. 7. As soon as this Act becomes effective the Commissioners Court of Smith County shall appoint a Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County, who shall hold his office until the next general election and until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified, and shall provide suitable quarters for the holding of said court.

Sec. 8. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as any county judge may be removed under the laws of this state.

Sec. 9. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by law relating to county judges.

Sec. 10. A special judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County may be appointed or elected as provided by law relating to county courts and to the judge thereof. He shall receive the sum of Thirty Dollars ($30) per day for each day he so actually serves, to be paid out of the general fund of the county by the Commissioners Court.

Sec. 11. In the case of the disqualification of the Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County to try any case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge to try such case or cases where the Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County is disqualified. In case of the selection of such special judge by agreement of the parties or their attorneys, such special judge shall draw the same compensation as that provided in Section 10 of this Act.

Sec. 12. The County Court at Law of Smith County, or the Judge thereof, shall have the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, superseades, and all writs necessary to the enforcement of jurisdiction of the court, and to issue writs of habeas corpus in such cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of said court or of any other court in the county of inferior jurisdiction to the County Court at Law. The County Court at Law or the Judge thereof shall also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for County Courts.

Sec. 13. The County Clerk of Smith County shall be the clerk of the County Court at Law of Smith County, and the seal of the court shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Smith County."

Sec. 14. The Sheriff of Smith County shall in person or by deputy attend the County Court at Law of Smith County when required by the judge thereof.

Sec. 15. The jurisdiction and authority now vested by law in the County Court of Smith County and the judge thereof, for the drawing, selection and service of jurors and talesmen shall also be exercised by the County Court at Law of Smith County and the judge thereof; but jurors and talesmen summoned for either of said courts may by order of the judge of the court in which they are summoned be transferred to the other court for service therein and may be used therein as if summoned for the court to which they may be thus transferred. Upon concurrence of the Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County and the Judge of the County Court of Smith County jurors may be summoned for service in both courts and shall be used interchangeably in both such courts. All summons for petit jurors for all civil and criminal cases under existing laws at the time this Act takes effect, shall be as valid as if no change had been made and the persons constituting such jury panels shall be required to appear and serve at the ensuing term of said courts as fixed by this Act, and their acts as jurors shall be as valid as if they had been selected as jurors in the court for which they were originally drawn.

Sec. 16. Any vacancy in the office of the Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County shall be filled by the Commissioners Court, and when so filled the judge shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Sec. 17. From and after the passage of this Act the Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County shall receive an annual salary of not less than $12,000 nor more than $16,000 as set by the Commissioners Court, to be paid out of the county treasury on the order of the Commissioners Court, and said salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed or may be established by law, relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, no part of which shall be paid to the said judge, but he shall draw the salary as above specified in this Section.

Sec. 18. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County may appoint an official shorthand reporter for such court who shall be well-skilled in his profession and shall be a sworn officer of the court and shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court. Such reporter shall take the oath required of official court reporters and shall receive a salary as set by the Commissioners Court of Smith County to be paid out of the County Treasury of Smith County, as other county officials are paid, in equal monthly installments. All other provisions of Chapter 13, Title 42, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended and as the same may hereafter be amended, and all other provisions of the law relating to official court reporters shall be and are hereby made to apply in all its provisions in so far as they are applicable to the official shorthand reporter herein authorized to be appointed and in so far as they are not inconsistent with this Act.

Sec. 18a. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County, with the consent of the Commissioners Court, may employ a secretary. The secretary is entitled to a salary as determined by the Commissioners Court.

Sec. 19. The laws of the State of Texas, the rules of procedure and the rules of evidence shall be applicable to and control trials and proceedings in the County Court at Law of Smith County, and shall be applicable to and govern the proceedings in and appeals to and appeals from the County Court at Law of Smith County.

Art. 1970-348a. County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County

Sec. 1. There is created a court to be held in Tyler, Smith County, Texas, which shall be known as the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County.

Sec. 2. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County shall have jurisdiction in all matters, causes, and proceedings, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, over which by the general laws of this state county courts have jurisdiction, and jurisdiction of the County Court at Law No. 2 is concurrent with that of the County Court of Smith County and the County Court at Law of Smith County. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or the County Judge of Smith County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court. The County Judge of Smith County shall be the judge of the County Court of Smith County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Smith County, except insofar as the same shall, by this Act, be committed to the judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 3. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest, as provided by general law.

Sec. 4. The terms of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County shall be the same as the terms of the County Court of Smith County and may be changed in accordance with the laws governing the change in the terms of the County Court of Smith County.

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County shall have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than five years, shall be well-informed in the laws of the state, and shall have resided in and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Smith County, Texas, for a period of not less than two years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Smith County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County, and shall provide suitable quarters for the holding of the court. The judge appointed serves until the general election in 1976, and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1976, there shall be elected a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 for a term ending on December 31, 1978. At the general election in 1978 and every four years thereafter, the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall be elected for a regular four year term as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. Any vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Smith

County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified.

Sec. 6. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as any county judge may be removed under the laws of this state.

Sec. 7. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by law relating to county judges.

Sec. 8. A special judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County may be appointed or elected as provided by law relating to county courts and to the judge thereof. He shall receive for each day he actually serves the same compensation as provided for a special judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County, to be paid out of the general fund of the county by the commissioners court.

Sec. 9. In the case of the disqualification of the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge to try the case or cases where the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County is disqualified. In case of the selection of a special judge by agreement of the parties or their attorneys, the special judge shall draw the same compensation as that provided for a special judge in the County Court at Law of Smith County.

Sec. 10. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County, or the judge thereof, shall have the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary to the enforcement of jurisdiction of the court, and to issue writs of habeas corpus in such cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of said court or of any other court in the county of inferior jurisdiction to the county court at law. The County Court at Law No. 2, or the judge thereof, shall also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

Sec. 11. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may sit in the absence from the courtroom of the County Judge of Smith County in all matters, causes, and proceedings without the necessity of transferring those matters, causes, and proceedings, except matters coming under the jurisdiction of the commissioners court where the county judge would be the presiding officer of that court.

(b) The county judge, if a duly licensed attorney, may sit in the absence from the courtroom of the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 in all matters and causes without the necessity of transferring those matters and causes. The judges of the county courts at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other without the necessity of transferring the case involved.

(c) Except in cases where the writ of certiorari has been granted, the judges of the county court and the county courts at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(d) In cases transferred to either of the courts by order of the judge of one of the other courts, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before the transfer, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 12. The Criminal District Attorney of Smith County shall represent the state in all prosecutions in the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County, as provided by law for such prosecutions in county courts, and shall be entitled to the same fees as now prescribed by law for such prosecutions in the county courts.

Sec. 13. The County Clerk of Smith County shall be the clerk of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County, and the seal of the court shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County."

Sec. 14. The Sheriff of Smith County shall in person or by deputy attend the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County when required by the judge thereof.

Sec. 15. The jurisdiction and authority now vested by law in the County Court of Smith County, and the judge thereof, for the drawing, selection and service of jurors and talesmen shall also be exercised by the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County and the judge thereof. Jurors and talesmen summoned for either of the county courts at law or the county court may by order of the judge of the court in which they are summoned be transferred to the other courts for service and may be used as if summoned for the court to which they may be thus transferred. On concurrence of the judges of the county courts at law and the judge of the County Court of Smith County, jurors may be summoned for service in all of those courts and shall be used interchangeably in all such courts. All summons for petit jurors for all civil and criminal cases under existing laws at the time this Act takes effect, shall be as valid as if no change had been made and the persons constituting such jury panels shall be required to appear and serve at the ensuing term of the courts as fixed by this Act, and their acts as jurors shall be as valid as if they had been selected as jurors in the court for which they were originally drawn.

Sec. 16. The laws of the State of Texas, the rules of procedure, and the rules of evidence shall be applicable to and control trials and proceedings in the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County, and shall be applicable to and govern the proceedings in and appeals to and appeals from the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County.

Sec. 17. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County shall receive an annual salary equal to the annual salary of the judge of the County Court at Law of Smith County as set by the commissioners court, to be paid out of the county treasury on the order of the commissioners court. The salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed or may be established by law, relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, no part of which shall be paid to the judge, but he shall draw the salary as above specified in this section.

Sec. 18. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County may appoint an official shorthand reporter for the court who shall be well-skilled in his profession and shall be a sworn officer of the court and shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court. The reporter shall take the oath required of official court reporters and shall receive a salary as set by the Commissioners Court of Smith County to be paid out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments. All other provisions of Chapter 13, Title 42, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended and as the same may hereafter be amended, and all other provisions of the law relating to official court reporters shall be and are hereby made to apply in all provisions in so far as they are applicable to the official shorthand reporter authorized to be appointed and in so far as they are not inconsistent with this Act.

Sec. 19. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Smith County, with the consent of the commissioners court, may employ a secretary. The secretary is entitled to a salary as determined by the commissioners court.

ORANGE COUNTY

Art. 1970-349. County Court at Law of Orange County

Creation and Jurisdiction

Sec. 1. (a) On the effective date of this Act (as provided in Section 6), the County Court at Law of Orange County is created.

(b) The County Court at Law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, including eminent domain proceedings, prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Orange County.

(c) The County Court at Law, or its judge, may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the Court; and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the Court, or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

(d) The County Judge of Orange County is the Judge of the County Court of Orange County. All ex officio duties of the County Judge shall be exercised by the Judge of the County Court of Orange County unless by this Act committed to the Judge of the County Court at Law.

Terms of Court

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of Orange County by order duly entered of record, shall prescribe not less than four terms each year for the County Court at Law of Orange County.

Judge

Sec. 3. (a) At the next general election after the effective date of this Act there shall be elected a Judge of the County Court at Law of Orange County who must have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than four years, be well informed in the laws of this State, and who must have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Orange County for a period of not less than two years prior to the general election. The Judge elected holds office for four years and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified. During his term of office the Judge may not appear and plead as an attorney at law in any court of record in this State.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Orange County shall appoint a Judge to the County Court at Law of Orange County. The Judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this Section and serves until January 1st of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified. Any vacancy occurring in the office of the Judge of the County Court at Law may be filled in like manner by the Commissioners Court and the appointee holds office until January 1st of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified.

(c) The Judge of the County Court at Law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The Judge of the County Court at Law shall receive not less than the same salary prescribed by the Commissioners Court of Orange County for the County Judge of Orange County and not more than $15,000 per annum. Such salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury on order of the Commissioners Court. The Judge of the County Court at Law shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may not be paid to the Judge.

(e) A special judge of the County Court at Law may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications, and is entitled to the same rate of compensation, as the regular judge.

Court Officials

Sec. 4. (a) The County Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Orange County, Texas, shall serve as County Attorney, Clerk, and Sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Orange County. The Commissioners Court of Orange County may employ as many additional assistant county attorneys, deputy sheriffs and clerks as are necessary to serve the Court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices in Orange County.

(b) The Judge of the County Court at Law shall appoint an official court reporter, who shall have the qualifications and duties provided by law. The official court reporter shall receive a salary, to be fixed by the Commissioners Court of Orange County, of not more than $9,000 per year.

Practice

Sec. 5. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Orange County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Orange County.

(b) The Judges of the County Court and the County Court at Law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts so that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred; and no case may be transferred to the County Court at Law unless it is within the jurisdiction of that Court.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the District Courts of Orange County, Texas, may, at the request of either the Judge of the County Court or of the County Court at Law, be made available by the District Judges in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in either or both the County Court or the County Court at Law.

Effective Date

Sec. 6. The Act becomes effective upon order of the Commissioners Court of Orange County duly entered in its minutes.

[Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 1012, ch. 498, eff. Aug. 30, 1965. Amended by Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2126, ch. 730, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1006, ch. 194, § 1, eff. May 13, 1971.]

Art. 1970-349A. County Court at Law of Orange County; Jurisdiction Concurrent with District and County Courts

Sec. 1. In addition to the jurisdiction now conferred upon the County Court at Law of Orange County, by the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas, said court shall hereinafter have and exercise concurrent civil jurisdiction with the District Courts in Orange County, in suits, causes and matters involving adoptions, removal of disability of minority and coverture, wife and child desertion, delinquent, neglected or dependent child proceedings, Reciprocal Support Act and all jurisdiction, powers and authority now or hereafter placed in the District or County Courts under the juvenile and child welfare laws of this State; and of all divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights and custody and support of minor children involved therein, alimony pending final hearing, and any and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings as well as independent actions involving child custody or support of minors, change of name of persons; and all other cases involving justiciable controversies and differences between spouses, or between parents, or between them, or one of them, and their minor children, or between any of these and third persons, corporations, trustees or other legal entities, which are now, or may hereafter be within the jurisdiction of the District or County Court; all cases in which children are alleged or charged to be dependent and neglected children or delinquent children as provided by law, and said Court and the Judges thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction.

Sec. 2. After the effective date of this Act all cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated or included above may be instituted or transferred between the District Courts of Orange County and the County Court at Law of Orange County.

Sec. 3. Should the Judge be disqualified to try a particular case, or should the Judge by reason of illness or otherwise fail or refuse to hold court as needed, on matters pending in the County Court at Law of Orange County, such fact shall be brought to the attention of a Judge of the District Courts of Orange County by any attorney, whereupon such matters as require attention shall be promptly acted upon by the said Judge of the District Courts of Orange County and disposed of in the manner as other matters or trials in the several District Courts. In the event it should ever become necessary to select a special Judge for the County Court at Law of Orange County, such special Judge shall be selected in the manner provided by law for the selection of a special Judge of the District Court.

Sec. 4. Nothing in the Act shall diminish the jurisdiction of the District Courts of Orange County, but such Courts shall retain and continue to exercise such jurisdiction as is now or may be hereafter conferred by law. Such District Courts shall continue to exercise concurrent jurisdiction on all matters which by this Act are brought within the concurrent jurisdiction of the County Court at Law of Orange County and none of the District Courts of Orange County shall be relieved by the provisions of this Act of their several responsibilities for the handling and disposition of all matters which are by this Act brought within the concurrent jurisdiction of the County Court at Law of Orange County as time and the condition of the dockets of such District Courts will permit.

Sec. 5. The County Court at Law of Orange County shall retain concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court of Orange County in all matters and causes, civil and criminal, original and appellate, over which, by the general laws and the Constitution of this State County Courts have jurisdiction, and in addition thereto any additional jurisdiction which may hereafter be assigned to the County Courts at Law of the State of Texas as now constituted or as they may hereafter be constituted, except the executive functions of the County Judge as a member of the Commissioners Court, Board of Equalization, Budget Officer and other executive and administrative functions.

Sec. 6. The jurisdiction of the County Court at Law of Orange County shall extend to all matters of eminent domain of which jurisdiction has heretofore been vested in the County Courts of Orange County, but this provision shall not affect the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or of the County Judge of Orange County as the presiding officer of said Commissioners Court as to roads, bridges, public highways and matters of eminent domain which are now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or the presiding Judge thereof, including the right of the County Judge of Orange County to appoint commissioners in condemnation, receive the reports and enter judgments. It is the intention of this Section to vest in the County Court at Law of Orange County jurisdiction to hear any and all matters in condemnation, whether by commission or jury of view, appealed to the County Court at Law of Orange County or to the County Court only.

Sec. 7. The County Court of Law of Orange County shall also have the general jurisdiction of a Probate Court within the limits of Orange County, concurrent with the jurisdiction of the County Court of Orange County in such matters and proceedings. Said County Court at Law of Orange County shall have authority to probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos men-tis and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, transact all business appertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition and distribution of estates of deceased persons, the apprenticing of minors as provided by law and conduct lunacy proceedings.

The County Court at Law of Orange County shall have jurisdiction concurrent with the County Court of Orange County conferred upon County Courts or upon Probate Court specially created by the Legislature in Article 1970a-1, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as the same now stands or may hereafter be amended, and all other provisions of the law relating to Probate Courts whether specially created by the Legislature or otherwise, shall be and they are hereby made to apply concurrently in all their provisions insofar as they are applicable to the County Court at Law of Orange County and insofar as they are not inconsistent with this Act. It is the intention of the Legislature in this Act that the County Judge of Orange County shall be the Judge of the County Court of Orange County; all ex officio duties of the County Judge shall be exercised by the Judge of the County Court of Orange County and all duties and jurisdiction vested in the County Court of Orange County by this Act now being performed by the County Judge of Orange County, Texas, is and shall be concurrent.

Sec. 8. With reference to all matters, civil, criminal and probate, over which the County Court at Law is given concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court of Orange County, the Judge of the County Court at Law of Orange County shall use the same dockets as now provided by said County Clerk in accordance with law for the use of the Judge of the County Court and Probate Court of Orange County and the Judge of the County Court at Law of Orange County and County Judge shall have concurrent jurisdiction over all matters therein insofar as provided in this Act. All suits and other proceedings instituted in the County over which the County Court or Probate Court has jurisdiction shall be addressed to the County Court of the County. The Judge of either the County Court at Law of Orange County or the County Judge may hear and dispose of any suit or other proceeding on the civil, criminal and probate dockets of the County Court of Orange County without the necessity of transferring the suit or other proceeding, either civil, criminal or probate, from one court to the other. Every judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the County Court or Probate Court and the Clerk of the County Court in said County shall keep one set of minutes in which shall be recorded all the judgments and orders of the County Court at Law of Orange County and the County Court of Orange County. All citations and other process issued by the County Clerk and all notices, restraining orders and other process authorized to be issued by the Clerk of the County Court shall be returnable to the County Court of Orange County, and on the return of such process the hearing or trial may be presided over by the Judge of the County Court at Law of Orange County insofar as provided by this Act or the Judge of the County Court, and any and all such Acts thus performed by the County Court at Law of Orange County or the County Court of Orange County shall be valid and binding upon all parties to such cases, matters and proceedings.

Sec. 9. Immediately after this Act takes effect, the District Clerk of Orange County, who shall be the Clerk of the County Court at Law of Orange County in all matters wherein the County Court at Law of Orange County has concurrent jurisdiction with the District Courts of Orange County may file in the County Court at Law of Orange County any cases involving adoptions and independent actions involving child custody and support of minors, including cases under the Reciprocal Support Act, all applications to change the names of persons and all divorce cases. The County Clerk of Orange County shall be the Clerk of the County Court at Law of Orange County in all matters wherein the County Court at Law of Orange County has concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court.

Sec. 10. The said County Court at Law of Orange County shall be a Court of Record, shall sit and hold court in the county seat of Orange County, shall have a seal and maintain all necessary dockets, records and minutes as herein provided. These dockets, records and minutes shall be separate from the dockets, records and minutes of the District Courts of Orange County and as provided hereinbefore with the County Court of Orange County, Texas.

Sec. 11. It shall be the duty of the Probation Department, the Sheriff, Constables and other law enforcement agencies of the State of Texas and Orange County and the cities thereof as well as Welfare Agencies, to furnish said County Court at Law of Orange County such services in the line of their respective duties as shall be required by said Court and all Sheriffs and Constables within the State of Texas shall render the same services with reference to process and writs from the District Court, County Courts and Probate Courts.

Sec. 12. The said County Court at Law of Orange County and the Judge thereof shall have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus and mandamus, injunctions, restraining orders, orders of sale, executions, writs of possession and restitution and any and all other writs as now or hereafter may be issued under the laws of this State by District Courts and County Courts, when necessary or proper in cases or matters in which said County Court at Law of Orange County has jurisdiction. It shall also have power to punish for contempt.

Sec. 13. The County Court at Law of Orange County as herein created shall have the same terms of Court as the District Courts of Orange County as are presently established or as they may hereinafter be changed.

Sec. 14. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Orange County may be appointed a member of the Juvenile Board of Orange County and may be paid additional compensation therefor by the Commissioners Court of Orange County, not to exceed the amount paid by Orange County, to the District Judges and/or the County Judge of Orange County for acting as members of the Juvenile Board.

Sec. 15. Appeals in all civil cases from judgments and orders of said Court shall be to the Court of Civil Appeals as is now or may be hereafter provided for appeals from District and County Courts and in all criminal cases shall be to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Sec. 16. The practice and procedure, rules of evidence, the drawing of jury panels, selection of juries, issuance of process and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearing in said Court shall be governed by provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to District Courts, general or special, as well as County Courts; provided that juries in all matters civil or criminal shall always be composed of twelve (12) members except that in misdemeanor criminal cases the juries shall be composed of six (6) members, as well as six (6) member juries in cases where this Court has concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court as herein provided.

Sec. 17. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Orange County shall have authority to appoint a Court Reporter in such cases as may be required by law, and in such other cases as he shall deem it necessary to record and preserve the testimony. Such Court Reporter may be paid a salary out of the general fund of the County as may be fixed by the Commissioners Court, and shall not exceed the amount paid to reporters of the District Courts of Orange County. The Judge shall also have the power and authority to appoint a court interpreter, in such cases as may be necessary, who may be paid such fees and compensation out of the general fund of the County for such service as may be fixed by the Commissioners Court.

Sec. 18. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Orange County shall not appear as an attorney at law in any court of record in this State nor shall he appear and practice as an attorney at law in any Court or Justice Court over which he has original or appellate jurisdiction.

Sec. 19. From and after the passage of this Act the Judge of the County Court at Law of Orange County shall receive an annual salary of not less than is presently being paid by the County of Orange to the Judge of the County Court at Law of Orange County nor more than that which is paid by the State of Texas to the Judges of the District Courts of Orange County, Texas, as set by the Commissioners Court to be paid out of the county treasury on the order of the Commissioners Court and said salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments.

Sec. 20. Nothing in this Act shall diminish the jurisdiction of the several District Courts of Orange County and the County Court of Orange County and such courts shall retain and continue to exercise such jurisdiction as is now or may be hereafter conferred by law and the jurisdiction given herein is concurrent with the jurisdiction of said Courts.

BELL COUNTY

Art. 1970-350. County Court at Law No. 1 of Bell County

Creation and Jurisdiction

Sec. 1. (a) On the effective date of this Act (as provided in Section 6), the County Court at Law of Bell County is created.

(b) The County Court at Law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Bell County.

(c) The County Court at Law, or its judge, may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court; and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

(d) The County Judge of Bell County is the Judge of the County Court of Bell County. All ex officio duties of the County Judge shall be exercised by the Judge of the County Court of Bell County unless by this Act committed to the Judge of the County Court at Law.

Change of Name

Sec. 1A. The name of the County Court at Law of Bell County is changed to County Court at Law No. 1 of Bell County, and all laws heretofore or hereafter enacted by the Legislature applicable or relating to the County Court at Law of Bell County shall hereafter be applicable and shall relate to the County Court at Law No. 1 of Bell County.

Terms of Court

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of Bell County by order duly entered of record, shall prescribe not less than four terms each year for the County Court at Law of Bell County.

Judge

Sec. 3. (a) At the next general election after the effective date of this Act there shall be elected a Judge of the County Court at Law of Bell County who must have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than three years, be well informed in the laws of this state, and who must have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Bell County for a period of not less than two years prior to the general election. The Judge elected holds office for four years and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified. During his term of office the Judge may not appear and plead as an attorney at law in any court of record in this state.

(b) If any vacancy occurs in the office of the Judge of the County Court at Law, the Commissioners Court shall appoint the Judge of the County Court at Law who must have the same qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this Section and the appointee holds office until January 1st of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified.

(c) The Judge of the County Court at Law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The Judge of the County Court at Law shall receive a salary in an amount determined by the Commissioners Court not to exceed the salary prescribed by the Commissioners Court for the County Judge of Bell County. Such salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury on order of the Commissioners Court. The Judge of the County Court at Law shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may not be paid to the Judge.

(e) A special judge of the County Court at Law may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications, and is entitled to the same rate of compensation, as the regular judge.

(f) The Judge of the County Court at Law shall be a member of the Juvenile Board of Bell County, and for this additional work as a member of the Juvenile Board he shall be allowed compensation in like manner as other members of said Juvenile Board, such compensation to be determined and fixed by order of the Commissioners Court and to be paid in addition to any other compensation to which he is entitled under the provisions of law.

Court Officials

Sec. 4. (a) The County Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Bell County, Texas shall serve as County Attorney, Clerk, and Sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Bell County. Those serving shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices in Bell County.

(b) The Judge of the County Court at Law may appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Bell County.

Practice

Sec. 5. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Bell County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Bell County.

(b) The Judges of the County Court and the County Court at Law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts so that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred; and no case may be transferred to the County Court at Law unless it is within the jurisdiction of that Court.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the District Courts of Bell County, Texas, may at the request of either the Judge of the County Court or of the County Court at Law, be made available by the District Judges in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in either or both the County Court or the County Court at Law.

Effective Date

Sec. 6. The Act becomes effective upon order of the Commissioners Court of Bell County duly entered in its minutes.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 457, ch. 208, eff. Aug. 28, 1967. Amended by Acts 1972, 62nd Leg., 4th C.S., p. 21, ch. 4, § 2, eff. Oct. 17, 1972; Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 79, ch. 37, § 7, eff. April 3, 1975.]

Art. 1970-350a. County Court at Law No. 2 of Bell County

Sec. 1. (a) On the effective date of this Act, the County Court at Law No. 2 of Bell County is created.

(b) The County Court at Law No. 2 has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Bell County and the County Court at Law of Bell County.

(c) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Bell County, or its judge, may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court; and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

(d) The County Judge of Bell County is the Judge of the County Court of Bell County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the Judge of the County Court of Bell County unless by this Act committed to the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of Bell County, by order duly entered of record, shall prescribe not less than four terms each year for the County Court at Law No. 2 of Bell County.

Sec. 3. (a) As soon as practicable after this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Bell County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law No. 2 of Bell County. The judge appointed serves until January 1, 1977, and until his successor has qualified. At the general election in 1976, a successor shall be elected to serve until January 1, 1979. At the general election in 1978 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Bell County a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Bell County for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(b) The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Bell County must have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than three years, be well informed in the laws of this state, and must have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Bell County for a period of not less than two years prior to his election or appointment. During his term of office the Judge may not appear and plead as an attorney at law in any court of record in this state.

(c) If any vacancy occurs in the office of the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2, the commissioners court shall appoint the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2, who must have the same qualifications prescribed in Subsection (b) of this section, and the appointee holds office until January 1st of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified.

(d) The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(e) The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall receive a salary in an amount determined by the commissioners court not to exceed the salary prescribed by the commissioners court for the County Judge of Bell County. Such salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners court. The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may not be paid to the judge.

(f) A special judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications, and is entitled to the same rate of compensation, as the regular judge.

(g) The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall be a member of the Juvenile Board of Bell County, and for this additional work as a member of the juvenile board he shall be allowed compensation in like manner as other members of said juvenile board, such compensation to be determined and fixed by order of the commissioners court and to be paid in addition to any other compensation to which he is entitled under the provisions of law.

Sec. 4. (a) The County Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Bell County, Texas, shall serve as County Attorney, Clerk, and Sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Bell County. Those serving shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices in Bell County.

(b) The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Bell County.

Sec. 5. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law No. 2 of Bell County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Bell County.

(b) The Judge of each of the County Courts at Law or the County Court of Bell County may, in his discretion, either in term-time or in vacation, on motion of any party or on agreement of the parties, or on his own motion, transfer any cause, civil or criminal, on his docket to the docket of either of those courts, and the judges of those courts may, in their discretion, exchange benches from time to time. Whenever a judge of one of those courts is disqualified, he shall transfer the case from his court to one of the other courts, and either judge may, in his own courtroom, try and determine any case or proceeding pending in either of the county courts at law or the county court, without having the case transferred, or may sit in the other court and there hear and determine any case there pending, and each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The judges may try different cases in the same court at the same time and each may occupy his own courtroom or the room of any county court at law or the county court. In case of absence, sickness, or disqualification of the judge of either of the county courts at law or the county court, either of the other judges may hold court for him. Either of the judges may hear any part of any case or proceeding pending in either of the county courts at law or the county court and determine the same or may hear and determine any question in any case, and either judge may complete the hearing and render judgment in the case. In cases transferred to one of the county courts at law or the county court by order of the judge of one of the other courts, all process, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in the cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law and by this Act. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken in the cases, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the District Courts of Bell County, Texas, may at the request of either the Judge of the County Court, the County Court at Law, or the County Court at Law No. 2 be made available by the district judges in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in either the County Court, the County Court at Law, or the County Court at Law No. 2.

GUADALUPE COUNTY

Art. 1970-351. County Court at Law of Guadalupe County

Creation and Jurisdiction

Sec. 1. (a) The County Court at Law of Guadalupe County is created on the effective date of this Act provided in Section 7. It sits in Seguin.

(b) The county court at law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Guadalupe County. However, the county court at law does not have jurisdiction over eminent domain proceedings or over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways which are now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or County Court of Guadalupe County.

(c) The county court at law, or its judge, may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court; and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court in the county of inferior jurisdiction. The court and judge also have the same power to punish for contempt prescribed by law for county courts.

(d) The County Judge of Guadalupe County is the Judge of the County Court of Guadalupe County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the Judge of the County Court of Guadalupe County unless by this Act committed to the Judge of the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County.

Terms of Court

Sec. 2. The terms of the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County are the same as those of the County Court of Guadalupe County.

Judge

Sec. 3. (a) At the general election in November 1970, a Judge of the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County shall be elected if this Act has taken effect in accordance with Section 7.

(b) To be eligible for the office of Judge of the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County, a person must be 30 years old or older, have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than five years before the election, and have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Guadalupe County for a period of not less than two years before the election.

(c) The judge elected holds office for four years and until a successor has been duly elected and qualified.

(d) Any vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the county court at law shall be filled by the commissioners court appointing a person with the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (b) of this section. The appointee holds office until the next general election and until a successor has been duly elected and qualified. The appointee is entitled to the same compensation as his predecessor.

(e) The Judge of the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(f) The Commissioners Court of Guadalupe County shall fix the salary of the Judge of the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County.

(g) When the Judge of the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County is disqualified, the Commissioners Court of Guadalupe County shall appoint a special judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications, and is entitled to the same rate of compensation, as the regular judge.

Court Officials and Personnel

Sec. 4. (a) The County Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Guadalupe County shall serve as County Attorney, Clerk, and Sheriff, respectively, for the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County. The Commissioners Court of Guadalupe County may employ as many assistant county attorneys, deputy sheriffs, and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices in Guadalupe County.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter, who must have the qualifications prescribed by law for district court reporters, who serves at the pleasure of the judge, and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Guadalupe County.

Practice

Sec. 5. (a) Practice in the County Court at law of Guadalupe County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Guadalupe County.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts so that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred; and no case may be transferred to the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County unless it is within the jurisdiction of that court.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law; and he may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of the county court at law may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court.

(d) Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the district courts whose districts include Guadalupe County may, at the request of either the Judge of the County Court or County Court at Law of Guadalupe County, be made available by the district judges in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in either or both the county court or county court at law.

Facilities and Equipment

Sec. 6. (a) The Commissioners Court of Guadalupe County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the county court at law.

(b) The county court at law has a seal identical with the seal of the County Court of Guadalupe County except that it contains the words "County Court at Law of Guadalupe County."

Effective Date

Sec. 7. (a) This Act takes effect when the Commissioners Court of Guadalupe County appoints a judge to the County Court at Law of Guadalupe County.

(b) The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Section 3(b) of this Act and serves until December 31, 1970, and until a successor has been duly elected and qualified.

DENTON COUNTY

Art. 1970-352. County Court at Law of Denton County

Creation and Jurisdiction

Sec. 1. (a) The County Court at Law of Denton County, Texas, is created.

(b) The court has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts. However, it does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways which are now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court of Denton County.

(c) The jurisdiction of the County Court at Law of Denton County extends to all matters of eminent domain and is concurrent with that of the County Court and Commissioners Court of Denton County.

(d) The county court at law has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Denton County, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Denton County in probate matters and proceedings.

(e) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court; and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court in the county of inferior jurisdiction. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, and he is a magistrate and conservator of the peace.

(f) The County Judge of Denton County is the judge of the County Court of Denton County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Denton County except insofar as the same are, by this Act, committed to the judge of the County Court at Law of Denton County.

Terms of Court

Sec. 2. The terms of the County Court at Law of Denton County are the same as those for the County Court of Denton County, Texas.

Judge

Sec. 3. (a) At the next general election after the effective date of this Act there shall be elected a judge of the County Court at Law of Denton County who must have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than five years, who must be well informed in the laws of this state, and who must have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Denton County, Texas, for a period of not less than two years prior to the general election. The judge elected holds office for four years and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Denton County, Texas, shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Denton County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. Any vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the County Court at Law of Denton County may be filled in like manner by the commissioners court and the appointee holds office until the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Denton County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law of Denton County is entitled to receive the same salary, to be paid from the same fund and in the same manner, as the County Judge of Denton County receives. The judge shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may not be paid to the judge.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed or elected as provided by law for county courts. A special judge is entitled to receive $30 a day for each day he serves, to be paid out of the general fund of Denton County by the commissioners court.

(f) If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. The special judge selected is entitled to the compensation provided by Subsection (e) of this section.

Court Officials

Sec. 4. (a) The County Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Denton County, Texas, shall serve as County Attorney, Clerk, and Sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Denton County. They shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter, who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. Said official shorthand reporter shall receive a salary of not less than $7500 per annum, nor more than $10,600 per annum, and this compensation shall be fixed by the Commissioners Court of Denton County.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Denton County", but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Denton County.

Practice

Sec. 5. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Denton County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Denton County, Texas.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred; and no case may be transferred to the County Court at Law of Denton County unless it is within the jurisdiction of that court.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the cause or proceeding, civil, criminal, or probate, involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a cause or proceeding pending in the county court or county court at law; and he may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the cause or proceeding without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of the county court at law may not sit or act in any cause or proceeding over which exclusive jurisdiction is vested by this Act in the Denton County Court.

Juries

Sec. 6. (a) The jurisdiction and authority now vested by law in the County Clerk and County Judge of Denton County for the drawing, selection, and service of jurors and talesmen shall also be exercised by the county court at law and its judge. Jurors and talesmen summoned for either court may by order of the judge of the court to which they are summoned be transferred to the other court for service. Upon concurrence of the judge of the county court at law and the county judge, jurors may be summoned for service in both courts and used interchangeably.

(b) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Art. 1970-352a. County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County

Creation and Jurisdiction

Sec. 1. (a) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County is created on the date determined under Section 10 of this Act.

(b) The County Court at Law No. 2 has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, original and appellate, as prescribed by law for county courts and has jurisdiction concurrent with the County Court of Denton County and the County Court at Law of Denton County in matters and cases, civil and criminal, original and appellate. However, it does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways which are within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court of Denton County.

(c) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County has jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest.

(d) The County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Denton County, concurrent with the jurisdiction of the County Court of Denton County and the County Court at Law of Denton County in such matters and proceedings.

(e) The County Court of Denton County shall have and retain, concurrently with the County Court at Law of Denton County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County, the general jurisdiction of a probate court and jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, original and appellate, that are prescribed by the constitution and general law for county courts. The county judge of Denton County shall be the judge of the County Court of Denton County. All ex officio, executive, ministerial, and administrative duties of the county judge of Denton County shall continue to be exercised by the county judge of Denton County.

Terms and Practice

Sec. 2. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County shall sit in the county seat of Denton County and shall hold continuous terms which commence on the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in July of each year. Each term of court continues until the next succeeding term begins. The practice in the court and appeals and writs of error to and from the court shall be as prescribed by the laws and rules relating to the county courts.

Judge

Sec. 3. (a) There shall be elected, by the qualified voters of Denton County, a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2, who shall be a regularly licensed attorney at law in this state, shall be a resident citizen of Denton County, and shall have been actively engaged in the practice of law in this state for a period of not less than two years next preceding his or her election and shall hold office for four years and until a successor is elected and has qualified. As soon as this court is created, the commissioners court of Denton County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County, who shall hold the office as judge until the next general election and until a successor is elected and has qualified. Beginning at the general election in 1982 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 for the regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. A vacancy in the office of judge of County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County shall be filled by the appointment of the commissioners court of Denton County and when so filled, the judge shall hold office until the next general election and until a successor is elected and has qualified.

(b) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by law relating to county judges.

(c) A special judge of any county court at law in Denton County may be appointed or elected as provided by law relating to the county courts and to the judges thereof, who shall be compensated in the same manner as provided for special judges of the county courts.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by law for the county judges.

Compensation and Fees

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County may receive an annual salary not to exceed 90 percent of the total annual salary paid to judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Denton County, the amount of which shall be fixed by the commissioners court of Denton County. The salary shall be paid in the same manner and from the same funds as prescribed by law for payment of the salary of the county judge and judge of the County Court at Law of Denton County.

(b) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury and which may not be paid to the judge.

Writ Power

Sec. 5. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County, or the judge thereof, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary to the enforcement of jurisdiction of the court, to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is in the jurisdiction of the court or any other court in the county of inferior jurisdiction to the County Court at Law No. 2, and to punish for contempt under the provisions that are provided by the general laws governing county courts. The judge has all powers, duties, immunities, and privileges that are provided by general law for judges of courts of record and for judges of county courts at law. The judge shall be a magistrate and conservator of the peace.

Court Officials

Sec. 6. (a) The county clerk of Denton County shall be the clerk of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County, and as clerk of the court, he or she shall have the same powers, duties, privileges, and immunities as are provided by law for county clerks.

(b) The county attorney or the criminal district attorney, if there is no county attorney, and the sheriff of Denton County shall serve as county attorney, or criminal district attorney, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County. They shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall appoint an official shorthand reporter for the court, who shall have the qualifications provided by law for official court reporters, shall be a sworn officer of the court, and shall hold office at the pleasure of the judge. The duties of the reporter shall be the same as provided by general law for reporters of the district courts, and the salary of the reporter shall be set by the commissioners court and paid monthly by the commissioners court out of any funds available for the purpose.

Jurors

Sec. 7. (a) The jurisdiction and authority vested by law in the county courts, and the judges thereof, for the drawing, selection, and service of jurors shall also be exercised by the County Court at Law No. 2 and the judge thereof. Jurors summoned for either of the county courts at law or the county court may, by order of the judge of the court in which they are summoned, be transferred to either of the other courts for service and may be used as if summoned for the court to which they are thus transferred. Upon the concurrence of the judges of the county courts at law and the county judge, jurors may be summoned for service in all of those courts and shall be used interchangeably in all of those courts.

(b) Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the district court or courts may on request of either the county judge or the judge of either of the county courts at law be made available by the district judge or judges in such numbers as may be requested for service for the week in either or all of the county courts at law or the county court, and such jurors shall serve in the county court and the county courts at law the same as if they had been drawn and selected as is otherwise provided by law.

Courtroom and Seal

Sec. 8. (a) The commissioners court shall provide suitable quarters for the County Court at Law No. 2.

(b) The seal of the court shall be the same as provided by law for county courts, except that the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County, Texas."

Transfer of Cases and Exchange of Benches

Sec. 9. (a) When the County Court at Law No. 2 is created, a sufficient number of matters pending before the County Court of Denton County and the County Court at Law of Denton County shall be transferred to the County Court at Law No. 2 to equalize the dockets.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county courts at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of the respective courts. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) On the transfer pending matters to the County Court at Law No. 2, as provided by Subsection (a) of this section, and in cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or any other obligation issued or made in the case shall be returned to and filed in the court to which transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the term of the court to which the case is transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before the transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before the transfer shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(d) The county judge and judges of the county courts at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or is otherwise absent, either of the other judges may hold court for such judge without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Any judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or in a county court at law, but only in matters within the judge's jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to the judge's own docket. However, the judge of any court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of that judge's court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. This provision for the exchange of benches by and between the judge of the county court and the judges of the county courts at law is cumulative of and in addition to the provisions in this Act for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Date Created

Sec. 10. This Act takes effect and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Denton County is created on January 1, 1982, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered in its minutes, whichever date is earlier.

[Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 927, ch. 425, eff. Aug. 27, 1979. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 905, ch. 323, §§ 1, 2, eff. Aug. 31, 1981.]

PARKER COUNTY

Art. 1970-353. Parker County; Jurisdiction of County Court

Sec. 1. The County Court of Parker County shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a probate court, shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary and of administration; settle the accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians; transact all business pertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the partition, settlement, and distribution of estates of deceased persons pending in such court; conduct lunacy hearings; apprentice minors as provided by law, and issue all writs necessary for the enforcement of its own jurisdiction; punish for contempt under such provisions as now or may be provided for by general law governing county courts throughout the state; and in addition thereto, the County Court of Parker County and the judge thereof, shall have all original and appellate civil and criminal jurisdiction as normally exercised by county courts under the constitution and general laws of this state. All present and future statutes pertaining to probate matters and eminent domain enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas shall be operative in Parker County as fully as though this statute had not been enacted.

Sec. 2. All concurrent jurisdiction between the County Court of Parker County and the 43rd District Court previously existing by authority of this article is hereby abolished.

Sec. 3. Jurisdiction over juvenile matters in Parker County shall be as established by the constitution and general laws of this state.

Sec. 4. The District Clerk of Parker County shall file, within 30 days after the effective date of this amendment, with the County Clerk of Parker County, all original papers in cases herein transferred to the County Court of Parker County and all judge's dockets and certified copies of any interlocutory judgment or other order entered in the minutes of the 43rd District Court in a case transferred. The county clerk shall immediately docket all such cases on the docket of the County Court of Parker County in the same manner and place as each stands on the docket of the district court. It shall not be necessary that the county clerk refile any papers heretofore filed by the district clerk, but papers in the case bearing the file mark of the district clerk prior to the time of the transfer shall be held to have been filed in the case as of the date filed without being refiled by the county clerk. The district clerk in cases so transferred shall accompany the papers with a certified bill of costs, and against all costs deposit, the district clerk shall charge accrued fees due the district clerk and the remainder of the deposit, if any, the district clerk shall pay to the county court as a deposit in the particular case for which the deposit was made. Credit shall be given all litigants for all jury fees paid in the district court.

Sec. 5. Repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 677, ch. 257, § 3, eff. May 25, 1977.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1807, ch. 535, § 5, eff. Sept. 1, 1971. Amended by Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 1769, ch. 647, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1973; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 676, ch. 257, § 1, eff. May 25, 1977.]

Sections 6 to 8 of the 1971 act provided:

"Sec. 6. This Act shall take effect September 1, 1971.

"Sec. 7. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

"Sec. 8. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict and in any and all cases of such conflict, the provisions of this Act shall prevail."

HUNT COUNTY

Art. 1970-354. County Court at Law of Hunt County

Sec. 1. There is hereby created a Court in Hunt County, to be called the County Court at Law of Hunt County.

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Hunt County, Texas, is created.

(b) The court has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts. However, this provision shall not affect the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or of the County Judge of Hunt County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court as to roads, bridges, and public highways, as are now within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or the county judge as presiding officer.

(c) The County Court at Law of Hunt County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases as provided by general law and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $50,000, exclusive of interest.

(d) The County Court at Law has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Hunt County, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Hunt County in probate matters and proceedings.

(e) The County Court at Law of Hunt County and the judge thereof shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court of Hunt County and the judge thereof in the trial of insanity cases and the restoration thereof, approval of applications for admission to state hospitals and special schools where admissions are by application, and the power to punish for contempt.

(f) The County Court at Law of Hunt County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in suits to set aside final rulings and decisions of the Industrial Accident Board.

(g) The County Court at Law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court; and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court in the county of inferior jurisdiction. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the County Court at Law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, and he is a magistrate and conservator of the peace.

(h) The County Judge of Hunt County is the judge of the County Court of Hunt County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Hunt County except insofar as the same which are, specified by this Act, committed to the judge of the County Court at Law of Hunt County.

Sec. 3. The terms of the County Court at Law of Hunt County are the same as those for the County Court of Hunt County, Texas.

Sec. 4. (a) The Judge of the County Court at Law of Hunt County must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has actively practiced law for at least four years, who is well informed in the laws of this state, and who has been a bona fide resident of Hunt County, Texas, for at least two years immediately preceding his appointment or election. The judge holds office for four years and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Hunt County, Texas, shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Hunt County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1974 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Hunt County a Judge of the County Court at Law of Hunt County for a regular term of four years to commence on the first day of January following his election. Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Hunt County until the next general election. The judge of the Hunt County Court at Law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by the laws of this state for removal of county judges.

(c) The Judge of the County Court at Law of Hunt County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The Judge of the County Court at Law of Hunt County is entitled to receive a salary to be set by the Commissioners Court in an amount not less than $40,000 per year beginning January 1, 1982, and not less than $42,500 per year beginning January 1, 1983, and to be paid from the same fund and in the same manner as the County Judge of Hunt County. The judge shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may not be paid to the judge. During his term of office, the Judge of the County Court at Law of Hunt County shall diligently discharge the duties of his office on a full-time basis and shall not engage in the private practice of law.

(e) A special judge of the County Court at Law may be appointed or elected as provided by law for county courts. A special judge must meet the qualifications of a regular judge as provided by Subsection (a) of this section. A special judge is entitled to receive $100 a day for each day he serves, to be paid out of the general fund of Hunt County by the commissioners court.

(f) If a judge of the County Court at Law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. The special judge selected is entitled to the compensation provided by Subsection (e) of this section.

(g) The Clerk of the County Court of Hunt County shall be the Clerk of the County Court at Law of Hunt County. The County Attorney of Hunt County shall represent the state in all prosecutions pending in the court, and he shall be entitled to the same fee as now prescribed by law for such prosecutions in the county courts. The Sheriff of Hunt County shall in person or by deputy attend the court when required by the judge; and the various sheriffs and constables of this state executing process issued out of the court shall receive the fees fixed by law for execution of process out of county courts.

Sec. 5. (a) The Judge of the County Court at Law of Hunt County shall assess the same fees as are or may be established by law relating to county judges, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and be by him paid into the county treasury, no part of which shall be paid to the said Judge. The Judge of the County Court at Law shall receive an annual salary set by the commissioners court in the same manner as the other elected county officials who are on a salary basis.

(b) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Hunt County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Hunt County.

Sec. 6. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Hunt County shall have the power to make and publish rules as to the docketing and disposition of criminal and civil cases in the court not inconsistent with the laws of the State of Texas or the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Practice in the County Court at Law of Hunt County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Hunt County, Texas.

Sec. 7. (a) The judges of the county court and the County Court at Law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred; and no case may be transferred to the County Court at Law of Hunt County unless it is within the jurisdiction of that court.

(b) The county judge and the judge of the County Court at Law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the cause or proceeding, civil, criminal, or probate, involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a cause or proceeding pending in the county court or County Court at Law; and he may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the cause or proceeding without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of the County Court at Law may not sit or act in any cause or proceeding over which exclusive jurisdiction is vested by this Act in the Hunt County Court.

Sec. 8. The Judge of the County Court at Law of Hunt County shall be entitled to traveling expenses and shall be entitled to necessary office expenses in the same manner as is allowed county judges.

ANGELINA COUNTY

Art. 1970-355. County Court at Law of Angelina County

Sec. 1. (a) On the effective date of this Act, the County Court at Law of Angelina County is created.

(b) The county court at law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Angelina County. The county court at law also has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases as provided by general law and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $10,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The county court at law, or its judge, may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

(d) The County Judge of Angelina County is the judge of the County Court of Angelina County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Angelina County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 2. (a) The judge of either the County Court of Angelina County or the County Court at Law of Angelina County may, in his discretion, either in term-time or in vacation, on motion of any party or on agreement of the parties, or on his own motion, transfer any cause on his docket to the docket of the other court.

(b) The judges of the courts may, in their discretion, exchange benches from time to time. Whenever a judge of one of the courts is disqualified, he shall transfer the case from his court to the other court.

(c) Either judge may, in his own courtroom, try and determine any case or proceeding pending in either court without having the case transferred or may sit in the other court and there hear and determine any case there pending. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

(d) In case of absence, sickness, or disqualification of either judge, the other judge may hold court for him. Either of the judges may hear any part of any case or proceeding pending in either of the courts and determine them or may hear and determine any question in any case, and either judge may complete the hearing and render judgment in the case.

(e) In cases transferred to either of the courts by order of the judge of the court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred to as are fixed by law.

(f) All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 3. The Commissioners Court of Angelina County by order duly entered of record, shall prescribe not less than four terms each year for the County Court at Law of Angelina County.

Sec. 4. (a) At the next general election after the effective date of this Act there shall be elected a judge of the County Court at Law of Angelina County who must have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas, be well informed in the laws of this state, and who must have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Angelina County for a period of not less than two years prior to the general election. The judge elected holds office for four years and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Angelina County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Angelina County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until January 1st of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified. Any vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the county court at law may be filled in like manner by the commissioners court and the appointee holds office until January 1st of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified.

(c) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The judge of the county court at law shall receive a salary of not less than $14,000 per year. Such salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners court. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may not be paid to the judge.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications, and is entitled to the same rate of compensation, as the regular judge.

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Angelina County, shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Angelina County. The Commissioners Court of Angelina County may employ as many additional assistant county attorneys, deputy sheriffs and clerks as are necessary to serve the court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices in Angelina County; provided that the county attorney shall receive a salary of not less than $2,000 per year less than the salary paid to the judge of the county court at law.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Angelina County.

Sec. 6. Practice in the County Court at Law of Angelina County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Angelina County.

Sec. 7. This Act becomes effective on January 8, 1972.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1169, ch. 274, eff. Jan. 8, 1972. Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1480, ch. 602, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1727, ch. 688, § 14, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

VICTORIA COUNTY

Art. 1970-356. County Court at Law of Victoria County

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Victoria County is created.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Victoria County. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or of the County Judge of Victoria County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court as to roads, bridges, and public highways, as are now within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or the county judge as presiding officer.

(b) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

(d) The County Judge of Victoria County is the judge of the County Court of Victoria County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Victoria County unless by this Act court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

(e) The judge of the County Court at Law of Victoria County, shall be a member of the juvenile board in Victoria County and shall be entitled to additional compensation for the additional duties hereby imposed, to be fixed by the commissioners court and paid in 12 equal installments out of the general fund or other available fund of the county. Such compensation shall be in addition to all other compensation provided in this Act.

Sec. 3. The terms of the County Court at Law of Victoria County are the same as those for the County Court of Victoria County.

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Victoria County must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has been a bona fide resident of Victoria County, and actively engaged in the practice of law in Victoria County for a period of not less than two years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Victoria County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Victoria County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1974 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Victoria County a judge of the County Court at Law of Victoria County for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Victoria County until the next general election. The judge of the county court at law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by the laws of this state for removal of county judges.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Victoria County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law of Victoria County shall receive the same salary, to be paid from the same fund and in the same manner, as the County Judge of Victoria County. The Commissioners Court of Victoria County may provide traveling expenses, office expenses, and administrative and clerical help which it deems necessary.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 5. (a) The Criminal District Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Victoria County shall serve as criminal district attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Victoria County. They shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. The official court reporter is entitled to compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Victoria County.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Victoria County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Victoria County.

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Victoria County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Victoria County.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

(d) In cases transferred to either of the courts by order of the judge of the other court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred to as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 7. (a) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(b) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Art. 1970-356a. County Court at Law No. 2 of Victoria County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Victoria County is created.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law No. 2 has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Victoria County and the County Court at Law of Victoria County. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or of the county judge of Victoria County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court as to roads, bridges, and public highways within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or the county judge as presiding officer.

(b) The County Court at Law No. 2 has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The County Court at Law No. 2, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

(d) The county judge of Victoria County is the judge of the County Court of Victoria County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Victoria County unless by this Act committed to the judges of the county courts at law.

Terms

Sec. 3. The terms of the County Court at Law No. 2 are the same as those for the County Court of Victoria County.

Judge

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has been a bona fide resident of Victoria County, and actively engaged in the practice of law in Victoria County for a period of not less than two years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) When this court is created, the Commissioners Court of Victoria County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law No. 2, who shall serve until the next general election and until his or her successor is elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1982 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Victoria County a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. A vacancy in the office shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Victoria County until the next general election. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by the laws of this state for removal of county judges.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall receive a salary not to exceed 90 percent of the amount paid a district court judge having jurisdiction in Victoria County. The Commissioners Court of Victoria County may provide traveling expenses, office expenses, and administrative and clerical help which it deems necessary.

(e) A special judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. If a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

(f) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall be a member of the juvenile board in Victoria County and shall be entitled to additional compensation for the additional duties hereby imposed, to be fixed by the commissioners court and paid in 12 equal installments out of the general fund or other available fund of the county. Such compensation shall be in addition to all other compensation provided in this Act.

Personnel

Sec. 5. (a) The criminal district attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Victoria County shall serve as criminal district attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law No. 2. They shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be as provided by law. The official court reporter is entitled to compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Victoria County.

Practice

Sec. 6. Practice in the County Court at Law No. 2 shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Victoria County.

Jurors

Sec. 7. (a) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the County Court at Law No. 2.

(b) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or a judge of the county courts at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county courts at law.

Seal

Sec. 8. The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 2 of Victoria County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Victoria County.

Transfer of Cases

Sec. 9. (a) The judges of the county court and the county courts at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(b) In cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred to as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Exchange of Benches

Sec. 10. The county judge and the judges of the county courts at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him or her without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Any of these judges may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or a county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his or her own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his or her court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

Effective Date

Sec. 11. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Victoria County is created on January 1, 1984, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered in its minutes, whichever date is earlier.

BRAZORIA COUNTY

Art. 1970-357. County Courts at Law Nos. 1 and 2 of Brazoria County

Sec. 1. (a) The County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County are hereby created. The County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County is created on the effective date of this Act, and the County Court at Law No. 2 is created effective January 1, 1975.

(b) The County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County have the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, and their jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Brazoria County. Each county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases, in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $50,000, exclusive of interest, and in proceedings under Title 3 of The Family Code.¹ Each county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts in Brazoria County in suits and causes involving family law matters, including adoption; birth records; removal of disability of minority or coverture; change of name of persons; divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; and independent actions involving child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, and delinquency; and independent actions involving controversies between parent and child and between husband and wife. Each county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in appeals of final rulings and decisions of the Industrial Accident Board, regardless of the amount in controversy. The provisions in this subsection do not diminish the jurisdiction of the district courts in Brazoria County, and the district courts shall retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts.

(c) The County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County, or the judge of either court, may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court; and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. Both courts and judges also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. Each county court at law may enforce an order of the Family District Court for the 300th Judicial District relating to a family law matter.

(d) The County Judge of Brazoria County is the judge of the County Court of Brazoria County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Brazoria County unless by this Act committed to the judges of the county courts at law.

(e) The County Court at Law No. 1 and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County shall be primarily responsible for and give preference to cases in which their jurisdiction is concurrent with the county court, eminent domain proceedings and cases, proceedings under Title 3 of The Family Code, and civil cases where the amount in controversy does not exceed $20,000 exclusive of interest.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of Brazoria County by order duly entered of record, shall prescribe not less than four terms each year for the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County.

Sec. 3. (a) The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County shall have the same qualifications as those prescribed by the constitution and laws of this state for district judges.

(b) Upon the effective date of this Act the Commissioners Court of Brazoria County, shall make the initial appointment of the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County, who shall serve until the next general election and until his successor shall be duly elected and qualified.

(c) At the general election in 1974 and every four years thereafter, the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County shall be elected for a regular four-year term as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, Constitution of Texas. Any vacancy occurring in the office of the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County or the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Brazoria County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and qualified.

(d) The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. Either judge may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a district judge.

(e) The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County shall each receive compensation prescribed by the Commissioners Court of Brazoria County in an amount not less than an amount that is $1,000 less than the combined annual salary paid to the district judges of Brazoria County from all sources. The salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners court. The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges and district judges according to the nature of the matter brought before them, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may not be paid to the judges.

(f) A special judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County or the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications, and is entitled to the same rate of compensation, as the regular judge.

Sec. 4. (a) The Criminal District Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Brazoria County, shall serve as Criminal District Attorney, Clerk, and Sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County, except that the District Clerk of Brazoria County shall serve as clerk of the county courts at law in cases of which the district courts and county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction and which have been instituted in the district courts. The Commissioners Court of Brazoria County may employ as many additional assistant criminal district attorneys, deputy sheriffs, and deputy clerks as are necessary to serve the courts created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices in Brazoria County.

(b) The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County may each appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and who is entitled to the same compensation as the reporters of the district courts of Brazoria County, to be paid by the County Treasurer out of the general fund of the county.

Sec. 5. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Brazoria County, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county courts at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. When a jury trial is requested in a case of concurrent jurisdiction between the district courts and county courts at law, and the case was instituted in district court, the jury shall be composed of 12 members. In all other cases where jury trial is requested in the county courts at law the jury shall be composed of six jurors.

(b) The judges of the County Court of Brazoria County and the County Courts at Law Nos. 1 and 2 of Brazoria County may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts so that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction between the district courts and county courts at law except those enumerated in Section 1(e) of this Act shall be instituted in the district courts and may be transferred between the district courts and the county courts at law. Cases of concurrent jurisdiction between the district courts and county courts at law enumerated in Section 1(e) of this Act may be instituted in either the district courts or the county courts at law. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred; and no case may be transferred to a county court at law unless it is within the jurisdiction of that court.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the district courts of Brazoria County, may, at the request of either the Judge of the County Court of Brazoria County, the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County, or the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County be made available by the district judges in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in either the county court or the county courts at law.

Sec. 6. The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall not engage in the private practice of law while serving as judges of the county court at law.

Sec. 7. The Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Brazoria County and the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Brazoria County shall be members of the Juvenile Board of Brazoria County.

HAYS COUNTY

Art. 1970-358. County Court at Law of Hays County

Sec. 1. There is created a court in Hays County to be called the County Court at Law of Hays County.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, original, and appellate, prescribed by the law for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Hays County. The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the amount in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest. The county court at law, the County Court of Hays County, and the district court in Hays County have jurisdiction over juvenile matters, and any of those courts may be designated a juvenile court. The county court at law does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways which are within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or County Court of Hays County.

(b) The county court at law has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Hays County, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Hays County in probate matters and in proceedings.

(c) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court; and to issue

writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court in the county of inferior jurisdiction. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court of law has all other powers, duties, and immunities and privileges provided by law for county court judges, and he is a magistrate and conservator of the peace.

(d) The County Judge of Hays County is a judge of the County Court of Hays County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the Judge of the County Court of Hays County except insofar as the same are, by this Act, committed to the Judge of the County Court at Law of Hays County.

(e) In addition to the jurisdiction conferred on the County Court at Law of Hays County by the other provisions of this Act, the county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in Hays County in suits and causes involving family law matters, including adoptions; birth records; removal of disability of minority or coverture; change of name of persons; divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; and independent actions involving child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, and delinquency; and independent actions involving controversies between parent and child and between husband and wife. The provisions in this subsection do not diminish the jurisdiction of the district court in Hays County, and the district court shall retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts.

Sec. 3. The terms of the County Court at Law of Hays County are the same as those for the County Court of Hays County, Texas.

Sec. 4. (a) There shall be elected a judge of the County Court at Law of Hays County who must have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than four years, who must be well informed in the laws of this state, and who must have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Hays County for a period of not less than one year prior to the general election. Beginning at the general election in 1974 and every four years thereafter, the qualified voters of the county shall elect a judge who holds office for four years and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Hays County, Texas, shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Hays County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified.

Any vacancy occurring in the office of the Judge of the County Court at Law of Hays County may be filled in like manner by the commissioners court and the appointee holds office until the next election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified.

(c) The Judge of the County Court at Law of Hays County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The Commissioners Court of Hays County shall fix the salary of the Judge of the County Court at Law of Hays County. The judge shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may not be paid to the judge.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed or elected as provided by law for county courts. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

(f) If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. The special judge selected is entitled to the compensation provided in Subsection (e) of this section.

Sec. 5. (a) The criminal district attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Hays County shall serve as criminal district attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Hays County, except that the district clerk shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2(e) of this Act and shall establish a separate docket for the county court at law. The Commissioners Court of Hays County may employ as many assistant district attorneys, deputy sheriffs, and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices in Hays County.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter who serves at the pleasure of the judge and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the commissioners court. The official court reporter must have the qualifications prescribed by law for district court reporters.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Hays County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Hays County.

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Hays County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Hays County, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(e) of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Section 2(e) of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases within the concurrent jurisdiction of the county court at law and the district court may be instituted in or transferred between the county court at law and the district court in Hays County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred; and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the cause or proceeding, civil, criminal, or probate, involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a cause or proceeding pending in the county court or county court at law; and he may rule or enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the cause or proceeding without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of the county court at law may not sit or act in any cause or proceeding over which exclusive jurisdiction is vested by this Act in the Hays County Court.

(d) In cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 7. (a) The jurisdiction and authority now vested by law in the county clerk and the county judge of Hays County for the drawing, selection, and service of jurors and talesman shall be also exercised by the county court at law and its judge. Jurors and talesmen summoned for either court may by order of the judge of the court to which they are summoned be transferred to the other court for service. Upon concurrence of the judge of the county court at law and the county judge, jurors may be summoned for service in both courts and used interchangeably.

(b) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

BRAZOS COUNTY

Art. 1970-359. County Court at Law of Brazos County

Sec. 1. On January 1, 1977, the County Court at Law of Brazos County is created.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, original and appellate, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, prescribed by law for county courts.

(b) The county court at law has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Brazos County, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Brazos County in probate, administrations, guardianship, and mental illness proceedings. The County Court of Brazos County shall have no other jurisdiction, civil or criminal, original or appellate. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or the County Judge of Brazos County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court.

(c) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases, in juvenile proceedings if designated to serve as juvenile court, and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $10,000, exclusive of interest.

(d) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

(e) The County Judge of Brazos County is the judge of the County Court of Brazos County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Brazos County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 3. The terms of the County Court at Law of Brazos County are the same as those for the County Court of Brazos County.

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Brazos County must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has been a bona fide resident of Brazos County, and actively engaged in the practice of law in Brazos County for a period of not less than two years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) At the general election in 1976, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Brazos County a judge of the court created by this Act for a two-year term beginning on January 1, 1977. Every four years thereafter, this officer shall be elected by the qualified voters of Brazos County for a regular four-year term as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Brazos County, and the appointee holds office until January 1st of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. The judge of the county court at law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by the laws of this state for removal of county judges.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Brazos County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law of Brazos County shall receive a salary to be determined by the Commissioners Court of Brazos County in an amount not less than the salary of the county judge of Brazos County and to be paid from the same fund and in the same manner as other county officials. He shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The commissioners court shall provide adequate courtroom and office space for the judge of the County Court at Law of Brazos County.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff in Brazos County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Brazos County. They shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Brazos County.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Brazos County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Brazos County.

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Brazos County shall conform to that prescribed by law for county courts.

(b) After the effective date of this Act, all cases of concurrent jurisdiction provided for in this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the courts having concurrent jurisdiction.

(c) The Judge of the County Court at Law of Brazos County or the Judge of the County Court of Brazos County may, in his discretion, either in term-time or in vacation, on motion of any party or on agreement of the parties, or on his own motion, transfer any probate matter on his docket to the docket of the other court. The judges of the courts may, in their discretion, in any probate matter exchange benches from time to time. Whenever a judge in one of the courts is disqualified in a probate matter, he shall transfer the matter from his court to the other court. Either judge may, in his own courtroom, try and determine any probate matter pending in either court, without having the case transferred, or may sit in the other court and there hear and determine any probate matter there pending. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the matter is pending. The judges may try different probate matters in the same court at the same time and each may occupy his own courtroom or the courtroom of the other. In case of absence, sickness, or disqualification of either judge, the other judge may hold court for him in any probate matter. Either of the judges may hear any part of or question in any probate matter pending in either of the courts and determine the matter or question. Either judge may complete the hearing and render judgment in the case. In any matter transferred by order of the judge of one of the courts, all process, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the matter shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in the matter shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the matter is transferred to as are fixed by law and by this Act. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the matter as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer may be made.

Sec. 7. (a) The laws that govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(b) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court may, on request of the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in the county court at law. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 110, ch. 50, §§ 1 to 7, eff. Jan. 1, 1977.]

Section 8 of the 1975 Act amended Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 4, ch. 2 (art. 1970-310 note) and § 9 thereof provided: "With the exception of Section 4, Subsections (a) and (b), this Act becomes effective on January 1, 1977."

WEBB COUNTY

Art. 1970-360. County Court at Law of Webb County

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Webb County is created. It shall sit in Laredo.

Sec. 2. The County Court at Law of Webb County has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts. However, it does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business which is now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court of Webb County. The county court at law also has concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court of Webb County in all matters of probate, and shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and habitual drunkards, and shall grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of administrators, executors, and guardians, transact all business pertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of the estates of deceased persons, and apprentice minors as provided by law.

Sec. 3. (a) The County Court at Law of Webb County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $10,000, exclusive of interest.

(b) In addition to the jurisdiction conferred on the County Court at Law of Webb County by the other provisions of this Act, the county court at law has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district courts of Webb County in suits, causes, and matters involving adoptions, removal of disability of minority and coverture, wife and child desertion, delinquent, neglected, or dependent child proceedings, Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act, and all jurisdiction, powers, and authority now or hereafter placed in the district or county courts under the juvenile and child welfare laws of this state; and of all divorce, marriage, and annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights and custody and support of minor children involved therein, alimony pending final hearing, and any and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings as well as independent actions involving child custody or support of minors, change of name of persons, and all other cases involving justiciable controversies and differences between spouses, or between parents, or between them, or one of them, and their minor children, or between any of these and third persons; corporations, trustees, or other legal entities, which are now or may hereafter be within the jurisdiction of the district or county courts; all cases in which children are alleged or charged to be dependent and neglected children or delinquent children as provided by law, and the county court at law and its judge have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, and all writs necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The provisions in this subsection do not diminish the jurisdiction of the several district courts in Webb County, and the district courts shall retain and continue to exercise such jurisdiction as is now or may be hereafter conferred by law, and the jurisdiction given in this subsection is concurrent with the jurisdiction of the district courts.

Sec. 4. The County Court of Webb County shall have and retain concurrently with the court created by this Act the general jurisdiction of a probate court. The county court shall have no other jurisdiction, civil or criminal, original or appellate. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised and retained by the judge of the County Court of Webb County, except as provided by this Act or otherwise provided by law.

Sec. 5. The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that such judge of the county court at law shall in no way have any authority over the administrative business of Webb County which is now performed by the County Judge of Webb County.

Sec. 6. The County Court at Law of Webb County shall hold six terms of court each year, commencing on the first Monday in January, March, May, July, September, and November of each year and each term shall continue until the business of the court has been disposed of. However, no term of the court shall continue beyond the date fixed for the commencement of its new term, except on an order entered on its minutes during the term extending the term for any particular cause therein specified.

Sec. 7. (a) The judge of the county court at law shall have been a bona fide resident of Webb County for two years prior to his appointment or election and shall be a qualified voter in Webb County. He shall be a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law for a period of five years prior to this appointment or election.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall not engage in the private practice of law after his appointment or election.

(c) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Webb County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Webb County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until the general election in 1976 and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1976, there shall be elected a judge of the county court at law for a term ending on December 31, 1978. At the general election in 1978 and every fourth year thereafter there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Webb County a judge of the County Court at Law of Webb County for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(d) A vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of county court at law shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Webb County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(f) The judge of the county court at law shall receive a salary to be set by the commissioners court in an amount not less than $20,000 per annum and not more than the salary of the county judge of Webb County, which shall be paid out of the county treasury by order of the commissioners court and shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The judge of the county court at law shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the County Court at Law of Webb County shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed or may be established by law, relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge, but he shall draw the salary as specified in this section.

(g) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 8. (a) The District Attorney of the 49th Judicial District and the Sheriff of Webb County shall serve as district attorney and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Webb County, except that the County Attorney of Webb County shall handle and prosecute all juvenile, child welfare, and mental health cases and the other civil cases where the State of Texas is a party. The District Clerk of Webb County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in the cases enumerated in Section 3 of this Act, and the County Clerk of Webb County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2 of this Act. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Webb County.

Sec. 9. (a) As soon as practicable following the effective date of this Act, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the County Court of Webb County and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act, and the district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district courts of Webb County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law, and in cases transferred to any of the courts in Webb County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated or included in Section 3 of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Webb County and the County Court at Law of Webb County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within his jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. This provision providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law is cumulative of and in addition to the provisions herein provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 10. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Subsection (b), Section 3 of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Subsection (b), Section 3 of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Sec. 11. The Commissioners Court of Webb County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Sec. 12. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Webb County."

NACOGDOCHES COUNTY

Art. 1970-361. County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County

Sec. 1. On the effective date of this Act, the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County is created.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts. The County Court of Nacogdoches County shall have no jurisdiction over the matters of which jurisdiction is given to the county court at law by this Act. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or the County Judge of Nacogdoches County as the presiding officer of the Commissioners Court.

(b) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

(d) The County Judge of Nacogdoches County is the judge of the County Court of Nacogdoches County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Nacogdoches County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 3. The terms of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County shall begin on the first Mondays in January, April, July, and October in each year, and each term of the court shall continue in session until the convening of the next succeeding term.

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has been a bona fide resident of Nacogdoches County for two years prior to his appointment or election and actively engaged in the practice of law in the State of Texas for a period of not less than five years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Nacogdoches County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1978 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Nacogdoches County a judge of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Nacogdoches County, and the appointee holds office until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. The judge of the county court at law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by the laws of this state for removal of county judges.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County shall receive an annual salary to be fixed by the Commissioners Court of Nacogdoches County at an amount not less than $15,000 or more than 80 percent of the total annual salary paid to the judge of the 145th Judicial District of Texas. This sum shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury of Nacogdoches County on orders from the commissioners court. Additionally, he shall be entitled to reasonable traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help. The judge of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County shall charge the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury. During his term of office, the judge of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County shall diligently discharge the duties of his office on a full-time basis and shall not engage in the private practice of law.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try or recuses himself from trying a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 5. (a) The County Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Nacogdoches County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County. They shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County may appoint an official shorthand reporter for the court who shall be a sworn officer of the court and shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court. All provisions of the general laws of Texas relating to the appointment of a reporter for the district court shall apply, so far as applicable, to the official shorthand reporter authorized to be appointed by the judge of the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County. The reporter shall be entitled to the same fees and shall perform the same duties as provided in the general laws and in addition shall receive a salary, not to exceed the compensation paid to the official shorthand reporter of the district court of Nacogdoches County, to be determined by the judge of the county court at law and paid out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners court.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Nacogdoches County.

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts.

(b) All cases and matters, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, pending before the County Court of Nacogdoches County on the effective date of this Act are transferred to the County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County. All processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, and other obligations issued or made in the cases transferred shall be returned to and filed in the county court at law. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the county court at law as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the county court at law.

Sec. 7. The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

COLLIN COUNTY

Art. 1970-362. County Court at Law of Collin County

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Collin County is created.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts.

(b) The county court at law has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Collin County, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Collin County in probate, administrations, guardianship, and mental-illness proceedings. The County Court of Collin County has the general jurisdiction of a probate court but does not have jurisdiction over matters of eminent domain or other original civil or criminal jurisdiction or appellate civil or criminal jurisdiction. All future statutes pertaining to probate matters enacted by the legislature shall be operative in Collin County as fully as though this statute had not been enacted. The County Judge of Collin County is the judge of the County Court of Collin County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Collin County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

(c) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent-domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest.

(d) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

Sec. 3. The terms of the county court at law shall commence on the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in July of each year. Each term of court continues until the next succeeding term begins.

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Collin County must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has been a bona fide resident of Collin County and actively engaged in the practice of law in Collin County for a period of not less than two years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Collin County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Collin County. The judge appointed serves until the general election in 1976 and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1976, there shall be elected a judge of the county court at law for a term ending on December 31, 1978. At the general election in 1978 and every four years thereafter, the judge of the county court at law shall be elected for a regular four-year term as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. Any vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the county court at law shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Collin County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified.

(c) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law of Collin County shall receive an annual salary to be fixed by the Commissioners Court of Collin County at an amount not less than $18,000 nor more than 80 percent of the total annual salary paid to the judge of a district court having jurisdiction in Collin County. The salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners court. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury and which may not be paid to the judge.

(e) The judge of the County Court at Law of Collin County is a member of the Juvenile Board of Collin County.

(f) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications, and is entitled to the same rate of compensation, as the regular judge.

(g) During his term of office, the judge of the county court at law shall diligently discharge the duties of his office on a full-time basis and shall not engage in the private practice of law.

Sec. 5. (a) The Criminal District Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Collin County shall serve as criminal district attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Collin County. They shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowance prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Collin County.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Collin County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Collin County.

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Collin County shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for the county courts apply to the county court at law.

Sec. 7. All cases and matters within the jurisdiction of the County Court at Law of Collin County pending before the 199th District Court on the effective date of this Act are transferred to the County Court at Law of Collin County. All processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, and other obligations issued or made in the cases transferred shall be returned to and filed in the county court at law. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the county court at law as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the county court at law. If, in a civil or criminal case within the jurisdiction of the County Court at Law of Collin County on appeal from the 199th District Court, the court of civil appeals, the supreme court, or the court of criminal appeals enters judgment remanding the case for a new trial or for further proceedings, the case shall be remanded to the County Court at Law of Collin County, and all jurisdiction in respect to that particular case shall thereafter vest in the county court at law. The county clerk and district clerk shall promptly take all necessary steps to effect the transfer of a certified bill of cost and any unused cost deposit or jury fee, all original papers, and certified copies of interlocutory judgments or orders in the cases transferred and shall docket the cases on the docket of the county court at law in the same manner and place as each stands on the docket of the 199th District Court. This Act does not affect final judgments heretofore rendered by the 199th District Court pertaining to matters and causes transferred to the county court at law by this Act, and the district court retains jurisdiction to enforce those final judgments.

Section 8 of the 1975 Act amended §§ 1 to 3 of art. 5139HHH; § 9 repealed subsecs. (b) to (e) of art. 199a, § 3.028; and § 10 provided: "The effective date of this Act is January 1, 1976."

Art. 1970-362a. County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County is created.

Jurisdiction: Writ Power

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law created by this Act has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with the jurisdiction of the County Court at Law of Collin County.

(b) The county court at law created by this Act has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Collin County, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Collin County and the County Court at Law of Collin County in probate, administrations, guardianship, and mental-illness proceedings. The County Court of Collin County has the general jurisdiction of a probate court but does not have jurisdiction over matters of eminent domain or other original civil or criminal jurisdiction or appellate civil or criminal jurisdiction. All future statutes pertaining to probate matters enacted by the legislature shall be operative in Collin County as fully as though this statute had not been enacted. The County Judge of Collin County is the judge of the County Court of Collin County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Collin County unless by this Act committed to the judges of the county courts at law.

(c) The county court at law created by this Act has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent-domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest.

(d) The county court at law created by this Act, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law created by this Act has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

Terms

Sec. 3. The terms of the court created by this Act shall commence on the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in July of each year. Each term of court continues until the next succeeding term begins.

Judge

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has been a bona fide resident of Collin County and actively engaged in the practice of law in Collin County for a period of not less than two years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Collin County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County. The judge appointed serves until the general election in 1980 and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1980, there shall be elected a judge of the court created by this Act for a term ending on December 31, 1982. At the general election in 1982 and every four years thereafter, the judge of the county court at law shall be elected for a regular four-year term as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. Any vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the court created by this Act shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Collin County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified.

(c) The judge of the court created by this Act shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. The judge may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County shall receive an annual salary to be fixed by the Commissioners Court of Collin County at an amount not more than 90 percent of the total annual salary paid to the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Collin County. The salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners court. The judge of the court created by this Act shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury and which may not be paid to the judge.

(e) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County is a member of the Juvenile Board of Collin County.

(f) A special judge of the court created by this Act may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications, and is entitled to the same rate of compensation, as the regular judge.

(g) During his or her term of office, the judge of the court created by this Act shall diligently discharge the duties of the office on a full-time basis and not engage in the private practice of law.

Personnel; Seal

Sec. 5. (a) The criminal district attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Collin County shall serve as criminal district attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County. They shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowance prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the court created by this Act shall appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Collin County.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Collin County.

Practice; Jurors

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for the county courts apply to the court created by this Act.

Transfer of Cases

Sec. 7. (a) The judges of the County Court at Law of Collin County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(b) In cases transferred to either of the county courts at law by order of the judge of the other court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before transfer, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Exchange of Benches

Sec. 8. The judges of the County Court at Law of Collin County and the County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him or her without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the County Court at Law of Collin County or the County Court at Law No. 2 of Collin County, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his or her own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his or her court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions provided in this Act for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the court created by this Act.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY

Art. 1970-363. County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County

Sec. 1. On the effective date of this Act, the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County is created.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for the County Court of Montgomery County, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Montgomery County and the other county courts at law in Montgomery County.

(b) The county court at law shall have and exercise original concurrent jurisdiction with the justice courts in all criminal matters which by the general laws of this state are conferred on justice courts. This Act does not deprive the justice courts of the jurisdiction now conferred on him by law, but grants concurrent original jurisdiction to the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County over the matters specified in this Act. This Act does not deny the right of appeal to the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County from the justice court where the right of appeal to the county court now exists by law.

(c) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, including interest. The county court at law has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court in Montgomery County in suits, causes, and matters involving adoptions; removal of disability of minority and coverture; wife and child desertion; the Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act (Section 21.01 et seq., Family Code) and all jurisdiction, powers, and authority placed in the district or county courts under the juvenile and child welfare laws of this state; all divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights and custody and support of minor children involved in the cases, temporary support pending final hearing, and any other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings, as well as independent actions involving child custody or support of minors; change of name of persons; all other cases involving justiciable controversies and differences between spouses, or between parents, or between parent and child, or between any of these and third persons, corporations, trustees, or other legal entities that are within the jurisdiction of the district or county courts; and all cases in which children are alleged or charged to be dependent and neglected children or delinquent children as provided by law.

Sec. 3. (a) The county court at law or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

(b) The County Judge of Montgomery County is the judge of the County Court of Montgomery County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Montgomery County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County is a member of the Montgomery County Juvenile Board.

Sec. 4. The terms of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County are the same as those for the County Court of Montgomery County.

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than five years who has resided in and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Montgomery County for a period of not less than two years prior to his appointment or election, and shall be well informed in the laws of the state.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. At the next general election after the effective date of this Act, a judge shall be elected to serve until January 1, 1979. At the general election in 1978 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Montgomery County a judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County, and the appointee holds office until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified.

(c) During his term of office, the judge shall not engage in the private practice of law while serving as the county court at law judge.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(e) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County shall receive a salary in an amount that is not less than 95 percent of the annual salary of the district judges in Montgomery County, to be paid by the county treasurer by order of the commissioners court, and the salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 shall assess the same fees that are prescribed by law relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge, but he shall draw the salary as specified in this section.

(f) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge when the judge of the county court at law is disqualified. A special judge must have the same qualifications as the judge of the county court at law and is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 6. (a) The County Attorney of Montgomery County shall represent the state in all prosecutions in the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County, as provided by law for prosecutions in the county court.

(b) The County Clerk and Sheriff of Montgomery County shall serve as clerk and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County. The Commissioners Court of Montgomery County may employ as many additional deputy sheriffs and clerks as are necessary to serve the court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices in Montgomery County.

(c) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County, and shall serve at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Montgomery County.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

(d) In cases transferred to either of the courts by order of the judge of the other court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 8. The jurisdiction and authority now vested by law in the County Court of Montgomery County and the judge thereof for the drawing, selection, and service of jurors shall also be exercised by the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County and the judge of the county court at law. Jurors summoned for either of the courts may by order of the judge of the court in which they are summoned be transferred to the other court for service and may be used as if summoned for the court to which they may be transferred. On concurrence of the Judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County and the Judge of the County Court of Montgomery County, jurors may be summoned for service in both courts and shall be used interchangeably in both courts. All summons for petit jurors for all civil and criminal cases under existing laws at the time this Act takes effect shall be as valid as if no change had been made, and the persons constituting such jury panels shall be required to appear and serve at the ensuing term of the courts as fixed by this Act, and their acts as jurors shall be as valid as if they had been selected as jurors in the court for which they were originally drawn.

Sec. 9. (a) The Commissioners Court of Montgomery County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the county court at law.

(b) The county court at law shall have a seal identical with the seal of the County Court of Montgomery County, except that it shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County."

Sec. 10. This Act becomes effective on July 1, 1975.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 439, ch. 186, eff. Sept. 1, 1975. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 534, ch. 217, §§ 11, 12, eff. Aug. 31, 1981; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 1939, ch. 356, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1983.]

Art. 1970-363a. County Court at Law No. 2 of Montgomery County

Creation

Sec. 1. On the date provided by Section 10 of this Act, the County Court at Law No. 2 of Montgomery County is created.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law No. 2 has the same civil, criminal, and probate jurisdiction, original and appellate, over all causes and proceedings that is prescribed by law for county courts, which jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Montgomery County and the other county courts at law of Montgomery County.

(b) The County Court at Law No. 2 has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court and the County Court at Law No. 1 in eminent domain proceedings and in civil cases when the amount in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, including interest. The County Court at Law No. 2 has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court in Montgomery County in suits, causes, and matters involving adoptions; removal of disability of minority and coverture; wife and child desertion; Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act (Section 21.01, Family Code) and all jurisdiction, powers, and authority placed in the district or county courts under the juvenile and child welfare laws of this state; all divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights and custody and support of minor children involved therein, temporary support pending final hearing, and any and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings, as well as independent actions involving child custody or support of minors; change of name of persons; all other cases involving justiciable controversies and differences between spouses, or between parents, or between them, or one of them, and their minor children, or between any of these and third persons, corporations, trustees, or other legal entities which are within the jurisdiction of the district or county courts; and all cases in which children are alleged or charged to be dependent and neglected children or delinquent children as provided by law.

(c) This Act does not diminish the jurisdiction of the several district courts of Montgomery County or the County Court of Montgomery County or the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County, and those courts shall retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction now conferred by law. The jurisdiction conferred by this Act is concurrent with the jurisdiction of those courts.

(d) The county judge of Montgomery County is the judge of the County Court of Montgomery County. All ex officio duties of the county judge, the executive functions of the county judge as a member of the commissioners court, board of equalization, budget officer, and other executive and administrative functions shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Montgomery County.

Writ Power

Sec. 3. The County Court at Law No. 2 or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

Terms

Sec. 4. The Commissioners Court of Montgomery County by order duly entered of record shall prescribe not less than four terms each year for the County Court at Law No. 2 of Montgomery County.

Judge

Sec. 5. (a) Beginning at the general election in 1982 or 1986, whichever is first after creation of this court, there shall be elected a judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Montgomery County for a regular term of four years as provided by Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. The judge must have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than four years, be well informed in the laws of this state, and must have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Montgomery County for a period of not less than two years prior to the general election. The judge holds office until his successor has been elected and qualified. During his term of office, the judge may not appear and plead as an attorney at law in any court of record in this state or in any court over which he has appellate jurisdiction.

(b) When this court is created, the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law No. 2 of Montgomery County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been elected and qualified. Any vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may be filled in like manner by the commissioners court, and the appointee holds office until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been elected and qualified.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall receive a salary in an amount that is not less than 95 percent of the annual salary of the district judges in Montgomery County, to be paid by the county treasurer by order of the commissioners court, and the salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall assess the same fees that are prescribed by law relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge, but he shall draw the salary as specified in this section.

(e) A special judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications and is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Court Officials

Sec. 6. (a) The county attorney and sheriff of Montgomery County shall serve as county attorney and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law No. 2. The county clerk of Montgomery County shall be the clerk of the County Court at Law No. 2, except that the district clerk of Montgomery County shall be the clerk of the county courts at law in cases of concurrent jurisdiction between the district courts and the county courts at law and shall establish dockets for the county courts at law separate from the dockets of the district courts. The Commissioners Court of Montgomery County may employ as many additional assistant county attorneys, deputy sheriffs, and clerks as are necessary to serve the court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices in Montgomery County.

(b) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall appoint an official court reporter, who shall have the qualifications and duties provided by law. The official court reporter shall receive a salary, to be fixed by the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County, of not more than $_____ per year.

Practice and Procedure

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law No. 2 shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Montgomery County and the County Court at Law No. 1, except that the practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the County Court at Law No. 2 involving matters of concurrent jurisdiction with the district court shall be governed by provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. Juries in all civil or criminal matters shall be composed of 12 members, except that in misdemeanor criminal cases and any other cases where the court has concurrent jurisdiction with the county court, the juries shall be composed of six members.

(b) The judges of the county court, the County Court at Law No. 1 and the County Court at Law No. 2 may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts so that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction between the district courts and county courts at law may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Montgomery County and the county courts at law of Montgomery County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred to another court unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred. In cases transferred to any of the courts in Montgomery County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before transfer, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) The county judge and the judges of the county courts at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Any of those judges may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county courts at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring the case to his own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge.

(d) Appeals in all cases from judgments and orders of the County Court at Law No. 2 shall be to the court of appeals as provided for appeals from district and county courts.

(e) The laws that govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the County Court at Law No. 2. Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the district courts of Montgomery County may, at the request of either the judge of the county court, the judge of the County Court at Law No. 1, or the judge of the County Court at Law No. 2, be made available by the district judges in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in the county court, the County Court at Law No. 1, and the County Court at Law No. 2.

Facilities

Sec. 8. (a) The commissioners court shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

(b) The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 2 of Montgomery County."

Juvenile Board

Sec. 9. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 2 of Montgomery County is a member of the Juvenile Board of Montgomery County and may be paid additional compensation therefor by the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County not to exceed the amount paid by Montgomery County to the district judges, the county judge of Montgomery County, and the judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County for acting as members of the juvenile board.

Date of Creation

Sec. 10. The County Court at Law No. 2 of Montgomery County is created on January 1, 1984, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes, whichever date is earlier.

[Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 530, ch. 217, §§ 1 to 10, eff. Aug. 31, 1981. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 1940, ch. 356, § 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1983.]

Art. 1970-363b. County Court at Law No. 3 of Montgomery County

Creation

Sec. 1. On the date determined under Section 11 of this Act, the County Court at Law No. 3 of Montgomery County is created.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law No. 3, concurrently with the County Court of Montgomery County and the other county courts at law in Montgomery County, has the same civil, criminal, and probate jurisdiction, original and appellate, over all causes and proceedings that is prescribed by law for county courts.

(b) The County Court at Law No. 3 has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court and the other county courts at law in Montgomery County in eminent domain cases and in civil cases in which the amount in controversy exceeds $500 but does not exceed $20,000, including interest. The County Court at Law No. 3 has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court in Montgomery County in suits, causes, and matters involving adoptions; removal of disability of minority and coverture; wife and child desertion; the Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act (Chapter 21, Family Code) and all jurisdiction, powers, and authority placed in the district or county courts under the juvenile and child welfare laws of this state; all divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights and custody and support of minor children involved in the cases, temporary support pending final hearing, and any other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings, as well as independent actions involving child custody or support of minors; change of name of persons; all other cases involving justiciable controversies and differences between spouses, or between parents, or between parent and child, or between any of these and third persons, corporations, trustees, or other legal entities that are within the jurisdiction of the district or county courts; and all cases in which children are alleged or charged to be dependent and neglected children or delinquent children as provided by law.

(c) This Act does not diminish the jurisdiction of the district courts of Montgomery County, the County Court of Montgomery County, or the other county courts at law of Montgomery County; and those courts retain and shall continue to exercise the jurisdiction now conferred by law. The jurisdiction conferred by this Act is concurrent with the jurisdiction of those courts.

(d) The county judge of Montgomery County is the judge of the County Court of Montgomery County. All ex officio duties of the county judge, the executive functions of the county judge as a member of the commissioners court, board of equalization, budget officer, and other executive and administrative functions shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Montgomery County.

Writ Power

Sec. 3. The County Court at Law No. 3 or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and other writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases in which the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge may punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

Terms

Sec. 4. The Commissioners Court of Montgomery County by order entered on its minutes shall prescribe at least four terms each year for the County Court at Law No. 3 of Montgomery County.

Judge

Sec. 5. (a) When this court is created, the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law No. 3 of Montgomery County. The appointed judge serves until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified. Beginning at the next general election at which county court at law judges are regularly elected and every fourth year thereafter, the qualified voters of Montgomery County shall elect a judge of the County Court at Law No. 3 of Montgomery County for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(b) The judge must be a licensed attorney in this state who has actively practiced law in this state for at least four years prior to his appointment or election, be well informed in the laws of this state, and must have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Montgomery County for at least two years prior to his appointment or election. The judge may not appear and plead as an attorney at law in any court of record in this state or in any court over which he has appellate jurisdiction.

(c) A vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the County Court at Law No. 3 shall be filled by appointment made by the commissioners court, and the appointee holds office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 3 shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(e) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 3 shall receive a salary in an amount that is not less than 95 percent of the annual salary of the district judges in Montgomery County to be paid monthly in equal installments by the county treasurer on order of the commissioners court. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 3 is entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 3 shall assess the same fees that are prescribed by law relating to the county judge's fees, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge.

(f) A special judge of the County Court at Law No. 3 may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications and is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Court Officials

Sec. 6. (a) The county attorney and sheriff of Montgomery County shall serve as county attorney and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law No. 3. The county clerk of Montgomery County shall serve as the clerk of the County Court at Law No. 3, except that the district clerk of Montgomery County shall serve as the clerk of the county courts at law in cases of concurrent jurisdiction between the district courts and the county courts at law. The district clerk shall establish dockets for the county courts at law separate from the dockets of the district courts. The Commissioners Court of Montgomery County may employ as many additional assistant county attorneys, deputy sheriffs, and clerks as are necessary to serve the court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices in Montgomery County.

(b) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 3 shall appoint an official court reporter, who shall have the qualifications and duties provided by law. The official court reporter shall receive a salary to be fixed by the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County.

Practice and Procedure

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law No. 3 shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Montgomery County and the other county courts at law in Montgomery County, except that the practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the County Court at Law No. 3 involving matters of concurrent jurisdiction with the district court shall be governed by provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. Juries in all civil or criminal matters shall be composed of 12 members, except that in misdemeanor criminal cases and any other cases in which the court has concurrent jurisdiction with the county court, the juries shall be composed of six members.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county courts at law in Montgomery County may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts so that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction between the district courts and the county courts at law may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Montgomery County and the county courts at law of Montgomery County. However, a case may not be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and a case may not be transferred to another court unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred. In a case transferred to any of the courts in Montgomery County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before transfer, are valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) The county judge and the judges of the county courts at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, one of the others may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Any of those judges may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county courts at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring the case to his own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge.

(d) Appeals in all cases from judgments and orders of the County Court at Law No. 3 shall be to the court of appeals as provided for appeals from district and county courts.

(e) The laws that govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the County Court at Law No. 3. Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the district courts of Montgomery County may, at the request of the judge of the county court or the judge of a county court at law, be made available by the district judges in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in the county court or a county court at law.

Facilities

Sec. 8. The commissioners court shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Seal

Sec. 9. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 3 of Montgomery County."

Juvenile Board

Sec. 10. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 3 of Montgomery County is a member of the Juvenile Board of Montgomery County and may be paid additional compensation for service on that board by the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County not to exceed the amount paid by the county to the other members of the juvenile board.

Date of Creation

Sec. 11. The County Court at Law No. 3 of Montgomery County is created on January 1, 1986, or on an earlier date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes.

FORT BEND COUNTY

Art. 1970-364. County Court at Law of Fort Bend County

Sec. 1. (a) The County Court at Law of Fort Bend County is created.

(b) The county court at law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Fort Bend County.

(c) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest, as provided by general law.

(d) The county court at law, or its judge, may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court; and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

(e) The County Judge of Fort Bend County is the judge of the County Court of Fort Bend County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Fort Bend County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 2. The terms of the County Court at Law of Fort Bend County are the same as those for the County Court of Fort Bend County.

Sec. 3. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Fort Bend County shall be a qualified voter of Fort Bend County. He shall be a regularly licensed attorney at law in this state, and shall have resided in this state and have been actively engaged in the practice of law or as the judge of a court for a period of not less than three years next preceding his appointment of election.

(b) On the effective date of this Act the Commissioners Court of Fort Bend County shall make the initial appointment of the judge, who shall serve until the general election in 1976 and until his successor shall be duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1976, there shall be elected a judge of the county court at law for a term ending on December 31, 1978. At the general election in 1978 and every four years thereafter, the judge of the county court at law shall be elected for a regular four year term as provided in Article V, Section 30 and Article XVI, Section 65 of the Texas Constitution. Any vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the County Court at Law of Fort Bend County shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Fort Bend County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified.

(c) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The judge of the county court at law shall receive a salary in an amount not less than $18,000, and other compensation for office expense, travel expense, service on the juvenile board, and other allowances paid by the county. The salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners court. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may be paid to the judge.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications and is entitled to the same rate of compensation, as the regular judge.

Sec. 4. (a) The Criminal District Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Fort Bend County shall serve as criminal district attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Fort Bend County. The Commissioners Court of Fort Bend County may employ as many additional assistant criminal district attorneys, deputy sheriffs, and clerks as are necessary to serve the court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances, prescribed by law for their respective offices in Fort Bend County.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Fort Bend County.

Sec. 5. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Fort Bend County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Fort Bend County.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts so that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred to the county court at law unless it is within the jurisdiction of that court.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the district courts of Fort Bend County, may, at the request of either the judge of the county court or of the county court at law, be made available by the district judges in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in either or both the county court or the county court at law.

Sec. 6. The judge of the County Court at Law of Fort Bend County shall be a member of the Juvenile Board of Fort Bend County and receive the same additional compensation for service on the juvenile board as paid by Fort Bend County to the County Judge of Fort Bend County for acting as a member of the juvenile board.

Sec. 7. The effective date of this Act is November 1, 1975.

HOUSTON COUNTY

Art. 1970-365. County Court at Law of Houston County

Sec. 1. On the effective date of this Act, the County Court at Law of Houston County is created.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, which jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Houston County. This Act does not diminish the jurisdiction of the county court and does not affect the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or the County Judge of Houston County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court.

(b) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

(d) The County Judge of Houston County is the judge of the County Court of Houston County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Houston County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 3. The terms of the County Court at Law of Houston County shall begin on the first Mondays in January, April, July, and October in each year, and each term of the court shall continue in session until the convening of the next succeeding term.

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Houston County must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has been a bona fide resident of Houston County for two years prior to his appointment or election and actively engaged in the practice of law in the State of Texas for a period of not less than five years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Houston County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Houston County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until January 1st of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1978 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Houston County a judge of the County Court at Law of Houston County for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Houston County, and the appointee holds office until January 1st of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. The judge of the county court at law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by the laws of this state for removal of county judges.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Houston County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law of Houston County shall receive an annual salary to be fixed by the Commissioners Court of Houston County. This sum shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury of Houston County on orders from the commissioners court. Additionally, he shall be entitled to reasonable traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help. The judge of the County Court at Law of Houston County shall charge the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury. During his term of office, the judge of the County Court at Law of Houston County shall diligently discharge the duties of his office on a full-time basis and shall not engage in the private practice of law.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try or excuses himself from trying a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Houston County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Houston County. They shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the County Court at Law of Houston County may appoint an official shorthand reporter for the court, who shall be a sworn officer of the court and shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court. All provisions of the general laws of Texas relating to the appointment of a reporter for the district court shall apply, so far as applicable, to the official shorthand reporter authorized to be appointed by the judge of the County Court at Law of Houston County. The reporter shall be entitled to the same fees and shall perform the same duties as provided in the general laws and in addition shall receive a salary not to exceed the compensation paid to the official shorthand reporter of the district court of Houston County, to be determined by the judge of the county court at law and paid out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners court.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Houston County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Houston County.

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Houston County shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts.

(b) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts¹ in matters within their jurisdiction. If the office of either judge is vacant, the clerk of the court may transfer cases within their concurrent jurisdiction to the other court. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred. In cases transferred to another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, and other obligations issued or made in the cases transferred shall be returned to and filed in the court to which transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) In the case of the illness, disqualification, or absence of the county judge, the judge of the county court at law may sit for the county judge in all matters, causes, and proceedings within the concurrent jurisdiction of their courts without the necessity of transferring the matters, causes, and proceedings. In the case of the illness, disqualification, or absence of the judge of the county court at law, a county judge of Houston County who is a licensed attorney may sit for the judge of the county court at law in all matters, causes, and proceedings without the necessity of transferring the matters, causes, and proceedings. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions herein provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 7. The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

HENDERSON COUNTY

Art. 1970-366. County Court at Law of Henderson County

Sec. 1. On the date determined by the provisions of Section 8 of this Act, the County Court at Law of Henderson County is created.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, original and appellate, as prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction in those matters is concurrent with that of the County Court of Henderson County. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court or of the County Judge of Henderson County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court as to roads, bridges, public highways, and all other matters which are now within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or the county judge as presiding officer. The County Court of Henderson County shall retain the general jurisdiction of a probate court and the county court at law does not have probate jurisdiction.

(b) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, superedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

(d) The County Judge of Henderson County is the judge of the County Court of Henderson County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Henderson County.

Sec. 3. The terms of the County Court at Law of Henderson County are the same as those for the County Court of Henderson County.

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Henderson County must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas. He may not actively engage in the private practice of law while serving as judge of the county court at law.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by the laws of this state for removal of county judges.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Henderson County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law of Henderson County shall receive a salary to be determined by the Commissioners Court of Henderson County in an amount not less than $20,000 per year nor more than $25,000 per year and to be paid from the same fund and in the same manner as other county officials. In addition to a salary, the commissioners court may provide office and traveling expenses which it deems necessary. The judge of the county court at law shall charge the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Henderson County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Henderson County. They shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Henderson County.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Henderson County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Henderson County.

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Henderson County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Henderson County.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

(d) In cases transferred to either of the courts by order of the judge of the other court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred to as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 7. (a) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(b) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Sec. 8. (a) It is expressly provided that the provisions of this Act shall not become effective until the Commissioners Court of Henderson County enters an order adopting the same.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Henderson County shall have the option of either appointing a judge to the County Court at Law of Henderson County or allowing said judge to be elected at the next general election. If a judge is appointed, said judge serves until the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. If a judge is appointed or elected as provided herein and completes an unexpired term, then said judge shall stand for election at the next general election and every fourth year thereafter for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. If this Act is made effective and a judge of the County Court at Law is elected for the first time to a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution, said judge shall stand for election every fourth year thereafter as provided in said sections of the Constitution. Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Henderson County until the next general election. The judge of the county court at law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by the laws of this state for the removal of county judges.

Sec. 9. The Henderson County Commissioners Court is hereby empowered to submit the question of creating a county court at law for Henderson County to a vote of the people of Henderson County at any countywide general or special election.

WALKER COUNTY

Art. 1970-367. County Court at Law of Walker County

Sec. 1. There is hereby created a county court at law in Walker County, Texas. It shall sit in Huntsville and shall be known as the County Court at Law of Walker County.

Sec. 2. The County Court at Law of Walker County has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts. However, it does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business which is now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court of Walker County. The county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court of Walker County in all matters of probate, and shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and habitual drunkards, and shall grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of administrators, executors, and guardians, transact all business pertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of the estates of deceased persons, and apprentice minors as provided by law.

Sec. 3. (a) The County Court at Law of Walker County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $10,000, exclusive of interest.

(b) In addition to the jurisdiction conferred on the County Court at Law of Walker County by the other provisions of this Act, the county court at law has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court of Walker County in suits, causes, and matters involving adoptions, removal of disability of minority and coverture, wife and child desertion, delinquent, neglected, or dependent child proceedings, Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act, and all jurisdiction, powers, and authority now or hereafter placed in the district or county courts under the juvenile and child welfare laws of this state; and of all divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights and custody and support of minor children involved therein, temporary support pending final hearing, and any and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings as well as independent actions involving child custody or support of minors, change of name of persons, and all other cases involving justiciable controversies and differences between spouses, or between parents, or between them, or one of them, and their minor children, or between any of these and third persons, corporations, trustees, or other legal entities, which are now or may hereafter be within the jurisdiction of the district or county courts; all cases in which children are alleged or charged to be dependent and neglected children or delinquent children as provided by law, and the county court at law and its judge have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, and all writs necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The provisions in this subsection do not diminish the jurisdiction of the district court in Walker County, and the district court shall retain and continue to exercise such jurisdiction as is now or may be hereafter conferred by law, and the jurisdiction given in this section is concurrent with the jurisdiction of the district court.

Sec. 4. The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, execution, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that such judge of the county court at law shall in no way have any authority over the administrative business of Walker County which is now performed by the County Judge of Walker County.

Sec. 5. The County Court of Walker County shall have and retain concurrently with the court created by this Act the general jurisdiction of a probate court. The county court shall have no other jurisdiction, civil or criminal, original or appellate. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised and retained by the judge of the County Court of Walker County, except as provided by this Act or otherwise provided by law.

Sec. 6. The County Court at Law of Walker County shall hold four terms of court each year which terms shall begin on the first Mondays in January, April, July, and October in each year, and each term of the court shall continue in session until the convening of the next succeeding term.

Sec. 7. (a) The judge of the county court at law shall have been a bona fide resident of Walker County for two years prior to his appointment or election and shall be a qualified voter in Walker

County. He shall be a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law for a period of five years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall not engage in the private practice of law after his appointment or election.

(c) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Walker County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Walker County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and shall serve until the general election in 1978 and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1978 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Walker County a judge of the County Court at Law of Walker County for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(d) A vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of county court at law shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Walker County and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(f) The judge of the county court at law shall receive a salary of not less than 83 percent of the annual salary of the district judge in Walker County, to be paid by the county treasurer by order of the commissioners court, and the salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The judge of the county court at law shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the County Court at Law of Walker County shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed or may be established by law, relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge, but he shall draw the salary as specified in this section.

(g) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 8. (a) The County Attorney, County Clerk, and Sheriff of Walker County shall serve as county attorney, clerk and sheriff respectively of the County Court at Law of Walker County, except that the District Clerk of Walker County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in the cases enumerated in Subsection (b), Section 3 of this Act. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law, which reporter shall serve at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Walker County. The judge of the county court at law may, in lieu of appointing an official court reporter, contract for the services of a court reporter under guidelines to be established by the commissioners court.

Sec. 9. (a) As soon as practicable following the effective date of this Act, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the County Court of Walker County and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act, and the district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district court in Walker County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law, and in cases transferred to any of the courts in Walker County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

ters within their jurisdiction. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated or included in Section 3 of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the district court in Walker County and the county court at law in Walker County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within his jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. This provision providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law is cumulative of and in addition to the provisions herein provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 10. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearing in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Subsection (b), Section 3 of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Subsection (b), Section 3 of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in the county court at law.

Sec. 11. The Commissioners Court of Walker County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Sec. 12. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Walker County."

The County Court at Law of Walker County shall be a court of record.

Sec. 13. Appeals in all civil cases from judgments and orders of the county court at law shall be to the Court of Civil Appeals as is now or may be hereafter provided for appeals from district and county courts and in all criminal cases shall be to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Sec. 14. All cases appealed from the justice courts and other inferior courts in Walker County shall be made direct to the County Court at Law of Walker County, unless otherwise provided by law.

Sec. 15. The effective date of this Act is September 1, 1977.

COMAL COUNTY

Art. 1970-368. County Court at Law of Comal County

Sec. 1. There is created a court in Comal County to be known as the County Court at Law of Comal County.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, original and appellate, as is prescribed by the constitution and general laws of the state for county courts. The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in Comal County in juvenile matters and proceedings and in all civil and criminal matters and proceedings, original and appellate, for which jurisdiction was transferred from the county court to the district court by Chapter 35, Acts of the 18th Legislature, Regular Session, 1883. The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the amount in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest, as provided by general law. The county court at law does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business which is now within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court of Comal County.

(b) The county court at law has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Comal County, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Comal County in probate matters and in proceedings.

(c) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court, and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court, or of any other court in the county of inferior jurisdiction. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, and he is a magistrate and conservator of the peace.

(d) The County Judge of Comal County is the judge of the County Court of Comal County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Comal County except insofar as the same are, by this Act, committed to the judge of the County Court at Law of Comal County.

(e) In addition to the jurisdiction conferred on the county court at law by the other provisions of this Act, the county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts in Comal County in suits and causes involving family law matters, including adoptions; birth records; removal of disability of minority and coverture; change of name of persons; divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; and independent actions involving child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, and delinquency; and independent actions involving controversies between parent and child and between husband and wife. The provisions in this subsection do not diminish the jurisdiction of the district courts in Comal County, and the district courts shall retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts.

Sec. 3. The terms of the County Court at Law of Comal County are the same as those for the County Court of Comal County, Texas.

Sec. 4. (a) There shall be elected, by the qualified voters of the county, a judge of the County Court at Law of Comal County, who must have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than five years, who must be well informed in the laws of this state, and who must have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Comal County for a period of not less than one year prior to the general election. The judge elected holds office for four years and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. During his term of office, the judge shall not engage in the private practice of law.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the Commissioners Court of Comal County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Comal County. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section and serves until the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. Beginning at the general election in 1978 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. A vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the County Court at Law of Comal County may be filled by appointment by the commissioners court, and the appointee holds office until the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Comal County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The Commissioners Court of Comal County shall fix the salary of the judge of the County Court at Law of Comal County. The judge shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury, and which may not be paid to the judge.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed or elected as provided by law for county courts. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

(f) If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. The special judge selected is entitled to the compensation provided in Subsection (e) of this section.

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Comal County shall serve as county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Comal County, except that the district clerk of Comal County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in the cases enumerated in Subsection (e) of Section 2 of this Act and shall establish a separate docket for the county court at law. The Commissioners Court of Comal County may employ as many assistant county attorneys, deputy sheriffs, and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices in Comal County.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter who serves at the pleasure of the judge and who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the commissioners court. The official court reporter must have the qualifications prescribed by law for district court reporters.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Comal County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the County Court of Comal County.

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the County Court at Law of Comal County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Comal County, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Subsection (e), Section 2, of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Subsection (e), Section 2, of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their concurrent probate jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated or included in Subsection (a) or (e) of Section 2 of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the district court in Comal County and the County Court at Law of Comal County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the cause or proceeding. Either judge may hear all or any part of a cause or proceeding pending in the county court or county court at law, and he may rule or enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the cause or proceeding without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in any cause or proceeding unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the matter is pending.

(d) In cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 7. (a) The jurisdiction and authority now vested by law in the county clerk and the county judge of Comal County for the drawing, selection, and service of jurors and talesmen shall also be exercised by the county court at law and its judge.

(b) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Sec. 8. This Act shall take effect July 15, 1977.

TOM GREEN COUNTY

Art. 1970-369. County Court at Law of Tom Green County

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Tom Green County is created.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has jurisdiction in all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, over which by the constitution and general laws of the state the county courts have jurisdiction, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the county court of Tom Green County. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or of the county judge of Tom Green County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court. The county judge of Tom Green County shall be the judge of the county court of Tom Green County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the county court of Tom Green County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

(b) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases as provided by general law and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $10,000, exclusive of interest.

Sec. 3. The county court at law or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

Sec. 4. The terms of the county court at law are the same as those for the county court of Tom Green County.

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the county court at law shall have been a bona fide resident of Tom Green County for two years prior to his appointment or election. He shall be a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law for a period of five years prior to this appointment or election. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and shall not engage in the private practice of law while in office.

(b) When this court is created, the commissioners court shall appoint a judge to the county court at law who shall serve until the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1978 or 1982, and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Tom Green County a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years, as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. A vacancy in the office of the judge of the county court at law shall be filled by appointment by the commissioners court, and the appointee holds office until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified.

(c) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The judge of the county court at law may receive a salary to be set by the commissioners court to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury by the commissioners court. He may be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed or may be established by law relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge when the judge of the county court at law is disqualified. A special judge must have the same qualifications as the judge of the county court at law and is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 6. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Tom Green County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the county court at law. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their offices and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office, who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Tom Green County, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law. Except where inconsistent with this Act, all general laws relating to court reporters apply to the official court reporter of the county court at law. The reporter shall be available for matters being considered in the county court and in the district courts in Tom Green County, with the approval of the judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by law for the county court.

(b) In order that the business may be equally distributed between the courts, the judges of the county court at law and the county court may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts and the judges of the county court at law and the district courts may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may, in their discretion, exchange benches from time to time, and either of the judges may, in his own courtroom, try and determine any case or proceeding pending in either of the courts without having the case transferred, or may sit in either of the courts and there hear and determine any case there pending, and each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The judges may try different cases in the same court at the same time and each may occupy his own courtroom or the room of any other court. In case of absence, sickness, or disqualification of either of the judges, the other judge may hold court for him. Either of the judges may hear any part of any case or proceeding pending in either of the courts and determine the same or may hear and determine any question in any case, and either of the judges may complete the hearing and render judgment in the case. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court.

(d) In cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 8. The laws that govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law. A general panel of jurors, or jurors impaneled for a week by a district court, may be made available and shall serve for the week in the county court at law.

Sec. 9. (a) The Commissioners Court of Tom Green County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the county court at law.

(b) The county court at law shall have a seal identical with the seal of the county court of Tom Green County, except that it shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Tom Green County."

Sec. 10. The County Court at Law of Tom Green County is created on January 1, 1980, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered in its minutes, whichever date is earlier. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 688, ch. 260, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

MIDLAND COUNTY

Art. 1970-370. County Court at Law of Midland County

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Midland County is created on the date determined by the provisions of Section 10a of this Act.

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has jurisdiction in all causes and proceedings, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, over which by the constitution and general laws of the state the county courts have jurisdiction, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Midland County. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or of the county judge of Midland County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court. The county judge of Midland County shall be the judge of the county court of Midland County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the county court of Midland County unless by this Act committed to the judge of the county court at law.

(b) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest, as provided by general law.

Sec. 3. The county court at law or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

Sec. 4. The terms of the county court at law are the same as those for the County Court of Midland County.

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the county court at law must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has resided in and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Midland County for a period of not less than two years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the commissioners court shall appoint a judge to the county court at law who shall serve until the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified. At the general election in 1978 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Midland County a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years beginning on January 1, 1979, as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. A vacancy in the office of the judge of the county court at law shall be filled by appointment by the commissioners court, and the appointee holds office until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified.

(c) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The judge of the county court at law shall receive a salary to be set by the commissioners court and to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury by the commissioners court. He shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed or may be established by law relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications as the judge of the county court at law and is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 6. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Midland County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, of the county court at law. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their offices and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office, who is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Midland County, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law. Except where inconsistent with this Act, all general laws relating to court reporters apply to the official court reporter of the county court at law. The reporter shall be available for matters being considered in the county court and in the district courts in Midland County, with the approval of the judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by law for the county court.

(b) In order that the business may be equally distributed between the courts, the judges of the county court at law and the county court may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts and the judges of the county court at law and the district courts may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

(d) In cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred to as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 8. The laws that govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law. A general panel of jurors, or jurors impaneled for a week by a district court, may be made available and shall serve for the week in the county court at law. A general panel of jurors or jurors impaneled for a week by a district court or summoned for the county court or county court at law may, on request of a justice of the peace, be made available in such numbers as may be requested for service in the justice court and shall serve in the justice court as if summoned for the justice court to which they are transferred.

Sec. 9. (a) The Commissioners Court of Midland County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the county court at law.

(b) The county court at law shall have a seal identical with the seal of the county court of Midland County, except that it shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Midland County."

Sec. 10. The judge of the county court at law is a member of the Midland County Juvenile Board.

Sec. 10a. The County Court at Law of Midland County is created on January 1, 1980, or on an earlier date determined by the Commissioners Court of Midland County by an order entered in its minutes, finding and determining that the conditions of the dockets of the district courts serving Midland County require the creation of the county court at law to properly dispose of cases arising in Midland County. In determining the need of a county court at law, the commissioners court may submit the question in a nonbinding referendum to the voters of Midland County at any countywide general election or special election called for that purpose.

RANDALL COUNTY

Art. 1970-371. County Court at Law of Randall County

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Randall County is created on the date determined by the provisions of Section 13 of this Act.

Sec. 2. The County Court at Law of Randall County, concurrently with the County Court of Randall County, has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by the constitution and general laws of this state for county courts. However, it does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business which is now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court of Randall County.

Sec. 3. The County Court at Law of Randall County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $10,000, exclusive of interest.

Sec. 4. In addition to the jurisdiction conferred on the County Court at Law of Randall County by the other provisions of this Act, the county court at law has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district courts of Randall County in suits, causes, and matters involving adoptions, removal of disability of minority and coverture, wife and child desertion, delinquent, neglected, or dependent child proceedings, Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act, and all jurisdiction, powers, and authority now or hereafter placed in the district or county courts under the juvenile and child welfare laws of this state; and of all divorce, marriage, and annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights and custody and support of minor children involved therein, temporary support pending final hearing, and any and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings as well as independent actions involving child custody or support of minors, change of name of persons, and all other cases involving justiciable controversies and differences between spouses, or between parents, or between them, or one of them, and their minor children, or between any of these and third persons; corporations, trustees, or other legal entities, which are now or may hereafter be within the jurisdiction of the district or county courts; all cases in which children are alleged or charged to be dependent and neglected children or delinquent children as provided by law, and the county court at law and its judge have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, and all writs necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The provisions in this subsection do not diminish the jurisdiction of the several district courts in Randall County, and the district courts shall retain and continue to exercise such jurisdiction as is now or may be hereafter conferred by law, and the jurisdiction given in this subsection is concurrent with the jurisdiction of the district courts.

Sec. 5. The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that such judge of the county court at law shall in no way have any authority over the administrative business of Randall County which is now performed by the County Judge of Randall County.

Sec. 6. The county court at law shall hold two continuous terms which commence on the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in July of each year. Each term of court continues until the next succeeding term begins.

Sec. 7. (a) The judge of the county court at law shall be a qualified voter in Randall County. He shall be a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law for a period of five years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall not engage in the private practice of law after his appointment or election.

(c) When this court is created, the Commissioners Court of Randall County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Randall County. The judge appointed serves until the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified. Beginning at the general election in 1978 or 1982 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Randall County a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(d) A vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of county court at law shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Randall County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(f) The judge of the county court at law may receive a salary to be set by the commissioners court and to be paid out of the county treasury by the commissioners court. The salary may be paid in equal monthly installments. The judge of the county court at law may be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed or may be established by law, relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge.

(g) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 8. (a) The criminal district attorney and sheriff of Randall County shall serve as district attorney and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Randall County. The district clerk of Randall County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Sections 3 and 4 of this Act, and the county clerk of Randall County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2 of this Act. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Randall County.

Sec. 9. (a) As soon as practicable after this court is created, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the County Court of Randall County and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act, and the district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district courts of Randall County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law, and in cases transferred to any of the courts in Randall County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Sections 3 and 4 of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the districts courts of Randall County and the County Court at Law of Randall County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. The district judges and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their concurrent jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, another may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either of the judges may hear all or any part of a case pending in the district court or county court at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions herein provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Sec. 10. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 4 of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Section 4 of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Sec. 11. The Commissioners Court of Randall County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Sec. 12. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Randall County."

Sec. 13. The County Court at Law of Randall County is created on January 1, 1980, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes, which ever date is earlier. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1723, ch. 688, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

REEVES COUNTY

Art. 1970-372. County Court at Law of Reeves County

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Reeves County is created on the date determined by the provisions of Section 20 of this Act. It shall sit in Pecos, Texas.

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Reeves County has jurisdiction in all matters and causes, civil, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, over which, by the general laws of the state, the county court of the county would have jurisdiction. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court, or of the County Judge of Reeves County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court, as to roads, bridges, and public highways, and matters which are now in the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or the judge thereof.

(b) The County Court at Law of Reeves County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases, as provided by general law, and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $10,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The County Court at Law of Reeves County has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court in Reeves County in suits, causes, and matters involving adoptions, removal of disability of minority and coverture, and all divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights and custody and support of minor children involved therein, temporary support pending final hearing, and any and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings as well as independent actions involving child support and custody of minors, and change of name of persons. This court and the judge thereof shall have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, and all writs necessary to enforce its jurisdiction.

(d) Nothing in this Act shall diminish the jurisdiction of the district courts in Reeves County, and the district courts shall retain and continue to exercise such jurisdiction as is now or may be hereafter conferred by law, and the jurisdiction given in this Act is concurrent with the jurisdiction of the district courts.

Sec. 3. The County Court of Reeves County shall have no jurisdiction, civil, criminal, juvenile, or probate, original or appellate. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised and retained by the judge of the County Court of Reeves County, except insofar as same shall by this Act be committed to the County Court at Law of Reeves County.

Sec. 4. The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the County Court at Law of Reeves County. Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court may, on request of the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in the county court at law.

Sec. 5. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Subsection (c) of Section 2 of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general and special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Subsection (c) of Section 2 is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The county court at law shall have the same terms of court as the district court sitting in Reeves County as presently established or as they may hereinafter be changed.

(c) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

Sec. 6. At the general election in 1978 and every four years thereafter, there shall be elected a judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County who shall have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than five years, who shall be well informed in the laws of the state, who shall have resided in and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Reeves County for a period of not less than two years prior to the general election, and who shall hold his office for four years and until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified. When this court is created, the commissioners court shall appoint a judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County who shall have the qualifications prescribed in this section and who shall serve until December 31, 1978, and until his successor shall be duly elected and qualified. A vacancy thereafter occurring in the office of the judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County shall in like manner be filled by the commissioners court, with the appointee to hold office until the next succeeding general election and until his successor shall be duly elected and qualified.

Sec. 7. The judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County may receive a salary in an amount determined by the commissioners court, not to exceed 90 percent of the total salary paid the district judge, to be paid out by the county treasurer by order of the commissioners court. The salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The judge of the county court at law is entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help. The judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed by law relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court, shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge.

Sec. 8. The judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by law relating to county and district judges.

Sec. 9. The judge of the county court at law shall not engage in the practice of law in this or any other court in the State of Texas.

Sec. 10. The judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as any county judge may be removed under the laws of this state.

Sec. 11. A special judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County may be appointed or elected as provided by law relating to county courts. In the case of a disqualification of the judge of the county court at law to try a case pending in this court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge to try the case. A special judge, whether appointed, elected, or selected by the parties, shall receive, as compensation for each day he actively serves, an amount equal to $\frac{1}{365}$ th of the annual salary of the judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County, to be paid out of the general fund of the county by the commissioners court.

Sec. 12. The county attorney of Reeves County shall represent the state in the County Court at Law of Reeves County as provided by law for prosecutions in county court, and shall be entitled to the fees prescribed by law for prosecutors in the county court.

Sec. 13. The sheriff of Reeves County shall in person or by deputy attend the court when required by the judge thereof.

Sec. 14. The county clerk of Reeves County shall be the clerk of the County Court at Law of Reeves County, except that the district clerk of Reeves County shall be the clerk of the county court at law in all those cases enumerated in Subsection (c), Section 2, of this Act.

Sec. 15. The judge of the County Court at Law of Reeves County shall appoint an official shorthand reporter for the court who shall be well-skilled in his profession and shall be a sworn officer of the court and shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court. The reporter shall take the oath required of official court reporters, and shall receive a salary to be set by the commissioners court of Reeves County and to be paid out of the county treasury of Reeves County, as other county officials are paid, in equal monthly installments. All other provisions of Chapter 13, Title 42, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and as the same may hereafter be amended, and all other provisions of the law relating to official court reporters shall apply insofar as they are applicable to the official shorthand reporter authorized in this Act to be appointed and insofar as they are not inconsistent with this Act.

Sec. 16. The seal of the court shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Reeves County." The commissioners court of Reeves County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Sec. 17. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction may be instituted in or transferred between the district court of Reeves County and the County Court at Law of Reeves County.

Sec. 18. All cases appealed from the justice courts and other inferior courts in Reeves County shall be appealed to the County Court at Law of Reeves County under the provisions governing such appeals to the county courts. The laws of the State of Texas, the rules of procedure, and the rules of evidence shall be applicable to and control trials and proceedings in the County Court at Law of Reeves County, and shall be applicable to and govern the proceedings in and appeals to and appeals from the County Court at Law of Reeves County.

Sec. 19. When the county court at law is created, all cases and matters pending before the County Court of Reeves County are transferred to the County Court at Law of Reeves County. All processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, and other obligations issued or made in the cases transferred shall be returned to and filed in the county court at law. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the county court at law as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the county court at law.

Sec. 20. The County Court at Law of Reeves County is created on January 1, 1978, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered in its minutes, whichever date is earlier.

VAL VERDE COUNTY

Art. 1970-373. County Court at Law of Val Verde County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Val Verde County is created on the date determined by the provisions of Section 17 of this Act. It shall sit in Del Rio, Texas.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Val Verde County has jurisdiction concurrently with the County Court of Val Verde County in all matters and causes, civil, criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, over which, by the constitution and general laws of the state, the county court has jurisdiction. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court, or of the county judge of Val Verde County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court, as to roads, bridges, and public highways, and matters which are now in the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or the judge thereof, or the administrative business of Val Verde County that is now performed by the county judge of Val Verde County.

(b) The County Court at Law of Val Verde County has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $10,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The County Court at Law of Val Verde County has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court of Val Verde County in suits, causes and matters involving adoptions, termination of parental rights, removal of disability of minority and coverture, all divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights and custody and support of minor children involved therein, temporary support pending final hearing, and any and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings as well as independent actions involving child support and custody of minors, and change of name of persons.

(d) The county court at law has the concurrent jurisdiction with the district court that is specified in this section, which concurrent jurisdiction does not diminish the jurisdiction of the district court in Val Verde County, and the district court shall retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts.

Jurors

Sec. 3. The laws that govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law. Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court may, on request of the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in the county court at law.

Practice and Procedure

Sec. 4. Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general and special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Section 2(c) is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

Terms

Sec. 5. The county court at law shall have the same terms of court as the district court sitting in Val Verde County as presently established or as they may be changed.

Writ Power

Sec. 6. The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

Election; Vacancy; Qualifications

Sec. 7. At the general election in 1982 and every four years thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Val Verde County a judge of the county court at law, who shall have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for not less than five years, who shall be well informed in the laws of the state, who shall have resided in and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Val Verde County for a period of not less than two years prior to the general election, and who shall hold office for four years and until his successor is elected and has qualified. When this court is created, the commissioners court shall appoint a judge of the county court at law, who shall have the qualifications prescribed in this section and who shall serve until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified. A vacancy thereafter occurring in the office of the judge of the county court at law shall in like manner be filled by the commissioners court, with the appointee holding office until the next succeeding general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

Compensation

Sec. 8. The judge of the county court at law may receive an annual salary to be determined by the commissioners court in an amount not less than $20,000 and not more than 90 percent of the total compensation paid the district judge. The salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments by the county treasurer by order of the commissioners court. The judge of the county court at law is entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed by law relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court, shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge.

Bond and Oath

Sec. 9. The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office as required by law relating to county and district judges.

Private Practice Prohibited

Sec. 10. The judge of the county court at law shall not engage in the private practice of law after his appointment or election.

Removal

Sec. 11. The judge of the county court at law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as any county judge may be removed under the laws of this state.

Special Judge

Sec. 12. A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed or elected as provided by law relating to county courts. In the case of a disqualification of the judge of the county court at law to try a case pending in this court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge to try the case. A special judge, whether appointed, elected, or selected by the parties, shall receive, as compensation for each day he actively serves, an amount equal to $\frac{1}{365}$ of the annual salary of the judge of the county court at law, to be paid out of the general fund of the county by the commissioners court.

Personnel

Sec. 13. (a) The county attorney of Val Verde County shall represent the state in the county court at law as provided by law for prosecutions in county court, and shall be entitled to the fees prescribed by law for prosecutors in the county court.

(b) The sheriff of Val Verde County shall in person or by deputy attend the court when required by the judge thereof.

(c) The county clerk of Val Verde County shall be the clerk of the county court at law, except that the district clerk of Val Verde County shall be the clerk of the county court at law in all those cases enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act.

(d) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official shorthand reporter for the court, who shall have the qualifications required by law, shall be a sworn officer of the court, and shall hold the office at the pleasure of the court. The reporter shall take the oath required of official court reporters, and shall receive a salary to be set by the commissioners court of Val Verde County and to be paid out of the county treasury, as other county officials are paid, in equal monthly installments. All other provisions of the law relating to official court reporters shall apply insofar as they are applicable to the official shorthand reporter authorized in this Act to be appointed and insofar as they are not inconsistent with this Act.

Seal and Courtroom

Sec. 14. The seal of the court shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Val Verde County." The commissioners court of Val Verde County may furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Transfer of Cases

Sec. 15. (a) On the first day of the court's existence, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the County Court of Val Verde County, by transferring the odd-numbered suits to the docket of the court created by this Act and leaving the even-numbered suits in the county court.

(b) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(b) and 2(c) of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Val Verde County and the County Court at Law of Val Verde County. However, no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred.

Exchange of Benches

Sec. 16. The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions herein provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Effective Date

Sec. 17. The County Court at Law of Val Verde County is created on January 1, 1982, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered in its minutes, whichever date is earlier.

WISE COUNTY

Art. 1970-374. County Court at Law of Wise County

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Wise County is created. The court shall sit in Decatur, Texas.

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Wise County has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts, and its jurisdiction in those matters is concurrent with that of the County Court of Wise County. This provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or the county judge of Wise County as the presiding officer of the commissioners court.

(b) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The county court at law or its judge has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges.

(d) The county judge of Wise County is the judge of the County Court of Wise County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Wise County unless this Act provides otherwise.

Sec. 3. The term of the county court at law is continuous on an annual basis, beginning on January 1 of each year and concluding on December 31 of the same year.

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the county court at law must be a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas who has been a bona fide resident of Wise County for six months prior to his appointment or election.

(b) When this Act becomes effective, the commissioners court shall appoint a judge to the county court at law to serve until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. At the next general election after the effective date of this Act, a judge shall be elected to serve until January 1, 1981. At the general election in 1982 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Wise County a judge of the County Court at Law of Wise County for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. A vacancy in the office shall be filled by the commissioners court and the appointee holds office until January 1 of the year following the next general election and until his successor has been duly elected and has qualified. The judge of the county court at law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as provided by the laws of this state for removal of county judges.

(c) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges.

(d) The judge of the county court at law shall receive an annual salary in an amount to be fixed by the commissioners court, which shall not exceed 90 percent of the amount paid district judges from the General Revenue Fund of the state and which shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the county treasury of Wise County on orders from the commissioners court. Additionally, he shall be entitled to reasonable traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help. The judge of the county court at law shall charge the fees prescribed by law for county judges, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury.

(e) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the judge of the county court at law may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Wise County shall serve in their respective capacities in the county court at law. They shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official shorthand reporter for the court who shall be a sworn officer of the court and shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court. All provisions of the general laws of Texas relating to the appointment of a reporter for the district court shall apply, so far as applicable, to the official shorthand reporter authorized to be appointed by the judge of the county court at law. The reporter shall be entitled to the same fees and shall perform the same duties as provided in the general laws and in addition shall receive a salary, not to exceed the compensation paid to the official shorthand reporter of the district court of Wise County, to be determined by the judge of the county court at law and paid out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners court.

(c) The seal of the court shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Wise County," but in other respects is identical with the seal of the county court of Wise County.

Sec. 6. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in the county court at law.

Sec. 7. (a) In order that the business may be equally distributed between the courts, the judges of the county court at law and the county court may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts and the judges of the county court at law and the district courts may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(b) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may, in their discretion, exchange benches from time to time, and either of the judges may, in his own courtroom, try and determine any case or proceeding pending in either of the courts without having the case transferred, or may sit in either of the courts and there hear and determine any case there pending, and each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The judges may try different cases in the same court at the same time and each may occupy his own courtroom or the room of any other court. In case of absence, sickness, or disqualification of either of the judges, the other judge may hold court for him. Either of the judges may hear any part of any case or proceeding pending in either of the courts and determine the same or may hear and determine any question in any case, and either of the judges may complete the hearing and render judgment in the case. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court.

(c) In cases transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of another court or by Section 10 of this Act, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases transferred shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of such bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 8. The judge of the county court at law is a member of the juvenile board of Wise County.

Sec. 9. The commissioners court shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Sec. 10. All cases and matters, civil, criminal, and probate, original and appellate, pending before the County Court of Wise County on the effective date of this Act are transferred to the County Court at Law of Wise County.

Sec. 11. This Act takes effect on September 1, 1979.

GREGG COUNTY

Art. 1970-375. County Court at Law of Gregg County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Gregg County is created on the date determined under Section 11 of this Act.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Gregg County, concurrently with the County Court of Gregg County, has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by the constitution and general laws of this state for county courts. However, it does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business which is now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court of Gregg County.

(b) The County Court at Law of Gregg County has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest.

Writ Power

Sec. 3. The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that such judge of the county court at law shall in no way have any authority over the administrative business of Gregg County which is now performed by the County Judge of Gregg County.

Terms

Sec. 4. The county court at law shall hold two continuous terms which commence on the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in July of each year. Each term of court continues until the next succeeding term begins.

Judge

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the county court at law shall be a qualified voter in Gregg County. He shall be a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law for a period of five years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall not engage in the private practice of law after his appointment or election.

(c) When this court is created, the Commissioners Court of Gregg County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Gregg County. The judge appointed serves until the next general election and until his successor is duly elected and has qualified. Beginning at the general election in 1982 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Gregg County a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(d) A vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of county court at law shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Gregg County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(f) The judge of the County Court at Law of Gregg County and the county judge of Gregg County shall receive an annual salary to be set by the commissioners court in an amount not to exceed 90 percent of the total annual salary paid to the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Gregg County. The salary may be paid in equal monthly installments. The judge of the county court at law may be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees as are prescribed by law relating to county judges' fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge.

(g) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Court Officials and Personnel

Sec. 6. (a) The criminal district attorney and sheriff of Gregg County shall serve as district attorney and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Gregg County. The district clerk of Gregg County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2(b), and the county clerk of Gregg County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2(a) of this Act. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Gregg County.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Gregg County, Texas, with the consent of the commissioners court, may employ a secretary, the secretary being entitled to a salary as determined by the commissioners court.

Transfer of Cases and Exchange of Benches

Sec. 7. (a) As soon as practicable after this court is created, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the County Court of Gregg County and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act, and the district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district courts of Gregg County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(b) of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Gregg County and the County Court at Law of Gregg County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law, and in cases transferred to any of the courts in Gregg County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions in this Act for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Practice and Jurors

Sec. 8. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Courtroom

Sec. 9. The Commissioners Court of Gregg County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Seal

Sec. 10. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Gregg County."

Effective Date

Sec. 11. The County Court at Law of Gregg County is created on January 1, 1981, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes, whichever date is earlier. [Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 889, ch. 409, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

MEDINA COUNTY

Art. 1970-376. County Court at Law of Medina County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Medina County is created on the date determined by Section 10 of this Act.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Medina County has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by the constitution and general laws of the state for county courts, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with the jurisdiction of the County Court of Medina County. It does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business which is now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court of Medina County.

(b) The County Court at Law of Medina County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest, as provided by general law.

(c) In addition to the jurisdiction conferred on the County Court at Law of Medina County by the other provisions of this Act, the county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts in Medina County in suits and causes involving family law matters, including adoptions; birth records; removal of disability of minority or coverage; change of name of persons; divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; and independent actions involving child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, and delinquency; and independent actions involving controversies between parent and child and between husband and wife. The provisions in this subsection do not diminish the jurisdiction of the district courts in Medina County, and the district courts shall retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts.

(d) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that such judge of the county court at law shall in no way have any authority over the administrative business of Medina County which is now performed by the county judge of Medina County.

Terms

Sec. 3. The county court at law shall hold two continuous terms which commence on the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in July of each year. Each term of court continues until the next succeeding term begins.

Judge

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the county court at law shall be a qualified voter in Medina County, shall have been a resident of Medina County for two years, and shall be a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law or has been a judge of a court in this state, or both combined, for four years prior to the judge's appointment or election.

(b) When this court is created, the governor shall appoint a judge to the county court at law, who shall serve until the next general election after he or she takes office, and until his or her successor is elected and has qualified. Beginning at the general election in 1982 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Medina County a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years as provided by Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(c) After the initial appointment, a vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the county court at law shall be filled by the Commissioners Court of Medina County, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his or her successor is elected and has qualified.

(d) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. The judge may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall receive a salary to be set by the commissioners court and to be paid out of the county treasury by the commissioners court in an amount not to exceed 90 percent of the amount paid a district judge having jurisdiction in Medina County. The salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments. The judge of the county court at law shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees as are now prescribed or may be established by law, relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge.

(f) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his or her court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Personnel

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Medina County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, for the county court at law, except that the district clerk of Medina County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act and shall establish a separate docket for the county court at law. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be as provided by law for official court reporters. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Medina County.

Transfer of Cases and Judges

Sec. 6. (a) As soon as practicable after this court is created, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the county court, and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act, and the district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district courts of Medina County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Medina County and the County Court at Law of Medina County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law, and in cases transferred to any of the courts in Medina County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before transfer, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him or her without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his or her own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his or her court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions herein provided for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Practice and Procedure

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Courtroom

Sec. 8. The commissioners court shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Seal

Sec. 9. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Medina County."

Date of Creation

Sec. 10. The County Court at Law of Medina County is created on January 1, 1980, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes, whichever date is earlier. [Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 931, ch. 426, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

ANDERSON COUNTY

Art. 1970-377. County Court at Law of Anderson County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Anderson County is created on the date determined by Section 11 of this Act. The court shall sit in Palestine, Texas.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Anderson County has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by the constitution and general laws of the state for county courts. The county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court of Anderson County in all probate matters. It does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business which is now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court of Anderson County.

(b) The County Court at Law of Anderson County has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) In addition to the jurisdiction conferred on the County Court at Law of Anderson County by the other provisions of this Act, the county court at law has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district courts in Anderson County in suits and causes involving family law matters, including adoptions; birth records; removal of disability of minority or coverture; change of name of persons; divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; and independent actions involving child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, and delinquency; and independent actions involving controversies between parents, between parent and child, and between husband and wife. The provisions in this subsection do not diminish the jurisdiction of the district courts in Anderson County, and the district courts shall retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts.

(d) The county court at law, or its judge, has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and the judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that such judge of the county court at law shall in no way have any authority over the administrative business of Anderson County which is now performed by the county judge of Anderson County.

Terms

Sec. 3. The county court at law shall hold four terms of court each year which commence on the first Mondays in January, April, July, and October, and each term of court shall continue in session until the convening of the next succeeding term.

Judge

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the county court at law shall be a qualified voter in Anderson County, shall have been a resident of Anderson County for two years, and shall be a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law or has been a judge of a court in this state, or both combined, for four years prior to the judge's appointment or election.

(b) When the court is created, the commissioners court shall appoint a judge to the county court at law, who shall serve until the next general election after he takes office, and until his successor is elected and has qualified. Beginning at the general election in 1982 or 1986 and every fourth year thereafter, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of Anderson County a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years as provided by Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(c) A vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the county court at law shall be filled by the commissioners court, and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(d) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall receive a salary to be set by the commissioners court and to be paid out of the county treasury by the commissioners court. The salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments. The judge of the county court at law shall be entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees that are prescribed or established by law relating to the county judge's fees, all of which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge.

(f) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

(g) The judge of the county court at law shall not engage in the private practice of law after his appointment or election.

Personnel

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Anderson County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, for the county court at law, except that the district clerk of Anderson County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act and shall establish a separate docket for the county court at law. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be as provided by law for official court reporters. The court reporter shall serve at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Anderson County. The judge of the county court at law may, in lieu of appointing an official court reporter, contract for the services of a court reporter under guidelines to be established by the commissioners court.

Sec. 6. (a) As soon as practicable after this court is created, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the county court, and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act, and the district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district courts of Anderson County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction between the district courts and the county court at law may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Anderson County and the County Court at Law of Anderson County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law, and in cases transferred to any of the courts in Anderson County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before transfer, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions provided by this Act for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Practice and Procedure

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Section 2(c) of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The laws which govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in the county court at law.

Courtroom

Sec. 8. The commissioners court shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Seal

Sec. 9. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Anderson County." The County Court at Law of Anderson County is a court of record.

Appeals

Sec. 10. (a) Appeals in all civil cases from judgments and orders of the county court at law shall be to the court of appeals as provided for appeals from district and county courts and in all criminal cases to the court of appeals as provided for appeals from county courts.

(b) All cases appealed from the justice courts and other inferior courts in Anderson County shall be made directly to the County Court at Law of Anderson County, unless otherwise provided by law.

Date of Creation

Sec. 11. The County Court at Law of Anderson County is created on January 1, 1984, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered in its minutes, whichever date is earlier. [Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2516, ch. 665, eff. Aug. 31, 1981.]

CALDWELL COUNTY

Art. 1970-378. County Court at Law of Caldwell County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Caldwell County is created.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, original and appellate, as prescribed by the constitution and general laws of the state for county courts. The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases in which the amount in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest. The county court at law and the district court have concurrent jurisdiction over juvenile matters, and either of those courts may be designated a juvenile court.

(b) The county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in suits and causes involving family law matters, including adoptions; birth records; removal of disability of minority or coverture; change of name of persons; divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; and independent actions involving child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, and delinquency; and independent actions involving controversies between parent and child and between husband and wife. The provisions in this section do not diminish the jurisdiction of the district court, and the district court retains and shall continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts.

(c) The county court at law has the general jurisdiction of a probate court within the limits of Caldwell County, and its jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the County Court of Caldwell County in probate matters and proceedings.

(d) The county court at law does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways that are within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court of Caldwell County.

Powers and Duties

Sec. 3. (a) The county court at law or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, superseas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court in the county of inferior jurisdiction. The court and judge also have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges. The judge is a magistrate and conservator of the peace.

(b) The county judge of Caldwell County is the judge of the County Court of Caldwell County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Caldwell County except insofar as those duties are committed by this Act to the judge of the County Court at Law of Caldwell County.

Terms

Sec. 4. The terms of the County Court at Law of Caldwell County are the same as those for the County Court of Caldwell County.

Judge

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Caldwell County must have been a duly licensed and practicing member of the State Bar of Texas for at least four years prior to election or appointment, be well informed in the laws of this state, and have resided and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Caldwell County for at least one year prior to election or appointment. Beginning at the general election in 1986 and every fourth year thereafter, the qualified voters of the county shall elect the judge who holds office for a regular term of four years as provided by Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(b) The commissioners court shall appoint a person to fill a vacancy in the court created by this Act. The judge appointed must have the qualifications prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section. The appointee holds office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Caldwell County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(d) The commissioners court shall fix the salary of the judge of the County Court at Law of Caldwell County. The judge shall assess the fees prescribed by law for county judges. The clerk of the court shall collect the fees and pay them into the county treasury. Fees may not be paid to the judge.

Special Judge

Sec. 6. (a) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed or elected as provided by law for special judges of county courts. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

(b) If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. The special judge selected is entitled to the same compensation provided for appointed or elected special judges.

Court Officials

Sec. 7. The criminal district attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Caldwell County shall serve as criminal district attorney, clerk, and sheriff of the County Court at Law of Caldwell County, except that the district clerk of Caldwell County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in the cases enumerated in Subsection (b) of Section 2 of this Act and shall establish a separate docket for the county court at law. The commissioners court may employ assistant district attorneys, deputy sheriffs, and bailiffs necessary to serve the court created by this Act. Those serving shall perform the duties and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices in Caldwell County.

Court Reporter

Sec. 8. The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter who serves at the pleasure of the judge. The court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the commissioners court. The official court reporter must have the qualifications prescribed by law for district court reporters.

Seal

Sec. 9. The seal of the court created by this Act is the same as that provided by law for county courts, except that the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Caldwell County."

Practice and Procedure; Jury

Sec. 10. Practice in the County Court at Law of Caldwell County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Caldwell County, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Subsection (b) of Section 2 of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts. If a case enumerated in Subsection (b) of Section 2 of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

Transfer of Cases

Sec. 11. (a) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in matters within their concurrent probate jurisdiction in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. A case within the concurrent jurisdiction of the county court at law and the district court may be instituted in or transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred. A case may not be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(b) When a case is transferred to any of the courts by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the case shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in the case shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the case is transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the case and all bonds and recognizances taken in and for a court from which a case is transferred shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Exchange of Benches

Sec. 12. The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, and he may rule or enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. A judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

Juries

Sec. 13. (a) The jurisdiction and authority vested in the county clerk and the county judge of Caldwell County for the drawing, selection, and service of jurors and talesmen shall also be exercised by the county court at law and its judge.

(b) On request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Initial Appointment of Judge

Sec. 14. The commissioners court shall appoint a person to fill the vacancy existing on the creation of the office of judge as provided by Subsection (b) of Section 5 of this Act.

Effective Date

Sec. 15. This Act takes effect October 1, 1983. [Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 591, ch. 124, eff. Oct. 1, 1983.]

LIBERTY COUNTY

Art. 1970-379. County Court at Law of Liberty County

Creation

Section 1. The County Court at Law of Liberty County is created on the date determined as provided by Section 11 of this Act. It shall sit in the City of Liberty.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court in:

(1) cases in which the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $50,000, excluding interest and attorney's fees;

(2) appeals of final rulings and decisions of the Industrial Accident Board;

(3) eminent domain cases and proceedings; and

(4) cases and proceedings involving adoptions, birth records, or removal of disability of minority or coverture; change of names of persons; child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, or delinquency; divorce and marriage annulment, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved therein, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; independent actions involving child support and custody of minors and wife or child desertion; and independent actions involving controversies between parent and child, between parents, and between spouses.

(b) The county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the county court in:

(1) all civil and criminal cases and proceedings, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts; and

(2) probate matters and proceedings.

(c) The county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the county and district court in juvenile matters and proceedings as provided by Chapter 178, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 2338-1.1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(d) This section does not deny the right of appeal to the county court at law from the justice court where the right of appeal to the county court exists by law.

(e) The county court at law does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings involving the general administration of county business, including the supervision and construction of roads, bridges, and public highways, that is within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court. The judge of the county court retains and shall exercise all ex officio duties of the county judge.

(f) This section does not diminish the jurisdiction of the district courts but only gives concurrent jurisdiction to the county court at law over the matters specified in Subsections (a) through (d). The district courts retain and shall continue to exercise the jurisdiction conferred by law on district courts.

(g) Article 1951, Revised Statutes, does not apply to the county court at law and does not affect or diminish the jurisdiction of the county court at law.

Powers and Duties

Sec. 3. (a) The county court at law or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases in which the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county.

(b) The county court at law or its judge may punish for contempt as prescribed by general law.

(c) The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that a judge of the county court at law does not have any authority over the administrative business of the county that is performed by the county judge.

Terms of Court

Sec. 4. The terms of the county court at law begin on the first Mondays in January and July of each year. Each term of court continues until the next succeeding term begins.

Judge

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the county court at law must be a citizen of the United States, must have resided in the county for at least one year prior to his election or appointment, and must be a licensed member of the state bar who has actively practiced law for at least four years prior to his election or appointment.

(b) The commissioners court shall fix the annual salary of the judge of the county court at law. The annual salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments.

(c) The commissioners court shall appoint a person to fill a vacancy in the office of the judge of the county court at law. The appointee holds office until the next succeeding general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(d) At the first general election following creation of the court at which county court at law judges are regularly elected, and every fourth year thereafter, the qualified voters of the county shall elect the judge of the county court at law for regular terms of four years as provided by Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall take the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state, but a bond is not required of the county court at law judge.

(f) The judge of the county court at law may not engage in the private practice of law.

Court Officials, Personnel, and Facilities

Sec. 6. (a) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter. The court reporter must have the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and is entitled to the same compensation, fees, and allowances as the reporters of the district courts in the county.

(b) With the approval of the commissioners court, the judge of the county court at law may appoint a court coordinator or administrative assistant for the court. A court coordinator or administrative assistant performs the duties prescribed by the judge and cooperates with the administrative judges and state agencies for the uniform and efficient operation of the courts and the administration of justice. The court coordinator or administrative assistant is entitled to be paid from county funds the compensation, fees, and allowances that are set by the commissioners court or as otherwise provided by law.

(c) The criminal district attorney or county attorney and the sheriff of the county shall attend the county court at law as required by the judge of the court. The county clerk serves as clerk of the county court at law.

(d) The commissioners court shall provide the physical facilities and the deputy clerks, bailiffs, and other personnel necessary to operate the county court at law.

Special Judge

Sec. 7. (a) If the regular judge of the county court at law is absent or is from any cause disabled or disqualified from presiding, the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district in which the county is located may appoint a retired district judge or a person licensed to practice law in this state to sit as a special judge.

(b) To be eligible for appointment as a special judge, a person must meet the qualifications required of the regular judge, except that the only residency requirement for a person who is a retired judge is that the retired judge must reside in the administrative judicial district. A retired judge must have voluntarily retired from office and have certified his willingness to serve.

(c) A special judge shall take the oath of office that is required by law for the regular judge and has all the power and jurisdiction of the court and of the regular judge for whom he is sitting. A special judge may sign orders, judgments, decrees, or other process of any kind as "Judge Presiding" when acting for the regular judge.

(d) A special judge is entitled to receive for the services actually performed the same amount of compensation that the regular judge is entitled to receive for the services. The compensation shall be paid out of county funds on certification by the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district that the special judge has rendered the services and is entitled to receive the compensation. None of the amount paid to a special judge for sitting for the regular judge may be deducted or paid out of the salary of the regular judge.

Transfer of Cases; Exchange of Benches

Sec. 8. (a) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, except that a case may not be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred and may not be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred. The county judge and judge of the county court at law may exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is absent, disabled, or disqualified, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or the county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. A judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

(b) On motion of a party, on agreement of the parties, or on their own motion, the judges of the county court at law and district courts in the county may transfer civil cases and proceedings to and from the dockets of their respective courts, except that a case or proceeding may not be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred and may not be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred. If a judge is disqualified in a case or proceeding, he shall transfer the case or proceeding from his court to one of the other courts.

(c) When a case is transferred from one court to another as provided by this section, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued from the transferring court are returnable to the court to which the case is transferred as if originally issued by that court. The obligees in all bonds and recognizances taken in and for a court from which a case is transferred and all witnesses summoned to appear in a court from which a case is transferred are required to appear before the court to which the case is transferred as if originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Juries, Practice and Procedure

Sec. 9. (a) The drawing of jury panels, selection of jurors, and practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice, procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, juries, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction with district courts shall be governed by the law and rules pertaining to district courts.

(b) In matters within their concurrent jurisdiction, the judges of the county court at law and district courts in the county shall adopt the rules governing the filing and numbering of cases, the assignment of cases for trial, and the distribution of the work of those courts that they consider necessary or desirable for the orderly dispatch of the business of those courts. The rules must receive an affirmative vote of a majority of those judges. If it is numerically impossible to obtain a majority of the judges, the vote of the district judge with the greatest number of years of service is considered to be the vote of a majority of the judges.

Seal

Sec. 10. The seal of the court created by this Act is the same as that provided by law for county courts, except that the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Liberty County."

Date of Creation

Sec. 11. The County Court at Law of Liberty County is created on January 1, 1986, or on an earlier date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes.

Initial Appointment of Judge

Sec. 12. The commissioners court shall appoint a person to fill the vacancy existing on the creation of the office of judge as provided by Subsection (c) of Section 5 of this Act.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY

Art. 1970-380. County Court at Law of Williamson County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Williamson County is created on the date determined by Section 11 of this Act.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Williamson County has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in cases in which the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $10,000, excluding interest.

(b) The court created by this Act has concurrent jurisdiction with the county court in:

(1) all civil and criminal cases and proceedings, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts; and

(2) probate matters and proceedings.

(c) The court created by this Act has concurrent jurisdiction with the county and district court in juvenile matters and proceedings as provided by Chapter 178, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 2338-1.1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(d) The court created by this Act has concurrent jurisdiction with the justice court in all criminal matters for which jurisdiction is conferred on justice courts by the general laws of this state. This section does not deny the right of appeal to the court created by this Act from the justice court where the right of appeal to the county court exists by law.

(e) The court created by this Act does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business that is within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court. The judge of the county court retains and shall exercise all ex officio duties of the county judge.

(f) This section does not diminish the jurisdiction of the district courts and justice courts but only gives concurrent jurisdiction to the court created by this Act over the matters specified in Subsections (a)–(d). The district courts and justice courts retain and shall continue to exercise the jurisdiction conferred by law on those courts.

(g) Article 1951, Revised Statutes, does not apply to the court created by this Act. Neither Article 1951 nor Section 4, Chapter 832, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 3266a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), affects or diminishes the jurisdiction of the court created by this Act.

Powers and Duties

Sec. 3. (a) The County Court at Law of Williamson County or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county.

(b) The court created by this Act or its judge may punish for contempt as prescribed by general law.

(c) The judge of the court created by this Act has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that the judge does not have any authority over the administrative business of the county that is performed by the county judge of the county.

Terms of Court

Sec. 4. The terms of the County Court at Law of Williamson County begin on the first Mondays in January and July of each year. Each term of court continues until the next succeeding term begins.

Judge

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Williamson County must be a citizen of the United States, have resided in the county for at least one year prior to election or appointment, be licensed to practice law in this state, and have actively practiced law for at least four years prior to election or appointment.

(b) The commissioners court shall set the annual salary of the judge of the court created by this Act. The annual salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments.

(c) The commissioners court shall appoint a person to fill a vacancy in the office of the judge of the court created by this Act. The appointee holds office until the next succeeding general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(d) Beginning at the first general election following creation of the court at which county court at law judges are regularly elected, and every fourth year thereafter, the qualified voters of the county shall elect the judge of the court created by this Act for a regular term of four years as provided by Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(e) The judge shall take the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state.

(f) The judge may not engage in the private practice of law.

Court Officials, Personnel, and Facilities

Sec. 6. (a) The judge may appoint a court coordinator or administrative assistant for the court created by this Act. A court coordinator or administrative assistant performs the duties prescribed by the judge and cooperates with the administrative judges and state agencies for the uniform and efficient operation of the courts and the administration of justice. The court coordinator or administrative assistant is entitled to be paid from county funds the compensation, fees, and allowances that are set by the commissioners court or as otherwise provided by law. This section is cumulative of the provisions of the law that relate to a court administrator's system for county courts with criminal jurisdiction in certain counties.

(b) The county attorney and the sheriff of the county shall attend the court created by this Act as required by the judge of the court. The county clerk serves as clerk of the court.

(c) The commissioners court shall provide the physical facilities and the deputy clerks, bailiffs, and other personnel necessary to operate the court created by this Act.

Special Judge

Sec. 7. (a) If the regular judge of the County Court at Law of Williamson County is absent or is from any cause disabled or disqualified from presiding, the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district in which the county is located may appoint a person licensed to practice law in this state to sit as a special judge.

(b) To be eligible for appointment as a special judge, the person must meet the qualifications required of the regular judge, except that the only residency requirement for a person who is a retired judge of a district court or county court at law is that the retired judge must reside in the administrative judicial district.

(c) A special judge shall take the oath of office that is required by law for the regular judge and has all the power and jurisdiction of the court and of the regular judge for whom he is sitting. A special judge may sign orders, judgments, decrees, or other process of any kind as "Judge Presiding" when acting for the regular judge.

(d) A special judge is entitled to receive for the services actually performed the same amount of compensation that the regular judge is entitled to receive for the services. The compensation shall be paid out of county funds on certification by the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district that the special judge has rendered the services and is entitled to receive the compensation. None of the amount paid to a special judge for sitting for the regular judge may be deducted or paid out of the salary of the regular judge. Section 42.104, Title 110B, Revised Statutes, does not apply to a retired judge of a district court who is appointed a special judge under this section.

Transfer of Cases; Exchange of Benches

Sec. 8. (a) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law in Williamson County may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, except that a case may not be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred and may not be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred. The county judge and the judge of the county court at law in Williamson County may exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is absent, disabled, or disqualified, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or the county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. A judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

(b) When a case is transferred from one court to another as provided by this section, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued from the transferring court are returnable to the court to which the case is transferred as if originally issued by that court. The obligees in all bonds and recognizances taken in and for a court from which a case is transferred, and all witnesses summoned to appear in a court from which a case is transferred, are required to appear before the court to which the case is transferred as if originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Juries; Practice and Procedure

Sec. 9. The drawing of jury panels, selection of jurors, and practice in the County Court at Law of Williamson County shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice, procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the court created by this Act involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction with district courts shall be governed by the laws and rules pertaining to district courts. Juries in the County Court at Law of Williamson County shall be composed of six persons.

Seal

Sec. 10. The seal of the court created by this Act is the same as that provided by law for county courts, except that the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Williamson County."

Date of Creation

Sec. 11. The County Court at Law of Williamson County is created on January 1, 1986, or on an earlier date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes.

Initial Appointment of Judge

Sec. 12. The commissioners court shall appoint a person to fill the vacancy existing on the creation of the office of judge as provided by Section 5(c) of this Act.

Effective Date

Sec. 13. This Act takes effect September 1, 1983.

WALLER COUNTY

Art. 1970—381. County Court at Law of Waller County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Waller County is created. It shall sit in Hempstead, Texas.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts. However, it does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, or public highways or the general administration of county business that is now within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court of Waller County. The county court at law has concurrent jurisdiction with the County Court of Waller County in all matters of probate.

(b) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain cases as provided by general law and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest.

(c) The county court at law has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court of Waller County in suits and causes involving family law matters, including adoptions; birth records; removal of disability of minority or coverture; change of names of persons; child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, or delinquency; paternity; termination of parental rights; divorce and marriage annulment, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved therein, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; independent actions involving child support and custody of minors and wife or child desertion; and independent actions involving controversies between parent and child, between parents, and between spouses.

(d) The provisions in this section do not diminish the jurisdiction of the district court in Waller County, and the district court shall retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts.

(e) The county court at law or its judge has the power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, execution, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by general law. The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that the judge of the county court at law does not have any authority over the administrative business of Waller County that is performed by the county judge of Waller County.

(f) The county Court of Waller County shall have and retain, concurrently with the court created by this Act, the general jurisdiction of a probate court. The county court shall have no other jurisdiction, civil or criminal, original or appellate. All ex officio duties of the judge shall be exercised and retained by the judge of the County Court of Waller County, except as otherwise provided by law.

Terms

Sec. 3. The county court at law shall hold four terms of court each year. The terms begin on the first Mondays in January, April, July, and October, and each term of the court continues in session until the convening of the succeeding term.

Judge

Sec. 4. (a) The judge of the county court at law must have been a bona fide resident of Waller County for at least two years prior to his appointment or election and must be a qualified voter in Waller County, at least 30 years of age, and a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law for a period of five years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may not engage in the private practice of law after his appointment or election.

(c) When this Act becomes effective, the commissioners court shall appoint a judge to the county court at law with the qualifications prescribed in this section. The appointed judge serves until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified. Beginning at the general election in 1986 and every fourth year thereafter, the qualified voters of Waller County shall elect a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(d) The commissioners court shall fill a vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the county court at law, and the appointee holds office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. The judge may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(f) The judge of the county court at law shall receive an annual salary of not less than 85 percent of the amount appropriated by the state for the annual salary of each district judge. The salary shall be paid by the county treasurer by order of the commissioners court and shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The judge of the county court at law is entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner that is allowed the county judge. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees that are prescribed by the law relating to the county judge's fees, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury on collection. No part of the fees may be paid to the judge.

(g) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in that court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Personnel

Sec. 5. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Waller County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff respectively of the county court at law, except that the district clerk of Waller County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in the cases enumerated in Subsection (c) of Section 2 of this Act. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their offices and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may appoint an official court reporter who has the qualifications and duties provided by law and who serves at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the commissioners court of Waller County. The judge of the county court at law may, in lieu of appointing an official court reporter, contract for the services of a court reporter under guidelines to be established by the commissioners court.

Transfer of Cases and Judges

Sec. 6. (a) As soon as practicable following the effective date of this Act, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the County Court of Waller County. All pending civil and criminal cases in the county court are transferred to the county court at law. The district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district courts in Waller County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in matters within their jurisdiction. All cases of which the district courts and county court at law have concurrent jurisdiction may be instituted in or transferred between the district court of Waller County and the county court at law. However, no case may be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) On the transfer of all cases specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law and in cases transferred to any of the courts in Waller County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken in the cases, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their respective jurisdictions so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. This provision providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law is cumulative of the provisions for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Practice and Procedure

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts shall be governed by the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case that is not included in the jurisdiction enumerated in Subsection (a) of Section 2 of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The laws that govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in the county court at law.

Courtroom

Sec. 8. The commissioners court shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Seal

Sec. 9. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Waller County." The County Court at Law of Waller County is a court of record.

Appeal

Sec. 10. (a) Appeals in civil and criminal cases from judgments and orders of the county court at law shall be to the court of appeals as provided for appeals from district and county courts.

(b) All cases appealed from the justice courts and other inferior courts in Waller County shall be made to the county court at law, unless otherwise provided by law.

Effective Date

Sec. 11. This Act takes effect January 1, 1984.

KLEBERG COUNTYArt. 1970-382. County Court at Law of Kleberg County*Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Kleberg County is created as provided by this Act.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law has the same civil, criminal, and probate jurisdiction, original and appellate, over all causes and proceedings that is prescribed by law for county courts.

(b) The district court, county court, and county court at law in Kleberg County have jurisdiction over juvenile matters as provided by general law, and each court may be designated a juvenile court.

(c) The county court at law has jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in eminent domain proceedings as provided by general law and in civil cases when the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, excluding interest. The county court at law has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court in suits and causes involving family law matters, including adoptions; birth records; removal of disability of minority or coverture; change of name of persons; divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; independent actions involving child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, and delinquency; and independent actions involving controversies between parents, between parent and child, and between husband and wife.

(d) This Act does not diminish the jurisdiction of the district court or the county court in Kleberg County, and those courts retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on district courts and county courts, respectively. The jurisdiction conferred by this Act is concurrent with the jurisdiction of those courts.

(e) This Act does not affect the jurisdiction of the commissioners court or of the county judge as the presiding officer of the commissioners court as to roads, bridges, public highways, and the general administration of county business that is within the jurisdiction of the commissioners court. The county judge of Kleberg County is the judge of the County Court of Kleberg County and retains and shall perform all ex officio duties and executive and administrative functions of the county judge.

Writ Power

Sec. 3. The county court at law or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court and may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court and the judge may punish for contempt as prescribed by general law.

Terms

Sec. 4. The county court at law has two terms that commence on the first Monday in January and the first Monday in July of each year. Each term of court continues until the succeeding term begins.

Judge

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the county court at law must be a citizen of the United States, must have resided in Kleberg County for at least two years prior to the judge's appointment or election, and must be a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law or has been a judge of a court in this state, or both combined, for at least four years prior to the judge's appointment or election.

(b) The commissioners court shall appoint a judge to fill the initial vacancy in the office of the judge of the county court at law when the court is created and shall fill a subsequent vacancy in the office of the judge in the same manner. The appointee to fill either the initial or a subsequent vacancy holds office until January 1 of the year following the next general election after the appointment and until his successor is elected and qualified.

(c) Beginning at the general election in 1986, the judge of the county court at law is elected by the qualified voters of Kleberg County for a regular term of four years as provided by Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution. The judge shall continue to perform the duties of the office until his successor is elected and qualified.

(d) The judge of the county court at law shall take the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of this state, but a bond is not required of the judge.

(e) The judge of the county court at law may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(f) The judge of the county court at law shall receive an annual salary set by the commissioners court at an amount not less than $32,000, but not more than an amount equal to $1,000 less than the salary paid by the state to a district judge. The salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments. The judge of the county court at law is entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner that is allowed the county judge. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees that are prescribed by law relating to the county judge's fees. The fees shall be collected by the clerk of the court and paid into the county treasury on collection. The fees may not be paid to the judge.

(g) A special judge of the county court at law may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications and is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Court Officials and Personnel

Sec. 6. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Kleberg County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, for the county court at law, except that the district clerk of Kleberg County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases where that court has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court and shall establish a separate docket for the county court at law. These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be as provided by law for official court reporters. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the commissioners court.

Practice and Procedure

Sec. 7. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by law for the county court, except that the practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the county court at law involving matters of concurrent jurisdiction with the district court shall be governed by this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. A jury is composed of 12 members, except that a jury is composed of six members in a misdemeanor criminal case or any other case where the court has concurrent jurisdiction with the county court.

(b) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts so that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction between the district court and county court at law may be instituted in or transferred between the district court of Kleberg

County and the County Court at Law of Kleberg County. However, no case may be transferred from one court to another court without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and no case may be transferred to another court unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred. In cases transferred to any of the courts in Kleberg County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases, as well as all bonds and recognizances taken before transfer, shall be valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either of those judges may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring the case to his own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions providing for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of the provisions for the election and appointment of a special judge.

(d) The laws that govern the drawing, selection, and service of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law. Jurors regularly impaneled for the week by the district court of Kleberg County may, at the request of either the judge of the county court or the judge of the county court at law, be made available by the district judge in the numbers requested and shall serve for the week in the county court or the county court at law.

Facilities

Sec. 8. (a) The county court at law shall sit in the county seat of Kleberg County. The commissioners court shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the county court at law.

(b) The seal of the county court at law shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Kleberg County."

Date of Creation

Sec. 9. The County Court at Law of Kleberg County is created on January 1, 1986, or on a date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes, whichever date is earlier. [Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4731, ch. 828, eff. Aug. 29, 1983.]

RUSK COUNTYArt. 1970-383. County Court at Law of Rusk County*Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Rusk County is created on the date determined under Section 11 of this Act.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Rusk County, concurrently with the County Court of Rusk County, has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts. However, it does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business which is now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court of Rusk County.

(b) The County Court at Law of Rusk County has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in eminent domain cases and in civil cases in which the matter in controversy exceeds $500 but does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest.

Writ Power

Sec. 3. The county court at law, or its judge, may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, and supersedeas, and other writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases in which the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county. The court may punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts. The judge of the court has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that the judge of the county court at law has no authority over the administrative business of Rusk County that is now performed by the County Judge of Rusk County.

Terms

Sec. 4. The county court at law shall hold two continuous terms which begin on the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in July of each year. Each term of court continues until the next term begins.

Judge

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the county court at law must be a qualified voter in Rusk County. He must be a licensed attorney in this state who has actively practiced law or served as a judge of a court of record for at least two years prior to his appointment or election.

(b) The judge of the county court at law may not engage in the private practice of law after his appointment or election.

(c) When this court is created, the Commissioners Court of Rusk County shall appoint a judge to the County Court at Law of Rusk County. The appointed judge serves until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified. Beginning at the next general election at which county court at law judges are regularly elected and every fourth year thereafter, the qualified voters of Rusk County shall elect a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years as provided in Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(d) A vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the county court at law shall be filled by appointment made by the Commissioners Court of Rusk County, and the appointee holds office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(e) The judge of the county court at law shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(f) The judge of the County Court at Law of Rusk County and the county judge of Rusk County are entitled to receive an annual salary set by the commissioners court. The salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments. The commissioners court may provide traveling expenses and office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in addition to the judge's salary, as it deems necessary. The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees as are prescribed by law relating to county judges' fees, which shall be collected by the clerk of the court and shall be paid into the county treasury on collection, and no part of which shall be paid to the judge.

(g) A special judge of the county court at law with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If a judge of the county court at law is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

(h) The judge of the County Court at Law of Rusk County is a member of the county juvenile board.

Court Officials and Personnel

Sec. 6. (a) The county attorney and sheriff of Rusk County shall serve as district attorney and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law of Rusk County. The district clerk of Rusk County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2(b) of this Act, and the county clerk of Rusk County shall serve as clerk of the county court at law in cases enumerated in Section 2(a). These officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their office and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter who must have the qualifications prescribed by law for that office and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as provided by law. The official court reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Rusk County.

(c) The judge of the County Court at Law of Rusk County, with the consent of the commissioners court, may employ a secretary. The secretary is entitled to a salary as determined by the commissioners court.

Transfer of Cases and Exchange of Benches

Sec. 7. (a) As soon as practicable after this court is created, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the County Court of Rusk County and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act. The district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district courts of Rusk County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the county court at law.

(b) The judge of the county court and the judge of the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts, in matters within their jurisdiction, in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(b) of this Act may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Rusk County and the County Court at Law of Rusk County. However, a case may not be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and a case may not be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(c) On the transfer of a case specified in Subsection (a) of this section to the county court at law, and in a case transferred to any of the courts in Rusk County by order of the judge of another court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the case shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases are valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(d) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law, but only in matters within their jurisdiction, and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. The provisions for the exchange of benches by and between the judges are cumulative of and in addition to the provisions in this Act for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the county court at law.

Practice and Jurors

Sec. 8. (a) Practice in the county court at law shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts.

(b) The laws governing the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the county court at law.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district court or courts may, on request of either the county judge or the judge of the county court at law, be made available and shall serve for the week in either the county court or county court at law.

Courtroom

Sec. 9. The Commissioners Court of Rusk County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Seal

Sec. 10. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts, except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Rusk County."

Date of Creation

Sec. 11. The County Court at Law of Rusk County is created on January 1, 1986, or on an earlier date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes.

CHEROKEE COUNTY

Art. 1970-384. County Court at Law of Cherokee County

Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law of Cherokee County is created on the date determined under Section 12 of this Act. The court shall sit in the city of Rusk.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The County Court at Law of Cherokee County has jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, civil and criminal, juvenile and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by the constitution and general laws for county courts. The court created by this Act has concurrent jurisdiction with the county court in all probate matters. However, it does not have jurisdiction over causes and proceedings concerning roads, bridges, and public highways and the general administration of county business which is now within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court of Cherokee County.

(b) The County Court at Law of Cherokee County has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in:

- (1) eminent domain cases;
- (2) civil cases in which the matter in controversy exceeds $500 but does not exceed $20,000, exclusive of interest; and
- (3) civil cases in suits and causes involving family law matters, including adoptions; birth records; removal of disability of minority or coverture; change of name of persons; divorce and marriage annulment cases, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved, temporary support and alimony pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings, including the power to punish for contempt to the same extent as the district court; independent actions involving child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, and delinquency; and independent actions involving controversies between parents, between parent and child, and between husband and wife.

(c) This section does not diminish the jurisdiction of the district courts in Cherokee County. The district courts retain and continue to exercise the jurisdiction that is conferred by law on those courts.

Powers and Duties

Sec. 3. (a) The court created by this Act or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the orders and jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county.

(b) The court and the judge may punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

(c) The judge of the court created by this Act has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that the judge does not have any authority over the administrative business of the county that is performed by the county judge.

Terms

Sec. 4. The terms of the court created by this Act begin on the first Mondays in March and September of each year. Each term of court continues in session until the convening of the next succeeding term.

Judge

Sec. 5. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law of Cherokee County must be a qualified voter in Cherokee County, have been a resident of Cherokee County for two years, and be a licensed attorney in this state who has been actively engaged in the practice of law or has been a judge of a court in this state, or both combined, for four years prior to the judge's appointment or election.

(b) Beginning at the next general election, after creation of the court at which county court at law judges are regularly elected, and every fourth year thereafter, the qualified voters of Cherokee County shall elect a judge of the county court at law for a regular term of four years as provided by Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(c) A vacancy occurring in the office of the judge of the County Court at Law of Cherokee County shall be filled by appointment by the commissioners court. The appointee holds office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

(d) The judge of the County Court at Law of Cherokee County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

(e) The judge of the court created by this Act is entitled to receive an annual salary set by the commissioners court and paid out of the county treasury by the commissioners court. The salary shall be paid in equal monthly installments. The judge is entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge. The judge shall assess the same fees that are prescribed by law relating to county judges' fees. The clerk of the court shall collect the fees and pay them into the county treasury on collection. None of the fees may be paid to the judge.

(f) A special judge of the court created by this Act with the same qualifications as the regular judge may be appointed or elected in the manner provided by law for the appointment or election of a special county judge. If the judge of the court created by this Act is disqualified to try a case pending in his court, the parties or their attorneys may agree on the selection of a special judge for the case. A special judge is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

(g) The judge of the court created by this Act may not engage in the private practice of law after his appointment or election.

Personnel

Sec. 6. (a) The county attorney, county clerk, and sheriff of Cherokee County shall serve as county attorney, clerk, and sheriff, respectively, for the court created by this Act, except that the district clerk shall serve as clerk of the court created by this Act in cases enumerated in Section 2(b)(3) of this Act and shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act. Those officials, either personally or by the appointment of a deputy or assistant, shall perform the duties and responsibilities of their offices and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices. The commissioners court may employ as many deputy sheriffs and bailiffs as are necessary to serve the court.

(b) The judge of the court created by this Act may appoint an official court reporter. The reporter must have the same qualifications as provided by law for official court reporters. The reporter's duties are the same as provided by law for official court reporters. The reporter serves at the pleasure of the judge. The reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the commissioners court. The judge, in lieu of appointing an official court reporter, may contract for the services of a court reporter under guidelines to be established by the commissioners court.

Transfer of Cases; Exchange of Benches

Sec. 7. (a) The judge of the county court and the judge of the court created by this Act may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in matters within their jurisdiction. All cases of concurrent jurisdiction between the district courts and the county court at law may be instituted in or transferred between the district courts of Cherokee County and the County Court at Law of Cherokee County. However, a case may not be transferred from one court to another without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred and a case may not be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(b) On the transfer of a case as provided by this Act, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the case must be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. A bond executed and recognizance entered into in the case binds the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bond or recognizance at the term of the court to which the case is transferred as fixed by law. A process issued or returned before transfer of the case and a bond or recognizance taken before transfer is valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

(c) The county judge and the judge of the court created by this Act may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other in matters within their jurisdiction so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or court created by this Act in matters within their jurisdiction and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, a judge may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending. This section is cumulative of the provisions of this Act for the selection and appointment of a special judge of the County Court at Law of Cherokee County.

Practice and Procedure

Sec. 8. (a) Practice in the court created by this Act shall conform to that prescribed by general law for county courts, except that practice and procedure, rules of evidence, issuance of process and writs, and all other matters pertaining to the conduct of trials and hearings in the court created by this Act involving those matters of concurrent jurisdiction enumerated in Section 2(b)(3) of this Act shall be governed by the provisions of this Act and the laws and rules pertaining to district courts, general or special, as well as county courts. If a case enumerated in Section 2(b)(3) of this Act is tried before a jury, the jury shall be composed of 12 members.

(b) The laws that govern the drawing, selection, service, and pay of jurors for county courts apply to the court created by this Act.

(c) Jurors regularly impaneled for a week by the district courts, on request of the judge of the court created by this Act, may be made available and shall serve for the week in the court created by this Act.

Courtroom

Sec. 9. The commissioners court shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the court created by this Act.

Seal

Sec. 10. The seal of the court created by this Act shall be the same as that provided by law for county courts except the seal shall contain the words "County Court at Law of Cherokee County." The County Court at Law of Cherokee County is a court of record.

Appeals

Sec. 11. (a) Appeals in all civil and criminal cases from judgments and orders of the court created by this Act are governed by the applicable laws and rules of civil and criminal procedure.

(b) Unless otherwise provided by law, an appeal from a justice court or other inferior court shall be made directly to the County Court at Law of Cherokee County or the county court.

Date of Creation

Sec. 12. The County Court at Law of Cherokee County is created on January 1, 1986, or on an earlier date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered on its minutes.

Initial Appointment of Judge

Sec. 13. The commissioners court shall appoint a person to fill the vacancy existing on the creation of the office of judge as provided by Section 5(c) of this Act.

Initial Transfer of Cases

Sec. 14. As soon as practicable after the court is created, the county clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the county court and shall transfer those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act. The district clerk shall establish a separate docket for the court created by this Act from among pending matters filed originally in the district court of Cherokee County and may transfer a sufficient number of those matters to the docket of the court created by this Act to equalize the dockets. Equalization of case load shall be the primary objective in establishing the initial case docket for the court created by this Act.

CALHOUN COUNTYArt. 1970-385. County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County*Creation

Sec. 1. The County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County is created on the date determined under Section 20 of this Act.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. (a) The county court at law, concurrently with the County Court of Calhoun County, has the same jurisdiction over all causes and proceedings, criminal, juvenile, and probate, original and appellate, prescribed by law for county courts.

(b) The county court at law has original concurrent jurisdiction with the justice courts in all criminal matters for which jurisdiction is conferred on justice courts by the general laws of this state. This subsection does not diminish the jurisdiction of the justice courts, but only grants concurrent original jurisdiction to the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County over the matters specified in this subsection. This subsection does not deny the right of appeal to the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County from the justice court where the right of appeal to the county court exists by law.

(c) The county court at law has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court in:

(1) cases in which the matter in controversy exceeds $500 and does not exceed $20,000, excluding interest;

(2) appeals of final rulings and decisions of the Industrial Accident Board, regardless of the amount in controversy;

(3) eminent domain cases and proceedings, regardless of the amount in controversy; and

(4) cases and proceedings involving adoptions, birth records, or removal of disability of minority or coverture; change of names of persons; child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect, or delinquency; paternity; termination of parental rights; divorce and marriage annulment, including the adjustment of property rights, custody and support of minor children involved therein, temporary support pending final hearing, and every other matter incident to divorce or annulment proceedings; independent actions involving child support, custody of minors, and wife or child desertion; and independent actions involving controversies between parent and child, between parents, and between spouses.

Powers and Duties

Sec. 3. (a) The county court at law or its judge may issue writs of injunction, mandamus, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all writs necessary for the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the court. It may issue writs of habeas corpus in cases in which the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the court or of any other court of inferior jurisdiction in the county.

(b) The court and judge have the power to punish for contempt as prescribed by law for county courts.

(c) The judge of the county court at law has all other powers, duties, immunities, and privileges provided by law for county court judges, except that the judge does not have any authority over the administrative business of the county that is performed by the county judge.

County Judge

Sec. 4. The county judge of Calhoun County is the judge of the County Court of Calhoun County. All ex officio duties of the county judge shall be exercised by the judge of the County Court of Calhoun County unless committed by this Act to the judge of the county court at law.

Juvenile Board Member

Sec. 5. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County is a member of the Calhoun County Juvenile Board.

Terms

Sec. 6. The terms of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County are the same as those of the County Court of Calhoun County.

Judge

Sec. 7. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County must be a licensed attorney in this state, well informed in the laws of this state, who has resided in and been actively engaged in the practice of law in Calhoun County for at least one year prior to his appointment or election.

(b) Beginning at the first general election following creation of the court at which county court at law judges are regularly elected, and every fourth year thereafter, the qualified voters of Calhoun County shall elect the judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County for a regular term of four years as provided by Article V, Section 30, and Article XVI, Section 65, of the Texas Constitution.

(c) The commissioners court shall appoint a person to fill a vacancy in the office of judge of the county court at law. The appointee holds office until the next succeeding general election and until his successor is elected and has qualified.

Private Practice Prohibited

Sec. 8. During his term of office, the county court at law judge may not engage in the private practice of law.

Bond; Oath; Removal

Sec. 9. The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County shall execute a bond and take the oath of office prescribed by law for county judges. He may be removed from office in the same manner and for the same causes as a county judge.

Salary; Expenses; Fees

Sec. 10. (a) The judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County shall receive a salary in an amount set by the Commissioners Court of Calhoun County, to be paid by the county treasurer by order of the commissioners court. The salary shall be paid monthly in equal installments.

(b) The judge of the county court at law is entitled to traveling expenses and necessary office expenses, including administrative and clerical help, in the same manner as is allowed the county judge.

(c) The judge of the county court at law shall assess the same fees that are prescribed by law relating to the county judge's fees. The clerk of the court shall collect the fees and pay them into the county treasury on collection. Fees may not be paid to the judge, but he shall draw the salary as specified in this section.

Special Judge

Sec. 11. If the judge of the county court at law is disqualified, a special judge may be appointed in the manner provided by law for the appointment of a special county judge. A special judge must have the same qualifications as the judge of the county court at law and is entitled to the same rate of compensation as the regular judge.

Criminal District Attorney

Sec. 12. The criminal district attorney of Calhoun County shall represent the state in all prosecutions in the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County, as provided by law for prosecutions in the county court.

County Clerk; Sheriff

Sec. 13. The county clerk and sheriff of Calhoun County shall serve as clerk and sheriff, respectively, of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County. The sheriff may employ an additional deputy sheriff to serve the county court at law. The deputy sheriff is entitled to the compensation fixed by the commissioners court. The deputy sheriff serves at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law. The county clerk may employ an additional deputy clerk to serve the county court at law. The deputy clerk is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Calhoun County. The deputy clerk serves at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law. Those officials shall perform the duties, and are entitled to the compensation, fees, and allowances prescribed by law for their respective offices in Calhoun County.

Court Reporter

Sec. 14. The judge of the county court at law shall appoint an official court reporter, who must meet the qualifications prescribed by law for that office. The reporter is entitled to the compensation fixed by the Commissioners Court of Calhoun County. The reporter serves at the pleasure of the judge of the county court at law.

Practice

Sec. 15. Practice in the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Calhoun County.

Transfer; Exchange of Benches

Sec. 16. (a) The judges of the county court and the county court at law may transfer cases to and from the dockets of their respective courts in order that the business may be equally distributed between them. However, a case may not be transferred from one court to the other without the consent of the judge of the court to which it is transferred, and a case may not be transferred unless it is within the jurisdiction of the court to which it is transferred.

(b) The county judge and the judge of the county court at law may freely exchange benches and courtrooms with each other so that if one is ill, disqualified, or otherwise absent, the other may hold court for him without the necessity of transferring the case involved. Either judge may hear all or any part of a case pending in the county court or county court at law and may rule and enter orders on and continue, determine, or render judgment on all or any part of the case without the necessity of transferring it to his own docket. However, the judge of either court may not sit or act in a case unless it is within the jurisdiction of his court. Each judgment and order shall be entered in the minutes of the court in which the case is pending.

(c) In cases transferred to either of the courts by order of the judge of the other court, all processes, writs, bonds, recognizances, or other obligations issued or made in the cases shall be returned to and filed in the court to which the transfer is made. All bonds executed and recognizances entered into in those cases shall bind the parties for their appearance or to fulfill the obligations of the bonds or recognizances at the terms of the court to which the cases are transferred as are fixed by law. All processes issued or returned before transfer of the cases as well as all bonds and recognizances before taken in the cases are valid and binding as though originally issued out of the court to which the transfer is made.

Jurors

Sec. 17. The drawing of jury panels and selection and service of jurors shall conform to that prescribed by law for the County Court of Calhoun County. Jurors summoned for either of the courts may by order of the judge of the court in which they are summoned be transferred to the other court for service and may be used as if summoned for the court to which they are transferred. On concurrence of the judge of the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County and the judge of the County Court of Calhoun County, jurors may be summoned for service in both courts and may be used interchangeably in both courts.

Courtroom

Sec. 18. The Commissioners Court of Calhoun County shall furnish and equip a suitable courtroom and office space for the county court at law.

Seal

Sec. 19. The county court at law shall have a seal identical with the seal of the County Court of Calhoun County, except that it shall contain the words "County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County."

Date of Creation

Sec. 20. The County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County is created on January 1, 1988, or on an earlier date determined by the commissioners court by an order entered in its minutes.

Jurors Summoned on Creation of Court

Sec. 21. A summons for a petit juror for county court civil or criminal cases valid on the date the County Court at Law No. 1 of Calhoun County is created is valid for service in the court at law, and jurors may be used interchangeably as provided by Section 17 of this Act.

Initial Appointment of Judge

Sec. 22. The commissioners court shall appoint a person to fill the vacancy existing on the creation of the office of judge as provided by Section 7(c) of this Act. The appointee must have the qualifications required of the regular judge.

Effective Date

Sec. 23. This Act takes effect September 1, 1983.

JURISDICTION OF PROBATE COURTSArt. 1970a-1. Probate Courts Specially Created; Jurisdiction as to Mentally Ill, Mentally Retarded and Persons Afflicted with Tuberculosis

Sec. 1. In all counties of the State of Texas having Probate Courts specially created by the Legislature, such courts shall share jurisdiction concurrently with the County Courts of such counties in relation to proceedings under the Mentally Retarded Persons Act, and such Probate Courts shall have jurisdiction concurrently with the County Courts of such counties in relation to all proceedings for the commitment, temporarily or otherwise, of persons who are not charged with any criminal offense who are mentally ill, or against whom information of mental illness has been given to the judge of any such Probate Court, whether such proceeding is for the commitment of such persons for treatment or for observation and/or treatment. The judges of such Probate Courts shall have the authority to hear and determine matters relating to the foregoing proceedings in the same manner and with the same powers as are vested in the County Courts and the judges thereof under the laws of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. The Probate Courts referred to in Section 1 hereof shall have jurisdiction, concurrently with the County Courts of their respective counties, in relation to all proceedings with respect to the treatment of persons afflicted with tuberculosis or epilepsy, and the judges of such Probate Courts shall have authority to do all things relative to the commitment of persons so afflicted which the county judges are authorized to do.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to divest or in any manner impair or reduce the jurisdiction or authority of the County Courts and the Judges thereof, or to limit the jurisdiction conferred upon Probate Courts by other laws.

4. VENUEArt. 1995. Venue*General Rule

Sec. 1. All lawsuits, except as provided in Sections 2 and 3 of this article, shall be brought in the county where the cause of action or a part thereof accrued or in the county of defendant's residence if defendant is a natural person.

Mandatory Venue

Sec. 2. (a) Lands. Actions for recovery of real property or an estate or interest in real property, or for partition of real property, or to remove encumbrances from the title to real property, or to quiet title to real property shall be brought in the county in which the property or a part of the property is located.

(b) Injunctions against suits. Actions to stay proceedings in a suit shall be brought in the county in which the suit is pending.

(c) Injunctions against executions. Actions to restrain execution of a judgment based on invalidity of the judgment or of the writ shall be brought in the county in which the judgment was rendered.

(d) Against state or head of state department. An action for mandamus against the head of a department of the state government shall be brought in Travis County.

(e) Against county. An action against a county shall be brought in that county.

(f) Other mandatory venue. An action governed by any other statute prescribing mandatory venue shall be brought in the county required by such statute.

(g) Libel, slander, or invasion of privacy. A suit for damages for libel, slander, or invasion of privacy shall be brought and can only be maintained in the county in which the plaintiff resided at the time of the accrual of the cause of action, or in the county where the defendant resided at the time of filing suit, or in the county of the residence of defendants, or any of them, or the domicile of any corporate defendant, at the election of the plaintiff.

Permissive Venue

Sec. 3. (a) Executors, administrators, etc. If the suit is against an executor, administrator, or guardian, as such, to establish a money demand against the estate which he represents, the suit may be brought in the county in which such estate is administered, or if the suit is against an executor, administrator, or guardian growing out of a negligent act or omission of the person whose estate the executor, administrator, or guardian represents, the suit may be brought in the county where the negligent act or omission of the person whose estate the executor, administrator, or guardian represents occurred.

(b) Insurance. Suit against fire, marine, or inland insurance companies may also be commenced in any county in which the insured property was situated. Suits on policies may be brought against any life insurance company, or accident insurance company, or life and accident, or health and accident, or life, health, and accident insurance company in the county where the home office of such company is located or in the county where loss has occurred or where the policyholder or beneficiary instituting such suit resides.

(c) Breach of warranty by a manufacturer. Suits for breach of warranty by a manufacturer of consumer goods may be brought in any county where the cause of action or a part thereof accrued, or in any county where such manufacturer may have an agency or representative, or in the county in which the principal office of such company may be situated, or in the county where the plaintiff or plaintiffs reside.

(d) Railway personal injuries. Suits against railroad corporations or against any assignee, trustee, or receiver operating any railway in this state for damages arising from personal injuries, resulting in death or otherwise, shall be brought either in the county in which the injury occurred or in the county in which the plaintiff resided at the time of the injury. If the defendant railroad corporation does not run or operate its railway in or through the county in which the plaintiff resided at the time of the injury and has no agent in said county, then said suit shall be brought either in the county in which the injury occurred, or in the county nearest that in which the plaintiff resided at the time of the injury, in which the defendant corporation runs or operates its road, or has an agent. When an injury occurs within one-half mile of the boundary line dividing two counties, suit may be brought in either of said counties. If the plaintiff is a nonresident of this state then such suit shall be brought in the county in which the injury occurred or in the county in which the defendant railroad corporation has its principal office.

(e) Contract in writing. (1) Subject to the provisions of Subdivision (2), if a person has contracted in writing to perform an obligation in a particular county, expressly naming such county or a definite place therein, by such writing, suit upon or by reason of such obligation may be brought against him either in such county or where the defendant has his domicile.

(2) In an action founded upon a contractual obligation of the defendant to pay money arising out of or based upon a consumer transaction for goods, services, loans, or extensions of credit intended primarily for personal, family, household, or agricultural use, suit by a creditor upon or by reason of such obligation may be brought against the defendant either in the county in which the defendant in fact signed the contract or in the county in which the defendant resides at the time of the commencement of the action. No term or statement contained in an obligation described in this subsection shall constitute a waiver of these provisions.

(f) Corporations and associations. Suits against a private corporation, association, partnership, or joint-stock company may be brought in the county in which its principal office is situated, or in the county in which the cause of action or part thereof arose, or in the county in which the plaintiff resided at the time the cause of action or part thereof arose, provided such corporation, association, partnership, or joint-stock company has an agency or representative in such county, or, if the corporation, association, partnership, or joint-stock company had no agency or representative in the county in which the plaintiff resided at the time the cause of action or part thereof arose, then suit may be brought in the county nearest that in which plaintiff resided at said time in which the corporation, association, partnership, or joint-stock company then had an agency or representative. Suits against a railroad corporation or against any assignee, trustee, or receiver operating its railway may also be brought in any county through or into which the railroad of such corporation extends or is operated. Suits against receivers of persons and corporations may also be brought as otherwise provided by law.

(g) Foreign corporations. Foreign corporations, private or public, joint-stock companies or associations, not incorporated by the laws of this state, and doing business within this state, may be sued in any county where the cause of action or a part thereof accrued, or in any county where such company may have an agency or representative, or in the county in which the principal office of such company may be situated, or, when the defendant corporation has no agent or representative in this state, then in the county where the plaintiffs or either of them reside.

(h) Other permissive venue. An action governed by any other statute prescribing permissive venue may be brought in the county allowed by such statute.

(i) Transient persons. A transient person may be sued in any county in which he may be found.

(j) Nonresidents; residence unknown. If one or all of several defendants reside without the state or if their residence is unknown, suit may be brought in the county in which the plaintiff resides.

General Provisions

Sec. 4. (a) Joinder of defendants or claims. When two or more parties are joined as defendants in the same action and/or two or more claims or causes of action are properly joined in one action and the court has venue of an action or claim against any one defendant, the court also has venue of all claims or actions against all defendants unless one or more of the claims or causes of action is governed by one of the provisions of Section 2 of this article requiring transfer of such claim or cause of action, upon proper objection, to the mandatory county.

(b) Counterclaims, cross-claims, and third party claims. Venue of the main action shall establish venue of a counterclaim, cross-claim, or third party claim properly joined under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

(c) Transfer. The court, upon motion filed and served concurrently with or before the filing of the answer, shall transfer an action to another county of proper venue where:

(1) the county where the action is pending is not a proper county as provided by this Act; or

(2) an impartial trial cannot be had in the county where the action is pending; or

(3) written consent of the parties to transfer to any other county is filed at any time.

(d) Hearings. (1) In all venue hearings, no factual proof concerning the merits of the case shall be required to establish venue; the court shall determine venue questions from the pleadings and affidavits. No interlocutory appeal shall lie from such determination.

(2) On appeal from the trial on the merits, if venue was improper it shall in no event be harmless error and shall be reversible error. In determining whether venue was or was not proper the appellate court shall consider the entire record, including the trial on the merits.

Section 3 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect September 1, 1983, and shall not apply to pending appeals on venue questions. For the purpose of appeals on venue questions pending prior to September 1, 1983, the former law is continued in effect."

Art. 1996. When Water Course or Highway is Boundary

Where any part of a river, water course, highway, road or street is the boundary line between two counties, the several courts of each of said counties shall have concurrent jurisdiction in all cases over such parts of said river, water course, highway, road or street as shall be the boundary of such county in the same manner as if such parts of said river, water course, highway, road or street were within the body of such county.

Arts. 1997 to 2002. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2002a. Filing Pleadings; Copy Delivered to Adverse Party or to Clerk; Withdrawal

Whenever any party files a pleading of any character, he shall at the same time either deliver to the adverse party, or deposit with the Clerk for the adverse party, a copy of such pleading, which copy shall not be filed by the Clerk. All filed pleadings shall remain at all times in the Clerk's office or in the Court or in custody of the Clerk, except that the Court may by order entered on the Minutes allow a filed pleading to be withdrawn for a limited time whenever necessary, on leaving a certified copy on file. The party withdrawing such pleading shall pay the costs of such order and certified copy.

Repeal by Rules of Civil Procedure

This article was included in the list of articles deemed repealed by the Rules of Civil Procedure. The Rule Making Act which repealed the laws governing practice and procedure in civil actions in Texas and which directed the Supreme Court, upon the adoption of the Rules of Civil Procedure, to file a list of all Articles deemed repealed by "Section 1 of this (Rule Making) Act" was approved and became effective May 15, 1939, while the Rules of Civil Procedure became effective

September 1, 1941. See Rules 72, 75, Vernon's Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

Art. 2002b. Filing Pleadings; Several Adverse Parties; Number of Copies Furnished

If there is more than one adverse party and the adverse parties are represented by different attorneys, one copy of such pleading shall on request be furnished to each attorney representing the adverse parties, but a firm of attorneys associated in the case shall count as one. Not more than four (4) copies of any pleading shall be required to be furnished to adverse parties and they shall be delivered to the first four (4) applicants entitled thereto. After a copy of a pleading is furnished to an attorney or deposited with the Clerk for him, he cannot require another copy of the same pleading to be furnished to him.

Arts. 2031 to 2031a. Repealed by Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 125, ch. 63, § 2, eff. April 26, 1973

See, now, Article 2031b and Business Corporation Act, Article 8.10, § D.

Art. 2031b. Service of Process Upon Foreign Corporations and Nonresidents

Failure to Appoint Agent; Designation of Secretary of State as Lawful Attorney

Sec. 1. When any foreign corporation, association, joint stock company, partnership, or non-resident natural person required by any Statute of this State to designate or maintain a resident agent, or any such corporation, association, joint stock company, partnership, or non-resident natural person subject to Section 3 of this Act, has not appointed or maintained a designated agent, upon whom service of process can be made, or has one or more resident agents and two (2) unsuccessful attempts have been made on different business days to serve process upon each of its designated agents, such corporation, association, joint stock company, partnership, or non-resident natural person shall be conclusively presumed to have designated the Secretary of State of Texas as their true and lawful attorney upon whom service of process or complaint may be made.

Engaging in Business in State; Service upon Person in Charge of Business

Sec. 2. When any foreign corporation, association, joint stock company, partnership, or non-resident natural person, though not required by any Statute of this State to designate or maintain an agent, shall engage in business in this State, in any action in which such corporation, joint stock company, association, partnership, or non-resident natural person is a party or is to be made a party arising out of such business, service may be made by serving a copy of the process with the person who, at the time of the service, is in charge of any business in which the defendant or defendants are engaged in this State, provided a copy of such process, together with notice of such service upon such person in charge of such business shall forthwith be sent to the defendant or to the defendants principal place of business by registered mail, return receipt requested.

Act of Engaging in Business in State as Equivalent to Appointment of Secretary of State as Agent

Sec. 3. Any foreign corporation, association, joint stock company, partnership, or non-resident natural person that engages in business in this State, irrespective of any Statute or law respecting designation or maintenance of resident agents, and does not maintain a place of regular business in this State or a designated agent upon whom service may be made upon causes of action arising out of such business done in this State, the act or acts of engaging in such business within this State shall be deemed equivalent to an appointment by such foreign corporation, joint stock company, association, partnership, or non-resident natural person of the Secretary of State of Texas as agent upon whom service of process may be made in any action, suit or proceedings arising out of such business done in this State, wherein such corporation, joint stock company, association, partnership, or non-resident natural person is a party or is to be made a party.

Doing Business in State; Definition

Sec. 4. For the purpose of this Act, and without including other acts that may constitute doing business, any foreign corporation, joint stock company, association, partnership, or non-resident natural person shall be deemed doing business in this State by entering into contract by mail or otherwise with a resident of Texas to be performed in whole or in part by either party in this State, or the committing of any tort in whole or in part in this State. The act of recruiting Texas residents, directly or through an intermediary located in Texas, for employment inside or outside of Texas shall be deemed doing business in this State.

Delivery of Process to Secretary of State; Forwarding Copy

Sec. 5. Whenever process against a foreign corporation, joint stock company, association, partnership, or non-resident natural person is made by delivering to the Secretary of State duplicate copies of such process, the Secretary of State shall require a statement of the name and address of the home or home office of the non-resident. Upon receipt of such process, the Secretary of State shall forthwith forward to the defendant a copy of the process by registered mail, return receipt requested.

Nonresidency after Accrual of Cause of Action; Service upon Secretary of State

Sec. 6. When any corporation, association, joint stock company, partnership or natural person becomes a non-resident of Texas, as that term is commonly used, after a cause of action shall arise in this State, but prior to the time the cause of action is matured by suit in a court of competent jurisdiction in this State, when such corporation, association, joint stock company, partnership or natural person is not required to appoint a service agent in this State, such corporation, association, joint stock company, partnership or natural person may be served with citation by serving a copy of the process upon the Secretary of State of Texas, who shall be conclusively presumed to be the true and lawful attorney to receive service of process; provided that the Secretary of State shall forward a copy of such service to the person in charge of such business or an officer of such company, or to such natural person by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested.

Cumulative Effect of Act

Sec. 7. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as repealing any statute in force in this State in reference to service of process, but this Act shall be cumulative of all existing statutes.

Art. 2032. Foreign Railway Corporations

Service may also be had on foreign railway corporations by serving citation upon any train conductor who is engaged in handling trains for two or more railway corporations where one is a foreign railway corporation, and the other a domestic corporation, if said conductor handles and operates trains over such foreign and domestic corporation's tracks across the State line of Texas and on the track of the domestic corporation within this State or upon any agent who has an office in Texas who sells tickets or makes contracts for the transportation of passengers or property over any line of railway, or part thereof, of such foreign railway corporation or company. Conductors who are engaged in handling trains and employed by a foreign railway corporation and a domestic corporation, and who operate such trains across the State line of Texas, and agents engaged in selling tickets or making contracts for the transportation of property, are hereby designated as agents of such foreign corporation or companies upon whom service of citation may be had.

Art. 2033. Against Partners

Citation served upon one member of a partnership or firm shall be sufficient to authorize a judgment against the firm and the partner actually served.

Saved from repeal, see art. 6132b, § 46.

Art. 2033a. Service on Local Representative of Nonresident Individual or Partnership Supplying Public Utility Service

In suits against individuals and partnerships engaging in supplying gas, water, electricity or other public utility service to villages, towns, or cities in Texas, where such individuals or members of such partnerships reside out of the State of Texas, citation may be served upon the local agent, representative, superintendent or person in charge of the business of such individuals or partnerships.

Art. 2033b. Service of Process on Agent or Clerk in Office in County Other than Residence of Principal

When an individual, partnership or unincorporated association (either being referred to herein as principal, whether one or more) has, for the transaction or doing of any business in Texas, an office, place of business, or agency in any county other than that in which the principal resides, service of citation or other civil process to bind any such principal, may be made on any agent or clerk employed in such office, place of business or agency, in all suits or actions growing out of or connected with such business and brought in the county in which such office, place of business or agency is located; and the provisions hereof shall apply as well to non-residents of the state as to non-residents of such county; and shall also apply to cases where a principal, though claiming or alleged to be a resident of the county wherein is located such office, place of business or agency, has not been found in such county for service on him of process in such suit, in which case, if the officer making return of the process unexecuted shall certify in such return that after diligent search and inquiry a principal cannot be found and served, then process in such suit to any succeeding term of court may be served on such clerk or agent as is herein provided for in case of non-residents of such county; but provided that nothing herein shall prevent or interfere with the application of the articles of the statutes relating to venue of suits.

Art. 2033c. Effect of Service

Such service of process, made in the manner herein provided, shall have the same effect as if made personally on the principal and shall especially have effect to subject all non-exempt property in Texas of the principal so served to the jurisdiction and judgment of the court in such suit; but provided that no default judgment shall be rendered on service so obtained until after twenty days after the date of such service, and provided further that the method of service afforded by this Act shall be cumulative.

Arts. 2034 to 2039. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2039a. Citation of Nonresident Motor Vehicle Operators by Serving Chairman of State Highway Commission; Forwarding Notice to Defendant

Acceptance of Benefits of Highways Deemed Equivalent to Appointment of Agent; Service

Sec. 1. The acceptance by a nonresident of this State or by a person who was a resident of this State at the time of the accrual of a cause of action but who subsequently removes therefrom, or the acceptance by his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian of the rights, privileges and benefits extended by law to such persons of operating a motor vehicle or motorcycle or having the same driven or operated within the State of Texas shall be deemed equivalent to an appointment by such nonresident and of his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian, of the Chairman of the State Highway Commission of this State, or his successor in office, to be his true and lawful attorney and agent upon whom may be served all lawful process in any civil action or proceeding now pending or hereafter instituted against said nonresident, his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian, growing out of any accident, or collision in which said nonresident, his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian, may be involved while operating a motor vehicle or motorcycle within this State, either in person or by his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian, and said acceptance or operation shall be a signification of the agreement of said nonresident, or his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian, that any such process against him or against his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian, served upon said Chairman of the State Highway Commission or his successor in office, shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served personally.

Service of such process shall be made by leaving a certified copy of the process issued in the hands of the Chairman of the State Highway Commission in Texas at least twenty (20) days prior to the return date thereof, to be stated in said process, and such service shall be sufficient upon said nonresident, his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian, provided, however, that notice of such service and a copy of the process be forthwith sent by registered mail by the Chairman of the State Highway Commission to the nonresident defendant, his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian.

Forwarding Process; Notice; Return

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the State Highway Commission of the State of Texas, upon being served with process as provided in Section 1 of this Act, to immediately enclose copy of the process served upon him in a letter properly addressed to the defendant, or to his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian, and shall forward the same by registered mail, postage prepaid. If and in the event notice of service of the process upon the Chairman of the State Highway Commission cannot be effected by registered mail or if the person to whom it is addressed refuses to accept or receive the same, then the plaintiff may cause the defendant to be served with a notice of the fact that the process has been served upon the Chairman of the State Highway Commission, stating the date of the service thereof, which notice shall also be accompanied with a certified copy of the process so served upon said Chairman of the State Highway Commission. Such notice may be served by any disinterested person competent to make oath of the fact by delivering to the person to be served in person a true copy of such notice, together with a certified copy of the process served upon the Chairman of the State Highway Commission. The return of service in such case shall be endorsed on or attached to the original notice stating when it was served and upon whom it was served and it shall be signed and sworn to by the party making such service before any person authorized by the Statutes of this State to make affidavit under the hand and official seal of such officer.

Return

Sec. 3. The officer serving such process upon the Chairman of the State Highway Commission, shall in his return state the day and hour of the service upon the Chairman of the State Highway Commission of such process and such other facts as are now required to be made in his return as in the case of service of citations generally.

Certificate of Chairman of State Highway and Public Transportation Commission

Sec. 4. The Chairman of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission shall, upon request of a party and upon the payment of a fee of $25, certify to the court out of which said process is issued or in which any suit or action may be pending against such nonresident, his agent, servant, employee, heir, legal representative, executor, administrator or guardian, the occurrence or performance of any of the duties, acts, omissions, transactions or happenings contemplated or required by this Act, including the wording of any registered letter received, and his certificate, as well as the wording of said registered letter receipt, shall be accepted as prima facie evidence and proof of the statements contained therein.

Judgment by Default

Sec. 5. No judgment by default shall be taken in any such cause or action, suit or proceeding, until after the expiration of at least twenty days after such process shall have been served upon the Chairman of the State Highway Commission as herein provided, and the presumption shall obtain, unless rebutted, that such process was transmitted by the Chairman of the State Highway Commission and received by the defendant after being deposited in the mail by the Chairman of the State Highway Commission.

Continuance or Postponement

Sec. 6. The court in which the action or proceeding is pending shall have the right to continue or postpone said action or proceeding, as may be necessary to afford the defendant reasonable opportunity to defend the action.

Art. 2039b. Citation of Nonresidents for Tax Purposes

Acceptance of Benefits Relating to Taxation Deemed Equivalent to Appointment of Agent

Sec. 1. In addition to any procedures for citation provided under Rule 117a, Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, the acceptance by a nonresident of this state, or by a person who was a resident of this state at the time of the accrual of a cause of action but who subsequently removes therefrom, of the rights, privileges, and benefits extended by law to such person(s) of owning, having, or claiming an interest in property, real or personal, subject to taxation by the State of Texas and its legal subdivisions, or any of them, shall be deemed equivalent to appointment by such nonresident of the executive director of the State Property Tax Board or his successor in office, to be his true and lawful attorney and agent upon whom may be served all lawful process in any civil action or proceeding now pending or hereafter instituted against such nonresident(s) growing out of taxation by the state and its legal subdivisions, or any of them, of property in which such nonresident(s) owned, had, or claimed a taxable interest on the first day of any tax year(s) for which taxes on such property have not been paid. Such service of process, as herein provided, shall have the same effect as if made personally on the defendant within the State of Texas.

Manner and Method of Service

Sec. 2. Service of process under this Act shall be in the same manner and method as that prescribed in Chapter 125, Acts of the 41st Legislature, Regular Session, 1929, as last amended by Chapter 502, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959 (compiled as Article 2039a of Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), which relates to citation of nonresident motor vehicle operators by serving the chairman of the state highway commission; provided, however, in the service of such process certified mail shall be used rather than registered mail.

"Nonresidents" Defined

Sec. 3. "Nonresidents" as used in this Act includes corporations, partnerships and all other legal entities or representatives owning, having, or claiming a taxable interest in such property at the time(s) specified in Section 1 hereof.

Severability Clause

Sec. 4. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1900, ch. 607, eff. Sept. 1, 1975. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 629, ch. 250, § 1, eff. May 28, 1981.]

Art. 2040. Unknown Heirs or Stockholders of Defunct Corporation

Where property in this State has been granted or has accrued to the heirs as such, of any deceased person, or to the stockholders of defunct corporation, any party having a claim or cause of action against them relative to such property, if their names be unknown to him, may bring an action against them, their heirs or legal representatives, describing them as the heirs of such named ancestor or unknown stockholder of such corporation. If the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, shall make oath that the names of such heirs or stockholders are unknown to the affiant, the clerk shall issue a citation for such heirs or stockholders, addressed to the sheriff or any constable of the county in which such suit is pending. Such citation shall contain a brief statement of the cause of action, and shall command the officer to summon the defendant by making publication of such citation as provided in the preceding article.

Repeal by Rules of Civil Procedure

Repealed in part by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1). See Rule 111, Vernon's Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

Art. 2041. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2041a. Suits Against Unknown Owners or Claimants of Interest in Land; Citation by Publication

Sec. 1. When land in this State or any interest of any kind in land has been or may hereafter be conveyed, or any lease or contract with reference to land made by written instrument (a) to any person or persons as trustee or trustees and in the conveyance or instrument constituting source of title or claim of title the names of the persons taking or holding the equitable or beneficial title are not disclosed and are unknown, or (b) to any association, joint stock company or partnership, in an association, company or firm name, without disclosing the names of the members, shareholders or partners or persons owning interests in such association, company or firm, and such association, joint stock company or partnership shall thereafter be dissolved and the names of the persons holding or acquiring title to such lands after dissolution are not disclosed in such instrument and are unknown; in each of such cases any person claiming ownership of or any interest in such lands or having a claim or cause of action against such unknown owners or claimants relative to such property, may bring action or actions against such unknown owners or claimants as such. The provisions hereof shall apply to conveyances made to all character and kinds of companies, associations and organizations, and in which conveyance the names and identity of the persons taking and holding the beneficial or equitable title are not disclosed and are unknown; provided, however, that if the grantee in such conveyance is shown therein to be a corporation or if the grantee be known to be a corporation, in such event this Act shall not apply, but the rights of action shall be governed by Article 2040 of Revised Civil Statutes; but if the character of the organization as whether incorporated or unincorporated is not shown in such conveyance and such facts are unknown, then suit brought under the provisions of this Act against the unknown owners or claimants of property under such conveyance shall be sufficient to give the Court jurisdiction over such unknown owners or claimants regardless of whether the named grantee is in fact a corporation or unincorporated.

Secs. 2, 3. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1).

CHAPTER SIX. CERTAIN DISTRICT COURTS

Art.

2092. Rules of Practice and Procedure.

2093 to 2093b. Repealed.

Art.

- 2093c. Assignment Clerks in Certain Counties Having Eight District Courts.
- 2093d. Presiding Judge and Assignment Clerk in 28th, 94th and 117th Judicial Districts.
- 2093e. Assignment Clerk of District Courts of Bexar County.
- 2093f. Assignment, Docketing and Transfer of Cases in Dallas County District Courts.

Art. 2092. Rules of Practice and Procedure

The following rules of practice and procedure shall govern and be followed in the Civil District Courts in counties having two (2) or more District Courts with civil jurisdiction only, whose terms continue three (3) months or longer and in all civil litigation in counties having five (5) or more District Courts with either civil or criminal jurisdiction or both civil and criminal jurisdiction:

1. Citation. Citations issued for personal service in the county in which the suit is pending shall command the officer to summon the defendant to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next following the expiration of the twenty-five (25) days from the date of citation and shall be executed and returned by the officer twenty (20) days after date of issuance.

2. Execution and Return. Citations or notices issued for personal service on a defendant to appear at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of fifty-five (55) days from the date the citation or notice is issued, shall be executed or served on or before thirty-five (35) days from the date of issue and shall be made returnable thirty-five (35) days after such date.

3. Out-County Citation. Citation for defendants alleged to reside or be outside of the county in which the suit is pending, but within this State, shall be directed to the Sheriff or any constable of the county where the defendant is alleged to reside or be and shall command him to summon the defendant to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next following the expiration of thirty (30) days from the date the citation is issued and shall be executed and returned to the officer within twenty (20) days after the date of issue.

4. Time for Appearance. Citations or notices issued for personal service on a defendant alleged to reside or be outside of the State but within the United States, shall notify the defendant to appear at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of fifty-five (55) days from the date the citation or notice is issued and shall be executed or served on or before thirty-five (35) days from the date of issue and shall be made returnable thirty-five (35) days after date of issue.

5. Citation Shall Specify Day. In each of said cases the citation or notice shall specify the day of the week, the day of the month and the time of day the defendant is required to appear and answer, and if any defendant so served does not appear and answer at or before the time specified in such citation or notice, judgment by default may be rendered against such defendant.

6. Citation by Publication. If citation is to be served by publication it shall be returnable forty-two (42) days after the date of issue and shall command the defendant to appear at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next following the expiration of forty-two (42) days after the citation was issued, and shall specify the day of the week, the day of the month and the time of day the defendant is required to appear and answer, and shall be served by being published in the manner and for the length of time required by law for citations by publication in the same kind of cases or matters in other District Courts at the time the publication is made and the first publication shall be at least twenty-eight (28) days before the return day of the citation.

7. Service in Foreign Country. If citation is issued to be served personally on any defendant or party in any foreign country it shall be made returnable at such time as the plaintiff or person procuring its issuance shall direct, which shall not be less than thirty (30) days nor more than one hundred and twenty (120) days after the date of issue and shall notify and command the defendant or person to be served to appear and answer at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next following the expiration of twenty (20) days after the return day of the citation or notice and shall specify the day of the week, the day of the month and the time of day the defendant is required to appear and answer, and shall be served on or before the return day, and if any defendant so served does not appear and answer at or before the time specified in the citation or notice, judgment by default may be rendered against such defendant.

8. Where Citation or Service is Quashed. If the citation or service thereof is quashed on motion of the defendant, such defendant shall be deemed to have entered his appearance at ten o'clock a.m. on the Monday next after the expiration of twenty (20) days after the day on which the citation or service is quashed, and such defendant shall be deemed to have been duly served so as to require him to appear and answer at that time, and if he fails to do so, judgment by default may be rendered against him.

9. Writs of Attachment. Writs of attachment shall be executed immediately after their issuance. Every such writ shall be made returnable, on or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of fifteen (15) days from the issuance of the writ, and the officer executing the writ shall return the same at or before that time with his action indorsed thereon or attached thereto, signed by him officially, showing how he has executed the writ.

10. Writs of Garnishment. Writs of garnishment shall be executed immediately after their issuance and every such writ shall command the officer to summon the garnishee to appear at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next following the expiration of twenty-five (25) days from the date the writ was issued and the writ shall specify when and where the garnishee is required to answer and the officer receiving the writ of garnishment shall within fifteen (15) days after the issuance of the writ make his return showing how he has executed the writ.

11. Failure of Garnishee to Answer. If the garnishee fails to make answer to the writ on or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next following the expiration of twenty-five (25) days from the date of the writ, he shall be in default and it shall be lawful for the Court, at any time after judgment shall have been rendered against the defendant, to render judgment by default against such garnishee for the full amount of such judgment against the defendant, with all accruing interest and costs. The plaintiff in garnishment shall have fifteen (15) days after the garnishee's answer is filed within which to controvert the same if he so desires.

12. Other Writs and Process. All other writs and process not expressly otherwise provided for in this Article and which under the general law are now returnable to the first day of the next term of Court after the issuance thereof, and which require the defendant or person served to appear on the first day of the next succeeding term, shall be returnable fifteen (15) days after the date thereof and shall be executed and returned at or before the expiration of fifteen (15) days from the date thereof and shall require the defendant or party served to appear and answer at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of twenty-five (25) days after such writ or process was issued, and all such writs or process shall so specify.

13. Appealed Cases. In cases appealed to said District Courts from inferior Courts, the appeal, including transcript, shall be filed in the District Court within thirty (30) days after the rendition of the judgment or order appealed from, and the appellee shall enter his appearance on the docket or answer to said appeal on or before ten o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of twenty (20) days from the date the appeal is filed in the District Court.

14. Pleas of Privilege. Pleas of privilege shall be filed at or before the time the defendant is required to answer and a contest thereof if any, shall be filed within twenty (20) days after the appearance day, and if a contest is filed, the same shall, when filed, be set for hearing by the Court within not exceeding thirty (30) days after being filed and shall be determined by the Court within not exceeding ten (10) days after the date for which the same is set unless postponed or continued without prejudice, by order or leave of the Court, by agreement of the parties, and shall not be postponed longer than sixty (60) days after being filed unless by order of the Court entered by agreement of the parties.

15. Amended Pleadings. Whenever any party files a pleading of any character, he shall at the same time either deliver to the adverse party, or deposit with the Clerk for the adverse party, a copy of such pleading, which copy shall not be filed by the Clerk. All filed pleadings shall remain at all times in the Clerk's office or in the Court or in custody of the Clerk, except that the Court may by order entered on the Minutes allow a filed pleading to be withdrawn for a limited time whenever necessary on leaving a certified copy on file. The party withdrawing such pleading shall pay the costs of such order and certified copy.

16. Where More Than One Adverse Party. If there is more than one adverse party and the adverse parties are represented by different attorneys, one copy of each pleading shall on request be furnished to each attorney representing the adverse parties, but a firm or attorneys associated in the case shall count as one. Not more than four (4) copies of any pleading shall be required to be furnished to adverse parties and they shall be delivered to the first four (4) applicants entitled thereto. After a copy of a pleading is furnished to an attorney or deposited with the Clerk for him, he cannot require another copy of the same pleading to be furnished to him.

17. Failure to Furnish Copy. If any party fails to furnish the adverse party with a copy of any pleading in accordance with this Article, he may be required to do so by order of the Court on motion made and notice given, and if he fails to comply with any such order within five (5) days after its date, he may be punished for contempt of Court, and the Court may order the Clerk to furnish a certified copy, the costs thereof to be charged against the party who failed to comply with the order to furnish it.

18. Setting Cases for Trial, Etc. On the first Monday in each calendar month the Judge of each Court may, and as far as practicable shall, set for trial during the calendar month next after the month during which the setting is made, all contested cases which are requested to be set, and by agreement of the parties, or on motion of either party, or on the Court's own motion with notice to the parties, the Court may set any case for trial at any time so as to allow the parties reasonable time for preparation. Non-contested cases may be tried or disposed of at any time whether set or not, and may be set at any time for any other time.

18a. Assignment Clerks. In all counties having a population of more than three hundred thousand (300,000) inhabitants and less than three hundred and fifty thousand (350,000) inhabitants, according to the preceding Federal Census, a majority of the District Judges of the District Courts with civil jurisdiction only may appoint an Assignment Clerk to serve under the Presiding Judge of said District Courts in the setting and disposing of cases on the general Jury Docket. The salary of said Clerk shall be fixed by the Commissioners Court of the county and paid in monthly installments on voucher approved by the Presiding Judge of said Courts. His appointment shall be for a term of two (2) years, but he shall be subject to dismissal by a majority of said Judges for inefficiency or misconduct.

19. Postponement or Continuance. Cases may be postponed or continued by agreement with the approval of the Court, or upon the Court's own motion or for cause. When a case is called for trial and only one party is ready, the Court may for good cause either continue the case for the term or postpone and reset it for a later day in the same or succeeding term.

20. Cases May Be Reset. A case that is set and reached for trial may be postponed for a later day in the term or continued and reset for a day certain in the succeeding term on the same grounds as an application for continuance would be granted in other District Courts. After any case has been set and reached in its due order and called for trial two (2) or more times and not tried, the Court may dismiss the same unless the parties agree to a postponement or continuance but the Court shall respect written agreements of counsel for postponement and continuance if filed in the case when or before it is called for trial unless to do so will unreasonably delay or interfere with other business of the Court.

21. Exchange and Transfer. The Judges of such Courts may, in their discretion, exchange benches or districts from time to time, and may transfer cases and other proceedings from one Court to another, and any of them may in his own courtroom try and determine any case or proceeding pending in another Court without having the case transferred, or may sit in any other of said Courts and there hear and determine any case there pending, and every judgment and order shall be entered in the Minutes of the Court in which the case is pending and at the time the judgment or order is rendered, and two (2) or more Judges may try different cases in the same Court at the same time, and each may occupy his own courtroom or the room of any other Court. The Judge of any such Court may issue restraining orders and injunctions returnable to any other Judge or Court, and any Judge may transfer any case or proceeding pending in his Court to any other of said Courts, and the Judge of any Court to which a case or proceeding is transferred shall receive and try the same, and in turn shall have power in his discretion to transfer any such case to any other of said Courts and any other Judge may in his courtroom try any case pending in any other of such Courts.

22. Cases Transferred to Judges not Occupied. When the Judge of any such Court shall become disengaged, he shall notify the Presiding Judge, and the Presiding Judge shall transfer to the Court of the disengaged Judge the next case which is ready for trial in any of said Courts. Any Judge not engaged in his own Court may try any case in any other Court.

23. Judge Disqualified. If a Judge of any Court is disqualified in any case pending in his Court, and his disqualification is certified to the Governor, the Governor may require the Judge of any other of such Courts to exchange benches or districts with the disqualified Judge, and may, at any time, require any of such Judges to exchange districts with each other or with any other District Judge. In case of the absence, sickness, or disqualification of any Judge, any other of said Judges may hold Court for him or may transfer from his Court to any other of said Courts any case or proceeding then pending in the Court of said absent, sick, or disqualified Judge and in such circumstances the practicing lawyers of the Court may elect a special Judge of said Court in the same manner as provided in Chapter 1 of Title 40 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925,¹ and such special Judge when so elected shall have and exercise all the powers and duties which the regular Judge of said Court could have and exercise.

24. Judge May Hear Only Part of Case. Any Judge may hear any part of any case or proceeding pending in any of said Courts and determine the same, or may hear and determine any question in any case, and any other Judge may complete the hearing and render judgment in the case.

25. Any Judge May Hear Dilatory Pleas, Etc. Any Judge may hear and determine demurrers, motions, petitions for injunction, applications for appointment of receivers, interventions, pleas of privilege, pleas in abatement, all dilatory pleas, motions for new trial and all preliminary matters, questions and proceedings and may enter judgment or order thereon in the Court in which the case is pending without having the case transferred to the Court of the Judge acting, and the Judge in whose Court the case is pending may thereafter proceed to hear, complete, and determine the case or other matter, or any part thereof, and render final judgment therein. Any judgment rendered or action taken by any Judge in any of said Courts in the county shall be valid and binding.

26. Selection of Presiding Judge. The Judges of such Courts shall twice a year, in January and July, select one of their number as Presiding Judge and may at any time cancel and annul such selection and select any other Judge as Presiding Judge. Each such proceeding shall be by majority vote. Each Judge shall enter on his Minutes an order reciting the selection of the Presiding Judge. The Presiding Judge may assign any case in his Court or any of such Courts in the county to any other Judge or Court, or may assign any Judge to try any case in any of the Courts, and the Judge in whose Court an assigned case is pending shall transfer the case to the Court to which it is assigned, and the Judge of the Court to which it is assigned shall receive and try the case, and such Judge shall hold any other Court or try any case which he is requested by the Presiding Judge to try.

27. Judges May Make Rules. The Judges may by a majority vote make rules for the calling of the docket, for the setting and postponement of cases, for the hearing and acting upon motions, questions of law, applications for injunctions and receivers, and for classifying and distributing cases and for having one calendar for all set cases in all Courts and for prescribing when the different Courts shall have jury trials and when they shall have nonjury trials, and such other rules as they deem advisable to facilitate the dispatch of business. All rules made by said Judges shall be adopted by order of each Judge and spread upon the Minutes of his Court, but such rules shall not be inconsistent with any rule adopted or prescribed by the Supreme Court, nor in conflict with any law of this State.

28. Motion for New Trial. A motion for new trial filed during one term of Court may be heard and acted on at the next term of Court. If a case or other matter is on trial or in process of hearing when the term of Court expires, such trial, hearing, or other matter may be proceeded with at the next term of the Court. No motion for new trial or other motion or plea shall be considered as waived or overruled, because not acted on at the term of Court at which it was filed, but may be acted on at the succeeding term or at any time which the Judge may fix or to which it may have been postponed or continued by agreement of the parties with leave of the Court. All motions and amended motions for new trials must be presented within thirty (30) days after the original motion or amended motion is filed and must be determined within not exceeding forty-five (45) days after the original or amended motion is filed, unless by written agreement of the parties in the case, the decision of the motion is postponed to a later date.

29. Time to File Motion for New Trial. A motion for new trial where required shall be filed within ten (10) days after the judgment is rendered or other order complained of is entered, and may be amended by leave of the Court at any time before it is acted on within twenty (20) days after it is filed.

30. Judgment Final, When. Judgments of such civil District Courts shall become as final after the expiration of thirty (30) days after the date of judgment or after a motion for a new trial is overruled as if the term of Court had expired. After the expiration of thirty (30) days from the date the judgment is rendered or motion for new trial is overruled, the judgment cannot be set aside except by bill of review for sufficient cause, filed within the time allowed by law for the filing of bills of review in other District Courts.

31. Appeal Bonds Filed, When. In appeals from such civil District Courts the appeal bond shall be filed within thirty (30) days after the judgment or order appealed from is rendered, if no motion for new trial is filed, and if a motion for new trial is filed, the appeal bond shall be filed within thirty (30) days after the motion for new trial is overruled. In such appeals the statement of facts and bills of exception shall be filed within ninety (90) days after the judgment is rendered if there is no motion for new trial, but if there is a motion for new trial then ninety (90) days after motion for new trial is overruled. When a statement of facts or bills of exception is presented to the adverse party, or his attorney, it shall be returned within five (5) days signed by the attorney of such adverse party if found correct, and if found incorrect shall be returned within that time with a written statement of the objections thereto.

Art. 2093d. Presiding Judge and Assignment Clerk in 28th, 94th and 117th Judicial Districts

The Judges of the three (3) District Courts included within the provisions of this Act may from time to time, as they may see fit, elect a Presiding Judge, who shall attend to the administration of this Act¹ and the setting and assignment of cases in said Courts, in accordance with this Act, and in all other matters not provided for by this Act or some other Law or Rules of Civil Procedure. Such Presiding Judge shall be elected by said Judges for such term as they see fit. A majority of the Judges of the District Courts within the provisions of this Act may appoint an Assignment Clerk to serve said Courts in Nueces County under the Presiding Judge of said District Courts in the setting and disposing of cases on the general docket. Such Assignment Clerk shall perform such duties as are assigned to him by said Judges in connection with the setting and disposing of cases. The salary of such Clerk shall be set by the Commissioners Court of Nueces County and paid in monthly installments out of the General Fund or the Jury Fund of such County, as the Commissioners Court may provide, on voucher approved by the Presiding Judge of said Courts; provided, such salary shall not exceed Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) per annum. The appointment shall be for a term of two (2) years, but he shall be subject to dismissal by a majority of said Judges for inefficiency or misconduct.

Art. 2093e. Assignment Clerk of District Courts of Bexar County

A majority of the Judges of the 37th, 45th, 57th, 150th, 131st, 166th, 144th, 175th, 186th, 187th, 73rd, 224th, 225th, 226th, and 227th District Courts may appoint an Assignment Clerk to serve said Courts in Bexar County under the presiding Judge of said District Courts in the coordination, setting and disposing of cases on the general docket. Such Assignment Clerk shall perform such duties as are assigned to him by said Judges in connection with the coordination, setting and disposing of cases. The Assignment Clerk shall receive reasonable compensation to be determined by the Judges of those Courts, not to exceed 70 percent of the salary paid by the state to the Judges of those Courts. The Commissioners Court of such County shall provide for the payment of the salary of the Assignment Clerk out of the general fund or the jury fund of said County. The appointment shall be for a term of two (2) years, but he shall be subject to dismissal by a majority of said Judges for inefficiency or misconduct.

Art. 2094. Selecting Names for Jury Wheel

Between the first and fifteenth days of August of each year, in each county in this State, the tax collector, sheriff, county clerk, and district clerk of the county, each in person or represented by one of his deputies, shall meet at the county courthouse and reconstitute the jury wheel, using as the sole and mandatory source, all names on the voter registration lists from all precincts in the county and the register of permanently exempt persons maintained by the tax collector under Article 2137a.

Section 1 of Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 373, ch. 180, provided:

"Purpose. The 58th Legislature amended Article 2094, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, by two separate Acts with different provisions. The purpose of this amendment is to clarify the law by combining all of the provisions of both amendments, and to facilitate future amendment."

Section 2 of Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 948, ch. 159 provided:

"As used in this Act, 'the last preceding federal census' means the 1970 census or any future decennial federal census. This is despite any legislation that has been or may be enacted during any session of the 62nd Legislature delaying the effectiveness of the 1970 census for general state and local governmental purposes."

Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2801, ch. 905, amending this article and various other articles of this chapter, in sections 13, 14, and 16 to 19 provided:

"Sec. 13. [providing for the court's equalization of the number of peremptory challenges of prospective jurors allotted to the parties, appears as article 2151a].

"Sec. 14. Repealed by Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 475, ch. 204, § 2. [See, now, article 2094a.]

"Sec. 16. All statutes, rules of civil procedure, or case laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed or modified to the extent of such conflict.

"Sec. 17. For all counties under 10,000 population not presently using the jury wheel system for selection of jurors, the district judge of the county or of the judicial district of which the county is a part, may determine whether the county should come under the provisions of this law or may choose to adopt the jury commissioners system for selection of jurors in that county. If the district judge should determine to adopt the jury commissioners system for selection of jurors in a particular county, he must do so by July 15, 1971, otherwise, the county will come under the provisions of this Act. If, pursuant to the passage of this Act, this section is held to be unconstitutional by a court of this State or of the United States, then the jury wheel system for selection of jurors as provided by this Act shall be applicable to all counties of the State.

"Sec. 18. The provisions of this Act shall become effective on July 15, 1971.

"Sec. 19. If any article, section, sentence, clause, or phrase of this Act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such invalid portion shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the valid portions of the Act irrespective of the fact that any one or more portions be declared unconstitutional."

Art. 2094a. Removal of Prospective Jurors for Cause; Dismissal from Service; Counties of Not Less Than 1,100,000

In all counties of this state having a population of not less than 1,100,000 inhabitants, once a prospective juror has been removed from a jury panel for cause, by peremptory challenge, or for any reason, he shall be immediately dismissed from jury service and shall not be placed on another jury panel until his name is returned to the jury wheel and drawn again as a prospective juror.

Section 2 of the 1973 Act repealed Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2801, ch. 905, § 14, which prior thereto read:

"Once a prospective juror has been removed from a jury panel for cause, by peremptory challenge, or for any reason, he shall be immediately dismissed from jury service and shall not be placed on another jury panel until his name is returned to the jury wheel and drawn again as a prospective juror."

Art. 2095. Cards Put in Wheel; Typists and Expenses

Said officers shall write the names of all persons on said precinct lists, residing in their respective counties, on separate cards of uniform size and color, writing also on said cards, whenever possible, the post-office address of each juror so selected, except that in counties having a population of one hundred forty thousand (140,000) or more, according to the last preceding federal census, the Commissioners Court shall provide out of the jury fund a sum sufficient for the employment of typists and payment of other expenses. The typists, under the direction, control and supervision of the district clerk, shall type the names and addresses of qualified jurors upon the cards as herein described. The expenses so incurred shall be authorized, reported, paid and accounted for under the same laws, rules and regulations as govern the payment of other expenses of the office of the district clerk in such counties, except as otherwise herein specifically provided. The cards containing said names shall be deposited in a jury wheel, to be provided for such purpose by the Commissioners Court of the county. Said wheel shall be constructed of any durable material and shall be so constructed as to freely revolve on its axle; and may be equipped with a motor capable of revolving said wheel in such a manner as to thoroughly mix said cards; and shall be kept locked at all times, except when in use as hereinafter provided, by the use of two separate locks, so arranged that the key to one will not open the other lock; and said wheel, and the clasps thereto attached into which the locks shall be fitted, shall be so arranged that the wheel cannot be opened unless both of said locks are unlocked at the time the wheel is opened. The keys to such locks shall be kept, one by the sheriff and the other by the district clerk. The sheriff and the clerk shall not open such wheel, nor permit the same to be opened by any person, except at the time and in the manner and by the persons herein specified; but said sheriff and clerk shall keep such wheel, when not in use, in a safe and secure place, where the same cannot be tampered with.

Art. 2096. Cards Drawn from Wheel

(a) Not less than 10 days prior to the first day of a term of court, the district clerk or one of his deputies, and the sheriff, or one of his deputies, in the presence and under the direction of the district judge, if the jurors are to be drawn for district court, or the clerk of the county court, or one of his deputies, and the sheriff, or one of his deputies, in the presence and under the direction of the county judge, if the jurors are to be drawn for the county court, shall draw from the wheel containing the names of the jurors, after the same has been well turned so that the cards therein are thoroughly mixed, one by one the names of those jurors where such judge has so directed to compose as many lists as the term of the district or county courts may require, and shall record the names upon as many lists as the judge shall deem necessary to insure an adequate number of jurors for each session of the court. At such drawing, no person other than those above named shall be permitted to be present, except as hereinafter provided. The officers attending such drawing shall not divulge the names of any person that may be drawn as a juror to any person. If at any time during the term it appears that lists already drawn will be exhausted before the expiration of the term, additional jurors as are needed may be drawn in the same manner.

(b) Drawing of names observed. Upon the application in writing of any party to any suit pending upon the docket of a court for which a jury is required, said party, or his duly authorized representative, shall have the right to be present and observe the drawing of names from the jury wheel and the placement thereof upon the jury lists for the time period in which his case is set, provided, however, that the identity of the names so drawn and placed upon the lists at such time shall not be made known to such observer.

Art. 2097. List Certified

The several lists of names so drawn shall be certified under the hand of the clerk or the deputy doing the drawing, and the district or county judge in whose presence the names were drawn from the wheel, to be the lists drawn by him for that term, and shall be sealed up in separate envelopes indorsed, "List No. _____ of the petit jurors drawn on the _____ day of _____, 19____, for the _____ Court of _____ County," (filling in the blanks properly and numbering the envelopes consecutively from one up). The clerk doing the drawing shall write his name across the seals of the envelopes and deliver them to the judge, who shall inspect the envelopes to see that they are properly indorsed and shall then deliver them to the clerk or deputy, and the clerk shall then immediately file them away in some safe and secure place in his office.

Art. 2098. List Delivered to Clerk

The judge shall deliver such envelopes to the clerk, or one of his deputies, and shall in his discretion instruct the clerk to indorse on any of such envelopes that the jury for that week shall be summoned for some other day than Monday of said week, and the judge shall, at the same time, administer to the clerk and to each of his deputies an oath in substance as follows: "You and each of you do solemnly swear that you will not open the jury lists now delivered to you, nor permit them to be opened, until the time prescribed by law, nor communicate to any one the name or names of the men appearing on any of the jury lists, that you will not, directly or indirectly, converse or communicate with any one selected as juror concerning any case pending for trial in this court at its next term. So help you God."

Art. 2099. Cards to be Used Again

When the names are drawn for jury service, the cards containing such names shall be sealed in separate envelopes, indorsed "Cards containing the names of jurors on List No. _____ of the petit jurors drawn on the _____ day of _____, 19____, for the _____ Court of _____ County," (filling in the blanks properly). Each envelope shall be retained securely by the clerk, unopened, until after the jury selected from the corresponding list has been impaneled; and after such jurors so impaneled have served four (4) or more days, the envelope containing the cards bearing the names of the jurors on that list shall then be opened by the clerk, or his deputy, and those cards bearing the names of persons who have not been impaneled and who have not served as many as four (4) days shall be immediately returned to the wheel by the clerk, or his deputy; and the cards bearing the names of the persons serving as many as four (4) days shall be put in a box provided for that purpose for the use of the officers who shall next select the jurors for the wheel; provided that the clerk may withhold from the jury wheel all cards so selected, unless ordered by the judge to return such cards to the wheel. If any of the lists drawn for a term of court are not used, the clerk or his deputy shall open the envelopes containing the cards bearing the names on the unused lists immediately after the expiration of the term and return the cards to the wheel.

Art. 2100. Loss of Wheel

If the wheel containing the names of jurors be lost or destroyed, with the contents thereof, or if all the cards in said wheel be drawn out, such wheel shall immediately be refurnished, and cards bearing the names of jurors shall be placed therein immediately in accordance with the laws of the State.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2798, ch. 905, § 3, eff. July 15, 1971.]

Art. 2100a. Selection in Counties with Aid of Mechanical or Electronic Means; Adoption of Plan

Sec. 1. In lieu of any other procedure now provided by law, the Commissioners Court of any county in the State, upon recommendation of the district judge or a majority of the district judges of said courts, by order entered upon its minutes, may adopt a plan for the selection of persons for jury service with the aid of mechanical or electronic means.

Sec. 2. Any such plan so adopted shall conform to the following requirements:

(a) It shall be proposed in writing to the Commissioners Court by a majority of the judges of the district courts in such county, including criminal district courts, at a meeting of the district judges called for that purpose.

(b) It shall specify that the sources from which names are to be taken for jury purposes are all voter registration lists from all precincts in the county and the register of permanently exempt persons maintained by the county tax collector under Article 2137a.

(c) It shall provide a fair, impartial, and objective method of selecting persons for jury service with the aid of mechanical or electronic equipment.

(d) It shall designate the clerk of the district courts as the official to be in charge of the selection process and shall define his duties.

(e) It shall specify that a true and complete written list showing the names and addresses of the persons summoned to begin jury service on a particular date shall be filed of record with the county clerk at least 10 days prior to the date such persons are to begin such jury service.

Sec. 2a. A jury plan prepared under this Act must provide either for the use of the same list for the selection of persons for jury service until the list is exhausted or for the use of the same list for a specific period of time.

Sec. 3. In any county where such a plan is adopted, as above provided, the laws relating to the selection of petit juries by jury wheel shall not apply.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 1666, ch. 529, eff. June 10, 1969. Amended by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1408, ch. 386, § 1, eff. May 26, 1971; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2799, ch. 905, § 5, eff. Sections 2 and 3 of the 1981 amendatory act provided:

"Sec. 2. If on the effective date of this Act a plan for selection of persons for jury service is in effect in a county, the plan may not be continued in use after December 31, 1981, unless, before that date, it is amended to include a provision complying with the requirements of Section 2a, Chapter 529, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 2100a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as added by this Act.

"Sec. 3. Section 1, Chapter 529, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended by Section 5, Chapter 905, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 2100a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is continued in effect. Chapter 386, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971, is repealed."

Art. 2101. Interchangeable Juries

The provisions of this article shall be applicable only to such counties of this State as may now maintain three or more district courts, or in which three or more district courts may be hereafter established. A criminal court in any county with jurisdiction in felony cases shall be considered a district court within the meaning of this article. The "Interchangeable Jury Law" shall not apply to a selection of jurors in lunacy cases or in capital cases.

1. Jury Wheel Law governs.—The provisions of the statutes governing jury wheels shall remain in full force and effect, except as modified by the special provisions of this law.

2. Organization and supervision.—In each county under this law, the district judges shall meet together and determine approximately the number of jurors that are reasonably necessary for jury service in all the county courts at law, county courts and district courts of such county, for each week during the time said courts may hold during the year, and shall thereupon order the drawing of such number of jurors from the wheel for each of said weeks, said jury to be known as the general panel of jurors for service in all such courts of such county for the respective weeks for which they are designated to serve. A majority of said district judges are authorized to act in carrying out the provisions of this law; they may increase or diminish the number of jurors to be selected for any week, and shall order said jurors drawn for as many weeks in advance of service as they deem proper. From time to time they shall designate the judge to whom the general panel shall report for duty, and said judge, for such time as he is chosen to so act shall organize said juries and have immediate supervision and control of them. The said jurors so limited in number shall, after being regularly drawn from the wheel, be served by the sheriff to appear and report for jury service before said judge so designated, who shall hear the excuses of the said jury and swear them in for service for the week that they are to serve to try all cases that may be submitted to them in any of said courts.

3. Used interchangeably.—Said jurors, when impaneled shall constitute a general jury panel for service as jurors in all county and district courts in said county, and shall be used interchangeably in all of said courts. In the event of a deficiency of jurors at any given time to meet the requirement of all said courts, the judge having control of the said general panel shall order such additional jurors to be drawn from the wheel as may be sufficient to meet the emergency, but such jurors shall act only as special jurors and shall be discharged as soon as their services are no longer needed. Resort to the wheel shall be had in all cases to fill out the general panel.

4. Provided, however, that in any county of this state having a population in excess of nine hundred thousand (900,000) according to the last preceding or any future United States Census, it shall be permissible, after having been approved by a majority of the judges for the district courts of any such county, to draw from said jury wheel two separate jury panels for the week; one of which said jury panels for the week shall be drawn and be in attendance upon those criminal district courts and county courts which have a criminal docket, and the other said jury panel for the week shall be drawn and be in attendance upon those courts which have a civil docket.

5. This Article is also applicable to a county that has two district courts and a domestic relations court.

6. A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, in a county in which two district courts have jurisdiction, both district judges may meet together at such times as they may agree upon and determine approximately the number of jurors that are reasonably necessary for jury service in the district courts of the county for each week for as many weeks in advance as they deem proper, and may order the drawing of such number of jurors for each of said weeks, which jury is known as the general panel of jurors for service in both district courts for the respective weeks for which they are designated to serve. Both judges shall act together in carrying out the provisions of this section. They may increase or diminish the number of jurors to be selected for any week and may order the jurors drawn for as many weeks in advance of service as they deem proper. From time to time they shall designate the judge to whom the general panel shall report for duty, and the designated judge, for the time he is chosen to act, shall organize the juries and have immediate supervision and control of them. The jurors, after being regularly drawn from the wheel, shall be served by the sheriff to appear and report for jury service before the judge so designated, who shall hear the excuses of the jury and swear them in for service for the week that they are to serve to try all cases that may be submitted to them in either of the district courts. The jurors, when impaneled, constitute a general jury panel for service as jurors in both district courts in the county and shall be used interchangeably. In the event of a deficiency of jurors at any given time to meet the requirement of either court, the judge having control of the general panel shall order such additional jurors to be drawn from the wheel as may be sufficient to meet the emergency, but such jurors shall act only as special jurors and shall be discharged as soon as their services are no longer needed. Resort to the wheel shall be had in all cases to fill out the general panel.

B. With the approval of both district judges, jurors impaneled under the provisions of Subdivision A of this subsection may constitute a general jury panel for service as jurors in all county courts and statutory county courts in the county, in addition to service as jurors in both district courts, and in such event, shall be used interchangeably in all district and county courts.

C. The provisions of this subsection are cumulative of and in addition to the methods now authorized by law for the selection of a jury panel in the counties herein named, and the adoption of the method provided in this subsection is entirely optional with and in the discretion of the district judges of any such county coming under the terms of this law.

Art. 2102. Jury Quarters

The Commissioners Court of each such county shall set apart for the use and convenience of said general panel or panels some room or rooms or place or places in or near to the court house, which shall be comfortably furnished and fitted up for them to stay when not required for actual jury service. Said quarters shall be occupied by said panel or panels when not in service and they shall remain in or conveniently near thereto so as to be at all times subject to duty in any court in accordance with the preceding Article when called for, without delaying the proceedings of such court. The sheriff shall assign one of his deputies to look after said panel, call them when needed by the judges, provide for their wants and to have general custody and control of them when not in actual service.

Art. 2103. Reducing Number in General Panel

When it becomes necessary to diminish the general panel for the week of its selection on account of lack of work in any court or for any other cause, the judge having supervision of said jury for the week shall designate the number to remain. He shall cause the clerk to draw from the names of the general panel the number required, and those jurors whose names are so drawn shall continue in service for the remainder of the week and the others excused.

Art. 2103a. County Judges and Judges of County Courts-at-Law in Certain Counties; Drawing Additional Jurors

In all counties having two or more County Courts-at-Law, when a panel of jurors shall not have been drawn by one of the district judges as directed by Article 2101, or when the number of jurors drawn shall be deemed insufficient by the county judge or either of the judges of the County Courts-at-Law, the county judge or judge of either County Court-at-Law may order the drawing of such additional jurors from the jury wheel for service in any of such courts for so long a period of time as the trials in such courts may reasonably require. Such jurors when drawn shall be available for service in either of such courts. All of the provisions of law now otherwise governing the drawing of jurors in the courts in such counties by the district judge shall govern so far as applicable, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. The county judge and the judge of any of the County Courts-at-Law shall concurrently have the same authority with respect to determining and remedying a deficiency in the number of jurors as is now conferred on the judge having control of the general jury panel by Section

3, Article 2101, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

3. JURY FOR THE WEEK

Art. 2117. Summoning Jurors

At any time when the Judge of the County or District Court needs a jury for any particular week of such Court, he shall notify the Clerk of such Court to open the next consecutive unopened list of jurors in his possession, and shall direct him as to the date for which such jurors shall be summonsed. Such notice shall be given to the Clerk within a reasonable time prior to the time when such jurors are to be summonsed. The Clerk shall immediately note on the list the date for which the jurors are to be summonsed, and deliver said list to the sheriff. On receipt of such list, the sheriff shall immediately notify the several persons named therein to be in attendance on Court on the date so designated by the Judge.

Art. 2118. Selection of Jurors

On any day when a jury has been summoned and there are jury trials the court shall select a sufficient number of qualified jurors, in his discretion, to serve as jurors. Such jurors shall be selected from the names included in the jury lists, if there be the requisite number of such in attendance who are not excused by the court, but if such number be not in attendance at any time, the court shall direct the sheriff to summon a sufficient number of qualified persons to make up the requisite number of jurors which is to be drawn from the jury wheel for jury trials in the district and county courts, under order of the court, to fill the panel. The names of such jurors to be summoned by the sheriff shall be drawn from the jury wheel as herein provided. All said extra jurors summonsed shall be discharged when their services are no longer needed. The court may adjourn the whole number of jurors or any part thereof, to any subsequent day of the term, but the jurors shall not be paid for the time they may stand adjourned.

Art. 2120. Excuses of Jurors

The court may hear any reasonable sworn excuse of a juror, and may release him entirely or until some other day of the term; provided, however, the court shall not excuse any juror for economic reasons unless all parties of record are present and approve such excuse.

Art. 2120a. Excuse From Jury Service for Physical or Mental Impairment or Inability to Comprehend English

(a) The judge of a district court may, by order, permanently or for a specified period, excuse from service as a juror in all the county and district courts in the county a person with a physical or mental impairment or with an inability to comprehend or communicate the English language that makes it impossible or very difficult for the person to serve on a jury.

(b) An affidavit stating the name and address of the person and the reason for and duration of the requested excuse shall be submitted to a district court by the person requesting the excuse, as provided herein. A statement from a physician shall be attached to an affidavit requesting excuse from service for physical or mental impairment.

(c) The clerk of the district court shall promptly notify the county tax assessor-collector of the name and address of each person excused from jury service by a district judge under this article and whether the excuse is permanent or for a specified period. The tax assessor-collector shall maintain a current register showing separately the name and address of each person permanently excused from jury service and the name and address of each person excused from jury service for a specified period.

(d) Persons listed on the register provided by Section (c) of this article shall not be summoned for jury service during the period for which the person is excused. The names of persons listed on the register shall not be placed in the jury wheel, or otherwise used in preparing the record of names from which a jury list is selected, during the period for which the person is excused.

(e) A person excused from jury service under this article may rescind the excuse at any time by filing a signed request for rescission with the county tax assessor-collector.

(f) Contents of Affidavit. (1) An affidavit based upon an exclusion from jury service because of physical or mental impairment may be presented by the affiant or a friend or relative and shall:

(A) contain the name and address of the physician who submitted the statement;

(B) contain a statement as to whether the request for exclusion from service is permanent or temporary, and if temporary, state the period of time for which exclusion is requested;

(C) state therein that as a direct result of the physical or mental impairment, it is impossible or very difficult for the person to serve on a jury.

(2) An affidavit based upon exclusion from jury service because of an inability to comprehend or communicate the English language shall be presented in person and shall:

(A) be sworn to by the affiant in person before the district clerk or a deputy district clerk;

(B) be subscribed with a statement by a third party that the affidavit was read to the affiant before signing, and the affiant stated that it was his request to be permanently excluded from jury service in the county.

(g) The affidavit and physician's statement, if any, may be presented to a district judge at the time the juror is summoned or at any other time.

(h) The name and address of the person excluded from jury service under this article shall be added or deleted from the list or register at any time permitted by law, and when the names and addresses of eligible jurors are regularly deleted or added to the list or register.

Art. 2121. Defaulting Juror

Any juror lawfully notified who without reasonable excuse fails to be in attendance on the court in obedience to such notice or who files a false claim of exemption from jury service shall be fined not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1560, ch. 421, § 2, eff. May 26, 1971.]

Art. 2122. Pay of Jurors

(a) Each grand juror and each petit juror in a civil or criminal case in a district or criminal district court, county court, county court at law, or justice court is entitled to receive not less than $6 nor more than $30 for each day or fraction of a day that he serves as a juror. The commissioners court of each county shall determine annually, within the minimum and maximum prescribed in this subsection, the amount of per diem for jurors, which shall be paid out of the jury fund of the county. A person who responds to the process of a court, but who is excused from petit jury service by the court for any cause after being tested on voir dire, is entitled to receive not less than $6 nor more than $30 for each day or fraction of a day that he attends court in response to such process.

(b) A check drawn on the jury fund by the clerk of the district court of a county may be transferred by endorsement and delivery and is receivable at par from the holder for all county taxes.

4. THE JURY IN COURT

Art. 2123. Right to Jury

The right to trial by jury shall remain inviolate, subject to the following rules and regulations.

Arts. 2124 to 2132. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2133. Qualifications

All persons both male and female eighteen years of age or older are competent jurors, unless disqualified under some provision of this Article. No person shall be qualified to serve as a juror who does not possess the following qualifications:

1. He must be a citizen of the State and of the county in which he is to serve and qualified under the Constitution and laws to vote in said county.

2. He must be of sound mind and good moral character.

3. He must be able to read and write, except as otherwise provided herein.

4. He must not have served as a juror for six (6) days during the preceding six (6) months in the District Court, or during the preceding three (3) months in the County Court.

5. He must not have been convicted of a felony.

6. He must not be under indictment or other legal accusation of theft or of any felony.

A person who is legally blind is not disqualified to serve as a juror in a civil case solely by reason of his legal blindness unless, in the opinion of the court, his legal blindness renders him unfit to act as a juror in that particular case.

Whenever it shall be made to appear to the court that the requisite number of jurors able to read and write cannot be found within the county, the court may dispense with the exception provided for in the third subdivision; and the court may in like manner dispense with the exception provided for in the fourth subdivision, when the county is so sparsely populated as to make its enforcement seriously inconvenient.

Where the word "he" is used in this Article it shall be used in the generic term so as to include both male and female persons.

In this Article, "legally blind" shall mean having not more than 20/200 of visual acuity in the better eye with correcting lenses, or visual acuity greater than 20/200 but with a limitation in the field of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees.

Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2134. Disqualification

The following persons shall be disqualified to serve as jurors in any particular case:

1. Any witness in the case.
2. Any person interested, directly or indirectly, in the subject matter of the suit.
3. Any person related by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree to either of the parties to the suit.
4. Any person who has a bias or prejudice in favor of or against either of the parties.
5. Any person who has sat as a petit juror in a former trial of the same, or of another case, involving the same questions of fact.

Art. 2135. Jury Service

All competent jurors are liable to jury service, except the following persons:

1. All persons over sixty-five (65) years of age.
2. All persons who have legal custody of a child or children under the age of ten (10) years if jury service by that person would necessitate leaving the child or children without adequate supervision.
3. All students of public or private secondary schools.
4. Every person who is enrolled and in actual attendance at an institution of higher education.

Art. 2136. Repealed by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2801, ch. 905, § 15, eff. July 15, 1971

Art. 2137. Filing of Exemptions

Sec. 1. Any person summoned as a juror who is exempt by law from jury service may establish his exemption without appearing in person by filing a signed statement of the ground of his exemption with the clerk of the court at any time before the date upon which he is summoned to appear.

Sec. 2. Any person wishing to claim any statutory exemption under Article 2135 in counties employing the jury wheel system may do so by filing a sworn statement stating the nature of and claiming such exemption with the sheriff, the tax assessor-collector, or the district or county clerk of the county of his residence, in which event no card for such person shall be placed in the jury wheel for the ensuing year.

Art. 2137a. Permanent Exemption for Elderly

Eligibility for Permanent Exemption

Sec. 1. A person who is exempt from jury service on the ground of being over 65 years of age may establish a permanent exemption from jury service on that ground by claiming the exemption as provided by this article.

Claim Filed with Tax Assessor-Collector

Sec. 2. (a) A person may claim the permanent exemption by filing with the county tax assessor-collector at any time a signed statement affirming that he or she is over 65 years of age and desires a permanent exemption on that ground.

(b) The statement may be filed by mail or by personal delivery.

Claim Filed with Court Clerk

Sec. 3. (a) A person summoned for jury service who files a statement with the court clerk under Section 1, Article 2137, claiming an exemption from jury service on the ground of being over 65 years of age, may claim the permanent exemption by including in the statement a declaration that he or she desires a permanent exemption on that ground.

(b) Promptly after a statement claiming the permanent exemption is filed, the court clerk with whom it is filed shall have a copy delivered to the county tax assessor-collector.

Register of Permanently Exempt Persons

Sec. 4. The county tax assessor-collector shall maintain a current register indicating the name of each claimant who is entitled to the permanent exemption from jury service.

Permanently Exempt Persons Excluded from Jury List

Sec. 5. The names of persons listed on the register of persons permanently exempt from jury service may not be placed in the jury wheel or otherwise used in preparing the record of names from which a jury list is selected.

Rescission of Permanent Exemption

Sec. 6. (a) The claimant of a permanent exemption from jury service under this article may rescind the exemption at any time by filing a signed request for rescission with the county tax assessor-collector.

(b) Rescission does not affect a person's right to claim the permanent exemption at a later time.

Art. 2166a. Priorities in Setting Matters for Hearing and Trial

Hearing and Trial Priorities

Sec. 1. (a) The trial courts of this state shall regularly and frequently make settings for the hearings and trials of pending matters, giving preference to hearings and trials of the following:

(1) temporary injunctions;

(2) criminal actions, with criminal actions against defendants who are detained in jail pending trial given preference over other criminal actions;

(3) contents of election and suits under the Texas Election Code; and

(4) appeals of final rulings and decisions of the Industrial Accident Board.

(b) Insofar as practicable, the trial courts shall observe the preference provided by Subsection (a) of this section in ruling on, hearing, and trying the matters pending before the courts.

Secondary Priorities

Sec. 2. A matter not included in Section 1 of this Act shall be set at the discretion of the trial court in which the matter is pending, observing the following priorities:

(1) precedence should be given to matters where delay will cause physical or economic injury or harm to either the parties or the public;

(2) matters involving substantial substantive or constitutional rights should take precedence over matters involving permits, licenses, or privileges; and

(3) precedence should be given matters involving important issues that greatly concern the public or materially affect the public welfare.

General Repealer

Sec. 3. All laws or parts of laws that provide for preference or priority in conflict with this Act for the hearing or trial of pending matters in the trial courts of this state are repealed to the extent of the conflict. This Act does not repeal any provision of the law by which the legislature directs a specific court to give preference to cases involving that court's criminal jurisdiction, family law jurisdiction, or other specified jurisdiction.

2. CONTINUANCE AND CHANGE OF VENUE
 Arts. 2167, 2168. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2168a. Attendance on Legislature

In all suits, either civil or criminal, or in matters of probate, pending in any court of this State, and in all matters ancillary to such suits which require action by or the attendance of an attorney, including appeals but excluding temporary restraining orders, at any time within thirty (30) days of a date when the Legislature is to be in Session, or at any time the Legislature is in Session, or when the Legislature sits as a Constitutional Convention, it shall be mandatory that the court continue such cause if it shall appear to the court, by affidavit, that any party applying for such continuance, or any attorney for any party to such cause, is a Member of either branch of the Legislature, and will be or is in actual attendance on a Session of the same. If the member of the Legislature is an attorney for a party to such cause, his affidavit shall contain a declaration that it is his intention to participate actively in the preparation and/or presentation of the case. Where a party to any cause or an attorney for any party to such cause is a Member of the Legislature, his affidavit need not be corroborated. On the filing of such affidavit, the court shall continue the cause until thirty (30) days after the adjournment of the Legislature and such affidavit shall be proof of the necessity for such continuance, and such continuance shall be deemed one of right and shall not be charged against the party receiving such continuance upon any subsequent application for continuance. It is hereby declared to be the intention of the Legislature that the provisions of this Section shall be deemed mandatory and not discretionary.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the right to such continuance, where such continuance is based upon an attorney in such cause being a member of the Legislature, shall be discretionary with the Court in the following situations and under the following circumstances, and none other, to wit:

(1) Where such attorney was employed within 10 days of the date such suit is set for trial.

Repeal by Rules of Civil Procedure

This article, as to civil actions, was included in the list of articles deemed repealed by the Rules of Civil Procedure. The Rule Making Act which repealed the laws governing practice and procedure in civil actions in Texas and which directed the Supreme Court, upon the adoption of the Rules of Civil Procedure to file a list of all Articles deemed repealed by "Section 1 of this (Rule Making) Act" was approved and became effective May 15, 1939, while the Rules of Civil Procedure became effective September 1, 1941. See Rule 254, Vernon's Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

Sections 2 and 3 of the 1973 amendatory act provided:

"Sec. 2. Rule 254, Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, is hereby repealed to the extent of any inconsistency with the provisions of this Act, and said Rule is hereby conformed to the provisions hereof.

"Sec. 3. All laws and rules, or parts of laws or parts of rules, in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict; and in the event of conflict between this Act and any other statute or rule, the provisions of this Act shall prevail."

Art. 2172a. County in Which Case Filed Liable for Juror's Pay on Change of Venue; Exceptions

Sec. 1. In any Civil case which has been filed in one county and removed by change of venue to another county and tried therein by a Jury, the county in which such case was filed shall be liable for the pay for jurors incurred in the trial thereof.

Sec. 2. The County Commissioners of each county, at each regular meeting, shall ascertain whether, since the last regular meeting, any Civil case has been tried by jury upon change of venue from any other county. If they find such to be the case, they shall make out an account against the county in which said case was originally filed showing the number of days the jury in such case was employed in the trial thereof, and setting forth the amount paid for such jury service. Such account shall then be certified to as correct by the County Judge of such county, under his hand and seal, and be, by him, forwarded to the county in which said case was originally filed; and said account shall be paid from the Jury fund of said county made liable therefor by this Act.

Sec. 3. This Act shall not apply to any Civil case transferred by reason of the Order of any Court based upon a plea of privilege filed in said case. [Acts 1931, 42nd Leg., p. 131, ch. 88.]

5. CASE TO JURY

Art. 2191. Number of Jurors

The jury in the district courts shall be composed of twelve men; but the parties may by consent agree, in a particular case, to try with a less number. In county courts the jury shall be composed of six men.

Art. 2191a. Alternate Jurors

(a) In district courts, the judge may direct that not more than four jurors in addition to the regular jury be called and impaneled to sit as alternate jurors. In county courts, the judge may direct that not more than two jurors in addition to the regular jury be called and impaneled to sit as alternate jurors.

(b) Alternate jurors in the order in which they are called shall replace jurors who, prior to the time the jury retires to consider its verdict, become or are found to be unable or disqualified to perform their duties. Alternate jurors shall be drawn and selected in the same manner, shall have the same qualifications, shall be subject to the same examination and challenges, shall take the same oath, and shall have the same functions, powers, facilities, security, and privileges as regular jurors. An alternate juror who does not replace a regular juror shall be discharged after the jury retires to consider its verdict.

(c) Each side is entitled to one peremptory challenge in addition to those otherwise allowed by law or by rule if one or two alternate jurors are to be impaneled and two peremptory challenges if three or four alternate jurors are to be impaneled. The additional peremptory challenges may be used against an alternate juror only, and the other peremptory challenges allowed by law or by rules may not be used against an alternate juror.

Art. 2194a. Bringing Meals into Jury Room

(a) Whenever the judge deems it advisable, in order to expedite the final disposition of any district court civil case for which a jury is empaneled, to keep the jury together for deliberation rather than to dismiss it for meals, he shall have the power to draw a warrant on the jury fund or other appropriate fund of the county in which the case is being tried, to cover the cost of buying meals and bringing same into the jury room. However, not more than Three Dollars ($3) may be spent per meal for any juror.

(b) The provisions of this Act shall not apply in any county unless the Commissioners Court has approved jury meals in civil cases as a proper expense of the county.

Art. 2199. Disagreement as to Evidence

If the jury disagree as to the statement of any witness, they may, upon applying to the Court, have read to them from the Court Reporter's notes that part of such witness' testimony on the point in dispute; but if there be no such Reporter, or if his notes cannot be read to the jury, the Court may cause such witness to be again brought upon the stand and the Judge shall direct him to repeat his testimony to the point in dispute, and no other, and as nearly as he can in the language used on the trial; and on their notifying the Court that they disagree as to any portion of a deposition or other paper not carried with them in their retirement, the Court may, in like manner, permit such portion of said deposition or paper to be again read to the jury.

1. JUDGMENT

Art. 2211. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2212. Contribution Between Tort Feasors

Any person against whom, with one or more others, a judgment is rendered in any suit on an action arising out of, or based on tort, except in causes wherein the right of contribution or of indemnity, or of recovery, over, by and between the defendants is given by statute or exists under the common law, shall, upon payment of said judgment, have a right of action against his co-defendant or co-defendants and may recover from each a sum equal to the proportion of all of the defendants named in said judgment rendered to the whole amount of said judgment. If any of said persons co-defendant be insolvent, then recovery may be had in proportion as such defendant or defendants are not insolvent; and the right of recovery over against such insolvent defendant or defendants in judgment shall exist in favor of each defendant in judgment in proportion as he has been caused to pay by reason of such insolvency.

Supersedure

Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 41, ch. 28, §§ 1, 2, classified as article 2212a, provides for a system of comparative negligence and contribution among joint tort-feasors. Section 2(h) thereof reads: "This section prevails over Article 2212, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and all other laws to the extent of any conflict."

Art. 2212a. Comparative Negligence; Contribution Among Joint Tort-feasors

Modified Comparative Negligence

Sec. 1. Contributory negligence shall not bar recovery in an action by any person or party or the legal representative of any person or party to recover damages for negligence resulting in death or injury to persons or property if such negligence is not greater than the negligence of the person or party or persons or parties against whom recovery is sought, but any damages allowed shall be diminished in proportion to the amount of negligence attributed to the person or party recovering.

Contribution Among Joint Tort-feasors

Sec. 2. (a) In this section:

(1) "Claimant" means any party seeking relief, whether he is a plaintiff, counter-claimant, or cross-claimant.

(2) "Defendant" includes any party from whom a claimant seeks relief.

(b) In a case in which there is more than one defendant, and the claimant's negligence does not exceed the total negligence of all defendants, contribution to the damages awarded to the claimant shall be in proportion to the percentage of negligence attributable to each defendant.

(c) Each defendant is jointly and severally liable for the entire amount of the judgment awarded the claimant, except that a defendant whose negligence is less than that of the claimant is liable to the claimant only for that portion of the judgment which represents the percentage of negligence attributable to him.

(d) If an alleged joint tort-feasor pays an amount to a claimant in settlement, but is never joined as a party defendant, or having been joined, is dismissed or nonsuited after settlement with the claimant (for which reason the existence and amount of his negligence are not submitted to the jury), each defendant is entitled to deduct from the amount for which he is liable to the claimant a percentage of the amount of the settlement based on the relationship the defendant's own negligence bears to the total negligence of all defendants.

(e) If an alleged joint tort-feasor makes a settlement with a claimant but nevertheless is joined as a party defendant at the time of the submission of the case to the jury (so that the existence and amount of his negligence are submitted to the jury) and his percentage of negligence is found by the jury, the settlement is a complete release of the portion of the judgment attributable to the percentage of negligence found on the part of that joint tort-feasor.

(f) If the application of the rules contained in Subsections (a) through (e) of this section results in two claimants being liable to each other in damages, the claimant who is liable for the greater amount is entitled to a credit toward his liability in the amount of damages owed him by the other claimant.

(g) All claims for contribution between named defendants in the primary suit shall be determined in the primary suit, except that a named defendant may proceed against a person not a party to the primary suit who has not effected a settlement with the claimant.

(h) This section prevails over Article 2212, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and all other laws to the extent of any conflict.

Section 3 of the 1973 Act amended section 1 of article 6701b; §§ 4, 5 thereof provided:

"Sec. 4. Saving clause. This Act does not apply to any cause of action arising before its effective date.

"Sec. 5. Severability clause. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Art. 2212b. Indemnity Provisions in Mineral Agreements Where Negligence Attributable to Indemnitee

Sec. 1. The legislature finds that an inequity is fostered on certain contractors by the indemnity provisions contained in some agreements pertaining to wells for oil, gas, or water, or mines for other minerals. It is the intent of the legislature and the purpose of this Act to declare provisions for indemnity in certain agreements where there is negligence attributable to the indemnitee to be against the public policy of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. Except as specified in Section 4 of this Act, a covenant, promise, agreement, or understanding contained in, collateral to, or affecting an agreement pertaining to a well for oil, gas, or water, or mine for any mineral, is void and unenforceable if it purports to indemnify the indemnitee against loss or liability for damages arising from either death or bodily injury to persons, or injury to property, or any other loss, damage, or expense arising from either death or bodily injury, injury to property, or loss, damage, or expense, which is caused by or results from the sole or concurrent negligence of the indemnitee, or an agent or employee of the indemnitee, or an independent contractor who is directly responsible to the indemnitee.

Sec. 3. The term "agreement pertaining to a well for oil, gas, or water, or mine for any mineral" as used in Section 2 of this Act, means any agreement, or understanding, written or oral, concerning any operations related to drilling, deepening, reworking, repairing, improving, testing, treating, perforating, acidizing, logging, conditioning, altering, plugging, or otherwise rendering services in or in connection with any well drilled for the purpose of producing or disposing of oil, gas, or other minerals, or water, or designing, excavating, constructing, improving, or otherwise rendering services in or in connection with any mine shaft, drift, or other structure intended for use in the exploration for or production of any mineral, or an agreement to perform any portion of any such work or services or any act collateral thereto, including the furnishing or rental of equipment, incidental transportation, and other goods and services furnished in connection with any such service or operation.

Sec. 4. (a) The provisions of this Act do not apply to loss or liability for damages, or any other expenses, arising from:

(1) death or bodily injury to persons or injury to property resulting from radioactivity;

(2) injury to property resulting from pollution;

(3) injury to property resulting from reservoir or underground damage; or

(4) death or bodily injury or injury to property resulting from the performance of services to control a wild well so as to protect the safety of the general public and/or to prevent depletion of vital natural resources. The term "wild well" as used in this section means any well from which the escape of oil and/or gas is unintended and cannot be controlled by the equipment used in normal drilling practice.

(b) The provisions of this Act do not affect the validity of any insurance contract or any benefit conferred by the Workmen's Compensation Law of this state and do not deprive an owner of the surface estate of the right to secure an indemnity from any lessee, operator, contractor, or other person conducting operations for the exploration or production of minerals of the owner's land.

(c) The provisions of Section 2 of this Act shall not apply to any agreement providing for indemnity with respect to claims for personal injury or death to indemnitor's employees or agents, or the employees or agents of indemnitor's sub-contractors if the parties agree in writing that such indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by indemnitor; provided, however, that such indemnity obligation shall be only to the extent of the coverages and dollar limits of insurance agreed to be furnished; but in no event shall said insurance be required in an amount in excess of twelve times state basic limits for bodily injury, approved by the Board of Insurance Commissioners in accordance with Article 5.15 of the Texas Insurance Code.

(d) The provisions of this Act apply only to agreements or contracts made on or after the effective date of this Act.

Sec. 5. Each party to an agreement defined in Section 3 of this Act shall be responsible for the results of his own actions and for the actions of those persons over whom he exercises control.

[Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 1767, ch. 646, eff. Aug. 27, 1973. Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 511, ch. 237, § 1, eff. May 17, 1979.]

Art. 2213. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2214. May Pass Title

Where the judgment is for the conveyance of real estate, or for the delivery of personal property, the decree may pass the title to such property without any act to be done on the part of the party against whom the judgment is rendered.

Arts. 2215 to 2218. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2218a. Unconstitutional

This article, Acts 1933, 43rd Leg., p. 225, ch. 102, providing for limitation of action on note after sale of real estate security and process to enforce deficiency judgment, was held unconstitutional in Langever v. Miller, 124 T. 80, 76 S.W.2d 1025, 96 A.L.R. 836, followed in Farm & Home Savings & Loan Ass'n of Missouri v. Robertson, Civ.App., 82 S.W.2d 155; Lisenbee v. Wichita Falls Building & Loan Ass'n, Civ.App., 82 S.W. 688; Texas Nat. Securities Co. v. Oldham, Civ.App., 82 S.W.2d 621; Stahlman v. McManus, Civ.App., 93 S.W.2d 470; Currie v. First Nat. Bank, Civ.App., 96 S.W.2d 731; National Loan & Investment Co. of Detroit, Mich. v. Browne, Civ.App., 98 S.W.2d 271.

Art. 2218b. Expired

Art. 2223. Against Partners

Where the suit is against several partners jointly indebted upon contract, and the citation has been served upon some of such partners but not upon all, judgment may be rendered therein against such partnership and against the partners actually served, but no personal judgment or execution shall be awarded against those not served.

Saved From Repeal

Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 289, ch. 158, enacting the Texas Uniform Partnership Act (Article 6132b), provides in Section 46(C) that the Act should not be deemed to repeal Acts 1858, p. 110, P.D. 1514; G.L. Vol. 4, p. 982, incorporated in this article.

Art. 2224. Contract to Waive or Confess

No acceptance of service and waiver of process, nor entry of appearance in open court, nor a confession of judgment shall be authorized in any case by the contract or writing sued on, or any other instrument executed prior to the institution of such suit, nor shall such acceptance or waiver be made until after suit brought.

Art. 2225. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2226. Attorney's Fees

Any person, corporation, partnership, or other legal entity having a valid claim against a person or corporation for services rendered, labor done, material furnished, overcharges on freight or express, lost or damaged freight or express, or stock killed or injured, or suits founded upon a sworn account or accounts, or suits founded on oral or written contracts, may present the same to such persons or corporation or to any duly authorized agent thereof; and if, at the expiration of 30 days thereafter, payment for the just amount owing has not been tendered, the claimant may, if represented by an attorney, also recover, in addition to his claim and costs, a reasonable amount as attorney's fees. The usual and customary fees in such cases shall be presumed to be reasonable, but such presumption may be rebutted by competent evidence. In a proceeding before the court, or in a jury case where the issue of amount of attorney's fees is submitted to the court for determination by agreement, the court may in its discretion take judicial knowledge of the usual and customary fees in such matters and of the contents of the case file without receiving further evidence. The provisions hereof shall not apply to contracts of insurers issued by insurers subject to the provisions of the Unfair Claim Settlement Practices Act (Article 21.21-2, Insurance Code), nor shall it apply to contracts of any insurer subject to the provisions of Article 3.62, Insurance Code, or to Chapter 387, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Regular Session, 1957, as amended (Article 3.62-1, Vernon's Texas Insurance Code), or to Article 21.21, Insurance Code, as amended, or to Chapter 9, Insurance Code, as amended, and each such article or chapter shall be and remain in full force and effect. This Act shall be liberally construed to promote its underlying purposes.

Section 2 of the 1979 amendatory act provided:

"This Act is remedial in character and is intended to apply to all pending and future actions, regardless of the time of institution thereof or of the accrual of any cause of action asserted."

Art. 2226a. Effect of Adjudications in Lower Trial Courts on Proceedings in Higher Courts

Sec. 1. A determination of fact or law or a judgment in any proceeding in the Small Claims Court, Justice of the Peace Court, County Court, County Civil Court at Law, County Criminal Court at Law, or County Court at Law shall not be res judicata and shall not constitute a basis for estoppel by judgment in any proceeding in a District Court, except that any such judgment shall be binding on the parties thereto as to the recovery or denial thereof rendered in that particular case, and further except that all judgments in probate, guardianship, lunacy and other matters over which said inferior courts shall have exclusive jurisdiction of the subject matter, on a basis other than the amount in controversy, shall not be affected thereby.

Sec. 2. A determination of fact or law or a judgment in any proceeding in the Small Claims Court or Justice of the Peace Court shall not be res judicata and shall not constitute a basis for estoppel by judgment in any proceeding in a County Court, County Civil Court at Law, County Criminal Court at Law or County Court at Law, except that any such judgment shall be binding on the parties thereto as to the recovery or denial thereof rendered in that particular case.

Art. 2226b. Costs and Attorney's Fees in Defense of Frivolous Action by State Agency

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "State agency" means a department, commission, board, office, or other agency that:

(A) is in the executive branch of state government;

(B) has authority that is not limited to a geographical portion of the state; and

(C) was created by the constitution or a statute of this state.

(2) "Party" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or a public or private organization other than a state agency.

(3) "Fees and other expenses" means the reasonable expenses of witnesses incurred in preparing to testify or in attending or testifying, a reasonable fee for the professional services of an expert witness, and the reasonable costs of a study, analysis, engineering report, test, or other project the court finds to be necessary for the preparation of the party's case.

Motion of Frivolous Claim

"Sec. 2. In a civil suit in a court of this state brought by or against a state agency in which the agency asserts a cause of action against a party, either originally or as a counterclaim or cross-claim, the party, at any time after the filing of the pleadings in which the cause of action is alleged, may file a motion with the court stating that the agency's claim is frivolous, unreasonable, or without foundation.

Contents of Motion

Sec. 3. The written motion filed with the court shall set forth the facts justifying the party's claim that the action is frivolous, unreasonable, or without foundation, and shall state that if the action is dismissed or judgment is awarded to the party, the defendant intends to submit a motion to the court to require the agency to pay all reasonable fees, expenses, and attorney's fees incurred by the party in defending against the action.

Award of Costs

Sec. 4. In a civil action brought by or against a state agency in which the agency asserts a cause of action against a party, either originally or as a counterclaim or cross-claim, on the dismissal of that action or the award of judgment to the party, the court, on motion of that party and on a finding by the court that the agency's action was frivolous, unreasonable, or without foundation, shall order the agency that brought the action to pay, in addition to all other costs allowed by law or by rule, the party's fees, expenses, and reasonable attorney's fees, in an amount determined by the court.

Payment of Costs

Sec. 5. The agency shall pay the fees and expenses from funds appropriated for operation of the agency, funds appropriated for the payment of fees and expenses under this Act, or other funds available for that purpose.

Section 3 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"The amendments made by Section 1 of this Act apply to a cause of action against a party filed on or after the effective date of this Act. A cause of action filed before the effective date of this Act is governed by the amended provisions as they existed on the date the cause of action was filed, and this law is continued in effect for that purpose."

CHAPTER TEN. NEW TRIALS AND ARREST OF JUDGMENT

Arts. 2232 to 2236. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

CHAPTER ELEVEN. BILLS OF EXCEPTION AND STATEMENT OF FACTS

Art.

2237. When Taken; Rules.

2238 to 2241. Repealed.

2241a. Return of Bills of Exceptions and Statement of Facts by Attorney.

2241b to 2245. Repealed.

2246. Time for Filing.

2247, 2247a. Repealed.

Art. 2237. When Taken; Rules

If either party during the progress of a cause is dissatisfied with any ruling, opinion or other action of the Court, he may except thereto at the time the said ruling is made, or announced or such action taken, and at his request time shall be given to embody such exceptions in a written bill. The preparation and filing of bills of exceptions shall be governed by the following rules:

1. No particular form of words shall be required in a bill of exception; but the objection to the ruling or action of the Court shall be stated with such circumstances, or so much of the evidence as may be necessary to explain, and no more, and the whole as briefly as possible.

2. Where the statement of facts contains all the evidence requisite to explain the bill of exception evidence need not be set out in the bill; but it shall be sufficient to refer to the same as it appears in the statement of facts.

2a. All objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence and exceptions to the ruling of the Court upon the admission or exclusion of evidence or other matters may be shown by the official stenographer's transcript of the evidence, known as a statement of facts in question and answer form, all as hereinafter provided in Article 2239,¹ and no formal bill of exception to the admission or exclusion of evidence or to any of the Court's rulings shall be required where the matters complained of, the objections, the Court's rulings, and exceptions thereto clearly appear of record in said transcript of evidence, or statement of facts in question and answer form; provided, however, that in any case where such matters do not clearly appear of record the parties may, if they so desire, prepare and have approved and filed, as otherwise provided by law, a formal bill of exception.

3. The ruling of the court in the giving, refusing or qualifying of instructions to the jury shall be regarded as approved unless excepted to.

4. Where the ruling or other action of the Court appears otherwise of record, no bill shall be necessary to reserve an exception thereto; and all motions and answers thereto, the orders thereon and any exceptions shown in such orders shall, for the purpose of this Article, be considered a part of the record without the necessity of bills of exception, provided that if testimony is heard upon a motion, such testimony may be preserved only by bill of exception or in the statement of facts.

5. The party taking a bill of exception shall reduce the same to writing and present it to the Judge for his allowance and signature.

6. The Judge shall submit such bill to the adverse party or his counsel, if in attendance on the Court, and if found to be correct, the Judge shall sign it without delay and file it with the Clerk.

7. If the Judge finds such bill incorrect, he shall suggest to the party or his counsel, such corrections as he deems necessary therein, and if they are agreed to, he shall make such corrections, sign the bill and file it with the Clerk.

8. Should the party not agree to such corrections, the Judge shall return the bill to him with his refusal indorsed thereon, and shall prepare, sign and file with the Clerk such bill of exception, as will, in his opinion, present the ruling of the court as it actually occurred.

9. Should the party be dissatisfied with said bill filed by the Judge, he may, upon procuring the signatures of three respectable by-standers, citizens of this State, attesting to the correctness of the bill as presented by him, have the same filed as part of the record of the cause; and the truth of the matter in reference thereto may be controverted and maintained by affidavits, not exceeding five in number on each side, to be filed with the papers of the cause, within ten days after the filing of said bill and to be considered as a part of the record relating thereto.

10. This Act shall not serve to repeal other laws regarding or dispensing with exceptions or bills of exception.

Repeal by Rules of Civil Procedure

This article was included in the list of articles deemed repealed by the Rules of Civil Procedure. The Rule Making Act which repealed the laws governing practice and procedure in civil actions in Texas and which directed the Supreme Court, upon the adoption of the Rules of Civil Procedure, to file a list of all Articles deemed repealed by "Section 1 of this (Rule Making) Act" was approved and became effective May 15, 1939, while the Rules of Civil Procedure became effective September 1, 1941. See Rule 372, Vernon's Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

Arts. 2238 to 2241. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2241a. Return of Bills of Exceptions and Statement of Facts by Attorney

Whenever within the sixty (60) days that are provided by law for filing bills of exceptions and statements of fact in the trial court, the appellant or his attorney shall present bills of exceptions and statements of fact to the appellee or his attorney for the purpose of procuring an agreement thereto as provided in Articles 2239 and 2240, it shall be the duty of the appellee and his attorney to return to the appellant or his attorney the bills of exceptions and statements of fact within ten (10) days after having received said bills of exceptions and statements of fact, with his approval or disapproval of the same. The failure of the attorney for appellee to return such statements of fact or bills of exceptions within such ten-day period shall entitle the appellant to have such bills of exceptions and statements of fact approved by the court without having first obtained the approval thereof by the attorney for appellee.

Art. 2246. Time for Filing

When an appeal is taken from a judgment rendered in a civil cause tried in either the District Court, County Court, or County Court at Law, the party appealing shall have fifty (50) days after final judgment or order overruling motion for new trial, if such motion is filed, or perfection of writ of error, within which to prepare and file his statement of facts and bills of exception in the Trial Court.

Sec. 2. Upon application of the party appealing, the Judge of the Court may, in term-time or vacation, for good cause shown, extend the time for filing such statement of facts and bills of exception; but the time shall not be extended in any case so as to delay the filing thereof beyond the time for filing the transcript, bills of exceptions, and statement of facts in the Court of Civil Appeals, as prescribed by law, or as such time has been extended by said Court.

1. MISCELLANEOUS

Art. 2286. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2286a. Citations and Notices Improperly Directed; Validation of Proceedings

Sec. 1. All citations and notices in all cases of lunacy, guardianship, or estates of decedents, or of any other probate proceedings directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county in which the proceedings were instituted instead of to any sheriff or constable within the State of Texas as provided in Rule 15 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, which have been duly served and returned in the manner provided by law by the sheriff or constable within the county in which the proceedings were instituted, together with all uncontested orders, decrees, sales, leases and judgments grounded on such citations or notices are hereby validated and made as effective to support proceedings in the respective county courts in lunacy, guardianship and probate as if directed to any sheriff or constable within the State of Texas, as provided in said Rule 15.

Sec. 2. In all cases where personal service is required in lunacy, guardianship, or estates of decedents, or any other probate proceedings where any citation or notice therein has been directed to the sheriff or constable of the county in which the person named in the citation or notice was located instead of to any sheriff or constable within the State of Texas as provided in Rule 15 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, and such citations or notices have been duly served on the person named therein by the sheriff or constable of the county in which the person named in the citation or notice was located, together with all uncontested orders, decrees, sales, leases and judgments grounded on such citations or notices are hereby validated and made as effective to support proceedings in the respective county courts in lunacy, guardianship and probate as if directed to any sheriff or constable in the State of Texas, as provided in said Rule 15.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall not be applicable to the issues in any law suit or in any contested probate proceedings pending in any court of this State on the effective date of this Act.

Art. 2287. Neglect by Officers

Any clerk, sheriff, or other officer who neglects or refuses to perform any duty required of him under any provision of this title shall be liable to damages at the suit of any person injured, and may be punished for contempt of court.

Art. 2290. Deposits Pending Suit

The officer having custody of any money, debt, script, instrument of writing, or other article paid or deposited in court during the progress of any cause to abide the result of any legal proceeding, shall seal up in a secure package the identical money or other article so received and deposit it in some safe or bank vault, keeping it always accessible and subject to the control of the court; and he shall also keep in his office as a part of the records thereof a correct itemized statement of such deposit, on what account received, and the disposition made of the same. When his term of office expires, such officer shall turn over to his successor all of such trust funds and other property and the record book thereof, taking his receipt therefor. This article shall not exempt any officer or his surety from any liability on his official bond for any neglect or other default in regard to said property.

Art. 2292a. Appointment of Bailiff for 24th, 135th, and 267th Judicial Districts

The District Judges of the 24th Judicial District, the 135th Judicial District, and the 267th Judicial District may appoint, with the approval of the Commissioners Court, an officer of the Court to act as bailiff, whose primary duty shall be to act as interpreter. Such bailiff shall be paid a reasonable salary not to exceed the highest salary paid to any deputy, clerk or assistant employed by the County.

Art. 2292b. Bailiffs in Certain Counties with Eight Districts and Four County Courts; Duties; Compensation

Sec. 1. In all counties having eight (8) District Courts, including two (2) Criminal District Courts, and four (4) County Courts, including two (2) County Courts at Law and one County Criminal Court, the District Judges of each such county shall appoint a bailiff to be in charge of the Central Jury Room and the general panel. Such bailiff is hereby authorized to summon jurors, whose names have been drawn from the jury wheel, and to serve notices upon absent jurors, as directed by the District Judges having supervision and control over the general jury panel. Such bailiff shall look after the said panel and perform such duties in connection with the general supervision of the Central Jury Room and the general panel as are required by the District Judges of such county. He shall serve for a term of two (2) years, from January first of the odd years, and his salary shall be set by the Commissioners Court upon recommendation of the District Judges.

Sec. 2. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that if any sentence of this Act shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity shall not be held to affect the validity or constitutionality of any other paragraph or sentence of this Act.

Sec. 1. (a) In all counties having nine (9) or more District Courts, a majority of the District Judges of each such county may appoint a bailiff, and the assistants or deputy bailiffs that are deemed necessary by the District Judges, with approval of the Commissioners Court, to be in charge of the central jury room and the general panel. In such counties, if the District Judges of such county do not appoint a bailiff to be in charge of the central jury room and the general panel, the sheriff of that county shall perform all the duties in connection with the central jury room and the general panel, as provided by law. In any or all of such counties in which the District Judges thereof appoint a bailiff, and the necessary assistants or deputy bailiffs, in charge of the central jury room and the general panel, the sheriff of any such county shall not assign a deputy to the central jury room as is now provided by law. The bailiff and the assistants or deputy bailiffs appointed by the said District Judges are authorized to summon jurors whose names have been drawn from the jury wheel or selected by other means provided by law, and to serve notices upon absent jurors as directed by the District Judge having supervision and control of the general panel.

(b) Said bailiff and assistants and deputy bailiffs appointed by the District Judges shall look after the said panel and perform such duties in connection with the general supervision of the central jury room and the general panel as is required by the District Judges of such county. The bailiff and assistants and deputy bailiffs shall serve for a term of two (2) years from January 1st of the odd year, and the salary of each shall be set by the Commissioners Court upon the recommendation of the District Judges.

Sec. 2. In counties having nine (9) or more District Courts, the jurors in each of such counties may be summoned by the bailiff or the assistants or deputy bailiffs in charge of the central jury room and the general panel of such county or by the sheriff of such county, as the District Judges thereof may direct. Such service on the jurors may be made verbally in person, by registered mail, by ordinary mail or in any other manner or by any other method as may be determined upon the District Judges of such county. Jurors so selected and summoned for service on the central jury panel shall serve in criminal as well as civil cases, and no additional service shall be required in criminal cases.

Art. 2292-1. Travis County; Adult Probation Officer; Secretary; Appointment, Compensation, etc.

Sec. 1. The Judge of the 53rd Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas; the Judge of the 98th Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas; and the Judge of the 126th Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas, for the purpose of effectively carrying out the adult probation laws of this State, shall be and are hereby authorized to appoint one Adult Probation Officer for Travis County where a probation and parole officer has not been assigned to any court and/or district in said county, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 452, Acts of the Fiftieth Legislature, 1947, known as the Adult Probation and Parole Law and codified as Article 781b in Vernon's Texas Code of Criminal Procedure.¹

The Judges of the several Judicial District Courts of Travis County, Texas, shall be and are hereby further authorized to appoint one Secretary to serve in the Adult Probation Office.

The salaries of the above mentioned persons shall be set by the Commissioners Court in accordance with the laws governing the salaries permitted to be paid to deputies and assistants of elected county officers.

All such salaries are to be paid out of the General Fund of the county. All necessary and reasonable expenses, including an automobile allowance of Six Cents (6c) per mile for use of personal automobile on official business, for the Adult Probation Officer shall be paid by the Commissioners Court out of the General Fund of the county whenever such expenses are incurred by the Adult Probation Officer in the performance of his duties and the conduct of his office.

The Adult Probation Officer should be of good moral character and acquainted with the Adult Probation and Parole Law. The authority and duties of such Officer shall be the same as those prescribed for probation and parole officers by the Adult Probation and Parole Law. Such Officer and Secretary shall be subject to removal at the will of the majority of the Judges of the several Judicial District Courts of Travis County, Texas.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of Travis County is hereby authorized to amend the county budget for the fiscal year of 1955, from and at the effective date of this Act for the balance of the said fiscal year in order to provide for the salaries of the employees named in this Act and for all reasonable and necessary expenses of such office as herein provided.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as repealing Chapter 452, Acts of the Fiftieth Legislature, 1947, except as to provide an alternate method of appointment of an Adult Probation Officer where such officer has not been assigned to any court and/or district in Travis County as provided in this Act.

Art. 2292-2. Tarrant County; Adult Probation and Parole Officer

Sec. 1. The Judges of the District Courts and Criminal District Courts in Tarrant County, for the purpose of effectively carrying out the adult probation and parole laws of this State, are hereby authorized to appoint an Adult Probation and Parole Officer for Tarrant County, where a probation and parole officer has not been assigned to a court and/or district in Tarrant County in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 452, Acts of the Fiftieth Legislature, 1947, known as the Adult Probation and Parole Law and codified as Article 781b in Vernon's Texas Code of Criminal Procedure.¹ The salary of such Probation and Parole Officer shall be set by the Commissioners Court of Tarrant County and shall be paid out of the general fund of the county.

Upon approval of such expenditures by the Commissioners Court, the aforesaid Judges may appoint assistant probation and parole officers and such other employees as they deem necessary to serve in the Adult Probation Office. The salaries of all such employees shall be paid from the general fund of the county. All necessary and reasonable expenses, including an automobile allowance for use of personal automobiles on official business, of the Adult Probation and Parole Officer or other employees incurred in the performance of their duties and the conduct of the Adult Probation Office, may be paid out of the general fund, upon approval of the Commissioners Court.

The Adult Probation and Parole Officer and all assistant probation and parole officers shall be of good moral character and acquainted with the Adult Probation and Parole Law. The authority and duties of such officer shall be the same as those prescribed for probation and parole officers by the Adult Probation and Parole Law. Such officer and all other employees of the Adult Probation Office shall be subject to removal at the will of the majority of the Judges of the several District Courts and Criminal District Courts of Tarrant County.

The Commissioners Court is hereby authorized to provide office space and equipment for the Probation Office and to pay all other necessary office expenses out of the general fund of the county.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of Tarrant County is hereby authorized to amend the county budget for the fiscal year 1955, from and at the effective date of this Act for the balance of the said fiscal year, in order to provide for the salaries of the employees authorized in this Act and for all reasonable and necessary expenses of such office as herein provided.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as repealing Chapter 452, Acts of the Fiftieth Legislature, 1947, except as to provide an alternate method of appointment of Chief and Assistant Probation and Parole Officers where such an Officer has not been assigned to any court and/or district in Tarrant County as provided in this Act.

Art. 2292-3. Anderson County; Probation Officer

The county judge of Anderson County may employ a probation officer to serve the county court. The duties and responsibilities of the probation officer shall be prescribed by the county judge. The probation officer shall receive a salary set by the commissioners court.

Art. 2292-4. Montague County Probation DepartmentEstablishment

Sec. 1. There is hereby established the Montague County Probation Department upon affirmative order of the Commissioners Court and so reflected in the minutes of the Court.

Composition and Authority of Board

Sec. 2. The Montague County Probation Board is composed of the district judge and county judge of Montague County, Texas. The board shall have authority to adopt such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the law, necessary for the operation of the probation board.

Probation Officer; Appointment; Powers and Duties; Term

Sec. 3. The probation board shall appoint a probation officer, who shall have such authority, duties, and powers as now given to probation officers by general laws of the State of Texas, and such authority, duties, and powers as may be given him by the probation board. The probation officer shall be appointed, or reappointed, for two year terms, or unexpired portions thereof. The first term of the probation officer shall expire on December 31, 1974.

Service as Juvenile Officer

Sec. 4. The probation officer shall also serve as juvenile officer of Montague County, Texas, and shall have such authority, duties, and powers as now given juvenile officers by general laws of the State of Texas, and such authority, duties, and powers as may be given him by the probation board.

Salary and Office of Probation Officer

Sec. 5. The salary of the probation officer shall be set by the probation board with the approval of the Commissioners Court, and may be paid by the county treasurer, upon an order of the probation board, from fees collected by the probation department under authority of this Act. The Commissioners Court of Montague County may furnish the probation officer with a suitable office, including necessary office equipment and supplies, which shall be paid for by the county from its general fund.

Secretarial Help; Expenses

Sec. 6. The probation board may employ such secretarial help, and pay such additional expenses, including automobile expenses, as may be necessary, and as may be paid from the fees collected by the probation department under authority of this Act.

Bond of Officer

Sec. 7. The probation board shall have authority to require and approve a good and sufficient bond of the probation officer, in an amount not to exceed the sum of $3,000, for the faithful performance of his duties.

Probation Fees; Payment, Collection and Deposit

Sec. 8. For the purpose of providing adequate funds for the proper supervision of the probationers of Montague County, the probation board shall have authority to set probation fees, to be paid to the district court or to the county court in an amount not to exceed the sum of $10 per month, such fees to be paid to the courts by such probationers as a condition of their respective probations. All probation fees collected by the clerk of the court shall be paid over to the county treasurer on the last day of each calendar month. The county treasurer shall deposit all of such fees in an account to be styled "Probation Fund."

Child Support Division

Sec. 9. There is hereby established in the Montague County Probation Department a child support division. It shall be the duty of the division to assist the district clerk of Montague County in the collections of child support payments, alimony payments, separate maintenance payments, and in the enforcement of child visitation privileges, ordered by the district court of Montague County. The child support division shall initiate contempt proceedings for the enforcement of such orders of the district court.

Service Fees; Payment, Collection and Deposit

Sec. 10. (a) Each month for which a person has been ordered by the district court of Montague County to pay child support, alimony, or separate maintenance into the district clerk's office, the recipient (payee) of such child support, alimony, or separate maintenance shall pay into said district clerk's office a service fee of $1 per month. The $1 fee shall be deducted from the payment by the district clerk. If such payments are ordered to be paid semi-monthly or weekly, then the sum of 50 cents shall be deducted from each semi-monthly or weekly payment.

(b) All service fees collected by the district clerk shall be paid over by the district clerk to the county treasurer on the last day of each calendar month. The county treasurer shall deposit all of such fees in an account to be styled "Probation Fund."

(c) The service fees authorized by Subsection (a), Section 10, shall be applicable to all child support, alimony, and separate maintenance payments ordered after the effective date of this Act, and to all other such payments (even though ordered prior to the effective date of this Act) when the person ordered to make such payments has defaulted and has been cited for contempt of court. The service fee shall become due and payable for each month following the hearing on the contempt citation.

County Attorney as Legal Officer; Attorney's Fees; Payment, Collection and Deposit

Sec. 11. For the purpose of providing legal services to the Montague County Probation Department, the county attorney of Montague County is hereby designated as the legal officer of the department. There shall be assessed, as attorney's fees, a fee of $15 in all matters involving contempt of court for failure or refusal to pay child support, alimony, separate maintenance, or temporary alimony payments, when such contempt action is initiated by the probation department. The fees shall be taxed against the contemner as costs, and shall be collected as under contempt. The attorneys fees shall be paid to the district clerk, and by the district clerk paid over to the county treasurer on the last day of each month. The county treasurer shall deposit the fees in the probation fund. The attorneys fees shall be paid by the county treasurer to the county attorney on order of the probation board.

Appointment of Other Attorney as Legal Officer

Sec. 12. Should the county attorney of Montague County fail, refuse, or decline to perform the duties of legal officer for the probation department, the probation board shall appoint some other suitable attorney as legal officer of the probation department.

Adoption Investigation Fees; Payment, Collection and Deposit

Sec. 13. For the purpose of maintaining adoption investigation services, there shall be taxed, collected, and paid as other costs, the sum of $25 in each adoption case hereafter filed in district court of Montague County. Such adoption investigations shall be made by the probation officer and findings filed with the judge of the district court as provided by law, and as may be otherwise ordered by the judge of the court. The investigation fees shall be collected by the district clerk, and paid over to the county treasurer by the district clerk on the last day of each month. The county treasurer shall deposit the fees in the probation fund.

Juvenile Investigations

Sec. 14. The juvenile officer shall make such investigation in juvenile cases as is directed by the judge of the juvenile court of Montague County.

Judge; Requiring Probationer to Pay Supervision Fee

Sec. 15. The district judge may in any probation pending in district court on the effective date of this Act, and the county judge may in any probation pending in the county court on the effective date of this Act, upon a motion to revoke such probation, and where such motion is denied, require such probationer to pay the set monthly supervision fee, applicable to such probationer's case, for the remainder of such probationer's period of probation.

2. RECEIVERSArt. 2293. Appointment

Receivers may be appointed by any judge of a court of competent jurisdiction of this State, in the following cases:

1. In an action by a vendor to vacate a fraudulent purchase of property; or by a creditor to subject any property or fund to his claim; or between partners or others jointly owning or interested in any property or fund, on the application of the plaintiff or any party whose right to or interest in the property or fund or the proceeds thereof is probable, and where it is shown that the property or fund is in danger of being lost, removed or materially injured.

2. In an action by a mortgagee for the foreclosure of his mortgage and sale of the mortgaged property, when it appears that the mortgaged property is in danger of being lost, removed or materially injured; or that the condition of the mortgage has not been performed and the property is probably insufficient to discharge the mortgage debt.

3. In cases where a corporation is insolvent or in imminent danger of insolvency; or has been dissolved or has forfeited its corporate rights.

4. In all other cases where receivers have heretofore been appointed by the usages of the court of equity.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2293a. Appointment for Church or Congregation

Sec. 1. That the judge of any district court, or other court having jurisdiction, is hereby authorized and required in term, time,¹ or on vacation, to appoint a receiver or receivers for any defunct or disorganized church or congregation when the fact of such condition is brought to the attention of such court by an application for the appointment of a receiver or receivers for such defunct or disorganized church or congregation.

Sec. 5. The term "church or congregation" is meant to refer to a local congregation of believers in Christ, and not to a denomination or communion as a whole.

Sec. 6. The terms "defunct or disorganized" are meant to apply to an organization which formerly maintained regular forms of work and worship in a given community such as the Bible School, Communion Services, Preaching Services, etc., a regular interval,² and which has ceased to function in these and similar capacities as a church for a period of one or more years.

¹ So in enrolled bill. Should probably read "termtime".

² So in enrolled bill. Should probably read "at regular intervals,".

Sections 2 to 4 of Acts 1927, 40th Leg., p. 68, ch. 45, enacts arts. 2294a, 2297a, and 4331a, respectively.

Art. 2294. Qualifications

A receiver for property within or partly within and partly without this State must, when appointed, be a bona fide citizen and qualified voter of this State, and if so qualified and appointed he shall keep and maintain actual residence in this State during the pendency of such receivership; if not so qualified, his appointment as such receiver shall be void in so far as the property within this State is concerned. No party, attorney, or any person interested in any way in an action for the appointment of a receiver shall be appointed receiver therein.

Art. 2294a. Member of Church or Congregation

That the receiver or receivers appointed for any such defunct or disorganized church or congregation, shall be a member or members of an active church or congregation of like faith and order, or shall be a recognized missionary or ecclesiastical body of like faith and order, denomination or communion; and in case any such denomination or communion of like faith and order, shall have a State Missionary Society, or shall hereafter appoint, elect or organize, or cause to be appointed, elected or organized, such a State Missionary Society, and shall authorize the same to act as a receiver or trustee for such denomination or communion, then such State Missionary Society, or other similar organization so formed and named, shall be appointed to serve as receiver or trustee by said court.

Art. 2295. Quo Warranto

Where a domestic corporation owning property in this State shall have a receiver of such property appointed who is not a bona fide citizen and qualified voter of this State, said corporation shall thereby forfeit its charter; and the Attorney General shall at once prosecute a suit by quo warranto against said corporation so offending to forfeit its charter. The court trying the cause shall forfeit the charter of said corporation upon proof that a person has been appointed receiver of its property situated in this State who is not so qualified.

Art. 2296. Oath and Bond

When a receiver is appointed, he shall, before he enters upon his duties, be sworn to perform them faithfully, and shall execute a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by the court appointing him, in the sum fixed by the court, conditioned that he will faithfully discharge his duty as receiver in the action (naming it) and obey the orders of the court therein.

Art. 2297. Receiver's Power

The receiver shall have power, under the control of the court, to bring and defend actions in his own name as receiver, to take charge and keep possession of the property, to receive rents, collect, compound for, compromise demands, make transfers, and generally to do such acts respecting the property as the court may authorize.

Art. 2297a. Receiver of Church or Congregation

That it shall be the duty of such trustee or trustees when so appointed, to take charge of all property, real, personal or mixed, and choses in action, belonging to such defunct or disorganized church or congregation and administer the same under the direction of the court making the appointment, for the best interest of such defunct or disorganized church or congregation; and where necessary to preserve the property, to sell the same under the order of said court; and in case said court shall be of the opinion that said church or congregation may not be revived or reorganized within a reasonable time, it shall be the duty of said court to order all of said property sold at public or private sale, and the proceeds received from such sale or sales shall be turned over and delivered to said trustee or trustees to be used by them for a church or congregation, denomination or communion or organization of like faith and order.

Art. 2298. Investing Funds

The funds in the hands of a receiver may be invested upon interest by order of the court, but no such order shall be made except upon consent of all the parties to the action.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2299. Application of Funds

All moneys that come into the hands of a receiver as such receiver shall be applied as follows, to the payment:

1. Of all court costs of the suit.

2. Of all wages of employes due by the receiver.

3. Of all debts due by the receiver for materials and supplies purchased during receivership by the receiver for the improvement of the property in his hands as receiver.

4. Of all debts due for betterments and improvements done during receivership to the property in his hands as such receiver.

5. Of all claims and accounts against the receiver on contracts made by the receiver during the receivership, and of personal injury claims and claims for stock against said receiver accruing during said receivership, and all judgments rendered against said receiver for personal injuries and for stock killed.

6. Of all judgments recovered against persons or corporations in suits brought before the receiver in the action.

As to all money coming into the hands of a receiver which are the earnings of the property in his hands, said claims shall have a preference lien on the same, and the receiver shall pay the same on the claims against him in the order of preference named above, and the court shall see that he does so.

Art. 2300. Discharge of Receiver

If a receiver is discharged pending suits against him for causes of action growing out of and arising during the receivership, the cause of action shall not abate, but may be prosecuted to final judgment against the receiver; and the plaintiff may make the party or corporation to whom the receiver has delivered the property a party to the suit. If judgment is finally rendered in favor of the plaintiff against the receiver, the court shall also enter judgment in favor of the plaintiff against the party to whom the property was delivered by the receiver.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2301. When Property Subject to Execution

Where there is a judgment against a receiver and he shall have in possession moneys subject to the payment of such judgment, and the plaintiff owning the judgment shall apply to the court appointing the receiver for an order to pay said judgment, and if said court should refuse to order said judgment paid, when there is money in the hands of said receiver subject to the payment of the judgment, then the court rendering the judgment shall order an execution to issue on said judgment against said receiver upon the filing by the plaintiff in the court where the judgment was rendered an affidavit reciting that the plaintiff had applied to the court appointing the receiver for an order for said receiver to pay said judgment, and that it was shown to the court that there was money in the hands of the receiver at that time which was subject to the payment of the judgment, and that said court refused to order him to pay the judgment. Said execution when so issued shall be levied upon any property in the hands of the receiver and the same shall be sold as under ordinary execution; and a sale of the property will convey the title of the same to the purchaser.

Art. 2302. Judgments First Lien on Property

All judgments rendered against a receiver for causes of action arising during the receivership shall be a lien upon all property in the hands of the receiver superior to the mortgage lien. If the property should be turned back into the possession of the party or corporation owning same at the time of the appointment of a receiver, or any one for them, or to their assigns or purchasers, the party or corporation so receiving said property from said receiver shall take said property charged with all of the unpaid liabilities of the receiver occurring during the receivership, to the value of the property delivered by the receiver.

Art. 2303. Persons Liable for Debts

If a receiver is discharged by the court before all of the liabilities of the receiver arising during the receivership are settled in full, then the person, persons, or corporation to whom the receiver delivers the property that was in his hands as receiver shall be liable to the persons having claims against said receiver for the full amount of the liabilities.

Art. 2304. Effect of Discharge

The discharge of a receiver shall not work an abatement of the suit against a receiver nor in any way affect the right of the party to sue the receiver if he sees proper.

Art. 2305. Property Liable for Debts

When property has been returned to the original owner without any sale of said property, such owner shall be liable for all of the unpaid liabilities of the receiver in causes of action arising out of and during the receivership, and the plaintiff may make such owner to whom the property was delivered a party defendant along with the receiver; and, if judgment is rendered against the receiver upon a cause of action arising out of and during the receivership, then the court shall also, at the same time, render judgment against such defendants for the amount so found for plaintiff; and plaintiff shall have the right to foreclose his lien on the property so returned.

Art. 2306. Outstanding Liabilities at Discharge

If at the date of the discharge of a receiver there exists against him any judgments or unpaid claims not sued on which arose during the receivership, then such claims and judgments shall be a preference lien on all of the property that was in the receiver's hands as such at said date superior to the mortgage lien; and the person or corporation to whom the receiver has delivered such property shall be liable for such claims and judgments to the value of such property.

Art. 2307. Liability of Receiver and Person to Whom Property is Delivered

Any person having a claim against a receiver not sued on at the date of the discharge of the receiver, shall have the right to sue said receiver, either alone or jointly, with the person or corporation to whom the receiver delivered said property that was in his hands as such receiver; and, if any judgment is rendered against said receiver, a judgment shall also be rendered against the person or corporation for the same amount that is rendered against the receiver, not to exceed the value of the property so received by said person or corporation.

Art. 2308. Receiver to Give Bond on Appeal

In a suit against a receiver, if the receiver desires to appeal or apply for a writ of error from judgment rendered against him, before such appeal or writ of error shall be perfected or allowed, such receiver shall enter into bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk of the court or justice of the peace, payable to the appellee or the defendant in error, in a sum at least double the amount of the judgment, interest and costs, conditioned that such receiver shall prosecute his appeal or writ of error with effect; and, in case the judgment of the court to which such appeal or writ or error be taken shall be against him, that he will perform its judgment, sentence, or decree, and pay all such damages and costs as said court may award against him. If the judgment of the appellate court shall be against such receiver, judgment shall, at the same time, be entered against the sureties on his said bond, and execution thereon may issue against such sureties within twenty days after such judgment is rendered.

Art. 2309. Deposit of Railroad Funds

When a line of railroad operated by a receiver lies wholly within this State, all money which comes into the hands of the receiver, whether from operating the road or otherwise, shall be kept and deposited in such place within this State as the court may direct, until properly disbursed; but, if any portion of the road lies in another State, the receiver shall be required to deposit in this State at least such share of the funds in his hands as is proportioned to the value of the property of the company within this State.

Art. 2310. Suit By or Against

When property within the limits of this State has been placed in the hands of a receiver who has taken charge of such property, such receiver may, in his official capacity, sue or be sued in any court of this State having jurisdiction of the cause of action, without leave of the court appointing him. If judgment is recovered against said receiver, the court shall order said judgment paid out of any funds in the hands of said receiver as such receiver.

Art. 2311. Venue of Suit Against

Actions may be brought against the receiver of the property of any person where said person resides; and against receivers of a corporation in the county where the principal office of said corporation may be located, and against receivers of railroad companies in any county through or into which the road is constructed. Service of summons may be had upon the receiver, or upon the general or division superintendent of the road, or upon any agent of said receiver who resides in the county where the suit is brought.

Art. 2312. Venue to Appoint

If the property sought to be placed in the hands of a receiver is a corporation whose property lies within this State, or partly within this State, then the action to have a receiver appointed shall be brought in this State in the county where the principal office of said corporation is located.

Art. 2313. Jurisdiction to Appoint

When a person resides in this State and a receiver is applied for, or if the property sought to be placed in the hands of a receiver is situated within the limits of this State, no court other than one within the limits of this State, shall have power to appoint any receiver of said property.

Art. 2314. Inventory by Receiver

The receiver as soon after his appointment as possible, shall return to the court appointing him a true and correct inventory of all property received by him as such receiver.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2315. Where There are Betterments, etc.

When a receiver of a corporation has, under the order of the court appointing him, made improvements upon the property and purchased rolling stock, machinery, and made other improvements whereby the value of the property of said corporation has been increased, or has extended a road, or acquired any property in connection with said road, and has paid for same out of the current receipts of the corporation that came into his hands as receiver, then, if there be any floating debts against said corporation, said corporation shall be made to contribute to the floating indebtedness to the full value of the money so spent by said receiver as aforesaid. When there are liens of any kind upon the property of said corporation in the hands of such receiver, and said property is sold under the order of the court, and said liens foreclosed, then the court appointing such receiver, if there be any unpaid debts or judgments, or claims against the corporation itself, shall detain in the hands of the clerk of the court money to the full value of the improvements made by the receiver of the property sold, and pay the same over to whoever has or may have a claim, debt, or judgment against said corporation; and the court, in ordering the sale of the property, shall require sufficient cash to be paid in at date of sale to cover the full value of the improvements so made by said receiver out of the current funds received by him from the property while receiver.

Art. 2316. Preference Claims

All judgments, claims, or causes of action when determined, existing against any corporation at the time of the appointment of a receiver, shall be paid out of the earnings of such corporation while in the hands of the receiver, to the exclusion of mortgage action; and the same shall be a lien on such earnings.

Art. 2317. Receivership of Corporation Limited; Certain Corporations Excepted

No corporation shall be administered in any court more than three years from the date of such appointment except as hereinafter provided; and within three years such court shall wind up the affairs of such corporation, unless prevented by litigation, or unless, at said time, the Receiver shall be conducting and operating the affairs of such corporation as a going concern, in which event the court, upon application, by proper order entered upon the minutes, after hearing held after due notice to all attorneys of record, may extend, from time to time, such receivership for such term and upon such conditions as in its judgment the best interests of all parties concerned may require; provided, that no continuance of a receivership shall be for more than five years additional to the original three years; and provided further, that corporations organized and existing under Section 68 of Article 1302, Chapter 1 of Title 32,¹ and under Title 112, of Revised Civil Statutes of Texas,² shall not be subject to the above provision limiting receiverships to five additional years, but as to such exempted corporations, the time in which to close any such receivership shall be determined by the court, and it may extend the same, from time to time, for such additional period or periods of time as it may determine.

Art. 2318. Application for Receiver

No receiver of a joint stock or incorporated company, co-partnership or private person shall ever be appointed on the petition of such joint stock or incorporated company, partnership or person. A stockholder or stockholders of such joint stock or incorporated company may have his or their action against such company, and may have a receiver appointed as in ordinary cases. Nothing herein shall prevent a member of any co-partnership from having a receiver appointed whenever a cause of action arises between the co-partners.

Art. 2319. Rules of Equity Shall Govern

In all matters relating to the appointment of receivers, and to their powers, duties and liabilities, and to the powers of the court in relation thereto, the rules of equity shall govern whenever the same are not inconsistent with any provision of this chapter and the general laws of the State.

Art. 2320a. Unconstitutional

Article 2320a, which provided for the reorganization and adjustment of the affairs of distressed debtors and was derived from Acts 1934, 43rd Leg., 3rd C.S., p. 43, ch. 24, § 2, was held unconstitutional on the ground of impairment of obligations of contract in violation of Const. art. 1, § 16, and U.S.C.A. Const. art. 1, § 10, in Cattle Raisers Loan Co. v. Doan (Civ.App.1935) 86 S.W.2d 252, error denied 127 T. 1, 86 S.W.2d 1082.

Art. 2320b. Receivers of Mineral Interests Owned by Nonresidents or Absentees

Claimants or Owners of Undivided Mineral and Leasehold Interests; Appointment of Receiver; Petition

Sec. 1. To encourage the exploration and development of mineral resources, in an action filed in the District Court by any person, firm or corporation having, claiming or owning an undivided mineral interest in any tract of land in the State of Texas, or any person, firm or corporation having, claiming or owning an undivided leasehold interest granted under a mineral lease covering any tract of land in the State of Texas, in which it is made to appear that one or more of the defendants in such action are nonresidents of the State of Texas, or persons whose identity or place of residence is unknown and that such nonresidents of Texas or persons whose identity or place of residence is unknown have, claim or own an undivided mineral interest in said land and have not paid taxes on said mineral interests or rendered same for taxes within the five successive years immediately preceding the filing of the action, the District Court shall have power to appoint the county judge of the particular county in which the land is located, and his successors in office or the county clerk of the particular county in which the land is located and his successors in office or any resident of said county, as the receiver of said undivided mineral interest owned by any one or more of such defendants, such receiver to serve without the necessity of his posting bond, provided a duly verified petition, naming the last known owner or the last record owner of the interest as defendants, is filed and satisfactory proof is made to the Court that the plaintiff or plaintiffs have made diligent but unsuccessful effort to locate such defendants, and that the plaintiff or plaintiffs will suffer substantial damage or injury unless such receiver is appointed. Such receivership shall continue so long as any of such defendants, or his heirs, assigns or personal representatives, shall have failed to appear, either in person or by agent or attorney, in such court to claim his interest in the ownership of the minerals dealt with in the action.

Claimants or Owners of Undivided Leasehold Interest under Mineral Lease; Appointment of Receiver; Petition

Sec. 2. In an action filed in the District Court by any person, firm or corporation having, claiming or owning an undivided leasehold interest granted under a mineral lease covering any tract of land in the State of Texas in which it is made to appear that one or more of the defendants in such action are nonresidents of the State of Texas, or persons whose identity or place of residence is unknown, and who have, claim or own an undivided leasehold interest granted under a mineral lease covering said land and have not paid taxes on said leasehold interest or rendered same for taxes within the five successive years immediately preceding the filing of the action, the District Court shall have power to appoint a receiver of said undivided leasehold interest owned by any one or more of such defendants, provided a duly verified petition is filed and satisfactory proof is made that the plaintiff or plaintiffs have made diligent but unsuccessful effort to locate such defendants, and that the plaintiff or plaintiffs will suffer substantial damages or injury unless such receiver is appointed. The receivership continues as long as the defendant or his heir, assign, or personal representative fails to appear, either in person or by agent or attorney, in the court to claim the interest in the ownership of the leasehold interest.

Execution of Mineral Leases; Assignment of Outstanding Undivided Mineral Leasehold Interest; Unitization Agreements; Payment and Application of Consideration

Sec. 3. Such receiver, under the orders of the court, shall have power, authority and duty, subsequent to his appointment and from time to time thereafter, to (1) execute and deliver to a lessee, or successive lessees, mineral leases on such outstanding mineral interests, (2) to execute and deliver to a lessee, or successive lessees, an assignment of any such outstanding undivided mineral leasehold interest, and (3) to enter into any unitization agreement which has been duly authorized by the Railroad Commission of Texas. Such receiver shall execute such leases or assignments, or enter into such unitization agreements forthwith upon the entry of any such decree by the District Court. The money consideration, if any, to be paid for the execution of the aforementioned leases, assignments and/or unitization agreements by such receiver, shall be paid over to the clerk of the District Court in which the cause is pending, prior to the execution of the instrument by the receiver, and thereafter, after applying such money consideration, if any, to costs that may have accrued in such cause, the district clerk shall retain the balance of such funds for the use and benefit of such nonresident or unknown owners of such mineral interests or leasehold interests, as the case may be, and any future payments paid under such mineral lease, assignment of leasehold interest or unitization agreement, shall be paid directly into the registry of the court and impounded for the use and benefit of such nonresident and unknown owners.

Definitions

Sec. 4. When used in this Act

(1) the term "mineral lease" shall be deemed to include oil and gas leases and oil, gas and mineral leases of every kind and nature containing any and all provisions necessary or incident to the orderly exploration, development and recovery of oil, gas and other minerals including provision authorizing lessee to pool and unitize the lands subject thereto with adjacent lands into a unit not to exceed 160 acres for an oil well or 640 acres for a gas well plus 10% tolerance provided that should any governmental authority having jurisdiction prescribe or permit larger units, then such units may conform substantially in size with those prescribed by government regulations;

(2) the term "leasehold interest" shall be deemed to include any and all ownerships created under a mineral lease or carved out of a leasehold estate granted under a mineral lease and without limiting the foregoing shall include production payments, overriding royalty interests and working interests;

(3) the term "lessee" shall be deemed to include an assignee under an assignment or a mineral lease as that term is defined under Subsection 1 above.

Cumulative Effect of Law

Sec. 5. This Act shall not have the effect of altering or changing any laws now in effect relating to suits for the removal of cloud from title or the appointment of receivers under any other law, but is cumulative thereof.

April 13, 1983.]

Art. 2320c. Contingent Interests; Receiver to Make Mineral, Oil or Gas Lease; Pooling

Sec. 1. Where lands or any estate therein are subject to contingent future interests, legal or equitable, whether arising by way of remainder, reversion, possibility of reverter, executory devise, upon the happening of a condition subsequent, or otherwise, and it is made to appear that such lands or estate are liable to drainage of oil, gas and other minerals, or either of them, or that lease thereof for oil, gas and mineral development and the safe and proper investment of the proceeds will inure to the benefit and advantage of the persons entitled thereto, or that it is otherwise necessary for the conservation, preservation or protection of the property or estate or of any present or contingent or future interest therein, that such lands or estate be leased for the production of oil, gas and other minerals, or either of them, upon application of any person having a vested, contingent, or possible interest in said lands or estate, any District Court of the county in which the lands or a part thereof lie shall have power, pending the happening of the contingency and the vesting of such future interests, to appoint a receiver for such lands or estate and to authorize and direct the lease of such property for development of oil, gas and other minerals, or either of them, either at public sale or at private sale, and upon such terms and conditions as the Court may direct; and in such case to authorize a receiver to make such lease and to receive, hold and invest the proceeds thereof under the direction of the Court for the benefit of the persons entitled or who may become entitled thereto according to their respective rights and interests, and to that end may confer all necessary powers on the receiver.

Sec. 2. Where lands or any estate therein, including any contingent future interests described in Section 1 of this Act, are subject to an existing oil, gas and mineral lease which fails to provide for pooling or contains pooling provisions which are ineffective as to the contingent future interests covered by the lease, and it is made to appear that pooling of the contingent future interests is necessary to protect correlative rights, or to prevent the physical or economic waste of oil, gas and other minerals, or any of them, or that pooling of the contingent future interests will inure to the benefit and advantage of the persons entitled thereto, or that pooling is otherwise necessary for the conservation, preservation or protection of the property or estate or of any present or contingent or future interest therein, upon application of any person having a vested, contingent or possible interest in the lands subject to the lease, including the lessee therein and any assignee of the lessee, any district court of the county in which the lands or part thereof lie shall have power, pending the happening of the contingency and the vesting of the future interests, to appoint a receiver for the contingent interests covered by the lease and to authorize and direct the amendments of the lease to authorize pooling of the contingent future interests, upon the terms and conditions and for additional consideration, if any, as the court may direct; and in such case to authorize a receiver to make such an amendment to the lease and to receive, hold and invest the additional consideration therefor, if any, under the direction of the court for the benefit of the persons entitled or who may become entitled thereto according to their respective rights and interests, and to that end may confer all necessary powers on the receiver.

Sec. 2A. Any lease given pursuant to Section 1 of this Act or any amendment of an existing lease made pursuant to Section 2 of this Act may authorize the lessee and his assigns to pool all or any part of the lands subject to the lease with adjacent lands into a unit not to exceed 160 acres for an oil well or 640 acres for a gas well plus 10% tolerance. Provided that should any governmental authority having jurisdiction prescribe or permit larger units, than¹ the units may conform substantially in size with those prescribed or permitted by government regulations.

Sec. 2B. In any cause commenced pursuant to Section 1 or Section 2 of this Act, all persons in being having a vested, contingent or possible interest in the lands shall be cited in the cause in the manner and for the time provided for in actions concerning title to lands. All persons not in being shall be cited in the manner and for the time provided in actions against unknown owners or claimants of interest in land. Provided in any cause commenced pursuant to Section 2 of this Act, a person shall not be a necessary party in the cause if at the commencement thereof the person's interest in the land is then effectively subject to pooling authority expressed in an existing oil, gas and mineral lease and if enlargement of the pooling authority as to the interest is not sought in the cause.

Sec. 2C. In any cause commenced pursuant to this Act, the court may authorize and direct that the moneys, if any, paid to the receiver, after payment of the court costs, shall be by him deposited in the registry of the court for the use and benefit of the persons entitled or who may become entitled thereto according to their respective rights and interests, and thereupon the court may immediately discharge the receiver, and any future payments accruing under the lease to the contingent future interests leased or subjected to pooling in the cause shall be paid directly into the registry of the court and impounded for the benefit of the persons entitled or who may become entitled thereto according to their respective rights and interests.

Sec. 3. No mineral lease on which there has already been drilled any oil or gas well, or both, and no mineral lease or leasing unit upon which drilling operations for oil and gas, or both, have already begun at the time of the effective date of this Act, shall come within the application of the provisions of this Act; it being the intention of the Legislature that the provisions of this Act shall apply only to mineral leases where there has been no development for oil and gas, or other minerals, upon the effective date of this Act. It is further provided, however, that no lease shall be authorized covering any mineral interest in lands, in which lands there are existing homestead rights, without the written consent of the owner or owners of such homestead rights given in the manner provided by law for the conveyance of homesteads.

Sec. 4. If any part, section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word contained in this Act shall be held by the Courts to be unconstitutional or invalid, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act; and the Legislature hereby declares that it would have enacted, and does here now enact, such remaining portions despite any such invalidity.

3. OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

Art. 2321. Appointment and Examination

Each judge of a court of record shall appoint an official court reporter who shall be a sworn officer of the court and shall hold office at the pleasure of the court.

Repealer

Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2019, ch. 622, providing for the setting of compensation, expenses and allowances for certain county and precinct officials and employees by the commissioners courts effective January 1, 1972, provides in section 8 thereof that to the extent any local, special, or general law, including Acts of the 1971 Legislature, prescribes such compensation, expenses and allowances for any official or employee covered by this Act, that law is repealed. See article 3912k.

Art. 2322. Oath

Said reporter in addition to taking the official oath shall subscribe to an oath to be administered to him by the district clerk to the effect that he will well and truly in an impartial manner keep a correct record of all evidence offered in each case reported by him, together with the objections and exceptions made by the parties to such suit, and the rulings and remarks of the court in passing upon the admissibility of testimony.

Art. 2323. Deputy Reporter

In case of illness, press of official work, or unavoidable disability of the official shorthand reporter to perform his duties in reporting proceedings in court, the judge of the court may, in his discretion, authorize a deputy shorthand reporter to act during the absence of said official shorthand reporter, and said deputy shorthand reporter shall receive, during the time he acts for said official shorthand reporter, the same salary and fees as the official shorthand reporter of said court, to be paid in the manner provided for the official shorthand reporter; but the said official shorthand reporter shall also receive his salary in full during said temporary disability to act. The necessity for a deputy official shorthand reporter shall be left entirely within the discretion of the judge of the court.

Saved from Repeal

Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 576, ch. 286, § 1, which amended Art. 2327A (repealed in 1947), relating to salary of certain court reporters, provided in the second paragraph that nothing in the Act should be construed as repealing this article.

Art. 2323a. Deputy Court Reporter for 70th Judicial District

Sec. 1. The official court reporter of the 70th Judicial District, composed of the counties of Midland and Ector, is hereby granted authority to appoint a deputy court reporter for the 70th Judicial District.

Sec. 2. The deputy court reporter provided for in this Act shall have the authority and perform such duties as are now required of the official court reporter of the 70th Judicial District under the direction and in the name of the official court reporter of the 70th Judicial District.

Sec. 3. No money shall ever be expended by the counties composing the 70th Judicial District and no money shall ever be expended by the State of Texas for salary or other expense of such deputy court reporter.

Art. 2324. Duty of Reporter

Each Official Court Reporter shall upon request:

Attend all sessions of the court; take full shorthand notes of all oral testimony offered in cases tried in said court, together with all objections to the admissibility of the evidence, the rulings and remarks of the court thereon, and all exceptions thereto; take full shorthand notes of closing arguments when requested to do so by the attorney for any party to such case, together with all objections to such arguments, the rulings and remarks of the court thereon, and all exceptions thereto;

Preserve all shorthand notes taken in said court for future use or reference for three full years, and furnish to any person a transcript of all such evidence or other proceedings, or any portion thereof as such person may order, upon the payment to the official shorthand reporter of the fees provided by the judge.

When any party to any suit reported by any such reporter shall desire a transcript of the evidence in said suit, said party may apply for same by written demand, and the reporter shall make up such transcript and shall receive as compensation therefor a reasonable amount, subject to the approval of the judge of the court if objection is made thereto, taking into consideration the difficulty and technicality of the material to be transcribed and the time within which the transcript is requested to be prepared. The original transcript fee charged shall pay for the original plus one copy of the transcript, and additional copies may be purchased for a fee per page not in excess of one-third ($\frac{1}{3}$) of the original cost per page. In addition such reporter may make a reasonable charge, subject to the approval of the trial court if objection shall be made thereto, for postage and/or express charges paid; photostating, blue-printing or other reproduction of exhibits; indexing; and preparation for filing and special binding of original exhibits. Provided further, that in case any such reporter shall charge in excess of the fees herein allowed by the judge, whether by accident or design, he shall, on demand filed with the court, make refund of the excess to the party to which it is due. Provided, however, that the Supreme Court of Texas under its rulemaking authority shall provide for the duties and fees of court reporters in all civil judicial proceedings, except as provided by law.

Art. 2324a. Powers as to Depositions, Commissions, Oaths and Affidavits

Sec. 1. All official District Court reporters are authorized to take depositions of witnesses, and to receive, execute and return commissions, administer oaths and affidavits, in connection with such depositions, and make a certificate of such fact, and do all other things necessary in the taking of such depositions in accordance with existing laws.

Sec. 2. Said reporters shall have authority to perform the above mentioned acts only within any county within the judicial district that such reporter was appointed and serving in connection with his official business, in the State of Texas.

Sec. 3. This Act shall be cumulative of all existing laws providing for the method and manner of taking depositions.

Art. 2324b. Regulation and Certification of Court Reporters

Certificate Required

Sec. 1. (a) No person may be appointed an official court reporter or deputy court reporter or may engage in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this state unless that person is certified as a shorthand reporter by the Supreme Court of Texas as provided by this Act.

(b) A certification under this Act must be for one or more of the following methods of shorthand reporting:

- (1) written shorthand;
- (2) machine shorthand;
- (3) oral stenography; or

(4) any other method of shorthand reporting as authorized by rule of the supreme court.

(c) A person certified under this Act prior to September 1, 1983, may retain a general certification authorizing the person to use any method of shorthand reporting authorized by this section, but the person must keep the certification in continuous effect.

Penalties

Sec. 2. A person engaging in the practice of shorthand reporting who violates the provisions of Section 1 of this Act is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor, and each day of violation shall constitute a separate offense.

Definition

Sec. 3. In this Act, "the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this state" means the making of a verbatim record of an oral court proceeding, deposition, or proceeding before a grand jury, referee, or court commissioner by means of written symbols or abbreviations in shorthand or machine shorthand writing or oral stenography.

Court Reporters Certification Board; Creation; Membership

Sec. 4. (a) There is hereby created the Court Reporters Certification Board to consist of the following 12 members appointed by the supreme court:

(1) one active district judge who shall serve as the chairman of the board;

(2) two active members of the State Bar who have been practicing members of the bar during more than five consecutive years next preceding their appointment;

(3) three active official court reporters and three active free-lance certified shorthand reporters who have been engaged in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this state during more than five consecutive years next preceding their appointment; and

(4) three citizens of this state who are not and whose spouses are not judges licensed to practice law in this state, shorthand reporters, elected public officials, or full-time governmental employees.

(b) It is the intent of the legislature that the membership of the board reflect the historical and cultural diversity of the inhabitants of this state; therefore, appointments to the board should be made without discrimination based on race, creed, sex, religion, national origin, or geographical distribution of the appointees. A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), by virtue of his activities for compensation in or on behalf of a profession related to the operation of the board or a person who is an owner, officer, or employee of a school or institution engaged in instructing persons in court reporting skills may not serve as a member of the board or act as the general counsel to the board.

(c) A reference to the "committee" or "committee members" in this Act means "board" or "board members."

(d) A member or employee of the board may not be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the court reporting industry. A member or employee of the board may not be related within the second degree by affinity or consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the court reporting industry.

Terms of Office

Sec. 5. The regular term of office of board members shall be six years.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 5A. The Court Reporters Certification Board is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Unless continued in existence as provided by that Act, the board is abolished effective September 1, 1987.

Successors; Vacancies

Sec. 6. Committee members shall hold office until the appointment and qualification of their successors. An interim vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term in the same manner as the appointment at the expiration of a full term. Committee members may succeed themselves in office only if they have served less than three consecutive years.

Compensation; Expenses

Sec. 7. Committee members shall receive no compensation for their services but are entitled to receive actual and necessary expenses for traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties as members of the committee.

Meetings, Hearings, Examinations; Quorum; Records

Sec. 8. The committee may hold its meetings, hearings, examinations, and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet in Austin, Texas, at least once each year. Five members constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The committee shall keep a complete record of all of its proceedings and all certificates issued, renewed, or revoked, together with a detailed statement of receipts and disbursements.

Executive Functions; Subcommittees; Employees

Sec. 9. The committee is charged with the executive functions necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Act under such rules as may be promulgated by the supreme court. The committee may appoint subcommittees as it deems necessary or proper. The committee may employ the employees it deems necessary for the performance of the duties and exercise of the powers conferred on the committee and may pay from funds available to it all expenses reasonably necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Act.

Application for Examination; Fee

Sec. 10. Each applicant for a certificate under this Act shall file an application with the committee at least 30 days before the date fixed for examination, accompanied by the required fee. The fee for an examination given by the committee shall be fixed by the committee, subject to the approval of the supreme court.

Initial Certification Fee; Renewal and Reinstatement of Certification

Sec. 11. (a) Each person to whom certification is issued shall, as a condition precedent to its issuance and in addition to any other fee which may be payable, pay the initial certification fee which shall be fixed by the board, subject to approval by the supreme court.

(b) Each certification issued under this Act that has not been renewed shall expire at 12:01 a.m. on January 1 following the second anniversary of the date of the issuance of the certification and every second year thereafter. To renew a certification, the certified shorthand reporter shall, on or before the expiration date of the certification, pay the renewal fee which shall be fixed by the board, subject to approval by the supreme court.

(c) The board may reinstate an expired certification if, not later than the 120th day after the day of expiration, the applicant pays the renewal fee and any penalty fee established by the board and approved by the supreme court. The reinstatement dates from the original date of expiration.

(d) The board may reinstate a certification that has been expired for more than 120 days if the board finds, on a sworn affidavit of the applicant or by another method determined by the board, that the applicant has retained the professional skills required for original certification and has paid all delinquent renewal fees and any penalty fee established by the board and approved by the supreme court. Reinstatement under this subsection expires on January 1 nearest the second anniversary of the reinstatement.

Powers and Duties of Committee

Sec. 12. (a) The committee shall have the powers and duties enumerated in Subsections (b) through (e) of this section.

(b) The board shall administer tests to determine the qualifications of persons applying for certification under this Act in one or more of the methods of shorthand reporting authorized by this Act. Each test shall be given in two parts to be designated Part A and Part B. Part A shall be composed of five minutes of two-voice dictation of questions and answers given at 225 words per minute, five minutes of dictation of jury charge given at 200 words per minute, and five minutes of dictation of selected literary material given at 180 words per minute. Each applicant shall personally take down the test, either in his own writing or his own voice, and shall reduce to writing the takedown on either a manual or electric typewriter. The minimum passing grade on each section of Part A of the test shall be 95 percent accuracy. An error shall be charged for each wrong word, for each omitted word, for each added word not dictated, for each contraction where read as two words, for two words where read as a contraction, for each misplaced word, for each misplaced period that would materially alter the sense of a group of words or a sentence, for each misspelled word, for each plural or singular where the opposite was dictated, and for each wrong number. The use of a dictionary will be permitted during Part A of the test. Applicants will be allowed three hours to complete the transcription of Part A of the test. If time permits, the applicant may review his transcript but shall use only his original takedown from which his transcript was prepared to review the transcript. Part B of the test shall consist of objective questions touching on elementary aspects of court reporting, spelling, and grammar. The use of a dictionary will not be permitted during Part B of the test. The minimum passing grade on Part B will be 75 percent. Anyone discovered cheating on the tests is disqualified and will not be eligible for retesting for a period of two years.

(c) The committee shall charge and collect from all applicants for certificates and renewal of certificates the fees provided in this Act.

(d) The board shall determine the qualifications and pass on the eligibility of all persons applying for certification or recertification under this Act. After notice and an opportunity for a hearing, the board may refuse to certify to the supreme court the application of a person convicted of:

(1) A criminal offense, involving moral turpitude, that indicates a clear and rational likelihood that the person will not properly discharge the responsibilities of a certified shorthand reporter; or

(2) a criminal offense involving fraud or corruption.

(e) The committee shall certify to the supreme court the applicants that are determined on examination by the committee to be qualified in professional shorthand reporting.

(f) Rules not inconsistent with this section may be promulgated by the supreme court.

Revocation or Suspension of Certification

Sec. 13. (a) The board may revoke or suspend any certification issued under this Act or issue a reprimand to a certified shorthand reporter on a verified complaint after notice and opportunity of a hearing for:

(1) fraud or corruption;

(2) dishonesty;

(3) wilful or negligent violation or failure of duty;

(4) incompetence;

(5) fraud or misrepresentation in obtaining certification;

(6) a final conviction of a criminal offense, involving moral turpitude, that indicates a clear and rational likelihood that the reporter will not properly discharge the responsibilities of a certified shorthand reporter;

(7) engaging in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this state by using a method for which the reporter is not authorized to practice or while certification is suspended;

(8) unprofessional conduct; or

(9) other sufficient cause.

(b) The notice shall state the cause for the contemplated disciplinary action and the time and place of the hearing and shall be mailed to the registered address of the holder of the certification at least 30 days before the hearing.

(c) Each board member is empowered to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, and take evidence and require the production of any records concerning any matter within the jurisdiction of the board, at the direction of a majority of the board. The board shall reduce to writing a summary of the evidence given before it and shall make a written finding of the facts thereon.

(d) A disciplinary action of the board may be appealed by the aggrieved person on trial de novo, with or without a jury, to the district court in the county of the aggrieved person's residence. If the aggrieved party is the official court reporter or deputy court reporter of the court in which the proceeding would be heard, the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district shall appoint the judge of another court or a retired judge to hear and determine the complaint.

(e) A person desiring to file a complaint against a court reporter holding certification under this Act shall obtain from the board a complaint form, which shall be completed and signed under oath, attaching thereto any pertinent documentary evidence. On receipt of the form properly executed, it is the duty of the board to duplicate and furnish copies of the complaint and attachments to the certified shorthand reporter against whom the complaint was filed.

(f) Within 30 days from the date the verified complaint is received by the board, it shall set a date for the hearing, if a hearing is deemed advisable by the board, and shall immediately notify the holder of the certification of the date of the hearing.

(g) The board shall govern the treatment of the request for continuances with regard to hearings before the board.

(h) Rules not inconsistent with this section may be promulgated by the supreme court. At the hearing, the board will adhere to the general rules of evidence applicable before the district courts of the state.

(i) Five members of the board shall constitute a quorum. The chairman or his designee shall preside at the hearings.

(j) A copy of the findings and rulings of the board shall be forwarded to the complainant and the aggrieved person.

(k) The board may suspend a certification:

(1) for a designated period of time, not exceeding 12 months;

(2) until the person has corrected the deficiencies that were the grounds for suspension; or

(3) until the person has complied with any conditions imposed by the board to ensure the future performance by the shorthand reporter.

(l) The suspended shorthand reporter may apply for reinstatement by presenting proof that:

(1) the designated time has expired;

(2) the person has corrected the deficiencies; or

(3) the person has complied with the conditions.

(m) The board on its own motion may conduct a hearing to inquire into a person's suspension and may revoke the certification of a shorthand reporter if it finds that the person has not corrected the deficiencies or has not complied with the conditions imposed.

Employment of Noncertified Reporters

Sec. 14. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prohibit the employment of a shorthand reporter not holding a certificate until a certified shorthand reporter is available. Oral depositions, however, may be reported by a person not certified under this Act only if the noncertified reporter delivers to the parties or their counsel present at the deposition an affidavit that no certified shorthand reporter is then available or, on stipulation on the record at the commencement of the deposition, by the parties or their counsel present at the deposition. The provisions of this section do not apply to depositions taken outside this state for use in this state.

Persons Excluded from Act

Sec. 15. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to a party to the litigation involved, his attorney, or to a full-time employee of either.

Title Upon Certification; Oaths

Sec. 16. On certification, a court reporter is entitled to use the title "Certified Shorthand Reporter" or the abbreviation "CSR." A certified shorthand reporter may administer oaths to witnesses anywhere in this state.

Rules

Sec. 16A. The supreme court may promulgate rules, not inconsistent with this Act, governing the certification and conduct of court reporters and persons who engage in the practice of shorthand reporting.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1155, ch. 438, §§ 1 to 16, eff. Aug. 29, 1977. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 3159, §§ 1 to 9, eff. Sept. 1, 1983]

Sections 10 and 11 of the 1983 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 10. An applicant is not required to take an examination and shall be certified as a shorthand reporter under Chapter 438, Acts of the 65th Legislature, Regular Session, 1977 (Article 2324b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), if:

"(1) the person was an official court reporter of a court of record in this state on August 29, 1977, or had been actively engaged in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this state before that date; and

"(2) the Court Reporters Certification Board receives the application for certification before September 1, 1984."

"Sec. 11. The supreme court shall appoint one citizen member to the Court Reporters Certification Board as required by Section 4, Chapter 438, Acts of the 65th Legislature, Regular Session, 1977 (Article 2324b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), for a term that expires December 31, 1984, one citizen member for a term that expires December 31, 1986, and one citizen member for a term that expires December 31, 1988."

Art. 2325. Repealed by Acts 1955, 54th Leg., p. 1033, ch. 390, § 2

Art. 2326. Compensation

The official shorthand reporter of each Judicial District Court, civil or criminal, and the official shorthand reporter of each County Court-at-Law, civil or criminal, in any county in this State which constitutes in itself a judicial district, and having a population in excess of six hundred thousand (600,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, shall receive a salary of not less than Forty-eight Hundred ($4800.00) Dollars per annum, nor more than Sixty-six Hundred ($6600.00) Dollars per annum, in addition to the compensation for transcript fees as provided by law. Said salaries shall be fixed and determined annually by the County Commissioners Court; provided, however, that the judges of the judicial districts and the County Courts-at-Law shall annually make recommendations to the Commissioners Court as to the fixing of such salaries. Such salary shall be in addition to the transcript fees and traveling and hotel expenses of official shorthand reporters now or hereafter provided by law. The salaries of such reporters shall be paid monthly by the Commissioners Court of the county in which the service is performed out of any funds available for the purpose, in the same manner as such salaries have heretofore been paid.

The official shorthand reporter of each Judicial District Court, civil or criminal, and the official shorthand of each County Court-at-Law, civil or criminal, in any county in this State having a population in excess of three hundred sixty thousand (360,000) inhabitants, but less than six hundred thousand (600,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, shall receive a salary of Sixty-six Hundred ($6600.00) Dollars per annum, in addition to compensation for transcript fees as provided by law. Said salary shall be paid in twelve (12) equal monthly installments out of the General Fund, Officers Salary Fund, the Jury Fund, or out of any fund available for the purpose as may be determined by the Commissioners Court of any such county, and shall be in addition to traveling and hotel expenses of official shorthand reporters now or hereafter provided by law.

The official shorthand reporter in each of all other Judicial District Courts, civil or criminal, and the official shorthand reporter in each of all other County Courts-at-Law, civil or criminal, in this State shall receive a salary of not less than Twenty-seven Hundred and Fifty ($2750.00) Dollars per annum, and not more than Sixty-six Hundred ($6600.00) Dollars per annum; said salary shall be fixed and determined by the District Judges of such Judicial District Courts, civil or criminal, and the Judges of such County Courts-at-Law, civil or criminal, who shall enter an order in the minutes of the court, in each county of the district, which shall be a public record and open for public inspection, stating specifically the amount of salary to be paid said reporter. The District Judge shall file a copy of said order with each Commissioners Court of the District. The salary shall be in addition to the transcript fees and traveling and hotel expenses of official shorthand reporters as provided by law; and the salary shall be paid monthly out of the General Fund, Officers Salary Fund, Jury Fund, or out of any fund available for the purpose as may be determined by the Commissioners Court of the county or counties in which the court sits, and in which the service is performed.

It is further provided that before any increase in salary shall become effective, notice thereof shall be printed one time in at least one (1) newspaper in each county of the judicial district, the cost of publication of said notice to be paid by the Commissioners Court of each county out of any funds available.

Art. 2326a. Expenses and Manner of Payment

All official shorthand reporters and deputy official shorthand reporters of the District Courts of the State of Texas composed of more than one county, when engaged in the discharge of their official duties in any county in this state other than the county of their residence shall, in addition to the compensation now provided by law for their services, be allowed their actual and necessary expenses while actually engaged in the discharge of such duties, not to exceed the sum of Fifteen Dollars ($15.00) per day for hotel bills, and not to exceed Six Cents (6¢) a mile when traveling by railroad or bus lines, and not to exceed Sixteen Cents (16¢) a mile when traveling by private conveyance in going to and returning from the place where such duties are discharged, traveling the nearest practical route. Such expenses shall be paid after the completion of each term of court by the respective counties of the Judicial District for which they are incurred, each county paying the expenses incidental to its own regular or special term of court, and said expenses shall be paid to the official or deputy official shorthand reporter by the Commissioners Court of the county, out of the general fund of the county, upon the sworn statement of the reporter, approved by the Judge.

Provided there shall not be paid to any such official shorthand reporter, or his deputy, more than Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) in any one year under the provisions of this Act; provided further, that in districts containing two counties only, the expenses herein allowed shall never exceed Four Hundred Dollars ($400.00) per annum; in districts containing three counties only, the expenses herein allowed shall never exceed Eight Hundred Dollars ($800.00) per annum; in districts containing four counties only, the expenses herein allowed shall never exceed One Thousand, Four Hundred Dollars ($1,400.00) per annum; in districts containing five or more counties the expenses herein allowed shall never exceed Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) per annum.

The account for such services herein provided for shall be sworn to in duplicate by the reporter, and approved by the District Judge, and one copy of said account shall be filed by the reporter with the clerk of the District Court of the county where the Judge of the district resides.

Whenever a special term of any District Court in this state is convened and the services of an additional official or deputy official shorthand reporter is required, then this Act shall also apply to said shorthand reporter so employed by the Judge of said special term, and all expenses as herein provided shall be allowed and paid said shorthand reporter so employed for said special term by the county wherein said special term is convened and held, and shall be in addition to the expenses herein provided for the official or deputy official shorthand reporter of the district.

Provided, however, that whenever any official or deputy official shorthand reporter is called upon to report the proceedings of any special term of court, or on account of the sickness of any official shorthand reporter of any Judicial District, necessitating the employment of a shorthand reporter from some other county within the state, then the shorthand reporter so employed shall receive and be paid all actual and necessary expenses in going to and returning from the place where he or she may be called on to report the proceedings of any regular or special terms of court.

Art. 2326a-1. Travel Expenses and Per Diem Payments to Visiting Court Reporters

Sec. 1. A visiting official shorthand reporter or deputy official shorthand reporter from another judicial district who is required to leave the county of his residence to report the proceedings as a substitute for the official reporter of the county visited is entitled to receive his actual and necessary expenses in going to and returning from the place where he is called on to report the proceedings and, in addition to his regular salary from the county or counties in which the reporter is regularly employed, is entitled to receive a per diem payment of $30 for each day, or part of a day, which the reporter spends outside the county of his residence in the performance of the duties as a substitute court reporter.

Sec. 2. The traveling expense and per diem payment provided in this Act shall be paid to the substitute court reporter or deputy court reporter by the commissioners court of the county visited, out of the general fund of the county, on the sworn statement of the reporter, approved by the district judge presiding in the court where the proceedings were reported.

Art. 2326c. Salaries of Reporters in Judicial Districts; Exception of Certain Districts

The official shorthand reporter of each Judicial District in this State and the official shorthand reporter of any County Court, either civil or criminal, in this State, where the compensation of such reporter of such County Court or Judicial District is not otherwise provided by special law, shall receive a salary of not more than Two Thousand Seven Hundred Dollars ($2,700.00) per annum, nor less than Two Thousand Four Hundred Dollars ($2,400.00) per annum, such salary to be fixed and determined by the District or County Judge respectively of the Court wherein such shorthand reporter is employed, in addition to the compensation for transcript fees as provided for by law. Said salary shall be paid monthly by the Commissioners Court of the county out of the General Fund of the county, or in the discretion of the Commissioners Court, out of the jury fund of said county, upon the certificate of the Judge of such District or County Court. In districts of this State composed of two or more counties, said salary shall be paid monthly by the counties of the District in proportion to the number of weeks provided by law for holding Court in the respective counties in the District; provided, that in a District where in any county the term may continue until the business is disposed of, each county shall pay in proportion to the time Court is actually held in such county.

The salary of the official shorthand reporter in each Judicial District in any county of this State with a population in excess of one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) according to the last preceding Federal census and which alone constitutes two or more Judicial Districts, in addition to the compensation of transcript fees as provided by law, shall be Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) per annum to be paid as the salaries of other court reporters are paid.

It is expressly provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not in any way apply to the official shorthand reporter in and for the 25th Judicial District, composed of the counties of Guadalupe, Gonzales, Colorado and Lavaca, nor shall this Act repeal Senate Bill 133, Regular Session, 43rd Legislature; nor shall the provisions of this Act apply in any way to the official shorthand reporters in and for any Judicial District Court of Bexar County, civil or criminal, nor shall this Act repeal Senate Bill No. 315, Regular Session, 43rd Legislature; nor shall the provisions of this Act apply to any official shorthand reporter in and for the 22nd Judicial District of Texas composed of the counties of Comal, Hays, Caldwell, Fayette and Austin.

Art. 2326d. Salaries of Official Shorthand Reporters in Districts Composed of Four Counties

The salary of the official shorthand reporter in each judicial district composed of four counties in this State, with the population of said four counties totalling in the aggregate, in excess of one hundred thousand (100,000) population according to the last preceding Federal Census, and which alone constitute one or more judicial districts, in addition to the compensation of transcript fees as provided by law, shall be Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) per annum to be paid as the salaries of other court reporters are paid.

It is further expressly provided that nothing herein shall be construed as repealing Article 2326-A of 1925 Revised Civil Statutes of Texas as amended by Acts 1929, 41st Legislature, Chapter 56, page 112.

Art. 2326d-1. Salaries in Districts of Four or More Counties with Valuations of $230,000,000

Minimum Salaries; Increase

Sec. 1. The official Court Reporter in all Judicial Districts composed of four or more counties, where the aggregate total assessed valuations of all taxable property in the counties composing any of said Districts is not less than Two Hundred Thirty Million Dollars ($230,000,000.00) as shown by the approved tax rolls of the several counties composing any of said Judicial Districts for any year commencing January 1, 1945, shall, from and after the effective date of this Act, receive a minimum salary of Thirty-six Hundred Dollars ($3600.00) per annum, in addition to all traveling expenses, transcript fees and all other compensation now provided by law to be paid to the said official Court Reporters; and providing that the said salary shall be increased up to, but not to exceed, Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) per annum in the following manner:

If the aggregate total assessed valuations of all taxable property in the several counties comprising any of said Judicial Districts shall exceed Two Hundred Thirty Million Dollars ($230,000,000.00), as shown by the approved tax rolls of the several counties comprising any of said Judicial Districts for any year commencing January 1, 1945, such salary of the official Court Reporter in each said District shall be increased for the year immediately succeeding the year in which such aggregate total valuations shall exceed Two Hundred Thirty Million Dollars ($230,000,000.00), as reflected by the approved tax rolls for said year; and such increase shall be at the rate of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per year for each increase in said aggregate total valuation of One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00) or fractional part thereof.

Traveling Expenses

Sec. 2. All traveling expenses now provided by law to be paid to the said official Court Reporters shall be paid quarterly by the county for which the same are incurred.

Payment of Salary; Taxable Valuations as Basis

Sec. 3. The salary of the official Court Reporter as herein fixed shall be paid monthly by the respective counties composing any of said Judicial Districts, and in the proportion that the taxable values in each county bear to the aggregate total taxable values of all the counties in each of said Districts. For the purpose of the allowed increase in the salary of the official Court Reporters as herein fixed, the tax rolls of each of the counties as approved by the Commissioners Court of each such county shall conclusively establish and shall be conclusively presumed to be the correct total taxable valuation. In determining the salary of the official Court Reporter for the year 1946, in any of said Judicial Districts, the taxable values of each county for the year 1945 shall serve as the basis for such determination. Thereafter the taxable valuations as shown by the approved tax rolls for each year shall serve as the basis for determining the salary of the said official Court Reporter for the ensuing year.

Salary for 1945

Sec. 4. The salary of the said official Court Reporters for the year 1945, commencing January 1, 1945, is hereby fixed at Thirty-six Hundred Dollars ($3600.00) per annum, payable monthly, commencing on the effective date of this Act; provided that all payments of salary to the said official Court Reporters under laws existing in the year 1945, and at the effective date of this Act, shall be deducted; that is to say, all payments made by the respective counties composing said Judicial Districts under existing laws for all months of 1945, until the effective date of the Act, shall be applied against the total annual salary of Thirty-six Hundred Dollars ($3600.00), as herein fixed, so that for the year 1945 the total salary of any such official Court Reporter shall amount to Thirty-six Hundred Dollars ($3600.00), and no more.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 5. If any section, sentence, clause, phrase, or part of this Act be held for any reason to be invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remainder of this Act.

Saved From Repeal

Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 320, ch. 440, § 2 provides that nothing in that act, which amends art. 2326, shall affect or repeal this article, and that it remain in full force and effect.

Art. 2326e. Salaries of Reporters in Counties Over 290,000

Sec. 1. The official shorthand reporter of each District Court, Criminal District Court and County Court-at-Law in each county in the State of Texas having a population in excess of two hundred and ninety thousand (290,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding, or any future, Federal Census, shall receive a salary of Thirty-six Hundred Dollars ($3600) per annum in addition to the compensation for transcript fees as now provided by law. Said salary shall be paid monthly on approval of the Judge of such Court out of the General Fund, Officers Salary Fund, or the Jury Fund, of each such County as may be determined by the Commissioners Court of any such County.

Sec. 2. Repealed by Acts 1941, 47th Leg., p. 549, ch. 346, § 2.

Sec. 3. If any section, sentence, clause, phrase or part of this Act be held invalid for any reason, such invalidity shall not affect the remainder of the Act.

Sec. 4. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict only.

Art. 2326f. Salary of Court Reporter in Certain Districts

The salary and expenses of the official Court Reporter in each Judicial District in this State having four (4) or more counties, and having a population in excess of one hundred seven thousand five hundred (107,500) and/or any District having a population of eighty-six thousand nine hundred thirty-two (86,932), according to the latest United States Census may, within the discretion of the Commissioners' Court, be paid out of the Jury fund.

Said salary shall be paid monthly on approval of the Judge of such Court in the manner provided by law.

Art. 2326g-1. Salaries of Official Shorthand Reporters in District and County Courts at Law in Counties of 225,000 to 398,000

In all counties in this State having a population of not less than two hundred and twenty-five thousand (225,000) and not more than three hundred and ninety-eight thousand (398,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, the salary of the Official Shorthand Reporter of each District Court and County Court at Law in any such county shall be Four Thousand, Two Hundred Dollars ($4,200) per annum, in addition to transcript and other fees allowed by law. The salary shall be paid out of the County General Fund in twelve (12) equal monthly installments on approval of the Judge of the Court in which the service is rendered. The Commissioners Court of the county out of whose funds the salary is paid may, if it so elects, order such payments to be made out of the Officers Salary Fund, or the Jury Fund, if the balance in those funds is sufficient for the purpose.

Saved From Repeal

Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 820, ch. 440, § 2 provided that nothing in that act, which amends art. 2326, shall affect or repeal this article, and that it remains in full force and effect.

Art. 2326h. Apportionment of Expenses and Salaries of Reporters Among Several Counties

In each Judicial District in this State in which the terms of Court do not operate on a continuous term basis and in which there is more than one county, the salaries and expenses of the official Court reporter shall be paid by the respective counties as provided herein. Each of the counties within such District shall pay that portion of the expenses and salaries of the official Court reporter which the population of the county, according to the last preceding Federal Census, bears to the total population of the counties comprising the Judicial District.

Sec. 2. From and after the passage of this Act, all provisions of the law relating to the appointment, qualifications and duties of Official Shorthand Reporters in this state, and as to allowances to them for transcript fees and hotel and traveling expenses, shall govern, save and except that when the salaries of the Official Shorthand Reporter of the 51st Judicial District, and save and except that when the salaries of the Official Shorthand Reporter of the 119th Judicial District, and save and except that when the salaries of the Official Shorthand Reporter of the 33rd Judicial District, and save and except that when the salaries of the Official Shorthand Reporter of the 35th Judicial District, and save and except when the salaries of the Official Shorthand Reporter of the 63rd Judicial District shall have been determined, fixed and set by the judge of said district, in the manner and within the amount limits provided in this Act, said salary shall be paid to said Official Shorthand Reporter as provided in this Act and not otherwise.

Art. 2326j-24a. Compensation of Reporters for 51st and 119th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. From and after the passage of this Act, the official shorthand reporters for the 51st Judicial District of Texas, composed of the counties of Tom Green, Irion, Schleicher, Coke, and Sterling, and the 119th Judicial District of Texas, composed of the counties of Tom Green and Runnels, may each receive a salary of not more than $12,500 per annum, which shall be determined, fixed, and set by the presiding judge of each judicial district, except that the salary paid to any person affected by this Act shall not be set at a figure lower than that actually paid to that person on the effective date of this Act; and from and after the time that said judge shall have entered an order in the minutes of the court, in each county of said district, which order shall be a public record and open for inspection, stating specifically the amount of salary to be paid to said reporter, and shall have filed a copy of said order with each commissioners court of the district, the salary so determined, fixed, and set shall be paid monthly, by and in the proportion for each county of the district as provided by law, out of the general fund, or out of the jury fund, or out of any fund available for the purpose.

Sec. 2. From and after the passage of this Act, all provisions of the law relating to the appointment, qualifications, and duties of official shorthand reporters in this state, and as to allowances to them of transcript fees and hotel and traveling expense, shall govern, save and except that when the salary of the official shorthand reporter for the 51st Judicial District and the official shorthand reporter for the 119th Judicial District shall have been determined, fixed, and set by the judge of said district, in the manner and within the amount limits as in this Act provided, said salary shall be paid to said official shorthand reporter as in this Act provided, and not otherwise.

Separate provisions for compensation of the reporter for the 111th judicial district were enacted by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 998, ch. 185, and incorporated into art. 2326j-25b.

Art. 2326j-25. Appointment and Compensation of Reporters for 92nd, 93rd, 139th and 111th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. The Judges of the District Courts of the Ninety-second, Ninety-third and One Hundred Thirty-ninth Judicial Districts of Texas, shall each appoint an official shorthand reporter for his respective judicial district in the manner now provided for District Courts in this state who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. Said official shorthand reporter shall receive a salary of not more than Eight Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($8,500.00) per annum, said salary to be fixed and determined by the judges of the Ninety-second, Ninety-third and One Hundred Thirty-ninth District Courts of Hidalgo County, and shall be in addition to transcript fees, fees for statement of fact and all other fees. Said salary when so fixed and determined by the district judges of said respective courts shall be paid monthly out of the general fund, or the jury fund, or out of any fund available for the purpose as may be determined by the County Commissioners Court of Hidalgo County, Texas. From and after passage of this Act all provisions relating to official shorthand reporters and their duties in District Courts shall in all respects govern, except that the salary of the official shorthand reporters as provided for in this Act shall be fixed and determined by the district judges of the Ninety-second, Ninety-third and One Hundred Thirty-ninth District Courts of Hidalgo County, Texas, and not otherwise.

Sec. 2. The official shorthand reporter of the One Hundred Eleventh Judicial District of Texas, composed of the County of Webb, shall receive a reasonable salary of not less than Six Thousand Six Hundred Dollars ($6,600.00) per annum nor more than Eight Thousand Dollars ($8,000.00) per annum, in addition to the compensation for transcription fees as provided by law. Such reasonable salary shall be determined, fixed and set by the Judge of said Judicial District; and from and after that time that said Judge shall have entered an order in the minutes of the court, which order shall be a public record and open for inspection, stating specifically the amount of salary to be paid to said reporter, and shall have filed a copy of said order with the Commissioners Court of Webb County, the salary so determined, fixed and set shall be paid monthly out of the general fund, or out of the jury fund, or out of any fund available for the purpose.

Separate provisions for compensation of the reporters for the 92nd, 93rd and 139th judicial districts were enacted by Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 1182, ch. 378, and incorporated into art. 2326j-25a.

Art. 2326j-25a. Compensation of Reporters for 92nd, 93rd and 139th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. From and after the passage of this Act, the official shorthand reporters for the 92nd, 93rd, and 139th Judicial Districts of Texas shall each receive a salary not to exceed $11,500 per annum, which salary shall be determined, fixed, and set by the presiding judge of each such judicial district; and such salary compensation shall be in addition to transcript fees or fees of any character now authorized by law to be paid to official shorthand reporters.

Sec. 2. From and after the passage of this Act, all provisions of law now existing, relating to the appointment of such official shorthand reporters, their qualifications and their duties in district courts shall in all respects govern, except that the salaries of such official shorthand reporters for the 92nd, 93rd, and 139th Judicial Districts of Texas shall be fixed and determined as provided in this Act.

Art. 2326j-25b. Compensation of Reporter for 111th Judicial District

The Official Court Reporter of the 111th Judicial District of Texas shall receive a salary not to exceed $12,000 per annum, the amount to be determined by the Judge of the 111th Judicial District Court, in addition to the compensation for transcription fees as provided by law. The salary shall be paid monthly upon approval of the Judge of the 111th Judicial District Court, and shall be paid by the Commissioners Court of Webb County, Texas. The salary shall be payable out of the general fund, officers salary fund, the jury fund, or any fund available for that purpose.

Art. 2326j-26. Compensation of Reporters for 135th and 24th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. The official shorthand reporter for the 135th Judicial District and the official shorthand reporter for the 24th Judicial District shall each receive a salary of not less than Six Thousand Six Hundred Dollars ($6,600) per annum, nor more than Eleven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($11,500) per annum. Subject to the limitations prescribed herein, the salary of the official shorthand reporter for the 135th Judicial District shall be determined, fixed, and set by the judge of the 135th Judicial District Court, and the salary of the official shorthand reporter for the 24th Judicial District shall be determined, fixed, and set by the judge of the 24th Judicial District Court. From and after the time that each of such judges shall have entered an order in the minutes of his court, in each county of the district, stating specifically the amount of salary to be paid to the official shorthand reporter of the district and shall have filed a copy of such order with each Commissioners Court of the district, the salary so determined, fixed, and set shall be paid monthly, by and in proportion for each county of the district as provided by law, out of the general fund, or out of the jury fund, or out of any fund available for the purpose; provided, however, that the Commissioners Court of each county shall have the discretion to determine whether or not said county shall contribute its proportion of any salary increase authorized by this Act. Such order of each district judge shall be a public record and open for inspection.

Sec. 2. All provisions of the law relating to the appointment, qualifications and duties of official shorthand reporters in this state, and as to allowances to them of transcript fees and hotel and traveling expenses, shall govern, but when the salary of the official shorthand reporter for the 135th Judicial District and the salary of the official shorthand reporter for the 24th Judicial District shall have been determined, fixed, and set as provided herein, such salary shall be paid to such official shorthand reporters as provided in this Act, and not otherwise.

Art. 2326j-27. Compensation of Reporter for 59th Judicial District

Sec. 1. The Judge of the 59th Judicial District of Texas, composed of Collin and Grayson Counties, shall appoint an official shorthand reporter for such district in the manner now provided for district courts in this state; who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. Said official shorthand reporter shall receive a salary of not less than Sixty-six Hundred Dollars ($6600) per annum, nor more than Nine Thousand Six Hundred Dollars ($9,600) per annum, said salary to be fixed and determined by the District Judge of the 59th Judicial District composed of Collin and Grayson Counties, and said salary shall be in addition to transcript fees. Said salary when so fixed and determined by the District Judge of said Judicial District shall be paid monthly, out of the General Fund, or the Jury Fund, or out of any fund available for the purpose as may be determined by the Commissioners Courts of Collin and Grayson Counties.

Sec. 2. From and after the passage of this Act all provisions relating to official shorthand reporters and their duties in district courts shall in all respects govern except that the salary of the official shorthand reporter as provided for in this Act shall be fixed and determined by the District Judge of said Judicial District and not otherwise.

Art. 2326j-29a. Compensation and Expenses of Reporter for 31st Judicial District

Sec. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any local or general law to the contrary, the judge of the 31st Judicial District shall determine and order, on the basis of annual case loads in each county, the proportionate amount of the salary set by the judge for the official shorthand reporter of the 31st Judicial District to be paid by each county in the judicial district. The amount of the salary allocated to each county in the 31st Judicial District shall be paid monthly out of the general fund, jury fund, or other fund available for the purpose, as determined by the commissioners court.

Sec. 2. The official shorthand reporter shall, in addition, receive allowances for actual and necessary meals and traveling and hotel expenses while actually engaged in the discharge of the reporter's duties. These allowances may be in the same amounts as are allowed for employees of the State of Texas. The expenses shall be paid by the respective counties of the judicial district for which they are incurred, each county paying the expense incidental to its own regular or special term of court, and the expenses shall be paid to the official shorthand reporter by the commissioners court of the county out of the general fund of the county on the sworn statement of the reporter approved by the judge.

Art. 2326j-41a. Compensation of Reporters for 2nd and 145th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. From and after the passage of this Act, the official shorthand reporters for the 2nd and 145th Judicial Districts of Texas shall each receive an annual salary of not more than $12,500, which salary shall be determined and fixed by the presiding judge of each such judicial district. The salary compensation shall be in addition to transcript fees or fees of any character now authorized by law to be paid to the official shorthand reporters. From and after the time that the judge enters an order in the minutes of the court, in each county of the district, stating specifically the amount of salary to be paid to the reporter and files a copy of the order with the commissioners court of each county within the district, the salary determined and fixed shall be paid monthly out of the general fund, jury fund, or any other fund available for that purpose, by the counties composing the judicial district, in accordance with the proportion that the population of each county bears to the total population of the judicial district, according to the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 2. From and after the passage of this Act, all provisions of law existing prior to the passage of this Act and relating to the appointment of the official shorthand reporters, their qualifications, and their duties in district courts shall in all respects govern, except that the salaries of the official shorthand reporters for the 2nd and 145th Judicial Districts of Texas shall be fixed and determined as provided in this Act.

Art. 2326j-51. Compensation of Reporter for 38th Judicial District

Sec. 1. This Act applies to the official shorthand reporter for the 38th Judicial District of Texas, composed of the counties of Real, Medina, Uvalde, and Zavala, or a judicial district which includes these counties.

Sec. 2. (a) The shorthand reporter shall receive a salary of not less than $7,200 and not more than $9,600 each year, as determined by the Judge of the District. This salary is in addition to any transcript fees which are provided by law.

(b) The salary, when determined, is payable in equal monthly installments from the General Fund, the Jury Fund, or any other fund available for the purpose as determined by the Commissioners Court of each county. Each county in the Judicial District shall pay a proportionate amount of the salary, as determined by the Judge of the District.

Sec. 3. (a) The reporter shall also receive as reimbursement for his actual and necessary hotel and travel expenses incurred while in the discharge of his official duties an amount not to exceed $6 per day for hotel expense, four cents per mile when traveling by railway or bus, and 10 cents per mile when traveling by private conveyance.

(b) Mileage shall be computed by the shortest practical route to and from the place where his duties are discharged. Expenses are payable at the end of each term of court.

(c) Each Commissioners Court shall pay the expense incurred by the reporter in the performance of his duties in its respective county during the regular and all special terms of court. The expenses are payable out of the General Fund of the county upon the sworn statement of the reporter, approved by the Judge of the District.

(d) The total amount which the reporter is entitled to receive as expense allowance is limited to $1,000 in any one year.

Sec. 4. This Act does not affect any law relating to shorthand reporters, except those which set a maximum for salaries or expense allowances.

Art. 2326j-52. Appointment and Compensation of Reporters for 17th, 48th, 67th, 96th, 141st and 153rd Judicial District Courts, for Criminal District Courts Nos. 1 to 4, for County Court at Law, for County Criminal Courts Nos. 1 to 3, and for Courts of Domestic Relations Nos. 1 to 4, in Tarrant County

Sec. 1. The respective judges of the 17th, 48th, 67th, 96th, 141st and the 153rd Judicial District

Courts; the respective judges of Criminal District Courts No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4; the judge of the County Court at Law; and, the respective judges of the County Criminal Courts No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3, in Tarrant County, Texas, shall each appoint an official shorthand reporter for each of such courts. The judges of the Courts of Domestic Relations No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4, in Tarrant County, Texas, shall appoint a total of three official shorthand reporters for such courts; if the said judges of the Courts of Domestic Relations fail to agree upon any appointment within 30 days after a vacancy occurs, the juvenile board shall have authority to appoint a court reporter for said Courts of Domestic Relations. A bailiff shall be designated by the sheriff of Tarrant County to serve the court as in other courts of the county. Such appointments shall be evidenced by an order entered on the minutes of each such court. Such appointment, when once made, shall continue in effect from year to year, unless otherwise ordered by the judge(s) of such court(s). The salary compensation of such reporter serving in each of said court(s) shall be not more than Sixteen Thousand, Five Hundred Dollars ($16,500.00) per annum, and the amount of such salary compensation shall be determined, fixed and the payment thereof authorized by the judge(s) of each respective court(s) within the maximum amount herein provided, and such salary compensation shall be paid semimonthly out of the General Fund, Officers Salary Fund, or out of any appropriate fund available for such purpose, as shall be determined by the Commissioners Court of Tarrant County, Texas.

Sec. 2. From and after the passage of this Act, all provisions relating to official shorthand reporters as provided in Article 2324, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended by Chapter 290, Acts of the 57th Legislature, Regular Session, 1961, shall in all respects govern; except the salary compensation to the official shorthand reporters as provided in this Act shall be determined, fixed and the payment thereof authorized by the Judge of each such court, and not otherwise.

Sec. 3. In any Act or statute passed by any previous session of the Legislature of this State wherein the salary compensation of any reporter in any other court than those named in this Act has been fixed by reference to salary compensation of any official shorthand reporter or reporters of courts named in this Act, such reference shall be deemed to apply to and be governed by the statutes in existence at the time of the passage of the Act named in such reference, and the provisions of this Act shall in no way serve to affect, increase, or decrease the salary of any reporter or reporters so fixed by reference in any previous legislative sessions. The purpose and intent of this Act is to fix and delineate the salary compensation of the official shorthand reporters of the courts herein specifically named and none other.

See, now, article 2326j-53a.

Art. 2326j-53a. Appointment and Compensation of Reporter for 84th Judicial District

Sec. 1. The Judge of the 84th Judicial District of Texas, composed of the Counties of Hansford, Hutchinson and Ochiltree, shall appoint an official shorthand reporter for such District in the manner now provided for District Courts in this state who shall have the same qualifications and whose duties shall in every respect be the same as now provided by law. Said official shorthand reporter shall receive a salary of not more than Twelve Thousand Dollars ($12,000.00) per annum, said salary to be fixed and determined by the District Judge of the 84th Judicial District, composed of the Counties of Hansford, Hutchinson and Ochiltree, and said salary shall be in addition to the transcript fees, fees for statements of fact, and all other fees as now provided by law. Said salary when so fixed and determined by the District Judge of said Judicial District shall be paid monthly out of the General Fund, or the Jury Fund, or out of any fund available for the purpose as may be determined by the Commissioners Courts, by the respective counties of the Judicial District in accordance with the proportion fixed, made and determined by the District Judge of said Judicial District as to the amount to be paid monthly by each county in the Judicial District.

Sec. 2. If any section, sentence, clause, phrase or part of this Act be held for any reason to be invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remainder of this Act.

Sec. 3. Said reporter shall, in addition, receive allowances for his actual and necessary traveling and hotel expenses while actually engaged in the discharge of his duties, not to exceed Eight Dollars ($8.00) per day for hotel bills, and not to exceed ten cents (10¢) a mile when traveling by private conveyance in going to and returning from the place where such duties are discharged, traveling the nearest practical route. Such expenses shall be paid by the respective counties of the Judicial District for which they are incurred, each county paying the expenses incidental to its own regular or special term of court, and said expenses shall be paid to the official shorthand reporter by the Commissioners Court of the county, out of the General Fund of the county upon the sworn statement of the reporter approved by the judge, provided there shall not be paid to any such official shorthand reporter more than Fifteen Hundred Dollars ($1,500.00) in any one year under the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 4. From and after the passage of this Act, all provisions relating to official shorthand reporters and their duties in district courts shall in all respects govern except that the salary of the official shorthand reporter as provided for in this Act shall be fixed and determined by the District Judge of said Judicial District and not otherwise; and the transcript fees and allowances for traveling and hotel expenses shall be as provided for in this Act, and not otherwise.

Art. 2326k. Combined with Article 2326

Art. 2326l. Shorthand Reporters in District Courts and County Courts at Law in Counties of 613,000 or More Population

Sec. 1. In all counties in the State of Texas having a population of six hundred and thirteen thousand (613,000) or more, according to the 1950 census, the Judge of each District Court, civil or criminal, and the Judge of each County Court at Law, civil or criminal, shall appoint an official shorthand reporter for such court. Said appointment shall be evidenced by an order entered in the minutes of each such court. Such appointment, when once made, shall continue in effect from year to year, unless otherwise ordered by the Judge of the Court in which such reporter serves. The compensation of such reporters shall be fixed by the Commissioners Court after the recommendation of the Judge of the court in which such reporter serves at not less than Forty-eight Hundred Dollars ($4,800) per annum and not more than Eight Thousand Dollars ($8,000) per annum, in addition to compensation for transcripts, statements of fact and other fees.

Sec. 2. A certified copy of the order appointing such reporter and the recommendation of the Judge as to the salary to be paid such reporter shall be transmitted to the Commissioners Court of such counties, who shall annually make provision for the payment of any such salary set by the Commissioners Court out of the general fund, the officers' salary fund, or out of such other fund as may be available for the purpose. The salaries of such reporters shall be paid in twelve (12) equal monthly installments, and shall be in addition to transcript fees, fees for statements of fact and other fees.

Sec. 3. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict; but nothing contained herein shall be construed to repeal Articles 2326a, 2326h, 2327a-1 and 2326c, Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes. The last four mentioned Articles shall remain in full force and effect.

Art. 2326l-1. Shorthand Reporters in District Courts and County Courts at Law in Counties of 900,000 or More Population

Sec. 1. In all counties in the State of Texas having a population of 900,000 or more, according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, the judge of each district court, civil or criminal, and the judge of each county court at law, civil or criminal, shall appoint an official shorthand reporter for such court. The compensation of such reporters shall be fixed by the judge of the court in which such reporter serves at not less than Six Thousand Dollars ($6,000) per annum and not more than Eleven Thousand, Five Hundred Dollars ($11,500) per annum, in addition to compensation for transcripts, statements of facts and other fees. The appointment of each such court reporter and the annual salary of such court reporter as fixed by the judge of the court in which such court reporter serves shall be evidenced by an order entered in the Minutes of each such court, which appointment and the salary so fixed shall continue in effect from year to year unless and until changed by order of the judge of the court in which such court reporter serves.

Sec. 2. A certified copy of the order appointing such reporter and fixing the salary to be paid such reporter shall be transmitted to the commissioners court of such counties, who shall annually make provision for the payment of any such salary out of the general fund, the officers' salary fund, or out of such other fund as may be available for the purpose. The salaries of such reporters shall be paid in twelve (12) equal monthly installments, and shall be in addition to transcript fees, fees for statements of fact and other fees.

Sec. 3. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict; but nothing contained herein shall be construed to repeal Articles 2326a, 2326h, 2327a-1 and 2326c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes. The last four mentioned Articles shall remain in full force and effect.

Art. 2327b-1. County Court Reporter in Counties of 22,100 to 22,500 Population

Sec. 1. In counties having a population of not less than twenty-two thousand, one hundred (22,100) and not more than twenty-two thousand, five hundred (22,500), according to the last preceding Federal Census, there shall be and there is hereby created and established the office of Court Reporter of the County Court; such office to be called and known as the Official Court Reporter of the County Court.

Sec. 2. In said counties the Judge of the County Court shall have the power to appoint an Official Court Reporter for the County Court, who shall possess the same qualifications, perform the same duties as are now required of Court Reporters of the District Court, and who shall hold the office of Court Reporter of the County Court for a term of two (2) years from the date of such appointment, or until his successor shall be appointed and qualified.

Sec. 3. Provided, however, that the Commissioners Court of the county wherein such appointment is made shall approve the person appointed by the Judge of the County Court of said county.

Sec. 4. Said Official Court Reporter of such county shall be paid a salary of not to exceed Twelve Hundred Dollars ($1200) per year, payable in twelve (12) equal monthly installments, on the first of each month during the year, out of the Jury Fund of the county. The amount of salary to be paid said Official Court Reporter shall be fixed by the Commissioners Court of such county.

Art. 2327c. Shorthand Reporters for County Courts at Law and County Criminal Courts in Certain Counties

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to counties of this State which now have, or which may hereafter have, two (2) or more County Courts at Law and one (1) or more County Criminal Courts.

Sec. 2. The Judge of each County Court at Law and of each County Criminal Court shall appoint an official shorthand reporter for the respective Court over which he presides, who shall be skilled in such profession and shall be a sworn officer of the Court and shall hold such office at the pleasure of the Court, and all of the provisions of Chapter 13, Title 42, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and as the same may hereafter be amended, and all other provisions in law relating to "Official Court Reporters" shall and are hereby made to apply in all the provisions in so far as they are applicable to the official shorthand reporters herein authorized to be appointed and in so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, and such official shorthand reporter shall be entitled to the same compensation as applicable to official shorthand reporters in the District Courts of said county or counties, paid in the same manner that compensation of official shorthand reporters of the District Courts of said county or counties are paid.

The official shorthand reporter of said Courts shall not be required to take testimony in cases where neither party litigant nor the Judge demands it; but, where the testimony is taken by the said reporter a fee of Three Dollars ($3) shall be taxed by the Clerk as costs in the case; the said Three Dollars ($3) when collected, to be paid into the Treasury of the county in which said Court is located.

Sec. 3. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are repealed to the extent of such conflict only.

Sec. 4. Should any portion of this Act be declared invalid, the same shall not invalidate the remaining portions of said Act.

Sec. 5. The County Judge, the County Auditor, the Commissioners Court, and any other officials charged with the preparation and approval of the county budget, are authorized to amend and shall amend the budget of such counties, as come within this Act, to provide for the payment of the compensation and salaries provided for official court reporters authorized by this Act.

5. JUDICIAL COUNCIL

Art. 2328a. Judicial Council

Creation; Purposes

Sec. 1. There is hereby created the Texas Judicial Council for the continuous study of and report upon the organization, rules, procedure and practice of the judicial system of the State of Texas, the work accomplished and the results produced by that system and its various parts, and methods for its improvement.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 1a. The Texas Civil Judicial Council is subject to the Texas Sunset Act;¹ and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the council is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1987.

Classes of Members

Sec. 2. The Council shall be composed of two classes of members, one designated as ex-officio, and the other as appointive.

Ex Officio Members

Sec. 3. (a) The ex officio members of the Council shall consist of the following: (1) the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, who shall remain a member as long as he holds the position of Chief Justice; (2) the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, who shall remain a member as long as he holds the position of Presiding Judge; (3) two Justices of the Courts of Appeals, to be designated by the Governor for staggered terms of four years with one justice's term expiring on February 1 of each odd-numbered year; (4) two presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts, to be designated by the Governor for staggered terms of four years with one judge's term expiring on February 1 of each odd-numbered year; (5) the Chairman and the immediate past Chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee; and (6) the Chairman and the immediate past Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

(b) The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court may from time to time designate some other Justice of that Court to act in his stead, and at his pleasure, as member of the Council. The Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals may from time to time designate some other Judge of that Court to act in his stead, and at his pleasure, as member of the Council.

(c) The foregoing references to justices and judges, other than the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, include respectively such retired justices and judges of the same grade as are legally eligible for assignment to part-time judicial duties.

(d) In the event the Chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee or the Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee is reappointed to such position, his immediate predecessor shall continue to serve on the Council as immediate past Chairman, it being the intent of the Legislature that two members of the Senate and two members of the House be at all times members of the Council; provided, however, that in the case of legislative members, cessation of membership in the Legislature shall not terminate their membership on the Council, but they shall continue to serve for their full term notwithstanding their cessation of membership in the Legislature. In the event of a vacancy in a legislative membership, such vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term only by the presiding officer of the appropriate house of the Legislature, and vacancies in other official memberships shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment and for the unexpired term only.

(e) Ex officio members of the Council shall be entitled to all the privileges of full membership thereon and shall be regarded and treated in every respect as full members thereon.

Appointive Members; Tenure; Quorum

Sec. 4. The appointive members of the Council shall consist of nine resident citizens of the State of Texas, seven of whom shall be members of the State Bar of Texas and two of whom shall be persons not licensed to practice law, including at least one who is by profession a journalist. The Governor of Texas shall select the appointive members of the Council for six-year overlapping terms, three to be appointed to serve until July 1, 1975, three to serve until July 1, 1977, and three to serve until July 1, 1979, and thereafter their successors shall be appointed for terms of six years; provided that appointive members of the Council holding office on the effective date of this Act shall continue in office for the balance of the term to which they were appointed, and their successors shall be selected in the manner and for the term herein provided. Vacancies in the appointive membership of the Council shall be filled by appointment of the Governor for the unexpired term only.

All members of the Council shall continue to serve until their successors have been appointed and qualified.

Five members of the Council shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business of the Council.

Duties of Council

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the Council:

1. To make a continuous study of the organization of the courts; the rules and methods of procedure and the practice of the judicial system of the State; of the work accomplished, the results attained and the uniformity of the discretionary powers of the courts, to the end that procedure may be simplified, business expedited, and justice better administered.

2. To receive and consider suggestions from judges, public officers, members of the bar, and citizens, touching remedies for faults in the administration of justice.

3. To formulate methods for simplifying judicial procedure, expediting the transaction of judicial business, and correcting faults in the administration of justice.

4. To gather judicial statistics and other pertinent data from the several judges and other court officials of the State.

5. To make a complete detailed report, on or before December 1st of each year, to the Governor and to the Supreme Court, of all its proceedings, suggestions and recommendations, and such supplemental reports from time to time as the Council may deem advisable. All such reports shall be considered public reports and may be given to the press as soon as filed.

6. To make investigations and reports upon such matters, touching the administration of justice as may be referred to the Council by the Supreme Court or the Legislature.

7. To hold one meeting in each calendar year, and such other meetings as may be ordered by the Council or under its authority, and at such time and place as may be designated by it or under its authority.

Powers of Council

Sec. 6. The Council shall have power:

1. To hold public meetings or hearings, by and through committees of three or more of its members, require the production of books and documents, require reports from the several courts of this State, including courts not of record, as may be deemed necessary, to administer oaths and take testimony.

For the purposes of any hearing, any Council officer, in advance of such hearing, or any Council member or officer sitting at such hearing, may issue under his official signature and cause to be served by registered or certified mail or by any adult person upon any prospective witness, a subpoena or like appropriate order. Upon the failure of a witness to testify, or upon his failure to appear or to produce books and documents as so ordered, any district judge of the county of residence of such witness shall, on written motion by, or on behalf of, the Council or Committee conducting said hearing, compel said witness to testify or, as the case may be, to appear and testify, by the same means, including attachment and penalties, whereby said judge may compel the testimony and appearance of witnesses in the trial of a cause pending in his own court.

2. To elect from its membership a president and such other officers as it may deem advisable; provided the secretary need not be a member of the Council; and provided further that the president of the Council may appoint, for and during his term as president, such committees as he may deem necessary for the proper organization of the Council.

3. To make such rules and regulations as it may deem expedient for its government and that of its officers and committees; and to prescribe the duties of its officers and committees.

4. To appoint committees from its membership, and charge such committees with such of its duties and delegate to such committees such of its powers as it may deem proper.

5. To require the supplying of statistical data and other information pertaining to the amount and character of the civil and criminal business transacted by the courts of this State and other information pertaining to their conduct and operation; and to prescribe procedures and forms for the supplying of such statistical data and other information.

It shall be an official duty of every justice, judge, clerk or other officer of every court of this State to comply with the reasonable requirements of the Council for the supplying of statistical data appertaining to the amount and character of the business transacted by his court and of such other information concerning said court or the office of the clerk thereof as may be within the scope of the functions of the Council. Failure to supply such data or information within a reasonable time after request therefor shall be presumptively deemed a willful refusal to supply the same.

Due performance of the duty to supply data and information as aforesaid shall be enforceable by writ of mandamus, the corresponding actions for which shall be brought, and the corresponding courts shall have jurisdiction of the same, as follows: if against a district clerk or a clerk, judge or other officer of a trial court other than a district court, in a district court of the county of residence of the respondent; if against a district judge or clerk of a court of civil appeals, in the Court of Civil Appeals for the Supreme Judicial District in which the respondent resides; in all other cases, in the Supreme Court of Texas. The Attorney General of Texas shall file and prosecute the foregoing actions on behalf of the Council upon its written request, which shall be presumptively taken as the action of the Council if signed by its president or by as many as five of its members; but no such action shall be filed if the attorney general shall in writing certify his opinion that the same is without merit.

Compensation Limited to Traveling and Necessary Expenses

Sec. 7. No member of the Council shall receive any compensation for his services as such member, but shall be paid for actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties as such member, to be paid upon verified, itemized account approved by the President of the Council or by a Vice President thereof when so authorized in writing by the President. The necessary clerical expenses of the Council and its officers and committees shall be paid in like manner.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 8. If any section or portion of any section of this Act shall for any reason be declared invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other section or portion of section of this Act.

Section 10 of art. II of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"(a) A person appointed to the Texas Judicial Council who held office immediately preceding the effective date of this Act and who qualified for membership on the council as a justice of a court of appeals or as a presiding judge of an administrative judicial district is entitled to serve the remainder of the term for which he was appointed.

"(b) The term of office on the council succeeding a court of appeals justice's or an administrative judicial district judge's term that expires on January 1, 1985, expires on February 1, 1989. The term of office on the council succeeding a court of appeals justice's or an administrative judicial district judge's term that expires on January 1, 1987, expires on February 1, 1991."

Art. 2328b. Office of Court Administration of the Texas Judicial System

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act, unless the context requires a different definition:

(1) "Court" means any tribunal forming a part of the judicial branch of government.

(2) "Trial court" means any tribunal forming a part of the judicial branch of government with the exception of the supreme court, the court of criminal appeals, and the courts of civil appeals.

(3) "Office of Court Administration" means the Office of Court Administration of the Texas Judicial System.

Promulgation of Rules

Sec. 2. The supreme court shall promulgate rules of administration for the efficient administration of justice in this state and other rules necessary for the enforcement of this Act. When promulgating rules of administration for the efficient administration of criminal justice in this state, the supreme court will seek the advice of the court of criminal appeals.

Creation of Office; Direction and Supervision; Duties

Sec. 3. (a) The Office of Court Administration of the Texas Judicial System is hereby created.

(b) The office of court administration shall operate under the direction and supervision of the supreme court. It shall perform the duties provided in this Act and such other duties as may be directed by the supreme court and shall provide the necessary staff functions for the efficient operation of the Texas Judicial Council.

Administrative Director

Sec. 4. (a) The supreme court shall appoint the administrative director of the courts, who shall serve at the will of the court and shall be subordinate to, and act by authority of and under the direction of, the chief justice of the supreme court. The administrative director shall direct the operations of the office of court administration and, as an additional duty of his office, shall serve as executive director of the Texas Judicial Council. He shall serve in such other capacities as may be directed by the supreme court or the chief justice.

(b) The administrative director shall devote full time to his official duties.

Employment of Personnel

Sec. 5. The administrative director, with the approval of the chief justice, shall employ such personnel as are necessary for the efficient operation of the office of court administration and of the Texas Judicial Council.

Duties of Administrative Director

Sec. 6. Under the direction and supervision of the chief justice, the administrative director shall implement the provisions of this Act and the rules of administration and other rules promulgated by the supreme court for the efficient administration of justice in this state. He shall:

(1) assist the justices and judges of the various courts in discharging their administrative duties;

(2) consult with and assist the administrative judges in discharging their duties under provisions of law and rules promulgated by the supreme court;

(3) make such recommendations to the supreme court as may be appropriate for the implementation of this Act;

(4) examine the administrative and business methods and systems employed in the offices of the clerks of court and other offices related to and serving the courts and make recommendations for necessary improvement and recommend forms and other documents used to record the business of the courts;

(5) examine the state of the dockets and practices and procedures of the courts and make recommendations for the promotion of the orderly and efficient administration of justice;

(6) prepare and submit budget estimates of state appropriations necessary for the maintenance and operation of the judicial system, and study and make recommendations on the expenditure of state funds appropriated for the maintenance and operation of the judicial system;

(7) consult with and assist the clerks of court and other officers and employees of the courts and of offices related to and serving the courts to provide for the efficient administration of justice;

(8) consult with and make recommendations to the court administrators and court coordinators of the courts of the state to provide for uniform administration and promote the efficient administration of justice in all courts of the state;

(9) perform such additional duties as may be assigned by the supreme court and by the chief justice; and

(10) prepare an annual report of the activities of his office to be published in the annual report of the Texas Judicial Council.

Clerical Personnel

Sec. 7. The authority of the courts to appoint clerical personnel is not limited by any provision of this Act.

Judge Acting Without Potential Jurisdiction

Sec. 8. Neither this Act nor any rule adopted under this Act may be construed to authorize a judge to act in a case of which his own court would not have potential jurisdiction under the constitution and laws of this state.

Judicial Discretion

Sec. 9. Neither this Act nor any rules adopted under its authority shall be construed to authorize any infringement upon the judicial discretion of any judge of the state in the trying of a case properly before his court.

6. ENFORCEMENT OF SUPPORT

Arts. 2328b-1 to 2328b-3. Repealed by Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 1579, ch. 679, § 39, eff. Aug. 30, 1965

Art. 2328b-4. Repealed by Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 1458, ch. 543, § 3, eff. Jan. 1, 1974

Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 1458, ch. 543, repealing this article, enacts Title 2 of the Texas Family Code.

See, now, Family Code, § 21.01 et seq.

Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 659, ch. 276, also amended § 25 of this article to read:

"In addition to the foregoing powers, the court of this State when acting as the responding state has the power to subject the defendant to such terms and conditions as the court may deem proper to assure compliance with its orders and in particular: (a) To require the defendant to furnish a cash deposit or bond of such character and in such amount as the court may deem proper to assure payment of any amount required to be paid by the defendant.

"(b) To require the defendant to make payments at specified intervals to the district clerk or probation department of the court.

"(c) To punish the defendant who shall violate any order of the court to the same extent as is provided by law for contempt of the court in any other suit or proceeding cognizable by the court.

"(d) To order the defendant (obligor) to pay as court costs a reasonable fee to any attorney or to the prosecuting attorney's office who represents the petitioner in any enforcement proceeding."

7. FOREIGN JUDGMENTS

Art. 2328b-5. Uniform Enforcement of Foreign Judgments Act

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, "foreign judgment" means a judgment, decree, or order of a court of the United States or of any other court that is entitled to full faith and credit in this state.

Filing and Status of Foreign Judgments

Sec. 2. A copy of any foreign judgment authenticated in accordance with an act of congress or statutes of this state may be filed in the office of the clerk of any court of competent jurisdiction of this state. The clerk shall treat the foreign judgment in the same manner as a judgment of the court in which the foreign judgment is filed. A filed foreign judgment has the same effect and is subject to the same procedures, defenses, and proceedings for reopening, vacating, staying, enforcing, or satisfying as a judgment of the court in which it is filed.

Notice of Filing

Sec. 3. (a) At the time a foreign judgment is filed, the judgment creditor or the judgment creditor's attorney shall file with the clerk of the court an affidavit showing the name and last known post office address of the judgment debtor and the judgment creditor.

(b) The clerk shall promptly mail notice of the filing of the foreign judgment to the judgment debtor at the address given and shall note the mailing in the docket. The notice must include the name and post office address of the judgment creditor and if the judgment creditor has an attorney in this state, the attorney's name and address. The judgment creditor may mail a notice of the filing of the judgment to the judgment debtor and may file proof of mailing with the clerk. Lack of mailing notice of filing by the clerk does not affect the enforcement proceedings if proof of mailing by the judgment creditor has been filed.

Stay

Sec. 4. (a) If the judgment debtor shows the court that an appeal from the foreign judgment is pending or will be taken, or that a stay of execution has been granted and proves that the judgment debtor has furnished the security for the satisfaction of the judgment required by the state in which it was rendered, the court shall stay enforcement of the foreign judgment until the appeal is concluded, the time for appeal expires, or the stay of execution expires or is vacated.

(b) If the judgment debtor shows the court any ground on which enforcement of a judgment of the court of this state would be stayed, the court shall stay enforcement of the foreign judgment for an appropriate period, and require the same security for satisfaction of the judgment that is required in this state.

Sec. 5. (a) A person filing a foreign judgment shall pay to the clerk of the court the amount as otherwise provided by law for filing suit in the courts of this state. Fees for other enforcement proceedings shall be as otherwise provided by law for judgments of the courts of this state.

(b) Filing fees are due and payable at the time of filing.

Optional Procedure

Sec. 6. The judgment creditor retains the right to bring an action to enforce a judgment instead of proceeding under this Act.

Uniformity of Interpretation

Sec. 7. This Act shall be interpreted and construed to achieve its general purpose to make the law of those states which enact it uniform.

Short Title

Sec. 8. This Act may be cited as the Uniform Enforcement of Foreign Judgments Act.

[Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 464, ch. 195, eff. May 25, 1981. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4504, ch. 731, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Section 2 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"Sec. 2. This Act takes effect September 1, 1983, and applies to foreign judgments filed on or after that date."

Art. 2328b-6. Uniform Foreign Country Money-Judgment Recognition Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Uniform Foreign Country Money-Judgment Recognition Act.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Foreign country" means a governmental unit other than the United States, or a state, district, commonwealth, territory, or insular possession thereof, or the Panama Canal Zone, or the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

(2) "Foreign country judgment" means a judgment of a foreign country granting or denying a sum of money, other than a judgment for taxes, a fine or other penalty, or a judgment for support in matrimonial or family matters.

Applicability

Sec. 3. This Act applies to any foreign country judgment:

(1) that is final and conclusive and enforceable where rendered even though an appeal is pending or the judgment is subject to appeal; or

(2) that is in favor of the defendant on the merits of the cause of action and is final and conclusive where rendered, even though an appeal is pending or the judgment is subject to appeal.

Recognition and Enforcement

Sec. 4. Except as provided in Section 5 of this Act, a foreign country judgment meeting the requirements of Section 3 is conclusive between the parties to the extent that it grants or denies recovery of a sum of money. The foreign country judgment is enforceable in the same manner as the judgment of a sister state that is entitled to full faith and credit.

Grounds for Nonrecognition

Sec. 5. (a) A foreign country judgment is not conclusive if:

(1) the judgment was rendered under a system which does not provide impartial tribunals or procedures compatible with the requirements of due process of law;

(2) the foreign country court did not have personal jurisdiction over the defendant; or

(3) the foreign country court did not have jurisdiction over the subject matter.

(b) A foreign country judgment need not be recognized if:

(1) the defendant in the proceedings in the foreign country court did not receive notice of the proceedings in sufficient time to enable him to defend;

(2) the judgment was obtained by fraud;

(3) the cause of action on which the judgment is based is repugnant to the public policy of this state;

(4) the judgment conflicts with another final and conclusive judgment;

(5) the proceeding in the foreign country court was contrary to an agreement between the parties under which the dispute in question was to be settled otherwise than by proceedings in that court;

(6) in the case of jurisdiction based only on personal service, the foreign country court was a seriously inconvenient forum for the trial of the action; or

(7) it is established that the foreign country in which the judgment was rendered does not recognize judgments rendered in this state that, but for the fact that they are rendered in Texas, conform to the definition of "foreign country judgment" in Section 2(2) of this Act.

Personal Jurisdiction

Sec. 6. (a) The foreign country judgment shall not be refused recognition for lack of personal jurisdiction if:

(1) the defendant was served personally in the foreign country;

(2) the defendant voluntarily appeared in the proceedings, other than for the purpose of protecting property seized or threatened with seizure in the proceedings or of contesting the jurisdiction of the court over him;

(3) the defendant prior to the commencement of the proceedings had agreed to submit to the jurisdiction of the foreign country court with respect to the subject matter involved;

(4) the defendant was domiciled in the foreign country when the proceedings were instituted, or, being a body corporate had its principal place of business, was incorporated, or had otherwise acquired corporate status, in the foreign country;

(5) the defendant had a business office in the foreign country and the proceedings in the foreign country court involved a cause of action arising out of business done by the defendant through that office in the foreign country; or

(6) the defendant operated a motor vehicle or airplane in the foreign country and the proceedings involved a cause of action arising out of such operation.

(b) The courts of this state may recognize other bases of jurisdiction.

Stay in Case of Appeal

Sec. 7. If the defendant satisfies the court either that an appeal is pending or that he is entitled and intends to appeal from the foreign country judgment, the court may stay the proceedings until the appeal has been determined or until the expiration of a period of time sufficient to enable the defendant to prosecute the appeal.

Saving Clause

Sec. 8. This Act does not prevent the recognition of a foreign country judgment in situations not covered by this Act.

Uniformity of Interpretation

Sec. 9. This Act shall be construed to carry out its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states that enact it.

Nonapplicability

Sec. 10. This Act does not apply to a judgment rendered before the effective date of this Act.

Art. 2338-1c. Appointment of Retired Special Juvenile Court or Domestic Relations Court Judge to Sit for Regular Family District Court Judge

Absent, Disabled or Disqualified Regular Judge; Crowded Docket

Sec. 1. (a) When the regular judge of a Family District Court as created by the Family District Court Act in this state is absent or is from any cause disabled or disqualified from presiding, a retired judge of a special juvenile court or a domestic relations court may be appointed by the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district in which the appointed judge resides to sit for the regular judge of a Family District Court within the geographic limits of the respective administrative judicial district, provided the retired judge voluntarily retired from office and certifies his willingness to serve.

(b) When the docket of a Family District Court in this state becomes so excessive that the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district in which that court is located deems it an emergency, a retired judge of a special juvenile court or a domestic relations court residing within the geographic limits of the respective administrative judicial district, who meets the qualifications set out in Subsection (a) of this section, may be appointed by the presiding judge to sit for the regular judge for as long as the emergency exists.

(c) A presiding judge may, with the consent of a retired judge of a special juvenile court or a domestic relations court, within his district make an assignment outside of his judicial district with the specific authorization of the presiding judge of the district in which that assignment is made.

Bond and Oath of Retired Judge

Sec. 2. A retired judge appointed to sit for a regular judge under the provisions of this Act shall execute the bond and take the oath of office which is required by law for the regular judge for whom he is sitting.

Power and Jurisdiction

Sec. 3. A retired judge appointed under the provisions of this Act has all the power and jurisdiction of the court and the regular judge for whom he is sitting and may sign orders, judgments, decrees, or other process of any kind as "Judge Presiding" when acting for the regular judge.

Compensation

Sec. 4. A retired judge appointed to sit for the regular judge under the provisions of this Act shall receive for the services actually performed the same amount of salary which the regular judge is entitled to receive for such services. The amount to be paid for such services shall be paid in the same manner as the regular judge is paid on certification by the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district that the retired judge has rendered the services and is entitled to receive the salary. Such payment shall be made from the item in the judiciary section, comptrollers department, of the appropriations act providing for payment of salaries of district judges and criminal district judges. This Act does not entitle the retired judge of a special juvenile court or a domestic relations court to participate in the state Judicial Retirement System. No part of the amount paid to a retired judge sitting for the regular judge shall be deducted or paid out of the salary of the regular judge.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 5. The provisions of the Act are cumulative of all laws pertaining to the election or appointment of a special judge, and if, in addition to a retired judge appointed to sit temporarily for a regular judge, a special judge is needed, he shall be appointed or elected as now authorized by law.

Art. 2338-1d. Masters in Domestic Relations Court in Counties Over 2,000,000

Authorization to Appoint Master; Termination; Qualifications; Compensation

Sec. 1. (a) Each judge of a court of domestic relations in a county of more than 2,000,000 population or any successor court thereto may appoint a master as provided in this Act. The services of the master may be terminated if the performance of his duties is unsatisfactory to the judge of the court, by which the master was appointed.

(b) A master shall be an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Texas and shall be a citizen of this state. The compensation for a master shall be fixed by the judge of the court making such appointment. If the judge of the court determines that the parties litigant are unable to defray the costs of the master's compensation, such costs shall be paid out of the jury fund of the county.

Matters Referred to a Master

Sec. 2. If the judge of a court of domestic relations in such county or any successor court thereto deems it advisable, he may appoint a master and refer to the master any civil case involving motions of contempt for failure or refusal to pay child support, temporary support, or separate maintenance; motions for failure or refusal to comply with court orders concerning visitation with children growing out of separate maintenance and divorce actions; motions for changes of conservatorships; motions for revision of child-support payments; and motions for revision of visitation privileges.

Powers

Sec. 3. (a) In all cases designated in Section 2 of this Act, the judge of a court of domestic relations in a county of more than 2,000,000 population or any successor court thereto may authorize the master to hear evidence, to make findings of fact thereon, to formulate conclusions of law, and to recommend judgment to be entered in such cases. In all cases referred to the master, the order of reference may specify or limit the powers of the master and may direct him to report only on particular issues, or to do or perform particular acts, or to receive and report on evidence only, and may fix the time and place for beginning and closing hearings and for filing reports.

(b) Subject to the limitations and specifications stated in the order, the master shall have the power to regulate all proceedings in every hearing before him and to do all acts and take all measures necessary and proper for the efficient performance of his duties under the order. He may require the production of evidence before him on all matters embraced in the reference, and he may rule on the admissibility of evidence, unless otherwise directed by the order of reference. He has the authority to issue summons for the appearance of witnesses and to swear the witnesses for the hearing and may examine them himself. A witness appearing before him that is duly sworn is subject to the penalties of perjury. If a witness after being duly summoned fails to appear or having appeared refuses to answer questions, on certification of such refusal to the referring court, the court may issue attachment against the witness and may fine or imprison the witness.

Report to Referring Judge; Notice to Parties

Sec. 4. On the conclusion of the hearing in each case, the master shall transmit to the referring judge all papers relating to the case, together with his findings and a statement that notice of his findings and of the right to a hearing before the judge has been given to all adult principals, minors, or parents, guardians, or custodians of any minor whose case has been heard by the master. This notice may be given at the hearing or otherwise as the referring court directs.

Disposition by Referring Judge

Sec. 5. After it is filed, the referring court may adopt, modify, correct, reject, or reverse the master's report or recommit it for further information as the court may deem proper and necessary in the particular circumstances of the case. Where judgment has been recommended, the court in its discretion may approve the recommendation and hear further evidence before rendition of judgment.

Hearing by Judge Upon Request

Sec. 6. Adult principals or a minor child or his parents, guardians, or custodians are entitled to a hearing by the judge of the referring court if within three days after receiving notice of the findings of the master they file a request with the court for a hearing. The referring court may allow the hearing at any time.

Failure to Request Hearing

Sec. 7. If no hearing before the judge of the referring court is requested or the right to such hearing is waived, the findings and recommendations of the master become the decree of the court when adopted by an order of the judge.

Notice of Hearing by Master

Sec. 8. Prior to the hearing by the master, the parties litigant shall be given due notice as provided by law of the time and place of the hearing.

Jury Trial

Sec. 9. In any proceeding where a jury trial has been demanded, the master shall refer the case back to the referring court for a full hearing before the court and jury, subject to the usual rules of the court in such cases.

Appointment of Master Not Mandatory

Sec. 10. Nothing in this Act shall be interpreted to require any judge of a court of domestic relations to appoint a permanent or standing master to serve in such court.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1222, ch. 471, eff. June 15, 1977. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 568, ch. 237, §§ 27, 28, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Art. 2338-1e. Domestic Relations Offices in Counties Over 2,000,000Creation; Powers; Chief Administrative Officer

Sec. 1. In counties having a population in excess of 2,000,000, as shown by the last preceding United States Census, the county commissioners court may create a domestic relations office to provide services to establish and enforce court orders providing for the support and/or visitation rights to a child, to establish paternity or legitimation of a child, and to provide informational services to assist parties affected by a court order in understanding, complying with, and enforcing the duties and obligations in the court order pertaining to child support and rights of visitation. Upon such creation, said designated county office shall be directly responsible to the commissioners court. The chief administrative officer of the designated county office so created shall be appointed by a majority vote of the commissioners court of the county.

Application Fees

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of the county shall have the authority to set a schedule of reasonable application fees to be paid by applicants requesting services of the domestic relations office.

Attorney Fees

Sec. 3. The domestic relations office may receive reasonable attorney fees incurred or ordered by the court and taxed as costs in each proceeding.

Collection of Fees

Sec. 4. The chief administrative officer or his agent shall attempt, in a cost-effective manner, to collect the application fee and attorney fees incurred or ordered by the court.

Domestic Relations Office Fund

Sec. 5. All such fees provided for by this Act shall be paid to the county treasurer to be kept in a separate fund, such fund to be known as the "Domestic Relations Office Fund." This fund shall be administered by the commissioners court of the county for the purpose of assisting in paying the cost of maintaining the domestic relations office, including the payment of salaries and other expenses of the chief administrative officer and his assistants, the purchase of supplies and equipment, and all other necessary expenses of the office. The fund may be supplemented out of the general fund or other available funds of the county where necessary.

Art. 2338-2. Designation of District Court as Juvenile Court in Certain Counties

Sec. 1. In counties having ten (10) or more District Courts, either temporary or permanent, and having a Juvenile Board composed of District Judges and the County Judge of said county, such Juvenile Board shall designate one (1) of the District Courts to be the Juvenile Court of such county and may change the designation of such Juvenile Court from time to time when in the opinion of the Juvenile Board the best interest of the people require it.

Provided, however, the Juvenile Board of any county having a population of eight hundred and six thousand (806,000) or more according to the last preceding Federal Census, may designate one or more District Courts, or one or more Courts of Domestic Relations, or the County Court, or one or more of both of such District Courts and Courts of Domestic Relations, or one or more of such District Courts, Courts of Domestic Relations and County Court or any combination thereof, as Juvenile Courts of such county, with all the rights and authority and subject to the same terms and restrictions as provided in this Act; provided, however, that the Juvenile Board of any county having a population of eight hundred and six thousand (806,000) or more according to the last preceding Federal Census, may make such new designation or designations as to it shall seem proper without reference to the provision of Section 4, requiring a new designation within any particular period of time, it being the legislative intent that the matter of designation of one or more Juvenile Courts in any such county be within the discretion of the Juvenile Board of such county.

Sec. 2. Such Juvenile Courts shall give preference to child delinquency, dependency, neglect, support, change of custody and adoption, and to contempt proceedings growing out of or ancillary to such cases, and all other District Courts in such counties may from time to time transfer to such District Court as has been designated as the Juvenile Court of such county all such cases on their dockets.

Sec. 3. Immediately after the designation of a Juvenile Court for each county, as herein provided for, the Clerks of the Courts of such counties shall transfer all cases of juvenile delinquency on their dockets to the docket of the Juvenile Court so designated, under the direction of the Judges of said courts, and thereafter all cases of juvenile delinquency shall be filed in such Juvenile Courts.

In all counties having ten (10) or more district courts, in addition to cases of juvenile delinquency, all new cases of dependency, neglect, support, change of custody and adoption may be transferred to the docket of the Juvenile Court so designated under the direction of the Judges of said courts.

The jurisdiction, powers, and duties thus conferred upon the established courts hereunder are superadded jurisdiction, powers, and duties; it being the intention of the Legislature not to create hereby any additional offices.

Sec. 4. Pending the designation of Juvenile Courts under the provisions of this Act, all Juvenile Courts heretofore designated under the previous Law shall continue to function with all powers and jurisdiction heretofore vested in them; it being the intention of the Legislature, however, that the new designation shall be made in each county of the State within ninety (90) days after the effective date of this Act.

Art. 2338-2b. Referee for Juvenile and District Courts of Wichita CountyAuthority to Appoint Referee; Qualifications; Costs

Sec. 1. (a) The Judges of the Juvenile and District Courts of Wichita County are hereby authorized to appoint referees in civil cases as hereinafter provided.

(b) A referee shall be an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Texas and shall be a citizen of this State. The compensation, if any, of the referee shall be found and taxed in the same manner as now provided by law for taxing costs in civil cases. The Judge of said Court shall determine if the parties litigant are able to defray the costs of the referee's compensation and where so found and determined, such costs shall be taxed as costs against the parties litigant. However, if such costs are not taxed against the parties litigant, then such compensation, if any, shall be fixed by the Commissioners Court and shall be paid out of the jury fund of Wichita County. No costs shall be taxed against said county where both or either of said parties litigant own real property in the State of Texas or are otherwise financially able to defray said costs.

Cases in Which Referee may be Appointed by District Court

Sec. 2. Whenever the Judge of a District Court shall deem it advisable, he may appoint a referee and refer to said referee any civil case involving motions of contempt for failure or refusal to pay child support, temporary alimony, or separate maintenance; motions for failure or refusal to comply with court orders concerning visitation with children growing out of separate maintenance and divorce actions; motions for changes of child custody; motions for revision of child support payments; and motions for revision of visitation privileges.

Cases in Which Referee may be Appointed by Juvenile Court

Sec. 3. Whenever the Judge sitting as a Juvenile Court shall deem it advisable, he may appoint a referee and refer to said referee any civil case or cases before him involving children alleged to be dependent, neglected, or delinquent or any other matters over which the Juvenile Court is given exclusive jurisdiction.

Powers of Referee

Sec. 4. (a) In all such cases designated in Sections 2 and 3 of this Act, the Judge of the Juvenile or District Court may authorize the referee to hear evidence, to make findings of fact thereon, to formulate conclusions of law, and to recommend judgment to be entered in such cases. In all such cases referred to the referee, the order of reference may specify or limit the powers of the referee and may direct him to report only upon particular issues, or to do or perform particular acts; or to receive and report on evidence only, and may fix the time and place for beginning and closing hearings, and for filing reports.

(b) Subject to the limitations and specifications stated in the order, the referee shall have the power to regulate all proceedings in every hearing before him and to do all acts and take all measures necessary and proper for the efficient performance of his duties under the order. He may require the production of evidence before him, upon all matters embraced in the reference, and he may rule upon the admissibility of evidence, unless otherwise directed by the order of reference. He shall have the authority to issue summons for the appearance of witnesses, and swear said witnesses for said hearing, and he may, himself, examine them. And said witness appearing before him and being duly sworn shall be subject to the penalties of perjury. If the witnesses, after being duly summoned, shall fail to appear, or having appeared, shall refuse to answer questions, then upon certification of such refusal to the referring Court, said Court shall have the power to issue attachment against such witnesses, and to fine and imprison them.

Transmittal of Papers; Notice of Findings

Sec. 5. Upon the conclusion of the hearing in each case, the referee shall transmit to the referring Judge all papers relating to the case, together with his findings and a statement that notice of his findings and of the right to a hearing before the Judge has been given to all adult principals, minors, or parents, guardians, or custodians of any minor whose case has been heard by the referee. This notice may be given at the hearing, or otherwise as the referring Court directs.

Adoption or Rejection of Referee's Report

Sec. 6. After it is filed, the referring court may adopt, modify, correct, reject, or reverse the referee's report, or recommit it for further information, as the Court may deem proper and necessary in the particular circumstances of the case. Where judgment has been recommended, the Court in its discretion may approve the recommendation and hear further evidence before rendition of judgment.

Hearing Before Referring Court; Request

Sec. 7. Adult principals, a minor child, his parents, guardians, or custodians are entitled to a hearing by the Judge of the referring Court if, within three days after receiving notice of the findings of the referee, they file a request with such Court for a hearing. The referring Court may allow such a hearing at any time.

Adoption of Findings and Recommendations

Sec. 8. In case no hearing before the Judge of the referring Court is requested, or when the right to such hearing is waived, the findings and recommendations of the referee become the decree of the Court when adopted by an order of the Judge.

Notice of Hearing

Sec. 9. Prior to the hearing by the referee the parties litigant shall be given due notice as provided by law of the time and place of such hearing.

Demand for Jury Trial

Sec. 10. In any proceeding where a jury trial has been demanded, the referee shall refer the case back to the referring Court for a full hearing before the Court and jury, subject to the usual rules of the Court in such cases.

Art. 2338-2c. Juvenile Court for Hopkins County; Judge

Sec. 1. The judges of the district courts of Hopkins County and the county judge of such county shall designate one of such district courts having a resident judge as the Juvenile Court for Hopkins County and the court so designated shall exercise such jurisdiction in addition to the duties now imposed upon such court by law; provided, however, that in the event neither of the judges of the district courts of such county is a resident of Hopkins County, the County Court of Hopkins County may be designated as the Juvenile Court of such county.

Sec. 2. The judge of the court so designated shall exercise the duties of Judge of the Juvenile Court of Hopkins County in addition to the duties now imposed upon him by law as District Judge or County Judge of Hopkins County.

Sec. 3. The judge designated as Judge of the Juvenile Court of Hopkins County, in addition to the compensation received as district judge or county judge, shall be paid a salary of not less than $2,400 nor more than $3,600 for his services as Judge of the Juvenile Court of Hopkins County, said additional salary to be set by the Commissioners Court of Hopkins County, and the salary so set shall be paid out of the General Fund of Hopkins County, the Salary Fund, or any fund available for the purpose, by the county in equal monthly installments.

Art. 2338-9b.2. Masters in Dallas County Domestic Relations CourtsAppointment; Termination; Qualifications; Compensation; Costs

Sec. 1. (a) Each judge of a court of domestic relations in Dallas County or any successor court thereto may appoint a full-time master as provided in this Act. The appointment shall be made subject to the approval of the commissioners court. The services of the master may be terminated if the performance of his duties is unsatisfactory to the judge of the court.

(b) A master shall be an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Texas and shall be a citizen of this state. The compensation for a master shall be fixed by the commissioners court and shall be paid out of the jury fund of Dallas County. If the judge of the court determines that the parties litigant are able to defray the costs of the master's compensation, such costs may be taxed as costs against either or both of the parties.

Referral of Certain Civil Cases to Master

Sec. 2. If the judge of a court of domestic relations in Dallas County or any successor court thereto deems it advisable, he may appoint a master and refer to the master any civil case involving motions of contempt for failure or refusal to pay child support, temporary support, or separate maintenance; motions for failure or refusal to comply with court orders concerning visitation with children growing out of separate maintenance and divorce actions; motions for changes of conservatorships; motions for revision of child-support payments; and motions for revision of visitation privileges.

Powers

Sec. 3. (a) In all cases designated in Section 2 of this Act, the judge of a court of domestic relations in Dallas County or any successor court thereto may authorize the master to hear evidence, to make findings of fact thereon, to formulate conclusions of law, and to recommend judgment to be entered in such cases. In all cases referred to the master, the order of reference may specify or limit the powers of the master and may direct him to report only on particular issues, or to do or perform particular acts, or to receive and report on evidence only, and may fix the time and place for beginning and closing hearings and for filing reports.

(b) Subject to the limitations and specifications stated in the order, the master shall have the power to regulate all proceedings in every hearing before him and to do all acts and take all measures necessary and proper for the efficient performance of his duties under the order. He may require the production of evidence before him on all matters embraced in the reference, and he may rule on the admissibility of evidence, unless otherwise directed by the order of reference. He has the authority to issue summons for the appearance of witnesses and to swear the witnesses for the hearing and may examine them himself. A witness appearing before him that is duly sworn is subject to the penalties of perjury. If a witness after being duly summoned fails to appear or having appeared refuses to answer questions, on certification of such refusal to the referring court, the court may issue attachment against the witness and may fine or imprison the witness.

Findings; Notice

Sec. 4. On the conclusion of the hearing in each case, the master shall transmit to the referring judge all papers relating to the case, together with his findings and a statement that notice of his findings and of the right to a hearing before the judge has been given to all adult principals, minors, or parents, guardians, or custodians of any minor whose case has been heard by the master. This notice may be given at the hearing or otherwise as the referring court directs.

Action on Master's Report

Sec. 5. After it is filed, the referring court may adopt, modify, correct, reject, or reverse the master's report or recommit it for further information, as the court may deem proper and necessary in the particular circumstances of the case. Where judgment has been recommended, the court in its discretion may approve the recommendation and hear further evidence before rendition of judgment.

Hearing

Sec. 6. Adult principals or a minor child or his parents, guardians, or custodians are entitled to a hearing by the judge of the referring court if within three days after receiving notice of the findings of the master they file a request with the court for a hearing. The referring court may allow the hearing at any time.

Decree Upon Adoption by Court

Sec. 7. If no hearing before the judge of the referring court is requested or the right to such hearing is waived, the findings and recommendations of the master become the decree of the court when adopted by an order of the judge.

Notice of Time and Place of Hearing

Sec. 8. Prior to the hearing by the master, the parties litigant shall be given due notice as provided by law of the time and place of the hearing.

Jury Trial

Sec. 9. In any proceeding where a jury trial has been demanded, the master shall refer the case back to the referring court for a full hearing before the court and jury, subject to the usual rules of the court in such cases.

1. COMMISSIONER COURTS

Art. 2339. Election

Each county shall be divided into four commissioners precincts, and one commissioner shall be elected biennially in each precinct, and each commissioner shall hold his office for two years.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Increase in Term of Office

Const. Art. 5, § 18, was amended in November, 1954, to increase the term of office of county commissioners from two to four years.

Art. 2340. Oath and Bond

Before entering upon the duties of their office, the county judge and each commissioner shall take the official oath, and shall also take a written oath that he will not be directly or indirectly interested in any contract with, or claim against, the county in which he resides, except such contracts or claims as are expressly authorized by law and except such warrants as may issue to him as fees of office. Each commissioner shall execute a bond to be approved by the county judge in the sum of three thousand dollars, payable to the county treasurer, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, that he will pay over to his county all moneys illegally paid to him out of county funds, as voluntary payments or otherwise, and that he will not vote or give his consent to pay out county funds except for lawful purposes.

Art. 2341. Vacancy

In case of vacancy in the office of commissioner, the county judge shall appoint some suitable person living in the precinct where such vacancy occurs, to serve as commissioner for such precinct until the next general election.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2342. The Court

The several commissioners, together with the county judge, shall compose the "Commissioners Court," and the county judge, when present, shall be the presiding officer of said court.

[Acts 1935, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2343. Quorum

Any three members of the court, including the county judge, constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business except that of levying a county tax.

Art. 2344. Seal

Each commissioners court shall have a seal, whereon shall be engraved either a star with five points or a design selected by the court and approved by the secretary of state, and the words, "Commissioners Court, _____ County, Texas," (the blank to be filled with the name of the County) which seal shall be kept by the clerk of said court and used in authentication of all official acts of the court, or of the presiding officer or clerk of said court, in all cases where a seal may be necessary for the authentication of any of said acts.

Art. 2345. The Clerk

The county clerk shall be ex-officio clerk of the commissioners court; and he shall attend upon each term of said commissioners court; preserve and keep all books, papers, records and effects belonging thereto, issue all notices, writs and process necessary for the proper execution of the powers and duties of the commissioners court, and perform all such other duties as may be prescribed by law.

Art. 2346. Process

All notices, citations, writs and process issued from said court shall be in the name of the "State of Texas," and shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of a county and shall be dated and signed officially by the clerk, and shall have the seal of the court impressed thereon. All process of said court, when not otherwise directed by law shall be executed at least five days before the return day thereof, which return day shall be specified in the process. Subpoenas for witnesses may be executed and returned forthwith when necessary.

Art. 2347. Notice Posted

Whenever the commissioners court shall be unable to secure the publication of any notice or report required by law in the manner and for the fee provided therefor, such notice or report may be made and published by posting one copy of such notice at the courthouse door, and one of said copies shall be posted at some public place in each commissioners precinct for thirty days prior to the next succeeding term of the commissioners court. No two such copies shall be posted in the same town or city.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2348. Regular Terms

The regular terms of the commissioners court shall be commenced and be held at the court house on the second Monday of each month throughout the year and may continue in session one week; provided the court need not hold more than one session each quarter if the business of the court does not demand a session. Any session may adjourn at any time the business of the court is disposed of. Special terms may be called by the county judge or three of the commissioners, and may continue in session until the business is completed.

Art. 2349. Minutes

The court shall require the county clerk to keep suitable books in which shall be recorded the proceedings of each term of the court; which record shall be read and signed after each term by the county judge, or the member presiding and attested by the clerk. The clerk shall also record all authorized proceedings of the court between terms; and such record shall be read and signed on the first day of the term next after such proceedings occurred.

Art. 2350. County Commissioners Salaries

Sec. 1. In counties having the following assessed valuations, respectively, as shown by the total assessed valuations of all properties certified by the county assessor and approved by the Commissioners Court, for county purposes, for the previous year, from time to time, the County Commissioners of such counties shall each receive annual salaries not to exceed the amounts herein specified, said salaries to be paid in equal monthly installments, at least one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$), and not exceeding three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$), out of the Road and Bridge Fund, and the remainder out of the General Fund of the county; said assessed valuations and salaries applicable thereto being as follows:

Art. 2350o. Allowance for Traveling Expenses and Automobile Depreciation

Sec. 1. In any county in this State having a population of not more than twenty-one thousand, five hundred (21,500), according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, the Commissioners Court is hereby authorized to allow each member of such Commissioners Court the sum of not exceeding Seventy-five Dollars ($75) per month for traveling expenses and depreciation on his automobile while on official business within the county. Each member of such Commissioners Court shall pay all expenses in the operation of such automobile and keep same in repair free of any other charge to the county.

Sec. 2. In any county in this State having a population in excess of twenty-one thousand, five hundred (21,500) but not in excess of one hundred twenty-four thousand (124,000), according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, the Commissioners Court is hereby authorized to allow each member of the Commissioners Court the sum of not exceeding One Hundred Dollars ($100) per month for traveling expenses and depreciation on his automobile while on official business within the county. Each member of such Commissioners Court shall pay all expenses in the operation of such automobile and keep same in repair free of any other charge to the county.

Sec. 3. Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 599, ch. 237, § 145, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.

Sec. 4. Repealed by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2489, ch. 811, § 2, eff. June 8, 1971.

Sec. 5. The term "members of the Commissioners Court" when used herein means the County Commissioners and the County Judge.

Sec. 6. The provisions of this bill shall apply only to those counties not furnishing an automobile, truck, or by other means providing for the traveling expenses of its commissioners, while on official business within the county.

Saved from Repeal

Article 2350o was saved from repeal by Acts 1962, 57th Leg., 3rd C.S., p. 71, ch. 26, § 3. See art. 2372f-2, § 3.

Art. 2350p. Allowance for Traveling Expenses and Automobile Depreciation

Sec. 1. Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 599, ch. 237, § 145, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.

Sec. 2. As used in this Act, "members of the commissioners court" means the county commissioners and the county judge.

Sec. 3. This Act applies only to counties not furnishing an automobile or truck or by other means providing for the traveling expenses of members of their commissioners courts while on official business within the county.

Sec. 4. Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 599, ch. 237, § 145, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.

Sec. 5. As used in this Act, "the last preceding federal census" means the 1970 census or any future decennial federal census. This is despite any legislation that has been or may be enacted during any session of the 62nd Legislature delaying the effectiveness of the 1970 census for general state and local governmental purposes.

2. POWERS AND DUTIESArt. 2351. Certain Powers Specified

Each commissioners court shall:

1. Lay off their respective counties into precincts, not less than four, and not more than eight, for the election of justices of the peace and constables, fix the times and places of holding justices courts, and shall establish places in such precincts where elections shall be held; and shall establish justices precincts and justices courts for the unorganized counties as provided by law.

2. Establish public ferries whenever the public interest may require.

3. Lay out and establish, change and discontinue public roads and highways.

4. Build bridges and keep them in repair.

5. Appoint road overseers and apportion hands.

6. Exercise general control over all roads, highways, ferries and bridges in their counties.

7. Provide and keep in repair court houses, jails and all necessary public buildings.

8. Provide for the protection, preservation and disposition of all lands granted to the county for education or schools.

9. Provide seals required by law for the district and county courts.

10. Audit and settle all accounts against the county and direct their payment.

11. Provide for the support of paupers and such idiots and lunatics as cannot be admitted into the lunatic asylum, residents of their county, who are unable to support themselves. By the term resident as used herein, is meant a person who has been a bona fide inhabitant of the county not less than six months and of the State not less than one year.

12. Provide for the burial of paupers.

13. Punish contempts by fine not to exceed twenty-five dollars or by imprisonment not to exceed twenty-four hours, and in case of fine, the party may be held in custody until the fine is paid.

14. Issue all such notices, citations, writs and process as may be necessary for the proper execution of the powers and duties imposed by such court and to enforce its jurisdiction.

15. Said court shall have all such other powers and jurisdiction, and shall perform all such other duties, as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by law.

16. Said Court shall have the authority to use county road machinery and funds from the General Fund or Road and Bridge Funds in cleaning streams and in aiding flood control when such improvements are deemed to be of aid of the county in the maintenance and the building of county roads, in counties having a population of from nineteen thousand, eight hundred and fifty (19,850) to nineteen thousand, eight hundred and ninety-five (19,895) according to the last Federal Census.

17. a. The Commissioners Court of each county of this State, in addition to the powers already conferred on it by law, is hereby empowered to create a revolving fund or funds and to make appropriations thereto out of the general revenue of such county; and such revolving fund shall be used by such county only in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture to aid and assist in carrying out the purposes and provisions of an Act of Congress of the United States pertaining to the distribution of commodities to persons in need of assistance, under the direction of the United States Department of Agriculture; provided, however, that the county shall have on hand at all times either the moneys appropriated to such revolving fund or funds or the equivalent thereof in stamps issued by the United States Department of Agriculture under the Food and/or Cotton Stamp Plan, which stamps are convertible into cash at any time.

b. In such counties of this State exercising the powers herein granted, an issuing officer shall be appointed to carry out the provisions of this Act and to administer the funds herein appropriated. Such issuing officer shall be a citizen of the State of Texas and appointed by the County Judge of such County subject to the approval of the Commissioners Court thereof. He shall be required to furnish a good and sufficient surety bond in such amount and upon such terms and conditions as may be required by the Commissioners Court and the United States Department of Agriculture. Such issuing officer shall receive a salary, to be paid out of the general fund or any other fund of the county, except constitutional funds, not otherwise appropriated, not to exceed Two Hundred Dollars ($200) per month, and may appoint such cashiers and other assistants as may be authorized by such Court. The premiums of all bonds which may be required of such issuing officer, cashiers or other assistants, shall be paid by the Commissioners Court out of any available funds therefor belonging to such county.

c. Provided however the powers herein granted to such counties may be exercised by two (2) or more counties in conjunction with each other and in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture. And when such powers are exercised by two (2) or more counties jointly, the County Judges of such counties shall appoint the issuing officer, fix such appointee's bond and to do all other things necessary to cooperate with the United States Department of Agriculture in the same and like manner as is herein granted to any one county of this State.

d. Provided that such Commissioners Courts of such counties may cooperate with any incorporated city or town within such county or counties on such conditions and requirements as may be promulgated by such Commissioners Court or Courts.

e. Whenever any county herein authorized to create such a revolving fund ceases to participate therein the issuing officer appointed under the provisions hereof shall forthwith reduce all stamps to their equivalent in money and return such moneys then on hand to the fund from which same was originally appropriated and render a full account of his administration thereof to the Commissioners Court or Courts as the case may be.

18(a) The Commissioners Court of each county of this State, in addition to the powers already conferred on it by law, is empowered in all cases where said county has heretofore acquired, or may hereafter acquire, land for an airport through purchase or gift from any person or source whatever, including the Federal Government, or any agency thereof, to lease said land and/or the facilities thereof, or any part thereof to any person or corporation upon such terms as the Commissioners Court shall deem advisable for airport purposes, or other purposes, provided any such lease is not inhibited by the terms of the grant to such county. Said counties through such Commissioners Courts are also hereby expressly authorized and empowered to contract with reference to oil, gas or other minerals or natural resources which may be vested in said counties by virtue of the ownership of such airports and to execute and deliver to any person upon such conditions and for such consideration, including oil payments, gas payments, over-riding royalties, etc. as the Commissioners Court may deem advisable, mineral deeds or mineral leases of all or any part of said minerals, or the rights thereto, which are vested in the county and to generally contract for the exploration and development of the minerals underlying said land or any part thereof.

(b) The proceeds from the sale of any minerals or mineral rights, or the consideration for the execution of any mineral leases, including cash bonuses, delay rentals and royalties, need not be devoted to the maintenance, upkeep, improvement and operation of such airport, but may be expended by the Commissioners Court for any lawful purpose.

(c) The proceeds received, or to be received from any person from the lease of the surface of said land, or from the lease of the facilities thereof, or any part thereof, for purposes other than airport purposes, or for purposes other than those relating to the operation of an airport, may likewise be expended by the Commissioners Court for any lawful purpose.

(d) The proceeds received, or to be received, from any person for any lease of the surface of said land, or for the lease of the facilities thereof, or any part thereof, for airport purposes, or for purposes related to the operation of an airport, shall be devoted, first, to the maintenance, upkeep, improvement and operation of such airport and the facilities, structures and improvements thereof, but any surplus remaining at the close of any fiscal year of operation may be expended by such Commissioners Court for any lawful purpose.

(e) The proceeds received, or to be received, from any charges for the use of said airport for airport purposes shall be devoted, first, to the maintenance, upkeep, improvement and operation of such airport and the facilities, structures and improvements thereof, but any surplus remaining at the close of the fiscal year of operation may be expended by the Commissioners Court for any lawful purpose.

19(a) The Commissioners Court of each county of this State, in addition to the powers already conferred upon it by law, is expressly authorized and empowered to contract with the United States Government, or with any agency thereof, and particularly with the Federal Works Administrator, the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, and/or the National Housing Administrator, or their successor or successors, for the acquisition of any land, or interest in land, in such county, owned by the United States Government, or any agency thereof, and for the acquisition of any temporary housing on land which the United States Government, or any agency thereof, may own or control; and each such county in this State is authorized and empowered to acquire by purchase, gift or otherwise, any such land and any such housing from the United States Government, or any agency thereof, and to own and operate such land and housing.

(b) Each Commissioners Court in this State is authorized and empowered to adopt a resolution or order requesting the transfer to said county of any such land or housing, or interest therein, which the United States Government, or any agency thereof, is now, or may be hereafter, authorized to convey or transfer to such county, and each such county, through its Commissioners Court, is expressly authorized and empowered to bind itself to comply with any and all terms and conditions which the United States Government, or any agency thereof, may impose as a prerequisite to the transfer or conveyance of any of such land or housing, or either of them, or any interest therein; and any instrument or deed conveying to said county any such land or any such housing, or any interest therein, may contain any conditions and provisions, covenants and warranties which may be prescribed by the United States Government, or any agency thereof, and agreed upon by said county acting through its Commissioners Court, provided that such terms and conditions are not inhibited by the Constitution of the State of Texas.

(c) For the purpose of purchasing or otherwise acquiring said lands or housing, or both, and improving, enlarging, extending or repairing the same, the Commissioners Court of any county may issue negotiable bonds of the county and levy taxes to provide for the interest and sinking funds of any such bonds so issued, the authority hereby given for the issuance of such bonds and the levying and collection of such taxes to be exercised in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.¹

(d) Counties are expressly authorized and empowered to lease or rent any lands, housing, or facilities acquired by them pursuant to this Act and to establish and revise the rent or charges therefor; to arrange or contract for the furnishing by any person or agency, public or private, of services, or facilities for, or in connection with, any of such lands, housing or facilities, or the occupants thereof;

(e) Said counties are further authorized to sell and convey all or any part of the land or housing so acquired or to lease or exchange same; and said counties are further expressly authorized to execute oil, gas or mineral leases covering all or any part of said lands so acquired on such terms and conditions as may be deemed advisable by the Commissioners Court and for such consideration, including oil payments, gas payments, overriding royalties, etc. as may be deemed advisable; and such counties, through their Commissioners Courts, are expressly authorized and empowered to execute conveyances of minerals or mineral rights, and to generally contract for the exploration and development of the minerals underlying said land, if any, or any part thereof.

20. The Commissioners Court of each county of this State, in addition to the powers already conferred on it by law, is authorized and empowered in all cases where such county has acquired a water supply from subterranean waters for county purposes, to sell, contract to sell and deliver any or all of such water which is not needed for county purposes to any public or municipal corporation, or political subdivision of this State, including any water control and improvement district, or fresh water supply district now created and existing, or which may hereafter be created under the laws of this State; any such water sold or contracted to be sold and delivered to any such public or municipal corporation or political subdivision of this State, may be used or re-sold for any lawful purpose; and said Commissioners Court shall have the right to fix and determine the rate or rates at which such water shall be sold to any such public or municipal corporation or political subdivision of this State, and to enter into contracts to sell and supply such water at such determined rate or rates for any term of years not exceeding forty (40); and all monies received by the county from the sale of such water shall be placed to the credit of the General Fund of the county and may be expended for general county purposes as now or hereafter permitted by law.

Art. 2351½. Change in Boundaries of Commissioners or Justice Precincts

(a) Whenever the Commissioners Court changes the boundaries of commissioners precincts or of justice precincts, it may specify in its order a future date, not later than the first day of January following the next general election, on which the changes shall become effective. If an election for any precinct office is held before the effective date of the order, the office shall be filled at the election by the voters of the precinct as it will exist on the effective date of the change in boundaries. A person who has resided within the territory embraced in the new boundaries for the length of time required to be eligible to hold the office shall not be rendered ineligible by virtue of the precinct's not having been in existence for that length of time.

(b) When boundaries of commissioners or justice precincts are changed, the terms of office of the commissioners, justices of the peace, and constables then in office shall not be affected by such change, and each of them shall be entitled to serve for the remainder of the term to which he was elected even though the change in boundaries may have placed his residence outside of the precinct for which he was elected.

Art. 2351a. Fire Fighting Equipment; Purchase Authorized in Certain Counties

Bridges, Etc. Protected

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court in counties having a population of more than three hundred thousand (300,000) and less than three hundred and fifty thousand (350,000) inhabitants in accordance with the last preceding Federal Census, and in counties having a population of more than forty-eight thousand, five hundred (48,500) and less than forty-nine thousand (49,000) inhabitants, and in counties having a population of not less than twenty-two thousand and eighty-nine (22,089) nor more than twenty-two thousand, one hundred (22,100) inhabitants, and in counties having a population of more than six thousand, one hundred (6,100) and less than six thousand, one hundred and eighty (6,180) inhabitants in accordance with the last preceding Federal Census, shall have the authority to purchase fire trucks and other fire-fighting equipment by first advertising and receiving bids thereon as provided by law, to be used for the protection and preservation of bridges, county shops, county warehouses, and other property located without the limits of any incorporated city or town.

Contracts With Centrally Located Municipality for Operation and Maintenance

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Courts in such counties are empowered and authorized to enter into contracts with any centrally located municipality in the county for the operation and maintenance of said fire trucks and other fire-fighting equipment on such terms as the Commissioners Court may deem proper and expedient.

Provisions Cumulative; Partial Invalidity

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act are cumulative of all other laws other than special laws and if any section, subdivision, paragraph, sentence, or clause of this Act be held unconstitutional, the remaining portions thereof shall be valid.

[Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 1127, ch. 453. Amended by Acts 1939, 46th Leg., Spec.Laws, p. 587, § 1; Acts 1941, 47th Leg., p. 107, ch. 85, § 1.]

Art. 2351a-1. Fire Protection and Fire Fighting Equipment in All Counties; Contracts; Liability of Municipalities for Firemen's Acts

The Commissioners Court in all counties of this State shall be authorized to furnish fire protection and fire-fighting equipment to the citizens of such county residing outside the city limits of any incorporated city, town or village within the county and/or adjoining counties. The Commissioners Court shall have the authority to purchase fire trucks and other fire-fighting equipment by first advertising and receiving bids thereon, and is hereby authorized to issue time warrants of the county and to levy and collect taxes to pay the interest and principal thereon as provided by law. The Commissioners Court of any county of this state shall also have the authority to enter into contracts with any city, town or village within the county and/or adjoining counties, upon such terms and conditions as shall be agreed upon between the Commissioners Court and the governing body of such city, town or village, for the use of the fire trucks and other fire-fighting equipment of the city, town or village. It is specifically provided that the acts of any person or persons while fighting fires, traveling to or from fires, or in any manner furnishing fire protection to the citizens of a county outside the city limits of any city, town or village, shall be considered as the acts of agents of the county in all respects, notwithstanding such person or persons may be regular employees or firemen of a city, town or village. No city, town or village within a county and/or adjoining counties shall be held liable for the acts of any of its employees while engaged in fighting fires outside the city limits pursuant to any contract theretofore entered into between the Commissioners Court of the county and the governing body of the city, town or village.

Art. 2351a-2. Fire Fighting Equipment; Purchase Authorized in Counties of 350,000 to 450,000; Contracts

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court in counties having a population of more than three hundred and fifty thousand (350,000) and less than four hundred and fifty thousand (450,000) inhabitants in accordance with the last preceding Federal Census shall have the authority to purchase fire trucks and other fire-fighting equipment by first advertising and receiving bids thereon as provided by law, to be used for the protection and preservation of bridges, county shops, county warehouses, and other property located without the limits of any incorporated city or town.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Courts in such counties are empowered and authorized to enter into contracts with any centrally located municipality in the county for the operation and maintenance of said fire trucks and other fire-fighting equipment on such terms as the Commissioners Court may deem proper and expedient.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act are cumulative of all other laws other than special laws and if any section, subdivision, paragraph, sentence, or clause of this Act be held unconstitutional, the remaining portions thereof shall be valid.

Art. 2351a-3. Fire Fighting Equipment; Counties Over 350,000; Furnishing Equipment to Towns and Villages Having Volunteer Departments

"County" Defined

Sec. 1. The term "county" when used in this Act shall mean any county in Texas having a population of three hundred and fifty thousand (350,000) or more according to the last preceding Federal Census.

Authority to Furnish Equipment

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of the county is hereby authorized to and may furnish fire fighting equipment under the terms and provisions of this Act. It is the legislative intent and purpose that this Act be construed as permitting the Commissioners Court within their discretion to carry out the provisions of this Bill but the language in this Bill shall not be construed as being mandatory in nature.

Petition; Contract

Sec. 3. The governing authorities of any incorporated town or village of the county, which has a volunteer fire department recognized by the Insurance Commission of the State of Texas, may, by an order or resolution, a majority voting in favor thereof, petition the Commissioners Court of the county to enter into a contract to furnish fire fighting equipment as provided in this Act. The Commissioners Court may enter into the contract and furnish the fire fighting equipment where the petitioners show the incorporated town or village is eligible to receive the service and benefit of such equipment by compliance with the terms of this Act.

Duty of Commissioners Court

Sec. 4. When at least twenty-five (25) citizens, living in any unincorporated village, town or community, who have, or will organize within a reasonable time, a volunteer fire department recognized by the Insurance Commission of the State of Texas, and who are in all respects qualified to vote in a county bond election, petition the Commissioners Court for fire fighting equipment, it may be the duty of the Commissioners Court to enter into a contract and furnish such fire fighting equipment, subject to and in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

"Fire Fighting Equipment" Defined

Sec. 5. The term "fire fighting equipment" referred to herein shall mean a four hundred-gallon booster tank mounted on a suitable truck chassis, equipped with a front-end pump and other necessary appliances and equipment. Total initial cost of each unit of fire fighting equipment shall in no instance exceed the sum of Two Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($2,750).

Provisions of Contract

Sec. 6. The contract referred to herein shall provide and be conditioned that the county may furnish the fire fighting equipment for the use and benefit of the petitioners, subject to the agreement and understanding that the petitioners shall furnish a satisfactory place in which to keep and house the fire fighting equipment and pay at their own expense all of the costs of operation of said fire fighting equipment, and furnish the personnel to operate the same. The county shall be charged with the duty of keeping the fire fighting equipment in good working condition and shall be responsible for all replacements and repairs required. The Commissioners Court shall determine when repairs and replacements are necessary for such equipment. The Commissioners Court may provide for at least one emergency unit of fire fighting equipment to be used by the petitioners while the regular unit is being repaired or replaced by the Commissioners Court. The Court shall require that all repairs, including labor and materials, shall be made, in so far as possible, in the shops of the Commissioners, and the Commissioners Court shall have the power to designate any one or all of said shops for such purposes. The Commissioners Court may use trucks or other equipment, now on hand, if they are unable to acquire new trucks or other equipment for the purpose of building or equipping said fire fighting equipment.

The petitioners shall be charged with the safe keeping of the fire fighting equipment. They shall be responsible to the county for any loss of such equipment from theft. They shall be responsible to the county for any loss resulting to said fire fighting equipment assigned them by reason of any negligence of any officer, agent or employee of any incorporated town or village or of any one of the twenty-five (25) petitioners in an unincorporated village, town or community handling or operating such equipment.

Bond

Sec. 7. Before any unit of fire fighting equipment is delivered to any petitioners, they shall give bond with good and sufficient surety, payable to the county, in an amount to be fixed by the Commissioners Court, not to exceed the initial cost of the unit of fire fighting equipment, conditioned that they will pay to the county the amount of the actual loss to each unit of equipment, or any part thereof, resulting from theft or negligence as hereinafter provided.

"Petitioners" Defined

Sec. 8. The term "petitioners" as used herein shall mean any governing body of any incorporated town or village of the county. It shall also mean and include the number of petitioners not less than twenty-five (25) authorized herein to petition the Commissioners Court for fire fighting equipment, who reside in an unincorporated town, village or community.

Location of Equipment; Inspection

Sec. 9. Said fire fighting equipment shall remain in the county and the Commissioners Court shall at all times have the right to inspect and examine said equipment and shall have the right to repossess the same upon noncompliance by the petitioners with the terms of this Act.

Contracts for Use of Equipment

Sec. 10. The Commissioners Court may have, and it is hereby granted, the power and authority to contract with any city or cities within said county for the use of fire fighting equipment and the use and service thereof by the fire department of such city or cities for the purpose of fighting fires outside the city limits of such city or cities, upon such terms and conditions as may be mutually agreed upon by such Commissioners Court and the governing authorities of such city or cities, and said Commissioners Court and it is hereby authorized and empowered to pay out of the General Fund of said county such compensation for such services as may be agreed upon as hereinabove provided.

Costs of Administration

Sec. 11. The Court shall pay all costs of administering this Act out of the General Fund of the county.

Art. 2351a-4. Fire Fighting Equipment; Time Warrants or Bonds

The Commissioners Court of any county in this State is hereby authorized to purchase fire trucks and other fire fighting equipment to be used for the protection and preservation of bridges, county shops, county warehouses, and other county property located in the county but without the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town, and in payment thereof is hereby authorized to issue either time warrants or negotiable bonds, or both, of the county, and to levy and collect taxes against the county general fund in payment thereof; provided, however, that any such warrants or bonds must have been authorized by a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters, who had duly rendered the same for taxation, voting at an election duly called for that purpose by the Commissioners Court, such bonds and warrants to be issued and such taxes to be levied and collected in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas,¹ governing the issuance of bonds by cities, towns, and/or counties in this State; and provided further, that said warrants or bonds will be issued only in such amount or amounts as will at all times leave remaining and unencumbered sufficient taxes for general fund purposes to fully take care of all current expenses thereof.

Art. 2351a-5. Contracts With Volunteer Fire Departments for Fire Protection Services in Unincorporated Areas

The commissioners court of any county may contract with any incorporated volunteer fire department which is located within the county but not within the corporate limits of any city or town, for the purpose of furnishing fire protection services to areas of the county which are not within the corporate limits of a city or town. The terms of the contract may be as mutually agreed upon by the commissioners court and the volunteer fire department. The commissioners court may pay for the services under the contract out of the general fund of the county.

Art. 2351a-6. Rural Fire Prevention Districts

Organization Authorized

Sec. 1. Rural Fire Prevention Districts may be organized in the State of Texas under the provisions of Section 48-d of Article III of the State Constitution for the protection of life and property from fire and for the conservation of natural and human resources as in this Act provided.

District Within One County; Petition to County Judge

Sec. 2. (1) When it is proposed to create a Rural Fire Prevention District under the provisions of this Act wholly within one county, there shall be presented to the County Judge of that county a petition signed by not less than one hundred (100) of the qualified voters who own taxable real property within the proposed district, or in the event there are less than one hundred such voters then by a majority of such voters.

(2) The County Judge of each county shall have jurisdiction to receive and act on the petition if it shows:

(a) That the district is to be created and operated under the provisions of Article III, Section 48-d of the Constitution of Texas;

(b) Name of the proposed district, which shall be "_____ County Rural Fire Prevention District No. ____," filling in name of county and proper consecutive number;

(c) Designation of the boundaries of the proposed district by metes and bounds, or other sufficient legal description;

(d) That none of the land encompassed within said district is now included within any other rural fire protection district;

(e) The mail address of each petitioner.

(3) Said petition shall in addition contain the signed agreement of at least two of the petitioners therein, obligating themselves to pay the cost incident to the formation of the proposed district not to exceed One Hundred Fifty Dollars ($150.00), which shall include, among any other necessary and incidental expenses, the cost of publication of notices and election costs.

Multi-County Districts; Petition

Sec. 2(a). (1) When it is proposed to create a Rural Fire Prevention District under the provisions of this Act which shall encompass territory not solely within one county, there shall be presented to the County Judge of each county wherein such Rural Fire Prevention District is sought to be created, a petition signed by not less than 100 of the qualified voters who own taxable real property within the proposed district and also in the county where such County Judge presides, or in the event there are less than 100 such voters within that area sought to be made a part of said district within such county, then by a majority of such voters residing therein.

(2) The County Judge of each county wherein such district is sought to be created shall have jurisdiction to receive and act on the petition if it shows:

(a) That the district is to be created and operated under the provisions of Article III, Section 48-d of the Constitution of Texas;

(b) Name of the proposed district which shall be "_____ Rural Fire Prevention District";

(c) Designation of the boundaries of the proposed district by metes and bounds or other sufficient legal description;

(d) That none of the land encompassed within the said district is now included within any other Rural Fire Prevention District;

(e) The mailing address of each petitioner residing in the county wherein the County Judge presides.

(3) Said petition shall, in addition, contain the signed agreement of at least two of the petitioners therein, which two shall reside in the county wherein the County Judge presides, obligating themselves to pay the cost incident to the formation of the proposed district not to exceed One Hundred Fifty Dollars ($150.00), which shall include among any other necessary and incidental expenses, the cost of publication of notices and election costs.

Filing Of and Hearing On Petition

Sec. 3. If the petition is in proper form, the County Judge shall file same with the County Clerk. The Commissioners Court shall at its next regular or special session set the place, day and hour when it will hear and consider the petition.

Notices of Hearing

Sec. 4. The County Clerk shall issue notices of such hearing, which shall state that such district is proposed and shall further state:

(a) That the district is to be created and operated under the terms of Article III, Section 48-d of the Constitution of Texas;

(b) Name of the proposed district;

(c) Designation of the boundaries of said districts, as stated in the petition therefor;

(d) The place, day and hour of hearing on the petition;

(e) and shall notify all persons who may have an interest therein that they are invited to attend said hearing and present their grounds, if any, for or against the formation of said district.

Said notice shall be prepared in multiple copies, one of which shall be retained by the clerk, and sufficient additional copies as may be necessary delivered to the Sheriff.

The Sheriff shall post one copy at the court house door at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of hearing, and have published in a newspaper of general circulation in the proposed district once a week for two consecutive weeks, the first publication thereof to be made at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of hearing.

The return of each officer executing such notice shall be endorsed or attached to a copy of the same, and show the execution of the same, specifying the dates of posting, and publication, and shall be accompanied by a printed copy of such publication.

Hearing on Petition by Commissioners Court; Jurisdiction and Powers

Sec. 5. At the time and place set for the hearing of the petition, or such subsequent date as may then be fixed, the Commissioners Court shall proceed to hear such petition and all issues in respect to the creation of such proposed district, and any person interested may appear before the court in person or by attorney and contend for or contest the creation of such district, and offer testimony pertinent to any issue thereon. Such court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine all issues in respect to the creation of such district, may adjourn the hearing from day to day and from time to time as the facts may require, and shall have power to make all incidental orders deemed proper in respect to the matters before it.

Granting or Denying Petition; Fixing Boundaries of District

Sec. 6. If it shall appear on hearing by the court that the organization of a district as prayed for is feasible and practicable, would benefit the land included therein, and will be conclusive to the public safety, welfare and convenience, and aid in the conservation of the real property or natural resources within said district, the court shall so find and grant the petition and fix the boundaries thereof; otherwise it shall deny the petition.

Appeal to District Court by Persons Aggrieved

Sec. 7. Any person or other owner of real or personal property situated within said district as created, who may consider himself aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners Court, may appeal to the district court in the same manner as is provided for appeals in cases involving estates of decedents.

Elections

Sec. 8. Upon granting of the petition, the Commissioners Court shall call an election to confirm the organization and authorize the levy of a tax, not to exceed three cents (3c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation. If it appears on the face of the petition that the proposed district is to encompass more than one county or portions thereof, then the Commissioners Court shall not call an election until such time as the Commissioners Court of any other county or such district is proposed shall have also granted the petition. When the foregoing has been accomplished, such election shall be held not less than thirty (30) nor more than sixty (60) days after the order calling the same; and notice of such election shall be given in the same mode and manner as hereinabove required for hearing on the petition to form the District. The notice shall contain the proposition submitted, the classification of voters who are authorized to vote, and the time and place for holding the election. Such time for holding the election if the district be multi-county shall be as near as practical to the time that the Commissioners Courts in the other counties have agreed to hold the election.

Incorporated City, Town or Village Included in Proposed District; Referendum

Sec. 8(a). If the area of the proposed District encompasses the territory of any incorporated city, town or village, the Commissioners Court, if such city, town or village lies within its county, in making the determinations required in Section 6 of this Act, shall also determine whether those findings would be the same as to the remaining portion of the proposed district, excluding any or all such incorporated municipalities in the event any one or more of such incorporated municipalities should fail to cast a majority vote in favor of the district and the tax.

This finding shall be made as to each particular city, town or village whose territory is proposed to be included within the area of the proposed district.

No district hereafter created shall include the area of any incorporated city, town, or village, unless the majority of the electors residing in the municipality and participating in the election called by the Commissioners Court to confirm the district and levy the tax voted in favor of both the creation of the district and the levy of the tax.

Should a majority of the voters residing in a municipality and participating in the election vote against creation of the district or levy of the tax, the municipality shall not be included within the district, but its exclusion shall not affect the creation of the district embracing the remainder of the proposed territory if the findings of the Commissioners Courts made as required in Section 6 and in this section of this Act are favorable to the creation of the district, as thus restricted. Should any non-consenting city, town or village ever annex territory into such proposed rural Fire Prevention District, then the Board of Fire Commissioners shall, after due notice, immediately de-annex such area from its district and shall cease to provide any further services to the residents of that area.

Election Favoring Confirmation of District; Order of Commissioners Court

Sec. 9. If a majority of those voting at such election, as provided in Section 2 or Section 2(a) of this Act, vote in favor of the confirmation of the district, it shall thenceforth be deemed an organized Rural Fire Prevention District under this Act; and the Commissioners Courts of the several counties wherein such district is created shall enter orders accordingly in their minutes in the following substantial form:

Whereas, at an election duly and regularly held on the ____ day of _____, A.D. 19____, within that portion of _____ County, State of Texas, described as: (insert description unless the district is county-wide) there was submitted to the legal voters thereof the question whether the above described territory shall be formed into a Rural Fire Prevention District under the provisions of the laws of this state; and

Whereas, at such election _____ votes were cast in favor of formation of said district and _____ votes were cast against such formation; and

Whereas, the formation of such Rural Fire Prevention District received the affirmative vote of the majority votes cast at such election as provided by law;

Now, therefore, the County Commissioners Court of _____ County, State of Texas, does hereby find, declare and order that the tract hereinbefore described has been duly and legally formed into a Rural Fire Prevention District (or a portion thereof) under the name of _____, under and pursuant to Article III, Section 48-d of the Constitution of Texas, and with the powers vested in such district conferred by law.

Districts Declared Political Subdivisions of State; Powers

Sec. 10. Such fire protection districts are hereby declared to be political subdivisions of the state, and shall have full authority to carry out the objects of their creation and to that end are authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, lease, manage, occupy and sell real and personal property or any interest therein; to enter into and to perform any and all necessary contracts; to appoint and employ the necessary officers, agents and employees; to sue and be sued; to levy and enforce the collection of taxes in the manner and subject to the limitations herein provided against the lands and other property within the district for the district revenues; to accept and receive donations; and to do any and all lawful acts required and expedient to carry out the purposes of this Act.

Further Powers of Districts

Sec. 11. Any fire protection district organized under the provisions of this Act shall further have the authority:

(1) To lease, own, maintain, operate and provide fire engines and all other necessary or proper apparatus, instrumentalities, machinery, and equipment for the prevention and extinguishment of fires in the district as authorized in this Act:

(2) To lease, own and maintain real property, improvements and fixtures thereon, suitable and convenient for housing, repairing and caring for fire-fighting equipment;

(3) To enter into contracts with any others, including incorporated cities or towns or other districts whereby fire fighting facilities and fire extinguishment services and/or emergency rescue and ambulance services may be available to the district, upon such terms as the governing body of the district shall determine. The contract may provide for reciprocal operation of services and facilities if the contracting parties find that such operation would be mutually beneficial, and not detrimental to the district.

(4) The Board of Fire Commissioners may cause inspections to be made within the district pertinent to the causes and prevention of fires therein, and may promote such educational programs as it may deem proper to more fully effect the purposes of this Act.

(5) To lease, own, maintain, operate and provide emergency rescue equipment and all other necessary or proper apparatus, instrumentalities, machinery, and equipment for the prevention of loss of life from fire or other hazards, which may result in serious injuries to persons.

(6) To lease, own, maintain, operate and provide emergency ambulance service and all other necessary and proper equipment therewith for the prevention of loss of life from fire and other hazards which may result in serious injuries to persons.

(7) To do and perform all things in its discretion proper and necessary to fully carry out the intent of this Act.

Limitation on Indebtedness

Sec. 12. Except as provided in Sections 12A-12G of this Act, no indebtedness shall be contracted in any one year in excess of funds then on hand or which may be satisfied out of current revenues for the year. The Board of Fire Commissioners shall annually levy and cause to be assessed and collected a tax upon all properties, real and personal, situated within the district and subject to district taxation, in an amount not to exceed three cents (3c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation for the support of the district, and for the purposes authorized in this Act. Such tax levy shall be certified to the County Tax Assessor-Collector, who shall be the Assessor-Collector for the district.

Bonds and Notes Authorized

Sec. 12A. (a) To carry out any one or more powers of a Rural Fire Prevention District and on approval by a majority vote of the Commissioners Court of each county in which all or part of the district is located, the Board of Fire Commissioners of the district may issue bonds and notes in one or more issues or series that are payable from and secured by liens on and pledges of:

- (1) ad valorem taxes;
- (2) all or part of any of the revenues, income, or receipts of the district; or
- (3) a combination of these taxes, revenues, income, and receipts.

(b) The bonds and notes may be issued to mature serially or otherwise in not more than forty (40) years from the date of their issuance.

(c) Provision may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds and notes, or subordinate lien bonds or notes, under terms and conditions stated in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or notes.

(d) The bonds, notes, and any interest coupons are investment securities under Chapter 8, Business & Commerce Code.

(e) The bonds and notes may be:

- (1) issued registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest;
- (2) made redeemable before maturity;

(3) issued in the form, denominations, and manner, and under the terms, conditions, and details provided by the resolution; and

(4) sold in the manner, at the price, and under the terms, conditions, and details provided by the resolution.

(f) The bonds and notes bear interest at rates not to exceed the maximum rate allowed by Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(g) If provided by the resolution, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds or notes may be used for:

- (1) paying interest on the bonds or notes during the period of the acquisition or construction of any facilities to be provided through the issuance of the bonds or notes;
- (2) paying expenses of operation and maintenance of the facilities;
- (3) creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds or notes; and
- (4) creating any other funds.

(h) Proceeds from the sale of the bonds and notes may be placed on time deposit or invested, as provided in the resolution, until needed.

(i) If the bonds or notes are issued payable by a pledge of revenues, income, or receipts, the district may pledge all or any part of its revenues, income, or receipts from fees, rentals, rates, and charges and proceeds and payments from contracts, to the payment of the bonds or notes, including the payment of principal, interest, and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds or notes. The pledged fees, rentals, rates, charges, proceeds, or payments shall be established and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest, and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds or notes, and, to the extent required by the resolution authorizing, or the trust indenture securing, the issuance of the bonds or notes, to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds or notes and the operation, maintenance, and other expenses in connection with the facilities.

(j) If the bonds or notes are payable wholly from ad valorem taxes, the Board of Fire Commissioners shall levy a tax at the time of the authorization of the bonds or notes sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds or notes as the interest and principal come due and to provide reserve funds if prescribed in the resolution authorizing, or the trust indenture securing, the bonds or notes.

(k) If the bonds or notes are payable both from ad valorem taxes and from revenues, income, or receipts of the district, the Board of Fire Commissioners, at the time of the authorization of the bonds or notes, shall levy a tax sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds and notes and to create and maintain any reserve funds.

(l) The rate of tax actually to be collected for any year shall be established taking into consideration the money that will be available for payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds or notes and for the creation of any reserve funds to the extent and in the manner permitted by the resolution authorizing, or the trust indenture securing, the bonds or notes.

Election to Approve Bonds and Notes

Sec. 12B. (a) Bonds and notes secured in whole or in part by taxes may not be authorized by the district until approved by a majority vote of the qualified voters of the district at an election called for that purpose.

(b) The Board of Fire Commissioners may order an election, and the order calling the election shall state the nature and the date of the election, the hours during which the polls will be open, the location of the polling places, the amount of bonds or notes to be authorized, and the maximum maturity of the bonds or notes.

(c) The Board of Fire Commissioners shall give notice of the election by publishing a copy of the order calling the election at least once in a newspaper with general circulation in the district. The notice must be published at least thirty (30) days before the date set for the election.

(d) At an election to approve bonds or notes payable wholly from ad valorem taxes, the ballots must be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The issuance of (bonds or notes) and the levy of taxes for payment of the (bonds or notes)." At any election to authorize bonds or notes payable from both ad valorem taxes and revenues, the ballots must be printed to provide for voting for or against: "The issuance of (bonds or notes) and the pledge of net revenues and the levy of ad valorem taxes adequate to provide for the payment of the (bonds or notes)."

(e) The Board of Fire Commissioners shall canvass the returns and declare the results of the election. If a majority of the votes cast at the election favor the issuance of the bonds or notes, the bonds or notes may be issued by the Board of Fire Commissioners, but if a majority of the votes cast at the election do not favor issuance of the bonds or notes, the bonds or notes may not be issued.

Bond Anticipation Notes

Sec. 12C. (a) A Rural Fire Prevention District may issue bond anticipation notes from time to time to carry out any one or more of its powers.

(b) The bond anticipation notes may be secured by a pledge of all or part of the ad valorem taxes and revenues, income, or receipts of the district.

(c) The district may from time to time authorize the issuance of bonds for the purpose of providing proceeds to pay the principal of and interest on bond anticipation notes. The bonds shall be secured by a pledge of all or part of the ad valorem taxes or revenues, income, or receipts of the district and may be issued on a parity with or subordinate to outstanding bonds of the district.

(d) If the resolution authorizing the issuance of, or the trust indenture securing, the bond anticipation notes includes a covenant that the notes are payable from the proceeds of the subsequently issued bonds, it is not necessary for the district to demonstrate for the purposes of receiving the approval of the Attorney General or registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, that the ad valorem taxes or revenues, income, or receipts that may be pledged to payment of the notes will be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the notes.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 12D. (a) The bonds or notes issued under this Act may be refunded or refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for the purpose and under the terms, conditions, and details determined by the Board of Fire Commissioners of the district.

(b) All pertinent and appropriate provisions of this Act are applicable to the refunding bonds, and the refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds authorized under this Act.

(c) Refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts necessary to pay the principal of, interest on, and redemption premium, if any, on bonds to be refunded at maturity or on any redemption date.

(d) The refunding bonds may be issued in exchange for the bonds being refunded, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded, as provided by the resolution authorizing the refunding bonds. The exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(e) The bonds and notes issued by the district may be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable law of this State.

Examination of Bonds and Notes by Attorney General; Registration by Comptroller of Public Accounts

Sec. 12E. (a) The bonds, notes, and bond anticipation notes issued under this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance must be submitted to the Attorney General for examination.

(b) If the bonds, notes, or bond anticipation notes recite that they are secured by a pledge of revenues of any contract, a copy of the contract and the proceedings relating to the contract may be submitted to the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that the bonds, notes, or bond anticipation notes are authorized as provided by law, and, that the contract, if submitted, is made as provided by law, he shall approve the bonds, notes, or bond anticipation notes and the contract, if submitted.

(d) On approval, the bonds, notes, or bond anticipation notes shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts.

(e) After approval and registration, the bonds, notes, or bond anticipation notes and the contract are incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason and are valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Deposit of Funds

Sec. 12F. (a) The Board of Fire Commissioners shall designate one or more banks to serve as depositories for the funds of the district.

(b) The funds of the district shall be deposited in a depository bank, except that:

(1) the funds pledged to pay bonds or notes may be deposited with banks named in the trust indenture or in the bond or note resolution; and

(2) the funds shall be remitted to the bank of payment for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds and notes.

(c) To the extent that the funds in a depository bank or a trustee bank are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the funds must be secured in the manner provided by law for the security of county funds. The resolution or trust indenture, or both, securing the bonds or notes may require that any or all of the funds must be secured by obligations of or unconditionally guaranteed by the United States government.

Investment in Bonds and Notes; Security for Deposit of Public Funds

Sec. 12G. (a) The bonds and notes of a district are legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas.

(b) The bonds and notes are eligible to secure the deposit of public funds of the State of Texas and public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and the bonds and notes are legal and sufficient security for the deposits to the extent of their value, and if in coupon form, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons.

Board of Fire Commissioners; Organization, Officers; Bond of Treasurer

Sec. 13. (1) The Board of Fire Commissioners, who shall be appointed by the Commissioners Court, shall be the governing body of the districts created under the provisions of this Act. They shall serve for a term of two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified.

(2) Upon the canvass of the election returns and entering of the order creating the district (provided in Section 9), the Commissioners Court shall name five commissioners to serve until January 1st of the next year. On that date, the court shall designate three of such commissioners to serve for a term of two years and two commissioners to serve for one year. Annually on January 1st thereafter, the court shall appoint a successor to each commissioner whose term has expired. Vacancies on the board shall be filled by the Commissioners Court for their unexpired term.

Each of said fire commissioners shall take the official oath required of members of the Legislature of this state before entering upon his duties.

(3) Said fire commissioners shall choose from their number a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, who shall have and perform respectively, the duties usually incumbent upon their said offices. The office of secretary and treasurer may be vested in the same person.

The treasurer shall enter into and file with the county clerk his bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office. The sufficiency and amount of the bond shall be determined by the County Judge before it may be filed.

Multi-County District Board of Fire Commissioners; Election; Term; Oath; Officers; Bond of Treasurer

Sec. 13(a). (1) The Board of Fire Commissioners of a multi-county fire prevention district shall consist of five (5) members, who will be the governing body of the districts created under the provisions of this Act. They shall serve for a term of two years and until their successors are elected and have taken office.

(2) The County Judges of the county where such Rural Fire Prevention District lies of any Rural Fire Prevention district which is multi-county shall mutually establish a day convenient to them in the month of November to hold an election for the purposes of electing the Board of Fire Commissioners of the district. Any person who is a resident of the district and has attained the age of 18 years shall be eligible to run as Fire Commissioner. He shall give notice to the County Clerk of each county wherein the district lies of his intention to run for office. Such notice shall give his name, age, and address and state that he is serving notice of his intent to run as Fire Commissioner of the Rural Fire Prevention District. Such notice shall be sworn to before the County Clerk can receive it. Upon receipt of such notice the County Clerk shall call such candidate's name to be printed upon the ballots suitable to the County Clerk for an election of this character. The County Clerks of the counties wherein such multi-county district lies shall mutually appoint an election judge to certify the winners of the result of such election. After the election is held each of the County Clerks or one of their deputies wherein the district lies shall prepare a statement of cost under oath of the election. Such statement shall be tendered to the newly elected constituted Board of the Rural Fire Prevention District. It shall be the duty of the Board of Fire Commissioners to order its proper official to reimburse each county for the cost expended by it for the election.

The term of the Board of Fire Commissioners shall commence on January 1 and run for two years. Then and thereafter elections of the Board shall be held in the month of November on the year after the election of the first Board at a day to be agreed upon by the County Judges wherein the district lies.

Two of the members of the first Board of Fire Commissioners shall have initial terms of one year. In November of the year of taking office another election shall be provided for these two offices. Then and thereafter there shall be one election every two years for these two officers. The two commissioners that shall run for office in the next year shall be the two who received the lowest number of votes in the first election of the board.

Each of said Fire Commissioners shall take the official oath required by members of the legislature of this State before entering upon duty.

(3) Said Fire Commissioners shall choose from their number a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer who shall have and perform, respectively, the duties usually incumbent upon their said offices. The offices of Secretary and Treasurer may be vested in the same person.

The Treasurer shall enter into and file with the County Clerk of the largest county in population according to the last preceding federal census wherein the district lies his bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office. The sufficiency and amount of the bond shall be determined by the County Judge of that county before it may be filed.

Powers and Duties of Fire Commissioners; Meetings; Records; Quorum; Compensation

Sec. 14. The Board of Fire Commissioners shall administer all the affairs of said district in accordance with the provisions of this Act; shall hold regular monthly meetings, and such other meetings as deemed advisable; and shall keep proper minutes and records of all their acts and proceedings. A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum.

No fire commissioner shall receive any compensation for his services, but when on official business of the district may be compensated for their reasonable and necessary expenses. All moneys of the district shall be disbursed by check signed by the treasurer countersigned by the president, but no payments from tax moneys shall be paid unless a sworn itemized account covering the same has been presented to and approved by the board.

The board shall not later than February 1st of each year render in writing to the Commissioners Court of the county an accounting of its administration for the preceding calendar year and of the financial condition of the district.

The board shall further render such reports as may be required from time to time by the State Fire Marshall and other authorized party or agency.

No fire commissioner shall become interested in any contract or transaction in which said district is a party whereby he may receive any money consideration or other thing of value, other than as a resident or property owner of the district.

Expansion of District Territory; Petition; Hearing; Notice; Resolution; Election; Debts or Taxes

Sec. 14a. (1) Qualified voters who own taxable real property in a defined area of territory not included in a district may file a petition requesting inclusion with the secretary of the Board of Fire Commissioners. The petition shall be signed by fifty (50) such voters or a majority of such voters, whichever number is less.

(2) The board by order shall set the time and place of the hearing on the petition to include the territory in the district. The hearing shall be held not less than thirty (30) days from the date of the order.

(3)(a) The secretary of the board shall issue notice of the time and place of the hearing, and the notice shall describe the territory proposed to be annexed.

(b) The secretary shall post copies of the notice in three public places in the district and one copy in a public place in the territory proposed to be annexed. The notices shall be posted for at least fifteen (15) days before the day of the hearing.

(c) The notice shall be published one time in a newspaper with general circulation in the county. The notice shall be published at least fifteen (15) days before the day of the hearing.

(4) If the board finds after the hearing that the addition would be feasible and practical and would be of benefit to the district, it may add the territory to the district by resolution entered in its minutes. The board does not have to include all the territory described in the petition if it finds that a modification or change is necessary or desirable.

(5)(a) Annexation of the territory is not final until ratified by a majority vote of the electors at a separate election held in the district and by a majority vote of the electors at a separate election held in the territory proposed to be added.

(b) If the district has outstanding debts or taxes, the same election shall determine also whether or not the territory to be added will assume its proportion of the debts or taxes if the land is added to the district.

(6) The ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the following propositions:

(A) "Adding (description of territory to be added) to the _____ Rural Fire Prevention District."

(B) "(description of territory to be added) assuming its proportionate share of the outstanding debts and taxes of the _____ Rural Fire Prevention District, if it is added to such district."

(7) The notice of the election, the manner and time of giving the notice, the manner of holding the election, and qualifications of the voters shall be governed by other provisions of this Act, so far as applicable.

Liberal Construction of Act; Partial Invalidity

Sec. 15. The provisions of this Act and proceedings thereunder shall be liberally construed with a view to effect their objects. If any section or provision of this Act shall be adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional, such adjudications shall not affect the validity of the Act as a whole, or any section, provision, or part thereof not adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional.

Validation of Orders or Proceedings of Commissioners Court

Sec. 16. The order of any Commissioners Court by which a rural fire prevention district has been or has sought to be created or established, wholly within one county, are hereby in all things validated, ratified and confirmed, and such district shall be hereafter deemed to have been established and in existence as of the date of the entry of the order by the Commissioners Court which declared such rural fire prevention district to be in existence; provided, however, that this Act shall not apply to validate the organization or creation of such district unless each of the following steps have also been taken: (a) that the Commissioners Court has entered a finding that the court has investigated the benefits to be derived from the creation of the district and that all of the properties and persons within the territorial confines of the district will be benefited by the creation or existence of such district with the powers authorized under this law and under the provisions of Article III, Section 48-d, of the Constitution of Texas; and (b) the order creating the district has heretofore been filed in the deed records of the county, which order or supplement thereto shows the area of the district; and (c) the Commissioners Court has heretofore appointed fire commissioners for the governing of the rural fire prevention district; and (d) the proposition for the creation of the district, levying a tax, or both, has been submitted to the electorate and a majority of those participating in such election voted in favor of the district, the tax, or both, such election having been called by the Commissioners Court.

Taxation; Levy and Collection

Sec. 17. In those districts validated and declared to be and to have been established under the provisions of Section 16 of this Act, the district shall have the right to levy and collect the rate of tax of not to exceed the rate of tax voted at the election required under the provisions of Section 16; provided, however, that if the election sought to authorize more than a tax of three cents (3¢) per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation contrary to the provisions of Article III, Section 48-d of the Constitution of Texas, the provisions of this section shall not be effective.

Validation of Governmental Proceedings of Districts

Sec. 18. All governmental proceedings of the districts (which are validated by the provisions of Section 16 of this Act) are hereby in all things validated, ratified and confirmed.

Dissolution of District; Petition; Notice of Hearing

Sec. 19. (a) When it is proposed to dissolve a Rural Fire Prevention District created under this Act, a petition shall be presented to the Board of Fire Commissioners for the district signed by not less than one hundred (100) of the qualified voters who own taxable real property within the district. If there are less than one hundred (100) such voters, a majority of those qualified voters who own taxable real property in the district must sign the petition.

(b) If the petition is in proper form, the Board of Fire Commissioners shall set the day, place, and hour when it will hear and consider the petition.

(c) The Board of Fire Commissioners shall issue notices of the hearing which shall include:

- (1) the name of the district;
- (2) a description of the district's boundaries;
- (3) the proposal that the district be dissolved; and
- (4) the place, date, and time of the hearing on the petition.

(d) The notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the district once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks. The first published notice must appear at least twenty (20) days before the date of the hearing.

Hearing of Petition; Appeal

Sec. 20. (a) The Board of Fire Commissioners shall hear the petition and all issues concerning the dissolution of the district. Any person interested may appear before the board and oppose or support the proposed dissolution. The board shall grant or deny the petition.

(b) Any person or owner of real or personal property situated within the district may appeal the decision of the Board of Fire Commissioners to a district court in one (1) of the counties in which the district is located.

Election to Confirm Dissolution

Sec. 21. (a) On granting the petition, the board shall call an election to confirm the dissolution of the district.

(b) The election shall be held not less than thirty (30) days nor more than sixty (60) days after the date of the board's decision on the petition.

(c) Notice of the election shall be given in the same manner as required by Section 19 of this Act. The notice shall include:

- (1) the proposition to be submitted to the voters;
- (2) the classification of voters who are authorized to vote; and
- (3) the time and place for holding the election.

(d) The ballot shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the following: "Dissolving the Rural Fire Prevention District."

(e) The presiding judge of each voting place shall supervise the counting of all votes cast and shall certify the results to the Board of Fire Commissioners within ten (10) days after the date of the election. A copy of the results shall be filed with the County Clerk in any county in which the district is located and shall become a public record.

(f) If the majority of the voters voting in the election vote to dissolve the district, the Board of Fire Commissioners shall declare the result and proceed with dissolution.

(g) If the proposition to dissolve the district fails to carry at the election, the Board of Fire Commissioners may not order another election for the same purpose within one (1) year after the result is announced.

(h) After the dissolution of a Rural Fire Prevention District, no election may be held to create a new Rural Fire Prevention District within the boundaries of the old district for a period of one (1) year.

Administration of Property, Debts and Assets

Sec. 22. (a) The Board of Fire Commissioners shall continue to control and administer the property, debts, and assets of the district until all funds have been disposed of and all debts of the district have been paid or settled.

(b) The Board of Fire Commissioners may not dispose of the district's assets except for due compensation unless debts are transferred to another governmental entity or agency embracing the district or within the district, and the transfer will benefit the citizens of the district.

(c) After issuing the dissolution order the Board of Fire Commissioners shall:

- (1) determine the debt, if any, owed by the district; and
- (2) levy and collect a tax on the property included in the tax roll of the district in proportion of the debt to the value of the property.

(d) Each taxpayer may pay the tax at once, and the Board of Fire Commissioners shall have suit instituted, if necessary, to enforce payment of taxes and to foreclose liens to secure the payment of taxes due the district.

(e) When all outstanding debts and obligations of the district are paid, the Board of Fire Commissioners shall order the secretary of the district to return all unused tax money to the taxpayers of the district on a pro rata basis. A taxpayer may request that his share of surplus tax money be credited to his county taxes. The board shall direct the secretary to transmit any funds so requested to the County Tax Assessor-Collector.

(f) After all debts have been paid and all assets and funds have been disposed of as provided in this Act, the Board of Fire Commissioners shall file a written report with the Commissioners Court of each county in which all or part of the district is located setting forth a summary of the actions taken by the Board of Fire Commissioners in the dissolution of the district. Within ten (10) days after receiving the report and after determining that the requirements of this Act have been fulfilled, each of the Commissioners Courts shall enter an order finding the Rural Fire Prevention District dissolved, and on entry of the order, the fire commissioners shall be discharged from liability under their bonds, and the district shall be officially dissolved.

Art. 2351a-7. Fire-Fighter Training Facilities; Certificates of Indebtedness

Sec. 1. The commissioners court in all counties of this state shall be authorized, for and on behalf of each county, to issue negotiable certificates of indebtedness for the purpose of acquiring, purchasing, constructing, repairing, renovating, improving, and/or equipping fire-fighter training facilities and acquiring any real or personal property in connection therewith and to levy and pledge annual county ad valorem taxes under Article VIII, Section 9, of the Texas Constitution sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said certificates of indebtedness as the same come due. When any such certificates of indebtedness are issued, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court annually to levy the aforesaid taxes and to cause the same to be assessed and collected in an amount sufficient to pay such principal and interest. Such certificates of indebtedness may be issued in one or more series or issues, shall mature serially or otherwise not more than 40 years from their date, and shall bear interest at such rate or rates as shall be determined within the discretion of the commissioners court. Said certificates of indebtedness and any interest coupons appertaining thereto shall be negotiable instruments, and they may be made redeemable prior to maturity, may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions, and details, and shall be signed and executed, as provided by the commissioners court in the order authorizing the issuance thereof. Such certificates of indebtedness shall be sold for not less than their par value and accrued interest to date of delivery. The certificates of indebtedness may be issued by order of the commissioners court if the issuance is approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the county voting on the question at an election called by the commissioners court. The election shall be held on the next uniform election date authorized by Section 9b, Texas Election Code, as amended (Article 2.01b, Vernon's Texas Election Code), that occurs at least 20 days after the day on which the election is called. The commissioners court shall order the ballot to be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "Issuing certificates of indebtedness by the county to acquire, purchase, construct, repair, renovate, improve, or equip fire-fighter training facilities or to purchase real or personal property in connection with these facilities." Each qualified voter in the county may vote in the election. The aggregate principal amount of certificates of indebtedness issued under this Act may not exceed $5,000,000.

Sec. 2. All certificates of indebtedness issued pursuant to this Act, and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance, shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for examination. If he finds that such certificates of indebtedness have been authorized in accordance with law he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas; and after such approval and registration such certificates of indebtedness shall be incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Sec. 3. All certificates of indebtedness issued pursuant to this Act shall be legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the State of Texas and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities thereof, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. Said certificates of indebtedness also shall be eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the State of Texas and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities thereof, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of said certificates of indebtedness, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Sec. 4. The commissioners court shall be authorized to operate and maintain the county's fire-fighter training facilities and to fix and collect fees and charges for services performed and information furnished to others by the use of said facilities. The commissioners court shall pay the expenses of operation and maintenance of said facilities from such fees and charges and/or from any other available county funds.

Art. 2351b-1. Fire Protection; Counties of Less Than 20,000 Population Authorized to Contract For with Municipalities

The Commissioners Courts in counties having a population of less than twenty thousand (20,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, and a property valuation of more than One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000), according to the last approved county tax rolls, are authorized and empowered to enter into contracts and agreements with the governing bodies of municipalities within such counties for the purpose of furnishing fire protection within such counties, but outside the corporate limits of such municipalities, and to make appropriations for paying such municipalities for furnishing such fire protection.

Art. 2351b-2. Aid to State and Federal Agencies

From and after the date of passage of this Act the Commissioners Courts in all counties having a population of not less than twenty-two thousand and fifty (22,050) and not more than twenty-three thousand (23,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, shall have the power and authority to provide for facilities and such financial aid as the said Commissioners Courts may deem necessary to Federal or State government agencies and bureaus having activities or maintaining projects within the county in which the said Commissioners Court is located.

[Acts 1939, 46th Leg., Spec.Laws, p. 585, § 1.]

Art. 2351b-3. Resettlement or Rural Rehabilitation Projects; Agreements Between Commissioners Courts and United States; Payments in Lieu of Taxes

Definitions

Sec. 1. The following definitions shall be applied to the terms used in this Act:

(1) "Agreement" shall mean contract and shall include renewals and alterations of a contract.

(2) "Political subdivision" shall mean any agency or unit of this State which is now, or hereafter shall be, authorized to levy taxes or empowered to cause taxes to be levied.

(3) "Services" shall mean such public municipal functions as are performed for property in, and for persons residing within, a political subdivision.

(4) "Project" shall mean any resettlement project or rural rehabilitation project for resettlement purposes of the United States located within a political subdivision and shall include the persons inhabiting such projects.

(5) "Governing body" shall mean the board, body, or persons in which the powers of a political subdivision as a body corporate, or otherwise, are vested.

Payments by United States in Lieu of Taxes, Agreements For

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of any county in this State is hereby authorized and empowered (a) to make requests of the United States, for and on behalf of the county and political subdivisions whose jurisdictional limits are within or coextensive with the limits of the county, for the payment of such sums in lieu of taxes as the United States may agree to pay, and (b) to enter into agreements with the United States, in the name of the county, for the performance of services by the county and such political subdivisions for the benefit of a project, and for the payment by the United States to the county, in one or more installments, of sums in lieu of taxes.

Contents of Agreements; Notice to Subdivision

Sec. 3. Each agreement entered into pursuant to Section 2 shall contain the names of the political subdivisions in whose behalf it is consummated and a statement of the proportionate share of the payment by the United States to which each political subdivision shall be entitled. The Commissioners Court shall immediately notify each political subdivision in whose behalf an agreement is entered into of the consummation thereof.

Filing Agreement; Receipts

Sec. 4. The Commissioners Court shall file one copy of any agreement for a payment of sums in lieu of taxes with the County Treasurer. On or before the date on which any payment of sums in lieu of taxes is due, the County Treasurer shall present a bill to the United States, in the name of the county, in the amount of such payment. Whenever such payment is received, the County Treasurer shall issue a receipt therefor in the name of the County.

Apportionment of Payments Received; Acceptance

Sec. 5. Immediately after receiving a payment in lieu of taxes, the County Treasurer shall, without any deduction, apportion and pay it to the several political subdivisions in accordance with the agreement under which the payment was received, notwithstanding any other law controlling the expenditure of county funds. The acceptance by the governing body of a political subdivision of its share of a payment in lieu of taxes shall be construed as an approval of the agreement under which the payment was received. If any governing body shall refuse to accept a political subdivision's share of a payment in lieu of taxes, the County Treasurer shall refund the same, without any deduction, to the United States.

Powers of Subdivisions to Make Agreements With United States

Sec. 6. If the United States declines to deal with a Commissioners Court with respect to any political subdivision whose jurisdictional limits are within or coextensive with the limits of the county, or in the event the jurisdictional limits of a political subdivision lie within more than one county, that political subdivision is authorized to make requests of the United States for such payments in lieu of taxes as the United States may agree to pay. Such political subdivision is hereby empowered to enter into agreements with the United States for the performance by the political subdivision of services for the benefit of a project and for the payment by the United States to the political subdivision, in one or more installments, of sums in lieu of taxes.

Amount of Payments

Sec. 7. The amount of any payment of sums in lieu of taxes may be based on the estimated cost to each political subdivision, for and on whose behalf an agreement is entered into, of performing services for the benefit of a project during the period of an agreement, after taking into consideration the benefits to be derived by each political subdivision from such project, but shall not be in excess of the taxes which would result to each political subdivision from such project for said period if the real property of the project within each political subdivision were taxable.

Deposit of Moneys Received

Sec. 8. All money received by a political subdivision pursuant to Sections 5 and 6 shall be deposited in such fund or funds as may be designated in the agreement; provided, however, that if the agreement does not make such designation, the money shall be deposited in such fund or funds as the governing body of such political subdivision shall by appropriate resolution direct.

Services to be Furnished by Political Subdivisions for Project

Sec. 9. No provision of this Act shall be construed to relieve any political subdivision of this State, in the absence of an agreement for payment of sums in lieu of taxes by the United States, as provided in this Act, of the duty of furnishing for the benefit of a project all services which the political subdivision usually furnished to property in, and to persons residing within, the political subdivision without a payment of sums in lieu of taxes.

Art. 2351b-4. National Forests, Prorating Receipts From Federal Government

Whereas Congress has heretofore passed a law which provides that thereafter twenty-five per centum (25%) of all moneys received during any fiscal year from each national forest shall be paid at the end thereof by the Secretary of the Treasury to the State or Territory in which said forest is situated to be expended as the State or Territorial Legislature may prescribe for the benefit of the public schools and the public roads of the county or counties in which the national forest is situated, and whereas the Legislature of the State of Texas has not prescribed any method for prorating said funds, now, therefore, be it enacted that the Commissioners Courts of the counties in Texas in which such national forests are situated are hereby authorized to prorate all such funds received and to be received from the Federal Government for timber and all other income derived from such lands as follows:

Fifty per cent (50%) of such money received shall be allocated to the school districts in proportion to the area in said districts, and fifty per cent (50%) of same to the county for the benefit of the public roads in said county. Provided the Commissioners Court may transfer the fifty per cent (50%) received by said Court to the school districts.

[Acts 1945, 49th Leg., p. 29, c. 19, § 1.]

Art. 2351c. Court Houses and Criminal Court Buildings; Maintenance and Operation Employees Under Control of Commissioners' Courts in Counties of Over 500,000

In all Counties having a population of more than five hundred thousand (500,000), according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, all employees necessary to the repair, maintenance, and operation of all court houses and Criminal Court Buildings shall be under the direction and control of the Commissioners' Court. The Court may designate a building superintendent who shall appoint all necessary employees subject to confirmation by the Commissioners' Court. The Court shall have the right to discharge any such employee at any time for cause. Such appointments shall be in writing, shall be signed by the employee, state the nature of the duties to be performed, the period for which such employment is made, the hours to be worked, and the amount to be paid, and shall conform to the requirements and be subject to the limitations provided by Section 19, Chapter 465, Acts of 1935, Second Called Session.¹ Such employments shall in no event extend beyond January 1st of the year succeeding the appointment, but may be renewed from year to year. The number of persons to be employed and the amounts to be paid shall be subject to the approval of the County Auditor. All laws regulating the making of employments, the accounting for funds, and all budget laws and regulations applicable in the Counties to which this Act applies shall apply to such employments, except insofar as in conflict with this Act, in which event this Act shall control. All employees, including jail guards, matrons, elevator operators and other such employees engaged in the operation of the jails in such Counties shall continue to be employed and discharged by the Sheriff in the manner now provided by law, and all employees necessary for the proper conduct of the jails or the safekeeping of the prisoners shall be subject to the exclusive direction and control of the Sheriff of such County.

Art. 2351d. Purchases Through State Board of Control

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court of each county, from and after the effective date of this Act, is hereby authorized to purchase any road machinery, road equipment, tires and tubes to be used by the county through the State Board of Control. If the Commissioners Court elects to purchase such road machinery, road equipment, tires and tubes by and through the State Board of Control, such road machinery, road equipment, tires and tubes shall be purchased on competitive bids under such rules and regulations as may be made by the State Board of Control. Such purchases shall be made on requisition of the Commissioners Court. The Commissioners Court making such requisition for the purchase of any road machinery, road equipment and tires and tubes shall, when sending in the requisition therefor, include therewith a general description of the article desired and shall certify the funds that will be available to pay therefor.

Sec. 2. The State Board of Control shall have the power to make any rules or to adopt any regulations to effectuate the purpose of this Act.

Sec. 3. This Act shall be cumulative and in addition to all of the laws pertaining to the purchase of road machinery, road equipment, tires and tubes by counties and shall be construed as an additional method for such purchase.

Sec. 4. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word of this Act is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act, and the Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed such remaining portions despite such invalidity

Art. 2351f-1. Perpetual Trust Fund to Maintain Cemeteries

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of any county by resolution may authorize creation of a perpetual trust fund to provide for maintenance and upkeep of neglected and unkept public and private cemeteries in the county, and in the event such action is taken by the commissioners court, it shall appoint the county judge as trustee for such perpetual trust fund.

Sec. 2. The trustee may make reasonable rules and regulations relating to gifts, grants, and donations from any source and to amounts necessary for the permanent maintenance and upkeep of the cemeteries.

Sec. 3. (a) Any person interested in the maintenance and upkeep of neglected and unkept public or private cemeteries within the county may make donations to the trust fund, and acceptance of the funds by the trustee constitutes a permanent and perpetual trust fund for maintenance and upkeep of such cemeteries.

(b) On acceptance of the donations, the trustee shall instruct the county treasurer to issue to each donor a certificate which states:

- (1) the purpose of the donation;
- (2) the amount of the donation; and
- (3) any other information the trustee considers necessary.

Sec. 4. The trustee may invest and reinvest funds of the trust in interest-bearing bonds or securities of federal, state, and local governments, including municipalities and political subdivisions of the state.

Sec. 5. Interest, revenue or any other accrual or increase of funds in the trust fund shall be used only for maintenance and upkeep of neglected and unkept public and private cemeteries in the county, but the original amount of the trust fund shall remain intact as a permanent principal trust fund.

Sec. 6. The provisions of this Act shall not be construed to prevent any person who has an interest in a grave or burial lot or who has kinship within the third degree of affinity or consanguinity to those interred from caring for a particular grave or burial lot in any cemetery maintained and kept by the trustee under this Act.

Sec. 7. After a trust fund is established under this Act, if the county judge refuses to act as trustee, or if the county judge dies or resigns or renounces the trust, the district judge shall appoint a new trustee to carry out the trust. The new trustee appointed shall be a person other than a county commissioner.

Sec. 8. Except as provided for counties with a population of 8,200 or less, the trustee, the commissioners court, and other elected public officials of the county are hereby prohibited from paying or using any public funds, or using county employees or county equipment and property for the purpose of maintenance and upkeep of neglected and unkept public and private cemeteries.

Sec. 9. If on September 1, 1976, a county owned a cemetery and continued to own it on January 1, 1979, or if during 1976 a county used county funds, employees, equipment, or property for the maintenance and upkeep of a county-owned cemetery, the county may continue to own the cemetery or to provide for its maintenance and upkeep, or both, and the prohibition stated in Section 8 of this Act does not apply. A county exercising the power granted herein shall file with the secretary of state a certified copy of its commissioners court certifying that such county qualifies under this section. Such order shall be kept in a register entitled "County-Owned and-Operated Cemeteries."

Art. 2351f-2. Counties of 8,200 or Less; Ownership, Operation, and Maintenance of Cemeteries

Sec. 1. A county with a population of 8,200 or less according to the last preceding federal census may own, operate, and maintain cemeteries and may sell the right of burial within the cemetery. The sale of the right of burial is exempt from the requirements of Article 1577, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended. Revenue received from the sale of the right of burial may be used for the purchase of additional land to be used for cemetery purposes and for general upkeep of county cemetery property.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of a county subject to this Act may spend money in the general fund for the purpose of maintenance and upkeep of public cemeteries in the county, and may dedicate up to one-eighth of the maximum allowable tax levy to that purpose.

Sec. 3. The commissioners court of a county subject to this Act shall serve as the Cemetery Board of the county and be responsible for the management of the cemetery property.

Sec. 1. Commissioners Courts of the counties of the State of Texas, are hereby authorized on behalf of the counties, to acquire by easement or in fee simple, lands on which to locate public dumping and garbage disposal grounds, and to expend moneys out of the General Fund for the purpose of acquiring such easements or fee simple title, either by purchase or by condemnation.

Sec. 2. The location of such dumping or garbage disposal grounds, and the consideration to be paid therefore, shall be a matter committed to the sound discretion of the Commissioners Courts, taking into consideration the convenience of the people to be served, and the general health of, and the annoyance to, the community to be served by such dumping and garbage disposal grounds.

Sec. 3. Counties are hereby given the right of eminent domain in acquiring such grounds in accordance with the provisions of the eminent domain Statutes of the State of Texas; provided, however, that counties shall not have the right of eminent domain in acquiring such grounds as against corporations which also have the right of eminent domain by Statute.

Sec. 4. Chapter 464, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955 (codified as Article 2351g, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is repealed.

Art. 2351h. Counties of 800,000 or More; Petty Cash Fund for County Welfare Department; Audits

Sec. 1. In all counties in the State of eight hundred thousand (800,000) population or over, the Commissioners Courts in providing for the support of paupers, through a County Welfare Department, may authorize the disbursement of not to exceed Two thousand, Five Hundred Dollars ($2,500) to the head of such department to be used as a petty cash fund, so that immediate cash for transportation and other expenses of such paupers may be handled without delay. This fund must be established under such system as provided and installed by the county auditor of such county, with such reports as required by him to be made by the head of the Welfare Department.

In making payments to support such paupers as should be furnished support by the counties, the Commissioners Court may, with the concurrence of the county auditors, make one (1) payment to the head of the Welfare Department, with the actual disbursements to be made to such paupers by such head of the County Welfare Department on warrants designed by the county auditor, and further subject to his audit at any time. Such disbursements, if made in the prescribed manner, shall be reported on such forms and at such times as the county auditor may prescribe.

Sec. 2. This Act shall be cumulative with all other laws pertaining to this subject unless they be in conflict with this Act, in which cases this Act shall govern.

Art. 2352. May Levy Taxes

Said court shall have the power to levy and collect a tax for county purposes, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, and a tax not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation to supplement the jury fund of the county, and not to exceed fifteen cents for roads and bridges on the one hundred dollars valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the amendment to the Constitution, September 25, A.D. 1883, and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, water works and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation in any one year, and except as in the Constitution otherwise provided. They may levy an additional tax for road purposes not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollar valuation of the property subject to taxation, under the limitations and in the manner provided for in Article 8, Sec. 9, of the Constitution and in pursuance of the laws relating thereto.

Art. 2352a. County Tax for Advertising

That in all counties in Texas having a population of at least 202,000 inhabitants and less than 210,000 inhabitants, as shown by the Census of 1920, a direct tax of not over five cents on the valuation of One Hundred Dollars may be authorized and levied by the Commissioners' Court of such county for the purpose of advertising said county and its county seat, provided that all such levy of taxes shall be submitted to the qualified tax-paying voters of the county and a majority vote shall be necessary to levy the taxes.

Art. 2352b. Unconstitutional

This article, derived from Acts 1935, 44th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 1541, ch. 370, was a local law applicable only to El Paso County and hence void as making an unreasonable classification bearing no relation to the object sought to be accomplished by the act. Miller v. El Paso County, (1941) 136 T. 370, 150 S.W.2d 1000.

Art. 2352c. County Tax for Advertising in Counties of 40,000 to 50,000 Population; Board of County Development

Sec. 1. In all counties in this State having a population of not less than forty thousand (40,000) inhabitants and not more than fifty thousand (50,000) inhabitants, and containing a city having a population of not less than thirty thousand (30,000) inhabitants nor more than forty thousand (40,000) inhabitants, as shown by the last preceding Federal Census, a direct tax of not over five cents (5c) on the valuation of One Hundred Dollars ($100) may be authorized and levied by the Commissioners Court of such county, for the purpose of advertising and promoting the growth and development of said county and its county seat; provided that before the Commissioners Court of any such counties shall be authorized to levy any tax for such purpose, the qualified taxpaying voters of the county shall by a majority vote authorize the Commissioners Court to thereafter levy annually a tax not to exceed five cents (5c) on the one hundred dollars assessed valuation.

Sec. 2. The amount of money collected from such levy of taxes by the Commissioners Court of any such county shall be paid to the Board of County Development in twelve (12) monthly installments as collected. All moneys received by the Board of County Development from such tax shall be expended only for the purposes authorized by this Act, and such Board shall annually render an itemized account to the County Auditor of all receipts and disbursements.

Sec. 3. There is hereby created in such counties as may vote in favor of this tax a Board of County Development, which shall devote its time and efforts to the growth, advertisement, and development of any such county. The Board of County Development shall consist of five (5) members; two (2) to be appointed by the Commissioners Court of such counties, representative of the agricultural interest of such counties, and three (3) of whom shall be appointed by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the county seat of such county. Said members shall serve for a period of two (2) years from their appointment, without compensation, and until their successors are appointed and accept such appointment. Vacancies on such Board shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointments, and by the same agencies.

All members of such Board of County Development shall be qualified tax-paying voters of the county in which they are appointed to serve.

[Acts 1939, 46th Leg., Spec.Laws, p. 966.]

Art. 2352d. Appropriations for Advertising and Promoting Growth and Development by Certain Counties; Board of Development

Appropriation

Sec. 1. All counties in the State of Texas may appropriate from the General Fund of said counties an amount not exceeding Five Cents (5c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) assessed valuation for the purpose of advertising and promoting the growth and development of such county; providing that before the Commissioners Court of any county may appropriate any sums for such purpose, the qualified taxpaying voters of said county shall, by a majority vote of the persons voting at such election, authorize the County Commissioners to thereafter appropriate not to exceed Five Cents (5c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) assessed valuation.

Board of Development Fund; Budget

Sec. 2. The amount of money approved by the Commissioners Court for the Board of Development shall constitute a separate fund to be known as the Board of Development Fund and shall not be used for any other purpose. Each claim against the Board of Development shall be authorized and approved by the Board of Development before presented for payment and after such approval, shall be presented to the Commissioners Court and acted upon as all other claims against the Commissioners Court.

The Board of Development hereinafter provided for shall annually in advance, prepare and submit to the Commissioners Court a budget for the ensuing year in the same manner as required of counties. The money appropriated annually shall be governed by the discretion of the Commissioners Court, but in no event shall said sum be in excess of Five Cents (5c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) assessed valuation.

Board of Development

Sec. 3. There is hereby created, in counties qualifying under this law, a Board of Development, which shall devote its time and effort for the purpose of advertising and promoting the growth and development of any such county. The Board of Development shall be authorized to expend any sums reasonably necessary to accomplish its purposes for personnel, rent, and materials, subject to the approval of the Commissioners Court.

The Board of Development shall consist of five (5) members, to be appointed by the Commissioners Court; said members shall serve for a period of two (2) years from their appointment, without compensation and until their successors are appointed and accept said appointment. Vacancies on such Board shall be filled by the Commissioners Court in the same manner as the original appointment.

Law as Cumulative; Maximum Appropriation

Sec. 4. This law shall be cumulative of all other laws authorizing counties to appropriate money, or to levy a tax for advertising and promotional purposes, and counties shall have the option of operating under any one applicable law, but in any event, the maximum amount of money which can be appropriated for such purpose shall not exceed the limits herein fixed.

Appropriations Validated

Sec. 5. Any sums heretofore appropriated or expended for advertising or promotional purposes under any such previous Acts are hereby validated.

Art. 2352e. Water Supply for County Purposes; Authority to Acquire Treatment and Distribution Facilities

Adoption of Provisions of Act by Commissioners Court

Sec. 1. The provisions of this Act may be adopted by an order of the Commissioners Court of any county within this state only upon the unanimous vote of the members of such court.

Authority to Acquire or Construct Source of Supply; Pools, Lakes, Reservoirs, Wells, Dams; Treatment and Distribution Facilities; Limitation on Cost

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of any county is hereby authorized to acquire by purchase, construction or otherwise an adequate source of fresh water, either surface or subterranean, for the purpose of supplying water to the courthouse and for other county purposes provided that such county shall comply with the provisions of Chapter I, Title 128, R.C.S. of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ relating to water permits, where applicable; and in the furtherance of such project such county shall be authorized and empowered to purchase, construct, repair and maintain pools, lakes, reservoirs, wells, dams, and such treatment and distribution facilities as may be required, all of which is hereinafter sometimes referred to as the project; provided, however, that no project or projects adopted by any one county under the provisions of this Act shall exceed the total cost of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000), exclusive of interest.

Sale of Water Not Needed for County Purposes

Sec. 3. The Commissioners Court of any county is hereby authorized and empowered to sell, contract to sell, deliver and distribute any or all water of the project which is not needed for county purposes to any municipal corporation or political subdivision of this state now created or existing or hereafter established under the laws of the State of Texas, or to any individual, corporation or company under such terms and conditions as the court may determine to be in the best interests of the county, but in no event may the county sell water under the terms of this Section if an adequate public water supply is available to such municipal corporation, political subdivision, individual, corporation or company at the time the provisions of this Act are adopted by the county, nor shall the county sell water under this Act for irrigation purposes. The cost of supplying the water, including any increase in the cost of acquisition, storage, treatment and distribution facilities shall be considered a part of the cost of the project as such term is used in the preceding and following Sections.

Bond Issue; Ad Valorem Tax; Rates and Charges for Water; Limitation on Cost of Project

Sec. 4. (a) For the purpose of paying the cost of the project, including, without limitation, legal, fiscal, engineering expenses, and interest during the construction of the project, the county may, after approval in an election as hereinafter provided, issue its negotiable bonds payable from and secured by a pledge of the net revenues of the project. When so provided in the order, and after an election, authorizing the issuance of bonds, bonds issued by the county may be additionally secured by levy of an ad valorem tax on the taxable property of the county out of the Permanent Improvement Tax prescribed under Article 8, Section 9 of the Constitution. If the bonds are to be supported by a tax, the Commissioners Court shall levy such tax sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds as it accrues and the principal as it matures, but the order authorizing the issuance of the bonds may provide that the amount of tax to be collected each year may be reduced or abated to the extent that money is on hand from the pledged revenues applicable to the payment of interest and principal.

(b) As to bonds issued by the county secured solely by a pledge of net revenues of the project as aforesaid, it shall be the mandatory duty of the Commissioners Court to contract for and impose such rates and charges, for water supplied by the project as will be fully sufficient to operate and maintain the project and produce all amounts required to pay principal and interest on the bonds when due, and establish such reserves as may be provided in the order authorizing the issuance of such bonds.

(c) All water used by the county for its own facilities shall be paid for out of general funds of the county legally available for such purpose and no free service shall be allowed.

(d) Prior to the construction of the proposed work or any future additional improvements, works or construction, the Commissioners Court must enter a resolution ordering an election on a day certain. Based on such order, notice of such election shall be given, returns made, result declared, orders entered, tax levied, certified, assessed, or collected, and all other matters applicable shall be performed as required by the resolution and order. The order shall set forth the proposed project, the amount of bonds to be issued to pay for the same, their rate of interest and maturity dates, and shall show whether or not a tax shall be levied to redeem such bonds and if so the amount of the tax.

(e) In the event a majority of the electors who own taxable property in the county and who have duly rendered the same for taxation approve the issuance of the bonds, then the Commissioners Court shall issue such bonds as hereinafter provided. In no event shall any single project proposed by the Commissioners Court require the issuance of bonds whose total par value is in excess of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000).

(f) The Commissioners Court shall have full discretion in fixing the details of the bonds and in determining the manner of sale thereof provided the bonds shall bear interest at not exceeding six percent (6%) per annum and mature in not more than forty (40) years from their date and such order may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the county in relation to the acquisition of properties and the construction, maintenance, operation, repair and insurance of the project, and the custody, safeguarding, and application of all moneys, and may set forth the rights and remedies of the bondholders and may contain such other provisions as the Commissioners Court may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders, including but without limitation covenants prescribing all happenings or occurrences which constitute events of default and the rights, liabilities, powers and duties arising upon breach by the county of any of its duties or obligations. The bonds may be made redeemable prior to maturity in such manner and at such prices as may be determined by the Commissioners Court in the order authorizing their issuance. All bonds issued hereunder shall and are hereby declared to have all the qualifications and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of Texas. The proceeds of the bonds shall be used solely to pay the cost of the project as above provided, and shall be disbursed under such restrictions as may be provided in the bond order, and there shall be and is hereby created and granted a lien upon such moneys until so applied in favor of the holders of the bonds. Pending use of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds for the construction of the project such proceeds may be invested in direct obligations of the United States Government having maturities not more than ninety-one (91) days from the date of investment. Unless otherwise provided in such order or indenture, if the proceeds of the bonds prove insufficient to pay the cost of the project, additional bonds may be issued under the methods herein prescribed to the amount of the deficit.

Bonds Not Supported by Tax Levy as Revenue Bonds

Sec. 5. If the bonds are not supported by a tax levy, they shall never constitute a debt of the county, but shall be solely a charge upon the pledged revenues, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of the county to issue bonds or incur other debt for any purpose authorized by law, and each bond shall contain this cause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Bonds; Signature; Registration; Approval by Attorney General; Incontestability

Sec. 6. The bonds shall be signed by the county judge and attested by the county clerk, but the facsimile signature of such officials may be printed or lithographed on the bonds in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 293, Acts of the 54th Legislature, 1955.¹ The county treasurer shall register the bonds, but he need not sign them. The seal of the Commissioners Court shall be impressed on the bonds or a facsimile of the seal may be printed or lithographed thereon. The bonds and the record relating to their issuance shall be presented to the Attorney General of Texas, and if they have been issued in accordance with the Constitution and this law he shall approve them. Upon approval by the Attorney General the bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and thereafter the bonds and the provisions made for their security and payment shall be incontestable.

Acquisition of Land and Easements; Eminent Domain; Relocation

Sec. 7. For the purpose of carrying out any power or authority conferred by this Act the county shall have the right to acquire land and easements, by condemnation in the manner provided by Title 52, Revised Civil Statutes, as amended, relating to eminent domain.¹ The amount of and character of interest in land and easements thus to be acquired shall be determined by the Commissioners Court. In the event that the county, in the exercise of the power of eminent domain or power of relocation, or any other power granted hereunder, makes necessary the relocation, raising, rerouting, or changing the grade of, or altering the construction of any highway, railroad, electric transmission line or pipeline or telephone or telegraph properties and facilities, all such necessary relocation, raising, rerouting, changing of grade or alteration of construction shall be accomplished at the sole expense of the county. The term "sole expense" shall mean the actual cost of relocation, raising, rerouting, change in grade or alteration of construction in providing comparable replacement without enhancement of such facilities, after deducting therefrom the net salvage value derived from the old facility.

¹ Repealed; see, now, Property Code, § 21.001 et seq.

Additional Bonds; Pledge of Revenues; Security

Sec. 8. Additional bonds payable solely by a pledge of the net revenues of the project as well as additional bonds payable from the net revenues of the project and additionally secured by levy of an ad valorem tax on the taxable property of the county may be issued for the purpose of improving, repairing or extending the project or for any or all such purposes if permitted by the order authorizing the original issue of bonds, and if authorized by proper election.

Refunding Bonds; Issuance; Interest

Sec. 9. Subject to any restrictions which may appear in the bond authorizing order, the Commissioners Court may provide for the issuance of bonds for the purpose of refunding any of the bonds issued under this Act and at the time outstanding. The issuance of such refunding bonds, the maturities and other terms thereof, the rights of the holders thereof, and the duties of the county in respect to the same, shall be governed by the foregoing provisions of this Act insofar as the same may be applicable, but no such refunding bonds shall be delivered unless delivered in exchange for the bonds authorized to be refunded thereby or unless sold and delivered to provide funds for the payment of matured or redeemable bonds maturing or redeemable within six (6) months. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than borne by the bonds refunded, unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total of interest to be paid.

Bonds as Legal Investments; Bonds as Security for Deposits of Public Funds

Sec. 10. All bonds issued under this law shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value.

Mandamus to Compel Levy and Collection of Taxes and to Perform Agreements

Sec. 11. The holder or holders of any of such bonds herein authorized to be issued shall have the right, in addition to all other rights, by mandamus or other proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction to enforce his or their rights against the county and its employees and against the agents and the employees thereof, including but not limited to the right to require the county to impose and collect sufficient rates and charges to carry out the agreements contained in the bond order and to perform all agreements and covenants therein contained and duties arising therefrom.

Taxes Pledged to Pay Bonds

Sec. 12. Obligations issued pursuant to the provisions of this Act which are secured wholly or partially by a pledge of taxes out of the Permanent Improvement Tax prescribed under Article 8, Section 9 of the Constitution shall be considered as payable wholly from such tax for the purpose of determining the availability of taxing power of the county to pay obligations which are payable from such tax.

Law Cumulative

Sec. 13. This Act is declared cumulative of all other Acts or laws and the powers, rights and privileges and functions hereby conferred shall not prevent the exercise by any county of any and all other powers, rights, privileges, or functions conferred upon such county by any other Act or law now existing or hereafter enacted. Specifically, nothing herein shall prevent any county from issuing warrants in connection with the project in the manner prescribed by Chapter 163, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, 1931, as amended.¹

Facilities, Etc., Free From Taxation; Bonds Tax Exempt

Sec. 14. The accomplishment of the purposes stated in this Act being for the benefit of the people of this state, and for the improvement of their commerce and property, the county in carrying out the purposes of this Act will be performing an essential governmental function and shall not be required to pay any tax or assessment on the project or any part thereof, and the bonds issued hereunder and their transfer and the income therefrom including any profits made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation within this state.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 15. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this Act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or ineffective, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this Act, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment has been rendered.

Time Limitation on Adoption by County

Sec. 15a. No county may adopt the provisions of this Act after September 1, 1963.

[Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 990, ch. 433.]

Art. 2352f. State Association of Counties; Membership Fees and Dues

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of each county within the state is authorized to approve the expenditure of county funds from the general fund for membership fees and dues assessed by a nonprofit state association or organization of counties if:

- (1) the membership in such association is approved by majority vote of the commissioners court;
- (2) such association is established and designed for the betterment of county government and the benefit of all county officials;
- (3) the expenditure authorized by this section is made in the name of the county;
- (4) such association is not affiliated in any way with a labor organization;
- (5) such association or any employee thereof, does not in any way, directly or indirectly, influence or attempt to influence the outcome of any legislation pending before the Legislature of the State of

Texas; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent any agent, servant, or representative of such association from providing information for any member of the Legislature, or from appearing before any committee thereof when requested to do so by said member or committee; and

(6) such association or any employee thereof does not, either directly or indirectly, make any contribution, gift or donation of any money, services or other valuable thing to any political campaign or does not endorse any candidate or group of candidates for public office.

Sec. 2. If any association or organization supported in whole or in part by tax money from a political subdivision engages in any act specified in Subdivisions (5) and (6) of Section 1 of this Act, any taxpayer of a political subdivision which pays fees or dues to such association or organization may bring suit to prohibit the political subdivision from making further expenditures to such association or organization and the court upon proof of the violation of any provision hereof shall enjoin any further payments or activity.

Art. 2352g. Water Supply or Sewage System in Matagorda County

Sec. 1. Matagorda County, acting through its commissioners court, may acquire or construct and may operate a water supply or sewage system serving parts of the county outside the limits of an incorporated city or town.

Sec. 2. Matagorda County may enter management or lease agreements with another public or private entity for operation of a county water or sewage system acquired or constructed under this Act.

Sec. 3. Matagorda County may apply for and receive grants or other assistance from any state or federal governmental entity for the purposes of this Act.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1625, ch. 639, §§ 1 to 3, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 2352h. Contracts or Agreements for Water Supply or Sewer System in Counties Over 900,000

Contract or Agreement with District

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of a county having a population of more than 900,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may enter into contracts or other agreements with any district created under Article III, Sections 52(b)(1) and (2), or Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution under which the district will provide and operate a water supply or sewage system or both in parts of the county outside the limits of an incorporated city or town in the county.

Distribution of Federal and State Funds

Sec. 2. The commissioners court, by order, may distribute to a district that is a party to a contract or agreement under Section 1 of this Act, federal funds and state water conservation and development funds received by the county. Funds distributed by the commissioners court under this section shall be used only for the construction, renovation, and maintenance of a water supply or sewage system or both that is covered by a contract or other agreement made by the county under this Act.

Acts and Services to be Within District Powers

Sec. 3. The acts performed by and the services provided by a district under a contract or agreement under this Act must be within the scope of the powers, duties, and purposes of the district as provided by the laws under which the district was created.

Jeopardization of Quality of Service Prohibited

Sec. 4. No contract or agreement may be entered into under this Act if it will jeopardize the quality of service provided by the district to those persons residing in the district as determined by the Texas Department of Water Resources.

Contract or Agreement Covering City or Town Extraterritorial Jurisdiction; Approval

Sec. 5. Before a district and a county may enter into a contract or agreement under this Act covering any of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city or town as defined in the Municipal Annexation Act, as amended (Article 970a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the parties must submit the contract or agreement to the city or town and must receive the approval of the city or town for the contract.

Area Outside District; Use of Funds Prohibited

Sec. 6. If a contract or agreement under this Act covers an area that is not located within the boundaries of the contracting district, no funds of the district may be used to carry out the provisions of the contract or agreement.

Approval of Contract or Agreement

Sec. 7. Before the parties to a contract or agreement under this Act enter into a binding contract or agreement, the parties shall submit the contract or agreement to and shall have it approved by the Texas Department of Water Resources. The Texas Department of Water Resources shall examine the contract or agreement to assure that the interests of the residents of the district will be served and protected and may submit suggested changes to the parties for inclusion in the contract or agreement before the department gives its final approval.

Art. 2352i. Hotel Occupancy TaxDefinitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Hotel" means a building or buildings in which the public may, for a consideration, obtain sleeping accommodations. The term includes hotels; motels; tourist homes, houses, or courts; lodging houses; inns; rooming houses; or other buildings where rooms are furnished for a consideration, but "hotel" does not include a hospital, sanitarium, or nursing home.

(2) "Consideration" means the cost of the room in a hotel only if the room is one ordinarily used for sleeping, and does not include the cost of food served or personal services rendered to the occupant of the room not related to the cleaning and readying of the room for occupancy.

(3) "Occupancy" means the use or possession, or the right to the use or possession, of a room in a hotel if the room is one ordinarily used for sleeping and if the occupant's use, possession, or right to use or possession extends for a period of less than 30 days.

(4) "Occupant" means anyone who for a consideration uses, possesses, or has a right to use or possess a room in a hotel if the room is one ordinarily used for sleeping.

Hotel Occupancy Tax Authorized

Sec. 2. A county in which there is no incorporated city or town may levy, by adoption of a resolution by the commissioners court, a tax upon the cost of occupancy of any sleeping room furnished by any hotel, where the cost of occupancy is at the rate of $2 or more per day. The tax may not exceed four percent of the consideration paid by the occupant of the sleeping room to the hotel.

Penalties and Interest

Sec. 2A. The owner or operator of a hotel shall report and remit the taxes collected under this Act to the county as provided by the resolution or an amendment to the resolution imposing the tax authorized by this Act. If the owner fails to pay the tax when due or file a report when required, the owner shall pay a penalty of five percent of the amount of the tax due. If the owner fails to pay the tax or file the report within 30 days after the day on which the tax was due or the report was required, he shall pay an additional penalty of five percent of the amount of the tax due. Delinquent taxes and accrued penalties draw interest at the rate of 10 percent a year beginning 60 days after the day on which the tax was due.

Disposition of Revenue

Sec. 3. The revenue derived from an occupancy tax authorized by this Act may only be used for:

(1) the acquisition of sites for and the construction, improvement, enlarging, equipping, repairing, operation, and maintenance of convention center facilities including, but not limited to, civic center convention buildings, auditoriums, coliseums, civic theaters, museums, and parking areas or facilities for the parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances located at or in the immediate vicinity of the convention center facilities;

(2) the furnishing of facilities, personnel, and materials for the registration of convention delegates or registrants;

(3) advertising for general promotional and tourist advertising of the county and conducting a solicitation and operating program to attract conventions and visitors either by the county or through contracts with persons or organizations selected by the commissioner's court;

(4) the encouragement, promotion, improvement, and application of the arts, including music (instrumental and vocal), dance, drama, folk art, creative writing, architecture, design and allied fields, painting, sculpture, photography, graphic and craft arts, motion pictures, television, radio, tape and sound recording, and the arts related to the presentation, performance, execution, and exhibition of these major art forms; and

(5) historical preservation and restoration.

[Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 404, ch. 168, eff. May 20, 1981. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 407, ch. 82, § 1, eff. May 10, 1983.]

Section 3 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"(a) The penalties imposed by this Act apply to taxes that become delinquent on or after the effective date of this Act.

"(b) Interest under this Act begins to accrue on all taxes that on the effective date of this Act are 60 or more days delinquent."

Art. 2352j. County Equipment and Employees Used to Assist Other Governmental Entities

A commissioners court of a county may use its road equipment, other construction equipment, including trucks, and employees necessary to operate the equipment to assist another governmental entity on any project so long as the cost does not exceed $3,000 if:

(1) the use of the equipment or employees does not interfere with the county's work schedule; and

(2) the county does not pay any costs related to the use of the equipment or employees that the county would not pay if the assistance were not given to the other governmental entity.

Art. 2353d. Local Option Elections in Certain Counties Respecting Annual Tax for Domestic Livestock Protective Fund

Additional Assistance to Law Enforcement Officers

Sec. 1. In all counties in this State having ten thousand (10,000) or more cattle, sheep, and goats rendered for taxation, the qualified voters of such county may, as hereinafter provided, employ additional assistance to the law enforcement officers of such county as hereinafter provided.

Upon the petition of ten (10) per cent of the qualified voters of such county, presented to the Commissioners Court in open Regular Session, requesting such Court to order an election to be held in such county to determine whether or not said

Court, when acting as a Board of Equalization in such county, shall levy, and cause to be assessed and collected an annual tax not to exceed one (1) cent per head on all sheep and goats and not to exceed five (5) cents per head on all cattle, within such county; said Court shall order such election to be held within such county, in accordance with the petition therefor; and said Court shall forthwith order such election to be held in the voting places within such county, upon a day not less than ten (10), nor more than twenty (20) days, from the date of said order and the order thus made, shall express the object of such election and shall be held to be prima facie evidence that all the provisions necessary to give it validity have been duly complied with; and provided further that such Court shall appoint such officers to hold such election as is now required to hold general elections. The expenses of such election shall be borne by the county wherein such election is ordered and held. In such election so held, the ballot shall read as follows:

“For the levy, assessment, and collection of an annual tax on cattle, sheep, and goats.”

“Against the levy, assessment, and collection of an annual tax on cattle, sheep, and goats.”

Returns of such election shall be made by the presiding officer of the precincts of such county where such election is held, to the County Judge of said county, who shall forthwith call the Commissioners Court together for the purpose of canvassing the returns; and if it shall be found by the Commissioners Court, upon a canvass of such returns, that a majority of the qualified voters of the county wherein such election is held, is in favor of the levy, assessment, and collection of the annual tax on sheep and goats of not more than one (1) cent per head and on cattle not more than five (5) cents per head, then said Court shall forthwith declare the results of said election and give public notice thereof by proclamation of said Court to be issued and posted at three (3) public places of the county in which such election is held; and shall thereafter, at the next succeeding meeting of said Court acting as the Board of Equalization for such county, levy and cause to be assessed and collected by the Assessor and Collector of Taxes for such county, not more than one (1) cent per head on all sheep and goats and not more than five (5) cents per head on all cattle within such county, on the 1st day of January preceding the date of such meeting.

Tax Moneys to be Deposited in Domestic Livestock Protective Fund

Sec. 2. All moneys assessed and collected by the Assessor and Collector of Taxes for each county of this State as provided for in Section 1 hereof, shall be paid by said Collector unto the County Treasurer of such County, and said Treasurer shall deposit said moneys to a fund to be known as “The Domestic Livestock Protective Fund,” and such moneys shall never be expended for any other purpose than is herein provided.

Employment of Enforcement Officers by Commissioners Court; Compensation; Duties; Reports

Sec. 3. To aid in the enforcement of all the Penal Laws of this State and in ferreting out and detecting any violation thereof, it shall be the duty of the Commissioners Court of such county adopting the provisions hereof, and they are hereby authorized and required to employ for such service, in addition to the officers now provided for by law, as many other competent and discreet persons as, in the judgment of said Court, is deemed necessary for said purposes, and shall fix their compensation; provided however, no such person, or persons, shall be paid in excess of Five Dollars ($5) per day, while in actual service; and provided further that at no time, shall the moneys expended in the payment of such person, or persons, for such services, exceed the amount of money collected therefor. Such Court shall designate the duties to be performed by all such persons and shall require them to make monthly reports in writing to said Court as to the manner in which they have performed such duties.

Art. 2354. When Tax Levied; Votes Required

(a) A county tax may be levied at any regularly scheduled meeting of the court when at least four members of the court are present.

(b) A county may not levy a tax unless at least three members of the court vote in favor of the levy.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2647, ch. 455, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 1984.]

Art. 2354a. Expired

This article, derived from Acts 1943, 48th Leg., p. 381, ch. 256, § 2, expired by its own terms on May 1, 1945.

Art. 2355. To Fill Vacancies

The Court shall have power to fill vacancies in the office of: County Judge, County Clerk, joint District-County Clerk, Sheriff, County Attorney, County Treasurer, County Surveyor, County Hide Inspector, Assessor of Taxes, Collector of Taxes, Justices of the Peace, Constables, and County Superintendent of Public Instruction. Such vacancies shall be filled by a majority vote of the members of said Court, present and voting, and the person chosen shall hold office until the next general election.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1927, 40th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 248, ch. 90, § 1; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 82, ch. 12, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1983.]

Art. 2356. Bridges in Corporate Limits

Said court may erect bridges within the corporate limits of any city or town to the same extent and under the same conditions now prescribed by law for the construction of bridges outside the limits of any city or town. Said court and the governing body of any city or town may co-operate in the erection of a bridge within the corporate limits of a city or town, and jointly erect such bridge upon terms and conditions mutually agreed upon; and either or both the city and county may issue its bonds to pay its proportionate part of the debt by complying with the requirements of the law regulating the issuance of bonds by counties and cities and towns.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2357. Shall Keep in Repair

The commissioners court of counties owning bridges, situated within the corporate limits of cities and towns, shall keep the same in repair. This article shall not affect or diminish the liability of town and city corporations for injuries caused by defective condition of such bridges situated within the city limits.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2358. May Contract for Supplies

The commissioners court by an order entered of record, may contract as hereinafter prescribed, with some suitable person or persons to supply the county with blank books, all legal blanks and stationery as may be required by law to be furnished the county officials.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2359. Bids Advertised

The commissioners court shall advertise, at least once in every two years, for sealed proposals to furnish blank books, legal blanks, stationery and such other printing as may be required for the county for the term of such contract, and shall receive separate bids for the different classes hereinafter designated. Such advertisement shall be made by the county clerk, who shall notify by registered letter, each newspaper and job printing house in the county, and at least three stationery and printing houses in the State, of the time said contract is to be awarded, and of the probable amount of supplies needed.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2360. New Bids Advertised For

Should supplies furnished by the successful bidder not be of the quality designated and provided for, then the commissioners court may declare such contract null and void, and from time to time advertise for sealed proposals as in the first instance, rejecting any or all bids as often as they may deem best.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2361. Preference to Local Citizens

All things being equal, contracts must be awarded to a citizen or taxpayer of the county in which the contract is let.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2362. Stationery Classified

The stationery shall be divided into four classes: Class "A" shall embrace all blank books and all work requiring permanent and substantial binding. Class "B" shall embrace all legal blanks, letter heads and other printing, stationery and blank papers. Class "C" shall embrace typewriter ribbons, pens, ink, mucilage, pencils, penholders, ink stands and ware of like kind. Class "D" shall embrace all election supplies of whatever nature and description, not furnished by the State. Each and every bid shall be upon a particular class, separate and apart from any other class. To the lowest bidder on each class shall be awarded the contract for all work of that class.

Art. 2363. Bond With Bid

Each bid shall be accompanied by a bond of the bidder, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, conditioned that, should the contract be awarded to him, he will without delay, upon being notified of such award, enter into a written contract, according to law and with his proposal, and will give such bond as may be required for the faithful performance of said contract.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2364. Unlawful Interest in Contract

No member of the commissioners court or any county officer shall be, either directly or indirectly, interested in any such contract.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2365. Contract Made in Open Court

All contracts shall be made in open court, with the lowest bidder, and all bids shall be spread in full on the minutes of the court.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2366. Contract and Bond

The successful bidder shall enter into a written contract with the court, and shall give bond in the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars for each class or contract, to be approved by the county judge, conditioned for the faithful compliance with his bid and with the law, and shall be made payable to the county judge or his successors in office.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2367. Affidavit With Bid

The manager, secretary or other agent or officer of the bidder shall attach to each bid an affidavit to the effect that affiant has full knowledge of the relations of the bidder with the other firms in the same line of business and that the bidder is not a member of any trust, pool or combination of any kind and has not been for six months last past, directly or indirectly concerned in any pool or agreement or combination to control the price of supplies bid on, or to influence any person to bid or not to bid thereon.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2367a. Counties and Cities; Identical Bids; Casting of Lots

Sec. 1. In all cases where bidding is required and where two or more responsible bidders submit the lowest and best bids in connection with a proposed county, city or district contract and these bids are identical in both amount and nature, the Commissioners Court of the county or the governing body of the city or district shall enter into a contract with only one of the responsible bidders and reject all other bids. The one bidder shall be selected by the casting of lots. The casting of lots shall be in such a manner as shall be prescribed by the County Judge or Mayor or governing body of the district, as the case may be, and shall be conducted in the presence of the governing body of the county, city or district at which time all qualified bidders or their legal representatives may also be present. Nothing herein shall prohibit the rejection of all bids by the awarding authority.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall be applicable to all counties, cities and districts in the State of Texas where bidding is required and contracts are to be let on the basis of the lowest and best bid, regardless of whether the bids are submitted pursuant to the provisions of a General Law, a Special Law, a city charter, or a city ordinance; provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply or be construed to apply to the bidding by any person, bank, banking corporation or association for designation as depository of public funds of any county, city or district or to the letting of contracts therefor, nor shall such provisions apply to bids submitted to an independent school district by those persons or corporations seeking appointment as treasurer of the School Fund under Article 2332, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as last amended by Chapter 48, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session 1959.

Art. 2368. Repealed by Acts 1931, 42nd Leg., p. 269, ch. 163, § 10

See, now, art. 2368a.

Art. 2368a. Requirements Governing Advertising for Bids by Counties and CitiesDefinitions

Sec. 1. The word "city" as used in this Act shall include all cities and towns incorporated under General or Special Laws, and all cities operating under charter adopted under the provisions of Article 11, Section 5, of the Constitution of Texas, unless especially excepted under the terms of this Act.

The term "governing body" as used in this Act shall include the governing body of every city, whether designated as "Board of Alderman," "City Council," "City Commission," or otherwise.

For the purposes of this Act the term "current funds," shall include money in the treasury, taxes in process of collection during such tax year, and all other revenues which may be anticipated with reasonable certainty during such tax year.

The term "bond funds" shall include money in the treasury already received from the sale of bonds, and the proceeds of bonds theretofore voted but not yet issued and delivered.

The term "time warrant" as used in this Act shall include any warrant issued by a city or county not payable out of current funds.

The short title of this Act shall be "Bond and Warrant Law of 1931."

Nothing in this Act shall be construed as to affect any bonds or warrants legally issued or authorized to be issued and for which a tax has been levied for the payment of interest and principal thereof, prior to the time when this Act shall become effective and under the laws existing at that time, nor as affecting the matters covered by House Bill No. 981, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session,¹ provided that after June 1, 1932, the requirements of this Act with respect to notice, competitive bidding, and a referendum election shall also be complied with by all cities then acting under the provisions of said House Bill No. 981.

Competitive Bidding for Contracts for Public Works; Notice to Bidders; Advertisement; Exceptions; Conflicting Provisions; Noncompliance With Law

Sec. 2. (a) No county, acting through its Commissioners Court, and no city in this state shall hereafter make any contract calling for or requiring an expenditure or payment in an amount exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) out of any fund or funds of any city or county or subdivision of any county creating or imposing an obligation or liability of any nature or character upon such county or any subdivision of such county, or upon such city, without first submitting such proposed contract to competitive bids.

(b) Notice of the time and place when and where such contracts shall be let shall be published in such county (if concerning a county contract or contracts for such subdivision of such county) and in such city, (if concerning a city contract), once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks prior to the time set for letting such contract, the date of the first publication to be at least fourteen (14) days prior to the date set for letting said contract; and said contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The court and/or governing body shall have the right to reject any and all bids, and if the contract is for the construction of public works, then the successful bidder shall be required to give a good and sufficient bond in the full amount of the contract price, for the faithful performance of such contract, executed by some surety company authorized to do business in this state in accordance with the provisions of Article 5160, Revised Statutes of 1925, and the amendments thereto. However, the city or county in making any contract calling for or requiring the expenditure or payment of less than Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) may, in lieu of the bond requirement, provide in the contract that no money will be paid to the contractor until completion and acceptance of the work by the city or county. If there is no newspaper published in such county, the notice of the letting of such contract by such county shall be given by causing notice thereof to be posted at the County Court House door for fourteen (14) days prior to the time of letting such contract. If there is no newspaper published in such city, then the notice of letting such contract shall be given by causing notice thereof to be posted at the City Hall for fourteen (14) days prior to the time of letting such contract. Provided, that in case of public calamity, where it becomes necessary to act at once to appropriate money to relieve the necessity of the citizens, or to preserve the property of such county, subdivision, or city, or when it is necessary to preserve or protect the public health of the citizens of such county or city, or in case of unforeseen damage to public property, machinery or equipment, this provision shall not apply; and provided further, as to contracts for personal or professional services; work done by such county or city and paid for by the day, as such work progresses; and the purchase of land and right-of-way for authorized needs and purposes, the provisions hereof requiring competitive bids shall not apply and in such cases the notice herein provided shall be given but only with respect to an intention to issue time warrants with right of referendum as contemplated in Sections 3 and 4 hereof respectively.

(c) Provisions in reference to notice to bidders, advertisement thereof, requirements as to the taking of sealed bids based upon specifications for public improvements or purchases, and the manner of letting of contracts, as contained in the charter of a city, if in conflict with the provisions of this Act, shall be followed in such city notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act. The provisions of this Act and of Article 5160, Revised Statutes of 1925, as amended, relating to the furnishing of surety bonds by contractors may be adopted by ordinance of the governing body of a city, notwithstanding conflicting city charter provisions.

(d) Any and all such contracts or agreements hereafter made by any county or city in this state, without complying with the terms of this section, shall be void and shall not be enforceable in any court of this state and the performance of same and the payment of any money thereunder may be enjoined by any property taxpaying citizen of such county or city.

Lump Sum Basis; Unit Price Basis; Changes in Plans and Specifications

Sec. 2a. Contracts for the construction of public works or the purchase of materials, equipment and supplies may be let under the provisions of Section 2 on a lump sum basis or on a unit price basis, as the governing body or Commissioners Court shall determine. In the event a contract is to be let on a unit price basis, the information furnished bidders shall specify the approximate quantities estimated upon the best available information, but the compensation paid the contractor shall be based upon the actual quantities constructed or supplied.

In the event it becomes necessary to make changes in the plans or specifications after performance of a contract has been commenced, or it becomes necessary to decrease or increase the quantity of work to be performed or materials, equipment or supplies to be furnished, the Commissioners Court or governing body shall be authorized to approve change orders effecting such changes but the total contract price shall not be increased thereby unless due provision has been made to provide for the payment of such added cost either by appropriating available funds for that purpose or by authorizing the issuance of time warrants as provided in the Act amended hereby.

Where any change order involves a decrease or increase in cost of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or less, the Commissioner's Court or governing body may grant general authority to one of its administrative officials to approve such change orders.

Provided, however, that the original contract price may not be increased under the provisions of this Section 2a by more than twenty-five (25%) per cent or decreased more than twenty-five (25%) per cent without the consent of the contractor to such decrease.

Contracts for Purchase of Machinery

Sec. 2b. Contracts for the purchase of machinery for the construction and/or maintenance of roads and/or streets, may be made by the governing bodies of all counties and cities within the State in accordance with the provisions of this Section. The order for purchase and notice for bids shall provide full specification of the machinery desired and contracts for the purchase thereof shall be let to the lowest and best bidder.

Issuance of Time Warrants

Sec. 3. When it shall be the intention of the Commissioners' Court, or of the governing body, to issue time warrants for the payment of all or any part of the proposed contract, the notice to bidders required under Section 2 of this Act shall recite that fact, setting out the maximum amount of the proposed time warrant indebtedness, the rate of interest such time warrants are to bear, and the maximum maturity date thereof.

Referendum on Bond Issues

Sec. 4. If, by the time set for the letting of the contract, as many as ten per cent (10%) in number of the qualified voters of said county, or city, as the case may be, whose names appear on the last approved tax rolls as property taxpayers, petition the Commissioners' Court, or governing body, in writing to submit to a referendum vote the question as to the issuance of bonds for such purpose, then such Commissioners' Court, or governing body, shall not be authorized to make said expenditure, and shall not finally award said contract unless the proposition to issue bonds for such purpose is sustained by a majority of the votes cast at such election. The law in reference to elections for the issuance of city and county bonds as contained in Chapters 1 and 2, Title 22, Revised Statutes of 1925,¹ shall govern in so far as consistent with the provisions of this Act. The law in reference to the issuance, approval, registration and sale of bonds as contained in Chapters 1 and 2, Title 22, Revised Statutes of 1925, shall govern in so far as consistent with the provisions of this Act. Provided, that all such bonds shall mature and be payable as provided herein for funding bonds.

If such petition is not so filed with the County Clerk, or the City Secretary or Clerk, then the Commissioners' Court or the governing body may proceed with the final award of the contract and with the issuance of said warrants, but in the absence of such petition, the Commissioners' Court or governing body may at its discretion also submit such question to a vote of the people.

Expenditures Permissible Without Notice or Referendum

Sec. 5. The notice required in Sections 2 and 3, and the right to referendum election defined in Section 4, shall not be applicable to expenditures payable out of current funds or bond funds, as above described, nor to additional expenditures by counties unless in excess of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars for each One Million ($1,000,000.00) Dollars, or a part thereof, of taxable property in said county, according to the last approved tax rolls; provided, however, that in counties of a valuation of less than Six Million ($6,000,000.00) Dollars, said restriction of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars for each One Million ($1,000,000.00) Dollars shall not apply, but in lieu thereof the maximum authorized warrants shall be Three Thousand ($3,000.00) Dollars annually; said Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars for every One Million ($1,000,000.00) Dollars of property shall be the maximum amount of time warrants for all purposes to be issued by such county during the current calendar year; including the proposed expenditure, except in the counties of a valuation of less than Six Million ($6,000,000.00) Dollars as above provided; and provided further than no such warrants shall ever be issued by a county in excess of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars for any one year, without the duty to give notice and the right to referendum provided in Section 3. If in excess of the maximum, the expenditure cannot be authorized until the expiration of the time for filing the petition for referendum vote has expired. The notice required and the right to referendum election defined in Sections 2, 3 and 4 shall not be applicable to expenditures payable out of the current funds or bond funds, as above described, nor to additional expenditures by cities unless in excess of Seven Thousand, Five Hundred ($7,500.00) Dollars for cities having a population of five thousand (5,000) people, or less, as shown by the Federal Census immediately preceding; in excess of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars for cities having a population of more than five thousand (5,000), and less than twenty-five thousand (25,000) as shown by the Federal Census immediately preceding; in excess of Twenty-five Thousand ($25,000.00) Dollars for cities having a population of more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) and less than fifty thousand (50,000), as shown by the Federal Census immediately preceding, and in excess of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars for cities having a population of more than fifty thousand (50,000) as shown by the Federal Census immediately preceding. Said respective amounts above described shall be the maximum amounts of time warrants for all purposes to be issued by such cities during the current calendar year, without the duty to give notice and the right to referendum, provided in Sections 2, 3 and 4; otherwise, the expenditure cannot be authorized until the expiration of time for the filing of petition for referendum vote has expired, including the proposed expenditure.

Provided, that in case of public calamity caused by fire, flood, storm, or to protect the public health, or in case of unforeseen damage to public property, machinery or equipment, the Commissioners Court or the governing body may issue such time warrants as are necessary to provide for the immediate repair, preservation or protection of public property and the lives and health of the citizens of such county or city, irrespective of the limitations contained in this Section and the restrictions imposed by Sections 2, 3 and 4 hereof.

Improvements Exempt From Operation of Act

Sec. 6. The provisions of Sections 2, 3 and 4 of this Act shall not apply to expenditures for, or relating to paving drainage, street widening and other public improvements, the cost of at least one-third of which is to be paid by or through special assessments levied on properties to be benefited thereby. The provisions of this Act shall not affect projects for public improvements theretofore lawfully authorized by a vote of the people, and where there may be a deficiency of funds to complete same in accordance with the plans and purposes authorized by the voters. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to bonds or warrants issued under Title 118, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925,¹ pertaining to sea walls.

Provisions Inapplicable to Reconstruction or Repair of Court Houses or Jails

Sec. 6a. The provisions of Section 4 of the "Bond and Warrant Law of 1931"¹ shall not apply to the issuance of warrants for the building, construction, reconstruction and/or repair of a court house and/or jail in any county where the court house has been torn down or demolished and where notice was given under Section 2 of said Bond and Warrant Law prior to the taking effect of this Act, and there was no county court house at the time such notice was published, but in such cases warrants may be issued for the building, construction, reconstruction and/or repair of court houses and/or jails, without notice, and no election shall be called upon any petition filed under Section 4 of said Bond and Warrant Law. All proceedings for the issuance of warrants, and all warrants issued or to be issued for any such purpose or purposes in any such case are hereby validated.

Refunding Indebtedness; Procedure

Sec. 7. The Commissioners' Court of any county or the governing body of any city in the State of Texas may pass all necessary orders and ordinances to provide for funding or refunding the whole or any part of any legal debt of such county or city, by canceling evidences thereof and issuing to the holders or creditors, notes, bonds or treasury warrants, with or without coupons, bearing interest payable annually, or semi-annually, at a rate not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum. The exercise of such authority shall be regulated as follows:

(a) Such Commissioners' Court and such governing bodies shall have the right at all times to issue refunding bonds for the refunding of any outstanding bonds legally issued and outstanding matured interest on any legally issued outstanding bonds, subject to laws applicable to the issuance of refunding bonds and without the necessity of any notice or right to a referendum vote.

(b) Such Commissioners' Courts and governing bodies shall have the power to provide for funding the whole or any part of any legal debt of their respective counties or cities, existing at the time this Act becomes effective, except that which was created upon the condition that it should never become a charge upon the general revenues of such county or city, but canceling the evidences of such indebtedness and issuing to the holders or creditors, notes, bonds, or treasury warrants; provided that if funding bonds are delivered, the evidences of the original indebtedness shall be surrendered to the Comptroller of the State of Texas and cancelled by him prior to the registration of such funding bonds, and prior to their delivery to said holders or creditors.

(c) Such Commissioners' Courts and such governing bodies shall have the power to fund or refund any and all outstanding legal indebtedness, existing at the time this Act becomes effective, into notes or treasury warrants with or without coupons, in accordance with this Act and in accordance with the law as it exists at the time this Act becomes effective.

The funding bonds hereby authorized shall be payable serially not exceeding forty (40) years from the date thereof, unless the Commissioners' Court or governing body affirmatively adjudge that the financial condition of such county or city will not permit in such installment as will make the burden of taxation to support same, approximately uniform throughout the term of said bond issue. Such bonds shall be executed and issued in the same manner now provided by law for the execution and issuance of bonds to refund outstanding county or city bonds. Said bonds shall bear interest not exceeding six per cent (6%) per annum, and shall be approved by the Attorney General and registered by the State Comptroller in the same manner as other county or city refunding or funding bonds.

(d) After this Act becomes effective, no item of indebtedness thereafter issued, except bonds and matured coupons thereon, and except items of indebtedness to be issued under contracts made before this law becomes effective, shall be funded or refunded except in the manner hereinafter in this subsection prescribed, to-wit:

Notice of intention to issue such funding bonds, including a statement of the amount and purpose of such bonds, shall be published at least once a week for three (3) successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation within such county, or within such city, as the case may be, at least thirty (30) days before the meeting of the Commissioners' Court or of the governing body, at which time it is proposed to issue such bonds. If no newspaper is published in such county or city, as the case may be, such notice may be posted at the Courthouse door of the county, or at the City Hall, as the case may be. At any time before the date fixed for the issuance of such bonds, not less than ten per cent (10%) of the qualified property taxpaying voters of the county, as shown by the records in the office of the County Tax Collector, or in the office of the City Tax Collector, as the case may be, may file a petition in the office of the County Clerk or City Secretary or Clerk, praying the Court or the governing body to order an election for the purpose of submitting the proposition to issue such bonds to a vote of the qualified property taxpaying voters of the county or city as the case may be. Upon the filing of such petition, such Court or governing body shall at the next meeting thereof, order an election to be held in such county or city to determine whether or not such funding bonds shall be issued as indicated in such petition.

The Commissioners' Court or governing body shall determine the time and the place or places of holding said election; and the manner of holding same shall be governed by the laws of the State regulating elections for the issuance of other county or city bonds under Chapters 1 and 2, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925. If the proposition for the issuance of such bonds be sustained by a majority of the property taxpaying voters, voting at such election, then such bonds shall be authorized and shall be issued by such Commissioners' Court or governing body.

In the event no such petition is presented to the Commissioners' Court or governing body within the time hereinabove prescribed, no election on the proposition shall be required, and such Court or governing body shall then have the power to pass all necessary orders to provide for canceling or funding the indebtedness described in such published notice of intention to fund said debts, and may cancel the evidences thereof by issuing to the holders the necessary amount of funding bonds.

The funding bonds hereby authorized shall be payable serially not exceeding forty years from the date thereof, unless the Commissioners' Court or governing body affirmatively adjudge that the financial condition of such county or city will not permit, in such installments as will make the burden of taxation to support same, approximately uniform throughout the term of said bond issue. Such bonds shall be executed and issued in the same manner now provided by law for the execution and issuance of bonds to refund outstanding county or city bonds. Said bonds shall bear interest not exceeding six per cent (6%) per annum, and shall be approved by the Attorney General and registered by the State Comptroller in the same manner as other county or city refunding or funding bonds.

The Commissioners' Court of any county and the governing body of any city shall at all times have power without notice or the right to referendum to fund or refund any item of indebtedness created in accordance with the provisions of this Act to prevent or relieve a default or an impending default in the payment of principal or interest.

Tax Levy for Payment of Bonds or Warrants

Sec. 8. It is hereby made the duty of all Commissioners' Courts and of all governing bodies, as the case may be, to levy, and have assessed and collected, taxes sufficient to pay the interest as it accrues and the principal as it matures on all bonds and time warrants issued in accordance with the provisions of this Act. The same duties in reference to the levying, assessment and collection of taxes, as are imposed by the provisions of Chapters 1 and 2, of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925,¹ to assure the payment of taxes on bonds therein authorized, are imposed on said Commissioners' Courts and said governing bodies in reference to all bonds and time warrants issued in accordance with this Act; provided that if a tax, meeting the requirements of Article 11, Sections 5 and 7 of the Constitution shall have been levied to pay principal and interest thereon, any bond or warrant may thereafter be funded or refunded through the issuance of funding or refunding bonds or warrants irrespective of the fact that due to decline of property values or for other reasons, the City or County seeking to issue such funding or refunding bonds or warrants does not then have available taxing power sufficient to pay the principal and interest of such funding or refunding bonds or warrants.

Refunding Inapplicable to Utility Bonds Payable From Revenues

Sec. 8a. Provided any city or town which has theretofore issued bonds, warrants, certificates, or other securities payable from revenues and income of any utility or utilities owned by such city or town may fund, refund, or extend such bonds, warrants, certificates or other securities, without the necessity of complying with the referendum provisions hereof, provided such refunding does not increase the amount of such indebtedness, taking into consideration interest adjustments; provided, however, that no such bonds, warrants, certificates, or other securities payable from revenues, or from the income of any utility, which may be funded, refunded or extended by a city or town, shall ever be made a charge upon moneys raised or to be raised by taxation.

Bonds Issued in Violation of Act Invalid

Sec. 9. Any warrant bond, funding bond, refunding bond or other evidence of debt or obligation created, or attempted to be created, by the County Commissioners' Court of any county, or the governing body of any city in this State, in violation of or contrary to the provisions of this Act, shall be void, and the payment thereof may be enjoined by any taxpaying citizen of such county, or any taxpaying citizen of such city, in any court of competent jurisdiction in such county.

Provided, however, that notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, Articles 709 to 715, inclusive, of the Revised Statutes of Texas for 1925, shall apply with full force and effect to all bonds, funding bonds and refunding bonds issued under this Act.

Application to Special Charter Cities

Sec. 10. In all cities operating under Special Charter the provisions of this Act shall apply, providing for a referendum vote where the proposed expenditure is not payable out of current funds, or bond funds, and requires the issuance of time warrants in excess of the permitted amount. This Act shall not repeal provisions of Special Charters providing any additional rights to referendum elections. The rights, power and duties conferred on and imposed on all cities in reference to the issuance of funding or refunding bonds and warrants shall be applicable to all cities, irrespective of charter provisions to the contrary. All laws, General and Special, and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed. Article 2368, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, is expressly repealed.

Mortgage of Utility Systems Permissible

Sec. 11. Nothing herein shall be so construed as to preclude any city or town in this State, whether organized under General or Special Law or operating under Special Charter, from encumbering or mortgaging its light system, water system, sewer system or any other utility, either, both or all, and the franchise and the income thereof and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired, to secure the payment of funds to purchase same or to make or purchase extensions, additions, or improvements thereto, as contemplated in Articles 1111 to 1118, both inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, with amendments thereto, or by valid provisions of the charter of such city or town, or by the provisions of Article 1175, revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925; provided that in making such contracts or agreements or encumbrances and in issuing revenue bonds, warrants or other obligations to be paid out of the property and income from such system or systems, the governing body of such city or town shall comply with the provisions of this Act in regard to notice and competitive bids and the right to a referendum of such question.

Provided, however, that no competitive bids shall be required in case the municipality proposes to acquire an existing utility plant, and in such cases the voters shall be entitled to a referendum, only on the question of whether or not the utility shall be purchased, in the manner and under the conditions set forth in this Act.

Provided, further, that notwithstanding any provisions of this Act, and notwithstanding any provision of its Special Charter, if such city or town is acting under authority of House Bill No. 981, passed by the Regular Session of the 42d Legislature,¹ the requirements of this Act in reference to notice, competitive bids and the rights to referendum shall not apply until after June 1, 1932.

Inapplicable to Warrants Based or Issued on Current Funds

Sec. 11a. Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed as requiring any city to give any notice as a condition precedent to issuing warrants payable out of current funds of said city and the issuance of any such warrants by any such city shall not be subject to the terms and provisions of this Act; provided, however, that at the time of the authorization of such warrants the Governing Body of the city, shall also pass an order setting aside such an amount of the current funds as will discharge the principal and interest of the warrants issued and based upon such current funds. And thereafter the so appropriated portion of such current funds shall not be used for any purpose other than to discharge said warrants. And no such warrants shall ever be refunded, but they must be discharged out of the designated funds.

Saved From Appeal

Acts 1949, ch. 36, p. 67 (art. 2368f), relating to the issuance of the time warrants in counties with a population in excess of 300,000 by § 3 excepts § 2 of this article, as amended, from the repeal of the conflicting laws except as to the warrants authorized by that act.

Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2824, ch. 923, enacting the Certificate of Obligation Act (art. 2368a.1), provided in § 10 that nothing therein shall be construed as repealing the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931.

Art. 2368a.1. Certificate of Obligation Act

Citation of Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known and may be cited as "The Certificate of Obligation Act of 1971".

Definitions

Sec. 2. When used in this Act, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

(a) "Bond funds" shall mean money received from the sale of bonds by the issuer.

(b) "Certificate" means a certificate of obligation authorized to be issued under the terms of this Act.

(c) "City" means any incorporated municipality of this State incorporated under the provisions of (i) any general or special law provided the municipality has the power to levy an ad valorem tax of not less than $1.50 on each $100 valuation of taxable property therein, or (ii) the home rule amendment to the Constitution.

(d) "Contractual obligation" shall mean any contract entered by an issuer through its governing body executed pursuant to Section 6 or Section 7 of this Act. No such contract shall be required to be in writing where (i) work is to be done by the regular salaried employees of an issuer, (ii) the work is to be paid for as the work progresses, and (iii) legal services.

(e) "County" means a political subdivision of the State of Texas created and established under Article IX, Section 1, of the Constitution of Texas.¹

(f) "Current funds" shall mean money in the treasury, taxes in the process of collection during the then current budget year of the issuer, and all other revenues which may be anticipated with reasonable certainty during such budget year.

(g) "Governing body" shall mean the board, council, commission, court or other body or group which is authorized to issue bonds for or on behalf of an issuer.

(h) "Issuer" means a city or county.

¹ Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1902, ch. 770, § 8, provides, in part, that: "all of Section 2(e) of The Certificate of Obligation Act of 1971 (Article 2368a.1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) following the word 'Texas' are repealed." Prior thereto, § 2(e) read:

"County" means a political subdivision of the State of Texas created and established under Article IX, Section 1, of the Constitution of Texas which, according to the Federal Census then preceding has a population of less than 350,000."

Since "Texas" appeared twice in the prior text, § 2(e) may now read:

"County" means a political subdivision of the State of Texas."

Certificates Authorized; Amount, Public Works Construction

Sec. 3. (a) The governing body of an issuer may authorize certificates for the purpose of paying any contractual obligation to be incurred for the construction of any public work or for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, machinery, buildings, land and rights-of-way for authorized needs and purposes, or for the payment of contractual obligations for professional services (including tax appraisal engineers, engineering, architectural, attorneys, mapping, auditing, financial advisors, fiscal agent) or for any one or more of such purposes.

(b) Certificates may be authorized in an amount not in excess of 25% of any contractual obligation incurred for construction of public works in order to provide for change orders as work progresses (as contemplated by Section 6) but only such amount of certificates as required to discharge contractual obligation after execution of such change orders shall be delivered by an issuer.

Claims and Accounts; Funding or Exchange

Sec. 4. The governing body of an issuer may provide that claims and accounts may thereafter be incurred for such authorized purposes to represent an undivided interest in certificates simultaneously authorized and may provide for the funding or exchange of such claims and accounts for a like total principal amount of such certificates with any amount in excess of the principal amount of certificates delivered at any one time may be paid in cash or carried forward to a subsequent exchange of claims and accounts for certificates. While the authorization of certificates (and the indebtedness thereby evidenced) may precede the execution of the contract or contracts under the provisions of this section, nothing in this section shall be construed as an exception to the requirement for the receipt of competitive bids under Section 6.

Notice to Bidders

Sec. 5. No certificates of indebtedness may be authorized by any issuer unless the notice to bidders (where the same is required) states (i) the successful bidder or bidders will be required to accept such certificates in payment of all or a portion of the contract price or (ii) that the governing body of any issuer has made provision for the contractor to sell and assign such certificates to another and that each bidder is required (at the time of the receipt of bids) to elect whether he will accept such certificates in payment of all or a part of the contract price or assign such certificates in accordance with such arrangements.

Competitive Bids; Notice, Publication; Change Orders, Payment of Added Cost; Rejection of Bids; Performance Bond

Sec. 6. (a) Except as provided herein, the governing body of an issuer shall hereafter make no contract calling for or requiring the expenditure or payment or creating or imposing an obligation or liability of any nature upon such city, county, or subdivision of the county in an amount exceeding $5,000 without first submitting such proposed contract to competitive bids.

(a-1) Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 3243, ch. 853, § 3, eff. June 17, 1981.

(b) Notice of the time, place, when and where such contract shall be let shall be given in accordance with the provisions of (i) Section 2, or Section 2(a) of the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as amended¹ or (ii) the home rule charter of an issuer or (iii) this Act. If such notice is given under the provisions of this Act, it shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper as defined in Chapter 84, Acts of the 43rd Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1933, as amended (Article 28a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), of general circulation in the city or county which is to receive bids, the date of the first publication to be 14 days prior to the date set for the receipt of bids, and shall specify that plans and specifications for the work to be done or specifications for machinery, supplies, equipment or materials to be purchased are on file with a designated official of the issuer where they may be examined without charge. All contracts for the construction of public works, the purchase of materials, equipment, supplies, or machinery let under the provisions of this Act shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder and may be let on a lump sum basis or on a unit price basis, as the governing body shall determine. In the event a contract is to be let on a unit price basis, the information furnished bidders shall specify the approximate quantities estimated upon the best available information, but the compensation paid the contractor shall be based upon the actual quantities constructed or supplied.

(c) After performance of a construction contract has been commenced, if it becomes necessary to (i) make changes in the plans or specifications or (ii) decrease or increase the quantity of work to be performed or materials, equipment or supplies to be furnished, the governing body shall be authorized to approve change orders effecting such changes but the total contract price shall not be increased thereby unless due provision has been made to provide for the payment of such added cost either by appropriating current or bond funds for that purpose, by authorizing the issuance of certificates, or by any one or more such procedures, but the original contract price may not be increased by more than twenty-five per cent (25%) or decreased more than twenty-five per cent (25%) without the consent of the contractor to such decrease.

(d) The governing body shall have the right to reject any and all bids, and if the contract is for the construction of public works and is for or requires the expenditure of the amount of money requiring competitive bidding under Subsection (a-1) of this section, then the successful bidder shall be required to give a good and sufficient payment and performance bond each in the full amount of the contract price, executed by some surety company authorized to do business in this State in accordance with the provisions of Article 5160, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

Advertisements for Bids, Exceptions; Sale of Certificates; Use of Proceeds; Registration, Etc.; Legal Investments and Security for Deposits

Sec. 7. The provisions of Section 6 of this Act relating to advertisement for competitive bids shall not apply in the following instances:

- (1) in case of a public calamity where it becomes necessary to act at once to relieve the necessity of the citizens or to preserve the property of such city or county; or
- (2) where it is necessary to preserve or protect the public health of the citizens of such city or county; or
- (3) in the case of unforeseen damage to public property, machinery or equipment; or
- (4) contracts for personal or professional services; or
- (5) work done by employees of the issuer and paid for as such work progresses; or
- (6) the purchase of land, buildings, existing utility systems or rights-of-way for authorized needs and purposes; or
- (7) expenditures for or relating to improvements to a city water system, sewer system, streets or drainage (any one or all) where the cost of at least one-third (1/3) of which is to be paid by special assessments levied against properties to be benefited thereby; or

(8) where the entire contractual obligation is to be paid from bond funds or current funds, or where an advertisement for bids has previously been published (in the manner authorized or permitted in Section 6) but the current funds or bond funds are not adequate to permit the awarding of a contract and the certificates are to be issued to provide the deficiency; or

(9) the sale of any public security as such term is defined in Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended by Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1969.¹

Certificates authorized to be issued for the purpose or purposes specified in this section, in the discretion of the governing body of the issuer, may be sold for cash and the proceeds thereof shall be used only for the purpose or purposes for which the same were authorized; provided, (i) accrued interest received, if any, shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund established for the payment of such certificates and (ii) no certificate may be sold for cash to pay for work done by employees of the issuer and paid for as such work progresses and (iii) a certified copy of the proceedings relating to the authorization of such certificates shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas and be approved by such officer as having been authorized in accordance with the provisions of this Act. It shall be the duty of the Attorney General of Texas to examine the proceedings relating to the authorization of such certificates and the provisions of Article 709 through Article 716, inclusive, of Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and Chapter 204, Acts of the 57th Legislature, Regular Session, 1961, as amended by Chapter 290, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967,² shall apply to and govern the execution, approval, registration, and validity of such certificates. From and after the registration of such certificates by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, the same shall be incontestable for any cause.

Certificates approved by the Attorney General shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for any sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts and other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such certificates shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts and other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits at their face value when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant thereto.

Constructing or Equipping Jail

Sec. 7A. (a) Certificates issued for payment of any contractual obligation to be incurred for constructing or equipping a jail may be sold for cash subject to the same restrictions and conditions applicable to the sale of certificates for cash under Section 7 of this Act.

(b) Section 6 of this Act, relating to advertisement for competitive bids, is applicable to the incurring of contractual obligations for constructing or equipping a jail under this section.

(c) The provisions of this section shall apply to and be available for use by any county within the state without regard to population.

Certificates as Debt and Security

Sec. 8. Certificates shall be a debt of the issuer within the meaning of Article XI, Sections 5 and 7 of the Constitution of Texas, and when delivered shall be deemed and construed (i) to be a "Security" within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, Uniform Commercial Code (Chapter 785, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967)¹ and (ii) to be a general obligation of the issuer within the meaning of Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969.²

¹ Business and Commerce Code, § 8.101 et seq.

² Article 717k-3.

Certificates Payable From and Secured By Other Revenues; Delivery

Sec. 8a. The governing body of an issuer, in lieu of or in combination with the existing source provided herein for the payment of certificates, may (under the provisions of this Section):

(i) provide that such certificates will be payable from and secured by other revenues, if the issuer is otherwise authorized by the Constitution or statutes to secure or pay any kind or type of general or special obligation by or from such revenues, and

(ii) deliver the certificates so secured in exchange for services or property in the manner and with the effect provided in other Sections of this law, or sell the same for cash under this Section.

Notice of Intention to Issue Certificates; Contents and Publication; Petition of Protest; Election

Sec. 8(b). Except for certificates issued for the purposes specified in paragraphs numbered (1) through (5) of Section 7, no certificates, irrespective of their sources of payment, may be authorized under Section 9 of this Act until the issuer has caused notice of its intention to issue such certificates to be published in a newspaper, as defined in Chapter 84, Acts of the 43rd Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1933, as amended (Article 28a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), of general circulation in area of the issuer. Such notice shall (i) state the time and place the issuer tentatively proposes to authorize the issuance of certificates, the maximum amount that may be authorized, the purpose thereof, and the manner in which the issuer then proposes to provide for payment of such certificates (by taxes or revenues, either or both) and (ii) be published once a week for two consecutive weeks, the date of the first publication at least fourteen (14) days prior to the date tentatively set for the passage of the order or ordinance authorizing the issuance of such certificates. If prior to the date tentatively set for the authorization of the issuance of the certificates or prior to such authorization a petition signed by 5% of the qualified electors of the issuer is filed with the County Clerk (if the issuer is a county) or the City Secretary or City Clerk (if the issuer is a city) protesting the issuance of such certificates, the issuer shall not be authorized to issue certificates for such purpose unless the issuance thereof is approved at an election called, held, and conducted in the manner provided for bond elections under Chapter 1 of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.¹

Authorization of Certificates; Payment; Options for Redemption; Maturity; Interest

Sec. 9. Certificates may be authorized by (i) an order duly passed and adopted by the governing body of a county (upon compliance with Article 2343 and Article 2354, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended) or (ii) an ordinance adopted by the governing body of a city. Certificates shall be payable at such times, be in such form and denomination or denominations, either in coupon form or registered as to principal and interest, or both, may contain such options for redemption prior to scheduled maturity, and be payable at such place or places and contain such other provisions as the governing body of the issuer may determine, but in no event shall any certificate mature over a period in excess of 40 years from the date thereof, or bear interest at a rate in excess of that prescribed by Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, 1969, as amended by Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1969.¹

Cumulative Effect; Purpose; Conflict

Sec. 10. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of other laws and nothing herein shall be construed as repealing the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as amended.¹

It is the purpose and intent of this Act to (i) provide an alternate procedure with respect to certain financing which is now subject to being accomplished under the said Bond and Warrant Law of 1931 which is not so cumbersome and (ii) provide a new class of securities which may be issued and delivered within the financial capabilities of an issuer upon compliance with the procedures herein set forth.

In the event of conflict between the provisions of this Act and the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, an issuer may proceed under either of such procedures and it shall not be necessary for the governing body to designate the statute under which action is being taken.

Use by Home Rule City

Sec. 10(a). Except as permitted by the first sentence of Section 6(b) of this Act (relating to the permissive advertising procedures for competitive bids for home rule cities), the provisions and procedures of this Act shall apply to and may be utilized by any home rule city and without reference to any provision of law or charter to the contrary.

Construction; Alternative Procedure; Severability

Sec. 11. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to violate any provision of the Federal or State Constitutions and all acts done hereunder shall be done in such manner as may conform thereto whether herein expressly provided or not. Where any procedure hereunder may be held by any court to be violative of either of such Constitutions, the issuer shall have the power by resolution to provide an alternative procedure conformable to such Constitutions. If any provision of the Act shall be invalid, such fact shall not affect the validity of any other provision of this Act, and the Legislature hereby declares that it would have enacted the valid provisions of this Act notwithstanding the invalidity of any other provision or provisions hereof.

Art. 2368a.2. Public Property Finance Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known and may be cited as the Public Property Finance Act.

Purpose

Sec. 2. The legislature finds and determines that the acquisition, use, and purchase of property by governmental agencies and the financing of such activities are necessary to the efficient and economic operation of government. This Act facilitates a public purpose by furnishing governmental agencies with a feasible means to acquire, use, purchase, and finance public property.

Definitions

Sec. 3. In this Act:

(1) "City" means any city, town, or village incorporated in this state, whether governed by the general laws of the state or the laws pertaining to home-rule cities.

(2) "Conservation and reclamation district" means any district or authority organized or operating pursuant to Article XVI, Section 59, or Article III, Section 52, of the Texas Constitution.

(3) "Contract" means an agreement entered into pursuant to this Act.

(4) "County" means a political subdivision of the State of Texas created and established under Article IX, Section 1, of the Texas Constitution.

(5) "Governing body" means the board, council, commission, agency, court, or other body or group that is authorized by law to acquire property for each respective governmental agency.

(6) "Governmental agency" means any city, county, school district, conservation and reclamation district, hospital organization, or other political subdivision of the State of Texas.

(7) "Hospital organization" means any district, authority, board, or joint board organized pursuant to the laws of this state for hospital purposes.

(8) "Net effective interest rate" means, with reference to a contract, the interest amount deemed by the governing body of a governmental agency to accrue on a contract and shall be calculated as simple interest.

(9) "Net interest cost" means the total of all interest to accrue and come due on a contract through the last date a payment is due on the contract, plus any discount or minus any premium included in the contract price or principal sum.

(10) "Person" means any individual, corporation, organization, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, association, and any other legal entity.

(11) "Property" means personal property, appliances, equipment, facilities or furnishings, or an interest therein, whether movable or fixed, deemed by the governing body of the governmental agency to be necessary, useful, or appropriate to one or more purposes of the governmental agency, but shall not include real property.

(12) "School district" means any independent school district, common school district, community college district, junior college district, or regional college district organized pursuant to the laws of this state.

Authority to Contract for Property

Sec. 4. (a) The governing body of a governmental agency is authorized to execute, perform, and make payments under contracts with any person for use, acquisition, or purchase of any property. The contracts may be on the terms and conditions that are deemed appropriate by the governing body. Contracts may be in the form of a lease, a lease with option or options to purchase, installment purchase, or any other form deemed appropriate by the governing body. All contracts shall be obligations of the governmental agency. The contracts may be for a term approved by the governing body, and in each case, the contract may contain an option or options to renew or extend the term and may be made payable from a pledge of all or any part of any revenues, funds, or taxes or revenues, or funds and taxes available to the governmental agency for its public purposes.

(b) Each contract which retains to the governing body of the governmental agency the continuing right to terminate at the expiration of each budget period of the governmental agency during the term of the contract shall be considered to be a commitment of the governmental agency's current revenues only. All applicable constitutional requirements of approval by the voters shall be met. The contracts may provide for the payment of interest on the unpaid amounts of the contract at a rate or rates and may contain prepayment provisions, termination penalties, and such other provisions as shall be determined within the discretion of the governing body of the governmental agency. Subject only to applicable constitutional restrictions, the governing body has authority to obligate taxes or revenues for the full term of the contract for the payment of the contract. The net effective interest rate on any such contract shall not exceed the net effective interest rate at which public securities may be issued in accordance with Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 717k-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Compliance with Other Acts

Sec. 5. Each governmental agency currently subject thereto shall comply with the terms of Chapter 163, General Laws, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1931, as amended (Article 2368a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), in entering into contracts, including the requirement that certain contracts be awarded pursuant to public bids, except that it is not necessary for a governmental agency to submit the question of entering into a contract to a referendum.

Approved and Registered Contracts

Sec. 6. After a contract providing for payment aggregating $100,000 or more by a governmental agency is authorized by the governing body, the contract and the record relating to the contract may, at the discretion of the governmental agency, be submitted to the attorney general for his examination as to the validity of the contract. If the contract has been made in accordance with the constitution and laws of the state, the attorney general shall approve the contract, and the contract then shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After the contract has been approved by the attorney general and registered by the comptroller of public accounts, the validity of the contract is incontestable for any cause. The legal obligations of the lessor, vendor, or supplier of the property to the governmental agency shall not be diminished in any respect by the approval and registration of a contract.

Contract as Authorized Investment

Sec. 7. A contract entered into pursuant to this Act is a legal and authorized investment for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, and trustees, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas.

Term of Contracts

Sec. 8. A contract may have any term not to exceed 25 years.

Construction and Effect of Act

Sec. 9. This Act is wholly sufficient authority within itself for entering into contracts and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized by this Act, without reference to any other laws, or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as specifically provided in this Act. When contracts are entered into under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provisions of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control, except that any governmental agency may use the provisions of any other law, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act. This Act shall be liberally construed to effectuate its purpose. Notwithstanding any contrary provision, this Act does not apply to a contract solely for the construction of improvements to real property.

Art. 2368a.3. Competitive Bidding on Public Works Contracts

Applicability

Sec. 1. This Act applies to:

- (1) a county;
- (2) an incorporated city, town, or village;
- (3) a common or independent school district;

(4) a special district or authority created under Article III, Section 52, or Article XVI, Section 59, Texas Constitution;

(5) a hospital district or authority;

(6) a housing authority; or

(7) an agency or instrumentality of a unit of government described in one of the preceding subdivisions.

Procedure for Bidding

Sec. 2. If a governmental entity covered by this Act is required by statute to award a contract for the construction, repair, or renovation of a structure, road, highway, or other improvement or addition to real property on the basis of competitive bids, such bidding shall be accomplished as provided herein.

Advertisement for Bids

Sec. 3. (a) The governmental entity shall advertise for bids. The advertisement for bids must include a notice that:

(1) describes the work;

(2) states where the bidding documents, plans, specifications, or other data may be examined by all bidders; and

(3) states the time and place for submitting bids and the time and place that bids will be opened.

(b) The advertisement must be published as required by law. If no legal requirement for publication exists, the advertisement must be published at least twice in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the county or counties where the work is to be performed. The second publication must be no later than the 10th day before the first day on which bids may be submitted.

(c) The governmental entity must mail a notice containing the information required under Subsection (a) of this section to any organization that:

(1) requests in advance that notices for bids be sent to it;

(2) agrees in writing to pay the actual cost of mailing the notice; and

(3) certifies that it circulates notices for bids to the construction trade in general.

(d) The governmental entity shall mail a notice required under Subsection (c) of this section not later than the date on which the first newspaper advertisement under this section is published.

Opening of Bids

Sec. 4. Bids may be opened only by the governing body at a public meeting or by an officer or employee of the governmental entity at or in an office of the governmental entity.

Award of Bid

Sec. 5. A governmental entity shall have the right to reject any and all bids. Contracts covered by this Act shall be awarded to the lowest, responsible bidder, but a contract may not be awarded to a bidder who is not the lowest bidder unless prior to the award each lower bidder is given notice of the proposed award and is given an opportunity to appear before the governing body of the governmental entity or the designated representative of the governing body and present evidence concerning the bidder's responsibility.

Effect of Noncompliance

Sec. 6. A contract awarded in violation of this Act is void.

General Provisions

Sec. 7. (a) To the extent a municipal home-rule charter conflicts with this Act, the charter prevails.

(b) The provisions of the Professional Services Procurement Act (Article 664-4, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) are not affected by this Act.

(c) This Act does not apply to a contract which does not call for or require the expenditure of more than $10,000 out of the funds of the governmental entity.

Repealer

Sec. 8. The last sentence of Section 2 of the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931 (Article 2368a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) and all of Section 2(e) of The Certificate of Obligation Act of 1971 (Article 2368a.1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) following the word "Texas" are repealed.

[Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1901, ch. 770, §§ 1 to 8, eff. June 13, 1979.]

Art. 2368a.4. Competitive Bids Not Required for Certain Expenditures When Only One Supplier Available

Sec. 1. If a law requires a county to follow a competitive bidding procedure for certain purchases requiring the expenditure of $5,000 or less, the law does not apply to a purchase that is for items that are available for purchase from only one supplier.

Sec. 2. If a county makes a purchase covered by Section 1 of this Act, the county auditor or other appropriate county officer or employee may not refuse payment for the purchase because a competitive bidding procedure was not followed.

Art. 2368a-1. Validation of Contracts, Scrip, Warrants and Proceedings

In every instance, since the approval by the Governor of Texas on May 3, 1947 of Chapter 173, Acts of the 50th Legislature of Texas, Regular Session, 1947,¹ where the Commissioners Court of a county or the governing body of a city in this State has entered into contracts for the construction of public works, the purchase of land or interests in land, or the furnishing of materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision or professional services, and has authorized or issued scrip or time warrants to pay or evidence the indebtedness of such county or city for the cost of such public works, land, materials, supplies, equipment and personal services, all such contracts, scrip and time warrants and the proceedings adopted by the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, relating thereto, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved; provided that no such scrip or time warrants shall be ratified, validated, confirmed and approved by this Act unless the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, shall have heretofore specifically found and declared that such county or city has actually received the full benefit of the work performed or the land, materials, supplies, equipment or services furnished to the full extent of the amount of scrip or time warrants so authorized or issued. It is expressly provided, however, that this Section 2 shall not validate, ratify or confirm any contract, time warrant or scrip warrant executed or issued by any county with a population in excess of three hundred twenty-five thousand (325,000) according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any contract, time warrant or scrip warrant the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Art. 2368a-2. Validation; Contracts, Scrip, Warrant and Proceedings; Bonds and Proceedings for Issuance

Sec. 1. [Adds §§ 2a, 2b to art. 2368a.]

Sec. 2. In every instance since the approval by the Governor of Texas on May 11, 1951, of Chapter 164, Acts of the 52nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1951 (Senate Bill No. 105, page 281),¹ where the Commissioners Court of a county or the governing body of a city in this State has entered into contracts for the construction of public works or improvements, the purchase of land or interests in land, or for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, or professional or personal services, and has heretofore adopted orders or ordinances to authorize the issuance of scrip or time warrants to pay or evidence the indebtedness of such county or city for the cost of such public works or improvements, land, materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision or professional or personal services, all such contracts, scrip and time warrants and the proceedings adopted by the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, relating thereto, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved; provided, that such scrip or time warrants themselves shall not be ratified, validated, confirmed and approved by this Act unless the Commissioners Court or the governing body, as the case may be, shall have heretofore specifically and officially found and declared in effect that such county or city has actually received the full benefit of the work performed or the land, materials, supplies, equipment or services furnished to the full extent of the amount of scrip or time warrants so authorized and issued. All scrip warrants and time warrants heretofore issued by the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, in payment of work done by such county or city and paid for by the day as the work progressed, and for materials and supplies purchased in connection with such work, where such Commissioners Court or governing body shall have heretofore specifically and officially found and declared in effect that such county or city has actually received the full benefit of the work performed or the materials and supplies furnished to the full extent of the amount of scrip or time warrants so issued, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify or confirm any contract, scrip warrant, or time warrant executed or issued by any county with a population in excess of three hundred thousand (300,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any contract, scrip warrant, or time warrant the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Sec. 3. All proceedings, ordinances, resolutions, and other instruments heretofore adopted or executed by a Commissioners Court or governing body of a city authorizing the issuance of bonds for the purpose of refunding time warrants issued by any county or city and all refunding bonds heretofore issued for such purpose are hereby in all things validated, ratified, approved and confirmed, and such refunding bonds now in process of being issued and authorized by proceedings, ordinances, and resolutions heretofore adopted may be issued irrespective of the fact that the Commissioners Court or governing body in giving the notice of intention to issue refunding bonds may not have in all respects complied with statutory provisions. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify, or confirm any proceedings, ordinances, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds executed, adopted, or issued by any county with a population in excess of three hundred thousand (300,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any proceedings, ordinances, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Art. 2368a-4. Validation of Contracts, Scrip and Time Warrants; Proceedings; Refunding Bonds; Exceptions

Sec. 1. In every instance since the approval by the Governor of Texas, on June 8, 1953, of Chapter 382, Acts of the Fifty-third Legislature, Regular Session, 1953,¹ where the Commissioners Court of a county in this State has entered into contracts or agreements, or has incurred and recognized or approved claims for the construction of public works or improvements, for the purchase of land or interests in land, including right of ways for public roads or highways and the fencing of right of ways on and along public roads or highways, or for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, or professional or personal services, and has heretofore adopted orders authorizing the issuance of scrip or interest-bearing time warrants to pay for or to evidence the indebtedness incurred by such county for the cost of such public works or improvements, land, interests in land, including right of ways for public roads or highways and the fencing of right of ways on or along public roads and highways and such materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision or professional or personal services, all such contracts or agreements and claims, and assignments of such claims and such scrip and interest-bearing time warrants, and the proceedings adopted by such Commissioners Court relating thereto, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. All scrip and interest-bearing time warrants heretofore issued by the Commissioners Court of any county in this State in payment for or to evidence the indebtedness incurred for work done by such county and paid for by the day as the work progressed, and for materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision or professional or personal services purchased or secured in connection with such work, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify or confirm any scrip or interest-bearing time warrants issued by the Commissioners Court of a county in this State unless the proceedings of such Commissioners Court shall have heretofore found or declared, in effect, that such county has received full value and consideration for the issuance of such scrip or interest-bearing time warrants. It is expressly further provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify or confirm any contract, scrip warrant, or time warrant executed or issued by any county with a population in excess of one hundred and sixty-five thousand (165,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any contract, scrip warrant, or time warrant the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Sec. 2. All proceedings, orders, resolutions, and other instruments heretofore adopted or executed by any Commissioners Court in this State authorizing the issuance of bonds for the purpose of refunding time warrants issued by any such county and all refunding bonds heretofore issued for such purpose are hereby in all things validated, ratified, approved and confirmed, and such refunding bonds now in process of being issued and authorized by proceedings, orders and resolutions heretofore adopted by any such Commissioners Court may be issued irrespective of the fact that such Commissioners Court in giving the notice of intention to issue refunding bonds may not have in all respects complied with statutory provisions. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify, or confirm any proceedings, governmental Acts, orders, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds executed, adopted, or issued by any county with a population in excess of three hundred and fifty thousand (350,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any proceedings, governmental Acts, orders, ordinances, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds, the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Sec. 3. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase or word in this Act, or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act, and the Legislature hereby declares it would have passed such remaining portions despite such invalidity.

Sec. 4. All actions heretofore taken by the Commissioners Court of any county in ordering the holding of an election for the selection of a mayor and aldermen of a city, town or village heretofore incorporated under the General Laws of the State of Texas, and all orders of such court in canvassing the returns and declaring the results of such elections are hereby in all things ratified and confirmed, and the persons so declared or found to have been elected by the said Court as the result of such election, and their successors in office, shall be and are hereby recognized as the governing body of such city, town or village irrespective of whether such municipal corporation was originally established or incorporated under the aldermanic or commission form of government.

Art. 2368a-10. Validation of Contracts, Scrip and Time Warrants; Refunding Bonds; Acts and Proceedings; Exceptions

Sec. 1. [Amends art. 2368a, § 2.]

Sec. 2. In every instance since the approval by the Governor of Texas of Chapter 384, Acts of the 58th Legislature, Regular Session, 1963,¹ where the Commissioners Court of a county or the governing body of a city (including Home-Rule cities) or town in this state has entered into contracts for the construction of public works or improvements, the purchase of land or interests in land, or for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, or professional or personal services, and has heretofore adopted orders or ordinances to authorize the issuance of scrip or time warrants to pay or evidence the indebtedness of such county or city (including Home-Rule cities) or town for the cost of such public works or improvements, land, material, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision or professional or personal services, all such contracts, scrip and time warrants and the proceedings adopted by the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, relating thereto, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. All scrip warrants and time warrants heretofore issued by the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, in payment of work done by such county or city (including Home-Rule cities) or town and paid for by the day as the work progressed, and for materials and supplies purchased in connection with such work are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify or confirm any contract, scrip warrant, or time warrant executed or issued by any county with a population in excess of three hundred fifty thousand (350,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any contract, scrip warrant, or time warrant the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Sec. 3. All proceedings, governmental acts, orders, ordinances, resolutions, and other instruments heretofore adopted or executed by a Commissioners Court or governing body of a city (including Home-Rule cities) or town, and of all officers and officials thereof authorizing the issuance, delivery of or in anywise pertaining to time warrants or of bonds for the purpose of refunding time warrants issued by any county or city (including Home-Rule cities) or town, and all time warrants and all refunding bonds heretofore issued for such purpose, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, approved and confirmed. Such time warrants and refunding bonds now in process of being issued and authorized by proceedings, ordinances and resolutions heretofore adopted may be issued irrespective of the fact that the Commissioners Court or governing body in giving the notice of intention to issue refunding bonds may not have in all respects complied with statutory provisions. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify, or confirm any proceedings, governmental acts, orders, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds executed, adopted or issued by any county with a population in excess of three hundred fifty thousand (350,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any proceedings, governmental acts, orders, ordinances, resolutions or other instruments, time warrants or bonds the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Art. 2368a-11. Validation of Contracts, Scrip and Time Warrants; Refunding Bonds; Acts and Proceedings; Exceptions

Sec. 1. In every instance where the Commissioners Court of a county or the governing board of a city (including Home-Rule cities) or town in this state has entered into contracts for, or has determined the advisability thereof by giving notice of intention to issue interest-bearing time warrants in payment therefor, the construction of public works or improvements, the purchase of land or interests in land, or for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, wages, salaries, or professional or personal services, and has heretofore adopted orders or ordinances to authorize the issuance of scrip or time warrants to pay or evidence the indebtedness of such county or city (including Home-Rule cities) or town for the cost of such public works or improvements, land, material, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, wages, salaries, or professional or personal services, all such contracts, scrip and time warrants and the proceedings adopted by the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, relating thereto are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. All scrip warrants and time warrants heretofore issued by the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, in payment of work done by such county or city (including Home-Rule cities) or town and paid for by the day as the work progressed, and for materials and supplies purchased in connection with such work and for professional or personal services rendered to the county, city or town, and each of these are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved and all such warrants shall be payable in accordance with their respective terms. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify or confirm any contract, scrip warrant or time warrant executed or issued by any county with a population in excess of three hundred and fifty thousand (350,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any contract, scrip warrant or time warrant the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Sec. 2. All proceedings, governmental acts, orders, ordinances, resolutions and other instruments heretofore adopted or executed by a Commissioners Court or governing body of a city (including Home-Rule cities) or town, and of all officers and officials thereof authorizing the issuance of or pertaining to refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding scrip or time warrants issued by any county or city (including Home-Rule cities) or town and all such warrants and all refunding bonds, heretofore issued for such purpose, and each of these are hereby in all things validated, ratified, approved and confirmed. Such refunding bonds now in process of being issued and authorized by proceedings, ordinances and resolutions heretofore adopted may be issued, irrespective of the fact that the Commissioners Court or governing body in giving the notice of intention to issue refunding bonds may not have in all respects complied with statutory provisions. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify, or confirm any proceedings, governmental acts, orders, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds executed, adopted or issued by any county with a population in excess of three hundred and fifty thousand (350,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any proceedings, governmental acts, orders, ordinances, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds, the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Art. 2368a-12. Validation of Contracts, Warrants, Assessments, Acts and Proceedings, etc. of Certain Counties, Cities and Towns

Contracts for Construction, Etc., Scrip or Time Warrants Issued and Related Proceedings

Sec. 1. In every instance where the Commissioners Court of a county or the governing board of a city (including Home Rule cities) or town in this State has entered into contracts for the construction of public works or improvements, the purchase of land or interests in land, or for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, wages, salaries, or professional or personal services, and has heretofore adopted orders or ordinances to authorize the issuance of scrip or time warrants to pay or evidence the indebtedness of such county or city (including Home Rule cities) or town for the cost of such public works or improvements, land, material, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, wages, salaries, or professional or personal services, all such contracts, scrip and time warrants and the proceedings adopted by the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, relating thereto, are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved. All scrip warrants and time warrants heretofore issued by the Commissioners Court or governing body, as the case may be, in payment of work done by such county or city (including Home Rule cities) or town and paid for by the day as the work progressed, and for materials and supplies purchased in connection with such work and for professional or personal services rendered to the county, city or town, and each of these are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed and approved and all such warrants shall be payable in accordance with their respective terms. In all instances where such city or county has entered into contract with or paid the State of Texas for the construction of drainage improvements through the issuance and delivery of time warrants authorized for the purpose of acquiring and purchasing lands necessary for rights-of-way and to defray all expenses incidental thereto, and the governing body of such city or county has determined and found that the construction of drainage improvements for which the contract was entered or payment made was essential to the acquisition of rights-of-way for State or federal highways (which may or may not also be classed as city streets), all such contracts or payments and the delivery of time warrants therefor are hereby in all things validated, ratified and confirmed as are such findings made by such governing body.

Proceedings, Governmental Acts, Orders, Etc., Authorizing Issuance of Refunding Bonds

Sec. 2. All proceedings, governmental acts, orders, ordinances, resolutions and other instruments heretofore adopted or executed by a Commissioners Court or governing body of a city (including Home Rule cities) or town, and of all officers and officials thereof authorizing the issuance of or pertaining to refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding scrip or time warrants issued by any county or city (including Home Rule cities) or town and all such warrants and all refunding bonds, heretofore issued for such purpose, and each of these are hereby in all things validated, ratified, approved and confirmed.

Bond Elections and Proceedings

Sec. 3. In every instance where the governing body of a city (including Home Rule cities) or a town or a county has heretofore provided for the calling and holding of an election for the authorization of bonds or has authorized the issuance of refunding bonds to refund time warrants or other obligations, all such election proceedings and proceedings for the authorization of such bonds and refunding bonds are hereby in all things validated, ratified and confirmed.

Leases and Attempted Leases of Nursing Homes or Interests Therein by Counties

Sec. 4. In every instance where the County Court or Commissioners Court in any county of this State acting as such court has leased or attempted to lease a nursing home or an interest therein belonging to said county to any person, firm, or corporation, and where the County Court or Commissioners Court has made, executed, and delivered to any such person, firm, or corporation an instrument purporting to lease such nursing home, and where the lessee or his successors has enlarged or developed the facility, then all such leases or attempted leases are hereby validated, ratified, confirmed, and approved.

Form of Government Change by Cities of 950 to 1,100

Sec. 4a. The adoption of an ordinance to change the form of government of a general law city with a population between 950 and 1,100 from commission to aldermanic is hereby in all respects validated as of the date of such proceedings.

Acquisitions of Property by Counties and Conveyances to University of Texas

Sec. 5. All actions of a Commissioners Court of any county in this State in acquiring property and the subsequent conveyance of such property by deeds of record in any county in this State to the Board of Regents of The University of Texas, as trustees, for the use and benefit of The University of Texas are hereby ratified and confirmed and in all things approved.

Assessments by Cities for Street or Highway Improvements and Liens and Liabilities Thereby Created

Sec. 6. All assessments and reassessments for street or highway improvements and the liens and liabilities created thereby heretofore levied or purported to be levied by any and all cities in the State against properties abutting their streets or highways and against the owners of such properties, and all proceedings of the governing bodies of such cities levying or purporting to levy such assessments or reassessments are in all respects validated and shall have the force and effect provided by the provisions of Chapter 106 of the 40th Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1927, as amended,¹ except that nothing herein shall be construed to validate or to legalize any assessment lien levied or attempted to be levied against any property or interest in property exempt at the time the improvements were ordered from the lien of special assessment for street improvements.

Assignable Certificates of Special Assessment

Sec. 7. All assignable certificates of special assessment issued in evidence of such assessments or reassessments are hereby validated according to their terms. Any city which has not yet issued assignable certificates of special assessment to evidence such assessments may issue same and such certificates shall be valid and legal.

Assessments for Street Improvements Subject to Pending Litigation; Exception

Sec. 8. This Act is not intended to validate, nor does it apply to any assessments or reassessments for street improvements, which are the subject matter of any litigation pending on the effective date of this Act, in any court of competent jurisdiction in this State in which the validity thereof is being challenged, if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of same.

Proceedings, Governmental Acts, Orders, Resolutions and Bonds of Counties in Excess of 350,000 or Subject to Litigation; Inapplicability

Sec. 9. This Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify or confirm any proceedings, governmental acts, orders, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds executed, adopted or issued by any county with a population in excess of three hundred fifty thousand (350,000), according to the last preceding Federal Census, or any proceedings, governmental acts, orders, ordinances, resolutions or other instruments, or bonds, the validity of which is directly involved as a party in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective.

Section 10 of the 1971 Act provides:

"If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase or word in this Act, or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act, and the Legislature hereby declares it would have passed such remaining portions despite such invalidity."

Art. 2368a-13. Validation of Time Warrants in Counties of Less than 1,000,000

Sec. 1. The governmental acts and proceedings performed by the commissioners court of any county with a population of less than 1,000,000, according to the most recent federal census, in authorizing the issuance of time warrants are validated in all respects as of the date of the act or proceeding if the time warrants were issued after August 1, 1976. Time warrants issued in connection with the proceedings are validated according to their terms and as of the date they were issued. The acts, proceedings, or time warrants issued in connection with them may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. This Act does not apply to any matter involved in litigation on the date this Act takes effect if the litigation ultimately results against the legality of the matter. This Act does not apply to any matter that has been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2010, ch. 803, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 2368b. Validating Notes, Bonds and Warrant Issues in Certain Cities

Sec. 1. All findings and funding and refunding notes, bonds, warrants, time warrants and treasury warrants heretofore issued or authorized to be issued and attempted to be issued by any and all cities in the State, whether or not incorporated under General or Special Laws, and any and all cities operating under charters adopted under the provisions of Article 11, Section 5, of the Constitution of Texas, having a population in excess of One Hundred Seventy Five Thousand (175,000) according to the last preceding United States census, and which were heretofore issued, authorized to be issued, or attempted to be issued under authority of H.B.No. 312 of the Forty-second Legislature,¹ are in all respects validated.

Sec. 2. All orders of the governing bodies of such cities authorizing such issues of funding and refunding notes, bonds, warrants, time warrants and treasury warrants, or attempting to authorize the same, or any of the same, are in all respects validated.

Sec. 3. All orders of said governing bodies of said cities directing the levying and assessing of taxes to provide for the payment of interest and principal of such funding and refunding notes, bonds, warrants, time warrants and treasury warrants, as they respectively mature, are in all respects validated.

Art. 2368b-1. Validating Notes, Taxes, etc. in Certain Counties

Sec. 1. All notes heretofore authorized to be issued and sold for cash, or attempted to be issued and sold for cash, by any county in the State whose Commissioners Court has by official determination declared that such cash is necessary and essential to the continued current operations of the county for its public purposes are in all respects hereby validated.

Sec. 2. All orders of the Commissioners Court of such counties authorizing such notes or attempting to authorize the same, or any of the same, and the sales and attempted sales thereof for cash for the par or principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of delivery thereof, if said date shall be other than the date of the notes, are in all respects hereby validated.

Sec. 3. All orders of said Commissioners Courts of said counties levying and directing the levying and assessing of taxes to provide for the payment of the interest on and principal of such notes, as they respectively mature, are in all respects hereby validated.

Sec. 4. The sale of all notes validated by this Act may be consummated by the delivery thereof to and the payment therefor by the purchasers and the same may be refunded into bonds at any time after the effective date of this Act upon proper authorization thereof by duly adopted bond order of the Commissioners Court of any such county in any manner now permitted by law with respect to the refunding of other indebtedness of any such county.

Sec. 5. This Act shall not be applicable to any county having an excess of 350,000 population according to the latest preceding federal census.

Sec. 6. This Act is not intended to validate nor does it apply to any notes which are on the effective date hereof the subject matter of any litigation pending in any court in this State in which the validity thereof is being challenged.

Art. 2368c. Validating Proceedings as to Funding Warrants and Bonds in Cities of 11,000 and Not Less Than 10,500

All acts and proceedings of governing bodies of cities containing a population of not more than eleven thousand (11,000) nor less than ten thousand, five hundred (10,500), according to the last preceding Federal Census, in connection with the issuance of funding warrants and funding bonds heretofore authorized or attempted to be authorized, or heretofore issued or attempted to be issued, under the provisions of Chapter 163, Acts Forty-second Legislature, Regular Session,¹ are hereby in all things validated. The fact that by inadvertence or oversight any act of the officers of any such city was omitted shall in no wise invalidate such warrants or bonds. Provided that this Act shall not apply to any city whose bonds or warrants are the subject matter of litigation.

Art. 2368d. Validation of Funding and Refunding Securities Issued by Commissioners' Court or Cities and Towns

All actions heretofore taken by Commissioners' Courts and by the governing bodies of Cities and Towns in the authorization, execution, issuance and delivery of such funding and refunding bonds and such funding and refunding warrants, in attempted compliance with the provisions of Chapter 163, Acts of the Regular Session of the Forty-second Legislature¹ are hereby validated and all such funding and refunding securities issued pursuant to such actions are hereby validated; provided, however, that such validation shall not affect or in any wise apply to the subject matter of any litigation pending at the time this Act becomes effective, until such litigation is determined, finally, favorably to its validity, or until such litigation has been dismissed.

Art. 2368e. Validating Notices to Bidders on Certain County Projects and Time Warrants in Payment

Sec. 1. In each instance wherein a county has given notice to bidders for the construction, improvement, or repair of any public building in the county and notice of intention to issue time warrants in which notice the maximum amount of time warrants stated does not exceed Sixty Thousand Dollars ($60,000), in payment for all or a part of the cost of such work, and such notice was published in a newspaper of general circulation in said county fourteen (14) days or more prior to the date therein set for receiving bids, and the second publication thereof is had before or after the effective date of this Act, and before the date set for receiving bids, such notice is hereby validated and declared to be legal and sufficient notice, notwithstanding the fact that such notice was not published for two (2) consecutive weeks, and the Commissioners Court is authorized to proceed with the making of a contract pursuant to such notice and the issuance of time warrants in payment therefor. Contracts made, and time warrants authorized in payment therefor, pursuant to such notice and prior to the effective date of this Act, are hereby validated.

Sec. 2. Provided that this Act shall not validate any warrants issued as herein described, the validity of which is attacked in any court of competent jurisdiction by suit pending therein at the time or within fifteen (15) days of the time this Act becomes effective.

Art. 2368f. Time Warrants; Issuance in Counties With 300,000 Population

Sec. 1. In all counties having a population in excess of three hundred thousand (300,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, the Commissioners Court shall have no authority or power to issue time warrants until and unless the same have been authorized by a majority vote of the qualified electors who own taxable property in the county and have duly rendered the same for taxation voting at an election therefor, such election to be held under the authority of and in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925.¹ Provided, that in case of public calamity caused by fire, flood, storm, or to protect the public health, or in case of unforeseen damage to public property, machinery, or equipment, the Commissioners Court may issue such time warrants in the aggregate amount of not exceeding Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) during any one calendar year as are necessary to provide for the immediate repair, preservation or protection of public property, and the lives and health of the citizens of the county without the necessity of such election.

Sec. 2. This Act shall not be construed to apply to time warrants of such counties issued or authorized to be issued prior to the effective date of this Act.

Saved From Repeal

Section 3 of Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 1098, ch. 560, provides:

"All General and Special Laws in conflict herewith, except House Bill No. 106 enacted by the 51st Legislature, Regular Session, 1949 [this article], are by this Act expressly repealed; provided, however, that this Act shall not limit or affect the authority granted by Section 5 and Section 6 of Chapter 163, Acts of the 42nd Legislature of Texas, Regular Session, 1931 [art. 2368a], in the making of expenditures and the issuance of warrants as therein provided, except as such Section 5 and Section 6 are limited by House Bill No. 106, enacted by the 51st Legislature, Regular Session, 1949."

Art. 2369. Commissioners May Repeal Order

The commissioners court may, by order entered of record after contracts have been in force for the specified time in such contract, repeal said order.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2370. Buildings, etc. Other Than Courthouse for Courts and Public Business; Leasing Part; Income; Bonds or Other Evidence of Indebtedness

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court of any county may, when necessary, provide buildings, rooms, or apartments at the county seat, other than the courthouse, for holding the sessions of the County Courts, District Courts, and for carrying on such other public business as may be authorized by the Commissioners Court, and may lease or rent such part of any such buildings, rooms, or apartments as may not be necessary for public use.

Sec. 2. Whenever any county in this State may have acquired a building (other than the courthouse) at the county seat which is used partly for public business and which is partly rented for private purposes, where such building was acquired by such county in settlement of an obligation owed to the county, and the Commissioners Court of such county desires to enlarge, remodel, renovate, add onto, repair, improve, or otherwise alter such building, and funds are not available for such purpose, the Commissioners Court of such county shall have the power to issue negotiable bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness to secure funds for such purpose and to pledge, assign, encumber, and hypothecate the net income and revenues from the portion of such building which the Commissioners Court finds is not then and will not thereafter be necessary for public purposes. No such obligation so issued shall ever be a debt of such county but shall be solely a charge upon the income and revenue so encumbered and no such obligation shall ever be counted in determining the power of any such county to issue any bonds for any purpose authorized by law.

Sec. 3. No part of the income or revenue of any such building shall ever be used to pay any other debt, expense, or obligation of such county until the indebtedness so secured shall have been finally paid; provided that the expense of operation and maintenance including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, improvements, repairs, and extensions necessary to render efficient service and every proper item of expense shall always be a first lien and charge against such income and revenue and only such repairs and extensions as in the judgment of the Commissioners Court are necessary to keep the building in operation and render adequate service, or such as might be necessary to meet some physical accident or condition which would otherwise impair the original security, shall be a lien prior to the lien herein provided for.

There shall be charged and collected as rental for those parts of such building not used for public purposes, a sufficient amount to pay all operating, maintenance, depreciation, replacement, betterment, and interest charges, and expenses, and to create an interest and sinking fund sufficient to pay any securities issued hereunder.

Sec. 4. Each contract bond, warrant, note, or other evidence of indebtedness issued pursuant to this law shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation." Where bonds are issued hereunder, they may be presented to the Attorney General for his approval as is provided for the approval of municipal bonds issued by counties. In such case, upon approval, the bonds shall be registered by the State Comptroller as in the case of other municipal bonds. Projects financed in accordance with this law are hereby declared to be self-liquidating in character and supported by charge other than by taxation. Securities issued under the provisions hereof shall be subject to the applicable provisions of the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931 as amended (House Bill No. 312, Acts of 1931, Forty-second Legislature, page 269, Chapter 163, as amended)¹ except as same may be inconsistent herewith and under no circumstances shall any vote of the taxpayers be required upon any securities issued hereunder.

Art. 2370a. Expired

This article, derived from Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 100, ch. 60, by its own terms terminated on September 1, 1951, and ceased to exist and was of no force and effect on March 28, 1951.

Art. 2370b. County Office, Courts and Jail Buildings; Construction, Improvement, etc.

Power to Acquire, Construct, Reconstruct, Remodel, Etc., Buildings

Sec. 1. Whenever the Commissioners Court of any county determines that the county courthouse is not adequate in size or facilities to properly house all county and district offices and all county and district courts and all justice of the peace courts for the precincts in which the courthouse is situated, and to adequately store all county records and equipment (including voting machines) and/or that the county jail is not adequate in size or facilities to properly confine prisoners and other persons who may be legally confined or detained in a county jail, the Commissioners Court may purchase, construct, reconstruct, remodel, improve and equip, or otherwise acquire an office building or buildings, or courts building or buildings, or jail building or buildings (in addition to the existing courthouse and/or jail), or an additional building or buildings in which any one or more of the county or district offices or county, district or justice of the peace courts, or the county jail or any other county facilities or functions may be housed, conducted and maintained; and may purchase and improve the necessary site or sites therefor, and may use such building or buildings for any or all of such purposes, provided that any such building or buildings so acquired shall be located in the county seat, but provided that any regional jail facility built according to the provisions of Section 4(h), The Interlocal Cooperation Act, as amended (Article 4413(32c), Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may be located outside the county seat, and further provided that no justice of the peace court shall be housed, conducted or maintained in any such building if said building is located out of the boundaries of the precinct of such justice of the peace court.

Use of Buildings

Sec. 2. Such building or buildings, when purchased, constructed or otherwise acquired and equipped may also be used for the purpose of carrying on such other public business as may be authorized by the Commissioners Court, and/or the Commissioners Court may also lease or rent any part or parts of any such building or buildings, (which may not be presently needed for any of the above purposes) to the State of Texas and any of its political subdivisions, and the Federal Government.

Bond Issue; Levy of Taxes

Sec. 3. To pay for the purchase, construction, reconstruction, remodeling, improvement and equipment of any such building or buildings and/or jail or jails, including the purchase and improvement of the site or sites therefor, the Commissioners Court is authorized to issue negotiable bonds of the county and to levy and collect taxes in payment thereof, which taxes shall be levied, pursuant to the authority of Article 8, Section 9 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended, for permanent improvement fund purposes; and such bonds may mature serially or otherwise as may be determined by the Commissioners Court of the county, not exceeding forty (40) years from their date, and such bonds may contain such option or options or redemption or no option of redemption as may be determined by the Commissioners Court; and the issuance of such bonds and the levy and collection of such taxes shall otherwise be in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas,¹ governing the issuance of bonds by cities, towns and/or counties in this State.

Bond Elections; Propositions Submitted

Sec. 4. The Commissioners Court may submit at any bond election one proposition for the issuance of such bonds which proposition may include all the purposes authorized herein for which such bonds may be issued; or it may, at its option, submit at any bond election one or more separate propositions for the issuance of such bonds, each of which separate propositions may include any one or more of the purposes authorized herein for which such bonds may be issued.

Notices; Posting

Sec. 5. The acquisition or use of any such building or buildings for any of the purposes herein authorized shall not alter, change or affect any requirement of any law to the effect that certain notices shall be posted at the courthouse door of the county; all notices which have heretofore been required to be posted at the courthouse door of the county shall be posted at the door of the main courthouse and nothing in this Act shall require that additional notices shall be posted at the door or doors of the building or of any of the buildings acquired or used pursuant to the authority herein granted.

Provisions Cumulative

Sec. 6. The provisions of this Act are in addition to all the powers given by, and are cumulative of, all other provisions of the Laws of the State of Texas on the same subject.

Art. 2370b-1. Branch Courthouses; Counties of 54,000 to 56,000 or 30,000 to 31,000

Sec. 1. In counties which have a population of not less than 54,000 nor more than 56,000, or less than 30,000 nor more than 31,000, according to the last preceding federal census, the Commissioners Court may provide for, operate, and maintain one or more branch courthouses outside the county seat for any length of time the Commissioners Court considers necessary.

Sec. 2. (a) If the branch courthouse is maintained in a building which is owned by the county, the commissioners court shall operate and maintain the building in the same manner in which it operates and maintains the county courthouse. The commissioners court shall have care and custody of the building and may place any limitations on the use and maintenance of the building which it finds necessary.

(b) If the commissioners court does not wish to construct a building or purchase office space for the branch courthouse, the commissioners may rent or lease a sufficient amount of office space for the branch courthouse.

Sec. 3. After the commissioners court has authorized the creation of a branch courthouse, any office, department, facility, court, or other agency of the county may open branch offices in the branch courthouse with the approval of the commissioners court.

Sec. 4. Expenses incurred by the county in operating and maintaining the branch courthouse shall be paid from county funds used to maintain and operate other county buildings.

Art. 2370b-2. Auxiliary Courts in Counties of 1,200,000 or More

The commissioners court in any county with a population of 1,200,000 or more according to the last preceding federal census may authorize specific geographic locations within the county other than the county courthouse as auxiliary courts for purposes of conducting nonjury proceedings and may designate those locations as auxiliary county seats for such purposes.

Art. 2370b-3. Office Buildings or Jails Outside County Seat

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of any county may provide one or more office buildings or jail facilities at any place in the county outside the county seat in the same manner as the commissioners court may provide for these facilities at the county seat. The commissioners court may provide office space in a building provided under this Act for any county or precinct office, except courts required by law to sit at the county seat. Each county officer shall maintain an office at the county seat in which the officer shall keep all original records of the office.

Sec. 2. The office building or jail may be provided for by the issuance of bonds, as is provided by Chapters 1 and 2, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ or by the issuance of other evidences of indebtedness, in the same manner as bonds or evidences of indebtedness for courthouses and jails at county seats.

Sec. 3. The authority granted by this Act is in addition to that provided by other laws.

Art. 2370c. Counties of Over 900,000; County Workhouses and FarmsBond Issue; Tax Levy; Election; Notice; Execution, Approval and Registration of Bonds

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court of any county in this State having a population in excess of nine hundred thousand (900,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census is hereby authorized from time to time to issue the negotiable bonds of said county and levy taxes in payment thereof for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and equipping county workhouses and county farms to be used for the confinement of prisoners of the county or for the purpose of utilizing the labor of such prisoners (either or both), including the acquisition or purchase of sites therefor. Such taxes shall be from the Constitutional Permanent Improvement Fund. Such bonds shall be issued and taxes in payment thereof shall be levied and collected in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ governing the issuance of bonds by cities, towns, and/or counties in this State, except as may be otherwise provided in this Act. Any and all bonds authorized to be issued by this Act may be submitted at the bond election in a single proposition. Notice of a bond election shall be given by publication of a notice containing a substantial copy of the election order on the same day in each of two (2) consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, the first of which publications shall be at least fourteen (14) days prior to the election. No other notice of election shall be necessary. No bonds authorized by this Act (except refunding bonds) shall be issued unless more than a majority of the duly qualified resident electors of said county who own taxable property within said county and who have duly rendered the same for taxation, voting at the election, have voted in favor of the issuance of such bonds. Such bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years from their date or dates, and such bonds may or may not contain option of prior redemption provisions as may be determined by the Commissioners Courts. Such bonds shall be executed in the manner as may be provided in the order authorizing their issuance. All such bonds (including refunding bonds), after the same have been approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas and registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, shall be incontestable.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court of any such county shall have the right at all times to issue refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding outstanding bonds (including the refunding of refunding bonds) issued under the provisions of this Act, subject to the General Laws applicable to the issuance of refunding bonds by counties and without the necessity of an election or of any notice or of any right to referendum vote. The provisions of Section 1 hereof relating to maturities of original bonds and their execution shall apply to refunding bonds issued hereunder.

Validation of Election Proceedings

Sec. 3. Any and all bonds heretofore authorized for the purposes mentioned in Section 1 hereof by a majority of the duly qualified resident electors of the county who owned taxable property within such county and who had duly rendered the same for taxation, voting at an election called and held for such purpose, and the election proceedings relating to such bonds, are hereby in all things validated; and the Commissioners Court may issue any such bonds in the manner herein provided. It is expressly provided, however, that the validation provisions of this Section 3 shall not apply to litigation pending upon the effective date of this Act.

Art. 2370c-1. Counties of Over 900,000; Crime Detection Facilities; Certificates of Indebtedness

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of each county having a population in excess of 900,000, according to the most recent federal census, shall be authorized, for and on behalf of the county, to issue negotiable certificates of indebtedness for the purpose of acquiring, purchasing, constructing, repairing, renovating, improving, and/or equipping crime detection facilities, and acquiring any real or personal property in connection therewith, and to levy and pledge annual county ad valorem taxes under Article VIII, Section 9, of the Texas Constitution, sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said certificates of indebtedness as the same come due. When any such certificates of indebtedness are issued, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court annually to levy the aforesaid taxes, and cause the same to be assessed and collected, in an amount sufficient to pay such principal and interest. Such certificates of indebtedness may be issued in one or more series or issues, shall mature serially or otherwise not more than 40 years from their date, and shall bear interest at such rate or rates as shall be determined within the discretion of the commissioners court. Said certificates of indebtedness, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto, shall be negotiable instruments, and they may be made redeemable prior to maturity, may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions, and details, and shall be signed and executed, as provided by the Commissioners Court in the order authorizing the issuance thereof. Such certificates of indebtedness shall be sold for not less than their par value and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such certificates of indebtedness may be issued by order of the commissioners court without the necessity of an election, but the aggregate principal amount of certificates of indebtedness issued pursuant to this Act shall not exceed $1,500,000.

Sec. 2. All certificates of indebtedness issued pursuant to this Act, and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance, shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for examination. If he finds that such certificates of indebtedness have been authorized in accordance with law he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas; and after such approval and registration such certificates of indebtedness shall be incontestable in any court, or other forum, for any reason, and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Sec. 3. All certificates of indebtedness issued pursuant to this Act shall be legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the State of Texas and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities thereof, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. Said certificates of indebtedness also shall be eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the State of Texas and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities thereof, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of said certificates of indebtedness, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Sec. 4. The commissioners court shall be authorized to operate and maintain the county's crime detection facilities and to fix and collect fees and charges for services performed and information furnished to others by the use of said facilities. The commissioners court shall pay the expenses of operation and maintenance of said facilities from such fees and charges and/or from any other available county funds.

Art. 2370c-2. Criminal Justice Facilities in Certain Counties and Cities

Eligible Counties and Cities

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to any county in this state and to any city in such county which city is not the county seat of such county but has a population of more than 17,500 according to the last preceding federal census.

Authorization

Sec. 2. Counties and cities to which this Act is applicable are hereby authorized jointly or severally to own, construct, equip, enlarge, and maintain a building or buildings in such city to constitute a criminal justice center providing facilities of a public nature with relation to or incidental in the administration of criminal justice, including, without limitation, accommodations for the handling, processing, and detention of prisoners, and offices for state, county, and city administrative and judicial officials, courtrooms, garages, and parking areas.

Contracts

Sec. 3. Such county and city shall have authority to specify by contract the purpose, terms, rights, objectives, duties, and responsibilities of each of the contracting parties, including the amount, or proportionate amount, of money to be contributed by each for land acquisition, building acquisition, construction, and equipment; the method or methods by which such moneys are to be provided; the account or accounts in which such money is to be deposited; the party which shall award construction or other contracts or that such contracts shall be awarded by action of both parties; and the manner in which disbursements shall be authorized. Such contract may further provide for the creation of an administrative agency or may designate one of the parties to supervise the accomplishment of the purposes of the contract and to operate and maintain the joint facilities, and any administrative agency so created or party so designated shall have authority to employ personnel and engage in other administrative activities as necessary in accomplishing the purposes of the contract and in operating and maintaining the joint facilities.

Methods of Meeting Costs

Sec. 4. The county and city contract may specify that moneys required of them in meeting the cost of providing the criminal justice center shall be derived from current income and funds on hand budgeted by them for such purpose, or through the authorization and issuance of bonds by either or both the county and city under the procedures prescribed for the issuance of general obligation bonds for other public buildings and purposes, or by the issuance by either or both the county and the city of certificates of obligation under the provisions of Article 2368a-1,¹ Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, or by a combination of those methods. In lieu of or in combination with the employment of taxing power in the payment of such bonds or certificates of obligation, same may be payable from and secured by income derived from the criminal justice center facilities, including that from leases and from the proceeds of parking or other fees. In the financing of the facilities herein authorized eligible counties and cities jointly or severally may accept grants, gratuities, advances, and loans from the United States, the State of Texas, or any of their agencies, any private or public corporation, or any other person.

Office Facilities

Sec. 5. As applicable to counties eligible to employ the provisions of this Act, any county officer, in addition to the office he maintains at the county seat, may maintain office facilities in the herein authorized criminal justice center notwithstanding provisions of Article 1605, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or any other law limiting the location of county offices to the county seat of their respective counties.

Art. 2370c-3. Justice Centers Located on State Line

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Law" means a statute of a state, a written opinion of a court of record, a municipal ordinance, an order of a county commissioners court, or a rule authorized by and lawfully adopted pursuant to a statute.

(2) "Municipality" means an incorporated city or town.

Authorization for Contract

Sec. 2. (a) A county in this state and a municipality in that county, both located on the state line, may contract with an adjoining county and any municipality in that county located on the other side of the state line for the joint construction, financing, operation, and management of a justice center to be located on the state line. The contracting municipality in this state need not be the county seat of the contracting county in this state. The county and municipality in this state may contract for the center to contain:

(1) courtrooms and office space needed by municipal, justice, county, district, and appellate courts;

(2) jail, lockup, and other detention facilities;

(3) federal, county, precinct, and municipal offices for prosecuting attorneys and other personnel as needed;

(4) adult or juvenile probation offices;

(5) any other offices that either county or municipality is separately authorized or required to operate or provide; or

(6) parking space, dining areas, and other facilities incidental to operation of the center.

(b) A court of civil appeals or a district, county, justice, or municipal court having jurisdiction in the county or municipality in which a part of the center is located may maintain offices and courtrooms and hold proceedings at the center, except that no justice court other than the justice court for the precinct in which the part of the center in this state is located may maintain an office and courtroom in the center.

(c) A court of this state may not hold proceedings in the part of the center located in the other state. Courts of the other state may hold proceedings in the part of the center in this state.

Financing

Sec. 3. The governing body of a Texas municipality or Texas county contracting as provided by Section 1 of this Act may finance its share of the construction, financing, operation, or management of the center by any means that it could finance the type of facilities in the center to be used or provided by it. The contract may take advantage of the availability of federal funds to finance any part of the center.

Management of Center

Sec. 4. The contracting parties may specify in the contract the manner of determining the persons responsible for:

(1) the operation, alteration, maintenance, cleaning, and repair of the facilities;

(2) the employment of center personnel;

(3) the purchase of materials, supplies, tools, and other equipment to be jointly used by offices provided or used by the contracting parties;

(4) preparing reports to the governing bodies of the contracting parties;

(5) joint record-keeping, communications, or dispatch systems; and

(6) the performance of any other powers or duties relating to operation of the center.

Personnel

Sec. 5. The contracting parties may provide in the contract the manner of determining the personnel policies and employment benefit programs for center personnel.

Jail Management

Sec. 6. The contract must provide that the sheriffs of the two counties are jointly responsible for operation of any jail, lockup, or other detention facility in the center and the custody, care, and treatment of persons in custody in the facility or must provide for the hiring of a jailer with those responsibilities.

Law Applicable to the Center

Sec. 7. (a) Except as otherwise provided by this Act, the law of both states regarding rights, duties, liabilities, privileges, and immunities arising from conduct applies to conduct in any part of the center. If, however, it is impossible for a person to conform his or her conduct in the center to the law of both states, that person may choose which state's law governs that conduct. If a person chooses to conform his or her conduct in the center to the law of the other state, the conflicting law of this state does not apply to that conduct.

(b) The physical plant of the center and equipment and facilities used by personnel of both states employed at the center are constructively present in both states.

(c) Except as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, property in any part of the center that is owned by or in the possession of a person in custody or summoned to appear in the center is constructively present in the state under the law of which the person was taken into custody or summoned to appear.

(d) Possession of property that constitutes an offense committed in the center is conduct to which Subsection (a) of this section applies. A person's exercise of a duty in regard to property in the center is conduct to which Subsection (a) of this section applies.

(e) Property that is ordered by a court to be produced in the center or that is in the possession of a peace officer or a party to a proceeding for use as evidence before a court holding a proceeding in the center is constructively present in the state of the court.

(f) Property in the center that is not covered by Subsection (c), (d), or (e) of this section is constructively present in both states.

(g) The law of a state in which property is constructively present applies to that property to the same extent that that law would apply if the property were actually present in that state. If property is constructively present in only one state, the law of the state in which the property is not constructively present may be applied to that property only to the extent that that law would apply if the property were actually outside that state.

(h) Except as otherwise provided by this Act, the courts of both states have concurrent jurisdiction over the geographic area of both states in the center, but the state in which a prosecution is first instituted for an offense committed in the center retains jurisdiction to apply that state's law to the exclusion of the other state's jurisdiction, unless the prosecution is terminated without jeopardy attaching under the law of the state of the first prosecution. For the purposes of this Act, a prosecution is commenced in this state on the filing of an indictment, information, or complaint, and the attachment of jeopardy in this state is determined by Article 27.05, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended.

Arrest, Extradition, and Service of Process

Sec. 8. (a) A person who is in the center in the custody of a peace officer or center personnel under Texas law:

(1) is constructively present in Texas while that person is in custody in the part of the center in the other state;

(2) may be prosecuted for an offense against Texas law without extradition of that person; and

(3) may be personally served in any part of the center for a proceeding in Texas.

(b) A person who is in the center in the custody of a peace officer or center personnel under the law of the other state:

(1) is constructively present in the other state while that person is in custody in the part of the center in Texas;

(2) may not be prosecuted for an offense against Texas law without extradition of that person; and

(3) may not be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in Texas.

(c) Texas agrees that a person who is in the center in the custody of a peace officer or center personnel under the law of the other state may be prosecuted for an offense against the law of the other state without extradition of that person. Texas agrees that a person who is in the center in the custody of a peace officer or center personnel under the law of the other state may be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in the other state.

(d) Center personnel or a peace officer of either state may transfer across the state line in the center a person in custody in the center under the law of either state and may exercise control over that person on both sides of the state line in the center.

(e) A person in the center who has not been confined in the center, taken to the center under arrest, or summoned to appear in the center may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against the law of either state without extradition of that person. Extradition of a person who was arrested in the center under those circumstances is not required in order to prosecute the person for an offense against the law of either state if the person is physically present in any part of the center or the state of the prosecution at the time of the prosecution.

(f) A person who is summoned to appear in the center under Texas law:

(1) is constructively present in Texas while that person is appearing under the summons in the part of the center in the other state;

(2) without extradition, may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law and prosecuted for that offense if that person is physically present in any part of the center or Texas at the time of the prosecution; and

(3) may be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in Texas.

(g) A person who is summoned to appear in the center under the law of the other state:

(1) is constructively present in the other state while that person is appearing under the summons in the part of the center in Texas;

(2) without extradition, may not be arrested under Texas law in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law; and

(3) may not be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in Texas.

(h) Texas agrees that a person who is summoned to appear in the center under the law of the other state may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against the law of the other state and prosecuted for that offense without extradition if that person is physically present in any part of the center or the other state at the time of the prosecution. Texas agrees that a person who is summoned to appear in the center under the law of the other state may be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in the other state.

(i) If a person in the center is constructively present in one state under this section, the law of the state in which the person is not constructively present may be applied to that person only to the extent that that law would apply if the person were actually outside that state. However, the law applicable to that person's conduct in the center is governed by Section 7 of this Act, and whether extradition is required to arrest or prosecute that person for an offense committed in the center is governed by Section 8 of this Act.

(j) If the other state enacts legislation as provided in Section 9 of this Act, a peace officer of Texas may:

(1) arrest a person under Texas law in the part of the center in the other state for an offense against Texas law if that peace officer would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in Texas; and

(2) arrest a person under the law of the other state in any part of the center for an offense against the law of the other state if a peace officer of the other state would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in the other state.

(k) Texas agrees that a peace officer of the other state may arrest a person under Texas law in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law if a peace officer of Texas would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in Texas.

(l) Texas agrees that a peace officer of the other state may arrest a person under the law of the other state in the part of the center in Texas for an offense against the law of the other state if that peace officer would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in the other state.

(m) Notwithstanding Sections 3 and 6, Article 51-13, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, the governor of this state may recognize a demand for the extradition of a person charged with crime in the other state if the demand alleges that any element of the offense occurred in any part of the center.

Other State's Legislation

Sec. 9. A county and a municipality in this state may contract with a county and a municipality in an adjoining state as provided by Sections 2 and 3 of this Act only if the other state enacts legislation relating to the establishment of a justice center pursuant to a contract as provided in those sections that:

(1) provides for joint responsibility of the sheriffs of the two counties over the operation of a jail, lockup, or other detention facility in the center and persons in custody in the facility, or the hiring of a jailer with those responsibilities;

(2) provides for the application and enforcement of the law of both states in the manner provided by Section 7 of this Act;

(3) provides that a person in custody in the center under Texas law may be prosecuted for an offense against Texas law without extradition of that person, as provided by Section 8 of this Act;

(4) provides that a person in custody in the center under Texas law may not be prosecuted for an offense against the law of the other state without extradition of that person or personally served with process in the center for a proceeding in the other state;

(5) provides that a person summoned to appear in the center under Texas law may not be personally served with process in any part of the center for a proceeding in the other state and may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law and prosecuted for that offense without extradition of the person if the person is physically present in any part of the center or Texas at the time of the prosecution, as provided by Section 8 of this Act;

(6) provides that a person summoned to appear in the center under Texas law may not be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against the law of the other state;

(7) provides that center personnel or a peace officer of either state may transfer across the state line in the center a person in custody in the center under the law of either state and may exercise control over that person on both sides of the state line in the center, as provided by Section 8 of this Act;

(8) provides that a person in the center who is not confined in the center, taken to the center under arrest, or summoned to appear in the center may be arrested in any part of the center for an offense against the laws of either state without extradition of that person, and that extradition of a person who was arrested in the center under those circumstances is not required in order for the person to be prosecuted for an offense against the law of either state if the person is physically present in any part of the center or the state of the prosecution at the time of the prosecution, as provided by Section 8 of this Act;

(9) authorizes a peace officer of either state, under Texas law, to arrest a person in any part of the center for an offense against Texas law if a peace officer of Texas would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in Texas, as provided by Section 8 of this Act; and

(10) authorizes a peace officer of either state, under the law of the other state, to arrest a person in any part of the center for an offense against the law of the other state if a peace officer of the other state would be authorized to make that arrest in the part of the center in the other state, as provided by Section 8 of this Act.

Art. 2370d. Counties With City of Over 275,000 Population; Public Health Administration Buildings

Application of Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply to any county containing a city which, according to the then latest United States Census, has a population in excess of 275,000.

Validation of Actions for Election and Bond Issue

Sec. 2. All actions heretofore taken by the Commissioners Court of any county mentioned in Section 1 hereof in ordering an election for the issuance of bonds for the purpose of erecting public health administration buildings and acquiring sites and equipment therefor, and all elections held pursuant to any such action and all such bonds heretofore voted or attempted to be voted and which have not been issued and sold are hereby in all things validated, and any such county may proceed with the issuance and sale of such bonds. Provided, however, this Act shall not affect any suit pending in any court of this state prior to the effective date hereof.

Issuance of Bonds; Erection of Public Health Administration Buildings; Repairs

Sec. 3. Any county whose bonds are validated by Section 2 of this Act is hereby authorized to proceed with the issuance of such bonds and to erect and maintain such public health administration buildings and to acquire sites and equipment therefor, and to expand and repair such buildings, acting either alone or jointly with any city contained in such county and to issue the county's general obligation bonds for such purpose. Such bonds shall be authorized in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 22 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas (1925), as amended,¹ relating to county bonds. Provided, when a city and a county jointly erect such buildings, they shall share in the cost in such manner as may be agreed upon and as authorized by orders or ordinances to be passed by the respective governing bodies. Such buildings may be jointly occupied and utilized by any such county and city and such county and city shall be vested with an undivided interest in any such buildings in accordance with any agreements reached by such county and city as authorized by orders or ordinances passed by the respective governing bodies. Provided, such buildings shall not be used for hospital purposes but may be used for any other purpose which will contribute to the health of the inhabitants of such county and city.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 4. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act, and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Art. 2370e. Sale and Lease Back of Land, Buildings, Equipment, etc., in Counties Over 500,000

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of any county in this state having a population in excess of 500,000 inhabitants according to the last preceding federal census is hereby authorized to sell land, buildings, facilities or equipment for the purpose of entering into contracts, to lease or to rent buildings, land, facilities, equipment or services from others for county purposes and to pay the regular monthly utility bills for such land, buildings, facilities, equipment, or services so contracted, leased, or rented, such as electricity, gas, and water; and when in the opinion of a majority of the commissioners court of a county such facilities and equipment are essential to the proper administration of such agencies of the county, said court is hereby specifically authorized to pay for same and for the regular monthly utility bills for such offices out of the county's general fund by warrant as in the payment of other obligations of the county.

Sec. 2. Provided that all construction projects originated or initiated under the term of this Act, shall be let by contract, which contract shall contain the prevailing wage for all mechanics, laborers and persons employed in the construction of such project. The commissioners court of Tarrant County shall determine and set the prevailing wage, which shall be the same prevailing wage set by the commissioners court of Tarrant County on all construction projects involving the expenditure of county funds.

Sec. 3. All actions, proceedings, orders and contracts for such sale, rental, lease, or utility bills for such purposes as stated in Section 1 hereof, made and entered into by any commissioners court of this state, pursuant to which such service has been rendered, are hereby validated, confirmed, and declared to be in full force and effect, notwithstanding any irregularity thereof prior to the enactment of this Act.

Sec. 4. Provided further that upon or prior to the expiration of the number of terms of years as set forth in any such contract, and when in the opinion of a majority of the commissioners court of such county the stated price is a reasonable price within the judgment of a majority of said court, such facilities may be purchased and become the property of said county and be paid for out of the general fund.

Art. 2371. Rest Room for Women

The Commissioners Court in each county in this State may maintain a rest room for women in the courthouse, or if for any reason a suitable rest room cannot be had in the courthouse, they may maintain a rest room at some convenient place near the courthouse. The rest room may be comfortably furnished with lounge, chairs, mirror, lavatory, tables, and such other furnishings as may be needed to make the room attractive and comfortable for women who may be in attendance on the Court or who may for other reasons be in town.

The Commissioners Court may assist the business and professional men, the various women's clubs, and other organizations in paying the salary of a matron for the rest room; providing the Commissioners Court shall appoint such matron; providing that the expense of maintaining the rest room shall not exceed One Hundred Dollars ($100) per month, including the compensation paid by the county to the matron.

Art. 2372. Interpreters

(a) The commissioners court of each county may fix the amount of compensation for interpreters employed by the various courts within the county. The compensation for interpreters shall be paid out of the general fund of the county on warrants issued by the court or the clerk of the court in favor of the person rendering the service.

(b) The provisions of this Article do not apply to interpreters for deaf or deaf-mute persons employed under Chapter 105, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967 (Article 3712a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or Article 38.31, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

Art. 2372a-2. County Highway Patrolmen Authorized in Certain Counties

The Commissioners' Courts of Counties containing not less than eleven thousand nine hundred eighty (11,980) inhabitants, and not more than twelve thousand one hundred (12,100) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census shall from and after the passage of this Act be empowered to appoint not more than five (5) County Highway Patrolmen for such County, which appointment for Highway Patrolmen shall be limited to the Sheriff or any of his duly appointed Deputies, and any Constable or his duly appointed Deputies, whose duty it shall be to patrol all County Public Roads for the purpose of enforcing the Highway laws of this State, regulating the use of public Highways by motor vehicles. Said County Highway Patrolmen shall have authority to weigh all motor vehicles, if said officer has reasons to believe that the gross weight of any loaded motor vehicle is unlawful and said officer shall have the authority to require such motor vehicle to be driven to the nearest scale, provided however, that such scale is not more than two (2) miles distant and said officer shall have authority to cause said motor vehicle to be unloaded to the extent that the gross weight of such motor vehicle shall not exceed the maximum allowed under the laws of the State of Texas.

Said County Highway Patrolmen may as such be dismissed by said Commissioners' Courts on their own initiative, whenever their services are no longer needed or have proven unsatisfactory, and said County Highway Patrolmen shall as such, receive no compensation from the Commissioners' Court.

Art. 2372b. Employment of Dairying Specialists

The Commissioners' Court of Counties having not less than 72,900, and not more than 73,000 at the last regular Federal Census in 1920, shall be empowered to employ dairying specialists at a total salary not to exceed $7,000.00 annually, said money to be paid out of the funds of said county.

[Acts 1929, 41st Leg., 1st C.S., p. 56, ch. 22, § 1.]

Saved From Repeal

Section 5B of Acts 1941, 47th Leg., p. 511, ch. 308, amending art. 165a-4, provides:

"This Act shall not in anywise repeal House Bill No. 13, Acts of the Forty-second Legislature, Regular Session [this article], but the same is hereby expressly preserved in accordance with terms thereof."

A similar provision was contained in section 17B of Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 7 (art. 165a-4), which was omitted in the 1941 amendment of the Act of 1939 as a whole.

Art. 2372c. Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1487, ch. 388, § 4(1), eff. Sept. 1, 1981

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., ch. 388, repealing this article, enacts the Agriculture Code.

For disposition of the subject matter of the repealed article, see Disposition Table preceding the Agriculture Code.

Art. 2372d. County Horticultural and Agricultural Exhibits

Sec. 1. All counties in the State acting by and through their respective Commissioners' Courts may provide for annual exhibits of horticultural and agricultural products, livestock and mineral products, and such other products as are of interest to the community. In connection therewith, such counties may also establish and maintain museums, including the erection of the necessary buildings and other improvements, in their own counties or in any other county or city in the United States, where fairs or expositions are being held.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners' Courts of the respective counties or the Commissioners' Courts of several counties may cooperate with each other and participate with local interests in providing for the erection of such buildings and other improvements as may be necessary to accomplish the purpose mentioned in Section 1, of this Act and for the assembling, erecting, and maintaining of such horticultural and agricultural, livestock and mineral exhibits, and the expenses incident thereto.

Sec. 3. All incorporated cities, water improvement districts, and water control and improvement districts may cooperate with the Commissioners' Courts of such counties for the purposes stated in Section 1, and Section 2 of this Act and appropriate monies in providing for such exhibits, establishing and maintaining such museums, and in the erection of such buildings and improvements, and the assembling, erecting and maintaining of such horticultural, agricultural, livestock and mineral exhibits.

Sec. 4. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as repealing or modifying any of the provisions of Chapter 163, General Laws, Regular Session, Forty-second Legislature (known as House Bill 312),¹ nor as taking the provisions of this Act out of limitations of said Chapter 163.

Art. 2372d-1. Validation of Warrants Issued to Construct Exhibition Buildings and Bonds Issued to Fund Such Warrants

Sec. 1. All warrants heretofore authorized and issued by the Commissioners Court of any County for the purpose of constructing a livestock and agricultural exhibition building within said County, where such livestock and agricultural exhibition building has been constructed, are hereby validated notwithstanding any objections other than constitutional that might be raised thereto and are hereby declared to be the valid and legal obligations of such County in accordance with the terms and provisions thereof.

Sec. 2. All bonds heretofore authorized by the Commissioners Court of any County for the purpose of funding any such warrants described in Section 1 hereof are hereby validated notwithstanding any objections other than constitutional that might be raised thereto, and any such County is hereby authorized to complete proceedings for the delivery of such bonds and to deliver such bonds, when approved by the Attorney General and registered by the State Comptroller of Public Accounts, in exchange for and upon the simultaneous payment and cancellation of such warrants as hereinabove described in Section 1, and said funding bonds when so delivered are hereby declared to be and shall be the valid and legal obligations of said County in accordance with the terms and provisions thereof; provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any warrants or bonds or proceedings therefor, the validity of which is being contested in any suit or litigation pending at the time this Act becomes a law.

Art. 2372d-2. Buildings and Permanent Improvements for Annual Exhibits and for Coliseum and Auditorium

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court of any county is hereby authorized to purchase, build, or construct buildings and other permanent improvements to be used for annual exhibits of horticultural and agricultural products, and/or livestock and mineral products of the county, and for a coliseum and auditorium. Such building or buildings and other permanent improvements may be located in the county at such place or places as the Commissioners Court may determine. Payment for such building or buildings and other permanent improvements shall be made from the Constitutional Permanent Improvement Fund.

Sec. 2. To pay for such building or buildings and other permanent improvements, the Commissioners Court is hereby authorized to issue negotiable bonds of the county and to levy and collect taxes in payment thereof, the issuance of such bonds and the levy and collection of taxes to be in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas 1925,¹ governing the issuance of bonds by cities, towns, and/or counties in this State.

Art. 2372d-3. Leases and Contracts for Management, Conduct and Maintenance

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court of any county of this State which has, or may hereafter provide for exhibits or the erection of buildings or improvements authorized by Acts 1936, Forty-fourth Legislature, Third Called Session, page 2103, Chapter 507,¹ or Acts 1949, Fifty-first Legislature, page 764, Chapter 411,² are authorized to enter into contracts with persons, firms, or corporations for complete management of, the conducting, maintenance, use, and operation of such exhibits, buildings and improvements on such terms as may be agreeable to the Court, and shall have the authority to lease such exhibits, buildings and improvements under such terms and agreements as may be satisfactory to the Commissioners Court and the lessee. The action of the Commissioners Court in making such agreements or leases shall be evidenced by order of the Commissioners Court recorded in the Minutes of the Court.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court shall have authority to permit the use of such exhibits, buildings or improvements for any useful public purpose which, in the opinion of the Court, will be of benefit to the county and its citizens.

Sec. 3. The Commissioners Court is authorized to determine and provide for the manner in which the net income and revenue derived from the conducting, use and operation of such exhibits, buildings, and improvements, or any projects incident thereto, shall be used and disbursed; provided, that such income and revenue may be used solely for the management, operation, maintenance, development, improvement and promotion of such exhibits, buildings and improvements or projects and purposes for which same are authorized to be used, and for any other proper public purpose.

² Article 2372d-2.

Art. 2372d-4. Parking Stations Near Coliseums and Auditoriums in Counties of 500,000 or More

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of any county which has a population in excess of 500,000 according to the most recent federal census and which has issued bonds for the purpose of constructing buildings and other permanent improvements to be used for coliseums and auditoriums within the county, upon finding that it is to the best interest of the county and its inhabitants, shall have the power to construct, enlarge, furnish, equip, and operate parking stations in the vicinity of such coliseums and auditoriums. Any said commissioners court is further authorized to lease said parking stations from time to time to such persons or corporations on such terms as the commissioners court shall deem appropriate.

Sec. 2. As used in this law, "parking station" means a lot or area or surface or subsurface structure for the parking of automotive vehicles, together with equipment used in connection with the maintenance and operation thereof, and the site therefor;

"Bond order" means the order authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds;

"Trust indenture" means the instrument of mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument pledging revenues, or in addition thereto, creating a mortgage or deed of trust lien on properties, or both, to secure the revenue bonds issued by the county;

"Trustee" means the trustee under a trust indenture.

Sec. 3. The commissioners court may issue negotiable revenue bonds to provide funds for the construction, enlargement, furnishing, or equipping said parking station. Such bonds shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of the net revenues to be derived from the operation by the county of the parking station or may be payable from rentals received from leasing all or part of said parking station, or from both such net revenues and rentals, and any other revenues resulting from the ownership of the parking station.

Sec. 4. The bonds shall be authorized by bond order or trust indenture adopted or approved by a majority vote of a quorum of the commissioners court (without the prerequisite of an election) and shall be signed by the county judge, countersigned by the county clerk, and registered by the county treasurer. The seal of the commissioners court shall be impressed or printed thereon. The bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 40 years and may be sold at a price and under terms determined by the commissioners court to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, provided that the interest cost to the county, including the discount, if any, calculated by use of standard bond interest tables currently in use by insurance companies and investment houses does not exceed six percent per annum, and within the discretion of the commissioners court, may be made callable prior to maturity at such times and places as may be prescribed in the order authorizing the bonds.

Sec. 5. Bonds constituting a junior lien on the net revenues or properties may be issued unless prohibited by the bond order or trust indenture. Parity bonds may be issued under conditions specified in the bond order or trust indenture.

Sec. 6. Money for the payment of interest on the bonds and an amount estimated by the commissioners court to be required for operating expenses until the parking station becomes sufficiently operative may be set aside out of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds. However, such amounts shall be set aside only in such amount as will cover interest and operating expenses for the estimated period of construction and the first two years of operation and shall be limited to the interest and to the estimated operating expenses over and above earnings for such years.

Sec. 7. Bonds may be issued for the purpose of refunding outstanding bonds in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds, and may be exchanged by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas or sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of outstanding bonds.

Sec. 8. Bonds issued under this Act and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with this law and constitute valid and binding special obligations of the county and are secured as recited therein he shall approve them, and they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, who shall certify such registration thereon. Thereafter they shall be incontestable. The bonds shall be negotiable and shall contain the following provision: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment thereof out of money raised or to be raised by taxation."

Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of the commissioners court to charge sufficient rentals under any leases entered into pursuant hereto or rates for services rendered by the parking station if operated by the county and to utilize any other sources of its revenues so that revenues will be produced sufficient to pay all expenses in connection with the ownership, operation, and upkeep of the parking station, to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds as they become due, and to create and maintain a bond reserve fund and other funds as provided in the bond order or trust indenture. The bond order or trust indenture may prescribe systems, methods, routines, and procedures under or in accordance with which the parking station shall be operated. No free use of the parking station or any part thereof shall be afforded to any person, firm, or corporation, and so long as any bonds issued under this Act are outstanding neither the county nor any of its agencies and departments shall make free use thereof, but the commissioners court is hereby authorized in behalf of the county to provide in any order authorizing such bonds or in any lease of the parking station for minimum periodic payments, from any resource of the county, into the bond interest and sinking fund or to the lessee as payment for use by the county and its agencies or departments, of any part of the parking station designated for use by the county or such agencies or departments.

Art. 2372d-5. Museums; Joint Venture by County With City or Town

Sec. 1. In any county in this state having a population of not more than 20,000 and an incorporated city of not less than 10,000 in such county, according to the last federal census, such county acting through its commissioners court and the governing body of such city or town, may jointly erect, equip, maintain and operate a museum. The commissioners court of any such county and the governing board of any such city may, by resolution or proper action, confer upon, delegate to and grant to a board of managers as hereinafter provided, full and complete authority to erect, maintain, own, lease or sublet realty and equip a museum; and such board is authorized to receive in behalf of such county and city, gifts, bequests, to borrow and receive, exchange, sell and lend property for the benefit of such museum. Any gift or loan of property shall be administered as designated by the donor. Such joint county and city museum may be financed out of the general revenues of such city and county in such proportions as each shall see fit to contribute.

Sec. 2. The board of managers shall be composed of 9 members, four (4) of this number shall be appointed by the commissioners court of such county, four (4) shall be appointed by the governing body of such city or town, and one (1) shall be appointed by the commissioners court of such county and the governing body of such city or town acting jointly as one body. The commissioners court of such county and the governing body of such city or town shall each appoint one member for a term of office expiring at the end of one (1) year from date of appointment, one member for a term of office expiring two (2) years from date of appointment, one member for a term of three (3) years expiring from date of appointment and one for a term of four (4) years from date of appointment. Thereafter, at the expiration of each term of office of the members so appointed to such board the commissioners court or the governing body of such city or town, acting as appointive bodies, shall each reappoint members or make replacement appointments to board positions as filled by the respective body originally for a term of four (4) years each. The commissioners court and the governing board of such city or town, acting jointly as an appointive body, shall appoint one member for a term of office for four (4) years from date of appointment. Thereafter, at the expiration of each term of office of the member so appointed to such board the commissioners court and the governing body of such city or town acting jointly as an appointive body, shall make, and continue to make, similar appointments to such board for a term of four (4) years each. Any vacancy occurring by death or resignation from such board before expiration of the departing member's term shall be filled for the unexpired portion of such term by the body or bodies making such appointment.

Sec. 3. Such board of managers shall select a chairman or presiding officer from among their number who shall preside over all board meetings of said board, and shall sign all contracts, agreements and other instruments made by such board, on behalf of such county and city or town, and have authority to elect such other officers from their body as they shall see fit. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum with full power and authority to act.

Sec. 4. Such board shall have full and complete authority to enter into any contract connected with or incident to the establishment, equipping, maintaining and operating of such museum, and shall have authority to pay and dispense funds set aside by such county and city for purposes connected with operating and maintaining same as if such action were taken by the governing body of such county and city.

Sec. 5. Once each year such board shall prepare and present to this county and city governing bodies a complete financial statement as to the condition of said museum, and shall submit to such bodies a proposed budget as to the anticipated financial needs for the ensuing year. On the basis of such financial statement and budget the commissioners court and governing body of the city shall appropriate and set aside for the use of such board in the operation of such museum the amount of money which seems proper and necessary.

Sec. 6. The board of managers shall have authority to hire a superintendent or manager of such museum and such superintendent or manager shall have the right with the consent of the board to hire extra help, but at all times the superintendent or manager and extra help shall be subject to the bylaws, rules and regulations as prescribed by the board.

Art. 2372d-6. Lease and Sale of Land for Hotel in Conjunction With County Convention Center in Counties Over 700,000

Lease of County Property

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of any county with a population of more than 700,000 according to the most recent federal census is authorized to lease real property owned by such county and the air rights above such real property owned by such county to private persons, corporations, or associations as provided in this Act.

Use of Leased Property

Sec. 2. The commissioners court is authorized to lease real property owned by the county, as well as the air rights above such property, to private persons, corporations, or associations for the construction, maintenance, and operation of a privately owned hotel and related facilities which are operated in conjunction with an existing convention center owned by the county.

Effect of Existing Bond Indentures

Sec. 3. The commissioners court may lease the real property and air rights thereto, as provided herein, notwithstanding that the real property leased is presently encumbered by existing revenue bond indentures. In leasing the county-owned land or the air rights thereto, the commissioners court shall abide by all applicable terms and conditions of the existing revenue bond indentures, except such terms as are waived by the holders of the revenue bonds.

Creation of Encumbrance Prohibited

Sec. 4. No lease of county-owned land or air rights thereto hereunder shall in any way subject the county-owned land to a mortgage or encumbrance not heretofore existing and any lease executed hereunder shall specifically provide that such county-owned land shall not be deemed to be encumbered or mortgaged by any lease executed hereunder, or any agreement executed in connection with such lease.

Land May not be Mortgaged

Sec. 5. The county-owned land which may be leased hereunder shall not be in any way pledged or mortgaged (other than by existing revenue bond indentures or refunding or other release of existing revenue bond indentures), by any lease or agreement executed hereunder, and the county executing a lease hereunder shall not in any way lend its credit to any private corporation, association, or person in connection with a lease executed hereunder.

Duration of Lease

Sec. 6. Any lease entered into hereunder by the commissioners court is authorized to be initially for the term of any mortgage covering the construction of the hotel and related facilities and is authorized to provide an option to renew thereafter in the parties constructing, owning, or operating the hotel or related facilities for such term as the parties may mutually agree.

Lease Terms and Conditions

Sec. 7. Any lease hereunder of county-owned property or air rights thereto shall be leased upon a competitive bid and for a consideration of not less than the fair market lease value and may otherwise be upon such terms and conditions as the parties may mutually agree upon consistent with the constitution and laws of this state.

Sale of Property

Sec. 8. (a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law to the contrary, the commissioners court is specifically authorized to enter an agreement hereunder to provide for the sale of specified county-owned land to a private association, corporation, or individual once the following conditions have been fulfilled:

(1) all existing revenue bond obligations have been fully discharged to bond holders;

(2) a hotel has been built on the land in conjunction with an existing convention center and the operation of the hotel has been continuous for at least five years from its inception;

(3) the parties mutually agree to a sale of the realty and air rights thereto;

(4) the county receives an adequate sale price which is fair under the then existing market conditions for the sale of the land and any air rights thereto.

(b) The commissioners court may impose such deed restrictions or reverters as may be advisable to preserve the use of the land for a purpose consistent with the construction, expansion, ownership, and operation of a hotel and related facilities in conjunction with a convention center.

(c) The sale of the land may include land appurtenant to the land upon which said hotel or related facilities have been built.

Contracts: Parties, Purposes

Sec. 9. The power of the commissioners court to enter into agreements and contracts hereunder shall extend to one or more private associations, corporations, or individuals for all or any of the following purposes: construction of a hotel and related facilities, ownership of a hotel and related facilities, and operation, maintenance, and expansion of a hotel and related facilities.

Expenditure of Tax Revenue

Sec. 10. In agreements and contracts authorized by this Act, the commissioners court may expend tax funds consistent with the provisions of this Act and other provisions of state law, but the commitment and expenditure of tax funds must be from current revenues of the county.

[Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 2007, ch. 786, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 2372d-7. Admission Fees For County Museums in Counties of 1,200,000 or More

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of a county having a population of 1,200,000 or more, according to the most recent federal census, may charge and collect a fee from members of the general public for admission to a county-operated museum, historical site, historical building, or other similar building or site.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court by order may set the admission fee authorized by this Act. Admission fees charged and collected under this Act shall be placed in a county special fund to be used by the commissioners court for the payment of costs associated with the administration, maintenance, security, or staffing necessary to operate the building or site. The special fund may not be expended for purposes other than those associated with the building or site.

Art. 2372d-8. Public Improvements in Certain Counties to Attract Visitors and Tourists; Bonds; Occupancy Tax

Applicability

Sec. 1. This article applies only to counties with a population of more than 2,000,000, according to the most recent federal census and to counties that border the Republic of Mexico with a population of more than 90,000, according to the most recent federal census, excluding counties which contain three or more cities with populations of more than 17,500, according to the most recent federal census.

Improvements to Attract Visitors and Tourists

Sec. 2. A county covered by this article is authorized to establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) public improvements such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, exhibition halls, coliseums, and stadiums, including sports and other facilities (either or all) that serve the purpose of attracting visitors and tourists to the county, and to establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) structures, parking areas, or facilities located at or in the immediate vicinity of these public improvements to be used in connection with the public improvements for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances. Any lease shall be on such terms and conditions as the county deems appropriate.

Revenue Bonds

Sec. 3. (a) The county is authorized to issue negotiable revenue bonds to provide all or part of the funds for the establishment, acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, equipment, or repair (any or all) of public improvements such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, exhibition halls, coliseums, and stadiums, including sports and other facilities (either or all) that serve the purpose of attracting visitors and tourists to the county, and the establishment, acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, equipment, or repair (any or all) of structures, parking areas or facilities located at or in the immediate vicinity of these public improvements to be used in connection with the public improvements for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances.

(b) The revenue bonds may be issued when duly authorized by an order passed by the commissioners court of the county and shall be secured by a pledge of and be payable from all or any designated part of the revenues of the public improvements or the parking or storage facilities, as may be provided in the order or orders authorizing the issuance of the bonds. To the extent that these revenues may have been pledged to the payment of revenue or revenue refunding bonds that are still outstanding, the pledge securing the proposed bonds shall be inferior to the previous pledge or pledges. Within the discretion of the commissioners court of the county, and subject to limitations contained in previous pledges, if any, in addition to the pledge of revenues a lien may be given in all or any part of the physical properties acquired out of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds.

(c) When any of the revenues of the public improvements and facilities are pledged to the payment of bonds issued under this article, it is the duty of the commissioners court of the county to cause to be fixed, maintained, and enforced charges for services rendered by properties and facilities, the revenues of which have been pledged, at rates and amounts at least sufficient to comply with and carry out the covenants and provisions contained in the order or orders authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(d) If the county leases as lessee any one or more of these public improvements, structures, parking areas, or facilities, the county shall have authority to pledge to the lease payments required to be made by the county all or any part of the revenues of the public improvements, structures, parking areas, or facilities.

Hotel Occupancy Tax

Sec. 4. (a) The commissioners court of the county by order may levy a tax on the cost of occupancy of any sleeping room in a hotel in the county for which the cost of occupancy is at the rate of $2 or more per day. The tax may not exceed the applicable percentage specified in this section of the consideration paid to the hotel by the occupant of the sleeping room.

(b) As to a hotel located in an incorporated city with a population of 1,200,000 or more, according to the most recent federal census, the applicable percentage is three percent until January 1, 1984, and one percent on or after that date. As to any other hotel, the applicable percentage is seven percent.

Penalties and Interest

Sec. 4A. The owner or operator of a hotel shall report and remit the taxes collected under this Act to the county as provided by the resolution or an amendment to the resolution imposing the tax authorized by this Act. If the owner fails to pay the tax when due or file a report when required, the owner shall pay a penalty of five percent of the amount of the tax due. If the owner fails to pay the tax or file the report within 30 days after the day on which the tax was due or the report was required, he shall pay an additional penalty of five percent of the amount of the tax due. Delinquent taxes and accrued penalties draw interest at the rate of 10 percent a year beginning 60 days after the day on which the tax was due.

Validation

Sec. 5. All orders heretofore passed and adopted by the governing body of a county levying a tax on the cost of occupancy of any sleeping room furnished by any hotel, where the cost of occupancy is at the rate of $2 or more per day and the tax is equal to or less than two percent of the consideration paid by the occupant of the room in the hotel, and any bonds heretofore issued that are secured in whole or in part by a pledge of the tax are hereby in all respects validated and held to be enforceable as of the respective date of passage and adoption of the orders levying the tax or issuing the bonds. All occupancy taxes to be levied or attempted to be levied pursuant to the orders are hereby validated and declared fully enforceable to the same extent as if levied or attempted to be levied pursuant to valid laws duly enacted by the legislature of this state specifically providing authority for the passage and adoption of the orders and the levy of the taxes.

Use of Revenue

Sec. 6. (a) The revenue derived from any occupancy tax authorized or validated by this article may only be used for:

(1) the acquisition of sites for and the construction, improvement, enlarging, equipping, repairing, operation, and maintenance of public improvements such as civic centers, civic center buildings, auditoriums, exhibition halls, coliseums, and stadiums, including sports and other facilities (either or all) that serve the purpose of attracting visitors and tourists to the county, and parking areas or facilities for the parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances located at or in the immediate vicinity of the convention center facilities;

(2) the furnishing of facilities, personnel, and materials for the registration of convention delegates or registrants; and

(3) those counties bordering the Republic of Mexico, as provided in Section 1 of Article 1 of this Act, advertising for general promotion and tourist advertising of the county and its vicinity and conducting a solicitation and operating program to attract conventions and visitors either by the county or through contracts with persons or organizations selected by the county.

(b) Any county that levies and collects an occupancy tax that is authorized or validated by this article may pledge a portion of the revenue derived therefrom to the payment of the bonds that the county may issue pursuant to the provisions of Section 3 of this article, if the bonds are issued solely for one or more of the purposes set forth in this article.

Definitions

Sec. 7. In this article:

(1) "Hotel" means any building or buildings in which the public may, for a consideration, obtain sleeping accommodations. The term shall include hotels; motels; tourist homes, houses, or courts; lodging houses; rooming houses; or other buildings where rooms are furnished for a consideration, but "hotel" shall not be defined as to include hospitals, sanitariums, or nursing homes.

(2) "Consideration" means the cost of the room in the hotel only if the room is one ordinarily used for sleeping and shall not include the cost of any food served or personal services rendered to the occupants of the room not related to the cleaning and readying of the room for occupancy.

(3) "Occupancy" means the use or possession of the right to the use or possession of any room in a hotel if the room is one ordinarily used for sleeping and if the occupant's use, possession, or right to use or possession extends for a period of less than 30 days.

(4) "Occupant" means anyone who for a consideration uses, possesses, or has a right to use or possess any room in a hotel if the room is one ordinarily used for sleeping.

Rights of Bondholders

Sec. 8. The owners or holders of these revenue or revenue refunding bonds shall never have the right to demand payment of either the principal or of interest on the bonds out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation, except as to room taxes, if pledged.

Orders Relating to Bonds

Sec. 9. In the order or orders authorizing the issuance of any revenue or revenue refunding bonds authorized by this article, the county may provide for the flow of funds, the establishment and maintenance of the interest and sinking fund or funds, reserve fund or funds, and other funds and make additional covenants with respect to the bonds and the pledged revenues and the operation and maintenance of those improvements, and facilities, the revenues of which are pledged, including provision for the operation or for the leasing of all or any part of said improvements or facilities and the use or pledge of money derived from such operation, contracts and leases, as it may deem appropriate. The order or orders may also prohibit the further issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from the pledged revenues or may reserve the right to issue additional bonds to be secured by a pledge of and payable from the revenues on a parity with or subordinate to the lien and pledge in support of the bonds being issued, subject to the conditions as are set forth in the order or orders: The order or orders may contain other provisions and covenants, as the county may determine, not prohibited by the Constitution of Texas or by this article, and the county may adopt and cause to be executed any other proceedings or instruments necessary or convenient in the issuance of any of the bonds.

Reserve Funds; Investments

Sec. 10. From the proceeds of sale of any bonds issued under this article, the county may appropriate or set aside, out of the bond proceeds an amount for the payment of interest expected to accrue during the period of construction, an amount or amounts to be deposited into the reserve fund or funds as may be provided in the bond order or orders, and an amount necessary to pay all expenses incurred and to be incurred in the issuance, sale, and delivery of the bonds. Until such time or times as the bond proceeds are needed to carry out the bond purpose, the bond proceeds may be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America or may be placed on time deposit, or both. Money in the interest and sinking fund or funds, in the reserve fund or funds, and in any other fund or funds established or provided for in the bond order or orders may be invested in such a manner and in such securities as may be provided in the bond order or orders.

Formal Requirements; Maturity; Approval and Registration

Sec. 11. All bonds shall be signed by the county judge and countersigned by the county clerk and shall have the seal of the county impressed on them; provided that the bond order or orders may provide for the bonds and any attached interest coupons to be signed by facsimile signatures and for the seal of the county on the bonds to be a facsimile as provided by Chapter 204, Acts of the 57th Legislature, Regular Session, 1961 (Article 717j-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 40 years from their date or dates and may be sold at a price and under such terms determined by the commissioners court of the county to be most advantageous and reasonably obtainable, and within the discretion of the commissioners court, the bonds may be callable prior to maturity at such time or times and at such price or prices as may be prescribed in the order or orders authorizing the bonds. Any of the bonds may be made registrable as to principal or as to both principal and interest. All bonds issued under this article and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for his examination as to the validity hereof, and after the attorney general has approved them, the bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. When the bonds have been approved by the attorney general, registered by the comptroller, and delivered to the purchasers, they shall thereafter be incontestable except for forgery or fraud.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 12. The county shall have the power and authority to issue revenue refunding bonds similarly secured to refund either original bonds or revenue refunding bonds previously issued by the county under this article, and the refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate or rates than that of the bonds refunded unless it is shown mathematically that a saving will result in the total amount of interest to be paid. Refunding bonds shall be authorized by order or orders and shall be executed and shall mature as is provided in this article for original bonds. They shall be approved by the attorney general as in the case of original bonds and shall be registered by the comptroller on the surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded, but in lieu thereof the order or orders authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited in the place or places where the underlying bonds are payable, in which case the refunding bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient to pay the interest on and principal of the underlying bonds to their option or maturity date, and the comptroller shall register them without the surrender and cancellation of the underlying bonds. All such refunding bonds, after they have been approved by the attorney general and registered by the comptroller, shall be incontestable except for forgery or fraud.

Negotiability; Authorized Investments; Use as Security

Sec. 13. All bonds issued under this article, whether original bonds or refunding bonds, shall be and are hereby declared to be and to have all the qualifications of negotiable instruments under Chapter 8, Business & Commerce Code, and all the bonds shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of every kind or type, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. The bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unmaturing coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 14. This article is cumulative of all existing laws of this state, but to the extent that existing laws may be in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this article, the provisions of this article shall govern and prevail; and this article shall take precedence over any and all conflicting or inconsistent county charter provisions.

Reimbursement for Collecting Tax

Sec. 15. A county imposing the tax authorized by this article may permit the person required to collect the tax to deduct and withhold from the person's payment to the county, as reimbursement for the cost of collecting the tax, an amount not to exceed one percent of the tax collected.

[Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 3041, ch. 796, art. 1, eff. Aug. 31, 1981. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 408, ch. 82, § 2, eff. May 10, 1983.]

Section 3 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"(a) The penalties imposed by this Act apply to taxes that become delinquent on or after the effective date of this Act.

"(b) Interest under this Act begins to accrue on all taxes that on the effective date of this Act are 60 or more days delinquent."

Art. 2372d-9. Joint Establishment, Maintenance and Operation of Auditorium; Counties of 20,000 or Less and Cities of 10,000 or More

Joint Authority Over Auditorium

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of a county having a population of 20,000 or less and the governing body of an incorporated city or town that is located in the county and that has a population of 10,000 or more, according to the most recent federal census, may jointly erect, acquire, equip, maintain, and operate an auditorium.

Delegation to Board of Managers

Sec. 2. (a) The commissioners court of the county and the governing body of the city or town may by resolution or other proper action delegate to a board of managers complete authority to acquire land for an auditorium by purchase or lease and to erect, maintain, and equip an auditorium.

(b) The board is authorized to receive gifts and bequests in behalf of the county and the city or town and to borrow, receive, exchange, sell, and lend property for the benefit of the auditorium. A gift or loan of property must be administered as designated by the donor.

Financing of Auditorium

Sec. 3. The auditorium may be financed out of the general revenues of the county and the city or town in the proportions that the commissioners court of the county and the governing body of the city or town see fit to contribute.

Composition of Board of Managers

Sec. 4. (a) A board of managers must be composed of seven members, three of whom must be appointed by the commissioners court of the county, three of whom must be appointed by the governing body of the city or town, and one of whom must be appointed by the commissioners court and the governing body acting jointly as one body.

(b) The members of the board must be appointed for staggered terms of two years, with the terms of two appointees of the commissioners court and two appointees of the governing body expiring on February 1 of each odd-numbered year and with the terms of the other three members expiring on February 1 of each even-numbered year.

(c) A vacancy on the board shall be filled for the unexpired part of the term in the same manner in which the original appointment was made.

Chairman and Other Officers; Quorum

Sec. 5. (a) The board annually shall elect a chairman from among its members. The chairman shall preside over all board meetings and shall sign all contracts, agreements, and other instruments made by the board on behalf of the county and the city or town. The board may elect other officers from its members as it sees fit.

(b) A majority of the members of the board constitutes a quorum with full authority to act.

Authority of Board

Sec. 6. The board may make any contract connected with or incident to establishing, equipping, maintaining, or operating the auditorium and may dispense funds set aside by the county and the city or town for purposes connected with operating and maintaining the auditorium as if the board's actions were taken by the commissioners court of the county and the governing body of the city or town. However, the board may not bind the county or the city or town to make an expenditure of funds not specifically appropriated by the county or the city or town, for the benefit of the auditorium.

Financial Statement and Budget

Sec. 7. (a) Once each year the board shall prepare and present to the commissioners court of the county and the governing body of the city or town a complete financial statement about the condition of the auditorium and shall submit to the commissioners court and the governing body a proposed budget for the anticipated financial needs for the ensuing year.

(b) On the basis of the financial statement and budget, the commissioners court and the governing body may appropriate and set aside for the use of the board in the operation of the auditorium the amount of money that the commissioners court and the governing body considers proper and necessary.

Personnel

Sec. 8. The board may employ a superintendent or manager of the auditorium. The superintendent or manager may with the consent of the board employ permanent or temporary personnel that are necessary for the maintenance and operation of the auditorium.

Initial Board Appointments

Sec. 9. In making their initial appointments to the board, the commissioners court of the county and the governing body of the city or town each shall designate two of their appointees for terms expiring on the first February 1 of an odd-numbered year occurring after the day of the appointments, each shall designate one of their appointees for a term expiring on the first February 1 of an even-numbered year occurring after the day of the appointment, and, acting jointly, shall designate the joint appointee for a term expiring on the first February 1 of an even-numbered year occurring after the day of the appointment.

Art. 2372d-10. Fees for Use of County Recreational Facilities and Services

Fee Authority

Sec. 1. Except as provided by Section 2 of this Act, the commissioners court of a county may set and collect fees:

- (1) for the use of county recreational facilities, including facilities constructed or installed in a county park;
- (2) for the use of recreational services provided by the county; or
- (3) for the rental or sale of recreational supplies by the county in conjunction with the provision of county recreational facilities or services.

Exceptions

Sec. 2. This Act does not authorize the commissioners court to set or collect a fee:

- (1) for admission to a general-purpose county park;
- (2) for the use of a toilet or other restroom facility;
- (3) for the sale of water for human consumption; or
- (4) for the use of a team sports facility, including a baseball, football, basketball, volleyball, or soccer facility, by a sports team composed primarily of minors and sponsored and supported by a nonprofit organization.

Amount of Fees

Sec. 3. The commissioners court may not set the fees in amounts that would produce more total revenue in a year than is necessary to pay the annual expense of providing all county recreational facilities and services.

Special Circumstances

Sec. 4. The commissioners court may set and collect the fees in different amounts or may waive the fees in consideration of the following factors:

- (1) the time of the day at which or the day of the week on which a facility or service is used;
- (2) the size of a group wishing to use a facility or service;
- (3) the special circumstances of certain classes of persons, including elderly persons and indigent persons; or

(4) other factors that the court considers to justify a different fee or the waiver of a fee.

Disposition of Fees

Sec. 5. Fees collected under this Act shall be deposited in the general fund of the county.

Art. 2372e-1. Renting Office Space for Administration of Unemployment Relief in Counties of 48,900 to 49,000 Population

Sec. 1. The County Commissioners' Courts and the City Commission of any incorporated town within said County of this State are hereby authorized to lease or rent office space for the purpose of aiding and cooperating with the agencies of the State and Federal Governments engaged in the administration of relief of the unemployed and needy people of the State of Texas, and to pay the regular monthly utility bills for such offices, such as lights, gas and water; and when in the opinion of a majority of the Commissioners' Court of a county such office space is essential to the proper administration of such agencies of either the State or Federal Governments, said Courts are hereby specifically authorized to pay for same and for the regular monthly utility bills for such offices out of the County's General Fund by warrant as in the payment of other obligations of the County. The provisions of this Act shall apply to counties having a population of not less than forty-eight thousand nine hundred and not more than forty-nine thousand according to the last preceding Federal Census.

Sec. 2. All actions, proceedings, orders and contracts for such rental, lease or utility bills for such purposes as stated in Section 1 hereof, made and entered into by any Commissioners' Courts of this State, pursuant to which such service has been rendered, are hereby validated, confirmed and declared to be in full force and effect, notwithstanding any irregularity thereof prior to the enactment of this Act.

Sec. 3. If any part, section, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word contained in this Act shall ever be held by the Courts to be unconstitutional, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act, and the legislature hereby declares that it would have passed such remaining portions despite such invalidity.

Art. 2372g-1. Incapacitated Employees; Payment of Salaries in Counties of 290,000-500,000; Vacations

Sec. 1. From and after the effective date of this Act, in all counties in this State, having a population of not less than two hundred and ninety thousand (290,000), nor more than five hundred thousand (500,000) inhabitants, according to the last Federal Census and any future Federal Census, the Commissioners Courts shall provide for, and it shall be their duty to pay employees of such counties while incapacitated from duty on account of injury suffered or sustained while in the active and actual discharge of his or her duty to said county, upon the following basis and in the following manner, to wit: Where said employee suffers or sustains physical injury while in the actual discharge of his or her duties to the county, which renders said employee totally unfit for the discharge of such duties as may be imposed upon said employee by the Commissioners Court, then said Commissioners Court is hereby authorized and required to pay said employee not exceeding six (6) months pay upon the following basis: (a) The first three (3) months total incapacity, or any fractional part thereof, upon the basis of said employee's full and regular pay; (b) the last three (3) months total incapacity, or any fractional part thereof, if such incapacity should continue for said period, upon the basis of one-half (1/2) the regular pay of said employee.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Courts of said counties and each of them shall inquire into any and all injuries of said employees before making any awards of money under this law, and it shall be the duty of said Commissioners Courts to examine witnesses, conduct hearings and subpoena witnesses for the purpose of determining the merits of each claim. The said Commissioners Courts are hereby specifically authorized to grant or refuse awards of money unto any employee, and are also given the right to make awards in any amount not exceeding the limits as set by this Act. Any employee feeling himself or herself aggrieved by the action of the Commissioners Court shall have the right of appeal to the Court having jurisdiction of the amount involved, provided said appeal is taken within ten (10) days after rendition of the judgment of the Commissioners Court of such county and said trial shall be de novo.

Sec. 3. The Commissioners Courts may grant vacations to employees in the actual employ of such counties not exceeding fourteen (14) days in any calendar year and, when such vacations are granted, all employees in actual employment of such counties shall be compensated for such vacation time as if actual service were being rendered under their employment. It being the purpose of this Act to grant reasonable vacation time during each calendar year for employees in the counties embraced within this Act.

Saved From Repeal

The last sentence of § 10 of Acts 1951, 52nd Leg., p. 471, ch. 299 (art. 6812b), relating to the payment of road, bridge and ferry employees of counties of 198,000 to 400,000 population, provides: "Nothing in this Act, however, shall be construed as repealing or being in conflict with the provisions of Article 2327g-1, Vernon's Revised Statutes of 1925."

Art. 2372h. Hours of Work, Vacations, Sick Leave, Hospitalization, etc., in Counties of 500,000 or More; Flood Control Districts; Personnel System

Rules and Regulations; Form of Contract

Sec. 1. In all counties having a population of five hundred thousand (500,000) or more according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census, the Commissioners' Court of the county shall have authority to formulate in the manner hereinafter set out rules and regulations governing the hours of work, vacations, holidays, sick leave, medical care, hospitalization, compensation and accident insurance, and deductions for absences with reference to all persons whom this Act affects, and to establish for such persons classifications of positions and rates of compensation therefor, and to provide for the filing by the incumbents thereof of time, work, and statistical reports. The said rules and regulations when adopted as hereinafter provided shall apply to and govern all deputies, assistants, and employees of the county, or any flood control district lying wholly within the boundary lines of any such county, working under the Commissioners' Court or its appointees, and the deputies and assistants appointed by county and district officers pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 465, Acts of the 44th Legislature, 1935, Section 19, as amended,¹ where the salaries are paid from county or from the funds of any flood control district in said county, provided that nothing herein shall be construed as repealing said Chapter 465, supra., with respect to the authority of the county or district officers therein named to apply for appointment of deputies or assistants or the maximum amount or source of compensation which may be paid, but all such regulations with respect to deputies or assistants to such officers shall conform to laws now in effect or such as may hereafter be enacted by the Legislature and each county officer and each district officer, where the deputy or assistant or employee is authorized to be paid from county funds or funds of any flood control district within the county, shall continue to make appointments according to existing laws and shall designate the employee for each such position and shall direct and control the work or terminate the employment at the pleasure of such officer, as is now or as may be hereafter provided by law, it being the intention of this Act only to authorize the Commissioners' Court, in addition to the authority now vested in it by law, to formulate rules and regulations governing the hours of work, vacations, holidays, sick leave, medical care, hospitalization, compensation and accident insurance, and deductions for absences; to establish classifications of positions and salaries therefor; and to provide for filing of time, work, and statistical reports by such deputies, assistants, and employees, in the interests of efficiency and economy.

After appointment and approval thereof by the proper authority, all employments shall be placed in effect through written contracts of employment. Said court shall have the right to prescribe the form of contract of employment for its employees and employees of any said flood control district and for all employees of officers who are required to execute deputations under Chapter 465, Acts of the 44th Legislature, 1935, as amended,¹ and all officers whose deputies are appointed subject to the approval of the Commissioners' Court shall be required to use such forms in the appointment of their deputies and assistants.

Contracts; Hospital and Insurance Fund

Sec. 2. The Commissioners' Court of any such county shall have the right to provide in said contract of employment that deputies, assistants, and other employees of the county, its departments or officers, or of any flood control district within such county, whose compensation is payable from funds of any such county or flood control district therein, may receive hospitalization and medical care and treatment in any county or city-county operated hospitals located in such county under such rules, regulations, and conditions as said court may prescribe and shall be authorized to enter into contracts with the proper municipal authorities for that purpose. All such rules, regulations, and conditions adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Act and approved as provided herein, including those for hospitalization, medical care, and insurance, shall become a part of each deputation or contract of employment. The Commissioners' Court may provide in unusual cases for the expense of such hospital care in a private hospital and may provide for compensation, accident, hospital, or disability insurance, and for contributions for part payment from deputies, assistants, and employees. To provide for cases of hospitalization or medical attention in a county or city-county hospital, or private hospital when necessary, and for the payment of premiums for accident, disability, hospital, or compensation insurance, a fund shall be created to be known as "Hospital and Insurance Fund—County Employees," and there shall be credited to such fund agreed deductions made from the salaries or wages of deputies, assistants, and employees, and contributions from the county or flood control district, from which fund payments shall be authorized only for the purpose of expenses of hospital and medical care and the payment of premiums on accident, disability, or compensation insurance under the adopted rules and regulations, which claims shall be payable under existing laws in like manner as other county or flood control district claims. Any employee who shall be discharged or voluntarily leave the service of the county or flood control district for any reason shall have no further right in said hospital and insurance fund or any right to the further benefits of this Act, but said fund shall continue to be used for the benefit of all remaining employees of the county or flood control district. No contract of employment shall become effective as to any deputy, assistant, or employee as defined herein until the employment is made conformably to law and until the person employed shall have agreed in writing to the terms and conditions thereof. No deduction from the salary of any employee shall be made except he shall have consented in writing given at the time of his employment or at the effective date of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Act; provided any employee not contributing shall not receive any hospitalization or insurance benefits hereunder, but all other provisions hereof shall apply to him. In the event of the abandonment by the Commissioners' Court of the system herein authorized with respect to insurance and hospitalization, the balance remaining in the fund provided for shall thereupon be transferred to the county and to any flood control district participating, in proportion to the total contributions of each.

Personnel and Equipment Records

Sec. 3. Upon the occasion of each employment of each deputy, assistant, or employee whose salary or wages is paid in whole or in part from county or flood control district funds, the employing officer shall file in such form as may be prescribed by lawful authority and in addition to the other requirements of law, a statistical record which shall disclose, among other things, the date of employment, the rate of pay, nature of employment, business or personal history, the education record of employee, and his race, sex, color, age, place and date of birth, and previous experience, and other information essential to the keeping of proper personnel records. Each officer or department head of the county or any flood control district affected hereby shall file sworn pay rolls at the close of each month or oftener if authorized or required by law, which pay rolls shall show the names of each employee working under the officer in the department affected, the dates present or absent, time worked, rates of pay, and amounts due each deputy or assistant, and in addition thereto in cases of engineers and employees in the field engaged in road, flood control, or construction work, reports shall accompany said pay roll indicating the dates upon which the work was performed, the nature of the work, the road or project location, and such other information as may be needed for statistical or accounting purposes and said work reports shall be signed and shall accompany or be a part of each pay roll which pay roll in each case shall be signed and sworn to by the officer filing the same.

The county auditor shall install and maintain an adequate system of personnel and equipment records and shall prescribe the forms and systems necessary to carry out the provisions of this law and shall have authority to enforce the rules and regulations adopted. He shall be authorized annually to assemble statistics and make recommendations which may be incorporated in, printed, and distributed with and as a part of the annual report now required by law of said officer.

In the event of failure to file reports as provided in this Act or to furnish essential information as required, he may withhold payment of claims for salaries until such information has been given in the form and manner required. All contracts of employment shall be made in the manner and be governed by the laws now in effect, except as herein specifically provided. All the rules, regulations, and forms provided for in the Act shall be subject to the approval of the county auditor of the county.

Reports

Sec. 4. Each officer and employee of any county or its departments, or any county or district officer, or any employee of any flood control district in any such county affected by this Act who operates equipment purchased from and operated with public funds or personal equipment for which he is reimbursed by the county or flood control district for operation and maintenance charges shall file with each pay roll a report in writing showing the daily use to which each piece of equipment in his charge was put and the time and mileage run, the amount expended for repairs, the gasoline, oil, and grease purchased, and the roads, bridges, or projects concerning which the work was performed; and all said reports shall be in writing and signed and certified by the officer or employee actually using said equipment. In like manner each said officer or employee shall file reports of accidents involving equipment in his charge, giving the cause, damage, location, circumstances and persons and equipment involved. All such reports shall be on prescribed forms and shall be filed not later than the fifth day of the month succeeding the period of operation, and shall disclose all facts essential to a proper analysis of maintenance and operating costs and for statistical purposes.

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 5. Before adopting any rules or regulations, or revising rules or regulations theretofore adopted in connection with the subject matter of this Act, the Commissioners' Court shall give at least fifteen (15) days' notice of such proposed adoption or revision of rules or regulations by publishing a notice at least once in each week for two (2) successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county in which such rules, regulations, or revisions are to be made effective of its intention so to do, and that a hearing is to be held before said court at a fixed time and day to be specified in the notice. At the time and place fixed for hearing, any employee or taxpayer may appear to protest against the adoption of any such rule or regulation, or revision of existing rules. If sustained, the regulations shall be adjusted accordingly. Upon the adjustment or the overruling of protests, the court shall adopt the regulations and direct their recording upon its minutes, and upon approval thereof, as herein provided, they shall become effective on the date set out therein. The notice published shall contain a brief summary of the rules or regulations, or the amendments or changes therein, which it is proposed to make.

Persons Subject to Regulations

Sec. 6. Juvenile officers and probation officers appointed under the terms of Title 82, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ shall be subject to the provisions of such regulations as hereinbefore provided, including those for retirement, to the extent that the juvenile board of any county affected by this Act may determine. In like manner, court reporters in the various courts in such counties shall be subject to the provisions of such regulations to the extent that a majority of the District Judges of such counties in meeting assembled may determine by a vote of the majority present; an order to be entered in the minutes of each of the courts of such judges and a certified copy thereof to be supplied to the Commissioners Court. In like manner, the County Auditor and his assistants in such counties shall be subject to the provisions of such regulations hereinbefore provided for to the extent that the County Auditor in such counties may determine, with the approval of the District Judges, or a majority of them; unless a majority of the judges of the District Courts in such counties voting in a meeting of which all of the District Judges shall have notice, shall adopt the rules and regulations promulgated by the Commissioners Court and make them uniformly applicable so far as practicable to all the juvenile, probation officers, court reporters, and the County Auditor and his assistants. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as authorizing any change in regard to the time, method and manner of appointment or discharge of juvenile and probation officers, or the County Auditor or his assistants, or court reporters, or as authorizing any change in the number thereof or the salaries to be paid, it being the intention of the Legislature that all of such matters shall continue to be regulated by the Statutes applying thereto. If any juvenile, or probation officer, or County Auditor or his assistants shall be jointly employed by two (2) or more subdivisions of Government, the rules and regulations applying to them may be adapted or amended accordingly. For the purpose of adapting such regulations to such employees, they may, if necessary to give equal application to the regulations to all employees, be considered as being upon the same basis as if they were employed by one such unit, and the total salary paid by such unit, and the necessary expense of administration and contributions may be prorated to the different employing units.

Effect of Act

Sec. 7. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of any other laws upon the subject matter, but where in conflict with such other laws, this Act shall prevail.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 8. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this Act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, void, or invalid, the validity of the remaining portion of this Act shall not be affected thereby, it being the intent of the Legislature in adopting, and of the Governor in approving this Act, that no portion thereof or provision or regulation contained herein shall become inoperative or fail by reason of any unconstitutionality or invalidity of any other portion, provision, or regulation.

Art. 2372h-1. Vacations, Holidays and Sick Leave for Employees of County Officers and Commissioners Courts

In each county of this State, each elected county officer or the Commissioners Court, as the case may be, shall have authority to provide for vacations, holidays fixed by State law, and sick leaves, without deduction or loss of pay, and to provide for deductions for absences, for the employees working under the elected county officer or his appointees or under the Commissioners Court or its appointees or under a County Commissioner or his appointees, regardless of whether the employee is paid on a fixed salary basis or on the basis of an hourly or daily wage. Nothing in this Act shall affect existing laws authorizing or regulating vacations, holidays, sick leave and absences for county employees, it being the intention of this Act only to provide such authority with respect to the employees covered by this Act in counties where it does not now exist.

[Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 544, ch. 243, § 1.]

Art. 2372h-2. Hospitalization Insurance for County Officials and Employees

The Commissioners Court of any county may adopt any insurance plan, as they deem necessary, to provide hospitalization insurance to any county official, deputy, assistant, and/or any other county employee.

[Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 585, ch. 268, § 1.]

Art. 2372h-3. Vacations, Holidays and Sick Pay for Employees of Counties of 41,000 to 41,500

The Commissioners Court of any county having a population of more than 41,000 and less than 41,500, according to the last preceding federal census, may provide for vacations, holidays fixed by State law, sick leaves without deduction or loss of pay, and deductions for absences from work of all county employees whether paid a fixed salary or an hourly or daily wage.

[Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 1412, ch. 624, eff. June 17, 1965. Amended by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1842, ch. 542, § 103, eff. Sept. 1, 1971; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 570, ch. 237, § 39, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Art. 2372h-4. Payroll Deductions; Authorized Purposes

Sec. 1. (a) The commissioners court of any county of 20,000 or more population may authorize payroll deductions to be made from the wages and salaries of county employees, on each employee's written request, to a credit union, to pay membership dues in a labor union or a bona fide employees association, and to pay fees for parking in county owned facilities.

(b) Each employee requesting a deduction under this Act shall submit to the county auditor a written request indicating the amount to be deducted from the employee's wages or salary and to transfer the withheld funds to the credit union, proper labor union or employees association, or county funds. The request shall remain in effect until the county auditor receives written notice of revocation signed by the employee.

(c) The amount deducted from an employee's wages or salary for the purpose stated in this Act shall not be more than the amount stipulated in the written request.

(d) Participation in the program authorized by this Act is voluntary on the part of any county employee and the county.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall not alter, amend, modify, or repeal any of the provisions of Chapter 135, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 5154c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 3. Public funds shall not be used to defray the administrative cost of making the deductions authorized under this Act, except those deductions relating to payment for parking. The credit union, labor union or employees association shall pay the full and complete administrative cost, if any, as determined and approved by the commissioners court of the deductions made for their benefit under this Act.

Art. 2372h-6. Civil Service System in Counties of 200,000 or More

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act, unless the context requires a different definition:

(1) "Commission" means the county civil service commission.

(2) "Chairman" means the chairman of the county civil service commission.

(3) "Employee" means any person who obtains his position by appointment and who is not authorized by statute to perform governmental functions in his own right involving some exercise of discretion, but does not include a holder of an office the term of which is limited by the Constitution of the State of Texas.

(4) "Department" means any county, district, or precinct office or other agency of the county which has jurisdiction and control of the activities of the employees' official duties.

Establishment of Civil Service

Sec. 2. Any county having a population of 200,000 or more inhabitants according to the last preceding federal census may establish a county civil service system under the provisions of this Act to cover all employees of the county.

Methods for Creation of a County Civil Service System

Sec. 3. Before a county civil service system may be created under the provisions of this Act, the system must be approved either by an order adopted by a majority of the members of the Commissioners Court or by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the county voting at an election called for that purpose.

Creation by Order

Sec. 4. If the civil service system is created by order of the county commissioners, a copy of the order shall be placed in the minutes of the Commissioners Court and shall be available for public inspection.

Creation by Election

Sec. 5. (a) On its own motion, the Commissioners Court may order an election to be held to approve the creation of a county civil service system. The election must be held within the 60-day period immediately following the date of the order of election.

(b) The order calling the election shall specify the time and place, or places, of holding the election, the form of the ballots, and the presiding judge for each voting place.

(c) The Commissioners Court shall publish a substantial copy of the election order in a newspaper of general circulation in the county once a week for two consecutive weeks before the election. The first notice must be published before the 14-day period immediately preceding the day of the election.

(d) The presiding judge of each voting place shall supervise the counting of all votes cast and shall certify the results to the Commissioners Court within 24 hours after the election. A copy of the results is to be filed with the county clerk and become of public record.

(e) At the election, the qualified electors shall vote on the proposition of whether or not a county civil service system is to be created. To create the system, a majority of the qualified electors voting in the election must approve the proposition.

(f) The ballots shall be printed to allow for voting for or against the proposition: "Creation of a county civil service system."

(g) If the proposition is approved, the Commissioners Court shall declare the results and order the civil service system created. A copy of this order shall be placed in the minutes of the Commissioners Court.

Creation of the Civil Service Commission

Sec. 6. (a) After a civil service system is approved under the provisions of this Act, the Commissioners Court shall appoint a civil service commission consisting of three members to administer the system. The Commissioners Court shall designate one of the members as chairman of the commission.

(b) Each member of the commission holds office for a term of two years and until his successor is appointed and has qualified. Any vacancy on the commission shall be filled by appointment of the Commissioners Court for the unexpired term of the member whose position has been vacated.

(c) To qualify for appointment to the commission, a person must:

- (1) be at least 25 years of age; and
- (2) have been a resident of the county for the three-year period immediately preceding the beginning of his term of office.

Compensation; Expenses; Staff; Etc.

Sec. 7. The members of the commission serve without compensation, but the Commissioners Court shall reimburse them for expenses necessarily incurred in performing their duties. The Commissioners Court shall provide the commission with adequate office space and with enough money to employ an adequate staff and to purchase necessary supplies and equipment.

Powers of Commission

Sec. 8. (a) The commission shall make, publish, and enforce rules, consistent with the purposes of this Act, relating to:

- (1) selection and classification of county employees;
- (2) competitive examinations;
- (3) promotions, seniority, and tenure;
- (4) layoffs and dismissals;
- (5) disciplinary actions;
- (6) grievance procedures and other procedural and substantive rights of employees; and
- (7) other matters having to do with selection of employees and their advancement, rights, benefits, and working conditions.

(b) The commission may adopt or use as a guide any civil service laws, rules, or regulations of the United States or of this State or any political subdivision or municipal corporation in this State to the extent that they promote the purposes of this Act and are consistent with the necessities and circumstances of the county.

(c) The commission may not make a rule or enforce any existing rule requiring retirement at any age below 70. If a commission rule sets a mandatory retirement age, an employee who reaches that age may have his employment extended on application to and approval by the commissioners court on a year to year basis.

Appeals

Sec. 9. (a) Any employee who, under a final decision of the commission, is demoted, suspended, or removed from his position, may appeal the decision by filing a petition in a district court of the county within 30 days after the date of the decision.

(b) Appeals under this section shall be tried de novo.

(c) If the district court renders judgment for the petitioner, it may order reinstatement, back pay, and any other appropriate relief.

(d) Suits instituted under this section have precedence over other civil cases, and the judgment of the district court is appealable as in other civil cases.

Exemptions

Sec. 10. (a) Any person who is an employee of a county covered by this Act on the effective date of this Act shall not be required to take any competitive examination or perform any other act to maintain his present employment.

(b) Nothing in this Act applies to:

(1) assistant district attorneys, investigators, or other employees of the district attorney;

(2) the official shorthand reporter of any district or criminal district court.

Dissolution of System

Sec. 11. (a) In any county in which the provisions of this Act have been in effect for one year, on being petitioned by at least 10 percent of the qualified electors of the county, the Commissioners Court shall call an election to determine whether or not the county civil service should be dissolved.

(b) The provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall apply to holding an election under the provisions of this section.

(c) The ballots shall be printed to allow for voting for or against the proposition: "Dissolution of the civil service system."

(d) If the proposition is approved, the Commissioners Court shall declare the results and order the civil service system dissolved. A copy of this order shall be placed in the minutes of the Commissioners Court.

Limitation on Elections

Sec. 12. After an election is held in accordance with Section 5 or Section 11 of this Act, a two-year period of time must elapse prior to the calling of another election under either Section 5 or Section 11.

Severability

Sec. 13. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Art. 2372h-7. Liability Insurance for County Officers and Employees

Sec. 1. A county may insure such of its officers and employees, including county and precinct peace officers as may be designated by the county commissioners court, against liability arising from the performance of official duties or duties of employment by purchasing policies of liability insurance from an insurer authorized to do business in this state.

Sec. 2. Insurance purchased by a county under the provisions of this Act shall be on forms approved by the State Board of Insurance.

Art. 2372h-8. Sheriff's Department Civil Service System in Counties of More Than 950,000

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Commission" means a sheriff's department civil service commission.

(2) "Department" means a sheriff's department.

(3) "Employee" includes a deputy sheriff and any other employee of the department.

Establishment of Civil Service

Sec. 2. In any county having a population of more than 950,000, according to the most recent federal census, a sheriff's department civil service system may be created in accordance with this Act.

Petition and Election

Sec. 3. (a) If a petition requesting an election under this section signed by at least 20 percent of the employees of a department is submitted to the county judge, the judge shall order a departmental election on the question of establishing a sheriff's department civil service system.

(b) The county judge shall hold the election not less than 15 nor more than 45 days after the day the petition is submitted. The election shall be by secret ballot, and each employee is entitled to vote. The ballot shall be printed to permit voting for or against the proposition: "Creation of a sheriff's department civil service system."

(c) The county judge shall canvass the votes and declare the result of the election.

Creation of Commission

Sec. 4. (a) If the result of the election indicates that a majority of the employees voting at the election favor creation of a civil service system, the sheriff, commissioners court, and district attorney shall each appoint one member to a civil service commission of three members to administer the system. The sheriff shall designate one member as chairman of the commission.

(b) When the three initial appointees have been appointed, they shall determine by lot which two of them serve for a term of two years and which one of them serves for a term of one year. Successors to the initial appointees serve terms of two years. A vacancy on the commission shall be filled by the entity which originally appointed the member for the unexpired term of the member whose position has been vacated.

(c) To be qualified for appointment to the commission a person must:

(1) be 25 years of age or older; and

(2) have been a resident of the county for three years immediately preceding the beginning of the term of office.

Compensation; Expenses; Staff

Sec. 5. A member of the commission serves without compensation. The commissioners court shall reimburse a member for actual and necessary expenses incurred in performing duties as a member of the commission. The commissioners court shall provide the commission with adequate office space and with funds sufficient to employ an adequate staff and to purchase necessary supplies and equipment.

Powers of Commission

Sec. 6. (a) The commission shall make, publish, and enforce rules relating to:

(1) selection and classification of employees;

(2) competitive examinations;

(3) promotions, seniority, and tenure;

(4) layoffs and dismissals;

(5) disciplinary actions;

(6) grievance procedures and other procedural and substantive rights of employees; and

(7) other matters relating to the selection of employees and their advancement, rights, benefits, and working conditions.

(b) The commission may adopt or use as a guide a civil service law or rule of the United States or of this state or a political subdivision or municipal corporation in this state to the extent that the law or rule promotes the purposes of this Act and is consistent with the necessities and circumstances of the department.

Appeals

Sec. 7. (a) An employee who under a final decision of the commission is demoted, suspended, or removed from a position may appeal the decision by filing a petition in a district court of the county not later than the 30th day after the day the decision is issued.

(b) An appeal under this section shall be tried de novo.

(c) If the district court renders judgment for the petitioner, it may order reinstatement, back pay, or any other appropriate relief.

(d) A suit instituted under this section has precedence over other civil cases, and the judgment of the district court is appealable as in other civil cases.

Exemptions

Sec. 8. (a) A person who is an employee covered by this Act when this Act is adopted in a department may not be required to take any competitive examination or perform another act to maintain employment.

(b) The sheriff may designate as exempt from the civil service system the following positions:

(1) the position of chief deputy;

(2) four positions of major deputy;

(3) one or more positions in the office of departmental legal counsel; and

(4) additional positions.

(c) The total number of exempt positions under this section may not exceed 10.

(d) At the time a new sheriff takes office, an employee holding an exempt position under Subsection (b) of this section may be transferred to the nonexempt position held by the employee immediately before being promoted to an exempt position. A person who was not an officer in the department when he was appointed to an exempt position may be transferred only to an entry level position in accordance with civil service rules and regulations.

Dissolution of System

Sec. 9. (a) In any department in which this Act has been in effect for at least one year, the county judge, on being petitioned by at least 20 percent of the employees of the department, shall order a departmental election on the question of dissolving the sheriff's department civil service system.

(b) The county judge shall hold the election not less than 15 nor more than 45 days after the day the petition is submitted. The election shall be by secret ballot and each employee is entitled to vote. The ballot shall be printed to permit voting for or against the proposition: "Dissolving the sheriff's department civil service system."

(c) The county judge shall canvass the votes and declare the result of the election. If the result indicates that a majority of the employees voting at the election favor dissolution of the civil service system, the county judge shall declare the system dissolved.

System is Exclusive

Sec. 10. If a civil service system created under this Act is in effect, that system applies to the department to the exclusion of a civil service system created under Chapter 262, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971, as amended (Article 2372h-6, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law.

Art. 2372h-9. Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance For Certain Law Enforcement Personnel; Counties Over 1,400,000

Definition

Sec. 1. "Motor vehicle" means any motor vehicle for which motor vehicle insurance is written under Subchapter A, Chapter 5, Insurance Code, as amended.

Provision of Insurance

Sec. 2. (a) Each county with a population of more than 1,400,000 according to the most recent federal census shall provide for insuring its sheriff, full-time deputy sheriffs, constables, and full-time deputy constables against liability to third persons arising out of the operation, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle owned or leased by the county.

(b) The county may elect to reimburse the actual cost of extended automobile liability insurance endorsements obtained by its sheriff, full-time deputy sheriffs, constables, and full-time deputy constables on individually owned automobile liability insurance policies of the sheriff, full-time deputy sheriffs, constables, and full-time deputy constables. The extended endorsements shall be in amounts not less than those required under this Act and shall extend the coverage to include the operation and use of county vehicles by the sheriff, full-time deputy sheriffs, constables, and full-time deputy constables in the scope of their employment. Any county that elects to use the reimbursement method authorized under this subsection may require that the sheriff, full-time deputy sheriffs, constables, and full-time deputy constables who operate and use motor vehicles owned or leased by the county present proof that an extended coverage endorsement has been purchased and that the extended coverage is current.

(c) The county may elect to become a self-insurer for purposes of this Act and, if so, shall qualify as a self-insurer by complying with Section 34, Texas

Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act (Article 6701h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Amount of Coverage

Sec. 3. Liability coverage provided under this Act must be in amounts not less than the amounts required by the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act, as amended (Article 6701h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), to provide proof of financial responsibility.

Art. 2372i. Burial Ground for Veterans

Each Commissioners Court in this State may purchase sufficient burial ground to be used exclusively for the burial of any honorably discharged person who has served in any branch of the armed forces of the United States during any war in which the United States participated, and who may hereafter die without leaving sufficient means to defray funeral expenses. Provided, however, that the Commissioners Court shall not purchase such burial ground in any instance where there is situated within the county a national military cemetery or other military plot in which honorably discharged veterans of the armed forces of the United States of America may be buried free of charge.

Art. 2372j. County Office Building and Other Buildings; Certain Counties of 90,000 to 225,000

Sec. 1. In all counties having a population in excess of ninety thousand (90,000) persons and not more than two hundred and twenty-five thousand (225,000) persons according to the last preceding Federal Census, having an assessed valuation on property for ad valorem tax purposes of more than One Hundred and Twenty-five Million Dollars ($125,000,000) and having at least four (4) incorporated cities within the county, at least one (1) of which cities having a population of more than fifty thousand (50,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, whenever the Commissioners Court of any such county determines that the county courthouse is not adequate in size or facilities to properly house all county offices and permit the proper exercise of the duties of such office, and/or that the county jail is not adequate in size or facilities to properly confine prisoners, and/or that there is a need for an agricultural building, said Commissioners Court may purchase, construct, or otherwise acquire either in the city of the county seat or elsewhere in the county, a county office building or buildings for any such offices for which the courthouse is not adequate, and/or for which there is a need, including the site or sites therefor. Without limitation of the generalization of the foregoing, any such jail, agricultural building, or other structure or improvement may include an auditorium to be used by the Commissioners Court or any other county officer or county office for any proper county purpose or public purpose. Payment for such buildings or improvements, including the site or sites therefor, shall be made from the Constitutional Permanent Improvement Fund.

Sec. 2. All proceedings heretofore had by the Commissioners Court of any such county within the past two (2) years providing for and/or establishing any of the buildings herein authorized by Section 1 of this Act, are hereby approved and validated as the proper, lawful and authorized proceedings of any such county and/or its Commissioners Court; provided, however, nothing in this Act shall affect any case or cause of action now pending in any court in this State.

Sec. 3. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the same subject.

Sec. 4. If any Section, subsection, sentence, phrase or word of this Act shall be held unconstitutional or invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining portions of this Act and the Legislature hereby declares it would have enacted such remaining portions despite such invalidity.

[Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 781, ch. 421.]

Art. 2372k. Repealed by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 1526, ch. 288, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1983; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 1721, ch. 327, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1983

See, now, art. 6702-1, § 2.401.

Art. 2372l. Zoning of Padre Island

Legislative Finding

Sec. 1. The Legislature finds as a matter of fact that that portion of Padre Island lying within Cameron and Willacy Counties is frequented for recreational purposes by citizens from every part of the State and that the orderly development and utilization of this area is a matter of concern to the entire State. The Legislature further finds as a matter of fact that buildings on islands which are frequented as resort areas tend to become congested and to be put to uses which interfere with the proper use of the area as a place of recreation, to the detriment of the health, safety, morals, and the general welfare of the public.

Authority of Commissioners' Courts

Sec. 2. For the purpose of promoting health, safety, peace, morals and the general welfare of the community, including the recreational use of county parks, the Commissioners Courts of Cameron and Willacy Counties are hereby empowered to regulate and restrict the height, number of stories, and size of buildings and other structures, the percentage of lot that may be occupied, the size of yards, courts and other open spaces, the density of population, and the location and use of buildings, structures and land for trade, industry, residence, or other purposes, and to regulate the placing of water, sewerage, park and other public requirements on such island in areas of such island lying outside the corporate limits of a city, town or village, and within two miles of any publicly owned park or recreational development and all areas which lie within two miles of any beach, wharf or bath house which is used by as many as five hundred persons annually.

Districts

Sec. 3. For any or all of said purposes the Commissioners Court of each said county may divide said area in said islands into districts of such number, shape, and area as may be deemed best suited to carry out the purposes of this Act; and within such districts it may regulate and restrict the erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, or use of buildings, structures, or land. All such regulations shall be uniform for each class or kind of building throughout each district, but the regulations in one district may differ from those in other districts.

Purposes in View

Sec. 4. Such regulations shall be made in accordance with a comprehensive plan and designed to lessen congestion in the streets and roads; to secure safety from fire, panic, and other dangers; to promote health and the general welfare; to provide adequate light and air; to prevent the overcrowding of land; to avoid undue concentration of population; to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage, parks, and other public requirements, and to assist in developing said island into parks, playgrounds and places of recreation for the inhabitants of the State of Texas, and other states and nations. Such regulations shall be made with reasonable consideration, among other things, to the character of the district and its peculiar suitability for particular uses, and with a view to conserving the value of buildings and encouraging the most appropriate use of land throughout said islands, and it is hereby provided that this Act shall not enable said Commissioners Courts to require the removal or destruction of property existing at the time said Commissioners Courts shall take advantage of this Act.

Method of Procedure

Sec. 5. The said Commissioners Courts shall provide for the manner in which such regulations and restrictions and the boundaries of such districts shall be determined, established, and enforced, and from time to time amended, supplemented, or changed. However, no such regulation, restriction, or boundary shall become effective until after a public hearing in relation thereto, at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard. At least fifteen (15) days notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be published in a paper of general circulation in each said county.

Changes

Sec. 6. Such regulations, restrictions, and boundaries may from time to time be amended, supplemented, changed, modified, or repealed. In case, however, of a protest against such change, signed by the owners of twenty (20%) per cent or more either of the area of the lots included in such proposed change, or of those immediately adjacent in the rear thereof extending 200 feet therefrom, or from the street frontage of such opposite lots, such amendment shall not become effective except by the favorable vote of three-fourths of all the members of the Commissioners Court. The provisions of the previous section relative to public hearing and official notice shall apply equally to all changes or amendments.

Zoning Commission

Sec. 7. In order to avail itself of the powers conferred by this Act, the said Commissioners Courts shall appoint a commission, all of whom shall be residents of each said county, and to be known as the Zoning Commission, to be composed of seven (7) members, to recommend the boundaries of the various original districts, and appropriate regulations to be enforced therein. Such commission shall make a preliminary report and hold public hearings thereon before submitting its final report, and said Commissioners Court shall not hold its public hearings or take action until it has received the final report of such commission. Where a Board of Park Commissioners for each said county already exists, it may be appointed as the Zoning Commission. Written notice of all public hearings on proposed changes in classification shall be sent to all owners of property, or to the person rendering the same for county taxes, affected by such proposed changes of classification, and to all owners of property, or to the person rendering the same for county taxes, located within two hundred (200) feet of any property affected thereby, within not less than ten (10) days before any such hearing is held. Such notice may be served by depositing the same, properly addressed and postage paid, in the post office.

The Zoning Commission shall choose from its own membership its chairman for such tenure (not extending beyond the term of his office as a member of said commission) as it sees fit and at any time may choose from its own membership for any particular meeting or occasion, an acting chairman; and it may employ its own secretary, and at any time an acting secretary, and other technical and clerical help to be paid by each said county, compensation not in excess of the amount determined by prior order of the said Commissioners Court.

No member of the commission shall be entitled to compensation as such, but may be entitled to expenses actually incurred while serving on the commission in accordance with the provisions of any order entered by the County Commissioners Court to that effect.

Board of Adjustment

Sec. 8. The said Commissioners Court may provide for the appointment of a board of adjustment, and in the regulations and restrictions adopted pursuant to the authority of this Act may provide that the said board of adjustment may, in appropriate cases, and subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards, make special exceptions to the terms of the zoning regulations in harmony with their general purpose and intent and in accordance with general or specific rules therein contained.

The board of adjustment shall consist of five members, each to be appointed for a term of two (2) years and removable for cause by the appointing authority upon written charges and after public hearing. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term of any member whose term becomes vacant.

The board shall adopt rules in accordance with the provisions of any order adopted pursuant to this Act. Meetings of the board shall be held at the call of the chairman and at such other times as the board may determine. Such chairman, or in his absence the acting chairman, may administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses. All meetings of the board shall be open to the public. The board shall keep minutes of its proceedings, showing the vote of each member upon each question, or, if absent or failing to vote, indicating such fact, and shall keep records of its examinations and other official actions, all of which shall be immediately filed in the office of the board and shall be a public record.

Appeals to the Board of Adjustment may be taken by any person aggrieved or by any officer, department, board, or bureau of the county or of any municipality affected by any decision of the administrative officer. Such appeal shall be taken within a reasonable time, as provided by the rules of the board, by filing with the officer from whom the appeal is taken, and with the Board of Adjustment, a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof. The officer from whom the appeal is taken shall forthwith transmit to the board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken.

An appeal stays all proceedings in furtherance of the action appealed from, unless the officer from whom the appeal is taken certifies to the Board of Adjustment after the notice of appeal shall have been filed with him that by reason of facts stated in the certificate a stay would, in his opinion, cause imminent peril to life or property. In such case proceedings shall not be stayed otherwise than by a restraining order which may be granted by the Board of Adjustment or by a court of record on application on notice to the officer from whom the appeal is taken and on due cause shown.

The Board of Adjustment shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of the appeal, give public notice thereof, as well as due notice to the parties in interest, and decide the same within a reasonable time. Upon the hearing any party may appear in person or by agent or by attorney.

The Board of Adjustment shall have the following powers:

1. To hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is error in any order, requirement, decision, or determination made by an administrative official in the enforcement of this Act or of any order adopted pursuant thereto;

2. To hear and decide special exceptions to the terms of the order upon which such board is required to pass under such order;

3. To authorize upon appeal in specific cases such variance from the terms of the order as will not be contrary to the public interest, where, owing to special conditions, a literal enforcement of the provisions of the order will result in unnecessary hardship, and so that the spirit of the order shall be observed and substantial justice done.

In exercising the above mentioned powers such board may, in conformity with the provisions of this Act, reverse or reaffirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decision, or determination as ought to be made, and to that end shall have all the powers of the officer from whom the appeal is taken.

The concurring vote of four (4) members of the board shall be necessary to reverse any order, requirement, decision, or determination of any such administrative official, or to decide in favor of the applicant on any matter upon which it is required to pass under any such order, or to effect any variation in such order.

Any person, or persons, jointly or severally, aggrieved by any decision of the Board of Adjustment, or any taxpayer, or any officer, department, board, or bureau of the county or of the municipality, may present to a court of record a petition, duly verified, setting forth that such decision is illegal, in whole or in part, specifying the grounds of the illegality. Such petition shall be presented to the court within ten (10) days after the filing of the decision in the office of the board.

Upon the presentation of such petition the court may allow a writ of certiorari directed to the Board of Adjustment to review such decision of the Board of Adjustment and shall prescribe therein the time within which a return thereto must be made and served upon the relator's attorney, which shall not be less than ten (10) days and may be extended by the court. The allowance of the writ shall not stay proceedings upon the decision appealed from, but the court may, on application, on notice to the board and on due cause shown, grant a restraining order.

The Board of Adjustment shall not be required to return the original papers acted upon by it, but it shall be sufficient to return certified or sworn copies thereof or of such portions thereof as may be called for by such writ. The return shall concisely set forth such other facts as may be pertinent and material to show the grounds of the decision appealed from and shall be verified.

If, upon the hearing, it shall appear to the court that testimony is necessary for the proper disposition of the matter, it may take evidence or appoint a referee to take such evidence as it may direct and report the same to the court with his findings of fact and conclusions of law, which shall constitute a part of the proceedings upon which the determination of the court shall be made. The court may reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the decision brought up for review.

Costs shall not be allowed against the board unless it shall appear to the court that it acted with gross negligence, or in bad faith, or with malice in making the decision appealed from.

Enforcement and Remedies

Sec. 9. The said Commissioners Court may provide by order for the enforcement of this Act and of any order or regulation made thereunder. A violation of this Act or of such order or regulation is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor, and such local legislative body may provide for the punishment thereof by fine or imprisonment or both. It is also empowered to provide civil penalties for such violation.

In case any building or structure is erected, constructed, re-constructed, altered, repaired, converted, or maintained, or any building, structure, or land is used in violation of this Act or of any order or other regulation made under authority conferred hereby, the proper authorities of the county, in addition to other remedies, may institute any appropriate action or proceedings to prevent such unlawful erection, construction, re-construction, alteration, repair, conversion, maintenance, or use, to restrain, correct, or abate such violation, to prevent the occupancy of said building, structure, or land, or to prevent any illegal act, conduct business, or use in or about such premises.

Conflict With Other Laws

Sec. 10. Wherever the regulations made under authority of this Act require a greater width or size of yards, courts, or other open spaces, or require a lower height of building or less number of stories, or require a greater percentage of lot to be left unoccupied, or impose higher standards than are required in any other statute or local order or regulation, the provisions of the regulations made under authority of this Act shall govern. Wherever the provisions of any other statute or local order or regulation requires a greater width or size of yards, courts, or other open spaces, or require a lower height of building or a less number of stories, or require a greater percentage of lot to be left unoccupied, or impose other higher standards than are required by the regulations made under authority of this Act, the provisions of such statute or local order or regulation shall govern.

Telephone Buildings

Sec. 10a. The provisions of this Act or of any orders, regulations or restrictions made or entered under the authority of this Act, shall not apply to the location, construction, maintenance or use of central office buildings of corporations, firms, or individuals engaged in the furnishing of telephone service to the public, or to the location, construction, maintenance or use of any equipment in connection with such buildings or as a part of such telephone system, necessary in the furnishing of telephone service to the public.

Art. 2372L-1. Zoning of Portion of Val Verde County Surrounding Amistad Recreation Area

Legislative Finding

Sec. 1. The Legislature finds as a matter of fact that a portion of Val Verde County surrounding Amistad recreation area is frequented for recreational purposes by citizens from every part of the state and that the orderly development and utilization of this area is a matter of concern to the entire state. The Legislature further finds as a matter of fact that buildings in this area which are frequented for resort or recreation purposes tend to become congested and to be put to uses which interfere with the proper use of the area as a place of recreation, to the detriment of the health, safety, morals, and the general welfare of the public.

Authority of Commissioners Court

Sec. 2. For the purpose of promoting health, safety, peace, morals, and the general welfare of the community, including the recreational use of county land, the Commissioners Court of Val Verde County may regulate and restrict the height, number of stories, and size of buildings and other structures, the percentage of lot that may be occupied, the size of yards, courts, and other spaces, the density of population, and the location and use of buildings, structures and land for trade, industry, residence, or other purposes, and regulate the placing of water, sewerage, park, and other public requirements for those areas of the county which would be on the lakeward side of the following described boundaries:

Districts

Sec. 3. For any or all of the purposes set forth in Section 2 of this Act, the commissioners court may divide the area into zoned districts of such number, shape, and area as it may consider best suited to carry out the purposes of this Act; and within such districts it may regulate and restrict the erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, or use of buildings, structures, or land. All regulations shall be uniform for each class or kind of building throughout each district, but the regulations in one district may differ from those in other districts.

Purposes in View

Sec. 4. These regulations shall be made in accordance with a comprehensive plan and designed to lessen congestion in the streets and roads; to secure safety from fire, panic, and other dangers; to promote health and the general welfare; to provide adequate light and air; to prevent the overcrowding of land; to avoid undue concentration of population; to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage, parks, and other public requirements, and to assist in developing said area into parks, playgrounds and places of recreation for the inhabitants of the State of Texas, and other states and nations. In making these regulations the commissioners court shall give reasonable consideration to the character of the district and its peculiar suitability for particular uses, with a view to conserving the value of buildings and encouraging the most appropriate use of land throughout the area. However, this Act shall not enable the commissioners court to require the removal or destruction of property existing at the time the commissioners court implements the provisions of this Act, nor may the commissioners court limit or otherwise restrict the right of a landowner acting in his own behalf to construct improvements to be used for agricultural purposes, or otherwise use his land for agricultural purposes. However, the commissioners court may limit, restrict, or prohibit any commercial agricultural enterprise such as feed lots.

Zoning Commission

Sec. 5. (a) The commissioners court shall appoint a zoning commission, to be composed of five members, to recommend the boundaries of the various original zoned districts, and appropriate regulations to be enforced therein. The commission shall make a preliminary report and hold public hearings thereon before submitting its final report, and the commissioners court shall not hold its public hearings or take action until it has received the final report of the commission. Written notice of all public hearings on proposed changes in classification shall be sent to all owners of property, or to the person rendering the same for county taxes, affected by such proposed changes of classification, and to all owners of property, or to the person rendering the same for county taxes, located within 200 feet of any property affected thereby, within not less than 10 days before any such hearing is held. This notice may be served by depositing a letter, properly addressed and postage paid, containing all necessary information, in the post office.

(b) The zoning commission consists of an ex officio chairman and four additional members. The chairman shall be a public official in Val Verde County, and shall be appointed by the Commissioners Court of Val Verde County to hold a term of office of two years. Initial appointment of the four additional members of the zoning commission shall be made by the commissioners court with members to be assigned terms of one, two, three, and four years. Thereafter, in the event of resignation, end of term, or vacancy occurring in the membership, new members shall be selected by the commissioners court. A vacancy in the office of ex officio chairman shall be filled by appointment of the commissioners court.

(c) The zoning commission may employ a secretary, and an acting secretary, and other technical and clerical help to be paid not in excess of an amount determined by prior order of the commissioners court.

(d) Members of the commission shall receive compensation in the amount of $10 per month, and may also be entitled to expenses actually incurred while serving on the commission in accordance with the provisions of any order entered by the commissioners court to that effect. However, the chairman shall not receive compensation under this subsection if he receives compensation in his capacity as a public official in Val Verde County.

(e) No person may be appointed to, or serve on, the commission after his 70th birthday.

Method of Procedure

Sec. 6. (a) No preliminary report, or proposed order, rule, or regulation of the zoning commission is effective until it has been approved and adopted by the commissioners court.

(b) The commissioners court shall hold a public hearing before adopting any preliminary report or proposed order, rule, or regulation of the zoning commission, and it shall publish public notice of the hearing at least 15 days in advance of the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in Val Verde County.

(c) A preliminary report, or proposed order, rule, or regulation of the zoning commission may be amended, supplemented, altered, modified, or rejected by a majority vote of the commissioners court. However, in the event of a protest against any such change, signed by the owners of 20 percent or more either of the lots included in the change, or of those immediately adjacent in the rear thereof extending 200 feet therefrom, or from the street frontage of these opposite lots, the change shall not become effective except upon favorable vote of three-fourths of all the members of the commissioners court. The commissioners court shall hold a public hearing after receiving such a protest, and the provisions of public notice set forth in Subsection (b) of this section shall apply to the hearing.

Appeals

Sec. 7. (a) Any person aggrieved, or any officer, department, board, or bureau of Val Verde County, or of any municipality in Val Verde County, may petition the commissioners court for a special exception to any final report, order, rule, or regulation adopted by the commissioners court. The commissioners court shall hold a public hearing on the petition and shall publish public notice of the hearing at least 15 days in advance of the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in Val Verde County.

(b) The commissioners court may grant any petition for a special exception by majority vote; however, in the event of a protest against the special exception presented at the hearing and signed by the owners of 20 percent or more either of the lots included in the change, or of those immediately adjacent in the rear thereof extending 200 feet therefrom, or from the street frontage of these opposite lots, the change shall not become effective except upon favorable vote of three-fourths of all the members of the commissioners court.

Enforcement and Remedies

Sec. 8. (a) The commissioners court may provide by order for the enforcement of this Act and of any order or regulation made thereunder. Any person who violates any provision of this Act, or any rule or regulation made pursuant to this Act by the commissioners court, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction is punishable by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000. Each day that a violation occurs constitutes a separate offense. Trial of offenses under this section shall be in the district court.

(b) In the event any building or structure is erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, repaired, converted, or maintained, or any building, structure, or land is used, in violation of this Act or any order or other regulation made pursuant to the authority conferred on the commissioners court by this Act, the proper authorities of the county may, in addition to other remedies, institute an appropriate action or proceeding to prevent the unlawful action or use, to restrain, correct, or abate the violation, to prevent the occupancy of the building, structure, or land, or to prevent any illegal act, conduct of business, or other use in or about the premises.

Conflict With Other Laws

Sec. 9. (a) Whenever the regulations made by the commissioners court pursuant to the authority granted in this Act require a greater width or size of yards, courts, or other open spaces, or require a lower height of building or less number of stories, or require a greater percentage of lot to be left unoccupied, or impose higher standards than are required in any other statute or local order or regulation, the provisions of the regulations made pursuant to this Act shall govern.

(b) Wherever the provisions of any other statute or local order or regulation require a greater width or size of yards, courts, or other open spaces, or require a lower height of building or less number of stories, or require a greater percentage of a lot to be left unoccupied, or impose other higher standards than are required by the regulations made pursuant to this Act, the provisions of the statute or other local order or regulation shall govern.

Inapplicability to Telephone Systems

Sec. 10. The provisions of this Act or of any orders, regulations, or restrictions made or entered under the authority of this Act, shall not apply to the location, construction, maintenance, or use of central office buildings of corporations, firms, or individuals engaged in the furnishing of telephone service to the public, or to the location, construction, maintenance, or use of any equipment in connection with such buildings or as a part of such telephone systems, necessary in the furnishing of telephone service to the public.

Art. 2372m. Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 485, ch. 204, § 3, eff. Jan. 1, 1982

See, now, art. 4477-6a.

Art. 2372n. Public Platform Tonnage Scales

Sec. 1. In each county in this State, upon the presentation of a suitable petition in writing signed by not less than five hundred (500) inhabitants of the county, the Commissioners Court shall have the power and authority to purchase and install one (1) or more public platform tonnage scales suitable and adapted for the weighing of livestock, produce, agricultural products or any other articles, goods or wares as will permit, facilitate and encourage the development of truck farming, cattle raising or other trades or businesses in which the availability of such public scales is necessary or desirable.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court in each county shall have authority to prescribe rules and regulations concerning use of such scales and prescribe the fees to be charged for such use, and the Commissioners Court shall have the power and authority to operate such public scales, to provide adequate personnel for the operation of such scales, or to lease, let or rent such scales to responsible private individuals, corporations, business concerns or associations upon the terms and conditions prescribed by the Commissioners Court. Provided, however, that such public scales provided for in this Act shall at all times be available for use by the public.

Sec. 3. Any and all money which may be collected or received by virtue of the use or operation of such scales and through any contract which may be executed under the provisions of this Act shall be designated to the General Fund of the county.

Art. 2372o. County Building Authority Act

Application of Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable only to counties having a population in excess of 600,000 according to the last preceding Federal Census and which own and use, in conjunction with other structures, a courthouse which is more than thirty (30) years old or has not been completely renovated or remodeled within a thirty (30) year period. County Building Authorities without taxing power may be created as hereinafter provided. This law shall be known as the "County Building Authority Act."

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this law: (a) "County" means any county to which this Act is applicable;

(b) "Authority" means a County Building Authority created under this Act;

(c) "Board" or "Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Authority;

(d) "Project" means the building and property to be constructed or acquired by the Authority;

(e) "Bond Resolution" means the resolution of the Board of Directors authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds;

(f) "Trust Indenture" means the mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument pledging revenues of, or creating a mortgage lien on properties, or both, to secure the revenue bonds issued by the Authority;

(g) "Trustee" means the trustee under the Trust Indenture.

County Building Study Committee; Powers; Payment of Costs

Sec. 3. When the Commissioners Court of any county coming under the provisions of this Act shall find that it is to the best interest of the county and its inhabitants it shall by order create a County Building Study Committee composed of five (5) members, one (1) to be appointed by each County Commissioner and one (1) by the County Judge. The Study Committee shall have the power to study the needs of the county for a new or expanded county building and the possibility of incorporating therewith devices and characteristics designed to afford protection of life and property in modern warfare, make preliminary plans and surveys with reference to requirements, costs and feasibility of the project and to make recommendations to the Commissioners Court. The county may pay the cost of such study, not to exceed Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.).

Election on Construction of County Building and Issuance of Bonds; Ballots

Sec. 4. The Commissioners Court, after reviewing and considering the recommendations of the Study Committee, may call an election of the qualified voters of the county on the question of construction of a County Building and the issuance of bonds. At such election the following question shall be submitted to the voters:

"FOR the constructing, acquiring, improving, equipping, furnishing a County Building and to issue negotiable revenue bonds to provide funds for this purpose."

"AGAINST constructing, acquiring, improving, equipping, furnishing a County Building and to issue negotiable revenue bonds to provide funds for any of its purposes."

If a majority of the qualified voters of the county vote affirmatively on the above question the Authority shall come into existence and the following Sections of this Act shall apply.

Board of Directors; Membership; Terms; Vacancies; Appointments; Qualifications; Compensation

Sec. 5. The Authority shall be governed by a board of five (5) directors; each County Commissioner shall appoint one (1) director and the County Judge shall appoint one (1) director. Each director shall serve for a term of not more than two (2) years ending on December 31 not more than two (2) years after his term begins. The directors may provide for overlapping terms, in which event, the directors who are to serve until the following December 31, and those who are to serve until December 31 of the following year shall be determined by lot. Upon the death, resignation, or expiration of the term of any director, a new director to succeed said director, shall be appointed by the person then holding the office of County Judge or County Commissioner, as the case may be, who originally appointed such retiring director; and further, no provisions may hereafter be made in the bylaws of the Authority herein created, to provide for any other means of filling vacancies on the Board of Directors, as if and when they may occur. No officer or employee of any such county shall be eligible for appointment as a director. Directors shall not receive compensation for services but shall be entitled to reimbursement of their expenses incurred in performing such service.

Officers; Quorum; Appointment of Managers of Properties; Comptroller; Duties

Sec. 6. (a) The Board of Directors shall elect from among its members a president and a vice-president, and shall elect a secretary and a treasurer who may or may not be directors, and may elect such other officers as may be authorized by Authority's bylaws. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be combined. The president shall have the same right to vote on all matters as other members of the Board. A majority of the members of the Board shall constitute a quorum and when a quorum is present action may be taken by a majority vote of directors present. The Board shall employ a manager or executive director of the properties and such other employees, experts and agents as it may see fit, but it may delegate to the manager the power to employ and discharge employees. The Board may employ legal counsel.

(b) The County Auditor shall appoint a Comptroller for the Authority, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors and the Commissioners Court. The Comptroller shall work under the direction of the County Auditor and shall institute such budgetary, purchasing and fiscal procedures as conform to accepted business and accounting practices. The Comptroller shall make quarterly reports to the Commissioners Court. His employment may be terminated by the County Auditor and a majority vote of the Board of Directors, and a majority vote of the Commissioners Court. The Comptroller's salary shall be fixed by the County Auditor and approved by the Board of Directors and by the Commissioners Court, and his salary shall be paid by the Authority.

Power to Construct, Enlarge and Furnish Courthouse; Bids

Sec. 7. The Authority shall have the power, subject to the approval of the Commissioners Court, to construct, enlarge, furnish and equip a building to be used principally as a county courthouse. The Board of Directors shall comply with Chapter 163, Acts of the 42nd Legislature (Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes Article 2368a), as amended, and Sections 2a and 2b thereof with reference to any construction contract or contract for purchase of equipment and material calling for or requiring the expenditure or payment of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.) or more.

Purpose; Cooperation With Civil Defense Administrator; Participation in Federal or State Assistance

Sec. 8. The Authority is created primarily for the purpose of constructing, acquiring, improving, equipping, furnishing, maintaining and operating a County Building adequate to meet the needs and requirements of such county, and may incorporate shelter protection as a part of the underground facilities to be constructed. In this connection the Authority is authorized to cooperate with the Civil Defense Administrator operating under the Acts of Congress and with the Civil Defense Officers operating under state laws and may make all necessary contracts which would entitle the Authority to participate in Federal or State Assistance in constructing and operating such shelter protection facilities. In making the plans for any such building the Authority may take into consideration the anticipated population and economic growth of the county and its consequent increasing demands for space for housing offices, courts and other activities of the county.

General Powers of Authority

Sec. 9. The Authority is hereby granted and shall have and may exercise all powers necessary or convenient for the carrying out of the purposes set forth in Section 6 above, including but without limiting the generality of the grant of powers, the following rights and powers:

(a) To sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, to complain and defend in all courts;

(b) To adopt, use and alter at will a corporate seal;

(c) To acquire, purchase, hold and use the land necessary for carrying out the purpose of the Authority, including the power, but without limitation as to the generality of the power hereby granted, to lease as lessee from such county any land or any interest therein for a term not to exceed ninety-nine (99) years, at a nominal rental, or at such annual rental as may be determined by contract between the county and the Authority; to lease as lessor to the county any property, real, personal or mixed, or any interest therein for a term of not exceeding ninety-nine (99) years, at a nominal rental or at such annual rental as may be determined by contract between the county and Authority; to lease as lessor to other persons any property, real, personal or mixed, or any interest therein or any space therein, for a term of not exceeding forty (40) years, at such annual rental as may be determined by contract between the Authority and such person or persons, but with the proviso that upon such notice as may be specified therein the possession of such property will be surrendered by such person or persons to the Authority in the event and to the extent that it shall then be required for use by the county, provided that the obligations of the Authority under its bond resolution and indenture are not to be impaired thereby;

(d) To make bylaws for the management and regulation of its affairs;

(e) To fix, alter, charge and collect rates, rentals, and other charges for the use of the facilities of, or for the services rendered by the Authority or the Project, which must yield an aggregate income adequate to provide for the payment of the expenses of the Authority, maintenance and operation of the Project and to pay the principal of and interest on the obligations of the Authority, including the amounts necessary to establish and maintain such reserve funds as are required under the resolution authorizing the issuance of Authority's obligations and under the indenture securing such obligations;

(f) To make contracts of all kinds and to execute all instruments necessary or convenient for the carrying on of its business;

(g) Without limitation of the foregoing to borrow money and accept grants from, and to enter into contracts, leases or other transactions with any Federal Agencies;

(h) To have and exercise the power of eminent domain to the same extent and to be exercised in the same manner and under the same laws that are applicable to counties under the laws of the State of Texas for the purpose of acquiring property needed for any purpose authorized by this law;

(i) Prior to the beginning of each fiscal year the Comptroller under the direction of the Board of Directors shall prepare the budget for the ensuing fiscal year and submit it to the Commissioners Court. The Commissioners Court is authorized to approve or revise the budget within fifteen (15) days after it is so submitted;

(j) To do all acts and things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers granted to it by this Act or any other Acts.

Authority of Counties; Accomplishment of Objectives of Act

Sec. 10. A county, acting through its Commissioners Court is authorized to do all things necessary or convenient to permit the accomplishment of the objectives of this Act including, but without limitation as to the generality of such authorization, the following:

(a) The acquisition of land and the conveyance of such land and additional land owned by the county, to the Authority, which in the opinion of such court is needed for the Project, such conveyance to be either in the form of a deed or a lease, and upon such consideration as may be deemed reasonable by such court, after taking into consideration the fact that the Project is for the primary benefit of the county;

(b) To enter into such contracts of lease, as lessee, with the Authority as lessor, as may be necessary or convenient under this Act, to the extent that such contracts are considered by the court to be in the best interest of the county and in such contract of lease the county is authorized to obligate itself to pay to the Authority, at a bank to be designated by the Authority, an annual rental fixed or determined in the manner provided in such lease and to levy a tax sufficient to pay such rental as it becomes due.

Issuance of Negotiable Revenue Bonds

Sec. 11. The Authority may issue negotiable revenue bonds to provide funds for any of its purposes. Such bonds shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of the net revenues to be derived from the operation of its properties and any other revenues resulting from the ownership thereof. The bonds may be additionally secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on real and personal property of the Authority.

Bond Issue Election; Notice; Series; Maturity Date; Interest Cost; Recall Prior to Maturity

Sec. 12. No bonds shall be issued unless authorized by an election held throughout the Authority for that purpose. Such election shall be called by resolution of the Board of Directors. Said election shall be called and held and notice thereof published in the manner provided by Chapter 1 of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended.¹ The bonds shall be authorized by resolution adopted by a majority vote of a quorum of the Board of Directors, and shall be signed by the president or vice-president and countersigned by the secretary, or either or both of their facsimile signatures may be printed thereon. The seal of the Authority shall be impressed or printed thereon. The bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed (40) years and may be sold at a price and under terms determined by the Board of Directors to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, provided that the interest cost to the Authority, including the discount, if any, calculated by use of standard bond interest tables currently in use by insurance companies and investment houses does not exceed six percent (6%) per annum, and within the discretion of the Board, may be made callable prior to maturity at such times and prices as may be prescribed in the resolution authorizing the bonds, and may be made registrable as to principal or as to both principal and interest.

Bonds Constituting Junior Lien on Net Revenues; Issuance; Bond Resolution

Sec. 13. Bonds constituting a junior lien on the net revenues or properties may be issued unless prohibited by the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture. Parity bonds may be issued under condition specified in the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture.

Money for Payment of Initial Interest and Operating Expenses

Sec. 14. Money for the payment of not more than two (2) years interest on the bonds and an amount estimated by the Board to be required for operating expenses during the first year of operation may be set aside for those purposes out of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds.

Refunding Bonds; Exchange by Comptroller

Sec. 15. Bonds may be issued for the purpose of refunding outstanding bonds in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds except that no election shall be required, and may be exchanged by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas or sold and the proceeds applied in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature.¹

Examination of Bonds by Attorney General; Lease Contracts; Approval; Registration

Sec. 16. After any bonds (including refunding bonds) are authorized by the Authority such bonds and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General for his examination as to the validity thereof. Where such bonds recite that they are secured by a pledge of the proceeds of a lease contract theretofore made between the Authority and the county, or other governmental agency, a copy of such contract and the proceedings of the county or other governmental agency, authorizing such lease contract shall also be submitted to the Attorney General. It shall be the duty of the Attorney General to approve the bonds, and the lease contract, if any, if he finds them to be valid. If he shall approve the bonds and such lease contract the bonds then shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts. Thereafter, the bonds, and the lease contract, if any, shall be valid and binding and shall be incontestable for any cause. The creation of the Authority, the bonds, the provision made for the payment and security thereof, and the lease contract if one is made, may also be adjudicated as to validity in the manner provided by Senate Bill No. 349, Acts of the Regular Session of the 56th Legislature.¹

Legal and Authorized Investments; Eligibility to Secure Deposit of Public Funds

Sec. 17. All bonds of the Authority shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their value, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Operation of Properties Without Private Profit; Payment of Expenses; Sinking Fund; Bond Reserve Fund

Sec. 18. The properties shall be operated without the intervention of private profit for the use and benefit of the public. But it shall be the duty of the Board of Directors to charge sufficient rentals and charges and to utilize other sources of its revenues so that revenues will be produced sufficient to pay all expenses in connection with the ownership, operation and upkeep of the property, to pay the interest on the bonds as it becomes due, to create a sinking fund to pay the bonds as they become due, and to create and maintain a bond reserve fund and other funds as provided in the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture.

Depository

Sec. 19. The Authority may select a depository or depositories according to the procedures provided by law for the selection of county depositories or it may award its depository contract to the same depository or depositories selected by the county and on the same terms.

Use of Property for Benefit of Public; Tax Exemption

Sec. 20. The property owned by Authority will be held for governmental and public purposes only and will be devoted exclusively to the use and benefit of the public, and it shall be exempt from taxation of every character.

Investment of Funds

Sec. 21. The law as to the security for, and the investment of funds, applicable to counties shall control, insofar as applicable the investment of funds belonging to the Authority. The Bond Resolution or the Indenture or both may further restrict the making of such investments. In addition to other powers, the Authority shall have the right to invest the proceeds of its bonds, until such money is needed, in the direct obligations of or obligations unconditionally guaranteed by the United States Government, to the extent authorized in the Bond Resolution or Indenture or in both.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 22. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act, and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Limiting Rights and Powers of Commissioners Court

Sec. 23. No power or authority herein delegated, given, or granted to the Authority authorized to be created by this Act, shall in any manner, alter or limit the rights and powers of the County Commissioners Court, to continue to provide for itself, and the public to be served, such buildings and other facilities which, in their judgment are necessary for the convenience of the people in populated areas.

Payment of Indebtedness; Conveyance of Property to County; Dissolution

Sec. 24. After payment of all indebtedness incurred by the Authority, the Authority shall convey all of its properties and assets to the county without cost to the county, and the Authority shall be dissolved upon the making of such conveyance.

[Acts 1959, 56th Leg., 2nd C.S., p. 126, ch. 25.]

Art. 2372p. Employment of Special Counsel in Counties of More Than 500,000 Population

The Commissioners Court of all counties containing more than five hundred thousand (500,000) population according to the last preceding Federal Census shall have the authority to employ special counsel, learned in the law, to represent the county in all suits brought by or against such county, and particularly with authority to render aid and work with the Commissioners Court, the county engineer and other county employees in the preparation of documents necessary in the acquisition of rights-of-way for the county, or in cases where the county is required to obtain rights-of-way for state highways, or to assist in the acquisition of such rights-of-way; to represent the county in all condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of rights-of-way for highways and other proper purposes where the right of eminent domain is given to counties. Provided, however, that in such counties having a County Attorney, the special counsel shall be named by the County Attorney, and in such counties having no County Attorney, special counsel shall be named by the District Attorney or Criminal District Attorney, and such employment shall be made for such time and on such terms as said County Attorney, District Attorney, or Criminal District Attorney may deem proper and expedient, subject to the approval of the Commissioners Court.

Art. 2372p-1. Furnishing Counsel and Investigative Services for Indigents Accused of Crime; Counties Over 2,000,000Authority to Contract

Sec. 1. For the purpose of providing timely and effective assistance of counsel to those persons accused of crime and who are financially unable to employ counsel on their own, the Commissioners Court of any county in this State having a population of more than 2,000,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may contract with some already established bar association, nonprofit corporation, nonprofit trust association or any other nonprofit entity (which has for its purpose the providing of timely effective assistance of counsel for the indigent accused of crime) to assist the courts in providing the timely and effective assistance of counsel.

Aid to Court Appointed Counsel

Sec. 2. Under the terms of such contract, provision may be made for the contracting entity to provide additional legal counseling and advice to the court appointed counsel as well as the necessary investigative services authorized by Article 26.05, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

Recommendations for Release on Personal Bond

Sec. 3. Likewise, for the purpose of providing the judge before whom a criminal case is pending the information necessary for making a proper determination as to whether or not the accused should be released on personal bond as authorized by Article 17.03, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, the commissioners court of any such county may contract with such above named entity to interview the accused, to verify the information given, to make the appropriate recommendation as to release to the judge of the court where the case is pending, and, if the accused is released on his personal bond, to assure the judge of the court that such entity will assist in securing the presence of the accused at his trial.

Duration of Contract; Renewal

Sec. 4. Such contract may not be entered into for in excess of one year, but may be renewed from time to time. Either party to such contract may terminate the same by giving six months notice of intention to do so.

Compensation for Services

Sec. 5. Services provided under said contract shall be compensated for from the general funds of the county, and the commissioners court is empowered to accept grants or other financial assistance from the federal government or other private source to aid and assist in carrying out the purposes of this Act.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2454, ch. 821, eff. Sept. 1, 1969. Amended by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1836, ch. 542, § 81, eff. Sept. 1, 1971; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 570, ch. 237, § 40, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Art. 2372p-2. Personal Bond Offices

Sec. 1. Any county, or any judicial district with jurisdiction in more than one county, with the approval of the commissioners court of each county in the district, may establish a personal bond office to gather and review information about an accused that may have a bearing on whether he will comply with the conditions of a personal bond and report its findings to the court before which the case is pending.

Sec. 2. (a) The commissioners court of a county that establishes the office, or the district and county judges of a judicial district that establishes the office, may employ a director of the office.

(b) The director may employ the staff authorized by the commissioners court of the county or the commissioners courts of each county in the judicial district if the judicial district includes more than one county.

Sec. 3. If a judicial district establishes the office, each county in the district shall pay its pro rata share of the costs of administering the office according to its population in the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 4. (a) If a court releases an accused on personal bond on a personal bond office's recommendation, the court shall assess a personal bond fee of $20 or of three percent of the amount of the bail fixed for the accused, whichever is greater. The court may waive the fee or assess a lesser fee if good cause is shown.

(b) Fees collected under this Act may be used solely to defray expenses of the personal bond office, including defraying the expenses of extradition.

(c) Fees collected under this Act shall be deposited in the county treasury, unless the office serves more than one county in which event the fees shall be apportioned to each county in the district according to each county's pro rata share of the costs of the office.

[Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 788, ch. 352, eff. June 12, 1973. Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1914, ch. 765, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 2372p-3. Licensing and Regulation of Bail Bondsmen

Declaration of Policy

Sec. 1. The business of executing bail bonds is declared to be a business affecting the public interest. It is declared to be the policy of this state to provide reasonable regulation to the end that the right of bail be preserved and implemented by just and practical procedures governing the giving or making of bail bond and other security to guarantee appearance of the accused.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Person" means an individual or corporation.

(2) "Bondsman" means any person who for hire or for any compensation deposits any cash or bonds or other securities, or executes as surety or co-surety any bond for other persons.

(3) "Bonding Business" means the occupation in which a bondsman is engaged.

(4) "Company" includes corporations and other business entities.

(5) "Bond" includes cash deposit and any similar deposit or written undertaking to assure appearance.

(6) "Board" means the County Bail Bond Board.

Licensing Requirement and Eligibility

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act apply only to the execution of bail bonds in counties having a population of more than 110,000 according to the last federal census or in counties of less than 110,000 where a board has been created. The creation of the board is within the discretion of a majority of the officers of the county who would be members of, or who would designate members of, the board as provided under Subsection (b) of this section.

(a) In a county that has a board, no person may act as a bondsman except:

(1) persons licensed under this Act, and

(2) persons licensed to practice law in this state who meet the requirements set forth in Subsection (e) of Section 3 of this Act.

(b) No individual is eligible for a license under this Act unless the individual:

(1) is a resident of this state and a citizen of the United States;

(2) is at least 18 years of age;

(3) possesses sufficient financial resources to provide indemnity against loss on such obligations as he may undertake as required by Section 6 of this Article.

(c) No person shall be eligible for a license under this Act, who after the effective date of this Act, commits an offense for which he is finally convicted, such offense being a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude.

(d) No corporation is eligible to be licensed unless:

(1) it is chartered or admitted to do business in this state; and

(2) it is qualified to write fidelity, guaranty and surety bonds under the Texas Insurance Code, as amended.

(e) Persons licensed to practice law in this state may execute bail bonds or act as sureties for persons they actually represent in criminal cases without being licensed under this Act, but they are prohibited from engaging in the practices made the basis for revocation of license under this Act and if found by the sheriff to have violated any term of this Act, may not qualify thereafter under the exception provided in this subsection unless and until they come into compliance with those practices made the basis of revocation under this Act. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, no person licensed to practice law shall be relieved of liability on a bail bond he has executed for the sole reason that he has not been employed to represent the principal on the merits of the case if he has been paid a fee for the execution of the bail bond.

Records Required of Licensees

Sec. 4. (a) A bondsman licensed under this Act shall maintain a record of each bond on which the bondsman appears as surety and shall maintain a separate set of records for each county in which the bondsman is licensed. The records shall include the following information for each bond executed and enforced:

(1) the style and number of the cause in which the bond is given and the court in which it is executed;

(2) the name of the defendant released on bond;

(3) the amount of the bail set in the case; and

(4) the amount and type of security held by the bondsman, together with a statement as to whether the security was taken for payment of a bail bond fee or for assurance of the principal's appearance in court and the conditions under which the security will be returned. No security shall be held for both the payment of a bail bond fee and assurance of the principal's appearance in court that is in excess of the particular risk involved.

(b) The records shall be submitted to the board or a person designated by the board for inspection prior to each renewal of the bondsman's license and shall be available for inspection on demand by the board or its authorized representative.

County Bail Bond Board

Sec. 5. (a) There is hereby created in all counties having a population of 110,000 or more, according to the last preceding federal census, a County Bail Bond Board. In counties of less than 110,000, the creation of the board is within the discretion of a majority of the officers of the county who would be members of, or who would designate members of, the board as provided under Subsection (b) of this section.

(b) The County Bail Bond Board shall be composed of the following persons:

(1) the county sheriff or his designee;

(2) a district judge of the county having jurisdiction over criminal matters designated by the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district;

(3) the county judge or a member of the commissioners court designated by the county judge;

(4) a judge of a county court or a county court at law in the county having jurisdiction over criminal matters designated by the commissioners court;

(5) the district attorney or his designee;

(6) a licensed bondsman, licensed in the county, elected by other county licensees; and

(7) a justice of the peace.

(c) The board shall meet within 60 days after its creation. The board shall initially elect one of its members as chairman who shall preside at all meetings to be held thereafter at the call of the chairman.

(d) Four members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the conduct of business. All action by the board shall require the vote of a majority of the members present. The board shall meet at least every 30 days.

(e) Unless clearly not required by this Act, all rules, regulations, and actions of the board passed pursuant to this Act shall be posted at an appropriate place in the courthouse for a period of 10 days prior to their effective date.

(f) In addition to the powers and duties given to the County Bail Bond Board by this Act, the board has the following powers and duties:

(1) To exercise any powers incidental or necessary to the administration of this Act, to supervise and regulate all phases of the bonding business and enforce this Act within the county, and to prescribe and post any rules necessary to implement this Act;

(2) To conduct hearings and investigations and make determinations respecting the issuance, refusal, suspension, or revocation of licenses to bondsmen within the provisions of this Act and to issue licenses to those applicants who qualify under the terms of this Act, to refuse licenses to those applicants who do not qualify, and to suspend or revoke the licenses of licensees who commit violations under this Act or the rules prescribed by the board under this Act;

(3) To require applicants and licensees to appear before the board, and to administer oaths, examine witnesses, and compel the production of pertinent books, accounts, records, documents, and testimony by the licensee or applicant in its hearings;

(4) To cause records and transcripts to be made of all its proceedings;

(5) To maintain records and minutes and otherwise operate its office affairs;

(6) To employ such employees to assist the board in its functions as necessary;

(7) To furnish and post in each court in the county having jurisdiction of criminal cases and each local official responsible for the detention of prisoners in the county with current lists of the bondsmen and their agents licensed and approved in the county and to notify immediately each court and local official when a bondsman's license is suspended or revoked or an agent's authority is rescinded; and

(8) To file reports and furnish information on the operation of the bonding business in the county at the request of the Texas Judicial Council which shall report annually to the governor and the legislature on or before December 1 of each year on the operation of the bonding business in the state.

Application and Issuance of License

Sec. 6. (a) Any person desiring to act as a bondsman in any court of the county shall file with the County Bail Bond Board a sworn application for a license. The application shall be in such form and shall contain such information as the board may prescribe including the following:

(1) The name, age, and address of the applicant, and if the applicant is a surety corporation, and whether chartered or admitted to do business in this state and qualified to write fidelity, guaranty, and surety bonds under the Texas Insurance Code, as amended;

(2) The name under which the business shall be conducted;

(3) The name of the place or places, including street address and city, wherein the business is to be conducted;

(4) A statement listing any nonexempt real estate owned by the applicant that the applicant intends to convey in trust to the board to secure payment of any obligations incurred by the applicant in the bonding business if the license is granted. The following shall be included for each parcel listed:

(A) a legal description equivalent to the description required to convey the property by general warranty deed;

(B) current statements from each taxing unit with power to assess or collect taxes against the property indicating that there are no outstanding tax liens against the property and indicating the net value of the property according to the current appraisal made by a member of the Society of Real Estate Advisors or a Member of Appraisal Institute, accompanied by a statement from the applicant agreeing to keep all taxes paid on the property while it remains in trust;

(C) a statement of the applicant that he will not further encumber the property after conveying it in trust to the County Bail Bond Board, without notifying and obtaining the permission of the board;

(D) an agreement to insure and keep current the insurance on any improvements on the property against any damage or destruction while the property remains in trust, in the full amount of the value claimed for the improvements;

(E) a statement indicating whether the applicant is married and, if so, a sworn statement from the spouse agreeing to transfer to the board, as a part of the trust, any right, title, or interest that the spouse may have in the property; and the spouse must execute the deeds of trust to any community property placed in the security deposit required under this section;

(5) A statement indicating the amount of cash or cash value of any certificate of deposit or cashier's checks which the applicant intends to place on deposit with the county treasurer to secure payment of any obligations incurred by the applicant in the bonding business if the license is granted;

(6) A complete, sworn financial statement;

(7) A declaration by the applicant that he will comply with this Act and the rules prescribed by the board.

(b) The application of an individual for a license under this Act shall be accompanied by letters of recommendation from three reputable persons who have known the applicant for a period of at least three years. If the applicant is a corporation, the letters shall be required for the person to be in charge of its business in the county. Each letter shall recommend the applicant or person who will be in charge of its business as having a reputation of honesty, truthfulness, fair dealing, and competency and shall recommend that the license be granted. If the applicant or the person to be in charge of its business has been licensed under this Act in another county, the application shall be accompanied by a letter from each appropriate board stating whether or not the applicant is in good standing in the county where he is licensed.

(c) The application shall be accompanied by a fee of $500 for the filing of any original application, a photograph of the applicant, and a set of fingerprints of the applicant taken by a law enforcement officer designated by the board.

(d) Prior to a hearing on the application, the board or its authorized representative shall conduct necessary inquiries to determine whether the applicant possesses the financial responsibility and meets other requirements of this Act.

(e) A hearing shall be held on the application after the board conducts the inquiries required by Subsection (d) of this section. The board may submit any questions to the applicant and the applicant's agents relevant to its ruling on the application, and the applicant is entitled to present oral and documentary evidence to the board. If, after the hearing, the board is satisfied that no grounds exist on which to refuse the application, the board shall enter an order tentatively approving the application subject to the application being perfected by the filing of the security deposits required of licensees under this Act. If the board is not so satisfied, it shall enter an order refusing the license.

(f) Upon notice from the board that the application has been tentatively approved, the applicant shall then:

(1) deposit with the county treasurer of the county in which the license is to be issued a cashier's check, certificate of deposit, cash, or cash equivalent in the amount indicated by the applicant under Subdivision (5) of Subsection (a) of Section 6 of this Act but in no event less than $5,000 to be held in a special fund to be called the bail security fund; or

(2) execute in trust to the board deeds to the property listed by the applicant under Subdivision (4) of Subsection (a) of Section 6 of this Act, which property shall be valued in the amount indicated on an appraisal by a member of the Society of Real Estate Advisors or a Member of Appraisal Institute of the county in which it is located, but in no event less than $10,000 valuation, the condition of the trust being that the property may be sold to satisfy any final judgment forfeitures that may be made in bonds on which the licensee is surety after such notice and upon such conditions as are required by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, in bond forfeiture cases; the board shall file the deeds of trust in the records of each county in which the property is located, and the applicant shall pay the filing fees.

(3) If the licensee is a corporation, it shall furnish to the sheriff an irrevocable letter of credit as a cash equivalent to satisfy any final judgment of forfeiture that may be made on any bonds on which the corporate licensee is surety.

(g) No bondsman may execute, in any county, bail bonds that in the aggregate exceed 10 times the value of the property held as security on deposit or in trust under Subsection (f) of this section. A county officer or employee designated by the board shall maintain a current total of the bondsman's potential liability on bonds in force, and no further bonds may be written by or accepted from the bondsman when the limit is reached. When a bondsman's total liability on judgments nisi reaches two times the same amount as he has on deposit as security, no further bonds may be written until the bondsman posts additional security as required in this subsection. A bondsman whose license is effective may, at any time, by posting additional security, increase the bondsman's limit.

(h) The cash deposit or the funds realized from the trust shall be used to pay the final judgments of any bail forfeitures that result from the licensee's execution of a bail bond, if the licensee fails to satisfy the judgment within 30 days after a final judgment of forfeiture. When any sums are depleted from the deposit or trust to pay a judgment resulting from a forfeited bond, the licensee shall, as a condition to continuing as a licensee, replenish the amount so depleted up to the amount of the required minimum deposit to secure other bonds in force. When the licensee ceases to engage in the business of executing bail bonds and ceases to maintain his license, he may withdraw his security deposit or trust upon presentment of a release by the board, if there are no judgments or bond liabilities, either actual or potential, outstanding against the license. Any portion of the deposit or trust not used to pay judgments or to secure unexpired obligations on existing bonds in force shall be returned to the licensee or his heirs or assigns upon presentment of a release by the board.

Corporation as Surety

Sec. 7. (a) Wherever in this Act any person is required or authorized to give or execute any bail bond, such bail bond may be given or executed by such principal and any corporation authorized by law to act as surety. When any such corporation authorized by law to act as a surety undertakes to be a surety on a bail bond, such corporation, before being acceptable as a surety on a bail bond, shall be required to meet the applicable requirements prescribed by Section 6 of this Act before being acceptable as a personal surety on a bail bond; Subsection (g) of Section 6 does not apply to a corporate surety.

(b) The certificate of authority to do business in this state issued to a corporation by the State Board of Insurance pursuant to Article 8.20, Insurance Code, as amended, shall be conclusive evidence as to the sufficiency of the security, the corporation's solvency, or its credits.

(c) Any corporation which acts as a surety shall, before executing any bail bond, first file in the office of the county clerk of the county where such bail bond is given a power of attorney designating and authorizing the named agent of such corporation to execute such bail bonds by such agent. This power of attorney shall be a valid and binding obligation of the corporation. A separate license is required for each agent operating under a corporate power of attorney.

(d) Notwithstanding any statutory requirements to the contrary, any agent so designated and licensed or approved hereunder for the purpose of writing bail bonds shall not be required to be licensed as a local recording agent as defined in Article 21.14, Texas Insurance Code, as amended, for the purpose of this Act.

(e) It shall be the duty of the board to notify promptly the State Board of Insurance of default by a corporation on any financial obligation which it undertakes in the county.

Expiration and Renewal of License

Sec. 8. (a) A license issued under this Act expires 24 months after the date of its issuance and may not be renewed unless an application for renewal is filed with the board at least 30 days before expiration. The application for renewal shall have the same form and content as an application for an original license under this Act. The application for renewal shall be accompanied by a renewal fee of $500. If the applicant's current license has not been suspended or revoked, if the renewal application complies with the requirements of this Act, and if the board knows no legal reason why the application should not be renewed, the license may then be renewed for a period of 24 months from the date of expiration and may be renewed subsequently each 24 months in like manner.

(b) All fees collected by the board shall be deposited in the general fund of the county for use in the administration and enforcement of this Act. The board is authorized to receive disbursements from the general fund for reasonable expenses incurred in the enforcement of this Act, but service on the board is considered an additional duty of office, and the members of the board are not entitled to compensation for the service but only for reimbursement of any expenses actually incurred as a result of the service.

(c) Each license, when issued, shall show on its face the date of expiration and license number, and it shall be the responsibility of the licensee to file for renewal under the terms of this Act, and each subsequent renewal license shall have the same number as assigned the original license.

Refusal, Suspension, and Revocation of Licenses

Sec. 9. (a) No license may be issued to any person who has not complied with the requirements of this Act for applying for an original or renewal license.

(b) The board may, on its own motion, and shall, on receipt of a sworn complaint providing reasonable cause to believe that a violation of this Act has occurred or on the request of a court, investigate the actions and records relating to such complaint against any bondsman it has licensed. The board may, after notice and hearing, suspend or revoke a license for:

(1) violation of a provision of this Act or a rule prescribed by the board during the term of the license sought to be suspended or revoked or during any prior licensing period;

(2) fraudulently obtaining a license under the provisions of this Act, making a false statement or misrepresentation in an application for an original or renewal license or in any hearing before the board, or refusing to answer any question submitted by the board in a hearing relevant to the license or the conduct or qualifications of the licensee or applicant;

(3) final conviction under the laws of this or any other state or of the United States of a misdemeanor or involving moral turpitude or of a felony committed after the effective date of this Act;

(4) being adjudged bankrupt or becoming insolvent;

(5) being adjudged mentally incompetent;

(6) failing to pay within 30 days any final judgment rendered on any forfeited bond in any court of competent jurisdiction within the county of the licensee;

(7) paying of commissions or fees or dividing commissions or fees or offering to pay or divide commissions or fees with any person, company, firm, or corporation not licensed under this Act to execute bonds;

(8) soliciting bail bond business in any building where prisoners are processed or confined;

(9) recommending to any client the employment of a particular attorney or firm of attorneys in a criminal case;

(10) falsifying any records required to be maintained under this Act, failing to keep the records, or failing promptly to permit the inspection of the records at any time requested by the board or its representatives or agents;

(11) operating as a bondsman while the license is suspended or after it has expired and before it is renewed; and

(12) on more than one occasion failing to maintain the minimum amount of security required by this Act or misrepresenting to any official or employee of the official the limit supported by the amount of security to obtain the release of any person on bond.

Procedure for Suspension or Revocation of License

Sec. 10. (a) The board may revoke or suspend a license in accordance with the procedure provided in this section for the violation of any provision of this Act.

(b) Notice of a hearing to suspend or revoke shall be given by certified mail addressed to the last known address of the licensee at least 10 days prior to a date set for the hearing.

(c) The notice shall specify the charges of violation of this Act made against the licensee, and no other charges shall be made at the hearing pursuant to the notice.

(d) The hearing shall afford to the licensee opportunity to be heard, to present witnesses in his behalf, and to question witnesses against him.

(e) A record of the hearing shall be made. It shall be made available to the licensee on his request subject to his paying reasonable costs of transcription.

(f) If the licensee fails to maintain the security deposit at the proper ratio required by this Act, under Subsection (g) of Section 6 of this Act, the board shall immediately suspend the license while the violation continues. No prior notice or a hearing is necessary. Once the proper ratio is regained, the suspension shall be immediately lifted. The board shall revoke the license with prior notice or hearing if the licensee fails to pay any final judgment.

ment connected with the licensee's bonding business within 30 days and there is not sufficient property held as security to satisfy the final judgment.

Court Review

Sec. 11. An appeal may be taken from any board's order revoking, suspending, or refusing to issue a license. The appeal must be made within 30 days after written notice of the suspension, revocation, or refusal by filing a petition in a district court in the county in which the license is issued or refused. If no appeal is taken within 30 days after written notice of suspension, revocation, or refusal, such action shall become final. An appeal shall be by trial de novo, as in proceedings appealed from justice to county courts. The decision of the board shall have full force and effect pending the determination of the appeal. All appeals taken from actions of the board shall be against the board and not against the members individually.

Surrender of Principal

Sec. 12. (a) No person who executes a bail bond as a surety for a principal may surrender the principal without the written permission of the judge having jurisdiction of the case after the person who executed the bail bond has executed an affidavit to be filed with the clerk of the court stating:

- (1) the date the bond was made;
- (2) the fee paid for the bond; and
- (3) the reason for the surrender.

(b) If the reason for surrender is deemed without reasonable cause by the principal, any agent of the board, or any attorney representing the state or any accused in the proceeding, that person may bring the matter to the attention of the court.

(c) If the court determines that the person who surrendered the principal did so without reasonable cause, the court in its discretion may require that all or a part of the fees paid as a condition for making the bail bond shall be returned to the principal. In making the determination the court shall determine what fees, whether denominated fees for the making of the bond or not, were in fact paid for the purpose of inducing the surety to make the bond.

(d) Notwithstanding any statute required to the contrary or any provision in the bond, the court may not require or commit the surety to remain during any appeal of a case without previous approval of the surety. When a case is appealed without approval of the surety, the bail shall be discharged. Nothing shall deny the principal any right to an appeal bond as provided in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended.

Remittitur of Forfeited Bonds

Sec. 13. (a) Prior to final judgment on any forfeiture of an appearance bond in a criminal case the attorney for the state may recommend to the court settlement for an amount less than that stated in the bond, or the court may upon its own motion approve such settlement.

(b) After a forfeiture, if the defendant is incarcerated within two years of a judgment nisi, the bondsman shall be entitled to a remittitur of at least 95 percent if he presents a sworn affidavit stating that the defendant was returned to custody, in part, as a result of money spent or information furnished by the bondsman.

The remittitur shall be credited against an unpaid judgment of forfeiture or if the judgment has been paid, the treasurer shall refund at least 95 percent.

(c) The surety on appearance bonds in criminal cases shall be absolved of liability upon disposition of the case, and disposition as used herein shall mean a dismissal, acquittal, or finding of guilty on the charges made the basis of the bond.

Approval of Bond

Sec. 14. (a) In any county or district case in which the posting of bond is required as a condition of release, the sheriff shall accept or approve a bond posted by a licensed bondsman only in accordance with this Act and the rules prescribed by the board, but a sheriff may not refuse to accept a bail bond from a licensed bondsman who meets the requirements of Subdivision (4) or (5) of Subsection (a) of Section 6 of this Act.

Effect of Default by Corporation

Sec. 14A. (a) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, a corporation that is in default on five or more bail bonds in a county may not act as a bail bondsman in that county.

(b) The clerk of the court in which the corporation is in default on a bail bond shall deliver a written notice of the default to the sheriff, chief of police, or other appropriate peace officer in the county in which the bond is forfeited.

(c) A corporation is considered in default on a bail bond from the time the trial court enters its final judgment on the scire facias until the judgment is satisfied or set aside.

(d) For purposes of this section, a corporation is not considered in default on a bond if it deposits with the appropriate court cash in the full amount of the judgment, pending appeal. The deposit shall be applied to the payment of any final judgment in the case.

Acts Subject to Penalty

Sec. 15. (a) No person required to be licensed under this Act may execute a bail bond without a license.

(b) No bondsman or agent of a bondsman may, by any means, recommend or suggest to any person whose bail bond has been posted the name of any particular attorney or firm of attorneys for employment in connection with a criminal offense.

(c) No person in the bonding business shall, either directly or indirectly, give, donate, lend, contribute, or promise to give, donate, lend, or contribute any money or property to any attorney, police officer, sheriff, or deputy, constable, jailer, or employee of a law enforcement agency for the referral of bail bond business.

(d) No attorney, police officer, constable, or deputy, jailer, or employee of a law enforcement agency, judge or employee of a court, or public official, or employee of a related agency, or any person not shown in the records of the board to be an agent or employee of the bondsman may accept or receive from a bondsman any money, property, or other thing of value as payment for the referral of bail bond business.

(e) No police officer, sheriff, or deputy, constable, jailer, or employee of a law enforcement agency, judge or employee of a court, or public official, or employee of a related agency may recommend to any person or persons, family of such person or persons, friends, relatives, or employer the name of any particular bondsman. In all places where prisoners are examined, processed, or confined, a list of licensed bondsmen of that county may be displayed.

(f) No bondsman or agent of a bondsman may solicit business in a police station, jail, prison, detention facility, or other place where persons in the custody of law enforcement officials are detained.

(g) No person may advertise as a bondsman who does not hold a valid license under this Act.

(h) No bondsman or agent of a bondsman may receive money or other consideration or thing of value for issuance of a bond or undertaking of a surety obligation without issuing a receipt indicating the name of the person paying the money or transferring the property, the amount received or the estimated value of the property received and briefly identifying it, the suit, action, or matter for which it is received or is to be applied, and the name of the person receiving it. The bondsman or agent shall retain a duplicate copy of the receipt which shall be available for inspection by representatives of the board of any county in which the bondsman is licensed or by the appointed representatives of a court in which the bondsman agrees to make bail or undertake other surety obligations.

(i) No person shall falsify any records required to be kept under this Act.

(j) A person who violates Subsection (a) or (g) of this section shall be guilty of a Class C misdemeanor.

(k) A person who violates Subsection (b), (e), (f), (h), or (i) of this section shall be guilty of a Class B misdemeanor.

(l) A person who violates Subsection (c) or (d) of this section shall be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

Sections 7 and 8 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 7. A person who, on the effective date of Section 1 of this Act, is a licensed bondsman under the law amended by Section 1 of this Act may continue to operate under the prior law for the term of the current license, and the prior law is continued in effect for that purpose. To renew the license, the person must meet the requirements of the law as amended by Section 1 of this Act.

"Sec. 8. The sheriff shall make any necessary transfers of property and functions to the board in accordance with the law as amended by Section 1 of this Act."

Art. 2372q. Acquisition of Natural Gas System for Courthouses and Other County Buildings

Adoption of Act; Eligible County Defined

Sec. 1. The provisions of this Act may be adopted by an order of the Commissioners Court of any eligible county within this state upon a majority vote of the members of such court. An eligible county is defined to mean any county which at the time of the adoption of this Act by the county has a county seat that is an unincorporated community or city with a population in excess of 5,000 inhabitants, according to the then last preceding Federal Census.

Purchase or Construction of System; Facilities for Supply and Distribution

Sec. 2. In order to acquire an adequate and dependable supply of natural gas for the county courthouse, county offices and other county buildings, the Commissioners Court of any eligible county is authorized to acquire by purchase or construction (but not through the exercise of the power of eminent domain) a natural gas system and in the furtherance of such project, such county shall be authorized to construct, repair and maintain such facilities for the supply and distribution of natural gas as may be required for the purpose of supplying natural gas to the courthouse, county offices and other county buildings, all of which is hereinafter sometimes referred to as the Project.

Sale of Gas Not Needed for County Purposes

Sec. 3. The Commissioners Court of any eligible county is hereby authorized and empowered to sell, contract to sell, deliver and distribute any or all natural gas of the Project which is not needed for county purposes to any municipal corporation or political subdivision of this state now existing or hereafter established under the laws of the State of Texas, or to any individual, corporation or company under such terms and conditions as the court may determine to be in the best interest of the county. The cost of supplying the natural gas, including any increase in the cost of the distribution lines or facilities, shall be considered as a part of the Project as such term is used in the preceding and the following Sections.

Bonds; Rates and Charges; Manner of Sale; Redemption; Proceeds

Sec. 4. (a) For the purpose of paying the cost of the Project, including, without limitation, legal, fiscal, engineering expenses, and interest during the construction of the Project, the county may issue its negotiable bonds, payable from and secured by a pledge of the net revenues of the Project.

(b) It shall be the mandatory duty of the Commissioners Court to contract for and impose such rates and charges, for gas supplied by the Project as will be fully sufficient to operate and maintain the Project and produce all amounts required to pay principal and interest on the bonds when due, and establish such reserves as may be provided in the order authorizing the issuance of such bonds.

(c) All gas used by the county for its own facilities shall be paid out of General Funds of the county legally available for such purpose and no free service shall be allowed.

(d) The Commissioners Court shall have full discretion in fixing the details of the bonds and in determining the manner of sale thereof provided the bonds shall bear interest at not exceeding six percent (6%) per annum and mature in not more than forty (40) years from their date and such order may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the county in relation to the acquisition of properties and the construction, maintenance operation, repair and insurance of the Project, and the custody, safeguarding, and application of all moneys, and may set forth the rights and remedies of the bondholders and may contain such other provisions as the Commissioners Court may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders, including but without limitation covenants prescribing all happenings or occurrences which constitute events of default and the rights, liabilities, powers and duties arising upon breach by the county of any of its duties or obligations. The bonds may be made redeemable prior to maturity in such manner and at such prices as may be determined by the Commissioners Court in the order authorizing their issuance. All bonds issued hereunder shall and are hereby declared to have all the qualifications and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of Texas. The proceeds of the bonds shall be disbursed under such restrictions as may be provided in the bond order, and there shall be and is hereby created and granted a lien upon such moneys until so applied in favor of the holders of the bonds. Pending use of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds for the construction of the Project such proceeds may be invested in direct obligations of the United States Government having maturities not more than ninety-one (91) days from the date of investment. Unless otherwise provided in such order or indenture, if the proceeds of the bonds prove insufficient to pay the cost of the Project, additional bonds may be issued under the methods herein prescribed to the amount of the deficit.

Debt of County; Pledge of Revenues

Sec. 5. The bonds shall never constitute a debt of the county, but shall be solely a charge upon the pledged revenues, and shall never be reckoned in determining the power of the county to issue bonds or incur other debt for any purpose authorized by law, and each bond shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Form of Bonds; Approval

Sec. 6. The bonds shall be signed by the county judge and attested by the county clerk, but the facsimile signatures of such officials may be printed or lithographed on the bonds in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 293, Acts of the 54th Legislature, 1955.¹ The county treasurer shall register the bonds, but he need not sign them. The seal of the Commissioners Court shall be impressed on the bonds or a facsimile of the seal may be printed or lithographed thereon. The bonds and the record relating to their issuance shall be presented to the Attorney General of Texas, and if they have been issued in accordance with the Constitution and this law he shall approve them. Upon approval by the Attorney General the bonds shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and thereafter the bonds and the provisions made for their security and payment shall be incontestable.

Eminent Domain

Sec. 7. It is expressly provided that an eligible county shall not have any power of eminent domain in the acquisition of any existing facilities constituting the Project as that term is used in Section 2 of this Act, nor shall any such county exercise such power outside of its own territorial limits, but for the purpose of carrying out any other power or authority conferred by this Act, such county shall have the right to acquire land and easements, by condemnation in the manner provided by Title 52, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ relating to eminent domain. The amount of and character of interest in land and easements thus to be acquired shall be determined by the Commissioners Court. In the event that the county, in the exercise of the power of eminent domain or power of relocation, raising, rerouting or changing the grade of, or altering the construction of any highway, railroad, electric transmission line or pipeline or telephone, or telegraph properties and facilities, all such necessary relocations, raising, rerouting, changing of grade or alteration of construction shall be accomplished at the sole expense of the county.

¹ Article 3264 et seq. (generally repealed; see, now, Property Code, § 21.001 et seq.)

Additional Bonds

Sec. 8. Additional bonds payable solely by a pledge of the net revenues of the Project as well as additional bonds payable from the net revenues of the Project may be issued for the purpose of improving, repairing or extending the Project or for any or all such purposes if permitted by the order authorizing the original issue of bonds, and under the conditions therein provided.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 9. Subject to any restrictions which may appear in the bond authorizing order, the Commissioners Court may provide for the issuance of bonds for the purpose of refunding any of the bonds issued under this Act and at the time outstanding. The issuance of such refunding bonds, the maturities and other terms thereof, the rights of the holders thereof, and the duties of the county in respect to the same, shall be governed by the foregoing provisions of this Act insofar as the same may be applicable, but no such refunding bonds shall be delivered unless delivered in exchange for the bonds authorized to be refunded thereby or unless sold and delivered to provide funds for the payment of matured or redeemable bonds maturing or redeemable within six (6) months. Such refunding bonds shall bear interest at the same or lower rate than borne by the bonds refunded, unless it is shown mathematically that a savings will result in the total of interest to be paid.

Notice of Intention to Issue Bonds

Sec. 10. No bonds may be authorized under and pursuant to the provisions of this Act until such time as the Commissioners Court of such county has, after adoption of the provisions hereof as provided in Section 1, given notice of intention to issue bonds. Such notice shall specify the maximum amount of bonds proposed to be issued, the maximum interest rate and maximum maturity of the proposed bonds and the time and place the court proposes to proceed with the authorization thereof and such notice shall be published once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, the date of the first publication being at least fourteen (14) full days prior to the date set for the authorization of such bonds. Upon the time and place specified in said notice, the court may proceed with the authorization of bonds pursuant to the provisions of this Act, provided, however, if a petition executed by more than ten percent (10%) of the resident qualified property taxpaying voters of the county asking that an election be called on the issuance of such bonds is presented to the court, the court may not proceed with the authorization of bonds until such time as a proposition for the issuance of bonds has been approved by a majority of the resident qualified property taxpaying voters of the county at an election held for such purpose. Notice of any such election shall be given by publishing a substantial copy of the resolution calling the election in a newspaper of general circulation in such county one (1) each week for two (2) consecutive weeks, the first publication being at least fourteen (14) full days prior to the election. The returns of the election shall be made to the Commissioners Court within five (5) days of the holding of such election. The General Laws relating to elections shall be applicable to such elections except as modified by the provisions of this Act.

Legal and Authorized Investments

Sec. 11. All bonds issued under this law shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value.

Enforcement of Rights Against County

Sec. 12. The holder or holders of any of such bonds herein authorized to be issued shall have the right, in addition to all other rights, by mandamus or other proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction to enforce his or their rights against the county and its employees and against the agents and employees thereof, including but not limited to the right to require the county to impose and collect sufficient rates and charges to carry out the agreements contained in the bond order and to perform all agreements and covenants therein contained and duties arising therefrom.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 13. This Act is declared cumulative of all other Acts or laws and the powers, rights and privileges and functions hereby conferred shall not prevent the exercise by any such county of any and all other powers, rights, privileges, or functions conferred upon such county by any other Act or law now existing or hereafter enacted.

Accomplishment of Purposes of Act

Sec. 14. The accomplishment of the purposes stated in this Act being for the benefit of the people of this state, and for the improvement of their commerce and property, the county in carrying out the purposes of this Act will be performing an essential governmental function and shall not be required to pay any tax or assessment on the Project or any part thereof, and the bonds issued hereunder and their transfer and the income therefrom including any profits made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation within this state.

Art. 2372q-1. Regulation of Private Water Companies in Counties Over 1,500,000

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Commissioners court" means the commissioners court of any county with a population of more than 1,500,000, according to the last preceding federal census.

(2) "Private water company" means a privately owned entity organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of furnishing a water supply or sewer services or both to the public, to cities and towns including home-rule cities, or to special districts, counties, or other political subdivisions of the state.

Assumption of Regulatory Authority Over Rates and Services; Rate Schedules

Sec. 2. (a) The rates and services of a private water company in a county with a population of more than 1,500,000, according to the last preceding federal census, shall be regulated by the commissioners court as provided in this Act, if:

(1) the private water company is charging or proposes to charge residential rates in any service area which exceed by 30 percent or more the highest residential rates charged by the water department of the largest city in the county; or

(2) a petition is submitted to the commissioners court signed by at least 30 percent of the persons residing, according to the last preceding federal census, in one or more of the service areas served by a private water company requesting that the commissioners court exercise regulatory authority over the company serving them.

(b) To determine whether or not the commissioners court should assume regulatory authority over a private water company under Subdivision (1), Subsection (a) of this section, each private water company operating inside the boundaries of a county with a population of more than 1,500,000, according to the last preceding federal census, on the effective date of this Act shall submit to the commissioners court copies of all rate schedules in effect on the effective date of this Act. After examining these rate schedules, the commissioners court shall determine and issue an order designating which private water companies within the county will be under its regulatory authority as a result of the provisions of Subdivision (1), Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) After the initial determination under Subsection (b) of this section, each private water company that is not operating under the regulatory authority of the commissioners court shall submit copies of each new or changed rate schedule that it plans to adopt at least 30 days before the rates are to take effect so that the commissioners court may make a determination whether or not the private water company will come under the regulatory authority of the commissioners court under Subdivision (1), Subsection (a) of this section. The commissioners court shall issue an order within 10 days after the schedules are filed stating whether or not the company will be brought under regulatory authority of the commissioners court.

(d) If the commissioners court finds that a private water company qualifies for regulation by it under Subsection (a) of this section, it shall issue its order assuming regulatory authority over the company, and the regulatory authority of the commissioners court shall take effect 15 days after the order is issued.

Filing of Rate Schedules; Proposed Changes

Sec. 3. (a) Each private water company over which the commissioners court assumes regulatory authority shall file with the commissioners court copies of all of its schedules of rates and charges and proposed schedules of rates and charges within 15 days after the commissioners court assumes regulatory authority unless this information has already been filed under some other section of this Act.

(b) A private water company regulated under this Act which proposes to change any of its rates, charges, or both shall file with the commission copies of the proposed schedules of rates, charges, or both at least 40 days before they are to take effect.

Hearing

Sec. 4. On receiving schedules of existing or proposed rates, charges, or both from a private water company under the regulatory authority of the commissioners court, the commissioners court shall set a time, place, and date for a public hearing to consider approval of the rates, charges, or both and shall issue notice as provided in this Act. The hearing shall be held not earlier than 25 nor later than 30 days after the date the schedules are filed.

Notice of Hearing

Sec. 5. (a) Notice of a hearing shall be posted in at least one public place in each service area affected by or to be affected by the proposed rates, charges, or both and at the courthouse in the place for posting notice of meetings of the commissioners court.

(b) Notice of the hearing shall be published at least one time in a newspaper of general circulation in each service area affected by or to be affected by the rates, charges, or both.

(c) The private water company whose rates, charges, or both are being considered at the hearing shall be given notice by certified mail return receipt requested.

(d) Notice required by this section shall be given at least 10 days before the day of the hearing.

Access to Books, Records and Information of Water Company

Sec. 6. The commissioners court and its employees and agents are entitled to access to all books, records, and other information of a private water company which may be necessary for the commissioners court to determine if it may exercise regulatory authority under Section 2(a)(1) of this Act and to carry out its regulatory authority under this Act.

Inspection of Files and Information Gathered

Sec. 7. At least 10 days before the date set for the hearing, the commissioners court shall make all files and information gathered by it and its employees and agents relating to the matter to be heard available for inspection during regular office hours.

Personal Appearance at Hearing; Recess

Sec. 8. (a) Any person who desires to appear at the hearing and present testimony, evidence, exhibits, or other information may do so in person, by counsel, or both.

(b) The commissioners court may recess the hearing from day to day.

Compelling Testimony; Oaths; Subpoenas

Sec. 9. The commissioners court may compel the testimony of any person necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act, and may administer oaths to persons who appear to testify before the commissioners court. Also, the commissioners court may issue subpoenas to compel the testimony of any persons and the production of any documents or information necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act.

Determination; Written Order

Sec. 10. (a) Within 30 days after the conclusion of the hearing, the commissioners court shall determine whether or not to approve the schedules of rates, charges, or both that were considered at the hearing and if the schedules are to be adopted, shall decide on any modifications in the schedules that the commissioners court considers necessary based on its own investigation and evidence and information gathered at the hearing.

(b) On making a determination, the commissioners court shall issue a written order stating its determination and the reasons for its determination.

Fair Return on Value of Property; Public Relations Expenses

Sec. 11. (a) No rate or charge determined by the commissioners court may yield more than a fair return on the fair value of property used and useful in rendering service to the public and no return on a rate or charge may exceed eight percent a year.

(b) In making a determination on a rate, charge, or both, the commissioners court shall not include in the basis for establishment of the rate, charge, or both any amounts spent by the private water company for advertising or other public relations expenses.

Appeal

Sec. 12. Orders of the commissioners court issued under this Act may be appealed to a district court in the county in which the commissioners court has jurisdiction.

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 13. (a) The commissioners court, after notice and hearing, may adopt by order any rules and regulations that it considers necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act.

(b) The commissioners court by rules and regulations may adopt reasonable standards to be followed by private water companies operating under its regulatory authority in delivering their services to the public.

Annual Report of Water Company

Sec. 14. (a) Each private water company under the regulatory authority of the commissioners court shall file with the commissioners court before January 1 of each year a report which shall include:

(1) the amount of a lien or mortgage on any property of the company;

(2) other indebtedness of the company and the consideration for it;

(3) the actual cost of the visible physical property of the company and the date it was installed and the present value of it with land, machinery, buildings, pipes, mains, and other items of property being listed separately; and

(4) the annual cost of operating the facilities of the company including amounts paid for actual salaries; labor; fixed charges including interest, taxes, and insurance; fuel; extension and repairs; maintenance; damages, claims, or suits for damages; and miscellaneous expenses.

(b) If machinery or equipment of the company is abandoned, worn out, or its use discontinued within the preceding year, this shall be stated in the report together with the original cost and the present value.

(c) The report shall state the gross earnings of the company including revenues from every source and shall state each item separately and the amount received by the company.

Civil Penalty

Sec. 15. A private water company that violates any provision of this Act or any rule, regulation, or order of the commissioners court is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each act of violation and for each day of violation to be recovered as provided in this Act.

Injunctive Relief or Civil Penalty

Sec. 16. (a) Whenever it appears that a private water company has violated or is violating, or is threatening to violate, any provision of this Act, or any rule, regulation, or order of the commissioners court, the commissioners court may have a civil suit instituted in a district court in the county in which the commissioners court has jurisdiction for injunctive relief to restrain the person from continuing the violation or threat of violation, or for the assessment and recovery of a civil penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each act of violation and for each day of violation, or for both injunctive relief and civil penalty.

(b) On application for injunctive relief and a finding that a person is violating or threatening to violate any provisions of this Act or any rule, regulation, or order of the commissioners court, the district court shall grant the injunctive relief the facts may warrant.

(c) At the request of the commissioners court, the county attorney shall institute and conduct a suit in the name of the county for injunctive relief or to recover the civil penalty, or both, as authorized in Subsection (a) of this section.

Art. 2372r. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 114, ch. 52, § 3, eff. April 18, 1975

See, now, art. 6145.1.

Art. 2372r-1. Counties of 160,000 to 170,000; Construction, Restoration, Preservation and Maintenance of Historical Landmarks and Buildings

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any county of this State having a population of not less than 160,000 nor more than 170,000, according to the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners Court is hereby empowered to appropriate and expend from the General Fund of said counties, monies for the purpose of purchasing, constructing, restoring, preserving, maintaining, and reconstructing historical landmarks, buildings, and furnishings which are of historical significance to such counties. The Commissioners Court may appropriate and expend such monies for the purposes herein given to historical foundations and organizations in said counties that are duly incorporated under the laws of this state as a non-profit corporation.

Art. 2372s. Parking Stations Near Courthouses in Counties Over 900,000

Power to Construct and Operate Parking Stations; Leases

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of any county with a population in excess of 900,000 according to the most recent federal census upon finding that it is to the best interest of the county and its inhabitants shall have the power to construct, enlarge, furnish, equip and operate a parking station in the vicinity of the courthouse of the county. In addition, the commissioners court may undertake construction to incorporate a jury assembly room, office space, nursery, bathrooms, snack bar, and other related facilities into the parking station. It is further authorized from time to time to lease said parking station to a person or corporation on such terms as the commissioners court shall deem appropriate.

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this law, "parking station" means a lot or area or surface or subsurface structure used primarily for the parking of automotive vehicles, together with equipment used in connection with the maintenance and operation thereof, and the site therefor;

"Bond order" means the order authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds;

"Trust indenture" means the mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument pledging revenues, or in addition thereto, creating a mortgage lien on properties, or both, to secure the revenue bonds issued by the county;

"Trustee" means the trustee under the trust indenture.

Bonds; Pledge of Revenues; Payment of Bonds

Sec. 3. The commissioners court may issue negotiable bonds to provide funds for the construction, enlargement, furnishing or equipping of the facilities covered by Section 1 of this Act. Such bonds shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of the net revenues to be derived from the operation of the parking station and any other revenues resulting from the ownership of the parking station properties including rentals received from leasing all or part of said parking station. The commissioners court may additionally secure and provide for the payment of such bonds by the levy of an ad valorem tax of not to exceed two and one-half cents on each $100 of taxable property in the county, in which event the provision stated in Section 8 hereof shall not be contained in the bonds.

Authorization of Bonds; Signature and Seal; Maturity Date

Sec. 4. The bonds shall be authorized by order adopted by a majority vote of a quorum of the commissioners court, (without the prerequisite of an election) and shall be signed by the county judge, countersigned by the county clerk and registered by the county treasurer. The seal of the commissioners court shall be impressed or printed thereon. The bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed forty (40) years and may be sold at a price and under terms determined by the commissioners court to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, provided that the interest cost to the county, including the discount, if any, calculated by use of standard bond interest tables currently in use by insurance companies and investment houses does not exceed the maximum rate provided by Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 717k-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and within the discretion of the commissioners court, may be made callable prior to maturity at such times and prices as may be prescribed in the order authorizing the bonds.

Bonds Constituting Junior Liens; Parity Bonds

Sec. 5. Bonds constituting a junior lien on the net revenues or properties may be issued unless prohibited by the bond order or trust indenture. Parity bonds may be issued under conditions specified in the bond order or trust indenture.

Payment of Bond Interest

Sec. 6. Money for the payment of interest on the bonds and an amount estimated by the commissioners court to be required for operating expenses until the parking station becomes sufficiently operative may be set aside out of the proceeds from the sales of the bonds.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 7. Bonds may be issued for the purpose of refunding outstanding bonds in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds, and may be exchanged by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas or sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of outstanding bonds.

Approval of Attorney General; Incontestability

Sec. 8. Bonds issued under this Act and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with this law and constitute valid and binding special obligations of the county and are secured as recited therein he shall approve them, and they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas who shall certify such registration thereon. Thereafter they shall be incontestable. The bonds shall be negotiable and shall contain the following provision: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment thereof out of money raised or to be raised by taxation."

Rentals and Rates for Services

Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of the commissioners court to charge sufficient rentals or rates for services rendered by the parking station and to utilize any other sources of its revenues so that revenues will be produced sufficient to pay all expenses in connection with the ownership, operation and upkeep of the parking station, to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds as they become due, and to create and maintain a bond reserve fund and other funds as provided in the bond order or trust indenture. The bond order or trust indenture may prescribe systems, methods, routines and procedures under or in accordance with which the parking station shall be operated.

Section 2 of the 1973 amendatory act provides:

"The provisions of this Act are severable. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, section, part, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of this Act shall nevertheless be valid; and the Legislature hereby declares that the Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, section, part, or provision."

Art. 2372s-1. Regulation of Parking in Certain Courthouse Parking Lots

Sec. 1. This Act shall apply in every county having a population of not less than 13,350 nor more than 13,400, and in every county having a population of not less than 16,500 nor more than 16,700, and in every county having a population of not less than 17,400 nor more than 17,450, and in every county having a population of not less than 31,000 nor more than 31,400, and in every county having a population of not less than 37,700 nor more than 38,000, and in every county having a population of not less than 170,000 nor more than 225,000, according to the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court is authorized to purchase such equipment as is necessary and make and enforce regulations for parking in county-owned or county-leased parking lots in, under, adjacent to, or near the county courthouse. The commissioners court may in its discretion contract with the city for enforcement of the regulations and likewise the city in its discretion may contract with the county. The Sheriff's Department of such counties is hereby authorized to enforce any and all regulations passed by the Commissioners Court.

Sec. 3. A person who violates a regulation authorized by this Act is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction is punishable by a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $20.

Art. 2372s-2. Parking Stations Near Court-houses in Counties of 150,000 or More

Definition

Sec. 1. The term "parking station," as used in this Act, shall mean a lot or area or surface or subsurface structure of one or more levels for the parking of automotive vehicles, together with equipment used in connection with the maintenance and operation thereof.

Authority to Appropriate and Expend; Lease

Sec. 2. The commissioners courts of counties with a population of 150,000 or more are hereby empowered to appropriate and expend from the general fund or permanent improvement fund of said counties, moneys for the purpose of constructing, enlarging, furnishing, equipping and operating a parking station adjacent to or near the courthouse of the county. It is further authorized from time to time to lease said parking station to a person or corporation on such terms as the commissioners court shall deem appropriate.

[Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 579, ch. 248, eff. June 11, 1973.]

Art. 2372s-3. Parking on County Property

Adoption of Regulations

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of a county by order may adopt regulations as to the parking of vehicles on property owned or leased by the county.

Regulations

Sec. 2. Regulations adopted under this Act may:

- (1) limit the use of parking spaces to certain vehicles or types of vehicles;
- (2) limit the time a vehicle may remain parked in a specific space or area; and
- (3) prohibit the parking of vehicles in certain areas.

Signs

Sec. 3. If parking is restricted or prohibited in a place, the county shall erect at the place one or more appropriately worded signs reasonably calculated to inform the drivers of vehicles of the restriction or prohibition. No sign is required to indicate that parking is prohibited on a lawn or other area that does not appear to be a place intended for use as a parking area.

Violations; Defenses

Sec. 4. An individual who parks a vehicle in violation of a regulation adopted under this Act commits a Class C misdemeanor. It is a defense to prosecution under this section that:

- (1) the place where the actor parked is one where a sign or signs are required by Section 3 of this Act; and

- (2) a sign or signs meeting the requirements of Section 3 of this Act were not in place at the time the actor parked.

Towing and Storing of Vehicles

Sec. 5. A county may provide for the towing away and storing at the owner's expense of any vehicle parked in violation of regulations adopted under this Act. This section does not authorize the towing away of a vehicle that is parked under circumstances where the person parking it would have a defense to prosecution under Section 4 of this Act.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 569, ch. 228, eff. May 20, 1975.]

Art. 2372s-4. Parking Regulations and Purchase of Equipment by Counties of 235,000 or More

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of a county having a population of 235,000 or more inhabitants, according to the last preceding federal census, may purchase necessary equipment and make and enforce parking regulations for parking in a county-owned or county-leased parking lot in, under, adjacent to, or near the county courthouse.

Sec. 2. (a) The commissioners court may contract with the governing body of the city in which the county seat is located for enforcement of the parking regulations promulgated under the provisions of Section 1 of this Act.

(b) The sheriff's department of the county may enforce parking regulations promulgated under the provisions of Section 1 of this Act.

Sec. 3. A person who violates a parking regulation promulgated under the provisions of Section 1 of this Act commits a misdemeanor and on conviction is punishable by a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $20.

Art. 2372t. Emergency Ambulance Service in Counties of 9,800 to 20,000

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of any county with a population in excess of 9,800 inhabitants but less than 20,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may provide within the county for emergency ambulance service, including all necessary equipment, personnel, and maintenance for the service.

Sec. 2. In providing for the service required by Section 1 of this Act, a commissioners court may enter into agreements with any city or town, hospital district, sheriff's office or fire department, private ambulance service, or any other agency or entity which the commissioners court finds to be suitably organized to provide efficient emergency ambulance service within the county.

Sec. 3. Any agreement to provide emergency ambulance service within a city, town, or hospital district entered into under Section 2 of this Act shall have the approval of the governing body of the city, town, or hospital district within which the service is to be rendered.

Sec. 4. A commissioners court operating under this Act may expend county funds to defray the expense of the establishment, operation, and maintenance of emergency ambulance service within the county, whether such service is provided directly by the county or by agreement with some other governmental agency or private entity.

Sec. 5. A commissioners court providing for emergency ambulance service under this Act shall establish reasonable fees for the service. The charging and collection of fees established may be done either by the commissioners court or by any other agency or entity performing the service. Special provision may be made for the rendering of emergency ambulance service to indigent persons.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2417, ch. 766, eff. June 8, 1971. Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 576, ch. 266, § 1, eff. May 24, 1979.]

Art. 2372u. Regulation of Outdoor Lighting and Subdivisions Near Major Astronomical Observatories

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Major astronomical observatory" means a facility established for making scientific observation of astronomical phenomena and equipped with a telescope having an aperture at least 75 inches in diameter.

(2) "Outdoor lighting" means any type of lighting equipment, fixed or movable, designed or used for illumination outside of buildings or homes, including lighting for billboards, street lights, searchlights used for advertising purposes, externally or internally illuminated on- or off-site advertising signs, and area-type lighting. It does not include lighting equipment required by law to be installed on motor vehicles, or lighting required for the safe take-off and landing of aircraft.

County Regulatory Authority

Sec. 2. (a) To protect against the use of outdoor lighting in a way that interferes with scientific astronomical research, the commissioners court of a county may adopt orders regulating the installation and use of outdoor lighting within the unincorporated territory located within the same county and within 75 miles of a major astronomical observatory, regardless of whether the observatory is in the county.

(b) Orders adopted under this section may:

(1) require that a permit be obtained from the county for the installation or use of certain types of outdoor lighting, and establish fees for the issuance of permits;

(2) prohibit the use of those types of outdoor lighting found to be incompatible with the effective use of the observatory;

(3) establish requirements for the shielding of outdoor lighting; and

(4) regulate the times during which various types of outdoor lighting may be used.

Regulation of Subdivisions

Sec. 3. (a) This section applies only to real estate subdivisions subject to the plat-approval authority of a commissioners court and located within 75 miles of a major astronomical observatory.

(b) A commissioners court may adopt orders establishing standards applicable to proposed subdivisions designed to minimize the interference with observatory activities from outdoor lighting. The commissioners court may not approve a plat of a proposed subdivision that does not meet those requirements.

Standards May Vary

Sec. 4. Orders adopted under this Act may apply more stringent standards in areas where the impact of outdoor lighting on activities of the observatory is greater.

Adoption of Orders

Sec. 5. No orders may be adopted by a commissioners court under this Act, unless:

(a) a request for such orders be made by the Director of McDonald Observatory; then

(b) such requested orders may be adopted by a commissioners court after a public hearing has been held on the proposed order; of which

(c) at least two weeks public notice has been given of such hearing.

Exemption

Sec. 6. No outdoor lighting in existence or under construction on the effective date of this Act shall be subject to the provisions of this Act.

Enforcement; Penalty

Sec. 7. (a) An individual, corporation, or association that violates an order adopted under this Act commits a Class C misdemeanor.¹

(b) A county or district attorney may sue in the district court to enjoin violation of this Act.

(c) Both civil and criminal enforcement may be used against the same conduct.

Art. 2372v. Regulation of Massagers and Massage EstablishmentsDefinitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Massage" means the rubbing, kneading, tapping, compression, vibration, application of friction, or percussion of the human body or parts of it by hand or with an instrument or apparatus.

(2) "Massager" means an individual who administers massages for compensation.

(3) "Massage establishment" means a business establishment where massagers practice massage.

(4) "Unincorporated territory" means the territory outside the corporate limits of an incorporated city or town.

Adoption of Regulations; Penalty for Violations

Sec. 2. (a) The commissioners court of any county by order may adopt regulations applicable to the practice of massage and operation of massage establishments in unincorporated territory in the county.

(b) Regulations adopted under this Act may:

(1) require the licensure by the county of massagers and massage establishments and establish reasonable requirements and fees for obtaining a license;

(2) establish standards applicable to the practice of massage and the operation of massage establishments designed to protect public health;

(3) provide procedures for suspending or canceling the licenses of massagers and massage establishments for violation of a regulation adopted under this Act, for the conviction of an offense defined in Chapter 43, Penal Code, or for the conviction of any other offense reasonably indicating the licensee's unfitness to practice massage or operate a massage establishment;

(4) provide for the inspection of massage establishments;

(5) provide reasonable standards for clothing worn by persons employed by a massage establishment; and

(6) establish any other reasonable procedures or prohibitions consistent with the police power to protect the public health and safety and to prevent violations of state law.

(c) A person who violates a regulation adopted under this Act commits a Class B misdemeanor.

Exemptions From Act

Sec. 3. (a) Ordinances adopted under this Act do not apply to a licensed physical therapist, a licensed athletic trainer, a licensed cosmetologist, or a licensed barber performing functions authorized under the license held, nor do ordinances adopted under this Act apply to a licensed physician or chiropractor, or any individual working under the direct supervision of a licensed physician or chiropractor, while engaged in practicing the healing arts.

(b) Ordinances adopted under this Act do not apply to the administration of massage for therapeutic purposes in a hospital, nursing home, or other health care facility.

Inspection and Licensing Officer; Enforcement

Sec. 4. The county commissioners court shall designate the sheriff of the county as the inspection and licensing officer under this Act. Any peace officer certified by the State of Texas may enforce the regulations.

Severability

Sec. 5. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of the Act or the application of such sections, provisions, clauses, or words to any situation or circumstance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of the Act or the application of such sections, provisions, clauses, or words to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that the Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Art. 2372w. Regulation of Location of Sexually Oriented Commercial Activities by Cities and CountiesFindings and Purpose

Sec. 1. (a) The legislature finds that the unrestricted location of certain sexually oriented commercial enterprises may be detrimental to the public health, safety, and welfare by contributing to the decline of residential and business neighborhoods and the growth of criminal activity. The purpose of this Act is to provide local governments a means of remedying this problem.

(b) This Act neither enhances nor diminishes the authority of local governments to regulate commercial enterprises covered by this Act with regard to matters other than their location.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act "city" means an incorporated city, town, or village and includes a home-rule city.

Authority to Regulate

Sec. 3. (a) A city by ordinance or a county by order of the commissioners court may adopt regulations restricting the location of massage parlors, nude studios, modeling studios, love parlors, and other similar commercial enterprises whose major business is the offering of a service which is intended to provide sexual stimulation or sexual gratification to the customer.

(b) Nothing in this Act is intended to authorize the regulation of any bookstore, movie theatre, or business licensed to sell alcoholic beverages, nor does it authorize regulation of any business:

(1) operated by or employing licensed psychologists, licensed physical therapists, licensed athletic trainers, licensed cosmetologists, or licensed barbers engaged in performing functions authorized under the license held; or

(2) operated by or employing licensed physicians or licensed chiropractors engaged in practicing the healing arts.

(c) City regulations apply only inside the city's corporate limits. County regulations apply only to the parts of the county outside the corporate limits of a city.

Scope of Regulations; Permits; Fees; Application of Comprehensive Zoning Procedures

Sec. 4. (a) Regulations adopted under this Act may restrict the location of regulated enterprises to particular areas, restrict the density of regulated enterprises, or prohibit the operation of a restricted enterprise within a certain distance of a school, regular place of religious worship, residential neighborhood, or other specified land use the governing body of the city or county finds to be inconsistent with the operation of a restricted establishment.

(b) The city or county may require the obtaining of a permit for the operation of a restricted establishment. The city or county may charge a fee for the permit, but the fee may not exceed the actual cost of processing the permit application.

(c) A city that has in effect a comprehensive zoning ordinance adopted under Chapter 283, Acts of the 40th Legislature, Regular Session, 1927, as amended (Article 1011a, et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), must comply with all applicable procedural requirements of that statute in adopting regulations under this Act within the scope of that statute.

Violations; Injunctions; Penalties

Sec. 5. (a) A city or county may sue in the district court to enjoin the violation of a regulation adopted under this Act.

(b) Violation of a county regulation adopted under this Act is a Class B misdemeanor.

(c) In a city that has a comprehensive zoning ordinance as described in Subsection (c), Section 4, of this Act, a violation of an ordinance adopted under this Act is punishable by the same penalty prescribed for a violation of the zoning ordinance. In all other cities, violation of an ordinance adopted under this Act is a Class B misdemeanor.

Effect on Other Laws

Sec. 6. This Act does not legalize anything prohibited under the Penal Code or other state law.

Severability

Sec. 7. If any provision of this Act or its application to any person or circumstances is held invalid for any reason, the invalidity does not affect any other provision or application of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Art. 2372x. Closing Gulf Beaches for Special Events

In a county in which there is a public beach or a beach to which a substantial portion of the public has free access, located on a bay or inlet of the Gulf of Mexico, the commissioners court by order may close a portion of the beach for a maximum of three days a year to allow one or more nonprofit organizations to hold events on the beach to which the public is invited and for which a nominal admission fee may be charged.

[Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 585, ch. 274, § 1, eff. May 24, 1979.]

Art. 2372y. Regulation of Keeping Wild Animals

Wild Animals

Sec. 1. In this Act, "wild animal" means a non-domestic animal that the commissioners court of a county determines is dangerous and is in need of control in that county.

Regulation of Wild Animals

Sec. 2. (a) The commissioners court of a county may by order prohibit or regulate the keeping of wild animals:

(1) at a residence; or

(2) within 1,000 feet of a residence or a public school.

(b) The regulations do not apply inside the limits of an incorporated city, town, or village.

Sec. 3. Repealed by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4067, ch. 637, § 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1983.

Offense

Sec. 4. If an order adopted under this Act defines an offense, the offense is a Class C misdemeanor. The offense is prosecuted in the same manner as an offense defined by state law.

Injunction

Sec. 5. The county attorney or other prosecuting attorney representing the county in the district court may file an action to enjoin the violation or threatened violation of an order adopted under this Act. The court may grant appropriate relief.

[Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 631, ch. 252, eff. Aug. 31, 1981. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4067, ch. 637, §§ 1, 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1983.]

Section 3 of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"The amendment by this Act of Chapter 252, Acts of the 67th Legislature, Regular Session, 1981 (Article 2372y, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), does not affect an offense committed under a regulation adopted under the prior law. The offense may be prosecuted and a penalty imposed under the prior law as if this Act were not in force. The prior law is continued in effect for that purpose."

Art. 2372z. Sale or Disposition of County Surplus or Salvage Property

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Surplus property" means personal property that is in excess of the needs of its owner, that is not required for the owner's foreseeable needs, and that possesses some usefulness for the purpose for which it was intended or for some other purpose.

(2) "Salvage property" means personal property, other than wastepaper, that because of use, time, or accident is so damaged, used, or consumed that it has no value for the purpose for which it was originally intended.

Disposition of Surplus or Salvage Property

Sec. 2. (a) The commissioners court of a county periodically may sell the county's surplus or salvage property by competitive bid or auction.

(b) The commissioners court shall cause to be published a notice of the sale in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the county. Such notice must be published no fewer than 10 days nor more than 30 days prior to the day of the sale.

(c) The commissioners court shall keep a record of each item of surplus or salvage property sold and its sale price.

(d) Unless otherwise provided by law, the proceeds from the sale of surplus or salvage property shall be deposited in the county treasury and credited to the general fund or to the fund from which the property was purchased. The proceeds from the sale of surplus or salvage property used for maintenance and construction of county roads and bridges shall be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the county road and bridge fund.

(e) The commissioners court or its designated representative conducting the sale may reject any offer to purchase surplus or salvage property if it finds the rejection to be in the best interests of the county.

Destruction of Surplus or Salvage Property

Sec. 3. (a) If the commissioners court cannot sell any surplus or salvage property, it may order the property to be destroyed as worthless salvage.

(b) The commissioners court shall keep a record of each item of surplus or salvage property destroyed.

Obtaining Good Title to Surplus or Salvage Property

Sec. 4. A purchaser of a county's surplus or salvage property at a sale obtains good title to the property if the purchaser has complied in good faith with the conditions of the sale and the applicable rules of the commissioners court.

Rules

Sec. 5. The commissioners court may adopt rules necessary to administer this Act.

Property Used as Trade-in

Sec. 6. The commissioners court may offer surplus or salvage property as a trade-in on new property of the same general type if the commissioners court considers that action to be in the best interests of the county.

Art. 2372aa. Alternative Dispute Resolution System

Power to Establish System

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of a county by order may establish an alternative system for the peaceable and expeditious resolution of citizen disputes that do not require formal court action.

Financing the System

Sec. 2. (a) To establish and maintain the alternative dispute resolution system, court costs to be set by the commissioners court in an amount not to exceed $5 may be taxed, collected, and paid as other court costs in each civil case, except suits for delinquent taxes, filed in a county or district court in the county. However, the county is not liable for the payment of these costs in any case.

(b) The clerks of the respective courts in the county shall collect and pay the costs to the county treasurer or, if the county does not have a county treasurer, to the county officer who succeeds to the treasurer's functions, who shall deposit them in a separate fund to be known as the alternative dispute resolution system fund. The fund shall be administered by the commissioners court for establishing and maintaining the alternative dispute resolution system in any convenient and accessible place or places in the county. The fund may not be used for any other purpose.

General Powers

Sec. 3. The commissioners court is granted all necessary power to make the alternative dispute resolution system effective, including the power to contract with any private nonprofit corporation, public corporation, or combination thereof for the purpose of administering the system and to make all reasonable rules in regard to the system in order to effectuate this Act. The commissioners court may vest the management of such alternative dispute resolution system in a committee selected by the Bar Association of such county, but the acts of such committee shall be subjected to the approval of the commissioners court.

Art. 2372bb. Donations to Crime Stoppers Organizations

Sec. 1. In this Act, "crime stoppers organization" means a private, nonprofit organization that is operated on a local or a statewide level, that accepts and expends donations for rewards to persons who report to the organization information concerning criminal activity, and that forwards the information to the appropriate law enforcement agency.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of a county by contract may donate not more than $25,000 in a calendar year to a crime stoppers organization for expenditure by the organization for its rewards.

[Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 272, ch. 49, eff. May 3, 1983.]

Art. 2372cc. Signs on Public Road Rights-of-Way in Counties Over 1,700,000

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, "sign" means an outdoor sign, display, light, device, figure, painting, drawing, message, plaque, poster, or other thing that is designed, intended, or used to advertise or inform.

Prohibition

Sec. 2. In a county with a population of more than 1,700,000, according to the most recent federal census, a person may not place a sign on a public road right-of-way unless the placement is authorized by state law.

Penalty

Sec. 3. A person commits an offense if the person places a sign in violation of Section 2 of this Act. An offense under this section is a Class C misdemeanor.

Confiscation and Sale

Sec. 4. (a) The county sheriff or constable may confiscate a sign that is placed in violation of Section 2 of this Act.

(b) If the owner of a confiscated sign is known, not later than the 10th day after confiscating the sign, the sheriff or constable shall by certified mail, return receipt requested, notify the owner of the confiscation. If the owner of the sign is not known, not later than the 10th day after confiscating the sign, the sheriff or constable shall publish notice of the confiscation in a newspaper of general circulation in the county. A notice under this subsection must include a description of the sign and the location from which the sign was confiscated and a statement that the owner may reclaim the sign before the 21st day after the date notice was sent or published on payment of all fines that may be imposed under this Act. The notice must state the date, time, and location of the public auction at which the sign will be sold if it is not reclaimed. Notice by publication may contain multiple listings of confiscated signs.

(c) If, on the 21st day after the date notice under Subsection (b) of this section is mailed or published, the sign has not been reclaimed, the sheriff or constable may sell the sign at public auction. At an auction under this section, the sheriff or constable shall sell the sign to the highest bidder.

(d) The sheriff or constable shall remit the proceeds of an auction held under Subsection (c) of this section to the county treasurer for deposit to the credit of any fund in the county treasury as designated by the commissioners court.

Exemptions

Sec. 5. (a) The commissioners court of a county to which this Act applies may by order determine types of signs that are unlikely to be reclaimed if confiscated and exempt those types of signs from the notice requirements in Section 4 of this Act.

(b) In determining the types of signs that are unlikely to be reclaimed, the commissioners court may consider the value of the materials in the signs and the nature of the things advertised by the signs.

(c) If the commissioners court exempts certain types of signs under this section, the sheriff or constable shall store a confiscated sign that is exempted for 21 days after the date the sign is confiscated and shall make the sign available for reclamation by the owner. If, after the 21st day after the date the sign was confiscated, the sign has not been reclaimed, the sheriff or constable may discard the sign.

Art. 2372dd. Automotive Wrecking and Salvage Yards in Counties of 2,000,000 or More

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, or association.

(2) "Automotive wrecking and salvage yard" means any lot or tract of land on which three or more discarded, abandoned, junked, wrecked, or worn-out automotive vehicles, including autos, trucks, tractor-trailers, and buses, are kept or stored for the purpose of disassembling, dismantling, cutting up, stripping, or otherwise wrecking to extract parts, components, or accessories for sale or for use in an automotive repair or rebuilding business. The term does not include an automotive paint or body shop.

(3) "Solid," as used in reference to a fence, wall, door, or gate, means constructed and maintained so that the outer surface is continuous and without interstices, gaps, spaces, or holes. For the purposes of this Act, a properly constructed and maintained chain link fence with strips or slats is a solid fence.

Application

Sec. 2. (a) This Act applies only to counties with a population of two million or more, according to the most recent federal census.

(b) This Act does not apply to an automotive wrecking and salvage yard located within the limits of an incorporated city or town.

Removal of Flammable Liquids From Vehicles

Sec. 3. All gasoline from the fuel tank shall be completely drained and removed from any junked, wrecked, or abandoned automotive vehicle before the vehicle is placed in any automotive wrecking and salvage yard.

Fencing, Wall Requirements

Sec. 4. An automotive wrecking and salvage yard shall be completely surrounded and enclosed by a solid fence or wall as follows:

(1) any side of the yard that extends generally parallel to and within 100 feet of any public street right-of-way shall be bounded by a solid fence or wall at least eight feet in height; and

(2) any other side of the yard shall be bounded by a solid fence or wall at least six feet in height.

Construction, Maintenance of Fence or Wall

Sec. 5. A fence or wall required by this Act shall be constructed and maintained as follows:

(1) all fences shall be constructed of wood, masonry, corrugated sheet metal, chain link, or any combination, but any one side of an automotive wrecking and salvage yard may be bounded by a fence or wall constructed of only one of those materials;

(2) chain link fences shall be constructed of galvanized chain link fencing with wood or metal slats or strips run through all links of the chain link fence;

(3) all fences or walls shall extend downward to within three inches of the ground and shall test plumb and square at all times; and

(4) all fences or walls shall be constructed in compliance with all applicable provisions of the building code of any city in which the fence may be constructed.

Use of Wall, Door of Building as Part of Fence or Wall

Sec. 6. Any part of a fence or wall required by this Act may consist in whole or in part of a solid wall and door, or walls and doors of any completely enclosed building on the premises, if that wall or door meets all construction requirements set forth in this Act.

Gates at Openings in Enclosure

Sec. 7. Openings in the prescribed enclosure that are necessary to permit reasonable access to an automotive wrecking and salvage yard shall be equipped with a solid gate or gates, constructed and maintained in accordance with the requirements for a fence or wall set forth in this Act. The gates shall be closed and securely locked at all times except during normal daytime business hours.

Use of Premises Outside Enclosure

Sec. 8. It is unlawful for the owner, operator, or his agents or employees, to display, store, or work on a junked or wrecked automotive vehicle, or the parts, accessories, or junk from a junked or wrecked automotive vehicle outside or above the fence or wall required by this Act.

Arrangement of Vehicles, Parts, and Materials

Sec. 9. All automotive vehicles, parts, and other materials located in or on the premises of an automotive wrecking and salvage yard shall be arranged to allow reasonable access to, and inspection of, the premises by authorized fire, health, police, and building officials.

Appropriate Drainage

Sec. 10. Any portions of a lot or tract of land used in the operation of an automotive wrecking and salvage yard must have appropriate drainage.

Location of Yard

Sec. 11. An automotive wrecking and salvage yard may not be established within 300 feet of an existing church, school, or residence, measured from the wall of the structure that is closest to the automotive wrecking and salvage yard to the fence or wall of the yard required under Section 4 of this Act unless both the residence and the automotive wrecking and salvage yard are owned by the same person.

Penalty

Sec. 12. (a) A person who operates an automotive wrecking and salvage yard in violation of this Act commits an offense. An offense under this section is a Class C misdemeanor, and each day the violation continues is a separate offense.

(b) In addition, any city license to operate the yard held by the violator may be revoked or its issuance or renewal refused if the appropriate municipal authority finds that a violation has occurred.

Effective Date

Sec. 13. This Act takes effect September 1, 1983, and applies only to an automotive wrecking and salvage yard established on or after that date.
[Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4948, ch. 886, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2374. In Unorganized Counties

The commissioners courts of counties to which unorganized counties are attached for judicial purposes may appoint a justice and a constable for each unorganized county attached to said county for judicial purposes, in accordance with the law authorizing such appointments in organized counties. Whenever, in any unorganized county, a necessity may exist for the appointment of more than one justice and constable, and one hundred qualified voters of said county shall petition the commissioners court of the organized county to which such unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes, asking the appointment of such officers, such commissioners court shall lay off and designate as many justice precincts in such unorganized county as may be necessary, not exceeding four, and such court may appoint one justice and one constable for each justice precinct in such unorganized county; and such justice precincts shall be legally constituted election precincts.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2375. Two Justices Elected

Where there is a city of eight thousand inhabitants or more in a justice precinct, two justices of the peace shall be elected.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2376. Commissioned

Each justice of the peace shall be commissioned as justice of the peace of his precinct and ex officio notary public of his county.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2377. Nearest Justice to Hold Court

Whenever there is a vacancy or the justice in any precinct shall be absent, or unable or unwilling to perform the duties of his office, the nearest justice in the county may temporarily perform the duties of the office.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2378. Disqualification

No justice of the peace shall sit in a cause where he may be interested, or where he may be related to either party within the third degree by consanguinity or affinity.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2379. Justice's Office

When the justice precinct where the courthouse of any county is located contains more than seventy-five thousand inhabitants, the commissioners court of said county shall provide and furnish a suitable place in such courthouse for such justice to hold court.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2380. Term of Court

These rules shall govern as to the terms of court:

1. Each justice shall hold a term of his court for civil business once in each month, and may transact such business out of term time as may be authorized by law.

2. Each justice shall hold the regular term of his court at his office at such time as the commissioners court may prescribe.

3. The justice may hold court from day to day until all business shall be disposed of, or may adjourn the court or the trial of any case to a particular day.

4. If the regular term from any cause shall not be opened on the day fixed therefor by law, the court shall be considered adjourned until its next regular term.

Arts. 2381, 2382. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)Art. 2383. Custody of Books, etc.

Each justice shall arrange and safely keep all dockets, books and papers transmitted to him by his predecessors, and all papers filed in any case in his court subject at all reasonable times to the inspection of any interested party. Any person having possession of dockets, books or papers belonging to the office of any justice shall deliver the same to such justice on demand.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2384. Enforcing Delivery

If any person having such dockets, books or papers, refuses to deliver the same on such demand, he may, upon motion, be attached and imprisoned by order of the county judge in term time or vacation, until he shall make such delivery; but such motion shall be supported by affidavit, and three days' notice thereof shall be given to the party against whom such motion is made.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2385. Jurisdiction

Justice courts shall, in addition to their other powers and duties, have and exercise original jurisdiction in civil matters of all cases where the amount in controversy is $1,000, or less, exclusive of interest, of which exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to the district or county courts, and of cases of forcible entry and detainer, and to foreclose mortgages and enforce liens on personal property, where the amount in controversy is within their jurisdiction.

See, now, art. 2385.

Art. 2386. Other Powers

Justices of the peace shall also have power:

1. To issue writs of attachment, garnishment and sequestration within their jurisdiction, the same as judges and clerks of the district and county courts.

2. To exercise jurisdiction over all other matters not hereinbefore enumerated that are or may be cognizable before a justice of the peace under any law of this State.

3. To proceed with all unfinished business of his office in like manner as if such business had been originally commenced before him.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2535, ch. 831, § 4, eff. Aug. 30, 1971.]

Art. 2387. No Jurisdiction

Justice courts have no jurisdiction of suits in behalf of the State to recover penalties, forfeitures and escheats, of suits for divorce, of suits to recover damages for slander or defamation of character, suits for the trial of title to land, or of suits for the enforcement of liens on land.

Art. 2390. Suits, Where Brought

Every suit in the justice court shall be commenced in the county and precinct in which the defendant or one or more of the several defendants resides, except in the following cases and such other cases as are or may be provided by law:

1. Cases of forcible entry and detainer must be brought in the precinct where the premises, or a part thereof, are situated.

2. Suits against executors, administrators and guardians as such must be brought in the county in which such administration or guardianship is pending, and in the precinct in which the county seat is situated.

3. Suits against counties must be brought in such county and in the precinct in which the county seat is situated.

In the following cases the suit may, at the plaintiff's option, be brought either in the county and precinct of the defendant's residence or in that provided in each exception:

4. (a) Suits upon a contract in writing promising performance at any particular place, may be brought in the county and precinct in which such contract was to be performed, provided that in all suits to recover for labor actually performed, suit may be brought and maintained where such labor is performed, whether the contract for same be oral or in writing.

(b) Suits by creditors upon contracts for goods, services, or loans, intended primarily for personal, family, household, or agricultural use may only be brought in the county and precinct in which the contract was signed or in the county and precinct of the defendant's residence, notwithstanding any provision in the contract to the contrary.

5. Suits for the recovery of rents may be brought in the county and precinct in which the rented premises, or a part thereof are situated.

6. Suits for damages for torts may be brought in the county and precinct in which the injury was inflicted.

7. Suits against transient persons may be brought in any county and precinct where such defendant is to be found.

8. Suits against non-residents of the State or persons whose residence is unknown, may be brought in the county and precinct where the plaintiff resides.

9. Suits for the recovery of personal property may be brought in any county and precinct in which the property may be.

10. Suits against private corporations, associations and joint stock companies may be brought in any county and precinct in which the cause of action or a part thereof arose, or in which such corporation, association or company has an agency or representative, or in which its principal office is situated.

11. Suits against railroad and canal companies, or the owners of any line of transportation vehicles of any character, for any injury to person or property upon the road, canal, or line of vehicles of the defendant, or upon any liability as a carrier, may be brought in any precinct through which the road, canal or line of vehicles may pass, or in any precinct where the route of such railroad, canal, or vehicle may begin or terminate.

12. Suits against fire, marine or inland insurance companies may be brought in any county and precinct in which any part of the insured property was situated; and suits against life and accident insurance companies or associations may be brought in the county and precinct in which the persons insured, or any of them resided at the time of such injury or death.

13. Suits against the owners of a steamboat or other vessel may be brought in any county or precinct where such steamboat or vessel may be found, or where the cause of action arose or the liability was contracted or accrued. In every suit commenced in a county or precinct in which the defendants or one of them may reside, it shall be affirmatively shown in the citation or pleading, if any, that such suit comes within one of the exceptions named in this article.

Art. 2391. Residence of a Single Man

The residence of a single man is where he boards.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2392. Where There Are Two Justices

Where, in any one precinct, incorporated city or town there may be more than one justice of the peace, the suit may be brought before either of them.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2393. If Justice is Disqualified

If there be no justice qualified to try the suit in the proper precinct, the suit may be commenced before the nearest justice of the county who is not disqualified to try the same.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2393a. Exchange of Benches

A justice may hold court for any other justice whose precinct is in the same county; and the justices of a county may exchange benches whenever they deem it expedient.

Arts. 2394 to 2398. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2399. Special and Temporary Justices

(a) If a justice be disqualified from sitting in any civil case, or is sick or absent from the precinct, the parties to such suit may agree upon some person to try the case; and should they fail to agree at the first term of the court after service is perfected, the county judge in whose county said case is pending, shall, upon the application of the justice in whose court said cause is pending, or upon the application of either party to said suit, appoint some person who is qualified to try said cause. The fact of the disqualification of the justice and the selection by agreement or appointment of some other person to try said cause shall be noted on the docket of said justice in said cause.

(b) If a justice is temporarily unable to perform his official duties because of illness, injury, or other disability, the county judge may appoint a qualified person to serve as temporary justice during the duration of the disability. The Commissioners Court shall compensate the temporary justice by the day, week, or month, in an amount equal to the compensation of the regular justice.

Arts. 2403 to 2412. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2413. Summons for Jury

Whenever at any term of a justice court there may be any jury cases pending for trial, the justice shall order the sheriff or constable to summon such number of legally qualified jurors as he may deem necessary, to attend as a jury before such justice at a day and place directed. The justice, on delivering such order to the officer, shall administer to him the following oath "You do solemnly swear that you will, to the best of your skill and ability, and without bias or favor toward any party, summon such jurors as may be ordered by the court; that you will select none but impartial, sensible and sober men, having the qualifications of jurors under the law; that you will not, directly or indirectly, converse or communicate with any juror, touching any case pending for trial; and that you will not, by any means, attempt to influence, advise or control any juror in his opinion in any case which may be tried by him. So help you God."

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2414. Summoning Jury

The officer shall immediately summon the required number of jurors to appear before the justice at the day and place named. Such summons shall be by an oral notice by the officer to the juror that he is required to appear as a juror before such justice on the day and at the place named.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2415. Jurors Called

At the time fixed for taking up the jury cases, the justice shall proceed to call the names of the jurors so summoned.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2416. Excuses

The court may hear any reasonable excuse of a juror, supported by oath, and may excuse him for the trial of any particular case, or for one or more days of the term.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2417. Defaulting Jurors

If any person so summoned as a juror shall fail or refuse to attend, the justice shall enter a fine nisi against him not exceeding five dollars, to the use of the county, to be made final, with costs, unless such person shall, after being cited to do so, show a good and sufficient excuse for such failure.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2418. Talesmen

If the number of jurors present and not excused be less than six, or less than the justice shall deem necessary, he shall order the sheriff or constable to summon a sufficient number of other qualified jurors.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

2455-1. Appeal, etc., to District Court, When.

2456 to 2459. Repealed.

2460. Certiorari.

Art. 2454. Appeal

A party to a final judgment in any justice court may appeal therefrom to the county court where such judgment, or the amount in controversy, shall exceed twenty dollars exclusive of costs, and in such other cases as may be expressly provided by law.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2455. To District Court, When

In all counties in which the civil jurisdiction of the county courts has been transferred to the district courts, appeals and writs of certiorari may be prosecuted to remove a case tried before a justice of the peace to the district court, in the same manner and under the same circumstances under which appeals and writs of certiorari are allowed by general law to remove causes to the county court.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2455-1. Appeal, etc., to District Court, When

In all counties in which the civil and criminal jurisdiction, or either, of county courts has been transferred to the district courts, appeals and writs of certiorari may be prosecuted to remove a case tried before a justice of the peace to the district court in the same manner and under the same circumstances under which appeals and writs of certiorari are allowed by general law to remove causes to the county court.

[C.C.P.1925, art. 52-157.]

Saved from repeal, see Code of Criminal Procedure, art. 54.02.

Arts. 2456 to 2459. Repealed by Rules of Civil Procedure (Acts 1939, 46th Leg., p. 201, § 1)

Art. 2460. Certiorari

A cause tried before a justice, wherein the amount in controversy or the judgment exceeds twenty dollars, exclusive of costs, may be removed from such justice court to the county court by certiorari under the rules prescribed in the title and chapter relating thereto. Whenever a writ of certiorari to remove any cause from the justice court to the county court shall be served on any justice of the peace, he shall immediately make out a certified copy of the entries made on his docket, and of the bill of costs, as provided in case of appeals, and send same, together with the original papers in the cause, to the clerk of the county court in the manner and within the time prescribed in the preceding article.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

CHAPTER SEVEN. SMALL CLAIMS COURT

Art. 2460a. Creation; Jurisdiction; Procedure

Creation; Judge

Sec. 1. There is hereby created and established in each of the several counties of this State a court of inferior jurisdiction to be known as the "Small Claims Court". The justices of the peace in their several counties and precincts shall sit as judges of said courts and exercise the jurisdiction hereby conferred in all cases arising under the provisions of this Chapter.

Jurisdiction

Sec. 2. The Small Claims Court shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction with the Justice of the Peace Court in all actions for the recovery of money by any person, association of persons, corporation or by any attorney for such parties, or other legal entity only where the amount involved, exclusive of costs, does not exceed the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000). Provided, however, that no action may be brought in the Small Claims Court by any assignee of such action or upon any assigned claim or by any person, firm, partnership, association or corporation engaged, either primarily or secondarily, in the business of lending money at interest, nor by any collection agency or collection agent. Provided, further, however, that nothing in this Act shall prevent the bringing of any action by a legal heir or heirs on any account or claim otherwise within the jurisdiction of these Courts.

Venue

Sec. 3. All actions brought under the provisions of this Act shall be brought in the county and precinct in which the defendant resides except that when a defendant has contracted to perform an obligation in a particular county the action upon such obligation may be brought in such county. Except nothing in this Section shall conflict with Article 2392 of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Commencement of Action

Sec. 4. Actions shall be commenced under the provisions of this Act whenever the claimant, or the personal representative of a deceased claimant, appears before the judge of the Small Claims Court and files a statement of his claim under oath. Such statement shall be in substantially the following form:

In the Small Claims Court of _____, County, Texas
A. B., Plaintiff vs.
C. D., Defendant

State of Texas }
County of _____ }

A. B., whose post office address is _____ Street and Number, _____ City, County, Texas, being duly sworn, on his oath deposes and says that C. D., whose post office address is _____ Street and Number
_____ City, County, Texas, is justly indebted to him in the sum of _____ Dollars and _____ Cents ($ _____), for _____ (here the nature of the claim should be stated in concise form and without technicality, including all pertinent dates), and that there are no counter-claims existing in favor of the defendant and against the plaintiff, except _____

Plaintiff
Subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 19____

Judge

Filing Fee; Process

Sec. 5. Upon the filing of the said affidavit and the payment of a filing fee, the Judge shall issue process in the same manner as any other case in Justice Court, service being by citation served by an officer of the State duly authorized to serve other citations. Service of citation may be made in any manner authorized for service of citation in a district or county court or justice court.

Fees

Sec. 5a. Fees in small claims court are the same as those provided by law for cases in justice court.

Failure of Parties to Appear; Postponement

Sec. 6. Upon the date set for the hearing of such action, if the defendant fails to appear at the time and place specified in the notice and order to appear, he having been duly served therewith as herein provided, the judge shall enter judgment for the amount proved to be due the plaintiff. If the plaintiff does not appear, the judge may enter an order dismissing the action. No postponement or continuance shall be granted except for good cause shown.

Hearing

Sec. 7. If both parties appear, the judge shall proceed to hear the case. No formal pleading other than the affidavit hereinabove described, shall be required. The judge shall hear the testimony of the parties and such other witnesses as they may produce, together with such other evidence as may be offered. The hearing shall be informal, with the sole objective of dispensing speedy justice between the parties.

Plea of Privilege

Sec. 8. Provided nothing in this Act shall prevent a plea of privilege which shall be filed in writing as set out in the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure and appeal may be taken from the final ruling of the justice to the County Court where a trial de novo shall be had on such plea.

Evidence and Witnesses

Sec. 9. In every case before the Small Claims Court, it shall be the duty of the judge to develop all of the facts in the particular case. In the exercise of this duty, the judge may propound any question of any witness or party to the suit or upon his own motion may summon any party to appear as a witness in the suit as, in the discretion of the judge, appears necessary to effect a correct judgment and speedily dispose of such case.

Judgment and Execution

Sec. 10. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the judge shall render such judgment as the justice of the case shall require. If the judgment is against the defendant, he shall pay the same forthwith, and in default of such payment execution may issue as in the justice courts.

Judgments Not Claimed by Plaintiff

Sec. 10a. (a) If a judgment against a defendant has not been paid and the whereabouts of the plaintiff who was awarded the judgment are unknown, the defendant shall use due diligence to locate the plaintiff, which includes sending a letter by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, to the plaintiff at his last known address and the address appearing in the plaintiff's statement of his claim and any other records of the court.

(b) If, after the use of due diligence, the plaintiff is not located, the defendant may deposit payment of the judgment into the court in trust for the plaintiff and obtain a release of the judgment, which release shall be executed without delay by the judge of said court on behalf of the plaintiff.

(c) All trust funds paid into the court, as provided in this section, shall be paid over by the judge at least once a month to the county clerk to be deposited in and withdrawn from the clerk's trust fund account in the county depository for trust funds in the possession of the county clerk, in the same manner as trust funds deposited in county and district courts to abide the result of a legal proceeding are deposited and withdrawn.

(d) If the plaintiff does not claim the payment of his judgment within two (2) years from the date of its deposit in the county clerk's trust fund account, the money shall escheat to the state.

Jury Trial

Sec. 11. If either party desires a trial by jury he shall, at least one (1) calendar day prior to the date upon which the hearing is to be held, file with the Small Claims Court a request for a trial by jury, depositing with the judge, at the time such request is filed, a jury fee. Thereupon, a jury shall be had as in other civil cases in the justice courts.

Right of Appeal

Sec. 12. Where the amount in controversy, exclusive of costs, exceeds the sum of Twenty Dollars ($20), upon the rendition of final judgment by the judge of the Small Claims Court, a dissatisfied party may appeal to the County Court or County Court at Law of the proper county in the same manner as is now provided by statute for appeals from the justice court to the County Court.

Hearing on Appeal; Costs; Finality of Judgment

Sec. 13. It shall be the duty of the County Court or County Court at Law to dispose of all such appeals with all convenient speed. The trial on appeal shall be de novo, but no further pleadings shall be required and the procedure shall be the same as that herein prescribed for the Small Claims Court. In the event of such an appeal to the County Court, all costs not heretofore paid by the parties shall accrue until judgment is rendered by the County Court. It is specifically provided that the judgment of the County Court or County Court at Law shall be final.

Blank Forms, Docket Books and Supplies

Sec. 14. The Commissioners Court of each of the several counties shall furnish to the justices of the peace a reasonable supply of blank forms, docket books, and other supplies necessary for the use of such justices and judges when sitting as a Small Claims Court.

[Acts 1953, 53rd Leg., p. 778, ch. 309. Amended by Acts 1955, 54th Leg., p. 571, ch. 187, §§ 1, 2; Acts 1963, 58th Leg., p. 938, ch. 368, §§ 1 to 3; Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1826, ch. 563, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 4508, ch. 733, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1983.]

CHAPTER 1. SHORT TITLE, DEFINITION AND PURPOSES

Art. 2461-1.01. Short Title

This Act may be cited as the Texas Credit Union Act.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2219, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2461-1.02. Definition

In this Act:

(1) "Credit union," unless the context relates to a federal credit union, means a voluntary, cooperative, nonprofit financial institution, authorized to do business in this state under this Act for the purposes of encouraging thrift among its members, creating a source of credit at fair and reasonable rates of interest, providing an opportunity for its members to use and control their own money in order to improve their economic and social condition, and conducting any other business, engaging in any other activity, and providing any other service that may be of benefit to its members, subject to this Act and the rules adopted under this Act.

(2) "Commission" means the Credit Union Commission.

(3) "Commissioner" means the Credit Union Commissioner.

(4) "Department" means the Credit Union Department.

(5) "Deputy commissioner" means the Deputy Credit Union Commissioner.

Art. 2461-1.03. Effect of Headings

The division of this Act into chapters and sections and the use of section and chapter headings are solely for convenience and have no legal effect in construing this Act.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2219, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2461-1.04. Application of Act

All credit unions organized and existing under the laws of this state are governed by and are subject to this Act and are authorized to do business under it.

Section 5 of the 1981 Act provides:

"If any provision of this Act or its application to any person or circumstance is held to be invalid for any reason, that holding does not affect the validity of the other provisions or application of this Act that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application.

Art. 2461-1.05. Purposes

The purposes of the legislature in enacting this Act are to safeguard the public interest, to promote public confidence in credit unions doing business in this state, to provide for the protection of the interests, shares, and deposits of credit unions, to delegate to the department rulemaking and discretionary authority that may be necessary to assure that credit unions operating under this Act may be sufficiently flexible and readily responsive to changes in economic conditions and practices, to maintain sound credit union growth and financial integrity, fiscal responsibility, and independent judgment in the management of the business affairs of credit unions, to permit credit unions to effectively provide a full array of financial and financially-related services, to provide effective supervision and regulation of credit unions, and to clarify and modernize the law governing the credit unions doing business in this state. It is also the intent of the legislature that this Act be liberally construed to accomplish and effectuate these purposes. Therefore, this Act is declared to be the public policy of this state and necessary to the public welfare.

CHAPTER 2. ORGANIZATION PROCEDURE

Art. 2461-2.01. Incorporators

Any seven or more adult individuals, a majority of whom are residents of this state, each of whom has subscribed for at least 10 shares and all of whom share the definable community of interest stated in the proposed articles of incorporation, may apply to incorporate a credit union under this Act by signing, subscribing before an officer competent to administer oaths, and delivering in duplicate to the commissioner articles of incorporation for the credit union. The submission of an application constitutes a representation by the incorporators that they desire to avail themselves, and those persons comprising the field of membership of the proposed credit union whom they represent, of the benefits of this Act, and that they bind themselves to comply with all laws, rules, and regulations applicable to credit unions doing business in this state.

Art. 2461-2.02. Articles of Incorporation

The articles of incorporation shall set forth:

- (1) the name of the proposed credit union;
- (2) the town or city and county where the proposed credit union will have its principal place of business;
- (3) the term of existence of the credit union, which shall be perpetual;
- (4) the fiscal year of the credit union, which must be the calendar year;
- (5) the initial share accounts of the credit union;
- (6) the name and address of each incorporator and the number of shares subscribed by each;
- (7) the number of directors constituting the initial board of directors and the names and addresses of the persons who will serve as directors until the first annual meeting or until their successors are duly elected and qualified; and
- (8) a description of the definable community of interest shared by the members of the credit union.

Art. 2461-2.03. Incorporation Procedure

(a) The incorporators shall file with the commissioner:

- (1) the original articles of incorporation in duplicate;
- (2) standard bylaws for the general operation of the credit union in duplicate;
- (3) a completed application in a form prescribed by the commission; and

(4) the fees required and set by the commission.

(b) The commissioner may conduct any investigation and obtain any information or report from any person, including a law enforcement agency, that the commissioner considers necessary.

(c) The commission shall adopt rules establishing procedures concerning notice of applications to incorporate and conditions under which a hearing may be available.

(d) The commissioner shall approve the application for incorporation if the incorporators have complied with this Act and the rules adopted under this Act and the commissioner finds from the information furnished with the application, the results of any investigation, the evidence submitted at any hearing, and the information in the official records in the department that:

(1) the character and general fitness of the incorporators and the members of the initial board of directors warrant belief that the business and affairs of the credit union will be properly administered in accordance with this Act and the rules adopted under this Act;

(2) the character and size of the field of membership proposed to be served by the credit union conforms with this Act and the rules adopted under this Act and are favorable to the economic viability of the credit union; and

(3) the incorporators and the members of the initial board of directors are acting in good faith and are making the application in accordance with the purposes of this Act.

(e) Not later than 90 days after the later of the date on which an application is filed or the date on which a hearing on the application is held, the commissioner shall state his findings in a written order that approves or denies the application to incorporate.

(f) The commission shall adopt rules providing for appeal by an incorporator or aggrieved person. The commissioner's order may be appealed to the commission not later than 60 days after the date of the order. The commission shall, by written order, affirm or reverse the decision of the commissioner after reviewing the information or evidence it considers necessary or relevant.

(g) An order of the commissioner or commission shall be promptly mailed to the incorporators by registered or certified mail. If the application is approved by the commissioner, in the absence of an appeal, or by the commission after conclusion of an appeal, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of incorporation, deliver copies of the approved articles of incorporation and bylaws to the incorporators, and retain copies of these documents in the department's permanent files.

Art. 2461-2.04. Effect of Issuance of Certificate of Incorporation

The corporate existence of a credit union begins at the time the commissioner issues a certificate of incorporation. The certificate of incorporation is conclusive evidence of the incorporators' compliance with the requirements of this Act and of the credit union's incorporation under this Act. The acceptance of a certificate of incorporation is conclusive evidence of the authorization of the credit union to do business under this Act, and of the representation by the incorporators on behalf of the credit union that it has availed itself of the benefits of this Act and has bound itself to comply with this Act and the rules adopted under this Act.

Art. 2461-2.05. Commencing Business

(a) A credit union may not transact any business or incur any indebtedness, except such as is incidental to its organization or to obtaining subscriptions to or payment for its shares or deposits, until:

(1) it has received paid-in shares or deposits of at least $1,000;

(2) it has a membership of at least 100 persons; and

(3) it has so notified the department.

(b) The commission may adopt reasonable rules requiring greater minimum membership and paid-in shares or deposits and prescribing additional requirements that a credit union must meet before transacting business or incurring indebtedness. The commissioner may waive any requirement that is set forth in this section or in the rules adopted under this section if the commissioner finds that the credit union does not have supervisory problems that adversely affect its ability to operate properly and that it is adequately capitalized.

(c) A credit union shall commence business before six months after the date of the order approving its application to incorporate. If it has not timely commenced business, the commissioner, on request and good cause shown, may grant a reasonable extension of the time for commencing business to give the credit union an opportunity to overcome the cause for the delay. If the commissioner refuses the request for an extension, the incorporators may appeal the commissioner's decision to the commission in accordance with rules adopted by the commission. If a credit union fails to commence business within the time allotted, the commissioner may cancel the certificate of incorporation in accordance with rules adopted by the commission.

Art. 2461-2.06. Form of Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws; Amendments

(a) In order to simplify the process of organizing new credit unions, the commission shall prepare standard articles of incorporation and bylaws, which shall be used by credit union incorporators. These articles of incorporation and bylaws shall be made available without charge to persons desiring to organize a credit union.

(b) The board of directors may amend the articles of incorporation or bylaws and shall submit amendments to the commissioner. The commissioner shall approve or disapprove an amendment in writing not later than 60 days after the date of submission. The commissioner may not approve an amendment if the commissioner finds that it violates this Act or the rules adopted under this Act. The commissioner shall state the reasons for a disapproval with reasonable specificity. Amendments become effective on approval by the commissioner.

(c) The board of directors shall report an amendment to the membership of the credit union not later than the next membership meeting after approval by the commissioner. If the commissioner disapproves the amendment, the credit union may appeal the decision to the commission not later than 60 days after the date of the disapproval.

Art. 2461-2.07. Restrictions on Use of Name

(a) No person other than a credit union authorized to do business in this state under this Act or the Federal Credit Union Act, or an organization, corporation, or association the membership or ownership of which is primarily confined to credit unions or credit union organizations, may use a name or title containing the words "credit union" or any derivation thereof, represent itself as a credit union, conduct business as a credit union, or do business under a name or title that indicates or reasonably implies that the person carries on or transacts the kind of business carried on or transacted by a credit union or that is calculated to lead any person to believe that the business is that of a credit union.

(b) A person who violates Subsection (a) of this section commits a Class A misdemeanor. The commissioner may petition a court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin a violation of this section.

(c) The name of each credit union must include the words "credit union" and an appropriate descriptive word or words approved by the commissioner.

(d) The commissioner may not issue a certificate of incorporation to a credit union or approve the change of the name of an existing credit union if doing so would result in the credit union having the same name as any other credit union authorized to do business in this state or a name so nearly resembling it as to be calculated to deceive, except in the case of a credit union formed by merger or consolidation.

Art. 2461-2.08. Place of Business

A credit union shall maintain on file with the department a statement specifying the street and post office address of its principal place of business. If a credit union gives the commissioner prior written notification, a credit union may establish and maintain, at locations other than its principal place of business, additional offices and service facilities that are reasonably necessary to furnish services to its members.

Art. 2461-2.09. Reports

On or before February 1 of each year, each credit union authorized to do business under this Act shall report to the department on a form supplied by the department for this purpose. On filing the report, a credit union shall pay to the commissioner the required filing fee. The commission shall set a reasonable fee for processing a report. The commissioner may require a credit union to file additional reports. If a credit union does not file a report or pay the filing fee before the 16th day after the day it is due, the commissioner shall charge a late fee in an amount set by the commission for each day that the report or fee is in arrears, except the commissioner may waive payment of all or part of the late fee for good cause shown. Failure of a credit union to file a report before the 31st day after the date it is due constitutes grounds for imposing the sanctions provided by Chapters 5 and 10 of this Act.

Art. 2461-2.10. Exemption From Certain Taxes

Each credit union authorized to do business in this state is exempt from all franchise and other license taxes. However, a credit union is exempt from the franchise tax imposed by Chapter 171, Tax Code, only if the credit union is exempted by that chapter. The intangible property of a credit union organized under this Act is not taxable.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2219, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1778, ch. 389, § 29, eff. Jan. 1, 1982; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2284, ch. 421, § 12, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Section 1 of the 1981 amendatory act enacted Title 2 of the Tax Code.

Art. 2461-2.11. Out-of-State Credit Unions

A credit union organized under the laws of another state may do business in this state if it is organized in a state that allows credit unions organized under this Act to do business in that state. The out-of-state credit union is subject to the rules adopted under this Act and any additional requirements established by the commission. The commissioner may suspend or revoke an out-of-state credit union's authority to do business in this state if the commissioner finds that the credit union has violated the rules adopted under this Act or fails to meet the requirements established by the commission.

CHAPTER 3. MEMBERSHIP

Art. 2461-3.01. Membership Defined

(a) Membership in a credit union is limited to the incorporators and other persons, including incorporated and unincorporated organizations, who:

(1) share a definable community of interest, in accordance with the articles of incorporation of the credit union, including a community of interest based on occupation, association, or residence;

(2) have paid an entrance fee or membership fee, or both, as required by the bylaws;

(3) have complied with the minimum share, including membership share, requirements and other qualifying account requirements established by the board of directors; and

(4) have complied with any other requirements contained in the articles of incorporation and bylaws.

(b) For the purposes of Subsection (a) of this section, the State of Texas acting through the state comptroller as administrator of the State of Texas deferred compensation program or a political subdivision acting through the appropriate officer of the political subdivision as administrator of the political subdivision's deferred compensation program shall be considered a person for membership qualifications in order to fund a deferred compensation program. Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (a) of this section, the payment of an entrance fee may not be a membership requirement for the State of Texas or a political subdivision funding a deferred compensation program.

(c) A member who leaves the field of membership may be permitted to retain membership in the credit union under reasonable standards established by the board of directors.

(d) A member may be expelled for good cause or for failure to maintain the requirements necessary for membership in the credit union, under the conditions and in accordance with the procedures provided in the bylaws.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2219, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1543, ch. 665, § 2, eff. Aug. 27, 1979; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2284, ch. 421, § 14, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2461-3.02. Meetings of Members

Members of a credit union shall hold annual and special meetings at the time, place, and in the manner provided in the bylaws. In determining a question requiring action by the members, each member may cast only one vote, regardless of his shareholdings, which vote may be cast by mail if authorized by the board of directors. No member may vote by proxy, except a member that is an organization may be represented and vote by one of its members or shareholders who is authorized, in writing, by the organization's governing body to represent the organization. Mail balloting shall be conducted in accordance with rules adopted by the commission.

CHAPTER 4. POWERS OF CREDIT UNIONArt. 2461-4.01. General Powers

(a) A credit union may exercise all powers necessary or appropriate to accomplish the purposes for which it is organized and all powers granted corporations authorized to do business in this state. These powers include, but are not limited to, the power to:

- (1) make contracts;
- (2) sue and be sued in the name of the credit union;
- (3) adopt and use a common seal and alter its seal at pleasure;
- (4) purchase, hold, lease, or dispose of property necessary or incidental to its operations or purposes, subject to rules issued by the commission;
- (5) receive payments on shares and deposits and to provide for the transfer and withdrawal of funds from accounts by the means and through the payment systems that the board of directors determines best serve the convenience and needs of members and depositors;
- (6) develop and offer to its members and depositors, in accordance with rules adopted by the commission, investment programs and in connection with those programs issue and sell securities;
- (7) act as agent for its members and depositors, in accordance with rules adopted by the commission, in the purchase, sale, or other disposition of securities, interests in mutual funds, and interests or participations in any other type of investment;
- (8) act as agent or depository of the United States, any agent or instrumentality of the United States, this or any other state, or any city, town, village, county, school district, municipal corporation, political subdivision, or taxing authority of this or any other state, accept for deposit the funds of such an entity, or both;
- (9) lend its funds in accordance with applicable law;

(10) purchase or otherwise provide insurance for the benefit or convenience of its members;

(11) borrow money from any source, but if, after incurring a debt, the total debt of the credit union will exceed an amount equal to 25 percent of its shares, deposits, and surplus, the debt may not be incurred without the prior approval of the commissioner, and the commissioner shall grant or deny a request for approval under this subdivision within 10 days after it is made;

(12) act under the order or appointment of any court of record, without giving bond, as guardian, receiver, trustee, executor, administrator, and as depository for any money paid into court and for any money constituting the estates of deceased persons, minors, or incompetents;

(13) accept and execute any trust and accept funds or money for deposit by fiduciaries, trustees, or receivers;

(14) accept funds for deposit by savings and loan associations, savings associations, savings departments of banks, commercial banks, savings banks, trust companies, insurance companies, or any intermediary or other person managing or holding funds on behalf of the credit union or any of its members or depositors;

(15) act as custodian or trustee of individual retirement accounts, pension funds of self-employed individuals or of the sponsor of a credit union, or as custodian or trustee under any other pension or profit-sharing plan;

(16) hold membership in other credit unions organized under this Act or other laws and hold membership in other organizations as may be approved by the board of directors;

(17) declare and pay dividends on shares, contract for and pay interest on deposits, and pay interest refunds to borrowers;

(18) change its principal place of business to another place in the state, or change the location in the state of any subsidiary places of business, on giving written notice to the commissioner;

(19) collect, receive, and disburse money in connection with the sale of travelers checks, money orders, cashier's checks or drafts, treasurer's drafts, similar instruments, and securities of all types, and for other purposes that may provide benefit or convenience for its members, and for these services, levy and collect charges;

(20) levy and collect fees and charges determined by the board of directors for other services and administrative costs including, but not limited to, a charge for a check or draft that is returned because it is drawn against a closed account or an account containing insufficient or uncollected funds, because of a stop payment order, or because of another similar reason; these charges are in addition to interest authorized by law and are not a part of interest collected or agreed to be paid on a loan, but are expenses of administration;

(21) establish, operate, or participate in systems that allow the transfer of credit union funds or the shares or deposits of members by electronic or other means, including but not limited to clearing-house associations, data processing and other electronic networks, the Federal Reserve System, or any other government payment or liquidity programs;

(22) make donations or contributions to any non-profit, civic, charitable, or community organization as authorized by the board of directors;

(23) operate as a central credit union, with the approval of the commissioner;

(24) cause any or all records kept by the credit union to be copied by any means and dispose of the original record; and

(25) act as fiscal agent or transfer agent, receive and disburse money, transfer registered and countersigned certificates of stock, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, and guarantee signatures.

(b) Any copy of a record shall be deemed to be an original record for all purposes and shall be treated as an original record in all courts or administrative agencies for the purpose of its admissibility in evidence. A facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy shall, for all purposes, be deemed a facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy of the original record.

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section (b)(2), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year."

Art. 2461-4.02. Incidental Powers

A credit union may exercise all rights, privileges, and incidental powers necessary or appropriate to exercise its specific powers and to accomplish the purposes for which the credit union is organized.

Art. 2461-4.03. Conformity to Federally Chartered Credit Unions

Notwithstanding any other law, the commission by rule may authorize a credit union authorized to do business under this Act to engage in any activity in which it could engage, exercise any power it could exercise, or make any loan or investment it could make, if it were operating as a federal credit union.

CHAPTER 5. DIRECTION OF AFFAIRS

Art. 2461-5.01. Management

The business and affairs of a credit union shall be directed by a board of directors of not less than five members. Each director shall take and subscribe to an oath or affirmation that the director will diligently and honestly perform his duties in administering the affairs of the credit union, that while the director may delegate to others the performance of those duties, he is not relieved from his responsibilities for the performance of the duties, and that the director will not knowingly violate or willingly permit to be violated any law or rule applicable to the credit union.

Art. 2461-5.02. Certificate of Election

The chairman of the board and the secretary shall execute a certificate of election that sets forth the names and addresses of the officers, directors, and committee members elected or appointed, and shall file a copy of the certificate of election with the department within 30 days after the election or appointment. The commission by rule may authorize the commissioner to obtain other confidential reports relating to those persons when they are newly elected or appointed.

Art. 2461-5.03. Board of Directors

(a) Directors of the credit union are elected at an annual membership meeting, by and from the membership, and in the manner provided in the bylaws.

(b) The duties of the board of directors must be prescribed by the bylaws.

(c) The terms of the members of the board of directors must be prescribed in the bylaws, except that a term may not exceed three years. Directors may serve more than one term.

(d) The board of directors may appoint not more than three individuals to serve at the pleasure of the board as honorary or advisory directors to advise and consult with the board and otherwise aid the board in carrying out its duties and responsibilities. An honorary or advisory director need not be eligible for membership in the credit union. An honorary or advisory director is not considered a member of the board of directors and is not entitled to vote on any matter before the board. He may participate, however, in all deliberations of the board.

(e) The board of directors may appoint from its membership an executive committee of not less than three persons to exercise, between meetings of the board of directors, authority specifically delegated by the board under conditions specified by the board.

Art. 2461-5.04. Officers

(a) The board of directors shall elect from its membership the following officers of the credit union: a chairman, a vice-chairman, a treasurer, and a secretary, each of whom shall serve for one year or until his successor is elected and qualified, and each of whom has the duties prescribed in the bylaws.

(b) The board of directors may employ, elect, or appoint a chief executive officer, who is in charge of operations and whose title is president, who may or may not be a member of the board of directors, but who may not be chairman, vice-chairman, or secretary of the credit union. The president serves at the pleasure of the board of directors.

(c) Subject to any guidelines set by the board of directors, the president shall appoint, employ, or hire, and may discharge, other officers and employees that the president considers necessary for the operation of the credit union. The president shall prescribe the titles of those officers and employees.

Art. 2461-5.05. Credit Committee

The board of directors may delegate all or part of its power to approve or disapprove loans to a credit committee, one or more other committees, or one or more individuals.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2295, ch. 421, § 23, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2461-5.06. Compensation and Bond; Conflicts of Interest

(a) No director, honorary director, advisory director, or committee member may receive compensation for serving as a director, honorary director, advisory director, or committee member, except that those persons may be:

(1) provided with reasonable health, life, accident, liability, and similar insurance protection;

(2) reimbursed for necessary expenses incident to the performance of their duties; and

(3) paid the fees and reimbursed for the other expenditures authorized by rules adopted by the commission.

(b) The board of directors shall purchase from a surety company authorized to do business in this state a blanket surety or security bond covering all directors, honorary directors, advisory directors, officers, employees, members of official committees, attorneys at law, and other agents of the credit union to protect the credit union against loss caused by the failure of a person to faithfully perform his duties.

(c) While serving as a director, honorary director, advisory director, committee member, officer, or employee of a credit union, a person may not:

(1) participate, directly or indirectly or in any manner, in the deliberation on or determination of a question affecting the person's pecuniary interest or the pecuniary interest of a partnership, association, or corporation, other than the credit union, in which the person is directly or indirectly interested, except that an interest only as a member of the credit union shared in common with all other members is not a pecuniary interest within the meaning of this subdivision; or

(2) become employed by, engage in, or own an interest in a business or professional activity that the person could reasonably expect to:

(A) require or induce the person to disclose confidential information acquired by reason of the person's office or employment in the credit union; or

(B) impair the person's independence or judgment in the performance of the person's duties or responsibilities to the credit union.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2296, ch. 421, § 24, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2461-5.07. Financial Reporting; Audits

(a) A credit union shall use the financial reporting forms and observe the accounting principles prescribed by the commission.

(b) The board of directors shall make or cause to be made a comprehensive annual audit of the books and affairs of the credit union, in accordance with established principles and rules adopted by the commission, promptly submit a report of each annual audit to the department, and submit a summary of that report to the members of the credit union at the next annual meeting. The board of directors shall make or cause to be made any supplementary audits or examinations that it deems necessary or that the commissioner requires. The commission by rule may require verifications of the accounts of members with the records of the credit union.

(c) If the commissioner, by examination or other credible evidence, finds that the board of directors is failing or refusing to comply with this section or a rule adopted under it, the commissioner may appoint an independent person or persons from outside the credit union and its membership to perform an audit, the costs and expenses of which are borne by the credit union.

Art. 2461-5.08. Misconduct and Penalties for Misconduct

(a) A director, honorary director, advisory director, committee member, officer, or employee of a credit union who knowingly demands or receives, directly or indirectly, any bonus, commission, or other consideration on account of the making of a specific loan or investment or the purchase of any asset by a credit union commits a Class A misdemeanor.

(b) Any director, honorary director, advisory director, committee member, officer, or employee of a credit union who knowingly permits a loan to be made to a nonmember or participates in a loan to a nonmember commits a Class B misdemeanor. Additionally, the offender is primarily liable to the credit union for the amount illegally loaned. The illegality of the loan is no defense in any action of the credit union to recover on the loan. Extension of credit to a nonmember as a comaker with a member, or extension of credit to a nonmember for the sale of real or personal property owned by the credit union or for the sale of assets acquired in liquidation or repossession shall not be construed as a loan to a nonmember.

(c) A person commits a felony of the third degree if the person, with the intent to deceive, knowingly:

(1) makes a false entry on the books or records or a report or statement of a credit union; or

(2) in connection with an examination or investigation of the credit union by the commissioner, deputy commissioner, or an authorized examiner of the department, exhibits a false or fictitious paper, instrument, or security or gives under oath a false answer to any question, directly related to the examination or investigation, propounded to him by the commissioner, deputy commissioner, or an authorized examiner of the department.

(d) A person who, for the purpose of concealing a fact or information from the commissioner, deputy commissioner, or an authorized examiner of the department, knowingly removes, destroys, or conceals any book or record of the credit union commits a felony of the third degree.

Art. 2461-5.09. Officers, Directors, and Employees; Cease and Desist; Removal; Appeal

(a) The commissioner may determine in the performance of his duties under this Act that an officer, director, honorary director, advisory director, or employee of a credit union, or the credit union itself, acting by and through an officer, director, honorary director, advisory director, or employee, has:

(1) Violated this Act, a rule adopted under this Act, or any other law, rule, or regulation applicable to credit unions;

(2) Violated, neglected, or refused to comply with a duly issued final order of the commissioner or commission;

(3) willfully neglected to perform official or legal duties, or willfully committed a breach of trust or fiduciary duty;

(4) committed any fraudulent or questionable practice in the conduct of the credit union's business which endangers the credit union's reputation or threatens its solvency;

(5) refused to submit to examination under oath, or to permit examination of the credit union's books, papers, records, accounts, and affairs by the commissioner or a duly authorized representative of the commissioner;

(6) failed or refused to authorize and direct any other person to permit the inspection and examination of the credit union's books, papers, records, or accounts in the other person's care, possession, custody, or control by the commissioner or a duly authorized representative of the commissioner, after the commissioner has requested the granting of that authority and direction to the other person;

(7) conducted the credit union's business in an unsafe, unauthorized, or unlawful manner;

(8) concealed, destroyed, removed, falsified, or perjured a book, record, paper, report, statement, or account related to the business and affairs of the credit union;

(9) transacted business while the credit union was in an unsafe or unsound condition;

(10) violated any conditions of the credit union's articles of incorporation or of any written agreement entered with the commissioner or the commissioner;

(11) committed a criminal act that constitutes a substantial detriment to the reputation and conduct of the business of the credit union.

(b) If, on examination or at any other time, the commissioner makes any of the findings set out in Subsection (a) of this section, he shall issue a demand letter giving notice in writing to the credit union and the offending person or persons stating the particular violations or practices found. The commissioner promptly shall call a meeting of the members of the board of directors of the credit union, who shall attend the meeting, and lay before them the findings contained in the demand letter and demand a discontinuance of the violations and practices found.

(c) If the commissioner makes any of the findings set out in Subsection (a) of this section and determines that an order to cease and desist is necessary and in the best interest of the credit union involved and its depositors, creditors, and members, then at the directors' meeting or within 30 days thereafter the commissioner may serve on the credit union, its board of directors, and any offending person or persons a written order to cease and desist from the violations and practices enumerated in the order and to take such affirmative action that the commissioner considers necessary to correct the conditions resulting from the violations or practices found. Service of the order on the credit union and any offending person must be either by certified or registered mail, addressed to the credit union at the last address of its principal office as shown by the records of the department, or by delivery to any officer or director of the credit union. Service by mail is complete on deposit of the paper, enclosed in a postpaid, properly addressed wrapper, in a post office or official depository under the care and custody of the United States Postal Service. The cease and desist order is effective and binding immediately on service if the commissioner finds that the solvency of the credit union is endangered, that there is a continuing violation of this Act or the rules adopted under this Act, or that there is a threat of immediate and irreparable harm to the general public or the credit union, its depositors, creditors, or members; otherwise, the order shall state the effective date, not less than 10 days after service of the order. Unless the credit union through its board of directors files a written notice of appeal, including a duly certified resolution of the board, with the commissioner within 10 days after the service of the order, the order is final. A copy of the order shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting of the members of the board of directors, who shall certify to the commissioner in writing that each has read the order.

(d) If the commissioner subsequently finds by examination or other credible evidence that the offending person or persons have continued violations or practices previously charged and found by the commissioner after notice and demand made under Subsection (b) of this section, and further finds that removal from office or employment is necessary and in the best interest of the credit union and its depositors, creditors, and members, then the commissioner may issue an order removing the offending person or persons.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, if the commissioner, by examination or other credible evidence, makes any of the findings in Subsection (a) of this section and determines that the removal of the offending person or persons from office or employment is immediately necessary because the person or persons have committed or are about to commit a fraudulent or criminal act involving the conduct of the business of the credit union, an act that may cause the credit union to become insolvent or to be placed in imminent danger of insolvency, or an act that otherwise threatens immediate and irreparable harm to the general public or the credit union or its members, depositors, or creditors, the commissioner may issue an order of removal.

(f) An order of removal must state the grounds for removal with reasonable certainty. It shall be promptly served in the same manner as a cease and desist order on the person or persons removed and on the credit union. On issuance of the order, the offending person or persons have no rights, duties, or authority of office or employment in the credit union. Unless the person or persons removed or the credit union, through its board of directors as evidenced by a duly certified resolution, files a written notice of appeal with the commissioner not more than 10 days after the day the order of removal is served, the order is final as of the date it is issued, and the person or persons removed may not hold office in, be employed by, or participate in the affairs of the credit union. A copy of the order of removal shall be entered in the minutes of the board of directors, and an officer shall acknowledge receipt of the order and certify to the commissioner that the person or persons named in the order of removal have been removed from office.

(g) If the credit union or a person removed duly files a notice of appeal of a cease and desist order or an order for removal, the commissioner shall set a time and place for hearing the appeal by the commission in accordance with rules adopted by the commission to govern the fair hearing and adjudication of the questions appealed. The filing of an appeal does not suspend the effect of the order of removal, or cease and desist order, and the order remains in force pending final disposition of the appeal. At the conclusion of the hearing on the appeal, the commission may either vacate, affirm, or modify the order of the commissioner and order that appropriate action be taken.

(h) A cease and desist order or an order of removal becomes final on completion of an appeal or otherwise as provided by this section. If a credit union or a person designated in the order fails or refuses to comply with a final order, then the commissioner may, after giving notice, assess a civil penalty against the credit union, the designated person, or both, in an amount not to exceed $100 each for each day of the violation of the order. The credit union may not reimburse or indemnify a person for all or part of the civil penalty. The commissioner may institute a suit for injunction and for collection of the civil penalty in a district court of Travis County, in addition to any other remedy provided by law.

(i) An order to cease and desist, an order for removal from office, and each copy of a notice, correspondence, or other record relating to an order concerning violations or unsound practices are confidential and may not be revealed to the public except in a lawsuit authorized by this Act or by other lawful order or authority. However, the commissioner may disclose this information to a share and deposit guaranty corporation or credit union, or a department, agency, or instrumentality of this state or the United States if he determines the disclosure to be necessary or proper for the enforcement of the laws of this state or the United States.

Art. 2461-5.10. Defamation

A person who knowingly makes, utters, circulates, or transmits to another person a statement that is false and derogatory to the financial condition of a credit union authorized to do business in this state, with intent to injure that credit union, or who counsels, aids, procures, or induces another person to make, utter, circulate, or transmit such a statement, with such an intent, commits a felony of the third degree.

[Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2305, ch. 421, § 28, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

CHAPTER 6. CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Art. 2461-6.01. Capital

(a) The capital of a credit union consists of the aggregate amount of the share and deposit accounts of its members plus all reserves and undivided earnings of the credit union.

(b) A share account consists of payments on shares of a member, including membership shares, which may be of different types or classes and may be with or without par value as determined by the board of directors.

(c) A deposit account consists of payments made under an agreement between the credit union and the depositor, including but not limited to a draft account, checking account, savings account, certificate of deposit, and any other similar account or arrangement.

Arts. 2461-6.02 to 2461-6.04. Repealed by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2337, ch. 463, § 57, eff. Sept. 1, 1983

Art. 2461-6.05. Multiple-Party Accounts

(a) A member may designate any person or persons, including organizations, associations, corporations, or partnerships, to own share or deposit accounts with the member jointly, with or without the right of survivorship, or in a multiple-party account as that term is defined by the Texas Probate Code. One or more or all of the parties to an account may make payments on share accounts and deposit accounts and make withdrawals subject to the terms of the account agreements accepted by the credit union. No party, unless also a member, may vote, obtain loans, or hold office in the credit union. Payment of part or all of an account to any one or more of the parties discharges, to the extent of the payment, the liability of the credit union to all.

(b) The net contribution of a party to an account, as of any given time, is the sum of all payments on shares or deposits made by or for the party, less all withdrawals made by or for the party which have not been paid to or applied to the use of any other party, plus a pro rata share of any interest or dividends included in the current balance. The net contribution includes, in addition, any life insurance proceeds added to the account by reason of the death of the party whose net contribution is in question. Unless the account agreement provides otherwise, and in the absence of satisfactory proof of the net contributions, those who are parties from time to time shall be presumed to own the joint account in equal undivided interests.

(c) The death of any party to an account has no effect on the beneficial ownership of the account, other than to transfer the decedent's right in the account to the estate of the decedent, unless the account or trust agreement provides otherwise. An account that does not expressly provide for right of survivorship is presumed to be a nonsurvivorship account. If the credit union complies with the terms of the account agreement, the credit union may pay out any funds representing shares or deposits on the order of any party, either before or after the death of any other party, after which the credit union does not have further liability for the amounts so paid.

(d) Without qualifying any other statutory right to a setoff or lien, and subject to any contractual provisions accepted by the credit union, when a party to an account is indebted to a credit union, the credit union has a right to setoff against the entire amount of the account.

(e) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as in conflict with the laws of the United States or of the State of Texas as those laws govern the taxation of multiple-party accounts.

(f) This section is cumulative of Chapter XI, Texas Probate Code.¹

Art. 2461-6.06. Minor Accounts

A credit union may issue share and deposit accounts in the name of a minor, receive payments on these accounts by or for the minor, pay withdrawals, accept pledges to the credit union by or for the minor, and act in any other matter with respect to the accounts on the order of the minor. A minor may vote in the meetings of the members if permitted by the bylaws, except no minor may vote through his parent or guardian. No minor is eligible for any office or committee membership within the credit union unless the bylaws specify otherwise. A payment or delivery of rights by a credit union to a minor, any party to the account, or to the parent or guardian of a deceased minor, is a valid and sufficient release and discharge of the credit union to the extent of the payment or delivery. The payment and any receipt, pledge, or other action required by the credit union is binding on the minor as if the minor were of legal age and capacity.

Art. 2461-6.07. Trust Accounts

A credit union may issue shares or hold deposits in the name of a member in trust for a beneficiary, including a minor, but no beneficiary, unless the beneficiary is also a member, may vote, obtain loans, hold office, or be required to pay an entrance fee. Payment of part or all of the shares or deposits to a member shall, to the extent of the payment, discharge the liability of the credit union to the member and the beneficiary, and the credit union shall be under no further obligation. If a member to or for whom shares or deposits are issued or held in trust dies, and the credit union has no other written evidence of the existence or terms of any trust, the credit union may pay the shares or deposits and any dividends or interest to the beneficiary or to the legal representative of the beneficiary. Such a payment discharges the liability of the credit union to the extent of the payment. If the credit union has written evidence of the terms of the trust, the credit union shall administer and distribute the shares or deposits so issued or held under the provisions of the trust agreement, a copy of which must remain on file with the credit union until termination of the trust. If the credit union does not have written evidence of the termination or other disposition of the trust, the credit union may distribute the shares or deposits so issued or held under the provisions of the trust agreement. Such a distribution discharges the liability of the credit union to the extent of the distribution.

Art. 2461-6.08. Third Party Claims

No credit union authorized to do business under this Act, nor any federal credit union domiciled in this state is required to recognize the claim of any third party to any share or deposit account, or to withhold payment of any share or deposit account to any party to the account or to the order of any party to the account, unless and until the credit union is served with citation or other appropriate process issuing out of a court of competent jurisdiction in connection with a suit instituted by the third party for the purpose of recovering or establishing an interest in the deposit or share account.

Art. 2461-6.09. Liens and Setoff; Withdrawals

(a) In addition to any other right to a setoff or lien provided by law, a credit union authorized to do business under this Act has:

(1) a lien, which it may enforce with or without judicial process, on the shares and deposits and accumulation of dividends and interest of a member to the extent of any direct or indirect indebtedness of the member to the credit union; and

(2) the right to set off member indebtedness against the member's shares, deposits, and accumulation of dividends and interest to the extent of any direct or indirect indebtedness of the member to the credit union.

(b) A credit union may allow withdrawals without affecting any right it has to a setoff or lien. A credit union may require up to 60 days' notice for withdrawals from share or deposit accounts. Such a notice may be imposed by the commissioner if he issues a cease and desist order under Chapter 5 of this Act. The commission by rule may require that any advance notice requirement for withdrawals apply to all members of the credit union. A membership share may not be withdrawn except on termination of membership in the credit union.

CHAPTER 7. LOANSArt. 2461-7.01. Purpose, Terms, and Interest Rate

If made in accordance with rules adopted by the commission, a credit union may make loans to members for such purposes as it may approve and on such security and terms as it may require, at rates of interest not exceeding one and one-half percent per month on the unpaid balance, or higher rates otherwise authorized by law, including the rates authorized by Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Statutes (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Chapter 15 and Subtitle 2, Title 79, Revised Statutes (Article 5069-2.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), do not apply to a credit union loan or extension of credit unless the agreement evidencing that transaction specifically provides otherwise.

Every loan must be evidenced by a written instrument.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 273, ch. 111, § 3, eff. May 8, 1981; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2311, ch. 421, § 35, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section (b)(2), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year."

Art. 2461-7.02. Loan Limit

No credit union may make a loan or aggregate of loans to any one member, including loans to the member's business interests, in an amount greater than 10 percent of the credit union's total assets.

Art. 2461-7.03. Open-End Credit

A credit union may enter into a written agreement with a member, allowing that member to borrow money from time to time, under which interest may from time to time be computed on an outstanding unpaid balance. The credit union may also approve in advance a line of credit and grant advances to a member within the limit of the extension of credit. Additional loan applications are not required under an open-end credit plan or line of credit if the aggregate obligation does not exceed a limit of the extension of credit established by the credit union.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2312, ch. 421, § 37, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2461-7.04. Participation Loans and Other Loan Programs

(a) A credit union may market and sell participations in loans to members originated by the credit union to other credit unions, corporations, or financial organizations.

(b) A credit union may participate in guaranteed loan programs of the federal and state governments and other government loan programs approved by the commission.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2312, ch. 421, § 38, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2461-7.05. Loans to Officials

(a) A credit union may make loans and extend lines of credit to its directors, employees, loan officers, credit manager, members of its credit committee, and members of the immediate families of those persons, if:

(1) the loan complies with the requirements of this Act and rules adopted under this Act with respect to loans to other borrowers and is not on terms more favorable than those extended to other borrowers; and

(2) before making or agreeing to make the loan, the board of directors has approved the loan, if the loan or aggregate of outstanding loans to any one person, his business interests, and members of his immediate family is greater than $10,000 or a higher amount established by a commission rule, plus pledged shares and deposits.

(b) A credit union may permit a director, employee, loan officer, credit manager, and member of its credit committee to act as comaker, guarantor, or endorser of a loan to another member, unless the loan standing alone or added to any outstanding loan or loans to the comaker, guarantor, or endorser exceeds $10,000 or a higher amount established by a commission rule, plus pledged shares and deposits, in which case prior approval of the board of directors is required.

Art. 2461-7.06. Prepayment Privilege

Any loan may be prepaid in whole or in part, without penalty, during regular working hours on any day on which the credit union is open for business, except that the credit union may require a partial prepayment on a loan secured by a lien, mortgage, or other type of security interest in real property to be made on the date monthly installments are due and in the amount of that part of one or more monthly installments that would be applicable to principal.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2313, ch. 421, § 40, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2461-7.07. Collection of Illegal Loans

Illegality of a loan is not a defense in an action by the credit union to recover on the loan and does not prevent enforcement or collection of the loan against or from the borrower, a person in the position of a guarantor or surety, or a person who is otherwise liable in regard to the loan.

Art. 2461-7.08. Expenses, Fees, and Penalties

(a) A credit union may require a member to pay all reasonable expenses and fees incurred in connection with making, closing, disbursing, extending, readjusting, or renewing a loan, whether or not those expenses or fees are paid to third parties. Those payments may be collected by the credit union from the member and retained by the credit union or paid to a person rendering services in connection with the payment, or the payments may be paid directly by the member to third parties to whom they are payable. The fees or expenses are in addition to interest authorized by law and are not a part of interest collected or agreed to be paid on a loan.

(b) A credit union may charge a member a penalty when a payment on a loan is 10 days or more in arrears. The penalty may not exceed five percent of the payment due. Only one penalty may be charged by the credit union on each past due payment. The penalty, when charged in the amount authorized, is not interest under any law that defines interest or limits the rate of interest that may be charged and may be charged and collected in addition to the interest authorized by law.

CHAPTER 8. INVESTMENTS

Art. 2461-8.01. Investment of Funds

A credit union may invest funds not used in loans to members:

(1) in capital shares, obligations, participation certificates, or common or preferred stock of any agency, association, company, network, stock company, mutual association, mutual company, membership association, membership company, partnership, joint venture, or trust company, if the membership or ownership of the agency, association, or company is confined or restricted to credit unions and their members or organizations of credit unions, and if the agency, association, or company is designed primarily to serve or otherwise assist credit union operations; in loans to any credit union association or corporation, national or state, of which the credit union is a member; investments in any one agency, association, company or other entity of the type described in this subdivision may not exceed five percent of the credit union's total assets or the amount of its reserve fund, whichever is less; however, the commission may adopt rules authorizing investments in the securities of any agency, association, company, or other entity of a type described in this subdivision whose membership or ownership is not confined to credit unions and their members or organizations of credit unions, whether or not the entity is designed primarily to serve or otherwise assist credit union operations;

(2) in obligations, bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness of any state, city, town, village, county, school district, municipal corporation, taxing authority, or political subdivision;

(3) in certificates of deposit or other accounts issued by a state or national bank, savings and loan association, savings association, or mutual savings bank;

(4) in securities, obligations, participations, or other instruments of or issued by the federal government or any of its agencies, or in any trust or trusts established for investing directly or collectively in the same;

(5) in loans to, shares of, or deposits in other credit unions, central credit unions, corporate credit unions, central liquidity facilities established under state or federal law, trusts, or organizations established for lending directly or collectively to credit unions;

(6) in securities, obligations, participations, or other instruments fully or partially guaranteed as to principal, interest, or both by the federal government or any of its agencies, or in any trust or trusts established for investing directly or collectively in those investments;

(7) in participation loans with other credit unions, corporations, credit organizations, or financial organizations;

(8) in the notes receivable, loans to members, or other assets of any credit union operating under this Act or the Federal Credit Union Act;¹ and

(9) in other investments that may be authorized by rules adopted by the commission, which rules must be responsive to changes in economic conditions or competitive practices, and the need for safety and soundness of credit union investments.

CHAPTER 9. RESERVE ALLOCATIONS; DIVIDENDS; SHARE REDUCTION

Art. 2461-9.01. Reserve Allocations

(a) The commission shall adopt rules requiring credit unions to maintain reserves necessary to protect the interests of their members. Those rules may prescribe the purposes for which the reserves may be used and may authorize the commissioner to approve other uses.

(b) The board of directors may establish reserves in addition to the required reserves.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2317, ch. 421, § 43, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2461-9.02. Dividends and Interest

Dividends and interest may be paid at rates and on conditions that the board of directors authorizes. The commissioner may impose restrictions on the payment of dividends if he issues a cease and desist order under Chapter 5 of this Act.

Art. 2461-9.03. Share Reduction

If the losses of any credit union, resulting from a depreciation in value of its loans or investments or otherwise, exceed its undivided earnings and any reserves and the estimated value of its assets is less than the total amount due the shareholders, the credit union may, by a majority vote of the members of the credit union present at a meeting of members called for that purpose, order a reduction in the membership shares of each of its shareholders to divide the loss proportionately among them.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2318, ch. 421, § 45, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

CHAPTER 10. CHANGE IN CORPORATE STATUS

Art. 2461-10.01. Suspension and Conservation

(a) The commissioner may determine in the performance of his duties under this Act that the credit union is insolvent or in imminent danger of insolvency, or that an officer, director, honorary director, advisory director, or employee of a credit union, or the credit union itself, acting by and through an officer, director, honorary director, advisory director, or employee, has:

(1) violated this Act, a rule adopted under this Act, or any other law, rule, or regulation applicable to credit unions;

(2) violated, neglected, or refused to comply with a duly issued final order of the commissioner or commission;

(3) refused to submit to examination under oath, or to permit examination of the credit union's books, papers, records, accounts, and affairs by the commissioner or a duly authorized representative of the commissioner;

(4) failed or refused to authorize and direct any other person to permit the inspection and examination of the credit union's books, papers, records, or accounts in the other person's care, possession, custody, or control by the commissioner or a duly authorized representative of the commissioner, after the commissioner has requested the granting of that authority and direction to the other person; or

(5) conducted the credit union's business in an unsafe, unauthorized, or unlawful manner.

(b) If the commissioner makes any of these findings, he may issue an order temporarily suspending the credit union's operations for not more than 90 days. Service of the order of suspension must be by certified or registered mail, addressed to the credit union at the last address of its principal office, as shown by the records of the department, or by delivery to an officer or director of the credit union. Service by mail is complete on deposit of the paper, enclosed in a postpaid, properly addressed wrapper, in a post office or official depository under the care and custody of the United States Postal Service. The order must state the grounds for suspension with reasonable certainty.

(c) After the suspension order has been served on the credit union, the commissioner shall take possession and control of the books, records, property, assets, and business of the credit union, and the credit union shall cease all operations, except those authorized by the commissioner and conducted under his supervision. Not later than 15 days after the date the order of suspension is served, the board of directors shall file a written reply to the order, and may file a written request for a hearing to present to the commissioner a plan to continue operations setting out proposed corrective actions. The board of directors may request that a conservator be appointed for the credit union or that the credit union be closed and a liquidating agent be appointed, in which event the commissioner may immediately appoint a conservator, or order that the credit union be liquidated and appoint a liquidating agent.

(d) If the board of directors files its reply and requests a hearing as provided by this section, the commissioner shall set and hold the hearing not less than 10 or more than 30 days after the date of receipt of such a request. The commissioner shall promptly give notice to the credit union of the date, time, and place of the hearing. Not later than 10 days after the earlier of the date of conclusion of the hearing or the date on which the suspension expires, the commissioner shall adopt the plan to continue operations presented by the credit union, agree with the credit union on an alternative plan to continue operations or other appropriate measures, reject the plan to continue operations and issue an order of conservation appointing a conservator, or issue an order of liquidation ordering that the credit union be closed, ordering that its affairs and business be liquidated, and appointing a liquidating agent.

(e) If the commissioner rejects the credit union's plan to continue operations and determines that it is in the public interest and in the best interest of the members, depositors, and creditors of the credit union to rehabilitate the credit union, he may permit the credit union to operate under his direction and control, and shall issue an order of conservation appointing a conservator to manage the affairs of the credit union. The commissioner shall serve the order of conservation in the same manner as provided for service of an order of suspension.

(f) The conservator, on behalf and under the supervision and direction of the commissioner, shall take charge of the books, records, property, assets, and business of the credit union and shall conduct the business and affairs of the credit union under the direction and supervision of the commissioner. The conservator shall take the steps toward the removal of the causes and conditions that have necessitated the order that the commissioner directs. During the conservatorship, the conservator shall make the reports to the commissioner from time to time that the commissioner requires. The conservator may take all necessary measures to preserve, protect, and recover the assets or property of the credit union, including claims or causes of action belonging to or that may be asserted by the credit union, may deal with that property in his own name as conservator, and may file, prosecute, or defend against a suit by or against the credit union if the conservator considers this action necessary to protect the interested parties or property affected by the suit.

(g) The commissioner shall determine the cost incident to the conservator's service. This cost is a charge against the assets and funds of the credit union to be allowed and paid as the commissioner directs.

(h) A suit filed against a credit union or its conservator while a conservatorship order is in effect must be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction in Travis County. The conservator may file suit in a court of competent jurisdiction in Travis County against any person for the purpose of preserving, protecting, or recovering assets or property of the credit union, including a claim or cause of action belonging to or that may be asserted by the credit union.

(i) The conservator shall serve for the period necessary to accomplish the purposes of the conservatorship as intended by this Act. If the credit union is rehabilitated, it shall be returned to the management of the board of directors under the terms that are reasonable and necessary to prevent recurrence of the conditions that occasioned the conservatorship.

(j) If the commissioner determines that the credit union in conservatorship is not in a condition to continue business and cannot be rehabilitated as provided by this section, he may issue an order of liquidation appointing a liquidating agent.

(k) If, after a hearing under this section, the board of directors of the credit union is dissatisfied with the decision of the commissioner to issue an order of conservation, the board may appeal to the commission by filing with the commissioner a written appeal, including a duly certified resolution of the board, not later than 10 days after the day that the order of conservation is served. If an appeal is duly filed, the commissioner shall set a date for a hearing on the appeal not more than 30 days after the date on which the appeal is filed. The commissioner shall promptly give notice of the date, time, and place of the hearing to the credit union and any other interested party. The filing of an appeal does not suspend the effect of the order of conservation and this order remains in force pending final disposition of the appeal by the commission. At the conclusion of the hearing, the commission may reverse the order of the commissioner and adopt and approve the credit union's plan to continue operations, affirm the commissioner's order of conservation, or order that other appropriate action be taken.

(l) If the board of directors of the credit union does not file a reply to the order of suspension as required by this section or fails to request and appear at the hearing provided for by this section, the commissioner may dispose of the matter as he considers appropriate. The credit union is presumed to have consented to this action and may not contest it.

(m) The period of suspension and the date and time of the hearings provided for by this section may be extended by agreement of the parties and the commissioner.

Art. 2461-10.02. Liquidation

(a) The commissioner may issue an order of liquidation appointing a liquidating agent, and directing that the credit union be liquidated, after he has issued an order of suspension and provided an opportunity for hearing as provided in Section 10.01 of this Act:

(1) if the board of directors of the credit union requests that an order of liquidation be issued and that the credit union be liquidated;

(2) if the credit union otherwise consents to the action; or

(3) if the commissioner finds that it is in the public interest and the best interest of the members, depositors, and creditors of the credit union that it be closed and its assets liquidated.

(b) Unless the commissioner has issued an order of liquidation, the board of directors of the credit union may adopt a resolution recommending that the credit union be dissolved voluntarily and directing that the question of liquidation be submitted to the members. Not later than five days after the day of the adoption of the resolution, the chairman shall notify the commissioner in writing setting forth the reasons for the proposed liquidation. A majority of the credit union members voting at a meeting specially called to consider the matter, but not less than a quorum, may vote to dissolve and liquidate the credit union. Notwithstanding any other law or the articles of incorporation or bylaws of the credit union, notice of the special meeting to consider the matter of liquidation shall be mailed, by first-class mail, to each member of the credit union and to the commissioner not later than 10 days before the day of the meeting. Immediately after the mailing of a notice of a special meeting called to consider the matter of liquidation, the credit union shall cease to operate except for the purposes of accepting payments on loans or other obligations due the credit union. If the vote to dissolve and liquidate the credit union passes, the credit union may do no further business except that incidental to liquidation. The chairman of the board or the president and the secretary shall, within five days following the meeting and the affirmative vote to dissolve and liquidate, notify the commissioner of intention to liquidate and shall include a list of the names of the directors and officers of the credit union together with their addresses. The board of directors shall appoint a liquidating agent for the purpose of conserving and collecting the assets of the credit union, winding up its affairs, discharging its debts, distributing its assets, and all other actions necessary and incidental to the liquidation of the credit union.

(c) The commissioner shall serve an order of liquidation in the same manner as provided for service of an order of suspension. At any time within five days after the commissioner served an order of liquidation, the credit union acting through its directors, as evidenced by a duly certified resolution of the board, may sue in the district court of the county in which the principal office of the credit union is located to enjoin the commissioner from liquidating the credit union if the credit union has not requested or consented to the order of liquidation. The court may, without notice or hearing, restrain the commissioner from liquidating the assets of such credit union pending hearing of the suit on the merits, and shall, in that event, instruct the commissioner to hold the assets of the credit union in the commissioner's possession and control pending final disposition of the suit. The commissioner may, with approval of the court, take such actions as may be necessary or proper to prevent loss or depreciation in the value of the assets. The court shall, as soon as possible, hear the suit on the merits and shall enter a judgment either enjoining the commissioner from liquidating the assets of the credit union or refusing an injunction. Appeal shall lie from the judgment as in other civil cases, but the commissioner, irrespective of the character of judgment entered by the trial court or of any supersedeas bond filed, shall retain possession and control of the assets of such credit union pending final disposition on appeal.

(d) The credit union in liquidation shall continue in existence for the purpose of discharging its debts, collecting and distributing its assets, and doing all acts required in order to wind up its business, and may sue and be sued for the purpose of enforcing such debts and obligations until its affairs are fully adjusted. The liquidating agent shall use the assets of the credit union to pay, in the following order:

(1) expenses incidental to liquidation including any surety bond that may be required;

(2) any liability due nonmembers;

(3) depositors; and

(4) distributions to members proportionate to the shares held by each member.

(e) Subject to the rules adopted by the commissioner, and under the supervision of the commissioner, the liquidating agent shall:

(1) receive and take possession of the books, records, assets, and property of the credit union in liquidation; sell, enforce collection of, and liquidate all assets and property; compound all bad or doubtful debts; sue in the name of the liquidating agent or in the name of the credit union in liquidation; and defend actions brought against the liquidating agent or against the credit union;

(2) receive, examine, and pass on all claims against the credit union in liquidation, including claims of members on share;

(3) make distribution and payment to creditors and members as their interests may appear;

(4) execute such documents and papers and do such other acts and things that the liquidating agent may deem necessary or desirable to discharge his duties;

(5) cause notice to be given to creditors and members to present and make legal proof of their claims, which notice must be published once a week in each of three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in each county where the credit union in liquidation maintained an office or branch for the transaction of business on the date it ceased unrestricted operations; except that when the aggregate book value of the assets and property of the credit union in liquidation is less than $10,000, the commissioner shall declare the credit union in liquidation to be a "no publication" liquidation, and publication notice to creditors and members is not required in such case;

(6) from time to time make a ratable liquidation dividend on all claims that have been proved to the satisfaction of the board of directors or the liquidating agent or adjusted in a court of competent jurisdiction and, after the assets of the credit union have been liquidated, make further liquidation dividends on all claims previously proved or adjusted (the statement of any amount due to the creditor as shown on the books and records of the credit union may be accepted in lieu of a formal proof of claim on behalf of any creditor or member); but all claims not filed before payment of the final dividend are barred; claims rejected or disallowed by the liquidating agent are also barred unless suit is instituted within three months after notice of rejection or disallowance; and

(7) in a "no publication" liquidation, determine from all sources available, and within the limits of available funds of the credit union, the amounts due to creditors and members, and after 60 days have elapsed from the date of appointment of the liquidating agent distribute the funds of the credit union to creditors and members ratably and as their interests may appear.

(f) The commissioner shall prescribe the certificate to be completed by the liquidating agent attesting to liquidation, that distribution has been made and that liquidation has been completed. The commissioner, on receipt and approval of the certificate, shall cancel the certificate of incorporation of the credit union. The corporate existence of the credit union shall continue for a period of three years from the date of cancellation of its certificate of incorporation, during which period the liquidating agent, or any duly appointed successor, or such persons as the commissioner may designate, may act on behalf of the credit union for the purpose of paying, satisfying, and discharging any existing liabilities or obligations, collecting and distributing its assets, and doing all other acts required to adjust and wind up its business and affairs, and it may sue and be sued in its corporate name.

(g) If the commissioner finds that the liquidating agent has failed to properly perform his duties in a timely and efficient manner or has violated this Act or any rule adopted under this Act, the commissioner may take possession and control of the books, records, property, assets, and business of the credit union in liquidation by issuing an order of removal. The order shall remove the liquidating agent and appoint a successor liquidating agent to complete the process of liquidation and the winding up of the affairs of the credit union subject to the supervision and control of the commissioner. The order of removal shall be served on the liquidating agent being removed and is effective immediately on service. The commissioner shall also fill any vacancy caused by the resignation, death, illness, removal, desertion, or incapacity to function of the liquidating agent.

(h) Unless the commissioner grants prior approval in writing, no liquidating agent may acquire any of the assets of the credit union in liquidation or purchase any loans of the credit union. No liquidating agent may obtain from the liquidation any compensation or profit for personal benefit, whether directly, indirectly, for the benefit of any member of the liquidating agent's family or any person related to or associated with the liquidating agent, or for the benefit of any business enterprise with which the liquidating agent is associated, except for the credit union in liquidation. The liquidating agent may receive reasonable compensation and nothing in this Act shall prevent compensation of the liquidating agent or those salaried employees and salaried officers of the credit union during the pendency of the liquidation, which payments shall be considered expenses incidental to liquidation.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Act 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2323, ch. 421, § eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2461-10.03. Merger or Consolidation

(a) A credit union may, in accordance with rules adopted by the commission and with the approval of the commissioner, merge or consolidate with any other credit union, under the existing articles of incorporation of the other credit union or otherwise, pursuant to a plan agreed to by the majority of the board of directors of each credit union joining in the merger or consolidation and approved by a majority of the members of each credit union voting at the meetings of members called for that purpose. The commissioner may waive the requirement that the plan be approved by the members of either credit union.

(b) After agreement by the directors and approval by the members, if applicable, of each credit union, the president and secretary of each credit union shall execute a certificate of merger or consolidation containing the following information:

(1) the time and place of the meeting of the board of directors at which the plan of merger or consolidation was agreed to;

(2) the vote of the board of directors in favor of and against the adoption of the plan;

(3) a copy of the resolution or other action by which the plan of merger or consolidation was agreed to;

(4) the time and place of the meeting of the members at which the plan was approved, if applicable;

(5) the vote of the membership in favor of and against approval of the plan, if applicable; and

(6) the name of the surviving credit union.

(c) The merging credit union or a consolidating credit union shall submit the certificates and a copy of the plan of merger or consolidation to the commissioner. On approving the merger or consolidation, the commissioner shall return the certificates and plan to the merging or consolidating credit unions. However, the commissioner may make his approval of a merger or consolidation conditional, and, in this event, shall set out the condition in his order approving the merger or consolidation. The commissioner may not deliver the approved certificate until the condition has been met. If the commissioner disapproves the merger or consolidation, or imposes a condition, the merging or consolidating credit unions may appeal the commissioner's decision to the commission in the same manner as provided for an appeal on an application to incorporate a credit union.

(d) After a merger or consolidation is effected, all property, property rights, and interests of the merged or consolidated credit union vest in the surviving credit union without deed, endorsement, or other instrument of transfer, and all debts, obligations, and liabilities of the merged or consolidated credit union are assumed by the surviving credit union under whose charter the merger or consolidation is effected.

(e) This section shall be construed, whenever possible, to permit a credit union authorized to do business in this state under any other act to merge or consolidate with one authorized to do business under this Act.

(f) Notwithstanding any other law, the commissioner may authorize a merger or consolidation of a credit union that is insolvent or is in danger of insolvency with another credit union or may authorize a credit union to purchase any of the assets of, or assume any of the liabilities of, another credit union that is insolvent or in danger of insolvency if the commissioner is satisfied that:

(1) an emergency requiring expeditious action exists with respect to the credit union that is insolvent or in danger of insolvency;

(2) other options are not reasonably available; and

(3) the public interest would best be served by approval of the merger, consolidation, purchase, or assumption.

Art. 2461-10.04. Conversion

(a) A credit union organized under the laws of this state may convert to a credit union under the laws of the United States on an affirmative vote by a majority of the members voting at a meeting called for that purpose, and by complying with rules adopted by the commission to facilitate the conversion, if any.

(b) A credit union organized under the laws of this state may convert to a credit union under the laws of another state on an affirmative vote by a majority of the members voting at a meeting called for that purpose, and by complying with rules adopted by the commission, if any.

(c) A credit union organized under the laws of the United States or of another state may convert to a credit union organized under the laws of this state by complying with the requirements of the jurisdiction under which it is organized and the rules adopted by the commission.

CHAPTER 11. REGULATORY BODY

Art. 2461-11.01. Credit Union Commission

(a) The Credit Union Commission consists of nine members. The commission shall supervise, consult with, advise, and make recommendations to the commissioner. The jurisdiction, authority, powers, and duties previously conferred and imposed by law on the Banking Commissioner in relation to the management, control, regulation, and general supervision of credit unions are conferred and imposed on the commission and the commissioner.

(b) The Credit Union Department is composed of the Credit Union Commission and a Credit Union Commissioner, together with other officers and employees within the department. The department shall supervise and shall regulate, as provided in this Act, all credit unions organized under the laws of the State of Texas. The department shall periodically make comprehensive studies of the statutes of this state as they pertain to credit union operations. The commissioner shall report the recommendations of the department when and as necessary to the legislature for consideration. During January of each year, the department shall file with the governor and the presiding officer of each house of the legislature a complete and detailed written report accounting for all funds received and disbursed by the department during the preceding year. The state auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the department during each fiscal year.

(c) The Credit Union Commission is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1995.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1841, ch. 735, § 2.068, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 406, ch. 169, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1981; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2332, ch. 421, § 50, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Section 4 of the 1981 Act provides:

"Promptly after the effective date of this Act, the governor shall appoint the three additional members of the Credit Union Commission authorized by this Act. In making the appointments, the governor shall designate one for a term that expires February 15, 1983, one for a term that expires February 15, 1985, and one for a term that expires February 15, 1987."

Art. 2461-11.02. Eligibility of Members

(a) Six members of the commission must be individuals who are currently engaged in the exercise of the duties, responsibilities, rights, and powers of a duly authorized director, officer, or committee member of a credit union that is organized and doing business in this state under this Act or the Federal Credit Union Act¹ and that has its principal office in this state, and who have five years or more of active experience as such a director, officer, or committee member. Experience as a commissioner, deputy commissioner, or examiner is equivalent to the type of experience required by this subsection.

If a person holding a position in accordance with this subsection ceases to be engaged in the exercise of the duties, responsibilities, rights, and powers prescribed by this subsection for a period exceeding 90 days, the person is ineligible to serve as a member and the person's position on the commission is vacant.

(b) Three members of the commission are representatives of the general public. An individual appointed to serve in that capacity may not, at the time of the individual's appointment to or while serving on the commission:

(1) be engaged in the management or direction of a financial institution, such as a credit union, bank, or savings and loan association; or

(2) have, other than as a member or customer, a financial interest in a financial institution, such as a credit union, bank, or savings and loan association.

(c) No two members of the commission may be residents of the same state senatorial district.

(d) A person currently serving as chairman, first vice-chairman, president, vice-president, secretary, or treasurer of a state trade association in the credit union industry, or an employee of such an organization, may not serve as a member of the commission.

(e) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973 (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not serve as a member of the commission or act as the general counsel to the commission.

112 U.S.C.A. § 1751 et seq.

Art. 2461-11.03. Appointment and Terms of Members

(a) The members of the commission are appointed, without regard to race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin, by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, for terms of six years, with the terms of three members expiring February 15 of each odd-numbered year. The governor shall appoint the members who are representatives of the general public on the basis of recognized business ability.

(b) Each member serves until the member's successor is appointed and qualified.

Art. 2461-11.04. Vacancies; Removal

(a) The office of a member of the commission becomes vacant on January 1 if the member failed to attend more than one-half of the meetings of the commission held during the preceding calendar year, excluding any meetings held before the member assumed office.

(b) The governor may remove a member from the member's position on the commission for neglect of duty, incompetence, or fraudulent or criminal conduct.

(c) It is grounds for removal from the commission if a member violates a prohibition established by Section 11.02(e) of this Act.

(d) The office of a member of the commission is vacant in the event of the death, resignation, or removal of the member, or if the member ceases to have the qualifications necessary to serve as a member.

(e) In the event of a vacancy on the commission for any cause, the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, shall promptly appoint a qualified person to fill the unexpired term.

(f) The validity of an action of the commission is not affected by the fact that it was taken when a ground for removal of a member of the commission existed.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 406, ch. 169, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1981; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2335, ch. 421, § 52, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2461-11.05. Compensation; Expenses of Members

(a) Notwithstanding any other law, a member of the commission may not receive any compensation or benefit, except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, as a result or by virtue of the member's service as a member.

(b) Each member of the commission is entitled to per diem, as set by legislative appropriation, for each day that the member engages in the business of the commission.

Art. 2461-11.06. Meetings

(a) The commission shall hold regular meetings at least twice each year. The chairman of the commission, the commissioner, or any five members of the commission may call special meetings. The commission shall adopt reasonable rules governing the time and place of meetings and the conduct of all meetings, including the form in which minutes of the meetings are maintained. All meetings of the commission are subject to the Open Meetings Law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(b) A majority of the membership of the commission constitutes a quorum for the purpose of transacting any business.

(c) The commission shall annually elect one of its members to serve as chairman. The chairman shall preside at all meetings of the commission.

(d) The commissioner shall attend meetings of the commission and shall preside in the absence of the chairman. The commissioner may not vote at any meeting.

(e) No commission member may act on matters under consideration which directly and specifically relate to any credit union of which the member of the commission is an officer, director, or member.

Art. 2461-11.07. Rulemaking Power

(a) The commission may adopt reasonable rules necessary for the administration of this Act, and in doing so, may exercise its discretion to regulate and classify credit unions according to criteria that the commission determines are appropriate and necessary to accomplish the purposes of this Act, including, but not limited to, the character of field of membership, amount of assets, number of members, or financial condition.

(b) All rules adopted under this Act must be adopted in accordance with the rulemaking provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(c) The commission shall promulgate reasonable rules to prescribe all supervision fees, charges, and revenues required to be paid by credit unions authorized to do business under this Act.

Art. 2461-11.08. Credit Union Commissioner

(a) The commission shall appoint, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the membership, a Credit Union Commissioner who shall serve as an employee and at the pleasure of the commission.

(b) The commissioner must have at least 5 years' practical experience in the operation of credit unions within the 10 years immediately preceding his appointment. The experience may consist of experience in the exercise of the duties, responsibilities, rights, and powers of a duly authorized director, officer, or committee member of a credit union or in the employment of a credit union regulatory agency.

(c) The commissioner may not be:

(1) a salaried officer, salaried employee, or salaried consultant of a trade association in the credit union industry; or

(2) related within the second degree by affinity or consanguinity to a person who is a salaried officer, salaried employee, or salaried consultant of a trade association in the credit union industry.

Art. 2461-11.09. Deputy Credit Union Commissioner

Subject to the approval of the commission, the commissioner may appoint a Deputy Credit Union Commissioner. The deputy commissioner must meet the same qualifications as does the commissioner. The deputy commissioner, if any, shall serve at the pleasure of the commissioner. He may exercise, at the direction of the commissioner, all the powers and prerogatives of the commissioner and shall perform all the duties of the commissioner during the commissioner's absence or inability to act.

Art. 2461-11.10. Powers of Credit Union Commissioner

(a) On the appointment and qualification of a commissioner, the commissioner shall supervise and regulate all credit unions doing business in this state, except federal credit unions organized and existing under federal law, in accordance with this Act and the rules and regulations promulgated under this Act.

(b) The commissioner shall enforce the provisions of this Act and the rules and regulations promulgated from time to time.

Text of (c) effective until September 1, 1985

(c) The commissioner shall levy and collect all supervision fees, charges, and revenues required to be paid by credit unions as provided by Subsection (c), Section 11.07, of this Act.

Text of (c) effective September 1, 1985

(c) The commissioner shall levy and collect all supervision fees, charges, and revenues required to be paid by credit unions as provided by Subsection (c), Section 11.07, of this Act. All money collected under this Act shall be deposited in the credit union department expense fund, which is created as a special fund in the state treasury. Money in the fund may be used only for the administration of this Act. Income earned on the money deposited in the credit union department expense fund shall be credited to that fund.

(d) Repealed by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2337, ch. 463, § 57, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.

(e) The commission shall promulgate, and the commissioner shall enforce, reasonable rules requiring credit unions to provide or cause to be provided share and deposit insurance protection for their members and depositors, including the authorization and establishment of a share and deposit guaranty corporation or credit union under the exclusive regulation of the department to enable the department to carry out the purposes of this Act. Share and deposit insurance protection may also be provided through other sources approved by the department, including such a program of the National Credit Union Administration.

Text of (f) and (g) effective until September 1, 1985

(f) The commissioner shall supervise the establishment and maintenance of files regarding complaints about credit unions received by the department. The files must include all relevant information regarding the nature, status, and disposition of the complaints. The commissioner shall take the steps that the commissioner determines to be necessary to notify each complainant of the procedures and remedies available for the resolution of complaints and to periodically inform each complainant of the status of his complaint.

(g) The commissioner shall supervise the preparation of information regarding the regulatory functions of the department, procedures for resolution of complaints, and other matters of general interest regarding the credit union movement and shall supervise the dissemination of that information to the general public.

Text of (f) and (g) effective September 1, 1985

(f) The commissioner shall supervise the establishment and maintenance of files regarding complaints about credit unions received by the department. The files must include all relevant information regarding the nature, status, and disposition of the complaints. The commissioner shall take the steps that the commissioner determines to be necessary to notify each complainant of the procedures and remedies available for the resolution of complaints. After a written complaint is filed, the commissioner, at least as frequently as quarterly and until final disposition of the complaint, shall notify the parties to the complaint of the status of the complaint unless the notice would jeopardize an undercover investigation.

(g) The commissioner shall supervise the preparation of information regarding the regulatory functions of the department, procedures for filing and resolution of complaints, and other matters of general interest regarding the credit union movement and shall supervise the dissemination of that information to the general public and appropriate state agencies.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2919, ch. 707, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 406, ch. 169, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1981; Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2336, ch. 421, § 54, eff. Sept. 1, 1985; § 57, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Section 59(b) of the 1983 amendatory act provides:

"Section 54 of this Act takes effect September 1, 1985, except that for purposes of preparation by the commissioner of a proposed budget for the 1985-1987 state fiscal biennium and action on that proposed budget by the commission, Section 54 takes effect

January 1, 1984. All funds in the custody of the department that are subject to Subsection (c), Section 11.10, Texas Credit Union Act (Article 2461-11.10(c), Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), on September 1, 1985, shall be transferred to the state treasurer on that date for deposit to the credit of the credit union department expense fund."

Art. 2461-11.10A. Restrictions on Members and Commissioner

A member of the commission or the commissioner may not communicate directly or indirectly with a party or the representative of a party to any proceeding before the commission or the commissioner if such a communication violates the provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), relating to ex parte communications.

Art. 2461-11.11. Credit Union Examiners

Subject to recruitment and qualifications approved by the commission, the commissioner shall appoint credit union examiners in sufficient number to perform fully the duties and responsibilities under this Act and the laws of this state.

Art. 2461-11.12. Annual Examination

(a) The department, by and through its duly appointed examiners and in accordance with the rules adopted by the commission, shall perform periodic examinations of the books and records of each credit union authorized to do business under this Act. The officers, directors, agents, and employees of each credit union shall furnish the examiner full and free access to all books, papers, securities, records, and other sources of information that relate to the business of the credit union. The commissioner or any examiner may summon witnesses or administer oaths or affirmations in the examination of the credit union, its officers, directors, agents, or employees, or any other person concerning the credit union's business, transactions, and condition and may compel the production of books, papers, securities, records, or other documents by court order if they are not voluntarily produced.

(b) All information, except statements intended for publication, obtained by the department relative to the financial conditions of credit unions, whether obtained through examination or otherwise, and all files and records of the department relative to that information are confidential and not for public record or inspection. The commissioner may disclose to the commission any information, files, or records pertinent to any hearing or matter pending before the commission or the commissioner. If the commissioner determines it is necessary or proper for the enforcement of the laws of this state applicable to credit unions or rules adopted under those laws, the commissioner may disclose any files, records, or other information of the department to the Texas Share Guaranty Credit Union or any department, agency, or instrumentality of this state or the United States.

(c) Examiners shall report results of each examination on a form prescribed by the commissioner and approved by the commission. The examiner shall include in the report a general statement of the affairs of the credit union. The department shall send a copy of the report to the board of directors of the credit union examined within 30 days after the examination. Each credit union shall pay an examination fee established by the commission and based on the costs of performing the examination.

Art. 2461-11.13. Oaths of Office; Bond

The commissioner, the deputy commissioner, if any, each credit union examiner, and every other officer and employee of the commission, shall, before assuming the duties of office, take an oath and make fidelity bond in the sum of $10,000 payable to the governor and all successors in the office of governor, in individual, schedule, or blanket form, executed by a surety appearing on the list of approved sureties acceptable to the United States government. Each oath and bond required under this Act must be in a form approved by the commission. The premiums for the bond are paid out of the funds of the department.

Art. 2461-11.14. Defense by Attorney General

The attorney general shall defend any action brought against any member of the commission or against any of its officers or employees by reason of the official act or omission of the person, whether or not the person is a member, officer, or employee of the commission at the time of the initiation of the action. Suits against the commission, its officers, or employees shall be brought in Travis County, Texas, and not elsewhere.

Art. 2461-11.15. Compensation of Employees

The commissioner, the deputy commissioner, if any, each examiner, and every other officer of the commission, except commission members, are employees of the commission, subject to its orders and directions, and are entitled to receive compensation fixed by the commission, but in no event may any employee receive compensation exceeding that paid to the governor. The compensation is paid from funds of the department.

Art. 2461-11.16. Transfers to General Revenue Fund

The department shall transfer $1,000 each year to the general revenue fund to cover the costs of governmental service rendered by other departments.

Art. 2461-11.17. Exemption from Securities Laws

Credit unions, whether authorized to do business under this Act or the Federal Credit Union Act,¹ their officers, employees, and agents in the sale, issuance, or offering of any security issued by any state or federal credit union are exempt from the provisions of the laws of this state, other than as required by this Act, which provide for the supervision, registration, or regulation in connection with the sale, issuance, or offering of securities as the term is defined in Section 4, Securities Act, as amended (Article 581-4, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The sale, issuance, or offering of any such security is legal without any action or approval on the part of any official, other than the credit union commissioner, authorized to license, regulate, or supervise the sale, issuance, or offering of securities.

Art. 2461-11.18. Career Program; Performance Evaluation

(a) The commissioner or his designee shall develop an intra-agency career ladder program, one part of which shall be an intra-agency posting of all nonentry level positions for at least 10 days before any public posting.

(b) The commissioner or his designee shall develop a system of annual performance evaluations based on measurable job tasks. All merit pay for department employees must be based on the system established under this section.

Section 58 of the 1983 Act provides:

"The requirements under Section 11.18, Texas Credit Union Act (Article 2461-11.18, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as added by this Act, that the Credit Union Commissioner develop an intra-agency career ladder program and a system of annual performance evaluations shall be implemented before September 1, 1984. The requirement of that section that merit pay be based on the performance evaluation system shall be implemented before September 1, 1985."

CHAPTER 12. MISCELLANEOUS

Art. 2461-12.01. Hearings

The conduct of all hearings held under this Act and the judicial review of the final decisions following those hearings are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The commission may adopt rules of procedure consistent with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended, for the fair hearing and adjudication of all issues in a hearing held under this Act.

TITLE 46A

DECLARATORY JUDGMENTS

Art. 2524-1. Uniform Declaratory Judgments Act

Scope

Sec. 1. Courts of record within their respective jurisdictions shall have power to declare rights, status, and other legal relations whether or not further relief is or could be claimed. No action or proceeding shall be open to objection on the ground that a declaratory judgment or decree is prayed for. The declaration may be either affirmative or negative in form and effect; and such declarations shall have the force and effect of a final judgment or decree.

Power to Construe, Etc.

Sec. 2. Any person interested under a deed, will, written contract, or other writings constituting a contract, or whose rights, status, or other legal relations are affected by a Statute, municipal ordinance, contract, or franchise, may have determined any question of construction or validity arising under the instrument, Statute, ordinance, contract, or franchise and obtain a declaration of rights, status, or other legal relations thereunder.

Before Breach

Sec. 3. A contract may be construed either before or after there has been a breach thereof.

Executor, Etc.

Sec. 4. Any person interested as or through an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary, creditor, devisee, legatee, heir, next of kin, or cestui que trust, in the administration of a trust, or of the estate of a decedent, an infant, lunatic, or insolvent, may have a declaration of rights or legal relations in respect thereto:

(a) To ascertain any class of creditors, devisees, legatees, heirs, next of kin, or others; or

(b) To direct the executors, administrators, or trustees to do or abstain from doing any particular act in their fiduciary capacity; or

(c) To determine any question arising in the administration of the estate or trust, including questions of construction of wills and other writings.

Enumeration Not Exclusive

Sec. 5. The enumeration in Sections 2, 3, and 4 does not limit or restrict the exercise of the general powers conferred in Section 1, in any proceeding where declaratory relief is sought, in which a judgment or decree will terminate the controversy or remove an uncertainty.

Discretionary

Sec. 6. The Court may refuse to render or enter a declaratory judgment or decree where such judgment or decree, if rendered or entered, would not terminate the uncertainty or controversy giving rise to the proceeding.

Review

Sec. 7. All orders, judgments, and decrees under this Act may be reviewed as other orders, judgments, and decrees.

Supplemental Relief

Sec. 8. Further relief based on a declaratory judgment or decree may be granted whenever necessary or proper. The application therefor shall be by petition to a Court having jurisdiction to grant the relief. If the application be deemed sufficient, the Court shall, on reasonable notice, require any adverse party whose rights have been adjudicated by the declaratory judgment or decree, to show cause why further relief should not be granted forthwith.

Jury Trial

Sec. 9. When a proceeding under this Act involves the determination of an issue of fact, such issue may be tried and determined in the same manner as issues of fact are tried and determined in other civil actions in the Court in which the proceeding is pending.

Costs

Sec. 10. In any proceeding under this Act the Court may make such award of costs and reasonable and necessary attorney's fees as may seem equitable and just.

Parties

Sec. 11. When declaratory relief is sought, all persons shall be made parties who have or claim any interest which would be affected by the declaration, and no declaration shall prejudice the rights of persons not parties to the proceeding. In any proceeding which involves the validity of a municipal ordinance or franchise, such municipality shall be made a party, and shall be entitled to be heard, and if the Statute, ordinance, or franchise is alleged to be unconstitutional, the Attorney General of the State shall also be served with a copy of the proceeding and be entitled to be heard.

Construction

Sec. 12. This Act is declared to be remedial; its purpose is to settle and to afford relief from uncertainty and insecurity with respect to rights, status, and other legal relations; and is to be liberally construed and administered.

Words Construed

Sec. 13. The word "person," wherever used in this Act, shall be construed to mean any person, partnership, joint stock company, unincorporated association or society, or municipal or other corporation of any character whatsoever.

Provisions Severable

Sec. 14. The several Sections and provisions of this Act, except Sections 1 and 2, are hereby declared independent and severable, and the invalidity, if any, of any part or feature thereof shall not affect or render the remainder of the Act invalid or inoperative.

Uniformity of Interpretation

Sec. 15. This Act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those States which enact it, and to harmonize, as far as possible, with federal laws and regulations on the subject of declaratory judgments and decrees.

Short Title

Sec. 16. This Act may be cited as the Uniform Declaratory Judgments Act.

[Acts 1943, 48th Leg., p. 265, ch. 164. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 455, ch. 190, § 1, eff. May 25, 1981.]

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act applies only to actions filed on or after the effective date of this Act."

Art. 2525. Depository Board

Sec. 1. (a) The State Treasurer, as secretary, together with one (1) citizen of the state, appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, who shall serve for a term of two (2) years, the Banking Commissioner, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall constitute the State Depository Board.

(b) Appointment to the Board shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointee.

Sec. 2. (a) The citizen member or an employee of the Board may not be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the banking industry.

(b) The citizen member or an employee of the Board may not be related within the second degree by affinity or consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the banking industry.

(c) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), by virtue of his activities for compensation in or on behalf of a profession related to the operation of the Board may not serve as a citizen member of the Board or act as the general counsel to the Board.

(d) It is a ground for removal from the Board that the citizen member violates a prohibition established by this section. The validity of an action of the Board is not affected by the fact that it was taken when a ground for removal of the citizen member of the Board existed.

Sec. 3. Said Board shall have the right and the power to make and enforce such rules and regulations governing the establishment and conduct of State Depositories, the handling of funds therein, and the investment of state funds as the public interest may require, not inconsistent with the provisions of the laws governing such depositories and investments, which rules and regulations shall be in writing and entered upon the minutes of the Board.

Sec. 4. (a) Said Board shall have the power to determine and designate the amount of state funds to be deposited in State Depositories, the amount of deposits that shall be "demand deposits," the amount of deposits that shall be "time deposits," and the amount of state funds that shall be invested by the State Treasurer in security repurchase agreements or United States Treasury bills.

(b) The amount invested in United States Treasury bills at any one time may not exceed 10 percent of the average daily balance of all state funds eligible for deposit or investment under this article. Investments in security repurchase agreements may be made only with state or national banks domiciled in this state.

(c) The Board may contract with said depositories in regard to the payment of interest on "time or demand deposits" not to exceed such rate as may be lawful under any Act of Congress and such rules and regulations as may be promulgated by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

(d) The term "demand deposits," as used herein, shall mean any deposit which is payable on demand, and the term "time deposits," as used herein, shall mean any deposit with reference to which there is in force a contract that neither the whole nor any part of such deposit may be withdrawn by check or otherwise prior to the expiration of the period of notice which must be given in writing in advance of withdrawals. In this section, "security repurchase agreement" means an agreement to buy, hold for a specified time, and then sell back any of the following securities, obligations, or participation certificates: United States government securities; direct obligations of or obligations the principal and interest of which are guaranteed by the United States; and direct obligations of or participation certificates guaranteed by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, Federal Land Banks, Federal National Mortgage Association, Federal Home Loan Banks, and Banks for Cooperatives.

(e) Whenever the word "treasurer" is used in the statutes it shall mean the State Treasurer, and the word "Board" shall mean the State Depository Board.

Section 2(a) of the 1983 amendatory act provided:

"The amendment by this Act of Article 2525, Revised Statutes, takes effect September 1, 1983, except that the provisions designated as Sections 3 and 4 of the amended article take effect immediately. In all other respects, Article 2525 as it existed January 1, 1983, remains in effect until September 1, 1983."

Art. 2525a. Application of Other Laws

Sec. 1. The State Depository Board is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Unless continued in existence as provided by that Act, the board is abolished effective September 1, 1995.

Sec. 2. The Board is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1842, ch. 735, § 2.072, eff. Aug. 29, 1977. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 2671, ch. 463, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1983.]

Art. 2526. Notice to Banks

The Treasurer on the second Tuesday in September of each odd numbered year shall mail to each private, State, and National Bank doing business in this state, a circular letter, stating the conditions to be complied with by applicants for designation as a state depository. The Treasurer shall keep on file in his office for the inspection of any person desiring to see the same a list of the banks to which the letters have been sent. Designation of depositories shall be for a period of two years' time. If it develops that more depositories are required at any time, the Board may send out notices to all private, State, and National Banks notifying them that further application for funds for the unexpired term will be accepted, or additional funds allotted to existing depositories upon application therefor. Said additional depositories shall comply with the same rules and conditions regarding all other depositories; provided, however, that regardless of any provision of law to the contrary, any savings and loan association domiciled in this state shall be entitled to the notice to be given under this article and may apply for state funds as provided in Article 2527 and may be accepted and designated as a state depository upon qualification as required by Article 2529, and thereupon shall have all the rights and privileges of a state depository as well as the obligations and liabilities thereof under Articles 2525, 2525a, 2526, 2527, 2528, 2529, 2530, 2531, 2532, 2533, 2534, 2535, 2537, 2543d, Revised Statutes, as amended; Section 1, Chapter 180, Acts of the 44th Legislature, Regular Session, 1935 (Article 2529a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); Section 1, Chapter 322, Acts of the 44th Legislature, Regular Session, 1935; Chapter 726, Acts of the 67th Legislature, Regular Session, 1981; Chapter 179, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967; Section 1, Chapter 302, Acts of the 53rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1953; Section 1, Chapter 231, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1931; Section 1, Chapter 131, Acts of the 48th Legislature, Regular Session, 1943; and Section 1, Chapter 216, Acts of the 50th Legislature, Regular Session, 1947 (Articles 2529b, 2529b-1, 2529c, 2530a, 2543a, 2543b, 2543b-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Any depository whose accounts or deposits are insured in accordance with the laws of the United States may qualify as a depository and accept state funds to the extent of such insurance, regardless of the amount of its paid-up capital stock and permanent surplus, if any, and further provided that not more than 20 percent of the aggregate funds on deposit at any one time shall be in depository institutions other than banks.

Art. 2527. Application for Deposits

The application of the bank applying for State funds shall state its amount of paid up capital stock and permanent surplus, or in the instance of a private bank, the amount of net proprietorship, and the maximum of State funds it will accept, accompanying same with a statement of the Bank's condition at the date of said application. Such application shall contain a provision that the books and accounts of such bank, if designated as a State Depository, shall be open at all times to the inspection of the Board, any member or any accredited representative thereof. All such applications shall be mailed to the Treasurer at Austin in time to reach his office on or before noon of the fifteenth day of October next succeeding. Applications received after said date may be considered at the option of the Board.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 319, ch. 164, § 1; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 3057, ch. 1017, § 2, eff. June 15, 1971.]

Art. 2528. Acceptance

When the Treasurer receives such application, he shall endorse thereupon the date of its receipt, and shall in November prepare three (3) lists giving the names of all applicants for funds and the amount applied for. One list shall be furnished each member of the Board. The Board shall meet on the first Monday in November thereafter, and consider said applications, giving approval to those applicants that are acceptable, and having the power to reject those whose management or condition, in the opinion of the Board, does not warrant the placing of State funds in their possession. Any private, State, or National Bank doing business in this state may be accepted. No application for State funds shall be granted to any bank whose liabilities for borrowed money are in excess of its capital stock, but the Board may in its discretion, waive this provision.

Art. 2529. Qualifications of Depositories

As soon as practicable after the Board shall have passed upon said applications, the Treasurer shall notify all banks whose applications have been accepted, of their designation as State Depositories of state funds. The Treasurer shall require each bank so designated to qualify as a State Depository on or before the 25th day of November next, by (a) depositing a depository bond signed by some surety company authorized to do business in Texas, in an amount equal to not less than double the amount of state funds allotted, such bond to be payable to the Treasurer and to be in such form as may be prescribed by the Board and subject to the approval of such Board; or (b) by pledging with the Treasurer any securities of the following kinds: bonds and certificates and other evidences of indebtedness of the United States, and all other bonds which are guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the United States; bonds of this state; bonds and other obligations issued by The University of Texas; warrants drawn on the State Treasury against the General Revenue of the state; bonds issued by the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, provided both principal and interest of said bonds are guaranteed by the United States government; shares or share accounts of any building and loan association organized under the laws of this state, provided the payment of such shares or share accounts is insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and in the shares or share accounts of any Federal Savings and Loan Association domiciled in this state, provided the payment of such shares or share accounts is insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation; Home Owners Loan Corporation Bonds, provided both principal and interest of said bonds are guaranteed by the United States government, and such securities shall be accepted by the Board in an amount not less than five per cent (5%) greater than the amount of state funds which they secure; provided, that Texas Relief Bonds may be accepted at face value and without margin for the amount of state funds allotted, provided such State Relief Bonds have all unmaturing coupons attached; bonds of counties located in Texas; road districts of counties in Texas; independent and common school districts located in Texas; bonds of any hospital district created under the laws of this state; tax bonds issued by municipal corporations in Texas; and bonds issued by a municipal corporation where the payment of such bonds is secured by a pledge of the net revenues of a utility system or systems (limited to those utility systems now authorized to be encumbered under the provisions of Articles 1111-1118a, Revised Civil Statutes, as amended, inclusive). All of such securities may be accepted by the Board, provided the aggregate amount thereof is not less than twenty per cent (20%) greater than the total amount of state funds that they secure; provided that the amount of all bonds and other obligations offered as collateral shall be determined by the Board on the basis of either their par or market value, whichever is less. The term "market value" as used herein shall mean the fair and reasonable prevailing price at which said bonds are being sold on the open market at the time of the appraisalment of the securities by the Board; and the action of the Board in fixing the valuation of said bonds shall be final, and not subject to review.

No state, county, road district bond, independent or common school district or municipal bonds, bonds of any hospital district created under the laws of this state, or obligations of the Board of Regents of the University issued by The University of Texas, shall be accepted as collateral security unless they shall be approved by the Attorney General. All bonds accepted as collateral security shall be registered under the same rules and regulations as are required for bonds in which the Permanent School Funds are invested. Subject to the approval of the Board, a state depository may secure its deposits of state funds in part by an acceptable surety bond and in part by acceptable collateral of the kind herein mentioned, and any losses sustained where a depository has secured its deposits in part by collateral and in part by a surety bond, the loss may be enforced against either the collateral security or the surety bond. No warrant drawn on the State Treassury shall be accepted as collateral unless said warrants are accompanied by affidavits, sworn to by some officer of the bank offering said warrants, which said affidavits shall affirm that none of the warrants offered as collateral security were transferred or assigned by the original payees of said warrants, or any of them, for a less consideration than ninety-eight per cent (98%) of the face value of said warrants, and that none of such warrants were obtained from the original payee by loaning money thereon at a rate of interest greater than eight per cent (8%) per annum. The Board shall have the power to reject any and all collateral or surety bonds tendered by a state depository, without assigning any reason therefor, and its action in so doing shall be final and not subject to review. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions requiring security for state funds deposited in state depositories in the form of surety bond or collateral, security for such deposits shall not be required to the extent that said deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation under the provisions of Section 12b of the Federal Reserve Act as amended,¹ or as the same may hereafter be amended.

In the event the market value of the securities pledged by any depository shall decrease to the point where the collateral value of said securities, as fixed by the Board, is less than the amount of said funds on deposit in said depository, the Board shall require additional security in order to equalize such depreciation.

When the collateral pledged by a state depository to secure a deposit of state funds shall be in excess of the amount required under the provisions of this Act, the Treasurer may, subject to the approval of the Board, permit the release of any such excess. In the event the balance to the credit of the Treasurer on the books of such bank shall be thereafter increased, adequate security, as provided for in this Act, shall be deposited and maintained by such depository bank.

Art. 2529a. Exemption of Banks From Furnishing Security for Deposits to Extent Deposits are Insured

Notwithstanding any provision of law of this State or of any political subdivision thereof requiring security for deposits in the form of collateral, surety bond or in any other form, security for such deposits shall not be required to the extent said deposits are insured under the provisions of Section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended,¹ or any amendments thereto.

Art. 2529b. Pledge of Bonds of Home Owners' Loan Corporation

From and after the effective date of this Act, all bonds of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation which are guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the United States Government may be pledged in lieu of personal bonds or surety bonds as security for public funds on deposit in any depository which is now authorized by law to pledge securities in lieu of personal or surety bonds. Provided that the provisions of this Act shall be cumulative and in addition to all existing laws relating to depository bonds.

Art. 2529b-1. Investment Securities as Security for Deposits of State and Public Agencies

Sec. 1. The following terms, used in this Act, have the meanings set forth below:

(a) "Government securities" means direct obligations of the United States of America, obligations which in the opinion of the attorney general of the United States are general obligations of the United States and backed by its full faith and credit, obligations guaranteed by the United States of America, evidence of indebtedness of or participation certificates guaranteed by Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, Federal Land Banks, Banks for Cooperatives, Federal Farm Credit System, Federal Home Loan Banks, Federal National Mortgage Association, Federal Financing Bank Participation Certificates in the Federal Asset Financing Trust, New Housing Authority Bonds and Project Notes fully secured by contracts with the United States of America provided such term shall not include any obligation with a declining principal balance.

(b) "Investment securities" means (i) government securities or (ii) any general or special obligation issued by a public agency (approved by the attorney general of Texas) payable from taxes, revenues, either or both.

(c) "Public agency" means any board, authority, agency, department, commission, political subdivision, municipal corporation, district, public corporation, body politic, or instrumentality of the State of Texas, including without limitation any county, home-rule charter city, general-law city, town, or village, any state-supported educational institution of higher learning, any school, junior college, hospital, water, sewage, waste disposal, pollution, road, navigation, levee, drainage, conservation, reclamation, or other district or authority, and any other type of political or governmental entity of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. Investment securities or any ownership or beneficial interest therein shall be eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the State of Texas and any public agency to the extent of the market value thereof.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of all other existing laws, but shall be full and complete authority for investment securities to be eligible to secure public funds without reference to any other law.

[Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2674, ch. 726, eff. June 16, 1981.]

Art. 2529c. Selection and Qualification of Depositories of State Agencies and Political Subdivisions

Sec. 1. The selection and qualification of depositories for the deposit of public funds of all agencies and political subdivisions of the state shall be in accord with the laws now in effect and hereinafter enacted pertaining thereto.

Sec. 2. The fact that an employee or officer of a state agency or political subdivision, who is not charged with the duty of selecting the depository thereof, is an officer, director or stockholder of a bank shall not disqualify said bank from serving as the depository of said state agency or subdivision.

A bank shall not be disqualified from bidding and becoming the depository for any agency or political subdivision of the state by reason of having one or more officers, directors or stockholders of said bank who individually or collectively own or have a beneficial interest in not more than 10 percent of the bank's outstanding capital stock, and at the same time serves as a member of the board, commission, or other body charged by law with the duty of selecting the depository of such state agency or political subdivision; provided, however, that said bank must be selected as the depository by a majority vote of the members of the board, commission, or other body of such agency or political subdivision and no member thereof who is an officer, director, or stockholder of the bank shall vote or participate in the proceedings. Common-law rules in conflict with the terms and provisions of this Act are hereby modified as herein provided, but this Act shall never be deemed to alter, change, amend or supersede the provisions of any home-rule city charter which is in conflict herewith.

Art. 2530. Deposit of Securities

In the event the State Depository, as designated in the preceding Article, shall elect to deposit said pledged securities, above mentioned, with the State Treasurer, the said securities shall be delivered to the Treasurer and receipted for by him, and retained by him in the vaults of the State Treasury. Provided, however, that such bank so designated as depository shall have the option, instead of depositing said pledged securities with the State Treasurer, of depositing same with another State or National Bank situated in the State, subject to the approval of the Board; said securities to be held in trust by said custodian bank to secure funds deposited by the State Treasurer in the State Depository bank. Upon the receipt of said securities, said custodian bank shall immediately issue and deliver to the State Treasurer controlled trust receipts for said securities pledged to the State Treasurer. The security evidenced by such trust receipts shall be subject to inspection by the Board or its agents at any time deemed advisable by said Board. Said custodian bank shall have a capital stock and permanent surplus of not less than Five Hundred Thousand ($500,000.00) Dollars, and said bank designated as depository shall itself defray the charges, if any, of such custodian bank for accepting and holding said securities.

A State Depository bank shall also have the option of depositing said pledged securities with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas; such securities to be held by said Bank to secure funds deposited by the State Treasurer in the State Depository bank. When such pledged securities are so deposited and subject to the approval of the Board, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas may apply book entry procedures to the pledged securities so held. The records of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas shall at all times reflect the name of the State Depository bank for whose account the pledged securities are so deposited, and an Advice of Transaction shall be issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas to the State Treasurer and the State Depository bank.

A custodian bank, holding in trust securities of a State Depository bank pledged to secure funds deposited by the State Treasurer in the State Depository bank as provided above, shall also have the option of depositing said pledged securities with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas provided that the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas is the third party to the transaction; such securities to be held by said Federal Reserve Bank to secure funds deposited by the State Treasurer in the State Depository bank. When such pledged securities held by a custodian bank are so deposited, and, subject to the approval of the Board, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas may apply book entry procedures to the pledged securities so held. The records of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas shall at all times reflect the name of the custodian bank for whose account the pledged securities are so deposited, and an Advice of Transaction or other document evidencing each deposit of securities shall be issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas to the custodian bank. The custodian bank shall immediately issue and deliver to the State Treasurer controlled trust receipts for said pledged securities. The trust receipt shall reflect that the custodian bank has deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas the pledged securities held in trust for the State Depository bank.

Subject to the approval of the Board, a State Depository may have the right to substitute one group of securities for another group of securities pledged with the State Treasurer, when and as such State Depository may desire to make such substitution, so long as the securities desired to be substituted by such bank shall come within the classification of securities acceptable under the terms of this Act.

If, in any case, or at any time, such bonds or other securities are not satisfactory security, in the opinion of the Board, for the deposits made under this Act, they may require such additional security to be given as will be satisfactory to them. Said Board shall, from time to time inspect such bonds and see that the same are actually kept in the vaults of the State Treasury and in said custodian banks. If the pledged securities are deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, the Board shall conduct such audits and inspections of the records of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas as may be reasonably necessary to verify the existence of and proper accounting for said pledged securities. In the event that any State Depository shall fail to pay deposits or any part thereof on the check of the Treasurer, he shall have the power to forthwith realize upon such bonds or other securities deposited by said bank, and disburse the money arising therefrom, according to law, upon the warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the funds for which said bonds or other securities were secured. Any bank making deposits of bonds or other securities with the Treasurer under the provisions of this Act may cause such bonds or other securities to be endorsed or stamped, as they may deem proper, so as to show that they are deposited as collateral and not transferable, except as herein provided.

Upon request of the owner or owners, the Treasurer or custodian bank may surrender interest coupons or other evidence of interest when due on securities deposited by depository banks, provided, said securities are ample to meet the requirements of the State.

Whenever any private bank now organized as provided for by the private banking laws of Texas should seek to become a depository for State funds or any other governmental agency, it shall agree in writing to submit itself to examination as to its solvency.

Art. 2530a. Deposit and Substitution of Securities; Acceptance of Certain Securities by Treasurer

In the deposit and exchange or substitution of securities by state depository banks under the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 47, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, the State Depository Board may authorize the State Treasurer to accept such securities offered for deposit and those securities offered for exchange of securities already on deposit without further action of said Board where such offered securities are bonds and certificates and other evidences of indebtedness of the United States and all other bonds which are guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the United States. [Acts 1953, 53rd Leg., p. 754, ch. 302, § 1.]

Art. 2531. Failure to Qualify

In case any bank that has submitted an application for State funds shall fail to qualify within the time specified in this Act after being notified to do so, it shall forfeit its right to act as a depository for a period of one year, at the option of the Board. [Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 319, ch. 164, § 1.]

Art. 2532. Placing Deposits

After the depositories have qualified as provided in the preceding articles, it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to deposit the funds belonging to the State in such depositories or to invest the funds as provided by Article 2525, Revised Statutes. Funds designated as time deposits shall be deposited in amounts considered appropriate by the Board. Funds designated as demand deposits shall be deposited only in banks designated as centrally located depositories and in any other depository considered appropriate by the Board, in amounts considered by the Board to be necessary to accommodate the State warrant activity in the area.

No depositories shall be entitled to keep on deposit State funds in an amount in excess of their paid up capital stock and permanent surplus. Any reduction in the capital stock and permanent surplus of any depository shall reduce correspondingly the amount of State funds which it can retain as a depository, and the Treasurer is authorized to withdraw from said depository any funds in excess of its capital and permanent surplus, provided, that where any depository shall pledge as security for State funds on deposit with it warrants drawn upon the State Treasury against the General Fund of this State as provided by Article 2529, and shall also make the proof required in such Article that such warrants were acquired by it as therein provided, then the limitation upon the amount of deposits that may be placed in said depository shall not apply, but the amount of said funds to be deposited in said depository shall be determined by the State Depository Board.

If there be a surplus after the awards are made, the surplus shall be prorated among the applying banks.

Such provisions, however, shall not affect arrangements for clearing checks made by said Board with State Depositories as hereinafter provided.

All State Depositories shall collect all checks, drafts and demands for money so deposited with them by the Treasurer and when using due diligence shall not be liable on such collections until the proceeds thereof have been duly received by the Depository Bank, provided, that any expense incurred in collection thereof by the Depository which the Depository is not allowed or permitted to pay by reason of any Act of the Congress of the United States or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder by either the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation shall be charged to and paid by the State Treasurer out of any moneys appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose.

The State Depositories shall show in their statements, published according to law, the amount of State funds on deposit with them.

Art. 2533. Centrally Located Depositories

The Board shall designate one or more banks which have been selected as State Depositories in centrally located cities to be used for clearing checks and other obligations due the State, and the Treasurer shall keep sufficient moneys on deposit in the "demand deposits" account in said Depositories to meet all current claims upon the State, and all items received by the Treasurer for collection shall be deposited with such Depositories to be credited to the "demand deposits" account in said banks, and all checks drawn by the Treasurer for the payment of obligations due by the State may be drawn on such accounts in such Depositories or on the "demand deposits" account in other State Depositories so that the checks of the State may at all times pass current as cash.

Art. 2534. Withdrawals

The funds on deposit with depositories shall be subject to withdrawal at any time by the Treasurer, except funds designated by the Board as "time deposits" which shall be withdrawn in the manner agreed upon in the contract under which such funds have been deposited.

Art. 2535. Remittances

All State Depositories shall remit free of charge, except such charges which depository is not allowed or permitted to pay by reason of any Act of the Congress of the United States or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder by either the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, to the Treasurer on his demand, all withdrawals of State funds as provided for in the preceding Article. All remittances to the Treasurer made by the State Depositories, or any person or persons may be in cash by registered and insured letter; by post office money order; express money order of any company authorized to do business in Texas, or by any bank draft on any bank in the following cities: Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Houston, Austin, Galveston and San Antonio. The liability of any State Depository or person sending the same shall not cease until the said money is actually received by the Treasurer. Any depository that refuses to remit for State items, or Treasury drafts, as above indicated, shall upon order of the Board forfeit its right to receive further deposits, and the Board shall have the right to withdraw all funds from said bank, which shall thereafter cease to be a State Depository.

Art. 2536. Repealed by Acts 1933, 43rd Leg., 1st C.S., p. 231, ch. 89, § 2

Art. 2537. Cancellation of Contracts

Each State Depository shall have the right to cancel its depository contract upon accounting to the Treasurer for all funds deposited with it at any time by giving thirty days' notice in advance.

The Board shall have the right to terminate a contract with the depository at any time they deem it to the interest of the state to do so, upon giving the depository fifteen days' notice of such termination. The Treasurer shall discontinue making deposits in any bank when in the opinion of the Board the condition or management of the bank warrants such action on his part.

Arts. 2540 to 2543. Repealed by Acts 1933, 43rd Leg., 1st C.S., p. 231, ch. 89, § 2

Art. 2543a. Investment of Funds by State Depository Board

The State Depository Board is hereby authorized and empowered to invest the permanent funds of the Texas School for the Blind, Texas School for the Deaf, Austin State Hospital, State Orphans' Home and any other permanent funds the investment of which is not otherwise provided for, whenever such permanent funds shall have as much as One Thousand Dollars ($1000) of funds on deposit with the State Treasurer which are not invested, and it is hereby made the duty of the State Depository Board to invest such funds in the same class of bonds as are authorized for investment of the Permanent School Fund.

Art. 2543b. Defense Bonds and Other United States Obligations; Investment of Bond Proceeds by State

Where the State of Texas has heretofore or hereafter accumulated funds for certain purposes and is unable to obtain labor or materials to carry out such purposes, such funds may be invested in defense bonds or other obligations of the United States of America; provided, however, that when war time or any other regulations shall permit the state to acquire the necessary labor and materials, the obligations of the United States in which said funds are invested shall be sold or redeemed and the proceeds of said obligations shall be used for the purpose for which the funds were originally authorized or collected.

Art. 2543b-1. Funds Accumulated But Not Usable Because of Labor and Material Shortages; Investment in United States Obligations

Where the State of Texas has heretofore or hereafter accumulated funds for certain purposes and is unable to obtain labor or materials to carry out such purposes, such funds may be invested in government bonds or other obligations of the United States of America; provided, however, that when other regulations shall permit the State to acquire the necessary labor and materials, the obligations of the United States in which said funds are invested shall be sold or redeemed and the proceeds of said obligations shall be used for the purpose for which the funds were originally authorized and collected.

See, now, Education Code, § 51.008.

Art. 2543d. Disposition of Interest on Time Deposits

Sec. 1. Interest received on account of time deposits of moneys in funds and accounts in the charge of the State Treasurer shall be allocated as follows: To each constitutional fund there shall be credited the pro rata portion of the interest received due to such fund. The remainder of the interest received, with the exception of that portion required by other statutes to be credited on a pro rata basis to protested tax payments, shall be credited to the General Revenue Fund. The interest received shall be allocated on a monthly basis.

Sec. 2. Whenever a deficit occurs in the General Revenue Fund, the State Treasurer may place with any designated depository bank an offsetting compensating balance in a special depository account known as "Special Demand Account Secured by General Revenue Warrants Only."

Sec. 3. As to the proper interpretation and application of this Article, the State Treasurer is entitled to rely upon the opinion and advice of the Attorney General.

Art. 2544. Notice to Banks

The Commissioners Court of each county is hereby authorized and required at the February Regular Term thereof next following each general election to enter into a contract with any banking corporation, association or individual banker in such county for the depositing of the public funds of such county in such bank or banks. Notice that such contracts will be made by the Commissioners Court shall be published by and over the name of the County Judge, once each week for at least twenty (20) days before the commencement of such term in some newspaper published in said county; and if no newspaper be published therein, then in any newspaper published in the nearest county. In addition thereto, notice shall be published by posting same at the courthouse door of said county.

Art. 2545. Application by Banks

Any banking corporation, association or individual banker in such county desiring to be designated as county depository shall make and deliver to the County Judge an application applying for such funds and said application shall state the amount of paid up capital stock and permanent surplus of said bank and there shall be furnished with said application a statement showing the financial condition of said bank at the date of said application which shall be delivered to the County Judge on or before the first day of the term of the Commissioners Court at which the selection of the depositories is to be made. Said application shall also be accompanied by a certified check for not less than one-half of one percent of the county's revenue for the preceding year as a guarantee of the good faith on the part of said bank, and that if said bank is accepted, as county depository, that it will enter into the bond hereinafter provided. Upon the failure of the banking corporation, association, or individual banker in such county that may be selected as depository, to give the bond required by law, the amount of such certified check shall go to the county as liquidated damages and the county judge shall readvertise for applications, if necessary, to obtain a county depository for said county.

Art. 2546. Selecting County Depository

It shall be the duty of the Commissioners Court at ten o'clock a.m. on the first day of each term at which banks are to be selected as county depositories, to consider all applications filed with the County Judge, cause such applications to be entered upon the minutes of the Court and to select those applicants that are acceptable and who offer the most favorable terms and conditions for the handling of such funds and having the power to reject those whose management or condition, in the opinion of the Court, does not warrant placing of county funds in their possession. The County Commissioners Court shall have the power to determine and designate the character and amount of county funds which will be deposited by it in said depositories that shall be "demand deposits" and what character and amount of funds shall be "time deposits," and may contract with said depositories in regard to the payment of interest on "time deposits" at such rate or rates as may be lawful under any Act of the Congress of the United States and any rule or regulations that may be promulgated by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. When the selection of a depository or depositories has been made, the checks of those applicants which have been rejected shall be immediately returned. The check or checks of the applicant or applicants whose applications are accepted shall be returned when said depository or depositories enter into and file the bond required by law and said bond has been approved by the Commissioners Court, and not until such bond is filed and approved. The term "demand deposits," as used herein, shall mean any deposit which is payable on demand, and the term "time deposits," as used herein, shall mean any deposit with reference to which there is in force a contract, that neither the whole nor any part of such deposit may be withdrawn by check or otherwise prior to the expiration of the period of notice which must be given in writing in advance of withdrawals.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 1298, ch. 484, § 1. Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 88, ch. 48, § 1, eff. April 15, 1981.]

Art. 2546a. Political Subdivisions; Designation of Outstate Depository; Prohibition

No governing body of a political subdivision of the State of Texas, including counties, municipalities, school districts, and other districts, may designate a financial institution located outside the State as a depository for funds under its jurisdiction; however, any institution selected as a paying agent for specific bonds or obligations shall not be considered a depository as set forth herein.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1240, ch. 305, eff. May 24, 1971.]

Art. 2547. Bonds

Within fifteen (15) days after the selection of such depository, it shall be the duty of the banking corporation, association or individual banker so selected, to qualify as county depository in one or more of the following ways, at the option of the Commissioners' Court:

(a) By executing and filing with the Commissioners' Court, a bond or bonds, payable to the County Judge and his successors in office, to be approved by the Commissioners' Court, and immediately thereafter filed in the office of the County Clerk of said county, said bond to be signed by not less than five (5) solvent sureties who shall own unencumbered real estate in this State not exempt from execution under the Constitution and laws of this State, of a value equal to, or in excess of, the amount of said bonds where there is more than one bond; said bond or bonds to be in an amount equal to the estimated highest daily balance of such county, as determined by the Commissioners' Court, such estimated daily balance to be in no event less than seventy-five (75%) per cent of the highest daily balance of said county for the next preceding year, less the amount of bond funds received and expended; provided, however, in the event that county funds derived from the sale of county securities during the term of such bond are deposited, such Commissioners' Court shall require additional bond and/or bonds, and/or pledge of securities equal to the amount of such additional county funds. The sureties shall file with the Commissioners' Court at the time of filing said bond or bonds, a statement containing a description of the unencumbered and non-exempt lands owned by them, sufficient to identify such lands on the ground, and such statement shall remain on file with the County Clerk and attached to such bond or bonds; and such statement shall contain a value of each tract of land so listed, together with the value of the improvements thereon.

(b) By having issued and executed by some solvent surety company or companies authorized to do business in the State of Texas, such bond or bonds, as provided by law, to be in the amount and payable as provided in subdivision (a) hereinabove, which said surety bond shall be approved by the Commissioners' Court, and filed in the office of the County Clerk of said county. Provided, however, such surety company or companies may be relieved of its or their obligation on thirty (30) days notice in writing to the Commissioners' Court, such bonding surety company or companies not to be relieved of any liability for loss sustained by the county prior to the expiration date of such bonds or bond; and provided further, in the event any surety company or companies shall ask to be relieved of such bond or bonds, such depository shall, previous to the termination date of such obligation of such surety company or companies, present further security acceptable to the County Commissioners' Court, and filed in the office of the County Clerk of said county, for the securing of county funds in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(c) In lieu of such personal bonds or surety bonds as above specified, said banking corporation, association or individual banker so selected as county depository, may pledge, and said depository bank is authorized to pledge with the Commissioners' Court for the purpose of securing such county funds, securities of the following kind, in an amount equal to the amount of such county funds on deposit in said depository bank, to-wit: bonds and notes of the United States, securities of indebtedness of the United States, and other evidences of indebtedness of the United States, when said evidences of indebtedness are supported by the full faith and credit of the United States of America, and other bonds or other evidences of indebtedness which are guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the United States Government, bonds of the State of Texas, or of any county, city, town, independent school district, common school district, or bonds issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act, or road district bonds, bonds, pledges or other securities issued by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, bank acceptances of banks having a capital stock of not less than Five Hundred Thousand ($500,000.00) Dollars, notes or bonds secured by mortgages insured and debentures issued by the Federal Housing Administrator of the United States Government, shares or share accounts of any building and loan association organized under the laws of this state, provided the payment of such shares or share accounts is insured by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation, and in the shares or share accounts of any Federal Savings & Loan Association domiciled in this state, provided the payment of such shares or share accounts is insured by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation; and bonds issued by municipal corporations in Texas, all said securities having a total market value equal to the amount of the depository bond; an amount of the following described securities not to exceed twenty-five (25%) per cent of the assessed value of the property in the county as shown by the certified tax roll for the preceding year, viz.: closed first mortgages on improved and unencumbered real estate situated in the State of Texas, provided such security so offered must be first approved by the Commissioners' Court; and before approving such a mortgage tendered as security for deposits, the Commissioners' Court shall require a written opinion by an attorney selected by the Court, showing that the lien so offered is superior to any and all other claims or rights in the property, and the Court shall also require that the improvements on each tract of real estate described in such mortgage be fully insured in some Stock Fire Insurance Company, or a Mutual Fire Insurance Company having One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars surplus in excess of all legal reserves and other liabilities, to be approved by the County Judge, with loss payable clause in favor of the County Judge, such mortgage as may be approved as acceptable security under the provisions of this Article shall be assigned to the County Judge by written instrument, duly acknowledged, and the same shall be placed of record forthwith in each county where any part of said real estate is situated; and as security for such deposits, unencumbered, improved real estate, subject to approval of Commissioners' Court, may be pledged directly by Deed of Trust executed to a trustee selected by the Commissioners' Court, with the County Judge as beneficiary; provided that the Court shall first require the written opinion of an attorney selected by the Court, showing that the lien offered as security for deposits is superior to any and all other claims or rights in the property; and provided further that the Court shall require that all improvements on any real estate, so pledged, be fully insured in a Stock Fire Insurance Company or a Mutual Fire Insurance Company having One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars surplus in excess of all legal reserves and other liabilities, approved by the County Judge, with loss payable clause in favor of the County Judge; and the Commissioners' Court shall investigate all real estate security and determine the value at which such real estate security as is herein described shall be accepted; provided that in no event shall such security be accepted as collateral at a value in excess of fifty (50%) per cent of the reasonable market value of the real property covered by such mortgages, except where such mortgages are insured or guaranteed by the Federal Housing Administrator of the United States; and such real estate security as herein described may be withdrawn and replaced by other real estate securities meeting the requirements of this Act, or any class of securities above enumerated, provided all such withdrawals, substitutions and replacements must be approved by the Commissioners' Court; and the County Judge shall execute such instruments as may be necessary to transfer to the depository or its order, all liens, so withdrawn, and said Commissioners' Court may accept said securities in lieu of such personal or surety bonds; and such securities so pledged by such depository bank shall be deposited as the Commissioners' Court may direct.

When the securities pledged by a depository bank to secure county funds shall be in excess of the amount required under the provisions of this Article, the Commissioners' Court shall permit the release of such excess; and when the county funds deposited with said depository bank shall for any reason, increase beyond the amount of securities pledged, said depository bank shall immediately pledge additional securities with the Commissioners' Court so that the securities pledged shall at no time be less than the total amount of county funds on deposit in said depository bank. The right of substitution of securities shall be granted to depositories, provided the securities substituted meet with the requirements of the law, and are approved by the Commissioners' Court. Upon the request of such depository bank, the Commissioners' Court shall surrender interest coupons or other evidence of interest, when due, on securities deposited with the Commissioners' Court by such depository bank, provided said securities remaining pledged are ample to meet the requirements of said Commissioners' Court. Such depository may secure said funds by one or more of the ways herein provided, at the option of the Commissioners' Court.

The condition of the personal bond or bonds, or contract for securities pledged, as hereinabove provided, shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of all the duties and obligations devolving by law upon such depository, and for the payment upon presentation of all checks drawn upon any "demand deposit" account in any depository by the county treasurer of the county, and all checks drawn upon any "time deposit" account, upon presentation, after the expiration of the period of notice required in the case of "time deposits"; and that said county funds shall be faithfully kept by said depository and accounted for according to law. Any suits arising thereon shall be tried in the county for which such depository is selected; and provided further, that upon reasonable notice to the Commissioners' Court, such county depository may change from time to time its method of securing such funds, so long as the same are at all times secured in the amount and manner specified herein.

Where separate bonds are given to secure county funds, each surety thereunder shall be liable only for such part of any loss sustained by failure of the depository, as the amount of each bond shall bear to the aggregate amount of all bonds and/or securities held by the county for protection of the funds covered by said bonds.

In the event of payment of a loss to the county by personal sureties or surety companies, said sureties shall be subrogated by the county in the amounts such payment bears to the deposit secured by them or it, at the time of default of the depository.

It shall be the duty of the Commissioners' Court to investigate and inquire into the solvency of each and every surety, on any personal bond or bonds so filed by such county depository, and accepted by the Commissioners' Court and approved as required by law, at least twice during each and every year such bonds are effective and in force; and for that purpose shall have authority to require each surety to render an itemized and verified financial statement, under oath, showing his true financial condition. If any such statement or statements indicate that any of said sureties have become insolvent, or their net worth depreciated below the amount required by law as such sureties, or if any of the assets listed are shown to be, or are known to be depreciated, or their value in any way impaired, then and in any such events, the Commissioners' Court shall require a new bond meeting fully the requirements of this law; and in case of a bond or bonds the sureties on which are required to own unencumbered and non-exempt real estate as herein provided, such statement shall show each tract of land owned by each surety and the value thereof; and if the statements provided for herein shall indicate that any of such lands have been disposed of or encumbered, and the value of the remaining unencumbered or non-exempt lands shall not be sufficient to meet the requirements of this law, then the said Commissioners' Court shall require a new bond, meeting fully the requirements of this law. The Commissioners' Court shall at any time it may deem necessary for the protection of the county, investigate and inquire into the solvency of any surety company or companies issuing a bond or bonds for any depository, and to investigate the value of any of the securities that may be pledged by such depository in lieu of the personal bond; and such Commissioners' Court may request any such depository if it deem advisable, to execute a new bond. If said new bond required by the Commissioners' Court for any reason as herein specified be not filed within five (5) days from the time of the service of a copy of said order upon said depository, the Commissioners' Court may proceed to the selection of another depository, in the same manner as provided for the selection of a depository at the regular time for such selection. Nothing in this law shall in any manner limit, restrict or prevent the Commissioners' Court from requiring any depository to execute a new bond at any time such Commissioners' Court may deem it necessary for the protection of the county.

Art. 2548. Additional Bond

Whenever, after the creation of a county depository, as by this Act provided, there shall accrue to the county or any subdivision thereof, any funds or moneys from the sale of bonds or otherwise, the Commissioners Court of such county at its first meeting after such special funds shall have come into the Treasury, or depository of such county, or so soon thereafter as may be practicable, may make written demand upon the duly accredited and established depository of the county for a special additional bond as such depository in a sum equal to the whole amount of such special fund, to be kept in force so long as such funds remain in such depository. Such extra or special bond may be cancelled and a new bond contemporaneously substituted therefor as such special fund may have been reduced. Such special bond shall at all times be sufficient in amount to cover such special fund then on hand. Upon the failure of such depository to furnish such additional bond within thirty (30) days from the date of such demand, the Commissioners Court may cause such special funds to be withdrawn, upon the draft of the county treasurer from such depository, and cause the same to be deposited in some solvent National bank or State bank whose combined capital stock and surplus is in excess of such special fund, and to leave the same or so much thereof as may not have been expended with such National bank or State bank of last deposit, until such time that such county depository may have filed with the Commissioners Court the required additional bond, when such special fund or so much thereof as shall not have been expended shall be forthwith returned to and deposited with such county depository. The requiring of such additional or special bond shall be optional with such Commissioners Court. When a banking institution selected, qualified and acting as a county depository shall become insolvent and it shall become necessary to resort to the depository bond or bonds to collect the county and State funds deposited therein, payment shall be made to the county and State pro rata.

Art. 2548a. Pledge of State General Fund Warrants as Security for Deposited Funds of County or School District in Lieu of Bonds

Any banking corporation in the State of Texas selected as the depository bank for County Funds, or for the funds of any School District in Texas, including Common School Districts, Independent School Districts, Rural High School Districts, Consolidated School Districts, and any other School District in Texas, or funds of any State institution, shall be authorized to pledge General Fund Warrants of the State of Texas as securities for the purpose of securing such funds when, as otherwise provided by law, such banking corporations are authorized to pledge securities in lieu of personal bonds or surety bonds for the purpose of securing such Funds; provided, however, this privilege shall cease and be null and void whenever the deficit in the General Fund shall exceed Forty-two Million ($42,000,000.00) Dollars.

Art. 2549. Designating Depository

(a) As soon as said bond be given and approved by the Commissioners Court, an order shall be made and entered upon the minutes of said Court designating such banking corporation, association or individual banker, as a depository for the funds of said county until sixty (60) days after the time fixed for the next selection of a depository; and thereupon, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer of said county immediately upon the making of such order, to transfer to said depository all the funds belonging to said county, as well as all funds belonging to any district or other municipal subdivision thereof not selecting its own depository, and immediately upon receipt of any money thereafter, to deposit the same with said depository to the credit of said county, district and municipalities. It shall also be the duty of the tax collector of such county to deposit all taxes collected by him, or under his authority, for the State and such county and its various districts and other municipal subdivisions, in such depository or depositories, as soon as collected, pending the preparation of his report of such collection and settlement thereon. The bond of such county depository or depositories shall stand as security for all such funds. Upon such funds being deposited as herein required, the tax collector and sureties on his bond, shall thereafter be relieved of responsibility of its safekeeping. All county depositories shall collect all checks, drafts and demands for money so deposited with them by the county and when using due diligence shall not be liable on such collections until the proceeds thereof have been duly received by the depository bank, provided that any expense incurred in collection thereof by the depository, which the depository is not allowed or permitted to pay or absorb by reason of any act of Congress of the United States or any regulation by either the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, shall be charged to and paid by the county. All money collected or held by any district, county or precinct officer in such county, or the officers of any defined district or subdivision in such county, including the funds of any municipal or quasi-municipal subdivision or corporation which has the power to select its own depository, but has not done so, shall be governed by this law, and shall be deposited in accordance with its requirements, and shall be considered in fixing the bond of such depository, and shall be protected by such bond; and all warrants, checks, and vouchers evidencing such funds shall be subject to audit and countersignature as now or hereafter provided by law.

(b) If during a school year, a Commissioners Court having control of school district funds elects to transfer the funds from one bank serving as county depository to another bank, the school district affected may require that the Commissioners Court delay the transfer of the district's funds until the end of the school district's fiscal year or until September 1, whichever date follows nearest the date the Commissioners Court took action on the transfer.

(c) Unless expressly prohibited by law or unless it is in contravention of any depository contract between a county and any depository bank, the Commissioners Court may direct the county treasurer to:

(1) withdraw any amount of funds of the county that are deposited in a county depository and that are not required immediately to pay obligations of the county or required to be kept on deposit under the terms of the depository contract: and

(2) invest those funds in direct debt securities of the United States.

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2260, ch. 542, § 3, provides:

"This Act does not apply to funds that, on the effective date of this Act, are on deposit in a depository in accordance with Article 2549 or Article 2561, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as they exist immediately before this Act takes effect."

Art. 2550. Deposits Not Applied For

If for any reason no applications are submitted by any banking corporation, association or individual banker to act as county depository or in case all applications shall be declined, then in any such case, the Commissioners Court shall have the power, and it shall be their duty to deposit the funds of the county with any one or more banking corporations, associations or individual bankers in the county or in the adjoining counties in such amounts and for such periods as may be deemed advisable by the Court. Any bank or banking concern receiving deposits under this Article shall execute a bond in the manner and form provided for depositories of county funds with all the conditions provided for same, the penalty of said bonds to be not less than the total amount of county funds deposited with such bank or banking concern.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1935, 44th Leg., p. 394, ch. 152, § 1; Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 1298, ch. 484, § 1.]

Art. 2551. Clearing House to be Selected

When the funds of any county shall be deposited with two or more depositories, the Commissioners Court shall select and name by order one of said depositories to act as a clearing house for the others, at which all county warrants shall be finally paid.

Art. 2552. Checks Payable at County Seat

It shall be the duty of the depository or depositories to pay, upon presentment at the county seat of the county, or in the case of "time deposits" to pay upon presentment after the expiration of the period of notice agreed upon, all checks or warrants drawn by the county treasurer upon the funds of said county deposited with said depository or depositories, as long as such funds shall be in the possession of such depository subject to such checks or warrants. For every failure to pay such check or warrant at such county seat either upon presentment in case of "demand deposits," or upon presentment after the expiration of the period of notice required in the case of "time deposits" said depository or depositories shall forfeit and pay to the holder of such check ten per cent (10%) of the amount thereof; and the Commissioners Court shall revoke the order creating such depository or depositories.

Art. 2553. Depository Not Located at County Seat

If any depository selected by the Commissioners Court be not located at the seat of such county, said Commissioners Court may in its discretion require said depository to file with the county treasurer of such county a statement designating the place at said county seat where, and the person by whom, all deposits may be received from the treasurer for such depository, and where and by whom all checks will be paid, said person to be approved by the Commissioners Court; and such depository shall cause every check to be paid upon presentation or upon presentation at the expiration of the period of notice in the case of "time deposits" at the place so designated so long as the said depository has sufficient funds to the credit of said county applicable to its payment.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 1298, ch. 484, § 1; Acts 1949, 51st Leg., p. 187, ch. 103, § 1.]

Art. 2554. Warrants, How Paid and Charged

It shall be the duty of the county treasurer upon the presentation to him of any warrant, check, voucher, or order drawn by the proper authority, if there be funds sufficient for the payment thereof on deposit in the account against which such warrant is drawn, to endorse upon the face of such instrument his order to pay the same to the payee named therein and to charge the same on his books to the fund upon which it is drawn. The county treasurer shall not make an endorsement upon any warrant, check, voucher, or order, upon any funds deposited with said depository or depositories which are designated as "time deposits" until after notice is duly given and the time has expired as required in the contract with said depository in designating said funds as "time deposits." It shall be the duty of such depository to make a detailed monthly statement to the Commissioners Court at each regular term of said Court showing the daily balances to the credit of each of the funds on deposit. In case any bonds, coupons, or other indebtedness of any county by the terms thereof are payable at any place other than the treasury of the county, nothing herein contained shall prevent the Commissioners Court of such county from causing the treasurer to place a sufficient sum at the place where such debts shall be payable at the time and place of their maturity, provided such payments shall be made in the manner prescribed by law. All checks or warrants issued or drawn by any officer under the provisions of this Act, shall be subject to all the laws and regulations providing for auditing and countersigning and all such laws and regulations are hereby continued in full force and effect.

Art. 2555. May Select at Subsequent Term

If for any reason, no selection of a depository be made at the time provided by law, the Commissioners Court may, at any subsequent time after twenty (20) days' notice, select a depository or depositories in the manner provided for such selection at the regular time; and the depository or depositories so selected shall remain the depository or depositories until the next regular time for selecting a depository, unless the order selecting and naming such depository be revoked for lawful reasons.

Art. 2556. New Bond May be Required

If the Commissioners Court shall at any time deem it necessary for the protection of the county, it may require any depository to execute a new bond; and, if said new bond be not filed within five (5) days from the time of the service of a copy of said order upon said depository, the Commissioners Court may proceed to the selection of another depository in the manner provided for the selection of a depository at the regular time for such selection.

Art. 2557. Liability of Treasurer

The county treasurer shall not be responsible for any loss of the county funds through the failure or negligence of any depository; but nothing in this Act shall release any county treasurer for any loss resulting from any official misconduct or negligence on his part, nor from any responsibility for the funds of the county until a depository shall be selected and the funds deposited therein, nor for any misappropriation of such funds by him.

Art. 2558. Applications From Adjoining Counties

If there be no bank or banks situated within the county that seeks to be designated as county depository, then in that event the Commissioners Court shall be authorized to advertise for applications from banks in adjoining counties or any other counties in this State in the manner provided by law of this State with reference to advertising in the counties desiring such depositories. When a depository has been selected by the Commissioners Court in the manner as provided herein, said depository shall, within five (5) days after notice of such designation and selection, file with county treasurer of such county a statement designating the place at said county seat where, and the person by whom all deposits may be received from the treasurer for such depository, and where and by whom all checks will be paid.

Art. 2558a. Depositories for Trust Funds in Hands of County and District Clerks

Applications

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court of each county is authorized and required at the February term thereof next following each general election to receive applications from any banking corporation, association or individual banker in such county as may desire to be selected as a depository for Trust Funds in possession of the County and District Clerks. Said applications shall be filed with the County Clerk on/or before ten o'clock a.m. on the first day of the term of Court at which said applications are to be received. Said applications shall be accompanied by a certified check for not less than one-half of one percent of the average daily balances of the amount of Trust Funds in the possession of the Clerks during the preceding calendar year which amount shall be determined by the County Clerk on/or before ten (10) days before the applications herein provided for are required to be filed, and a certified check accompanying the application as herein provided for in the amount so determined by the County Clerk shall be sufficient compliance with this provision, which certified check shall be a guarantee of the good faith on the part of the applicant, and that if his application is accepted the bond hereinafter provided for will be entered into. Upon the failure of the banking corporation, association or individual banker that may be selected as such depository, to give the bond required by law, the amount of such certified check shall go to the county as liquidated damages, and the county shall select another depository as hereinafter provided. In the event any application shall not be accepted, the certified check accompanying the same shall be returned. The check of the applicant whose application is accepted shall be returned when his bond is filed and approved by the Commissioners Court and not until such bond is filed and approved. It shall not be necessary for the county to advertise or give notice that applications will be received as provided by this Statute.

Entry of Applications and Selection of Depository

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the Commissioners Court at ten o'clock a.m. on the first day of each term at which applications are required to be received to enter said applications on the minutes of the Court and to select a depository for the Trust Funds in the possession of County and District Clerks.

Qualification of Depository

Sec. 3. Within thirty (30) days after the selection of such depository, it shall be the duty of the banking corporation, association, or individual banker so selected to qualify in the same manner as now provided by law for the qualification of county depositories.

Entry of Order Designating Depository; Funds Deposited; Failure to Select New Depository

Sec. 4. As soon as said depository has qualified as provided by law and has been approved by the Commissioners Court, said Court shall make and enter an order upon the minutes, designating such banking corporation, association, or individual banker as County Depository for Trust Funds until the designation and qualification of a successor, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the County and District Clerks of such county to deposit all Trust Funds in their possession with said depository in the manner hereinafter provided; provided, in the event, a new depository has not been selected and qualified by April 15th succeeding the term of Court at which a depository is required to be selected as required by this Act, then the term of such depository shall end and all Trust Funds due or on deposit shall be paid to the Clerk in whose name the account is carried.

Placing Trust Funds on Time Deposit; Withdrawals; Interest

Sec. 4a. The Commissioners Court of each county, acting by and through the County Auditor, or if there is no County Auditor then the County Treasurer, of such county, is authorized to place on time deposit with the depository bank for trust funds in the possession of County and District Clerks of such County, that portion of the trust funds account estimated by the County Auditor or County Treasurer, as the case may be, as not required immediately to pay out all amounts in accordance with proper orders of the Judge of the Court in which funds have been deposited. If at any time the funds so placed on time deposit are required before maturity, they shall be made available by the depository bank but the depository bank shall not be liable for interest earned on such amount withdrawn from time deposit. The Commissioners Court is authorized and directed to receive all interest so earned on time deposit of such trust funds and to place all such interest into the General Fund of the County as an offset to the expenses of handling such trust funds for the benefit of litigants.

Accumulated Interest; Placing in General Fund

Sec. 4b. The Commissioners Court of each county, acting by and through the County Auditor, or if there is no County Auditor then the County Treasurer, of such county, is authorized to place in the proper General Fund of the county any accumulated interest derived from trust funds in the possession of County and District Clerks of such county prior to the enactment of Chapter 270, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959, to offset the expenses of handling such trust funds for the benefit of litigants.

Advertisement for Applications Under Certain Conditions

Sec. 5. If for any reason there shall be submitted no application by any banking corporation, association or individual banker in the county, or in case there shall be no application for the entire amount of Trust Funds, or in the event all applications submitted have been rejected by the Commissioners Court, or in the event a depository selected has failed to qualify, or in the event that the depository shall become insolvent, or in the event a new depository has been selected on account of the failure of the regular depository to execute a new bond as hereinafter provided, then in either event, the Commissioners Court shall advertise for applications from any banking corporation, association, or individual banker within the State of Texas, and may select a depository, which depository shall qualify in the manner above provided. Notice of the selection of a depository as provided by this Act shall be published once each week for two (2) successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation within the county, if there be such newspaper. If there is no newspaper published in the county, then the same shall be posted at the courthouse for said period. In the discretion of the Commissioners Court said notice may also be published in any newspaper outside of the county for the same length of time.

Provision for Payment on Presentment of Checks; Penalty

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of the depository to provide for the payment at the county seat of the county upon presentment all checks drawn by the County or District Clerk upon the funds deposited in the name of such Clerk as long as such funds shall be in the possession of the depository subject to such checks. For every failure to pay such check at such county seat upon presentment, said depository shall forfeit and pay to the holder of such checks ten per cent (10%) of the amount thereof.

Depository Not Located at County Seat

Sec. 7. If any depository selected by the Commissioners Court be not located at the seat of such county, said depository shall file with the County Clerk of such county, a statement designating the place at said county seat where, and the person, firm or corporation by whom, all the deposits may be received from the Clerks for such depository, and where and by whom in said county seat all checks drawn on such depository will be paid and such depository shall cause every check to be paid upon presentation at the place so designated so long as the said depository has sufficient funds to the credit of such funds applicable to their payment.

New Bond

Sec. 8. If the Commissioners Court shall at any time deem it necessary for the protection of the Trust Funds, it may require any depository to execute a new bond. If said new bond is not filed within fifteen days from the time of the service of a copy of said order upon said depository, the Commissioners Court may proceed to the election of another depository in the manner provided for the selection of a depository as provided in this Act.

County and District Clerks Not Responsible for Loss of Trust Funds Through Depository's Failure or Negligence

Sec. 9. The County and District Clerks shall not be responsible for any loss of the Trust Funds through failure or negligence of any depository, but nothing in this Act shall release any County or District Clerk for any loss resulting from any official misconduct or negligence on his part nor from any responsibility for such Trust Funds until a depository shall be selected and the funds deposited therein nor for any misappropriation of such funds by him. Upon the deposit in the legally selected depository of the Trust Funds by any County or District Clerk, such Clerk shall thereafter be relieved of the safekeeping of said funds.

Loss of Deposit on Account of Insolvency of Depository or Other Cause; Liability of County

Sec. 10. In the event of the insolvency of any depository, or if for any reason, on account of the deposit of the Trust Funds with any depository, any part of said funds are lost, the county shall be liable to the person to whom any part of said Trust Funds is due for the full amount of said funds due such person.

Duty to Deposit; Trust Fund Account

Sec. 11. Any County or District Clerk having the custody by law of any money that may have been deposited in court to abide the result of any legal proceeding, which amount is to be in his possession for a period longer than three (3) days, shall deposit the same in the county depository for Trust Funds, if there be such a depository. The funds deposited by the Clerk shall be carried as a Trust Fund account in the name of the Clerk making the deposit, and same shall be subject to withdrawal by the Clerk under the conditions set out in the succeeding paragraph of this Act.

Withdrawal of Deposits by Check

Sec. 12. Except upon an order of the Judge of the Court in which funds have been deposited, no check shall be drawn on said depository for any part of said funds by the Clerk except for payment to the person or persons to whom the amount of said check is due. All checks drawn by the Clerks shall show the style and number of the proceeding in which said money was deposited with the Clerk.

Transfer of Funds to New Depository

Sec. 13. If at any time, a new depository has been selected and qualified, it shall be the duty of the County and District Clerks to transfer to the new depository all funds in said depository in the name of such Clerk and for this purpose a check may be drawn on such funds by such Clerks.

Failure to Select Depository

Sec. 14. In the event there has been no selection of a county depository for Trust Funds, each County or District Clerk having the custody by law of any money, evidence of debt, script, instrument of writing, or other legal proceeding¹ shall seal up in a secure package the identical money or other article received by him and deposit the same in some iron safe or bank vault.

¹ So in enrolled bill; probably should read "or other article that may have been deposited in court to abide the result of any legal proceeding" as prior to amendment of 1937.

Clerk's Failure to Perform Duties; Penalty

Sec. 15. Any county or district clerk who fails to perform any duty required by this Act, or shall do or perform any act prohibited by the provisions of this Act shall be punished by fine of not exceeding Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition thereto may be punished for contempt.

Art. 2559. Council to Take Applications for Depository

The governing body of every city, town and village in the State of Texas, incorporated under either the General or Special Laws, including those operating under special charter or amendments of charter adopted pursuant to the "Home Rule" provisions of the Constitution, is authorized to receive applications for the custody of city funds from any banking corporation, association or individual banker that may desire to be selected as a depository of the city, town or village. The school funds, from whatever source derived of incorporated cities, is part of the city funds and is subject to the provisions of this Act. Notice that such applications will be received shall be published by the City Secretary not less than one (1) nor more than four (4) weeks before said meeting in some newspaper published in that city. Any banking corporation, association or individual banker desiring to apply to be designated as a depository of the funds of such city, town, or village shall deliver to the city secretary on or before the day of such meeting designated by such published notice, its application for such funds, provided, however, that if any city has two or more banking institutions doing business within the city, the city shall consider bids and applications from only those institutions.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1931, 42nd Leg., 1st C.S., p. 16, ch. 9, § 1; Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 1298, ch. 484, § 3; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 3047, ch. 1008, § 1, eff. Aug. 30, 1971.]

Art. 2560. Award and Bond

Upon considering the applications submitted, the governing body shall select as the depository or depositories of such funds the banking corporations, association or individual banker or bankers offering the most favorable terms and conditions for the handling of such funds. The governing body of such city, town or village shall have the right to reject any and all applications and readvertise for any applications. The governing body of such city, town or village shall have the power to determine and designate the character and amount of city funds which will be deposited by it in said depositories that shall be "demand deposits" and what character and amount of funds shall be "time deposits"; and may contract with said depositories in regard to the payment of interest on "time deposits" at such rate or rates as may be lawful under any Act of Congress of the United States and any rule or regulations that may be promulgated by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The term "demand deposits", as used herein, shall mean any deposit which is payable on demand, and the term "time deposits", as used herein, shall mean any deposit with reference to which there is in force a contract, that neither the whole nor any part of such deposit may be withdrawn by check or otherwise prior to the expiration of the period of notice which must be given in writing in advance of withdrawals. Within five (5) days after the selection of such depository or depositories, it shall be the duty of the banking corporation or corporations, association or associations, individual banker or bankers so selected to qualify as city depository, in one or more of the following ways, at the option of the governing body of such city, town or village:

(a) By executing and filing with the governing body, a bond or bonds, payable to the city, to be approved by the governing body, said bond to be signed by not less than five (5) solvent sureties who shall own unencumbered real estate in this State not exempt from execution under the Constitution and Laws of this State of a value equal to, or in excess of, the amount of said bond, or of a value equal to, or in excess of, the amount of said bonds when there is more than one (1) bond; and said bond or bonds shall in no event be for less than the total amount of the revenue of such city for the next preceding year for which said bond or bonds are made. The sureties shall file with the city at the time of filing said bond or bonds, a statement containing a description of the unencumbered and non-exempt lands owned by them sufficient to identify such lands on the ground; and such statement shall remain on file with the City Secretary, attached to such bond or bonds, which statement shall contain a fair estimate of the value of each tract of land so listed, together with the value of the improvements thereon.

(b) By having issued and executed by some solvent surety company or companies authorized to do business in the State of Texas, such bond or bonds, as provided by law, to be in the amount and payable as provided in subdivision (a) hereinabove, which said surety bond shall be approved by the governing body and filed with the City Secretary.

(c) By executing and filing with the governing body, a bond or bonds, in an amount and payable as provided in subdivision (a) hereinabove, to be approved by the governing body and filed with the City Secretary of such city; said bond or bonds to be signed by not less than five (5) solvent sureties, who shall prepare and file with the governing body, at the time of the filing of said bond, an itemized and verified financial statement, which shall show the aggregate net worth of all to be equal to, or in excess of, the amount of such bond or bonds as hereinabove provided for.

(d) In lieu of such personal bonds or surety bonds as above specified, said banking corporation or corporations, association or associations, individual banker or bankers so selected as the city depository, may pledge, and said depository is hereby authorized to pledge with the governing body of such city for the purpose of securing such city funds, securities of the following kind, in an amount equal to the amount of said city funds on deposit in said depository bank or banks, to-wit: United States Bonds,

Certificates of Indebtedness of the United States, Treasury notes of the United States, and other evidences of indebtedness of the United States which are guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the United States Government, bonds of the State of Texas, or of any county, city, town, independent school district, common school district or other school district in the State of Texas; or bonds issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act,¹ or road district bonds, bonds, pledges or other evidences of indebtedness issued by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, notes or bonds secured by mortgages insured and debentures issued by the Federal Housing Administrator of the United States Government; in shares or share accounts of any building and loan association organized under the laws of this state, provided the payment of such shares or share accounts is insured by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation, and in the shares or share accounts of any Federal Savings & Loan Association domiciled in this state, provided the payment of such shares or share accounts is insured by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation; bank acceptances of banks having a capital stock of not less than Five Hundred Thousand ($500,000.00) Dollars, and bonds issued by municipal corporations in Texas; and said city may accept said securities in lieu of such personal or surety bonds, which securities so pledged shall be deposited as the governing body may direct. It is provided, however, that such securities so pledged shall be approved as to kind and value by the governing body.

When the securities pledged by the depository bank to secure city funds shall be in excess of the amount required under the provisions of this Act, the governing body of such city shall permit the release of such excess; and when the city funds deposited with such depository bank shall, for any reason, increase beyond the amount of securities pledged, said depository bank shall immediately pledge additional securities with the governing body so that the securities pledged shall at no time be of a value of less than the total amount of city funds on deposit in said depository bank. Provided, however, the determination of such value shall be in the discretion of the governing body whose decision shall be final and binding on such depository. The right of substitution of securities shall be granted to depositories, provided the securities substituted meet with the requirements of the law, and are approved by the governing body. Upon the request of such depository bank, the governing body shall surrender interest coupons or other evidence of interest, when due, on securities deposited with said governing body by such depository bank, provided said securities remaining pledged are ample to meet the requirements of this Act and of such governing body.

The condition of the personal bond or bonds, or surety company bond or contract, for securities pledged as hereinabove provided, shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of all the duties and obligations devolving by law upon such depository, and for the payment upon presentation of all checks drawn upon any "demand deposit" account in said depository, or upon presentation upon any "time deposit" after the expiration of the period of notice required in the case of "time deposits" by the City Treasurer of the city; and that said city funds shall be faithfully kept by said depository and accounted for according to law. Any suits arising thereon shall be tried in the county in which such city, town, or village is located.

It shall be the duty of the governing body to investigate and inquire into the solvency of each and every surety on any personal bond or bonds so filed by such city depository and accepted by the governing body and approved as required by law, at least twice during each and every year such bonds are effective and in force, and for that purpose shall have authority to require each surety to render an itemized and verified financial statement, under oath, showing his true financial condition. If any such statement or statements indicate that any of said sureties have become insolvent, or their net worth depreciated below the amount required by law as such sureties, or if any of the assets listed are shown to be, or are known to be depreciated, or their value in any way impaired, then and in any of such events, the governing body shall require a new bond meeting fully the requirements of this law; and in case of a bond or bonds, the sureties on which are required to own unencumbered and non-exempt real estate as herein provided, such statement shall show each tract of land owned by each surety and the value thereof; and if the statements provided for herein shall indicate that any of such lands have been disposed of, or encumbered, and the value of the remaining unencumbered or non-exempt lands shall not be sufficient to meet the requirements of this law, then the said governing body shall require a new bond meeting fully the requirements of this law. The governing body shall at any time it may deem necessary for the protection of the city, investigate and inquire into the solvency of any surety company or companies issuing a bond or bonds for any depository, and to investigate the value of any of the securities that may be pledged by such depository in lieu of the personal bond; and such governing body may require any such depository, if it deems advisable, to execute a new bond, or to deliver into pledge additional or other securities. If said new bond or securities required by the governing body for any reason, as herein specified, be not filed within five (5) days from the time of the service of a copy of said order upon said depository, the governing body may proceed to the selection of another depository in the same manner as provided for the selection of a depository at the regular time for such selection. Nothing in the law shall in any manner limit, restrict, or prevent the governing body from requiring any depository to execute a new bond, at any time such governing body may deem it necessary for the protection of the city.

Art. 2561. Designating Depository, etc.

(a) As soon as said bond shall be given and approved, an order shall be made by the council designating said banking corporation, association, or individual banker, as the depository of the funds of the city until the time fixed by this Act for another selection, and such order shall be entered upon the minutes. It shall be the duty of the city treasurer, immediately upon the making of said order, to transfer to said depository all the funds in his hands belonging to the city, and immediately upon the receipt of the money thereafter, he shall deposit the same with said depository to the credit of the city. If any banking corporation, association, or individual banker, after having been selected as such depository, shall fail to give bond within the time provided by this Act, then the selection of such banking corporation, association, or individual banker, as the depository of the city funds shall be set aside and be null and void, and the governing body shall, after the notice published in the manner hereinbefore provided, proceed to receive new applications and select another depository.

(b) Unless expressly prohibited by law or unless it is in contravention of any depository contract between a city, town, or village and any depository bank, the governing body of a city, town, or village may direct the treasurer of the entity to:

(1) withdraw any amount of funds of the entity that are deposited in a depository and that are not required immediately to pay obligations of the entity or required to be kept on deposit under the terms of the depository contract; and

(2) invest those funds in direct debt securities of the United States.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84. Amended by Acts 1937, 45th Leg., p. 1298, ch. 484, § 3; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2259, ch. 542, § 2, eff. Aug. 31, 1981.]

Section 3 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act does not apply to funds that, on the effective date of this Act, are on deposit in a depository in accordance with Article 2549 or Article 2561, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as they exist immediately before this Act takes effect."

Art. 2562. Warrant and Checks Paid

The city treasurer, upon presentation to him of any warrant drawn by the proper authority, if there shall be enough money in the depository belonging to the fund upon which said warrant is drawn and out of which the same is payable, shall draw his check as city treasurer upon the city depository in favor of the legal holder of said warrant, and to take up said warrant, and charge the same to the fund upon which it is drawn. In no case shall the city treasurer draw any check upon any fund in the city depository, unless there is sufficient money belonging to the fund upon which said warrant is drawn to pay the same, nor shall said city treasurer draw any check upon any funds deposited with said depository or depositories which are designated as "time deposits" until after notice is duly given and the time has expired, as required in the contract with said depository in designating said funds as "time deposits." No money belonging to the city shall be paid out of the city depository, except upon checks of the city treasurer. All such checks shall be payable by said depository at its place of business in the city. In case any bonds or coupons or other indebtedness of the city are payable, by the terms of such bonds, coupons or other indebtedness, at any particular place other than the city treasury, nothing herein shall prevent the governing body from causing the treasurer to withdraw from the depository and to place at the place where such bonds, coupons or other indebtedness shall be payable at the time of their maturity, a sufficient sum to meet the same.

Art. 2563. May Select at Subsequent Meeting

If for any reason no selection of a depository is made at the time fixed by this Act, said governing body may, at any subsequent meeting, after notice published as hereinbefore provided, receive applications and select a depository in the manner herein set out, and the banking corporation, association, or individual banker so selected shall remain the depository until the next regular term for the selection of a depository unless the order selecting it be revoked for the causes specified in this Act. If the governing body shall at any time deem it necessary for the protection of the city, it may by resolution, require the depository to execute a new bond; and upon failure to do so within five (5) days after the service of a copy of the resolution on said depository, said body may proceed to select another depository in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Art. 2564. Liability of Treasurer

The City Treasurer shall not be responsible for any loss of the city funds through negligence, failure or wrongful act of such depository, but nothing in this Act shall release said treasurer from responsibility for any loss resulting from any official misconduct on his part nor from responsibility for the said funds at any time, when, for any reason, there shall be no city depository, nor until a depository shall be selected and the funds deposited therein, nor for any misappropriation of such funds in any manner by him.

Art. 2565. Restrictions Upon Drawing

No check shall be drawn upon the city depository by the treasurer, except upon a warrant signed by the mayor and attested by the secretary, except where cities are operating under charter provisions that provide for the drawing of checks or warrants on the depository or city funds in a different manner than is herein provided. No warrant shall be drawn by the mayor and secretary upon any of the special funds created for the purpose of paying the bonded indebtedness of said city, in the hands of the City Treasurer, or in the depository, for any purpose whatsoever other than to pay the principal or interest of said indebtedness, or for the purpose of investing said special fund according to law. No City Treasurer shall pay or issue a check to pay any money out of any special fund created for the purpose of paying any bonded indebtedness of said city other than for the purpose of paying interest due on said bonds, the principal of said bonds or for the purpose of making an investment of said funds according to law. The treasurer shall report to the council on or before its first regular meeting in July in each year, the amount of receipts and expenditures of the treasury, the amount of money on hand in each fund, and the amount of bonds falling due for redemption of which provision must be made; also the amount of interest to be paid during the next fiscal year, and such other reports as the existing law requires of him.

Art. 2566. Definitions of Terms

All provisions of this Act shall apply to towns and villages incorporated under the General Laws of Texas, as well as to cities so incorporated, and the terms "City Secretary," and "Secretary" shall be construed to include the clerk or secretary of such towns or villages; the term "City Treasurer" shall be construed to include the treasurer of such towns and villages and the term "city" shall be construed to include towns and villages.

CHAPTER FOUR. SPECIAL DEPOSITORYArt.

2567. Selection of Special Depository.

2568. For State Funds.

2569. Selection Optional.

Art. 2567. Selection of Special Depository

When any bank, which is a county, city or district depository of public funds under the laws of this State, suspends business or is taken charge of by the Comptroller of the currency or the Commissioner of Banking, as the case may be, the lawful county, city or district authorities, authorized to select the depository in the first instance, shall have the discretion and authority to select by contract a special depository for the public funds in such suspended bank. Such special depository shall assume the payment of the amount of public funds due by the suspended bank on the date of its suspension, including interest to that date, and shall pay the same to the lawfully designated public authority in accordance with the contract entered into by such special depository. The contract shall be for the performance of the agreement entered into between the proper public authorities designated above, and the special depository, and shall require the payment of the deposit in such installments as may be agreed upon, the last of which shall be paid not exceeding three years from the date of the contract. The installments, or the amount due, may be evidenced in the discretion of the contracting parties by negotiable certificates of deposit or cashier's checks, payable at specified dates, if made a part of the contract. The performance of the contract and the payment of funds described therein shall be secured by bond, or by several bonds in case of installments, to be given by the special depository with the same character of sureties as is required by regular depository bonds. The contracts and bonds of special depositories shall be approved by the authority authorized by law to approve contracts and bonds of regularly selected depositories. The rate of interest which funds placed in a special depository hereunder shall bear shall be fixed by the contract, or such funds may, in the discretion of the contracting parties, be non-interest bearing.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2568. For State Funds

If any State funds are in the county depository which has failed, the amount thereof shall be ascertained by the Comptroller, who shall be authorized in his discretion to enter into a contract for the custody and payment of the same, with the special depository selected by the county authorities in the same manner that the county authorities are herein authorized so to do, and to take and approve contracts and bonds therefor. State funds thus placed in such special depository shall bear the average rate of interest received by the State on State funds placed with the regularly selected State depositories.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 2569. Selection Optional

Nothing in this chapter shall require the State, county, city or district authorities to select any special depository as herein permitted, but they may proceed by their lawful remedies against the failed bank, if, in their discretion, it is best for the public interest so to do.

Per Diem and Expenses; Meetings

Sec. 4. Each member of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools shall be entitled to a per diem of Ten Dollars ($10) per day and actual and necessary expenses when engaged in the discharge of his official duties. Said Board shall hold a regular meeting on the second Monday in January, March, May, July, September and November of each year for the transaction of any and all official business. Special meetings may be called by the Chairman. Five (5) members of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting thereof. All meetings shall be open to the public and the Board shall keep a complete record of all its proceedings.

Officers and Personnel; Rules and Regulations

Sec. 5. The Board shall organize by the election of a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman from its membership, and shall organize the work of said Board as may seem proper. The Board shall have the authority to promulgate such rules and regulations as it deems proper for the efficient administration of this Act. The Board shall have the authority to employ such personnel as may be necessary for the discharge of its duties. The Board shall employ an Executive Director of the Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools named herein under said Board. The Executive Director shall receive a salary of not to exceed Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) per annum and shall possess qualifications and training which suit him to manage the affairs of a modern system of State Hospitals and Special Schools, and it shall be his duty to carry out the policies of the Board in the management and control of the institutions under said Board. The Executive Director shall give bond in the sum of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) payable to the State of Texas conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties.

Acquiring Property for Tuberculosis Sanatoriums

Sec. 8. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools is hereby authorized to negotiate for and to acquire from the United State Government, or any agency thereof, or from any source whatsoever, by gift, purchase, or leasehold, for and on behalf of the State of Texas, for use in the State service, and in the establishment of State tuberculosis hospitals, any lands, buildings, and facilities within the State of Texas, and any personal properties wherever located, and to take title thereto for and in the name of the State of Texas.

Transfer of Personal Property

Sec. 9. All personal property now in use by the Board of Control for the administration of any of the institutions named herein is hereby transferred to the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Institutional Business Managers

Sec. 10. The Superintendent of any institution named herein with the approval of the Executive Director may appoint a business manager who shall receive a salary not to exceed Six Thousand Dollars ($6,000) per year and who shall receive the same emoluments as the Superintendent. The business manager shall manage the fiscal affairs of the institution, handle all maintenance matters, be responsible for the efficient operation of all auxiliary enterprises, and prepare and submit to the Executive Director the estimate of needed appropriations each biennium. He may have such other duties and powers as the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools may by rule and regulation prescribe. He shall give bond in the sum of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) payable to the State of Texas conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. His signature and the approval of the State Board of Control on any account against the appropriated funds of the institutions named herein shall authorize the Comptroller to draw his warrant against the State Treasurer in payment, provided, however, the Board of Control approval shall not be required on accounts other than those arising from the purchase of merchandise.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 12. If any part or parts of this Act shall be held unconstitutional, such unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity of the remaining parts of this Act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the remaining parts of this Act if it had known that such invalid part or parts thereof would be so declared unconstitutional.

Abolition

Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 173, ch. 67, §§ 1, 2, the Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act, codified as articles 5547-201 to 5547-204 creating the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and giving it exclusive control and management of certain state hospitals and schools, abolished, in section 2 thereof, the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools. See article 5547-204, note.

Art. 3174b-1. Repealed by Acts 1957, 55th Leg., p. 505, ch. 243, § 103, eff. Jan. 1, 1958

Art. 3174b-2. Medical Treatment and Services, Power to Provide Without Consent of Relatives, etc.

Sec. 1. The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, directly or through its authorized agent or agents, shall provide or perform recognized medical treatment or services to persons admitted or committed to its care. Where the consent of any person or guardian is considered necessary, and is requested, and such person or guardian shall fail to immediately reply thereto, the performance or provision for the treatment or services shall be ordered by the superintendent upon the advice and consent of three (3) physicians licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, at least one of whom must principally be engaged in the private practice of medicine. Where there is no guardian or responsible relative to whom request can be made, treatment and operation shall be performed on the advice and consent of three (3) physicians licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners. This authority shall not allow the performance of any operation involving sexual sterilization or frontal lobotomies.

Sec. 2. The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, directly or through its authorized agent or agents, also shall provide or perform recognized dental treatment or services to persons admitted or committed to its care. Where the consent of any person or guardian is considered necessary, and is requested, and such person or guardian shall fail to immediately reply thereto, the performance or provision for the treatment or services shall be ordered by the superintendent upon the advice and consent of one dentist licensed by the State Board of Dental Examiners and two physicians licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, at least one of whom must principally be engaged in the private practice of medicine. Where there is no guardian or responsible relative to whom request can be made, treatment and services shall be performed on the advice and consent of one dentist licensed by the State Board of Dental Examiners and two physicians licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners.

Art. 3174b-3. Occupational Therapy Programs; Equipment and Materials; Sale of Goods

Sec. 1. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools may furnish equipment, materials, and merchandise at any institution under the control and management of said Board for occupational therapy programs. The finished goods and products produced in these programs may be sold, and the proceeds thereof may be placed in the patients' benefit fund, patients' trust fund, or a revolving fund for their further use; or the patient may purchase from the state the material to be used and keep the finished product.

Sec. 2. Pursuant to such rules and regulations as the Board shall make, the superintendents of the institutions under the control and management of said Board may enter into agreements with private individuals, persons or corporations whereby such private individuals, persons or corporations may furnish equipment, materials, and merchandise for occupational therapy programs. Such agreements, when the finished or semi-finished goods and products produced in these programs remain the property of the private individuals, persons or corporations, shall provide for the payment to the institution of a fair and reasonable rental for the use of institutional buildings and premises and equipment based upon the amount of time such buildings and premises and equipment or parts thereof are used for such activities.

Sec. 3. The Board is authorized to accept donations in money or materials to be used in these programs and may use and expend the donations in the manner requested by the donor, if not contrary to the policy of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

[Acts 1955, 54th Leg., p. 1183, ch. 462, § 1. Amended by Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 238, ch. 104, § 1, eff. Aug. 30, 1965.]

Art. 3174b-4. Outpatient Clinics; Mental Hospital; Community Hospital for Research and Education in Mental Illness

Statement of Purposes and Public Policies

Sec. 1. It is the sense of the Legislature that the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools be authorized to establish such outpatient clinics for treating the mentally ill as such Board deems necessary and as funds for their operation are made available; and that a total mental health program be established in a given area of this State which shall consist of the following: (1) An area or community hospital of approximately sixty (60) beds to be used for treating the mentally ill and for research, training, and education in treating mental illness and an outpatient clinic which may be operated in conjunction with the community hospital; the outpatient clinics to be authorized and the community hospital and clinic to be provided for in this Act; and (2) A separate larger mental hospital of approximately five hundred (500) beds.

Authorization for Outpatient Clinics

Sec. 2. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools is authorized to establish outpatient clinics for treatment of the mentally ill in such locations as deemed necessary by said Board and as money for their operation shall be made available. The Board shall acquire facilities, provide a staff, make rules and regulations, and make contracts with persons, corporations, and agencies of local, State, and Federal governments as shall be necessary for the establishment and operation of said clinics.

Establishment of Community or Research Hospital

Sec. 3. There shall be constructed, established, and maintained an area or community hospital of approximately sixty (60) beds to be used in treating the mentally ill and for research, training, and education in mental illness and an outpatient clinic which may be operated in conjunction with the community hospital. Such hospital and clinic shall be located within a city where a recognized medical center is located and operating. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools shall designate the city and select a site or sites therein for the location of said community hospital and outpatient clinic. Such site or sites shall be accessible and convenient to the local medical center and shall contain sufficient land served by adequate utilities to meet the requirements of said hospital and outpatient clinic. Said Board shall take title to the land or lands so selected by them in the name of the State of Texas for the use and benefit of said hospital and clinic; provided, that the Attorney General's Department shall first approve the title to the land or lands so selected by the Board.

Location and Construction of Mental Hospital

Sec. 4. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools shall select the site for said mental hospital, and the Board, in selecting such site, shall make such selection with a view to its accessibility and convenience to the greatest number of inhabitants and available medical facilities, and the same shall contain sufficient land and have utilities readily available. Said Board shall take title to the land so selected by them in the name of the State of Texas for the use and benefit of said hospital; provided, however, that the Attorney General's Department shall first approve the title to the land so selected by the Board. There shall be constructed upon said grounds so selected permanent, suitable, substantial, and fireproof buildings sufficient in all respects to be used for the treatment of the mentally ill; said buildings are to be provided with modern improvements for furnishing water, heat, ventilation, and sewage.

Preparation of Plans

Sec. 5. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools shall proceed, within the limits of legislative appropriation of funds, to prepare plans and specifications for said buildings; and said Board is authorized to make contracts with such persons, corporations, or agencies of State, local, and Federal governments, and to accept gifts or grants of land as said Board deems proper and necessary to effect the purposes of this Act within the limits of appropriations authorized therefor.

Personnel; Patients

Sec. 6. Upon the completion of the buildings and facilities for either or both of said research hospital or the larger separate mental hospital, the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools shall appoint such personnel as are necessary to operate and maintain such hospital and clinic and to adequately treat such patients as are admitted, within the limits of legislative appropriations. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools shall admit patients to the area or community hospital and shall provide for their care and maintenance under the same applicable laws, rules and regulations as govern the admission and care of mentally ill persons provided for in the General Laws of the State of Texas governing institutions for the care of the mentally ill. The outpatient clinic shall be operated under such rules and regulations as the Board may promulgate.

The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools is hereby authorized, in its discretion, to operate and maintain such hospital and clinic as a part of such other hospital as may be constructed or operated by the Board.

Appropriation

Sec. 7. There is hereby appropriated to the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools such Federal funds as the United States Government may grant for the construction of such buildings, and such other funds as may be given or granted by any State agency, foundation, estate, or individual, and said Board is authorized and directed to obtain and expend such funds as may become available for the programs and facilities authorized by this Act.

Contracts

Sec. 8. In carrying out the research authorized by this Act, the Board or such Board's successor in function may contract with any public or private agency as it deems necessary for such purposes. [Acts 1957, 55th Leg., p. 1280, ch. 427. Amended by Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 626, ch. 293, § 1; Acts 1963, 58th Leg., p. 336, ch. 128, § 1; Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 624, ch. 309, § 1, eff. June 1, 1965.]

Art. 3174b-5. Contracts for Medical Care and Treatment

Sec. 1. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools may contract for the support, maintenance, care and treatment of mentally ill and tubercular patients committed to its jurisdiction or for whom the Board is legally responsible. Such contracts may be made between the Board and city, county, and state hospitals, private physicians, licensed nursing homes and hospitals and hospital districts.

Sec. 2. Authority to contract provided herein shall be cumulative of all other contractual rights of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools. Provided such contracts shall not include the assignment of any lien accruing to the State.

[Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 464, ch. 231, eff. May 25, 1961. Amended by Acts 1963, 58th Leg., p. 63, ch. 43, § 1, eff. Aug. 23, 1963.]

Art. 3174b-6. Conveyance of Waterworks and Sanitary Sewer System to Smith County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1.

Sec. 1. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, joined by or with the consent of the United States of America acting by and through the department or agency thereof duly authorized to act therefor, is hereby authorized and empowered to convey to Smith County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 (Owentown), a political subdivision of the state duly created and acting under the laws of Texas, the waterworks and sanitary sewer system, together with the land and easements on which same is situated, located in Smith County, Texas, and now serving East Texas Tuberculosis Hospital, Tyler, Texas, which waterworks and sanitary sewer system was heretofore conditionally conveyed to the State of Texas by the United States of America by an instrument of conveyance dated July 28, 1948. The Executive Director of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools may execute and deliver on behalf of said Board a proper instrument or instruments necessary to effect this conveyance.

Sec. 2. The consideration for the conveyance of said waterworks and sanitary sewer system shall be the agreement of the Smith County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 (Owentown) to operate, maintain and keep said water works and sanitary sewer system in such manner as will assure an adequate water and sewer service to the East Texas Tuberculosis Hospital at rates and charges to be agreed upon between the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools and the Board of Directors of the Smith County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 (Owentown).

Art. 3174b-7. Easements and Rights-of-Way on Lands of Institutions

The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools or such Board's successor in function is hereby authorized and empowered to grant permanent and temporary easements and rights-of-way over and on lands of institutions under the control and management of such Board as shall be necessary to insure the efficient and expeditious construction, improvement, renovation, use and operation of such institutions.

[Acts 1965, 59th Leg., p. 562, ch. 285, § 1, eff. Aug. 30, 1965.]

Art. 3174c. Refund of Moneys by Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools

Sec. 1. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools is hereby authorized to refund any moneys collected by or paid to the state and to which it was not legally entitled, and to refund any moneys which may be paid to the state by mistake of fact or law or under duress.

Sec. 2. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools is hereby authorized to refund any unexpended portions of payments received for the care, treatment, custody or education of any patient or student admitted to any hospital, special school, or other institution under their respective jurisdictions.

Sec. 3. The Legislature may, through its biennial Appropriation Acts for the general support and maintenance of the state government or through any special Appropriation Act, provide moneys from which the refunds authorized by this Act may be paid.

[Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 837, ch. 376, eff. Aug. 11, 1959.]

Art. 3175. Duties of Superintendent

Each superintendent shall: 1. Receive and discharge patients and pupils, superintend repairs and improvements, and see that all moneys intrusted to him are judiciously and economically expended. He shall keep an accurate and detailed account of all moneys received and expended by him, specifying the sources from which they were received, and to whom an on what account paid out.

2. Keep a register of all patients and pupils received and discharged and a full record of all operations of the institution.

3. On November 1st, of each year, submit to the Board an inventory of all the personal property belonging to the asylum, in which the estimated value shall be set opposite each article.

[Acts. 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3176. Powers of Superintendent

The Superintendent shall be the administrative head of the institution to which he is appointed. He shall have the following powers:

1. To establish such rules and regulations for the government of the institution in his charge, as he deems will best promote the interest and welfare of its inmates.

2. Where not otherwise provided by law, to appoint the subordinate officers, teachers, attendants, and other employes, and to fix their salaries.

3. To remove for good cause, with the consent of the Board, any officer, teacher or employe.

4. The care and custody of the buildings, grounds, furniture, and other property pertaining to the institution.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3177. Functions and Duties of Superintendent

The business manager of each State hospital and/or special school, under the control and management of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, shall be the chief disbursing officer of the institution. He shall be directly responsible to the superintendent of the institution. Each superintendent shall admit the Executive Director and members of the Board into every part of the institution and exhibit to them, at their request, all books, papers, and accounts of the institution pertaining to its business, management, discipline, and government and shall furnish the Executive Director and the Board with copies, abstracts, and reports as they may require.

Art. 3178. Reports

On January 1st, and July 1st, of each year, the superintendent of each institution shall report to the Governor and to the Board of Control, a full sworn statement of all moneys and choses of action received by such superintendent and how disbursed or otherwise disposed of. Such report shall show in detail the operations of the institution for the term, accompanied with such suggestions and recommendations as the superintendent may deem important to the well-being of the institution, the number of employes and the salaries of each, the number of inmates received and discharged and the number still in said institution. The report shall state the general condition of the inmates, and contain an estimate of the appropriations needed for maintenance.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3179. Funds

All funds of every character received by or belonging to the institutions, other than money appropriated for their support from time to time by the Legislature, shall as soon as received, be paid over to the State Treasurer by the Board, superintendent or other person receiving them. The Treasurer shall place such sums to the credit of the general revenue fund.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3179a. Refunds of Excess Funds Received as Support Payments

Sec. 1. Each of the institutions under the control and management of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, and The Texas Youth Commission are authorized to make refunds of excess funds received by them as payment for support, maintenance, and treatment of patients or students admitted or committed to their jurisdiction when such patients or students die, escape, or are discharged. They may also refund all excess funds deducted from employees' salaries for the payment of food, lodging, and laundry when such employee dies or terminates his employment.

Sec. 2. All moneys received by any of the institutions under the control and management of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools and The Texas Youth Commission shall be deposited in a local bank approved by the respective governing Boards. Unless otherwise specifically authorized by law, the head of the institution shall transmit such moneys as are deposited in such local bank, less authorized refunds and expenses, to the State Treasurer within seven (7) days after said moneys are deposited in such bank.

[Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 1062, ch. 485, eff. June 1, 1959. Amended by Acts 1983, 68th Leg., p. 183, ch. 44, art. IV, § 1, eff. April 26, 1983.]

Art. 3180. Duty of Treasurer

The State Treasurer shall keep an exact account of the moneys received by him belonging to the institutions, from what source received, and to whom paid out and on what account. To each annual report that he may be required by law to make to the Governor or to the Legislature, he shall append a full report of such account showing the receipts and expenditures thereof for the year for which such report is made.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3181. Interest in Contracts

No member of the Board of Control, superintendent or other person connected with the asylums shall sell or be in any way concerned in the sale of any merchandise, supplies or other articles to the asylums, or have any interest in any contract therewith.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3182. Disbursements

The appropriations made from time to time by the Legislature for the maintenance of the asylums shall remain on deposit in the State Treasury and be paid out as are other public funds upon the warrant of the Comptroller. The Comptroller shall not draw his warrant upon the Treasurer unless the account upon which such warrant is drawn is certified as just and correct by the superintendent and is approved by the Board.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3183. Support and Maintenance

The Legislature from time to time shall make suitable provision in the general appropriation bill or otherwise for the proper support and maintenance of each asylum and eleemosynary institution of this State.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3183a. Repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2690, ch. 871, art. I, § 2(a)(4), eff. Sept. 1, 1977

Acts 1977, 65th Leg., ch. 871, repealing this article, enacts the Natural Resources Code.

For disposition of the subject matter of the repealed article, see Disposition Table preceding the Natural Resources Code.

Art. 3183b. Eminent Domain Exercised by Charitable and Eleemosynary Corporations

That any Charitable or Eleemosynary Institution incorporated under the laws of the State of Texas, shall have the right of eminent domain and condemnation within the confines of any incorporated city in this State having more than 43,000 inhabitants according to the United States Census of 1920, which city is in a county having a population of less than 100,000 inhabitants according to said Census; such Charitable or Eleemosynary Corporation shall have the right to eminent domain with all rights and powers as fully as are conferred by Law upon steam railway corporations, which power of domain shall be exercised in accordance with the provisions of Title 52, Revised Statutes of Texas of 1925. [Acts 1931, 42nd Leg., Spec.Laws, p. 132, ch. 52, § 1.]

Art. 3183b-1. Eminent Domain by Certain Non-profit Charitable Corporations

Nonprofit Charitable Corporation Affiliated with Medical Center having Medical School in County of Over 600,000 Population

Sec. 1. Any nonprofit corporation incorporated under the laws of this state for purely charitable purposes and which is directly affiliated or associated with a medical center having a medical school recognized by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association as an integral part of its establishment, and which has for a purpose of its incorporation the provision or support of medical facilities or services for the use and benefit of the public, and which is situated in any county of this state having a population in excess of six hundred thousand (600,000) inhabitants according to the most recent Federal Census shall have the power of eminent domain and condemnation for the purposes set forth in Section 2 and Section 3 of this Act.

Acquisition of Lands Adjacent to Medical Center for Construction, Maintenance and Operation of Facilities

Sec. 2. Any charitable corporation as defined in Section 1 of this Act shall have the power of eminent domain and condemnation for the purpose of acquiring lands adjacent or contiguous (whether or not separated by public thoroughfares) to such medical center upon which are to be constructed, maintained, and operated as a part of the medical center, facilities dedicated to medical care, teaching, and research for the public welfare, including ancillary or service activities generally and customarily recognized as essential to such facilities in a medical center.

Acquisition of Lands Adjacent to Medical Center for Purpose of Conveying or Leasing; Use of Lands

Sec. 3. Any charitable corporation as defined in Section 1 of this Act shall have the power of eminent domain and condemnation for the purpose of acquiring lands adjacent or contiguous (whether or not separated by public thoroughfares) to such medical center for the purpose of conveying or leasing such lands in the manner set forth in Section 4 of this Act to any nonprofit corporation, association, foundation or trust for the construction, maintenance, and operation of facilities to be a part of the medical center and dedicated to medical care, teaching, or research for the public welfare, including ancillary or service activities generally and customarily recognized as essential to such facilities in a medical center.

Authority and Power to Control Property Acquired; Deeds of Conveyance or Lease

Sec. 4. Any charitable corporation as defined in Section 1 of this Act in the exercise of the power of eminent domain conferred herein shall have full authority and power to control the property acquired for the purposes authorized herein, and shall have the authority to convey such property or to lease the same for a period of ninety-nine (99) years with an option to renew. Any deed of conveyance or lease as provided in Section 3 of this Act shall set forth the defeasance of conditions under which the property is conveyed or leased and the fact that it is dedicated to medical care, teaching, or research for the public welfare.

Reversion of Title to Original Owner

Sec. 5. It is expressly provided that if any property acquired under authority of this Act is not used for the purpose of medical care, teaching, or research or essential ancillary and service activities, but use for such purposes is abandoned, title to the property shall revert to the original owner from whom such property was acquired by condemnation pursuant to this Act, or to his heirs, devisees, or assigns.

Procedures and Conditions

Sec. 6. The power of eminent domain granted by this Act shall be in accordance with the procedure, conditions, and provisions as prescribed in Title 52, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended. [Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 367, ch. 178, eff. Aug. 11, 1959.]

Art. 3183c. Money and Property of Inmates

Sec. 1. The superintendent of any State institution under the jurisdiction of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools may deposit any funds of inmates in his possession in any bank in the State, or in bonds or obligations of the United States of America or for the payment of which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged, and for the purposes of deposit or investment only, may mingle the funds of any inmate with the funds of other inmates. The superintendent may deposit the interest or increment accruing on such funds in a special fund, to be designated the "Benefit Fund," of which he shall be the trustee. He may expend the moneys in any such fund for the education or entertainment of the inmates of the institution, or for the actual expense of maintaining the fund at the institution.

Sec. 2. For the purposes of this Act the superintendent of each institution shall act as custodian of the inmates' personal funds on deposit with each particular institution. The business manager shall maintain records at all times of the amount of funds on deposit for each inmate. All disbursements of personal funds and all disbursements out of the "Benefit Fund" shall be made upon the joint signature of the superintendent and business manager.

Sec. 3. Whenever any person confined in any State institution subject to the jurisdiction of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools dies, escapes, or is discharged or paroled from such institution, and any personal funds or property of such person remains in the hands of the superintendent thereof, and no demand is made upon said superintendent by the owner of the funds or property or his legally appointed representative, the superintendent shall hold and dispose of such funds or property as follows: (a) Funds: The superintendent shall hold the funds in the patients' personal deposit fund for a period of three (3) years. If, at the end of three (3) years, no demand has been made for the funds, the superintendent shall turn the said funds over to the State Treasurer. The State Treasurer shall hold the funds for a period of five (5) years and if, at the end of that five (5) year period, the funds have not been demanded by the owner or a legal representative, then the funds shall escheat to the State and shall become a part of the General Fund. (b) Miscellaneous Personal Property: The superintendent shall hold all other miscellaneous personal property for a period of three (3) years. At the end of that time, if there has been no demand by the owner of the property or his legal representative, the superintendent shall file with the county clerk of the county of commitment of said owner, all deeds, wills, contracts or assignments. The balance of the personal property shall be sold at auction and the funds turned over to the State Treasurer to be disposed of in the same manner as cash funds under the provisions above. If some of the property is not of a type to be filed with the county clerk and is not salable at public auction, then the superintendent of the hospital shall hold the same for a period of one more year and if at the expiration of that time no demand has been made by the owner or his legal representative, the property shall be destroyed. Before any funds are turned over to the State Treasurer, under subdivision (a), and before any papers are filed with the county clerk, and before any personal property is sold at auction or disposed of under subdivision (b) of this Section, notice of said intended disposition shall be posted at least ten (10) days prior to the disposition, in a public place at the institution where the disposition is to be made. A copy of such notice shall be mailed to the last known address of the owner of the property at least ten (10) days prior to the disposition of the property.

[Acts 1951, 52nd Leg., p. 393, ch. 251.]

Art. 3183d. Repealed by Acts 1959, 56th Leg., p. 379, ch. 181, § 28, eff. Aug. 11, 1959

Art. 3183e. Contracts with Public Schools for Education of Inmates

Sec. 1. The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools may negotiate an enter into contracts with public schools in counties where Special Schools are located to accept and educate inmates of the Special Schools in the public schools. The Board is authorized to pay tuition to the public schools out of any appropriated funds it has available.

Sec. 2. Children admitted or committed to the Special Schools may be placed in public schools by the superintendent, and the Special School may pay a reasonable rate for the tuition of such children.

[Acts 1954, 53rd Leg., 1st C.S., p. 64, ch. 25, eff. April 22, 1954.]

Art. 3183f. Habeas Corpus to Secure Release of Inmates Having Contagious Disease; Return

All writs of habeas corpus filed to secure the release of persons who have contagious diseases from State Hospitals and Special Schools shall be returnable to the appropriate court in the county where the hospital in which the person is confined is located.

[Acts 1961, 57th Leg., p. 921, ch. 406, § 1, eff. June 17, 1961.]

Art. 3183g. Standards of Physical Safety to Assure Adequate Medical, Psychiatric and Rehabilitative Care at State Tuberculosis and Mental Hospitals and Schools for the Retarded

Sec. 1. On and after the effective date of this Act, the Texas State Department of Health shall by rule and regulation set standards as to the physical safety of buildings and adequacy of staff, in number and quality, necessary to assure a continuous plan of adequate medical, psychiatric, nursing and social work services to patients cared for in State tuberculosis hospitals, State mental hospitals and State schools for the retarded.

Sec. 2. The Texas State Department of Health shall approve those State tuberculosis hospitals, State mental hospitals and State schools for the retarded which meet the standards promulgated by it and shall certify its approval to the Texas Department of Public Welfare or the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare when requested to do so.

Art. 3184. Superintendent; Qualifications

Sec. 1. The Superintendent of the Austin State Hospital, San Antonio State Hospital, Wichita Falls State Hospital, Big Springs State Hospital, Rusk State Hospital, Terrell State Hospital, Kerrville State Hospital, Vernon Center and the Texas Research Institute of Mental Sciences shall meet such requirements for eligibility for appointment as Superintendent as the Board, by substantive rule adopted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may adopt.

Sec. 2. In adopting requirements for eligibility for appointment as Superintendent, the Board shall give appropriate consideration to the desirability of the need if possible of a physician authorized to practice medicine in Texas who has experience in the treatment of mental disease and who has proven administrative experience and ability. In appointing superintendents, the Commissioner shall give preferential consideration to a qualified candidate who is authorized to practice medicine in Texas who shall have experience in the treatment of mental diseases and who has proven administrative experience and ability.

Sec. 3. If no such physician as described in Section 2 is available, the Board may appoint as Superintendent of the institutions described in Section 1 of this Act a person of proven administrative experience and ability, however, prior to said appointment, the Board shall have authority and shall promulgate appropriate rules and regulations to insure that all duties of admitting patients, providing appropriate medical care and treatment and determinations whether a patient has recovered to the extent that cure is effected or the patient no longer needs to be restrained and should be discharged, or that it would be in the best interest of patients that he or she should be sooner released prior to the period of detention, as well as all medical decisions are only made by physicians licensed to practice medicine in Texas.

Sec. 4. This Act shall not be construed to:

(a) authorize the Department or any person, other than a duly licensed physician, acting within the scope of his or her license, to engage, directly or indirectly, in the practice of medicine; or

(b) authorize the Department, or any person to regulate, interfere, or intervene in any manner in the practice of medicine.

Art. 3185. Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 607, ch. 283, § 2, eff. Aug. 27, 1979

Art. 3185a. State Hospital Established West of One Hundredth Meridian

That there shall be constructed, established, and maintained a hospital for the care, treatment, and support of mentally ill persons of this State. It shall be known as the State Hospital; that after the said hospital has been located then the name of the town near which it is located shall be added to the name so as to thereafter read _____ State Hospital. The hospital shall be located at some point west of the one hundredth meridian, or within any county through which the one hundredth meridian passes, and any place where not less than three hundred (300) acres of good fertile agricultural land can be secured by donation to the State of Texas.

The Board of Control of the State of Texas shall select a site for said hospital, and the Board, in selecting such site, shall make such selection with a view to its accessibility and convenience to the greatest number of inhabitants, the supply of water, building material, fuel, fertility of soil, and healthfulness, and the same shall contain not less than three hundred (300) acres of land as above described. Said Board shall take title to the land so selected by them in the name of the State of Texas for the use and benefit of said hospital; provided, however, that the Attorney General's Department shall first approve the title to the said land so selected by the said Board.

At the completion of the buildings, and when the said hospital is ready to open, the Board of Control shall appoint a Superintendent and other employees to superintend and carry on the work of such hospital as is now provided by the General Laws of the State of Texas governing such institutions.

The support and general maintenance of said hospital shall be the same in every respect as is provided for insane hospitals as now provided by law.

There shall be constructed upon said grounds so selected permanent, suitable, substantial, and fire-proof buildings sufficient to accommodate at least five hundred and forty (540) inmates; said buildings to be provided with modern improvements for furnishing water, heat, ventilation, and sewerage; and the Board of Control immediately after this Act goes into effect and after the selection of the site for said hospital, and after the title of said land shall have been approved by the Attorney General, shall advertise for plans and specifications for said buildings and contract for the erection of the same; and shall have the power and authority to do and perform all things necessary for carrying out the purpose of this Act. Provided that all buildings authorized by this Act, and for which an appropriation is hereby made, shall be of fireproof construction, and that the part of all plans and specifications for the erection of said buildings relating to fire protection shall be subject to the approval of the State Fire Insurance Commission.

That there shall be and there is hereby appropriated out of the General Revenues of this State not otherwise appropriated the sum of Eight Hundred and Seventeen Thousand Dollars ($817,000) for the buildings and improvements and the expenses incurred in securing the lands for the site, providing that no money herein appropriated shall be expended for the payment of the lands selected for the site.

The total appropriation as heretofore set out shall be allocated as follows:

Item 1 Ward building and equipment	$115,000.00
Item 2 Ward building and equipment	115,000.00
Item 3 Psychopathic building and equipment	127,000.00
Item 4 General hospital-clinic building and equipment	75,000.00
Item 5 Administration building and equipment	100,000.00
Item 6 Employees' quarters and equipment	60,000.00
Item 7 Storeroom-warehouse and equipment	40,000.00
Item 8 Utility and other buildings, utility and other equipment, roads, sidewalks, furniture, livestock, implements, and contingencies	185,000.00
Grand total, proposed new hospital	$817,000.00

In the expenditure of the above itemized amounts, the Board of Control shall have the authority to make proper adjustments in the above set forth items.

Art. 3187. Applicable to Other Institutions

All laws now in force in any way affecting the East Texas Hospital for the Insane, the Northwest Texas Insane Asylum, the North Texas Hospital for Insane, the Southwestern Insane Asylum, the State Lunatic Asylum, the State Colony for Feeble Minded and the State Epileptic Colony, shall apply to the Rusk State Hospital, the Wichita Falls State Hospital, the Terrell State Hospital, the San Antonio State Hospital, the Austin State Hospital, the Austin State School and the Abilene State Hospital, subject to such changes in said laws as shall be hereinafter made.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3188. Division into Districts

The Board of Control¹ shall divide the State into hospital districts, may change the districts from time to time, and shall designate the State hospitals to which insane, epileptic and feeble-minded persons from each district shall be admitted and may transfer patients from one institution to another. All such persons within any such districts committed, shall be committed to the State hospital designated for that district, or to the United States Veterans' Administration or such other agency or department of the United States as will accept such insane person for care or treatment. The said State Board of Control shall also have authority to transfer any legally committed patient from a State hospital to the United States Veterans' Administration or any other agency or department of the United States as will accept such person of unsound mind for care or treatment, and in case such transfer is or shall be made, the commitment and transfer order shall constitute legal authority for the restraint of such patient by the United States Veterans' Administration or such other agency or department of the United States until the Court by which such patient was adjudged insane and committed shall order such patient released.

¹ Control and management of state hospitals, except as to purchases, transferred from Board of Control to Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools (abolished), see art. 3174b and note thereunder.

Art. 3192. State Psychopathic Hospital

There shall be established and maintained a Psychopathic Hospital at Galveston to be known as the Galveston State Psychopathic Hospital, and one at Dallas to be known as the Dallas State Psychopathic Hospital. The Galveston State Psychopathic Hospital shall be a hospital for the treatment of nervous and mental diseases both in the hospital and out patient clinic, and shall be available as a part of the teaching facilities in mental medicine for the State Medical College. The Dallas State Psychopathic Hospital shall be a hospital for the treatment of nervous and mental diseases both in the hospital and in out patient clinic.

[Acts 1925, S.B. 84.]

Art. 3192a. Dallas State Hospital Created; Consolidation of Hospitals

That the Dallas State Hospital is hereby created, to be composed of the Dallas Psychopathic Hospital as defined in Chapter 2, Article 3192, Revised Civil Statutes, 1925, and the State Cancer and Pellagra Hospital as defined in Chapter 185 of the General and Special Laws of the 41st Legislature, Regular Session, 1929, provided there shall be only one Superintendent for said consolidated hospitals.

[Acts 1931, 42nd Leg., p. 70, ch. 47, § 1.]

Art. 3192b. Galveston State Psychopathic Hospital Transferred to Board of Regents of University of Texas

Sec. 1. From and after the effective date of this Act, the control and management of, and all rights, privileges, powers, and duties incident thereto, the Galveston State Psychopathic Hospital, located at Galveston, Texas, which were formerly vested in and exercised by the State Board of Control, shall be transferred to, vested in, and exercised by the Board of Regents of The University of Texas, and, hereafter, the aforesaid Hospital shall no longer be a part of the eleemosynary service of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. The Galveston State Psychopathic Hospital shall continue to be used as a Hospital for the treatment of nervous and mental diseases, both in the Hospital and out-patient clinic, and shall be available as a part of the teaching facilities in mental medicine for the School of Medicine of The University of Texas, located at Galveston, Texas.

Arts. 3194 to 3196. Repealed by Acts 1957, 55th Leg., p. 505, ch. 243, § 103, eff. Jan. 1, 1958

Art. 3196a. Classes of Patients Admitted

Indigent Patients; Non-Indigent Patients

Sec. 1. Patients admitted to State hospitals under the management and control of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation shall be of two classes, to wit:

Indigent patients;

Non-indigent patients;

Indigent patients are those who possess no property of any kind nor have anyone legally responsible for their support, and who are unable to reimburse the State. This class shall be supported at the expense of the State.

Non-indigent patients are those who possess some property out of which the State may be reimbursed, or who have someone legally liable for their support. This class shall be kept and maintained at the expense of the State, as in the first instance, but in such cases the State shall have the right to be reimbursed for the support, maintenance, and treatment of such patients.

Persons Chargeable with Expenses of Patients

Sec. 2. Where the patient has no sufficient estate of his own, he shall be maintained at the expense:

Of the husband or wife of such person, if able to do so;

Of the father or mother of such person, if able to do so, provided such person is less than 18 years old.

Child support payments for the benefit of a patient paid or owing by a parent pursuant to a divorce decree or other court order shall be considered to be the property and estate of the patient, and charges may be made against such child support obligations. The parent who is obligated to pay child support on behalf of the patient shall be given a credit against charges for which he or she would otherwise be liable based on ability to pay for the amount of child support the parent actually pays for the benefit of the patient. The parent who receives the child support payments is liable for the charges based on the child support obligation to the extent such payments are actually received in addition to the liability of such parent based on ability to pay. The department may, upon the failure of a parent to pay child support in accordance with the child support obligation or upon the failure of a parent to pay charges based on the child support obligation, file a motion to modify the court order to require the child support to be paid directly to the State hospital or facility in which the patient resides for the patient's support, maintenance, and treatment. The court may, in addition, order all past due child support to be paid to the State hospital or facility to the extent that charges have been made against the child support obligation.

Investigations to Determine Means of Support

Sec. 3. The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation is authorized to demand and conduct investigations in the County Court to determine whether or not a patient is possessed of or entitled to property and/or whether or not some other person is legally liable for his support, maintenance, and treatment and to pay therefor, and to have citation issued and witnesses summoned to be heard on said investigation.

Contracts Fixing Support

Sec. 4. The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, directly or through an authorized agent or agents, may make contracts fixing the price for the support, maintenance, and treatment of patients in any State hospital under its management and control at a sum not to exceed the cost of same or for such part thereof as such respective patient, his relatives or guardian of his estate may be able to and agree to pay, and binding the persons making such contracts to payment thereunder.

State Representative in Filing Claims in Probate Court

Sec. 5. Upon the written request of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation the County or District Attorney, or in case of the refusal or inability of both to act, the Attorney General, shall represent the State in filing a claim in Probate Court or a petition in a Court of competent jurisdiction, wherein the guardian of such patient and/or other person legally liable for his support may be cited to appear then and there to show cause why the State should not have judgment against him or them for the amount due it for the support, maintenance, and treatment of such patient; and, upon sufficient showing, judgment may be entered against such guardian or other persons for the amount found to be due the State, which judgment may be enforced as in other cases. A verified account, sworn to by the superintendent or director of the respective hospitals wherein such patient is being treated, or has been treated, as to the amount due shall be sufficient evidence to authorize the Court to render judgment therein. The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation may also utilize the procedure contained in this section with regard to claims for reimbursement against a resident for his support and maintenance and/or against other persons liable for his support and maintenance in a residential care facility for the mentally retarded operated by the department when such liability arises pursuant to Section 61, Mentally Retarded Persons Act of 1977, as amended (Article 5547-300, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). In such cases, a verified account sworn to by the superintendent or director of the residential care facility for the mentally retarded operated by the department wherein such mentally retarded person resides or has resided as to the amount due shall be sufficient evidence to authorize the court to render judgment. The County or District Attorney representing the State shall be entitled to a commission of ten (10) per cent, of the amount collected.

Repeals

Sec. 6. Section 4, Chapter 174, Acts, Regular Session of the Thirty-ninth Legislature, being Article 3189, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act, be and they are hereby expressly repealed. There is however, specifically reserved and preserved to the State any and all rights and causes of action that accrued or arose under and by virtue of said Section 4, Chapter 174, Acts, Regular Session, Thirty-ninth Legislature, being Article 3189, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925, or any other laws repealed by this Act.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 7. If any section, sentence, clause, or part of this Act shall, for any reason, be held to be invalid, such decision or holding shall not affect the remaining portions of this Act, and it is hereby declared to be the intention of the Legislature to have passed each sentence, section, clause, or part thereof irrespective of the fact that any other sentence, section, clause, or part thereof may be declared invalid.

Art. 3196a-1. Admission of Patients Eligible for Services Under Department of Health Program

(a) The Texas Board of Health may admit to any hospital under its supervision a patient who is eligible to receive patient services under a program of the Texas Department of Health and who will benefit from the hospitalization.

(b) Admission to a hospital as authorized by this Act is subject to the availability of appropriate space after the needs of eligible tuberculosis and chronic respiratory disease patients have been met and to the availability of trained medical personnel for the necessary medical care and treatment.

(c) The board may enter into contracts and make rules necessary to implement this Act.

(d) This Act does not require the board or department to admit a patient to a particular hospital, guarantee the availability of space at any hospital, or provide treatment for a particular medical need at any hospital.
